8.2 Indemnification. The Litigation Trustee (including each former Litigation Trustee), Oversight Board, and all past and present Members (collectively, the “Indemnified Parties”) shall be indemnified by the Litigation Sub-Trust against and held harmless by the Litigation Sub-Trust from any losses, claims, damages, liabilities or expenses (including, without limitation, attorneys’ fees, disbursements, and related expenses) to which the Indemnified Parties may become subject in connection with any action, suit, proceeding or investigation brought or threatened against any of the Indemnified Parties in their capacity as Litigation Trustee, Oversight Board, or Member, or in connection with any matter arising out of or related to the Plan, this Agreement, or the affairs of the Litigation Sub-Trust, unless it is ultimately determined by order of the Bankruptcy Court or other court of competent jurisdiction that the Indemnified Party’s acts or omissions constituted willful fraud, willful misconduct, or gross negligence. If the Indemnified Party becomes involved in any action, proceeding, or investigation in connection with any matter arising out of or in connection with the Plan, this Agreement or the affairs of the Litigation Sub-Trust for which an indemnification obligation could arise, the Indemnified Party shall promptly notify the Litigation Trustee and/or Oversight Board, as applicable; provided, however, that the failure of an Indemnified Party to promptly notify the Litigation Trustee and/or Oversight Board of an indemnification obligation will not excuse the Litigation Sub-Trust from indemnifying the Indemnified Party unless such delay has caused the Litigation Sub-Trust material harm. The Litigation Sub-Trust shall periodically advance or otherwise reimburse on demand the Indemnified Party’s reasonable legal and other expenses (including, without limitation, the cost of any investigation and preparation and attorney fees, disbursements, and related expenses) incurred in connection therewith as a Litigation Sub-Trust Expense, but the Indemnified Party shall be required to repay promptly to the Litigation Sub-Trust the amount of any such advanced or reimbursed expenses paid to the Indemnified Party to the extent that it shall be ultimately determined by Final Order that the Indemnified Party engaged in willful fraud, misconduct, or negligence in connection with the affairs of the Litigation Sub-Trust with respect to which such expenses were paid. The Litigation Sub-Trust shall indemnify and hold harmless the employees, agents and professionals of the Litigation Sub-Trust and Indemnified Parties to the same extent as provided in this Section 8.2 for the Indemnified Parties. For the avoidance of doubt, the provisions of this Section 8.2 shall remain available to any former Litigation Trustee or Member or the estate of any decedent Litigation Trustee or Member. The indemnification provided hereby shall be a Litigation Sub-Trust Expense.

8.3 To the extent applicable, the provisions and protections set forth in Article IX of the Plan will apply to the Litigation Sub-Trust, the Litigation Trustee, Oversight Board, and the Members.

ARTICLE IX. TERMINATION

9.1 Duration. The Litigation Trustee, the Litigation Sub-Trust, and the Oversight Board shall be discharged or dissolved, as the case may be, at such time as the Litigation Trustee determines that the Estate Claims is not likely to yield sufficient additional proceeds to justify further pursuit of such Estate, and all Distributions required to be made by the Litigation Trustee to the Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary under the Plan and this Agreement have been made, but in no event shall the Litigation Sub-Trust be dissolved later than [three years] from the Effective Date unless the Bankruptcy Court, upon motion made within the six-month period before such third anniversary (and, in the event of further extension, by order of the Bankruptcy Court, upon motion made at least six months before the end of the preceding extension), determines that a fixed period extension (not to exceed two years, together with any prior extensions) is necessary to facilitate or complete the recovery on, and liquidation of, the Litigation Sub-Trust Assets.

9.2 Continuance of the Litigation Trustee for Winding Up. After dissolution of the Litigation Sub-Trust and for purpose of liquidating and winding up the affairs of the Litigation Sub-Trust, the Litigation Trustee shall continue to act as such until the Litigation Trustee's duties have been fully performed. Prior to the final distribution of all remaining Litigation Sub-Trust Assets, the Litigation Trustee shall be entitled to reserve from such assets any and all amounts required to provide for the Litigation Trustee's own costs and expenses, including a reserve to fund any potential indemnification or similar obligations of the Litigation Sub-Trust, until such time as the winding up of the Litigation Sub-Trust is completed. Upon the dissolution of the Litigation Sub-Trust and completion of the winding up of the assets, liabilities and affairs of the Litigation Sub-Trust pursuant to the Delaware Statutory Trust Act, the Litigation Trustee shall file a certificate of cancellation with the State of Delaware to terminate the Litigation Sub-Trust pursuant to Section 3810 of the Delaware Statutory Trust Act (such date upon which the certificate of cancellation is filed shall be referred to as the "Termination Date"). Subject in all respects to 3.11, upon the Termination date, the Litigation Trustee shall retain for a period of two (2) years, as a Litigation Sub-Trust Expense, the books, records, and certificated and other documents and files that have been delivered to or created by the Litigation Trustee. Subject in all respects to Section 3.11, at the Litigation Trustee's discretion, all of such records and documents may, but need not, be destroyed at any time after two (2) years from the Termination Date.

9.3 Termination of Duties. Except as otherwise specifically provided herein, upon the Termination Date of the Litigation Sub-Trust, the Litigation Trustee, the Oversight Board, and its Members shall have no further duties or obligations hereunder.

ARTICLE X. AMENDMENTS AND WAIVER

The Litigation Trustee, with the consent of a simple majority of the Oversight Board, may amend this Agreement to correct or clarify any non-material provisions. This Agreement may not otherwise be amended, supplemented, otherwise modified, or waived in any respect except by an instrument in writing signed by the Litigation Trustee and with the unanimous approval of the Oversight Board, and the approval of the Bankruptcy Court, after notice and a hearing; provided that the Litigation Trustee must provide the Oversight Board with prior written notice of any non-material amendments, supplements, modifications, or waivers of this Agreement.

ARTICLE XI.
MISCELLANEOUS

11.1 Trust Irrevocable. Except as set forth in this Agreement, establishment of the Litigation Sub-Trust by this Agreement shall be irrevocable and shall not be subject to revocation, cancellation or rescission by the Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary.

11.2 Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary has No Legal Title to Litigation Sub-Trust Assets. The Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary shall have no legal title to any part of the Litigation Sub-Trust Assets.

11.3 Agreement for Benefit of Parties Only. Nothing herein, whether expressed or implied, shall be construed to give any Person other than the Litigation Trustee, Oversight Board, and the Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary any legal or equitable right, remedy or claim under or in respect of this Agreement. The Litigation Sub-Trust Assets shall be held for the sole and exclusive benefit of the Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary.

11.4 Notices. All notices, directions, instructions, confirmations, consents and requests required or permitted by the terms hereof shall, unless otherwise specifically provided herein, be in writing and shall be sent by first class mail, facsimile, overnight mail or in the case of mailing to a non-United States address, air mail, postage prepaid, addressed to:

Notice mailed shall be effective on the date mailed or sent. Any Person may change the address at which it is to receive notices under this Agreement by furnishing written notice pursuant to the provisions of this Section 11.4 to the entity to be charged with knowledge of such change.

11.5 Severability. Any provision hereof which is prohibited or unenforceable in any jurisdiction shall, as to such jurisdiction, be ineffective to the extent of such prohibition or unenforceability without invalidating the remaining provisions hereof, and any such prohibition or unenforceability in any jurisdiction shall not invalidate or render unenforceable such provisions in another jurisdiction.

11.6 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed by the parties hereto in separate counterparts, each of which when so executed and delivered shall be an original, but all such counterparts shall together constitute but one and the same instrument.

11.7 Binding Effect, etc. All covenants and agreements contained herein shall be binding upon, and inure to the benefit of, the Litigation Sub-Trust, the Litigation Trustee, and the Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary, and their respective successors and assigns. Any notice, direction, consent, waiver or other instrument or action by any Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary shall bind its successors and assigns.

11.8 Headings; References. The headings of the various Sections herein are for convenience of reference only and shall not define or limit any of the terms or provisions hereof.

11.9 Governing Law. This Agreement shall in all respects be governed by, and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware, including all matters of constructions, validity and performance.

11.10 Consent to Jurisdiction. Each of the parties hereto, each Member (solely in their capacity as Members of the Oversight Board), and each Claimant Trust Beneficiary consents and submits to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Bankruptcy Court for any action or proceeding instituted for the enforcement and construction of any right, remedy, obligation, or liability arising under or by reason of this Agreement, the Plan or any act or omission of the Claimant Trustee (acting in his capacity as the Claimant Trustee or in any other capacity contemplated by this Agreement or the Plan), Litigation Trustee (acting in his capacity as the Litigation Trustee or in any other capacity contemplated by this Agreement or the Plan), the Oversight Board, or any individual Member (solely in their capacity as Members of the Oversight Board); provided, however, that if the Bankruptcy Court either declines to exercise jurisdiction over such action or cannot exercise jurisdiction over such action, such action may be brought in the state or federal courts located in the Northern District of Texas.

11.11 Transferee Liabilities. The Litigation Sub-Trust shall have no liability for, and the Litigation Sub-Trust Assets shall not be subject to, any claim arising by, through or under the Debtor except as expressly set forth in the Plan or in this Agreement. In no event shall the Litigation Trustee or the Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary have any personal liability for such claims. If any liability shall be asserted against the Litigation Sub-Trust or the Litigation Trustee as the transferee of the Litigation Sub-Trust Assets on account of any claimed liability of,

EXHIBIT U

Draft

LITIGATION SUB-TRUST AGREEMENT

This Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement, effective as of _____, 2021 (as may be amended, supplemented, or otherwise modified in accordance with the terms hereof, this “Agreement”), by and among James P. Seery, Jr., as trustee of the Highland Claimant Trust (the “Claimant Trustee”), [ ] as Delaware Trustee, and Marc S. Kirschner as trustee (the “Litigation Trustee,” and together with the Claimant Trustee [and Delaware Trustee], the “Parties”) of the Litigation Sub-Trust for the benefit of the Claimant Trust as sole Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary.

RECITALS

WHEREAS, on October 16, 2019, Highland Capital Management, L.P. (the “Debtor”) filed with the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware, a voluntary petition for relief under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code, which case was subsequently transferred to the Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas, Dallas Division (the “Bankruptcy Court”) and captioned In re Highland Capital Management, L.P., Case No. 19-34054-sgj11 (the “Chapter 11 Case”);

WHEREAS, on November 24, 2020, the Debtor filed the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. [Docket No. 1472] (as may be amended, supplemented, or otherwise modified from time to time, the “Plan”),<sup>1</sup> which was confirmed by the Bankruptcy Court on _____, 2021, pursuant to the Findings of Fact and Order Confirming Plan of Reorganization for the Debtor [Docket No. •] (the “Confirmation Order”);

WHEREAS, this Agreement, including all exhibits hereto, is the “Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement” described in the Plan and shall be executed on or before the Effective Date in order to facilitate implementation of the Plan; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to the Plan and Confirmation Order, the Litigation Sub-Trust Assets are hereby to be transferred by the Claimant Trust to the Litigation Sub-Trust (each as defined herein) created and evidenced by this Agreement so that (i) Estate Claims can be investigated, prosecuted, settled, abandoned, resolved, and otherwise monetized as may be determined by the Litigation Trustee in accordance with the terms of the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement; (ii) proceeds of Estate Claims can be remitted to the Claimant Trust as Claimant Trust Assets for distribution to the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries (as defined in the Claimant Trust Agreement) in accordance with the Plan and Claimant Trust Agreement; (iii) the Litigation Trustee can investigate, litigate, settle, or otherwise resolve any Filed Claims relating to the Estate Claims, including the Employee Claims; and (iv) administrative services relating to the activities of the Litigation Sub-Trust can be performed by the Litigation Trustee.

DECLARATION OF TRUST

NOW, THEREFORE, in order to declare the terms and conditions hereof, and in consideration of the premises and mutual agreements herein contained, the confirmation of the

Plan and of other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, the Litigation Trustee and the Claimant Trustee have executed this Agreement for the benefit of the Claimant Trust as provided for in the Plan.

TO HAVE AND TO HOLD unto the Litigation Trustee and his successors or assigns in trust, under and subject to the terms and conditions set forth herein and for the benefit of the Claimant Trust, and for the performance of and compliance with the terms hereof and of the Plan; provided, however, that upon termination of the Litigation Sub-Trust in accordance with Article IX hereof, this Litigation Trust Agreement shall cease, terminate, and be of no further force and effect, unless otherwise specifically provided for herein.

IT IS FURTHER COVENANTED AND DECLARED that the Litigation Sub-Trust Assets are to be strictly held and applied by the Litigation Trustee subject to the specific terms set forth below.

ARTICLE I. DEFINITION AND TERMS

1.1 Certain Definitions. Unless the context shall otherwise require and except as contained in this Section 1.1 or as otherwise defined herein, the capitalized terms used herein shall have the respective meanings assigned thereto in the “Definitions,” Section 1.1 of the Plan or if not defined therein, shall have the meanings assigned thereto in the applicable Section of the Plan. (v) “Securities Act” means the Securities Act of 1933, as amended.

(w) “TIA” means the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended.

(x) “Trust Interests” means the trust interest(s) to be distributed to the Claimant Trust as the sole Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary.

(y) “Trust Register” has the meaning given to it in Section 5.3(b) hereof.

1.2 General Construction. As used in this Agreement, the masculine, feminine and neuter genders, and the plural and singular numbers shall be deemed to include the others in all cases where they would apply. “Includes” and “including” are not limiting and “or” is not exclusive. References to “Articles,” “Sections” and other subdivisions, unless referring specifically to the Plan or provisions of the Bankruptcy Code, the Bankruptcy Rules, or other law, statute or regulation, refer to the corresponding Articles, Sections and other subdivisions of this Agreement, and the words “herein,” “hereafter” and words of similar import refer to this Agreement as a whole and not to any particular Article, Section, or subdivision of this Agreement. Amounts expressed in dollars or following the symbol “$” shall be deemed to be in United States dollars. References to agreements or instruments shall be deemed to refer to such agreements or instruments as the same may be amended, supplemented, or otherwise modified in accordance with the terms thereof.

1.3 Incorporation of the Plan. The Plan is hereby incorporated into this Agreement and made a part hereof by this reference.

ARTICLE II.

ESTABLISHMENT OF THE LITIGATION SUB-TRUST

2.1 Establishment of Sub-Trust.

(a) The Parties, pursuant to the Plan and the Confirmation Order and in accordance with the applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code, hereby establish a statutory trust under the Delaware Statutory Trust Act on behalf of the Claimant Trust as the sole Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary, which shall be known as the “Highland Litigation Sub-Trust,” on the terms set forth herein. The Litigation Trustee may use this name in accordance with the terms and conditions set forth herein as the Litigation Trustee sees fit.

(b) The Litigation Trustee shall cause to be executed and filed in the office of the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware the Certificate of Trust and agree to execute, acting solely in his capacity as Litigation Trustee, such certificates as may from time to time be required under the Delaware Statutory Trust Act or any other Delaware law.

2.2 Nature and Purposes of the Litigation Sub-Trust. The Litigation Sub-Trust is organized and established as a trust for the purpose of monetizing the Estate Claims and making distributions to Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary in a manner consistent with “liquidating trust” status under Treasury Regulation Section 301.7701-4(d). The Litigation Sub-Trust shall serve as a mechanism for investigating, prosecuting, settling, resolving, and otherwise monetizing all Estate Claims and distributing the proceeds of such Estate Claims to the Claimant Trust in a timely fashion in accordance with the Plan, the Confirmation Order, and this Agreement. The Litigation Sub-Trust and Litigation Trustee shall have and retain any and all rights, defenses, cross-claims and counter-claims held by the Debtor with respect to any Estate Claim as of the Petition Date. Except as otherwise provided herein, the Litigation Sub-Trust shall have the sole responsibility for the pursuit and settlement of the Estate Claims, and, subject to the terms of the Claimant Trust Agreement, the sole power and authority to allow or settle and compromise any Claims related to the Estate Claims, including, without limitation, Employee Claims. For the avoidance of doubt, the Litigation Sub-Trust, pursuant to section 1123(b)(3)(B) of the Bankruptcy Code and applicable state trust law, is appointed as the successor-in-interest to, and representative of, the Debtor and its Estate for the retention, enforcement, settlement, and adjustment of all Estate Claims and Employee Claims (in accordance with the terms of the Claimant Trust Agreement).

2.3 Transfer of Assets and Rights to the Litigation Sub-Trust.

(a) On or as soon as practicable after the Effective Date, the Claimant Trust shall automatically and irrevocably transfer, assign, and deliver, and shall be deemed to have transferred, assigned, and delivered, all Estate Claims, Employee Claims, and Privileges. For purposes of the transfer of documents, the Litigation Sub-Trust is an assignee and successor to the Debtor in respect of the Estate Claims and Employee Claims and shall be treated as such in any review of confidentiality restrictions in requested documents. For the avoidance of doubt, following the Effective Date, the Litigation Trustee shall have the power to waive the Privileges being so assigned and transferred.

(b) Until the Litigation Sub-Trust terminates pursuant to the terms hereof, legal title to the Estate Claims shall be vested at all times in the Litigation Sub-Trust as a separate legal entity, except where applicable law in any jurisdiction requires title to any part of the Estate Claims to be vested in the Litigation Trustee, in which case title shall be deemed to be vested in the Litigation Trustee, solely in his capacity as Litigation Trustee. For purposes of such jurisdictions, the term Litigation Sub-Trust, as used herein, shall be read to mean the Litigation Trustee.

(c) In accordance with section 1123(d) of the Bankruptcy Code, the Litigation Trustee may enforce all rights to commence and pursue, as appropriate, any and all Estate Claims after the Effective Date. No Person or entity may rely on the absence of a specific reference in the Plan to any Estate Claim against them as any indication that the Litigation Trustee will not pursue any and all available Estate Claims or objections against them. Unless any Estate Claim against a Person or Entity are expressly waived, relinquished, exculpated, released, compromised, or settled in the Plan or an order of the Bankruptcy Court, the Litigation Trustee expressly reserves all Estate Claims for later adjudication, and, therefore, no preclusion doctrine including the doctrine of res judicata, collateral, estoppel, issue preclusion, claim preclusion, estoppel (judicial, equitable, or otherwise), or laches, shall apply to such Estate Claims upon, after, or as a consequence of the Confirmation Order.

2.4 Principal Office. The principal office of the Litigation Sub-Trust shall be maintained by the Litigation Trustee at the following address: Goldin Associates, a Teneo Company, 350 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York 10118.

2.5 Acceptance. The Litigation Trustee accepts the Litigation Sub-Trust imposed by this Agreement and agrees to observe and perform that Litigation Sub-Trust, on and subject to the terms and conditions set forth herein and in the Plan.

2.6 Further Assurances. The Claimant Trustee and any successors thereof will, upon reasonable request of the Litigation Trustee, execute, acknowledge and deliver such further instruments and do such further acts as may be necessary or proper to transfer to the Litigation Trustee any portion of the Claimant Trust Assets intended to be conveyed hereby and in the Plan in the form and manner provided for hereby and in the Plan and to vest in the Litigation Trustee the powers, instruments or funds in trust hereunder.

2.7 Incidents of Ownership. The Claimant Trust shall be the sole beneficiary of the Litigation Sub-Trust and the Litigation Trustee shall retain only such incidents of ownership as are necessary to undertake the actions and transactions authorized herein.

ARTICLE III. THE LITIGATION TRUSTEE

3.1 Role. In furtherance of and consistent with the purpose of the Litigation Sub-Trust, the Plan, and this Agreement, the Litigation Trustee, subject to the terms and conditions contained herein, in the Plan, and in the Confirmation Order, shall serve as Litigation Trustee with respect to the Litigation Sub-Trust Assets for the benefit of the Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary and maintain, manage, and take action on behalf of the Litigation Sub-Trust.

3.2 Authority.

(a) In connection with the administration of the Litigation Sub-Trust, in addition to any and all of the powers enumerated elsewhere herein, the Litigation Trustee shall, in an expeditious but orderly manner, investigate, prosecute, settle, and otherwise resolve the Estate Claims. The Litigation Trustee shall have the power and authority and is authorized to perform any and all acts necessary and desirable to accomplish the purposes of this Agreement and the provisions of the Plan and the Confirmation Order relating to the Litigation Sub-Trust, within the bounds of this Agreement, the Plan, the Confirmation Order, and applicable law.

(b) The Litigation Trustee, subject to the limitations set forth in Section 3.3 of this Agreement shall have the right to prosecute, defend, compromise, adjust, arbitrate, abandon, estimate, or otherwise deal with and settle any and all Estate Claims and Employee Claims (in accordance with the terms of the Claimant Trust Agreement). To the extent that any action has been taken to prosecute, defend, compromise, adjust, arbitrate, abandon, or otherwise deal with and settle any such Estate Claims or Employee Claims prior to the Effective Date, on the Effective Date the Litigation Trustee shall be substituted for the Debtor in connection therewith in accordance with Rule 25 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, made applicable by Rule 7025 of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure, and the caption with respect to such pending action shall be changed to the following “Marc Kirschner, not individually but solely as Litigation Trustee for the Highland Litigation Sub-Trust, et al. v. [Defendant]”.

(c) Subject in all cases to any limitations contained herein, in the Confirmation Order, or in the Plan, the Litigation Trustee shall have the power and authority to:

(i) hold legal title to any and all rights in or arising from the Litigation Sub-Trust Assets, including, but not limited to, the right to collect any and all money and other property belonging to the Litigation Sub-Trust (including any proceeds of the Litigation Sub-Trust Assets);

(ii) perform the duties, exercise the powers, and asserts the rights of a trustee under sections 1123(b)(3)(B) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to the Litigation Sub-Trust Assets, including the right to assert claims, defenses, offsets, and privileges;

(iii) subject to any approval of the Oversight Board that may be required under Section 3.3(b), protect and enforce the rights of the Litigation Sub-Trust with respect to any Litigation Sub-Trust Assets by any method deemed appropriate, including, without limitation, by judicial proceeds, or pursuant to any applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, moratorium, or similar law and general principles of equity;

(iv) determine and satisfy any and all liabilities created, incurred, or assumed by the Litigation Sub-Trust;

(v) subject to any approval of the Oversight Board that may be required under Section 3.3(b), investigate, analyze, compromise, adjust, arbitrate, mediate, sue on or defend, prosecute, abandon, dismiss, exercise rights, powers and privileges with respect to or otherwise deal with and settle, in accordance with the terms set forth in this Agreement, all Estate Claims, Employee Claims, or any other Causes of Action in favor of or against the Litigation Sub-Trust;

(vi) with respect to any Estate Claim, avoid and recover transfers of the Debtor’s property as may be permitted by the Bankruptcy Code or applicable state law;

(vii) subject to applicable law, seek the examination of any Entity or Person with respect to the Estate Claims;

- (viii) make all payments relating to the Litigation Sub-Trust Assets;
- (ix) assess, enforce, release, or waive any privilege or defense on behalf of the Litigation Sub-Trust, the Litigation Sub-Trust Assets, or the Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary, if applicable;
- (x) prepare, or have prepared, and file, if necessary, with the appropriate taxing authority any and all tax returns, information returns, and other required documents with respect to the Litigation Sub-Trust, and pay taxes properly payable by the Litigation Sub-Trust;
- (xi) if not otherwise covered by insurance coverage obtained by the Claimant Trust, obtain reasonable insurance coverage with respect to any liabilities and obligations of the Litigation Trustee, solely in his capacity as such, in the form of fiduciary liability insurance, a directors and officers policy, an errors and omissions policy, or otherwise. The cost of any such insurance shall be a Litigation Sub-Trust Expense and paid by the Litigation Trustee from the Litigation Sub-Trust Expense Reserve;
- (xii) without further order of the Bankruptcy Court, but subject to the terms of this Agreement, employ various consultants, third-party service providers, and other professionals, including counsel, tax advisors, consultants, brokers, investment bankers, valuation counselors, and financial advisors, as the Litigation Trustee deems necessary to aid him in fulfilling his obligations under this Agreement; such consultants, third-party service providers, and other professionals shall be retained pursuant to whatever fee arrangement the Litigation Trustee deems appropriate, including contingency fee arrangements and any fees and expenses incurred by such professionals engaged by the Litigation Trustee shall be Litigation Sub-Trust Expenses and paid by the Litigation Trustee from the Litigation Sub-Trust Expense Cash Reserve;
- (xiii) to the extent applicable, assert, enforce, release, or waive any Privilege or defense on behalf of the Litigation Sub-Trust (including as to any Privilege that the Debtor held prior to the Effective Date), including to provide any information to insurance carriers that the Litigation Trustee deems necessary to utilize applicable insurance coverage for any Claim or Claims;
- (xiv) take all steps and execute all instruments and documents necessary to effectuate the purpose of the Litigation Sub-Trust and the activities contemplated herein and in the Confirmation Order and the Plan, and take all actions necessary to comply with the Confirmation Order, the Plan, and this Agreement and the obligations thereunder and hereunder; and
- (xv) exercise such other powers and authority as may be vested in or assumed by the Litigation Trustee by any Final Order (the foregoing subparagraphs (i)-(xv) being collectively, the "Authorized Acts").

(d) The Litigation Trustee has the power and authority to act as trustee of the Litigation Sub-Trust and perform the Authorized Acts through the date such Litigation Trustee resigns, is removed, or is otherwise unable to serve for any reason.

(e) Any determinations by the Liquidation Trustee, under the direction of the Oversight Board, with respect to the amount or timing of settlement or other disposition of any Estate Claims settled in accordance with the terms of this Agreement shall be conclusive and binding on the Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary and all other parties of interest following the entry of an order of a court of competent jurisdiction approving such settlement or other disposition to the extent required or obtained.

3.3 Limitation of Authority.

(a) Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the Litigation Sub-Trust and the Litigation Trustee shall not (i) be authorized to engage in any trade or business, (ii) take any actions inconsistent with the management of the Estate Claims as required or contemplated by applicable law, the Confirmation Order, the Plan, and this Agreement, or (iii) take any action in contravention of the Confirmation Order, the Plan, or this Agreement.

(b) Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, and in no way limiting the terms of the Plan, the Litigation Trustee must receive the consent by vote of a simple majority of the Oversight Board pursuant to the notice and quorum requirements set forth in Section 4.5 of the Claimant Trust Agreement, in order to:

- (i) terminate or extend the term of the Litigation Sub-Trust;
- (ii) commence litigation with respect to any Estate Claims and, if applicable under the terms of the Claimant Trust Agreement, the Employee Claims, including, without limitation, to (x) litigate, resolve, or settle coverage and/or the liability of any insurer under any insurance policy or legal action related thereto, or (y) pursue avoidance, recovery, or similar remedies that may be brought under chapter 5 of the Bankruptcy Code or under similar or related state or federal statutes or common law, including fraudulent transfer law;
- (iii) settle, dispose of, or abandon any Estate Claims (including any counterclaims to the extent such counterclaims are set off against the proceeds of any such Estate Claim);
- (iv) borrow funds as may be necessary to fund litigation or other costs of the Litigation Sub-Trust;
- (v) reserve or retain any cash or cash equivalents in the Litigation Sub-Trust Cash Reserve in an amount reasonably necessary to meet claims and contingent liabilities;
- (vi) change the compensation of the Litigation Trustee; and
- (vii) retain counsel, experts, advisors, or any other professionals.

(c) [Reserved]

3.4 Binding Nature of Actions. All actions taken and determinations made by the Litigation Trustee in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement shall be final and binding upon the Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary.

3.5 Term of Service. The Litigation Trustee shall serve as the Litigation Trustee for the duration of the Litigation Sub-Trust, subject to death, resignation or removal.

3.6 Resignation. The Litigation Trustee may resign as trustee of the Litigation Sub-Trust by an instrument in writing delivered to the Bankruptcy Court and Oversight Board at least thirty (30) days before the proposed effective date of resignation. The Litigation Trustee shall continue to serve as Litigation Trustee after delivery of the Litigation Trustee's resignation until the proposed effective date of such resignation, unless the Litigation Trustee and a [simple majority] of the Oversight Board consent to an earlier effective date, which earlier effective date shall be no earlier than the date of appointment of a successor Litigation Trustee in accordance with Section 3.8 hereof becomes effective.

3.7 Removal.

(a) The Litigation Trustee may be removed by a [simple majority] vote of the Oversight Board for Cause, immediately upon notice thereof, or without Cause, upon [60 days'] prior written notice.

(b) To the extent there is any dispute regarding the removal of a Litigation Trustee (including any dispute relating to any compensation or expense reimbursement due under this Agreement) the Bankruptcy Court shall retain jurisdiction to consider and adjudicate such dispute. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Litigation Trustee will continue to serve as the Litigation Trustee after his removal until the earlier of (i) the time when a successor Litigation Trustee will become effective in accordance with Section 3.8 of this Agreement or (ii) such date as the Bankruptcy Court otherwise orders.

3.8 Appointment of Successor.

(a) Appointment of Successor. In the event of a vacancy by reason of the death, Disability, or removal of the Litigation Trustee, or prospective vacancy by reason of resignation, a successor Litigation Trustee shall be selected by a [simple majority] vote of the Oversight Board. If Members of the Oversight Board are unable to secure a majority vote, the Bankruptcy Court will determine the successor Litigation Trustee on motion of the Members. If a final decree has been entered closing the Chapter 11 Case, the Litigation Trustee may seek to reopen the Chapter 11 Case for the limited purpose of determining the successor Litigation Trustee, and the costs for such motion and costs related to re-opening the Chapter 11 Case shall be paid by the Litigation Sub-Trust, or the Claimant Trust on behalf of the Litigation Sub-Trust. The successor Litigation Trustee shall be appointed as soon as practicable, but in any event no later than sixty (60) days after the occurrence of the vacancy or, in the case of resignation, on the effective date of the resignation of the then acting Litigation Trustee.

Case 19-34054-sgj11 Doc 28-1 Filed 05/28/21 Entered 05/28/21 19:17:04 Page 13 of 24

(b) Vesting or Rights in Successor Litigation Trustee. Every successor Litigation Trustee appointed hereunder shall execute, acknowledge, and deliver to the Litigation Sub-Trust, the Claimant Trustee, the exiting Litigation Trustee, the Oversight Board, and file with the Bankruptcy Court, an instrument accepting such appointment subject to the terms and provisions hereof. The successor Litigation Trustee, without any further act, deed, or conveyance shall become vested with all the rights, powers, trusts and duties of the exiting Litigation Trustee except that the successor Litigation Trustee shall not be liable for the acts or omissions of the retiring Litigation Trustee. In no event shall the retiring Litigation Trustee be liable for the acts or omissions of the successor Litigation Trustee.

(c) Interim Litigation Trustee. During any period in which there is a vacancy in the position of Litigation Trustee, the Oversight Board shall appoint one of its Members or the Claimant Trustee to serve as the interim Litigation Trustee (the “Interim Trustee”) until a successor Litigation Trustee is appointed pursuant to Section 3.8(a). The Interim Trustee shall be subject to all the terms and conditions applicable to a Litigation Trustee hereunder. Such Interim Trustee shall not be limited in any manner from exercising any rights or powers as a Member of the Oversight Board or Claimant Trustee, as applicable, merely by such Person’s appointment as Interim Trustee.

3.9 Continuance of Litigation Sub-Trust. The death, resignation, or removal of the Litigation Trustee shall not operate to terminate the Litigation Sub-Trust created by this Agreement or to revoke any existing agency (other than any agency of the Litigation Trustee as the Litigation Trustee) created pursuant to the terms of this Agreement or invalidate any action taken by the Litigation Trustee. In the event of the resignation or removal of the Litigation Trustee, the Litigation Trustee shall promptly (i) execute and deliver, by the effective date of resignation or removal, such documents, instruments, records, and other writings as may be reasonably requested by his successor to effect termination of the exiting Litigation Trustee’s capacity under this Agreement and the conveyance of the Estate Claims then held by the exiting Litigation Trustee to the successor Litigation Trustee; (ii) deliver to the successor Litigation Trustee all non-privileged documents, instruments, records, and other writings relating to the Litigation Sub-Trust as may be in the possession or under the control of the exiting Litigation Trustee, provided, the exiting Litigation Trustee shall have the right to make and retain copies of such documents, instruments, records and other writings delivered to the successor Litigation Trustee and the cost of making such copies shall be a Litigation Sub-Trust Expense to be paid by the Litigation Sub-Trust; and (iii) otherwise assist and cooperate in effecting the assumption of the exiting Litigation Trustee’s obligations and functions by his successor, provided the fees and expenses of such assistance and cooperation shall be paid to the exiting Litigation Trustee by the Litigation Sub-Trust. The exiting Litigation Trustee shall irrevocably appoint the successor Litigation Trustee as his attorney-in-fact and agent with full power of substitution for it and its name, place and stead to do any and all acts that such exiting Litigation Trustee is obligated to perform under this Section 3.9.

3.10 Litigation Trustee as “Estate Representative”. The Litigation Trustee will be the exclusive trustee of the Litigation Sub-Trust Assets, for purposes of 31 U.S.C. § 3713(b) and 26 U.S.C. § 6012(b)(3), as well as the representative of the Estate appointed pursuant to section 1123(b)(3)(B) of the Bankruptcy Code (the “Estate Representative”) with respect to the Estate Claims, with all rights and powers attendant thereto, in addition to all rights and powers granted in the Plan and in this Agreement. The Litigation Trustee will be the successor-in-interest to the Debtor with respect to any action pertaining to the Estate Claims, which was or could have been commenced by the Debtor prior to the Effective Date, except as otherwise provided in the Plan or Confirmation Order. All actions, claims, rights or interests constituting or relating to Estate Claims are preserved and retained and may be enforced by the Litigation Trustee as an Estate Representative.

3.11 Books and Records.

(a) The Litigation Trustee shall maintain, in respect of the Litigation Sub-Trust and the Claimant Trust, books and records pertinent to Estate Claims in its possession and the income of the Litigation Sub-Trust and payment of expenses, liabilities, and claims against or assumed by the Litigation Sub-Trust in such detail and for such period of time as may be necessary to enable it to make full and proper accounting in respect thereof. Such books and records shall be maintained as reasonably necessary to facilitate compliance with the tax reporting requirements of the Litigation Sub-Trust and the requirements of Article VII herein. Except as otherwise provided herein, nothing in this Agreement requires the Litigation Trustee to file any accounting or seek approval of any court with respect to the administration of the Litigation Sub-Trust, or as a condition for managing any payment or distribution out of the Litigation Sub-Trust. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Litigation Trustee shall retain such books and records, and for such periods, with respect to any Reorganized Debtor Assets as are required to be retained pursuant to Section 204-2 of the Investment Advisers Act or any other applicable laws, rules, or regulations.

(b) The Litigation Trustee may dispose some or all of the books and records maintained by the Litigation Trustee at the later of (i) such time as the Litigation Trustee determines, with the unanimous consent of the Oversight Board, that the continued possession or maintenance of such books and records is no longer necessary for the benefit of the Litigation Sub-Trust, including with respect to the Estate Claims, or (ii) upon the termination and winding up of the Litigation Sub-Trust under Article IX of this Agreement.

3.12 Reports.

(a) Financial and Status Reports. The fiscal year of the Litigation Sub-Trust shall be the calendar year. Within 90 days after the end of each calendar year during the term of the Litigation Sub-Trust, and within 45 days after the end of each calendar quarter during (other than the fourth quarter) the term of the Litigation Sub-Trust and as soon as practicable upon termination of the Litigation Sub-Trust, the Litigation Trustee shall make available upon request to the Oversight Board or Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary appearing on its records as of the end of such period or such date of termination, a written report including: (i) unaudited financial statements of the Litigation Sub-Trust for such period, and, if the end of a calendar year, an unaudited report (which may be prepared by an independent certified public accountant employed by the Litigation Trustee) reflecting the result of such agreed-upon procedures relating to the financial accounting administration of the Litigation Sub-Trust as proposed by the Litigation Trustee; (ii) a summary description of any action taken by the Litigation Sub-Trust that, in the judgment of the Litigation Trustee, materially affects the Litigation Sub-Trust and of which notice has not previously been given to the Oversight Board or Litigation Sub-Trust

Beneficiary, provided, that any such description shall not include any privileged or confidential information of the Litigation Trustee; and (iii) a description of the progress of liquidating the Litigation Sub-Trust Assets and making distributions to the Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary and any other material information relating to the Litigation Sub-Trust Assets and the administration of the Litigation Sub-Trust deemed appropriate to be disclosed by the Litigation Trustee, which description shall include a written report detailing, among other things, the litigation status of the Estate Claims transferred to the Litigation Sub-Trust, any settlements entered into by the Litigation Sub-Trust with respect to the Estate Claims, the proceeds recovered to date from Estate Claims, and the distributions made by the Litigation Sub-Trust.

(b) Annual Plan and Budget. If instructed by the Oversight Board, the Litigation Trustee shall prepare and submit to the Oversight Board for approval an annual plan and budget in such detail as reasonably requested.

3.13 Compensation and Reimbursement; Engagement of Professionals.

(a) Compensation and Expenses.

(i) Compensation. As compensation for any services rendered by the Litigation Trustee in connection with this Agreement, the Litigation Trustee shall receive initial compensation in a manner and amount as agreed upon by the Committee. Any additional compensation or compensation of a Successor Litigation Trustee shall be determined by the Oversight Board.

(ii) Expense Reimbursements. All reasonable out-of-pocket expenses of the Litigation Trustee in the performance of his or her duties hereunder, shall be reimbursed as Litigation Sub-Trust Expenses paid by the Litigation Sub-Trust.

(b) Professionals.

(i) Engagement of Professionals. The Litigation Trustee shall engage professionals from time to time in conjunction with the services provided hereunder. The Litigation Trustee's engagement of such professionals shall be approved by a majority of the Oversight Board as set forth in Section 3.3(b) hereof.

(ii) Fees and Expenses of Professionals. The Litigation Trustee shall pay the reasonable fees and expenses of any retained professionals as Litigation Sub-Trust Expenses.

3.14 Reliance by Litigation Trustee. Except as otherwise provided herein, the Litigation Trustee may rely, and shall be fully protected in acting or refraining from acting, on any resolution, statement, certificate, instrument, opinion, report, notice, request, consent, order or other instrument or document that the Litigation Trustee has no reason to believe to be other than genuine and to have been signed or presented by the proper party or parties or, in the case of facsimiles, to have been sent by the proper party or parties, and the Litigation Trustee may conclusively rely as to the truth of the statements and correctness of the opinions or direction expressed therein. The Litigation Trustee may consult with counsel and other professionals, and any advice of such counsel or other professionals shall constitute full and complete authorization and protection in respect of any action taken or not taken by the Litigation Trustee in accordance therewith. The Litigation Trustee shall have the right at any time to seek instructions from the Bankruptcy Court, or any other court of competent jurisdiction concerning Estate Claims, this Agreement, the Plan, or any other document executed in connection therewith, and any such instructions given shall be full and complete authorization in respect of any action taken or not taken by the Litigation Trustee in accordance therewith. The Litigation Sub-Trust shall have the right to seek Orders from the Bankruptcy Court as set forth in Article IX of the Plan.

3.15 Commingling of Litigation Sub-Trust Assets. The Litigation Trustee shall not commingle any of the Litigation Sub-Trust Assets with his or her own property or the property of any other Person.

3.16 Delaware Trustee. The Delaware Trustee shall have the power and authority, and is hereby authorized and empowered, to (i) accept legal process served on the Litigation Sub-Trust in the State of Delaware; and (ii) execute any certificates that are required to be executed under the Statutory Trust Act and file such certificates in the office of the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware, and take such action or refrain from taking such action under this Agreement as may be directed in a writing delivered to the Delaware Trustee by the Litigation Trustee; provided, however, that the Delaware Trustee shall not be required to take or to refrain from taking any such action if the Delaware Trustee shall believe, or shall have been advised by counsel, that such performance is likely to involve the Delaware Trustee in personal liability or to result in personal liability to the Delaware Trustee, or is contrary to the terms of this Agreement or of any document contemplated hereby to which the Litigation Sub-Trust or the Delaware Trustee is or becomes a party or is otherwise contrary to law. The Parties agree not to instruct the Delaware Trustee to take any action or to refrain from taking any action that is contrary to the terms of this Agreement or of any document contemplated hereby to which the Litigation Sub-Trust or the Delaware Trustee is or becomes party or that is otherwise contrary to law. Other than as expressly provided for in this Agreement, the Delaware Trustee shall have no duty or power to take any action for or on behalf of the Litigation Sub-Trust.]

ARTICLE IV. THE OVERSIGHT BOARD

The Oversight Board shall be governed by Article IV of the Claimant Trust Agreement.

ARTICLE V. TRUST INTERESTS

5.1 Litigation Sub-Trust Interests. On the date hereof, the Litigation Sub-Trust shall issue Trust Interests to the Claimant Trust as the sole Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary. The Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary shall be entitled to distributions from the Litigation Sub-Trust Assets in accordance with the terms of the Plan and this Agreement.

5.2 Transferability of Trust Interests. No transfer, assignment, pledge, hypothecation, or other disposition of a Trust Interest may be effected.

5.3 Exemption from Registration. The Parties hereto intend that the rights of the Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary arising under this Litigation Sub-Trust shall not be “securities” under applicable laws, but none of the Parties represent or warrant that such rights shall not be securities or shall not be entitled to exemption from registration under the applicable securities laws. The Oversight Board, acting unanimously, and Litigation Trustee may amend this Agreement in accordance with Article IX hereof to make such changes as are deemed necessary or appropriate with the advice of counsel, to ensure that the Litigation Sub-Trust is not subject to registration and/or reporting requirements of the Securities Act, the Exchange Act, the TIA, or the Investment Company Act. The Trust Interests shall not have consent or voting rights or otherwise confer on the Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary any rights similar to the rights of a shareholder of a corporation in respect of any actions taken or to be taken, or decisions made or to be made, by the Oversight Board and/or the Litigation Trustee under this Agreement.

ARTICLE VI. DISTRIBUTIONS

6.1 Distributions. The Litigation Trustee shall distribute Cash proceeds of the Estate Claims to the Claimant Trust within 30 days of receipt of such Cash proceeds, net of any amounts that (a) are reasonably necessary to maintain the value of the Litigation Sub-Trust Assets pending their monetization or other disposition during the term of the Litigation Sub-Trust, (b) are necessary to pay or reserve for reasonably incurred or anticipated Litigation Sub-Trust Expenses and any other expenses incurred by the Litigation Sub-Trust (including, but not limited to, any taxes imposed on or payable by the Litigation Trustee with respect to the Litigation Sub-Trust Assets), and (c) are necessary to satisfy or reserve for other liabilities incurred or anticipated by the Litigation Trustee in accordance with the Plan and this Agreement (including, but not limited to, indemnification obligations and similar expenses).

6.2 Manner of Payment or Distribution. All distributions made by the Litigation Trustee on behalf of the Litigation Sub-Trust to the Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary shall be payable by the Litigation Trustee directly to the Claimant Trust, as sole Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary, on the date scheduled for the distribution, unless such day is not a Business Day, then such date or the distribution shall be the following Business Day, but such distribution shall be deemed to have been completed as of the required date.

6.3 Delivery of Distributions. All distributions under this Agreement to the Claimant Trust shall be made pursuant to wire instructions provided by the Claimant Trustee to the Litigation Trustee.

ARTICLE VII. TAX MATTERS

7.1 Tax Treatment and Tax Returns. It is intended that the Litigation Sub-Trust will be treated as a grantor trust for federal income tax purposes (and foreign, state, and local income tax purposes where applicable) the sole beneficiary of which is the Claimant Trust. Consistent with such treatment, it is intended that the transfer of the Litigation Sub Trust Assets from the Claimant Trust to the Litigation Sub Trust will be treated as a non-event for federal income tax purposes (and foreign, state, and local income tax purposes where applicable). Further, because the Claimant Trust is itself intended to be treated as a grantor trust for federal income tax purposes (and foreign, state, and local income tax purposes where applicable), it is intended that the beneficiaries of the Claimant Trust will be treated as the grantor of the Litigation Sub-Trust and owner of the Litigation Sub-Trust Assets for federal income tax purposes (and foreign, state, and local income tax purposes where applicable). The Litigation Trustee shall cooperate with the Claimant Trustee in connection with the preparation and filing of any federal income tax returns (and foreign, state, and local income tax returns where applicable) or information statements relating to the Litigation Sub Trust Assets.

7.2 Withholding. The Litigation Trustee may withhold from any amount distributed from the Litigation Sub-Trust to the Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary such sum or sums as are required to be withheld under the income tax laws of the United States or of any state or political subdivision thereof. Any amounts withheld pursuant hereto shall be deemed to have been distributed to and received by the Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary. As a condition to receiving any distribution from the Litigation Sub-Trust, the Litigation Trustee may require that the Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary provide such holder's taxpayer identification number and such other information and certification as may be deemed necessary for the Litigation Trustee to comply with applicable tax reporting and withholding laws.

ARTICLE VIII. STANDARD OF CARE AND INDEMNIFICATION

8.1 Standard of Care. None of the Litigation Trustee, acting in his capacity as the Litigation Trustee or in any other capacity contemplated by this Agreement or the Plan, the Oversight Board, or any individual Member, solely in their capacity as Members of the Oversight Board, shall be personally liable to the Litigation Sub-Trust or to any Person (including the Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary and Claimant Trust Beneficiaries) in connection with the affairs of the Litigation Sub-Trust, unless it is ultimately determined by order of the Bankruptcy Court or, if the Bankruptcy Court either declines to exercise jurisdiction over such action, or cannot exercise jurisdiction over such action, such other court of competent jurisdiction that the acts or omissions of any such Litigation Trustee, Oversight Board, or Member constituted fraud, willful misconduct, or gross negligence. The employees, agents and professionals retained by the Litigation Sub-Trust, the Litigation Trustee, or Oversight Board shall not be personally liable to the Litigation Sub-Trust or any other Person in connection with the affairs of the Litigation Sub-Trust, unless it is ultimately determined by order of the Bankruptcy Court or, if the Bankruptcy Court either declines to exercise jurisdiction over such action, or cannot exercise jurisdiction over such action, such other court of competent jurisdiction that such acts or omissions by such employee, agent, or professional constituted willful fraud, willful misconduct or gross negligence. None of the Litigation Trustee, Oversight Board, or any Member shall be personally liable to the Litigation Sub-Trust or to any Person for the acts or omissions of any employee, agent or professional of the Litigation Sub-Trust or Litigation Trustee, unless it is ultimately determined by order of the Bankruptcy Court or, if the Bankruptcy Court either declines to exercise jurisdiction over such action, or cannot exercise jurisdiction over such action, such other court of competent jurisdiction that the Litigation Trustee, Oversight Board, or Member acted with gross negligence or willful misconduct in the selection, retention, or supervision of such employee, agent or professional of the Litigation Sub-Trust.

8.2 Indemnification. The Litigation Trustee (including each former Litigation Trustee), Oversight Board, and all past and present Members (collectively, the “Indemnified Parties”) shall be indemnified by the Litigation Sub-Trust against and held harmless by the Litigation Sub-Trust from any losses, claims, damages, liabilities or expenses (including, without limitation, attorneys’ fees, disbursements, and related expenses) to which the Indemnified Parties may become subject in connection with any action, suit, proceeding or investigation brought or threatened against any of the Indemnified Parties in their capacity as Litigation Trustee, Oversight Board, or Member, or in connection with any matter arising out of or related to the Plan, this Agreement, or the affairs of the Litigation Sub-Trust, unless it is ultimately determined by order of the Bankruptcy Court or other court of competent jurisdiction that the Indemnified Party’s acts or omissions constituted willful fraud, willful misconduct, or gross negligence. If the Indemnified Party becomes involved in any action, proceeding, or investigation in connection with any matter arising out of or in connection with the Plan, this Agreement or the affairs of the Litigation Sub-Trust for which an indemnification obligation could arise, the Indemnified Party shall promptly notify the Litigation Trustee and/or Oversight Board, as applicable; provided, however, that the failure of an Indemnified Party to promptly notify the Litigation Trustee and/or Oversight Board of an indemnification obligation will not excuse the Litigation Sub-Trust from indemnifying the Indemnified Party unless such delay has caused the Litigation Sub-Trust material harm. The Litigation Sub-Trust shall periodically advance or otherwise reimburse on demand the Indemnified Party’s reasonable legal and other expenses (including, without limitation, the cost of any investigation and preparation and attorney fees, disbursements, and related expenses) incurred in connection therewith as a Litigation Sub-Trust Expense, but the Indemnified Party shall be required to repay promptly to the Litigation Sub-Trust the amount of any such advanced or reimbursed expenses paid to the Indemnified Party to the extent that it shall be ultimately determined by Final Order that the Indemnified Party engaged in willful fraud, misconduct, or negligence in connection with the affairs of the Litigation Sub-Trust with respect to which such expenses were paid. The Litigation Sub-Trust shall indemnify and hold harmless the employees, agents and professionals of the Litigation Sub-Trust and Indemnified Parties to the same extent as provided in this Section 8.2 for the Indemnified Parties. For the avoidance of doubt, the provisions of this Section 8.2 shall remain available to any former Litigation Trustee or Member or the estate of any decedent Litigation Trustee or Member. The indemnification provided hereby shall be a Litigation Sub-Trust Expense.

8.3 To the extent applicable, the provisions and protections set forth in Article IX of the Plan will apply to the Litigation Sub-Trust, the Litigation Trustee, Oversight Board, and the Members.

ARTICLE IX. TERMINATION

9.1 Duration. The Litigation Trustee, the Litigation Sub-Trust, and the Oversight Board shall be discharged or dissolved, as the case may be, at such time as the Litigation Trustee determines that the Estate Claims is not likely to yield sufficient additional proceeds to justify further pursuit of such Estate, and all Distributions required to be made by the Litigation Trustee to the Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary under the Plan and this Agreement have been made, but in no event shall the Litigation Sub-Trust be dissolved later than [three years] from the Effective Date unless the Bankruptcy Court, upon motion made within the six-month period before such third anniversary (and, in the event of further extension, by order of the Bankruptcy Court, upon motion made at least six months before the end of the preceding extension), determines that a fixed period extension (not to exceed two years, together with any prior extensions) is necessary to facilitate or complete the recovery on, and liquidation of, the Litigation Sub-Trust Assets.

9.2 Continuance of the Litigation Trustee for Winding Up. After dissolution of the Litigation Sub-Trust and for purpose of liquidating and winding up the affairs of the Litigation Sub-Trust, the Litigation Trustee shall continue to act as such until the Litigation Trustee's duties have been fully performed. Prior to the final distribution of all remaining Litigation Sub-Trust Assets, the Litigation Trustee shall be entitled to reserve from such assets any and all amounts required to provide for the Litigation Trustee's own costs and expenses, including a reserve to fund any potential indemnification or similar obligations of the Litigation Sub-Trust, until such time as the winding up of the Litigation Sub-Trust is completed. Upon the dissolution of the Litigation Sub-Trust and completion of the winding up of the assets, liabilities and affairs of the Litigation Sub-Trust pursuant to the Delaware Statutory Trust Act, the Litigation Trustee shall file a certificate of cancellation with the State of Delaware to terminate the Litigation Sub-Trust pursuant to Section 3810 of the Delaware Statutory Trust Act (such date upon which the certificate of cancellation is filed shall be referred to as the "Termination Date"). Subject in all respects to 3.11, upon the Termination date, the Litigation Trustee shall retain for a period of two (2) years, as a Litigation Sub-Trust Expense, the books, records, and certificated and other documents and files that have been delivered to or created by the Litigation Trustee. Subject in all respects to Section 3.11, at the Litigation Trustee's discretion, all of such records and documents may, but need not, be destroyed at any time after two (2) years from the Termination Date.

9.3 Termination of Duties. Except as otherwise specifically provided herein, upon the Termination Date of the Litigation Sub-Trust, the Litigation Trustee, the Oversight Board, and its Members shall have no further duties or obligations hereunder.

ARTICLE X. AMENDMENTS AND WAIVER

The Litigation Trustee, with the consent of a simple majority of the Oversight Board, may amend this Agreement to correct or clarify any non-material provisions. This Agreement may not otherwise be amended, supplemented, otherwise modified, or waived in any respect except by an instrument in writing signed by the Litigation Trustee and with the unanimous approval of the Oversight Board, and the approval of the Bankruptcy Court, after notice and a hearing; provided that the Litigation Trustee must provide the Oversight Board with prior written notice of any non-material amendments, supplements, modifications, or waivers of this Agreement.

ARTICLE XI. MISCELLANEOUS

11.1 Trust Irrevocable. Except as set forth in this Agreement, establishment of the Litigation Sub-Trust by this Agreement shall be irrevocable and shall not be subject to revocation, cancellation or rescission by the Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary.

11.2 Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary has No Legal Title to Litigation Sub-Trust Assets. The Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary shall have no legal title to any part of the Litigation Sub-Trust Assets.

11.3 Agreement for Benefit of Parties Only. Nothing herein, whether expressed or implied, shall be construed to give any Person other than the Litigation Trustee, Oversight Board, and the Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary any legal or equitable right, remedy or claim under or in respect of this Agreement. The Litigation Sub-Trust Assets shall be held for the sole and exclusive benefit of the Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary.

11.4 Notices. All notices, directions, instructions, confirmations, consents and requests required or permitted by the terms hereof shall, unless otherwise specifically provided herein, be in writing and shall be sent by first class mail, facsimile, overnight mail or in the case of mailing to a non-United States address, air mail, postage prepaid, addressed to:

or unenforceability in any jurisdiction shall not invalidate or render unenforceable such provisions in another jurisdiction.

11.6 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed by the parties hereto in separate counterparts, each of which when so executed and delivered shall be an original, but all such counterparts shall together constitute but one and the same instrument.

11.7 Binding Effect, etc. All covenants and agreements contained herein shall be binding upon, and inure to the benefit of, the Litigation Sub-Trust, the Litigation Trustee, and the Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary, and their respective successors and assigns. Any notice, direction, consent, waiver or other instrument or action by any Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary shall bind its successors and assigns.

11.8 Headings; References. The headings of the various Sections herein are for convenience of reference only and shall not define or limit any of the terms or provisions hereof.

11.9 Governing Law. This Agreement shall in all respects be governed by, and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware, including all matters of constructions, validity and performance.

11.10 Consent to Jurisdiction. Each of the parties hereto, each Member (solely in their capacity as Members of the Oversight Board), and each Claimant Trust Beneficiary consents and submits to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Bankruptcy Court for any action or proceeding instituted for the enforcement and construction of any right, remedy, obligation, or liability arising under or by reason of this Agreement or the Plan, the Plan or any act or omission of the Claimant Trustee (acting in his capacity as the Claimant Trustee or in any other capacity contemplated by this Agreement or the Plan), Litigation Trustee (acting in his capacity as the Litigation Trustee or in any other capacity contemplated by this Agreement or the Plan), the Oversight Board, or any individual Member (solely in their capacity as Members of the Oversight Board); provided, however, that if the Bankruptcy Court either declines to exercise jurisdiction over such action or cannot exercise jurisdiction over such action, such action may be brought in the state or federal courts located in the Northern District of Texas.

11.11 Transferee Liabilities. The Litigation Sub-Trust shall have no liability for, and the Litigation Sub-Trust Assets shall not be subject to, any claim arising by, through or under the Debtor except as expressly set forth in the Plan or in this Agreement. In no event shall the Litigation Trustee or the Litigation Sub-Trust Beneficiary have any personal liability for such claims. If any liability shall be asserted against the Litigation Sub-Trust or the Litigation Trustee as the transferee of the Litigation Sub-Trust Assets on account of any claimed liability of, through or under the Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, the Litigation Trustee may use such part of the Litigation Sub-Trust Assets as may be necessary to contest any such claimed liability and to pay, compromise, settle or discharge same on terms reasonably satisfactory to the Litigation Trustee as a Litigation Sub-Trust Expense.

EXHIBIT V

SENIOR EMPLOYEE STIPULATION AND TOLLING AGREEMENT EXTENDING STATUTES OF LIMITATION

This stipulation (the “Stipulation”) is entered into as of [____], by and between [EMPLOYEE NAME] (the “Senior Employee”) and Highland Capital Management, L.P. (the “Debtor”). The Debtor and the Senior Employee are individually referred to as a “Party” and collectively as the “Parties”.

RECITALS

WHEREAS, on October 16, 2019, the Debtor filed with the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware, a voluntary petition for relief under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code, which case was subsequently transferred to the Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas, Dallas Division (the “Bankruptcy Court”) and captioned In re Highland Capital Management, L.P., Case No. 19-34054-sgj11 (the “Chapter 11 Case”);

WHEREAS, on October 29, 2019, the U.S. Trustee appointed the official committee of unsecured creditors (the “Committee”) in the Chapter 11 Case;

WHEREAS, on November 24, 2020, the Debtor filed the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (as may be further amended or supplemented, the “Plan”)¹ [Docket No. 1472]. A hearing to consider confirmation of the Plan is currently scheduled for January 26, 2021.

WHEREAS, prior to and during the course of the Chapter 11 Case, the Senior Employee was employed by the Debtor as its [____] and in such role provided services to the Debtor;

WHEREAS, (i) certain amounts that were allegedly due to be paid to the Senior Employee for the partial year of 2018 in installments due on February 28, 2020 and August 31, 2020; and (ii) certain amounts that were due to the Senior Employee in respect of the 2017 Deferred Award that vested after three years on May 31, 2020 ((i) and (ii), collectively, the “Bonus Amount”) were not paid because of objections raised by the Committee;

WHEREAS, as of the date hereof, the total Bonus Amount through and including the date hereof is $ [____];

WHEREAS, on [____], the Senior Employee filed a proof of claim [Claim No. [____]] (the “Proof of Claim”), which included a claim for the Bonus Amount;

WHEREAS, as set forth in the Proof of Claim, the Senior Employee may have other Claims against the Debtor in addition to the Bonus Amount (the “Other Employee Claims” and together with the Bonus Amount, the “Senior Employee Claims”)²:

¹ Capitalized terms used but not otherwise defined herein shall have the meanings ascribed to such terms in the Plan.

² For the avoidance of doubt, the “Other Employee Claims” shall include all prepetition and postpetition Claims of

WHEREAS, the Committee has alleged that certain causes of action against the Senior Employee may exist, which causes of action have been or will be retained pursuant to the Plan (the “Causes of Action”):

WHEREAS, the Plan provides for the release of certain of the Causes of Action (the “Released Causes of Action”) against the Senior Employee as set forth in therein (the “Employee Release”):

WHEREAS, both the Employee Release and the payment of the Bonus Amount (as reduced pursuant to this Agreement) are conditioned on the Senior Employee executing this Stipulation on or prior to the Confirmation Date;

WHEREAS, the Plan provides for the creation of the Claimant Trust and Litigation Sub-Trust and the appointment of the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee (the “CTOC”) to oversee such entities;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual promises set forth herein, each of the Parties stipulates and agrees as follows:

1. Covenant Not to Sue. In consideration of the Senior Employee’s agreement to toll the statutes of limitation with respect to any Causes of Action that can be asserted against him and to waive a portion of the Bonus Amount which would otherwise be part of the Senior Employee Claim, the Debtor and any of its successors or assigns, including the Claimant Trust or the Litigation Sub-Trust (collectively, the “HCMLP Parties”), agree not to initiate or commence any lawsuit, action or proceeding for the purpose of prosecuting any Released Causes of Action against the Senior Employee from the date of this Stipulation until the earlier of (a) thirty calendar days after the Notice Date and (b) the Dissolution Date (each as defined below) (such date, the “Termination Date”). This Stipulation shall expire upon the Termination Date and shall thereafter be of no further force and effect; provided, however, that the termination of this Stipulation shall not affect the treatment of the Bonus Amount set forth in Section 5 hereof or in the Plan.

2. Non-Compliance: Vesting.

a. As set forth in the Plan, the Senior Employee acknowledges and agrees that the Employee Release will be deemed null and void and of no force and effect (1) if there is more than one member of the CTOC who does not represent entities holding a Disputed or Allowed Claim (the “Independent Members”), the Claimant Trustee and the Independent Members by majority vote determine or (2) if there is only one Independent Member, the Independent Member after discussion with the Claimant Trustee, determines (in each case after discussing with the full CTOC) that such Employee (regardless of whether the Employee is then currently employed by the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trustee):

the Senior Employee, including paid time off claims, claims (if applicable) for severance amounts under applicable employment agreements, and administrative claims (if applicable) but shall not include the Bonus Amount.

any entity or person to sue, attempt to sue, or threaten the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trust, the Litigation Sub-Trust, or any of their respective employees or agents, or any Released Party on or in connection with any claim or cause of action arising prior to the Effective Date,

(2) has taken any action that, impairs or harms the value of the Claimant Trust Assets or the Reorganized Debtor Assets,

(3) has violated the confidentiality provisions of Section 4 below, or

(4) (x) upon the request of the Claimant Trustee, has failed to provide reasonable assistance in good faith to the Claimant Trustee or the Reorganized Debtor with respect to (i) the monetization of the Claimant Trust Assets or Reorganized Debtor Assets, as applicable, or (ii) the resolution of Claims, or (y) has taken any action that impedes or frustrates the Claimant Trustee or the Reorganized Debtor with respect to any of the foregoing. If such determination under this Section 2a is made, the Claimant Trustee will deliver a notice of non-compliance with the Plan (the “Notice”) to the Senior Employee. Such Notice will be effective when deemed delivered pursuant to Section 8.h hereof (the “Notice Date”).

b. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, Employee Release will vest and all Released Causes of Action that may or could be brought against the Senior Employee will be indefeasibly released solely to the extent set forth in Article IX.D of the Plan so long as the Notice Date does not occur on or before the date that the Claimant Trust is dissolved (such date, the “Dissolution Date”).

c. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Stipulation or any other document, Senior Employee expressly reserves the right to take all actions necessary to pursue enforcement and payment of the Other Employee Claims, and such actions shall not violate the terms of this Stipulation; provided, that, for the avoidance of doubt, nothing in this Stipulation shall prejudice the rights of the Debtor, or any of the Debtor’s successor in interests under the Plan, to object to or otherwise challenge any Other Employee Claims or limit the Senior Employee’s obligations under Section 8 hereof. Additionally, this Agreement does not affect or impair Senior Employee’s rights, if any, to seek indemnification from any party, including, without limitation, the Debtor, any HCMLP Parties, or any other affiliates thereof nor does it affect or impair the right of the Debtor, or any of the Debtor’s successor in interests under the Plan, to challenge such request.

3. Tolling of Statutes of Limitation. In consideration of the HCMLP Parties’ “Covenant Not to Sue” (set forth in Section 1 hereof), the Senior Employee agrees that the statute of limitations applicable to any Cause of Action is hereby tolled as of, and extended from, the date of this Stipulation through and including the Termination Date (the “Tolling Period”). The Tolling Period shall be excluded from any calculation of any statute of limitations period applicable to any Cause of Action that may be brought by the HCMLP Parties against the Senior Employee. The Senior Employee acknowledges that he will be estopped from arguing that this Stipulation is ineffective to extend the time within which the HCMLP Parties must commence an action to pursue any Cause of Action.

4. Confidentiality. In further consideration of the HCMLP Parties' "Covenant Not to Sue" (set forth in Section 1 hereof), the Senior Employee agrees that, in addition to existing obligations to maintain all business sensitive information concerning the HCMLP Parties in strictest confidence, each Senior Employee further agrees to keep all discussions, information and observations including, but not limited to, attorney-client privileged or work product information (collectively "Confidential Information") relating to the activities or planned activities of the HCMLP Parties strictly confidential. Each Senior Employee covenants and represents that it will not discuss such Confidential Information with anyone, other than the Senior Employee's personal attorney, the Claimant Trustee, or its respective representatives.

5. Bonus Amount.

a. The Senior Employee has agreed to forfeit a percentage of his Bonus Amount in consideration for the Employee Release and acknowledges that such agreement is an integral part of this Stipulation. The Senior Employee hereby agrees that (i) the Bonus Amount will be treated as an Allowed Class 7 (Convenience Claim) under the Plan and, to the extent required, will reduce his Bonus Amount as required to qualify for such treatment, (ii) the Senior Employee will receive the treatment provided to other Allowed Class 7 (Convenience Claims), (iii) the Allowed Class 7 distribution on the Bonus Amount will be further reduced by 5% (the "Reduced Amount"), and (iv) the Reduced Amount will be forever waived and released. Except as set forth herein, nothing herein will prejudice or otherwise impact any Other Employee Claim, or prevent the Senior Employee from prosecuting, pursuing, or enforcing any Other Employee Claim.

b. For the avoidance of doubt, although the Employee Release can be nullified as set forth in Section 2, any such nullification will have no effect on the treatment of the Senior Employee's Bonus Amount pursuant to this Section 5.

6. Other Employee Claims. The Parties acknowledge and agree that the Senior Employee is not entitled to make the Convenience Class Election with respect to the Other Employee Claims.

7. Effective Date. The Parties acknowledge and agree that this Stipulation and the Parties' obligations hereunder are conditioned in all respects on the approval of the Plan by the Bankruptcy Court and the occurrence of the Effective Date of the Plan. If, for any reason, the Plan is not approved by the Bankruptcy Court or the Effective Date does not occur, this Stipulation will be null and void and of no force and effect.

8. Plan Support. The Senior Employee agrees that he will use commercially reasonable efforts to assist the Debtor in confirmation of the Plan, including, without limitation, filing a notice of such Senior Employee's withdrawal from the Senior Employees' Limited Objection to Debtor's Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization [Docket No. 1669], and vote, if applicable, the Bonus Amount, the Other Employee Claims, and any other Claims in favor of the Plan.

9. Miscellaneous.

a. Counterparts. This Stipulation may be signed in counterparts and such signatures may be delivered by facsimile or other electronic means.

b. Binding Effect. This Stipulation shall inure to the benefit of, and be binding upon, any and all successors-in-interests, assigns, and legal representatives, of any Party.

c. Authority. Each Party to this Stipulation and each person executing this document on behalf of any Party to this Stipulation warrants and represents that he, she, or it has the power and authority to execute, deliver and perform its obligations under this Stipulation.

d. Entire Agreement. This Stipulation sets forth the entire agreement between the Parties with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior and contemporaneous written and oral agreements and discussions. This Stipulation may only be amended by an agreement in writing signed by the Parties.

e. No Waiver and Reservation of Rights. Except as otherwise provided herein, nothing in this Stipulation shall be, or deemed to be, a waiver of any rights, remedies, or privileges of any of the Parties. Except as otherwise provided herein, this Stipulation is without prejudice to any Party's rights, privileges and remedies under applicable law, whether at law or in equity, and each Party hereby reserves all of such rights, privileges and remedies under applicable law.

f. No Admission of Liability. The Parties acknowledge that there is a bona fide dispute with respect to the Causes of Action. Nothing in this Agreement will imply an admission of liability, fault or wrongdoing by the Senior Employee and the execution of this Agreement does not constitute an admission of liability, fault, or wrongdoing on the part of the Senior Employee.

g. No Waiver If Breach. The Parties agree that no breach of any provision hereof can be waived except in writing. The waiver of a breach of any provision hereof shall not be deemed a waiver of any other breach of any provision hereof.

h. Notice. Each notice and other communication hereunder will be in writing and will be sent by email and delivered or mailed by registered mail, receipt requested, and will be deemed to have been given on the date of its delivery, if delivered by email, and on the fifth full business day following the date of the mailing, if mailed to each of the Parties thereto at the following respective addresses or such other address as may be subsequently specified in writing by any Party and delivered to all other Parties pursuant to this Section:

5. Earned Amounts Bonus Amount.

a. The Senior Employee has agreed to forfeit a percentage of his Bonus Amount in consideration for the Employee Release and acknowledges that such agreement is an integral part of this Stipulation. The Senior Employee hereby agrees that (i) the Earned Amounts Bonus Amount will be treated as an Allowed Class 7 (Convenience Claim) under the Plan and, to the extent required, will reduce his Earned Amounts Bonus Amount as required to qualify for such treatment, (ii) the Senior Employee will receive the treatment provided to other Allowed Class 7 (Convenience Claims), (iii) the Earned Amounts Allowed Class 7 distribution on the Bonus Amount will be further reduced by 40.5% (the "Reduced Amount"), and (iv) the Reduced Amount will be forever waived and released. Except as set forth herein, nothing herein will prejudice or otherwise impact any Other Employee Claim, or prevent the Senior Employee from prosecuting, pursuing, or enforcing any Other Employee Claim.

b. For the avoidance of doubt, although the Employee Release can be nullified as set forth in Section 2, any such nullification will have no effect on the treatment of the Senior Employee's Earned Amounts Bonus Amount pursuant to this Section 5.

6. Other Employee Claims. The Parties acknowledge and agree that the Senior Employee is not entitled to make the Convenience Class Election with respect to the Other Employee Claims.

7. Effective Date. The Parties acknowledge and agree that this Stipulation and the Parties' obligations hereunder are conditioned in all respects on the approval of the Plan by the Bankruptcy Court and the occurrence of the Effective Date of the Plan. If, for any reason, the Plan is not approved by the Bankruptcy Court or the Effective Date does not occur, this Stipulation will be null and void and of no force and effect.

8. Plan Support. The Senior Employee agrees that he will use commercially reasonable efforts to assist the Debtor in confirmation of the Plan and vote any, including, without limitation, filing a notice of such Senior Employee's withdrawal from the Senior Employees' Limited Objection to Debtor's Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization [Docket No. 1669], and vote, if applicable, the Bonus Amount, the Other Employee Claims, and any other Claims in favor of the Plan.

9. ~~8.~~ Miscellaneous.

a. Counterparts. This Stipulation may be signed in counterparts and such signatures may be delivered by facsimile or other electronic means.

b. Binding Effect. This Stipulation shall inure to the benefit of, and be binding upon, any and all successors-in-interests, assigns, and legal representatives, of any Party.

c. Authority. Each Party to this Stipulation and each person executing this document on behalf of any Party to this Stipulation warrants and represents that he, she, or it has the power and authority to execute, deliver and perform its obligations under this Stipulation.

d. Entire Agreement. This Stipulation sets forth the entire agreement between the Parties with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior and contemporaneous written and oral agreements and discussions. This Stipulation may only be amended by an agreement in writing signed by the Parties.

e. No Waiver and Reservation of Rights. Except as otherwise provided herein, nothing in this Stipulation shall be, or deemed to be, a waiver of any rights, remedies, or privileges of any of the Parties. Except as otherwise provided herein, this Stipulation is without prejudice to any Party's rights, privileges and remedies under applicable law, whether at law or in equity, and each Party hereby reserves all of such rights, privileges and remedies under applicable law.

f. No Admission of Liability. The Parties acknowledge that there is a bona fide dispute with respect to the Causes of Action. Nothing in this Agreement will imply an admission of liability, fault or wrongdoing by the Senior Employee and the execution of this Agreement does not constitute an admission of liability, fault, or wrongdoing on the part of the Senior Employee.

g. No Waiver If Breach. The Parties agree that no breach of any provision hereof can be waived except in writing. The waiver of a breach of any provision hereof shall not be deemed a waiver of any other breach of any provision hereof.

h. Notice. Each notice and other communication hereunder will be in writing and will be sent by email and delivered or mailed by registered mail, receipt requested, and will be deemed to have been given on the date of its delivery, if delivered by email, and on the fifth full business day following the date of the mailing, if mailed to each of the Parties thereto at the following respective addresses or such other address as may be subsequently specified in writing by any Party and delivered to all other Parties pursuant to this Section:

AGREEMENT OF LIMITED PARTNERSHIP

(A Delaware Limited Partnership)

This FIFTH AMENDED AND RESTATED AGREEMENT OF LIMITED PARTNERSHIP (this “Agreement”) of Highland Capital Management, L.P., (the “Partnership”), dated as of [____], 2021 and entered into by and among the [New GP Entity] as general partner of the Partnership (the “General Partner”) and the limited partner of the Partnership as set forth on Schedule A hereto (the “Limited Partner”), amends and restates in its entirety the Fourth Amended and Restated Agreement of Limited Partnership of the Partnership dated as of December 24, 2015 (as amended to date, the “Prior Agreement”), by and among Strand Advisors, Inc. (the “Prior General Partner”) and the former limited partners of the Partnership who were limited partners of the Partnership (the “Prior Limited Partners”). The General Partner and Limited Partners are collectively referred to as the “Partners.”

WHEREAS, the Prior Agreement, as amended pursuant to that certain amendment dated [____], 2021, provides for the reconstitution and continuation of the Partnership if new limited partners are admitted to the partnership within 90 days after dissolution thereof and such new limited partners consent to the continuation of the Partnership.

WHEREAS, the Partnership was reorganized pursuant to the Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P., that was approved by the United States Bankruptcy Court for Northern District of Texas, Dallas Division, on [____] (the “Plan”).

WHEREAS, pursuant to the Plan the limited partnership interests of the Prior Limited Partners and the Prior General Partner were canceled on [____] and new limited partnership interests were issued to the Limited Partner and the General Partner under the Prior Agreement.

WHEREAS, the General Partner and the Limited Partner wish to ratify the admission to the Partnership of the General Partner and the Limited Partner and to amend and restate the terms of the Partnership as set forth in this Agreement.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the agreements and obligations set forth herein, the undersigned hereby agree as follows:

1. Continuation.

(a) Subject to the provisions of this Agreement, the Partners hereby continue the Partnership as a limited partnership pursuant to the provisions of the Delaware Revised Uniform Limited Partnership Act (6 Del.C. §17-101, et seq.), as amended from time to time (the “Act”). This Agreement amends, restates, and supersedes the Prior Agreement and all other prior agreements or understandings with respect to the matters covered herein.

(b) The Limited Partner, being the sole limited partner of the Partnership, hereby (i) consents to the continuation of the Partnership and (ii) ratifies and approves the appointment of the General Partner as general partner of the Partnership.

2. Organizational Matters.

(a) Name; Certificate. The name of the Partnership is Highland Capital Management, L.P. The Partnership was organized as a limited partnership pursuant to the Act and filed a Certificate of Limited Partnership (the “Certificate”) with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware. Any person authorized to act on behalf of the General Partner or the Partnership may, subject to Section 19 below, cause the Partnership to file such other certificates and documents as may be necessary or appropriate to comply with the Act and any other applicable requirements for the operation of a limited partnership in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware and any other jurisdictions in which the Partnership shall conduct business, and to maintain such filings for so long as the Partnership conducts business therein.

(b) Offices. The name of the resident agent for service of process for the Partnership and the address of the registered office of the Partnership in the State of Delaware is Corporation Services Company, 2023 Centre Road, Wilmington Delaware 19805-1297. The General Partner may establish places of business of the Partnership within and without the State of Delaware, as and when required by the Partnership’s business and in furtherance of its purposes set forth herein, and may appoint (or cause the appointment of) agents for service of process in all jurisdictions in which the Partnership shall conduct business. The General Partner may from time to time in its sole discretion change the Partnership’s places of business, resident agent for service of process, and/or the location of its registered office in Delaware.

3. Purpose: Powers. The Partnership is formed for the purpose of engaging in any lawful act or activity for which limited partnerships may be formed under the Act. Without limiting the foregoing, the general character and purposes of the business of the Partnership are to (a) engage in the business, directly and/or through one or more subsidiaries, of liquidating assets of, and performing investment management and advisory services for, pooled investment vehicles, funds, investment holdings, accounts, and interests therein; and (b) engage in any lawful activities (including, subject to the other provisions of this Agreement, the borrowing of money and the issuance of guarantees of indebtedness of others) directly or indirectly related or incidental thereto and in which a Delaware limited partnership may lawfully engage. The Partnership shall have and exercise all of the powers and rights conferred upon limited partnerships formed pursuant to the Act.

4. Management.

(a) Authority of the General Partner. The business and affairs of the Partnership shall be managed exclusively by and under the direction of the General Partner, which shall have the right, power and authority to exercise all of the powers of the Partnership except as otherwise provided by law or this Agreement. Decisions or actions made or approved by the General Partner in accordance with this Agreement shall constitute decisions or actions by the Partnership and shall be binding upon the Partnership and each Limited Partner of the Partnership. The General Partner may not be removed or replaced by the Limited Partners. In the event of the withdrawal, resignation or dissolution of the General Partner, a new General Partner shall be designated in writing by a majority in interest of the Limited Partners, who shall provide written notice to the remaining Limited Partners of such designation.

(b) Delegation of Powers; Officers. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, the General Partner may delegate any or all or any portion of its rights, powers, authority, duties and responsibilities with respect to the management of the Partnership to such officers of the Partnership with such titles as the General Partner may determine (“Officers”). The General Partner may authorize any such Officers to sign agreements, contracts, instruments, or other documents in the name of and on behalf of the Partnership, and such authority may be general or limited to specific instances. The power and authority of any Officer appointed by the General Partner under this Section 4(b) shall not exceed the power and authority possessed by the General Partner under this Agreement. The Officers shall hold office until their successors are duly appointed or their earlier death, resignation, or removal. Any Officer so appointed may be removed at any time, with or without cause, by the written consent of the General Partner. Any Officer may resign from his or her office upon prior written notice to the Partnership. If any office shall become vacant, a replacement Officer may be appointed by the written consent of the General Partner. Two or more offices may be held by the same person. The initial Officers of the Partnership are set forth on Schedule B.

(c) Limited Partners. No Limited Partner shall have any right to participate in the management of the Partnership as a Limited Partner. Moreover, no Limited Partner shall have any voting rights except with respect to consent to amendments as set forth in Section 19 below, or as otherwise required by the Act.

(d) Transactions with Affiliates. The General Partner or any person controlling, controlled by, or under common control with the General Partner (an “Affiliate”) may engage in transactions with the Partnership from time to time, including without limitation for lending to or borrowing from the Partnership, engaging in the provision of services to the Partnership, or otherwise engaging in business transactions with the Partnership, provided that such transactions are entered into in good faith. Unless otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement or any other agreement contemplated herein, whenever a conflict of interest exists or arises between the General Partner or any of its Affiliates, on the one hand, and the Partnership or any Limited Partner, on the other hand, any action taken by the General Partner, in the absence of bad faith by the General Partner, shall not constitute a breach of this Agreement or any other agreement contemplated herein or a breach of any standard of care or duty imposed herein or therein or under the Act or any other applicable law, rule, or regulation.

5. Partners.

(a) General. The name, address, and percentage interest ownership interest of the General Partner and each Limited Partner in the Partnership (the “Percentage Interest”) are set forth on Schedule A hereto. Additional Limited Partners may be admitted to the Partnership, and Schedule A may be amended, only with the written consent of the General Partner (provided, that failure to update Schedule A shall not itself be conclusive of whether consent of the General Partner has been obtained). No Limited Partner shall have the right or power to resign, withdraw or retire from the Partnership, except upon (i) the occurrence of any event described in Section 17-801 of the Act (in which case the Limited Partner(s) with respect to which such event has occurred shall, automatically and with no further action necessary by any person, cease to be a Limited Partner, and shall be deemed to have solely the interest of an assignee (within the meaning of Section 17 of the Act) with respect to such Limited Partner’s Limited Partnership Interest), or (ii) with the consent of the General Partner. For the avoidance of doubt, no action may be taken to reduce, directly or indirectly, the Percentage Interest of any Partner without the written consent of such Partner.

(b) Capital Contributions. The Partners may, in their sole discretion, make additional capital contribution to the Partnership if requested by the General Partner. All capital, whenever contributed, shall be subject in all respects to the risks of the business and subordinate in right of payment to the claims of present or future creditors of the Partnership in accordance with this Agreement.

(c) Capital Accounts. The Partnership shall maintain a capital account for each Partner in accordance with Section 704(b) and 704(c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”), and the principles of the Treasury Regulations promulgated thereunder.

(d) Tax Representative. The General Partner shall serve as the “tax representative” to be the Partnership’s designated representative within the meaning of Section 6223 of the Code with sole authority to act on behalf of the Partnership for purposes of subchapter C of Chapter 63 of the Code and any comparable provisions of state or local income tax laws (the “Tax Representative”). The Tax Representative is specifically directed and authorized to take whatever steps it deems necessary or desirable to perfect such designation, including, without limitation, filing any forms or documents with the Internal Revenue Service, properly designating a particular individual to act on its behalf of the Tax Representative and taking such other action as may from time to time be required under Treasury Regulations. The Tax Representative is hereby authorized to and shall perform all duties of a “tax representative” and shall serve as Tax Representative until its resignation or until the designation of its successor, whichever occurs sooner.

6. Allocation of Income and Losses.

(a) Definitions. For purposes of this Agreement, “Income” and “Loss” of the Partnership shall mean the taxable income and loss, respectively, of the Partnership computed with the adjustments set forth in Treasury Regulation under Code Section 704(b) including (A) adjustments pursuant to Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(g), (B) the inclusion of the amount of any tax-exempt income as an item of income, (C) the inclusion of the amount of any nondeductible, noncapitalizable expense as an item of deduction and (D) the inclusion of the amount of unrealized gain or unrealized loss with respect to an asset of the Partnership as an item of income or gain (as applicable) upon distribution of such asset in kind or as required by Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(f).

(b) Allocations Generally. The Income and Loss of the Partnership for each fiscal year or other applicable period shall be allocated to and among the Partners in proportion to their respective Percentage Interests.

(c) Adjustments. Notwithstanding Section 6(b) (but subject to Section 6(c)),

- (i) Items of income or gain for any taxable period shall be allocated to the Partner in the manner and to the extent required by the “qualified income offset” provisions of Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d); and
- (ii) In no event shall any Loss or item of deduction be allocated to a Partner if such allocation would cause or increase a negative balance in such Partner's capital account determined by increasing the Partner's capital account balance by any amount the Partner may be obligated to restore to the Partnership pursuant to Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(c) and by decreasing such capital account balance by the amounts specified in Treasury Regulation Sections 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(4), (5) and (6)).

(d) Nonrecourse Debt. If at any time the Partnership incurs any "nonrecourse debt" (i.e., debt that is treated as nonrecourse for purposes of Treasury Regulation Section 1.1001-2), the following provisions will apply notwithstanding anything to the contrary expressed elsewhere in this Agreement:

- (i) "Nonrecourse deductions" (as defined in Treasury Regulation Sections 1.704-2(b) and (c)) shall be allocated to the Partners in proportion to their respective Percentage Interests.
- (ii) All other allocations relating to such nonrecourse debt shall be allocated in accordance with Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-2; and
- (iii) For purposes of Sections 6(b) and 6(c), each Partner's capital account balance shall be increased by the Partner's share of minimum gain and of partner nonrecourse debt minimum gain (as determined pursuant to Treasury Regulation Sections 1.704-2(g) and 1.704-2(i)(5), respectively).

(e) Deductions, Credits. Except as otherwise provided herein or as required by Code Section 704, for federal income tax purposes, all items of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit shall be allocated to the Partners in the same manner as are Income and Loss.

(f) Regulatory Allocations. Notwithstanding the provisions of Sections 6(a)-(e) above, allocations of Income and Loss shall be made in the order of priority set forth in Exhibit I to this Agreement.

(g) Withholding. To the extent that the Partnership is required to withhold and pay over any amounts to any Governmental Authority with respect to Distributions or allocations to any Limited Partner, the amount withheld shall be treated as a Distribution to that Limited Partner pursuant to Sections 4.02, 4.03 or 4.05, as applicable. In the event of any claimed over-withholding, Limited Partners shall be limited to an action against the applicable jurisdiction and not against the Partnership (unless the Partnership has not yet paid such amounts over to such jurisdiction). If any amount required to be withheld was not, in fact, actually withheld from one or more Distributions and the Partnership shall have been required to pay such amount to such Governmental Entity, the Partnership may, at its option, (i) require the affected Limited Partner to reimburse the Partnership for such withholding or (ii) reduce any subsequent Distributions to such Limited Partner by the amount of such withholding, in each case plus interest. Each Limited Partner agrees to furnish the Partnership with such documentation as shall reasonably be requested by the Partnership to assist it in determining the extent of, and in fulfilling, its withholding obligations. Each Limited Partner will indemnify the General Partner and the Partnership against any losses and liabilities (including interest and penalties) related to any withholding obligations with respect to allocations or Distributions made to such Limited Partner by the Partnership.

