- j. reviewed all filed<sup>3</sup> pleadings, exhibits, statements, and comments regarding approval of the Disclosure Statement and confirmation of the Plan, including all objections, statements, and reservations of rights;
- k. conducted a hearing to consider confirmation of the Plan, which commenced on February 2, 2021, at 9:30 a.m. prevailing Central Time and concluded on February 3, 2021, and issued its oral ruling on February 8, 2021 (collectively, the “Confirmation Hearing”);
- l. heard the statements and arguments made by counsel in respect of confirmation of the Plan and having considered the record of this Chapter 11 Case and taken judicial notice of all papers and pleadings filed in this Chapter 11 Case; and
- m. considered all oral representations, testimony, documents, filings, and other evidence regarding confirmation of the Plan, including (a) all of the exhibits admitted into evidence;<sup>4</sup> (b) the sworn testimony of (i) James P. Seery, Jr., the Debtor’s Chief Executive Officer and Chief Restructuring Officer and a member of the Board of Directors of Strand Advisors, Inc. (“Strand”), the Debtor’s general partner; (ii) John S. Dubel, a member of the Board of Strand; (iii) Marc Tauber, a Vice President at Aon Financial Services; and (iv) Robert Jason Post, the Chief Compliance Officer of NexPoint Advisors, LP (collectively, the “Witnesses”); (c) the credibility of the Witnesses; and (d) the Voting Certifications.

NOW, THEREFORE, after due deliberation thereon and good cause appearing therefor, the Bankruptcy Court hereby makes and issues the following findings of fact and conclusions of law:

FINDINGS OF FACT AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

1. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law. The findings and conclusions set forth herein, together with the findings of fact and conclusions of law set forth in the record during the Confirmation Hearing, constitute the Bankruptcy Court's findings of fact and conclusions of law pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 52, made applicable to this proceeding pursuant to Bankruptcy Rules 7052 and 9014. To the extent any of the following findings of fact constitute conclusions of law, they are adopted as such. To the extent that any of the following conclusions of law constitute findings of fact, they are adopted as such.

2. Introduction and Summary of the Plan. Prior to addressing the specific requirements under the Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rules with respect to the confirmation of the Plan, the Bankruptcy Court believes it would be useful to first provide the following background of the Debtor's Chapter 11 Case, the parties involved therewith, and some of the major events that have transpired culminating in the filing and solicitation of the Plan of this very unusual case. Before the Bankruptcy Court is the Debtor's Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P., filed on November 24, 2020, as modified on January 22, 2021 and again on February 1, 2021. The parties have repeatedly referred to the Plan as an "asset monetization plan" because it involves the orderly wind-down of the Debtor's estate, including the sale of assets and certain of its funds over time, with the Reorganized Debtor continuing to manage certain other funds, subject to the oversight of the Claimant Trust Oversight Board. The Plan provides for a Claimant Trust to, among other things, manage and monetize the Claimant Trust Assets for the benefit of the Debtor's economic stakeholders. The Claimant Trustee is responsible for this process, among other duties specified in the Plan's Claimant Trust Agreement. There is also anticipated to be a Litigation Sub-trust established for the purpose of pursuing certain avoidance or other causes of action for the benefit of the Debtor's economic constituents.

3. Confirmation Requirements Satisfied. The Plan is supported by the Committee and all claimants with Convenience Claims (i.e., general unsecured claims under $1 million) who voted in Class 7. Claimants with Class 8 General Unsecured Claims, however, voted to reject the Plan because, although the Plan was accepted by 99.8% of the amount of Claims in that class, only 17 claimants voted to accept the Plan while 27 claimants voted to reject the Plan. As a result of such votes, and because Mr. Dondero and the Dondero Related Entities (as defined below) objected to the Plan on a variety of grounds primarily relating to the Plan's release, exculpation and injunction provisions, the Bankruptcy Court heard two full days of evidence on February 2 and 3, 2021, and considered testimony from five witnesses and thousands of pages of documentary evidence in determining whether the Plan satisfies the confirmation standards required under the Bankruptcy Code. The Bankruptcy Court finds and concludes that the Plan meets all of the relevant requirements of sections 1123, 1124, and 1129, and other applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code, as more fully set forth below with respect to each of the applicable confirmation requirements.

4. Not Your Garden Variety Debtor. The Debtor's case is not a garden variety chapter 11 case. The Debtor is a multibillion-dollar global investment adviser registered with the SEC, pursuant to the Investment Advisers Act of 1940. It was founded in 1993 by James Dondero and Mark Okada. Mark Okada resigned from his role with Highland prior to the bankruptcy case being filed on October 16, 2019 (the “Petition Date”). Mr. Dondero controlled the Debtor as of the Petition Date but agreed to relinquish control of it on or about January 9, 2020, pursuant to an agreement reached with the Committee, as described below. Although Mr. Dondero remained with the Debtor as an unpaid employee/portfolio manager after January 9, 2020, his employment with the Debtor terminated on October 9, 2020. Mr. Dondero continues to work for and/or control numerous non-debtor entities in the complex Highland enterprise.

5. The Debtor. The Debtor is headquartered in Dallas, Texas. As of the Petition Date, the Debtor employed approximately 76 employees. The Debtor is privately-owned: (a) 99.5% by the Hunter Mountain Investment Trust; (b) 0.1866% by The Dugaboy Investment Trust, a trust created to manage the assets of Mr. Dondero and his family; (c) 0.0627% by Mark Okada, personally and through family trusts; and (d) 0.25% by Strand, the Debtor’s general partner.

6. The Highland Enterprise. Pursuant to various contractual arrangements, the Debtor provides money management and advisory services for billions of dollars of assets, including collateralized loan obligation vehicles (“CLOs”), and other investments. Some of these assets are managed by the Debtor pursuant to shared services agreements with certain affiliated entities, including other affiliated registered investment advisors. In fact, there are approximately 2,000 entities in the byzantine complex of entities under the Highland umbrella. None of these affiliated entities filed for chapter 11 protection. Most, but not all, of these entities are not subsidiaries (direct or indirect) of the Debtor. Many of the Debtor’s affiliated companies are offshore entities, organized in jurisdictions such as the Cayman Islands and Guernsey. See Disclosure Statement, at 17-18.

7. Debtor's Operational History. The Debtor's primary means of generating revenue has historically been from fees collected for the management and advisory services provided to funds that it manages, plus fees generated for services provided to its affiliates. For additional liquidity, the Debtor, prior to the Petition Date, would sell liquid securities in the ordinary course, primarily through a brokerage account at Jefferies, LLC. The Debtor would also, from time to time, sell assets at non-Debtor subsidiaries and cause those proceeds to be distributed to the Debtor in the ordinary course of business. The Debtor's current Chief Executive Officer, James P. Seery, Jr., credibly testified at the Confirmation Hearing that the Debtor was "run at a deficit for a long time and then would sell assets or defer employee compensation to cover its deficits." The Bankruptcy Court cannot help but wonder if that was necessitated because of enormous litigation fees and expenses incurred by the Debtor due to its culture of litigation—as further addressed below.

8. Not Your Garden Variety Creditor's Committee. The Debtor and this chapter 11 case are not garden variety for so many reasons. One of the most obvious standouts in this case is the creditor constituency. The Debtor did not file for bankruptcy because of any of the typical reasons that large companies file chapter 11. For example, the Debtor did not have a large, asset-based secured lender with whom it was in default; it only had relatively insignificant secured indebtedness owing to Jeffries, with whom it had a brokerage account, and one other entity, Frontier State Bank. The Debtor also did not have problems with its trade vendors or landlords.

The Debtor also did not suffer any type of catastrophic business calamity. In fact, the Debtor filed for Chapter 11 protection six months before the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic. Rather, the Debtor filed for Chapter 11 protection due to a myriad of massive, unrelated, business litigation claims that it faced—many of which had finally become liquidated (or were about to become liquidated) after a decade or more of contentious litigation in multiple forums all over the world. The Committee in this case has referred to the Debtor—under its former chief executive, Mr. Dondero—as a “serial litigator.” The Bankruptcy Court agrees with that description. By way of example, the members of the Committee (and their history of litigation with the Debtor and others in the Highland complex) are as follows:

- a. The Redeemer Committee of the Highland Crusader Fund (the “Redeemer Committee”). This Committee member obtained an arbitration award against the Debtor in the amount of $190,824,557, inclusive of interest, approximately five months before the Petition Date, from a panel of the American Arbitration Association. It was on the verge of having that award confirmed by the Delaware Chancery Court immediately prior to the Petition Date, after years of disputes that started in late 2008 (and included legal proceedings in Bermuda). This creditor’s claim was settled during this Chapter 11 Case in the amount of approximately $137,696,610 (subject to other adjustments and details not relevant for this purpose).
- b. Acis Capital Management, L.P., and Acis Capital Management GP, LLC (“Acis”). Acis was formerly in the Highland complex of companies, but was not affiliated with Highland as of the Petition Date. This Committee member and its now-owner, Joshua Terry, were involved in litigation with the Debtor dating back to 2016. Acis was forced by Mr. Terry (who was a former Highland portfolio manager) into an involuntary chapter 11 bankruptcy in the Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas, Dallas Division before the Bankruptcy Court in 2018, after Mr. Terry obtained an approximately $8 million arbitration award and judgment against Acis. Mr. Terry ultimately was awarded the equity ownership of Acis by the Bankruptcy Court in the Acis bankruptcy case. Acis subsequently asserted a multi-million dollar claim against Highland in the Bankruptcy Court for Highland’s alleged denuding of Acis to defraud its creditors—primarily Mr. Terry. The litigation involving Acis and Mr. Terry dates back to mid-2016 and has continued on with numerous appeals of Bankruptcy Court orders, including one appeal still pending at the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals. There was also litigation involving Mr. Terry and Acis in the Royal Court of the Island of Guernsey and in a state court in New York. The Acis claim was settled during this Chapter 11 Case, in Bankruptcy Court-ordered mediation, for approximately $23 million (subject to other details not relevant for this purpose), and is the subject of an appeal being pursued by Mr. Dondero.

- c. UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG London Branch (“UBS”). UBS is a Committee member that filed a proof of claim in the amount of $1,039,957,799.40 in this Chapter 11 Case. The UBS Claim was based on a judgment that UBS received from a New York state court in 2020. The underlying decision was issued in November 2019, after a multi-week bench trial (which had occurred many months earlier) on a breach of contract claim against non-Debtor entities in the Highland complex. The UBS litigation related to activities that occurred in 2008 and 2009. The litigation involving UBS and Highland and affiliates was pending for more than a decade (there having been numerous interlocutory appeals during its history). The Debtor and UBS recently announced an agreement in principle for a settlement of the UBS claim (which came a few months after Bankruptcy Court-ordered mediation) which will be subject to a 9019 motion to be filed with the Bankruptcy Court on a future date.
- d. Meta-E Discovery (“Meta-E”). Meta-E is a Committee member that is a vendor who happened to supply litigation and discovery-related services to the Debtor over the years. It had unpaid invoices on the Petition Date of more than $779,000.

It is fair to say that the members of the Committee in this case all have wills of steel. They fought hard before and during this Chapter 11 Case. The members of the Committee, all of whom have volunteered to serve on the Claimant Trust Oversight Board post-confirmation, are highly sophisticated and have had highly sophisticated professionals representing them. They have represented their constituency in this case as fiduciaries extremely well.

9. Other Key Creditor Constituents. In addition to the Committee members who were all embroiled in years of litigation with Debtor and its affiliates in various ways, the Debtor has been in litigation with Patrick Daugherty, a former limited partner and employee of the Debtor, for many years in both Delaware and Texas state courts. Mr. Daugherty filed an amended proof of claim in this Chapter 11 Case for $40,710,819.42 relating to alleged breaches of employment-related agreements and for defamation arising from a 2017 press release posted by the Debtor. The Debtor and Mr. Daugherty recently announced a settlement of Mr. Daugherty's claim pursuant to which he will receive $750,000 in cash on the Effective Date of the Plan, an $8.25 million general unsecured claim, and a $2.75 million subordinated claim (subject to other details not relevant for this purpose). Additionally, entities collectively known as "HarbourVest" invested more than $70 million with an entity in the Highland complex and asserted a $300 million proof of claim against the Debtor in this case, alleging, among other things, fraud and RICO violations. HarbourVest's claim was settled during the bankruptcy case for a $45 million general unsecured claim and a $35 million subordinated claim, and that settlement is also being appealed by a Dondero Entity.

10. Other Claims Asserted. Other than the Claims just described, most of the other Claims in this Chapter 11 Case are Claims asserted against the Debtor by: (a) entities in the Highland complex—most of which entities the Bankruptcy Court finds to be controlled by Mr. Dondero; (b) employees who contend that are entitled to large bonuses or other types of deferred compensation; and (c) numerous law firms that worked for the Debtor prior to the Petition Date and had outstanding amounts due for their prepetition services.

11. Not Your Garden Variety Post-Petition Corporate Governance Structure. Yet another reason this is not your garden variety chapter 11 case is its post-petition corporate governance structure. Immediately from its appointment, the Committee's relationship with the Debtor was contentious at best. First, the Committee moved for a change of venue from Delaware to Dallas. Second, the Committee (and later, the United States Trustee) expressed its then-desire for the appointment of a chapter 11 trustee due to its concerns over and distrust of Mr. Dondero, his numerous conflicts of interest, and his history of alleged mismanagement (and perhaps worse).

12. Post-Petition Corporate Governance Settlement with Committee. After spending many weeks under the threat of the potential appointment of a trustee, the Debtor and Committee engaged in substantial and lengthy negotiations resulting in a corporate governance settlement approved by the Bankruptcy Court on January 9, 2020.<sup>5</sup> As a result of this settlement, among other things, Mr. Dondero relinquished control of the Debtor and resigned his positions as an officer or director of the Debtor and its general partner, Strand. As noted above, Mr. Dondero agreed to this settlement pursuant a stipulation he executed,<sup>6</sup> and he also agreed not to cause any Related Entity (as defined in the Settlement Motion) to terminate any agreements with the Debtor. The January 9 Order also (a) required that the Bankruptcy Court serve as “gatekeeper” prior to the commencement of any litigation against the three independent board members appointed to oversee and lead the Debtor’s restructuring in lieu of Mr. Dondero and (b) provided for the exculpation of those board members by limiting claims subject to the “gatekeeper” provision to those alleging willful misconduct and gross negligence.

<sup>5</sup> This order is hereinafter referred to as the “January 9 Order” and was entered by the Court on January 9, 2020 [Docket No. 339] pursuant to the Motion of the Debtor to Approve Settlement with Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors Regarding the Governance of the Debtor and Procedures for Operation in the Ordinary Course [Docket No. 281] (the “Settlement Motion”).

<sup>6</sup> See Stipulation in Support of Motion of the Debtor for Approval of Settlement With the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors Regarding Governance of the Debtor and Procedures for Operations in Ordinary Course [Docket No. 338] (the “Stipulation”).

13. Appointment of Independent Directors. As part of the Bankruptcy Court-approved settlement, three eminently qualified independent directors were chosen to lead Highland through its Chapter 11 Case. They are: James P. Seery, Jr., John S. Dubel (each chosen by the Committee), and Retired Bankruptcy Judge Russell Nelms. These three individuals are each technically independent directors of Strand (Mr. Dondero had previously been the sole director of Strand and, thus, the sole person in ultimate control of the Debtor). The three independent board members' resumes are in evidence. The Bankruptcy Court later approved Mr. Seery's appointment as the Debtor's Chief Executive Officer, Chief Restructuring Officer, and Foreign Representative. Suffice it to say that this settlement and the appointment of the independent directors changed the entire trajectory of the case and saved the Debtor from the appointment of a trustee. The Bankruptcy Court and the Committee each trusted the independent directors. They were the right solution at the right time. Because of the unique character of the Debtor's business, the Bankruptcy Court believed the appointment of three qualified independent directors was a far better outcome for creditors than the appointment of a conventional chapter 11 trustee. Each of the independent directors brought unique qualities to the table. Mr. Seery, in particular, knew and had vast experience at prominent firms with high-yield and distressed investing similar to the Debtor's business. Mr. Dubel had 40 years of experience restructuring large complex businesses and serving on boards in this context. And Retired Judge Nelms had not only vast bankruptcy experience but seemed particularly well-suited to help the Debtor maneuver through conflicts and ethical quandaries. By way of comparison, in the chapter 11 case of Acis, the former affiliate of Highland that the Bankruptcy Court presided over and which company was much smaller in size and scope than Highland (managing only 5-6 CLOs), the creditors elected a chapter 11 trustee who was not on the normal trustee rotation panel in this district but, rather, was a nationally known bankruptcy attorney with more than 45 years of large chapter 11 experience. While the Acis chapter 11 trustee performed valiantly, he was sued by entities in the Highland complex shortly after he was appointed (which the Bankruptcy Court had to address). The Acis trustee was also unable to persuade the Debtor and its affiliates to agree to any actions taken in the case, and he finally obtained confirmation of Acis' chapter 11 plan over the objections of the Debtor and its affiliates on his fourth attempt (which confirmation was promptly appealed).

14. Conditions Required by Independent Directors. Given the experiences in Acis and the Debtor's culture of constant litigation, it was not as easy to get such highly qualified persons to serve as independent board members and, later, as the Debtor's Chief Executive Officer, as it would be in an ordinary chapter 11 case. The independent board members were stepping into a morass of problems. Naturally, they were worried about getting sued no matter how defensible their efforts—given the litigation culture that enveloped Highland historically. Based on the record of this Case and the proceedings in the Acis chapter 11 case, it seemed as though everything always ended in litigation at Highland. The Bankruptcy Court heard credible testimony that none of the independent directors would have taken on the role of independent director without (1) an adequate directors and officers' ("D&O") insurance policy protecting them; (2) indemnification from Strand that would be guaranteed by the Debtor; (3) exculpation for mere negligence claims; and (4) a gatekeeper provision prohibiting the commencement of litigation against the independent directors without the Bankruptcy Court's prior authority. This gatekeeper provision was also included in the Bankruptcy Court's order authorizing the appointment of Mr. Seery as the Debtor's Chief Executive Officer, Chief Restructuring Officer, and Foreign Representative entered on July 16, 2020.<sup>7</sup> The gatekeeper provisions in both the January 9 Order and July 16 Order are precisely analogous to what bankruptcy trustees have pursuant to the so-called "Barton Doctrine" (first articulated in an old Supreme Court case captioned Barton v. Barbour, 104 U.S. 126 (1881)). The Bankruptcy Court approved all of these protections in the January 9 Order and the July 16 Order, and no one appealed either of those orders. As noted above, Mr. Dondero signed the Stipulation that led to the settlement that was approved by the January 9 Order. The Bankruptcy Court finds that, like the Committee, the independent board members have been resilient and unwavering in their efforts to get the enormous problems in this case solved. They seem to have at all times negotiated hard and in good faith, which culminated in the proposal of the Plan currently before the Bankruptcy Court. As noted previously, they completely changed the trajectory of this case.

15. Not Your Garden Variety Mediators. And still another reason why this was not your garden variety case was the mediation effort. In the summer of 2020, roughly nine months into the chapter 11 case, the Bankruptcy Court ordered mediation among the Debtor, Acis, UBS, the Redeemer Committee, and Mr. Dondero. The Bankruptcy Court selected co-mediators because mediation among these parties seemed like such a Herculean task—especially during COVID-19 where people could not all be in the same room. Those co-mediators were: Retired

Seery, Jr., as Chief Executive Officer, Chief Restructuring Officer, and Foreign Representative Nunc Pro Tunc to March 15, 2020* [Docket No. 854] entered on July 16, 2020 (the "July 16 Order")

Bankruptcy Judge Alan Gropper from the Southern District of New York, who had a distinguished career presiding over complex chapter 11 cases, and Ms. Sylvia Mayer, who likewise has had a distinguished career, first as a partner at a preeminent law firm working on complex chapter 11 cases, and subsequently as a mediator and arbitrator in Houston, Texas. As noted earlier, the Redeemer Committee and Acis claims were settled during the mediation—which seemed nothing short of a miracle to the Bankruptcy Court—and the UBS claim was settled several months later and the Bankruptcy Court believes the ground work for that ultimate settlement was laid, or at least helped, through the mediation. And, as earlier noted, other significant claims have been settled during this case, including those of HarbourVest (who asserted a $300 million claim) and Patrick Daugherty (who asserted a $40 million claim). The Bankruptcy Court cannot stress strongly enough that the resolution of these enormous claims—and the acceptance by all of these creditors of the Plan that is now before the Bankruptcy Court—seems nothing short of a miracle. It was more than a year in the making.

16. Not Your Garden Variety Plan Objectors (That Is, Those That Remain). Finally, a word about the current, remaining objectors to the Plan before the Bankruptcy Court. Once again, the Bankruptcy Court will use the phrase “not your garden variety”, which phrase applies to this case for many reasons. Originally, there were over a dozen objections filed to the Plan. The Debtor then made certain amendments or modifications to the Plan to address some of these objections, none of which require further solicitation of the Plan for reasons set forth in more detail below. The only objectors to the Plan left at the time of the Confirmation Hearing were Mr. Dondero [Docket No. 1661] and entities that the Bankruptcy Court finds are owned and/or controlled by him and that filed the following objections:

- a. Objection to Confirmation of the Debtor's Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization (filed by Get Good Trust and The Dugaboy Investment Trust) [Docket No. 1667];
- b. Objection to Confirmation of Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (filed by Highland Capital Management Fund Advisors, L.P., Highland Fixed Income Fund, Highland Funds I and its series, Highland Funds II and its series, Highland Global Allocation Fund, Highland Healthcare Opportunities Fund, Highland Income Fund, Highland Merger Arbitrage Fund, Highland Opportunistic Credit Fund, Highland Small-Cap Equity Fund, Highland Socially Responsible Equity Fund, Highland Total Return Fund, Highland/iBoxx Senior Loan ETF, NexPoint Advisors, L.P., NexPoint Capital, Inc., NexPoint Real Estate Strategies Fund, NexPoint Strategic Opportunities Fund) [Docket No. 1670];
- c. A Joinder to the Objection filed at 1670 by: NexPoint Real Estate Finance Inc., NexPoint Real Estate Capital, LLC, NexPoint Residential Trust, Inc., NexPoint Hospitality Trust, NexPoint Real Estate Partners, LLC, NexPoint Multifamily Capital Trust, Inc., VineBrook Homes Trust, Inc., NexPoint Real Estate Advisors, L.P., NexPoint Real Estate Advisors II, L.P., NexPoint Real Estate Advisors III, L.P., NexPoint Real Estate Advisors IV, L.P., NexPoint Real Estate Advisors V, L.P., NexPoint Real Estate Advisors VI, L.P., NexPoint Real Estate Advisors VII, L.P., NexPoint Real Estate Advisors VIII, L.P., and any funds advised by the foregoing [Docket No. 1677];
- d. NexPoint Real Estate Partners LLC's Objection to Debtor's Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization (filed by NexPoint Real Estate Partners LLC f/k/a HCRE Partners LLC) [Docket No. 1673]; and
- e. NexBank's Objection to Debtor's Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization (filed by NexBank Title, Inc., NexBank Securities, Inc., NexBank Capital, Inc., and NexBank) [Docket No. 1676]. The entities referred to in (i) through (v) of this paragraph are hereinafter referred to as the "Dondero Related Entities").

17. Questionability of Good Faith as to Outstanding Confirmation

Objections. Mr. Dondero and the Dondero Related Entities technically have standing to object to the Plan, but the remoteness of their economic interests is noteworthy, and the Bankruptcy Court questions the good faith of Mr. Dondero's and the Dondero Related Entities' objections. In fact, the Bankruptcy Court has good reason to believe that these parties are not objecting to protect economic interests they have in the Debtor but to be disruptors. Mr. Dondero wants his company back. This is understandable, but it is not a good faith basis to lob objections to the Plan. As detailed below, the Bankruptcy Court has slowed down plan confirmation multiple times and urged the parties to talk to Mr. Dondero in an attempt to arrive at what the parties have repeatedly referred to as a "grand bargain," the ultimate goal to resolve the Debtor's restructuring. The Debtor and the Committee represent that they have communicated with Mr. Dondero regarding a grand bargain settlement, and the Bankruptcy Court believes that they have.

18. Remote Interest of Outstanding Confirmation Objectors. To be specific about the remoteness of Mr. Dondero's and the Dondero Related Entities' interests, the Bankruptcy Court will address them each separately. First, Mr. Dondero has a pending objection to the Plan. Mr. Dondero's only economic interest with regard to the Debtor is an unliquidated indemnification claim (and, based on everything the Bankruptcy Court has heard, his indemnification claims would be highly questionable at this juncture). Mr. Dondero owns no equity in the Debtor directly. Mr. Dondero owns the Debtor's general partner, Strand, which in turn owns a quarter percent of the total equity in the Debtor. Second, a joint objection has been filed by The Dugaboy Trust ("Dugaboy") and the Get Good Trust ("Get Good"). The Dugaboy Trust was created to manage the assets of Mr. Dondero and his family and owns a 0.1866% limited partnership interest in the Debtor. See Disclosure Statement at 7, n.3. The Bankruptcy Court is not clear what economic interest the Get Good Trust has, but it likewise seems to be related to Mr. Dondero. Get Good filed three proofs of claim relating to a pending federal tax audit of the Debtor's 2008 return, which the Debtor believes arise from Get Good's equity security interests and are subject to subordination as set forth in its Confirmation Brief. Dugaboy filed three claims against the Debtor: (a) an administrative claim relating to the Debtor's alleged postpetition management of Multi-Strat Credit Fund, L.P., (b) a prepetition claim against a subsidiary of the Debtor for which it seeks to pierce the corporate veil, each of which the Debtor maintains are frivolous in the Confirmation Brief, and (c) a claim arising from its equity security interest in the Debtor, which the Debtor asserts should be subordinated. Another group of objectors that has joined together in one objection is what the Bankruptcy Court will refer to as the "Highland Advisors and Funds." See Docket No. 1863. The Bankruptcy Court understands they assert disputed administrative expense claims against the estate that were filed shortly before the Confirmation Hearing on January 23, 2021 [Docket No. 1826], and during the Confirmation Hearing on February 3, 2021 [Docket No. 1888]. At the Confirmation Hearing, Mr. Post testified on behalf of the Highland Advisors and Funds that the Funds have independent board members that run the Funds, but the Bankruptcy Court was not convinced of their independence from Mr. Dondero because none of the so-called independent board members have ever testified before the Bankruptcy Court and all have been engaged with the Highland complex for many years. Notably, the Court questions Mr. Post's credibility because, after more than 12 years of service, he abruptly resigned from the Debtor in October 2020 at the exact same time that Mr. Dondero resigned at the Board of Directors' request, and he is currently employed by Mr. Dondero. Moreover, Dustin Norris, a witness in a prior proceeding (whose testimony was made part of the record at the Confirmation Hearing), recently testified on behalf of the Highland Advisors and Funds in another proceeding that Mr. Dondero owned and/or controlled these entities. Finally, various NexBank entities objected to the Plan. The Bankruptcy Court does not believe they have liquidated claims against the Debtor. Mr. Dondero appears to be in control of these entities as well.

19. Background Regarding Dondero Objecting Parties. To be clear, the Bankruptcy Court has allowed all these objectors to fully present arguments and evidence in opposition to confirmation, even though their economic interests in the Debtor appear to be extremely remote and the Bankruptcy Court questions their good faith. Specifically, the Bankruptcy Court considers them all to be marching pursuant to the orders of Mr. Dondero. In the recent past, Mr. Dondero has been subject to a temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction by the Bankruptcy Court for interfering with Mr. Seery's management of the Debtor in specific ways that were supported by evidence. Around the time that this all came to light and the Bankruptcy Court began setting hearings on the alleged interference, Mr. Dondero's company phone, which he had been asked to turn in to Highland, mysteriously went missing. The Bankruptcy Court merely mentions this in this context as one of many reasons that the Bankruptcy Court has to question the good faith of Mr. Dondero and his affiliates in raising objections to confirmation of the Plan.

20. Other Confirmation Objections. Other than the objections filed by Mr. Dondero and the Dondero Related Entities, the only other pending objection to the Plan is the United States Trustee's Limited Objection to Confirmation of Debtor's Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization [Docket No. 1671], which objected to the Plan's exculpation, injunction, and Debtor release provisions. In juxtaposition, to these pending objections, the Bankruptcy Court notes that the Debtor resolved the following objections to the Plan:

- a. CLO Holdco, Ltd.'s Joinder to Objection to Confirmation of Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. and Supplemental Objections to Plan Confirmation [Docket No. 1675]. This Objection has been resolved pursuant to mutually agreed language by the parties set forth in paragraph VV of the Confirmation Order;
- b. Objection of Dallas County, City of Allen, Allen ISD, City of Richardson, and Kaufman County to Confirmation of the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. [Docket No. 1662]. This Objection has been resolved pursuant to mutually agreed language by the parties set forth in paragraph QQ of the Confirmation Order;
- c. Senior Employees' Limited Objection to Debtor's Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization (filed by Scott Ellington, Thomas Surgent, Frank Waterhouse, Isaac Leventon) [Docket No. 1669]. This Objection has been resolved pursuant to mutually agreed language by the parties set forth in paragraph 82 and paragraphs RR and SS of the Confirmation Order;
- d. Limited Objection of Jack Yang and Brad Borud to Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. [Docket No. 1666] and the amended joinder filed by Davis Deadman, Paul Kauffman and Todd Travers [Docket No. 1679]. This Objection and the amended joinder were resolved by agreement of the parties pursuant to modifications to the Plan filed by the Debtor;
- e. United States' (IRS) Limited Objection to Debtor's Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization [Docket No. 1668]. This Objection has been resolved pursuant to mutually agreed language by the parties set forth in paragraphs TT and UU of the Confirmation Order; and
- f. Patrick Hagaman Daugherty's Objection to Confirmation of Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization [Docket No. 1678]. This objection was resolved by the parties pursuant to the settlement of Mr. Daugherty's claim announced on the record of the Confirmation Hearing.

21. Capitalized Terms. Capitalized terms used herein, but not defined herein, shall have the respective meanings attributed to such terms in the Plan and the Disclosure Statement, as applicable.

22. Jurisdiction and Venue. The Bankruptcy Court has jurisdiction over the Debtor's Chapter 11 Case pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 157 and 1334. This is a core proceeding pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 157(b)(2). Venue of this proceeding and this Chapter 11 Case is proper in this district and in the Bankruptcy Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1408 and 1409.

23. Chapter 11 Petition. On the Petition Date, the Debtor commenced a voluntary case under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware, which case was transferred to the Bankruptcy Court on December 19, 2019. The Debtor continues to operate its business and manage its property as debtor in possession pursuant to sections 1107(a) and 1108 of the Bankruptcy Code. No trustee or examiner has been appointed in this Chapter 11 Case. The Office of the United States Trustee appointed the Committee on October 29, 2019.

24. Judicial Notice. The Bankruptcy Court takes judicial notice of the docket in this Chapter 11 Case maintained by the clerk of the Bankruptcy Court and the court-appointed claims agent, Kurtzman Carson Consultants LLC ("KCC"), including, without limitation, all pleadings, notices, and other documents filed, all orders entered, and all evidence and arguments made, proffered or adduced at the hearings held before the Bankruptcy Court during this Chapter 11 Case, including, without limitation, the hearing to consider the adequacy of the Disclosure Statement and the Confirmation Hearing, as well as all pleadings, notices, and other documents filed, all orders entered, and all evidence and arguments made, proffered, or adduced at hearings held before the Bankruptcy Court or the District Court for the Northern District of Texas in connection with an adversary proceeding or appellate proceeding, respectively, related to this Chapter 11 Case.

25. Plan Supplement Documents. Prior to the Confirmation Hearing, the Debtor filed each of the Plan Supplements. The Plan Supplements contain, among other documents, the Retained Causes of Action, the Claimant Trust Agreement, the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement, the Senior Employee Stipulation, the Related Entity List, the Schedule of Employees, the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, supplements to the Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections, the Schedule of Contracts and Leases to be Assumed, and the other Plan Documents set forth therein (collectively, the “Plan Supplement Documents”).

26. Retained Causes of Action Adequately Preserved. The Bankruptcy Court finds that the list of Retained Causes of Action included in the Plan Supplements sufficiently describes all potential Retained Causes of Action, provides all persons with adequate notice of any Causes of Action regardless of whether any specific claim to be brought in the future is listed therein or whether any specific potential defendant or other party is listed therein, and satisfies applicable law in all respects to preserve all of the Retained Causes of Action. The definition of the Causes of Action and Schedule of Retained Causes of Action, and their inclusion in the Plan, specifically and unequivocally preserve the Causes of Action for the benefit of the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trust, or the Litigation Sub-Trust, as applicable.

27. Plan Modifications Are Non-Material. In addition to the Plan Supplements, the Debtor made certain non-material modifications to the Plan, which are reflected in (i) the Redline of Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P.

(as Modified) filed on January 22, 2021 [Docket No. 1809], and (ii) Exhibit B to the Debtor's Notice of Filing of Plan Supplement to Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (as Modified) filed on February 1, 2021 [Docket No. 1875] (collectively, the "Plan Modifications"). Section 1127(a) of the Bankruptcy Code provides that a plan proponent may modify its plan at any time before confirmation so long as such modified plan meets the requirements of sections 1122 and 1123 of the Bankruptcy Code. None of the modifications set forth in the Plan Supplements or the Plan Modifications require any further solicitation pursuant to sections 1125, 1126, or 1127 of the Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rule 3019, because, among other things, they do not materially adversely change the treatment of the claims of any creditors or interest holders who have not accepted, in writing, such supplements and modifications. Among other things, there were changes to the projections that the Debtor filed shortly before the Confirmation Hearing (which included projected distributions to creditors and a comparison of projected distributions under the Plan to potential distributions under a hypothetical chapter 7 liquidation). The Plan Supplements and Plan Modifications did not mislead or prejudice any creditors or interest holders nor do they require that Holders of Claims or Equity Interests be afforded an opportunity to change previously cast votes to accept or reject the Plan. Specifically, the Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections filed on February 1, 2021 [Docket No. 1875] do not constitute any material adverse change to the treatment of any creditors or interest holders but, rather, simply update the estimated distributions based on Claims that were settled in the interim and provide updated financial data. The filing and notice of the Plan Supplements and Plan Modifications were appropriate and complied with the requirements of section 1127(a) of the Bankruptcy Code and the Bankruptcy Rules, and no other solicitation or disclosure or further notice is or shall be required. The Plan Supplements and Plan Modifications each became part of the Plan pursuant section 1127(a) of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, is authorized to modify the Plan or Plan Supplement Documents following entry of this Confirmation Order in a manner consistent with section 1127(b) of the Bankruptcy Code, the Plan, and, if applicable, the terms of the applicable Plan Supplement Document.

28. Notice of Transmittal, Mailing and Publication of Materials. As is evidenced by the Voting Certifications and the Affidavits of Service and Publication, the transmittal and service of the Plan, the Disclosure Statement, Ballots, and Confirmation Hearing Notice were adequate and sufficient under the circumstances, and all parties required to be given notice of the Confirmation Hearing (including the deadline for filing and serving objections to the confirmation of the Plan) have been given due, proper, timely, and adequate notice in accordance with the Disclosure Statement Order and in compliance with the Bankruptcy Code, the Bankruptcy Rules, the Local Rules, and applicable non-bankruptcy law, and such parties have had an opportunity to appear and be heard with respect thereto. No other or further notice is required. The publication of the Confirmation Hearing Notice, as set forth in the Notice of Affidavit of Publication dated December 3, 2020 [Docket No. 1505], complied with the Disclosure Statement Order.

29. Voting. The Bankruptcy Court has reviewed and considered the Voting Certifications. The procedures by which the Ballots for acceptance or rejection of the Plan were distributed and tabulated, including the tabulation as subsequently amended to reflect the settlement of certain Claims to be Allowed in Class 7, were fairly and properly conducted and complied with the Disclosure Statement Order, the Bankruptcy Code, the Bankruptcy Rules, and the Local Rules.

30. Bankruptcy Rule 3016(a). In accordance with Bankruptcy Rule 3016(a), the Plan is dated and identifies the Debtor as the proponent of the Plan.

31. Plan Compliance with Bankruptcy Code (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(1)). As set forth below, the Plan complies with all of the applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code, thereby satisfying section 1129(a)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code.

32. Proper Classification (11 U.S.C. §§ 1122, 1123(a)(1)). Section 1122 of the Bankruptcy Code provides that a plan may place a claim or interest in a particular class only if such claim or interest is substantially similar to the other claims or interest of such class. The Claims and Equity Interests placed in each Class are substantially similar to other Claims and Equity Interests, as the case may be, in each such Class. Valid business, factual, and legal reasons exist for separately classifying the various Classes of Claims and Equity Interests created under the Plan, and such Classes do not unfairly discriminate between Holders of Claims and Equity Interests.

33. Classification of Secured Claims. Class 1 (Jefferies Secured Claim) and Class 2 (Frontier Secured Claim) each constitute separate secured claims held by Jefferies LLC and Frontier State Bank, respectively, and it is proper and consistent with section 1122 of the Bankruptcy Code to separately classify the claims of these secured creditors. Class 3 (Other Secured Claims) consists of other secured claims (to the extent any exist) against the Debtor, are not substantially similar to the Secured Claims in Class 1 or Class 2, and are also properly separately classified.

34. Classification of Priority Claims. Class 4 (Priority Non-Tax Claims) consists of Claims entitled to priority under section 507(a), other than Priority Tax Claims, and are properly separately classified from non-priority unsecured claims. Class 5 (Retained Employee Claims) consists of the potential claims of employees who may be retained by the Debtor on the Effective Date, which claims will be Reinstated under the Plan, are not substantially similar to other Claims against the Debtor, and are properly classified.

35. Classification of Unsecured Claims. Class 6 (PTO Claims) consists solely of the claims of the Debtor's employees for unpaid paid time off in excess of the $13,650 statutory cap amount under sections 507(a)(4) and (a)(5) of the Bankruptcy Code and are dissimilar from other unsecured claims in Class 7 and Class 8. Class 7 (Convenience Claims) allows holders of eligible and liquidated Claims (below a certain threshold dollar amount) to receive a cash payout of the lesser of 85% of the Allowed amount of the creditor's Claim or such holder's pro rata share of the Convenience Claims Cash Pool. Class 7 (Convenience Claims) are provided for administrative convenience purposes in order to allow creditors, most of whom are either trade creditors or holders of professional claims, to receive treatment provided under Class 7 in lieu of the treatment of Class 8 (General Unsecured Claims). The Plan also provides for reciprocal "opt out" mechanisms to allow holders of Class 7 Claims to elect to receive the treatment for Class 8 Claims. Class 8 creditors primarily constitute the litigation claims of the Debtor. Class 8 Creditors will receive Claimant Trust Interests which will be satisfied pursuant to the terms of the Plan. Class 8 also contains an “opt out” mechanism to allow holders of liquidated Class 8 Claims at or below a $1 million threshold to elect to receive the treatment of Class 7 Convenience Claims. The Claims in Class 7 (primarily trade and professional Claims against the Debtor) are not substantially similar to the Claims in Class 8 (primarily the litigation Claims against the Debtor), and are appropriately separately classified. Valid business reasons also exist to classify creditors in Class 7 separately from creditors in Class 8. Class 7 creditors largely consist of liquidated trade or service providers to the Debtor. In addition, the Claims of Class 7 creditors are small relative to the large litigation claims in Class 8. Furthermore, the Class 8 Claims were overwhelmingly unliquidated when the Plan was filed. The nature of the Class 7 Claims as being largely liquidated created an expectation of expedited payment relative to the largely unliquidated Claims in Class 8, which consists in large part of parties who have been engaged in years, and in some cases over a decade of litigation with the Debtor. Separate classification of Class 7 and Class 8 creditors was the subject of substantial arm’s-length negotiations between the Debtor and the Committee to appropriately reflect these relative differences.

36. Classification of Equity Interests. The Plan properly separately classifies the Equity Interests in Class 10 (Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests) from the Equity Interests in Class 11 (Class A Limited Partnership Interests) because they represent different types of equity security interests in the Debtor and different payment priorities.

37. Elimination of Vacant Classes. Section III.C of the Plan provides for the elimination of Classes that do not have at least one holder of a Claim or Equity Interest that is Allowed in an amount greater than zero for purposes of voting to accept or reject the Plan, and are disregarded for purposes of determining whether the Plan satisfies section 1129(a)(8) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to such Class. The purpose of this provision is to provide that a Class that does not have voting members shall not be included in the tabulation of whether that Class has accepted or rejected the Plan. Pursuant to the Voting Certifications, the only voting Class of Claims or Equity Interests that did not have any members is Class 5 (Retained Employees). As noted above, Class 5 does not have any voting members because any potential Claims in Class 5 would not arise, except on account of any current employees of the Debtor who may be employed as of the Effective Date, which is currently unknown. Thus, the elimination of vacant Classes provided in Article III.C of the Plan does not violate section 1122 of the Bankruptcy Code. Class 5 is properly disregarded for purposes of determining whether or not the Plan has been accepted under Bankruptcy Code section 1129(a)(8) because there are no members in that Class. However, the Plan properly provides for the treatment of any Claims that may potentially become members of Class 5 as of the Effective Date in accordance with the terms of the Plan. The Plan therefore satisfies section 1122 of the Bankruptcy Code.

38. Classification of Claims and Designation of Non-Classified Claims (11 U.S.C. §§ 1122, 1123(a)(1)). Section 1123(a)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code requires that the Plan specify the classification of claims and equity security interests pursuant to section 1122 of the Bankruptcy Code, other than claims specified in sections 507(a)(2), 507(a)(3), or 507(a)(8) of the Bankruptcy Code. In addition to Administrative Claims, Professional Fee Claims, and Priority Tax Claims, each of which need not be classified pursuant to section 1123(a)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code, the Plan designates eleven (11) Classes of Claims and Equity Interests. The Plan satisfies sections 1122 and 1123(a)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code.

39. Specification of Unimpaired Classes (11 U.S.C. § 1123(a)(2)). Article III of the Plan specifies that each of Class 1 (Jefferies Secured Claim), Class 3 (Other Secured Claims), Class 4 (Priority Non-Tax Claims), Class 5 (Retained Employee Claims), and Class 6 (PTO Claims) are Unimpaired under the Plan. Thus, the requirement of section 1123(a)(2) of the Bankruptcy Code is satisfied.

40. Specification of Treatment of Impaired Classes (11 U.S.C. § 1123(a)(3)). Article III of the Plan designates each of Class 2 (Frontier Secured Claim), Class 7 (Convenience Claims), Class 8 (General Unsecured Claims), Class 9 (Subordinated Claims), Class 10 (Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests), and Class 11 (Class A Limited Partnership Interests) as Impaired and specifies the treatment of Claims and Equity Interests in such Classes. Thus, the requirement of section 1123(a)(3) of the Bankruptcy Code is satisfied.

41. No Discrimination (11 U.S.C. § 1123(a)(4)). The Plan provides for the same treatment by the Plan proponent for each Claim or Equity Interest in each respective Class unless the Holder of a particular Claim or Equity Interest has agreed to a less favorable treatment of such Claim or Equity Interest. The Plan satisfies this requirement because Holders of Allowed Claims or Equity Interests in each Class will receive the same rights and treatment as other Holders of Allowed Claims or Equity Interests within such holder's respective class, subject only to the voluntary "opt out" options afforded to members of Class 7 and Class 8 in accordance with the terms of the Plan. Thus, the requirement of section 1123(a)(4) of the Bankruptcy Code is satisfied.

42. Implementation of the Plan (11 U.S.C. § 1123(a)(5)). Article IV of the Plan sets forth the means for implementation of the Plan which includes, but is not limited to, the establishment of: (i) the Claimant Trust; (ii) the Litigation Sub-Trust; (iii) the Reorganized Debtor; and (iv) New GP LLC, in the manner set forth in the Plan Documents, the forms of which are included in the Plan Supplements.

- a. The Claimant Trust. The Claimant Trust Agreement provides for the management of the Claimant Trust, as well as the Reorganized Debtor with the Claimant Trust serving as the managing member of New GP LLC (a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Claimant Trust that will manage the Reorganized Debtor as its general partner). The Claimant Trust, the Claimant Trustee, the management and monetization of the Claimant Trust Assets, and the management of the Reorganized Debtor (through the Claimant Trust's role as managing member of New GP LLC) and the Litigation Sub-Trust will all be managed and overseen by the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee. Additionally, the Plan provides for the transfer to the Claimant Trust of all of the Debtor's rights, title, and interest in and to all of the Claimant Trust Assets in accordance with section 1141 of the Bankruptcy Code and for the Claimant Trust Assets to automatically vest in the Claimant Trust free and clear of all Claims, Liens, encumbrances, or interests subject only to the Claimant Trust Interests and the Claimant Trust Expenses, as provided for in the Claimant Trust Agreement. The Claimant Trust will administer the Claimant Trust Assets as provided under the Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement contained in the Plan Supplements.
- b. The Litigation Sub-Trust. The Plan and the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement provide for the transfer to the Litigation Sub-Trust all of the Claimant Trust's rights, title, and interest in and to all of the Estate Claims (as transferred to the Claimant Trust by the Debtor) in accordance with section 1141 of the Bankruptcy Code and for the Estate Claims to automatically vest in the Litigation Sub-Trust free and clear of all Claims, Liens, encumbrances, or interests subject only to the Litigation Sub-Trust Interests and the Litigation Sub-Trust Expenses, as provided for in the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement. The Litigation Trustee is charged with investigating, pursuing, and otherwise resolving any Estate Claims (including those with respect to which the Committee has standing to pursue prior to the Effective Date pursuant to the January 9 Order) pursuant to the terms of the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement and the Plan, regardless of whether any litigation with respect to any Estate Claim was commenced by the Debtor or the Committee prior to the Effective Date.

- c. The Reorganized Debtor. The Reorganized Debtor will administer the Reorganized Debtor Assets, which includes managing the wind down of the Managed Funds.

The precise terms governing the execution of these restructuring transactions are set forth in greater detail in the applicable definitive documents included in the Plan Supplements, including the Claimant Trust Agreement, the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement, and the Schedule of Retained Causes of Action. The Plan, together with the documents and forms of agreement included in the Plan Supplements, provides a detailed blueprint for the transactions contemplated by the Plan. The Plan's various mechanisms provide for the Debtor's continued management of its business as it seeks to liquidate the Debtor's assets, wind down its affairs, and pay the Claims of the Debtor's creditors. Upon full payment of Allowed Claims, plus interest as provided in the Plan, any residual value would then flow to the holders of Class 10 (Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests), and Class 11 (Class A Limited Partnership Interests). Finally, Mr. Seery testified that the Debtor engaged in substantial and arm's length negotiations with the Committee regarding the Debtor's post-Effective Date corporate governance, as reflected in the Plan. Mr. Seery testified that he believes the selection of the Claimant Trustee, Litigation Trustee, and members of the Claimant Trust Oversight Board are in the best interests of the Debtor's economic constituents. Thus, the requirements of section 1123(a)(5) of the Bankruptcy Code are satisfied.

43. Non-Voting Equity Securities (11 U.S.C. § 1123(a)(6)). The Debtor is not a corporation and the charter documents filed in the Plan Supplements otherwise comply with section 1123(a)(6) of the Bankruptcy Code. Therefore, the requirement of section 1123(a)(6) of the Bankruptcy Code is satisfied.

44. Selection of Officers and Directors (11 U.S.C. § 1123(a)(7)). Article IV of the Plan provides for the Claimant Trust to be governed and administered by the Claimant Trustee. The Claimant Trust, the management of the Reorganized Debtor, and the management and monetization of the Claimant Trust Assets and the Litigation Sub-Trust will be managed by the Claimant Trust Oversight Board. The Claimant Trust Oversight Board will consist of: (1) Eric Felton, as representative of the Redeemer Committee; (2) Joshua Terry, as representative of Acis; (3) Elizabeth Kozlowski, as representative of UBS; (4) Paul McVoy, as representative of Meta-E Discovery; and (5) David Pauker. Four of the members of the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee are the holders of several of the largest Claims against the Debtor and/or are current members of the Committee. Each of these creditors has actively participated in the Debtor's case, both through their fiduciary roles as Committee members and in their individual capacities as creditors. They are therefore intimately familiar with the Debtor, its business, and assets. The fifth member of the Claimant Trust Oversight Board, David Pauker, is a disinterested restructuring advisor and turnaround manager with more than 25 years of experience advising public and private companies and their investors, and he has substantial experience overseeing, advising or investigating troubled companies in the financial services industry and has advised or managed such companies on behalf of boards or directors, court-appointed trustees, examiners and special masters, government agencies, and private investor parties. The members of the Claimant Trust Oversight Board will serve without compensation, except for Mr. Pauker, who will receive payment of $250,000 for his first year of service, and $150,000 for subsequent years.

45. Selection of Trustees. The Plan Supplements disclose that Mr. Seery will serve as the Claimant Trustee and Marc Kirschner will serve as the Litigation Trustee. As noted above, Mr. Seery has served as an Independent Board member since January 2020, and as the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Restructuring Officer since July 2020, and he has extensive management and restructuring experience, as evidenced from his curriculum vitae which is part of the record. The evidence shows that Mr. Seery is intimately familiar with the Debtor's organizational structure, business, and assets, as well as how Claims will be treated under the Plan. Accordingly, it is reasonable and in the Estate's best interests to continue Mr. Seery's employment post-emergence as the Claimant Trustee. Mr. Seery, upon consultation with the Committee, testified that he intends to employ approximately 10 of the Debtor's employees to enable him to manage the Debtor's business until the Claimant Trust effectively monetizes its remaining assets, instead of hiring a sub-servicer to accomplish those tasks. Mr. Seery testified that he believes that the Debtor's post-confirmation business can most efficiently and cost-effectively be supported by a sub-set of the Debtor's current employees, who will be managed internally. Mr. Seery shall initially be paid $150,000 per month for services rendered after the Effective Date as Claimant Trustee; however, Mr. Seery's long-term salary as Claimant Trustee and the terms of any bonuses and severance are subject to further negotiation by Mr. Seery and the Claimant Trust Oversight Board within forty-five (45) days after the Effective Date. The Bankruptcy Court has also reviewed Mr. Kirschner's curriculum vitae. Mr. Kirschner has been practicing law since 1967 and has substantial experience in bankruptcy litigation matters, particularly with respect to his prior experience as a litigation trustee for several litigation trusts, as set forth on the record of the Confirmation Hearing and in the Confirmation Brief. Mr. Kirschner shall be paid $40,000 per month for the first three months and $20,000 per month thereafter, plus a success fee related to litigation recoveries. The Committee and the Debtor had arm's lengths negotiations regarding the post-Effective Date corporate governance structure of the Reorganized Debtor and believe that the selection of the Claimant Trustee, the Litigation Trustee, and the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee are in the best interests of the Debtor's economic stakeholders. Section 1123(a)(7) of the Bankruptcy Code is satisfied.

Pursuant to section 1129(a)(2) of the Bankruptcy Code, the Debtor has complied with the applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code, including sections 1122, 1123, 1124, 1125, and 1126 of the Bankruptcy Code, the Bankruptcy Rules, and the Disclosure Statement Order governing notice, disclosure, and solicitation in connection with the Plan, the Disclosure Statement, the Plan Supplements, and all other matters considered by the Bankruptcy Court in connection with this Chapter 11 Case.

47. Debtor's Solicitation Complied with Bankruptcy Code and Disclosure

Statement Order. Before the Debtor solicited votes on the Plan, the Bankruptcy Court entered the Disclosure Statement Order. In accordance with the Disclosure Statement Order and evidenced by the Affidavits of Service and Publication, the Debtor appropriately served (i) the Solicitation Packages (as defined in the Disclosure Statement Order) on the Holders of Claims in Classes 2, 7, 8 and 9 and Holders of Equity Interests in Classes 10 and 11 who were entitled to vote on the Plan; and (ii) the Notice of Nonvoting Status (as defined in the Disclosure Statement Order) and the Confirmation Hearing Notice to the Holders of Claims in Classes 1, 3, 4, 5 and 6, who were not entitled to vote on the Plan pursuant to the Disclosure Statement Order. The Disclosure Statement Order approved the contents of the Solicitation Packages provided to Holders of Claims and Equity Interests entitled to vote on the Plan, the notices provided to parties not entitled to vote on the Plan, and the deadlines for voting on and objecting to the Plan. The Debtor and KCC each complied with the content and delivery requirements of the Disclosure Statement Order, thereby satisfying sections 1125(a) and (b) of the Bankruptcy Code, as evidenced by the Affidavits of Service and Publication. The Debtor also satisfied section 1125(c) of the Bankruptcy Code, which provides that the same disclosure statement must be transmitted to each holder of a claim or interest in a particular class. The Debtor caused the same Disclosure Statement to be transmitted to all holders of Claims and Equity Interests entitled to vote on the Plan. The Debtor has complied in all respects with the solicitation requirements of section 1125 of the Bankruptcy Code and the Disclosure Statement Order. The Bankruptcy Court rejects the arguments of the Mr. Dondero and certain Dondero Related Entities that the changes made to certain assumptions and projections from the Liquidation Analysis annexed as Exhibit C to the Disclosure Statement (the “Liquidation Analysis”) to the Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections require resolicitation of the Plan. The Bankruptcy Court heard credible testimony from Mr. Seery regarding the changes to the Liquidation Analysis as reflected in the Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections. Based on the record, including the testimony of Mr. Seery, the Bankruptcy Court finds that the changes between the Liquidation Analysis and the Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections do not constitute materially adverse change to the treatment of Claims or Equity Interests. Instead, the changes served to update the projected distributions based on Claims that were settled after the approval of the Disclosure Statement and to otherwise incorporate more recent financial data. Such changes were entirely foreseeable given the large amount of unliquidated Claims at the time the Disclosure Statement was approved and the nature of the Debtor's assets. The Bankruptcy Court therefore finds that holders of Claims and Equity Interests were not misled or prejudiced by the Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections and the Plan does not need to be resolicited.

48. Plan Proposed in Good Faith and Not by Means Forbidden by Law (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(3)). The Debtor has proposed the Plan in good faith and not by any means forbidden by law, thereby satisfying section 1129(a)(3) of the Bankruptcy Code. In determining that the Plan has been proposed in good faith, the Bankruptcy Court has examined the totality of the circumstances surrounding the filing of this Chapter 11 Case, the Plan itself, and the extensive, unrebutted testimony of Mr. Seery in which he described the process leading to Plan's formulation. Based on the totality of the circumstances and Mr. Seery's testimony, the Bankruptcy Court finds that the Plan is the result of extensive arm's-length negotiations among the Debtor, the Committee, and key stakeholders, and promotes the objectives and purposes of the Bankruptcy Code. Specifically, the Debtor's good faith in proposing the Plan is supported by the following facts adduced by Mr. Seery:

- a. The Independent Board determined that it should consider all potential restructuring alternatives, including pursuit of a traditional restructuring and the continuation of the Debtor's business, a potential sale of the Debtor's assets in one or more transactions, an asset monetization plan similar to that described in the Plan, and a so-called "grand bargain" plan that would involve Mr. Dondero's sponsorship of a plan with a substantial equity infusion.

- b. The Debtor subsequently engaged in arm's-length, good faith negotiations with the Committee over an asset monetization Plan commencing in June 2020, which negotiations occurred over the next several months.
- c. Negotiations between the Debtor and the Committee were often contentious over disputes, including, but not limited to, the post-confirmation corporate governance structure and the scope of releases contemplated by the Plan.
- d. While negotiations with the Committee progressed, the Independent Board engaged in discussions with Mr. Dondero regarding a potential "grand bargain" plan which contemplated a significant equity infusion by Mr. Dondero, and which Mr. Seery personally spent hundreds of hours pursuing over many months.
- e. On August 3, 2020, the Bankruptcy Court entered the Order Directing Mediation [Docket No. 912] pursuant to which the Bankruptcy Court ordered the Debtor, the Committee, UBS, Acis, the Redeemer Committee, and Mr. Dondero into mediation. As a result of this mediation, the Debtor negotiated the settlement of the claims of Acis and Mr. Terry, which the Bankruptcy Court approved on October 28, 2020 [Docket No. 1302].
- f. On August 12, 2020, the Debtor filed its Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. [Docket No. 944] (the "Initial Plan") and related disclosure statement (the "Initial Disclosure Statement") which were not supported by either the Committee or Mr. Dondero. The Independent Board filed the Initial Plan and Initial Disclosure Statement in order to act as a catalyst for continued discussions with the Committee while it simultaneously worked with Mr. Dondero on the "grand bargain" plan.
- g. The Bankruptcy Court conducted a contested hearing on the Initial Disclosure Statement on October 27, 2020. The Committee and other parties objected to approval of the Disclosure Statement at the Initial Disclosure Statement hearing, which was eventually continued to November 23, 2020.
- h. Following the Initial Disclosure Statement hearing, the Debtor continued to negotiate with the Committee and ultimately resolved the remaining material disputes and led to the Bankruptcy Court's approval of the Disclosure Statement on November 23, 2020.
- i. Even after obtaining the Bankruptcy Court's approval of the Disclosure Statement, the Debtor and the Committee continued to negotiate with Mr. Dondero and the Committee over a potential "pot plan" as an alternative to the Plan on file with the Bankruptcy Court, but such efforts were unsuccessful. This history conclusively demonstrates that the Plan is being proposed in good faith within the meaning of section 1129(a)(3).

49. Payments for Services or Costs and Expenses (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(4)).

Article II.B of the Plan provides that Professionals will file all final requests for payment of Professional Fee Claims no later than 60 days after the Effective Date, thereby providing an adequate period of time for interested parties to review such claims. The procedures set forth in the Plan for the Bankruptcy Court's approval of the fees, costs, and expenses to be paid in connection with this chapter 11 Case, or in connection with the Plan and incident to this Chapter 11 Case, satisfy the objectives of and are in compliance with section 1129(a)(4) of the Bankruptcy Code.

50. Directors, Officers, and Insiders (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(5)). Article IV.B

of the Plan provides for the appointment of the Claimant Trustee, Litigation Trustee, and the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee and the members thereto. For the reasons more fully explained in paragraphs 44-45 of this Confirmation Order with respect to the requirement of section 1123(a)(7) of the Bankruptcy Code, the Debtor has disclosed the nature of compensation of any insider to be employed or retained by the Reorganized Debtor, if applicable, and compensation for any such insider. The appointment of such individuals is consistent with the interests of Claims and Equity Interests and with public policy. Thus, the Plan satisfies section 1129(a)(5) of the Bankruptcy Code.

51. No Rate Changes (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(6)). The Plan does not provide for any rate change that requires regulatory approval. Section 1129(a)(6) of the Bankruptcy Code is thus not applicable.

52. Best Interests of Creditors (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(7)). The “best interests” test is satisfied as to all Impaired Classes under the Plan, as each Holder of a Claim or Equity Interest in such Impaired Classes will receive or retain property of a value, as of the Effective Date of the Plan, that is not less than the amount that such Holder would so receive or retain if the Debtor were liquidated under chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code. On October 15, 2020, the Debtor filed the Liquidation Analysis [Docket 1173], as prepared by the Debtor with the assistance of its advisors and which was attached as Exhibit C to the Disclosure Statement. On January 29, 2021, in advance of Mr. Seery’s deposition in connection with confirmation of the Plan, the Debtor provided an updated version of the Liquidation Analysis to the then-objectors of the Plan, including Mr. Dondero and the Dondero Related Entities. On February 1, 2021, the Debtor filed the Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections. The Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections included updates to the Debtor’s projected asset values, revenues, and expenses to reflect: (1) the acquisition of an interest in an entity known as “HCLOF” that the Debtor will acquire as part of its court-approved settlement with HarbourVest and that was valued at $22.5 million; (2) an increase in the value of certain of the Debtor’s assets due to changes in market conditions and other factors; (3) expected revenues and expenses arising in connection with the Debtor’s continued management of the CLOs pursuant to management agreements that the Debtor decided to retain; (4) increases in projected expenses for headcount (in addition to adding two or three employees to assist in the management of the CLOs, the Debtor also increased modestly the projected headcount as a result of its decision not to engage a Sub-Servicer) and professional fees; and (5) an increase in projected recoveries on notes resulting from the acceleration of term notes owed to the Debtor by the following Dondero Related Entities: NexPoint Advisors, L.P.; Highland Capital Management Services, Inc.; and HCRE Partners, LLC (n/k/a NexPoint Real Estate Partners, LLC). Under the Plan, as of the Confirmation Date, (a) Class 7 General Unsecured Creditors are projected to receive 85% on account of their claims; and (b) Class 8 General Unsecured Creditors are projected to receive at least approximately 71% on account of their Claims. Under a hypothetical chapter 7 liquidation, all general unsecured creditors are projected to receive approximately 55% on account of their Claims. The Bankruptcy Court finds that the distributions that Class 7 and 8 General Unsecured Creditors are projected to receive under the Plan substantially exceeds that which they would receive under a chapter 7 liquidation based on Mr. Seery's testimony, including the following credible reasons he posited, among others:

- a. The nature of the Debtor's assets is complex. Certain assets relate to complicated real estate structures and private equity investments in operating businesses. Mr. Seery's extensive experience with the Debtor during the thirteen months since his appointment as an Independent Director and later Chief Executive Officer and Chief Restructuring Officer, provides him with a substantial learning curve in connection with the disposition of the Debtor's assets and are reasonably expected to result in him being able to realize tens of millions of dollars more value than would a chapter 7 trustee.
- b. Assuming that a hypothetical chapter 7 trustee could even operate the Debtor's business under chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code and hire the necessary personnel with the relevant knowledge and experience to assist him or her in selling the Debtor's assets, a chapter 7 trustee would likely seek to dispose of the Debtor's assets in a forced sale liquidation which would generate substantially less value for the Debtor's creditors than the asset monetization plan contemplated by the Plan.
- c. A chapter 7 trustee would be unlikely to retain the Debtor's existing professionals to assist in its efforts to monetize assets, resulting in delays, increased expenses, and reduced asset yields for the chapter 7 estate.

- d. The chapter 7 estate would be unlikely to maximize value as compared to the asset monetization process contemplated by the Plan because potential buyers are likely to perceive a chapter 7 trustee as engaging in a quick, forced “fire sale” of assets; and
- e. The Debtor’s employees, who are vital to its efforts to maximum value and recoveries for stakeholders, may be unwilling to provide services to a chapter 7 trustee.

Finally, there is no evidence to support the objectors’ argument that the Claimant Trust Agreement’s disclaimed liability for ordinary negligence by the Claimant Trustee compared to a chapter 7 trustee’s liability has any relevance to creditor recoveries in a hypothetical chapter 7 liquidation. Thus, section 1129(a)(7) of the Bankruptcy Code is satisfied.

53. Acceptance by Certain Classes (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(8)). Classes 1, 3, 4, 5 and 6 are Unimpaired under the Plan. Class 2 (Frontier Secured Claim), Class 7 (Convenience Claims), and Class 9 (Subordinated Claims) have each voted to accept the Plan in accordance with the Bankruptcy Code, thereby satisfying section 1129(a)(8) as to those Classes. However, Class 8 (General Unsecured Claims), Class 10 (Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests), and Class 11 (Class A Limited Partnership Interests) have not accepted the Plan. Accordingly, section 1129(a)(8) of the Bankruptcy Code has not been satisfied. The Plan, however, is still confirmable because it satisfies the nonconsensual confirmation provisions of section 1129(b), as set forth below.

54. Treatment of Administrative, Priority, Priority Tax Claims, and Professional Fee Claims (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(9)). The treatment of Administrative Claims, Priority Claims, and Professional Fee Claims pursuant to Article III of the Plan, and as set forth below with respect to the resolution of the objections filed by the Internal Revenue Service and certain Texas taxing authorities satisfies the requirements of sections 1129(a)(9) of the Bankruptcy Code.

55. Acceptance by Impaired Class (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(10)). Class 2 (Frontier Secured Claims) and Class 7 (Convenience Claims) are each Impaired Classes of Claims that voted to accept the Plan, determined without including any acceptance of the Plan by any insider. Therefore, the requirement of section 1129(a)(10) of the Bankruptcy Code is satisfied.

56. Feasibility (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(11)). Article IV of the Plan provides for the implementation of the Plan through the Claimant Trust, the Litigation Sub-Trust, and the Reorganized Debtor. The Plan provides that the Claimant Trust, among other things, will monetize and distribute the Debtor's remaining assets. The Disclosure Statement, the Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections, and the other evidence presented at the Confirmation Hearing provide a reasonable probability of success that the Debtor will be able to effectuate the provisions of the Plan. The Plan contemplates the establishment of the Claimant Trust upon the Effective Date, which will monetize the Estate's assets for the benefit of creditors. Mr. Seery testified that the Class 2 Frontier Secured Claim will be paid over time pursuant to the terms of the New Frontier Note and the Reorganized Debtor will have sufficient assets to satisfy its obligations under this note. The Claims of the Holders of Class 7 Claims (as well as those Class 8 creditors who validly opted to receive the treatment of Class 7 Claims) are expected to be satisfied shortly after the Effective Date. Holders of Class 8 Claims (including any holders of Class 7 Claims who opted to receive the treatment provided to Class 8 Claims) are not guaranteed any recovery and will periodically receive pro rata distributions as assets are monetized pursuant to the Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement. Thus, section 1129(a)(11) of the Bankruptcy Code is satisfied.

57. Payment of Fees (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(12)). All fees payable under 28 U.S.C. § 1930 have been paid or will be paid on or before the Effective Date pursuant to Article XII.A of the Plan, thus satisfying the requirement of section 1129(a)(12) of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtor has agreed that the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trust, and the Litigation Sub-Trust shall be jointly and severally liable for payment of quarterly fees to the Office of the United States Trustee pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1930 through the entry of the Final Decree for the Debtor or the dismissal or conversion of the Chapter 11 Case.

58. Retiree Benefits. The Plan provides for the assumption of the Pension Plan (to the extent such Pension Plan provides “retiree benefits” and is governed by section 1114 of the Bankruptcy Code). Thus, the Plan complies with section 1129(a)(13) of the Bankruptcy Code, to the extent applicable.

59. Miscellaneous Provisions (11 U.S.C. §§ 1129(a)(14)-(16)). Sections 1129(a)(14)-(16) of the Bankruptcy Code are inapplicable as the Debtor (i) has no domestic support obligations (section 1129(a)(14)), (ii) is not an individual (section 1129(a)(15)), and (iii) is not a nonprofit corporation (section 1129(a)(16)).

60. No Unfair Discrimination; Fair and Equitable Treatment (11 U.S.C. § 1129(b)). The classification and treatment of Claims and Equity Interests in Classes 8, 10 and 11, which have not accepted the Plan, is proper pursuant to section 1122 of the Bankruptcy Code, does not discriminate unfairly, and is fair and equitable pursuant to section 1129(b)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code.

- a. Class 8. The Plan is fair and equitable with respect to Class 8 General Unsecured Claims. While Equity Interests in Class 10 and Class 11 will receive a contingent interest in the Claimant Trust under the Plan (the “Contingent Interests”), the Contingent Interests will not vest unless and until holders of Class 8 General Unsecured Claims and Class 9 Subordinated Claims receive distributions equal to 100% of the amount of their Allowed Claims plus interest as provided under the Plan and Claimant Trust Agreement. Accordingly, as the holders of Equity Interests that are junior to the Claims in Class 8 and Class 9 will not receive or retain under the Plan on account of such junior claim interest any property unless and until the Claims in Class 8 and Class 9 are paid in full plus applicable interest, the Plan is fair and equitable with respect to holders of Class 8 General Unsecured Claims pursuant to section 1129(b)(2)(B) of the Bankruptcy Code and the reasoning of In re Introgen Therapeutics 429 B.R 570 (Bankr. W.D. Tex. 2010).
- b. Class 10 and Class 11. There are no Claims or Equity Interests junior to the Equity Interests in Class 10 and Class 11. Equity Interests in Class 10 and 11 will neither receive nor retain any property under the Plan unless Allowed Claims in Class 8 and Class 9 are paid in full plus applicable interest pursuant to the terms of the Plan and Claimant Trust Agreement. Thus, the Plan does not violate the absolute priority rule with respect to Classes 10 and 11 pursuant to Bankruptcy Code section 1129(b)(2)(C). The Plan does not discriminate unfairly as to Equity Interests. As noted above, separate classification of the Class B/C Partnership Interests from the Class A Partnerships Interests is appropriate because they constitute different classes of equity security interests in the Debtor, and each are appropriately separately classified and treated.

Accordingly, the Plan does not violate the absolute priority rule, does not discriminate unfairly, and is fair and equitable with respect to each Class that has rejected the Plan. Thus, the Plan satisfies the requirements of section 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to Classes 8, 10, and 11.

61. Only One Plan (11 U.S.C. § 1129(c)). The Plan is the only chapter 11 plan confirmed in this Chapter 11 Case, and the requirements of section 1129(c) of the Bankruptcy Code are therefore satisfied.

62. Principal Purpose (11 U.S.C. § 1129(d)). Mr. Seery testified that the principal purpose of the Plan is neither the avoidance of taxes nor the avoidance of the application of section 5 of the Securities Act of 1933, and no governmental unit has objected to the confirmation of the Plan on any such grounds. Accordingly, section 1129(d) of the Bankruptcy Code is inapplicable.

63. Satisfaction of Confirmation Requirements. Based upon the foregoing, the Plan satisfies the requirements for confirmation set forth in section 1129 of the Bankruptcy Code and should be confirmed.

64. Good Faith Solicitation (11 U.S.C. § 1125(e)). The Debtor, the Independent Directors, and the Debtor's employees, advisors, Professionals, and agents have acted in good faith within the meaning of section 1125(e) of the Bankruptcy Code and in compliance with the applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rules in connection with all of their respective activities relating to the solicitation of acceptances of the Plan and their participation in the activities described in section 1125 of the Bankruptcy Code, and they are entitled to the protections afforded by section 1125(e) of the Bankruptcy Code.

65. Discharge (11 U.S.C. § 1141(d)(3)). The Debtor is entitled to a discharge of debts pursuant to section 1141(d)(3)(B) of the Bankruptcy Code. Under the Plan, the Claimant Trust or Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, will continue to manage funds and conduct business in the same manner as the Debtor did prior to Plan confirmation, which includes the management of the CLOs, Multi-Strat, Restoration Capital, the Select Fund and the Korea Fund. Although the Plan projects that it will take approximately two years to monetize the Debtor's assets for fair value, Mr. Seery testified that while the Reorganized Debtor and Claimant Trust will be monetizing their assets, there is no specified time frame by which this process must conclude. Mr. Seery's credible testimony demonstrates that the Debtor will continue to engage in business after consummation of the Plan, within the meaning of Section 1141(d)(3)(b) and that the Debtor is entitled to a discharge pursuant to section 1141(d)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code.

66. Retention of Jurisdiction. The Bankruptcy Court may properly retain jurisdiction over the matters set forth in Article XI of the Plan and/or section 1142 of the Bankruptcy Code to the maximum extent under applicable law.

67. Additional Plan Provisions (11 U.S.C. § 1123(b)). The Plan's provisions are appropriate, in the best interests of the Debtor and its Estate, and consistent with the applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code, Bankruptcy Rules, and Local Rules.

68. Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases (11 U.S.C. § 1123(b)(2)). The Debtor has exercised reasonable business judgment with respect to the rejection of the Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases pursuant the terms of the Plan and this Confirmation Order, and such rejections are justified and appropriate in this Chapter 11 Case. The Debtor also filed the List of Assumed Contracts, which contain notices to the applicable counterparties to the contracts set forth on Exhibit "FF" to Plan Supplement filed on February 1, 2021 [Docket No. 1875] and which exhibit sets forth the list of executory contracts and unexpired leases to be assumed by the Debtor pursuant to the Plan (collectively, the “Assumed Contracts”). With respect to the Assumed Contracts, only one party objected to the assumption of any of the Assumed Contracts, but that objection was withdrawn.<sup>8</sup> Any modifications, amendments, supplements, and restatements to the Assumed Contracts that may have been executed by the Debtor during the Chapter 11 Case shall not be deemed to alter the prepetition nature of the Assumed Contracts or the validity, priority, or amount of any Claims that may arise in connection therewith. Assumption of any Assumed Contract pursuant to the Plan and full payment of any applicable Cure pursuant to the Plan shall result in the full release and satisfaction of any Cures, Claims, or defaults, whether monetary or nonmonetary, including defaults of provisions restricting the change in control or ownership interest composition or other bankruptcy-related defaults, arising under any assumed Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease at any time prior to the effective date of assumption.

69. Compromises and Settlements Under and in Connection with the Plan (11 U.S.C. § 1123(b)(3)). All of the settlements and compromises pursuant to and in connection with the Plan, comply with the requirements of section 1123(b)(3) of the Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rule 9019.

70. Debtor Release, Exculpation and Injunctions (11 U.S.C. § 1123(b)). The Debtor Release, Exculpation, and Injunction provisions provided in the Plan (i) are within the jurisdiction of the Bankruptcy Court under 28 U.S.C. § 1334; (ii) are integral elements of the transactions incorporated into the Plan, and inextricably bound with the other provisions of the Plan; (iii) confer material benefit on, and are in the best interests of, the Debtor, its Estate, and its creditors; (iv) are fair, equitable, and reasonable; (v) are given and made after due notice and opportunity for hearing; (vi) satisfy the requirements of Bankruptcy Rule 9019; and (vii) are consistent with the Bankruptcy Code and other applicable law, and as set forth below.

71. Debtor Release. Section IX.D of the Plan provides for the Debtor's release of the Debtor's and Estate's claims against the Released Parties. Releases by a debtor are discretionary and can be provided by a debtor to persons who have provided consideration to the Debtor and its estate pursuant to section 1123(b)(3)(A) of the Bankruptcy Code. Contrary to the objections raised by Mr. Dondero and certain of the Dondero Related Entities, the Debtor Release is appropriately limited to release claims held by the Debtor and does not purport to release the claims held by the Claimant Trust, Litigation Sub-Trust, or other third parties. The Plan does not purport to release any claims held by third parties and the Bankruptcy Court finds that the Debtor Release is not a "disguised" release of any third party claims as asserted by certain objecting parties. The limited scope of the Debtor Release in the Plan was extensively negotiated with the Committee, particularly with the respect to the Debtor's conditional release of claims against employees, as identified in the Plan, and the Plan's conditions and terms of such releases. The Plan does not release (i) any obligations of any party under the Plan or any document, instrument, or agreement executed to implement the Plan, (ii) the rights or obligations of any current employee of the Debtor under any employment agreement or plan, (iii) the rights of the Debtor with respect to any confidentiality provisions or covenants restricting competition in favor of the Debtor under any employment agreement with a current or former employee of the Debtor, (iv) any Avoidance Actions, or (v) any Causes of Action arising from willful misconduct, criminal misconduct, actual fraud, or gross negligence of such applicable Released Party as determined by Final Order of the Bankruptcy Court or any other court of competent jurisdiction. The Debtor Release also contains conditions to such releases as set forth in Article X.D of the Plan with respect to employees (the “Release Conditions”). Until the an employee satisfies the Release Conditions or the Release Conditions otherwise terminate, any claims against such employee will be tolled so that if the Release Conditions are not met the Litigation Trustee may pursue claims against an employee at a later date. The evidence before the Bankruptcy Court, including, but not limited to Mr. Seery’s testimony, demonstrates that the Debtor is not aware of any claims against any of the Released Parties, that the Released Parties have been instrumental in assisting the Debtor’s efforts toward confirmation of the Plan and that, therefore, the releases are a quid pro quo for the Released Parties’ significant contributions to a highly complex and contentious restructuring. The Committee, whose members hold approximately $200 million in claims against the Estate, is highly sophisticated and is represented by highly sophisticated professionals, and has actively and vigorously negotiated the terms of the Debtor Release, which was the subject of significant controversy at the Initial Disclosure Statement hearing held by the Bankruptcy Court on October 27, 2020.

72. Exculpation. Section IX.C of the Plan provides for the exculpation of certain Exculpated Parties to the extent provided therein (the “Exculpation Provision”). As explained below, the Exculpation Provision is appropriate under the unique circumstances of this litigious Chapter 11 Case and consistent with applicable Fifth Circuit precedent. First, with respect to the Independent Directors, their agents, and their advisors, including any employees acting at their direction, the Bankruptcy Court finds and concludes that it has already exculpated these parties for acts other than willful misconduct and gross negligence pursuant to the January 9 Order. The January 9 Order was specifically agreed to by Mr. Dondero, who was in control of the Debtor up until entry of the January 9 Order. The January 9 Order was not appealed. In addition to the appointment of the Independent Directors in an already contentious and litigious case, the January 9 Order set the standard of care for the Independent Directors and specifically exculpated them for negligence. Mr. Seery and Mr. Dubel each testified that they had input into the contents of the January 9 Order and would not have agreed to their appointment as Independent Directors if the January 9 Order did not include the protections set forth in paragraph 10 of the January 9 Order. Paragraph 10 of the January 9 Order (1) requires that parties wishing to sue the Independent Directors or their agents and advisors must first seek approval from the Bankruptcy Court before doing so; (2) sets the standard of care for the Independent Directors during the Chapter 11 Case and exculpated the Independent Directors for acts other than willful misconduct or gross negligence; (3) only permits suits against the Independent Directors to proceed for colorable claims of willful misconduct and gross negligence upon order of the Bankruptcy Court; and (4) does not expire by its terms.

73. Existing Exculpation of Independent Directors. The Bankruptcy Court also finds and concludes that it has already exculpated Mr. Seery acting in the capacity as Chief Executive Officer and Chief Restructuring Officer pursuant to the July 16 Order. The Bankruptcy Court concludes its previous approval of the exculpation of the Independent Directors, their agents, advisors and employees working at their direction pursuant to the January 9 Order, and the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Restructuring Officer pursuant to the July 16 Order constitutes the law of this case and are res judicata pursuant to In re Republic Supply Co. v. Shoaf, 815 F.2d 1046 (5th Cir.1987). The January 9 Order and July 16 Order cannot be collaterally attacked based on the objectors' objection to the exculpation of the Independent Directors, their agents, and advisors, including any employees acting at their direction, as well as the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Restructuring Officer, that the Bankruptcy Court already approved pursuant to the January 9 Order and the July 16 Order.

74. The Exculpation Provision Complies with Applicable Law. Separate and apart from the res judicata effect of the January 9 Order and the July 16 Order, the Bankruptcy Court also finds and concludes that the Exculpation Provision is consistent with applicable law, including In re Pacific Lumber Co., 584 F.3d 229 (5th Cir. 2009), for several reasons:

- a. First, the statutory basis for Pacific Lumber's denial of exculpation for certain parties other than a creditors' committee and its members is that section 524(e) of the Bankruptcy Code "only releases the debtor, not co-liable third parties." Pacific Lumber, 253 F.3d. at 253. However, Pacific Lumber does not prohibit all exculpations under the Bankruptcy Code and the court in such case specifically approved the exculpations of a creditors' committee and its members on the grounds that "11 U.S.C. § 1103(c), which lists the creditors' committee's powers, implies committee members have qualified immunity for actions within the scope of their duties.... [I]f members of the committee can be sued by persons unhappy with the committee's performance during the case or unhappy with the outcome of the case, it will be extremely difficult to find members to serve on an official committee." Pacific Lumber, 253 F.3d at 253 (quoting Lawrence P. King, et al, Collier on Bankruptcy, ¶ 1103.05[4][b] (15th Ed. 2008)). Pacific Lumber's rationale for permitted exculpation of creditors' committees and their members (which was clearly policy-based and based on a creditors' committee qualified immunity flowing from their duties under section 1103(c) of the Bankruptcy Code and their disinterestedness and importance in chapter 11 cases) does not preclude exculpation to other parties in a particular chapter 11 case that perform similar roles to a creditors' committee and its members. The Independent Directors, and by extension the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Restructuring Officer, were not part of the Debtor's enterprise prior to their appointment by the Bankruptcy Court under the January 9 Order. The Bankruptcy Court appointed the Independent Directors in lieu of a chapter 11 trustee to address what the Bankruptcy Court perceived as serious conflicts of interest and fiduciary duty concerns with the then-existing management prior to January 9, 2020, as identified by the Committee. In addition, the Bankruptcy Court finds that the Independent Directors expected to be exculpated from claims of negligence, and would likely have been unwilling to serve in contentious cases absent exculpation. The uncontroverted testimony of Mr. Seery and Mr. Dubel demonstrates that the Independent Directors would not have agreed to accept their roles without the exculpation and gatekeeper provision in the January 9 Order. Mr. Dubel also testified as to the increasing important role that independent directors are playing in complex chapter 11 restructurings and that unless independent directors could be assured of exculpation for simple negligence in contentious bankruptcy cases they would be reluctant to accept appointment in chapter 11 cases which would adversely affect the chapter 11 restructuring process. The Bankruptcy Court concludes that the Independent Directors were appointed under the January 9 Order in order to avoid the appointment of a chapter 11 trustee and are analogous to a creditors' committee rather than an incumbent board of directors. The Bankruptcy Court also concludes that if independent directors cannot be assured of exculpation for simple negligence in contentious bankruptcy cases, they may not be willing to serve in that capacity. Based upon the foregoing, the Bankruptcy Court concludes that Pacific Lumber's policy of exculpating creditors' committees and their members from "being sued by persons unhappy with the committee's performance during the case or unhappy with the outcome of the case" is applicable to the Independent Directors in this Chapter 11 Case.<sup>9</sup>

- b. Second, the Bankruptcy Court also concludes that Pacific Lumber does not preclude the exculpation of parties if there is a showing that "costs [that] the released parties might incur defending against such suits alleging such negligence are likely to swamp either the Exculpated Parties or the reorganization." Pacific Lumber, 584 F.3d at 252. If ever there was a risk of that happening in a chapter 11 reorganization, it is this one. Mr. Seery credibly testified that Mr. Dondero stated outside the courtroom that if Mr. Dondero's pot plan does not get approved, that Mr. Dondero will "burn the place down." The Bankruptcy Court can easily expect that the proposed Exculpated Parties might expect to incur costs that could swamp them and the reorganization based on the prior litigious conduct of Mr. Dondero and his controlled entities that justify their inclusion in the Exculpation Provision.

<sup>9</sup> The same reasoning applies to the inclusion of Strand in the Exculpation Provision because Strand is the general partner of the Debtor through which each of the Independent Board members act.

75. Injunction. Section IX.D of the Plan provides for a Plan injunction to implement and enforce the Plan's release, discharge and release provisions (the "Injunction Provision"). The Injunction Provision is necessary to implement the provisions in the Plan. Mr. Seery testified that the Claimant Trustee will monetize the Debtor's assets in order to maximize their value. In order to accomplish this goal, the Claimant Trustee needs to be able to pursue this objective without the interference and harassment of Mr. Dondero and his related entities, including the Dondero Related Entities. Mr. Seery also testified that if the Claimant Trust was subject to interference by Mr. Dondero, it would take additional time to monetize the Debtor's assets and those assets could be monetized for less money to the detriment of the Debtor's creditors. The Bankruptcy Court finds and concludes that the Injunction Provision is consistent with and permissible under Bankruptcy Code sections 1123(a), 1123(a)(6), 1141(a) and (c), and 1142. The Bankruptcy Court rejects assertions by certain objecting parties that the Injunction Provision constitutes a "third-party release." The Injunction Provision is appropriate under the circumstances of this Chapter 11 Case and complies with applicable bankruptcy law. The Bankruptcy Court also concludes that the terms "implementation" and "consummation" are neither vague nor ambiguous

76. Gatekeeper Provision. Section IX.F of the Plan contains a provision contained in paragraph AA of this Confirmation Order and which the Debtor has referred to as a gatekeeper provision (the "Gatekeeper Provision"). The Gatekeeper Provision requires that Enjoined Parties first seek approval of the Bankruptcy Court before they may commence an action against Protected Parties. Thereafter, if the Bankruptcy Court determines that the action is colorable, the Bankruptcy Court may, if it has jurisdiction, adjudicate the action. The Bankruptcy Court finds that the inclusion of the Gatekeeper Provision is critical to the effective and efficient administration, implementation, and consummation of the Plan. The Bankruptcy Court also concludes that the Bankruptcy Court has the statutory authority as set forth below to approve the Gatekeeper Provision.

77. Factual Support for Gatekeeper Provision. The facts supporting the need for the Gatekeeper Provision are as follows. As discussed earlier in this Confirmation Order, prior to the commencement of the Debtor's bankruptcy case, and while under the direction of Mr. Dondero, the Debtor had been involved in a myriad of litigation, some of which had gone on for years and, in some cases, over a decade. Substantially all of the creditors in this case are either parties who were engaged in litigation with the Debtor, parties who represented the Debtor in connection with such litigation and had not been paid, or trade creditors who provided litigation-related services to the Debtor. During the last several months, Mr. Dondero and the Dondero Related Entities have harassed the Debtor, which has resulted in further substantial, costly, and time-consuming litigation for the Debtor. Such litigation includes: (i) entry of a temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction against Mr. Dondero [Adv. Proc. No. 20-03190 Docket No. 10 and 59] because of, among other things, his harassment of Mr. Seery and employees and interference with the Debtor's business operations; (ii) a contempt motion against Mr. Dondero for violation of the temporary restraining order, which motion is still pending before the Bankruptcy Court [Adv. Proc. No. 20-03190 Docket No. 48]; (iii) a motion by Mr. Dondero's controlled investors in certain CLOs managed by the Debtor that the Bankruptcy Court referred to as frivolous and a waste of the Bankruptcy Court's time [Docket No. 1528] which was denied by the Court [Docket No. 1605]; (iv) multiple plan confirmation objections focused on ensuring the Dondero Related Entities be able to continue their litigation against the Debtor and its successors post-confirmation [Docket Nos. 1661, 1667, 1670, 1673, 1676, 1677 and 1868]; (v) objections to the approval of the Debtor's settlements with Acis and HarbourVest and subsequent appeals of the Bankruptcy Court's order approving each of those settlements [Docket Nos. 1347 and 1870]; and (vi) a complaint and injunction sought against Mr. Dondero's affiliated entities to prevent them from violating the January 9 Order and entry of a restraining order against those entities [Adv Proc. No. 21-03000 Docket No 1] (collectively, the "Dondero Post-Petition Litigation").

78. Findings Regarding Dondero Post-Petition Litigation. The Bankruptcy Court finds that the Dondero Post-Petition Litigation was a result of Mr. Dondero failing to obtain creditor support for his plan proposal and consistent with his comments, as set forth in Mr. Seery's credible testimony, that if Mr. Dondero's plan proposal was not accepted, he would "burn down the place." The Bankruptcy Court concludes that without appropriate protections in place, in the form of the Gatekeeper Provision, Mr. Dondero and his related entities will likely commence litigation against the Protected Parties after the Effective Date and do so in jurisdictions other than the Bankruptcy Court in an effort to obtain a forum which Mr. Dondero perceives will be more hospitable to his claims. The Bankruptcy Court also finds, based upon Mr. Seery's testimony, that the threat of continued litigation by Mr. Dondero and his related entities after the Effective Date will impede efforts by the Claimant Trust to monetize assets for the benefit of creditors and result in lower distributions to creditors because of costs and distraction such litigation or the threats of such litigation would cause.

79. Necessity of Gatekeeper Provision. The Bankruptcy Court further finds that unless the Bankruptcy Court approves the Gatekeeper Provision, the Claimant Trustee and the Claimant Trust Oversight Board will not be able to obtain D&O insurance, the absence of which will present unacceptable risks to parties currently willing to serve in such roles. The Bankruptcy Court heard testimony from Mark Tauber, a Vice President with AON Financial Services, the Debtor's insurance broker ("AON"), regarding his efforts to obtain D&O insurance. Mr. Tauber credibly testified that of all the insurance carriers that AON approached to provide D&O insurance coverage after the Effective Date, the only one willing to do so without an exclusion for claims asserted by Mr. Dondero and his affiliates otherwise requires that this Order approve the Gatekeeper Provision. Based on the foregoing, the Bankruptcy Court finds that the Gatekeeper Provision is necessary and appropriate in light of the history of the continued litigiousness of Mr. Dondero and his related entities in this Chapter 11 Case and necessary to the effective and efficient administration, implementation and consummation of the Plan and is appropriate pursuant to Carroll v. Abide (In re Carroll) 850 F.3d 811 (5th Cir. 2017). Approval of the Gatekeeper Provision will prevent baseless litigation designed merely to harass the post-confirmation entities charged with monetizing the Debtor's assets for the benefit of its economic constituents, will avoid abuse of the court system and preempt the use of judicial time that properly could be used to consider the meritorious claims of other litigants. Any suit against a Protected Party would effectively be a suit against the Debtor, and the Debtor may be required to indemnify the Protected Parties under the Limited Partnership Agreement, which will remain in effect through the Effective Date, or those certain Indemnification and Guaranty Agreements, dated January 9, 2020, between Strand, the Debtor, and each Independent Director, following the Confirmation Date as each such agreement will be assumed pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 365 pursuant to the Plan.

80. Statutory Authority to Approve Gatekeeper Provision. The Bankruptcy Court finds it has the statutory authority to approve the Gatekeeper Provision under sections 1123(a)(5), 1123(b)(6), 1141, 1142(b), and 105(a). The Gatekeeper Provision is also within the spirit of the Supreme Court’s “Barton Doctrine.” Barton v. Barbour, 104 U.S. 126 (1881). The Gatekeeper Provision is also consistent with the notion of a prefiling injunction to deter vexatious litigants, that has been approved by the Fifth Circuit in such cases as Baum v. Blue Moon Ventures, LLC, 513 F.3d 181, 189 (5th Cir. 2008), and In re Carroll, 850 F.3d 811 (5th Cir. 2017).

81. Jurisdiction to Implement Gatekeeper Provision. The Bankruptcy Court finds that it will have jurisdiction after the Effective Date to implement the Gatekeeper Provision as post-confirmation bankruptcy court jurisdiction has been interpreted by the Fifth Circuit under United States Brass Corp. v. Travelers Ins. Group, Inc. (In re United States Brass Corp.), 301 F.3d 296 (5th Cir. 2002) and EOP-Colonnade of Dallas Ltd. P’Ship v. Faulkner (In re Stonebridge Techs., Inc.), 430 F.3d 260 (5th Cir. 2005). Based upon the rationale of the Fifth Circuit in Villegas v. Schmidt, 788 F.3d 156, 158-59 (5th Cir. 2015), the Bankruptcy Court’s jurisdiction to act as a gatekeeper does not violate Stern v. Marshall. The Bankruptcy Court’s determination of whether a claim is colorable, which the Bankruptcy Court has jurisdiction to determine, is distinct from whether the Bankruptcy Court would have jurisdiction to adjudicate any claim it finds colorable.

82. Resolution of Objections of Scott Ellington and Isaac Leventon. Each of Scott Ellington (“Mr. Ellington”) and Isaac Leventon (“Mr. Leventon”) (each, a “Senior Employee Claimant”) has asserted certain claims for liquidated but unpaid bonus amounts for the following periods: 2016, 2017, and 2018, as set forth in Exhibit A to that certain Senior Employees’ Limited Objection to Debtor’s Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization [Docket No. 1669] (the “Senior Employees’ Objection”) (for each of Mr. Ellington and Mr. Leventon, the “Liquidated Bonus Claims”).

- a. Mr. Ellington has asserted Liquidated Bonus Claims in the aggregate amount of $1,367,197.00, and Mr. Leventon has asserted Liquidated Bonus Claims in the aggregate amount of $598,198.00. Mr. Ellington received two Ballots<sup>10</sup> – a Ballot for Class 7 of the Plan and a Ballot for Class 8 of the Plan. Mr. Ellington completed and timely returned both of such Ballots, voted to reject the Plan, and elected to have his Class 8 Liquidated Bonus Claims treated under Class 7 of the Plan, subject to the objections and reservations of rights set forth in the Senior Employees’ Objection. If Mr. Ellington is permitted to elect Class 7 treatment for his Liquidated Bonus Claims, then the maximum amount of his Liquidated Bonus Claims will be $1,000,000.
- b. Mr. Leventon received two Ballots—a Ballot for Class 7 of the Plan and a Ballot for Class 8 of the Plan. Mr. Leventon completed and timely returned both of such Ballots and voted each such Ballots to rejected the Plan.
- c. The Senior Employees’ Objection, among other things, objects to the Plan on the grounds that the Debtor improperly disputes the right of Mr. Ellington to elect Class 7 treatment for his Liquidated Bonus Claims and Mr. Leventon’s entitlement to receive Class 7 Convenience Class treatment for his Liquidated Bonus Claims. The Debtor contended that neither Mr. Ellington or Mr. Leventon were entitled to elect to receive Class 7 Convenience Class treatment on account of their Liquidated

<sup>10</sup> As defined in the Plan, “Ballot” means the forms(s) distributed to holders of Impaired Claims or Equity Interests entitled to vote on the Plan on which to indicate their acceptance or rejection of the Plan.

Bonus Claims under the terms of the Plan, the Disclosure Statement Order or applicable law.

- d. The Debtor and Mr. Ellington and Mr. Leventon negotiated at arms' length in an effort to resolve all issues raised in the Senior Employee's Objection, including whether or not Mr. Ellington and Mr. Leventon were entitled to Class 7 Convenience Class treatment of their Liquidated Bonus Claims. As a result of such negotiation, the Debtor, Mr. Ellington, and Mr. Leventon have agreed to the settlement described in paragraphs 82(e) through 82(k) below and approved and effectuated pursuant to decretal paragraphs RR through SS (the "Senior Employees' Settlement").
- e. Under the terms of the Senior Employees' Settlement, the Debtor has the right to elect one of two treatments of the Liquidated Bonus Claims for a Senior Employee Claimant. Under the first treatment option ("Option A"), the Liquidated Bonus Claims will be entitled to be treated in Class 7 of the Plan, and the Liquidated Bonus Claims will be entitled to receive payment in an amount equal to 70.125% of the Class 7 amount of the Liquidated Bonus Claims, subject to the Liquidated Bonus Claims becoming Allowed Claims under the terms of the Plan. Under this calculation, Mr. Ellington would be entitled to receive $701,250.00 on account of his Class 7 Convenience Class Claim when and as Allowed under the Plan, and Mr. Leventon would be entitled to receive $413,175.10 on account of his Class 7 Convenience Class Claim when and as Allowed under the Plan. If, however, any party in interest objects to the allowance of the Senior Employee Claimant's Liquidated Bonus Claims and does not prevail in such objection, then such Senior Employee Claimant will be entitled to a payment in an amount equal to 85% of his Allowed Liquidated Bonus Claims (subject, in the case of Mr. Ellington, to the cap imposed on Class 7 Claims). In addition, under Option A, each of Mr. Ellington and Mr. Leventon would retain their respective rights to assert that the Liquidated Bonus Claims are entitled to be treated as Administrative Expense Claims, as defined in Article I.B.2. of the Plan, in which case the holder of such Liquidated Bonus Claims would be entitled to payment in full of the Allowed Liquidated Bonus Claims. Under Option A, parties in interest would retain the right to object to any motion seeking payment of the Liquidated Bonus Amounts as Administrative Expenses.
- f. Under the second treatment option ("Option B"), the Debtor would agree that the Senior Employee Claimant has Allowed Liquidated Bonus Claims, no longer subject to objection by any party in interest, in the amounts of the Liquidated Bonus Claims (subject, in the case of Mr. Ellington, to the cap imposed by Class 7). If the Debtor elects Option B as to a Senior Employee Claimant, then such Senior Employee Claimant would be entitled to a payment on account of his Allowed Liquidated Bonus Claims in an amount equal to 60% of the amount of the Liquidated Bonus Claims (which, in Mr. Ellington's case, would be $600,000 and in Mr. Leventon's case, would be $358,918.80), and such payment would be the sole recovery on account of such Allowed Liquidated Bonus Claims.

- g. The Debtor may, with the consent of the Committee, elect Option B with respect to a Senior Employee Claimant at any time prior to the occurrence of the Effective Date. If the Debtor does not make an election, then Option A will apply.
- h. Under either Option A or Option B, Mr. Ellington and Mr. Leventon will retain all their rights with respect to all Claims other than the Liquidated Bonus Amounts, including, but not limited to, their Class 6 PTO Claims, other claims asserted as Class 8 General Unsecured Claims, the Senior Employees' claims for indemnification against the Debtor, and any other claims that they may assert constitute Administrative Expense Claims, and any other such Claims are subject to the rights of any party in interest to object to such Claims, and the Debtor reserves any all of its rights and defenses in connection therewith.
- i. Subject to entry of this Confirmation Order and as set forth and announced on the record at the hearing on confirmation of the Plan and no party objecting thereto, Mr. Ellington and Mr. Leventon agreed to change the votes in their respective Ballots from rejection to acceptance of the Plan and to withdraw the Senior Employees' Objection.
- j. The Senior Employees' Settlement represents a valid exercise of the Debtor's business judgment and satisfies the requirements for a compromise under Bankruptcy Rule 9019(a).
- k. For the avoidance of doubt, neither Mr. Leventon nor Mr. Ellington shall be a Released Party under the Plan regardless of how the Senior Employee Claimants' Claims are to be treated hereunder.

Based upon the foregoing findings, and upon the record made before the Bankruptcy Court at the Confirmation Hearing, and good and sufficient cause appearing therefor, it is hereby

ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED THAT:

A. Confirmation of the Plan. The Plan is approved in its entirety and CONFIRMED under section 1129 of the Bankruptcy Code. The terms of the Plan, including the Plan Supplements and Plan Modifications, are incorporated by reference into and are an integral part of this Confirmation Order.<sup>11</sup>

B. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law. The findings of fact and the conclusions of law set forth in this Confirmation Order and on the record of the Confirmation Hearing constitute findings of fact and conclusions of law in accordance with Bankruptcy Rule 7052, made applicable to this proceeding by Bankruptcy Rule 9014. All findings of fact and conclusion of law announced by the Bankruptcy Court at the Confirmation Hearing in relation to confirmation of the Plan are hereby incorporated into this Confirmation Order. To the extent that any of the following constitutes findings of fact or conclusions of law, they are adopted as such. To the extent any findings of fact or conclusions of law set forth in this Confirmation Order (including any findings of fact or conclusions of law announced by the Bankruptcy Court at the Confirmation Hearing and incorporated herein) constitutes an order of the Bankruptcy Court, and is adopted as such.

C. Objections. Any resolution or disposition of objections to confirmation of the Plan or otherwise ruled upon by the Bankruptcy Court on the record of the Confirmation Hearing is hereby incorporated by reference. All objections and all reservations of rights pertaining to confirmation of the Plan that have not been withdrawn, waived or settled are overruled on the merits, except as otherwise specifically provided in this Confirmation Order.

D. Plan Supplements and Plan Modifications. The filing with the Bankruptcy Court of the Plan Supplements and the Plan Modifications constitutes due and sufficient notice thereof. Accordingly, pursuant to section 1127(a) of the Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rule 3019, the Plan Modifications and the Plan Supplements do not require additional disclosure under section 1125 of the Bankruptcy Code or resolicitation of votes under section 1126 of the Bankruptcy Code, nor do they require that Holders of Claims or Equity Interests be afforded an opportunity to change previously cast acceptances or rejections of the Plan. The Plan Modifications and the Plan Supplements constitute the Plan pursuant to section 1127(a) of the Bankruptcy Code. Accordingly, the Plan, as modified, is properly before the Bankruptcy Court and all votes cast with respect to the Plan prior to such modification shall be binding and shall apply with respect to the Plan.

E. Deemed Acceptance of Plan. In accordance with section 1127 of the Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rule 3019, all Holders of Claims and Equity Interests who voted to accept the Plan (or whom are conclusively presumed to accept the Plan) are deemed to have accepted the Plan as modified by the Plan Modifications. No holder of a Claim shall be permitted to change its vote as a consequence of the Plan Modifications.

F. Vesting of Assets in the Reorganized Debtor. Except as otherwise provided in the Plan or this Confirmation Order, on or after the Effective Date, all Reorganized Debtor Assets will vest in the Reorganized Debtor, free and clear of all Liens, Claims, charges or other encumbrances pursuant to section 1141(c) of the Bankruptcy Code, except with respect to such Liens, Claims, charges, and other encumbrances that are specifically preserved under the Plan upon the Effective Date. The Reorganized Debtor shall be the exclusive trustee of the Reorganized Debtor Assets for purposes of 31 U.S.C. § 3713(b) and 26 U.S.C. § 6012(b)(3), as well as the representative of the Estate appointed pursuant to section 1123(b)(3)(B) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to the Reorganized Debtor Assets.

G. Effectiveness of All Actions. All actions contemplated by the Plan, including all actions in connection with the Claimant Trust Agreement, the Senior Employee Stipulation, the New GP LLC Documents, the New Frontier Note, the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement, and the other Plan Documents, are authorized to be taken on, prior to, or after the Effective Date, as applicable, under this Confirmation Order, without further application to or order of the Bankruptcy Court, or further action by the directors, managers, officers or partners of the Debtor or the Reorganized Debtor and with the effect that such actions had been taken by unanimous action of such parties.

H. Restructuring Transactions. The Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, are authorized to enter into and effectuate the Restructuring provided under the Plan, including, without limitation, the entry into and consummation of the transactions contemplated by the Claimant Trust Agreement, the Senior Employee Stipulation, the New GP LLC Documents, the New Frontier Note, the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement, and the other Plan Documents, and may take any actions as may be necessary or appropriate to effect a corporate restructuring of its business or a corporate restructuring of the overall corporate structure of the Reorganized Debtor, as and to the extent provided in the Plan. Any transfers of assets or equity interests effected or any obligations incurred through the Restructuring pursuant to the Plan are hereby approved and shall not constitute fraudulent conveyances or fraudulent transfers or otherwise be subject to avoidance.

I. Preservation of Causes of Action. Unless a Cause of Action against a Holder of a Claim or an Equity Interest or other Entity is expressly waived, relinquished, released, compromised or settled in the Plan or any Final Order (including, without limitation, this Confirmation Order), such Cause of Action is expressly reserved for later adjudication by the Reorganized Debtor, the Litigation Sub-Trust, or the Claimant Trust, as applicable (including, without limitation, Causes of Action not specifically identified or of which the Debtor may presently be unaware or that may arise or exist by reason of additional facts or circumstances unknown to the Debtor at this time or facts or circumstances that may change or be different from those the Debtor now believes to exist) and, therefore, no preclusion doctrine, including, without limitation, the doctrines of res judicata, collateral estoppel, issue preclusion, claim preclusion, waiver, estoppel (judicial, equitable or otherwise) or laches will apply to such Causes of Action as a consequence of the confirmation, effectiveness, or consummation of the Plan based on the Disclosure Statement, the Plan, or this Confirmation Order, except where such Causes of Action have been expressly released in the Plan or any other Final Order (including, without limitation, this Confirmation Order). In addition, the right of the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trust, or the Litigation Sub-Trust to pursue or adopt any claims alleged in any lawsuit in which the Debtor is a plaintiff, defendant or an interested party, against any Entity, including, without limitation, the plaintiffs or co-defendants in such lawsuits, is expressly reserved.

J. Independent Board of Directors of Strand. The terms of the current Independent Directors shall expire on the Effective Date without the need for any further or other action by any of the Independent Directors. For avoidance of doubt, the Assumed Contracts include the Indemnification and Guaranty Agreement between Highland Capital Management, Strand Advisors, Inc. and James Seery; the Indemnification and Guaranty Agreement between Highland Capital Management, Strand Advisors, Inc. and John Dubel and Indemnification and Guaranty Agreement between Highland Capital Management, Strand Advisors, Inc. and Russell Nelms and shall each remain in full force and effect notwithstanding the expiration of the terms of any Independent Directors.

K. Cancellation of Equity Interests and Issuance of New Partnership

Interests. On the Effective Date, all Class A Limited Partnership Interests, including the Class A Limited Partnership Interests held by Strand, as general partner, and Class B/C Limited Partnerships in the Debtor will be deemed cancelled, and all obligations or debts owed by, or Claims against, the Debtor on account of, or based upon, such Class A Limited Partnership Interests and Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests shall be deemed as cancelled, released, and discharged, including all obligations or duties by the Debtor relating to the Equity Interests in any of the Debtor's formation documents, including the Limited Partnership Agreement. As of the Effective Date and pursuant to the Plan, new Class A Limited Partnership Interests in the Reorganized Debtor will be issued to the Claimant Trust and New GP LLC. The Claimant Trust, as limited partner, will ratify New GP LLC's appointment as general partner of the Reorganized Debtor, and on and following the Effective Date, the Claimant Trust will be the Reorganized Debtor's limited partner and New GP LLC will be its general partner. The Claimant Trust, as limited partner, and New GP LLC, as general partner, will execute the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, which will amend and restate, in all respects, the Debtor's current Limited Partnership Agreement. Following the Effective Date, the Reorganized Debtor will be managed consistent with the terms of the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement by New GP LLC. The sole managing member of New GP LLC will be the Claimant Trust, and the Claimant Trustee will be the sole officer of New GP LLC on the Effective Date.

L. Transfer of Assets to Claimant Trust. On or prior to the Effective Date, the Debtor shall irrevocably transfer and shall be deemed to have irrevocably transferred to the Claimant Trust all of its rights, title, and interest in and to all of the Claimant Trust Assets, and in accordance with section 1141 of the Bankruptcy Code, the Claimant Trust Assets shall automatically vest in the Claimant Trust free and clear of all Claims, Liens, encumbrances, or interests subject only to the Claimant Trust Interests and the Claimant Trust Expenses, as provided for in the Claimant Trust Agreement, and such transfer shall be exempt from any stamp, real estate transfer, mortgage from any stamp, transfer, reporting, sales, use, or other similar tax. Following the Effective Date, the Claimant Trust will administer the Claimant Trust Assets pursuant to the Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement.

M. Transfer of Estate Claims to Litigation Sub-Trust. On or prior to the Effective Date, the Claimant Trust shall irrevocably transfer and shall be deemed to have irrevocably transferred to the Litigation Sub-Trust all of the Claimant Trust's rights, title, and interest in and to all of the Estate Claims as successor in interest to the Debtor, and in accordance with section 1141 of the Bankruptcy Code, the Estate Claims shall automatically vest in the Litigation Sub-Trust free and clear of all Claims, Liens, encumbrances, or interests subject only to the Litigation Sub-Trust Interests and Litigation Sub-Trust Expenses. The Litigation Trustee will be authorized to investigate, pursue, and otherwise resolve the Estate Claims pursuant to the terms of the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement and the Plan, including as successor in interest to the Debtor or Committee, as applicable, in any litigation commenced prior to the Effective Date in which Estate Claims are asserted.

N. Compromise of Controversies. In consideration for the distributions and other benefits, including releases, provided under the Plan, the provisions of the Plan constitute a good faith compromise and settlement of all Claims, Equity Interests, and controversies resolved under the Plan and the entry of this Confirmation Order constitutes approval of such compromise and settlement under Bankruptcy Rule 9019.

O. Objections to Claims. The Claims Objection Deadline shall be the date that is 180 days after the Effective Date, provided, however, that the Claims Objection Deadline may be extended by the Bankruptcy Court upon a motion by the Claimant Trustee and as otherwise provided under the Plan.

P. Assumption of Contracts and Leases. Effective as of the date of this Confirmation Order, each of the Assumed Contracts shall be assumed by the Debtor without the need for any further notice to or action, order, or approval of the Bankruptcy Court, under section 365 of the Bankruptcy Code and the payment of Cures, if any, shall be paid in accordance with the Plan. Each Assumed Contract shall include all modifications, amendments, supplements, restatements, or other agreements related thereto, and all rights related thereto, if any, including all easements, licenses, permits, rights, privileges, immunities, options, rights of first refusal, and any other interests. Modifications, amendments, supplements, and restatements to any of the Assumed Contracts that have been executed by the Debtor during the Chapter 11 Case shall not be deemed to alter the prepetition nature of such Assumed Contracts or the validity, priority, or amount of any Claims that may arise in connection therewith. Assumption of the Assumed Contracts pursuant to Article V.A of the Plan and full payment of any applicable Cure pursuant to the Plan shall result in the full release and satisfaction of any Cures, Claims, or defaults, whether monetary or nonmonetary, including defaults of provisions restricting the change in control or ownership interest composition, or other bankruptcy-related defaults, arising under any Assumed Contracts.

Q. Rejection of Contracts and Leases. Unless previously assumed during the pendency of the Chapter 11 Case or pursuant to the Plan, all other Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases are rejected as of the date of the entry of this Confirmation Order and pursuant to the terms of the Plan. To the extent that any party asserts any damages resulting from the rejection of any Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease, such claim must be filed within thirty (30) days following entry of this Confirmation Order, or such claim will be forever barred and disallowed against the Reorganized Debtor.

R. Assumption of Issuer Executory Contracts. On the Confirmation Date, the Debtor will assume the agreements set forth on Exhibit B hereto (collectively, the “Issuer Executory Contracts”) pursuant to section 365 of the Bankruptcy Code and Article V of the Plan. In full and complete satisfaction of its obligation to cure outstanding defaults under section 365(b)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code, the Debtor or, as applicable, any successor manager under the Issuer Executory Contracts (collectively, the “Portfolio Manager”) will pay to the Issuers<sup>12</sup> a cumulative amount of $525,000 (the “Cure Amount”) as follows:

- a. $200,000 in cash on the date that is five business days from the Effective Date, with such payment paid directly to Schulte Roth & Zabel LLP (“SRZ”) in the amount of $85,714.29, Jones Walker LLP (“JW”) in the amount of $72,380.95, and Maples Group (“Maples” and collectively with SRZ and JW, the “Issuers’ Counsel”) in the amount of $41,904.76 as reimbursement for the attorney’s fees and other legal expenses incurred by the Issuers in connection with the Debtor’s bankruptcy case; and
- b. $325,000 in four equal quarterly payments of $81,250.00 (each, a “Payment”), which amounts shall be paid to SRZ in the amount of $34,821.43, JW in the amount of $29,404.76, and Maples in the amount of $17,023.81 as additional reimbursement for the attorney’s fees and other legal expenses incurred by the Issuers in connection with the Debtor’s bankruptcy case (i) from any management fees actually paid to the Portfolio Manager under the Issuer Executory Contracts (the “Management Fees”), and (ii) on the date(s) Management Fees are required to be paid under the Issuer Executory Contracts (the “Payment Dates”), and such obligation shall be considered an irrevocable direction from the Debtor and the Bankruptcy Court to the relevant CLO Trustee to pay, on each Payment Date, the Payment to Issuers’ Counsel, allocated in the proportion set forth in such agreement; provided, however, that (x) if the Management Fees are insufficient to make any Payment in full on a Payment Date, such shortfall, in addition to any other amounts due hereunder, shall be paid out of the Management Fees owed on the following Payment Date, and (y) nothing herein shall limit either Debtor’s liability to pay the amounts set forth herein, nor the recourse of the Issuers or Issuers’ Counsel to the Debtor, in the event of any failure to make any Payment.

S. Release of Issuer Claims. Effective as of the Confirmation Date, and to the maximum extent permitted by law, each Issuer on behalf of itself and each of its current and former advisors, trustees, directors, officers, managers, members, partners, employees, beneficiaries, shareholders, agents, participants, subsidiaries, parents, successors, designees, and assigns hereby forever, finally, fully, unconditionally, and completely releases, relieves, acquits, remises, and exonerates, and covenants never to sue, (i) the Debtor and (ii) the Professionals retained by the Debtor and the Committee in the Chapter 11 Case, the Independent Directors, the CEO/CRO, and with respect to the Persons listed in this subsection (ii), such Person's Related Persons (collectively, the "Debtor Released Parties"), for and from any and all claims, debts, liabilities, demands, obligations, promises, acts, agreements, liens, losses, costs and expenses (including, without limitation, attorney's fees and related costs), damages, injuries, suits, actions, and causes of action of whatever kind or nature, whether known or unknown, suspected or unsuspected, matured or unmatured, liquidated or unliquidated, contingent or fixed, at law or in equity, statutory or otherwise, including, without limitation, any claims, defenses, and affirmative defenses, whether known or unknown, including, without limitation, those which were or could have been asserted in, in connection with, or with respect to the Bankruptcy Case (collectively, the "Issuer Released Claims").

T. Release of Debtor Claims against Issuer Released Parties. Upon entry of this Order, and to the maximum extent permitted by law, the Debtor hereby forever, finally, fully, unconditionally, and completely releases, relieves, acquits, remises, and exonerates, and covenants never to sue [(i) each Issuer and (ii) Wendy Ebanks, (iii) Yun Zheng, (iv) Laura Chisholm, (v) Mora Goddard, (vi) Stacy Bodden, (vii) Suzan Merren (viii) Scott Dakers, (ix) Samit Ghosh, (x) Inderjit Singh, (xi) Ellen Christian, (xii) Andrew Dean, (xiii) Betsy Mortel, (xiv) David Hogan, (xv) Cleveland Stewart, (xvi) Rachael Rankin, (xvii) Otelia Scott, (xviii) Martin Couch, (xx) Feronia Bartley-Davis, (xxi) Charlotte Cloete, (xxii) Christina McLean, (xxiii) Karen Ellerbe, (xxiv) Gennie Kay Bigord, (xxv) Evert Brunekreef, (xxvii) Evan Charles Burtton (collectively, the “Issuer Released Parties”),] for and from any and all claims, debts, liabilities, demands, obligations, promises, acts, agreements, liens, losses, costs and expenses (including, without limitation, attorney’s fees and related costs), damages, injuries, suits, actions, and causes of action of whatever kind or nature, whether known or unknown, suspected or unsuspected, matured or unmatured, liquidated or unliquidated, contingent or fixed, at law or in equity, statutory or otherwise, including, without limitation, any claims, defenses, and affirmative defenses, whether known or unknown, which were or could have been asserted in, in connection with, or with respect to the Bankruptcy Case (collectively, the “Debtor Released Claims”); provided, however, that notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the release contained herein will apply to the Issuer Released Parties set forth in subsection (ii) above only with respect to Debtor Released Claims arising from or relating to the Issuer Executory Contracts. Notwithstanding anything in this Order to the contrary, the releases set forth in paragraphs S and T hereof will not apply with respect to the duties, rights, or obligations of the Debtor or any Issuer hereunder.

U. Authorization to Consummate. The Debtor is authorized to consummate the Plan after the entry of this Confirmation Order subject to satisfaction or waiver of the conditions precedent to the Effective Date of the Plan set forth in Article VIII.A of the Plan. The Plan shall not become effective unless and until the conditions set forth in Article VIII.A of the Plan have been satisfied, or otherwise waived pursuant to Article VIII.B of the Plan.

V. Professional Compensation. All requests for payment of Professional Fee Claims for services rendered and reimbursement of expenses incurred prior to the Effective Date must be filed no later than sixty (60) days after the Effective Date. The Bankruptcy Court shall determine the Allowed amounts of such Professional Fee Claims after notice and an opportunity for hearing in accordance with the procedures established by the Bankruptcy Code and the Bankruptcy Court. The Debtor shall fund the Professional Fee Reserve as provided under the Plan. The Reorganized Debtor shall pay Professional Fee Claims in Cash in the amounts the Bankruptcy Court allows. The Debtor is authorized to pay the pre-Effective Date fees and expenses of all ordinary course professionals in the ordinary course of business without the need for further Bankruptcy Court order or approval. From and after the Effective Date, any requirement that Professionals comply with sections 327 through 331 and 1103 (if applicable) of the Bankruptcy Code in seeking retention or compensation for services rendered after such date shall terminate, and the Reorganized Debtor or Claimant Trustee, as applicable, may employ and pay any Professional or Entity employed in the ordinary course of the Debtor's business without any further notice to or action, order, or approval of the Bankruptcy Court.

W. Release, Exculpation, Discharge, and Injunction Provisions. The following release, exculpation, discharge, and injunction provisions set forth in the Plan are approved and authorized in their entirety, and such provisions are effective and binding on all parties and Entities to the extent provided therein.

X. Discharge of Claims and Termination of Interests. To the fullest extent provided under section 1141(d)(1)(A) and other applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code, except as otherwise expressly provided by the Plan or this Confirmation Order, all consideration distributed under the Plan will be in exchange for, and in complete satisfaction, settlement, discharge, and release of, all Claims and Equity Interests of any kind or nature whatsoever against the Debtor or any of its Assets or properties, and regardless of whether any property will have been distributed or retained pursuant to the Plan on account of such Claims or Equity Interests. Except as otherwise expressly provided by the Plan or this Confirmation Order, upon the Effective Date, the Debtor and its Estate will be deemed discharged and released under and to the fullest extent provided under section 1141(d)(1)(A) and other applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code from any and all Claims and Equity Interests of any kind or nature whatsoever, including, but not limited to, demands and liabilities that arose before the Confirmation Date, and all debts of the kind specified in section 502(g), 502(h), or 502(i) of the Bankruptcy Code.

Y. Exculpation. Subject in all respects to Article XII.D of the Plan, to the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, no Exculpated Party will have or incur, and each Exculpated Party is hereby exculpated from, any claim, obligation, suit, judgment, damage, demand, debt, right, Cause of Action, remedy, loss, and liability for conduct occurring on or after the Petition Date in connection with or arising out of (i) the filing and administration of the Chapter 11 Case; (ii) the negotiation and pursuit of the Disclosure Statement, the Plan, or the solicitation of votes for, or confirmation of, the Plan; (iii) the funding or consummation of the Plan (including the Plan Supplement) or any related agreements, instruments, or other documents, the solicitation of votes on the Plan, the offer, issuance, and Plan Distribution of any securities issued or to be issued pursuant to the Plan, including the Claimant Trust Interests, whether or not such Plan Distributions occur following the Effective Date; (iv) the implementation of the Plan; and (v) any negotiations, transactions, and documentation in connection with the foregoing clauses (i)-(v); provided, however, the foregoing will not apply to (a) any acts or omissions of an Exculpated Party arising out of or related to acts or omissions that constitute bad faith, fraud, gross negligence, criminal misconduct, or willful misconduct or (b) Strand or any Employee other than with respect to actions taken by such Entities from the date of appointment of the Independent Directors through the Effective Date. The Plan's exculpation shall be in addition to, and not in limitation of, all other releases, indemnities, exculpations, any other applicable law or rules, or any other provisions of the Plan, including Article IV.C.2 of the Plan, protecting such Exculpated Parties from liability.

Z. Releases by the Debtor. On and after the Effective Date, each Released Party is deemed to be, hereby conclusively, absolutely, unconditionally, irrevocably, and forever released and discharged by the Debtor and the Estate, in each case on behalf of themselves and their respective successors, assigns, and representatives, including, but not limited to, the Claimant Trust and the Litigation Sub-Trust from any and all Causes of Action, including any derivative claims, asserted on behalf of the Debtor, whether known or unknown, foreseen or unforeseen, matured or unmatured, existing or hereafter arising, in law, equity, contract, tort or otherwise, that the Debtor or the Estate would have been legally entitled to assert in their own right (whether individually or collectively) or on behalf of the holder of any Claim against, or Interest in, a Debtor or other Person. Notwithstanding anything contained herein to the contrary, the foregoing release does not release: (i) any obligations of any party under the Plan or any document, instrument, or agreement executed to implement the Plan, (ii) the rights or obligations of any current employee of the Debtor under any employment agreement or plan, (iii) the rights of the Debtor with respect to any confidentiality provisions or covenants restricting competition in favor of the Debtor under any employment agreement with a current or former employee of the Debtor, (iv) any Avoidance Actions, or (v) any Causes of Action arising from willful misconduct, criminal misconduct, actual fraud, or gross negligence of such applicable Released Party as determined by Final Order of the Bankruptcy Court or any other court of competent jurisdiction.

AA. Injunction. Upon entry of this Confirmation Order, all Enjoined Parties are and shall be permanently enjoined, on and after the Effective Date, from taking any actions to interfere with the implementation or consummation of the Plan. Except as expressly provided in the Plan, this Confirmation Order, or a separate order of the Bankruptcy Court, all Enjoined Parties are and shall be permanently enjoined, on and after the Effective Date, with respect to any Claims and Equity Interests, from directly or indirectly (i) commencing, conducting, or continuing in any manner, any suit, action, or other proceeding of any kind (including any proceeding in a judicial, arbitral, administrative or other forum) against or affecting the Debtor or the property of the Debtor, (ii) enforcing, levying, attaching (including any prejudgment attachment), collecting, or otherwise recovering, enforcing, or attempting to recover or enforce, by any manner or means, any judgment, award, decree, or order against the Debtor or the property of the Debtor, (iii) creating, perfecting, or otherwise enforcing in any manner, any security interest, lien or encumbrance of any kind against the Debtor or the property of the Debtor, (iv) asserting any right of setoff, directly or indirectly, against any obligation due to the Debtor or against property or interests in property of the Debtor, except to the limited extent permitted under Sections 553 and 1141 of the Bankruptcy Code, and (v) acting or proceeding in any manner, in any place whatsoever, that does not conform to or comply with the provisions of the Plan. The injunctions set forth in the Plan and this Confirmation Order shall extend to, and apply to any act of the type set forth in any of clauses (i)-(v) of the immediately preceding paragraph against any successors of the Debtor, including, but not limited to, the Reorganized Debtor, the Litigation Sub-Trust, and the Claimant Trust and their respective property and interests in property. Subject in all respects to Article XII.D of the Plan, no Enjoined Party may commence or pursue a claim or cause of action of any kind against any Protected Party that arose or arises from or is related to the Chapter 11 Case, the negotiation of the Plan, the administration of the Plan or property to be distributed under the Plan, the wind down of the business of the Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, the administration of the Claimant Trust or the Litigation Sub-Trust, or the transactions in furtherance of the foregoing without the Bankruptcy Court (i) first determining, after notice and a hearing, that such claim or cause of action represents a colorable claim of any kind, including, but not limited to, negligence, bad faith, criminal misconduct, willful misconduct, fraud, or gross negligence against a Protected Party and (ii) specifically authorizing such Enjoined Party to bring such claim or cause of action against any such Protected Party; provided, however, the foregoing will not apply to a claim or cause of action against Strand or against any Employee other than with respect to actions taken, respectively, by Strand or by such Employee from the date of appointment of the Independent Directors through the Effective Date. The Bankruptcy Court will have sole and exclusive jurisdiction to determine whether a claim or cause of action is colorable and, only to the extent legally permissible and as provided for in Article XI of the Plan, shall have jurisdiction to adjudicate the underlying colorable claim or cause of action.

BB. Duration of Injunction and Stays. Unless otherwise provided in the Plan, in this Confirmation Order, or in a Final Order of the Bankruptcy Court, (i) all injunctions and stays entered during the Chapter 11 Case and in existence on the Confirmation Date, shall remain in full force and effect in accordance with their terms; and (ii) the automatic stay arising under section 362 of the Bankruptcy Code shall remain in full force and effect subject to Section 362(c) of the Bankruptcy Code, and to the extent necessary if the Debtor does not receive a discharge, the Bankruptcy Court will enter an equivalent order under Section 105.

CC. Continuance of January 9 Order and July 16 Order. Unless otherwise provided in the Plan, in this Confirmation Order, or in a Final Order of the Bankruptcy Court, each of the Order Approving Settlement with Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors Regarding Governance of the Debtor and Procedures for Operations in the Ordinary Course, entered by the Bankruptcy Court on January 9, 2020 [Docket No. 339] and Order Approving the Debtor's Motion Under Bankruptcy Code Sections 105(a) and 363(b) Authorizing Retention of James P. Seery, Jr., as Chief Executive Officer, Chief Restructuring Officer, and Foreign Representative Nunc Pro Tunc to March 15, 2020 [Docket No. 854] entered on July 16, 2020 shall remain in full force and effect from the Confirmation Date and following the Effective Date.

DD. No Governmental Releases. Nothing in this Confirmation Order or the Plan shall effect a release of any claim by the United States Government or any of its agencies or any state and local authority whatsoever, including without limitation any claim arising under the Internal Revenue Code, the environmental laws or any criminal laws of the United States or any state and local authority against any party or person, nor shall anything in this Confirmation Order or the Plan enjoin the United States or any state or local authority from bringing any claim, suit, action, or other proceedings against any party or person for any liability of such persons whatever, including without limitation any claim, suit, or action arising under the Internal Revenue Code, the environmental laws or any criminal laws of the United States or any state and local authority against such persons, nor shall anything in this Confirmation Order or the Plan exculpate any party or person from any liability to the United States Government or any of its agencies or any state and local authority whatsoever, including any liabilities arising under the Internal Revenue Code, the environmental laws, or any criminal laws of the United States or any state and local authority against any party or person.

EE. Exemption from Transfer Taxes. Pursuant to section 1146(a) of the Bankruptcy Code, any transfers (whether from the Debtor to the Reorganized Debtor or to any other Person) of property under the Plan or pursuant to: (a) the issuance, distribution, transfer, or exchange of any debt, equity security, or other interest in the Debtor or the Reorganized Debtor; (b) the Restructuring transactions pursuant to the Plan; (c) the creation, modification, consolidation, termination, refinancing, and/or recording of any mortgage, deed of trust, or other security interest, or the securing of additional indebtedness by such or other means; (d) the making, assignment, or recording of any lease or sublease; or (e) the making, delivery, or recording of any deed or other instrument of transfer under, in furtherance of, or in connection with, the Plan, including any deeds, bills of sale, assignments, or other instrument of transfer executed in connection with any transaction arising out of, contemplated by, or in any way related to the Plan, shall not be subject to any document recording tax, stamp tax, conveyance fee, intangibles or similar tax, mortgage tax, real estate transfer tax, mortgage recording tax, Uniform Commercial Code filing or recording fee, regulatory filing or recording fee, or other similar tax or governmental assessment to the fullest extent contemplated by section 1146(a) of the Bankruptcy Code, and upon entry of this Confirmation Order, the appropriate state or local governmental officials or agents shall forego the collection of any such tax or governmental assessment and accept for filing and recordation of any of the foregoing instruments or other documents without the payment of any such tax, recordation fee, or governmental assessment.

FF. Cancellation of Notes, Certificates and Instruments. Except for the purpose of evidencing a right to a distribution under the Plan and except as otherwise set forth in the Plan or as otherwise provided in this Confirmation Order, on the Effective Date, all agreements, instruments, Securities and other documents evidencing any prepetition Claim or Equity Interest and any rights of any Holder in respect thereof shall be deemed cancelled, discharged, and of no force or effect. The holders of or parties to such cancelled instruments, Securities, and other documentation will have no rights arising from or related to such instruments, Securities, or other documentation or the cancellation thereof, except the rights provided for pursuant to the Plan, and the obligations of the Debtor thereunder or in any way related thereto will be fully released, terminated, extinguished and discharged, in each case without further notice to or order of the Bankruptcy Court, act or action under applicable law, regulation, order, or rule or any requirement of further action, vote or other approval or authorization by any Person.

GG. Documents, Mortgages, and Instruments. Each federal, state, commonwealth, local, foreign, or other governmental agency is authorized to accept any and all documents, mortgages, and instruments necessary or appropriate to effectuate, implement, or consummate the Plan, including the Restructuring transactions contemplated under the Plan, and this Confirmation Order.

HH. Post-Confirmation Modifications. Subject section 1127(b) of the Bankruptcy Code and the Plan, the Debtor and the Reorganized Debtor expressly reserve their rights to revoke or withdraw, or to alter, amend, or modify materially the Plan, one or more times after Confirmation and, to the extent necessary, may initiate proceedings in the Bankruptcy Court to so alter, amend, or modify the Plan, or remedy any defect or omission, or reconcile any inconsistencies in the Plan or this Confirmation Order, in such manner as may be necessary to carry out the purposes and intent of the Plan. Any such modification or supplement shall be considered a modification of the Plan and shall be made in accordance with Article XII.B of the Plan.

II. Applicable Nonbankruptcy Law. The provisions of this Confirmation Order, the Plan and related documents, or any amendments or modifications thereto, shall apply and be enforceable notwithstanding any otherwise applicable nonbankruptcy law.

JJ. Governmental Approvals Not Required. This Confirmation Order shall constitute all approvals and consents required, if any, by the laws, rules, or regulations of any state, federal, or other governmental authority with respect to the dissemination, implementation, or consummation of the Plan and the Disclosure Statement, any certifications, documents, instruments or agreements, and any amendments or modifications thereto, and any other acts referred to in, or contemplated by, the Plan and the Disclosure Statement.

KK. Notice of Effective Date. As soon as reasonably practicable after the Effective Date, the Reorganized Debtor shall file notice of the Effective Date and shall serve a copy of the same on all Holders of Claims and Equity Interests, and all parties who have filed with the Bankruptcy Court requests to receive notices in accordance with Bankruptcy Rules 2002 and 3020(c). Notwithstanding the above, no notice of Confirmation or Consummation or service of any kind shall be required to be mailed or made upon any Entity to whom the Debtor mailed notice of the Confirmation Hearing, but received such notice returned marked “undeliverable as addressed,” “moved, left no forwarding address” or “forwarding order expired,” or similar reason, unless the Debtor has been informed in writing by such Entity, or is otherwise aware, of that Entity’s new address. The above-referenced notices are adequate under the particular circumstances of this Chapter 11 Case and no other or further notice is necessary.

LL. Substantial Consummation. On the Effective Date, the Plan shall be deemed to be substantially consummated under sections 1101 and 1127 of the Bankruptcy Code.

MM. Waiver of Stay. For good cause shown, the stay of this Confirmation Order provided by any Bankruptcy Rule is waived, and this Confirmation Order shall be effective and enforceable immediately upon its entry by the Bankruptcy Court.

NN. References to and Omissions of Plan Provisions. References to articles, sections, and provisions of the Plan are inserted for convenience of reference only and are not intended to be a part of or to affect the interpretation of the Plan. The failure to specifically include or to refer to any particular article, section, or provision of the Plan in this Confirmation Order shall not diminish or impair the effectiveness of such article, section, or provision, it being the intent of the Bankruptcy Court that the Plan be confirmed in its entirety, except as expressly modified herein, and incorporated herein by this reference.

OO. Headings. Headings utilized herein are for convenience and reference only, and do not constitute a part of the Plan or this Confirmation Order for any other purpose.

PP. Effect of Conflict. This Confirmation Order supersedes any Bankruptcy Court order issued prior to the Confirmation Date that may be inconsistent with this Confirmation Order. If there is any inconsistency between the terms of the Plan and the terms of this Confirmation Order, the terms of this Confirmation Order govern and control. If there is any inconsistency between the terms of this Confirmation Order and the terms of a final, executed Plan Supplement Document, the terms of the final, executed Plan Supplement Document will govern and control.

QQ. Resolution of Objection of Texas Taxing Authorities. Dallas County, Kaufman County, City of Allen, Allen ISD and City of Richardson (collectively, the “Tax Authorities”) assert that they are the holders of prepetition and administrative expense claims for 2019, 2020 and 2021 ad valorem real and business personal property taxes. The ad valorem property taxes for tax year 2020 shall be paid in accordance with and to the extent required under applicable nonbankruptcy law. In the event the 2020 taxes are paid after February 1, 2021, the Tax Authorities may assert any rights and amounts they claim are owed with respect to penalties and interest that have accrued through the date of payment and the Debtor and Reorganized Debtor reserve any all rights and defenses in connection therewith.

- a. The Debtor/Reorganized Debtor shall pay all amounts owed to the Tax Authorities for tax year 2021 in accordance with and to the extent required under applicable nonbankruptcy law. The Tax Authorities shall not be required to file and serve an administrative expense claim and request for payment as a condition of allowance of their administrative expense claims pursuant to 11 U.S.C. Section 503(b)(1)(D). With regard to year 2019 ad valorem property taxes, the Tax Authorities will receive payment of their prepetition claims within 30 days of the Effective Date of the Plan. The payment will include interest from the Petition Date through the Effective Date and from the Effective Date through payment in full at the state statutory rate pursuant to 11 U.S.C. Sections 506(b), 511, and 1129, if applicable, subject to all of the Debtor's and Reorganized Debtor's rights and defenses in connection therewith. Notwithstanding any other provision in the Plan, the Tax Authorities shall (i) retain the liens that secure all prepetition and postpetition amounts ultimately owed to them, if any, as well as (ii) the state law priority of those liens until the claims are paid in full.
- b. The Tax Authorities' prepetition claims and their administrative expense claims shall not be discharged until such time as the amounts owed are paid in full. In the event of a default asserted by the Taxing Authorities, the Tax Authorities shall provide notice Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, and may demand cure of any such asserted default. Subject to all of its rights and defenses, the Debtor or Reorganized Debtor shall have fifteen (15) days from the date of the notice to cure the default. If the alleged default is not cured, the Tax Authorities may exercise any of their respective rights under applicable law and pursue collection of all amounts owed pursuant to state law outside of the Bankruptcy Court, subject in all respects to the Debtor's and Reorganized Debtor's applicable rights and defenses. The Debtor/Reorganized Debtor shall be entitled to any notices of default required under applicable nonbankruptcy law and each of the Taxing Authorities, the Debtor and the Reorganized Debtor reserve any and all of their respective rights and defenses in connection therewith. The Debtor's and Reorganized Debtor's rights and defenses under Texas Law and the Bankruptcy Code with respect to this provision of the Confirmation Order, including their right to dispute or object to the Tax Authorities' Claims and liens, are fully preserved.

RR. Resolution of Objections of Scott Ellington and Isaac Leventon.

Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 9019(a), the Senior Employees' Settlement is approved in all respects. The Debtor may, only with the consent of the Committee, elect Option B for a Senior Employee Claimant by written notice to such Senior Employee Claimant on or before the occurrence of the Effective Date. If the Debtor does not elect Option B, then Option A will govern the treatment of the Liquidated Bonus Claims.

- a. Notwithstanding any language in the Plan, the Disclosure Statement, or this Confirmation Order to the contrary, if Option A applies to the Liquidated Bonus Claims of a Senior Employee Claimant, then the Liquidated Bonus Claims of such Senior Employee Claimant will receive the treatment described in paragraph 82(e) hereof, and if the Debtor timely elects Option B with respect to the Liquidated Bonus Claims of a Senior Employee Claimant, then the Liquidated Bonus Claims of such Senior Employee will receive the treatment described in paragraph 82(f) hereof.
- b. The Senior Employees' Settlement is hereby approved, without prejudice to the respective rights of Mr. Ellington and Mr. Leventon to assert all their remaining Claims against the Debtor's estate, including, but not limited to, their Class 6 PTO Claims, their remaining Class 8 General Unsecured Claims, any indemnification claims, and any Administrative Expense Claims that they may assert and is without prejudice to the rights of any party in interest to object to any such Claims.
- c. Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 3018(a), Mr. Ellington and Mr. Leventon were permitted to change their votes on the Plan. Accordingly, Mr. Ellington's votes on his Ballots in Class 7 and Class 8 of the Plan were changed from a rejection of the Plan to acceptance of the Plan, and Mr. Leventon's votes on his Ballots in Class 7 and Class 8 of the Plan were, changed from rejections of the Plan to acceptances of the Plan.
- d. The Senior Employees' Objection is deemed withdrawn.

SS. No Release of Claims Against Senior Employee Claimants. For the avoidance of doubt, the Senior Employees' Settlement, as approved herein, shall not, and shall not be deemed to, release any Claims or Causes of Action held by the Debtor against either Senior Employee Claimant nor shall either Senior Employee Claimant be, or be deemed to be, a “Released Party” under the Plan.

TT. Resolution of Objection of Internal Revenue Service. Notwithstanding any other provision or term of the Plan or Confirmation Order, the following Default Provision shall control as to the United States of America, Internal Revenue Service (“IRS”) and all of its claims, including any administrative claim (the “IRS Claim”):

(a) Notwithstanding any other provision in the Plan, if the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or any successor in interest fails to pay when due any payment required to be made on federal taxes, the IRS Claim, or other payment required to be made to the IRS under the terms and provisions of this Plan, the Confirmation Order, or the Internal Revenue Code (26 U.S.C.), or fails to timely file any required federal tax return, or if any other event of default as set forth in the Plan occurs, the IRS shall be entitled to give the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor and/or any successor in interest and their counsel of record, by United States Certified Mail, written notice of the failure and/or default with demand that it be cured, and if the failure and/or default is not cured within 14 days of the date of said notice and demand, then the following shall apply to the IRS:

(1) The administrative collection powers and the rights of the IRS shall be reinstated as they existed prior to the filing of the bankruptcy petition, including, but not limited to, the assessment of taxes, the filing of a notice of Federal tax lien and the powers of levy, seizure, and collection as provided under the Internal Revenue Code;

(2) The automatic stay of 11 U.S.C. § 362 and any injunction of the Plan or in the Confirmation Order shall, with regard to the IRS only, lift or terminate without further notice or hearing by the Bankruptcy Court, and the entire prepetition liability owed to the IRS, together with any unpaid postpetition tax liabilities, may become due and payable immediately; and

(3) The IRS shall have the right to proceed to collect from the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor or any successor in interest any of the prepetition tax liabilities and related penalties and interest through administrative or judicial collection procedures available under the United States Code as if no bankruptcy petition had been filed and as if no plan had been confirmed.

(b) If the IRS declares the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or any successor-in-interest to be in default of the Debtor’s, the Reorganized Debtor’s and/ or any successor- in-interest’s obligations under the Plan, then entire prepetition liability of an IRS’ Allowed Claim, together with any unpaid postpetition tax liabilities shall become due and payable immediately upon written demand to the Debtor, Reorganized Debtor and/or any successor-in-interest. Failure of the IRS to declare a failure and/or default does not constitute a waiver by the United States or its agency the IRS of the right to declare that the Debtor, Reorganized Debtor, and/or any successor in interest is in default.

(c) The IRS shall only be required to send two notices of failure and/or default, and upon the third event of a failure and/or default, the IRS shall be entitled to proceed as set out in paragraphs (1), (2), and/or (3) herein above without further notice to the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or any successor in interest, or its counsel. The collection statute expiration date for all unpaid federal tax liabilities shall be extended pursuant to non-bankruptcy law.

(d) The Internal Revenue Service shall not be bound by any release provisions in the Plan that would release any liability of the responsible persons of the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, and/or any successor in interest to the IRS. The Internal Revenue Service may take such actions as it deems necessary to assess any liability that may be due and owing by the responsible persons of the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor and/or any successor in interest to the Internal Revenue Service.

(e) Nothing contained in the Plan or the Confirmation Order shall be deemed to be a waiver or relinquishment of any rights, claims, causes of action, rights of setoff or recoupment, rights to appeal tax assessments, or other legal or equitable defenses that the Debtor or Reorganized Debtor have under non-bankruptcy law in connection with any claim, liability or cause of action of the United States and its agency the Internal Revenue Service.

(f) The term “any payment required to be made on federal taxes,” as used herein above, is defined as: any payment or deposit required by the Internal Revenue Code to be made by the Debtor from and after the Confirmation Date, or the Reorganized Debtor and/or any successor in interest from and after the Effective Date, to the date the IRS Claim is together with interest paid in full. The term “any required tax return,” as used herein above, is defined as: any tax return or report required by the Internal Revenue Code to be made by the Debtor from and after the Confirmation Date, or the Reorganized Debtor and/or any successor in interest from and after the Effective Date, to the date the IRS Claim is together with interest paid in full.

UU. IRS Proof of Claim. Notwithstanding anything in the Plan or in this Confirmation Order, until all required tax returns are filed with and processed by the IRS, the IRS’s proof of claim will not be deemed fixed for purposes of Section 502 of the Bankruptcy Code and may be amended in order to reflect the IRS’ assessment of the Debtor’s unpaid priority and general unsecured taxes, penalties and interest.

VV. CLO Holdco, Ltd. Settlement Notwithstanding anything contained herein to the contrary, nothing in this Order is or is intended to supersede the rights and obligations of either the Debtor or CLO Holdco contained in that certain Settlement Agreement between CLO Holdco, Ltd., and Highland Capital Management, L.P., dated January 25, 2021 [Docket No. 1838-1] (the “CLOH Settlement Agreement”). In the event of any conflict between the terms of this Order and the terms of the CLOH Settlement Agreement, the terms of the CLOH Settlement Agreement will govern.

WW. Retention of Jurisdiction. The Bankruptcy Court may properly, and upon the Effective Date shall, to the maximum extent permitted under applicable law, retain jurisdiction over all matters arising out of, and related to, this Chapter 11 Case, including the matters set forth in Article XI of the Plan and section 1142 of the Bankruptcy Code.

XX. Payment of Statutory Fees; Filing of Quarterly Reports. All fees payable pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1930 shall be paid on or before the Effective Date. The Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trust, and the Litigation Sub-Trust shall be jointly and severally liable for payment of quarterly fees to the Office of the United States Trustee pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1930 through the entry of the Final Decree for the Debtor or the dismissal or conversion of the Chapter 11 Case. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Plan, the U.S. Trustee shall not be required to file any proofs of claim with respect to quarterly fees payable pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1930.

YY. Dissolution of the Committee. On the Effective Date, the Committee will dissolve, and the members of the Committee and the Committee’s Professionals will cease to have any role arising from or relating to the Chapter 11 Case, except in connection with final fee applications of Professionals for services rendered prior to the Effective Date (including the right to object thereto). Notwithstanding the foregoing, any Committee member or Professional may serve following the Effective Date with respect to the Claimant Trust Oversight Board or Litigation Sub-Trust. The Professionals retained by the Committee and the members thereof will not be entitled to assert any fee claims for any services rendered to the Committee or expenses incurred in the service of the Committee after the Effective Date, except for reasonable fees for services rendered, and actual and necessary costs incurred, in connection with any applications for allowance of Professional Fees pending on the Effective Date or filed and served after the Effective Date pursuant to the Plan. Nothing in the Plan shall prohibit or limit the ability of the Debtor's or Committee's Professionals to represent either of the Trustees or to be compensated or reimbursed per the Plan, the Claimant Trust Agreement, and/or Litigation Sub-Trust in connection with such representation.

ZZ. Miscellaneous. After the Effective Date, the Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, shall have no obligation to file with the Bankruptcy Court or serve on any parties reports that the Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, were obligated to file under the Bankruptcy Code or a court order, including monthly operating reports (even for those periods for which a monthly operating report was not filed before the Effective Date), ordinary course professional reports, reports to any parties otherwise required under the "first" and "second" day orders entered in this Chapter 11 Case (including any cash collateral financing orders entered in this Chapter 11 Case) and monthly or quarterly reports for Professionals; provided, however, that the Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, will comply with the U.S. Trustee's post confirmation reporting requirements.

DEBTOR'S CHAPTER 11 PLAN OF REORGANIZATION

HIGHLAND CAPITAL MANAGEMENT, L.P., as debtor and debtor-in-possession in the above-captioned case (the “Debtor”), proposes the following chapter 11 plan of reorganization (the “Plan”) for, among other things, the resolution of the outstanding Claims against, and Equity Interests in, the Debtor. Unless otherwise noted, capitalized terms used in this Plan have the meanings set forth in Article I of this Plan. The Debtor is the proponent of this Plan within the meaning of section 1129 of the Bankruptcy Code.

Reference is made to the Disclosure Statement (as such term is defined herein and distributed contemporaneously herewith) for a discussion of the Debtor’s history, business, results of operations, historical financial information, projections and assets, and for a summary and analysis of this Plan and the treatment provided for herein. There also are other agreements and documents that may be Filed with the Bankruptcy Court that are referenced in this Plan or the Disclosure Statement as Exhibits and Plan Documents. All such Exhibits and Plan Documents are incorporated into and are a part of this Plan as if set forth in full herein. Subject to the other provisions of this Plan, and in accordance with the requirements set forth in section 1127 of the Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rule 3019, the Debtor reserves the right to alter, amend, modify, revoke, or withdraw this Plan prior to the Effective Date.

If this Plan cannot be confirmed, for any reason, then subject to the terms set forth herein, this Plan may be revoked.

ARTICLE I.
RULES OF INTERPRETATION, COMPUTATION OF TIME,
GOVERNING LAW AND DEFINED TERMS

A. Rules of Interpretation, Computation of Time and Governing Law

For purposes hereof: (a) in the appropriate context, each term, whether stated in the singular or the plural, shall include both the singular and the plural, and pronouns stated in the masculine, feminine or neuter gender shall include the masculine, feminine and the neuter gender; (b) any reference herein to a contract, lease, instrument, release, indenture or other agreement or document being in a particular form or on particular terms and conditions means that the referenced document, as previously amended, modified or supplemented, if applicable, shall be substantially in that form or substantially on those terms and conditions; (c) any reference herein to an existing document or exhibit having been Filed or to be Filed shall mean that document or exhibit, as it may thereafter be amended, modified or supplemented in accordance with its terms; (d) unless otherwise specified, all references herein to “Articles,” “Sections,” “Exhibits” and “Plan Documents” are references to Articles, Sections, Exhibits and Plan Documents hereof or hereto; (e) unless otherwise stated, the words “herein,” “hereof,” “hereunder” and “hereto” refer to this Plan in its entirety rather than to a particular portion of this Plan; (f) captions and headings to Articles and Sections are inserted for convenience of reference only and are not intended to be a part of or to affect the interpretation hereof; (g) any reference to an Entity as a Holder of a Claim or Equity Interest includes such Entity’s successors and assigns; (h) the rules of construction set forth in section 102 of the Bankruptcy Code shall apply; (i) any term used in capitalized form herein that is not otherwise defined but that is used in the Bankruptcy Code or the Bankruptcy Rules shall have the meaning assigned to that term in the Bankruptcy Code or the Bankruptcy Rules, as the case may be; and (j) “$” or “dollars” means Dollars in lawful currency of the United States of America. The provisions of Bankruptcy Rule 9006(a) shall apply in computing any period of time prescribed or allowed herein.

B. Defined Terms

Unless the context otherwise requires, the following terms shall have the following meanings when used in capitalized form herein:

1. “Acis” means collectively Acis Capital Management, L.P. and Acis Capital Management GP, LLP.

2. “Administrative Expense Claim” means any Claim for costs and expenses of administration of the Chapter 11 Case that is Allowed pursuant to sections 503(b), 507(a)(2), 507(b) or 1114(2) of the Bankruptcy Code, including, without limitation, (a) the actual and necessary costs and expenses incurred after the Petition Date and through the Effective Date of preserving the Estate and operating the business of the Debtor; and (b) all fees and charges assessed against the Estate pursuant to sections 1911 through 1930 of chapter 123 of title 28 of the United States Code, and that have not already been paid by the Debtor during the Chapter 11 Case and a Professional Fee Claim.

3. “Administrative Expense Claims Bar Date” means, with respect to any Administrative Expense Claim (other than a Professional Fee Claim) becoming due on or prior to the Effective Date, 5:00 p.m. (prevailing Central Time) on such date that is forty-five days after the Effective Date.

4. “Administrative Expense Claims Objection Deadline” means, with respect to any Administrative Expense Claim, the later of (a) ninety (90) days after the Effective Date and (b) sixty (60) days after the timely Filing of the applicable request for payment of such Administrative Expense Claim; provided, however, that the Administrative Expense Claims Objection Deadline may be extended by the Bankruptcy Court upon a motion by the Claimant Trustee.

5. “Affiliate” of any Person means any Entity that, with respect to such Person, either (i) is an “affiliate” as defined in section 101(2) of the Bankruptcy Code, or (ii) is an “affiliate” as defined in Rule 405 of the Securities Act of 1933, or (iii) directly or indirectly, through one or more intermediaries, controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with, such Person. For the purposes of this definition, the term “control” (including, without limitation, the terms “controlled by” and “under common control with”) means the possession, directly or indirectly, of the power to direct or cause the direction in any respect of the management or policies of a Person, whether through the ownership of voting securities, by contract, or otherwise.

6. “Allowed” means, with respect to any Claim, except as otherwise provided in the Plan: (a) any Claim that is evidenced by a Proof of Claim that has been timely Filed by the Bar Date, or that is not required to be evidenced by a Filed Proof of Claim under the Bankruptcy

Code or a Final Order; (b) a Claim that is listed in the Schedules as not contingent, not unliquidated, and not disputed and for which no Proof of Claim has been timely filed; (c) a Claim Allowed pursuant to the Plan or an order of the Bankruptcy Court that is not stayed pending appeal; or (d) a Claim that is not Disputed (including for which a Proof of Claim has been timely filed in a liquidated and noncontingent amount that has not been objected to by the Claims Objection Deadline or as to which any such objection has been overruled by Final Order); provided, however, that with respect to a Claim described in clauses (a) and (b) above, such Claim shall be considered Allowed only if and to the extent that, with respect to such Claim, no objection to the allowance thereof has been interposed within the applicable period of time fixed by the Plan, the Bankruptcy Code, the Bankruptcy Rules, or the Bankruptcy Court, or such an objection is so interposed and the Claim shall have been Allowed as set forth above.

7. “Allowed Claim or Equity Interest” means a Claim or an Equity Interest of the type that has been Allowed.

8. “Assets” means all of the rights, titles, and interest of the Debtor, Reorganized Debtor, or Claimant Trust, in and to property of whatever type or nature, including, without limitation, real, personal, mixed, intellectual, tangible, and intangible property, the Debtor’s books and records, and the Causes of Action.

9. “Available Cash” means any Cash in excess of the amount needed for the Claimant Trust and Reorganized Debtor to maintain business operations as determined in the sole discretion of the Claimant Trustee.

10. “Avoidance Actions” means any and all avoidance, recovery, subordination or other actions or remedies that may be brought by and on behalf of the Debtor or its Estate under the Bankruptcy Code or applicable nonbankruptcy law, including, without limitation, actions or remedies arising under sections 502, 510, 544, 545, and 547-553 of the Bankruptcy Code or under similar state or federal statutes and common law, including fraudulent transfer laws

11. “Ballot” means the form(s) distributed to holders of Impaired Claims or Equity Interests entitled to vote on the Plan on which to indicate their acceptance or rejection of the Plan.

12. “Bankruptcy Code” means title 11 of the United States Code, 11 U.S.C. §§ 101-1532, as amended from time to time and as applicable to the Chapter 11 Case.

13. “Bankruptcy Court” means the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas, Dallas Division, or any other court having jurisdiction over the Chapter 11 Case.

14. “Bankruptcy Rules” means the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure and the Local Rules of Bankruptcy Practice and Procedure of the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas, Dallas Division, in each case as amended from time to time and as applicable to the Chapter 11 Case.

15. “Bar Date” means the applicable deadlines set by the Bankruptcy Court for the filing of Proofs of Claim against the Debtor as set forth in the Bar Date Order, which deadlines may be or have been extended for certain Claimants by order of the Bankruptcy Court.

16. “Bar Date Order” means the Order (I) Establishing Bar Dates for Filing Proofs of Claim and (II) Approving the Form and Manner of Notice Thereof [D.I. 488].

17. “Business Day” means any day, other than a Saturday, Sunday or “legal holiday” (as defined in Bankruptcy Rule 9006(a)).

18. “Cash” means the legal tender of the United States of America or the equivalent thereof.

19. “Causes of Action” means any action, claim, cross-claim, third-party claim, cause of action, controversy, demand, right, Lien, indemnity, contribution, guaranty, suit, obligation, liability, debt, damage, judgment, account, defense, remedy, offset, power, privilege, license and franchise of any kind or character whatsoever, in each case whether known, unknown, contingent or non-contingent, matured or unmatured, suspected or unsuspected, liquidated or unliquidated, disputed or undisputed, foreseen or unforeseen, direct or indirect, choate or inchoate, secured or unsecured, assertable directly or derivatively (including, without limitation, under alter ego theories), whether arising before, on, or after the Petition Date, in contract or in tort, in law or in equity or pursuant to any other theory of law. For the avoidance of doubt, Cause of Action includes, without limitation,: (a) any right of setoff, counterclaim or recoupment and any claim for breach of contract or for breach of duties imposed by law or in equity; (b) the right to object to Claims or Equity Interests; (c) any claim pursuant to section 362 or chapter 5 of the Bankruptcy Code; (d) any claim or defense including fraud, mistake, duress and usury, and any other defenses set forth in section 558 of the Bankruptcy Code; (e) any claims under any state or foreign law, including, without limitation, any fraudulent transfer or similar claims; (f) the Avoidance Actions, and (g) the Estate Claims. The Causes of Action include, without limitation, the Causes of Action belonging to the Debtor’s Estate listed on the schedule of Causes of Action to be filed with the Plan Supplement.

20. “CEO/CRO” means James P. Seery, Jr., the Debtor’s chief executive officer and chief restructuring officer.

21. “Chapter 11 Case” means the Debtor’s case under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code commenced on the Petition Date in the Delaware Bankruptcy Court and transferred to the Bankruptcy Court on December 4, 2019, and styled In re Highland Capital Management, L.P., Case No. 19-34054-sgj-11.

22. “Claim” means any “claim” against the Debtor as defined in section 101(5) of the Bankruptcy Code.

23. “Claims Objection Deadline” means the date that is 180 days after the Confirmation Date; provided, however, the Claims Objection Deadline may be extended by the Bankruptcy Court upon a motion by the Claimant Trustee.

24. “Claimant Trust” means the trust established for the benefit of the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries on the Effective Date in accordance with the terms of this Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement.

25. “Claimant Trust Agreement” means the agreement Filed in the Plan Supplement establishing and delineating the terms and conditions of the Claimant Trust.

26. “Claimant Trust Assets” means (i) other than the Reorganized Debtor Assets (which are expressly excluded from this definition), all other Assets of the Estate, including, but not limited to, all Causes of Action, Available Cash, any proceeds realized or received from such Assets, all rights of setoff, recoupment, and other defenses with respect, relating to, or arising from such Assets, (ii) any Assets transferred by the Reorganized Debtor to the Claimant Trust on or after the Effective Date, (iii) the limited partnership interests in the Reorganized Debtor, and (iv) the ownership interests in New GP LLC. For the avoidance of doubt, any Causes of Action that, for any reason, are not capable of being transferred to the Claimant Trust shall constitute Reorganized Debtor Assets.

27. “Claimant Trust Beneficiaries” means the Holders of Allowed General Unsecured Claims, Holders of Allowed Subordinated Claims, including, upon Allowance, Disputed General Unsecured Claims and Disputed Subordinated Claims that become Allowed following the Effective Date, and, only upon certification by the Claimant Trustee that the Holders of such Claims have been paid indefeasibly in full plus, to the extent all Allowed unsecured Claims, excluding Subordinated Claims, have been paid in full, post-petition interest from the Petition Date at the Federal Judgment Rate in accordance with the terms and conditions set forth in the Claimant Trust Agreement and all Disputed Claims in Class 8 and Class 9 have been resolved, Holders of Allowed Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests, and Holders of Allowed Class A Limited Partnership Interests.

28. “Claimant Trustee” means James P. Seery, Jr., the Debtor’s chief executive officer and chief restructuring officer, or such other Person identified in the Plan Supplement who will act as the trustee of the Claimant Trust in accordance with the Plan, the Confirmation Order, and Claimant Trust Agreement or any replacement trustee pursuant to (and in accordance with) the Claimant Trust Agreement. The Claimant Trustee shall be responsible for, among other things, monetizing the Estate’s investment assets, resolving Claims (other than those Claims assigned to the Litigation Sub-Trust for resolution), and, as the sole officer of New GP LLC, winding down the Reorganized Debtor’s business operations.

29. “Claimant Trust Expenses” means all reasonable legal and other reasonable professional fees, costs, and expenses incurred by the Trustees on account of administration of the Claimant Trust, including any reasonable administrative fees and expenses, reasonable attorneys’ fees and expenses, reasonable insurance costs, taxes, reasonable escrow expenses, and other expenses.

30. “Claimant Trust Interests” means the non-transferable interests in the Claimant Trust that are issued to the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries pursuant to this Plan; provided, however, Holders of Class A Limited Partnership Interests, Class B Limited Partnership Interests, and Class C Limited Partnership Interests will not be deemed to hold Claimant Trust Interests unless and until the Contingent Claimant Trust Interests distributed to such Holders vest in accordance with the terms of this Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement.

31. “Claimant Trust Oversight Committee” means the committee of five Persons established pursuant to ARTICLE IV of this Plan to oversee the Claimant Trustee’s performance of its duties and otherwise serve the functions described in this Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement.

32. “Class” means a category of Holders of Claims or Equity Interests as set forth in ARTICLE III hereof pursuant to section 1122(a) of the Bankruptcy Code.

33. “Class A Limited Partnership Interest” means the Class A Limited Partnership Interests as defined in the Limited Partnership Agreement held by The Dugaboy Investment Trust, Mark and Pamela Okada Family Trust – Exempt Trust 2, Mark and Pamela Okada – Exempt Descendants’ Trust, and Mark Kiyoshi Okada, and the General Partner Interest.

34. “Class B Limited Partnership Interest” means the Class B Limited Partnership Interests as defined in the Limited Partnership Agreement held by Hunter Mountain Investment Trust.

35. “Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests” means, collectively, the Class B Limited Partnership and Class C Limited Partnership Interests.

36. “Class C Limited Partnership Interest” means the Class C Limited Partnership Interests as defined in the Limited Partnership Agreement held by Hunter Mountain Investment Trust.

37. “Committee” means the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors appointed by the U.S. Trustee pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 1102(a)(1) on October 29, 2019 [D.I. 65], consisting of (i) the Redeemer Committee of Highland Crusader Fund, (ii) Meta-e Discovery, (iii) UBS, and (iv) Acis.

38. “Confirmation Date” means the date on which the clerk of the Bankruptcy Court enters the Confirmation Order on the docket of the Bankruptcy Court.

39. “Confirmation Hearing” means the hearing held by the Bankruptcy Court pursuant to section 1128 of the Bankruptcy Code to consider confirmation of this Plan, as such hearing may be adjourned or continued from time to time.

40. “Confirmation Order” means the order of the Bankruptcy Court confirming this Plan pursuant to section 1129 of the Bankruptcy Code.

41. “Convenience Claim” means any prepetition, liquidated, and unsecured Claim against the Debtor that as of the Confirmation Date is less than or equal to $1,000,000 or any General Unsecured Claim that makes the Convenience Class Election. For the avoidance of doubt, the Reduced Employee Claims will be Convenience Claims.

42. “Convenience Claim Pool” means the $13,150,000 in Cash that shall be available upon the Effective Date for distribution to Holders of Convenience Claims under the Plan as set forth herein. Any Cash remaining in the Convenience Claim Pool after all distributions on account of Convenience Claims have been made will be transferred to the Claimant Trust and administered as a Claimant Trust Asset.

43. “Convenience Class Election” means the option provided to each Holder of a General Unsecured Claim that is a liquidated Claim as of the Confirmation Date on their Ballot to elect to reduce their claim to $1,000,000 and receive the treatment provided to Convenience Claims.

44. “Contingent Claimant Trust Interests” means the contingent Claimant Trust Interests to be distributed to Holders of Class A Limited Partnership Interests, Holders of Class B Limited Partnership Interests, and Holders of Class C Limited Partnership Interests in accordance with this Plan, the rights of which shall not vest, and consequently convert to Claimant Trust Interests, unless and until the Claimant Trustee Files a certification that all holders of Allowed General Unsecured Claims have been paid indefeasibly in full, plus, to the extent all Allowed unsecured Claims, excluding Subordinated Claims, have been paid in full, all accrued and unpaid post-petition interest from the Petition Date at the Federal Judgment Rate and all Disputed Claims in Class 8 and Class 9 have been resolved. As set forth in the Claimant Trust Agreement, the Contingent Claimant Trust Interests distributed to the Holders of Class A Limited Partnership Interests will be subordinated to the Contingent Claimant Trust Interests distributed to the Holders of Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests.

ARTICLE II.

ADMINISTRATIVE EXPENSES AND PRIORITY TAX CLAIMS

A. Administrative Expense Claims

On the later of the Effective Date or the date on which an Administrative Expense Claim becomes an Allowed Administrative Expense Claim, or, in each such case, as soon as practicable thereafter, each Holder of an Allowed Administrative Expense Claim (other than Professional Fee Claims) will receive, in full satisfaction, settlement, discharge and release of, and in exchange for, such Allowed Administrative Expense Claim either (i) payment in full in Available Cash for the unpaid portion of such Allowed Administrative Expense Claim; or (ii) such other less favorable treatment as agreed to in writing by the Debtor or the Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, and such Holder; provided, however, that Administrative Expense Claims incurred by the Debtor in the ordinary course of business may be paid in the ordinary course of business in the discretion of the Debtor in accordance with such applicable terms and conditions relating thereto without further notice to or order of the Bankruptcy Court. All statutory fees payable under 28 U.S.C. § 1930(a) shall be paid as such fees become due.

If an Administrative Expense Claim (other than a Professional Fee Claim) is not paid by the Debtor in the ordinary course, the Holder of such Administrative Expense Claim must File, on or before the applicable Administrative Expense Claims Bar Date, and serve on the Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, and such other Entities who are designated by the Bankruptcy Rules, the Confirmation Order or other order of the Bankruptcy Court, an application for allowance and payment of such Administrative Expense Claim.

Objections to any Administrative Expense Claim (other than a Professional Fee Claim) must be Filed and served on the Debtor or the Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, and the party asserting such Administrative Expense Claim by the Administrative Expense Claims Objection Deadline.

B. Professional Fee Claims

Professionals or other Entities asserting a Professional Fee Claim for services rendered through the Effective Date must submit fee applications under sections 327, 328, 329, 330, 331, 503(b) or 1103 of the Bankruptcy Code and, upon entry of an order of the Bankruptcy Court granting such fee applications, such Professional Fee Claim shall promptly be paid in Cash in full to the extent provided in such order.

Professionals or other Entities asserting a Professional Fee Claim for services rendered on or prior to the Effective Date must File, on or before the Professional Fee Claims Bar Date, and serve on the Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, and such other Entities who are designated as requiring such notice by the Bankruptcy Rules, the Confirmation Order or other order of the Bankruptcy Court, an application for final allowance of such Professional Fee Claim.

Objections to any Professional Fee Claim must be Filed and served on the Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, and the party asserting the Professional Fee Claim by the Professional Fee Claim Objection Deadline. Each Holder of an Allowed Professional Fee Claim will be paid by the Debtor or the Claimant Trust, as applicable, in Cash within ten (10) Business Days of entry of the order approving such Allowed Professional Fee Claim.

On the Effective Date, the Claimant Trustee shall establish the Professional Fee Reserve. The Professional Fee Reserve shall vest in the Claimant Trust and shall be maintained by the Claimant Trustee in accordance with the Plan and Claimant Trust Agreement. The Claimant Trust shall fund the Professional Fee Reserve on the Effective Date in an estimated amount determined by the Debtor in good faith prior to the Confirmation Date and that approximates the total projected amount of unpaid Professional Fee Claims on the Effective Date. Following the payment of all Allowed Professional Fee Claims, any excess funds in the Professional Fee Reserve shall be released to the Claimant Trust to be used for other purposes consistent with the Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement.

C. Priority Tax Claims

On or as soon as reasonably practicable after the later of (i) the Initial Distribution Date if such Priority Tax Claim is an Allowed Priority Tax Claim as of the Effective Date or (ii) the date on which such Priority Tax Claim becomes an Allowed Priority Tax Claim, each Holder of an Allowed Priority Tax Claim will receive in full satisfaction, settlement, discharge and release of, and in exchange for, such Allowed Priority Tax Claim, at the election of the Debtor: (a) Cash in an amount of a total value as of the Effective Date of the Plan equal to the amount of such Allowed Priority Tax Claim in accordance with section 1129(a)(9)(C) of the Bankruptcy Code, or (b) if paid over time, payment of such Allowed Priority Tax Claim in accordance with section 1129(a)(9)(C) of the Bankruptcy Code; or (c) such other less favorable treatment as agreed to in writing by the Debtor and such Holder. Payment of statutory fees due pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1930(a)(6) will be made at all appropriate times until the entry of a final decree; provided, however, that the Debtor may prepay any or all such Claims at any time, without premium or penalty.

ARTICLE III.
CLASSIFICATION AND TREATMENT OF
CLASSIFIED CLAIMS AND EQUITY INTERESTS

A. Summary

All Claims and Equity Interests, except Administrative Expense Claims and Priority Tax Claims, are classified in the Classes set forth below. In accordance with section 1123(a)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code, Administrative Expense Claims, and Priority Tax Claims have not been classified.

The categories of Claims and Equity Interests listed below classify Claims and Equity Interests for all purposes including, without limitation, confirmation and distribution pursuant to the Plan and pursuant to sections 1122 and 1123(a)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code. 11	Class A Limited Partnership Interests	Impaired	Entitled to Vote

C. Elimination of Vacant Classes

Any Class that, as of the commencement of the Confirmation Hearing, does not have at least one Holder of a Claim or Equity Interest that is Allowed in an amount greater than zero for voting purposes shall be considered vacant, deemed eliminated from the Plan for purposes of voting to accept or reject the Plan, and disregarded for purposes of determining whether the Plan satisfies section 1129(a)(8) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to such Class.

D. Impaired/Voting Classes

Claims and Equity Interests in Class 2 and Class 7 through Class 11 are Impaired by the Plan, and only the Holders of Claims or Equity Interests in those Classes are entitled to vote to accept or reject the Plan.

E. Unimpaired/Non-Voting Classes

Claims in Class 1 and Class 3 through Class 6 are Unimpaired by the Plan, and such Holders are deemed to have accepted the Plan and are therefore not entitled to vote on the Plan.

F. Impaired/Non-Voting Classes

There are no Classes under the Plan that will not receive or retain any property and no Classes are deemed to reject the Plan.

G. Cramdown

If any Class of Claims or Equity Interests is deemed to reject this Plan or does not vote to accept this Plan, the Debtor may (i) seek confirmation of this Plan under section 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code or (ii) amend or modify this Plan in accordance with the terms hereof and the Bankruptcy Code. If a controversy arises as to whether any Claims or Equity Interests, or any class of Claims or Equity Interests, are Impaired, the Bankruptcy Court shall, after notice and a hearing, determine such controversy on or before the Confirmation Date.

H. Classification and Treatment of Claims and Equity Interests

1. Class 1 – Jefferies Secured Claim

- Classification: Class 1 consists of the Jefferies Secured Claim.
- Treatment: On or as soon as reasonably practicable after the Effective Date, each Holder of an Allowed Class 1 Claim will receive in full satisfaction, settlement, discharge and release of, and in exchange for, such Allowed Class 1 Claim, at the election of the Debtor: (A) Cash equal to the amount of such Allowed Class 1 Claim; (B) such other less favorable treatment as to which the Debtor and the Holder of such Allowed Class 1 Claim will have agreed upon in writing; or (C) such other treatment rendering such Claim Unimpaired. Each Holder of an Allowed Class 1 Claim will retain the Liens securing its Allowed Class 1 Claim as of the Effective Date until full and final payment of such Allowed Class 1 Claim is made as provided herein.

- Impairment and Voting: Class 1 is Unimpaired, and the Holders of Class 1 Claims are conclusively deemed to have accepted this Plan pursuant to section 1126(f) of the Bankruptcy Code. Therefore, the Holders of Class 1 Claims are not entitled to vote to accept or reject this Plan and will not be solicited.

