U.S. BANKRUPTCY COURT
DISTRICT OF DELAWARE
June 2009

Dear court,

In the case of Washington Mutual, Inc. Case # 08-12229, I as claimant # 176 wish to inform you that I no longer own the afore mentioned bonds. They were sold recently, at a loss, to an investor who felt they had some value.

I, myself, cannot understand how a company can purchase the assets of another company at an enormous discount to intrinsic value and ignore the creditors of that company as though they never existed. It seems to me that what was purchased fairly should be paid fairly, and in a timely manner.

I do feel "Justice" was blinded in this case.

Sincerely,

Paul Dupraw