(h) Consistent Tax Reporting. Except as otherwise unanimously agreed to in writing by the Limited Partners, for U.S. federal, state and local income tax purposes, the Limited Partners agree, as a condition to their admission to the Partnership, to report all taxable income, loss and items thereof (including the character and timing of such items) in a manner consistent with the manner in which such taxable income, loss or item thereof is reported by the Partnership on its tax returns and the Schedules K-1 (or any successor form) furnished by the Partnership to the Limited Partners.

7. Distributions. Distributions shall be made from the undistributed profit and loss account to the Partners at the times and in the aggregate amounts determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion; provided, that distributions shall be made to the Partners in accordance with their Percentage Interests. Distributions may be in cash or in kind as determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in this Agreement, the Partnership shall not make a distribution to the Limited Partners on account of its interest in the Partnership if such distribution would violate Section 17-607 of the Act or other applicable law.

8. Other Business. The Partners and their affiliates may engage in or possess an interest in other business ventures (unconnected with the Partnership) of every kind and description, independently or with others. The Partnership shall not have any rights in or to such independent ventures or the income or profits therefrom by virtue of this Agreement.

9. Limited Liability. The debts, obligations, and liabilities of the Partnership, whether arising in contract, tort or otherwise, shall be solely the debts, obligations and liabilities of the Partnership and the General Partner. No Limited Partner shall have any liability (personal or otherwise) for any such debt, obligation, or liability of the Partnership solely by reason of acting in such capacity. For the avoidance of doubt, to the extent a Limited Partner is an Officer of the Partnership (regardless of title) and/or has authority to act on behalf of the General Partner of the Partnership, such Limited Partner shall remain a Limited Partner of the Partnership and shall not be subject to any liability (personal or otherwise) for any debt, obligation or liability of the Partnership.

10. Exculpation; Indemnification.

(a) Exculpation. Neither the General Partner nor any Covered Person (as defined below) shall be liable to the Partnership or any Limited Partner for errors in judgment or for any acts of omissions that do not constitute gross negligence, fraud, or willful misconduct. The General Partner may exercise any of the powers granted to it by this Agreement and perform any of the duties imposed upon it hereunder either directly or by or through its officers, directors, agents, trustees, or representatives, and the General Partner shall not be responsible for any misconduct or negligence on the part of any agent or representative appointed by the General Partner.

(b) Indemnification. To the fullest extent permitted by law, subject to Section 10(d) below, the Partnership shall indemnify each Covered Person for any and all losses, claims, demands, costs, damages, liabilities (joint and several), expenses of any nature (including attorneys' fees and disbursements), judgments, fines, settlements and other amounts arising from any and all claims, demands, actions, suits or proceedings, civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, in which such Covered Person may be involved or threatened to be involved, as a party or otherwise, by reason of any act or omission performed or omitted by such Covered Person in good faith on behalf of the Partnership and in a manner reasonably believed to be within the scope of the authority conferred on such Covered Person by this Agreement. For the avoidance of doubt, the indemnification under this Section 10(b) shall apply even though at the time of such claim, demand, action, suit or proceeding such person is no longer a Covered Person (except as set forth in Section 10(c)(iii) below). Any indemnity under this Section 10(b) shall be provided out of and only to the extent of the Partnership's assets, and no Limited Partner shall have personal liability on account thereof. For the avoidance of doubt, any indemnification obligations of the Partnership under the Prior Agreement are null and void and are superseded in their entirety by this Section 10.

(c) Covered Persons. "Covered Person" means each of the following:

- (i) the General Partner, and each member, partner, director, officer, and agent thereof,
- (ii) each person who is or becomes an Officer of the Partnership on or after the date of this Agreement, and
- (iii) each person who is or becomes an employee or agent of the Partnership on or after the date of this Agreement if the General Partner determines in its sole discretion that such employee or agent should be a Covered Person.

"Covered Person" shall not include any former officer, former partner, former director, former employee, or former agent of the Partnership or the General Partner (unless such Person is a "Covered Person" as defined in clause (i) or (ii) above on or after the date of this Agreement), unless the General Partner in its sole discretion determines that such Person should be a Covered Person.

(d) Limitations on Indemnification. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, no indemnification shall be provided for any Covered Person (i) with respect to any action brought by such Covered Person as a plaintiff against the Partnership or another Covered Person, or (ii) for any loss, damage or claim arising from such Covered Person's fraud, gross negligence or willful misconduct (in each case as determined by a final and binding judgment of a court or arbitrator).

(e) Advancement of Expenses. Expenses reasonably incurred in defending any claim, action, suit or proceeding of the character described in Section 10(b), to the extent available, shall be advanced by the Partnership prior to the final disposition of such claim, action, suit or proceeding upon receipt of a written undertaking by or on behalf of the recipient to repay all such advances if it is ultimately determined by the General Partner that such Covered Person is not entitled to indemnification pursuant to Section 10(d).

(f) Third Party Beneficiaries. Covered Persons shall be deemed to be third-party beneficiaries solely for purposes of this Section 10. All rights of any Covered Person under this Section shall inure to the benefit of such Covered Person's heirs and assigns. Except as expressly provided in this Section 10(f), this Agreement is intended solely for the benefit of the parties hereto and, to the extent allowed by this Agreement, their respective permitted successors and assigns, and this Agreement is not for the benefit of, nor may any provision hereof be enforced by, any other person.

11. Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the Partnership shall end on December 31st of each year.

12. Transfers of Limited Partner Interests. No Limited Partner may transfer, in whole or in part, whether by sale, exchange, lease, license, assignment, distribution, gift, transfer or other disposition or alienation in any way, its interest in the Partnership, without the prior consent of the General Partner, which consent may be given or withheld in the sole discretion of the General Partner and may include such terms and conditions as the General Partner shall deem appropriate in its sole discretion. In addition, it shall be a condition precedent to every transfer of all or any portion of a Limited Partner's interest permitted hereunder, the transferring Limited Partner shall demonstrate to the satisfaction of the General Partner that (i) the proposed transfer will not cause or result in a breach of any violation of law, including U.S. federal or state securities laws, and (ii) that the transfer would not adversely affect the classification of the Partnership as a partnership for U.S. federal tax purposes (including by causing the Partnership to be treated as a "publicly traded partnership" under Section 7704 of the Code), terminate it as a partnership under Code Section 708, or have a substantial adverse effect with respect to U.S. federal income taxes payable by the Partnership.

13. Dissolution. The Partnership shall dissolve, and its affairs shall be wound up upon the first to occur of the following: (i) the consent of the General Partner; (ii) at any time there are no Limited Partners of the Partnership, unless the business of the Partnership is continued in a manner permitted by the Act; or (iii) the entry of a decree of judicial dissolution under Section 17-802 of the Act. Following the foregoing event, the General Partner shall proceed diligently to liquidate the assets of the Partnership in a manner consistent with commercially reasonable business practices. In the event of dissolution, the Partnership shall conduct only such activities as are necessary to wind up its affairs (including the sale of the assets of the Partnership in an orderly manner), and the assets of the Partnership shall be applied in the manner, and in the order of priority, set forth in Section 17-804 of the Act. Liquidating distributions to the Partners shall be made in accordance with their Percentage Interests.

14. Severability of Provisions. Each provision of this Agreement shall be considered separable and if for any reason any provision or provisions herein are determined to be invalid, unenforceable or illegal under any existing or future law, such invalidity, unenforceability or illegality shall not impair the operation of or affect those portions of this Agreement which are valid, enforceable and legal.

15. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in several counterparts and as so executed shall constitute one agreement binding on all parties hereto, notwithstanding that all of the parties have not signed the same counterpart.

16. Facsimile Signature Page. This Agreement may be executed and delivered by the parties hereto by an executed signature page transmitted by facsimile, and any failure to deliver the originally executed signature page shall not affect the validity, legality or enforceability of this Agreement.

17. Entire Agreement. This Agreement embodies the entire agreement and understanding among the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior agreements and understandings relating to such subject matter.

18. Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of Delaware (without regard to the conflicts of law principles), all rights and remedies being governed by said laws.

19. Consent to Jurisdiction. Each of the parties hereto consents and submits to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas, Dallas Division, for any action or proceeding instituted for the enforcement and construction of any right, remedy, obligation, or liability arising under or by reason of this Agreement.

20. Amendments. No amendment of this Agreement shall be valid or binding unless such amendment is made with the written consent of the General Partner. Further, any amendment of this Agreement that reduces the Percentage Interest or economic rights of any Limited Partner in a manner that is disproportionate to other Limited Partners shall require the written consent of the affected Limited Partner. For the avoidance of doubt, amendment includes any merger, combination or other reorganization or any amendment of the Certificate that has the effect of changing or superseding the terms of this Agreement.

Exhibit IREGULATORY ALLOCATIONS

(i) Items of income or gain (computed in accordance with Section 6(a), including the adjustments therein) for any taxable period shall be allocated to the Partners in the manner and to the minimum extent required by the “minimum gain chargeback” provisions of Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-2(f) and Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-2(i)(4).

(ii) All “nonrecourse deductions” (as defined in Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-2(b)(1)) of the Partnership for any year shall be allocated to the Partners in accordance with their respective Percentage Interests; provided, however, that nonrecourse deductions attributable to “partner nonrecourse debt” (as defined in Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-2(b)(4)) shall be allocated to the Partners in accordance with the provisions of Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-2(i)(1).

(iii) Items of income or gain (computed in accordance with Section 6(a), including the adjustments therein) for any taxable period shall be allocated to the Partners in the manner and to the extent required by the “qualified income offset” provisions of Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d).

(iv) In no event shall Loss of the Partnership be allocated to a Partner if such allocation would cause or increase a negative balance in such Partner’s Adjusted Capital Account (determined for purposes of this Exhibit I only, by increasing the Partner’s Adjusted Capital Account balance by the amount the Partner is obligated to restore to the Partnership pursuant to Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(c) and decreasing it by the amounts specified in Treasury Regulation Sections 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(4), (5) and (6)).

(v) For tax purposes, except as otherwise provided herein or as required by Code Section 704, all items of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit shall be allocated to the Partners in the same manner as are Income and Loss; provided, however, that if the Book Value of any property of the Partnership differs from its adjusted basis for tax purposes, then items of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit related to such property for tax purposes shall be allocated among the Partners so as to take account of the variation between the adjusted basis of the property for tax purposes and its Book Value in the manner provided for under Code Section 704(c).

“Adjusted Capital Account” means, for each Partner, such Partner’s capital account balance increased by such Partner’s share of “minimum gain” and of “partner nonrecourse debt minimum gain” (as determined pursuant to Treasury Regulation Sections 1.704-2(g) and 1.704-2(i)(5), respectively).

“Book Value” means, with respect to any asset, the asset’s adjusted basis for U.S. federal income tax purposes; provided, however, that (i) the initial Book Value of any asset contributed to the Partnership shall be adjusted to equal its fair market value as determined by the General Partner at the time of its contribution, and (ii) the Book Values of all assets held by the Partnership shall be adjusted to equal their respective fair market values as determined by the General Partner (taking Code Section 7701(g) into account) upon an election by the Partnership to revalue its property in accordance with Regulation Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(f) and upon liquidation of the Partnership. The Book Value of any asset whose Book Value was adjusted pursuant to the preceding sentence shall thereafter be adjusted in accordance with the provisions of Regulation Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(g).

This FIFTH AMENDED AND RESTATED AGREEMENT OF LIMITED PARTNERSHIP (this “Agreement”) of Highland Capital Management, L.P., (the “Partnership”), dated as of [____], ~~2020~~2021 and entered into by and among the [New GP Entity] as general partner of the Partnership (the “General Partner”) and the limited partner of the Partnership as set forth on Schedule A hereto (the “Limited Partner”), amends and restates in its entirety the Fourth Amended and Restated Agreement of Limited Partnership of the Partnership dated as of December 24, 2015 (as amended to date, the “Prior Agreement”), by and among Strand Advisors, Inc. (the “Prior General Partner”) and the former limited partners of the Partnership who were limited partners of the Partnership (the “Prior Limited Partners”). The General Partner and Limited Partners are collectively referred to as the “Partners.”

WHEREAS, the Prior Agreement, as amended pursuant to that certain amendment dated [____], ~~2020~~2021, provides for the reconstitution and continuation of the Partnership if new limited partners are admitted to the partnership within 90 days after dissolution thereof and such new limited partners consent to the continuation of the Partnership.

WHEREAS, the Partnership was reorganized pursuant to the Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P., that was approved by the United States Bankruptcy Court for Northern District of Texas, Dallas Division, on [____] (the “Plan”).

WHEREAS, pursuant to the Plan the limited partnership interests of the Prior Limited Partners and the Prior General Partner were canceled on [____] and new limited partnership interests were issued to the Limited Partner and the General Partner under the Prior Agreement.

WHEREAS, the General Partner and the Limited Partner wish to ratify the admission to the Partnership of the General Partner and the Limited Partner and to amend and restate the terms of the Partnership as set forth in this Agreement.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the agreements and obligations set forth herein, the undersigned hereby agree as follows:

1. Continuation.

(a) Subject to the provisions of this Agreement, the Partners hereby continue the Partnership as a limited partnership pursuant to the provisions of the Delaware Revised Uniform Limited Partnership Act (6 Del.C. §17-101, et seq.), as amended from time to time (the “Act”). This Agreement amends, restates, and supersedes the Prior Agreement and all other prior agreements or understandings with respect to the matters covered herein.

(b) The Limited Partner, being the sole limited partner of the Partnership, hereby (i) consents to the continuation of the Partnership and (ii) ratifies and approves the appointment of the General Partner as general partner of the Partnership.

2. Organizational Matters.

(a) Name; Certificate. The name of the Partnership is Highland Capital Management, L.P. The Partnership was organized as a limited partnership pursuant to the Act and

filed a Certificate of Limited Partnership (the “Certificate”) with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware. Any person authorized to act on behalf of the General Partner or the Partnership may, subject to Section 19 below, cause the Partnership to file such other certificates and documents as may be necessary or appropriate to comply with the Act and any other applicable requirements for the operation of a limited partnership in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware and any other jurisdictions in which the Partnership shall conduct business, and to maintain such filings for so long as the Partnership conducts business therein.

(b) Offices. The name of the resident agent for service of process for the Partnership and the address of the registered office of the Partnership in the State of Delaware is Corporation Services Company, 2023 Centre Road, Wilmington Delaware 19805-1297. The General Partner may establish places of business of the Partnership within and without the State of Delaware, as and when required by the Partnership’s business and in furtherance of its purposes set forth herein, and may appoint (or cause the appointment of) agents for service of process in all jurisdictions in which the Partnership shall conduct business. The General Partner may from time to time in its sole discretion change the Partnership’s places of business, resident agent for service of process, and/or the location of its registered office in Delaware.

3. Purpose; Powers. The Partnership is formed for the purpose of engaging in any lawful act or activity for which limited partnerships may be formed under the Act. Without limiting the foregoing, the general character and purposes of the business of the Partnership are to (a) engage in the business, directly and/or through one or more subsidiaries, of liquidating assets of, and performing investment management and advisory services for, pooled investment vehicles, funds, investment holdings, accounts, and interests therein; and (b) engage in any lawful activities (including, subject to the other provisions of this Agreement, the borrowing of money and the issuance of guarantees of indebtedness of others) directly or indirectly related or incidental thereto and in which a Delaware limited partnership may lawfully engage. The Partnership shall have and exercise all of the powers and rights conferred upon limited partnerships formed pursuant to the Act.

4. Management.

(a) Authority of the General Partner. The business and affairs of the Partnership shall be managed exclusively by and under the direction of the General Partner, which shall have the right, power and authority to exercise all of the powers of the Partnership except as otherwise provided by law or this Agreement. Decisions or actions made or approved by the General Partner in accordance with this Agreement shall constitute decisions or actions by the Partnership and shall be binding upon the Partnership and each Limited Partner of the Partnership. The General Partner may not be removed or replaced by the Limited Partners. In the event of the withdrawal, resignation or dissolution of the General Partner, a new General Partner shall be designated in writing by a majority in interest of the Limited Partners, who shall provide written notice to the remaining Limited Partners of such designation.

(b) Delegation of Powers; Officers. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, the General Partner may delegate any or all or any portion of its rights, powers, authority, duties and responsibilities with respect to the management of the Partnership to such officers of the Partnership with such titles as the General Partner may determine (“Officers”). The General Partner may authorize any such Officers to sign agreements, contracts, instruments, or other documents in the name of and on behalf of the Partnership, and such authority may be general or limited to specific instances. The power and authority of any Officer appointed by the General Partner under this Section 4(b) shall not exceed the power and authority possessed by the General Partner under this Agreement. The Officers shall hold office until their successors are duly appointed or their earlier death, resignation, or removal. Any Officer so appointed may be removed at any time, with or without cause, by the written consent of the General Partner. Any Officer may resign from his or her office upon prior written notice to the Partnership. If any office shall become vacant, a replacement Officer may be appointed by the written consent of the General Partner. Two or more offices may be held by the same person. The initial Officers of the Partnership are set forth on Schedule B.

(c) Limited Partners. No Limited Partner shall have any right to participate in the management of the Partnership as a Limited Partner. Moreover, no Limited Partner shall have any voting rights except with respect to consent to amendments as set forth in Section 19 below, or as otherwise required by the Act.

(d) Transactions with Affiliates. The General Partner or any person controlling, controlled by, or under common control with the General Partner (an “Affiliate”) may engage in transactions with the Partnership from time to time, including without limitation for lending to or borrowing from the Partnership, engaging in the provision of services to the Partnership, or otherwise engaging in business transactions with the Partnership, provided that such transactions are entered into in good faith. Unless otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement or any other agreement contemplated herein, whenever a conflict of interest exists or arises between the General Partner or any of its Affiliates, on the one hand, and the Partnership or any Limited Partner, on the other hand, any action taken by the General Partner, in the absence of bad faith by the General Partner, shall not constitute a breach of this Agreement or any other agreement contemplated herein or a breach of any standard of care or duty imposed herein or therein or under the Act or any other applicable law, rule, or regulation.

5. Partners.

(a) General. The name, address, and percentage interest ownership interest of the General Partner and each Limited Partner in the Partnership (the “Percentage Interest”) are set forth on Schedule A hereto. Additional Limited Partners may be admitted to the Partnership, and Schedule A may be amended, only with the written consent of the General Partner (provided, that failure to update Schedule A shall not itself be conclusive of whether consent of the General Partner has been obtained). No Limited Partner shall have the right or power to resign, withdraw or retire from the Partnership, except upon (i) the occurrence of any event described in Section 17-801 of the Act (in which case the Limited Partner(s) with respect to which such event has occurred shall, automatically and with no further action necessary by any person, cease to be a Limited Partner, and shall be deemed to have solely the interest of an assignee (within the meaning of Section 17 of the Act) with respect to such Limited Partner’s Limited Partnership Interest), or (ii) with the consent of the General Partner. For the avoidance of doubt, no action may be taken to reduce, directly or indirectly, the Percentage Interest of any Partner without the written consent of such Partner.

(b) Capital Contributions. The Partners may, in their sole discretion, make additional capital contribution to the Partnership if requested by the General Partner. All capital, whenever contributed, shall be subject in all respects to the risks of the business and subordinate in right of payment to the claims of present or future creditors of the Partnership in accordance with this Agreement.

(c) Capital Accounts. The Partnership shall maintain a capital account for each Partner in accordance with Section 704(b) and 704(c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”), and the principles of the Treasury Regulations promulgated thereunder.

(d) Tax Representative. The General Partner shall serve as the “tax representative” to be the Partnership’s designated representative within the meaning of Section 6223 of the Code with sole authority to act on behalf of the Partnership for purposes of subchapter C of Chapter 63 of the Code and any comparable provisions of state or local income tax laws (the “Tax Representative”). The Tax Representative is specifically directed and authorized to take whatever steps it deems necessary or desirable to perfect such designation, including, without limitation, filing any forms or documents with the Internal Revenue Service, properly designating a particular individual to act on its behalf of the Tax Representative and taking such other action as may from time to time be required under Treasury Regulations. The Tax Representative is hereby authorized to and shall perform all duties of a “tax representative” and shall serve as Tax Representative until its resignation or until the designation of its successor, whichever occurs sooner.

6. Allocation of Income and Losses.

(a) Definitions. For purposes of this Agreement, “Income” and “Loss” of the Partnership shall mean the taxable income and loss, respectively, of the Partnership computed with the adjustments set forth in Treasury Regulation under Code Section 704(b) including (A) adjustments pursuant to Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(g), (B) the inclusion of the amount of any tax-exempt income as an item of income, (C) the inclusion of the amount of any nondeductible, noncapitalizable expense as an item of deduction and (D) the inclusion of the amount of unrealized gain or unrealized loss with respect to an asset of the Partnership as an item of income or gain (as applicable) upon distribution of such asset in kind or as required by Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(f).

(b) Allocations Generally. The Income and Loss of the Partnership for each fiscal year or other applicable period shall be allocated to and among the Partners in proportion to their respective Percentage Interests.

(c) Adjustments. Notwithstanding Section 6(b) (but subject to Section 6(c)),

- (i) Items of income or gain for any taxable period shall be allocated to the Partner in the manner and to the extent required by the “qualified income offset” provisions of Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d); and
- (ii) In no event shall any Loss or item of deduction be allocated to a Partner if such allocation would cause or increase a negative balance in such Partner’s capital account determined by increasing the Partner’s capital account balance by any amount the Partner may be obligated to restore to the Partnership pursuant to Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(c) and by decreasing such capital account balance by the amounts specified in Treasury Regulation Sections 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(4), (5) and (6)).

(d) Nonrecourse Debt. If at any time the Partnership incurs any “nonrecourse debt” (i.e., debt that is treated as nonrecourse for purposes of Treasury Regulation Section 1.1001-2), the following provisions will apply notwithstanding anything to the contrary expressed elsewhere in this Agreement:

- (i) “Nonrecourse deductions” (as defined in Treasury Regulation Sections 1.704-2(b) and (c)) shall be allocated to the Partners in proportion to their respective Percentage Interests.
- (ii) All other allocations relating to such nonrecourse debt shall be allocated in accordance with Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-2; and
- (iii) For purposes of Sections 6(b) and 6(c), each Partner’s capital account balance shall be increased by the Partner’s share of minimum gain and of partner nonrecourse debt minimum gain (as determined pursuant to Treasury Regulation Sections 1.704-2(g) and 1.704-2(i)(5), respectively).

(e) Deductions, Credits. Except as otherwise provided herein or as required by Code Section 704, for federal income tax purposes, all items of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit shall be allocated to the Partners in the same manner as are Income and Loss.

(f) Regulatory Allocations. Notwithstanding the provisions of Sections 6(a)-(e) above, allocations of Income and Loss shall be made in the order of priority set forth in Exhibit I to this Agreement.

(g) Withholding. To the extent that the Partnership is required to withhold and pay over any amounts to any Governmental Authority with respect to Distributions or allocations to any Limited Partner, the amount withheld shall be treated as a Distribution to that Limited Partner pursuant to Sections 4.02, 4.03 or 4.05, as applicable. In the event of any claimed over-withholding, Limited Partners shall be limited to an action against the applicable jurisdiction and not against the Partnership (unless the Partnership has not yet paid such amounts over to such jurisdiction). If any amount required to be withheld was not, in fact, actually withheld from one or more Distributions and the Partnership shall have been required to pay such amount to such Governmental Entity, the Partnership may, at its option, (i) require the affected Limited Partner to reimburse the Partnership for such withholding or (ii) reduce any subsequent Distributions to such Limited Partner by the amount of such withholding, in each case plus interest. Each Limited Partner agrees to furnish the Partnership with such documentation as shall reasonably be requested by the Partnership to assist it in determining the extent of, and in fulfilling, its withholding obligations. Each Limited Partner will indemnify the General Partner and the Partnership against any losses and liabilities (including interest and penalties) related to any withholding obligations with respect to allocations or Distributions made to such Limited Partner by the Partnership.

(h) Consistent Tax Reporting. Except as otherwise unanimously agreed to in writing by the Limited Partners, for U.S. federal, state and local income tax purposes, the Limited Partners agree, as a condition to their admission to the Partnership, to report all taxable income, loss and items thereof (including the character and timing of such items) in a manner consistent with the manner in which such taxable income, loss or item thereof is reported by the Partnership on its tax returns and the Schedules K-1 (or any successor form) furnished by the Partnership to the Limited Partners.

7. Distributions. Distributions shall be made from the undistributed profit and loss account to the Partners at the times and in the aggregate amounts determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion; provided, that distributions shall be made to the Partners in accordance with their Percentage Interests. Distributions may be in cash or in kind as determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in this Agreement, the Partnership shall not make a distribution to the Limited Partners on account of its interest in the Partnership if such distribution would violate Section 17-607 of the Act or other applicable law.

8. Other Business. The Partners and their affiliates may engage in or possess an interest in other business ventures (unconnected with the Partnership) of every kind and description, independently or with others. The Partnership shall not have any rights in or to such independent ventures or the income or profits therefrom by virtue of this Agreement.

9. Limited Liability. The debts, obligations, and liabilities of the Partnership, whether arising in contract, tort or otherwise, shall be solely the debts, obligations and liabilities of the Partnership and the General Partner. No Limited Partner shall have any liability (personal or otherwise) for any such debt, obligation, or liability of the Partnership solely by reason of acting in such capacity. For the avoidance of doubt, to the extent a Limited Partner is an Officer of the Partnership (regardless of title) and/or has authority to act on behalf of the General Partner of the Partnership, such Limited Partner shall remain a Limited Partner of the Partnership and shall not be subject to any liability (personal or otherwise) for any debt, obligation or liability of the Partnership.

10. Exculpation: Indemnification.

(a) Exculpation. Neither the General Partner nor any Covered Person (as defined below) shall be liable to the Partnership or any Limited Partner for errors in judgment or for any acts of omissions that do not constitute gross negligence, fraud, or willful misconduct. The General Partner may exercise any of the powers granted to it by this Agreement and perform any of the duties imposed upon it hereunder either directly or by or through its officers, directors, agents, trustees, or representatives, and the General Partner shall not be responsible for any misconduct or negligence on the part of any agent or representative appointed by the General Partner.

(b) ~~(a) General Indemnification.~~ To the fullest extent permitted by law, subject to Section 10(ed) below, the Partnership shall indemnify each Covered Person ~~(as defined below)~~ for any and all losses, claims, demands, costs, damages, liabilities (joint and several), expenses of any nature (including attorneys' fees and disbursements), judgments, fines, settlements and other amounts arising from any and all claims, demands, actions, suits or proceedings, civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, in which such Covered Person may be involved or threatened to be involved, as a party or otherwise, by reason of any act or omission performed or omitted by such Covered Person in good faith on behalf of the Partnership and in a manner reasonably believed to be within the scope of the authority conferred on such Covered Person by this Agreement. For the avoidance of doubt, the indemnification under this Section 10(ab) shall apply even though at the time of such claim, demand, action, suit or proceeding such person is no longer a Covered Person (except as set forth in Section 10(c)(iii) below). Any indemnity under this Section 10(ab) shall be provided out of and only to the extent of the Partnership's assets, and no Limited Partner shall have personal liability on account thereof. For the avoidance of doubt, any indemnification obligations of the Partnership under the Prior Agreement are null and void and are superseded in their entirety by this Section 10.

(c) ~~(b)~~ Covered Persons. "Covered Person" means each of the following:

- (i) the General Partner, and each member, partner, director, officer, and agent thereof,
- (ii) each person who is or becomes an Officer of the Partnership on or after the date ~~hereof~~ of this Agreement, and
- (iii) each person who is or becomes an employee or agent of the Partnership on or after the date of this Agreement if the General Partner determines in its sole discretion that such employee or agent should be a Covered Person.

~~(iii)~~ "Covered Person" shall not include any other current or former officer, former partner, former director, former employee, or former agent ~~for~~ of the Partnership or the General Partner, in each case to the extent determined by (unless such Person is a "Covered Person" as defined in clause (i) or (ii) above on or after the date of this Agreement), unless the General Partner in its sole discretion determines that such Person should be a Covered Person.

(d) ~~(c)~~ Limitations on Indemnification. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, no indemnification shall be provided for any Covered Person (i) with respect to any action brought by such Covered Person as a plaintiff against the Partnership or another Covered Person, or (ii) for any loss, damage or claim arising from such Covered Person's fraud, gross negligence or willful misconduct (in each case as determined by a final and binding judgment of a court or arbitrator).

(e) ~~(d)~~ Advancement of Expenses. Expenses reasonably incurred in defending any claim, action, suit or proceeding of the character described in Section 10(ab), to the extent available, shall be advanced by the Partnership prior to the final disposition of such claim, action, suit or proceeding upon receipt of a written undertaking by or on behalf of the recipient to repay all such advances if it is ultimately determined by the General Partner that such Covered Person is not entitled to indemnification pursuant to Section 10(ed).

(f) ~~(e)~~ Third Party Beneficiaries. Covered Persons shall be deemed to be third-party beneficiaries solely for purposes of this Section 10. All rights of any Covered Person under this Section shall inure to the benefit of such Covered Person's heirs and assigns. Except as expressly provided in this Section 10(f), this Agreement is intended solely for the benefit of the parties hereto and, to the extent allowed by this Agreement, their respective permitted successors and assigns, and this Agreement is not for the benefit of, nor may any provision hereof be enforced by, any other person.

11. Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the Partnership shall end on December 31st of each year.

12. Transfers of Limited Partner Interests. No Limited Partner may transfer, in whole or in part, whether by sale, exchange, lease, license, assignment, distribution, gift, transfer or other disposition or alienation in any way, its interest in the Partnership, without the prior consent of the General Partner, which consent may be given or withheld in the sole discretion of the General Partner and may include such terms and conditions as the General Partner shall deem appropriate in its sole discretion. In addition, it shall be a condition precedent to every transfer of all or any portion of a Limited Partner's interest permitted hereunder, the transferring Limited Partner shall demonstrate to the satisfaction of the General Partner that (i) the proposed transfer will not cause or result in a breach of any violation of law, including U.S. federal or state securities laws, and (ii) that the transfer would not adversely affect the classification of the Partnership as a partnership for U.S. federal tax purposes (including by causing the Partnership to be treated as a "publicly traded partnership" under Section 7704 of the Code), terminate it as a partnership under Code Section 708, or have a substantial adverse effect with respect to U.S. federal income taxes payable by the Partnership.

13. Dissolution. The Partnership shall dissolve, and its affairs shall be wound up upon the first to occur of the following: (i) the consent of the General Partner; (ii) at any time there are no Limited Partners of the Partnership, unless the business of the Partnership is continued in a manner permitted by the Act; or (iii) the entry of a decree of judicial dissolution under Section 17-802 of the Act. Following the foregoing event, the General Partner shall proceed diligently to liquidate the assets of the Partnership in a manner consistent with commercially reasonable business practices. In the event of dissolution, the Partnership shall conduct only such activities as are necessary to wind up its affairs (including the sale of the assets of the Partnership in an orderly manner), and the assets of the Partnership shall be applied in the manner, and in the order of priority, set forth in Section 17-804 of the Act. Liquidating distributions to the Partners shall be made in accordance with their Percentage Interests.

14. Severability of Provisions. Each provision of this Agreement shall be considered separable and if for any reason any provision or provisions herein are determined to be invalid, unenforceable or illegal under any existing or future law, such invalidity, unenforceability or illegality shall not impair the operation of or affect those portions of this Agreement which are valid, enforceable and legal.

15. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in several counterparts and as so executed shall constitute one agreement binding on all parties hereto, notwithstanding that all of the parties have not signed the same counterpart.

16. Facsimile Signature Page. This Agreement may be executed and delivered by the parties hereto by an executed signature page transmitted by facsimile, and any failure to deliver the originally executed signature page shall not affect the validity, legality or enforceability of this Agreement.

17. Entire Agreement. This Agreement embodies the entire agreement and understanding among the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior agreements and understandings relating to such subject matter.

18. Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of Delaware (without regard to the conflicts of law principles), all rights and remedies being governed by said laws.

19. Consent to Jurisdiction. Each of the parties hereto consents and submits to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas, Dallas Division, for any action or proceeding instituted for the enforcement and construction of any right, remedy, obligation, or liability arising under or by reason of this Agreement.

20. 19. Amendments. No amendment of this Agreement shall be valid or binding unless such amendment is made with the written consent of the General Partner. Further, any amendment of this Agreement that reduces the Percentage Interest or economic rights of any Limited Partner in a manner that is disproportionate to other Limited Partners shall require the written consent of the affected Limited Partner. For the avoidance of doubt, amendment includes any merger, combination or other reorganization or any amendment of the Certificate that has the effect of changing or superseding the terms of this Agreement.

(i) Items of income or gain (computed in accordance with Section 6(a), including the adjustments therein) for any taxable period shall be allocated to the Partners in the manner and to the minimum extent required by the “minimum gain chargeback” provisions of Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-2(f) and Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-2(i)(4).

(ii) All “nonrecourse deductions” (as defined in Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-2(b)(1)) of the Partnership for any year shall be allocated to the Partners in accordance with their respective Percentage Interests; provided, however, that nonrecourse deductions attributable to “partner nonrecourse debt” (as defined in Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-2(b)(4)) shall be allocated to the Partners in accordance with the provisions of Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-2(i)(1).

(iii) Items of income or gain (computed in accordance with Section 6(a), including the adjustments therein) for any taxable period shall be allocated to the Partners in the manner and to the extent required by the “qualified income offset” provisions of Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d).

(iv) In no event shall Loss of the Partnership be allocated to a Partner if such allocation would cause or increase a negative balance in such Partner’s Adjusted Capital Account (determined for purposes of this Exhibit I only, by increasing the Partner’s Adjusted Capital Account balance by the amount the Partner is obligated to restore to the Partnership pursuant to Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(c) and decreasing it by the amounts specified in Treasury Regulation Sections 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(4), (5) and (6)).

(v) For tax purposes, except as otherwise provided herein or as required by Code Section 704, all items of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit shall be allocated to the Partners in the same manner as are Income and Loss; provided, however, that if the Book Value of any property of the Partnership differs from its adjusted basis for tax purposes, then items of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit related to such property for tax purposes shall be allocated among the Partners so as to take account of the variation between the adjusted basis of the property for tax purposes and its Book Value in the manner provided for under Code Section 704(c).

“Adjusted Capital Account” means, for each Partner, such Partner’s capital account balance increased by such Partner’s share of “minimum gain” and of “partner nonrecourse debt minimum gain” (as determined pursuant to Treasury Regulation Sections 1.704-2(g) and 1.704-2(i)(5), respectively).

“Book Value” means, with respect to any asset, the asset’s adjusted basis for U.S. federal income tax purposes; provided, however, that (i) the initial Book Value of any asset contributed to the Partnership shall be adjusted to equal its fair market value as determined by the General Partner at the time of its contribution, and (ii) the Book Values of all assets held by the Partnership shall be adjusted to equal their respective fair market values as determined by the General Partner (taking Code Section 7701(g) into account) upon an election by the Partnership to revalue its property in accordance with Regulation Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(f) and upon liquidation of the Partnership. The Book Value of any asset whose Book Value was adjusted pursuant to the preceding sentence shall thereafter be adjusted in accordance with the provisions of Regulation Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(g).

WHEREAS, the Committee has alleged that certain causes of action against the Senior Employee may exist, which causes of action have been or will be retained pursuant to the Plan (the "Causes of Action"):

WHEREAS, the Plan provides for the release of certain of the Causes of Action (the "Released Causes of Action") against the Senior Employee as set forth in therein (the "Employee Release"):

WHEREAS, both the Employee Release and the payment of the Bonus Amount (as reduced pursuant to this Agreement) are conditioned on the Senior Employee executing this Stipulation on or prior to the Confirmation Date;

WHEREAS, the Plan provides for the creation of the Claimant Trust and Litigation Sub- Trust and the appointment of the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee (the "CTOC") to oversee such entities;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual promises set forth herein, each of the Parties stipulates and agrees as follows:

1. Covenant Not to Sue. In consideration of the Senior Employee's agreement to toll the statutes of limitation with respect to any Causes of Action that can be asserted against him and to waive a portion of the Bonus Amount which would otherwise be part of the Senior Employee Claim, the Debtor and any of its successors or assigns, including the Claimant Trust or the Litigation Sub-Trust (collectively, the "HCMLP Parties"), agree not to initiate or commence any lawsuit, action or proceeding for the purpose of prosecuting any Released Causes of Action against the Senior Employee from the date of this Stipulation until the earlier of (a) thirty calendar days after the Notice Date and (b) the Dissolution Date (each as defined below) (such date, the "Termination Date"). This Stipulation shall expire upon the Termination Date and shall thereafter be of no further force and effect; provided, however, that the termination of this Stipulation shall not affect the treatment of the Bonus Amount set forth in Section 5 hereof or in the Plan.

2. Non-Compliance: Vesting.

a. As set forth in the Plan, the Senior Employee acknowledges and agrees that the Employee Release will be deemed null and void and of no force and effect (1) if there is more than one member of the CTOC who does not represent entities holding a Disputed or Allowed Claim (the "Independent Members"), the Claimant Trustee and the Independent Members by majority vote determine or (2) if there is only one Independent Member, the Independent Member after discussion with the Claimant

<sup>2</sup> For the avoidance of doubt, the "Other Employee Claims" shall include all prepetition and postpetition Claims of the Senior Employee, including paid time off claims, claims (if applicable) for severance amounts under applicable employment agreements, and administrative claims (if applicable), but shall not include the Bonus Amount.

Trustee, determines (in each case after discussing with the full CTOC) that such Employee (regardless of whether the Employee is then currently employed by the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trustee):

(1) sues, attempts to sue, or threatens or works with or assists any entity or person to sue, attempt to sue, or threaten the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trust, the Litigation Sub-Trust, or any of their respective employees or agents, or any Released Party on or in connection with any claim or cause of action arising prior to the Effective Date,

(2) has taken any action that, impairs or harms the value of the Claimant Trust Assets or the Reorganized Debtor Assets,

(3) has violated the confidentiality provisions of Section 4 below, or

(4) (x) upon the request of the Claimant Trustee, has failed to provide reasonable assistance in good faith to the Claimant Trustee or the Reorganized Debtor with respect to (i) the monetization of the Claimant Trust Assets or Reorganized Debtor Assets, as applicable, or (ii) the resolution of Claims, or (y) has taken any action that impedes or frustrates the Claimant Trustee or the Reorganized Debtor with respect to any of the foregoing. If such determination under this Section 2a is made, the Claimant Trustee will deliver a notice of non-compliance with the Plan (the "Notice") to the Senior Employee. Such Notice will be effective when deemed delivered pursuant to Section 8.h hereof (the "Notice Date").

b. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, Employee Release will vest and all Released Causes of Action that may or could be brought against the Senior Employee will be indefeasibly released solely to the extent set forth in Article IX.D of the Plan so long as the Notice Date does not occur on or before the date that the Claimant Trust is dissolved (such date, the "Dissolution Date").

c. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Stipulation or any other document, Senior Employee expressly reserves the right to take all actions necessary to pursue enforcement and payment of the Other Employee Claims, and such actions shall not violate the terms of this Stipulation; provided, that, for the avoidance of doubt, nothing in this Stipulation shall prejudice the rights of the Debtor, or any of the Debtor's successor in interests under the Plan, to object to or otherwise challenge any Other Employee Claims or limit the Senior Employee's obligations under Section 8 hereof. Additionally, this Agreement does not affect or impair Senior Employee's rights, if any, to seek indemnification from any party, including, without limitation, the Debtor, any HCMLP Parties, or any other affiliates thereof nor does it affect or impair the right of the Debtor, or any of the Debtor's successor in interests under the Plan, to challenge such request.

3. Tolling of Statutes of Limitation. In consideration of the HCMLP Parties' "Covenant Not to Sue" (set forth in Section 1 hereof), the Senior Employee agrees that the statute of limitations applicable to any Cause of Action is hereby tolled as of, and extended from, the date of this Stipulation through and including the Termination Date (the "Tolling Period"). The Tolling Period shall be excluded from any calculation of any statute of limitations period applicable to any Cause of Action that may be brought by the HCMLP Parties against the Senior Employee. The Senior Employee acknowledges that he will be estopped from arguing that this Stipulation is ineffective to extend the time within which the HCMLP Parties must commence an action to pursue any Cause of Action.

4. Confidentiality. In further consideration of the HCMLP Parties' "Covenant Not to Sue" (set forth in Section 1 hereof), the Senior Employee agrees that, in addition to existing obligations to maintain all business sensitive information concerning the HCMLP Parties in strictest confidence, each Senior Employee further agrees to keep all discussions, information and observations including, but not limited to, attorney-client privileged or work product information (collectively "Confidential Information") relating to the activities or planned activities of the HCMLP Parties strictly confidential. Each Senior Employee covenants and represents that it will not discuss such Confidential Information with anyone, other than the Senior Employee's personal attorney, the Claimant Trustee, or its respective representatives.

5. Bonus Amount.

a. The Senior Employee has agreed to forfeit a percentage of his Bonus Amount in consideration for the Employee Release and acknowledges that such agreement is an integral part of this Stipulation. The Senior Employee hereby agrees that (i) the Bonus Amount will be treated as an Allowed Class 7 (Convenience Claim) under the Plan and, to the extent required, will reduce his Bonus Amount as required to qualify for such treatment, (ii) the Senior Employee will receive the treatment provided to other Allowed Class 7 (Convenience Claims), (iii) the Allowed Class 7 distribution on the Bonus Amount will be further reduced by 5% (the "Reduced Amount"), and (iv) the Reduced Amount will be forever waived and released. Except as set forth herein, nothing herein will prejudice or otherwise impact any Other Employee Claim, or prevent the Senior Employee from prosecuting, pursuing, or enforcing any Other Employee Claim.

b. For the avoidance of doubt, although the Employee Release can be nullified as set forth in Section 2, any such nullification will have no effect on the treatment of the Senior Employee's Bonus Amount pursuant to this Section 5.

6. Other Employee Claims. The Parties acknowledge and agree that the Senior Employee is not entitled to make the Convenience Class Election with respect to the Other Employee Claims.

7. Effective Date. The Parties acknowledge and agree that this Stipulation and the Parties' obligations hereunder are conditioned in all respects on the approval of the Plan by the Bankruptcy Court and the occurrence of the Effective Date of the Plan. If, for any reason, the Plan is not approved by the Bankruptcy Court or the Effective Date does not occur, this Stipulation will be null and void and of no force and effect.

8. Plan Support. The Senior Employee agrees that he will use commercially reasonable efforts to assist the Debtor in confirmation of the Plan, including, without limitation, filing a notice of such Senior Employee's withdrawal from the Senior Employees' Limited Objection to Debtor's Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization [Docket No. 1669], and vote, if applicable, the Bonus Amount, the Other Employee Claims, and any other Claims in favor of the Plan.

9. Miscellaneous.

a. Counterparts. This Stipulation may be signed in counterparts and such signatures may be delivered by facsimile or other electronic means.

b. Binding Effect. This Stipulation shall inure to the benefit of, and be binding upon, any and all successors-in-interests, assigns, and legal representatives, of any Party.

c. Authority. Each Party to this Stipulation and each person executing this document on behalf of any Party to this Stipulation warrants and represents that he, she, or it has the power and authority to execute, deliver and perform its obligations under this Stipulation.

d. Entire Agreement. This Stipulation sets forth the entire agreement between the Parties with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior and contemporaneous written and oral agreements and discussions. This Stipulation may only be amended by an agreement in writing signed by the Parties.

e. No Waiver and Reservation of Rights. Except as otherwise provided herein, nothing in this Stipulation shall be, or deemed to be, a waiver of any rights, remedies, or privileges of any of the Parties. Except as otherwise provided herein, this Stipulation is without prejudice to any Party's rights, privileges and remedies under applicable law, whether at law or in equity, and each Party hereby reserves all of such rights, privileges and remedies under applicable law.

f. No Admission of Liability. The Parties acknowledge that there is a bona fide dispute with respect to the Causes of Action. Nothing in this Agreement will imply an admission of liability, fault or wrongdoing by the Senior Employee and the execution of this Agreement does not constitute an admission of liability, fault, or wrongdoing on the part of the Senior Employee.

g. No Waiver If Breach. The Parties agree that no breach of any provision hereof can be waived except in writing. The waiver of a breach of any provision hereof shall not be deemed a waiver of any other breach of any provision hereof.

h. Notice. Each notice and other communication hereunder will be in writing and will be sent by email and delivered or mailed by registered mail, receipt requested, and will be deemed to have been given on the date of its delivery, if delivered by email, and on the fifth full business day following the date of the mailing, if mailed to each of the Parties thereto at the following respective addresses or such other address as may be subsequently specified in writing by any Party and delivered to all other Parties pursuant to this Section:

SENIOR EMPLOYEE STIPULATION AND TOLLING AGREEMENT EXTENDING STATUTES OF LIMITATION

This stipulation (the "Stipulation") is entered into as of January 20, 2021, by and between Frank Waterhouse (the "Senior Employee") and Highland Capital Management, L.P. (the "Debtor"). The Debtor and the Senior Employee are individually referred to as a "Party" and collectively as the "Parties".

RECITALS

WHEREAS, on October 16, 2019, the Debtor filed with the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware, a voluntary petition for relief under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code, which case was subsequently transferred to the Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas, Dallas Division (the "Bankruptcy Court") and captioned In re Highland Capital Management, L.P., Case No. 19-34054-sgj11 (the "Chapter 11 Case");

WHEREAS, on October 29, 2019, the U.S. Trustee appointed the official committee of unsecured creditors (the "Committee") in the Chapter 11 Case;

WHEREAS, On November 24, 2020, the Debtor filed the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (as may be further amended or supplemented, the "Plan")<sup>1</sup> [Docket No. 1472]. A hearing to consider confirmation of the Plan is currently scheduled for January 26, 2021.

WHEREAS, prior to and during the course of the Chapter 11 Case, the Senior Employee was employed by the Debtor as its Chief Financial Officer and in such role provided services to the Debtor;

WHEREAS, (i) certain amounts that were allegedly due to be paid to the Senior Employee for the partial year of 2018 in installments due on February 28, 2020 and August 31, 2020; and (ii) certain amounts that were due to the Senior Employee in respect of the 2017 Deferred Award that vested after three years on May 31, 2020 (i) and (ii), collectively, the "Bonus Amount") were not paid because of objections raised by the Committee;

WHEREAS, as of the date hereof, the total Bonus Amount through and including the date hereof is [REDACTED];

WHEREAS, on May 26, 2020, the Senior Employee filed a proof of claim [Claim No. 182] (the "Proof of Claim"), which included a claim for the Bonus Amount;

WHEREAS, as set forth in the Proof of Claim, the Senior Employee may have other Claims against the Debtor in addition to the Bonus Amount (the "Other Employee Claims" and together with the Bonus Amount, the "Senior Employee Claims")<sup>2</sup>:

WHEREAS, the Committee has alleged that certain causes of action against the Senior Employee may exist, which causes of action have been or will be retained pursuant to the Plan (the "Causes of Action"):

WHEREAS, the Plan provides for the release of certain of the Causes of Action (the "Released Causes of Action") against the Senior Employee as set forth in therein (the "Employee Release"):

WHEREAS, both the Employee Release and the payment of the Bonus Amount (as reduced pursuant to this Agreement) are conditioned on the Senior Employee executing this Stipulation on or prior to the Confirmation Date:

WHEREAS, the Plan provides for the creation of the Claimant Trust and Litigation Sub-Trust and the appointment of the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee (the "CTOC") to oversee such entities:

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual promises set forth herein, each of the Parties stipulates and agrees as follows:

1. Covenant Not to Sue. In consideration of the Senior Employee's agreement to toll the statutes of limitation with respect to any Causes of Action that can be asserted against him and to waive a portion of the Bonus Amount which would otherwise be part of the Senior Employee Claim, the Debtor and any of its successors or assigns, including the Claimant Trust or the Litigation Sub-Trust (collectively, the "HCMLP Parties"), agree not to initiate or commence any lawsuit, action or proceeding for the purpose of prosecuting any Released Causes of Action against the Senior Employee from the date of this Stipulation until the earlier of (a) thirty calendar days after the Notice Date and (b) the Dissolution Date (each as defined below) (such date, the "Termination Date"). This Stipulation shall expire upon the Termination Date and shall thereafter be of no further force and effect; provided, however, that the termination of this Stipulation shall not affect the treatment of the Bonus Amount set forth in Section 5 hereof or in the Plan.

2. Non-Compliance: Vesting.

a. As set forth in the Plan, the Senior Employee acknowledges and agrees that the Employee Release will be deemed null and void and of no force and effect (1) if there is more than one member of the CTOC who does not represent entities holding a Disputed or Allowed Claim (the "Independent Members"), the Claimant Trustee and the Independent Members by majority vote determine or (2) if there is only one Independent Member, the Independent Member after discussion with the Claimant Trustee, determines (in each case after discussing with the full CTOC) that such Employee (regardless of whether the Employee is then currently employed by the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trustee):

<sup>2</sup> For the avoidance of doubt, the "Other Employee Claims" shall include all prepetition and postpetition Claims of the Senior Employee, including paid time off claims, claims (if applicable) for severance amounts under applicable employment agreements, and administrative claims (if applicable), but shall not include the Bonus Amount.

(1) sues, attempts to sue, or threatens or works with or assists any entity or person to sue, attempt to sue, or threaten the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trust, the Litigation Sub-Trust, or any of their respective employees or agents, or any Released Party on or in connection with any claim or cause of action arising prior to the Effective Date.

(2) has taken any action that impairs or harms the value of the Claimant Trust Assets or the Reorganized Debtor Assets.

(3) has violated the confidentiality provisions of Section 4 below, or

(4) (x) upon the request of the Claimant Trustee, has failed to provide reasonable assistance in good faith to the Claimant Trustee or the Reorganized Debtor with respect to (i) the monetization of the Claimant Trust Assets or Reorganized Debtor Assets, as applicable, or (ii) the resolution of Claims, or (y) has taken any action that impedes or frustrates the Claimant Trustee or the Reorganized Debtor with respect to any of the foregoing. If such determination under this Section 2a is made, the Claimant Trustee will deliver a notice of non-compliance with the Plan (the "Notice") to the Senior Employee. Such Notice will be effective when deemed delivered pursuant to Section 8.h hereof (the "Notice Date").

b. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, Employee Release will vest and all Released Causes of Action that may or could be brought against the Senior Employee will be indefeasibly released solely to the extent set forth in Article IX.D of the Plan so long as the Notice Date does not occur on or before the date that the Claimant Trust is dissolved (such date, the "Dissolution Date").

c. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Stipulation or any other document, Senior Employee expressly reserves the right to take all actions necessary to pursue enforcement and payment of the Other Employee Claims, and such actions shall not violate the terms of this Stipulation: provided, that, for the avoidance of doubt, nothing in this Stipulation shall prejudice the rights of the Debtor, or any of the Debtor's successor in interests under the Plan, to object to or otherwise challenge any Other Employee Claims or limit the Senior Employee's obligations under Section 8 hereof. Additionally, this Agreement does not affect or impair Senior Employee's rights, if any, to seek indemnification from any party, including, without limitation, the Debtor, any HCMLP Parties, or any other affiliates thereof nor does it affect or impair the right of the Debtor, or any of the Debtor's successor in interests under the Plan, to challenge such request.

3. Tolling of Statutes of Limitation. In consideration of the HCMLP Parties' "Covenant Not to Sue" (set forth in Section 1 hereof), the Senior Employee agrees that the statute of limitations applicable to any Cause of Action is hereby tolled as of, and extended from, the date of this Stipulation through and including the Termination Date (the "Tolling Period"). The Tolling Period shall be excluded from any calculation of any statute of limitations period applicable to any Cause of Action that may be brought by the HCMLP Parties against the Senior Employee. The Senior Employee acknowledges that he will be estopped from arguing that this Stipulation is ineffective to extend the time within which the HCMLP Parties must commence an action to pursue any Cause of Action.

4. Confidentiality. In further consideration of the HCMLP Parties' "Covenant Not to Sue" (set forth in Section 1 hereof), the Senior Employee agrees that, in addition to existing obligations to maintain all business sensitive information concerning the HCMLP Parties in strictest confidence, each Senior Employee further agrees to keep all discussions, information and observations including, but not limited to, attorney-client privileged or work product information (collectively "Confidential Information") relating to the activities or planned activities of the HCMLP Parties strictly confidential. Each Senior Employee covenants and represents that it will not discuss such Confidential Information with anyone, other than the Senior Employee's personal attorney, the Claimant Trustee, or its respective representatives.

5. Bonus Amount.

a. The Senior Employee has agreed to forfeit a percentage of his Bonus Amount in consideration for the Employee Release and acknowledges that such agreement is an integral part of this Stipulation. The Senior Employee hereby agrees that (i) the Bonus Amount will be treated as an Allowed Class 7 (Convenience Claim) under the Plan and, to the extent required, will reduce his Bonus Amount as required to qualify for such treatment, (ii) the Senior Employee will receive the treatment provided to other Allowed Class 7 (Convenience Claims), (iii) the Allowed Class 7 distribution on the Bonus Amount will be further reduced by 5% (the "Reduced Amount"), and (iv) the Reduced Amount will be forever waived and released. Except as set forth herein, nothing herein will prejudice or otherwise impact any Other Employee Claim, or prevent the Senior Employee from prosecuting, pursuing, or enforcing any Other Employee Claim ~~as a Class 8 Claim in accordance with the Plan~~.

b. For the avoidance of doubt, although the Employee Release can be nullified as set forth in Section 2, any such nullification will have no effect on the treatment of the Senior Employee's Bonus Amount pursuant to this Section 5.

6. Other Employee Claims. The Parties acknowledge and agree that the Senior Employee is not entitled to make the Convenience Class Election with respect to the Other Employee Claims.

7. Effective Date. The Parties acknowledge and agree that this Stipulation and the Parties' obligations hereunder are conditioned in all respects on the approval of the Plan by the Bankruptcy Court and the occurrence of the Effective Date of the Plan. If, for any reason, the Plan is not approved by the Bankruptcy Court or the Effective Date does not occur, this Stipulation will be null and void and of no force and effect.

8. Plan Support. The Senior Employee agrees that he will use commercially reasonable efforts to assist the Debtor in confirmation of the Plan, including, without limitation, filing a notice of such Senior Employee's withdrawal from the Senior Employees' Limited Objection to Debtor's Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization [Docket No. 1669], and vote, if applicable, the Bonus Amount, the Other Employee Claims, and any other Claims in favor of the Plan.

9. Miscellaneous.

a. Counterparts. This Stipulation may be signed in counterparts and such signatures may be delivered by facsimile or other electronic means.

b. Binding Effect. This Stipulation shall inure to the benefit of, and be binding upon, any and all successors-in-interests, assigns, and legal representatives, of any Party.

c. Authority. Each Party to this Stipulation and each person executing this document on behalf of any Party to this Stipulation warrants and represents that he, she, or it has the power and authority to execute, deliver and perform its obligations under this Stipulation.

d. Entire Agreement. This Stipulation sets forth the entire agreement between the Parties with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior and contemporaneous written and oral agreements and discussions. This Stipulation may only be amended by an agreement in writing signed by the Parties.

e. No Waiver and Reservation of Rights. Except as otherwise provided herein, nothing in this Stipulation shall be, or deemed to be, a waiver of any rights, remedies, or privileges of any of the Parties. Except as otherwise provided herein, this Stipulation is without prejudice to any Party's rights, privileges and remedies under applicable law, whether at law or in equity, and each Party hereby reserves all of such rights, privileges and remedies under applicable law.

f. No Admission of Liability. The Parties acknowledge that there is a bona fide dispute with respect to the Causes of Action. Nothing in this Agreement will imply an admission of liability, fault or wrongdoing by the Senior Employee and the execution of this Agreement does not constitute an admission of liability, fault, or wrongdoing on the part of the Senior Employee.

g. No Waiver If Breach. The Parties agree that no breach of any provision hereof can be waived except in writing. The waiver of a breach of any provision hereof shall not be deemed a waiver of any other breach of any provision hereof.

h. Notice. Each notice and other communication hereunder will be in writing and will be sent by email and delivered or mailed by registered mail, receipt requested, and will be deemed to have been given on the date of its delivery, if delivered by email, and on the fifth full business day following the date of the mailing, if mailed to each of the Parties thereto at the following respective addresses or such other address as may be subsequently specified in writing by any Party and delivered to all other Parties pursuant to this Section:

PLEASE TAKE FURTHER NOTICE that Highland Capital Management, L.P., the above-captioned debtor and debtor-in-possession (the “Debtor”), filed the Disclosure Statement for the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. on November 24, 2020 [Docket No. 1473] (the “Disclosure Statement”).

PLEASE TAKE FURTHER NOTICE that attached as Exhibit C to the Disclosure Statement was the Debtor’s Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections.

PLEASE TAKE FURTHER NOTICE that attached hereto as Exhibit A are the Debtor’s amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections (the “Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections”), which supersede the Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections filed on November 24, 2020, with the Disclosure Statement.

PLEASE TAKE FURTHER NOTICE that a prior version of the Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections was provided to parties in interests on January 28, 2021, in advance of the deposition of James P. Seery, Jr., the Debtor’s Chief Executive Officer and Chief Restructuring Officer, and that the Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections differ from such version in two respects:

- The Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections include the settlement in principle between UBS and the Debtor, which provides for UBS receiving a Class 8 (General Unsecured Claim) of $50,000,000 and a Class 9 (Subordinated Claim) of $25,000,000. The prior Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections included a Class 8 (General Unsecured Claim) in the amount of $94,761,076 pursuant to the Court’s order temporarily allowing the UBS claim in that amount for voting purposes; and
- The Debtor inadvertently understated the aggregate amount of Class 8 (General Unsecured Claims) by $4,392,937, which error is corrected in the Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections.

Highland Capital Management, L.P.
Statement of Assumptions

- A. Plan effective date is March 1, 2021
- B. All investment assets are sold by December 31, 2022.
- C. All demand notes are collected in the year 2021; 3 term notes defaulted and have been demanded based on default provisions; payment estimated in 2021
- D. Dugaboy term note with maturity date beyond 12/31/2022 are sold in Q1 2022; in the interim interest income and principal payments are not collected due to prepayment on note
- E. Fixed assets currently used in daily operations are sold in June 2021 for $0
- F. Highland bonus plan has been terminated in accordance with its terms. Accrual for employee bonuses as of January 2021 are reversed and not paid.
- G. All Management advisory or shared service contracts are terminated on their terms by the effective date or shortly thereafter
- H. Post-effective date, the reorganized Debtor would retain up to ten HCMLP employees (or hire similar employees) to help monetize the remaining assets.
- I. Litigation Trustee budget is $6,500,000.
- J. Unrealized gains or losses are not recorded on a monthly basis; all gains or losses are recorded as realized gains or losses upon sale of asset.
- K. Plan does not provide for payment of interest to Class 8 holders of general unsecured claims, as set forth in the Plan. If holders of general unsecured claims receive interest on their allowed claims, they would then be entitled to receive interest at the federal judgement rate, prior to any funds being available for claims or interest of junior priority.
- L. Plan assumes zero allowed claims for IFA and Hunter Mountain Investment Trust ("HM").
- M. Claim amounts listed in Plan vs. Liquidation schedule are subject to change; claim amounts in Class 8 assume $0 for IFA and HM, $50.0 million for UBS and $45.0 million for Class 7.
- N. Assumes RCP claims will offset against HCMLP's interest in fund and will not be paid from Debtor assets
- O. With the exception of Class 2 - Frontier, Classes 1-7 will be paid in full within 30 days of effective date.
- P. Class 7 payout limited to 85% of each individual creditor claim or in the aggregate $13.15 million. Plan currently projects Class 7 payout of $10.3 million.
- P. See below for Class 8 estimated payout schedule; payout is subject to certain assets being monetized by payout date (no Plan requirement to do so):
  - o By September 30, 2021 - $50,000,000
  - o By March 31, 2022 – additional $50,000,000
  - o By June 30, 2022 – additional $25,000,000
  - o All remaining proceeds are assumed to be paid out on or soon after all remaining assets are monetized.
- Q. Assumptions subject to revision based on business decision and performance of the business

137. “Voting Record Date” means November 23, 2020.

Professional Fee Claim Objection Deadline. Each Holder of an Allowed Professional Fee Claim will be paid by the Debtor or the Claimant Trust, as applicable, in Cash within ten (10) Business Days of entry of the order approving such Allowed Professional Fee Claim.

On the Effective Date, the Claimant Trustee shall establish the Professional Fee Reserve. The Professional Fee Reserve shall vest in the Claimant Trust and shall be maintained by the Claimant Trustee in accordance with the Plan and Claimant Trust Agreement. The Claimant Trust shall fund the Professional Fee Reserve on the Effective Date in an estimated amount determined by the Debtor in good faith prior to the Confirmation Date and that approximates the total projected amount of unpaid Professional Fee Claims on the Effective Date. Following the payment of all Allowed Professional Fee Claims, any excess funds in the Professional Fee Reserve shall be released to the Claimant Trust to be used for other purposes consistent with the Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement.

C. Priority Tax Claims

On or as soon as reasonably practicable after the later of (i) the Initial Distribution Date if such Priority Tax Claim is an Allowed Priority Tax Claim as of the Effective Date or (ii) the date on which such Priority Tax Claim becomes an Allowed Priority Tax Claim, each Holder of an Allowed Priority Tax Claim will receive in full satisfaction, settlement, discharge and release of, and in exchange for, such Allowed Priority Tax Claim, at the election of the Debtor: (a) Cash in an amount of a total value as of the Effective Date of the Plan equal to the amount of such Allowed Priority Tax Claim, ~~(b) in accordance with section 1129(a)(9)(C) of the Bankruptcy Code, or~~ (b) if paid over time, payment of such Allowed Priority Tax Claim in accordance with section 1129(a)(9)(C) of the Bankruptcy Code; or (c) such other less favorable treatment as agreed to in writing by the Debtor and such Holder. Payment of statutory fees due pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1930(a)(6) will be made at all appropriate times until the entry of a final decree; provided, however, that the Debtor may prepay any or all such Claims at any time, without premium or penalty.

ARTICLE III. CLASSIFICATION AND TREATMENT OF CLASSIFIED CLAIMS AND EQUITY INTERESTS

A. Summary

All Claims and Equity Interests, except Administrative Expense Claims and Priority Tax Claims, are classified in the Classes set forth below. In accordance with section 1123(a)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code, Administrative Expense Claims, and Priority Tax Claims have not been classified.

The categories of Claims and Equity Interests listed below classify Claims and Equity Interests for all purposes including, without limitation, confirmation and distribution pursuant to the Plan and pursuant to sections 1122 and 1123(a)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code. The Plan deems a Claim or Equity Interest to be classified in a particular Class only to the extent that the Claim or Equity Interest qualifies within the description of that Class and will be deemed classified in a different Class to the extent that any remainder of such Claim or Equity Interest qualifies within

Except as otherwise provided in the Plan, nothing under the Plan will affect the Debtor's rights in respect of any Unimpaired Claims, including, without limitation, all rights in respect of legal and equitable defenses to or setoffs or recoupments against any such Unimpaired Claims.

J. Subordinated Claims

The allowance, classification, and treatment of all Claims under the Plan shall take into account and conform to the contractual, legal, and equitable subordination rights relating thereto, whether arising under general principles of equitable subordination, section 510(b) of the Bankruptcy Code, or otherwise. ~~Under section 510 of the Bankruptcy Code, upon~~ Upon written notice and hearing, the Debtor the Reorganized Debtor, and the Claimant Trustee reserve the right to seek entry of an order by the Bankruptcy Court to re-classify or to subordinate any Claim in accordance with any contractual, legal, or equitable subordination relating thereto, and the treatment afforded any Claim under the Plan that becomes a subordinated Claim at any time shall be modified to reflect such subordination.

ARTICLE IV.
MEANS FOR IMPLEMENTATION OF THIS PLAN

A. Summary

As discussed in the Disclosure Statement, the Plan will be implemented through (i) the Claimant Trust, (ii) the Litigation Sub-Trust, and (iii) the Reorganized Debtor.

On the Effective Date, all Class A Limited Partnership Interests, including the Class A Limited Partnership Interests held by Strand, as general partner, and Class B/C Limited Partnerships in the Debtor will be cancelled, and new Class A Limited Partnership Interests in the Reorganized Debtor will be issued to the Claimant Trust and New GP LLC – a newly-chartered limited liability company wholly-owned by the Claimant Trust. The Claimant Trust, as limited partner, will ratify New GP LLC's appointment as general partner of the Reorganized Debtor, and on and following the Effective Date, the Claimant Trust will be the Reorganized Debtor's limited partner and New GP LLC will be its general partner. The Claimant Trust, as limited partner, and New GP LLC, as general partner, will execute the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, which will amend and restate, in all respects, the Debtor's current Limited Partnership Agreement. Following the Effective Date, the Reorganized Debtor will be managed consistent with the terms of the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement by New GP LLC. The sole managing member of New GP LLC will be the Claimant Trust, and the Claimant Trustee will be the sole officer of New GP LLC on the Effective Date.

Following the Effective Date, the Claimant Trust will administer the Claimant Trust Assets pursuant to this Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement, and the Litigation Trustee will pursue, if applicable, the Estate Claims pursuant to the terms of the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement and the Plan. The Reorganized Debtor will administer the Reorganized Debtor Assets and, if needed, with the utilization of a Sub-Servicer, which administration will include, among other things, managing the wind down of the Managed Funds.

Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the Debtor shall assume or reject that certain real property lease with Crescent TC Investors L.P. (“Landlord”) for the Debtor’s headquarters located at 200/300 Crescent Ct., Suite #700, Dallas, Texas 75201 (the “Lease”) in accordance with the notice to Landlord, procedures and timing required by 11 U.S.C. §365(d)(4), as modified by that certain Agreed Order Granting Motion to Extend Time to Assume or Reject Unexpired Nonresidential Real Property Lease [Docket No. 1122].

B. Claims Based on Rejection of Executory Contracts or Unexpired Leases

Any Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease not assumed or rejected on or before the Confirmation Date shall be deemed rejected, pursuant to the Confirmation Order. Any Person asserting a Rejection Claim shall File a proof of claim within thirty days of the Effective Confirmation Date. Any Rejection Claims that are not timely Filed pursuant to this Plan shall be forever disallowed and barred. If one or more Rejection Claims are timely Filed, the Claimant Trustee may File an objection to any Rejection Claim.

Rejection Claims shall be classified as General Unsecured Claims and shall be treated in accordance with ARTICLE III of this Plan.

C. Cure of Defaults for Assumed or Assigned Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases

Any monetary amounts by which any Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease to be assumed or assigned hereunder is in default shall be satisfied, under section 365(b)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code, by the Debtor upon assumption or assignment thereof, by payment of the default amount in Cash as and when due in the ordinary course or on such other terms as the parties to such Executory Contracts may otherwise agree. The Debtor may serve a notice on the Committee and parties to Executory Contracts or Unexpired Leases to be assumed or assigned reflecting the Debtor’s or Reorganized Debtor’s intention to assume or assign the Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease in connection with this Plan and setting forth the proposed cure amount (if any).

If a dispute regarding (1) the amount of any payments to cure a default, (2) the ability of the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or any assignee to provide “adequate assurance of future performance” (within the meaning of section 365 of the Bankruptcy Code) under the Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease to be assumed or assigned or (3) any other matter pertaining to assumption or assignment, the cure payments required by section 365(b)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code will be made following the entry of a Final Order or orders resolving the dispute and approving the assumption or assignment.

Assumption or assignment of any Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease pursuant to the Plan or otherwise and full payment of any applicable cure amounts pursuant to this ARTICLE V.C shall result in the full release and satisfaction of any cure amounts, Claims, or defaults, whether monetary or nonmonetary, including defaults of provisions restricting the change in control or ownership interest composition or other bankruptcy-related defaults, arising under any assumed or assigned Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease at any time prior to the effective date of assumption or assignment. Any and all Proofs of Claim based upon Executory Contracts forth in the Plan Documents; (ii) the provisions of the Confirmation Order and this Plan are nonseverable and mutually dependent; (iii) the implementation of this Plan in accordance with its terms is authorized; (iv) pursuant to section 1146 of the Bankruptcy Code, the delivery of any deed or other instrument or transfer order, in furtherance of, or in connection with this Plan, including any deeds, bills of sale, or assignments executed in connection with any disposition or transfer of Assets contemplated under this Plan, shall not be subject to any Stamp or Similar Tax; and (v) the vesting of the Claimant Trust Assets in the Claimant Trust and the Reorganized Debtor Assets in the Reorganized Debtor, in each case as of the Effective Date free and clear of liens and claims to the fullest extent permissible under applicable law pursuant to section 1141(c) of the Bankruptcy Code except with respect to such Liens, Claims, charges and other encumbrances that are specifically preserved under this Plan upon the Effective Date.

- All documents and agreements necessary to implement this Plan, including without limitation, the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, the Claimant Trust Agreement, and the New GP LLC Documents, in each case in form and substance reasonably acceptable to the Debtor and the Committee, shall have (a) been tendered for delivery, and (b) been effected by, executed by, or otherwise deemed binding upon, all Entities party thereto and shall be in full force and effect. All conditions precedent to such documents and agreements shall have been satisfied or waived pursuant to the terms of such documents or agreements.
- All authorizations, consents, actions, documents, approvals (including any governmental approvals), certificates and agreements necessary to implement this Plan, including, without limitation, the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, the Claimant Trust Agreement, and the New GP LLC Documents, shall have been obtained, effected or executed and delivered to the required parties and, to the extent required, filed with the applicable governmental units in accordance with applicable laws and any applicable waiting periods shall have expired without any action being taken or threatened by any competent authority that would restrain or prevent effectiveness or consummation of the Restructuring.
- The Debtor shall have obtained applicable directors' and officers' insurance coverage that is acceptable to each of the Debtor, the Committee, the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee, the Claimant Trustee and the Litigation Trustee.
- The Professional Fee Reserve shall be funded pursuant to this Plan in an amount determined by the Debtor in good faith.

B. Waiver of Conditions

The conditions to effectiveness of this Plan set forth in this ARTICLE VIII (other than that the Confirmation Order shall have been entered) may be waived in whole or in part by the Debtor (and, to the extent such condition requires the consent of the Committee, the consent of the Committee) and any applicable parties in Section VII.A of this Plan, without notice, leave or order of the Bankruptcy Court or any formal action other than proceeding to confirm or accounting or seek approval of any court with respect to the administration of the Claimant Trust, or as a condition for managing any payment or distribution out of the Claimant Trust Assets.

(b) The Claimant Trustee shall provide quarterly reporting to the Oversight Board and Claimant Trust Beneficiaries of (i) the status of the Claimant Trust Assets, (ii) the balance of Cash held by the Claimant Trust (including in each of the Claimant Trust Expense Reserve and Disputed Claim Reserve), (iii) the determination and any re-determination, as applicable, of the total amount allocated to the Disputed Claim Reserve, (iv) the status of Disputed Claims and any resolutions thereof, (v) the status of any litigation, including the pursuit of the Causes of Action, (vi) the Reorganized Debtor's performance, and (vii) operating expenses; provided, however, that the Claimant Trustee may, with respect to any Member of the Oversight Board or Claimant Trust Beneficiary, redact any portion of such reports that relate to such Entity's Claim or Equity Interest, as applicable and any reporting provided to Claimant Trust Beneficiaries may be subject to such Claimant Trust Beneficiary's agreement to maintain confidentiality with respect to any non-public information.

(c) The Claimant Trustee may dispose some or all of the books and records maintained by the Claimant Trustee at the later of (i) such time as the Claimant Trustee determines, with the unanimous consent of the Oversight Board, that the continued possession or maintenance of such books and records is no longer necessary for the benefit of the Claimant Trust, or (ii) upon the termination and winding up of the Claimant Trust under Article IX of this Agreement; provided, however, the Claimant Trustee shall not dispose of any books and records related to the Estate Claims or Employee Claims without the consent of the Litigation Trustee. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Claimant Trustee shall cause the Reorganized Debtor and its subsidiaries to retain such books and records, and for such periods, as are required to be retained pursuant to Section 204-2 of the Investment Advisers Act or any other applicable laws, rules, or regulations.

3.13 Compensation and Reimbursement; Engagement of Professionals.

(a) Compensation and Expenses.

(i) Compensation. As compensation for any services rendered by the Claimant Trustee in connection with this Agreement, the Claimant Trustee shall receive compensation of $150,000 per month ~~(the "Base Salary")~~. Within the first forty-five days following the Confirmation Date, the Claimant Trustee, on the one hand, and the Committee, if prior to the Effective Date, or the Oversight Board, if on or after the Effective Date, on the other, will negotiate go-forward compensation for the Claimant Trustee which will include (a) ~~the Base Salary~~ a base salary, (b) a success fee, and (c) severance.

(ii) Expense Reimbursements. All reasonable out-of-pocket expenses of the Claimant Trustee in the performance of his or her duties hereunder, shall be reimbursed as Claimant Trust Expenses paid by the Claimant Trust.

FINDINGS OF FACT AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

1. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law. The findings and conclusions set forth herein, together with the findings of fact and conclusions of law set forth in the record during the Confirmation Hearing, constitute the Bankruptcy Court's findings of fact and conclusions of law pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 52, made applicable to this proceeding pursuant to Bankruptcy Rules 7052 and 9014. To the extent any of the following findings of fact constitute conclusions of law, they are adopted as such. To the extent that any of the following conclusions of law constitute findings of fact, they are adopted as such.

2. Introduction and Summary of the Plan. Prior to addressing the specific requirements under the Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rules with respect to the confirmation of the Plan, the Bankruptcy Court believes it would be useful to first provide the following background of the Debtor's Chapter 11 Case, the parties involved therewith, and some of the major events that have transpired culminating in the filing and solicitation of the Plan of this very unusual case. Before the Bankruptcy Court is the Debtor's Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P., filed on November 24, 2020, as modified on January 22, 2021 and again on February 1, 2021. The parties have repeatedly referred to the Plan as an "asset monetization plan" because it involves the orderly wind-down of the Debtor's estate, including the sale of assets and certain of its funds over time, with the Reorganized Debtor continuing to manage certain other funds, subject to the oversight of the Claimant Trust Oversight Board. The Plan provides for a Claimant Trust to, among other things, manage and monetize the Claimant Trust Assets for the benefit of the Debtor's economic stakeholders. The Claimant Trustee is responsible for this process, among other duties specified in the Plan's Claimant Trust Agreement. There is also anticipated to be a Litigation Sub-trust established for the purpose of pursuing certain avoidance or other causes of action for the benefit of the Debtor's economic constituents.

3. Confirmation Requirements Satisfied. The Plan is supported by the Committee and all claimants with Convenience Claims (i.e., general unsecured claims under $1 million) who voted in Class 7. Claimants with Class 8 General Unsecured Claims, however, voted to reject the Plan because, although the Plan was accepted by 99.8% of the amount of Claims in that class, only 17 claimants voted to accept the Plan while 27 claimants voted to reject the Plan. As a result of such votes, and because Mr. Dondero and the Dondero Related Entities (as defined below) objected to the Plan on a variety of grounds primarily relating to the Plan's release, exculpation and injunction provisions, the Bankruptcy Court heard two full days of evidence on February 2 and 3, 2021, and considered testimony from five witnesses and thousands of pages of documentary evidence in determining whether the Plan satisfies the confirmation standards required under the Bankruptcy Code. The Bankruptcy Court finds and concludes that the Plan meets all of the relevant requirements of sections 1123, 1124, and 1129, and other applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code, as more fully set forth below with respect to each of the applicable confirmation requirements.

4. Not Your Garden Variety Debtor. The Debtor's case is not a garden variety chapter 11 case. The Debtor is a multibillion-dollar global investment adviser registered with the SEC, pursuant to the Investment Advisers Act of 1940. It was founded in 1993 by James Dondero and Mark Okada. Mark Okada resigned from his role with Highland prior to the bankruptcy case being filed on October 16, 2019 (the “Petition Date”). Mr. Dondero controlled the Debtor as of the Petition Date but agreed to relinquish control of it on or about January 9, 2020, pursuant to an agreement reached with the Committee, as described below. Although Mr. Dondero remained with the Debtor as an unpaid employee/portfolio manager after January 9, 2020, his employment with the Debtor terminated on October 9, 2020. Mr. Dondero continues to work for and/or control numerous non-debtor entities in the complex Highland enterprise.

5. The Debtor. The Debtor is headquartered in Dallas, Texas. As of the Petition Date, the Debtor employed approximately 76 employees. The Debtor is privately-owned: (a) 99.5% by the Hunter Mountain Investment Trust; (b) 0.1866% by The Dugaboy Investment Trust, a trust created to manage the assets of Mr. Dondero and his family; (c) 0.0627% by Mark Okada, personally and through family trusts; and (d) 0.25% by Strand, the Debtor’s general partner.

6. The Highland Enterprise. Pursuant to various contractual arrangements, the Debtor provides money management and advisory services for billions of dollars of assets, including collateralized loan obligation vehicles (“CLOs”), and other investments. Some of these assets are managed by the Debtor pursuant to shared services agreements with certain affiliated entities, including other affiliated registered investment advisors. In fact, there are approximately 2,000 entities in the byzantine complex of entities under the Highland umbrella. None of these affiliated entities filed for chapter 11 protection. Most, but not all, of these entities are not subsidiaries (direct or indirect) of the Debtor. Many of the Debtor’s affiliated companies are offshore entities, organized in jurisdictions such as the Cayman Islands and Guernsey. See Disclosure Statement, at 17-18.

7. Debtor's Operational History. The Debtor's primary means of generating revenue has historically been from fees collected for the management and advisory services provided to funds that it manages, plus fees generated for services provided to its affiliates. For additional liquidity, the Debtor, prior to the Petition Date, would sell liquid securities in the ordinary course, primarily through a brokerage account at Jefferies, LLC. The Debtor would also, from time to time, sell assets at non-Debtor subsidiaries and cause those proceeds to be distributed to the Debtor in the ordinary course of business. The Debtor's current Chief Executive Officer, James P. Seery, Jr., credibly testified at the Confirmation Hearing that the Debtor was "run at a deficit for a long time and then would sell assets or defer employee compensation to cover its deficits." The Bankruptcy Court cannot help but wonder if that was necessitated because of enormous litigation fees and expenses incurred by the Debtor due to its culture of litigation—as further addressed below.

8. Not Your Garden Variety Creditor's Committee. The Debtor and this chapter 11 case are not garden variety for so many reasons. One of the most obvious standouts in this case is the creditor constituency. The Debtor did not file for bankruptcy because of any of the typical reasons that large companies file chapter 11. For example, the Debtor did not have a large, asset-based secured lender with whom it was in default; it only had relatively insignificant secured indebtedness owing to Jeffries, with whom it had a brokerage account, and one other entity, Frontier State Bank. The Debtor also did not have problems with its trade vendors or landlords.

The Debtor also did not suffer any type of catastrophic business calamity. In fact, the Debtor filed for Chapter 11 protection six months before the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic. Rather, the Debtor filed for Chapter 11 protection due to a myriad of massive, unrelated, business litigation claims that it faced—many of which had finally become liquidated (or were about to become liquidated) after a decade or more of contentious litigation in multiple forums all over the world. The Committee in this case has referred to the Debtor—under its former chief executive, Mr. Dondero—as a “serial litigator.” The Bankruptcy Court agrees with that description. By way of example, the members of the Committee (and their history of litigation with the Debtor and others in the Highland complex) are as follows:

- a. The Redeemer Committee of the Highland Crusader Fund (the “Redeemer Committee”). This Committee member obtained an arbitration award against the Debtor in the amount of $190,824,557, inclusive of interest, approximately five months before the Petition Date, from a panel of the American Arbitration Association. It was on the verge of having that award confirmed by the Delaware Chancery Court immediately prior to the Petition Date, after years of disputes that started in late 2008 (and included legal proceedings in Bermuda). This creditor’s claim was settled during this Chapter 11 Case in the amount of approximately $137,696,610 (subject to other adjustments and details not relevant for this purpose).
- b. Acis Capital Management, L.P., and Acis Capital Management GP, LLC (“Acis”). Acis was formerly in the Highland complex of companies, but was not affiliated with Highland as of the Petition Date. This Committee member and its now-owner, Joshua Terry, were involved in litigation with the Debtor dating back to 2016. Acis was forced by Mr. Terry (who was a former Highland portfolio manager) into an involuntary chapter 11 bankruptcy in the Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas, Dallas Division before the Bankruptcy Court in 2018, after Mr. Terry obtained an approximately $8 million arbitration award and judgment against Acis. Mr. Terry ultimately was awarded the equity ownership of Acis by the Bankruptcy Court in the Acis bankruptcy case. Acis subsequently asserted a multi-million dollar claim against Highland in the Bankruptcy Court for Highland’s alleged denuding of Acis to defraud its creditors—primarily Mr. Terry. The litigation involving Acis and Mr. Terry dates back to mid-2016 and has continued on with numerous appeals of Bankruptcy Court orders, including one appeal still pending at the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals. There was also litigation involving Mr. Terry and Acis in the Royal Court of the Island of Guernsey and in a state court in New York. The Acis claim was settled during this Chapter 11 Case, in Bankruptcy Court-ordered mediation, for approximately $23 million (subject to other details not relevant for this purpose), and is the subject of an appeal being pursued by Mr. Dondero.

- c. UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG London Branch (“UBS”). UBS is a Committee member that filed a proof of claim in the amount of $1,039,957,799.40 in this Chapter 11 Case. The UBS Claim was based on a judgment that UBS received from a New York state court in 2020. The underlying decision was issued in November 2019, after a multi-week bench trial (which had occurred many months earlier) on a breach of contract claim against non-Debtor entities in the Highland complex. The UBS litigation related to activities that occurred in 2008 and 2009. The litigation involving UBS and Highland and affiliates was pending for more than a decade (there having been numerous interlocutory appeals during its history). The Debtor and UBS recently announced an agreement in principle for a settlement of the UBS claim (which came a few months after Bankruptcy Court-ordered mediation) which will be subject to a 9019 motion to be filed with the Bankruptcy Court on a future date.
- d. Meta-E Discovery (“Meta-E”). Meta-E is a Committee member that is a vendor who happened to supply litigation and discovery-related services to the Debtor over the years. It had unpaid invoices on the Petition Date of more than $779,000.

It is fair to say that the members of the Committee in this case all have wills of steel. They fought hard before and during this Chapter 11 Case. The members of the Committee, all of whom have volunteered to serve on the Claimant Trust Oversight Board post-confirmation, are highly sophisticated and have had highly sophisticated professionals representing them. They have represented their constituency in this case as fiduciaries extremely well.

9. Other Key Creditor Constituents. In addition to the Committee members who were all embroiled in years of litigation with Debtor and its affiliates in various ways, the Debtor has been in litigation with Patrick Daugherty, a former limited partner and employee of the Debtor, for many years in both Delaware and Texas state courts. Mr. Daugherty filed an amended proof of claim in this Chapter 11 Case for $40,710,819.42 relating to alleged breaches of employment-related agreements and for defamation arising from a 2017 press release posted by the Debtor. The Debtor and Mr. Daugherty recently announced a settlement of Mr. Daugherty's claim pursuant to which he will receive $750,000 in cash on the Effective Date of the Plan, an $8.25 million general unsecured claim, and a $2.75 million subordinated claim (subject to other details not relevant for this purpose). Additionally, entities collectively known as "HarbourVest" invested more than $70 million with an entity in the Highland complex and asserted a $300 million proof of claim against the Debtor in this case, alleging, among other things, fraud and RICO violations. HarbourVest's claim was settled during the bankruptcy case for a $45 million general unsecured claim and a $35 million subordinated claim, and that settlement is also being appealed by a Dondero Entity.