2. Class 2 – Frontier Secured Claim

- Classification: Class 2 consists of the Frontier Secured Claim.
- Treatment: On or as soon as reasonably practicable after the Effective Date, each Holder of an Allowed Class 2 Claim will receive in full satisfaction, settlement, discharge and release of, and in exchange for, such Allowed Class 2 Claim: (A) Cash in an amount equal to all accrued but unpaid interest on the Frontier Claim through and including the Effective Date and (B) the New Frontier Note. The Holder of an Allowed Class 2 Claim will retain the Liens securing its Allowed Class 2 Claim as of the Effective Date until full and final payment of such Allowed Class 2 Claim is made as provided herein.
- Impairment and Voting: Class 2 is Impaired, and the Holders of Class 2 Claims are entitled to vote to accept or reject this Plan.

3. Class 3 – Other Secured Claims

- Classification: Class 3 consists of the Other Secured Claims.
- Allowance and Treatment: On or as soon as reasonably practicable after the later of (i) the Initial Distribution Date if such Class 3 Claim is Allowed on the Effective Date or (ii) the date on which such Class 3 Claim becomes an Allowed Class 3 Claim, each Holder of an Allowed Class 3 Claim will receive in full satisfaction, settlement, discharge and release of, and in exchange for, its Allowed Claim 3 Claim, at the option of the Debtor, or following the Effective Date, the Reorganized Debtor or Claimant Trustee, as applicable, (i) Cash equal to such Allowed Other Secured Claim, (ii) the collateral securing its Allowed Other Secured Claim, plus postpetition interest to the extent required under Bankruptcy Code Section 506(b), or (iii) such other treatment rendering such Claim Unimpaired.
- Impairment and Voting: Class 3 is Unimpaired, and the Holders of Class 3 Claims are conclusively deemed to have accepted this Plan pursuant to section 1126(f) of the Bankruptcy Code. Therefore, the Holders of Class 3 Claims are not entitled to vote to accept or reject this Plan and will not be solicited.

4. Class 4 – Priority Non-Tax Claims

- Classification: Class 4 consists of the Priority Non-Tax Claims.
- Allowance and Treatment: On or as soon as reasonably practicable after the later of (i) the Initial Distribution Date if such Class 4 Claim is Allowed on the Effective Date or (ii) the date on which such Class 4 Claim becomes an Allowed Class 4 Claim, each Holder of an Allowed Class 4 Claim will receive in full satisfaction, settlement, discharge and release of, and in exchange for, its Allowed Claim 4 Claim Cash equal to the amount of such Allowed Class 4 Claim.
- Impairment and Voting: Class 4 is Unimpaired, and the Holders of Class 4 Claims are conclusively deemed to have accepted this Plan pursuant to section 1126(f) of the Bankruptcy Code. Therefore, the Holders of Class 4 Claims are not entitled to vote to accept or reject this Plan and will not be solicited.

5. Class 5 – Retained Employee Claims

- Classification: Class 5 consists of the Retained Employee Claims.
- Allowance and Treatment: On or as soon as reasonably practicable after the Effective Date, each Allowed Class 5 Claim will be Reinstated.
- Impairment and Voting: Class 5 is Unimpaired, and the Holders of Class 5 Claims are conclusively deemed to have accepted this Plan pursuant to section 1126(f) of the Bankruptcy Code. Therefore, the Holders of Class 5 Claims are not entitled to vote to accept or reject this Plan and will not be solicited.

6. Class 6 – PTO Claims

- Classification: Class 6 consists of the PTO Claims.
- Allowance and Treatment: On or as soon as reasonably practicable after the later of (i) the Initial Distribution Date if such Class 6 Claim is Allowed on the Effective Date or (ii) the date on which such Class 6 Claim becomes an Allowed Class 6 Claim, each Holder of an Allowed Class 6 Claim will receive in full satisfaction, settlement, discharge and release of, and in exchange for, its Allowed Claim 6 Claim Cash equal to the amount of such Allowed Class 6 Claim.
- Impairment and Voting: Class 6 is Unimpaired, and the Holders of Class 6 Claims are conclusively deemed to have accepted this Plan pursuant to section 1126(f) of the Bankruptcy Code. Therefore, the Holders of Class 6

Claims are not entitled to vote to accept or reject this Plan and will not be solicited.

7. Class 7 – Convenience Claims

- Classification: Class 7 consists of the Convenience Claims.
- Allowance and Treatment: On or as soon as reasonably practicable after the later of (i) the Initial Distribution Date if such Class 7 Claim is Allowed on the Effective Date or (ii) the date on which such Class 7 Claim becomes an Allowed Class 7 Claim, each Holder of an Allowed Class 7 Claim will receive in full satisfaction, settlement, discharge and release of, and in exchange for, its Allowed Class 7 Claim (1) the treatment provided to Allowed Holders of Class 8 General Unsecured Claims if the Holder of such Class 7 Claim makes the GUC Election or (2) an amount in Cash equal to the lesser of (a) 85% of the Allowed amount of such Holder's Class 7 Claim or (b) such Holder's Pro Rata share of the Convenience Claims Cash Pool.
- Impairment and Voting: Class 7 is Impaired, and the Holders of Class 7 Claims are entitled to vote to accept or reject this Plan.

8. Class 8 – General Unsecured Claims

- Classification: Class 8 consists of the General Unsecured Claims.
- Treatment: On or as soon as reasonably practicable after the Effective Date, each Holder of an Allowed Class 8 Claim, in full satisfaction, settlement, discharge and release of, and in exchange for, such Claim shall receive (i) its Pro Rata share of the Claimant Trust Interests, (ii) such other less favorable treatment as to which such Holder and the Claimant Trustee shall have agreed upon in writing, or (iii) the treatment provided to Allowed Holders of Class 7 Convenience Claims if the Holder of such Class 8 General Unsecured Claim is eligible and makes a valid Convenience Class Election.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, after the Effective Date and subject to the other provisions of this Plan, the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, and the Claimant Trust, as applicable, will have and will retain any and all rights and defenses under bankruptcy or nonbankruptcy law that the Debtor had with respect to any General Unsecured Claim, except with respect to any General Unsecured Claim Allowed by Final Order of the Bankruptcy Court.

- Impairment and Voting: Class 8 is Impaired, and the Holders of Class 8 Claims are entitled to vote to accept or reject this Plan.

9. Class 9 – Subordinated Claims

- Classification: Class 9 consists of the Subordinated Claims.

Treatment: On the Effective Date, Holders of Subordinated Claims shall receive either (i) their Pro Rata share of the Subordinated Claimant Trust Interests or, (ii) such other less favorable treatment as to which such Holder and the Claimant Trustee may agree upon in writing.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, after the Effective Date and subject to the other provisions of this Plan, the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, and the Claimant Trust, as applicable, will have and will retain any and all rights and defenses under bankruptcy or nonbankruptcy law that the Debtor had with respect to any Subordinated Claim, except with respect to any Subordinated Claim Allowed by Final Order of the Bankruptcy Court.

- Impairment and Voting: Class 9 is Impaired, and the Holders of Class 9 Claims are entitled to vote to accept or reject this Plan.

10. Class 10 – Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests

- Classification: Class 10 consists of the Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests.

- Treatment: On or as soon as reasonably practicable after the Effective Date, each Holder of an Allowed Class 10 Claim, in full satisfaction, settlement, discharge and release of, and in exchange for, such Claim shall receive (i) its Pro Rata share of the Contingent Claimant Trust Interests or (ii) such other less favorable treatment as to which such Holder and the Claimant Trustee shall have agreed upon in writing.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, after the Effective Date and subject to the other provisions of this Plan, the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, and the Claimant Trust, as applicable, will have and will retain any and all rights and defenses under bankruptcy or nonbankruptcy law that the Debtor had with respect to any Class B/C Limited Partnership Interest Claim, except with respect to any Class B/C Limited Partnership Interest Claim Allowed by Final Order of the Bankruptcy Court.

- Impairment and Voting: Class 10 is Impaired, and the Holders of Class 10 Claims are entitled to vote to accept or reject this Plan.

11. Class 11 – Class A Limited Partnership Interests

- Classification: Class 11 consists of the Class A Limited Partnership Interests.

- Treatment: On or as soon as reasonably practicable after the Effective Date, each Holder of an Allowed Class 11 Claim, in full satisfaction, settlement, discharge and release of, and in exchange for, such Claim shall receive (i) its Pro Rata share of the Contingent Claimant Trust Interests or (ii) such other less favorable treatment as to which such Holder and the Claimant Trustee shall have agreed upon in writing.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, after the Effective Date and subject to the other provisions of this Plan, the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, and the Claimant Trust, as applicable, will have and will retain any and all rights and defenses under bankruptcy or nonbankruptcy law that the Debtor had with respect to any Class A Limited Partnership Interest, except with respect to any Class A Limited Partnership Interest Allowed by Final Order of the Bankruptcy Court.

- Impairment and Voting: Class 11 is Impaired, and the Holders of Class 11 Claims are entitled to vote to accept or reject this Plan.

I. Special Provision Governing Unimpaired Claims

Except as otherwise provided in the Plan, nothing under the Plan will affect the Debtor's rights in respect of any Unimpaired Claims, including, without limitation, all rights in respect of legal and equitable defenses to or setoffs or recoupments against any such Unimpaired Claims.

J. Subordinated Claims

The allowance, classification, and treatment of all Claims under the Plan shall take into account and conform to the contractual, legal, and equitable subordination rights relating thereto, whether arising under general principles of equitable subordination, section 510(b) of the Bankruptcy Code, or otherwise. Upon written notice and hearing, the Debtor the Reorganized Debtor, and the Claimant Trustee reserve the right to seek entry of an order by the Bankruptcy Court to re-classify or to subordinate any Claim in accordance with any contractual, legal, or equitable subordination relating thereto, and the treatment afforded any Claim under the Plan that becomes a subordinated Claim at any time shall be modified to reflect such subordination.

ARTICLE IV. MEANS FOR IMPLEMENTATION OF THIS PLAN

A. Summary

As discussed in the Disclosure Statement, the Plan will be implemented through (i) the Claimant Trust, (ii) the Litigation Sub-Trust, and (iii) the Reorganized Debtor.

On the Effective Date, all Class A Limited Partnership Interests, including the Class A Limited Partnership Interests held by Strand, as general partner, and Class B/C Limited Partnerships in the Debtor will be cancelled, and new Class A Limited Partnership Interests in the Reorganized Debtor will be issued to the Claimant Trust and New GP LLC – a newly-chartered limited liability company wholly-owned by the Claimant Trust. The Claimant Trust, as limited partner, will ratify New GP LLC's appointment as general partner of the Reorganized Debtor, and on and following the Effective Date, the Claimant Trust will be the Reorganized Debtor's limited partner and New GP LLC will be its general partner. The Claimant Trust, as limited partner, and New GP LLC, as general partner, will execute the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, which will amend and restate, in all respects, the Debtor's current Limited Partnership Agreement. Following the Effective Date, the Reorganized Debtor will be managed consistent with the terms of the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement by New GP LLC. The sole managing member of New GP LLC will be the Claimant Trust, and the Claimant Trustee will be the sole officer of New GP LLC on the Effective Date.

Following the Effective Date, the Claimant Trust will administer the Claimant Trust Assets pursuant to this Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement, and the Litigation Trustee will pursue, if applicable, the Estate Claims pursuant to the terms of the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement and the Plan. The Reorganized Debtor will administer the Reorganized Debtor Assets and, if needed, with the utilization of a Sub-Servicer, which administration will include, among other things, managing the wind down of the Managed Funds.

Although the Reorganized Debtor will manage the wind down of the Managed Funds, it is currently anticipated that neither the Reorganized Debtor nor the Claimant Trust will assume or assume and assign the contracts between the Debtor and certain Related Entities pursuant to which the Debtor provides shared services and sub-advisory services to those Related Entities. The Debtor believes that the continued provision of the services under such contracts will not be cost effective.

The Reorganized Debtor will distribute all proceeds from the wind down to the Claimant Trust, as its limited partner, and New GP LLC, as its general partner, in each case in accordance with the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement. Such proceeds, along with the proceeds of the Claimant Trust Assets, will ultimately be distributed to the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries as set forth in this Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement.

B. The Claimant Trust<sup>2</sup>

1. Creation and Governance of the Claimant Trust and Litigation Sub-Trust.

On or prior to the Effective Date, the Debtor and the Claimant Trustee shall execute the Claimant Trust Agreement and shall take all steps necessary to establish the Claimant Trust and the Litigation Sub-Trust in accordance with the Plan in each case for the benefit of the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries. Additionally, on or prior to the Effective Date, the Debtor shall irrevocably transfer and shall be deemed to have irrevocably transferred to the Claimant Trust all of its rights, title, and interest in and to all of the Claimant Trust Assets, and in accordance with section 1141 of the Bankruptcy Code, the Claimant Trust Assets shall automatically vest in the Claimant Trust free and clear of all Claims, Liens, encumbrances, or interests subject only to the Claimant Trust Interests and the Claimant Trust Expenses, as provided for in the Claimant Trust Agreement, and such transfer shall be exempt from any stamp, real estate transfer, mortgage from any stamp, transfer, reporting, sales, use, or other similar tax.

The Claimant Trustee shall be the exclusive trustee of the Claimant Trust Assets, excluding the Estate Claims and the Litigation Trustee shall be the exclusive trustee with respect to the Estate Claims in each case for purposes of 31 U.S.C. § 3713(b) and 26 U.S.C. § 6012(b)(3), as well as the representative of the Estate appointed pursuant to section 1123(b)(3)(B) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to the Claimant Trust Assets. The Claimant Trustee shall also be responsible for resolving all Claims and Equity Interests in Class 8 through Class 11, under the supervision of the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee.

On the Effective Date, the Claimant Trustee and Litigation Trustee shall execute the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement and shall take all steps necessary to establish the Litigation Sub-Trust. Upon the creation of the Litigation Sub-Trust, the Claimant Trust shall irrevocably transfer and assign to the Litigation Sub-Trust the Estate Claims. The Claimant Trust shall be governed by the Claimant Trust Agreement and administered by the Claimant Trustee. The powers, rights, and responsibilities of the Claimant Trustee shall be specified in the Claimant Trust Agreement and shall include the authority and responsibility to, among other things, take the actions set forth in this ARTICLE IV, subject to any required reporting to the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee as may be set forth in the Claimant Trust Agreement. The Claimant Trust shall hold and distribute the Claimant Trust Assets (including the proceeds from the Estate Claims, if any) in accordance with the provisions of the Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement; provided that the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee may direct the Claimant Trust to reserve Cash from distributions as necessary to fund the Claimant Trust and Litigation Sub-Trust. Other rights and duties of the Claimant Trustee and the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries shall be as set forth in the Claimant Trust Agreement. After the Effective Date, neither the Debtor nor the Reorganized Debtor shall have any interest in the Claimant Trust Assets.

The Litigation Sub-Trust shall be governed by the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement and administered by the Litigation Trustee. The powers, rights, and responsibilities of the Litigation Trustee shall be specified in the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement and shall include the authority and responsibility to, among other things, take the actions set forth in this ARTICLE IV, subject to any required reporting as may be set forth in the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement. The Litigation Sub-Trust shall investigate, prosecute, settle, or otherwise resolve the Estate Claims in accordance with the provisions of the Plan and the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement and shall distribute the proceeds therefrom to the Claimant Trust for distribution. Other rights and duties of the Litigation Trustee shall be as set forth in the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement.

2. Claimant Trust Oversight Committee

The Claimant Trust, the Claimant Trustee, the management and monetization of the Claimant Trust Assets, and the management of the Reorganized Debtor (through the Claimant Trust's role as managing member of New GP LLC) and the Litigation Sub-Trust will be overseen by the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee, subject to the terms of the Claimant Trust Agreement and the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement, as applicable.

The Claimant Trust Oversight Committee will initially consist of five members. Four of the five members will be representatives of the members of the Committee: (i) the Redeemer Committee of Highland Crusader Fund, (ii) UBS, (iii) Acis, and (iv) Meta-e Discovery. The fifth member will be an independent, natural Person chosen by the Committee and reasonably acceptable to the Debtor. The members of the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee may be replaced as set forth in the Claimant Trust Agreement. The identity of the members of the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee will be disclosed in the Plan Supplement.

As set forth in the Claimant Trust Agreement, in no event will any member of the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee with a Claim against the Estate be entitled to vote, opine, or otherwise be involved in any matters related to such member's Claim.

The independent member(s) of the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee may be entitled to compensation for their services as set forth in the Claimant Trust Agreement. Any member of the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee may be removed, and successor chosen, in the manner set forth in the Claimant Trust Agreement.

3. Purpose of the Claimant Trust.

The Claimant Trust shall be established for the purpose of (i) managing and monetizing the Claimant Trust Assets, subject to the terms of the Claimant Trust Agreement and the oversight of the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee, (ii) serving as the limited partner of, and holding the limited partnership interests in, the Reorganized Debtor, (iii) serving as the sole member and manager of New GP LLC, the Reorganized Debtor's general partner, (iv) in its capacity as the sole member and manager of New GP LLC, overseeing the management and monetization of the Reorganized Debtor Assets pursuant to the terms of the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement; and (v) administering the Disputed Claims Reserve and serving as Distribution Agent with respect to Disputed Claims in Class 7 or Class 8.

In its management of the Claimant Trust Assets, the Claimant Trust will also reconcile and object to the General Unsecured Claims, Subordinated Claims, Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests, and Class A Limited Partnership Interests, as provided for in this Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement, and make Trust Distributions to the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries in accordance with Treasury Regulation section 301.7701-4(d), with no objective to continue or engage in the conduct of a trade or business.

The purpose of the Reorganized Debtor is discussed at greater length in ARTICLE IV.C.

4. Purpose of the Litigation Sub-Trust.

The Litigation Sub-Trust shall be established for the purpose of investigating, prosecuting, settling, or otherwise resolving the Estate Claims. Any proceeds therefrom shall be distributed by the Litigation Sub-Trust to the Claimant Trust for distribution to the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries pursuant to the terms of the Claimant Trust Agreement.

5. Claimant Trust Agreement and Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement.

The Claimant Trust Agreement generally will provide for, among other things:

- (i) the payment of the Claimant Trust Expenses;
- (ii) the payment of other reasonable expenses of the Claimant Trust;
- (iii) the retention of employees, counsel, accountants, financial advisors, or other professionals and the payment of their reasonable compensation;
- (iv) the investment of Cash by the Claimant Trustee within certain limitations, including those specified in the Plan;
- (v) the orderly monetization of the Claimant Trust Assets;
- (vi) litigation of any Causes of Action, which may include the prosecution, settlement, abandonment, or dismissal of any such Causes of Action, subject to reporting and oversight by the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee;
- (vii) the resolution of Claims and Equity Interests in Class 8 through Class 11, subject to reporting and oversight by the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee;
- (viii) the administration of the Disputed Claims Reserve and distributions to be made therefrom; and
- (ix) the management of the Reorganized Debtor, including the utilization of a Sub-Servicer, with the Claimant Trust serving as the managing member of New GP LLC.

Except as otherwise ordered by the Bankruptcy Court, the Claimant Trust Expenses shall be paid from the Claimant Trust Assets in accordance with the Plan and Claimant Trust Agreement. The Claimant Trustee may establish a reserve for the payment of Claimant Trust Expense (including, without limitation, any reserve for potential indemnification claims as authorized and provided under the Claimant Trust Agreement), and shall periodically replenish such reserve, as necessary.

In furtherance of, and consistent with the purpose of, the Claimant Trust and the Plan, the Trustees, for the benefit of the Claimant Trust, shall, subject to reporting and oversight by the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee as set forth in the Claimant Trust Agreement: (i) hold the Claimant Trust Assets for the benefit of the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries, (ii) make Distributions to the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries as provided herein and in the Claimant Trust Agreement, and (iii) have the sole power and authority to prosecute and resolve any Causes of Action and objections to Claims and Equity Interests (other than those assigned to the Litigation Sub-Trust), without approval of the Bankruptcy Court. Except as otherwise provided in the Claimant Trust Agreement, the Claimant Trustee shall be responsible for all decisions and duties with respect to the Claimant Trust and the Claimant Trust Assets; provided, however, that the prosecution and resolution of any Estate Claims included in the Claimant Trust Assets shall be the responsibility of the Litigation Trustee. The Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement generally will provide for, among other things:

- (i) the payment of other reasonable expenses of the Litigation Sub-Trust;

(ii) the retention of employees, counsel, accountants, financial advisors, or other professionals and the payment of their reasonable compensation; and

(iii) the investigation and prosecution of Estate Claims, which may include the prosecution, settlement, abandonment, or dismissal of any such Estate Claims, subject to reporting and oversight as set forth in the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement.

The Trustees, on behalf of the Claimant Trust and Litigation Sub-Trust, as applicable, may each employ, without further order of the Bankruptcy Court, employees and other professionals (including those previously retained by the Debtor and the Committee) to assist in carrying out the Trustees' duties hereunder and may compensate and reimburse the reasonable expenses of these professionals without further Order of the Bankruptcy Court from the Claimant Trust Assets in accordance with the Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement.

The Claimant Trust Agreement and Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement may include reasonable and customary provisions that allow for indemnification by the Claimant Trust in favor of the Claimant Trustee, Litigation Trustee, and the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee. Any such indemnification shall be the sole responsibility of the Claimant Trust and payable solely from the Claimant Trust Assets.

6. Compensation and Duties of Trustees.

The salient terms of each Trustee's employment, including such Trustee's duties and compensation shall be set forth in the Claimant Trust Agreement and the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement, as appropriate. The Trustees shall each be entitled to reasonable compensation in an amount consistent with that of similar functionaries in similar types of bankruptcy cases.

7. Cooperation of Debtor and Reorganized Debtor.

To effectively investigate, prosecute, compromise and/or settle the Claims and/or Causes of Action that constitute Claimant Trust Assets (including Estate Claims), the Claimant Trustee, Litigation Trustee, and each of their professionals may require reasonable access to the Debtor's and Reorganized Debtor's documents, information, and work product relating to the Claimant Trust Assets. Accordingly, the Debtor and the Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, shall reasonably cooperate with the Claimant Trustee and Litigation Trustee, as applicable, in their prosecution of Causes of Action and in providing the Claimant Trustee and Litigation Trustee with copies of documents and information in the Debtor's possession, custody, or control on the Effective Date that either Trustee indicates relates to the Estate Claims or other Causes of Action.

The Debtor and Reorganized Debtor shall preserve all records, documents or work product (including all electronic records, documents, or work product) related to the Claims and Causes of Action, including Estate Claims, until the earlier of (a) the dissolution of the Reorganized Debtor or (b) termination of the Claimant Trust and Litigation Sub-Trust.

8. United States Federal Income Tax Treatment of the Claimant Trust.

Unless the IRS requires otherwise, for all United States federal income tax purposes, the parties shall treat the transfer of the Claimant Trust Assets to the Claimant Trust as: (a) a transfer of the Claimant Trust Assets (other than the amounts set aside in the Disputed Claims Reserve, if the Claimant Trustee makes the election described in Section 7 below) directly to the applicable Claimant Trust Beneficiaries followed by (b) the transfer by the such Claimant Trust Beneficiaries to the Claimant Trust of such Claimant Trust Assets in exchange for the Claimant Trust Interests. Accordingly, the applicable Claimant Trust Beneficiaries shall be treated for United States federal income tax purposes as the grantors and owners of their respective share of the Claimant Trust Assets. The foregoing treatment shall also apply, to the extent permitted by applicable law, for state and local income tax purposes.

9. Tax Reporting.

(a) The Claimant Trustee shall file tax returns for the Claimant Trust treating the Claimant Trust as a grantor trust pursuant to Treasury Regulation section 1.671-4(a). The Claimant Trustee may file an election pursuant to Treasury Regulation 1.468B-9(c) to treat the Disputed Claims Reserve as a disputed ownership fund, in which case the Claimant Trustee will file federal income tax returns and pay taxes for the Disputed Claims Reserve as a separate taxable entity.

(b) The Claimant Trustee shall be responsible for payment, out of the Claimant Trust Assets, of any taxes imposed on the Claimant Trust or its assets.

(c) The Claimant Trustee shall determine the fair market value of the Claimant Trust Assets as of the Effective Date and notify the applicable Claimant Trust Beneficiaries of such valuation, and such valuation shall be used consistently for all federal income tax purposes.

(d) The Claimant Trustee shall distribute such tax information to the applicable Claimant Trust Beneficiaries as the Claimant Trustee determines is required by applicable law.

10. Claimant Trust Assets.

The Claimant Trustee shall have the exclusive right, on behalf of the Claimant Trust, to institute, file, prosecute, enforce, abandon, settle, compromise, release, or withdraw any and all Causes of Action included in the Claimant Trust Assets (except for the Estate Claims) without any further order of the Bankruptcy Court, and the Claimant Trustee shall have the exclusive right, on behalf of the Claimant Trust, to sell, liquidate, or otherwise monetize all Claimant Trust Assets, except as otherwise provided in this Plan or in the Claimant Trust Agreement, without any further order of the Bankruptcy Court. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the Litigation Trustee shall have the exclusive right to institute, file, prosecute, enforce, abandon, settle, compromise, release, or withdraw any and all Estate Claims included in the Claimant Trust Assets without any further order of the Bankruptcy Court.

From and after the Effective Date, the Trustees, in accordance with section 1123(b)(3) and (4) of the Bankruptcy Code, and on behalf of the Claimant Trust, shall each serve as a representative of the Estate with respect to any and all Claimant Trust Assets, including the Causes of Action and Estate Claims, as appropriate, and shall retain and possess the right to (a) commence, pursue, settle, compromise, or abandon, as appropriate, any and all Causes of Action in any court or other tribunal and (b) sell, liquidate, or otherwise monetize all Claimant Trust Assets.

11. Claimant Trust Expenses.

From and after the Effective Date, the Claimant Trust shall, in the ordinary course of business and without the necessity of any approval by the Bankruptcy Court, pay the reasonable professional fees and expenses incurred by the Claimant Trust, the Litigation Sub-Trust, and any professionals retained by such parties and entities from the Claimant Trust Assets, except as otherwise provided in the Claimant Trust Agreement.

12. Trust Distributions to Claimant Trust Beneficiaries.

The Claimant Trustee, in its discretion, may make Trust Distributions to the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries at any time and/or use the Claimant Trust Assets or proceeds thereof, provided that such Trust Distributions or use is otherwise permitted under the terms of the Plan, the Claimant Trust Agreement, and applicable law.

13. Cash Investments.

With the consent of the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee, the Claimant Trustee may invest Cash (including any earnings thereon or proceeds therefrom) in a manner consistent with the terms of the Claimant Trust Agreement; provided, however, that such investments are investments permitted to be made by a “liquidating trust” within the meaning of Treasury Regulation section 301.7701-4(d), as reflected therein, or under applicable IRS guidelines, rulings or other controlling authorities.

14. Dissolution of the Claimant Trust and Litigation Sub-Trust.

The Trustees and the Claimant Trust and Litigation Sub-Trust shall be discharged or dissolved, as the case may be, at such time as: (a) the Litigation Trustee determines that the pursuit of Estate Claims is not likely to yield sufficient additional proceeds to justify further pursuit of such Estate Claims, (b) the Claimant Trustee determines that the pursuit of Causes of Action (other than Estate Claims) is not likely to yield sufficient additional proceeds to justify further pursuit of such Causes of Action, (c) the Claimant Trustee determines that the pursuit of sales of other Claimant Trust Assets is not likely to yield sufficient additional proceeds to justify further pursuit of such sales of Claimant Trust Assets, (d) all objections to Disputed Claims and Equity Interests are fully resolved, (e) the Reorganized Debtor is dissolved, and (f) all Distributions required to be made by the Claimant Trustee to the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries under the Plan have been made, but in no event shall the Claimant Trust be dissolved later than three years from the Effective Date unless the Bankruptcy Court, upon motion made within the six-month period before such third anniversary (and, in the event of further extension, by order of the Bankruptcy Court, upon motion made at least six months before the end of the preceding extension), determines that a fixed period extension (not to exceed two years, together with any prior extensions, without a favorable letter ruling from the Internal Revenue Service or an opinion of counsel that any further extension would not adversely affect the status of the Claimant Trust as a liquidating trust for federal income tax purposes) is necessary to facilitate or complete the recovery on, and liquidation of, the Claimant Trust Assets; provided, however, that each extension must be approved, upon a finding that the extension is necessary to facilitate or complete the recovery on, and liquidation of the Claimant Trust Assets, by the Bankruptcy Court within 6 months of the beginning of the extended term and no extension, together with any prior extensions, shall exceed three years without a favorable letter ruling from the Internal Revenue Service or an opinion of counsel that any further extension would not adversely affect the status of the Claimant Trust as a liquidating trust for federal income tax purposes.

Upon dissolution of the Claimant Trust, and pursuant to the Claimant Trust Agreement, any remaining Claimant Trust Assets that exceed the amounts required to be paid under the Plan will be transferred (in the sole discretion of the Claimant Trustee) in Cash or in-kind to the Holders of the Claimant Trust Interests as provided in the Claimant Trust Agreement.

C. The Reorganized Debtor

1. Corporate Existence

The Debtor will continue to exist after the Effective Date, with all of the powers of partnerships pursuant to the law of the State of Delaware and as set forth in the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement.

2. Cancellation of Equity Interests and Release

On the Effective Date, (i) all prepetition Equity Interests, including the Class A Limited Partnership Interests and the Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests, in the Debtor shall be canceled, and (ii) all obligations or debts owed by, or Claims against, the Debtor on account of, or based upon, the Interests shall be deemed as cancelled, released, and discharged, including all obligations or duties by the Debtor relating to the Equity Interests in any of the Debtor's formation documents, including the Limited Partnership Agreement.

3. Issuance of New Partnership Interests

On the Effective Date, the Debtor or the Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, will issue new Class A Limited Partnership Interests to (i) the Claimant Trust, as limited partner, and (ii) New GP LLC, as general partner, and will admit (a) the Claimant Trust as the limited partner of the Reorganized Debtor, and (b) New GP LLC as the general partner of the Reorganized Debtor. The Claimant Trust, as limited partner, will ratify New GP LLC's appointment as general partner of the Reorganized Debtor. Also, on the Effective Date, the Claimant Trust, as limited partner, and New GP LLC, as general partner, will execute the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement and receive partnership interests in the Reorganized Debtor consistent with the terms of the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement.

The Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement does not provide for, and specifically disclaims, the indemnification obligations under the Limited Partnership Agreement, including any such indemnification obligations that accrued or arose or could have been brought prior to the Effective Date. Any indemnification Claims under the Limited Partnership Agreement that accrued, arose, or could have been filed prior to the Effective Date will be resolved through the Claims resolution process provided that a Claim is properly filed in accordance with the Bankruptcy Code, the Plan, or the Bar Date Order. Each of the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trust, and the Litigation Sub-Trust reserve all rights with respect to any such indemnification Claims.

4. Management of the Reorganized Debtor

Subject to and consistent with the terms of the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, the Reorganized Debtor shall be managed by its general partner, New GP LLC. The initial officers and employees of the Reorganized Debtor shall be selected by the Claimant Trustee. The Reorganized Debtor may, in its discretion, also utilize a Sub-Servicer in addition to or in lieu of the retention of officers and employees.

As set forth in the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, New GP LLC will receive a fee for managing the Reorganized Debtor. Although New GP LLC will be a limited liability company, it will elect to be treated as a C-Corporation for tax purposes. Therefore, New GP LLC (and any taxable income attributable to it) will be subject to corporate income taxation on a standalone basis, which may reduce the return to Claimants.

5. Vesting of Assets in the Reorganized Debtor

Except as otherwise provided in this Plan or the Confirmation Order, on or after the Effective Date, all Reorganized Debtor Assets will vest in the Reorganized Debtor, free and clear of all Liens, Claims, charges or other encumbrances pursuant to section 1141(c) of the Bankruptcy Code except with respect to such Liens, Claims, charges and other encumbrances that are specifically preserved under this Plan upon the Effective Date.

The Reorganized Debtor shall be the exclusive trustee of the Reorganized Debtor Assets for purposes of 31 U.S.C. § 3713(b) and 26 U.S.C. § 6012(b)(3), as well as the representative of the Estate appointed pursuant to section 1123(b)(3)(B) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to the Reorganized Debtor Assets.

6. Purpose of the Reorganized Debtor

Except as may be otherwise provided in this Plan or the Confirmation Order, the Reorganized Debtor will continue to manage the Reorganized Debtor Assets (which shall include, for the avoidance of doubt, serving as the investment manager of the Managed Funds) and may use, acquire or dispose of the Reorganized Debtor Assets and compromise or settle any Claims with respect to the Reorganized Debtor Assets without supervision or approval by the Bankruptcy Court and free of any restrictions of the Bankruptcy Code or Bankruptcy Rules. The Reorganized Debtor shall oversee the resolution of Claims in Class 1 through Class 7.

Without limiting the foregoing, the Reorganized Debtor will pay the charges that it incurs after the Effective Date for Professionals' fees, disbursements, expenses or related support services (including reasonable fees relating to the preparation of Professional fee applications) in the ordinary course of business and without application or notice to, or order of, the Bankruptcy Court.

7. Distribution of Proceeds from the Reorganized Debtor Assets; Transfer of Reorganized Debtor Assets

Any proceeds received by the Reorganized Debtor will be distributed to the Claimant Trust, as limited partner, and New GP LLC, as general partner, in the manner set forth in the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement. As set forth in the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, the Reorganized Debtor may, from time to time distribute Reorganized Debtor Assets to the Claimant Trust either in Cash or in-kind, including to institute the wind-down and dissolution of the Reorganized Debtor. Any assets distributed to the Claimant Trust will be (i) deemed transferred in all respects as forth in ARTICLE IV.B.1, (ii) deemed Claimant Trust Assets, and (iii) administered as Claimant Trust Assets.

D. Company Action

Each of the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, and the Trustees, as applicable, may take any and all actions to execute, deliver, File or record such contracts, instruments, releases and other agreements or documents and take such actions as may be necessary or appropriate to effectuate and implement the provisions of this Plan, the Claimant Trust Agreement, the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, or the New GP LLC Documents, as applicable, in the name of and on behalf of the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Trustees, as applicable, and in each case without further notice to or order of the Bankruptcy Court, act or action under applicable law, regulation, order, or rule or any requirement of further action, vote or other approval or authorization by the security holders, officers, or directors of the Debtor or the Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, or by any other Person.

Prior to, on or after the Effective Date (as appropriate), all matters provided for pursuant to this Plan that would otherwise require approval of the stockholders, partners, directors, managers, or members of the Debtor, any Related Entity, or any Affiliate thereof (as of prior to the Effective Date) will be deemed to have been so approved and will be in effect prior to, on or after the Effective Date (as appropriate) pursuant to applicable law and without any requirement of further action by the stockholders, partners, directors, managers or members of such Persons, or the need for any approvals, authorizations, actions or consents of any Person.

All matters provided for in this Plan involving the legal or corporate structure of the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trust, as applicable, and any legal or corporate action required by the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trust, as applicable, in connection with this Plan, will be deemed to have occurred and will be in full force and effect in all respects, in each case without further notice to or order of the Bankruptcy Court, act or action under applicable law, regulation, order, or rule or any requirement of further action, vote or other approval or authorization by the security holders, partners, directors, managers, or members of the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trust, as applicable, or by any other Person. On the Effective Date, the appropriate officers of the Debtor and the Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, as well as the Trustees, are authorized to issue, execute, deliver, and consummate the transactions contemplated by, the contracts, agreements, documents, guarantees, pledges, consents, securities, certificates, resolutions and instruments contemplated by or described in this Plan in the name of and on behalf of the Debtor and the Reorganized Debtor, as well as the Trustees, in each case without further notice to or order of the Bankruptcy Court, act or action under applicable law, regulation, order, or rule or any requirement of further action, vote or other approval or authorization by any Person. The appropriate officer of the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, as well as the Trustees, will be authorized to certify or attest to any of the foregoing actions.

E. Release of Liens, Claims and Equity Interests

Except as otherwise provided in the Plan or in any contract, instrument, release or other agreement or document entered into or delivered in connection with the Plan, from and after the Effective Date and concurrently with the applicable distributions made pursuant to the Plan, all Liens, Claims, Equity Interests, mortgages, deeds of trust, or other security interests against the property of the Estate will be fully released, terminated, extinguished and discharged, in each case without further notice to or order of the Bankruptcy Court, act or action under applicable law, regulation, order, or rule or the vote, consent, authorization or approval of any Entity. Any Entity holding such Liens or Equity Interests extinguished pursuant to the prior sentence will, pursuant to section 1142 of the Bankruptcy Code, promptly execute and deliver to the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trustee, as applicable, such instruments of termination, release, satisfaction and/or assignment (in recordable form) as may be reasonably requested by the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trustee, as applicable. For the avoidance of doubt, this section is in addition to, and shall not be read to limit in any respects, ARTICLE IV.C.2.

F. Cancellation of Notes, Certificates and Instruments

Except for the purpose of evidencing a right to a distribution under this Plan and except as otherwise set forth in this Plan, on the Effective Date, all agreements, instruments, Securities and other documents evidencing any prepetition Claim or Equity Interest and any rights of any Holder in respect thereof shall be deemed cancelled, discharged, and of no force or effect. The holders of or parties to such cancelled instruments, Securities, and other documentation will have no rights arising from or related to such instruments, Securities, or other documentation or the cancellation thereof, except the rights provided for pursuant to this Plan, and the obligations of the Debtor thereunder or in any way related thereto will be fully released, terminated, extinguished and discharged, in each case without further notice to or order of the Bankruptcy Court, act or action under applicable law, regulation, order, or rule or any requirement of further action, vote or other approval or authorization by any Person. For the avoidance of doubt, this section is in addition to, and shall not be read to limit in any respects, ARTICLE IV.C.2.

G. Cancellation of Existing Instruments Governing Security Interests

Upon payment or other satisfaction of an Allowed Class 1 or Allowed Class 2 Claim, or promptly thereafter, the Holder of such Allowed Class 1 or Allowed Class 2 Claim shall deliver to the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trustee, as applicable, any collateral or other property of the Debtor held by such Holder, together with any termination statements, instruments of satisfaction, or releases of all security interests with respect to its Allowed Class 1 or Allowed Class 2 Claim that may be reasonably required to terminate any related financing statements, mortgages, mechanics' or other statutory Liens, or lis pendens, or similar interests or documents.

H. Control Provisions

To the extent that there is any inconsistency between this Plan as it relates to the Claimant Trust, the Claimant Trust Agreement, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, this Plan shall control.

I. Treatment of Vacant Classes

Any Claim or Equity Interest in a Class considered vacant under ARTICLE III.C of this Plan shall receive no Plan Distributions.

J. Plan Documents

The documents, if any, to be Filed as part of the Plan Documents, including any documents filed with the Plan Supplement, and any amendments, restatements, supplements, or other modifications to such documents, and any consents, waivers, or other deviations under or from any such documents, shall be incorporated herein by this reference (including to the applicable definitions in ARTICLE I hereof) and fully enforceable as if stated in full herein.

The Debtor and the Committee are currently working to finalize the forms of certain of the Plan Documents to be filed with the Plan Supplement. To the extent that the Debtor and the Committee cannot agree as to the form and content of such Plan Documents, they intend to submit the issue to non-binding mediation pursuant to the Order Directing Mediation entered on August 3, 2020 [D.I. 912].

K. Highland Capital Management, L.P. Retirement Plan and Trust

The Highland Capital Management, L.P. Retirement Plan And Trust (“Pension Plan”) is a single-employer defined benefit pension plan covered by Title IV of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended (“ERISA”). 29 U.S.C. §§ 1301-1461. The Debtor is the contributing sponsor and, as such, the PBGC asserts that the Debtor is liable along with any members of the contributing sponsor’s controlled-group within the meaning of 29 U.S.C. §§ 1301(a)(13), (14) with respect to the Pension Plan.

Upon the Effective Date, the Reorganized Debtor shall be deemed to have assumed the Pension Plan and shall comply with all applicable statutory provisions of ERISA and the Internal Revenue Code (the “IRC”), including, but not limited to, satisfying the minimum funding standards pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §§ 412, 430, and 29 U.S.C. §§ 1082, 1083; paying the PBGC premiums in accordance with 29 U.S.C. §§ 1306 and 1307; and administering the Pension Plan in accordance with its terms and the provisions of ERISA and the IRC. In the event that the Pension Plan terminates after the Plan of Reorganization Effective Date, the PBGC asserts that the Reorganized Debtor and each of its controlled group members will be responsible for the liabilities imposed by Title IV of ERISA.

Notwithstanding any provision of the Plan, the Confirmation Order, or the Bankruptcy Code (including section 1141 thereof) to the contrary, neither the Plan, the Confirmation Order, or the Bankruptcy Code shall be construed as discharging, releasing, exculpating or relieving the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or any person or entity in any capacity, from any liability or responsibility, if any, with respect to the Pension Plan under any law, governmental policy, or regulatory provision. PBGC and the Pension Plan shall not be enjoined or precluded from enforcing such liability or responsibility against any person or entity as a result of any of the provisions of the Plan, the Confirmation Order, or the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtor reserves the right to contest any such liability or responsibility.

ARTICLE V.
TREATMENT OF EXECUTORY CONTRACTS AND UNEXPIRED LEASES

A. Assumption, Assignment, or Rejection of Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases

Unless an Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease: (i) was previously assumed or rejected by the Debtor pursuant to this Plan on or prior to the Confirmation Date; (ii) previously expired or terminated pursuant to its own terms or by agreement of the parties thereto; (iii) is the subject of a motion to assume filed by the Debtor on or before the Confirmation Date; (iv) contains a change of control or similar provision that would be triggered by the Chapter 11 Case (unless such provision has been irrevocably waived); or (v) is specifically designated as a contract or lease to be assumed in the Plan or the Plan Supplement, on the Confirmation Date, each Executory Contract and Unexpired Lease shall be deemed rejected pursuant to section 365 of the Bankruptcy Code, without the need for any further notice to or action, order, or approval of the Bankruptcy Court, unless such Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease is listed in the Plan Supplement.

At any time on or prior to the Confirmation Date, the Debtor may (i) amend the Plan Supplement in order to add or remove a contract or lease from the list of contracts to be assumed or (ii) assign (subject to applicable law) any Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease, as determined by the Debtor in consultation with the Committee, or the Reorganized Debtor, as applicable.

The Confirmation Order will constitute an order of the Bankruptcy Court approving the above-described assumptions, rejections, and assumptions and assignments. Except as otherwise provided herein or agreed to by the Debtor and the applicable counterparty, each assumed Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease shall include all modifications, amendments, supplements, restatements, or other agreements related thereto, and all rights related thereto. Modifications, amendments, supplements, and restatements to prepetition Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases that have been executed by the Debtor during the Chapter 11 Case shall not be deemed to alter the prepetition nature of the Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease or the validity, priority, or amount of any Claims that may arise in connection therewith. To the extent applicable, no change of control (or similar provision) will be deemed to occur under any such Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease.

If certain, but not all, of a contract counterparty's Executory Contracts and/or Unexpired Leases are rejected pursuant to the Plan, the Confirmation Order shall be a determination that such counterparty's Executory Contracts and/or Unexpired Leases that are being assumed pursuant to the Plan are severable agreements that are not integrated with those Executory Contracts and/or Unexpired Leases that are being rejected pursuant to the Plan. Parties seeking to contest this finding with respect to their Executory Contracts and/or Unexpired Leases must file a timely objection to the Plan on the grounds that their agreements are integrated and not severable, and any such dispute shall be resolved by the Bankruptcy Court at the Confirmation Hearing (to the extent not resolved by the parties prior to the Confirmation Hearing).

Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the Debtor shall assume or reject that certain real property lease with Crescent TC Investors L.P. ("Landlord") for the Debtor's headquarters located at 200/300 Crescent Ct., Suite #700, Dallas, Texas 75201 (the "Lease") in accordance with the notice to Landlord, procedures and timing required by 11 U.S.C. §365(d)(4), as modified by that certain Agreed Order Granting Motion to Extend Time to Assume or Reject Unexpired Nonresidential Real Property Lease [Docket No. 1122].

B. Claims Based on Rejection of Executory Contracts or Unexpired Leases

Any Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease not assumed or rejected on or before the Confirmation Date shall be deemed rejected, pursuant to the Confirmation Order. Any Person asserting a Rejection Claim shall File a proof of claim within thirty days of the Confirmation Date. Any Rejection Claims that are not timely Filed pursuant to this Plan shall be forever disallowed and barred. If one or more Rejection Claims are timely Filed, the Claimant Trustee may File an objection to any Rejection Claim.

Rejection Claims shall be classified as General Unsecured Claims and shall be treated in accordance with ARTICLE III of this Plan.

C. Cure of Defaults for Assumed or Assigned Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases

Any monetary amounts by which any Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease to be assumed or assigned hereunder is in default shall be satisfied, under section 365(b)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code, by the Debtor upon assumption or assignment thereof, by payment of the default amount in Cash as and when due in the ordinary course or on such other terms as the parties to such Executory Contracts may otherwise agree. The Debtor may serve a notice on the Committee and parties to Executory Contracts or Unexpired Leases to be assumed or assigned reflecting the Debtor's or Reorganized Debtor's intention to assume or assign the Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease in connection with this Plan and setting forth the proposed cure amount (if any).

If a dispute regarding (1) the amount of any payments to cure a default, (2) the ability of the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or any assignee to provide "adequate assurance of future performance" (within the meaning of section 365 of the Bankruptcy Code) under the Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease to be assumed or assigned or (3) any other matter pertaining to assumption or assignment, the cure payments required by section 365(b)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code will be made following the entry of a Final Order or orders resolving the dispute and approving the assumption or assignment.

Assumption or assignment of any Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease pursuant to the Plan or otherwise and full payment of any applicable cure amounts pursuant to this ARTICLE V.C shall result in the full release and satisfaction of any cure amounts, Claims, or defaults, whether monetary or nonmonetary, including defaults of provisions restricting the change in control or ownership interest composition or other bankruptcy-related defaults, arising under any assumed or assigned Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease at any time prior to the effective date of assumption or assignment. Any and all Proofs of Claim based upon Executory Contracts or Unexpired Leases that have been assumed or assigned in the Chapter 11 Case, including pursuant to the Confirmation Order, and for which any cure amounts have been fully paid pursuant to this ARTICLE V.C, shall be deemed disallowed and expunged as of the Confirmation Date without the need for any objection thereto or any further notice to or action, order, or approval of the Bankruptcy Court.

ARTICLE VI.
PROVISIONS GOVERNING DISTRIBUTIONS

A. Dates of Distributions

Except as otherwise provided in this Plan, on the Effective Date or as soon as reasonably practicable thereafter (or if a Claim is not an Allowed Claim or Equity Interest on the Effective Date, on the date that such Claim or Equity Interest becomes an Allowed Claim or Equity Interest, or as soon as reasonably practicable thereafter), each Holder of an Allowed Claim or Equity Interest against the Debtor shall receive the full amount of the distributions that this Plan provides for Allowed Claims or Allowed Equity Interests in the applicable Class and in the manner provided herein. If any payment or act under this Plan is required to be made or performed on a date that is not on a Business Day, then the making of such payment or the performance of such act may be completed on the next succeeding Business Day, but shall be deemed to have been completed as of the required date. If and to the extent there are Disputed Claims or Equity Interests, distributions on account of any such Disputed Claims or Equity Interests shall be made pursuant to the provisions provided in this Plan. Except as otherwise provided in this Plan, Holders of Claims and Equity Interests shall not be entitled to interest, dividends or accruals on the distributions provided for therein, regardless of whether distributions are delivered on or at any time after the Effective Date.

Upon the Effective Date, all Claims and Equity Interests against the Debtor shall be deemed fixed and adjusted pursuant to this Plan and none of the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trust will have liability on account of any Claims or Equity Interests except as set forth in this Plan and in the Confirmation Order. All payments and all distributions made by the Distribution Agent under this Plan shall be in full and final satisfaction, settlement and release of all Claims and Equity Interests against the Debtor and the Reorganized Debtor.

At the close of business on the Distribution Record Date, the transfer ledgers for the Claims against the Debtor and the Equity Interests in the Debtor shall be closed, and there shall be no further changes in the record holders of such Claims and Equity Interests. The Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, the Trustees, and the Distribution Agent, and each of their respective agents, successors, and assigns shall have no obligation to recognize the transfer of any Claims against the Debtor or Equity Interests in the Debtor occurring after the Distribution Record Date and shall be entitled instead to recognize and deal for all purposes hereunder with only those record holders stated on the transfer ledgers as of the close of business on the Distribution Record Date irrespective of the number of distributions to be made under this Plan to such Persons or the date of such distributions.

B. Distribution Agent

Except as provided herein, all distributions under this Plan shall be made by the Claimant Trustee, as Distribution Agent, or by such other Entity designated by the Claimant Trustee, as a Distribution Agent on the Effective Date or thereafter. The Reorganized Debtor will be the Distribution Agent with respect to Claims in Class 1 through Class 7.

The Claimant Trustee, or such other Entity designated by the Claimant Trustee to be the Distribution Agent, shall not be required to give any bond or surety or other security for the performance of such Distribution Agent's duties unless otherwise ordered by the Bankruptcy Court.

The Distribution Agent shall be empowered to (a) effect all actions and execute all agreements, instruments, and other documents necessary to perform its duties under this Plan; (b) make all distributions contemplated hereby; (c) employ professionals to represent it with respect to its responsibilities; and (d) exercise such other powers as may be vested in the Distribution Agent by order of the Bankruptcy Court, pursuant to this Plan, or as deemed by the Distribution Agent to be necessary and proper to implement the provisions hereof.

The Distribution Agent shall not have any obligation to make a particular distribution to a specific Holder of an Allowed Claim if such Holder is also the Holder of a Disputed Claim.

C. Cash Distributions

Distributions of Cash may be made by wire transfer from a domestic bank, except that Cash payments made to foreign creditors may be made in such funds and by such means as the Distribution Agent determines are necessary or customary in a particular foreign jurisdiction.

D. Disputed Claims Reserve

On or prior to the Initial Distribution Date, the Claimant Trustee shall establish, fund and maintain the Disputed Claims Reserve(s) in the appropriate Disputed Claims Reserve Amounts on account of any Disputed Claims.

E. Distributions from the Disputed Claims Reserve

The Disputed Claims Reserve shall at all times hold Cash in an amount no less than the Disputed Claims Reserve Amount. To the extent a Disputed Claim becomes an Allowed Claim pursuant to the terms of this Plan, within 30 days of the date on which such Disputed Claim becomes an Allowed Claim pursuant to the terms of this Plan, the Claimant Trustee shall distribute from the Disputed Claims Reserve to the Holder thereof any prior distributions, in Cash, that would have been made to such Allowed Claim if it had been Allowed as of the Effective Date. For the avoidance of doubt, each Holder of a Disputed Claim that subsequently becomes an Allowed Claim will also receive its Pro Rata share of the Claimant Trust Interests. If, upon the resolution of all Disputed Claims any Cash remains in the Disputed Claims Reserve, such Cash shall be transferred to the Claimant Trust and be deemed a Claimant Trust Asset.

F. Rounding of Payments

Whenever this Plan would otherwise call for, with respect to a particular Person, payment of a fraction of a dollar, the actual payment or distribution shall reflect a rounding of such fraction to the nearest whole dollar (up or down), with half dollars being rounded down. To the extent that Cash to be distributed under this Plan remains undistributed as a result of the aforementioned rounding, such Cash or stock shall be treated as "Unclaimed Property" under this Plan.

G. De Minimis Distribution

Except as to any Allowed Claim that is Unimpaired under this Plan, none of the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Distribution Agent shall have any obligation to make any Plan Distributions with a value of less than $100, unless a written request therefor is received by the Distribution Agent from the relevant recipient at the addresses set forth in ARTICLE VI.J hereof within 120 days after the later of the (i) Effective Date and (ii) the date such Claim becomes an Allowed Claim. De minimis distributions for which no such request is timely received shall revert to the Claimant Trust. Upon such reversion, the relevant Allowed Claim (and any Claim on account of missed distributions) shall be automatically deemed satisfied, discharged and forever barred, notwithstanding any federal or state escheat laws to the contrary.

H. Distributions on Account of Allowed Claims

Except as otherwise agreed by the Holder of a particular Claim or as provided in this Plan, all distributions shall be made pursuant to the terms of this Plan and the Confirmation Order. Except as otherwise provided in this Plan, distributions to any Holder of an Allowed Claim shall, to the extent applicable, be allocated first to the principal amount of any such Allowed Claim, as determined for U.S. federal income tax purposes and then, to the extent the consideration exceeds such amount, to the remainder of such Claim comprising accrued but unpaid interest, if any (but solely to the extent that interest is an allowable portion of such Allowed Claim).

I. General Distribution Procedures

The Distribution Agent shall make all distributions of Cash or other property required under this Plan, unless this Plan specifically provides otherwise. All Cash and other property held by the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trust, as applicable, for ultimate distribution under this Plan shall not be subject to any claim by any Person.

J. Address for Delivery of Distributions

Distributions to Holders of Allowed Claims, to the extent provided for under this Plan, shall be made (1) at the addresses set forth in any written notices of address change delivered to the Debtor and the Distribution Agent; (2) at the address set forth on any Proofs of Claim Filed by such Holders (to the extent such Proofs of Claim are Filed in the Chapter 11 Case), (2), or (3) at the addresses in the Debtor's books and records.

If there is any conflict or discrepancy between the addresses set forth in (1) through (3) in the foregoing sentence, then (i) the address in Section (2) shall control; (ii) if (2) does not apply, the address in (1) shall control, and (iii) if (1) does not apply, the address in (3) shall control.

K. Undeliverable Distributions and Unclaimed Property

If the distribution to the Holder of any Allowed Claim is returned to the Reorganized Debtor or the Claimant Trust as undeliverable, no further distribution shall be made to such Holder, and Distribution Agent shall not have any obligation to make any further distribution to the Holder, unless and until the Distribution Agent is notified in writing of such Holder's then current address.

Any Entity that fails to claim any Cash within six months from the date upon which a distribution is first made to such Entity shall forfeit all rights to any distribution under this Plan and such Cash shall thereafter be deemed an Claimant Trust Asset in all respects and for all purposes. Entities that fail to claim Cash shall forfeit their rights thereto and shall have no claim whatsoever against the Debtor's Estate, the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trust, or against any Holder of an Allowed Claim to whom distributions are made by the Distribution Agent.

L. Withholding Taxes

In connection with this Plan, to the extent applicable, the Distribution Agent shall comply with all tax withholding and reporting requirements imposed on them by any Governmental Unit, and all distributions made pursuant to this Plan shall be subject to such withholding and reporting requirements. The Distribution Agent shall be entitled to deduct any U.S. federal, state or local withholding taxes from any Cash payments made with respect to Allowed Claims, as appropriate. As a condition to receiving any distribution under this Plan, the Distribution Agent may require that the Holder of an Allowed Claim entitled to receive a distribution pursuant to this Plan provide such Holder's taxpayer identification number and such other information and certification as may be deemed necessary for the Distribution Agent to comply with applicable tax reporting and withholding laws. If a Holder fails to comply with such a request within one year, such distribution shall be deemed an unclaimed distribution. Any amounts withheld pursuant hereto shall be deemed to have been distributed to and received by the applicable recipient for all purposes of this Plan.

M. Setoffs

The Distribution Agent may, to the extent permitted under applicable law, set off against any Allowed Claim and any distributions to be made pursuant to this Plan on account of such Allowed Claim, the claims, rights and causes of action of any nature that the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Distribution Agent may hold against the Holder of such Allowed Claim that are not otherwise waived, released or compromised in accordance with this Plan; provided, however, that neither such a setoff nor the allowance of any Claim hereunder shall constitute a waiver or release by the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trustee of any such claims, rights and causes of action that the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or Claimant Trustee possesses against such Holder. Any Holder of an Allowed Claim subject to such setoff reserves the right to challenge any such setoff in the Bankruptcy Court or any other court with jurisdiction with respect to such challenge.

N. Surrender of Cancelled Instruments or Securities

As a condition precedent to receiving any distribution pursuant to this Plan on account of an Allowed Claim evidenced by negotiable instruments, securities, or notes canceled pursuant to ARTICLE IV of this Plan, the Holder of such Claim will tender the applicable negotiable instruments, securities, or notes evidencing such Claim (or a sworn affidavit identifying the negotiable instruments, securities, or notes formerly held by such Holder and certifying that they have been lost), to the Distribution Agent unless waived in writing by the Distribution Agent.

O. Lost, Stolen, Mutilated or Destroyed Securities

In addition to any requirements under any applicable agreement and applicable law, any Holder of a Claim or Equity Interest evidenced by a security or note that has been lost, stolen, mutilated, or destroyed will, in lieu of surrendering such security or note to the extent required by this Plan, deliver to the Distribution Agent: (i) evidence reasonably satisfactory to the Distribution Agent of such loss, theft, mutilation, or destruction; and (ii) such security or indemnity as may be required by the Distribution Agent to hold such party harmless from any damages, liabilities, or costs incurred in treating such individual as a Holder of an Allowed Claim or Equity Interest. Upon compliance with ARTICLE VI.O of this Plan as determined by the Distribution Agent, by a Holder of a Claim evidenced by a security or note, such Holder will, for all purposes under this Plan, be deemed to have surrendered such security or note to the Distribution Agent.

ARTICLE VII.
PROCEDURES FOR RESOLVING CONTINGENT, UNLIQUIDATED AND DISPUTED CLAIMS

A. Filing of Proofs of Claim

Unless such Claim appeared in the Schedules and is not listed as disputed, contingent, or unliquidated, or such Claim has otherwise been Allowed or paid, each Holder of a Claim was required to file a Proof of Claim on or prior to the Bar Date.

B. Disputed Claims

Following the Effective Date, each of the Reorganized Debtor or the Claimant Trustee, as applicable, may File with the Bankruptcy Court an objection to the allowance of any Disputed Claim or Disputed Equity Interest, request the Bankruptcy Court subordinate any Claims to Subordinated Claims, or any other appropriate motion or adversary proceeding with respect to the foregoing by the Claims Objection Deadline or, at the discretion of the Reorganized Debtor or Claimant Trustee, as applicable, compromised, settled, withdrew or resolved without further order of the Bankruptcy Court, and (ii) unless otherwise provided in the Confirmation Order, the Reorganized Debtor or the Claimant Trust, as applicable, are authorized to settle, or withdraw any objections to, any Disputed Claim or Disputed Equity Interests following the Effective Date without further notice to creditors (other than the Entity holding such Disputed Claim or Disputed Equity Interest) or authorization of the Bankruptcy Court, in which event such Claim or Equity Interest shall be deemed to be an Allowed Claim or Equity Interest in the amount compromised for purposes of this Plan.

C. Procedures Regarding Disputed Claims or Disputed Equity Interests

No payment or other distribution or treatment shall be made on account of a Disputed Claim or Disputed Equity Interest unless and until such Disputed Claim or Disputed Equity Interest becomes an Allowed Claim or Equity Interests and the amount of such Allowed Claim or Equity Interest, as applicable, is determined by order of the Bankruptcy Court or by stipulation between the Reorganized Debtor or Claimant Trust, as applicable, and the Holder of the Claim or Equity Interest.

D. Allowance of Claims and Equity Interests

Following the date on which a Disputed Claim or Disputed Equity Interest becomes an Allowed Claim or Equity Interest after the Distribution Date, the Distribution Agent shall make a distribution to the Holder of such Allowed Claim or Equity Interest in accordance with the Plan.

1. Allowance of Claims

After the Effective Date and subject to the other provisions of this Plan, the Reorganized Debtor or the Claimant Trust, as applicable, will have and will retain any and all rights and defenses under bankruptcy or nonbankruptcy law that the Debtor had with respect to any Claim. Except as expressly provided in this Plan or in any order entered in the Chapter 11 Case prior to the Effective Date (including, without limitation, the Confirmation Order), no Claim or Equity Interest will become an Allowed Claim or Equity Interest unless and until such Claim or Equity Interest is deemed Allowed under this Plan or the Bankruptcy Code or the Bankruptcy Court has entered an order, including, without limitation, the Confirmation Order, in the Chapter 11 Case allowing such Claim or Equity Interest.

2. Estimation

Subject to the other provisions of this Plan, the Debtor, prior to the Effective Date, and the Reorganized Debtor or the Claimant Trustee, as applicable, after the Effective Date, may, at any time, request that the Bankruptcy Court estimate (a) any Disputed Claim or Disputed Equity Interest pursuant to applicable law and in accordance with this Plan and (b) any contingent or unliquidated Claim pursuant to applicable law, including, without limitation, section 502(c) of the Bankruptcy Code, and the Bankruptcy Court will retain jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. §§ 157 and 1334 to estimate any Disputed Claim or Disputed Equity Interest, contingent Claim or unliquidated Claim, including during the litigation concerning any objection to any Claim or Equity Interest or during the pendency of any appeal relating to any such objection. All of the aforementioned objection, estimation and resolution procedures are cumulative and not exclusive of one another. Claims or Equity Interests may be estimated and subsequently compromised, settled, withdrawn or resolved by any mechanism approved by the Bankruptcy Court. The rights and objections of all parties are reserved in connection with any such estimation proceeding.

3. Disallowance of Claims

Any Claims or Equity Interests held by Entities from which property is recoverable under sections 542, 543, 550, or 553 of the Bankruptcy Code, or that are a transferee of a transfer avoidable under sections 522(f), 522(h), 544, 545, 547, 548, 549, or 724(a) of the Bankruptcy Code, shall be deemed disallowed pursuant to section 502(d) of the Bankruptcy Code, and holders of such Claims or Interests may not receive any distributions on account of such Claims or Interests until such time as such Causes of Action against that Entity have been settled or a Bankruptcy Court Order with respect thereto has been entered and all sums due, if any, to the Reorganized Debtor or the Claimant Trust, as applicable, by that Entity have been turned over or paid to the Reorganized Debtor or the Claimant Trust, as applicable.

EXCEPT AS OTHERWISE PROVIDED HEREIN OR AS AGREED TO BY THE DEBTOR, REORGANIZED DEBTOR, OR CLAIMANT TRUSTEE, AS APPLICABLE,

ANY AND ALL PROOFS OF CLAIM FILED AFTER THE BAR DATE SHALL BE DEEMED DISALLOWED AND EXPUNGED AS OF THE EFFECTIVE DATE WITHOUT ANY FURTHER NOTICE TO OR ACTION, ORDER, OR APPROVAL OF THE BANKRUPTCY COURT, AND HOLDERS OF SUCH CLAIMS MAY NOT RECEIVE ANY DISTRIBUTIONS ON ACCOUNT OF SUCH CLAIMS, UNLESS SUCH LATE PROOF OF CLAIM HAS BEEN DEEMED TIMELY FILED BY A FINAL ORDER.

ARTICLE VIII.
EFFECTIVENESS OF THIS PLAN

A. Conditions Precedent to the Effective Date

The Effective Date of this Plan will be conditioned upon the satisfaction or waiver by the Debtor (and, to the extent such condition requires the consent of the Committee, the consent of the Committee with such consent not to be unreasonably withheld), pursuant to the provisions of ARTICLE VIII.B of this Plan of the following:

- This Plan and the Plan Documents, including the Claimant Trust Agreement and the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, and all schedules, documents, supplements and exhibits to this Plan shall have been Filed in form and substance reasonably acceptable to the Debtor and the Committee.
- The Confirmation Order shall have become a Final Order and shall be in form and substance reasonably acceptable to the Debtor and the Committee. The Confirmation Order shall provide that, among other things, (i) the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trustee, or the Litigation Trustee are authorized to take all actions necessary or appropriate to effectuate and consummate this Plan, including, without limitation, (a) entering into, implementing, effectuating, and consummating the contracts, instruments, releases, and other agreements or documents created in connection with or described in this Plan, (b) assuming the Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases set forth in the Plan Supplement, (c) making all distributions and issuances as required under this Plan; and (d) entering into any transactions as set forth in the Plan Documents; (ii) the provisions of the Confirmation Order and this Plan are nonseverable and mutually dependent; (iii) the implementation of this Plan in accordance with its terms is authorized; (iv) pursuant to section 1146 of the Bankruptcy Code, the delivery of any deed or other instrument or transfer order, in furtherance of, or in connection with this Plan, including any deeds, bills of sale, or assignments executed in connection with any disposition or transfer of Assets contemplated under this Plan, shall not be subject to any Stamp or Similar Tax; and (v) the vesting of the Claimant Trust Assets in the Claimant Trust and the Reorganized Debtor Assets in the Reorganized Debtor, in each case as of the Effective Date free and clear of liens and claims to the fullest extent permissible under applicable law pursuant to section 1141(c) of the Bankruptcy Code except with respect to such Liens, Claims, charges and other encumbrances that are specifically preserved under this Plan upon the Effective Date.
- All documents and agreements necessary to implement this Plan, including without limitation, the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, the Claimant Trust Agreement, and the New GP LLC Documents, in each case in form and substance reasonably acceptable to the Debtor and the Committee, shall have (a) been tendered for delivery, and (b) been effected by, executed by, or otherwise deemed binding upon, all Entities party thereto and shall be in full force and effect. All conditions precedent to such documents and agreements shall have been satisfied or waived pursuant to the terms of such documents or agreements.

- All authorizations, consents, actions, documents, approvals (including any governmental approvals), certificates and agreements necessary to implement this Plan, including, without limitation, the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, the Claimant Trust Agreement, and the New GP LLC Documents, shall have been obtained, effected or executed and delivered to the required parties and, to the extent required, filed with the applicable governmental units in accordance with applicable laws and any applicable waiting periods shall have expired without any action being taken or threatened by any competent authority that would restrain or prevent effectiveness or consummation of the Restructuring.
- The Debtor shall have obtained applicable directors' and officers' insurance coverage that is acceptable to each of the Debtor, the Committee, the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee, the Claimant Trustee and the Litigation Trustee.
- The Professional Fee Reserve shall be funded pursuant to this Plan in an amount determined by the Debtor in good faith.

B. Waiver of Conditions

The conditions to effectiveness of this Plan set forth in this ARTICLE VIII (other than that the Confirmation Order shall have been entered) may be waived in whole or in part by the Debtor (and, to the extent such condition requires the consent of the Committee, the consent of the Committee), without notice, leave or order of the Bankruptcy Court or any formal action other than proceeding to confirm or effectuate this Plan. The failure to satisfy or waive a condition to the Effective Date may be asserted by the Debtor regardless of the circumstances giving rise to the failure of such condition to be satisfied. The failure of the Debtor to exercise any of the foregoing rights will not be deemed a waiver of any other rights, and each right will be deemed an ongoing right that may be asserted at any time by the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trust, as applicable.

C. Dissolution of the Committee

On the Effective Date, the Committee will dissolve, and the members of the Committee and the Committee's Professionals will cease to have any role arising from or relating to the Chapter 11 Case, except in connection with final fee applications of Professionals for services rendered prior to the Effective Date (including the right to object thereto). The Professionals retained by the Committee and the members thereof will not be entitled to assert any fee claims for any services rendered to the Committee or expenses incurred in the service of the Committee after the Effective Date, except for reasonable fees for services rendered, and actual and necessary costs incurred, in connection with any applications for allowance of Professional Fees pending on the Effective Date or filed and served after the Effective Date pursuant to the Plan. Nothing in the Plan shall prohibit or limit the ability of the Debtor's or Committee's Professionals to represent either of the Trustees or to be compensated or reimbursed per the Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement in connection with such representation.

ARTICLE IX.

EXCULPATION, INJUNCTION AND RELATED PROVISIONS

A. General

Notwithstanding anything contained in the Plan to the contrary, the allowance, classification and treatment of all Allowed Claims and Equity Interests and their respective distributions and treatments under the Plan shall take into account the relative priority and rights of the Claims and the Equity Interests in each Class in connection with any contractual, legal and equitable subordination rights relating thereto whether arising under general principles of equitable subordination, section 510 of the Bankruptcy Code, or otherwise.

B. Discharge of Claims

To the fullest extent provided under section 1141(d)(1)(A) and other applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code, except as otherwise expressly provided by this Plan or the Confirmation Order, all consideration distributed under this Plan will be in exchange for, and in complete satisfaction, settlement, discharge, and release of, all Claims and Equity Interests of any kind or nature whatsoever against the Debtor or any of its Assets or properties, and regardless of whether any property will have been distributed or retained pursuant to this Plan on account of such Claims or Equity Interests. Except as otherwise expressly provided by this Plan or the Confirmation Order, upon the Effective Date, the Debtor and its Estate will be deemed discharged and released under and to the fullest extent provided under section 1141(d)(1)(A) and other applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code from any and all Claims and Equity Interests of any kind or nature whatsoever, including, but not limited to, demands and liabilities that arose before the Confirmation Date, and all debts of the kind specified in section 502(g), 502(h), or 502(i) of the Bankruptcy Code.

C. Exculpation

Subject in all respects to ARTICLE XII.D of this Plan, to the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, no Exculpated Party will have or incur, and each Exculpated Party is hereby exculpated from, any claim, obligation, suit, judgment, damage, demand, debt, right, Cause of Action, remedy, loss, and liability for conduct occurring on or after the Petition Date in connection with or arising out of (i) the filing and administration of the Chapter 11 Case; (ii) the negotiation and pursuit of the Disclosure Statement, the Plan, or the solicitation of votes for, or confirmation of, the Plan; (iii) the funding or consummation of the Plan (including the Plan Supplement) or any related agreements, instruments, or other documents, the solicitation of votes on the Plan, the offer, issuance, and Plan Distribution of any securities issued or to be issued pursuant to the Plan, including the Claimant Trust Interests, whether or not such Plan Distributions occur following the Effective Date; (iv) the implementation of the Plan; and (v) any negotiations, transactions, and documentation in connection with the foregoing clauses (i)-(iv); provided, however, the foregoing will not apply to (a) any acts or omissions of an Exculpated Party arising out of or related to acts or omissions that constitute bad faith, fraud, gross negligence, criminal misconduct, or willful misconduct or (b) Strand or any Employee other than with respect to actions taken by such Entities from the date of appointment of the Independent Directors through the Effective Date. This exculpation shall be in addition to, and not in limitation of, all other releases, indemnities, exculpations, any other applicable law or rules, or any other provisions of this Plan, including ARTICLE IV.C.2, protecting such Exculpated Parties from liability.

D. Releases by the Debtor

On and after the Effective Date, each Released Party is deemed to be, hereby conclusively, absolutely, unconditionally, irrevocably, and forever released and discharged by the Debtor and the Estate, in each case on behalf of themselves and their respective successors, assigns, and representatives, including, but not limited to, the Claimant Trust and the Litigation Sub-Trust from any and all Causes of Action, including any derivative claims, asserted on behalf of the Debtor, whether known or unknown, foreseen or unforeseen, matured or unmatured, existing or hereafter arising, in law, equity, contract, tort or otherwise, that the Debtor or the Estate would have been legally entitled to assert in their own right (whether individually or collectively) or on behalf of the holder of any Claim against, or Interest in, a Debtor or other Person.

Notwithstanding anything contained herein to the contrary, the foregoing release does not release: (i) any obligations of any party under the Plan or any document, instrument, or agreement executed to implement the Plan, (ii) the rights or obligations of any current employee of the Debtor under any employment agreement or plan, (iii) the rights of the Debtor with respect to any confidentiality provisions or covenants restricting competition in favor of the Debtor under any employment agreement with a current or former employee of the Debtor, (iv) any Avoidance Actions, or (v) any Causes of Action arising from willful misconduct, criminal misconduct, actual fraud, or gross negligence of such applicable Released Party as determined by Final Order of the Bankruptcy Court or any other court of competent jurisdiction.

Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, any release provided pursuant to this ARTICLE IX.D (i) with respect to a Senior Employee, is conditioned in all respects on (a) such Senior Employee executing a Senior Employee Stipulation on or prior to the Effective Date and (b) the reduction of such Senior Employee's Allowed Claim as set forth in the Senior Employee Stipulation (such amount, the "Reduced Employee Claim"), and (ii) with respect to any Employee, including a Senior Employee, shall be deemed null and void and of no force and effect (1) if there is more than one member of the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee who does not represent entities holding a Disputed or Allowed Claim (the "Independent Members"), the Claimant Trustee and the Independent Members by majority vote determine or (2) if there is only one Independent Member, the Independent Member after discussion with the Claimant Trustee, determines (in each case after discussing with the full Claimant Trust Oversight Committee) that such Employee (regardless of whether the Employee is then currently employed by the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trustee):

- sues, attempts to sue, or threatens or works with or assists any entity or person to sue, attempt to sue, or threaten the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trust, the Litigation

Sub-Trust, or any of their respective employees or agents, or any Released Party on or in connection with any claim or cause of action arising prior to the Effective Date,

- has taken any action that, impairs or harms the value of the Claimant Trust Assets or the Reorganized Debtor Assets, or
- (x) upon the request of the Claimant Trustee, has failed to provide reasonable assistance in good faith to the Claimant Trustee or the Reorganized Debtor with respect to (1) the monetization of the Claimant Trust Assets or Reorganized Debtor Assets, as applicable, or (2) the resolution of Claims, or (y) has taken any action that impedes or frustrates the Claimant Trustee or the Reorganized Debtor with respect to any of the foregoing.

Provided, however, that the release provided pursuant to this ARTICLE IX.D will vest and the Employee will be indefeasibly released pursuant to this ARTICLE IX.D if such Employee's release has not been deemed null and void and of no force and effect on or prior to the date that is the date of dissolution of the Claimant Trust pursuant to the Claimant Trust Agreement.

By executing the Senior Employee Stipulation embodying this release, each Senior Employee acknowledges and agrees, without limitation, to the terms of this release and the tolling agreement contained in the Senior Employee Stipulation.

The provisions of this release and the execution of a Senior Employee Stipulation will not in any way prevent or limit any Employee from (i) prosecuting its Claims, if any, against the Debtor's Estate, (ii) defending him or herself against any claims or causes of action brought against the Employee by a third party, or (iii) assisting other persons in defending themselves from any Estate Claims brought by the Litigation Trustee (but only with respect to Estate Claims brought by the Litigation Trustee and not collection or other actions brought by the Claimant Trustee).

E. Preservation of Rights of Action

1. Maintenance of Causes of Action

Except as otherwise provided in this Plan, after the Effective Date, the Reorganized Debtor or the Claimant Trust will retain all rights to commence, pursue, litigate or settle, as appropriate, any and all Causes of Action included in the Reorganized Debtor Assets or Claimant Trust Assets, as applicable, whether existing as of the Petition Date or thereafter arising, in any court or other tribunal including, without limitation, in an adversary proceeding Filed in the Chapter 11 Case and, as the successors in interest to the Debtor and the Estate, may, and will have the exclusive right to, enforce, sue on, settle, compromise, transfer or assign (or decline to do any of the foregoing) any or all of the Causes of Action without notice to or approval from the Bankruptcy Court.

2. Preservation of All Causes of Action Not Expressly Settled or Released

Unless a Cause of Action against a Holder of a Claim or an Equity Interest or other Entity is expressly waived, relinquished, released, compromised or settled in this Plan or any Final Order (including, without limitation, the Confirmation Order), such Cause of Action is expressly reserved for later adjudication by the Reorganized Debtor or Claimant Trust, as applicable (including, without limitation, Causes of Action not specifically identified or of which the Debtor may presently be unaware or that may arise or exist by reason of additional facts or circumstances unknown to the Debtor at this time or facts or circumstances that may change or be different from those the Debtor now believes to exist) and, therefore, no preclusion doctrine, including, without limitation, the doctrines of res judicata, collateral estoppel, issue preclusion, claim preclusion, waiver, estoppel (judicial, equitable or otherwise) or laches will apply to such Causes of Action as a consequence of the confirmation, effectiveness, or consummation of this Plan based on the Disclosure Statement, this Plan or the Confirmation Order, except where such Causes of Action have been expressly released in this Plan or any other Final Order (including, without limitation, the Confirmation Order). In addition, the right of the Reorganized Debtor or the Claimant Trust to pursue or adopt any claims alleged in any lawsuit in which the Debtor is a plaintiff, defendant or an interested party, against any Entity, including, without limitation, the plaintiffs or co-defendants in such lawsuits, is expressly reserved.

F. Injunction

Upon entry of the Confirmation Order, all Enjoined Parties are and shall be permanently enjoined, on and after the Effective Date, from taking any actions to interfere with the implementation or consummation of the Plan.

Except as expressly provided in the Plan, the Confirmation Order, or a separate order of the Bankruptcy Court, all Enjoined Parties are and shall be permanently enjoined, on and after the Effective Date, with respect to any Claims and Equity Interests, from directly or indirectly (i) commencing, conducting, or continuing in any manner any suit, action, or other proceeding of any kind (including any proceeding in a judicial, arbitral, administrative or other forum) against or affecting the Debtor or the property of the Debtor, (ii) enforcing, levying, attaching (including any prejudgment attachment), collecting, or otherwise recovering, enforcing, or attempting to recover or enforce, by any manner or means, any judgment, award, decree, or order against the Debtor or the property of the Debtor, (iii) creating, perfecting, or otherwise enforcing in any manner, any security interest, lien or encumbrance of any kind against the Debtor or the property of the Debtor, (iv) asserting any right of setoff, directly or indirectly, against any obligation due to the Debtor or against property or interests in property of the Debtor, except to the limited extent permitted under Sections 553 and 1141 of the Bankruptcy Code, and (v) acting or proceeding in any manner, in any place whatsoever, that does not conform to or comply with the provisions of the Plan.

The injunctions set forth herein shall extend to, and apply to any act of the type set forth in any of clauses (i)-(v) of the immediately preceding paragraph against any successors of the Debtor, including, but not limited to, the Reorganized Debtor, the Litigation Sub-Trust, and the Claimant Trust and their respective property and interests in property.

Subject in all respects to ARTICLE XII.D, no Enjoined Party may commence or pursue a claim or cause of action of any kind against any Protected Party that arose or arises from or is related to the Chapter 11 Case, the negotiation of the Plan, the administration of the Plan or property to be distributed under the Plan, the wind down of the business of the Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, the administration of the Claimant Trust or the Litigation Sub-Trust, or the transactions in furtherance of the foregoing without the Bankruptcy Court

(i) first determining, after notice and a hearing, that such claim or cause of action represents a colorable claim of any kind, including, but not limited to, negligence, bad faith, criminal misconduct, willful misconduct, fraud, or gross negligence against a Protected Party and (ii) specifically authorizing such Enjoined Party to bring such claim or cause of action against any such Protected Party; provided, however, the foregoing will not apply to a claim or cause of action against Strand or against any Employee other than with respect to actions taken, respectively, by Strand or by such Employee from the date of appointment of the Independent Directors through the Effective Date. The Bankruptcy Court will have sole and exclusive jurisdiction to determine whether a claim or cause of action is colorable and, only to the extent legally permissible and as provided for in ARTICLE XI, shall have jurisdiction to adjudicate the underlying colorable claim or cause of action.

G. Duration of Injunctions and Stays

ARTICLE II. Unless otherwise provided in this Plan, in the Confirmation Order, or in a Final Order of the Bankruptcy Court, (i) all injunctions and stays entered during the Chapter 11 Case and in existence on the Confirmation Date shall remain in full force and effect in accordance with their terms; and (ii) the automatic stay arising under section 362 of the Bankruptcy Code shall remain in full force and effect subject to Section 362(c) of the Bankruptcy Code, and to the extent necessary if the Debtor does not receive a discharge, the Court will enter an equivalent order under Section 105.

H. Continuance of January 9 Order

Unless otherwise provided in this Plan, in the Confirmation Order, or in a Final Order of the Bankruptcy Court, the restrictions set forth in paragraphs 9 and 10 of the Order Approving Settlement with Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors Regarding Governance of the Debtor and Procedures for Operations in the Ordinary Course, entered by the Bankruptcy Court on January 9, 2020 [D.I. 339] shall remain in full force and effect following the Effective Date.

ARTICLE X.
BINDING NATURE OF PLAN

On the Effective Date, and effective as of the Effective Date, the Plan, including, without limitation, the provisions in ARTICLE IX, will bind, and will be deemed binding upon, all Holders of Claims against and Equity Interests in the Debtor and such Holder's respective successors and assigns, to the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, notwithstanding whether or not such Holder will receive or retain any property or interest in property under the Plan. All Claims and Debts shall be fixed and adjusted pursuant to this Plan. The Plan shall also bind any taxing authority, recorder of deeds, or similar official for any county, state, Governmental Unit or parish in which any instrument related to the Plan or related to any transaction contemplated thereby is to be recorded with respect to any taxes of the kind specified in Bankruptcy Code section 1146(a).

ARTICLE XI.
RETENTION OF JURISDICTION

Pursuant to sections 105 and 1142 of the Bankruptcy Code and notwithstanding the entry of the Confirmation Order and the occurrence of the Effective Date, the Bankruptcy Court shall, after the Effective Date, retain such jurisdiction over the Chapter 11 Case and all Entities with respect to all matters related to the Chapter 11 Case, the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trust, and this Plan to the maximum extent legally permissible, including, without limitation, jurisdiction to:

- allow, disallow, determine, liquidate, classify, estimate or establish the priority, secured, unsecured, or subordinated status of any Claim or Equity Interest, including, without limitation, the resolution of any request for payment of any Administrative Expense Claim and the resolution of any and all objections to the allowance or priority of any Claim or Equity Interest;
- grant or deny any applications for allowance of compensation or reimbursement of expenses authorized pursuant to the Bankruptcy Code or this Plan, for periods ending on or before the Effective Date; provided, however, that, from and after the Effective Date, the Reorganized Debtor shall pay Professionals in the ordinary course of business for any work performed after the Effective Date subject to the terms of this Plan and the Confirmation Order, and such payment shall not be subject to the approval of the Bankruptcy Court;
- resolve any matters related to the assumption, assignment or rejection of any Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease to which the Debtor is party or with respect to which the Debtor, Reorganized Debtor, or Claimant Trust may be liable and to adjudicate and, if necessary, liquidate, any Claims arising therefrom, including, without limitation, any dispute regarding whether a contract or lease is or was executory or expired;
- make any determination with respect to a claim or cause of action against a Protected Party as set forth in ARTICLE IX;
- resolve any claim or cause of action against an Exculpated Party or Protected Party arising from or related to the Chapter 11 Case, the negotiation of this Plan, the administration of the Plan or property to be distributed under the Plan, the wind down of the business of the Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, or the transactions in furtherance of the foregoing;
- if requested by the Reorganized Debtor or the Claimant Trustee, authorize, approve, and allow any sale, disposition, assignment or other transfer of the Reorganized Debtor Assets or Claimant Trust Assets, including any break-up compensation or expense reimbursement that may be requested by a purchaser thereof; provided, however, that neither the Reorganized Debtor nor the Claimant Trustee shall be required to seek such authority or approval from the Bankruptcy Court unless otherwise specifically required by this Plan or the Confirmation Order;

- if requested by the Reorganized Debtor or the Claimant Trustee, authorize, approve, and allow any borrowing or the incurrence of indebtedness, whether secured or unsecured by the Reorganized Debtor or Claimant Trust; provided, however, that neither the Reorganized Debtor nor the Claimant Trustee shall be required to seek such authority or approval from the Bankruptcy Court unless otherwise specifically required by this Plan or the Confirmation Order;
- resolve any issues related to any matters adjudicated in the Chapter 11 Case;
- ensure that distributions to Holders of Allowed Claims and Allowed Equity Interests are accomplished pursuant to the provisions of this Plan;
- decide or resolve any motions, adversary proceedings, contested or litigated matters and any other Causes of Action (including Estate Claims) that are pending as of the Effective Date or that may be commenced in the future, including approval of any settlements, compromises, or other resolutions as may be requested by the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trustee, or the Litigation Trustee whether under Bankruptcy Rule 9019 or otherwise, and grant or deny any applications involving the Debtor that may be pending on the Effective Date or instituted by the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trustee, or Litigation Trustee after the Effective Date, provided that the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trustee, and the Litigation Trustee shall reserve the right to commence actions in all appropriate forums and jurisdictions;
- enter such orders as may be necessary or appropriate to implement, effectuate, or consummate the provisions of this Plan, the Plan Documents, and all other contracts, instruments, releases, and other agreements or documents adopted in connection with this Plan, the Plan Documents, or the Disclosure Statement;
- resolve any cases, controversies, suits or disputes that may arise in connection with the implementation, effectiveness, consummation, interpretation, or enforcement of this Plan or any Entity's obligations incurred in connection with this Plan;
- issue injunctions and enforce them, enter and implement other orders or take such other actions as may be necessary or appropriate to restrain interference by any Entity with implementation, effectiveness, consummation, or enforcement of this Plan, except as otherwise provided in this Plan;
- enforce the terms and conditions of this Plan and the Confirmation Order;
- resolve any cases, controversies, suits or disputes with respect to the release, exculpation, indemnification, and other provisions contained herein and enter such orders or take such others actions as may be necessary or appropriate to implement or enforce all such releases, injunctions and other provisions;
- enter and implement such orders or take such others actions as may be necessary or appropriate if the Confirmation Order is modified, stayed, reversed, revoked or vacated;

- resolve any other matters that may arise in connection with or relate to this Plan, the Disclosure Statement, the Confirmation Order, the Plan Documents, or any contract, instrument, release, indenture or other agreement or document adopted in connection with this Plan or the Disclosure Statement; and
- enter an order concluding or closing the Chapter 11 Case after the Effective Date.

ARTICLE XII.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

A. Payment of Statutory Fees and Filing of Reports

All outstanding Statutory Fees shall be paid on the Effective Date. All such fees payable, and all such fees that become due and payable, after the Effective Date shall be paid by the Reorganized Debtor when due or as soon thereafter as practicable until the Chapter 11 Case is closed, converted, or dismissed. The Claimant Trustee shall File all quarterly reports due prior to the Effective Date when they become due, in a form reasonably acceptable to the U.S. Trustee. After the Effective Date, the Claimant Trustee shall File with the Bankruptcy Court quarterly reports when they become due, in a form reasonably acceptable to the U.S. Trustee. The Reorganized Debtor shall remain obligated to pay Statutory Fees to the Office of the U.S. Trustee until the earliest of the Debtor's case being closed, dismissed, or converted to a case under chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code.

B. Modification of Plan

Effective as of the date hereof and subject to the limitations and rights contained in this Plan: (a) the Debtor reserves the right, in accordance with the Bankruptcy Code and the Bankruptcy Rules, to amend or modify this Plan prior to the entry of the Confirmation Order with the consent of the Committee, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld; and (b) after the entry of the Confirmation Order, the Debtor may, after notice and hearing and entry of an order of the Bankruptcy Court, amend or modify this Plan, in accordance with section 1127(b) of the Bankruptcy Code or remedy any defect or omission or reconcile any inconsistency in this Plan in such manner as may be necessary to carry out the purpose and intent of this Plan.

C. Revocation of Plan

The Debtor reserves the right to revoke or withdraw this Plan prior to the Confirmation Date and to File a subsequent chapter 11 plan with the consent of the Committee. If the Debtor revokes or withdraws this Plan prior to the Confirmation Date, then: (i) this Plan shall be null and void in all respects; (ii) any settlement or compromise embodied in this Plan, assumption of Executory Contracts or Unexpired Leases effected by this Plan and any document or agreement executed pursuant hereto shall be deemed null and void except as may be set forth in a separate order entered by the Bankruptcy Court; and (iii) nothing contained in this Plan shall: (a) constitute a waiver or release of any Claims by or against, or any Equity Interests in, the Debtor or any other Entity; (b) prejudice in any manner the rights of the Debtor or any other Entity; or (c) constitute an admission, acknowledgement, offer or undertaking of any sort by the Debtor or any other Entity.

D. Obligations Not Changed

Notwithstanding anything in this Plan to the contrary, nothing herein will affect or otherwise limit or release any non-Debtor Entity's (including any Exculpated Party's) duties or obligations, including any contractual and indemnification obligations, to the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or any other Entity whether arising under contract, statute, or otherwise.

E. Entire Agreement

Except as otherwise described herein, this Plan supersedes all previous and contemporaneous negotiations, promises, covenants, agreements, understandings, and representations on such subjects, all of which have become merged and integrated into this Plan.

F. Closing of Chapter 11 Case

The Claimant Trustee shall, after the Effective Date and promptly after the full administration of the Chapter 11 Case, File with the Bankruptcy Court all documents required by Bankruptcy Rule 3022 and any applicable order of the Bankruptcy Court to close the Chapter 11 Case.

G. Successors and Assigns

This Plan shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the Debtor and its successors and assigns, including, without limitation, the Reorganized Debtor and the Claimant Trustee. The rights, benefits, and obligations of any Person or Entity named or referred to in this Plan shall be binding on, and shall inure to the benefit of, any heir, executor, administrator, successor, or assign of such Person or Entity.

H. Reservation of Rights

Except as expressly set forth herein, this Plan shall have no force or effect unless and until the Bankruptcy Court enters the Confirmation Order and the Effective Date occurs. Neither the filing of this Plan, any statement or provision contained herein, nor the taking of any action by the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trustee, or any other Entity with respect to this Plan shall be or shall be deemed to be an admission or waiver of any rights of: (1) the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trustee with respect to the Holders of Claims or Equity Interests or other Entity; or (2) any Holder of a Claim or an Equity Interest or other Entity prior to the Effective Date.

Neither the exclusion or inclusion by the Debtor of any contract or lease on any exhibit, schedule, or other annex to this Plan or in the Plan Documents, nor anything contained in this Plan, will constitute an admission by the Debtor that any such contract or lease is or is not an executory contract or lease or that the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trustee, or their respective Affiliates has any liability thereunder.

Except as explicitly provided in this Plan, nothing herein shall waive, excuse, limit, diminish, or otherwise alter any of the defenses, claims, Causes of Action, or other rights of the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trustee under any executory or non-executory contract.

Nothing in this Plan will increase, augment, or add to any of the duties, obligations, responsibilities, or liabilities of the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trustee, as applicable, under any executory or non-executory contract or lease.

If there is a dispute regarding whether a contract or lease is or was executory at the time of its assumption under this Plan, the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trustee, as applicable, shall have thirty (30) days following entry of a Final Order resolving such dispute to alter their treatment of such contract.

I. Further Assurances

The Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trustee, as applicable, all Holders of Claims and Equity Interests receiving distributions hereunder, and all other Entities shall, from time to time, prepare, execute and deliver any agreements or documents and take any other actions as may be necessary or advisable to effectuate the provisions and intent of this Plan or the Confirmation Order. On or before the Effective Date, the Debtor shall File with the Bankruptcy Court all agreements and other documents that may be necessary or appropriate to effectuate and further evidence the terms and conditions hereof.

J. Severability

If, prior to the Confirmation Date, any term or provision of this Plan is determined by the Bankruptcy Court to be invalid, void, or unenforceable, the Bankruptcy Court will have the power to alter and interpret such term or provision to make it valid or enforceable to the maximum extent practicable, consistent with the original purpose of the term or provision held to be invalid, void, or unenforceable, and such term or provision will then be applicable as altered or interpreted. Notwithstanding any such holding, alteration or interpretation, the remainder of the terms and provisions of this Plan will remain in full force and effect and will in no way be affected, impaired, or invalidated by such holding, alteration, or interpretation. The Confirmation Order will constitute a judicial determination and will provide that each term and provision of this Plan, as it may have been altered or interpreted in accordance with the foregoing, is valid and enforceable pursuant to its terms.

K. Service of Documents

L. Exemption from Certain Transfer Taxes Pursuant to Section 1146(a) of the Bankruptcy Code

To the extent permitted by applicable law, pursuant to section 1146(a) of the Bankruptcy Code, any transfers of property pursuant hereto shall not be subject to any Stamp or Similar Tax or governmental assessment in the United States, and the Confirmation Order shall direct the appropriate federal, state or local governmental officials or agents or taxing authority to forego the collection of any such Stamp or Similar Tax or governmental assessment and to accept for filing and recordation instruments or other documents pursuant to such transfers of property without the payment of any such Stamp or Similar Tax or governmental assessment. Such exemption specifically applies, without limitation, to (i) all actions, agreements and documents necessary to evidence and implement the provisions of and the distributions to be made under this Plan; (ii) the maintenance or creation of security or any Lien as contemplated by this Plan; and (iii) assignments, sales, or transfers executed in connection with any transaction occurring under this Plan.

M. Governing Law

Except to the extent that the Bankruptcy Code, the Bankruptcy Rules or other federal law is applicable, or to the extent that an exhibit or schedule to this Plan provides otherwise, the rights and obligations arising under this Plan shall be governed by, and construed and enforced in accordance with, the laws of Texas, without giving effect to the principles of conflicts of law of such jurisdiction; provided, however, that corporate governance matters relating to the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, New GP LLC, or the Claimant Trust, as applicable, shall be governed by the laws of the state of organization of the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, New GP LLC, or the Claimant Trustee, as applicable.

N. Tax Reporting and Compliance

The Debtor is hereby authorized to request an expedited determination under section 505(b) of the Bankruptcy Code of the tax liability of the Debtor is for all taxable periods ending after the Petition Date through, and including, the Effective Date.

O. Exhibits and Schedules

All exhibits and schedules to this Plan, if any, including the Exhibits and the Plan Documents, are incorporated and are a part of this Plan as if set forth in full herein.

P. Controlling Document

In the event of an inconsistency between this Plan and any other instrument or document created or executed pursuant to this Plan, or between this Plan and the Disclosure Statement, this Plan shall control. The provisions of this Plan, the Disclosure Statement, and any Plan Document, on the one hand, and of the Confirmation Order, on the other hand, shall be construed in a manner consistent with each other so as to effectuate the purposes of each; provided, however, that if there is determined to be any inconsistency between any provision of this Plan, the Disclosure Statement, and any Plan Document, on the one hand, and any provision of the Confirmation Order, on the other hand, that cannot be so reconciled, then, solely to the extent of such inconsistency, the provisions of the Confirmation Order shall govern, and any such provisions of the Confirmation Order shall be deemed a modification of this Plan, the Disclosure Statement, and the Plan Documents, as applicable.

TO THE HONORABLE STACEY G. C. JERNIGAN, UNITED STATES BANKRUPTCY JUDGE:

Highland Capital Management, L.P., the debtor and debtor-in-possession (the “Debtor”) in the above-captioned chapter 11 case (the “Bankruptcy Case”), files this Motion (the “Motion”) for entry of an order pursuant to sections 105(a) and 363 of title 11 of the United States Code (the “Bankruptcy Code”) and Rule 9019 of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure (the “Bankruptcy Rules”), substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A, approving a settlement agreement (the “Settlement Agreement”)<sup>2</sup> entered into between the Debtor and certain related parties, on the one hand, and UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG London Branch (collectively, “UBS”), on the other hand. A copy of the Settlement Agreement is attached as Exhibit 1 to the Declaration of Robert J. Feinstein in Support of the Debtor’s Motion for Entry of an Order Approving Settlement with UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG London Branch and Authorizing Actions Consistent Therewith (“Feinstein Declaration”), filed concurrently herewith. In support of this Motion, the Debtor respectfully states as follows:

INTRODUCTION

1. The Settlement Agreement resolves more than $1 billion in claims that UBS filed in the Bankruptcy Case (collectively, the “UBS Claim”), as well as UBS’s claims against certain related parties that have been pending for more than a decade in the Supreme Court of the State of New York, County of New York (the “State Court”).<sup>3</sup> The UBS Claim arises from: (i) a judgment entered by the State Court against Highland CDO Opportunity Master Fund, L.P. (“CDO Fund”) and Highland Special Opportunities Holding Company (“SOHC,” and together with CDO

<sup>3</sup> The UBS Claim includes (i) Claim No. 190 filed by UBS Securities LLC, attached as Exhibit 2 to the Feinstein Declaration, and (ii) Claim No. 191 filed by UBS AG London Branch, attached as Exhibit 3 to the Feinstein Declaration.

Fund, the “Funds”) and (ii) related claims against the Debtor and other funds managed by the Debtor.

2. The Settlement Agreement provides for the allowance of the UBS Claim as (i) a single general unsecured claim in the amount of $65,000,000 against the Debtor, which will be treated as a Class 8 General Unsecured Claim under the Plan,<sup>4</sup> and (ii) a single subordinated unsecured claim in the amount of $60,000,000 against the Debtor, which will be treated as a Class 9 Subordinated General Unsecured Claim under the Plan. The Settlement Agreement also provides for a payment of $18,500,000 to UBS by Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, L.P. (n/k/a Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, L.P.) (“Multi-Strat”), a non-Debtor fund managed by the Debtor that is a co-defendant in the State Court litigation. In exchange for the allowance of the UBS Claim as set forth above and the payment by Multi-Strat, UBS will, among other things, release claims against the Debtor, Multi-Strat, and the Debtor’s general partner, Strand Advisors, Inc. (“Strand”), also named as a defendant in the State Court litigation, as described in Section 3 of the Settlement Agreement. The Settlement Agreement also obligates the Debtor to assist UBS in its collection efforts against the Funds in the State Court litigation and its pursuit of other claims, subject to a cap on its expenses of $3,000,000, provided that, to the extent provided for in Section 1(c) of the Settlement Agreement, for every dollar UBS recovers from the Funds (other than certain of the preferred shares issued by Greenbriar CLO Ltd. or Greenbriar CLO Corp. (collectively, “Greenbriar”), Sentinel Reinsurance, Ltd. (“Sentinel”), Multi-Strat (other than the initial payment of $18,500,000 referred to above), or any other person or entity described in Section 1(c)(iii) of the Settlement Agreement (the “UBS Recovery”), UBS will reimburse HCMLP ten percent of the UBS Recovery for the Reimbursable Expenses incurred by HCMLP.

<sup>4</sup> As used herein, the term “Plan” refers to the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (As Modified) [Dkt. No. 1808], as may be amended, supplemented, or restated.

3. The Settlement Agreement is the product of extensive arms-length negotiations among the parties and their counsel, as well as multiple mediation sessions with Judge Allan L. Gropper (Ret.) and Sylvia A. Mayer (together, the “Mediators”). Moreover, the parties had the benefit of this Court’s decision on the motions for partial summary judgment filed by the Debtor and the Redeemer Committee of the Highland Crusader Fund (the “Redeemer Committee”), and the Court’s ruling on UBS’s motion to temporarily allow its claim for voting purposes. After the Debtor, Redeemer Committee, and UBS submitted comprehensive briefing and voluminous exhibits, and the Court heard approximately five hours of argument, the Court granted the partial summary judgment motions to the extent set forth in its December 9, 2020 Order, and temporarily allowed the UBS Claim for the purposes of voting in the amount of $94,761,076 (the “UBS Rulings”). Of that amount, approximately $43,000,000 (inclusive of pre-judgment interest) related to transfers made to Multi-Strat, based on the Court estimating a 90% chance that UBS would prevail on that portion of its claim (under either a fraudulent conveyance or breach of implied covenant theory).

4. After the mediation and the UBS Rulings, the parties reached an initial settlement in principle. The Debtor disclosed that initial settlement to the Court and parties-in-interest at the February 2, 2021, hearing on confirmation of the Plan. Specifically, with UBS’s consent, the Debtor announced the initial settlement under which UBS was to receive (i) a single Class 8 General Unsecured Claim of $50,000,000, (ii) a single Class 9 Subordinated General Unsecured Claim of $25,000,000 (along with $18,500,000 from Multi-Strat and an agreement to assist UBS, to the extent possible, with the conveyance of CDO Fund’s assets to UBS). Those amounts were well in line with the UBS Rulings and reflected the parties’ respective assessments of the risks of litigating the claims to a final decision based on the then-known facts and the rulings.

5. Notably, among the critical facts predating UBS’s prosecution of its Proof of Claim was information provided to UBS in formal and informal discovery regarding the Funds’ assets. Before the Bankruptcy Case was filed, UBS was advised by the Debtor's prepetition management that the Funds had no material assets. During the course of the Bankruptcy Case, the Debtor's prepetition management – including its general counsel and senior litigation counsel – reiterated those “no asset” representations to the Independent Board,<sup>5</sup> including claiming that the Funds were “ghost funds” that had no material assets. These representations were, in turn, relayed to UBS.

6. As the recently uncovered facts described below reveal, the representations of the Debtor's prepetition management to UBS prior to the Bankruptcy Case and to the Independent Board after the filing of the Bankruptcy Case were fraudulent. The fraudulent representations appear to have been made as part of an orchestrated scheme by former management to hide from the Independent Board and UBS that in August 2017 more than $300 million in face amount of securities and cash were secretly transferred from the Funds to a related entity owned and controlled by James Dondero and Scott Ellington.

7. The Independent Board's initial investigation into the UBS Claim and the defenses and potential liabilities of the Debtor and its managed and owned funds began in January 2020. The UBS Claim was the largest in the case, and the Independent Board brought intense focus to all of the legal and factual matters surrounding the underlying contracts, the defaults, and the decade-long litigation underlying the UBS Claim. In directing that extensive investigation, the Independent Board instructed Mr. Ellington, Isaac Leventon, and other members of the Debtor's legal department to provide detailed information regarding the history of the transactions, the Funds, and the UBS Claim generally. Mr. Dondero also provided information to the Independent Board regarding the transactions, the Funds, the litigation, and the pre-petition settlement negotiations with UBS. This post-petition information provided by the Debtor's employees became part of the factual support for the Debtor's objection to the UBS Claim, and undergirded the Debtor's aggressive objection to the UBS Claim.

8. Prior to the mediation, UBS made additional discovery requests of the Debtor and the Funds. James P. Seery, Jr. (a member of the Independent Board and the Debtor's Chief Executive Officer and Chief Restructuring Officer) tasked the Debtor's in-house legal team with providing the responses to UBS's discovery requests. When Mr. Seery and outside counsel pressed the Debtor's employees for a timely response, Mr. Ellington claimed that he and Mr. Leventon were engaged in a "Herculean task" and had spent "in excess of 100 hours trying to piece together everything we can to create a true and accurate document based record of what happened" to the Funds and their assets. Ultimately, Mr. Leventon claimed that substantially all of the assets that had been at the Funds were used to pay the Funds' legal fees incurred in the litigation against UBS. He also provided specific documents purporting to show that certain assets were "written off" with the exception of certain preferred shares in Greenbriar that were supposedly difficult to locate. The Debtor reported the findings to UBS and used the findings in its presentation to the Mediators and this Court. As the Debtor ultimately learned, Mr. Ellington and Mr. Leventon's statements were false and were apparently made as part of a coordinated post-petition conspiracy to cover-up the illegal pre-petition transfers.

9. After the mediation and the UBS Rulings failed to result in a resolution of the UBS Claim, the Debtor and UBS continued to negotiate. During that time, the Debtor was also involved in significant disputes with Mr. Dondero. Upon learning that Mr. Ellington and Mr. Leventon had breached their respective duties to the Debtor by assisting Mr. Dondero's actions against the estate, they were terminated on January 5, 2021. Upon further investigation, in late January 2021, Mr. Seery working in conjunction with the Debtor's bankruptcy advisors, uncovered certain facts and circumstances relating to the Funds that were extremely disturbing.

10. Specifically, the Debtor's investigation revealed that in or around August 2017, shortly after rulings were issued in favor of UBS in the State Court Action (defined below), and in advance of the impending trial in State Court, Highland's principal, Mr. Dondero, acting in concert with others then employed by Highland, orchestrated the surreptitious transfer of all or substantially all of the assets of the Funds, among others, which had a face value of more than $300 million in the aggregate (the "Transferred Assets"), to Sentinel. Sentinel is a Cayman-domiciled entity that, on information and belief, is indirectly owned and controlled by Mr. Dondero and Mr. Ellington.<sup>6</sup> The transfer of the Funds' assets appears to be for (at best) a fraction of their total value.<sup>7</sup> Upon information and belief, the Transferred Assets included, among other assets: (i) CDO Fund's interest in Multi-Strat that was ostensibly "redeemed" in November 2019 (the "Sentinel Redemption"), and (ii) assets held by CDO Fund related to Greenbriar, Aberdeen Loan Funding Ltd., Eastland CLO Ltd., Grayson CLO Ltd., Valhalla CLO Ltd., and Governance Re, Ltd., including cash payments related to those assets.<sup>8</sup> The Independent Board disclosed this information to UBS promptly upon its discovery in February 2021. Prior to that disclosure, neither these assets nor the transfers was ever disclosed to UBS.

<sup>7</sup> Highland and the Funds, acting through Mr. Dondero, Mr. Ellington, Mr. Leventon, Jean Paul Sevilla, Matthew DiOrio, Katie Irving, and other Highland employees, fraudulently (or, at a bare minimum, in breach of their fiduciary duties) transferred these assets pursuant to a so-called purchase agreement (the "Purchase Agreement"), purportedly to satisfy a $25,000,000 premium on a $100,000,000 "after the event," legal liability insurance policy issued by Sentinel (the "Insurance Policy"). The Insurance Policy was supposedly intended to insure against an adverse judgment in the UBS State Court Action (defined below), notwithstanding that the Transferred Assets were worth more than both the premium and the policy limit combined.

<sup>8</sup> The Debtor believes that the timing of both the transfer of the Transferred Assets and the Sentinel Redemption are relevant. In July 2016, the Redeemer Committee commenced its arbitration for, among other things, breach of contract and breach of fiduciary duty against the Debtor. In March 2017 (approximately five months before the Purchase Agreement), the State Court denied the Debtor's motion for summary judgement as to UBS's fraudulent transfer claim, among others, and UBS's suit was being set for trial. In the spring and summer of 2017, Patrick Daugherty and Joshua Terry commenced their own actions against the Debtor or its affiliates. The walls of Mr. Dondero's fraudulent fortress were under attack. Similarly, in April 2019, Redeemer received its final arbitration award, and in November 2019, the State Court entered its $1 billion judgment in favor of UBS against the Funds – around the same time that the Sentinel Redemption was ostensibly made.

11. It also became clear to Mr. Seery and the Independent Board that they had been materially misled by a coordinated conspiracy to cover up the fraud, which was engineered by, among others, Mr. Dondero, Mr. Ellington, Mr. Leventon, as in-house senior litigation counsel, and certain other employees of the Debtor.

12. In light of these shocking revelations, UBS sought to reopen the settlement discussions. Due to the potential increased risk of additional monetary exposure to the Debtor's estate, the Debtor agreed to revisit the terms of the settlement and ultimately came to revised terms as reflected in the Settlement Agreement. As revised and incorporated into the Settlement Agreement, UBS will receive an increased allowed Class 8 Claim in the amount of $65 million, and an increased subordinated Class 9 Claim in the amount of $60 million. These increases reflect the facts and circumstances recently uncovered which increase the Debtor's potential exposure on UBS's asserted claim for breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing. While the revised, settled UBS Claim exceeds the total estimate the Court previously provided in the UBS Rulings, the non-subordinated amount of UBS's allowed Class 8 Claim, $65 million, remains less than the Court's estimate of $94,761,076. And, while that increased Class 8 Claim is potentially dilutive of the recoveries of other creditors, in the Debtor's judgment, the newly discovered facts increase the risk of UBS obtaining a higher recovery on the UBS Claim if it were litigated to conclusion.

13. The Settlement Agreement reflects informed decisions made by highly sophisticated parties, represented by experienced counsel, taking into account (among other things) the significant litigation risk to both UBS and the Debtor if the parties proceed to trial on UBS's claims against the Debtor, Multi-Strat, and Strand. As just a few examples, and as discussed at length in the parties' submissions and oral argument in connection with the partial summary judgment motions and the 3018 Motion (defined below), a litigated resolution of the UBS Claim would involve (i) a determination as to whether Highland Financial Partners, L.P. ("HFP") was the alter ego of the Funds that contracted with UBS, (ii) factual and legal disputes as to whether HFP received fair consideration for the allegedly fraudulent transfers at issue, including whether the underlying debt could be recharacterized as equity, and whether the debt was secured, and (iii) vigorously contested issues as to whether the Debtor owed or breached a duty of good faith and fair dealing in connection with the transfers made by HFP or its subsidiaries.

14. There is no guarantee that the Debtor would prevail, particularly in light of the number and variety of complex issues that would need to be determined, the recently uncovered fraud, and the fact that it no longer controls many of the witnesses. Moreover, even if the Debtor ultimately prevailed on most (if not all) of its defenses, the time and expense required to litigate the issues outlined above, and the other issues that would need to be addressed to fully resolve the dispute with UBS, would be a significant drain on the Debtor's estate, with a concomitant detrimental impact on the Debtor's creditors. Absent the Settlement Agreement, further litigation of the UBS Claim would involve substantial (and expensive) pre-trial preparation, a lengthy trial, and likely appeals. The Debtor also would need to defend against UBS's claims against Multi-Strat and Strand in the State Court Action, as the Debtor is the investment manager of Multi-Strat, and Strand has been sued for derivative liability as the Debtor's general partner. It has not yet been determined where those claims would be tried, an issue that itself would generate additional litigation and cause further delay. Any attempt to remove the claims to this Court in all likelihood would be vigorously contested by UBS; and if the claims remained in the State Court, the case could not be tried for the foreseeable future due to the pandemic, particularly if UBS continued to demand a jury trial.

15. The Settlement Agreement ends the Debtor's decade-long dispute with UBS, and avoids the expense, delay, and uncertainty of further litigation on the UBS Claim. The Independent Board, including Mr. Seery, has been intimately involved in the negotiation of the Settlement Agreement and believes it to be a fair and reasonable compromise that undoubtedly is in the best interests of the Debtor's estate and its creditors. Accordingly, the Debtor respectfully requests that the Court grant this Motion and approve the Settlement Agreement.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

16. The Court has jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 157 and 1334. This is a core proceeding pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 157(b)(2). Venue in this district is proper pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1408 and 1409.

17. The statutory predicates for the relief requested herein are sections 105(a) and 363 of the Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rule 9019.

RELEVANT BACKGROUND

I. The State Court Litigation

18. On February 24, 2009, UBS filed its first complaint against the Debtor and the Funds in an action captioned UBS Securities LLC, et al. v. Highland Capital Management, L.P., et al., Index No. 650097/2009 (N.Y. Sup. Ct.) (the "2009 Action"). In that complaint, UBS asserted an indemnification claim for breach of contract against the Debtor based on restructured warehouse agreements entered into in 2008 among UBS, the Debtor, and the Funds which provided that the Funds, not the Debtor, would bear the risk of any investment losses.

19. UBS's breach of contract claim against the Debtor was dismissed in early 2010. UBS then amended its complaint in the 2009 Action to add new claims and five new defendants, HFP, Multi-Strat, Strand, Highland Credit Strategies Master Funds, L.P. ("Credit Strategies"), and Highland Crusader Offshore Partners, L.P. ("Crusader"). The claims against the new defendants included, among other things, (i) actual and constructive fraudulent transfer claims based on transfers of $233,455,147 of assets by HFP or its subsidiaries in March 2009, (ii) a claim for declaratory relief against HFP seeking a determination that HFP was the alter ego of one of the Funds, and (iii) a claim against Strand for general partner liability.

20. On June 28, 2010, UBS filed a new, separate action against the Debtor captioned UBS Securities LLC, et al. v. Highland Capital Management, L.P., Index No. 650752/2010 (N.Y. Sup. Ct.) (the “2010 Action”). In the 2010 Action, UBS asserted claims against the Debtor for fraudulent transfer (actual and constructive) and breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, alleging that the Debtor received certain of the March 2009 transfers (which UBS alleged were orchestrated by the Debtor) and that the March 2009 transaction breached a purported duty of good faith and fair dealing under the warehouse agreements. UBS also sought pre-judgment interest, calculated at nine percent under New York law, attorneys’ fees, and punitive damages. The 2009 Action and 2010 Action (collectively, the “State Court Action”) were later consolidated.

21. The claims asserted in the State Court Action were bifurcated for purposes of trial. Phase I of the trial commenced on July 9, 2018, and was limited to UBS’s breach of contract claim against the Funds, and certain contractual counterclaims asserted by the Debtor. Phase I of the trial concluded on July 27, 2018. The State Court issued its decision more than a year later, on November 14, 2019, determining that the Funds breached the warehouse agreements on December 5, 2008. The Phase I judgment was entered against the Funds on February 10, 2020, in the principal amount of $519,374,149 with $520,583,650.44 in prejudgment interest included for an overall judgment of $1,039,957,799.44. UBS Claim ¶ 23.

22. The claims to be tried in Phase II of the State Court Action included (i) UBS’s claim against the Debtor for breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, (ii) UBS’s fraudulent transfer claims against the Debtor, HFP, and Multi-Strat, (iii) UBS’s claim for declaratory relief against HFP, and (iv) UBS’s general partner liability claim against Strand.<sup>9</sup> Phase II of the trial was automatically stayed as to the Debtor by its bankruptcy filing.

<sup>9</sup> UBS’s claims against Credit Strategies and Crusader, as the recipients of $172,411,785 of the assets transferred in the March 2009 transaction, were settled in June 2015.

II. The Bankruptcy Case

23. The Debtor commenced the Bankruptcy Case in the District of Delaware on October 16, 2019, by filing its voluntary petition for relief under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Bankruptcy Case was transferred to this Court on December 4, 2019. The Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (“OCUC”) was appointed by the U.S. Trustee on October 29, 2019, before the Bankruptcy Case was transferred to this Court.

24. On May 20, 2020, UBS moved for relief from the automatic stay (the “Stay Relief Motion”), seeking stay relief to prosecute its claims against the Debtor in the State Court. Dkt. No. 644. The Debtor, Redeemer Committee, OCUC, and Acis Capital Management, L.P. and Acis Capital Management GP, LLC all objected to the Stay Relief Motion. Following a hearing on June 15, 2020, the Court denied the Stay Relief Motion and set June 26, 2020 as the deadline for UBS to file its proof of claim against the Debtor. Dkt. No. 765.

25. On August 3, 2020, the Court entered the Order Directing Mediation, pursuant to which the Debtor and UBS (among other parties) were directed to mediate their disputes before the Mediators. Dkt. No. 912.

26. On February 22, 2021, the Bankruptcy Court entered the Order (I) Confirming the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (as Modified) and (II) Granting Related Relief, Dkt. No. 1943, which confirmed the Plan.<sup>10</sup>

III. The UBS Claim

27. UBS filed the UBS Claim in the Bankruptcy Case on June 26, 2020. The UBS Claim consists of two substantively identical claims: (i) Claim No. 190 filed by UBS Securities LLC; and (ii) Claim No. 191 filed by UBS AG London Branch. Feinstein Decl. Exhibits 2 and 3. UBS asserted a general unsecured claim against the Debtor for $1,039,957,799.40, i.e.,

the exact amount of UBS's breach of contract judgment against the Funds. The UBS Claim seeks "damages arising from the Debtor's breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, its specific role in directing the fraudulent transfers of assets involving HFP" and interest, punitive damages and attorneys' fees. UBS Claim ¶ 26.

28. The Debtor and the Redeemer Committee and the Highland Crusader Funds ("Redeemer/Crusader") each objected to the UBS Claim on August 7, 2020. Dkt. Nos. 928, 933. UBS filed its response to the claim objections on September 25, 2020. Dkt. No. 1105.

IV. The Partial Summary Judgment Motions and UBS's 3018 Motion

29. On October 16, 2020, the Debtor filed a motion for partial summary judgment on the UBS Claim, as did Redeemer/Crusader. Dkt. Nos. 1214, 1215. UBS filed its response on November 6, 2020, and the moving parties submitted their replies on November 16, 2020. Dkt. Nos. 1337, 1402, 1408. The Debtor and Redeemer/Crusader sought to disallow (i) any claim against the Debtor that arose prior to February 24, 2009, including any claim to enforce the Phase I judgment against the Debtor, (ii) any claim to impose alter ego liability on the Debtor, and (iii) any claim seeking recovery from the Debtor pertaining in any way to the transfers of $172,411,785 of assets made collectively to Credit Strategies and Crusader in March 2009. By Order dated December 9, 2020, the Court granted the motions for partial summary judgment filed by the Debtor and Redeemer/Crusader, and denied UBS's request for leave to file an amended proof of claim. Dkt. No. 1526.

30. On November 6, 2020, UBS filed a motion pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 3018, seeking the temporary allowance of the UBS Claim for purposes of voting on the Plan. Dkt. No. 1338 (the "3018 Motion"). UBS requested that the Court temporarily allow the UBS Claim in the amount of $543,620,736.03, which included (i) the $233,455,147 of assets transferred in March 2009, (ii) approximately $45,000,000 that UBS asserted was held by HFP after the March 2009 transaction, and (iii) $265,165,589.03 for nine percent pre-judgment interest from March 2009 to the petition date. Dkt. No. 1342 ¶ 38. With respect to the March 2009 transfers, UBS included the following chart:

Recipient	Market Value of Assets
Credit Strategies	$20,044,219
Crusader Holding	$108,961,751
Crusader Offshore	$43,405,815
Multi-Strat Entities	$25,782,988
Debtor	$17,778,566
Citibank, N.A.	$17,481,808
Total	$233,455,147

Dkt. No. 1342 ¶ 15. UBS also asserted that the Debtor could be liable for additional amounts purportedly held by CDO Fund, because the Debtor interfered (in breach of its implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing) with CDO Fund's obligation to bear responsibility for 51% of the losses suffered by UBS under the warehouse agreements. See, e.g., 11/20/20 Hrg. Tr. [Dkt. 1482] at 207:21 (asserting that $23,000,000 was held by CDO Fund as of December 31, 2009).

31. The Debtor and Redeemer/Crusader objected to the 3018 Motion on November 16, 2020. Dkt. Nos. 1404, 1409. The Debtor (joined by Redeemer/Crusader) argued that the UBS Claim should be temporarily allowed in the maximum amount of $35,742,978.98. The calculation of that amount used the $233,455,147 of transfers in March 2009 as a starting point, then subtracted the $172,411,785 transferred to Credit Strategies and Crusader (i.e., the parties that settled with UBS in 2015), leaving a remaining principal amount of $61,043,362 (or $119,143,263.26 with 9% prejudgment interest). The Debtor further argued that a 70% discount should be applied to account for the substantial likelihood that UBS would not be able to establish most, if not all, of its claims at trial ( $$119,143,263.26 \times .30 = $35,742,978.978$ ). Dkt. No. 1404 at 1.

32. The Debtor, Redeemer/Crusader, and UBS collectively submitted more than 3,000 pages of exhibits in connection with the partial summary judgment motions and 3018 Motion. See, e.g., Dkt. Nos. 1413, 1414, 1418.

33. On November 20, 2020, the Court held a hearing on the partial summary judgment motions and 3018 Motion. During the all-day hearing, the Court heard lengthy arguments by counsel for the Debtor, Redeemer/Crusader, and UBS. The Court received extensive evidence, including deposition clips and excerpts from one of UBS's expert's report relating to, among other things, the terms of the warehouse agreements, the March 2009 transfers and underlying notes, the pre-petition operation of the Debtor's business, and the convoluted history of the State Court Action to date. At the conclusion of the hearing, the Court granted the partial summary judgment motions (as discussed above) and temporarily allowed the UBS Claim for voting purposes in the amount of $94,761,076. 11/20/20 Hrg. Tr. at 213:25-214:1.<sup>11</sup> That amount reflected the following:

- $8 million for the amount transferred to the Debtor in March 2009. The Court used the adjusted amount included in one of the tables to UBS's expert's report, with no discount applied for litigation risk. 11/20/20 Hrg. Tr. at 215:16-22. UBS continued to dispute whether the original amount ($17,778,566) or the adjusted amount should be used. Id. at 217:4-23.
- Approximately $23.2 million for the total amount transferred to Multi-Strat in March 2009 ($25,782,988), reflecting a 90% chance that UBS would prevail on that portion of its claim. 11/20/20 Hrg. Tr. at 214:14-215:15.
- Approximately $3.5 million for the total amount transferred to Citibank, N.A. in March 2009 ($17,481,808), reflecting a 20% chance that UBS would prevail on that portion of its claim. 11/20/20 Hrg. Tr. at 215:23-216:3.
- $30 million for pre-judgment interest on the above three amounts. 11/20/20 Hrg. Tr. at 216:4-7.
- $10 million relating to the approximately $68 million that UBS argued was held by HFP and CDO Fund, at minimum, after the March 2009 transfers. 11/20/20 Hrg. Tr. at 216:8-15.
- $10 million relating to pre-judgment interest on the above amount. 11/20/20 Hrg. Tr. at 216:15-16.

- $10 million to take into account UBS's demand for attorneys' fees. 11/20/20 Hrg. Tr. at 216:17-24.

The Court's order on the 3018 Motion was entered on December 7, 2020. Dkt. No. 1518.

V. Summary of the Salient Terms of the Settlement Agreement

34. In an effort to resolve the long-standing and highly contentious dispute between the Debtor and UBS, the parties and their counsel engaged in extensive negotiations and multiple sessions with the Mediators. See, e.g., Settlement Agreement at 2. Those efforts resulted in the Settlement Agreement, which the parties executed on March 30, 2021.

35. The principal terms of the Settlement Agreement are as follows:<sup>12</sup>

- The parties to the Settlement Agreement are (i) the Debtor, (ii) Multi-Strat, together with its general partner and its direct and indirect wholly-owned subsidiaries, (iii) Strand, and (iv) UBS. Settlement Agreement at 1.
- The UBS Claim will be allowed as (i) a single, general unsecured claim in the amount of $65,000,000 against the Debtor, which shall be treated as a Class 8 General Unsecured Claim under the Plan, and (ii) a single, subordinated unsecured claim in the amount of $60,000,000 against the Debtor, which shall be treated as a Class 9 Subordinated General Unsecured Claim under the Plan. Id. § 1(a).
- Multi-Strat will pay $18,500,000 to UBS, to be funded in part with certain Multi-Strat assets previously placed in escrow pursuant to an agreement between Multi-Strat and UBS (among other parties) entered into in May 2020. Id. § 1(b).<sup>13</sup>
- UBS will withdraw with prejudice its appeal of this Court's order approving the Debtor's settlement with Redeemer/Crusader [Dkt. No. 1273] if Redeemer/Crusader do not object to this Settlement Agreement. Id. § 1(d).
- The Debtor will transfer to UBS any claim it may have against Sentinel or any other party with respect to the Multi-Strat Interest transferred as part of the Transferred Assets. Id. § 1(g).

<sup>13</sup> The two other parties to the May 2020 agreement – Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, Ltd. and Highland Credit Opportunities CDO Asset Holdings, L.P. – also are signatories to the Settlement Agreement. Settlement Agreement at 3, 14.

- The parties will exchange broad mutual releases upon the effective date of the Settlement Agreement. Id. §§ 2(a), 3(a)-(c).
- If UBS ever controls or has authority over any HCMLP-affiliated defendant(s) in the State Court Action by virtue of the prosecution, enforcement, or collection of the Phase I Judgment, neither UBS nor such defendant(s) will assert or pursue any claims that such defendant(s) has or may have against the Debtor or any other HCMLP Parties (as defined in the Settlement Agreement) (provided that nothing prohibits those actions set forth in Section 3(a)(1)-(6) of the Settlement Agreement), and if UBS receives any distribution from any such defendant(s) that is derived from a claim such defendant(s) has against the Debtor (subject to the exceptions set forth in Section 3(a)) which distribution is directly attributable to any property such defendant(s) receives from the Debtor and separate and distinct from property owned or controlled by CDO Fund, SOHC, or Multi-Strat, then such amount will be credited against amounts due to UBS under Section 1(a) of the Settlement Agreement. Id., § 5.
- The Debtor will use reasonable efforts to assist UBS in, among other things, collecting its judgment against the Funds and assets the Funds may own, including by cooperating with UBS (i) to assign or convey any assets owned or controlled by the Funds and/or HFP and (ii) in its pursuit of the Transferred Assets and claims against the individuals and entities set forth in 1(c)(ii)-(iii) of the Settlement Agreement, subject to a limit on the Debtor's incurrence of no more than $3 million in expenses in connection therewith and the right to reimbursement of those amounts as set forth in the Settlement Agreement. Id. § 1(c).
- The effectiveness of the Settlement Agreement is expressly conditioned upon this Court's approval of the Settlement Agreement. Id. §§ 2(c), 6.

RELIEF REQUESTED

36. By this Motion, the Debtor requests that the Court enter an order, substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A, granting the Motion, approving the Settlement Agreement, and authorizing the Debtor and its agents to take all actions necessary or desirable to implement the Settlement Agreement without the need for further notice or approval by the Court. The Debtor seeks approval of the Settlement Agreement pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 9019 and, to the extent that the Settlement Agreement is viewed as requiring the Debtor to take action outside the ordinary course of business as the investment manager of Multi-Strat, the Debtor also seeks approval of the Settlement Agreement pursuant to Bankruptcy Code section 363(b).

BASIS FOR RELIEF REQUESTED

37. Bankruptcy Rule 9019 provides that “[o]n motion ... and after notice and a hearing, the court may approve a compromise or settlement.” FED. R. BANKR. P. 9019(a). Settlements are favored in the bankruptcy context to “minimize litigation and expedite the administration of a bankruptcy estate.” Myers v. Martin (In re Martin), 91 F.3d 389, 393 (3d Cir. 1996). The approval of a settlement is within the “sound discretion” of the Court. In re Jackson Brewing Co., 624 F.2d 599, 603 (5th Cir. 1980).

38. Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 9019(a), the Court may approve a settlement if it is fair, reasonable, and in the best interests of the estate. See, e.g., Official Comm. of Unsecured Creditors v. Moeller (In re Age Ref., Inc.), 801 F.3d 530, 540 (5th Cir. 2015). A settlement should be approved unless it falls below the lowest point in the range of reasonableness, based on a comparison between the terms of the settlement and the costs and benefits of further litigation. See, e.g., Jackson Brewing Co., 624 F.2d at 602 (court must compare the “terms of the compromise with the likely rewards of litigation”); Cook v. Waldron, 2006 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 31411, *10 (S.D. Tex. April 18, 2006) (court should “canvass the issues” to decide if settlement falls “below the lowest point in the range of reasonableness”).

39. In evaluating a proposed settlement, courts consider (i) the “probability of success in the litigation, with due consideration for the uncertainty in fact and law,” (ii) the “complexity and likely duration of the litigation and any attendant expense, inconvenience and delay,” and (iii) “[a]ll other factors bearing on the wisdom of the compromise.” Official Comm. of Unsecured Creditors v. Cajun Elec. Power Coop. (In re Cajun Elec. Power Coop.), 119 F.3d 349, 356 (5th Cir. 1997) (quoting Jackson Brewing Co., 624 F.2d at 602). The “other factors” include

“the best interests of the creditors, ‘with proper deference to their reasonable views,’” as well as “the extent to which the settlement is truly the product of arms-length bargaining, and not of fraud or collusion.” Id. (quoting Conn. Gen. Life Ins. Co. v. United Cos. Fin. Corp. (In re Foster Mortg. Corp.), 68 F.3d 914, 917-18 (5th Cir. 1995)).

40. A trustee (or debtor-in-possession) also “is permitted to settle lawsuits pursuant to section 363(b)” of the Bankruptcy Code. Id. at 354. Section 363(b) provides that “[t]he trustee, after notice and a hearing, may use, sell, or lease, other than in the ordinary course of business, property of the estate.” 11 U.S.C. 363(b)(1). A settlement involving a transaction outside the ordinary course of business “must be supported by an articulated business justification, good business judgment, or sound business reasons.” Gluckstadt Holdings, L.L.C. v. VCR I, L.L.C. (In re VCR I, L.L.C.), 922 F.3d 323, 327 (5th Cir. 2019) (quoting Cadle Co. v. Mims (In re Moore), 608 F.3d 253, 263 (5th Cir. 2010)).

41. As discussed in detail below, all of the factors to be considered pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 9019 and Bankruptcy Code section 363(b) weigh heavily in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement in this case.

42. Probability of Success in the Litigation. While the first factor to be considered does not require a “mini-trial” on the merits, Cajun Elec. Power Coop., 119 F.3d at 356, the Court can evaluate the Settlement Agreement with the benefit of having already considered the extensive briefing, evidence, and argument presented by the Debtor, UBS, and the Redeemer Committee in connection with the partial summary judgment motions and 3018 Motion. As illustrated at the November 20, 2020 hearing and in the parties’ briefs, resolution of the UBS Claim through litigation would involve many complex issues, with resulting uncertainty as to whether the Debtor or UBS ultimately would prevail.

43. For instance, to establish its fraudulent transfer claims relating to the March 2009 transfers, UBS would need to prove that it was a creditor of the entity (HFP) that allegedly made the purported fraudulent transfers, which would require proof that HFP was the alter ego of one of the Funds that was a party to the contracts with UBS. While the Debtor believes that it would be difficult for UBS to establish its alter ego claim, UBS is equally confident that it will prevail, relying on (among other things) the survival of its alter ego allegations following dispositive motion practice in the State Court Action (and the recently uncovered fraud may help its case).

44. Litigation of the UBS Claim also would require a determination as to whether HFP received fair consideration in exchange for the March 2009 transfers. The Debtor asserts that the transfers were made on account of secured notes issued by HFP. UBS, on the other hand, contends that the debt should be recharacterized as equity, that the notes were unsecured, and that the value of the notes was not equivalent to the amount of the March 2009 transfers. Other hotly contested issues include: (i) whether the Debtor could be held responsible for transfers made by HFP to any entity other than the Debtor, including the transfer made to a completely unrelated third-party (Citibank, N.A.); (ii) whether the transfers were made in good faith, or with actual fraudulent intent; and (iii) whether UBS can recover the attorneys' fees it has incurred – which likely are substantial – from the Debtor, in light of the high standard required for an award of attorneys' fees under New York law. See, e.g., Dkt. No. 1404 ¶¶ 22-23.

45. The Debtor also disputes the merits of UBS's claim for breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing. The Debtor maintains that UBS cannot use the implied covenant to "rewrite" the warehouse agreements, which were heavily negotiated contracts among sophisticated parties that placed all risk of loss on the Funds, not the Debtor. The Debtor also maintains that UBS will not be able to prove the Debtor breached any purported duty of good faith and fair dealing as to the March 2009 transfers made by HFP or its subsidiaries, given that HFP was not a party to the warehouse agreements and was not a defendant in the State Court Action at the time of the transfers, and the transfers were made after UBS terminated the warehouse agreements.

UBS, of course, has raised its own arguments in response to each of the Debtor's points. Specifically, UBS maintains that its claim does not "rewrite" the warehouse agreements because the Debtor was a party to all three contracts – and in fact was the only Highland party to one of the three contracts – whereby it expressly promised that the Funds would bear all losses on the contracts, thus obligating itself not to interfere with, injure, or frustrate UBS's right to recover such losses from the Funds. UBS also maintains that the Debtor exerted its control over the Funds to move assets out of UBS's reach and into the pockets of other Highland-affiliated entities. And UBS maintains that the Debtor's principal arguments have already been rejected by the New York appellate courts (although the Debtor disputes that contention). Accordingly, UBS is confident that it will prevail on its implied covenant claim. (Moreover, the recent discovery of the Sentinel transactions, including the transfer of the Transferred Assets by CDO Fund, provides additional weight to UBS's claim.)

46. As one final example of the plethora of issues that would need to be resolved absent the Settlement Agreement, the parties dispute whether UBS's implied covenant claim is limited to the allegedly fraudulent transfers made by HFP or its subsidiaries in March 2009. The Debtor has asserted that the March 2009 transfers – with only approximately $61 million of transfers remaining at issue in light of the Court's ruling on the partial summary judgment motions – are the only basis for UBS's implied covenant claim. UBS, on the other hand, has argued that damages on its implied covenant claim may include, in addition to the remaining $61 million of March 2009 transfers still at issue, all or some portion of any assets held by HFP, SOHC, and CDO Fund after the March 2009 transfers were made, which until, the Independent Board informed it of the Transferred Assets, UBS believed to be approximately $45 million at HFP and approximately $23 million at CDO Fund – but now understands was significantly more. See, e.g., 11/20/20 Hrg. Tr. at 138:10-139:5; 207:19-208:14.

47. These and other issues were the subject of extensive discovery and numerous competing expert opinions in the State Court Action. For the more than ten years that the State Court Action has been pending, UBS and the Debtor – each represented by sophisticated business people and experienced counsel – have maintained diametrically different views on the merits of UBS’s claims and the Debtor’s defenses. The Settlement Agreement appropriately takes into account the complexity of the issues that would need to be resolved in further litigation, and the resulting uncertainty. Moreover, the settlement amount agreed upon by the parties is consistent with the Court’s evaluation of the UBS Claim in connection with the 3018 Motion. Therefore, the Settlement Agreement satisfies the “probability of success” factor.

48. Expense, Inconvenience, and Delay. The Settlement Agreement resolves claims that UBS asserted against the Debtor, Multi-Strat, and Strand more than ten years ago. The convoluted history of the State Court Action itself speaks volumes about the expense, inconvenience, and delay likely to result from further litigation of the UBS Claim. Indeed, the only claims resolved to date – UBS’s breach of contract claim against the Funds and the Debtor’s contractual counterclaims (which were rejected) – required a thirteen-day bench trial in the State Court.

49. Litigation of UBS’s claims against the Debtor, including the resolution of the complex issues outlined above, would require enormous time and effort, and the expenditure of millions of dollars by the Debtor’s estate. Pre-trial preparation and trial is, of course, expensive and time-consuming in any complex case. And here, expert witnesses who prepared their expert reports years ago would need to be re-engaged, and fact witnesses involved in transactions that occurred more than ten years ago would need to be prepared for trial – many of whom are no longer under the Debtor’s control and some of whom are adverse to the Debtor today. Furthermore, any result obtained at trial in all likelihood would be subjected to appellate review. By finally ending the acrimonious, decade-old dispute between the Debtor and UBS without further expense, the Settlement Agreement easily satisfies the “expense, inconvenience, and delay” factor.

50. Other Factors. As an initial matter, there can be no doubt that the Settlement Agreement was the product of good faith, arms-length negotiations between the Debtor and UBS.

The parties reached agreement after extensive negotiations and multiple sessions with the Mediators. And, no party could credibly contend that there was collusion between the Debtor and UBS, who have been aggressive adversaries for more than a decade.

51. As to the second “other factor” identified by the Fifth Circuit, approval of the Settlement Agreement is in the best interests of the Debtor’s creditors. The UBS Claim was filed as a $1 billion claim in June 2020, and already has been the subject of vigorously contested litigation in this Court. Pursuant to the Settlement Agreement, the UBS Claim will be resolved, without further litigation expense to the Debtor’s estate, with (i) allowance of a single, general unsecured claim in the amount of $65 million against the Debtor, (ii) allowance of a single, subordinated unsecured claim in the amount of $60 million against the Debtor, and (iii) the $18.5 million payment by Multi-Strat. Resolution of the UBS Claim on these terms benefits the many other Class 8 unsecured creditors who share ratably with UBS and would be at risk of substantial dilution if the UBS Claim were allowed at $1 billion, as UBS has asserted, or anything approaching that amount.

52. Sound Business Reasons and Justifications. As outlined above, there are sound business reasons and justifications for entering into the Settlement Agreement, particularly as it pertains to Multi-Strat. UBS has alleged that Multi-Strat was the direct recipient of $25,782,988 of the amount allegedly fraudulently transferred by HFP in March 2009. While the Debtor believes there are numerous meritorious defenses to that claim, litigation of UBS’s claim against Multi-Strat would involve the same uncertainty and expense as litigation of UBS’s fraudulent transfer claim against the Debtor, including the impact of the fraud on certain Multi-Strat transactions. Furthermore, after hearing extensive evidence and argument relating to, among other things, the fraudulent transfer claims, the Court determined there was a 90% chance that UBS would prevail on the Multi-Strat portion of its claim (i.e., a value of approximately $43 million, including pre-judgment interest, and potentially attorney fees). See 11/20/20 Hrg. Tr. at 214:10-215:15. The settlement payment to be made by Multi-Strat ($18,500,000) takes into account the strengths and weaknesses of both parties' positions, as well as the benefit of resolving the litigation without further expense. Therefore, the Debtor respectfully requests that the Settlement Agreement be approved pursuant to both Bankruptcy Rule 9019 and section 363(b) of the Bankruptcy Code (to the extent necessary).

53. Finally, the Debtor is also authorized, as investment manager, to cause Multi-Strat to settle the claims UBS has asserted against Multi-Strat in the State Court Action without seeking leave under 11 U.S.C. § 363(b). First, section 363(b) applies to "property of the estate." 11 U.S.C. § 363(b)(1). However, the assets of a debtor's non-debtor subsidiaries are not property of a debtor's estate. See, e.g., In re Guyana Dev. Corp., 168 B.R. 892, 905 (Bankr. S.D. Tex. 1994) ("As a general rule, property of the estate includes the debtor's stock in a subsidiary but not the assets of the subsidiary."). Here, Multi-Strat is not wholly owned by the Debtor and has meaningful third party investors. Thus, the payment to be made by Multi-Strat pursuant to the Settlement Agreement will not involve property of the Debtor's estate or implicate 11 U.S.C. § 363(b). Instead, it will involve the transfer of Multi-Strat's property in settlement of UBS's claim against Multi-Strat. Second, even if 11 U.S.C. § 363 is relevant, the Debtor is authorized to operate its business in the ordinary course without notice or hearing pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 363(c)(1). As the investment manager of Multi-Strat, the Debtor can, in the ordinary course of business, cause Multi-Strat to settle the claims UBS has asserted against Multi-Strat in the State Court Action. Finally, even if the Settlement Agreement is viewed as requiring the Debtor to take action outside the ordinary course of business as the investment manager of Multi-Strat, the Settlement Agreement should be approved pursuant to section 363(b) of the Bankruptcy Code for the reasons set forth above.

NO PRIOR REQUEST

54. No previous request for the relief sought herein has been made to this Court or any other court.

NOTICE

55. Notice of this Motion shall be given to (i) counsel for UBS, (ii) counsel to the OCUC, (iii) the Debtor's principal secured parties, (iv) the Office of the United States Trustee, and (v) parties requesting notice pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 2002. The Debtor submits that, in light of the nature of the relief requested herein, no other or further notice need be given.

PRAYER

WHEREFORE, the Debtor respectfully requests entry of an order, substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A, granting the Motion and the relief requested herein, and granting the Debtor such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper.

DECLARATION OF ROBERT J. FEINSTEIN IN SUPPORT OF DEBTOR'S MOTION FOR ENTRY OF AN ORDER APPROVING SETTLEMENT WITH UBS SECURITIES LLC AND UBS AG, LONDON BRANCH AND AUTHORIZING ACTIONS CONSISTENT THEREWITH

I, Robert J. Feinstein, declare as follows:

1. I am an attorney with the law firm of Pachulski Stang Ziehl & Jones LLP, counsel to Highland Capital Management, L.P., the debtor and debtor-in-possession (the “Debtor”) in the above-captioned chapter 11 case (the “Bankruptcy Case”). I submit this declaration in support of the Debtor’s Motion for Entry of an Order Approving Settlement with UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG, London Branch and Authorizing Actions Consistent Therewith, filed concurrently herewith. This declaration is based on my personal knowledge of the facts set forth herein and my review of the documents identified below.

2. Attached as Exhibit 1 is a true and correct copy of the Settlement Agreement executed as of March 30, 2021, by the Debtor, Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, L.P. (n/k/a Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, L.P.), Strand Advisors, Inc., and UBS Securities LLC, and UBS AG, London Branch.

3. Attached as Exhibit 2 is a true and correct copy, without exhibits, of Claim No. 190 filed by UBS Securities LLC in the Bankruptcy Case.

4. Attached as Exhibit 3 is a true and correct copy, without exhibits, of Claim No. 191 filed by UBS AG, London Branch in the Bankruptcy Case.

5. Attached as Exhibit 4 is a true and correct excerpt from the transcript of the November 20, 2020 hearing in the Bankruptcy Case [Dkt. 1482] setting forth the Court’s ruling on UBS’s Motion for Temporary Allowance of Claims for Voting Purposes Pursuant to Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 3018 [Dkt. No. 1338].

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

Executed on April 15, 2021, in New York, New York.

Settlement Agreement

SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT

This Settlement Agreement (the “Agreement”) is entered into as of March 30, 2021, by and among (i) Highland Capital Management, L.P. (“HCMLP” or the “Debtor”), (ii) Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, L.P. (n/k/a Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, L.P.) (“Multi-Strat,” and together with its general partner and its direct and indirect wholly-owned subsidiaries, the “MSCF Parties”), (iii) Strand Advisors, Inc. (“Strand”), and (iv) UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG London Branch (collectively, “UBS”).

Each of HCMLP, the MSCF Parties, Strand, and UBS are sometimes referred to herein collectively as the “Parties” and individually as a “Party.”

R E C I T A L S

WHEREAS, in 2007, UBS entered into certain contracts with HCMLP and two funds managed by HCMLP—Highland CDO Opportunity Master Fund, L.P. (“CDO Fund”) and Highland Special Opportunities Holding Company (“SOHC,” and together with CDO Fund, the “Funds”) related to a securitization transaction (the “Knox Agreement”);

WHEREAS, in 2008, the parties to the Knox Agreement restructured the Knox Agreement;

WHEREAS, UBS terminated the Knox Agreement and, on February 24, 2009, UBS filed a complaint in the Supreme Court of the State of New York, County of New York (the “State Court”) against HCMLP and the Funds seeking to recover damages related to the Knox Agreement, in an action captioned UBS Securities LLC, et al. v. Highland Capital Management, L.P., et al., Index No. 650097/2009 (N.Y. Sup. Ct.) (the “2009 Action”);

WHEREAS, UBS’s lone claim against HCMLP in the 2009 Action for indemnification was dismissed in early 2010, and thereafter UBS amended its complaint in the 2009 Action to add five new defendants, Highland Financial Partners, L.P. (“HFP”), Highland Credit Strategies Master Funds, L.P. (“Credit-Strat”), Highland Crusader Offshore Partners, L.P. (“Crusader”), Multi-Strat, and Strand, and to add new claims for fraudulent inducement, fraudulent conveyance, tortious interference with contract, alter ego, and general partner liability;

WHEREAS, UBS filed a new, separate action against HCMLP on June 28, 2010, for, inter alia, fraudulent conveyance and breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, captioned UBS Securities LLC, et al. v. Highland Capital Management, L.P., Index No. 650752/2010 (N.Y. Sup. Ct.) (the “2010 Action”);

WHEREAS, in November 2010, the State Court consolidated the 2009 Action and the 2010 Action (hereafter referred to as the “State Court Action”), and on May 11, 2011, UBS filed a Second Amended Complaint in the 2009 Action;

WHEREAS, in 2015, UBS entered into settlement agreements with Crusader and Credit-Strat, and thereafter UBS filed notices with the State Court in the State Court Action dismissing its claims against Crusader and Credit-Strat;

WHEREAS, the State Court bifurcated claims asserted in the State Court Action for purposes of trial, with the Phase I bench trial deciding UBS's breach of contract claims against the Funds and HCMLP's counterclaims against UBS;

WHEREAS, on August 7, 2017, the Funds, along with Highland CDO Opportunity Fund, Ltd., Highland CDO Holding Company, Highland Financial Corp., and HFP, purportedly sold assets with a purported collective fair market value of $105,647,679 (the "Transferred Assets") and purported face value of over $300,000,000 to Sentinel Reinsurance, Ltd. ("Sentinel") pursuant to a purported asset purchase agreement (the "Purchase Agreement");

WHEREAS, Sentinel treated the Transferred Assets as payment for a $25,000,000 premium on a document entitled "Legal Liability Insurance Policy" (the "Insurance Policy");

WHEREAS, the Insurance Policy purports to provide coverage to the Funds for up to $100,000,000 for any legal liability resulting from the State Court Action (the "Insurance Proceeds");

WHEREAS, one of the Transferred Assets CDO Fund transferred to Sentinel was CDO Fund's limited partnership interests in Multi-Strat (the "CDOF Interests");

WHEREAS, Sentinel had also received from HCMLP limited partnership interests in Multi-Strat for certain cash consideration (together with the CDOF Interests, the "MSCF Interests");

WHEREAS, the existence of the Purchase Agreement and Insurance Policy were unknown to Strand's independent directors and the Debtor's bankruptcy advisors prior to late January 2021;

WHEREAS, in early February 2021, the Debtor disclosed the existence of the Purchase Agreement and Insurance Policy to UBS;

WHEREAS, prior to such disclosure, the Purchase Agreement and Insurance Policy were unknown to UBS;

WHEREAS, on November 14, 2019, following the Phase I trial, the State Court issued its decision determining that the Funds breached the Knox Agreement on December 5, 2008 and dismissing HCMLP's counterclaims;

WHEREAS, Sentinel purportedly redeemed the MSCF Interests in November 2019 and the redeemed MSCF Interests are currently valued at approximately $32,823,423.50 (the "Sentinel Redemption");

WHEREAS, on February 10, 2020, the State Court entered a Phase I trial judgment against the Funds in the amount of $1,039,957,799.44 as of January 22, 2020 (the "Phase I Judgment");

WHEREAS, Phase II of the trial of the State Court Action, includes, inter alia, UBS's claim for breach of implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing against HCMLP, UBS's fraudulent transfer claims against HCMLP, HFP, and Multi-Strat, and UBS's general partner claim against Strand;

WHEREAS, on October 16, 2019, HCMLP filed a voluntary petition for relief under chapter 11 of title 11 of the United States Code (the "Bankruptcy Code") in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware (the "Bankruptcy Case"). The Bankruptcy Case was transferred to the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas (the "Bankruptcy Court") on December 4, 2019;

WHEREAS, Phase II of the trial of the State Court Action was automatically stayed as to HCMLP by HCMLP's bankruptcy filing;

WHEREAS, on May 11, 2020, UBS, Multi-Strat, Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, Ltd., and Highland Credit Opportunities CDO Asset Holdings, L.P. (collectively, the "May Settlement Parties"), entered into a Settlement Agreement (the "May Settlement") pursuant to which the May Settlement Parties agreed to the allocation of the proceeds of certain sales of assets held by Multi-Strat, including escrowing a portion of such funds, and restrictions on Multi-Strat's actions;

WHEREAS, on June 26, 2020, UBS timely filed two substantively identical claims in the Bankruptcy Case: (i) Claim No. 190 filed by UBS Securities LLC; and (ii) Claim No. 191 filed by UBS AG London Branch (hereinafter collectively referred to as the "UBS Claim"). The UBS Claim asserts a general unsecured claim against HCMLP for $1,039,957,799.40;

WHEREAS, on August 3, 2020, the Bankruptcy Court entered an Order Directing Mediation [Docket No. 912] pursuant to which HCMLP, UBS, and several other parties were directed to mediate their Bankruptcy Case disputes before two experienced third-party mediators, Retired Judge Allan Gropper and Sylvia Mayer (together, the "Mediators"). HCMLP and UBS formally met with the Mediators together and separately on numerous occasions, including on August 27, September 2, 3, and 4, and December 17, 2020, and had numerous other informal discussions outside of the presence of the Mediators, in an attempt to resolve the UBS Claim;

WHEREAS, on August 7, 2020, HCMLP filed an objection to the UBS Claim [Docket No. 928]. Also on August 7, 2020, the Redeemer Committee of the Highland Crusader Fund, and Crusader, Highland Crusader Fund, L.P., Highland Crusader Fund, Ltd., and Highland Crusader Fund II, Ltd. (collectively, the "Redeemer Committee"), objected to the UBS Claim [Docket No. 933]. On September 25, 2020, UBS filed its response to these objections [Docket No. 1105];

WHEREAS, on October 16, 2020, HCMLP and the Redeemer Committee each moved for partial summary judgment on the UBS Claim [Docket Nos. 1180 and 1183, respectively], and on November 6, 2020, UBS opposed these motions [Docket No. 1337];

WHEREAS, by Order dated December 9, 2020, the Bankruptcy Court granted, as set forth therein, the motions for partial summary judgment filed by HCMLP and the Redeemer Committee and denied UBS's request for leave to file an amended proof of claim [Docket No. 1526];

WHEREAS, on November 6, 2020, UBS filed UBS's Motion for Temporary Allowance of Claims for Voting Purposes Pursuant to Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 3018 [Docket No. 1338] (the "3018 Motion"), and on November 16, 2020, HCMLP and the Redeemer Committee each opposed the 3018 Motion [Docket Nos. 1404 and 1409, respectively];

WHEREAS, by Order dated December 8, 2020, the Bankruptcy Court granted the 3018 Motion and allowed the UBS Claim, on a temporary basis and for voting purposes only, in the amount of $94,761,076 [Docket No. 1518];

WHEREAS, on January 22, 2021, the Debtor filed the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization for Highland Capital Management, L.P. (As Modified) [Docket No. 1808] (as amended, and as may be further amended, supplemented, or otherwise modified, the "Plan");

WHEREAS, on March 29, 2021, the Debtor caused CDO Fund to make a claim on the Insurance Policy to collect the Insurance Proceeds pursuant to the Phase I Judgment;

WHEREAS, on March 29, 2021, UBS filed an adversary proceeding seeking injunctive relief and a motion for a temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction to, among other things, enjoin the Debtor from allowing Multi-Strat to distribute the Sentinel Redemption to Sentinel or any transferee of Sentinel (the "Multi-Strat Proceeding"), which relief the Debtor, in its capacity as Multi-Strat's investment manager and general partner, does not oppose;

WHEREAS, the Parties wish to enter into this Agreement to settle all claims and disputes between and among them, to the extent and on the terms and conditions set forth herein, and to exchange the mutual releases set forth herein, without any admission of fault, liability, or wrongdoing on the part of any Party; and

WHEREAS, this Agreement will be presented to the Bankruptcy Court for approval pursuant to Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 9019 ("Rule 9019") and section 363 of the Bankruptcy Code;

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the above recitals, the covenants, conditions, and promises made herein, and other good and valuable consideration, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, the Parties agree as follows:

A G R E E M E N T

1. Settlement of Claims. In full and complete satisfaction of the UBS Released Claims (as defined below):

(a) The UBS Claim will be allowed as (i) a single, general unsecured claim in the amount of $65,000,000 against HCMLP, which shall be treated as a Class 8 General Unsecured Claim under the Plan;<sup>1</sup> and (ii) a single, subordinated unsecured claim in the amount of $60,000,000 against HCMLP, which shall be treated as a Class 9 Subordinated General Unsecured Claim under the Plan.

(b) Multi-Strat will pay UBS the sum of $18,500,000 (the “Multi-Strat Payment”) as follows: (i) within two (2) business days after the Order Date, the May Settlement Parties will submit a Joint Release Instruction (as defined in the May Settlement) for the release of the amounts held in the Escrow Account (as defined in the May Settlement) to be paid to UBS in partial satisfaction of the Multi-Strat Payment on the date that is ten (10) business days following the Order Date; and (ii) Multi-Strat will pay UBS the remainder of the Multi-Strat Payment in immediately available funds on the date that is ten (10) business days following the Order Date, provided that, for the avoidance of doubt, the amounts held in the Escrow Account will not be paid to UBS until and unless the remainder of the Multi-Strat Payment is made.

(c) Subject to applicable law, HCMLP will use reasonable efforts to (i) cause CDO Fund to pay the Insurance Proceeds in full to UBS as soon as practicable, but no later than within 5 business days of CDO Fund actually receiving the Insurance Proceeds from or on behalf of Sentinel; (ii) if Sentinel refuses to pay the Insurance Proceeds, take legal action reasonably designed to recover the Insurance Proceeds or the MSCF Interests or to return the Transferred Assets to the Funds to satisfy the Phase I Judgment and in addition shall provide reasonable assistance to UBS in connection with any legal action UBS takes to recover the Insurance Proceeds or to return the Transferred Assets to the Funds to satisfy the Phase I Judgment or obtain rights to the MSCF interests, including but not limited to the redemption payments in connection with the MSCF Interests; (iii) cooperate with UBS and participate (as applicable) in the investigation or prosecution of claims or requests for injunctive relief against the Funds, Multi-Strat, Sentinel, James Dondero, Isaac Leventon, Scott Ellington, Andrew Dean, Christopher Walter, Jean Paul Sevilla, Matthew DiOrio, Katie Irving, and/or any other current or former employee or director of the Funds or Sentinel and/or any other former employee or former director of any of the HCMLP Parties that is believed to be involved with the Purchase Agreement, Insurance Policy, Transferred Assets, the transfer of the MSCF Interests, or any potentially fraudulent transfer of assets from the Funds to Sentinel, excluding the individuals listed on the schedule provided to UBS on March 25, 2021 (the “HCMLP Excluded Employees”); (iv) as soon as reasonably practicable, provide UBS with all business and trustee contacts at the Funds, HFP, Greenbriar CLO Ltd., Greenbriar CLO Corp., Aberdeen Loan Funding Ltd, Eastland CLO Ltd, Grayson CLO Ltd, Valhalla CLO Ltd, and Governance Re Ltd, if any, that are actually known by the Debtor after reasonable inquiry; (v) as soon as reasonably practicable, provide UBS with a copy of the governing documents, prospectuses, and indenture agreements for the Funds, HFP, Greenbriar CLO Ltd., Greenbriar CLO Corp., Aberdeen Loan Funding Ltd, Eastland CLO Ltd, Grayson CLO Ltd, Valhalla CLO Ltd, and Governance Re Ltd, as applicable, that are in the Debtor’s actual possession, custody, or control, (vi) as soon as reasonably practicable, provide, to the extent possible, any CUSIP numbers of the securities of the Funds, HFP, Greenbriar CLO Ltd., Greenbriar CLO Corp., Aberdeen Loan Funding Ltd, Eastland CLO Ltd, Grayson CLO Ltd, Valhalla CLO Ltd, and Governance Re Ltd., as applicable, including information regarding the location and amount of any cash related to those entities’ holdings, in each case only to the extent actually known by the Debtor after reasonable inquiry; (vii) cooperate with UBS to assign or convey any such assets described in Section 1(c)(vi) or any other assets owned or controlled by the Funds and/or HFP, including for avoidance of doubt any additional assets currently unknown to the Debtor that the Debtor discovers in the future after the Agreement Effective Date; (viii) respond as promptly as reasonably possible to requests by UBS for access to relevant documents and approve as promptly as reasonably possible requests for access to relevant documents from third parties as needed with respect to the Transferred Assets, the Purchase Agreement, the Insurance Policy, the MSCF Interests and any other assets currently or formerly held by the Funds or HFP, including without limitation the requests listed in Appendix A (provided, however, that the provision of any such documents or access will be subject to the common interest privilege and will not constitute a waiver of any attorney-client or other privilege in favor of HCMLP) that are in the Debtor's actual possession, custody, or control; (ix) preserve all documents in HCMLP's possession, custody, or control regarding or relating to the Purchase Agreement, the Insurance Policy, the MSCF Interests, or any transfer of assets from the Funds to Sentinel, including but not limited to the documents requested in Appendix A, from 2016 to present, and issue a litigation hold to all individuals deemed reasonably necessary regarding the same; and (x) otherwise use reasonable efforts to assist UBS to collect its Phase I Judgment against the Funds and HFP and assets the Funds and/or HFP may own, or have a claim to under applicable law ahead of all other creditors of the Funds and HFP; provided, however, that, from and after the date hereof, HCMLP shall not be required to incur any out-of-pocket fees or expenses, including, but not limited to, those fees and expenses for outside consultants and professionals (the "Reimbursable Expenses"), in connection with any provision of this Section 1(c) in excess of $3,000,000 (the "Expense Cap"), and provided further that, for every dollar UBS recovers from the Funds (other than the assets related to Greenbriar CLO Ltd. or Greenbriar CLO Corp.), Sentinel, Multi-Strat (other than the amounts set forth in Section 1(b) hereof), or any other person or entity described in Section 1(c)(iii) in connection with any claims UBS has that arise out of or relate to the Phase I Judgment, the Purchase Agreement, the Insurance Policy, the Transferred Assets, the MSCF Interests, or the Insurance Proceeds (the "UBS Recovery"), UBS will reimburse HCMLP ten percent of the UBS Recovery for the Reimbursable Expenses incurred by HCMLP, subject to: (1) the occurrence of the Agreement Effective Date and (2) UBS's receipt and review of invoices and time records (which may be redacted as reasonably necessary) for outside consultants and professionals in connection with such efforts described in this Section 1(c), up to but not exceeding the Expense Cap after any disputes regarding the Reimbursable Expenses have been resolved pursuant to procedures to be agreed upon, or absent an agreement, in a manner directed by the Bankruptcy Court; and provided further that in any proceeding over the reasonableness of the Reimbursable Expenses, the losing party shall be obligated to pay the reasonable fees and expenses of the prevailing party; and provided further that any litigation in which HCMLP is a co-plaintiff with UBS or a plaintiff pursuing claims on behalf of or for UBS's benefit pursuant to this Section 1(c) shall be conducted in consultation with UBS, including but not limited to the selection of necessary outside consultants and professionals to assist in such litigation; and provided further that UBS shall have the right to approve HCMLP's selection of outside consultants and professionals to assist in any litigation in which HCMLP is a co-plaintiff with UBS or a plaintiff pursuing claims on behalf of or for UBS's benefit pursuant to this Section 1(c).

(d) Redeemer Appeal.

(i) On the Agreement Effective Date, provided that neither the Redeemer Committee nor any entities acting on its behalf or with any assistance from or coordination with the Redeemer Committee have objected to this Agreement or the 9019 Motion (as defined below), UBS shall withdraw with prejudice its appeal of the Order Approving Debtor's Settlement with (A) the Redeemer Committee of the Highland Crusader Fund (Claim No. 72) and (B) the Highland Crusader Funds (Claim No. 81), and Authorizing Actions Consistent Therewith [Docket No. 1273] (the "Redeemer Appeal"); and

(ii) The Parties have stipulated to extend the deadline for the filing of any briefs in the Redeemer Appeal to June 30, 2021 and will agree to such further extensions as necessary to facilitate this Settlement Agreement.

(e) As of the Agreement Effective Date, the restrictions and obligations set forth in the May Settlement, other than those in Section 7 thereof, shall be extinguished in their entirety and be of no further force or effect.

(f) On the Agreement Effective Date, the Debtor shall instruct the claims agent in the Bankruptcy Case to adjust the claims register in accordance with this Agreement.

(g) On the Agreement Effective Date, any claim the Debtor may have against Sentinel or any other party, and any recovery related thereto, with respect to the MSCF Interests shall be automatically transferred to UBS, without any further action required by the Debtor. For the avoidance of doubt, the Debtor shall retain any and all other claims it may have against Sentinel or any other party, and the recovery related thereto, unrelated to the MSCF Interests.

2. Definitions.

(a) “Agreement Effective Date” shall mean the date the full amount of the Multi-Strat Payment defined in Section 1(b) above, including without limitation the amounts held in the Escrow Account (as defined in the May Settlement), is actually paid to UBS.

(b) “HCMLP Parties” shall mean (a) HCMLP, in its individual capacity; (b) HCMLP, as manager of Multi-Strat; and (c) Strand.

(c) “Order Date” shall mean the date of an order entered by the Bankruptcy Court approving this Agreement pursuant to a motion filed under Rule 9019 and section 363 of the Bankruptcy Code.

(d) “UBS Parties” shall mean UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG London Branch.

3. Releases.

(a) UBS Releases. Upon the occurrence of the Agreement Effective Date, and to the maximum extent permitted by law, each of the UBS Parties hereby forever, finally, fully, unconditionally, irrevocably, and completely releases, relieves, acquits, remises, exonerates, forever discharges, and covenants never to sue (A) the HCMLP Parties and each of their current and former advisors, attorneys, trustees, directors, officers, managers, members, partners, employees, beneficiaries, shareholders, agents, participants, subsidiaries, parents, affiliates, successors, designees, and assigns (each in their capacities as such), except as expressly set forth below, and (B) the MSCF Parties and each of their current and former advisors, attorneys, trustees, directors, officers, managers, members, partners, employees, beneficiaries, shareholders, agents, participants, subsidiaries, parents, affiliates, successors, designees, and assigns (each in their capacities as such), except as expressly set forth below, for and from any and all claims, debts, liabilities, demands, obligations, promises, acts, agreements, liens, losses, costs and expenses (including, without limitation, attorneys’ fees and related costs), damages, injuries, suits, actions, and causes of action of whatever kind or nature, whether known or unknown, suspected or unsuspected, matured or unmatured, liquidated or unliquidated, contingent or fixed, at law or in equity, or statutory or otherwise, including, without limitation, any claims, defenses, and affirmative defenses, whether known or unknown, including, without limitation, those that have been or could have been alleged or asserted in the State Court Action or the Bankruptcy Case (collectively, the “UBS Released Claims”), provided, however, that notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, such releases shall not apply to (1) the obligations of the HCMLP Parties and MSCF Parties under this Agreement, including without limitation the allowance of or distributions on account of the UBS Claim or the settlement terms described in Sections 1(a)-(g) above; (2) the Funds or HFP, including for any liability with respect to the prosecution, enforcement, collection, or defense of the Phase I Judgment, Purchase Agreement, and/or Insurance Policy, or such prosecution, enforcement, collection, or defense of the Phase I Judgment, Purchase Agreement, and/or Insurance Policy by UBS; (3) James Dondero or Mark Okada, or any entities, including without limitation Hunter Mountain Investment Trust, Dugaboy Investment Trust, and NexBank, SSB, owned or controlled by either of them, other than the HCMLP Parties and MSCF Parties (but for the avoidance of doubt, such releases of the HCMLP Parties and MSCF Parties shall be solely with respect to such entities and shall not extend in any way to James Dondero or Mark Okada in their individual capacity or in any other capacity, including but not limited to as an investor, officer, trustee, or director in the HCMLP Parties or MSCF Parties); (4) Sentinel or its subsidiaries, parents, affiliates, successors, designees, assigns, employees, or directors, including James Dondero, Isaac Leventon, Scott Ellington, Andrew Dean, Christopher Walter, Jean Paul Sevilla, Matthew DiOrio, Katie Irving, and/or any other current or former employee or director of the Funds or Sentinel and/or any other former employee or former director of any of the HCMLP Parties that is believed to be involved with the Purchase Agreement, Insurance Policy, MSCF Interests, or Transferred Assets, including for any liability with respect to the prosecution, enforcement, collection, or defense of the Phase I Judgment, Purchase Agreement, the MSCF Interests, any potentially fraudulent transfer of assets from the Funds to Sentinel and/or Insurance Policy, excluding the HCMLP Excluded Employees; (5) the economic rights or interests of UBS in its capacity as an investor, directly or indirectly (including in its capacity as an investment manager and/or investment advisor), in any HCMLP-affiliated entity, including without limitation in the Redeemer Committee and Credit Strat, and/or in such entities’ past, present or future subsidiaries and feeders funds (the “UBS Unrelated Investments”); and (6) any actions taken by UBS against any person or entity, including any HCMLP Party or MSCF Party, to enjoin a distribution on the Sentinel Redemption or the transfer of any assets currently held by or within the control of CDO Fund to Sentinel or a subsequent transferee or to seek to compel any action that only such person or entity has standing to pursue or authorize in order to permit UBS to recover the Insurance Proceeds, Transferred Assets, the Phase I Judgment or any recovery against HFP; provided, however, that, from and after the date hereof, any out-of-pocket fees or expenses incurred by HCMLP in connection with this Section 3(a)(6) will be considered Reimbursable Expenses and shall be subject to, and applied against, the Expense Cap as if they were incurred by HCMLP pursuant to Section 1(c) subject to the occurrence of the Agreement Effective Date and after any disputes regarding such Reimbursable Expenses have been resolved in the manner described in Section 1(c).

(b) HCMLP Release. Upon the occurrence of the Agreement Effective Date, and to the maximum extent permitted by law, each of the HCMLP Parties hereby forever, finally, fully, unconditionally, irrevocably, and completely releases, relieves, acquits, remises, exonerates, forever discharges, and covenants never to sue any of the UBS Parties and each of their current and former advisors, attorneys, trustees, directors, officers, managers, members, partners, employees, beneficiaries, shareholders, agents, participants, subsidiaries, parents, affiliates, successors, designees, and assigns (each in their capacities as such), for and from any and all claims, debts, liabilities, demands, obligations, promises, acts, agreements, liens, losses, costs and expenses (including, without limitation, attorneys' fees and related costs), damages, injuries, suits, actions, and causes of action of whatever kind or nature, whether known or unknown, suspected or unsuspected, matured or unmatured, liquidated or unliquidated, contingent or fixed, at law or in equity, or statutory or otherwise, including, without limitation, any claims, defenses, and affirmative defenses, whether known or unknown, including, without limitation, those that have been or could have been alleged or asserted in the State Court Action or the Bankruptcy Case (collectively, the "HCMLP Released Claims"), provided, however, that notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, such releases shall not apply to the obligations of the UBS Parties under this Agreement or Section 7 of the May Settlement; and (b) the obligations of the UBS Parties in connection with the UBS Unrelated Investments.

(c) Multi-Strat Release. Upon the occurrence of the Agreement Effective Date, and to the maximum extent permitted by law, each of the MSCF Parties hereby forever, finally, fully, unconditionally, irrevocably, and completely releases, relieves, acquits, remises, exonerates, forever discharges, and covenants never to sue any of the UBS Parties and each of their current and former advisors, attorneys, trustees, directors, officers, managers, members, partners, employees, beneficiaries, shareholders, agents, participants, subsidiaries, parents, affiliates, successors, designees, and assigns (each in their capacities as such), for and from any and all claims, debts, liabilities, demands, obligations, promises, acts, agreements, liens, losses, costs and expenses (including, without limitation, attorneys' fees and related costs), damages, injuries, suits, actions, and causes of action of whatever kind or nature, whether known or unknown, suspected or unsuspected, matured or unmatured, liquidated or unliquidated, contingent or fixed, at law or in equity, or statutory or otherwise, including, without limitation, any claims, defenses, and affirmative defenses, whether known or unknown, including, without limitation, those that have been or could have been alleged or asserted in the State Court Action or the Bankruptcy Case (collectively, the "Multi-Strat Released Claims"), provided, however, that notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, such releases shall not apply to the obligations of the UBS Parties under this Agreement or Section 7 of the May Settlement.

4. No Third Party Beneficiaries. Except for the parties released by this Agreement, no other person or entity shall be deemed a third-party beneficiary of this Agreement.

5. UBS Covenant Not to Sue. Subject to the occurrence of the Agreement Effective date, if UBS ever controls any HCMLP-affiliated defendant in the State Court Action by virtue of the prosecution, enforcement, or collection of the Phase I Judgment (collectively, the "Controlled State Court Defendants"), UBS covenants on behalf of itself and the Controlled State Court Defendants, if any, that neither UBS nor the Controlled State Court Defendants will assert or pursue any claims that any Controlled State Court Defendant has or may have against any of the HCMLP Parties; provided, however, that nothing shall prohibit UBS or a Controlled State Court Defendant from taking any of the actions set forth in Section 3(a)(1)-(6); provided further, however, if and to the extent UBS receives any distribution from any Controlled State Court Defendant that is derived from a claim by a Controlled State Court Defendant against the Debtor, subject to the exceptions set forth in Section 3(a), which distribution is directly attributable to any property the Controlled State Court Defendant receives from the Debtor and separate and distinct from property owned or controlled by CDO Fund, SOHC, or Multi-Strat, then such recovery shall be credited against all amounts due from the Debtor's estate on account of the UBS Claim allowed pursuant to Section 1(a) of this Agreement, or if such claim has been paid in full, shall be promptly turned over to the Debtor or its successors or assigns.

6. Agreement Subject to Bankruptcy Court Approval.

(a) The force and effect of this Agreement and the Parties' obligations hereunder are conditioned in all respects on the approval of this Agreement and the releases herein by the Bankruptcy Court. The Parties agree to use reasonable efforts to have this Agreement expeditiously approved by the Bankruptcy Court by cooperating in the preparation and prosecution of a mutually agreeable motion and proposed order (the "9019 Motion") to be filed by the Debtor no later than five business days after execution of this Agreement by all Parties unless an extension is agreed to by both parties.

7. Representations and Warranties.

(a) Each UBS Party represents and warrants that (i) it has full authority to enter into this Agreement and to release the UBS Released Claims and has not sold, transferred, or assigned any UBS Released Claim to any other person or entity, and (ii) no person or entity other than such UBS Party has been, is, or will be authorized to bring, pursue, or enforce any UBS Released Claim on behalf of, for the benefit of, or in the name of (whether directly or derivatively) such UBS Party.

(b) Each HCMLP Party represents and warrants that (i) it has full authority to enter into this Agreement and to release the HCMLP Released Claims and has not sold, transferred, or assigned any HCMLP Released Claim to any other person or entity, and (ii) no person or entity other than such HCMLP Party has been, is, or will be authorized to bring, pursue, or enforce any HCMLP Released Claim on behalf of, for the benefit of, or in the name of (whether directly or derivatively) such HCMLP Party.

(c) Each MSCF Party represents and warrants that (i) it has full authority to enter into this Agreement and to release the Multi-Strat Released Claims and has not sold, transferred, or assigned any Multi-Strat Released Claim to any other person or entity, and (ii) no person or entity other than such MSCF Party has been, is, or will be authorized to bring, pursue, or enforce any Multi-Strat Released Claim on behalf of, for the benefit of, or in the name of (whether directly or derivatively) such MSCF Party.

8. No Admission of Liability. The Parties acknowledge that there is a bona fide dispute with respect to the UBS Claim. Nothing in this Agreement shall be construed, expressly or by implication, as an admission of liability, fault, or wrongdoing by HCMLP, the MSCF Parties, Strand, UBS, or any other person, and the execution of this Agreement does not constitute an admission of liability, fault, or wrongdoing on the part of HCMLP, the MSCF Parties, Strand, UBS, or any other person.

9. Successors-in-Interest. This Agreement shall be binding upon and shall inure to the benefit of each of the Parties and their representatives, successors, and assigns.

10. Notice. Each notice and other communication hereunder shall be in writing and will, unless otherwise subsequently directed in writing, be delivered by email and overnight delivery, as set forth below, and will be deemed to have been given on the date following such mailing.

11. Advice of Counsel. Each of the Parties represents that such Party has: (a) been adequately represented by independent legal counsel of its own choice, throughout all of the negotiations that preceded the execution of this Agreement; (b) executed this Agreement upon the advice of such counsel; (c) read this Agreement, and understands and assents to all the terms and conditions contained herein without any reservations; and (d) had the opportunity to have this Agreement and all the terms and conditions contained herein explained by independent counsel, who has answered any and all questions asked of such counsel, or which could have been asked of such counsel, including, but not limited to, with regard to the meaning and effect of any of the provisions of this Agreement.

12. Entire Agreement. This Agreement contains the entire agreement and understanding concerning the subject matter of this Agreement, and supersedes and replaces all prior negotiations and agreements, written or oral and executed or unexecuted, concerning such subject matter. Each of the Parties acknowledges that no other Party, nor any agent of or attorney for any such Party, has made any promise, representation, or warranty, express or implied, written or oral, not otherwise contained in this Agreement to induce any Party to execute this Agreement. The Parties further acknowledge that they are not executing this Agreement in reliance on any promise, representation, or warranty not contained in this Agreement, and that any such reliance would be unreasonable. This Agreement will not be waived or modified except by an agreement in writing signed by each Party or duly authorized representative of each Party.

13. No Party Deemed Drafter. The Parties acknowledge that the terms of this Agreement are contractual and are the result of arm's-length negotiations between the Parties and their chosen counsel. Each Party and its counsel cooperated in the drafting and preparation of this Agreement. In any construction to be made of this Agreement, the Agreement will not be construed against any Party.

14. Future Cooperation. The Parties agree to cooperate and execute such further documentation as is reasonably necessary to effectuate the intent of this Agreement.

15. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in counterparts with the same force and effect as if executed in one complete document. Each Party's signature hereto will signify acceptance of, and agreement to, the terms and provisions contained in this Agreement.

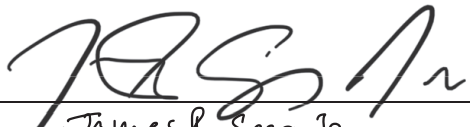

Photographic, electronic, and facsimile copies of signed counterparts may be used in lieu of the originals of this Agreement for any purpose.

16. Governing Law; Venue; Attorneys' Fees and Costs. The Parties agree that this Agreement will be governed by and will be construed according to the laws of the State of New York without regard to conflict-of-law principles. Each of the Parties hereby submits to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Bankruptcy Court during the pendency of the Bankruptcy Case and thereafter to the exclusive jurisdiction of the state and federal courts located in the Borough of Manhattan, New York, with respect to any disputes arising from or out of this Agreement. In any action to enforce this Agreement, the prevailing party shall be entitled to recover its reasonable and necessary attorneys' fees and costs (including experts).

Debtor.

Chapter 11

Case No. 19-34054-sgj11 (SGJ)

ADDENDUM TO PROOF OF CLAIM FILED BY UBS AG, LONDON BRANCH

1. UBS Securities LLC hereby submits this addendum to its proof of claim (together, the “Proof of Claim”) against Highland Capital Management, L.P. (the “Debtor”) in the above-captioned chapter 11 case (the “Chapter 11 Case”).

2. UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG, London Branch (together, the “Claimant” or “UBS”) each have claims against the Debtor and each is filing a proof of claim in this Chapter 11 Case. Because their claims arise from the same set of factual events, including the same failed transaction, misconduct involving the Debtor and its affiliates, and subsequent litigation, the UBS claims overlap and their proof of claim forms and addendums are substantially the same.

3. This addendum is attached to, incorporated into, and constitutes an integral part of Claimant's Proof of Claim against the Debtor. Claimant files this Proof of Claim under compulsion of the Order (I) Establishing Bar Dates for Filing Claims and (II) Approving the Form and Manner of Notice Thereof [Docket No. 488], as extended by the Joint Stipulation and Order Extending Bar Date [Docket No. 547] and modified by the Order Denying UBS's Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay to Proceed with State Court Action [Docket No. 765], solely for the purpose of asserting Claimant's claims against the Debtor, as more particularly described and subject to any limitations set forth below.

Factual Background

A. The Knox Transaction

2. Claimant's claims arise out of a failed transaction dating back thirteen years ago and the state court action (the "State Court Action") that followed between Claimant, the Debtor, Highland CDO Opportunity Master Fund, L.P. ("CDO Fund") and Highland Special Opportunities Holding Company ("SOHC") (together with CDO Fund, the "Fund Counterparties," and the Fund Parties and the Debtor collectively, "Highland"), among other parties.<sup>2</sup>

3. In early 2007, Claimant and Highland agreed to pursue a complex form of securitization transaction known as a "CLO Squared" (the "Knox Transaction"). (Ex. B, Decision at 2.) The purpose of the Knox Transaction was to acquire and securitize a series of collateralized loan obligation ("CLO") securities and credit default swap ("CDS") assets (the "Knox Assets"). To that end, the Debtor agreed to be the "Servicer" of the Knox Transaction, and as such was responsible for identifying the specific CLO and CDS assets to be securitized. Claimant agreed to finance the acquisition of the CLO and CDS assets identified by Highland. Claimant would then hold, or "warehouse," the assets until the securitization was completed (the "Knox Warehouse"). Under this arrangement, Claimant financed the acquisition of $818 million in Knox Assets. (Id.)

<sup>2</sup> The procedural history of the State Court Action is incorporated by reference, but is voluminous. The operative Second Amended Complaint and Phase I Decision and Order are attached as Exhibit A and Exhibit B, respectively. Additional pleadings and orders can be found on the State Court docket for Index No. 650097/2009 or by contacting Claimant's counsel. Claimant reserves the right to file a copy of additional pleadings or orders with this Court.

4. The parties' first attempt at the Knox Transaction was not completed successfully and the relevant agreements expired in August 2007 without the contemplated securitization having occurred. (Id. at 3.) Rather than end their relationship, however, Highland and Claimant continued to consider the possibility of pursuing the contemplated securitization in 2008 under restructured versions of the prior agreements. Highland and Claimant always understood that—if the securitization were not successful—the Fund Counterparties would be obligated to pay Claimant for 100% of the losses on any CLO or CDS assets that been acquired and warehoused for the securitization. In order to convince Claimant to agree to enter restructured versions of those agreements and to finance the acquisition of the CLO and CDS assets, Highland assured Claimant that the Fund Counterparties had sufficient assets to cover any losses. It did so by providing Claimant with false, incomplete, and otherwise misleading information concerning the Fund Counterparties' finances and assets. (Ex. A, Compl. ¶¶ 47-61.)

5. In addition, Claimant specifically conditioned its agreement to enter the restructured agreements on the Fund Counterparties' ability to post an additional $70 million in cash and securities as collateral (the “Initial Restructuring Collateral”), in which Claimant would hold a security interest. (Id. ¶¶ 56-59; Ex. B, Decision at 3.) Highland assembled $70 million in such Initial Restructuring Collateral. But what Highland did not tell Claimant—and what is now clear was omitted on purpose—was that the Fund Counterparties did not own all of the Initial Restructuring Collateral they were expected to post. Instead, to meet this obligation, the Debtor exercised its control over other Highland affiliates, transferring and redirecting assets from such other entities that it controlled to assemble the Initial Restructuring Collateral. (Ex. A, Compl. ¶¶ 56-59.)

6. Similarly, while negotiating the restructured transaction, Highland provided Claimant with financial reports and statements that contained materially false and misleading information and omissions concerning the financial condition of the Fund Counterparties. (Id. ¶¶ 47-52.) The Debtor itself had prepared these financial statements and knew they contained material misstatements. (Id. ¶¶ 48-50, 54.) Among other things, Highland misrepresented the amount of cash held by CDO Fund. (Id. ¶ 52.) Highland also failed to disclose that many of the assets on the Fund Counterparties' financial statements already had been encumbered. (Id. ¶¶ 51, 53.) These misrepresentations not only evince a specific intent by Highland to induce Claimant into entering the restructured agreements, but a longstanding willingness to prevent Claimant from ever recovering the amounts owed under the parties' proposed agreements in the event the Knox Assets suffered any losses. In addition, these events show the Debtor's singular control over—and ability to move—assets from one Highland affiliate to another at will.

7. Based on Highland's material misstatements and omissions, Claimant agreed to pursue the restructured transaction and once more attempt the securitization, and the parties executed three new written agreements: an Engagement Letter, a Cash Warehouse Agreement, and a Synthetic Warehouse Agreement (collectively, the "Warehouse Agreements"). (See Ex. B, Decision at 3.) The Engagement Letter was executed by Claimant and the Debtor; the Fund Counterparties were not parties to the Engagement Letter. (Ex. A, Compl. ¶ 62.) The Cash Warehouse and Synthetic Warehouse Agreements were executed by Claimant and the Debtor, along with the Fund Counterparties. (Id. ¶¶ 64-65.)

8. As described above, Claimant agreed to finance the acquisition of the CLO and CDS assets that the parties planned to securitize. In so doing, the key risk Claimant faced was the possibility that the Knox Assets would lose value while securitization was pending. To address this risk, Claimant and the Debtor agreed in the Engagement Letter that the Fund Counterparties would bear this risk. Notably, at the time, the Debtor was the Investment Manager to the Fund Counterparties under agreements that gave the Debtor total control over those entities. (Ex. A, Compl. ¶¶ 24, 26.)

9. The Warehouse Agreements reiterated that the Fund Counterparties (as controlled by the Debtor) would bear the risk, specifying that if the Knox Assets lost value while securitization was pending, the Fund Counterparties “will in aggregate bear 100% of the risk” for the Knox Assets—with CDO Fund bearing 51% of any losses and SOHC bearing the remaining 49%.

10. To further protect Claimant in the event that the Knox Assets lost value, the Warehouse Agreements provided for recurring measurements of mark-to-market losses on all assets in the Knox Warehouse and required the Fund Counterparties to post collateral in the event the Knox Assets lost a set amount of value. Specifically, the parties agreed that the Fund Counterparties would post an additional $10 million in collateral for each $100 million in losses to the overall value of the Knox Assets. (Ex. B, Decision at 4.)

11. In September and October 2008, amid the global economic recession, the value of the Knox Assets dropped by $100 million, twice. Thus, Claimant twice exercised its contractual right to demand additional collateral. And twice Highland posted the required collateral. (Id.) Although the Warehouse Agreements specified that it was the Fund Counterparties who would post collateral, the Debtor moved assets around from other entities it controlled to make the first two collateral calls (without disclosing this practice to Claimant). (Ex. A, Compl. ¶ 79.) On or about November 7, 2008, Claimant issued a third margin call, because the value of the Knox Assets suffered additional losses of $200 million (bringing the aggregate losses to over $400 million).

(Ex. B, Decision at 4.) This time, Highland refused to provide the additional collateral required under the Warehouse Agreements.

12. Highland's default on Claimant's third margin call triggered a termination event under the Warehouse Agreements. (Id.) On December 5, 2008, Claimant gave Highland formal notice of default and demanded the Fund Counterparties pay Claimant for 100% of the losses incurred on the Knox Assets—which had, by then, grown to over $520 million.

13. There is no question that the Debtor knew the Fund Counterparties were liable for the losses under the Warehouse Agreements. Indeed, the Highland officer who executed the Warehouse Agreements admitted under oath that, “as of the end of the year 2008,” Highland knew that the Fund Counterparties owed Claimant “hundreds of millions of dollars in connection with the Knox Warehouse Agreements.” (Travers Dep. at 261:8-20.) But rather than paying Claimant what it was owed, the Debtor, with Mr. Dondero at the helm, “devised a strategy to delay the resolution of that obligation [to pay Claimant] for as long as possible.” (Id.) To that end, Highland devised and subsequently deployed a multifaceted strategy—one that would last for many years thereafter—to intentionally frustrate and prevent Claimant from recovering any of the amounts that both the Debtor and the Fund Counterparties knew were rightfully owed to Claimant under the Warehouse Agreements.

14. First, the Debtor directed the Fund Counterparties to withhold any payment to Claimant—a position that the Fund Counterparties maintained (again, under the specific direction of the Debtor) for more than a decade. (See id.) The Debtor did so not only with the specific knowledge that the Fund Counterparties owed hundreds of millions of dollars to Claimant for the losses on the Knox Assets, but with the knowledge that Claimant would come seeking payment for such losses and, in particular, to look toward any and all collateral owned by the Fund Counterparties as one source of payment. As one of Highland's officers stated in an internal email to Mr. Dondero in an internal email dated January 16, 2009: "[UBS] is going to be calling [] today asking for all additional collateral that cdo and sohc have left to cover the obligation left by the knox transaction." But rather than turning over the collateral in question to Claimant or, at the very least, securing such assets so that they could be used to pay Claimant, the Debtor directed the Fund Counterparties to withhold such assets and payments from Claimant: "[T]hey can see us in court for their additional collateral." True to that promise, even after Claimant filed suit and laid out the amounts due under the contracts, the Debtor forced the Fund Counterparties to launch an affirmative, multi-year campaign—one which would consume much of the cash and assets belonging to the Fund Counterparties themselves—to stave off any payment from the Fund Counterparties to force Claimant to try to recover such claims through litigation and, once in litigation, devising knowingly baseless defenses and arguments for the Fund Counterparties to assert in such litigation.

15. On top of directing the Fund Counterparties to withhold payment and force Claimant to litigate for amounts the Debtor already knew they rightfully owed to Claimant, the Debtor undertook a litany of other actions to ensure that, even if Claimant were successful in the litigation it had been forced to initiate against the Fund Counterparties, it would not be able to collect any judgment arising out of the litigation. Such actions included, but were not limited to, a series of fraudulent transfers out of, and away from, an alter ego of SOHC, Highland Financial Partners, L.P. ("HFP"). (Ex. A, Compl. ¶ 109.) These internal transfers of funds—all overseen by James Dondero, the Debtor's founder and president—were designed to prevent Claimant from ever collecting the millions of dollars it was owed under the Warehouse Agreements.

16. In addition to such fraudulent transfers, the Debtor also took steps after the lawsuit was filed to ensure that no additional value would be transferred to the Fund Counterparties—deliberately taking steps to keep both SOHC and CDO Fund undercapitalized. Not only did the Debtor prevent additional value from being transferred to the Fund Counterparties, it is clear that the Debtor also failed to ensure that the Fund Counterparties retained assets that could be used to pay any such judgment. Quite to the contrary, it is now clear that any and all assets of any value that once belonged to the Fund Counterparties have, in one way or another, been transferred away, drained, or otherwise wasted by the Fund Counterparties, the Debtor itself, or the Debtor’s affiliates—all at the Debtor’s direction. Indeed, in a recent filing before this Court, the Debtor recently disclosed that both of the Fund Counterparties are completely “insolvent.” (Docket No. 687 at 1.) This means that—separate and apart from the transfers of assets out of, and away from, HFP that occurred in 2009—the Debtor has directed, or otherwise permitted, the Fund Counterparties to engage in acts that have left these once marque investment funds with literally no assets that can be used to pay Claimant. All such actions and omissions by the Debtor were performed with either the specific intent to prevent or frustrate Claimant’s ability to recover the amounts owed under the Warehouse Agreements, or a wanton and reckless disregard of Claimant’s rights to those amounts. Such actions and omissions constitute breaches of the Debtor’s duty of good faith and fair dealing under the Warehouse Agreements.

B. The State Court Action and the Debtor’s Efforts to Avoid Paying Claimant

17. On February 24, 2009, Claimant filed a complaint in the Supreme Court of the State of New York (the “State Court”) against the Debtor and the Fund Counterparties. With knowledge of Claimant’s lawsuit, the Debtor exercised its control over the Fund Counterparties to ensure they would not meet their obligations and to impede Claimant’s ability to recover the amounts owed by those entities. (Id. ¶¶ 112, 114.) Rather than paying Claimant what it was owed, and as discussed above, the Debtor orchestrated an extensive multi-part strategy to delay resolution of Claimant's claims for as long as possible. As a result, the Debtor further interfered with Claimant's contractual rights, thereby breaching the covenants of good faith and fair dealing inherent in the Warehouse Agreements. (Id.)

18. By this time, the Fund Counterparties and SOHC's alter ego, HFP, had become insolvent, although they still owned significant assets. (Id. ¶ 108.) Nonetheless, the Debtor failed to act in good faith to cause HFP to satisfy the debts, as much as possible, then owed to Claimant. Instead, the Debtor caused HFP to make additional improper and fraudulent asset transfers, deliberately kept the Fund Counterparties undercapitalized, and allowed all assets of any value to be drained from the Fund Counterparties—acts which not only impaired Claimant's ability to recover anything from the Fund Counterparties, but precluded it altogether. (Id. ¶ 111.) In March 2009, conscious that Claimant had commenced an action against Highland a few weeks earlier, and in breach of their continuing duty of good faith and fair dealing, and with actual fraudulent intent, the Debtor and HFP caused asset transfers of millions of dollars of assets to the Debtor, Highland Credit Strategies Master Fund, L.P., Highland Crusader Offshore Partners, L.P., and Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, L.P. (now Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, L.P.) (collectively, the “Affiliated Transferee Defendants”), among others, thereby further reducing Highland's abilities to meet their obligations to Claimant. (Id. ¶¶ 111, 113.) The Debtor and its principals exercised domination over the Fund Counterparties to improperly transfer substantial assets from the Fund Counterparties and HFP for their own personal gain, i.e., solely and improperly to protect and enhance the value of the Debtor and its principals by wrongful and improper means. In the process, the Debtor and its principals made it impossible for the Fund Counterparties to pay Claimant the losses that they and the Debtor had agreed they would pay under the Warehouse Agreements. (Id. ¶¶ 112-114.)

19. As Claimant learned about Highland's conduct through discovery, Claimant amended its complaint to assert additional claims and name additional Highland entities, including HFP, the Affiliated Transferee Defendants, and Strand Advisors, Inc. As amended and stated in its Second Amended Complaint (attached hereto as Exhibit A) in the State Court Action, filed on May 11, 2011, Claimant's claims include breach of contract claims directly against the Fund Counterparties, as well as claims for fraudulent inducement, breach of the duty of good faith and fair dealing, fraudulent conveyance, tortious interference, and declaratory judgments for alter ego liability against HFP and general partner liability against Strand Advisors, Inc. The Debtor subsequently brought counterclaims against Claimant for breach of contract and unjust enrichment. (See Ex. B, Decision at 35-37.)

20. The procedural history of the State Court Action is complex. The Debtor and its affiliates and Claimant filed, and the State Court ruled on, four sets of motions to dismiss. The Debtor and its affiliates then filed two sets of summary judgment motions, which led to a series of complex rulings by the State Court in 2017. The parties filed various interlocutory appeals of the State Court's rulings on the motions to dismiss and for summary judgment. Those appeals were heard by the Appellate Division for the First Judicial Department in the County of New York, with the Appellate Division issuing five decisions over this suit's protracted history (some of which are still subject to further appellate rights).

21. Also included in the Appellate Division's decisions was an order arising from an appeal of the State Court's ruling on Claimant's motion to restrain Defendants Highland Credit

Strategies Master Fund, L.P. and Highland Crusader Partners, L.P. from disposing of property received through the fraudulent transfers orchestrated by the Debtor. Claimant showed it had a likelihood of success on the merits of its fraudulent transfer claims, and the Appellate Division enjoined both Highland entities from disposing of their assets. Ultimately, these injunctions resulted in partial settlements between Claimant and Highland Credit Strategies Master Fund, L.P. and Highland Crusader Partners, L.P.

22. By early 2018, more than nine years after Claimant first filed suit, the parties were finally ready to proceed to trial. Due to a jury waiver clause in the Warehouse Agreements, however, and after related pre-trial briefing, the State Court bifurcated Claimant's claims into two distinct phases for trial: Phase I, consisting of a bench trial on Claimant's claims against the Fund Counterparties for breach of the Cash Warehouse and Synthetic Warehouse Agreements, as well as the Debtor's counterclaims; and Phase II, consisting of a jury trial on Claimant's remaining claims against all remaining Highland entities, including the Debtor.<sup>3</sup> (Ex. B, Decision at 2 n.1, 38.)

23. The State Court presided over a thirteen-day bench trial for Phase I from July 9 through July 27, 2018. (Id. at 1.) On November 14, 2019, the State Court entered a Decision and Order on Phase I (attached hereto as Exhibit B), ruling in favor of Claimant on almost every issue presented in Phase I. In particular, the court found the Fund Counterparties liable to Claimant for breach of the Cash Warehouse and Synthetic Warehouse Agreements, found no liability on the part of Claimant for either of the Debtor's counterclaims, and rejected almost every one of the Debtor's offset arguments with the only remaining issue (affecting approximately $70,500,000) to be determined after Phase II. (Id. at 39.) An Entry of Judgment on Phase I was entered on February 10, 2020. Under that Phase I final judgment, Claimant is entitled to $1,039,957,799.44, consisting of $519,374,149.00 in damages and $520,583,650.44 in pre-judgment interest as of January 22, 2020, with additional interest of $128,065 having accrued daily until the Entry of Judgment.

24. The next step in the State Court Action is Phase II of the trial, where Claimant's remaining claims against not only the Debtor, but also against other Highland affiliates are to be tried to a jury, with the court deciding liability as to the breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing claim and the jury deciding all remaining claims. (Id. at 2 n.1, 38.) The claims to be tried in Phase II include claims for breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, fraudulent conveyances, and alter-ego liability. The specific amounts the two non-Debtor affiliates owe to Claimant for their breach of the Warehouse Agreements are now set forth and embodied in the final $1 billion judgment from Phase I. And Claimant has stated claims against the Debtor—which was also a party to the same contract and exercised complete control over the two liable affiliates—under which Claimant is entitled to damages that are at least as much as the Phase I judgment amount. Claimant will seek damages for the Debtor's various breaches of the implied covenant as well as its specific role in the fraudulent transfer scheme, and pre-judgment interest and attorneys' fees where available. In addition, Claimant will seek punitive damages against the Debtor for its role in orchestrating the extended efforts to prevent Claimant from collecting the amounts owed under the Warehouse Agreements.

25. Currently, Phase II of the State Court Action is stayed against the Debtor by the automatic stay imposed pursuant to section 362 of the Bankruptcy Code when the Debtor commenced this Chapter 11 Case.

26. Claimant hereby asserts a claim, pending litigation of Phase II, for damages arising from the Debtor's breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, its specific role in directing the fraudulent transfers of assets involving HFP, additional interest, further damages (including punitive damages), and attorneys' fees that may be awarded by any court at the conclusion of Phase II.

Reservation of Rights

27. Claimant does not waive or release, and expressly reserves, all rights and remedies at law or in equity that it has or may have against the Debtor, the Fund Counterparties, Strand Advisors, Inc., other non-Debtor Highland Defendants, or any other Debtor affiliate, subsidiary, person, or entity.

28. Claimant expressly reserves all of its rights to assert any additional claims, defenses, remedies, and causes of action, including without limitation, claims for fraudulent inducement, breach of contract, tortious interference with contractual relations, fraudulent conveyances, or alter ego recovery. Claimant further reserves all rights to amend, modify, supplement, reclassify, or otherwise revise its Proof of Claim at any time and in any respect, including, without limitation, as necessary or appropriate to amend, quantify or correct amounts, to provide additional detail regarding the claims set forth herein, to assert additional grounds for any of the claims, to seek reconsideration under section 502(j) of the Bankruptcy Code or otherwise of any disallowance of any amounts claimed hereunder, or to reflect any and all additional claims of whatever kind or nature that Claimant has or may have against the Debtor.

29. To the extent any payment to Claimant based on this Proof of Claim, or any portion thereof, is clawed back from Claimant, avoided, or set aside, for any reason whatsoever, or Claimant is required to disgorge any such payment, or any portion thereof, Claimant hereby reserves its rights to amend this Proof of Claim accordingly.

30. The execution and filing of this Proof of Claim is not intended as, nor should it be construed as or deemed to be any of the following: (i) a waiver of the right to seek withdrawal of the reference, or to otherwise challenge the jurisdiction of this Court, with respect to the subject matter of the claims asserted herein, any objection or other proceeding commenced with respect thereto, or any other action or proceeding commenced in this Chapter 11 Case against or otherwise involving Claimant; (ii) an admission that any matter is a core matter for purposes of 28 U.S.C. § 157(b) or is a matter as to which this Court can enter a final order or judgment consistent with Article III of the United States Constitution; (iii) a waiver of the right to de novo review by the district court of any order or judgment for which this Court, absent Claimant's consent, lacks authority to enter a final order or judgment; (iv) a consent to the entry by this Court of a final order or judgment with respect to the claims asserted herein or any other matter; (v) a waiver of Claimant's right to a jury trial against the Debtor, as applicable, or waiver of Claimant's right to a jury trial against any of the non-Debtor Defendants; (vi) a waiver or release of the claims or rights of Claimant against any other entity or person that may be liable for all or any part of the claims or any matters related to the claims asserted herein; (vii) a waiver of any rights and remedies Claimant has or may have under the Cash Warehouse and Synthetic Warehouse Agreements, Engagement Letter, or any other contract, whether mentioned in this Proof of Claim or not; (viii) a waiver of Claimant's contractual right to seek to have these or any other claims settled by binding arbitration; (ix) a waiver of any right related to the confirmation of any plan of reorganization proposed in this Chapter 11 Case, or any other insolvency-related proceeding that may be commenced, either in the United States or abroad, by or against the Debtor, or any non-Debtor affiliate; (x) a waiver or agreement granting any party relief; or (xi) an election of remedies.

31. Neither this Proof of Claim nor any of its contents shall be deemed or construed as an acknowledgment or admission of any liability or obligation on the part of Claimant. Claimant specifically reserves all of its defenses and rights, procedural and substantive, including, without limitation, its rights with respect to any claim that may be asserted against Claimant by the Debtor, the Fund Counterparties, or any affiliate of the Debtor, and its rights to enforce the Cash Warehouse or Synthetic Warehouse Agreements, Engagement Letter, or any other contract.

Right of Setoff and Recoupment

32. Claimant reserves all rights of setoff and recoupment that it may have. To the extent the Debtor or any non-Debtor affiliate asserts any claim against Claimant, Claimant shall have a secured claim to the extent of its right of setoff under section 553 of the Bankruptcy Code or right of recoupment against such claim with respect to the claims asserted herein and any amendments thereto.

Debtor.

Chapter 11

Case No. 19-34054-sgj11 (SGJ)

ADDENDUM TO PROOF OF CLAIM FILED BY UBS AG, LONDON BRANCH

1. UBS AG, London Branch hereby submits this addendum to its proof of claim (together, the “Proof of Claim”) against Highland Capital Management, L.P. (the “Debtor”) in the above-captioned chapter 11 case (the “Chapter 11 Case”).

2. UBS AG, London Branch and UBS Securities LLC (together, the “Claimant” or “UBS”) each have claims against the Debtor and each is filing a proof of claim in this Chapter 11 Case. Because their claims arise from the same set of factual events, including the same failed transaction, misconduct involving the Debtor and its affiliates, and subsequent litigation, the UBS claims overlap and their proof of claim forms and addendums are substantially the same.

3. This addendum is attached to, incorporated into, and constitutes an integral part of Claimant's Proof of Claim against the Debtor. Claimant files this Proof of Claim under compulsion of the Order (I) Establishing Bar Dates for Filing Claims and (II) Approving the Form and Manner of Notice Thereof [Docket No. 488], as extended by the Joint Stipulation and Order Extending Bar Date [Docket No. 547] and modified by the Order Denying UBS's Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay to Proceed with State Court Action [Docket No. 765], solely for the purpose of asserting Claimant's claims against the Debtor, as more particularly described and subject to any limitations set forth below.

Factual Background

A. The Knox Transaction

2. Claimant's claims arise out of a failed transaction dating back thirteen years ago and the state court action (the "State Court Action") that followed between Claimant, the Debtor, Highland CDO Opportunity Master Fund, L.P. ("CDO Fund") and Highland Special Opportunities Holding Company ("SOHC") (together with CDO Fund, the "Fund Counterparties," and the Fund Parties and the Debtor collectively, "Highland"), among other parties.<sup>2</sup>

3. In early 2007, Claimant and Highland agreed to pursue a complex form of securitization transaction known as a "CLO Squared" (the "Knox Transaction"). (Ex. B, Decision at 2.) The purpose of the Knox Transaction was to acquire and securitize a series of collateralized loan obligation ("CLO") securities and credit default swap ("CDS") assets (the "Knox Assets"). To that end, the Debtor agreed to be the "Servicer" of the Knox Transaction, and as such was responsible for identifying the specific CLO and CDS assets to be securitized. Claimant agreed to finance the acquisition of the CLO and CDS assets identified by Highland. Claimant would then hold, or "warehouse," the assets until the securitization was completed (the "Knox Warehouse"). Under this arrangement, Claimant financed the acquisition of $818 million in Knox Assets. (Id.)

<sup>2</sup> The procedural history of the State Court Action is incorporated by reference, but is voluminous. The operative Second Amended Complaint and Phase I Decision and Order are attached as Exhibit A and Exhibit B, respectively. Additional pleadings and orders can be found on the State Court docket for Index No. 650097/2009 or by contacting Claimant's counsel. Claimant reserves the right to file a copy of additional pleadings or orders with this Court.

4. The parties' first attempt at the Knox Transaction was not completed successfully and the relevant agreements expired in August 2007 without the contemplated securitization having occurred. (Id. at 3.) Rather than end their relationship, however, Highland and Claimant continued to consider the possibility of pursuing the contemplated securitization in 2008 under restructured versions of the prior agreements. Highland and Claimant always understood that—if the securitization were not successful—the Fund Counterparties would be obligated to pay Claimant for 100% of the losses on any CLO or CDS assets that been acquired and warehoused for the securitization. In order to convince Claimant to agree to enter restructured versions of those agreements and to finance the acquisition of the CLO and CDS assets, Highland assured Claimant that the Fund Counterparties had sufficient assets to cover any losses. It did so by providing Claimant with false, incomplete, and otherwise misleading information concerning the Fund Counterparties' finances and assets. (Ex. A, Compl. ¶¶ 47-61.)

5. In addition, Claimant specifically conditioned its agreement to enter the restructured agreements on the Fund Counterparties' ability to post an additional $70 million in cash and securities as collateral (the "Initial Restructuring Collateral"), in which Claimant would hold a security interest. (Id. ¶¶ 56-59; Ex. B, Decision at 3.) Highland assembled $70 million in such Initial Restructuring Collateral. But what Highland did not tell Claimant—and what is now clear was omitted on purpose—was that the Fund Counterparties did not own all of the Initial Restructuring Collateral they were expected to post. Instead, to meet this obligation, the Debtor exercised its control over other Highland affiliates, transferring and redirecting assets from such other entities that it controlled to assemble the Initial Restructuring Collateral. (Ex. A, Compl. ¶¶ 56-59.)

6. Similarly, while negotiating the restructured transaction, Highland provided Claimant with financial reports and statements that contained materially false and misleading information and omissions concerning the financial condition of the Fund Counterparties. (Id. ¶¶ 47-52.) The Debtor itself had prepared these financial statements and knew they contained material misstatements. (Id. ¶¶ 48-50, 54.) Among other things, Highland misrepresented the amount of cash held by CDO Fund. (Id. ¶ 52.) Highland also failed to disclose that many of the assets on the Fund Counterparties' financial statements already had been encumbered. (Id. ¶¶ 51, 53.) These misrepresentations not only evince a specific intent by Highland to induce Claimant into entering the restructured agreements, but a longstanding willingness to prevent Claimant from ever recovering the amounts owed under the parties' proposed agreements in the event the Knox Assets suffered any losses. In addition, these events show the Debtor's singular control over—and ability to move—assets from one Highland affiliate to another at will.

7. Based on Highland's material misstatements and omissions, Claimant agreed to pursue the restructured transaction and once more attempt the securitization, and the parties executed three new written agreements: an Engagement Letter, a Cash Warehouse Agreement, and a Synthetic Warehouse Agreement (collectively, the "Warehouse Agreements"). (See Ex. B, Decision at 3.) The Engagement Letter was executed by Claimant and the Debtor; the Fund Counterparties were not parties to the Engagement Letter. (Ex. A, Compl. ¶ 62.) The Cash Warehouse and Synthetic Warehouse Agreements were executed by Claimant and the Debtor, along with the Fund Counterparties. (Id. ¶¶ 64-65.)

8. As described above, Claimant agreed to finance the acquisition of the CLO and CDS assets that the parties planned to securitize. In so doing, the key risk Claimant faced was the possibility that the Knox Assets would lose value while securitization was pending. To address this risk, Claimant and the Debtor agreed in the Engagement Letter that the Fund Counterparties would bear this risk. Notably, at the time, the Debtor was the Investment Manager to the Fund Counterparties under agreements that gave the Debtor total control over those entities. (Ex. A, Compl. ¶¶ 24, 26.)

9. The Warehouse Agreements reiterated that the Fund Counterparties (as controlled by the Debtor) would bear the risk, specifying that if the Knox Assets lost value while securitization was pending, the Fund Counterparties “will in aggregate bear 100% of the risk” for the Knox Assets—with CDO Fund bearing 51% of any losses and SOHC bearing the remaining 49%.

10. To further protect Claimant in the event that the Knox Assets lost value, the Warehouse Agreements provided for recurring measurements of mark-to-market losses on all assets in the Knox Warehouse and required the Fund Counterparties to post collateral in the event the Knox Assets lost a set amount of value. Specifically, the parties agreed that the Fund Counterparties would post an additional $10 million in collateral for each $100 million in losses to the overall value of the Knox Assets. (Ex. B, Decision at 4.)

11. In September and October 2008, amid the global economic recession, the value of the Knox Assets dropped by $100 million, twice. Thus, Claimant twice exercised its contractual right to demand additional collateral. And twice Highland posted the required collateral. (Id.) Although the Warehouse Agreements specified that it was the Fund Counterparties who would post collateral, the Debtor moved assets around from other entities it controlled to make the first two collateral calls (without disclosing this practice to Claimant). (Ex. A, Compl. ¶ 79.) On or about November 7, 2008, Claimant issued a third margin call, because the value of the Knox Assets suffered additional losses of $200 million (bringing the aggregate losses to over $400 million).

(Ex. B, Decision at 4.) This time, Highland refused to provide the additional collateral required under the Warehouse Agreements.

12. Highland's default on Claimant's third margin call triggered a termination event under the Warehouse Agreements. (Id.) On December 5, 2008, Claimant gave Highland formal notice of default and demanded the Fund Counterparties pay Claimant for 100% of the losses incurred on the Knox Assets—which had, by then, grown to over $520 million.

13. There is no question that the Debtor knew the Fund Counterparties were liable for the losses under the Warehouse Agreements. Indeed, the Highland officer who executed the Warehouse Agreements admitted under oath that, “as of the end of the year 2008,” Highland knew that the Fund Counterparties owed Claimant “hundreds of millions of dollars in connection with the Knox Warehouse Agreements.” (Travers Dep. at 261:8-20.) But rather than paying Claimant what it was owed, the Debtor, with Mr. Dondero at the helm, “devised a strategy to delay the resolution of that obligation [to pay Claimant] for as long as possible.” (Id.) To that end, Highland devised and subsequently deployed a multifaceted strategy—one that would last for many years thereafter—to intentionally frustrate and prevent Claimant from recovering any of the amounts that both the Debtor and the Fund Counterparties knew were rightfully owed to Claimant under the Warehouse Agreements.

14. First, the Debtor directed the Fund Counterparties to withhold any payment to Claimant—a position that the Fund Counterparties maintained (again, under the specific direction of the Debtor) for more than a decade. (See id.) The Debtor did so not only with the specific knowledge that the Fund Counterparties owed hundreds of millions of dollars to Claimant for the losses on the Knox Assets, but with the knowledge that Claimant would come seeking payment for such losses and, in particular, to look toward any and all collateral owned by the Fund Counterparties as one source of payment. As one of Highland's officers stated in an internal email to Mr. Dondero in an internal email dated January 16, 2009: "[UBS] is going to be calling [] today asking for all additional collateral that cdo and sohc have left to cover the obligation left by the knox transaction." But rather than turning over the collateral in question to Claimant or, at the very least, securing such assets so that they could be used to pay Claimant, the Debtor directed the Fund Counterparties to withhold such assets and payments from Claimant: "[T]hey can see us in court for their additional collateral." True to that promise, even after Claimant filed suit and laid out the amounts due under the contracts, the Debtor forced the Fund Counterparties to launch an affirmative, multi-year campaign—one which would consume much of the cash and assets belonging to the Fund Counterparties themselves—to stave off any payment from the Fund Counterparties to force Claimant to try to recover such claims through litigation and, once in litigation, devising knowingly baseless defenses and arguments for the Fund Counterparties to assert in such litigation.

15. On top of directing the Fund Counterparties to withhold payment and force Claimant to litigate for amounts the Debtor already knew they rightfully owed to Claimant, the Debtor undertook a litany of other actions to ensure that, even if Claimant were successful in the litigation it had been forced to initiate against the Fund Counterparties, it would not be able to collect any judgment arising out of the litigation. Such actions included, but were not limited to, a series of fraudulent transfers out of, and away from, an alter ego of SOHC, Highland Financial Partners, L.P. ("HFP"). (Ex. A, Compl. ¶ 109.) These internal transfers of funds—all overseen by James Dondero, the Debtor's founder and president—were designed to prevent Claimant from ever collecting the millions of dollars it was owed under the Warehouse Agreements.

16. In addition to such fraudulent transfers, the Debtor also took steps after the lawsuit was filed to ensure that no additional value would be transferred to the Fund Counterparties—deliberately taking steps to keep both SOHC and CDO Fund undercapitalized. Not only did the Debtor prevent additional value from being transferred to the Fund Counterparties, it is clear that the Debtor also failed to ensure that the Fund Counterparties retained assets that could be used to pay any such judgment. Quite to the contrary, it is now clear that any and all assets of any value that once belonged to the Fund Counterparties have, in one way or another, been transferred away, drained, or otherwise wasted by the Fund Counterparties, the Debtor itself, or the Debtor’s affiliates—all at the Debtor’s direction. Indeed, in a recent filing before this Court, the Debtor recently disclosed that both of the Fund Counterparties are completely “insolvent.” (Docket No. 687 at 1.) This means that—separate and apart from the transfers of assets out of, and away from, HFP that occurred in 2009—the Debtor has directed, or otherwise permitted, the Fund Counterparties to engage in acts that have left these once marque investment funds with literally no assets that can be used to pay Claimant. All such actions and omissions by the Debtor were performed with either the specific intent to prevent or frustrate Claimant’s ability to recover the amounts owed under the Warehouse Agreements, or a wanton and reckless disregard of Claimant’s rights to those amounts. Such actions and omissions constitute breaches of the Debtor’s duty of good faith and fair dealing under the Warehouse Agreements.

17. On February 24, 2009, Claimant filed a complaint in the Supreme Court of the State of New York (the “State Court”) against the Debtor and the Fund Counterparties. With knowledge of Claimant’s lawsuit, the Debtor exercised its control over the Fund Counterparties to ensure they would not meet their obligations and to impede Claimant’s ability to recover the amounts owed by those entities. (Id. ¶¶ 112, 114.) Rather than paying Claimant what it was owed, and as discussed above, the Debtor orchestrated an extensive multi-part strategy to delay resolution of Claimant's claims for as long as possible. As a result, the Debtor further interfered with Claimant's contractual rights, thereby breaching the covenants of good faith and fair dealing inherent in the Warehouse Agreements. (Id.)

18. By this time, the Fund Counterparties and SOHC's alter ego, HFP, had become insolvent, although they still owned significant assets. (Id. ¶ 108.) Nonetheless, the Debtor failed to act in good faith to cause HFP to satisfy the debts, as much as possible, then owed to Claimant. Instead, the Debtor caused HFP to make additional improper and fraudulent asset transfers, deliberately kept the Fund Counterparties undercapitalized, and allowed all assets of any value to be drained from the Fund Counterparties—acts which not only impaired Claimant's ability to recover anything from the Fund Counterparties, but precluded it altogether. (Id. ¶ 111.) In March 2009, conscious that Claimant had commenced an action against Highland a few weeks earlier, and in breach of their continuing duty of good faith and fair dealing, and with actual fraudulent intent, the Debtor and HFP caused asset transfers of millions of dollars of assets to the Debtor, Highland Credit Strategies Master Fund, L.P., Highland Crusader Offshore Partners, L.P., and Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, L.P. (now Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, L.P.) (collectively, the "Affiliated Transferee Defendants"), among others, thereby further reducing Highland's abilities to meet their obligations to Claimant. (Id. ¶¶ 111, 113.) The Debtor and its principals exercised domination over the Fund Counterparties to improperly transfer substantial assets from the Fund Counterparties and HFP for their own personal gain, i.e., solely and improperly to protect and enhance the value of the Debtor and its principals by wrongful and improper means. In the process, the Debtor and its principals made it impossible for the Fund Counterparties to pay Claimant the losses that they and the Debtor had agreed they would pay under the Warehouse Agreements. (Id. ¶¶ 112-114.)

19. As Claimant learned about Highland's conduct through discovery, Claimant amended its complaint to assert additional claims and name additional Highland entities, including HFP, the Affiliated Transferee Defendants, and Strand Advisors, Inc. As amended and stated in its Second Amended Complaint (attached hereto as Exhibit A) in the State Court Action, filed on May 11, 2011, Claimant's claims include breach of contract claims directly against the Fund Counterparties, as well as claims for fraudulent inducement, breach of the duty of good faith and fair dealing, fraudulent conveyance, tortious interference, and declaratory judgments for alter ego liability against HFP and general partner liability against Strand Advisors, Inc. The Debtor subsequently brought counterclaims against Claimant for breach of contract and unjust enrichment. (See Ex. B, Decision at 35-37.)

20. The procedural history of the State Court Action is complex. The Debtor and its affiliates and Claimant filed, and the State Court ruled on, four sets of motions to dismiss. The Debtor and its affiliates then filed two sets of summary judgment motions, which led to a series of complex rulings by the State Court in 2017. The parties filed various interlocutory appeals of the State Court's rulings on the motions to dismiss and for summary judgment. Those appeals were heard by the Appellate Division for the First Judicial Department in the County of New York, with the Appellate Division issuing five decisions over this suit's protracted history (some of which are still subject to further appellate rights).

21. Also included in the Appellate Division's decisions was an order arising from an appeal of the State Court's ruling on Claimant's motion to restrain Defendants Highland Credit

Strategies Master Fund, L.P. and Highland Crusader Partners, L.P. from disposing of property received through the fraudulent transfers orchestrated by the Debtor. Claimant showed it had a likelihood of success on the merits of its fraudulent transfer claims, and the Appellate Division enjoined both Highland entities from disposing of their assets. Ultimately, these injunctions resulted in partial settlements between Claimant and Highland Credit Strategies Master Fund, L.P. and Highland Crusader Partners, L.P.

22. By early 2018, more than nine years after Claimant first filed suit, the parties were finally ready to proceed to trial. Due to a jury waiver clause in the Warehouse Agreements, however, and after related pre-trial briefing, the State Court bifurcated Claimant's claims into two distinct phases for trial: Phase I, consisting of a bench trial on Claimant's claims against the Fund Counterparties for breach of the Cash Warehouse and Synthetic Warehouse Agreements, as well as the Debtor's counterclaims; and Phase II, consisting of a jury trial on Claimant's remaining claims against all remaining Highland entities, including the Debtor.<sup>3</sup> (Ex. B, Decision at 2 n.1, 38.)

23. The State Court presided over a thirteen-day bench trial for Phase I from July 9 through July 27, 2018. (Id. at 1.) On November 14, 2019, the State Court entered a Decision and Order on Phase I (attached hereto as Exhibit B), ruling in favor of Claimant on almost every issue presented in Phase I. In particular, the court found the Fund Counterparties liable to Claimant for breach of the Cash Warehouse and Synthetic Warehouse Agreements, found no liability on the part of Claimant for either of the Debtor's counterclaims, and rejected almost every one of the Debtor's offset arguments with the only remaining issue (affecting approximately $70,500,000) to be determined after Phase II. (Id. at 39.) An Entry of Judgment on Phase I was entered on February 10, 2020. Under that Phase I final judgment, Claimant is entitled to $1,039,957,799.44, consisting of $519,374,149.00 in damages and $520,583,650.44 in pre-judgment interest as of January 22, 2020, with additional interest of $128,065 having accrued daily until the Entry of Judgment.

24. The next step in the State Court Action is Phase II of the trial, where Claimant's remaining claims against not only the Debtor, but also against other Highland affiliates are to be tried to a jury, with the court deciding liability as to the breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing claim and the jury deciding all remaining claims. (Id. at 2 n.1, 38.) The claims to be tried in Phase II include claims for breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, fraudulent conveyances, and alter-ego liability. The specific amounts the two non-Debtor affiliates owe to Claimant for their breach of the Warehouse Agreements are now set forth and embodied in the final $1 billion judgment from Phase I. And Claimant has stated claims against the Debtor—which was also a party to the same contract and exercised complete control over the two liable affiliates—under which Claimant is entitled to damages that are at least as much as the Phase I judgment amount. Claimant will seek damages for the Debtor's various breaches of the implied covenant as well as its specific role in the fraudulent transfer scheme, and pre-judgment interest and attorneys' fees where available. In addition, Claimant will seek punitive damages against the Debtor for its role in orchestrating the extended efforts to prevent Claimant from collecting the amounts owed under the Warehouse Agreements.

25. Currently, Phase II of the State Court Action is stayed against the Debtor by the automatic stay imposed pursuant to section 362 of the Bankruptcy Code when the Debtor commenced this Chapter 11 Case.

26. Claimant hereby asserts a claim, pending litigation of Phase II, for damages arising from the Debtor's breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, its specific role in directing the fraudulent transfers of assets involving HFP, additional interest, further damages (including punitive damages), and attorneys' fees that may be awarded by any court at the conclusion of Phase II.

Reservation of Rights

27. Claimant does not waive or release, and expressly reserves, all rights and remedies at law or in equity that it has or may have against the Debtor, the Fund Counterparties, Strand Advisors, Inc., other non-Debtor Highland Defendants, or any other Debtor affiliate, subsidiary, person, or entity.

28. Claimant expressly reserves all of its rights to assert any additional claims, defenses, remedies, and causes of action, including without limitation, claims for fraudulent inducement, breach of contract, tortious interference with contractual relations, fraudulent conveyances, or alter ego recovery. Claimant further reserves all rights to amend, modify, supplement, reclassify, or otherwise revise its Proof of Claim at any time and in any respect, including, without limitation, as necessary or appropriate to amend, quantify or correct amounts, to provide additional detail regarding the claims set forth herein, to assert additional grounds for any of the claims, to seek reconsideration under section 502(j) of the Bankruptcy Code or otherwise of any disallowance of any amounts claimed hereunder, or to reflect any and all additional claims of whatever kind or nature that Claimant has or may have against the Debtor.

29. To the extent any payment to Claimant based on this Proof of Claim, or any portion thereof, is clawed back from Claimant, avoided, or set aside, for any reason whatsoever, or Claimant is required to disgorge any such payment, or any portion thereof, Claimant hereby reserves its rights to amend this Proof of Claim accordingly.

30. The execution and filing of this Proof of Claim is not intended as, nor should it be construed as or deemed to be any of the following: (i) a waiver of the right to seek withdrawal of the reference, or to otherwise challenge the jurisdiction of this Court, with respect to the subject matter of the claims asserted herein, any objection or other proceeding commenced with respect thereto, or any other action or proceeding commenced in this Chapter 11 Case against or otherwise involving Claimant; (ii) an admission that any matter is a core matter for purposes of 28 U.S.C. § 157(b) or is a matter as to which this Court can enter a final order or judgment consistent with Article III of the United States Constitution; (iii) a waiver of the right to de novo review by the district court of any order or judgment for which this Court, absent Claimant's consent, lacks authority to enter a final order or judgment; (iv) a consent to the entry by this Court of a final order or judgment with respect to the claims asserted herein or any other matter; (v) a waiver of Claimant's right to a jury trial against the Debtor, as applicable, or waiver of Claimant's right to a jury trial against any of the non-Debtor Defendants; (vi) a waiver or release of the claims or rights of Claimant against any other entity or person that may be liable for all or any part of the claims or any matters related to the claims asserted herein; (vii) a waiver of any rights and remedies Claimant has or may have under the Cash Warehouse and Synthetic Warehouse Agreements, Engagement Letter, or any other contract, whether mentioned in this Proof of Claim or not; (viii) a waiver of Claimant's contractual right to seek to have these or any other claims settled by binding arbitration; (ix) a waiver of any right related to the confirmation of any plan of reorganization proposed in this Chapter 11 Case, or any other insolvency-related proceeding that may be commenced, either in the United States or abroad, by or against the Debtor, or any non-Debtor affiliate; (x) a waiver or agreement granting any party relief; or (xi) an election of remedies.

31. Neither this Proof of Claim nor any of its contents shall be deemed or construed as an acknowledgment or admission of any liability or obligation on the part of Claimant. Claimant specifically reserves all of its defenses and rights, procedural and substantive, including, without limitation, its rights with respect to any claim that may be asserted against Claimant by the Debtor, the Fund Counterparties, or any affiliate of the Debtor, and its rights to enforce the Cash Warehouse or Synthetic Warehouse Agreements, Engagement Letter, or any other contract.

Right of Setoff and Recoupment

32. Claimant reserves all rights of setoff and recoupment that it may have. To the extent the Debtor or any non-Debtor affiliate asserts any claim against Claimant, Claimant shall have a secured claim to the extent of its right of setoff under section 553 of the Bankruptcy Code or right of recoupment against such claim with respect to the claims asserted herein and any amendments thereto.

1 example, precluding damages relating to the $45 million that
2 HFP had in March 2009 or the $20-plus million that the CDO
3 Fund had in December 2009.

4 So I think that's the answer I got from Mr. Feinstein at 5 the end of oral argument. But even if the Debtor was making
6 the request that the Court rule that, as a matter of law, UBS
7 cannot assert any claim against the Debtor except the claims
8 relating to the $61 million of transfers, I think that UBS has 9 shown, has put summary judgment evidence in the record that 10 there may be a fact issue here with regard to these funds.
11 They may be able to prove, have a potential theory here that 12 Highland breached the covenant of good faith and fair dealing 13 by somehow exercising control over the CDO Fund and HFP and 14 causing them to dissipate those assets and not pay them to 15 UBS. There might be a theory there.

16 So I hope that is clear, that I'm not granting summary
17 judgment declaring that UBS is barred from asserting something 18 more than the $61 million of March 2009 transfers.

19 So that is my ruling on the motions for partial summary
20 judgment. I'll turn now to the UBS Rule 3018(a) estimation 21 motion. Once again, given the late hour, I'm going to 22 dispense with the flowery legal standards that apply to this 23 motion. I reserve the right in my order to supplement with 24 more fulsome statements.

25 But I have decided that I should estimate UBS's claim for

1 voting purposes at the following number: $94,761,076. Okay.
2 So here is my math for how I get there. Let's start with the 3 three transfers in March 2009 that have been alleged to be 4 fraudulent transfers or, you know, Highland caused to be made
5 in breach of its duty of good faith and fair dealing. And I'm 6 talking about, obviously, the Multi-Strat entities, you know,
7 the $25,782,988 that HFP transferred in March 2009, then there
8 was $17,778,566 transferred to the Debtor, and then Citibank
9 received $17,481,808.

10 So, as we've talked about, we've talked about $61,043,362.
11 Okay. So, obviously, I've ruled summary judgment that 12 Crusader -- transfers to Crusader and the transfer to Credit 13 Strategies are gone. They're off the table. So, but focusing 14 in on that $61 million, I start with the $25-plus million to 15 Multi-Strat. I am estimating a high chance of UBS winning on 16 that, a 90-percent chance. So, 90 percent of $25,783,300 --
17 what is the number? $25 million. I may have done my math
18 wrong. I've computed it equals $23,205,008, but I think I -- 19 no, no, no, no. No, no, no. Let me back up. Just a minute.
20 Hang on. (Pause.) All right. I think what I meant to do is 21 calculate 90 percent of $25,782,988, and my math may be wrong.
22 I've got that equals $23,205,008, but I feel like I did
23 something wrong there. Someone can double-check my math 24 there. Can someone -- I've left my calculator back in 25 chambers. What's 90 percent of $25,783,343? Hello. You've

1 got a calculator over there?

2 THE CLERK: Yeah. What was the number?

3 THE COURT: Okay.

4 THE CLERK: You said $25,783,4 --

5 THE COURT: No, no, no. I'm sorry. That's where I

6 went wrong, I think. The number is should have -- not --

7 that's where I went wrong. I should have been using

8 $25,782,988. And I have no idea where I got that $25,783,000

9 number. So, 90 percent of $25,782,988.

10 MR. FEINSTEIN: My calculator says that $23.2

11 million, Your Honor.

12 THE COURT: Okay. Well, I guess I was right. Okay.

13 MR. FEINSTEIN: You were right.

14 THE COURT: Okay. So I'm putting a 90 percent chance

15 of winning on that, so $23.2 million.

16 And then on the transfer to the Debtor, I'm using the 17 expert report, if you will, of I think his name is Mr. Dudney,

18 UBS's own expert, where he used $8 million. He said you

19 should adjust that number to $8 million, if I was 20 understanding correctly, because of HFP, the transferor,

21 having some percentage ownership in that. So if I use $8

22 million, that gets us up to $31.2 million.

23 Then, with regard to Citibank, the transfer to Citibank of 24 $17,481,808, I'm giving a 20 percent chance of success on that 25 one. I just, again, feel in my gut, you know, in my

1 discretion, looking at the summary judgment evidence, I just
2 feel in my gut there's going to be defenses to that. So, 20
3 percent of that would be $3,555,713.

4 So that gets us up to roughly 31 -- excuse me, $34.76
5 million. So, if you assume interest, pre-judgment interest, I
6 used $30 million there. Again, that's imprecise. But that 7 gets us up to $64.76 million.

8 Then what I did beyond that is, with regard to the summary
9 judgment evidence thrown out that maybe there was 40 -- $45
10 million on hand at HFP in March of 2009 -- I think we're 11 talking about UBS Exhibit 25 -- and then another $23 million
12 may have been on hand at the CDO Fund, at least in December 13 2009, that's about $68 million. And I am just assuming that 14 there might be a credible argument made as to $10 million of 15 that. And then I'll add $10 million of interest for all of 16 these years, of pre-judgment interest.

17 And then I've plugged in another $10 million for 18 attorneys' fees, because I believe there is the ability to get 19 attorneys' fees for actual fraudulent transfers. And I'm 20 assuming that some of these, the ones to Highland and Multi-21 Strat, there might be credible arguments of actual fraudulent
22 transfers. And then I have been told, I think, by Mr. Clubok
23 that you might even get attorneys' fees for breach of covenant
24 of good faith and fair dealing.

25 So, $64.761 million plus $10 million plus another $10

1 million plus $10 million is $94.761 million.

2 Any questions? I know that was probably hard to follow,
3 but any questions about that estimation?

4 MR. CLUBOK: Your Honor, the only question, and maybe 5 it's too late and that's fine, I understand your analysis, but 6 the calculation of the amount that was transferred to 7 Highland, I think even Highland had agreed in their -- that 8 the number is higher. I think that's out of context, and if 9 that's -- if there's no chance for us to clear that up, I
10 understand. You've made your decision. But I do want to say
11 that I think even Highland would agree that they received more 12 than $8 million. The footnote from (inaudible) is a little 13 bit out of context, and, you know, there was -- if you look at 14 Highland's papers in terms of their response on 3018, I think 15 they have accepted our 17, roughly $17 million number. I 16 think that is a -- it's complicated. But anyway, I just raise 17 that, and maybe because you've done all this math, that won't 18 affect your view, Your Honor. Totally understand that. But I
19 do want to say that I think that Highland even acknowledges 20 that the amount received was $17 million. That was 21 (inaudible) by Redeemer. I think it's misunderstood. You 22 know, our -- a footnote from our expert report that takes the 23 full expert report out of context.

24 THE COURT: Well, that's going to be my ruling. And,
25 again, you know, estimation --

1 MR. CLUBOK: Understood.

2 THE COURT: -- is just that. It's imprecise. And I
3 may have cut you some slack in other areas where I'm sure
4 Highland and the Crusader Fund would vehemently contest what I
5 did. You know, the 90-percent chance of winning I gave you on 6 Multi-Strat, you know, they said it should be a much lower 7 number, 30 percent or whatever.

8 So that is going to be the ruling.

9 Okay. Here is what I would like to do. I'm going to push 10 off work, is what I'm going to do. I know that on the motions
11 for partial summary judgment Highland submitted a proposed 12 form of order that was pretty short and to the point. I can't 13 remember seeing one for Redeemer.

14 Bankruptcy Rule 7056, Rule 56, they don't require, 15 obviously, findings of facts and conclusions of law. They 16 just require some reasoning to support the Court's ruling. So 17 I feel like I need something more fulsome than what was 18 uploaded by the Debtor, but it doesn't have to be extremely 19 beyond what the Court ruled. I would, though, ask -- you
20 know, I don't know if a combined order granting both motions
21 with -- you all talk offline, Mr. Feinstein and Ms. Mascherin, 22 whether you want separate orders and judgments or you feel 23 like a combined one suffices.

24 MS. MASCHERIN: Your Honor, I can say with respect to 25 the motions for summary judgment I think they could be dealt

LIMITED PRELIMINARY OBJECTION TO THE DEBTOR’S MOTION FOR ENTRY
OF AN ORDER APPROVING SETTLEMENT WITH UBS SECURITIES LLC AND UBS
AG LONDON BRANCH AND AUTHORIZING ACTIONS CONSISTENT THEREWITH

Now into Court, through undersigned counsel, comes The Dugaboy Investment Trust and Get Good Trust (“Objectors”), who file this limited preliminary opposition to the Debtor’s Motion for Entry of an Order Approving Settlement with UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG London Branch and Authorizing Actions Consistent Therewith (“Motion”) [Dkt. #2199]. The limited preliminary objection is being filed so that a contested matter will exist between Highland Capital Management, L.P. (the “Debtor”) and the Objectors, thus allowing the Objectors to conduct discovery to ascertain facts and obtain documents in support of the Objectors’ limited objection and determine if additional grounds exist for an amended objection.

Objectors and other entities own interests in Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, L.P. (n/k/a Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, L.P. (“Multi-Strat”)) and, on information and belief, the interests of Objectors and third parties is in excess of any interest owned by the Debtor in Multi-Strat.

Objectors’ issues with the settlement do not revolve around the Debtor settling its claims with UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG London Branch (collectively, “UBS”) but, rather, go to the following issues:

- 1) That the Bankruptcy Court has no jurisdiction to rule on the settlement of litigation between UBS and Multi-Strat. The Debtor’s sole position with the Multi-Strat entities appears to be as an investment advisor and possibly a general partner. The position taken by the Debtor in seeking Court approval for the Multi-Strat portion of the settlement is inconsistent with its previously articulated position taken in its Debtor’s Response to Mr. James Dondero’s Motion to Entry of an Order Requiring Notice and Hearing for Future Estate Transactions Occurring Outside the Ordinary Course of Business (“Response”) (Dkt. #1546) to James Dondero’s Motion for Entry of an Order Requiring Notice and Hearing for Future Estate Transactions Occurring Outside the Ordinary Course of Business (“Motion for Future Estate Transactions”) (Dkt. #1439). In the Motion for Future Estate Transactions filed by James Dondero seeking notice and hearing, one of the sales mentioned in the Motion for Future Estate Transactions was the sale of an asset owned by Multi-Strat (See Dkt. #1439).

In its Response, the Debtor stated:

However, the assets of a debtor’s non-debtor subsidiaries are not property of a debtor’s estate. See, e.g., In re Guyana Dev. Corp., 168 B.R. 892, 905 (Bankr. S.D. Tex. 1994) (“As a general rule, property of the estate includes the debtor’s stock in a subsidiary but not the assets of the subsidiary.”); see also

Parkview-Gem, Inc., 516 F.2d 807, 809 (8th Cir. 1975) (“Ownership of all of the outstanding stock of a corporation, however, is not the equivalent of ownership of the subsidiary’s property or assets. . . Even though the value of the subsidiary’s outstanding shares owned by the debtor may be directly affected by the subsidiary’s disputes with third parties,’ Congress did not give the bankruptcy court exclusive jurisdiction over all controversies that in some way affect the debtor’s estate.”) (citing In re Beck Indus., Inc., 479 F.2d 410 (2d Cir. 1973)).

Further, while the Debtor has certain control rights over RCP, MSCF, and SSPI, those rights do not make the assets of RCP, MSCF, and SSPI property of the Debtor’s estate. See In re Thomas, 2020 Bankr. LEXIS 1364 at *31 (Bankr. W.D. Tenn. 2020) (a debtor’s membership interest in an LLC, including both its economic rights and governance rights, became property of the estate on the petition date, but the assets of the LLC remain separate and the debtor must manage them consistent with the terms of the operating agreement and applicable law); In re Cardinal Indus., 105 B.R. 834, 849 (Bankr. S.D. Ohio 1989) (a debtor’s ownership interests and control rights in non-debtor partnerships were property of the estate; but those rights did not make the assets of the partnership property of the estate or implicate the automatic stay so as to prevent secured creditors of the non-debtor partnerships from foreclosing on properties of the partnerships).

The law has not changed since the Response filed by the Debtor and this Court has no jurisdiction to approve the transfer of assets by a non-debtor “affiliated entity” to a third party in settlement of the claims of the third party against the non-debtor.

This position that the Court has jurisdiction over the UBS/Multi-Strat portion of the Settlement Agreement and Motion is also inconsistent with the fact that the Debtor did not seek Court approval for a May 2020 settlement between UBS and Multi-Strat, Highland Credit Opportunities CDO and Highland CDO Asset Holding L.P. Clearly, Highland, as both the Investment Advisor and either General Partner or Managing Member of the entities other than UBS, did not believe the Bankruptcy Court had jurisdiction over the May 2020 settlement identified in the Settlement Agreement attached to the Motion. The status of Debtor, with respect to the Multi-Strat portion of the Motion before this Court, has not changed from its status at the time of the May 2020 Settlement Agreement that was not brought before this Court. It is also apparent that UBS did not believe that Bankruptcy Court approval was necessary for the May 2020 settlement.

- 2) Whether the Debtor, under the organizational documents of Multi-Strat and its Investment Advisor Agreement with Multi-Strat, possesses the requisite authority to bind Multi-Strat under the terms of the proposed settlement. The Motion fails to identify the authority possessed by the Debtor to bind Multi-Strat and fails to attach the documents giving the Debtor requisite authority to bind Multi-Strat to the proposed settlement. The Motion does not attach exhibits that evidence such authority or even quote portions of such documents giving rise to the Debtor's authority to bind the entity.
- 3) While the Debtor's bankruptcy counsel can advise the Debtor as to the wisdom of the settlement, the Motion fails to state whether a third party other than the Debtor or its counsel rendered an opinion to Multi-Strat and its owners that the settlement between the UBS entities was in the best interests of Multi-Strat. In fact, it is unknown as to whether anyone on behalf of Multi-Strat other than Highland or its counsel was apprised of the Multi-Strat/UBS settlement. Clearly, counsel for the Debtor cannot render such an opinion inasmuch as they do not represent Multi-Strat. While the case against Multi-Strat appears to be based upon transfers made to it, issues between Multi-Strat and the Debtor exist as to whether a portion of the Debtor's payments to the UBS entities reduces the claims by UBS against Multi-Strat under the single recovery rule. For example, if the case against Multi-Strat was brought by the Debtor and the property subject to the unlawful transfer had been transferred by another Highland Fund to Multi-Strat under 11 U.S.C. § 550(d), the Debtor could obtain only a single satisfaction of the claim. Objectors believe that the interests of Debtor with respect to its own liability to UBS and its bargained for settlement and release for itself, Strand Advisors, Inc. and the list of released third parties place Debtor and its counsel in a conflict of interest position in evaluating the wisdom of the settlement between Multi-Strat and the various UBS entities.

- 4) The portion of the Settlement Agreement that confers exclusive jurisdiction of any dispute between Multi-Strat and UBS is void. It is well settled law that the parties cannot confer jurisdiction where no jurisdiction exists.

Objectors recognize that this Court has jurisdiction under Bankruptcy Rule 9019 of the settlement between the Debtor and UBS. The Court, however, does not have jurisdiction to give res judicata or collateral estoppel effect to a settlement of a dispute between three (3) non-debtors. The Dugaboy Investment Trust and Get Good Trust reserve the right to amend and supplement this objection upon obtaining documents and discovery from the Debtor and possibly UBS.

SUPPLEMENTAL OPPOSITION TO DEBTOR’S MOTION FOR ENTRY OF AN ORDER APPROVING SETTLEMENT WITH UBS SECURITIES LLC AND UBS AG
LONDON BRANCH AND AUTHORIZING ACTIONS CONSISTENT THEREWITH

Now into Court, through undersigned counsel, comes The Dugaboy Investment Trust (“Dugaboy”), who files this supplemental opposition to the Debtor’s Motion for Entry of an Order Approving Settlement with UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG London Branch and Authorizing Actions Consistent Therewith (“Motion”) [Dkt. #2199]. Dugaboy has previously filed with this Court a Limited Preliminary Objection to the Debtor’s Motion for Entry of an Order Approving Settlement with UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG London Branch and Authorizing Actions Consistent Therewith [Dkt. #2268] and this opposition is a supplement to the objections already raised by Dugaboy.

I. BACKGROUND

1. Highland Capital Management, L.P. (“Debtor”) filed for relief on the 16th day of October, 2019 in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware. The case was transferred to this Court on December 4, 2019.

2. On November 24, 2020, the Debtor filed its Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (“Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization”) [Dkt. #1472].

3. The Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization was confirmed by this Court’s Order (I) Confirming the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (as Modified) and (II) Granting Related Relief (“Order”) on the 22nd day of February, 2021 [Dkt. #1943].

4. UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG London Branch (together, “UBS”) filed Proof of Claim Nos. 190 and 191 in the bankruptcy which are the subject of the Motion. The claims arise out of litigation filed in New York by UBS. The New York action was split into two phases. The first phase dealt primarily with the contractual claim between UBS and the Debtor and the non-Debtor funds. In connection with the first phase of the New York action, a judgment was rendered on July 27, 2018 against Highland CDO Opportunity Master Fund L.P. (“HCDO”) and Highland Special Opportunities Holding Company (“HSO”) (collectively, “Non-Debtor Funds”) in the amount of $1,039,957,799.44.

claim against the entities identified in this paragraph was the transfer to these entities of $2,333,455,147.00. (See UBS's Brief in Support of Motion for Temporary Allowance of Claims for Voting Purposes Pursuant to Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 3018 (“Brief in Support of Motion for Temporary Allowance”)[Dkt. #1342, ¶ #8]) As shown in the chart created by UBS and included in the UBS Brief in Support of Motion for Temporary Allowance, $25,782,988.00 was transferred to Multi-Strat Entities ( Note the Chart uses Multi-Strat Entities as opposed to Multi-Strat the party to the UBS/ Multi-Strat Settlement). In its Motion for Temporary Allowance, UBS classified the claim against Multi-Strat as a fraudulent conveyance claim (See Dkt. #1342, ¶¶ 39-47). This portion of the UBS lawsuit was to be tried at a later point. The New York suit was stayed as a result of the Debtor filing for relief pursuant to Chapter 11.

6. This Court has heard testimony concerning the UBS lawsuit in connection with UBS's Motion for Temporary Allowance of Claims for Voting Purposes Pursuant to Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 3018 [Dkt. #1338] and the Debtor's (Dkt. #1181 and Dkt. #1214) and the Redeemer Committee of the Highland Crusader Fund and the Crusader Funds' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment and Joinder in the Debtor's Motion for Partial Summary Judgment on Proof of Claim Nos. 190 and 191 of UBS AG, London Branch and UBS Securities LLC [Dkt. #1215 and Dkt. #1216]. On November 20, 2020, this Court estimated the UBS claims for purposes of voting. In its opinion, the Court estimated that UBS had a ninety percent (90%) chance of winning its fraudulent conveyance suit. The amount allocated to Multi-Strat ( it appears as though the Court did not differentiate the amount between multiple Multi-Strat Entities) of the UBS claims for voting purposes was ninety percent (90%) of $25,782,988.00.

II. SETTLEMENT MOTION

7. The Debtor has filed a motion to settle its claim with UBS. Dugaboy objects to the settlement in total but its objection is primarily focused on the following: 1) whether the Court has jurisdiction to approve the UBS/Multi-Strat settlement; 2) whether the Debtor had or has the authority to act on behalf of Multi-Strat in entering or attempting to enter into a settlement with UBS; and 3) whether the Debtor is required to obtain independent advice and counsel for Multi-Strat or if, in fact, Multi-Strat had independent counsel and advice in: (i) analyzing whether to settle the UBS claim, (ii) the payment of $18,000,000.00 by Multi-Strat to UBS in settlement of alleged fraudulent conveyances, and (iii) whether the lack of a release by the Debtor to Multi-Strat for transfers it received from Highland CDO Master Opportunity Fund LP, Highland Special Opportunities Holding Company or Highland Financial Partners subjects Multi-Strat to paying twice for the same transfers.

III. AUTHORITY TO ACT ON BEHALF OF MULTI-STRAT

8. Multi-Strat is a Delaware limited partnership whose current general partner appears to be Highland Multi-Strategy Credit Fund GP, L.P. Based upon the Motion, the Debtor asserts it is the investment manager of Multi-Strat and, thus, according to the Debtor, it has authority to bind Multi-Strat to a settlement with UBS (See Dkt. #2199, Pg. 26, ¶ 53). No additional information is provided in the Motion as to the authority of the Debtor to commit Multi-Strat to the settlement. It is also believed that some form of Investment Advisor Agreement (as opposed to Investment Manager Agreement) may exist between Multi-Strat and the Debtor. The Motion cites no document, attaches no exhibit and merely uses the conclusory statement “is also authorized” to provide the legal basis for the authority of the Debtor to act on behalf of Multi-Strat.

9. The extent of the Debtor’s ownership interest in Multi-Strat is unknown. From the tenor of the UBS lawsuit and a review of the pleadings before this Court, it appears as though the Debtor’s interest in Multi-Strat is minimal. The Motion indicates that the interest of the Debtor in Multi-Strat has been transferred to third parties for some consideration. The Motion and Settlement Agreement [Dkt. #2200] refer to an interest in Multi-Strat being “redeemed” and other transfers of the Debtor’s interest in Multi-Strat (See Pgs. 9 and 10 of the Settlement Agreement [Dkt. #2200] and Motion (Page 2, Dkt. #2199)). The third-party ownership in Multi-Strat is significant. What the Debtor received for the transfers of its interests in Multi-Strat is unknown, however, and in assessing the value the Debtor received for its interest in Multi-Strat it is safe to assume that in some measure the Debtor received the benefit of the so-called fraudulently transferred assets.

IV. DUGABOY’S OBJECTION TO THE SETTLEMENT

10. The focus of the Dugaboy objection to the Motion is with respect to the Multi-Strat portion of the Settlement Agreement. Dugaboy believes that the Multi-Strat settlement should be excluded from this Court’s approval for the reasons set forth in its opposition. The Debtor’s Motion seeking approval of the UBS/ Multi-Strat portion of the UBS settlement is inconsistent with the position taken by the Debtor with respect to sales of assets by non-debtor affiliates (See Dkt. #1546) and this Court’s ruling in the motion filed by James Dondero requesting that he and the other parties in interest in the case receive Notice of any future sales of non-debtor assets. (See Dkt. #1605) The May 20, 2020 settlement between UBS, the Debtor and

Multi-Strat was not brought before this Court for approval. The Debtor's knowing failure to follow the reporting required by B.R. 2015.3 (which requires a debtor to file periodic reports on operations of entities in which the debtor has a controlling or substantial interest) is additional evidence that the Debtor believes that all matters affecting the Debtor's subsidiaries are not subject to review unless it suits the Debtor's purposes.

11. Dugaboy recognizes that the Debtor can settle its claim against Multi-Strat for the assets that were asserted to be fraudulently transferred to Multi-Strat and obtain the $18,000,000.00. A settlement of that claim is not before the Court and should not be considered, inasmuch as the Debtor, based upon its pleadings to date, would be in control of both parties to such a settlement. A second problem with such a settlement relates to the disposition of the proceeds of such a settlement. Under the terms of the Debtor's confirmed Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization, any recovery of an action possessed by the Debtor must be distributed in accordance with the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization and cannot be targeted for payment to UBS. If the Debtor obtained an $18,000,000.00 recovery from Multi-Strat, the Debtor would not have a need for an exit loan. The settlement between the Debtor and UBS in fact transfers some Debtor assets to UBS and is probably a plan modification without notice and hearing in compliance with 11 U.S.C. § 1127.

V. COURT LACKS JURISDICTION OVER THE UBS/MULTI-STRAT CLAIM

12. In its preliminary objection to the UBS/Multi-Strat settlement [Dkt. #2268], Dugaboy objected to the settlement between UBS and Multi-Strat on the ground that the Bankruptcy Court lacks jurisdiction to approve a settlement between two non-debtors. The limited jurisdiction of the Bankruptcy Court may not be created by packaging the UBS/ Multi-

Strat settlement in the settlement of the UBS proofs of claim in this case. The two settlements are separate and distinct as a matter of law. The fact that the Debtor and UBS linked the two settlements is not a basis to create bankruptcy jurisdiction where no jurisdiction previously existed.

13. It is blackletter law that the automatic stay does not apply to co-defendants in a lawsuit. See Wedgeworth v. Fibreboard, 706 F.2d 541, 544 (5th Cir. 1983) and In Re SI Acquisition, 817 F.2d 1142 ftns. 27 and 28 (5th Cir. 1987). At any point during this Chapter 11 case, UBS could have proceeded against Multi-Strat and the other non-debtor defendants in New York.

14. The claim of UBS against Multi-Strat also does not fit within the constitutional constructs of 28 U.S.C. § 157(b) and 28 U.S.C. §1334(b) as an action arising in, under or related to a case under Chapter 11.

15. In paragraph 53 of the Debtor's Motion [Dkt. #2199], the Court's lack of jurisdiction is admitted by the Debtor. The Debtor, in support of its Motion, states the following:

Finally, the Debtor is also authorized, as investment manager, to cause Multi-Strat to settle the claims UBS has asserted against Multi-Strat in the State Court Action without seeking leave under 11 U.S.C. § 363(b). First, section 363(b) applies to "property of the estate." 11 U.S.C. § 363(b)(1). However, the assets of a debtor's non-debtor subsidiaries are not property of a debtor's estate. See, e.g., In re Guyana Dev. Corp., 168 B.R. 892, 905 (Bankr. S.D.Tex. 1994) ("As a general rule, property of the estate includes the debtor's stock in a subsidiary but not the assets of the subsidiary."). Here, Multi-Strat is not wholly owned by the Debtor and has meaningful third party investors. Thus, the payment to be made by Multi-Strat pursuant to the Settlement Agreement will not involve property of the Debtor's estate or implicate 11 U.S.C. § 363(b). Instead, it will involve the transfer of Multi-Strat's property in settlement of UBS's claim against Multi-Strat.

16. The question the Court should ask the Debtor is why it is seeking Court approval for a claim between two non-debtors. The Debtor has not sought Court approval for any action it has taken on behalf of the subsidiaries to date (except as required in the protocol for transactions between related entities). Dugaboy suggests that the reason for this change of position is that the Debtor is seeking a res judicata or collateral estoppel shield for its breach of its fiduciary duty to Multi-Strat and its owners under applicable law. If the Debtor believes it has authority to go forward with the transaction without Bankruptcy Court authority, it should execute the settlement without asking this Court to take an act outside of its constitutional jurisdiction. The Debtor, by packaging its settlement with UBS with the UBS/ Multi-Strat settlement, is attempting to create Bankruptcy Court jurisdiction where no such jurisdiction previously existed.

17. A significant question exists as to the disclosure the Debtor as “investment manager” has made to the “meaningful third party investors” in Multi-Strat. Has the Debtor disclosed to the meaningful third party investors the risks of the UBS claim against Multi-Strat, the cost of defending the claim, and the benefit of the settlement? Of even more importance, has the Debtor disclosed its conflict of interest in connection with the UBS/Multi-Strat settlement? Has the Debtor disclosed to the Multi-Strat investors that it has retained all claims possessed by the Debtor against Multi-Strat in its Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization? (See Retained Claims Dkt. #1389-5) If in fact the two settlements of the UBS claims are linked (one against the Debtor and one against Multi-Strat), the Advisors Act and applicable law require notice of the conflict to the investors in Multi-Strat. Has the Debtor, in entering into the settlement, obtained a fairness type opinion by an independent third party? The Settlement Agreement states that Multi-Strat has received legal advice from independent counsel. The statement in the Settlement Agreement appears to be inaccurate for the reason set forth later in this opposition.

18. It is unclear if the Debtor’s settlement with UBS is conditioned upon the approval of the UBS/Multi-Strat settlement. If such a condition exists, the Debtor has an obvious conflict between its role as “investment manager for Multi-Strat” and its position as a Debtor in Possession in this case. It cannot serve both masters. It is in the interest of the Debtor to have Multi-Strat pay as much as possible to reduce the exposure of the Debtor to UBS. To the extent payment comes from Multi-Strat, the payment is coming out of the pocket of the third party investors. If in fact the Debtor owned one hundred percent (100%) of Multi-Strat, this would not be an issue, however, the Debtor's minimal interest in Multi-Strat places the burden of the UBS\Multi-Strat settlement on others.

19. It is clear that, to the extent the Debtor\ UBS and Multi-Strat\UBS settlements are linked and contingent upon one another, the Debtor has a conflict of interest in acting on behalf of both parties. The Debtor's actions, with respect to this clear conflict, violate both the Debtor's fiduciary duties as possibly the Multi-Strat general partner and the requirements imposed on the Debtor under the Advisors Act.

20. The Advisers Act establishes a federal fiduciary duty for investment advisers that cannot be waived. See, e.g., SEC v. Capital Gains Research Bureau, Inc., 375 U.S. 180, 194 (1963); Transamerica Morg. Advisors (tama) v. Lewis, 444 U.S. 11, 17 (1979) (“§206 establishes ‘federal fiduciary standards’ to govern the conduct of investment advisers.”); Santa Fe Indus. v. Green, 430 U.S. 462, 471, n.11 (1977) (in discussing SEC v. Capital Gains, stating that the Supreme Court's reference to fraud in the “equitable” sense of the term was “premised on its recognition that Congress intended the Investment Advisers Act to establish federal fiduciary standards for investment advisers”). See also Investment Advisers Act Release No. 3060 (July 28, 2010) (“Under the Advisers Act, an adviser is a fiduciary whose duty is to serve the best interests of its clients, which includes an obligation not to subrogate clients' interests to its own”) (citing Proxy Voting by Investment Advisers, Investment Advisers Act Release No. IA2106 (Jan. 31, 2003)).

21. This is manifested in a duty of loyalty and a duty of utmost care, which include a duty of transparency. It also means that the Registered Investment Advisor (“RIA”) has to follow the terms of the agreements and the regulations that apply to the investment vehicle. Section 204A of the Advisers Act requires investment advisors (whether SEC-registered or not) to establish, maintain, and enforce written policies and procedures reasonably designed to reflect the RIA’s fiduciary duties and to prevent the RIA from violating disclosure rules. See 17 C.F.R. § 275.206(4)-7. That also entails the RIA’s duty to disclose all facets surrounding potential conflicts of interest to investors.

22. Specifically, for all conflicts of interest, the RIAs must disclose those conflicts to the clients verbally, in writing, on Form ADV or a combination of the foregoing. General Instruction 3 to Part 2 of Form ADV (stating that an adviser’s disclosure obligation “requires that [the adviser] provide the client with sufficiently specific facts so that the client is able to understand the conflicts of interest [the adviser has] and the business practices in which [the adviser] engage[s], and can give informed consent to such conflicts or practices or reject them”). See also Investment Advisers Act Release 3060, supra; General Instruction 3 to Part 2 of Form ADV (“Under federal and state law, you are a fiduciary and must make full disclosure to your clients of all material facts relating to the advisory relationship. As a fiduciary, you also must seek to avoid conflicts of interest with your clients, and, at a minimum, make full disclosure of all material conflicts of interest between you and your clients that could affect the advisory relationship. This obligation requires that you provide the client with sufficiently specific facts so that the client is able to understand the conflicts of interest you have and the business practices in which you engage, and can give informed consent to such conflicts or practices or reject them.”). See also Robare Group, Ltd., et al. v. SEC, 922 F.3d 468, 472 (D.C. Cir. 2019) (“[R]egardless of what Form ADV requires, [investment advisers have] a fiduciary duty to fully and fairly reveal conflicts of interest to their clients.”).

23. Where an RIA places its interests above the advisee or its investors, the Advisers Act holds such RIA is liable for breach of fiduciary duty. Violating any premise of the advisor act (or any rule or regulation) voids the advisory agreement. 15 U.S.C. § 80b-15 (“Every contract ...heretofore or hereafter made, the performance of which involves the violation of, or the continuance of any relationship or practice in violation of any provision of this title, or any rule, regulation, or order thereunder, shall be void (1) as regards the rights of any person who, in violation of any such provision, rule, regulation, or order, shall have made or engaged in the performance of any such contract, and (2) as regards the rights of any person who, not being a party to such contract, shall have acquired any right thereunder with actual knowledge of the facts by reason of which the making or performance of such contract was in violation of any such provision.”).

24. The law of Delaware also does not allow a general partner fiduciary to serve two masters. See Miller vs Am Real Estate Partners L.P. (attached as Exhibit 1 pages 10 to 12).

VI. THE SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT DOES NOT PUT AN END TO THE UBS MULTI-STRAT LITIGATION AND REQUIRES THE DEBTOR, AS INVESTMENT’ MANAGER FOR MULTI-STRAT, TO ACT CONTRARY TO MULTI-STRAT’S BEST INTERESTS

25. Dugaboy would note for the Court the following elements of the Settlement Agreement that place the Debtor in direct conflict with Multi-Strat:

- a) The Debtor is not releasing any claim it has against Multi-Strat for the assets transferred to Multi-Strat that are the subject of the UBS New York lawsuit.

- b) The Debtor, notwithstanding its asserted position as investment manager for Multi-Strat, has obligated itself to investigate and participate in the prosecution and investigation of claims against Multi-Strat (See Settlement Agreement, Dkt. #2200, Pg. 5, ¶ 1(c)).
- c) The Settlement Agreement contains in paragraph 11 a statement that each party (which would include Multi-Strat) has been “adequately represented by independent legal counsel or its own choice.” The section goes on to state that Multi-Strat “had the opportunity to have this Agreement and all the terms and conditions contained herein explained by independent counsel who has answered any and all questions.” Inasmuch as the Debtor has claims against Multi-Strat (See Retained Claims in the Debtor’s Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization, Dkt. #1389-5) and Pachulski represents the Debtor under no set of facts can the Debtor claim that Pachulski can act as independent counsel for Multi-Strat. Any representation of Multi-Strat by the Pachulski firm is the representation of an adverse interest. Multi-Strat did not have either independent counsel or a third party not affiliated with the Debtor or Strand Advisors analyze its exposure with respect to the UBS lawsuit.
- d) The Settlement Agreement is unclear as to whether UBS is releasing all claims against Multi-Strat or just some claims. (See Dkt. #2199, ¶ 2, page 5 and other references to possible continuing litigation between UBS and Multi-Strat.)

VII. CONCLUSION

Based upon the foregoing, the Court should deny the Debtor's 9019 Motion or, alternatively, limit the approval to the UBS/Debtor settlement and exclude from any authorization or approval the UBS/ Multi-Strat portion of the settlement.

MEMORANDUM OPINION

STRINE, Vice Chancellor

This is yet another case in which a general partner of a limited partnership contends that the partnership agreement eliminates the applicability of default principles of fiduciary duty, and in which this court finds that the drafters of the agreement [*2] did not make their intent to eliminate such duties sufficiently clear to bar a fiduciary duty claim. Here, the drafters of the American Real Estate Partners, L.P. partnership agreement did not clearly restrict the fiduciary duties owed to the partnership by its general partner, a defendant entity wholly owned by defendant Carl Icahn. Indeed, the agreement seems to contemplate that the general partner and its directors could be liable for breach of fiduciary duty to the partnership if they acted in bad faith to advantage themselves at the expense of the partnership.

The fact that the general partner and other defendants owe fiduciary duties does not, however, mean that the plaintiffs have pled a viable claim. In this opinion addressing the defendants' motion to dismiss, I reject the defendants' argument that they did not owe fiduciary duties, but find that the plaintiffs have failed to make non-conclusory allegations of fact that, if true, support an inference that the defendants breached their fiduciary duty of loyalty. Because the plaintiffs have averred enough to lead the court to suspect that a viable complaint can be pled, however, the complaint is dismissed without prejudice. [*3] As to those aspects of the plaintiffs' complaint that are barred by the doctrine of laches, the dismissal shall be with prejudice.

I. Factual Background

Overview Of The Plaintiffs' Allegations

The plaintiffs are holders of limited partnership units in defendant American Real Estate Partners, L.P. ("American Real Estate" or the "Partnership"). They seek various forms of relief against the entities and persons who control American Real Estate: American Real Estate's general partner, defendant American Property Investors, Inc. ("the General Partner"); the General Partner's directors, including defendant Carl Icahn, the General Partner's owner and chairman of the board; and American Real Estate's majority unitholder, defendant High Coast Limited Partnership ("High Coast"), which is also controlled by Icahn and has American Property Investors as its general partner.

Distilled to its essence, the amended complaint alleges that Icahn (i) acquired the General Partner interest; (ii) used the General Partner to make a rights offering that would enable High Coast to acquire a majority of American Real Estate's units and insulate the General Partner from removal; (iii) cut off [*4] all distributions so that Icahn could devote available cash to investments in which other Icahn entities were interested and place pressure on other unitholders to sell out; (iv) amended the Partnership Agreement through a written consent executed by High Coast to broaden the purposes of the Partnership and allow American Real Estate to invest in any securities, thus furthering Icahn's plan to use American Real Estate as a financing agency for the investment goals of his other entities; and (v) bought out additional unitholders at an allegedly unfair price through a tender offer. According to plaintiffs, the sum total of these actions have left the public unitholders of American Real Estate as unitholders in a profitable Partnership that pays no distributions so that it can instead serve as a pool of available capital that Icahn can use for his own personal purposes. Because Icahn has total control over American Real Estate and its cash flow, and has made no secret of his intent to continue to use the Partnership in this self-interested manner, the capital markets have placed a correspondingly low value on Partnership units, to the detriment of the public unitholders.

I will now set [*5] forth the elements of this supposed scheme, as such elements are pled in the amended complaint.

A. High Coast Obtains Voting Control

American Real Estate was formed in early 1987. Its purpose was to invest and manage real estate, and to engage in other activities related to those purposes. As of the mid-1990s, American Real Estate owned a large portfolio of diverse real estate properties.

By 1995, the Icahn-controlled General Partner was in place at American Real Estate. In February 1995, Icahn's affiliate High Coast controlled 9.89% of American Real Estate's units.

That month, the General Partner caused American Real Estate to make a "Rights Offering." Each limited partner was issued one freely tradeable and transferable subscription right for each seven units held. The subscription right entitled the right holder to obtain six partnership units and one preferred unit for $ 55, with $ 45 of the price being allocated to the six units and $ 10 to the preferred unit. The price per regular unit was a slight discount to the then-prevailing market price.

All limited partners were also offered the opportunity to participate in an oversubscription privilege. This privilege enabled [*6] limited partners to purchase, on a pro rata basis, any rights not exercised by other holders. In connection with the Offering, High Coast guaranteed that it would purchase all units it would receive rights to purchase, and any units and preferred units that were not subscribed for by other limited partners.

The unitholders were informed that the Partnership wanted to raise cash to take advantage of "what the General Partner perceived as significant investment opportunities to acquire undervalued properties, such as development properties and non-performing loans, which the General Partner believes have the potential to diversify and enhance the long-term value of the Partnership's investment portfolio." <sup>1</sup>

Nearly two million rights were issued, of which only 418,307 were exercised. High Coast was therefore able to use the unexercised rights to acquire an additional 10,324,128 units (plus 1.7 million preferred units). This raised its ownership stake from 9.89% to 50.6%.

[*7] Because the Partnership Agreement states that the General Partner can be removed only by the affirmative votes of 75% of the unitholders, High Coast had achieved a level of ownership that rendered Icahn's control of American Real Estate unshakeable.

B. The General Partner Eliminates Cash Distributions

In 1993, the General Partner had halved quarterly distributions from a quarter to twelve and a half cents per unit. In December 1995 -- after High Coast obtained a majority of units -- the General Partner ceased all distributions.

According to the plaintiffs, this decision adversely affected the public unitholders. Although the units trade on the New York Stock Exchange, allegedly the trading volume in Partnership units is thin, and the price at which units trade relates principally to the amount of distributions it makes. Because Icahn had locked up control and had ceased to distribute any of the Partnership's cash flow to unitholders, the units' trading price allegedly was depressed.

C. Icahn Uses His Control To Amend The Partnership Agreement

In July 1996, the General Partner disseminated an "Information Statement" to unitholders, informing them that the Partnership Agreement [*8] had been amended solely by the votes of High Coast upon recommendation of the General Partner.

The "Amendment" altered § 3.01 of the Partnership Agreement, which defined American Real Estate's business and purpose. The Amendment ended the Partnership's exclusive focus on real estate to enable American Real Estate to invest in securities of any kind, whether or not related to real estate. As the information statement indicated:

The equity securities in which the Partnership may invest may include common stocks, preferred stocks and securities convertible into common stocks, as well as warrants to purchase such securities. The debt securities in which the Partnership may invest may include bonds, debentures, notes, mortgage-related securities and municipal obligations. Certain of such securities may include lower rated securities which may provide the potential for higher yield and therefore may entail higher risk. In addition, the Partnership may engage in . . . options and futures transactions, foreign currency transactions and leveraging for either hedging or other purposes. <sup>2</sup>

The information statement also indicated that the broadening of American Real Estate's [*9] investments could endanger the tax status of the Partnership.

The purpose of the Amendment was articulated as follows:

The Partnership intends to continue to invest its assets available for investment in undervalued assets in the real estate market. . . [However,] while the Partnership believes opportunistic real estate investments continue to remain available, such investments have become more competitive to source and the increased competition may have an adverse impact on the spreads and the ability to find quality assets that provide returns sought by the Partnership. In addition. . . the Partnership Agreement only permits the Partnership to invest in assets related to real estate unless such investments are of a short-term nature pending investment in real estate assets, such as deposit accounts and money market funds. The General Partner believes that it is in the best interests of the Partnership and the Unitholders for the Partnership to [*10] be permitted to invest a portion of the Partnership's funds in assets outside the real estate market that may provide returns on its funds in excess of those available to the Partnership in the current real estate market or those currently received on investments in government securities. <sup>3</sup>

The public unitholders were also informed, however, that High Coast's reasons for voting their units to consent to the Amendment to the Partnership Agreement were not entirely related to furthering the interests of American Real Estate as a partnership. Rather,

Icahn's approval of the Amendment to the Partnership Agreement through High Coast and the General Partner's selection of non-real estate investments may be influenced by factors other than the best interests of the Partnership and maximization of Unitholder value. Such factors may include whether the General Partner and its affiliates, including Icahn, have independent investments in such assets which may benefit from investments by the Partnership. <sup>4</sup>

[*11] The unitholders were also told that the Partnership "anticipated that Mr. Icahn, as Chairman, and personnel of the General Partner and the Partnership will be responsible for selecting non-real estate investments by the Partnership as they have with respect to real estate related investments." <sup>5</sup> The Information Statement further warned that "the General Partner's selection of non-real estate investments may be subject to conflicts of interest, including those relating to whether the General Partner or its affiliates have independent investments in such assets which may benefit from investments by the Partnership." <sup>6</sup>

The unitholders were also told that the Audit Committee of the General Partner had approved the Amendment, acting independently of the General Partner's management. The Audit Committee was comprised of defendants Alfred D. Kingsley, William A. Leidesdorf, and Jack G. Wasserman. According to the Information Statement, the Audit Committee, upon advice [*12] from Coopers & Lybrand, concluded that the expansion of American Real Estate's permissible investments was in the best interests of the Partnership because of the limited opportunities available in the real estate market; the benefits of a more diversified investment portfolio; and the potential gains that could come from non-real estate investments. After Audit Committee approval, the full board of the General Partner, including Icahn, approved the Amendment and submitted it to High Coast for the necessary votes to adopt it.

D. High Coast Makes A Tender Offer

In November 1998, High Coast made a tender offer for 10,000,000 -- or nearly 40% of all -- American Real Estate units at $ 10.50 per unit. That offer was successful and resulted in High Coast upping its holdings to 89.7% of all units.

According to the plaintiffs -- who did not sell in the offer -- the $ 10.50 per-unit price was well below the $ 18.00 per-unit net asset value of American Real Estate. They say that High Coast was able to buy at this allegedly unfair price because Icahn had left unitholders with no option. Because Icahn controlled American Real Estate, had cut all distributions, had announced that he [*13] would invest the Partnership's cash in non-real estate ventures for reasons that were self-interested, and had begun to make such investments, plaintiffs contend that the unitholders had no real choice but to accept what they were being offered.

E. Icahn's Investments On Behalf Of American Real Estate

The plaintiffs argue that Icahn and the General Partner have "intentionally and willfully" caused American Real Estate "to make investments which: ([1]) are high risk; (2) have no financial benefit to the Partnership; and (3) have depressed the value of the Units." <sup>7</sup> In particular, the plaintiffs contend that American Real Estate has been used as a financing tool to aid Icahn in his efforts to obtain a control position in a number of companies, including RJR Nabisco and Phillips Services Corp. Icahn also caused the Partnership to purchase the bonds of several bankrupt Atlantic City casinos, with the hopes of obtaining control. The complaint further asserts that Icahn caused American Real Estate to purchase an Icahn-owned land development company for over $ 84 million.

[*14] The plaintiffs argue that these investments were risky (e.g., Phillips Services Corp. was bankrupt), and were an imprudent use of cash. Despite impressive cash flow from Partnership operations, Icahn continues to refrain from making distributions, eschewing that choice in favor of using Partnership cash as a source of capital in furtherance of the interests of other entities he controls.

The plaintiffs also allege the Icahn and the General Partner have intentionally disseminated -- unidentified -- negative news about the Partnership in order to depress the market value of units. They further claim that Icahn took advantage of this depression by having High Coast purchase another 400,000 units at less than $ 8 per unit in early 2000.

F. The Plaintiffs' Claims And The Defendants' Motion

The complaint pleads the story recited above with broad strokes. Most of the allegations are cursory, and unsupported by pled facts. The relief sought by the plaintiffs is pled in a like manner.

The plaintiffs contend that the defendants have violated the Partnership Agreement and their fiduciary duties by effecting the scheme outlined above. As relief, the plaintiffs seek:

- . [*15] unspecified damages;
- . a permanent injunction disabling the General Partner from acting as such;
- . dissolution of American Real Estate;
- . a mandatory injunction requiring the General Partner to make distributions or to undertake unspecified measures to increase unit value; and/or
- . their attorneys fees and costs.

The amended complaint was not served on the defendants until September 22, 2000. The original complaint in this action had been filed on November 18, 1998, but was never served on any of the defendants. The impetus for filing and serving an amended complaint appears to have come mostly from the court, which had inquired as to the status of this matter. The court's inquiry coincided with attempts by the plaintiffs and the defendants to settle this action, efforts which ultimately failed some time after the filing of the original complaint.

After the service of the amended complaint, the defendants filed and briefed a motion to dismiss. In their brief, the defendants have understandably tried to address the plaintiffs' rather unfocused claims on a transaction-by-transaction basis. The defendants argue that each of the transactions challenged was authorized [*16] by the Partnership Agreement, and that the provisions of the Partnership Agreement set forth specific standards of conduct that supplant traditional fiduciary duties. Because the General Partner and the other defendants acted in conformity with the contractually specified standards of conduct, the defendants argue that the amended complaint fails to state a claim upon which relief can be granted. In the alternative, the defendants argue that the complaint does not state a claim even if the defendants owed fiduciary duties to the unitholders. Additionally, the defendants argue that some aspects of plaintiffs' claims are time-barred, because the plaintiffs did not serve their complaint until three years after the events in question.

II. Procedural Standards

On a motion to dismiss, this court must assume the truth of all well-pled allegations of fact.<sup>8</sup> The court, however, need not give weight to conclusory allegations that are unsupported by specific allegations of fact.<sup>9</sup> After examining the complaint in this pro-plaintiff manner, the court may dismiss the complaint only if it is reasonably certain that the facts pled in the complaint would not support any claim for relief. [*17]<sup>10</sup>

III. Legal Analysis

A. The Plaintiffs' Claims Related To The Rights Offering Are Time-Barred

The complaint pleads that the Rights Offering occurred in February 1995. The original, un-served complaint was not filed until November 1998, more than three years after the consummation of the Rights Offering.

There can be no excuse for such late filing. The plaintiffs have failed to allege that the applicable legal limitations period of three years -- to which this court ordinarily looks in order to apply the doctrine of laches -- was equitably tolled.<sup>11</sup> This failure is understandable given the fact that there was litigation filed in this court that contributed to an alteration of the Rights Offering in favor of the limited partners.<sup>12</sup> Not only that, [*18] the plaintiffs have stood by while High Coast and other investors have conducted transactions pursuant to the Rights Offering and accepted the market risk that came with exercising the Rights. There being no just reason for plaintiffs to attack the Rights Offering in an untimely manner, the plaintiffs challenge to that Offering is dismissed.<sup>13</sup>

<sup>13</sup> The defendants also argued in their opening brief that all claims addressing actions taken by the defendants more than three years before the service of the complaint in September 2000 are barred by laches. That argument has force because the mere filing of a complaint is ordinarily insufficient to toll a statute of limitations, even if service is withheld because of some belief that the defendants

[*19] B. Does The Complaint State A Claim?

1. Does The Partnership Agreement Eliminate The General Partner's Fiduciary Duty Of Loyalty?

The defendants' contention that the plaintiffs have failed to plead a cognizable claim depends heavily on their argument that the Partnership Agreement eliminated any default fiduciary duty of loyalty owed by the General Partner, Icahn, and the other defendant directors to the limited partners of American Real Estate. The defendants base their argument on § 6.13 of the Agreement, and in particular subsection (d). The subsection reads as follows:

*Whenever in this Agreement the General Partner is permitted or required to make a decision (i) in its "sole discretion" or "discretion", with "absolute discretion" or under a grant of similar authority or latitude, the General Partner shall be entitled to consider only such interests and factors as it desires and shall have no duty or obligation to give any consideration to any interest of or factors affecting the Partnership, the Operating Partnership or the Record Holders, or (ii) in its "good faith" or under another express standard, the General Partner shall act under such express [*20] standard and shall not be subject to any other or different standards imposed by this Agreement or any other agreement contemplated herein.*<sup>14</sup> would be benefited by a delay. See Robertson v. Gest, Del. Supr., 608 A.2d 729, 1991 WL 316950, Order, Walsh, J. (1991); Russell v. Olmedo, Del. Supr., 275 A.2d 249 (1971). The plaintiffs have suggested, however, that the defendants did not wish for the complaint to be served and that plaintiffs held off from effecting service based on an agreement with defendants' counsel and in deference to the parties' settlement discussions. At oral argument, defendants' counsel acknowledged that this issue is not ripe for disposition at this time because the precise nature of the discussions between plaintiffs and defendants about service is unclear. Some factual record might be necessary to determine whether some tolling accord had been reached, and additional briefing would be helpful on whether the approach taken in Robertson v. Gest and Russell v. Olmedo applies in the equitable context of a laches argument.

According to the defendants, § 6.13(d) sweeps away all default principles of fiduciary duty when the sole and complete discretion standard governs the General Partner's actions. The sole and complete discretion standard, they contend, is utterly inconsistent with the default duty of loyalty, which would require that the General Partner treat the limited partners fairly in any conflict situation. How can one square that duty of fairness with § 6.13(d)'s statement that the General Partner need not consider any particular factor in making decisions subject to the sole and complete discretion standard?

The defendants' focus on this question is logical. As they note, several of the acts the plaintiffs complain of fall under the "sole and complete discretion" standard. For example, under the Agreement, the General [*21] Partner has sole and complete discretion to make or withhold distributions.<sup>15</sup> Therefore, § 6.13(d) is implicated by the plaintiffs' challenge to the General Partner's decision to cease distributions.

Likewise, the Agreement contains the following broad provision stating:

6.01 Management and Control of Partnership. Except as otherwise expressly provided or limited by the provisions of this Agreement (including, without limitation, the provisions of Article VII), the General Partner shall have full, exclusive and complete discretion to manage and control the business and affairs of the Partnership, to make all decisions affecting the business and affairs of the Partnership, and to take all such actions as it deems necessary or appropriate to accomplish the purposes of the Partnership as set forth herein. The General Partner shall use reasonable efforts to carry out the purposes of the Partnership as set forth herein. The General Partner shall use reasonable efforts [*22] to carry out the purposes of the Partnership and shall devote to the management of the business and affairs of the Partnership such time as the General Partner, in its sole and absolute discretion, shall deem to be reasonably required for the operation thereof. No Limited Partner, Record Holder, Non-Consenting Investor or Subsequent Transferee shall have any authority, right or power to bind the Partnership, or to manage or control, or to participate in the management or control of, the business and affairs of the Partnership in any manner whatsoever.<sup>16</sup>

The defendants argue that this section applies to the General Partner's investment decisions. Because the core purpose of the Partnership is to make investments in real estate and (under the contested Amendment, non-real estate) investments, the defendants argue that § 6.13(d) applies to the plaintiffs' challenges to specific investment decisions made by the General Partner.

Once again, therefore, this court faces [*23] a situation where an agreement which does not expressly preclude the application of default principles of fiduciary is argued to do so by implication. Indeed, this case presents the court with an opportunity to address a contractual provision similar to the one it interpreted on two occasions in Gotham Partners, L.P. v. Hallwood Realty Corp.,<sup>17</sup> and contemporaneously with this case in Gelfman v. Weeden Investors, L.P.<sup>18</sup> In each of those cases, this court held that the traditional fiduciary entire fairness standard could not be applied because it was inconsistent with a contractual provision providing a general partner with sole and complete discretion to effect certain actions subject solely to a contract-specific liability standard. The court's decision was based on two factors. First, the court noted the difference between the sole and complete discretion standard articulated in the agreements, which explicitly stated that the general partner had no duty to consider the interests of the partnership or the limited partner in making its decisions, and the traditional notion that a fiduciary acting in a conflict situation has a duty to prove that it acted in a procedurally [*24] and substantively fair manner.<sup>19</sup> Second, and even more critically, however, each of the agreements indicated that when the sole and complete discretion standard applied, any other conflicting standards in the agreements, other contracts, or under law (including the DRULPA) were to give way if it would interfere with the general partners' freedom of action under the sole and complete discretion standard.<sup>20</sup> That is, in each case, the agreement expressly stated that default principles of fiduciary duty would be supplanted if they conflicted with the operation of the sole and complete discretion standard.<sup>21</sup>

[*25] This case presents a twist on Gotham Partners and Gelfman. Like the provisions in Gotham Partners and Gelfman, § 6.13(d) sets forth a sole discretion standard that appears to be quite different from the duty of a fiduciary to act with procedural and substantive fairness in a conflict situation. What is different about § 6.13(d), however, is that it does not expressly state that default provisions of law must give way if they hinder the General Partner's ability to act under the sole discretion standard. Rather, § 6.13(d) merely states that other standards in the Agreement or agreements contemplated by the agreement give way to the sole discretion standard. By its own terms, § 6.13(d) says nothing about default principles of law being subordinated when the sole discretion standard applies.

This omission is of legal significance. In prior cases, this court has held that default principles of fiduciary duty will apply unless a partnership agreement plainly provides otherwise.<sup>22</sup> As the defendants would have it, when the Partnership Agreement says that the General Partner has sole discretion, it means that the General Partner has unreviewable power to act in any [*26] manner whatsoever, however advantageous to the General Partner and however disadvantageous to the Partnership. According to the defendants, the General Partner could choose to invest Partnership funds in a failing venture solely to ensure that the General Partner's own investment in that venture is not lost, and turn its back on a less risky and more profitable opportunity for the Partnership.

This court has made clear that it will not be tempted by the piteous pleas of limited partners who are seeking to escape the consequences of their own decisions to become investors in a partnership whose general partner has clearly exempted itself from traditional fiduciary duties.<sup>23</sup> [*28] The DRULPA puts investors on notice that fiduciary duties may be altered by partnership agreements, and therefore that investors should be careful to read partnership agreements before buying units.<sup>24</sup> In large measure, the DRULPA reflects the [*27] doctrine of caveat emptor, as is fitting given that investors in limited partnerships have countless other investment opportunities available to them that involve less risk and/or more legal protection. For example, any investor who wishes to retain the protection of traditional fiduciary duties can always invest in corporate stock.

But just as investors must use due care, so must the drafter of a partnership agreement who wishes to supplant the operation of traditional fiduciary duties. In view of the great freedom afforded to such drafters and the reality that most publicly traded limited partnerships are governed by agreements drafted exclusively by the original general partner, it is fair to expect that restrictions on fiduciary duties be set forth clearly and unambiguously.<sup>25</sup> A topic as important as this should not be addressed coyly.

[*29] Here, I conclude that the Partnership Agreement fails to preclude the operation of the fiduciary duty of loyalty with sufficient clarity, even in situations when the General Partner has the contractual power to act in its sole discretion. The reasons I reach this conclusion are several. First, I again note the absence of any express indication that default principles of law must give way when the sole discretion standard applies. This absence is striking given the prevalence of such express provisions, and their use in concert with contractual <sup>24</sup> That is, if the investors wish to protect themselves through legal means. Many investors protect themselves by diversifying their portfolios. One suspects that investment funds and other sophisticated investors also protect themselves by refusing to invest their money in entities controlled by persons who have burned them in the past, and that reputational factors might therefore play some role in deterring opportunistic behavior.

<sup>25</sup> Sonet, 722 A.2d at 322 ("Principles of contract preempt fiduciary principles where the parties to a limited partnership have made their intentions to do so plain.") language markedly similar to § 6.13(d).<sup>26</sup> The drafter's decision to preempt conflicting provisions of the Agreement and of other contracts, but not those of default law can thus be viewed as intentional.

[*30] Second, other provisions of the Agreement imply that concepts of fiduciary duty will apply except when the Agreement clearly modifies them. For example, the Agreement contains an exculpatory provision -- § 6.14 -- that exempts the General Partner and its directors and officers from liability except for liability (i) for any breach of such Person's duty of loyalty to the Partnership, as such duty may be set forth in or modified by this Agreement, (ii) for acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or knowing violation of law or (iii) for any transaction from which such Person derived an improper benefit.<sup>27</sup>

While to some extent my reference to § 6.14 may be seen as begging the question since the application of § 6.14 itself raises the question of whether the Agreement has "modified" the duty of loyalty, the section seems to me to undercut the notion that § 6.13(d) provides the General Partner with the limitless scope of action [*31] for which the defendants contend. Given the breadth of actions to which the sole discretion standard applies, § 6.14 would have little scope if the defendants are correct about what § 6.13(d) means.

<sup>26</sup> Aside from Gotham Partners and Gelfman, I note that the leading treatise on the DRULPA includes a section of forms. That section advocates the use of contractual provisions like § 6.13(c), which state that when a sole discretion standard applies, other standards are to give way. Unlike § 6.13(c), however, the treatise form expressly states that the sole discretion standard applies to the exclusion of "any other or different standards imposed by this Agreement or any other agreement contemplated herein or by relevant provisions of law or equity or otherwise." Martin I. Lubaroff & Paul Altman, Lubaroff & Altman on Delaware Limited Partnerships, at F-38 (2000 Supp.) (emphasis added); see also id. at F-99 (essentially the same except using the term "applicable law" rather than "relevant provisions of law or equity").

Its presence in the contract and its preservation of liability for situations when the General Partner has breached its duty of loyalty or acted in bad faith is, on balance, more consistent with a reading of § 6.13(d) that leaves room for the application of the fiduciary duty of loyalty, at least as to its substantive aspects.

Finally, this interpretation is consistent with the Registration Statement provided to investors when the Partnership was first formed. That Statement contains a section stating:

6.12. Transactions with General Partner or Affiliates. In addition to transactions specifically contemplated by the terms and provisions of this Agreement, the Partnership is expressly permitted to enter into other transactions with the General Partner or any of its Affiliates, including, without limitation, buying and selling properties from or to the General Partner or any of its Affiliates, subject to the Limitations contained in this Agreement, the Delaware Act and in the [*32] Registration Statement.<sup>28</sup>

By its own terms, the Partnership Agreement indicates that the Registration Statement is contractually relevant:

The General Partner is accountable to the Partnership and the Unitholders as a fiduciary and, consequently, must exercise good faith and integrity in handling Partnership affairs. This is a rapidly developing and changing area of the law and API Investors who have questions concerning the duties of the General Partner should consult with their counsel. Under appropriate circumstances, a Unitholder may file a class action on behalf of all Unitholders for alleged violations by a General Partner of its fiduciary responsibility or of Federal or state securities laws.

The Partnership Agreement provides that the General Partner and its affiliates and all of their officers, directors, employees and agents will not be liable to the Partnership or to any Unitholder for any losses sustained or liabilities incurred as a result of any action that does not constitute (i) a breach of that person's duty of loyalty to the Partnership, as that duty of loyalty may be specified in or modified by the Partnership Agreement, (ii) an act or omission [*33] in bad faith which involves intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law or (iii) a transaction from which an improper personal benefit is derived.<sup>29</sup>

These provisions indicate that the drafters of the Partnership Agreement did not eliminate fiduciary duties in the sweeping manner contended for by the defendants. Because the Partnership Agreement must be read in accordance with the reasonable expectations of the investors, and because the Agreement does not clearly eliminate the application of the fiduciary duty of loyalty, I conclude that the General Partner owed certain loyalty-based duties to the limited partners.

The question is, exactly what elements of the traditional duty of loyalty apply? The parties have not shed much light on this topic, having confronted the basic question in starker terms. Therefore, I speak tentatively.

At first blush, however, it appears that the Agreement does have some effect on the [*34] traditional duty of loyalty. For one thing, the Agreement seems to preclude the application of any "fair process" test to a decision made by the General Partner that is subject to the sole discretion standard, even if such decision is conflicted. Typically, the fairness of a procedure would turn largely on the extent to which the interests of the minority (or in this case, the limited partners) were given due consideration in the decision-making machinery.<sup>30</sup> Because the sole discretion standard in the Agreement authorizes the General Partner to make decisions without giving any consideration to particular interests, including those of the limited partners, the application of a procedural fairness test conflicts directly with the contract.<sup>31</sup>

Less certain is whether the sole discretion [*35] standard obviates the duty of the General Partner to act with substantive fairness in a transaction between the General Partner (or an affiliate) and the Partnership. The parties have shed little light on this question, and I hesitate to answer it without additional help. Without prejudice to the defendants' ability to renew their argument at a later time if the need arises, I believe it prudent not to foreclose the possibility that something akin to a fairness standard applies in an interested transaction. The fact that § 6.14 does not exculpate the General Partner "for any transaction from which [it] derived an improper personal benefit" buttresses my hesitance to conclude that the General Partner may effect a self-dealing transaction on terms unduly favorable to itself.

Likewise, I conclude that the Partnership Agreement preserves that core aspect of the duty of loyalty which prohibits a fiduciary from taking bad faith action to injure the Partnership for his own personal advantage. Again, the specific indication in § 6.14 that the Agreement does not generally exculpate acts of bad faith supports this conclusion. So does a less case-specific, normative proposition. To the extent [*36] that an Agreement purports to insulate a General Partner from liability even for acts of bad faith towards the Partnership, it should do so in the most painstakingly clear terms. Whether an Agreement that permits a General Partner -- by its unmistakable terms -- to exercise its discretion in bad faith is consistent with Delaware public policy is in itself an important question. But no court need reach that question until a Partnership Agreement plainly provides the General Partner with authority to act in bad faith with impunity. The Partnership Agreement at issue in this case does not do so.

2. Does The Complaint State A Claim For Breach Of The Fiduciary Duty Of Loyalty?

Having concluded that the plaintiffs may state a cognizable claim if they allege facts that support a breach of the more substantive aspects of the traditional fiduciary duty of loyalty, I now turn to the task of analyzing the plaintiffs' claims. This task is complicated by the cursory nature of the complaint, which is redolent with accusations of bad faith schemes but short on the pleading of specific facts that support the inference that these alleged schemes may indeed exist.

In evaluating the plaintiffs' [*37] claims, I start with the fact that they do not allege that any of the General Partner's actions were beyond the contractual power of the General Partner, assuming that those actions were properly motivated and did not confer an improper benefit on the General Partner. Rather, the plaintiffs' ability to plead claims is based entirely on their ability to set forth facts supporting an inference that the General Partner breached its duty of loyalty. Indeed, the complaint alleges a breach of the Partnership Agreement in only two respects. The first is odd, in sense that the complaint alleges that the General Partner breached the Agreement by acting in a manner not exculpated by § 6.14. The second is more general, and consists in the proposition that the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing precludes all of the actions challenged by the plaintiffs.<sup>32</sup> Taken together, I have difficulty distinguishing these two "contractual claims" from the plaintiffs' claim that the General Partner and the other defendants breached their fiduciary duty of loyalty. For this reason, the rest of this opinion focuses on the question of whether the complaint pleads facts that support a breach of the [*38] substantive aspects of the duty of loyalty.

a. The General Partner's Termination Of Distributions

The plaintiffs allege that the General Partner initially halved distributions in 1993 and then terminated them altogether in [*39] December 1995. The General Partner's alleged motives for these reductions were: (i) to free up cash to invest in projects in which Icahn was investing through other entities he controlled; and (ii) to put downward pressure on the unit price of the Partnership's units and thus enable High Coast to conduct a tender offer for units at a bargain price.

As pernicious as this alleged conduct sounds in the abstract, the complaint does not plead a cognizable claim that the General Partner's decision to reduce and then terminate distributions was a breach of the duty of loyalty. Although the complaint's allegations are undoubtedly inflammatory, they are not backed up with pled facts.

Many businesses decide to eliminate dividends or distributions in order to use free cash for growth. Their shares or units then trade on the premise that the entity is a growth-oriented vehicle. In this case, American Real Estate units are publicly traded on a major stock market.

The complaint contains no facts that suggest that there were not potentially lucrative uses for the Partnership's cash. Under § 6.05 of the Agreement, the General Partner has "the sole and absolute discretion" to retain Partnership [*40] cash as "may be required to satisfy the anticipated present and future cash needs of the Partnership, whether <sup>32</sup> The complaint does not use the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing in any precise manner. That is, the complaint does not explain why a particular act of the General Partner could be seen, in view of the particular express provisions of the Agreement, as so repugnant to the reasonable expectations of the contracting parties as to be precluded by the implied covenant. Rather, the complaint pleads the implied covenant as a substitute for fiduciary duties, which at the very least precludes the General Partner from exercising its contractual powers in bad faith so as to advantage itself at the expense of the Partnership and the limited partners. As so used by the plaintiffs, the implied covenant becomes indistinguishable from a core aspect of the fiduciary duty of loyalty.

for operations, expansion, improvements, acquisitions or otherwise."

What the plaintiffs at best allege is that they have a difference of opinion with the General Partner about the mission of the Partnership. The plaintiffs contend that the Partnership should be managed in a more balanced fashion, in which the Partnership makes regular cash distributions and pursues more modest growth. Instead of doing as the plaintiffs wish, the General Partner has decided to take a long-term approach that focuses on capital growth. Without more, pleading that the General Partner of a limited partnership adopted such a strategy does not suffice to state a claim.

Certainly, however, such a strategy could be deemed a breach of the duty of loyalty, if well-pled facts indicated that the strategy was designed to provide benefits to the General Partner, to the detriment of other unitholders. Such facts are not pled here, however.

As will be noted later, the plaintiffs have failed to plead facts that indicate that Partnership cash has been invested in projects solely so as to bail out or enrich [*41] Icahn, or with any intent to otherwise injure the Partnership. Likewise, even under the pro-plaintiff standards of Rule 12(b)(6), I cannot draw the inference that the General Partner's decision to eliminate distributions in 1995 was designed to enable High Coast to make a low-ball tender offer in 1998.

Nor have the plaintiffs alleged any other more specific form of harm flowing from the termination of distributions. For example, they have not claimed that the General Partner retained the cash and attempted to grow the Partnership because that would result in an increase of management fees to the General Partner, which would more than offset any costs to High Coast from the termination of distributions. Nor have the plaintiffs alleged that the termination of distributions has caused limited partners adverse tax consequences.

b. The Amendment To The Partnership Agreement

The plaintiffs claim that the General Partner had a bad faith reason to amend the Partnership Agreement to permit the Partnership to invest in non-real estate projects: the amendment was necessary if Icahn was to be able to use the Partnership as a source of funding for his various efforts to acquire control [*42] of entities in diverse business fields. The Partnership itself, plaintiffs insist, had no reason to look beyond real estate for places to invest its cash. Indeed, the plaintiffs allege that Icahn admitted that the General Partner's proposal of the Amendment was a breach of fiduciary duty, because the Information Statement expressly indicated that High Coast's consent to the Amendment was influenced by factors other than "the best interests of the Partnership and maximization of Unitholder value."<sup>33</sup> These factors included "whether the General Partner and its affiliates, including Icahn, have independent [non-real estate] assets which may benefit from investments by the Partnership."<sup>34</sup> Based on little more than these statements, the plaintiffs allege that the General Partner breached its duty of loyalty by proposing the Amendment in the first place.

There is no doubt that Icahn admitted that his own reasons for approving the Amendment in his capacity as High [*43] Coast's owner were self-interested and not in perfect alignment with the Partnership's other unitholders.<sup>35</sup> But the plaintiffs ask me to infer from this the fact that the General Partner qua General Partner proposed the Amendment so as to advantage Icahn and disadvantage the Partnership. This I cannot do.

The Information Statement that the complaint cites many times identifies a perfectly legitimate rationale for the Amendment: the Partnership could obtain better results if it could also invest its cash in potentially higher-yielding non-real estate investments. The complaint does not plead any facts that support an inference that this was not the motive of the General Partner. Tellingly, the complaint does not allege any facts about the process that was [*44] undertaken by the General Partner in deciding to propose the Amendment. This omission is interesting because the Information Statement upon which the plaintiffs place so much reliance does describe the process.

According to the Information Statement, the General Partner's Audit Committee, acting with advice from independent financial advisors, studied the advisability of the Amendment and decided that it was a favorable initiative from the perspective of the Partnership.<sup>36</sup> The Audit Committee was comprised of directors of the General Partner who, according to the complaint, had no affiliation with any Icahn-controlled entities other than the General Partner as of the time they made their decision. It is also noteworthy that the Amendment did not diminish any of the protections that the Agreement provided to unitholders against self-dealing by the General Partner. Rather, it simply had the effect of increasing the universe of investments that the Partnership could make.

Absent [*45] well-pled allegations that the purpose of the Amendment was to broaden the purposes of the Partnership so that it could make investments that were not beneficial to it, but were beneficial to Icahn and his affiliates, I believe that the plaintiffs have failed to state a claim. The mere fact that the Amendment permitted the Partnership to invest in a wider array of opportunities, and that those opportunities could include those which with other Icahn affiliates were involved, does not suffice. In this regard, my conclusion is closely linked to my later finding that the plaintiffs have failed to plead facts from which an inference can be drawn that the General Partner invested Partnership funds in Icahn-recommended investments on terms that were unfair to the Partnership and advantageous to Icahn.

Finally, I note another troubling aspect of this part of plaintiffs' claim, which must be addressed if this claim is later resurrected. That possibility exists because my dismissal order will be made without prejudice. The plaintiffs' complaint was filed some two years after the 1996 Amendment was enacted and was not served until four years thereafter. In that time, the Partnership has made [*46] investments in reliance on the Amendment. Public investors have bought units in the Partnership based on the expectation that the Partnership's purposes extended beyond real estate.

The defendants have not focussed their laches claim specifically on the Amendment. In the future, they may renew that motion (if plaintiffs replead) with this issue in mind. I have difficulty conceiving of how this court can practicably rescind an Amendment that has been in effect for five years. Certainly, any relief that would be available would be prospective in nature only. When unitholders wish to challenge a partnership agreement amendment they should do so promptly and with vigor, not with the torpor that has characterized this litigation.

c. The 1998 High Coast Tender Offer

In the most cursory of terms, the plaintiffs challenge the November 1998 tender offer by High Coast as coercive and undervalued. They assert that the unitholders felt that they had no other choice than to tender because the General Partner had cut off distributions and was investing in Icahn-directed investments. The plaintiffs also allege that the offer did not fairly reflect the net asset value ("NAV") of the Partnership, [*47] but do not allege that limited partnership units generally trade at a price equaling or even approaching NAV. The plaintiffs also do not identify whether the offer included a premium to the unaffected trading price.

I do not believe that these allegations state a claim. For one thing, the tender offer was made by High Coast. The plaintiffs ask me to draw the inference that the General Partner's termination of distributions in 1995 was designed to set the stage for a tender offer by High Coast in 1998. Even under liberal pleading standards, that inference is not a reasonable one. Nor have the plaintiffs identified public disclosures of the Partnership that were coercive in nature; at most, the plaintiffs have pointed to the 1996 Information Statement as involving disclosures that coerced investors in [*48] the 1998 tender offer. But the fact that the Partnership had disclosed two years earlier that High Coast's motives for approving the 1996 Amendment were not in total alignment with other unitholders does not rise to the level sufficient to constitute actionable coercion in connection with a 1998 tender offer by High Coast. Put bluntly, the complaint does not allege facts that support the inference that the General Partner took wrongful coercive actions in connection with High Coast's 1998 tender offer.

Even more fundamentally, the plaintiffs before the court do not allege that they tendered into the offer or otherwise suffered any injury on account of it. According to the plaintiffs, High Coast already owned a majority of the Partnership's units before the tender offer. As a result, it is difficult to conceive of how non-tendering unitholders were injured by the tender offer.

d. The Partnership's Investments

As a final matter, I reach the plaintiffs' claim that particular investments made by the General Partner resulted from breaches of fiduciary duty. This is a critical aspect of the plaintiffs' complaint. In large measure, my decision about the Amendment is influenced by the [*49] failure of the plaintiffs to plead facts that support an inference that the General Partner's investments were wrongful.

significant premium over the previously traded unit price of $ 7.25. Mem. in Supp. of Defs.' Mot. to Dismiss Am. Class Action Compl. at 6.

The best way to illustrate this is to set forth the most relevant paragraphs of the plaintiffs' complaint verbatim:

73. Since 1997, consistent with its admonition in the Information Statement, Icahn and the General Partner have intentionally and willfully caused the Partnership to make investments which: [1] are high risk; (2) have no financial benefit to the Partnership; and (3) have depressed the value of the Units.

74. As a result, the trading price of the Partnership's Units have [sic] been depressed, and the market for the Units has been highly illiquid.

75. For instance, the Partnership has earned sufficient net cash flow beyond its daily needs to make substantial distributions and/or dividends which would have resulted in a significant increase in the trading value of the Units.

76. According to the Partnership's Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 1999, (the "1999 10-K"), filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission on March 30, 2000, in 1999, AREP generated net cash flow after payment of maturing debt obligation [*50] and capital expenditures of approximately $ 35,400,000.

77. According to the 1999 10-K, during 1998, AREP had a net cash flow of $ 30,000,000. Some of this cash flow was generated by way of sale of the Partnership's properties, and some of the cash flow was generated interest earned from the proceeds of the Rights Offering.

78. Notwithstanding these substantial net cash flows, the General Partner refused to make distributions or declare a dividend, or take other steps which would have lead to a rise in the Units' trading price and maximization of value.

79. Rather, as the General Partner, Icahn and the Individual Defendants admit in the 1999 10-K, the net cash flow was added to AREP's operating cash reserve, which was over $ 100,000,000 by December 31, 1999.

80. These cash reserves have not been used for the financial well being of AREP or its Unitholders, but rather to further Icahn's takeover schemes.

81. For instance, in 1998 and 1999, AREP invested approximately $ 175,300,000 in the stock of RJR Nabisco in order to aid Icahn in his efforts to take control of that company, financing this purchase at least in part with its cash reserves or cash flow.

82. [*51] During the period of 1997 through 1998, Icahn and the General Partner further caused AREP to invest over $ 100,000,00 of AREP's cash in bonds of certain bankrupt Atlantic City casinos, with the goal of obtaining control of these casinos, including the Sands, the Claridge and Stratosphere.

83. With regard to these Gaming Investments, Icahn has diverted and misappropriated AREP's cash reserves and thus monies which could be distributed to Unitholders to enable himself to cheaply gain control of these entities.

84. Similarly, Icahn cause AREP to make a significant investment in a bankrupt Canadian corporation, Philips Services, Corp. ("Philips") and intends to use AREP to help him gain control of Philips.

85. Icahn has further cause AREP to invest in capital intensive real estate companies, which do not generate current income.

86. For instance, during the first quarter of 2000, Icahn cause AREP to purchase Bayswater Realty & Capital Corp. ("Bayswater") a land development company which he owned, for $ 84,500,000.

87. Such investment in undeveloped land involve more risk than land upon which developments have been completed, and do not generate operating revenue, [*52] while incurring costs to develop the properties.

88. Such investment do not result in the maximization of value for the Unitholders, and do not and have not resulted in higher Unit prices or liquidity for Unitholders.

89. At the same time, the General Partner and

Icahn have caused AREP to make these investments, Icahn and the General Partner have failed to take any steps which would increase liquidity for AREP's Unitholders or increase the market price or trading value of the Units.<sup>38</sup>

What is striking about these paragraphs is how conclusory and non-specific they are. Given the nature of the plaintiffs' conspiracy theory, one would have expected them to have identified particular Partnership investments of the following kinds:

- . An investment in which Partnership money was substituted in for the funds of another Icahn affiliate, so that the Icahn affiliate could gain cash flow while Icahn retained control of the entity in which the investment was made;

- . An [*53] investment in which the Partnership infused capital in an Icahn-controlled entity that needed capital to avoid a restructuring or a loss of control by Icahn;

- . The purchase by the Partnership of an entity that was already owned by another Icahn-controlled entity at an unfair price; or

- . A scenario in which a group of Icahn affiliates purchased control of an entity, and in which the Partnership's portion of the investment had the least attractive features. That is, a situation where the Partnership assumed a great deal of risk or a low return, in order to allow other Icahn-controlled entities to receive better terms and for Icahn to obtain control.

Instead, what the complaint gives the court is cursory allegations that the Partnership invested in risky projects along with other Icahn-controlled entities, when it could have been paying out cash distributions (the bulk of which would have gone to High Coast). Even when the complaint alleges that the Partnership purchased an entity from another Icahn affiliate, the Bayswater Realty & Capital Corp., the complaint fails to allege that the

It is unclear to me what is wrong with the Partnership [*54] co-investing with other Icahn-controlled entities in situations that are potentially advantageous to all concerned. For example, the complaint alleges that the Partnership invested over $ 175 million in the stock of RJR Nabisco as part of Icahn's effort to obtain control of that entity.<sup>39</sup> But the complaint does not allege that the investment turned out poorly for the Partnership.

In their briefs, the plaintiffs go a bit further and point in an unclear, but troubling way, to potential facts about one Partnership investment that might suggest that the General Partner used Partnership funds to make an investment that was principally motivated by a desire to aid Icahn, without providing any benefit to the Partnership itself. The words of the brief insinuate that this investment involved the Partnership assuming an equity or creditor position towards a troubled entity that Icahn already controlled, thus preserving Icahn's control and providing him with cash flow at great risk and little upside [*55] to the Partnership. But these allegations are not in the complaint and are, to be frank, confusingly stated in the brief.

As of now, the complaint simply alleges that the General Partner is co-investing with other Icahn affiliates in risky projects and that these investments have not yet produced an increase in unit prices. I am not unaware that Icahn had personal reasons which could have motivated him to have caused the General Partner to make investments that were not in the best interests of the Partnership. Investments of the nature I outlined above are illustrative of my understanding of the core concerns raised by the plaintiffs.

That said, it remains the fact that Icahn, through High Coast, has a strong interest in the success of the Partnership, since he owns 90% of its units. The plaintiffs are resourceful enough to have identified and pled facts that support an inference that the General Partner has breached its duty of loyalty by making investments to advantage Icahn at the expense of the Partnership. They could have sought books and records to aid them in this effort.

Given the slow speed of this litigation, it is tempting to dismiss with prejudice. The pace of this [*56] case, however, is not solely the fault of the plaintiffs; they and the defendants were engaged in negotiations for two years which did not break down until last fall. The plaintiffs have also sketched the outlines of a factual scenario that involved the potential for serious abuse of the unitholders by the defendants. Given this factor, there is the prospect that the plaintiffs might be able to plead a cognizable claim using guidance from this opinion. Therefore, I will dismiss this action without prejudice.<sup>40</sup>

[*57] IV. Conclusion

For the foregoing reasons, the defendants' motion to dismiss the complaint is GRANTED. The defendants' motion to dismiss is granted with prejudice as to any actions of the defendants arising on or before three years before the filing of the complaint on November 18, 1998. The defendants'

<sup>40</sup>I urge the plaintiffs to give careful thought to who they name as defendants in any new complaint. In the existing complaint, the plaintiffs have pled claims against non-employee directors of the General Partner, and have not alleged any motive for purposeful wrongdoing on their part. Although these directors face a structural conflict, they had no personal interest in advantaging Icahn or High Coast. Gelfman, 2001 Del. Ch. LEXIS 108, *38 n.24; Gotham, 2001 Del. Ch. LEXIS 98, *42, 2001 WL 846054 at *30. As a result, they are likely protected from liability by § 6.14 of the Agreement, since any complaint against them would implicate only the duty of care.

As to any directors of the General Partner named in the amended complaint, the plaintiffs should also give thought to whether it is necessary to plead a redundant "aiding and abetting claim" against them. One would think that the directors either owed fiduciary duties to the unitholders or that they did not. If only the General Partner was owed such duties directly, its directors would simply be the means through which the General Partner acted.

Finally, I dismiss without further discussion the plaintiffs' dissolution claim, which lacks merit. The plaintiffs should give careful thought before reasserting that claim.

motion to dismiss is otherwise granted without prejudice to the plaintiffs' right to file an amended complaint. IT IS SO ORDERED.

OF AN ORDER APPROVING SETTLEMENT WITH UBS SECURITIES LLC AND UBS
[Relates to Docket No. 2199]

James Dondero (“Mr. Dondero”), a creditor, indirect equity security holder, and party in interest in the above-captioned bankruptcy case, hereby files this Objection<sup>1</sup> to Debtor’s Motion for Entry of an Order Approving Settlement with UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG London Branch and Authorizing Actions Consistent Therewith [Docket No. 2199] (the “Motion”)<sup>2</sup> filed by Highland Capital Management, L.P. (the “Debtor”). Through the Motion, the Debtor seeks entry of an order pursuant to sections 105(a) and 363 of title 11 of the United States Code (the “Bankruptcy Code”) and Rule 9019 of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure, approving a settlement agreement entered into between the Debtor and certain of its related entities, on the one hand, and UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG London Branch (collectively, “UBS”), on the other hand. In support of this objection, Mr. Dondero respectfully represents as follows:

<sup>1</sup> Mr. Dondero also asserts, and incorporates herein by reference, all arguments and assertions made in (i) the Limited Preliminary Objection to the Debtor’s Motion for Entry of an Order Approving Settlement with UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG London Branch and Authorizing Actions Consistent Therewith [Docket No. 2268]; and the (ii) Supplemental Opposition to Debtor’s Motion for Entry of an Order Approving Settlement with UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG London Branch and Authorizing Actions Consistent Therewith filed by The Dugaboy Investment Trust and Get Good Trust.

I. INTRODUCTION

1. Under Bankruptcy Rule 9019, the Bankruptcy Court is tasked with making an independent judgment on the merits of a proposed settlement to ensure that the proposed settlement is “fair, equitable, and in the best interest of the estate.”<sup>3</sup> While Mr. Dondero recognizes the Debtor’s efforts in arranging a settlement and potentially concluding contentious litigation spanning more than 10 years, the settlement proposed by the Debtor and UBS is not the typical garden variety settlement and, as set forth below, goes too far in a number of respects. For these reasons, the Court should carefully scrutinize each provision of the proposed settlement, and the settlement agreement as a whole, to ensure that it means the appropriate standards for approval under Fifth Circuit law. Mr. Dondero believes upon close scrutiny that the settlement is not approvable under Rule 9019 and Fifth Circuit precedent.

2. There are several significant issues with the terms of the settlement that concern Mr. Dondero and which merit denial of the Motion. Primarily, however, Mr. Dondero is concerned the proposed settlement improperly inflates UBS’s claim against the estate by giving it two large allowed claims, a large cash payment from Multi-Strat, and potential additional significant additional support and consideration as described in the settlement far in excess of what the Debtor has represented the value of the UBS Claim to be.

3. For these reasons, the settlement does not satisfy the standards of Rule 9019 and other applicable law, and the Motion should be denied.

II. STANDING

4. Mr. Dondero, as a creditor, indirect equity security holder, and party in interest, has standing to file this response and be heard on the Motion pursuant to section 1109(b) of the Bankruptcy Code and Rule 9019 of the Bankruptcy Rules.

5. While neither section 1109 nor any other section in the Bankruptcy Code specifically defines the term “party in interest,” section 1109(b) provides a non-exclusive list of entities that fall within the meaning of “party in interest” for the purposes of a chapter 11 proceeding. See Kipp Flores Architects, L.L.C. v. Mid-Continent Cas. Co., 852 F.3d 405, 413 (5th Cir. 2017) (“The Bankruptcy Code does not provide an exclusive definition of a party in interest, but the Code broadly includes debtors, creditors, trustees, indenture trustees, and equity security holders among the parties entitled, e.g., to notice of proceedings in the case.”).

6. Specifically, section 1109(b) provides that “[a] party in interest, including the debtor, the trustee, a creditors’ committee, an equity security holders’ committee, a creditor, an equity security holder, or any indenture trustee may raise and may appear and be heard on any issue in a case under [Chapter 11].” 11 U.S.C. § 1109(b). This section “has been construed to create a broad right of participation in Chapter 11 cases.” In re Global Industrial Technologies, Inc., 645 F.3d 201, 210 (3d Cir. 2011) (quoting In re Combustion Engineering, Inc., 391 F.3d 190, 214 n.21 (3d Cir. 2004)). Parties in interest “include not only the debtor, but anyone who has a legally protected interest that could be affected by a bankruptcy proceeding.” Adair v. Sherman, 230 F.3d 890, 894 n. 3 (7th Cir. 2000). See also 4 COLLIER ON BANKRUPTCY P 502.02 (16th ed. 2020) (“In the context of a chapter 11 case in particular, the term ‘party in interest’ expressly includes the debtor, the trustee, a creditors' committee, an equity security holders' committee, a creditor, an equity security holder, or any indenture trustee.”).

7. Further, in the context of a court's evaluation of a proposed settlement under Rule 9019, the input and interests of creditors are of particular importance. See In re Foster Mortgage Corp., 68 F.3d 914, 917 (5th Cir. 1996).

8. Here, Mr. Dondero has standing to be heard on any issue in this Chapter 11 case, including related to the Motion, because he is (i) a creditor; (ii) an indirect equity security holder; and (iii) a party in interest as those terms are interpreted under the Bankruptcy Code.

9. Mr. Dondero is a creditor of the Debtor because he has prepetition claims against the Debtor and its estate, including those asserted through proof of claim number 141 and 142 filed by Mr. Dondero on April 8, 2020.

10. In addition, in this particular case, Mr. Dondero also is a direct or indirect investor in Multi-Strat, and therefore has an interest in the management of the fund and the terms of its proposed settlement with UBS.

11. Mr. Dondero is also an indirect equity security holder through his role as the sole shareholder of Debtor's General Partner, Strand Advisors, Inc. (“Strand”). As the Debtor's General Partner, Strand maintains a 0.2508% partnership interest in the Debtor.

12. Accordingly, as both a creditor and equity security holder, Mr. Dondero qualifies as a “party in interest” under the Bankruptcy Code and has the right to file this response and be heard on Debtor's Motion.

13. Finally, Mr. Dondero also has standing as a “person aggrieved” as he would be “directly and adversely affected pecuniarily” by approval of this settlement. Mr. Dondero is subject to suit by the Debtor's unsecured creditors for claims that cannot be satisfied by the estate.

In addition, the proposed settlement provides that UBS and the Debtor will coordinate to pursue potential claims against Mr. Dondero and others. Mr. Dondero, then, has a pecuniary interest in the assets of the estate as the greater the value of the allowed claims, the more financial risk Mr. Dondero faces.

III. BACKGROUND

14. On October 16, 2019 (the “Petition Date”), the Debtor filed a voluntary petition for relief under chapter 11 of title 11 of the United States Code (the “Bankruptcy Code”) in the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware, Case No. 19-12239 (CSS) (the “Delaware Court”).

15. On June 26, 2020, UBS filed two substantively identical claims in the Bankruptcy Case: (i) Claim No. 190 filed by UBS Securities LLC; and (ii) Claim No. 191 filed by UBS AG London Branch (hereinafter collectively referred to as the “UBS Claim”). The UBS Claim asserts a general unsecured claim against the Debtor for $1,039,957,799.40.

16. On August 7, 2020, the Debtor filed an objection to the UBS Claim [Docket No. 928]. Also on August 7, 2020, the Redeemer Committee of the Highland Crusader Fund, and Crusader, Highland Crusader Fund, L.P., Highland Crusader Fund, Ltd., and Highland Crusader Fund II, Ltd. (collectively, the “Redeemer Committee”), objected to the UBS Claim [Docket No. 933].

17. On September 25, 2020, UBS filed its response to these objections [Docket No. 1105].

18. On November 6, 2020, UBS filed UBS’s Motion for Temporary Allowance of Claims for Voting Purposes Pursuant to Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 3018 [Docket No. 1338] (the “3018 Motion”), and on November 16, 2020, the Debtor and the Redeemer Committee each opposed the 3018 Motion [Docket Nos. 1404 and 1409, respectively]

19. On December 8, 2020, the Bankruptcy Court entered an order granting the 3018 Motion and allowing the UBS Claim, on a temporary basis and for voting purposes only, in the amount of $94,761,076 [Docket No. 1518].

20. On December 9, 2020, the Bankruptcy Court entered an order granting, as set forth therein, the motions for partial summary judgment filed by the Debtor and the Redeemer Committee and denied UBS's request for leave to file an amended proof of claim [Docket No. 1526].

21. On January 22, 2021, the Debtor filed the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization for Highland Capital Management, L.P. (As Modified) [Docket No. 1808] (as amended, and as may be further amended, supplemented, or otherwise modified, the "Plan").

22. On February 22, 2021, the Court entered an order confirming the Plan. [Docket No. 1943]. The Plan has not yet gone effective.

IV. LEGAL STANDARD

23. The merits of a proposed compromise should be judged under the criteria set forth in Protective Comm. for Indep. Stockholders of TMT Trailer Ferry, Inc. v. Anderson, 390 U.S. 414 (1968). TMT Trailer requires that a compromise must be "fair and equitable." TMT Trailer, 390 U.S. at 424; In re AWECO, Inc., 725 F.2d 293, 298 (5th Cir. 1984). The terms "fair and equitable," commonly referred to as the "absolute priority rule," mean that (i) senior interests are entitled to full priority over junior interests; and (ii) the compromise is reasonable in relation to the likely rewards of litigation. In re Cajun Electric Power Coop., 119 F.3d 349, 355 (5th Cir. 1997); In re Jackson Brewing Co., 624 F.2d 599, 602 (5th Cir. 1980).

24. In determining whether a proposed compromise is fair and equitable, a Court should consider the following factors:

- (i) the probabilities of ultimate success should the claim be litigated;
- (ii) the complexity, expense, and likely duration of litigating the claim;
- (iii) the difficulties of collecting a judgment rendered from such litigation; and,
- (iv) all other factors relevant to a full and fair assessment of the wisdom of the compromise.

TMT Trailer, 390 U.S. at 424.

25. In considering whether to approve a proposed compromise, the bankruptcy judge “may not simply accept the trustee’s word that the settlement is reasonable, nor may he merely ‘rubber stamp’ the trustee’s proposal.” In re Am. Res. Corp., 841 F.2d 159, 162 (7th Cir. 1987). “[T]he bankruptcy judge must apprise himself of all facts necessary to evaluate the settlement and make an informed and independent judgment about the settlement.” See TMT Trailer, 390 U.S. at 424, 434.

26. While the trustee’s business judgment is entitled to a certain deference, “business judgment is not alone determinative of the issue of court approval.” See In re Endoscopy Ctr. of S. Nev., LLC, 451 B.R. 527, 536 (Bankr. D. Nev. 2011). Further, the business judgment rule does not provide a debtor with “unfettered freedom” to do as it wishes. See In re Pilgrim’s Pride Corp., 403 B.R. 413, 426 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. 2009) (“[A]s a fiduciary holding its estate in trust and responsible to the court, a debtor in possession must administer its case and conduct its business in a fashion amenable to the scrutiny to be expected from creditor and court oversight.”). The Court must conduct an “intelligent, objective and educated evaluation”<sup>4</sup> of the proposed settlement “to ensure that the settlement is fair, equitable, and in the best interest of the estate and creditors.” See In re

Mirant Corp., 348 B.R. 725, 739 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. 2006) (quoting Conn. Gen. Life Ins. Co. v. Foster Mortgage Corp. (In re Foster Mortgage Corp.), 68 F.3d 914, 917 (5th Cir. 1995)).

V. ARGUMENT AND AUTHORITIES

A. The proposed settlement unfairly inflates the UBS Claim to the detriment of creditors and other parties in interest.

27. The Motion lacks a sufficient foundation to demonstrate that UBS is entitled to the inflated claim proposed under the settlement. Under the settlement, UBS will obtain an allowed claim in two classes: $65 million in Class 8 and $60 million in Class 9. UBS will also receive a direct payment of $18,500,000 from a non-Debtor fund, Multi-Strat. Finally, UBS is also receiving additional material support from the Debtor regarding purported claims against third parties. Combined, this consideration to UBS vastly exceeds the claim that UBS has shown itself entitled and that which the Court estimated for voting purposes, and which the Debtor has represented previously that the UBS Claim is worth. Not only does the settlement provide UBS with additional consideration far in excess of which it is entitled, it provides inappropriate favoritism to UBS at the expense of other creditors and parties in interest. Accordingly, the Motion should be denied.

28. In essence, the settlement appears to inflate UBS's claim against this Debtor's estate as a result of claims UBS may have (which are unproven) against non-Debtor entities. Then, the settlement proposes that the Debtor will assist UBS in collecting on its judgment against these same entities and purportedly pursuing these new claims against these funds.

29. While the Debtor asserts in the Motion that these alleged new allegations regarding the Transferred Assets play a large part in the total consideration to be given to UBS under the settlement, the Motion does not sufficiently demonstrate the nexus between the purported Transferred Assets and the pending UBS Claim and why it should increase UBS's recovery against this estate.

30. The UBS Claim filed against the estate relates to allegations from a lawsuit filed in 2008 and 2009, amended in 2011. Increasing the payment to UBS on these issues may not be warranted because the payments do not relate to claims against the estate and it is unclear whether UBS has a claim against the estate relating to these alleged allegations. The Motion does not clearly state how these purported newly-discovered allegations should increase UBS's recovery against the estate, or whether UBS even has a filed claim against the estate related to these allegations.

31. Indeed, the Debtor acknowledges this position in its papers,<sup>5</sup> saying that it disputes that UBS's implied covenant and fair dealing claim can relate to transfers other than the March 2009 transfers. UBS, after learning of the purported transfers to Sentinel, is apparently trying to tack on these additional claims after the fact as a purported additional basis for its implied covenant claim, despite the fact that the purported transfers occurred approximately eight years after the UBS litigation was commenced and six years after UBS filed its Second Amended Complaint in the State Court Action. Notably, there is no assertion or allegation in the Debtor's papers that the Funds held the purported Transferred Assets at the time the March 2009 transfers were made.

32. This is a significant problem for UBS because the settlement, and the increased amount to be paid, and the purported cooperation to be given by the Debtor to UBS, according to the Debtor, relate entirely to these purported new allegations which may not be properly asserted under the UBS Claim or preserved against the estate. On this basis, it is not clear from the papers whether there is any basis to increase UBS's claim against this estate as a result of its own inability to collect on its judgment against the non-Debtor Funds.

33. This is supported also by the fact that the allowance of the UBS Claim for voting purposes does not address assets held in the Funds after March 2009. Part of the foundation of the UBS Claim against the Debtor is that, at the time (March 2009) the Funds were required to satisfy margin calls to UBS, the Debtor transferred assets away from the Funds or otherwise caused the Funds not to be able to satisfy their obligations to UBS under the relevant agreements.

34. The ultimate amount of consideration to be given to UBS under the settlement is again vastly inflated from the Debtor's contention that the maximum amount should be $35,742,978.978, and exceeds even the Court's determination as to the amount to be allowed for voting purposes. Under the settlement, UBS is given a claim approximately four times that, a direct cash payment of $18.5 million from a non-debtor, and substantial and material help on collecting on UBS's judgment against the non-Debtor funds. While Mr. Dondero understands that half of UBS's allowed claim is a subordinated claim, which may not receive a large recovery, the allowance of an inflated claim in this class is still dilutive of other creditors and equity security holders. Mr. Dondero does not believe such a large claim is justified under the facts.

35. As another example of the issues with the settlement and the allegations made by the Debtor in its Motion, the purported value of the alleged Transferred Assets is not segregated between parties that UBS has claims against. The settlement agreement states that the Transferred Assets were not made only by the Funds (which are the subject to UBS's judgment) and HFP (which is a defendant in the state court action), but also by three entities which do not appear to be defendants in the UBS Claim: Highland CDO Opportunity Fund, Ltd., Highland CDO Holding Company, Highland Financial Corp. It is not clear which Transferred Assets were purportedly transferred from which entities, and the Debtor's Motion seems to gloss over this fact by failing to mention which assets the Funds themselves actually purportedly transferred. While the Debtor's

Motion insinuates that the Funds transferred the full value of the Transferred Assets—it is not explicitly stated and in fact is undercut by the recitals in the settlement itself, which concedes that the purported transfers were made by several other non-debtor entities which were not subject to litigation by UBS.

36. For the reasons set forth above, the proposed settlement is not reasonable because it provides UBS a larger claim than it is entitled and, through certain of the settlement provisions, favors UBS at the expense of other creditors and parties in interest.

B. There Are Other Reasons for the Court to Closely Scrutinize the Proposed Settlement that May Warrant Denial of the Motion

37. There are a number of other reasons for the Court to closely scrutinize the proposed settlement that may warrant denial of the Motion.

38. First, the proposed settlement may also violate the Fifth Circuit’s “fair and equitable” standard and contravene the Plan’s classification of claims and interests. Specifically, by giving UBS a direct payment from Multi-Strat, one of its managed funds which the Debtor asserts it owns 59% and controls, the proposed settlement may also violate the Fifth Circuit’s “fair and equitable” standard and contravene the Plan’s classification of claims and interests

39. The Multi-Strat payment also may conflict with investor desires and the Debtor’s management agreement with Multi-Strat. By giving UBS a direct payment of $18,500,000 from Multi-Strat, the Debtor potentially dilutes the recovery of other unsecured creditors in the Debtor’s case by reducing the Debtor’s interest in this fund. The payment to Multi-Strat is, per capita, much larger and a greater recovery than UBS would receive if it was provided a direct payment along the lines of its allowed claims against the Debtor. As the Debtor, per its papers, has alleged it only owns 59% of Multi-Strat, there is a question as to whether this payment is in line with investor expectations, in compliance with its investment management agreement, and whether it satisfies the priority scheme of the Bankruptcy Code. While the Debtor asserts that the payment is to satisfy UBS's claims against Multi-Strat, the amount appears high in relation to Multi-Strat's individual liability, and the estate is necessarily impacted by the payment since the Debtor's ownership interest in Multi-Strat is property of the estate. Accordingly, the Court should scrutinize whether this payment satisfies the Fifth Circuit's "fair and equitable" standard and complies with the terms of the Debtor's confirmed Plan.

40. Finally, the releases by the MSCF Parties under the settlement agreement are unclear and not identified. Accordingly, parties are not under fair notice of which parties are releasing claims against UBS under the settlement. Under the settlement, MSCF Parties is defined as Multi-Strat, "together with its general partner and its direct and indirect wholly-owned subsidiaries."<sup>6</sup> However, the purported "direct and indirect wholly-owned subsidiaries" of Multi-Strat are not identified by name in the settlement, and it is not clear whether any or all of them are made a party to the agreement.<sup>7</sup> Accordingly, it is unclear who are parties to the releases between the MSCF Parties and UBS. While this may simply be a drafting issue, Mr. Dondero objects to the extent the settlement purports to effectuate releases of unidentified third parties and those who have not signed the agreement.

CONCLUSION

For the reasons set forth above, Mr. Dondero respectfully requests that the Court enter an order denying the Motion and providing Mr. Dondero such other and further relief to which he may be justly entitled.

DEBTOR'S OMNIBUS REPLY IN SUPPORT OF DEBTOR'S MOTION FOR ENTRY OF AN ORDER APPROVING SETTLEMENT WITH UBS SECURITIES AND UBS AG LONDON BRANCH AND AUTHORIZING ACTIONS CONSISTENT THEREWITH

The above-captioned debtor and debtor-in-possession (the “Debtor”) hereby submits this reply (the “Reply”) (a) in response to (i) the Limited Preliminary Objection to the Debtor’s Motion for Entry of an Order Approving Settlement With UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG London Branch and Authorizing Actions Consistent Therewith [Docket No. 2268] (the “Initial Dugaboy Objection”), (ii) the Supplemental Opposition to Debtor’s Motion for Entry of an Order Approving Settlement With UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG London Branch and Authorizing Actions Consistent Therewith [Docket No. 2293] (the “Supplemental Dugaboy Objection,” and together with the Initial Dugaboy Objection, the “Dugaboy Objection”), and (iii) James Dondero’s Objection to Debtor’s Motion for Entry of an Order Approving Settlement With UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG London Branch and Authorizing Actions Consistent Therewith [Docket No. 2295] (the “Dondero Objection,” and together with the Dugaboy Objection, the “Objections”) and (b) in support of its Motion for Entry of an Order Approving Settlement with UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG London Branch and Authorizing Actions Consistent Therewith [Docket No. 2199] (the “Motion”).<sup>2</sup> In further support of the Motion, the Debtor respectfully states as follows:

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

1. As set forth in the Motion, the Settlement Agreement provides UBS with a Class 8 (General Unsecured Claim) of $65 million and a Class 9 (Subordinated Claim) of $60 million. The Settlement Agreement also provides that Multi-Strat will pay $18.5 million to UBS in satisfaction of UBS’s claims against Multi-Strat. This is an extraordinary achievement that is supported by the Debtor’s major creditors. It resolves over a decade of highly acrimonious litigation, including extensive litigation in this Court, and UBS’s $1 billion plus claim against the Debtor as well as its claim against Multi-Strat. The settlement paves the way for the Debtor to begin making long-overdue distributions to creditors following the effective date of the Plan. It is opposed by no one except Mr. Dondero and the “family trust” – The Dugaboy Investment Trust (“Dugaboy”) – that he controls (together, the “Dondero Objectors”).<sup>3</sup>

2. And, while the Debtor believed, and continues to believe, that it has defenses to UBS’s claims, those defenses would be (i) subject to substantial factual disputes, (ii) require the cooperation of now-adverse parties whose credibility has already been questioned, and (iii) require expensive, time-consuming litigation that would likely be resolved only after a lengthy trial (and likely rounds of appeals) all while the Debtor (or its successor) assumes the risk that the defenses might fail.

3. The Dondero Objectors do not (and cannot) dispute that the proposed settlement is the product of substantial, arm’s length – and sometimes quite heated – negotiations between and among the principals and their counsel. The Debtor believes that the proposed settlement is fair and reasonable, results from the valid and proper exercise of its business judgment, and represents the successful resolution of an incredibly complicated and substantial claim.

4. The facts underlying the Settlement Agreement are well known to this Court, but some bear repeating:

- In late 2008, CDO Fund and SOHC breached certain warehouse agreements;
- After years of litigation, in November 2019, UBS secured a judgment in the State Court against CDO Fund and SOHC on account of that breach of over $1 billion (inclusive of interest);
- As part of this litigation, UBS alleged that certain entities managed and/or controlled by the Debtor, including Multi-Strat, engaged in a series of orchestrated fraudulent conveyances with the goal of moving assets away from the Funds and outside the reach of UBS;

<sup>3</sup> See Order Confirming the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (as Modified) and (ii) Granting Related Relief [Docket No. 1943] (the “Confirmation Order”) ¶ 19. As this Court has previously found, and as set forth below, Mr. Dondero and Dugaboy have only the most tenuous economic interest in and connection to the Debtor’s estate. Id. ¶¶ 17-18.

- UBS also alleged that the Debtor (then under Mr. Dondero's control) breached the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing by interfering with CDO Fund and SOHC's payment of its obligations to UBS under the warehouse agreement;
- In December 2020, this Court entered an order estimating UBS's claim against the Debtor at $94,761,076 (the "Estimated Claim"), which included an estimation that UBS had a 90% chance of recovering $25,782,988 (plus interest) from Multi-Strat (resulting in a risk-adjusted claim against Multi-Strat of approximately $23.2 million) on account of UBS's fraudulent conveyance claim against it;
- After reaching an agreement in principle with UBS, the Debtor uncovered a secret scheme by the Debtor's former management (a) to transfer more than $300 million in face amount of securities and cash from the Funds to Sentinel – a Cayman-based reinsurance company owned and controlled by Mr. Dondero and Scott Ellington – and (b) to hide that transfer from the Independent Directors, UBS, and this Court; and
- But for that transfer, CDO Fund and SOHC could have used the value of such fraudulently transferred securities and cash to satisfy UBS's judgment.

Despite the facts set forth above, Mr. Dondero – directly and through Dugaboy – has the audacity to file the Objections and object to the UBS settlement.

5. Dugaboy's objection also questions the Debtor's corporate authority and business judgment and accuses the Debtor (now under the control of the Independent Directors) of having breached its duties and obligations by settling with UBS. As set forth below, there is absolutely no basis for this contention. Dugaboy is a limited partner in Multi-Strat and knows (or should know) that Multi-Strat's governing documents provide the Debtor, as investment manager, and indirect owner of Multi-Strat's general partner with complete authority to manage Multi-Strat's property and to "settle or compromise suits and administrative proceedings and other similar matters."

6. Mr. Dondero's efforts to litigate every issue in this case – directly and by proxy – and to disenfranchise this Court by questioning its authority should be rebuffed, and the objections overruled. The Debtor asks this Court to (once again) see through the pretense of the Dondero-controlled entities' objections to the USB settlement and approve it as a fair settlement and valid exercise of the Debtor's business judgment.

ADDITIONAL BACKGROUND ON MULTI-STRAT

7. Multi-Strat is a pooled investment fund that is structured as a “mini master.”<sup>4</sup> A “mini master” consists of an offshore feeder fund and onshore master fund. Generally speaking, foreign investors and tax-exempt entities invest in the foreign feeder for tax reasons, and the foreign feeder fund in turn invests substantially all of its assets in the onshore master fund as a limited partner together with the other direct limited partners in the master fund. The master fund is the dominant entity within the “mini master” structure (and the entity most commonly referenced in the structure) as it holds and invests all the assets, including those of the feeder fund. Here, Multi-Strat's “master fund” is Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (the “Master Fund”),<sup>5</sup> and its offshore feeder fund is Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, Ltd., a Cayman Islands exempted company (the “Feeder Fund”). The Master Fund, the Feeder Fund, their direct and indirect subsidiaries, and their respective general partners are referred to in the Settlement Agreement, collectively, as “Multi-Strat.”<sup>6</sup> All of Multi-Strat's investment activity is conducted through the Master Fund and all of its investable assets are held by the Master Fund (either directly or indirectly). Investors in the Master Fund and in the Feeder Fund generally have the same rights and liquidity. See Feeder PPM at 5 (“Aside from the differences described

in this Memorandum, an investment in the [Feeder] Fund will have substantially similar terms and risks to an investment in the [Master Fund], as described in the [Master PPM].”)

8. Multi-Strat is managed by its investment manager – the Debtor – and its general partner – Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund GP, L.P. (the “MSCF GP”). The MSCF GP is 100% owned – indirectly – by the Debtor, and the sole officer of MSCF GP is James P. Seery, Jr., the Debtor’s chief executive officer and chief restructuring officer. The Debtor’s rights, duties, and obligations as investment manager are set forth in the Third Amended and Restated Investment Management Agreement, by and among Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, Ltd., Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, L.P., and Highland Capital Management, L.P., dated November 1, 2013 (the “IMA”), the Fourth Amended and Restated Limited Partnership Agreement of Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, L.P., dated November 1, 2014 (the “LPA”), the PPMs, and the Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association of Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, Ltd., as adopted on 1 November 2014 (the “Articles” and together with the IMA, the LPA, and the PPMs, the “Governing Documents”).<sup>7</sup> MSCF GP’s rights, duties, and obligations are set forth in the LPA, the Master PPM, and general Delaware partnership law.

9. Multi-Strat’s investors include both the limited partners in the Master Fund and the shareholders of the Feeder Fund (which itself is a limited partner of the Master Fund). Nevertheless, for convenience of reference, the ultimate investors, whether direct or through the Feeder Fund, are commonly referred to as Multi-Strat’s limited partners. Multi-Strat’s current limited partners are:

<sup>7</sup> Copies of the IMA, LPA, and Articles are attached hereto as Exhibits 4, 5, and 6, respectively. These documents were created at Mr. Dondero’s direction years before the Petition Date, severely undermining his challenge to the Debtor’s authority and again calling into substantial question his credibility and motivations.

Limited Partner	Ownership % <sup>8</sup>
CLO Holdco, Ltd. (“ CLOH ”)	4.06%
Dugaboy	1.71%
Highland Capital Management Services, Inc. (“ HCMS ”)	35.10%
Mark Okada	0.43%

As this Court knows, CLOH, Dugaboy, and HCMS are all directly owned and/or controlled by Mr. Dondero. Mr. Okada, in turn, is Mr. Dondero’s long-time business partner. As such, besides the Debtor, the only limited partners in Multi-Strat are (directly or indirectly) owned and/or controlled by Mr. Dondero. There are no third-party limited partners.

10. In addition to the current limited partners, there are a number of former “redeemed” limited partners of Multi-Strat, which are referred to as the “redeemers.” Under the terms of the LPA and Articles, limited partners are allowed to redeem their limited partnership interests under certain circumstances. Once redeemed, a limited partnership interest is extinguished and the balance of the amount owed to the redeemer is “crystallized,” i.e., reduced to a fixed dollar amount (based on the value of Multi-Strat’s assets at the time of redemption) and is treated similar to a debt obligation of the fund, i.e., the redeemer no longer participates in the appreciation of the fund’s assets and only has a claim for its set dollar amount. Currently, Multi-Strat owes its redeemers approximately $90 million on account of their unpaid redemptions.

11. Prior to 2021, the Debtor believed – because that is what it was told by certain of the Debtor’s then-employees – that all the redeemers were third party investors unaffiliated with the Debtor. As the Debtor recently discovered, however, that is not true. In fact, the largest redeemer is Sentinel – the entity owned by Mr. Dondero and Mr. Ellington – which is purportedly owed approximately $33 million, or one-third of the total redeemed interests. The majority of Sentinel's interest in Multi-Strat was originally owned by CDO Fund but was fraudulently taken from CDO Fund and moved to Sentinel in August 2017. Sentinel purportedly redeemed its Multi-Strat interest in November 2019 as the State Court was entering its judgment against the Funds. Sentinel's redeemed interest is referred to as the "MSCF Interests" in the Settlement Agreement. On information and belief, the other redeemers are unaffiliated third party investors.

<sup>8</sup> Ownership is provided on a consolidated basis without regard to whether a party is invested in the Master Fund or the Feeder Fund. The Debtor reserves the right to challenge the purported Dondero and/or Okada controlled limited partnership interests.

REPLY

A. Standing

12. In the Dondero Objection, Mr. Dondero goes to great lengths to prove that he has standing to object to the UBS settlement asserting that he is a "creditor, indirect equity security holder, and party in interest" in the Debtor's bankruptcy. Dondero Obj. ¶¶4-13. This Court has already made substantial findings of fact concerning Mr. Dondero and Dugaboy's interests in the estate, finding that "the remoteness of their interests is noteworthy." Confirmation Order ¶¶ 17-18. In light of Mr. Dondero's misleading statements, the Debtor must again address Mr. Dondero and Dugaboy's purported "standing."<sup>9</sup>

13. James Dondero. On April 8, 2020, Mr. Dondero filed three unliquidated, contingent claims that he promised to update "in the next ninety days."<sup>10</sup> Over a year later, Mr.

<sup>9</sup> The following analysis should look familiar as it is nearly verbatim the analysis included in Debtor's Omnibus Reply in Support of Debtor's Motion for Entry of an Order Approving Settlement with HarbourVest (Claim Nos. 143, 147, 149, 150, 153, 154), and Authorizing Actions Consistent Therewith [Docket No. 1731] (the "HarbourVest Motion"). Mr. Dondero – directly and through his proxies – was also the only person to object to the Debtor's settlement with HarbourVest (as defined in the HarbourVest Motion). Dugaboy and Mr. Dondero's other family trust – The Get Good Trust – are currently appealing the settlement with HarbourVest. Two of Mr. Dondero's other entities – The Charitable DAF Fund, L.P. and CLO Holdco, Ltd. – recently filed a complaint in the District Court for the Northern District of Texas, which seeks to have the District Court undertake a reconsideration or de facto appeal of the settlement with HarbourVest. See Original Complaint, Case No. 21-00842-B, Docket No. 1 (N.D. Tex. Apr. 12, 2001).

<sup>10</sup> Mr. Dondero filed two other proofs of claim that he has since withdrawn with prejudice. See Docket No. 1460.

Dondero has yet to “update” those claims to assert an actual claim against the Debtor’s estate.<sup>11</sup> Mr. Dondero’s claim as an “indirect equity security holder” is also a stretch. Mr. Dondero holds no direct equity interest in the Debtor. Mr. Dondero instead owns 100% of Strand Advisors, Inc. (“Strand”), the Debtor’s general partner. Strand, however, holds only 0.25% of the total limited partnership interests in the Debtor through its ownership of Class A limited partnership interests. The Class A limited partnership interests are junior in priority of distribution to the Debtor’s Class B and Class C limited partnership interests. The Class A interests are also junior to all other claims filed against the Debtor. Finally, Mr. Dondero’s recovery on his indirect equity interest is junior to any claims against Strand itself, including any indemnification claims asserted against Strand by the Independent Directors or their agents. Consequently, before Mr. Dondero can recover on his “indirect” equity interest, the Debtor’s estate must be solvent, priority distributions to Class B and Class C creditors must be satisfied, and all claims against Strand must be satisfied. And, if all of that occurred, Mr. Dondero would recover 0.25% of the net distributions from the estate.