10. Other Claims Asserted. Other than the Claims just described, most of the other Claims in this Chapter 11 Case are Claims asserted against the Debtor by: (a) entities in the Highland complex—most of which entities the Bankruptcy Court finds to be controlled by Mr. Dondero; (b) employees who contend that are entitled to large bonuses or other types of deferred compensation; and (c) numerous law firms that worked for the Debtor prior to the Petition Date and had outstanding amounts due for their prepetition services.

11. Not Your Garden Variety Post-Petition Corporate Governance Structure. Yet another reason this is not your garden variety chapter 11 case is its post-petition corporate governance structure. Immediately from its appointment, the Committee's relationship with the Debtor was contentious at best. First, the Committee moved for a change of venue from Delaware to Dallas. Second, the Committee (and later, the United States Trustee) expressed its then-desire for the appointment of a chapter 11 trustee due to its concerns over and distrust of Mr. Dondero, his numerous conflicts of interest, and his history of alleged mismanagement (and perhaps worse).

12. Post-Petition Corporate Governance Settlement with Committee. After spending many weeks under the threat of the potential appointment of a trustee, the Debtor and Committee engaged in substantial and lengthy negotiations resulting in a corporate governance settlement approved by the Bankruptcy Court on January 9, 2020.<sup>5</sup> As a result of this settlement, among other things, Mr. Dondero relinquished control of the Debtor and resigned his positions as an officer or director of the Debtor and its general partner, Strand. As noted above, Mr. Dondero agreed to this settlement pursuant a stipulation he executed,<sup>6</sup> and he also agreed not to cause any Related Entity (as defined in the Settlement Motion) to terminate any agreements with the Debtor. The January 9 Order also (a) required that the Bankruptcy Court serve as “gatekeeper” prior to the commencement of any litigation against the three independent board members appointed to oversee and lead the Debtor’s restructuring in lieu of Mr. Dondero and (b) provided for the exculpation of those board members by limiting claims subject to the “gatekeeper” provision to those alleging willful misconduct and gross negligence.

<sup>5</sup> This order is hereinafter referred to as the “January 9 Order” and was entered by the Court on January 9, 2020 [Docket No. 339] pursuant to the Motion of the Debtor to Approve Settlement with Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors Regarding the Governance of the Debtor and Procedures for Operation in the Ordinary Course [Docket No. 281] (the “Settlement Motion”).

<sup>6</sup> See Stipulation in Support of Motion of the Debtor for Approval of Settlement With the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors Regarding Governance of the Debtor and Procedures for Operations in Ordinary Course [Docket No. 338] (the “Stipulation”).

13. Appointment of Independent Directors. As part of the Bankruptcy Court-approved settlement, three eminently qualified independent directors were chosen to lead Highland through its Chapter 11 Case. They are: James P. Seery, Jr., John S. Dubel (each chosen by the Committee), and Retired Bankruptcy Judge Russell Nelms. These three individuals are each technically independent directors of Strand (Mr. Dondero had previously been the sole director of Strand and, thus, the sole person in ultimate control of the Debtor). The three independent board members' resumes are in evidence. The Bankruptcy Court later approved Mr. Seery's appointment as the Debtor's Chief Executive Officer, Chief Restructuring Officer, and Foreign Representative. Suffice it to say that this settlement and the appointment of the independent directors changed the entire trajectory of the case and saved the Debtor from the appointment of a trustee. The Bankruptcy Court and the Committee each trusted the independent directors. They were the right solution at the right time. Because of the unique character of the Debtor's business, the Bankruptcy Court believed the appointment of three qualified independent directors was a far better outcome for creditors than the appointment of a conventional chapter 11 trustee. Each of the independent directors brought unique qualities to the table. Mr. Seery, in particular, knew and had vast experience at prominent firms with high-yield and distressed investing similar to the Debtor's business. Mr. Dubel had 40 years of experience restructuring large complex businesses and serving on boards in this context. And Retired Judge Nelms had not only vast bankruptcy experience but seemed particularly well-suited to help the Debtor maneuver through conflicts and ethical quandaries. By way of comparison, in the chapter 11 case of Acis, the former affiliate of Highland that the Bankruptcy Court presided over and which company was much smaller in size and scope than Highland (managing only 5-6 CLOs), the creditors elected a chapter 11 trustee who was not on the normal trustee rotation panel in this district but, rather, was a nationally known bankruptcy attorney with more than 45 years of large chapter 11 experience. While the Acis chapter 11 trustee performed valiantly, he was sued by entities in the Highland complex shortly after he was appointed (which the Bankruptcy Court had to address). The Acis trustee was also unable to persuade the Debtor and its affiliates to agree to any actions taken in the case, and he finally obtained confirmation of Acis' chapter 11 plan over the objections of the Debtor and its affiliates on his fourth attempt (which confirmation was promptly appealed).

14. Conditions Required by Independent Directors. Given the experiences in Acis and the Debtor's culture of constant litigation, it was not as easy to get such highly qualified persons to serve as independent board members and, later, as the Debtor's Chief Executive Officer, as it would be in an ordinary chapter 11 case. The independent board members were stepping into a morass of problems. Naturally, they were worried about getting sued no matter how defensible their efforts—given the litigation culture that enveloped Highland historically. Based on the record of this Case and the proceedings in the Acis chapter 11 case, it seemed as though everything always ended in litigation at Highland. The Bankruptcy Court heard credible testimony that none of the independent directors would have taken on the role of independent director without (1) an adequate directors and officers' ("D&O") insurance policy protecting them; (2) indemnification from Strand that would be guaranteed by the Debtor; (3) exculpation for mere negligence claims; and (4) a gatekeeper provision prohibiting the commencement of litigation against the independent directors without the Bankruptcy Court's prior authority. This gatekeeper provision was also included in the Bankruptcy Court's order authorizing the appointment of Mr. Seery as the Debtor's Chief Executive Officer, Chief Restructuring Officer, and Foreign Representative entered on July 16, 2020.<sup>7</sup> The gatekeeper provisions in both the January 9 Order and July 16 Order are precisely analogous to what bankruptcy trustees have pursuant to the so-called "Barton Doctrine" (first articulated in an old Supreme Court case captioned Barton v. Barbour, 104 U.S. 126 (1881)). The Bankruptcy Court approved all of these protections in the January 9 Order and the July 16 Order, and no one appealed either of those orders. As noted above, Mr. Dondero signed the Stipulation that led to the settlement that was approved by the January 9 Order. The Bankruptcy Court finds that, like the Committee, the independent board members have been resilient and unwavering in their efforts to get the enormous problems in this case solved. They seem to have at all times negotiated hard and in good faith, which culminated in the proposal of the Plan currently before the Bankruptcy Court. As noted previously, they completely changed the trajectory of this case.

15. Not Your Garden Variety Mediators. And still another reason why this was not your garden variety case was the mediation effort. In the summer of 2020, roughly nine months into the chapter 11 case, the Bankruptcy Court ordered mediation among the Debtor, Acis, UBS, the Redeemer Committee, and Mr. Dondero. The Bankruptcy Court selected co-mediators because mediation among these parties seemed like such a Herculean task—especially during COVID-19 where people could not all be in the same room. Those co-mediators were: Retired

Bankruptcy Judge Alan Gropper from the Southern District of New York, who had a distinguished career presiding over complex chapter 11 cases, and Ms. Sylvia Mayer, who likewise has had a distinguished career, first as a partner at a preeminent law firm working on complex chapter 11 cases, and subsequently as a mediator and arbitrator in Houston, Texas. As noted earlier, the Redeemer Committee and Acis claims were settled during the mediation—which seemed nothing short of a miracle to the Bankruptcy Court—and the UBS claim was settled several months later and the Bankruptcy Court believes the ground work for that ultimate settlement was laid, or at least helped, through the mediation. And, as earlier noted, other significant claims have been settled during this case, including those of HarbourVest (who asserted a $300 million claim) and Patrick Daugherty (who asserted a $40 million claim). The Bankruptcy Court cannot stress strongly enough that the resolution of these enormous claims—and the acceptance by all of these creditors of the Plan that is now before the Bankruptcy Court—seems nothing short of a miracle. It was more than a year in the making.

16. Not Your Garden Variety Plan Objectors (That Is, Those That Remain). Finally, a word about the current, remaining objectors to the Plan before the Bankruptcy Court. Once again, the Bankruptcy Court will use the phrase “not your garden variety”, which phrase applies to this case for many reasons. Originally, there were over a dozen objections filed to the Plan. The Debtor then made certain amendments or modifications to the Plan to address some of these objections, none of which require further solicitation of the Plan for reasons set forth in more detail below. The only objectors to the Plan left at the time of the Confirmation Hearing were Mr. Dondero [Docket No. 1661] and entities that the Bankruptcy Court finds are owned and/or controlled by him and that filed the following objections:

- a. Objection to Confirmation of the Debtor's Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization (filed by Get Good Trust and The Dugaboy Investment Trust) [Docket No. 1667];
- b. Objection to Confirmation of Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (filed by Highland Capital Management Fund Advisors, L.P., Highland Fixed Income Fund, Highland Funds I and its series, Highland Funds II and its series, Highland Global Allocation Fund, Highland Healthcare Opportunities Fund, Highland Income Fund, Highland Merger Arbitrage Fund, Highland Opportunistic Credit Fund, Highland Small-Cap Equity Fund, Highland Socially Responsible Equity Fund, Highland Total Return Fund, Highland/iBoxx Senior Loan ETF, NexPoint Advisors, L.P., NexPoint Capital, Inc., NexPoint Real Estate Strategies Fund, NexPoint Strategic Opportunities Fund) [Docket No. 1670];
- c. A Joinder to the Objection filed at 1670 by: NexPoint Real Estate Finance Inc., NexPoint Real Estate Capital, LLC, NexPoint Residential Trust, Inc., NexPoint Hospitality Trust, NexPoint Real Estate Partners, LLC, NexPoint Multifamily Capital Trust, Inc., VineBrook Homes Trust, Inc., NexPoint Real Estate Advisors, L.P., NexPoint Real Estate Advisors II, L.P., NexPoint Real Estate Advisors III, L.P., NexPoint Real Estate Advisors IV, L.P., NexPoint Real Estate Advisors V, L.P., NexPoint Real Estate Advisors VI, L.P., NexPoint Real Estate Advisors VII, L.P., NexPoint Real Estate Advisors VIII, L.P., and any funds advised by the foregoing [Docket No. 1677];
- d. NexPoint Real Estate Partners LLC's Objection to Debtor's Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization (filed by NexPoint Real Estate Partners LLC f/k/a HCRE Partners LLC) [Docket No. 1673]; and
- e. NexBank's Objection to Debtor's Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization (filed by NexBank Title, Inc., NexBank Securities, Inc., NexBank Capital, Inc., and NexBank) [Docket No. 1676]. The entities referred to in (i) through (v) of this paragraph are hereinafter referred to as the "Dondero Related Entities").

17. Questionability of Good Faith as to Outstanding Confirmation

Objections. Mr. Dondero and the Dondero Related Entities technically have standing to object to the Plan, but the remoteness of their economic interests is noteworthy, and the Bankruptcy Court questions the good faith of Mr. Dondero's and the Dondero Related Entities' objections. In fact, the Bankruptcy Court has good reason to believe that these parties are not objecting to protect economic interests they have in the Debtor but to be disruptors. Mr. Dondero wants his company back. This is understandable, but it is not a good faith basis to lob objections to the Plan. As detailed below, the Bankruptcy Court has slowed down plan confirmation multiple times and urged the parties to talk to Mr. Dondero in an attempt to arrive at what the parties have repeatedly referred to as a "grand bargain," the ultimate goal to resolve the Debtor's restructuring. The Debtor and the Committee represent that they have communicated with Mr. Dondero regarding a grand bargain settlement, and the Bankruptcy Court believes that they have.

18. Remote Interest of Outstanding Confirmation Objectors. To be specific about the remoteness of Mr. Dondero's and the Dondero Related Entities' interests, the Bankruptcy Court will address them each separately. First, Mr. Dondero has a pending objection to the Plan. Mr. Dondero's only economic interest with regard to the Debtor is an unliquidated indemnification claim (and, based on everything the Bankruptcy Court has heard, his indemnification claims would be highly questionable at this juncture). Mr. Dondero owns no equity in the Debtor directly. Mr. Dondero owns the Debtor's general partner, Strand, which in turn owns a quarter percent of the total equity in the Debtor. Second, a joint objection has been filed by The Dugaboy Trust ("Dugaboy") and the Get Good Trust ("Get Good"). The Dugaboy Trust was created to manage the assets of Mr. Dondero and his family and owns a 0.1866% limited partnership interest in the Debtor. See Disclosure Statement at 7, n.3. The Bankruptcy Court is not clear what economic interest the Get Good Trust has, but it likewise seems to be related to Mr. Dondero. Get Good filed three proofs of claim relating to a pending federal tax audit of the Debtor's 2008 return, which the Debtor believes arise from Get Good's equity security interests and are subject to subordination as set forth in its Confirmation Brief. Dugaboy filed three claims against the Debtor: (a) an administrative claim relating to the Debtor's alleged postpetition management of Multi-Strat Credit Fund, L.P., (b) a prepetition claim against a subsidiary of the Debtor for which it seeks to pierce the corporate veil, each of which the Debtor maintains are frivolous in the Confirmation Brief, and (c) a claim arising from its equity security interest in the Debtor, which the Debtor asserts should be subordinated. Another group of objectors that has joined together in one objection is what the Bankruptcy Court will refer to as the "Highland Advisors and Funds." See Docket No. 1863. The Bankruptcy Court understands they assert disputed administrative expense claims against the estate that were filed shortly before the Confirmation Hearing on January 23, 2021 [Docket No. 1826], and during the Confirmation Hearing on February 3, 2021 [Docket No. 1888]. At the Confirmation Hearing, Mr. Post testified on behalf of the Highland Advisors and Funds that the Funds have independent board members that run the Funds, but the Bankruptcy Court was not convinced of their independence from Mr. Dondero because none of the so-called independent board members have ever testified before the Bankruptcy Court and all have been engaged with the Highland complex for many years. Notably, the Court questions Mr. Post's credibility because, after more than 12 years of service, he abruptly resigned from the Debtor in October 2020 at the exact same time that Mr. Dondero resigned at the Board of Directors' request, and he is currently employed by Mr. Dondero. Moreover, Dustin Norris, a witness in a prior proceeding (whose testimony was made part of the record at the Confirmation Hearing), recently testified on behalf of the Highland Advisors and Funds in another proceeding that Mr. Dondero owned and/or controlled these entities. Finally, various NexBank entities objected to the Plan. The Bankruptcy Court does not believe they have liquidated claims against the Debtor. Mr. Dondero appears to be in control of these entities as well.

19. Background Regarding Dondero Objecting Parties. To be clear, the Bankruptcy Court has allowed all these objectors to fully present arguments and evidence in opposition to confirmation, even though their economic interests in the Debtor appear to be extremely remote and the Bankruptcy Court questions their good faith. Specifically, the Bankruptcy Court considers them all to be marching pursuant to the orders of Mr. Dondero. In the recent past, Mr. Dondero has been subject to a temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction by the Bankruptcy Court for interfering with Mr. Seery's management of the Debtor in specific ways that were supported by evidence. Around the time that this all came to light and the Bankruptcy Court began setting hearings on the alleged interference, Mr. Dondero's company phone, which he had been asked to turn in to Highland, mysteriously went missing. The Bankruptcy Court merely mentions this in this context as one of many reasons that the Bankruptcy Court has to question the good faith of Mr. Dondero and his affiliates in raising objections to confirmation of the Plan.

20. Other Confirmation Objections. Other than the objections filed by Mr. Dondero and the Dondero Related Entities, the only other pending objection to the Plan is the United States Trustee's Limited Objection to Confirmation of Debtor's Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization [Docket No. 1671], which objected to the Plan's exculpation, injunction, and Debtor release provisions. In juxtaposition, to these pending objections, the Bankruptcy Court notes that the Debtor resolved the following objections to the Plan:

- a. CLO Holdco, Ltd.'s Joinder to Objection to Confirmation of Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. and Supplemental Objections to Plan Confirmation [Docket No. 1675]. This Objection has been resolved pursuant to mutually agreed language by the parties set forth in paragraph VV of the Confirmation Order;
- b. Objection of Dallas County, City of Allen, Allen ISD, City of Richardson, and Kaufman County to Confirmation of the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. [Docket No. 1662]. This Objection has been resolved pursuant to mutually agreed language by the parties set forth in paragraph QQ of the Confirmation Order;
- c. Senior Employees' Limited Objection to Debtor's Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization (filed by Scott Ellington, Thomas Surgent, Frank Waterhouse, Isaac Leventon) [Docket No. 1669]. This Objection has been resolved pursuant to mutually agreed language by the parties set forth in paragraph 82 and paragraphs RR and SS of the Confirmation Order;
- d. Limited Objection of Jack Yang and Brad Borud to Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. [Docket No. 1666] and the amended joinder filed by Davis Deadman, Paul Kauffman and Todd Travers [Docket No. 1679]. This Objection and the amended joinder were resolved by agreement of the parties pursuant to modifications to the Plan filed by the Debtor;
- e. United States' (IRS) Limited Objection to Debtor's Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization [Docket No. 1668]. This Objection has been resolved pursuant to mutually agreed language by the parties set forth in paragraphs TT and UU of the Confirmation Order; and
- f. Patrick Hagaman Daugherty's Objection to Confirmation of Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization [Docket No. 1678]. This objection was resolved by the parties pursuant to the settlement of Mr. Daugherty's claim announced on the record of the Confirmation Hearing.

21. Capitalized Terms. Capitalized terms used herein, but not defined herein, shall have the respective meanings attributed to such terms in the Plan and the Disclosure Statement, as applicable.

22. Jurisdiction and Venue. The Bankruptcy Court has jurisdiction over the Debtor's Chapter 11 Case pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 157 and 1334. This is a core proceeding pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 157(b)(2). Venue of this proceeding and this Chapter 11 Case is proper in this district and in the Bankruptcy Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1408 and 1409.

23. Chapter 11 Petition. On the Petition Date, the Debtor commenced a voluntary case under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware, which case was transferred to the Bankruptcy Court on December 19, 2019. The Debtor continues to operate its business and manage its property as debtor in possession pursuant to sections 1107(a) and 1108 of the Bankruptcy Code. No trustee or examiner has been appointed in this Chapter 11 Case. The Office of the United States Trustee appointed the Committee on October 29, 2019.

24. Judicial Notice. The Bankruptcy Court takes judicial notice of the docket in this Chapter 11 Case maintained by the clerk of the Bankruptcy Court and the court-appointed claims agent, Kurtzman Carson Consultants LLC ("KCC"), including, without limitation, all pleadings, notices, and other documents filed, all orders entered, and all evidence and arguments made, proffered or adduced at the hearings held before the Bankruptcy Court during this Chapter 11 Case, including, without limitation, the hearing to consider the adequacy of the Disclosure Statement and the Confirmation Hearing, as well as all pleadings, notices, and other documents filed, all orders entered, and all evidence and arguments made, proffered, or adduced at hearings held before the Bankruptcy Court or the District Court for the Northern District of Texas in connection with an adversary proceeding or appellate proceeding, respectively, related to this Chapter 11 Case.

25. Plan Supplement Documents. Prior to the Confirmation Hearing, the Debtor filed each of the Plan Supplements. The Plan Supplements contain, among other documents, the Retained Causes of Action, the Claimant Trust Agreement, the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement, the Senior Employee Stipulation, the Related Entity List, the Schedule of Employees, the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, supplements to the Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections, the Schedule of Contracts and Leases to be Assumed, and the other Plan Documents set forth therein (collectively, the “Plan Supplement Documents”).

26. Retained Causes of Action Adequately Preserved. The Bankruptcy Court finds that the list of Retained Causes of Action included in the Plan Supplements sufficiently describes all potential Retained Causes of Action, provides all persons with adequate notice of any Causes of Action regardless of whether any specific claim to be brought in the future is listed therein or whether any specific potential defendant or other party is listed therein, and satisfies applicable law in all respects to preserve all of the Retained Causes of Action. The definition of the Causes of Action and Schedule of Retained Causes of Action, and their inclusion in the Plan, specifically and unequivocally preserve the Causes of Action for the benefit of the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trust, or the Litigation Sub-Trust, as applicable.

27. Plan Modifications Are Non-Material. In addition to the Plan Supplements, the Debtor made certain non-material modifications to the Plan, which are reflected in (i) the Redline of Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P.

(as Modified) filed on January 22, 2021 [Docket No. 1809], and (ii) Exhibit B to the Debtor's Notice of Filing of Plan Supplement to Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (as Modified) filed on February 1, 2021 [Docket No. 1875] (collectively, the "Plan Modifications"). Section 1127(a) of the Bankruptcy Code provides that a plan proponent may modify its plan at any time before confirmation so long as such modified plan meets the requirements of sections 1122 and 1123 of the Bankruptcy Code. None of the modifications set forth in the Plan Supplements or the Plan Modifications require any further solicitation pursuant to sections 1125, 1126, or 1127 of the Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rule 3019, because, among other things, they do not materially adversely change the treatment of the claims of any creditors or interest holders who have not accepted, in writing, such supplements and modifications. Among other things, there were changes to the projections that the Debtor filed shortly before the Confirmation Hearing (which included projected distributions to creditors and a comparison of projected distributions under the Plan to potential distributions under a hypothetical chapter 7 liquidation). The Plan Supplements and Plan Modifications did not mislead or prejudice any creditors or interest holders nor do they require that Holders of Claims or Equity Interests be afforded an opportunity to change previously cast votes to accept or reject the Plan. Specifically, the Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections filed on February 1, 2021 [Docket No. 1875] do not constitute any material adverse change to the treatment of any creditors or interest holders but, rather, simply update the estimated distributions based on Claims that were settled in the interim and provide updated financial data. The filing and notice of the Plan Supplements and Plan Modifications were appropriate and complied with the requirements of section 1127(a) of the Bankruptcy Code and the Bankruptcy Rules, and no other solicitation or disclosure or further notice is or shall be required. The Plan Supplements and Plan Modifications each became part of the Plan pursuant section 1127(a) of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, is authorized to modify the Plan or Plan Supplement Documents following entry of this Confirmation Order in a manner consistent with section 1127(b) of the Bankruptcy Code, the Plan, and, if applicable, the terms of the applicable Plan Supplement Document.

28. Notice of Transmittal, Mailing and Publication of Materials. As is evidenced by the Voting Certifications and the Affidavits of Service and Publication, the transmittal and service of the Plan, the Disclosure Statement, Ballots, and Confirmation Hearing Notice were adequate and sufficient under the circumstances, and all parties required to be given notice of the Confirmation Hearing (including the deadline for filing and serving objections to the confirmation of the Plan) have been given due, proper, timely, and adequate notice in accordance with the Disclosure Statement Order and in compliance with the Bankruptcy Code, the Bankruptcy Rules, the Local Rules, and applicable non-bankruptcy law, and such parties have had an opportunity to appear and be heard with respect thereto. No other or further notice is required. The publication of the Confirmation Hearing Notice, as set forth in the Notice of Affidavit of Publication dated December 3, 2020 [Docket No. 1505], complied with the Disclosure Statement Order.

29. Voting. The Bankruptcy Court has reviewed and considered the Voting Certifications. The procedures by which the Ballots for acceptance or rejection of the Plan were distributed and tabulated, including the tabulation as subsequently amended to reflect the settlement of certain Claims to be Allowed in Class 7, were fairly and properly conducted and complied with the Disclosure Statement Order, the Bankruptcy Code, the Bankruptcy Rules, and the Local Rules.

30. Bankruptcy Rule 3016(a). In accordance with Bankruptcy Rule 3016(a), the Plan is dated and identifies the Debtor as the proponent of the Plan.

31. Plan Compliance with Bankruptcy Code (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(1)). As set forth below, the Plan complies with all of the applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code, thereby satisfying section 1129(a)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code.

32. Proper Classification (11 U.S.C. §§ 1122, 1123(a)(1)). Section 1122 of the Bankruptcy Code provides that a plan may place a claim or interest in a particular class only if such claim or interest is substantially similar to the other claims or interest of such class. The Claims and Equity Interests placed in each Class are substantially similar to other Claims and Equity Interests, as the case may be, in each such Class. Valid business, factual, and legal reasons exist for separately classifying the various Classes of Claims and Equity Interests created under the Plan, and such Classes do not unfairly discriminate between Holders of Claims and Equity Interests.

33. Classification of Secured Claims. Class 1 (Jefferies Secured Claim) and Class 2 (Frontier Secured Claim) each constitute separate secured claims held by Jefferies LLC and Frontier State Bank, respectively, and it is proper and consistent with section 1122 of the Bankruptcy Code to separately classify the claims of these secured creditors. Class 3 (Other Secured Claims) consists of other secured claims (to the extent any exist) against the Debtor, are not substantially similar to the Secured Claims in Class 1 or Class 2, and are also properly separately classified.

34. Classification of Priority Claims. Class 4 (Priority Non-Tax Claims) consists of Claims entitled to priority under section 507(a), other than Priority Tax Claims, and are properly separately classified from non-priority unsecured claims. Class 5 (Retained Employee Claims) consists of the potential claims of employees who may be retained by the Debtor on the Effective Date, which claims will be Reinstated under the Plan, are not substantially similar to other Claims against the Debtor, and are properly classified.

35. Classification of Unsecured Claims. Class 6 (PTO Claims) consists solely of the claims of the Debtor's employees for unpaid paid time off in excess of the $13,650 statutory cap amount under sections 507(a)(4) and (a)(5) of the Bankruptcy Code and are dissimilar from other unsecured claims in Class 7 and Class 8. Class 7 (Convenience Claims) allows holders of eligible and liquidated Claims (below a certain threshold dollar amount) to receive a cash payout of the lesser of 85% of the Allowed amount of the creditor's Claim or such holder's pro rata share of the Convenience Claims Cash Pool. Class 7 (Convenience Claims) are provided for administrative convenience purposes in order to allow creditors, most of whom are either trade creditors or holders of professional claims, to receive treatment provided under Class 7 in lieu of the treatment of Class 8 (General Unsecured Claims). The Plan also provides for reciprocal "opt out" mechanisms to allow holders of Class 7 Claims to elect to receive the treatment for Class 8 Claims. Class 8 creditors primarily constitute the litigation claims of the Debtor. Class 8 Creditors will receive Claimant Trust Interests which will be satisfied pursuant to the terms of the Plan. Class 8 also contains an “opt out” mechanism to allow holders of liquidated Class 8 Claims at or below a $1 million threshold to elect to receive the treatment of Class 7 Convenience Claims. The Claims in Class 7 (primarily trade and professional Claims against the Debtor) are not substantially similar to the Claims in Class 8 (primarily the litigation Claims against the Debtor), and are appropriately separately classified. Valid business reasons also exist to classify creditors in Class 7 separately from creditors in Class 8. Class 7 creditors largely consist of liquidated trade or service providers to the Debtor. In addition, the Claims of Class 7 creditors are small relative to the large litigation claims in Class 8. Furthermore, the Class 8 Claims were overwhelmingly unliquidated when the Plan was filed. The nature of the Class 7 Claims as being largely liquidated created an expectation of expedited payment relative to the largely unliquidated Claims in Class 8, which consists in large part of parties who have been engaged in years, and in some cases over a decade of litigation with the Debtor. Separate classification of Class 7 and Class 8 creditors was the subject of substantial arm’s-length negotiations between the Debtor and the Committee to appropriately reflect these relative differences.

36. Classification of Equity Interests. The Plan properly separately classifies the Equity Interests in Class 10 (Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests) from the Equity Interests in Class 11 (Class A Limited Partnership Interests) because they represent different types of equity security interests in the Debtor and different payment priorities.

37. Elimination of Vacant Classes. Section III.C of the Plan provides for the elimination of Classes that do not have at least one holder of a Claim or Equity Interest that is Allowed in an amount greater than zero for purposes of voting to accept or reject the Plan, and are disregarded for purposes of determining whether the Plan satisfies section 1129(a)(8) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to such Class. The purpose of this provision is to provide that a Class that does not have voting members shall not be included in the tabulation of whether that Class has accepted or rejected the Plan. Pursuant to the Voting Certifications, the only voting Class of Claims or Equity Interests that did not have any members is Class 5 (Retained Employees). As noted above, Class 5 does not have any voting members because any potential Claims in Class 5 would not arise, except on account of any current employees of the Debtor who may be employed as of the Effective Date, which is currently unknown. Thus, the elimination of vacant Classes provided in Article III.C of the Plan does not violate section 1122 of the Bankruptcy Code. Class 5 is properly disregarded for purposes of determining whether or not the Plan has been accepted under Bankruptcy Code section 1129(a)(8) because there are no members in that Class. However, the Plan properly provides for the treatment of any Claims that may potentially become members of Class 5 as of the Effective Date in accordance with the terms of the Plan. The Plan therefore satisfies section 1122 of the Bankruptcy Code.

38. Classification of Claims and Designation of Non-Classified Claims (11 U.S.C. §§ 1122, 1123(a)(1)). Section 1123(a)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code requires that the Plan specify the classification of claims and equity security interests pursuant to section 1122 of the Bankruptcy Code, other than claims specified in sections 507(a)(2), 507(a)(3), or 507(a)(8) of the Bankruptcy Code. In addition to Administrative Claims, Professional Fee Claims, and Priority Tax Claims, each of which need not be classified pursuant to section 1123(a)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code, the Plan designates eleven (11) Classes of Claims and Equity Interests. The Plan satisfies sections 1122 and 1123(a)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code.

39. Specification of Unimpaired Classes (11 U.S.C. § 1123(a)(2)). Article III of the Plan specifies that each of Class 1 (Jefferies Secured Claim), Class 3 (Other Secured Claims), Class 4 (Priority Non-Tax Claims), Class 5 (Retained Employee Claims), and Class 6 (PTO Claims) are Unimpaired under the Plan. Thus, the requirement of section 1123(a)(2) of the Bankruptcy Code is satisfied.

40. Specification of Treatment of Impaired Classes (11 U.S.C. § 1123(a)(3)). Article III of the Plan designates each of Class 2 (Frontier Secured Claim), Class 7 (Convenience Claims), Class 8 (General Unsecured Claims), Class 9 (Subordinated Claims), Class 10 (Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests), and Class 11 (Class A Limited Partnership Interests) as Impaired and specifies the treatment of Claims and Equity Interests in such Classes. Thus, the requirement of section 1123(a)(3) of the Bankruptcy Code is satisfied.

41. No Discrimination (11 U.S.C. § 1123(a)(4)). The Plan provides for the same treatment by the Plan proponent for each Claim or Equity Interest in each respective Class unless the Holder of a particular Claim or Equity Interest has agreed to a less favorable treatment of such Claim or Equity Interest. The Plan satisfies this requirement because Holders of Allowed Claims or Equity Interests in each Class will receive the same rights and treatment as other Holders of Allowed Claims or Equity Interests within such holder's respective class, subject only to the voluntary "opt out" options afforded to members of Class 7 and Class 8 in accordance with the terms of the Plan. Thus, the requirement of section 1123(a)(4) of the Bankruptcy Code is satisfied.

42. Implementation of the Plan (11 U.S.C. § 1123(a)(5)). Article IV of the Plan sets forth the means for implementation of the Plan which includes, but is not limited to, the establishment of: (i) the Claimant Trust; (ii) the Litigation Sub-Trust; (iii) the Reorganized Debtor; and (iv) New GP LLC, in the manner set forth in the Plan Documents, the forms of which are included in the Plan Supplements.

- a. The Claimant Trust. The Claimant Trust Agreement provides for the management of the Claimant Trust, as well as the Reorganized Debtor with the Claimant Trust serving as the managing member of New GP LLC (a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Claimant Trust that will manage the Reorganized Debtor as its general partner). The Claimant Trust, the Claimant Trustee, the management and monetization of the Claimant Trust Assets, and the management of the Reorganized Debtor (through the Claimant Trust's role as managing member of New GP LLC) and the Litigation Sub-Trust will all be managed and overseen by the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee. Additionally, the Plan provides for the transfer to the Claimant Trust of all of the Debtor's rights, title, and interest in and to all of the Claimant Trust Assets in accordance with section 1141 of the Bankruptcy Code and for the Claimant Trust Assets to automatically vest in the Claimant Trust free and clear of all Claims, Liens, encumbrances, or interests subject only to the Claimant Trust Interests and the Claimant Trust Expenses, as provided for in the Claimant Trust Agreement. The Claimant Trust will administer the Claimant Trust Assets as provided under the Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement contained in the Plan Supplements.
- b. The Litigation Sub-Trust. The Plan and the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement provide for the transfer to the Litigation Sub-Trust all of the Claimant Trust's rights, title, and interest in and to all of the Estate Claims (as transferred to the Claimant Trust by the Debtor) in accordance with section 1141 of the Bankruptcy Code and for the Estate Claims to automatically vest in the Litigation Sub-Trust free and clear of all Claims, Liens, encumbrances, or interests subject only to the Litigation Sub-Trust Interests and the Litigation Sub-Trust Expenses, as provided for in the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement. The Litigation Trustee is charged with investigating, pursuing, and otherwise resolving any Estate Claims (including those with respect to which the Committee has standing to pursue prior to the Effective Date pursuant to the January 9 Order) pursuant to the terms of the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement and the Plan, regardless of whether any litigation with respect to any Estate Claim was commenced by the Debtor or the Committee prior to the Effective Date.

- c. The Reorganized Debtor. The Reorganized Debtor will administer the Reorganized Debtor Assets, which includes managing the wind down of the Managed Funds.

The precise terms governing the execution of these restructuring transactions are set forth in greater detail in the applicable definitive documents included in the Plan Supplements, including the Claimant Trust Agreement, the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement, and the Schedule of Retained Causes of Action. The Plan, together with the documents and forms of agreement included in the Plan Supplements, provides a detailed blueprint for the transactions contemplated by the Plan. The Plan's various mechanisms provide for the Debtor's continued management of its business as it seeks to liquidate the Debtor's assets, wind down its affairs, and pay the Claims of the Debtor's creditors. Upon full payment of Allowed Claims, plus interest as provided in the Plan, any residual value would then flow to the holders of Class 10 (Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests), and Class 11 (Class A Limited Partnership Interests). Finally, Mr. Seery testified that the Debtor engaged in substantial and arm's length negotiations with the Committee regarding the Debtor's post-Effective Date corporate governance, as reflected in the Plan. Mr. Seery testified that he believes the selection of the Claimant Trustee, Litigation Trustee, and members of the Claimant Trust Oversight Board are in the best interests of the Debtor's economic constituents. Thus, the requirements of section 1123(a)(5) of the Bankruptcy Code are satisfied.

43. Non-Voting Equity Securities (11 U.S.C. § 1123(a)(6)). The Debtor is not a corporation and the charter documents filed in the Plan Supplements otherwise comply with section 1123(a)(6) of the Bankruptcy Code. Therefore, the requirement of section 1123(a)(6) of the Bankruptcy Code is satisfied.

44. Selection of Officers and Directors (11 U.S.C. § 1123(a)(7)). Article IV of the Plan provides for the Claimant Trust to be governed and administered by the Claimant Trustee. The Claimant Trust, the management of the Reorganized Debtor, and the management and monetization of the Claimant Trust Assets and the Litigation Sub-Trust will be managed by the Claimant Trust Oversight Board. The Claimant Trust Oversight Board will consist of: (1) Eric Felton, as representative of the Redeemer Committee; (2) Joshua Terry, as representative of Acis; (3) Elizabeth Kozlowski, as representative of UBS; (4) Paul McVoy, as representative of Meta-E Discovery; and (5) David Pauker. Four of the members of the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee are the holders of several of the largest Claims against the Debtor and/or are current members of the Committee. Each of these creditors has actively participated in the Debtor's case, both through their fiduciary roles as Committee members and in their individual capacities as creditors. They are therefore intimately familiar with the Debtor, its business, and assets. The fifth member of the Claimant Trust Oversight Board, David Pauker, is a disinterested restructuring advisor and turnaround manager with more than 25 years of experience advising public and private companies and their investors, and he has substantial experience overseeing, advising or investigating troubled companies in the financial services industry and has advised or managed such companies on behalf of boards or directors, court-appointed trustees, examiners and special masters, government agencies, and private investor parties. The members of the Claimant Trust Oversight Board will serve without compensation, except for Mr. Pauker, who will receive payment of $250,000 for his first year of service, and $150,000 for subsequent years.

45. Selection of Trustees. The Plan Supplements disclose that Mr. Seery will serve as the Claimant Trustee and Marc Kirschner will serve as the Litigation Trustee. As noted above, Mr. Seery has served as an Independent Board member since January 2020, and as the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Restructuring Officer since July 2020, and he has extensive management and restructuring experience, as evidenced from his curriculum vitae which is part of the record. The evidence shows that Mr. Seery is intimately familiar with the Debtor's organizational structure, business, and assets, as well as how Claims will be treated under the Plan. Accordingly, it is reasonable and in the Estate's best interests to continue Mr. Seery's employment post-emergence as the Claimant Trustee. Mr. Seery, upon consultation with the Committee, testified that he intends to employ approximately 10 of the Debtor's employees to enable him to manage the Debtor's business until the Claimant Trust effectively monetizes its remaining assets, instead of hiring a sub-servicer to accomplish those tasks. Mr. Seery testified that he believes that the Debtor's post-confirmation business can most efficiently and cost-effectively be supported by a sub-set of the Debtor's current employees, who will be managed internally. Mr. Seery shall initially be paid $150,000 per month for services rendered after the Effective Date as Claimant Trustee; however, Mr. Seery's long-term salary as Claimant Trustee and the terms of any bonuses and severance are subject to further negotiation by Mr. Seery and the Claimant Trust Oversight Board within forty-five (45) days after the Effective Date. The Bankruptcy Court has also reviewed Mr. Kirschner's curriculum vitae. Mr. Kirschner has been practicing law since 1967 and has substantial experience in bankruptcy litigation matters, particularly with respect to his prior experience as a litigation trustee for several litigation trusts, as set forth on the record of the Confirmation Hearing and in the Confirmation Brief. Mr. Kirschner shall be paid $40,000 per month for the first three months and $20,000 per month thereafter, plus a success fee related to litigation recoveries. The Committee and the Debtor had arm's lengths negotiations regarding the post-Effective Date corporate governance structure of the Reorganized Debtor and believe that the selection of the Claimant Trustee, the Litigation Trustee, and the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee are in the best interests of the Debtor's economic stakeholders. Section 1123(a)(7) of the Bankruptcy Code is satisfied.

Pursuant to section 1129(a)(2) of the Bankruptcy Code, the Debtor has complied with the applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code, including sections 1122, 1123, 1124, 1125, and 1126 of the Bankruptcy Code, the Bankruptcy Rules, and the Disclosure Statement Order governing notice, disclosure, and solicitation in connection with the Plan, the Disclosure Statement, the Plan Supplements, and all other matters considered by the Bankruptcy Court in connection with this Chapter 11 Case.

47. Debtor's Solicitation Complied with Bankruptcy Code and Disclosure

Statement Order. Before the Debtor solicited votes on the Plan, the Bankruptcy Court entered the Disclosure Statement Order. In accordance with the Disclosure Statement Order and evidenced by the Affidavits of Service and Publication, the Debtor appropriately served (i) the Solicitation Packages (as defined in the Disclosure Statement Order) on the Holders of Claims in Classes 2, 7, 8 and 9 and Holders of Equity Interests in Classes 10 and 11 who were entitled to vote on the Plan; and (ii) the Notice of Nonvoting Status (as defined in the Disclosure Statement Order) and the Confirmation Hearing Notice to the Holders of Claims in Classes 1, 3, 4, 5 and 6, who were not entitled to vote on the Plan pursuant to the Disclosure Statement Order. The Disclosure Statement Order approved the contents of the Solicitation Packages provided to Holders of Claims and Equity Interests entitled to vote on the Plan, the notices provided to parties not entitled to vote on the Plan, and the deadlines for voting on and objecting to the Plan. The Debtor and KCC each complied with the content and delivery requirements of the Disclosure Statement Order, thereby satisfying sections 1125(a) and (b) of the Bankruptcy Code, as evidenced by the Affidavits of Service and Publication. The Debtor also satisfied section 1125(c) of the Bankruptcy Code, which provides that the same disclosure statement must be transmitted to each holder of a claim or interest in a particular class. The Debtor caused the same Disclosure Statement to be transmitted to all holders of Claims and Equity Interests entitled to vote on the Plan. The Debtor has complied in all respects with the solicitation requirements of section 1125 of the Bankruptcy Code and the Disclosure Statement Order. The Bankruptcy Court rejects the arguments of the Mr. Dondero and certain Dondero Related Entities that the changes made to certain assumptions and projections from the Liquidation Analysis annexed as Exhibit C to the Disclosure Statement (the “Liquidation Analysis”) to the Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections require resolicitation of the Plan. The Bankruptcy Court heard credible testimony from Mr. Seery regarding the changes to the Liquidation Analysis as reflected in the Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections. Based on the record, including the testimony of Mr. Seery, the Bankruptcy Court finds that the changes between the Liquidation Analysis and the Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections do not constitute materially adverse change to the treatment of Claims or Equity

Interests. Instead, the changes served to update the projected distributions based on Claims that were settled after the approval of the Disclosure Statement and to otherwise incorporate more recent financial data. Such changes were entirely foreseeable given the large amount of unliquidated Claims at the time the Disclosure Statement was approved and the nature of the Debtor's assets. The Bankruptcy Court therefore finds that holders of Claims and Equity Interests were not misled or prejudiced by the Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections and the Plan does not need to be resolicited.

48. Plan Proposed in Good Faith and Not by Means Forbidden by Law (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(3)). The Debtor has proposed the Plan in good faith and not by any means forbidden by law, thereby satisfying section 1129(a)(3) of the Bankruptcy Code. In determining that the Plan has been proposed in good faith, the Bankruptcy Court has examined the totality of the circumstances surrounding the filing of this Chapter 11 Case, the Plan itself, and the extensive, unrebutted testimony of Mr. Seery in which he described the process leading to Plan's formulation. Based on the totality of the circumstances and Mr. Seery's testimony, the Bankruptcy Court finds that the Plan is the result of extensive arm's-length negotiations among the Debtor, the Committee, and key stakeholders, and promotes the objectives and purposes of the Bankruptcy Code. Specifically, the Debtor's good faith in proposing the Plan is supported by the following facts adduced by Mr. Seery:

- a. The Independent Board determined that it should consider all potential restructuring alternatives, including pursuit of a traditional restructuring and the continuation of the Debtor's business, a potential sale of the Debtor's assets in one or more transactions, an asset monetization plan similar to that described in the Plan, and a so-called "grand bargain" plan that would involve Mr. Dondero's sponsorship of a plan with a substantial equity infusion.

- b. The Debtor subsequently engaged in arm's-length, good faith negotiations with the Committee over an asset monetization Plan commencing in June 2020, which negotiations occurred over the next several months.
- c. Negotiations between the Debtor and the Committee were often contentious over disputes, including, but not limited to, the post-confirmation corporate governance structure and the scope of releases contemplated by the Plan.
- d. While negotiations with the Committee progressed, the Independent Board engaged in discussions with Mr. Dondero regarding a potential "grand bargain" plan which contemplated a significant equity infusion by Mr. Dondero, and which Mr. Seery personally spent hundreds of hours pursuing over many months.
- e. On August 3, 2020, the Bankruptcy Court entered the Order Directing Mediation [Docket No. 912] pursuant to which the Bankruptcy Court ordered the Debtor, the Committee, UBS, Acis, the Redeemer Committee, and Mr. Dondero into mediation. As a result of this mediation, the Debtor negotiated the settlement of the claims of Acis and Mr. Terry, which the Bankruptcy Court approved on October 28, 2020 [Docket No. 1302].
- f. On August 12, 2020, the Debtor filed its Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. [Docket No. 944] (the "Initial Plan") and related disclosure statement (the "Initial Disclosure Statement") which were not supported by either the Committee or Mr. Dondero. The Independent Board filed the Initial Plan and Initial Disclosure Statement in order to act as a catalyst for continued discussions with the Committee while it simultaneously worked with Mr. Dondero on the "grand bargain" plan.
- g. The Bankruptcy Court conducted a contested hearing on the Initial Disclosure Statement on October 27, 2020. The Committee and other parties objected to approval of the Disclosure Statement at the Initial Disclosure Statement hearing, which was eventually continued to November 23, 2020.
- h. Following the Initial Disclosure Statement hearing, the Debtor continued to negotiate with the Committee and ultimately resolved the remaining material disputes and led to the Bankruptcy Court's approval of the Disclosure Statement on November 23, 2020.
- i. Even after obtaining the Bankruptcy Court's approval of the Disclosure Statement, the Debtor and the Committee continued to negotiate with Mr. Dondero and the Committee over a potential "pot plan" as an alternative to the Plan on file with the Bankruptcy Court, but such efforts were unsuccessful. This history conclusively demonstrates that the Plan is being proposed in good faith within the meaning of section 1129(a)(3).

49. Payments for Services or Costs and Expenses (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(4)).

Article II.B of the Plan provides that Professionals will file all final requests for payment of Professional Fee Claims no later than 60 days after the Effective Date, thereby providing an adequate period of time for interested parties to review such claims. The procedures set forth in the Plan for the Bankruptcy Court's approval of the fees, costs, and expenses to be paid in connection with this chapter 11 Case, or in connection with the Plan and incident to this Chapter 11 Case, satisfy the objectives of and are in compliance with section 1129(a)(4) of the Bankruptcy Code.

50. Directors, Officers, and Insiders (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(5)). Article IV.B of the Plan provides for the appointment of the Claimant Trustee, Litigation Trustee, and the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee and the members thereto. For the reasons more fully explained in paragraphs 44-45 of this Confirmation Order with respect to the requirement of section 1123(a)(7) of the Bankruptcy Code, the Debtor has disclosed the nature of compensation of any insider to be employed or retained by the Reorganized Debtor, if applicable, and compensation for any such insider. The appointment of such individuals is consistent with the interests of Claims and Equity Interests and with public policy. Thus, the Plan satisfies section 1129(a)(5) of the Bankruptcy Code.

51. No Rate Changes (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(6)). The Plan does not provide for any rate change that requires regulatory approval. Section 1129(a)(6) of the Bankruptcy Code is thus not applicable.

52. Best Interests of Creditors (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(7)). The “best interests” test is satisfied as to all Impaired Classes under the Plan, as each Holder of a Claim or Equity Interest in such Impaired Classes will receive or retain property of a value, as of the Effective Date of the Plan, that is not less than the amount that such Holder would so receive or retain if the Debtor were liquidated under chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code. On October 15, 2020, the Debtor filed the Liquidation Analysis [Docket 1173], as prepared by the Debtor with the assistance of its advisors and which was attached as Exhibit C to the Disclosure Statement. On January 29, 2021, in advance of Mr. Seery’s deposition in connection with confirmation of the Plan, the Debtor provided an updated version of the Liquidation Analysis to the then-objectors of the Plan, including Mr. Dondero and the Dondero Related Entities. On February 1, 2021, the Debtor filed the Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections. The Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections included updates to the Debtor’s projected asset values, revenues, and expenses to reflect: (1) the acquisition of an interest in an entity known as “HCLOF” that the Debtor will acquire as part of its court-approved settlement with HarbourVest and that was valued at $22.5 million; (2) an increase in the value of certain of the Debtor’s assets due to changes in market conditions and other factors; (3) expected revenues and expenses arising in connection with the Debtor’s continued management of the CLOs pursuant to management agreements that the Debtor decided to retain; (4) increases in projected expenses for headcount (in addition to adding two or three employees to assist in the management of the CLOs, the Debtor also increased modestly the projected headcount as a result of its decision not to engage a Sub-Servicer) and professional fees; and (5) an increase in projected recoveries on notes resulting from the acceleration of term notes owed to the Debtor by the following Dondero Related Entities: NexPoint Advisors, L.P.; Highland Capital Management Services, Inc.; and HCRE Partners, LLC (n/k/a NexPoint Real Estate Partners, LLC). Under the Plan, as of the Confirmation Date, (a) Class 7 General Unsecured Creditors are projected to receive 85% on account of their claims; and (b) Class 8 General Unsecured Creditors are projected to receive at least approximately 71% on account of their Claims. Under a hypothetical chapter 7 liquidation, all general unsecured creditors are projected to receive approximately 55% on account of their Claims. The Bankruptcy Court finds that the distributions that Class 7 and 8 General Unsecured Creditors are projected to receive under the Plan substantially exceeds that which they would receive under a chapter 7 liquidation based on Mr. Seery's testimony, including the following credible reasons he posited, among others:

- a. The nature of the Debtor's assets is complex. Certain assets relate to complicated real estate structures and private equity investments in operating businesses. Mr. Seery's extensive experience with the Debtor during the thirteen months since his appointment as an Independent Director and later Chief Executive Officer and Chief Restructuring Officer, provides him with a substantial learning curve in connection with the disposition of the Debtor's assets and are reasonably expected to result in him being able to realize tens of millions of dollars more value than would a chapter 7 trustee.
- b. Assuming that a hypothetical chapter 7 trustee could even operate the Debtor's business under chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code and hire the necessary personnel with the relevant knowledge and experience to assist him or her in selling the Debtor's assets, a chapter 7 trustee would likely seek to dispose of the Debtor's assets in a forced sale liquidation which would generate substantially less value for the Debtor's creditors than the asset monetization plan contemplated by the Plan.
- c. A chapter 7 trustee would be unlikely to retain the Debtor's existing professionals to assist in its efforts to monetize assets, resulting in delays, increased expenses, and reduced asset yields for the chapter 7 estate.

- d. The chapter 7 estate would be unlikely to maximize value as compared to the asset monetization process contemplated by the Plan because potential buyers are likely to perceive a chapter 7 trustee as engaging in a quick, forced “fire sale” of assets; and
- e. The Debtor’s employees, who are vital to its efforts to maximum value and recoveries for stakeholders, may be unwilling to provide services to a chapter 7 trustee.

Finally, there is no evidence to support the objectors’ argument that the Claimant Trust Agreement’s disclaimed liability for ordinary negligence by the Claimant Trustee compared to a chapter 7 trustee’s liability has any relevance to creditor recoveries in a hypothetical chapter 7 liquidation. Thus, section 1129(a)(7) of the Bankruptcy Code is satisfied.

53. Acceptance by Certain Classes (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(8)). Classes 1, 3, 4, 5 and 6 are Unimpaired under the Plan. Class 2 (Frontier Secured Claim), Class 7 (Convenience Claims), and Class 9 (Subordinated Claims) have each voted to accept the Plan in accordance with the Bankruptcy Code, thereby satisfying section 1129(a)(8) as to those Classes. However, Class 8 (General Unsecured Claims), Class 10 (Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests), and Class 11 (Class A Limited Partnership Interests) have not accepted the Plan. Accordingly, section 1129(a)(8) of the Bankruptcy Code has not been satisfied. The Plan, however, is still confirmable because it satisfies the nonconsensual confirmation provisions of section 1129(b), as set forth below.

54. Treatment of Administrative, Priority, Priority Tax Claims, and Professional Fee Claims (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(9)). The treatment of Administrative Claims, Priority Claims, and Professional Fee Claims pursuant to Article III of the Plan, and as set forth below with respect to the resolution of the objections filed by the Internal Revenue Service and certain Texas taxing authorities satisfies the requirements of sections 1129(a)(9) of the Bankruptcy Code.

55. Acceptance by Impaired Class (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(10)). Class 2 (Frontier Secured Claims) and Class 7 (Convenience Claims) are each Impaired Classes of Claims that voted to accept the Plan, determined without including any acceptance of the Plan by any insider. Therefore, the requirement of section 1129(a)(10) of the Bankruptcy Code is satisfied.

56. Feasibility (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(11)). Article IV of the Plan provides for the implementation of the Plan through the Claimant Trust, the Litigation Sub-Trust, and the Reorganized Debtor. The Plan provides that the Claimant Trust, among other things, will monetize and distribute the Debtor's remaining assets. The Disclosure Statement, the Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections, and the other evidence presented at the Confirmation Hearing provide a reasonable probability of success that the Debtor will be able to effectuate the provisions of the Plan. The Plan contemplates the establishment of the Claimant Trust upon the Effective Date, which will monetize the Estate's assets for the benefit of creditors. Mr. Seery testified that the Class 2 Frontier Secured Claim will be paid over time pursuant to the terms of the New Frontier Note and the Reorganized Debtor will have sufficient assets to satisfy its obligations under this note. The Claims of the Holders of Class 7 Claims (as well as those Class 8 creditors who validly opted to receive the treatment of Class 7 Claims) are expected to be satisfied shortly after the Effective Date. Holders of Class 8 Claims (including any holders of Class 7 Claims who opted to receive the treatment provided to Class 8 Claims) are not guaranteed any recovery and will periodically receive pro rata distributions as assets are monetized pursuant to the Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement. Thus, section 1129(a)(11) of the Bankruptcy Code is satisfied.

57. Payment of Fees (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(12)). All fees payable under 28 U.S.C. § 1930 have been paid or will be paid on or before the Effective Date pursuant to Article XII.A of the Plan, thus satisfying the requirement of section 1129(a)(12) of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtor has agreed that the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trust, and the Litigation Sub-Trust shall be jointly and severally liable for payment of quarterly fees to the Office of the United States Trustee pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1930 through the entry of the Final Decree for the Debtor or the dismissal or conversion of the Chapter 11 Case.

58. Retiree Benefits. The Plan provides for the assumption of the Pension Plan (to the extent such Pension Plan provides “retiree benefits” and is governed by section 1114 of the Bankruptcy Code). Thus, the Plan complies with section 1129(a)(13) of the Bankruptcy Code, to the extent applicable.

59. Miscellaneous Provisions (11 U.S.C. §§ 1129(a)(14)-(16)). Sections 1129(a)(14)-(16) of the Bankruptcy Code are inapplicable as the Debtor (i) has no domestic support obligations (section 1129(a)(14)), (ii) is not an individual (section 1129(a)(15)), and (iii) is not a nonprofit corporation (section 1129(a)(16)).

60. No Unfair Discrimination; Fair and Equitable Treatment (11 U.S.C. § 1129(b)). The classification and treatment of Claims and Equity Interests in Classes 8, 10 and 11, which have not accepted the Plan, is proper pursuant to section 1122 of the Bankruptcy Code, does not discriminate unfairly, and is fair and equitable pursuant to section 1129(b)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code.

- a. Class 8. The Plan is fair and equitable with respect to Class 8 General Unsecured Claims. While Equity Interests in Class 10 and Class 11 will receive a contingent interest in the Claimant Trust under the Plan (the “Contingent Interests”), the Contingent Interests will not vest unless and until holders of Class 8 General Unsecured Claims and Class 9 Subordinated Claims receive distributions equal to 100% of the amount of their Allowed Claims plus interest as provided under the Plan and Claimant Trust Agreement. Accordingly, as the holders of Equity Interests that are junior to the Claims in Class 8 and Class 9 will not receive or retain under the Plan on account of such junior claim interest any property unless and until the Claims in Class 8 and Class 9 are paid in full plus applicable interest, the Plan is fair and equitable with respect to holders of Class 8 General Unsecured Claims pursuant to section 1129(b)(2)(B) of the Bankruptcy Code and the reasoning of In re Introgen Therapeutics 429 B.R 570 (Bankr. W.D. Tex. 2010).
- b. Class 10 and Class 11. There are no Claims or Equity Interests junior to the Equity Interests in Class 10 and Class 11. Equity Interests in Class 10 and 11 will neither receive nor retain any property under the Plan unless Allowed Claims in Class 8 and Class 9 are paid in full plus applicable interest pursuant to the terms of the Plan and Claimant Trust Agreement. Thus, the Plan does not violate the absolute priority rule with respect to Classes 10 and 11 pursuant to Bankruptcy Code section 1129(b)(2)(C). The Plan does not discriminate unfairly as to Equity Interests. As noted above, separate classification of the Class B/C Partnership Interests from the Class A Partnerships Interests is appropriate because they constitute different classes of equity security interests in the Debtor, and each are appropriately separately classified and treated.

Accordingly, the Plan does not violate the absolute priority rule, does not discriminate unfairly, and is fair and equitable with respect to each Class that has rejected the Plan. Thus, the Plan satisfies the requirements of section 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to Classes 8, 10, and 11.

61. Only One Plan (11 U.S.C. § 1129(c)). The Plan is the only chapter 11 plan confirmed in this Chapter 11 Case, and the requirements of section 1129(c) of the Bankruptcy Code are therefore satisfied.

62. Principal Purpose (11 U.S.C. § 1129(d)). Mr. Seery testified that the principal purpose of the Plan is neither the avoidance of taxes nor the avoidance of the application of section 5 of the Securities Act of 1933, and no governmental unit has objected to the confirmation of the Plan on any such grounds. Accordingly, section 1129(d) of the Bankruptcy Code is inapplicable.

63. Satisfaction of Confirmation Requirements. Based upon the foregoing, the Plan satisfies the requirements for confirmation set forth in section 1129 of the Bankruptcy Code and should be confirmed.

64. Good Faith Solicitation (11 U.S.C. § 1125(e)). The Debtor, the Independent Directors, and the Debtor's employees, advisors, Professionals, and agents have acted in good faith within the meaning of section 1125(e) of the Bankruptcy Code and in compliance with the applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rules in connection with all of their respective activities relating to the solicitation of acceptances of the Plan and their participation in the activities described in section 1125 of the Bankruptcy Code, and they are entitled to the protections afforded by section 1125(e) of the Bankruptcy Code.

65. Discharge (11 U.S.C. § 1141(d)(3)). The Debtor is entitled to a discharge of debts pursuant to section 1141(d)(3)(B) of the Bankruptcy Code. Under the Plan, the Claimant Trust or Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, will continue to manage funds and conduct business in the same manner as the Debtor did prior to Plan confirmation, which includes the management of the CLOs, Multi-Strat, Restoration Capital, the Select Fund and the Korea Fund. Although the Plan projects that it will take approximately two years to monetize the Debtor's assets for fair value, Mr. Seery testified that while the Reorganized Debtor and Claimant Trust will be monetizing their assets, there is no specified time frame by which this process must conclude. Mr. Seery's credible testimony demonstrates that the Debtor will continue to engage in business after consummation of the Plan, within the meaning of Section 1141(d)(3)(b) and that the Debtor is entitled to a discharge pursuant to section 1141(d)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code.

66. Retention of Jurisdiction. The Bankruptcy Court may properly retain jurisdiction over the matters set forth in Article XI of the Plan and/or section 1142 of the Bankruptcy Code to the maximum extent under applicable law.

67. Additional Plan Provisions (11 U.S.C. § 1123(b)). The Plan's provisions are appropriate, in the best interests of the Debtor and its Estate, and consistent with the applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code, Bankruptcy Rules, and Local Rules.

68. Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases (11 U.S.C. § 1123(b)(2)). The Debtor has exercised reasonable business judgment with respect to the rejection of the Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases pursuant the terms of the Plan and this Confirmation Order, and such rejections are justified and appropriate in this Chapter 11 Case. The Debtor also filed the List of Assumed Contracts, which contain notices to the applicable counterparties to the contracts set forth on Exhibit "FF" to Plan Supplement filed on February 1, 2021 [Docket No. 1875] and which exhibit sets forth the list of executory contracts and unexpired leases to be assumed by the Debtor pursuant to the Plan (collectively, the “Assumed Contracts”). With respect to the Assumed Contracts, only one party objected to the assumption of any of the Assumed Contracts, but that objection was withdrawn.<sup>8</sup> Any modifications, amendments, supplements, and restatements to the Assumed Contracts that may have been executed by the Debtor during the Chapter 11 Case shall not be deemed to alter the prepetition nature of the Assumed Contracts or the validity, priority, or amount of any Claims that may arise in connection therewith. Assumption of any Assumed Contract pursuant to the Plan and full payment of any applicable Cure pursuant to the Plan shall result in the full release and satisfaction of any Cures, Claims, or defaults, whether monetary or nonmonetary, including defaults of provisions restricting the change in control or ownership interest composition or other bankruptcy-related defaults, arising under any assumed Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease at any time prior to the effective date of assumption.

69. Compromises and Settlements Under and in Connection with the Plan (11 U.S.C. § 1123(b)(3)). All of the settlements and compromises pursuant to and in connection with the Plan, comply with the requirements of section 1123(b)(3) of the Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rule 9019.

70. Debtor Release, Exculpation and Injunctions (11 U.S.C. § 1123(b)). The Debtor Release, Exculpation, and Injunction provisions provided in the Plan (i) are within the jurisdiction of the Bankruptcy Court under 28 U.S.C. § 1334; (ii) are integral elements of the transactions incorporated into the Plan, and inextricably bound with the other provisions of the Plan; (iii) confer material benefit on, and are in the best interests of, the Debtor, its Estate, and its creditors; (iv) are fair, equitable, and reasonable; (v) are given and made after due notice and opportunity for hearing; (vi) satisfy the requirements of Bankruptcy Rule 9019; and (vii) are consistent with the Bankruptcy Code and other applicable law, and as set forth below.

71. Debtor Release. Section IX.D of the Plan provides for the Debtor's release of the Debtor's and Estate's claims against the Released Parties. Releases by a debtor are discretionary and can be provided by a debtor to persons who have provided consideration to the Debtor and its estate pursuant to section 1123(b)(3)(A) of the Bankruptcy Code. Contrary to the objections raised by Mr. Dondero and certain of the Dondero Related Entities, the Debtor Release is appropriately limited to release claims held by the Debtor and does not purport to release the claims held by the Claimant Trust, Litigation Sub-Trust, or other third parties. The Plan does not purport to release any claims held by third parties and the Bankruptcy Court finds that the Debtor Release is not a "disguised" release of any third party claims as asserted by certain objecting parties. The limited scope of the Debtor Release in the Plan was extensively negotiated with the Committee, particularly with the respect to the Debtor's conditional release of claims against employees, as identified in the Plan, and the Plan's conditions and terms of such releases. The Plan does not release (i) any obligations of any party under the Plan or any document, instrument, or agreement executed to implement the Plan, (ii) the rights or obligations of any current employee of the Debtor under any employment agreement or plan, (iii) the rights of the Debtor with respect to any confidentiality provisions or covenants restricting competition in favor of the Debtor under any employment agreement with a current or former employee of the Debtor, (iv) any Avoidance Actions, or (v) any Causes of Action arising from willful misconduct, criminal misconduct, actual fraud, or gross negligence of such applicable Released Party as determined by Final Order of the Bankruptcy Court or any other court of competent jurisdiction. The Debtor Release also contains conditions to such releases as set forth in Article X.D of the Plan with respect to employees (the “Release Conditions”). Until the an employee satisfies the Release Conditions or the Release Conditions otherwise terminate, any claims against such employee will be tolled so that if the Release Conditions are not met the Litigation Trustee may pursue claims against an employee at a later date. The evidence before the Bankruptcy Court, including, but not limited to Mr. Seery’s testimony, demonstrates that the Debtor is not aware of any claims against any of the Released Parties, that the Released Parties have been instrumental in assisting the Debtor’s efforts toward confirmation of the Plan and that, therefore, the releases are a quid pro quo for the Released Parties’ significant contributions to a highly complex and contentious restructuring. The Committee, whose members hold approximately $200 million in claims against the Estate, is highly sophisticated and is represented by highly sophisticated professionals, and has actively and vigorously negotiated the terms of the Debtor Release, which was the subject of significant controversy at the Initial Disclosure Statement hearing held by the Bankruptcy Court on October 27, 2020.

72. Exculpation. Section IX.C of the Plan provides for the exculpation of certain Exculpated Parties to the extent provided therein (the “Exculpation Provision”). As explained below, the Exculpation Provision is appropriate under the unique circumstances of this litigious Chapter 11 Case and consistent with applicable Fifth Circuit precedent. First, with respect to the Independent Directors, their agents, and their advisors, including any employees acting at their direction, the Bankruptcy Court finds and concludes that it has already exculpated these parties for acts other than willful misconduct and gross negligence pursuant to the January 9 Order. The January 9 Order was specifically agreed to by Mr. Dondero, who was in control of the Debtor up until entry of the January 9 Order. The January 9 Order was not appealed. In addition to the appointment of the Independent Directors in an already contentious and litigious case, the January 9 Order set the standard of care for the Independent Directors and specifically exculpated them for negligence. Mr. Seery and Mr. Dubel each testified that they had input into the contents of the January 9 Order and would not have agreed to their appointment as Independent Directors if the January 9 Order did not include the protections set forth in paragraph 10 of the January 9 Order. Paragraph 10 of the January 9 Order (1) requires that parties wishing to sue the Independent Directors or their agents and advisors must first seek approval from the Bankruptcy Court before doing so; (2) sets the standard of care for the Independent Directors during the Chapter 11 Case and exculpated the Independent Directors for acts other than willful misconduct or gross negligence; (3) only permits suits against the Independent Directors to proceed for colorable claims of willful misconduct and gross negligence upon order of the Bankruptcy Court; and (4) does not expire by its terms.

73. Existing Exculpation of Independent Directors. The Bankruptcy Court also finds and concludes that it has already exculpated Mr. Seery acting in the capacity as Chief Executive Officer and Chief Restructuring Officer pursuant to the July 16 Order. The Bankruptcy Court concludes its previous approval of the exculpation of the Independent Directors, their agents, advisors and employees working at their direction pursuant to the January 9 Order, and the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Restructuring Officer pursuant to the July 16 Order constitutes the law of this case and are res judicata pursuant to In re Republic Supply Co. v. Shoaf, 815 F.2d 1046 (5th Cir.1987). The January 9 Order and July 16 Order cannot be collaterally attacked based on the objectors' objection to the exculpation of the Independent Directors, their agents, and advisors, including any employees acting at their direction, as well as the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Restructuring Officer, that the Bankruptcy Court already approved pursuant to the January 9 Order and the July 16 Order.

74. The Exculpation Provision Complies with Applicable Law. Separate and apart from the res judicata effect of the January 9 Order and the July 16 Order, the Bankruptcy Court also finds and concludes that the Exculpation Provision is consistent with applicable law, including In re Pacific Lumber Co., 584 F.3d 229 (5th Cir. 2009), for several reasons:

- a. First, the statutory basis for Pacific Lumber's denial of exculpation for certain parties other than a creditors' committee and its members is that section 524(e) of the Bankruptcy Code "only releases the debtor, not co-liable third parties." Pacific Lumber, 253 F.3d. at 253. However, Pacific Lumber does not prohibit all exculpations under the Bankruptcy Code and the court in such case specifically approved the exculpations of a creditors' committee and its members on the grounds that "11 U.S.C. § 1103(c), which lists the creditors' committee's powers, implies committee members have qualified immunity for actions within the scope of their duties.... [I]f members of the committee can be sued by persons unhappy with the committee's performance during the case or unhappy with the outcome of the case, it will be extremely difficult to find members to serve on an official committee." Pacific Lumber, 253 F.3d at 253 (quoting Lawrence P. King, et al, Collier on Bankruptcy, ¶ 1103.05[4][b] (15th Ed. 2008)). Pacific Lumber's rationale for permitted exculpation of creditors' committees and their members (which was clearly policy-based and based on a creditors' committee qualified immunity flowing from their duties under section 1103(c) of the Bankruptcy Code and their disinterestedness and importance in chapter 11 cases) does not preclude exculpation to other parties in a particular chapter 11 case that perform similar roles to a creditors' committee and its members. The Independent Directors, and by extension the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Restructuring Officer, were not part of the Debtor's enterprise prior to their appointment by the Bankruptcy Court under the January 9 Order. The Bankruptcy Court appointed the Independent Directors in lieu of a chapter 11 trustee to address what the Bankruptcy Court perceived as serious conflicts of interest and fiduciary duty concerns with the then-existing management prior to January 9, 2020, as identified by the Committee. In addition, the Bankruptcy Court finds that the Independent Directors expected to be exculpated from claims of negligence, and would likely have been unwilling to serve in contentious cases absent exculpation. The uncontroverted testimony of Mr. Seery and Mr. Dubel demonstrates that the Independent Directors would not have agreed to accept their roles without the exculpation and gatekeeper provision in the January 9 Order. Mr. Dubel also testified as to the increasing important role that independent directors are playing in complex chapter 11 restructurings and that unless independent directors could be assured of exculpation for simple negligence in contentious bankruptcy cases they would be reluctant to accept appointment in chapter 11 cases which would adversely affect the chapter 11 restructuring process. The Bankruptcy Court concludes that the Independent Directors were appointed under the January 9 Order in order to avoid the appointment of a chapter 11 trustee and are analogous to a creditors' committee rather than an incumbent board of directors. The Bankruptcy Court also concludes that if independent directors cannot be assured of exculpation for simple negligence in contentious bankruptcy cases, they may not be willing to serve in that capacity. Based upon the foregoing, the Bankruptcy Court concludes that Pacific Lumber's policy of exculpating creditors' committees and their members from "being sued by persons unhappy with the committee's performance during the case or unhappy with the outcome of the case" is applicable to the Independent Directors in this Chapter 11 Case.<sup>9</sup>

- b. Second, the Bankruptcy Court also concludes that Pacific Lumber does not preclude the exculpation of parties if there is a showing that "costs [that] the released parties might incur defending against such suits alleging such negligence are likely to swamp either the Exculpated Parties or the reorganization." Pacific Lumber, 584 F.3d at 252. If ever there was a risk of that happening in a chapter 11 reorganization, it is this one. Mr. Seery credibly testified that Mr. Dondero stated outside the courtroom that if Mr. Dondero's pot plan does not get approved, that Mr. Dondero will "burn the place down." The Bankruptcy Court can easily expect that the proposed Exculpated Parties might expect to incur costs that could swamp them and the reorganization based on the prior litigious conduct of Mr. Dondero and his controlled entities that justify their inclusion in the Exculpation Provision.

<sup>9</sup> The same reasoning applies to the inclusion of Strand in the Exculpation Provision because Strand is the general partner of the Debtor through which each of the Independent Board members act.

75. Injunction. Section IX.D of the Plan provides for a Plan injunction to implement and enforce the Plan's release, discharge and release provisions (the "Injunction Provision"). The Injunction Provision is necessary to implement the provisions in the Plan. Mr. Seery testified that the Claimant Trustee will monetize the Debtor's assets in order to maximize their value. In order to accomplish this goal, the Claimant Trustee needs to be able to pursue this objective without the interference and harassment of Mr. Dondero and his related entities, including the Dondero Related Entities. Mr. Seery also testified that if the Claimant Trust was subject to interference by Mr. Dondero, it would take additional time to monetize the Debtor's assets and those assets could be monetized for less money to the detriment of the Debtor's creditors. The Bankruptcy Court finds and concludes that the Injunction Provision is consistent with and permissible under Bankruptcy Code sections 1123(a), 1123(a)(6), 1141(a) and (c), and 1142. The Bankruptcy Court rejects assertions by certain objecting parties that the Injunction Provision constitutes a "third-party release." The Injunction Provision is appropriate under the circumstances of this Chapter 11 Case and complies with applicable bankruptcy law. The Bankruptcy Court also concludes that the terms "implementation" and "consummation" are neither vague nor ambiguous

76. Gatekeeper Provision. Section IX.F of the Plan contains a provision contained in paragraph AA of this Confirmation Order and which the Debtor has referred to as a gatekeeper provision (the "Gatekeeper Provision"). The Gatekeeper Provision requires that Enjoined Parties first seek approval of the Bankruptcy Court before they may commence an action against Protected Parties. Thereafter, if the Bankruptcy Court determines that the action is colorable, the Bankruptcy Court may, if it has jurisdiction, adjudicate the action. The Bankruptcy Court finds that the inclusion of the Gatekeeper Provision is critical to the effective and efficient administration, implementation, and consummation of the Plan. The Bankruptcy Court also concludes that the Bankruptcy Court has the statutory authority as set forth below to approve the Gatekeeper Provision.

77. Factual Support for Gatekeeper Provision. The facts supporting the need for the Gatekeeper Provision are as follows. As discussed earlier in this Confirmation Order, prior to the commencement of the Debtor's bankruptcy case, and while under the direction of Mr. Dondero, the Debtor had been involved in a myriad of litigation, some of which had gone on for years and, in some cases, over a decade. Substantially all of the creditors in this case are either parties who were engaged in litigation with the Debtor, parties who represented the Debtor in connection with such litigation and had not been paid, or trade creditors who provided litigation-related services to the Debtor. During the last several months, Mr. Dondero and the Dondero Related Entities have harassed the Debtor, which has resulted in further substantial, costly, and time-consuming litigation for the Debtor. Such litigation includes: (i) entry of a temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction against Mr. Dondero [Adv. Proc. No. 20-03190 Docket No. 10 and 59] because of, among other things, his harassment of Mr. Seery and employees and interference with the Debtor's business operations; (ii) a contempt motion against Mr. Dondero for violation of the temporary restraining order, which motion is still pending before the Bankruptcy Court [Adv. Proc. No. 20-03190 Docket No. 48]; (iii) a motion by Mr. Dondero's controlled investors in certain CLOs managed by the Debtor that the Bankruptcy Court referred to as frivolous and a waste of the Bankruptcy Court's time [Docket No. 1528] which was denied by the Court [Docket No. 1605]; (iv) multiple plan confirmation objections focused on ensuring the Dondero Related Entities be able to continue their litigation against the Debtor and its successors post-confirmation [Docket Nos. 1661, 1667, 1670, 1673, 1676, 1677 and 1868]; (v) objections to the approval of the Debtor's settlements with Acis and HarbourVest and subsequent appeals of the Bankruptcy Court's order approving each of those settlements [Docket Nos. 1347 and 1870]; and (vi) a complaint and injunction sought against Mr. Dondero's affiliated entities to prevent them from violating the January 9 Order and entry of a restraining order against those entities [Adv Proc. No. 21-03000 Docket No 1] (collectively, the "Dondero Post-Petition Litigation").

78. Findings Regarding Dondero Post-Petition Litigation. The Bankruptcy Court finds that the Dondero Post-Petition Litigation was a result of Mr. Dondero failing to obtain creditor support for his plan proposal and consistent with his comments, as set forth in Mr. Seery's credible testimony, that if Mr. Dondero's plan proposal was not accepted, he would "burn down the place." The Bankruptcy Court concludes that without appropriate protections in place, in the form of the Gatekeeper Provision, Mr. Dondero and his related entities will likely commence litigation against the Protected Parties after the Effective Date and do so in jurisdictions other than the Bankruptcy Court in an effort to obtain a forum which Mr. Dondero perceives will be more hospitable to his claims. The Bankruptcy Court also finds, based upon Mr. Seery's testimony, that the threat of continued litigation by Mr. Dondero and his related entities after the Effective Date will impede efforts by the Claimant Trust to monetize assets for the benefit of creditors and result in lower distributions to creditors because of costs and distraction such litigation or the threats of such litigation would cause.

79. Necessity of Gatekeeper Provision. The Bankruptcy Court further finds that unless the Bankruptcy Court approves the Gatekeeper Provision, the Claimant Trustee and the Claimant Trust Oversight Board will not be able to obtain D&O insurance, the absence of which will present unacceptable risks to parties currently willing to serve in such roles. The Bankruptcy Court heard testimony from Mark Tauber, a Vice President with AON Financial Services, the Debtor's insurance broker ("AON"), regarding his efforts to obtain D&O insurance. Mr. Tauber credibly testified that of all the insurance carriers that AON approached to provide D&O insurance coverage after the Effective Date, the only one willing to do so without an exclusion for claims asserted by Mr. Dondero and his affiliates otherwise requires that this Order approve the Gatekeeper Provision. Based on the foregoing, the Bankruptcy Court finds that the Gatekeeper Provision is necessary and appropriate in light of the history of the continued litigiousness of Mr. Dondero and his related entities in this Chapter 11 Case and necessary to the effective and efficient administration, implementation and consummation of the Plan and is appropriate pursuant to Carroll v. Abide (In re Carroll) 850 F.3d 811 (5th Cir. 2017). Approval of the Gatekeeper Provision will prevent baseless litigation designed merely to harass the post-confirmation entities charged with monetizing the Debtor's assets for the benefit of its economic constituents, will avoid abuse of the court system and preempt the use of judicial time that properly could be used to consider the meritorious claims of other litigants. Any suit against a Protected Party would effectively be a suit against the Debtor, and the Debtor may be required to indemnify the Protected Parties under the Limited Partnership Agreement, which will remain in effect through the Effective Date, or those certain Indemnification and Guaranty Agreements, dated January 9, 2020, between Strand, the Debtor, and each Independent Director, following the Confirmation Date as each such agreement will be assumed pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 365 pursuant to the Plan.

80. Statutory Authority to Approve Gatekeeper Provision. The Bankruptcy Court finds it has the statutory authority to approve the Gatekeeper Provision under sections 1123(a)(5), 1123(b)(6), 1141, 1142(b), and 105(a). The Gatekeeper Provision is also within the spirit of the Supreme Court’s “Barton Doctrine.” Barton v. Barbour, 104 U.S. 126 (1881). The Gatekeeper Provision is also consistent with the notion of a prefiling injunction to deter vexatious litigants, that has been approved by the Fifth Circuit in such cases as Baum v. Blue Moon Ventures, LLC, 513 F.3d 181, 189 (5th Cir. 2008), and In re Carroll, 850 F.3d 811 (5th Cir. 2017).

81. Jurisdiction to Implement Gatekeeper Provision. The Bankruptcy Court finds that it will have jurisdiction after the Effective Date to implement the Gatekeeper Provision as post-confirmation bankruptcy court jurisdiction has been interpreted by the Fifth Circuit under United States Brass Corp. v. Travelers Ins. Group, Inc. (In re United States Brass Corp.), 301 F.3d 296 (5th Cir. 2002) and EOP-Colonnade of Dallas Ltd. P’Ship v. Faulkner (In re Stonebridge Techs., Inc.), 430 F.3d 260 (5th Cir. 2005). Based upon the rationale of the Fifth Circuit in Villegas v. Schmidt, 788 F.3d 156, 158-59 (5th Cir. 2015), the Bankruptcy Court’s jurisdiction to act as a gatekeeper does not violate Stern v. Marshall. The Bankruptcy Court’s determination of whether a claim is colorable, which the Bankruptcy Court has jurisdiction to determine, is distinct from whether the Bankruptcy Court would have jurisdiction to adjudicate any claim it finds colorable.

82. Resolution of Objections of Scott Ellington and Isaac Leventon. Each of Scott Ellington (“Mr. Ellington”) and Isaac Leventon (“Mr. Leventon”) (each, a “Senior Employee Claimant”) has asserted certain claims for liquidated but unpaid bonus amounts for the following periods: 2016, 2017, and 2018, as set forth in Exhibit A to that certain Senior Employees’ Limited Objection to Debtor’s Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization [Docket No. 1669] (the “Senior Employees’ Objection”) (for each of Mr. Ellington and Mr. Leventon, the “Liquidated Bonus Claims”).

- a. Mr. Ellington has asserted Liquidated Bonus Claims in the aggregate amount of $1,367,197.00, and Mr. Leventon has asserted Liquidated Bonus Claims in the aggregate amount of $598,198.00. Mr. Ellington received two Ballots<sup>10</sup> – a Ballot for Class 7 of the Plan and a Ballot for Class 8 of the Plan. Mr. Ellington completed and timely returned both of such Ballots, voted to reject the Plan, and elected to have his Class 8 Liquidated Bonus Claims treated under Class 7 of the Plan, subject to the objections and reservations of rights set forth in the Senior Employees’ Objection. If Mr. Ellington is permitted to elect Class 7 treatment for his Liquidated Bonus Claims, then the maximum amount of his Liquidated Bonus Claims will be $1,000,000.
- b. Mr. Leventon received two Ballots—a Ballot for Class 7 of the Plan and a Ballot for Class 8 of the Plan. Mr. Leventon completed and timely returned both of such Ballots and voted each such Ballots to rejected the Plan.
- c. The Senior Employees’ Objection, among other things, objects to the Plan on the grounds that the Debtor improperly disputes the right of Mr. Ellington to elect Class 7 treatment for his Liquidated Bonus Claims and Mr. Leventon’s entitlement to receive Class 7 Convenience Class treatment for his Liquidated Bonus Claims. The Debtor contended that neither Mr. Ellington or Mr. Leventon were entitled to elect to receive Class 7 Convenience Class treatment on account of their Liquidated

<sup>10</sup> As defined in the Plan, “Ballot” means the forms(s) distributed to holders of Impaired Claims or Equity Interests entitled to vote on the Plan on which to indicate their acceptance or rejection of the Plan.

Bonus Claims under the terms of the Plan, the Disclosure Statement Order or applicable law.

- d. The Debtor and Mr. Ellington and Mr. Leventon negotiated at arms' length in an effort to resolve all issues raised in the Senior Employee's Objection, including whether or not Mr. Ellington and Mr. Leventon were entitled to Class 7 Convenience Class treatment of their Liquidated Bonus Claims. As a result of such negotiation, the Debtor, Mr. Ellington, and Mr. Leventon have agreed to the settlement described in paragraphs 82(e) through 82(k) below and approved and effectuated pursuant to decretal paragraphs RR through SS (the "Senior Employees' Settlement").
- e. Under the terms of the Senior Employees' Settlement, the Debtor has the right to elect one of two treatments of the Liquidated Bonus Claims for a Senior Employee Claimant. Under the first treatment option ("Option A"), the Liquidated Bonus Claims will be entitled to be treated in Class 7 of the Plan, and the Liquidated Bonus Claims will be entitled to receive payment in an amount equal to 70.125% of the Class 7 amount of the Liquidated Bonus Claims, subject to the Liquidated Bonus Claims becoming Allowed Claims under the terms of the Plan. Under this calculation, Mr. Ellington would be entitled to receive $701,250.00 on account of his Class 7 Convenience Class Claim when and as Allowed under the Plan, and Mr. Leventon would be entitled to receive $413,175.10 on account of his Class 7 Convenience Class Claim when and as Allowed under the Plan. If, however, any party in interest objects to the allowance of the Senior Employee Claimant's Liquidated Bonus Claims and does not prevail in such objection, then such Senior Employee Claimant will be entitled to a payment in an amount equal to 85% of his Allowed Liquidated Bonus Claims (subject, in the case of Mr. Ellington, to the cap imposed on Class 7 Claims). In addition, under Option A, each of Mr. Ellington and Mr. Leventon would retain their respective rights to assert that the Liquidated Bonus Claims are entitled to be treated as Administrative Expense Claims, as defined in Article I.B.2. of the Plan, in which case the holder of such Liquidated Bonus Claims would be entitled to payment in full of the Allowed Liquidated Bonus Claims. Under Option A, parties in interest would retain the right to object to any motion seeking payment of the Liquidated Bonus Amounts as Administrative Expenses.
- f. Under the second treatment option ("Option B"), the Debtor would agree that the Senior Employee Claimant has Allowed Liquidated Bonus Claims, no longer subject to objection by any party in interest, in the amounts of the Liquidated Bonus Claims (subject, in the case of Mr. Ellington, to the cap imposed by Class 7). If the Debtor elects Option B as to a Senior Employee Claimant, then such Senior Employee Claimant would be entitled to a payment on account of his Allowed Liquidated Bonus Claims in an amount equal to 60% of the amount of the Liquidated Bonus Claims (which, in Mr. Ellington's case, would be $600,000 and in Mr. Leventon's case, would be $358,918.80), and such payment would be the sole recovery on account of such Allowed Liquidated Bonus Claims.