14. Dugaboy. Dugaboy is a sham Dondero “trust” with only the most attenuated standing. Dugaboy filed three proofs of claim (Claim Nos. 113; 131; 177). In two of these claims, Dugaboy argues that (a) the Debtor is liable to Dugaboy for its postpetition mismanagement of Multi-Strat, and (b) this Court should pierce the corporate veil and allow Dugaboy to sue the Debtor for a claim it ostensibly has against the Highland Select Equity Master Fund, L.P. – a Debtor-managed investment vehicle. These claims are frivolous, and the Debtor has objected to them. [Docket No. 906]. In its third claim, Dugaboy asserts a claim against the Debtor arising from its Class A limited partnership interest in the Debtor (which represents just 0.1866% of the total limited partnership interests in the Debtor). Like Mr. Dondero, Dugaboy can recover on its equity interest only if the Debtor is solvent and all priority distributions to Class B and Class C creditors and all claims against Strand are satisfied. Then, and only then, would Dugaboy recover 0.1866% of the net distributions from the estate. Dugaboy also claims to own 1.71% of the limited partnership interests in Multi-Strat (as discussed above).

15. Consequently, the Dondero Objectors' standing to object to the UBS settlement is extremely attenuated and their chances of recovery in this case are, at best, theoretical and speculative thereby calling into question the Dondero Objectors' motivation. See In re Kutner, 3 B.R. 422, 425 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. 1980) (finding that a party had standing only when it had a "pecuniary interest . . . directly affected by the bankruptcy proceeding"); see also In re Flintkote Co., 486 B.R. 99, 114-15 (Bankr. D. Del. 2012), aff'd, 526 B.R. 515 (D. Del. 2014) (a claim that is speculative cannot confer party in interest standing). Mr. Dondero and Dugaboy's minimal interest in the estate should not allow them to overrule the estate's business judgment or veto settlements with creditors, especially when no actual creditors and constituents have objected. "[A] bankruptcy judge must not blindly follow the hue and cry of the most vocal special interest groups; rather, [the judge] should consider all salient factors . . . and . . . act to further the diverse interests of the debtor, creditors and equity holders, alike." In re Lionel, 722 F.2d 1063, 1071 (2d Cir. 1983).

B. The Objections Fail on the Merits

16. As discussed in the Motion, under applicable Fifth Circuit precedent, a bankruptcy court may approve a compromise or settlement as long as the proposed settlement is fair, reasonable, and in the best interest of the estate. See, e.g., In re Age Ref. Inc., 801 F.3d 530, 540 (5th Cir. 2015). In making this determination, courts look to the following factors:

- probability of success in the litigation, with due consideration for the uncertainty of law and fact;

- complexity and likely duration of the litigation and any attendant expense, inconvenience and delay; and
- all other factors bearing on the wisdom of the compromise, including (i) “the paramount interest of creditors with proper deference to their reasonable views” and (ii) whether the settlement is the product of arm’s length bargaining and not of fraud or collusion.

Inc.*, 801 F.3d at 540; Conn. Gen. Life Ins. Co. v. United Cos. Fin. Corp. (In re Foster Mortgage Corp.), 68 F.3d 914, 918 (5th Cir. 1995).

1. The Dugaboy Objection Is Without Merit

17. In its Objection, Dugaboy presses various arguments and makes various factual assertions but neglects to disclose its affiliation with Mr. Dondero and its interest in Multi-Strat. Those neglected facts undermine the majority of the Dugaboy Objection.

a. Dugaboy is a Limited Partner in Multi-Strat

18. Pursuant to a subscription agreement (the “Subscription”), Dugaboy subscribed for shares in the Feeder Fund by investing $180,000. A copy of the Subscription is attached as Exhibit 7. Because Dugaboy is a “revocable grantor trust,” the Subscription required that it be signed by Dugaboy’s beneficiary as if the beneficiary was the one subscribing to Multi Strat in his individual capacity. Mr. Dondero is Dugaboy’s beneficiary and therefore signed the Subscription on behalf of Dugaboy. By signing the Subscription, Mr. Dondero represented that he had received a copy of the Governing Documents on behalf of Dugaboy. Consequently, Dugaboy has no excuse not to know how Multi-Strat is governed.

19. As Mr. Dondero knows and intended, Multi-Strat’s Governing Documents vest in the Debtor (as investment manager) and MSCF GP (as general partner) the exclusive authority (and obligation) to manage and bind Multi-Strat, including the authority to settle claims against Multi-Strat. For example, in the section titled “Risk Factors and Potential Conflicts of Interest,” the Master PPM states that “[s]ubstantially all decisions with respect to the management of the Fund are made by the General Partner and the Investment Manager. Limited Partners have no right or power to take part in the management of the Fund.” Master PPM at 25; see also Feeder PPM at 6 (“[T]he [Feeder] Fund’s management, as well as investment decisions at the [Master Fund] level, are effectively controlled by the Investment Manager or its affiliates.”).

20. Further, among other things:

- Section 2(a) of the IMA requires that the Feeder Fund invest all of its assets in the Master Fund to be managed by the Debtor as investment manager.<sup>12</sup> IMA, § 2(a)
- Section 2(c)(i) of the IMA grants the Debtor, as investment manager, full discretion and authority on behalf of both the Master Fund and the Feeder Fund to “exercise all rights, powers, privileges and other incidents of ownership or possession” with respect to Multi-Strat’s investments and “other property and funds held or owned by the Master Fund.” Id. § 2(c).
- Section 2(c)(i) of the IMA also expressly and explicitly grants the Debtor, as investment manager, the authority to “institute and settle or compromise suits and administrative proceedings and other similar matters.” Id. (emphasis added).
- Under Section 4.1 of the LPA, the MSCF GP:
  - has “complete and exclusive power and responsibility, to the fullest extent permitted” by Delaware law to manage and administer the affairs of the Partnership, and “to do all things that the General Partner considers necessary or desirable to carry out its duties” under the LPA “whether or not such action or authority is expressly provided for in [the LPA].”
  - has full power and authority “to engage in all activities and transactions, as it may deem necessary or advisable for, or as may be incidental to, the conduct of the business contemplated by this Section 4.1.”
  - may delegate “to any other Person, including the Investment Manager,” any power and authority vested in the MSCF GP pursuant to the LPA.

<sup>12</sup> IMA, § 2(a) (“All of the investable assets of the [Feeder] Fund must be invested in, and the investment program of the [Feeder] Fund is to be conducted by the Investment Manager through the [Master] Fund. The Investment Manager will exercise no discretion with respect to the investment of the assets of the [Feeder] Fund and the investment activities of the Investment Manager will be conducted at the [Master] Fund level as the investment manager to the [Master] Fund.”).

The LPA also provides that Multi-Strat’s limited partners, such as Dugaboy (and the Feeder Fund), have no right to manage, control, or operate Multi-Strat or to act on its behalf until expressly stated otherwise. See LPA, § 4.3 (“The Limited Partners may not take any part in the management, control or operation of the Partnership’s business, and have no right or authority to act for the Partnership or to vote on matters other than the matters set forth in this Agreement or as required by applicable law.”).

b. UBS Has Direct Claims Against Multi-Strat

21. Dugaboy alleges that the Debtor used Multi-Strat to decrease the Debtor’s liability to UBS. This ignores (a) UBS’s substantial, direct claims against Multi-Strat arising from an alleged fraudulent conveyance of assets to Multi-Strat – a fraudulent conveyance that was done to frustrate UBS’s ability to recover on its claims against the Funds – and (b) the extensive arguments and judicial findings concerning UBS’s direct claims against Multi-Strat in connection with the 3018 Motion.<sup>13</sup>

22. The assets conveyed to Multi-Strat did not belong to the Debtor, and they were not conveyed to Multi-Strat by the Debtor. These claims have not yet been litigated and would have been addressed in “Phase II” of the UBS litigation if the Debtor had not filed bankruptcy. Consequently, UBS has a claim against the Debtor, under various theories, for $1 billion and a separate and distinct claim against Multi-Strat for approximately $26 million (plus interest). Notably, Dugaboy admits that UBS has separate and distinct claims against Multi-Strat. Dugaboy Obj. ¶12.

<sup>13</sup> Dugaboy attempts to paint this fraudulent transfer as somehow benefiting the Debtor. “What the Debtor received for the transfer of its interest in Multi-Strat is unknown, however, and in assessing the value the Debtor received for its interest in Multi-Strat it is safe to assume that in some measure the Debtor received the benefit of the so-called fraudulently transferred assets.” Dugaboy Obj. ¶9. This misrepresents the facts. The Debtor did not transfer its interests in Multi-Strat (although it did sell a small amount of its interest to Sentinel prior to the 2017 fraudulent conveyance).

23. Indeed, this Court previously estimated the value of UBS's claim against Multi-Strat at approximately $23 million, excluding interest. As such, Multi-Strat would be required to either settle or litigate to conclusion UBS's claims against it – regardless of whether the Debtor settled UBS's claims against the Debtor. Mr. Dondero knows this. In fact, Mr. Dondero approached the Debtor and certain of its creditors in late 2020 with the hope of effectuating his “pot plan.” As part of his “pot plan,” Mr. Dondero required that the “UBS settlement . . . be global and inclusive of all affiliated entities, including offshore entities and the Multi Strat Credit Fund” to avoid this exact result.

c. The Debtor Satisfied Its Fiduciary Duty

24. Dugaboy alleges that the Debtor breached its fiduciary duties to Multi-Strat under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 (the “Advisers Act”) by, among other things, causing Multi-Strat to settle with UBS. These allegations are false, but as importantly, they are a smokescreen.

25. Multi-Strat's redeemers have approximately $90 million in redemption claims (including Sentinel's putative redemption claim), but they will not be affected by Multi-Strat's settlement with UBS. Multi-Strat has approximately $120 million in assets. The redeemers' claims therefore will be paid in full even if Multi-Strat pays UBS $18.5 million to satisfy UBS's claims. In terms of Multi-Strat's remaining limited partners, as set forth above, there are functionally only two: (a) the Debtor (59%) and (b) Mr. Dondero's controlled entities (41%).<sup>14</sup> The Settlement Agreement – as evidenced by the lack of objection by the Debtor's creditors – is in the best interests of Multi-Strat as a whole, Mr. Dondero's objections notwithstanding. There is simply no point in continuing to engage in costly, time-consuming litigation with UBS that Multi-Strat might well lose.

<sup>14</sup> As evidenced by Mr. Dondero's objection to the UBS settlement, each of the investors in Multi-Strat had notice of the Settlement Agreement and the chance to object.

26. Because the Debtor – as investment manager – settled UBS’s claims against Multi-Strat in the best interests of Multi-Strat, there can be no breach of fiduciary duty (particularly since the settlement value ($18.5 million) is materially less than the Court’s estimated value of the claim ($23 million plus interest)). Moreover, it is black-letter law that the Debtor’s fiduciary duties under the Advisers Act run to Multi-Strat only, not to any individual investor in Multi-Strat such as Dugaboy.<sup>15</sup> Further, even if an adviser has a conflict of interest, such conflict does not constitute a breach of the adviser’s duty to its client if it is either eliminated or fully and fairly disclosed.<sup>16</sup> Here, the required disclosures concerning the Debtor’s potential conflicts of interests were made.<sup>17</sup>

27. Finally, Dugaboy alleges that the Settlement Agreement puts the Debtor in direct conflict with Multi-Strat because (a) the Debtor is not releasing claims against Multi-Strat for the assets fraudulently transferred to Multi-Strat, (b) the Settlement Agreement obligates the Debtor to investigate and participate in the prosecution of claims against Multi-Strat, and (c) the Settlement Agreement is unclear if UBS is releasing all claims against Multi-Strat. These can be quickly dispatched.

28. First, the Debtor is not releasing claims against Multi-Strat arising from Multi-

<sup>15</sup> See Goldstein v. SEC, 451 F.3d 873, 879 (D.C. Cir. 2006) (“An investor in a private fund may benefit from the adviser’s advice (or he may suffer from it) but he does not receive the advice directly. He invests a portion of his assets in the fund. The fund manager – the adviser – controls the disposition of the pool of capital in the fund. The adviser does not tell the investor how to spend his money; the investor made that decision when he invested in the fund. Having bought into the fund, the investor fades into the background; his role is completely passive. If the person or entity controlling the fund is not an “investment adviser” to each individual investor, then a fortiori each investor cannot be a “client” of that person or entity.”).

<sup>16</sup> Commission Interpretation Regarding Standard of Conduct for Investment Advisers (the “Release”), Release No. IA-5248; File No. S7-07-18, effective July 12, 2019 at 8 (“Under its duty of loyalty, an investment adviser must eliminate or make full and fair disclosure of all conflicts of interest which might incline an investment adviser – consciously or unconsciously – to render advice which is not disinterested such that a client can provide informed consent to the conflict.”) (emphasis added).

<sup>17</sup> Each of the PPMs includes pages of disclosures on potential conflicts of interests. None of these disclosures were even acknowledged by Dugaboy in its objection. See generally Master PPM “Risk Factors and Potential Conflicts of Interest” at 49-53; Feeder PPM “Risk Factors and Potential Conflicts of Interest” at 26. The Feeder PPM cross references to and incorporates the disclosures contained in the Master PPM. “The [Master PPM] contains further disclosures concerning potential conflicts of interests. Such disclosures are incorporated herein by reference and should be read in their entirety prior to making a decision to invest in the [Feeder] Fund.” Feeder PPM at 26.

Strat's receipt of fraudulently conveyed assets because the Debtor has no claim to the fraudulently conveyed assets (unlike UBS) and therefore has no claim against Multi-Strat as the recipient of such assets.<sup>18</sup> Second, Dugaboy is confused by the language of the Settlement Agreement. The Settlement Agreement provides that the Debtor will cooperate with respect to claims relating to the MSCF Interests and any injunctive relief necessary to ensure that additional money and assets are not transferred to Sentinel, among others. Settlement Agreement at § 1(c). Similarly, UBS has released all claims against Multi-Strat but has preserved its claims with respect to the MSCF Interests. Id. at § 3(a). As discussed above, the MSCF Interests are the interests in Multi-Strat that were fraudulently conveyed to Sentinel from CDO Fund in 2017. By preserving its claims with respect to the MSCF Interest, UBS has preserved its right to seek recovery of the MSCF Interests from Sentinel, not to sue Multi-Strat.

d. This Court Has Jurisdiction to Approve All Aspects of the Settlement

29. Dugaboy also objects to the settlement between UBS and Multi-Strat “on the ground that the Bankruptcy Court lacks jurisdiction to approve a settlement between non-debtors.” Dugaboy Obj. ¶12.<sup>19</sup> As support for this objection, Dugaboy states that (a) linking UBS's separate settlements with Multi-Strat and the Debtor does not create “arising in, under, or related to” jurisdiction;<sup>20</sup> (b) the automatic stay does not apply to co-defendants, and (c) the Debtor has

<sup>18</sup> Dugaboy makes the nonsensical argument that the Debtor could settle its claims against Multi-Strat for “$18,000,000 [sic]” in lieu of Multi-Strat settling its claim against UBS. In Dugaboy's mind, this settlement would provide a cash inflow to the estate of $18 million and the failure to do this settlement somehow constitutes an impermissible plan modification under 11 U.S.C. § 1127. Dugaboy Obj. ¶ 11. For the reasons set forth above, this makes no sense. The Debtor does not have a claim against Multi-Strat on account of the fraudulently conveyed assets. The Debtor did not convey those assets to Multi-Strat nor were those assets fraudulently transferred out of an entity that the Debtor had a claim against.

<sup>19</sup> This position is ironic. Mr. Dondero has consistently argued to this Court that the Debtor has violated, among other statutes, 11 U.S.C. § 363 by not seeking this Court's authority before causing its managed funds and CLOs to sell assets. See, e.g., James Dondero's Motion for Entry of an Order Requiring Notice and Hearing for Future Estate Transactions Occurring Outside the Ordinary Course of Business [Docket No. 1439].

admitted to this Court's lack of jurisdiction. Each of these arguments evinces a clear misunderstanding of the facts and the relief sought.

30. The Debtor does not contend that this Court has jurisdiction over Multi-Strat's assets. Multi-Strat's assets are not "property of the estate" under 11 U.S.C. § 541 or for purposes of 11 U.S.C. § 363(b). See, e.g., In re Guyana Dev. Corp., 68 B.R. 892, 905 (Bankr. S.D. Tex. 1994) ("As a general rule, property of the estate includes the debtor's stock in a subsidiary but not the assets of the subsidiary."). However, the Motion recognizes that 11 U.S.C. § 363(b) might still apply to the Debtor's exercise of its contractual rights under the IMA to manage and govern Multi-Strat (Motion ¶53), as those rights do constitute property of the estate. See In re Thomas, 2020 Bankr. LEXIS 1364 at *31 (Bankr. W.D. Tenn. 2020) (a debtor's membership interest in an LLC, including both its economic rights and governance rights, became property of the estate on the petition date, but the assets of the LLC remain separate and the debtor must manage them consistent with the terms of the operating agreement and applicable law); In re Cardinal Indus., 105 B.R. 834, 849 (Bankr. S.D. Ohio 1989).

31. This is consistent with the Debtor's position throughout this case that: (a) assets of non-debtor subsidiaries and funds are not "property of the estate;" (b) the Debtor's contractual right to manage and control the disposition of those assets is "property of the estate;" and (c) the Debtor generally does not need Court approval to exercise those rights because causing the managed funds to sell assets is in the "ordinary course of [the Debtor's] business" and exempt from approval under 11 U.S.C. § 363(c).<sup>21</sup> See generally Debtor's Response to Mr. James 2021) (finding that a proceeding "relates to" a case under Title 11 if "the outcome of [the non-bankruptcy] proceeding could conceivably have any effect on the estate being administered in bankruptcy.").

<sup>21</sup> Dugaboy cites to the "May 20, 2020 settlement between UBS, the Debtor and Multi-Strat" as an example of an agreement that was not brought to this Court for approval under 11 U.S.C. § 363. A true and correct copy of the May 20, 2020 settlement agreement (the "May Agreement") is attached hereto as Exhibit 8. As an initial matter, the Debtor was not party to that agreement; it was executed solely by UBS, Multi-Strat, and certain of Multi-Strat's wholly-

Dondero's Motion for Entry of an Order Requiring Notice and Hearing for Future Estate Transactions Occurring Outside the Ordinary Course of Business [Docket No. 1546].

32. The difference here is that the Debtor is exercising its management and control rights to cause Multi-Strat to settle a material litigation claim against it. That does not involve the sale of an asset or an investment and is arguably outside the ordinary course of the Debtor's business, necessitating this Court's approval under 11 U.S.C. § 363(b). See, e.g., In re Patriot Place, Ltd., 486 B.R. 773, 793 (Bankr. W.D. Tex. 2013) (finding that a transaction is "ordinary course" if it does not "subject[] a hypothetical creditor to a different economic risk than existed when the creditor originally extended credit" and is "of the sort commonly undertaken in the industry."). The Debtor respectfully submits that the settlement between UBS and Multi-Strat as negotiated by the Debtor in an exercise of its management rights should be approved pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 363(b) for the reasons set forth herein and in the Motion.

2. The Dondero Objection Is Without Merit

33. Mr. Dondero generally objects to the UBS settlement on two purported grounds: (a) the settlement impermissibly inflates UBS's claim, and (b) Multi-Strat's settlement of UBS's claims against Multi-Strat potentially violate the Bankruptcy Code and are contrary to investor interests. Mr. Dondero's objections are without merit.

a. The Settlement Does Not Inflate UBS's Claims

34. Mr. Dondero argues that the Motion "lacks a sufficient foundation to demonstrate owned subsidiaries. Further, the May Agreement was entered into to allow Multi-Strat to sell certain assets that were the subject of UBS's claim against Multi-Strat. Consequently, the May Agreement was not brought to this Court because it involved Multi-Strat executing an agreement with a non-debtor that would allow Multi-Strat to sell assets. The May Agreement was thus executed in the ordinary course of business and did not require this Court's approval pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 363(c).

Dugaboy cannot assert that it did not have notice of the May Agreement. Dugaboy filed a proof of claim (Claim No. 177) alleging that the transactions effectuated through the May Agreement constituted a breach of the Debtor's duty to Dugaboy. Dugaboy, therefore, cannot not have had notice of the May Agreement.

that UBS is entitled to the inflated claim proposed under the settlement.” Dondero Obj. ¶27. In other words, Mr. Dondero does not object to the proposed settlement with UBS that was announced at the hearing on the Debtor’s Plan, which included a $50 million general unsecured claim and a $25 million subordinated claim being provided to UBS. Instead, Mr. Dondero objects, without irony, to the additional $15 million general unsecured claim and $35 million subordinated claim. Mr. Dondero clearly misunderstands the relevant facts and law.

35. UBS has asserted claims against the Debtor alleging, among other things, that the Debtor caused the Funds not to pay the amounts they owed to UBS. Recently, the Debtor discovered that Dondero and the Dondero-controlled Debtor actually and intentionally caused the Funds to transfer over $300 million in face amount of the Funds’ assets to an offshore entity owned and controlled by Mr. Dondero and Mr. Ellington. The Dondero and Dondero-controlled Debtor then covered up that transaction during this Bankruptcy Case. These facts are undeniable and damning; substantially undercut the Debtor’s defense that it did not impede the Funds’ ability to pay UBS’s judgment; and caused the Debtor to agree to increase the consideration under the proposed settlement.

36. Mr. Dondero also argues that the August 2017 transfer to Sentinel cannot relate to UBS’s claim because that claim arose out of actions taken in 2008 and 2009. Mr. Dondero, however, misunderstands UBS’s claim, which includes a broad reservation of rights “to assert any additional claims, defenses, remedies, and causes of action, including without limitation, claims for fraudulent inducement, breach of contract, tortious interference with contractual relations, fraudulent conveyances, or alter ego recovery.” See Claim Nos. 190, 191, Annex ¶28. Just because the Sentinel fraud occurred after 2009 and potentially included assets not held by the Funds in 2009 does not mean that the Debtor escapes all potential liability for those transfers (especially when they were hidden from UBS, the Independent Directors, and this Court).

37. Mr. Dondero next argues that the settlement is “vastly inflated from the Debtor’s contention that the maximum amount should be $35,742,978.978 [sic] and exceeds even the Court’s determination as to the amount to be allowed for voting purposes.” Dondero Obj. ¶34. Mr. Dondero again ignores the facts. This Court estimated UBS’s claim at approximately $95 million, which included approximately $23 million (exclusive of interest) from Multi-Strat. The proposed settlement provides for (a) an $18.5 million payment from Multi-Strat and (b) a $65 million general unsecured claim and a $60 million subordinated claim against the estate. As such, Mr. Dondero ignores the fact that Multi-Strat will pay substantially less under the settlement than was estimated by this Court. Mr. Dondero also assumes that the $65 million general unsecured claim and the $60 million subordinated claim will obtain the same rate of recovery under the Plan; they may not. As such, the Settlement Agreement is substantially in line with the Court’s Estimated Claim (even after subtracting amounts allocable to Multi-Strat).

b. The Settlement Does Not Contravene the Plan’s Classification of Claims and Interests

38. Mr. Dondero states – without case law or support – that because the UBS settlement provides a “direct payment from Multi-Strat, one of its managed funds which the Debtor asserts it owns 59% and controls” it may violate the “fair and equitable” standard and the Plan’s classification scheme. Dondero Obj. ¶38. Admittedly, the Debtor does not fully understand this argument. Nevertheless, Mr. Dondero plainly ignores UBS’s substantial and direct claims against Multi-Strat. There is nothing improper about Multi-Strat – a non-debtor – paying cash to one of its creditors outside of the Plan, and there is no need to classify UBS’s claim against Multi-Strat under the Debtor’s Plan. See Guyana., 168 B.R. at 905.

c. “Investor Desires” Are Irrelevant

39. Mr. Dondero next argues that the “Multi-Strat payment also may conflict with investor desires and the Debtor’s management agreement with Multi-Strat.” Dondero Obj. ¶39. In light of the fraud discussed above, this argument is absurd.

40. First, and as discussed above, the only limited partners in Multi-Strat are the Debtor and entities controlled by Mr. Dondero. Moreover, the Debtor and MSCF GP have the sole and exclusive right to manage and control Multi-Strat, including to settle litigation. The fact that the settlement may reduce the value of Mr. Dondero’s indirect, minority interests in Multi-Strat does not give Mr. Dondero the authority to block Multi-Strat’s settlement of claims against it. Second, the Multi-Strat settlement with UBS is well in line with this Court’s estimation of Multi-Strat’s liability to UBS. Third, Mr. Dondero has no direct interest in Multi-Strat, and, unless he is finally ready to admit that there is no distinction between him and CLOH, Dugaboy, and HCMS (which is clear notwithstanding a formal admission), he has no standing to object on behalf of Multi-Strat’s investors. Fourth, if Mr. Dondero is implying that the Debtor’s creditors do not support the settlement, he should note that he is the only (purported) creditor objecting. The foregoing applies equally to Mr. Dondero’s claim that the releases under the Settlement Agreement with respect to Multi-Strat are vague.

C. Mr. Dondero and Dugaboy Ignore the “Paramount Interest of Creditors”

41. Despite spending considerable time and expense objecting to the UBS settlement, neither Mr. Dondero nor Dugaboy even address the third factor analyzed by the Fifth Circuit when approving settlements – all other factors bearing on the wisdom of the compromise, including “the paramount interest of creditors with proper deference to their reasonable views.” Cajun Elec., 119 F.3d at 356. This omission is telling. Except for Mr. Dondero and Dugaboy – one of Mr. Dondero’s proxies – no creditor or party in interest has objected to the settlement. And Mr.

Dondero and Dugaboy can barely be classified as creditors as they have no cognizable pecuniary interest in the estate. Mr. Dondero's desire to re-assert control over the estate or to "burn the place down" should not, in any circumstance, outweigh the preferences of the Debtor and its legitimate creditors. Those creditors have not objected to the settlement, and their preference for a reasonable and expeditious settlement of UBS's claims and the start of distributions under the Plan is clear.

WHEREFORE, for the reasons set forth above and in the Motion, the Debtor respectfully requests that the Court grant the Motion.

Dated: May 14, 2021.

NOTICE

This Confidential Private Placement Memorandum (this “Memorandum”) is being furnished on a confidential basis solely to selected qualified investors (or their respective authorized representatives) considering the purchase of limited partner interests (the “Interests”) in Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, L.P. (the “Fund”). This Memorandum is not to be reproduced or distributed to others, at any time, without the prior written consent of Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund GP, L.P. (the “General Partner”) (other than to professional advisors and employees of the prospective investor receiving this Memorandum from the General Partner or its authorized representative or such prospective investor).

Each recipient agrees to keep confidential all information contained herein not already in the public domain and will use this Memorandum for the sole purpose of evaluating a possible investment in the Fund. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, each investor (and each employee, representative, or other agent of the investor) may disclose to any and all persons, without limitation of any kind, the tax treatment and tax structure of an investment in the Fund and all materials of any kind (including opinions or other tax analyses) that are provided to the investor relating to such tax treatment and tax structure. Acceptance of this Memorandum by prospective investors constitutes an agreement to be bound by the foregoing terms.

No person has been authorized to give any information or to make any representation concerning the Fund or the offering of the Interests other than the information contained in this Memorandum and, if given or made, such information or representation must not be relied upon as having been authorized by the Fund or the General Partner. Prospective investors should not construe the contents of this Memorandum as legal, tax or financial advice. Each prospective investor should consult its own professional advisors as to the legal, financial, tax, ERISA (as defined herein) or other related matters relevant to the suitability of an investment in the Fund for such investor. In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the Fund and the terms of the offering contemplated by this Memorandum. The Interests have not been recommended by any U.S. federal or state, or any non-U.S., securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, the foregoing authorities have not confirmed the accuracy or determined the adequacy of this Memorandum. Any representation to the contrary is a criminal offense.

This Memorandum does not constitute an offer to sell, or the solicitation of an offer to buy, any Interests in any state or other jurisdiction where, or to or from any person to or from whom, such offer or solicitation is unlawful or not authorized. The Interests have not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”), or the securities laws of any of the states of the United States. The offering and any potential sale contemplated by this Memorandum will be made in reliance upon an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act for offers and sales of securities which do not involve any public offering and analogous exemptions under state securities laws. There will be no public market for the Interests, and there is no obligation on the part of any person to register the Interests under the Securities Act or any state securities laws. The Fund has not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended. Interests are suitable only for sophisticated investors who do not require immediate liquidity for their investments, for whom an investment in the Fund does not constitute a complete investment program and who fully understand and are willing to assume the risks involved in the Fund’s investment program. The Fund’s investment practices, by their nature, may be considered to involve a substantial degree of risk. See “Risk Factors and Potential Conflicts of Interest” beginning at page 25. No assurance can be given that the Fund’s investment objectives will be achieved or that investors will receive a return of their capital.

The Interests are subject to restrictions on transferability and resale and may not be transferred or resold except as permitted under the Securities Act and any applicable state or other securities laws, pursuant to registration or an exemption therefrom. The transferability of the Interests will be further restricted by the terms of the limited partnership agreement of the Fund. Investors should be aware that they will be required to bear the financial risks of an investment in the Interests for an extended period of time.

This Memorandum does not purport to be, and should not be construed as, a complete description of the limited partnership agreement of the Fund or the investment management agreement by and among the Fund’s investment manager, the General Partner and the Fund. Each prospective investor in the Fund is encouraged to review the Fund’s limited partnership agreement carefully, in addition to consulting appropriate legal and tax advisors. To the extent of any inconsistency between this Memorandum and the Fund’s limited partnership agreement, the terms of the Fund’s limited partnership agreement control.

Certain information contained in this Memorandum constitutes “forward-looking statements,” which can be identified by the use of forward-looking terminology such as “may,” “will,” “should,” “expect,” “anticipate,” “project,” “estimate,” “intend,” or “believe” or the negatives thereof or other variations thereon or comparable terminology. Due to various risks and uncertainties, including those described in “Risk Factors and Potential Conflicts of Interest,” actual events or results or the actual performance of the Fund may differ materially from those reflected or contemplated in such forward-looking statements.

Pursuant to an exemption from the Commodity Futures Trading Commission, neither the General Partner nor the Investment Manager is registered with as a commodity pool operator and therefore, unlike a registered commodity pool operator, is not required to deliver a disclosure document or a certified annual report to participants in this pool. Among other things, the exemption requires the filing of a claim of exemption with the National Futures Association. It is also required that at all times either: (a) the aggregate initial margin and premiums required to establish commodity interest positions does not exceed 5% of the liquidation value of the Fund’s portfolio; or (b) the aggregate net notional value of the Fund’s commodity interest positions does not exceed 100% of the liquidation value of the Fund’s portfolio and further that all pool participants are required to be accredited investors or certain other qualified investors.

All references herein to “$” refer to U.S. dollars.

This Memorandum is accurate as of its date, and no representation or warranty is made as to its continued accuracy after such date.

Investment Manager	Highland Capital Management, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (the “ Investment Manager ”).
Investor Eligibility	Investors must be both “accredited investors” and “qualified purchasers.”
Offshore Feeder Fund	In order to facilitate investments by non-U.S. and other tax-exempt investors, the Investment Manager has sponsored the formation of Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, Ltd., a Cayman Islands exempted company (the “ Offshore Fund ”). The Offshore Fund places all of its assets in and conducts all of its investment and trading activities through the Fund as a limited partner of the Fund.
Investment Objective	The Fund seeks attractive risk-adjusted returns, consistent with the preservation of capital and prudent investment management.
Series of Interests	The Fund has four series of Interests and is offering Series B Interests, Series C Interests and Series D Interests pursuant to this Memorandum.
Minimum Investment	The initial minimum investment is $1,000,000.00, although the General Partner has the right to accept lesser amounts.
Management Fee	Annual rate of 1.5% for Series B Interests, 1.0% for Series C Interests, and 2.0% for Series D Interests, calculated and payable quarterly in advance.
Performance Allocation	Highland Capital Management, L.P., as a special limited partner of the Fund, is entitled to receive an annual performance-based profit allocation at the end of each year equal to 20% of the Fund’s net profits, subject to a “high water mark.”
Withdrawals	Withdrawal rights vary by Series and are subject to timing restrictions, reserves for contingencies, partial hold-back pending completion of an annual audit and suspension restrictions as further described in “ Summary of Terms .”
Variation of Terms	The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager (as applicable) may agree with certain limited partners to a variation of the terms set forth in this Memorandum or establish additional classes or series of limited partner interests that have terms that differ from those described herein, including different management fees, performance allocations and withdrawal rights.

INVESTMENT PROGRAM

Investment Objective

The Fund's investment objective is to seek attractive risk-adjusted returns, consistent with the preservation of capital and prudent investment management. No assurance can be given, however that the Fund will achieve this objective.

Investment Strategy

Investment Asset Classes

The following is a description of the principal types of securities in which the Fund may invest and certain trading techniques the Fund may employ. The following description is merely a summary and the Investment Manager has discretion to cause the Fund to invest in other types of securities and to follow other investment criteria and guidelines. However, consistent with the investment strategy of the Fund, all new investments made by the Fund must, at the time of purchase, (i) trade over-the-counter or on an exchange, (ii) have a third-party quote or valuation available, and (iii) be considered a marketable investment in the reasonable opinion of the Investment Manager. An investment is a marketable investment if in the reasonable opinion of the Investment Manager it can be sold at the mark within 30 calendar days. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Fund may invest up to 20% of its net asset value in non-marketable investments if and when the Fund's net asset value reaches $1 billion.

Debt and Debt-Like Securities. The Investment Manager intends for debt securities to be the Fund's primary focus, with a target allocation of 40-60% of net asset value of the Fund, although this may vary depending on market conditions. The Fund may invest (both long and short) in debt securities of any kind, including debt securities of varying maturities, debt securities paying a fixed or fluctuating rate of interest, inflation-indexed bonds, structured notes, loan assignments, loan participations, asset-backed securities, collateralized loan obligation ("CLO") securities (including, rated and unrated, debt, equity and preference share instruments relating to collateralized loan obligations ("CLO Securities")), debt securities convertible into equity securities, and securities issued or guaranteed by the U.S. Government or its agencies or instrumentalities, by foreign governments or international agencies or supranational entities or by domestic or private issuers.

The Fund may invest in debt securities of any credit quality, including below investment grade securities (also known as "high yield securities" or "junk securities"). Such securities are rated below investment grade by a nationally recognized statistical rating organization ("NRSRO") or are unrated but deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality. The Fund may invest without limitation in below investment grade or unrated securities, including in insolvent borrowers or borrowers in default.

Equity and Equity-Like Securities. The Fund may invest (both long and short) in common stock, preferred stock, securities convertible into common stock, rights and warrants or securities or other instruments whose price is linked to the value of common stock. Although the equity securities in which the Fund invests may have any capitalization, may be dominated in any currency, and may be located in emerging markets without limit, the Fund will primarily invest in equity securities of large capitalization companies that are located in developed markets. Additionally, the Fund may invest in equity or subordinated tranches of asset-backed securities, including CLOs, and may also invest in life settlement policies and other instruments that have equity-like characteristics that meet the investment objective of the Fund.

Investment Themes

The Investment Manager's investment philosophy is based on the belief that thorough, fundamental research and a disciplined research methodology increase the likelihood of producing attractive long-term results. The Investment Manager uses this research in an attempt to anticipate long-term secular trends and identify those investments that have the highest relative value characteristics across four primary investment themes.

- 1) Convergence – Investments in market sectors in which the Investment Manager believes are mispriced and will converge to historic norms over time.
- 2) Deep Value – Investments in companies that the Investment Manager believes the market has undervalued. Through thorough research the Investment Manager believes the current market value does not correspond with the company's long-term fundamentals.
- 3) Event Driven – The Investment Manager will generally focus on equity and debt investments with catalysts that could include, but are not limited to, asset sales, covenant violations, liability management, amend/extend, refinancing, tenders and mergers/acquisitions.
- 4) Activism – Material holdings or controlling interests in companies, including the potential to obtain representation on the company's board, with the goal of affecting a change in the company in order to drive future profitability and value realization.

The Investment Manager may also manage interest rate, default, currency and other risks through a variety of trading methods and market tools, including security shorting and derivative hedging instruments, as it deems appropriate.

Although the Investment Manager expects to maintain a diversified portfolio of investments, it does not intend to limit itself to any one particular investment theme or asset class. Rather, the Investment Manager intends to follow a flexible approach in order to place itself in the best position to capitalize on opportunities in the financial markets.

*The investment objectives and methods summarized above represent the General Partner's and Investment Manager's current intentions. Depending on conditions and trends in the securities markets and the economy in general, the General Partner and the Investment Manager may pursue any objectives, employ any investment techniques or purchase any type of security that they consider appropriate and in the best interests of the Fund whether or not described in this section. The foregoing discussion includes and is based upon numerous assumptions and opinions of the General Partner and Investment Manager concerning world financial markets and other matters, the accuracy of which cannot be assured. There can be no assurance that the Fund's investment strategy will achieve profitable results.

MANAGEMENT

The General Partner and the Investment Manager

Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund GP, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (the “General Partner”), serves as the general partner of the Fund. Highland Capital Management, L.P., a Delaware partnership (the “Investment Manager” or “Highland”), serves as the investment manager of the Fund and has responsibility for the Fund’s investment program. James D. Dondero ultimately controls the General Partner and the Investment Manager.

The General Partner has the full authority of a general partner under Delaware law. The powers of the General Partner described in this Memorandum and the Partnership Agreement are not exhaustive and are not limited to the specific authorities described therein. Thus, subject to applicable law, the General Partner may make certain decisions or take certain actions even where those decisions or actions are not expressly granted in the Partnership Agreement or described in this Memorandum.

The Investment Management Agreement

The Investment Manager serves pursuant to an investment management agreement with the Fund, the Offshore Fund and the General Partner (the “Investment Management Agreement”). Under the Investment Management Agreement, the Investment Manager has full discretion to invest the assets of the Fund in pursuit of the investment objective and strategy described in this Memorandum.

The Investment Management Agreement provides that, in the absence of willful misconduct, fraud or gross negligence, each of the Investment Manager, its principals, shareholders, managers, employees and affiliates will be indemnified by the Fund and/or the Offshore Fund, to the extent permitted by law, against any loss or liability incurred by any of such persons in performing their duties under the Investment Management Agreement. For its services the Investment Manager is entitled to the Management Fee and reimbursement of any expenses incurred on behalf of the Fund or the Offshore Fund.

Investment Personnel

The key investment professionals of the Investment Manager who will be responsible for the Fund’s investments are described below.

Mr. Parker serves on the Board of Directors of Euramax Holdings, Inc., TerreStar Corporation, JHT Holdings, Inc., and a non-profit organization, the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation (Dallas chapter).

Advisory Committee

The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may appoint, or cause to be appointed, a committee (the “Advisory Committee”) consisting of one or more individuals selected by the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager, none of whom is affiliated with the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager (except as a Limited Partner or as an investor in the Fund or an affiliate thereof). If established, the Advisory Committee will have the authority, at the request of the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager, to consult with the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager on any matters that may involve a conflict of interest between the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager (or their affiliates) on the one hand and the Limited Partners (or shareholders of the Offshore Fund) and the Fund on the other. Any consent given by a majority of the Advisory Committee on behalf of the Fund in good faith after consultation with the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager is binding on the Fund and the Limited Partners or shareholders of the Offshore Fund (so long as such majority consists of persons independent of the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager and their affiliates). The Fund will have the authority to agree to reimburse members of the Advisory Committee for their out-of-pocket expenses and to indemnify them to the maximum extent permitted by law.

Administrator

SEI Investments is a leading global provider of investment processing, investment management and investment operations solutions for institutional and personal wealth management. For more than 40 years, SEI has helped corporations, financial institutions, financial advisors and ultra-high-net-worth families create and manage wealth by providing comprehensive, innovative, investment and investment-business solutions. SEI manages or administers $601.9 billion in funds and separately managed assets. SEI is a public company and is listed on the NASDAQ exchange under the symbol SEIC. SEI has been retained to perform certain administrative, accounting and investor services for the Fund and the Offshore Fund (in such capacity, the “Administrator”). In its capacity as Administrator, it will receive customary fees that will be paid out of the assets of the Fund. The Administrator will also be reimbursed for all reasonable out-of-pocket expenses.

The Fund will enter into an administration agreement (the “Administration Agreement”) with the Administrator. The Administrator will be under no duty to take any action on behalf of the Fund except as specifically set forth in the Administration Agreement or as may be specifically agreed to by the Administrator and the Fund in a written amendment thereto.

The Administrator will act as liaison with the Fund’s accountants and auditors and will provide account analyses, fiscal year summaries, and other audit-related schedules with respect to the Fund. The Administrator will take all reasonable action in the performance of its duties under the Administration Agreement to assure that the necessary information is made available to such accountants and auditors for the expression of their opinion, as required by the Fund.

The Administrator will enter into and will maintain in effect with appropriate parties one or more agreements making reasonable provisions for emergency use of electronic data processing equipment to the extent appropriate equipment is available. In the event of equipment failures, the Administrator will, at no additional expense to the Fund, take reasonable steps to minimize service interruptions. The Administrator will have no liability with respect to the loss of data or service interruptions caused by equipment failure, provided such loss or interruption is not caused by the Administrator’s own willful misfeasance, bad faith, gross negligence or reckless disregard of its duties or obligations under the Administration Agreement.

Subject to the terms of the Administration Agreement, the Administrator will be liable to the Fund (or any person or entity claiming through the Fund) for damages only to the extent caused by the Administrator's own fraud or willful misconduct under the Administration Agreement ("Standard of Care"). The Administrator will not be liable for damages (including, without limitation, damages caused by delays, failure, errors, interruption or loss of data) occurring directly or indirectly by reason of circumstances beyond its reasonable control. The Administrator will not be under any duty or obligation to inquire into and will not be liable for the validity or invalidity, authority or lack thereof, or truthfulness or accuracy or lack thereof, of any instruction, direction, notice, instrument or other information which the Administrator reasonably believes to be genuine. The Administrator will not be liable for any damages that are caused by actions or omissions taken by the Administrator in accordance with written instructions by authorized persons of the Fund or advice of counsel. The Administrator will not be liable for any damages arising out of any action or omission to act by any prior service provider of the Fund or for any failure to discover any such error or omission. Neither the Administrator nor its affiliates will be liable for any consequential, incidental, exemplary, punitive, special or indirect damages, whether or not the likelihood of such damages was known by the Administrator or its affiliates. Both the Fund and the Administrator will have a duty to mitigate damages for which the other party may become responsible.

Absent the Administrator's failure to meet its Standard of Care, the Fund agrees to indemnify, defend and hold harmless the Administrator and its affiliates and their respective directors, trustees, officers, agents and employees from certain claims, suits, actions, damages, losses, liabilities, obligations, costs and reasonable expenses (including attorneys' fees and court costs, travel costs and other reasonable out-of-pocket costs related to dispute resolution) arising directly or indirectly from any actions taken or omitted to be taken by the Administrator in connection with the provision of services to the Fund.

The Offshore Fund will also enter into an administration agreement with the Administrator, under which the terms will be substantially as above.

SUMMARY OF TERMS

The following Summary of Terms summarizes the principal terms of an investment in the Fund, and is subject, and qualified in its entirety by reference, to the limited partnership agreement of the Fund, as amended (the “Partnership Agreement”) and the subscription documents (the “Subscription Documents”). This summary is intended to be brief and does not purport to provide a comprehensive explanation of the Partnership Agreement and the Subscription Documents. Accordingly, statements made in this Memorandum are subject to the detailed provisions of those agreements. Prospective investors are urged to review those agreements in their entirety prior to determining whether to invest in the Fund.

The Fund

The Fund is a limited partnership formed on December 1, 2005 under the laws of the State of Delaware with the name “Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, L.P.” The General Partner filed an amendment to the Certificate of Limited Partnership of the Fund on August 26, 2014, changing the name of the Fund to “Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, L.P.”

Recent Amendments; Series of Interests

The General Partner and the existing Limited Partners of the Fund adopted the Fourth Amended and Restated Limited Partnership Agreement of the Fund, effective November 1, 2014 (the “Effective Date”), whereby all existing limited partner interests were re-designated as “Series A Interests” and three new series of limited partner interests were created – “Series B Interests,” “Series C Interests” and “Series D Interests” (the “Amendments”).

As of the Effective Date, all existing Limited Partners will hold Series A Interests, the terms of which are set forth in a supplement to this Memorandum. The Fund is currently offering for subscription Series B Interests, Series C Interests and Series D Interests pursuant to this Memorandum.

The Fund may issue additional series of Interests over time (each, a “Series”). Not all Series of Interests will be available for subscription at the same time and the terms among the Series of Interests will vary. New Series of Interests may be established by the General Partner without notice to or approval of the Limited Partners.

Except with respect to management fees, performance-based profit allocations and withdrawal rights (each as discussed below), the rights and privileges attributable to Series A Interests, Series B Interests, Series C Interests and Series D Interests are identical.

References herein to “Interests” or “Limited Partners” shall include all Series of Interests and Limited Partners unless otherwise specified or context so requires.

General Partner Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund GP, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership. The general partner of the General Partner is Highland Multi Strategy Credit GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company of which the Investment Manager is currently the sole member.

Investment Manager Highland Capital Management, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership.

Eligible Investors Limited partner interests (“Interests”) may be purchased by investors who are “accredited investors” and “qualified purchasers,” as defined in the Fund’s Subscription Documents. Subscribers will be required to complete the Fund’s Subscription Documents consisting of the subscription agreement and the subscriber information form to determine their eligibility. The General Partner reserves the right to reject any investor for any reason or for no reason in its sole discretion.

An investment in the Fund is suitable only for persons that have adequate means of providing for their current needs and personal contingencies and have no need for liquidity in their investments. An investment in the Fund should not be made by any person that (a) cannot afford a total loss of its principal, or (b) has not carefully read or does not understand this Memorandum, including the portions concerning the risks and the income tax consequences of an investment in the Fund.

Subscriptions Subscriptions for Interests may be accepted as of the first Business Day of each calendar month and/or such other days as the General Partner may determine from time to time, generally subject to the receipt of cleared funds on or before the acceptance date. The initial minimum investment is $1,000,000, although the General Partner may accept investments in a lesser amount. Capital contributions may be made in cash or, with the consent of the General Partner, in securities or partly in cash and partly in securities.

“Business Day” means any day other than Saturdays, Sundays or any other day banks located in New York, New York are required or authorized to be closed.

A subscriber admitted to the Fund (a “Limited Partner”) receives, in exchange for its initial capital contribution and any subsequent capital contribution, an Interest representing a proportionate share of the net assets of the Fund at that time.

There is no minimum aggregate amount of subscriptions that is required for the initial acceptance of subscriptions, nor has the General Partner established any maximum aggregate amount of subscriptions that may be accepted.

All subscribers will be required to comply with such anti-money laundering procedures as are required by the Uniting and Strengthening America by Providing Appropriate Tools Required to Intercept and Obstruct Terrorism (USA PATRIOT Act) Act of 2001 (Pub. L. No. 107-56) and other applicable anti-money laundering regulations as further described in the Subscription Documents.

Offshore Feeder Fund

In order to facilitate investments by non-U.S. and other tax-exempt investors, the Investment Manager has sponsored the formation of Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, Ltd., a Cayman Islands exempted company (the “Offshore Fund”). The Offshore Fund places all of its assets in and conducts all of its investment and trading activities through the Fund as a limited partner of the Fund.

Investors in the Offshore Fund will be issued participating non-voting shares of the Offshore Fund; provided that in the event that the Fund seeks the approval, vote or consent of the Offshore Fund with respect to any matter to which it would be entitled to vote as a limited partner of the Fund under the Partnership Agreement, the Offshore Fund: (i) shall submit such matter for the consent of the holders of shares in the Offshore Fund and (ii) shall cause the Offshore Fund to vote its Interest proportionally for and against such matter in the same proportion that the shareholders in the Offshore Fund voted for and against such matter.

The Investment Manager may establish one or more additional feeder vehicles to invest in the Fund.

Capital Accounts

The Fund will maintain a book capital account (a “Capital Account”) for the General Partner and each Limited Partner (each, a “Partner” and collectively, the “Partners”) to reflect contributions, withdrawals, distributions and allocations of net profit and net loss. The initial balance of each Partner’s Capital Account will be equal to the amount of cash or net value of any property contributed to the Fund by such Partner.

If a Partner invests in more than one Series of Interests, the Fund will maintain a separate Capital Account on behalf of such Partner with respect to each such Series and each Capital Account will be treated as if it were the Capital Account of a separate Partner for purposes of determining the Management Fee, the Performance Allocation and withdrawal rights applicable to each Series Capital Account.

If a Partner makes an additional capital contribution to an existing Capital Account, the Capital Account will be sub-divided into separate sub-accounts attributable to each separate capital contribution, with each capital sub-account treated as if it were the Capital Account of a separate Partner for purposes of determining the Management Fee, the Performance Allocation and withdrawal rights applicable to each capital sub-account. References herein to a Partner’s “Capital Account” include any such separately maintained capital sub-accounts.

The Fund will issue to the Offshore Fund an Interest and maintain capital sub-accounts that correspond to each Sub-Series of Shares (as defined in the Partnership Agreement) and each capital sub-account is treated separately for determining Management Fees, the Performance Allocations and withdrawal rights.

Alternative Investment Vehicles

The General Partner will have the right, in connection with any investment, to direct the capital contributions of some or all of the subscribers to be made through one or more alternative investment vehicles (each an “Alternative Investment Vehicle”), and, in the case of an existing investment, transfer all or a portion of such investment to an Alternative Investment Vehicle, if, in the judgment of the General Partner, the use of such vehicle or vehicles would allow the Fund to overcome legal or regulatory constraints, invest in a more tax-efficient manner or would facilitate participation in certain types of investments. Any Alternative Investment Vehicle will be subject to terms and conditions substantially similar to those of the Fund (including Management Fees and the Performance Allocation defined below) and will be managed by the Investment Manager or an affiliate thereof.

Affiliated Investors

Interests in the Fund held by the Investment Manager or its affiliates (collectively, “Affiliated Investors”) may not be assessed the management fees or the performance allocations that are applicable to other investors in the Fund, but share pro rata in other applicable expenses of the Fund (as more fully described in the Partnership Agreement).

Borrowing and Leverage

The Fund may buy securities on margin and arrange with banks, brokers and others to borrow money against a pledge of securities in order to employ leverage when the Investment Manager deems such action appropriate.

Management Fee

For its services to the Fund, the Investment Manager is entitled to a management fee (the “Management Fee”), calculated and payable quarterly in advance, equal to: (i) 1.5% (per annum) of each Capital Account attributable to a Series B Interest, (ii) 1.0% (per annum) of each Capital Account attributable to a Series C Interest and (iii) 2.0% (per annum) of each Capital Account attributable to a Series D Interest.

Management Fees will be appropriately adjusted for any partial quarter. The Investment Manager may reduce or eliminate the Management Fee with respect to any Limited Partner (or Capital Account) in its sole discretion.

Other Fees and Expenses

The Fund bears the reasonable, out-of-pocket expenses of the offering of the Interests contemplated hereunder and the recent Amendments, described above, including expenses associated with obtaining any requisite investor consent to such Amendments. To the extent the General Partner deems appropriate, expenses related to the Amendments may be capitalized and amortized by the Fund over a 36-month period from the Effective Date, even though such capitalization and amortization may be a divergence from U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (“GAAP”). Amortization of such expenses over a 36-month period may, in certain circumstances, result in a qualification of the Fund’s annual audited financial statements. In such instances, the General Partner may decide to (i) avoid the qualification by recognizing the unamortized expenses or (ii) make GAAP conforming changes for financial reporting purposes, but amortize expenses for purposes of calculating the Fund’s net asset value. There will be a divergence in the Fund’s fiscal year-end net asset value and in the net asset value reported in the Fund’s financial statements in any year where, pursuant to clause (ii), GAAP conforming changes are made only to the Fund’s financial statements for financial reporting purposes.

If the Fund is terminated within 36 months of the Effective Date, any unamortized expenses will be recognized.

Investment and Operational Expenses. The Fund bears all reasonable costs and expenses directly related to its investment program, including expenses related to research, due diligence, proxies, underwriting and private placements, brokerage commissions, interest on debt balances or borrowings, custody fees, travel fees and expenses related to the Fund’s offering and any withholding or transfer taxes imposed on the Fund. The Fund also bears all reasonable, out-of-pocket costs of the administration of the Fund, including (i) accounting, audit and legal expenses (including those incurred for the Fund, the General Partner or the Investment Manager to comply with applicable law, rule or regulation), (ii) costs of any litigation or investigation involving the Fund’s activities, (iii) the costs, fees and expenses of any appraisers, accountants or other experts engaged by the General Partner or the Investment Manager as well as other expenses directly related to the Fund’s investments and (iv) costs associated with reporting and providing information to existing and prospective Limited Partners. However, the General Partner or the Investment Manager may, in its sole discretion, choose to absorb any such expenses incurred on behalf of the Fund.

The Fund does not have its own separate employees or office. Except as described above and provided for in the Partnership Agreement, the Fund generally does not reimburse the General Partner or the Investment Manager for salaries, office rent and other general overhead costs of the General Partner or the Investment Manager. However, a portion of the commissions generated on the Fund’s brokerage transactions may generate “soft dollar” credits that the General Partner and the Investment Manager are authorized to use to pay for research and research-related services and products used by the General Partner or the Investment Manager. In the event that the Investment Manager elects to use soft dollars, it intends to limit such use to services that fall within the safe harbor afforded by Section 28(e) of the United States Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. See “Brokerage and Custody.”

Allocation of Net Profit and Loss

Net profit or net loss of the Fund (including unrealized gains or losses and Fund expenses) is allocated among the Capital Accounts of the General Partner and the Limited Partners (collectively, the “Partners”) as of the close of each calendar month, at such times as the Fund receives an additional capital contribution or effects a withdrawal or distribution, or at such other times as the General Partner may determine.

Profit and loss attributable and any Restricted New Issues (as described below) and are determined and allocated among the Partners separately and are not reflected in the determinations and allocations of net profit or net loss attributable to the remainder of the Fund’s net assets.

As of the close of each accounting period, the net profit or net loss (other than any profit or loss attributable to Restricted New Issues, which are allocated as per below) will be allocated pro rata among the Capital Accounts of the Partners in proportion to their percentage interests in the Fund as of the commencement of the period. Each Partner’s percentage interest in the Fund as of the commencement of any period is based on the value of the Partner’s Capital Account at such time (excluding any amount attributable to such Partner’s share of Restricted New Issues), in relation to the total value of the Fund’s net assets at such time (excluding the aggregate amount of net assets attributable to Restricted New Issues).

If the General Partner determines that for legal, tax, regulatory or bona fide other reasons as to which the General Partner and any Limited Partner may agree such Limited Partner should not participate (or should receive a reduced participation) in the net profit or net loss with respect to any investment, the General Partner may allocate net profit or net loss, if any, with respect to the investment to Limited Partners to the extent to which the above restrictions do not apply.

The Management Fee is calculated based on the Capital Account balance of each Limited Partner and is debited from each Limited Partner’s Capital Account. Allocations to each Partner of net profit or net loss of the Fund will be subject to periodic adjustment to give effect to the Performance Allocation, as described below.

Restricted New Issues

The Fund may from time to time purchase securities in public offerings made through member firms of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, Inc. (“FINRA”). FINRA member firms are not permitted to sell certain new issues (“Restricted New Issues”) to accounts in which certain persons have a significant beneficial interest that are involved in the securities industry or to executive officers or directors of companies that are current, recent, or prospective investment banking clients of the relevant underwriters (“Restricted Persons”). In order to enable the Fund to participate in Restricted New Issues, the Fund will require each Limited Partner to provide information to enable the Fund to determine whether the Limited Partner is a Restricted Person. When the Fund invests in a Restricted New Issue, the profits and losses associated with the investment will specifically be allocated to those Partners who are permitted by the FINRA rules to have a beneficial interest therein.

The FINRA rules permit Restricted Persons that are involved in the securities industry to have in the aggregate up to a 10% participation in Restricted New Issues and Restricted Persons affiliated with a FINRA member’s investment banking clients to have up to 25% participation in Restricted New Issues. If the ownership of the Fund by Restricted Persons exceeds the maximum percentage, the General Partner will allocate such excess amount pro rata among the Capital Accounts of Partners who are not Restricted Persons or on such other basis that the General Partner reasonably determines ensures compliance with the FINRA Rules.

If a Restricted New Issue in which participation by Restricted Persons has been capped is not promptly sold, the investment may be reallocated among all Partners on a pro rata basis (including all Restricted Persons) after a secondary market develops at such secondary market price.

Performance Allocation

The Investment Manager, in its capacity as a special limited partner in the Fund, is entitled to a performance allocation at the end of each calendar year (the “Performance Allocation”), which is calculated and charged separately with respect to each Capital Account of each Limited Partner, equal to 20% of the amount by which the Capital Account’s “Performance Change Amount” (if positive) for the current calendar year exceeds the Capital Account’s “Loss Carryforward Amount.”

A Capital Account’s “Performance Change Amount” for any calendar year equals such Capital Account’s pro rata allocation of net profit or net loss (including Management Fees, Restricted New Issues and/or other items of income or expense specially allocable to the Capital Account).

The “Loss Carryforward Amount” for any calendar year equals the aggregate Performance Change Amounts, if negative, allocated to a Capital Account during any preceding calendar year, minus any subsequent positive Performance Change Amounts on which no Performance Allocation was charged. If a Limited Partner makes a withdrawal from its Capital Account at a time when there is a Loss Carryforward Amount, such Loss Carryforward Amount will be reduced in the same proportion that the withdrawal amount bears to the Limited Partner's total Capital Account balance immediately prior to the withdrawal.

The Performance Allocation is calculated and charged to each Capital Account as of the last day of each calendar year. The Performance Allocation is also calculated and charged with respect to any Capital Account from which there is a permitted or required withdrawal as of any time other than the last day of a calendar year on the basis of net profits allocated to such Capital Account through the applicable date of withdrawal. In the case of a partial withdrawal, the Performance Allocation is calculated and charged only with respect to the portion of the Capital Account being withdrawn.

The Performance Allocation and Loss Carryforward Amount will be computed separately for each Capital Account (and each separately maintained capital sub-account reflecting additional contributions by a Limited Partner). Thus, if a Limited Partner has multiple Capital Accounts, the Performance Allocation and Loss Carryforward will be computed separately for each Capital Account, and the Capital Accounts will not be netted against one another for purposes of calculating the Performance Allocation. Accordingly, Limited Partners with multiple Capital Accounts may be charged a Performance Allocation in respect of one or more Capital Accounts for a year in which the aggregate net profits allocated to all of such Limited Partner's Capital Accounts do not exceed the aggregate Loss Carryforward Amount allocated to all of such Limited Partner's Capital Accounts.

The Performance Allocation with respect to any Limited Partner may be waived or altered by the Investment Manager in its sole discretion.

Distributions

Subject to the withdrawal privilege described below, all earnings of the Fund are ordinarily retained for investment. Other than distributions made pursuant to a withdrawal described below, Limited Partners should not expect the Fund to make any distributions.

Withdrawals Generally

Withdrawal rights vary by Series. For the purposes of establishing the withdrawal privileges below, withdrawal rights are determined separately with respect to each Capital Account (and each capital sub-account, if applicable) of a Limited Partner.

Series Withdrawal Dates

Subject to certain withdrawal restrictions described below, Limited Partners have the following withdrawal rights:

Series B Interests: Annual Liquidity. A Limited Partner is permitted to make complete or partial withdrawals of its Series B Interests upon written notice to the General Partner at least 180 days prior to the applicable Series B Withdrawal Date. The "Series B Withdrawal Date" means: (i) the end of the day on the last Business Day of the calendar month that immediately precedes the one-year anniversary of the contribution of the capital to be withdrawn; and thereafter (ii) the end of the day on each one-year anniversary of the preceding Series B Withdrawal Date (i.e., if capital was contributed to the Fund on November 1, 2014, such capital would be eligible for withdrawal on October 31, 2015 and every year thereafter on October 31st, or the last Business Day of that month).

Series C Interests: Two Year Liquidity. A Limited Partner is permitted to make complete or partial withdrawals of its Series C Interests upon written notice to the General Partner at least 180 days prior to the applicable Series C Withdrawal Date. The “Series C Withdrawal Date” means: (i) the end of the day on the last Business Day of the calendar month that immediately precedes the two-year anniversary of the contribution of the capital to be withdrawn; and thereafter (ii) the end of the day on each two-year anniversary of the preceding Series C Withdrawal Date (i.e., if capital was contributed to the Fund on November 1, 2014, such capital would be eligible for withdrawal on October 31, 2016 and every two years thereafter on October 31st, or the last Business Day of that month).

Series D Interests: One Year Hard Lock-Up; Quarterly Liquidity. A Limited Partner is permitted to make complete or partial withdrawals of its Series D Interest as of the last Business Day of each calendar quarter (and/or such other days as the General Partner may determine in its sole discretion) (each, a “Series D Withdrawal Date”) following the one-year anniversary of the contribution of the capital to be withdrawn. Notice of any withdrawal of Series D Interests must be provided in writing to the General Partner at least 90 calendar days prior to the requested Series D Withdrawal Date.

The General Partner may, at any time and in its sole discretion, waive or modify the foregoing withdrawal and distribution restrictions with respect to any Limited Partner.

Settlement of Withdrawal Proceeds

With respect to any amounts withdrawn, a withdrawing Partner shall not share in the income, gains and losses of the Fund or have any other rights as a Partner (in the case of a complete withdrawal) after the applicable date of withdrawal, and withdrawn amounts will be fixed as of the effective date of withdrawal, except as otherwise provided in the Partnership Agreement with respect to reserves for contingencies.

At least 90% of the estimated amount due with respect to the Fund’s marketable investments is normally settled in cash or, subject to the sole discretion of the General Partner, wholly or partially with securities or other assets of the Fund, within 30 Business Days after the date of withdrawal, provided that the General Partner may delay such payment if such delay is reasonably necessary to prevent such withdrawal from having a material adverse impact on the Fund or the remaining Capital Accounts. The General Partner is entitled to deduct from such settlement an amount equal to the pro rata portion of any Performance Allocation (based on the portion of the withdrawal being settled) payable to the Investment Manager with respect to such withdrawn amount. Any balance will be held back and distributed, without interest thereon, promptly following completion of the audit of the Fund's financial statements for such fiscal year, or sooner in the General Partner's discretion.

In the case of a complete withdrawal, or a partial withdrawal that cannot be fully funded out of the Limited Partner's interest in the Fund's marketable investments, no settlements occur with respect to any of such Limited Partner's interest in the Fund's non-marketable investments until the occurrence of liquidity events with respect to such non-marketable investments after the scheduled payment date for the withdrawal (without interest thereon). Notwithstanding the foregoing, the General Partner may, in its sole discretion, make settlements in such cases prior to the occurrence of a liquidity event if such settlement would, in the good faith opinion of the General Partner, not have a material adverse effect on the Fund. Generally, a liquidity event will be a sale of the relevant investment for cash, in which case the settlement will be funded in cash within 90 days after the liquidity event (without interest). If the liquidity event is not a sale for cash, the General Partner may effect the settlement either by making a distribution in kind of the Limited Partner's ratable share of the relevant investment or by distributing the net proceeds derived from a sale of such investment. The General Partner is entitled to withdraw from each such settlement an amount equal to the remaining portion of any Performance Allocation (pro rata based on the portion of such withdrawal being distributed) to be credited to the Investment Manager at the same time and in the same form (in cash or in kind) as the distribution to the withdrawing Limited Partner.

The General Partner may withhold for the benefit of the Fund from any distribution to a withdrawing Limited Partner an amount representing the actual or estimated costs incurred by the Fund with respect to such withdrawal.

Withdrawal Conditions

The General Partner may refuse to accept a withdrawal request if it is not accompanied by such additional information as the General Partner or the Administrator may reasonably require. This power may, without limitation to the generality of the foregoing, be exercised where proper information has not been provided for money laundering verification purposes. In addition, where withdrawal proceeds are requested to be remitted to an account which is not in the name of the investor, the General Partner and the Administrator reserve the right to request such information as may be reasonably necessary in order to verify the identity of the investor and the owner of the account to which the withdrawal proceeds will be paid. The withdrawal proceeds will not be paid to a third-party account if the investor and/or owner of the account fails to provide such information.

Compulsory Withdrawals The General Partner reserves the right, in its sole discretion, to compel the withdrawal of any Limited Partner's Interest, in part or in its entirety, on not less than five days' prior written notice (or immediately if the General Partner determines in its sole discretion that such Limited Partner's continued participation in the Fund may cause the Fund, the Investment Manager or the General Partner to violate any applicable law). Settlements are made in the same manner as voluntary withdrawals.

Suspension of Valuations, Withdrawals and Withdrawal Payments The General Partner may suspend the issuance of Interests, the Partners' withdrawal privileges, the payment of withdrawal proceeds and the valuation of the Fund's net assets:

- (i) during any period when any stock exchange or over-the-counter market on which the Fund's investments are quoted, traded or dealt in is closed, other than for ordinary holidays and weekends, or during periods in which dealings are restricted or suspended;
- (ii) during the existence of any state of affairs as a result of which, in the reasonable opinion of the General Partner, disposal of investments by the Fund, or the determination of the value of the assets of the Fund, would not be reasonably practicable;
- (iii) during any breakdown in the means of communication normally employed in determining the price or value of the Fund's assets or liabilities, or of current prices in any stock market as aforesaid, or when for any other reason the prices or values of any assets or liabilities of the Fund cannot reasonably be accurately ascertained within a reasonable time frame;
- (iv) during any period when the transfer of funds involved in the realization or acquisition of any investments cannot, in the reasonable opinion of the General Partner, be effected at normal rates of exchange;
- (v) in other circumstances where the General Partner is unable to fairly value the Fund's assets due to extreme market conditions; or
- (vi) automatically upon liquidation of the Fund.

Upon the reasonable determination by the General Partner that conditions leading to suspension no longer apply, withdrawal rights for all Limited Partners shall be promptly reinstated, and any pending withdrawal requests (or new, timely withdrawal requests) shall be honored as of the last Business Day of the calendar quarter in which withdrawals have recommenced, subject to the application of the withdrawal limitations described herein.

Soft Wind Down

It is anticipated that any suspension in the circumstances described above in “Suspension of Valuations, Withdrawals and Withdrawal Payments” (each, a “Suspension”) would ordinarily be temporary (other than in connection with a decision to proceed with the liquidation of the Fund). However, there may be situations in which the circumstances giving rise to the Suspension continue to be present for a considerable period of time with the result that the General Partner, in consultation with the Investment Manager, considers it appropriate to keep the Suspension in place indefinitely. In certain circumstances, even where a Suspension has not been declared, the General Partner may, in consultation with the Investment Manager, make a determination that the investment strategy should no longer be continued. During any such period of Suspension or having made such determination that the investment strategy should no longer be continued, the Investment Manager may recommend to the General Partner to cause the Fund to return the Fund’s assets to Limited Partners in an orderly manner (without proceeding with a liquidation of the Fund) (an “Orderly Realization”). The General Partner may, in such circumstances, resolve to effect an Orderly Realization should it determine that doing so is in the best interests of the Fund as a whole. Such Orderly Realization shall not constitute a dissolution or winding up of the Fund for any purposes, but rather only the continued management of the Fund’s portfolio so as to reduce such portfolio to cash (to the extent reasonably practicable, as advised by the Investment Manager) and return such cash as well as all other assets of the Fund to the Limited Partners. The General Partner will notify Limited Partners of any decision to proceed with an Orderly Realization of the Fund. During an Orderly Realization, the Investment Manager may, in consultation with the General Partner, take such steps as are considered appropriate in the best interests of the Fund as a whole to effect the Orderly Realization. The General Partner, in consultation with the Investment Manager, shall establish what they consider to be a reasonable time by which the Orderly Realization should be effected (the “Realization Period”). Any resolution to undertake an Orderly Realization and the process thereof shall be deemed to be integral to the business of the Fund and may be carried out without recourse to a formal process of liquidation under Delaware law or any other applicable bankruptcy or insolvency regime. The General Partner, in consultation with the Investment Manager, may resolve to cease the Orderly Realization within the Realization Period and recommence active trading if the circumstances permit a lifting of any applicable Suspension or, where no Suspension is in effect, if the circumstances are such that the investment strategy can then be continued. Management Fees shall be payable and Performance Allocations shall be made during an Orderly Realization on the same basis as described herein.

Transfers

Interests are not transferable except with the prior written consent of the General Partner, which consent may be withheld in the General Partner's sole discretion. The General Partner in its sole discretion may require any transferee or assignee of any Limited Partner to agree in writing to be bound by the Partnership Agreement. Interests of any Affiliated Investors may be transferred to other affiliates thereof without restriction.

Duty of Care;
Indemnification

The Partnership Agreement provides that the General Partner, the Investment Manager and each of their affiliates are not liable to the Fund or the Limited Partners for any loss or damage arising by reason of being or having been the General Partner or the Investment Manager or from any acts or omissions in the performance of its services as General Partner or Investment Manager, as applicable, in the absence of willful misconduct, fraud or gross negligence or as otherwise required by law, and contains provisions for the indemnification of the General Partner, the Investment Manager and each of their affiliates by the Fund (but not by the Limited Partners individually) against any liabilities arising by reason of being or having been the General Partner or the Investment Manager or in connection with the Partnership Agreement or the Fund's business or affairs to the fullest extent permitted by law. The General Partner is not personally liable to any Limited Partner for the repayment of any positive balance in such Limited Partner's Capital Account or for contributions by such Limited Partner to the capital of the Fund or by reason of any change in the federal or state income tax laws applicable to the Fund or its investors.

Valuations

In general, the Fund's financial statements will be prepared in accordance with GAAP. The General Partner has delegated the valuation of the Fund's assets to the Investment Manager who values the Fund's assets as of the close of each accounting period in accordance with its valuation policies and procedures. Valuations may be suspended as set forth above in "Suspension of Valuations, Withdrawals and Withdrawal Payments."

Reserves

Appropriate reserves may be accrued and charged against net assets and proportionately against the Capital Accounts of the Partners for contingent liabilities, such reserves to be in the amounts (subject to increase or reduction) that the General Partner in its sole discretion deems necessary or appropriate. In the sole discretion of the General Partner, the amount of any such reserve (or any increase or decrease therein) may be charged or credited, as appropriate, to the Capital Accounts of those investors who are Partners at the time when such reserve is created, increased, or decreased, as the case may be, or alternatively may be charged or credited to those investors who were Partners at the time of the act or omission giving rise to the contingent liability for which the reserve was established.

If the General Partner determines that it is equitable to treat an amount to be paid or received as being applicable to one or more prior periods, then such amount may be proportionately charged or credited, as appropriate, to those persons who were Partners during any such prior period.

Fiscal Year

The Fund has a fiscal year ending on December 31 of each calendar year.

Reports to Partners

The Fund furnishes to its Partners as soon as practicable after the end of each taxable year (or as otherwise required by law) annual reports containing financial statements examined by the Fund's independent auditors as well as such tax information as is necessary for each Partner to complete federal and state income tax or information returns, along with any other tax information required by law. The Fund also furnishes monthly reports reviewing the Fund's performance for such calendar month. The General Partner selects the Fund's independent accountants in its sole discretion.

Advisory Committee

The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may appoint, or cause to be appointed, a committee (the "Advisory Committee") consisting of one or more individuals selected by the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager, none of whom is affiliated with the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager (except as a Limited Partner or as an investor in the Fund or an affiliate thereof). If established, the Advisory Committee will have the authority, at the request of the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager, to consult with the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager on any matters that may involve a conflict of interest between the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager (or their affiliates) on the one hand and the Limited Partners (or shareholders of the Offshore Fund) and the Fund on the other. Any consent given by a majority of the Advisory Committee on behalf of the Fund in good faith after consultation with the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager is binding on the Fund and the Limited Partners or shareholders of the Offshore Fund (so long as such majority consists of persons independent of the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager and their affiliates). The Fund will have the authority to agree to reimburse members of the Advisory Committee for their out-of-pocket expenses and to indemnify them to the maximum extent permitted by law.

Dissolution and Liquidation

In the event an Orderly Realization lasts longer than three years, Limited Partners with a combined percentage interest in the Fund of at least 75% may seek a court decree of dissolution or seek the appointment by the court of a liquidator for the Fund. The Limited Partners will not have any other right to bring an action in court to dissolve the Fund.

Dissolution of the Fund may also occur upon the General Partner's election, in its sole discretion, to dissolve the Fund or upon the occurrence of any event which results in the General Partner (or a successor to its business) ceasing to be the general partner of the Fund. Upon the occurrence of any such event, the General Partner (or a liquidator elected by a majority in interest of the Limited Partners, if the General Partner is unable to perform this function) is charged with winding up the affairs of the Fund, liquidating its assets to the extent feasible and making liquidating distributions (in cash or in securities or other assets, whether or not readily marketable) pro rata in accordance with each Partner's Capital Account balance.

Placement Agents

The Investment Manager may engage third parties to solicit investors and act as placement agents for the Fund. Placement agents may charge a placement fee directly to investors solicited by any such placement agent, but such fees will not affect the subscription amount and will not be collected by or from the Fund. The placement agent may be reimbursed for its expenses and indemnified by the Fund.

Furthermore, placement agents may be paid a portion of the Management Fee or Performance Allocation attributable to such investors solicited by them, thereby reducing the Management Fee or Performance Allocation received by the Investment Manager. Accordingly, investors should recognize that a placement agent's or distributor's participation in this offering may be influenced by its interest in such current or future fees and compensation. Investors should consider these potential conflicts of interest in making their investment decisions.

Each placement agent must comply with the legal requirements of the jurisdictions within which it offers and sells Interests.

Tax Status

The General Partner believes that the Fund should be treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes and that it should not itself be subject to U.S. federal income taxation. Each Limited Partner otherwise subject to U.S. federal income tax is required to include in such Limited Partner's taxable income such Limited Partner's share of the Fund's income and gains, when realized by the Fund (regardless of cash distributions from the Fund to such investor), and may claim, to the extent allowable, such Limited Partner's share of the Fund's losses and deductions. Due to the nature of the Fund's activities, the Fund's income or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes for a particular taxable period may differ from its financial or economic results. The deductibility of a Limited Partner's share of any Fund losses or deductions may be limited. See "Tax Considerations."

ERISA

The General Partner intends to limit investment in the Fund by "benefit plan investors" so that the assets of the Fund will not be considered "plan assets" for purposes of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"). See "ERISA and Other Regulatory Considerations."

Amendment of the Limited Partnership Agreement

The Partnership Agreement may be amended by the General Partner with the consent of a majority in interest of the Limited Partners, which consent may be obtained through negative consent. However, the Fund may not: (a) increase the obligation of a Limited Partner to make any contribution to the capital of the Fund; (b) reduce the Capital Account of any Limited Partner other than as contemplated by the Partnership Agreement; or (c) reduce any Limited Partner's right to share in net profits or assets of the Fund without the consent of each Limited Partner adversely affected thereby. The above consent may be obtained by negative consent (affording the Limited Partners notice and opportunity to object).

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the General Partner may amend the Partnership Agreement at any time without the consent of any Limited Partner: (a) to comply with applicable laws and regulations; (b) to make changes that do not adversely affect the rights or obligations of any Limited Partner; (c) to cure any ambiguity or correct or supplement any conflicting provisions of the Partnership Agreement; or (d) with respect to any other amendment, if any Limited Partner whose contractual rights as a Limited Partner would be materially and adversely changed by such amendment has an opportunity to withdraw from the Fund as of a date that is not less than 30 days after the General Partner has furnished written notice of such amendment to each Limited Partner and that is prior to the effective date of the amendment.

Variation of Terms

The General Partner, in its sole discretion, may enter into a side letter or similar agreement to or with one or more Limited Partners that has the effect of establishing rights under, or altering or supplementing the terms of the Partnership Agreement or the Subscription Documents (including those relating to Management Fees, the Performance Allocation, transparency, and withdrawals) with respect to such Limited Partner. The General Partner generally grants waivers of the Management Fees, Performance Allocation and withdrawal restrictions to principals and employees of the Investment Manager and its affiliates, as well as their related family members and affiliates.

Dispute Resolution

Any controversy or claim ("Dispute") out of or relating to or in connection with the Partnership Agreement or otherwise involving the Fund, its Partners and/or any Indemnified Party (as defined in the Partnership Agreement) shall be submitted to mediation in accordance with the Partnership Agreement and if such dispute has not been resolved within 90 days, will be resolved by binding arbitration in accordance with the Partnership Agreement. Mediation and arbitration shall be held in Dallas, Texas and Delaware law shall apply to any dispute, except as otherwise provided in the Partnership Agreement.

RISK FACTORS AND POTENTIAL CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

Investment in the Fund is speculative and involves certain risks. Certain of these risks are summarized below. The Fund may not be suitable for all investors and is intended for sophisticated investors who can accept the risks associated with its investments. An investment in the Fund does not constitute a complete investment program. Investors will not have recourse except with respect to the assets of the Fund. Prospective investors should consider, among others, the risk factors and potential conflicts of interest described in this section. All investors in the Fund should consult their own legal, tax and financial advisors prior to investing in the Fund.

Fund Risks

Investment Judgment; Market Risk. The profitability of a significant portion of the Fund's investment program depends to a great extent upon correctly assessing the future course of the price movements of securities and other investments. There can be no assurance that the Investment Manager will be able to predict accurately these price movements. With respect to the investment strategy utilized by the Fund, there is always some, and occasionally a significant, degree of market risk.

Reliance on Key Persons. The Fund will be substantially dependent on the services of James Dondero, Mark Okada and Joshua Terry (the "Key Man Group"). In the event of the death, disability, departure or insolvency of a member of the Key Man Group, or the complete transfer of a member's interest in the Investment Manager, the business of the Fund may be adversely affected. Each member of the Key Man Group will devote such time and effort as he deems necessary for the management and administration of the Fund's business. However, the members of the Key Man Group may engage in various other business activities in addition to managing the Fund, and consequently may not devote all time to Fund business.

Investment Authority. Substantially all decisions with respect to the management of the Fund are made by the General Partner and the Investment Manager. Limited Partners have no right or power to take part in the management of the Fund. The Investment Manager also makes all of the trading and investment decisions of the Fund. In the event of the withdrawal or bankruptcy of the General Partner, generally the Fund will be liquidated.

Performance Allocation. The Performance Allocation made to the Investment Manager may create an incentive for the Investment Manager to make investments that are riskier or more speculative than would be the case in the absence of such Performance Allocation.

Withdrawal Restrictions. There are severe restrictions on withdrawals from the Fund (which may be settled in securities rather than cash) and on transfers of Interests. The prior written consent of the General Partner is required for a transfer of the Interest of any Limited Partner and the General Partner, in its sole discretion, may require any transferee or assignee of any Limited Partner to agree in writing to be bound by the Partnership Agreement. Because of the restrictions on withdrawals and transfers, an investment in the Fund is a relatively illiquid investment and involves a high degree of risk. There is no independent market for the purchase or sale of Interests and none is expected to develop. Limited Partners must represent that they are purchasing Interests for investment. A subscription for Interests should be considered only by persons financially able to maintain their investment and who can accept a loss of all of their investment.

No Distributions. Since the Fund does not generally intend to pay distributions, an investment in the Fund is not suitable for investors seeking current distributions of income. Moreover, an investor is required to report and pay taxes on its allocable share of income from the Fund, even though no cash is distributed by the Fund.

In-Kind Distributions. The Partnership Agreement authorizes the General Partner to make distributions in kind of securities in lieu of or in addition to cash. In the event the General Partner makes distributions of securities in kind, such securities could be illiquid or subject to legal, contractual and other restrictions on transfer.

Diversification. Since the Fund's portfolio will not necessarily be widely diversified, the investment portfolio of the Fund may be subject to more rapid changes in value than would be the case if the Fund were required to maintain a wide diversification among companies, securities and types of securities.

Valuations. From time to time, certain situations affecting the valuation of the Fund's investments (such as limited liquidity, unavailability or unreliability of third-party pricing information and acts or omissions of service providers to the Fund) could have an impact on the net asset value of the Fund, particularly if prior judgments as to the appropriate valuation of an investment should later prove to be incorrect after a net asset value-related calculation or transaction is completed. The Fund is not required to make retroactive adjustments to prior subscription or withdrawal transactions or Management Fees or Performance Allocations based on subsequent valuation data.

Non-Public Information. From time to time, the Investment Manager may come into possession of non-public information concerning specific companies. Under applicable securities laws, this may limit the Investment Manager's flexibility to buy or sell portfolio securities issued by such companies. The Fund's investment flexibility may be constrained as a consequence of the Investment Manager's inability to use such information for investment purposes.

Soft Dollars. The Investment Manager may enter into "soft dollar" arrangements with one or more broker-dealers whereby the Investment Manager will direct securities transactions to the broker-dealer in return for research products and services from the broker-dealer. Although the Investment Manager will use the research and services in making investment decisions for the Fund, the Investment Manager may use such research or services for other accounts and the Fund will generally pay more than the lowest available commissions for execution of these transactions. The Investment Manager may also enter into "soft dollar" arrangements to cover Fund expenses or costs and expenses of the Investment Manager to the extent such arrangements are permitted by law and described in this Memorandum. See "Brokerage and Custody."

Absence of Registration. The Fund has not and will not register under the Investment Company Act. Accordingly, the provisions of the Investment Company Act which, among other things, require that a fund's board of directors, including a majority of disinterested directors, approve certain of the fund's activities and contractual relationships, prohibit certain trading and investment activities and prohibit the fund from engaging in certain transactions with its affiliates, will not be applicable. Neither the General Partner nor the Investment Manager is registered as a CPO or a CTA with the NFA in reliance on an exemption from registration pursuant to CFTC Regulation 4.13(a)(3). Accordingly, the provisions of the Commodity Exchange Act and the regulations promulgated thereunder applicable to registered persons will not be applicable to the General Partner or the Investment Manager.

Recent Developments in the Financial Services Industry. Recent developments in the U.S. financial markets illustrate that the current environment is one of extraordinary and possibly unprecedented uncertainty for the financial services industry. In July of 2010, the Dodd-Frank Financial Reform Act was passed which imposes many new requirements and restrictions on the financial services industry that may likely affect the business, operations and performance of hedge funds, such as increased reporting requirements, limitations on certain trading activity and regulatory oversight by different agencies, such as the newly created Financial Stability Oversight Counsel. The implications of the passage of the Dodd-Frank Financial Reform Act for the hedge fund industry as a whole still remain somewhat unclear. The hedge fund industry may continue to be adversely affected by the recent developments in the financial markets in the U.S. and abroad, and any future legal, regulatory or governmental action and developments in such financial markets and the broader U.S. economy could have an adverse effect on the Fund's business, operations and performance.

Investment Strategy Risks

Risks Associated With Investing in CLOs

Risks of Investment Focus. The Fund's portfolio may consist of CLO Securities. A cash flow CLO is generally analogous to a special purpose finance company. The CLO owns a portfolio consisting of corporate loans and other investments typically from which it receives interest income, together with capital gains and losses. The CLO is often financed with equity, which may be in the form of preference shares or income notes ("CLO Equity") and several levels of long-term debt ("CLO Debt"). CLO Debt is typically rated by the rating agencies based on the deal structure as well as outstanding principal amount of portfolio securities and, in most cases, is not contingent on the market value of the underlying portfolio. CLO Equity is almost always unrated.

CLO Securities are subject to, among other risks, credit, liquidity and interest rate risks. The CLO Equity that the Fund may purchase may be unrated or non-investment grade. In addition, as a holder of CLO Equity, the Fund may have limited remedies available upon the default of the CLO.

The value of the CLO Securities that the Fund may own generally will fluctuate with, among other things, the financial condition of the obligors or issuers of the CLO Securities' underlying portfolio of assets ("CLO Collateral"), general economic conditions, the condition of certain financial markets, political events, developments or trends in any particular industry and changes in prevailing interest rates. CLO Securities are issued on a non-recourse basis and holders of CLO Securities must rely solely on distributions on the CLO Collateral or proceeds thereof for payment in respect thereof. If distributions on the CLO Collateral are insufficient to make payments on the CLO Securities, no other assets will be available for payment of the deficiency and following realization of the CLO Securities, the obligations of such issuer to pay such deficiency generally will be extinguished.

Issuers of CLO Securities may acquire interests in loans and other debt obligations by way of sale, assignment or participation. The purchaser of an assignment typically succeeds to all the rights and obligations of the assigning institution and becomes a lender under the credit agreement with respect to the loan or debt obligation; however, its rights can be more restricted than those of the assigning institution.

CLO Collateral may consist of corporate loans, leveraged loans and other instruments, which often are rated below investment grade (or of equivalent credit quality). Loans may be unsecured and may be subordinated to certain other obligations of the issuer thereof. The lower ratings of below investment grade loans reflect a greater possibility that adverse changes in the financial condition of an issuer or in general economic conditions or both may impair the ability of the related issuer or obligor to make payments of principal or interest. Such investments may be speculative.

Dependence Upon Other Unrelated Managers. The success of a CLO may depend on the management talents and efforts of one person or a small group of persons whose management could adversely affect the CLO and, accordingly, the Fund as an investor in such CLO. Given that the Investment Manager will not have an active role in the management of these CLOs, the return on the Fund's investments in such CLOs will depend on the performance of unrelated managers.

Investments in CLOs Managed by the Investment Manager or its Affiliates. The Fund may invest a significant portion of its capital in structured investments, including CLO tranches originated and managed by third parties and CLO tranches managed by the Investment Manager or its affiliates (the "Affiliated CLOs"). If the Fund invests in Affiliated CLOs, the Limited Partners will indirectly pay the fees (senior and subordinated) (but only if such investment is in the equity tranche of such Affiliated CLO), expenses and any carried interest at primary issuance. The Investment Manager or its affiliates will receive senior and subordinated management fees and, in some cases, a performance-based allocation or fee with respect to its role as general partner and/or manager of the Affiliated CLOs. If the Fund provides all of the equity for an Affiliated CLO, there may be no third party with whom the amount of such fees, expenses and carried interest can be negotiated on an arm's-length basis. The Investment Manager will have conflicting division of loyalties and responsibilities regarding the Fund and an Affiliated CLO, and certain other conflicts of interest would be inherent in the situation. There can be no assurance that the interests of the Fund would not be subordinated to those of an Affiliated CLO or to other interests of the Investment Manager.

Multiple Levels of Fees. The Fund and the CLOs (including Affiliated CLOs) are expected to impose management fees, other administrative fees, carried interest and other performance allocations on realized and unrealized appreciation in the value of the assets managed and other income. This may result in greater expense than if Limited Partners were able to invest directly in the CLOs or underlying investments. Limited Partners should take into account that the return on their investment will be reduced to the extent of both levels of fees. The general partner or manager of a CLO (including a member of the Highland Group (defined below)) may receive the economic benefit of certain fees from its portfolio companies for services and in connection with unconsummated transactions (e.g., break-up, placement, monitoring, directors', organizational and set-up fees and financial advisory fees). Additionally, some of the CLOs may invest themselves in underlying hedge funds or CLOs. In such case, additional management costs and other administrative expenses may be incurred.

Limited Diversification. CLOs may invest in concentrated portfolios of assets. The concentration of an underlying portfolio in any one obligor would subject the related CLO Securities (the related CLO Equity in particular) to a greater degree of risk with respect to defaults by such obligor and the concentration of a portfolio in any one industry would subject the related CLOs (the related CLO Equity in particular) to a greater degree of risk with respect to economic downturns relating to such industry. The Fund may have a concentrated exposure to CLOs of a particular type of CLO.

CLO Embedded Leverage Risk. The Fund's participation in CLOs involves varying amounts of leverage. Leverage is embedded in all classes of a CLO other than the most senior tranche. If the Fund retains either the most or one of the most subordinate tranches of the CLO's securities, it will hold the most leveraged investment in the CLO. While leverage presents opportunities for increasing the Fund's total return, it has the effect of potentially increasing losses as well. Accordingly, any event which adversely affects the value of an investment in a CLO would be magnified to the extent such CLO is leveraged. The cumulative effect of the use of leverage by a CLO in a market that moves adversely to the CLO's investments could result in a substantial loss to the CLO which would be greater than if the CLO were not leveraged. The borrowing arrangements of CLOs will contain events of default that, under certain circumstances, could result in early amortization or in the acceleration of the maturities of these obligations. In the event of acceleration of the borrowing arrangements of a CLO, in whole or in part, it may be required to dispose of all or a significant portion of its investments. Such a forced disposal of securities could result in realization of value of such investments significantly below the anticipated market values for such securities. When the Fund invests in derivative transactions, it may also gain leverage through such derivative transactions, which will expose the Fund to a greater risk of loss.

Interest Rate Mismatch. CLOs may be subject to interest rate risk. The CLO Collateral of an issuer of a CLO may bear interest at a fixed or floating rate, while the CLO Debt may bear interest at a floating or fixed rate. As a result, there could be a floating/fixed rate or basis mismatch between such CLO Debt and the CLO Collateral which bears interest at a fixed rate ("Fixed Rate Assets"), and there may be a timing mismatch between such CLO Debt and the assets that are not Fixed Rate Assets ("Floating Rate Assets"). In addition, the interest rate on Floating Rate Assets may adjust more frequently or less frequently, on different dates and based on different indices than the interest rates on the CLO Debt. As a result of such mismatches, an increase or decrease in the level of the floating rate indices could adversely impact the ability to make payments on such CLO Debt or Equity. Although many CLOs attempt to hedge this interest rate risk, the hedges may not eliminate this risk and payments by the CLO under the hedges may significantly reduce the distributions on the CLO securities. In addition, these hedges may have additional risks, such as counterparty risk, that are not present without these hedges.

Lower Credit Quality Securities. There are no restrictions on the credit quality of the investments of the Fund. CLO Securities in which the Fund will invest may have no ratings or may be deemed by rating agencies to have substantial vulnerability to default in payment of interest and/or principal and have the lowest quality ratings. The Fund may purchase CLO Securities which have ratings that have been downgraded or placed on "credit watch" for future downgrading. Lower rated and unrated securities in which the Fund may invest have large uncertainties or major risk exposures to adverse conditions and are considered to be predominantly speculative and may become a defaulted asset for a variety of reasons. Generally, such securities offer a higher return potential than higher rated securities, but involve greater volatility of price and greater risk of loss of income and principal.

The market values of certain of these securities (such as subordinated securities) also tend to be more sensitive to changes in economic conditions than higher rated securities. The value of leveraged loans and other assets underlying a CLO may also be affected by changes in the market's perception of the entity issuing or guaranteeing them, or by changes in government regulations and tax policies. Additionally, loans and interests in loans have significant liquidity and market value risks since they are not generally traded in organized exchange markets but are traded by banks and other institutional investors engaged in loan syndications. Because loans are privately syndicated and loan agreements are privately negotiated and customized, loans are not purchased or sold as easily as publicly traded securities. In addition, historically the trading volume in the loan market has been small relative to the high-yield debt securities market, and such illiquidity has been exacerbated during the current liquidity crisis.

Leveraged loans have historically experienced greater default rates than has been the case for investment grade securities. There can be no assurance as to the levels of defaults and/or recoveries that may be experienced on the assets underlying CLO Securities.

In general, the ratings of nationally recognized rating organizations represent the opinions of such agencies as to the quality of securities that they rate. Such ratings may be used by the Investment Manager as an initial basis for the selection of portfolio securities. Such ratings, however, are relative and subjective; they are not absolute standards of quality and do not evaluate the market value risk of the securities. Such ratings also do not reflect macroeconomic or systematic risk, including the risk of increased illiquidity in the credit markets. It is also possible that a rating agency might not change its rating of a particular issue on a timely basis to reflect subsequent events.

Defaulted Assets Underlying CLO Securities. If the assets underlying a CLO Security become defaulted assets, such defaulted assets may become subject to either substantial workout negotiations or restructuring, which may entail, among other things, a substantial reduction in the interest rate, a substantial write-down of principal, and a substantial change in the terms, conditions and covenants with respect to such defaulted asset. In addition, such negotiations or restructuring may be quite extensive and protracted over time, and therefore may result in substantial uncertainty with respect to the ultimate recovery on such defaulted asset. The liquidity for defaulted assets may be limited, and to the extent that defaulted assets are sold, it is highly unlikely that the proceeds from such sale will be equal to the amount of unpaid principal and interest thereon. Furthermore, there can be no assurance that the ultimate recovery on any defaulted assets will be at least equal to either the minimum recovery rate assumed by any rating agency that rates the notes of the CLO security. Therefore, if any CLO security has defaulted assets which correspond to the exposure of the Fund's interest in the CLO security, the Fund may be adversely affected.

There exist significant additional risks for CLO Securities and investors in such securities as a result of the current liquidity crisis. Those risks include, among others, (i) the likelihood that the issuer of the CLO Security will find it harder to sell any of its assets in the secondary market, thus rendering it more difficult to dispose of assets which it has the discretion to manage, including credit risk obligations, credit improved obligations or defaulted obligations, (ii) the possibility that the price at which assets can be sold by the issuer of the CLO Security will have deteriorated from their effective purchase price and (iii) the increased illiquidity of the notes issued by the CLO Security. These additional risks may affect the returns on the investments in the Fund's portfolio.

Subordination of CLO Debt and CLO Equity. The Fund's portfolio may consist of CLO Equity and subordinate CLO Debt. Subordinate CLO Debt generally is fully subordinated to the related CLO senior tranches. CLO Equity generally is fully subordinated to any related CLO Debt. Thus, some of the investments of the Fund in a CLO may rank behind other creditors of the CLO and an investment by the Fund in the equity tranche of a CLO may rank behind all creditors of the CLO. To the extent that any losses are incurred by a CLO in respect of its related CLO Collateral, such losses are likely to be borne first by the holders of the related CLO Equity, next by the holders of any related subordinated CLO debt and finally by the holders of the related CLO senior tranches. In addition, if an event of default occurs under the governing instrument or underlying investment, as long as any CLO senior tranches are outstanding, the holders thereof generally are likely to be entitled to determine the remedies to be exercised under the instrument governing the CLO. Remedies pursued by such holders could be adverse to the interests of the holders of any related subordinated CLO Debt and/or the holders of the related CLO Equity, as applicable. Investments of the Fund may be the first to absorb any losses by the CLO on its underlying portfolio. This may result in losses on the invested proceeds of the Fund and could result in the complete loss of invested proceeds.

Mandatory Redemption of CLO Senior Tranches and CLO Debt. Under certain circumstances, cash flows from CLO Collateral that otherwise would have been paid to the holders of any related CLO Debt and the related CLO Equity will be used to redeem the related CLO senior tranches. This could result in an elimination, deferral or reduction in the interest payments, principal repayments or other payments made to the holders of such CLO Debt or such CLO Equity, which could adversely impact the returns to the holders of such CLO Debt or such CLO Equity.

Optional Redemption of CLO Senior Tranches and CLO Debt. An optional redemption by a CLO of its securities and, in particular, the exercise of rights by the holders of one or more classes of its securities (or the requisite percentages thereof) so as to effect any such optional redemption, could require the collateral or portfolio manager of the related CLO to liquidate positions more rapidly than would otherwise be desirable, which is likely to materially and adversely affect the realized value of the items of CLO Collateral sold (and which in turn is likely to materially and adversely impact the holders of any related CLO securities, including the Fund). As a result of any such rapid liquidation of a CLO, a holder of the related CLO securities (including the Fund) could lose all or a substantial portion of its investment in such CLO securities.

Insolvency Risks. Various laws enacted for the protection of creditors may apply to the issuers of the CLO Collateral (solely for purposes of this risk factor, an “Insolvent Company”). The information in this paragraph and the following paragraph is applicable with respect to U.S. issuers of CLO Collateral. Insolvency considerations may differ with respect to non-U.S. issuers of CLO Collateral. If a court in a lawsuit brought by an unpaid creditor or representative of creditors of an Insolvent Company, such as a trustee in bankruptcy, were to find that the issuer did not receive fair consideration or reasonably equivalent value for incurring the indebtedness constituting the CLO or CLO Collateral (as applicable) and, after giving effect to such indebtedness, the Insolvent Company (i) was insolvent, (ii) was engaged in a business for which the remaining assets of the Insolvent Company constituted unreasonably small capital or (iii) intended to incur, or believed that it would incur, debts beyond its ability to pay such debts as they mature, such court could determine to invalidate, in whole or in part, such indebtedness as a fraudulent conveyance, to subordinate such indebtedness to existing or future creditors of the Insolvent Company or to recover amounts previously paid by such issuer in satisfaction of such indebtedness. The measure of insolvency for purposes of the foregoing will vary. Generally, an Insolvent Company would be considered insolvent at a particular time if the sum of its debts were then greater than all of its property at a fair valuation or if the present fair saleable value of its assets were then less than the amount that would be required to pay its probable liabilities on its existing debts as they became absolute and matured. There can be no assurance as to what standard a court would apply in order to determine whether the Insolvent Company was “insolvent” after giving effect to the incurrence of the indebtedness constituting the CLO or CLO Collateral (as applicable) or that, regardless of the method of valuation, a court would not determine that the Insolvent Company was “insolvent” upon giving effect to such incurrence. In addition, in the event of the insolvency of an Insolvent Company, payments made on such CLO or CLO Collateral (as applicable) could be subject to avoidance as a “preference” if made within a certain period of time (which may be as long as one year) before insolvency.

In general, if payments on a CLO or CLO Collateral (as applicable) are avoidable, whether as fraudulent conveyances or preferences, such payments can be recaptured either from the initial recipient (such as the Fund) or from subsequent transferees of such payments (such as the Limited Partners).

However, a court in a bankruptcy or insolvency proceeding would be able to direct the recapture of any such payment from a Limited Partner only to the extent that such court has jurisdiction over such holder or its assets. Moreover, it is likely that avoidable payments could not be recaptured directly from a holder that has given value in exchange for its interest, in good faith and without knowledge that the payments were avoidable. Nevertheless, there can be no assurance that a Limited Partner will be able to avoid recapture on this or any other basis.

The preceding discussion is based upon principles of United States Federal and state laws. Insofar as the Fund's portfolio consists of the obligations of non-United States obligors, the laws of certain foreign jurisdictions may provide for avoidance remedies under factual circumstances similar to those described above or under different circumstances, with consequences that may or may not be analogous to those described above under United States Federal and state laws.

"Widening" Risk. For reasons not necessarily attributable to any of the risks set forth herein (for example, supply/demand imbalances or other market forces), the prices of the CLO Securities in which the Fund invests may decline substantially. In particular, purchasing assets at what may appear to be "undervalued" levels is no guarantee that these assets will not be trading at even lower levels at a time of valuation or at the time of sale. It may not be possible to predict, or to hedge against, such "spread widening" risk.

There Is Limited Disclosure About the CLO Securities and the Underlying CLO Collateral in this Memorandum. The Investment Manager will not be required to provide the investors in the Fund with financial or other information (which may include material non-public information) it receives related to the CLO Securities. The Investment Manager also may not disclose to investors notices the Investment Manager receives and it will not have any obligation to keep investors informed as to defaults in the CLO Securities, failure by the Fund to receive any payment of principal, interest, or other amounts or to disclose the portfolio or the decisions of which CLO Securities were not purchased in general to any investor. In addition, the investors will not have any right to inspect any records relating to the CLO Securities, and the Investment Manager will not be obligated to disclose any further information or evidence regarding the existence or terms of, or the identity of any obligor on, any CLO Securities.

Impact of the Volcker Rule on the Liquidity of the Notes. Section 619 of the Dodd-Frank Act added a provision, commonly referred to (together with the final regulations with respect thereto adopted on December 10, 2013) as the Volcker Rule, to federal banking laws to generally prohibit various covered banking entities from engaging in proprietary trading or acquiring or retaining an ownership interest in "covered funds" which generally include, sponsoring or having certain relationships with a hedge fund or private equity fund (defined in final regulations adopted on December 10, 2013 as any entity relying on Section 3(c)(1) or Section 3(c)(7) of the Investment Company Act to be exempt from registration under the Investment Company Act), subject to certain exemptions. The Volcker Rule also provides for certain supervised nonbank financial companies that engage in such activities or have such interests or relationships to be subject to additional capital requirements, quantitative limits or other restrictions. The conformance period for the Volcker Rule has been extended to July 21, 2015, and to July 21, 2017 for CLOs. Certain CLOs may be considered "covered funds" under the Volcker rule and therefore the most senior tranche of the CLO may be a restricted security for various banking and nonbanking entities. This may restrict the liquidity of certain non-Volcker compliant CLOs in the future and may affect the Fund's ability to liquidate these positions on a timely basis.

Investment Strategy and Investment Risks

General Economic and Market Conditions. The success of the Fund's activities will be affected by general economic and market conditions, such as interest rates, availability of credit, inflation rates, economic uncertainty, changes in laws (including laws relating to taxation of the Fund's investments), trade barriers, currency exchange controls, and national and international political circumstances (including wars, terrorist acts or security operations). These factors may affect the level and volatility of securities prices and the liquidity of the Fund's investments. Volatility or illiquidity could impair the Fund's profitability or result in losses. The Fund may maintain substantial trading positions that can be adversely affected by the level of volatility in the financial markets; the larger the positions, the greater the potential for loss.

Unpredictable or unstable market conditions may result in reduced opportunities to find suitable investments to deploy capital or make it more difficult to exit and realize value (or avoid significant losses) from the Fund's existing investments. It is important to understand that the Fund can incur material losses even if it reacts quickly to difficult market conditions and there can be no assurance that the Fund will not suffer material adverse effects from broad and rapid changes in market conditions.

Recent Developments in Global Credit Markets. Recently, declines in the market value of asset-backed securities, especially securities backed by subprime mortgages, have been concomitant with significant market events. Increasing credit and valuation problems in the subprime mortgage market have generated extreme volatility and illiquidity in the markets for securities directly or indirectly exposed to subprime mortgage loans. This volatility and illiquidity has extended to the global credit and equity markets generally, and, in particular, to the high-yield bond and loan markets, exacerbated by, among other things, growing uncertainty regarding the extent of the problems in the mortgage industry and the degree of exposure of financial institutions and others, decreased risk tolerance by investors and significantly tightened availability of credit. The duration and ultimate effect of current market conditions cannot be predicted, nor is it known whether or the degree to which such conditions may worsen. However, the continuation of current market conditions, uncertainty or further deterioration could result in further declines in the market values of potential Fund investments or declines in the market values of subsequently purchased Fund investments. Such declines could lead to diminished investment opportunities for the Fund, prevent the Fund from successfully executing its investment strategies or require the Fund to dispose of investments at a loss while such adverse market conditions prevail.

Illiquidity. The investments made by the Fund may be or become very illiquid, and consequently the Fund may not be able to sell such investments at prices that reflect the Investment Manager's assessment of their value or the amount paid for such investments by the Fund. Illiquidity may result from the absence of an established market for the investments as well as legal, contractual or other restrictions on their resale by the Fund and other factors. Furthermore, the nature of the Fund's investments, especially those in financially distressed companies, may require a long holding period prior to profitability. The Partnership Agreement authorizes the General Partner to make distributions in kind (including interests in affiliated liquidating vehicles) of securities in lieu of or in addition to cash. In the event the General Partner makes distributions of securities in kind, such securities could be illiquid or subject to legal, contractual and other restrictions on transfer.

Short Sales. The Fund may enter into transactions, known as "short sales," in which it sells a security it does not own in anticipation of a decline in the market value of the security. Short sales by the Fund that are not made "against the box" theoretically involve unlimited loss potential since the market price of securities sold short may continuously increase. The Fund may mitigate such losses by replacing the securities sold short before the market price has increased significantly. Under adverse market conditions, the Fund might have difficulty purchasing securities to meet its short sale delivery obligations, and might have to sell portfolio securities to raise the capital necessary to meet its short sale obligations at a time when fundamental investment considerations would not favor such sales.

Derivatives. Derivative instruments, or “derivatives,” include futures, options, swaps, structured securities and other instruments and contracts that are derived from, or the value of which is related to, one or more underlying securities, financial benchmarks, currencies or indices. Derivatives allow an investor to hedge or speculate upon the price movements of a particular security, financial benchmark currency or index at a fraction of the cost of investing in the underlying asset. The value of a derivative depends largely upon price movements in the underlying asset. Therefore, many of the risks applicable to trading the underlying asset are also applicable to derivatives of such asset. However, there are a number of other risks associated with derivatives trading. For example, because many derivatives are “leveraged,” and thus provide significantly more market exposure than the money paid or deposited when the transaction is entered into, a relatively small adverse market movement can not only result in the loss of the entire investment, but may also expose the Fund to the possibility of a loss exceeding the original amount invested. Derivatives may also expose investors to liquidity risk, as there may not be a liquid market within which to close or dispose of outstanding derivatives contracts, and to counterparty risk. The counterparty risk lies with each party with whom the Fund contracts for the purpose of making derivative investments (the “Counterparty”). In the event of the Counterparty’s default, the Fund will only rank as an unsecured creditor and risks the loss of all or a portion of the amounts it is contractually entitled to receive.

Life Settlement Investments. The Fund may invest in life settlements or own companies that may invest in life settlements, which are the transfers of the beneficial interest in a life insurance policy by the underlying insured person to a third party. The Fund will generally purchase the beneficial interest in a life insurance policy for more than its cash surrender value but at a discount to its face value (i.e., the payment amount set forth in the life insurance policy that is payable on the death of the insured or upon maturity of the life insurance policy). After purchase the Fund will be responsible for premiums payable on the life insurance policy and will be entitled to receive the full face value from the insurance company upon maturation (i.e., upon the death of the insured). Accordingly, if the Fund is unable to make premium payments on a purchased life insurance policy due to liquidity issues or for any other reason, the policy will lapse, and the Fund will lose its ownership interest in the policy. In addition, the Fund’s investments in life settlement policies involve certain additional risks, including inaccurate estimations of life expectancy of the insured individuals, liquidity risk, credit risk of the insurance company, risks of any policies purchased being unenforceable and risks of adverse regulatory and legal changes.

The actual rate of return on a life settlement policy cannot be calculated before the insured dies and the longer the insured lives, the lower the rate of return on the related life settlement policy will be. Current privacy laws may limit the information available to the Fund about insureds and may cause the Fund to inaccurately estimate the value of particular policies. The Fund’s inability to predict with certainty the life expectancies of the pool of underlying insured persons tied to purchased life settlement policies may cause unanticipated delays in the collection of a substantial number of life settlement policies. Life settlements are also generally considered illiquid because there is a limited secondary market for such policies to be bought and sold. Accordingly, the Fund may be limited in its ability to sell policies in its portfolio in a timely fashion and/or at a favorable price. In addition, if a life insurance company declares bankruptcy or otherwise is insolvent, there may not be sufficient funds for it to pay its liability, and while many states have an insurance guarantee fund to provide payments to beneficiaries of insurance companies that declare bankruptcy, the collection process can be prolonged and complicated, and collection may not be possible in all circumstances.

Life settlement policies may also be subject to contest by the issuing life insurance company. If the insurance company successfully contests a policy, the policy will be rescinded and declared void. For example, insurers may refuse to pay benefits on certain life insurance policies on the basis that there was no “insurable interest” on the part of the purchaser of a life insurance policy at the time such policy was issued. Recently the issue of a lack of insurable interest has been raised by insurers and beneficiaries of irrevocable life insurance trusts, in the context of so-called “stranger originated life insurance” policies. It is possible that courts may void certain life settlement policies for these or other reasons. The market for life settlement policies may also be subject to new government regulation that may impact the ability of the Fund to obtain life settlement policies. Insurance companies may seek regulation or changes of law restricting or otherwise encumbering the transfer of life insurance policies in life settlement policy transactions. No assurance can be made that insurance companies will not be successful in limiting the supply of life insurance policies available for purchase in life settlement policy transactions.

Any or all of the risks described above could have a material adverse effect on the Fund’s investment returns and, therefore, on its ability to make distributions to its shareholders. In addition, it is unclear under a variety of federal income tax principles whether the income from life settlements or the Fund’s ownership in a non-U.S. company that makes distributions resulting from such life settlement investments is qualifying income for purposes of the IRS 90% gross income test the Fund must satisfy each year to qualify as a regulated investment company (“RIC”). Further, the Fund’s ownership in a non-U.S. company that invests in life settlements, it is unclear whether the U.S. will respect the non-U.S. company reliance on the applicable U.S. tax treaty for purposes of the avoidance of certain withholding tax or whether the non-U.S. company is deemed to be engaged in a U.S. trade or business within the U.S. If any such was the case, the Fund could be materially adversely effected by such determination on the non-U.S. company with respect to the Fund’s investments returns and its ability to make distributions to its shareholders. The Fund intends to monitor its investments to ensure that the Fund remains qualified as a RIC.

Foreign Securities. Investments in foreign securities involve certain factors not typically associated with investing in U.S. securities, such as risks relating to (i) currency exchange matters, including fluctuations in the rate of exchange between the U.S. dollar (the currency in which the books of the Fund are maintained) and the various foreign currencies in which the Fund’s portfolio securities will be denominated and costs associated with conversion of investment principal and income from one currency into another; (ii) differences between the U.S. and foreign securities markets, including the absence of uniform accounting, auditing and financial reporting standards and practices and disclosure requirements, and less government supervision and regulation; (iii) political, social or economic instability; (iv) imposition of foreign income, withholding or other taxes; and (v) the extension of credit, especially in the case of sovereign debt.

Commodities and Futures. The Fund may trade on a limited basis in commodities and futures. Such trading activity is regulated by the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (the “CFTC”). Pursuant to an exemption from registration under CFTC regulations, neither the General Partner nor the Investment Manager is required to register, and neither is registered, with the CFTC or the National Futures Association (“NFA”) as a commodity pool operator (a “CPO”) or as a commodity trading advisor (“CTA”). To comply with the exemption, the Investment Manager is subject to specific limitations on the amount of commodities and futures that it can trade on behalf of the Fund. Should the Fund's investments in commodities or futures instruments exceed the limits provided by the applicable exemption from registration, the Investment Manager will either have to register with the NFA or cease providing commodity interest trading advice to the Fund and liquidate the Fund's holdings of commodities and futures which could result in losses and additional costs to the Fund.

Leverage. Subject to applicable margin and other limitations, the Fund may borrow funds in order to make additional investments and thereby increase both the possibility of gain and risk of loss. Consequently, the effect of fluctuations in the market value of the Fund's portfolio would be amplified. Interest on borrowings will be a portfolio expense of the Fund and will affect the operating results of the Fund. Also, the Fund could potentially create leverage via the use of instruments such as options and other derivative instruments.

Options. Investing in options can provide a greater potential for profit or loss than an equivalent investment in the underlying asset. The value of an option may decline because of a change in the value of the underlying asset relative to the strike price, the passage of time, changes in the market's perception as to the future price behavior of the underlying asset, or any combination thereof. In the case of the purchase of an option, the risk of loss of an investor's entire investment (i.e., the premium paid plus transaction charges) reflects the nature of an option as a wasting asset that may become worthless when the option expires. Where an option is written or granted (i.e., sold) uncovered, the seller may be liable to pay substantial additional margin, and the risk of loss is unlimited, as the seller will be obligated to deliver, or take delivery of, an asset at a predetermined price which may, upon exercise of the option, be significantly different from the market value.

Currency Exposure. The Interests will be issued and generally withdrawal proceeds will be paid in U.S. Dollars. A limited amount of the assets of the Fund may, however, be invested in securities and other investments which are denominated in currencies other than U.S. Dollars. Accordingly, the value of such assets may be affected favorably or unfavorably by fluctuations in currency rates. The Investment Manager may hedge the non-U.S. currency exposure of the Fund using Currency Hedging Instruments, as described in "Investment Program" above. However, the assets of the Fund will necessarily be subject to foreign exchange risks. In addition, prospective investors whose assets and liabilities are predominately in other currencies should take into account the potential risk of loss arising from fluctuations in value between the U.S. Dollar and other currencies.

To the extent unhedged, the value of the Fund's positions in non-U.S. investments will fluctuate with U.S. Dollar exchange rates as well as with the price changes of the investments in the various local markets and currencies. In such cases, an increase in the value of the U.S. Dollar compared to the other currencies in which the Fund makes investments will reduce the effect of any increases and magnify the effect of any decreases in the prices of the Fund's financial instruments in their local markets and may result in a loss to the Fund. Conversely, a decrease in the value of the U.S. Dollar will have the opposite effect on the Fund's non-U.S. Dollar investments.

Concentration of the Fund's Portfolio. The Fund may be highly concentrated in CLO Securities. The concentration of the Fund's portfolio in CLO Securities subjects the Fund to a greater degree of risk than if the Fund's portfolio was diversified with respect to several investment strategies. Also, the concentration of the Fund's portfolio in any one obligor would subject the Fund to a greater degree of risk with respect to defaults by such obligor.

Volatility Risk. The Fund's investment program may involve the purchase and sale of relatively volatile instruments such as derivatives, which are frequently valued based on implied volatilities of such derivatives compared to the historical volatility of underlying financial instruments. Fluctuations or prolonged changes in the volatility of such instruments, therefore, can adversely affect the value of investments held by the Fund. In addition, many non-U.S. financial markets are not as developed or as efficient as those in the U.S., and as a result, price volatility may be higher for the Fund's investments.

Long-Biased Investment Program. The Fund expects that its strategy will have a long bias. Therefore, any decline in the overall market may result in a decline in the value of the Fund's assets.

Leverage. Leverage may take a variety of forms, including but not limited to the following: long-term loans, convertible notes and repurchase arrangements. Leverage arrangements used by the Fund when financing is contingent on the market value of the financed assets may include those which may be subject to mark to market collateral or margin calls.

While leverage presents the opportunity for increasing the total return on investments, it has the effect of potentially increasing losses as well. Accordingly, any event that adversely affects the value of an investment could be magnified to the extent leverage is utilized. The cumulative effect of the use of leverage with respect to investments in a market that moves adversely to such investments could result in a substantial loss, which would be greater than if the investments were not leveraged.

In the futures markets, margin deposits are typically low relative to the value of the futures contracts purchased or sold. Such low margin deposits are indicative of the fact that any commodity futures contract trading is typically accompanied by a high degree of leverage. Low margin deposits mean that a relatively small price movement in a futures contract may result in immediate and substantial losses to the investor. For example, if at the time of purchase 10 percent of the price of a futures contract is deposited as margin, a 10 percent decrease in the price of the futures contract would, if the contract is then closed out, result in a total loss of the margin deposit before any deduction for the brokerage commission. Thus, like other leveraged investments, any purchase or sale of a commodity contract may result in losses in excess of the amount invested.

The use of short-term margin borrowings results in certain additional risks to the Fund. For example, should the securities pledged to brokers to secure the Fund's margin accounts decline in value, the Fund could be subject to a "margin call," pursuant to which the Fund must either deposit additional funds or securities with the broker, or suffer mandatory liquidation of the pledged securities to compensate for the decline in value. In the event of a sudden drop in the value of the Fund's assets, the Fund might not be able to liquidate assets quickly enough to satisfy its margin requirements.

The Fund may borrow by entering into reverse repurchase agreements. Under a reverse repurchase agreement, the Fund sells securities and agrees to repurchase them at a mutually agreed date and price. Reverse repurchase agreements may involve the risk that the market value of the securities retained in lieu of sale by the Fund may decline below the price of the securities the Fund has sold but is obligated to repurchase. In the event the buyer of securities under a reverse repurchase agreement files for bankruptcy or becomes insolvent, such buyer or its trustee or receiver may receive an extension of time to determine whether to enforce the Fund's obligation to repurchase the securities and the Fund's use of the proceeds of the reverse repurchase agreement may effectively be restricted pending such decision. To the extent that, in the meantime, the value of the securities that the Fund has purchased has decreased, the Fund could experience a loss.

The financing used by the Fund to leverage its portfolio include those extended by securities brokers and dealers in the marketplace in which the Fund will invest. While the Fund attempts to negotiate the terms of these financing arrangements with such brokers and dealers, its ability to do so is limited. The Fund is therefore subject to changes in the value that the broker-dealer ascribes to a given security or position, the amount of margin required to support such security or position, the borrowing rate to finance such security or position and/or such broker-dealer's willingness to continue to provide any such credit to the Fund. In addition, the Fund could be forced to liquidate its portfolio on short notice to meet its financing obligations. The forced liquidation of all or a portion of the Fund's portfolio at distressed prices could result in significant losses to the Fund.

Market Liquidity and Leverage. The Fund may be adversely affected by a decrease in market liquidity for the instruments in which it invests which may impair the Fund's ability to adjust its positions. The size of the Fund's positions may magnify the effect of a decrease in market liquidity for such instruments. Changes in overall market leverage, deleveraging as a consequence of a decision by the prime brokers and custodians, or other counterparties with which the Fund enters into repurchase/reverse repurchase agreements or derivative transactions, to reduce the level of leverage available, or the liquidation by other market participants of the same or similar positions, may also adversely affect the Fund's portfolio.

Risks Associated with Bankruptcies. Many of the events within a bankruptcy case are adversarial and often beyond the control of the creditors. While creditors generally are afforded an opportunity to object to significant actions, there can be no assurance that a bankruptcy court would not approve actions which may be contrary to the interests of the Fund. Furthermore, there are instances where creditors and equity holders lose their ranking and priority as such if they are considered to have taken over management and functional operating control of a debtor.

Generally, the duration of a bankruptcy case can only be roughly estimated. The reorganization of a company usually involves the development and negotiation of a plan of reorganization, plan approval by creditors and confirmation by the bankruptcy court. This process can involve substantial legal, professional and administrative costs to the company and the Fund; it is subject to unpredictable and lengthy delays; and during the process the company's competitive position may erode, key management may depart and the company may not be able to invest adequately. In some cases, the company may not be able to reorganize and may be required to liquidate assets. Although the Fund intends to invest primarily in debt, the debt of companies in financial reorganization will, in most cases, not pay current interest, may not accrue interest during reorganization and may be adversely affected by an erosion of the issuer's fundamental value. Such investments can result in a total loss of principal.

U.S. bankruptcy law permits the classification of "substantially similar" claims in determining the classification of claims in a reorganization for purpose of voting on a plan of reorganization. Because the standard for classification is vague, there exists a significant risk that the Fund's influence with respect to a class of securities can be lost by the inflation of the number and the amount of claims in, or other gerrymandering of, the class. In addition, certain administrative costs and claims that have priority by law over the claims of certain creditors (for example, claims for taxes) may be quite high.

Furthermore, there are instances where creditors and equity holders lose their ranking and priority as such when they take over management and functional operating control of a debtor. In those cases where the Fund, by virtue of such action, is found to exercise "domination and control" of a debtor, the Fund may lose its priority if the debtor can demonstrate that its business was adversely impacted or other creditors and equity holders were harmed by the Fund.

The Fund may invest in companies based outside the United States. Investment in the debt of financially distressed companies domiciled outside the United States involves additional risks. Bankruptcy law and process may differ substantially from that in the United States, resulting in greater uncertainty as to the rights of creditors, the enforceability of such rights, reorganization timing and the classification, seniority and treatment of claims. In certain developing countries, although bankruptcy laws have been enacted, the process for reorganization remains highly uncertain.

The General Partner, on behalf of the Fund, may elect to serve on creditors' committees, equity holders' committees or other groups to ensure preservation or enhancement of the Fund position as a creditor or equity holder. A member of any such committee or group may owe certain obligations generally to all parties similarly situated that the committee represents. If the General Partner concludes that its obligations owed to the other parties as a committee or group member conflict with its duties owed to the Fund, it will resign from that committee or group, and the Fund may not realize the benefits, if any, of participation on the committee or group. In addition, and also as discussed above, if the Fund is represented on a committee or group, it may be restricted or prohibited under applicable law from disposing of or increasing its investments in such company while it continues to be represented on such committee or group.

The Fund may purchase creditor claims subsequent to the commencement of a bankruptcy case. Under judicial decisions, it is possible that such purchase may be disallowed by the bankruptcy court if the court determines that the purchaser has taken unfair advantage of an unsophisticated seller, which may result in the rescission of the transaction (presumably at the original purchase price) or forfeiture by the purchaser.

Equitable Subordination. Under common law principles that in some cases form the basis for lender liability claims, if a lender (a) intentionally takes an action that results in the undercapitalization of a borrower or issuer to the detriment of other creditors of such borrower or issuer, (b) engages in other inequitable conduct to the detriment of such other creditors, (c) engages in fraud with respect to, or makes misrepresentations to, such other creditors or (d) uses its influence as a stockholder to dominate or control a borrower or issuer to the detriment of other creditors of such borrower or issuer, a court may elect to subordinate the claim of the offending lender or bondholder to the claims of the disadvantaged creditor or creditors (a remedy called "equitable subordination"). The Fund does not intend to engage in conduct that would form the basis for a successful cause of action based upon the equitable subordination doctrine; however, because of the nature of the debt obligations, the Fund may be subject to claims from creditors of an obligor that debt obligations of such obligor which are held by the issuer should be equitably subordinated.

Fraud. Of paramount concern in lending is the possibility of material misrepresentation or omission on the part of the borrower. Such inaccuracy or incompleteness may adversely affect the valuation of the collateral underlying the loans or may adversely affect the ability of the Fund to perfect or effectuate a lien on the collateral securing the loan. The Fund will rely upon the accuracy and completeness of representations made by borrowers to the extent reasonable, but cannot guarantee such accuracy or completeness. Under certain circumstances, payments to the Fund may be reclaimed if any such payment or distribution is later determined to have been a fraudulent conveyance or a preferential payment.

Interest Rate Risk. The value of the fixed rate securities in which the Fund may invest generally will have an inverse relationship with interest rates. Accordingly, if interest rates rise the value of such securities may decline. In addition, to the extent that the receivables or loans underlying specific securities are prepayable without penalty or premium, the value of such securities may be negatively affected by increasing prepayments, which generally occur when interest rates decline.

Reinvestment Risk. The Fund reinvests the cash flows received from a security. The additional income from such reinvestment, sometimes called interest-on-interest, is reliant on the prevailing interest rate levels at the time of reinvestment. There is a risk that the interest rate at which interim cash flows can be reinvested will fall. Reinvestment risk is greater for longer holding periods and for securities with large, early cash flows such as high-coupon bonds. Reinvestment risk also applies generally to the reinvestment of the proceeds the Fund receives upon the maturity or sale of a portfolio security.

The amount and timing of the addition of investments will affect the cash flows available to make payments on the Interests. Reduced liquidity and lower volumes of trading in certain investments, in addition to restrictions on investment represented by the Fund's investment criteria, could result in periods of time during which the Fund has not been able to maximize its exposure to investments. The longer the period before reinvestment of cash in investments, the greater the adverse impact may be on aggregate interest collected and distributed by the Fund, thereby resulting in lower yield than could have been obtained if the net proceeds associated with the offering of the Interests were immediately reinvested. In addition, the timing of the addition of investments, the scheduled interest payment dates of the investments and the amount of the net proceeds associated with the offering of the Interests invested in lower-yielding alternate short-term investments until applied to the addition of investments, may have a material impact on the amount of interest payments collected during any accrual period, which could affect payments on the Interests.

Further, obligors of investments may be more likely to exercise any rights they may have to prepay such obligations when interest rates or credit spreads are declining. Any decrease in the yield on the investments will have the effect of reducing the amounts available to make payments on the Interests.

Timing Risk. Many agency, corporate and municipal bonds, and all mortgage-backed securities, contain a provision that allows the issuer to "call" all or part of the issue before the bond's maturity date. The issuer usually retains the right to refinance the bond in the future if market interest rates decline below the coupon rate. There are three disadvantages to the call provision. First, the cash flow pattern of a callable bond is not known with certainty. Second, because the issuer will call the bonds when interest rates have dropped, the Fund is exposed to reinvestment rate risk, i.e., the Fund will have to reinvest the proceeds received when the bond is called at lower interest rates. Finally, the capital appreciation potential of a bond will be reduced because the price of a callable bond may not rise much above the price at which the issuer may call the bond.

Maturity Risk. In certain situations, the Fund may purchase a bond of a given maturity as an alternative to another bond of a different maturity. Ordinarily, under these circumstances, the Fund will make an adjustment to account for the differential interest rate risks in the two bonds. This adjustment, however, makes an assumption about how the interest rates at different maturities will move. To the extent that the yield movements deviate from this assumption, there is a yield-curve or maturity risk. Another situation where yield-curve risk should be considered is in the analysis of bond swap transactions where the potential incremental returns are dependent entirely on the parallel shift assumption for the yield curve.

Inflation Risk. Inflation risk results from the variation in the value of cash flows from a security due to inflation, as measured in terms of purchasing power. For example, if the Fund purchases a five

(5) year bond in which it can realize a coupon rate of five percent (5%), but the rate of inflation is six percent (6%), then the purchasing power of the cash flow has declined. For all but adjustable bonds or floating rate bonds, the Fund is exposed to inflation risk because the interest rate the issuer promises to make is fixed for the life of the security. To the extent that interest rates reflect the expected inflation rate, floating rate bonds have a lower level of inflation risk.

Over-the-Counter-Trading. Financial instruments that may be purchased or sold by the Fund may include instruments not traded on an exchange, including, but not limited to, swap transactions, and forward foreign currency transactions. Over-the-counter options, unlike exchange-traded options, are two-party contracts with price and other terms negotiated by the buyer and seller. The risk of nonperformance by the obligor on such an instrument may be greater and the ease with which the Fund can dispose of or enter into closing transactions with respect to such an instrument may be less than in the case of an exchange-traded instrument. In addition, significant disparities may exist between “bid” and “asked” prices for financial instruments that are not traded on an exchange. Financial instruments not traded on exchanges are also not subject to the same type of government regulation as exchange traded instruments, and many of the protections afforded to participants in a regulated environment may not be available in connection with such transactions.

To the extent that the Fund engages in these transactions, the Fund must rely on the creditworthiness of its counterparty. In certain instances, counterparty or credit risk is affected by the lack of a central clearinghouse for foreign exchange trades. To reduce their credit risk exposure, the Fund may trade in the forward foreign currency market through money center banks and leading brokerage firms.

Position Limits. “Position limits” imposed by various regulators or regulations may also limit the Fund’s ability to effect desired trades. Position limits are the maximum amounts of gross, net long or net short positions that any one person or entity may own or control in a particular financial instrument. All positions owned or controlled by the same person or entity, even if in different accounts, may be aggregated for purposes of determining whether the applicable position limits have been exceeded. Thus, even if the Fund does not intend to exceed applicable position limits, it is possible that different accounts managed by the General Partner or its affiliates may be aggregated. If at any time positions managed by the General Partner were to exceed applicable position limits, the General Partner would be required to liquidate positions, which might include positions of the Fund, to the extent necessary to come within those limits. Further, to avoid exceeding the position limits, the Fund might have to forego or modify certain of its contemplated trades.

Material, Nonpublic Information. From time to time, certain personnel of the Investment Manager may come into possession of material, nonpublic information (including in connection with other investments or proposed investments not intended to benefit the Fund) that would limit the Investment Manager’s ability to buy and sell investments. The Fund’s investment flexibility may be constrained as a consequence of the Investment Manager’s inability to take certain actions because of such information. The Fund may experience losses if it is unable to sell an investment that it holds because certain personnel of the Investment Manager have obtained material, nonpublic information about such investment.

Co-Investments with Third Parties. The Fund may co-invest with third parties through joint ventures or other entities. Such investments may involve risks in connection with such third-party involvement, including the possibility that a third-party co-venturer may have financial difficulties resulting in a negative impact on such investment, economic or business interests or goals that are inconsistent with those of the Fund or be in a position to take (or block) action in a manner contrary to the Fund's investment objectives. In those circumstances where such third parties involve a management group, such third parties may enter into compensation arrangements relating to such investments, including incentive compensation arrangements. Such compensation arrangements will reduce the returns to participants in the investments.

Other Investment Vehicles. The Investment Manager may allocate a portion of the Fund's assets to pooled investment vehicles that may be managed by the Investment Manager or its affiliates or unaffiliated managers. Since the Fund may not have full transparency with respect to the trading activities of such investment vehicles, it may be limited in its ability to hedge its exposure or to prevent concentration of its assets within the same issuer, asset or asset class, industry, section, strategy, currency, country or geographic region. Further, the Investment Manager may be limited with respect to its ability to monitor unaffiliated managers, including their adherence to their respective trading and risk guidelines (if such guidelines exist). Even in the event that such information may be available to the Fund, the Fund's investment in such investment vehicles may be "locked up" and subject to limitations on withdrawals, and in light of the broad exculpation and indemnification provisions typically contained in the governing documents of such investment vehicles, may have limited recourse against the managers of such investment vehicles.

The managers of pooled investment vehicles with which the Fund may invest may be subject to asset-based fees and performance-based compensation. Such fees or compensation may be higher than the fees or compensation of comparable investment vehicles.

Performance-based compensation is typically paid or allocated at the investment vehicle level on the basis of the performance of each individual investment vehicle, not on the basis of the overall performance of the Fund. Consequently, performance-based compensation could be payable to a particular investment vehicle in respect of its performance during periods when the Fund as a whole incurs losses. The existence of performance-based compensation also could cause the manager of such investment vehicle to trade in a more aggressive manner than it otherwise might.

Futures Contracts. The value of futures depends upon the price of the financial instruments, such as commodities, underlying them. The prices of futures are highly volatile, and price movements of futures contracts can be influenced by, among other things, interest rates, changing supply and demand relationships, trade, fiscal, monetary and exchange control programs and policies of governments, and national and international political and economic events and policies. In addition, investments in futures are also subject to the risk of the failure of any of the exchanges on which the Fund's positions trade or of its clearing houses or counterparties.

Futures positions may be illiquid because certain commodity exchanges limit fluctuations in certain futures contract prices during a single day by regulations referred to as "daily price fluctuation limits" or "daily limits." Under such daily limits, during a single trading day no trades may be executed at prices beyond the daily limits. Once the price of a particular futures contract has increased or decreased by an amount equal to the daily limit, positions in that contract can neither be taken nor liquidated unless traders are willing to effect trades at or within the limit. This could prevent the Fund from promptly liquidating unfavorable positions and subject the Fund to substantial losses or prevent it from entering into desired trades. In extraordinary circumstances, a futures exchange or the Commodities Futures Trading Commission could suspend trading in a particular futures contract, or order liquidation or settlement of all open positions in such contract.

Forward Trading. Forward contracts and options thereon, unlike futures contracts, are not traded on exchanges and are not standardized; rather, banks and dealers act as principals in these markets, negotiating each transaction on an individual basis. Forward and “cash” trading is substantially unregulated; there is no limitation on daily price movements and speculative position limits are not applicable. The principals who deal in the forward markets are not required to continue to make markets in the currencies or commodities they trade and these markets can experience periods of illiquidity, sometimes of significant duration. There have been periods during which certain participants in these markets have refused to quote prices for certain currencies or commodities or have quoted prices with an unusually wide spread between the price at which they were prepared to buy and that at which they were prepared to sell. Disruptions can occur in any market traded by the Fund due to unusual trading volume, political intervention or other factors. The imposition of controls by governmental authorities might also limit such forward trading to less than that which the General Partner would otherwise recommend, to the possible detriment of the Fund. Market illiquidity or disruption could result in major losses to the Fund.

Hedging Transactions. The Fund may (but is not required to) utilize financial instruments both for investment purposes and for risk management purposes in order to (i) protect against possible changes in the market value of the Fund’s investment portfolios resulting from fluctuations in the markets and changes in interest rates; (ii) protect the Fund’s unrealized gains in the value of its investment portfolio; (iii) facilitate the sale of any such investments; (iv) enhance or preserve returns, spreads or gains on any investment in the Fund’s portfolios; (v) hedge against a directional trade; (vi) hedge the interest rate, credit or currency exchange rate on any of the Fund’s financial instruments; (vii) protect against any increase in the price of any financial instruments the Fund anticipates purchasing at a later date; or (viii) act for any other reason that the Investment Manager deems appropriate. The Fund will not be required to hedge any particular risk in connection with a particular transaction or its portfolios generally.

The success of the Fund’s hedging strategy will be subject to the Investment Manager’s ability to correctly assess the degree of correlation between the performance of the instruments used in the hedging strategy and the performance of the investments in the portfolio being hedged. Since the characteristics of many securities change as markets change or time passes, the success of the Fund’s hedging strategy will also be subject to the Investment Manager’s ability to continually recalculate, readjust, and execute hedges in an efficient and timely manner. While the Fund may enter into hedging transactions to seek to reduce risk, such transactions may result in a poorer overall performance for the Fund than if it had not engaged in any such hedging transactions. For a variety of reasons, the Investment Manager may not seek to establish a perfect correlation between such hedging instruments and the portfolio holdings being hedged. Such imperfect correlation may prevent the Fund from achieving the intended hedge or expose the Fund to risk of loss. The successful utilization of hedging and risk management transactions requires skills complementary to those needed in the selection of the Fund’s portfolio holdings. Moreover, it should be noted that the portfolio will always be exposed to certain risks that cannot be hedged.

Use of Derivatives and Other Specialized Techniques. The Fund may engage in a variety of swaps and related derivative transactions including, but not limited to, total return swaps, interest rate swaps, credit derivative swaps, the use of forward contracts, put and call options, floors, collars or other similar arrangements and derivative transactions. While some swaps will be required to be cleared and entered into through exchanges once the U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission (the “CFTC”) makes its final clearing determination, swap contracts excluded from the clearing determination will not be traded on exchanges and will not be subject to margin and clearing requirements or the same type of government regulation as exchange markets. As a result, many of the protections afforded to participants on organized exchanges and in a regulated environment are not available in connection with these transactions. The swap markets with respect to noncleared swaps are “principals’ markets”, in which performance with respect to a swap contract is the responsibility only of the counterparty to the contract, and not of any exchange or clearinghouse. As a result, the Fund will be subject to the risk of the inability or refusal to perform with respect to non-cleared swap contracts on the part of the counterparties with whom the Fund will trade.

There are no limitations on daily price movements in swap transactions. Speculative position limits are not currently applicable to swap transactions, although the Fund’s swap counterparties may limit the size or duration of positions available to the Fund as a consequence of credit considerations. In addition, the CFTC has sought to impose federal speculative position limits on futures, swaps that reference those futures and contracts on non-U.S. boards of trade that settle against those contracts. While the CFTC adopted final position limits, the rulemaking was vacated due to the CFTC’s failure to perform proper cost benefit analysis. If the CFTC re-adopts rules or the above referenced discussion is overturned on appeal, the Fund may be limited in its ability to concentrate its positions in certain swaps. Furthermore, the Fund may also be subject to position limits pursuant to current or pending non-U.S. regulations.

Participants in the swap markets are not required to make continuous markets in the swap contracts in which they trade. Participants could refuse to quote prices for swap contracts or quote prices with an unusually wide spread between the price at which they are prepared to buy and the price at which they are prepared to sell. If an event of default or an additional termination event were to occur with respect to the Fund under an ISDA master agreement governing the Fund’s swap transactions, the relevant swap counterparty and other swap counterparties may terminate all transactions with the Fund at significant losses to the Fund.

In addition to the foregoing, the investment techniques related to derivative instruments are highly specialized and may be considered speculative. Such techniques often involve forecasts and complex judgments regarding relative price movements and other economic developments. The success or failure of these investment techniques may turn on small changes in exogenous factors not within the control of any of the Investment Manager. For all the foregoing reasons, the use of derivatives and related techniques can expose the Fund to significant risk of loss.

Moreover, trading in swaps and other derivative instruments offers scope for a high degree of synthetic leverage. Accordingly, the leverage offered by trading in derivative instruments may magnify the gains and losses experienced by the Fund. Thus, like other leveraged investments, a derivatives trade may result in losses in excess of the amount invested. Any increase in the amount of leverage applied will increase the risk of loss due to the amount of additional leverage applied. Also, swap agreements tend to shift the investment exposure from one type of investment to another. Depending on how they are used, swap agreements may increase or decrease the overall volatility of the Fund. The most significant factor in the performance of swap agreements is the change in the specific factors that determine the amounts of payments due to and from the Fund. If a swap agreement calls for payments by the Fund, the Fund must be prepared to make such payments when due. In addition, if a counterparty’s creditworthiness declines, the value of swap agreements with such counterparty can be expected to decline, potentially resulting in losses to the Fund.

Finally, counterparties to the Fund may be subject to capital and other requirements as a “swap dealer” or “major swap participant” which may increase their costs of doing of business, a portion of which increase may be passed on to the Fund. If a person is deemed to (i) enter into swaps as its ordinary course of business, (ii) be a market maker for any type of swaps, (iii) maintain a “substantial position” in any type of swap for speculative purposes, (iv) otherwise create counterparty risk that could have serious adverse consequences on the financial stability of the United States, or (v) be a financial entity that is highly leveraged relevant to its capital, the person may be deemed to be a swap dealer (in the case of (i) or (ii)) or a major swap participant (in the case of (iii), (iv) or (v)). Persons deemed to be swap dealers or major swap participants are required to register with the CFTC as such and would be subject to a number of regulatory requirements, such as specific recordkeeping, back-office and reporting requirements, margin collection requirements for swaps that are not cleared, capital requirements, disclosure obligations, specific compliance obligations and special obligations to governmental entities. While it is unlikely that the Fund would be subject to these requirements, the requirements will likely apply to many of the Fund’s counterparties which may increase the cost of trading swaps through increased fees to offset the counterparties’ trading and compliance costs.

Counterparty Insolvency. The Fund’s assets may be held in one or more accounts maintained for the Fund by counterparties, including its prime brokers. There is a risk that any of such counterparties could become insolvent. In September 2008, Lehman Brothers Holdings Inc., a major investment bank based in the United States, filed for bankruptcy protection under Chapter 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code. While none of its U.S. broker-dealer subsidiaries was included in the Chapter 11 filing and all of its U.S. registered broker-dealer subsidiaries currently continue to operate, certain of Lehman Brothers subsidiaries, including Lehman Brothers International (Europe) (“LBIE”) have been placed under the administration chartered to wind down their respective business. To date, it is uncertain what percentage of the assets custodied with LBIE by its trading counterparties (including hedge funds) will ultimately be recovered and when. The insolvency of the Fund’s counterparties is likely to impair the operational capabilities or the assets of the Fund. Although the Investment Manager regularly monitors the financial condition of the counterparties it uses, if one or more of the Fund’s counterparties were to become insolvent or the subject of liquidation proceedings in the United States (either under the Securities Investor Protection Act or the United States Bankruptcy Code), there exists the risk that the recovery of the Fund’s securities and other assets from such prime broker or broker-dealer will be delayed or be of a value less than the value of the securities or assets originally entrusted to such prime broker or broker-dealer.

In addition, the Fund may use counterparties located in various jurisdictions outside the United States like LBIE. Such local counterparties are subject to various laws and regulations in various jurisdictions that are designed to protect their customers in the event of their insolvency. However, the practical effect of these laws and their application to the Fund’s assets are subject to substantial limitations and uncertainties. Because of the large number of entities and jurisdictions involved and the range of possible factual scenarios involving the insolvency of a counterparty, it is impossible to generalize about the effect of their insolvency on the Fund and its assets. Investors should assume that the insolvency of any counterparty would result in a loss to the Fund and the Fund, which could be material.

Counterparty Risk. Some of the markets in which the Fund may effect transactions are “over-the-counter” or “interdealer” markets. The participants in such markets are typically not subject to credit evaluation and regulatory oversight as are members of “exchange-based” markets. This exposes the Fund to the risk that a counterparty will not settle a transaction in accordance with its terms and conditions because of a dispute over the terms of the contract (whether or not bona fide) or because of a credit or liquidity problem, thus causing the Fund to suffer a loss. Such “counterparty risk” is accentuated for contracts with longer maturities where events may intervene to prevent settlement, or where the Fund has concentrated its transactions with a single or small group of counterparties. The Fund is not restricted from dealing with any particular counterparty or from concentrating any or all of its transactions with one counterparty. Moreover, the Fund’s internal credit function which evaluates the creditworthiness of its counterparties may prove insufficient. The lack of a complete and “foolproof” evaluation of the financial capabilities of the Fund’s counterparties and the absence of a regulated market to facilitate settlement may increase the potential for losses by the Fund.

Exchange-Traded Funds. The Fund may invest in exchange-traded funds (“ETFs”), which are shares of publicly-traded unit investment trusts, open-end funds, or depository receipts that seek to track the performance and dividend yield of specific indices or companies in related industries. These indices may be either broad-based, sector, or international. ETF shareholders are generally subject to the same risk as holders of the underlying securities they are designed to track. ETFs are also subject to certain additional risks, including, without limitation, the risk that their prices may not correlate perfectly with changes in the prices of the underlying securities they are designed to track, and the risk of trading in an ETF halting due to market conditions or other reasons, based on the policies of the exchange upon which the ETF trades. In addition, the Fund may bear, along with other shareholders of an ETF, its pro rata portion of the ETF’s expenses, including management fees. Accordingly, in addition to bearing their proportionate share of the Fund’s expenses (e.g., Management Fees and operating expenses), Partners may also indirectly bear similar expenses of an ETF, which may have a material adverse effect on the performance of the Fund.

Non-U.S. Investments and Emerging Markets. Investing in the securities of companies located outside the U.S. (including, western countries, “emerging market” countries and underdeveloped countries) involves certain considerations not usually associated with investing in securities of U.S. companies, including political and economic considerations, such as greater risks of expropriation and nationalization, confiscatory taxation, the potential difficulty of repatriating funds, general social, political and economic instability and adverse diplomatic developments; the possibility of imposition of withholding or other taxes on dividends, interest, capital gain or other income; the small size of the securities markets in such countries and the low volume of trading, resulting in potential lack of liquidity and in price volatility; fluctuations in the rate of exchange between currencies and costs associated with currency conversion; and certain government policies that may restrict the Fund’s investment opportunities.

In addition, accounting and financial reporting standards that prevail in non-U.S. countries generally are not equivalent to U.S. standards and, consequently, less information is available to shareholders of companies located in such countries than is available to shareholders of companies located in the U.S. Moreover, an issuer of securities may be domiciled in a country other than the country in whose currency the instrument is denominated. The values and relative yields of investments in the securities markets of different countries, and their associate risks, are not expected to be highly correlated with each other and may behave in unpredictable ways. There is also less regulation, generally, of the securities markets in non-U.S. countries.

The Fund may be subject to additional risks which include possible adverse political and economic developments, possible seizure or nationalization of non-U.S. deposits and possible adoption of governmental restrictions which might adversely affect the payment of principal and interest to investors located outside the country of the issuer, whether from currency blockage or otherwise. Furthermore, some of the securities may be subject to brokerage, stamp or other taxes levied by governments, which has the effect of increasing the cost of such investment and reducing the realized gain or increasing the realized loss on such securities at the time of sale. Furthermore, a non-U.S. issuer of debt or the non-U.S. governmental authorities that control the repayment of the debt may be unable or unwilling to repay principal or interest when due, and the Fund may have limited recourse in the event of a default. Some of these risks do not apply equally to issuers in larger, more developed countries. These risks are more pronounced in investments in issuers in countries with emerging markets or if the Fund invests significantly in a particular country.

Investment in emerging market securities and underdeveloped markets involves a greater degree of risk than an investment in securities of issuers based in developed countries. Among other things, emerging market securities investments may carry the risks of less publicly available information, more volatile markets, less strict securities market regulation, less favorable tax provisions and a greater likelihood of severe inflation, unstable currency, war and expropriation of personal property than investments in securities of issuers based in developed countries. In addition, the Fund's investment opportunities in certain emerging markets may be restricted by legal limits on foreign investment in local securities.

Emerging markets generally are not as efficient as those in developed countries. In some cases, a market for the security may not exist locally, and transactions will need to be made on a neighboring exchange. Volume and liquidity levels in emerging markets are lower than in developed countries. When seeking to sell emerging market securities, little or no market may exist for the securities. In addition, issuers based in emerging markets are not generally subject to uniform accounting and financial reporting standards, practices and requirements comparable to those applicable to issuers based in developed countries, thereby potentially increasing the risk of fraud or other deceptive practices. Furthermore, the quality and reliability of official data published by the government or securities exchanges in emerging markets may not accurately reflect the actual circumstances being reported.

The issuers of some non-U.S. securities, such as banks and other financial institutions, may be subject to less stringent regulations in emerging markets than would be the case for issuers in developed countries and therefore potentially carry greater risk. Custodial expenses for a portfolio of emerging markets securities generally are higher than for a portfolio of securities of issuers based in developed countries.

While the General Partner will take these factors into consideration in making investment decisions for the Fund, no assurance can be given that they will be able to fully avoid these risks.

In view of the foregoing considerations, an investment in Interests is suitable only for investors who are capable of bearing the relevant investment risks.

Tax Related Risks

Tax Uncertainty. The Fund may take positions with respect to certain tax issues which depend on legal conclusions not yet resolved by the courts. Should any such positions be successfully challenged by the Service or other applicable taxing authority, there could be a materially adverse effect on the Fund, and a Limited Partner might be found to have a different tax liability for that year than that reported on its income tax returns.

Uncertainty and Complexity of Tax Treatment. The tax aspects of an investment in a partnership are complicated and complex and, in many cases, uncertain. Statutory provisions and administrative regulations have been interpreted inconsistently by the courts. Additionally, some statutory provisions remain to be interpreted by administrative regulations. Investors will thus be subject to the risk caused by the uncertainty of the tax consequences with respect to an investment in the Fund. Each prospective investor should have the tax aspects of an investment in the Fund reviewed by professional advisors familiar with such investor's personal tax situation and with the tax laws and regulations applicable to the investor and private investment vehicles.

Risk of Adverse Determination. There can be no assurance that the conclusions set forth in this Memorandum will not be challenged successfully by the Internal Revenue Service (the "Service"), or significantly modified by new legislation, changes in the Service's positions or court decisions. The Fund has not applied for, nor does it expect to apply for, any advance rulings from the Service with respect to any of the federal income tax consequences described in this Memorandum. No representation or warranty of any kind is made by the General Partner with respect to the federal income tax consequences relating to an investment in the Fund. The Fund may take positions with respect to certain tax issues which depend on legal conclusions not yet resolved by the courts. Should any such positions be successfully challenged by the Service or other applicable taxing authority, there could be a materially adverse effect on the Fund, and a Limited Partner might be found to have a different tax liability for that year than that reported on its income tax returns.

Risk of Tax Audit. An audit of the Fund by the Service or another taxing authority could result in adjustments to the tax consequences initially reported by the Fund and may result in an audit of the returns of some or all of the Limited Partners, which examination could affect items not related to a Limited Partner's investment in the Fund. If audit adjustments result in an increase in a Limited Partner's income tax liability for any year, such Limited Partner may also be liable for interest and penalties with respect to the amount of underpayment. The legal and accounting costs incurred in connection with any audit of the Fund's tax returns will be borne by the Fund. The cost of any audit of a Limited Partner's tax return will be borne solely by that Limited Partner.

Tax Considerations Taken into Account. The General Partner may take tax considerations into account in determining when the Fund's investments should be sold or otherwise disposed of, and may assume certain market risk and incur certain expenses in this regard to achieve favorable tax treatment of a transaction.

Tax Liabilities Without Distributions. If the Fund has taxable income in a fiscal year, each Limited Partner will be taxed on that income in accordance with its distributive share of the Fund's profits, whether or not such profits have been distributed. Because the General Partner anticipates that there will be no cash distributions to the Limited Partners, an investor may incur tax liability with respect to activities of the Fund without receiving sufficient distributions from the Fund to defray such tax liabilities. In order to satisfy its tax liability in such a case, a Limited Partner would need sufficient funds from sources other than the Fund. Furthermore, the Fund may make investments with respect to which the Fund recognizes income for U.S. federal income tax purposes prior to receiving the cash or realizing the income as an economic matter. In addition, the Fund may recognize income for U.S. federal income tax purposes that does not reflect income as an economic matter. Such recognition of income prior to receipt of an economic benefit, if any, may result in increased tax liability for the Partners.

Delayed Schedules K-1. The Fund will provide Schedules K-1 as soon as practical after receipt of all of the necessary information. However, the Fund may be unable to provide final Schedules K-1 to Limited Partners for any given tax year until significantly after April 15 of the following year. The General Partner will endeavor to provide Limited Partners with estimates of the taxable income or loss allocated to their investment in the Fund on or before such date, but final Schedules K-1 may not be available until completion of the Fund's annual audit. Limited Partners should be prepared to obtain extensions of the filing date for their income tax returns at the federal, state and local levels.

Unrelated Business Taxable Income. The Fund may make investments or engage in activities that will give rise to unrelated business taxable income ("UBTI"). Thus, an investment in the Fund may not be desirable for certain tax-exempt investors. The Fund may participate in investments that give rise to UBTI through entities that are treated as partnerships for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Because of the "flow-through" principles applicable to partnerships, if UBTI is earned by the Fund, a tax-exempt investor in the Fund will realize UBTI. Because of the Investment Manager's objective of maximizing the pre-tax returns of all the Limited Partners, the Investment Manager may be required to make certain decisions to maximize pre-tax returns that result in Tax-Exempt U.S. Investors (as defined below) recognizing more UBTI than might otherwise be the case. In some cases, the Investment Manager may forego actions with regard to the acquisition, financing, management and disposition of assets that would reduce UBTI because such actions would reduce the overall pre-tax returns to all the Limited Partners.

Tax Changes. Investors will be subject to the risk that changes to the tax law may adversely affect the federal income tax consequences of their investment in the Fund. Changes in existing tax laws or regulations and their interpretation may be enacted after the date of this Memorandum, possibly with retroactive effect, and could alter the income tax consequences of an investment in the Fund. Certain provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code") may be further amended or interpreted in a manner adverse to the Fund, in which event any benefits derived from an investment in the Fund may be adversely affected. In addition, significant legislative and budgetary proposals affecting tax laws have been made by the legislative and executive branches of the U.S. federal government. The likelihood of enactment of any such proposals, or any similar proposals, into law is uncertain. The enactment of any such proposals, including subsequent proposals, into law could have material adverse effects on the Fund and/or the Limited Partners. Enactment of such legislation, or similar legislation, could require significant restructuring of the Fund in order to mitigate such effects.

The foregoing is not intended to be an exhaustive analysis or listing of the tax risks associated with an investment in the Fund. Many of the relevant tax considerations will vary depending on a prospective Limited Partner's individual circumstances. The tax aspects associated with such an investment are complex and complicated and are subject to a variety of interpretations. Prospective investors are strongly urged to review the discussions below under "Tax Considerations" and "ERISA and Other Regulatory Considerations" for a more complete discussion of certain of the tax risks inherent in the acquisition of Interests, and to seek and rely upon the advice of their own tax advisor who is qualified to discuss the foregoing and other possible tax risks.

In view of the foregoing considerations, an investment in Interests is suitable only for investors who are capable of bearing the relevant investment risks.

Potential Conflicts of Interest

The scope of the activities of the Investment Manager, its affiliates, and the funds and clients managed or advised by the Investment Manager or any of its affiliates may give rise to conflicts of interest or other restrictions and/or limitations imposed on the Fund in the future that cannot be foreseen or mitigated at this time. The following briefly summarizes some of these conflicts, but is not intended to be an exhaustive list of all such conflicts.

None of the Investment Manager, its affiliates and their respective officers, directors, shareholders, members, partners, personnel and employees (collectively, the “Highland Group”) is precluded from engaging in or owning an interest in other business ventures or investment activities of any kind, whether or not such ventures are competitive with the Fund. The Investment Manager is permitted to manage other client accounts, some of which may have objectives similar or identical to those of the Fund, including other collective investment vehicles that may be managed by the Highland Group and in which the Investment Manager or any of its affiliates may have an equity interest.

The Fund will be subject to a number of actual and potential conflicts of interest involving the Highland Group including, among other things, the fact that: (i) the Highland Group conducts substantial investment activities for accounts, funds, collateralized debt obligations that invest in leveraged loans (collectively, “CDOs”) and other vehicles managed by members of the Highland Group (“Highland Accounts”) in which the Fund has no interest; (ii) the Highland Group advises Highland Accounts, which utilize the same, similar or different methodologies as the Fund and may have financial incentives (including, without limitation, as it relates to the composition of investors in such funds and accounts or to the Highland Group’s compensation arrangements) to favor certain Highland Accounts over the Fund; (iii) the Highland Group may use the strategy described herein in certain Highland Accounts; (iv) the Investment Manager may give advice and recommend securities to, or buy or sell securities for, the Fund, which advice or securities may differ from advice given to, or securities recommended or bought or sold for, Highland Accounts; (v) the Investment Manager has the discretion, to the extent permitted under applicable law, to use its affiliates as service providers to the Fund and its portfolio investments; (vi) Affiliated Investors may choose to personally invest only in certain funds advised by the Highland Group and the amounts invested by them in such funds is expected to vary significantly; (vii) the Highland Group and Highland Accounts may actively engage in transactions in the same securities sought by the Fund and, therefore, may compete with the Fund for investment opportunities or may hold positions opposite to positions maintained on behalf of the Fund; (viii) the Fund may invest in CDOs and Highland Accounts managed by members of the Highland Group; and (ix) the Investment Manager will devote to the Fund only as much time as the Investment Manager deems necessary and appropriate to manage the Fund’s business.

The Investment Manager undertakes to resolve conflicts in a fair and equitable basis, which in some instances may mean a resolution that would not maximize the benefit to the Fund’s investors.

It is the policy of the Investment Manager to allocate investment opportunities fairly and equitably over time. This means that such opportunities will be allocated among those accounts for which participation in the respective opportunity is considered appropriate, taking into account, among other considerations: (i) whether the risk-return profile of the proposed investment is consistent with the account’s objectives and program, whether such objectives are considered in light of the specific investment under consideration or in the context of the portfolio’s overall holdings; (ii) the potential for the proposed investment to create an imbalance in the account’s portfolio (taking into account expected inflows and outflows of capital); (iii) liquidity requirements of the account; (iv) potentially adverse tax consequences; (v) regulatory and other restrictions that would or could limit an account’s ability to participate in a proposed investment; and (vi) the need to re-size risk in the account’s portfolio. The Investment Manager has the authority to allocate trades to multiple Highland Accounts on an average price basis or on another basis it deems fair and equitable. Similarly, if an order on behalf of any accounts cannot be fully allocated under prevailing market conditions, the Investment Manager may allocate the trades among different accounts on a basis it considers fair and equitable over time. One or more of the foregoing considerations may (and are often expected to) result in allocations among the Fund and one or more Highland Accounts on other than a pari passu basis.

The General Partner and/or its affiliates may open “average price” accounts with brokers. In an “average price” account, purchase and sale orders placed during a trading day on behalf of the Fund, the Highland Accounts or affiliates of the General Partner are combined, and securities bought and sold pursuant to such orders are allocated among such accounts on an average price basis.

As part of their regular business, the members of the Highland Group hold, purchase, sell, trade or take other related actions both for their respective accounts and for the accounts of their respective clients, on a principal or agency basis, with respect to loans, securities and other investments and financial instruments of all types. The members of the Highland Group also provide investment advisory services, among other services, and engage in private equity, real estate and capital markets-oriented investment activities. The members of the Highland Group will not be restricted in their performance of any such services or in the types of debt or equity investments which they may make. The members of the Highland Group may have economic interests in or other relationships with obligors or issuers in whose obligations or securities or credit exposures the Fund may invest. In particular, such persons may make and/or hold an investment in an obligor’s or issuer’s securities that may be pari passu, senior or junior in ranking to an investment in such obligor’s or issuer’s securities made and/or held by the Fund or in which partners, security holders, members, officers, directors, agents, personnel or employees of such persons serve on boards of directors or otherwise have ongoing relationships. Each of such ownership and other relationships may result in securities laws restrictions on transactions in such securities by the Fund and otherwise create conflicts of interest for the Fund. In such instances, the members of the Highland Group may in their discretion make investment recommendations and decisions that may be the same as or different from those made with respect to the Fund’s investments. In connection with any such activities described above, the members of the Highland Group may hold, purchase, sell, trade or take other related actions in securities or investments of a type that may be suitable to investments for the Fund. The members of the Highland Group will not be required to offer such securities or investments to the Fund or provide notice of such activities to the Fund. In addition, in managing the Fund’s portfolio, the Investment Manager may take into account its relationship or the relationships of its affiliates with obligors and their respective affiliates, which may create conflicts of interest. Furthermore, in connection with actions taken in the ordinary course of business of the Investment Manager in accordance with its fiduciary duties to its other clients, the Investment Manager may take, or be required to take, actions which adversely affect the interests of the Fund.

In connection with the foregoing activities the Highland Group may from time to time come into possession of material nonpublic information that limits the ability of the Investment Manager to effect a transaction for the Fund, and the Fund’s investments may be constrained as a consequence of the Investment Manager’s inability to use such information for advisory purposes or otherwise to effect transactions that otherwise may have been initiated on behalf of its clients, including the Fund.

Although the professional staff of the Investment Manager will devote as much time to the Fund as the Investment Manager deems appropriate to perform its duties in accordance with the Investment Management Agreement and in accordance with reasonable commercial standards, the staff may have conflicts in allocating its time and services among the Fund and the Investment Manager’s other accounts.

The directors, officers, personnel, employees and agents of the Investment Manager and its affiliates may, subject to applicable law, serve as directors (whether supervisory or managing), officers, personnel, employees, partners, agents, nominees or signatories, and receive arm's length fees in connection with such service, for the Fund or other entities that operate in the same or a related line of business as the Fund, for other clients managed by the Investment Manager or its affiliates, or for any obligor or issuer in respect of the CLOs, to the extent permitted by their governing instruments, or by any resolutions duly adopted by the Fund, such affiliated entities or any obligor or issuer in respect of any of the CLOs pursuant to their respective governing instruments, and the Fund shall have no right to any such fees. In serving in these multiple capacities, they may have obligations to such other clients or investors in those entities, the fulfillment of which may not be in the best interests of the Fund.

There is no limitation or restriction on the Investment Manager or any of its affiliates with regard to acting as investment adviser or collateral manager (or in a similar role) to other parties or persons. This and other future activities of the Investment Manager and/or its affiliates may give rise to additional conflicts of interest. Such conflicts may relate to obligations that the Investment Manager's investment committee, the Investment Manager or its affiliates have to other clients.

The Investment Manager and/or its affiliates may act as an underwriter, arranger or placement agent, or otherwise participate in the origination, structuring, negotiation, syndication or offering of CLOs and Highland Accounts purchased by the Fund. Such transactions are on an arm's-length basis and shall be subject to fees that are no greater than arm's-length fees. There is no expectation for preferential access to transactions involving CLOs and Highland Accounts that are underwritten, originated, arranged or placed by the Investment Manager and/or its affiliates and the Fund shall not have any right to any such fees.

As further described below, the Investment Manager may effect client cross-transactions where the Investment Manager causes a transaction to be effected between the Fund and another client advised by it or any of its affiliates. The Investment Manager may engage in a client cross-transaction involving the Fund any time that the Investment Manager believes such transaction to be fair to the Fund and such other client. By purchasing an Interest in the Fund, a Limited Partner is deemed to have consented to such client cross-transactions between the Fund and another client of the Investment Manager or one of its affiliates.

As further described below, the Investment Manager may effect principal transactions where the Fund acquires securities from or sells securities to the Investment Manager and/or its affiliates, in each case in accordance with applicable law, which may include the Investment Manager obtaining the consent and approval of the Advisory Committee prior to engaging in any such principal transaction between the Fund and the Investment Manager or its affiliates. By subscribing for Interests, the Limited Partners are deemed to have consented to such procedures relating to principal transactions between the Fund and the Investment Manager or its affiliates.

The Investment Manager may direct the Fund to acquire or dispose of securities in cross trades between the Fund and other clients of the Investment Manager or its affiliates in accordance with applicable legal and regulatory requirements. In addition, the Fund may invest in securities of obligors or issuers in which the Investment Manager and/or its affiliates have a debt, equity or participation interest, and the holding and sale of such investments by the Fund may enhance the profitability of the Investment Manager's own investments in such companies. Moreover, the Fund may invest in assets originated by the Investment Manager or its affiliates. In each such case, the Investment Manager and such affiliates may have a potentially conflicting division of loyalties and responsibilities regarding the Fund and the other parties to such trade. Under certain circumstances, the Investment Manager and its affiliates may determine that it is appropriate to avoid such conflicts by selling a security at a fair value that has been calculated pursuant to the Investment Manager's valuation procedures to another client managed or advised by the Investment Manager or such affiliates. In addition, the Investment Manager may enter into agency cross-transactions where it or any of its affiliates acts as broker for the Fund and for the other party to the transaction, to the extent permitted under applicable law. The Investment Manager may obtain the Fund's written consent through the Advisory Committee if any such transaction requires the consent of the Fund under Section 206(3) of the Advisers Act.

There are generally no ethical screens or information barriers among the Investment Manager and certain of its affiliates of the type that many firms implement to separate persons who make investment decisions from others who might possess material, non-public information that could influence such decisions. If the Investment Manager, any of its personnel or its affiliates were to receive material non-public information about a particular obligor, issuer or CLO, or have an interest in causing the Fund to acquire a particular CLO Security, the Investment Manager may be prevented from causing the Fund to purchase or sell such asset due to internal restrictions imposed on the Investment Manager. Notwithstanding the maintenance of certain internal controls relating to the management of material non-public information, it is possible that such controls could fail and result in the Investment Manager, or one of its investment professionals, buying or selling an asset while, at least constructively, in possession of material non-public information. Inadvertent trading on material non-public information could have adverse effects on the Investment Manager's reputation, result in the imposition of regulatory or financial sanctions, and as a consequence, negatively impact the Investment Manager's ability to perform its portfolio management services to the Fund. In addition, while the Investment Manager and certain of its affiliates currently operate without information barriers on an integrated basis, such entities could be required by certain regulations, or decide that it is advisable, to establish information barriers. In such event, the Investment Manager's ability to operate as an integrated platform could also be impaired, which would limit the Investment Manager's access to personnel of its affiliates and potentially impair its ability to manage the Fund's investments.

Akin Gump Strauss Hauer & Feld LLP ("Akin Gump") serves as counsel to the Fund, the Investment Manager, the General Partner and certain of their Affiliates (the "Clients") in connection with the formation of the Fund and certain other Clients, the offering of Interests as well as certain other matters for which the Clients may engage Akin Gump from time to time. Akin Gump disclaims any obligation to verify the Clients' compliance with their obligations either under applicable law or the governing documents of the Fund. In acting as counsel to the Clients, Akin Gump has not represented and will not represent any Limited Partners nor does it purport to represent their interests. No independent counsel has been retained to represent the Limited Partners. In assisting in the preparation of this Memorandum, Akin Gump has relied on information provided by the Fund, the Investment Manager and the General Partner and certain of the Fund's other service providers (including, without limitation, the principal's biographical data, summaries of market conditions, the planned investment strategy of the Fund and the performance of the Fund, its investments or any predecessor Fund) without verification and does not express a view as to whether such information is accurate or complete.

BROKERAGE AND CUSTODY

Portfolio Transactions

Substantially all of the Fund's investments in marketable securities, as well as its cash and cash equivalents, are expected to be held at The Bank of New York Mellon ("BNY Mellon").

BNY Mellon and other prime brokers or their affiliates may provide capital introduction or other placement services to the Fund and the Investment Manager (with or without separate charges for such other services). In determining which broker-dealer generally provides the best available price and most favorable execution, the Investment Manager considers a totality of circumstances, including the broker-dealer's research capabilities and the success of prior research recommendations, ability to efficiently execute difficult trades (such as those in illiquid markets or trades of substantial size), the broker's risk in positioning a block of securities, commitment of capital, access to new issues, nature and frequency of sales coverage, depth of services provided, including economic or political coverage, arbitrage and option operations, back office and processing capabilities, financial strength, stability and responsibility, efficiency, reputation, access to markets, confidentiality, commission rate, responsiveness to the Investment Manager and the value of research and brokerage and research products and services provided by such brokers.

The Investment Manager may also execute trades with brokers and dealers with whom the Fund or the Investment Manager has other business relationships, including prime brokerage, credit relationships and capital introduction or investments by affiliates of the broker-dealers in the Fund or other entities managed by the Investment Manager. However, the Investment Manager does not believe that these other relationships will influence the choice of brokers and dealers who execute trades for the Fund.

Broker-dealers may provide research that may include written or oral proprietary research. Broker-dealers may also provide research products that include software and related support services for use in research and trading, quotation boards, computer databases and quotation equipment, in each case to access research or which provide research directly. Research services may include, among other things, research concerning market, economic and financial data, statistical information, data on pricing and availability of securities, financial publications, attendance at conferences and meetings, electronic market quotations, performance measurement services, analyses and/or due diligence concerning specific securities, companies or sectors, including due diligence on specific aspects of a company's operations or finances, analyses on issues raised in proxy statements and market, economic and financial studies and forecasts. Research services may be in written or oral form or on-line and may be produced by broker-dealers or third parties such as attorneys, accountants or consultants. Brokerage products and services may include certain order management system components and order routing.

The receipt of brokerage and research products from broker-dealers through client commission payments is commonly referred to as "soft dollars." Broker-dealers may provide products and services paid for through soft dollars either directly or through credits deposited into an account that may be used for research developed by the broker-dealer, third-party research and brokerage services. Section 28(e) of the Exchange Act provides a safe harbor from liability for breach of fiduciary duties relating to the purchase of limited research or brokerage services using soft dollars so long as the products and services received constitute lawful and appropriate assistance and the amount indirectly paid for those products or services is reasonable. If the Investment Manager uses research or brokerage products or services, it intends to limit research and brokerage to those services included in the safe harbor under Section 28(e) of the Exchange Act.

In selecting broker-dealers on the basis of the foregoing factors, the Investment Manager may pay a brokerage commission in excess of that which another broker might have charged for effecting the same transaction. In connection therewith, the Investment Manager will make a good faith determination that the amount of commission is reasonable in relation to the value of the research or brokerage services received, viewed in terms of either the specific transaction or the Investment Manager's overall responsibility to its clients. The Investment Manager will regularly evaluate the placement of brokerage services and the reasonableness of commissions paid. Research received from brokers will be supplemental to the Investment Manager's own research efforts. While the receipt of research will not reduce the Investment Manager's normal research activities, the Investment Manager's expenses could increase materially if it attempted to generate such additional research or brokerage services through its own staff, and the Management Fee will not be reduced as a consequence of the receipt of such research or brokerage services or products. As such, the Investment Manager's arrangements for the receipt of research and brokerage services from brokers may create a conflict of interest, in that the Investment Manager may have an incentive to choose a broker-dealer that provides research and brokerage services, instead of one that does not but charges a lower commission rate. In some instances, the Investment Manager receives products and services that may be used for both research and non-research purposes. In such instances, the Investment Manager will make a good faith effort to determine the relative proportion of the products and services used to assist the Investment Manager in carrying out its investment decision-making responsibilities or order execution, including research and brokerage, and the relative proportion used for administrative or other non-research purposes. The proportionate amount of the research attributable to assisting the Investment Manager in carrying out its investment decision-making responsibilities or order execution will be paid through brokerage commissions generated by the Fund's and other client's transactions; the proportionate amount attributable to administrative or other non-research purposes will be paid for by the Investment Manager from its own resources. The receipt of "mixed-use" research and the determination of the appropriate allocation may result in a potential conflict of interest between the Investment Manager and its clients.

The Investment Manager will be responsible for the placement of the portfolio transactions of the Fund and the negotiation of any commissions or spreads paid on such transactions. Portfolio transactions normally will be effected through brokers on securities exchanges or directly with the issuer, or through an underwriter, or market maker or other dealer for the investments. Portfolio transactions through brokers involve a commission to the broker. Portfolio transactions with dealers typically are priced to include a spread between the bid and the asked price to compensate the dealer. Portfolio transactions will be executed by brokers selected solely by the Investment Manager in its absolute discretion.

Custody

Custody of the Fund's assets is maintained by brokers and banks selected by the Investment Manager in its sole discretion. The custodian or custodians may be changed at any time and from time to time by the Investment Manager without the consent of the Fund. Currently, the custodian is BNY Mellon. The Fund is eligible for insurance coverage against loss with respect to assets held in the custody of BNY Mellon in the event of the bankruptcy or liquidation of BNY Mellon to the same extent BNY Mellon's other customers.

TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Introduction

The following is a summary of certain aspects of the taxation of the Fund and its Limited Partners arising from the purchase, ownership and disposition of an Interest that should be considered by a prospective Limited Partner. The Fund has not sought a ruling from the Service or any similar state, local or foreign authority with respect to any of the tax issues affecting Limited Partners or the Fund, nor has it obtained an opinion of counsel with respect to any U.S. federal, state, local or foreign tax issues.

This summary is based on the Code, the Treasury regulations promulgated under the Code (the “Treasury Regulations”), judicial decisions, administrative rulings, and state and local tax laws in force on the date of this Memorandum, all of which are subject to change (possibly with retroactive effect). Changes in existing laws or regulations and their interpretation may occur after the date of this Memorandum and could alter the income tax consequences of an investment in the Fund. This discussion does not address all of the tax consequences that may be relevant to a particular investor, nor does it address, unless specifically indicated, the tax consequences to, among others (i) persons that may be subject to special treatment under U.S. federal income tax law, including, but not limited to, banks, insurance companies, thrift institutions, regulated investment companies, real estate investment trusts and dealers in securities or currencies, (ii) persons that will hold Interests as part of a position in a “straddle” or as part of a “hedging,” “conversion” or other integrated investment transaction for U.S. federal income tax purposes, (iii) persons whose functional currency is not the U.S. dollar or (iv) persons that do not hold Interests as capital assets within the meaning of Code section 1221.

Further, this discussion assumes that all non-U.S. persons will invest in the Offshore Fund and will not invest in the Fund and, therefore, does not address the tax considerations relevant to an investment in the Fund by a non-U.S. person.

If a partnership holds an Interest in the Fund, the tax treatment of a partner in such partnership will generally depend upon the status of the partner and the activities of the partnership. Prospective investors who are partners of a partnership should consult their own tax advisors.

Unless otherwise expressly provided herein, this discussion does not address possible state, local or non-U.S. tax consequences of the purchase, ownership or disposition of Interests, some or all of which may be material to particular investors. This discussion also does not address the potential application of the U.S. federal alternative minimum tax (“AMT”) to the Limited Partners. There is uncertainty concerning certain tax aspects of the Fund, and there can be no assurance that the Service will not challenge the positions taken by the Fund.

The tax consequences of an investment in the Fund are particularly complex. Accordingly, prospective investors should not consider this discussion as a substitute for careful tax planning. Prospective investors should consult with their own tax advisors, attorneys or accountants on matters relating to an investment in the Fund with special references to such investor’s particular situation.

Certain United States Taxation Matters

Classification of the Fund

The General Partner believes that, under the provisions of the Code and the Treasury Regulations as currently in effect, the Fund should be treated for U.S. federal income tax purposes as a partnership and not as an association taxable as a corporation.

Certain “publicly traded partnerships” are treated as associations that are taxable as corporations for U.S. federal income tax purposes. A publicly traded partnership is any partnership the interests in which are traded on an established securities market or which are readily tradable on a secondary market (or the substantial equivalent thereof). Interests in the Fund are not and will not be traded on an established securities market. Treasury Regulations concerning the classification of partnerships as publicly traded partnerships provide certain safe harbors under which interests in a partnership will not be considered readily tradable on a secondary market (or the substantial equivalent thereof). Depending on the number of Partners, the Fund may qualify for a safe harbor exemption for partnerships that are offered to investors in a private placement.

The remainder of this discussion assumes that the Fund will be treated, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, as a partnership and not as a publicly traded partnership treated as an association that is taxable as a corporation.

U.S. Federal Income Taxation of the Fund and Partners Generally

As a partnership, the Fund will not be subject to U.S. federal income tax. Each Limited Partner will be required to report separately on its income tax return its distributive share of the Fund’s net long-term capital gain or loss, net short-term capital gain or loss, and net ordinary income and deductions and credits in accordance with the allocations set forth in the Partnership Agreement. Each Limited Partner will be liable for any taxes owed upon its distributive share of the income or gains realized by the Fund, and may claim deductions for its distributive share of the Fund’s losses and deductions and credits for its distributive share of the Fund’s credits, to the extent allowed under the Code. Each Limited Partner will be taxed on its distributive share of the Fund’s taxable income and gain regardless of whether it has received or will receive a distribution from the Fund. Consequently, a Limited Partner may be subject to tax with respect to its share of the taxable income of the Fund for a taxable year and may not receive a corresponding distribution of cash from the Fund in such year with which to satisfy its tax liability in respect of such taxable income.

The Fund will file an annual partnership information return with the Service that reports the results of its operations for the taxable year, and will distribute annually to each Limited Partner a form showing its distributive share of the Fund’s items of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit. The General Partner will have the authority to decide how to report these items on the Fund’s tax returns, and all Limited Partners will be required under the Partnership Agreement to treat the items consistently on their own returns. An audit by the Service of the tax treatment of the Fund’s income and deductions generally will be determined at the Fund level in a single proceeding rather than by individual audits of the Limited Partners. In this regard, the General Partner, as the “Tax Matters Partner,” will have the authority to bind certain Limited Partners to settlement agreements and the right on behalf of all Limited Partners to extend the statute of limitations relating to the Limited Partners’ tax liabilities with respect to Fund items.

Under the Partnership Agreement, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, the General Partner has the discretion to allocate specially an amount of the Fund's net gains or net losses (or items of gross income or losses or deduction) to a withdrawing Partner to the extent that the Partner's Capital Account differs either positively or negatively from its U.S. federal income tax basis in its Interest. There can be no assurance that, if the General Partner makes such a special allocation, the Service will accept such allocation. If such allocation is successfully challenged by the Service, the Fund's allocations to the remaining Partners would be affected as well.

The Fund expects to act as a trader or investor, and not as a dealer, with respect to its securities transactions. Generally, the gains and losses realized by a trader or investor on the sale of securities are capital gains and losses. Thus, in general, the Fund expects that its gains and losses from its securities transactions typically will be capital gains and capital losses. These capital gains and losses may be long-term or short-term depending, in general, upon the length of time the Fund maintains a particular investment position and, in some cases, upon the nature of the transaction. Property held for more than 12 months generally will be eligible for long-term capital gain or loss treatment. Long term capital gains may be eligible for favorable tax rates in the hands of non-corporate U.S. Limited Partners. Limited Partners should consult with their own tax advisors to determine the tax rates applicable to them in their particular tax situations.

In addition, individuals who are U.S. persons with "modified adjusted gross income" that exceeds certain thresholds (for example, $250,000 for married individuals filing jointly, $200,000 for single individuals) are subject to a Medicare tax of 3.8% on the lesser of (i) their investment income, net of deductions properly allocable to such income, and (ii) the excess of their "modified adjusted gross income" above the applicable threshold. The General Partner expects that most or all of the Fund's income will be treated as investment income for this purpose, and as a result Limited Partners receiving allocations of income from the Fund for these taxable years will be subject to this tax. This tax will be in addition to any U.S. federal income tax imposed on such Limited Partners with respect to their allocable share of income of the Fund. Trusts and estates also may be subject to this additional tax.

The Fund may be involved in a variety of hedging transactions to reduce the risk of changes in value in the Fund's investments. Special rules may apply to determine the tax treatment of such hedging transactions, which may affect the Fund's holding period attributable to such property, the characterization of gain or loss as ordinary or capital and, if capital, as long-term or short-term, and the timing of the realization of gains or losses on the actual or deemed sale of the property, including, in some cases, property owned by a Limited Partner outside of the Fund. For instance, gain or loss from a short sale of property generally will be considered as capital gain or loss to the extent the property used to close the short sale constitutes a capital asset in the Fund's hands. Except with respect to certain situations where the property used by the Fund to close a short sale has a long-term holding period on the date of the short sale, gains on short sales will be treated as short-term capital gains. These rules also may terminate the running of the holding period of "substantially identical property" held by the Fund. Moreover, a loss on a short sale will be treated as a long-term capital loss if, on the date of the short sale, "substantially identical property" has been held by the Fund for more than one year. Certain hedging transactions also may cause a constructive sale of the Fund's long position that is the subject of the hedge.

The Fund may derive ordinary interest income and dividends on securities, and may be required to recognize income in respect of certain securities prior to receipt of any payment in respect of such securities. For instance, the Fund may hold debt obligations with "original issue discount." In such case, the Fund will be required to include a portion of such discount in its taxable income on a current basis, and the Fund must allocate such income to the Limited Partners, even though receipt of such amounts by the Fund may occur in a subsequent tax year. The Fund also may acquire debt obligations with “market discount.” Upon disposition of such an obligation, which might include the receipt of securities of the issuer in a recapitalization exchange, the Fund generally will be required to treat any gain realized (and required to be recognized) as ordinary interest income to the extent of the market discount that accrued during the period the debt obligation was held by the Fund. Recapitalization exchanges involving securities held by the Fund also may result in the recognition of taxable gains prior to the receipt of cash or readily tradable property.

If the Fund is treated as a trader, it may, in its discretion, make an election under Code section 475(f) to apply a mark to market system of recognizing unrealized gains and losses on securities as if the securities were sold for fair market value at the close of any taxable year of the Fund. The amount recognized when gain or loss is subsequently realized would be adjusted for amounts recognized in marking to market. The election would apply with respect to securities held in connection with the Fund’s trade or business as a trader in securities. The election would not apply to any securities with respect to which the Fund could demonstrate, to the satisfaction of the Service, that they are held for investment. Once a Code section 475(f) election is made, it can be revoked only with the consent of the Service. In the event that the Fund makes such an election, the Fund’s gains and losses from marking securities to market (and gain or loss recognized before the end of the taxable year with respect to any security that would have been marked to market) would be treated as ordinary income and losses. The rules relating to appreciated financial positions under Code section 1259 and wash sales under Code section 1091 would not apply to the securities to which the election applies and the Code section 1092 straddle rules would not have any effect where all the offsetting positions of a straddle are marked to market.

The Fund may be required to purchase foreign currency with which to make its investments and may receive foreign currency when a security is sold or when an interest payment is made on a security. These transactions may give rise to gains and losses because of fluctuations in the value of the foreign currency relative to the U.S. dollar during the Fund’s holding period of an investment. Foreign currency gain or loss in respect of certain types of transactions must be accounted for separately, apart from any gain or loss on the underlying transaction, and the Code contains special rules which treat, in most circumstances, such gains and losses as ordinary income or losses rather than capital gains or losses.

The U.S. federal income tax treatment of the Fund’s investment in swaps or other derivatives is subject to significant uncertainty and depends in large part on the terms of the specific swap or other derivative. In particular, it is possible that the Fund may enter into so-called “bullet swaps” or other swaps that provide for non-periodic payments. In certain circumstances, income from a swap can be treated as ordinary income and not capital gain if the swap is treated as a “constructive ownership transaction” under Code section 1260. The Fund intends to take positions that are reasonable under the law that provide for optimal tax treatment of the Limited Partners. However, there can be no assurance that the Service or a court would agree with the Fund’s position. Moreover, the Service might take the contrary position that the Fund is subject to U.S. federal income tax in respect of some or all of the income earned from the swap investments on the theory that the Fund should be treated as the owner for U.S. federal income tax purposes of the property underlying certain swaps, in which case the after-tax return on the swap investments could be significantly reduced.

Pursuant to various “anti-deferral” provisions of the Code (e.g., the “Subpart F” and “passive foreign investment company” provisions), any investments by the Fund in certain foreign corporations may cause a Limited Partner to (i) recognize taxable income prior to the Fund’s receipt of distributable proceeds, (ii) pay an interest charge on receipts that are deemed as having been deferred or (iii) recognize ordinary income that, but for the “anti-deferral” provisions, would have been treated as long-term or short-term capital gain.

Under the Partnership Agreement, the General Partner has the authority to elect on behalf of the Fund, under Code section 754, to adjust the tax basis of the Fund’s assets in connection with certain distributions to Limited Partners or certain transfers of Interests. Such an election, if made, could affect the amount of a Limited Partner’s distributive share of the gain or loss recognized by the Fund upon the disposition of its assets. Because of the complexity and additional expense involved in making a section 754 election, the General Partner has no present intention to make such election on behalf of the Fund.

Prospective investors that are subject to the AMT should consider the tax consequences of an investment in the Fund in view of their AMT position, taking into account the special rules that apply in computing the AMT.

Taxation of Distributions and Withdrawals

Cash non-liquidating distributions and withdrawals, to the extent they do not exceed a Limited Partner’s basis in its Interest, will not result in taxable income to that Limited Partner, but will reduce its tax basis in its Interest by the amount distributed or withdrawn. Cash distributed to a Limited Partner in excess of the basis of its Interest is generally taxable as capital gain.

Prospective Limited Partners should be aware that a Limited Partner’s share of the taxable income of the Fund for any year may exceed the amount of cash distributed to such Limited Partner for that year, which may require that the Limited Partner make an out-of-pocket expenditure to cover its tax liability. Conversely, if the cash distributed by the Fund to a Partner for any year exceeds the taxable income of the Fund allocated to such Partner for that year, the excess will be treated as a return of capital for U.S. federal income tax purposes to the extent of a Limited Partner’s tax basis of its Interest. To the extent that cash distributions are treated as a return of capital and to the extent that any tax losses are allocated to the Limited Partners, the tax bases of the Limited Partners in their Interests will be reduced (but not below zero). Because of such basis adjustments, any tax that is avoided in the early years of a Limited Partner’s investment in the Fund may become due later through the realization of gain upon the sale of assets of the Fund, the liquidation of the Fund or the sale of Interests.

The Fund’s ability to make cash distributions to a withdrawing Limited Partner or to the Partners, if applicable, may be limited by, among other things, the terms of the investment leverage entered into by the Fund for the purpose of making portfolio investments on a leveraged basis.

Upon the withdrawal of a Limited Partner receiving a cash liquidating distribution from the Fund, such Limited Partner generally will recognize capital gain or loss to the extent of the difference between the proceeds received by the withdrawing Limited Partner and such Partner’s adjusted tax basis in its Interest. Such capital gain or loss will be short-term or long-term depending upon the Partner’s holding period (or holding periods) for its Interest. However, a withdrawing Limited Partner will recognize ordinary income to the extent such Partner’s allocable share of the Fund’s “unrealized receivables” exceeds the Partner’s basis in such unrealized receivables (as determined pursuant to the Treasury Regulations). For these purposes, accrued but untaxed market discount, if any, on securities held by the Fund will be treated as an unrealized receivable, with respect to which a withdrawing Partner would recognize ordinary income.

Distributions of property other than cash, whether in complete or partial liquidation of a Limited Partner's Interest, generally will not result in the recognition of taxable income or loss to the Limited Partner (except to the extent such distribution is treated as made in exchange for such Limited Partner's share of the Fund's unrealized receivables). However, a distribution of marketable securities will be treated as a distribution of cash (which, as described above, can require the recognition of gain by the recipient Limited Partner), unless the distributing partnership is an "investment partnership" and the recipient is an "eligible partner" as defined in Code section 731(c). Although the General Partner cannot provide any assurances of whether the Fund is an "investment partnership" for these purposes, the General Partner anticipates that the Fund should qualify as an "investment partnership." Thus, if a Limited Partner is an "eligible partner," which term should include a Limited Partner whose sole contributions to the Fund consisted of cash, a distribution of marketable securities to such Limited Partner should not require the recognition of gain by such Limited Partner.

As discussed above, under the Partnership Agreement, the General Partner has the discretion to allocate specially an amount of the Fund's net gains or net losses (or items of gross income or losses or deductions) for U.S. federal income tax purposes to a withdrawing Partner to the extent that the Partner's capital account differs from its U.S. federal income tax basis in its Interest. Such a special allocation may result in the withdrawing Partner recognizing more or less taxable income, which may include short-term gain, in the Partner's last taxable year in the Fund, thereby reducing, or increasing, as applicable, the amount of long-term capital gain recognized during the tax year in which it receives its liquidating distribution upon withdrawal. In certain circumstances, special allocations of net gains (or items of income or gain) to a withdrawing Partner may result in a greater allocation of losses, or a lower allocation of taxable income or gain, to the remaining Partners. Likewise, special allocations of net losses (or items of expense, loss or deduction) to a withdrawing Partner may result in a greater allocation of taxable income or gain, or a lower allocation of losses, to the remaining Partners.

Assuming the Fund has not made an election pursuant to Code section 754 and the General Partner does not exercise its discretion to specially allocate losses to a withdrawing Limited Partner, distributions of property or cash by the Fund to a Limited Partner in redemption of its Interest in certain circumstances where the Fund has a substantial built-in loss may require the Fund to reduce the tax basis of its remaining property.

Limitations on Losses and Deductions

Limited Partners that are individuals or certain types of corporations may be limited in their ability to deduct expenses or losses of the Fund. For instance, if or to the extent that the Fund's operations do not constitute a "trade or business" within the meaning of Code section 162 and other provisions of the Code, an individual Limited Partner's distributive share of the Fund's expenses (including any amounts that are treated for tax purposes as expenses of the Fund) would be deductible only as itemized deductions, subject to the limitations of Code sections 67 and 68. In this regard, if all or a portion of the Performance Allocation to the General Partner were re-characterized for tax purposes as an expense of the Fund, each non-corporate Limited Partner's share of such expense could be subject to such limitations. Itemized deductions are non-deductible in computing such Limited Partner's alternative minimum taxable income and alternative minimum tax liability.

Further, income, gains and losses of the Fund generally will not be treated as passive income or losses for purposes of the passive activity loss limitations of Code section 469. Accordingly, individuals, personal service corporations and certain closely-held corporations that have passive activity losses from other activities are restricted in their ability to use such losses to offset income and gains from the Fund, although losses of the Fund will not be subject to the passive activity loss limitation.

The ability of a non-corporate Limited Partner to deduct its share of the Fund's ordinary losses attributable to interest and certain short sale expenses may be subject to the "investment interest limitation" under Section 163(d) of the Code. In general, a non-corporate taxpayer's investment interest (including interest and certain short sale expenses) in the current year is not deductible to the extent it exceeds its "net investment income," consisting of net gain and ordinary income derived from investments in the current year less certain directly connected expenses (other than interest or short sale expenses). For this purpose, any long-term capital gain and qualified dividend income is excluded from net investment income unless the taxpayer elects to pay tax on such amount at ordinary income tax rates. The Fund's activities are expected to be treated as giving rise to investment income for a Limited Partner, and the investment interest limitation would apply to a non-corporate Limited Partner's share of the interest and short sale expenses attributable to the Fund's operation. Accordingly, a non-corporate Limited Partner would be denied a deduction for all or a part of its distributive share of the Fund's ordinary losses attributable to interest and short sale expenses unless it has sufficient investment income from all sources including the Fund. Any amount not deducted as a result of the application of the investment interest limitation may be carried forward to future years, subject to certain limitations. The Fund may incur certain expenses in connection with its organization and the marketing of its Interests. Amounts paid or incurred to organize a partnership are not deductible, but may, by election of the Fund, be capitalized and amortized over a period of not less than 180 months. Amounts paid or incurred to market interests in the Fund that qualify as "syndication expenses" are not deductible or amortizable.

Tax Consequences for Tax-Exempt U.S. Investors

A Limited Partner that is an organization exempt from tax under Code section 501(a) (a "Tax-Exempt U.S. Investor") will be subject to tax on its allocable share of the Fund's income that is considered to be "unrelated business taxable income" ("UBTI") as defined in Code section 512, and may be subject to the AMT with respect to items of tax preference which enter into the computation of UBTI. Code section 512(b) provides that UBTI generally does not include dividends, interest, and gain or loss from the disposition of property other than stock in trade or property held for sale in the ordinary course of the unrelated trade or business. The Fund may invest in entities that are treated as partnerships or other pass-through entities. UBTI generated by such entities would generally flow up to Tax-Exempt U.S. Investors, causing the realization of UBTI by such investors. Therefore, in light of the Fund's investment program, a Tax-Exempt U.S. Investor should not realize UBTI to the extent that its distributive share of the Fund's income consists of dividends, interest, capital gains and certain other items which are excluded from UBTI under Code section 512(b) (except to the extent any such income constitutes "UDFI," as discussed in the next paragraph).

A Tax-Exempt U.S. Investor is also subject to tax with respect to its, and its allocable share of the Fund's, "unrelated debt-financed income" pursuant to Code section 514 ("UDFI"). In general, UDFI consists of (i) income derived by a tax-exempt organization (directly or through a partnership) from income-producing property with respect to which there is "acquisition indebtedness" at any time during the taxable year and (ii) gains derived by a tax-exempt organization (directly or through a partnership) from the disposition of property with respect to which there is "acquisition indebtedness." In addition, a tax-exempt organization that borrows money to finance its investment in the Fund would be subject to tax on the portion of its income that is UDFI. Income and gains derived by a tax-exempt organization from the ownership and sale of debt-financed property is taxable in the proportion to which such property is financed by acquisition indebtedness during the relevant period of time.

The Fund expects to generate income attributable to debt-financed property which will be attributed to the Partners, including any Tax-Exempt U.S. Investors. A Tax-Exempt U.S. Investor's share of the Fund's income that is treated as UBTI will vary depending upon the degree of leverage utilized by the Fund and could be significant. In addition to other relevant considerations, fiduciaries of employee pension trusts and other prospective tax-exempt investors should consider the consequences of realizing UBTI in making a decision whether to invest in the Fund.

We urge prospective Tax-Exempt U.S. Investors that are sensitive to UBTI or UDFI to consult their tax advisors as to the tax consequences of investing in the Fund and as to the comparative tax treatment of an investment in the Offshore Fund.

Investor Tax Filings and Record Retention.

The U.S. Treasury Department has adopted Treasury Regulations designed to assist the Service in identifying abusive tax shelter transactions. In general, these Treasury Regulations require investors in specified transactions (including partners in partnerships that engage in such transactions) to satisfy certain special tax filing and record retention requirements. Significant monetary penalties (in addition to penalties that generally may be applicable as a result of a failure to comply with the applicable Treasury Regulations) may be imposed for failure to comply with these tax filing and record retention rules.

These Treasury Regulations are broad in scope, and it is conceivable that the Fund may enter into transactions that will subject the Fund and certain investors to the special tax filing and record retention rules. Additionally, under these Treasury Regulations, an investor's recognition of loss upon its disposition of its Interest could cause the investor to become subject to special tax filing and record retention rules. The General Partner intends to use its reasonable efforts to provide information to investors necessary to enable investors to satisfy any tax filing and record retention requirements that may arise as a result of any transactions entered into by the Fund.

Reporting under FATCA

Sections 1471 through 1474 of the Code, known as the U.S. Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (together with any regulations, rules and other guidance implementing such Code sections and any applicable intergovernmental agreement ("IGA") and related statutes, regulations, rules and other guidance thereunder, "FATCA") impose a withholding tax of 30% on (i) certain U.S. source interest, dividends and other types of income, and (ii) the gross proceeds from the sale or disposition of certain assets of a type that can produce U.S. source interest and dividends, which are received by a foreign financial institution ("FFI"), unless such FFI enters into an agreement with the IRS (an "FFI Agreement"), and/or complies with an IGA, to obtain certain information as to the identity of the direct and indirect owners of accounts in such institution. In addition, a withholding tax may be imposed on payments to certain non-financial foreign entities which do not obtain and provide information as to their direct and indirect owners. These rules generally apply to payments of U.S. source interest, dividends and certain other types of income from U.S. sources since July 1, 2014, and will apply to payments of gross proceeds from the sale or disposition of assets of a type that can produce U.S. source interest or dividends after December 31, 2016.

The Service has released temporary and final Treasury Regulations and other guidance that will be used in implementing FATCA, which contain a number of phase-in dates for FATCA compliance. Additional guidance is forthcoming.

It is possible that a lower-tier non-U.S. entity in which the Fund invests may be considered an FFI. The Fund intends to assist lower-tier non-U.S. entities in complying with FATCA, but can give no assurance that it will be able to provide such assistance or that such an entity will be able to avoid the imposition of this withholding tax on it.

Further, the Fund may be required to act as a withholding agent for the Service under FATCA and therefore be required to withhold on income and proceeds paid or allocated to an investor that fails to comply with FATCA, which could occur if an investor that is an FFI does not enter into an FFI Agreement, is not otherwise exempt from such withholding, and/or does not provide the appropriate information and documentation (including the prescribed forms) to the Fund or its agents showing its exemption from such withholding or compliance with FATCA. The General Partner intends to collect the appropriate documentation from all investors in the Fund in order to determine whether it is required to withhold under FATCA with respect to distributions or allocations of income and gains made to investors.

The General Partner and the Fund reserve the right to take any action and/or pursue all remedies at their disposal to avoid withholding requirements or otherwise to mitigate the consequences of an investor's failure to comply with FATCA, including compulsory redemption or withdrawal of the investor concerned. In this regard, the General Partner and the Fund have certain rights to request, and the investors have certain obligations to provide, information and documentation that may be used by the General Partner and the Fund in complying with their obligations under FATCA. In addition, no investor affected by any action or remedy by the Fund shall have any claim against the Fund, the General Partner, and the Administrator (or their agents, delegates, employees, directors, officers or affiliates) for any form of damages or liability as a result of actions taken or remedies pursued by or on behalf of the Fund in order to comply with FATCA.

Investors should consult their tax advisors as to the withholding, filing and information reporting requirements that may be imposed on them in respect of their ownership of Interests of the Fund.

State and Local Taxes

In addition to the U.S. federal income tax consequences described above, prospective investors should consider potential state and local tax consequences of an investment in the Fund. State and local laws often differ from U.S. federal income tax laws with respect to the treatment of specific items of income, gain, loss, deduction and credit. A Partner's distributive share of the taxable income or loss of the Fund generally will be required to be included in determining its reportable income for state and local tax purposes in the jurisdiction in which it is a resident.

Limited Partners or the Fund may be subject to state and/or local franchise, withholding, income, capital gain or other tax payment obligations and filing requirements in those jurisdictions where the Fund owns real estate assets or is otherwise regarded as doing business or earning income. Credits for these taxes may not be available (or may be subject to limitations) in the jurisdictions in which Limited Partners, or the Fund, as applicable, are residents. Each potential investor is urged to consult with its own tax advisor in this regard.

Each prospective Limited Partner should consult its own tax advisor with respect to its state and local tax consequences and filing obligations as a result of an investment in the Fund.

Other Taxes

The Fund and its Limited Partners may be subject to other taxes, such as the AMT, and estate, inheritance or intangible property taxes that may be imposed by various domestic jurisdictions, as well as foreign withholding or gains taxes. Each prospective investor should consider the potential consequences of such taxes on an investment in the Fund. It is the responsibility of each prospective investor to satisfy itself as to, among other things, the legal and tax consequences of an investment in the Fund, under the laws of the various jurisdictions of its domicile and its residence, by obtaining advice from its own tax counsel or other advisor, and to file all appropriate tax returns that may be required.

Tax Returns; Tax Audits

The Fund will file an annual partnership information return with the Service that reports the results of its operations for the taxable year, and will distribute annually to each Limited Partner a form showing its distributive share of the Fund's items of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit. The General Partner has the authority to decide how to report these items on the Fund's tax returns, and all Limited Partners will be required under the Partnership Agreement to treat the items consistently on their own returns. If the income tax returns of the Fund are audited by the Service, the tax treatment of the Fund's income and deductions is generally determined at the Fund level in a single proceeding rather than by individual audits of the Limited Partners. In this regard, the General Partner, as the "Tax Matters Partner," has considerable authority to make decisions affecting the tax treatment and procedural rights of all Limited Partners. In addition, the Tax Matters Partner has the authority to bind certain Limited Partners to settlement agreements and the right on behalf of all Limited Partners to extend the statute of limitations relating to the Limited Partners' tax liabilities with respect to Fund items.

In certain cases, the Fund may be required to file a statement with the Service, disclosing one or more positions taken on its tax return, generally where the tax law is uncertain or a position lacks clear authority. All Partners are required under the Code to treat the partnership items consistently on their own returns, unless they file a statement with the Service disclosing the inconsistency. Given the uncertainty and complexity of the tax laws, it is possible that the Service may not agree with the manner in which the Fund's items have been reported.

Other Income Taxation

Although there can be no assurance, it is intended that the affairs of the Fund will be conducted such that the Fund will not be subject to regular income taxation in any foreign jurisdiction. However, income and gains from investments held by the Fund may be subject to withholding taxes or taxes in jurisdictions other than those described herein, subject to the possibility of reduction under applicable tax treaties. Limited Partners generally may be entitled, subject to applicable limitations, to a credit against U.S. income tax for creditable foreign income taxes paid on the foreign source income and gains of the Fund (which may not include all of the Fund's gains). The foreign tax credit rules are complex, and may, depending on each Limited Partner's particular circumstances, limit the availability or use of foreign tax credits. Prospective investors are advised to consult their own tax advisors regarding the application of the foreign tax credit rules.

Future Tax Legislation; Necessity of Obtaining Professional Advice

Future amendments to the Code, other legislation, new or amended Treasury Regulations, administrative rulings or decisions by the Service or judicial decisions may adversely affect the U.S. federal income tax aspects of an investment in the Fund, with or without advance notice, retroactively or prospectively. The foregoing analysis is not intended as a substitute for careful tax planning. The tax matters relating to the Fund are complex and are subject to varying interpretations. There can be no assurance that the Service will agree with each position taken by the Fund with respect to the tax treatment of Fund items and transactions. Moreover, the effect of existing income tax laws and of proposed changes in income tax laws on Limited Partners will vary with the particular circumstances of each Limited Partner and, in reviewing this Memorandum and any exhibits hereto, these matters should be considered.

Accordingly, each prospective investor must consult with and rely solely on its professional tax advisors with respect to the tax results of its investment in the Fund. In no event will the Fund, the General Partner, the Investment Manager, or their Affiliates, counsel or other professional advisors be liable to any Limited Partner for any U.S. federal, state, local or foreign tax consequences of an investment in the Fund, whether or not such consequences are as described above.

The foregoing is a summary of some of the important tax rules and considerations affecting the Limited Partners, the Fund, and the Fund's proposed operations. This summary does not purport to be a complete analysis of all relevant tax rules and considerations, which will vary with the particular circumstances of each Limited Partner, nor does it purport to be a complete listing of all potential tax risks inherent in purchasing or holding an Interest. The foregoing does not address tax considerations affecting investors that are not U.S. persons. Each prospective investor in the Fund is urged to consult its own tax advisor in order to understand fully the U.S. federal, state, local and any foreign tax consequences of such an investment in its particular situation.

ERISA AND OTHER REGULATORY CONSIDERATIONS

ERISA Considerations

General

Fiduciaries and other persons who are proposing to invest in Interests on behalf of retirement plans, IRAs and other employee benefit plans (“Plans”) covered by the U.S. Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended (“ERISA”), or the Code must give appropriate consideration to, among other things, the role that an investment in the Fund plays in the Plan’s portfolio, taking into consideration whether the investment is designed to reasonably further the Plan’s purposes, the investment’s risk and return factors, the portfolio’s composition with regard to diversification, the liquidity and current return of the total portfolio relative to the anticipated cash flow needs of the Plan, the projected return of the total portfolio relative to the Plan’s objectives, the limited right of Limited Partners to withdraw all or any part of their capital or to transfer their Interests and whether investment in the Fund constitutes a direct or indirect transaction with a party in interest (under ERISA) or a disqualified person (under the Code).

Plan Asset Regulations and Benefit Plan Investors

The United States Department of Labor (“DOL”) has adopted regulations that treat the assets of certain pooled investment vehicles, such as the Fund, as “plan assets” for purposes of Title I of ERISA and Section 4975 of the Code (“Plan Assets”). Section 3(42) of ERISA defines the term “Plan Assets” to mean plan assets as defined by such regulations as the DOL may prescribe, except that under such regulations the assets of an entity shall not be treated as Plan Assets if, immediately after the most recent acquisition of an equity interest in the entity, less than 25% of the total value of each class of equity interest in the entity is held by “Benefit Plan Investors” (the “significant participation test”). For purposes of this determination, the value of any equity interest held by a person (other than such a Benefit Plan Investor) who has discretionary authority or control with respect to the assets of the entity or any person who provides investment advice for a fee (direct or indirect) with respect to such assets, or any affiliate of such a person, shall be disregarded. An entity shall be considered to hold Plan Assets only to the extent of the percentage of the equity interest held by Benefit Plan Investors. The term “Benefit Plan Investors” means any employee benefit plan subject to part 4 of Title I of ERISA (i.e., plans subject to the fiduciary provisions of ERISA), any plan to which the prohibited transaction provisions of Section 4975 of the Code apply (e.g., IRAs), and any entity whose underlying assets include Plan Assets by reason of a plan’s investment in such entity (a “Plan Asset Entity”).

In order to prevent the assets of the Fund from being considered Plan Assets under ERISA, it is the intention of the Fund to monitor the investments in the Fund and prohibit the acquisition, withdrawal or transfer of any Interests by any Limited Partner, including a Benefit Plan Investor, unless, after giving effect to such an acquisition, withdrawal or transfer, the total proportion of Interests of any class owned by Benefit Plan Investors would be less than 25% of the aggregate value of the class of Interests (determined, as described above, by excluding certain Interests held by the General Partner, other fiduciaries and affiliates).

Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, in order to limit equity participation in any class of Interests by Benefit Plan Investors to less than 25%, the Fund may require the compulsory withdrawal of Interests of any class. Each Limited Partner that is an insurance company acting on behalf of its general account or a Plan Asset Entity will be required to represent and warrant as of the date it acquires Interests the maximum percentage of such general account or Plan Asset Entity that will constitute Plan Assets (the “Maximum Percentage”) so such percentage can be calculated in determining the percentage of Plan Assets invested in the Fund. Further, each such insurance company and Plan Asset Entity will be required to covenant that if, after its initial acquisition of Interests, the Maximum Percentage is exceeded at any time, then such insurance company or Plan Asset Entity shall immediately notify the General Partner of that occurrence and shall, if and as directed by the General Partner, in a manner consistent with the restrictions on transfer set forth herein, redeem or dispose of some or all of the Interests held in its general account or Plan Asset Entity by the end of the next following calendar month (or such earlier period directed by the General Partner).

If the Fund’s assets were considered Plan Assets, then, under ERISA and the Code, the General Partner would be a fiduciary, and certain employees, partners and officers of the General Partner as well as certain affiliates would become “parties in interest” and “disqualified persons,” with respect to the investing Plans, with the result that the rendering of services to certain related parties, the lending of money or other extensions of credit, the sale, exchange or leasing of property by the Fund or certain related parties or the payment of certain fees, as well as certain other transactions, might be deemed to constitute prohibited transactions. Additionally, individual investment in Interests by persons who are fiduciaries, and/or parties-in-interest and disqualified persons, to a Plan might be deemed to constitute prohibited transactions under such circumstances.

Representation by Plans

The fiduciaries of each Plan proposing to invest in the Fund will be required to represent that they have been informed of and understand the Fund’s investment objectives, policies and strategies and that the decision to invest Plan Assets in the Fund is consistent with the provisions of ERISA and/or the Code that require diversification of Plan Assets and impose other fiduciary responsibilities. By its purchase, each investor will be deemed to have represented that either (a) it is not a Plan that is subject to the prohibited transaction rules of ERISA or the Code, (b) it is not an entity whose assets include Plan Assets or (c) its investment in the Fund will not constitute a non-exempt prohibited transaction under ERISA or the Code.

Ineligible Purchasers

Interests may not be purchased with Plan Assets if the General Partner, any selling agent, finder, any of their respective affiliates or any of their respective employees: (a) has investment discretion with respect to the investment of such Plan Assets; (b) has authority or responsibility to give or regularly gives investment advice with respect to such Plan Assets, for a fee, and pursuant to an agreement or understanding that such advice will serve as a primary basis for investment decisions with respect to such Plan Assets and that such advice will be based on the particular investment needs of the Plan; or (c) is an employer maintaining or contributing to such Plan. A party that is described in clause (a) or (b) of the preceding sentence is a fiduciary under ERISA and the Code with respect to the Plan, and any such purchase might result in a “prohibited transaction” under ERISA and the Code.

Plans’ Reporting Obligations

The information contained herein and in the other documentation provided to investors in connection with an investment in the Fund is intended to satisfy the alternative reporting obligation for “eligible indirect compensation” on Schedule C of the Form 5500, in addition to the other purposes for which such documents were created.

Whether or not the underlying assets of the Fund are deemed Plan Assets, an investment in the Fund by a Plan is subject to ERISA and the Code. Accordingly, Plan fiduciaries should consult their own counsel as to the consequences under ERISA and the Code of an investment in the Fund. Note that similar laws governing the investment and management of the assets of governmental or non-U.S. plans may contain fiduciary and prohibited transaction requirements similar to those under ERISA and the Code. Accordingly, fiduciaries of such governmental or non-U.S. plans, in consultation with their counsel, should consider the impact of their respective laws and regulations on an investment in the Fund.

Other Regulatory Matters

Securities Act of 1933

Interests are not registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or any other securities law, including state securities or blue sky laws. Interests are offered without registration in reliance upon the exemption contained in Regulation D of this act and/or rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission applicable to transactions not involving a public offering. Each investor is required, in the Fund's Subscription Documents pursuant to which such investor subscribes for an Interest, to make customary Regulation D representations.

Investment Company Act of 1940

The Fund is not registered under the U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, in reliance upon relief from registration afforded to collective investment vehicles whose outstanding securities are not publicly offered and are beneficially owned exclusively by investors that are considered "qualified purchasers" within the meaning of the Investment Company Act. "Qualified purchasers" generally include individuals and certain family-owned companies owning total investments in excess of $5 million and entities owning total investments in excess of $25 million. Each investor will be required to complete the Fund's Subscription Documents to enable the Fund to determine its eligibility.

Investment Adviser Registration

The Investment Manager is registered as an investment adviser with the Securities and Exchange Commission under the U.S. Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended (the "Advisers Act"). Each prospective investor will be required to make a representation to indicate that it is a "qualified client" as defined in the Advisers Act.

Commodity Exchange Act

Neither the General Partner nor the Investment Manager is required to register as a commodity pool operator or commodity trading adviser under the U.S. Commodity Exchange Act because the Fund is limiting participation to certain qualified investors, is restricting the Fund's commodity interest trading, and the Investment Manager only provides commodity trading advice to the Fund (or other pools for which it is an exempt commodity pool operator). Therefore, unlike a registered commodity pool operator, there is no requirement to deliver this Memorandum or other disclosure document or any certified annual report to the Fund's investors.

Anti-Money Laundering Regulations

All subscriptions for Interests will be subject to applicable anti-money laundering regulations. Investors will be required to comply with such anti-money laundering procedures as are required by the Uniting and Strengthening America by Providing Appropriate Tools Required to Intercept and Obstruct Terrorism (USA PATRIOT Act) Act of 2001 (Pub. L. No. 107-56).

As part of the Fund's responsibility to comply with regulations aimed at the prevention of money laundering, the General Partner or its delegate may require verification of identity from all prospective investors. Depending on the circumstances of each subscription, it may not be necessary to obtain full documentary evidence of identity.

The General Partner reserves the right to request such information as is necessary to verify the identity of a prospective investor. The General Partner also reserves the right to request such identification evidence in respect of a transferee of Interests. In the event of delay or failure by the prospective investor or transferee to produce any information required for verification purposes, the General Partner may refuse to accept the application or (as the case may be) to register the relevant transfer and (in the case of a subscription of Interests) any funds received will be returned without interest to the account from which the monies were originally debited.

The General Partner also reserves the right to refuse to make any withdrawal payment or distribution to a Limited Partner, if the General Partner suspects or is advised that the payment of any withdrawal or distribution moneys to such Limited Partner might result in a breach or violation of any applicable anti-money laundering or other laws or regulations by any person in any relevant jurisdiction, or such refusal is considered necessary or appropriate to ensure the compliance by the Fund, the General Partner and the Investment Manager with any such laws or regulations in any relevant jurisdiction.

NOTICE

This Private Offering Memorandum (this “Memorandum”) is confidential and intended solely for the use of the person to whom it has been delivered by Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, Ltd. (the “Fund”) for the purpose of enabling the recipient to evaluate an investment in the Fund. The purpose of the Fund is to invest all of its assets in, and carry out its investment program through, Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (the “Partnership”). Accordingly, this Memorandum must be read in conjunction with the Partnership’s Confidential Private Placement Memorandum, as amended and supplemented from time to time (the “Partnership Memorandum”).

This Memorandum is not to be reproduced or distributed to others, at any time, without the prior written consent of the Fund (other than to professional advisors and employees of the investor receiving this Memorandum from the Fund or its authorized representative or such investor) and all recipients agree they will keep confidential all information contained herein not already in the public domain and will use this Memorandum for the sole purpose of evaluating a possible investment and monitoring a subsequent investment in the Fund. Notwithstanding the foregoing, each investor (and each employee, representative or other agent of each investor) may disclose to any and all persons, without limitation of any kind, the tax treatment and tax structure of an investment in the Fund and all materials of any kind (including opinions or other tax analyses) that are provided to the investor relating to such tax treatment or tax structure. Acceptance of this Memorandum and the Partnership Memorandum by a recipient constitutes an agreement to be bound by the foregoing terms. No person is authorized to make any representations concerning the Fund which are inconsistent with those contained in this Memorandum.

Prospective investors are not to construe the contents of this Memorandum or the Partnership Memorandum as legal, tax, investment or other advice. Each prospective investor should consult its own advisors as to legal, financial, tax, ERISA and other related matters concerning an investment in the Fund.

In making an investment decision, investors must review both this Memorandum and the Partnership Memorandum and must rely on their own examination of the Fund and the Partnership and the terms of the offering, including the merits and risks involved. The shares in the Fund (the “Shares”) have not been recommended by any U.S. federal or state, or any non-U.S., securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, the foregoing authorities have not confirmed the accuracy or determined the adequacy of this Memorandum. Any representation to the contrary is a criminal offense.

Neither this Memorandum nor the Shares described herein have been qualified for offer, sale or distribution under the laws of any jurisdiction governing the offer or sale of mutual fund shares or other securities, and this Memorandum shall not constitute an offer to sell or a solicitation of an offer to buy nor shall there be any sale of Shares in any jurisdiction in which such offer, solicitation or sale is not authorized or to any person to whom it is unlawful to make such offer, solicitation or sale.

In each member state of the European Economic Area (each a “Relevant Member State”) that has implemented EU Directive 2011/61/EU on Alternative Investment Fund Managers (the “AIFM Directive”), the Fund may only be offered to investors in accordance with local measures implementing the AIFM Directive. Investors in a Relevant Member State where the Fund is not being offered pursuant to private placement rules implementing the AIFM Directive may invest in the Fund, but only in circumstances where they do so at their own initiative.

No person has been authorized to give any information or to make any representation concerning the Fund or the offering of the Shares other than the information contained in the Memorandum and the Partnership Memorandum and, if given or made, such information or representation must not be relied upon as having been authorized by the Fund.

The Shares have not been, and will not, be registered under the United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or the securities laws of any of the states of the United States, and the Fund has not been and will not be registered under the United States Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended. Direct or indirect acquisition or ownership of Shares by “U.S. Persons” (as defined herein) without compliance with applicable U.S. securities laws or in contravention of the relevant provisions of the constituent documents of the Fund is prohibited.

The Fund is not a recognized collective investment scheme for the purposes of Section 264 of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 of the United Kingdom (the “Act”). The promotion of the Fund and the distribution of this Memorandum in the United Kingdom are accordingly restricted by law. This Memorandum is directed at persons to whom it may lawfully be issued or directed at under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Financial Promotion) Order 2001, including persons who are authorized under the Act, certain persons having professional experience in matters relating to investments, high net worth companies, high net worth unincorporated associations or partnerships, trustees of high value trusts and persons who qualify as certified sophisticated investors. The Shares are only available to such persons in the United Kingdom and this Memorandum must not be relied or acted upon by any other persons in the United Kingdom. In order to qualify as a certified sophisticated investor a person must (i) have a certificate in writing or other legible form signed by an authorized person to the effect that he or she is sufficiently knowledgeable to understand the risks associated with participating in unrecognized collective investment schemes and (ii) have signed, within the last 12 months, a statement in a prescribed form declaring, amongst other things, that he or she qualifies as a sophisticated investor in relation to such investments. This Memorandum is exempt from the general restriction in Section 21 of the Act on the communication of invitations or inducements to engage in investment activity on the grounds that it is being issued to and/or directed at only the types of persons referred to above. The content of this Memorandum has not been approved by an authorized person and such approval is, save where this Memorandum is directed at or issued to the types of persons referred to above, required by Section 21 of the Act.

The Shares described in this Memorandum are not the subject of a public offering in the Cayman Islands. No offer or invitation to subscribe for Shares may be made to the public in the Cayman Islands.

Any information forwarded to the Fund by any potential shareholder will be treated on a confidential basis except that such information may be passed on to a relevant third party by the Fund where so required by law or regulation and each shareholder upon subscribing for Shares shall be deemed to have consented to such release of such confidential information pursuant to the terms of the Confidential Relationships (Preservation) Law (as amended) of the Cayman Islands (or any amendment thereto).

An investment in the Shares involves significant risks. Prospective investors should pay particular attention to the risk factors disclosed in this Memorandum and the Partnership Memorandum. Investment in the Fund is suitable only for sophisticated investors and requires the financial ability and willingness to accept the high risks inherent in an investment in the Fund. No assurance can be given that the Fund's investment objective will be achieved.

Each prospective investor is invited to meet with representatives of the Fund and to discuss with, ask questions of and receive answers from such representatives concerning the terms and conditions of this offering and to obtain any additional information, to the extent that such representatives possess such information or can acquire it without unreasonable effort or expense, necessary to verify the information contained herein.

The Fund is a registered mutual fund for the purposes of the Mutual Funds Law (2013 Revision) of the Cayman Islands. The Fund is registered with the Cayman Islands Monetary Authority pursuant to Section 4(3) of that law and the prescribed details in respect of this Memorandum have been filed with the Cayman Islands Monetary Authority. Such registration does not imply that the Cayman Islands Monetary Authority has approved this Memorandum or the offering of Shares hereunder.

This Memorandum does not purport to be, and should not be construed as, a complete description of the memorandum of association and articles of association of the Fund (the "Articles") or the Partnership's limited partnership agreement, as amended and supplemented from time to time (the "Partnership Agreement"), copies of which will be provided to each prospective investor upon request. Each prospective investor in the Fund is encouraged to review the Articles and the Partnership Agreement carefully, in addition to consulting appropriate legal and tax counselors. To the extent of any inconsistency between this Memorandum, the Articles and the Partnership Agreement, the terms of the Articles and the Partnership Agreement control.

Pursuant to an exemption from the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (the "CFTC"), neither the General Partner nor the Investment Manager (each as defined herein) is registered with the CFTC as a commodity pool operator ("CPO") or as a commodity trading advisor and therefore, unlike a registered CPO, is not required to deliver a disclosure document or a certified annual report to participants in this pool. Among other things, the exemption requires the filing of a claim of exemption with the National Futures Association. It is also required that at all times either: (a) the aggregate initial margin and premiums required to establish commodity interest positions does not exceed 5% of the liquidation value of the Fund's portfolio; or (b) the aggregate net notional value of the Fund's commodity interest positions does not exceed 100% of the liquidation value of the Fund's portfolio and further that all pool participants are required to be accredited investors or certain other qualified investors.

The delivery of this Memorandum does not, under any circumstances, create any implication that there has been no change in the circumstances affecting the Fund since the date hereof. An amended or updated Memorandum will be provided to reflect any material changes to the information contained herein.

Except as otherwise noted, all monetary amounts set forth herein are expressed in United States ("U.S.") dollars.

INTRODUCTION

Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, Ltd. (the “Fund”) is a Cayman Islands exempted company offering participating shares of the Fund (“Shares”) for the purpose of enabling qualified non-U.S. investors and U.S. tax-exempt investors to participate in the investment program of Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (the “Partnership”), on a more tax efficient basis. The Partnership seeks attractive risk-adjusted returns, consistent with the preservation of capital and prudent investment management.

Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund GP, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (the “General Partner”), serves as the general partner of the Partnership. Highland Capital Management, L.P., a Delaware partnership (the “Investment Manager”), serves as the investment manager of the Partnership and has responsibility for the Partnership’s investment program. James D. Dondero ultimately controls the General Partner and the Investment Manager.

The Fund is a limited partner in the Partnership and invests all of its investible assets in, and conducts all of its operations through, the Partnership. Therefore, to be fully informed about an investment in the Fund, an investor must first understand the terms of an investment in the Partnership. Prospective investors are therefore urged to carefully review the current Confidential Private Placement Memorandum of the Partnership, as amended and supplemented from time to time (the “Partnership Memorandum”), the Limited Partnership Agreement of the Partnership, as amended and supplemented from time to time (the “Partnership Agreement”) and the Investment Management Agreement by and among the Partnership, the General Partner, the Fund and the Investment Manager, as amended and supplemented from time to time (the “Investment Management Agreement”). A copy of the Partnership Memorandum is being provided to investors with this Memorandum. Copies of the Partnership Agreement and the Investment Management Agreement will be provided to investors upon request. The Partnership Memorandum, together with the Partnership Agreement and the Investment Management Agreement, describe the material terms of an investment in the Partnership. Aside from the differences described in this Memorandum, an investment in the Fund will have substantially similar terms and risks to an investment in the Partnership, as described in the Partnership Memorandum.

The Fund is seeking subscriptions from non-U.S. investors and U.S. tax-exempt investors that qualify as “accredited investors” and “qualified purchasers” (as defined in the Fund’s subscription materials), generally in minimum amounts of at least $1,000,000. The Fund generally accepts subscriptions on the first business day of each calendar month.

Pursuant to recent amendments adopted by the Fund, as further explained in this Memorandum and the Partnership Memorandum, all outstanding Shares held as of the effective date of the amendments were, notwithstanding their designation prior to the amendments, re-designated as “Series A Shares.” Additionally, under these amendments, the Fund created three additional series of Shares – “Series B Shares,” “Series C Shares” and “Series D Shares.” The Fund is offering Series B Shares, Series C Shares and Series D Shares pursuant to this Memorandum. The terms applicable to the Series A Shares are set forth in a Supplement to this Memorandum.

This Memorandum describes the principal terms that apply to an investment in the Fund in Series B, Series C and Series D Shares and certain other information that relates specifically to the offering of Shares. This is not an offering of limited partner interests in the Partnership, although an investor should be fully informed about the Partnership in making an investment decision.

MANAGEMENT

Board of Directors

The Fund's board of directors (the "Board of Directors") consists of two (2) directors (collectively, the "Directors"). The members of the Board of Directors are James D. Dondero and Mark K. Okada. The biographies of the Directors are set forth in the Partnership Memorandum.

The Fund's Board of Directors does not currently consist of any directors that are not affiliated with the Investment Manager, and thus the Fund's management, as well as investment decisions at the Partnership level, are effectively controlled by the Investment Manager or its affiliates.

The Board of Directors has the full authority of a board under Cayman law. The powers of the Board of Directors described in this Memorandum and the Articles are not exhaustive and are not limited to the specific authorities described therein. Thus, subject to applicable law, the Board of Directors may take certain decisions or actions even where those decisions or actions are not expressly granted in the Articles or described in this Memorandum.

It is anticipated that the Board of Directors will meet, in person or by conference telephone, at least once a year to review the investment and administrative affairs of the Fund. The Directors will delegate investment of the Fund's assets to the Investment Manager, and the Directors are not responsible for the day to day conduct of the Fund's trading program. The Directors will also delegate certain day to day administrative and clerical affairs of the Fund to the Administrator or others.

The Directors each serve in a non-executive capacity. Any Director may hold any other office in connection with the Fund (other than the office of the Fund's independent auditors) in conjunction with his office of Director on such terms as to tenure of office and otherwise as the Directors may determine. Any Director may also act in a professional capacity (other than as the Fund's independent auditors) and he or its firm will be entitled to remuneration for such services as if he were not a Director. A Director may contract with the Fund provided that the Director declares his or its interest or gives notice of his or its interest as soon as practicable after the Director obtains such interest.

Each of the Directors has been duly registered, as applicable, under the Cayman Islands Directors Registration and Licensing Law, 2014.

A Director may vote at, or be counted in the quorum of, any meeting of the Board of Directors to consider any contract in which the Director is interested other than as a shareholder, provided that such Director declares such interest prior to the taking of the vote at such meeting.

Independent, third-party Directors, if any, will be entitled to remuneration for their services at such rate not exceeding the customary rate for the provision of services of a director as may be approved by the Fund. The Directors will be reimbursed for all out of pocket costs and expenses properly incurred by them, including in connection with attending meetings of the Directors or any committee of the Directors or any general meeting or any meeting held in connection with the business of the Fund. The Fund will indemnify the Directors for all liabilities, costs or expenses of whatsoever kind incurred or suffered by them (other than those arising by reason of fraud, willful neglect or willful default on the part of a Director or servant or agent thereof).

Administrator

SEI Investments is a leading global provider of investment processing, investment management and investment operations solutions for institutional and personal wealth management. For more than 40 years, SEI has helped corporations, financial institutions, financial advisors and ultra-high-net-worth families create and manage wealth by providing comprehensive, innovative, investment and investment-business solutions. SEI manages or administers $601.9 billion in funds and separately managed assets. SEI is a public company and is listed on the NASDAQ exchange under the symbol SEIC. SEI has been retained to perform certain administrative, accounting and investor services for the Fund and the Partnership (in such capacity, the “Administrator”). In its capacity as Administrator, it will receive customary fees that will be paid out of the assets of the Fund. The Administrator will also be reimbursed for all reasonable out-of-pocket expenses.

The Fund will enter into an administration agreement (the “Administration Agreement”) with the Administrator. The Administrator will be under no duty to take any action on behalf of the Fund except as specifically set forth in the Administration Agreement or as may be specifically agreed to by the Administrator and the Fund in a written amendment thereto.

The Administrator will act as liaison with the Fund’s accountants and auditors and will provide account analyses, fiscal year summaries, and other audit-related schedules with respect to the Fund. The Administrator will take all reasonable action in the performance of its duties under the Administration Agreement to assure that the necessary information is made available to such accountants and auditors for the expression of their opinion, as required by the Fund.

The Administrator will enter into and will maintain in effect with appropriate parties one or more agreements making reasonable provisions for emergency use of electronic data processing equipment to the extent appropriate equipment is available. In the event of equipment failures, the Administrator will, at no additional expense to the Fund, take reasonable steps to minimize service interruptions. The Administrator will have no liability with respect to the loss of data or service interruptions caused by equipment failure, provided such loss or interruption is not caused by the Administrator’s own willful misfeasance, bad faith, gross negligence or reckless disregard of its duties or obligations under the Administration Agreement.

Subject to the terms of the Administration Agreement, the Administrator will be liable to the Fund (or any person or entity claiming through the Fund) for damages only to the extent caused by the Administrator’s own fraud or willful misconduct under the Administration Agreement (“Standard of Care”). The Administrator will not be liable for damages (including, without limitation, damages caused by delays, failure, errors, interruption or loss of data) occurring directly or indirectly by reason of circumstances beyond its reasonable control. The Administrator will not be under any duty or obligation to inquire into and will not be liable for the validity or invalidity, authority or lack thereof, or truthfulness or accuracy or lack thereof, of any instruction, direction, notice, instrument or other information which the Administrator reasonably believes to be genuine. The Administrator will not be liable for any damages that are caused by actions or omissions taken by the Administrator in accordance with written instructions by authorized persons of the Fund or advice of counsel. The Administrator will not be liable for any damages arising out of any action or omission to act by any prior service provider of the Fund or for any failure to discover any such error or omission. Neither the Administrator nor its affiliates will be liable for any consequential, incidental, exemplary, punitive, special or indirect damages, whether or not the likelihood of such damages was known by the Administrator or its affiliates. Both the Fund and the Administrator will have a duty to mitigate damages for which the other party may become responsible.

Absent the Administrator's failure to meet its Standard of Care, the Fund agrees to indemnify, defend and hold harmless the Administrator and its affiliates and their respective directors, trustees, officers, agents and employees from certain claims, suits, actions, damages, losses, liabilities, obligations, costs and reasonable expenses (including attorneys' fees and court costs, travel costs and other reasonable out-of-pocket costs related to dispute resolution) arising directly or indirectly from any actions taken or omitted to be taken by the Administrator in connection with the provision of services to the Fund.

The Partnership will also enter into an administration agreement with the Administrator, under which the terms will be substantially as above.

SUMMARY OF TERMS

To understand this investment opportunity, a prospective investor should read both the Partnership Memorandum and the following summary. The information in the Partnership Memorandum is important to a prospective investor's investment decision because: (i) the purpose of the Fund is to invest in the Partnership and therefore the underlying investment opportunity is in the Partnership; (ii) an investment in the Fund will (aside from the differences described below) have substantially similar terms to those applicable to a direct investment in the Partnership; and (iii) many terms relevant to an investment in the Fund, including the information concerning compensation, expenses, distributions, risk factors and conflicts of interest, are set forth in the Partnership Memorandum and not in this Memorandum.

The following summary highlights certain differences from the terms that would apply were the investor to hold a limited partner interest in the Partnership directly, and does not purport to provide a summary of the investment terms or risks of an investment in the Partnership, which is provided in the Partnership Memorandum. The summary of differences does not purport to be, and should not be construed as, a complete description of the Fund's Articles. To the extent of any inconsistency between this Memorandum and the Articles, the terms of the Articles control. Moreover, this summary and the summary set forth in the Partnership Memorandum are subject to the detailed provisions of the Partnership Agreement and are qualified in their entirety by the terms of the Partnership Agreement. Capitalized terms used but not defined herein have the meanings ascribed to them in the Partnership Memorandum.

The Fund	Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, Ltd., a Cayman Islands exempted company.
The Partnership	Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership. The Fund is a limited partner in the Partnership and invests all of its investible assets in, and conducts all of its investment activities through, the Partnership. As a limited partner of the Partnership, the Fund is subject to all of the terms and conditions of the Partnership applicable to limited partners of the Partnership. The Partnership will issue to the Fund an Interest in the Partnership and maintain capital sub-accounts that correspond to each Sub-Series of Shares (defined below).
General Partner of the Partnership	Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund GP, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership. The general partner of the General Partner is Highland Multi Strategy Credit GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company of which the Investment Manager is currently the sole member.
Investment Manager	Highland Capital Management, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership.
Recent Amendments; Series of Shares	Effective November 1, 2014, the Board of Directors amended the terms of the Fund, whereby all outstanding Shares in the Fund were re-designated as "Series A Shares" and three new series of Shares were created – "Series B Shares," "Series C Shares" and "Series D Shares" (the " Amendments "). The General Partner and limited partners of the Partnership adopted similar amendments.

As of the effective date of the Amendments (the “Effective Date”), all existing shareholders will hold Series A Shares, the terms of which are set forth in a supplement to this Memorandum. The Fund is currently offering for subscription Series B Shares, Series C Shares and Series D Shares pursuant to this Memorandum.

The Fund may issue additional series (each, a “Series”) of Shares over time. Not all Series of Shares will be available for subscription at the same time and the terms among the Series of Shares will vary. New Series of Shares may be established by the Fund without notice to or approval of the shareholders.

Except with respect to management fees, performance-based profit allocations and redemption rights (each as discussed below), the rights and privileges attributable to Series A Shares, Series B Shares, Series C Shares and Series D Shares are identical.

References herein to “Shares” or “shareholders” shall include all Series of Shares and shareholders unless otherwise specified or context so requires.

Eligible Investors

Participating, redeemable, non-voting shares of the Fund (the “Shares”) are being offered to investors that are not U.S. Persons and to selected U.S. investors that are tax-exempt persons who qualify both as “accredited investors” and as “qualified purchasers,” as defined in the Fund’s subscription application materials. The Fund reserves the right to reject any investor for any reason or for no reason in its discretion.

No Shares may be offered to the public in the Cayman Islands (which shall not include an exempted or ordinary non-resident company incorporated in the Cayman Islands). Shares of the Fund may be purchased only by eligible investors who are sophisticated individual or institutional investors. Each subscriber for Shares of the Fund must certify that the beneficial owner of such Shares will not be a “U.S. Person” as defined in Annex A attached to this Memorandum; provided, however, that subscriptions for Shares of the Fund may also be accepted from certain qualified U.S. tax-exempt organizations. The Fund reserves the right to reject subscriptions in its sole discretion.

Shares of the Fund will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended, any state “blue sky” laws, or the securities laws of any other jurisdiction. Shares may be offered privately (i) outside the United States of America, its territories or possessions, or areas subject to its jurisdiction (the “United States”), or to or for the benefit of an investor that is not a U.S. Person, only in accordance with relevant laws of the jurisdiction where the offer is made, or (ii) within the United States or to a U.S. Person only in a transaction that does not require the registration of the Shares or the Fund under applicable U.S. federal or state securities laws.

More detailed information concerning the applicable suitability criteria is set forth in the Fund's subscription application materials (the "Subscription Documents").

The Fund or the Administrator reserves the right to request such information as is necessary to verify the identity and the source of funds of an applicant. To ensure compliance with statutory and other requirements relating to anti-money laundering, the Fund or the Administrator may require verification of identity and/or source of funds from any person submitting completed Subscription Documents. Pending the provision of evidence satisfactory to the Fund or the Administrator as to identity, the evidence of title in respect of Shares may be retained at the absolute discretion of the Fund or the Administrator. If within a reasonable period of time following a request for verification of identity, the Fund or the Administrator has not received evidence satisfactory to it as aforesaid, it may, in its absolute discretion, refuse to allot the Shares applied for in which event subscription monies will be returned without interest to the account from which such monies were originally debited. Subscription monies may be rejected by the Fund or the Administrator if the remitting bank or financial institution is unknown to the Fund or the Administrator.

An investment in the Fund is suitable only for persons that have adequate means of providing for their current needs and personal contingencies and have no need for liquidity in their investments. An investment in the Fund should not be made by any person that (a) cannot afford a total loss of its principal, or (b) has not carefully read or does not understand this Memorandum and the Partnership Memorandum, including the portions concerning the risks and the income tax consequences of an investment in the Fund.

Subscriptions

Subscriptions for Shares are accepted on the first Business Day of each calendar month and/or such other days as the Board of Directors may determine from time to time, generally subject to the receipt of cleared funds on or before the acceptance date. Each investor will be required to invest a minimum of US$1,000,000 in the Fund, although the Fund may accept investments of a lesser amount in its discretion, subject to compliance with the applicable Cayman Islands Mutual Funds Law (2013 Revision) ("Mutual Funds Law"). Subscription payments may be made in cash or, with the consent of the Fund, in securities or partly in cash and partly in securities. The Fund reserves the right to reject subscriptions in its sole discretion.

"Business Day" means any day other than Saturdays, Sundays or any other day banks located in in New York, New York are required or authorized to be closed.

A subscriber admitted to the Fund (a "shareholder") receives, in exchange for the initial capital contribution and any subsequent capital contribution, Shares representing a proportionate share of the net assets of the Fund at that time.

Where a subscription for Shares is accepted, the Shares will be treated as having been issued with effect from the relevant subscription date notwithstanding that the subscriber for those Shares may not be entered in the Fund's register of members until after the relevant subscription date. The subscription monies paid by a subscriber for Shares will accordingly be subject to investment risk in the Fund from the relevant subscription date.

There is no minimum aggregate amount of subscriptions that is required for the initial acceptance of subscriptions, nor has the Fund established any maximum aggregate amount of subscriptions that may be accepted.

All subscribers will be required to comply with such anti-money laundering procedures as are required by the Uniting and Strengthening America by Providing Appropriate Tools Required to Intercept and Obstruct Terrorism (USA PATRIOT Act) Act of 2001 (Pub. L. No. 107-56) and other applicable anti-money laundering regulations as further described in the Subscription Documents.

Share Sub-Series

The Fund may issue Shares as a separate sub-series of the relevant Series on each subscription date (each, a "Sub-Series") at $1,000 per Share. The Fund may issue Shares as a separate Sub-Series for purposes of, among others, accounting for any profits and losses attributable to each individual shareholder and for the purpose of permitting the Performance Allocation to be calculated separately with respect to each shareholder to reflect different returns achieved as a result of subscriptions received at different times. Each separate Sub-Series will be identified and referable to each shareholder and by its date of issue. In general, each Sub-Series will participate in the Fund's profits and losses in the same manner as all other Sub-Series of Shares, except that the Performance Allocation to be charged to each Sub-Series of Shares will be calculated separately on the basis of the performance of the Sub-Series.

The Partnership maintains capital sub-accounts that correspond to each Sub-Series of Shares issued to shareholders of the Fund and each such capital sub-account is treated separately for purposes of determining Management Fees, Performance Allocations and redemption rights and restrictions (each as described in the Partnership Memorandum).

Alternative Investment Vehicles

The Directors will have the right, in connection with any investment, to direct the capital contributions of some or all of the subscribers to be made through one or more alternative investment vehicles (each an "Alternative Investment Vehicle"), and, in the case of an existing investment, transfer all or a portion of such investment to an Alternative Investment Vehicle, if, in the judgment of the Directors, the use of such vehicle or vehicles would allow the Fund to overcome legal or regulatory constraints, invest in a more tax-efficient manner or would facilitate participation in certain types of investments. Any Alternative Investment Vehicle will be subject to terms and conditions substantially similar to those of the Fund and will be managed by the Investment Manager or an affiliate thereof.

Affiliated Investors

Shares held by the Investment Manager or its affiliates (collectively, “Affiliated Investors”) may not be assessed the Management Fee or the Performance Allocations that are applicable to other investors in the Fund, but share pro rata in other applicable expenses of the Fund (as more fully described in the Partnership Agreement).

Management Fee

Although the Fund will not pay an asset-based fee directly to the Investment Manager, it will, as a limited partner in the Partnership, bear its pro rata share of the Management Fee paid by the Partnership to the Investment Manager in its capacity as investment manager of the Partnership. Accordingly, the Management Fee will be paid at the Partnership level by assessing such fee to the appropriate capital sub-account. The Management Fee is calculated and payable quarterly in advance at an annual rate of (i) 1.5% of the net asset value of each Series B Share, (ii) 1.0% of the net asset value of each Series C Share and (iii) 2.0% of the net asset value of each Series D Share. The Management Fee may be waived or reduced by the Investment Manager in its sole discretion.

Other Fees and Expenses

The Fund bears the reasonable, out-of-pocket expenses of the offering of the Shares contemplated hereunder and the recent Amendments, described above, including expenses associated with obtaining any requisite investor consent to such Amendments. To the extent the Directors deem appropriate, these expenses may be capitalized and amortized by the Fund over a 36-month period from the Effective Date, even though such capitalization and amortization may be a divergence from U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (“GAAP”). Amortization of such expenses over a 36-month period may, in certain circumstances, result in a qualification of the Fund’s annual audited financial statements. In such instances, the Directors may decide to (i) avoid the qualification by recognizing the unamortized expenses or (ii) make GAAP conforming changes for financial reporting purposes, but amortize expenses for purposes of calculating the Fund’s net asset value. There will be a divergence in the Fund’s fiscal year-end net asset value and in the net asset value reported in the Fund’s financial statements in any year where, pursuant to clause (ii), GAAP conforming changes are made only to the Fund’s financial statements for financial reporting purposes.

If the Fund is terminated within 36 months of the Effective Date, any unamortized expenses will be recognized.

Douglas S. Draper, La. Bar No. 5073

Investment and Operational Expenses. The Fund bears all reasonable costs and expenses directly related to its operations, including its pro rata share of all Partnership expenses, including the Management Fee paid by the Partnership to the Investment Manager. The Fund also bears all reasonable, out-of-pocket costs of the administration of the Fund, including accounting, audit and legal expenses, costs of any litigation or investigation involving the Fund's activities, and costs associated with reporting and providing information to existing and prospective investors. However, the General Partner or the Investment Manager may, in its sole discretion, choose to absorb any such expenses incurred on behalf of the Fund.

The Fund does not have its own separate employees or office. Except as described above and provided for in the Partnership Agreement, the Fund generally does not reimburse the General Partner or the Investment Manager for salaries, office rent and other general overhead costs of the General Partner or the Investment Manager.

Restricted New Issues

The Partnership may from time to time purchase securities in public offerings made through member firms of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, Inc. ("FINRA"). FINRA member firms are not permitted to sell certain new issues ("Restricted New Issues") to accounts in which certain persons have a significant beneficial interest that are involved in the securities industry or to executive officers or directors of companies that are current, recent or prospective investment banking client of the relevant underwriters ("Restricted Persons"). In order to enable the Partnership to participate in Restricted New Issues, the Fund will require each shareholder to provide information to enable the Fund to determine whether the shareholder is a Restricted Person. When the Partnership invests in a Restricted New Issue, the profits and losses associated with the investment will be specially allocated exclusively to those shareholders who are permitted by the FINRA rules to have a beneficial interest therein.

The FINRA rules permit Restricted Persons that are involved in the securities industry to have in the aggregate up to a 10% participation in Restricted New Issues and Restricted Persons affiliated with a particular investment banking client to have up to 25% participation in Restricted New Issues. If the ownership of the Partnership by Restricted Persons exceeds the maximum percentage, the Investment Manager will allocate such excess amount pro rata among the shareholders and the Partners of the Partnership who are not Restricted Persons or on such other basis that the Investment Manager reasonably determines ensures compliance with the FINRA rules.

If a Restricted New Issue in which participation by Restricted Persons has been capped is not promptly sold, the investment may be reallocated among all shareholders and the Partners of the Partnership on a pro rata basis (including all Restricted Persons) after a secondary market develops at such secondary market price.

Performance Allocation

As further described in the Partnership Agreement, the Investment Manager, in its capacity as a special limited partner of the Partnership, is entitled to receive an annual performance-based profit allocation at the end of each year equal to 20% of the Partnership's net profits attributable to the Limited Partners of the Partnership, subject to a "high water mark" limitation.

The Performance Allocation is made at the Partnership level by deducting the Performance Allocation from the capital sub-account relating to each Sub-Series of Shares. The Performance Change (as defined in the Partnership Agreement) of each Sub-Series will not be netted against one another for purposes of determining the applicability of the "high water mark."

Distributions

Subject to the redemption privilege described below, all earnings of the Fund are ordinarily retained for investment. Other than distributions made pursuant to a redemption described below, shareholders should not expect the Fund to make any distributions.

Redemptions Generally

Redemptions from the Fund are subject to the withdrawal restrictions contained in the Partnership Agreement, whereby the Series A Interests in the Partnership correspond to the Series A Shares of the Fund, Series B Interests in the Partnership correspond to the Series B Shares of the Fund, the Series C Interests in the Partnership correspond to the Series C Shares of the Fund and the Series D Interests in the Partnership correspond to the Series D Shares of the Fund.

Series Redemption Dates

Subject to certain redemption restrictions described below, shareholders have the following redemption rights:

Series B Shares: Annual Liquidity. A shareholder is permitted to make complete or partial redemptions of its Series B Shares upon written notice to the Administrator at least 180 days prior to the applicable Series B Redemption Date. The "Series B Redemption Date" means: (i) the end of the day on the last Business Day of the calendar month that immediately precedes the one-year anniversary of date of the issuance of the Shares being redeemed; and thereafter (ii) the end of the day on each one-year anniversary of the preceding Series B Redemption Date (i.e., if Shares were issued on November 1, 2014, such Shares would be eligible for redemption on October 31, 2015 and every one year thereafter on October 31st, or the last Business Day of that month).

Series C Shares: Two Year Liquidity. A shareholder is permitted to make complete or partial redemptions of its Series C Shares upon written notice to the Administrator at least 180 days prior to the applicable Series C Redemption Date. The "Series C Redemption Date" means: (i) the end of the day on the last Business Day of the calendar month that immediately precedes the two-year anniversary of the date of issuance of the Shares being redeemed; and thereafter (ii) the end of the day on each two-year anniversary of the preceding Series C Redemption Date (or the last Business Day of that month) (i.e., if Shares were issued on November 1, 2014, such Shares would be eligible for redemption on October 31, 2016 and every two years thereafter on October 31st, or the last Business Day of that month).

Series D Shares: One Year Hard Lock-Up; Quarterly Liquidity. A shareholder is permitted to make complete or partial redemptions of Series D Shares as of the last Business Day of each calendar quarter (each, a “Series D Redemption Date”) following the one-year anniversary of the date of issuance of the Shares being redeemed. Notice of any redemption of Series D Shares must be provided in writing to the Administrator at least 90 calendar days prior to the requested Series D Redemption Date.

The Board of Directors may, at any time and in its sole discretion, waive or modify the foregoing redemption and distribution restrictions with respect to any shareholder.

Settlement of Redemption Proceeds

Redemption proceeds will be paid promptly following receipt by the Fund of the withdrawal proceeds from the Partnership in accordance with the Partnership Agreement.

Redemption Conditions

The Fund may refuse to accept a redemption request if it is not accompanied by such additional information as the Fund or the Administrator may reasonably require. This power may, without limitation to the generality of the foregoing, be exercised where proper information has not been provided for money laundering verification purposes. In addition, where redemption proceeds are requested to be remitted to an account which is not in the name of the investor, each of the Fund and the Administrator reserve the right to request such information as may be reasonably necessary in order to verify the identity of the investor and the owner of the account to which the redemption proceeds will be paid. The redemption proceeds will not be paid to a third-party account if the investor and/or owner of the account fails to provide such information.

Compulsory Redemptions

The Board of Directors reserves the right, in its sole discretion, to compel the redemption of any shareholder’s Shares for any or no reason, in part or in their entirety, on not less than five days’ prior written notice (or immediately if the Board of Directors determines in its sole discretion that such shareholder’s continued participation in the Fund may cause the Fund, the Partnership, the General Partner or the Investment Manager to violate any applicable law). Settlements are made in the same manner as voluntary redemptions.

Suspension of Valuations, Redemption and Redemption Payments

The Board of Directors may suspend the issuance of Shares, the shareholders' redemption privileges, the payment of redemption proceeds and the valuation of the Fund's net assets in the same circumstances as described in the Partnership Memorandum and set forth in the Partnership Agreement with respect to the suspension of valuations or of withdrawal privileges.

Upon the reasonable determination by the Board of Directors that conditions leading to suspension no longer apply, redemption rights for all shareholders shall be promptly reinstated, and any pending redemption requests (or new, timely withdrawal requests) shall be honored as of the last Business Day of the calendar quarter in which redemptions have recommenced, subject to the application of the redemption limitations described herein.

Soft Wind Down

It is anticipated that any suspension in the circumstances described above in "Suspension of Valuations, Redemptions and Redemption Payments" (each, a "Suspension") would ordinarily be temporary. However, there may be situations in which the circumstances giving rise to the Suspension continue to be present for a considerable period of time with the result that the Board of Directors, in consultation with the Investment Manager, considers it appropriate to keep the Suspension in place indefinitely. In certain circumstances, even where a Suspension has not been declared, the Directors may, in consultation with the Investment Manager, make a determination that the investment strategy should no longer be continued. During any such period of Suspension or having made such determination that the investment strategy should no longer be continued, the Investment Manager may recommend to the Board of Directors that the Fund be managed with the objective of returning the Fund's assets to shareholders in an orderly manner (an "Orderly Realisation"). The Board of Directors may, in such circumstances, resolve to effect an Orderly Realisation should they determine that doing so is in the best interests of the shareholders. Such Orderly Realisation shall not constitute a dissolution or winding up of the Fund for any purposes, but rather only the continued management of the Fund's portfolio so as to reduce such portfolio to cash (to the extent reasonably practicable, as advised by the Investment Manager) and return such cash as well as all other assets of the Fund to the shareholders. The Board of Directors shall promptly communicate to shareholders any resolution to proceed with an Orderly Realisation of the Fund. During an Orderly Realisation, the Investment Manager may, in consultation with the Board of Directors, take such steps as are considered appropriate in the best interests of the Fund's shareholders to effect the Orderly Realisation. The Board of Directors, in consultation with the Investment Manager shall establish what they consider to be a reasonable time by which the Orderly Realisation should be effected (the "Realisation Period"). Any resolution to undertake an Orderly Realisation and the process thereof shall be deemed to be integral to the business of the Fund and may be carried out without recourse to a formal process of liquidation under the Companies Law or any other applicable bankruptcy or insolvency regime. The Board of Directors, in consultation with the Investment Manager, may resolve to cease the Orderly Realisation within the Realisation Period and recommence active trading if the circumstances permit a lifting of any applicable Suspension or, where no Suspension is in effect, if the circumstances are such that the investment strategy can then be continued. Management Fees shall be payable and Performance Allocations shall be made during an Orderly Realisation on the same basis as described herein.

Transfers

Shares may not be transferred without the prior written consent of the Board of Directors, which consent may be withheld in the sole discretion of the Board of Directors. Any transferee or assignee of any investor will be required to execute a subscription agreement in the same form as required to be completed and executed by a subscriber for Shares in the Fund.

Duty of Care; Indemnification

The Partnership Agreement provides that the General Partner, the Investment Manager and each of their affiliates are not liable to the Partnership and the Limited Partners (including the Fund) for any loss or damage arising by reason of being or having been the General Partner or the Investment Manager or from any acts or omissions in the performance of its services as General Partner or Investment Manager, as applicable, in the absence of willful misconduct, fraud or gross negligence (as construed in accordance with the laws of the state of Delaware) or as otherwise required by law, and contains provisions for the indemnification of the General Partner, the Investment Manager and each of their affiliates by the Partnership (but not by the Limited Partners individually) against any liabilities arising by reason of being or having been the General Partner or the Investment Manager or in connection with the Partnership Agreement or the Partnership's business or affairs to the fullest extent permitted by law. The General Partner is not personally liable to any Limited Partner for the repayment of any positive balance in such Limited Partner's Capital Account or for contributions by such Limited Partner to the capital of the Fund or by reason of any change in the federal or state income tax laws applicable to the Fund or its investors.

Neither the Board of Directors of the Fund nor the Administrator shall be liable to the Fund or its shareholders for any loss or damage occasioned by any acts or omissions in the performance of its services on behalf of the Fund, except under certain limited circumstances. In addition, the Board of Directors and the Administrator and their respective affiliates will be indemnified by the Fund (but not by the shareholders individually) against any liabilities arising in connection with the performance of their activities on behalf of the Fund to the extent permitted by the Articles.

Valuations	The Fund's assets are valued based on the value of the Partnership's assets as set forth in the Partnership Memorandum.
Reserves	Appropriate reserves may be accrued and charged against net assets and proportionately against the Shares of the shareholders for contingent liabilities, such reserves to be in the amounts (subject to increase or reduction) that the Board of Directors in its sole discretion deems necessary or appropriate. At the sole discretion of the Board of Directors, the amount of any such reserve (or any increase or decrease therein) may be charged or credited, as appropriate, to the Shares of those investors who are shareholders at the time when such reserve is created, increased, or decreased, as the case may be, or alternatively may be charged or credited to those investors who were shareholders at the time of the act or omission giving rise to the contingent liability for which the reserve was established. If the Board of Directors determines that it is equitable to treat an amount to be paid or received as being applicable to one or more prior periods, then such amount may be proportionately charged or credited, as appropriate, to those persons who were shareholders during any such prior period.
Fiscal Year	The Fund has a fiscal year ending on December 31 of each calendar year.
Reports to Partners	The Fund furnishes to its shareholders as soon as practicable after the end of each taxable year (or as otherwise required by law) annual reports containing financial statements examined by the Fund's independent auditors as well as such tax information as is necessary for each shareholder to complete federal and state income tax or information returns, along with any other tax information required by law. The Fund also furnishes monthly reports reviewing the Fund's performance for such calendar month. The Board of Directors selects the Fund's independent accountants in its sole discretion.
Dissolution and Liquidation	In the event an Orderly Realization lasts longer than three years, shareholders holding Shares with a combined net asset value equal to at least 75% of the total net asset value of the Fund may seek a court decree of dissolution or seek the appointment by the court of a liquidator for the Fund. Wind down and liquidation of the Fund shall occur as set forth in the Articles.
Placement Agents	The Investment Manager may engage third parties to solicit investors and act as placement agents for the Fund. Placement agents may charge a placement fee directly to investors solicited by any such placement agent, but such fees will not affect the subscription amount and will not be collected by or from the Fund. The placement agent may be reimbursed for its expenses and indemnified by the Fund.

Furthermore, placement agents may be paid a portion of the Management Fee or Performance Allocation attributable to such investors solicited by them, thereby reducing the Management Fee or Performance Allocation received by the Investment Manager. Accordingly, investors should recognize that a placement agent's or distributor's participation in this offering may be influenced by its interest in such current or future fees and compensation. Investors should consider these potential conflicts of interest in making their investment decisions.

Each placement agent must comply with the legal requirements of the jurisdictions within which it offers and sells Shares.

Certain Tax Considerations

The Government of the Cayman Islands will not, under existing legislation, impose any income, corporate or capital gains tax, estate duty, inheritance tax, gift tax or withholding tax upon the Fund or the shareholders. The Cayman Islands are not party to a double tax treaty with any country that is applicable to any payments made to or by the Fund.

The Fund has applied for and received an undertaking from the Governor-in-Cabinet of the Cayman Islands that, in accordance with section 6 of the Tax Concessions Law (2011 Revision) of the Cayman Islands, for a period of 20 years from July 10, 2012 (being the date of the undertaking), no law which is enacted in the Cayman Islands imposing any tax to be levied on profits, income, gains or appreciations shall apply to the Fund or its operations and, in addition, that no tax to be levied on profits, income, gains or appreciations or which is in the nature of estate duty or inheritance tax shall be payable (i) on or in respect of the shares, debentures or other obligations of the Fund or (ii) by way of the withholding in whole or in part of a payment of dividend or other distribution of income or capital by the Fund to its members or a payment of principal or interest or other sums due under a debenture or other obligation of the Fund.

The Investment Manager believes that the Fund will be treated as a non-U.S. corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes. The Fund does not intend to be subject to U.S. federal income tax on its capital gains from securities trading. Dividends and certain interest received by the Fund may be subject to withholding at the source. See "Tax Considerations."

ERISA

The Fund intends to limit investment in the Fund by "benefit plan investors" so that the assets of the Fund will not be considered "plan assets" for purposes of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"). See "ERISA Considerations."

Voting

Shares in the Fund are participating non-voting shares; provided that in the event the Partnership seeks the approval, vote or consent of the Fund with respect to any matter to which it would be entitled to vote as a Limited Partner of the Partnership under the Partnership Agreement, the Fund will: (i) submit such matter for the consent of the shareholders and (ii) shall cause the Fund to vote its Limited Partner interest proportionally for and against such matter in the same proportion that the shareholders voted for and against such matter.

Variation of Terms

The Board of Directors, with the consent of the Investment Manager, shall have the absolute discretion to agree with a shareholder to waive or modify the terms applicable to such shareholder's subscription for Shares (including those relating to Management Fees, the Performance Allocation, transparency and redemptions) without obtaining the consent of any other shareholder; provided that such waiver or modification does not amount to a variation of the rights attaching to the Shares of such other shareholders. The Fund generally grants waivers of the Management Fees and Performance Allocation to the Affiliated Investors.

RISK FACTORS AND POTENTIAL CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

Investment in the Fund, and in turn, the Partnership, is speculative and involves certain risks. There can be no assurance that the Partnership's investment objective will be achieved, or that an investor will receive a return of its Capital. Certain of these risks are summarized below. The Fund may not be suitable for all investors, and is intended for sophisticated investors who can accept the risks associated with its investments. Investors will not have recourse except with respect to the assets of the Fund. Prospective investors should consider, among others, the risk factors described in this section.

This discussion must be read in conjunction with the risk factors and potential conflicts of interest of the Partnership set forth in the Partnership Memorandum. The following is not meant to be an exhaustive listing of all potential risks associated with investing in the Fund. Investment-specific risks factors associated with the Partnership's investment strategy should be read in their entirety.

Illiquidity of Shares. Shares are not transferable without the approval of the Board of Directors, and there will be no secondary market for Shares. Consequently, investors may not be able to dispose of their Shares prior to the liquidation of the Fund or as described in this Memorandum and the Partnership Memorandum, and may receive securities rather than cash in exchange for their Shares.

Side Letters. The Board of Directors may from time to time, with the consent of the Partnership, enter into letter agreements or other similar agreements (collectively, "Side Letters") with one or more investors which provide such investor(s) with additional and/or different rights than such investor(s) have pursuant to this Memorandum or the Partnership Memorandum. As a result of such Side Letters, certain investors may receive additional benefits (including, but not limited to, reduced fee/allocation obligations and/or expanded informational rights) which other investors will not receive. The Fund is not be required to notify any or all of the other investors of any such Side Letters or any of the rights and/or terms or provisions thereof, nor will the Fund be required to offer such additional and/or different rights and/or terms to any or all of the other investors. The Fund may enter into such Side Letters with any party as the Board of Directors may determine in its discretion at any time. The other investors will have no recourse against the Fund, the Board of Directors and/or any of their affiliates in the event that certain investors receive additional and/or different rights and/or terms as a result of such Side Letters.

Authority. Investors in the Fund have no right or power to take part in the management of the Fund. The Board of Directors control the Fund and the General Partner controls the Partnership. The Investment Manager is responsible for all investment decisions of the Partnership.

Absence of Regulatory Oversight. The Fund is not registered under the Cayman Islands Mutual Funds Law (as amended). Neither the Cayman Islands Monetary Authority nor any other governmental authority in the Cayman Islands has commented on or approved the terms or merits of this Memorandum. There is no financial obligation or compensation scheme imposed on or by the government of the Cayman Islands in favor of or available to the investors in the Fund.

Investment Judgment; Market Risk. The profitability of a significant portion of the Fund's investment program depends to a great extent upon correctly assessing the future course of the price movements of securities and other investments. There can be no assurance that the Investment Manager will be able to predict accurately these price movements. With respect to the investment strategy utilized by the Fund, there is always some, and occasionally a significant, degree of market risk.

Performance Allocation. The Performance Allocation made to the Investment Manager may create an incentive for the Investment Manager to make investments that are riskier or more speculative than would be the case in the absence of such Performance Allocation.

Redemption Restrictions. There are severe restrictions on redemptions from the Fund (which may be settled in securities rather than cash) and on transfers of Shares. Because of the restrictions on redemptions, an investment in the Fund is a relatively illiquid investment and involves a high degree of risk. There is no independent market for the purchase or sale of Shares and none is expected to develop. Shareholders must represent that they are purchasing Shares for investment. A subscription for Shares should be considered only by persons financially able to maintain their investment and who can accept a loss of all of their investment.

No Distributions. Since the Fund does not generally intend to pay distributions, an investment in the Fund is not suitable for investors seeking current distributions of income. Moreover, an investor is required to report and pay taxes on its allocable share of income from the Fund, even though no cash is distributed by the Fund.

In-Kind Distributions. The Partnership Agreement authorizes the General Partner to make distributions in kind of securities in lieu of or in addition to cash. In the event the General Partner makes distributions of securities in kind, such securities could be illiquid or subject to legal, contractual and other restrictions on transfer.

Diversification. Since the Partnership's portfolio will not necessarily be widely diversified, the investment portfolio of the Partnership (and thus the Fund) may be subject to more rapid changes in value than would be the case if the Partnership were required to maintain a wide diversification among companies, securities and types of securities.

Valuations. From time to time, certain situations affecting the valuation of the Partnership's (and thus the Fund's) investments (such as limited liquidity, unavailability or unreliability of third-party pricing information and acts or omissions of service providers to the Partnership) could have an impact on the net asset value of the Fund, particularly if prior judgments as to the appropriate valuation of an investment should later prove to be incorrect after a net asset value-related calculation or transaction is completed. The Fund is not required to make retroactive adjustments to prior subscription or redemption transactions or Management Fees or Performance Allocations based on subsequent valuation data.

Contagion. The Fund has the power to issue Shares in different series. The Articles provide for the manner in which the liabilities are to be attributed across the various series (liabilities are to be attributed to the specific series in respect of which the liability was incurred). However, the Fund is a single legal entity and there is no limited recourse protection for any series. Accordingly, all of the assets of the Fund will be available to meet all of its liabilities regardless of the series to which such assets or liabilities are attributable. In practice, cross-series liability is only expected to arise where liabilities referable to one series are in excess of the assets referable to such series and it is unable to meet all liabilities attributed to it. In such a case, the assets of the Fund attributable to other series may be applied to cover such liability excess and the value of the contributing classes or series will be reduced as a result.

Handling of mail. Mail addressed to the Fund and received at its registered office will be forwarded unopened to the Investment Manager to be dealt with. None of the Fund, its Directors, officers, advisors or service providers (including the organization which provides registered office services in the Cayman Islands) will bear any responsibility for any delay howsoever caused in mail reaching the Investment Manager. In particular the Directors will only receive, open or deal directly with mail addressed to them personally (as opposed to mail which is addressed to just the Fund).

Recent Developments in the Financial Services Industry. Recent developments in the U.S. financial markets illustrate that the current environment is one of extraordinary and possibly unprecedented uncertainty for the financial services industry. In July of 2010, the Dodd-Frank Financial Reform Act was passed which imposes many new requirements and restrictions on the financial services industry that may likely affect the business, operations and performance of hedge funds, such as increased reporting requirements, limitations on certain trading activity and regulatory oversight by different agencies, such as the newly created Financial Stability Oversight Counsel. The implications of the passage of the Dodd-Frank Financial Reform Act for the hedge fund industry as a whole still remain somewhat unclear. The hedge fund industry may continue to be adversely affected by the recent developments in the financial markets in the U.S. and abroad, and any future legal, regulatory or governmental action and developments in such financial markets and the broader U.S. economy could have an adverse effect on the Fund's business, operations and performance.

In view of the foregoing considerations, an investment in Shares is suitable only for investors who are capable of bearing the relevant investment risks.

Tax Related Risks

Uncertainty and Complexity of Tax Treatment. The tax aspects of an investment in the Fund are complicated and complex and, in many cases, uncertain. Statutory provisions and administrative regulations have been interpreted inconsistently by the courts. Additionally, some statutory provisions remain to be interpreted by administrative regulations. Investors will thus be subject to the risk caused by the uncertainty of the tax consequences with respect to an investment in the Fund. Each prospective investor should have the tax aspects of an investment in the Fund reviewed by professional advisors familiar with such investor's personal tax situation and with the tax laws and regulations applicable to the investor and private investment vehicles. Prospective investors are strongly urged to review the discussion below under "Tax Considerations" and "ERISA Considerations" for a more complete discussion of certain of the tax risks inherent in the acquisition of Shares and to consult their own independent tax advisors.

Risk of Adverse Determination. There can be no assurance that the conclusions set forth in this Memorandum will not be challenged successfully by the Internal Revenue Service (the "Service") or other applicable taxing authority, or significantly modified by new legislation, changes in a taxing authority's positions or court decisions. The Fund has not applied for, nor does it expect to apply for, any advance rulings from the Service with respect to any of the U.S. federal income tax consequences described in this Memorandum. No representation or warranty of any kind is made by the Investment Manager with respect to the U.S. federal income tax consequences relating to an investment in the Fund. The Fund may take positions with respect to certain tax issues which depend on legal conclusions not yet resolved by the courts. Should any such positions be successfully challenged by the Service or other applicable taxing authority, there could be a materially adverse effect on the Fund.

Tax Considerations Taken into Account. The Fund will attempt to minimize the tax burden of the Fund over the long-term. However, the Investment Manager will not overlook short-term trading opportunities. Therefore, shareholders should not expect that the Fund will make tax-efficiency a priority. However, the Investment Manager may take tax considerations into account in determining when the Fund's investments should be sold or otherwise disposed of, and may assume certain market risk and incur certain expenses in this regard to achieve favorable tax treatment of a transaction.

Tax-Exempt Entities. Certain prospective investors that are tax-exempt for U.S. income tax purposes may be subject to U.S. federal and state laws, rules and regulations that regulate their participation in the Fund, or their engaging directly or indirectly through an investment in the Fund, in certain investment strategies that the Partnership may utilize from time-to-time (e.g., short-sales of securities and the use of leverage, the purchase and sale of options and limited diversification). While the Fund believes its investment program is generally appropriate for U.S. tax-exempt investors for which an investment in the Fund would otherwise be suitable, each type of tax-exempt organization may be subject to different laws, rules and regulations, and prospective investors should consult with their own advisers as to the advisability and tax consequences of an investment in the Fund. Investments in the Fund by entities subject to ERISA, and other tax-exempt entities, require special consideration. Trustees or administrators of such entities are urged to review carefully the matters discussed in this Memorandum.

Non-U.S. Taxation. With respect to certain countries, there is a possibility of expropriation, confiscatory taxation, imposition of withholding or other taxes on dividends, interest, capital gains or other income, limitations on the removal of funds or other assets of the Fund, political or social instability or diplomatic developments that could affect investments in those countries. An issuer of securities may be domiciled in a country other than the country in whose currency the instrument is denominated. The values and relative yields of investments in the securities markets of different countries, and their associated risks, are expected to change independently of each other.

Tax Changes. Investors will be subject to the risk that changes to the tax law may adversely affect the federal income tax consequences of their investment in the Fund. Changes in existing tax laws or regulations and their interpretation may be enacted after the date of this Memorandum, possibly with retroactive effect, and could alter the income tax consequences of an investment in the Fund. Certain provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), may be further amended or interpreted in a manner adverse to the Fund, in which event any benefits derived from an investment in the Fund may be adversely affected. In addition, significant legislative and budgetary proposals affecting tax laws have been made by the legislative and executive branches of the U.S. federal government. The likelihood of enactment of any such proposals, or any similar proposals, into law is uncertain. The enactment of any such proposals, including subsequent proposals, into law could have material adverse effects on the Fund and/or its shareholders. Enactment of such legislation, or similar legislation, could require significant restructuring of the Fund in order to mitigate such effects.

The foregoing is not intended to be an exhaustive analysis or listing of the tax risks associated with an investment in the Fund. Many of the relevant tax considerations will vary depending on a prospective shareholder's individual circumstances. The tax aspects associated with such an investment are complex and complicated and are subject to a variety of interpretations. Prospective investors are strongly urged to review the discussions below under "Tax Considerations" and "ERISA Considerations" for a more complete discussion of certain of the tax risks inherent in the acquisition of Shares, and to seek and rely upon the advice of their own tax advisor who is qualified to discuss the foregoing and other possible tax risks.

In view of the foregoing considerations, an investment in Shares is suitable only for investors who are capable of bearing the relevant investment risks.

Potential Conflicts of Interest

No Independent Directors. The Fund's Board of Directors does not currently consist of any directors that are not affiliated with the Investment Manager, and thus the Fund's management, as well as the investment decisions at the Partnership level, are effectively controlled by the Investment Manager or its affiliates. However, the Fund may establish an Advisory Committee with respect to matters in which it seeks to resolve certain conflicts of interest that may arise. See "Management—Advisory Committee" in the Partnership Memorandum.

No Separate Counsel. Akin Gump Strauss Hauer & Feld LLP ("Akin Gump") serves as counsel to the Fund, the Partnership, the Investment Manager, the General Partner and certain of their affiliates (the "Clients") in connection with the operation of the Fund and certain other Clients, the offering of Shares as well as certain other matters for which the Clients may engage Akin Gump from time to time. Akin Gump disclaims any obligation to verify the Clients' compliance with their obligations either under applicable law or the governing documents of the Fund. In acting as counsel to the Clients, Akin Gump has not represented and will not represent any shareholders nor does it purport to represent their interests. No independent counsel has been retained to represent the shareholders. In assisting in the preparation of the Partnership Memorandum and this Memorandum (as well as any supplements thereto), Akin Gump has relied on information provided by the Fund, the Partnership, the Investment Manager and the General Partner and certain of the Fund's other service providers (including, without limitation, the biographical data of key investment personnel, summaries of market conditions, the planned investment strategy of the Fund and the performance of the Fund, its investments or any predecessor Fund) without verification and does not express a view as to whether such information is accurate or complete.

Maples and Calder, PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands, acts as Cayman Islands legal counsel to the Fund. In connection with the Fund's offering of Shares and subsequent advice to the Fund, Maples and Calder will not be representing shareholders. No independent legal counsel has been retained to represent the shareholders. Maples and Calder's representation of the Fund is limited to specific matters as to which it has been consulted by the Fund. There may exist other matters that could have a bearing on the Fund as to which Maples and Calder has not been consulted. In addition, Maples and Calder does not undertake to monitor compliance by the Investment Manager and its affiliates with the investment program, valuation procedures and other guidelines set forth herein, nor does Maples and Calder monitor ongoing compliance with applicable laws. In connection with the preparation of this Memorandum, Maples and Calder's responsibility is limited to matters of Cayman Islands law and it does not accept responsibility in relation to any other matters referred to or disclosed in this Memorandum. In the course of advising the Fund, there are times when the interests of shareholders may differ from those of the Fund. Maples and Calder does not represent the shareholders' interests in resolving these issues. In reviewing this Memorandum, Maples and Calder has relied upon information furnished to it by the Fund and has not investigated or verified the accuracy and completeness of information set forth herein concerning the Fund.

The Partnership Memorandum contains further disclosures concerning potential conflicts of interests. Such disclosures are incorporated herein by reference and should be read in their entirety prior to making a decision to invest in the Fund.

In view of the foregoing considerations, an investment in Shares is only suitable for investors who are capable of bearing the relevant risks and who understand the potential conflicts of interest.

SHARES OF THE FUND

The Fund's Share Capital

The Fund has an authorized share capital of U.S.$50,000 divided into 100 management shares (“Management Shares”) of a par value of U.S.$1.00 each and 4,990,000 participating non-voting shares (the “Shares”) of a par value of U.S.$0.01. The Directors may by resolution divide the Shares into separate series (each, a “Series”) which may be subject to different rights, restrictions, preferences, privileges and payment obligations as between the different Series and further into separate sub-series (each, a “Sub-Series”) within such Series (for example, a Sub-Series of Shares which will participate in Restricted New Issues and a Sub-Series of Shares which will not participate in such Restricted New Issues). The different Series and Sub-Series thereof shall be established and designated, and the variations in the relative rights and preferences as between the different Series and Sub-Series thereof shall be fixed and determined by the Board of Directors. Sub-Series of Shares are issued for the purposes, among others, of accounting for any profits and losses attributable to each individual shareholder and of permitting the Performance Allocation to be calculated separately to reflect different returns achieved as a result of subscriptions received at different times.

The Fund previously issued Series A Shares and currently offers Series B Shares, Series C Shares and Series D Shares, all of which generally have identical rights and privileges except for purposes of calculating Management Fees and redemption rights. The Fund is offering Series B Shares, Series C Shares and Series D Shares pursuant to this Memorandum. Certain terms that specifically apply to Series A Shares are set forth in a Supplement to this Memorandum.

Each separate Sub-Series of Shares is identified by the investor to whom it was issued and its date of issue. Shares are issued to shareholders in Sub-Series at $1,000 per Share. Immediately following the close of any fiscal year in which a Performance Allocation is charged at the Partnership level with respect to a Sub-Series of Shares of a Series, each such Sub-Series of Shares may be compulsorily redeemed and the proceeds immediately applied to the subscription for an earlier Sub-Series of Shares of such Series; provided that such earlier Sub-Series of Shares has also been assessed as having a Performance Allocation payable at the Partnership level.

The Management Shares will carry all the voting rights but will have no right to participate in the assets of the Fund (other than to a return of the par value on a winding up). The Management Shares will be held by the Investment Manager or an affiliate, and will be voted in accordance with the instructions of the Investment Manager.

The Articles provide that, subject to the Companies Law (2013 Revision) of the Cayman Islands and the other provisions of the Articles, all or any of the class rights or other terms of offer, whether set out in this Memorandum, the Subscription Documents or otherwise (including any representations, warranties or other disclosure relating to the offer or holding of Shares) (collectively referred to as “Share Rights”), for the time being applicable to any class or Series of Shares in issue (unless otherwise provided by the terms of issue of those Shares) may (whether or not the Fund is being wound up) be varied without the consent of the holders of the issued Shares of that class or Series where such variation is considered by the Directors not to have a material adverse effect upon such holders’ Share Rights; otherwise, any such variation shall be made only with the prior consent in writing of the holders of not less than two-thirds by net asset value of such Shares, or with the sanction of a resolution passed by a majority of at least two-thirds of the votes cast in person or by proxy at a separate meeting of the holders of such Shares. For the avoidance of doubt, the Directors reserve the right, notwithstanding that any such variation might not have a material adverse effect, to obtain consent from the holders of such Shares. Each subscriber for Shares will be required to agree that the terms of offer set out in the Subscription Documents and the rights attaching to the Shares can be varied in accordance with the provisions of the Articles.

The Articles further provide that, in relation to any class or Series consent required pursuant to the “Variation of Share Rights” Article, the Directors in their discretion may invoke the following procedure (the “Negative Consent Procedure”). The Directors shall provide written notice in respect of the proposed variation (the “Proposal”) to the shareholders of the affected class or Series and shall specify a deadline (the “Redemption Request Date”), which shall be no earlier than 30 days after the date of giving such notice, by which date such shareholders may submit a written request for redemption of some or all of their Shares of the affected class and/or Series on the Redemption Date (the “Specified Redemption Date”) specified by the Directors in such notice. The terms of the Proposal shall be such that its specified effective date (the “Effective Date”) shall not be on or prior to the Specified Redemption Date. Such notice shall further provide that the holders of any Shares in respect of which a request for redemption has not been received by the Redemption Request Date (the “Affected Shares”) shall, in the absence of express written refusal to consent, be deemed to have consented in writing to the Proposal (such Affected Shares being the “Negative Consent Shares”). In the event that the Negative Consent Procedure is followed, only the Affected Shares shall be considered for the purposes of determining whether the written consent majority has been obtained under the “Variation of Share Rights” Article with the holders of the Negative Consent Shares being deemed to have submitted a written consent in favor of the Proposal on the Effective Date.

The rights conferred upon the holders of the Shares of any class issued with preferred or other rights shall not, subject to any rights or restrictions for the time being attached to the Shares, be deemed to be materially adversely varied or abrogated by, inter alia, the creation, allotment or issue of further Shares ranking pari passu with or subsequent to them, the redemption or purchase of any Shares or by the passing of any Directors’ resolution to change or vary any investment objective, investment technique and strategy and/or investment policy in relation to the Shares or any modification of the fees payable to any service provider to the Fund.

In general, each Share will participate in the Fund’s profits and losses attributable to the relevant class in the same manner, except that the Performance Allocation to be charged (at the Partnership level) to Shares of a Sub-Series held by each shareholder will be calculated separately on the basis of the performance of such Shares of a Sub-Series. The Performance Allocation is calculated and charged at the Partnership level through the use of separate capital sub-accounts within the Fund’s capital account in the Partnership that correspond to the Shares of a Sub-Series of each shareholder in the Fund. Subject to the foregoing, each of the Shares will participate ratably with all other outstanding Shares in the Fund’s assets and earnings and will have the redemption rights discussed above.

The Directors may impose such restrictions as they think necessary for the purpose of ensuring that no Shares in the Fund are held by (i) any person in breach of the laws or requirements of any country or governmental authority or (ii) any person or persons in circumstances which, in the opinion of the Directors, might result in the Fund incurring any liability of taxation or suffering any other pecuniary disadvantage which the Fund might not otherwise have incurred or suffered. A person who becomes aware that he or she is holding or owning Shares in breach of any restriction mentioned in the Articles shall promptly either deliver to the Fund a written request for redemption of his or her Shares or deliver to the Fund a written request to transfer the same to a person who would not thereby be a non-qualified person.

Management Shares

General meetings of the holders of Management Shares may be held to vote on various matters including to elect the Directors, to select the Fund's auditors and to attend to such other business as may properly be placed before the meeting. At any such general meeting, the favorable vote of a majority of the Management Shares present generally is sufficient for the approval of any action, unless such action is a matter requiring a special resolution, in which case two-thirds of the Management Shares shall be required, in each case as further detailed in the Articles.

Registration of Management Shares and Shares and Share Certificates

Management Shares and Shares of the Fund are issued only in registered form. A current register of the names and addresses of the Fund's shareholders and their shareholdings is maintained at the office of the Administrator. No share certificates have been or will be issued.

Other Rights and Liabilities

Under the terms of the Articles, the liability of the shareholders of the Fund is limited, and shareholders will not be liable for any debt, obligation or default of the Fund in excess of the amounts unpaid on their Shares.

The Fund and the Investment Manager may agree with certain investors to a fee structure, redemption rights or other terms that differ from the fee structure, redemption rights and other terms that are set forth in this Memorandum. Such different rights may, subject to applicable law, be effected by issuance of a separate Series of Shares or any other permissible means. Such rights may not be offered to all investors.

Calculation of Fund Net Asset Value

The Directors have delegated to the Administrator the calculation of the net asset value of the Fund and the net asset value per Share of each Series and, if applicable, Sub-Series, subject to the overall supervision and direction of the Investment Manager and the Board of Directors. Net asset valuations of the Fund and each Series of Shares will be calculated as of the close of business on the last day of each fiscal period and any other date selected by the Board of Directors, in consultation with the Investment Manager, no less than quarterly, which shall, to avoid doubt, include each Redemption Date (each, a "Valuation Date").

The Fund's assets are valued based on the value of the Partnership's assets. The net asset value of the Fund is determined by taking the amount of all cash and credit balances plus the market value of all securities, commodities and other assets comprising the Fund's assets (including any interest and dividends receivable, but excluding any subscription amounts committed to the Fund from time to time to the extent such amounts are not held by or on behalf of the Fund), as calculated by the Administrator, minus all debit balances and other liabilities and obligations of the Fund. Net asset value in respect of any Series or Sub-Series of Shares is calculated by dividing the value of the account relating to that Series or Sub-Series of Shares by the number of Shares of that Series in issue. For the sole purpose of determining the number of Shares of a Series in issue, Shares of that Series which are to be redeemed on the relevant Valuation Date shall be deemed to be in issue until and including the close of business on the applicable Valuation Date. The principal amounts of the investments, cash balances and other assets of the Fund, the value of which is expressed in a currency other than that of the United States, shall be valued after taking into account the market rate or rates of exchange in force on the Valuation Date in question.

TAX CONSIDERATIONS

General

The following is a general discussion of certain of the anticipated U.S. federal and Cayman Islands income tax considerations applicable to the Fund's activities and those relevant to non-U.S. persons (as defined below) and U.S. tax-exempt entities arising from the purchase, ownership and disposition of Shares. Prospective investors should consult their own tax advisors to determine the application and effect of tax laws with respect to their own particular circumstances. This discussion is based on laws and regulations currently in effect, which may change or be subject to differing interpretations (possibly on a retroactive basis). The Fund does not intend to seek a ruling from the Service, or any similar state or local authority, with respect to any of the tax issues affecting the Fund.

In view of the number of different jurisdictions where local laws may apply to shareholders, the discussion below does not address the local tax consequences to prospective investors of the purchase, ownership and disposition of Shares. Prospective investors are urged to consult their own tax advisors in determining the possible tax, exchange control or other consequences to them under the laws of the jurisdictions of which they are citizens, residents or domiciliaries or in which they conduct business.

The summary assumes that no U.S. taxable investors will invest in the Fund and, therefore, does not address the U.S. tax consequences to such investors. Potential U.S. taxable investors should be aware that the Fund does not intend to provide information to any U.S. Person for purposes of such person qualifying to make an election to treat the Fund as a "qualifying electing fund" for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Accordingly, potential U.S. shareholders are urged to consult their tax advisors in this regard.

United States Taxation Matters

The Fund will be treated as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes. For U.S. federal income tax purposes, the Partnership is expected to be treated as a partnership. The Fund and the Partnership will make any necessary entity classification elections for U.S. tax purposes consistent with such respective treatment. Because the Fund is organized under the laws of the Cayman Islands, it will be considered a non-U.S. person for purposes of U.S. tax laws. As such, the U.S. federal income tax treatment of the Fund will vary depending on whether the Fund derives income or gains that are effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business in the United States. The Fund intends to structure its operations (including those conducted through the Partnership) in order to minimize to the extent consistent with its investment strategy the possibility that the Fund will be treated as being engaged in a U.S. trade or business for U.S. federal income tax purposes, although there can be no certainty that the Fund will be successful minimizing such a possibility. It is also intended that the Fund's affairs will be conducted such that no income realized by the Fund will be effectively connected with the conduct of a U.S. trade or business or otherwise subject to regular U.S. federal income taxation on a net basis.

Pursuant to a safe harbor in the Code, trading in securities or commodities on an organized commodities exchange for the Fund's own account (including through the Partnership) is not considered a U.S. trade or business. It is not certain whether this safe harbor would apply to the trading of physical commodities. Although no assurances can be given that the Service will not successfully assert an alternative position, the Fund intends to take the position that the Partnership's trading of physical commodities is within the prescribed safe harbor and does not constitute a trade or business and as such the Fund anticipates generally that its income will not be subject to U.S. corporate income tax, except as described below. However, the Fund will be subject to a 30% U.S. withholding tax on its allocable share of certain types of the Partnership's non-effectively connected income. As described below, the types of income (to the extent not constituting effectively connected income) on which a U.S. withholding tax will be imposed generally consist of dividends, interest and certain types of investment income, but not capital gains derived from the sale of stock or other capital assets (unless such capital gains are derived from the sale of stock of a "United States Real Property Holding Company" within the meaning of Section 897 of the Code and certain other interests in real property).

In general, a non-U.S. partner, such as the Fund, that is a partner of a partnership, such as the Partnership, is subject to U.S. federal income taxation on a net basis on its allocable share of the partnership's "effectively connected income." The Fund's allocable share of the Partnership's income will constitute "effectively connected income," and thus will be subject to U.S. federal income taxation, to the extent such income is derived by the Partnership from a trade or business carried on in the United States by the Partnership. Although there can be no assurances, the Partnership does not itself expect to engage directly in activities that would constitute a U.S. trade or business.

If the Fund were treated as being engaged in a U.S. trade or business as a result of activities conducted by the Partnership, then all or a portion of the Fund's allocable share of the Partnership's income would be treated as effectively connected income subject to U.S. federal income tax on a net basis at corporate tax rates. In such a case, the Fund would be required to file a U.S. federal income tax return to report its share of such income and pay U.S. federal income tax at regular U.S. rates on this income. In addition, the Partnership would be required (and would be legally liable) to withhold and pay over to the Service on behalf of the Fund an amount equal to 35% percent of the Fund's share of the Partnership's effectively connected income. Any amount so withheld would be creditable against the Fund's ultimate U.S. federal income tax liability, and the Fund would be entitled to a refund to the extent that the amount withheld exceeded the Fund's U.S. federal income tax liability for the taxable year. Furthermore, in such event, the Fund's allocable share of any effectively connected income of the Partnership would also be subject to a 30% U.S. branch profits tax, and possibly could be subject to state and/or local taxation in the United States. Such taxation of the Fund's activities could have a material adverse effect on the Fund's returns. Prospective investors are advised to consult their tax advisors regarding the risk of the Fund being treated as engaged in a trade or business in the United States.

Because the Fund is organized under the laws of the Cayman Islands, it is considered a non-U.S. person for purposes of the U.S. tax laws. As a result, dividends received by the Fund through the Partnership from U.S. sources will be subjected to U.S. withholding tax at a 30% rate. U.S. source interest income received by the Fund through the Partnership generally will be exempt from U.S. federal income and withholding tax under the exemption for "portfolio interest" or under another statutory exemption. Interest on corporate obligations will not qualify as "portfolio interest" to a non-U.S. person that owns (directly and under certain constructive ownership rules) 10% or more of the total combined voting power of the corporation paying the interest, or, with respect to certain obligations issued after April 7, 1993, if and to the extent the interest is determined by reference to certain economic attributes of the debtor (or a person related thereto) or the underlying obligations are not in "registered form" for U.S. tax purposes. In addition, interest on U.S. bank deposits, certificates of deposit and certain obligations with maturities of 183 days or less (from original issuance) will not be subject to withholding tax. Interest (including original issue discount) derived by the Fund or the Partnership from U.S. sources not qualifying as “portfolio interest” or not otherwise exempt under U.S. law will be subject to U.S. withholding tax at a rate of 30%. In addition, based on recent legislation, income from certain swaps directly or indirectly over certain stocks (e.g., U.S. stocks) are subject to U.S. withholding tax.

Taxation of Non-U.S. shareholders

For U.S. federal income tax purposes, a shareholder of the Fund who is a non-U.S. person will not be subject to U.S. federal income taxation on amounts paid by the Fund in respect of the Shares or gains recognized on the sale, exchange or redemption of Shares, provided that such income and gains are not considered to be effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business by the shareholder in the United States. In limited circumstances, an individual shareholder who is present in the United States for 183 days or more during a taxable year may be subject to U.S. income tax at a flat rate of 30% on gains realized on a disposition of Shares in such year. Individual shareholders who at the time of their death are not citizens, former citizens or residents of the United States should not be subject, by reason of the ownership of Shares, to any U.S. federal gift or estate taxes.

For these purposes the term “non-U.S. person” means any person that is not a U.S. Person for U.S. federal income tax purposes. A “U.S. Person” means a citizen or resident of the United States, a partnership or corporation created or organized in the United States or under the laws of the United States or any state (other than a partnership that is not treated as a U.S. Person under any applicable Treasury Regulations), an estate whose income is includable in gross income for federal income tax purposes regardless of its source or a trust if a U.S. court is able to exercise primary supervision over the administration of the trust and one or more U.S. Persons have the authority to control all substantial decisions of the trust. In addition, to the extent provided in Treasury Regulations, certain trusts in existence on August 20, 1996, and treated as U.S. Persons prior to such date, which elect to continue to be treated as U.S. Persons will also be U.S. Persons for these purposes.

Special rules may apply in the case of non-U.S. persons that (i) conduct a trade or business in the United States or that have an office or fixed place of business in the United States, (ii) have a tax home in the United States, (iii) are former citizens or long-term residents of the United States or (iv) are controlled foreign corporations, passive foreign investment companies, foreign insurance companies that hold Shares in connection with their U.S. business or corporations which accumulate earnings to avoid U.S. federal income tax. Such persons are urged to consult their U.S. tax advisors before investing in the Fund.

In the case of Shares held in the United States by a custodian or nominee for a non-U.S. person, U.S. “backup” withholding taxes may apply to distributions in respect of Shares held by such shareholder unless such shareholder properly certifies as to its non-U.S. status or otherwise establishes an exemption from “backup” withholding. Back-up withholding is not an additional tax. Rather, the U.S. federal income tax liability of non-U.S. persons subject to back-up withholding will be reduced by the amount of tax withheld. If back-up withholding results in an overpayment of U.S. federal income taxes, a refund may be obtained, provided the required documents are filed with the Service.

Taxation of U.S. Tax-Exempt shareholders

In general, U.S. tax-exempt shareholders should not be subject to the tax on “unrelated business taxable income” (“UBTI”), as defined in Code section 512, in respect of income and gains from the Shares. In general, UBTI is the excess of gross income from any unrelated trade or business conducted by a U.S. tax-exempt entity over the deductions attributable to such trade or business, with certain modifications. These modifications provide that UBTI generally does not include interest, dividends or gains from the sale of securities not held as either inventory or primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of business, except to the extent that any such item of income is deemed to constitute “unrelated debt-financed income” (“UDFI”) within the meaning of Code section 514 and the Treasury Regulations. Income that a U.S. tax-exempt shareholder derives from an investment in Shares should not give rise to UBTI under Code section 511, except to the extent that such entity’s acquisition of Shares is financed with acquisition indebtedness within the meaning of Code section 514. In addition to UBTI that may arise when a tax-exempt investor uses leverage to finance the acquisition of Shares, the United States Congress from time to time has considered legislation that could result in a tax-exempt investor realizing UBTI in respect of an investment in a foreign investment company that leverages its investments.

The Fund is expected to constitute a “passive foreign investment company” (a “PFIC”) for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Under the Treasury Regulations, a U.S. tax-exempt shareholder is not considered to be a shareholder in a PFIC, and thus will not be subject to the PFIC tax rules, except to the extent that a “dividend” from the PFIC would be taxable under subchapter F of the Code, for example, as UDFI. Hence, under the Treasury Regulations, a U.S. tax-exempt shareholder would be subject to tax under the PFIC regime in respect of an excess distribution from, or any gain realized on the sale of the shares of, a PFIC only under limited circumstances. Moreover, different rules may apply to certain types of tax-exempt entities, such as charitable remainder trusts. Accordingly, potential U.S. tax-exempt investors are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding the tax consequences of an investment in the Fund.

Prospective U.S. tax-exempt investors are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding the tax consequences of the purchase, ownership and disposition of the Shares.

Information Reporting Requirements and FATCA

Sections 1471 through 1474 of the Code, known as the U.S. Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (together with any regulations, rules and other guidance implementing such Code sections and any applicable intergovernmental agreement (“IGA”) and related statutes, regulations, rules and other guidance thereunder, “FATCA”) impose a withholding tax of 30% on (i) certain U.S. source interest, dividends and other types of income, and (ii) the gross proceeds from the sale or disposition of certain assets of a type that can produce U.S. source interest and dividends, which are received by a foreign financial institution (“FFI”), unless such FFI enters into an agreement with the Service, and/or complies with an applicable IGA, to obtain certain information as to the identity of the direct and indirect owners of accounts in such institution. In addition, a withholding tax may be imposed on payments to certain non-financial foreign entities which do not obtain and provide information as to their direct and indirect owners. These rules generally apply to payments of U.S. source interest, dividends and certain other types of income from U.S. sources since July 1, 2014, and will apply to payments of gross proceeds from the sale or disposition of assets of a type that can produce U.S. source interest or dividends after December 31, 2016.

The Service has released temporary and final Treasury Regulations and other guidance that will be used in implementing FATCA, which contain a number of phase-in dates for FATCA compliance. In addition, the Cayman Islands has entered into a Model 1 IGA with the United States (the “Cayman IGA”), which came into force on April 14, 2014, and has issued the Tax Information Authority (International Tax Compliance) (United States of America) Regulations 2014, as updated from time to time, and draft guidance notes thereunder. Additional guidance is forthcoming. In addition, the Cayman Islands have signed a similar inter-governmental agreement with the United Kingdom (the “UK IGA”). The UK IGA imposes similar requirements to the Cayman IGA, so that the Fund will be required to identify accounts held directly or indirectly by “Specified United Kingdom Persons” and report information on such Specified United Kingdom Persons to the Cayman Islands authorities, which will exchange such information annually with HM Revenue & Customs (“HMRC”), the United Kingdom tax authority. It is anticipated that further inter-governmental agreements (“future IGAs”) similar to the Cayman IGA and the UK IGA may be entered into with other third countries by the Cayman Islands Government to introduce similar regimes for reporting to such third countries fiscal authorities (“foreign fiscal authorities”).

The Fund is likely to be considered an FFI for FATCA purposes. In order to avoid U.S. withholding tax under FATCA on amounts paid to the Fund, the Fund is generally required to register with the Service and to comply with the Cayman IGA and any Cayman Islands legislation or guidance implementing the Cayman IGA. The Fund intends to register with the Service and, therefore, generally does not expect to become subject to U.S. withholding under FATCA. The Fund also expects that it will be required to identify and report on certain direct and indirect U.S. owners or investors in order to comply with the Cayman IGA in the future. An investor will be required to provide to the Fund information which identifies its direct and indirect ownership. Any such information provided to the Fund will ultimately be shared with the Cayman Islands government and transmitted to the Service and, potentially, certain other authorities and withholding agents, as applicable.

Further, it is possible that a lower-tier non-U.S. entity in which the Partnership invests also may be considered an FFI. The Fund intends to assist lower-tier non-U.S. entities in which the Partnership invests in complying with FATCA, but the Fund can give no assurance that it will be able to provide such assistance or that such an entity will be able to avoid the imposition of this withholding tax on it.

By investing (or continuing to invest) in the Fund (and indirectly investing in the Partnership), investors will be deemed to have acknowledged, and to have given their consent to, the following:

- (i) the Fund (or its agent) may be required to disclose to the Cayman Islands authorities and withholding agents certain information (which could otherwise be deemed to be confidential) in relation to the investor or its direct or indirect owners, including the investor’s name, address, tax identification number (if any), social security number (if any) and certain additional information or documentation relating to the investor’s investment or identity, and the investor may be required to provide any such information or documentation;
- (ii) the Cayman Islands authorities may be required to automatically exchange information with, among other authorities, the Service, and to provide additional information to such authorities should they have further inquiries, and the Fund (or its agent) may be required to disclose certain information (including information that could otherwise be deemed to be confidential) when registering with such authorities and in response to a request by any such authority for further information;
- (iii) in the event an investor’s failure to comply with any FATCA related reporting requirements gives rise to any withholding tax, the Fund reserves the right to ensure that any such withholding tax and any related cost, interest, penalties and other losses or liabilities suffered by the Fund, the Partnership, the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Administrator or any other investor, or any agent, delegate, employee, director, officer or affiliate of any of the foregoing persons, arising from such investor's failure to provide information to the Fund, is economically borne by such investor;

- (iv) in the event an investor does not provide the information and/or documentation necessary for the Fund's (or the Partnership's) satisfaction of its FATCA related reporting requirements, whether or not that actually leads to compliance failures by the Fund, or a risk of the Fund (or the Partnership) or its investors being subject to withholding tax under the relevant FATCA regime, the Fund reserves the right to take any action and/or pursue all remedies at its disposal to mitigate the consequences of the investor's failure to comply with the requirements described above, including compulsory redemption of such investor; and
- (v) no investor affected by any such action or remedy shall have any claim against the Fund, the Partnership, the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Administrator (or their agents, delegates, employees, directors, officers or affiliates) for any form of damages or liability as a result of actions taken or remedies pursued by or on behalf of the Fund in order to comply with FATCA.

Investors should consult their tax advisors as to the withholding, filing and information reporting requirements that may be imposed on them in respect of their ownership of Interests of the Fund.

Investor Tax Filings and Record Retention

The United States Treasury Department has adopted regulations designed to assist the Service in identifying abusive tax shelter transactions. In general, the regulations require investors in specified transactions (including certain shareholders in foreign corporations and partners in partnerships that engage in such transactions) to satisfy certain special tax filing and record retention requirements. Significant monetary penalties may be imposed (in addition to penalties that generally may be applicable as a result of a failure to comply with applicable Treasury regulations) for failure to comply with these tax filing and record retention rules.

The regulations are broad in scope and it is conceivable that the Fund or the Partnership may enter into transactions that will subject the Fund and certain investors in the Fund to the special tax filing and record retention rules. The Fund and the Investment Manager intend to use reasonable efforts to obtain and provide information to investors necessary to enable investors to satisfy any tax filing and record retention requirements that may arise as a result of any transactions entered into by the Fund or the Partnership.

Transfer Reporting Requirements

A U.S. Person (including in certain circumstances a U.S. tax-exempt entity) that transfers property (including cash) to the Fund in exchange for Shares will be required to file a Form 926 or a similar form with the Service. In the event a U.S. shareholder fails to file any required form, such holder could be subject to a penalty of up to 10% of the value of the property transferred, subject to a $100,000 limit so long as the failure was not due to intentional disregard.

Cayman Islands Taxation

The Government of the Cayman Islands will not, under existing legislation, impose any income, corporate or capital gains tax, estate duty, inheritance tax, gift tax or withholding tax upon the Fund or its shareholders. The Cayman Islands are not party to any double taxation treaties.

The Fund has applied for and expects to receive an undertaking from the Governor-in-Cabinet of the Cayman Islands that, in accordance with section 6 of the Tax Concessions Law (2011 Revision) of the Cayman Islands, for a period of 20 years from the date of the undertaking, no law which is enacted in the Cayman Islands imposing any tax to be levied on profits, income, gains or appreciations shall apply to the Fund or its operations and, in addition, that no tax to be levied on profits, income, gains or appreciations or which is in the nature of estate duty or inheritance tax shall be payable (i) on or in respect of the Shares, debentures or other obligations of the Fund or (ii) by way of the withholding, in whole or in part, of a payment of dividend or other distribution of income or capital by the Fund to its shareholders or a payment of principal or interest or other sums due under a debenture or other obligation of the Fund.

European Union Savings Directive

Dividends and other distributions of income made by the Administrator on behalf of the Fund, together with payment of the proceeds of sale and/or redemption of Shares (“Payments”) are not subject to any reporting or withholding requirements that may arise as a result of the applicable legislation which implements the EU Council Directive 2003/48/EC of June 3, 2003 on taxation of savings income in the form of interest payments (the “EUSD”) as the Administrator is not located in the European Union (or a country that has implemented measures similar or equivalent to the EUSD).

If an investor in the Fund is based in the European Union or certain states which have similar or equivalent measures to the EUSD (including Switzerland, Channel Islands, Monaco and the Cayman Islands) and is making investments on behalf of other underlying investors who are individuals or certain unincorporated entities resident in the European Union or certain of the states which have similar equivalent measures to the EUSD, then the provisions of the EUSD or similar or equivalent measures may apply. In such circumstances such an investor may become a “paying agent” and may be required to obtain all relevant documentation relating to its underlying investors and make returns to the appropriate tax authorities or withhold tax at applicable rates from any redemption proceeds in accordance with the applicable legislation that implements the EUSD or similar or equivalent measures.

Such investors to whom the EUSD may be relevant should also be aware that on 24 March 2014, the Council of the European Union adopted a directive amending the EUSD to extend its scope to cover additional types of savings income and products that generate interest or equivalent income (including certain types of life insurance contracts) as well as a broader range of investment funds. In addition, a “look through” procedure will be established to limit the opportunities for circumventing the application of the EUSD by the use of certain intermediaries. Member States of the European Union have until 1 January 2016 to adopt domestic legislation to give effect to these changes, which must be applied from 1 January 2017. It is not yet clear as to whether those states which have similar or equivalent measures to the EUSD (including Switzerland, Channel Islands, Monaco and the Cayman Islands) will adopt such changes and if so by what date.

Future Changes in Applicable Law

The foregoing description of United States and Cayman Islands income tax consequences of an investment in, and the operations of, the Fund are based on laws and regulations that are subject to change through legislative, judicial or administrative action. Other legislation could be enacted that would subject the Fund to income taxes or subject shareholders to increased income taxes.

Other Taxation

A portion of the Fund's investments may be made in non-U.S. jurisdictions. With respect to certain countries, there is a possibility of expropriation, confiscatory taxation, imposition of withholding or other taxes on dividends, interest, capital gains or other income, limitations on the removal of funds or other assets of the Fund, political or social instability or diplomatic developments that could affect investments in those countries. An issuer of securities may be domiciled in a country other than the country in whose currency the instrument is denominated. The values and relative yields of investments in the securities markets of different countries, and their associated risks, are expected to change independently of each other.

Future Tax Legislation, Necessity of Obtaining Professional Advice

Future amendments to the Code, other legislation, new or amended Treasury Regulations, administrative rulings or decisions by the Internal Revenue Service or judicial decisions may adversely affect the federal income tax aspects of an investment in the Fund, with or without advance notice, retroactively or prospectively. The foregoing analysis is not intended as a substitute for careful tax planning. The tax matters relating to the Fund are complex and are subject to varying interpretations. There can be no assurance that the Internal Revenue Service will agree with each position taken by the Fund with respect to the tax treatment of Fund items and transactions. Moreover, the effect of existing income tax laws and of proposed changes in income tax laws on shareholders will vary with the particular circumstances of each shareholder and, in reviewing this Memorandum and any exhibits hereto, these matters should be considered.

It is the responsibility of all persons interested in purchasing Shares to inform themselves as to any tax consequences from their investing in the Fund and the Fund's operations or management, as well as any foreign exchange or other fiscal or legal restrictions, which are relevant to their particular circumstances in connection with the acquisition, holding or disposition of Shares. Accordingly, each prospective shareholder should therefore seek their own separate tax advice in relation to their holding of Shares. In no event will the Fund, the Partnership, the Principals or the Investment Manager, or their affiliates, counsel or other professional advisers, be liable to any shareholder for any tax consequences of an investment in the Fund, whether or not such consequences are as described above.

The foregoing is a summary of the important tax rules and considerations affecting the shareholders, the Fund and the Fund's proposed operations. This summary does not purport to be a complete analysis of all relevant tax rules and considerations, which will vary with the particular circumstances of each shareholder, nor does it purport to be a complete listing of all potential tax risks inherent in purchasing or holding Shares. Each prospective investor in the Fund is urged to consult its own tax advisor in order to understand fully the U.S. federal, state, local and any non-U.S. tax consequences of such an investment in its particular situation.

CIRCULAR 230 NOTICE

The tax discussion contained in this Memorandum is not in the form of a covered opinion, within the meaning of Circular 230 issued by the United States Secretary of the Treasury. Thus, we are required to inform you that you cannot rely upon the summary contained in this Memorandum for the purpose of avoiding U.S. federal tax penalties. The following summary was written to support the promotion or marketing of the transactions or matters described in this Memorandum. Each prospective investor should seek advice based on the taxpayer's particular circumstances from an independent tax advisor.

General

Fiduciaries and other persons who are proposing to invest in Shares on behalf of retirement plans, IRAs and other employee benefit plans ("Plans") covered by ERISA or the Code must give appropriate consideration to, among other things, the role that an investment in the Fund plays in the Plan's portfolio, taking into consideration whether the investment is designed to reasonably further the Plan's purposes, the investment's risk and return factors, the portfolio's composition with regard to diversification, the liquidity and current return of the total portfolio relative to the anticipated cash flow needs of the Plan, the projected return of the total portfolio relative to the Plan's objectives, the limited right of shareholders to redeem all or any part of their capital or to transfer their Shares and whether investment in the Fund constitutes a direct or indirect transaction with a party in interest (under ERISA) or a disqualified person (under the Code).

Plan Asset Regulations and Benefit Plan Investors

The United States Department of Labor ("DOL") has adopted regulations that treat the assets of certain pooled investment vehicles, such as the Fund, as "plan assets" for purposes of Title I of ERISA and Section 4975 of the Code ("Plan Assets"). Section 3(42) of ERISA defines the term "Plan Assets" to mean plan assets as defined by such regulations as the DOL may prescribe, except that under such regulations the assets of an entity shall not be treated as Plan Assets if, immediately after the most recent acquisition of an equity interest in the entity, less than twenty-five percent (25%) of the total value of each class of equity interest in the entity is held by "Benefit Plan Investors" (the "significant participation test"). For purposes of this determination, the value of any equity interest held by a person (other than a Benefit Plan Investor) who has discretionary authority or control with respect to the assets of the entity or any person who provides investment advice for a fee (direct or indirect) with respect to such assets, or any affiliate of such a person, shall be disregarded. An entity shall be considered to hold Plan Assets only to the extent of the percentage of the equity interest held by Benefit Plan Investors. The term "Benefit Plan Investors" means any employee benefit plan subject to part 4 of subtitle B of Title I of ERISA (i.e., plans subject to the fiduciary provisions of ERISA), any plan to which the prohibited transaction provisions of Section 4975 of the Code apply (e.g., IRAs) and any entity whose underlying assets include Plan Assets by reason of a plan's investment in such entity (a "Plan Asset Entity").

In order to prevent the assets of the Partnership from being considered Plan Assets under ERISA, it is the intention of the Partnership to monitor the investments in the Fund and prohibit the acquisition, redemption or transfer of any Shares by any investor, including a Benefit Plan Investor, unless, after giving effect to such an acquisition, redemption or transfer, the total proportion of each class of equity interests of the Partnership owned by Benefit Plan Investors would be less 25% of the aggregate value of such class (determined, as described above, by excluding certain Shares held by the Investment Manager, other fiduciaries and affiliates).

Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, in order to limit equity participation in each class of equity interests of the Partnership by Benefit Plan Investors to less than 25%, the Partnership may require the compulsory redemption of Shares of any Series. Each shareholder that is an insurance company acting on behalf of its general account or a Plan Asset Entity will be required to represent and warrant as of the date it acquires Shares or equity interests of the Partnership the maximum percentage of such general account or Plan Asset Entity (as reasonably determined by such insurance company or Plan Asset Entity) that will constitute Plan Assets (the “Maximum Percentage”) so such percentage can be calculated in determining the percentage of Plan Assets invested in the Partnership. Further, each such insurance company and Plan Asset Entity will be required to covenant that if, after its initial acquisition of Shares or equity interests of the Partnership, the Maximum Percentage is exceeded at any time, then such insurance company or Plan Asset Entity shall immediately notify the Investment Manager of that occurrence and shall, if and as directed by the Investment Manager, in a manner consistent with the restrictions on transfer set forth herein, redeem or dispose of some or all of the Shares held in its general account or Plan Asset Entity.

If the Partnership’s assets were considered Plan Assets, then, under ERISA and the Code, the Investment Manager would be a fiduciary, and certain employees, partners and officers of the Investment Manager, as well as certain affiliates, would become “parties in interest” and “disqualified persons,” with respect to the investing Plans, with the result that the rendering of services to certain related parties or the lending of money or other extensions of credit, or the sale, exchange or leasing of property by the Partnership or certain related parties, or the payment of certain fees, as well as certain other transactions, might be deemed to constitute prohibited transactions. Additionally, individual investment in equity interests of the Partnership by persons who are fiduciaries and/or parties-in-interest and disqualified persons to a Plan might be deemed to constitute prohibited transactions under such circumstances.

It is anticipated that investment in the Fund by Benefit Plan Investors may be “significant” for purposes of the DOL regulations. In such event, the underlying assets of the Fund would be deemed to constitute Plan Assets. As a general rule, if the assets of the Fund were regarded as Plan Assets of a Benefit Plan Investor, the Investment Manager would be deemed to be a fiduciary with respect to each Plan investing in the Fund. However, the Investment Manager believes that, given the limited purpose and role of the Fund and the requirement that the Investment Manager follow the directions of the fiduciaries of each Benefit Plan Investor investing in the Fund, as set forth in each such investor’s Subscription Documents, with respect to the investment by the Fund in the Partnership, neither the Investment Manager nor any other entity providing services to the Fund would be exercising any discretionary authority or control with respect to the Fund. Accordingly, the Investment Manager believes that neither the Investment Manager nor any other entity providing services to the Fund will act as a fiduciary (as defined in Section 3(21) of ERISA) with respect to the assets of the Fund or any Benefit Plan Investor. Rather, the Investment Manager believes that, given the limited purpose and role of the Fund and the requirement that the Investment Manager follow the directions of the fiduciary of each Benefit Plan Investor investing in the Fund, as set forth in each such investor’s Subscription Documents, with respect to the investment by the Fund in the Partnership, the fiduciary of each such Benefit Plan Investor has retained the fiduciary authority and responsibility with respect to the Benefit Plan Investor's initial and continuing investment in the Fund as though the Benefit Plan Investor is investing directly in the Partnership.

Representation by Plans

The fiduciaries of each Plan proposing to invest in the Fund will be required to represent that they have been informed of and understand the Fund's investment objectives, policies and strategies, and that the decision to invest Plan Assets in the Fund is consistent with the provisions of ERISA and/or the Code that require diversification of Plan Assets and impose other fiduciary responsibilities. In particular, exempt organizations should consider the applicability to them of the provisions relating to UBTI. By its purchase, each investor will be deemed to have represented that either (i) it is not a Plan that is subject to the prohibited transaction rules of ERISA or the Code, (ii) it is not an entity whose assets include Plan Assets or (iii) its investment in the Fund will not constitute a non-exempt prohibited transaction under ERISA or the Code.

Ineligible Purchasers

Shares may not be purchased with Plan Assets if the Investment Manager, any selling agent, finder, any of their respective affiliates or any of their respective employees: (i) has investment discretion with respect to the investment of such Plan Assets; (ii) has authority or responsibility to give or regularly gives investment advice with respect to such Plan Assets, for a fee, and pursuant to an agreement or understanding that such advice will serve as a primary basis for investment decisions with respect to such Plan Assets and that such advice will be based on the particular investment needs of the Plan; or (iii) is an employer maintaining or contributing to such Plan. A party that is described in clause (i) or (ii) of the preceding sentence is a fiduciary under ERISA and the Code with respect to the Plan, and any such purchase might result in a "prohibited transaction" under ERISA and the Code.

Plans' Reporting Obligations

The information contained herein and in the other documentation provided to investors in connection with an investment in the Fund is intended to satisfy the alternative reporting option for "eligible indirect compensation" on Schedule C of the Form 5500, in addition to the other purposes for which such documents were created.

Whether or not the underlying assets of the Fund are deemed Plan Assets, an investment in the Fund by a Plan is subject to ERISA and the Code. Accordingly, Plan fiduciaries should consult their own counsel as to the consequences under ERISA and the Code of an investment in the Fund. Note that similar laws governing the investment and management of the assets of governmental or non-U.S. plans may contain fiduciary and prohibited transaction requirements similar to those under ERISA and the Code. Accordingly, fiduciaries of such governmental or non-U.S. plans, in consultation with their counsel, should consider the impact of their respective laws and regulations on an investment in the Fund.

CAYMAN ISLANDS MUTUAL FUND LAW

The Fund is regulated as a mutual fund under the Mutual Funds Law (2013 Revision) of the Cayman Islands (“Mutual Funds Law”). The Cayman Islands Monetary Authority (the “Authority”) has supervisory and enforcement powers to ensure compliance with the Mutual Funds Law. Regulation under the Mutual Funds Law entails the filing of prescribed details and audited accounts annually with the Authority. As a regulated mutual fund, the Authority may at any time instruct the Fund to have its accounts audited and to submit them to the Authority within such time as the Authority specifies. Failure to comply with these requests by the Authority may result in substantial fines on the part of the Directors and may result in the Authority applying to the court to have the Fund wound up.

The Fund will not, however, be subject to supervision in respect of its investment activities or the constitution of the Fund’s portfolio by the Authority or any other governmental authority in the Cayman Islands, although the Authority does have power to investigate the activities of the Fund in certain circumstances. Neither the Authority nor any other governmental authority in the Cayman Islands has commented upon or approved the terms or merits of this document. There is no investment compensation scheme available to investors in the Cayman Islands.

The Authority may take certain actions if it is satisfied that a regulated mutual fund is or is likely to become unable to meet its obligations as they fall due or is carrying on or is attempting to carry on business or is winding up its business voluntarily in a manner that is prejudicial to its investors or creditors. The powers of the Authority include the power to require the substitution of Directors, to appoint a person to advise the Fund on the proper conduct of its affairs or to appoint a person to assume control of the affairs of the Fund. There are other remedies available to the Authority including the ability to apply to court for approval of other actions.

The Fund, or any directors or agents domiciled in the Cayman Islands, may be compelled to provide information, subject to a request for information made by a regulatory or governmental authority or agency under applicable law; e.g. by the Authority, either for itself or for a recognised overseas regulatory authority, under the Monetary Authority Law (2013 Revision), or by the Tax Information Authority, under the Tax Information Authority Law (2013 Revision) or Reporting of Savings Income information (European Union) Law (2007 Revision) and associated regulations, agreements, arrangements and memoranda of understanding. Disclosure of confidential information under such laws shall not be regarded as a breach of any duty of confidentiality and, in certain circumstances, the Fund, director or agent, may be prohibited from disclosing that the request has been made.

ANTI-MONEY LAUNDERING COMPLIANCE

Cayman Islands

In order to comply with legislation or regulations aimed at the prevention of money laundering the Fund is required to adopt and maintain anti-money laundering procedures, and may require subscribers to provide evidence to verify their identity and source of funds. Where permitted, and subject to certain conditions, the Fund may also delegate the maintenance of its anti-money laundering procedures (including the acquisition of due diligence information) to a suitable person.

The Fund, and the Administrator on the Fund's behalf, reserve the right to request such information as is necessary to verify the identity of a shareholder (i.e. a subscriber or a transferee). Where the circumstances permit, the Fund, or the Administrator on the Fund's behalf, may be satisfied that full due diligence may not be required where an exemption applies under the Money Laundering Regulations (2013 Revision) of the Cayman Islands, as amended and revised from time to time or any other applicable law.

In the event of delay or failure on the part of the subscriber in producing any information required for verification purposes, the Fund, or the Administrator on the Fund's behalf, may refuse to accept the application, in which case any funds received will be returned without interest to the account from which they were originally debited.

The Fund, and the Administrator on the Fund's behalf, also reserve the right to refuse to make any redemption or dividend payment to a shareholder if the Board of Directors or the Administrator suspect or are advised that the payment of redemption or dividend proceeds to such shareholder may be non-compliant with applicable laws or regulations, or if such refusal is considered necessary or appropriate to ensure the compliance by the Fund or the Administrator with any applicable laws or regulations.

If any person resident in the Cayman Islands knows or suspects or has reasonable grounds for knowing or suspecting that another person is engaged in criminal conduct or is involved with terrorism or terrorist property and the information for that knowledge or suspicion came to their attention in the course of business in the regulated sector, or other trade, profession, business or employment, the person will be required to report such knowledge or suspicion to (i) the Financial Reporting Authority of the Cayman Islands, pursuant to the Proceeds of Crime Law, 2008 of the Cayman Islands if the disclosure relates to criminal conduct or money laundering, or (ii) a police officer of the rank of constable or higher, or the Financial Reporting Authority, pursuant to the Terrorism Law (2011 Revision) of the Cayman Islands, if the disclosure relates to involvement with terrorism or terrorist financing and property. Such a report shall not be treated as a breach of confidence or of any restriction upon the disclosure of information imposed by any enactment or otherwise.

United States

In response to increased regulatory concerns with respect to the identification of sources of funds used to make an investment in the Fund, the Investment Manager and/or its affiliates have implemented policies and procedures ("AML Program") designed to guard against and identify money laundering activities. Pursuant to the Fund's AML Program, the Investment Manager and/or its affiliates will request prospective investors and, in some instances, existing shareholders to provide additional documentation verifying, among other things, such person's identity and the source of funds used to purchase its Shares of the Fund. The Investment Manager may decline to accept a subscription based upon this information, or if this information is not provided.

Pursuant to the Fund's AML Program, the Investment Manager and/or its affiliates will undertake enhanced due diligence procedures prior to accepting investors the Investment Manager believes present high risk factors with respect to money laundering activities. Examples, although not comprehensive, of persons posing high risk factors are persons resident in or organized under the laws of a "non-cooperative jurisdiction" or other jurisdictions designated by the Department of the Treasury as warranting special measures due to money laundering concerns, and any person whose capital contributions originate from or are routed through certain banking entities organized or chartered in a non-cooperative jurisdiction.

In addition, the Fund's AML Program prohibits the acceptance of subscriptions from or on behalf of:

1. persons on the List of Specially Designated Nationals and Blocked Persons maintained by the U.S. Office of Foreign Asset Control;
2. the Annex to Executive Order 13224;
3. such other lists as may be promulgated by law or regulation; and
4. foreign banks unregulated in the jurisdiction they are domiciled in or which have no physical presence.

Governmental regulators are continuing to consider appropriate measures to implement anti-money laundering laws as they apply to private investment funds such as the Fund. The Investment Manager and/or its affiliates will take such steps as it determines are necessary to comply with applicable law, regulations, orders, directives or special measures that may be required by governmental regulators. The specific policies and procedures that the Fund may be required to implement remain unclear, although such steps may include additional measures to confirm the identity of each investor, including the principal beneficial owners of the investor, if applicable, and/or reporting suspicious transactions to governmental regulators.

The requirements for the Investment Manager to guard against and identify money laundering activities in deciding whether to accept subscriptions are in addition to the discretion that the Investment Manager has in deciding whether to accept subscriptions.

ANNEX A

Definition of “U.S. Person”

For purposes of the applicable prohibitions against ownership and transfer of Shares of the Fund, the term “U.S. Person” means:

- (1) a resident or citizen of the United States;
- (2) a partnership or corporation organized under the laws of the United States;
- (3) any entity not organized under the laws of the United States:
  - (a) that has its principal office or place of business in the United States; or
  - (b)
    - (i) in which citizens or residents of or entities organized under the laws of or existing in the United States directly or indirectly hold in the aggregate 50% or more of the beneficial interests; and
    - (ii) that will own directly or indirectly, either alone or together with affiliated persons, an aggregate of more than 9.9% of the Fund’s outstanding Shares; or
  - (c)
    - (i) that is organized principally for passive investment (such as an investment company, a commodity pool or other similar vehicle); and
    - (ii)
      - (A) in which the amount of units of participation held by United States Persons (other than “qualified eligible participants” as defined in Rule 4.7(a)(2) under the United States Commodity Exchange Act) represents in the aggregate 10% or more of the beneficial interest in the entity;
      - (B) that was formed for the purpose of facilitating investment by United States Persons in the Fund, or in any other commodity pool with respect to which the operator is exempt from certain requirements of Part 4 of the regulations promulgated by the United States Commodity Futures Trading Commission by virtue of its participants being non-United States Persons; or
      - (C) that was formed by United States Persons principally for the purpose of investing in securities not registered under the United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended, unless it is formed and owned by “accredited investors” (as defined in Rule 501(a) under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended) who are not natural persons, estates or trusts;
- (4) an estate or trust:
  - (a) of which an executor, administrator or trustee is a United States Person, unless:
    - (i) an executor, administrator or trustee who is not a United States Person has sole or shared investment discretion with respect to the assets of the estate or trust; and
    - (ii)
      - (A) in the case of an estate, it is governed by non-U.S. law; or

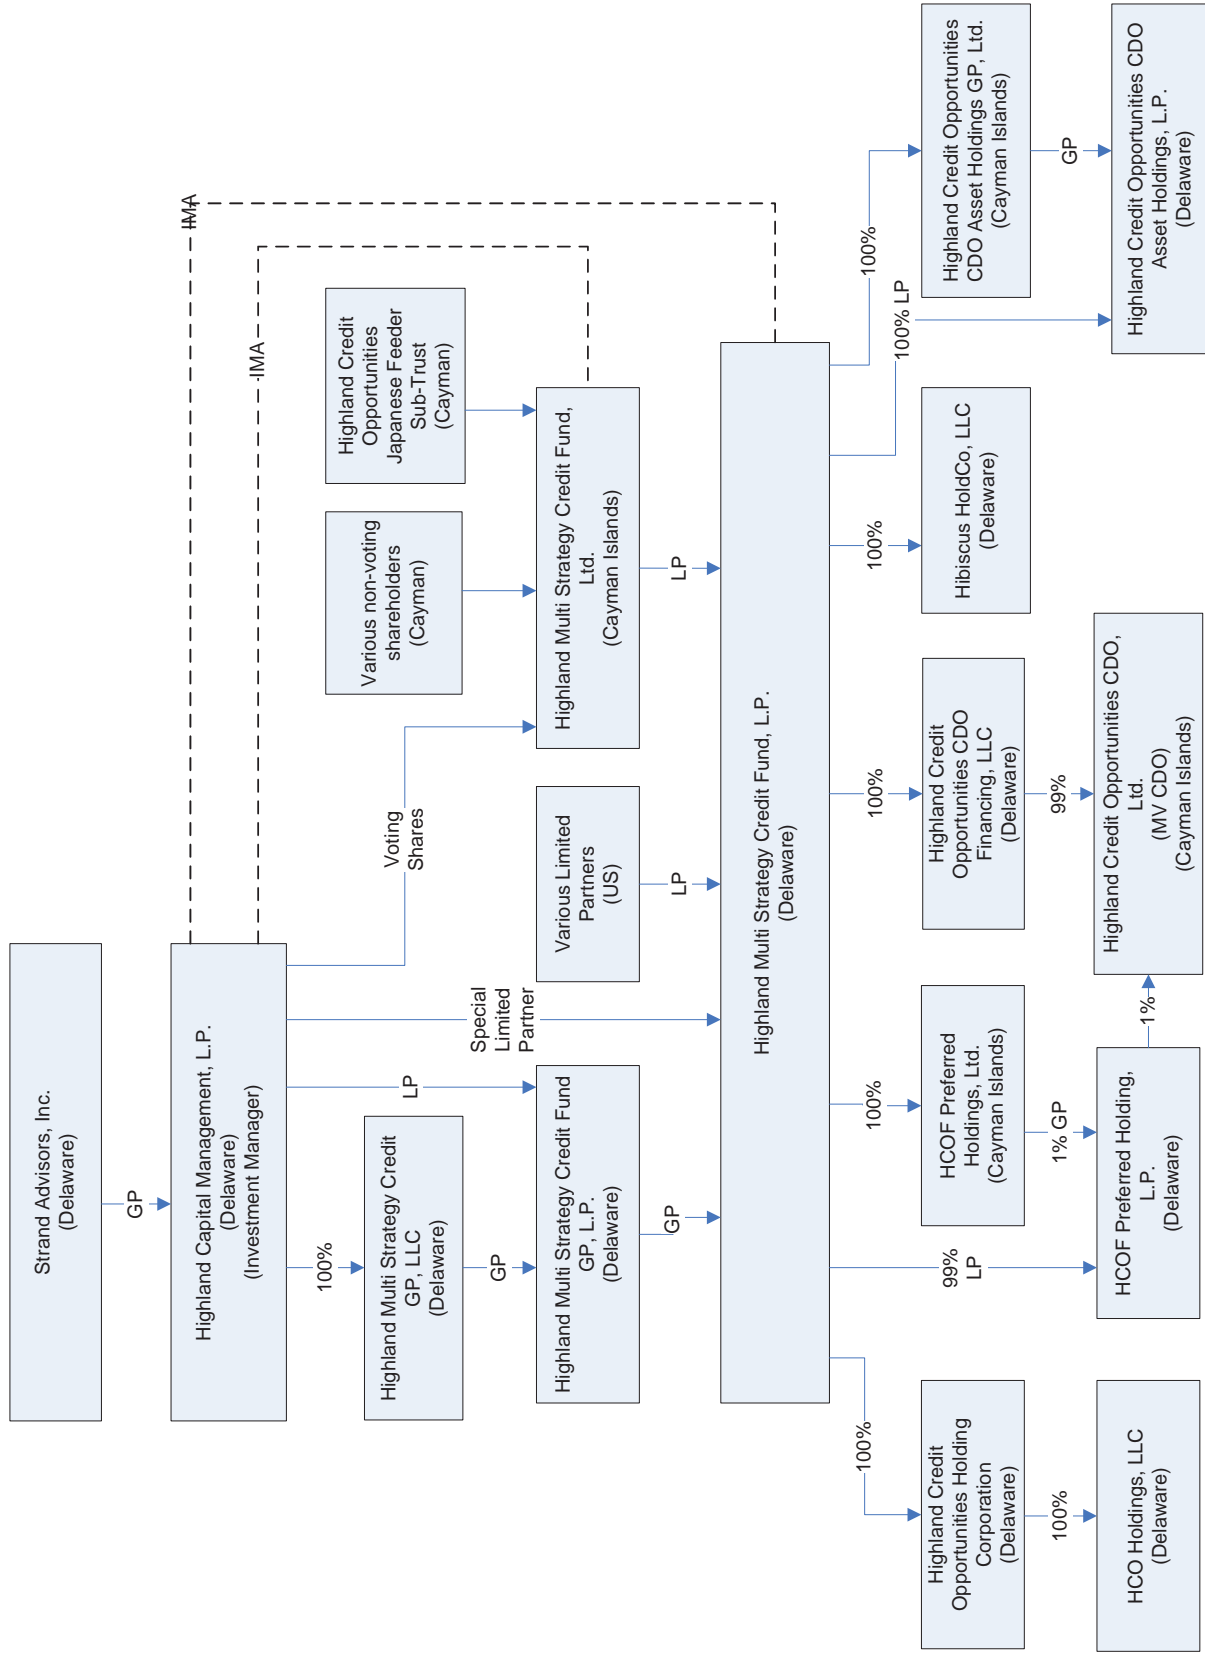

- (B) in the case of a trust, no beneficiary (and no settlor if the trust is revocable) is a United States Person; or
- (b) the income of which is subject to United States income tax regardless of source;
- (5) any agency or branch of a foreign entity located in the United States;
- (6) any non-discretionary account or similar account (other than an estate or trust) held for the benefit or account of one or more United States Persons; and
- (7) any discretionary account or similar account (other than an estate or trust) held by a dealer or other fiduciary organized, incorporated, or (if an individual) resident in the United States, unless it is held by a dealer or other professional fiduciary exclusively for the benefit or account of one or more non-United States Persons.

For purposes of the foregoing, the term “United States” means the United States of America, its territories and possessions, any state of the United States, and the District of Columbia. Persons requiring details regarding other terms used in the foregoing definition (such as “qualified eligible participant” and “accredited investor”) should contact the Administrator.

HIGHLAND CAPITAL MANAGEMENT, L.P.

November 1, 2013

000966

THIS THIRD AMENDED AND RESTATED INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT AGREEMENT (this “Agreement”), is dated effective as of November 1, 2014, by and among:

HIGHLAND MULTI STRATEGY CREDIT FUND, LTD., a Cayman Islands exempted company (the “Offshore Fund”);

HIGHLAND MULTI STRATEGY CREDIT FUND, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (the “Domestic Fund,” and together with the Offshore Fund, the “Clients”) acting through its general partner, Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund GP, L.P. a Delaware limited partnership (the “General Partner”); and

HIGHLAND CAPITAL MANAGEMENT, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (the “Investment Manager”).

PRELIMINARY STATEMENTS

A. The Domestic Fund previously retained the Investment Manager as its investment manager pursuant to an investment management agreement dated as of December 1, 2005, as amended and restated as of December 29, 2005 and as further amended and restated as of September 1, 2006 (the “Original Agreement”).

B. The Offshore Fund will invest all of its investable assets in the Domestic Fund. The Investment Manager will exercise no discretion with respect to the investment of the assets of the Offshore Fund and will serve merely as a steward thereof. The Investment Manager will conduct its investment activities at the Domestic Fund level as the investment manager to the Domestic Fund.

C. The Domestic Fund desires to continue to retain the Investment Manager and the Offshore Fund desires to retain the Investment Manager to provide certain discretionary advisory services relating to the assets and liabilities of the Domestic Fund and the Investment Manager desires to accept such appointment, all subject to the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth.

AGREEMENT

This Agreement amends and restates in its entirety the Original Agreement as set forth below. For good and valuable consideration, the sufficiency and adequacy of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto agree as follows:

1. Appointment.

The Clients hereby appoint the Investment Manager as investment manager with respect to the assets and liabilities of the Domestic Fund and the Investment Manager hereby accepts such appointment and agrees to perform its obligations in accordance with the terms hereof and of the Fourth Amended and Restated Limited Partnership Agreement of the Domestic Fund, dated effective as of November 1, 2014, as amended from time to time (the “Domestic Fund Partnership Agreement”), and the investment objectives, policies, guidelines and restrictions that from time to time are set forth in the Governing Documents of the Clients as applicable. “Governing Documents” mean, with respect to:

- (a) the Offshore Fund: the Memorandum and Articles of Association of the Offshore Fund, as amended from time to time, and the Confidential Private Offering Memorandum dated November 2014, as may be supplemented from time to time (the “POM”);
- (b) the Domestic Fund: the Domestic Fund Partnership Agreement and the Private Placement Memorandum dated November 2014, as may be supplemented from time to time (the “PPM”).

2. Authority and Duties of the Investment Manager.

- (a) All of the investable assets of the Offshore Fund must be invested in, and the investment program of the Offshore Fund is to be conducted by the Investment Manager through, the Domestic Fund. The Investment Manager will exercise no discretion with respect to the investment of the assets of the Offshore Fund and the investment activities of the Investment Manager will be conducted at the Domestic Fund level as the investment manager to the Domestic Fund.
- (b) The Domestic Fund’s investment program will be conducted by the Investment Manager in accordance with the PPM.
- (c) The Investment Manager serves as the investment manager to the Domestic Fund and in that capacity has full discretion and authority, without obtaining the prior approval of any officer or other agent of the Domestic Fund:
  - (i) to continuously supervise the investment program of the Domestic Fund and the composition of its investment portfolio including, without limitation, determining from time to time what investments will be purchased, retained or sold, what contracts will be entered into by the Domestic Fund and what portion of its assets will be retained as cash, and to engage consultants and analysts in connection therewith; to cause the Domestic Fund to purchase or sell any asset, enter into any other investment-related transaction, including (directly or through subsidiaries or affiliates of the Domestic Fund) borrowing money, entering into swap transactions, lending securities, exercising control over a company, exercising voting or approval rights and selecting brokers and dealers for execution of portfolio transactions; and to undertake to do anything incidental to the foregoing to facilitate the performance of its obligations hereunder;
  - (ii) to invest within or outside the United States of America in “Investments” (as defined in, and subject to the provisions of, the Domestic Fund Limited Partnership Agreement);
  - (iii) to effect any and all transactions in Investments, including collateralized loan obligations, asset-backed securities, commodities, total return swaps, credit default swaps, synthetic securities and other financial instruments and assets (and options and other contracts thereon), and everything connected therewith in the broadest sense, including, without limitation, the full discretion and authority to make short sales, to purchase or write options (including uncovered options) and to trade on margin;

- (iv) to, on behalf of the Clients, exercise all rights, powers, privileges and other incidents of ownership or possession with respect to the Investments and other property and funds held or owned by the Domestic Fund, including without limitation the right to possess, lend, transfer, mortgage, pledge or otherwise deal in, and to secure the payment of obligations of the Domestic Fund by mortgage upon, or hypothecation or pledge of, all or part of the property of the Domestic Fund, whether at the time owned or thereafter acquired, and to vote Investments, participate in arrangements with creditors, institute and settle or compromise suits and administrative proceedings and other similar matters;
- (v) to select brokers, dealers, banks and other intermediaries by or through whom such transactions will be executed or carried out and to open, maintain and close accounts with brokers, which power shall include the authority to issue all instructions and authorizations to brokers regarding securities and money therein and to cause the Domestic Fund to pay, or authorize the payment and reimbursement of, brokerage commissions;
- (vi) to open, maintain and close bank accounts and authorize the drawing of checks or other orders for the payment of monies;
- (vii) to borrow or raise monies or utilize any other forms of leverage and to issue, accept, endorse and execute promissory notes, drafts, bills of exchange, warrants, bonds, debentures and other negotiable or non- negotiable instruments and evidences of indebtedness and otherwise to utilize any lines of credit, credit balances or overdraft privileges available to the Domestic Fund;
- (viii) to value the Client's assets as of the close of each fiscal period and any other date selected by the respective Client;
- (ix) to direct any administrator of the Clients, banks, brokers or other custodians to effect deliveries of funds or assets, but only in the course of effecting portfolio transactions for the account of the Clients;
- (x) to remove or replace any administrator of the Clients and/or any accountant of the Clients at any time; and
- (xi) to make and execute all such documents and to take all such other actions as the Investment Manager considers necessary or appropriate to carry out its investment management duties hereunder.

- (d) In furtherance of the foregoing, the Board of Directors, on behalf of the Offshore Fund, and the General Partner, on behalf of the Domestic Fund, has delegated certain rights and responsibilities with respect to the operation of their respective partnerships and funds to the Investment Manager, as more fully set forth in the Governing Documents.
- (e) Each Client hereby designates the Investment Manager as the commodity pool operator (the “CPO”) for such Client with complete authority and responsibility for compliance with the U.S. Commodity Exchange Act and the regulations promulgated thereunder, including to perform any and all duties required of a CPO (i) that is exempt from registration under the regulations of the U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission (the “CFTC”) and (ii) that is in compliance with CFTC Rule 4.13(a)(3), including the filing of a notice of exemption under said Rule 4.13(a)(3) with the CFTC.
- (f) Additionally, each of the Clients hereby designates and appoints the Investment Manager as its agent and attorney-in-fact, with full power and authority and without the need for further approval of the Clients (except as may be required by law) to complete and execute all such documents and to take any and all actions that the Investment Manager, in its discretion, may deem advisable to carry out the foregoing with respect to the assets of the Clients; provided, however, that the Investment Manager is not intended to have actual or constructive custody of any assets of the Clients. In connection with any of the foregoing, the Investment Manager is further authorized to transfer or tender for cash or exchange such assets. In all such purchases, sales or trades the Clients authorize the Investment Manager to act for the Clients, and at their risk, and in their name and on their behalf, in the same manner and with the same force and effect as the Clients might or could do with respect to such purchases, sales or trades without prior consultation with the Clients. The Clients also appoint the Investment Manager as their agent and attorney-in-fact to vote, and to execute proxies, waivers, consents and other instruments with respect to, the assets of the Clients.
- (g) At the request of a Client, in any wind down of such Client, the Investment Manager will manage the realization of the Client’s assets and the distribution thereof to investors.
- (h) In connection with the execution of transactions on behalf of the Domestic Fund, the Domestic Fund hereby acknowledges and agrees that in the course of selecting brokers, dealers, futures commission merchants, banks and financial intermediaries to effect transactions for the Domestic Fund’s account, the Investment Manager may agree to such commissions, fees and other charges on behalf of the Domestic Fund’s account as it may deem reasonable in the circumstances, taking into consideration all such factors as the Investment Manager deems relevant, including the following: the ability to effect prompt and reliable executions at favorable prices; the operational efficiency with which transactions are effected; the financial strength, integrity and stability of the broker; the quality, comprehensiveness and frequency of available research and other services considered to be of value; and the competitiveness of commission rates in comparison with other brokers satisfying the Investment Manager's other selection criteria. It is understood that the costs of such services will not necessarily represent the lowest costs available and that the Investment Manager is under no obligation to combine or arrange orders so as to obtain reduced charges.

3. Fees and Expenses.

- (a) For its services to the Domestic Fund, the Domestic Fund will pay the Investment Manager the Management Fee (as defined in the Domestic Fund Partnership Agreement), calculated and payable monthly in advance. The Investment Manager may waive or reduce the management fees with respect to capital account and capital sub-accounts of the Domestic Fund in its discretion.
- (b) The Clients will pay, or will reimburse the Investment Manager, for all costs and expenses arising in connection with their operations, including without limitation, with respect to the Domestic Fund, all costs and expenses directly related to portfolio investments or prospective investments (whether or not consummated) of the Domestic Fund.
- (c) The Clients will not have their own separate employees or office, and they will not reimburse the Investment Manager for salaries, office rent and other general overhead costs of the Investment Manager. The Investment Manager will pay all of its own operating and overhead costs (except liability insurance) without reimbursement by the Clients. The Investment Manager is entitled to reimbursement from the Clients for any expenses paid by it on behalf of the Clients; provided that, the Investment Manager in its sole discretion may absorb any or all of such expenses incurred on behalf of the Clients. If the Investment Manager incurs any such expenses for the account of the Clients and any Customers (as defined below), the Investment Manager will allocate such expenses among the Clients and each such Customer in proportion to the size of the investment made by each in the activity or entity to which the expense relates, or in such other manner as the Investment Manager in its sole discretion considers fair and reasonable.

4. Other Activities and Investments.

- (a) The Investment Manager is not required to devote its full time to the affairs of the Clients, but must devote such of its time to the business and affairs of the Clients as it may determine, in its discretion exercised in good faith, to be necessary to conduct the affairs of the Clients for the benefit of the Clients, the shareholders of the Offshore Fund and the partners of the Domestic Fund. Subject to this limitation, the Investment Manager, its partners and principals and their affiliates are not precluded from engaging in or owning an interest in other business ventures or investment activities of any kind. It is expressly understood that the Investment Manager and its affiliates may effect investment transactions for their own accounts and for the accounts of other customers (generally, "Customers"), and the Clients further understand and agree that nothing herein restricts the ability of the Investment Manager and its affiliates to engage in any such transactions notwithstanding the fact that the Clients may enter into or engage in such transactions so long as such transactions are in the best interests of the Clients.

- (b) The Investment Manager will act in a manner that it considers fair, reasonable and equitable in allocating investment opportunities to the Clients. It is understood that when the Investment Manager determines that it would be appropriate for the Clients and one or more of the Customers to participate in an investment opportunity, the Investment Manager will seek to execute orders for, or otherwise allocate such opportunities to, the Clients and such Customers on an equitable basis. In such situations, the Investment Manager may place orders for the Clients and each Customer simultaneously, and if all such orders are not filled at the same price, the Investment Manager may cause the Clients and each Customer to pay or receive the average of the prices at which such orders were filled for the Clients and all other Customers. If all such orders cannot be fully executed under prevailing market conditions, the Investment Manager may allocate among the Clients and the Customers the investments traded in a manner which the Investment Manager considers equitable, taking into account the size of the order placed for the Clients and each such Customer as well as any other factors which the Investment Manager deems relevant.

5. Account and Other Information.

- (a) The Investment Manager must furnish such information concerning activities undertaken for the account of the Clients as the Clients may reasonably request.
- (b) The Clients agree to keep confidential and not to disclose to any person any information or matter relating to the Clients' investments (other than disclosure to the Clients' shareholders, partners, directors and employees, legal counsel, administrator, registrar and accountant in connection with the preparation and review of financial statements and with the filing of any tax returns or to any other person approved in writing by the Investment Manager (each such person being hereinafter referred to as an "Authorized Representative")); provided that the Clients and their Authorized Representatives may make such disclosure to the extent that (x) the information to be disclosed is publicly known at the time of proposed disclosure by the Clients or Authorized Representative, (y) the information otherwise is or becomes legally known to the Clients other than through disclosure by the Investment Manager or (z) such disclosure is required by law or in response to any governmental agency request or in connection with an examination by any regulatory authorities, provided that such agency, regulatory authorities or association is aware of the confidential nature of the information disclosed. Prior to making any disclosure required by law, the Clients will use their best efforts to notify the Investment Manager of such disclosure. Prior to any disclosure to any Authorized Representative, the Clients must advise such Authorized Representative of the obligations set forth in this Section 5(b) and are responsible for any breach of these obligations made by an Authorized Representative.