- g. The Debtor may, with the consent of the Committee, elect Option B with respect to a Senior Employee Claimant at any time prior to the occurrence of the Effective Date. If the Debtor does not make an election, then Option A will apply.
- h. Under either Option A or Option B, Mr. Ellington and Mr. Leventon will retain all their rights with respect to all Claims other than the Liquidated Bonus Amounts, including, but not limited to, their Class 6 PTO Claims, other claims asserted as Class 8 General Unsecured Claims, the Senior Employees' claims for indemnification against the Debtor, and any other claims that they may assert constitute Administrative Expense Claims, and any other such Claims are subject to the rights of any party in interest to object to such Claims, and the Debtor reserves any all of its rights and defenses in connection therewith.
- i. Subject to entry of this Confirmation Order and as set forth and announced on the record at the hearing on confirmation of the Plan and no party objecting thereto, Mr. Ellington and Mr. Leventon agreed to change the votes in their respective Ballots from rejection to acceptance of the Plan and to withdraw the Senior Employees' Objection.
- j. The Senior Employees' Settlement represents a valid exercise of the Debtor's business judgment and satisfies the requirements for a compromise under Bankruptcy Rule 9019(a).
- k. For the avoidance of doubt, neither Mr. Leventon nor Mr. Ellington shall be a Released Party under the Plan regardless of how the Senior Employee Claimants' Claims are to be treated hereunder.

Based upon the foregoing findings, and upon the record made before the Bankruptcy Court at the Confirmation Hearing, and good and sufficient cause appearing therefor, it is hereby

ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED THAT:

A. Confirmation of the Plan. The Plan is approved in its entirety and CONFIRMED under section 1129 of the Bankruptcy Code. The terms of the Plan, including the Plan Supplements and Plan Modifications, are incorporated by reference into and are an integral part of this Confirmation Order.<sup>11</sup>

B. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law. The findings of fact and the conclusions of law set forth in this Confirmation Order and on the record of the Confirmation Hearing constitute findings of fact and conclusions of law in accordance with Bankruptcy Rule 7052, made applicable to this proceeding by Bankruptcy Rule 9014. All findings of fact and conclusion of law announced by the Bankruptcy Court at the Confirmation Hearing in relation to confirmation of the Plan are hereby incorporated into this Confirmation Order. To the extent that any of the following constitutes findings of fact or conclusions of law, they are adopted as such. To the extent any findings of fact or conclusions of law set forth in this Confirmation Order (including any findings of fact or conclusions of law announced by the Bankruptcy Court at the Confirmation Hearing and incorporated herein) constitutes an order of the Bankruptcy Court, and is adopted as such.

C. Objections. Any resolution or disposition of objections to confirmation of the Plan or otherwise ruled upon by the Bankruptcy Court on the record of the Confirmation Hearing is hereby incorporated by reference. All objections and all reservations of rights pertaining to confirmation of the Plan that have not been withdrawn, waived or settled are overruled on the merits, except as otherwise specifically provided in this Confirmation Order.

D. Plan Supplements and Plan Modifications. The filing with the Bankruptcy Court of the Plan Supplements and the Plan Modifications constitutes due and sufficient notice thereof. Accordingly, pursuant to section 1127(a) of the Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rule 3019, the Plan Modifications and the Plan Supplements do not require additional disclosure under section 1125 of the Bankruptcy Code or resolicitation of votes under section 1126 of the Bankruptcy Code, nor do they require that Holders of Claims or Equity Interests be afforded an opportunity to change previously cast acceptances or rejections of the Plan. The Plan Modifications and the Plan Supplements constitute the Plan pursuant to section 1127(a) of the Bankruptcy Code. Accordingly, the Plan, as modified, is properly before the Bankruptcy Court and all votes cast with respect to the Plan prior to such modification shall be binding and shall apply with respect to the Plan.

E. Deemed Acceptance of Plan. In accordance with section 1127 of the Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rule 3019, all Holders of Claims and Equity Interests who voted to accept the Plan (or whom are conclusively presumed to accept the Plan) are deemed to have accepted the Plan as modified by the Plan Modifications. No holder of a Claim shall be permitted to change its vote as a consequence of the Plan Modifications.

F. Vesting of Assets in the Reorganized Debtor. Except as otherwise provided in the Plan or this Confirmation Order, on or after the Effective Date, all Reorganized Debtor Assets will vest in the Reorganized Debtor, free and clear of all Liens, Claims, charges or other encumbrances pursuant to section 1141(c) of the Bankruptcy Code, except with respect to such Liens, Claims, charges, and other encumbrances that are specifically preserved under the Plan upon the Effective Date. The Reorganized Debtor shall be the exclusive trustee of the Reorganized Debtor Assets for purposes of 31 U.S.C. § 3713(b) and 26 U.S.C. § 6012(b)(3), as well as the representative of the Estate appointed pursuant to section 1123(b)(3)(B) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to the Reorganized Debtor Assets.

G. Effectiveness of All Actions. All actions contemplated by the Plan, including all actions in connection with the Claimant Trust Agreement, the Senior Employee Stipulation, the New GP LLC Documents, the New Frontier Note, the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement, and the other Plan Documents, are authorized to be taken on, prior to, or after the Effective Date, as applicable, under this Confirmation Order, without further application to or order of the Bankruptcy Court, or further action by the directors, managers, officers or partners of the Debtor or the Reorganized Debtor and with the effect that such actions had been taken by unanimous action of such parties.

H. Restructuring Transactions. The Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, are authorized to enter into and effectuate the Restructuring provided under the Plan, including, without limitation, the entry into and consummation of the transactions contemplated by the Claimant Trust Agreement, the Senior Employee Stipulation, the New GP LLC Documents, the New Frontier Note, the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement, and the other Plan Documents, and may take any actions as may be necessary or appropriate to effect a corporate restructuring of its business or a corporate restructuring of the overall corporate structure of the Reorganized Debtor, as and to the extent provided in the Plan. Any transfers of assets or equity interests effected or any obligations incurred through the Restructuring pursuant to the Plan are hereby approved and shall not constitute fraudulent conveyances or fraudulent transfers or otherwise be subject to avoidance.

I. Preservation of Causes of Action. Unless a Cause of Action against a Holder of a Claim or an Equity Interest or other Entity is expressly waived, relinquished, released, compromised or settled in the Plan or any Final Order (including, without limitation, this Confirmation Order), such Cause of Action is expressly reserved for later adjudication by the Reorganized Debtor, the Litigation Sub-Trust, or the Claimant Trust, as applicable (including, without limitation, Causes of Action not specifically identified or of which the Debtor may presently be unaware or that may arise or exist by reason of additional facts or circumstances unknown to the Debtor at this time or facts or circumstances that may change or be different from those the Debtor now believes to exist) and, therefore, no preclusion doctrine, including, without limitation, the doctrines of res judicata, collateral estoppel, issue preclusion, claim preclusion, waiver, estoppel (judicial, equitable or otherwise) or laches will apply to such Causes of Action as a consequence of the confirmation, effectiveness, or consummation of the Plan based on the Disclosure Statement, the Plan, or this Confirmation Order, except where such Causes of Action have been expressly released in the Plan or any other Final Order (including, without limitation, this Confirmation Order). In addition, the right of the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trust, or the Litigation Sub-Trust to pursue or adopt any claims alleged in any lawsuit in which the Debtor is a plaintiff, defendant or an interested party, against any Entity, including, without limitation, the plaintiffs or co-defendants in such lawsuits, is expressly reserved.

J. Independent Board of Directors of Strand. The terms of the current Independent Directors shall expire on the Effective Date without the need for any further or other action by any of the Independent Directors. For avoidance of doubt, the Assumed Contracts include the Indemnification and Guaranty Agreement between Highland Capital Management, Strand Advisors, Inc. and James Seery; the Indemnification and Guaranty Agreement between Highland Capital Management, Strand Advisors, Inc. and John Dubel and Indemnification and Guaranty Agreement between Highland Capital Management, Strand Advisors, Inc. and Russell Nelms and shall each remain in full force and effect notwithstanding the expiration of the terms of any Independent Directors.

K. Cancellation of Equity Interests and Issuance of New Partnership Interests. On the Effective Date, all Class A Limited Partnership Interests, including the Class A Limited Partnership Interests held by Strand, as general partner, and Class B/C Limited Partnerships in the Debtor will be deemed cancelled, and all obligations or debts owed by, or Claims against, the Debtor on account of, or based upon, such Class A Limited Partnership Interests and Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests shall be deemed as cancelled, released, and discharged, including all obligations or duties by the Debtor relating to the Equity Interests in any of the Debtor's formation documents, including the Limited Partnership Agreement. As of the Effective Date and pursuant to the Plan, new Class A Limited Partnership Interests in the Reorganized Debtor will be issued to the Claimant Trust and New GP LLC. The Claimant Trust, as limited partner, will ratify New GP LLC's appointment as general partner of the Reorganized Debtor, and on and following the Effective Date, the Claimant Trust will be the Reorganized Debtor's limited partner and New GP LLC will be its general partner. The Claimant Trust, as limited partner, and New GP LLC, as general partner, will execute the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, which will amend and restate, in all respects, the Debtor's current Limited Partnership Agreement. Following the Effective Date, the Reorganized Debtor will be managed consistent with the terms of the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement by New GP LLC. The sole managing member of New GP LLC will be the Claimant Trust, and the Claimant Trustee will be the sole officer of New GP LLC on the Effective Date.

L. Transfer of Assets to Claimant Trust. On or prior to the Effective Date, the Debtor shall irrevocably transfer and shall be deemed to have irrevocably transferred to the Claimant Trust all of its rights, title, and interest in and to all of the Claimant Trust Assets, and in accordance with section 1141 of the Bankruptcy Code, the Claimant Trust Assets shall automatically vest in the Claimant Trust free and clear of all Claims, Liens, encumbrances, or interests subject only to the Claimant Trust Interests and the Claimant Trust Expenses, as provided for in the Claimant Trust Agreement, and such transfer shall be exempt from any stamp, real estate transfer, mortgage from any stamp, transfer, reporting, sales, use, or other similar tax. Following the Effective Date, the Claimant Trust will administer the Claimant Trust Assets pursuant to the Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement.

M. Transfer of Estate Claims to Litigation Sub-Trust. On or prior to the Effective Date, the Claimant Trust shall irrevocably transfer and shall be deemed to have irrevocably transferred to the Litigation Sub-Trust all of the Claimant Trust's rights, title, and interest in and to all of the Estate Claims as successor in interest to the Debtor, and in accordance with section 1141 of the Bankruptcy Code, the Estate Claims shall automatically vest in the Litigation Sub-Trust free and clear of all Claims, Liens, encumbrances, or interests subject only to the Litigation Sub-Trust Interests and Litigation Sub-Trust Expenses. The Litigation Trustee will be authorized to investigate, pursue, and otherwise resolve the Estate Claims pursuant to the terms of the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement and the Plan, including as successor in interest to the Debtor or Committee, as applicable, in any litigation commenced prior to the Effective Date in which Estate Claims are asserted.

N. Compromise of Controversies. In consideration for the distributions and other benefits, including releases, provided under the Plan, the provisions of the Plan constitute a good faith compromise and settlement of all Claims, Equity Interests, and controversies resolved under the Plan and the entry of this Confirmation Order constitutes approval of such compromise and settlement under Bankruptcy Rule 9019.

O. Objections to Claims. The Claims Objection Deadline shall be the date that is 180 days after the Effective Date, provided, however, that the Claims Objection Deadline may be extended by the Bankruptcy Court upon a motion by the Claimant Trustee and as otherwise provided under the Plan.

P. Assumption of Contracts and Leases. Effective as of the date of this Confirmation Order, each of the Assumed Contracts shall be assumed by the Debtor without the need for any further notice to or action, order, or approval of the Bankruptcy Court, under section 365 of the Bankruptcy Code and the payment of Cures, if any, shall be paid in accordance with the Plan. Each Assumed Contract shall include all modifications, amendments, supplements, restatements, or other agreements related thereto, and all rights related thereto, if any, including all easements, licenses, permits, rights, privileges, immunities, options, rights of first refusal, and any other interests. Modifications, amendments, supplements, and restatements to any of the Assumed Contracts that have been executed by the Debtor during the Chapter 11 Case shall not be deemed to alter the prepetition nature of such Assumed Contracts or the validity, priority, or amount of any Claims that may arise in connection therewith. Assumption of the Assumed Contracts pursuant to Article V.A of the Plan and full payment of any applicable Cure pursuant to the Plan shall result in the full release and satisfaction of any Cures, Claims, or defaults, whether monetary or nonmonetary, including defaults of provisions restricting the change in control or ownership interest composition, or other bankruptcy-related defaults, arising under any Assumed Contracts.

Q. Rejection of Contracts and Leases. Unless previously assumed during the pendency of the Chapter 11 Case or pursuant to the Plan, all other Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases are rejected as of the date of the entry of this Confirmation Order and pursuant to the terms of the Plan. To the extent that any party asserts any damages resulting from the rejection of any Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease, such claim must be filed within thirty (30) days following entry of this Confirmation Order, or such claim will be forever barred and disallowed against the Reorganized Debtor.

R. Assumption of Issuer Executory Contracts. On the Confirmation Date, the Debtor will assume the agreements set forth on Exhibit B hereto (collectively, the “Issuer Executory Contracts”) pursuant to section 365 of the Bankruptcy Code and Article V of the Plan. In full and complete satisfaction of its obligation to cure outstanding defaults under section 365(b)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code, the Debtor or, as applicable, any successor manager under the Issuer Executory Contracts (collectively, the “Portfolio Manager”) will pay to the Issuers<sup>12</sup> a cumulative amount of $525,000 (the “Cure Amount”) as follows:

- a. $200,000 in cash on the date that is five business days from the Effective Date, with such payment paid directly to Schulte Roth & Zabel LLP (“SRZ”) in the amount of $85,714.29, Jones Walker LLP (“JW”) in the amount of $72,380.95, and Maples Group (“Maples”) and collectively with SRZ and JW, the “Issuers’ Counsel”) in the amount of $41,904.76 as reimbursement for the attorney’s fees and other legal expenses incurred by the Issuers in connection with the Debtor’s bankruptcy case; and
- b. $325,000 in four equal quarterly payments of $81,250.00 (each, a “Payment”), which amounts shall be paid to SRZ in the amount of $34,821.43, JW in the amount of $29,404.76, and Maples in the amount of $17,023.81 as additional reimbursement for the attorney’s fees and other legal expenses incurred by the Issuers in connection with the Debtor’s bankruptcy case (i) from any management fees actually paid to the Portfolio Manager under the Issuer Executory Contracts (the “Management Fees”), and (ii) on the date(s) Management Fees are required to be paid under the Issuer Executory Contracts (the “Payment Dates”), and such obligation shall be considered an irrevocable direction from the Debtor and the Bankruptcy Court to the relevant CLO Trustee to pay, on each Payment Date, the Payment to Issuers’ Counsel, allocated in the proportion set forth in such agreement; provided, however, that (x) if the Management Fees are insufficient to make any Payment in full on a Payment Date, such shortfall, in addition to any other amounts due hereunder, shall be paid out of the Management Fees owed on the following Payment Date, and (y) nothing herein shall limit either Debtor’s liability to pay the amounts set forth herein, nor the recourse of the Issuers or Issuers’ Counsel to the Debtor, in the event of any failure to make any Payment.

S. Release of Issuer Claims. Effective as of the Confirmation Date, and to the maximum extent permitted by law, each Issuer on behalf of itself and each of its current and former advisors, trustees, directors, officers, managers, members, partners, employees, beneficiaries, shareholders, agents, participants, subsidiaries, parents, successors, designees, and assigns hereby forever, finally, fully, unconditionally, and completely releases, relieves, acquits, remises, and exonerates, and covenants never to sue, (i) the Debtor and (ii) the Professionals retained by the Debtor and the Committee in the Chapter 11 Case, the Independent Directors, the CEO/CRO, and with respect to the Persons listed in this subsection (ii), such Person's Related Persons (collectively, the "Debtor Released Parties"), for and from any and all claims, debts, liabilities, demands, obligations, promises, acts, agreements, liens, losses, costs and expenses (including, without limitation, attorney's fees and related costs), damages, injuries, suits, actions, and causes of action of whatever kind or nature, whether known or unknown, suspected or unsuspected, matured or unmatured, liquidated or unliquidated, contingent or fixed, at law or in equity, statutory or otherwise, including, without limitation, any claims, defenses, and affirmative defenses, whether known or unknown, including, without limitation, those which were or could have been asserted in, in connection with, or with respect to the Bankruptcy Case (collectively, the "Issuer Released Claims").

T. Release of Debtor Claims against Issuer Released Parties. Upon entry of this Order, and to the maximum extent permitted by law, the Debtor hereby forever, finally, fully, unconditionally, and completely releases, relieves, acquits, remises, and exonerates, and covenants never to sue [(i) each Issuer and (ii) Wendy Ebanks, (iii) Yun Zheng, (iv) Laura Chisholm, (v) Mora Goddard, (vi) Stacy Bodden, (vii) Suzan Merren (viii) Scott Dakers, (ix) Samit Ghosh, (x) Inderjit Singh, (xi) Ellen Christian, (xii) Andrew Dean, (xiii) Betsy Mortel, (xiv) David Hogan, (xv) Cleveland Stewart, (xvi) Rachael Rankin, (xvii) Otelia Scott, (xviii) Martin Couch, (xx) Feron Bartley-Davis, (xxi) Charlotte Cloete, (xxii) Christina McLean, (xxiii) Karen Ellerbe, (xxiv) Gennie Kay Bigord, (xxv) Evert Brunekreef, (xxvii) Evan Charles Burton (collectively, the “Issuer Released Parties”),] for and from any and all claims, debts, liabilities, demands, obligations, promises, acts, agreements, liens, losses, costs and expenses (including, without limitation, attorney’s fees and related costs), damages, injuries, suits, actions, and causes of action of whatever kind or nature, whether known or unknown, suspected or unsuspected, matured or unmatured, liquidated or unliquidated, contingent or fixed, at law or in equity, statutory or otherwise, including, without limitation, any claims, defenses, and affirmative defenses, whether known or unknown, which were or could have been asserted in, in connection with, or with respect to the Bankruptcy Case (collectively, the “Debtor Released Claims”); provided, however, that notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the release contained herein will apply to the Issuer Released Parties set forth in subsection (ii) above only with respect to Debtor Released Claims arising from or relating to the Issuer Executory Contracts. Notwithstanding anything in this Order to the contrary, the releases set forth in paragraphs S and T hereof will not apply with respect to the duties, rights, or obligations of the Debtor or any Issuer hereunder.

U. Authorization to Consummate. The Debtor is authorized to consummate the Plan after the entry of this Confirmation Order subject to satisfaction or waiver of the conditions precedent to the Effective Date of the Plan set forth in Article VIII.A of the Plan. The Plan shall not become effective unless and until the conditions set forth in Article VIII.A of the Plan have been satisfied, or otherwise waived pursuant to Article VIII.B of the Plan.

V. Professional Compensation. All requests for payment of Professional Fee Claims for services rendered and reimbursement of expenses incurred prior to the Effective Date must be filed no later than sixty (60) days after the Effective Date. The Bankruptcy Court shall determine the Allowed amounts of such Professional Fee Claims after notice and an opportunity for hearing in accordance with the procedures established by the Bankruptcy Code and the Bankruptcy Court. The Debtor shall fund the Professional Fee Reserve as provided under the Plan. The Reorganized Debtor shall pay Professional Fee Claims in Cash in the amounts the Bankruptcy Court allows. The Debtor is authorized to pay the pre-Effective Date fees and expenses of all ordinary course professionals in the ordinary course of business without the need for further Bankruptcy Court order or approval. From and after the Effective Date, any requirement that Professionals comply with sections 327 through 331 and 1103 (if applicable) of the Bankruptcy Code in seeking retention or compensation for services rendered after such date shall terminate, and the Reorganized Debtor or Claimant Trustee, as applicable, may employ and pay any Professional or Entity employed in the ordinary course of the Debtor's business without any further notice to or action, order, or approval of the Bankruptcy Court.

W. Release, Exculpation, Discharge, and Injunction Provisions. The following release, exculpation, discharge, and injunction provisions set forth in the Plan are approved and authorized in their entirety, and such provisions are effective and binding on all parties and Entities to the extent provided therein.

X. Discharge of Claims and Termination of Interests. To the fullest extent provided under section 1141(d)(1)(A) and other applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code, except as otherwise expressly provided by the Plan or this Confirmation Order, all consideration distributed under the Plan will be in exchange for, and in complete satisfaction, settlement, discharge, and release of, all Claims and Equity Interests of any kind or nature whatsoever against the Debtor or any of its Assets or properties, and regardless of whether any property will have been distributed or retained pursuant to the Plan on account of such Claims or Equity Interests. Except as otherwise expressly provided by the Plan or this Confirmation Order, upon the Effective Date, the Debtor and its Estate will be deemed discharged and released under and to the fullest extent provided under section 1141(d)(1)(A) and other applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code from any and all Claims and Equity Interests of any kind or nature whatsoever, including, but not limited to, demands and liabilities that arose before the Confirmation Date, and all debts of the kind specified in section 502(g), 502(h), or 502(i) of the Bankruptcy Code.

Y. Exculpation. Subject in all respects to Article XII.D of the Plan, to the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, no Exculpated Party will have or incur, and each Exculpated Party is hereby exculpated from, any claim, obligation, suit, judgment, damage, demand, debt, right, Cause of Action, remedy, loss, and liability for conduct occurring on or after the Petition Date in connection with or arising out of (i) the filing and administration of the Chapter 11 Case; (ii) the negotiation and pursuit of the Disclosure Statement, the Plan, or the solicitation of votes for, or confirmation of, the Plan; (iii) the funding or consummation of the Plan (including the Plan Supplement) or any related agreements, instruments, or other documents, the solicitation of votes on the Plan, the offer, issuance, and Plan Distribution of any securities issued or to be issued pursuant to the Plan, including the Claimant Trust Interests, whether or not such Plan Distributions occur following the Effective Date; (iv) the implementation of the Plan; and (v) any negotiations, transactions, and documentation in connection with the foregoing clauses (i)-(v);

provided, however, the foregoing will not apply to (a) any acts or omissions of an Exculpated Party arising out of or related to acts or omissions that constitute bad faith, fraud, gross negligence, criminal misconduct, or willful misconduct or (b) Strand or any Employee other than with respect to actions taken by such Entities from the date of appointment of the Independent Directors through the Effective Date. The Plan's exculpation shall be in addition to, and not in limitation of, all other releases, indemnities, exculpations, any other applicable law or rules, or any other provisions of the Plan, including Article IV.C.2 of the Plan, protecting such Exculpated Parties from liability.

Z. Releases by the Debtor. On and after the Effective Date, each Released Party is deemed to be, hereby conclusively, absolutely, unconditionally, irrevocably, and forever released and discharged by the Debtor and the Estate, in each case on behalf of themselves and their respective successors, assigns, and representatives, including, but not limited to, the Claimant Trust and the Litigation Sub-Trust from any and all Causes of Action, including any derivative claims, asserted on behalf of the Debtor, whether known or unknown, foreseen or unforeseen, matured or unmatured, existing or hereafter arising, in law, equity, contract, tort or otherwise, that the Debtor or the Estate would have been legally entitled to assert in their own right (whether individually or collectively) or on behalf of the holder of any Claim against, or Interest in, a Debtor or other Person. Notwithstanding anything contained herein to the contrary, the foregoing release does not release: (i) any obligations of any party under the Plan or any document, instrument, or agreement executed to implement the Plan, (ii) the rights or obligations of any current employee of the Debtor under any employment agreement or plan, (iii) the rights of the Debtor with respect to any confidentiality provisions or covenants restricting competition in favor of the Debtor under any employment agreement with a current or former employee of the Debtor, (iv) any Avoidance Actions, or (v) any Causes of Action arising from willful misconduct, criminal misconduct, actual fraud, or gross negligence of such applicable Released Party as determined by Final Order of the Bankruptcy Court or any other court of competent jurisdiction.

AA. Injunction. Upon entry of this Confirmation Order, all Enjoined Parties are and shall be permanently enjoined, on and after the Effective Date, from taking any actions to interfere with the implementation or consummation of the Plan. Except as expressly provided in the Plan, this Confirmation Order, or a separate order of the Bankruptcy Court, all Enjoined Parties are and shall be permanently enjoined, on and after the Effective Date, with respect to any Claims and Equity Interests, from directly or indirectly (i) commencing, conducting, or continuing in any manner, any suit, action, or other proceeding of any kind (including any proceeding in a judicial, arbitral, administrative or other forum) against or affecting the Debtor or the property of the Debtor, (ii) enforcing, levying, attaching (including any prejudgment attachment), collecting, or otherwise recovering, enforcing, or attempting to recover or enforce, by any manner or means, any judgment, award, decree, or order against the Debtor or the property of the Debtor, (iii) creating, perfecting, or otherwise enforcing in any manner, any security interest, lien or encumbrance of any kind against the Debtor or the property of the Debtor, (iv) asserting any right of setoff, directly or indirectly, against any obligation due to the Debtor or against property or interests in property of the Debtor, except to the limited extent permitted under Sections 553 and 1141 of the Bankruptcy Code, and (v) acting or proceeding in any manner, in any place whatsoever, that does not conform to or comply with the provisions of the Plan. The injunctions set forth in the Plan and this Confirmation Order shall extend to, and apply to any act of the type set forth in any of clauses (i)-(v) of the immediately preceding paragraph against any successors of the Debtor, including, but not limited to, the Reorganized Debtor, the Litigation Sub-Trust, and the Claimant Trust and their respective property and interests in property. Subject in all respects to Article XI.D of the Plan, no Enjoined Party may commence or pursue a claim or cause of action of any kind against any Protected Party that arose or arises from or is related to the Chapter 11 Case, the negotiation of the Plan, the administration of the Plan or property to be distributed under the Plan, the wind down of the business of the Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, the administration of the Claimant Trust or the Litigation Sub-Trust, or the transactions in furtherance of the foregoing without the Bankruptcy Court (i) first determining, after notice and a hearing, that such claim or cause of action represents a colorable claim of any kind, including, but not limited to, negligence, bad faith, criminal misconduct, willful misconduct, fraud, or gross negligence against a Protected Party and (ii) specifically authorizing such Enjoined Party to bring such claim or cause of action against any such Protected Party; provided, however, the foregoing will not apply to a claim or cause of action against Strand or against any Employee other than with respect to actions taken, respectively, by Strand or by such Employee from the date of appointment of the Independent Directors through the Effective Date. The Bankruptcy Court will have sole and exclusive jurisdiction to determine whether a claim or cause of action is colorable and, only to the extent legally permissible and as provided for in Article XI of the Plan, shall have jurisdiction to adjudicate the underlying colorable claim or cause of action.

BB. Duration of Injunction and Stays. Unless otherwise provided in the Plan, in this Confirmation Order, or in a Final Order of the Bankruptcy Court, (i) all injunctions and stays entered during the Chapter 11 Case and in existence on the Confirmation Date, shall remain in full force and effect in accordance with their terms; and (ii) the automatic stay arising under section 362 of the Bankruptcy Code shall remain in full force and effect subject to Section 362(c) of the Bankruptcy Code, and to the extent necessary if the Debtor does not receive a discharge, the Bankruptcy Court will enter an equivalent order under Section 105.

CC. Continuance of January 9 Order and July 16 Order. Unless otherwise provided in the Plan, in this Confirmation Order, or in a Final Order of the Bankruptcy Court, each of the Order Approving Settlement with Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors Regarding Governance of the Debtor and Procedures for Operations in the Ordinary Course, entered by the Bankruptcy Court on January 9, 2020 [Docket No. 339] and Order Approving the Debtor's Motion Under Bankruptcy Code Sections 105(a) and 363(b) Authorizing Retention of James P. Seery, Jr., as Chief Executive Officer, Chief Restructuring Officer, and Foreign Representative Nunc Pro Tunc to March 15, 2020 [Docket No. 854] entered on July 16, 2020 shall remain in full force and effect from the Confirmation Date and following the Effective Date.

DD. No Governmental Releases. Nothing in this Confirmation Order or the Plan shall effect a release of any claim by the United States Government or any of its agencies or any state and local authority whatsoever, including without limitation any claim arising under the Internal Revenue Code, the environmental laws or any criminal laws of the United States or any state and local authority against any party or person, nor shall anything in this Confirmation Order or the Plan enjoin the United States or any state or local authority from bringing any claim, suit, action, or other proceedings against any party or person for any liability of such persons whatever, including without limitation any claim, suit, or action arising under the Internal Revenue Code, the environmental laws or any criminal laws of the United States or any state and local authority against such persons, nor shall anything in this Confirmation Order or the Plan exculpate any party or person from any liability to the United States Government or any of its agencies or any state and local authority whatsoever, including any liabilities arising under the Internal Revenue Code, the environmental laws, or any criminal laws of the United States or any state and local authority against any party or person.

EE. Exemption from Transfer Taxes. Pursuant to section 1146(a) of the Bankruptcy Code, any transfers (whether from the Debtor to the Reorganized Debtor or to any other Person) of property under the Plan or pursuant to: (a) the issuance, distribution, transfer, or exchange of any debt, equity security, or other interest in the Debtor or the Reorganized Debtor; (b) the Restructuring transactions pursuant to the Plan; (c) the creation, modification, consolidation, termination, refinancing, and/or recording of any mortgage, deed of trust, or other security interest, or the securing of additional indebtedness by such or other means; (d) the making, assignment, or recording of any lease or sublease; or (e) the making, delivery, or recording of any deed or other instrument of transfer under, in furtherance of, or in connection with, the Plan, including any deeds, bills of sale, assignments, or other instrument of transfer executed in connection with any transaction arising out of, contemplated by, or in any way related to the Plan, shall not be subject to any document recording tax, stamp tax, conveyance fee, intangibles or similar tax, mortgage tax, real estate transfer tax, mortgage recording tax, Uniform Commercial Code filing or recording fee, regulatory filing or recording fee, or other similar tax or governmental assessment to the fullest extent contemplated by section 1146(a) of the Bankruptcy Code, and upon entry of this Confirmation Order, the appropriate state or local governmental officials or agents shall forego the collection of any such tax or governmental assessment and accept for filing and recordation of any of the foregoing instruments or other documents without the payment of any such tax, recordation fee, or governmental assessment.

FF. Cancellation of Notes, Certificates and Instruments. Except for the purpose of evidencing a right to a distribution under the Plan and except as otherwise set forth in the Plan or as otherwise provided in this Confirmation Order, on the Effective Date, all agreements, instruments, Securities and other documents evidencing any prepetition Claim or Equity Interest and any rights of any Holder in respect thereof shall be deemed cancelled, discharged, and of no force or effect. The holders of or parties to such cancelled instruments, Securities, and other documentation will have no rights arising from or related to such instruments, Securities, or other documentation or the cancellation thereof, except the rights provided for pursuant to the Plan, and the obligations of the Debtor thereunder or in any way related thereto will be fully released, terminated, extinguished and discharged, in each case without further notice to or order of the Bankruptcy Court, act or action under applicable law, regulation, order, or rule or any requirement of further action, vote or other approval or authorization by any Person.

GG. Documents, Mortgages, and Instruments. Each federal, state, commonwealth, local, foreign, or other governmental agency is authorized to accept any and all documents, mortgages, and instruments necessary or appropriate to effectuate, implement, or consummate the Plan, including the Restructuring transactions contemplated under the Plan, and this Confirmation Order.

HH. Post-Confirmation Modifications. Subject section 1127(b) of the Bankruptcy Code and the Plan, the Debtor and the Reorganized Debtor expressly reserve their rights to revoke or withdraw, or to alter, amend, or modify materially the Plan, one or more times after Confirmation and, to the extent necessary, may initiate proceedings in the Bankruptcy Court to so alter, amend, or modify the Plan, or remedy any defect or omission, or reconcile any inconsistencies in the Plan or this Confirmation Order, in such manner as may be necessary to carry out the purposes and intent of the Plan. Any such modification or supplement shall be considered a modification of the Plan and shall be made in accordance with Article XII.B of the Plan.

II. Applicable Nonbankruptcy Law. The provisions of this Confirmation Order, the Plan and related documents, or any amendments or modifications thereto, shall apply and be enforceable notwithstanding any otherwise applicable nonbankruptcy law.

JJ. Governmental Approvals Not Required. This Confirmation Order shall constitute all approvals and consents required, if any, by the laws, rules, or regulations of any state, federal, or other governmental authority with respect to the dissemination, implementation, or consummation of the Plan and the Disclosure Statement, any certifications, documents, instruments or agreements, and any amendments or modifications thereto, and any other acts referred to in, or contemplated by, the Plan and the Disclosure Statement.

KK. Notice of Effective Date. As soon as reasonably practicable after the Effective Date, the Reorganized Debtor shall file notice of the Effective Date and shall serve a copy of the same on all Holders of Claims and Equity Interests, and all parties who have filed with the Bankruptcy Court requests to receive notices in accordance with Bankruptcy Rules 2002 and 3020(c). Notwithstanding the above, no notice of Confirmation or Consummation or service of any kind shall be required to be mailed or made upon any Entity to whom the Debtor mailed notice of the Confirmation Hearing, but received such notice returned marked “undeliverable as addressed,” “moved, left no forwarding address” or “forwarding order expired,” or similar reason, unless the Debtor has been informed in writing by such Entity, or is otherwise aware, of that Entity’s new address. The above-referenced notices are adequate under the particular circumstances of this Chapter 11 Case and no other or further notice is necessary.

LL. Substantial Consummation. On the Effective Date, the Plan shall be deemed to be substantially consummated under sections 1101 and 1127 of the Bankruptcy Code.

MM. Waiver of Stay. For good cause shown, the stay of this Confirmation Order provided by any Bankruptcy Rule is waived, and this Confirmation Order shall be effective and enforceable immediately upon its entry by the Bankruptcy Court.

NN. References to and Omissions of Plan Provisions. References to articles, sections, and provisions of the Plan are inserted for convenience of reference only and are not intended to be a part of or to affect the interpretation of the Plan. The failure to specifically include or to refer to any particular article, section, or provision of the Plan in this Confirmation Order shall not diminish or impair the effectiveness of such article, section, or provision, it being the intent of the Bankruptcy Court that the Plan be confirmed in its entirety, except as expressly modified herein, and incorporated herein by this reference.

OO. Headings. Headings utilized herein are for convenience and reference only, and do not constitute a part of the Plan or this Confirmation Order for any other purpose.

PP. Effect of Conflict. This Confirmation Order supersedes any Bankruptcy Court order issued prior to the Confirmation Date that may be inconsistent with this Confirmation Order. If there is any inconsistency between the terms of the Plan and the terms of this Confirmation Order, the terms of this Confirmation Order govern and control. If there is any inconsistency between the terms of this Confirmation Order and the terms of a final, executed Plan Supplement Document, the terms of the final, executed Plan Supplement Document will govern and control.

QQ. Resolution of Objection of Texas Taxing Authorities. Dallas County, Kaufman County, City of Allen, Allen ISD and City of Richardson (collectively, the “Tax Authorities”) assert that they are the holders of prepetition and administrative expense claims for 2019, 2020 and 2021 ad valorem real and business personal property taxes. The ad valorem property taxes for tax year 2020 shall be paid in accordance with and to the extent required under applicable nonbankruptcy law. In the event the 2020 taxes are paid after February 1, 2021, the Tax Authorities may assert any rights and amounts they claim are owed with respect to penalties and interest that have accrued through the date of payment and the Debtor and Reorganized Debtor reserve any all rights and defenses in connection therewith.

- a. The Debtor/Reorganized Debtor shall pay all amounts owed to the Tax Authorities for tax year 2021 in accordance with and to the extent required under applicable nonbankruptcy law. The Tax Authorities shall not be required to file and serve an administrative expense claim and request for payment as a condition of allowance of their administrative expense claims pursuant to 11 U.S.C. Section 503(b)(1)(D). With regard to year 2019 ad valorem property taxes, the Tax Authorities will receive payment of their prepetition claims within 30 days of the Effective Date of the Plan. The payment will include interest from the Petition Date through the Effective Date and from the Effective Date through payment in full at the state statutory rate pursuant to 11 U.S.C. Sections 506(b), 511, and 1129, if applicable, subject to all of the Debtor's and Reorganized Debtor's rights and defenses in connection therewith. Notwithstanding any other provision in the Plan, the Tax Authorities shall (i) retain the liens that secure all prepetition and postpetition amounts ultimately owed to them, if any, as well as (ii) the state law priority of those liens until the claims are paid in full.
- b. The Tax Authorities' prepetition claims and their administrative expense claims shall not be discharged until such time as the amounts owed are paid in full. In the event of a default asserted by the Taxing Authorities, the Tax Authorities shall provide notice Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, and may demand cure of any such asserted default. Subject to all of its rights and defenses, the Debtor or Reorganized Debtor shall have fifteen (15) days from the date of the notice to cure the default. If the alleged default is not cured, the Tax Authorities may exercise any of their respective rights under applicable law and pursue collection of all amounts owed pursuant to state law outside of the Bankruptcy Court, subject in all respects to the Debtor's and Reorganized Debtor's applicable rights and defenses. The Debtor/Reorganized Debtor shall be entitled to any notices of default required under applicable nonbankruptcy law and each of the Taxing Authorities, the Debtor and the Reorganized Debtor reserve any and all of their respective rights and defenses in connection therewith. The Debtor's and Reorganized Debtor's rights and defenses under Texas Law and the Bankruptcy Code with respect to this provision of the Confirmation Order, including their right to dispute or object to the Tax Authorities' Claims and liens, are fully preserved.

RR. Resolution of Objections of Scott Ellington and Isaac Leventon.

Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 9019(a), the Senior Employees' Settlement is approved in all respects. The Debtor may, only with the consent of the Committee, elect Option B for a Senior Employee Claimant by written notice to such Senior Employee Claimant on or before the occurrence of the Effective Date. If the Debtor does not elect Option B, then Option A will govern the treatment of the Liquidated Bonus Claims.

- a. Notwithstanding any language in the Plan, the Disclosure Statement, or this Confirmation Order to the contrary, if Option A applies to the Liquidated Bonus Claims of a Senior Employee Claimant, then the Liquidated Bonus Claims of such Senior Employee Claimant will receive the treatment described in paragraph 82(e) hereof, and if the Debtor timely elects Option B with respect to the Liquidated Bonus Claims of a Senior Employee Claimant, then the Liquidated Bonus Claims of such Senior Employee will receive the treatment described in paragraph 82(f) hereof.
- b. The Senior Employees' Settlement is hereby approved, without prejudice to the respective rights of Mr. Ellington and Mr. Leventon to assert all their remaining Claims against the Debtor's estate, including, but not limited to, their Class 6 PTO Claims, their remaining Class 8 General Unsecured Claims, any indemnification claims, and any Administrative Expense Claims that they may assert and is without prejudice to the rights of any party in interest to object to any such Claims.
- c. Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 3018(a), Mr. Ellington and Mr. Leventon were permitted to change their votes on the Plan. Accordingly, Mr. Ellington's votes on his Ballots in Class 7 and Class 8 of the Plan were changed from a rejection of the Plan to acceptance of the Plan, and Mr. Leventon's votes on his Ballots in Class 7 and Class 8 of the Plan were, changed from rejections of the Plan to acceptances of the Plan.
- d. The Senior Employees' Objection is deemed withdrawn.

SS. No Release of Claims Against Senior Employee Claimants. For the avoidance of doubt, the Senior Employees' Settlement, as approved herein, shall not, and shall not be deemed to, release any Claims or Causes of Action held by the Debtor against either Senior Employee Claimant nor shall either Senior Employee Claimant be, or be deemed to be, a “Released Party” under the Plan.

TT. Resolution of Objection of Internal Revenue Service. Notwithstanding any other provision or term of the Plan or Confirmation Order, the following Default Provision shall control as to the United States of America, Internal Revenue Service (“IRS”) and all of its claims, including any administrative claim (the “IRS Claim”):

(a) Notwithstanding any other provision in the Plan, if the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or any successor in interest fails to pay when due any payment required to be made on federal taxes, the IRS Claim, or other payment required to be made to the IRS under the terms and provisions of this Plan, the Confirmation Order, or the Internal Revenue Code (26 U.S.C.), or fails to timely file any required federal tax return, or if any other event of default as set forth in the Plan occurs, the IRS shall be entitled to give the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor and/or any successor in interest and their counsel of record, by United States Certified Mail, written notice of the failure and/or default with demand that it be cured, and if the failure and/or default is not cured within 14 days of the date of said notice and demand, then the following shall apply to the IRS:

(1) The administrative collection powers and the rights of the IRS shall be reinstated as they existed prior to the filing of the bankruptcy petition, including, but not limited to, the assessment of taxes, the filing of a notice of Federal tax lien and the powers of levy, seizure, and collection as provided under the Internal Revenue Code;

(2) The automatic stay of 11 U.S.C. § 362 and any injunction of the Plan or in the Confirmation Order shall, with regard to the IRS only, lift or terminate without further notice or hearing by the Bankruptcy Court, and the entire prepetition liability owed to the IRS, together with any unpaid postpetition tax liabilities, may become due and payable immediately; and

(3) The IRS shall have the right to proceed to collect from the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor or any successor in interest any of the prepetition tax liabilities and related penalties and interest through administrative or judicial collection procedures available under the United States Code as if no bankruptcy petition had been filed and as if no plan had been confirmed.

(b) If the IRS declares the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or any successor-in-interest to be in default of the Debtor’s, the Reorganized Debtor’s and/ or any successor- in-interest’s obligations under the Plan, then entire prepetition liability of an IRS’ Allowed Claim, together with any unpaid postpetition tax liabilities shall become due and payable immediately upon written demand to the Debtor, Reorganized Debtor and/or any successor-in-interest. Failure of the IRS to declare a failure and/or default does not constitute a waiver by the United States or its agency the IRS of the right to declare that the Debtor, Reorganized Debtor, and/or any successor in interest is in default.

(c) The IRS shall only be required to send two notices of failure and/or default, and upon the third event of a failure and/or default, the IRS shall be entitled to proceed as set out in paragraphs (1), (2), and/or (3) herein above without further notice to the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or any successor in interest, or its counsel. The collection statute expiration date for all unpaid federal tax liabilities shall be extended pursuant to non-bankruptcy law.

(d) The Internal Revenue Service shall not be bound by any release provisions in the Plan that would release any liability of the responsible persons of the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, and/or any successor in interest to the IRS. The Internal Revenue Service may take such actions as it deems necessary to assess any liability that may be due and owing by the responsible persons of the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor and/or any successor in interest to the Internal Revenue Service.

(e) Nothing contained in the Plan or the Confirmation Order shall be deemed to be a waiver or relinquishment of any rights, claims, causes of action, rights of setoff or recoupment, rights to appeal tax assessments, or other legal or equitable defenses that the Debtor or Reorganized Debtor have under non-bankruptcy law in connection with any claim, liability or cause of action of the United States and its agency the Internal Revenue Service.

(f) The term “any payment required to be made on federal taxes,” as used herein above, is defined as: any payment or deposit required by the Internal Revenue Code to be made by the Debtor from and after the Confirmation Date, or the Reorganized Debtor and/or any successor in interest from and after the Effective Date, to the date the IRS Claim is together with interest paid in full. The term “any required tax return,” as used herein above, is defined as: any tax return or report required by the Internal Revenue Code to be made by the Debtor from and after the Confirmation Date, or the Reorganized Debtor and/or any successor in interest from and after the Effective Date, to the date the IRS Claim is together with interest paid in full.

UU. IRS Proof of Claim. Notwithstanding anything in the Plan or in this Confirmation Order, until all required tax returns are filed with and processed by the IRS, the IRS’s proof of claim will not be deemed fixed for purposes of Section 502 of the Bankruptcy Code and may be amended in order to reflect the IRS’ assessment of the Debtor’s unpaid priority and general unsecured taxes, penalties and interest.

VV. CLO Holdco, Ltd. Settlement Notwithstanding anything contained herein to the contrary, nothing in this Order is or is intended to supersede the rights and obligations of either the Debtor or CLO Holdco contained in that certain Settlement Agreement between CLO Holdco, Ltd., and Highland Capital Management, L.P., dated January 25, 2021 [Docket No. 1838-1] (the “CLOH Settlement Agreement”). In the event of any conflict between the terms of this Order and the terms of the CLOH Settlement Agreement, the terms of the CLOH Settlement Agreement will govern.

WW. Retention of Jurisdiction. The Bankruptcy Court may properly, and upon the Effective Date shall, to the maximum extent permitted under applicable law, retain jurisdiction over all matters arising out of, and related to, this Chapter 11 Case, including the matters set forth in Article XI of the Plan and section 1142 of the Bankruptcy Code.

XX. Payment of Statutory Fees; Filing of Quarterly Reports. All fees payable pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1930 shall be paid on or before the Effective Date. The Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trust, and the Litigation Sub-Trust shall be jointly and severally liable for payment of quarterly fees to the Office of the United States Trustee pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1930 through the entry of the Final Decree for the Debtor or the dismissal or conversion of the Chapter 11 Case. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Plan, the U.S. Trustee shall not be required to file any proofs of claim with respect to quarterly fees payable pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1930.

YY. Dissolution of the Committee. On the Effective Date, the Committee will dissolve, and the members of the Committee and the Committee’s Professionals will cease to have any role arising from or relating to the Chapter 11 Case, except in connection with final fee applications of Professionals for services rendered prior to the Effective Date (including the right to object thereto). Notwithstanding the foregoing, any Committee member or Professional may serve following the Effective Date with respect to the Claimant Trust Oversight Board or Litigation Sub-Trust. The Professionals retained by the Committee and the members thereof will not be entitled to assert any fee claims for any services rendered to the Committee or expenses incurred in the service of the Committee after the Effective Date, except for reasonable fees for services rendered, and actual and necessary costs incurred, in connection with any applications for allowance of Professional Fees pending on the Effective Date or filed and served after the Effective Date pursuant to the Plan. Nothing in the Plan shall prohibit or limit the ability of the Debtor's or Committee's Professionals to represent either of the Trustees or to be compensated or reimbursed per the Plan, the Claimant Trust Agreement, and/or Litigation Sub-Trust in connection with such representation.

ZZ. Miscellaneous. After the Effective Date, the Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, shall have no obligation to file with the Bankruptcy Court or serve on any parties reports that the Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, were obligated to file under the Bankruptcy Code or a court order, including monthly operating reports (even for those periods for which a monthly operating report was not filed before the Effective Date), ordinary course professional reports, reports to any parties otherwise required under the "first" and "second" day orders entered in this Chapter 11 Case (including any cash collateral financing orders entered in this Chapter 11 Case) and monthly or quarterly reports for Professionals; provided, however, that the Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, will comply with the U.S. Trustee's post confirmation reporting requirements.

DEBTOR'S CHAPTER 11 PLAN OF REORGANIZATION

HIGHLAND CAPITAL MANAGEMENT, L.P., as debtor and debtor-in-possession in the above-captioned case (the “Debtor”), proposes the following chapter 11 plan of reorganization (the “Plan”) for, among other things, the resolution of the outstanding Claims against, and Equity Interests in, the Debtor. Unless otherwise noted, capitalized terms used in this Plan have the meanings set forth in Article I of this Plan. The Debtor is the proponent of this Plan within the meaning of section 1129 of the Bankruptcy Code.

Reference is made to the Disclosure Statement (as such term is defined herein and distributed contemporaneously herewith) for a discussion of the Debtor’s history, business, results of operations, historical financial information, projections and assets, and for a summary and analysis of this Plan and the treatment provided for herein. There also are other agreements and documents that may be Filed with the Bankruptcy Court that are referenced in this Plan or the Disclosure Statement as Exhibits and Plan Documents. All such Exhibits and Plan Documents are incorporated into and are a part of this Plan as if set forth in full herein. Subject to the other provisions of this Plan, and in accordance with the requirements set forth in section 1127 of the Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rule 3019, the Debtor reserves the right to alter, amend, modify, revoke, or withdraw this Plan prior to the Effective Date.

If this Plan cannot be confirmed, for any reason, then subject to the terms set forth herein, this Plan may be revoked.

ARTICLE II.

ADMINISTRATIVE EXPENSES AND PRIORITY TAX CLAIMS

A. Administrative Expense Claims

On the later of the Effective Date or the date on which an Administrative Expense Claim becomes an Allowed Administrative Expense Claim, or, in each such case, as soon as practicable thereafter, each Holder of an Allowed Administrative Expense Claim (other than Professional Fee Claims) will receive, in full satisfaction, settlement, discharge and release of, and in exchange for, such Allowed Administrative Expense Claim either (i) payment in full in Available Cash for the unpaid portion of such Allowed Administrative Expense Claim; or (ii) such other less favorable treatment as agreed to in writing by the Debtor or the Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, and such Holder; provided, however, that Administrative Expense Claims incurred by the Debtor in the ordinary course of business may be paid in the ordinary course of business in the discretion of the Debtor in accordance with such applicable terms and conditions relating thereto without further notice to or order of the Bankruptcy Court. All statutory fees payable under 28 U.S.C. § 1930(a) shall be paid as such fees become due.

If an Administrative Expense Claim (other than a Professional Fee Claim) is not paid by the Debtor in the ordinary course, the Holder of such Administrative Expense Claim must File, on or before the applicable Administrative Expense Claims Bar Date, and serve on the Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, and such other Entities who are designated by the Bankruptcy Rules, the Confirmation Order or other order of the Bankruptcy Court, an application for allowance and payment of such Administrative Expense Claim.

Objections to any Administrative Expense Claim (other than a Professional Fee Claim) must be Filed and served on the Debtor or the Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, and the party asserting such Administrative Expense Claim by the Administrative Expense Claims Objection Deadline.

B. Professional Fee Claims

Professionals or other Entities asserting a Professional Fee Claim for services rendered through the Effective Date must submit fee applications under sections 327, 328, 329, 330, 331, 503(b) or 1103 of the Bankruptcy Code and, upon entry of an order of the Bankruptcy Court granting such fee applications, such Professional Fee Claim shall promptly be paid in Cash in full to the extent provided in such order.

Professionals or other Entities asserting a Professional Fee Claim for services rendered on or prior to the Effective Date must File, on or before the Professional Fee Claims Bar Date, and serve on the Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, and such other Entities who are designated as requiring such notice by the Bankruptcy Rules, the Confirmation Order or other order of the Bankruptcy Court, an application for final allowance of such Professional Fee Claim.

Objections to any Professional Fee Claim must be Filed and served on the Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, and the party asserting the Professional Fee Claim by the Professional Fee Claim Objection Deadline. Each Holder of an Allowed Professional Fee Claim will be paid by the Debtor or the Claimant Trust, as applicable, in Cash within ten (10) Business Days of entry of the order approving such Allowed Professional Fee Claim.

On the Effective Date, the Claimant Trustee shall establish the Professional Fee Reserve. The Professional Fee Reserve shall vest in the Claimant Trust and shall be maintained by the Claimant Trustee in accordance with the Plan and Claimant Trust Agreement. The Claimant Trust shall fund the Professional Fee Reserve on the Effective Date in an estimated amount determined by the Debtor in good faith prior to the Confirmation Date and that approximates the total projected amount of unpaid Professional Fee Claims on the Effective Date. Following the payment of all Allowed Professional Fee Claims, any excess funds in the Professional Fee Reserve shall be released to the Claimant Trust to be used for other purposes consistent with the Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement.

C. Priority Tax Claims

On or as soon as reasonably practicable after the later of (i) the Initial Distribution Date if such Priority Tax Claim is an Allowed Priority Tax Claim as of the Effective Date or (ii) the date on which such Priority Tax Claim becomes an Allowed Priority Tax Claim, each Holder of an Allowed Priority Tax Claim will receive in full satisfaction, settlement, discharge and release of, and in exchange for, such Allowed Priority Tax Claim, at the election of the Debtor: (a) Cash in an amount of a total value as of the Effective Date of the Plan equal to the amount of such Allowed

Priority Tax Claim in accordance with section 1129(a)(9)(C) of the Bankruptcy Code, or (b) if paid over time, payment of such Allowed Priority Tax Claim in accordance with section 1129(a)(9)(C) of the Bankruptcy Code; or (c) such other less favorable treatment as agreed to in writing by the Debtor and such Holder. Payment of statutory fees due pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1930(a)(6) will be made at all appropriate times until the entry of a final decree; provided, however, that the Debtor may prepay any or all such Claims at any time, without premium or penalty.

ARTICLE III.
CLASSIFICATION AND TREATMENT OF
CLASSIFIED CLAIMS AND EQUITY INTERESTS

A. Summary

All Claims and Equity Interests, except Administrative Expense Claims and Priority Tax Claims, are classified in the Classes set forth below. In accordance with section 1123(a)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code, Administrative Expense Claims, and Priority Tax Claims have not been classified.

The categories of Claims and Equity Interests listed below classify Claims and Equity Interests for all purposes including, without limitation, confirmation and distribution pursuant to the Plan and pursuant to sections 1122 and 1123(a)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code. The Plan deems a Claim or Equity Interest to be classified in a particular Class only to the extent that the Claim or Equity Interest qualifies within the description of that Class and will be deemed classified in a different Class to the extent that any remainder of such Claim or Equity Interest qualifies within the description of such different Class. A Claim or Equity Interest is in a particular Class only to the extent that any such Claim or Equity Interest is Allowed in that Class and has not been paid, released or otherwise settled (in each case, by the Debtor or any other Entity) prior to the Effective Date.

B. Summary of Classification and Treatment of Classified Claims and Equity Interests

Class	Claim	Status	Voting Rights
1	Jefferies Secured Claim	Unimpaired	Deemed to Accept
2	Frontier Secured Claim	Impaired	Entitled to Vote
3	Other Secured Claims	Unimpaired	Deemed to Accept
4	Priority Non-Tax Claim	Unimpaired	Deemed to Accept
5	Retained Employee Claim	Unimpaired	Deemed to Accept

9	Subordinated Claims	Impaired	Entitled to Vote
10	Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests	Impaired	Entitled to Vote
11	Class A Limited Partnership Interests	Impaired	Entitled to Vote

C. Elimination of Vacant Classes

Any Class that, as of the commencement of the Confirmation Hearing, does not have at least one Holder of a Claim or Equity Interest that is Allowed in an amount greater than zero for voting purposes shall be considered vacant, deemed eliminated from the Plan for purposes of voting to accept or reject the Plan, and disregarded for purposes of determining whether the Plan satisfies section 1129(a)(8) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to such Class.

D. Impaired/Voting Classes

Claims and Equity Interests in Class 2 and Class 7 through Class 11 are Impaired by the Plan, and only the Holders of Claims or Equity Interests in those Classes are entitled to vote to accept or reject the Plan.

E. Unimpaired/Non-Voting Classes

Claims in Class 1 and Class 3 through Class 6 are Unimpaired by the Plan, and such Holders are deemed to have accepted the Plan and are therefore not entitled to vote on the Plan.

F. Impaired/Non-Voting Classes

There are no Classes under the Plan that will not receive or retain any property and no Classes are deemed to reject the Plan.

G. Cramdown

If any Class of Claims or Equity Interests is deemed to reject this Plan or does not vote to accept this Plan, the Debtor may (i) seek confirmation of this Plan under section 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code or (ii) amend or modify this Plan in accordance with the terms hereof and the Bankruptcy Code. If a controversy arises as to whether any Claims or Equity Interests, or any class of Claims or Equity Interests, are Impaired, the Bankruptcy Court shall, after notice and a hearing, determine such controversy on or before the Confirmation Date.

H. Classification and Treatment of Claims and Equity Interests*1. Class 1 – Jefferies Secured Claim

- Classification: Class 1 consists of the Jefferies Secured Claim.
- Treatment: On or as soon as reasonably practicable after the Effective Date, each Holder of an Allowed Class 1 Claim will receive in full satisfaction, settlement, discharge and release of, and in exchange for, such Allowed Class 1 Claim, at the election of the Debtor: (A) Cash equal to the amount of such Allowed Class 1 Claim; (B) such other less favorable treatment as to which the Debtor and the Holder of such Allowed Class 1 Claim will have agreed upon in writing; or (C) such other treatment rendering such Claim Unimpaired. Each Holder of an Allowed Class 1 Claim will retain the Liens securing its Allowed Class 1 Claim as of the Effective Date until full and final payment of such Allowed Class 1 Claim is made as provided herein.

- Impairment and Voting: Class 1 is Unimpaired, and the Holders of Class 1 Claims are conclusively deemed to have accepted this Plan pursuant to section 1126(f) of the Bankruptcy Code. 3. Class 3 – Other Secured Claims

- Classification: Class 3 consists of the Other Secured Claims.
- Allowance and Treatment: On or as soon as reasonably practicable after the later of (i) the Initial Distribution Date if such Class 3 Claim is Allowed on the Effective Date or (ii) the date on which such Class 3 Claim becomes an Allowed Class 3 Claim, each Holder of an Allowed Class 3 Claim will receive in full satisfaction, settlement, discharge and release of, and in exchange for, its Allowed Claim 3 Claim, at the option of the Debtor, or following the Effective Date, the Reorganized Debtor or Claimant Trustee, as applicable, (i) Cash equal to such Allowed Other Secured Claim, (ii) the collateral securing its Allowed Other Secured Claim, plus postpetition interest to the extent required under Bankruptcy Code Section 506(b), or (iii) such other treatment rendering such Claim Unimpaired.
- Impairment and Voting: Class 3 is Unimpaired, and the Holders of Class 3 Claims are conclusively deemed to have accepted this Plan pursuant to section 1126(f) of the Bankruptcy Code. Therefore, the Holders of Class 3 Claims are not entitled to vote to accept or reject this Plan and will not be solicited.

4. Class 4 – Priority Non-Tax Claims

- Classification: Class 4 consists of the Priority Non-Tax Claims.
- Allowance and Treatment: On or as soon as reasonably practicable after the later of (i) the Initial Distribution Date if such Class 4 Claim is Allowed on the Effective Date or (ii) the date on which such Class 4 Claim becomes an Allowed Class 4 Claim, each Holder of an Allowed Class 4 Claim will receive in full satisfaction, settlement, discharge and release of, and in exchange for, its Allowed Claim 4 Claim Cash equal to the amount of such Allowed Class 4 Claim.
- Impairment and Voting: Class 4 is Unimpaired, and the Holders of Class 4 Claims are conclusively deemed to have accepted this Plan pursuant to section 1126(f) of the Bankruptcy Code. Therefore, the Holders of Class 4 Claims are not entitled to vote to accept or reject this Plan and will not be solicited.

5. Class 5 – Retained Employee Claims

- Classification: Class 5 consists of the Retained Employee Claims.
- Allowance and Treatment: On or as soon as reasonably practicable after the Effective Date, each Allowed Class 5 Claim will be Reinstated.
- Impairment and Voting: Class 5 is Unimpaired, and the Holders of Class 5 Claims are conclusively deemed to have accepted this Plan pursuant to section 1126(f) of the Bankruptcy Code. Therefore, the Holders of Class 5 Claims are not entitled to vote to accept or reject this Plan and will not be solicited.

6. Class 6 – PTO Claims

- Classification: Class 6 consists of the PTO Claims.
- Allowance and Treatment: On or as soon as reasonably practicable after the later of (i) the Initial Distribution Date if such Class 6 Claim is Allowed on the Effective Date or (ii) the date on which such Class 6 Claim becomes an Allowed Class 6 Claim, each Holder of an Allowed Class 6 Claim will receive in full satisfaction, settlement, discharge and release of, and in exchange for, its Allowed Claim 6 Claim Cash equal to the amount of such Allowed Class 6 Claim.
- Impairment and Voting: Class 6 is Unimpaired, and the Holders of Class 6 Claims are conclusively deemed to have accepted this Plan pursuant to section 1126(f) of the Bankruptcy Code. Therefore, the Holders of Class 6

Claims are not entitled to vote to accept or reject this Plan and will not be solicited.

7. Class 7 – Convenience Claims

- Classification: Class 7 consists of the Convenience Claims.
- Allowance and Treatment: On or as soon as reasonably practicable after the later of (i) the Initial Distribution Date if such Class 7 Claim is Allowed on the Effective Date or (ii) the date on which such Class 7 Claim becomes an Allowed Class 7 Claim, each Holder of an Allowed Class 7 Claim will receive in full satisfaction, settlement, discharge and release of, and in exchange for, its Allowed Class 7 Claim (1) the treatment provided to Allowed Holders of Class 8 General Unsecured Claims if the Holder of such Class 7 Claim makes the GUC Election or (2) an amount in Cash equal to the lesser of (a) 85% of the Allowed amount of such Holder's Class 7 Claim or (b) such Holder's Pro Rata share of the Convenience Claims Cash Pool.
- Impairment and Voting: Class 7 is Impaired, and the Holders of Class 7 Claims are entitled to vote to accept or reject this Plan.

8. Class 8 – General Unsecured Claims

- Classification: Class 8 consists of the General Unsecured Claims.
- Treatment: On or as soon as reasonably practicable after the Effective Date, each Holder of an Allowed Class 8 Claim, in full satisfaction, settlement, discharge and release of, and in exchange for, such Claim shall receive (i) its Pro Rata share of the Claimant Trust Interests, (ii) such other less favorable treatment as to which such Holder and the Claimant Trustee shall have agreed upon in writing, or (iii) the treatment provided to Allowed Holders of Class 7 Convenience Claims if the Holder of such Class 8 General Unsecured Claim is eligible and makes a valid Convenience Class Election.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, after the Effective Date and subject to the other provisions of this Plan, the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, and the Claimant Trust, as applicable, will have and will retain any and all rights and defenses under bankruptcy or nonbankruptcy law that the Debtor had with respect to any General Unsecured Claim, except with respect to any General Unsecured Claim Allowed by Final Order of the Bankruptcy Court.

- Impairment and Voting: Class 8 is Impaired, and the Holders of Class 8 Claims are entitled to vote to accept or reject this Plan.

9. Class 9 – Subordinated Claims

- Classification: Class 9 consists of the Subordinated Claims.

Treatment: On the Effective Date, Holders of Subordinated Claims shall receive either (i) their Pro Rata share of the Subordinated Claimant Trust Interests or, (ii) such other less favorable treatment as to which such Holder and the Claimant Trustee may agree upon in writing.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, after the Effective Date and subject to the other provisions of this Plan, the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, and the Claimant Trust, as applicable, will have and will retain any and all rights and defenses under bankruptcy or nonbankruptcy law that the Debtor had with respect to any Subordinated Claim, except with respect to any Subordinated Claim Allowed by Final Order of the Bankruptcy Court.

- Impairment and Voting: Class 9 is Impaired, and the Holders of Class 9 Claims are entitled to vote to accept or reject this Plan.

10. Class 10 – Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests

- Classification: Class 10 consists of the Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests.
- Treatment: On or as soon as reasonably practicable after the Effective Date, each Holder of an Allowed Class 10 Claim, in full satisfaction, settlement, discharge and release of, and in exchange for, such Claim shall receive (i) its Pro Rata share of the Contingent Claimant Trust Interests or (ii) such other less favorable treatment as to which such Holder and the Claimant Trustee shall have agreed upon in writing.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, after the Effective Date and subject to the other provisions of this Plan, the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, and the Claimant Trust, as applicable, will have and will retain any and all rights and defenses under bankruptcy or nonbankruptcy law that the Debtor had with respect to any Class B/C Limited Partnership Interest Claim, except with respect to any Class B/C Limited Partnership Interest Claim Allowed by Final Order of the Bankruptcy Court.

- Impairment and Voting: Class 10 is Impaired, and the Holders of Class 10 Claims are entitled to vote to accept or reject this Plan.

11. Class 11 – Class A Limited Partnership Interests

- Classification: Class 11 consists of the Class A Limited Partnership Interests.

- Treatment: On or as soon as reasonably practicable after the Effective Date, each Holder of an Allowed Class 11 Claim, in full satisfaction, settlement, discharge and release of, and in exchange for, such Claim shall receive (i) its Pro Rata share of the Contingent Claimant Trust Interests or (ii) such other less favorable treatment as to which such Holder and the Claimant Trustee shall have agreed upon in writing.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, after the Effective Date and subject to the other provisions of this Plan, the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, and the Claimant Trust, as applicable, will have and will retain any and all rights and defenses under bankruptcy or nonbankruptcy law that the Debtor had with respect to any Class A Limited Partnership Interest, except with respect to any Class A Limited Partnership Interest Allowed by Final Order of the Bankruptcy Court.

- Impairment and Voting: Class 11 is Impaired, and the Holders of Class 11 Claims are entitled to vote to accept or reject this Plan.

I. Special Provision Governing Unimpaired Claims

Except as otherwise provided in the Plan, nothing under the Plan will affect the Debtor's rights in respect of any Unimpaired Claims, including, without limitation, all rights in respect of legal and equitable defenses to or setoffs or recoupments against any such Unimpaired Claims.

J. Subordinated Claims

The allowance, classification, and treatment of all Claims under the Plan shall take into account and conform to the contractual, legal, and equitable subordination rights relating thereto, whether arising under general principles of equitable subordination, section 510(b) of the Bankruptcy Code, or otherwise. Upon written notice and hearing, the Debtor the Reorganized Debtor, and the Claimant Trustee reserve the right to seek entry of an order by the Bankruptcy Court to re-classify or to subordinate any Claim in accordance with any contractual, legal, or equitable subordination relating thereto, and the treatment afforded any Claim under the Plan that becomes a subordinated Claim at any time shall be modified to reflect such subordination.

ARTICLE IV.

MEANS FOR IMPLEMENTATION OF THIS PLAN

A. Summary

As discussed in the Disclosure Statement, the Plan will be implemented through (i) the Claimant Trust, (ii) the Litigation Sub-Trust, and (iii) the Reorganized Debtor.

On the Effective Date, all Class A Limited Partnership Interests, including the Class A Limited Partnership Interests held by Strand, as general partner, and Class B/C Limited Partnerships in the Debtor will be cancelled, and new Class A Limited Partnership Interests in the Reorganized Debtor will be issued to the Claimant Trust and New GP LLC – a newly-chartered limited liability company wholly-owned by the Claimant Trust. The Claimant Trust, as limited partner, will ratify New GP LLC's appointment as general partner of the Reorganized Debtor, and on and following the Effective Date, the Claimant Trust will be the Reorganized Debtor's limited partner and New GP LLC will be its general partner. The Claimant Trust, as limited partner, and New GP LLC, as general partner, will execute the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, which will amend and restate, in all respects, the Debtor's current Limited Partnership Agreement. Following the Effective Date, the Reorganized Debtor will be managed consistent with the terms of the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement by New GP LLC. The sole managing member of New GP LLC will be the Claimant Trust, and the Claimant Trustee will be the sole officer of New GP LLC on the Effective Date.

Following the Effective Date, the Claimant Trust will administer the Claimant Trust Assets pursuant to this Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement, and the Litigation Trustee will pursue, if applicable, the Estate Claims pursuant to the terms of the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement and the Plan. The Reorganized Debtor will administer the Reorganized Debtor Assets and, if needed, with the utilization of a Sub-Servicer, which administration will include, among other things, managing the wind down of the Managed Funds.

Although the Reorganized Debtor will manage the wind down of the Managed Funds, it is currently anticipated that neither the Reorganized Debtor nor the Claimant Trust will assume or assume and assign the contracts between the Debtor and certain Related Entities pursuant to which the Debtor provides shared services and sub-advisory services to those Related Entities. The Debtor believes that the continued provision of the services under such contracts will not be cost effective.

The Reorganized Debtor will distribute all proceeds from the wind down to the Claimant Trust, as its limited partner, and New GP LLC, as its general partner, in each case in accordance with the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement. Such proceeds, along with the proceeds of the Claimant Trust Assets, will ultimately be distributed to the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries as set forth in this Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement.

B. The Claimant Trust<sup>2</sup>

1. Creation and Governance of the Claimant Trust and Litigation Sub-Trust.

On or prior to the Effective Date, the Debtor and the Claimant Trustee shall execute the Claimant Trust Agreement and shall take all steps necessary to establish the Claimant Trust and the Litigation Sub-Trust in accordance with the Plan in each case for the benefit of the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries. Additionally, on or prior to the Effective Date, the Debtor shall irrevocably transfer and shall be deemed to have irrevocably transferred to the Claimant Trust all of its rights, title, and interest in and to all of the Claimant Trust Assets, and in accordance with section 1141 of the Bankruptcy Code, the Claimant Trust Assets shall automatically vest in the Claimant Trust free and clear of all Claims, Liens, encumbrances, or interests subject only to the Claimant Trust Interests and the Claimant Trust Expenses, as provided for in the Claimant Trust Agreement, and such transfer shall be exempt from any stamp, real estate transfer, mortgage from any stamp, transfer, reporting, sales, use, or other similar tax.

The Claimant Trustee shall be the exclusive trustee of the Claimant Trust Assets, excluding the Estate Claims and the Litigation Trustee shall be the exclusive trustee with respect to the Estate Claims in each case for purposes of 31 U.S.C. § 3713(b) and 26 U.S.C. § 6012(b)(3), as well as the representative of the Estate appointed pursuant to section 1123(b)(3)(B) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to the Claimant Trust Assets. The Claimant Trustee shall also be responsible for resolving all Claims and Equity Interests in Class 8 through Class 11, under the supervision of the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee.

On the Effective Date, the Claimant Trustee and Litigation Trustee shall execute the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement and shall take all steps necessary to establish the Litigation Sub-Trust. Upon the creation of the Litigation Sub-Trust, the Claimant Trust shall irrevocably transfer and assign to the Litigation Sub-Trust the Estate Claims. The Claimant Trust shall be governed by the Claimant Trust Agreement and administered by the Claimant Trustee. The powers, rights, and responsibilities of the Claimant Trustee shall be specified in the Claimant Trust Agreement and shall include the authority and responsibility to, among other things, take the actions set forth in this ARTICLE IV, subject to any required reporting to the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee as may be set forth in the Claimant Trust Agreement. The Claimant Trust shall hold and distribute the Claimant Trust Assets (including the proceeds from the Estate Claims, if any) in accordance with the provisions of the Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement; provided that the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee may direct the Claimant Trust to reserve Cash from distributions as necessary to fund the Claimant Trust and Litigation Sub-Trust. Other rights and duties of the Claimant Trustee and the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries shall be as set forth in the Claimant Trust Agreement. After the Effective Date, neither the Debtor nor the Reorganized Debtor shall have any interest in the Claimant Trust Assets.

The Litigation Sub-Trust shall be governed by the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement and administered by the Litigation Trustee. The powers, rights, and responsibilities of the Litigation Trustee shall be specified in the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement and shall include the authority and responsibility to, among other things, take the actions set forth in this ARTICLE IV, subject to any required reporting as may be set forth in the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement. The Litigation Sub-Trust shall investigate, prosecute, settle, or otherwise resolve the Estate Claims in accordance with the provisions of the Plan and the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement and shall distribute the proceeds therefrom to the Claimant Trust for distribution. Other rights and duties of the Litigation Trustee shall be as set forth in the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement.

2. Claimant Trust Oversight Committee

The Claimant Trust, the Claimant Trustee, the management and monetization of the Claimant Trust Assets, and the management of the Reorganized Debtor (through the Claimant Trust's role as managing member of New GP LLC) and the Litigation Sub-Trust will be overseen by the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee, subject to the terms of the Claimant Trust Agreement and the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement, as applicable.

The Claimant Trust Oversight Committee will initially consist of five members. Four of the five members will be representatives of the members of the Committee: (i) the Redeemer Committee of Highland Crusader Fund, (ii) UBS, (iii) Acis, and (iv) Meta-e Discovery. The fifth member will be an independent, natural Person chosen by the Committee and reasonably acceptable to the Debtor. The members of the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee may be replaced as set forth in the Claimant Trust Agreement. The identity of the members of the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee will be disclosed in the Plan Supplement.

As set forth in the Claimant Trust Agreement, in no event will any member of the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee with a Claim against the Estate be entitled to vote, opine, or otherwise be involved in any matters related to such member's Claim.

The independent member(s) of the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee may be entitled to compensation for their services as set forth in the Claimant Trust Agreement. Any member of the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee may be removed, and successor chosen, in the manner set forth in the Claimant Trust Agreement.

3. Purpose of the Claimant Trust.

The Claimant Trust shall be established for the purpose of (i) managing and monetizing the Claimant Trust Assets, subject to the terms of the Claimant Trust Agreement and the oversight of the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee, (ii) serving as the limited partner of, and holding the limited partnership interests in, the Reorganized Debtor, (iii) serving as the sole member and manager of New GP LLC, the Reorganized Debtor's general partner, (iv) in its capacity as the sole member and manager of New GP LLC, overseeing the management and monetization of the Reorganized Debtor Assets pursuant to the terms of the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement; and (v) administering the Disputed Claims Reserve and serving as Distribution Agent with respect to Disputed Claims in Class 7 or Class 8.

In its management of the Claimant Trust Assets, the Claimant Trust will also reconcile and object to the General Unsecured Claims, Subordinated Claims, Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests, and Class A Limited Partnership Interests, as provided for in this Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement, and make Trust Distributions to the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries in accordance with Treasury Regulation section 301.7701-4(d), with no objective to continue or engage in the conduct of a trade or business.

The purpose of the Reorganized Debtor is discussed at greater length in ARTICLE IV.C.

4. Purpose of the Litigation Sub-Trust.

The Litigation Sub-Trust shall be established for the purpose of investigating, prosecuting, settling, or otherwise resolving the Estate Claims. Any proceeds therefrom shall be distributed by the Litigation Sub-Trust to the Claimant Trust for distribution to the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries pursuant to the terms of the Claimant Trust Agreement.

5. Claimant Trust Agreement and Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement.

The Claimant Trust Agreement generally will provide for, among other things:

- (i) the payment of the Claimant Trust Expenses;
- (ii) the payment of other reasonable expenses of the Claimant Trust;
- (iii) the retention of employees, counsel, accountants, financial advisors, or other professionals and the payment of their reasonable compensation;
- (iv) the investment of Cash by the Claimant Trustee within certain limitations, including those specified in the Plan;
- (v) the orderly monetization of the Claimant Trust Assets;
- (vi) litigation of any Causes of Action, which may include the prosecution, settlement, abandonment, or dismissal of any such Causes of Action, subject to reporting and oversight by the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee;
- (vii) the resolution of Claims and Equity Interests in Class 8 through Class 11, subject to reporting and oversight by the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee;
- (viii) the administration of the Disputed Claims Reserve and distributions to be made therefrom; and
- (ix) the management of the Reorganized Debtor, including the utilization of a Sub-Servicer, with the Claimant Trust serving as the managing member of New GP LLC.

Except as otherwise ordered by the Bankruptcy Court, the Claimant Trust Expenses shall be paid from the Claimant Trust Assets in accordance with the Plan and Claimant Trust Agreement. The Claimant Trustee may establish a reserve for the payment of Claimant Trust Expense (including, without limitation, any reserve for potential indemnification claims as authorized and provided under the Claimant Trust Agreement), and shall periodically replenish such reserve, as necessary.

In furtherance of, and consistent with the purpose of, the Claimant Trust and the Plan, the Trustees, for the benefit of the Claimant Trust, shall, subject to reporting and oversight by the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee as set forth in the Claimant Trust Agreement: (i) hold the Claimant Trust Assets for the benefit of the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries, (ii) make Distributions to the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries as provided herein and in the Claimant Trust Agreement, and (iii) have the sole power and authority to prosecute and resolve any Causes of Action and objections to Claims and Equity Interests (other than those assigned to the Litigation Sub-Trust), without approval of the Bankruptcy Court. Except as otherwise provided in the Claimant Trust Agreement, the Claimant Trustee shall be responsible for all decisions and duties with respect to the Claimant Trust and the Claimant Trust Assets; provided, however, that the prosecution and resolution of any Estate Claims included in the Claimant Trust Assets shall be the responsibility of the Litigation Trustee. The Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement generally will provide for, among other things:

- (i) the payment of other reasonable expenses of the Litigation Sub-Trust;

(ii) the retention of employees, counsel, accountants, financial advisors, or other professionals and the payment of their reasonable compensation; and

(iii) the investigation and prosecution of Estate Claims, which may include the prosecution, settlement, abandonment, or dismissal of any such Estate Claims, subject to reporting and oversight as set forth in the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement.

The Trustees, on behalf of the Claimant Trust and Litigation Sub-Trust, as applicable, may each employ, without further order of the Bankruptcy Court, employees and other professionals (including those previously retained by the Debtor and the Committee) to assist in carrying out the Trustees' duties hereunder and may compensate and reimburse the reasonable expenses of these professionals without further Order of the Bankruptcy Court from the Claimant Trust Assets in accordance with the Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement.

The Claimant Trust Agreement and Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement may include reasonable and customary provisions that allow for indemnification by the Claimant Trust in favor of the Claimant Trustee, Litigation Trustee, and the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee. Any such indemnification shall be the sole responsibility of the Claimant Trust and payable solely from the Claimant Trust Assets.

6. Compensation and Duties of Trustees.

The salient terms of each Trustee's employment, including such Trustee's duties and compensation shall be set forth in the Claimant Trust Agreement and the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement, as appropriate. The Trustees shall each be entitled to reasonable compensation in an amount consistent with that of similar functionaries in similar types of bankruptcy cases.

7. Cooperation of Debtor and Reorganized Debtor.

To effectively investigate, prosecute, compromise and/or settle the Claims and/or Causes of Action that constitute Claimant Trust Assets (including Estate Claims), the Claimant Trustee, Litigation Trustee, and each of their professionals may require reasonable access to the Debtor's and Reorganized Debtor's documents, information, and work product relating to the Claimant Trust Assets. Accordingly, the Debtor and the Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, shall reasonably cooperate with the Claimant Trustee and Litigation Trustee, as applicable, in their prosecution of Causes of Action and in providing the Claimant Trustee and Litigation Trustee with copies of documents and information in the Debtor's possession, custody, or control on the Effective Date that either Trustee indicates relates to the Estate Claims or other Causes of Action.

The Debtor and Reorganized Debtor shall preserve all records, documents or work product (including all electronic records, documents, or work product) related to the Claims and Causes of Action, including Estate Claims, until the earlier of (a) the dissolution of the Reorganized Debtor or (b) termination of the Claimant Trust and Litigation Sub-Trust.

8. United States Federal Income Tax Treatment of the Claimant Trust.

Unless the IRS requires otherwise, for all United States federal income tax purposes, the parties shall treat the transfer of the Claimant Trust Assets to the Claimant Trust as: (a) a transfer of the Claimant Trust Assets (other than the amounts set aside in the Disputed Claims Reserve, if the Claimant Trustee makes the election described in Section 7 below) directly to the applicable Claimant Trust Beneficiaries followed by (b) the transfer by the such Claimant Trust Beneficiaries to the Claimant Trust of such Claimant Trust Assets in exchange for the Claimant Trust Interests. Accordingly, the applicable Claimant Trust Beneficiaries shall be treated for United States federal income tax purposes as the grantors and owners of their respective share of the Claimant Trust Assets. The foregoing treatment shall also apply, to the extent permitted by applicable law, for state and local income tax purposes.

9. Tax Reporting.

(a) The Claimant Trustee shall file tax returns for the Claimant Trust treating the Claimant Trust as a grantor trust pursuant to Treasury Regulation section 1.671-4(a). The Claimant Trustee may file an election pursuant to Treasury Regulation 1.468B-9(c) to treat the Disputed Claims Reserve as a disputed ownership fund, in which case the Claimant Trustee will file federal income tax returns and pay taxes for the Disputed Claims Reserve as a separate taxable entity.

(b) The Claimant Trustee shall be responsible for payment, out of the Claimant Trust Assets, of any taxes imposed on the Claimant Trust or its assets.

(c) The Claimant Trustee shall determine the fair market value of the Claimant Trust Assets as of the Effective Date and notify the applicable Claimant Trust Beneficiaries of such valuation, and such valuation shall be used consistently for all federal income tax purposes.

(d) The Claimant Trustee shall distribute such tax information to the applicable Claimant Trust Beneficiaries as the Claimant Trustee determines is required by applicable law.

10. Claimant Trust Assets.

The Claimant Trustee shall have the exclusive right, on behalf of the Claimant Trust, to institute, file, prosecute, enforce, abandon, settle, compromise, release, or withdraw any and all Causes of Action included in the Claimant Trust Assets (except for the Estate Claims) without any further order of the Bankruptcy Court, and the Claimant Trustee shall have the exclusive right, on behalf of the Claimant Trust, to sell, liquidate, or otherwise monetize all Claimant Trust Assets, except as otherwise provided in this Plan or in the Claimant Trust Agreement, without any further order of the Bankruptcy Court. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the Litigation Trustee shall have the exclusive right to institute, file, prosecute, enforce, abandon, settle, compromise, release, or withdraw any and all Estate Claims included in the Claimant Trust Assets without any further order of the Bankruptcy Court.

From and after the Effective Date, the Trustees, in accordance with section 1123(b)(3) and (4) of the Bankruptcy Code, and on behalf of the Claimant Trust, shall each serve as a representative of the Estate with respect to any and all Claimant Trust Assets, including the Causes of Action and Estate Claims, as appropriate, and shall retain and possess the right to (a) commence, pursue, settle, compromise, or abandon, as appropriate, any and all Causes of Action in any court or other tribunal and (b) sell, liquidate, or otherwise monetize all Claimant Trust Assets.

11. Claimant Trust Expenses.

From and after the Effective Date, the Claimant Trust shall, in the ordinary course of business and without the necessity of any approval by the Bankruptcy Court, pay the reasonable professional fees and expenses incurred by the Claimant Trust, the Litigation Sub-Trust, and any professionals retained by such parties and entities from the Claimant Trust Assets, except as otherwise provided in the Claimant Trust Agreement.

12. Trust Distributions to Claimant Trust Beneficiaries.

The Claimant Trustee, in its discretion, may make Trust Distributions to the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries at any time and/or use the Claimant Trust Assets or proceeds thereof, provided that such Trust Distributions or use is otherwise permitted under the terms of the Plan, the Claimant Trust Agreement, and applicable law.

13. Cash Investments.

With the consent of the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee, the Claimant Trustee may invest Cash (including any earnings thereon or proceeds therefrom) in a manner consistent with the terms of the Claimant Trust Agreement; provided, however, that such investments are investments permitted to be made by a “liquidating trust” within the meaning of Treasury Regulation section 301.7701-4(d), as reflected therein, or under applicable IRS guidelines, rulings or other controlling authorities.

14. Dissolution of the Claimant Trust and Litigation Sub-Trust.

The Trustees and the Claimant Trust and Litigation Sub-Trust shall be discharged or dissolved, as the case may be, at such time as: (a) the Litigation Trustee determines that the pursuit of Estate Claims is not likely to yield sufficient additional proceeds to justify further pursuit of such Estate Claims, (b) the Claimant Trustee determines that the pursuit of Causes of Action (other than Estate Claims) is not likely to yield sufficient additional proceeds to justify further pursuit of such Causes of Action, (c) the Claimant Trustee determines that the pursuit of sales of other Claimant Trust Assets is not likely to yield sufficient additional proceeds to justify further pursuit of such sales of Claimant Trust Assets, (d) all objections to Disputed Claims and Equity Interests are fully resolved, (e) the Reorganized Debtor is dissolved, and (f) all Distributions required to be made by the Claimant Trustee to the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries under the Plan have been made, but in no event shall the Claimant Trust be dissolved later than three years from the Effective Date unless the Bankruptcy Court, upon motion made within the six-month period before such third anniversary (and, in the event of further extension, by order of the Bankruptcy Court, upon motion made at least six months before the end of the preceding extension), determines that a fixed period extension (not to exceed two years, together with any prior extensions, without a favorable letter ruling from the Internal Revenue Service or an opinion of counsel that any further extension would not adversely affect the status of the Claimant Trust as a liquidating trust for federal income tax purposes) is necessary to facilitate or complete the recovery on, and liquidation of, the Claimant Trust Assets; provided, however, that each extension must be approved, upon a finding that the extension is necessary to facilitate or complete the recovery on, and liquidation of the Claimant Trust Assets, by the Bankruptcy Court within 6 months of the beginning of the extended term and no extension, together with any prior extensions, shall exceed three years without a favorable letter ruling from the Internal Revenue Service or an opinion of counsel that any further extension would not adversely affect the status of the Claimant Trust as a liquidating trust for federal income tax purposes.