- (c) The Investment Manager retains, or arranges for the retention of, for a period of at least 5 years, copies of any documents generated or received by the Investment Manager in the ordinary course of business pertaining to the financial condition of the account of the Clients or to the compensation payable to the Investment Manager. At the request of the Clients, the Investment Manager will afford to the Clients' independent auditors reasonable access to such documents during customary business hours and will permit the Clients' auditors to make copies thereof or extracts therefrom at the expense of the Clients.

6. Custody.

The assets of the Clients must be held in the custody of one or more custodians (or other independent institutions performing the functions of custodian, with respect to the assets which are held by such institutions) selected by the Investment Manager. The Investment Manager will notify the Clients promptly of the proposed selection of any custodians.

7. Scope of Liability.

The Clients agree that the Investment Manager is not liable to the Clients or any of their partners or shareholders for any losses, damages, expenses or claims occasioned by any act or omission of the Investment Manager in connection with the performance of its services hereunder, other than as a result of the Investment Manager's willful misconduct, fraud or gross negligence, or as otherwise prescribed by applicable law. The Clients explicitly recognize that the investment advisory opinions, recommendations and actions of the Investment Manager will be based on advice and information deemed to be reliable but not guaranteed by or to the Investment Manager.

8. Indemnification.

- (a) The Clients must indemnify and hold harmless the Investment Manager, each member, shareholder, partner, manager or director of, or any person who controls, the Investment Manager, each of the respective affiliates of the foregoing and each of the respective executors, heirs, assigns, successors or other legal representatives of the foregoing (each, an "indemnatee") from and against any expense, loss, liability or damage arising out of any claim asserted or threatened to be asserted against such indemnatee in connection with the Investment Manager's serving or having served as such pursuant to this Agreement; provided, however, that the indemnatee is not entitled to any such indemnification with respect to any expense, loss, liability or damage that was caused by the indemnatee's willful misconduct, fraud or gross negligence.
- (b) In the event that the Investment Manager or any other indemnatee entitled to indemnification pursuant to paragraph (a) above is or becomes a party to any action or proceeding in respect of which, or there otherwise exists a claim pursuant to which, it may be entitled to seek indemnification hereunder, the indemnatee must promptly notify the respective Client thereof. The respective Client is entitled to participate in any such suit or proceeding and, to the extent that it may wish, to assume the defense thereof with counsel reasonably satisfactory to the indemnitee. After notice of an election by the Client so to assume the defense thereof, the Client will not be liable to the indemnitee hereunder for any legal or other expenses subsequently incurred by the indemnitee in connection with the defense thereof other than reasonable costs of investigation or reasonable legal expenses incurred as a result of (i) potential conflicts of interest between the indemnitee and the Client or (ii) the protection of proprietary or privacy interests of other clients of or parties in interest with the indemnitee. The Client must advance to the indemnitee the reasonable costs and expenses of investigating and/or defending such claim, subject to receiving a written undertaking from the indemnitee to repay such amounts if and to the extent of any subsequent determination by a court or other tribunal of competent jurisdiction that the indemnitee was not entitled to indemnification hereunder.

- (c) A Client is not liable hereunder for any settlement of any action or claim effected without its written consent thereto.

9. Independent Contractor.

For all purposes of this Agreement, the Investment Manager is an independent contractor and not an employee or dependent agent of any Client. Nothing herein is to be construed as making any Client a partner or co-venturer with the Investment Manager or any of its affiliates or Customers. Except as provided in this Agreement, the Investment Manager has no authority to bind, obligate or represent the Clients.

10. Term; Termination; Renewal.

- (a) This Agreement will remain in full force and effect for a period commencing on the date first above written and ending on December 31, 2014, and thereafter will renew automatically for successive one-year periods. This Agreement may be terminated by any party hereto, without penalty, upon 75 days' prior written notice to the other parties.
- (b) The termination of this Agreement does not extinguish the obligations of the Clients for the payment of fees and expenses in respect of services rendered by the Investment Manager prior to the effective date of such termination.

11. Acknowledgement.

Each of the Clients certifies and acknowledges to the Investment Manager that it:

- (i) has fully disclosed to potential investors the fee provisions and other arrangements relating to the Client's account with the Investment Manager and is satisfied that the potential investors have received sufficient information from the Investment Manager to enable them to evaluate the terms of this Agreement; and
- (ii) fully understands the method of compensation provided herein and its associated risks, including the risk that the performance compensation arrangements with affiliates of the Investment Manager may create an incentive for the Investment Manager to engage in transactions that are riskier or more speculative than would be the case in the absence of performance compensation and that such risk has been disclosed to potential investors.

12. Amendment; Modification; Waiver.

Except as otherwise expressly provided herein, this Agreement may not be amended, nor may any provision of this Agreement be considered modified or waived, unless evidenced by a writing signed by the party to be charged with such amendment, waiver or modification.

13. Binding Effect; Assignment.

This Agreement is binding upon and inures to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors, but the rights and obligations hereunder are not, except as otherwise expressly provided herein, assignable, transferable or delegable without the written consent of the other parties hereto and any attempted assignment, transfer or delegation thereof without such consent is null and void, except that the Investment Manager may assign its rights and obligations hereunder to an entity that controls, is controlled by or is under common control with the Investment Manager; provided, however, that such entity assumes the obligations of the Investment Manager hereunder.

14. Governing Law.

This Agreement is governed by and construed in accordance with the substantive laws of the State of Delaware which are applicable to contracts made and entirely to be performed therein, without regard to the place of performance hereunder.

THIS FOURTH AMENDED AND RESTATED LIMITED PARTNERSHIP AGREEMENT of Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, L.P., dated effective as of November 1, 2014, is by and among Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund GP, L.P., as General Partner, and certain Persons who were admitted as Limited Partners in accordance with the Prior Agreement and those Persons who are hereafter admitted as additional Limited Partners in accordance with this Agreement. Capitalized terms have the meanings set forth in Article I below.

PRELIMINARY STATEMENTS

- (A) The General Partner and certain of the Limited Partners have heretofore formed a limited partnership pursuant to the Act (as defined herein) by filing a Certificate of Limited Partnership with the office of the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware on December 1, 2005, and previously entered into a Limited Partnership Agreement, dated effective as of December 1, 2005, as last amended and restated by the Third Amended and Restated Limited Partnership Agreement dated as of December 31, 2007 (the “Prior Agreement”).
- (B) The General Partner filed an amendment to the Certificate of Limited Partnership of the Fund on August 26, 2014, changing the name of the Fund to “Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, L.P.”
- (C) The parties hereto desire to continue the Partnership as a limited partnership under the Act and to make certain modifications to the Prior Agreement, as hereinafter set forth.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants expressed herein and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and legal sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto hereby agree that the Prior Agreement is amended and restated in its entirety to read as follows:

Article I DEFINITIONS

For purposes of this Agreement:

“Act” means the Delaware Revised Uniform Limited Partnership Act, 6 Del. C. §§ 17-101, et seq., as in effect on the date hereof and as amended from time to time, or any successor law.

“Accounting Period” means each period that starts on the day immediately following the last day of the preceding Accounting Period, and that ends on the earliest of the following dates:

- (a) the last day of a calendar month;
- (b) any date as of which any withdrawal or distribution of capital is made with respect to any Capital Account or as of which this Agreement provides for any amount to be credited to or debited against a Capital Account, other than a withdrawal or distribution by or to, or an allocation to, all Capital Accounts that does not result in any change of the Partnership Percentage relating to any Capital Account;

(c) the date which immediately precedes any day as of which a capital contribution is accepted by the General Partner from any new or existing Partner; or

(d) any other date which the General Partner selects.

“Advisers Act” means the U.S. Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended, and the rules promulgated thereunder.

“Advisory Committee” has the meaning set forth in Section 4.6.

“Affiliate” means, with respect to any Person, a Person which controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with, such Person. For these purposes, “control” (including “controlled by” and “under common control”) means the possession, direct or indirect, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of a Person, whether through the ownership of voting securities, by contract or otherwise.

“Affiliated Investor” means any Limited Partner that is an Affiliate of the General Partner or the Investment Manager, including their respective employees, members or partners and their respective immediate family members.

“Agreement” means this Fourth Amended and Restated Limited Partnership Agreement of the Partnership, as amended from time to time.

“Alternative Investment Vehicle” has the meaning set forth in Section 4.7.

“Arbitration Rules” has the meaning set forth in Section 8.7(b)(i).

“Authorized Representative” has the meaning set forth in Section 7.5(a).

“Bad Actor Limited Partner” means a Limited Partner that (i) would cause the disqualification of the Partnership from using Rule 506 under the Securities Act due to the operation of paragraph (d) thereof (or its successor) if such Limited Partner were to beneficially own 20% or more of the outstanding voting interest of all of the Partners (excluding any other Interests that are Non-Voting Interests) or (ii) the General Partner determines is likely to become subject to a conviction, order, judgment, finding or that would be likely to cause the disqualification described in clause (i).

“BHCA” means the U.S. Bank Holding Company Act of 1956, as amended.

“BHCA Subject Person” means any Limited Partner that is subject, directly or indirectly, to the provisions of Section 4 of the BHCA and the regulations of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System promulgated thereunder.

“Business Day” means any day other than (a) Saturday and Sunday and (b) any other day on which banks located in New York, New York are required or authorized by law to be closed.

“Calculation Period” means, with respect to each Capital Account, the period commencing as of the date of the establishment of the Capital Account (in the case of the initial Calculation Period) and thereafter each period commencing as of the day following the last day of the preceding Calculation Period with respect to such Capital Account, and ending as of the close of business on the first to occur of the following:

- (a) the last day of a calendar year;
- (b) the withdrawal of all or a portion of the Interest attributable to such Capital Account (but only with respect to such withdrawn amount);
- (c) the permitted Transfer of all or any portion of such Limited Partner's Interest; or
- (d) the final distribution to such Limited Partner following the dissolution of the Partnership.

"Capital Account" means, with respect to each Partner, the capital account established and maintained on behalf of such Partner as described in Section 3.3.

"Carryforward Account" means a memorandum account to be recorded in the books and records of the Partnership with respect to each Capital Account that has an initial balance of zero and that is adjusted as follows:

- (a) As of the first day after the close of each Calculation Period for such Capital Account, the balance of the Carryforward Account is (i) increased by the amount, if any, of such the Negative Performance Change with respect to such Capital Account for such Calculation Period and (ii) reduced (but not below zero) by the amount, if any, of the Positive Performance Change with respect to such Capital Account for such Calculation Period.
- (b) As of the close of the Calculation Period, any positive balance of the Carryforward Account is further adjusted if such Capital Account has been reduced during such Calculation Period as a result of a distribution or withdrawal, by reducing such positive balance (but not below zero) by an amount determined by multiplying (i) such positive balance by (ii) a fraction, of which (A) the numerator is equal to the amount so distributed or withdrawn, and (B) the denominator is equal to the balance of such Capital Account immediately before giving effect to such distribution or withdrawal.

The Carryforward Account attributable to each Series A Capital Account shall be reset to zero on the Effective Date. For the avoidance of doubt, any gains or losses allocated by the Partnership to any Capital Account of a Limited Partner prior to the Effective Date will be inapplicable in the calculation of the Carryforward Account following the Effective Date.

"Certificate" means the Certificate of Limited Partnership of the Partnership referred to in Section 2.1(b).

"Code" means the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and as hereafter amended, or any successor law.

“Dispute” has the meaning set forth in Section 8.7.

“Effective Date” means the date set forth above as the effective date of this Agreement.

“Election Notice” has the meaning set forth in Section 8.11(c).

“FAA” has the meaning set forth in Section 8.7(b)(ii)

“FATCA” means Sections 1471 through 1474 of the Code, as amended, and any Regulations thereunder or official interpretations thereof, including any successor Regulations or interpretations, and any intergovernmental agreement implementing the foregoing.

“FINRA” means the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, Inc.

“Fiscal Year” means each period commencing on January 1 of each year and ending on December 31 of such year, unless the General Partner elects another fiscal year; provided that any such other fiscal year is permissible for U.S. federal income tax purposes. In the case of the Fiscal Year in which the Partnership is terminated in accordance with Article VI, “Fiscal Year” means the portion of the calendar year ending on the date on which the Partnership is terminated.

“GAAP” means generally accepted accounting principles in the United States, as amended.

“General Partner” means Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund GP, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership, any successor thereto, and any Person hereafter admitted as an additional general partner, in its capacity as general partner of the Partnership.

“Indemnified Person” has the meaning set forth in Section 4.5(a).

“Interest” means the entire ownership interest of a Partner in the Partnership at the relevant time, including the right of such Partner to any and all benefits to which a Partner may be entitled as provided in this Agreement, together with the obligations of such Partner to comply with all the terms and provisions of this Agreement.

“Investment Company Act” means the U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, and the regulations promulgated thereunder.

“Investment Management Agreement” means the investment management agreement between the Investment Manager, the General Partner, the Offshore Fund and the Partnership.

“Investment Manager” means Highland Capital Management, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership, or any successor thereto, or any Person thereafter appointed as an investment manager of the Partnership in accordance with the Investment Management Agreement.

“Investments” means investment in securities, assets and other financial or intangible investment instruments, contracts or products made as described in the Partnership’s offering memorandum.

“Limited Partners” means any Person who is a limited partner of the Partnership (which, except as otherwise indicated, will include a substituted Limited Partner) at the time of reference thereto, in such Person’s capacity as a limited partner of the Partnership. For all purposes of the Act, the Limited Partners of the Partnership will constitute a single class or group of limited partners.

“Majority-in-Interest of Limited Partners” means Limited Partners whose Partnership Percentages represent more than 50% of the aggregate Partnership Percentages of all Limited Partners.

“Management Fee” means, with respect to each Capital Account, an amount equal to one fourth of (i) 1.5% of each Series A Capital Account balance; (ii) 1.5% of each Series B Capital Account balance; (iii) 1.0% of each Series C Capital Account balance; and (iv) 2.0% of each Series D Capital Account balance, which amounts are calculated on the first Business Day of each calendar quarter. Management Fees shall be appropriately adjusted for contributions during any partial quarter.

“Negative Basis” means, with respect to any Partner and as of any time of calculation, the excess of such Partner’s “adjusted tax basis” in its Interest for U.S. federal income tax purposes at such time (determined without regard to any adjustments made to such adjusted tax basis by reason of any Transfer of such Interest) over the amount that such Partner is entitled to receive upon withdrawal from or liquidation of the Partnership.

“Negative Basis Partner” means any Partner who withdraws from the Partnership and who has a Negative Basis as of the Withdrawal Date, but such Partner shall cease to be a Negative Basis Partner at such time as it has received allocations pursuant to Section 3.11(d) equal to such Partner’s Negative Basis as of the Withdrawal Date and without regard to such Partner’s share of the liabilities of the Partnership under Section 752 of the Code.

“Net Assets” means the total value, as determined by the General Partner or its delegate(s) in accordance with Section 7.2, of all Investments and other assets of the Partnership (including net unrealized appreciation or depreciation of the assets and accrued interest and dividends receivable net of any withholding taxes), less an amount equal to all accrued debts, liabilities and obligations of the Partnership (including any reserves for contingencies accrued pursuant to Section 3.6.). Except as otherwise expressly provided herein, Net Assets as of the first day of any Accounting Period are determined on the basis of the valuation of assets conducted as of the close of the immediately preceding Accounting Period, but after giving effect to any capital contributions made by any Partner subsequent to the last day of such immediately preceding Accounting Period, and after giving effect to Management Fee charges, and Net Assets as of the last day of any Accounting Period are determined before giving effect to any of the following amounts payable by the Partnership generally or in respect of any Investment which are effective as of the date on which such determination is made:

- (a) any Performance Allocation as of the date on which such determination is made;

(b) any withdrawals or distributions payable to any Partner which are effective as of the date on which such determination is made; and

(c) withholding or other taxes, expenses of processing withdrawals and other items payable, any increases or decreases in any reserves, holdbacks or other amounts recorded pursuant to Section 3.6 and any increases or decreases in the value of any Restricted New Issues pursuant to Section 3.8(b) and other amounts specially allocated pursuant to Section 3.8 during the Accounting Period ending as of the date on which such determination is made, to the extent the General Partner determines that, pursuant to any provisions of this Agreement, such items are not to be charged ratably among the Capital Accounts of all Partners on the basis of their respective Partnership Percentages as of the commencement of the Accounting Period.

“Net Loss” means any amount by which the Net Assets as of the first day of an Accounting Period exceed the Net Assets as of the last day of the same Accounting Period.

“Net Profit” means any amount by which the Net Assets as of the last day of an Accounting Period exceed the Net Assets as of the first day of the same Accounting Period.

“New Issue Rules” has the meaning set forth in Section 3.8(b).

“Nonrecourse Deductions” has the meaning set forth in Regulations Section 1.704-2(b)(1) and (c).

“Non-Voting Interest” means an Interest, the holder of which is not entitled to vote, consent or withhold consent with respect to any Partnership matter (including but not limited to mergers, sales of substantially all assets or consolidations of the Partnership), except as otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement.

“Offshore Fund” means Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, Ltd., a Cayman Islands exempted company and a Limited Partner of the Partnership.

“Orderly Realization” has the meaning set forth in Section 6.1.

“Other Account” means any assets or investments of the General Partner, or any assets managed by the General Partner or any Affiliate of the General Partner for the account of any Person or entity (including investment vehicles) other than the Partnership, which are invested or which are available for investment in securities or other instruments or for trading activities whether or not of the specific type being conducted by the Partnership.

“Partner” means the General Partner or any of the Limited Partners, except as otherwise expressly provided herein, and “Partners” means the General Partner and all of the Limited Partners.

“Partnership” means the limited partnership governed by this Agreement.

“Partnership Minimum Gain” has the meaning set forth in Regulations Section 1.704-2(b)(2) and (d).

“Partnership Percentage” means a percentage established for each Capital Account on the Partnership’s books as of the first day of each Accounting Period. The Partnership Percentage of a Capital Account for an Accounting Period is determined by dividing the amount of such Capital Account as of the beginning of the Accounting Period by the sum of the Capital Accounts of all of the Partners as of the beginning of the Accounting Period. The numerator and denominator of the above shall be calculated after crediting all capital contributions to the Capital Account or Partnership, as appropriate, which are effective as of such date, net of all deductions, including Management Fees. The sum of the Partnership Percentages of all Capital Accounts for each Accounting Period shall equal 100%.

“Performance Allocation” means, for each Capital Account of a Limited Partner, 20% of the amount by which (a) the Positive Performance Change for such Calculation Period for such Capital Account, if any, exceeds (b) any positive balance in the Carryforward Account for such Capital Account as of the most recent prior date as of which any adjustment has been made thereto.

“Performance Change” means, with respect to each Capital Account of a Limited Partner for each Calculation Period, the difference between:

(a) the sum of (i) the balance of such Capital Account as of the close of the Calculation Period (after giving effect to Management Fees and all allocations to be made to such Capital Account as of such date, including such Capital Account’s allocable share of any profits or losses pursuant to Section 3.8 and any credits or debits of any applicable carrying charge associated therewith other than any Performance Allocation to be debited against such Capital Account), plus (ii) any debits to such Capital Account during the Calculation Period to reflect any actual or deemed distributions or withdrawals with respect to such Capital Account, plus (iii) any debits to such Capital Account during the Calculation Period to reflect any items allocable to such Capital Account pursuant to Section 3.5(b) or (c); and

(b) the balance of such Capital Account as of the commencement of the Calculation Period.

If the amount specified in clause (a) exceeds the amount specified in clause (b) such difference is a “Positive Performance Change,” and if the amount specified in clause (b) exceeds the amount specified in clause (a), such difference is a “Negative Performance Change.”

The Performance Change will be computed separately for each Capital Account (and thus each separately maintained capital sub-account created to reflect an additional contribution to a Capital Account). Thus, if a Limited Partner has multiple Capital Accounts, the Performance Change will be calculated separately for each Capital Account and the resulting “Positive Performance Change” and “Negative Performance Change” shall be separately allocated to each such Capital Account and shall not be netted against each other.

“Person” means any individual, partnership, corporation, limited liability company, trust or other entity or any government (including a governmental agency or political subdivision thereof).

“Positive Basis” means, with respect to any Partner and as of any time of calculation, the excess of the amount that such Partner is entitled to receive upon withdrawal from or liquidation of the Partnership over such Partner’s “adjusted tax basis” in its Interest for U.S. federal income tax purposes at such time (determined without regard to any adjustments made to such adjusted tax basis by reason of any Transfer of such Interest).

“Positive Basis Partner” means any Partner who withdraws from the Partnership and who has a Positive Basis as of the Withdrawal Date, but such Partner ceases to be a Positive Basis Partner at such time as it has received allocations pursuant to Section 3.11(c) equal to such Partner’s Positive Basis as of the Withdrawal Date and without regard to such Partner’s share of the liabilities of the Partnership under Section 752 of the Code.

“Prior Agreement” has the meaning set forth in the Preliminary Statements to this Agreement.

“Realization Period” has the meaning set forth in Section 6.1.

“Recent Amendments” means the changes to the terms of an investment in the Partnership as contemplated in this Agreement and the constituent documents related thereto, including, but not limited to, the re-designation of all Interests held by Limited Partners on the Effective Date as Series A Interests.

“Regulations” means the proposed, temporary and final U.S. Treasury Regulations promulgated under the Code, including any successor regulations.

“Withdrawal Date” means, as applicable, the Series A Withdrawal Date, the Series B Withdrawal Date, the Series C Withdrawal Date, and the Series D Withdrawal Date or any other effective date of withdrawal pursuant to Section 5.5.

Article II ORGANIZATION

2.1 Continuation of Limited Partnership

- (a) The General Partner and the Limited Partners hereby agree to continue the Partnership as a limited partnership under and pursuant to the Act and this Agreement.
- (b) The General Partner has executed and filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware a Certificate, and shall execute, acknowledge and file with the Secretary any amendments thereto as may be required by the Act, and any other instruments, documents and certificates which, in the opinion of the Partnership’s legal counsel, may from time to time be required by the laws of the United States of America, the State of Delaware or any other jurisdiction in which the Partnership determines to do business, or any political subdivision or agency thereof, or which such legal counsel may deem necessary or appropriate to effectuate, implement and continue the valid and subsisting existence and business of the Partnership. The General Partner shall cause any required amendment to the Certificate to be filed promptly following the event requiring such amendment. All amendments may be signed by the General Partner (as required by the Act) and may be signed either personally or by an attorney-in-fact.
- (c) The parties hereto agree to operate the Partnership as a limited partnership pursuant to the provisions of the Act and of this Agreement and agree that the rights and liabilities of the Limited Partners and the General Partner are as provided in the Act, for limited partners and the general partner except as provided herein.
- (d) The parties hereto acknowledge and agree that the Partnership shall be classified as a “partnership” and not as an association taxable as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes. No election may be made by the Partners or the Partnership to treat the Partnership as other than a “partnership” for U.S. federal, state and/or local income tax purposes and, to the extent necessary, the Partners or Partnership shall make any election to treat the Partnership as a “partnership.” The Partners shall treat the Partnership consistently with its status as a “partnership” for U.S. federal income tax purposes and agree to undertake any further action which is necessary to treat the Partnership as such, and shall not undertake any action that is inconsistent with the Partnership’s status as a “partnership” for U.S. federal, state and/or local income tax purposes.
- (e) The General Partner may change the domicile of the Partnership to another state, country or other jurisdiction where advisable due to legal, tax or other considerations; provided that no such change of domicile would reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Limited Partners.

2.2 Name of Partnership

- (a) The name of the Partnership is Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, L.P. or such other name as the General Partner may hereafter adopt, subject to causing an amendment to the Certificate to be filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware in accordance with the Act. The General Partner shall send a notice of any change of name to the Limited Partners. All business of the Partnership shall be conducted under such name or under such other name as the General Partner deems appropriate.
- (b) The Partnership shall have the exclusive ownership and right to use the Partnership name so long as the Partnership continues, despite the withdrawal, expulsion, resignation or removal of any Limited Partner, but upon the Partnership's termination or at such time as there ceases to be a general partner, the Partnership shall assign the name and the goodwill attached thereto to the General Partner without payment by the assignee(s) of any consideration therefor.

2.3 Principal Office; Registered Office

- (a) The Partnership's principal office shall be at such location as the General Partner may designate from time to time.
- (b) The Partnership's registered office in the State of Delaware is at 1209 Orange Street, County of New Castle, Wilmington, Delaware 19801, and the registered agent of the Partnership in the State of Delaware is The Corporation Trust Company, unless a different registered office or agent is designated from time to time by the General Partner.

2.4 Term of Partnership

The term of the Partnership commenced on the date on which the Certificate was filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware and continues until the Partnership is dissolved pursuant to Section 6.1 (unless its term is extended pursuant to Section 6.1). The legal existence of the Partnership as a separate legal entity continues until the cancellation of the Certificate.

2.5 Object and Powers of Partnership

- (a) The object and business of the Partnership is (i) to purchase, sell (including short sales), invest and trade in Investments, (ii) to engage in financial transactions, including borrowing, financing, pledging, hedging and other derivative transactions relating thereto for the benefit of the Partnership, (iii) to engage in any lawful act or activity of which limited partnerships may be formed under the Act and (iv) to engage in any and all activities necessary or incidental to the foregoing.

- (b) The Partnership possesses and may exercise all such powers and privileges as the General Partner considers necessary, convenient or incidental to the conduct, promotion or attainment of the object of the Partnership.

2.6 Liability of Partners

In no event shall any Limited Partner (or former Limited Partner) be obligated to make any contribution to the Partnership in addition to its agreed capital contribution (or other payments provided for herein) or have any liability for the repayment or discharge of the debts and obligations of the Partnership except to the extent provided herein or as required by the Act.

2.7 Actions by Partnership

The Partnership may execute, deliver and perform all contracts, agreements and other undertakings and engage in all activities and transactions as may in the opinion of the General Partner be necessary or advisable to carry out its objects.

2.8 Reliance by Third Parties

Persons dealing with the Partnership are entitled to rely conclusively upon the power and authority of the General Partner as herein set forth.

2.9 UCC Status of Limited Partner Interests

- (a) For purposes of the grant, pledge, attachment or perfection of a security interest in an Interest or otherwise, the Interests are deemed to be “securities” within the meaning of Section 8-102(a)(15) and as provided by Section 8-103(c) of the Uniform Commercial Code as in effect from time to time in the State of Delaware or analogous provisions in the Uniform Commercial Code in effect in any other jurisdiction.
- (b) Any Interest may be evidenced by a certificate of partnership interest issued by the Partnership in such form as the General Partner may approve. Every certificate representing an Interest shall bear a legend substantially in the following form:

“For the purposes of Section 8-103 of the Uniform Commercial Code of the United States of America in effect in any relevant jurisdiction, the certificates representing an interest in the Limited Partnership constitute “securities” within the meaning of Section 8-102 and Section 8-103 of the Uniform Commercial Code.”

2.10 Series of Interests

- (a) The General Partner, at any time, may without notification to or consent of the other Limited Partners, create and offer different Series of Interests in the Partnership with such rights, obligations, liabilities, privileges, designations and preferences (including different investment strategies, underlying investments, degrees of leverage, Management Fees, Performance Allocations, brokerage commissions, transparency, withdrawal rights, co-investment opportunities, and other differences) as the General Partner may determine upon the issuance of such Series; provided that such Series would not reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the existing Limited Partners. The terms and rights of such Series may be set forth in a supplement to the Partnership's offering memorandum or a "side letter" or other agreement, which the General Partner may incorporate by reference.

- (b) All Interests in the Partnership held by Limited Partners (including Affiliated Investors) as of the Effective Date are hereby designated as Series A Interests.

Article III CAPITAL

3.1 Contributions to Capital

- (a) The minimum required initial capital contribution of each Limited Partner is the amount determined by the General Partner. The General Partner may change the required minimum initial contribution amount at any time with respect to any, all or less than all Limited Partners.
- (b) The Partnership may accept additional contributions at such times as the General Partner may permit, but no Limited Partner shall be obligated to make any additional capital contribution to the Partnership, subject to the provisions of Section 3.5(b) and any contrary provision of the Act. The minimum required additional capital contribution of any existing Limited Partner to the Partnership shall be the amount the General Partner may determine. The General Partner may change the required minimum additional contribution amount at any time with respect to any, all or less than all Limited Partners.
- (c) The General Partner or an Affiliate has made a capital contribution to the Partnership as set forth in the Schedule of Partners. Except as required by the Act, the General Partner is not required to make any additional capital contributions to the Partnership. The General Partner may, however, make capital contributions to the Partnership in such amounts and at such times as it may determine. The General Partner or any of its Affiliates have the right at any time to make additional capital contributions as a Limited Partner or General Partner. If the General Partner or any of its Affiliates (including their associated Persons, such as officers, directors, partners, members or employees or any of their family members) makes a capital contribution as a Limited Partner, the General Partner or the Investment Manager shall have authority to waive the Management Fee and/or Performance Allocation with respect to such Limited Partner.
- (d) Except as otherwise permitted by the General Partner (i) initial or additional capital contributions by each Partner shall be paid in one installment with cash and/or Investments having an aggregate value as set forth in the Partnership's books and records, and (ii) initial contributions are due as of the date of admission of such Person as a Limited Partner of the Partnership. Whether Investments may be accepted as a contribution to the capital of the Partnership is determined by the General Partner.

3.2 Rights of Partners in Capital

- (a) No Partner shall be entitled to interest on its capital contributions to the Partnership. For the avoidance of doubt, interest income, if any, earned on subscription amounts remitted to the Partnership prior to the date that an Interest is issued to a Partner shall be payable to the Partnership and not applied toward the purchase of an Interest.
- (b) No Partner shall have the right to the return of any capital contribution to the Partnership except (i) upon withdrawal of such Partner pursuant to Section 5.5 or (ii) upon the dissolution of the Partnership pursuant to Section 6.1. The entitlement to any such return is limited to the value of the Capital Account(s) of the Partner. The General Partner shall not be liable for the return of any such amounts.

3.3 Capital Accounts

- (a) The Partnership shall maintain a separate Capital Account for each Partner. In the event a Limited Partner invests in more than one Series of Interests, the Partnership will maintain a separate Capital Account with respect to each Series of Interests held by such Limited Partner, with each such Capital Account being treated as if it were the Capital Account of a separate Partner for purposes of computing the Performance Allocation, the Management Fee and the withdrawal rights attributable to the Series.
- (b) The General Partner may, in its discretion, maintain a separate sub-account for such purposes as the General Partner may determine appropriate, including for recordkeeping, accounting or reporting or to otherwise give effect to the provisions of this Agreement. Each Capital Account shall reflect the aggregate sum of the balances in such Partner's Capital Account.
- (c) If a Partner makes an additional capital contribution to an existing Capital Account, the Capital Account will be sub-divided into separate capital sub-accounts attributable to each separate capital contribution, with each capital sub-account treated as if it were the Capital Account of a separate Partner for purposes of determining the Management Fee, the Performance Allocation and withdrawal rights and restrictions applicable to each capital sub-account. References herein to a Partner's "Capital Account" include any such separately maintained capital sub-accounts.
- (d) The Partnership will issue to the Offshore Fund an Interest and maintain capital sub-accounts that correspond to each Sub-Series of Shares and each capital sub-account is treated separately for determining Management Fees, the Performance Allocations and withdrawal rights.

- (e) Each Capital Account has an initial balance equal to the amount of any cash and the net value of any property constituting the relevant Partner's initial capital contribution to such Capital Account.
- (f) Each Capital Account shall be increased by such Capital Account's allocable share of the Net Profits allocated by the Partnership to such Capital Account pursuant to Section 3.4.
- (g) Each Capital Account shall be reduced by (i) the amount of any cash and the net value of any property withdrawn by or distributed to the relevant Partner pursuant to Sections 5.5 or 6.3, including any amount deducted from any such withdrawal or distribution pursuant to Section 5.5(h), (ii) such Capital Account's allocable share of the Net Losses allocated by the Partnership to such Capital Account pursuant to Section 3.4, (iii) such Capital Account's pro rata portion of the expenses allocable (or specially allocable) by the Partnership pursuant to Section 3.5, (iv) such Capital Account's allocable share of the Performance Allocation allocable pursuant to Section 3.7, and (v) such Capital Account's pro rata portion of the expenses payable by the Partnership pursuant to Section 4.2(b).
- (h) The Capital Account of the Investment Manager, as a special Limited Partner of the Partnership, shall be increased by the amount of the Performance Allocation allocated to such Capital Account and the investment gains therein.
- (i) Each Capital Account shall also be adjusted to reflect all other allocations and other changes in the value of such Capital Account not otherwise described in this Section 3.3 in the manner specified in the remaining provisions of this Article III.

3.4 Allocations of Net Profit and Net Loss

Subject to Sections 3.5 through 3.10, as of the last day of each Accounting Period, any Net Profit or Net Loss of such Accounting Period shall be separately allocated among and credited to or debited against the Capital Accounts of the Partners in proportion to their respective Partnership Percentages for such Accounting Period.

3.5 Allocation of Management Fees, Withholding Taxes and Certain Other Expenditures

- (a) As of the first Business Day of each calendar quarter, each Capital Account's Management Fee for such calendar quarter shall be debited against such Capital Account and paid by the Partnership to the Investment Manager. Capital contributions accepted after the commencement of the calendar quarter shall be subject to a prorated Management Fee reflecting the time remaining during that quarter. The Investment Manager may reduce or eliminate the Management Fee with respect to any Partner (or Capital Account) in its sole discretion; provided that such reduction or elimination shall not increase the Management Fee payable by any other Partner (or Capital Account).
- (b) To the extent the General Partner or the Partnership is required by law (including under circumstances where the General Partner or the Partnership is unable to rely conclusively on any withholding certification provided by a Partner) to withhold or to make tax payments on behalf of or with respect to any Partner or Partners (including backup withholding or withholding under FATCA), the General Partner or the Partnership may withhold such amounts and make such tax payments as so required. If the Partnership pays or incurs any withholding tax or other tax obligation (including under FATCA) with respect to the income allocable or distributable to one or more Partners, then the amount of such withholding tax or tax obligation shall be treated as a distribution to such Partner or Partners, as applicable, pursuant to the terms of this Agreement. Such amount shall be debited against the Capital Account(s) of such Partner or Partners as of the close of the Accounting Period during which the Partnership so withholds, pays or incurs such obligation. If the amount so withheld, paid or incurred is greater than the balance of the Capital Account(s) of the relevant Partner or Partners, as applicable, then such Partner or Partners and any successors shall make a contribution to the capital of the Partnership, within 10 days following request by the General Partner, the amount of such excess. The General Partner is not obligated to apply for or obtain a reduction of or exemption from withholding tax on behalf of any Partner that may be eligible for such reduction or exemption, or be otherwise obligated to structure Investments so as to reduce or avoid any such withholding tax.

- (c) Except as otherwise provided for in this Agreement, any expenditures payable by the Partnership, to the extent determined by the General Partner to have been paid or withheld on behalf of, or by reason of particular circumstances applicable to, one or more but fewer than all of the Partners, shall be specially allocated only to the Capital Accounts of those Partners on whose behalf such payments are made or whose particular circumstances gave rise to such payments. Such allocations shall be debited from the relevant Capital Accounts of such Partners as of the close of the Accounting Period during which any such items were accrued by the Partnership.

3.6 Reserves; Adjustments for Certain Future Events

- (a) The General Partner may cause appropriate reserves to be created, accrued and charged against Net Assets and proportionately against the Capital Accounts for contingent liabilities or probable losses, such reserves to be in the amounts which the General Partner deems necessary or appropriate. The General Partner may increase or reduce any such reserve from time to time by such amounts as the General Partner deems necessary or appropriate. The amount of any such reserve, or any increase or decrease therein, may, at the election of the General Partner, be debited or credited, as the General Partner deems appropriate, to the Capital Accounts of current Partners that (i) are Partners at the time when such reserve is created, increased, or decreased, as the case may be, or (ii) were Partners, or are transferees from Persons who were Partners, at the time of the act or omission giving rise to the contingent liability for which the reserve has been established by the General Partner.

- (b) If the General Partner determines that it is equitable to treat an amount to be paid or received as being applicable to one or more prior periods, then all or a portion of such amount may be proportionately debited or credited, as appropriate, in proportion to the Capital Account balances of the current Partners as such balances existed during any such prior period.

3.7 Performance Allocation

- (a) The Performance Allocation shall be debited against each Capital Account of each Limited Partner as of the last day of each Calculation Period with respect to such Capital Account, and the amount so debited shall simultaneously be credited to the Capital Account of the Investment Manager, as a special Limited Partner of the Partnership.
- (b) The Investment Manager may waive or alter the Performance Allocation with respect to any Limited Partner.

3.8 Limited Participation Investments and New Issues

- (a) If the General Partner determines that for legal, tax, regulatory or bona fide other reasons as to which the General Partner and any Partner may agree such Partner should not participate (or should receive a reduced participation) in the Net Profit or Net Loss with respect to any Investment, the General Partner may allocate Net Profit or Net Loss, if any, with respect to such Investment only to Partners to whom the restrictions on participating in that Investment do not apply. In order to allocate Net Profit or Net Loss accordingly, the General Partner may establish and maintain a memorandum account in the accounting records of the Partnership on a Partner-by-Partner basis with respect to each such Investment. The Net Profit and Net Loss and expenses relating to such Investment will be separately calculated and allocated based on each participating Partner's balance in such memorandum account for such Investment divided by the sum of the balances of all memorandum accounts for all participating Partners. In order to compensate a Limited Partner who is not participating in an Investment pursuant to this Section 3.8 for the use of such Partner's share of Partnership capital to purchase the Investment, the General Partner may credit the non-participating Partner's Capital Account (and correspondingly debit the Capital Account of the participating Partners with a carrying charge). Any distributions from the memorandum account will be based on the participating Partner's respective percentage interest in such Investment.
- (b) Pursuant to certain rules of FINRA ("New Issue Rules"), members of FINRA are permitted to sell to the Partnership certain publicly-offered securities ("Restricted Issues") only if the Capital Accounts of Partners connected with the securities industry or executive officers or directors of investment banking clients of underwriters ("Restricted Capital Accounts") are not restricted from sharing a beneficial interest in such Restricted Issues in accordance with the provisions of the New Issue Rules. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 3.4, if the Partnership chooses to invest in Restricted Issues, the Partnership shall not allocate any items of income, gain, loss, deduction and credit that relate to investments in Restricted Issues to Restricted Capital Accounts except to the extent permitted by the New Issue Rules, and shall instead allocate such items among the other Capital Accounts on a pro rata basis. To the extent the New Issue Rules permit certain Persons with Restricted Capital Accounts to participate in profits and losses from Restricted Issues, the General Partner shall allocate such profits and losses from Restricted Issues among such Restricted Capital Accounts on a pro rata basis or on such other basis that the General Partner reasonably determines ensures compliance with the New Issue Rules. To the extent consistent with the New Issue Rules, the General Partner shall determine when all Capital Accounts may participate in the Net Profit and Net Loss from any Restricted Issue. The General Partner shall value any Restricted Issue at such time at the then-current price of the security in the secondary market.

3.9 Allocation to Avoid Capital Account Deficits

To the extent that any debits pursuant to this Article III would reduce the balance of the Capital Account of any Limited Partner below zero, that portion of any such debits shall instead be allocated to the Capital Account of the General Partner. Any credits in any subsequent Accounting Period which would otherwise be allocable pursuant to this Article III to a Capital Account of any Limited Partner previously affected by the application of this Section 3.9 shall instead be allocated to the Capital Account of the General Partner in such amounts as are necessary to offset all previous debits attributable to such Limited Partner pursuant to this Section 3.9 not previously recovered.

3.10 Regulatory Allocations

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement:

- (a) Qualified Income Offset. In the event any Limited Partner unexpectedly receives any adjustments, allocations, or distributions described in Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(4), 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(5), or 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(6) of the Regulations, items of Partnership income and gain shall be specially allocated to each such Limited Partner in an amount and manner sufficient to eliminate, to the extent required by the Regulations, the deficit balance in the Capital Account of such Limited Partner as quickly as possible; provided that an allocation pursuant to this Section 3.10(a) may be made only if and to the extent that such Limited Partner would have a deficit balance in its Capital Account after all other allocations provided for in this Article III have been tentatively made as if this Section 3.10(a) were not in this Agreement. This Section 3.10(a) is intended to constitute a “qualified income offset” within the meaning of Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii) of the Regulations and is to be interpreted consistently therewith.
- (b) Minimum Gain Chargeback. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Section 3.10, if there is a net decrease in Partnership Minimum Gain during any Fiscal Year, the Partners shall be specially allocated items of Partnership income and gain for such Fiscal Year (and, if necessary, subsequent Fiscal Years) in an amount equal to the portion of any such Partner's share of the net decrease in Partnership Minimum Gain, determined in accordance with Regulations Sections 1.704-2(f) and (g). This Section 3.10(b) is intended to comply with the minimum gain chargeback requirement in such Sections of the Regulations and shall be interpreted consistently therewith.

- (c) Gross Income Allocation. In the event any Limited Partner has a deficit Capital Account at the end of any Fiscal Year that is in excess of the sum of (i) the amount such Limited Partner is obligated to restore pursuant to any provision of this Agreement and (ii) the amount such Limited Partner is deemed to be obligated to restore pursuant to the penultimate sentences of Sections 1.704-2(g)(1) and 1.704-2(i)(5) of the Regulations, each such Limited Partner shall be specially allocated items of Partnership gross income and gain in the amount of such excess as quickly as possible; provided that an allocation pursuant to this Section 3.10(c) may be made only if and to the extent that such Limited Partner would have a deficit Capital Account in excess of such sum after all other allocations provided for in this Article III have been made as if Section 3.10(a) and this Section 3.10(c) were not in this Agreement.
- (d) Curative Allocations. The allocations set forth this Section 3.10 (the "Regulatory Allocations") are intended to comply with certain requirements of the Regulations. It is the intent of the Partners that, to the extent possible, all Regulatory Allocations shall be offset either with other Regulatory Allocations or with special allocations of other items of Partnership income, gain, loss, or deduction pursuant to this Section 3.10. Therefore, notwithstanding any other provision of this Article III (other than the Regulatory Allocations), the General Partner shall make such offsetting special allocations of the Partnership income, gain, loss, or deduction in whatever manner it determines appropriate so that, after such offsetting allocations are made, each Partner's Capital Account balance is, to the extent possible, equal to the Capital Account balance such Partner would have had if the Regulatory Allocations were not part of this Partnership Agreement and all Partnership items were allocated pursuant to other provisions of this Article III (other than the Regulatory Allocations).
- (e) Nonrecourse Deductions. Any Nonrecourse Deductions for any Fiscal Year or other period shall be allocated to the Partners in accordance with their Partnership Percentages.
- (f) Section 704(b) Compliance. The allocations provided in this Section 3.10 are intended to comply with the Regulations under Section 704(b) of the Code and may, as determined by the General Partner, be interpreted and applied in a manner consistent therewith.

3.11 Allocations for Income Tax Purposes

- (a) Income Tax Allocations. Except as otherwise required by Code Section 704(c), items of income, gain, deduction, loss, or credit that are recognized for U.S. federal income tax purposes in each Fiscal Year shall be allocated among the Partners in such manner as to reflect equitably amounts credited to or debited against each Partner's Capital Account, whether in such Fiscal Year or in prior Fiscal Years. To this end, the Partnership shall establish and maintain records which shall show the extent to which the Capital Account of each Partner comprises amounts that have not been reflected in the taxable income of such Partner as of the last day of each Fiscal Year. To the extent deemed by the General Partner to be feasible and equitable, taxable income and gains in each Fiscal Year shall be allocated among the Partners who have enjoyed the related credits to their Capital Accounts, and items of deduction, loss and credit in each Fiscal Year shall be allocated among the Partners who have borne the burden of the related debits to their Capital Accounts. Foreign tax credits attributable to taxes incurred by the Partnership shall be allocated in a manner consistent with Section 1.704-1(b)(4)(viii) of the Regulations. All matters concerning allocations for U.S. federal, state and/or local income tax purposes, including accounting procedures, not expressly provided for in this Agreement shall be determined by the General Partner.

- (b) Basis Adjustments. To the extent an adjustment to the adjusted tax basis of any Partnership asset pursuant to Section 734(b) of the Code or Section 743(b) of the Code is required under Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(m) of the Regulations to be taken into account in determining Capital Accounts, the amount of such adjustment to the Capital Accounts shall be treated as an item of gain (if the adjustment increases the basis of the asset) or loss (if the adjustment decreases such basis) and such gain or loss shall be specially allocated to the Partners in a manner consistent with the manner in which their Capital Accounts are required to be adjusted pursuant to such Section of the Regulations; provided that in the event that an adjustment to the book value of Partnership property is made as a result of an adjustment pursuant to Section 734(b) of the Code, items of income, gain, loss, or deduction, as computed for book and tax purposes, shall be specially allocated among the Partners so that the effect of any such adjustment shall benefit (or be borne by) the Partner(s) receiving the distribution that caused such adjustment.
- (c) Positive Basis Allocations. If the Partnership recognized gains or items of gross income (including short-term capital gain) from the sale of Partnership assets for U.S. federal income tax purposes for any Fiscal Year in which one or more Positive Basis Partners withdraws from the Partnership pursuant to Section 5.5, the General Partner may elect: (i) to allocate such gains or items of gross income among such Positive Basis Partners, pro rata in proportion to the respective Positive Basis of each such Positive Basis Partner, until either the full amount of such gains or items of gross income shall have been so allocated or the Positive Basis of each such Positive Basis Partner shall have been eliminated; and (ii) to allocate any gains or items of gross income not so allocated to Positive Basis Partners to the other Partners in such manner that reflects equitably the amounts credited to such Partners' Capital Accounts pursuant to Section 3.3; provided, however, that if, following such Fiscal Year, the Partnership recognizes gains or items of gross income from a sale of an Investment the proceeds of which are designated on the Partnership's books and records as being used to effect payment of all or part of the liquidating share of any Positive Basis Partner, that continues to be a Partner in the Partnership following such withdrawal (i.e., such Positive Basis Partner effected a partial, and not a complete, withdrawal of its Interest), then such Positive Basis Partner may be allocated an amount of such gains or items of gross income equal to the amount, if any, by which its or its Positive Basis as of the Withdrawal Date exceeds the amount allocated to such Partner pursuant to clause (i) of this Section 3.11(c).

- (d) Negative Basis Allocations. If the Partnership recognizes net losses or items of gross loss or deduction (including short-term capital loss) from the sale of Partnership assets for U.S. federal income tax purposes for any Fiscal Year in which one or more Negative Basis Partners withdraws from the Partnership pursuant to Section 5.5, the General Partner may elect: (i) to allocate such net losses or items of gross loss or deduction among such Negative Basis Partners, pro rata in proportion to the respective Negative Basis of each such Negative Basis Partner, until either the full amount of such losses or items of loss or deduction shall have been so allocated or the Negative Basis of each such Negative Basis Partner has been eliminated; and (ii) to allocate any net losses or items of gross loss or deduction not so allocated to Negative Basis Partners to the other Partners in such manner that reflects equitably the amounts credited to such Partners' Capital Accounts pursuant to Section 3.3; provided, however, that if, following such Fiscal Year, the Partnership recognizes net losses or items of gross loss and deduction from a sale of an Investment the proceeds of which are designated on the Partnership's books and records as being used to effect payment of all or part of the liquidating share of any Negative Basis Partner that continues to be a Partner in the Partnership following such withdrawal (i.e., such Negative Basis Partner effected a partial, and not a complete, withdrawal of its Interest), there may be allocated to such Negative Basis Partner an amount of such net losses or items of gross loss or deduction equal to the amount, if any, by which its or its Negative Basis as of the Withdrawal Date exceeds the amount allocated to such Partner pursuant to clause (i) of this Section 3.11(d).

3.12 Individual Partner's Tax Treatment

Each Partner agrees not to treat, on any U.S. federal, state, local and/or non-U.S. income tax return or in any claim for a refund, any item of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit in a manner inconsistent with the treatment of such item by the Partnership or which would result in inconsistent treatment, and each Partner further agrees to treat, on any U.S. federal, state, local and/or non-U.S. income tax return in any claim for a refund, any item of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit in a manner consistent with the treatment of such item by the Partnership.

3.13 Distributions

- (a) The Partnership shall make distributions in respect of withdrawals in accordance with Section 5.5 and liquidation in accordance with Section 6.3. In addition, the General Partner may make other distributions at the times and in the amounts the General Partner determines. Any distributions may be paid in cash, in kind or partly in cash and partly in kind.

- (b) Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in this Agreement, the Partnership, and the General Partner on behalf of the Partnership, may not make a distribution to any Partner on any account of its Interest if such distribution would violate Section 17-607 of the Act or other applicable law.

Article IV MANAGEMENT

4.1 Duties and Powers of the General Partner

- (a) Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, the General Partner has complete and exclusive power and responsibility, to the fullest extent permitted by the Act, for (i) all investment and investment management decisions to be undertaken on behalf of the Partnership and (ii) managing and administering the affairs of the Partnership, and shall have the power and authority to do all things that the General Partner considers necessary or desirable to carry out its duties hereunder and to achieve the purposes of the Partnership, whether or not such action or authority is expressly provided for in this Agreement. Without limiting the foregoing generality, the General Partner's powers include the power to borrow, obtain leverage or otherwise incur indebtedness with respect to the Partnership's capital.
- (b) Without limiting the generality of the General Partner's duties and powers hereunder and notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, the General Partner has full power and authority, subject to the other terms and provisions of this Agreement, to execute, deliver and perform such contracts, agreements and other undertakings on behalf of the Partnership, without the consent or approval of any other Person, and to engage in all activities and transactions, as it may deem necessary or advisable for, or as may be incidental to, the conduct of the business contemplated by this Section 4.1.
- (c) The General Partner may delegate to any other Person, including the Investment Manager, any power and authority vested in the General Partner pursuant to this Agreement.
- (d) The General Partner is the "tax matters partner" for purposes of Section 6231(a)(7) of the Code. The General Partner has the exclusive authority in its determination to make any elections required or permitted to be made by the Partnership under any provisions of the Code or any other revenue laws. The General Partner shall be entitled to be reimbursed by the Partnership for all costs and expenses incurred by it in connection with any administrative or judicial proceeding affecting tax matters of the Partnership and/or the Partners in their capacity as such and to be indemnified by the Partnership (solely out of Partnership assets) with respect to any action brought against it in connection with any judgment in or settlement of any such proceeding.

- (e) Every power vested in the General Partner pursuant to this Agreement and any decision or determination that it is permitted to make is to be construed as a power to act (or not to act) in its sole and absolute discretion, except as otherwise expressly provided herein, and the General Partner shall be entitled to consider in making such decisions or determinations only such interests and factors as it desires, including its own interests. No provision of this Agreement is to be construed to require the General Partner to violate the Act, the Advisers Act, or any other law, regulation or rule of any self-regulatory organization. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, whenever in this Agreement, the General Partner is permitted or required to make a decision in its “good faith” or under another expressed standard, the General Partner must act under such express standard and will not be subject to any other or different standards.
- (f) Each Limited Partner shall deliver to the General Partner, upon a reasonable request, (i) an affidavit or certificate in form satisfactory to the General Partner that is sufficient to establish that the applicable Partner (and its partners, members, and/or beneficial owners, as the case may be) is not subject to withholding under the provisions of any U.S. federal, state, local, non-U.S. or other tax laws, or with respect to such Partner’s tax status under such laws, and (ii) any information or documentation prescribed under FATCA or as may be necessary, as reasonably determined by the General Partner, for the Partnership to comply with its obligations under FATCA (including, but not limited to, information with respect to citizenship, residency, ownership or control of such Partner). Each Limited Partner shall reasonably cooperate with the General Partner in connection with any tax audit of the Partnership, or any existing or former Investment.

4.2 Expenses

- (a) Except as otherwise provided herein, and in consideration of the Management Fee, the General Partner and the Investment Manager shall each pay all of its own operating and overhead costs, without reimbursement by the Partnership.
- (b) The Partnership shall pay, or reimburse the General Partner and the Investment Manager for, all other reasonable costs, fees and expenses arising in connection with the Partnership’s operations. Such expenses payable by the Partnership include the following:
  - (i) all costs, fees and expenses directly related to Investments or prospective Investments (whether or not consummated) of the Partnership, including research and due diligence costs related to an Investment; brokerage commissions and other execution and transaction costs, interest on, and commitment fees and expenses arising out of, debit balances or borrowings; exchange, clearing and settlement charges; fees and expenses of any third-party providers of “back office” and “middle office” services relating to trade settlement; travel expenses; appraisal fees; investment banking fees and expenses; borrowing charges on Investments sold short; custody fees; and fees of consultants and finders relating to Investments or prospective Investments of the Partnership; the costs, fees and expenses of any appraisers, accountants or other experts engaged by the General Partner or the Investment Manager as well as other expenses directly related to the Partnership's Investments;

- (ii) any withholding, transfer or other taxes imposed on the Partnership;
- (iii) the reasonable, out-of-pocket fees, costs and expenses (including legal fees and expenses) incurred to comply with any applicable law, rule or regulation (including regulatory filings or other expenses of the Partnership and the pro rata portion of any regulatory and other expenses of the General Partner or the Investment Manager, which benefit or are attributable to the Partnership);
- (iv) the reasonable, out-of-pocket costs, fees and expenses for financial and tax accounting, bookkeeping and reporting services, and administrative services performed by any Person on behalf of the Partnership (e.g., the administrator of the Partnership), including the cost of any audit of the Partnership's financial statements and the preparation of its tax returns (including with respect to FATCA compliance);
- (v) Management Fees;
- (vi) the reasonable, out-of-pocket costs, fees and expenses of legal counsel and any other litigation or investigation involving Partnership activities;
- (vii) specific expenses incurred in obtaining, maintaining or performing systems, research and other information, including information service subscriptions, utilized with respect to the Partnership's Investments including without limitation for portfolio management, valuations and accounting purposes, including the costs of statistics and pricing services, service contracts for quotation equipment and related hardware, software, phone and internet charges;
- (viii) the reasonable, out-of-pocket costs, fees and expenses associated with the Recent Amendments, including legal and accounting fees, printing costs, reporting and providing information to existing and prospective Partners, obtaining requisite consent from Limited Partners, travel fees and expenses related to the Partnership's offering, filing fees (including any "blue sky" filing fees) and other out-of-pocket expenses and compliance with any applicable federal and state laws;
- (ix) the costs and expenses associated with meetings of Partners;

- (x) the expenses of the Advisory Committee and the members thereof, including any indemnification expenses;
  - (xi) the costs associated with maintaining “directors and officers” or similar liability insurance for the benefit of the Partnership, the General Partner, the Investment Manager, or any other Indemnified Person; and
  - (xii) any costs or expenses of winding up and liquidating the Partnership and
  - (xiii) all costs, fees and expenses associated with the ongoing offering of Limited Partner Interests.
- (c) Expenses with respect to Section 4.2(b)(viii) above will be amortized by the Partnership over a period of 36 months from the Effective Date; however, the General Partner may limit the amount of expenses amortized so that the Partnership’s audited financial statements do not contain qualification.
- (d) Except as otherwise provided elsewhere in this Agreement, including Sections 3.4, 3.5, 3.6, 3.8 and 5.5(i), expenses are generally borne pro rata by the Partners in accordance with their respective Partnership Percentages.
- (e) If the General Partner or the Investment Manager, as appropriate, incurs any Partnership expenses for the account or for the benefit of, or in connection with its activities or those of its Affiliates on behalf of, both the Partnership and any Other Account, the General Partner or the Investment Manager, as appropriate, shall allocate such expense among the Partnership and each such Other Account in proportion to the size of the Investment made by each in the activity or entity to which the expense relates, or in such other manner as the General Partner considers fair and reasonable.
- (f) The General Partner and the Investment Manager may, to the extent disclosed in the Partnership’s offering memorandum or otherwise disclosed to the Limited Partners, use “soft dollars” generated by the Partnership. Use of “soft dollars” by the General Partner or the Investment Manager as disclosed herein shall not constitute a breach by either the General Partner or the Investment Manager of any fiduciary or other duty which the General Partner or the Investment Manager may be deemed to owe to the Partnership or its Partners.

4.3 Rights of Limited Partners

The Limited Partners may not take any part in the management, control or operation of the Partnership’s business, and have no right or authority to act for the Partnership or to vote on matters other than the matters set forth in this Agreement or as required by applicable law.

4.4 Other Activities of Partners

- (a) The General Partner is not required to devote any specific amount of its time to the affairs of the Partnership, but shall devote such of its time to the business and affairs of the Partnership as it may determine to be necessary to conduct the affairs of the Partnership for the benefit of the Partnership and the Partners.

- (b) Each Partner acknowledges and agrees that the General Partner, its Affiliates and their respective partners, managers, directors, officers, shareholders, members or employees may engage in or possess an interest in other business ventures or commercial dealings of every kind and description, independently or with others, including, but not limited to, management of other accounts, investment in, or financing, acquisition and disposition of, Investments, investment and management counseling, brokerage services, serving as directors, officers, advisers or agents of other issuers, partners of any partnership, or trustee of any trust, or entering into any other commercial arrangements, whether or not any such activities may conflict with any interest of the parties with respect to the Partnership. Without in any way limiting the foregoing, each Partner hereby acknowledges that none of the General Partner, its Affiliates or their respective partners, managers, directors, officers, shareholders, members or employees shall have any obligation or responsibility to disclose or refer any of the investment or other opportunities obtained through activities contemplated by this Section 4.4(b) to the Partnership, but may refer the same to any other party or keep such opportunities for their own benefit.
- (c) The General Partner and its Affiliates shall act in a manner that each considers fair, reasonable and equitable on an overall basis in allocating investment opportunities to the Partnership and any Other Account. The General Partner and its Affiliates shall allocate investment opportunities as set forth in their policies and procedures, as may be amended from time to time, and as communicated to Limited Partners through the Partnership's private offering memorandum for Interests or otherwise.
- (d) Each of the Partners hereby waives and covenants not to sue on the basis of any law (statutory, common law or otherwise) respecting the rights and obligations of the Partners inter se which is or may be inconsistent with this Section 4.4.

4.5 Exculpation; Indemnification

- (a) The General Partner, the Investment Manager, any of their Affiliates, each direct or indirect member, manager, partner, director, officer, shareholder and employee of any of the foregoing and, with the approval of the General Partner, any agent of any of the foregoing (including their respective executors, heirs, assigns, successors or other legal representatives) (each an "Indemnified Person") shall not be liable to the Partnership or to any of the Limited Partners for any loss or damage occasioned by any acts or omissions in the performance of services under this Agreement or the Investment Management Agreement, or otherwise in connection with the Partnership, its Investments or operations, unless such loss or damage has occurred by reason of the willful misconduct, fraud or gross negligence of such Indemnified Person or as otherwise required by law; provided that nothing in this Agreement is to be construed as waiving any legal rights or remedies which the Partnership may have under state or federal securities laws.

- (b) The Partnership (but not the Partners individually) shall indemnify each Indemnified Person to the fullest extent permitted by law against any cost, expense (including reasonable attorneys' fees), judgment or liability incurred by or imposed upon it in connection with any action, suit or proceeding (including any proceeding before any judicial, administrative or legislative body or agency) to which it may be made a party or otherwise be involved or with which it shall be threatened by reason of being or having been General Partner, having been the Investment Manager pursuant to the Investment Management Agreement or its having provided services to the Partnership; provided that the Indemnified Person is not so indemnified to the extent such cost, expense, judgment or liability has been finally determined (i) in a non-appealable decision on the merits in any such action, suit or proceeding, or (ii) on a plea of nolo contendere, to have been incurred or suffered by the Indemnified Person solely by reason of willful misconduct, fraud or gross negligence by the Indemnified Person.
- (i) The right to indemnification granted by this Section 4.5 shall be in addition to any rights to which the Indemnified Person may otherwise be entitled and shall inure to the benefit of the successors or assigns of such Indemnified Person. The Partnership shall pay the expenses incurred by the Indemnified Person in defending a civil or criminal action, suit or proceeding in advance of the final disposition of such action, suit or proceeding, upon receipt of an undertaking by the Indemnified Person to repay such payment if there is an adjudication or determination that it is not entitled to indemnification as provided herein; provided that no such advance shall be made in connection with any action brought by a Majority-in-Interest of the Limited Partners.
- (ii) In any suit in the name of the Partnership to recover expenses advanced pursuant to the terms of an undertaking, the Partnership shall be entitled to recover such expenses upon a final adjudication that the Indemnified Person or other Person claiming a right to indemnification hereunder has not met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in Section 4.5(a). In any such suit brought to enforce a right to indemnification or to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking, the burden of proving that the Indemnified Person or other Person claiming a right to indemnification shall not be entitled to be indemnified, or to an advancement of expenses, hereunder shall be on the Partnership (or any Limited Partner acting derivatively or otherwise on behalf of the Partnership or the Limited Partners) unless otherwise required by applicable law.
- (iii) Each Indemnified Person may not satisfy any right of indemnity or reimbursement granted in this Section 4.5 or to which it may be otherwise entitled except out of the assets of the Partnership, and no Partner shall be personally liable with respect to any such claim for indemnity or reimbursement. The General Partner may obtain appropriate insurance on behalf, and at the expense, of the Partnership to secure the Partnership's obligations hereunder.

- (iv) Nothing in this Agreement is to be construed as to provide for the indemnification of an Indemnified Person for any liability (including liability under U.S. federal securities laws) to the extent that such indemnification would be in violation of applicable law but is to be construed so as to effectuate this Section 4.5 to the fullest extent permitted by law.
- (v) Each Indemnified Person shall be deemed a third-party beneficiary (to the extent not a direct party hereto) of this Agreement and, in particular, the provisions of this Section 4.5. The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may enter into agreements on behalf of the Partnership with an Indemnified Person to provide an indemnity to the same extent provided in this Section 4.5.

4.6 Advisory Committee

- (a) The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may appoint a committee (the “Advisory Committee”) composed of one or more individuals selected from time to time by the General Partner. No member of the Advisory Committee may be an Affiliate of the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager (except as a Limited Partner or as an investor in an Affiliate of the Partnership).
- (b) If established, the Advisory Committee will meet with the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager from time to time as requested by and deemed appropriate by the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager to consult with and advise the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager on any matter deemed appropriate by the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager, including any circumstances involving conflicts of interest between the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager (and their Affiliates), on the one hand, and the Limited Partners and the Partnership, on the other.
- (c) The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may in its discretion seek the approval of the Advisory Committee or establish any other reasonable mechanism in connection with (i) approvals that are or would be required under the Investment Advisers Act (including Section 206(3)) or (ii) any other matter deemed appropriate by the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager. Each Limited Partner agrees that, except as otherwise specifically provided herein and to the extent permitted by applicable law, the approval of a majority of the members of the Advisory Committee at such time is binding upon the Partnership and each Partner with respect to any approval sought under this Section 4.6(c).
- (d) As determined by the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager, meetings of the Advisory Committee may be held in person or by telephone. Approval of the Advisory Committee is deemed to have been given if given by a majority of those members present at a meeting or by a majority of all members of the Advisory Committee if given pursuant to a written consent without a meeting.

- (e) The Partnership agrees to reimburse members of the Advisory Committee for their out-of-pocket expenses relating to their services as Advisory Committee members and to indemnify each Advisory Committee member to the maximum extent permitted by law
- (f) In the event an Advisory Committee is not appointed, the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may obtain the approval of an unaffiliated third party, as is determined advisable by the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager, and any such approval by such third party shall, to the extent permitted under applicable law, serve as the approval of the Advisory Committee and shall be binding on the Partnership and the Limited Partners.

4.7 Alternative Investment Vehicles

The General Partner shall have the right in connection with any Investment to direct the capital contributions of some or all of the Partners to be made through one or more alternative investment vehicles (“Alternative Investment Vehicles”) and to exchange a portion of the Interests of one or more Limited Partners for similar equity interests in one or more Alternative Investment Vehicles if, in the judgment of the General Partner, the use of such vehicle or vehicles would allow the Partnership to overcome legal or regulatory constraints or invest in a more tax efficient manner and/or would facilitate participation in certain types of Investments; provided that the General Partner shall not employ the use of an Alternative Investment Vehicle in any manner that would reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the participating Limited Partners. Any Alternative Investment Vehicle shall contain terms and conditions substantially similar to those of the Partnership and shall be managed by the General Partner or an Affiliate thereof, and such controlling Person is required to comply with the provisions of this Agreement applicable to Alternative Investment Vehicles. Expenses related to an Alternative Investment Vehicle on behalf of less than all of the Partners shall not be borne by the Partners that do not participate in such Alternative Investment Vehicle.

Article V ADMISSIONS, TRANSFERS AND WITHDRAWALS

5.1 Admission of Limited Partners

The General Partner may, at such times as the General Partner may determine, without advance notice to or consent from the Limited Partners, admit to the Partnership any Person who executes this Agreement or any other writing evidencing the intent of such Person to become a Limited Partner. Such admission shall be effective when the General Partner enters the name of such Person on the books and records of the Partnership as a Partner and does not require the consent or approval of any other Partner. The General Partner has the authority to reject subscriptions for Interests in whole or in part.

5.2 Admission of Additional General Partners

- (a) Except as provided in Section 5.2(b), the General Partner may admit one or more Persons as additional general partners to the Partnership. No additional general partner shall be added unless such additional general partner agrees to be bound by all of the terms of this Agreement.

- (b) Any Person to whom the General Partner has transferred its general partner interest in accordance with Section 5.4 shall be admitted to the Partnership as a substitute General Partner without the consent of the Limited Partners unless otherwise provided for in Section 5.4.

5.3 Transfer of Interests of Limited Partners

- (a) No Transfer of any Limited Partner's Interest, whether voluntary or involuntary, shall be valid or effective, and no transferee may become a substituted Limited Partner, unless the prior written consent of the General Partner has been obtained, which consent may be granted, withheld or conditioned for any reason by the General Partner. Any attempted Transfer not made in accordance with this Section 5.3, to the fullest extent permitted by law, shall be void ab initio.
- (b) Prior to recognizing any Transfer in accordance with this Section 5.3, the General Partner may require the transferring Limited Partner to execute and acknowledge an instrument of Transfer in form and substance satisfactory to the General Partner, and may require the transferee to make certain representations and warranties to the Partnership and Partners and to accept, adopt and approve in writing all of the terms and provisions of this Agreement.
- (c) In the event of a Transfer of a Partner's Interest or in the event of a distribution of assets of the Partnership to any Partner, the Partnership may, but shall not be required to, file an election under Section 754 of the Code and in accordance with the applicable Regulations, to cause the basis of the Partnership's assets to be adjusted for U.S. federal income tax purposes as provided by Section 734 or 743 of the Code.
- (d) In the event of a Transfer at any time other than the end of a Fiscal Year, items of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit recognized by the Partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes shall be allocated between the transferring parties, as determined by the General Partner, using any permissible method under Code Section 706(d) and the Regulations thereunder. To the extent the transferring parties have given the General Partner written notice prior to the consent by the General Partner pursuant to Section 5.3(a) of their agreement to apply a particular and reasonable method, then the General Partner may elect to use such method. The transferring parties agree to reimburse the General Partner and the Partnership for any incidental accounting fees and other expenses incurred by the General Partner and the Partnership in making allocations pursuant to this Section 5.3(d).

5.4 Transfer of Interest of the General Partner

The General Partner may Transfer its Interest as a General Partner in the Partnership; provided that if any such proposed Transfer would result in an "assignment" (as such term is defined under the Advisers Act), the General Partner shall obtain the consent of Limited Partners constituting a Majority-in-Interest of Limited Partners that are not Affiliated Investors.

5.5 Withdrawal of Interests of Partners

- (a) The Interest of a Limited Partner may not be withdrawn from the Partnership prior to its dissolution except as provided in this Section 5.5.
- (b) Withdrawal rights are determined separately with respect to each Capital Account (and each capital sub-account, if applicable). Each capital contribution shall be accounted for using a separate capital sub-account, and, in the case of a Limited Partner for which more than one capital sub-account is maintained, the withdrawals from any such capital sub-accounts shall be processed on a “first-in, first-out” basis based upon the date on which each capital contribution was made, unless otherwise agreed between the General Partner and such Partner. Each capital sub-account relating to a contribution of capital from a Limited Partner will be treated as if it were the separate Capital Account of a separate Partner for the purposes of applying the withdrawal provisions of this Section 5.5.
- (c) Subject to a Suspension and the other provisions of this Section 5.5:
  - (i) A Limited Partner may make a complete or partial withdrawal from its Series A Capital Account effective on the last Business Day of each calendar quarter occurring at least 36 calendar months after the contribution of the capital to be withdrawn (each, a “Series A Withdrawal Date”) by providing written notice to the General Partner at least 90 days prior to the proposed Series A Withdrawal Date (such restriction, the “Series A Lock-Up”). For purposes of calculating the Series A Lock-Up, each Limited Partner holding Series A Interests on of the Effective Date is deemed to have made its initial contribution for Series A Interests as of the Effective Date. Additional contributions for Series A Interests after the Effective Date will also be subject to the Series A Lock-Up, which lock-up period shall commence on the date of each such additional contribution.
  - (ii) A Limited Partner may make a complete or partial withdrawal from its Series B Capital Account upon written notice to the General Partner at least 180 days prior to the applicable Series B Withdrawal Date. The “Series B Withdrawal Date” means: (i) the end of the day on the last Business Day of the calendar month that immediately precedes the one-year anniversary of the contribution of the capital to be withdrawn; and thereafter (ii) the end of the day on each one-year anniversary of the preceding Series B Withdrawal Date (or the last Business Day of such month).
  - (iii) A Limited Partner may make a complete or partial withdrawal from its Series C Capital Account upon written notice to the General Partner at least 180 days prior to the applicable Series C Withdrawal Date. The “Series C Withdrawal Date” means: (i) the end of the day on the last Business Day of the calendar month that immediately precedes the two-year anniversary of the contribution of the capital to be withdrawn; and thereafter (ii) the end of the day on each two-year anniversary of the preceding Series C Withdrawal Date (or the last Business Day of such month).

- (iv) A Limited Partner may make a complete or partial withdrawal from its Series D Capital Account effective on the last Business Day of each calendar quarter (each, a “Series D Withdrawal Date”) occurring at least 12 calendar months after the contribution of the capital to be withdrawn by providing written notice to the General Partner at least 90 days prior to the proposed Series D Withdrawal Date.
- (d) Any notice of withdrawal shall be irrevocable by the Limited Partner, unless otherwise agreed by the General Partner. For the avoidance of doubt, if a Limited Partner notifies the General Partner of its intent to withdraw and later chooses not to withdraw (with the General Partner’s consent), any transaction costs incurred by the Partnership or the General Partner in connection therewith may be charged to such withdrawing Limited Partner. The General Partner may refuse to honor any Limited Partner’s request for a full or partial withdrawal if such request is not accompanied by such additional information as the General Partner may reasonably require, including any information required to determine the “adjusted basis” for U.S. federal income tax purposes in the Limited Partner’s Interest withdrawn.
- (e) With respect to any amounts withdrawn, a withdrawing Partner shall not share in the income, gains and losses of the Partnership or have any other rights as a Partner (in the case of a complete withdrawal) after the applicable Withdrawal Date, and withdrawn amounts will be fixed as of the applicable Withdrawal Date, except as provided in Section 3.6. For the avoidance of doubt, none of the Partnership, the General Partner or the Investment Manager shall be liable to a Limited Partner for interest on the proceeds of any withdrawal.
- (f) At least 90% of the estimated amount due with respect to the Partnership’s marketable investments is normally settled in cash or, subject to the sole discretion of the General Partner, wholly or partially with securities or other assets of the Partnership, within 30 Business Days after the Withdrawal Date, provided that the General Partner may delay such payment if such delay is reasonably necessary to prevent such withdrawal from having a material adverse impact on the Partnership or the remaining Capital Accounts. The General Partner is entitled to deduct from such settlement payment an amount equal to the pro rata portion of any Performance Allocation (based on the portion of the withdrawal being settled) payable to the Investment Manager with respect to such withdrawn amount. Any balance will be held back and distributed, without interest thereon, promptly following completion of the audit of the Partnership’s financial statements for such Fiscal Year, or sooner in the General Partner’s discretion.
- (g) In the case of a complete withdrawal, or a partial withdrawal that cannot be fully funded out of the Limited Partner’s interest in the Partnership’s marketable investments, no settlements occur with respect to any of such Limited Partner's interest in the Partnership's non-marketable investments until the occurrence of liquidity events with respect to such non-marketable investments after the scheduled payment date for the withdrawal (without interest thereon). Notwithstanding the foregoing, the General Partner may, however, make settlements in such cases prior to the occurrence of a liquidity event if such settlement would, in the good faith opinion of the General Partner, not have a material adverse effect on the Partnership. Generally, a liquidity event will be a sale of the relevant investment for cash, in which case the settlement will be funded in cash within 90 days after the liquidity event (without interest). If the liquidity event is not a sale for cash, the General Partner may effect the settlement either by making a distribution in kind of the Limited Partner's ratable share of the relevant investment or by distributing the net proceeds derived from a sale of such investment. The General Partner is entitled to withdraw from each such settlement an amount equal to the remaining portion of any Performance Allocation (pro rata based on the portion of such withdrawal being distributed) to be credited to the Investment Manager at the same time and in the same form (in cash or in kind) as the distribution to the withdrawing Limited Partner.

- (h) The General Partner may effect withdrawal payments (i) in cash, (ii) in kind, by transfer of marketable or non-marketable Investments to the Limited Partner, the value of which, as determined in accordance with Section 7.2, would satisfy the Limited Partner's request for withdrawal, or (iii) in any combination of the foregoing.
- (i) The General Partner may deduct from any withdrawal proceeds due to any Limited Partner pursuant to this Section 5.5 an amount representing the Partnership's actual or estimated expenses, as determined by the General Partner, associated with processing the withdrawal. Any such withdrawal deduction shall be retained by the Partnership for the benefit of the remaining Limited Partners.
- (j) The right of any Partner to withdraw or receive distributions pursuant to the provisions of this Section 5.5 is subject to all Capital Account allocations and adjustments contemplated by this Agreement and to the provision by the General Partner for all Partnership liabilities and for reserves and holdbacks for contingencies provided in Section 3.6.
- (k) The General Partner may suspend or limit, in whole or in part, (i) the right of the Partners to withdraw or receive distributions from the Partnership and/or (ii) the valuation of the Partnership's Net Assets:
  - (i) during any period when any exchange or over-the-counter market on which the Partnership's Investments are quoted, traded or dealt in is closed, other than for ordinary holidays and weekends, or during periods in which dealings are restricted or suspended;

- (ii) during the existence of any state of affairs as a result of which, in the reasonable opinion of the General Partner, disposal of, or withdrawals or redemptions from, Investments by the Partnership, or the determination of the value of the assets of the Partnership, would not be reasonably practicable;
  - (iii) during any breakdown in the means of communication normally employed in determining the price or value of the Partnership's assets or liabilities, or of current prices in any market as aforesaid, or when for any other reason the prices or values of any assets or liabilities of the Partnership cannot reasonably be accurately ascertained within a reasonable time frame;
  - (iv) during any period when the transfer of funds involved in the realization or acquisition of any Investments cannot, in the reasonable opinion of the General Partner, be effected at normal rates of exchange;
  - (v) in other circumstances where the General Partner is unable to fairly value the Partnership's assets due to extreme market conditions; or
  - (vi) automatically upon liquidation of the Partnership.
- (l) In the event of any such suspension or limitation described above in Section 5.5(k) (a "Suspension"), the General Partner shall promptly notify each Limited Partner. Any Limited Partner who has submitted a withdrawal request and to whom payment in full of the amount being withdrawn has not yet been remitted is not given any priority with respect to the withdrawal of such Interests or portions thereof after the cause for such Suspension ceases to exist. The General Partner may, however, allow any such Partners to rescind their withdrawal requests to the extent of any portion thereof for which withdrawal proceeds have not yet been remitted. Upon the reasonable determination by the General Partner that conditions leading to Suspension no longer apply, withdrawal rights for all Limited Partners shall be promptly reinstated, and any pending withdrawal requests (or new, timely withdrawal requests) shall be honored as of the last Business Day of the calendar quarter in which withdrawals have recommenced, subject to the application of the withdrawal limitations described herein.
- (m) The General Partner may, notwithstanding any Suspension, upon not less than five days' prior written notice (or immediately if the General Partner determines in its sole discretion that such Limited Partner's continued participation in the Partnership may cause the Partnership, the Investment Manager or the General Partner to violate any applicable law), require any Limited Partner's Interest to be withdrawn in part or in its entirety from the Partnership (including, but not limited to, for reasons relating to FATCA) and for the Limited Partner to cease to be a Limited Partner of the Partnership (in the case of a withdrawal of a Limited Partner's Interest in its entirety) pursuant to this Section 5.5(m). Except as otherwise provided herein, settlements of withdrawals pursuant to this Section 5.5(m) are made in the same manner as voluntary withdrawals.

- (n) Notwithstanding the foregoing, the General Partner may waive any restrictions on any Limited Partner's ability to withdraw.

Article VI
SOFT WIND DOWN, DISSOLUTION AND LIQUIDATION

6.1 Soft Wind Down

- (a) The General Partner may, in consultation with the Investment Manager, make a determination that the investment strategy should no longer be continued (whether or not the General Partner has implemented a Suspension). Having made such determination, the Investment Manager may recommend to the General Partner to cause the Partnership to return the Partnership's assets to Limited Partners in an orderly manner (without proceeding with a liquidation of the Partnership) (an "Orderly Realization"). The General Partner may, in such circumstances, resolve to effect an Orderly Realization should it determine that doing so is in the best interests of the Partnership as a whole. Such Orderly Realization shall not constitute a dissolution or winding up of the Partnership for any purposes, but rather only the continued management of the Partnership's portfolio so as to reduce such portfolio to cash (to the extent reasonably practicable, as advised by the Investment Manager) and return such cash as well as all other assets of the Partnership to the Limited Partners.
- (b) The General Partner will notify the Limited Partners of any decision to proceed with an Orderly Realization of the Partnership. During an Orderly Realization, the Investment Manager may, in consultation with the General Partner, take such steps as are considered appropriate in the best interests of the Partnership as a whole to effect the Orderly Realization. The General Partner, in consultation with the Investment Manager, shall establish what they consider to be a reasonable time by which the Orderly Realization should be effected (the "Realization Period"). Any resolution to undertake an Orderly Realization and the process thereof shall be deemed to be integral to the business of the Partnership and may be carried out without recourse to a formal process of liquidation under Delaware law or any other applicable bankruptcy or insolvency regime.
- (c) The General Partner, in consultation with the Investment Manager, may resolve to cease the Orderly Realization within the Realization Period and recommence active trading if the circumstances permit a lifting of any applicable Suspension or, where no Suspension is in effect, if the circumstances are such that the investment strategy can then be continued.
- (d) Management Fees, and all other fees and expenses, shall be payable and Performance Allocations shall be made during an Orderly Realization on the same basis as provided herein.

6.2 Dissolution of Partnership

- (a) The Partnership shall be dissolved upon the first to occur of the following dates:
  - (i) any date on which the General Partner shall elect in writing to dissolve the Partnership; or
  - (ii) the occurrence of any other event causing (A) the General Partner (or a successor to its business) to cease to be the general partner of the Partnership or (B) the dissolution of the Partnership under the Act.
- (b) In the event an Orderly Realization lasts longer than three years, a Super-Majority-in-Interest of the Limited Partners may seek a court decree of dissolution or seek the appointment by the court of a liquidator for the Partnership. The Limited Partners will not have any other right to bring an action in court to dissolve the Partnership. The parties agree that irreparable damage would be done to the goodwill and reputation of the Partners if any Limited Partner should bring an action in court to dissolve the Partnership. Care has been taken in this Agreement to provide for fair and just payment in liquidation of the Interests of all Partners. Accordingly, each Limited Partner hereby waives and renounces its right to such a court decree of dissolution or to seek the appointment by the court of a liquidator for the Partnership except as provided herein.

6.3 Liquidation of Assets

- (a) Upon dissolution of the Partnership, the General Partner shall promptly liquidate the business and administrative affairs of the Partnership to the extent feasible, except that if the General Partner is unable to perform this function, a liquidator elected by a Majority-in-Interest of Limited Partners shall liquidate the business and administrative affairs of the Partnership. Net Profit and Net Loss during any Accounting Period, which includes the period of liquidation, shall be allocated pursuant to Article III. The proceeds from liquidation shall be divided in the following manner, subject to the Act:
  - (i) the debts, liabilities and obligations of the Partnership, other than any debts to the Partners as Partners, and the expenses of liquidation (including legal, administrative and accounting expenses incurred in connection therewith), up to and including the date that distribution of the Partnership's assets to the Partners has been completed, shall first be satisfied (whether by payment or the making of reasonable provision for payment thereof);
  - (ii) such debts as are owing to the Partners as Partners are next paid; and
  - (iii) the Partners shall next be paid liquidating distributions (in cash or in securities or other assets, whether or not readily marketable) pro rata in accordance with, and up to the positive balances of their respective Capital Accounts, as adjusted pursuant to Article III to reflect allocations for the Accounting Period ending on the date of the distributions under this Section 6.1(a)(iii).

- (b) Notwithstanding this Section 6.3 and the priorities set forth in the Act, the General Partner or liquidator may distribute ratably in kind rather than in cash, upon dissolution, any assets of the Partnership; provided, however, that if any in kind distribution is to be made, (i) the assets distributed in kind shall be valued pursuant to Section 7.2, and charged as so valued and distributed against amounts to be paid under Section 6.3(a) and (ii) any gain or loss (as computed for book purposes) attributable to property distributed in kind shall be included in the Net Profit or Net Loss for the Accounting Period ending on the date of such distribution.

Article VII

ACCOUNTING AND VALUATION; BOOKS AND RECORDS

7.1 Accounting and Reports

- (a) The Partnership may adopt for tax accounting purposes any accounting method that the General Partner shall decide is in the best interests of the Partnership and that is permissible for U.S. federal income tax purposes.
- (b) As soon as practicable after the end of each Fiscal Year thereafter, the General Partner shall cause an audit of the financial statements of the Partnership as of the end of each such period to be made by a firm of independent accountants selected by the General Partner. As soon as is practicable thereafter, but subject to Section 7.4, the General Partner shall furnish to each Limited Partner a copy of the set of financial statements prepared in accordance with GAAP, with such adjustments thereto as the General Partner determines appropriate, including the report of such independent accountants.
- (c) As soon as practicable after the end of each taxable year, the General Partner shall furnish to each Limited Partner such information as may be required to enable each Limited Partner properly to report for U.S. federal, state and local income tax purposes its distributive share of each Partnership item of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit for such year. The General Partner shall have discretion as to how to report Partnership items of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit on the Partnership's tax returns, and the Limited Partners shall treat such items consistently on their own tax returns.
- (d) As soon as practicable after the end of each calendar month, but subject to Section 7.5, the General Partner shall arrange for the preparation and delivery to each Limited Partner of an interim report containing such information concerning the affairs of the Partnership (which need not include any financial statements) as the General Partner considers appropriate.

7.2 Valuation of Partnership Assets and Interests

- (a) The General Partner (or its delegate, including the Investment Manager or the administrator of the Partnership) shall value the assets of the Partnership as of the close of business on the last day of each Accounting Period. Such valuations will generally be in accordance with GAAP, with such adjustments thereto as the General Partner reasonably determines appropriate. In addition, the General Partner shall value the assets which are being distributed in kind as of the close of the Business Day immediately preceding the distribution date in accordance with Section 5.5(c) or Section 6.3(b). In determining the value of the assets of the Partnership, no value shall be placed on the goodwill or name of the Partnership, or the office records, files, statistical data or any similar intangible assets of the Partnership not normally reflected in the Partnership's accounting records, but there shall be taken into consideration any related items of income earned but not received, expenses incurred but not yet paid, liabilities fixed or contingent, prepaid expenses to the extent not otherwise reflected in the books of account, and the value of options or commitments to purchase or sell securities pursuant to agreements entered into on or prior to such valuation date.
- (b) To the extent readily available, valuations will be based on independent market quotations obtained by the General Partner from recognized pricing services, market participants or other sources. In the case of any Investment for which a quotation from an independent source is not available or is determined by the General Partner to be unreliable or inadequate, the General Partner (i) shall be authorized, to the extent permitted by applicable law, to value such positions at their fair value in such manner as the General Partner determines in good faith, or (ii) may (but shall not be required to) obtain an appraisal, at the expense of the Partnership, by an independent third party selected by the General Partner. Except as otherwise determined by or at the direction of the General Partner, investment and trading transactions shall be accounted for on the trade date.
- (c) Accounts shall be maintained in U.S. dollars, and except as otherwise determined by or at the direction of the General Partner: (i) assets and liabilities denominated in currencies other than U.S. dollars shall be translated at the rates of exchange quoted by an independent pricing service as in effect as of the close of business on the relevant valuation dates (and exchange adjustments shall be recorded in the results of operations); and (ii) investment and trading transactions and income and expenses shall be translated at the rates of exchange in effect at the time of each transaction.

7.3 Determinations by the General Partner

- (a) All matters concerning the determination and allocation among the Partners of the amounts to be determined and allocated pursuant to this Agreement, including Article III and accounting procedures applicable thereto, shall be determined by the General Partner, unless specifically and expressly otherwise provided for by the provisions of this Agreement, and such determinations and allocations shall be final and binding on all the Partners; provided, however, that all calculations of the Performance Allocation will be made on the basis of, or subject to correction based on, the annual audit of the Partnership's financial statements and appropriate adjustments will be made to all such calculations and related allocations to the extent necessary as a result of that audit.

- (b) The General Partner may make such adjustments to the computation of Net Profit or Net Loss or any other allocations with respect to any Limited Partner, or any component items comprising any of the foregoing, as it considers appropriate to reflect the financial results of the Partnership and the intended allocation thereof among the Partners in a reasonably accurate, fair and efficient manner. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, any provision of this Agreement that requires an adjustment to be made to any Capital Account or sub-account as of any mid-month or mid-quarter date may be made as of the most recent preceding or succeeding date when a regular valuation is being conducted.

7.4 Books and Records

- (a) The General Partner shall keep books and records pertaining to the Partnership's affairs showing all of its assets and liabilities, receipts and disbursements, realized income, gains, deductions and losses, Partners' Capital Accounts and all transactions entered into by the Partnership. The General Partner shall afford to the Partnership's independent auditors reasonable access to such documents during customary business hours and shall permit the Partnership's auditors to make copies thereof or extracts therefrom at the expense of the Partnership.
- (b) The General Partner shall establish such standards as it deems appropriate regarding the access of Limited Partners to the books and records of the Partnership and shall not be obliged to permit access by a Limited Partner to the name or address of any other Limited Partner.

7.5 Confidentiality

- (a) Each Limited Partner agrees to keep confidential, and not to make any use of (other than for purposes reasonably related to its Interest or for purposes of filing such Limited Partner's tax returns) or disclose to any Person, any information or matter relating to the Partnership and its affairs and any information or matter related to any Investment (other than disclosure to such Limited Partner's directors, employees, agents, advisors, or representatives responsible for matters relating to the Partnership or to any other Person approved in writing by the General Partner (each such Person being hereinafter referred to as an "Authorized Representative")); provided that (i) such Limited Partner and its Authorized Representatives may make such disclosure to the extent that (A) the information to be disclosed is publicly available at the time of proposed disclosure by such Limited Partner or Authorized Representative, (B) the information otherwise is or becomes legally available to such Limited Partner other than through disclosure by the Partnership or the General Partner, or (C) such disclosure is required by law or in response to any governmental agency request or in connection with an examination by any regulatory authorities; provided that such governmental agency, regulatory authorities or association is aware of the confidential nature of the information disclosed; (ii) such Limited Partner and its Authorized Representatives may make such disclosure to its beneficial owners to the extent required under the terms of its arrangements with such beneficial owners; and (iii) each Limited Partner will be permitted, after written notice to the General Partner, to correct any false or misleading information which becomes public concerning such Limited Partner's relationship to the Partnership or the General Partner. Prior to making any disclosure required by law, each Limited Partner shall use its best efforts to notify the General Partner of such disclosure. Prior to any disclosure to any Authorized Representative or beneficial owner, each Limited Partner shall advise such Authorized Representative or beneficial owner of the obligations set forth in this Section 7.5(a) and each such Authorized Representative or beneficial owner shall agree to be bound by such obligations.

- (b) The General Partner may keep confidential from the Limited Partners, for such period of time as the General Partner deems reasonable, any information, including the identity of the Partners or information regarding the Partners or Investments, which the General Partner reasonably believes to be in the nature of trade secrets or other information the disclosure of which the General Partner believes is not in the best interests of the Partnership or could damage the Partnership or its business or which the Partnership is required by law or agreement with a third party to keep confidential.
- (c) Subject to applicable legal and regulatory considerations, the General Partner shall use reasonable efforts to keep confidential any information relating to a Limited Partner obtained by the General Partner in connection with or arising out of the Partnership which the Limited Partner requests to be kept confidential.
- (d) Notwithstanding the provisions of this Section 7.5, Partners (and their employees, representatives and other agents) may disclose to any and all Persons, without limitation of any kind, the tax treatment and tax structure of the Partnership and its transactions and all materials of any kind (including tax opinions or other tax analyses) that are provided to such Person by, or on behalf of the Partnership. For this purpose, "tax treatment" is the purported or claimed U.S. federal income tax treatment of a transaction and "tax structure" is limited to any fact that may be relevant to understanding the purported or claimed U.S. federal income tax treatment of a transaction. For this purpose, the names of the Partnership, the Partners, their affiliates, the names of their partners, members or equity holders and the representatives, agents and tax advisors of any of the foregoing are not items of tax structure.
- (e) The General Partner may disclose to prospective investors such information relating to the Partnership or the Investments as it believes in good faith will benefit the Partnership and facilitate investment in the Partnership by such prospective investors.

- (f) The Investment Manager and a Person acting as a service provider to the Partnership shall have the right to access all information belonging to the Partnership.

Article VIII GENERAL PROVISIONS

8.1 Amendment of Partnership Agreement

- (a) Except as otherwise provided in this Section 8.1, this Agreement may be amended, in whole or in part, with the written consent of (i) the General Partner and (ii) the consent of a Majority-in-Interest of Limited Partners (which approval may be obtained by negative consent affording the Limited Partners at least 30 calendar days to object).
- (b) Any amendment that would:
  - (i) increase the obligation of a Partner to make any contribution to the capital of the Partnership;
  - (ii) reduce the Capital Account of a Partner other than in accordance with Article III;
  - (iii) adversely alter any Partner's rights with respect to the allocation of Net Profit or Net Loss or with respect to distributions and withdrawals; or
  - (iv) change the respective liabilities of the General Partner and the Limited Partners; may only be made if the consent of each Partner adversely affected thereby is obtained (which consent may be obtained by negative consent affording the Partner at least 30 calendar days to object).

- (c) Notwithstanding paragraphs (a) and (b) of this Section 8.1, this Agreement may be amended by the General Partner without the consent of the Limited Partners, at any time and without limitation, if any Limited Partner whose contractual rights as a Limited Partner would be materially and adversely changed by such amendment has an opportunity to withdraw from the Partnership as of a date determined by the General Partner that is not less than 30 calendar days after the General Partner has furnished written notice of such amendment to each affected Limited Partner and that is prior to the effective date of the amendment. The admission and withdrawal of Limited Partners will not require notice or disclosure to, or the approval of, the other Limited Partners.
- (d) The General Partner may at any time without the consent of the other Partners:

- (i) add to the representations, duties or obligations of the General Partner or surrender any right or power granted to the General Partner under this Agreement, for the benefit of the Limited Partners;
  - (ii) cure any ambiguity or correct or supplement any conflicting provisions of this Agreement;
  - (iii) change the name of the Partnership;
  - (iv) make any changes required by a governmental body or agency which is deemed to be for the benefit or protection of the Limited Partners, provided, however, that no such amendment may be made unless such change (A) is for the benefit of, or not adverse to, the interests of Limited Partners, (B) does not affect the right of the General Partner to manage and control the Partnership's business, (C) does not affect the allocation of profits and losses among the Partners and (D) does not affect the limited liability of the Limited Partners;
  - (v) amend this Agreement to reflect a change in the identity of the General Partner which has been made in accordance with this Agreement;
  - (vi) amend this Agreement (other than with respect to the matters set forth in Section 8.1(b)) to effect compliance with any applicable laws, regulations or administrative actions;
  - (vii) subject to Section 8.1(b), amend this Agreement to reflect the creation, and terms, of any new Series of Interests;
  - (viii) effect any other amendment which would not, in the good faith judgment of the General Partner, adversely affect any of the existing Limited Partners; and
  - (ix) restate this Agreement together with any amendments hereto which have been duly adopted in accordance herewith to incorporate such amendments in a single, integrated document.
- (e) Following the adoption of any amendments to this Agreement pursuant to 8.1(d), the General Partner shall promptly deliver a copy of such amendments to this Agreement to the Limited Partners.
- (f) The General Partner may agree with a Limited Partner to waive or modify the application of any provision of this Agreement with respect to such Limited Partner without notifying or obtaining the consent of any other Limited Partner (other than a Limited Partner whose rights as a Limited Partner pursuant to this Agreement would be materially and adversely changed by such waiver or modification). Any such waiver or modification may be evidenced by a "side letter" or other document which will govern with respect to the applicable Limited Partner and be incorporated as part of this Agreement.

8.2 Special Power-of-Attorney

- (a) Each Limited Partner hereby irrevocably makes, constitutes and appoints the General Partner (and each of its successors and permitted assigns), with full power of substitution, the true and lawful representative and attorney-in-fact of, and in the name, place and stead of, such Limited Partner with the power from time to time to make, execute, sign, acknowledge, swear to, verify, deliver, record, file or publish:
  - (i) an amendment to this Agreement that complies with the provisions of this Agreement (including the provisions of Section 8.1);
  - (ii) the Certificate and any amendment thereof required because this Agreement is amended, including an amendment to effectuate any change in the membership of the Partnership or in the capital contributions of the Partners;
  - (iii) any financing statement or other filing or document required or permitted to perfect the security interests contemplated by any provision hereof; and
  - (iv) all such other instruments, documents and certificates which, in the opinion of legal counsel to the Partnership, may from time to time be required by the laws of the United States of America, the State of Delaware, or any other jurisdiction in which the Partnership determines to do business, or any political subdivision or agency thereof, or which such legal counsel may deem necessary or appropriate to effectuate, implement and continue the valid and subsisting existence and business of the Partnership as a limited partnership, exchange a portion of a Limited Partner's Interest for similar equity interests in an Alternative Investment Vehicle, or to effect the dissolution or termination of the Partnership.
- (b) Each Limited Partner is aware that the terms of this Agreement permit certain amendments to this Agreement to be effected and certain other actions to be taken or omitted by or with respect to the Partnership without that Limited Partner's consent. If an amendment of the Certificate or this Agreement or any action by or with respect to the Partnership is taken by the General Partner in the manner contemplated by this Agreement, each Limited Partner agrees that, notwithstanding any objection which such Limited Partner may assert with respect to such action, the General Partner in its sole discretion is authorized and empowered, with full power of substitution, to exercise the authority granted above in any manner which may be necessary or appropriate to permit such amendment to be made or action to be lawfully taken or omitted. Each Partner is fully aware that each other Partner relies on the effectiveness of this special power-of-attorney with a view to the orderly administration of the affairs of the Partnership. This power-of-attorney is a special power-of-attorney and is coupled with an interest in favor of the General Partner and as such:
  - (i) is irrevocable and continues in full force and effect notwithstanding the subsequent death or incapacity of any party granting this power-of-attorney, regardless of whether the Partnership or the General Partner has had notice thereof; and

- (ii) survives the delivery of an assignment by a Limited Partner of the whole or any portion of such Limited Partner's Interest, except that where the assignee thereof has been approved by the General Partner for admission to the Partnership as a substituted Limited Partner, this power-of-attorney given by the assignor survives the delivery of such agreement for the sole purpose of enabling the General Partner to execute, acknowledge and file any instrument necessary to effect such substitution.

8.3 Notices

Notices which may be or are required to be given under this Agreement by any party to another shall be given by hand delivery, transmitted by facsimile, transmitted electronically to an address that has been previously provided or verified through another form of notice or sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested or internationally recognized courier service, and shall be addressed to the respective parties hereto at their addresses as set forth on the register of Partners maintained by the General Partner or to such other addresses, facsimile numbers or electronic addresses as may be designated by any party hereto by notice addressed to (a) the General Partner, in the case of notice given by any Limited Partner, and (b) each of the Limited Partners, in the case of notice given by the General Partner. Notices will be deemed to have been given (i) when delivered by hand, transmitted by facsimile or transmitted electronically or (ii) on the date indicated as the date of receipt on the return receipt when delivered by mail or courier service.

8.4 Agreement Binding Upon Successors and Assigns; Delegation

This Agreement is binding upon and inures to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors, but the rights and obligations of the Partners hereunder are not assignable, transferable or delegable except as provided in Sections 4.1(c), 5.3 and 5.4, and any attempted assignment, transfer or delegation thereof which is not made pursuant to the terms of such Sections will be null and void ab initio.

8.5 Governing Law

This Agreement is, and the rights of the Partners hereunder are, governed by and shall be construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware, without regard to the conflict of laws rule thereof which would result in the application of the laws of a different jurisdiction. The parties hereby consent to the exclusive jurisdiction and venue for any action arising out of this Agreement in the courts located in Dallas County, Texas. Each Partner consents to service of process in any action or proceeding involving the Partnership by the mailing thereof by registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, to such Partner's mailing address set forth in the register of Partners maintained by the General Partner.

8.6 Not for Benefit of Creditors

The provisions of this Agreement are intended only for the regulation of relations among Partners and between Partners and former or prospective Partners and the Partnership. Except for the rights of the Indemnified Persons hereunder, this Agreement is not intended for the benefit of non-Partner creditors and no rights are granted to non-Partner creditors under this Agreement.

8.7 Dispute Resolution

The following procedures shall be used to resolve any controversy or claim (“Dispute”) arising out of, relating to or in connection with the Agreement or otherwise involving the Partnership, its Partners and/or any Indemnified Person. If any of these provisions are determined to be invalid or unenforceable, the remaining provisions shall remain in effect and binding on the parties to the fullest extent permitted by law.

(a) Mediation

- (i) Any Dispute shall be submitted to mediation by written notice to the other party or parties. In the mediation process, the parties will try to resolve their differences voluntarily with the aid of an impartial mediator, who will attempt to facilitate negotiations. The mediator will be selected by agreement of the parties. If the parties cannot agree on a mediator, a mediator shall be designated by JAMS/Endispute at the request of a party using, if necessary, strike and rank procedures then in effect.
- (ii) The mediation will be conducted as specified by the mediator and agreed upon by the parties. The parties agree to discuss their differences in good faith and to attempt, with the assistance of the mediator, to reach an amicable resolution of the dispute.
- (iii) The mediation will be treated as a settlement discussion and therefore will be confidential. The mediator may not testify for either party in any later proceeding relating to the dispute. No recording or transcript shall be made of the mediation proceedings.
- (iv) Each party will bear its own costs in the mediation. The fees and expenses of the mediator will be shared equally by the parties.

(b) Arbitration

- (i) If a Dispute has not been resolved within 90 days after the written notice beginning the mediation process (or a longer period, if the parties agree to extend the mediation), the mediation shall terminate and the dispute will be settled by arbitration. A party who files a suit in court regarding a Dispute rather than in arbitration waives its claim and must pay all attorney’s fees and costs incurred by the other party in seeking to have such suit dismissed. Under no circumstances will a party maintain its right to pursue his/her/its Dispute if that party initiates a judicial suit instead of complying with the mediation and arbitration provisions herein. The arbitration will be conducted through JAMS/Endispute in accordance with the procedures in this document and the commercial dispute arbitration rules then in effect (“Arbitration Rules”). In the event of a conflict, the provisions of this document will control.

- (ii) The arbitration will be conducted before a panel of three arbitrators, regardless of the size of the dispute, to be selected as provided in the Arbitration Rules. Any issue concerning the extent to which any dispute is subject to arbitration, or concerning the applicability, interpretation, or enforceability of these procedures, including any contention that all or part of these procedures are invalid or unenforceable, shall be governed by the U.S. Federal Arbitration Act (“FAA”), and resolved by the arbitrators, provided, however, that the Partnership or such applicable affiliate thereof may pursue a temporary restraining order and/or preliminary injunctive relief in connection with confidentiality, non-competition, non-solicitation or non-recruitment covenants or agreements binding on any party, with related expedited discovery for the parties, in a court of law, and, thereafter, require arbitration of all issues of final relief. Under no circumstances will a state arbitration act preclude application of the FAA, including any choice of law provisions in this Agreement, or any other agreement. No potential arbitrator may serve on the panel unless he or she has agreed in writing to abide and be bound by these procedures.
- (iii) The arbitrators may not award non-monetary or equitable relief of any sort. They shall have no power to award punitive damages or any other damages not measured by the prevailing party’s actual damages, and the parties expressly waive their right to obtain such damages in arbitration or any in other forum. In no event, even if any other portion of these provisions is held to be invalid or unenforceable, shall the arbitrators have power to make an award or impose a remedy that could not be made or imposed by a court deciding the matter in the same jurisdiction. The arbitrator(s) shall be required to state in a written opinion all facts and conclusions of law relied upon to support any decision rendered. Any dispute over whether the arbitrator(s) has failed to comply with the foregoing will be resolved by summary judgment in a court of law.
- (iv) The party initiating arbitration shall pay all arbitration costs and arbitrator’s fees, subject to a final arbitration award on who should bear costs and fees. All proceedings shall be conducted in Dallas, Texas, or another mutually agreeable site. Each party shall bear its own attorneys fees, costs and expenses, including any costs of experts, witnesses and/or travel, subject to a final arbitration award on who should bear costs and fees. The duty to arbitrate described above shall survive the termination of this Agreement.
- (v) No discovery will be allowed in connection with the arbitration unless the arbitration panel, upon a showing of substantial need, expressly authorizes it. In any event, there shall be no more than (a) two party depositions of six hours each. Each deposition is to be taken pursuant to the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure; (b) one non-party deposition of six hours; (c) twenty-five interrogatories; (d) twenty-five requests for admission; (e) ten requests for production. In response, the producing party shall not be obligated to produce in excess of 5,000 total pages of documents. The total pages of documents shall include electronic documents; and (f) one request for disclosure pursuant to the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure. Any discovery not specifically provided for in this paragraph, whether to parties or non-parties, shall not be permitted.

- (vi) All aspects of the arbitration shall be treated as confidential, including its institution and/or settlement. Neither the parties nor the arbitrators may disclose the existence, content or results of the arbitration, except as necessary to comply with legal or regulatory requirements. Before making any such disclosure, a party shall give written notice to all other parties and shall afford such parties a reasonable opportunity to protect their interests. In the event a party who recovered monies by settlement, award by the arbitration panel, or otherwise in connection with the Dispute violates this confidentiality term, he, she, or it shall refund all such sums recovered. The parties expressly intend to waive the right to retain any monies received through settlement, award by the arbitration panel, or otherwise in connection with the Dispute in the event that that party violates the aforementioned confidentiality term.
- (vii) The result of the arbitration will be binding on the parties, and judgment on the arbitrators' award may be entered in any court having jurisdiction.

8.8 Consents and Voting

- (a) Except as provided in Section 5.4, Limited Partners do not have any right to vote for the admission or removal of any General Partner and, except for the right to vote on certain amendments proposed by the General Partner and as otherwise expressly set out herein, have no other voting rights. Upon the request of any Limited Partner, the General Partner may designate an Interest as a Non-Voting Interest, in which case the Limited Partner shall not have the right to vote on any matter including amendments.
- (b) Any and all consents, agreements or approvals provided for or permitted by this Agreement shall be in writing and a copy thereof shall be filed and kept with the books of the Partnership. For the avoidance of doubt, an amendment made pursuant to Section 8.1(c) or pursuant to negative consent under Section 8.1(a) or Section 8.1(b) shall not require any affirmative written response by any Limited Partner who is not electing to withdraw from the Partnership.
- (c) In the event the Partnership seeks the approval, vote or consent of the Offshore Fund with respect to any matter to which it would be entitled to vote as a Limited Partner of the Partnership under this Agreement, the Offshore Fund will: (i) submit such matter for the consent of the shareholders and (ii) shall vote its Limited Partner interest proportionally for and against such matter in the same proportion that the shareholders voted for and against such matter.

8.9 Merger and Consolidation

- (a) The Partnership may merge or consolidate with or into one or more limited partnerships formed under the Act or other business entities pursuant to an agreement of merger or consolidation which has been approved in the manner contemplated by Section 17-211(b) of the Act.
- (b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained elsewhere in this Agreement, an agreement of merger or consolidation approved in accordance with Section 17-211(b) of the Act may, to the extent permitted by Section 17-211(g) of the Act, (i) effect any amendment to this Agreement, (ii) effect the adoption of a new limited partnership agreement for the Partnership if it is the surviving or resulting limited partnership in the merger or consolidation, or (iii) provide that the limited partnership agreement of any other constituent partnership to the merger or consolidation (including a limited partnership formed for the purpose of consummating the merger or consolidation) shall be the limited partnership agreement of the surviving or resulting limited partnership.

8.10 Miscellaneous

- (a) The captions and titles preceding the text of each Section hereof shall be disregarded in the construction of this Agreement. Use of the word “including” in this Agreement means in each case “without limitation,” whether or not such term is explicitly stated.
- (b) This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, each of which shall be deemed to be an original hereof.
- (c) If any provision of this Agreement is held invalid or unenforceable by any court of competent jurisdiction, the other provisions of this Agreement shall remain in full force and effect. Any provision of this Agreement held invalid or unenforceable only in part or degree shall remain in full force and effect to the extent not held invalid or unenforceable.

8.11 BHCA Subject Persons

Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement to the contrary:

- (a) Solely for purposes of any provision of this Agreement that confers voting rights on the Limited Partners and any other provisions hereof regarding consents of or action by the Limited Partners, any BHCA Subject Person that shall have given the General Partner an Election Notice and shall not thereafter have given the General Partner a Revocation Notice, and that at any time has a Partnership Percentage in excess of 4.9% of the aggregate Partnership Percentages of the Limited Partners entitled to participate in such voting or the giving of any consent or the taking of any action, shall be deemed to hold a Partnership Percentage of only 4.9% of the aggregate Partnership Percentages of the Limited Partners (after giving effect to the limitations imposed by this Section 8.11 on all such Limited Partners), and such Partnership Percentage in excess of said 4.9% shall be deemed held by the Limited Partners who are not BHCA Subject Persons, pro rata in proportion to their respective Partnership Percentages; provided that this limitation shall not prohibit a Limited Partner from voting or participating in giving or withholding consent or taking any action under any provision of this Agreement up to the full amount of its Partnership Percentage in situations where such Limited Partner's vote or consent or action is of the type customarily provided by statute or stock exchange rules with regard to matters that would significantly and adversely affect the rights or preference of the Limited Partner's Interest. The foregoing voting restriction shall continue to apply with respect to any assignee or other transferee of such BHCA Subject Person's Interest; provided, however, that the foregoing voting restriction shall not continue to apply if the Interest is transferred: (i) to the Partnership; (ii) to the public in an offering registered under the Securities Act; (iii) in a transaction pursuant to Rule 144 or Rule 144A under the Securities Act in which no Person acquires more than 2% of the Partnership's outstanding Interests; or (iv) in a single transaction to a third party who acquires at least a majority of the Partnership's outstanding Interests without regard to the Transfer of such Interests.

- (b) Except as specifically provided otherwise in this Agreement, a Limited Partner that is a BHCA Subject Person that shall have given the General Partner an Election Notice, and shall not thereafter have given the General Partner a Revocation Notice, shall not be entitled to exercise any rights to consent to actions to be taken with respect to the Partnership, including rights conferred by any applicable law. Such right to consent shall be deemed granted to the Limited Partners who are not BHCA Subject Persons, pro rata in proportion to their respective Partnership Percentages.
- (c) A Limited Partner that is a BHCA Subject Person and that elects to be subject to Section 8.11(a) and (b) shall notify the General Partner thereof (an "Election Notice") and, on the General Partner's receipt of such Election Notice, such Limited Partner shall be subject to Section 8.11(a) and (b) until 10 calendar days after such Limited Partner notifies the General Partner that it elects no longer to be subject to Section 8.11(a) and (b) (a "Revocation Notice"), which period may be reduced by the General Partner.

8.12 RIC Limited Partners

An Interest of a RIC Limited Partner does not entitle the RIC Limited Partner to vote or consent with respect to any Partnership matter unless the RIC Limited Partner's vote or consent with respect to its Interest would not be considered to be "voting securities" as defined under Section 2(a)(42) of the Investment Company Act. Except as provided in this Section 8.12, an Interest held by a RIC Limited Partner as a Non-Voting Interest is identical in all regards to all other Interests held by Limited Partners.

8.13 Bad Actor Limited Partners

Under Rule 506(d) under the Securities Act, the Partnership may be banned from selling Interests under Rule 506 if a Limited Partner beneficially owning 20% or more of the Partnership's voting securities engages in a "bad act" set forth in Rule 506. Accordingly, each Limited Partner agrees that the General Partner may deem the portion of any Bad Actor Limited Partner's Interests to be, or convert any Bad Actor Limited Partner's Interests into, Non-Voting Interests (except for the purposes of voting on any amendment to this Agreement that would materially and adversely change the Bad Actor Limited Partner's rights and preferences as a Limited Partner other than pursuant to an amendment under Section 8.1(c)) to the extent that the General Partner determines that such portion is in excess of 19.99% of the outstanding aggregate voting Interests of all Partners excluding any Interests that are Non-Voting Interests.

8.14 Entire Agreement

The parties acknowledge and agree that, this Agreement, together with any other agreement with a Limited Partner pursuant to Section 8.1(e), constitutes the entire agreement among the parties hereto pertaining to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior agreements and understandings pertaining thereto.

- "Valuation Point" means, with respect to any Class and/or Series, the time or times on the Valuation Date of such Class and/or Series at which the Directors determine that the Net Asset Value per Participating Share of that Class and/or Series shall be calculated.

1.2 In these Articles:

- (a) the singular number includes the plural number and vice versa;
- (b) the masculine gender includes the feminine gender;
- (c) persons includes corporations;
- (d) "written" and "in writing" include all modes of representing or reproducing words in visible form, including in the form of an Electronic Record;
- (e) "shall" shall be construed as imperative and "may" shall be construed as permissive;
- (f) references to provisions of any law or regulation shall be construed as references to those provisions as amended, modified, re-enacted or replaced from time to time;
- (g) any phrase introduced by the terms "including", "include", "in particular" or any similar expression shall be construed as illustrative and shall not limit the sense of the words preceding those terms;
- (h) the term "and/or" is used herein to mean both "and" as well as "or." The use of "and/or" in certain contexts in no respects qualifies or modifies the use of the terms "and" or "or" in others. "Or" shall not be interpreted to be exclusive, and "and" shall not be interpreted to require the conjunctive — in each case, unless the context otherwise requires;
- (i) any reference to the powers of the Directors shall include, when the context admits, the service providers or any other person to whom the Directors may delegate their powers;
- (j) any requirements as to delivery under the Articles include delivery in the form of an Electronic Record;
- (k) any requirements as to execution or signature under the Articles including the execution of the Articles themselves can be satisfied in the form of an electronic signature as defined in the Electronic Transactions Law;
- (l) sections 8 and 19(3) of the Electronic Transactions Law shall not apply; and
- (m) headings are inserted for reference only and shall be ignored in construing these Articles.

2 Commencement of Business

- 2.1 The business of the Company may be commenced as soon after incorporation as the Directors shall see fit.
- 2.2 The Directors may pay, out of the capital or any other monies of the Company, all expenses incurred in or about the formation and operation of the Company, including the expenses of registration and the initial offering of Participating Shares.

3 Service Providers

- 3.1 The Directors may appoint any person, firm or corporation to act as a service provider to the Company (whether in general or in respect of any Class and/or Series of Shares) and may entrust to and confer upon any such service providers any of the functions, duties, powers and discretions exercisable by them as Directors, upon such terms and conditions (including as to remuneration payable by the Company) and with such powers of delegation, but subject to such restrictions, as they think fit. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, such service providers may include managers, investment advisers, administrators, registrars, transfer agents, custodians and prime brokers.
- 3.2 Without prejudice to the generality of the preceding Article, the Directors may appoint any person, firm or corporation to act as the Investment Manager with respect to the assets of the Company (whether in general or in respect of any Class and/or Series of Shares). The Directors may entrust to and confer upon the Investment Manager any of the functions, duties, powers and discretions exercisable by them as Directors upon such terms and conditions (including as to remuneration payable by the Company) and with such powers of delegation, but subject to such restrictions, as they think fit.

4 Rights attaching to Shares

- 4.1 The Management Shares shall have the following rights:
- (a) as to voting: the holder of a Management Share shall (in respect of such Management Share) have the right to receive notice of, attend at and vote as a Member at any general meeting of the Company; and
  - (b) as to capital: a Management Share shall confer upon the holder the right in a winding up to repayment of capital as provided in these Articles but shall confer no other right to participate in the profits or assets of the Company; and
  - (c) as to income: no dividends shall be payable on the Management Shares.
- 4.2 The Participating Shares shall have the following rights:

- (a) as to voting: the holder of a Participating Share shall not (in respect of such Participating Share) have the right to receive notice of, attend at or vote as a Member at any general meeting of the Company, but may vote at a separate Class meeting convened in accordance with these Articles; and
- (b) as to capital: a Participating Share shall confer upon the holder thereof the right in a winding up to participate in the surplus assets of the Company by reference to the Separate Account attributable to the relevant Class or Series of Participating Shares as provided in these Articles; and
- (c) as to income: the Participating Shares shall confer on the holders thereof the right to receive dividends as provided in these Articles.

4.3 Notwithstanding Articles 4.1(a) and 4.2(a), if the Company, in its capacity as a limited partner of the Master Fund, is called upon to approve, vote or consent to any matter to which it would be entitled to vote as a limited partner of the Master Fund and is required to seek the consent of the holders of Participating Shares in connection with any such approval, vote or consent pursuant to the constitutional documents of the Master Fund (a "Master Fund Consent Transaction"), each holder of a Participating Share shall have the right (in respect of such Participating Share), to the exclusion of the holders of the Management Shares (in respect of such Management Shares), to receive notice of, and vote on, the Master Fund Consent Transaction (the "Special Voting Right"). The voting rights attributable to each Participating Share shall be calculated by reference to the Net Asset Value per Participating Share (calculated as at the most recent Valuation Date) and not on the basis of one Participating Share, one vote. For every Master Fund Consent Transaction, the Directors shall cause the Company to vote its limited partnership interest in the Master Fund proportionally for and against such matter in the same proportion that the Members holding Participating Shares voted for and against such matter pursuant to the Special Voting Right.

4.4 In relation to any Special Voting Right pursuant to Article 4.3, unless otherwise determined by the Directors in their sole discretion, the procedure in this Article 4.4 shall be invoked. The Directors shall provide written notice of the proposed Master Fund Consent Transaction to the Members holding Participating Shares and shall specify a deadline (the "Consent Date"), which shall be no earlier than 30 days after the date of giving such notice, by which date such Members may submit a written refusal to consent to the proposed Master Fund Consent Transaction. The holders of Participating Shares in respect of which an express written refusal to consent has not been received by the Consent Date shall be deemed to have consented in writing to the proposed Master Fund Consent Transaction.

5 Share Capital

5.1 Subject to these Articles, the Directors may allot, issue, grant options or warrants over, or otherwise dispose of Shares in separate classes and/or series with different terms, preferences, privileges or special rights including, without limitation, with respect to investment strategy and/or policy, participation in assets, profits and losses of the Company, voting, fees charged (including management, performance and incentive fees), redemption privileges, allocation of costs and expenses (including, without limitation, the costs and expenses incurred in any hedging activities and any profits and losses arising therefrom) as they think proper. Subject to the Statute, these Articles and any applicable subscription agreement, any Share Rights (other than those set out in these Articles or set out in a Special Resolution) may be varied by either the Directors or by Ordinary Resolution. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Subscriber shall have the power to:

- (a) issue one Share to itself;
- (b) transfer that Share by an instrument of transfer to any person; and
- (c) update the Register of Members in respect of the issue and transfer of that Share.

- 5.2 On or before the allotment of any Participating Share the Directors shall resolve the Class and/or Series to which such Participating Share shall be classified and may, prior to the issue of any Participating Share, reclassify such Participating Share. Each Class and/or Series shall be specifically identified. Subject to the Statute and these Articles, the Directors may at any time re-name any Participating Share.
- 5.3 Notwithstanding the currency in which the par value of the Participating Shares is denominated, the Directors may specify any currency as the currency in which the Subscription Price, Redemption Price and Net Asset Value of Participating Shares of a Class and/or Series is calculated.
- 5.4 The Company shall not issue Shares to bearer.
- 5.5 Fractional Shares may be issued.
- 5.6 Shares shall only be issued as fully paid-up.
- 5.7 No right of pre-emption or first refusal shall attach to any Shares.
- 5.8 New Issue Shares shall not be issued to a Prohibited Person.

6 Allotment and Issue of Participating Shares

- 6.1 The Directors may from time to time allot and issue Participating Shares of any Class and/or Series. The Directors may, in their discretion, refuse to allot and issue any Participating Shares, and shall not issue any Participating Shares to or for the account of an investor who is not an Eligible Investor. If the Directors have declared a Calculation Suspension or Issue Suspension, no Participating Shares of that Class or Series (as appropriate) shall be issued until the relevant Suspension has ended.
- 6.2 The Directors shall determine the Subscription Price at the time of issue of the first issue of Participating Shares of any Class and/or Series. Thereafter, the Directors may allot and issue Participating Shares of the same Class and/or Series on any Subscription Date provided that such additional Participating Shares are issued at a Subscription Price equal to not less than the Net Asset Value per Participating Share of such Class and/or Series calculated on the relevant Subscription Date (or if the Subscription Date is not also a Valuation Date then on the immediately preceding Valuation Date).

- 6.3 The Directors may add to the Subscription Price per Participating Share (before making any rounding adjustment) an amount which they consider to be an appropriate allowance to reflect fiscal and purchase charges which would be incurred for the account of the Company in investing an amount equal to the Subscription Price. The Directors may also add, in their discretion, a Sales Charge and/or an amount equal to any stamp duty and any other governmental taxes or charges payable by the Company with respect to the issue of such Participating Shares.
- 6.4 An applicant for Participating Shares shall pay for such Participating Shares in such currencies, in such manner, at such time, in such place and to such person acting on behalf of the Company as the Directors may from time to time determine.
- 6.5 Subject to the terms of any subscription agreement, an application for Participating Shares shall be irrevocable by an applicant for Participating Shares once it has been received by the Company. Participating Shares shall be treated as having been issued with effect from the relevant Subscription Date notwithstanding that the subscriber for those Participating Shares may not be entered in the Register of Members until after the Subscription Date.
- 6.6 Participating Shares shall be issued in such minimum numbers as the Directors may specify either generally or in any particular case; likewise the Directors may from time to time prescribe an amount as the minimum subscription amount.
- 6.7 The Directors may resolve to accept non-cash assets in satisfaction (in whole or in part) of the Subscription Price.
- 6.8 The Directors may require an applicant for Participating Shares to pay to the Company for the benefit of any selling agent such selling commissions or such organisational charges as may have been disclosed to such applicant. The Directors may differentiate between applicants as to the amount of such selling commissions or such organisational charges.
- 6.9 The Company may, in so far as the Statute permits, pay a commission to any person in consideration of that person subscribing or agreeing to subscribe whether absolutely or conditionally for any Participating Shares. Such commissions may be satisfied by the payment of cash and/or the issue of fully or partly paid-up Participating Shares. The Company may also on any issue of Participating Shares pay such brokerage as may be lawful.

7 Separate Accounts

- 7.1 The Directors shall have the power to establish and maintain, with respect to Participating Shares of any Class and/or Series, a Separate Account, to record (purely as an internal accounting matter) the allocation, on a differentiated basis, of the assets and liabilities of the Company to the holders of Participating Shares of any such Class and/or a Series in a manner consistent with the methodology set forth in the Offering Memorandum and the rights otherwise attaching to the Participating Shares.

- 7.2 The proceeds from the issue of Participating Shares of any Class and/or Series shall be applied in the books of the Company to the Separate Account established for Participating Shares of that Class and/or Series. The assets and liabilities and income and expenditure attributable to that Separate Account shall be applied to such Separate Account and, subject to the provisions of these Articles, to no other Separate Account. In the event that the assets of a Separate Account referable to any Class and/or Series are exhausted, any and all unsatisfied claims which any Members or former Members referable to that Class and/or Series have against the Company shall be extinguished. The Members or former Members referable to a Class and/or Series shall have no recourse against the assets of any other Separate Account established by the Company.
- 7.3 Where any asset is derived from another asset (whether cash or otherwise), such derivative asset shall be applied in the books of the Company to the same Separate Account as the asset from which it was derived, and on each revaluation of an asset the increase or diminution in value shall be applied to the same Separate Account and, subject to the provisions of these Articles, to no other Separate Account.
- 7.4 In the case of any asset or liability of the Company which the Directors do not consider is attributable to a particular Separate Account, the Directors shall have discretion to determine the basis upon which any such asset or liability shall be allocated between or among Separate Accounts.
- 7.5 The Directors may, in the books of the Company, allocate assets and liabilities to and from Separate Accounts if, as a result of a creditor proceeding against certain of the assets of the Company or otherwise, a liability would be borne in a different manner from that in which it would have been borne if applied under the foregoing Articles.
- 7.6 The Directors may from time to time transfer, allocate or exchange an asset or liability from one Separate Account to another Separate Account provided that at the time of such transfer, allocation or exchange the Directors form the opinion (in good faith) that the value in money or money's worth of each such asset or liability transferred, allocated or exchanged is not significantly less or more than the value in money or money's worth (referred to in these Articles as "proper value") received by the Separate Account from which such asset or liability is transferred, allocated or exchanged except only as is otherwise provided by these Articles.

8 Determination of Net Asset Value

- 8.1 The Net Asset Value and Net Asset Value per Participating Share of each Class and/or Series shall be determined by or on behalf of the Directors as at the relevant Valuation Point on each relevant Valuation Date.

- 8.2 In calculating the Net Asset Value and the Net Asset Value per Participating Share, the Directors shall apply such generally accepted accounting principles as they may determine.
- 8.3 The assets and liabilities of the Company shall be valued in accordance with such policies as the Directors may determine. Absent bad faith or manifest error, any valuation made pursuant to these Articles shall be binding on all persons.
- 8.4 Unless otherwise determined by the Directors in any resolution creating a Class and/or Series of Participating Shares or as otherwise disclosed in any Offering Memorandum, the Net Asset Value per Participating Share of each Class (or Series) shall be determined by allocating pro rata the Net Asset Value, as at the relevant Valuation Point, of the Company and/or of the relevant Separate Account among each Class and/or Series, adjusting the amount so calculated to reflect any fees, costs, foreign exchange items or other assets or liabilities which are properly attributable to a specific Class and/or Series and then by dividing the resultant amount by the number of Participating Shares of such Class and/or Series then in issue.
- 8.5 The Directors may determine that the Net Asset Value of any Class and/or Series shall be definitively determined on the basis of estimates and that such determination shall not be modified to reflect final valuations.
- 8.6 Any expense or liability may be amortised over such period as the Directors may determine.
- 8.7 The Directors may establish such reserves as they deem reasonably necessary for Company expenses and any other contingent Company assets or liabilities, and may, upon the reversal or release of such reserves, apply any monies resulting therefrom in such manner as they may, in their absolute discretion, determine.
- 8.8 Net Asset Value per Participating Share shall be rounded to the nearest cent or such other amount as the Directors may determine and the benefit of any such roundings may be retained by the Company.
- 8.9 The Directors may cause the Company to issue new Participating Shares at par or to compulsorily redeem at par such number of Participating Shares as they consider necessary to address, in such manner as they consider equitable, any prior miscalculation of Net Asset Value or Net Asset Value per Participating Share. The Company shall not be required to pay to the holder the redemption proceeds of any such compulsorily redeemed Participating Shares, which proceeds shall be retained by the Company.

9 Suspensions

- 9.1 The Directors may, from time to time, in the circumstances disclosed in the Offering Memorandum, declare a Suspension with respect to any one or more Classes and/or Series of Participating Shares.

- 9.2 The Directors shall promptly notify all affected Members of any such Suspension and shall promptly notify such Members upon termination of such Suspension.

10 Transfer of Shares

- 10.1 Subject to Article 5.1, Shares may not be Transferred without the prior written approval of the Directors (which may be withheld for any or no reason) provided that the Directors may waive this requirement to the extent that they deem appropriate in connection with the listing of any Class or Series of Share on a stock exchange.
- 10.2 The Directors shall not register any Transfer of any Share to any person who is, in the opinion of the Directors, not an Eligible Investor.
- 10.3 Any proposed transferee shall provide to the Directors such information and documents as the Directors may request, including, without limitation, such documents or information as the Directors deem necessary or desirable:
- (a) to enable the Directors to determine that the proposed transferee is an Eligible Investor; and
  - (b) to enable the Company to comply with all applicable laws, including anti-money laundering laws.
- 10.4 The instrument of Transfer of any Share shall be in writing and shall be executed by or on behalf of the transferor (and, if the Directors so require, signed by or on behalf of the transferee). The transferor shall be deemed to remain the holder of a Share until the name of the transferee is entered in the Register of Members.

11 Transmission of Shares

- 11.1 If a Member dies, the survivor or survivors (where the Member was a joint holder) or his or her legal personal representatives (where the Member was a sole holder) shall be the only persons recognised by the Company as having any title to the Member's interest in the Company. The death of any Member shall not operate to relieve, waive or reduce any liabilities attaching to the Member's Shares at the time of death and such liabilities shall continue to bind any survivor or survivors, or any personal representative, as the case may be.
- 11.2 Any person becoming entitled to a Share in consequence of the death or bankruptcy, or the liquidation or dissolution, of a Member (or in any other way than by Transfer) and who is an Eligible Investor may, upon delivery to the Directors of such evidence as may from time to time be required by them of:
- (a) such person's entitlement to such Shares; and/or
  - (b) such person's status as an Eligible Investor, elect, either to become the holder of such Share or to have such Share Transferred to another Eligible Investor nominated by such person. If such person elects to become the holder of such Share, such person shall give notice in writing to the Directors to that effect, but the Directors shall, in either case, have the same right to decline registration of such person as a holder of such Share as they would have had in the case of a Transfer of the Share by that Member before his or her death or bankruptcy, or liquidation or dissolution, as the case may be.

- 11.3 Any person becoming entitled to a Share in consequence of the death or bankruptcy, or the liquidation or dissolution, of a Member (or in any other way than by Transfer) and who is not an Eligible Investor shall not be registered as the holder of such Share and shall promptly Transfer such Share to an Eligible Investor in accordance with these Articles.
- 11.4 A person becoming entitled to a Share by reason of the death or bankruptcy or liquidation or dissolution of the holder (or in any other case than by Transfer), and who is an Eligible Investor, shall be entitled to the same dividends and other advantages to which such person would be entitled if such person were the registered holder of such Share. However, the person shall not, before becoming a Member in respect of a Share, be entitled in respect of it to exercise any right conferred by membership in relation to meetings of the Company and the Directors may at any time give notice requiring any such person to elect either to be registered himself or to have some person nominated by him become the holder of the Share (but the Directors shall, in either case, have the same right to decline or suspend registration as they would have had in the case of a transfer of the Share by the relevant Member before his death or bankruptcy or liquidation or dissolution or any other case than by transfer, as the case may be). If the notice is not complied with within ninety days the Directors may thereafter withhold payment of all dividends, bonuses or other monies payable in respect of the Share until the requirements of the notice have been complied with.

12 Redemption of Shares

- 12.1 Subject to any provisions relating to a specific Class and/or Series as set out in the Offering Memorandum or these Articles or in any resolution constituting a Class and/or Series or otherwise forming part of the special rights of such Participating Shares, a Member may require the redemption of all or any of such Member's Participating Shares by serving a Redemption Notice on the Company. Unless timely receipt is waived by the Directors in a particular case, a Redemption Notice shall be required to be received on or before a Redemption Date with respect to such Participating Shares (or such number of days prior to such Redemption Date as may be determined by the Directors). Any Member redeeming Participating Shares shall submit to the Directors the share certificate (if any) issued in respect of those Participating Shares. The Company shall redeem such Participating Shares at the Redemption Price, being an amount equal to the Net Asset Value per Participating Share of the relevant Class and/or Series prevailing on the relevant Redemption Date (or if the Redemption Date is not a Valuation Date then on the immediately preceding Valuation Date) subject to any deductions, holdbacks or adjustments provided for in these Articles and/or the Offering Memorandum.

- 12.2 The Directors may deduct any Redemption Fee from the Redemption Price. The Directors may also deduct such amount which they consider to be an appropriate allowance to reflect fiscal and sale charges which would be incurred for the account of the Company in realising assets or closing out positions to provide funds to meet any redemption request.
- 12.3 A Member may not withdraw a Redemption Notice once submitted to the Company unless (a) the Directors shall have declared a Calculation Suspension or Redemption Suspension or (b) the Directors determine (in their sole discretion) to permit the withdrawal of such redemption request (which they may do in whole or in part). If a relevant Suspension has been declared by the Directors, the right of a Member to have its Participating Shares redeemed shall be suspended and during the period of Suspension the Member may withdraw its Redemption Notice. Any withdrawal of the Redemption Notice shall be made in writing and shall only be effective if actually received by the Company before the termination of the period of the Redemption Suspension or Calculation Suspension, as applicable. If the Redemption Notice is not withdrawn, any Participating Shares the redemption of which has been suspended shall be redeemed once the relevant Suspension has ended at the Redemption Price for Participating Shares of the relevant Class and/or Series calculated on the next Redemption Date following the end of the relevant Suspension.
- 12.4 The Directors may impose a gate the effect of which is to limit the redemptions of Participating Shares of any Class and/or Series or to limit the redemptions of Participating Shares held by any Member or Members as of any Redemption Date to such extent and in such manner as is disclosed in the Offering Memorandum. If the Directors determine to limit redemptions, the Directors may determine the manner in which such gated redemption requests will be dealt with on any subsequent Redemption Date.
- 12.5 If the Company is required by the laws of any relevant jurisdiction to make a withholding from any redemption monies payable to the holder of Participating Shares the amount of such withholding shall be deducted from the redemption monies otherwise payable to such person.
- 12.6 No redemption of part of a Member's holding of Participating Shares of any one Class and/or Series may be made if, as a result thereof, such Member would hold fewer Participating Shares of such Class and/or Series than such minimum number or value of Participating Shares of such Class and/or Series as may from time to time be specified (either generally or in any particular case or cases) by the Directors. If such partial redemption would reduce such Member's holding of Participating Shares to less than such minimum holding, the Directors may, in their discretion, elect to compulsorily redeem all of such Member's Participating Shares.
- 12.7 The Company may, in the absolute discretion of the Directors, refuse to make a redemption payment to a Member if the Directors suspect or are advised that the payment of any redemption proceeds to such Member may result in a breach or violation of any anti-money laundering law by any person in any relevant jurisdiction, or if such refusal is necessary to ensure the compliance by the Company, its Directors, the Administrator or any other service provider of the Company with any anti-money laundering law in any relevant jurisdiction.

- 12.8 Any amount payable to a Member for the redemption of Participating Shares shall be paid in such currency or currencies as the Directors may determine. Subject to any Payment Suspension, the Company shall remit redemption proceeds (net of the costs of remittance) by cheque or wire transfer within such period or periods as the Directors shall have disclosed to the Member at the time of its subscription for Participating Shares or, in the absence of any such disclosure, within such period or periods as the Directors shall determine. In the absence of directions as to payment the Company may remit redemption proceeds by cheque to the address of the Member appearing on the Register of Members or by wire transfer to such account as the Directors deem appropriate in the circumstances. The Company shall not be liable for any loss resulting from this procedure.
- 12.9 On any redemption of Participating Shares the Directors shall have the power to satisfy (in whole or in part) the Redemption Price (and any other sums payable on redemption as provided in these Articles) owing on the redemption of such Participating Shares by dividing in specie the whole or any part of the assets of the Company (including, without limitation, shares, debentures, or securities of any other company whether or not held by the Company on the Redemption Date in question) and either (i) distributing such assets directly to the redeeming shareholder, and/or (ii) distributing or allocating such assets to a liquidating account or other similar mechanism to be managed and/or liquidated at the discretion of the Directors.
- 12.10 Participating Shares shall be treated as having been redeemed with effect from the relevant Redemption Date irrespective of whether or not a Member has been removed from the Register of Members or the Redemption Price has been determined or remitted. Accordingly, on and from the relevant Redemption Date, Members in their capacity as such will not be entitled to or be capable of exercising any rights arising under these Articles with respect to Participating Shares being redeemed (including any right to receive notice of, attend or vote at any meeting of the Company) save the right to receive the Redemption Price and any dividend which has been declared prior to the relevant Redemption Date but not yet paid (in each case with respect to the Participating Shares being redeemed). Such Members will be treated as creditors of the Company with respect to the Redemption Price and will rank accordingly in the priority of the Company's creditors.
- 12.11 Once a Participating Share is redeemed it shall be available for re issue and, until re issue, shall form part of the authorised and unissued share capital of the Company.
- 12.12 Upon the written request of a Member or prospective Member in a form acceptable to the Directors, the Company may, in the discretion of the Directors, accept a standing redemption request from such Member or prospective Member pursuant to which the Company shall agree (without assuming any liability for failing to do so) to use its commercially reasonable efforts to redeem such Member's Participating Shares to the extent necessary to ensure that such Member does not own over a specified percentage of the outstanding Participating Shares of the Company or any Class and/or Series thereof; such percentage to be the percentage identified by such Member or prospective Member in such written request as being the percentage which such Member's or prospective Member's ownership cannot exceed without material risk of such Member or prospective Member being in violation of applicable law or regulation. Any such written request may be revoked by notice in writing to the Company from the affected Member.

- 12.13 No amendment to these Articles made after a Redemption Date shall affect a Member with respect to Participating Shares of that Member which have been redeemed, or are being treated as redeemed, on or prior to that Redemption Date.
- 12.14 Unless otherwise provided in the Offering Memorandum, unremitted redemption proceeds shall not bear interest against the Company and redeemed Participating Shares shall not participate in the profits and losses of the Company with effect from the relevant Redemption Date.

13 Compulsory Redemption

- 13.1 The Directors may cause the Company to redeem any or all of the Participating Shares held by any person at the appropriate Redemption Price in the circumstances disclosed in the Offering Memorandum. If the Directors determine compulsorily to redeem any Participating Shares under this Article they shall give the holder of the Participating Shares such notice of the redemption as they shall have disclosed to the Member at the time of its subscription for Participating Shares or, in the absence of any such disclosure, within such period as the Directors shall determine.
- 13.2 The Directors may cause a compulsory redemption during any period for which a Redemption Suspension has been declared.
- 13.3 Without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing, the Company may (without notice) compulsorily redeem the Participating Shares of any Member and, on behalf of such Member, apply the proceeds of redemption in paying for new Participating Shares to give effect to any exchange, conversion or roll-up policy disclosed to Members pursuant to which Participating Shares of one Class or Series (the "Old Shares") may, at the option of the Company, be exchanged for Participating Shares of another Class or Series (the "New Shares") by means of the redemption of the Old Shares and the immediate re-subscription of the redemption proceeds in paying up the New Shares.

14 FATCA

- 14.1 Notwithstanding any other Article, in order to comply with FATCA, any Director shall be entitled to release and/or disclose on behalf of the Company to the Cayman Islands Tax Information Authority or equivalent authority (the "TIA") and any other foreign government body as required by FATCA, any information in its or its agents' or delegates' possession regarding a Member including, without limitation, financial information concerning the Member's investment in the Company, and any information relating to any shareholders, principals, partners, beneficial owners (direct or indirect) or controlling persons (direct or indirect) of such Member. Any such Director may also authorise any third party agent, including but not limited to, the Investment Manager or Administrator, to release and/or disclose such information on behalf of the Company.

- 14.2 In order to comply with FATCA and, if necessary, to reduce or eliminate any risk that the Company or its Members are subject to withholding taxes pursuant to FATCA or incur any costs or liabilities associated with FATCA, the Directors may cause the Company to undertake any of the following actions:
- (a) compulsorily redeem any or all of the Shares held by a Member either (i) where the Member fails to provide (in a timely manner) to the Company, or any agent or delegate of the Company, including but not limited to, the Investment Manager or the Administrator, any information requested by the Company or such agent or delegate pursuant to FATCA; or (ii) where there has otherwise been non-compliance by the Company with FATCA whether caused, directly or indirectly, by the action or inaction of such Member, or any related person, or otherwise;
  - (b) deduct from, or hold back, redemption or repurchase proceeds, dividend payments or any other distributions, in order to:
    - (i) comply with any requirement to apply and collect withholding tax pursuant to FATCA;
    - (ii) allocate to a Member an amount equal to any withholding tax imposed on the Company as a result of the Member's, or any related person's, action or inaction (direct or indirect), or where there has otherwise been non-compliance by the Company with FATCA;
    - (iii) ensure that any FATCA related costs, debts, expenses, obligations or liabilities (whether external, or internal, to the Company) are recovered from the Member(s) whose action or inaction (directly or indirectly, including the action or inaction of any person related to such Member) gave rise or contributed to such costs or liabilities;
  - (c) in order to give effect to the requirements imposed upon the Company by FATCA, including the actions contemplated by articles 14.2(a) and 14.2(b), the Directors may:
    - (i) create separate classes and/or series of Shares ("FATCA Shares"), with such rights and terms as the Directors may in their sole discretion determine, and following the compulsory redemption of some or all of a Member's Shares may immediately apply such redemption proceeds in subscribing for such number of FATCA Shares as the Directors determine; and/or
    - (ii) may re-name any number of Shares (whether issued or unissued) as FATCA Shares, create a Separate Account with respect to such FATCA Shares and apply any FATCA related costs, debts, expenses, obligations or liabilities (whether external, or internal, to the Company) to such Separate Account; and/or

- (iii) allocate any FATCA costs, debts, expenses, obligations, liabilities or withholding tax among Separate Accounts on a basis determined solely by the Directors; and/or
- (iv) adjust the Net Asset Value per Share of any relevant Shares (including any FATCA Share).

15 Designated Investments

- 15.1 The Directors may, in their discretion, classify certain of the Company's investments which are deemed by the Directors or the Investment Manager to be illiquid or the value of which is not readily or reliably ascertainable or which may have a relatively long-term investment horizon as "Designated Investments". Once so classified, Designated Investments may, in the discretion of the Directors, be represented by a separate Class and/or Series of Participating Shares which, unless otherwise determined by the Directors, shall be allotted only to those Members who are holders of Participating Shares at the time of such designation. The gains and losses attributable to Designated Investments may, in the discretion of the Directors, be segregated and separately calculated and attributed amongst Members holding Shares of the relevant Class or Series in such manner as is consistent with the relevant provisions of the Offering Memorandum. Participating Shares of any such separate Class and/or Series may be issued by way of bonus or by way of conversion or exchange of all or part of a Member's holding of Participating Shares of another Class and/or Series. Similarly, Shares of a Designated Investment Class and/or Series may be converted or exchanged back into Participating Shares of the original Class and/or Series upon the Directors making a determination that the relevant investment no longer qualifies as a Designated Investment. The power to convert or exchange Participating Shares of one Class and/or Series into Participating Shares of another Class and/or Series may be effected by the Directors in any manner permitted by the Statute and the Articles, including the compulsory redemption of Participating Shares of one Class and/or Series and the application of the proceeds of redemption in subscribing for Participating Shares of the other Class and/or Series or by redesignating a portion of the Participating Shares of any existing Class and/or Series as thereafter belonging to a new Class and/or Series. Shares of a Class or Series of Shares which represent Designated Investments shall not, unless the Directors otherwise determine, be redeemable at the option of the Members holding such Participating Shares. Where investments are classified as Designated Investments and Participating Shares of a separate Class and/or Series are issued by way of bonus, the requirement of these Articles to ensure proper value is transferred to the Separate Account of the Participating Shares of the original Class and/or Series to which such investments were originally allocated shall not apply.

16 Purchase and Surrender of Shares

- 16.1 Subject to the provisions of the Statute and without prejudice to these Articles, the Company may purchase its own Shares (including any redeemable Shares) in such manner and on such other terms as the Directors may agree with the relevant Member.

16.2 The Company may make a payment in respect of the redemption or purchase of its own Shares in any manner permitted by the Statute, including out of capital.

16.3 The Directors may accept the surrender for no consideration of any fully paid Share.

17 Treasury Shares

17.1 The Directors may, prior to the purchase, redemption or surrender of any Share, determine that such Share shall be held as a Treasury Share.

17.2 The Directors may determine to cancel a Treasury Share or transfer a Treasury Share on such terms as they think proper (including, without limitation, for nil consideration).

18 Variation of Share Rights

18.1 Subject to the Statute, these Articles and any applicable subscription agreement, all or any of the Share Rights applicable to any Class or Series of Participating Shares in issue (unless otherwise provided by the terms of issue of those Participating Shares) may (whether or not the Company is being wound up) be varied without the consent of the holders of the issued Participating Shares of that Class or Series where such variation is considered by the Directors not to have a material adverse effect upon such holders' Share Rights; otherwise, any such variation may be made with the prior consent in writing of the holders of not less than two-thirds by Net Asset Value of such Participating Shares, or with the sanction of a resolution passed by a majority of at least two-thirds of the votes cast in person or by proxy at a separate meeting of the holders of such Participating Shares. For the avoidance of doubt, the Directors reserve the right, notwithstanding that any such variation may not have a material adverse effect, to obtain consent from the holders of such Participating Shares. To any such meeting all the provisions of these Articles as to general meetings shall mutatis mutandis apply, but so that any holder of a Participating Share present in person or by proxy may demand a poll, and the quorum for any such meeting shall be Members holding not less than twenty per cent. by Net Asset Value of the issued Participating Shares of the relevant Class or Series. At any Class meeting, the voting rights attributable to each Participating Share shall be calculated by reference to the Net Asset Value per Participating Share (calculated as at the most recent Valuation Date) and not on the basis of one Participating Share, one vote.

18.2 For the purposes of a Class consent, the Directors may treat two or more or all the Classes or Series of Participating Shares as forming one Class or Series if the Directors consider that such Classes or Series would be affected in the same way by the proposals under consideration, but in any other case shall treat them as separate Classes or Series.

18.3 Where the Shares of any Class or Series (the "First Class") rank, or will on issue rank, pari passu with the Shares of another Class or Series (the "Second Class") with respect to participation in the same pool of profits or assets of the Company on a winding up, the rights of the First Class shall be deemed to be varied by any variation of or creation of rights in the Second Class (including on initial issue) which gives the Second Class priority over the First Class on a winding up of the Company.

- 18.4 Subject to the foregoing Articles, the Share Rights applicable to any Class or Series of Shares in issue shall (unless otherwise expressly provided by the conditions of issue of such Shares) be deemed not to be varied by:
- (a) the creation, allotment or issue of further Shares ranking pari passu therewith and which may be issued with the benefit of the terms referred to below;
  - (b) the purchase or redemption of any Shares;
  - (c) the exercise of the powers to allocate assets and charge liabilities to the various Separate Accounts or any of them and to transfer the same to and from the various Separate Accounts or any of them, as provided for in these Articles;
  - (d) any reduction or waiver of any fees (including early redemption, management or performance fees) chargeable or allocable to any Class or Series of Shares;
  - (e) any reduction or waiver of any redemption notice, gate or lock-up period applicable to any Class or Series of Shares; or
  - (f) any variation or waiver contemplated by or provided for in the Offering Memorandum applicable to the relevant Class and/or Series.
- 18.5 In relation to any Class or Series consent required pursuant to Article 18.1, the Directors in their discretion may invoke the following procedure (the "Negative Consent Procedure"). The Directors shall provide written notice of the proposed variation (the "Proposal") to the Members of the affected Class or Series and shall specify a deadline (the "Redemption Request Date"), which shall be no earlier than 30 days after the date of giving such notice, by which date such Members may submit a written request for redemption of some or all of their Participating Shares of the affected Class and/or Series on the Redemption Date (the "Specified Redemption Date") specified by the Directors in such notice. The terms of the Proposal shall be such that its specified effective date (the "Effective Date") shall not be on or prior to the Specified Redemption Date. Such notice shall further provide that the holders of any Participating Shares in respect of which a request for redemption has not been received by the Redemption Request Date (the "Affected Shares") shall, in the absence of express written refusal to consent, be deemed to have consented in writing to the Proposal (such Affected Shares being the "Negative Consent Shares"). In the event that the Negative Consent Procedure is followed, only the Affected Shares shall be considered for the purposes of determining whether the written consent majority has been obtained under Article 18.1 with the holders of the Negative Consent Shares being deemed to have submitted a written consent in favour of the Proposal on the Effective Date.

19 Variation of Terms

The Directors, with the consent of the Investment Manager, shall have the absolute discretion to agree with a Member to waive or modify the terms applicable to such Member's subscription for Participating Shares (including those relating to management and performance fees and redemption terms) without obtaining the consent of any other Member; provided that such waiver or modification does not amount to a variation of the rights attaching to the Participating Shares of such other Members.

20 Certificates for Shares

- 20.1 A Member shall only be entitled to a share certificate if the Directors resolve that share certificates shall be issued. Share certificates representing Shares, if any, shall be in such form as the Directors may determine. Share certificates shall be signed by one or more Directors or another person authorised by the Directors. The Directors may authorise certificates to be issued with the authorised signature(s) affixed by mechanical process. All certificates for Shares shall be consecutively numbered or otherwise identified and shall specify the Shares to which they relate. All certificates surrendered to the Company for transfer shall be cancelled and, subject to these Articles, no new certificate shall be issued until the former certificate representing a like number of relevant Shares shall have been surrendered and cancelled.
- 20.2 The Company shall not be bound to issue more than one certificate for Shares held jointly by more than one person and delivery of a certificate to one joint holder shall be a sufficient delivery to all of them.
- 20.3 If a share certificate is defaced, worn out, lost or destroyed, it may be renewed on such terms (if any) as to evidence and indemnity and on the payment of such expenses reasonably incurred by the Company in investigating evidence, as the Directors may prescribe, and (in the case of defacement or wearing out) on delivery up of the old certificate.

21 Register of Members

- 21.1 The Company shall maintain or cause to be maintained the Register of Members.
- 21.2 The Directors may determine that the Company shall maintain one or more branch registers of Members in accordance with the Statute. The Directors may also determine which register of Members shall constitute the principal register and which shall constitute the branch register or registers, and to vary such determination from time to time.

22 Closing Register of Members and Fixing Record Date

- 22.1 For the purpose of determining Members entitled to notice of, or to vote at any meeting of Members or any adjournment thereof, or Members entitled to receive payment of any dividend, or in order to make a determination of Members for any other proper purpose, the Directors may provide that the Register of Members shall be closed for transfers for a stated period which shall not in any case exceed thirty days.

- 22.2 In lieu of, or apart from, closing the Register of Members, the Directors may fix in advance or arrears a date as the record date for any such determination of Members entitled to notice of, or to vote at any meeting of the Members or any adjournment thereof, or for the purpose of determining the Members entitled to receive payment of any dividend or in order to make a determination of Members for any other proper purpose.
- 22.3 If the Register of Members is not so closed and no record date is fixed for the determination of Members entitled to notice of, or to vote at, a meeting of Members or Members entitled to receive payment of a dividend, the date on which notice of the meeting is sent or the date on which the resolution of the Directors declaring such dividend is passed, as the case may be, shall be the record date for such determination of Members. When a determination of Members entitled to vote at any meeting of Members has been made as provided in this Article, such determination shall apply to any adjournment thereof.

23 Non Recognition of Trusts

The Company shall not be bound by or compelled to recognise in any way (even when notified) any equitable, contingent, future or partial interest in any Share, or (except only as is otherwise provided by these Articles or the Statute) any other rights in respect of any Share other than an absolute right to the entirety thereof in the registered holder.

- 23.1 if it is not paid all the provisions of these Articles shall apply as if that amount had become due and payable by virtue of a call.
- 23.2 The Directors may issue Shares with different terms as to the amount and times of payment of calls, or the interest to be paid.
- 23.3 The Directors may, if they think fit, receive an amount from any Member willing to advance all or any part of the monies uncalled and unpaid upon any Shares held by it, and may (until the amount would otherwise become payable) pay interest at such rate as may be agreed upon between the Directors and the Member paying such amount in advance.
- 23.4 No such amount paid in advance of calls shall entitle the Member paying such amount to any portion of a dividend declared in respect of any period prior to the date upon which such amount would, but for such payment, become payable.

24 Lien on Shares

- 24.1 The Company shall have a first and paramount lien on all Shares (whether fully paid-up or not) registered in the name of a Member (whether solely or jointly with others) for all debts, liabilities or engagements to or with the Company (whether presently payable or not) by such Member or such Member's estate, either alone or jointly with any other person, whether a Member or not, but the Directors may at any time declare any Share to be wholly or in part exempt from the provisions of this Article. The registration of a Transfer of any such Share shall operate as a waiver of the Company's lien thereon. The Company's lien on a Share shall also extend to any amount payable in respect of that Share.

- 24.2 The Company may sell, in such manner as the Directors think fit, any Shares on which the Company has a lien, if a sum in respect of which the lien exists is presently payable, and is not paid within fourteen clear days after notice has been given to the holder of the Shares, or to the person entitled to it in consequence of the death or bankruptcy of the holder, demanding payment and stating that if the notice is not complied with the Shares may be sold.
- 24.3 To give effect to any such sale the Directors may authorise any person to execute an instrument of Transfer of the Shares sold to, or in accordance with the directions of, the purchaser. The purchaser or such purchaser's nominee shall be registered as the holder of the Shares comprised in any such Transfer, and the purchaser shall not be bound to see to the application of the purchase money, nor shall the purchaser's title to the Shares be affected by any irregularity or invalidity in the sale or the exercise of the Company's power of sale under these Articles.
- 24.4 The net proceeds of such sale after payment of costs, shall be applied in payment of such part of the amount in respect of which the lien exists as is presently payable and any balance shall (subject to a like lien for sums not presently payable as existed upon the Shares before the sale) be paid to the person entitled to the Shares at the date of the sale.

25 Amendments of Memorandum and Articles and Alteration of Capital

- 25.1 The Company may, by Ordinary Resolution:
- (a) increase its share capital by such sum and with such rights, priorities and privileges annexed thereto, as the resolution shall prescribe;
  - (b) consolidate and divide all or any of its share capital into Shares of larger amount than its existing Shares;
  - (c) by subdivision of its existing Shares or any of them divide the whole or any part of its share capital into Shares of smaller amount than is fixed by the Memorandum; and
  - (d) cancel any Shares that at the date of the passing of the resolution have not been taken or agreed to be taken by any person.
- 25.2 All new Shares created in accordance with the provisions of the preceding Article shall be subject to the same provisions of these Articles with reference to liens, Transfer, transmission and otherwise as the Shares in the original share capital.
- 25.3 Subject to the provisions of the Statute and the provisions of these Articles as regards the matters to be dealt with by Ordinary Resolution the Company may, by Special Resolution:
- (a) change its name;
  - (b) alter or add to these Articles;

- (c) alter or add to the Memorandum with respect to any objects, powers or other matters specified therein; and
- (d) reduce its share capital or any capital redemption reserve fund.

26 Registered Office

Subject to the provisions of the Statute, the Company may by resolution of the Directors change the location of its Registered Office. The Company may, in addition to its Registered Office, maintain such other offices or places of business as the Directors determine.

27 General Meetings

- 27.1 All general meetings other than annual general meetings shall be called extraordinary general meetings. The Directors may call general meetings.
- 27.2 The Company may but shall not be obliged to hold a general meeting in each year as its annual general meeting, and shall specify the meeting as such in the notice calling it. Any annual general meeting shall be held at such time and place as the Directors shall determine.

28 Notice of General Meetings

- 28.1 At least five Business Days' notice shall be given of any general meeting. Every notice shall be exclusive of the day on which it is given or deemed to be given and of the day on which the meeting is to be held and shall specify the place, the day and the hour of the meeting and the general nature of the business and shall be given in the manner hereinafter mentioned or in such other manner if any as may be prescribed by the Company, provided that a general meeting of the Company shall, whether or not the notice specified in this Article has been given and whether or not the provisions of these Articles regarding general meetings have been complied with, be deemed to have been duly convened if it is so agreed:
  - (a) in the case of an annual general meeting, by all the Members entitled to attend and vote thereat; and
  - (b) in the case of an extraordinary general meeting, by a majority in number of the Members having the right to attend and vote at the meeting, being a majority together holding not less than ninety five per cent. in par value of the Shares giving that right.
- 28.2 The accidental omission to give notice of a general meeting to, or the non receipt of notice of a meeting by, any person entitled to receive notice thereof shall not invalidate the proceedings of that meeting.

29 Proceedings at General Meetings

- 29.1 No business shall be transacted at any general meeting unless a quorum is present. A quorum shall be one or more Members (present in person, by proxy or authorised corporate representative, as the case may be) entitled to attend and vote and representing not less than twenty per cent. in par value of all of the Shares in issue and carrying the right to vote at the meeting.

- 29.2 A person may, with the consent of the Directors, participate at a general meeting by conference telephone or other communications equipment by means of which all the persons participating in the meeting can communicate with each other. Participation by a person in a general meeting in this manner is treated as presence in person at that meeting.
- 29.3 A resolution (including a Special Resolution) in writing (in one or more counterparts) signed by all Members for the time being entitled to receive notice of and to attend and vote at general meetings (or, being corporations or other non-natural persons, signed by their duly authorised representatives) shall be as valid and effective as if the resolution had been passed at a general meeting of the Company duly convened and held.
- 29.4 If a quorum is not present within half an hour from the time appointed for the meeting or if during such a meeting a quorum ceases to be present, the meeting, if convened upon the requisition of Members, shall be dissolved and in any other case it shall stand adjourned to the same day in the next week at the same time and place or to such other day, time or such other place as the Directors may determine, and if at the adjourned meeting a quorum is not present within half an hour from the time appointed for the meeting the Members present shall be a quorum.
- 29.5 The chairman, if any, of the board of Directors shall preside as chairman at every general meeting of the Company, or if there is no such chairman, or if the chairman shall not be present within fifteen minutes after the time appointed for the holding of the meeting, or is unwilling to act, the Directors present shall elect one of their number to be chairman of the meeting.
- 29.6 If no Director is willing to act as chairman, or if no Director is present within fifteen minutes after the time appointed for holding the meeting, the Members present shall choose one of their number to be chairman of the meeting.
- 29.7 The chairman may, with the consent of a meeting at which a quorum is present (and shall if so directed by the meeting) adjourn the meeting from time to time and from place to place, but no business shall be transacted at any adjourned meeting other than the business left unfinished at the meeting from which the adjournment took place. When a general meeting is adjourned for thirty days or more, notice of the adjourned meeting shall be given as in the case of an original meeting. Otherwise it shall not be necessary to give any such notice.
- 29.8 A resolution put to the vote of a meeting shall be decided on a show of hands unless before, or on the declaration of the result of, the show of hands, the chairman or any Member present in person or by proxy (or in the case of a non-natural person, by its duly authorised representative or by proxy) demands a poll.
- 29.9 Unless a poll is duly demanded a declaration by the chairman that a resolution has been carried or carried unanimously, or by a particular majority, or lost or not carried by a particular majority, an entry to that effect in the minutes of the proceedings of the meeting shall be conclusive evidence of that fact without proof of the number or proportion of the votes recorded in favour of or against such resolution.

- 29.10 The demand for a poll may be withdrawn.
- 29.11 Except on a poll demanded on the election of a chairman or on a question of adjournment, a poll shall be taken as the chairman directs, and the result of the poll shall be deemed to be the resolution of the general meeting at which the poll was demanded.
- 29.12 A poll demanded on the election of a chairman or on a question of adjournment shall be taken forthwith. A poll demanded on any other question shall be taken at such time as the chairman of the general meeting directs, and any business other than that upon which a poll has been demanded or is contingent thereon may proceed pending the taking of the poll.
- 29.13 In the case of an equality of votes, whether on a show of hands or on a poll, the chairman shall not be entitled to a second or casting vote.

30 Votes of Members

- 30.1 Subject to any rights or restrictions attached to any Shares, on a show of hands every Member holding Shares carrying the right to vote on the matter in question who (being an individual) is present in person or by proxy or (if a corporation or other non-natural person) is present by its duly authorised representative or by proxy, shall have one vote and on a poll every such Member shall have one vote for every Share of which he is the holder.
- 30.2 In the case of joint holders of record, the vote of the senior holder who tenders a vote, whether in person or by proxy, shall be accepted to the exclusion of the votes of the other joint holders. Seniority among joint holders shall be determined by the order in which the names of the holders stand in the Register of Members.
- 30.3 A Member of unsound mind, or in respect of whom an order has been made by any court or authority having jurisdiction in lunacy, may vote, whether on a show of hands or on a poll, by the Member's committee, receiver, curator bonis, or other similar person appointed on such Member's behalf by that court or authority and any such committee, receiver, curator bonis or other similar person may vote by proxy.
- 30.4 No person shall be entitled to vote at any general meeting unless such person is registered as a Member on the record date for such meeting, nor unless all calls or other monies then payable by such person in respect of such Shares have been paid.
- 30.5 No objection shall be raised to the qualification of any voter except at the general meeting or adjourned general meeting at which the vote objected to is purported to be given or tendered and every vote not disallowed at the meeting shall be valid. Any objection made in due time shall be referred to the chairman whose decision shall be final and conclusive.

- 30.6 On a poll or on a show of hands votes may be cast either personally or by proxy. A Member may appoint more than one proxy or the same proxy under one or more instruments to attend and vote at a meeting. Where a Member appoints more than one proxy the instrument of proxy shall state which proxy is entitled to vote on a show of hands.
- 30.7 A Member holding more than one Share need not cast the votes in respect of its Shares in the same way on any resolution and therefore may vote a Share or some or all such Shares either for or against a resolution and/or abstain (any such abstentions to count neither for nor against the resolution) from voting a Share or some or all of the Shares and, subject to the terms of the instrument appointing it, a proxy appointed under one or more instruments may vote a Share or some or all of the Shares in respect of which such proxy is appointed either for or against a resolution and/or abstain from voting.

31 Proxies

- 31.1 The instrument appointing a proxy shall be in writing, be executed under the hand of the appointor or of such appointor's attorney duly authorised in writing or, if the appointor is a corporation or other non-natural person, under the hand of an officer or other person duly authorised for that purpose. A proxy need not be a Member of the Company.
- 31.2 The Directors may, in the notice convening any meeting or adjourned meeting, or in an instrument of proxy sent out by the Company, specify the place and the time (being not later than the time for holding the meeting or adjourned meeting to which the proxy relates) at which the instrument appointing a proxy shall be deposited. In the absence of any such direction from the Directors in the notice convening any meeting or adjourned meeting, the instrument appointing a proxy shall be deposited at the Registered Office not less than 48 hours before the time for holding the meeting or adjourned meeting at which the person named in the instrument proposes to vote.
- 31.3 The chairman may in any event, at the chairman's discretion, declare that an instrument of proxy shall be deemed to have been duly deposited. An instrument of proxy that is not deposited in the manner permitted and which has not been declared to have been duly deposited by the chairman, shall be invalid.
- 31.4 The instrument appointing a proxy may be in any usual or common form and may be incorporated within any subscription agreement or other document signed by or on behalf of the Member. An instrument appointing a proxy may be expressed to be for a particular meeting or any adjournment thereof or generally until revoked. An instrument appointing a proxy shall be deemed to include the power to demand or join or concur in demanding a poll.
- 31.5 Votes given in accordance with the terms of an instrument of proxy shall be valid notwithstanding the previous death or insanity of the principal or revocation of the proxy or of the authority under which the proxy was executed, or the Transfer of the Share in respect of which the proxy is given unless notice in writing of such death, insanity, revocation or Transfer was received by the Company at the Registered Office before the commencement of the general meeting, or adjourned meeting at which it is sought to use the proxy.

32 Corporate Members

Any corporation or other non-natural person which is a Member of the Company may in accordance with its constitutional documents, or in the absence of such provision by resolution of its directors or other governing body, authorise such person as it thinks fit to act as its representative at any meeting of the Company or of any Class of Members, and the person so authorised shall be entitled to exercise the same powers on behalf of the corporation which such person represents as the corporation could exercise if it were an individual Member.

33 Shares Beneficially Owned by the Company

Shares of the Company that are beneficially owned by the Company shall not be voted, directly or indirectly, at any meeting and shall not be counted in determining the total number of outstanding Shares at any given time.

34 Directors

There shall be a board of Directors consisting of not less than one person (exclusive of alternate Directors) provided however that the Company may from time to time by Ordinary Resolution increase or reduce the limits in the number of Directors. The first Directors of the Company shall be determined in writing by, or appointed by a resolution of, the Subscriber.

35 Powers of Directors

- 35.1 Subject to the provisions of the Statute, the Memorandum and the Articles and to any directions given by Special Resolution, the business of the Company shall be managed by the Directors who may exercise all the powers of the Company. No alteration of the Memorandum or these Articles and no such direction shall invalidate any prior act of the Directors which would have been valid if that alteration had not been made or that direction had not been given. A duly convened meeting of Directors at which a quorum is present may exercise all powers exercisable by the Directors.
- 35.2 All cheques, promissory notes, drafts, bills of exchange and other negotiable instruments and all receipts for monies paid to the Company shall be signed, drawn, accepted, endorsed or otherwise executed as the case may be in such manner as the Directors shall determine by resolution.
- 35.3 The Directors may exercise all the powers of the Company to borrow money and to mortgage or charge its undertaking, property and uncalled capital or any part thereof and to issue debentures, debenture stock, mortgages, bonds and other such securities whether outright or as security for any debt, liability or obligation of the Company or of any third party. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Directors shall not exercise the powers specified in this Article in breach of any limits or restrictions specified in the Offering Memorandum.

36 Appointment and Removal of Directors

- 36.1 The Company may, by Ordinary Resolution, appoint any person to be a Director and may, by Ordinary Resolution, remove any Director.
- 36.2 The Directors may appoint any person to be a Director, either to fill a vacancy or as an additional Director provided that the appointment does not cause the number of Directors to exceed any number fixed by or in accordance with these Articles as the maximum number of Directors.

37 Vacation of Office of Director

The office of a Director shall be vacated if:

- (a) the Director gives notice in writing to the Company that such Director resigns the office of Director;
- (b) the Director is absent (without being represented by proxy or an alternate Director appointed by such Director) from three consecutive meetings of the board of Directors without special leave of absence from the Directors, and they pass a resolution that such Director has by reason of such absence vacated office;
- (c) the Director dies, becomes bankrupt or makes any arrangement or composition with such Director's creditors generally;
- (d) the Director is or becomes of unsound mind;
- (e) the Director ceases to be a Director by virtue of, or is prohibited from being a Director by, an order made pursuant to any law or regulation binding on the Company; or
- (f) all the other Directors of the Company (being not less than two in number) resolve that such Director should be removed as a Director.

38 Proceedings of Directors

- 38.1 The quorum for the transaction of the business of the Directors may be fixed by the Directors, and unless so fixed shall be two if there are two or more Directors, and shall be one if there is only one Director. A person who holds office as an alternate Director shall, if such person's appointor is not present, be counted in the quorum. A Director who also acts as an alternate Director shall, if such Director's appointor is not present, count twice towards the quorum.
- 38.2 Subject to the provisions of these Articles, the Directors may regulate their proceedings as they think fit. Questions arising at any meeting shall be decided by a majority of votes. In the case of an equality of votes, the chairman shall not have a second or casting vote. A Director who is also an alternate Director shall be entitled in the absence of such Director's appointor to a separate vote on behalf of such Director's appointor in addition to such Director's own vote.

- 38.3 A person may participate in a meeting of the Directors or any committee of Directors by conference telephone or other communications equipment by means of which all the persons participating in the meeting can communicate with each other at the same time. Participation by a person in a meeting in this manner is treated as presence in person at that meeting. Unless otherwise determined by the Directors, the meeting shall be deemed to be held at the place where the chairman is located at the start of the meeting.
- 38.4 A resolution in writing (in one or more counterparts) signed by all the Directors or all the members of a committee of Directors (an alternate Director being entitled to sign such a resolution on behalf of such alternate Director's appointor) shall be as valid and effectual as if it had been passed at a meeting of the Directors, or committee of Directors as the case may be, duly convened and held.
- 38.5 A Director or alternate Director may, or other officer of the Company at the direction of a Director or alternate Director may call a meeting of the Directors by at least two days' notice in writing to every Director and alternate Director which notice shall set forth the general nature of the business to be considered unless notice is waived by all the Directors (or their alternates) either at, before or after the meeting is held.
- 38.6 The continuing Directors may act notwithstanding any vacancy in their body, but if and so long as their number is reduced below the number fixed by or pursuant to these Articles as the necessary quorum of Directors the continuing Directors or Director may act for the purpose of increasing the number of Directors to that number, or of summoning a general meeting of the Company, but for no other purpose.
- 38.7 The Directors may elect a chairman of their board and determine the period for which the chairman is to hold office; but if no such chairman is elected, or if at any meeting the chairman is not present within five minutes after the time appointed for holding the same, the Directors present may choose one of their number to be chairman of the meeting.
- 38.8 All acts done by any meeting of the Directors or of a committee of Directors (including any person acting as an alternate Director) shall, notwithstanding that it be afterwards discovered that there was some defect in the appointment of any Director or alternate Director, or that they or any of them were disqualified, be as valid as if every such person had been duly appointed and qualified to be a Director or alternate Director as the case may be.
- 38.9 A Director but not an alternate Director may be represented at any meetings of the board of Directors by a proxy appointed in writing by such Director. The proxy shall count towards the quorum and the vote of the proxy shall for all purposes be deemed to be that of the appointing Director.

39 Presumption of Assent

A Director who is present at a meeting of the board of Directors at which action on any Company matter is taken shall be presumed to have assented to the action taken unless the Director's dissent shall be entered in the minutes of the meeting or unless the Director shall file such Director's written dissent from such action with the person acting as the chairman or secretary of the meeting before the close or adjournment thereof or shall forward such dissent by personal delivery, courier or registered post to such person immediately after the close or adjournment of the meeting. Such right to dissent shall not apply to a Director who voted in favour of such action.