Upon dissolution of the Claimant Trust, and pursuant to the Claimant Trust Agreement, any remaining Claimant Trust Assets that exceed the amounts required to be paid under the Plan will be transferred (in the sole discretion of the Claimant Trustee) in Cash or in-kind to the Holders of the Claimant Trust Interests as provided in the Claimant Trust Agreement.

C. The Reorganized Debtor

1. Corporate Existence

The Debtor will continue to exist after the Effective Date, with all of the powers of partnerships pursuant to the law of the State of Delaware and as set forth in the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement.

2. Cancellation of Equity Interests and Release

On the Effective Date, (i) all prepetition Equity Interests, including the Class A Limited Partnership Interests and the Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests, in the Debtor shall be canceled, and (ii) all obligations or debts owed by, or Claims against, the Debtor on account of, or based upon, the Interests shall be deemed as cancelled, released, and discharged, including all obligations or duties by the Debtor relating to the Equity Interests in any of the Debtor's formation documents, including the Limited Partnership Agreement.

3. Issuance of New Partnership Interests

On the Effective Date, the Debtor or the Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, will issue new Class A Limited Partnership Interests to (i) the Claimant Trust, as limited partner, and (ii) New GP LLC, as general partner, and will admit (a) the Claimant Trust as the limited partner of the Reorganized Debtor, and (b) New GP LLC as the general partner of the Reorganized Debtor. The Claimant Trust, as limited partner, will ratify New GP LLC's appointment as general partner of the Reorganized Debtor. Also, on the Effective Date, the Claimant Trust, as limited partner, and New GP LLC, as general partner, will execute the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement and receive partnership interests in the Reorganized Debtor consistent with the terms of the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement.

The Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement does not provide for, and specifically disclaims, the indemnification obligations under the Limited Partnership Agreement, including any such indemnification obligations that accrued or arose or could have been brought prior to the Effective Date. Any indemnification Claims under the Limited Partnership Agreement that accrued, arose, or could have been filed prior to the Effective Date will be resolved through the Claims resolution process provided that a Claim is properly filed in accordance with the Bankruptcy Code, the Plan, or the Bar Date Order. Each of the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trust, and the Litigation Sub-Trust reserve all rights with respect to any such indemnification Claims.

4. Management of the Reorganized Debtor

Subject to and consistent with the terms of the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, the Reorganized Debtor shall be managed by its general partner, New GP LLC. The initial officers and employees of the Reorganized Debtor shall be selected by the Claimant Trustee. The Reorganized Debtor may, in its discretion, also utilize a Sub-Servicer in addition to or in lieu of the retention of officers and employees.

As set forth in the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, New GP LLC will receive a fee for managing the Reorganized Debtor. Although New GP LLC will be a limited liability company, it will elect to be treated as a C-Corporation for tax purposes. Therefore, New GP LLC (and any taxable income attributable to it) will be subject to corporate income taxation on a standalone basis, which may reduce the return to Claimants.

5. Vesting of Assets in the Reorganized Debtor

Except as otherwise provided in this Plan or the Confirmation Order, on or after the Effective Date, all Reorganized Debtor Assets will vest in the Reorganized Debtor, free and clear of all Liens, Claims, charges or other encumbrances pursuant to section 1141(c) of the Bankruptcy Code except with respect to such Liens, Claims, charges and other encumbrances that are specifically preserved under this Plan upon the Effective Date.

The Reorganized Debtor shall be the exclusive trustee of the Reorganized Debtor Assets for purposes of 31 U.S.C. § 3713(b) and 26 U.S.C. § 6012(b)(3), as well as the representative of the Estate appointed pursuant to section 1123(b)(3)(B) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to the Reorganized Debtor Assets.

6. Purpose of the Reorganized Debtor

Except as may be otherwise provided in this Plan or the Confirmation Order, the Reorganized Debtor will continue to manage the Reorganized Debtor Assets (which shall include, for the avoidance of doubt, serving as the investment manager of the Managed Funds) and may use, acquire or dispose of the Reorganized Debtor Assets and compromise or settle any Claims with respect to the Reorganized Debtor Assets without supervision or approval by the Bankruptcy Court and free of any restrictions of the Bankruptcy Code or Bankruptcy Rules. The Reorganized Debtor shall oversee the resolution of Claims in Class 1 through Class 7.

Without limiting the foregoing, the Reorganized Debtor will pay the charges that it incurs after the Effective Date for Professionals' fees, disbursements, expenses or related support services (including reasonable fees relating to the preparation of Professional fee applications) in the ordinary course of business and without application or notice to, or order of, the Bankruptcy Court.

7. Distribution of Proceeds from the Reorganized Debtor Assets; Transfer of Reorganized Debtor Assets

Any proceeds received by the Reorganized Debtor will be distributed to the Claimant Trust, as limited partner, and New GP LLC, as general partner, in the manner set forth in the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement. As set forth in the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, the Reorganized Debtor may, from time to time distribute Reorganized Debtor Assets to the Claimant Trust either in Cash or in-kind, including to institute the wind-down and dissolution of the Reorganized Debtor. Any assets distributed to the Claimant Trust will be (i) deemed transferred in all respects as forth in ARTICLE IV.B.1, (ii) deemed Claimant Trust Assets, and (iii) administered as Claimant Trust Assets.

D. Company Action

Each of the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, and the Trustees, as applicable, may take any and all actions to execute, deliver, file or record such contracts, instruments, releases and other agreements or documents and take such actions as may be necessary or appropriate to effectuate and implement the provisions of this Plan, the Claimant Trust Agreement, the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, or the New GP LLC Documents, as applicable, in the name of and on behalf of the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Trustees, as applicable, and in each case without further notice to or order of the Bankruptcy Court, act or action under applicable law, regulation, order, or rule or any requirement of further action, vote or other approval or authorization by the security holders, officers, or directors of the Debtor or the Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, or by any other Person.

Prior to, on or after the Effective Date (as appropriate), all matters provided for pursuant to this Plan that would otherwise require approval of the stockholders, partners, directors, managers, or members of the Debtor, any Related Entity, or any Affiliate thereof (as of prior to the Effective Date) will be deemed to have been so approved and will be in effect prior to, on or after the Effective Date (as appropriate) pursuant to applicable law and without any requirement of further action by the stockholders, partners, directors, managers or members of such Persons, or the need for any approvals, authorizations, actions or consents of any Person.

All matters provided for in this Plan involving the legal or corporate structure of the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trust, as applicable, and any legal or corporate action required by the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trust, as applicable, in connection with this Plan, will be deemed to have occurred and will be in full force and effect in all respects, in each case without further notice to or order of the Bankruptcy Court, act or action under applicable law, regulation, order, or rule or any requirement of further action, vote or other approval or authorization by the security holders, partners, directors, managers, or members of the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trust, as applicable, or by any other Person. On the Effective Date, the appropriate officers of the Debtor and the Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, as well as the Trustees, are authorized to issue, execute, deliver, and consummate the transactions contemplated by, the contracts, agreements, documents, guarantees, pledges, consents, securities, certificates, resolutions and instruments contemplated by or described in this Plan in the name of and on behalf of the Debtor and the Reorganized Debtor, as well as the Trustees, in each case without further notice to or order of the Bankruptcy Court, act or action under applicable law, regulation, order, or rule or any requirement of further action, vote or other approval or authorization by any Person. The appropriate officer of the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, as well as the Trustees, will be authorized to certify or attest to any of the foregoing actions.

E. Release of Liens, Claims and Equity Interests

Except as otherwise provided in the Plan or in any contract, instrument, release or other agreement or document entered into or delivered in connection with the Plan, from and after the Effective Date and concurrently with the applicable distributions made pursuant to the Plan, all Liens, Claims, Equity Interests, mortgages, deeds of trust, or other security interests against the property of the Estate will be fully released, terminated, extinguished and discharged, in each case without further notice to or order of the Bankruptcy Court, act or action under applicable law, regulation, order, or rule or the vote, consent, authorization or approval of any Entity. Any Entity holding such Liens or Equity Interests extinguished pursuant to the prior sentence will, pursuant to section 1142 of the Bankruptcy Code, promptly execute and deliver to the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trustee, as applicable, such instruments of termination, release, satisfaction and/or assignment (in recordable form) as may be reasonably requested by the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trustee, as applicable. For the avoidance of doubt, this section is in addition to, and shall not be read to limit in any respects, ARTICLE IV.C.2.

F. Cancellation of Notes, Certificates and Instruments

Except for the purpose of evidencing a right to a distribution under this Plan and except as otherwise set forth in this Plan, on the Effective Date, all agreements, instruments, Securities and other documents evidencing any prepetition Claim or Equity Interest and any rights of any Holder in respect thereof shall be deemed cancelled, discharged, and of no force or effect. The holders of or parties to such cancelled instruments, Securities, and other documentation will have no rights arising from or related to such instruments, Securities, or other documentation or the cancellation thereof, except the rights provided for pursuant to this Plan, and the obligations of the Debtor thereunder or in any way related thereto will be fully released, terminated, extinguished and discharged, in each case without further notice to or order of the Bankruptcy Court, act or action under applicable law, regulation, order, or rule or any requirement of further action, vote or other approval or authorization by any Person. For the avoidance of doubt, this section is in addition to, and shall not be read to limit in any respects, ARTICLE IV.C.2.

G. Cancellation of Existing Instruments Governing Security Interests

Upon payment or other satisfaction of an Allowed Class 1 or Allowed Class 2 Claim, or promptly thereafter, the Holder of such Allowed Class 1 or Allowed Class 2 Claim shall deliver to the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trustee, as applicable, any collateral or other property of the Debtor held by such Holder, together with any termination statements, instruments of satisfaction, or releases of all security interests with respect to its Allowed Class 1 or Allowed Class 2 Claim that may be reasonably required to terminate any related financing statements, mortgages, mechanics' or other statutory Liens, or lis pendens, or similar interests or documents.

H. Control Provisions

To the extent that there is any inconsistency between this Plan as it relates to the Claimant Trust, the Claimant Trust Agreement, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, this Plan shall control.

I. Treatment of Vacant Classes

Any Claim or Equity Interest in a Class considered vacant under ARTICLE III.C of this Plan shall receive no Plan Distributions.

J. Plan Documents

The documents, if any, to be Filed as part of the Plan Documents, including any documents filed with the Plan Supplement, and any amendments, restatements, supplements, or other modifications to such documents, and any consents, waivers, or other deviations under or from any such documents, shall be incorporated herein by this reference (including to the applicable definitions in ARTICLE I hereof) and fully enforceable as if stated in full herein.

The Debtor and the Committee are currently working to finalize the forms of certain of the Plan Documents to be filed with the Plan Supplement. To the extent that the Debtor and the Committee cannot agree as to the form and content of such Plan Documents, they intend to submit the issue to non-binding mediation pursuant to the Order Directing Mediation entered on August 3, 2020 [D.I. 912].

K. Highland Capital Management, L.P. Retirement Plan and Trust

The Highland Capital Management, L.P. Retirement Plan And Trust (“Pension Plan”) is a single-employer defined benefit pension plan covered by Title IV of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended (“ERISA”). 29 U.S.C. §§ 1301-1461. The Debtor is the contributing sponsor and, as such, the PBGC asserts that the Debtor is liable along with any members of the contributing sponsor’s controlled-group within the meaning of 29 U.S.C. §§ 1301(a)(13), (14) with respect to the Pension Plan.

Upon the Effective Date, the Reorganized Debtor shall be deemed to have assumed the Pension Plan and shall comply with all applicable statutory provisions of ERISA and the Internal Revenue Code (the “IRC”), including, but not limited to, satisfying the minimum funding standards pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §§ 412, 430, and 29 U.S.C. §§ 1082, 1083; paying the PBGC premiums in accordance with 29 U.S.C. §§ 1306 and 1307; and administering the Pension Plan in accordance with its terms and the provisions of ERISA and the IRC. In the event that the Pension Plan terminates after the Plan of Reorganization Effective Date, the PBGC asserts that the Reorganized Debtor and each of its controlled group members will be responsible for the liabilities imposed by Title IV of ERISA.

Notwithstanding any provision of the Plan, the Confirmation Order, or the Bankruptcy Code (including section 1141 thereof) to the contrary, neither the Plan, the Confirmation Order, or the Bankruptcy Code shall be construed as discharging, releasing, exculpating or relieving the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or any person or entity in any capacity, from any liability or responsibility, if any, with respect to the Pension Plan under any law, governmental policy, or regulatory provision. PBGC and the Pension Plan shall not be enjoined or precluded from enforcing such liability or responsibility against any person or entity as a result of any of the provisions of the Plan, the Confirmation Order, or the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtor reserves the right to contest any such liability or responsibility.

ARTICLE V.
TREATMENT OF EXECUTORY CONTRACTS AND UNEXPIRED LEASES

A. Assumption, Assignment, or Rejection of Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases

Unless an Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease: (i) was previously assumed or rejected by the Debtor pursuant to this Plan on or prior to the Confirmation Date; (ii) previously expired or terminated pursuant to its own terms or by agreement of the parties thereto; (iii) is the subject of a motion to assume filed by the Debtor on or before the Confirmation Date; (iv) contains a change of control or similar provision that would be triggered by the Chapter 11 Case (unless such provision has been irrevocably waived); or (v) is specifically designated as a contract or lease to be assumed in the Plan or the Plan Supplement, on the Confirmation Date, each Executory Contract and Unexpired Lease shall be deemed rejected pursuant to section 365 of the Bankruptcy Code, without the need for any further notice to or action, order, or approval of the Bankruptcy Court, unless such Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease is listed in the Plan Supplement.

At any time on or prior to the Confirmation Date, the Debtor may (i) amend the Plan Supplement in order to add or remove a contract or lease from the list of contracts to be assumed or (ii) assign (subject to applicable law) any Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease, as determined by the Debtor in consultation with the Committee, or the Reorganized Debtor, as applicable.

The Confirmation Order will constitute an order of the Bankruptcy Court approving the above-described assumptions, rejections, and assumptions and assignments. Except as otherwise provided herein or agreed to by the Debtor and the applicable counterparty, each assumed Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease shall include all modifications, amendments, supplements, restatements, or other agreements related thereto, and all rights related thereto. Modifications, amendments, supplements, and restatements to prepetition Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases that have been executed by the Debtor during the Chapter 11 Case shall not be deemed to alter the prepetition nature of the Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease or the validity, priority, or amount of any Claims that may arise in connection therewith. To the extent applicable, no change of control (or similar provision) will be deemed to occur under any such Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease.

If certain, but not all, of a contract counterparty's Executory Contracts and/or Unexpired Leases are rejected pursuant to the Plan, the Confirmation Order shall be a determination that such counterparty's Executory Contracts and/or Unexpired Leases that are being assumed pursuant to the Plan are severable agreements that are not integrated with those Executory Contracts and/or Unexpired Leases that are being rejected pursuant to the Plan. Parties seeking to contest this finding with respect to their Executory Contracts and/or Unexpired Leases must file a timely objection to the Plan on the grounds that their agreements are integrated and not severable, and any such dispute shall be resolved by the Bankruptcy Court at the Confirmation Hearing (to the extent not resolved by the parties prior to the Confirmation Hearing).

Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the Debtor shall assume or reject that certain real property lease with Crescent TC Investors L.P. ("Landlord") for the Debtor's headquarters located at 200/300 Crescent Ct., Suite #700, Dallas, Texas 75201 (the "Lease") in accordance with the notice to Landlord, procedures and timing required by 11 U.S.C. §365(d)(4), as modified by that certain Agreed Order Granting Motion to Extend Time to Assume or Reject Unexpired Nonresidential Real Property Lease [Docket No. 1122].

B. Claims Based on Rejection of Executory Contracts or Unexpired Leases

Any Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease not assumed or rejected on or before the Confirmation Date shall be deemed rejected, pursuant to the Confirmation Order. Any Person asserting a Rejection Claim shall File a proof of claim within thirty days of the Confirmation Date. Any Rejection Claims that are not timely Filed pursuant to this Plan shall be forever disallowed and barred. If one or more Rejection Claims are timely Filed, the Claimant Trustee may File an objection to any Rejection Claim.

Rejection Claims shall be classified as General Unsecured Claims and shall be treated in accordance with ARTICLE III of this Plan.

Any monetary amounts by which any Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease to be assumed or assigned hereunder is in default shall be satisfied, under section 365(b)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code, by the Debtor upon assumption or assignment thereof, by payment of the default amount in Cash as and when due in the ordinary course or on such other terms as the parties to such Executory Contracts may otherwise agree. The Debtor may serve a notice on the Committee and parties to Executory Contracts or Unexpired Leases to be assumed or assigned reflecting the Debtor's or Reorganized Debtor's intention to assume or assign the Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease in connection with this Plan and setting forth the proposed cure amount (if any).

If a dispute regarding (1) the amount of any payments to cure a default, (2) the ability of the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or any assignee to provide "adequate assurance of future performance" (within the meaning of section 365 of the Bankruptcy Code) under the Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease to be assumed or assigned or (3) any other matter pertaining to assumption or assignment, the cure payments required by section 365(b)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code will be made following the entry of a Final Order or orders resolving the dispute and approving the assumption or assignment.

Assumption or assignment of any Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease pursuant to the Plan or otherwise and full payment of any applicable cure amounts pursuant to this ARTICLE V.C shall result in the full release and satisfaction of any cure amounts, Claims, or defaults, whether monetary or nonmonetary, including defaults of provisions restricting the change in control or ownership interest composition or other bankruptcy-related defaults, arising under any assumed or assigned Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease at any time prior to the effective date of assumption or assignment. Any and all Proofs of Claim based upon Executory Contracts or Unexpired Leases that have been assumed or assigned in the Chapter 11 Case, including pursuant to the Confirmation Order, and for which any cure amounts have been fully paid pursuant to this ARTICLE V.C, shall be deemed disallowed and expunged as of the Confirmation Date without the need for any objection thereto or any further notice to or action, order, or approval of the Bankruptcy Court.

ARTICLE VI.
PROVISIONS GOVERNING DISTRIBUTIONS

A. Dates of Distributions

Except as otherwise provided in this Plan, on the Effective Date or as soon as reasonably practicable thereafter (or if a Claim is not an Allowed Claim or Equity Interest on the Effective Date, on the date that such Claim or Equity Interest becomes an Allowed Claim or Equity Interest, or as soon as reasonably practicable thereafter), each Holder of an Allowed Claim or Equity Interest against the Debtor shall receive the full amount of the distributions that this Plan provides for Allowed Claims or Allowed Equity Interests in the applicable Class and in the manner provided herein. If any payment or act under this Plan is required to be made or performed on a date that is not on a Business Day, then the making of such payment or the performance of such act may be completed on the next succeeding Business Day, but shall be deemed to have been completed as of the required date. If and to the extent there are Disputed Claims or Equity Interests, distributions on account of any such Disputed Claims or Equity Interests shall be made pursuant to the provisions provided in this Plan. Except as otherwise provided in this Plan, Holders of Claims and Equity Interests shall not be entitled to interest, dividends or accruals on the distributions provided for therein, regardless of whether distributions are delivered on or at any time after the Effective Date.

Upon the Effective Date, all Claims and Equity Interests against the Debtor shall be deemed fixed and adjusted pursuant to this Plan and none of the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trust will have liability on account of any Claims or Equity Interests except as set forth in this Plan and in the Confirmation Order. All payments and all distributions made by the Distribution Agent under this Plan shall be in full and final satisfaction, settlement and release of all Claims and Equity Interests against the Debtor and the Reorganized Debtor.

At the close of business on the Distribution Record Date, the transfer ledgers for the Claims against the Debtor and the Equity Interests in the Debtor shall be closed, and there shall be no further changes in the record holders of such Claims and Equity Interests. The Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, the Trustees, and the Distribution Agent, and each of their respective agents, successors, and assigns shall have no obligation to recognize the transfer of any Claims against the Debtor or Equity Interests in the Debtor occurring after the Distribution Record Date and shall be entitled instead to recognize and deal for all purposes hereunder with only those record holders stated on the transfer ledgers as of the close of business on the Distribution Record Date irrespective of the number of distributions to be made under this Plan to such Persons or the date of such distributions.

B. Distribution Agent

Except as provided herein, all distributions under this Plan shall be made by the Claimant Trustee, as Distribution Agent, or by such other Entity designated by the Claimant Trustee, as a Distribution Agent on the Effective Date or thereafter. The Reorganized Debtor will be the Distribution Agent with respect to Claims in Class 1 through Class 7.

The Claimant Trustee, or such other Entity designated by the Claimant Trustee to be the Distribution Agent, shall not be required to give any bond or surety or other security for the performance of such Distribution Agent's duties unless otherwise ordered by the Bankruptcy Court.

The Distribution Agent shall be empowered to (a) effect all actions and execute all agreements, instruments, and other documents necessary to perform its duties under this Plan; (b) make all distributions contemplated hereby; (c) employ professionals to represent it with respect to its responsibilities; and (d) exercise such other powers as may be vested in the Distribution Agent by order of the Bankruptcy Court, pursuant to this Plan, or as deemed by the Distribution Agent to be necessary and proper to implement the provisions hereof.

The Distribution Agent shall not have any obligation to make a particular distribution to a specific Holder of an Allowed Claim if such Holder is also the Holder of a Disputed Claim.

C. Cash Distributions

Distributions of Cash may be made by wire transfer from a domestic bank, except that Cash payments made to foreign creditors may be made in such funds and by such means as the Distribution Agent determines are necessary or customary in a particular foreign jurisdiction.

D. Disputed Claims Reserve

On or prior to the Initial Distribution Date, the Claimant Trustee shall establish, fund and maintain the Disputed Claims Reserve(s) in the appropriate Disputed Claims Reserve Amounts on account of any Disputed Claims.

E. Distributions from the Disputed Claims Reserve

The Disputed Claims Reserve shall at all times hold Cash in an amount no less than the Disputed Claims Reserve Amount. To the extent a Disputed Claim becomes an Allowed Claim pursuant to the terms of this Plan, within 30 days of the date on which such Disputed Claim becomes an Allowed Claim pursuant to the terms of this Plan, the Claimant Trustee shall distribute from the Disputed Claims Reserve to the Holder thereof any prior distributions, in Cash, that would have been made to such Allowed Claim if it had been Allowed as of the Effective Date. For the avoidance of doubt, each Holder of a Disputed Claim that subsequently becomes an Allowed Claim will also receive its Pro Rata share of the Claimant Trust Interests. If, upon the resolution of all Disputed Claims any Cash remains in the Disputed Claims Reserve, such Cash shall be transferred to the Claimant Trust and be deemed a Claimant Trust Asset.

F. Rounding of Payments

Whenever this Plan would otherwise call for, with respect to a particular Person, payment of a fraction of a dollar, the actual payment or distribution shall reflect a rounding of such fraction to the nearest whole dollar (up or down), with half dollars being rounded down. To the extent that Cash to be distributed under this Plan remains undistributed as a result of the aforementioned rounding, such Cash or stock shall be treated as "Unclaimed Property" under this Plan.

G. De Minimis Distribution

Except as to any Allowed Claim that is Unimpaired under this Plan, none of the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Distribution Agent shall have any obligation to make any Plan Distributions with a value of less than $100, unless a written request therefor is received by the Distribution Agent from the relevant recipient at the addresses set forth in ARTICLE VI.J hereof within 120 days after the later of the (i) Effective Date and (ii) the date such Claim becomes an Allowed Claim. De minimis distributions for which no such request is timely received shall revert to the Claimant Trust. Upon such reversion, the relevant Allowed Claim (and any Claim on account of missed distributions) shall be automatically deemed satisfied, discharged and forever barred, notwithstanding any federal or state escheat laws to the contrary.

H. Distributions on Account of Allowed Claims

Except as otherwise agreed by the Holder of a particular Claim or as provided in this Plan, all distributions shall be made pursuant to the terms of this Plan and the Confirmation Order. Except as otherwise provided in this Plan, distributions to any Holder of an Allowed Claim shall, to the extent applicable, be allocated first to the principal amount of any such Allowed Claim, as determined for U.S. federal income tax purposes and then, to the extent the consideration exceeds such amount, to the remainder of such Claim comprising accrued but unpaid interest, if any (but solely to the extent that interest is an allowable portion of such Allowed Claim).

I. General Distribution Procedures

The Distribution Agent shall make all distributions of Cash or other property required under this Plan, unless this Plan specifically provides otherwise. All Cash and other property held by the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trust, as applicable, for ultimate distribution under this Plan shall not be subject to any claim by any Person.

J. Address for Delivery of Distributions

Distributions to Holders of Allowed Claims, to the extent provided for under this Plan, shall be made (1) at the addresses set forth in any written notices of address change delivered to the Debtor and the Distribution Agent; (2) at the address set forth on any Proofs of Claim Filed by such Holders (to the extent such Proofs of Claim are Filed in the Chapter 11 Case), (2), or (3) at the addresses in the Debtor's books and records.

If there is any conflict or discrepancy between the addresses set forth in (1) through (3) in the foregoing sentence, then (i) the address in Section (2) shall control; (ii) if (2) does not apply, the address in (1) shall control, and (iii) if (1) does not apply, the address in (3) shall control.

K. Undeliverable Distributions and Unclaimed Property

If the distribution to the Holder of any Allowed Claim is returned to the Reorganized Debtor or the Claimant Trust as undeliverable, no further distribution shall be made to such Holder, and Distribution Agent shall not have any obligation to make any further distribution to the Holder, unless and until the Distribution Agent is notified in writing of such Holder's then current address.

Any Entity that fails to claim any Cash within six months from the date upon which a distribution is first made to such Entity shall forfeit all rights to any distribution under this Plan and such Cash shall thereafter be deemed an Claimant Trust Asset in all respects and for all purposes. Entities that fail to claim Cash shall forfeit their rights thereto and shall have no claim whatsoever against the Debtor's Estate, the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trust, or against any Holder of an Allowed Claim to whom distributions are made by the Distribution Agent.

L. Withholding Taxes

In connection with this Plan, to the extent applicable, the Distribution Agent shall comply with all tax withholding and reporting requirements imposed on them by any Governmental Unit, and all distributions made pursuant to this Plan shall be subject to such withholding and reporting requirements. The Distribution Agent shall be entitled to deduct any U.S. federal, state or local withholding taxes from any Cash payments made with respect to Allowed Claims, as appropriate. As a condition to receiving any distribution under this Plan, the Distribution Agent may require that the Holder of an Allowed Claim entitled to receive a distribution pursuant to this Plan provide such Holder's taxpayer identification number and such other information and certification as may be deemed necessary for the Distribution Agent to comply with applicable tax reporting and withholding laws. If a Holder fails to comply with such a request within one year, such distribution shall be deemed an unclaimed distribution. Any amounts withheld pursuant hereto shall be deemed to have been distributed to and received by the applicable recipient for all purposes of this Plan.

M. Setoffs

The Distribution Agent may, to the extent permitted under applicable law, set off against any Allowed Claim and any distributions to be made pursuant to this Plan on account of such Allowed Claim, the claims, rights and causes of action of any nature that the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Distribution Agent may hold against the Holder of such Allowed Claim that are not otherwise waived, released or compromised in accordance with this Plan; provided, however, that neither such a setoff nor the allowance of any Claim hereunder shall constitute a waiver or release by the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trustee of any such claims, rights and causes of action that the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or Claimant Trustee possesses against such Holder. Any Holder of an Allowed Claim subject to such setoff reserves the right to challenge any such setoff in the Bankruptcy Court or any other court with jurisdiction with respect to such challenge.

N. Surrender of Cancelled Instruments or Securities

As a condition precedent to receiving any distribution pursuant to this Plan on account of an Allowed Claim evidenced by negotiable instruments, securities, or notes canceled pursuant to ARTICLE IV of this Plan, the Holder of such Claim will tender the applicable negotiable instruments, securities, or notes evidencing such Claim (or a sworn affidavit identifying the negotiable instruments, securities, or notes formerly held by such Holder and certifying that they have been lost), to the Distribution Agent unless waived in writing by the Distribution Agent.

O. Lost, Stolen, Mutilated or Destroyed Securities

In addition to any requirements under any applicable agreement and applicable law, any Holder of a Claim or Equity Interest evidenced by a security or note that has been lost, stolen, mutilated, or destroyed will, in lieu of surrendering such security or note to the extent required by this Plan, deliver to the Distribution Agent: (i) evidence reasonably satisfactory to the Distribution Agent of such loss, theft, mutilation, or destruction; and (ii) such security or indemnity as may be required by the Distribution Agent to hold such party harmless from any damages, liabilities, or costs incurred in treating such individual as a Holder of an Allowed Claim or Equity Interest. Upon compliance with ARTICLE VI.O of this Plan as determined by the Distribution Agent, by a Holder of a Claim evidenced by a security or note, such Holder will, for all purposes under this Plan, be deemed to have surrendered such security or note to the Distribution Agent.

ARTICLE VII.
PROCEDURES FOR RESOLVING CONTINGENT, UNLIQUIDATED AND DISPUTED CLAIMS

A. Filing of Proofs of Claim

Unless such Claim appeared in the Schedules and is not listed as disputed, contingent, or unliquidated, or such Claim has otherwise been Allowed or paid, each Holder of a Claim was required to file a Proof of Claim on or prior to the Bar Date.

B. Disputed Claims

Following the Effective Date, each of the Reorganized Debtor or the Claimant Trustee, as applicable, may File with the Bankruptcy Court an objection to the allowance of any Disputed Claim or Disputed Equity Interest, request the Bankruptcy Court subordinate any Claims to Subordinated Claims, or any other appropriate motion or adversary proceeding with respect to the foregoing by the Claims Objection Deadline or, at the discretion of the Reorganized Debtor or Claimant Trustee, as applicable, compromised, settled, withdrew or resolved without further order of the Bankruptcy Court, and (ii) unless otherwise provided in the Confirmation Order, the Reorganized Debtor or the Claimant Trust, as applicable, are authorized to settle, or withdraw any objections to, any Disputed Claim or Disputed Equity Interests following the Effective Date without further notice to creditors (other than the Entity holding such Disputed Claim or Disputed Equity Interest) or authorization of the Bankruptcy Court, in which event such Claim or Equity Interest shall be deemed to be an Allowed Claim or Equity Interest in the amount compromised for purposes of this Plan.

C. Procedures Regarding Disputed Claims or Disputed Equity Interests

No payment or other distribution or treatment shall be made on account of a Disputed Claim or Disputed Equity Interest unless and until such Disputed Claim or Disputed Equity Interest becomes an Allowed Claim or Equity Interests and the amount of such Allowed Claim or Equity Interest, as applicable, is determined by order of the Bankruptcy Court or by stipulation between the Reorganized Debtor or Claimant Trust, as applicable, and the Holder of the Claim or Equity Interest.

D. Allowance of Claims and Equity Interests

Following the date on which a Disputed Claim or Disputed Equity Interest becomes an Allowed Claim or Equity Interest after the Distribution Date, the Distribution Agent shall make a distribution to the Holder of such Allowed Claim or Equity Interest in accordance with the Plan.

1. Allowance of Claims

After the Effective Date and subject to the other provisions of this Plan, the Reorganized Debtor or the Claimant Trust, as applicable, will have and will retain any and all rights and defenses under bankruptcy or nonbankruptcy law that the Debtor had with respect to any Claim. Except as expressly provided in this Plan or in any order entered in the Chapter 11 Case prior to the Effective Date (including, without limitation, the Confirmation Order), no Claim or Equity Interest will become an Allowed Claim or Equity Interest unless and until such Claim or Equity Interest is deemed Allowed under this Plan or the Bankruptcy Code or the Bankruptcy Court has entered an order, including, without limitation, the Confirmation Order, in the Chapter 11 Case allowing such Claim or Equity Interest.

2. Estimation

Subject to the other provisions of this Plan, the Debtor, prior to the Effective Date, and the Reorganized Debtor or the Claimant Trustee, as applicable, after the Effective Date, may, at any time, request that the Bankruptcy Court estimate (a) any Disputed Claim or Disputed Equity Interest pursuant to applicable law and in accordance with this Plan and (b) any contingent or unliquidated Claim pursuant to applicable law, including, without limitation, section 502(c) of the Bankruptcy Code, and the Bankruptcy Court will retain jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. §§ 157 and 1334 to estimate any Disputed Claim or Disputed Equity Interest, contingent Claim or unliquidated Claim, including during the litigation concerning any objection to any Claim or Equity Interest or during the pendency of any appeal relating to any such objection. All of the aforementioned objection, estimation and resolution procedures are cumulative and not exclusive of one another. Claims or Equity Interests may be estimated and subsequently compromised, settled, withdrawn or resolved by any mechanism approved by the Bankruptcy Court. The rights and objections of all parties are reserved in connection with any such estimation proceeding.

3. Disallowance of Claims

Any Claims or Equity Interests held by Entities from which property is recoverable under sections 542, 543, 550, or 553 of the Bankruptcy Code, or that are a transferee of a transfer avoidable under sections 522(f), 522(h), 544, 545, 547, 548, 549, or 724(a) of the Bankruptcy Code, shall be deemed disallowed pursuant to section 502(d) of the Bankruptcy Code, and holders of such Claims or Interests may not receive any distributions on account of such Claims or Interests until such time as such Causes of Action against that Entity have been settled or a Bankruptcy Court Order with respect thereto has been entered and all sums due, if any, to the Reorganized Debtor or the Claimant Trust, as applicable, by that Entity have been turned over or paid to the Reorganized Debtor or the Claimant Trust, as applicable.

EXCEPT AS OTHERWISE PROVIDED HEREIN OR AS AGREED TO BY THE DEBTOR, REORGANIZED DEBTOR, OR CLAIMANT TRUSTEE, AS APPLICABLE,

ANY AND ALL PROOFS OF CLAIM FILED AFTER THE BAR DATE SHALL BE DEEMED DISALLOWED AND EXPUNGED AS OF THE EFFECTIVE DATE WITHOUT ANY FURTHER NOTICE TO OR ACTION, ORDER, OR APPROVAL OF THE BANKRUPTCY COURT, AND HOLDERS OF SUCH CLAIMS MAY NOT RECEIVE ANY DISTRIBUTIONS ON ACCOUNT OF SUCH CLAIMS, UNLESS SUCH LATE PROOF OF CLAIM HAS BEEN DEEMED TIMELY FILED BY A FINAL ORDER.

ARTICLE VIII.
EFFECTIVENESS OF THIS PLAN

A. Conditions Precedent to the Effective Date

The Effective Date of this Plan will be conditioned upon the satisfaction or waiver by the Debtor (and, to the extent such condition requires the consent of the Committee, the consent of the Committee with such consent not to be unreasonably withheld), pursuant to the provisions of ARTICLE VIII.B of this Plan of the following:

- This Plan and the Plan Documents, including the Claimant Trust Agreement and the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, and all schedules, documents, supplements and exhibits to this Plan shall have been Filed in form and substance reasonably acceptable to the Debtor and the Committee.
- The Confirmation Order shall have become a Final Order and shall be in form and substance reasonably acceptable to the Debtor and the Committee. The Confirmation Order shall provide that, among other things, (i) the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trustee, or the Litigation Trustee are authorized to take all actions necessary or appropriate to effectuate and consummate this Plan, including, without limitation, (a) entering into, implementing, effectuating, and consummating the contracts, instruments, releases, and other agreements or documents created in connection with or described in this Plan, (b) assuming the Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases set forth in the Plan Supplement, (c) making all distributions and issuances as required under this Plan; and (d) entering into any transactions as set forth in the Plan Documents; (ii) the provisions of the Confirmation Order and this Plan are nonseverable and mutually dependent; (iii) the implementation of this Plan in accordance with its terms is authorized; (iv) pursuant to section 1146 of the Bankruptcy Code, the delivery of any deed or other instrument or transfer order, in furtherance of, or in connection with this Plan, including any deeds, bills of sale, or assignments executed in connection with any disposition or transfer of Assets contemplated under this Plan, shall not be subject to any Stamp or Similar Tax; and (v) the vesting of the Claimant Trust Assets in the Claimant Trust and the Reorganized Debtor Assets in the Reorganized Debtor, in each case as of the Effective Date free and clear of liens and claims to the fullest extent permissible under applicable law pursuant to section 1141(c) of the Bankruptcy Code except with respect to such Liens, Claims, charges and other encumbrances that are specifically preserved under this Plan upon the Effective Date.
- All documents and agreements necessary to implement this Plan, including without limitation, the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, the Claimant Trust

Agreement, and the New GP LLC Documents, in each case in form and substance reasonably acceptable to the Debtor and the Committee, shall have (a) been tendered for delivery, and (b) been effected by, executed by, or otherwise deemed binding upon, all Entities party thereto and shall be in full force and effect. All conditions precedent to such documents and agreements shall have been satisfied or waived pursuant to the terms of such documents or agreements.

- All authorizations, consents, actions, documents, approvals (including any governmental approvals), certificates and agreements necessary to implement this Plan, including, without limitation, the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, the Claimant Trust Agreement, and the New GP LLC Documents, shall have been obtained, effected or executed and delivered to the required parties and, to the extent required, filed with the applicable governmental units in accordance with applicable laws and any applicable waiting periods shall have expired without any action being taken or threatened by any competent authority that would restrain or prevent effectiveness or consummation of the Restructuring.
- The Debtor shall have obtained applicable directors' and officers' insurance coverage that is acceptable to each of the Debtor, the Committee, the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee, the Claimant Trustee and the Litigation Trustee.
- The Professional Fee Reserve shall be funded pursuant to this Plan in an amount determined by the Debtor in good faith.

B. Waiver of Conditions

The conditions to effectiveness of this Plan set forth in this ARTICLE VIII (other than that the Confirmation Order shall have been entered) may be waived in whole or in part by the Debtor (and, to the extent such condition requires the consent of the Committee, the consent of the Committee), without notice, leave or order of the Bankruptcy Court or any formal action other than proceeding to confirm or effectuate this Plan. The failure to satisfy or waive a condition to the Effective Date may be asserted by the Debtor regardless of the circumstances giving rise to the failure of such condition to be satisfied. The failure of the Debtor to exercise any of the foregoing rights will not be deemed a waiver of any other rights, and each right will be deemed an ongoing right that may be asserted at any time by the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trust, as applicable.

C. Dissolution of the Committee

On the Effective Date, the Committee will dissolve, and the members of the Committee and the Committee's Professionals will cease to have any role arising from or relating to the Chapter 11 Case, except in connection with final fee applications of Professionals for services rendered prior to the Effective Date (including the right to object thereto). The Professionals retained by the Committee and the members thereof will not be entitled to assert any fee claims for any services rendered to the Committee or expenses incurred in the service of the Committee after the Effective Date, except for reasonable fees for services rendered, and actual and necessary costs incurred, in connection with any applications for allowance of Professional Fees pending on the Effective Date or filed and served after the Effective Date pursuant to the Plan. Nothing in the Plan shall prohibit or limit the ability of the Debtor's or Committee's Professionals to represent either of the Trustees or to be compensated or reimbursed per the Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement in connection with such representation.

ARTICLE IX.

EXCULPATION, INJUNCTION AND RELATED PROVISIONS

A. General

Notwithstanding anything contained in the Plan to the contrary, the allowance, classification and treatment of all Allowed Claims and Equity Interests and their respective distributions and treatments under the Plan shall take into account the relative priority and rights of the Claims and the Equity Interests in each Class in connection with any contractual, legal and equitable subordination rights relating thereto whether arising under general principles of equitable subordination, section 510 of the Bankruptcy Code, or otherwise.

B. Discharge of Claims

To the fullest extent provided under section 1141(d)(1)(A) and other applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code, except as otherwise expressly provided by this Plan or the Confirmation Order, all consideration distributed under this Plan will be in exchange for, and in complete satisfaction, settlement, discharge, and release of, all Claims and Equity Interests of any kind or nature whatsoever against the Debtor or any of its Assets or properties, and regardless of whether any property will have been distributed or retained pursuant to this Plan on account of such Claims or Equity Interests. Except as otherwise expressly provided by this Plan or the Confirmation Order, upon the Effective Date, the Debtor and its Estate will be deemed discharged and released under and to the fullest extent provided under section 1141(d)(1)(A) and other applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code from any and all Claims and Equity Interests of any kind or nature whatsoever, including, but not limited to, demands and liabilities that arose before the Confirmation Date, and all debts of the kind specified in section 502(g), 502(h), or 502(i) of the Bankruptcy Code.

C. Exculpation

Subject in all respects to ARTICLE XII.D of this Plan, to the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, no Exculpated Party will have or incur, and each Exculpated Party is hereby exculpated from, any claim, obligation, suit, judgment, damage, demand, debt, right, Cause of Action, remedy, loss, and liability for conduct occurring on or after the Petition Date in connection with or arising out of (i) the filing and administration of the Chapter 11 Case; (ii) the negotiation and pursuit of the Disclosure Statement, the Plan, or the solicitation of votes for, or confirmation of, the Plan; (iii) the funding or consummation of the Plan (including the Plan Supplement) or any related agreements, instruments, or other documents, the solicitation of votes on the Plan, the offer, issuance, and Plan Distribution of any securities issued or to be issued pursuant to the Plan, including the Claimant Trust Interests, whether or not such Plan Distributions occur following the Effective Date; (iv) the implementation of the Plan; and (v) any negotiations, transactions, and documentation in connection with the foregoing clauses (i)-(iv); provided, however, the foregoing will not apply to (a) any acts or omissions of an Exculpated Party arising out of or related to acts or omissions that constitute bad faith, fraud, gross negligence, criminal misconduct, or willful misconduct or (b) Strand or any Employee other than with respect to actions taken by such Entities from the date of appointment of the Independent Directors through the Effective Date. This exculpation shall be in addition to, and not in limitation of, all other releases, indemnities, exculpations, any other applicable law or rules, or any other provisions of this Plan, including ARTICLE IV.C.2, protecting such Exculpated Parties from liability.

D. Releases by the Debtor

On and after the Effective Date, each Released Party is deemed to be, hereby conclusively, absolutely, unconditionally, irrevocably, and forever released and discharged by the Debtor and the Estate, in each case on behalf of themselves and their respective successors, assigns, and representatives, including, but not limited to, the Claimant Trust and the Litigation Sub-Trust from any and all Causes of Action, including any derivative claims, asserted on behalf of the Debtor, whether known or unknown, foreseen or unforeseen, matured or unmatured, existing or hereafter arising, in law, equity, contract, tort or otherwise, that the Debtor or the Estate would have been legally entitled to assert in their own right (whether individually or collectively) or on behalf of the holder of any Claim against, or Interest in, a Debtor or other Person.

Notwithstanding anything contained herein to the contrary, the foregoing release does not release: (i) any obligations of any party under the Plan or any document, instrument, or agreement executed to implement the Plan, (ii) the rights or obligations of any current employee of the Debtor under any employment agreement or plan, (iii) the rights of the Debtor with respect to any confidentiality provisions or covenants restricting competition in favor of the Debtor under any employment agreement with a current or former employee of the Debtor, (iv) any Avoidance Actions, or (v) any Causes of Action arising from willful misconduct, criminal misconduct, actual fraud, or gross negligence of such applicable Released Party as determined by Final Order of the Bankruptcy Court or any other court of competent jurisdiction.

Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, any release provided pursuant to this ARTICLE IX.D (i) with respect to a Senior Employee, is conditioned in all respects on (a) such Senior Employee executing a Senior Employee Stipulation on or prior to the Effective Date and (b) the reduction of such Senior Employee's Allowed Claim as set forth in the Senior Employee Stipulation (such amount, the "Reduced Employee Claim"), and (ii) with respect to any Employee, including a Senior Employee, shall be deemed null and void and of no force and effect (1) if there is more than one member of the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee who does not represent entities holding a Disputed or Allowed Claim (the "Independent Members"), the Claimant Trustee and the Independent Members by majority vote determine or (2) if there is only one Independent Member, the Independent Member after discussion with the Claimant Trustee, determines (in each case after discussing with the full Claimant Trust Oversight Committee) that such Employee (regardless of whether the Employee is then currently employed by the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trustee):

- sues, attempts to sue, or threatens or works with or assists any entity or person to sue, attempt to sue, or threaten the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trust, the Litigation

Sub-Trust, or any of their respective employees or agents, or any Released Party on or in connection with any claim or cause of action arising prior to the Effective Date,

- has taken any action that, impairs or harms the value of the Claimant Trust Assets or the Reorganized Debtor Assets, or
- (x) upon the request of the Claimant Trustee, has failed to provide reasonable assistance in good faith to the Claimant Trustee or the Reorganized Debtor with respect to (1) the monetization of the Claimant Trust Assets or Reorganized Debtor Assets, as applicable, or (2) the resolution of Claims, or (y) has taken any action that impedes or frustrates the Claimant Trustee or the Reorganized Debtor with respect to any of the foregoing.

Provided, however, that the release provided pursuant to this ARTICLE IX.D will vest and the Employee will be indefeasibly released pursuant to this ARTICLE IX.D if such Employee's release has not been deemed null and void and of no force and effect on or prior to the date that is the date of dissolution of the Claimant Trust pursuant to the Claimant Trust Agreement.

By executing the Senior Employee Stipulation embodying this release, each Senior Employee acknowledges and agrees, without limitation, to the terms of this release and the tolling agreement contained in the Senior Employee Stipulation.

The provisions of this release and the execution of a Senior Employee Stipulation will not in any way prevent or limit any Employee from (i) prosecuting its Claims, if any, against the Debtor's Estate, (ii) defending him or herself against any claims or causes of action brought against the Employee by a third party, or (iii) assisting other persons in defending themselves from any Estate Claims brought by the Litigation Trustee (but only with respect to Estate Claims brought by the Litigation Trustee and not collection or other actions brought by the Claimant Trustee).

E. Preservation of Rights of Action

1. Maintenance of Causes of Action

Except as otherwise provided in this Plan, after the Effective Date, the Reorganized Debtor or the Claimant Trust will retain all rights to commence, pursue, litigate or settle, as appropriate, any and all Causes of Action included in the Reorganized Debtor Assets or Claimant Trust Assets, as applicable, whether existing as of the Petition Date or thereafter arising, in any court or other tribunal including, without limitation, in an adversary proceeding Filed in the Chapter 11 Case and, as the successors in interest to the Debtor and the Estate, may, and will have the exclusive right to, enforce, sue on, settle, compromise, transfer or assign (or decline to do any of the foregoing) any or all of the Causes of Action without notice to or approval from the Bankruptcy Court.

2. Preservation of All Causes of Action Not Expressly Settled or Released

Unless a Cause of Action against a Holder of a Claim or an Equity Interest or other Entity is expressly waived, relinquished, released, compromised or settled in this Plan or any Final Order (including, without limitation, the Confirmation Order), such Cause of Action is expressly reserved for later adjudication by the Reorganized Debtor or Claimant Trust, as applicable (including, without limitation, Causes of Action not specifically identified or of which the Debtor may presently be unaware or that may arise or exist by reason of additional facts or circumstances unknown to the Debtor at this time or facts or circumstances that may change or be different from those the Debtor now believes to exist) and, therefore, no preclusion doctrine, including, without limitation, the doctrines of res judicata, collateral estoppel, issue preclusion, claim preclusion, waiver, estoppel (judicial, equitable or otherwise) or laches will apply to such Causes of Action as a consequence of the confirmation, effectiveness, or consummation of this Plan based on the Disclosure Statement, this Plan or the Confirmation Order, except where such Causes of Action have been expressly released in this Plan or any other Final Order (including, without limitation, the Confirmation Order). In addition, the right of the Reorganized Debtor or the Claimant Trust to pursue or adopt any claims alleged in any lawsuit in which the Debtor is a plaintiff, defendant or an interested party, against any Entity, including, without limitation, the plaintiffs or co-defendants in such lawsuits, is expressly reserved.

F. Injunction

Upon entry of the Confirmation Order, all Enjoined Parties are and shall be permanently enjoined, on and after the Effective Date, from taking any actions to interfere with the implementation or consummation of the Plan.

Except as expressly provided in the Plan, the Confirmation Order, or a separate order of the Bankruptcy Court, all Enjoined Parties are and shall be permanently enjoined, on and after the Effective Date, with respect to any Claims and Equity Interests, from directly or indirectly (i) commencing, conducting, or continuing in any manner any suit, action, or other proceeding of any kind (including any proceeding in a judicial, arbitral, administrative or other forum) against or affecting the Debtor or the property of the Debtor, (ii) enforcing, levying, attaching (including any prejudgment attachment), collecting, or otherwise recovering, enforcing, or attempting to recover or enforce, by any manner or means, any judgment, award, decree, or order against the Debtor or the property of the Debtor, (iii) creating, perfecting, or otherwise enforcing in any manner, any security interest, lien or encumbrance of any kind against the Debtor or the property of the Debtor, (iv) asserting any right of setoff, directly or indirectly, against any obligation due to the Debtor or against property or interests in property of the Debtor, except to the limited extent permitted under Sections 553 and 1141 of the Bankruptcy Code, and (v) acting or proceeding in any manner, in any place whatsoever, that does not conform to or comply with the provisions of the Plan.

The injunctions set forth herein shall extend to, and apply to any act of the type set forth in any of clauses (i)-(v) of the immediately preceding paragraph against any successors of the Debtor, including, but not limited to, the Reorganized Debtor, the Litigation Sub-Trust, and the Claimant Trust and their respective property and interests in property.

Subject in all respects to ARTICLE XII.D, no Enjoined Party may commence or pursue a claim or cause of action of any kind against any Protected Party that arose or arises from or is related to the Chapter 11 Case, the negotiation of the Plan, the administration of the Plan or property to be distributed under the Plan, the wind down of the business of the Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, the administration of the Claimant Trust or the Litigation Sub-Trust, or the transactions in furtherance of the foregoing without the Bankruptcy Court

(i) first determining, after notice and a hearing, that such claim or cause of action represents a colorable claim of any kind, including, but not limited to, negligence, bad faith, criminal misconduct, willful misconduct, fraud, or gross negligence against a Protected Party and (ii) specifically authorizing such Enjoined Party to bring such claim or cause of action against any such Protected Party; provided, however, the foregoing will not apply to a claim or cause of action against Strand or against any Employee other than with respect to actions taken, respectively, by Strand or by such Employee from the date of appointment of the Independent Directors through the Effective Date. The Bankruptcy Court will have sole and exclusive jurisdiction to determine whether a claim or cause of action is colorable and, only to the extent legally permissible and as provided for in ARTICLE XI, shall have jurisdiction to adjudicate the underlying colorable claim or cause of action.

G. Duration of Injunctions and Stays

ARTICLE II. Unless otherwise provided in this Plan, in the Confirmation Order, or in a Final Order of the Bankruptcy Court, (i) all injunctions and stays entered during the Chapter 11 Case and in existence on the Confirmation Date shall remain in full force and effect in accordance with their terms; and (ii) the automatic stay arising under section 362 of the Bankruptcy Code shall remain in full force and effect subject to Section 362(c) of the Bankruptcy Code, and to the extent necessary if the Debtor does not receive a discharge, the Court will enter an equivalent order under Section 105.

H. Continuance of January 9 Order

Unless otherwise provided in this Plan, in the Confirmation Order, or in a Final Order of the Bankruptcy Court, the restrictions set forth in paragraphs 9 and 10 of the Order Approving Settlement with Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors Regarding Governance of the Debtor and Procedures for Operations in the Ordinary Course, entered by the Bankruptcy Court on January 9, 2020 [D.I. 339] shall remain in full force and effect following the Effective Date.

ARTICLE X.
BINDING NATURE OF PLAN

On the Effective Date, and effective as of the Effective Date, the Plan, including, without limitation, the provisions in ARTICLE IX, will bind, and will be deemed binding upon, all Holders of Claims against and Equity Interests in the Debtor and such Holder's respective successors and assigns, to the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, notwithstanding whether or not such Holder will receive or retain any property or interest in property under the Plan. All Claims and Debts shall be fixed and adjusted pursuant to this Plan. The Plan shall also bind any taxing authority, recorder of deeds, or similar official for any county, state, Governmental Unit or parish in which any instrument related to the Plan or related to any transaction contemplated thereby is to be recorded with respect to any taxes of the kind specified in Bankruptcy Code section 1146(a).

ARTICLE XI.
RETENTION OF JURISDICTION

Pursuant to sections 105 and 1142 of the Bankruptcy Code and notwithstanding the entry of the Confirmation Order and the occurrence of the Effective Date, the Bankruptcy Court shall, after the Effective Date, retain such jurisdiction over the Chapter 11 Case and all Entities with respect to all matters related to the Chapter 11 Case, the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trust, and this Plan to the maximum extent legally permissible, including, without limitation, jurisdiction to:

- allow, disallow, determine, liquidate, classify, estimate or establish the priority, secured, unsecured, or subordinated status of any Claim or Equity Interest, including, without limitation, the resolution of any request for payment of any Administrative Expense Claim and the resolution of any and all objections to the allowance or priority of any Claim or Equity Interest;
- grant or deny any applications for allowance of compensation or reimbursement of expenses authorized pursuant to the Bankruptcy Code or this Plan, for periods ending on or before the Effective Date; provided, however, that, from and after the Effective Date, the Reorganized Debtor shall pay Professionals in the ordinary course of business for any work performed after the Effective Date subject to the terms of this Plan and the Confirmation Order, and such payment shall not be subject to the approval of the Bankruptcy Court;
- resolve any matters related to the assumption, assignment or rejection of any Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease to which the Debtor is party or with respect to which the Debtor, Reorganized Debtor, or Claimant Trust may be liable and to adjudicate and, if necessary, liquidate, any Claims arising therefrom, including, without limitation, any dispute regarding whether a contract or lease is or was executory or expired;
- make any determination with respect to a claim or cause of action against a Protected Party as set forth in ARTICLE IX;
- resolve any claim or cause of action against an Exculpated Party or Protected Party arising from or related to the Chapter 11 Case, the negotiation of this Plan, the administration of the Plan or property to be distributed under the Plan, the wind down of the business of the Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, or the transactions in furtherance of the foregoing;
- if requested by the Reorganized Debtor or the Claimant Trustee, authorize, approve, and allow any sale, disposition, assignment or other transfer of the Reorganized Debtor Assets or Claimant Trust Assets, including any break-up compensation or expense reimbursement that may be requested by a purchaser thereof; provided, however, that neither the Reorganized Debtor nor the Claimant Trustee shall be required to seek such authority or approval from the Bankruptcy Court unless otherwise specifically required by this Plan or the Confirmation Order;

- if requested by the Reorganized Debtor or the Claimant Trustee, authorize, approve, and allow any borrowing or the incurrence of indebtedness, whether secured or unsecured by the Reorganized Debtor or Claimant Trust; provided, however, that neither the Reorganized Debtor nor the Claimant Trustee shall be required to seek such authority or approval from the Bankruptcy Court unless otherwise specifically required by this Plan or the Confirmation Order;
- resolve any issues related to any matters adjudicated in the Chapter 11 Case;
- ensure that distributions to Holders of Allowed Claims and Allowed Equity Interests are accomplished pursuant to the provisions of this Plan;
- decide or resolve any motions, adversary proceedings, contested or litigated matters and any other Causes of Action (including Estate Claims) that are pending as of the Effective Date or that may be commenced in the future, including approval of any settlements, compromises, or other resolutions as may be requested by the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trustee, or the Litigation Trustee whether under Bankruptcy Rule 9019 or otherwise, and grant or deny any applications involving the Debtor that may be pending on the Effective Date or instituted by the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trustee, or Litigation Trustee after the Effective Date, provided that the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trustee, and the Litigation Trustee shall reserve the right to commence actions in all appropriate forums and jurisdictions;
- enter such orders as may be necessary or appropriate to implement, effectuate, or consummate the provisions of this Plan, the Plan Documents, and all other contracts, instruments, releases, and other agreements or documents adopted in connection with this Plan, the Plan Documents, or the Disclosure Statement;
- resolve any cases, controversies, suits or disputes that may arise in connection with the implementation, effectiveness, consummation, interpretation, or enforcement of this Plan or any Entity's obligations incurred in connection with this Plan;
- issue injunctions and enforce them, enter and implement other orders or take such other actions as may be necessary or appropriate to restrain interference by any Entity with implementation, effectiveness, consummation, or enforcement of this Plan, except as otherwise provided in this Plan;
- enforce the terms and conditions of this Plan and the Confirmation Order;
- resolve any cases, controversies, suits or disputes with respect to the release, exculpation, indemnification, and other provisions contained herein and enter such orders or take such others actions as may be necessary or appropriate to implement or enforce all such releases, injunctions and other provisions;
- enter and implement such orders or take such others actions as may be necessary or appropriate if the Confirmation Order is modified, stayed, reversed, revoked or vacated;

- resolve any other matters that may arise in connection with or relate to this Plan, the Disclosure Statement, the Confirmation Order, the Plan Documents, or any contract, instrument, release, indenture or other agreement or document adopted in connection with this Plan or the Disclosure Statement; and
- enter an order concluding or closing the Chapter 11 Case after the Effective Date.

ARTICLE XII. MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

A. Payment of Statutory Fees and Filing of Reports

All outstanding Statutory Fees shall be paid on the Effective Date. All such fees payable, and all such fees that become due and payable, after the Effective Date shall be paid by the Reorganized Debtor when due or as soon thereafter as practicable until the Chapter 11 Case is closed, converted, or dismissed. The Claimant Trustee shall File all quarterly reports due prior to the Effective Date when they become due, in a form reasonably acceptable to the U.S. Trustee. After the Effective Date, the Claimant Trustee shall File with the Bankruptcy Court quarterly reports when they become due, in a form reasonably acceptable to the U.S. Trustee. The Reorganized Debtor shall remain obligated to pay Statutory Fees to the Office of the U.S. Trustee until the earliest of the Debtor's case being closed, dismissed, or converted to a case under chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code.

B. Modification of Plan

Effective as of the date hereof and subject to the limitations and rights contained in this Plan: (a) the Debtor reserves the right, in accordance with the Bankruptcy Code and the Bankruptcy Rules, to amend or modify this Plan prior to the entry of the Confirmation Order with the consent of the Committee, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld; and (b) after the entry of the Confirmation Order, the Debtor may, after notice and hearing and entry of an order of the Bankruptcy Court, amend or modify this Plan, in accordance with section 1127(b) of the Bankruptcy Code or remedy any defect or omission or reconcile any inconsistency in this Plan in such manner as may be necessary to carry out the purpose and intent of this Plan.

C. Revocation of Plan

The Debtor reserves the right to revoke or withdraw this Plan prior to the Confirmation Date and to File a subsequent chapter 11 plan with the consent of the Committee. If the Debtor revokes or withdraws this Plan prior to the Confirmation Date, then: (i) this Plan shall be null and void in all respects; (ii) any settlement or compromise embodied in this Plan, assumption of Executory Contracts or Unexpired Leases effected by this Plan and any document or agreement executed pursuant hereto shall be deemed null and void except as may be set forth in a separate order entered by the Bankruptcy Court; and (iii) nothing contained in this Plan shall: (a) constitute a waiver or release of any Claims by or against, or any Equity Interests in, the Debtor or any other Entity; (b) prejudice in any manner the rights of the Debtor or any other Entity; or (c) constitute an admission, acknowledgement, offer or undertaking of any sort by the Debtor or any other Entity.

D. Obligations Not Changed

Notwithstanding anything in this Plan to the contrary, nothing herein will affect or otherwise limit or release any non-Debtor Entity's (including any Exculpated Party's) duties or obligations, including any contractual and indemnification obligations, to the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or any other Entity whether arising under contract, statute, or otherwise.

E. Entire Agreement

Except as otherwise described herein, this Plan supersedes all previous and contemporaneous negotiations, promises, covenants, agreements, understandings, and representations on such subjects, all of which have become merged and integrated into this Plan.

F. Closing of Chapter 11 Case

The Claimant Trustee shall, after the Effective Date and promptly after the full administration of the Chapter 11 Case, File with the Bankruptcy Court all documents required by Bankruptcy Rule 3022 and any applicable order of the Bankruptcy Court to close the Chapter 11 Case.

G. Successors and Assigns

This Plan shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the Debtor and its successors and assigns, including, without limitation, the Reorganized Debtor and the Claimant Trustee. The rights, benefits, and obligations of any Person or Entity named or referred to in this Plan shall be binding on, and shall inure to the benefit of, any heir, executor, administrator, successor, or assign of such Person or Entity.

H. Reservation of Rights

Except as expressly set forth herein, this Plan shall have no force or effect unless and until the Bankruptcy Court enters the Confirmation Order and the Effective Date occurs. Neither the filing of this Plan, any statement or provision contained herein, nor the taking of any action by the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trustee, or any other Entity with respect to this Plan shall be or shall be deemed to be an admission or waiver of any rights of: (1) the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trustee with respect to the Holders of Claims or Equity Interests or other Entity; or (2) any Holder of a Claim or an Equity Interest or other Entity prior to the Effective Date.

Neither the exclusion or inclusion by the Debtor of any contract or lease on any exhibit, schedule, or other annex to this Plan or in the Plan Documents, nor anything contained in this Plan, will constitute an admission by the Debtor that any such contract or lease is or is not an executory contract or lease or that the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trustee, or their respective Affiliates has any liability thereunder.

Except as explicitly provided in this Plan, nothing herein shall waive, excuse, limit, diminish, or otherwise alter any of the defenses, claims, Causes of Action, or other rights of the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trustee under any executory or non-executory contract.

Nothing in this Plan will increase, augment, or add to any of the duties, obligations, responsibilities, or liabilities of the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trustee, as applicable, under any executory or non-executory contract or lease.

If there is a dispute regarding whether a contract or lease is or was executory at the time of its assumption under this Plan, the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trustee, as applicable, shall have thirty (30) days following entry of a Final Order resolving such dispute to alter their treatment of such contract.

I. Further Assurances

The Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trustee, as applicable, all Holders of Claims and Equity Interests receiving distributions hereunder, and all other Entities shall, from time to time, prepare, execute and deliver any agreements or documents and take any other actions as may be necessary or advisable to effectuate the provisions and intent of this Plan or the Confirmation Order. On or before the Effective Date, the Debtor shall File with the Bankruptcy Court all agreements and other documents that may be necessary or appropriate to effectuate and further evidence the terms and conditions hereof.

J. Severability

If, prior to the Confirmation Date, any term or provision of this Plan is determined by the Bankruptcy Court to be invalid, void, or unenforceable, the Bankruptcy Court will have the power to alter and interpret such term or provision to make it valid or enforceable to the maximum extent practicable, consistent with the original purpose of the term or provision held to be invalid, void, or unenforceable, and such term or provision will then be applicable as altered or interpreted. Notwithstanding any such holding, alteration or interpretation, the remainder of the terms and provisions of this Plan will remain in full force and effect and will in no way be affected, impaired, or invalidated by such holding, alteration, or interpretation. The Confirmation Order will constitute a judicial determination and will provide that each term and provision of this Plan, as it may have been altered or interpreted in accordance with the foregoing, is valid and enforceable pursuant to its terms.

K. Service of Documents

All notices, requests, and demands to or upon the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trustee to be effective shall be in writing and, unless otherwise expressly provided herein, shall be deemed to have been duly given or made when actually delivered addressed as follows:

L. Exemption from Certain Transfer Taxes Pursuant to Section 1146(a) of the Bankruptcy Code

To the extent permitted by applicable law, pursuant to section 1146(a) of the Bankruptcy Code, any transfers of property pursuant hereto shall not be subject to any Stamp or Similar Tax or governmental assessment in the United States, and the Confirmation Order shall direct the appropriate federal, state or local governmental officials or agents or taxing authority to forego the collection of any such Stamp or Similar Tax or governmental assessment and to accept for filing and recordation instruments or other documents pursuant to such transfers of property without the payment of any such Stamp or Similar Tax or governmental assessment. Such exemption specifically applies, without limitation, to (i) all actions, agreements and documents necessary to evidence and implement the provisions of and the distributions to be made under this Plan; (ii) the maintenance or creation of security or any Lien as contemplated by this Plan; and (iii) assignments, sales, or transfers executed in connection with any transaction occurring under this Plan.

M. Governing Law

Except to the extent that the Bankruptcy Code, the Bankruptcy Rules or other federal law is applicable, or to the extent that an exhibit or schedule to this Plan provides otherwise, the rights and obligations arising under this Plan shall be governed by, and construed and enforced in accordance with, the laws of Texas, without giving effect to the principles of conflicts of law of such jurisdiction; provided, however, that corporate governance matters relating to the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, New GP LLC, or the Claimant Trust, as applicable, shall be governed by the laws of the state of organization of the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, New GP LLC, or the Claimant Trustee, as applicable.

N. Tax Reporting and Compliance

The Debtor is hereby authorized to request an expedited determination under section 505(b) of the Bankruptcy Code of the tax liability of the Debtor is for all taxable periods ending after the Petition Date through, and including, the Effective Date.

O. Exhibits and Schedules

All exhibits and schedules to this Plan, if any, including the Exhibits and the Plan Documents, are incorporated and are a part of this Plan as if set forth in full herein.

P. Controlling Document

In the event of an inconsistency between this Plan and any other instrument or document created or executed pursuant to this Plan, or between this Plan and the Disclosure Statement, this Plan shall control. The provisions of this Plan, the Disclosure Statement, and any Plan Document, on the one hand, and of the Confirmation Order, on the other hand, shall be construed in a manner consistent with each other so as to effectuate the purposes of each; provided, however, that if there is determined to be any inconsistency between any provision of this Plan, the Disclosure Statement, and any Plan Document, on the one hand, and any provision of the Confirmation Order, on the other hand, that cannot be so reconciled, then, solely to the extent of such inconsistency, the provisions of the Confirmation Order shall govern, and any such provisions of the Confirmation Order shall be deemed a modification of this Plan, the Disclosure Statement, and the Plan Documents, as applicable.

DEBTOR'S RESPONSE TO MR. JAMES DONDERO'S MOTION FOR ENTRY OF AN ORDER REQUIRING NOTICE AND HEARING FOR FUTURE ESTATE TRANSACTIONS OCCURRING OUTSIDE THE ORDINARY COURSE OF BUSINESS

The above-captioned debtor and debtor in possession (the “Debtor”) hereby submits this response (the “Response”) to James Dondero’s Motion for Entry of an Order Requiring Notice and Hearing for Future Estate Transactions Occurring Outside the Ordinary Course of Business [Docket No. 1439] (the “Motion”).<sup>2</sup> In support of the Response, the Debtor respectfully states as follows:

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

1. Through the Motion, Mr. James Dondero seeks entry of an order requiring the Debtor to obtain court approval before engaging in transactions outside the ordinary course of its business. Essentially, the Motion argues that the Protocols, which were approved by the Court approximately eleven months ago with Mr. Dondero’s consent, permit the Debtor to engage in transactions that violate 11 U.S.C. § 363. The Motion reflects a profound misunderstanding of the Protocols and the types of transactions the Bankruptcy Code requires be brought to the Court for approval.

2. Given the Debtor’s business as an investment manager, the Debtor proactively sought Court approval at the beginning of the case to define which of the Debtor’s day-to-day activities were ordinary course and could be completed without Court oversight. After weeks of negotiations, the Debtor and the Committee agreed on the Protocols, which govern those ordinary course transactions. The Protocols provided the Committee with enhanced notice rights with respect to what would otherwise be ordinary course transactions and which would not require Court approval. The Debtor never intended the Protocols to apply to out of the ordinary course transactions for which separate approval would be required under section 363(b). In fact, the Debtor emphasized this point to the Court at the January 9, 2020, hearing at which the Court approved the Protocols.

3. Regardless, the Motion's real argument is that certain transactions superficially identified in the Motion were outside of the ordinary course of business and required Court approval. The Motion, however, conflates the Debtor's obligation to seek Court approval for out of the ordinary course transactions involving the sale of the Debtor's assets with restrictions on the Debtor's ability to exercise its role as an investment manager and to sell assets of the Debtor's managed investment vehicles. There is no restriction on the Debtor fulfilling its role as an investment manager in the Bankruptcy Code.

4. On December 10, 2020, the Court entered the Order Granting Debtor's Motion for a Temporary Restraining Order against James Dondero, Adv. Proc. No. 20-03190-sgj [Adv. Docket No. 10] (the "TRO"). The TRO was necessitated by Mr. Dondero's unlawful interference in the Debtor's business operations and threats made by Mr. Dondero to Mr. Seery and the Debtor's employees. Faced with the impending confirmation of the Debtor's Plan and the rejection of Mr. Dondero's alternative plan, Mr. Dondero is again attempting to impede the Debtor's operations and the Debtor's efforts to maximize value. The Court should see through Mr. Dondero's pre-textual arguments for transparency and deny the Motion.<sup>3</sup>

REPLY

I. The Protocols Do Not Authorize Sales Outside of the Ordinary Course

5. In the Motion, Mr. Dondero contends that the Protocols allow the Debtor to sell assets outside of the ordinary course of business without having to satisfy the requirements of the Bankruptcy Code. That contention is false. The Protocols were instituted as part of a global settlement with the Committee and were intended to limit the Debtor's ability to transfer assets away from the estate and the reach of the Debtor's creditors. The Protocols were adopted because of the myriad and substantial allegations that the Debtor – then under the control of Mr. Dondero – had engaged in repeated fraudulent and impermissible transfers intended to frustrate creditor recoveries and hide assets. In negotiating the Protocols, the Debtor and the Committee intended the Protocols to apply only to (i) transactions within the “ordinary course of business” (i.e., transactions that the Debtor could have completed without the need to come to this Court) or (ii) transactions occurring at non-Debtor entities that were otherwise arguably outside of this Court's jurisdiction and oversight. The Debtor was clear about this at the hearing approving the Protocols.<sup>4</sup>

6. The Protocols do not apply to transactions “outside of the ordinary course of business” because those transactions would always be subject to this Court's jurisdiction and require notice and a hearing. In other words, the Debtor and the Committee did not need to negotiate safeguards with respect to transactions outside the ordinary course. Those safeguards were already imposed by the Bankruptcy Code and have been honored by the Debtor (and the Committee) throughout this case. Further, the Protocols were approved by Mr. Dondero and have not been challenged by any party until now.

7. Again, the Protocols do not allow transactions outside the ordinary course of

The third major aspect of the term sheet, Your Honor, was the agreement on operating protocols, and it really relates to the ground rules for the Debtor's operations going forward and when notice to the Committee is required of certain transactions that would otherwise be in the ordinary course of business.

Importantly, Your Honor, we are not trying to modify the Bankruptcy Code in any way. Any transactions out of the ordinary course of business would still be subject to Your Honor's approval.

However, in this case. . . whether or not something is ordinary is not straightforward in a case such as the Debtor's, given the nature of the Debtor's operations. So we thought it was important to establish ground rules up front, and establishing those ground rules was one of the things we did initially in the case. We had opposition from the Committee, and we've worked through the opposition and ultimately arrived at the operating protocols that are attached to the term sheet.

business in violation of 11 U.S.C. § 363(b), and, for the avoidance of doubt, the Debtor will seek this Court's approval prior to conducting any transaction that would be outside the ordinary course of the Debtor's business.

II. The Debtor Has Not Conducted Sales Outside of the Ordinary Course of Business

8. Mr. Dondero also argues, without factual support or specificity, that the Debtor has conducted a number of substantial asset sales outside of the ordinary course of business and that the Debtor's non-debtor subsidiaries have also conducted significant asset sales without complying with the Bankruptcy Code. Both of these arguments fail.

The Asset Sales Mentioned in the Motion Did Not Involve Property of the Estate

9. Mr. Dondero alleges that three sales violated 11 U.S.C. § 363: sales conducted by the Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, L.P. ("MSCF"), Highland Restoration Capital Partners, L.P. ("RCP"), and the sale of SSPI Holdings, Inc. ("SSPI").<sup>5</sup> These sales were subject to the Protocols (and consistent with the Protocols, each sale was approved by the Committee); however, they were not subject to 11 U.S.C. § 363(b).

10. Section 363(b) applies to "property of the estate." 11 U.S.C. § 363(b)(1) ("The trustee, after notice and a hearing, may use, sell, or lease, other than in the ordinary course of business, property of the estate. . . .") (emphasis added). In the Motion, Mr. Dondero asserts – without support – that sales of assets owned by subsidiaries of the Debtor must comply with 11 U.S.C. § 363. However, the assets of a debtor's non-debtor subsidiaries are not property of a debtor's estate. See, e.g., In re Guyana Dev. Corp., 168 B.R. 892, 905 (Bankr. S.D. Tex. 1994) ("As a general rule, property of the estate includes the debtor's stock in a subsidiary but not the assets of the subsidiary."); see also Parkview-Gem, Inc., 516 F.2d 807, 809 (8th Cir. 1975)

<sup>5</sup> In the Motion, Mr. Dondero refers to SSP Holdings generically as a subsidiary of "Trussway." (Motion ¶13). The actual entity that was sold was SSPI.

(“Ownership of all of the outstanding stock of a corporation, however, is not the equivalent of ownership of the subsidiary’s property or assets. . . Even though the value of the subsidiary’s outstanding shares owned by the debtor may be directly affected by the subsidiary’s disputes with third parties,’ Congress did not give the bankruptcy court exclusive jurisdiction over all controversies that in some way affect the debtor’s estate.’”) (citing In re Beck Indus., Inc., 479 F.2d 410 (2d Cir. 1973)).

11. Further, while the Debtor has certain control rights over RCP, MSCF, and SSPI, those rights do not make the assets of RCP, MSCF, and SSPI property of the Debtor’s estate. See In re Thomas, 2020 Bankr. LEXIS 1364 at *31 (Bankr. W.D. Tenn. 2020) (a debtor’s membership interest in an LLC, including both its economic rights and governance rights, became property of the estate on the petition date, but the assets of the LLC remain separate and the debtor must manage them consistent with the terms of the operating agreement and applicable law); In re Cardinal Indus., 105 B.R. 834, 849 (Bankr. S.D. Ohio 1989) (a debtor’s ownership interests and control rights in non-debtor partnerships were property of the estate; but those rights did not make the assets of the partnership property of the estate or implicate the automatic stay so as to prevent secured creditors of the non-debtor partnerships from foreclosing on properties of the partnerships).

12. None of RCP, MSCF, or SSPI is a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Debtor and each has meaningful third party investors. The assets of those entities – and by extension the interests of the third party investors – are not property of the estate and, therefore, are not subject to 11 U.S.C. § 363(b). The assets of these entities are only subject to this Court’s oversight because of the agreement the Debtor reached with the Committee to enter into and be bound by the Protocols.

13. Further, in the Motion, Mr. Dondero focuses on 11 U.S.C. § 363(b), but ignores 11 U.S.C. § 363(c)(1), which grants the Debtor the authority to operate its business in the ordinary course without notice or hearing. Specifically, section 363(c)(1) provides:

[i]f the business of the debtor is authorized to be operated under section. . . 1108. . . of this title... the trustee may enter into transactions, including the sale or lease of property of the estate, in the ordinary course of business, without notice or a hearing, and may use property of the estate in the ordinary course of business without notice or a hearing.

11 U.S.C. § 363(c)(1). As such, a debtor may enter into post-petition transactions, including the sale or lease of its property, if the debtor is authorized to operate its business under section 1108 and such transactions are “in the ordinary course of business.”

14. An activity is “ordinary course” if it satisfies both the “horizontal test” and the “vertical test.” See, e.g., Denton Cty. Elec. Coop. v. Eldorado Ranch, Ltd. (In re Denton Cty. Elec. Coop.), 281 B.R. 876, 882 n.12 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. 2002); see also In re Roth American, Inc., 975 F.2d 949, 952 (3d Cir. 1992). The vertical test looks to “whether the transaction subjects a hypothetical creditor to a different economic risk than existed when the creditor originally extended credit.” In re Patriot Place, Ltd., 486 B.R. 773, 793 (Bankr. W.D. Tex. 2013). The horizontal test considers “whether the transaction was of the sort commonly undertaken by companies in the industry.” Id. As such, even if the MSCF, RCP, and SSPI asset sales mentioned in the Motion were subject to this Court’s jurisdiction (and they were not), they are allowed by the Bankruptcy Code because they are within the ordinary course of the Debtor’s business.

15. First, the vertical test is satisfied with respect to such sales. As Mr. Dondero knows, the Debtor is an investment manager and its business is buying and selling assets on behalf of its managed investment vehicles. As such, any creditor of the Debtor (with the potential exception of Mr. Dondero) would expect the Debtor to continue buying and selling assets; that is what the Debtor does. The MSCF, RCP, and SSPI sales are thus consistent with the expectations of the Debtor's creditors and the Debtor's obligations to MSCF, RCP, and SSPI.<sup>6</sup> See Thomas, 2020 Bankr. LEXIS 1364 at *31. The MSCF, RCP, and SSPI sales are examples of the Debtor selling assets on behalf of a managed investment vehicles and include no different economic risk than existed prepetition. Because the Debtor is engaging in the same conduct post-petition as it did prepetition (which is what debtors-in-possession are intended and expected to do under 11 U.S.C. § 1107 of the Bankruptcy Code), the Debtor's creditors will incur no additional risk. This risk is further mitigated because any such sales will be authorized by the Debtor's new management, not Mr. Dondero.

16. Second, the horizontal test is satisfied. The Debtor, again, is an investment manager. Investment managers manage investment vehicles and by definition, buy and sell assets and distribute the proceeds of those assets to investors. The sales referenced in the Motion are consistent with that business as they are the sales of assets held by managed investment vehicles – some of which are currently in orderly liquidation. Selling assets is the Debtor's industry, and the sales referenced in the Motion are the sorts of sales commonly conducted in the industry. The Debtor is thus simply operating post-petition in the same manner it did prepetition, albeit under Court-mandated new management. Consequently, the horizontal test is also satisfied.

17. Regardless, if the Court believes the Debtor should be required to justify its conduct, the Debtor is ready to do so as it has acted, in all instances, in a commercially reasonable manner and in the best interests of the Debtor's estate and the stakeholders of MSCF,

<sup>6</sup> In fact, creditors should support the asset sales and such sales were supported by the Committee. The sales liquidated assets at non-Debtor entities to which the Debtor's creditors had no recourse and the net proceeds of those sales were distributed, in part, to the Debtor, to which the Debtor's creditors have recourse.

RCP, and SSPL.<sup>7</sup>

III. Mr. Dondero Has a De Minimis Interest in the Debtor

18. In the Motion, Mr. Dondero asserts he is a “creditor, indirect equity security holder, and party in interest” in the Debtor’s bankruptcy. While that claim is ostensibly true, it is tenuous. Mr. Dondero filed five proofs of claim in the Debtor’s bankruptcy case. Two of those proofs of claim were withdrawn with prejudice on November 23, 2020 [Docket No. 1460]. The other three are unliquidated, contingent claims, each of which said that Mr. Dondero would “update his claim in the next ninety days.” Ninety days has passed since those proofs of claim were filed and yet Mr. Dondero has not updated those claims to assert an actual claim against the Debtor’s estate.<sup>8</sup>

19. Mr. Dondero’s claim as an “indirect equity security holder” is also a stretch. Mr. Dondero holds no direct equity interest in the Debtor. Mr. Dondero instead owns 100% of Strand Advisors, Inc. (“Strand”), the Debtor’s general partner. Strand, however, holds only 0.25% of the total limited partnership interests in the Debtor through its ownership of Class A limited partnership interests. The Class A limited partnership interests are junior in priority of distribution to the Debtor’s Class B and Class C limited partnership interests. The Class A interests are also junior to all other claims filed against the Debtor. Finally, Mr. Dondero’s recovery on his indirect equity interest is junior to any claims against Strand itself. Consequently, before Mr. Dondero can recover on his “indirect” equity interest, the Debtor’s estate must be solvent, priority distributions to Class B and Class C creditors must be satisfied, and all claims against Strand must be paid.

<sup>7</sup> The Dugaboy Investment Trust (“Dugaboy”) – Mr. Dondero’s family trust and a limited partner in MSCF – filed a proof of claim [Claim No. 177] asserting that the Debtor mismanaged MSCF during the pendency of the bankruptcy by causing MSCF to sell certain of its assets [Docket No. 1154] (the “Dugaboy Claim”). The Debtor believes that the sales discussed in the Dugaboy Claim are the same MSCF sales alluded to in the Motion. The Debtor is currently negotiating a briefing and discovery schedule with respect to the Dugaboy Claim with Mr. Dondero’s counsel – which also represents Dugaboy. Consequently, even if the Motion is denied, the Debtor will still be required to account for its conduct with respect to the MSCF sales.

20. Consequently, although in a purely technical sense Mr. Dondero may have standing as a “creditor” to object to asset sales, his standing is attenuated and his chances of recovery in this case are speculative. See In re Kutner, 3 B.R. 422, 425 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. 1980) (finding that a party had standing only when it had “pecuniary interest. . . directly affected by the bankruptcy proceeding”); see also In re Flintkote Co. 486 B.R. 99, 114-15 (Bankr. D. Del. 2012), aff’d. 526 B.R. 515 (D. Del. 2014) (a claim that is speculative cannot confer party in interest standing).

21. Mr. Dondero’s minimal interest in the estate should not allow him to control the disposition of assets in the ordinary course of the Debtor’s business, especially when those asset sales have the blessing of the Debtor’s actual creditors and constituents. As the court said in In re Lionel (a case cited by Mr. Dondero), “a bankruptcy judge must not blindly follow the hue and cry of the most vocal special interest groups; rather, [the judge] should consider all salient factors. . . and . . . act to further the diverse interests of the debtor, creditors and equity holders, alike.” 722 F.2d 1063, 1071 (2d Cir. 1983). Mr. Dondero’s attempt to re-assert his lost control over the Debtor should be rejected and the Motion should be denied.

WHEREFORE, for the reasons set forth above, the Debtor respectfully requests that the Court deny the Motion.

Dated: December 11, 2020.

Counsel for the Debtor and Debtor-in-Possession

BACKGROUND

1. On March 29, 2021, the Plaintiffs (“UBS”) filed a Motion for Leave to File Adversary Complaint and Other Materials Under Seal in the main bankruptcy case.<sup>2</sup> That same day, the Debtor filed a Motion for Leave to File under Seal the Debtor’s Statement with Respect to UBS’s Motion for Leave to File Adversary Complaint and Other Materials Under Seal.<sup>3</sup> Two days later, the Court granted UBS’ motion on March 31, 2021,<sup>4</sup> and UBS commenced this adversary proceeding that same day under seal. The next day, on April 1, 2021, the Court granted the Debtor’s motion and the Debtor filed its statement under seal.<sup>5</sup> On April 9, 2021, the Court entered a TRO in this adversary proceeding enjoining the Debtor from making payments to certain entities not named in this adversary proceeding.<sup>6</sup>

2. While the events above were unfolding, UBS sent a document preservation letter to the Movant dated March 30, 2021,<sup>7</sup> and the Debtor followed with a similar letter dated March 31, 2021.<sup>8</sup> The Debtor’s letter states that “UBS has recently commenced an adversary proceeding against [the Debtor]”<sup>9</sup> such that the Preservation Letters appear related to this suit.

3. On April 1, 2021, UBS' counsel issued two subpoenas addressed to the Movant and requested undersigned counsel to accept service.<sup>10,11</sup> The Subpoenas have not been served as of this time. The Subpoenas commanded: (a) production by April 9, 2021, at 9 a.m.; and (b) appearance at deposition on April 16, 2021.

SUMMARY OF ARGUMENTS

4. UBS seeks discovery on a schedule that it cannot get absent stipulation because: “[a] subpoena served on a third party . . . is subject to the same standards that govern discovery between the parties[.]” Ortiz v. Follin, No. 16-cv-02559-MSK-MEH, 2017 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 113143, at *5 (D. Colo. July 20, 2017) (citing Segura v. Allstate Fire & Cas. Ins. Co., No. 16-cv-00047-NYW, 2016 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 188003, 2016 WL 8737864, at *5 (D. Colo. Oct. 11, 2016)), and “ . . . subpoenas . . . are subject to the same time constraints that apply to all of the other methods of formal discovery[.]” Nicholas v. Wyndham Int’l, Inc., No. 2001/147-M/R, 2003 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 24085, at *5-6, 2003 WL 23198847 (D.V.I. Oct. 1, 2003) (quoting Dreyer v. GACS, Inc., 204 F.R.D. 120, 122 (N.D. Ind. 2001) (followed by Williamson v. Horizon Lines, LLC, 248 F.R.D. 79, 83 (D. Me. 2008)); Dockery v. Horvath, No. 3:11cv408-TSL-MTP, 2011 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 124997, at *4 (S.D. Miss. Oct. 27, 2011). If a Rule 26(f) conference occurred between UBS and the Debtor during the first two days of this adversary proceeding, this apparently friendly-party litigation could be attempting to prejudice the rights of a nonparty in violation of established discovery rules.

<sup>11</sup> Counsel, at this point, is not authorized to accept service. However, out of an abundance of caution, this motion is being filed at this time to preserve all rights. In conjunction herewith, a separate but related motion to reconsider sealing is being filed by Movant.

5. If no Rule 26(f) conference occurred before UBS issued the Deposition Subpoena (and this adversary proceeding is not exempt under FED. R. CIV. P. (“Rule”) 26(a)(1)(B)),<sup>12</sup> Rule 30(a)(2)(A)(iii) required the Plaintiffs to obtain leave of court before issuing it. Rule 30(a)(2)(A)(iii) prohibits commanding a deposition “ . . . before the time specified in Rule 26(d) . . .” without having “ . . . the party certif[y] in the notice, with supporting facts, that the deponent is expected to leave the United States and be unavailable for examination in this country after that time[.]”; see Notice of Deposition at Ex. 5 (including no such certification or supporting facts). The Deposition Subpoena “is thus invalid.” Burdick v. Union Sec. Ins. Co., 2008 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 99994, at *12 (C.D. Cal. Dec. 3, 2008) (“Plaintiff issued a [Rule 30] deposition notice without leave of court, despite the requirement of [Rule 30(a)(2)]. The notice is thus invalid.”) (emphasis added) (citing Ameristar v. Signal Composites, 244 F.3d 189, 192 (1st Cir. 2001)). While a court must grant leave consistent with this rule when asked, the process is still required. Id.

6. Unlike the Deposition Subpoena, the Production Subpoena fails whether it was issued before, or after, a Rule 26(f) conference. It is “invalid[.]” id., if issued prematurely because “[r]ule 26(d)(1) provides that ‘[a] party may not seek discovery from any source before the parties have conferred as required by Rule 26(f), except ... when authorized ... by court order.’” BKGTH

- (i) an action for review on an administrative record;
- (ii) a forfeiture action in rem arising from a federal statute;
- (iii) a petition for habeas corpus or any other proceeding to challenge a criminal conviction or sentence;
- (iv) an action brought without an attorney by a person in the custody of the United States, a state, or a state subdivision;
- (v) an action to enforce or quash an administrative summons or subpoena;
- (vi) an action by the United States to recover benefit payments;
- (vii) an action by the United States to collect on a student loan guaranteed by the United States;
- (viii) a proceeding ancillary to a proceeding in another court; and
- (ix) an action to enforce an arbitration award.

The Debtor’s Letter at Ex. 2 makes it unlikely that this adversary proceeding falls within the above list, but the Movant cannot access the sealed adversary complaint and is uncertain on this point.

Prods., LLC v. Doe, 2013 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 140924 (E.D. La. Sep. 30, 2013) (quoting St. Louis Group, Inc. v. Metals and Additives Corp., Inc. et al., 275 F.R.D. 236, 239 (S.D. Tex. 2011)). And it is nevertheless improper if issued after a Rule 26(f) conference because UBS disregarded early Rule 34 requirements when issuing it.<sup>13</sup> Early Rule 34 Requests may be delivered to a party no earlier than 21 days after the summons and complaint have been served upon that party,<sup>14</sup> and Rule 34(c) applies this rule to nonparties via Rule 45. There is no language in Rule 45 shortening the Early Rule 34 Request provisions for nonparties.

7. Finally, if the Deposition Subpoena was issued after a Rule 26(f) conference, it could, arguably, be technically proper. But requiring a nonparty to sit for early deposition in friendly-party litigation – without allowing him to see the complaint and prepare for possible intervention of right – urges caution. Texas v. United States, 805 F.3d 653, 658 (5th Cir. 2015) (“ . . . our cases reveal that the [Rule 24(a)(2) intervention of right] inquiry turns on whether the intervenor has a stake in the matter that goes beyond a generalized preference that the case come out a certain way”).

RELIEF REQUESTED AND BASIS FOR RELIEF

8. Movant asks the Court to enter a protective order regarding the UBS Subpoenas for the reasons introduced above and further explained below.

A. The Production Subpoena is Not Authorized by, and Does Not Comply with, Rule 34

9. Regardless of whether a Rule 26(f) conference occurred, the Production Subpoena violates Rule 34. Early Rule 34 Requests may be delivered to a party no earlier than 21 days after the summons and complaint have been served upon that party,<sup>15</sup> and Rule 34(c) applies this rule to nonparties via Rule 45. Rule 45 does not shorten Early Rule 34 Request provisions for nonparties. “A subpoena served on a third party pursuant to [Rule 45] is subject to the same standards that govern discovery between the parties[.]” Ortiz, at *5. “[S]ubpoenas . . . are subject to the same time constraints that apply to all of the other methods of formal discovery[.]” Nicholas, at *5-6.<sup>16</sup>

B. If Two Conditions (Unknown to the Movant) are Met, the Deposition Subpoena is Not Authorized by, and Does Not Comply with, Rule 30

10. Unlike the Production Subpoena, the Deposition Subpoena is only “invalid”<sup>17</sup> if: (a) there was no Rule 26(f) conference before it was issued; and (b) this adversary proceeding is not exempt.<sup>18</sup> If these two conditions apply, UBS was required by Rule 30(a)(2)(A)(iii) to obtain leave of court beforehand, and although a Court must grant leave consistent with this rule when asked, the process is still required.<sup>19</sup> The requirement to obtain leave of court is not an empty one. “[C]ourts generally only permit expedited discovery before the Rule 26(f) conference upon a showing of good cause. Good cause exists ‘where the need for expedited discovery, in consideration of the administration of justice, outweighs the prejudice to the responding party.’” Vizio, at *7. Here, the prejudice to the Movant outweighs the need for expedited discovery. The parties to this adversary proceeding could be using “friendly-party litigation” to prejudice the

<sup>19</sup> Rule 30(a)(2)(A)(iii) prohibits commanding a deposition “ . . . before the time specified in Rule 26(d) . . .” without having “ . . . the party certifi[y] in the notice, with supporting facts, that the deponent is expected to leave the United States and be unavailable for examination in this country after that time[.]”; see Deposition Subpoena at Ex. 4 (including no such certification or supporting facts).

rights of a nonparty for as long as possible by: (a) making allegations against the Movant in the Preservation Letters; while (b) barring the Movant from seeing the complaint so they can prepare for possible intervention; and (c) moving quickly before possible intervention to get discovery while not being subject to discovery.

C. The Discovery Seems Designed to Prejudice the Rights of a Nonparty

11. The complaint was filed under seal; the parties immediately sent Preservation Letters with allegations against the Movant (such that he may need to intervene); and UBS seeks discovery from the Movant while perhaps delaying his ability to do the same. Intervention of right exists if the Movant “has a stake in the matter that goes beyond a generalized preference that the case come out a certain way” and “representation of the [Movant’s] interest by existing parties is or may be inadequate[.]” Texas, 805 F.3d, at 658 (quoted first in sentence); Bhd. of R.R. Trainmen v. Balt & Ohio R.R., 331 U.S. 519, 525 (1947) (quoted second in sentence). Without seeing the adversary complaint, the Movant cannot determine whether he has more than “a generalized preference that [this adversary proceeding] come out a certain way[.]” but the parties’ Preservation Letters suggest that is the case.<sup>20</sup> If so, “representation of the [Movant’s] interest by existing parties is or may be inadequate.” Trainmen, 331 U.S. at 525.

D. The Discovery Seeks Some Confidential and/or Privileged Information and is Unduly Burdensome and Harassing

12. Preventing the Movant from seeing the adversary complaint and accompanying materials prevents the Movant from being able to raise certain objections, but the Court should enter a protective order to the extent that: (i) the Debtor’s discovery seeks to obtain documents and communications that are confidential and privileged pursuant to Rule 408 and under the attorney-client privilege; and (ii) the Discovery Requests are unduly burdensome, overbroad, harassing, irrelevant, or unlikely to lead to admissible evidence.

13. For example, only Paragraphs III-8 and III-10 of the Production Subpoena specify time ranges, and Paragraph III-12 requests “[d]ocuments or [c]ommunications between Sentinel and any person concerning the [l]egal [a]ction.” Movant will make objections accordingly when the Subpoenas are either served or Movant can accept service, and after the Court, hopefully, orders a new discovery schedule that that is both reasonable and brings the Production Subpoena in line with Rule 34.

REQUEST FOR RELIEF

For the foregoing reasons, the Movant asks the Court to:

- i. enter a protective order which would, at a minimum, bring the Production Subpoena in line with Rule 34;
- ii. if the two conditions unknown to the Movant in paragraph 10, supra, exist, the Movant asks that the protective order bring the Deposition Subpoena in line with Rule 30 as well; and
- iii. delay one-sided discovery until possible intervention of right is addressed.

Relief;<sup>2</sup> (ii) the Plaintiffs' Motion for a Temporary Restraining Order and Preliminary Injunction;<sup>3</sup> (iii) the Appendix of Exhibits to Plaintiffs' Motion for a Temporary Restraining Order and Preliminary Injunction,<sup>4</sup> and the Plaintiffs' Memorandum of Law in Support of Motion for a Temporary Restraining Order and Preliminary Injunction<sup>5</sup> (collectively the “Pleadings”) and in support states as follows:

1. The Pleadings should be unsealed for the limited purpose of review by Mr. Dondero because the Pleadings likely involve Mr. Dondero’s rights and interests. See Texas v. United States, 805 F.3d 653, 658 (5th Cir. 2015) (“ . . . our cases reveal that the [Rule 24(a)(2) intervention of right] inquiry turns on whether the intervenor has a stake in the matter that goes beyond a generalized preference that the case come out a certain way”); see also Ex. 1 (the “UBS Letter”); Ex. 2 (the “Debtor’s Letter”) (making allegations against Mr. Dondero suggesting that right to intervene may exist in this adversary proceeding).

BACKGROUND

2. On March 29, 2021, the Plaintiffs (“UBS”) filed their Motion for Leave to File Adversary Complaint and Other Materials Under Seal (“UBS’ Motion”).<sup>6</sup> The basis of UBS’ Motion was that the complaint and motion “rely on and contain protectable information and/or information pursuant” to an Agreed Protective Order<sup>7</sup> in the underlying bankruptcy.<sup>8</sup>

3. On March 31, 2021, this Court granted UBS’ Motion by entry of the Order.

4. On the same day, UBS filed the Pleadings under seal initiating this adversary proceeding.

5. On March 30, 2021, UBS sent a preservation letter to Mr. Dondero.<sup>9</sup> In that letter, UBS informed Mr. Dondero that it would be commencing an adversary proceeding against Highland Management, L.P. (the “Debtor”) alleging that the “Debtor, acting through and at the direction of Mr. Dondero...fraudulently transferred hundreds of millions of dollars of assets.”<sup>10</sup>

6. On March 31, 2021, the Debtor sent a nearly identical preservation letter to Mr. Dondero repeating the UBS allegation verbatim.<sup>11</sup>

7. There is little doubt that Adversary Proceeding No. 21-03020-sgj is the adversary proceeding both UBS and the Debtor refer to in their preservation letters. However, Mr. Dondero cannot confirm this because the Pleadings are sealed from his view.

8. On April 1, 2021, Mr. Dondero attempted to resolve the hidden pleading issue with UBS and the Debtor. Mr. Dondero offered, and continues to offer, to abide by the provisions of the Protective Orders UBS referenced in UBS’ Motion and under which the asserted sealable information was originally provided to UBS. Mr. Dondero simply wishes to review the Pleadings to understand to what extent they may impair his interests. UBS and the Debtor denied Mr. Dondero’s request.

NEED FOR MODIFICATION

9. Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 9018 provides that, “[i]f an order is entered under this rule without notice, any entity affected thereby may move to vacate or modify the order[.]” UBS’ Motion confirms that notice was not provided to Mr. Dondero, and states that

notice was only provided to Debtor, Debtor's counsel, and the U.S. Trustee.<sup>12</sup> The Preservation Letters suggest that the Pleadings concern Mr. Dondero's rights and interests.

10. Because intervention of right “. . . turns on whether the intervenor has a stake in the matter that goes beyond a generalized preference that the case come out a certain way[,]” Texas, at 658, Mr. Dondero should be afforded the opportunity to determine whether he has a right to intervene here.

11. Public policy disfavors sealed court pleadings. See, e.g., Securities & Exchange Comm. v. Van Waeyenberghe, 990 F.2d 845, 849 (5th Cir. 1993). It is UBS' burden to rebut the presumption that the Pleadings should not be made public record. In re N. Bay Gen. Hosp., Inc., 404 B.R. 429, 439-40, fn. 6 (Bankr. S.D. Tex. 2009). If this Court, unlike the District Court in Van Waeyenburghe, did properly balance competing interests justifying sealing from public view, the Order should still be modified to permit Mr. Dondero (subject to confidentiality provisos) to evaluate possible intervention of right.

12. The Court has the discretion to “make any order which justice requires” to protect trade secret or confidential information, but neither Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 9018 nor 11 U.S.C. § 107(b) dictate that the order should be to seal pleadings. See FED. R. BANKR. P. 9037 (providing for redaction). If the Court has properly decided that the Pleadings should be sealed from public view, the Court could allow the Pleadings to be reviewed in camera. In re Meyrowitz, No. 06-31660-bjh-11, 2006 Bankr. LEXIS 2931, at *13 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. 2006).

13. The requested relief is limited only to unsealing the Pleadings for Mr. Dondero. Mr. Dondero is willing to review the Pleadings subject to the restrictions in the protective order,<sup>13</sup> the same restrictions under which UBS received the alleged confidential information from Debtor originally.

WHEREFORE, James Dondero respectfully requests that this Court enter an order granting this motion, and modify its Order Granting Leave for UBS to File Adversary Complaint and Other Materials Under Seal<sup>14</sup> to allow James Dondero to review the Pleadings.

MOTION TO MODIFY ORDER GRANTING LEAVE TO FILE UNDER SEAL

Upon consideration of: (i) Plaintiffs' Motion for an Order Authorizing Alternative Service of Subpoenas filed by UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG London Branch (together "UBS"), along with the Memorandum of Law, George Declaration, and Appendix filed in support of the Motion (Adv. Dkt. No. 28-30, collectively, the "UBS Motion"), (ii) Nonparty Deponent James Dondero's Motion for a Protective Order and accompanying exhibits (Adv. Dkt. No. 23, the "PO Motion"), and (iii) James Dondero's Motion to Modify Order Granting Leave to File Under Seal and accompanying exhibits (Adv. Dkt. No. 24, the "Seal Modification Motion," and with the UBS Motion and PO Motion, the "Motions"); and it appearing that this Court has jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 157 and 1334; and it appearing that this proceeding is a core proceeding pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 157(b); and it appearing that venue of this proceeding and the Motions is proper in this District pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1408-1409; and due, adequate, and sufficient notice of the Motions having been given; and after due deliberation and for the reasons stated on the record at the hearing conducted April 28, 2021, it is hereby ORDERED:

1. The UBS Motion is GRANTED;
2. UBS is authorized to effect alternative service of a Subpoena to Testify at a Deposition in a Bankruptcy Case or Adversary Proceeding (the "Deposition Subpoena") and a Subpoena to Produce Documents, Information, or Objects or To Permit Inspection in a Bankruptcy Case or Adversary Proceeding (the "Production Subpoena") upon James Dondero by (i) overnight mail to Mr. Dondero's current home address; and (ii) email to Mr. Dondero's counsel;
3. Mr. Dondero must produce documents in response to the Production Subpoena by May 6, 2021;

4. Mr. Dondero's deposition pursuant to the Deposition Subpoena is scheduled for May 10, 2021 at 9:30 am CT, unless otherwise agreed to by all parties;

5. The PO Motion is DENIED;

6. The Seal Modification Motion is GRANTED IN PART;

7. UBS will share the sealed Original Complaint for Injunctive Relief [Adv. Dkt. No. 3] (the "Complaint") with James Dondero and his counsel at Bonds Ellis Eppich Schafer Jones, LLP ("Bonds Ellis") upon the entry of this Order; and

8. James Dondero and his counsel at Bonds Ellis are restricted from sharing or discussing or conveying directly or indirectly the substance or nature of the contents of or allegations in the Complaint with anyone else, other than amongst themselves (i.e., between James Dondero and his counsel at Bonds Ellis).

Mary Kathryn Lucas (née Irving), Jean Paul Sevilla, Scott Ellington, Isaac Leventon, and Matthew DiOrio (collectively, the nonparty “Former Employees”), former employees of the Defendant Highland Capital Management, L.P. (the “Debtor”), file this motion to quash the Subpoenas to Produce Documents (the “Document Subpoenas”) and Subpoenas to Testify at a Deposition (the “Deposition Subpoenas,” and together with the Document Subpoenas, the “Subpoenas”) served on them by Plaintiffs UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG London Branch (collectively, “UBS”), and in support, respectfully show as follows:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. This motion is about discovery in search of a dispute. While UBS and the Debtor had hotly contested litigation, they have since settled their dispute with an explicit agreement to cooperate against future adversaries. But only the cooperators (the Debtor and UBS), and no adversaries, are present in this “adversary” proceeding. Although no controversy warranting discovery exists, UBS insists not only on proceeding with its discovery requests upon the Former Employees, but doing so on an “emergency” basis. There is neither a controversy nor an emergency.

2. Although the Debtor has settled its disputes with UBS and has made no indication that it is contesting the injunctive relief sought against it in this Adversary Proceeding, UBS still insists that it needs discovery from the Former Employees. Any additional discovery related to the Adversary Proceeding is now moot. So why is UBS so eager to proceed with the Subpoenas against nonparty witnesses?

3. The Subpoenas should be quashed on this basis alone. But should this Court find, contrary to the evidence, that a case or controversy exists and that the Court has jurisdiction over this matter, the nonparty Former Employees move to quash the Subpoenas because they:

(1) impose an undue burden on the Former Employees to appear and testify on the same irrelevant, cumulative, and overbroad topics; (2) are being used as a pretext for unauthorized pre-litigation discovery for other claims targeted at nonparties, including potentially against the Former Employees; and (3) in the specific case of Ms. Lucas, seek document production and testimony from a nonparty who is legally unavailable.

4. Not only do the Former Employees lack notice of much of the claims or relief sought in this Adversary Proceeding because all pleadings but the Complaint have been kept under seal (though served on counsel for the nonparty Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors), but the topics outlined in both the Document Subpoenas and the Deposition Subpoenas are facially overbroad and are an improper, thinly veiled attempt to conduct pre-litigation discovery for future, unrelated claims. These Subpoenas, which were specifically issued in connection with UBS's uncontested preliminary injunction request, cannot justifiably be used as pretext to discover information beyond the scope of the injunctive relief sought against the Debtor or otherwise to burden or prejudice the rights of nonparties to the Adversary Proceeding. The Subpoenas should therefore be quashed in their entirety. In the alternative, all discovery should be stayed pending approval of the Debtor's Settlement Agreement with UBS.

II. FACTUAL BACKGROUND

5. During the hearing to confirm the Debtor's plan of reorganization, Debtor's counsel announced that the Debtor had reached a settlement with UBS. Confirmation Hr'g Tr. 15:5-22 (Feb. 2, 2021). As part of this settlement, among other things, the Debtor apparently agreed to cause Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, L.P. (n/k/a Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, L.P.) ("Multi-Strat"), which was the subject of fraudulent transfer claims by UBS, to make a cash payment of $18.5 million to UBS and "use reasonable efforts to assist UBS" in collecting a judgment against two of the Debtor's subsidiaries arising from litigation in the Supreme Court of New York against the Debtor and some of its foreign subsidiaries. Id. at 15:15-17; 159:8-14.

6. On March 29, 2021, UBS filed a Motion for Leave to File Adversary Complaint and Other Materials Under Seal [Bankr. Dkt. No. 2128] (the "Motion to Seal"), seeking leave from this Court to file its Original Complaint for Injunctive Relief (the "Complaint") and Plaintiffs' Motion for a Temporary Restraining Order and Preliminary Injunction and supporting documents (the "Injunction Motion") under seal.

7. On March 30, 2021, UBS sent preservation notices to each of the Former Employees, notifying them that UBS "will soon commence an adversary proceeding against the Debtor in connection with the Bankruptcy Case" and that UBS will apparently allege that the Debtor, at the direction of the Former Employees, caused nondebtor entities under the Debtor's control to fraudulently transfer certain assets to Sentinel Reinsurance, Ltd. ("Sentinel")<sup>2</sup> in anticipation of a judgment that UBS would obtain through litigation in New York. UBS demanded that the Former Employees retain a broad category of documents, including, but not limited to, the chapter 11 case, the impending adversary proceeding, UBS's litigation against the Debtor (and others) pending in the Supreme Court of New York, and "any future claims or actions that UBS may bring . . . relating to the subject matter of this Notice."

8. The next day, on March 31, 2021, although the Debtor was not copied on UBS's preservation notices to the Former Employees, the Debtor sent the Former Employees litigation-hold notices that were nearly identical to the preservation notices that UBS had sent the evening before. The Debtor's notices mention that UBS "has recently commenced an adversary proceeding” against the Debtor. The Debtor’s notices similarly seem to point blame at the Former Employees for the Debtor’s alleged transfer of certain assets to Sentinel.

9. Also on March 31, 2021, the Court granted UBS’s Motion to Seal, and UBS filed its Complaint, Injunction Motion, and all related documents entirely under seal with this Court. [Adv. Proc. Dkt Nos. 3-6]. Notably, although the Adversary Proceeding was supposed to be based on a fraudulent transfer claim, neither the transferors (funds managed by the Debtor) nor the transferee (Sentinel) is named as a party. Upon information and belief, UBS never sought post-judgment discovery from the transferors and has not even sought discovery from the alleged transferee Sentinel.

10. On April 1, 2021, the Debtor filed its Statement with Respect to UBS’s Motion for Leave to File Adversary Complaint and Other Materials Under Seal, confirming the Debtor’s support for the Motion to Seal and stating that the Debtor and its independent board “conducted a preliminary investigation into the matters underlying the Injunction Complaint by, inter alia, examining the Debtor’s books and records and making inquiries of the Debtor’s employees, including in-house counsel. The Debtor shared the results of that preliminary investigation with UBS.” [Bankr. Dkt. No. 2147].

11. Although UBS has served the sealed documents on counsel to the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors [See Adv. Proc. Dkt. No. 19]—a nonparty from which UBS has not sought discovery in this Adversary Proceeding—UBS has yet to provide most of these documents to the Former Employees they seek to depose, who appear to be the potential targets of future claims or actions from UBS (and, potentially, the Debtor).

12. On April 9, 2021, the Court granted UBS’s Motion for Temporary Restraining Order, enjoining the Debtor from “making or allowing funds under its management or control (including, but not limited to, Multi-Strat and CDO Fund) to make any payments or further transfers to Sentinel or any of its affiliates or any transferees of the Sentinel Entities consisting of, resulting from, or relating to the Transferred Assets until this Court's decision on UBS's requested preliminary injunction." [Adv. Proc. Dkt. No. 21, Order Granting Plaintiffs' Motion for Temporary Restraining Order] (the "TRO"). The Debtor did not oppose entry of the TRO and, in fact, agreed that the TRO could remain in place indefinitely until the Court reaches a decision on a preliminary injunction.

13. On April 15, 2021, the Debtor filed its Motion for Entry of an Order Approving Settlement with UBS and Authorizing Actions Consistent Therewith [Bankr. Dkt. No. 2199] (the "Settlement Motion"), confirming that "[t]he Debtor will use reasonable efforts to assist UBS in, among other things, collecting its judgment against the Funds and assets the Funds may own." Part of these collection efforts includes "cooperat[ing] with UBS and participat[ing] (as applicable) in the investigation or prosecution of claims or requests for injunctive relief against the [Former Employees] . . . believed to be involved with the Purchase Agreement, Insurance Policy, Transferred Assets, the transfer of the MSCF Interests, or any potentially fraudulent transfer of assets from the Funds to Sentinel . . . ." Ex. 1 to the Settlement Motion, Settlement Agreement § 1(c)(iii). The Settlement Agreement even contemplates that the Debtor and UBS will work together as "co-plaintiff pursuing claims on behalf of or for UBS" against the Former Employees. See Settlement Agreement § 1(c)(x).

14. Thus, no case or controversy exists because the Debtor and UBS are cooperating regarding the subject of the Adversary Proceeding, namely in recovering the assets allegedly transferred from the Debtor-managed funds to Sentinel. In stark contrast to its litigation posture prior to the Settlement Motion, the Debtor has not opposed a single action or request for relief by UBS in this matter. UBS appears to be using this Adversary Proceeding in support of its effort to bring separate claims unrelated to the Debtor's estate and against non-debtor parties, presumably against the transferors (the funds), the transferee (Sentinel), and the alleged persons who effectuated the transfers (including, as alleged by the Debtor and UBS, the Former Employees).

15. On April 16, 2021, Mr. Sevilla and Mr. DiOrio were formally served with a Document Subpoena and Deposition Subpoena.<sup>3</sup> On April 19, 2021, Mr. Leventon was formally served with a Document Subpoena and Deposition Subpoena, and service was accepted on behalf of Mr. Ellington and Ms. Lucas for the Document Subpoena and Deposition Subpoena addressed to each. Each Document Subpoena includes twelve broad categories, which are nearly identical for each Former Employee. UBS originally demanded production in two or fewer business days.

16. Counsel for the Former Employees reached out to counsel for UBS in an effort to understand why UBS was seeking discovery from the Former Employees on such an expedited basis and why UBS was refusing to provide the Former Employees with a copy of the Complaint. In a phone conference on April 27, 2021, counsel for UBS was unable to provide any basis for requiring an extremely expedited schedule for document production and depositions of the Former Employees. Indeed, any supposed emergency is belied by the fact that UBS and the Debtor have agreed to extend the Debtor's deadline to answer the Complaint to June 2, 2021. There simply is no emergency. Rather, UBS and the Debtor are merely working in concert to help the Debtor avoid stating publicly that it does not oppose the relief sought so they can continue to pretend there is an actual case or controversy entitling UBS to conduct discovery on the Former Employees.

<sup>3</sup> On or around April 5 and 6, 2021, the Former Employees each received a Document Subpoena and a Deposition Subpoena, although these Subpoenas were not formally served at that time.

17. To that end, when asked whether the Debtor had taken a position on the relief sought in the Complaint, counsel for UBS misled counsel for the Former Employees by stating they did not know whether the Debtor opposed the relief but they thought it was unlikely the Debtor would oppose. At the time, UBS knew (but counsel for the Former Employees did not because they had not yet seen the Complaint) that the Debtor was not opposing UBS's request for injunctive relief. Contrary to what UBS's lawyers told counsel for the Former Employees on the phone, [REDACTED]

18. As a result of those discussions, counsel for UBS agreed to provide a copy of the Complaint to the Former Employees upon execution of a strict confidentiality agreement. Accordingly, counsel for UBS agreed to postpone the depositions originally noticed for April 20, 2021 until counsel for the Former Employees had an opportunity to review the Complaint following the execution of a confidentiality agreement.

19. In the evening of May 5, 2021 counsel for UBS emailed counsel for the Former Employees, promising to send the next day a draft of the proposed confidentiality agreement for the Former Employees to sign, and stating that deposition subpoenas would be re-issued for "the end of next week and the week of May 17." Late on Thursday evening, May 6, 2021, counsel for UBS sent a draft confidentiality agreement to counsel for the Former Employees. Among other things, the confidentiality agreement prohibits the Former Employees from discussing the Complaint with each other, even in the context of privileged communications with counsel.

20. In the evening on Friday May 7, 2021, less than 24 hours after delivering the draft confidentiality agreement, UBS filed newly issued subpoenas demanding production of documents by all five Former Employees no later than Tuesday May 11, 2021 at 9:00 a.m. and scheduling depositions beginning on Thursday, May 13, 2021. Counsel for UBS served such subpoenas by email on counsel for the Former Employees in the afternoon of Saturday May 8, 2021.

21. Subsequently, counsel for the Former Employees asked Debtor's counsel if the Debtor opposed the preliminary injunction; Debtor's counsel never responded to that simple question. Absent such opposition, the Subpoenas would produce no evidence for use in support of any currently contemplated hearing or in opposition to any currently contemplated relief against any party. The Debtor is the only defendant to the Adversary Proceeding, and given that the only relief sought by UBS in the Complaint is to turn the unopposed TRO into a preliminary, and then a permanent, injunction, the Debtor appears to be unopposed to all the relief sought by UBS in the Complaint. This renders the entire proceeding moot.

22. In the afternoon of Tuesday May 11—less than 42 hours before UBS's unilaterally scheduled deposition of one of the Former Employees was set to begin—UBS finally provided counsel for the Former Employees a copy of the Complaint (subject to the confidentiality agreement). The following morning, before counsel for the Former Employees even had the opportunity to talk to their clients about the just-provided Complaint, counsel for UBS emailed counsel for the Former Employees threatening to file a motion to compel compliance with the Subpoenas.

III. LEGAL STANDARD

23. A party may command a non-party to produce documents or testify at a deposition under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 45. Fed. R. Civ. P. 45(a)(1)(A)(iii). However, this command is not without limits. The court for the district where compliance is required must quash or modify a subpoena that “(i) fails to allow a reasonable time to comply; (ii) requires a person to comply beyond the geographical limits specified in Rule 45(c); (iii) requires disclosure of privileged or other protected matter, if no exception or waiver applies; or (iv) subjects a person to undue burden.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 45(d)(3)(A) (emphasis added).

24. Additionally, a party issuing a subpoena under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 45 “must take reasonable steps to avoid imposing undue burden or expense on a person subject to the subpoena.” The court “must enforce this duty and impose an appropriate sanction—which may include lost earnings and reasonable attorney’s fees—on a party or attorney who fails to comply.” MetroPCS v. Thomas, 327 F.R.D. 600, 606 (N.D. Tex. 2018).

IV. ARGUMENT

A. The Subpoenas must be quashed because they are invalid and premature.

25. There is no live dispute between UBS and the Debtor. UBS and the Debtor were historically contentious but they have resolved their dispute via the Settlement Agreement. UBS and the Debtor have agreed to cooperate on the issues that are the subject of the instant litigation, including an expense-sharing agreement in pursuing the claims. See supra ¶ 13. In February 2021, the Debtor voluntarily provided UBS with information related to the subject of the Subpoenas, including an apparently privileged report that included interviews with the Debtor’s employees and in-house counsel. See Case No. 19-34054, Dkt. 2199 at ¶ 10.

26. With respect to relief in the Adversary Proceeding, UBS cannot seek any damages from the Debtor, [REDACTED] See Ex. 1 to the Settlement Motion, Settlement Agreement § 3(a). With respect to injunctive relief, while the Debtor’s failure to oppose the TRO, standing alone, would not be dispositive, the Debtor has indicated no opposition to the preliminary injunction or any permanent injunction on the same issues. In this Adversary Proceeding, the “defendant”: (i) has a formal cooperation agreement directly on topic with the “plaintiff”; (ii) cannot be liable for damages; (iii) has agreed to all injunctive relief; and (iv) has not indicated any opposition to further injunctive relief. This goes beyond mere cooperation; this is friendly-party litigation.

27. That this is friendly-party litigation with no actual dispute between the two parties is evident from the fact that the Debtor and UBS reached a global settlement on March 30, 2021, and the very next day UBS filed the Complaint. The settlement included a covenant of cooperation, and UBS wasted no time at all invoking it.

28. The friendly-party nature of this litigation has two consequences. First, in the absence of an actual dispute, the Court has no jurisdiction. Second, it prejudices the rights of the alleged “non-parties” who are UBS’s—and potentially the Debtor’s—true targets.

29. As an initial matter, no actual controversy exists upon which this Court has jurisdiction to allow the Subpoenas. See John Doe #1 v. Veneman, 380 F.3d 807, 814 (5th Cir. 2004) (“Without an actual case or controversy, a federal court has no jurisdiction.”); see also see Western Benefit Solutions, LLC v. Gustin, Case No. 1:11-CV-00099-EJL-CWD, 2012 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 138860, at *9 (D. Idaho Sept. 24, 2012) (“future compliance with the [third party subpoena] is moot given that this matter has settled.”).

30. Additionally, the Subpoenas are part of UBS’s litigation strategy designed to prejudice non-parties (including the Former Employees) and to circumvent the rules applicable to the normal litigation process.

31. First, secrecy: the majority of the pleadings are filed under seal, and the Former Employees only a few days ago obtained the Complaint, subject to a restrictive confidentiality agreement. The Former Employees have not even seen the remaining pleadings, including the Injunction Motion and attached exhibits that are the alleged basis for seeking discovery in support of a preliminary injunction.

32. Second, urgency: while the alleged reason for the discovery is to obtain evidence in support of a preliminary injunction, the requested discovery relates to the underlying transaction that occurred in 2017, and not any current activities of any party. Despite this, UBS seeks the Former Employees' discovery on shortened notice based on false urgency: the preliminary injunction appears to be unopposed, to be ruled on at a hearing the setting of which the plaintiff has yet to even request.

33. Third, denial of procedural rights: by positioning its actual adversaries as non-parties, UBS is able to engage in one-sided litigation, denying its adversaries the right to see all pleadings, to see the allegations against them (rather than just generally knowing the claims relate to a past transaction), to file motions to dismiss those allegations prior to discovery proceeding, to propound discovery of their own, and to see the documents and deposition testimony of other parties and non-parties. If the Former Employees were true non-parties, this would not matter. However: (i) the preservation notices; (ii) the express terms of the Settlement Agreement mentioning potential claims against the Former Employees, and (iii) the fact that [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED] all indicate otherwise.

34. Without seeing the Injunction Motion or the supporting documents filed under seal in the Adversary Proceeding, the Former Employees may be prejudiced because there may be allegations in the Adversary Proceeding against the Former Employees, similar to those made in the preservation notices and Settlement Agreement, to which they would have a right to defend as parties. Without seeing the pleadings filed in the Adversary Proceeding, the Former Employees cannot: (i) adequately determine the relevance of the topics on which they are being compelled to testify or the documents they are being compelled to produce; (ii) adequately prepare for and defend any deposition in which they are compelled to testify; or (iii) determine whether they have interests sufficient to support intervention in the Adversary Proceeding. See Texas v. United States, 805 F.3d 653, 658 (5th Cir. 2015) (discussing cases and noting “our cases reveal that the [Rule 24(a)(2) intervention of right] inquiry turns on whether the intervenor has a stake in the matter that goes beyond a generalized preference that the case come out a certain way.”).

B. The Subpoenas must be quashed because they seek irrelevant information and impose an undue burden on the Former Employees.

35. In addition, Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 45 provides that the Court “must quash or modify a subpoena that: . . . (iv) subjects a person to undue burden.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 45(d)(3)(A)(iv) (emphasis added).

36. To determine whether the subpoena presents an undue burden, courts consider the following factors: “(1) relevance of the information requested; (2) the need of the party for the documents; (3) the breadth of the document request; (4) the time period covered by the request; (5) the particularity with which the party describes the requested documents; and (6) the burden imposed. Further, if the person to whom the document request is made is a non-party, the court may also consider the expense and inconvenience to the non-party.” See Wiwa v. Royal Dutch Petroleum Co., 392 F.3d 812, 818 (5th Cir. 2004). Moreover, “a subpoena presents an undue burden when the subpoena is facially overbroad.” Id.; see also MetroPCS, 327 F.R.D. at 610.

37. Here, the balancing of these factors favors quashing the Subpoenas.

38. First, there is a mismatch between the Subpoenas and the actual injunction claims before the Court. The Deposition Subpoena seeks information about historical, rather than current, transactions, while the requested injunction can only address current, on-going transactions. The deposition topics seek information about the formation, organization, and direction of Sentinel, when such formation presumably happened years ago. They further seek information related to a 2017 transfer of assets from certain Debtor-affiliated funds to Sentinel, including a 2018 memo related to the same. The subpoenas end with Topic 7 seeking, without time limitation, information on all assets transferred from the Debtor or certain of its affiliates to Sentinel. None of these topics, save perhaps No. 7, seeks information about current transfers that may be the subject of injunctive relief. Rather, they seek information related to prior transfers, which only can be solved by a claim against the transferors or transferees, none of whom are parties to this litigation (and also, notably, are not the Former Employees). On its face, the relevance of the topics listed in Attachment A to the Document Subpoenas to any preliminary injunction hearing is not apparent.

39. Second, assuming arguendo, that the Subpoenas seek information subject to current transfers which may be the subject of an injunction, the TRO only seeks to halt the Debtor from further transferring assets to Sentinel. Presumably, the preliminary injunction would do the same. It is undisputed that the Former Employees are unable to effectuate transfers from the Debtor to anyone at this time, so they cannot possibly be the subject of relevant discovery. Additionally, the preliminary injunction apparently is uncontested, leading to the query of why any discovery is required in this Adversary Proceeding.

40. Third, to the extent there are any current transactions, UBS can seek (and apparently has been receiving on a voluntary basis) this information directly from the Debtor without need for an adversary proceeding. Most, if not all, of the categories of documents identified in the Deposition Subpoenas and Document Subpoenas are actually in the Debtor's possession and not the proper subject of discovery from a nonparty. See Scrum Alliance, Inc. v. Scrum, Inc., Civ. No. 4:20-cv-00227, 2020 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 209352, at *7 (E.D. Tex. Nov. 9, 2020) ("Instead of burdening nonparties, Plaintiff should obtain the information directly from the source."). For example, upon termination by the Debtor, the Former Employees returned all Debtor property, including any laptops or equipment, and thus have no possession, custody, or control over these documents (including documents identified in the topics listed in Attachment A to the Notices of Deposition). See Wiwa v. Royal Dutch Petroleum Co., 392 F.3d 812, 821 (5th Cir. 2004) (limiting document request to documents in an individual’s actual “possession, custody, or control” and barring the request for documents to which one has “access” by virtue of their position with an employer).

41. Fourth, because the Former Employees do not know the scope of the injunctive relief requested in the Adversary Proceeding, the Former Employees may not fully object to the relevance of the documents requested in the Document Subpoenas or the topics asserted in the Deposition Subpoenas, or defend themselves in any deposition. The Notice of Deposition attached to each of the Deposition Subpoenas notes that each Former Employee will be deposed in connection with the Injunction Motion against the Debtor and a number of additional topics set forth in Attachment A.<sup>4</sup> The Former Employees should be able to see the entire record to enable them to adequately assert their objections.

42. Fifth, whether a party’s discovery requests are relevant “turns on whether they are ‘reasonably calculated’ to lead to evidence admissible as to [its] claims” or defenses against its opponent in the underlying case. Andra Grp., LP v. JDA Software Grp., Inc., 312 F.R.D. 444, 449(N.D. Tex. 2015) (emphasis added). Here, the Debtor already has settled its disputes with UBS. There apparently will be no contested preliminary injunction hearing. Nonetheless, the document requests and topics attached to the Deposition Subpoenas cast a net far wider than that needed from nonparties for any uncontested preliminary injunction against the Debtor. Therefore, UBS’s need for any documents or testimony from the Former Employees related to the underlying preliminary injunction is moot. John Doe #1 v. Veneman, 380 F.3d 807, 814 (5th Cir. 2004) (“Generally settlement of a dispute between two parties renders moot any case between them growing out of that dispute.” (quoting ITT Rayonier Inc. v. United States, 651 F.2d 343, 345 (5th Cir. 1981))).

43. Sixth, the Subpoenas violate the rule against pre-litigation discovery. The document requests and deposition topics appear to be aimed at gathering information to support UBS’s and the Debtor’s separate, future claims against numerous potential parties, including perhaps the Former Employees—as explicitly set out in the Settlement Agreement. As an example, the documents requested and topics listed in the Document Subpoenas include the formation and organizational structure of Sentinel, which is not a party to the Adversary Proceeding, as well as the purpose, terms, amendments, and communications relating to various documents created in 2017 and 2018. See MetroPCS, 327 F.R.D. at 610 (court retains discretion to deny subpoena when the request “exceeds the bounds of fair discovery”). This information is related to potential future claims or actions that UBS may bring against the Former Employees or other nonparties to the Adversary Proceeding, as noted in UBS’s preservation notices and the Settlement Agreement, not the underlying preliminary injunction.<sup>5</sup> These concerns are legitimate, particularly since this Court has acknowledged that “[t]here may be other lawsuits that mushroom” from what is alleged in the Complaint, but at this time, this Adversary Proceeding is solely against UBS and the Debtor. Hr’g Tr. on Mot. for Protective Order 36:2-4. Seeking documents and pre-litigation depositions from the Former Employees for potential future claims—under the guise of discovery in connection with a preliminary injunction hearing—is an abuse of the discovery process and otherwise reaches beyond the bounds of permissible discovery here. See MetroPCS, 327 F.R.D. at 627-28 (granting motion to quash non-party subpoena because the record did not support a determination that the deposition testimony would be relevant to support claims against the defendants in the instant action). Simply put, UBS cannot use these Subpoenas to get around the general bar against pre-litigation discovery, only permitted in limited circumstances under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 27. See, e.g., In re Ramirez, 241 F.R.D. 595, 596 (W.D. Tex. 2006) (Rule 27 may not be used as a vehicle for discovery prior to filing a complaint; it is only available in special circumstances to preserve known testimony that could otherwise be lost).

44. Seventh, the burden imposed on the five Former Employees by producing documents and taking their depositions on the same topics outweighs UBS's need for all of these documents and depositions. UBS has the burden "not to make unreasonably cumulative or duplicative requests such that the burden or expense of complying with the requests outweighs their likely benefit." See MetroPCS, 327 F.R.D. at 614. Yet, the topics contained in the Deposition Subpoenas are almost identical among the five nonparty Former Employees, making no effort to tailor topics to each individual or avoid duplication. Further, many of these topics appear to be those better suited for a corporate representative of the Debtor and/or Sentinel. None of the Former Employees is a corporate representative of the Debtor or Sentinel, nor should the Former Employees be compelled to speak on these topics as if they are.

45. Considering: (i) the irrelevance of the Subpoenas to the relief sought in the preliminary injunction; (ii) the use of the Subpoenas as a pretext to obtain information related to other potential claims; (iii) the ability of UBS to seek the documents from the Debtor; and (iv) the undue burden imposed on the Former Employees in producing documents and testifying on such broad topics without any reasonable notice, the Subpoenas must be quashed in their entirety.

C. In the alternative, all discovery in the Adversary Proceeding should be stayed pending approval of the Settlement Agreement.

46. It is clear that the entire Adversary Proceeding is a pretext to obtain pre-litigation discovery against the Former Employees. But if the Subpoenas are not quashed, then—at a minimum—all discovery should be stayed pending approval of the Settlement Agreement between the Debtor and UBS. Given the Debtor’s apparent consent to the relief requested in the Adversary Proceeding and its commitment under the Settlement Agreement to cooperate with UBS, the Debtor is almost certain to abide by the preliminary injunction. Because Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 1 aims to secure a “just, speedy, and inexpensive determination of every action,” the nonparty Former Employees should not be forced to bear the cost and potential prejudice of depositions that may soon be made irrelevant by approval of the Settlement Agreement. Fed. R. Civ. P. 1 (emphasis added). If for some reason the Settlement Agreement is not approved and the Debtor ends up challenging the injunctive relief sought in the Adversary Proceeding (which would then create a controversy that does not currently exist), the relevance and need for the Subpoenas can be reevaluated at that time.

D. Due to her legal unavailability, the Subpoenas against Ms. Lucas should be quashed in their entirety.

47. Finally, Ms. Lucas is legally unavailable under Federal Rule of Evidence 804(a)(4), as she is currently on disability and on maternity leave following her own hospital stay after recently welcoming twins, who required a stay in the newborn intensive care unit. See Fed. R. Evid. 804(a)(4) (providing that a witness is unavailable when they cannot be present to testify because of a then-existing physical illness). “[N]on-parties have greater protections from discovery,” and the “burdens on non-parties will impact the proportionality analysis.” MetroPCS, 327 F.R.D. at 610. In this case, the burden on Ms. Lucas will not only be impracticable, but impossible in light of her disability and leave. Although UBS has been asked to voluntarily withdraw its Subpoenas as to Ms. Lucas, it has refused to do so. Indeed, at a meet-and-confer regarding the Subpoenas on May 12, 2021, counsel for UBS questioned whether maternity leave constituted a “legitimate disability” and would only agree to look into relieving Ms. Lucas of any obligation to appear at a deposition if they conclude that being a recent mother of twins who had to be hospitalized in the NICU qualifies in their view as a “legitimate disability.” As such, Ms. Lucas seeks the protections of this Court when her disability prevents her from reviewing documents in response to the Document Subpoena, let alone preparing for and attending a deposition as sought in the Deposition Subpoena.

48. Given that the information sought from Ms. Lucas is more readily available from the Debtor, UBS has other options for obtaining such information. Instead of burdening Ms. Lucas, UBS may obtain the information from the Debtor. See Scrum Alliance, Civ. No. 4:20-cv-00227, 2 at *7.

V. CONCLUSION AND PRAYER

49. The Former Employees respectfully request that this Court grant this Motion to Quash UBS’s Subpoenas to Produce Documents and Subpoenas to Testify at a Deposition that command the testimony of the Former Employees in their entirety. In the alternative, the Former Employees respectfully request that discovery be stayed pending approval of the Settlement Agreement.

CERTIFICATE OF CONFERENCE

In compliance with L.B.R. 7007-1(b), I certify that a meet-and-confer was conducted with UBS counsel on May 12, 2021 regarding the subpoenas. At that conference, counsel for the Former Employees informed counsel for UBS that a decision on whether to file the motion to quash would be made and conveyed to them by the end of the day on May 15, 2021. To that end, counsel for the Former Employees emailed counsel for UBS before filing the motion to quash, informing them that the motion was being filed. Counsel for the Former Employees understands that UBS opposes the motion.

jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 157 and 1334, (ii) this is a core proceeding pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 157(b)(2), and (iii) notice of the Motion and the Hearing was sufficient under the circumstances; and the Court having determined that the legal and factual bases set forth in the Motion and at the Hearing establish just cause for the relief granted herein;

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED THAT:

1. The Motion is GRANTED as set forth herein.
2. As used herein, (a) the term “claim” has the meaning given to it in section 101(5) of the Bankruptcy Code, (b) the term “entity” has the meaning given to it in section 101(15) of the Bankruptcy Code, and (c) the term “governmental units” has the meaning given to it in section 101(27) of the Bankruptcy Code.
3. The forms of the Bar Date Notice, the Publication Notice, the Proof of Claim Form, and the manner of providing notice of the Bar Dates proposed in the Motion, are approved in all respects. The form and manner of notice of the Bar Dates approved herein satisfy the notice requirements of the Bankruptcy Code and the Bankruptcy Rules. As such, the Debtor is authorized to serve the Bar Dates Notice Package in the manner described below.
4. The General Bar Date. Except as described below, all entities holding claims against the Debtor that arose before October 16, 2019 (the “Petition Date”) shall file proofs of claim by the General Bar Date of April 8, 2020 at 5:00 p.m. Central Time. The General Bar Date applies to all types of claims against the Debtor that arose prior to the Petition Date, regardless of whether the claim would be legally classified as administrative, secured, priority (including, without limitation, claims entitled to priority under sections 503(b)(9), 507(a)(4), or 507(a)(5) of the Bankruptcy Code), or unsecured nonpriority claims.

5. The Fund Investor Bar Date. Except as described below, all investors in funds managed by the Debtor (the “Fund Investors”) holding claims against the Debtor that arose before Petition Date shall file proofs of claim by the General Bar Date of April 23, 2020 at 5:00 p.m. Central Time. The Fund Investor Bar Date applies to all types of claims held by Fund Investors against the Debtor that arose prior to the Petition Date, regardless of whether the claim would be legally classified as administrative, secured, priority (including, without limitation, claims entitled to priority under sections 503(b)(9), 507(a)(4), or 507(a)(5) of the Bankruptcy Code), or unsecured nonpriority claims.

6. The Governmental Bar Date. Pursuant to section 502(b)(9) of the Bankruptcy Code, except as described below, all governmental units holding claims (whether secured, priority, or unsecured nonpriority) against the Debtor that arose before the Petition Date shall file proofs of claim by the Governmental Bar Date of April 13, 2020 at 5:00 p.m. Central Time.

7. The Rejection Bar Date. Any entity whose claims arise out of the Court-approved rejection of an executory contract or unexpired lease in accordance with section 365 of the Bankruptcy Code or any other order of the Court in this case, the Rejection Bar Date for such a claim will be the later of (a) the General Bar Date; (b) for executory contracts and unexpired leases rejected pursuant to a rejection motion or notice, twenty-one (21) days after the later of (i) the date of the rejection motion or notice, (ii) the date of the surrender of the leased property to the affected lessor, and (iii) any alternative date provided in the rejection motion or notice; or (c) any other date set by an order of the Court. The later of these dates is referred to in this order as the “Rejection Bar Date.”

8. The Amended Schedules Bar Date. If the Debtor amends or supplements the Schedules (such Schedules, the “Amended Schedules”) after the Service Date, the Debtor shall give notice pursuant to Local Rule 1009-1(b) of any Amended Schedules to the holders of claims affected thereby, including notice of the Amended Schedules Bar Date to file proofs of claim in response to the amendment or supplement to the Schedules. If the Debtor amends or supplements its Schedules to reduce the undisputed, non-contingent, and liquidated amount, to change the nature, classification, or characterization of a claim against the Debtor, or to add a new claim in the Amended Schedules, any affected entities that dispute such changes must, by the Amended Schedules Bar Date, file a proof of claim or amend any previously filed proof of claim in respect of the Amended Schedules claim in accordance with the procedures described herein. The Amended Schedules Bar Date shall be the later of: (a) the General Bar Date; and (b) 30 days after the date that the notice of the Amended Schedules is served on the entity. The later of these dates is referred to in this order as the “Amended Schedules Bar Date.”

9. Subject to the terms described in paragraphs 4, 5, 6, and 7 for holders of claims subject to the General Bar Date, Fund Investor Bar Date, Governmental Bar Date, Rejection Bar Date, and the Amended Schedules Bar Date, the following entities must file proofs of claim on or before the General Bar Date:

- a. any entity (i) whose prepetition claim against the Debtor is not listed in the Debtor’s Schedules or is listed as any of disputed, contingent, or unliquidated and (ii) that desires to share in any distribution in any of this case; and
- b. any entity whose prepetition claim against the Debtor is included within the Debtor’s Schedules but believes that its prepetition claim is improperly classified in the Schedules or is listed in an incorrect amount and that desires to have its claim allowed in a classification or amount different from the classification or amount identified in the Schedules.

10. The following entities, whose claims otherwise would be subject to the General Bar Date, the Fund Investor Bar Date or the Governmental Bar Date, need not file proofs of claim in this case:

- a. any entity that already has filed a signed proof of claim against the Debtor in a form substantially similar to Official Bankruptcy Form No. 410 with: (i) the Clerk of the Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware and/or the Clerk of the Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas (Dallas) (ii) the Debtor's claims and noticing agent, Kurtzman Carson Consultants LLC (the "Claims Agent");
- b. any entity (i) whose claim against the Debtor is not listed as "disputed", "contingent", or "unliquidated" in the Schedules or Amended Schedules and (ii) agrees with the nature, classification, and amount of its claim as identified in the Schedules or Amended Schedules; and
- c. any entity whose claim against the Debtor previously has been allowed by, or paid pursuant to, an order of the Court.

11. Parties asserting claims against the Debtor that accrued before the Petition Date shall use either (a) the modified proof of claim form provided by the Debtor, as described in the Motion, (b) Official Bankruptcy Form No. 410, or (c) a form substantially similar to Official Bankruptcy Form No. 410 (each a "Proof of Claim Form").

12. The filing of a Proof of Claim Form shall be deemed to satisfy the procedural requirements for the assertion of administrative priority claims under section 503(b)(9) of the Bankruptcy Code.

13. The following procedures for the filing of a Proof of Claim Form (the "Form") shall apply:

- a. Entities shall file each Proof of Claim Form so they are received on or before the applicable Bar Dates either
  1. electronically with the Claims Agent via the interface available at www.kccllc.net/HCMLP;
  - or
  2. via U.S. mail or other hand delivery method to the following address:
HCMLP Claims Processing Center
c/o KCC

222 N. Pacific Coast Highway, Suite 300
El Segundo, CA 90245

- b. Forms will be deemed filed when actually received by the Debtor's Claims Agent. Forms may not be delivered via facsimile or electronic mail transmission.
- c. Forms will be collected, docketed, and maintained by the Claims Agent.
- d. All Forms shall be signed by the claimant or, if the claimant is not an individual, by an authorized agent of the claimant. The Form shall be written in English and be denominated in United States currency. Claimants should attach to the completed form any documents on which the claim is based (or, if such documents are voluminous, attach a summary) or an explanation as to why the documents are not available.

14. Any entity holding an interest in the Debtor (an "Interest Holder"), which interest is based exclusively upon the ownership of: (a) common or preferred stock in the Debtor; or (b) warrants or rights to purchase, sell, or subscribe to such a security or interest of the Debtor (any such security or interest being referred to herein as an "Interest"), need not file a proof of claim or proof of interest on or before the General Bar Date on account of such Interest; provided, however, Interest Holders who want to assert claims against the Debtor that arise out of or relate to the ownership or purchase of an Interest, including claims arising out of or relating to the sale, issuance, or distribution of the Interest, shall file a claim by the applicable Bar Dates, unless another exception identified in this order applies.

15. The Debtor shall retain the right to: (a) dispute, or assert offsets or defenses against, any filed proofs of claim, or any claim listed or reflected in the Schedules, as to nature, amount, liability, classification, or otherwise; (b) subsequently designate any scheduled claim as disputed, contingent, or unliquidated; and (c) otherwise amend or supplement the Schedules. If the Debtor subsequently amends or supplements the Schedules, the Debtor shall give notice of any Amended Schedules to the holders of claims affected thereby, including notice of the Amended Schedules Bar Date to file proofs of claim in response to the Amended Schedules. Notwithstanding the foregoing, nothing contained herein shall preclude the Debtor from objecting to any claim, whether scheduled or filed, on any grounds.

16. Any entity that is required to file a Proof of Claim Form but fails to so properly by the applicable Bar Date, shall not be treated as a creditor with respect to such claim for purposes of voting upon, or receiving distributions under, any chapter 11 plan in this case.

17. No later than three (3) business days after the entry of this Order, the Debtor shall serve the Bar Dates Notice Package, including a copy of the Bar Date Notice attached hereto as Exhibit 1, and a Proof of Claim Form, either (1) by first-class mail, postage prepaid (unless specified otherwise herein) means on:

- a. all known holders of claims or potential claims, including all entities listed in the Schedules as potentially holding claims;
- b. Fund Investors by electronic means through fund administrators; provided further that the Bar Dates Notice Package to Fund Investors shall also include a cover letter in the form attached hereto as Exhibit 2.
- c. the Office of the United States Trustee for the Northern District of Texas (Dallas);
- d. counsel to the Committee of Unsecured Creditors;
- e. all parties that have requested notice in this case pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 2002 as of the date of the entry of the Bar Dates Order;
- f. all counterparties to executory contracts and unexpired leases of the Debtor;
- g. all parties to litigation with the Debtor;
- h. the District Director of Internal Revenue for the Northern District of Texas (Dallas) and all other taxing authorities for the jurisdictions in which the Debtor conducts business;
- i. all relevant state attorneys general;
- j. all holders of record of any Interests in any of the Debtor as of the date of the Bar Date Order (although copies of the Proof of Claim Form will not be provided to them); and

k. such additional persons and entities as deemed appropriate by the Debtor.

18. The Proof of Claim Form mailed to such entities will indicate how the Debtor has scheduled the creditor's claim in the Schedules, including: (a) the identity of the Debtor against which the entity's claim is scheduled; (b) the amount of the claim, if any; (c) whether the claim is listed as disputed, contingent, or unliquidated; and (d) whether the claim is listed as a secured, unsecured non-priority, or unsecured priority claim. The Proof of Claim Form will also include a section for 503(b)(9) claims. Any entity that relies on the information in the Schedules will bear responsibility for determining that its claim is accurately listed therein.

19. Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rules 2002(l) and 9008, as soon as practicable after the Service Date, the Debtor shall publish notice of the Bar Dates substantially in the form attached to the Motion as Exhibit B (the "Publication Notice") two (2) times each in (a) the national edition of either The New York Times or The Wall Street Journal and (b) The Dallas Morning News as a means to provide notice of the Bar Dates to such unknown potential claimants.

20. The Debtor and the Claims Agent are authorized and empowered to take such steps and perform such acts as may be necessary to implement and effectuate the terms of this order.

21. The entry of this order is without prejudice to the right of the Debtor to seek a further order of this Court fixing a date by which holders of claims or interests not subject to the Bar Dates established herein shall file proofs of claim or interest.

22. This Court shall retain jurisdiction with respect to all matters arising from or related to the implementation and/or interpretation of this order.

NOTICE OF BAR DATES FOR FILING CLAIMS

A HOLDER OF A POSSIBLE CLAIM AGAINST THE DEBTOR SHOULD CONSULT AN ATTORNEY REGARDING ANY MATTERS NOT COVERED BY THIS NOTICE, SUCH AS WHETHER THE HOLDER SHOULD FILE A PROOF OF CLAIM.

TO ALL KNOWN CREDITORS OF THE ABOVE-CAPTIONED ENTITY (THE “DEBTOR”):

On [____], 2020, the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas (Dallas) (the “Court”) entered an order (the “Bar Date Order”) in the above-captioned chapter 11 case establishing certain claims bar dates.

Pursuant to the Bar Date Order, the Court has established April 8, 2020 at 5:00 p.m., Central Time as the general bar date (the “General Bar Date”) for filing claims in the Debtor’s chapter 11 case.

As used in this Notice, the term “entity” has the meaning given to it in section 101(15) of the Bankruptcy Code, 11 U.S.C. §§ 101, et seq. (the “Bankruptcy Code”), and includes all persons, estates, trusts, governmental units, and the United States Trustee. In addition, the terms “persons” and “governmental units” are defined as set forth in sections 101(41) and 101(27) of the Bankruptcy Code, respectively.

As used in this notice, the term “claim” means, as to or against the Debtor and in accordance with section 101(5) of the Bankruptcy Code: (i) any right to payment, whether or not such right is reduced to judgment, liquidated, unliquidated, fixed, contingent, matured, unmatured, disputed, undisputed, legal, equitable, secured, or unsecured; or (ii) any right to an equitable remedy for breach of performance if such breach gives rise to a right to payment, whether or not such right to an equitable remedy is reduced to judgment, fixed, contingent, matured, unmatured, disputed, undisputed, secured, or unsecured.

THE BAR DATES

The Bar Date Order established the following bar dates for filing proofs of claim in this case (collectively, the “Bar Dates”):

- a. The General Bar Date. Pursuant to the Bar Date Order, except as described below, all entities holding claims, whether administrative, secured, priority (including, without limitation, claims entitled to priority under sections 503(b)(9), 507(a)(4), or 507(a)(5) of the Bankruptcy Code), or unsecured nonpriority claims against the Debtor that arose before October 16, 2019 (the “Petition Date”) must file proofs of claim by the General Bar Date of April 8, 2020 at 5:00 p.m. Central Time.
- b. The Fund Investor Bar Date. Pursuant to the Bar Date Order, all investors in funds managed by the Debtor (the “Fund Investors”) holding claims (whether secured, unsecured, priority, or unsecured nonpriority) against the Debtor that arose before the Petition Date shall file proofs of claim by the Fund Investor Bar Date of April 23, 2020 at 5:00 p.m. Central Time.
- c. The Governmental Bar Date. Pursuant to the Bar Date Order, except as described below, all governmental units holding claims (whether secured, unsecured, priority, or unsecured nonpriority) against the Debtor that arose before the Petition Date must file proofs of claim by the Governmental Bar Date of [____], 2020 at 5:00 p.m. Central Time.
- d. The Rejection Bar Date. Any entity whose claims arise out of the Court-approved rejection of an executory contract or unexpired lease, or as authorized by any order of the Court in this case, the Rejection Bar Date for such a claim will be the later of (a) the General Bar Date; (b) for executory contracts and unexpired leases rejected pursuant to a rejection motion, twenty-one (21) days after the later of (i) the date of the rejection motion, (ii) the date of the surrender of the leased property to the affected lessor, and (iii) any alternative date provided in the rejection motion; and (c) any other date set by an order of the Court. The later of these dates is referred to in this notice as the “Rejection Bar Date.”
- e. The Amended Schedules Bar Date. If, subsequent to the mailing date of this notice, the Debtor amends or supplements its Schedules of Assets and Liabilities (the “Schedules”) to reduce the undisputed, non-contingent, and liquidated amount or to change the nature, classification, or characterization of a claim against the Debtor reflected therein, any affected entities that dispute such amendments or supplements to the Schedules (such Schedules, the “Amended Schedules”) are required to file a proof of claim or amend any previously filed proof of claim in respect of the Amended Schedules claim on or before the later of: (a) the General Bar Date; and (b) 30 days after the date that notice of the applicable Amended Schedules is served on the claimant. The later of these dates is referred to in this notice as the “Amended Schedules Bar Date.”

FILING CLAIMS

1. WHO MUST FILE

Subject to the terms described above for holders of claims subject to the General Bar Date, the Fund Investor Bar Date, Governmental Bar Date, Rejection Bar Date, and the Amended Schedules Bar Date, the following entities must file proofs of claim on or before the General Bar Date:

- a. any entity (i) whose prepetition claim against the Debtor is not listed in the Debtor's Schedules or is listed as any of disputed, contingent, or unliquidated and (ii) that desires to share in any distribution in any of this case; and
- b. any entity whose prepetition claim against the Debtor is included within the Debtor's Schedules but believes that its prepetition claim is improperly classified in the Schedules or is listed in an incorrect amount and that desires to have its claim allowed in a classification or amount different from the classification or amount identified in the Schedules.

2. WHAT TO FILE

The Debtor is enclosing a proof of claim form for use in this case, or you may use another proof of claim form that conforms substantially to Official Bankruptcy Form No. 410. If your claim is scheduled by the Debtor, the attached proof of claim form also sets forth: (i) the amount of your claim (if any) as scheduled; (ii) the Debtor against which the claim is scheduled; (iii) whether your claim is scheduled as disputed, contingent, or unliquidated; and (iv) whether your claim is listed as a secured, unsecured priority, or unsecured nonpriority claim. You will receive a different proof of claim form for each claim scheduled in your name by the Debtor. You may utilize the proof of claim form(s) provided by the Debtor to file your claim. Additional proof of claim forms may be obtained at the following websites: www.kccllc.net/HCMLP (the "Claim Agent Website") or <http://www.uscourts.gov/forms/bankruptcy-forms/proof-claim-0>.

3. WHEN AND WHERE TO FILE

Entities must file each Proof of Claim Form so they are received on or before the applicable Bar Dates either (a) electronically with Kurtzman Carson Consultants LLC (the "Claims Agent") via the interface available at www.kccllc.net/HCMLP or (b) via U.S. mail or other hand delivery method to the following address:

HCMLP Claims Processing Center
c/o KCC
222 N. Pacific Coast Highway, Suite 300
El Segundo, CA 90245

Proof of Claim Forms will be deemed filed when actually received by the Claims Agent on or before the applicable Bar Date. Proof of Claim Forms may not be delivered via facsimile or electronic mail transmission.

Proof of Claim Forms will be collected, docketed, and maintained by the Claims Agent. If you want to receive acknowledgement of the Claims Agent's receipt of a Proof of Claim Form, you must submit by the applicable Bar Date, and concurrently with submitting your original Proof of Claim Form, (i) a copy of the original Proof of Claim Form and (ii) a self-addressed, postage prepaid return envelope.

All forms must be signed by the claimant or, if the claimant is not an individual, by an authorized agent of the claimant. The form must be written in English and be denominated in United States currency. You should attach to your completed form any documents on which the claim is based (or, if such documents are voluminous, attach a summary) or an explanation as to why the documents are not available.

4. ENTITIES NOT REQUIRED TO FILE A CLAIM

The Bar Date Order further provides that the following entities, whose claims otherwise would be subject to the General Bar Date, the Fund Investor Bar Date or the Governmental Bar Date, need not file claims in this case:

- a. any entity that already has filed a signed proof of claim against the Debtor in a form substantially similar to Official Bankruptcy Form No. 410 with: (i) the Clerk of the Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware and/or Clerk of the Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas (Dallas) (ii) the Debtor's Claims Agent;
- b. any entity (i) whose claim against the Debtor is not listed as "disputed", "contingent", or "unliquidated" in the Schedules or Amended Schedules and (ii) agrees with the nature, classification and amount of its claim as identified in the Schedules or Amended Schedules; and
- c. any entity whose claim against the Debtor previously has been allowed by, or paid pursuant to, an order of the Court.

NO REQUIREMENT FOR STOCKHOLDERS TO FILE PROOFS OF INTEREST

Any entity holding an interest in the Debtor (an "Interest Holder"), which interest is based exclusively upon the ownership of: (i) common or preferred stock in the Debtor; or (ii) warrants or rights to purchase, sell, or subscribe to such a security or interest of the Debtor (any such security or interest being referred to herein as an "Interest"), need not file a proof of claim or proof of interest on or before the General Bar Date on account of such Interest; provided, however, Interest Holders who want to assert claims against the Debtor that arise out of or relate to the ownership or purchase of an Interest, including claims arising out of or relating to the sale, issuance, or distribution of the Interest, must file a claim by the applicable Bar Dates, unless another exception identified in the Motion applies.

CONSEQUENCES OF FAILURE TO FILE A CLAIM

Any entity that is required to file a Proof of Claim Form but fails to do so properly by the applicable Bar Date shall not be treated as a creditor with respect to such claim for purposes of voting upon, or receiving distributions under, any chapter 11 plan in this case.

RESERVATION OF RIGHTS

The Debtor retains the right to: (i) dispute, or assert offsets or defenses against, any filed proofs of claim, or any claim listed or reflected in the Schedules, as to nature, amount, liability, classification, or otherwise; (ii) subsequently designate any scheduled claim as disputed, contingent, or unliquidated; and (iii) otherwise amend or supplement the Schedules. Notwithstanding the foregoing, nothing contained herein shall preclude the Debtor from objecting to any claim, whether scheduled or filed, on any grounds.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

If you require additional information regarding the filing of a claim, you may contact the Claims Agent at 877-573-3984 (310-751-1829 for international calls) or by submitting an inquiry at www.kccllc.net/HCMLP. ATTENTION CUSTODIANS: THIS CORRESPONDENCE CONTAINS CLAIM DEADLINE INFORMATION. PLEASE FORWARD THIS LETTER, THE ATTACHED NOTICE AND CLAIM FORM TO YOUR CLIENTS WITHIN FIVE (5) BUSINESS DAYS OF RECEIPT.

To Investors in funds managed by Highland Capital Management, L.P.

On October 16, 2019, Highland Capital Management, L.P. (the "Company") filed a voluntary petition for relief under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Company's bankruptcy case is pending in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas Dallas Division (the "Bankruptcy Court") at Case No. 19-34054-sgj11.

On February __, 2020, the Bankruptcy Court entered an order (the "Bar Date Order") establishing certain deadlines for filing claims against the Company. Included with this letter is a Notice of Bar Dates for Filing Claims (the "Notice"). Please review the Notice carefully.

The Notice provides additional information about how to file a claim. A Proof of Claim form is also included.

The Bankruptcy Court set April 8, 2020 as the General Bar Date and April 23, 2020 as the bar date for investors in funds managed by the Company ("Fund Investor Bar Date"). These are the deadlines to file claims against the Company that arose before October 16, 2020. Please take note that the claim bar dates are applicable to claims you may have against Highland Capital Management, L.P. and not against any other party. It is not necessary to file a claim based exclusively on your ownership interest in funds unless you believe you have a claim against Highland Capital Management, L.P.

ADDENDUM TO PROOF OF CLAIM FILED BY
UBS AG, LONDON BRANCH

1. UBS Securities LLC hereby submits this addendum to its proof of claim (together, the “Proof of Claim”) against Highland Capital Management, L.P. (the “Debtor”) in the above-captioned chapter 11 case (the “Chapter 11 Case”).

2. UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG, London Branch (together, the “Claimant” or “UBS”) each have claims against the Debtor and each is filing a proof of claim in this Chapter 11 Case. Because their claims arise from the same set of factual events, including the same failed transaction, misconduct involving the Debtor and its affiliates, and subsequent litigation, the UBS claims overlap and their proof of claim forms and addendums are substantially the same.

3. This addendum is attached to, incorporated into, and constitutes an integral part of Claimant’s Proof of Claim against the Debtor. Claimant files this Proof of Claim under compulsion of the Order (I) Establishing Bar Dates for Filing Claims and (II) Approving the Form and Manner of Notice Thereof [Docket No. 488], as extended by the Joint Stipulation and Order Extending Bar Date [Docket No. 547] and modified by the Order Denying UBS’s Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay to Proceed with State Court Action [Docket No. 765], solely for the purpose of asserting Claimant's claims against the Debtor, as more particularly described and subject to any limitations set forth below.

Factual Background

A. The Knox Transaction

2. Claimant's claims arise out of a failed transaction dating back thirteen years ago and the state court action (the "State Court Action") that followed between Claimant, the Debtor, Highland CDO Opportunity Master Fund, L.P. ("CDO Fund") and Highland Special Opportunities Holding Company ("SOHC") (together with CDO Fund, the "Fund Counterparties," and the Fund Parties and the Debtor collectively, "Highland"), among other parties.<sup>2</sup>

3. In early 2007, Claimant and Highland agreed to pursue a complex form of securitization transaction known as a "CLO Squared" (the "Knox Transaction"). (Ex. B, Decision at 2.) The purpose of the Knox Transaction was to acquire and securitize a series of collateralized loan obligation ("CLO") securities and credit default swap ("CDS") assets (the "Knox Assets"). To that end, the Debtor agreed to be the "Servicer" of the Knox Transaction, and as such was responsible for identifying the specific CLO and CDS assets to be securitized. Claimant agreed to finance the acquisition of the CLO and CDS assets identified by Highland. Claimant would then hold, or "warehouse," the assets until the securitization was completed (the "Knox Warehouse"). Under this arrangement, Claimant financed the acquisition of $818 million in Knox Assets. (Id.)

<sup>2</sup> The procedural history of the State Court Action is incorporated by reference, but is voluminous. The operative Second Amended Complaint and Phase I Decision and Order are attached as Exhibit A and Exhibit B, respectively. Additional pleadings and orders can be found on the State Court docket for Index No. 650097/2009 or by contacting Claimant's counsel. Claimant reserves the right to file a copy of additional pleadings or orders with this Court.

4. The parties' first attempt at the Knox Transaction was not completed successfully and the relevant agreements expired in August 2007 without the contemplated securitization having occurred. (Id. at 3.) Rather than end their relationship, however, Highland and Claimant continued to consider the possibility of pursuing the contemplated securitization in 2008 under restructured versions of the prior agreements. Highland and Claimant always understood that—if the securitization were not successful—the Fund Counterparties would be obligated to pay Claimant for 100% of the losses on any CLO or CDS assets that been acquired and warehoused for the securitization. In order to convince Claimant to agree to enter restructured versions of those agreements and to finance the acquisition of the CLO and CDS assets, Highland assured Claimant that the Fund Counterparties had sufficient assets to cover any losses. It did so by providing Claimant with false, incomplete, and otherwise misleading information concerning the Fund Counterparties' finances and assets. (Ex. A, Compl. ¶¶ 47-61.)

5. In addition, Claimant specifically conditioned its agreement to enter the restructured agreements on the Fund Counterparties' ability to post an additional $70 million in cash and securities as collateral (the "Initial Restructuring Collateral"), in which Claimant would hold a security interest. (Id. ¶¶ 56-59; Ex. B, Decision at 3.) Highland assembled $70 million in such Initial Restructuring Collateral. But what Highland did not tell Claimant—and what is now clear was omitted on purpose—was that the Fund Counterparties did not own all of the Initial Restructuring Collateral they were expected to post. Instead, to meet this obligation, the Debtor exercised its control over other Highland affiliates, transferring and redirecting assets from such other entities that it controlled to assemble the Initial Restructuring Collateral. (Ex. A, Compl. ¶¶ 56-59.)

6. Similarly, while negotiating the restructured transaction, Highland provided Claimant with financial reports and statements that contained materially false and misleading information and omissions concerning the financial condition of the Fund Counterparties. (Id. ¶¶ 47-52.) The Debtor itself had prepared these financial statements and knew they contained material misstatements. (Id. ¶¶ 48-50, 54.) Among other things, Highland misrepresented the amount of cash held by CDO Fund. (Id. ¶ 52.) Highland also failed to disclose that many of the assets on the Fund Counterparties' financial statements already had been encumbered. (Id. ¶¶ 51, 53.) These misrepresentations not only evince a specific intent by Highland to induce Claimant into entering the restructured agreements, but a longstanding willingness to prevent Claimant from ever recovering the amounts owed under the parties' proposed agreements in the event the Knox Assets suffered any losses. In addition, these events show the Debtor's singular control over—and ability to move—assets from one Highland affiliate to another at will.

7. Based on Highland's material misstatements and omissions, Claimant agreed to pursue the restructured transaction and once more attempt the securitization, and the parties executed three new written agreements: an Engagement Letter, a Cash Warehouse Agreement, and a Synthetic Warehouse Agreement (collectively, the "Warehouse Agreements"). (See Ex. B, Decision at 3.) The Engagement Letter was executed by Claimant and the Debtor; the Fund Counterparties were not parties to the Engagement Letter. (Ex. A, Compl. ¶ 62.) The Cash Warehouse and Synthetic Warehouse Agreements were executed by Claimant and the Debtor, along with the Fund Counterparties. (Id. ¶¶ 64-65.)

8. As described above, Claimant agreed to finance the acquisition of the CLO and CDS assets that the parties planned to securitize. In so doing, the key risk Claimant faced was the possibility that the Knox Assets would lose value while securitization was pending. To address

this risk, Claimant and the Debtor agreed in the Engagement Letter that the Fund Counterparties would bear this risk. Notably, at the time, the Debtor was the Investment Manager to the Fund Counterparties under agreements that gave the Debtor total control over those entities. (Ex. A, Compl. ¶¶ 24, 26.)

9. The Warehouse Agreements reiterated that the Fund Counterparties (as controlled by the Debtor) would bear the risk, specifying that if the Knox Assets lost value while securitization was pending, the Fund Counterparties “will in aggregate bear 100% of the risk” for the Knox Assets—with CDO Fund bearing 51% of any losses and SOHC bearing the remaining 49%.

10. To further protect Claimant in the event that the Knox Assets lost value, the Warehouse Agreements provided for recurring measurements of mark-to-market losses on all assets in the Knox Warehouse and required the Fund Counterparties to post collateral in the event the Knox Assets lost a set amount of value. Specifically, the parties agreed that the Fund Counterparties would post an additional $10 million in collateral for each $100 million in losses to the overall value of the Knox Assets. (Ex. B, Decision at 4.)

11. In September and October 2008, amid the global economic recession, the value of the Knox Assets dropped by $100 million, twice. Thus, Claimant twice exercised its contractual right to demand additional collateral. And twice Highland posted the required collateral. (Id.) Although the Warehouse Agreements specified that it was the Fund Counterparties who would post collateral, the Debtor moved assets around from other entities it controlled to make the first two collateral calls (without disclosing this practice to Claimant). (Ex. A, Compl. ¶ 79.) On or about November 7, 2008, Claimant issued a third margin call, because the value of the Knox Assets suffered additional losses of $200 million (bringing the aggregate losses to over $400 million).

(Ex. B, Decision at 4.) This time, Highland refused to provide the additional collateral required under the Warehouse Agreements.

12. Highland's default on Claimant's third margin call triggered a termination event under the Warehouse Agreements. (Id.) On December 5, 2008, Claimant gave Highland formal notice of default and demanded the Fund Counterparties pay Claimant for 100% of the losses incurred on the Knox Assets—which had, by then, grown to over $520 million.

13. There is no question that the Debtor knew the Fund Counterparties were liable for the losses under the Warehouse Agreements. Indeed, the Highland officer who executed the Warehouse Agreements admitted under oath that, “as of the end of the year 2008,” Highland knew that the Fund Counterparties owed Claimant “hundreds of millions of dollars in connection with the Knox Warehouse Agreements.” (Travers Dep. at 261:8-20.) But rather than paying Claimant what it was owed, the Debtor, with Mr. Dondero at the helm, “devised a strategy to delay the resolution of that obligation [to pay Claimant] for as long as possible.” (Id.) To that end, Highland devised and subsequently deployed a multifaceted strategy—one that would last for many years thereafter—to intentionally frustrate and prevent Claimant from recovering any of the amounts that both the Debtor and the Fund Counterparties knew were rightfully owed to Claimant under the Warehouse Agreements.

14. First, the Debtor directed the Fund Counterparties to withhold any payment to Claimant—a position that the Fund Counterparties maintained (again, under the specific direction of the Debtor) for more than a decade. (See id.) The Debtor did so not only with the specific knowledge that the Fund Counterparties owed hundreds of millions of dollars to Claimant for the losses on the Knox Assets, but with the knowledge that Claimant would come seeking payment for such losses and, in particular, to look toward any and all collateral owned by the Fund Counterparties as one source of payment. As one of Highland's officers stated in an internal email to Mr. Dondero in an internal email dated January 16, 2009: "[UBS] is going to be calling [] today asking for all additional collateral that cdo and sohc have left to cover the obligation left by the knox transaction." But rather than turning over the collateral in question to Claimant or, at the very least, securing such assets so that they could be used to pay Claimant, the Debtor directed the Fund Counterparties to withhold such assets and payments from Claimant: "[T]hey can see us in court for their additional collateral." True to that promise, even after Claimant filed suit and laid out the amounts due under the contracts, the Debtor forced the Fund Counterparties to launch an affirmative, multi-year campaign—one which would consume much of the cash and assets belonging to the Fund Counterparties themselves—to stave off any payment from the Fund Counterparties to force Claimant to try to recover such claims through litigation and, once in litigation, devising knowingly baseless defenses and arguments for the Fund Counterparties to assert in such litigation.

15. On top of directing the Fund Counterparties to withhold payment and force Claimant to litigate for amounts the Debtor already knew they rightfully owed to Claimant, the Debtor undertook a litany of other actions to ensure that, even if Claimant were successful in the litigation it had been forced to initiate against the Fund Counterparties, it would not be able to collect any judgment arising out of the litigation. Such actions included, but were not limited to, a series of fraudulent transfers out of, and away from, an alter ego of SOHC, Highland Financial Partners, L.P. ("HFP"). (Ex. A, Compl. ¶ 109.) These internal transfers of funds—all overseen by James Dondero, the Debtor's founder and president—were designed to prevent Claimant from ever collecting the millions of dollars it was owed under the Warehouse Agreements.

16. In addition to such fraudulent transfers, the Debtor also took steps after the lawsuit was filed to ensure that no additional value would be transferred to the Fund Counterparties—deliberately taking steps to keep both SOHC and CDO Fund undercapitalized. Not only did the Debtor prevent additional value from being transferred to the Fund Counterparties, it is clear that the Debtor also failed to ensure that the Fund Counterparties retained assets that could be used to pay any such judgment. Quite to the contrary, it is now clear that any and all assets of any value that once belonged to the Fund Counterparties have, in one way or another, been transferred away, drained, or otherwise wasted by the Fund Counterparties, the Debtor itself, or the Debtor’s affiliates—all at the Debtor’s direction. Indeed, in a recent filing before this Court, the Debtor recently disclosed that both of the Fund Counterparties are completely “insolvent.” (Docket No. 687 at 1.) This means that—separate and apart from the transfers of assets out of, and away from, HFP that occurred in 2009—the Debtor has directed, or otherwise permitted, the Fund Counterparties to engage in acts that have left these once marque investment funds with literally no assets that can be used to pay Claimant. All such actions and omissions by the Debtor were performed with either the specific intent to prevent or frustrate Claimant’s ability to recover the amounts owed under the Warehouse Agreements, or a wanton and reckless disregard of Claimant’s rights to those amounts. Such actions and omissions constitute breaches of the Debtor’s duty of good faith and fair dealing under the Warehouse Agreements.

B. The State Court Action and the Debtor’s Efforts to Avoid Paying Claimant

17. On February 24, 2009, Claimant filed a complaint in the Supreme Court of the State of New York (the “State Court”) against the Debtor and the Fund Counterparties. With knowledge of Claimant’s lawsuit, the Debtor exercised its control over the Fund Counterparties to ensure they would not meet their obligations and to impede Claimant’s ability to recover the amounts owed by those entities. (Id. ¶¶ 112, 114.) Rather than paying Claimant what it was owed, and as discussed above, the Debtor orchestrated an extensive multi-part strategy to delay resolution of Claimant's claims for as long as possible. As a result, the Debtor further interfered with Claimant's contractual rights, thereby breaching the covenants of good faith and fair dealing inherent in the Warehouse Agreements. (Id.)

18. By this time, the Fund Counterparties and SOHC's alter ego, HFP, had become insolvent, although they still owned significant assets. (Id. ¶ 108.) Nonetheless, the Debtor failed to act in good faith to cause HFP to satisfy the debts, as much as possible, then owed to Claimant. Instead, the Debtor caused HFP to make additional improper and fraudulent asset transfers, deliberately kept the Fund Counterparties undercapitalized, and allowed all assets of any value to be drained from the Fund Counterparties—acts which not only impaired Claimant's ability to recover anything from the Fund Counterparties, but precluded it altogether. (Id. ¶ 111.) In March 2009, conscious that Claimant had commenced an action against Highland a few weeks earlier, and in breach of their continuing duty of good faith and fair dealing, and with actual fraudulent intent, the Debtor and HFP caused asset transfers of millions of dollars of assets to the Debtor, Highland Credit Strategies Master Fund, L.P., Highland Crusader Offshore Partners, L.P., and Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, L.P. (now Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, L.P.) (collectively, the "Affiliated Transferee Defendants"), among others, thereby further reducing Highland's abilities to meet their obligations to Claimant. (Id. ¶¶ 111, 113.) The Debtor and its principals exercised domination over the Fund Counterparties to improperly transfer substantial assets from the Fund Counterparties and HFP for their own personal gain, i.e., solely and improperly to protect and enhance the value of the Debtor and its principals by wrongful and improper means. In the process, the Debtor and its principals made it impossible for the Fund Counterparties to pay Claimant the losses that they and the Debtor had agreed they would pay under the Warehouse Agreements. (Id. ¶¶ 112-114.)