40 Directors' Interests

- 40.1 A Director may hold any other office or place of profit under the Company (other than the office of Auditor) in conjunction with such Director's office of Director for such period and on such terms as to remuneration and otherwise as the Directors may determine.
- 40.2 A Director may act alone or by such Director's firm in a professional capacity for the Company and the Director or such Director's firm shall be entitled to remuneration for professional services as if such Director were not a Director or alternate Director.
- 40.3 A Director or alternate Director of the Company may be or become a director or other officer of or otherwise interested in any company promoted by the Company or in which the Company may be interested as shareholder or otherwise, and no such Director or alternate Director shall be accountable to the Company for any remuneration or other benefits received by such Director or alternate Director as a director or officer of, or from such Director or alternate Director's interest in, such other company.
- 40.4 No person shall be disqualified from the office of Director or alternate Director or prevented by such office from contracting with the Company, either as vendor, purchaser or otherwise, nor shall any such contract or any contract or transaction entered into by or on behalf of the Company in which any Director or alternate Director shall be in any way interested be or be liable to be avoided, nor shall any Director or alternate Director so contracting or being so interested be liable to account to the Company for any profit realised by any such contract or transaction by reason of such Director holding office or of the fiduciary relationship thereby established. A Director (or such Director's alternate Director in such Director's absence) shall be at liberty to vote in respect of any contract or transaction in which such Director is interested provided that the nature of the interest of any Director or alternate Director in any such contract or transaction shall be disclosed by such Director at or prior to such Director's consideration and any vote thereon.
- 40.5 A general notice that a Director or alternate Director is a shareholder, director, officer or employee of any specified firm or company and is to be regarded as interested in any transaction with such firm or company shall be sufficient disclosure for the purposes of voting on a resolution in respect of a contract or transaction in which such Director has an interest, and after such general notice it shall not be necessary to give special notice relating to any particular transaction.

41 Minutes

The Directors shall cause minutes to be made in books kept for the purpose of recording all appointments of officers made by the Directors, all proceedings at meetings of the Company or the holders of any Class of Shares and of the Directors, and of committees of Directors including the names of the Directors or alternate Directors present at each meeting.

42 Delegation of Directors' Powers

- 42.1 The Directors may delegate any of their powers to any committee consisting of one or more Directors or such other persons as the Directors may designate. They may also delegate to any managing director or any Director holding any other executive office such of their powers as they consider desirable to be exercised by such managing director or any Director provided that an alternate Director may not act as managing director and the appointment of a managing director shall be revoked forthwith if such managing director ceases to be a Director. Any such appointment may be made subject to any conditions the Directors may impose, and either collaterally with or to the exclusion of their own powers, and may be revoked or altered. Subject to any such conditions, the proceedings of a committee of Directors shall be governed by these Articles regulating the proceedings of Directors, so far as they are capable of applying.
- 42.2 The Directors may establish any committees, local boards or agencies or appoint any person to be a manager or agent for managing the affairs of the Company and may appoint any person to be a member of such committees or local boards. Any such appointment may be made either collaterally with or to the exclusion of the Directors' powers, shall be subject to any conditions the Directors may impose, and may be revoked or altered. Subject to any such conditions, the proceedings of any such committee, local board or agency shall be governed by these Articles regulating the proceedings of Directors, so far as they are capable of applying.
- 42.3 The Directors may by power of attorney or otherwise appoint any company, firm, person or body of persons to be the attorney or authorised signatory of the Company for such purpose and with such powers, authorities and discretions (not exceeding those vested in or exercisable by the Directors under these Articles) and for such period and subject to such conditions as they may think fit, and any such powers of attorney or other appointment may contain such provisions for the protection and convenience of persons dealing with any such attorneys or authorised signatories as the Directors may think fit and may also authorise any such attorney or authorised person to delegate all or any of the powers, authorities and discretions vested in such attorney or authorised person.
- 42.4 The Directors may appoint such officers as they consider necessary on such terms, at such remuneration (if any) and to perform such duties, and subject to such provisions as to disqualification and removal as the Directors may think fit. Unless otherwise specified in the terms of such officer's appointment an officer may be removed by resolution of the Directors or Members.

43 Alternate Directors

- 43.1 Any Director (other than an alternate Director) may by written notice to the Company appoint any other Director, or any other person willing to act, to be an alternate Director and by written notice to the Company may remove from office an alternate Director so appointed by the Director.

- 43.2 An alternate Director shall be entitled to receive notice of all meetings of Directors and of meetings of committees of Directors of which such alternate Director's appointor is a member, to attend and vote at every such meeting at which the Director appointing such alternate Director is not personally present, and generally to perform all the functions of such alternate Director's appointor as a Director in such Director's absence.
- 43.3 An alternate Director shall cease to be an alternate Director if such alternate Director's appointor ceases to be a Director.
- 43.4 Any appointment or removal of an alternate Director shall be by notice to the Company signed by the Director making or revoking the appointment or in any other manner approved by the Directors.
- 43.5 Subject to the provisions of the Articles, an alternate Director shall be deemed for all purposes to be a Director and shall alone be responsible for such alternate Director's own acts and defaults and shall not be deemed to be the agent of the Director appointing such alternate Director.

44 No Minimum Shareholding for Directors

The Company in general meeting may fix a minimum shareholding required to be held by a Director, but unless and until such a shareholding qualification is fixed a Director shall not be required to hold Shares.

45 Remuneration of Directors

- 45.1 The remuneration to be paid to the Directors, if any, shall be such remuneration as the Directors shall determine. The Directors shall also be entitled to be paid all travelling, hotel and other expenses properly incurred by them in connection with their attendance at meetings of Directors or committees of Directors, or general meetings of the Company, or separate meetings of the holders of any Class of Shares or debentures of the Company, or otherwise in connection with the business of the Company, or to receive a fixed allowance in respect thereof as may be determined by the Directors, or a combination partly of one such method and partly the other.
- 45.2 The Directors may by resolution approve additional remuneration to any Director for any services other than such Director's ordinary routine work as a Director. Any fees paid to a Director who is also counsel to the Company, or otherwise serves it in a professional capacity, shall be in addition to such Director's remuneration as a Director.

46 Seal

The Company may, if the Directors so determine, have a Seal, which shall only be used by the authority of the Directors or of a committee of the Directors authorised by the Directors. Every instrument to which the Seal has been affixed shall be signed by at least one person who shall be either a Director or some officer or other person authorised by the Directors for the purpose.

47 Dividends, Distributions and Reserves

- 47.1 Subject to the Statute, these Articles, and the special rights attaching to Participating Shares of any Class and/or Series, the Directors may, in their absolute discretion, declare dividends and distributions on Participating Shares of any Class and/or Series in issue and authorise payment of the dividends or distributions out of the relevant Separate Account in respect of such Participating Shares. No dividend or distribution shall be paid except out of the realised or unrealised profits of the Company, or out of the share premium account attributable to Participating Shares of the Class and/or Series in respect of which the dividend or distribution is proposed to be paid, or as otherwise permitted by law.
- 47.2 Except as otherwise provided by the rights attached to Participating Shares, or as otherwise determined by the Directors, all dividends and distributions in respect of Participating Shares of a particular Class and/or Series shall be declared and paid according to Net Asset Value of the Participating Shares of the Class and/or Series that a Member holds. If any Participating Share is issued on terms providing that it shall rank for dividend or distribution as from a particular date, that Participating Share shall rank for dividend or distribution accordingly.
- 47.3 The Directors may deduct and withhold from any dividend or distribution otherwise payable to any Member all sums of money (if any) then payable by it to the Company on account of calls or otherwise or any monies which the Company is obliged by law to pay to any taxing or other authority.
- 47.4 Under no circumstances may the assets (or the income derived from such assets) attributed to a Separate Account in respect of any Class and/or Series be used to pay a dividend in respect of a Separate Account that is attributed to any other Class and/or Series.
- 47.5 The Directors may declare that any dividend or distribution be paid wholly or partly by the distribution of specific assets and in particular of shares, debentures or securities of any other company or in any one or more of such ways and, where any difficulty arises in regard to such distribution, the Directors may settle the same as they think expedient and in particular may issue fractional Shares and fix the value for distribution of such specific assets or any part thereof and may determine that cash payments shall be made to any Members upon the basis of the value so fixed in order to adjust the rights of all Members and may vest any such specific assets in trustees as may seem expedient to the Directors.
- 47.6 Any dividend, distribution, interest or other monies payable in cash in respect of Participating Shares may be paid by wire transfer to the holder or by cheque or warrant sent through the post directed to the registered address of the holder or, in the case of joint holders, to the registered address of the holder who is first named on the Register of Members or to such person and to such address as such holder or joint holders may in writing direct. Every such cheque or warrant shall (unless the Directors in their sole discretion otherwise determine) be made payable to the order of the person to whom it is sent. Any one of two or more joint holders may give effectual receipts for any dividends, bonuses, or other monies payable in respect of the Participating Share held by them as joint holders.

47.7 Any dividend or distribution which cannot be paid to a Member and/or which remains unclaimed after six months from the date of declaration of such dividend or distribution may, in the discretion of the Directors, be paid into a separate account in the Company's name, provided that the Company shall not be constituted as a trustee in respect of that account and the dividend or distribution shall remain as a debt due to the Member. Any dividend or distribution which remains unclaimed after a period of six years from the date of declaration of such dividend or distribution shall be forfeited and shall revert to the Company.

47.8 No dividend or distribution shall bear interest against the Company.

48 Capitalisation

The Directors may capitalise any sum standing to the credit of any of the Company's reserve accounts (including share premium account and capital redemption reserve) or any sum standing to the credit of profit and loss account or otherwise available for distribution and to appropriate such sum to Members of any Class and/or Series in the proportions in which such sum would have been divisible amongst them had the same been a distribution of profits by way of dividend and to apply such sum on their behalf in paying up in full unissued Participating Shares for allotment and distribution credited as fully paid-up to and amongst them in the proportion aforesaid. In such event the Directors shall do all acts and things required to give effect to such capitalisation, with full power to the Directors to make such provisions as they think fit for the case of Participating Shares becoming distributable in fractions (including provisions whereby the benefit of fractional entitlements accrue to the Company rather than to the Members concerned). The Directors may authorise any person to enter into an agreement with the Company, on behalf of all of the Members interested, providing for such capitalisation and matters incidental thereto and any agreement made under such authority shall be effective and binding on all concerned.

49 Books of Account

49.1 The Directors shall cause proper books of account (including, where applicable, material underlying documentation including contracts and invoices) to be kept with respect to all sums of money received and expended by the Company and the matters in respect of which the receipt or expenditure takes place, all sales and purchases of goods by the Company and the assets and liabilities of the Company. Such books of account must be retained for a minimum period of five years from the date on which they are prepared. Proper books shall not be deemed to be kept if there are not kept such books of account as are necessary to give a true and fair view of the state of the Company's affairs and to explain its transactions.

49.2 The Directors shall from time to time determine whether and to what extent and at what times and places and under what conditions or regulations the accounts and books of the Company or any of them shall be open to the inspection of Members not being Directors and no Member (not being a Director) shall have any right of inspecting any account or book or document of the Company except as conferred by Statute, or authorised by the Directors or by the Company in general meeting.

- 49.3 The Directors may from time to time cause to be prepared and to be laid before the Company in general meeting profit and loss accounts, balance sheets, group accounts (if any) and such other reports and accounts as may be required by law.

50 Audit

- 50.1 The Directors may appoint an Auditor of the Company who shall hold office on such terms as the Directors determine.
- 50.2 Every Auditor of the Company shall have a right of access at all times to the books and accounts and vouchers of the Company and shall be entitled to require from the Directors and officers of the Company such information and explanation as may be necessary for the performance of the duties of the Auditor.
- 50.3 Any Auditors of the Company shall, if so required by the Directors, make a report on the accounts of the Company during their tenure of office at the next annual general meeting following their appointment in the case of a company which is registered with the Registrar of Companies as an ordinary company, and at the next extraordinary general meeting following their appointment in the case of a company which is registered with the Registrar of Companies as an exempted company, and at any other time during their term of office, upon request of the Directors or any general meeting of the Members.

51 Notices

- 51.1 Notices shall be in writing and may be given by the Company to any Member either personally or by sending it by courier, post, cable, telex, fax or e-mail to the Member or to the address as shown in the Register of Members (or where the notice is given by e-mail by sending it to the e-mail address provided by such Member). Any notice, if posted from one country to another, is to be sent airmail.
- 51.2 Where a notice is sent by courier, service of the notice shall be deemed to be effected by delivery of the notice to a courier company, and shall be deemed to have been received on the third day (not including Saturdays or Sundays or public holidays) following the day on which the notice was delivered to the courier. Where a notice is sent by post, service of the notice shall be deemed to be effected by properly addressing, pre paying and posting a letter containing the notice, and shall be deemed to have been received on the fifth day (not including Saturdays or Sundays or public holidays in the Cayman Islands) following the day on which the notice was posted. Where a notice is sent by cable, telex or fax, service of the notice shall be deemed to be effected by properly addressing and sending such notice and shall be deemed to have been received on the same day that it was transmitted. Where a notice is given by e-mail service shall be deemed to be effected by transmitting the e-mail to the e-mail address provided by the intended recipient and shall be deemed to have been received on the same day that it was sent, and it shall not be necessary for the receipt of the e-mail to be acknowledged by the recipient.

- 51.3 A notice may be given by the Company to the person or persons which the Company has been advised are entitled to a Share or Shares in consequence of the death or bankruptcy of a Member in the same manner as other notices which are required to be given under these Articles and shall be addressed to them by name, or by the title of representatives of the deceased, or trustee of the bankrupt, or by any like description at the address supplied for that purpose by the persons claiming to be so entitled, or at the option of the Company by giving the notice in any manner in which the same might have been given if the death or bankruptcy had not occurred.
- 51.4 Notice of every general meeting shall be given in the manner authorised by these Articles to every person shown as holding Shares carrying an entitlement to receive such notice in the Register of Members on the record date for such meeting except that in the case of joint holders the notice shall be sufficient if given to the joint holder first named in the Register of Members and every person upon whom the ownership of a Share devolves by reason of such person being a legal personal representative or a trustee in bankruptcy of a Member where the Member but for such Member's death or bankruptcy would be entitled to receive notice of the meeting, and no other person shall be entitled to receive notices of general meetings.

52 Winding Up

- 52.1 If the Company shall be wound up the liquidator shall apply the assets of the Company in satisfaction of creditors' claims in such manner and order as such liquidator thinks fit. The liquidator shall in relation to the assets available for distribution among the Members make in the books of the Company such transfers thereof to and from Separate Accounts as may be necessary in order that the effective burden of such creditors' claims may be shared among the holders of Participating Shares of different Classes and/or Series in such proportions as the liquidator in such liquidator's absolute discretion may think equitable.
- 52.2 Subject to the special rights attaching to Participating Shares of any Class or Series, the balance shall then be applied in the following priority:
- (a) first, to the holders of Management Shares, an amount equal to the par value of such Management Shares; and
  - (b) second, the balance shall be paid to the holders of Participating Shares in proportion to the Net Asset Value of Participating Shares held, subject to a deduction from those Participating Shares in respect of which there are monies due, of all monies due to the Company for unpaid calls, or otherwise.
- 52.3 If the Company shall be wound up (whether the liquidation is voluntary or by or under the supervision of the Court) the liquidator may, with the authority of a resolution or resolutions passed by the holders of Participating Shares (whether as a whole or at separate Class meetings), divide among the Members in specie the whole or any part of the assets of the Company, and whether or not the assets shall consist of property of one kind or shall consist of property of different kinds, and may for such purposes set such value as the liquidator deems fair upon any one or more class or classes of property, and may determine how such division shall be carried out as between the Members or different classes of Members. The liquidator may, with the like authority, vest any part of the assets in trustees upon such trusts for the benefit of Members as the liquidator, with the like authority, shall think fit, and the liquidation of the Company may be closed and the Company dissolved, but so that no Member shall be compelled to accept any shares or other property in respect of which there is a liability.

53 Indemnity and Insurance

- 53.1 Every Director and officer of the Company (which for the avoidance of doubt, shall not include any Auditor), together with every former Director and former officer of the Company (each an "Indemnified Person") shall be indemnified out of the assets of the Company against any liability, action, proceeding, claim, demand, costs, damages or expenses, including legal expenses, whatsoever which they or any of them may incur as a result of any act or failure to act in carrying out their functions other than such liability (if any) that they may incur by reason of their own actual fraud, wilful default or Gross Negligence. No Indemnified Person shall be liable to the Company for any loss or damage incurred by the Company as a result (whether direct or indirect) of the carrying out of their functions unless that liability arises through the actual fraud, wilful default or Gross Negligence of such Indemnified Person. No person shall be found to have committed actual fraud, wilful default or Gross Negligence under this Article unless or until a court of competent jurisdiction shall have made a finding to that effect.
- 53.2 The Company shall advance to each Indemnified Person reasonable attorneys' fees and other costs and expenses incurred in connection with the defence of any action, suit, proceeding or investigation involving such Indemnified Person for which indemnity will or could be sought. In connection with any advance of any expenses hereunder, the Indemnified Person shall execute an undertaking to repay the advanced amount to the Company if it shall be determined by final judgment or other final adjudication that such Indemnified Person was not entitled to indemnification pursuant to this Article. If it shall be determined by a final judgment or other final adjudication that such Indemnified Person was not entitled to indemnification with respect to such judgment, costs or expenses, then such party shall not be indemnified with respect to such judgment, costs or expenses and any advancement shall be returned to the Company (without interest) by the Indemnified Person.
- 53.3 The Directors, on behalf of the Company, may purchase and maintain insurance for the benefit of any Director or other officer of the Company against any liability which, by virtue of any rule of law, would otherwise attach to such person in respect of any negligence, default, breach of duty or breach of trust of which such person may be guilty in relation to the Company.
- 53.4 Pursuant to the foregoing provisions, the Company may enter into a service or other agreement with any Director (or any entity providing one or more persons to the Company to act as Directors) upon such terms and conditions (including as to indemnification and exculpation) as the Directors shall, in their absolute discretion, determine. Any such indemnification and exculpation provisions may be specified to a standard equal to or more favourable (but not less favourable) to the Company than any standard specified in these Articles.

54 Disclosure

If required to do so under the laws of any jurisdiction to which the Company, the Investment Manager, the Administrator or any other service provider is subject, or in compliance with the rules of any stock exchange upon which the Company's Shares are listed, or to ensure the compliance by any person with any anti-money laundering law in any relevant jurisdiction, any Director, Officer, the Investment Manager, the Administrator or Auditor of the Company shall be entitled to release or disclose any information in its possession regarding the affairs of the Company or a Member including, without limitation, any information contained in the Register of Members or subscription documentation of the Company relating to any Member.

55 Financial Year

Unless the Directors otherwise prescribe, the financial year of the Company shall end on 31st December in each year and, following the year of incorporation, shall begin on 1st January in each year.

56 Transfer by way of Continuation

The Company shall, subject to the provisions of the Statute and with the approval of a Special Resolution, have the power to register by way of continuation as a body corporate under the laws of any jurisdiction outside the Cayman Islands and to be deregistered in the Cayman Islands.

57 Mergers and Consolidations

The Company shall, with the approval of a Special Resolution, have the power to merge or consolidate with one or more constituent companies (as defined in the Statute), upon such terms as the Directors may determine.

PART B – SUBSCRIBER QUALIFICATION

SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL BE ACCEPTED ONLY FROM PERSONS WHO QUALIFY AS ELIGIBLE INVESTORS WITHIN THE MEANING OF APPLICABLE FEDERAL AND STATE SECURITIES REGULATIONS. UNLESS OTHERWISE INDICATED, RESPONSES SHOULD BE GIVEN BY REFERENCE TO THE SPECIFIC PERSON FOR WHOSE ACCOUNT THE SHARES ARE BEING ACQUIRED. THE SUBSCRIBER MAY BE REQUIRED TO PROVIDE SUCH FURTHER INFORMATION AND EXECUTE AND DELIVER SUCH DOCUMENTS AS THE FUND OR THE ADMINISTRATOR MAY REASONABLY REQUEST TO VERIFY THAT THE SUBSCRIBER QUALIFIES AS AN ELIGIBLE INVESTOR.

SECTION I. ACCREDITED INVESTOR STATUS

Each Subscriber must indicate whether the intended beneficial owner of the Shares qualifies as an “accredited investor” pursuant to at least one of the following tests. (Please check all that apply, or, if none applies, consult the Administrator.)

FOR NATURAL PERSONS:

- ☐ The Subscriber is a natural person whose individual net worth, or joint net worth with that person’s spouse, at the time of purchase exceeds $1,000,000, excluding the value of the Subscriber’s primary residence.<sup>3</sup>
- ☐ The Subscriber is a natural person with individual income (without including any income of the Subscriber’s spouse) in excess of $200,000 or joint income with that person’s spouse of $300,000, in each of the two most recent years and who reasonably expects to reach the same income level in the current year.
- ☒ The Subscriber is an individual retirement account or a grantor trust and the owner of the individual retirement account or the grantor of the grantor trust is a natural person that meets the requirements described above.<sup>4</sup>

FOR ENTITIES:

- ☐ The Subscriber is an entity with total assets in excess of $5,000,000 that was not formed for the purpose of investing in the Fund and is one of the following:
  - ☐ a corporation;
  - ☐ a partnership;
  - ☐ a limited liability company;

<sup>3</sup> An individual need not deduct from his or her net worth the amount of mortgage debt secured by an excluded primary residence other than (i) the amount by which the mortgage liability exceeds the fair value of the residence and (ii) any increase in the amount of the debt secured by the primary residence in the 60 days preceding the date hereof unless the increase was a result of the acquisition of the residence.

<sup>4</sup> Additional information may be required in connection with a grantor trust’s investment.

- ☐ a business trust; or
- ☐ a tax-exempt organization described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Code.
- ☐ The Subscriber is a personal (non-business) trust, other than an employee benefit trust, with total assets in excess of $5,000,000 that was not formed for the purpose of investing in the Fund and whose decision to invest in the Fund has been directed by a person who has such knowledge and experience in financial and business matters that such person is capable of evaluating the merits and risks of the investment.
- ☐ The Subscriber is an employee benefit plan within the meaning of Title I of ERISA, (including an individual retirement account), which satisfies at least one of the following conditions:
  - ☐ it has total assets in excess of $5,000,000;
  - ☐ the investment decision is being made by a plan fiduciary that is a bank, savings and loan association, insurance company or registered investment adviser; or
  - ☐ it is a self-directed plan (i.e., a tax-qualified defined contribution plan in which a participant may exercise control over the investment of assets credited to his or her account) and the decision to invest is made by those participants investing, and each such participant qualifies as an accredited investor.
- ☐ The Subscriber is an employee benefit plan established and maintained by a state, its political subdivisions or any agency or instrumentality of a state or its political subdivisions that has total assets in excess of $5,000,000.
- ☐ The Subscriber is licensed, or subject to supervision, by federal or state examining authorities such as a "bank," "savings and loan association," "insurance company," or "small business investment company" (as such terms are used and defined in 17 CFR §230.501(a)) or is an account for which a bank or savings and loan association is subscribing in a fiduciary capacity.
- ☐ The Subscriber is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission as a broker or dealer or an investment company; or has elected to be treated or qualifies as a "business development company" (within the meaning of Section 2(a)(48) of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the "Investment Company Act"), or Section 202(a)(22) of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended (the "Investment Advisers Act")).
- ☐ The Subscriber is an entity in which all of the equity owners are persons described above.

SECTION II. QUALIFIED CLIENT STATUS

Each subscriber must indicate whether the intended beneficial owner of the Shares qualifies as a "qualified client." IRAs and revocable grantor trusts should complete the questions for natural persons.

FOR NATURAL PERSONS:

- ☒ The Subscriber (or the grantor, in the case of a grantor trust) is a natural person whose net worth (together, in the case of a natural person, with assets held jointly with that person's spouse), at the time of subscription exceeds $2,000,000, excluding the value of the Subscriber's primary residence.<sup>5</sup>

FOR ENTITIES:

- ☐ The Subscriber is an entity that has a net worth at the time of subscription in excess of $2,000,000

If the entity is an entity engaged primarily in investing or trading in securities, state whether each of the shareholders, partners or other holders of equity or beneficial interests in the Subscriber (please answer both (A) and (B)):

- (A) has a net worth of at least $2,000,000 excluding the value of the holder's primary residence:<sup>6</sup>

☐ Yes ☐ No

- (B) is either an entity which is not engaged primarily in investing or trading in securities or a natural person:

☐ Yes ☐ No

<sup>5</sup> An individual need not deduct from his or her net worth the amount of mortgage debt secured by an excluded primary residence other than (i) the amount by which the mortgage liability exceeds the fair value of the residence and (ii) any increase in the amount of the debt secured by the primary residence in the 60 days preceding the date hereof unless the increase was a result of the acquisition of the residence.

<sup>6</sup> See footnote immediately above.

AFFILIATION WITH FINRA MEMBERS IN UNDERWRITTEN OFFERINGS

The Fund may, from time to time, consider direct or indirect investing in certain publicly offered equity securities, more commonly known as “new issue” securities (“New Issues”), through member firms of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, Inc. (“FINRA”) in accordance with Rules 5130 and 5131 adopted by FINRA. Also, FINRA requires any member that is participating in a public offering of securities to report any affiliation between a 5% shareholder of the company whose securities are being offered with a FINRA member. In order for the Fund to be able to determine the extent to which a Subscriber is eligible to participate in New Issues and to comply with any filings required in any underwritten public offering that is conducted by any company in which the Fund invests, the Subscriber must complete the questionnaire below. Even if the Subscriber does not wish to participate in the profits related to New Issues, the Subscriber must complete Items A and B, as the tests in each Item are conducted separately.

A. Determination of Restricted Person Status under Rule 5130:

Section 1 (Restricted Persons)

The Subscriber is:

- ☐ a FINRA member or other securities broker-dealer;
- ☐ an affiliate of a broker-dealer.<sup>7</sup>
- ☐ an officer, director, general partner, associated person or employee of any member of FINRA or any other securities broker-dealer, in either case other than a limited business broker-dealer.<sup>8</sup>

If the Subscriber checked any of the preceding boxes, please describe the name and CRD number of the applicable FINRA member along with a description of the relationship between such broker-dealer or affiliate and the Subscriber including, if applicable, the percentage of the Subscriber that is owned by a FINRA member: _____

<sup>7</sup> As used herein, an “affiliate” means an entity which controls, is controlled by or is under common control with such broker-dealer. “Control” means (i) beneficial ownership of 10% or more of the outstanding common equity of an entity, including any right to receive such securities within 60 days; (ii) the right to 10% or more of the distributable profits or losses of an entity that is a partnership, including any right to receive an interest in such distributable profits or losses within 60 days; (iii) beneficial ownership of 10% or more of the outstanding subordinated debt of an entity, including any right to receive such subordinated debt within 60 days; (iv) beneficial ownership of 10% or more of the outstanding preferred equity of an entity, including any right to receive such preferred equity within 60 days; or (v) the power to direct or cause the direction of the management or policies of an entity.

<sup>8</sup> As used herein, a “limited business broker-dealer” means any broker-dealer whose authorization to engage in the securities business is limited solely to the purchase and sale of investment company/variable contracts securities or direct participation programs.

- ☐ an agent of any member of the FINRA or any other securities broker-dealer that is engaged in the investment banking or securities business.
- ☐ a person who, directly or indirectly, owns or has contributed capital to any FINRA member or other securities broker-dealer (other than solely a limited business broker-dealer), and the Subscriber:
  - (a) is listed, or required to be listed, in Schedule A of the Form BD for such FINRA member or other securities broker-dealer, and is identified by an ownership code of at least 10%;
  - (b) is listed, or required to be listed, in Schedule B of the Form BD for such FINRA member or other securities broker-dealer, and such listing relates to a direct owner of such FINRA member or other securities broker-dealer that is identified by an ownership code of at least 10%;
  - (c) is listed, or required to be listed, in Schedule C of the Form BD of the FINRA member or other securities broker-dealer that meets any of the criteria noted in paragraphs (a) or (b) above;
  - (d) owns 10% or more of a public reporting company listed, or required to be listed, as a direct owner in Schedule A of a Form BD of any FINRA member or other securities broker-dealer (other than solely a limited business broker-dealer). For this purpose, a "public reporting company" does not include a reporting company that is listed on a national securities exchange; or
  - (e) owns 25% or more of a public reporting company listed, or required to be listed, as an indirect owner in Schedule B of a Form BD of any FINRA member or other securities broker-dealer (other than solely a limited business broker-dealer). For this purpose, a "public reporting company" does not include a reporting company that is listed on a national securities exchange.

If the Subscriber checked the immediately preceding box, please describe the name and CRD number of the FINRA member on whose form the relationship is disclosed: _____

- ☐ a person who may act as a finder with respect to any public offering of securities.
- ☐ a person, such as an attorney, accountant or financial consultant, whose professional activities may include acting in a fiduciary capacity to any managing underwriter of any public offering of securities.
- ☐ a person who has the authority to buy or sell securities for a bank, savings and loan institution, insurance company, investment company, investment advisor or other collective investment account (including any hedge fund, investment partnership, investment corporation or any other collective investment vehicle that is engaged primarily in the purchase and/or sale of securities), other than a family investment account or investment club.

- ☐ a member of the immediate family of any person to whom any of the preceding paragraphs refer.<sup>9</sup>

If the Subscriber checked this box, please specify the identity and the nature of the relationship with the Restricted Person, the firm with which the Restricted Person is associated, and whether the Restricted Person either contributes directly or indirectly to the Subscriber's support or receives material support from the Subscriber.

- ☐ a domestic or foreign bank, bank branch, trust company, or other conduit for an undisclosed principal. The Fund may request additional information in order to determine the eligibility of the undisclosed principal.
- ☐ an employee benefit plan qualified under ERISA, that is sponsored by a FINRA member or other securities broker-dealer or an affiliate thereof.
- ☐ an entity (including a partnership, investment fund, limited liability company or other account) which either (i) knows that one or more of its beneficial owners is a Restricted Person described in any of the preceding categories, or (ii) has not affirmatively determined that there is no Restricted Person described in any of the preceding categories that has a beneficial interest in the entity.<sup>10</sup>

A Subscriber who has checked one of the boxes above may be able to participate in New Issues to the extent an exemption in Item C applies. See C below.

Section 2 (Unrestricted Persons)

- ☒ None of the Restricted Person Categories in Section 1 above apply and the Subscriber is eligible to fully participate in profits and losses from investments in New Issues.

<sup>9</sup> The term "immediate family" includes parents; mother-in-law or father-in-law; husband or wife; brother or sister; brother-in-law or sister-in-law; son-in-law or daughter-in-law; children; whether by birth or adoption; and any other person who is supported, directly or indirectly, to a material extent by such person. For this purpose, "material support" means directly or indirectly providing more than 25% of a person's income in the prior calendar year. Members of the immediate family living in the same household are deemed to be providing each other with material support.

<sup>10</sup> The term "beneficial interest" means any economic interest such as the right to share in gains or losses. The receipt of a management or performance-based fee for operating a collective investment account, or other fee for acting in a fiduciary capacity, is not considered a beneficial interest in the account. However, for purposes of FINRA Rule 5130 and 5131, if such fee is subsequently invested into the account (as a deferred fee arrangement or otherwise), it would then be considered a beneficial interest in the account.

B. Determination of Covered Person Status under Rule 5131:

Section 1 (Persons Covered by Rule 5131)

The Subscriber is:

- ☐ an executive officer or director of a public company.<sup>11</sup>
- ☒ an executive officer or director of a covered non-public company.<sup>12</sup>
- ☐ a person materially supported by an executive officer or director of a public company or a covered non-public company.<sup>13</sup>

If any of the three preceding boxes are checked, please provide the name of the "public company" or "covered non-public company" in the space below.

NEXBANK, MEM, CORNERSTONE, CCS MEDICAL, AM. BANKNOTE

If the Subscriber is an entity in which any of the above persons have a direct or indirect beneficial interest, please specify the current beneficial interest of each such person (as a percentage) and each relevant "public company" or "covered non-public company" for which the relevant investor is an executive officer or director.

Note that Subscribers checking the boxes above may not be restricted in their participation in New Issues depending on such Subscriber's Interest in the Fund and the investment banking relationships of the companies they serve.

Section 2 (Persons Not Covered by Rule 5131)

- ☐ None of the Covered Person Categories in Section 1 above apply and the Subscriber is eligible to fully participate in profits and losses from investments in New Issues.

<sup>11</sup> As used herein, a "public company" is any company that has a class of securities registered under Section 12 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), or any company that files periodic reports pursuant to Section 15(d) of the Exchange Act.

<sup>12</sup> As used herein, a "covered non-public company" means any non-public company satisfying any of the following three criteria:

- (a) income of at least $1 million in the previous fiscal year or in two of the three previous fiscal years and shareholders' equity of at least $15 million;
- (b) shareholders' equity of at least $30 million and an operating history of two years; or
- (c) total assets and total revenue of at least $75 million in the latest fiscal year or in two of the three most recent fiscal years.

<sup>13</sup> As used herein, "material support" means directly or indirectly providing more than 25% of a person's income in the prior calendar year. Members of the immediate family living in the same household are deemed to be providing each other with material support.

C. Determination of Exempted Entity Status under Rules 5130 and 5131:

A Subscriber who has checked one of the boxes set forth in Item A, Section 1 or Item B, Section 1 above may be eligible to participate in New Issues if the Subscriber meets certain criteria for exempted entities. In order for the Fund to be able to determine the extent to which an exemption applies, please check all appropriate boxes that describe the Subscriber.

Section 1 (Rules 5130 and 5131)

The Subscriber is an entity that:

- ☐ is an investment company registered under the Investment Company Act;
- ☐ is a common trust fund or similar fund, as described in Section 3(a)(12)(A)(iii) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), and the fund (i) has investments from 1,000 or more accounts and (ii) does not limit beneficial interests in the fund principally to trust accounts of Restricted Persons;
- ☐ is an insurance company general, separate or investment account, and (i) the account is funded by premiums from 1,000 or more policyholders, or, if a general account, the insurance company has 1,000 or more policyholders and (ii) the insurance company does not limit the policyholders whose premiums are used to fund the account principally to Restricted Persons, or, if a general account, the insurance company does not limit its policyholders principally to Restricted Persons;
- ☐ is a publicly traded entity (other than a broker-dealer or an affiliate of a broker-dealer where such broker-dealer is authorized to engage in the public offering of New Issues either as a selling group or underwriter) that (i) is listed on a national securities exchange, or (ii) is a foreign issuer whose securities meet the quantitative designation criteria for listing on a national securities exchange;
- ☐ is an investment company organized under the laws of a foreign jurisdiction, (i) that is listed on a foreign exchange or authorized for sale to the public by a foreign regulatory authority; and (ii) in which no person owning more than 5% of the shares of such investment company is a Restricted Person;
- ☐ is an employee benefit plan under ERISA that is qualified under Section 401(a) of the Code, and such plan is not sponsored solely by a broker-dealer;
- ☐ is a state or municipal government benefit plan that is subject to state and/or municipal regulation;
- ☐ is a tax-exempt charitable organization under Section 501(c)(3) of the Code and has attached a copy of the IRS determination letter confirming the entity's qualification under Section 501(c)(3) of the Code, by virtue of which there are no "beneficial owners" as calculated based on the definition of "beneficial interest" under FINRA Rule 5130; or

- ☐ is a church plan under Section 414(e) of the Code.
- ☒ None of the preceding categories in this Item C apply to the Subscriber.

Section 2 (Rule 5130 only)

The Subscriber is:

- ☐ an entity that represents, based upon a representation from the beneficial account holders or a person authorized to represent the beneficial owners of the Subscriber (in either case, dated no earlier than 12 months prior to the date of the Subscription Agreement), that none of the beneficial owners of the Subscriber who participate in New Issues are persons who are not entitled to do so under FINRA Rule 5130, and the Subscriber is eligible to purchase New Issues in compliance with FINRA Rule 5130; or
- ☐ is an entity (including a private investment vehicle, such as a hedge fund or fund of hedge funds) (i) in which the beneficial interests of Restricted Persons do not exceed in the aggregate 10% of such entity or (ii) that limits participation in New Issue profits by Restricted Persons to not more than 10% of the profits from New Issues.

If the immediately preceding box is checked, please specify the current percentage of the net profits from New Issues allocable to beneficial owners of such entity who are Restricted Persons.

HIGHLAND CREDIT OPPORTUNITIES FUND, LTD.

SUBSCRIPTION AGREEMENT

Highland Credit Opportunities Fund, Ltd.
c/o Highland Capital Management, L.P.
300 Crescent Court, Suite 700
Dallas, Texas 75201

Ladies and Gentlemen:

1. Documents Received

(a) The undersigned (the “Subscriber”) hereby acknowledges having (i) received, read and understood the current Confidential Private Offering Memorandum, as supplemented and amended from time to time (the “Private Offering Memorandum”), of Highland Credit Opportunities Fund, Ltd., a Cayman Islands exempted company (the “Fund”), including but not limited to those sections dealing with risk factors, conflicts of interest, fees and tax consequences of an investment in the Fund, and the Memorandum and Articles of Association of the Fund, as amended to date (the “Articles”), (ii) received a copy of Form ADV Part 2A, the firm brochure, and Form ADV Part 2B, the brochure supplement, of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (in its capacity as the investment manager of the Fund, the “Investment Manager”), as amended to date (the “Form ADV”), prior to or simultaneously with delivery of this Subscription Agreement to the Fund and (iii) been given the opportunity to (A) ask questions of, and receive answers from the Investment Manager or one of its affiliates concerning the terms and conditions of the offering and other matters pertaining to an investment in the Fund and (B) obtain any additional information that the Investment Manager can acquire without unreasonable effort or expense that is necessary to evaluate the merits and risks of an investment in the Fund.

(b) Appendix A hereto contains the definitions of certain capitalized terms used but not otherwise defined herein and should be read by the Subscriber prior to entering into this Subscription Agreement.

2. Subscription Commitment

(a) The Subscriber hereby irrevocably subscribes for shares of the Fund (the “Shares”), subject to Articles, as may be amended from time to time, and the Private Offering Memorandum, and agrees to contribute in cash (unless otherwise agreed by the Fund) to the capital of the Fund, the amount set forth on the Signature Page of this Subscription Agreement. Such amount shall be payable in full in readily available funds by wire transfer to the bank account of the Fund at least two business days prior to the proposed date of subscription.

(b) The Subscriber understands that this subscription is not binding on the Fund until accepted by the Fund, and it may be rejected, in whole or in part, by the Fund in its absolute discretion. If and to the extent rejected, the Fund shall, to the extent permitted by law, return to the Subscriber, without interest or deduction, any payment tendered by the Subscriber, and the Fund and the Subscriber shall have no further obligation to each other hereunder. The Subscriber acknowledges and accepts that none of the Fund, the Investment Manager, the Fund’s administrator (the “Administrator,” which term shall be construed to include any sub-administrator of the Fund unless the context otherwise requires) nor their respective agents, affiliates or representatives shall be responsible for any lost profit, revenue or damages of any kind due to a delayed acceptance or a rejected subscription.

3. Representations, Warranties and Covenants – All Subscribers

To induce the Fund to accept this subscription, the Subscriber hereby makes the following representations, warranties and covenants to the Fund:

(a) The information set forth in the subscriber information form attached hereto, which shall be considered an integral part of this Subscription Agreement (the “Subscriber Information Form”), is true, correct, accurate and complete, and will be relied upon by the Fund for the purpose of determining the eligibility of the Subscriber to purchase and own Shares.

(b) The Subscriber hereby represents that the information set forth in the Subscriber Information Form is true, correct, accurate and complete as of the date hereof, and the Subscriber agrees to notify the Fund immediately if any representation or warranty contained in this Subscription Agreement, or any information provided pursuant to the Subscriber Information Form becomes untrue, misleading, or otherwise requires updating at any time. For so long as the Subscriber is a shareholder of the Fund, the Subscriber further agrees to provide any revised or updated information necessary to cause the Subscriber Information Form to remain true and correct as soon as practicable upon the Subscriber becoming aware that any such change or revision is necessary. The Subscriber agrees to provide, if requested, any additional information that may reasonably be required to substantiate the Subscriber’s status as an “accredited investor” or “qualified purchaser” or to otherwise determine the eligibility of the Subscriber to purchase Shares. The Subscriber agrees to provide any additional information and execute any additional documents as may reasonably be required in connection with any subscription, credit facility or other similar borrowing arrangement by the Fund or any lender named in the credit facility or similar lending arrangement.

(c) The Subscriber consents to the disclosure of any such information, and any other information furnished to the Fund, to any governmental authority or self-regulatory organization or, to the extent required by law or deemed (subject to applicable law) by the Fund to be in the best interest of the Fund, to any other person.

(d) Except as disclosed in the accompanying Subscriber Information Form, the Subscriber is acquiring the Shares for the Subscriber’s own account; does not have any contract, undertaking or arrangement with any person or entity to sell, transfer or grant a participation with respect to any of the Shares; and is not acquiring the Shares with a view to or for sale in connection with any distribution of the Shares.

(e) The Subscriber or an advisor or consultant relied upon by the Subscriber in reaching a decision to subscribe has such knowledge and experience in financial, tax and business matters as to enable the Subscriber or such advisor or consultant to evaluate the merits and risks of an investment in the Fund (including the risks set forth in the Private Offering Memorandum) and to make an informed investment decision with respect thereto and has made its own investment decision, including decisions regarding suitability based on its own judgment or upon the advice from such advisers as it deemed necessary and not upon the views or advice of the Fund, the Investment Manager, or their affiliates or representatives.

(f) The Subscriber understands that the Shares have not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), or any state law and that the Fund is not registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the "Investment Company Act"). The Subscriber agrees to notify the Fund prior to any proposed sale, transfer, distribution or other disposition of the Shares or any beneficial interest therein, and will not sell, transfer, distribute or otherwise dispose of the Shares (including, without limitation, by pledge, option, swap or nominee or similar relationship, and further including, without limitation, the offering or listing of any Shares on or through any placement agent, intermediary, online service, site, agent or other similar person, service or entity) without the consent of the directors of the Fund (the "Directors") and the Investment Manager, which may be granted or withheld in their sole discretion, and unless the Shares are registered or such sale, transfer, distribution or other disposition is exempt from registration. The Subscriber understands that any such transfers without the consent of the Directors and the Investment Manager are null and void. The Subscriber also understands that the Fund has no intention to register the Fund or the Shares with the Securities and Exchange Commission or any state and is under no obligation to assist the Subscriber in obtaining or complying with any exemption from registration. The Fund may require that a proposed transferee meet appropriate financial and other suitability standards and that the transferor furnish a legal opinion satisfactory to the Fund and its counsel that the proposed transfer complies with applicable federal, state and any other applicable securities laws. An appropriate legend evidencing such restrictions may be placed on any certificates issued representing the Shares and appropriate stop-transfer instructions may be placed with respect to the Shares.

(g) The Subscriber confirms that it has not been invited as a member of the public in the Cayman Islands to subscribe for Shares.

(h) In formulating a decision to invest in the Fund, the Subscriber has not relied or acted on the basis of any representations or other information purported to be given on behalf of the Fund or the Investment Manager, except as set forth in the Private Offering Memorandum or the Articles or the Form ADV (it being understood that no person has been authorized by the Fund or the Investment Manager to furnish any such representations or other information).

(i) The Subscriber recognizes that there is not now any secondary market for the Shares and that such a market is not expected to develop; accordingly, it may not be possible for the Subscriber readily to liquidate the Subscriber's investment in the Fund other than through a redemption of Shares as provided in the Articles and the Subscriber may be holding such Shares for an indefinite period of time.

(j) The Subscriber understands the investment objectives and policies of, and the investment strategies that may be pursued by, the Fund. The Subscriber's investment is consistent with the investment purposes and objectives and cash flow requirements of the Subscriber and will not adversely affect the Subscriber's overall need for diversification and liquidity.

(k) The Subscriber can afford a complete loss of its investment in the Fund and can afford to hold its investment in the Fund for an indefinite period of time.

(l) If the Subscriber is a natural person, the Subscriber is qualified to become a shareholder of the Fund and has the legal capacity to execute, deliver and perform this Subscription Agreement.

(m) If the Subscriber is a corporation, partnership, limited liability company, trust or other entity, it is authorized and qualified to become a shareholder of, and authorized to make its subscription payment to, the Fund and otherwise to comply with its obligations as a shareholder of the Fund; the person signing this Subscription Agreement on behalf of such entity has been duly authorized by such entity to do so; and this Subscription Agreement has been duly executed and delivered on behalf of the Subscriber and is the valid and binding agreement of the Subscriber, enforceable against the Subscriber in accordance with its terms. In addition, such Subscriber will, upon request of the Fund or the Administrator, deliver any documents, including an opinion of counsel to the Subscriber, evidencing the existence of the Subscriber, the legality of an investment in the Fund and the authority of the person executing this Subscription Agreement on behalf of the Subscriber.

(n) The purchase of the Shares hereunder and the compliance by such Subscriber with all of the provisions of this Subscription Agreement applicable to such Subscriber and the consummation by such Subscriber of the transactions herein and therein contemplated will not (a) conflict with or result in a breach or violation of any of the terms or provisions of, or constitute a default under, any statute, indenture, mortgage, deed of trust, loan agreement or other agreement or instrument to which such Subscriber is a party or by which such Subscriber is bound or to which any of the property or assets of such Subscriber is subject, nor (b) will such action result in any violation of (i), if such Subscriber is an entity, the provisions of the organizational documents of such Subscriber or (ii) any statute applicable to such Subscriber or any order, rule or regulation of any court or governmental agency or body having jurisdiction over such Subscriber or the property of such Subscriber.

(o) The Subscriber has carefully reviewed and understands the various risks of an investment in the Fund, as well as the fees and conflicts of interest to which the Fund is subject, as set forth in the Private Offering Memorandum. The Subscriber hereby consents and agrees to the payment of the fees so described to the parties identified as the recipients thereof, and to such conflicts of interest.

(p) The Subscriber believes that the compensation terms of the Fund represent an "arm's-length" arrangement and the Subscriber is satisfied that it has received adequate disclosure from the Fund and the Investment Manager to enable it to understand and evaluate the compensation and other terms of the Fund and the risks associated therewith.

(q) The Subscriber represents and warrants that no holder of any beneficial interest in the Shares (each a "Beneficial Interest Holder") and, in the case of a Subscriber which is an entity, no Related Person is:

- (1) A person or entity whose name appears on the List of Specially Designated Nationals and Blocked Persons maintained by the Office of Foreign Asset Control from time to time;
- (2) A Foreign Shell Bank; or
- (3) A person or entity resident in or whose subscription funds are transferred from or through an account in a Non-Cooperative Jurisdiction.

The Subscriber agrees promptly to notify the Fund or the person appointed to administer the Fund's anti-money laundering program, if applicable, of any change in information affecting this representation and covenant.

(r) The Subscriber represents that (except as otherwise disclosed to the Fund in writing):

- (1) neither it, any Beneficial Interest Holder nor any Related Person (in the case of a Subscriber that is an entity) is a Senior Foreign Political Figure, any member of a Senior Foreign Political Figure's Immediate Family or any Close Associate of a Senior Foreign Political Figure;
- (2) neither it, any Beneficial Interest Holder nor any Related Person (in the case of a Subscriber that is an entity) is resident in, or organized or chartered under the laws of, a jurisdiction that has been designated by the Secretary of the Treasury under Section 311 or 312 of the USA PATRIOT Act as warranting special measures due to money laundering concerns,<sup>14</sup> and
- (3) its subscription funds do not originate from, nor will they be routed through, an account maintained at a Foreign Shell Bank, an "offshore bank," or a bank organized or chartered under the laws of a Non-Cooperative Jurisdiction.

(s) The Subscriber acknowledges and agrees that any amounts paid to it will be paid to the same account from which its subscription funds were originally remitted, unless the Fund agrees otherwise.

(t) If the Subscriber is purchasing the Shares as agent, representative or intermediary/nominee, or in any similar capacity for any other person, or is otherwise requested to do so by the Fund, it shall provide a copy of its anti-money laundering policies ("AML Policies") to the Fund. The Subscriber represents that (i) it is in compliance with its AML Policies, (ii) its AML Policies have been approved by counsel or internal compliance personnel who have been reasonably informed of the legal requirements and best practices for anti-money laundering policies and their implementation, and (iii) it has not received a deficiency letter, negative report or any similar determination regarding its AML Policies from independent accountants, internal auditors or some other person responsible for reviewing compliance with its AML Policies.

(u) The Subscriber represents and warrants that as a result of its acquisition and holding of the Shares: (i) the assets of the Fund will not constitute the assets of any employee benefit plan subject to any federal, state, local or non-U.S. law, rule or regulations (“Similar Law”) that is similar to (A) the U.S. Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended (“ERISA”), or (B) Section 4975 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”); (ii) the Investment Manager will not be considered to be a fiduciary of the Subscriber under any Similar Law; and (iii) no activity of the Fund contemplated in the Private Offering Memorandum or the Articles will violate any Similar Law.

(v) The Subscriber will promptly provide any additional documentation the Fund or the Administrator may request in the future to the extent that the Fund or the Administrator determines necessary in order to comply with applicable anti-money laundering laws or policies or any other applicable law.

(w) The Subscriber acknowledges that due to anti-money laundering requirements operating within their respective jurisdictions, the Fund, the Investment Manager and/or the Administrator (as the case may be) may require additional documentation before a subscription application or redemption request can be processed. Please be aware that your failure to provide or a delay in providing any such documentation may delay your acceptance to the Fund, cause your subscription to be rejected entirely or delay the satisfaction of your redemption request, as applicable. The Fund, the Investment Manager and the Administrator shall be held harmless and indemnified against any loss arising as a result of any such delay or rejection due to the Subscriber’s failure to provide or delay in providing any such requested information.

(x) The Subscriber acknowledges and agrees that Shares of the Fund will not be issued until such time as the Fund and/or the Administrator has received and is satisfied with all the information and documentation requested to verify the Subscriber’s identity. Where at the sole discretion of the Fund, Shares are issued prior to the Fund and/or Administrator having received all the information and documentation required to verify the Subscriber’s identity, the Subscriber will be prohibited from redeeming any Shares so issued, and the Fund and the Administrator on its behalf reserves the right to refuse to make any redemption payment or distribution to the Subscriber, until such time as the Fund and/or the Administrator, as applicable, has received and is satisfied with all the information and documentation requested to verify the Subscriber’s identity.

(y) The Subscriber acknowledges and agrees that each of the Fund, the Administrator and the Investment Manager may disclose to each other, to any affiliate, to any other service provider to the Fund or to any regulatory body in any applicable jurisdiction copies of the Subscriber’s subscription documents and any information concerning the Subscriber in their respective possession, whether provided by the Subscriber to the Fund, the Administrator or the Investment Manager or otherwise, including details of the Subscriber’s Shares, historical and pending transactions in the Shares and the value thereof, and any such disclosure shall not be treated as a breach of any restriction upon the disclosure of information imposed on any such person by law or otherwise.

(z) The Subscriber agrees to provide the Fund and/or the Administrator any additional tax information or documentation that the Fund or the Administrator believes will enable it, the Fund or any subsidiary of the foregoing to comply with or mitigate any of their respective tax reporting, tax withholding, and/or tax compliance obligations, including any such obligations under the U.S. Hiring Incentives to Restore Employment Act (P.L. 111-147), or which may arise as a result of a change in law or in the interpretation thereof.

(aa) The Subscriber understands that Akin Gump Strauss Hauer & Feld LLP ("Akin Gump") acts as U.S. counsel to the Fund, the Investment Manager and their affiliates. The Subscriber also understands that, in connection with this offering of Shares and ongoing advice to the Fund, the Investment Manager and their affiliates, Akin Gump will not be representing investors in the Fund, including the Subscriber, and no independent counsel has been retained to represent investors in the Fund. In addition, Akin Gump does not undertake to monitor the compliance of the Investment Manager and its affiliates with the investment program, valuation procedures and other guidelines set forth in the Private Offering Memorandum, nor does Akin Gump monitor compliance with applicable laws. In preparing the Private Offering Memorandum, Akin Gump relied on information furnished to it by the Fund and/or the Investment Manager, and did not investigate or verify the accuracy or completeness of the information set forth therein concerning the Fund, the Investment Manager and their affiliates and personnel.

4. Representations, Warranties and Covenants – ERISA Subscribers

If the Subscriber is, or is acting on behalf of, an employee benefit plan which is subject to ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code, to induce the Fund to accept this subscription, the Subscriber hereby makes the following additional representations, warranties and covenants to the Fund:

(a) The person executing this Subscription Agreement on behalf of the Subscriber either is a "named fiduciary" (within the meaning of ERISA) of the Subscriber, or is acting on behalf of a named fiduciary of the Subscriber pursuant to a proper delegation of authority.

(b) The person executing this Subscription Agreement on behalf of the Subscriber represents and warrants on behalf of such person or the Subscriber, as applicable, as follows:

- (1) The Subscriber is (w) an employee benefit plan subject to the fiduciary provisions of ERISA, (x) a "plan" subject to Section 4975 of the Code, (y) an entity that otherwise constitutes a "benefit plan investor" within the meaning of any Department of Labor regulation promulgated under Section 3(42) of ERISA (a party described in (w), (x) or (y) a "Plan") or (z) any entity whose underlying assets include "plan assets" for purposes of ERISA by reason of a Plan's investment in the Subscriber (a "Plan Asset Entity").
- (2) The execution and delivery of this Subscription Agreement and the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereunder, and in the Private Offering Memorandum and the Articles will not result in a breach or violation of any charter or organizational documents pursuant to which the Subscriber was formed, or any statute, rule, regulation or order of any court or governmental agency or body having jurisdiction over the Subscriber or any of its assets, or in any material respect, any mortgage, indenture, contract, agreement or instrument to which the Subscriber is a party or otherwise subject.

- (3) The investment in the Fund is permitted by the documents of the Subscriber and such documents permit the Subscriber to invest in private investment funds that will engage in the investment program described in the Private Offering Memorandum.

(c) The Subscriber is not in any way affiliated with (i.e., does not own or control, is not owned or controlled by, nor is under common ownership or control with) any person or entity which will receive compensation, directly or indirectly, from the Fund, as specifically identified and described in the Private Offering Memorandum.

(d) The Subscriber acknowledges and agrees that the decision to invest in the Fund and the review of the terms of the Fund must be made solely and independently by a fiduciary of the Subscriber who has no affiliation with the Investment Manager or any of its affiliates or employees, without relying on any recommendation of the Investment Manager or any of its affiliates or employees as a primary basis for its decision.

(e) The appropriate fiduciaries of the Subscriber have considered the investment in light of the risks relating thereto and fiduciary responsibility provisions of ERISA applicable to the Subscriber and have determined that, in view of such considerations, the investment is appropriate for the Subscriber and is consistent with such fiduciaries' responsibilities under ERISA, and the appropriate fiduciaries: (i) are responsible for the Subscriber's decision to invest in the Fund, including the determination that such investment is consistent with the requirement imposed by Section 404 of ERISA that employee benefit plan investments be diversified so as to minimize the risk of large losses; (ii) are independent of the Investment Manager and any of its affiliates and employees and of any person or entity that will receive compensation, whether directly or indirectly, from the Fund, as specifically identified and described in the Private Offering Memorandum; (iii) are qualified and authorized to make such investment decision; and (iv) in making such decision, have not relied on the recommendation of the Investment Manager or any of its affiliates or employees.

(f) The Subscriber through the appropriate fiduciaries has been given the opportunity to discuss the Subscriber's investment in the Fund, and the structure and operation of the Fund with the Investment Manager and has been given all information that the Subscriber or the appropriate fiduciaries have requested and which the Subscriber or the appropriate fiduciaries deemed relevant to the Subscriber's decision to participate in the Fund.

5. Representations, Warranties and Covenants – Insurance Company General Account and Plan Asset Entity Subscribers

(a) If the Subscriber is acquiring the Shares with the assets of the general account of an insurance company (a "General Account"), the Subscriber represents, warrants and covenants that, on each day the Subscriber owns the Shares, either (i) the assets of such General Account are not considered to be plan assets within the meaning of Section 3(42) of ERISA, Department of Labor Regulations Section 2510.3-101 or Department of Labor regulations issued pursuant to Section 401(c)(1)(A) of ERISA, or (ii) the execution and delivery of this Subscription Agreement, and the acquisition and redemption of the Shares, is exempt from the prohibited transaction rules of Section 406(a) of ERISA and Section 4975(c)(1)(A) - (D) of the Code by virtue of Department of Labor Prohibited Transaction Class Exemption 95-60 or some other exemption of such rules.

(b) By signing this Subscription Agreement, each Subscriber that is either a Plan Asset Entity or using the assets of a General Account hereby covenants that if, after its initial acquisition of the Shares, at any time during any calendar month the percentage of the assets of such General Account (as reasonably determined by the Subscriber) or Plan Asset Entity, as applicable, that constitute "plan assets" for purposes of Title I of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code exceeds the maximum percentage limit specified by the Subscriber in Question 2(d) of Section III of the Subscriber Information Form, then such Subscriber shall promptly notify the Fund of such occurrence and the Fund may require the Subscriber to redeem or dispose of all or a portion of the Shares held in such General Account or by such Plan Asset Entity, as applicable, by the end of the next following calendar month or such other time as may be determined by the Investment Manager.

6. Indemnification

(a) The Subscriber understands the meaning and legal consequences of the representations, warranties, agreements, covenants and confirmations set out above and agrees that the subscription made hereby, if accepted by the Fund, will be accepted in reliance thereon. The Subscriber agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Fund, the Directors, the Investment Manager and their affiliates, and the partners, members, managers, stockholders, other beneficial owners, officers, directors and employees of any of the foregoing (together, the "Indemnified Persons") from and against any and all loss, damage, liability or expense, including reasonable costs and attorneys' fees and disbursements, which an Indemnified Person may incur by reason of, or in connection with, any representation or warranty made herein (or in the accompanying Subscriber Information Form) not having been true, correct and complete when made, any misrepresentation made by the Subscriber or any failure by the Subscriber to fulfill any of the covenants or agreements set forth herein, in the Subscriber Information Form or in any other document provided by the Subscriber to the Fund.

(b) To the extent that any provisions of this Subscription Agreement, including, without limitation, Section 6 hereof, are not enforceable under applicable law by virtue of any person not being party to this Subscription Agreement (each such person, a "Third Party"), the Subscriber hereby agrees that the Fund may execute one or more deed polls and/or enter into one or more separate agreements with any such Third Party and take all further actions as may be necessary or desirable, in the sole opinion of the Fund, to give effect to such provisions.

(c) The Subscriber expressly consents to the Investment Manager or the Administrator accepting and executing any instructions transmitted in written or facsimile form (or by other electronic means) in respect of an investment in the Fund to which this application relates (including, without limitation, withdrawal requests). If instructions are given by the Subscriber in facsimile form (or by other electronic means), the Subscriber undertakes to send the original letter of instructions to the Fund and the Administrator and hereby agrees to hold harmless and indemnify each of the Indemnified Persons, the Administrator and any of its employees and agents against any loss of any nature whatsoever arising to any of them as a result of any of them acting upon instructions submitted by facsimile or by other electronic means. Each Indemnified Person and each of the Administrator and any of its employees and agents may rely conclusively upon and shall incur no liability (i) for any loss arising from the non-receipt of any instructions relating to the Shares of the Subscriber delivered by facsimile or other electronic means or (ii) in respect of any action taken upon any notice, consent, request, instructions or other instrument believed in good faith to be genuine or to be signed by properly authorized persons on behalf of the Subscriber. Each Indemnified Person and each of the Administrator and any of its employees and agents shall be allowed such amount of time to act on and implement any instructions as may be reasonable having regard to their systems and operations and any other circumstances then prevailing and shall not be liable for any loss arising from any delay in acting on any instruction.

7. Miscellaneous

(a) The Subscriber agrees that neither this Subscription Agreement, nor any of the Subscriber's rights, interest or obligations hereunder, is transferable or assignable by the Subscriber, and further agrees that the transfer or assignment of any Shares acquired pursuant hereto shall be made only in accordance with the provisions hereof and all applicable laws. Any assignment in violation of this Section 7(a) shall be null and void.

(b) The Subscriber agrees that, except as permitted by applicable law, it may not cancel, terminate or revoke this Subscription Agreement or any agreement of the Subscriber made hereunder, and that this Subscription Agreement shall survive the death or legal disability of the Subscriber and shall be binding upon the Subscriber's heirs, executors, administrators, successors and assigns.

(c) All of the representations, warranties, covenants, agreements, indemnities and confirmations set out above and in the Subscriber Information Form shall survive the acceptance of the subscription made herein and the issuance of any Shares.

(d) This Subscription Agreement together with the Subscriber Information Form constitutes the entire agreement between the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter hereof and may be amended only by a writing executed by both parties.

(e) The Subscriber hereby agrees that any representation made hereunder will be deemed to be reaffirmed by the Subscriber at any time it makes an additional capital contribution to the Fund and the act of making such additional contribution will be evidence of such reaffirmation.

(f) Within 10 days after receipt of a written request therefor from the Fund, the Subscriber agrees to provide such information and to execute and deliver such documents as the Fund may deem reasonably necessary to comply with any and all laws, rules, regulations, orders and ordinances to which the Fund is or may be subject.

(g) The Subscriber agrees to keep confidential, and not to make any use of (other than for purposes reasonably related to its investment in the Fund) or disclose to any person, any information or matter relating to the Fund and its affairs and any information or matter related to any investment of the Fund (other than disclosure to the Subscriber's authorized representatives); provided that (i) the Subscriber may make such disclosure to the extent that (x) the information to be disclosed is publicly known at the time of proposed disclosure by the Subscriber, (y) the information otherwise is or becomes legally known to the Subscriber other than through disclosure by the Fund, or (z) such disclosure is required by law or in response to any governmental agency request or in connection with an examination by any regulatory authorities; provided that such agency, regulatory authorities or association is aware of the confidential nature of the information disclosed; (ii) the Subscriber may make such disclosure to its Beneficial Interest Holders to the extent required under the terms of its arrangements with such persons; and (iii) the Subscriber will be permitted, after written notice to the Fund, to correct any false or misleading information that becomes public concerning the Subscriber's relationship to the Fund. Prior to making any disclosure required by law, the Subscriber shall use its best efforts to notify the Fund of such disclosure. Prior to any disclosure to any authorized representative or Beneficial Interest Holder, the Subscriber shall advise such persons of the confidentiality obligations set forth herein and each such person shall agree to be bound by such obligations. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Subscriber may disclose to any and all persons, without limitation of any kind, the tax treatment and tax structure of an investment in the Fund and all materials of any kind (including opinions or other tax analyses) that are provided in connection with this Subscription Agreement to the Subscriber relating to such tax treatment or tax structure. The Subscriber acknowledges and agrees that the Fund and the Investment Manager would be damaged irreparably and would not have an adequate remedy at law if this Section (g) is not performed in accordance with its specific terms or is otherwise breached. Accordingly, in addition to any other remedy to which it may be entitled at law or in equity, each party will be entitled to an injunction or injunctions to prevent breaches or threatened breaches of this Section 7(g) and to enforce specifically this Section 7(g), without bond or other security being required. The rights and remedies in this Section 7(g) are cumulative and in addition to any other rights and remedies otherwise available at law or in equity. Nothing will be considered an election of remedies or a waiver of the right to pursue any other right or remedy to which party may be entitled.

(h) The Subscriber acknowledges and understands that if any person who is resident in the Cayman Islands has a suspicion that a payment to the Fund (by way of subscription or otherwise) is the proceeds of criminal conduct, that person is required to report such suspicion to the relevant Cayman authorities pursuant to The Proceeds of Crime Law (as amended) of the Cayman Islands.

(i) Except as otherwise indicated in PART A – SECTION I.4 of the Subscriber Information Form, the Subscriber has agreed to receive and accept reports and communications indefinitely from the Fund, the Administrator and the Investment Manager exclusively via e-mail to the e-mail address set forth in the Subscriber Information Form unless the Subscriber notifies the Investment Manager or the Administrator in writing that the Subscriber wishes to receive reports to either another e-mail address or alternatively, via regular mail in lieu of electronic mail. If instructions are given by the Subscriber via e-mail, the Subscriber agrees to indemnify each Indemnified Person and each of the Administrator and any of its employees and agents against any loss of any nature whatsoever arising to any of them as a result of any of them acting upon instructions submitted by facsimile or by other electronic means. Each Indemnified Party and the Administrator may rely conclusively upon and shall incur no liability in respect of any loss arising from (i) the non-receipt of any instructions relating to the interests of the Subscriber delivered via e-mail or (ii) any action taken upon any notice, consent, request, instructions or other instrument believed in good faith to be genuine or to be signed by properly authorized persons on behalf of the Subscriber.

8. Standing Proxy

The Subscriber hereby designates and appoints the Administrator with power of substitution, as the Subscriber's true and lawful proxy for the purpose of voting any Shares issued pursuant to this Subscription Agreement (or such portion thereof from time to time owned by the Subscriber) as said proxy may determine on any and all matters arising at any annual or special general meeting of the Fund or any class meeting upon which such Shares could be voted by the Subscriber (or the person in whose name the Shares hereby subscribed are registered at the Subscriber's direction) if present in person at the meeting. This proxy may be revoked by the Subscriber (or his registered nominee) either personally or by presentation of a subsequently executed form of proxy at any annual or special general meeting or any class meeting of the Fund or by written notice to the Administrator received at the Fund's registered office prior to any such meeting.

9. Notices

Any notice required or permitted to be given to the Subscriber in relation to the Fund shall be sent to the address specified in Part A, Section I of the Subscriber Information Form or to such other address as the Subscriber designates by written notice received by the Fund. The Subscriber acknowledges and agrees that any consent that need be obtained from the Subscriber by the Fund may be obtained by the form of a negative consent following written notice. For purposes of clarity, the Fund may provide the Subscriber with reasonable advance notice of an issue requiring the Subscriber's consent, and if the Subscriber does not respond to such notice within a reasonable time as set forth in the notice, the Subscriber shall be deemed to have approved and consent to such issue.

10. Arbitration and Mediation

The Subscriber acknowledges and agrees that the following procedures shall be used to resolve any controversy or claim ("Dispute") arising out of, relating to or in connection with this Subscription Agreement, the Articles or otherwise involving the Fund and/or any Indemnified Person. If any of these provisions are determined to be invalid or unenforceable, the remaining provisions shall remain in effect and binding on the parties to the fullest extent permitted by law.

(a) Mediation.

(i) Any Dispute shall be submitted to mediation by written notice to the other party or parties. In the mediation process, the parties will try to resolve their differences voluntarily with the aid of an impartial mediator, who will attempt to facilitate negotiations. The mediator will be selected by agreement of the parties. If the parties cannot agree on a mediator, a mediator shall be designated by JAMS/Endispute at the request of a party using, if necessary, strike and rank procedures then in effect.

(ii) The mediation will be conducted as specified by the mediator and agreed upon by the parties. The parties agree to discuss their differences in good faith and to attempt, with the assistance of the mediator, to reach an amicable resolution of the dispute.

(iii) The mediation will be treated as a settlement discussion and therefore will be confidential. The mediator may not testify for either party in any later proceeding relating to the dispute. No recording or transcript shall be made of the mediation proceedings.

(iv) Each party will bear its own costs in the mediation. The fees and expenses of the mediator will be shared equally by the parties.

(b) Arbitration.

(i) If a Dispute has not been resolved within 90 days after the written notice beginning the mediation process (or a longer period, if the parties agree to extend the mediation), the mediation shall terminate and the dispute will be settled by arbitration. A party who files a suit in court regarding a Dispute rather than in arbitration waives its claim and must pay all attorney's fees and costs incurred by the other party in seeking to have such suit dismissed. Under no circumstances will a party maintain its right to pursue his/her/its Dispute if that party initiates a judicial suit instead of complying with the mediation and arbitration provisions herein. The arbitration will be conducted through JAMS/Endispute in accordance with the procedures in this document and the commercial dispute arbitration rules then in effect ("Arbitration Rules"). In the event of a conflict, the provisions of this document will control.

(ii) The arbitration will be conducted before a panel of three arbitrators, regardless of the size of the dispute, to be selected as provided in the Arbitration Rules. Any issue concerning the extent to which any dispute is subject to arbitration, or concerning the applicability, interpretation, or enforceability of these procedures, including any contention that all or part of these procedures are invalid or unenforceable, shall be governed by the U.S. Federal Arbitration Act ("FAA"), and resolved by the arbitrators, provided, however, that the Fund or such applicable affiliate thereof may pursue a temporary restraining order and/or preliminary injunctive relief in connection with confidentiality covenants or agreements binding on any party, with related expedited discovery for the parties, in a court of law, and, thereafter, require arbitration of all issues of final relief. Under no circumstances will another arbitration law or regulation preclude application of the FAA, including any choice of law provisions in this agreement, or any other agreement. No potential arbitrator may serve on the panel unless he or she has agreed in writing to abide and be bound by these procedures.

(iii) The arbitrators may not award non-monetary or equitable relief of any sort. They shall have no power to award punitive damages or any other damages not measured by the prevailing party's actual damages, and the parties expressly waive their right to obtain such damages in arbitration or any in other forum. In no event, even if any other portion of these provisions is held to be invalid or unenforceable, shall the arbitrators have power to make an award or impose a remedy that could not be made or imposed by a court deciding the matter in the same jurisdiction. The arbitrator(s) shall be required to state in a written opinion all facts and conclusions of law relied upon to support any decision rendered. Any dispute over whether the arbitrator(s) has failed to comply with the foregoing will be resolved by summary judgment in a court of law.

(iv) The party initiating arbitration shall pay all arbitration costs and arbitrator's fees, subject to a final arbitration award on who should bear costs and fees. All proceedings shall be conducted in Dallas, Texas, or another mutually agreeable site. Each party shall bear its own attorneys fees, costs and expenses, including any costs of experts, witnesses and/or travel, subject to a final arbitration award on who should bear costs and fees. The duty to arbitrate described above shall survive the termination of this Subscription Agreement. This provision is intended to supersede any rights under Texas Civil Practices and Remedies Code § 38.001(8), which rights the parties expressly waive.

(v) No discovery will be allowed in connection with the arbitration unless the arbitration panel, upon a showing of substantial need, expressly authorizes it. In any event, there shall be no more than (i) two party depositions of six hours each. Each deposition is to be taken pursuant to the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure; (ii) one non-party deposition of six hours; (iii) twenty-five interrogatories; (iv) twenty-five requests for admission; (v) ten requests for production. In response, the producing party shall not be obligated to produce in excess of 5,000 total pages of documents. The total pages of documents shall include electronic documents; (vi) one request for disclosure pursuant to the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure. Any discovery not specifically provided for in this paragraph, whether to parties or non-parties, shall not be permitted.

(vi) All aspects of the arbitration shall be treated as confidential, including its institution and/or settlement. Neither the parties nor the arbitrators may disclose the existence, content or results of the arbitration, except as necessary to comply with legal or regulatory requirements. Before making any such disclosure, a party shall give written notice to all other parties and shall afford such parties a reasonable opportunity to protect their interests. In the event a party who recovered monies by settlement, award by the arbitration panel, or otherwise in connection with the Dispute violates this confidentiality term, he, she, or it shall refund all such sums recovered. The parties expressly intend to waive the right to retain any monies received through settlement, award by the arbitration panel, or otherwise in connection with the Dispute in the event that that party violates the aforementioned confidentiality term.

(vii) The result of the arbitration will be binding on the parties, and judgment on the arbitrators' award may be entered in any court having jurisdiction.

11. Governing Law

Except for Section 10 of this Subscription Agreement which shall be governed by the laws of the State of Texas, this Subscription Agreement shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the Cayman Islands, without giving effect to any conflict of law principles that would result in the application of the laws of any other jurisdiction.

EXHIBIT 8

SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT

This Settlement Agreement (the “Agreement”) is entered into as of May 11, 2020 between and among UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG, London Branch (collectively, “UBS”), on the one hand, and Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, L.P. (f/k/a Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, L.P.) (“MSCF”), Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, Ltd. (“Credit Opps”), and Highland Credit Opportunities CDO Asset Holdings, L.P. (“Asset Holdings,” and together with MSCF and Credit Opps, the “Funds”), on the other. UBS and the Funds are sometimes referred to herein collectively as the “Parties” and individually as a “Party.”

RECITALS

A. WHEREAS, MSCF and Credit Opps are parties to that certain Loan Agreement, made by and between MSCF, Credit Opps, and NexBank, SSB (“NexBank,” and together with MSCF and Credit Opps, the “Loan Parties”), dated as of May 1, 2018 (as amended, the “Loan Agreement”);

B. WHEREAS, Asset Holdings, a wholly owned subsidiary of MSCF, holds life settlement policies with policy numbers [REDACTED] (collectively, the “Life Settlement Policies”);

C. WHEREAS, on June 28, 2019, the Loan Parties entered into that certain Second Amendment to Loan Agreement pursuant to which it was agreed that the Life Settlement Policies with policy numbers [REDACTED] (the “NexBank Life Settlement Policies”) would be pledged to secure the obligations under the Loan Agreement;

D. WHEREAS, on June 28, 2019, Asset Holdings executed that certain Collateral Assignment of Life Insurance in favor of NexBank pursuant to which Asset Holdings believes it assigned the NexBank Life Settlement Policies to NexBank to secure the obligations under the Loan Agreement (“Assignment”);

E. WHEREAS, the Funds have determined that it is in their best interests to sell the Life Settlement Policies;

F. WHEREAS, UBS believes that it has a valid claim that the Life Settlement Policies were fraudulently conveyed to Asset Holdings in 2009 (the “Fraudulent Conveyance Claims”);

G. WHEREAS, the Fraudulent Conveyance Claims, among other claims, are the subject of a lawsuit brought by UBS in the Supreme Court of the State of New York, captioned UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG, London Branch v. Highland Capital Management, L.P., Highland Special Opportunity Holding Company, Highland CDO Opportunity Master Fund, L.P., Highland Financial Partners, L.P., Highland Credit Strategies Master Fund, L.P., Highland Crusader Offshore Partners, L.P., Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, L.P., Strand Advisors, Inc., No. 650097/2009, against Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, L.P., the predecessor of MSCF, amongst other parties (the “State Court Action”);

H. WHEREAS, UBS, in the State Court Action, has asserted, among other things, that the Life Settlement Policies or their value must be turned over to UBS;

I. WHEREAS, the Funds, among other defendants in the State Court Action, dispute UBS's claims to the Life Settlement Policies and the validity of the Fraudulent Conveyance Claims and UBS disputes the validity of the Assignment;

J. WHEREAS, because of the Fraudulent Conveyance Claims and the Assignment, the Funds' ability to sell the Life Settlement Policies has been compromised;

K. WHEREAS, solely to avoid the expense, inconvenience, and uncertainty associated with litigation, and without either Party admitting liability, fault, or wrongdoing, or releasing or waiving any rights or defenses with respect to the Fraudulent Conveyance Claims, the Parties desire to enter into this Agreement to allow the Life Settlement Policies to be sold and the proceeds to be distributed.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the above recitals, the covenants, conditions, and promises made herein, and other good and valuable consideration, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, the Parties agree as follows:

1. Sale of Life Settlement Policies; Free and Clear.

(a) The Funds will use commercially reasonable efforts to cause the Life Settlement Policies to be sold at an auction (the "Auction") conducted by Maple Life Analytics, LLC ("Maple") for $37,135,000.00 in addition to amounts sufficient to reimburse the Funds for any Life Settlement Policy premiums paid in or after May 2020.

(b) Subject to the terms of this Agreement, including Section 4 hereof, UBS agrees that, if all or some of the Life Settlement Policies are sold at the Auction, any such sale of the Life Settlement Policies will be free and clear of any and all claims (including the Fraudulent Conveyance Claims) against or interests in such Life Settlement Policies that have been, could have been, or could be asserted by UBS whether in the State Court Action or otherwise. For the avoidance of doubt, UBS shall retain any and all such claims against (i) any Life Settlement Policies that are not sold in the Auction and/or (ii) against the Funds for the full value of such claims as they otherwise existed at the time of the completion of the Auction, including without limitation, for the value of any Life Settlement Policies sold at auction, and for any prejudgment interest, attorneys' fees, punitive damages, or other economic claims. For the avoidance of doubt, the Parties' intent is that this Agreement shall neither diminish nor augment the recoverable value of any claims UBS has with respect to the Funds or the Life Settlement Policies.

2. Distribution of Proceeds.

(a) Subject to Section 2(b), the proceeds from the Auction will be distributed as soon as reasonably practicable as follows:

(i) First, $371,350.00 to Maple as payment for their fees;

(ii) Second, $100,000.00 to MSCF to be used to pay other expenses associated with the Auction;

(iii) Third, $15,840,000.000, representing the net proceeds from the sale of the NexBank Life Settlement Policies, to NexBank in satisfaction of its claimed security interest in the NexBank Life Settlement Policies and in repayment of a portion of the obligations owed by the Loan Parties to NexBank pursuant to the Loan Agreement;

(iv) Fourth, $1,750,000 to Highland Capital Management, L.P. (“HCMLP”), in satisfaction of certain amounts previously loaned to MSCF for the payment of Life Settlement Policy premiums and certain other operating expenses;

(v) Fifth, $8,969,000.00 to MSCF to be used to pay operating costs of the Funds (or to repay advances made to pay such costs), including, but not limited to, amounts due under the Loan Agreement and premiums due on any remaining life settlement policies, provided that none of the amounts in this Section 2(a)(v) shall be transferred to HCMLP as direct or indirect repayment of any amounts advanced by HCMLP to MSCF prior to the commencement of HCMLP’s chapter 11 bankruptcy case; and

(vi) Sixth, $10,104,650.00 to the Escrow Account (as defined below) on the terms set forth in Section 3 hereof;

(b) In addition to the distributions set forth above:

(i) HCMLP will be entitled to receive any premium repayments or refunds made by any buyer of a Life Settlement Policy prior to any distributions being made pursuant to Section 2; and

(ii) Subject to Section 5 below, MSCF will retain any payments or proceeds received on the Life Settlement Policies that are not otherwise payable to the buyer of such Life Settlement Policy in the Auction.

(c) Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary:

(i) if some, but not all, of the NexBank Life Settlement Policies are sold at the Auction, or if the NexBank Life Settlement Policies are sold for less than $15,840,000.00, the amount set forth in Section 2(a)(iii) will be reduced to reflect the net proceeds from the NexBank Life Settlement Policies actually sold and the amount set forth in Section 2(a)(i) will be adjusted to reflect the fee actually payable to Maple; and

(ii) if the proceeds from the Auction are less than $37,135,000.00 for any reason, other than as set forth in Section 2(c)(i), the amount set forth in Section 2(a)(i) will be adjusted to reflect the fee actually payable to Maple and any decrease in the gross proceeds shall be apportioned equally (i.e., by 50%) to each of the amounts set forth in Section 2(a)(vi) and Section 2(a)(iv). If the proceeds from the Auction are greater than $37,135,000.00, then the additional gross proceeds shall be apportioned equally (i.e., by 50%) to each of the amounts set forth in Section 2(a)(v) and Section 2(a)(vi).

3. Escrow Account. The proceeds from the Auction distributed pursuant to Section 2(a)(vi), will be deposited in an escrow account (the “Escrow Account”) maintained at Citibank the terms and conditions set forth in the escrow agreement in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A (the “Escrow Agreement”). All costs associated with maintaining the Escrow Account will be paid by the Funds. As set forth in the Escrow Agreement, the Escrow Account will be maintained for a period of two years from the date proceeds are initially deposited therein, unless such date is extended by mutual agreement of the Parties or pursuant to an order from a court of applicable jurisdiction, and no amounts will be released from the Escrow Account during such two year period unless subject to court order or the agreement of the Parties. For the avoidance of doubt, it is expected that UBS will seek an extension of this two year period (upon a proper showing) if UBS’s claims against HCMLP and/or the Funds have not been resolved. Any amounts remaining in the Escrow Account at the expiration of the two year period, as may be extended and subject to contrary court order or agreement of the Parties, will be distributed to MSCF.

4. No Release; No Waiver. Except as set forth in Section 1(a) hereof, nothing contained herein is or will be construed as a waiver or release (i) by UBS of any claim, cause of action, or right of relief against any of the Funds or their predecessors, including the Fraudulent Conveyance Claims, whether in law, equity, or contract, including with respect to any proceeds from the sale of any of the Life Settlement Policies (the “Sale”) held in the Escrow Account (the “Escrow Amount”), or (ii) by the Funds, their predecessors, or any other party of any defense whether in law, equity, or contract with respect to the Fraudulent Conveyance Claims or any other claims that UBS may assert. All such rights are expressly reserved. For the avoidance of doubt, notwithstanding the Sale of the Life Settlement Policies, (a) UBS’s claims against the Life Settlement Policies are fully preserved against the proceeds of the Sale up to the Escrow Amount, and (b) all of UBS’s claims, causes of action, and rights of relief, whether in law or equity, against the Funds and their predecessors, or any of them, and whether currently pending or not, are preserved as to (but not limited by) the total proceeds of the Sale as against any and all present and future assets held by, or interests in, the Funds (other than the Life Settlement Policies) and shall in no way be deemed altered, diminished, impaired, released, or waived in any respect by the Sale, this Agreement, or the execution of this Agreement. For the further avoidance of doubt, the payment of proceeds from the Sale to HCMLP shall not be deemed in any way to impair, release, or waive any claims, causes of action, or rights of relief held by UBS against HCMLP or the Funds and their predecessors, nor shall any such payments in any way impair, release, waive, alter, or diminish UBS’s ability to recover such amounts on account of its claims against HCMLP in HCMLP’s chapter 11 case or otherwise. For the further avoidance of doubt, any claims UBS currently has (if any) with respect to the Life Settlement Policies or otherwise against the Funds and their predecessors, including but not limited to, claims for the value of the Life Settlement Policies as of the date of the Auction, claims for prejudgment interest, claims for attorneys’ fees and/or claims for punitive damages are intended to be preserved against the Funds, and shall not be diminished (or augmented) by the fact of the Sale of the Life Settlement Policies in the Auction.

5. No Additional Distributions.

(a) Except for the distributions set forth in Section 2 above, none of the Funds will make any distributions or redemption payments to any of MSCF’s limited partners, general partners, shareholders, or other equity holders (collectively, the “Equity Parties”) (regardless of whether an Equity Party has tendered its equity interest for redemption) for two years from the date of the closing of the Life Settlement Policy sales (the “Standstill Term”) unless such payments are made with the mutual agreement of HCMLP and UBS or pursuant to an order from a court of applicable jurisdiction. It is agreed that the Funds shall provide UBS with no less than five (5) business days’ advance written notice prior to seeking such an order. It is expressly recognized that, upon a proper showing (subject to proper objections by HCMLP), UBS may obtain a court-ordered extension of the Standstill Term. The Standstill Term may be extended by mutual agreement of the Parties or pursuant to an order from a court of applicable jurisdiction. Following the expiration of the Standstill Term, as may be extended, MSCF may make distributions or redemption payments to the Equity Parties, to the extent permissible and appropriate, in its sole discretion. For the avoidance of doubt, the expiration of the Standstill Term, in of itself, shall not have any impact on UBS’s rights, if any, with respect to its claims against HCMLP and/or the Funds.

(b) During the Standstill Term (and any extension of that term pursuant to agreement or court order as set forth herein), the Funds agree to provide UBS with no less than five (5) business days’ written notice of any proposed sale, transfer, or other disposition of any assets held by, or interest in, the Funds, including the proceeds from such transfer or disposition, and the proposed transferee with respect to such assets or interests.

6. Representations and Warranties. As of the date hereof, the Funds represent, warrant and covenant that the Funds’ current assets and their most recent valuations are set forth in Schedule 1 hereto in the following format:

Asset	Value	Date of Valuation	Source of Valuation

For the avoidance of doubt, nothing in this Section 6 or Schedule 1 constitutes a representation or warranty as to the actual value of the Funds’ assets or the price that can or may be obtained from a sale, if any, of such assets.

7. Successors In Interest. Each of the Parties agrees that this Agreement will be binding upon the Parties, and, as applicable, upon their predecessors, successors, subsidiaries, divisions, alter egos, affiliated and related entities, and their past or present officers, directors, partners, employees, attorneys, assigns, agents, representatives, and any or all of them.

8. No Admission of Liability. The Parties acknowledge that there is a bona fide dispute with respect to the Fraudulent Conveyance Claims. Nothing in this Agreement will imply an admission of liability, fault or wrongdoing by the Funds or any other person. In particular, the execution of this Agreement will not constitute an admission of liability, fault, or wrongdoing on the part of the Funds or any other person

9. Confidentiality. The Parties agree that the information provided in Schedule 1 shall be strictly confidential except as required by law or if necessary to disclose to enforce this Agreement (but in such case the Parties will take reasonable care to ensure confidentiality to the extent permitted by law). The Parties to this Agreement stipulate and covenant not to repeat, speak, display or disclose any of the information set forth in Schedule 1 to anyone other than their attorneys and advisors; provided however, that such information may be provided to the unsecured creditor committee appointed in the bankruptcy of HCMLP.

10. Notice. Each notice and other communication hereunder will be in writing and will be sent by email and delivered or mailed by registered mail, receipt requested, and will be deemed to have been given on the date of its delivery, if delivered, and on the fifth full business day following the date of the mailing, if mailed to each of the Parties thereto at the following respective addresses or such other address as may be specified in any notice delivered or mailed as set forth below:

11. Advice of Counsel. Each of the Parties represents that such Party has: (a) been adequately represented by independent legal counsel of its own choice, throughout all of the negotiations that preceded the execution of this Agreement; (b) executed this Agreement upon the advice of such counsel; (c) read this Agreement, and understands and assents to all the terms and conditions contained herein without any reservations; and (d) had the opportunity to have this Agreement and all the terms and conditions contained herein explained by independent counsel, who has answered any and all questions asked of such counsel, or which could have been asked of such counsel, including, but not limited to, with regard to the meaning and effect of any of the provisions of this Agreement.

12. Entire Agreement. This Agreement contains the entire agreement and understanding concerning the subject matter of this Agreement, and supersedes and replaces all prior negotiations and agreements, written or oral and executed or unexecuted, concerning such subject matter. Each of the Parties acknowledges that no other Party, nor any agent of or attorney for any such Party, has made any promise, representation or warranty, express or implied, written or oral, not otherwise contained in this Agreement to induce any Party to execute this Agreement. The Parties further acknowledge that they are not executing this Agreement in reliance on any promise, representation or warranty not contained in this Agreement. This Agreement will not be waived or modified except by an agreement in writing signed by each Party or duly authorized representative of each Party.

13. No Party Deemed Drafter. The Parties acknowledge that the terms of this Agreement are contractual and are the result of negotiations between the Parties and their chosen counsel. Each Party and its counsel cooperated in the drafting and preparation of this Agreement. In any construction to be made of this Agreement, the Agreement will not be construed against any Party.

14. Severability. If any term or provision, or portion thereof, of this Agreement is declared to be illegal or invalid, the validity of the remaining provisions or portions thereof will not be affected thereby, and the illegal or invalid provision or portions thereof will be deemed not a part of the Agreement.

15. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in counterparts with the same force and effect as if executed in one complete document. Each Party's signature hereto will signify acceptance of, and agreement to, the terms and provisions contained in this Agreement. Photographic, electronic, and facsimile copies of signed counterparts may be used in lieu of the originals of this Agreement for any purpose.

16. Governing Law; Venue. The Parties agree that this Agreement will be governed by and will be construed according to the laws of the State of New York without regard to conflict-of-law principles. Each of the Parties hereby submits to the exclusive jurisdiction of the state and federal courts located in the Borough of Manhattan with respect to any disputes arising from or out of this Agreement.

Form of Escrow Agreement

ESCROW AGREEMENT

THIS ESCROW AGREEMENT (this “Agreement”) is made and entered into as of May ___, 2020, by and among (i) UBS Securities LLC (“UBS”), (ii) Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, L.P. (“MSCF”) and Highland Credit Opportunities CDO Asset Holdings, LP (“Asset Holdings” and together with MSCF, sometimes referred to individually and collectively, the “Funds”) and the Funds together with UBS, sometimes referred to individually as a “Party” and collectively as the “Parties”), and (iii) CITIBANK, N.A., as escrow agent (the “Escrow Agent”).

RECITALS

WHEREAS, the Parties, along with UBS AG, London Branch and Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, Ltd., entered into a Settlement Agreement dated May 11, 2020 (as amended, restated, supplemented or otherwise modified from time to time, the “Settlement Agreement”) pursuant to which the Parties have agreed to place in escrow a portion of the proceeds from the sale of certain assets (the “Sale Proceeds”).

WHEREAS, the Parties and the Escrow Agent desire to set forth their rights and obligations with respect to the Escrow Funds (as defined below) and the distribution and release thereof.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing and of the mutual covenants hereinafter set forth, the parties hereto agree as follows:

1. Appointment. The Parties hereby appoint the Escrow Agent as their escrow agent for the purposes set forth herein, and the Escrow Agent hereby accepts such appointment and agrees to act as escrow agent in accordance with the terms and conditions set forth herein.

2. Escrow Funds.

(a) Simultaneous with the execution and delivery of this Agreement, MSCF shall deposit or cause to be deposited with the Escrow Agent Sale Proceeds in the amount of $10,104,650.00 (or such other amount as may be agreed to by the Parties) (such amount, the “Escrow Amount”) in immediately available funds. The Escrow Agent hereby acknowledges receipt of the Escrow Amount, together with all products and proceeds thereof, including all interest, dividends, gains and other income (collectively, the “Escrow Earnings”) earned with respect thereto (collectively, the “Escrow Funds”) in separate and distinct account (the “Escrow Account”), subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement.

(b) For greater certainty, all escrow earnings shall be retained by the Escrow Agent and reinvested in the Escrow Funds and shall become part of the Escrow Funds; and shall be disbursed as part of the Escrow Funds in accordance with the terms and conditions of this Agreement.

3. Investment of Escrow Funds.

(a) Unless otherwise instructed in writing by the Parties, the Escrow Agent shall hold the Escrow Funds in a “noninterest-bearing deposit account” insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (“FDIC”) to the applicable limits. The Escrow Funds shall at all times remain available for distribution in accordance with Section 4 below.

(b) The Escrow Agent shall send an account statement to each of the Parties on a monthly basis reflecting activity in the Escrow Account for the preceding month.

(c) The Escrow Agent shall have no responsibility for any investment losses resulting from the investment, reinvestment or liquidation of the escrowed property, as applicable, provided that the Escrow Agent has made such investment, reinvestment or liquidation of the escrowed property in accordance with the terms, and subject to the conditions of this Agreement. The Escrow Agent does not have a duty nor will it undertake any duty to provide investment advice.

4. Disposition and Termination of the Escrow Funds.

(a) Escrow Funds. The Parties shall act in accordance with, and the Escrow Agent shall hold and release the Escrow Funds as provided in, this Section 4(a) as follows:

(i) Upon receipt of a Joint Release Instruction with respect to the Escrow Funds, the Escrow Agent shall promptly, but in any event within two (2) Business Days after receipt of a Joint Release Instruction, disburse all or part of the Escrow Funds in accordance with such Joint Release Instruction.

(ii) Upon receipt by the Escrow Agent of a copy of Final Determination from any Party, the Escrow Agent shall on the second (2nd) Business Day following receipt of such copy, disburse as directed, part or all, as the case may be, of the Escrow Funds (but only to the extent funds are available in the Escrow Account) to the applicable Party or Parties, in accordance with such Final Determination. The Escrow Agent will act on such Final Determination without further inquiry.

(iii) If the Escrow Funds have not been released in accordance with clause (i) or (ii) of this Section 4(a) on or before May [ ], 2022, or such later date as agreed, and notified to the Escrow Agent, in writing by the Parties or established pursuant to an order from a court of applicable jurisdiction (the “Escrow End Date”), then, upon receipt of written instruction from the Funds (the “Final Instruction”) executed by an authorized signer of each of the Funds, unless the Parties deliver to the Escrow Agent a Joint Release Instruction or a contrary order from a court of applicable jurisdiction prior to the disbursement expressly superseding such Final Instruction, the Escrow Agent shall on the second (2nd) Business Day following receipt of such Final Instruction, disburse all remaining Escrow Funds in accordance with such Final Instruction. The Funds agree not to send the Final Instruction prior to the Escrow End Date.

(iv) All payments of any part of the Escrow Funds shall be made by wire transfer of immediately available funds or check as set forth in the Joint Release Instruction, Final Determination or Final Instruction, as applicable.

(v) Any instructions setting forth, claiming, containing, objecting to, or in any way related to the transfer or distribution of any funds on deposit in any Escrow Account under the terms of this Agreement must be in writing, executed by the appropriate Party or Parties as evidenced by the signatures of the person or persons set forth on Exhibit A-1 and Exhibit A-2, and delivered to the Escrow Agent either (i) by confirmed facsimile only at the fax number set forth in Section 11 below or (ii) attached to an e-mail received on a Business Day from an e-mail address set forth in Section 11 below. In the event a Joint Release Instruction, Final Instruction or Final Determination is delivered to the Escrow Agent, whether in writing, by facsimile or otherwise, the Escrow Agent is authorized to seek confirmation of such instruction by telephone call back to the person or persons designated in Exhibits A-1 and/or A-2 annexed hereto (the “Call Back Authorized Individuals”), and the Escrow Agent may rely upon the confirmations of anyone purporting to be a Call Back Authorized Individual. To assure accuracy of the instructions it receives, the Escrow Agent may record such call backs. If the Escrow Agent is unable to verify the instructions, or is not satisfied with the verification it receives, it will not execute the instruction until all such issues have been resolved. The persons and telephone numbers for call backs may be changed only in writing, executed by an authorized signer of the applicable Party set forth on Exhibit A-1 or Exhibit A-2, actually received and acknowledged by the Escrow Agent.

(b) Certain Definitions.

(i) “Business Day” means any day that is not a Saturday, a Sunday or other day on which banks are not required or authorized by law to be closed in New York, New York.

(ii) “Final Determination” means a final non-appealable order of any court of competent jurisdiction, including without limitation, any judgment, order or decree, that finally adjudicates ownership of, or entitlement to, the Sale Proceeds, together with (A) a certificate of the prevailing Party to the effect that such order is final and non-appealable and from a court of competent jurisdiction having proper authority and (B) the written payment instructions of the prevailing Party to effectuate such order.

(iii) “Joint Release Instruction” means the joint written instruction, substantially in the form of Exhibit B attached hereto, executed by an authorized signer of each of UBS and the Funds directing the Escrow Agent to disburse all or a portion of the Escrow Funds, as applicable.

(iv) “Person” means an individual, a partnership, a corporation, a limited liability company, an association, a joint stock company, a trust, a joint venture, an unincorporated organization or a governmental entity or any department, agency or political subdivision thereof.

5. Escrow Agent. The Escrow Agent undertakes to perform only such duties as are expressly set forth herein, which shall be deemed purely ministerial in nature, and no duties, including but not limited to any fiduciary duties, shall be implied. The Escrow Agent shall neither be responsible for, nor chargeable with, knowledge of, nor have any requirements to comply with, the terms and conditions of any other agreement, instrument or document between the Parties, in connection herewith, if any, including without limitation the Settlement Agreement, nor shall the Escrow Agent be required to determine if any Person has complied with any such agreements, nor shall any additional obligations of the Escrow Agent be inferred from the terms of such agreements, even though reference thereto may be made in this Agreement. Notwithstanding the terms of any other agreement between the Parties, the terms and conditions of this Agreement will control the actions of Escrow Agent. The Escrow Agent may rely upon and shall not be liable for acting or refraining from acting upon any Joint Release Instruction, Final Instruction or Final Determination furnished to it hereunder and believed by it to be genuine and to have been signed and presented by an authorized signer of the proper Party or Parties. Concurrent with the execution of this Agreement, the Parties shall deliver to the Escrow Agent authorized signers' forms in the form of Exhibit A-1 and Exhibit A-2 attached hereto. The Escrow Agent shall be under no duty to inquire into or investigate the validity, accuracy or content of any such document, notice, instruction or request. The Escrow Agent shall have no duty to solicit any payments which may be due it or the Escrow Funds. In the event that the Escrow Agent shall be uncertain as to its duties or rights hereunder or shall receive instructions, claims or demands from any Party hereto which, in its opinion, conflict with any of the provisions of this Agreement, it shall be entitled to refrain from taking any action and its sole obligation shall be to keep safely all property held in escrow until it shall be directed otherwise in a Joint Release Instruction, Final Instruction or Final Determination. The Escrow Agent may interplead all of the assets held hereunder into a court of competent jurisdiction or may seek a declaratory judgment with respect to certain circumstances, and thereafter be fully relieved from any and all liability or obligation with respect to such interpleaded assets or any action or nonaction based on such declaratory judgment. The Escrow Agent may consult with legal counsel of its selection in the event of any dispute or question as to the meaning or construction of any of the provisions hereof or its duties hereunder. The Escrow Agent will not be liable for any action taken, suffered or omitted to be taken by it in good faith except to the extent that the Escrow Agent's gross negligence or willful misconduct was the cause of any direct loss to either Party. To the extent practicable, the Parties agree to pursue any redress or recourse in connection with any dispute without making the Escrow Agent a party to the same. Anything in this Agreement to the contrary notwithstanding, in no event shall the Escrow Agent be liable for any special, indirect, punitive, incidental or consequential losses or damages of any kind whatsoever (including but not limited to lost profits), even if the Escrow Agent has been advised of the likelihood of such losses or damages and regardless of the form of action.

6. Resignation and Removal of Escrow Agent. The Escrow Agent (a) may resign and be discharged from its duties or obligations hereunder by giving thirty (30) calendar days advance notice in writing of such resignation to the Parties specifying a date when such resignation shall take effect or (b) may be removed, with or without cause, by the Parties acting jointly at any time by providing written notice to the Escrow Agent. Any corporation or association into which the Escrow Agent may be merged or converted or with which it may be consolidated, or any corporation or association to which all or substantially all of the escrow business of the Escrow Agent's line of business may be transferred, shall be the Escrow Agent under this Agreement without further act (provided that the Escrow Agent will provide the Parties with reasonable notice of any such merger, conversion, consolidation or sale.) The Escrow Agent's sole responsibility after such thirty (30) day notice period expires or after receipt of written notice of removal shall be to hold and safeguard the Escrow Funds (without any obligation to reinvest the same) and to deliver the same (i) to a substitute or successor escrow agent pursuant to a joint written designation from the Parties, (ii) as set forth in a Joint Release Instruction or (iii) in accordance with the directions of a Final Determination, and, at the time of such delivery, the Escrow Agent's obligations hereunder shall cease and terminate. In the event the Escrow Agent resigns, if the Parties have failed to appoint a successor escrow agent prior to the expiration of thirty (30) calendar days following receipt of the notice of resignation, the Escrow Agent may petition any court of competent jurisdiction for the appointment of such a successor escrow agent or for other appropriate relief, and any such resulting appointment shall be binding upon all of the parties hereto.

7. Fees and Expenses. All fees and expenses of the Escrow Agent are described in Schedule 1 attached hereto and shall be paid by the Funds. The fees agreed upon for the services to be rendered hereunder are intended as full compensation for the Escrow Agent services as contemplated by this Agreement.

8. Indemnity. UBS, on the one hand, and the Funds, on the other hand, hereby agree to, severally and not jointly, indemnify, defend, and hold harmless the Escrow Agent and its affiliates and their respective successors, assigns, directors, officers, agents and employees (the "Indemnitees") from and against any and all losses, damages, claims, liabilities, penalties, judgments, settlements, actions, suits, proceedings, litigation, investigations, costs or expenses (including the reasonable fees and expenses of one outside counsel and experts and their staffs and all expense of document location, duplication and shipment) (collectively "Escrow Agent Losses") arising out of or in connection with (a) the Escrow Agent's execution and performance of this Agreement, tax reporting or withholding, the enforcement of any rights or remedies under or in connection with this Agreement, or as may arise by reason of any act, omission or error of the Indemnatee, except to the extent that such Escrow Agent Losses, as adjudicated by a court of competent jurisdiction, have been caused by the fraud, gross negligence or willful misconduct of such Indemnatee, or (b) its following any instructions or other directions from UBS or the Funds. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, the Parties agree, solely as between the Parties, that any obligation for indemnification under this Section 8 (or for reasonable fees and expenses of the Escrow Agent described in Section 7) shall be borne by the Party or Parties determined by a court of competent jurisdiction to be responsible for causing the loss, damage, liability, cost or expense against which the Escrow Agent is entitled to indemnification or, if no such determination is made, then one-half by UBS and one-half by the Funds. The Parties acknowledge that the foregoing indemnities shall survive the resignation or removal of the Escrow Agent or the termination of this Agreement.

9. Tax Matters.

(a) MSCF shall be responsible for and the taxpayer on all taxes due on the interest or income earned, if any, on the Escrow Funds for the calendar year in which such interest or income is earned. The Escrow Agent shall report any interest or income earned on the Escrow Funds to the IRS or other taxing authority on IRS Form 1099. Prior to the date hereof, the Parties shall provide the Escrow Agent with certified tax identification numbers by furnishing appropriate forms W-9 or W-8 as applicable and such other forms and documents that the Escrow Agent may request.

(b) The Escrow Agent shall be responsible only for income reporting to the Internal Revenue Service with respect to income earned on the Escrow Funds. The Escrow Agent shall withhold any taxes required to be withheld by applicable law, including but not limited to required withholding in the absence of proper tax documentation, and shall remit such taxes to the appropriate authorities.

(c) The Escrow Agent, its affiliates, and its employees are not in the business of providing tax or legal advice to any taxpayer outside of Citigroup, Inc. and its affiliates. This Agreement and any amendments or attachments hereto are not intended or written to be used, and may not be used or relied upon, by any such taxpayer or for the purpose of avoiding tax penalties. Any such taxpayer should seek advice based on the taxpayer's particular circumstances from an independent tax advisor.

10. Covenant of Escrow Agent. The Escrow Agent hereby agrees and covenants with the Parties that it shall perform all of its obligations under this Agreement and shall not deliver custody or possession of any of the Escrow Funds to anyone except pursuant to the express terms of this Agreement or as otherwise required by law.

11. Notices. All notices, requests, demands and other communications required under this Agreement shall be in writing, in English, and shall be deemed to have been duly given if delivered (i) personally, (ii) by facsimile transmission with written confirmation of receipt, (iii) on the day of transmission if sent by electronic mail ("e-mail") with a PDF attachment executed by an authorized signer of the Party/ Parties to the e-mail address given below, and written confirmation of receipt is obtained promptly after completion of the transmission, (iv) by overnight delivery with a reputable national overnight delivery service, or (v) by mail or by certified mail, return receipt requested, and postage prepaid. If any notice is mailed, it shall be deemed given five Business Days after the date such notice is deposited with the United States Postal Service. If notice is given to a Party, it shall be given at the address for such Party set forth below. It shall be the responsibility of the Parties to notify the Escrow Agent and the other Party in writing of any name or address changes.

Notwithstanding the above, in the case of communications delivered to the Escrow Agent pursuant to the foregoing clause (i) through (iv) of this Section 11, such communications shall be deemed to have been given on the date received by the Escrow Agent. In the event that the Escrow Agent, in its sole discretion, shall determine that an emergency exists, the Escrow Agent may use such other means of communication as the Escrow Agent deems appropriate.

12. Termination. This Agreement shall terminate on the first to occur of (a) the distribution of all of the amounts in the Escrow Funds in accordance with this Agreement or (b) delivery to the Escrow Agent of a written notice of termination executed jointly by the Parties after which this Agreement shall be of no further force and effect except that the provisions of Section 8 hereof shall survive termination.

13. Miscellaneous. The provisions of this Agreement may be waived, altered, amended or supplemented, in whole or in part, only by a writing signed by all of the parties hereto. Neither this Agreement nor any right or interest hereunder may be assigned in whole or in part by any party without the prior consent of the other parties. This Agreement shall be governed by and construed under the laws of the State of New York. Each party irrevocably waives any objection on the grounds of venue, forum non-conveniens or any similar grounds and irrevocably consents to service of process by mail or in any other manner permitted by applicable law and submits to the exclusive jurisdiction of the federal and state courts in the Borough of Manhattan in the City of New York. The parties hereby waive any right to a trial by jury with respect to any lawsuit or judicial proceeding arising from or relating to this Agreement. This Agreement may be executed in multiple counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. All signatures of the parties to this Agreement may be transmitted by facsimile or electronic transmission in portable document format (.pdf), and such facsimile or .pdf will, for all purposes, be deemed to be the original signature of such party whose signature it reproduces, and will be binding upon such party. If any provision of this Agreement is determined to be prohibited or unenforceable by reason of any applicable law of a jurisdiction, then such provision shall, as to such jurisdiction, be ineffective to the extent of such prohibition or unenforceability without invalidating the remaining provisions thereof, and any such prohibition or unenforceability in such jurisdiction shall not invalidate or render unenforceable such provisions in any other jurisdiction. The Parties represent, warrant and covenant that each document, notice, instruction or request provided by such Party to the Escrow Agent shall comply with applicable laws and regulations. Where, however, the conflicting provisions of any such applicable law may be waived, they are hereby irrevocably waived by the parties hereto to the fullest extent permitted by law, to the end that this Agreement shall be enforced as written. Except as expressly provided in Sections 7 and 8, nothing in this Agreement, whether express or implied, shall be construed to give to any person or entity other than the Escrow Agent and the Parties any legal or equitable right, remedy, interest or claim under or in respect of this Agreement or any funds escrowed hereunder.

14. Compliance with Court Orders. In the event that any escrow property shall be attached, garnished or levied upon by any court order, or the delivery thereof shall be stayed or enjoined by an order of a court, or any order, judgment or decree shall be made or entered by any court order affecting the property deposited under this Agreement, the Escrow Agent is hereby expressly authorized, in its sole discretion, to obey and comply with all writs, orders or decrees so entered or issued, which it is advised by legal counsel of its own choosing is binding upon it, whether with or without jurisdiction, and in the event that the Escrow Agent obeys or complies with any such writ, order or decree it shall not be liable to any of the Parties or to any other Person, by reason of such compliance notwithstanding such writ, order or decree be subsequently reversed, modified, annulled, set aside or vacated.

15. Further Assurances. Following the date hereof, each party shall deliver to the other parties such further information and documents and shall execute and deliver to the other parties such further instruments and agreements as any other party shall reasonably request to consummate or confirm the transactions provided for herein, to accomplish the purpose hereof or to assure to any other party the benefits hereof.

16. Assignment. No assignment of the interest of any of the Parties shall be binding upon the Escrow Agent unless and until written notice of such assignment shall be filed with and consented to by the Escrow Agent (such consent not to be unreasonably withheld). Any transfer or assignment of the rights, interests or obligations hereunder in violation of the terms hereof shall be void and of no force or effect.

17. Force Majeure. The Escrow Agent shall not incur any liability for not performing any act or fulfilling any obligation hereunder by reason of any occurrence beyond its control (including, but not limited to, any provision of any present or future law or regulation or any act of any governmental authority, any act of God or war or terrorism, or the unavailability of the Federal Reserve Bank wire services or any electronic communication facility), it being understood that the Escrow Agent shall use commercially reasonable efforts which are consistent with accepted practices in the banking industry to resume performance as soon as reasonably practicable under the circumstances.

18. Compliance with Federal Law. To help the U.S. Government fight the funding of terrorism and money laundering activities and to comply with Federal law requiring financial institutions to obtain, verify and record information on the source of funds deposited to an account, the Parties agree to provide the Escrow Agent with the name, address, taxpayer identification number, and remitting bank for all Parties depositing funds at Citibank pursuant to the terms and conditions of this Agreement. For a non-individual person such as a business entity, a charity, a trust or other legal entity, the Escrow Agent will ask for documentation to verify its formation and existence as a legal entity. The Escrow Agent may also ask to see financial statements, licenses, an identification and authorization documents from individuals claiming authority to represent the entity or other relevant documentation.

19. Use of Citibank Name. No publicly distributed printed or other material in any language, including prospectuses, notices, reports, and promotional material which mentions "Citibank" by name or the rights, powers, or duties of the Escrow Agent under this Agreement shall be issued by any other parties hereto, or on such party's behalf, without the prior written consent of the Escrow Agent.

* * * * *

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have executed this Agreement as of the date set forth above.

Schedule 1

ESCROW AGENT FEE SCHEDULE Citibank, N.A., Escrow Agent

Acceptance Fee

To cover the acceptance of the Escrow Agency appointment, the study of the Agreement, and supporting documents submitted in connection with the execution and delivery thereof, and communication with other members of the working group:

Fee: WAIVED

Administration Fee

The annual administration fee covers maintenance of the Escrow Account including safekeeping of assets in the escrow account, normal administrative functions of the Escrow Agent, including maintenance of the Escrow Agent's records, follow-up of the Agreement's provisions, and any other safekeeping duties required by the Escrow Agent under the terms of the Agreement. Fee is based on Escrow Amount being deposited in a non-interest bearing deposit account, FDIC insured to the applicable limits.

Fee: WAIVED

Tax Preparation Fee

To cover preparation and mailing of Forms 1099-INT, if applicable for the escrow parties for each calendar year:

Fee: WAIVED

Transaction Fees

To oversee all required disbursements or release of property from the escrow account to any escrow party, including cash disbursements made via check and/or wire transfer, fees associated with postage and overnight delivery charges incurred by the Escrow Agent as required under the terms and conditions of the Agreement:

Fee: WAIVED

Other Fees

Material amendments to the Agreement: additional fee(s), if any, to be discussed at time of amendment.

---

TERMS AND CONDITIONS: The above schedule of fees does not include charges for out-of-pocket expenses or for any services of an extraordinary nature that Citibank or its legal counsel may be called upon from time to time to perform. Fees are also subject to satisfactory review of the documentation, and Citibank reserves the right to modify them should the characteristics of the transaction change. Citibank's participation in this program is subject to internal approval of the third party depositing monies into the escrow account to be established hereunder. The Acceptance Fee, if any, is payable upon execution of the Agreement. Should this schedule of fees be accepted and agreed upon and work commenced on this program but subsequently halted and the program is not brought to market, the Acceptance Fee and legal fees incurred, if any, will still be payable in full.

UBS'S REPLY IN SUPPORT OF DEBTOR'S MOTION FOR ENTRY OF AN ORDER APPROVING SETTLEMENT WITH UBS SECURITIES LLC AND UBS AG

---

UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG London Branch (together “UBS”), by and through their undersigned counsel, hereby submit this reply (this “Reply”) (a) in response to (i) the Limited Preliminary Objection to the Debtor’s Motion For Entry of an Order Approving Settlement with UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG London Branch and Authorizing Actions Consistent Therewith [Docket No. 2268] (the “Initial Dugaboy Objection”)<sup>2</sup>; (ii) the Supplemental Opposition to Debtor’s Motion For Entry of an Order Approving Settlement With UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG London Branch and Authorizing Actions Consistent Therewith [Docket No. 2293] (the “Supplemental Dugaboy Objection” and together with the Initial Dugaboy Objection, collectively, the “Dugaboy Objections”); and (iii) James Dondero’s Objection to Debtor’s Motion For Entry of an Order Approving Settlement With UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG London Branch and Authorizing Actions Consistent Therewith [Docket No. 2295] (the “Dondero Objection” and together with the Dugaboy Objections, collectively, the “Objections”) and (b) in support of the Debtor’s Motion For Entry of an Order Approving Settlement with UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG London Branch and Authorizing Actions Consistent Therewith [Docket No. 2199] (the “9019 Motion”), and, in support of this Reply, state as follows:

REPLY

1. In an effort to streamline the briefing with respect to the 9019 Motion, UBS joins the Debtor’s response to the Objections filed substantially contemporaneously herewith. In addition, UBS states the following in support of the 9019 Motion.

I. UBS’s Claims Entitle It To Significant Damages

2. As set forth in detail in the 9019 Motion, UBS’s claims derive from a state court action initiated in 2009 against the Debtor and several of its affiliates (amongst other parties)

<sup>2</sup> Capitalized terms used but not defined herein have the meanings ascribed to such terms in the 9019 Motion.

(the “State Court Action”). The underlying facts and procedural history of the State Court Action are complex and set forth in detail in UBS’s Motion for Relief From the Automatic Stay to Proceed with State Court Action [Docket No. 644]. On November 14, 2019, the Supreme Court of the State of New York (the “State Court”) entered a Decision and Order on the first phase of the State Court Action (“Phase I”), ruling in favor of UBS on almost every issue presented in Phase I and awarding UBS over $1 billion in damages (including interest) against certain of the Debtor’s affiliated funds, Highland CDO Opportunity Master Fund, L.P. (“CDO Fund”) and Highland Special Opportunities Holding Company (“SOHC” and together with CDO Fund, collectively, the “Funds”). The second phase of the State Court Action, which includes UBS’s direct claims against the Debtor and certain of its affiliates, including Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, L.P. (n/k/a Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, L.P.) (“Multi-Strat”) (a non-debtor fund managed by the Debtor), is currently stayed as to the Debtor by the automatic stay imposed by section 362 of the Bankruptcy Code.

3. On June 26, 2020, UBS timely filed two substantively identical claims in the Bankruptcy Case: (i) Claim No. 190 filed by UBS Securities LLC; and (ii) Claim No. 191 filed by UBS AG London Branch (hereinafter collectively referred to as the “UBS Claim”). The UBS Claim asserts a general unsecured claim against the Debtor for $1,039,957,799.40, on account of, among other things, damages, prejudgment interest, and attorneys’ fees arising from UBS’s fraudulent transfer and breach of the duty of good faith and fair dealing claims asserted in the State Court Action. In essence, the UBS Claim arises from the Debtor’s multi-faceted strategy to intentionally frustrate and prevent UBS from recovering amounts owed to UBS resulting from breaches of the Cash Warehouse Agreement among UBS, the Debtor and the Funds and the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement among UBS, the Debtor and the Funds (together, the “Warehouse Agreements”). As set forth in the UBS Claim, the Debtor directed the Funds to withhold payment to UBS and undertook a litany of other actions to ensure that, even if UBS was successful in the State Court Action against the Funds (as it ultimately was), it would not be able to collect any judgment arising out of the litigation. These actions included a series of fraudulent transfers overseen by Mr. Dondero transferring assets out of the Funds and Highland Financial Partners, L.P. (“HFP”), SOHC’s parent. All such actions and omissions by the Debtor were performed with either the specific intent to prevent or frustrate UBS’s ability to recover the amounts owed to it under the Warehouse Agreements or a wanton and reckless disregard of UBS’s rights to those amounts. It has always been UBS’s contention that such actions and omissions constitute breaches of the Debtor’s implied duty of good faith and fair dealing under the Warehouse Agreements.

4. On August 7, 2020, the Debtor filed an objection to the UBS Claim [Docket No. 928] (the “UBS Claim Objection”) and, on September 25, 2020, UBS filed its response [Docket No. 1105]. Then, on October 16, 2020, the Debtor and the Redeemer Committee of the Highland Crusader Fund and the Crusader Fund filed partial summary judgment motions [Docket Nos. 1180 and 1183] (together, the “MSJs”) seeking to disallow a significant portion of the UBS Claim. On November 6, 2020, UBS filed (i) UBS’s Brief in Opposition to Motions for Partial Summary Judgment on Proof of Claim Nos. 190 and 191 and in Support of Rule 56(d) Request [Docket No. 1355] (the “MSJ Response”) and (ii) UBS’s Motion for Temporary Allowance of Claims for Voting Purposes Pursuant to Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 3018 [Docket No. 1342] (the “3018 Motion”) and a brief in support of the 3018 Motion [Docket No. 1354] (the “3018 Brief”). After a hearing held on November 20, 2020, the Court granted the MSJs and allowed the UBS Claim for voting purposes only in the amount of $94,761,076. Order Granting UBS's Motion for Temporary Allowance of Claims for Voting Purposes Pursuant to Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 3018 [Docket No. 1518] (the “3018 Order”), ¶ 2. Of that amount, approximately $43 million (inclusive of pre-judgment interest) related to transfers made to Multi-Strat, based on the Court estimating a 90% chance that UBS would prevail on that portion of the UBS Claim. 9019 Motion, ¶ 3.

5. The 3018 Order reflects the Court’s determination that the evidence presented by UBS established that UBS had a “colorable claim capable of temporary evaluation.” In re Frascella Enterprises, 360 B.R. 435, 458 n. 498 (Bankr. E.D. Pa. 2007). In entering the 3018 Order, the Court was also “bound by the legal rules which govern the ultimate value of the claim.” In re Brints Cotton Mktg., Inc., 737 F.2d 1338, 1341 (5th Cir. 1984) (citation omitted). And, as detailed in the 9019 Motion, the record from the November 20 hearing reflects the fact that the Court gave consideration to each of UBS’s causes of action and theories of liability against the Debtor as set forth in the UBS Claim. 11/20/20 Hrg. Tr. at 213:25-214:1; 9019 Motion, ¶ 33.

6. However, the 3018 Order was entered by the Court prior to the discovery by the independent board of the Debtor’s general partner (the “Independent Board”) of the 2017 transfer of more than $300 million in face amount of securities and cash (the “Sentinel Transfers”) mainly from the Funds (and HFP) to Sentinel Reinsurance, Ltd. (“Sentinel”), an entity indirectly owned and controlled by Mr. Dondero and Scott Ellington. 9019 Motion, ¶ 6.

II. The Sentinel Transfers Justify Additional Consideration to UBS

7. As detailed in the 9019 Motion, under the terms of the Settlement Agreement, UBS will receive an allowed $65 million claim in Class 8 (General Unsecured Claims) and an allowed $60 million claim in Class 9 (Subordinated General Unsecured Claims).<sup>3</sup> UBS will also receive a direct payment of $18.5 million from Multi-Strat. The terms of the Settlement Agreement were renegotiated between the parties' initial announcement of the settlement on February 2, 2021 and the filing of the 9019 Motion on April 15, 2021, to account for the Independent Board's discovery of additional evidence of the Debtor's conspiratorial and fraudulent activities.

8. Neither of the objecting parties appears to object to the settled claims against the Debtor that were initially announced, which consisted of a $50 million allowed Class 8 claim and a $25 million allowed Class 9 claim. Rather Dugaboy focuses exclusively on the $18.5 million payment to be made by Multi-Strat to UBS and Mr. Dondero, in addition to the Multi-Strat payment, focuses on the $15 million increase in UBS's Class 8 claim and the $35 million increase in UBS's Class 9 claim demanded by UBS as the result of newly discovered, clear and convincing evidence of the Debtor's pattern of fraudulent acts and breaches, including the orchestration of the Sentinel Transfers. Mr. Dondero argues that these incremental increases improperly inflate UBS's recovery from the estate, and that the 9019 Motion does not demonstrate the "nexus" between the Sentinel Transfers and UBS's claims against the Debtor. Dondero Objection, ¶ 29. This argument is a bold one given Mr. Dondero's apparent involvement in authorizing and orchestrating these transfers in 2017. 9019 Motion, ¶¶ 10-11.

9. In any event, the argument reflects a material misunderstanding of the UBS Claims as the Sentinel Transfers fall squarely within the scope of UBS's claims against the estate.<sup>4</sup> In the

<sup>3</sup> The Debtor currently projects that Class 8 will not be paid in full and Class 9 claims will not receive any recovery. Mr. Dondero also concedes that the Class 9 claims "may not receive a large recovery." Dondero Objection, ¶ 34.

<sup>4</sup> Additionally, the UBS Claims included a broad reservation of rights "to assert any additional claims, defenses, remedies, and causes of action, including without limitation, claims for fraudulent inducement, breach of contract, tortious interference with contractual relations, fraudulent conveyances, or alter ego recovery." See UBS Claims, Addenda ¶ 28.

UBS Claim, UBS asserts that the Debtor took steps after the filing of the State Court Action to ensure that UBS could never recover on its claims against the Funds, took actions to prevent transfers of valuable assets to the Funds and to leave the Funds undercapitalized and took affirmative actions to transfer any remaining assets out of the Funds. UBS Claim Addenda, ¶¶ 15-16. This describes the Sentinel Transfers to a tee. After summary judgment was denied, and with trial looming in the State Court Action, the Debtor, at Mr. Dondero's apparent direction, denuded the Funds—defendants in the State Court Action—of their remaining assets. 9019 Motion, ¶ 10. These transfers evidence a pattern and practice of fraud and fraudulent transfers and the Debtor's continuous efforts to hide assets from UBS during Mr. Dondero's reign. And, they provide further evidence to support UBS's alter-ego claims against HFP.

10. Liability of the Debtor for conduct just like this—a deep-seated pattern of fraud—was clearly contemplated by the UBS Claim and included in the 3018 Brief and MSJ Response. In those briefs, UBS noted that the March 2009 transfers that precipitated the State Court Action are not a sufficient damage metric to take into account the full range of damages flowing from the Debtor's actions. 3018 Brief, ¶ 37, MSJ Response ¶ 49. At that time, UBS had not received sufficient discovery from the Debtor to quantify its damages related to transfers of assets from the Funds over time. Id. The Court considered these issues in its ruling on the 3018 Motion, estimating UBS's "other claims" at $10 million plus $10 million in pre-judgment interest. 11/20/20 Hrg. Tr. at 216:15-16. UBS respectfully submits that had the Court been apprised of the Sentinel Transfers prior to the November 20 hearing, that amount would have been significantly higher.<sup>5</sup> Discovery with respect to the Sentinel Transfers is ongoing, but the Debtor has represented that it believes that more than $300 million in face amount of securities and cash were secretly transferred from the Funds in and after 2017. 9019 Motion, ¶ 6. In addition, it is UBS's expectation, based on the prior actions of Mr. Dondero and the entities he controls and his pattern and practice of trying to keep assets beyond the reach of UBS, that the assets that comprised the Sentinel Transfers resided at the Funds at the time the Funds breached their obligations to UBS and the State Court Action was initiated. 9019 Motion, ¶¶ 10-11, and n. 7 and 8.<sup>6</sup> Settling the Debtor's liability to UBS as to the entirety of the allegations made in the State Court Action against the Debtor is in the best interests of the estate because additional discovery may uncover still further fraudulent activities (among other reasons). Litigating this dispute would also be costly and time consuming for the Debtor, which would affect the ultimate recovery of other creditors of the Debtor's estate.

<sup>5</sup> The Debtor previously represented to the Court that the Funds had few remaining assets or were insolvent, as the Debtor's prepetition management had repeatedly told the Independent Board that the Funds were "ghost funds" that had no material assets. Debtor's Objection to UBS's Motion for Relief From the Automatic Stay to Proceed With State Court Action [Docket No. 687] ¶ 1; UBS Claim Objection ¶ 2; 9019 Motion, ¶ 5.

11. Finally, the assertion in the Dondero Objection that the Debtor's agreement to assist UBS with respect to the Transferred Assets and UBS's efforts to collect its judgment against the Funds should somehow decrease the value of UBS's claims against the estate is absurd on its face. Dondero Objection, ¶ 28. The Debtor's assistance with respect to the Transferred Assets is necessary to avoid a perpetuation of the Dondero-controlled Debtor's prior fraudulent acts and because the Debtor is likely the only entity that still maintains any records with respect to the Funds and the Transferred Assets, as difficult as those records may be to locate. And, it is reflective of the Debtor's continuing obligations under the parties' original agreement in which the Debtor committed to UBS's right to fully recover for all of its losses against the Funds. Moreover, <sup>6</sup> However, the Debtor's own shoddy recordkeeping and history of destroying documents (and active concealment of relevant information) while under Mr. Dondero's control has made it difficult for the Debtor to locate relevant documents to confirm this expectation. At a minimum, if such records no longer exist due to Mr. Dondero's or any other former Debtor employee's spoliation of them, UBS would be entitled to an adverse inference that the Funds held the Transferred Assets (and potentially additional assets) in March 2009.

UBS - not the estate - is indisputably entitled to any recovery from the Funds to satisfy its judgment.

12. Additionally, although Debtor's counsel announced at the hearing to confirm the Debtor's chapter 11 plan that the Debtor and UBS had reached an agreement in principle for a claims settlement, that settlement always remained subject to documentation, and the Court's approval (as does the Settlement Agreement). The discovery of the Sentinel Transfers provided UBS with a rational basis to reconsider its agreement in principle and to consider whether reverting to litigation against the Debtor (with the possibility of uncovering still further fraudulent acts that would increase UBS's likelihood of success and the magnitude of its damages) was a better path forward. For the reasons set forth above, UBS submits that the Sentinel Transfers evidence additional damages suffered by UBS at the Debtor's hand, which, absent the Settlement Agreement, likely would have resulted in additional protracted litigation between UBS and the Debtor and increased claims against the estate. 9019 Motion, ¶ 45. The existence of the Sentinel Transfers also bolsters UBS's ability to prove its long-standing claims regarding a pattern of breaches of the implied duty of good faith and fair dealing by the Dondero-controlled Debtor. Accordingly, the amounts of UBS's settled claims against the Debtor are appropriate and reasonable.

III. The Settlement of UBS's Claims Against Multi-Strat Is Appropriate

13. UBS joins the Debtor's response to the Objections with respect to the Court's jurisdiction to approve the Settlement Agreement, the Debtor's authority to bind Multi-Strat to the Settlement Agreement, and the Debtor's fiduciary duties with respect to Multi-Strat. From UBS's own review of the applicable organizational and investment management documents, UBS has no reason to doubt that the Debtor had authority to bind Multi-Strat to the Settlement Agreement and that the actions taken by the Debtor in its capacity as Multi-Strat's investment manager, among other capacities comply with applicable law.

14. The assertion in the Dugaboy Objections that UBS's recovery from Multi-Strat is a double recovery that should reduce UBS's claim against the Debtor is meritless, as is the argument that the Settlement somehow transfers Debtor assets to UBS, requiring a modification to the Debtor's chapter 11 plan. UBS has always had an independent fraudulent transfer claim against Multi-Strat in the amount of $25,782,988 (plus prejudgment interest, which more than doubles that amount and continues to accrue), which the Court gave a 90% chance of success. 3018 Brief, ¶ 15, 11/20/20 Hrg. Tr. at 214:14-215:15. If that fraudulent transfer were to be unwound, the transferred amount would be returned to the Funds (against whom UBS also holds independent claims and a judgment), not the Debtor. No assets of the Debtor itself are being transferred from Multi-Strat to UBS; Multi-Strat is simply paying UBS to settle a fraudulent transfer claim that UBS holds against Multi-Strat directly. Mr. Dondero is well aware that UBS's claims against Multi-Strat are independent from its claims against the Debtor. In his own attempts to settle UBS's claims as part of his proposed "pot plan" Mr. Dondero insisted that any settlement of UBS's claims include a settlement of its claims against all Highland-affiliated entities, including Multi-Strat.

15. Finally, the assertion in the Dugaboy Objections that it is unclear whether UBS is releasing all of its claims against Multi-Strat is based on a misreading of the Settlement Agreement. As Section 3(a) of the Settlement Agreement makes clear, UBS is releasing its claims against the "MSCF Parties," i.e. Multi-Strat, its general partner, and its direct and indirect wholly-owned subsidiaries. What UBS is not releasing are claims related to the "MSCF Interests," i.e., the interests in Multi-Strat that were among the Transferred Assets and other interests in Multi-Strat that were later purportedly redeemed by Sentinel. To be clear, UBS has no intention of releasing any causes of action related to those fraudulently transferred interests and continues to evaluate its potential options to recover the Transferred Asset from Sentinel or later transferees.

IV. The Settlement Meets the Standard for Approval Under Bankruptcy Rule 9019.

16. The Settlement Agreement reflects extensive, arms-length, months-long, often contentious negotiations among the parties and their counsel, as well as multiple mediation sessions with Judge Allan L. Gropper (Ret.) and Sylvia A. Mayer (the “Mediators”). It resolves a decade-long dispute between the Debtor, several of its affiliates, and UBS. UBS respectfully submits that by resolving its claim—the largest asserted against the estate—the Settlement Agreement is fair and equitable and clearly meets the standard for approval under Bankruptcy Rule 9019. In re Moore, 608 F.3d 253, 263 (5th Cir. 2010) (under Rule 9019, a “proposed settlement must be ‘fair and equitable’ and in the best interests of the estate”); see also In re Cajun Elec. Power Co-op., Inc., 119 F.3d 349, 356 (5th Cir. 1997) (noting that the court’s task is to compare “the terms of the compromise with the rewards of litigation”).

17. Bankruptcy Rule 9019 does not require that a settlement be the “best possible outcome,” it simply needs to be fair, i.e. reasonable, in the Debtor’s business judgment. See In re Victory Medical Center Mid-Cities, LP., 601 B.R. 739, 749 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. 2019) (“A proposed compromise settlement need not result in the best possible outcome for the debtor, but must not fall beneath the lowest point in the range of reasonableness.”); see also, In re Y-Knot Const., Inc., 369 B.R. 405, 408 (8th Cir. B.A.P. 2007) (“The trustee, however, does not need to establish that the proposed settlement is the best possible outcome, but only that it does not fall below the lowest point in the range of reasonableness.”). The Court should give no weight when evaluating the Settlement Agreement to the fact that the Debtor previously argued that UBS’s claims against the estate were without merit. As a fiduciary of the estate, in the absence of an agreement regarding UBS's claim, it is not at all surprising that the Debtor would contest UBS's claims vigorously. UBS respectfully submits that litigation of its claims would have been a costly, protracted process for all parties involved and that the Settlement Agreement is in the best interests of all. Indeed, it is telling that no creditors other than Mr. Dondero and the Dondero-controlled Dugaboy Investment Trust have objected to the Settlement Agreement.

18. For these reasons and those set forth in the Debtor's response, UBS submits that the Court should overrule the Objections and approve the Settlement Agreement and the relief sought in the 9019 Motion.

Highland Capital Management, L.P., the debtor and debtor-in-possession (“Debtor”) in the above-captioned chapter 11 case (“Bankruptcy Case”), hereby submits this objection to Proof of Claim No. 190 and Proof of Claim No. 191 (substantively identical claims that are referenced collectively as the “UBS Claim”) filed by UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG, London Branch (collectively “UBS”) on June 26, 2020, and in support thereof, respectfully states as follows:<sup>2</sup>

INTRODUCTION

1. When global financial markets collapsed in late 2008, UBS and other participants in the securities trading industry suffered enormous losses. Among the losers were offshore funds related to the Debtor that were counterparties to warehousing agreements with UBS (the “Fund Counterparties”), which were unable to honor contractual margin calls. After eleven years of litigation in the New York state courts, UBS has obtained a determination that this was a breach of contract by the Fund Counterparties. UBS now holds a judgment against the

<sup>2</sup> Exhibits 1-12 to this objection are attached to Appendix A of Exhibits in Support of Debtor’s Objection to Proofs of Claim of UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG, London Branch, filed concurrently herewith, and all citations herein to “A__” refer to Appendix A. Exhibits 13-17 to this objection are attached to Appendix B of Exhibits in Support of Debtor’s Objection to Proofs of Claim of UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG, London Branch. Concurrently herewith, the Debtor is requesting the Court’s permission to file Appendix B under seal. All citations herein to “B__” refer to Appendix B.

Fund Counterparties that, with the accrual of interest at 9% over a decade, exceeds $1 billion (the “Phase I Judgment”).

2. UBS’s problem, of course, is that the Fund Counterparties do not have sufficient assets to satisfy UBS’s judgment. In the Debtor’s Objection UBS’s Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay to Proceed with State Court Action [Docket No. 687], the Debtor said that the Fund Counterparties were insolvent. However, the Fund Counterparties are insolvent only because of UBS’s judgment, and the Debtor believes each Fund Counterparty has assets. The Debtor is continuing to assess those assets and their value.

3. However, in addition to the lack of assets at the Fund Counterparties, and potentially more important, the operative agreements expressly exclude the Debtor from any liability for losses related to the transaction. The governing agreements contain no agreement by the Debtor to pay, guarantee or otherwise backstop the Fund Counterparties’ obligations. That was a conscious decision by UBS: when the warehousing agreements were restructured earlier in 2008, UBS did not bargain for any assurance of performance by the Debtor, and thus the agreements do not obligate the Debtor to do so. UBS, one of the largest and most sophisticated banks in the world at the time, bet that between the Fund Counterparties and the warehouse collateral there would be enough cushion to absorb any risk. UBS knowingly took the risk that if the Fund Counterparties defaulted, it would have no recourse against the Debtor. Instead of accepting the consequences of its bad business deal, UBS has used the litigation process to recut the deal to place liability on the Debtor. The New York State Appellate Division, First Department so held in the prepetition state court litigation in 2010, dismissing UBS’s claim in its February 24, 2009 complaint for contractual indemnification against the Debtor. That New York State appellate court ruled that the Debtor had undertaken no obligation to ensure that the Fund Counterparties would be able to perform, and that contractual limitation was always clear to UBS.

4. That decision has not stopped UBS from attempting to pin liability on the Debtor for the past decade. After the dismissal of its claim against the Debtor for breach of contract, UBS commenced a second action in New York state court, asserting a claim that the Debtor had breached an implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing by not ensuring that the Fund Counterparties could perform. UBS also added fraudulent transfer claims against the Debtor and others arising from an alleged $233 million in transfers made by a parent of one of the Fund Counterparties, Highland Financial Partners, L.P. (“HFP”), and its subsidiaries HFP Asset II and HFP Asset III (together, “HFP Asset II/III”) in March 2009 (the “March 2009 Transaction”). UBS was not a creditor of HFP, so, in order to manufacture standing to challenge the transfers, UBS alleged HFP was an alter ego of a Fund Counterparty. UBS did not, and still has not, pled an alter ego claim against the Debtor, nor has it prevailed on its claim that HFP is the alter ego of one of the Fund Counterparties.

5. Three decisions by the Appellate Division bar any claim to hold the Debtor responsible for any portion of the Phase I Judgment:

- The first of these decisions, as noted, was the dismissal of UBS’s original complaint against the Debtor (filed on February 24, 2009) and a judgment on the merits in favor of the Debtor on UBS’ breach of contract claim. The Appellate Division based its determination on the fact that the Debtor did not promise to undertake liability as to UBS’s losses, or to ensure the Funds’ performance under their contracts with UBS. See UBS v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., 2010 NY Slip Op 1436, ¶ 1 (N.Y. App. Div.) [Exhibit 1 at A002].
- The second decision, issued after UBS tried to re-assert the same claim against the Debtor by labeling it as different legal theories (as UBS is now doing), held that UBS is barred by res judicata from asserting claims against the Debtor that “implicate events alleged to have taken place before the filing of the original complaint” on February 24, 2009. See UBS v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., 86 A.D.3d 469, 474 (N.Y. App. Div. 2011) [Exhibit 2 at A010].
- In its third decision, the Appellate Division extended its res judicata ruling to the Debtor’s co-defendants in the state court litigation, holding that UBS’s claims against other defendants – including the claim that HFP is the alter ego of one of the Fund Counterparties – are likewise limited to conduct that occurred after February 24, 2009. See UBS v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., 93 A.D.3d 489, 490 (N.Y. App. Div. 2012) [Exhibit 3 at A014].

6. The only post-February 24, 2009 conduct at issue in the UBS Claim and attachments is the March 2009 Transaction, which entailed transfers by HFP and HFP Asset II/III of assets valued at $239 million (later reduced to $233 million).<sup>3</sup> The breach of contract on which the Phase I Judgment is based occurred earlier: the warehousing agreements were terminated on December 3, 2008 and were found to have been breached on December 5, 2008. Accordingly, the Appellate Division’s two res judicata decisions preclude UBS from attempting to hold the Debtor liable for UBS’s breach of contract judgment against the Fund Counterparties, which is based solely on pre-February 24, 2009 conduct, directly or indirectly.

7. The UBS Claim incorporates its operative state court complaint. The claims for relief against the Debtor are the breach of implied covenant claim and the fraudulent transfer claim. UBS describes the UBS Claim as follows:

Claimant hereby asserts a claim, pending litigation of Phase II, for damages arising from the Debtor’s breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, its specific role in directing the fraudulent transfers of assets involving HFP, additional interest, further damages (including punitive damages), and attorneys’ fees that may be awarded by any court at the conclusion of Phase II.

UBS Claim, ¶ 26. UBS has also suggested, though it is not pled in the state court complaint or in the UBS Claim, that it is at this late date expanding its assertion of alter ego liability beyond HFP and the Fund Counterparties to also subsume the Debtor, in what would apparently be yet another attempt to render the Debtor liable for the entire Phase I Judgment notwithstanding the Appellate Division rulings. See Demonstrative at Slide 2 (showing currently pending claims).<sup>4</sup>

8. The Debtor has numerous meritorious defenses to UBS's fraudulent transfer claims in connection with the March 2009 Transaction. Several raise factual issues, but two do not. First, UBS has unequivocally released the Debtor with respect to all claims arising from $172 million of the alleged $233 million in fraudulent transfers (the "UBS Release").

9. The UBS Release was granted to the Debtor pursuant to settlement agreements UBS entered into in 2015 with co-defendants that received more than 80% of the allegedly fraudulent transfers made in the March 2009 Transaction. UBS expressly released the Debtor from any claims "for losses or other relief specifically arising from" the approximately $172 million in transfers.<sup>5</sup>

10. Second, UBS lacks standing as a non-creditor to challenge transfers made by HFP Asset II/III, entities against which UBS has asserted no claim. As UBS has long known, HFP Asset II/III were the transferors of approximately $187.5 million of the assets transferred in March 2009. Most of the transfers by those entities ($152.3 million) are covered by the UBS Release, leaving $35.2 million of transfers that, based on UBS's lack of standing, it cannot assert. This brings the total of fraudulent transfer claims that cannot be brought against the Debtor to $207.2 million out of $233 million.

11. UBS appears to concede that the Appellate Division rulings limit its claim for breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing to the March 2009 Transaction. Thus, the implied covenant claim amounts to no more than a restatement of the fraudulent transfer claim, i.e., the Debtor breached the implied covenant by engaging in fraudulent transfers.<sup>6</sup> To the extent there is no liability for the transfers, the implied covenant claim

<sup>5</sup> See Exhibit 13 at Section 5.3, pg. 6 [B007]; Exhibit 14 at Section 5.3, pg. 5 [B037]. In its motion for injunctive relief against the settling defendants, UBS (i) reduced the total amount it claimed was transferred in the March 2009 transaction, and (ii) identified the transfers to the settling defendants as totaling more than 80% of the total amount of the March 2009 transaction. See NY D.I. 315 at pg. 6 [Exhibit 15 at B061].

<sup>6</sup> See, e.g., 05/01/18 State Court Hrg. Tr. at 10:13-16 [Exhibit 5 at A063] (in discussing whether the implied covenant claim is based solely on the March 2009 transaction, UBS's counsel stated "basically, obviously fails as well. Regardless, on the merits, no promise can be implied into the warehousing agreements that the Debtor would ensure that the Fund Counterparties would have the ability to pay UBS, when those contracts were restructured to eliminate any direct claim against the Debtor.

12. Even if there was liability (which there is none), UBS cannot use the implied covenant claim to render the Debtor liable for the alleged fraudulent transfers for which it released the Debtor from liability. The settlement agreements clearly preclude circumvention by relabeling claims.

13. Finally, UBS cannot use the doctrine of alter ego liability to render the Debtor liable for the Phase I Judgment. Res judicata bars any alter ego claims against the Debtor based on conduct predating February 24, 2009. Thus any claims UBS tries to create based upon the conduct occurring prior to the filing of its complaint (i.e., the period of the parties' dealings) are barred.

14. UBS likely hopes to escape this clear claims barrier by casting alter ego liability as a post-judgment remedy under New York procedure rather than as a claim, but that maneuver fails. New York law applies res judicata to bar the assertion of alter ego liability against a person that was a party to terminated litigation, and the Appellate Division applied it in this case to limit UBS's claims against HFP, including an alter ego claim, on the basis that HFP was in privity with the Debtor. Accordingly, any assertion of alter ego liability is limited to the March 2009 Transaction, as to which UBS has not pled an alter ego claim against the Debtor.

15. UBS's factual allegations do not in any event support any determination of alter ego liability. A federal district court judge rejected similar arguments in nearly identical circumstances as a basis for alter ego liability in an action against the Debtor commenced by Citibank in the Southern District of New York. Highland CDO Opportunity Master Fund, L.P. v.

you know, the implied covenant of good-faith and fair-dealing claim that we now have is that they shouldn't have committed fraudulent conveyances ...").

Citibank, N.A., 270 F. Supp. 3d 716 (S.D.N.Y. 2017) (“Citibank”). The Debtor believes the Court will find the district judge’s reasoning persuasive and the facts analogous, namely, that under New York law, Citibank’s allegations of asset-stripping and diversion of assets that made it impossible to fulfill a margin call were not the kind of “wrong” that supports alter ego liability.

16. This Objection identifies those defenses to the UBS Claim as to which the Debtor contends there is no relevant factual dispute. The Debtor submits the Court can and should decide those defenses at this time without discovery or further proceedings. The Debtor requests that the Court establish a schedule for discovery and further proceedings on defenses identified or determined to be based upon disputed facts. The Debtor reserves all rights to supplement or amend this Objection, as appropriate.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

A. The CLO Warehouse Agreements

17. In April 2007, UBS entered into agreements (collectively, the “CLO Warehouse Agreements”) with the Debtor and the two Fund Counterparties -- Highland Special Opportunities Holding Co. (“SOHC”) and Highland CDO Opportunity Master Fund, L.P. (“CDO Fund”) -- to establish a warehouse facility to finance the acquisition of syndicated leveraged loan vehicle liabilities and credit default swaps. (Ex. A, 4/12/07 Original Synthetic Warehouse Agreement; Ex. B, 4/20/07 Original Engagement Ltr.; Ex. C, 5/22/07 Original Cash Warehouse Agreement.) Those assets, in turn, were to serve as the basis for a securitization pursuant to which notes would be sold to investors. Due to market conditions, the securitized offering did not occur by the contractual deadline, and the CLO Warehouse Agreements terminated in August 2007. See generally UBS Claim, ¶¶2-3.<sup>7</sup>

18. In March 2008, UBS, the Debtor, as servicer and the Fund Counterparties entered into restructured warehouse agreements (collectively, the “Restructured CLO Warehouse

<sup>7</sup> Paragraph references are to the Addendum to Proof of Claim attached to each UBS proof of claim.

Agreements”). (Motion at ¶6, Exs. C, D, E.) In addition to the collateral posted by the Fund Counterparties as initial margin, the Restructured CLO Warehouse Agreements gave UBS the right to make margin calls for additional collateral on the Fund Counterparties in the event of a decline in the market value of the loans and swaps. UBS Claim, ¶¶4-5. If the margin calls were not met, the agreements permitted UBS to protect its exposure by swiftly foreclosing on the assets. Neither the Restructured CLO Warehouse Agreements nor any other agreements allowed UBS to obtain margin or any similar recovery from the Debtor. To the contrary, the agreements made clear that the Fund Counterparties bore all risk on the facilities. Among other things, the engagement letter between UBS and the Debtor provided that the Fund Counterparties would “in aggregate bear 100% of the risk of the Warehouse Facility” in accordance with the Fund Counterparties’ respective allocation percentages. (Ex. 19, § 3(c); see also Demonstrative Slide 3.)

19. The UBS Claim is laced with extraneous and untrue allegations of supposed misrepresentations made by the Debtor to induce UBS to enter the Restructured CLO Warehouse Agreements, e.g., that it “assured Claimant that the Fund Counterparties had sufficient assets to cover any losses,” or that it misrepresented the amount of cash held by the Fund Counterparties, or failed to disclose encumbrances on collateral. Id., ¶¶4-7. The Court should recognize these as futile efforts to “poison the well.” Based on the margin structure of the facilities and the parties’ sophistication, UBS could never “establish justifiable reliance to support its claims that defendants committed fraud by misrepresenting their creditworthiness or the assets they owned prior to entering the transaction.” UBS Sec. LLC v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., 159 A.D.3d 512, 514 (N.Y. App. Div. 2018) (affirming trial court’s finding of a question of fact on the issue). UBS also cannot square this allegation with its own contemporaneous internal documents. See Ex. 20 (two days before the 2008 Restructured Transaction: “CRC [credit risk committee] view as to the Highland Hedge Funds ability to pay if they were to default today to close to zero.”); Ex. 21 (seven days before the transaction: “The counterparties have illiquid assets, little cash, and no ability to raise cash on their assets in the current market. Thus we assign a very low probability to the two counterparties ability to meet our claim of $166 mil.”); and Ex. 96. (“At Feb 29th CRC advised they were ascribing zero value to the potential claim on the two hedge funds offered as obligors to cover this exposure.”).<sup>8</sup>

20. As noted above, the Restructured CLO Warehouse Agreements explicitly placed the risk of loss on the Fund Counterparties, and not the Debtor, as the New York court has determined. UBS Securities LLC v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., 893 N.Y.S.2d 869 (N.Y. App. Div. 2010) (“the agreements between the parties contain no promise on the part of Highland to undertake liability with respect to the investment losses suffered by plaintiffs, or to ensure or guarantee the performance of [Fund Counterparties]’ obligations to bear the risk of investment losses.”).

21. As the market deteriorated in the fall of 2008, UBS made three margin calls on the Fund Counterparties. SOHC managed to satisfy the first two margin calls in September and October 2008, using funds provided by SOHC’s parent corporation, HFP. UBS Claim, ¶11; UBS Securities LLC, et al v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., et al, No. 650097-2009, at 4 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. Nov. 19, 2019).

22. Ironically, in view of UBS’s mantra that the Debtor schemed “to intentionally frustrate and prevent Claimant from recovering any of the amounts” owed to UBS (UBS Claim, ¶13), UBS concedes that “the Debtor moved assets around for other entities it controlled to make the first two collateral calls[.]” Id., ¶11. The Debtor moved assets into UBS’s counterparties and paid those assets to UBS. And the Debtor did so even after the start of the global financial crisis.

<sup>8</sup> Ultimately UBS’s dealmakers overcame the objections of their internal risk team, asserting they had done business with Highland for years and were “pretty sure that we could get Highland to buy back their counterparty exposure... for more than zero.” See Ex. 23.

23. The Fund Counterparties were unable, however, to satisfy a third margin call in November 2008, and UBS issued a notice of termination of the Restructured CLO Warehouse Agreements in December. Id. UBS alleges that, as of December 5, 2008, its losses were over $520 million. Id., ¶12.

B. The HFP Notes and the March 2009 Transaction

24. The other subject matter of the UBS Claim is transfers made in connection with the March 2009 Transaction that it alleges were fraudulent transfers. It is undisputed that the transfers were made by HFP (or its non-defendant subsidiaries), which was not a party to either the CLO Warehouse Agreements or the Restructured CLO Warehouse Agreements, and so owed no debt or duty to UBS. Nonetheless, UBS claims standing to challenge the transfers because it may in the future be owed money by HFP, provided it prevails on its claim that HFP is an alter ego of the Fund Counterparties. Id., ¶16. UBS alleges in the State Court complaint that on March 17, 2009, the Debtor caused HFP to transfer all of its assets to the Debtor and affiliated co-defendants in the New York action (the “Affiliated Transferee defendants”), in what UBS alleged were fraudulent conveyances of $239 million in assets.

25. The March 2009 Transaction was the settlement of certain notes issued by HFP in the fall of 2008. In September 2008, HFP, through two newly-created, wholly-owned subsidiaries, acquired $321 million in CLO assets and life settlement insurance contracts from the Affiliated Transferee defendants in exchange for senior secured notes in a principal amount of $316 million with a maturity date of 2018. See Demonstrative Slide 4. The notes required HFP to make amortizing quarterly payments of $15 million to the Affiliated Transferee defendants, starting in February 2009. HFP was required to transfer a security interest to the Affiliated Transferee defendants in the shares of two wholly owned subsidiaries into which HFP transferred the newly acquired assets.

26. In October 2008, HFP issued an additional $55,488,000 of secured notes, also due in 2018, to Highland Crusader Offshore Partners, L.P. (“Crusader Fund”). The September and October notes (the “HFP Notes”) brought HFP’s debt obligation to the Affiliated Transferee defendants to approximately $371 million. Toward the end of 2008, the assets that secured the HFP Notes were subject to significant credit downgrades, decreasing cash flows available to HFP as dividends. The decreased cash flows made it unlikely that HFP would be able to meet its debt service obligations under the HFP Notes, or its obligation to pay premiums on the life settlement contracts it had acquired, jeopardizing the underlying collateral.

27. Based on these concerns, HFP’s Board therefore approved a settlement with respect to the HFP Notes to relieve it of these obligations, which satisfied the notes and transferred the collateral back to Highland Credit Strategies Master Fund, L.P. (“Credit Strategies”), Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, L.P. and Crusader Fund, and to other noteholders/obligees (including Citibank and the Debtor). The March 2009 Transaction eliminated approximately $370 million of debt and protected HFP from further exposure as the value of the collateral securing the HFP Notes continued to deteriorate. See Demonstrative Slides 5 and 6. The satisfaction of the HFP Notes and the return of the collateral was effectuated pursuant to a “Termination, Settlement and Release Agreement” dated March 20, 2009, between HFP, HFP Asset Funding II, Ltd., and HFP Asset Funding III, Ltd., as Issuers, and the noteholders/obligees.

28. The March 2009 Transaction was unrelated to debts owed by SOHC to UBS (and so, as discussed below, was patently not an “actual intent” fraudulent conveyance). The transferor was an entity, HFP (or its unrelated subsidiaries), which did not and still does not owe anything to UBS. Further, the challenged transfers satisfied secured debt to non-insiders (which, as discussed below, constitutes “fair consideration” under section 273 of the New York Debtor and Creditor Law (“NYDCL”) meaning they could not be constructively fraudulent either).

C. Procedural History

29. On February 24, 2009, UBS commenced a lawsuit against the Debtor and the Fund Counterparties in New York state court, alleging breach of the Restructured CLO Warehouse Agreements by the Fund Counterparties and seeking indemnification from the Debtor for certain losses (the “2009 Action”) (Ex. F, Compl., UBS Sec. LLC v Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., No. 650097/09 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. Feb. 24, 2009).) The indemnification claim—the only cause of action that UBS asserted against the Debtor—was dismissed by the New York Appellate Division. “Dismissal of plaintiffs’ indemnification claim against Highland is warranted, since the agreements between the parties contain no promise on the part of Highland to undertake liability with respect to the investment losses suffered by plaintiffs, or to ensure or guarantee the performance of defendant off-shore funds’ obligations to bear the risk of investment losses.” UBS Securities LLC v. Highland Capital Management, L.P., 70 A.D.3d 526, 893 N.Y.S.2d 869 (2010) (emphasis added).

30. After the Debtor was dismissed from the 2009 Action, UBS twice amended its complaint in the 2009 Action to add five new defendants (including HFP, Credit Strategies, and Crusader Fund) and filed a new action against the Debtor on June 28, 2010, captioned as UBS v. Highland Capital Management, L.P., Index No. 65072/2010 (N.Y. Sup. Ct.) (the “2010 Action”).<sup>9</sup> The 2009 Action and the 2010 Action were later consolidated. As its claims against the Debtor, UBS asserted that the March 2009 Transaction was a fraudulent conveyance that benefitted the Debtor, and that the Debtor breached the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing by causing it. Recognizing it was not a creditor of HFP (and thus lacked standing to challenge the transfers), UBS needed a bootstrap to assert the fraudulent transfer claims against HFP and other defendants, UBS's amended complaint in the 2009 Action included a claim for declaratory relief against HFP seeking a determination that HFP was the alter ego of one of the Funds. The alter ego claim against HFP is the only alter ego cause of action that UBS has asserted in the New York state court litigation; in over a decade of litigation, UBS has never asserted that the Debtor is the alter ego of the Funds or any other entity.

<sup>9</sup> The operative complaint against the Debtor, filed in the 2010 Action, is attached as Exhibit 16 to Appendix B [B064-B121], and the operative complaint against the remaining defendants, filed in the 2009 Action, is attached as Exhibit 17 to Appendix B [B123-B180].

31. In 2011 and 2012, the Appellate Division issued two more decisions that eliminated, or otherwise significantly limited, UBS's claims against the Debtor and new defendants. Both decisions applied res judicata to restrict UBS from seeking recovery for any conduct that occurred prior to February 24, 2009, the date on which UBS filed its original complaint in the 2009 Action, in which a final judgment was rendered on the merits in favor of the Debtor. See Exhibit 2 at A010; Exhibit 3 at A014.

32. In the 2011 decision, after UBS tried to re-assert the same claim against the Debtor under different legal theories (much like UBS is now doing), the Appellate Division held:

UBS v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., 86 A.D.3d 469, 474 (N.Y. App. Div. 2011) (emphasis added) [Exhibit 2 at A010].

33. In the 2012 decision, the Appellate Division extended its res judicata ruling to the Debtor's co-defendants in the state court litigation, holding that UBS's claims against other defendants (which included a claim that HFP is the alter ego of one of the Fund Counterparties) are likewise limited to conduct that occurred after February 24, 2009. UBS v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., 93 A.D.3d 489, 490 (N.Y. App. Div. 2012) [Exhibit 3 at A014]. "This Court's reversal of an order denying dismissal of the complaint in a related action (UBS Sec. LLC v Highland Capital Mgt., L.P., 86 AD3d 469 [2011]), warrants dismissal of a portion of plaintiff's claims in this action due to res judicata since defendants are in privity with the defendant in the other action." Id. (citation omitted).

34. In light of the Appellate Division's decisions, UBS's remaining claims against the Debtor are limited to those that arise out of the allegedly fraudulent transfers in the March 2009 Transaction. This includes its claim for breach of the implied covenant, which UBS acknowledged to the state court "involves [the Debtor's] role in the March 2009 fraudulent conveyances [and] overlaps factually with the ... fraudulent conveyance claims"<sup>10</sup> and more succinctly: "the implied covenant of good-faith and fair-dealing claim that we now have is that they shouldn't have committed fraudulent conveyances to make it certain that these two parties couldn't have paid."<sup>11</sup>

D. The UBS Settlement and Release

35. In June 2015, in exchange for payments totaling $70.5 million, UBS released its claims against the Debtor (and other parties) pursuant to settlement agreements it entered into with three affiliates of the Debtor – Crusader Fund, Highland Crusader Holding Corporation and Credit Strategies. The UBS Release covers transfers to these affiliates representing approximately $172 million of the $233 million of challenged transfers. Section 5.3 of the settlement agreements provides, in relevant part:

[T]he UBS Releasing Parties do hereby release, and covenant not to sue, [the Debtor] with respect to such Claims to the limited extent the Claims are for losses or other relief specifically arising from the fraudulent transfers to [the settling defendants] alleged in the UBS Litigation. For the avoidance of doubt, the Claims released do not include (a) any Claims for losses or other relief arising from the alleged fraudulent transfers to any defendant in the UBS Litigation other than [the settling defendants] or (b) any other Claims for losses or other relief arising from the [warehouse agreement], except to the limited extent the Claims are for losses or other relief that specifically arise from the alleged fraudulent transfers to [the settling defendants] ...

E. The Phase I Trial

36. The New York state court conducted a bench trial in July 2018 on the breach of contract claims against the Fund Counterparties under the Restructured CLO Warehouse Agreements. It issued its decision in November 2019, finding the Fund Counterparties liable for breaching the Restructured CLO Warehouse Agreements and awarding damages in the amount of $519,374,149, plus prejudgment interest, for a total judgment of approximately $1.05 billion. UBS Securities LLC, et al v. Highland Capital Mgmt. L.P., et al, No. 650097-2009 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. Nov. 19, 2019) [Doc. No. 641]. The State Court made no findings with respect to the Debtor or the remaining defendants. Those claims were scheduled to be heard during a second trial.

F. Summary of the UBS Claim

37. The UBS Claim alleges anew the fraudulent transfer claims that UBS released in the UBS Release: “the Debtor and HFP caused asset transfers of millions of dollars of assets to the Debtor, [Credit Strategies], [Crusader Fund], and Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, L.P..., among others, thereby further reducing Highland’s abilities to meet their obligations to Claimant.” UBS Claim, ¶18. The premise appears to be that although UBS has already recovered the value of $172 million of the alleged fraudulent transfers by way of its settlement with the Debtor and others, it can recover the very same amounts from the Debtor a second time as damages for causing the transfers to be made. UBS attempts this magic trick by re-casting the same claims as a breach of an implied duty “to act in good faith to cause HFP to satisfy the debts, as much as possible, then owed to Claimant.” Id. And although it never got a guaranty or a keep-well promise of any type, UBS further alleges that the Debtor “deliberately kept the Fund Counterparties undercapitalized, and allowed all assets of any value to be drained from the Fund Counterparties” and so precluded UBS from recovering anything. Id., ¶¶16, 18.

38. Further confusing matters, although the filing of the UBS Claim post-dates this Court’s denial of relief from stay, UBS postulates that its claim against the Debtor will be tried before a jury in the State Court:

The next step in the State Court Action is Phase II of the trial, where Claimant’s remaining claims against not only the Debtor, but also against other Highland affiliates are to be tried to a jury, with the court deciding liability as to the breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing claim and the jury deciding all remaining claims. (Id. at 2 n.1, 38.) The claims to be tried in Phase II include claims for breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, fraudulent conveyances, and alter-ego liability. The specific amounts the two non- Debtor affiliates owe to Claimant for their breach of the Warehouse Agreements are now set forth and embodied in the final $1 billion judgment from Phase I. And Claimant has stated claims against the Debtor—which was also a party to the same contract and exercised complete control over the two liable affiliates—under which Claimant is entitled to damages that are at least as much as the Phase I judgment amount. Claimant will seek damages for the Debtor’s various breaches of the implied covenant as well as its specific role in the fraudulent transfer scheme, and pre-judgment interest and attorneys’ fees where available. In addition, Claimant will seek punitive damages against the Debtor for its role in orchestrating the extended efforts to prevent Claimant from collecting the amounts owed under the Warehouse Agreements.

39. UBS then summarizes its claim as follows:

Claimant hereby asserts a claim, pending litigation of Phase II, for damages arising from the Debtor’s breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, its specific role in directing the fraudulent transfers of assets involving HFP, additional interest, further damages (including punitive damages), and attorneys’ fees that may be awarded by any court at the conclusion of Phase II.

Id., ¶ 26.

OBJECTION TO CLAIM

A. Legal Standard

40. The Bankruptcy Code establishes a burden-shifting framework for proving the amount and validity of a claim. “A claim . . . , proof of which is filed under section 501 [of the Bankruptcy Code], is deemed allowed, unless a party in interest . . . objects.” 11 U.S.C. § 502(a). “A proof of claim executed and filed in accordance with the [Bankruptcy Rules] shall constitute prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of the claim.” Fed. R. Bankr. P. 3001(f); see also In re Armstrong, 347 B.R. 581, 583 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. 2006). However, the ultimate burden of proof for a claim always lies with the claimant. Armstrong, 347 B.R. at 583 (citing Raleigh v. Ill. Dep’t of Rev., 530 U.S. 15 (2000)).

B. The Fraudulent Transfer Claim Should be Disallowed

41. UBS’s fraudulent transfer claim against the Debtor is limited to conduct that occurred after February 24, 2009, and is therefore limited to the March 2009 Transaction extinguishing the HFP Notes, which UBS contends was both a constructively fraudulent conveyance and an actual fraudulent conveyance under New York law.<sup>12</sup>

42. A conveyance is constructively fraudulent under New York law if it is made while the transferor is insolvent or satisfies other similar financial criteria, and if the transferor does not receive “fair consideration” in exchange for the transfer. Englander Capital Corp. v. Zises, 79 N.Y.S.3d 502, 506 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 2018); NYDCL §§ 273, 274, 275. A transfer is an actual fraudulent conveyance under New York law if it is made with actual intent to hinder, delay or defraud the transferor’s creditors. Id. at 507; NYDCL § 276.

43. UBS contends the March 2009 Transaction was a fraudulent conveyance because (i) UBS was a creditor of SOHC under the Restructured CLO Warehouse Agreements, <sup>12</sup> The recent amendments to New York’s fraudulent conveyance laws took effect on April 4, 2020 and are not retroactive. Therefore, UBS’s fraudulent conveyance claims are governed by New York Debtor and Creditor law as it existed prior to the recent amendments.

(ii) SOHC was the alter ego of HFP, (iii) as part of the settlement of the HFP Notes, HFP transferred assets to the Debtor, its affiliates and Citibank, (iv) HFP did not receive “fair consideration” for the transfers (even though the HFP Notes were cancelled), (v) HFP and SOHC were insolvent at the time, and (vi) the settlement of the HFP Notes was made with the actual intent to hinder, delay or defraud UBS, as a creditor of SOHC.

44. The fraudulent conveyance claim should be disallowed for the following reasons:

- UBS has released the Debtor with respect to the transfers covered by the UBS Release, which total approximately $172 million of the total $233 million transfer. The Debtor submit this defense may be decided on the existing record, without further proceedings.
- UBS lacks standing to challenge transfers that were made not by HFP but by two of its subsidiaries, HFP Asset II/III, which are not defendants in the UBS litigation and as to which UBS is not a creditor or even a purported creditor. The Debtor submits this defense may be decided on the existing record, without further proceedings.
- UBS cannot establish that the Debtor was the beneficiary of any transfers other than the $17.8 million that it received directly. Further proceedings will be required on this issue.
- UBS cannot establish that the transfers were not supported by “fair consideration” because the asset transfers were return of collateral to extinguish secured debt. Further proceedings will be required on this issue.
- UBS cannot establish that the March 2009 Transaction was entered into in bad faith or with the intent to hinder, delay or defraud UBS or any other creditors. Further proceedings will be required on this issue.
- UBS cannot establish that HFP was insolvent at the time of the transfers. Further proceedings will be required on this issue.

i) UBS Released All Claims Against the Debtor Arising From Transfers to Credit Strategies, Crusader Fund and Highland Crusader Holding Corporation

45. As noted, in June 2015, in exchange for payments totaling $70.5 million, UBS released its claims against the Debtor (and other parties) arising from transfers to Credit Strategies, Crusader Fund and Highland Crusader Holding Corporation, which represent $172 million of the alleged fraudulent transfers. The UBS Release is at Section 5.3 of the settlement agreements, which provides:

[T]he UBS Releasing Parties do hereby release, and covenant not to sue, [the Debtor et al.] with respect to such Claims to the limited extent the Claims are for losses or other relief specifically arising from the fraudulent transfers to [the settling defendants] alleged in the UBS Litigation. For the avoidance of doubt, the Claims released do not include (a) any Claims for losses or other relief arising from the alleged fraudulent transfers to any defendant in the UBS Litigation other than [the settling defendants] or (b) any other Claims for losses or other relief arising from the [warehouse agreement], except to the limited extent the Claims are for losses or other relief that specifically arise from the alleged fraudulent transfers to [the settling defendants] ...

46. On its face, the UBS Release explicitly applies to the fraudulent transfer claims against the Debtor asserted in the UBS Claim. It is indisputable that those claims are, in the express words of the UBS Release, “Claims [ ] for losses or other relief specifically arising from the fraudulent transfers to [the settling defendants] in the UBS Litigation.” Just as clearly, neither exclusion in the UBS Release applies, namely: (a) these are not transfers “to any defendant in the UBS Litigation other than [the settling defendants]”; and (b) nor are they “any other Claims for losses or other relief arising from the [warehouse agreement]....”

47. The Debtor submits that the Court can decide this issue without further proceedings.

ii) UBS Lacks Standing to Challenge Transfers Made by HFP Asset II/III

48. Conveyances can only be challenged as fraudulent by a creditor of the initial transferor. See e.g., Aviron Auto. Grp. v. Leontiev, 2020 NY Slip Op 30837(U), ¶ 41 (N.Y. Sup. Ct.) (plaintiff’s status as a creditor is a requirement to have standing under New York’s fraudulent conveyance laws). The creditor can seek relief against the transferors, the transferees, and any non-transferee beneficiaries of the fraudulent conveyance. Fed. Deposit Ins. Corp. v. Porco, 75 N.Y.2d 840, 842 (N.Y. 1990).

49. HFP Asset II/III were the transferors of approximately $187.5 million of the assets transferred in the March 2009 Transaction. UBS is not a creditor of HFP Asset II/III and has not named those entities as defendants in the UBS Litigation. Of that amount, $152.3 million were transfers covered by the UBS Release. Of the remaining $35.2 million: (a) approximately $11.7 million was transfers to Citibank, and (b) approximately $23.5 million was transfers to Highland Credit Opportunities Holding Corporation and Multi-Strat.

50. None of the transfers were to the Debtor, but to the extent UBS might otherwise succeed in imposing liability upon the Debtor for transfers to other transferees, UBS has no standing to challenge those transfers made by HFP Asset II/III.

51. The Debtor submits that the Court can decide this issue without further proceedings.

iii) The Debtor is Not the Beneficiary of the Transfers

52. The Debtor received only $17.8 million of the transfers in the March 2009 Transaction, as a subsequent transferee from HFP. UBS will be unable to meet its burden of demonstrating that Debtor benefited sufficiently from other transfers to impose liability, such as the $17.4 million in aggregate transfers to Citibank. The Court should establish a schedule for further proceedings on this issue.

iv) HFP Received “Fair Consideration” for the Transfers

53. UBS cannot meet its burden of showing that any transfers were not made for “fair consideration.” “Fair consideration” is provided when property is given “in good faith” to satisfy a preexisting debt “as a fair equivalent therefor.” NY Dr & Cr § 272. While a transfer to an insider to satisfy an antecedent debt is “presumed to lack good faith,” Englander Capital Corp., 79 N.Y.S.3d at 506, that presumption does not apply when the transfer is to an insider who is legitimately a secured creditor. Id.

54. The March 2009 Transaction satisfied HFP’s obligations on the HFP Notes. The HFP Notes were secured at their inception, well before UBS filed its complaint on February 24, 2009. They were secured by, among other things, HFP’s interests in HFP Asset

II/III. While UBS contests whether the HFP Notes actually were secured, the Southern District of New York district court in Citibank held that they were. Citibank, 270 F. Supp. 3d at 733 (“HFP’s financial condition is irrelevant to the value of the HFP Notes because the notes were secured by independently valued collateral”). The State Court declined to decide the issue on summary judgment.

55. The fact that the security interests were not perfected is irrelevant, so long as they were effective between the parties. NY UCC § 9-201(a) (“a security agreement is effective according to its terms between the parties, against purchasers of the collateral, and against creditors”); Ultimore, Inc. v. Bucala, 464 B.R. 626, 632 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2012) (NY UCC § 9-201(a) gives an unperfected secured creditor rights superior to those of unsecured creditors).

56. A security interest attaches to collateral and becomes enforceable if three requirements are met: (i) value has been given; (ii) the debtor had rights in the collateral or the power to transfer rights in the collateral to the secured party; and (iii) the debtor has authenticated (i.e., signed) a security agreement that describes the collateral. NY UCC § 9-203(b). These requirements were met. The noteholders gave value in exchange for the security interests by transferring assets to HFP’s subsidiaries. HFP had rights in the collateral or the power to transfer rights in the collateral.