19. As Claimant learned about Highland's conduct through discovery, Claimant amended its complaint to assert additional claims and name additional Highland entities, including HFP, the Affiliated Transferee Defendants, and Strand Advisors, Inc. As amended and stated in its Second Amended Complaint (attached hereto as Exhibit A) in the State Court Action, filed on May 11, 2011, Claimant's claims include breach of contract claims directly against the Fund Counterparties, as well as claims for fraudulent inducement, breach of the duty of good faith and fair dealing, fraudulent conveyance, tortious interference, and declaratory judgments for alter ego liability against HFP and general partner liability against Strand Advisors, Inc. The Debtor subsequently brought counterclaims against Claimant for breach of contract and unjust enrichment. (See Ex. B, Decision at 35-37.)

20. The procedural history of the State Court Action is complex. The Debtor and its affiliates and Claimant filed, and the State Court ruled on, four sets of motions to dismiss. The Debtor and its affiliates then filed two sets of summary judgment motions, which led to a series of complex rulings by the State Court in 2017. The parties filed various interlocutory appeals of the State Court's rulings on the motions to dismiss and for summary judgment. Those appeals were heard by the Appellate Division for the First Judicial Department in the County of New York, with the Appellate Division issuing five decisions over this suit's protracted history (some of which are still subject to further appellate rights).

21. Also included in the Appellate Division's decisions was an order arising from an appeal of the State Court's ruling on Claimant's motion to restrain Defendants Highland Credit

Strategies Master Fund, L.P. and Highland Crusader Partners, L.P. from disposing of property received through the fraudulent transfers orchestrated by the Debtor. Claimant showed it had a likelihood of success on the merits of its fraudulent transfer claims, and the Appellate Division enjoined both Highland entities from disposing of their assets. Ultimately, these injunctions resulted in partial settlements between Claimant and Highland Credit Strategies Master Fund, L.P. and Highland Crusader Partners, L.P.

22. By early 2018, more than nine years after Claimant first filed suit, the parties were finally ready to proceed to trial. Due to a jury waiver clause in the Warehouse Agreements, however, and after related pre-trial briefing, the State Court bifurcated Claimant's claims into two distinct phases for trial: Phase I, consisting of a bench trial on Claimant's claims against the Fund Counterparties for breach of the Cash Warehouse and Synthetic Warehouse Agreements, as well as the Debtor's counterclaims; and Phase II, consisting of a jury trial on Claimant's remaining claims against all remaining Highland entities, including the Debtor.<sup>3</sup> (Ex. B, Decision at 2 n.1, 38.)

23. The State Court presided over a thirteen-day bench trial for Phase I from July 9 through July 27, 2018. (Id. at 1.) On November 14, 2019, the State Court entered a Decision and Order on Phase I (attached hereto as Exhibit B), ruling in favor of Claimant on almost every issue presented in Phase I. In particular, the court found the Fund Counterparties liable to Claimant for breach of the Cash Warehouse and Synthetic Warehouse Agreements, found no liability on the part of Claimant for either of the Debtor's counterclaims, and rejected almost every one of the Debtor's offset arguments with the only remaining issue (affecting approximately $70,500,000) to be determined after Phase II. (Id. at 39.) An Entry of Judgment on Phase I was entered on February 10, 2020. Under that Phase I final judgment, Claimant is entitled to $1,039,957,799.44, consisting of $519,374,149.00 in damages and $520,583,650.44 in pre-judgment interest as of January 22, 2020, with additional interest of $128,065 having accrued daily until the Entry of Judgment.

24. The next step in the State Court Action is Phase II of the trial, where Claimant's remaining claims against not only the Debtor, but also against other Highland affiliates are to be tried to a jury, with the court deciding liability as to the breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing claim and the jury deciding all remaining claims. (Id. at 2 n.1, 38.) The claims to be tried in Phase II include claims for breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, fraudulent conveyances, and alter-ego liability. The specific amounts the two non-Debtor affiliates owe to Claimant for their breach of the Warehouse Agreements are now set forth and embodied in the final $1 billion judgment from Phase I. And Claimant has stated claims against the Debtor—which was also a party to the same contract and exercised complete control over the two liable affiliates—under which Claimant is entitled to damages that are at least as much as the Phase I judgment amount. Claimant will seek damages for the Debtor's various breaches of the implied covenant as well as its specific role in the fraudulent transfer scheme, and pre-judgment interest and attorneys' fees where available. In addition, Claimant will seek punitive damages against the Debtor for its role in orchestrating the extended efforts to prevent Claimant from collecting the amounts owed under the Warehouse Agreements.

25. Currently, Phase II of the State Court Action is stayed against the Debtor by the automatic stay imposed pursuant to section 362 of the Bankruptcy Code when the Debtor commenced this Chapter 11 Case.

26. Claimant hereby asserts a claim, pending litigation of Phase II, for damages arising from the Debtor's breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, its specific role in directing the fraudulent transfers of assets involving HFP, additional interest, further damages (including punitive damages), and attorneys' fees that may be awarded by any court at the conclusion of Phase II.

Reservation of Rights

27. Claimant does not waive or release, and expressly reserves, all rights and remedies at law or in equity that it has or may have against the Debtor, the Fund Counterparties, Strand Advisors, Inc., other non-Debtor Highland Defendants, or any other Debtor affiliate, subsidiary, person, or entity.

28. Claimant expressly reserves all of its rights to assert any additional claims, defenses, remedies, and causes of action, including without limitation, claims for fraudulent inducement, breach of contract, tortious interference with contractual relations, fraudulent conveyances, or alter ego recovery. Claimant further reserves all rights to amend, modify, supplement, reclassify, or otherwise revise its Proof of Claim at any time and in any respect, including, without limitation, as necessary or appropriate to amend, quantify or correct amounts, to provide additional detail regarding the claims set forth herein, to assert additional grounds for any of the claims, to seek reconsideration under section 502(j) of the Bankruptcy Code or otherwise of any disallowance of any amounts claimed hereunder, or to reflect any and all additional claims of whatever kind or nature that Claimant has or may have against the Debtor.

29. To the extent any payment to Claimant based on this Proof of Claim, or any portion thereof, is clawed back from Claimant, avoided, or set aside, for any reason whatsoever, or Claimant is required to disgorge any such payment, or any portion thereof, Claimant hereby reserves its rights to amend this Proof of Claim accordingly.

30. The execution and filing of this Proof of Claim is not intended as, nor should it be construed as or deemed to be any of the following: (i) a waiver of the right to seek withdrawal of the reference, or to otherwise challenge the jurisdiction of this Court, with respect to the subject matter of the claims asserted herein, any objection or other proceeding commenced with respect thereto, or any other action or proceeding commenced in this Chapter 11 Case against or otherwise involving Claimant; (ii) an admission that any matter is a core matter for purposes of 28 U.S.C. § 157(b) or is a matter as to which this Court can enter a final order or judgment consistent with Article III of the United States Constitution; (iii) a waiver of the right to de novo review by the district court of any order or judgment for which this Court, absent Claimant's consent, lacks authority to enter a final order or judgment; (iv) a consent to the entry by this Court of a final order or judgment with respect to the claims asserted herein or any other matter; (v) a waiver of Claimant's right to a jury trial against the Debtor, as applicable, or waiver of Claimant's right to a jury trial against any of the non-Debtor Defendants; (vi) a waiver or release of the claims or rights of Claimant against any other entity or person that may be liable for all or any part of the claims or any matters related to the claims asserted herein; (vii) a waiver of any rights and remedies Claimant has or may have under the Cash Warehouse and Synthetic Warehouse Agreements, Engagement Letter, or any other contract, whether mentioned in this Proof of Claim or not; (viii) a waiver of Claimant's contractual right to seek to have these or any other claims settled by binding arbitration; (ix) a waiver of any right related to the confirmation of any plan of reorganization proposed in this

Chapter 11 Case, or any other insolvency-related proceeding that may be commenced, either in the United States or abroad, by or against the Debtor, or any non-Debtor affiliate; (x) a waiver or agreement granting any party relief; or (xi) an election of remedies.

31. Neither this Proof of Claim nor any of its contents shall be deemed or construed as an acknowledgment or admission of any liability or obligation on the part of Claimant. Claimant specifically reserves all of its defenses and rights, procedural and substantive, including, without limitation, its rights with respect to any claim that may be asserted against Claimant by the Debtor, the Fund Counterparties, or any affiliate of the Debtor, and its rights to enforce the Cash Warehouse or Synthetic Warehouse Agreements, Engagement Letter, or any other contract.

Right of Setoff and Recoupment

32. Claimant reserves all rights of setoff and recoupment that it may have. To the extent the Debtor or any non-Debtor affiliate asserts any claim against Claimant, Claimant shall have a secured claim to the extent of its right of setoff under section 553 of the Bankruptcy Code or right of recoupment against such claim with respect to the claims asserted herein and any amendments thereto.

COMPLAINT

NATURE OF THE ACTION

1. UBS brings this action to recover damages in excess of $686 million resulting from the wrongful conduct of defendants, based on causes of action for fraudulent inducement, breach of contract, fraudulent conveyances, and declaratory judgment.

2. Counterclaim-plaintiff Highland Capital Management, L.P. (“Highland Capital”) is a defendant in the action commenced by UBS (the “Highland Capital Action”) concurrently with the filing of the First Amended Complaint in this action. The Highland Capital Action was consolidated with this action by a Decision and Order, entered by this Court on October 7, 2010 (this action and the Highland Capital Action are referred to herein as the “Consolidated Action”). Together with Highland Capital, the Fund Counterparties fraudulently induced UBS to restructure a transaction to avoid Highland Capital’s and the Fund Counterparties’ contractual obligation to pay UBS over $86 million. Once Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties succeeded in misleading UBS into restructuring the original transaction, Highland Capital and its affiliates made it impossible for the Fund Counterparties to meet their obligations to UBS by stripping the Fund Counterparties of their valuable assets through fraudulent conveyances and otherwise dealing in bad faith with their contractual obligations to UBS.

3. When UBS finally terminated the restructured transaction and demanded payment from Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties, it was owed in excess of $686 million that the Fund Counterparties could not pay because of the misappropriations and improper transfers of assets directed by Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties. Even after UBS demanded payment, Highland Capital and defendants engaged in further unlawful conduct that harmed UBS by

SUMMARY OF THE ACTION

4. This action arises out of Highland Capital's efforts in the Spring of 2007 to sponsor a collateralized debt obligation ("CDO") securitization (the "Original Engagement"). In connection with the Original Engagement, UBS agreed to finance the purchase of various collateralized loan obligation ("CLO") securities, as well as credit default swap obligations that referenced similar CLO securities. UBS agreed to hold or "warehouse" the CLO securities and credit default swaps (collectively, the "Warehouse Assets" or "Warehouse Facility") for Highland Capital's benefit.

5. On or about August 15, 2007, the Original Engagement terminated by its terms without the contemplated securitization having occurred. As a result of the termination, Highland Capital and two of its affiliates, the Fund Counterparties, owed UBS in excess of $86 million related to the decline in the value of the Warehouse Assets.

6. Instead of paying UBS what it was owed, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties fraudulently induced UBS to restructure the Original Engagement by providing UBS with false, incomplete and otherwise misleading information concerning the Fund Counterparties' finances and assets. Using both affirmative material misrepresentations and omissions (material facts or information needed to be disclosed to make the statements actually made not misleading, and which were not disclosed, are referred to hereinafter as "Omissions"), Highland Capital, its principals and the Fund Counterparties misled UBS regarding the financial health of the Fund Counterparties and their creditworthiness, thereby causing UBS to forego recovering its losses from Highland Capital in favor of agreeing to restructure the terms of the parties' prior agreements (the "Restructured Transaction").

7. For example, the strength of the Fund Counterparties' financial statements, and their purported ability to use the hundreds of millions of dollars worth of assets reflected therein to satisfy future obligations to UBS under the Warehouse Agreements were material to UBS's decision to agree to the restructuring. Consequently, in connection with negotiating the Restructured Transaction, UBS conditioned any restructuring on the Fund Counterparties' ability to post $70 million in cash and securities as collateral (the "Initial Restructuring Collateral") with State Street Bank and Trust Company ("State Street"), in which UBS would hold a security interest.

Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties were able to conceal important information about the Fund Counterparties' financial weakness that was both quantitatively and qualitatively material to UBS, and which would have caused UBS not to enter the Restructured Transaction.

8. Similarly, while negotiating the Restructured Transaction, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties provided UBS with financial reports and statements for the Fund Counterparties. The financial information that Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties provided to UBS contained materially false and misleading information and Omissions concerning the financial condition of the Fund Counterparties. Among other things,

9. In reliance on material misstatements and Omissions made by Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties, UBS agreed to restructure the Original Engagement, and thereby were fraudulently induced to give up contractual rights under the terms of the Original Engagement. In particular, UBS reasonably and justifiably relied on misrepresentations and Omissions of facts and information solely and peculiarly within the knowledge of Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties. Given UBS's prior dealings with Highland Capital and its affiliates, as well as Highland Capital's size and presence in the market, UBS had no reason to believe that Highland Capital and its affiliates would provide it with false, incomplete or otherwise misleading information about the Fund Counterparties' finances and assets, as they in fact did.

10. Had UBS known that the Fund Counterparties could not [REDACTED]
[REDACTED], it would not have gone forward with the Restructured Transaction. UBS never would have agreed to the Restructured Transaction had it known prior to entering the Restructured Transaction the true status of the Fund Counterparties' financial condition and the true fair market value of the Fund Counterparties' holdings that would have been available to satisfy their then-existing and future obligations to UBS. UBS's losses described herein were directly and proximately caused by the conduct of Highland Capital and the defendants as described herein.

11. Almost immediately after UBS agreed to the Restructured Transaction, Highland Capital began the process of making it impossible for the Fund Counterparties to ever repay UBS what they owed. In particular, exercising its control over the Fund Counterparties, Highland Capital caused the Fund Counterparties to transfer cash for the benefit of Highland Capital and its principals, and, separately, in violation of UBS's rights, [REDACTED]

12. For example, in or around May 2008, Highland Capital caused the dissipation of approximately $100 million in cash that CDO Fund held after it sold a long position in a company called SunCom Wireless. Highland Capital drained CDO Fund's cash resources despite CDO Fund's ever-increasing obligations to UBS. Highland Capital's bad faith conduct caused injury to UBS by making it impossible for the Fund Counterparties to satisfy their contractual obligations to UBS.

13. In September 2008, as losses in the Warehouse Facility continued to grow, UBS began to exercise its contractual rights and make margin calls demanding additional collateral from the Fund Counterparties. Because Highland Capital had routinely taken cash out of the Fund Counterparties, the Fund Counterparties were undercapitalized and lacked assets and liquidity to meet UBS's demands for additional collateral.

14. Highland Capital and its principals, including its president and founder, James D. Dondero, knew that if the Fund Counterparties defaulted on their obligations to UBS (or any other creditor), Highland Capital's ability to conduct business in the financial community and to keep or solicit investors would be harmed. Investors in Highland Capital's hedge fund family would withdraw their investments. In addition, creditors would take actions to protect themselves, including foreclosing on collateral and aggressively enforcing their contractual rights. Highland Capital and its principals were concerned that upon the disclosure of the true state of their affairs, their business would collapse.

15. To avoid that result, Highland Capital and its principals resorted to

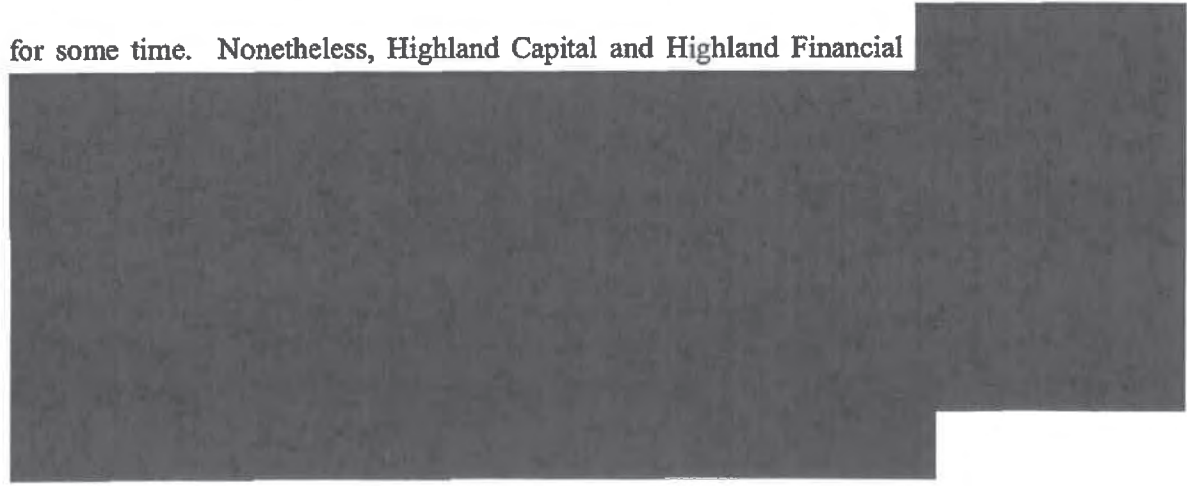

16. Highland Capital's and its principals' belated attempt to protect their reputation by continuing to fraudulently portray the Fund Counterparties as viable independent entities was ultimately unsuccessful. By late October 2008, Highland Capital could no longer continue to prop up the Fund Counterparties.

17. On or about November 11, 2008, UBS demanded additional collateral from the Fund Counterparties. The Fund Counterparties defaulted. On December 3, 2008, UBS terminated the Restructured Transaction. As a result of UBS's termination of the Restructured Transaction, the Fund Counterparties were contractually obligated to pay UBS in excess of $686 million.

18. On or about February 24, 2009, UBS filed the original complaint in this Court against the Fund Counterparties for breach of the Warehouse Agreements that had been entered in connection with the Restructured Transaction. By that time, the Fund Counterparties and SOHC's alter ego, Highland Financial, had been insolvent and unable to pay their creditors for some time. Nonetheless, Highland Capital and Highland Financial

19. In sum, after fraudulently inducing UBS to agree to the Restructured Transaction, Highland Capital and its principals exercised their domination over the Fund Counterparties to improperly transfer substantial assets from the Fund Counterparties for their own personal gain, i.e., solely and improperly to protect and enhance the value of Highland Capital and its principals by wrongful and improper means. In the process, they made it impossible for the Fund Counterparties to pay UBS the losses they had agreed to pay on the Warehouse Facility.

THE PARTIES

A. The Plaintiffs

20. Plaintiff UBS AG, London Branch, is a banking corporation organized under the laws of Switzerland with its principal place of business at Finsbury Avenue, London, United Kingdom.

21. Plaintiff UBSS is a limited liability company organized under the laws of Delaware with its principal places of business at 677 Washington Blvd., Stamford, Connecticut, and 299 Park Avenue, New York, New York.

B. Highland Capital

22. Highland Capital Management, L.P. ("Highland Capital") is a limited partnership organized under the laws of Delaware, with its principal place of business at 13455 Noel Road, Suite 800, Dallas, Texas 75240, and an office at 9 West 57th Street, New York, New York. Highland Capital is registered to do business in New York. Highland Capital describes itself as a 100% employee-owned partnership. Highland Capital is an investment adviser that manages a large number of investment entities that operate as hedge funds for Highland Capital's principals and affiliates, as well as unaffiliated investors. Highland Capital currently manages over $25 billion in various assets, including structured financial products. Highland Capital also holds direct and indirect equity and ownership interests in the entities that it manages, including in Highland Financial, the Fund Counterparties and the Affiliated Transferee Defendants. James D. Dondero is the President of Highland Capital, as well as one of its founders. Concurrently with filing the First Amended Complaint in this Action, UBS commenced a separate action against Highland Capital (the “Highland Capital Action”). The Highland Capital Action was later consolidated with this action by a Decision and Order, entered by this Court on October 7, 2010 (this action and the Highland Capital Action are referred to herein as the “Consolidated Action”).

C. The Defendants

1. Defendant Strand

23. Defendant Strand Advisors, Inc. (“Strand”) is Highland Capital’s general partner. Strand is a Delaware corporation principally engaged in the business of serving as the general partner of Highland Capital. As Highland Capital’s general partner, Strand is responsible for Highland Capital’s liabilities and obligations and regularly conducts business in New York, or causes its affiliates to conduct business in New York.

2. Defendants Highland Financial and SOHC

24. Highland Special Opportunities Holding Company (“SOHC”) is a company organized under the laws of the Cayman Islands, with its offices at Walker House, PO Box 908GT, Mary Street, George Town, Grand Cayman, Cayman Islands. SOHC is a wholly-owned subsidiary of defendant Highland Financial Partners, L.P. (a Delaware limited partnership) (“Highland Financial”). SOHC has six sister subsidiaries, all of which are owned in whole or in part by Highland Financial. Highland Capital serves as investment manager to defendant Highland Financial, SOHC and its sister subsidiaries.

25. Highland Financial is SOHC's alter ego.

For all purposes relevant to this action, Highland Financial and SOHC should be treated as a single entity and as alter egos of one another.

3. Defendant CDO Fund

26. Defendant Highland CDO Opportunity Master Fund, L.P. ("CDO Fund") is a Bermuda exempted limited partnership, with its principal place of business at 52 Reid Street, Hamilton, Bermuda. Highland Capital controls CDO Fund's investment decisions through an investment management agreement. Between January 31, 2007 and August 31, 2008, Highland Capital's and its affiliates' aggregate ownership interest in CDO Fund ranged between 43.36% and 56.44%. Highland CDO Opportunity Fund, L.P. and Highland CDO Opportunity Fund, Ltd. serve as so-called "feeder funds" for defendant CDO Fund.

4. The Affiliated Transferee Defendants [REDACTED]

27. Defendant Highland Credit Strategies Master Fund, L.P. (“Credit Strategies”) is a Bermuda limited partnership organized with its principal place of business at Victoria Place, 31 Victoria Street, Hamilton HM10, Bermuda. Credit Strategies transacts business within New York, and derives substantial revenue from interstate and international commerce.

28. Defendant Highland Crusader Offshore Partners, L.P. (the “Crusader Fund”) is a Bermuda limited partnership with its principal place of business at Victoria Place, 31 Victoria Street, Hamilton HM10, Bermuda. The Crusader Fund also has an office located at 13455 Noel Road, Suite 800, Dallas, Texas 75240. The Crusader Fund transacts business within New York, and derives substantial revenue from interstate and international commerce.

29. Defendant Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, L.P. (the “Credit Opp. Fund”) is a Delaware limited partnership with its principal place of business at 13455 Noel Road, Suite 800, Dallas, Texas 75240.

30. Credit Strategies, the Crusader Fund and the Credit Opp. Fund are referred to herein collectively as the “Affiliated Transferee Defendants” [REDACTED]

D. Non-Parties Affiliated With Highland Capital In Which The Fund Counterparties Invested

31. The Fund Counterparties held investments in several Highland Capital-affiliated funds, including Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, L.P., Highland Legacy, Highland Loan Funding V, Highland Park CDO I, Ltd., Highlander Euro CDO B.V. and Highlander Euro

CDO III B.V. Highland Capital served as the investment manager for these affiliated funds, and received valuable fees derived from the valuations of these funds' assets, which it managed.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

32. Venue in this Court is proper under CPLR 503 because plaintiff UBSS has a principal place of business in New York County.

33. Venue is also proper under CPLR 501, and this Court may exercise jurisdiction over the Fund Counterparties because UBS, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties all agreed in writing, before this action was commenced, to submit to such jurisdiction and venue, in connection with any dispute that may arise out of, in connection with, or related to, the Agreements (defined below), or any of the matters contemplated thereby. This Court also may exercise jurisdiction over Highland Financial because it is the alter ego of SOHC.

34. This Court also may exercise jurisdiction over all defendants pursuant to CPLR 301 and 302(a)(1) and (3), because defendants regularly transact and solicit business in New York, committed tortious acts causing injury in New York, should reasonably have expected that their tortious acts would have consequences in New York, the effect of their wrongful conduct was felt in New York, and/or derive substantial revenue from interstate or international commerce. Additionally, Highland Capital has an office in New York and is a foreign limited partnership registered to do business in New York.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

A. The Original Engagement

35. In or around April 2007, Highland Capital approached UBS for short-term financing in connection with a securitization that Highland Capital wanted to sponsor. UBS agreed to do so (the "Original Engagement").

36. On or about April 20, 2007, UBSS and Highland Capital entered into an engagement letter (the “Original Engagement Letter”), which contemplated that UBSS would act as the exclusive financial arranger and placement agent for a type of collateralized debt obligation transaction (“CDO”), known as a collateralized loan obligation (“CLO”) squared or “CLO Squared” transaction. (A copy of the Original Engagement Letter is annexed hereto as Exhibit A.)

37. CLOs are a form of securitization where interest and principal payments on corporate loans made to multiple mid-sized and large businesses are pooled together by a lender or the owner of the loans, and then passed on through a securitization structure to investors. CLOs typically involve multi-million dollar loans known as syndicated loans, or leveraged loans made to new businesses or existing businesses, often to acquire other companies. The loan originators are able to spread risk through the CLO securitization, and simultaneously free up capital to make new loans to other businesses. The Original Engagement contemplated the securitization of CLO securities. Thus, the securitization contemplated by Highland Capital would have been a “CLO Squared” transaction.

38. On or about May 22, 2007, as contemplated by the Original Engagement Letter, UBSS and Highland Capital entered into a warehouse agreement (the “Original Cash Warehouse Agreement”). (A copy of the Original Cash Warehouse Agreement is annexed hereto as Exhibit B.) In accordance with the terms of the Original Engagement Letter and the Original Cash Warehouse Agreement, UBSS agreed to acquire securities as directed by Highland Capital. Highland Capital instructed UBS to acquire various CLO securities issued in connection with prior CLO transactions involving other sponsors and issuers (the “Cash Portfolio”).

39. In a separate but related synthetic warehouse agreement (the “Original Synthetic Warehouse Agreement,” and together with the “Original Cash Warehouse

Agreement,” the “Original Warehouse Agreements”), UBS AG agreed to enter into credit default swaps (the “CDS Portfolio,” and together with the Cash Portfolio, the “Warehouse Assets”), pursuant to which UBS AG sold credit protection to various third parties. (A copy of the Original Synthetic Warehouse Agreement is annexed hereto as Exhibit C.)

40. For Highland Capital’s benefit, UBS held the Warehouse Assets on its balance sheet (the “Warehouse Facility”). UBS was expected to hold the Warehouse Assets until such time as the parties could arrange for the assets to be securitized as part of the contemplated securitization. In particular, if the parties believed that a securitization was economically feasible, they would create a special purpose entity that would acquire the Warehouse Assets from UBS using the proceeds from the sale of securities to investors. The special purpose entity’s debt securities would be secured by those Warehouse Assets.

41. Under the Original Warehouse Agreements, if the Original Engagement terminated without a securitization, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties were obligated to pay UBS for losses on the Warehouse Assets. In particular, under the terms of the Original Cash Warehouse Agreement, Highland Capital was directly responsible for the first $50 million in losses in the Cash Portfolio, and under the terms of the Original Synthetic Warehouse Agreement, the Fund Counterparties were obligated to pay UBS for any and all losses suffered on the CDS Portfolio.

42. The Original Engagement Letter expired by its terms on August 15, 2007 without a securitization occurring. The Original Warehouse Agreements expired on the same date in accordance with their respective terms.

43. As of August 15, 2007, the Warehouse Assets in the Warehouse Facility had lost in excess of $86 million in value. Although they had sufficient capital to do so,

Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties failed and refused to pay UBS what it was owed under the Original Warehouse Agreements.

44. As a result of extensive negotiations as well as representations and warranties made by Highland Capital on its own behalf, and on behalf of the Fund Counterparties as their investment manager, UBS agreed to restructure the terms of the Original Engagement.

B. Highland Capital And The Fund Counterparties Resort To Fraud To Avoid Highland Capital's Obligations To UBS

45. As alleged above, as a result of the termination of the Original Engagement, Highland Capital was directly liable to UBS under the Original Warehouse Agreement for in excess of $86 million.

46. Between August 2007 and March 14, 2008, UBS, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties had discussions and negotiations concerning a restructuring of the terms of the Original Engagement. Those negotiations resulted in agreements to restructure the Original Engagement (the "Restructured Transaction"), including a release by UBS of its claims against Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties arising out of the Original Engagement. (The terms of the Restructured Transaction are set forth in the Engagement Letter and Warehouse Agreements described below (collectively, the "Agreements"), which are annexed hereto as Exhibits D, E and F, respectively.)

47. During the course of negotiations and before March 14, 2008, Highland Capital and Fund Counterparties made several material misrepresentations to UBS concerning the creditworthiness of the Fund Counterparties. Dondero, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties also failed to disclose to UBS information which would have been material to UBS's decision to enter the Restructured Transaction ("Omissions," as defined above). As

Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties knew, UBS reasonably relied upon those material misrepresentations and, due to the Omissions, a misstated assessment of the Fund Counterparties, all to its detriment in deciding whether to enter the Restructured Transaction. UBS reasonably and justifiably relied on these misrepresentations and Omissions of facts and information that were solely and peculiarly within the knowledge of Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties. Given UBS's prior dealings with Highland Capital and its affiliates, as well as Highland Capital's size and presence in the market, UBS reasonably believed that Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties would not provide it with false, incomplete or otherwise misleading information about the Fund Counterparties' finances and assets as it in fact did.

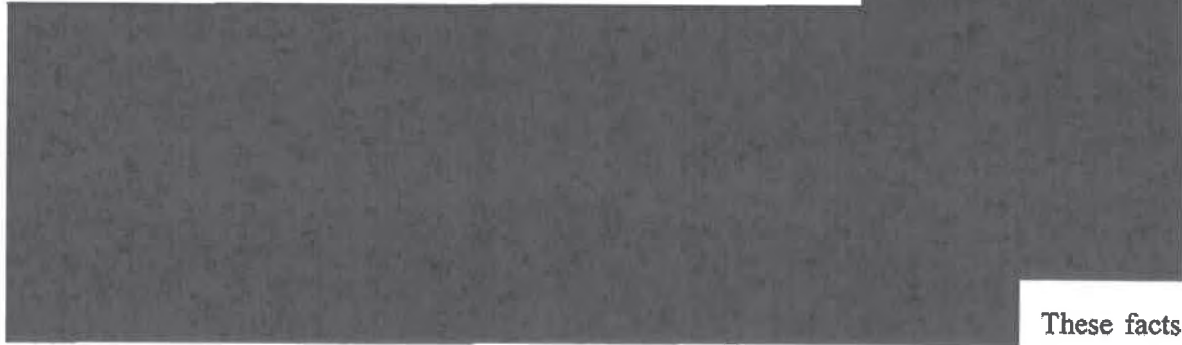

48. For example, on or about December 28, 2007, to induce UBS to enter the Restructured Transaction and related Agreements, Gibran Mahmud of Highland Capital sent SOHC financial statements to UBS. On or about January 29, 2008, UBS requested additional financial information related to SOHC. Later that same day, to induce UBS to enter the Restructured Transaction and related Agreements, Phil Braner of Highland Capital emailed UBS a copy of SOHC's Statement of Financial Condition, dated December 31, 2007.

49. As described with more particularity below, the SOHC financial information that Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties provided to UBS, which Highland Capital was responsible for preparing, was materially false and misleading. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties knew that UBS would rely upon SOHC's financial information in connection with deciding whether to agree to the Restructured Transaction and the terms of the Agreements being negotiated.

50. On or about February 4, 2008, Matt Killebrew of Highland Capital provided UBS with financial reports via email that reflected financial summaries, and aggregate valuations for CDO Fund's assets as of December 31, 2007. On or about March 4, 2008, Mr. Killebrew sent UBS similar reports for the period ended January 31, 2008. As described with more particularity below, these financial reports, which Highland Capital prepared, also were materially false and misleading. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties knew that UBS would rely upon CDO Fund's financial information in connection with deciding whether to agree to the Restructured Transaction and the terms of the Agreements being negotiated.

51. The Fund Counterparties' financial statements

and information were solely and peculiarly within the knowledge of Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties.

52. CDO Fund's financial statements

[REDACTED]

53. Similarly, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties concealed from UBS the fact that the Fund Counterparties

[REDACTED]

54. In addition, the Fund Counterparties' financial statements that Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties provided to UBS in advance of the Restructured Transaction contained

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

55. During the course of negotiations concerning the restructuring, UBS also insisted that the Fund Counterparties have the ability to post $70 million in cash and securities as collateral, which would be held at State Street Bank (the "Initial Restructured Transaction Collateral"), and in which UBS would hold a security interest. The Fund Counterparties' ability to do so using their own assets was qualitatively and quantitatively material to UBS. Among other things, it demonstrated the strength of their balance sheets, and by extension, their ability to satisfy future obligations to UBS.

56. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties agreed that the Fund Counterparties would post $70 million in Initial Restructuring Collateral.

[REDACTED]

57. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

58.

As the Fund Counterparties' investment manager, Highland Capital maintained the Fund Counterparties' accounting records, and knew

Given UBS's prior dealings with Highland Capital and its affiliates, as well as Highland Capital's size and presence in the market, UBS had no reason to believe, and reasonably did not believe, that Highland Capital would provide it with false, incomplete or otherwise misleading information about

59. If UBS had known that the Fund Counterparties

[REDACTED] It also
would have drawn into question the Fund Counterparties' liquidity.
[REDACTED]

60. But for Dondero's, Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' false and misleading statements and Omissions concerning the Fund Counterparties' finances and assets, and [REDACTED] UBS would not have entered into the Restructured Transaction or the Agreements that memorialized its terms. Given the Fund Counterparties' weak credit quality, additional adverse information about their collective or individual creditworthiness would have deterred UBS from going forward with the Restructured Transaction and putting more assets at risk. These misrepresentations and Omissions proximately caused harm to UBS.

61. UBS would not have entered into a transaction with parties that made misrepresentations as Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties did. UBS also would not have agreed to release its valuable claims arising out of the Original Engagement under such circumstances. Because of, and in reliance on, the false and misleading information about the Fund Counterparties provided by Dondero, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties, UBS entered into the Restructured Transaction memorialized in the Agreements. Because each of the misrepresentations and Omissions identified above disguised the Fund Counterparties' inability to satisfy their obligations to UBS, the misrepresentations and Omissions proximately caused harm to UBS.

C. The Restructured Transaction Agreements

1. The Engagement Letter

62. On or about March 14, 2008, the parties reached agreement on the terms of a restructured engagement, which were memorialized in a new engagement letter (the “Engagement Letter,” annexed hereto as Exhibit D). Pursuant to the Engagement Letter, Highland Capital re-engaged UBSS to act as placement agent in the event that market conditions improved, and the parties could go forward with securitizing the Warehouse Assets already held by UBS in the Warehouse Facility. UBS agreed to continue holding the Warehouse Assets in the Warehouse Facility, which had a notional value of approximately $818 million.

63. Under the terms of the Engagement Letter, UBS released claims against Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties arising out of the Original Engagement.

64. On March 14, 2008, UBSS, the Fund Counterparties and Highland Capital also entered into a cash warehouse agreement (the “Cash Warehouse Agreement”), pursuant to which UBSS agreed to continue to hold the Cash Portfolio. (A true and correct copy of the Cash Warehouse Agreement is annexed hereto as Exhibit E.)

65. UBS AG, the Fund Counterparties and Highland Capital also entered into a synthetic warehouse agreement, dated as of March 14, 2008 (the “Synthetic Warehouse Agreement,” and together with the Cash Warehouse Agreement, the “Warehouse Agreements”), pursuant to which UBS AG agreed to continue warehousing credit protection that it sold, i.e., the CDS Portfolio. (A true and correct copy of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement is annexed hereto as Exhibit F.)

66. Section 13(B) of the Cash Warehouse Agreement and § 11(B) of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement make Highland Capital liable for losses, including losses in the Warehouse Facility, by reason of acts or omissions constituting bad faith, willful misconduct, or gross negligence.

67. Under § 12 of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement, the Fund Counterparties agreed to transfer to State Street the Initial Restructuring Collateral to partially secure their respective obligations to UBS under the Warehouse Agreements. Annex C to the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement identified the six assets that the Fund Counterparties purportedly transferred to State Street to satisfy their Initial Restructuring Collateral obligations, along with $20 million in cash.

68. The Warehouse Agreements also contained releases whereby UBS agreed to release claims it had against Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties for losses arising out of the Original Engagement.

D. Highland Capital Uses Its Control Over The Fund Counterparties To Dissipate Their Assets Without Regard For The Fund Counterparties' Growing Obligations To UBS

69. Almost immediately after the Restructured Transaction Agreements were executed, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties knowingly began to dissipate the Fund Counterparties' assets and make it impossible for the Fund Counterparties to ever repay UBS what they owed. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties did so at various times when the Fund Counterparties owed UBS hundreds of millions of dollars.

70. For example, on or about March 26, 2008, just days after entering the Restructured Transaction, Highland Capital caused certain SOHC assets to be encumbered by entering into a transaction with Barclays Bank, plc. ("Barclays"). At or around the same time, CDO Fund was negotiating financing arrangements with Morgan Stanley & Co. International Ltd. and Highland Capital IV SPC, whereby it granted a security interest in its assets to those entities. By granting a security interest in the Fund Counterparties' assets to other creditors,

Highland Capital unfairly and improperly reduced the assets available to satisfy the Fund Counterparties' obligations to UBS in bad faith and in violation of UBS's rights.

71. Similarly, on or about April 2, 2008, Highland Capital advised UBS that defendant CDO Fund had recently monetized a $129 million long position in SunCom Wireless. When Highland Capital and CDO Fund subsequently provided UBS with additional financial information about CDO Fund, however, UBS discovered that Highland Capital had caused CDO Fund to transfer approximately $100 million of the cash proceeds from the SunCom Wireless sale out of CDO Fund.

72. By improperly removing such a substantial amount of cash from CDO Fund, Highland Capital interfered in bad faith with CDO Fund's ability to satisfy its steadily increasing financial obligations to UBS. In particular, in or around May 2008, when the cash proceeds from the SunCom Wireless position were siphoned off, the Fund Counterparties owed UBS in excess of $166 million related to losses in the Warehouse Facility, approximately 50% of which CDO Fund was obligated to pay.

73. Highland Capital also repeatedly caused SOHC's cash to be transferred by defendant Highland Financial. In particular, during the first five months of 2008, SOHC's cash position was reduced by over $10 million at a time when its obligations to UBS were increasing substantially.

E. In the Fall of 2008, Losses Mount And The Fund Counterparties Face Collateral Calls From Creditors Including UBS That They Cannot Meet Despite Highland Capital's Belated Efforts To Do So [REDACTED]

74. Under the terms of the Warehouse Agreements, the Fund Counterparties were required to post additional collateral with UBS if the combined market value of (a) the Warehouse Assets and (b) the Initial Restructured Transaction Collateral, declined below a certain amount.

75. By September 2008, losses in the Warehouse Facility had increased significantly. At the same time, the value of the Initial Restructuring Collateral had declined substantially, as had the value of the assets held by the Fund Counterparties.

76. Highland Capital was desperate to avoid a default by any of its affiliates, including the Fund Counterparties. If a Highland Capital affiliate defaulted on its obligations to a creditor, Highland Capital's reputation in the investment community would be damaged, and there was a risk that Highland Capital's business would collapse. Highland Capital feared that a public default would lead investors in Highland Capital's hedge fund family to withdraw their capital, and lead creditors to take aggressive actions to protect themselves, including foreclosing on collateral and aggressively enforcing their contractual rights.

1. The First Margin Call

77. On or about September 16, 2008, as losses in the Warehouse Facility continued to grow, UBS began to exercise its contractual rights and make margin calls demanding additional collateral from the Fund Counterparties. Specifically, UBS notified Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties that, pursuant to § 12(C) of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement, the Fund Counterparties were each required to post $10 million in cash or equivalent securities (the "First Margin Call").

78. Because Highland Capital had routinely drained cash from the Fund Counterparties, the Fund Counterparties lacked the liquidity to meet UBS's demands using their own assets.

79. On or about September 19, 2008, the Fund Counterparties satisfied the First Margin Call by together posting $20 million in cash as additional collateral.

2. UBS Is Harmed By Highland Capital's Response To The Fund Counterparties' Liquidity Crisis

80. In the wake of the First Margin Call, the Fund Counterparties remained starved for liquidity. Still desperate to avoid defaults to creditors and the consequences described above, Highland Capital resorted to

81. Highland Capital and the individuals that directed the Fund Counterparties knew that they had caused the Fund Counterparties to become incapable of satisfying their obligations to all of their respective creditors when they came due, and that they were insolvent or, at the very least, within the zone of insolvency.

82. For example, on or about September 26, 2008, Dondero and Highland Capital improperly Highland Capital executed this plan at UBS's expense to protect their substantial personal stake in Highland Financial and prevent negative publicity associated with defaulting [REDACTED]. Implementing this plan, however, caused SOHC (and its alter ego, Highland Financial) to improperly and in bad faith breach duties and obligations to UBS.

[REDACTED]

SOHC's expected obligations to UBS were well in excess of $250 million, which were due and owing to UBS no later than March 14, 2009. Thus, by [REDACTED], Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties made a fraudulent conveyance and interfered in bad faith with the Fund Counterparties' ability to meet their contractual obligations to UBS.

88. Given the state of the financial markets at the time, Highland Capital, Highland Financial and SOHC had no expectation that SOHC would be able to satisfy its obligations to UBS when they came due.

3. The Second Margin Call

90. On or about October 21, 2008, UBS notified Highland Capital that, pursuant to § 12(C) of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement, the Fund Counterparties each owed another $10 million (the “Second Margin Call”).

91. In response to the Second Margin Call, Highland Capital offered UBS numerous assets as collateral. UBS rejected those offers for various business-related reasons. As UBS would later learn, however, at the time Highland Capital was offering the assets to UBS, the Fund Counterparties did not own them.

92. On or about October 24, 2008, the Fund Counterparties satisfied the Second Margin Call by together posting assets with a notional value of $49.97 million (but a market value of approximately $20 million), with the understanding that UBS would authorize State Street to return the securities if and when the Fund Counterparties were able to replace those securities with $20 million in cash. As UBS would later learn,

93. Moreover, at the same time that Highland Capital was telling UBS that the Fund Counterparties did not have sufficient cash assets to meet the Second Margin call,

4. The Third Margin Call

94. On or about November 7, 2008, UBS notified Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties that, pursuant to § 12(C) of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement, the Fund Counterparties had an obligation to post another $10 million as collateral (the “Third Margin Call”).

95. On or about November 11, 2008, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties offered to post various securities to satisfy the Third Margin Call. In response to the Third Margin Call, Phil Braner of Highland Capital emailed UBS a list of proposed collateral including eight securities with a purported market value of approximately $20 million (i.e., twice the amount of cash due to satisfy the Third Margin Call).

96. Pursuant to the Warehouse Agreements, UBS was authorized to reject proposed collateral. UBS determined that the proposed additional collateral offered by Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties was unacceptable. On or after November 13, 2008, UBS formally rejected the offered securities, and requested that the Fund Counterparties provide cash or cash equivalent collateral to satisfy their obligations under § 12(C) of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement.

97. UBS would later learn that

98. When UBS confronted Highland Capital about this issue Mr. Braner of Highland Capital explained that

F. Termination Of The Agreements And Demand For Payment Of Losses

99. As of December 3, 2008, the Fund Counterparties still had not met the Third Margin Call in accordance with § 12(C) of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement. This failure resulted in UBS's declaration of a termination date ("Termination Date") under the Agreements.

100. On December 3, 2008, UBS delivered a letter (the "Termination Date Letter") to Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties notifying them of such failure and the

occurrence of a Termination Date under each Agreement. (A true and correct copy of the Termination Date Letter is annexed hereto as Exhibit G.)

101. Sections 5 and 7 of the Cash Warehouse Agreement provided that if the closing date of the securitization contemplated by the Restructured Transaction failed to occur on or prior to March 14, 2009, UBSS could, in its sole discretion, retain any of the securities in the Warehouse Facility or sell such securities to one of UBSS's affiliates or an unaffiliated party.

102. Pursuant to the terms of the Agreements, if the closing date of the securitization contemplated by the Restructured Transaction failed to occur on or prior to March 14, 2009, each of the Fund Counterparties was obligated to pay to UBS its pro rata share of any market value losses on the Warehouse Assets, which UBS determined it had experienced and so notified Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties.

103. On December 19, 2008, UBSS delivered a letter (the "Cash Warehouse Demand Letter") to Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties demanding payment for its losses. (A true and correct copy of the Cash Warehouse Demand Letter is annexed hereto as Exhibit H.) UBSS demanded that Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties wire that required amount to UBSS no later than 5:00 pm on December 24, 2008 (i.e., the third business day after the date of the Cash Warehouse Demand Letter) (the "Final Payment Date"). Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties failed to make the required payment to UBSS.

104. The Synthetic Warehouse Agreement provided that in the event the closing date of the securitization contemplated by the Restructured Transaction failed to occur on or prior to March 14, 2009, the Fund Counterparties would be collectively responsible for 100% of the aggregate amount of losses on the CDS Portfolio and each of the Fund Counterparties would pay, after notice of such amount due from UBS, its pro rata share of such amount to UBS within three business days.

105. On December 19, 2008, UBS AG delivered a letter (the “Synthetic Warehouse Demand Letter”) to Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties demanding payment for its losses. (A true and correct copy of the Synthetic Warehouse Demand Letter is annexed hereto as Exhibit I.) UBS AG demanded that the Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties wire the required amount to UBS AG no later than 5:00 PM on the Final Payment Date (i.e., December 24, 2008 — the third business day after the date of the Synthetic Warehouse Demand Letter). Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties failed to make the required payment to UBS AG.

G. Notice Of Failure to Pay, Auction And Final Accounting Letter

106. On January 5, 2009, UBS notified Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties of the failure to make the requisite payments when due pursuant to the Agreements and the applicable demand letters. On or about January 16, 2009, in connection with unwinding the Warehouse Facility, UBS conducted the auction contemplated by the Warehouse Agreements.

107. On or about March 19, 2009, UBS delivered a letter to Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties concerning a final accounting concerning the auction and the losses in the Warehouse Facility. UBS determined that Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties owed it $686,853,290.26.

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION
(Fraud Against The Fund Counterparties)

115. UBS repeats and realleges the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 114 of this Second Amended Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

116. In connection with restructuring the Original Engagement, and negotiating the terms of the Agreements and Restructured Transaction, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties had a duty to communicate accurate and complete information to UBS.

117. As alleged above, in connection with negotiating the Restructured Transaction, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties intentionally misrepresented material facts and made Omissions (as defined earlier herein).

118. As set forth in more detail above, prior to the restructuring being completed, and the Agreements being executed, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties misrepresented information and made Omissions to UBS concerning the creditworthiness of the Fund Counterparties as well as information about their finances and assets, including, but not limited to, information regarding the following:

119. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties acted knowingly and purposefully in making the materially false representations and Omissions to UBS in connection with negotiating the Restructured Transaction to induce UBS to enter the Agreements. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties knew that their representations and Omissions were materially false and misleading. Knowingly using material misrepresentations and Omissions, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties intended to induce, and fraudulently induced UBS into entering the Agreements.

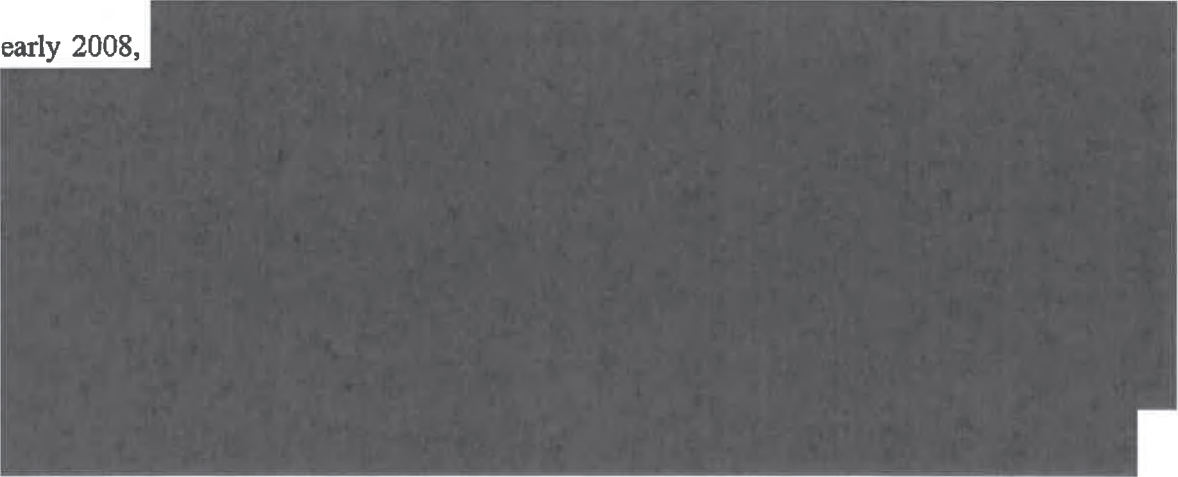

120. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties also knew that their false representations and Omissions were material to and caused UBS's decision to enter the Agreements. In particular, the misrepresentations and Omissions were both quantitatively and qualitatively material to UBS inasmuch as UBS would have acted differently had it known the truth about the Fund Counterparties' finances and assets when UBS made the decision to go forward with the restructuring and releasing, among other things, valuable claims against Highland Capital.

121. UBS was not aware and could not have been aware of the falsity and misleading nature of Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' misrepresentations and Omissions. The facts and information underlying the false, inaccurate and incomplete financial reports that Highland Capital provided to UBS in connection with negotiating the Restructured Transaction were peculiarly within Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' knowledge.

122. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties had superior knowledge compared to UBS about Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' finances and assets. Indeed, such facts and information were solely and peculiarly within the knowledge of Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties. Moreover, it was necessary for Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties to complete or clarify the information that it provided to UBS concerning the Fund Counterparties' finances and assets. Consequently, Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' concealment of the Fund Counterparties' finances and assets was fraudulent.

123. UBS reasonably and justifiably relied to its detriment on Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' misrepresentations and Omissions regarding the Fund Counterparties' financial condition and assets. In particular, UBS reasonably and justifiably relied on misrepresentations and Omissions of facts and information solely and peculiarly within the knowledge of Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties. Given UBS's prior dealings with Highland Capital and its affiliates, as well as Highland Capital's size and presence in the market, UBS had no reason to question the veracity and completeness of the financial information that Highland Capital provided to UBS about the Fund Counterparties' finances and assets. UBS also had no reason to believe that the financial information that Highland Capital provided to it to induce UBS to enter the Restructured Transaction would be false, incomplete or otherwise misleading. When UBS evaluated the Fund Counterparties' financial statements in early 2008,

124. But for Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' material misrepresentations and Omissions, UBS would not have entered the Agreements, or released its claims against Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties arising out of the Original Engagement.

125. In reasonable and justifiable reliance on the foregoing material misrepresentations and Omissions, UBS also surrendered and released valuable claims against Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties at a time when UBS could have been made whole for the losses that it had suffered to that point as a result of the Original Engagement. Nor would UBS have suffered the additional losses in the Warehouse Facility.

126. UBS reasonably relied to its detriment on Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' material misrepresentations and Omissions. As a direct and proximate result of Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' misrepresentations and Omissions, UBS continued to maintain the Warehouse Facility through, at least, December 3, 2008, suffering in excess of $686 million in losses that the Fund Counterparties cannot pay to UBS.

127. Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' material misrepresentations and Omissions were the direct and proximate cause of UBS's losses complained of herein. As a direct result of, and in reliance upon, Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' material misrepresentations and Omissions, UBS was induced to, among other things, (a) enter the Agreements; (b) release its pre-existing claims against Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties related to the Original Engagement; and (c) assume the credit-risk of the Fund Counterparties; and as a direct result, caused UBS to incur substantial losses and damages in an amount to be determined at trial.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION
(Fraud Against The Fund Counterparties)
(Pled Solely To Preserve For Appeal)

128. UBS repeats and realleges the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 127 of this Second Amended Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

129. In connection with restructuring the Original Engagement, and negotiating the terms of the Agreements and Restructured Transaction, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties had a duty to communicate accurate and complete information to UBS.

130. As alleged above, in connection with negotiating the Restructured Transaction, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties intentionally misrepresented material facts and made Omissions (as defined earlier herein).

131. As set forth in more detail above, prior to the restructuring being completed, and the Agreements being executed, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties misrepresented information and made Omissions to UBS concerning the creditworthiness of the Fund Counterparties and information about their finances, assets and business practices, including, but not limited to, information regarding the following:

- (a) [REDACTED]
- (b) [REDACTED]
- (c) [REDACTED]
- (d) [REDACTED]
- (e) [REDACTED]
- (f) [REDACTED]

132. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties acted knowingly and purposefully in making the materially false representations and Omissions to UBS in connection with negotiating the Restructured Transaction to induce UBS to enter the Agreements. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties knew that their representations and Omissions were materially false and misleading. Knowingly using material misrepresentations and Omissions, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties intended to induce, and fraudulently induced UBS into entering the Agreements.

133. These Omissions rendered the Fund Counterparties' representations, statements and financial statements materially misleading. Because Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties concealed this information from UBS, UBS could not properly evaluate SOHC's ability to satisfy its obligations to UBS. For instance, UBS received financial reports from Highland Capital for the Fund Counterparties that suggested that the Fund Counterparties held hundreds of millions of dollars worth of assets that could be used to satisfy their obligations to UBS. However, a substantial portion of the assets that UBS reasonably believed would be available, were, in fact, not going to be available to pay UBS because they were going to be encumbered as a result of other transactions. In other words, because Highland Capital concealed its intentions, the financial reports that it provided to UBS were misleading as they provided UBS with false and illusory comfort regarding the Fund Counterparties' capacity to fulfill their contractual obligations to UBS. As the Fund Counterparties' investment manager, Highland Capital would have led the negotiations related to the other financing arrangements.

134. Similarly, during negotiations concerning the Initial Restructuring Collateral, Highland Capital and SOHC made an additional Omission by not disclosing to UBS

the fact that SOHC had a serious liquidity problem. SOHC had to borrow cash from Highland Capital to satisfy the cash portion of its Initial Restructuring Collateral obligation. On or about December 18, 2007, while the parties were negotiating the restructuring, Highland Capital loaned $30 million to SOHC, which Highland Capital and SOHC's alter ego, Highland Financial, earmarked for SOHC to use as collateral in connection with negotiating extensions of warehouse facilities, including the one with UBS. As Highland Financial's and SOHC's investment manager, Highland Capital knew about SOHC's liquidity problems since they were discussed openly at Highland Financial board meetings attended by Highland Capital. The failure to fully disclose SOHC's liquidity problem, and its inability to meet the Initial Restructuring Collateral obligation using its own cash assets was an Omission, because it was indicative of the strength of SOHC's finances and assets, and SOHC's ability to satisfy obligations to UBS.

135. Highland Capital and Fund Counterparties also concealed from UBS that Highland Capital had to commingle assets among its various affiliates and disregard corporate formalities to satisfy the Fund Counterparties' liquidity needs. Facts and information concerning these business practices, including Highland Capital's commingling of assets and disregard of corporate formalities was information solely and peculiarly within the knowledge of Highland Capital and its affiliates. As the investment manager to Highland Financial, SOHC and CDO Fund (as well as the Affiliated Transferee Defendants), Highland Capital knowingly arranged and caused the asset transfers between and among the various affiliates in disregard of corporate formalities.

136. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties also knew that their false representations and Omissions were material to and caused UBS's decision to enter the Agreements. In particular, the misrepresentations and Omissions were both quantitatively and qualitatively material to UBS inasmuch as UBS would have acted differently had it known the truth about the Fund Counterparties' finances, assets and business practices when UBS made the decision to go forward with the restructuring and releasing, among other things, valuable claims against Highland Capital.

137. In addition, if UBS had known that Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties ignored corporate formalities or that Highland Capital freely transferred assets among its controlled entities, UBS would not have entered the Restructured Transaction. These misrepresentations and Omissions proximately caused harm to UBS.

138. UBS was not aware and could not have been aware of the falsity and misleading nature of Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' misrepresentations and Omissions. The facts and information underlying the false, inaccurate and incomplete financial reports that Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties provided to UBS in connection with negotiating the Restructured Transaction were peculiarly within Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' knowledge.

139. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties had superior knowledge compared to UBS about Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' finances, assets and business practices. Indeed, such facts and information were solely and peculiarly within the knowledge of Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties. Moreover, it was necessary for Highland Capital and the Highland Entities to complete or clarify the information that it provided to UBS concerning the Fund Counterparties' finances, assets and business practices. Consequently, Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' concealment about the Fund Counterparties' finances, assets and business practices was fraudulent.

140. UBS reasonably and justifiably relied to its detriment on Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' misrepresentations and Omissions regarding the Fund

Counterparties' financial condition, assets and business practices. In particular, UBS reasonably and justifiably relied on misrepresentations and Omissions of facts and information solely and peculiarly within the knowledge of Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties. Given UBS's prior dealings with Highland Capital and its affiliates, as well as Highland Capital's size and presence in the market, UBS had no reason to question the veracity and completeness of the financial information that Highland Capital provided to UBS about the Fund Counterparties' finances, assets and business practices. UBS also had no reason to believe that the financial information that Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties provided to it to induce UBS to enter the Restructured Transaction would be false, incomplete or otherwise misleading. When UBS evaluated the Fund Counterparties' financial statements in early 2008,

141. But for Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' material misrepresentations and Omissions, UBS would not have entered the Agreements, or released its claims against Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties arising out of the Original Engagement.

142. In reasonable and justifiable reliance on the foregoing material misrepresentations and Omissions, UBS also surrendered and released valuable claims against Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties at a time when UBS could have been made whole for the losses that it had suffered to that point as a result of the Original Engagement. Nor would UBS have suffered the additional losses in the Warehouse Facility.

143. UBS reasonably relied to its detriment on Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' material misrepresentations and Omissions. As a direct and proximate result of Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' misrepresentations and Omissions, UBS continued to maintain the Warehouse Facility through, at least, December 3, 2008, suffering in excess of $686 million in losses that the Fund Counterparties cannot pay to UBS.

144. Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' material misrepresentations and Omissions were the direct and proximate cause of UBS's losses complained of herein. As a direct result of, and in reliance upon, Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' material misrepresentations and Omissions, UBS was induced to, among other things, (a) enter the Agreements; (b) release its pre-existing claims against Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties related to the Original Engagement; and (c) assume the credit-risk of the Fund Counterparties; and as a direct result, caused UBS to incur substantial losses and damages in an amount to be determined at trial.

THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION
(Breach of Contract Under the Cash Warehouse Agreement Against The Fund Counterparties)

145. Plaintiff UBSS repeats and realleges the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 144 of this Second Amended Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

146. The Cash Warehouse Agreement is a valid and binding contract.

147. UBSS has performed all of its obligations under the Cash Warehouse Agreement.

148. Pursuant to the Cash Warehouse Agreement, each of the Fund Counterparties was required to transfer their respective pro rata shares of additional collateral to satisfy the Third Margin Call within two business days of November 7, 2008. The Fund Counterparties failed to make the required transfer. The Fund Counterparties' failure to make such transfer is a breach under the Cash Warehouse Agreement, and resulted in a Termination Date under the Cash Warehouse Agreement.

149. In accordance with the terms of the Cash Warehouse Agreement, UBSS demanded that each of the Fund Counterparties pay to UBS their respective pro rata shares of the amount of losses on the Cash Portfolio and estimated expenses by 5 P.M. on the Final Payment Date (i.e., December 24, 2008 – the third business day after the date of the Cash Warehouse Demand Letter). The Fund Counterparties failed to pay this amount to UBSS. The failure to pay these amounts to UBSS when due under the Cash Warehouse Agreement constituted a further breach under the Cash Warehouse Agreement.

150. By reason of the foregoing, UBSS has suffered and will continue to suffer damages in an amount to be determined at trial.

FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION
(Breach of Contract Under the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement Against The Fund Counterparties)

151. Plaintiff UBS AG, repeats and realleges the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 150 of this Second Amended Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

152. The Synthetic Warehouse Agreement is a valid and binding contract.

153. UBS AG has performed all of its obligations under the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement.

154. Pursuant to the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement, each of the Fund Counterparties were required to transfer their respective pro rata shares of additional collateral to satisfy the Third Margin Call within two business days of November 7, 2008. The Fund Counterparties failed to make the requisite transfer. The failure to make such transfer resulted in a breach and a Termination Date under the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement.

155. UBS AG demanded that each of the Fund Counterparties pay to UBS AG their pro rata share of losses on the CDS Portfolio and estimated expenses by 5 P.M. on the Final Payment Date (i.e., December 24, 2008 – the third business day after the date of the Synthetic Warehouse Demand Letter). The Fund Counterparties failed to pay this amount to UBS. The failure to pay these amounts when due under the Agreements was a further breach under the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement.

156. By reason of the foregoing, UBS AG has suffered and will continue to suffer damages in an amount to be determined at trial.

157. Paragraphs 157 to 166 have been intentionally left blank.

(Fraudulent Conveyances Against All Defendants)

167. UBS repeats and realleges the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 166 of this Second Amended Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

168. Between March 14, 2008 and December 3, 2008, as losses in the Warehouse Facility grew, Highland Capital exercised its control over the Fund Counterparties and caused the Fund Counterparties to transfer valuable cash and assets out of the Fund Counterparties, thereby impairing their ability to bear losses in the Warehouse Facility, and otherwise satisfy their obligations to creditors, including UBS. (Pled Solely To Preserve For Appeal)

180. UBS repeats and realleges the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 179 of this Second Amended Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

181. The Agreements are valid and binding contracts.

182. The parties agreed that UBS would not bear the risk of any losses in connection with the Restructured Transaction. As a direct result of the Fund Counterparties' breach of the Warehouse Agreements, UBS suffered no less than $686,853,290.26 in damages. Under the terms of the Warehouse Agreements, the Fund Counterparties' obligation to pay UBS for losses in the Warehouse Facility expressly survived the termination of the Agreements.

183. Highland Capital knew of the Agreements, and were familiar with their terms, including the Fund Counterparties' obligations to UBS thereunder. The Affiliated Transferee Defendants, also knew of the Agreements, and their terms, including the Fund Counterparties' obligations to UBS thereunder.

184. Highland Capital and the Affiliated Transferee Defendants intentionally and improperly caused and ensured a breach of the Warehouse Agreements by the Fund Counterparties, thereby tortiously interfering with UBS's rights under the Agreements.

185. Specifically, in 2008 and 2009 Highland Capital wrongfully caused the improper and fraudulent asset transfers, payments, distributions and dividends described above, and thereby tortiously interfered with UBS's contractual relationship with the Fund Counterparties by knowingly impairing UBS's contractual right under the Warehouse Agreements to be reimbursed by the Fund Counterparties for the losses on the Warehouse Assets. For example, Highland Capital wrongfully caused the March 2009 Fraudulent Conveyance for which there was no legitimate purpose. The Affiliated Transferee Defendants

186. Highland Capital and the Affiliated Transferee Defendants

187. Highland Capital and the Affiliated Transferee Defendants engaged in the foregoing unlawful and improper conduct, and tortiously interfered with UBS's contractual rights under the Warehouse Agreements, for their own improper personal gain by knowingly violating UBS's rights and making it impossible for the Fund Counterparties to perform under the Warehouse Agreements. In particular, the foregoing conduct constitutes independent torts and predatory acts directed at UBS for Highland Capital's and the Affiliated Transferee Defendants' own personal gain.

188. As a direct and proximate result of Highland Capital's and the Affiliated Transferee Defendants' tortious interference with UBS's contractual rights under the Agreements, UBS has suffered damages in an amount to be determined at trial. Had Highland Capital and the Affiliated Transferee Defendants not tortiously interfered with UBS's contractual rights, the Fund Counterparties would have been able to make payments to UBS of the amount they owed to UBS under the Warehouse Agreements.

SEVENTH CAUSE OF ACTION
(Declaratory Judgment For General
Partner Liability Against Strand)

189. UBS repeats and realleges the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 188 of this Second Amended Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

190. A limited partnership's general partner is personally liable for the partnership obligations of the limited partnership.

191. Highland Capital is a Delaware limited partnership. Defendant Strand is Highland Capital's general partner. As such, Strand is personally liable for the liability, debts and obligations of Highland Capital, including but not limited to Highland Capital's liabilities to UBS arising out of the Consolidated Action.

192. A justiciable controversy exists as to whether Strand is liable to UBS for the injuries caused by Highland Capital complained of in the Consolidated Action as a result of Strand being Highland Capital's general partner.

EIGHTH CAUSE OF ACTION
(Declaratory Judgment For Alter Ego Liability
Against Highland Financial)

193. UBS repeats and realleges the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 192 of this Second Amended Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

194. As alleged above, SOHC breached the Warehouse Agreements and otherwise harmed UBS by engaging in fraudulent misconduct. Highland Financial is SOHC's alter ego and should be held responsible and liable for SOHC's breach of the Warehouse Agreements and fraudulent misconduct.

195. SOHC is a mere instrumentality of Highland Financial. SOHC had no independence and could not exercise any business discretion whatsoever. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] SOHC did not have its own offices, officers or employees. Rather, it shared common officers, directors and employees, as well as common office space, with Highland Financial.

196. As alleged in detail above, Highland Financial completely dominated the day-to-day operations of SOHC as well as SOHC's sister-affiliates. In particular, Highland Financial operated Highland Financial and its subsidiaries, including SOHC, as a single entity, [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

197. A justiciable controversy exists as to whether Highland Financial is liable to UBS as SOHC's alter ego for the losses and harm that UBS suffered that were caused by SOHC's breach of the Warehouse Agreements, and the fraudulent and tortious conduct complained of herein.

RELIEF DEMANDED

WHEREFORE, plaintiffs UBSS and UBS AG demand judgment:

(a) On the first cause of action, as against the Fund Counterparties, declaring that UBS was induced to enter the Agreements as a result of fraud committed by the Fund Counterparties, and awarding damages to UBS for all losses and liabilities incurred by UBS, and that UBS incurs, with respect to the Agreements and the Warehouse Facility, including, without limitation, interest, reasonable attorneys' and accountants' fees and expenses and any other losses, fees and expenses that UBS incurred or incurs, in an amount to be determined at trial but in any event, no less than $686,853,290.26;

(b) On the second cause of action, which is pled solely to preserve UBS's appellate rights, as against the Fund Counterparties, declaring that UBS was induced to enter the Agreements as a result of fraud committed by the Fund Counterparties, and awarding damages to UBS for all losses and liabilities incurred by UBS, and that UBS incurs, with respect to the Agreements and the Warehouse Facility, including, without limitation, interest, reasonable attorneys' and accountants' fees and expenses and any other losses, fees and expenses that UBS incurred or incurs, in an amount to be determined at trial but in any event, no less than $686,853,290.26;

(c) On the third cause of action, as against the Fund Counterparties, declaring that the Fund Counterparties breached the Cash Warehouse Agreement, and awarding UBS an amount to be determined at trial;

(d) On the fourth cause of action, as against the Fund Counterparties, declaring that the Fund Counterparties breached the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement, and awarding UBS an amount to be determined at trial;

(e) On the fifth cause of action, as against all defendants, (i) declaring that the dispositions of the Fund Counterparties' and Highland Financial's assets, as directed by Highland Capital, constituted fraudulent conveyances; (ii) appointing a receiver over defendants; (iii) directing that a full accounting be had of defendants' affairs and finances; (iv) imposing a constructive trust over defendants' assets until such an accounting is completed; and/or (v) awarding UBS damages in an amount to be determined at trial, but no less than the value of the assets fraudulently and improperly transferred, or, alternatively, directing that defendants and their partners, members or shareholders return to the Fund Counterparties any assets or consideration received from Highland Financial or the Fund Counterparties, directly or indirectly, as distributions, dividends, consideration, compensation, fees, interest, principal or otherwise, between March 14, 2008 and the present.

(f) On the sixth cause of action, as against the Affiliated Transferee Defendants, which is pled solely to preserve UBS's appellate rights, declaring that each of those defendants is liable for tortiously interfering with UBS's contractual rights under the Warehouse Agreements, and awarding UBS an amount to be determined at trial;

(g) On the seventh cause of action, as against defendant Strand, declaring that Strand is responsible for Highland Capital's liability and obligations arising out of the Consolidated Action;

(h) On the eighth cause of action, as against defendant Highland Financial, declaring that Highland Financial is SOHC's alter ego, and that as such, Highland Financial is responsible for SOHC's liability and obligations to UBS arising out of this action;

(i) Awarding UBS punitive damages in an amount to be determined at trial;

(j) Granting UBS its costs and disbursements, including reasonable attorneys' fees and expenses of this action;

(k) Granting UBS pre-judgment interest; and

(l) Granting such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper.

DECISION AND ORDER AFTER TRIAL

This action arises out of a failed restructured transaction between plaintiffs UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG, London Branch (collectively, UBS) and defendants Highland CDO Opportunity Master Fund, L.P. (CDO Fund) and Highland Special Opportunities Holding Company (SOHC) (together, the Fund Counterparties), and defendant Highland Capital Management, L.P. (Highland Capital) (together with the Fund Counterparties, Highland), for the securitization of collateralized loan obligations (CLOs) and credit default swaps (CDSs).

In April and May 2007, the parties agreed to pursue a collateralized debt obligations transaction governed by an Engagement Letter, a Synthetic Warehouse Agreement for CDSs, and a Warehouse Agreement for CLOs (Original Agreements). (DX 4, DX 5, DX 6.)<sup>3</sup> It is undisputed that UBS acted as the “financial arranger” for the transaction and was responsible for financing the acquisition of assets, which would then be held in portfolios, which the parties refer to as the Cash Warehouse and the Synthetic Warehouse or collectively as the Knox Warehouse. (Ps.’s Findings, ¶ 4; Ds.’s Findings, ¶ 5.)<sup>4</sup> Highland Capital acted as the “Servicer” and was responsible for identifying the specific CLOs to be securitized and the Reference Obligations for the CDSs to be securitized. (Ps.’s Findings, ¶¶ 3, 4; Ds.’s Findings, ¶¶ 6, 8.)

In furtherance of the transaction, UBS acquired assets with a notional value of $818 million. (Ps.’s Findings, ¶ 6; Ds.’s Findings, ¶ 5.) There were 33 CLO tranches in the Cash Warehouse, with a notional value of $174 million. UBS paid $170 or $170.5 million to acquire the CLOs because the bonds were purchased at a slight discount on their par value. (Ds.’ Findings, ¶ 6; Ps.’s Findings, ¶ 6.) The Synthetic Warehouse contained 87 credit default swaps,

<sup>1</sup> By decision on the record on May 1, 2018 (NYSCEF Doc. No. 494), the court bifurcated the trial. The decision held that the breach of contract claims, which were to be heard by the court, would be determined prior to claims, including fraudulent conveyance claims, which were to be heard by a jury.

<sup>3</sup> Defendants’ and plaintiffs’ trial exhibits will be referred to as DX _ and PX _ , respectively. The parties’ demonstrative exhibits will be referred to as DX Demo. _ and PX Demo. _

<sup>4</sup> The Fund Counterparties’ and Highland Capital Management, L.P.’s Proposed Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law will be referred to as Ds.’s Findings. Plaintiffs’ Proposed Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law will be referred to as Ps.’s Findings. Defendants’ Findings are all identified by paragraph number. Plaintiffs’ Findings of Fact are identified by paragraph number, while their Findings of Law are identified only by page number.

with a notional value of $644 million. (Ds.'s Findings, ¶ 7; Ps.'s Findings, ¶ 6.) UBS served as the protection seller on all of the CDSs. (Ps.'s Findings, ¶ 4; Ds.'s Findings, ¶ 8.) For five of the CDSs, with a notional value of $45 million, Lehman Brothers Special Financing, Inc. (Lehman) acted as the protection buyer (Lehman Swaps). (Ps.'s Findings, ¶ 8; Ds.'s Findings, ¶ 9; PX 755<sup>5</sup>, at 1.) For 20 of the CDSs, with a notional value of $124 million, UBS acted as both protection seller and protection buyer (the Internal Swaps). (Ds.'s Findings, ¶ 10; Ps.'s Findings, ¶ 9; PX 755, at 4-5.)

The Original Agreements expired by their terms on August 15, 2007. (PX 1, at 1.) The parties agreed to restructure the transaction, signing a new Engagement Letter, the 2008 Cash Warehouse Agreement (CWA), and the 2008 Synthetic Warehouse Agreement (SWA), as of March 14, 2008. (See PX 1, PX 2, PX 3.) As of March 14, 2008, the Knox assets had lost significant value and the parties agreed that, given the market conditions existing as of the date of the restructured transaction, it was not then feasible to sell the securities and close the transaction. (Ps.'s Findings, ¶ 20; 2008 Engagement Letter [PX 1, at 8].)

As discussed further below, the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement provided for the roll-over of the Existing Credit Default Swaps and the Existing Collateral Portfolio into the warehouses created under the 2008 restructured transaction. (See SWA, Whereas Clause 5.) Section 12 of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement provided that the Fund Counterparties would transfer additional cash and securities "to secure its obligations to UBS" under the SWA and the CWA. In particular, this Section required the Fund Counterparties to make an Initial Deposit of $20 million in cash and approximately $54 million in Eligible Securities on the date of the execution of the SWA. (Id., § 12 [A].) The SWA contained a collateral call provision under which UBS was required to track its CDS and Cash Exposure to losses, as defined under the Agreement, on a semi-monthly basis, and the Fund Counterparties were required to deposit an additional $10 million in collateral (cash and/or Eligible Securities) for every $100 million increase in the defined Deposit Threshold Exposure Amount. (Id., §§ 12 [B], [C].)

It is undisputed that, pursuant to Section 12 (C) of the SWA, UBS made a first collateral call for $10 million on September 17, 2008 (PX 4), and a second collateral call for $10 million on October 21, 2008 (PX 5), both of which were satisfied by the Fund Counterparties. (Testimony of Keith Grimaldi, Former Head of UBS's CDO Secondary Trading Desk, Trial Transcript (Tr.) at 81, 112, 119.)

On November 7, 2008, UBS issued the third, and final, collateral call to the Fund Counterparties for an additional $10 million. (PX 6.) It is undisputed that the Fund Counterparties did not meet this collateral call. (Ds.'s Findings, ¶ 17; Ps.'s Findings, ¶¶ 43-47).<sup>6</sup>

On December 3, 2008, UBS sent a notice to Highland stating that, to date, no deposits have been made in response to the November collateral call, and that "a Termination Date has occurred under the Warehouse Agreements and a termination date has occurred under the Engagement Letter." (PX 7; PX 9.) The notice further stated that "UBS is forbearing from exercising its remedies [under the Agreements] for a period of two Business Days from the date hereof in order to permit [the Fund Counterparties] to pay the Additional Deposits by 5 pm New York time on December 5, 2008." (Id.) On December 5, 2008, UBS sent an additional notice to

<sup>6</sup> It is undisputed that the Fund Counterparties offered to post CLO assets to satisfy the third collateral call and that UBS did not accept that collateral. UBS's Keith Grimaldi testified that UBS rejected the CLOs because "at that time the marketplace was declining and declining rapidly. We thought there would be more declines, so we collectively made a decision that we wanted cash or government securities ... that would be easily liquid and reflect better value." (Trial Tr. at 122.) Defendants stipulated that UBS had the right to insist on cash. (See Statement of Andrew Cruciani [Ds.'s Atty.], Trial Tr. at 1736.)

Highland stating that the Additional Deposit has not been made, and that “[c]onsequently, UBS will proceed to exercise the rights and remedies available to it under the Warehouse Agreements, the Engagement Letter, at law and otherwise.” (PX 8.)

THIRD COLLATERAL CALL

As a threshold matter, the parties dispute whether the third collateral call was proper. Highland argues that UBS should not have included the 20 Internal Swaps in calculating the Deposit Threshold Exposure Amount “because the Intradesk [i.e., Internal] Swaps were not Existing Credit Default Swaps under the SWA . . . .” (Ds.’s Findings, ¶ 28.) Highland also claims that the Lehman Swaps were not properly included in the calculation because they had been terminated prior to the third collateral call. (See id., ¶ 27.)

More particularly, Highland claims that the Internal Swaps were not Existing Credit Default Swaps because they were not documented, as allegedly required by Section 3 of the SWA, in the form of an ISDA Master Agreement and ISDA Confirmation. (Ds.’s Findings, ¶¶ 28, 30-31.) UBS does not dispute that the Internal Swaps were not documented by the ISDA Master Agreement and Confirmation, but argues that Section 3 does not require such documentation for the Internal Swaps. (Ps.’s Findings, at 24-25.)<sup>7</sup>

Resolution of this dispute involves an issue of contract interpretation. It is well settled that the determination of whether a contract is ambiguous is one of law to be resolved by the court. (Matter of Wallace v 600 Partners Co., 86 NY2d 543, 548 [1995]; W.W.W. Assocs., Inc. v Giancontieri, 77 NY2d 157, 162 [1990].) Written agreements are to be construed in accordance with the parties’ intent, and “the best evidence of what parties to a written agreement

intend is what they say in their writing.” (Schron v Troutman Sanders LLP, 20 NY3d 430, 436 [2013] [internal quotation marks, brackets, and citation omitted].) The court should determine from contractual language, without regard to extrinsic evidence, whether there is any ambiguity. (Chimart Assocs. v Paul, 66 NY2d 570, 573 [1986].) Extrinsic or parol evidence “may not be considered when the intent of the parties can be gleaned from the face of the instrument.” (Id. at 572-573.) “Extrinsic evidence of the parties’ intent may be considered only if the agreement is ambiguous. . . .” (Greenfield v Philles Records, Inc., 98 NY2d 562, 569 [2002].) “Ambiguity in a contract arises when the contract, read as a whole, fails to disclose its purpose and the parties’ intent, or where its terms are subject to more than one reasonable interpretation.” (Universal Am. Corp. v National Union Fire Ins. Co. of Pittsburgh, Pa., 25 NY3d 675, 680 [2015] [internal quotation marks and citation omitted].)

It is also well settled that a court should “construe the [contract] so as to give full meaning and effect to the material provisions. A reading of the contract should not render any portion meaningless. Further, a contract should be read as a whole, and every part will be interpreted with reference to the whole; and if possible it will be so interpreted as to give effect to its general purpose.” (Beal Sav. Bank v Sommer, 8 NY3d 318, 324-25 [2007] [internal quotation marks and citations omitted]; National Conversion Corp. v Cedar Bldg. Corp., 23 NY2d 621, 625 [1969] [holding that “[a]ll parts of an agreement are to be reconciled, if possible, in order to avoid inconsistency”].)

Applying these precepts, the court holds that the SWA is not ambiguous with respect to the requirements for documentation of CDSs, that Section 3 of the SWA only applies to CDSs in which a third party is the protection buyer, and that this Section does not require ISDA documentation for the Internal Swaps.

The SWA defines “Existing Credit Default Swap[s]” as the CDSs “that were the subject of the Original Synthetic Warehouse Agreement.” (SWA, Whereas Clause 5.) Section 3 of the SWA provides, in pertinent part:

“Form of Documentation. Each Existing Credit Default Swap between UBS, acting as Seller, and a counterparty, acting as Buyer, has been documented in the form of (i) the ISDA Master Agreement and Schedule currently in effect between UBS and the related counterparty, which documents are confidential between UBS and such counterparty and (ii) an ISDA published confirmation. . . . Each Additional Credit Default Swap between UBS, acting as Seller, and a counterparty, acting as Buyer, will be documented in the form of (i) the ISDA Master Agreement and Schedule currently in effect between UBS and the related counterparty, which documents are confidential between UBS and such counterparty and (ii) the Confirmation attached [to the SWA] . . . .”

As the Agreement that governs the securitization of Existing and Additional Credit Default Swaps, the SWA contains numerous detailed provisions regarding the accumulation and disposition of these financial instruments. Section 3, which pertains to documentation of the swaps, is the only provision in the SWA that is limited to CDSs in which UBS is the Seller and a counterparty is the Buyer. All of the other provisions of the SWA refer to CDSs without such limitation.

Moreover, like SWA Section 3, the Original SWA provided: “Each Credit Default Swap between UBS, acting as Seller, and a counterparty, acting as Buyer, will be documented in the form of (i) the ISDA Master Agreement and Schedule currently in effect between UBS and the counterparty, which documents are confidential between UBS and each counterparty and (ii) the Confirmation attached hereto. . . .” (Original SWA, § 3 [NYSCEF Doc. No. 626].) It is undisputed, however, that the Internal Swaps were included in the Original SWA portfolio but were not documented by the ISDA Master Agreement or Confirmation. It is also undisputed that the Internal Swaps were nevertheless again included in the Initial Net Exposure Amount in the SWA for the restructured transaction. (Testimony of Peter Vinella [Highland’s expert in

Initial Net Exposure Amount is defined in the SWA<sup>8</sup> as “111,767,486.88, being the amount by which the Aggregate Net Exposure Amount as of the date hereof [i.e., the March 14, 2008 “as of” date of the SWA] exceeds the Initial Deposit.” As defined in SWA Section 12 (A), the Initial Deposit is the deposit of approximately $74,000,000 in cash and Eligible Securities made on the date of execution of the SWA. Aggregate Net Exposure Amount is defined as the amount by which CDS Exposure and Cash Exposure, as of the date of the collateral calculation, exceed the balance on deposit in the Deposit Account plus Positive Carry with respect to each Collateral Obligation.<sup>9</sup> As discussed above, Section 12 (C) of the SWA requires a deposit of $10 million in additional collateral when the Deposit Threshold Exposure Amount is greater than or equal to $100 million. The Deposit Threshold Exposure Amount is defined in the SWA as “the amount, if any, by which (i) the Aggregate Net Exposure Amount as of [the date of the collateral calculation] exceeds (ii) the Initial Net Exposure Amount.” The Initial Net Exposure Amount, which includes the Internal Swaps, is thus integral to the calculation of the Deposit Threshold Exposure Amount.

Based on this reading of the SWA as a whole, the court concludes that the Internal Swaps were Existing Credit Default Swaps within the meaning of the SWA. The lack of ISDA documentation was therefore not a bar to their inclusion in the collateral call calculation.

The court rejects Highland’s further contention that the Internal Swaps should not have been included because there was “no economic consequence” to UBS from these swaps. (Ds.’s

Findings, ¶ 33.) The complex formula set forth in Section 12 for calculating the exposure of UBS on the assets in the warehouse that would trigger a collateral call does not contain any requirement that UBS include in the calculation only assets for which it was at risk of sustaining actual losses.<sup>10</sup>

The court further holds that, although the Internal Swaps were properly included in the third collateral call calculation, the Lehman Swaps were not. The parties do not dispute that the Lehman Swaps had been terminated based on the Event of Default that occurred upon Lehman's filing for bankruptcy on September 15, 2008. (DX 87 [UBS Default Notice].) Highland asserts, and UBS does not persuasively counter, that the Lehman Swaps should not have been included in the third collateral call. Indeed, UBS's Grimaldi forthrightly acknowledged that, given the termination, there should not have been "markdowns" on the Lehman Swaps. (Grimaldi Testimony, Trial Tr. at 297-298.)

Highland contends, based on the inclusion of the Lehman Swaps and Internal Swaps in the third collateral call calculation, that UBS "committed a prior material breach by failing to

<sup>10</sup> In view of this holding that the Internal Swaps were properly included in the collateral call calculation pursuant to the unambiguous terms of the SWA, the court has not considered parol evidence on the issue.