57. With respect to the final requirement, “[a]ny document showing the required intent to grant an interest in the collateral will serve as a security agreement.... For there to be a valid and enforceable security agreement, a formal and separately signed document labeled ‘security agreement’ is not necessary.” Ultimore, Inc., 464 B.R. at 631 (citations omitted). “Almost any combination of documents can be used to prove the existence of a security agreement so long as the documents embody the intention of the parties to create a security interest.” Id. Here, the HFP Notes and other related documents state that the HFP Notes were secured, and evince an intent to create a security interest. As to HFP's interests in HFP Asset II/III, the parties also executed a charge over shares agreement that describes the collateral and repeatedly refers to the security interest granted in HFP's shares of HFP Asset II/III. The remaining collateral is described in detail in the underlying note purchase agreement. (Ex. 24.)

58. Undeterred by the secured nature of the HFP Notes, UBS asserts that the HFP Notes are not really secured debt because they should be recharacterized as equity interests. The Fifth Circuit permits debt to be recharacterized as equity only if that remedy is allowed under applicable state law. Grossman v. Lothian Oil Inc. (In re Lothian Oil Inc.), 650 F.3d 539 (5th Cir. 2011) (rejecting use of section 105(a) as basis for recharacterization). There are no New York state court decisions allowing recharacterization, and UBS cannot rely on bankruptcy court decisions on recharacterization to argue a state law claim. See Alliance Shippers, Inc. v. Garcia, 2015 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 51316, at *3-4 (S.D.N.Y. Apr. 17, 2015) ("Defendants next argue that both 'recharacterization' and 'equitable subordination' are claims under the bankruptcy law and not properly before this Court. They are correct. . . They do not constitute valid causes of action outside of the bankruptcy context.").

59. Because UBS cannot establish that the HFP Notes were not secured, its constructive fraudulent transfer claims must fail.

v) UBS Cannot Demonstrate Fraudulent Intent or Lack of Good Faith

60. For all the reasons described above, among others, both the issuance of the HFP Notes and their extinguishment in the March 2009 Transaction had a legitimate, good faith basis, and had nothing to do with attempting to divert assets from UBS, which was not a creditor of HFP (or its non-defendant subsidiaries) either when the notes were issued or even at the time of the March 2009 Transaction (and will never become a creditor of HFP unless it prevails on its alter ego claim). UBS cannot meet its burden of proof of establishing lack of good faith or intent to hinder or defraud creditors.

C. UBS's Claim for Breach of the Implied Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing Should be Disallowed

61. The Restructured CLO Warehouse Agreements are governed by New York law. As a result, the implied covenant claim, which is based on the restructured agreements, also is governed by New York law. Official Comm. of Unsecured Creditors of Lois/USA, Inc. v. Conseco Fin. Servicing Corp., 264 B.R. 69, 97-98 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2001). Under New York law, a covenant of good faith and fair dealing is “[i]mplicit in all contracts.” 19 Recordings Ltd. v. Sony Music Entm’t, 165 F. Supp. 3d 156, 161 (S.D.N.Y. 2016) (citations omitted). The implied covenant is “a promise that neither party shall do anything which will have the effect of destroying or injuring the right of the other party to receive the fruits of the contract.” Id. (internal quotation marks and citations omitted). A plaintiff must (i) identify the implied duties allegedly arising out of the parties’ contract, (ii) establish that the defendant breached those implied duties and, in doing so, acted malevolently or in bad faith, and (iii) establish that the defendant’s conduct caused the plaintiff’s alleged damages.

i) A Duty on the Debtor’s Part to Ensure That UBS Would be Paid Cannot Be Implied When UBS Knowingly Did Not Contract For It

62. It is axiomatic that the implied covenant also cannot be used to create new rights or impose new obligations that are inconsistent with the express terms of the parties’ contract. Id. at 165. A party asserting “the existence of an implied-in-fact covenant bears a heavy burden, for it is not the function of the courts to remake the contract agreed to by the parties, but rather to enforce it as it exists.” Rowe v. Great Atl. & Pac. Tea Co., 46 N.Y.2d 62, 69 (N.Y. 1978). Therefore, a party asserting an implied covenant claim “must prove not merely that it would have been better or more sensible to include such a covenant, but rather that the particular unexpressed promise sought to be enforced is in fact implicit in the agreement viewed as a whole.” Id.

63. UBS wishes the Court to imply a duty by the Debtor to ensure that the Fund Counterparties' are able to pay UBS. Such a flies directly in the face of the contracts and the Appellate Division's very first decision in the UBS litigation dismissing the contractual indemnity claim against the Debtor. Because of the res judicata decisions, UBS is, at most, left with a repackaged fraudulent transfer claim: an implied duty by the Debtor to not permit the March 2009 alleged fraudulent transfers.

64. The Restructured CLO Warehouse Agreements do not impose any direct liability on the Debtor to ensure or guarantee performance by the Fund Counterparties. Such a basic obligation cannot be implied, which is precisely why the Appellate Division already held that the indemnification provisions did not impose on the Debtor an obligation "to ensure or guarantee the performance" of the Funds' obligations to UBS. These are highly complex contracts negotiated by highly sophisticated parties. There are numerous "protective" provisions in the Restructured CLO Warehouse Agreements, presumably heavily negotiated, relating to the posting of collateral and collateral calls, and there are numerous other protections for which UBS could have negotiated, but did not.

65. The Appellate Division ruling is dispositive. UBS had alleged that the Debtor had breached an indemnification obligation that was implied, not express. So is the covenant that UBS now seeks to imply into the same contracts. There is no material difference in the context that would support any decision other than that which the Appellate Division already reached. Both implied provisions amount to an imagined guaranty by the Debtor of performance of the Fund Counterparties, something that simply cannot be implied into a contract, and certainly not one between sophisticated parties such as these.

66. In Citibank, the district court rejected Citibank's similar attempt to imply a promise by the Debtor to ensure that cash would be available for distribution on the HFP Notes. CDO Fund (a Fund Counterparty) had pledged its HFP Notes to Citibank as collateral for its obligations under a separate financing arrangement with Citibank. As part of the pledge agreement, the Debtor agreed “that as long as Citi held any of the HFP Notes under a pledge from CDO Fund, if HFP has cash available on a Quarterly Payment Date in an amount equal or greater to the Quarterly Payment Amount, [the Debtor] will recommend to the board of directors and management of HFP, to the extent consistent with [the Debtor’s] fiduciary duties, that HFP not exercise the [payment-in-kind] Option on the Notes for such Quarterly Payment Date.” Citibank, 270 F. Supp. 3d at 731. Citibank argued, in seeking to impose alter ego liability on the Debtor, that the Debtor had an implied obligation under the pledge agreement to ensure that cash was available for distribution on the HFP Notes. The court granted summary judgment in favor of the Debtor. It was “unpersuaded that HCM even owed Citi a good faith obligation to ensure that cash was available for distribution on the HFP Notes.” Id. at 732. “[I]t makes little sense to read into the [pledge agreement] an implied promise that [the Debtor] would ensure that cash was available for distribution on the HFP Notes. To the contrary, such an implied promise would impose a duty on [the Debtor] beyond that which Citi bargained for.” Id.

67. Similarly, in Metro. Life Ins. Co. v. RJR Nabisco, Inc., 716 F. Supp. 1504, 1508 (S.D.N.Y. 1989), the court granted summary judgment against bondholders who contended their indentures carried an implied covenant not to incur LBO debt. The court refused to use the implied covenant to “create an indenture term that, while bargained for in other contexts, was not bargained for here and was not even within the mutual contemplation of the parties.” Id. In particular, the court held:

... [T]he “fruits” of these indentures do not include an implied restrictive covenant that would prevent the incurrence of new debt to facilitate the recent LBO. To hold otherwise would permit these plaintiffs to straightjacket the company in order to guarantee their investment. These plaintiffs do not invoke an implied covenant of good faith to protect a legitimate, mutually contemplated benefit of the indentures; rather, they seek to have this Court create an additional benefit for which they did not bargain.

Id. at 1519 (emphasis added).

68. Here, as in Metro Life Ins. Co., UBS is attempting to create an obligation that could have been bargained for and made part of the restructured agreements – but was not. Imposing an obligation on the Debtor to ensure that UBS would be paid is in effect to create a guaranty where none was purchased. In these circumstances, it would create an obligation to prefer UBS over other creditors. That is not a reasonable extension of the parties’ express agreement.

ii) Since Any Breach of the Implied Covenant Can Only be Based on the Alleged Fraudulent Conveyances, the UBS Release Applies

69. As a result of the two res judicata decisions, UBS can only base its implied covenant claim on the alleged fraudulent conveyances made in the March 2009 Transaction. But it has released the Debtor from liability with respect to $172 million of the $233 million in transfers. The UBS Release applies without ambiguity.

70. Once again, Section 5.3 of the settlement agreements provides:

[T]he UBS Releasing Parties do hereby release, and covenant not to sue, [the Debtor et al.] with respect to such Claims to the limited extent the Claims are for losses or other relief specifically arising from the fraudulent transfers to [the settling defendants] alleged in the UBS Litigation. For the avoidance of doubt, the Claims released do not include (a) any Claims for losses or other relief arising from the alleged fraudulent transfers to any defendant in the UBS Litigation other than [the settling defendants] or (b) any other Claims for losses or other relief arising from the [warehouse agreement], except to the limited extent the Claims are for losses or other relief that specifically arise from the alleged fraudulent transfers to [the settling defendants] ...

71. A claim that the Debtor breached an implied obligation not to let a fraudulent transfer occur is unambiguously a claim “for losses or other relief specifically arising from the fraudulent transfers....” Again, the exclusions do not apply. First, the Debtor is not attempting to apply the UBS Release to transfers to other parties. Second, the subject of the implied covenant claim is the fraudulent transfers, and so even if the implied covenant claim is technically an “other Claim[] for losses or other relief arising from the [warehouse agreement],” it is nonetheless a claim that quite literally comes within the exception “for losses or other relief that specifically arise from the alleged fraudulent transfers....” There is no room for interpretation. The settlement cannot be dispensed with by relabeling the claim.

iii) UBS Cannot Prove that Any Duty to Ensure That UBS Would be Paid was Breached in Bad Faith or With Malevolence Targeting the Plaintiff

72. If a duty could be implied, UBS would have the burden of proving that the Debtor breached it in bad faith or with malevolence targeting UBS specifically. Wilder v. World of Boxing LLC, 310 F. Supp. 3d 426, 451 (S.D.N.Y. 2018) (to establish a lack of good faith, the plaintiff must show that the defendant exercised a right malevolently, for its own gain as part of a purposeful scheme designed to deprive the plaintiff of the benefits under the contract).

73. There is no duty to ensure the Fund Counterparties could pay UBS, but even if there were, and even assuming that implied duty was breached by entering into the March 2009 Transaction, UBS cannot meet its burden of proving that it was done in bad faith or malevolently targeting UBS. The March 2009 Transaction was a good faith, commercially reasonable transaction that was not designed to “shield assets” from UBS, but instead was designed to try to protect the financial viability of HFP and its subsidiaries. It was approved by HFP’s board based on legitimate concerns regarding HFP’s ability to service the debt or maintain the collateral, in particular, its ability to make the premium payments due on the life settlement contracts. It eliminated approximately $370 million of debt, and protected HFP from further exposure as the value of the collateral securing the HFP Notes continued to deteriorate.

74. Not only was the March 2009 Transaction a legitimate, commercially reasonable decision, it cannot be shown to have targeted UBS. HFP has no business relationship with UBS. HFP was not even a defendant in the complaint filed by UBS on February 24, 2009. That complaint was solely against the Fund Counterparties and the Debtor and was only for breach of contract. Only after losing its contract claim against the Debtor in the February 2010 appellate decision did UBS cast a wider net, for the first time adding HFP as a defendant and alleging alter ego in June 2010.

75. UBS will not be able to establish at trial that the Debtor breached any implied duty to UBS, let alone that the March 2009 Transaction was anything other than a “good faith” transaction.

iv) Causation and Damages

76. Causation is an “essential element” of damages for an implied covenant claim, meaning that the plaintiff must establish that the defendant’s breach “directly and proximately” caused the plaintiff’s damages. St. Christopher’s, Inc. v. Forgione, 2019 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 115476, *28 (S.D.N.Y. July 11, 2019) (citations omitted); see also Wilder, 310 F. Supp. 3d at 448 (plaintiff must establish that defendant’s breach of implied covenant proximately caused plaintiff’s damages).

77. As a result of the res judicata decisions, UBS can only base its implied covenant claim on the March 2009 Transaction. That being the case, the maximum amount of damages that could be shown to be proximately caused by such a breach, assuming arguendo that there was a breach, would be any amount of transfers made in the March 2009 Transaction found to be fraudulent. The March 2009 Transaction involved transfers of at most approximately $233 million of assets (roughly half of the principal amount of UBS’s breach of contract damages) and UBS has already released the Debtor from liability with respect to $172 million of those transfers. Furthermore, the transfers to Citibank of $17.4 million cannot constitute damages to UBS.

78. In the event this Court finds that the UBS Release does not limit damages on the implied duty claim related to the alleged fraudulent transfers, the Debtor would nonetheless be entitled to an offset against damages for the $70.5 million of settlement payments that UBS received from the settling defendants. New York General Obligations Law (“GOL”) §

15-103 provides for the offset of settlement amounts received from a “co-obligor” to the extent of “the amount received on the obligations of all co-obligors.” GOL § 15-103. See J.P. Endeavors v. Dushaj, 8 A.D.3d 440, 442 (N.Y. App. Div. 2004) (under GOL § 15-103, where multiple defendants were sued for liability on a brokerage contract, plaintiff’s settlement with one defendant reduced the amount on which the remaining defendants could be held liable); D.H. Blair & Co., Inc. v. Gottdiener, 2010 WL 4258967, *10 (S.D.N.Y. Oct. 27, 2010) (defendant was “entitled to a credit of the amount of the settlement” between other parties).

79. In addition, GOL § 15-108(a) provides that a settlement payment by a joint tortfeasor may offset or reduce the plaintiff’s claims against other joint tortfeasors, and some New York courts have held that GOL § 15-108 is not limited to tort. See e.g., Koch v. Greenberg, 14 F. Supp. 3d 247, 270 (S.D.N.Y. 2014), aff’d 626 Appx. 335 (2d Cir. 2015) (reducing award and concluding that GOL § 15-108 is potentially applicable to other types of claims, notwithstanding its references to “tort” and “tortfeasor”); Carter v. State, 139 Misc. 2d 423, 427 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1988), aff’d 154 A.D.2d 642 (N.Y. App. Div. 1989) (New York courts have applied the statute “equally to claims and actions grounded on theories of liability other than tort”); Cty. of Westchester v. Welton Becket Assocs., 102 A.D.2d 34, 45-46 (N.Y. App. Div. 1984), aff’d 66 N.Y.2d 642 (N.Y. 1985) (applying GOL § 15-108 even though claims were “essentially contractual in nature”).

80. Offset of the $70.5 million settlement against any breach of implied covenant damages is also proper under New York common law. Specifically, under established New York law, parties cannot recover twice for the same injury or on the same alleged debt. Morris v. Zimmer, 2014 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 39608, *18 (S.D.N.Y. Feb. 11, 2014) (“It is well settled that Plaintiffs are not entitled to double recovery for the same debt.”); Zarcone v. Perry, 78 A.D.2d 70, 79 (N.Y. App. Div. 1980), aff’d 55 N.Y.2d 782 (N.Y. 1981) (“[J]udicial policy forestalls a double recovery for an injury”). The alleged damage to UBS is the amount of the fraudulent transfer; to the extent UBS has already recovered by settlement on account of a fraudulent transfer, a recovery from the Debtor for damages arising from the same transfer would be a double recovery.

81. The offset would apply before the calculation of prejudgment interest. Lizden Indus., Inc. v. Franco Belli Plumbing & Heating & Sons, Inc., 2011 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 4247, *22 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. Aug. 24, 2011) (denying request to calculate pre-judgment interest before offset of co-defendant's settlement payment), aff'd 95 A.D.3d 738 (N.Y. App. Div. 2012) (trial court "properly awarded prejudgment interest on the verdict after it was reduced by the amount of Belli's settlement, pursuant to General Obligations Law § 15-108").

D. Any Claim for Alter Ego Liability Should be Disallowed

82. UBS has not pled a claim against the Debtor for alter ego liability throughout the eleven year duration of the UBS litigation. The UBS Claim appears to assert for the first time that such liability exists and that it would subject the Debtor to the entire Phase I judgment against the Fund Counterparties. But any such claim is barred by res judicata, as the Phase I judgment only relates to conduct predating February 24, 2009. Like the rest of UBS's claims, therefore, any alter ego liability is limited to the March 2009 Transaction. Regardless, as the Citibank decision establishes, UBS's factual allegations do not entail the kind of "wrongs" that support alter ego liability.

i) Any Alter Ego Liability is Limited by Res Judicata to Conduct After February 24, 2009

83. The Appellate Division has already ruled that UBS is barred by res judicata from asserting claims against the Debtor that "implicate events alleged to have taken place before the filing of the original complaint" on February 24, 2009. UBS v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., 86 A.D.3d at 474 [Exhibit 2 at A010]. This would include any new claim against the Debtor for alter ego. See UBS v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., 93 A.D.3d at 490 [Exhibit 3 at A014] (limiting the alter ego claim against HFP to post-February 2009).

84. UBS will contend that the Debtor's alter ego liability is not an independent "claim" but only a post-judgment remedy under New York Civil Practice Law and Rules ("CPLR") 5225(b) and therefore not subject to res judicata. Morris v. State Dep't of Taxation & Fin., 82 N.Y.2d 135 (N.Y. 1993). Of course, courts regularly consider alter ego relief in connection with pending litigation – notably in the present action, in which UBS seeks a declaratory judgment that HFP is the alter ego of SOHC, and in the Citibank litigation. See also Mirage Entm't, Inc. v. FEG Entretenimientos S.A., 326 F. Supp. 3d 26, 33-35 (S.D.N.Y. 2018) (plaintiff may pierce corporate veil and sue non-signatory for breach of contract when non-party is an alter ego of one or more signatories).

85. While a proceeding to impose alter ego liability may be initiated as post-judgment supplementary proceedings in New York under the CPLR, that is not the case when the party against whom alter ego liability is asserted was a party to the underlying action. Where, as the newly alleged claim against the Debtor, the defendant on the newly-asserted alter ego claim was a party to the terminated action, res judicata applies to the assertion of alter ego liability. In Bd. of Managers of the 195 Hudson St. Condo v. Jeffrey M. Brown Assocs., 652 F. Supp. 2d 463, 478-82 (S.D.N.Y. 2009), the Board filed suit (the "Conversion Litigation") seeking damages for construction defects against, among others, K&J and JMB. The Board did not, however, assert a claim of alter ego liability against JMB in the Conversion Litigation itself. The Conversion Litigation against JMB was dismissed on the merits, with the court finding, among other things, that JMB was not a party to the underlying agreements. A breach of contract judgment was thereafter entered against K&J, and the Board initiated another separate action seeking to hold JMB liable, on alter ego grounds, for the breach of contract judgment against K&J. The court rejected the Board's attempt, holding that res judicata barred the assertion of the alter ego claims against JMB in the subsequent proceeding because “the facts necessary to sustain both causes of action arise from the same transactions or factual grouping, form a convenient trial unit, and the facts essential to the instant claim were already present in the Conversion Litigation.”

86. The same is true in this case, in which the Appellate Division observed one of UBS’s complaints was “thoroughly suffused with allegations that [the Debtor] was essentially the alter ego of the parties it induced to breach the agreements.” 86 A.D.3d at 477. In fact, one of the UBS claims against HFP that was limited on the basis of res judicata based on HFP’s privity with the Debtor was an alter ego claim against HFP. For its own reasons, however, UBS has litigated for over a decade without expressly asserting alter ego liability against the Debtor, even though it asserted a claim for declaratory relief against HFP for a determination of alter ego liability.

87. Accordingly, any assertion of alter ego liability would be limited to post-February 24, 2009 conduct. Like the other claims against the Debtor, it would be subject to the UBS Release. Furthermore, no such claim has been pled and res judicata would bar its assertion.

ii) UBS’s Allegations are an Insufficient Basis for Finding Alter Ego Liability

88. New York law disfavors disregard of the corporate form and only allows the drastic remedy of veil piercing under extraordinary circumstances. Cobalt Partners, L.P. v. GSC Capital Corp., 97 A.D.3d 35, 40 (N.Y. App. Div. 2012). To pierce the corporate veil under New York law, a plaintiff bears a heavy burden to establish both (i) that the owner exercised complete domination over the corporation with respect to the transaction at issue and (ii) that such domination was used to commit a fraud or wrong that injured the party seeking to pierce the veil. Citibank, 270 F. Supp. 3d at 726. To avoid dismissal, a complaint must plead particular facts to demonstrate that the domination of the corporation caused the plaintiff’s injury. See e.g., CSX Tramp, Inc. v. Filco Carting Corp., 2011 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 74625, *10 (E.D.N.Y. July 7, 2011). Here, even if UBS could satisfy the first prong, domination, it cannot satisfy the second, because the “wrongs” it alleges do not support alter ego liability.

First Alter Ego Prong – Domination

89. The Second Circuit has identified ten factors to consider in determining whether an entity exercises complete domination over another entity for purposes of alter ego liability.<sup>13</sup> The Debtor denies that UBS can establish its “complete domination,” while acknowledging that the district court in Citibank found that the Debtor “exercised complete control over CDO Fund.” Citibank, 270 F. Supp. 3d at 726-28.

Second Alter Ego Prong – Wrong or Fraud

90. On the basis of allegations that included virtually the same as those made by UBS, the district court in Citibank held that Citibank failed to demonstrate the second prong – a “wrong or fraud” for veil piercing purposes – and granted summary judgment against Citibank’s alter ego claims seeking to hold the Debtor liable for CDO Fund’s obligations. Citibank, 270 F. Supp. 3d at 729-33. Citibank had identified three acts that it asserted constituted fraudulent or wrongful conduct: (i) the Debtor stripped cash and assets from CDO Fund prior to a margin call; (ii) the Debtor diverted cash distributions on the HFP Notes that would otherwise have been available to CDO Fund to satisfy the margin call; and (iii) the Debtor fraudulently misrepresented the value of the HFP Notes that CDO Fund pledged to Citibank as collateral. Id. at 729.

91. As to the “asset stripping” allegations, the district court found that the payments to the Debtor and its affiliates represented the repayment of preexisting obligations and that, even if the transfers were constructively fraudulent conveyances to insiders of CDO Fund, such transfers did not constitute a wrong for veil piercing purposes. Id. at 730-31. With respect to Citibank's similar argument that the Debtor diverted cash distributions on the HFP Notes to itself or related parties, the court found that there was no implied promise that would impose a duty on the Debtor to ensure that cash was available for distribution on the HFP Notes. The court determined that, "[t]o the contrary, such an implied promise would impose a duty on HCMLP beyond that which Citi bargained for," and noted that there was no authority for finding that a breach of an implied covenant of good faith would constitute a wrong for purposes of veil piercing. Id. at 732. In doing so, the court reiterated the well-established rule that an ordinary "breach of contract, without evidence of fraud or corporate misconduct, is not sufficient to pierce the corporate veil." Id. Based on its findings, the court held that "[b]ecause none of the acts identified by Citi constitutes a wrong or fraud for veil piercing purposes, [the Debtor] is not liable for CDO Fund's obligations under a traditional veil piercing theory." Id. at 733.

<sup>13</sup> These factors are: (1) absence of formalities and paraphernalia that are part of corporate existence, i.e., issuance of stock, election of directors, keeping of corporate records, (2) inadequate capitalization, (3) whether funds are put in and taken out of corporation for personal purposes, (4) overlap in ownership, officers, directors, and personnel, (5) common office space, addresses and telephone numbers, (6) amount of business discretion displayed by dominated corporation, (7) whether related corporations deal with dominated corporation at arms’ length, (8) whether corporations are treated as independent profit centers, (9) payment or guarantee of debts of dominated corporation by other corporations in the group, and (10) whether corporation in question had property used by other corporations as if it were their own.

92. Courts applying New York law also have rejected alter ego claims where a sophisticated party knowingly contracts with its counterparty and then seeks to impose liability on a third party for breach of that contract – especially where the party could have negotiated for direct rights against the third party. See TNS Holdings, Inc. v. MKI Sec. Corp., 92 N.Y. 2d 335, 339-40 (N.Y. 1998); Skanska USA Bldg. Inc. v. Atl. Yards B2 Owner, LLC, 146 A.D.3d 1, 12-13 (N.Y. App. Div. 2016). Here, UBS was well aware of the risks of the transaction and with the ownership and managerial structure of the Highland-related entities, yet it knowingly entered into the Restructured CLO Warehouse Agreements in which only the Fund Counterparties, and not the Debtor, were responsible for performance. There is no basis for piercing the corporate veil on such facts.

CONCLUSION

The UBS Claim is subject to disallowance or material limitation on a summary basis. Even without consideration of the Debtor's other defenses to UBS's asserted or threatened claims, the Court may rule that nearly all of the fraudulent conveyance claims have been released, that the undisputed facts preclude the implication of a guarantee of performance into the Restructured CLO Agreements, and that there is no legally sufficient basis for imposing alter ego liability. The few remaining claims are subject to numerous meritorious defenses, as described herein.

WHEREFORE, the Debtor respectfully requests that the UBS Claim be disallowed in its entirety, and grant the Debtor such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper.

I. INTRODUCTION

UBS asserts that the Debtor is liable for breaches of contract by certain of its indirect subsidiaries, and for alleged fraudulent transfers involving other subsidiaries and funds that the Debtor currently or previously managed. UBS, the Debtor, and several of the Debtor’s affiliates have been engaged in litigation that, prior to the commencement of the Debtor’s chapter 11 case, had been ongoing since 2009 in the New York State courts (collectively, the “New York Courts”). The Redeemer Committee and the Crusader Funds have a unique perspective on the merits of the UBS Claim because two of the Crusader Fund entities were defendants in that action. The Redeemer Committee is a committee of investors, elected pursuant to the Scheme and Plan of Liquidation of the Crusader Funds approved by the Bermuda Court, to oversee Highland’s management of the Crusader Funds through what was intended to be the complete liquidation of the fund. The Redeemer Committee played a central role in the negotiation of the settlement of UBS' claims against the Crusader Funds, pursuant to which UBS released the Debtor from much of the relief that UBS now seeks in its claim.

UBS asserts that the UBS Claim arises from three principal events: (1) in the fall of 2008, certain Highland affiliates failed to honor certain contractual margin calls in connection with a proposed securitization financing; (2) in the fall of 2008, certain Highland affiliates engaged in a series of asset transfers with Highland-managed funds; and (3) on March 20, 2009, Highland affiliates unwound those transactions with the Highland-managed funds. UBS claims the Debtor owes UBS at least $1,039,957,799—the amount of a judgment that UBS obtained in February 2020 arising from the non-Debtor affiliates' breaches of contract by failing to honor the margin calls in 2008.

The majority of the UBS Claim is barred by res judicata. The New York Courts have held that res judicata bars UBS from asserting claims against Highland that are based on conduct that occurred before February 24, 2009, the date on which UBS filed its initial complaint in New York. As discussed below, that ruling was the result of UBS filing a complaint that only asserted a claim against Highland for indemnification, a claim that was later dismissed. Notwithstanding this absolute bar, UBS asserts that the Debtor should be held liable for pre-February 24, 2009 conduct, including that of certain of its affiliates, which ultimately resulted in the New York trial court entering a $1,039,957,799 judgment against those entities. It is telling that UBS recently acknowledged that it has never even alleged in the New York action that Highland was the alter ego of the judgment debtors. See UBS Reply ISO its Mot. to Lift Automatic Stay at 6, In re Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., 19-34054-sgj11 (N.D. Tex. Jun. 11, 2020) (Doc. No. 733B); Hr'g Trans. at 30-31, In re Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., 19-34054-sgj11 (N.D. Tex. Jun. 15, 2020)

(Doc. No. 746A). Any such alter ego claim would be a new path to establish liability that is barred by res judicata. To the extent that the UBS Claim is based on the Debtor's pre-February 24, 2009 conduct, res judicata requires disallowance of that claim.

After giving effect to res judicata, the surviving part of the UBS Claim is based on certain asset transfers made by an affiliate of the Debtor, Highland Financial Partners LP ("HFP"), in March 2009. UBS asserts that those transfers were fraudulent conveyances, and that Highland breached the implied duty of good faith and fair dealing by participating in those transfers. UBS named several Highland-managed funds that received assets in March 2009 as defendants in the New York action, including two Crusader Fund entities—Highland Crusader Offshore Partners, L.P. ("Crusader Offshore Fund") and Highland Crusader Holding Corporation ("Crusader Holding")—as well as Highland Credit Strategies Master Fund, L.P. (the "Credit Strategies Fund"). These funds later entered into settlement agreements with UBS, and Highland was a signatory to each agreement. The settlement agreements provide, in relevant part, that UBS released Highland from any [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] each fund as alleged by UBS. The UBS releases of Highland foreclosed the possibility that Highland could later be found liable to UBS in connection with the transfers to those funds. This protection was of central importance to the funds [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

The chapter 11 process does not provide an alleged creditor the opportunity to relitigate matters that are the subject of final, non-appealable decisions of a state court, or prevent enforcement of valid and binding settlement agreements. As demonstrated below, UBS ignores or misconstrues the New York Courts' decisions and the settlement agreements to attempt to avoid the necessary conclusion that the UBS Claim must be disallowed as a matter of law other than to the extent it seeks damages arising from the March 2009 transfer of assets to entities other than Crusader and Credit Strategies. Based on UBS's expert valuations, in no instance would UBS's claim against the Debtor exceed [REDACTED] before prejudgment interest.

II. JURISDICTION

The Court has jurisdiction over this matter under the Bankruptcy Code and pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 157 and 1334. This matter is a core proceeding within the meaning of 28 U.S.C. §§ 157(b)(2)(A), (B) and (L). Venue is proper in this District under 28 U.S.C. §§ 1408 and 1409. The statutory predicates for the relief requested herein are 11 U.S.C. § 502(b)-(d) and Fed. R. Bankr. P. 3007.

III. BACKGROUND

A. Fund Counterparties Fail to Meet Margin Calls in 2008.

In April 2007, UBS entered into agreements (collectively, the "CLO Warehouse Agreements") with Highland and two affiliates of Highland—Highland CDO Opportunity Master Fund, L.P. ("CDO") and Highland Special Opportunities Holding Company ("SOHC") (together, the "Fund Counterparties")—to establish a warehouse facility to finance the acquisition of syndicated leveraged loans and credit default swaps. (Ex. 1, 4/12/07 Original Synthetic Warehouse Agreement; Ex. 2, 4/20/07 Original Engagement Ltr.; Ex. 3, 5/22/07 Original Cash Warehouse Agreement.) Those assets, in turn, were to serve as the basis for a securitization pursuant to which notes would be sold to investors.

Due to market conditions, the securitized offering did not occur by the contractual deadline, and the CLO Warehouse Agreements terminated. In March 2008, UBS, Highland, and the Fund Counterparties entered into restructured warehouse agreements (collectively, the "Restructured CLO Warehouse Agreements"). (See Ex. 4, UBS Securities LLC Proof of Claim ¶7, In re Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., 19-34054-sgj11 (N.D. Tex. Jun. 26, 2020) (Claim No. 190).) The Restructured CLO Warehouse Agreements gave UBS the right to make margin calls on the Fund Counterparties in the event of a decline in the market value of the loans and swaps.<sup>4</sup>

As the market deteriorated in the fall of 2008, UBS made three margin calls on the Fund Counterparties. The Fund Counterparties satisfied the first two margin calls in September and October 2008, using funds provided by SOHC's parent corporation, HFP. (Ex. 5, Decision and Order at 4, UBS Sec. LLC, et al v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., et al, No. 650097-2009 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 2019). The Fund Counterparties failed to satisfy a third margin call in November 2008, and UBS issued a notice of termination of the Restructured CLO Warehouse Agreements in December. Id.<sup>5</sup>

B. Highland Affiliates Engage in Fall 2008 Transfers

Meanwhile, during the fall of 2008, certain funds then managed by Highland—including the Crusader Offshore Fund—transferred certain assets to HFP in [REDACTED] (the “Fall 2008 Transfers”). [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] HFP was not a party to the Restructured CLO Warehouse Agreements.

C. The Fall 2008 Transfers are Unwound on March 20, 2009.

The parties to the Fall 2008 Transfers unwound those transactions on March 20, 2009 (“March 2009 Transfers”). [REDACTED]

As a result, [REDACTED] HFP returned the assets to the transferors, including the Crusader Fund and the Credit Strategies Fund. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] According to UBS's expert in the New York action, HFP transferred assets with a market value of [REDACTED]

D. UBS Sues Over the Restructured Warehouse Transaction and Its Claim Against Highland Is Dismissed.

UBS filed its first complaint on February 24, 2009, against the Fund Counterparties and Highland. (Ex. 10, Compl., UBS Sec. LLC v Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., et al, No. 650097/09 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. Feb. 24, 2009).) UBS's original complaint contained only one claim against Highland—a contractual claim for indemnification. Id. ¶¶50-56. Highland moved to dismiss that claim, arguing that the indemnification provision did not apply to the particular losses claimed by UBS. UBS Sec. LLC v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., et al, 893 N.Y.S.2d 869 (N.Y. App. Div. 2010). The indemnification claim was dismissed by the New York appellate court. UBS Sec. LLC v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., et al, 893 N.Y.S.2d 869 (N.Y. App. Div. 2010) (“the agreements between the parties contain no promise on the part of Highland to undertake liability with respect to the investment losses suffered by plaintiffs, or to ensure or guarantee the performance of [Fund Counterparties]' obligations to bear the risk of investment losses.”).

E. New York Appellate Division Dismisses Claims Against Highland as Barred by Res Judicata.

On February 16, 2010, UBS sought amend its original complaint to assert new claims against Highland and others<sup>7</sup> for claims arising from the Restructured Warehouse transaction, the Fall 2008 Transfers and the March 2009 Transfers, alleging that the March 2009 Transfers were fraudulent conveyances that benefitted Highland, and that, by causing the unwinding, Highland breached the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing in the Restructured Warehouse Agreement. (Ex. 12, 2/16/10 UBS Ltr. to Court, UBS Sec. LLC v Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., No. 650097/2009 (N.Y. Sup. Ct.).) The New York Supreme Court denied the portion of UBS's motion that sought leave to add new claims against Highland, agreeing with Highland's position that a party cannot amend a pleading that has already been dismissed. (Ex. 11, Ruling at 5, UBS Sec. LLC v Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., No. 650097/2009 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. Jun. 17, 2010).)

Thereafter, UBS commenced a new action against Highland, in which it asserted the causes of action it had unsuccessfully sought to add to the original complaint. (Ex. 13, Compl., UBS Sec. LLC v Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., No. 650752/2010 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. Jun. 28, 2010).)<sup>8</sup>

Highland moved to dismiss the new action, and the trial court granted the motion in part and denied it in part. UBS Sec. LLC v Highland Capital Mgmt. L.P., et al, No. 650097/09, 2010 WL 6268233 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. Aug. 05, 2010). The parties appealed. UBS Sec. LLC v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., et al, 86 A.D.3d 469 (N.Y. App. Div. 2011). The appellate court dismissed the fraudulent inducement claim against Highland, and held that to the extent UBS's new claims for breach of the covenant of good faith and fair dealing and fraudulent conveyance arise from conduct alleged to have occurred before the commencement of the original action, i.e., February 24, 2009, the claims must be dismissed. Id. The appellate court reasoned:

Here, to the extent the claims against Highland in the new complaint implicate events alleged to have taken place before the filing of the original complaint, res judicata applies. That is because UBS's claims against Highland in the original action and in this action all arise out of the restructured warehousing transaction.

Id. Because this ruling precluded UBS from pursuing claims against Highland arising from conduct occurring before February 24, 2009, the appellate court barred UBS from asserting any claims based on (1) the Fund Counterparties' failure to meet the margin calls in late 2008—the claim on which the trial court ultimately found the Fund Counterparties liable in the amount of $1,039,957,799, and (2) the Fall 2008 Transfers. As a result of this ruling, the only surviving claims against the Debtor arise from the March 2009 Transfers.

F. In 2013, Highland Moves for Summary Judgment

In October 2013, Highland, HFP, and other defendants moved for summary judgment on UBS's remaining claims. The trial court recognized that “the Appellate Division decisions preclude any fraudulent conveyance claims arising before February 24, 2009. They therefore preclude UBS from recovering for any alleged fraudulent transfers made before that date.” (Ex. 15, Ruling at 25, UBS Sec. LLC v Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., et al, No. 650097/2009 (N.Y.

Sup. Ct. Mar. 24, 2017).) The court stated that UBS could still introduce evidence of pre-February 24, 2009 conduct to support claims that only arose after February 24, 2009:

However, proof of pre-February 24, 2009 transfer, and of other conduct involving the operation of the Highland entities, is not prohibited to the extent necessary to prove UBS's claims for post-February 24, 2009 fraudulent conveyances, which are maintainable under the Appellate Division decisions under an alter ego theory.<sup>9</sup>

Id. The court also dismissed UBS's claim against Highland for breach of good faith and fair dealing because the contract at issue, the Restructured CLO Warehouse Agreement, was terminated before February 24, 2009. Id. at 34-35.

The parties appealed. Initially, the Appellate Division reinstated the claim for breach of good faith and fair dealing and dismissed the entirety of the fraudulent conveyance claim against Highland, including for the March 2009 Transfers, but the court later vacated that opinion. (Ex. 17, Order at 3-4, UBS Sec. LLC v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., et al, No. 650097/2009 (N.Y. App. Div. 2017)); UBS Sec. LLC v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., et al, 159 A.D.3d 512, 514 (N.Y. App. Div. 2018). In its subsequent decision, the Appellate Division held that the fraudulent conveyance and breach of good faith and fair dealing claims could survive, but only to the extent they arose from conduct occurring after February 24, 2009:

There is no dispute that plaintiffs are precluded from pursuing fraudulent conveyance and breach of implied covenant claims that arose prior to February 24, 2009. However, neither our prior decisions nor the doctrine of res judicata bars plaintiffs from introducing evidence of pre-February 24, 2009 conduct to the extent necessary to prove, with respect to post-February 24, 2009 conduct, their alter ego, fraudulent conveyance and breach of implied covenant claims. The court correctly rejected defendants' arguments in support of dismissal of the remaining claims at issue.

G. The New York Court Holds the Phase I Trial, and Finds the Fund Counterparties Liable.

Although the New York courts barred UBS from pursuing claims against Highland arising before February 24, 2009, UBS's originally-pleaded breach of contract claims against the Fund Counterparties for failing to meet the margin calls in the fall of 2008 survived. (Ex. 10, Compl. ¶¶38-49, UBS Sec. LLC v Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., et al, No. 650097/2009 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. Feb. 24, 2009).) The court bifurcated the case for trial, ruling that Phase I of the trial would be a bench trial on the breach of contract claims against the Fund Counterparties, and the remaining claims, including all of the claims involving post-February 24, 2009 conduct, would be tried in Phase II. (Ex. 18, 5/1/2018 Hearing Tr. at 35:15-22, UBS Securities LLC, et al v. Highland Capital Mgmt. L.P., et al, No. 650097-2009 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. May 1, 2018).)

The New York Court held the Phase I bench trial in July 2018, and on November 14, 2019 the court issued a decision finding the Fund Counterparties liable for breaching the Restructured CLO Warehouse Agreements and awarding damages of $519,374,149, which ultimately resulted in entry of a judgment for $1,039,957,799, with prejudgment interest. (Ex. 5, Decision and Order at 39 UBS Sec. LLC, et al v. Highland Capital Mgmt. L.P., et al, No. 650097/2009 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. Nov. 14, 2019.); Ex. 19, Judgment at 2, UBS Sec. LLC v Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., et al, No. 650097/2010 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. Feb. 10, 2020).) The court made no findings with respect to Highland or the remaining defendants,<sup>10</sup> and those claims were scheduled to be heard during Phase II of the proceedings. On October 16, 2019, the Debtor filed for chapter 11 protection, staying the proceedings against it.

<sup>10</sup> According to UBS, the remaining defendants and claims other than Highland are: (1) Highland CDO Master Fund, L.P., with claims for fraudulent inducement and fraudulent conveyance; (2) Highland Special Opportunities Holding Company, with claims for fraudulent inducement and fraudulent conveyance; (3) Highland Financial Partners, L.P., with claims for alter ego and fraudulent conveyance; (4) Strand Advisors, Inc., for general partner liability; and (5) Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, L.P., with a claim for fraudulent conveyance. (Ex. 20, Pl's Mot. to Bifurcate at 2-3, 15-16, UBS Sec. LLC, et al v. Highland Capital Mgmt. L.P., et al, No. 650097-2009 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. Apr. 18, 2018).)

Only two counts remain against the Debtor: (1) fraudulent conveyance, actual and constructive, premised on the March 2009 Transfers, in which HFP transferred assets to Highland and to the Highland-managed fund co-defendants; and (2) breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing attendant to the contracts underlying the Restructured CLO Warehouse Agreements, based on the March 2009 Transfers.

H. In 2015, UBS Released Claims Against Highland Arising From the March 2009 Transfers to the Credit Strategies Fund and the Crusader Fund.

In 2015, Highland Crusader Offshore Partners, L.P., Highland Crusader Holding Corporation, and Highland Credit Strategies Master Fund, L.P. entered into settlements with UBS. Highland was a signatory to both the Crusader and Credit Strategies settlement agreements. Each agreement settled all of UBS's claims against the applicable fund. The settlement agreements also released Highland from claims by UBS arising from the March 2009 Transfers to the Crusader and Credit Strategies funds. Highland is one of the [REDACTED]

IV. ARGUMENT

In order to establish its claim for over $1 billion against the Debtor, UBS must ignore the decisions issued by the New York Courts and the settlement agreements pursuant to which it released the Debtor from liability arising from most of the March 2009 Transfers. The chapter 11 process, however, does not grant a creditor a "do over" so that it can relitigate claims that are the subject of final, non-appealable decisions issued by state courts, or valid and binding settlement agreements. For the reasons discussed below, the UBS Claim should be disallowed as a matter of law except to the extent UBS is seeking damages with respect to the remaining assets that it alleges were the subject of fraudulent transfers to entities other than Crusader or Credit Strategies in March 2009, which according to its expert were valued at [REDACTED]

A. Standard

The Bankruptcy Code establishes a burden-shifting framework for proving the amount and validity of a claim. “A claim . . . , proof of which is filed under section 501 [of the Bankruptcy Code], is deemed allowed, unless a party in interest . . . objects.” 11 U.S.C. §502(a). “A proof of claim executed and filed in accordance with the [Bankruptcy Rules] shall constitute prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of the claim.” Fed. R. Bankr. P.3001(f); see also In re Armstrong, 347 B.R. 581, 583 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. 2006). However, the ultimate burden of proof for a claim always lies with the claimant. Armstrong, 347 B.R. at 583 (citing Raleigh v. Ill. Dep’t of Rev., 530 U.S. 15 (2000)).

B. Several New York Court Rulings Bar UBS from Seeking Damages From the Debtor Arising From Conduct Occurring Before February 24, 2009.

This Court should disallow the UBS Claim to the extent it seeks to hold the Debtor liable for any conduct predating February 24, 2009 because the New York Courts have repeatedly held that res judicata bars any such claims. UBS Sec. LLC v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., et al, 86 A.D.3d 469, 474 (N.Y. App. Div. 2011); UBS v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., et al, 93 A.D.3d 489, 490 (N.Y. App. Div. 2012); UBS Sec. LLC v Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., et al, No. 650097/09 at 34 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. Mar., 24 2017); UBS Sec. LLC v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., et al, 159 A.D.3d 512, 514 (N.Y. App. Div. 2018). In its proof of claim, UBS seeks $1,039,957,799—the exact amount of the judgment against the Fund Counterparties for their failure to honor the margin calls in the fall of 2008—a claim entirely precluded by res judicata. (Ex. 4, UBS Securities LLC Proof of Claim ¶24, In re Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., 19-34054-sgj11 (N.D. Tex. Jun. 26, 2020) (Claim No. 190); Ex. 19, Judgment at 2, UBS Sec. LLC v Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., et al, No. 650752/10 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. Feb. 10, 2020).). UBS claims that it is entitled to recover the judgment against the Fund Counterparties from the Debtor because Highland was “party to the same contract and exercised complete control over the two liable affiliates—under which Claimant is entitled to damages that are at least as much as the Phase I judgment amount.” (Ex. 4, UBS Securities LLC Proof of Claim ¶24, In re Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., 19-34054-sgj11 (N.D. Tex. Jun. 26, 2020) (Claim No. 190).) This argument flies in the face of the multiple rulings of the New York Courts to the contrary.

Those final, non-appealable New York Court rulings are binding here. See Matter of Brady, Texas, Mun. Gas Corp., 936 F.2d 212, 218 (5th Cir. 1991) (“unless the Code provides otherwise, state courts have concurrent jurisdiction, and bankruptcy courts are prohibited from relitigating these matters if the state courts have already resolved them.”); In re Ocasio, 10 F. App’x 531, 531-32 (9th Cir.2001); In re Bellucci, 119 B.R. 763, 769 (Bankr. E.D. Cal. 1990).

The Debtor and the Redeemer Committee each pointed out in their objections to UBS’s motion to lift the automatic stay that res judicata bars UBS from pursuing these claims. See Debtor’s Obj. to UBS’s Mot. to Lift Automatic Stay ¶25-26, In re Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., 19-34054-sgj11 (N.D. Tex. Jun. 3, 2020) (Doc. No. 687); Redeemer Comm. Obj. to UBS’s Mot. to Lift Automatic Stay at 13-14, In re Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., 19-34054-sgj11 (N.D. Tex. Jun. 8, 2020) (Doc. No. 714).) In its reply, UBS claimed that the New York courts had, in fact, held the opposite—that UBS was expressly permitted to assert claims arising from pre-February 24, 2009 conduct. (UBS Reply ISO its Mot. to Lift Automatic Stay ¶6, In re Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., 19-34054-sgj11 (N.D. Tex. Jun. 11, 2020) (Doc. No. 733B) (“This is virtually identical to the [res judicata] “defense” at hand, and both the State Court and the Appellate Division rejected the Debtor’s ultimate conclusion—that UBS’s ability to prove its claims against the Debtor are, in fact, “limited” to reliance on post-February 2009 conduct only.”) UBS quotes selective portions of those decisions to support its conclusion:

The State Court rejected this point when it ruled on the Debtor’s motion. See Docket No. 688-4 at 25 (Mar. 13, 2017 State Court Summ. J. Op.) (“This court previously rejected the contention, advanced by moving defendants here, that UBS cannot rely on events or conduct occurring before February 2009 to support its alter ego and fraudulent conveyance claims.”). And the Appellate Division squarely rejected it once more on appeal. Ex. 2 at 46 (Mar. 15, 2018 Order) (“The court correctly rejected defendants’ arguments” because “neither our prior decisions nor the doctrine of res judicata bars plaintiffs from introducing evidence of pre-February 24, 2009 conduct to the extent necessary to prove, with respect to post-February 24, 2009 conduct, their alter ego, fraudulent conveyance and breach of implied covenant claims.”).

Id.

UBS’s citations are misleading, at best. The full text of the lower court’s ruling makes clear that UBS is barred from pursuing claims against the Debtor arising before February 24, 2009:

This court previously rejected the contention, advanced by moving defendants here, that UBS cannot rely on events or conduct occurring before February 2009 to support its alter ego and fraudulent conveyance claims. As held in the prior decision, the Appellate Division decisions preclude any fraudulent conveyance claims arising before February 24, 2009. They therefore preclude UBS from recovering for any alleged fraudulent conveyances made before that date. However, proof of pre-February 24, 2009 transfers, and of other conduct involving the operations of the Highland entities, is not prohibited to the extent necessary to prove UBS’s claims for post-February 24, 2009 fraudulent conveyances, which are maintainable under the Appellate Division decisions on an alter ego theory.

(Ex. 15, Ruling at 25, UBS Sec. LLC v Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., et al, No. 650097/2009 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. Mar. 24, 2017) (emphasis added).) Similarly, UBS again selectively omits the portion of the appellate ruling that precludes UBS from pursuing damages arising before February 24, 2009:

There is no dispute that plaintiffs are precluded from pursuing fraudulent conveyance and breach of implied covenant claims that arose prior to February 24, 2009. However, neither our prior decisions nor the doctrine of res judicata bars plaintiffs from introducing evidence of pre-February 24, 2009 conduct to the extent necessary to prove, with respect to post-February 24, 2009 conduct, their alter ego, fraudulent conveyance and breach of implied covenant claims. The court correctly rejected defendants' arguments in support of dismissal of the remaining claims at issue.

The New York Courts ruled that UBS may not pursue claims against Highland arising from conduct occurring before February 24, 2009. The language that UBS cites states only that, in pursuit of its post-February 24, 2009 claims regarding the March 2009 Transfers, UBS may introduce evidence of conduct predating its original complaint.

The "Phase I" judgment that UBS seeks to recover from Highland was, unequivocally, based entirely on conduct predating February 24, 2009. (Ex. 5, Decision and Order at 4-5, UBS Sec. LLC, et al v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., et al, No. 650097-2009 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 2019).) UBS concedes that it seeks to hold Highland liable based on that 2008 conduct, because it was "party to the same contract and exercised complete control over the two liable affiliates" in 2008. (See Ex. 4, UBS Securities LLC Proof of Claim at ¶24, In re Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., 19-34054-sgj11 (N.D. Tex. Jun. 26, 2020) (Claim No. 190).) This Court should disallow UBS's claim to the extent it seeks to impose any liability on the Debtor arising from pre-February 24, 2009 conduct, including liability for the Phase I judgment.

The only remaining claims UBS has against the Debtor are for fraudulent conveyance and the breach of good faith and fair dealing with respect to the March 2009 Transfers. However, as demonstrated below, UBS entered into two settlement agreements in the New York action that substantially reduce UBS's claim to damages [REDACTED] before any prejudgment interest.

C. The Settlement Agreements Between UBS and the Crusader and Credit Strategies Funds Released UBS's Claims for Most of the Damages from the March 2009 Transfers.

This Court should disallow UBS's claim to the extent it seeks damages arising from the March 2009 Transfers to the Crusader Fund and the Credit Strategies Fund, because UBS released those claims in 2015 settlement agreements. Bankruptcy courts have the authority to enforce settlement agreements in the claims adjudication process. In re City Equities Anaheim, Ltd., 22 F.3d 954, 958 (9th Cir. 1994) ("A bankruptcy court, as a court of equity, likewise possesses the power to summarily enforce settlements."); In re Mortg. Analysis Portfolio Strategies, Inc., 221 B.R. 386, 388 (Bankr. W.D. Tex. 1998) (holding that "this Court has the inherent power to enforce settlement agreements between parties."); In re De La Fuente, 409 B.R. 842, 845 (Bankr. S.D. Tex. 2009).

As described above, on March 20, 2009, HFP transferred assets [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] according to UBS's expert in the New York action:

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

On June 11, 2015, UBS agreed to release Highland from [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED] That provision released all claims UBS had against Highland, whether in the form of a fraudulent conveyance claim or a breach of good faith and fair dealing claim, with respect to the March 2009 Transfers to the Credit Strategies Fund.

A few days later, on June 17, 2015, UBS agreed to release Highland from [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED] These provisions release all claims UBS had against Highland—regardless whether the claim was for breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing or for fraudulent conveyance—with respect to the March 20, 2009 Transfers to those entities.

As a result, UBS retained only claims against Highland for losses or other relief arising

[REDACTED] Credit Opportunities Fund, Credit Opportunities Holding Corporation and Highland itself:

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

Based on the values provided by UBS's expert, UBS released Highland from claims arising from the transfer of assets valued at approximately [REDACTED] of the value of the entire transaction. [REDACTED] In exchange for releasing its claims for relief against Crusader, Credit Strategies and Highland arising from those transfers, UBS received [REDACTED] and avoided (to date) five more years of litigation against those funds. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

The Crusader Fund paid for and deserves to receive the full benefit of its bargain for its settlement agreement with UBS. [REDACTED] Crusader did. And the Redeemer Committee insisted that UBS release Highland because without that release, [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED] UBS further claims that [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] UBS Reply ISO its Mot. to Lift Automatic Stay at 9, In re Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., 19-34054-sgj11 (N.D. Tex. Jun. 11, 2020) (Doc. No. 733B).

But the settlement releases are not ambiguous, and their clear language controls—UBS released Highland for [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Shriners Hosp. for Children v. McCarthy Bros. Co., 80 F. Supp. 2d 707, 710 (S.D. Tex. 2000) (“Because the settlement provision at issue in this case contains no ambiguity, it therefore must be construed in accordance with its plain meaning.”) [REDACTED] are both broad terms. “[L]osses’ is legally synonymous with ‘damages,’” and in its good faith and fair dealing claim, UBS is seeking damages arising from the transfers to the Crusader Fund. Nogueiro v. Kaiser Found. Hosps., 250 Cal. Rptr. 478, 481 (Ct. App. 1988); see DAMAGES, Black’s Law Dictionary

(11th ed. 2019) (“Money claimed by, or ordered to be paid to, a person as compensation for loss or injury.”) Further, even if UBS’s claim for damages arising from the March 2009 Transfers was somehow not [REDACTED] UBS’s Claim for damages is a request for [REDACTED] [REDACTED] Confederated Tribe of Colville Reservation v. White, 1996 WL 33407856, at *3 (E.D. Wash. Nov. 7, 1996) (“filing a proof of claim is an affirmative act seeking relief via a court’s adjudication of a dispute.”); In re Barrett Ref. Corp., 221 B.R. 795, 811 (Bankr. W.D. Okla. 1998) (“The filing of a proof of claim is not merely a defense, but is an affirmative claim for relief.”); Mertens v. Hewitt Assocs., 508 U.S. 248, 269 (1993).

UBS released all claims for any type of relief against Highland arising from the March 2009 Transfers to the two funds, including UBS’s claim for breach of good faith and fair dealing arising from that transfer. The Redeemer Committee and the Crusader Fund should be given the full benefit of their bargain from the settlement agreement, and UBS should not be permitted to recover relief from the Debtor that UBS already released. The Crusader Fund and the Redeemer Committee respectfully request that this Court disallow UBS’s claim to the extent it seeks to hold the Debtor liable under any legal theory for damages arising from the March 20, 2009 Transfers to the Crusader Fund or Credit Strategies Fund, including UBS’s claims for fraudulent conveyance and breach of good faith and fair dealing.

CONCLUSION

For all these reasons, this Court should disallow UBS’s claim against the Debtor to the extent that it (1) seeks to hold the Debtor liable for claims arising from conduct occurring before February 24, 2009; and (2) seeks to hold the Debtor liable for claims arising from the March 2009 Transfers with respect to the asset transfers to the Credit Strategies Fund and Crusader Fund.

DEBTOR'S MOTION FOR PARTIAL SUMMARY JUDGMENT
ON PROOF OF CLAIM NOS. 190 AND 191
OF UBS SECURITIES LLC AND UBS AG, LONDON BRANCH

<sup>1</sup> The last four digits of the Debtor's taxpayer identification number are 6725. The headquarters and service address for the Debtor is 300 Crescent Court, Suite 700, Dallas, TX 75201.

Highland Capital Management, L.P., the debtor and debtor-in-possession (the “Debtor”) in the above-captioned chapter 11 case (the “Bankruptcy Case”), respectfully moves the Court (the “Motion”) for entry of an order, in substantially the form attached hereto as Exhibit A, granting partial summary judgment in favor of the Debtor on Proof of Claim No. 190 and Proof of Claim No. 191 (collectively, the “UBS Claim”), which are substantively identical claims filed by UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG, London Branch (collectively, “UBS”).

NO HEARING WILL BE CONDUCTED HEREON UNLESS A WRITTEN RESPONSE IS FILED WITH THE CLERK OF THE UNITED STATES BANKRUPTCY COURT AT EARLE CABELL FEDERAL BUILDING, 1100 COMMERCE STREET, RM. 1254, DALLAS, TX 75242-1496 BY 5:00 P.M. IF NO HEARING ON SUCH NOTICE OR MOTION IS TIMELY REQUESTED, THE RELIEF REQUESTED SHALL BE DEEMED TO BE UNOPPOSED, AND THE COURT MAY ENTER AN ORDER GRANTING THE RELIEF SOUGHT OR THE NOTICED ACTION MAY BE TAKEN.

By this Motion, the Debtor seeks entry of summary of judgment in its favor, and against UBS, as follows:

In UBS’s omnibus response [D.E. 1105] (“UBS Response”) to the objections to the UBS Claim, UBS states that it is not presently seeking to hold the Debtor liable for the approximately $1.1 billion breach of contract judgment [NY D.E. 646] (the “2020 Judgment”) entered on February 10, 2020 in UBS v. Highland Capital Management, L.P., et al., Index No. 650097/2009 (N.Y. Sup. Ct.) against two non-debtors (the “Funds”), and is not presently asserting that the

---

<sup>2</sup> The deadline to file any response to the Motion is set forth in the Scheduling Order With Respect to Proof of Claim Nos. 190 and 191 of UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG, London Branch [D.E. 1163]. Pursuant to that scheduling order, any hearing on the Motion will be held on November 20, 2020 at 9:30 a.m. Central Time.

Debtor is the alter ego of the Funds.<sup>3</sup> UBS Response pgs. 19-20. UBS, however, filed the UBS Claim in the exact amount of its breach of contract judgment with prejudgment interest ($1,039,957,799), and also states that it “preserves all rights to pursue any post-trial relief, including holding the Debtor liable as an alter ego.” UBS Response p. 20 fn. 16.

Any claim UBS may have had to attempt to hold the Debtor liable for the 2020 Judgment, to otherwise hold the Debtor liable as an alter ego on account of any claim relating to the Restructured Warehouse Agreements or any claim asserted in the State Court Litigation, or to obtain other post-trial relief against the Debtor (each, a “Post-Trial Claim”) was a pre-petition claim against the Debtor that UBS was required to assert by June 26, 2020, the bar date applicable to UBS’s claims against the Debtor.<sup>4</sup> UBS failed to assert any such Post-Trial Claim against the Debtor by June 26, 2020. Thus, the Debtor requests entry of summary judgment disallowing any Post-Trial Claim against the Debtor, and providing, in accordance with the Bar Date Order, that UBS shall not be treated as a creditor with respect to any Post-Trial Claim for purposes of voting upon, or receiving distributions under, any chapter 11 plan in the Bankruptcy Case.

Any Post-Trial Claim, and the UBS Claim itself, also are barred by the doctrine of res judicata to the extent UBS seeks recovery from the Debtor for claims that arose prior to the date – February 24, 2009 – that UBS filed its first complaint against the Debtor in UBS v. Highland Capital Management, L.P., et al., Index No. 650097/2009 (N.Y. Sup. Ct.), which resulted in a final judgment on the merits in favor of the Debtor [NY D.E. 84] entered on February 22, 2010. The res judicata doctrine prohibits UBS from seeking to enforce the 2020 Judgment against the

<sup>4</sup> As used herein, the term “Restructured Warehouse Agreements” means and includes (i) the Engagement Letter dated as of March 14, 2008 entered into between UBS Securities LLC and the Debtor, (ii) the Cash Warehouse Agreement dated as of March 14, 2008 entered into between UBS Securities LLC, the Debtor, and the Funds, and (iii) the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement dated as of March 14, 2008 entered into between UBS AG, London Branch, the Debtor, and the Funds.

Debtor, because the New York trial court has determined that the breach of contract by the Funds occurred on December 5, 2008. The res judicata doctrine also prohibits UBS from recovering from the Debtor for any other claim (including any other Post-Trial Claim) that arose prior to February 24, 2009. Therefore, the Debtor requests entry of summary judgment disallowing any portion of the UBS Claim that seeks recovery from the Debtor for any claims that arose prior to February 24, 2009, and disallowing any Post-Trial Claim by UBS that seeks recovery from the Debtor for any claims that arose prior to February 24, 2009.

The remainder of the UBS Claim seeks recovery from the Debtor based on a transaction in March 2009 in which $233,455,147 of assets were transferred from non-debtors to various entities. UBS seeks to recover this amount from the Debtor as an alleged fraudulent conveyance and an alleged breach of a purported implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing.

Of the total amount transferred, $172,411,785 of assets were transferred collectively to Highland Crusader Offshore Partners, L.P., Highland Crusader Holding Corporation, and Highland Credit Strategies Master Fund, L.P. (collectively, the “Settling Defendants”). In 2015, UBS entered into settlement agreements with the Settling Defendants in which UBS expressly released the Debtor and its affiliates from any claims for losses arising from the transfers to the Settling Defendants. Therefore, the Debtor requests entry of summary judgment in its favor (i) disallowing any portion of the UBS Claim that seeks recovery (whether on a fraudulent transfer claim, a claim for breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, or otherwise) of any purported losses relating to the $172,411,785 of assets transferred to the Settling Defendants in March 2009, and (ii) disallowing any principal recovery on the UBS Claim in excess of $61,043,362, i.e., the difference between the total amount transferred in March 2009 ($233,455,147) and the amount released by UBS ($172,411,785) pursuant to the settlement agreements.

The Motion is made pursuant to FED. R. CIV. P. 56, FED. R. BANKR. P. 7056, FED. R. BANKR. P. 9014, N.D. TEX. L.B.R. 7056-1 and N.D. TEX. L.B.R. 9014-1. The Motion is based on the record in the Bankruptcy Case, the Debtor's Opening Brief in Support of Motion for Partial Summary Judgment on Proof of Claim Nos. 190 and 191 of UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG, London Branch (the "Opening Brief"), the Appendix of Exhibits in Support of Debtor's Motion for Partial Summary Judgment on Proof of Claim Nos. 190 and 191 of UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG, London Branch (the "Appendix"), the Declaration of Elissa A. Wagner in Support of Debtor's Motion for Partial Summary Judgment on Proof of Claim Nos. 190 and 191 of UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG, London Branch, and such further evidence as may be presented at or prior to the hearing on the Motion.<sup>5</sup> Each of the matters required under N.D. TEX. L.B.R. 7056-1(c)(1) is set forth in the Opening Brief.

<sup>5</sup> Concurrently herewith, the Debtor is requesting the Court's permission to file an unredacted version of its Opening Brief and certain portions of the Appendix under seal.

WHEREFORE, the Debtor respectfully requests that the Court grant the Motion in its entirety, by entry of an order in substantially the form attached hereto as Exhibit A, and grant the Debtor such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper.

Highland Capital Management, L.P., the debtor and debtor-in-possession (the “Debtor”) in the above-captioned chapter 11 case (the “Bankruptcy Case”), submits this opening brief in support of the Debtor’s Motion for Partial Summary Judgment on Proof of Claim Nos. 190 and 191 of UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG, London Branch (the “Motion”), filed concurrently herewith. For the reasons set forth herein and in the Motion, the Debtor respectfully requests that the Court enter an order, in substantially the form attached as Exhibit A to the Motion, granting partial summary judgment in favor of the Debtor on Proof of Claim No. 190 and Proof of Claim No. 191 (collectively, the “UBS Claim”), which are substantively identical claims filed by UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG, London Branch (collectively, “UBS”).<sup>2</sup>

INTRODUCTION

1. On March 14, 2008, UBS entered into three agreements with CDO Fund, SOHC, and the Debtor to provide the warehouse financing and structuring and placement services for a structured finance vehicle the parties hoped to bring to market. The “Warehouse Facility” was the financing vehicle which would purchase the assets that would back the structured finance vehicle. The Warehouse Facility would be capitalized and financed by equity contributed by CDO Fund and SOHC and financing provided by UBS. The ONLY parties to the agreements were UBS, CDO Fund, SOHC, and the Debtor.<sup>3</sup>

2. Critically, each of the agreements provided that any and all losses in the Warehouse Facility would be borne by only CDO Fund and SOHC. The Debtor was expressly and repeatedly excluded from any such losses. The Engagement Letter states that CDO Fund and SOHC will “bear 100% of the risk of the Warehouse Facility ... .” Engagement Letter ¶ 3(c). The Synthetic <sup>2</sup> All citations herein to “A__” refer to the Appendix of Exhibits in Support of Debtor’s Motion for Partial Summary Judgment on Proof of Claim Nos. 190 and 191 of UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG, London Branch (the “Appendix”). Concurrently herewith, the Debtor is requesting the Court’s permission to file an unredacted version of this opening brief and certain portions of the Appendix under seal.

<sup>3</sup> The three agreements are (i) an Engagement Letter dated as of March 14, 2008 between UBS Securities LLC and the Debtor, (ii) a Cash Warehouse Agreement dated as of March 14, 2008 between UBS Securities LLC, the Debtor, CDO Fund and SOHC, and (iii) a Synthetic Warehouse Agreement dated as of March 14, 2008 between UBS AG, London Branch, the Debtor, CDO Fund and SOHC.

Warehouse Agreement also expressly states “[t]o the extent there are any CDS Losses [losses in the CDS warehouse], the CDO Fund and SOHC shall collectively be responsible for 100% of any such CDS Losses.” Synthetic Warehouse Agreement ¶ 6(C). Likewise, the Cash Warehouse Agreement expressly provided that “any Aggregate Collateral Loss [net losses on the portfolio] shall be allocated to the CDO Fund and to SOHC on the basis of their respective Allocation Percentages [which aggregate 100%].” Cash Warehouse Agreement ¶ 5(A).

3. To make the limitation of liability to CDO Fund and SOHC even more clear, each of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement and the Cash Warehouse Agreement provided for broad releases of the Debtor and its related entities with respect to prior warehouses that formed the basis of the new Synthetic and Cash Warehouse Agreements.

4. When confronted with these clear and unambiguous contracts of sophisticated parties expressly disclaiming liability for the Debtor, the New York Appellate Division dismissed the Debtor from UBS’s lawsuit, and directed entry of final judgment on the merits in favor of the Debtor, based on the Appellate Division’s determination that the warehouse agreements contained no promise by the Debtor “to undertake liability” with respect to UBS’s losses or “to ensure or guarantee” performance by CDO Fund and SOHC. UBS v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., 2010 NY Slip Op 1436, ¶ 1 (N.Y. App. Div.) [A184]. Since then, the Appellate Division has twice found that all of UBS’s claims against the Debtor are barred by res judicata to the extent the claims implicate events prior to February 24, 2009, the date that UBS first brought suit on the warehouse agreements after their termination in December 2008. And in a fourth decision, the Appellate Division extended its res judicata bar to the Debtor’s co-defendants in the case.

5. Desperate to find some way to continue its litigation against the Debtor, UBS cobbled together new claims based on a transaction in March 2009 that had nothing to do with UBS. In March 2009, SOHC’s parent (HFP) – an entity that was not a party to the warehouse agreements and was not named in the UBS litigation until more than a year later – agreed to satisfy certain of its own secured notes by returning, or causing its subsidiaries (also non-defendants) to return, the collateral on those notes. UBS was not a creditor of HFP, and HFP had no obligations to UBS under the warehouse agreements. Therefore, to manufacture some type of claim based on the March 2009 transaction, UBS devised a new theory: that HFP was the alter ego of SOHC, that the parties involved in the March 2009 transaction had fraudulent transfer liability to UBS, and that the March 2009 transfers – only a small portion of which were received by the Debtor – were a breach by the Debtor of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing.

6. Approximately $233 million of assets were transferred in the March 2009 transaction. In 2015, UBS entered into settlement agreements with the parties that received over 80% of those transfers, approximately $172 million. By those settlement agreements, the Debtor was expressly released from any claims “for losses or other relief specifically arising from” the approximately $172 million in transfers. Based on the clear and unambiguous language of the releases, any liability the Debtor could even theoretically have to UBS is limited to a principal amount of approximately $61 million ($233 million of transfers minus $172 million of releases).

7. Finally, UBS’s attempt, in its response to the objections to the UBS Claim, to “preserve all rights” to later seek some type of alter ego relief against the Debtor as a post-trial remedy does nothing to increase the Debtor’s potential liability. Any claim for alter ego or other post-trial relief against the Debtor was a pre-petition claim that UBS was required to assert, if at all, by the bar date applicable to the UBS Claim (June 26, 2020). UBS’s deliberate decision not to assert any such claim by June 26, 2020 operates as a complete bar to any such claim.

SUMMARY OF ARGUMENT

8. By this Motion, the Debtor seeks entry of summary judgment in its favor as to two components of the UBS Claim: (i) UBS’s claim that notwithstanding the bar date in the Bankruptcy Case or the res judicata doctrine it can sometime in the future seek alter ego or other post-trial relief against the Debtor based on claims that arose at least a decade before the petition date; and (ii) UBS's asserted right to recover more than $172 million of purported losses that UBS expressly released in the two settlement agreements executed in 2015.

9. As to the first issue, UBS's omnibus response [D.E. 1105] (the "UBS Response") states that UBS is not presently seeking to hold the Debtor liable for the breach of contract judgment entered against two of the Debtor's co-defendants (Highland CDO Opportunity Master Fund, L.P. ("CDO Fund") and Highland Special Opportunities Holding Company ("SOHC"), CDO Fund and SOHC, collectively, the "Funds"),<sup>4</sup> UBS Response pp. 19-20 [A147-148]. However, UBS is trying to do precisely what it claims not to be doing as it filed the UBS Claim in the exact amount of its breach of contract judgment with prejudgment interest ($1,039,957,799), and also states that it "preserves all rights to pursue any post-trial relief, including holding the Debtor liable as an alter ego." UBS Response p. 20 fn. 16 [A148].

10. Any claim UBS may have had to attempt to hold the Debtor liable for the breach of contract judgment, to otherwise hold the Debtor liable as an alter ego as to any claim relating to the restructured warehouse transaction or the state court litigation, or to obtain other post-trial relief against the Debtor (collectively, a "Post-Trial Claim") was a pre-petition claim against the Debtor. By definition, a "claim" includes any right to payment against a debtor, whether or not reduced to judgment. 11 U.S.C. § 101(5)(A). And, case law is clear that where a claimant had a pre-petition relationship with the debtor, any attempt to seek alter ego relief against the debtor based on claims that arose prior to the petition date is a pre-petition claim even if the judgment the claimant seeks to enforce is entered post-petition.

11. Here, there is no doubt that UBS had a pre-petition relationship with the Debtor, dating at least as far back as the parties' first unsuccessful warehouse transaction in 2007. UBS's claims relating to the 2008 restructured warehouse transaction arose prior to the petition date, and have been the subject of litigation in New York state court (the “State Court”) since early 2009. UBS has had ample opportunity to seek alter ego relief against the Debtor – indeed, the Appellate Division itself noted that UBS’s complaint in the State Court litigation is “thoroughly suffused” with allegations that the Debtor is the alter ego of the Funds – yet UBS has chosen not to do so.

12. UBS’s failure to assert any Post-Trial Claim by the applicable bar date in the Bankruptcy Case – June 26, 2020 – operates as a complete bar to any such claim. See D.E. 488, Order (I) Establishing Bar Dates for Filing Claims and (II) Approving the Form and Manner of Notice Thereof (the “Bar Date Order”) at ¶¶ 4, 11, 16 [A170, A173, A175]; D.E. 765, Order Denying UBS’s Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay to Proceed with State Court Action (the “Stay Relief Order”) at ¶ 2 [A179].<sup>5</sup> Therefore, summary judgment should be entered in favor of the Debtor disallowing any Post-Trial Claim against the Debtor, and providing, in accordance with the Bar Date Order, that UBS shall not be treated as a creditor with respect to any Post-Trial Claim for purposes of voting upon, or receiving distributions under, any chapter 11 plan in the Bankruptcy Case.

13. Any Post-Trial Claim also is barred by the doctrine of res judicata to the extent UBS seeks recovery from the Debtor for claims that arose prior to the date – February 24, 2009 – that UBS filed its first complaint against the Debtor, which resulted in a judgment on the merits in favor of the Debtor. See NY D.E. 84 (“Judgment”) at p. 2 [A182].<sup>6</sup> The Appellate Division repeatedly has held that res judicata bars UBS from seeking recovery from the Debtor for any claims that arose prior to February 24, 2009. UBS v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., 86 A.D.3d 469, 477 (N.Y. App. Div. 2011) (holding that res judicata bars UBS from asserting claims against the Debtor that “implicate events alleged to have taken place before the filing of the original complaint” on February 24, 2009); see also UBS v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., 159 A.D.3d 512, 514 (N.Y. App. Div. 2018) (while UBS may introduce evidence of pre-February 24, 2009 conduct if necessary to prove elements of its claims for post-February 24, 2009 conduct, “there is no dispute that plaintiffs are precluded from pursuing fraudulent conveyance and breach of implied covenant claims that arose prior to February 24, 2009”).

<sup>5</sup> The Bar Date Order and Stay Relief Order are attached as Exhibits 3-4 to the Appendix.

<sup>6</sup> The Judgment is attached as Exhibit 5 to the Appendix, and the Appellate Division decision directing entry of the Judgment – UBS v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., 2010 NY Slip Op 1436 (N.Y. App. Div.) – is attached as Exhibit 6 to the Appendix. All citations herein to “NY D.E. ___” refer to docket entries in UBS v. Highland Capital Management, L.P., et al., Index No. 650097/2009 (N.Y. Sup. Ct.).

14. The Appellate Division also has confirmed that res judicata bars UBS from seeking alter ego relief to recover against the Debtor’s co-defendants for pre-February 24, 2009 claims. UBS v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., 93 A.D.3d 489, 490 (N.Y. App. Div. 2012) (holding that UBS’s claims against other defendants – including the claim that Highland Financial Partners, L.P. (“HFP”) is the alter ego of one of the Funds – are likewise limited to conduct that occurred after February 24, 2009).<sup>7</sup> Moreover, UBS cannot circumvent the res judicata effect of the prior judgment on the merits in favor of the Debtor by styling any Post-Trial Claim as some type of separate post-judgment remedy. Where, as here, a judgment on the merits has been entered in favor of one defendant, a plaintiff cannot later seek to hold that defendant liable as an alter ego for a judgment entered against a different defendant arising out of the same dispute. See, e.g., Bd. of Managers of the 195 Hudson St. Condo. v. Jeffrey M. Brown Assocs., 652 F. Supp. 2d 463, 467-68 (S.D.N.Y. 2009).

15. Application of the res judicata doctrine to the UBS Claim prohibits UBS from seeking to enforce the breach of contract judgment against the Debtor, because the State Court has determined that the breach of contract occurred on December 5, 2008. UBS Claim ¶ 23 [A17]; UBS Claim Ex. B [A100]. It also prohibits UBS from asserting any other Post-Trial Claim against the Debtor to recover damages for other pre-February 24, 2009 claims. Therefore, summary judgment should be entered in favor of the Debtor disallowing any Post-Trial Claim against the Debtor to the extent UBS seeks recovery from the Debtor for any claims that arose prior to February 24, 2009.

16. Application of the doctrine of res judicata therefore prohibits UBS from seeking recovery from the Debtor for any losses related to the Cash and Synthetic Warehouse Agreements that were terminated in December 2008 and for which UBS first brought claims on February 24, 2009. This required application of the doctrine of res judicata reduces UBS's claims against the estate to its fraudulent conveyance and bootstrap implied covenant claims which have been substantially diminished by UBS's own settlement agreements.

17. With respect to the second issue on which the Debtor seeks summary judgment – UBS's asserted right to recover more than $172 million of purported losses that UBS released pursuant to two settlement agreements it executed in 2015 – summary judgment should be entered in favor of the Debtor based on the clear and unambiguous language of the settlement agreements which release the Debtor from substantially all liability, and UBS's own descriptions of its claims against the Debtor.

18. UBS has asserted two claims against the Debtor: (i) a claim to avoid and recover alleged fraudulent transfers made in March 2009 by HFP to the Debtor, Highland Crusader Offshore Partners, L.P. and Highland Crusader Holding Corporation (collectively, "Crusader"), Highland Credit Strategies Master Fund, L.P. ("Credit Strategies" and, with Crusader, the "Settling Defendants"), and other parties; and (ii) a claim for an alleged breach of a purported implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing. UBS's operative complaint against the Debtor (the "2010 Complaint") makes clear that, by its implied covenant claim, UBS seeks to recover losses or damages specifically arising out of the March 2009 transfers to the Settling Defendants.<sup>8</sup> See, e.g., 2010 Compl. ¶¶ 165-66 [A250] (alleging, in support of the implied covenant cause of action, that the Debtor caused UBS to suffer “losses and damages” by causing the March 2009 transfers to the Settling Defendants and other parties).

19. In June 2015, UBS entered into settlement agreements (collectively, the “Settlement Agreements”) in which it released the Debtor and its affiliates from any claims for losses arising from the alleged fraudulent transfers to the Settling Defendants. The UBS releases in favor of the Debtor are clear, unambiguous and broad. In fact, the “Claims” released are broadly defined to encompass both contractual and tort causes of action for “losses or other relief specifically arising” from the alleged fraudulent transfers to the Settling Defendants.<sup>9</sup> Incorporating the definitions set forth in the Settlement Agreements (including the broad definition of “Claims”), the Settlement Agreements provide:

... [UBS does] hereby release, and covenant not to sue, [the Debtor] with respect to such [claims, actions, causes of action, demands, liabilities, debts, damages, or obligations of whatsoever kind, name, description or nature, be they contractual, tort or statutory, known or unknown, and charges of whatever nature, known and unknown, arising out of, or directly or indirectly relating to, the Knox Agreement [the Warehouse Agreements] and/or the UBS Litigation [the UBS litigation seeking recovery for losses under the Warehouse Agreements]] to the limited extent the [claims, actions, causes of action, demands, liabilities, debts, damages, or obligations of whatsoever kind, name, description or nature, be they contractual, tort or statutory, known or unknown, and charges of whatever nature, known and unknown, arising out of, or directly or indirectly relating to, the Knox Agreement and/or the UBS Litigation] are for losses or other relief specifically arising from the fraudulent transfers to [Crusader and Credit Strategies] alleged in the UBS Litigation ... .

Crusader Settlement Agreement §§ 5.2, 5.3 [A265-266] (emphasis added); see also Credit Strategies Settlement Agreement §§ 5.2, 5.3 [A299-300].

<sup>9</sup> UBS has identified D.E. 953-6 as its settlement agreement with Crusader, and has identified D.E. 953-9 as its settlement agreement with Credit Strategies. UBS Response pp. 10-11 [A138-139]. The agreement with Crusader (“Crusader Settlement Agreement”) is attached as Exhibit 11 to the Appendix, and the agreement with Credit Strategies (“Credit Strategies Settlement Agreement”) is attached as Exhibit 12 to the Appendix.

20. The clear and unambiguous language of the Settlement Agreements releases the Debtor from all losses or other relief specifically arising from the alleged fraudulent transfers to the Settling Defendants, whether those losses are on account of UBS's fraudulent transfer claim or its undeniably derivative implied covenant claim. UBS agrees that its releases of the Debtor are unambiguous, but nonetheless contends that the releases apply only to UBS's fraudulent transfer "claim" (not capitalized), and not UBS's implied covenant "claim" (not capitalized). UBS Response p. 23-24 [A151-152].

21. Under New York law, which governs both Settlement Agreements, the interpretation of unambiguous contract language is a matter of law for the Court. New York's rules of contract interpretation are well-established, and the application of those rules to the Settlement Agreements shows that the Debtor's interpretation of the Settlement Agreements is the only reasonable one, for at least the following two reasons:

- First, the Court must view each contract as a whole, and avoid any construction that requires a word to have different meanings in different provisions of the same contract. Here, UBS's proposed interpretation would require the Court to give the broadly defined term "Claim" a more limited meaning only when that term is used to describe UBS's releases of the Debtor. Applying a consistent meaning to the term "Claim" as defined in the Settlement Agreements, UBS's releases of the Debtor encompass UBS's claims and causes of action – whether contractual (implied covenant), or tort or statutory (fraudulent transfer) – for losses specifically arising out of the transfers to the Settling Defendants.
- Second, the Court should not read in language that does not appear within the "four corners" of a contract. UBS's position depends on the notion that UBS's release of the Debtor "relates only to a particular claim ... not to any other claim." UBS Response p. 24 [A152]. That limitation, though, appears nowhere in the Settlement Agreements. Aside from the broadly defined term "Claims" – which supports only the Debtor's interpretation – UBS's release of losses specifically arising from the alleged fraudulent transfers to the Settling Defendants makes no reference to UBS's fraudulent transfer "claim" against any party.

22. In the event the Court somehow determines the Settlement Agreements are ambiguous, and considers extrinsic evidence to interpret the release provisions, the extrinsic evidence supports only the Debtor's interpretation. After the Settlement Agreements were executed, the Debtor advised the State Court that UBS had released the Debtor "from any liability relating to the alleged fraudulent transfers with the Settling Defendants, and the Court will need to likewise enforce these provisions." 06/13/17 Mot. Lim. Opp. at p. 19 of 30 (emphasis added) [A324].<sup>10</sup> That description is consistent with only the Debtor's interpretation of the Settlement Agreements, and UBS did not dispute the Debtor's statement.

23. While UBS agrees that the Settlement Agreements are unambiguous, UBS nonetheless attached to the UBS Response, as additional extrinsic evidence relating to the Settlement Agreements, two email chains reflecting UBS's negotiations with counsel for the Settling Defendants.<sup>11</sup> Those negotiations, to any extent the Court considers them, show that the parties to the Settlement Agreements considered different ways to describe UBS's releases of the Debtor, and UBS insisted that the releases be described in terms of "losses or other relief" instead of by reference to particular claims – which is completely at odds with UBS's current position that the releases only apply to one particular claim. Notably, even when discussing the scope of the releases in its email correspondence with the Settling Defendants, UBS never asserted that its releases of the Debtor did not encompass its implied covenant claim.

24. In sum, the unambiguous language of the Settlement Agreements establishes that summary judgment should be entered in favor of the Debtor disallowing the UBS Claim to the extent that UBS seeks to recover any of the more than $172 million of purported losses expressly released pursuant to the Settlement Agreements. Summary judgment likewise should be entered <sup>10</sup> The relevant excerpt from the Debtor's opposition brief in the State Court litigation, which was attached as Exhibit 18 to the UBS Response, is attached as Exhibit 13 to the Appendix. As discussed below, this excerpt also negates UBS's argument that the Debtor is judicially estopped from enforcing the releases.

<sup>11</sup> The email chain between counsel for UBS and counsel for Credit Strategies (UBS Response Ex. 35) is attached as Exhibit 14 to the Appendix, and the email chain between counsel for UBS and counsel for Crusader (UBS Response Ex. 34) is attached as Exhibit 15 to the Appendix.

in favor of the Debtor even if the Court determines that the Settlement Agreements are ambiguous and considers relevant extrinsic evidence.

25. For the reasons summarized above, and discussed in further detail below, the Debtor respectfully requests that the Court grant the Motion in its entirety, and enter an order in substantially the form attached as Exhibit A to the Motion.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

26. The Court has jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 157 and 1334. This is a core proceeding pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 157(b)(2)(A)-(B) and (O). The Court has both statutory and Constitutional authority to enter final orders and judgments in this proceeding, by which the Debtor seeks partial disallowance of the UBS Claim. See, e.g., Stern v. Marshall, 564 U.S. 462, 499 (2011) (relevant question in determining Constitutional authority of bankruptcy courts is whether “the action at issue stems from the bankruptcy itself or would necessarily be resolved in the claims allowance process”).

27. Venue in this district is proper pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1408 and 1409.

STATEMENT OF UNDISPUTED FACTS

I. Claims Asserted by UBS in the State Court Litigation and Relevant Decisions Issued by the NY Appellate Division

29. UBS filed its first complaint against the Debtor and the Funds on February 24, 2009, in UBS v. Highland Capital Management, L.P., et al., Index No. 650097/2009 (N.Y. Sup. Ct.) (the “2009 Action”). UBS Claim ¶ 17 [A014].<sup>12</sup> In that complaint, UBS asserted a breach of contract claim against the Debtor based on the warehouse agreements entered into in 2008 between UBS, the Debtor and the Funds which provided that the Funds, not the Debtor, would bear the risk of any investment losses. UBS Response p. 6 (warehouse agreements placed the risk of loss on the Funds, not the Debtor) [A134]; id. at p. 8 (describing UBS's allegations in its first complaint) [A136].

30. UBS's breach of contract claim against the Debtor was dismissed in early 2010, resulting in the entry of final judgment on the merits in favor of the Debtor. NY D.E. 84 at p. 2 [A182]. Judgment was entered based on the Appellate Division's determination that the warehouse agreements contained no promise by the Debtor "to undertake liability" with respect to UBS's losses or "to ensure or guarantee" the Funds' performance. UBS, 2010 NY Slip Op 1436 at ¶ 1 [A184].

31. After the Debtor was dismissed from the 2009 Action, UBS amended its complaint in the 2009 Action to add five new defendants (all non-debtors), and filed a new, separate action against the Debtor on June 28, 2010, captioned as UBS v. Highland Capital Management, L.P., Index No. 650752/2010 (N.Y. Sup. Ct.) (the "2010 Action"). See UBS Claim ¶ 19 [A016]; UBS Claim Ex. A at p. 1 [A024]; UBS Response p. 9 [A137]; 2010 Compl. [A202-259]. In the 2010 Action, UBS asserted claims against the Debtor for fraudulent transfer and breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing. UBS Response p. 9 [A137]. The only post-February 24, 2009 conduct described in the 2010 Complaint relates to the transaction in March 2009 (the "March 2009 Transaction") by which certain assets were transferred by HFP or its subsidiaries to the Settling Defendants and other noteholders in order to extinguish secured notes issued by HFP in 2008. 2010 Compl. ¶¶ 82-85 (discussing 2008 note offering and granting of security interests), ¶¶ 109-114 (identifying March 2009 Transaction as Debtor's post-February 24, 2009 conduct) [A229-231, A236-238]. A total of approximately $233 million of assets were transferred in the March 2009 Transaction. UBS Response p. 6

[A134]. UBS's expert witness calculated the exact amount as $233,455,147. 03/08/13 Expert Report of Louis Dudney (Excerpt Only) [A365].<sup>13</sup>

32. The 2010 Complaint makes clear that UBS's claim for breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing seeks to recover "losses or other relief" arising out of the transfers in March 2009 alleged to be avoidable under the New York fraudulent conveyance statute. The implied covenant claim is set forth as UBS's third cause of action. 2010 Compl. ¶¶ 157-166 [A248-250]. In support of that cause of action, UBS alleged that the Debtor "caused the March 2009 Fraudulent Conveyance, which transferred assets to" the Settling Defendants and other parties, and thereby (according to UBS) caused UBS to incur and suffer "losses and damages ..." Id. at ¶¶ 165-66 [A250]. The "March 2009 Fraudulent Conveyance" was defined as the transaction in March 2009 by which assets were transferred from HFP or its subsidiaries to the Settling Defendants and other parties, which (according to UBS) both breached the implied covenant and constituted a fraudulent conveyance. Id. at ¶¶ 111-12 [A237-238]. The two claims are intertwined and based on the identical facts and circumstances.

33. As to UBS's new claims against the additional defendants named in the 2009 Action, UBS's amended complaint in the 2009 Action included a claim for declaratory relief against HFP seeking a determination that HFP was the alter ego of one of the Funds. UBS Claim ¶ 19 [A016]. The alter ego claim against HFP is the only alter ego relief that UBS expressly sought in the State Court litigation. UBS Response pp. 19-20 [A147-148]. As the Appellate Division noted, however, UBS's complaint was "thoroughly suffused with allegations that [the Debtor] was essentially the alter ego of the parties it induced to breach the agreements." UBS, 86 A.D.3d at 477 [A193].

34. In 2011 and 2012, the Appellate Division eliminated, or otherwise significantly limited, UBS's claims against the Debtor and the new defendants. Both decisions applied res judicata to restrict UBS from seeking recovery for any conduct that occurred prior to the date on which UBS filed its original complaint in the 2009 Action (i.e., February 24, 2009).

35. In particular, in 2011, the Appellate Division held that UBS is barred, under the doctrine of res judicata, from asserting claims against the Debtor that "implicate events alleged to have taken place before the filing of the original complaint" on February 24, 2009. See UBS, 86 A.D.3d at 474 [A191]. Based on this holding, the Appellate Division dismissed "those portions" of UBS's fraudulent conveyance and implied covenant claims against the Debtor "that rely on conduct pre-dating the commencement of the prior action." Id. at 469 [A189]. In 2012, the Appellate Division extended its res judicata ruling to the Debtor's co-defendants in the state court litigation, holding that UBS's claims against other defendants – including the claim that HFP is the alter ego of one of the Funds – are likewise limited to conduct that occurred after February 24, 2009. See UBS, 93 A.D.3d at 490 [A195-196].

36. As set forth below, based on these unambiguous rulings, the Court should enter summary judgment disallowing any claims by UBS to hold the Debtor liable for the Phase I breach of contract judgment of $1.1 billion under a theory of breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing or alter ego.

II. UBS's Settlement Agreements with Crusader and Credit Strategies

37. In June 2015, UBS released its claims as to the majority of its alleged losses arising out of the March 2009 Transaction, via the Settlement Agreements with Crusader and Credit Strategies. The Settlement Agreements, which are virtually identical, specifically identify the Debtor – defined as "HCMLP" at p. 1 of the Settlement Agreements – as one of the "Covered Persons" to which UBS granted releases of certain "Claims," and include UBS in the definition of "UBS Releasing Parties." See Settlement Agreements p. 1 (defining entities) [A261, A296], §

5.2 (defining “UBS Releasing Parties”) [A265, A299], § 5.3 (defining “Covered Persons”)

[A265, A299]. The term “Claims” is defined as:

... any and all claims, actions, causes of action, demands, liabilities, debts, damages, or obligations of whatsoever kind, name, description or nature, be they contractual, tort or statutory, known or unknown, and charges of whatever nature, known and unknown, arising out of, or directly or indirectly relating to, the Knox Agreement and/or the UBS Litigation ... .

Crusader Settlement Agreement § 5.2 [A265]; see also Credit Strategies Settlement Agreement § 5.2 [A299].

38. The relevant release language in the Crusader Settlement Agreement provides:

... the UBS Releasing Parties do hereby release, and covenant not to sue, the Covered Persons with respect to such Claims to the limited extent the Claims are for losses or other relief specifically arising from the fraudulent transfers to Crusader alleged in the UBS Litigation ... .

Crusader Settlement Agreement § 5.3 [A265-266]; see also Credit Strategies Settlement Agreement § 5.3 (identical language except that “Crusader” is replaced with “Credit Strategies”) [A299-300].

39. Incorporating the definitions set forth in the Settlement Agreements, §§ 5.3 of the Settlement Agreements provide:

... [UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG, London Branch] do hereby release, and covenant not to sue, [the Debtor] with respect to such [claims, actions, causes of action, demands, liabilities, debts, damages, or obligations of whatsoever kind, name, description or nature, be they contractual, tort or statutory, known or unknown, and charges of whatever nature, known and unknown, arising out of, or directly or indirectly relating to, the Knox Agreement and/or the UBS Litigation] to the limited extent the [claims, actions, causes of action, demands, liabilities, debts, damages, or obligations of whatsoever kind, name, description or nature, be they contractual, tort or statutory, known or unknown, and charges of whatever nature, known and unknown, arising out of, or directly or indirectly relating to, the Knox Agreement and/or the UBS Litigation] are for losses or other relief specifically arising from the fraudulent transfers to [Crusader and Credit Strategies] alleged in the UBS Litigation ... .

Crusader Settlement Agreement § 5.3 [A265-266]; see also Credit Strategies Settlement Agreement § 5.3 [A299-300].

40. This language unambiguously releases the Debtor from, among other things, all claims, causes of action and liabilities – whether contractual or tort – for losses or other relief specifically arising from the alleged fraudulent transfers to the Settling Defendants. UBS has admitted that $172,411,785 of assets were transferred to the Settling Defendants in the March 2009 Transaction. UBS Response p. 23 [A151]; 03/08/13 Expert Report of Louis Dudney (Excerpt Only) [A365]. The expert report of UBS’s witness reflects that [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED] for a total of $172,411,785 transferred to the Settling Defendants [REDACTED] in the March 2009 Transaction.<sup>14</sup> 03/08/13 Expert Report of Louis Dudney (Excerpt Only) [A365].

41. UBS agrees that the Settlement Agreements are unambiguous. UBS Response p. 23 [A151] (the “Court need look no further than the plain language of the Settlements”). Nonetheless, UBS offered up, as exhibits to the UBS Response, three pieces of extrinsic evidence for the Court to consider if the Court were to determine that the contract language is ambiguous. These items not only do not support UBS’s effort to create ambiguity where none exists, they in fact bolster the Debtor’s position. First, Exhibit 18 to the UBS Response is a brief filed in the State Court in 2017 in which the Debtor described the Settlement Agreements as follows:

The settlements likewise release Defendant Highland Capital Management, L.P. from any liability relating to the alleged fraudulent transfers with the Settling Defendants, and the Court will need to likewise enforce these provisions.

06/13/17 Mot. Lim. Opp. at p. 19 of 30 (emphasis added) [A324]. The Debtor has never taken any position inconsistent with that statement.

<sup>14</sup> As identified in UBS’s expert report, Crusader includes Crusader Fund and Highland Crusader Holding Corporation. 03/08/13 Expert Report of Louis Dudney (Excerpt Only) [A365].

42. In addition, UBS has identified two sets of email communications as extrinsic evidence relating to the releases: (i) a June 1, 2015 email chain between counsel for UBS and counsel for Credit Strategies [A327-329]; and (ii) a June 5-7, 2015 email chain between counsel for UBS and counsel for Crusader [A331-362]. See UBS Response pp. 27-28 [A155-156]. Nothing in the email correspondence or attachments limits the scope of the releases to UBS's fraudulent transfer claim or cause of action – like the Settlement Agreements, the discussion is framed in terms of “losses or other relief” – and certainly nothing states that the implied covenant claim or cause of action was meant to be excluded from the releases even though, as set forth above, it seeks “losses or other relief” on account of the alleged fraudulent transfers.

43. Indeed, in response to a comment from Crusader's counsel that certain changes were proposed “[s]o that the parties are clear that the claim for breach of good faith and fair dealing in connection with the transfer of assets to Crusader is encompassed within the scope of the release UBS is granting to Highland ...,” UBS's counsel did not contend that the implied covenant cause of action was not covered by the releases, but only that UBS would not change the release language because “we spent a lot of time with credit strat on this language and ubs is not going to change it for this agreement because it could create problems and we still don't understand what your concern is beyond a highly improbable hypothetical.” A331-332.

III. Additional Relevant Procedural History of the State Court Litigation

44. Subsequent events in the State Court litigation confirm that the releases extended to the breach of implied covenant claim predicated on the alleged fraudulent transfers. On more than one occasion in the State Court litigation, UBS emphasized the close nexus between its fraudulent transfer claim and its implied covenant claim. As described by UBS in its pre-trial brief seeking bifurcation of its breach of contract claim, on the one hand, and its implied covenant and fraudulent transfer claims, on the other hand, UBS's implied covenant claim “involves [the Debtor's] role in the March 2009 fraudulent conveyances [and] overlaps factually with the ...

fraudulent conveyance claims.” NY D.E. 472 at p. 3 [A368].<sup>15</sup> During a related telephonic hearing with the State Court, UBS conceded that its implied covenant claim is the same as its fraudulent transfer claim:

THE COURT: And is it also the plaintiffs’ position that the implied covenant claim relates to the fraudulent conveyance claim and not to the fraudulent inducement?

MR. CLUBOK: Absolutely, yes.

...

THE COURT: Ms. Klein, isn’t the implied covenant claim as pleaded based solely on post entry into transaction alleged wrongful or fraudulent conveyances?

... [response by defendants’ counsel] ...

THE COURT: Mr. Clubok, will you respond.

...

MR. CLUBOK: ... basically, you know, the implied covenant of good-faith and fair-dealing claim that we now have is that they shouldn’t have committed fraudulent conveyances to make it certain that these two parties couldn’t have paid.

05/01/18 State Court Hrg. Tr. at 5:14-18, 7:16-10:16 [A372, 374-377].<sup>16</sup>

45. Phase I of the trial commenced on July 9, 2018. UBS Claim ¶ 23 [A017]. Phase I did not involve any claims asserted by UBS against the Debtor. Instead, the Phase I trial was limited to UBS’s breach of contract claim against the Funds, and certain contractual counterclaims asserted by the Debtor. UBS Claim ¶¶ 19, 22 [A016-017]. Phase I of the trial concluded on July 27, 2018. UBS Claim ¶ 23 [A017]. The State Court issued its decision on November 14, 2019, determining that the Funds breached the warehouse agreements on December 5, 2008, and the Phase I judgment was entered on February 10, 2020. UBS Claim ¶ 23 [A017-018]; UBS Claim Ex. B [A100]. UBS has calculated the amount of its breach of contract judgment against the Funds, including prejudgment interest, as totaling $1,039,957,799.44. UBS Claim ¶ 23 [A018].

<sup>15</sup> The relevant excerpt from UBS’s pre-trial bifurcation brief is attached as Exhibit 17 to the Appendix.

IV. Proceedings in the Bankruptcy Court

46. The Debtor commenced the Bankruptcy Case in the District of Delaware on October 16, 2019 (the “Petition Date”), by filing its voluntary petition for relief [D.E. 3] under chapter 11 of title 11 of the United States Code (the “Bankruptcy Code”). The Bankruptcy Case was transferred to this Court on December 4, 2019. D.E. 186.

47. On March 2, 2020, the Court entered the Bar Date Order establishing April 8, 2020 as the general bar date in the Bankruptcy Case. A169-176. The Bar Date Order provides that: (i) “all entities holding claims against the Debtor that arose before” the Petition Date “shall file proofs of claim” by the general bar date of April 8, 2020 [Bar Date Order ¶ 4]; (ii) the general bar date “applies to all types of claims against the Debtor that arose prior to the Petition Date” with the term “claim” having “the meaning given to it in section 101(5) of the Bankruptcy Code” [id. at ¶¶ 2, 4 (emphasis in original)]; and (iii) any entity required to file a proof of claim form that fails to do so by the applicable bar date “shall not be treated as a creditor with respect to such claim for purposes of voting upon, or receiving distributions under, any chapter 11 plan” in the Bankruptcy Case [id. at ¶ 16]. The term “claim” is broadly defined by the Bankruptcy Code as including any “right to payment, whether or not such right is reduced to judgment, liquidated, unliquidated, fixed, contingent, matured, unmatured, disputed, undisputed, legal, equitable, secured, or unsecured.” 11 U.S.C. § 101(5)(A).

48. On March 24, 2020, the Court entered an order [D.E. 547] approving a stipulation between the Debtor and UBS whereby the parties agreed to extend the bar date for UBS’s claims against the Debtor until the later of (i) June 22, 2020 and (ii) five business days after entry of an order on any motion filed by UBS on or before May 20, 2020 seeking relief from the automatic stay. D.E. 547 at pp. 2-3.

49. UBS filed a motion for relief from the automatic stay (“Stay Relief Motion”) on May 20, 2020. D.E. 644. The Debtor, the Redeemer Committee of the Highland Crusader Fund (“Redeemer Committee”), the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors, and Acis Capital Management GP, LLC all filed objections to the Stay Relief Motion. D.E. 687, 690, 694, 701.

50. Following a hearing on June 15, 2020, the Court entered the Stay Relief Order on June 19, 2020 denying the Stay Relief Motion. The Stay Relief Order also set June 26, 2020 as the deadline for UBS to file its proof of claim against the Debtor (the “UBS Bar Date”). Stay Relief Order ¶ 2 [A179].

V. UBS’s Claim and Response to Claim Objections

51. UBS filed the UBS Claim in the Bankruptcy Case on June 26, 2020. The UBS Claim consists of two substantively identical claims: (i) Claim No. 190 filed by UBS Securities LLC; and (ii) Claim No. 191 filed by UBS AG, London Branch. UBS Claim ¶ 2 (describing Claim Nos. 190 and 191 as “substantially the same”) [A007]. The UBS Claim asserts a general unsecured claim against the Debtor for $1,039,957,799.40, i.e., the exact amount of UBS’s breach of contract judgment against the Funds as calculated with prejudgment interest by UBS. UBS Claim at Claim Form p. 2 [A003]; UBS Claim ¶ 23 [A017-018].

52. UBS states in the UBS Claim that it “will seek damages for the Debtor’s various breaches of the implied covenant as well as its specific role in the fraudulent transfer scheme.” UBS Claim ¶ 24 [A018]; see also UBS Claim ¶ 26 [A019] (UBS “hereby asserts a claim” for “damages arising from the Debtor’s breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, its specific role in directing the fraudulent transfers of assets involving HFP” and interest, punitive damages and attorneys’ fees). In describing its implied covenant claim against the Debtor, UBS asserts that “the Debtor undertook a litany of other actions to ensure that ... [UBS] would not be able to collect any judgment arising out of the litigation” with SOHC and CDO Fund. UBS Claim ¶ 15 [A013]. According to UBS, “such actions” included “a series of fraudulent transfers out of, and away from” HFP that “occurred in 2009.” UBS Claim ¶¶ 15-16 [A013-014]. UBS contends that “such actions” constituted “breaches of the Debtor’s duty of good faith and fair dealing” under the Warehouse Agreements. UBS Claim ¶ 16 [A014]; see also UBS Claim ¶ 18 [A015-016] (specifically describing the March 2009 transfers to the Settling Defendants and other parties as an alleged breach of the implied covenant by the Debtor).<sup>17</sup> This verbiage, and the absence of any specific description of any other post-February 24, 2009 conduct, makes clear that UBS’s implied covenant claim that survived the Appellate Division, First Department’s res judicata rulings is predicated on the only actionable conduct post-dating February of 2009, the alleged fraudulent transfers in March 2009.

53. The Debtor, and the Redeemer Committee and the Highland Crusader Funds (“Redeemer/Crusader”), each objected to the UBS Claim on August 7, 2020. D.E. 928, 933. UBS filed the UBS Response on September 25, 2020. D.E. 1105. The UBS Response and subsequent statements made by UBS’s counsel at the status conference on the UBS Claim confirm that UBS’s claim for breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing seeks losses or other relief specifically arising from the alleged fraudulent transfers to the Settling Defendants and other parties in March 2009. See UBS Response pp. 6, 18 (arguing at p. 18 that “under its implied covenant claim, UBS is seeking damages from the Debtor resulting not just from HCM’s fraudulently transferring assets away from SOHC’s alter ego, HFP (or its subsidiaries), in March 2009 ...” but then referencing as support for that statement a list of bullet points on p. 6 which identify the March 2009 Transaction as the only post-February 24, 2009 conduct) [A134, A146]; 10/06/20 Status Conf. Tr. 20:4-19 [A382] (argument by UBS’s counsel that the post-February 2009 transfers support “not just fraudulent transfer but a separate claim of the breach of the implied duty of good faith and fair dealing”).<sup>18</sup>

<sup>18</sup> The October 6, 2020 transcript is attached as Exhibit 19 to the Appendix.

ARGUMENT

54. Rule 56 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, made applicable herein by Rules 7056 and 9014 of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure, authorizes the Court to grant partial summary judgment where, as here, judgment is sought as to part of a claim. FED. R. CIV. P. 56; FED. R. BANKR. P. 7056; FED. R. BANKR. P. 9014. “Summary judgment is appropriate if the record discloses that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact and that the moving party is entitled to judgment as a matter of law.” James v. Sadler, 909 F.2d 834, 836 (5th Cir. 1990) (internal quotation marks omitted). A “genuine issue of material fact” is present only if the evidence “is such that a reasonable fact finder could return a verdict for the non-movant.” Manchester EB-5, LLC v. Forest Park Realty Partners III, L.P. (In re Forest Park Realty Partners, III, L.P.), 2016 Bankr. LEXIS 3980, *29 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. November 15, 2016) (citation omitted); see also James, 909 F.2d at 837 (standard of review “is not merely whether there is a sufficient factual dispute to permit the case to go forward, but whether a rational trier of fact could find for the non-moving party based upon the record evidence before the court”).

I. The UBS Claim Must Be Disallowed to the Extent UBS Seeks to Enforce the Breach of Contract Judgment Against the Debtor, Obtain Post-Trial Relief Against the Debtor, or “Preserve” Any Supposed Rights to Do So

A. Any Attempt by UBS to Enforce the Breach of Contract Judgment or Obtain Other Post-Trial Relief Against the Debtor Is Time-Barred

55. Pursuant to the Bar Date Order and the Stay Relief Order, UBS was required to file a proof of claim asserting all claims against the Debtor that arose prior to the Petition Date – whether reduced to judgment, unliquidated, unmatured, contingent, legal, equitable, or otherwise – by the UBS Bar Date of June 26, 2020. Bar Date Order ¶¶ 2, 4 (incorporating the definition of “claim” under 11 U.S.C. § 101(5)) [A170]; Stay Relief Order ¶ 2 [A179]. As to any pre-petition claim not asserted by UBS by the UBS Bar Date, UBS “shall not be treated as a creditor with respect to such claim for purposes of voting upon, or receiving distributions under, any chapter 11 plan” in the Bankruptcy Case. Bar Date Order ¶ 16 [A175].

56. Any claim (or right to payment) UBS may have had against the Debtor to attempt to enforce the $1.1 billion Phase I breach of contract judgment against the Debtor, to otherwise hold the Debtor liable “as an alter ego” as to any claim asserted by UBS in connection with the restructured warehouse transaction or the State Court litigation, or to obtain other “post-trial relief” against the Debtor relating to the breach of contract or other claims asserted in the State Court litigation was a claim that arose prior to the Petition Date. UBS has admitted that it has not yet asserted any such Post-Trial Claim in the Bankruptcy Case, but claims to preserve all rights to do so in the future. UBS Response pgs. 19-20 (“UBS has not asserted and is not asserting that the Debtor was an alter ego of the Fund Counterparties.”) [A147-148]; UBS Response p. 20 fn. 16 (“UBS, of course, preserves all rights to pursue any post-trial relief, including holding the Debtor liable as an alter ego.”) [A148]. UBS’s failure to assert any such alter ego claim prior to the UBS Bar Date, which appears to be deliberate, operates as a complete bar to any such claim against the Debtor. Undoubtedly such claim falls within the statutory definition of “claim” and is indisputably a pre-petition claim notwithstanding that the breach of contract judgment was entered after the Petition Date.

57. Under the Bankruptcy Code, a “claim” includes a “right to payment, whether or not such right is reduced to judgment, liquidated, unliquidated, fixed, contingent, matured, unmatured, disputed, undisputed, legal, equitable, secured, or unsecured[.]” United States v. Williams, 2005 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 15857, *7-8 (N.D. Tex. Aug. 3, 2005) (quoting 11 U.S.C. § 101(5)(A)). Courts interpret the term “claim” expansively because “Congress intended the term ‘claim’ to be read broadly so that ‘all legal obligations of the debtor, no matter how remote or contingent [,] will be able to be dealt with in the bankruptcy case.’” Id. at *8-9 (citations omitted); see also Cantu v. Schmidt (In re Cantu), 784 F.3d 253, 259 (5th Cir. 2015) (noting that, in the context of claims asserted against a debtor, the term “claim” must be defined broadly enough to protect a debtor’s potential “fresh start”). “A creditor need not have a cause of action that is ripe for suit outside of bankruptcy in order for it to have a pre-petition claim for purposes of the Code.” Williams, 2005 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 15857 at *9-10 (internal quotation marks and citation omitted). “A claim is not rendered a post-petition claim simply by the fact that time for payment is triggered by an event that happens after the filing of the petition.” Chiasson v. J. Louis Matherne & Assocs. (In re Oxford Mgmt.), 4 F.3d 1329, 1335 fn.7 (5th Cir. 1993).

58. “[F]ederal law determines when a claim arises for bankruptcy purposes.” Cadleway Props., Inc. v. Andrews (In re Andrews), 239 F.3d 708, 710 n.8 (5th Cir. 2001) (citation omitted). In the Fifth Circuit, the “pre-petition relationship” test is used to determine whether a claim asserted against a debtor arose prior to the commencement of the debtor’s bankruptcy case. See, e.g., Cantu, 784 F.3d at 259; Veritas DGC, Inc. v. Digicon, Inc. (In re Digicon, Inc.), 2003 U.S. App. LEXIS 29535, *10 (5th Cir. June 11, 2003); Placid Oil Co. v. Williams (In re Placid Oil Co.), 463 B.R. 803, 813-14 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. 2012). Under that test, a claim against a debtor arises at the time of the challenged conduct, so long as the claimant had “some sort of relationship” with the debtor at the time the conduct occurred. Veritas DGC, Inc., 2003 U.S. App. LEXIS 29535 at *10. “The Fifth Circuit has previously found that a contractual relationship between the debtor and claimant is ‘[clearly] a pre-petition relationship sufficient to meet’ the [relationship] requirement.” AMPAM Power Plumbing, L.P. v. Capstone Bldg. Corp. (In re AMPAM Power Plumbing, L.P.), 520 B.R. 553, 558 (Bankr. W.D. Tex. 2014) (quoting Wheeler v. Magdovitz (In re Wheeler), 137 F.3d 299, 301 (5th Cir. 1998)).

59. In this case, any Post-Trial Claim by UBS against the Debtor under New York law based on an alter ego theory is a claim that arose prior to the Petition Date. As an initial matter, courts have uniformly rejected the argument that a claim based on pre-petition conduct does not “arise” until a judgment in favor of the creditor based on that conduct is entered or becomes final. See, e.g., Lemons v. Reinicke (In re Reinicke), 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 22917, *5 (N.D. Tex. November 8, 2004) (claim based on pre-petition fraud by debtor was untimely, notwithstanding that creditor's related state court judgment was still on appeal, because claim arose "as a result of debtor's alleged fraud" prior to the petition date, not as a result of the judgment); In re Couzens Warehouse & Distribs., Inc., 1991 Bankr. LEXIS 1591, *3 (Bankr. N.D. Ill. Oct. 17, 1991) (proof of claim based on pre-petition worker's compensation claim was untimely, notwithstanding that state commission's judgment as to such claim did not become final until after the bar date, because the creditor's claim arose pre-petition when he filed worker's compensation claim, not when that claim was reduced to judgment).

60. Furthermore, where, as here, a claimant had a pre-petition relationship with the debtor, courts repeatedly have held that the claimant cannot later (i.e., outside of the bankruptcy) attempt to hold the debtor liable as an alter ego for claims against other parties that arose prior to the petition date. This issue was squarely addressed and discussed at length in Yan v. Lombard Flats, LLC (In re Lombard Flats, LLC), 2016 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 38112, *26-29 (N.D. Cal. March 23, 2016), which is highly informative. There, the court held that allegations of alter ego liability against a debtor, asserted post-confirmation to attempt to impose liability on the debtor for claims against the debtor's principal based on breaches of pre-petition promissory notes, constituted a pre-petition claim against the debtor. In Yan, the debtor (an LLC) filed its chapter 11 petition in August 2009, and its plan was confirmed in July 2010. Id. at *2. In October 2014, a creditor filed a state court action against the debtor and its principal, who was the "responsible individual" in the chapter 11 case, asserting that the principal breached several promissory notes entered into in 2007 and 2008, and that the debtor was liable as the principal's alter ego. Id. at *8-9. The alter ego allegations asserted that the principal transferred property to the debtor prior to the petition date, and that the principal placed various pre-petition encumbrances on the debtor's property, and one post-petition encumbrance. Id. at *26. The court concluded that the alter ego allegations against the debtor were discharged pre-petition claims because (i) the creditor's claims were based on its pre-petition contractual relationship with the principal, (ii) the creditor's contract claim was based on pre-petition conduct, (iii) the "accrual of the alter ego claims" was determined by when the underlying contract claim arose, and (iv) even if the court were to consider when the alter ego relationship was fairly contemplated by the creditor, the fact that one of the creditor's supposed alter ego indicia occurred post-petition "[did] not support appellant's argument that the alter ego theory arose" post-petition. Id. at *38-39.

61. Likewise, in In re Hurricane R.V. Park, Inc., 185 B.R. 610, 613-14 (Bankr. D. Utah 1995), the court held that the IRS violated a chapter 11 debtor's discharge injunction by filing post-confirmation tax liens on the debtor's property based on the theory that the debtor was the alter ego of an individual taxpayer, because the assessment dates pre-dated the debtor's petition date. In that case, the debtor filed its chapter 11 petition in December 1991. The IRS filed a "zero proof of claim" in the debtor's case, and the plan was confirmed in January 1993. Id. at 612. In 1994, the IRS filed tax liens on property owned by the debtor prior to its petition date, asserting that the debtor was the alter ego of its vice-president. Id. at 613. The assessment dates on the tax liens covered a range of years, all prior to the petition date. Id. Notwithstanding that the tax liens were not filed until after the petition date, the IRS's alter ego theory of liability made the IRS a contingent creditor of the debtor as of the assessment dates. Id. Because the IRS held a contingent pre-petition claim against the debtor that was not asserted in the bankruptcy case, the IRS's claim was discharged upon plan confirmation. Id. at 614; see also In re Slater, 573 B.R. 247, 253-55 (Bankr. D. Utah 2017) (holding that post-discharge state court judgment imposing liability on debtor as alter ego of his entities was void on grounds that it was based on a discharged pre-petition claim against debtor, where underlying contract debt arose prior to the petition date, and rejecting plaintiff's argument that debt did not arise until alter ego judgment was entered).

62. Here, any Post-Trial Claim that UBS could attempt to assert against the Debtor (either directly or as a purported alter ego) relating to the warehouse transaction or the claims asserted in the State Court litigation would be a pre-petition claim against the Debtor. It is undisputed that UBS had a pre-petition relationship with the Debtor, based on both the long history of the warehouse transaction and the State Court litigation. It likewise is undisputed that the breach of contract judgment and the other claims asserted in the State Court litigation are based on pre-petition conduct. Furthermore, as discussed in Yan, the accrual of any claim against the Debtor for alter ego relief is based on when the underlying claims arose and, here, all of UBS's claims against any party relating to the warehouse transaction arose prior to the Petition Date. Even if the Court were to consider when any alleged alter ego "facts" may have arisen, any "alter ego theory" UBS might have against the Debtor certainly arose prior to the Petition Date. As noted by the Appellate Division, UBS's complaint was "thoroughly suffused with allegations that [the Debtor] was essentially the alter ego of the parties it induced to breach the agreements," UBS, 86 A.D.3d at 477 [A193], yet UBS chose not to seek alter ego relief against the Debtor.

63. Thus, any Post-Trial Claim against the Debtor was a pre-petition claim, and UBS's undisputed failure to assert any such Post-Trial Claim by the UBS Bar Date operates as a complete bar to such claim. As a result, summary judgment should be entered in favor of the Debtor determining that any Post-Trial Claim by UBS against the Debtor is barred by the Bar Date Order and the Stay Relief Order.

B. Any Attempt by UBS to Enforce the Breach of Contract Judgment or Obtain Other Post-Trial Relief Against the Debtor Based On Claims that Arose Prior to February 24, 2009 Is Barred by Res Judicata

64. UBS has admitted that it is barred, under the doctrine of res judicata, from seeking recovery from the Debtor for claims that arose prior to February 24, 2009. See, e.g., 10/06/20 Status Conf. Tr. 19:24 ("we agree that there are no claims pre-February 2009") [A381]; id. at 20:23-25 (there is "no dispute" that "claims that arose before February 2009" are "out of the case") [A382]. There likewise is no dispute that UBS's breach of contract claim against the Funds arose on December 5, 2008, the date on which the alleged breach occurred. See, e.g., UBS Claim ¶ 12 [A012]. While UBS asserts that it is not, at this time, seeking to hold the Debtor liable for the breach of contract claim against the Funds, it nonetheless filed the UBS Claim in the exact amount of the breach of contract judgment and purports to “preserve all rights” to hold the Debtor “liable as an alter ego” and otherwise pursue any other “post-trial relief” against the Debtor. UBS Response pp. 19-20, p. 20 fn. 16 [A147-148]. Any such “post-trial relief” against the Debtor, to the extent it is based on claims that arose prior to February 24, 2009, is barred by the doctrine of res judicata and the numerous decisions issued by the Appellate Division in the State Court litigation.

65. The Appellate Division already has determined – and UBS has admitted – that UBS cannot assert any direct claim against the Debtor seeking recovery for conduct that occurred prior to February 24, 2009. UBS, 86 A.D.3d at 474 (holding that UBS cannot assert claims against the Debtor that “implicate events alleged to have taken place before the filing of the original complaint” on February 24, 2009, which resulted in a judgment on the merits in favor of the Debtor). The same restriction applicable to UBS’s pleaded claims also applies to any attempt by UBS to seek alter ego or any other “post-trial relief” against the Debtor. That result is dictated by the Appellate Division’s other related rulings in the State Court litigation. See, e.g., UBS, 93 A.D.3d at 490 (applying res judicata to limit UBS’s alter ego relief against HFP to post-February 24, 2009 claims, on the grounds that HFP was in privity with the Debtor and thus was entitled to the same res judicata protection as the Debtor).

66. Moreover, under New York law, UBS cannot assert an alter ego claim against the Debtor styled as a post-judgment remedy having named the Debtor as a defendant in the litigation.<sup>19</sup> Case law makes clear that where (as here) a party is a defendant in litigation and a judgment on the merits has been entered in its favor, the plaintiff cannot later seek to hold that defendant liable under an alter ego theory for a judgment entered against a different defendant in the same lawsuit. For instance, in Bd. of Managers of the 195 Hudson St. Condo., 652 F. Supp. 2d at 467-68, a final judgment was entered in favor of one defendant (JMB) in breach of contract litigation relating to a condominium conversion project managed by JMB's subsidiary (K&J). In that litigation, the plaintiff condominium board (Board) had asserted, in addition to its contract claims, various "veil piercing" allegations against JMB but did not expressly seek alter ego relief against JMB. Id. at 467. After the contract claims against JMB were dismissed and judgment was entered in favor of JMB, the Board obtained a breach of contract judgment against K&J, and thereafter attempted to seek "post-trial relief" holding JMB liable on the grounds that K&J was the alter ego of JMB. Id. at 467-68. The court rejected the Board's attempt, holding that res judicata barred the Board's attempt to obtain post-judgment alter ego relief against JMB because any such alter ego relief could have, and should have, been sought in the prior litigation. Id. at 478-82.

67. Likewise, in this case, the Appellate Division already has observed that UBS's complaint was "thoroughly suffused with allegations that [the Debtor] was essentially the alter ego of the parties it induced to breach the agreements." UBS, 86 A.D.3d at 477 [A193]. Nonetheless, like the plaintiff in Bd. of Managers of the 195 Hudson St. Condo., UBS has decided for its own reasons not to expressly seek alter ego or other "post-trial relief" against the Debtor. Any such attempt by UBS to do so in the future would, as discussed in the previous section, be a pre-petition claim that is time-barred and also would, as discussed in this section, be barred by res judicata. Accordingly, summary judgment should be granted in favor of the Debtor barring UBS from asserting any Post-Trial Claim against the Debtor based on UBS's $1.1 billion breach of contract claim against the Funds or any other claim that arose prior to February 24, 2009.

II. The UBS Claim Must Be Disallowed As to Any Recovery By UBS On Account of the Approximately $172 Million Transferred to the Settling Defendants

A. Summary Judgment Should be Granted to the Debtor Based on the Plain Language of the Settlement Agreements

(1) The Unambiguous Language of the Releases Applies to Any Recovery by UBS On Account of Its Fraudulent Transfer Claim and Its Implied Covenant Claim Against the Debtor

68. As stated above, UBS's fraudulent transfer and breach of implied covenant claims are premised on the March 2009 Transaction, i.e., the only post-February 2009 operative facts cited in the 2010 Complaint and the only specific post-February 2009 conduct identified in the UBS Claim or the UBS Response. As set forth below, based on the unambiguous language of the release provisions of the Settlement Agreements, the maximum principal amount UBS could recover on account of such claims is approximately $61 million, and this Court can and should grant summary judgment disallowing all asserted claims for any principal recovery in excess of that amount.

69. Under the plain language of the Settlement Agreements, UBS has released the Debtor from all of UBS's "Claims" – whether for fraudulent transfer, breach of the implied covenant, or otherwise – for "losses or other relief specifically arising from" the transfers of $172,411,785 to the Settling Defendants in March 2009. Incorporating the broad definition of "Claims" and the other defined terms set forth in the Settlement Agreements, § 5.3 of each of the Settlement Agreements provides:

... [UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG, London Branch] do hereby release, and covenant not to sue, [the Debtor] with respect to such [claims, actions, causes of action, demands, liabilities, debts, damages, or obligations of whatsoever kind, name, description or nature, be they contractual, tort or statutory, known or unknown, and charges of whatever nature, known and unknown, arising out of, or directly or indirectly relating to, the Knox Agreement and/or the UBS Litigation] to the limited extent the [claims, actions, causes of action, demands, liabilities, debts, damages, or obligations of whatsoever kind, name, description or nature, be they contractual, tort or statutory, known or unknown, and charges of whatever nature, known and unknown, arising out of, or directly or indirectly relating to, the Knox Agreement and/or the UBS Litigation] are for losses or other relief specifically arising from the fraudulent transfers to [Crusader and Credit Strategies] alleged in the UBS Litigation ... .

Crusader Settlement Agreement § 5.3 [A265-266]; see also Credit Strategies Settlement Agreement § 5.3 [A299-300].<sup>20</sup>

70. The interpretation of this contractual language is a “matter of state law.” Manchester EB-5, LLC, 2016 Bankr. LEXIS 3980 at *34 (citation omitted). Here, the interpretation of the Settlement Agreements is governed by New York law, because both Settlement Agreements contain New York choice of law provisions. See id. (applying Texas law to interpret contract with Texas choice of law provision); see also Crusader Settlement Agreement § 13 [A270]; Credit Strategies Settlement Agreement § 12 [A304].

71. Under New York law, a court’s “primary objective” in interpreting a contract “is to give effect to the intent of the parties as revealed by the language of their agreement.” Chesapeake Energy Corp. v. Bank of N.Y. Mellon Trust Co., N.A., 773 F.3d 110, 113-14 (2d Cir. 2014) (citation omitted).<sup>21</sup> “[T]he words and phrases [in a contract] should be given their plain meaning, and the contract should be construed so as to give full meaning and effect to all of its provisions.” Id. at 114 (citation and internal quotation marks omitted). A court “should enforce the plain meaning of contracts when that meaning is clear and unambiguous.” Direxion Shares ETF Trust v. Leveraged Innovations L.L.C., 2014 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 161469, *12 (S.D.N.Y. November 18, 2014); see also Chesapeake Energy Corp., 773 F.3d at 114 (when “terms of a written contract are clear and unambiguous, the intent of the parties must be found within the four corners of the contract”).

<sup>20</sup> The Debtor is entitled to enforce the releases granted to it in the Settlement Agreements, as a third-party beneficiary of the releases. See Bekhor v. Bear, Stearns & Co., 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21542, *13-14 (S.D.N.Y. Oct. 25, 2004) (affiliate that was not a party to settlement agreement, and did not sign it, was entitled to enforce the release provision of the settlement agreement as a third-party beneficiary because affiliate was expressly named in the release provision). Here, the Debtor – defined as “HCMLP” at p. 1 of the Settlement Agreements – is specifically identified as one of the “Covered Persons” for purposes of the releases. A061, A065, A296, A299.

72. Releases are interpreted under “traditional contract principles,” and courts are “compelled to bar claims precluded by the plain language” of a release. In re WorldCom, Inc., 296 B.R. 115, 121 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2003) (citation omitted). A valid release “constitutes a complete bar to an action on a claim which is the subject of the release.” Avnet, Inc. v. Deloitte Consulting LLP, 2019 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 5462, *6 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. October 11, 2019) (citation omitted). If “the language of a release is clear and unambiguous, the signing of a release is a ‘jural act’ binding on the parties.” Id. (citation omitted). “The execution of a release represents a serious contractual undertaking, and policy dictates that the terms contained therein be accorded a strong presumption of validity by the Court.” In re WorldCom, Inc., 296 B.R. at 120.

73. The question of whether a release or other contractual language is ambiguous is a matter of law to be decided by the Court. Direxion Shares ETF Trust, 2014 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 161469 at *16. A contract is only ambiguous if the relevant language “is capable of more than one meaning when viewed objectively by a reasonably intelligent person who has examined the context of the entire integrated agreement.” Id. at *12 (citation omitted). “No ambiguity exists where the contract language has a definite and precise meaning, unattended by danger of misconception in the purport of the [contract] itself, and concerning which there is no reasonable basis for a difference of opinion.” Chesapeake Energy Corp., 773 F.3d at 114 (citation and internal quotation marks omitted). The fact that litigants on opposing sides of the dispute may offer different interpretations of a contract provision does not render that provision ambiguous. See, e.g., id. at 113 (district court held that contract unambiguously supported plaintiff’s interpretation, and Second Circuit reversed on the grounds that the contract unambiguously supported defendant’s interpretation). Moreover, a “heavy presumption exists” that a “deliberately prepared and executed written agreement ... manifests the parties’ true intentions, and evidence of a very high order is necessary to overcome this presumption.” In re WorldCom, Inc., 296 B.R. at 120 (noting that, as here, opposing party did not assert that settlement was ambiguous). And, extrinsic evidence “cannot be considered in order to create an ambiguity.” Direxion Shares ETF Trust, 2014 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 161469 at *13; see also Riverside S. Planning Corp. v. CRP/Extell Riverside, L.P., 13 N.Y.3d 398, 404 (N.Y. 2009) (ambiguity is determined “by looking within the four corners of the document, not to outside sources”).

74. UBS agrees that the Settlement Agreements are unambiguous. UBS Response p. 23 (“[t]he Court need look no further than the plain language of the Settlements”) [A151]. If a contract is unambiguous, the interpretation of the contract is a question of law. Bethlehem Steel Co. v. Turner Constr. Co., 2 N.Y.2d 456, 460 (N.Y. 1957) (citation omitted); see also GLCA Sec., LLC v AGC Networks, Inc., 2020 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 3400, *14 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. July 20, 2020) (“interpretation of an unambiguous contract by the court does not raise a question of fact to be resolved by the application of burdens of proof but is solely a question of law”). New York’s “rules of contract interpretation are well-established.” Riverside S. Planning Corp., 13 N.Y.3d at 403. The application of those well-established rules to the Settlement Agreements supports only one conclusion – that UBS is barred from recovering any amount from the Debtor, whether on account of UBS’s fraudulent transfer claim, its implied covenant claim, or otherwise, arising out of the transfers to the Settling Defendants.

75. First, a contract interpretation is unreasonable if it causes a word “to carry different meanings in different iterations within the same contractual provision, indeed within the same sentence.” Chesapeake Energy Corp., 773 F.3d at 116. The use of a proviso in a contract “can indeed narrow the scope of a contract term, but it does so in a manner dictated by the contractual text.” Id. at 115 (contract not ambiguous where separate provisions, read in tandem, “communicated a clearly defined right”).

76. Here, UBS asserts that its interpretation of the Settlement Agreements is correct because the Settlement Agreements provided for a broad release of “Claims” against the Settling Defendants, but granted a more limited release to the Debtor, notwithstanding that the defined term “Claims” was used throughout the Settlement Agreements, including in connection with UBS’s release of the Debtor. UBS Response pgs. 26-27 [A154-155]. UBS’s interpretation is unreasonable because it would require the Court to ignore the use of the broadly defined term “Claims” in describing the scope of UBS’s release of the Debtor, and require the Court to give a different meaning to the term “Claims” only when that term was used to describe the release granted to the Debtor. Giving the defined term “Claims” the same meaning throughout the Settlement Agreements, the only reasonable interpretation of § 5.3 of the Settlement Agreements is that UBS released the Debtor from UBS’s claims or causes of action – “be they contractual” (i.e., the implied covenant claim) or “tort or statutory” (i.e., the fraudulent transfer claim) – “for losses or other relief specifically arising from the fraudulent transfers to [Crusader and Credit Strategies] alleged in the UBS Litigation.” As discussed below, there is no doubt that UBS’s implied covenant claim is a claim “for losses or other relief specifically arising from” the alleged fraudulent transfers to the Settling Defendants in March 2009.

77. Second, “[c]ourts may not ‘by construction add or excise terms, nor distort the meaning of those used and thereby make a new contract for the parties under the guise of interpreting the writing.’” Riverside S. Planning Corp., 13 N.Y.3d at 404 (citation omitted) (phrase “[t]he agreements contained herein” unambiguously encompassed all obligations in the contract because it was “accompanied by no limiting language suggesting that it refers to only some of the obligations”); see also Avnet, Inc., 2019 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 5462 at *7-8 (enforcing release where plaintiff could have “carved out claims for gross negligence, intentional misconduct and fraud” but “[it] did not and must live with its own decision and the deal that it chose to make”); Morefun Co. v. Mario Badescu Skin Care Inc., 2014 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 77710, *9-10 (S.D.N.Y. June 6, 2014) (refusing to interpret the term “Product” as used in settlement agreement to mean only a specific batch of the product, because the plaintiff was a sophisticated party and if it “had intended that narrow scope, it could have easily ensured that meaning was clear from the language” of the agreement).

78. Here, the parties to the Settlement Agreements – sophisticated parties, as acknowledged in the UBS Response [A152 at fn. 18] – described the scope of UBS’s release of the Debtor in terms of “Claims” for “losses or other relief,” not by reference to any specific claims (not capitalized) or causes of action. UBS’s interpretation of the Settlement Agreements would require the Court to read in language – that UBS’s release applied only to its fraudulent transfer claim, but not its related implied covenant claim for the same purported losses or other relief – that does not exist in the Settlement Agreements. Tellingly, UBS’s articulation of its position depends on the notion that UBS’s release of the Debtor “relates only to a particular claim ... not to any other claim” [A152], and yet that limitation appears nowhere in the Settlement Agreements.

79. In light of the broad definition of the “Claims” released by UBS, and the fact that UBS’s interpretation of the Settlement Agreements would require the Court to read in limiting language that UBS chose not to include in the Settlement Agreement, the only reasonable interpretation of the plain language of the releases is that UBS released the Debtor from all liability “specifically arising from” the transfers to the Settling Defendants, whether that liability related to UBS’s fraudulent transfer cause of action or its implied covenant cause of action.

(2) There Are No Disputed Facts Regarding UBS’s Admissions As to Its Implied Covenant Claim, or the Amounts Transferred to the Settling Defendants

80. UBS’s own admissions establish beyond question that its implied covenant claim is one of the “causes of action” against the Debtor by which UBS seeks to recover for “losses or other relief specifically arising from” the alleged fraudulent transfers to the Settling Defendants. UBS’s complaint against the Debtor alleges, in support of UBS’s implied covenant cause of action, that the Debtor “caused the March 2009 Fraudulent Conveyance, which transferred assets to” the Settling Defendants and other parties, and thereby (according to UBS) caused UBS to incur and suffer “losses and damages ... .” 2010 Compl. at ¶¶ 165-66 [A250]; see also id. at ¶¶ 111-12 (asserting that the transfer of assets from HFP or its subsidiaries to the Settling Defendants and other parties both breached the implied covenant and constituted a fraudulent conveyance) [A237-238].

81. Throughout the remainder of the State Court litigation, UBS confirmed that its implied covenant claim is based on the alleged fraudulent transfers. See, e.g., 05/01/18 State Court Hrg. Tr. at 10:13-16 (in response to the question of whether the implied covenant claim is based solely on the allegedly fraudulent March 2009 transaction, UBS’s counsel stated “basically, you know, the implied covenant of good-faith and fair-dealing claim that we now have is that they shouldn’t have committed fraudulent conveyances ...”) [A377]; NY D.E. 472 at p. 3 (in seeking bifurcation of its breach of contract claim, UBS argued that its implied covenant claim “involves [the Debtor’s] role in the March 2009 fraudulent conveyances [and] overlaps factually with the ... fraudulent conveyance claims”) [A368].

82. UBS has continued to do so in the Bankruptcy Case. The UBS Claim identifies the alleged “series of fraudulent transfers out of, and away from” HFP as one of the “actions and omissions” that purportedly constituted a breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing. UBS Claim ¶¶ 15-16 [A013-014]. Even more specifically, UBS asserts that “[i]n March 2009, ... in breach of their continuing duty of good faith and fair dealing ... the Debtor and HFP caused asset transfers of millions of dollars of assets to ... Highland Credit Strategies Master Fund, L.P., Highland Crusader Offshore Partners, L.P.” and other parties. UBS Claim ¶ 18 [A015-016]; see also UBS Response pp. 6, 18 (arguing at p. 18 that “under its implied covenant claim, UBS is seeking damages from the Debtor resulting not just from HCM’s fraudulently transferring assets away from SOHC’s alter ego, HFP (or its subsidiaries), in March 2009 ...” but then referencing a list of bullet points on p. 6 which identify the March 2009 Transaction as the only post-February 24, 2009 conduct) [A134, A146]; 10/06/20 Status Conf. Tr. 20:4-19 (argument by UBS's counsel that the post-February 2009 transfers support "not just fraudulent transfer but a separate claim of the breach of the implied duty of good faith and fair dealing") [A382].

83. Finally, the amount transferred to the Settling Defendants, i.e., the amount of "losses or other relief" released by UBS in the Settlement Agreements, is likewise undisputed. In the UBS Response, UBS identifies the following as an undisputed material fact: "in March 2009 ... approximately $233 million in assets were transferred from HFP, or its subsidiaries, to Highland Credit Strategies Master Fund, L.P. ("Credit Strategies"), Crusader Offshore, Highland Crusader Holding Corporation ("Crusader Holding"), Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, L.P. (n/k/a Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, L.P. or "Multi-Strat"), HCM, and Citibank." UBS Response p. 6 [A134]. The UBS Response further admits that approximately $172 million of that amount was transferred to the Settling Defendants. UBS Response p. 23 [A151]. UBS's expert calculated the exact amount transferred to the Settling Defendants as $172,411,785 out of the total $233,455,147 of assets transferred in March 2009. See 03/08/13 Expert Report of Louis Dudney (Excerpt Only) [A365].<sup>22</sup>

84. As a result, summary judgment should be granted in favor of the Debtor barring UBS from obtaining any recovery against the Debtor based on the $172,411,785 transferred to the Settling Defendants in March 2009, and disallowing any principal recovery on the UBS Claim in excess of $61,043,362 ($233,455,147-$172,411,785=$61,043,362).

EVID. 801(d)(2)(B); see also Fractus, S.A. v. AT&T Mobility LLC, 2019 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 169610, *14-15 (E.D. Tex. Here, UBS has adopted its expert's report by, among other things, filing it with the Court as an exhibit to the UBS Response and referencing it numerous times throughout the UBS Response.

B. Even if the Releases Are Determined to Be Ambiguous, Summary Judgment Should be Granted to the Debtor Based on the Relevant Parol Evidence

85. If language in a contract is determined to be “facially ambiguous,” extrinsic evidence may be used to interpret the ambiguous language. Direxion Shares ETF Trust, 2014 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 161469 at *14. Summary judgment is appropriate when the relevant extrinsic evidence “creates no genuine issue of material fact and permits interpretation of the agreement as a matter of law.” First Am. Int’l Bank v. Community’s Bank, 2012 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 136474, *18-19 (S.D.N.Y. September 21, 2012) (citation and internal quotation marks omitted); Nycal Corp. v. Inoco P.L.C., 988 F. Supp. 296, 299 (S.D.N.Y. 1997) (same). A court “may resolve ambiguity in contract language as a matter of law if the evidence presented about the parties’ intended meaning is so one-sided that no reasonable person could decide the contrary.” First Am. Int’l Bank, 2012 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 136474 at *21 (citation and internal quotation marks omitted); see also Nycal Corp., 988 F. Supp. at 304 (granting summary judgment for defendants as to interpretation of ambiguous contract, where extrinsic evidence of the parties’ “objective manifestations of intent” led “inexorably to the conclusion” that interpretation advanced by defendant was the only reasonable interpretation). Only objective manifestations of the parties’ intent may be considered – a court cannot “properly consider uncommunicated subjective intent.” Direxion Shares ETF Trust, 2014 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 161469 at *19-20 (citation and internal quotation marks omitted).

86. To the extent that the Court considers extrinsic evidence in interpreting the Settlement Agreements, a clear objective manifestation of the parties’ intent was set forth by the Debtor’s pre-petition counsel in the following statement, included in a brief filed by the Debtor in the State Court litigation (which was attached as Exhibit 18 to the UBS Response):

The settlements likewise release Defendant Highland Capital Management, L.P. from any liability relating to the alleged fraudulent transfers with the Settling Defendants, and the Court will need to likewise enforce these provisions.

06/13/17 HCMLP et al. Mot. Lim. Opp. at p. 19 of 30 (emphasis added) [A324].

87. In addition, UBS has identified two sets of email communications as extrinsic evidence relating to the releases: (i) a June 1, 2015 email chain between counsel for UBS and counsel for Credit Strategies; and (ii) a June 5-7, 2015 email chain between counsel for UBS and counsel for Crusader. UBS Response pgs. 27-28 [A155-156]. The relevant portion of the email exchange with Credit Strategies reflects the following from counsel for Credit Strategies:

We mentioned the need of Credit Strategies to obtain a release of Highland to the limited extent of UBS claims against Highland and its affiliates for losses that specifically arise from the alleged fraudulent transfers to Credit Strategies. I put in language for that limited release that is intended to be narrow and not to sweep in claims that UBS is asserting that are for losses and other relief arising from other alleged fraudulent transfers or that do not specifically arise from the alleged fraudulent transfers to Credit Strategies.

06/01/15 Email Chain p. 2 [A328]. Nothing in this discussion of the releases limits the scope of the releases to UBS's fraudulent transfer claim or cause of action – like the Settlement Agreements, the discussion is framed in terms of “losses or other relief” – and nothing in this discussion states that the implied covenant claim or cause of action was meant to be excluded. This is particularly significant given that, as set forth in UBS's 2010 complaint against the Debtor, UBS itself described its implied covenant cause of action as a claim that, by “caus[ing] the March 2009 Fraudulent Conveyance, which transferred assets to” the Settling Defendants and other parties, the Debtor caused UBS to incur and suffer “losses and damages ... .” 2010 Compl. at ¶¶ 165-66 [A250].

88. The email exchange with counsel for Crusader, including the accompanying redline (the “Redline”), even more strongly supports the interpretation advanced by the Debtor and Redeemer/Crusader. The email chain reflects that counsel for Crusader suggested – because there is more than one way to skin a cat – that the releases be phrased in terms of particular claims instead of the “losses or other relief” arising from the transfers:

We are of the view that this release should focus on the claims themselves rather than the relief that may be sought. If you have an objection to this change, we'd like to understand why you believe the “losses or other relief specifically arising from” language is needed.

06/07/15 Email Chain p. 3 [A333]. In a subsequent email, counsel for Crusader also stated, “[s]o that the parties are clear that the claim for breach of good faith and fair dealing in connection with the transfer of assets to Crusader is encompassed within the scope of the release UBS is granting to Highland, we added some language to Section 5.3.” Id. at pp. 1-2 [A331-332]; see also id. at Redline p. 6 (reflecting changes to reference “Claims” arising from the alleged fraudulent transfers and related alleged breaches of the implied covenant, and eliminating the “losses or other relief” concept) [A341]. Significantly, the response from UBS’s counsel was not that the implied covenant cause of action was not covered by the releases, but only that UBS would not change the release language because “we spent a lot of time with credit strat on this language and ubs is not going to change it for this agreement because it could create problems and we still don’t understand what your concern is beyond a highly improbable hypothetical.” Id. at p. 1 [A331]. Having insisted on contract language that released “any and all claims, actions, causes of action, demands, liabilities, debts, damages, or obligations of whatsoever kind, name, description or nature, be they contractual, tort or statutory...” for “losses or other relief” specifically arising out of the transfers to the Settling Defendants, and having rejected the suggestion that the releases “focus on the claims themselves,” UBS’s current position – that the releases are limited to only one particular claim or cause of action – is untenable.

89. This extrinsic evidence, to the extent the Court considers it, supports only one reasonable interpretation of the Settlement Agreements – UBS released its rights to any recovery against the Debtor specifically arising from the alleged fraudulent transfers of $172,411,785 to the Settling Defendants, regardless of whether UBS attempts to recover that amount on account of its fraudulent transfer claim, its implied covenant claim, or otherwise. Thus, even if the Court determines that the releases are ambiguous, summary judgment should be granted in favor of the Debtor on this issue.

C. The Debtor Is Not Judicially Estopped from Enforcing the Releases

90. In the UBS Response, UBS asserts that the Debtor is judicially estopped from enforcing the releases in the Bankruptcy Case because it did not move to enforce the releases in the State Court litigation. UBS Response pp. 12-13, 20-22 [A140-141, A148-150]. UBS concedes that, in order to prevail on this argument, UBS must prove that the Debtor “has asserted a legal position that is plainly inconsistent with a prior position.” UBS Response p. 21 [A149] (citing Flugence v. Axis Surplus Ins. Co. (In re Flugence), 738 F.3d 126, 129 (5th Cir. 2013) (emphasis added). None of the materials cited in the UBS Response come close to establishing that the Debtor took any inconsistent position in the State Court litigation, let alone a “plainly inconsistent” position.

91. As the clearest example of why UBS’s judicial estoppel argument fails, the first document cited in the UBS Response in support of UBS’s argument unequivocally states that the Debtor will seek to enforce the releases. Exhibit 18 to the UBS Response reflects that the defendants (including the Debtor) made the following argument to the State Court, in an opposition to a motion in limine relating to Phase I of the trial:

Accordingly, if any liability against Defendants is ultimately found, Defendants will be entitled to a substantial offset. Thus, UBS’s argument that the Court cannot hear evidence or argument regarding UBS’s prior settlements fails. The settlements likewise release Defendant Highland Capital Management, L.P. from any liability relating to the alleged fraudulent transfers with the Settling Defendants, and the Court will need to likewise enforce these provisions.

06/13/17 HCMLP et al. Mot. Lim. Opp. at p. 19 of 30 (emphasis added) [A324]. While UBS points to this brief as showing that the Debtor argued “only” that the settlement payments should offset any potential breach of contract damages against the Funds [A140], the opposite is true: the Debtor expressly indicated its intent to seek enforcement of the releases at the appropriate time. Notably, the Debtor’s description of the releases was not limited to UBS’s fraudulent transfer cause of action – to the contrary, the Debtor asserted that UBS had released it from “any liability relating to the alleged fraudulent transfers” to the Settling Defendants which, as discussed above, encompasses any liability on account of both UBS's fraudulent transfer claim and its related implied covenant claim.

92. The fact that the Debtor did not state its position regarding the releases in every brief or other document it filed in the State Court litigation does not in any way prove that the Debtor is now taking a "plainly inconsistent" position, or prevent the Debtor from seeking to enforce the releases. See, e.g., Bekhor, 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21542 at *11-12 (granting summary judgment in favor of defendants on grounds that prior settlement agreement released certain claims against them, notwithstanding that defendants did not raise that argument in connection with earlier summary judgment motion filed by other defendants based on settlement releases, or in their own previous summary judgment motion based on other grounds). This is particularly true given the context in which many of the documents UBS relies upon were filed. For instance:

- UBS asserts that the Debtor took an inconsistent position in post-trial briefing relating to UBS's breach of contract damages against the Funds (not the Debtor). UBS Response pp. 12-13 [A140-41]. Because only UBS's breach of contract claim against the Funds was at issue, not any of its claims against the Debtor, it is not surprising that the defendants did not discuss the releases. And, again including language omitted from the UBS Response, the relevant passage from the post-trial brief states that "at a minimum, the Court should offset any award of damages by the amount the Settling Defendants paid ... ." UBS Response Ex. 20 at p. 22 of 30 (emphasis added).
- UBS also points to an appellate brief filed by the Debtor in 2017, and attempts to make much of the fact that, in its discussion of UBS's implied covenant claim, the Debtor did not raise an argument related to the releases. UBS Response pp. 20-21 [A148-49]. As of the filing of that appellate brief, however, the Debtor had obtained a complete dismissal of UBS's implied covenant claim, and was arguing that the State Court's dismissal of the implied covenant claim in its entirety – i.e., the portion based on the March 2009 transfers to the Settling Defendants, and the portion based on all other transfers in March 2009 – should be affirmed, for reasons completely unrelated to the releases. See UBS Response Ex. 22 at p. 1.

93. UBS's own submissions show that the Debtor explicitly stated to the State Court that the Settlement Agreements "likewise release Defendant Highland Capital Management, L.P. from any liability relating to the alleged fraudulent transfers with the Settling Defendants, and the Court will need to likewise enforce these provisions," UBS Response Ex. 18 at p. 19 of 30 (emphasis added) [A324], and that the Debtor never took any position inconsistent with that statement. As a result, UBS cannot establish that the Debtor is judicially estopped from enforcing the releases.

CONCLUSION

WHEREFORE, the Debtor respectfully requests that the Court grant the Motion in its entirety, and grant the Debtor such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper.

OF UBS AG, LONDON BRANCH AND UBS SECURITIES LLC

Pursuant to Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 7056, and Local Bankruptcy Rule 7056-1(c), (i) the Redeemer Committee of the Highland Crusader Funds (the “Redeemer Committee”) and (ii) Highland Crusader Offshore Partners, L.P., Highland Crusader Fund, L.P., Highland Crusader Fund, Ltd. and Highland Crusader Fund II, Ltd. (collectively, the “Crusader Funds”) respectfully move (the “Motion”) for entry of an order granting summary judgment in favor of the Redeemer Committee and the Crusader Funds and against UBS AG London Branch and UBS Securities, LLC (together, “UBS”) with respect to the relief requested in the Objection to Proof of Claim Nos. 190 and 191 (“Crusader Objection”) [ECF No. 933], with respect to Proof of Claim Nos. 190 and 191 submitted by UBS (such claims, the “UBS Claim”), and join the Motion for Partial Summary Judgment on the UBS Claim submitted by Highland Capital Management, L.P. (“Highland” or the “Debtor”).<sup>1</sup> For the reasons set forth in the accompanying Memorandum of Law, partial summary judgment in the Redeemer Committee and the Crusader Funds’ favor concerning the Crusader Objection should be granted. Among other reasons, the majority of the UBS Claim is barred by res judicata and UBS released the Debtor from much of the relief that UBS now seeks in the UBS Claim. See Crusader Objection, ECF No. 933 at 17-25.

Contemporaneously herewith and in support hereof, the Redeemer Committee and the Crusader Funds are filing (a) the Memorandum of Law; and (b) the Appendix.

Each of the matters required by Local Bankruptcy Rule 7056-1(c)(1) shall be set forth in the accompanying Memorandum of Law.

Notice hereof has been provided to the Debtor and UBS and all parties of interest participating in the CM/ECF system. The Redeemer Committee and the Crusader Funds submit that no other or further notice need be provided.

ORDER GRANTING REDEEMER COMMITTEE OF THE HIGHLAND CRUSADER FUND AND THE CRUSADER FUNDS' MOTION FOR PARTIAL SUMMARY JUDGMENT

This matter came before the court on the motion (the “Motion”) of (i) the Redeemer Committee of the Highland Crusader Funds (the “Redeemer Committee”) and (ii) Highland Crusader Offshore Partners, L.P., Highland Crusader Fund, L.P., Highland Crusader Fund, Ltd. and Highland Crusader Fund II, Ltd. (collectively, the “Crusader Funds”) for summary judgment concerning their Objection to Proof of Claim Nos. 190 and 191 [ECF No. 933] in their favor and against UBS AG London Branch and UBS Securities, LLC (together, “UBS”) with respect to Proof of Claim Nos. 190 and 191 submitted by UBS (such claims, the “UBS Claim”).

It is hereby FOUND AND DETERMINED that:

- A. The Court has jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 157 and 1334.
- B. This is a core proceeding pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 157(b)(2)(A) and (B).
- C. Notice of the Motion was sufficient under the circumstances.
- D. Based on this Court’s review of the pleadings, the documents submitted in connection with the Motion, discovery materials on file, and other documents submitted during the Debtor’s bankruptcy case, there is no genuine issue as to any material fact in respect of the relief sought in the Motion.
- E. The Redeemer Committee and the Crusader Funds are entitled to summary judgment concerning (i) the application of res judicata to the UBS Claim, and (ii) the release of UBS’s claims for losses or other relief arising from the March 2009 asset transfers to the Crusader Funds and the Credit Strategies Fund, such that judgment must be, and hereby is, entered in the Redeemer Committee and the Crusader Funds’ favor concerning the Crusader Objection as requested in the Motion.

Accordingly, the Court having determined that the Redeemer Committee and the Crusader Funds are entitled to summary judgment on the relief requested in the Motion based on the legal and factual bases set forth in the Motion, the Memorandum of Law submitted in support of the Motion, and the arguments of counsel at the hearing on the Motion:

It is hereby ORDERED that:

- 1. The Motion is GRANTED.

2. Capitalized terms not defined herein shall have the meanings ascribed to them in the Motion or Memorandum of Law.

3. Summary judgment is hereby entered in the Redeemer Committee and Crusader Funds' favor on the Crusader Objection, as requested in the Motion.

4. The UBS Claim is hereby disallowed to the extent that it seeks to hold the Debtor liable for (i) damages based on breaches or other conduct that occurred before February 24, 2009; and (ii) damages arising from the March 2009 Transfers to the Credit Strategies Fund and the Crusader Funds, including in each case as relief for the Debtor's alleged breach of the covenant of good faith and fair dealing.

5. This Order shall be effective immediately upon entry by the Court.

SUMMARY

Pursuant to Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 7056 and Local Bankruptcy Rule 7056-1(c) and (e), (i) the Redeemer Committee of the Highland Crusader Funds (the “Redeemer Committee”) and (ii) Highland Crusader Offshore Partners, L.P., Highland Crusader Fund, L.P., Highland Crusader Fund, Ltd. and Highland Crusader Fund II, Ltd. (collectively, the “Crusader Funds”)<sup>1</sup> submit this brief in support of the Redeemer Committee and the Crusader Funds’ motion for partial summary judgment to disallow Proof of Claim Nos. 190 and 191 (the “UBS Claim”) filed by UBS AG, London Branch and UBS Securities, LLC (together, “UBS”) to the extent that the UBS Claim (1) seeks to hold Highland Capital Management, L.P. (“Highland” or the “Debtor”) liable for claims arising from conduct occurring before February 24, 2009; and (2) seeks to hold Highland liable for claims arising from the March 2009 asset transfers to the Crusader Funds and the Credit Strategies Fund (as defined below). The Redeemer Committee and the Crusader Funds also join in the motion for partial summary judgment submitted by Highland that requests disallowance of the UBS Claim. Filed contemporaneously herewith are (i) the Redeemer Committee and the Crusader Funds’ Motion for Partial Summary Judgment and Joinder in Debtor’s Motion for Partial Summary Judgment on the UBS Claim (the “Motion”) and (ii) the Appendix in Support of the Motion (the “Appendix”).<sup>2</sup>

INTRODUCTION

UBS, the Debtor, and several of the Debtor’s affiliates have been engaged in litigation regarding a failed securitization financing that, prior to the commencement of the Debtor’s chapter 11 case, had been ongoing since 2009 in the New York State courts (collectively, the “New York Courts”). The Redeemer Committee and the Crusader Funds have a unique perspective on the merits of the UBS Claim because two of the Crusader Fund entities were defendants in that action. The Redeemer Committee is a committee of investors, elected pursuant to the Scheme and Plan of Liquidation of the Crusader Funds approved by the Bermuda Court (“Crusader Liquidation Plan”), to oversee Highland’s management of the Crusader Funds through what was intended to be the complete liquidation of the fund. The Redeemer Committee played a central role in the negotiation of the settlement of UBS’ claims against the Crusader Funds, pursuant to which UBS released the Debtor from much of the relief that UBS now seeks in its claim. Two of the Crusader Fund entities are parties to that settlement agreement.

UBS asserts that the UBS Claim arises from three principal events: (1) in the fall of 2008, certain Highland affiliates failed to honor certain contractual margin calls in connection with a proposed securitization financing; (2) in the fall of 2008, certain Highland affiliates engaged in a series of asset transfers with Highland-managed funds; and (3) on March 20, 2009, Highland affiliates unwound those transactions with the Highland-managed funds. UBS claims the Debtor owes UBS at least $1,039,957,799—the amount of a judgment that UBS obtained in February 2020 arising from the non-Debtor affiliates’ breaches of contract by failing to honor the margin calls in 2008.

The majority of the UBS Claim is barred by res judicata. The New York Courts have held that res judicata bars UBS from asserting claims against Highland that are based on conduct that occurred before February 24, 2009, the date on which UBS filed its initial complaint in New York. As discussed below, that ruling was the result of UBS filing a complaint that only asserted a claim against Highland for indemnification, a claim that was later dismissed. Notwithstanding this absolute bar, in its filings and arguments in this Court, UBS has not been clear regarding whether UBS asserts that the Debtor should be held liable for pre-February 24, 2009 conduct, including that of certain of its affiliates, which ultimately resulted in the New York trial court entering a $1,039,957,799 judgment against those entities. Particularly in light of UBS's shifting position as to the exact nature of its claim, it is appropriate for this Court to enter an order that implements the rulings of the New York Courts, and disallows the UBS Claim to the extent that claim seeks damages arising from any conduct that took place before February 24, 2009.

After giving effect to res judicata, the surviving part of the UBS Claim appears to be based only on certain asset transfers made by an affiliate of the Debtor, Highland Financial Partners LP ("HFP"), in March 2009. UBS asserts that those transfers were fraudulent conveyances, and that Highland breached the implied duty of good faith and fair dealing by participating in those transfers, as well as certain other alleged conduct by Highland. UBS named several Highland-managed funds that received assets in March 2009 as defendants in the New York action, including two Crusader Fund entities—Highland Crusader Offshore Partners, L.P. ("Crusader Offshore Fund") and Crusader Holding—as well as Highland Credit Strategies Master Fund, L.P. (the "Credit Strategies Fund"). These three funds later entered into settlement agreements with UBS, and Highland was a signatory to each agreement. The settlement agreements provide, in relevant part, that UBS released Highland from any [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] each fund as alleged by UBS. The UBS releases of Highland foreclosed the possibility that Highland could later be found liable to UBS for any losses or other relief in connection with the transfers to those funds. This protection was of central importance to the funds [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

The chapter 11 process does not provide an alleged creditor the opportunity to relitigate matters that are the subject of final, non-appealable decisions of a state court, or prevent enforcement of valid and binding settlement agreements. As demonstrated below, the UBS Claim must be disallowed as a matter of law to the extent it seeks damages arising from pre-February 24, 2009 conduct, and to the extent it seeks to recover losses or other relief arising from the March 2009 transfer of assets the Crusader Funds and the Credit Strategies Fund.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

The Court has jurisdiction to consider this matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C §§ 157 and 1334. This is a core proceeding within the meaning of 28 U.S.C. § 157(b)(2). Venue in this district is proper pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1408 and 1409.

The statutory bases for the relief requested in the Motion are 11 U.S.C. § 502, Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 56, Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure 7056, and the Northern District of Texas Bankruptcy Rule 7056-1.

STATEMENT OF UNDISPUTED FACTS

I. The Fund Counterparties Fail to Meet Margin Calls in 2008.

In 2007, UBS entered into agreements with Highland and two Highland affiliates—Highland CDO Opportunity Master Fund, L.P. (“CDO”) and Highland Special Opportunities Holding Company (“SOHC”) (together, the “Fund Counterparties”)—to establish a warehouse facility to finance the acquisition of syndicated leveraged loans and credit default swaps and then house those assets until securitization was completed. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

Those agreements expired in August 2007 without the contemplated securitization having occurred. Decision and Order at 3, UBS Sec. LLC v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., No.

650097/2009 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. Nov. 14, 2019) [RC App. 3]. In March 2008, UBS, Highland, and the Fund Counterparties entered into restructured warehouse agreements (the 2007 agreements and the 2008 restructured warehouse agreements are collectively referred to herein as the “Knox Agreement”).<sup>3</sup> [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] The Knox Agreement gave UBS the right to make margin calls on the Fund Counterparties in the event of a decline in the market value of the loans and swaps. As the market deteriorated in the fall of 2008, UBS made three margin calls on the Fund Counterparties, which the Fund Counterparties satisfied using funds provided by SOHC’s parent corporation, HFP. Decision and Order at 4, UBS Sec. LLC v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., No. 650097/2009 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. Nov. 14, 2019) [RC App. 4]. The Fund Counterparties failed to

II. Highland Affiliates Engage in Fall 2008 Transfers.

Meanwhile, during the fall of 2008, certain funds then managed by Highland—including the Crusader Offshore Fund—transferred certain assets to HFP in [REDACTED] (the “Fall 2008 Transfers”). [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] HFP was not a party to the Knox Agreement. UBS Securities LLC Proof of Claim at ¶ 7 [RC App. 49]; UBS AG, London Branch Proof of Claim at ¶ 7 [RC App. 170].

III. The Fall 2008 Transfers are Unwound on March 20, 2009.

The parties to the Fall 2008 Transfers unwound those transactions on March 20, 2009 (the “March 2009 Transfers”). [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Consequently, [REDACTED] HFP returned the assets to the transferors, including the Crusader Fund and the Credit Strategies Fund. [REDACTED]

IV. UBS Sues Over the Restructured Warehouse Transaction and Its Claim Against Highland Is Dismissed.

UBS filed its first complaint on February 24, 2009, against the Fund Counterparties and Highland. Compl. at p. 1, UBS Sec. LLC v Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., No. 650097/09 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. Feb. 24, 2009) [RC App. 283]. UBS’s original complaint contained only one claim against Highland—a contractual claim for indemnification for its affiliates’ breach of the Knox Agreement. Id. ¶¶ 50-56 [RC App. 293-94]. Highland moved to dismiss that claim, arguing that the indemnification provision in the Knox Agreement did not apply to the particular losses claimed by UBS. UBS Sec. LLC v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., 70 A.D.3d 526 (N.Y. App. Div. 2010). The indemnification claim was dismissed by the New York appellate court, which found: “[T]he agreements between the parties contain no promise on the part of Highland to undertake liability with respect to the investment losses suffered by plaintiffs, or to ensure or guarantee the performance of [Fund Counterparties]’ obligations to bear the risk of investment losses.” Id.

V. New York Appellate Division Dismisses Claims Against Highland as Barred by Res Judicata.

On February 16, 2010, UBS sought amend its original complaint to assert new claims against Highland and others<sup>4</sup> for claims arising from the Knox Agreement transaction, the Fall 2008 Transfers and the March 2009 Transfers, alleging that the March 2009 Transfers were fraudulent conveyances that benefitted Highland, and that, by causing the unwinding, Highland breached the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing in the Knox Agreement (the “Implied Duty Claim”). UBS Ltr. to Court, at 1-2, UBS Sec. LLC v Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., No. 650097/2009 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. Feb. 16, 2010) [RC App. 296-97]. The New York Supreme Court denied the portion of UBS’s motion that sought leave to add new claims against Highland, agreeing with Highland’s position that a party cannot amend a pleading that has already been dismissed. Ruling at 5, UBS Sec. LLC v Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., No. 650097/2009 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. Jun. 17, 2010) [RC App. 303].

Thereafter, UBS commenced a new action against Highland, in which it asserted the causes of action it had unsuccessfully sought to add to the original complaint, including the Implied Duty Claim. Compl. at p. 1, ¶¶ 157-66, UBS Sec. LLC v Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., No.

650752/2010 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. Jun. 28, 2010) [RC App. 312, 356-58].<sup>5</sup> The trial court consolidated the second action against Highland with the original action that had pending claims against CDO, SOHC, HFP, Credit Strategies Fund, Crusader Offshore Fund, Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, L.P., and Strand Advisors, Inc. Consolidation Order at 1-2, UBS Sec. LLC v Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., No. 650097/2009 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. Nov. 4, 2010) [RC App. 411-12].

Highland moved to dismiss the new action, and the trial court granted the motion in part and denied it in part. UBS Sec. LLC v Highland Capital Mgmt. L.P., No. 650097/09, 2010 WL 6268233 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. Aug. 05, 2010). The parties appealed. UBS Sec. LLC v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., 86 A.D.3d 469 (N.Y. App. Div. 2011). The appellate court dismissed the fraudulent inducement claim against Highland, and held that to the extent UBS's new Implied Duty Claim and fraudulent conveyance claims arise from conduct alleged to have occurred before the commencement of the original action, i.e., February 24, 2009, the claims must be dismissed. Id. at 474-75. The appellate court reasoned:

Here, to the extent the claims against Highland in the new complaint implicate events alleged to have taken place before the filing of the original complaint, res judicata applies. That is because UBS's claims against Highland in the original action and in this action all arise out of the restructured warehousing transaction.

Id. Because this ruling precluded UBS from pursuing claims against Highland arising from conduct occurring before February 24, 2009, the appellate court barred UBS from asserting any claims based on (1) the Fund Counterparties' failure to meet the margin calls in late 2008—the claim on which the trial court ultimately found the Fund Counterparties liable in the amount of $1,039,957,799, and (2) the Fall 2008 Transfers. Id. at 474-76; Judgment at 2, UBS Sec. LLC v Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., No. 650097/2010 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. Feb. 10, 2020) [RC App. 414].

VI. In 2013, Highland Moves for Summary Judgment.

In October 2013, Highland, HFP, and other defendants moved for summary judgment on UBS's remaining claims. Ruling at 25, UBS Sec. LLC v Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., No. 650097/2009 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. Mar. 24, 2017) [RC App. 441]. The trial court recognized that "the Appellate Division decisions preclude any fraudulent conveyance claims arising before February 24, 2009. They therefore preclude UBS from recovering for any alleged fraudulent transfers made before that date." Id. at 26 [RC App. 442]. The court stated that UBS could still introduce evidence of pre-February 24, 2009 conduct to support claims that only arose after February 24, 2009:

However, proof of pre-February 24, 2009 transfers, and of other conduct involving the operation of the Highland entities, is not prohibited to the extent necessary to prove UBS's claims for post-February 24, 2009 fraudulent conveyances, which are maintainable under the Appellate Division decisions under an alter ego theory.<sup>6</sup>

Id. [RC App. 442]. The court also dismissed UBS's Implied Duty Claim because the contract at issue, the Knox Agreement, was terminated before February 24, 2009. Id. at 34-35 [RC App. 450-51]. The parties appealed. Order at 3-4, UBS Sec. LLC v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., No. 650097/2009 (N.Y. App. Div. Nov. 24, 2017) [RC App. 582-83]. Initially, the Appellate Division reinstated the Implied Duty Claim and dismissed the entirety of the fraudulent conveyance claim against Highland, including for the March 2009 Transfers, but the court later vacated that opinion. Id. [582-83]; UBS Sec. LLC v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., 159 A.D.3d 512, 514 (N.Y. App. Div. 2018). In its subsequent decision, the Appellate Division held that the fraudulent conveyance claims and Implied Duty Claim could survive, but only to the extent they arose from conduct occurring after February 24, 2009:

<sup>6</sup> The alter ego claim referenced in the court's decision was a claim against HFP, not against Highland. 2d Am. Compl. at ¶¶ 193-97, UBS Sec. LLC v Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., No. 650097/09 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. May 11, 2011) [RC App. 1235-36]; Hr'g Tr. at 30:7-31:14, In re Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., No. 19-34054-sgj11 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. Jun. 15, 2020) [RC App. 482-83]. UBS did not allege an alter ego claim against Highland.

There is no dispute that plaintiffs are precluded from pursuing fraudulent conveyance and breach of implied covenant claims that arose prior to February 24, 2009. However, neither our prior decisions nor the doctrine of res judicata bars plaintiffs from introducing evidence of pre-February 24, 2009 conduct to the extent necessary to prove, with respect to post-February 24, 2009 conduct, their alter ego, fraudulent conveyance and breach of implied covenant claims. The court correctly rejected defendants' arguments in support of dismissal of the remaining claims at issue.

UBS Sec. LLC v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., 159 A.D.3d 512, 514 (N.Y. App. Div. 2018).

VII. The New York Court Holds the Phase I Trial, and Finds the Fund Counterparties Liable.

Although the New York Courts barred UBS from pursuing claims against Highland arising before February 24, 2009, UBS's originally-pleaded breach of contract claims against the Fund Counterparties for failing to meet the margin calls in the fall of 2008 survived. Compl. at ¶¶ 38-49, UBS Sec. LLC v Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., No. 650097/2009 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. Feb. 24, 2009) [RC App. 291-93]. The court bifurcated the case for trial, ruling that Phase I of the trial would be a bench trial on the breach of contract claims against the Fund Counterparties, and that the remaining claims, including all of the claims involving post-February 24, 2009 conduct, would be tried in Phase II. 5/1/2018 Hr'g Tr. at 35:15-22, UBS Securities LLC v. Highland Capital Mgmt. L.P., No. 650097/2009 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. May 1, 2018) [RC App. 618].

The New York Court held the Phase I bench trial in July 2018, and on November 14, 2019 the court issued a decision finding the Fund Counterparties liable for breaching the Knox Agreement and awarding damages of $519,374,149, which ultimately resulted in entry of a judgment for $1,039,957,799, with prejudgment interest. Decision and Order at 39, UBS Sec. LLC v. Highland Capital Mgmt. L.P., No. 650097/2009 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. Nov. 14, 2019) [RC App. 39]; Judgment at 2, UBS Sec. LLC v Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., No. 650097/2010 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. Feb. 10, 2020) [RC App. 414]. The court made no findings with respect to Highland or the remaining defendants, and those claims were scheduled to be heard during Phase II of the proceedings. Decision and Order at 39, UBS Sec. LLC v. Highland Capital Mgmt. L.P., No. 650097/2009 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. Nov. 14, 2019) [RC App. 39]. On October 16, 2019, the Debtor filed for chapter 11 protection, staying the proceedings against it. Debtor's Petition, In re Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., No. 19-34054-sgj11 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. Oct. 16, 2019) [RC App. 631].

Only two counts remain against the Debtor: (1) fraudulent conveyance, actual and constructive; and (2) the Implied Duty Claim. UBS Securities LLC Proof of Claim ¶ 24 [RC App. 57]; UBS AG, London Branch Proof of Claim ¶ 24 [RC App. 178].

VIII. In 2015, UBS Released Claims Against Highland Arising From the March 2009 Transfers to the Credit Strategies Fund and the Crusader Fund.

ARGUMENT

I. Several New York Court Rulings Bar UBS from Seeking Damages From the Debtor Arising From Conduct Occurring Before February 24, 2009.

This Court should disallow the UBS Claim to the extent it seeks to hold the Debtor liable for damages arising from any breaches or other conduct predating February 24, 2009 because the New York Courts have repeatedly held that res judicata bars any such claims. UBS Sec. LLC v. Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., 86 A.D.3d 469, 474 (N.Y. App. Div. 2011); UBS v. Highland