The court thus rejects Highland's request for a finding that UBS admitted that the SWA required ISDA documentation of the Internal Swaps. (See Ds.'s Findings, ¶¶ 30-31.) This request is based on testimony of UBS's Keith Grimaldi who, when shown Section 3 during cross-examination and asked if every CDS was required to have ISDA documentation, responded: "According to the language, yes." (Grimaldi Testimony, Trial Tr. at 262-264.) Even if this evidence were properly considered, Highland's reliance on this answer ignores that Mr. Grimaldi further testified that ISDA documentation would not be "filled out" until the assets were transferred in the securitization. (Id. at 267-270.)

The court further notes that Highland requests a finding, arguably in support of its claim that the CDSs were not Existing Credit Default Swaps, that a CDS "cannot be created with the same legal entity on both sides of the transaction. . . ." (Ds.'s Findings, ¶ 29.) Even if parol evidence were properly considered, there was substantial evidence in the record that internal swaps were common in securitizations of synthetic assets. (LeRoux Testimony, Trial Tr. at 1673-1676; Vinella Testimony, Trial Tr. at 1158-1162 [denying that intracompany swaps are "economic transactions" but acknowledging their use in CLO securitizations].)

properly calculate the collateral call[.]” (Ds.’s Findings, ¶¶ 23, 27-28.) In support of this contention, Highland relies on the testimony of its expert Peter Vinella. According to Mr. Vinella’s own analysis, however, if the Lehman swaps are excluded from the calculation for the third collateral call, but the Internal Swaps are included, the total increase in the Deposit Threshold Exposure Amount as of November 4, 2008 is $328.62 million—an amount greater than the $300 million required to authorize the third collateral call pursuant to Section 12 of the SWA. (Vinella Testimony, Trial Tr. at 1122-1139; DX Demo. 8.) Louis Dudney, UBS’s expert in forensic accounting and damages (Trial Tr. at 824), analyzed Mr. Vinella’s testimony and confirmed, using the same numbers as Mr. Vinella, that the Deposit Threshold Exposure Amount still exceeded $300 million on November 4, 2008, after excluding the Lehman Swaps but including the Internal Swaps. (PX Demo. 20 [accepted without objection in lieu of Dudney rebuttal testimony, Trial Tr. at 1870-1871].)

Based on this credible testimony that the threshold for the collateral call was met without the Lehman Swaps, the court holds that the third collateral call did not constitute a material breach of the contract, notwithstanding UBS’s improper inclusion of the Lehman Swaps in the calculation.<sup>11</sup> (See generally Awards.Com v Kinko’s, Inc., 42 AD3d 178, 187 [1st Dept 2007], affd 14 NY3d 791, 793 [2010]; Frank Felix Assocs., Ltd. v Austin Drugs, Inc., 111 F3d 284, 289 [2d Cir 1997] [under New York law, for a breach to be material, “it must go to the root of the agreement between the parties”] [internal quotation marks and citations omitted].)

As discussed above, there is no dispute that the Fund Counterparties failed to meet the third collateral call. The court accordingly finds that the Fund Counterparties breached the SWA and turns to the issue of damages.

DAMAGES

Designation of Ineligible Securities

A critical issue in determining UBS's damages is whether UBS may recover damages for CDSs that UBS retained after its termination of the 2008 transaction, under these circumstances in which UBS did not designate the underlying reference obligations for any of the CDSs as "Ineligible Securities." Resolution of this issue requires interpretation of the SWA. Highland and UBS both contend that the SWA is unambiguous as to whether Ineligible Securities must be designated, but assert fundamentally inconsistent readings of the Agreement. (Ds.'s Findings, ¶¶ 44-49; see Ps.'s Findings, at 29 n 21.)

As held above, the determination of whether a contract is ambiguous is one of law to be resolved by the court. (Matter of Wallace, 86 NY2d at 548.) Ambiguity will be found to arise where the terms of a contract are "subject to more than one reasonable interpretation." (Universal Am. Corp., 25 NY3d at 680 [internal quotation marks and citation omitted].) As also held above, a court should construe a contract so as to give full meaning and effect to its material provisions, and should read the contract as a whole and so as not to render any portion meaningless, if possible. (See Beal Sav. Bank, 8 NY3d at 324-25.)

Sections 5 (A), 5 (B), and 6 of the SWA are relevant to the calculation of CDS damages: Section 5 (A) provides for the calculation of losses with respect to CDSs removed from the warehouse during the term of the Agreement or "otherwise pursuant to Section 6"; Section 5 (B) (2) governs the calculation of losses upon a closing; and Section 6 governs this calculation in the event of a failure to close, incorporating terms from Sections 5 (A) and 5 (B).

Section 6 provides in pertinent part:

- “(A) If the Closing Date fails to occur on or prior to the Termination Date, then UBS may, with the consent of the related counterparty, either (at the election of the Servicer; provided that notice of such election is received on or prior to the Termination Date) (i) terminate each Credit Default Swap or (ii) novate each Credit Default Swap to a third party or to the Servicer (or any Affiliate of the Servicer designated by the Servicer), in each case, on the Termination Date.
- ....
- (C) To the extent there are any CDS Losses, the CDO Fund and SOHC shall collectively be responsible for 100% of any such CDS Losses. Such CDS Losses shall be allocated between the CDO Fund and SOHC on the basis of their respective Allocation Percentages. Each of the CDO Fund and SOHC shall, after notice of the amount due from UBS, remit such amounts by wire transfer in immediately available funds to UBS within three Business Days after the Termination Date.”

CDS Losses are in turn defined in Section 5 (B) (2), the closing provision, as:

“(x) the sum of (1) the aggregate Floating Amount payments and Physical Settlement Amount payments made by UBS with respect to all of the Credit Default Swaps as to which a Floating Amount Event or a Credit Event occurred under the terms thereof, plus (2) the aggregate amount of Net Hedging Payments made by UBS with respect to all Hedging Transactions related to the Credit Default Swaps, plus (3) the aggregate Replacement Losses determined with respect to all of the Credit Default Swaps and the related Hedging Transactions that were terminated or novated or as to which the exposure was retained by UBS, in each case upon the designation of the Reference Obligation relating to such Credit Default Swap as an Ineligible Security (such amount in this clause (x), the ‘CDS Losses’) . . . .”

Relying on the requirement in the definition of CDS Losses that Reference Obligations be designated as Ineligible Securities, Highland argues that “[t]he term ‘CDS Losses’

unambiguously limits UBS's recovery for unrealized (mark-to-market) losses to securities designated as 'Ineligible Securities,' and the Court is bound to enforce the agreement pursuant to its unambiguous terms." (Ds.'s Findings, ¶ 46.) Put another way, Highland argues that UBS may recover mark-to-market losses only on CDSs that have been designated Ineligible Securities. (Id., ¶ 53.)<sup>12</sup> UBS asserts, among other things, that under Section 6, UBS may terminate, novate, or retain CDSs regardless of eligibility, that ineligibility designations are not relevant absent a closing, and that Highland's reading renders meaningless other provisions of the SWA. (Ps.'s Findings, at 29 n 21.)

Upon close reading of the SWA, the court concludes that the SWA is not ambiguous with respect to ineligibility designations and that, under Section 6, upon the failure to close UBS is entitled to retain CDSs and to recover losses for the retained CDSs, without first designating the underlying Reference Obligations as Ineligible Securities. Section 6 (A) expressly provides for UBS to terminate or novate the CDSs, and does not require UBS to first make such designation. Although Section 6 (A) does not also, by its terms, provide for UBS to retain CDSs, a reading of the contract as a whole leaves no question that UBS was not only entitled to retain the CDSs upon the failure to close, but also that it was entitled to recover losses on the retained CDSs without first designating the underlying Reference Obligations as Ineligible.<sup>13</sup>

<sup>13</sup> In its decision of defendants' motion for summary judgment, this court held that it could not determine on the record of that motion whether the SWA was ambiguous with respect to UBS's entitlement to recover losses on retained CDSs, pursuant to Section 6, without a prior designation of such assets as Ineligible Securities. (2017 NY Slip Op. 30546[U], 2017 WL 1103879, * 4-7 [Sup Ct, NY County Mar. 13 2017], aff'd 159 AD3d 512, lv dismissed 32 NY3d 1080.) With the benefit of the parties' extensive trial briefing on this issue, the court now concludes, for the reasons discussed further in the text, that the agreement is not ambiguous.

As the above-quoted definition of CDS Losses in Section 5 (B) (2) shows, this definition relates to Credit Default Swaps which, upon a closing, have been “terminated or novated or as to which the exposure was retained by UBS, in each case upon the designation of the Reference Obligation relating to such Credit Default Swap as an Ineligible Security . . . .” After setting forth the definition of CDS Losses (and CDS Gains) in the context of a closing, Section 5 (B) (2) further provides: “To the extent the Closing Date fails to occur, allocation of CDS Losses, CDS Gains and any other amounts payable hereunder will be determined in accordance with the provisions of Section 6 hereof.”

Significantly, while Section 6 (C) incorporates the defined term CDS Losses, the term CDS Losses also incorporates both the definition of Ineligible Security and the term Replacement Losses from Section 5 (A). These incorporated terms modify the definition of CDS Losses where a closing does not occur.

The definition of Ineligible Security pertains to securities that are ineligible for securitization upon a closing. The SWA thus defines Ineligible Security, in pertinent part, as “any Reference Obligation in the CDS Portfolio which has become ineligible for sale to the Issuer on the Closing Date as a result of the failure of such Reference Obligation to conform to the Eligibility Criteria as it exists at such time of determination . . . .” (SWA, Exhibit A-2 [emphasis added].)

Section 5 (A), which defines the term Replacement Losses, distinguishes between such Losses sustained during the term of the Agreement and those sustained upon termination in the event of a failure to close pursuant to Section 6. Section 5 (A) primarily addresses the removal of CDSs from the warehouse “during the term of this [the SWA] Agreement” where “a Reference Obligation or the related Credit Default Swap does not conform to the Eligibility Criteria” that must be met for securitization. This section provides that “UBS shall be entitled in good faith to designate any Reference Obligation (and the related Credit Default Swap) as an Ineligible Security and (ii) in its sole discretion to remove any such Reference Obligation (and the related Credit Default Swap) from the CDS Portfolio.” Section 5 (A), however, continues:

“To the extent any such Credit Default Swaps are terminated or novated, or at UBS’s discretion, such exposure is retained following the designation of such Reference Obligations as Ineligible Securities or otherwise pursuant to Section 6, UBS shall determine the Replacement Gain or Replacement Loss relating to such Credit Default Swaps [according to the formula that follows].”

Section 5 (A) thus clearly contemplates that UBS may novate, terminate, or retain CDSs both during the term of the Agreement and in the event of a failure to close. The Section affords UBS the discretion to terminate, novate, or retain CDSs “pursuant to Section 6,” as distinct from its discretion to do so upon a designation of the underlying Reference Obligation as Ineligible during the term of the Agreement. Any other reading would render meaningless the Section 5 (A) provision “or otherwise pursuant to Section 6.”

Moreover, in order to reconcile all of the provisions of the SWA, the Section 5 (B) (2) definition of CDS Losses, when used in Section 6, cannot be construed as requiring a designation of Ineligible Securities. As discussed above, Ineligible Securities are defined as securities ineligible for sale at a closing. Section 5 (B) (2), which governs the calculation of losses where a closing will occur, requires the designation of Ineligible Securities to facilitate the parties’ calculation of losses on assets deemed ineligible for inclusion in the securitization that will occur upon the closing. When a closing will not occur, none of the CDSs or other assets will be securitized, and there is no need to distinguish between eligible and ineligible assets. While the definition of CDS Losses with the Ineligible Security designation requirement serves the purposes of Section 5 (B) (2) in the event of a closing, it is inconsistent with the CDS Loss calculation required in Section 6 where the closing does not occur.

Contrary to Highland's apparent contention (Ds.'s Findings, ¶ 46), a reading of the CDS Loss provision in Section 6 to permit calculation of losses on retained assets without an Ineligible Security designation does not violate the fundamental precept that a defined term in a contract must be given effect. (See generally Mionis v Bank Julius Baer & Co., 301 AD2d 104, 109 [1st Dept 2002].) Rather, the CDS Loss definition, as used in Section 6, is modified by the contractual provisions discussed above.

Although inartfully drafted, the SWA is not ambiguous. If the contract is read as a whole, and all of the provisions are given meaning, it is reasonably susceptible to only one meaning—namely, that CDS Losses for retained assets may be recovered without a designation of the underlying Reference Obligations as Ineligible Securities where, as here, the contract has been terminated before the closing.<sup>14</sup> The court accordingly holds that UBS is entitled to recover damages for the retained CDSs in the Synthetic Warehouse.<sup>15</sup>

Calculation of Damages

failure to meet the third collateral call. UBS sent Highland a notice, dated December 3, 2008, stating that a Termination Date had occurred under the Warehouse Agreements but that it would forbear from exercising its remedies for two days to permit the Fund Counterparties to meet this collateral call. (PX 7.) UBS then sent a further notice to Highland, dated December 5, 2008, stating that it would exercise its remedies as the call had not been met. (PX 8.) UBS held a public auction of the assets in the Knox Warehouse on December 16, 2008. By notice dated December 19, 2008, UBS demanded payment for its claimed losses based on the results of the auction—$157,949,885.47 for the assets in the Cash Warehouse (PX 10) and $587,357,060.59 for the assets in the Synthetic Warehouse. (PX 11.) UBS also notified Highland that it elected to retain the Collateral Obligations in the Cash Warehouse. (PX 10.)

CDS Damages

Highland argues that even if the recovery of damages for the CDSs is not barred by UBS's failure to designate the Reference Obligations for the CDSs as Ineligible Securities (a claim this court has rejected above), UBS has not proved damages for these CDSs. Specifically, Highland contends that UBS did not comply with the contractual requirements for calculation of losses because its post-termination auction was untimely and otherwise improper. (Ds.'s Findings, ¶¶ 57-59.) Highland also contends that UBS's marks do not otherwise "establish a reasonable connection between the asset value and UBS's alleged damages." (Id., ¶¶ 60-65.) UBS disputes these assertions. (Ps.'s Findings, at 29-31.)

Sections 6 (C), 5 (B) (2), and 5 (A) (3) are the provisions of the SWA that govern the calculation of CDS Losses upon termination. Section 6 (C) provides in full:

"To the extent there are any CDS Losses, the CDO Fund and SOHC shall collectively be responsible for 100% of any such CDS Losses. Such CDS Losses shall be allocated between the CDO Fund and SOHC on the basis of their respective Allocation Percentages. Each of the CDO Fund and SOHC shall, after notice of the amount due from UBS, remit such amounts by wire transfer in immediately available funds to UBS within three Business Days after the Termination Date.”

As discussed above, the definition of CDS Losses in Section 5 (B) (2) includes Replacement Loss, the calculation of which is governed by Section 5 (A). With respect to Replacement Loss relating to CDSs that are retained, Section 5 (A) (3) provides in full:

“To the extent UBS retains such exposure, the Replacement Gain and Replacement Loss will be imputed based on the arithmetic average of at least three bids (or, if UBS is unable to obtain three such bids having made commercially reasonable efforts, such lesser number of bids as UBS is able to obtain) obtained by or on behalf of UBS from nationally recognized derivatives dealers in the relevant market (no more than one of which may be UBS or any of its Affiliates; provided that any such bid must be provided in good faith) to assume UBS’s position under such Credit Default Swap.”

The SWA, by its terms, thus contemplated that payment would be made within three days after the Termination Date, subject to notice from UBS. As the SWA provided for an auction to calculate the amount of the losses, it also contemplated that an auction could or would occur within that three day period.

By the terms of UBS’s notices to Highland, although a Termination Date had occurred as of December 3, UBS extended the Fund Counterparties’ time to meet the third collateral call until December 5. The court thus finds that the Fund Counterparties’ breach of the Agreements for failure to meet the third collateral call occurred on December 5. UBS did not conduct the auction to calculate the CDS Losses until December 16.

UBS’s delay of approximately 11 days in conducting the auction, while seemingly de minimis, in fact had momentous financial consequences, given that the delay occurred in the wake of the September 15, 2008 Lehman bankruptcy filing and at the height of the financial crisis. With the market spiraling downward, the CDS losses ascertained through the auction process were approximately $117 million more than the losses calculated by using UBS’s marks on either December 3 or December 5. (PX Demo. 21; DX Demo. 12 [showing UBS and Highland marks as of December 3 and 5; PX Demo. 28 at 60 [Ps.'s Closing Statement Demonstrative Exhibit, acknowledging that CDS damages, as calculated based on the auction, exceeded the losses calculated using UBS's marks on December 3 and 5 by over $117 million].)<sup>16</sup>

UBS contends that the three day payment period was for its benefit and that it "could exercise its right to get paid after three business days without waiver." (Ps.'s Findings, at 28.) The court agrees that UBS's delay in demanding payment or holding the auction did not result in a waiver of its right to seek payment of its damages resulting from the Fund Counterparties' breach. (See SWA § 20 ["Neither the failure nor any delay on the part of any party hereto to exercise any right, remedy, power or privilege under this Agreement shall operate as a waiver hereof. . . ."].) Highland correctly contends, however, that the delayed auction could not serve as a basis for calculating UBS's damages because the results of the auction did not reflect market conditions as of the date of termination or breach. (See Ds.'s Findings, ¶ 57.)

As explained by the Court of Appeals:

"It has long been recognized that the theory underlying damages is to make good or replace the loss caused by the breach of contract. Damages are intended to return the parties to the point at which the breach arose and to place the nonbreaching party in as good a position as it would have been had the contract been performed. Thus, damages for breach of contract are ordinarily ascertained as of the date of the breach."

<sup>16</sup> At the trial, the parties stipulated to dispense with rebuttal testimony from plaintiffs' damages expert, Louis Dudney and, in lieu of such testimony, to the admission into evidence of plaintiffs' Demonstrative Exhibits 20 and 21, and defendants' Demonstrative Exhibit 12. (Trial Tr. at 1868, 1870 [Stipulation].) PX Demo. 21 and DX Demo. 12, which were prepared by Mr. Dudney, calculated damages using plaintiffs' and defendants' marks, respectively, on December 3 and 5, 2008. (Trial Tr. at 1870-1877.)

It is further settled that damages need not be proven with mathematical certainty. It is sufficient that a reasonable basis for the calculation of damages be shown. (See generally J.R. Loftus, Inc. v White, 85 NY2d 874, 877 [1995] ["While a plaintiff may recover damages when the measure of damages is unavoidably uncertain or difficult to ascertain, a reasonable connection between a plaintiff's proof and a [] determination of damages is nevertheless necessary"]; CDO Plus Master Fund Ltd. v Wachovia Bank, N.A., No. 07 Civ. 11078 [LTS], 2011 WL 4526132, *2 [US Dist Ct SD NY, Sept. 29, 2011] ["The law of New York is clear that once the fact of damage has been established, the non-breaching party need only provide a stable foundation for a reasonable estimate [of damages]" [internal quotation marks and citations omitted, brackets in original].)

UBS's December 16, 2008 auction cannot satisfy either of these standards because, as held above, the auction did not provide a reliable basis for determining UBS's losses at, or even shortly after, the breach, due to the exceptional circumstances presented by the financial crisis.<sup>17</sup> The court accordingly turns to the alternative basis advanced by UBS for the calculation of damages—its marks on December 5, 2008. (Ps.'s Findings, at 29.)

It is well settled that "where the breach involves the deprivation of an item with a determinable market value, the market value at the time of the breach is the measure of damages." (Sharma v Skaarup Ship Mgt. Corp., 916 F2d 820, 825 [2d Cir 1990], cert denied 499 US 907 [1991] [applying New York law and citing Simon v Electrospace <sup>17</sup> There is authority that "in accordance with the objective that a party seeking recovery for breach of contract is entitled 'to be made whole' as of the time of the breach, the [factfinder] should be able to make its valuation determination on all relevant elements of the case, whether dated prebreach, on the date of breach, or 'some short time period thereafter.'" (Credit Suisse First Boston v Utrecht-America Fin. Co., 84 AD3d 579, 580 [1st Dept 2011] [quoting Boyce v Soundview Tech. Although the auction was held shortly after the breach, this authority does not support calculation of damages based on the auction results, as the auction did not provide a reliable basis for assessing the losses.

UBS offered credible testimony that its December 5, 2008 marks reasonably reflected the market value of the CDSs as of the December 5 breach date. In particular, Timothy LeRoux, who at the time of the transaction was second in command to Mr. Grimaldi on the UBS trading desk (LeRoux Testimony, Trial Tr. at 1640), gave credible testimony that, in the regular course of business, the trading desk “marked to market” hundreds of CLO assets, and every week or two was required to assign values on every one of the assets, both cash and synthetic, in the Knox Warehouse. (Id. at 1724.) Mr. LeRoux also described the marking process and identified information, including public information as to offers and bids on CDSs in the marketplace, that UBS considered in developing “objective” prices. (Id. at 1727, 1745-1750.) Mr. Grimaldi also testified that, although the trading desk performed the mark-to-market valuation of the assets in the Knox Warehouse, the UBS valuation group established oversight due to the volatility of the market and “would look at other market observations and make sure that those [the trading desk marks] were in line with the marketplace.” (Grimaldi Testimony, Trial Tr. at 207-208.)

Highland does not dispute that the mark-to-market process is a methodology for determining loss in market value of retained assets. (See e.g. Testimony of Adam Warren [Highland’s damages expert], Trial Tr. at 1268-1269; Testimony of Philip Braner [Highland former executive], Trial Tr. at 469-472; Testimony of UBS’s Timothy LeRoux, Trial Tr. at 1640, 1727-1729.)

interest, because the trading group's bonuses were based on the performance of the mark-to-mark assets and the group had the incentive to inflate the value of the assets. (Ds.' Findings, ¶¶ 61-62.) Highland makes no showing that UBS inflated the value of the CDSs or that trading groups do not routinely develop marks. Moreover, Highland's assertion that "UBS's trading group alone set the marks for the Knox Warehouse assets" (Ds.'s Findings, ¶ 62) ignores UBS's credible testimony, discussed above, that the valuation group exercised oversight in connection with the development of the marks.

Highland's further assertion that its own marks are more reliable (Ds.'s Findings, ¶ 65) is unsupported by persuasive evidence. Philip Braner, who ultimately became Chief Operating Officer of the Highland Capital Management CLO Group and COO of Highland Financial Partners (Braner Testimony, Trial Tr. at 397), testified that Highland was itself tracking marks on the assets in the Knox Warehouse (id. at 615) and had an "internal valuation team that was responsible for accumulating marks" in a process in which portfolio managers of the Highland funds participated. (See id. at 467.) While Highland appears to assert that its marks are more reliable than UBS's because they were set by a valuation team, Highland fails to show that the role of its valuation team differed in any material respect from that of the UBS valuation group that performed oversight on its trading group in the marking process.

Notably, Highland fails to explain how its methodology in setting marks was more reliable than UBS's. Adam Warren, Highland's damages expert, forthrightly testified that he was not opining on the reasonableness of any marks in this case (Warren Testimony, Trial Tr. at 1247-1248), and he did not in fact give any testimony on whether UBS's or Highland's marks were more reliable.

The evidence at trial also demonstrated that Highland, like UBS, set marks on the CDSs on an asset by asset basis from March 2008 through October 2008. While there were differences between Highland's and UBS's marks during this period, the Highland and UBS marks in the month of October were substantially similar. The difference in the marks did not escalate substantially until November 2008. (PX Demo. 9, at 4.) Mr. Dudney gave testimony, which was not disputed, that although Highland, like UBS, had been setting marks on an asset by asset basis, Highland stopped doing so as of October 2008 and, in a November 30, 2008 calculation of damages, attributed the same mark (37) to each asset. (Dudney Testimony, Trial Tr. at 883-884, 905-909, DX 116.) Highland offered no explanation for this change in methodology. Mr. Dudney, in contrast, gave plausible testimony that this use of the same mark did not make sense given the deterioration of the market. (Id. at 908.)

In sum, based on the credible evidence at the trial, the court holds that UBS has met its burden of demonstrating that its December 5, 2008 marks provide a reasonable basis, under the circumstances, for the calculation of damages at the time of the breach. In so holding, the court rejects Highland's not fully articulated contention that only an auction, and not a mark-to-market methodology, is a reliable method for calculating damages. (See Ds.'s Findings, ¶ 59.) Highland's reliance on the testimony of its damages expert, Adam Warren, in support of this contention (see id.) is misplaced. While Mr. Warren testified that CDSs are "bespoke contracts," he did not give any testimony that an auction was required to ascertain their value.

Further, as held above, the auction did not provide a reliable basis for determining UBS's damages due to the volatility of the market at the time of the auction. It bears emphasis that, although the market was also volatile at the time the December 5, 2008 marks were accumulated, Highland has not advanced an alternative, other than the non-viable auction, to the mark-to-market valuation methodology. Nor has Highland made any showing that the market value of the CDSs was not reasonably determinable as of the date of breach using the mark-to-market valuation methodology.<sup>18</sup>

The court further holds that UBS has met its burden of demonstrating the reasonableness of its calculation of damages using those marks. UBS's and Highland's experts both provided the court with calculations of damages using UBS's and Highland's marks, respectively, as of December 5, 2008. Mr. Warren confirmed that his main differences with Mr. Dudney regarding the calculation of damages for the Synthetic Warehouse were that Mr. Dudney considered it appropriate, and he did not, to include damages for unrealized CDS losses and for the 20 Internal Swaps in which UBS was both the protection seller and the protection buyer. (Warren Testimony, Trial Tr. at 1298; DX Demo. 12; PX Demo. 21; see also Dudney Testimony, Trial Tr. at 1004.)

Mr. Warren excluded from his damages calculation unrealized CDS losses for all CDSs as to which a designation of ineligibility had not been made. He testified that his basis for doing so was his understanding of the contract—i.e., his understanding that the SWA required such designation—and not industry custom. (Warren Testimony, Trial Tr. at 1281-1282.) For the reasons discussed above, this court has rejected Highland's position that the SWA should be

<sup>18</sup> In its post-trial briefing, Highland sought a finding that if UBS is held to be entitled to recover damages for CDS losses, Highland's marks are more reliable than UBS's for determining those damages. (Ds.'s Findings, ¶ 65.) Highland did not argue that the market value of the losses could not reasonably be determined by using marks. In contrast, in support of its claim that it is entitled to an offset against CDS damages for post-breach termination payments received by UBS on the CDSs, Highland questioned the accuracy of the market valuation at the time of the breach. Highland thus asserted in a footnote: "Given the scant market pricing data available at the time of the breach, post-termination payments and asset dispositions are relevant for the additional reason that they provide a more accurate measurement of the actual value of the Knox assets." (Ds.'s Post-Trial Memo., at 8 n. 5.) This assertion is unsupported by any citation to trial testimony. More important, at the trial Highland did not offer any expert testimony that the mark-to-market methodology was not a reliable basis for calculating the CDS damages. For the additional reasons set forth in the section of this decision on Highland's requested Offset for Post-Breach Appreciation In CDS Asset Value, the court finds that offset of post-breach payments received by UBS on the CDSs would be inconsistent with calculation of UBS's damages based on their market value at the time of the breach.

Review of the experts' calculations shows, moreover, that when such losses are included in the calculations, the difference between Highland's and UBS's totals is substantially reduced. As previously noted, the parties stipulated to the introduction into evidence of charts prepared by Mr. Dudney comparing his and Mr. Warren's calculations of CDS damages using UBS's and Highland's marks as of December 5, 2008. Using Highland's marks, Mr. Dudney calculated CDS mark-to-market losses of $388,284,750, compared to Mr. Warren's calculation of $26,952,895—a difference of $361,331,855. (DX Demo. 12.) Using UBS's marks, Mr. Dudney calculated losses of $470,113,605, compared to Mr. Warren's calculation of $26,952,895—a difference of $443,160,710. (PX Demo. 21.)

The difference in the totals is largely due to Mr. Warren's exclusion from his calculation of all unrealized CDS losses and all losses for the Internal Swaps. (Warren Testimony, Trial Tr. at 1296-1299.) His calculation of $26,952,895 for CDS losses includes only realized CDS losses. (Id. at 1250.) According to Mr. Warren, the Internal Swaps account for $93,952,173 of the CDS damages using UBS's marks, or $68,801,027 using Highland's marks. (Id. at 1269.) Although Mr. Warren disputed UBS's entitlement to unrealized CDS losses, he performed a calculation including such losses. Using UBS's marks as of December 5, 2008, these losses totaled $355,487,606. (DX Demo. 10, at 14.) Using Highland's marks as of that date, these losses totaled $299,118,973. (Warren Testimony, Trial Tr. at 1269; DX Demo. 10, at 14.) Mr. Warren's total, using UBS's marks, for the Internal Swaps ($93,952,173) and the unrealized CDS losses ($355,487,606) was $449,439,779. (DX Demo. 10, at 14.) As stated above, Mr. Dudney's calculation of total Synthetic Warehouse losses, using UBS's December 5, 2008 marks, was $470,113,605. Given the magnitude of the damages, this disparity is not material.

The court accordingly holds that UBS incurred losses in the Synthetic Warehouse of $470,113,605 as of December 5, 2008, the date of the breach, subject to the adjustments discussed below:

CLO Damages

Highland does not dispute that unrealized losses are recoverable for the CLO assets. (Warren Testimony, Trial Tr. at 1293.) Moreover, UBS's (Mr. Dudney's) and Highland's (Mr. Warren's) calculations of the CLO losses as of December 5, 2008 are the same: Using Highland's marks, these losses were $106,157,101. (DX Demo. 12, at 2.) Using UBS's marks, the losses were $128,848,101. (PX Demo. 21.) Having concluded that UBS's damages were properly calculated based on UBS's marks as of December 5, 2008, the date of the breach, the court holds that UBS incurred losses in the Cash Warehouse of $128,848,101, subject to the adjustments discussed below.

Adjustments to Damages Calculation

In calculating the Synthetic and Cash Warehouse losses, Mr. Dudney and Mr. Warren made adjustments for the same items: carry (premiums and interest), collateral value, financing fees, and financing savings. Mr. Dudney's adjustment of $79,587,557 and Mr. Warren's adjustment of $76,632,634 did not differ materially. (PX Demo. 21.) According to Mr. Warren, the difference of approximately $3 million is due to Mr. Warren's exclusion of the Internal Swaps in calculating the carry. (Warren Testimony, Trial Tr. at 1298-1299.) As the court has held that the Internal Swaps were properly included in the damages calculation, Mr. Dudney's adjustments will be accepted.

Reducing UBS's damages by the adjustments, the court holds that UBS sustained total damages of $519,374,149 (Cash Warehouse Losses of $128,848,101 plus Synthetic Warehouse Losses of $470,113,605 minus $79,587,557).

OFFSETS

Offset for Post-Breach Appreciation In CDS Asset Value

A central issue in this action is whether Highland is entitled to an offset against UBS's damages for appreciation in the value of the CDSs after the breach. The parties stipulated that UBS received post-breach termination payments net of carry on the CDSs, including the Internal Swaps, in the amount of $202,223,059. (DX 491.) It is undisputed that these payments were received months and, for many of the CDSs, years after the termination of the transaction. (Ds.'s Post-Trial Memo., at 10 [acknowledging that UBS "liquidated the assets years later"]; PX 335 [spreadsheet showing termination dates for CDSs through 2011].)

Highland argues that, at the time the transaction was terminated, "frozen credit markets had created a severe mismatch between the assets' alleged market value and their actual value based on their cash flows." (Ds.'s Post-Trial Memo., at 10.) Highland further argues that UBS was able to sell these assets for hundreds of millions of dollars more than their December 2008 marks and that, while UBS is entitled to retain the sale proceeds, "it cannot ignore these monies in calculating the harm it actually suffered." (Id. at 11.) According to Highland, if disposition of the assets after the termination is not considered, UBS will receive "an enormous windfall." (Id.) UBS acknowledges that if a non-breaching party obtains a benefit "because of the breach," the benefit must be offset against the non-breaching party's damages. (Ps.'s Post-Trial Memo., at 6 [emphasis UBS's].) UBS argues, however, that the Fund Counterparties' breach was not a but for cause of the post-breach payments UBS received for the CDSs. (Id. at 7.) Rather, subsequent gains that resulted from UBS's disposition of the assets were "the result of UBS's contractual rights [to retain the assets] in the event of any termination and of its subsequent investment strategy.” (Id. at 14.) According to UBS, the Fund Counterparties’ proposed offset would deprive UBS of the benefit of the bargain and result in a windfall for the Fund Counterparties. (Id.)

As discussed above, contract damages are intended to make “good or replace the loss” caused to a party by the breach of contract and “to place the nonbreaching party in as good a position as it would have been had the contract been performed. Thus, damages for breach of contract are ordinarily ascertained as of the date of the breach.” (Brushton-Moira Cent. Sch. Dist., 91 NY2d at 261.) Further, “where the breach involves the deprivation of an item with a determinable market value, the market value at the time of the breach is the measure of damages.” (Sharma, 916 F2d at 825 [applying New York law and citing Simon, 28 NY2d at 145-146].)

The calculation of damages is also subject to the fundamental precept that where a non-breaching party acquires a “benefit or opportunity for benefit . . . because of the breach, a balance must be struck between benefit and loss” and the benefit must be offset against the non-breaching party’s damages. (Indu Craft, Inc. v Bank of Baroda, 47 F3d 490, 495 [2d Cir 1995] [applying New York law]; accord Aristocrat Leisure Ltd. v Deutsche Bank Trust Co. Americas, 727 F Supp 2d 256, 289 [SD NY 2010] [“[I]f a victim derives a benefit from the breaching party’s breach of contract, the breaching party only is responsible for the victim’s net loss”], reconsideration denied 2010 WL 3431132; Fertico Belgium S.A. v Phosphate Chemicals Export Assn., Inc., 70 NY2d 76, 84 [1987], rearg denied 70 NY2d 694 [holding, in a “cover” action governed by the Uniform Commercial Code, that “[g]ains made by the injured party on other transactions after the breach are never to be deducted from the damages that are otherwise recoverable, unless such gains could not have been made, had there been no breach”] [quoting 5 Corbin, Contracts § 1041].)

Here, although UBS and Highland agree that any benefit derived by UBS because of the breach must be offset against its losses, neither party has cited, and the court's own research has not located, any case in which a court has considered how to apply this precept to a non-breaching party's retention of assets upon a failed securitization transaction and realization of subsequent gains. There is, however, a substantial body of law involving a breaching party's failure to deliver or purchase assets subject to fluctuations in value, in which the courts have assessed damages based on the market value of the assets at the time of breach and have declined to consider any subsequent increases or decreases in value of the assets. As discussed further below, the court concludes that these cases are inconsistent with the offset sought by Highland.

As the Second Circuit has explained in reviewing this body of law, New York courts reject damage awards "based on what 'the actual economic conditions and performance' were in light of hindsight." (Sharma, 916 F2d at 826, quoting Aroneck v Atkin, 90 AD2d 966, 967 [4th Dept 1982], lv denied 59 NY2d 601 [1983].) "They have explicitly rejected the use of subsequent changes in value or profits where they would increase an award, and where they would decrease the award." (Sharma, 916 F2d at 826 [internal citations omitted].)

In the securities context, courts have repeatedly held that the damages for failure to deliver or purchase shares of stock should be based on their market value at the time of breach, and not on any subsequent increase or decrease in their value. (Simon, 28 NY2d at 145-146 [where the seller breached a contract to deliver shares, holding: "The proper measure of damages for breach of contract is determined by the loss sustained or gain prevented at the time and place of breach. The rule is precisely the same when the breach of contract is nondelivery of shares of stock"] [internal citations omitted]; Aroneck, 90 AD2d at 967 [where the buyer breached a contract to purchase shares, holding that damages should be based on market value at the time of breach, and rejecting the buyer's theory that the "value should be based on the actual economic conditions and performance" of the company post-breach]; Emposimato v CIFIC Acquisition Corp., 89 AD3d 418, 421 [1st Dept 2011] [quoting Aroneck and citing Simon in holding that "[i]n the case of a breach of contract to sell securities, expectation damages are calculated as 'the difference between the agreed price of the shares and the fair market value at the time of the breach'"]; Oscar Gruss & Son, Inc. v Hollander, 337 F3d 186, 197 [2d Cir 2003] [following Simon and Aroneck in a case involving the defendant's breach of a contract to deliver warrants]; see also Kaminsky v Herrick Feinstein LLP, 59 AD3d 1, 11-12 [1st Dept 2008], lv denied 12 NY3d 715 [2009] [holding that damages for breach of contract to deliver shares prior to an initial public offering (IPO) should be awarded based on the value of the shares at time of the breach, not their higher value post-IPO].)

The court holds that these cases involve transactions that are analogous to (although far less complex than) the transaction at issue, and apply the same measure of damages that this court has adopted above—namely, the measure of damages based on the market value of the assets on the date of the breach. These cases accordingly govern the calculation of damages here. The court notes, moreover, that sound reasons support the application of this measure of damages without consideration of post-breach fluctuations in the value of the assets.

As the Second Circuit reasoned, a contrary rule that would permit calculation of damages at the time of trial "would be a two-edged sword, because courts would have to diminish damage awards where the value of the item decreased or where losses were encountered subsequent to the breach as well as enhance them where conditions improve. However, New York courts have expressly refused to adopt this 'wait and see' theory of damages.” (Sharma, 916 F2d at 826.) In addition, although the court does not adjust for changes in the value of the shares when calculating damages according to the date of breach measure, the parties themselves can protect against changes in value by hedging or acquiring shares in the market. As the Second Circuit further reasoned: “To be sure, uncertainties about the future and lack of perfect information may cause an asset to be under- or over-valued at any particular time. At that time, however, either party has an opportunity to hedge according to his or her judgment about the future stream of income.” (Sharma, 916 F2d at 826; see also Simon, 28 NY2d at 146 [where the seller breached a contract to deliver shares, reasoning that “[i]f plaintiff were anxious to own the shares rather than obtain their value, he was free to purchase them in the market. His cause of action should not and may not be converted into carrying a market ‘call’ or ‘warrant’ to acquire the stock on demand if the price rose above its value as reflected in his cause of action”].)

The court further holds that application of the date of breach measure of damages, without adjustments for fluctuations in the value of the assets, will serve the objective of putting UBS in the position it would have been in had the contract been performed. If the securitization had closed, UBS would have been entitled, under the express terms of the SWA, to novate to the Issuer its positions as protection seller on all of the eligible Knox CDSs. (SWA § 5 [B] [1].) As a result of the breach, UBS was forced to assume a substantial risk of loss under the CDSs that would have been novated to the Issuer had the closing occurred. As discussed above, the loss in market value of the retained CDSs as of the date of breach was determined using the mark-to-market methodology. More specifically, as confirmed by both UBS’s and Highland’s experts, the mark-to-market losses calculated as of the date of breach represent the cost to UBS to exit the CDSs—

that is, the payments to be made to third-parties so that they would take on, and UBS could extricate itself from, the risk. (Warren Testimony, Trial Tr. at 1304-1306; Dudley Testimony, Trial Tr. at 894-895.) A damage award for these mark-to-market losses will therefore compensate UBS for the exposure to risk that it would not have faced had the contract been performed.

To the extent that Highland contends that a damage award is not appropriate for these mark-to-market losses because the losses were not realized, the court rejects that contention. The damage award is appropriate, notwithstanding that the losses were not realized, because, as held above, the contract affords UBS the right of recovery for such losses. (See CDO Plus Master Fund Ltd. v Wachovia Bank, N.A., No. 07 Civ. 11078 [LTS], 2011 WL 4526132, * 2 [US Dist Ct SD NY, Sept. 29, 2011] [reasoning that, where the contractual definition of loss for the purpose of calculating damages did not require the CDS protection buyer to sustain “actual loss,” “[t]he absence of an actual loss on a Reference Obligation transaction, thus, is not a barrier to [the protection buyer’s] recovery. . .”] [emphasis in original].)

The court further holds that the record does not support Highland’s contention that UBS’s post-breach gains were realized because of the breach, and that this case therefore falls under the line of authority that requires an offset for such gains. Highland in effect contends that because UBS retained the CDSs as a result of the breach, it also realized the post-breach gains because of the breach.<sup>19</sup> That conclusion does not follow. As held

<sup>19</sup> In so holding, the court rejects UBS’s contention that it would have been entitled to retain the CDS assets, regardless of the Fund Counterparties’ breach, because the Agreements would have terminated in any event as of March 14, 2009, at which point UBS would have had the contractual right to retain the assets. (Ps.’s Post-Trial Memo., at 8.) This assertion is not only speculative but ignores that UBS did in fact acquire the right to retain the assets upon the Fund Counterparties’ breach of the Agreements as a result of their failure to meet the third collateral call. For the reasons discussed in the text, however, the court cannot accept Highland’s further contention that UBS realized gains on the retained CDSs because of the breach.

above, UBS had a contractual right to retain the CDSs upon the termination of the transaction based on the Fund Counterparties' breach of the SWA by failing to meet the collateral call. The SWA does not contain any provision that limited UBS's discretion as to when to dispose of the assets after termination. Rather, as UBS persuasively argues, the gains realized as a result of the post-breach disposition of assets were attributable not to the breach itself but to UBS's assumption of the risk of loss on the CDSs and its investment strategy as to when to dispose of them based on its assessment of the market. (See G & R Corp. v American Sec. Trust Co., 523 F.2d 1164, 1175 [DC Cir 1975] [holding that while the transfer of property to the plaintiffs was caused by the defendant's breach, the profit realized by the plaintiffs from a post-breach sale was not "caused by the breach" but was "attributable to the [plaintiffs'] decision to hold [the property] until [its] condition and the market were favorable for sale"].)

Nor does Highland successfully argue that the gains realized by UBS on the post-breach disposition of the assets must be offset under general principles which require a party who suffers damages as a result of another's breach to take reasonable steps to mitigate its damages. (See Ds.'s Post-Trial Memo., at 5-9.) Highland cites cases requiring mitigation in connection with the purchase and sale of securities and transactions in other markets. (See e.g. Drummond v Morgan Stanley & Co., Inc., No. 95 Civ. 2011 [DC], 1996 WL 631723, * 2-3 [US Dist Ct SD NY, Oct. 31, 1996] [holding that where the buyer breached a contract to purchase securities, the seller must take steps to mitigate its damages by selling the securities within "a reasonable period of time"]; Saboundjian v Bank Audi (USA), 157 AD2d 278, 284-285 [1st Dept 1990] [holding that where a broker failed to execute a customer's speculative currency exchange order, the customer was required to direct execution of the trade "within a reasonable time after he learned that it had not been effected earlier"].)

These cases are inapposite, as the SWA affords UBS the contractual right to retain the securities upon the Fund Counterparties' breach. Ironically, although purporting to rely on these cases, which in fact require that the non-breaching party mitigate within a reasonable period of time, Highland argues not that UBS was required to dispose of the CDSs within a reasonable period of time after the breach but that it was required to hold them for months and, indeed, years, until the market improved. Highland thus asserts that UBS reasonably mitigated by "holding (as opposed to fire selling) fully performing interest and premium-bearing assets in the face of a dysfunctional market: . . .," and that "UBS's mitigation was not only reasonable, but required by law." (Ds.'s Post-Trial Memo., at 7.) Put another way, Highland does not identify a specific date or dates by which UBS was required to mitigate. To the contrary, without citation to any legal authority, Highland argues that UBS was required to hold the assets for an indefinite period, until the market improved, to minimize its losses.

The mitigation cases provide no support for Highland's assertion that UBS's disposition, months and years after the breach, of assets that it had a contractual right to retain, constitutes mitigation.<sup>20</sup> Rather, in claiming that it is entitled to "offsets" for the post-breach gains realized by UBS, Highland appears in effect to advance a measure of damages that is patently inconsistent with the fundamental tenet of the date of breach measure of damages—namely, that a non-breaching party's damages for assets with a determinable market value must be calculated

<sup>20</sup> Nor does Highland cite any other authority that supports its claim that it is entitled to offsets for post-breach gains realized by UBS. Cases in which a party has a duty to cover (see e.g. Fertico Belgium S.A. v Phosphate Chemicals Export Assn., Inc., 70 NY2d 76, supra) are inapposite, given UBS's contractual right to retain the CDSs upon the breach. Cases in which a party is on both sides of a securities transaction are factually dissimilar. (See Aristocrat Leisure Ltd. v Deutsche Bank Trust Co. Americas, 727 F Supp 2d 256, supra [where the plaintiff company breached a contract affording the defendant bondholders the right to convert their bonds to the company's stock, and the bondholders held open existing short positions in the company's stock on which they realized post-breach gains, the company was entitled to an offset]; see also Minpeco, S.A. v Conticommodity Servs., Inc., 676 F Supp 486, 490 [SD NY 1987] [holding that the plaintiff's losses on short futures positions on silver as a result of the defendants' manipulation of the market were required to be offset by the plaintiff's profits on physical silver positions also then held by the plaintiff].)

at the date of breach, not based on hindsight, and that neither party can select the date on which the damages calculation will be most favorable to it. Thus, a non-breaching buyer cannot select the date on which the assets “had their highest value or a period of time that was profitable but that excludes periods when losses occurred.” (See Sharma, 916 F2d at 826.) Similarly, a breaching buyer cannot avoid or reduce the damages caused by its breach by invoking post-breach decreases in the value of the assets. (See id.)

The court accordingly holds that Highland’s request for an offset for UBS’s post-breach gains from the disposition of the CDSs must be denied.

Highland Capital Management, L.P. (Highland Capital) seeks judgment on its first counterclaim against plaintiff UBS Securities LLC for breach of the Cash Warehouse Agreement provision affording it the right to purchase CLO assets in the event UBS elected to retain such assets upon the termination of the Agreement. Section 5 (A) of the CWA provides that in event of failure to close, “UBS shall be authorized (but not required) to sell each Collateral Obligation then in the Warehouse Account in accordance with the Liquidation Procedures.” The Liquidation Procedures set forth in section 7 (A) of the CWA provide in pertinent part:

“If any Collateral Obligation is to be sold, UBS shall have the right to direct such sale on such terms and in such manner and at such time that it deems appropriate in its sole discretion. UBS may, in its sole discretion, elect to retain any such Collateral Obligation or to sell such Collateral Obligation to one of UBS’s Affiliates in which event, for purposes of determining Net Collateral Gain and Net Collateral Loss, such Collateral Obligation shall be deemed to have been liquidated at a price equal to its Market Value. To the extent that UBS in its sole discretion elects to retain such Collateral Obligation, the Servicer will have the right to purchase such Collateral Obligation at its Market Value.”

Section 7 (A) further provides that if UBS elects to sell CLOs upon termination, “the Servicer will have the right to bid for and purchase such Collateral Obligation at a purchase price equal to the highest third party bid received by UBS for the purchase of such Collateral Obligation.”

It is undisputed that Highland Capital notified UBS that it sought to purchase six of the CLOs with a bid price of $1.9 million and a notional value of $44 million, but that it sought to provide the funds for the purchase, and to settle the trades, in the name of one of its affiliates, CLO Value Fund. (Ds.’s Findings, ¶ 21.) UBS declined to agree to the sale to the Highland Capital affiliate. (Id.; DX 72; PX 292.)

The court is unpersuaded that a Highland Capital affiliate had the right, under the CWA, to purchase the CLOs. Section 7 (A), which governs the disposition of the CLO assets upon termination, expressly affords one UBS Affiliate the right to purchase CLOs. In contrast, this Section affords the right to purchase only to the Servicer, and not to any other Highland entity. The Servicer is defined as Highland Capital Management, L.P. (CWA, First Paragraph.) Reading the CWA as a whole, the court further finds that no other provision modifies or is inconsistent with this limitation. On the contrary, where the acts of Highland Capital’s Affiliates were implicated, the CWA expressly referred to the Affiliates. (CWA, § 13 [B] [limiting the liability of the “Servicer” “for any acts or omissions by the Servicer or any Affiliate of the Servicer, or any of their directors, officers, members, agents, equity holders [and others] under or in connection with this Agreement, or for any decrease in the value of the Collateral Portfolio . . . .”].)<sup>21</sup> The court accordingly holds that the CWA unambiguously provides that the right to purchase retained CLOs is limited, among the Highland entities, to Highland Capital.

<sup>21</sup> The parties to the transaction knew how to afford rights to purchase assets to Affiliates of the Servicer. The SWA provides that if the closing fails to occur, UBS may, with the consent of the related counterparty, novate CDSs “to a third party or to the Servicer (or any Affiliate of the Servicer designated by the Servicer). . . .” (SWA § 6 [A].) The omission from the CWA of authorization to Affiliate(s) of the Servicer to purchase CLOs is therefore notable. Moreover, Highland Capital does not claim that the concerns—regulatory and other—that are implicated in novating CDSs are comparable to those in selling CLOs.

termination right to purchase CLOs, the court rejects Highland's contention that the court should consider evidence allegedly showing that UBS and Highland Capital had a prior course of conduct in which UBS permitted Highland Capital to settle trades "at its fund level." (Ds.'s Findings, ¶¶ 80-81.) Parol evidence of course of conduct is not admissible to construe an unambiguous contract. (See e.g. Sigismondi v Queens Transit Corp., 38 AD2d 71, 73 [2d Dept 1971], affd no opinion 32 NY2d 745 [1973]; Evans v Famous Music Corp., 1 NY3d 452, 459 [2004].)

The court further notes that even if Highland Capital could recover on its counterclaim, the damages it seeks are not recoverable. Highland Capital seeks a finding that because the CLOs continued to perform until maturity, "it would have profited $46 million" if it had been permitted to exercise its right of first refusal to purchase the CLOs. (Ds.'s Findings, ¶ 82; DX Demo. 9.) As Highland Capital acknowledges, however, the market value of the CLOs at the time of breach was $1,934,214. (DX Demo. 9.) The measure of damages, as explained above in connection with Highland Capital's claim for offsets against UBS's damages, is the market value of the assets as of the date of breach, not the increase in their value in the indefinite future.

Offset for Unjust Enrichment

Highland Capital also seeks judgment on its second counterclaim alleging that UBS was unjustly enriched by its failure to permit Highland Capital, through its affiliate CLO Value Fund, to purchase the Collateral Obligations upon termination. This claim for unjust enrichment is not maintainable as the right to purchase is governed by contract—the CWA. (See generally Pappas v Tzolis, 20 NY3d 228, 234 [2012], rearg denied 20 NY3d 1075 [2013]; Clark-Fitzpatrick, Inc. v Long Is. R.R. Co., 70 NY2d 382, 388-389 [1987].)

Offset for Settlements with Highland Affiliates

Highland also requests an offset for settlements with three Highland Affiliates—Highland Credit Strategies Master Fund, L.P. (Credit Strategies), Highland Crusader Offshore Partners, L.P. (Crusader Offshore), and Highland Crusader Holding Corporation (Crusader Holding) (collectively, the Settling Highland Affiliates). Credit Strategies and Crusader Offshore were defendants in this action. UBS asserted its fraudulent conveyance cause of action against them as well as all of the other defendants. (Second Am Compl., Fifth Cause of Action.) Crusader Holding was a defendant in a separate complaint, which asserted a fraudulent conveyance cause of action against it. (UBS Secs. LLC v Highland Crusader Holding Corp., Sup Ct, NY County, Index No. 652646/11, Compl., First Cause of Action; Ps.'s Letters, dated July 21, 2015 [NYSCEF Doc. No. 397]; Jan. 7, 2016 [NYSCEF Doc. No. 398].) This court bifurcated the trial of this action, directing that it would first hold a bench trial on the breach of contract claims, which were triable by the court and are the subject of this decision, and that the fraudulent conveyance and other claims, which are triable by a jury, would be heard subsequently. (May 1, 2018 Decision on the Record [NYSCEF Doc. No. 494].)

The parties dispute whether the confidential settlements (DX 76 id and DX 77 id) may be considered in this action. They also dispute whether the settlements may be offset, pursuant to statute or case law, against the damages awarded by this decision to UBS against the Fund Counterparties on the breach of contract causes of action. (See Ps.'s Post-Trial Memo., at 14-21; Ds.'s Post-Trial Memo., at 15-19, 21-24.)

Even assuming, without deciding, that the damages may be subject to offset by the settlements, the determination of whether or to what extent the offset should be allowed must await determination of the jury trial. Where an offset for a settlement is sought, "the damages against which the settlement is sought to be applied should be determined so a proper comparison can be made between them and the damages covered by the settlement." (Carter v.

accord Moller v North Shore Univ. Hosp., 12 F3d 13, 16 [2d Cir 1993] [applying New York
law].)

Here, Highland argues that the causes of action against the settling defendants are “wholly derivative of its breach-of-contract claims against the Fund counterparties.” (Ds.’s Post-Trial Memo., at 16.) UBS persuasively argues, in opposition, that the fraudulent conveyance causes of action seek relief in addition to compensatory damages, including imposition of a constructive trust and punitive damages. (Ps.’s Post-Trial Memo, at 22-24; Second Am. Compl., at 57-58.) Moreover, the damages, if any, that will be awarded against the Fund Counterparties and Highland Capital on the fraudulent conveyance cause of action remain to be determined at the jury trial. On this record the court accordingly cannot compare the settlements with the fraudulent conveyance damages. Nor is there any basis for the court to determine the extent to which the settlements cover the same damages, or damages that overlap with, the breach of contract damages awarded to UBS against the Fund Counterparties by this decision. The determination of the offset issue will therefore be deferred pending the jury trial. As it appears, however, that Highland may be entitled to an offset for some or all of the settlement amounts, the court will stay enforcement, to the extent of the settlement amount ($70.5 million), of the judgment to be awarded to UBS against the Fund Counterparties for the damages for breach of contract.

Conclusion

UBS is entitled to damages for $519,374,149 on the third and fourth causes of action against the Fund Counterparties for breach of the Cash Warehouse and Synthetic Warehouse Agreements. Enforcement of the judgment for this amount will be stayed up to $70.5 million, the amount of the settlements with the Settling Highland Affiliates.

ORDER

It is hereby ORDERED that the parties shall meet and confer with a view to reaching agreement on the form of the judgment, including but not limited to the Allocation Percentages of CDO Fund and SOHC, and the award of interest. If the parties are unable to reach such agreement, they shall promptly settle judgment; and it is further

ORDERED that this decision shall be filed under seal for ten business days from the date hereof to afford the parties the opportunity to confer and to advise the court as to whether there is any information in the decision which is claimed by any party to be confidential. The parties shall, within five business days of the date hereof, submit a joint letter of no more than three pages, advising the court of their positions on this issue. The letter should be accompanied by a joint copy of the decision, highlighting the portion(s) of the decision which each party claims is confidential and should be redacted in the decision that will be publicly filed; and it is further

ORDERED that the parties shall telephone the court on a conference call within five business days of the date hereof (at a specific date and time to be arranged with the Clerk of Part 60) to discuss the above confidentiality issue as well as the jury trial phase of this action. The parties should be prepared to address whether, or to what extent, the jury trial may proceed in light of Highland Capital's filing of a bankruptcy petition.<sup>22</sup>

This constitutes the decision and order of the court.

Dated: New York, New York
November 14, 2019

MARCY FRIEDMAN, J.S.C.

UBS AG, LONDON BRANCH

1. UBS AG, London Branch hereby submits this addendum to its proof of claim (together, the “Proof of Claim”) against Highland Capital Management, L.P. (the “Debtor”) in the above-captioned chapter 11 case (the “Chapter 11 Case”).

2. UBS AG, London Branch and UBS Securities LLC (together, the “Claimant” or “UBS”) each have claims against the Debtor and each is filing a proof of claim in this Chapter 11 Case. Because their claims arise from the same set of factual events, including the same failed transaction, misconduct involving the Debtor and its affiliates, and subsequent litigation, the UBS claims overlap and their proof of claim forms and addendums are substantially the same.

3. This addendum is attached to, incorporated into, and constitutes an integral part of Claimant’s Proof of Claim against the Debtor. Claimant files this Proof of Claim under compulsion of the Order (I) Establishing Bar Dates for Filing Claims and (II) Approving the Form and Manner of Notice Thereof [Docket No. 488], as extended by the Joint Stipulation and Order Extending Bar Date [Docket No. 547] and modified by the Order Denying UBS’s Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay to Proceed with State Court Action [Docket No. 765], solely for the purpose of asserting Claimant's claims against the Debtor, as more particularly described and subject to any limitations set forth below.

Factual Background

A. The Knox Transaction

2. Claimant's claims arise out of a failed transaction dating back thirteen years ago and the state court action (the "State Court Action") that followed between Claimant, the Debtor, Highland CDO Opportunity Master Fund, L.P. ("CDO Fund") and Highland Special Opportunities Holding Company ("SOHC") (together with CDO Fund, the "Fund Counterparties," and the Fund Parties and the Debtor collectively, "Highland"), among other parties.<sup>2</sup>

3. In early 2007, Claimant and Highland agreed to pursue a complex form of securitization transaction known as a "CLO Squared" (the "Knox Transaction"). (Ex. B, Decision at 2.) The purpose of the Knox Transaction was to acquire and securitize a series of collateralized loan obligation ("CLO") securities and credit default swap ("CDS") assets (the "Knox Assets"). To that end, the Debtor agreed to be the "Servicer" of the Knox Transaction, and as such was responsible for identifying the specific CLO and CDS assets to be securitized. Claimant agreed to finance the acquisition of the CLO and CDS assets identified by Highland. Claimant would then hold, or "warehouse," the assets until the securitization was completed (the "Knox Warehouse"). Under this arrangement, Claimant financed the acquisition of $818 million in Knox Assets. (Id.)

<sup>2</sup> The procedural history of the State Court Action is incorporated by reference, but is voluminous. The operative Second Amended Complaint and Phase I Decision and Order are attached as Exhibit A and Exhibit B, respectively. Additional pleadings and orders can be found on the State Court docket for Index No. 650097/2009 or by contacting Claimant's counsel. Claimant reserves the right to file a copy of additional pleadings or orders with this Court.

4. The parties' first attempt at the Knox Transaction was not completed successfully and the relevant agreements expired in August 2007 without the contemplated securitization having occurred. (Id. at 3.) Rather than end their relationship, however, Highland and Claimant continued to consider the possibility of pursuing the contemplated securitization in 2008 under restructured versions of the prior agreements. Highland and Claimant always understood that—if the securitization were not successful—the Fund Counterparties would be obligated to pay Claimant for 100% of the losses on any CLO or CDS assets that been acquired and warehoused for the securitization. In order to convince Claimant to agree to enter restructured versions of those agreements and to finance the acquisition of the CLO and CDS assets, Highland assured Claimant that the Fund Counterparties had sufficient assets to cover any losses. It did so by providing Claimant with false, incomplete, and otherwise misleading information concerning the Fund Counterparties' finances and assets. (Ex. A, Compl. ¶¶ 47-61.)

5. In addition, Claimant specifically conditioned its agreement to enter the restructured agreements on the Fund Counterparties' ability to post an additional $70 million in cash and securities as collateral (the "Initial Restructuring Collateral"), in which Claimant would hold a security interest. (Id. ¶¶ 56-59; Ex. B, Decision at 3.) Highland assembled $70 million in such Initial Restructuring Collateral. But what Highland did not tell Claimant—and what is now clear was omitted on purpose—was that the Fund Counterparties did not own all of the Initial Restructuring Collateral they were expected to post. Instead, to meet this obligation, the Debtor exercised its control over other Highland affiliates, transferring and redirecting assets from such other entities that it controlled to assemble the Initial Restructuring Collateral. (Ex. A, Compl. ¶¶ 56-59.)

6. Similarly, while negotiating the restructured transaction, Highland provided Claimant with financial reports and statements that contained materially false and misleading information and omissions concerning the financial condition of the Fund Counterparties. (Id. ¶¶ 47-52.) The Debtor itself had prepared these financial statements and knew they contained material misstatements. (Id. ¶¶ 48-50, 54.) Among other things, Highland misrepresented the amount of cash held by CDO Fund. (Id. ¶ 52.) Highland also failed to disclose that many of the assets on the Fund Counterparties' financial statements already had been encumbered. (Id. ¶¶ 51, 53.) These misrepresentations not only evince a specific intent by Highland to induce Claimant into entering the restructured agreements, but a longstanding willingness to prevent Claimant from ever recovering the amounts owed under the parties' proposed agreements in the event the Knox Assets suffered any losses. In addition, these events show the Debtor's singular control over—and ability to move—assets from one Highland affiliate to another at will.

7. Based on Highland's material misstatements and omissions, Claimant agreed to pursue the restructured transaction and once more attempt the securitization, and the parties executed three new written agreements: an Engagement Letter, a Cash Warehouse Agreement, and a Synthetic Warehouse Agreement (collectively, the "Warehouse Agreements"). (See Ex. B, Decision at 3.) The Engagement Letter was executed by Claimant and the Debtor; the Fund Counterparties were not parties to the Engagement Letter. (Ex. A, Compl. ¶ 62.) The Cash Warehouse and Synthetic Warehouse Agreements were executed by Claimant and the Debtor, along with the Fund Counterparties. (Id. ¶¶ 64-65.)

8. As described above, Claimant agreed to finance the acquisition of the CLO and CDS assets that the parties planned to securitize. In so doing, the key risk Claimant faced was the possibility that the Knox Assets would lose value while securitization was pending. To address

this risk, Claimant and the Debtor agreed in the Engagement Letter that the Fund Counterparties would bear this risk. Notably, at the time, the Debtor was the Investment Manager to the Fund Counterparties under agreements that gave the Debtor total control over those entities. (Ex. A, Compl. ¶¶ 24, 26.)

9. The Warehouse Agreements reiterated that the Fund Counterparties (as controlled by the Debtor) would bear the risk, specifying that if the Knox Assets lost value while securitization was pending, the Fund Counterparties “will in aggregate bear 100% of the risk” for the Knox Assets—with CDO Fund bearing 51% of any losses and SOHC bearing the remaining 49%.

10. To further protect Claimant in the event that the Knox Assets lost value, the Warehouse Agreements provided for recurring measurements of mark-to-market losses on all assets in the Knox Warehouse and required the Fund Counterparties to post collateral in the event the Knox Assets lost a set amount of value. Specifically, the parties agreed that the Fund Counterparties would post an additional $10 million in collateral for each $100 million in losses to the overall value of the Knox Assets. (Ex. B, Decision at 4.)

11. In September and October 2008, amid the global economic recession, the value of the Knox Assets dropped by $100 million, twice. Thus, Claimant twice exercised its contractual right to demand additional collateral. And twice Highland posted the required collateral. (Id.) Although the Warehouse Agreements specified that it was the Fund Counterparties who would post collateral, the Debtor moved assets around from other entities it controlled to make the first two collateral calls (without disclosing this practice to Claimant). (Ex. A, Compl. ¶ 79.) On or about November 7, 2008, Claimant issued a third margin call, because the value of the Knox Assets suffered additional losses of $200 million (bringing the aggregate losses to over $400 million).

(Ex. B, Decision at 4.) This time, Highland refused to provide the additional collateral required under the Warehouse Agreements.

12. Highland's default on Claimant's third margin call triggered a termination event under the Warehouse Agreements. (Id.) On December 5, 2008, Claimant gave Highland formal notice of default and demanded the Fund Counterparties pay Claimant for 100% of the losses incurred on the Knox Assets—which had, by then, grown to over $520 million.

13. There is no question that the Debtor knew the Fund Counterparties were liable for the losses under the Warehouse Agreements. Indeed, the Highland officer who executed the Warehouse Agreements admitted under oath that, “as of the end of the year 2008,” Highland knew that the Fund Counterparties owed Claimant “hundreds of millions of dollars in connection with the Knox Warehouse Agreements.” (Travers Dep. at 261:8-20.) But rather than paying Claimant what it was owed, the Debtor, with Mr. Dondero at the helm, “devised a strategy to delay the resolution of that obligation [to pay Claimant] for as long as possible.” (Id.) To that end, Highland devised and subsequently deployed a multifaceted strategy—one that would last for many years thereafter—to intentionally frustrate and prevent Claimant from recovering any of the amounts that both the Debtor and the Fund Counterparties knew were rightfully owed to Claimant under the Warehouse Agreements.

14. First, the Debtor directed the Fund Counterparties to withhold any payment to Claimant—a position that the Fund Counterparties maintained (again, under the specific direction of the Debtor) for more than a decade. (See id.) The Debtor did so not only with the specific knowledge that the Fund Counterparties owed hundreds of millions of dollars to Claimant for the losses on the Knox Assets, but with the knowledge that Claimant would come seeking payment for such losses and, in particular, to look toward any and all collateral owned by the Fund Counterparties as one source of payment. As one of Highland's officers stated an internal email to Mr. Dondero in an internal email dated January 16, 2009: "[UBS] is going to be calling [] today asking for all additional collateral that cdo and sohc have left to cover the obligation left by the knox transaction." But rather than turning over the collateral in question to Claimant or, at the very least, securing such assets so that they could be used to pay Claimant, the Debtor directed the Fund Counterparties to withhold such assets and payments from Claimant: "[T]hey can see us in court for their additional collateral." True to that promise, even after Claimant filed suit and laid out the amounts due under the contracts, the Debtor forced the Fund Counterparties to launch an affirmative, multi-year campaign—one which would consume much of the cash and assets belonging to the Fund Counterparties themselves—to stave off any payment from the Fund Counterparties to force Claimant to try to recover such claims through litigation and, once in litigation, devising knowingly baseless defenses and arguments for the Fund Counterparties to assert in such litigation.

15. On top of directing the Fund Counterparties to withhold payment and force Claimant to litigate for amounts the Debtor already knew they rightfully owed to Claimant, the Debtor undertook a litany of other actions to ensure that, even if Claimant were successful in the litigation it had been forced to initiate against the Fund Counterparties, it would not be able to collect any judgment arising out of the litigation. Such actions included, but were not limited to, a series of fraudulent transfers out of, and away from, an alter ego of SOHC, Highland Financial Partners, L.P. ("HFP"). (Ex. A, Compl. ¶ 109.) These internal transfers of funds—all overseen by James Dondero, the Debtor's founder and president—were designed to prevent Claimant from ever collecting the millions of dollars it was owed under the Warehouse Agreements.

16. In addition to such fraudulent transfers, the Debtor also took steps after the lawsuit was filed to ensure that no additional value would be transferred to the Fund Counterparties—deliberately taking steps to keep both SOHC and CDO Fund undercapitalized. Not only did the Debtor prevent additional value from being transferred to the Fund Counterparties, it is clear that the Debtor also failed to ensure that the Fund Counterparties retained assets that could be used to pay any such judgment. Quite to the contrary, it is now clear that any and all assets of any value that once belonged to the Fund Counterparties have, in one way or another, been transferred away, drained, or otherwise wasted by the Fund Counterparties, the Debtor itself, or the Debtor’s affiliates—all at the Debtor’s direction. Indeed, in a recent filing before this Court, the Debtor recently disclosed that both of the Fund Counterparties are completely “insolvent.” (Docket No. 687 at 1.) This means that—separate and apart from the transfers of assets out of, and away from, HFP that occurred in 2009—the Debtor has directed, or otherwise permitted, the Fund Counterparties to engage in acts that have left these once marque investment funds with literally no assets that can be used to pay Claimant. All such actions and omissions by the Debtor were performed with either the specific intent to prevent or frustrate Claimant’s ability to recover the amounts owed under the Warehouse Agreements, or a wanton and reckless disregard of Claimant’s rights to those amounts. Such actions and omissions constitute breaches of the Debtor’s duty of good faith and fair dealing under the Warehouse Agreements.

17. On February 24, 2009, Claimant filed a complaint in the Supreme Court of the State of New York (the “State Court”) against the Debtor and the Fund Counterparties. With knowledge of Claimant’s lawsuit, the Debtor exercised its control over the Fund Counterparties to ensure they would not meet their obligations and to impede Claimant’s ability to recover the amounts owed by those entities. (Id. ¶¶ 112, 114.) Rather than paying Claimant what it was owed, and as discussed above, the Debtor orchestrated an extensive multi-part strategy to delay resolution of Claimant's claims for as long as possible. As a result, the Debtor further interfered with Claimant's contractual rights, thereby breaching the covenants of good faith and fair dealing inherent in the Warehouse Agreements. (Id.)

18. By this time, the Fund Counterparties and SOHC's alter ego, HFP, had become insolvent, although they still owned significant assets. (Id. ¶ 108.) Nonetheless, the Debtor failed to act in good faith to cause HFP to satisfy the debts, as much as possible, then owed to Claimant. Instead, the Debtor caused HFP to make additional improper and fraudulent asset transfers, deliberately kept the Fund Counterparties undercapitalized, and allowed all assets of any value to be drained from the Fund Counterparties—acts which not only impaired Claimant's ability to recover anything from the Fund Counterparties, but precluded it altogether. (Id. ¶ 111.) In March 2009, conscious that Claimant had commenced an action against Highland a few weeks earlier, and in breach of their continuing duty of good faith and fair dealing, and with actual fraudulent intent, the Debtor and HFP caused asset transfers of millions of dollars of assets to the Debtor, Highland Credit Strategies Master Fund, L.P., Highland Crusader Offshore Partners, L.P., and Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, L.P. (now Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, L.P.) (collectively, the "Affiliated Transferee Defendants"), among others, thereby further reducing Highland's abilities to meet their obligations to Claimant. (Id. ¶¶ 111, 113.) The Debtor and its principals exercised domination over the Fund Counterparties to improperly transfer substantial assets from the Fund Counterparties and HFP for their own personal gain, i.e., solely and improperly to protect and enhance the value of the Debtor and its principals by wrongful and improper means. In the process, the Debtor and its principals made it impossible for the Fund Counterparties to pay Claimant the losses that they and the Debtor had agreed they would pay under the Warehouse Agreements. (Id. ¶¶ 112-114.)

19. As Claimant learned about Highland's conduct through discovery, Claimant amended its complaint to assert additional claims and name additional Highland entities, including HFP, the Affiliated Transferee Defendants, and Strand Advisors, Inc. As amended and stated in its Second Amended Complaint (attached hereto as Exhibit A) in the State Court Action, filed on May 11, 2011, Claimant's claims include breach of contract claims directly against the Fund Counterparties, as well as claims for fraudulent inducement, breach of the duty of good faith and fair dealing, fraudulent conveyance, tortious interference, and declaratory judgments for alter ego liability against HFP and general partner liability against Strand Advisors, Inc. The Debtor subsequently brought counterclaims against Claimant for breach of contract and unjust enrichment. (See Ex. B, Decision at 35-37.)

20. The procedural history of the State Court Action is complex. The Debtor and its affiliates and Claimant filed, and the State Court ruled on, four sets of motions to dismiss. The Debtor and its affiliates then filed two sets of summary judgment motions, which led to a series of complex rulings by the State Court in 2017. The parties filed various interlocutory appeals of the State Court's rulings on the motions to dismiss and for summary judgment. Those appeals were heard by the Appellate Division for the First Judicial Department in the County of New York, with the Appellate Division issuing five decisions over this suit's protracted history (some of which are still subject to further appellate rights).

21. Also included in the Appellate Division's decisions was an order arising from an appeal of the State Court's ruling on Claimant's motion to restrain Defendants Highland Credit

Strategies Master Fund, L.P. and Highland Crusader Partners, L.P. from disposing of property received through the fraudulent transfers orchestrated by the Debtor. Claimant showed it had a likelihood of success on the merits of its fraudulent transfer claims, and the Appellate Division enjoined both Highland entities from disposing of their assets. Ultimately, these injunctions resulted in partial settlements between Claimant and Highland Credit Strategies Master Fund, L.P. and Highland Crusader Partners, L.P.

22. By early 2018, more than nine years after Claimant first filed suit, the parties were finally ready to proceed to trial. Due to a jury waiver clause in the Warehouse Agreements, however, and after related pre-trial briefing, the State Court bifurcated Claimant's claims into two distinct phases for trial: Phase I, consisting of a bench trial on Claimant's claims against the Fund Counterparties for breach of the Cash Warehouse and Synthetic Warehouse Agreements, as well as the Debtor's counterclaims; and Phase II, consisting of a jury trial on Claimant's remaining claims against all remaining Highland entities, including the Debtor.<sup>3</sup> (Ex. B, Decision at 2 n.1, 38.)

23. The State Court presided over a thirteen-day bench trial for Phase I from July 9 through July 27, 2018. (Id. at 1.) On November 14, 2019, the State Court entered a Decision and Order on Phase I (attached hereto as Exhibit B), ruling in favor of Claimant on almost every issue presented in Phase I. In particular, the court found the Fund Counterparties liable to Claimant for breach of the Cash Warehouse and Synthetic Warehouse Agreements, found no liability on the part of Claimant for either of the Debtor's counterclaims, and rejected almost every one of the Debtor's offset arguments with the only remaining issue (affecting approximately $70,500,000) to be determined after Phase II. (Id. at 39.) An Entry of Judgment on Phase I was entered on February 10, 2020. Under that Phase I final judgment, Claimant is entitled to $1,039,957,799.44, consisting of $519,374,149.00 in damages and $520,583,650.44 in pre-judgment interest as of January 22, 2020, with additional interest of $128,065 having accrued daily until the Entry of Judgment.

24. The next step in the State Court Action is Phase II of the trial, where Claimant's remaining claims against not only the Debtor, but also against other Highland affiliates are to be tried to a jury, with the court deciding liability as to the breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing claim and the jury deciding all remaining claims. (Id. at 2 n.1, 38.) The claims to be tried in Phase II include claims for breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, fraudulent conveyances, and alter-ego liability. The specific amounts the two non-Debtor affiliates owe to Claimant for their breach of the Warehouse Agreements are now set forth and embodied in the final $1 billion judgment from Phase I. And Claimant has stated claims against the Debtor—which was also a party to the same contract and exercised complete control over the two liable affiliates—under which Claimant is entitled to damages that are at least as much as the Phase I judgment amount. Claimant will seek damages for the Debtor's various breaches of the implied covenant as well as its specific role in the fraudulent transfer scheme, and pre-judgment interest and attorneys' fees where available. In addition, Claimant will seek punitive damages against the Debtor for its role in orchestrating the extended efforts to prevent Claimant from collecting the amounts owed under the Warehouse Agreements.

25. Currently, Phase II of the State Court Action is stayed against the Debtor by the automatic stay imposed pursuant to section 362 of the Bankruptcy Code when the Debtor commenced this Chapter 11 Case.

26. Claimant hereby asserts a claim, pending litigation of Phase II, for damages arising from the Debtor's breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, its specific role in directing the fraudulent transfers of assets involving HFP, additional interest, further damages (including punitive damages), and attorneys' fees that may be awarded by any court at the conclusion of Phase II.

Reservation of Rights

27. Claimant does not waive or release, and expressly reserves, all rights and remedies at law or in equity that it has or may have against the Debtor, the Fund Counterparties, Strand Advisors, Inc., other non-Debtor Highland Defendants, or any other Debtor affiliate, subsidiary, person, or entity.

28. Claimant expressly reserves all of its rights to assert any additional claims, defenses, remedies, and causes of action, including without limitation, claims for fraudulent inducement, breach of contract, tortious interference with contractual relations, fraudulent conveyances, or alter ego recovery. Claimant further reserves all rights to amend, modify, supplement, reclassify, or otherwise revise its Proof of Claim at any time and in any respect, including, without limitation, as necessary or appropriate to amend, quantify or correct amounts, to provide additional detail regarding the claims set forth herein, to assert additional grounds for any of the claims, to seek reconsideration under section 502(j) of the Bankruptcy Code or otherwise of any disallowance of any amounts claimed hereunder, or to reflect any and all additional claims of whatever kind or nature that Claimant has or may have against the Debtor.

29. To the extent any payment to Claimant based on this Proof of Claim, or any portion thereof, is clawed back from Claimant, avoided, or set aside, for any reason whatsoever, or Claimant is required to disgorge any such payment, or any portion thereof, Claimant hereby reserves its rights to amend this Proof of Claim accordingly.

30. The execution and filing of this Proof of Claim is not intended as, nor should it be construed as or deemed to be any of the following: (i) a waiver of the right to seek withdrawal of the reference, or to otherwise challenge the jurisdiction of this Court, with respect to the subject matter of the claims asserted herein, any objection or other proceeding commenced with respect thereto, or any other action or proceeding commenced in this Chapter 11 Case against or otherwise involving Claimant; (ii) an admission that any matter is a core matter for purposes of 28 U.S.C. § 157(b) or is a matter as to which this Court can enter a final order or judgment consistent with Article III of the United States Constitution; (iii) a waiver of the right to de novo review by the district court of any order or judgment for which this Court, absent Claimant's consent, lacks authority to enter a final order or judgment; (iv) a consent to the entry by this Court of a final order or judgment with respect to the claims asserted herein or any other matter; (v) a waiver of Claimant's right to a jury trial against the Debtor, as applicable, or waiver of Claimant's right to a jury trial against any of the non-Debtor Defendants; (vi) a waiver or release of the claims or rights of Claimant against any other entity or person that may be liable for all or any part of the claims or any matters related to the claims asserted herein; (vii) a waiver of any rights and remedies Claimant has or may have under the Cash Warehouse and Synthetic Warehouse Agreements, Engagement Letter, or any other contract, whether mentioned in this Proof of Claim or not; (viii) a waiver of Claimant's contractual right to seek to have these or any other claims settled by binding arbitration; (ix) a waiver of any right related to the confirmation of any plan of reorganization proposed in this

Chapter 11 Case, or any other insolvency-related proceeding that may be commenced, either in the United States or abroad, by or against the Debtor, or any non-Debtor affiliate; (x) a waiver or agreement granting any party relief; or (xi) an election of remedies.

31. Neither this Proof of Claim nor any of its contents shall be deemed or construed as an acknowledgment or admission of any liability or obligation on the part of Claimant. Claimant specifically reserves all of its defenses and rights, procedural and substantive, including, without limitation, its rights with respect to any claim that may be asserted against Claimant by the Debtor, the Fund Counterparties, or any affiliate of the Debtor, and its rights to enforce the Cash Warehouse or Synthetic Warehouse Agreements, Engagement Letter, or any other contract.

32. Claimant reserves all rights of setoff and recoupment that it may have. To the extent the Debtor or any non-Debtor affiliate asserts any claim against Claimant, Claimant shall have a secured claim to the extent of its right of setoff under section 553 of the Bankruptcy Code or right of recoupment against such claim with respect to the claims asserted herein and any amendments thereto.

COMPLAINT

NATURE OF THE ACTION

1. UBS brings this action to recover damages in excess of $686 million resulting from the wrongful conduct of defendants, based on causes of action for fraudulent inducement, breach of contract, fraudulent conveyances, and declaratory judgment.

2. Counterclaim-plaintiff Highland Capital Management, L.P. (“Highland Capital”) is a defendant in the action commenced by UBS (the “Highland Capital Action”) concurrently with the filing of the First Amended Complaint in this action. The Highland Capital Action was consolidated with this action by a Decision and Order, entered by this Court on October 7, 2010 (this action and the Highland Capital Action are referred to herein as the “Consolidated Action”). Together with Highland Capital, the Fund Counterparties fraudulently induced UBS to restructure a transaction to avoid Highland Capital’s and the Fund Counterparties’ contractual obligation to pay UBS over $86 million. Once Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties succeeded in misleading UBS into restructuring the original transaction, Highland Capital and its affiliates made it impossible for the Fund Counterparties to meet their obligations to UBS by stripping the Fund Counterparties of their valuable assets through fraudulent conveyances and otherwise dealing in bad faith with their contractual obligations to UBS.

3. When UBS finally terminated the restructured transaction and demanded payment from Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties, it was owed in excess of $686 million that the Fund Counterparties could not pay because of the misappropriations and improper transfers of assets directed by Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties. Even after UBS demanded payment, Highland Capital and defendants engaged in further unlawful conduct that harmed UBS by

4. This action arises out of Highland Capital's efforts in the Spring of 2007 to sponsor a collateralized debt obligation ("CDO") securitization (the "Original Engagement"). In connection with the Original Engagement, UBS agreed to finance the purchase of various collateralized loan obligation ("CLO") securities, as well as credit default swap obligations that referenced similar CLO securities. UBS agreed to hold or "warehouse" the CLO securities and credit default swaps (collectively, the "Warehouse Assets" or "Warehouse Facility") for Highland Capital's benefit.

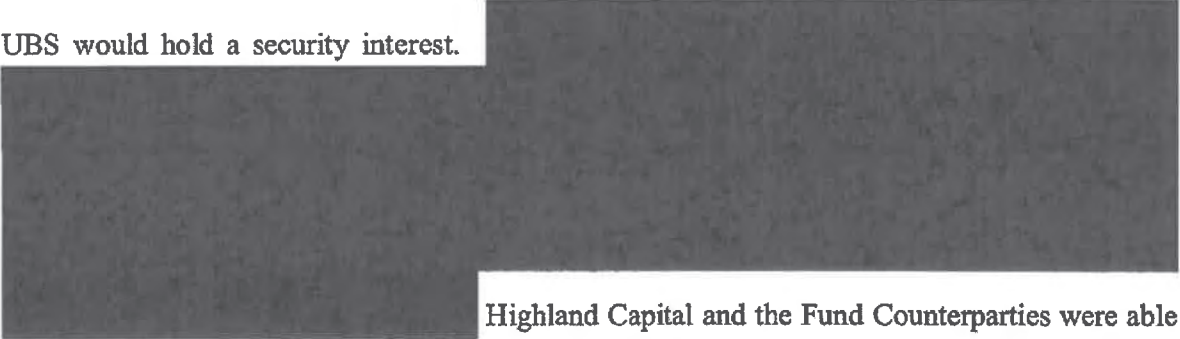

5. On or about August 15, 2007, the Original Engagement terminated by its terms without the contemplated securitization having occurred. As a result of the termination, Highland Capital and two of its affiliates, the Fund Counterparties, owed UBS in excess of $86 million related to the decline in the value of the Warehouse Assets.

6. Instead of paying UBS what it was owed, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties fraudulently induced UBS to restructure the Original Engagement by providing UBS with false, incomplete and otherwise misleading information concerning the Fund Counterparties' finances and assets. Using both affirmative material misrepresentations and omissions (material facts or information needed to be disclosed to make the statements actually made not misleading, and which were not disclosed, are referred to hereinafter as "Omissions"), Highland Capital, its principals and the Fund Counterparties misled UBS regarding the financial health of the Fund Counterparties and their creditworthiness, thereby causing UBS to forego recovering its losses from Highland Capital in favor of agreeing to restructure the terms of the parties' prior agreements (the "Restructured Transaction").

7. For example, the strength of the Fund Counterparties' financial statements, and their purported ability to use the hundreds of millions of dollars worth of assets reflected therein to satisfy future obligations to UBS under the Warehouse Agreements were material to UBS's decision to agree to the restructuring. Consequently, in connection with negotiating the Restructured Transaction, UBS conditioned any restructuring on the Fund Counterparties' ability to post $70 million in cash and securities as collateral (the "Initial Restructuring Collateral") with State Street Bank and Trust Company ("State Street"), in which UBS would hold a security interest.

Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties were able to conceal important information about the Fund Counterparties' financial weakness that was both quantitatively and qualitatively material to UBS, and which would have caused UBS not to enter the Restructured Transaction.

8. Similarly, while negotiating the Restructured Transaction, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties provided UBS with financial reports and statements for the Fund Counterparties. The financial information that Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties provided to UBS contained materially false and misleading information and Omissions concerning the financial condition of the Fund Counterparties. Among other things,

9. In reliance on material misstatements and Omissions made by Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties, UBS agreed to restructure the Original Engagement, and thereby were fraudulently induced to give up contractual rights under the terms of the Original Engagement. In particular, UBS reasonably and justifiably relied on misrepresentations and Omissions of facts and information solely and peculiarly within the knowledge of Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties. Given UBS's prior dealings with Highland Capital and its affiliates, as well as Highland Capital's size and presence in the market, UBS had no reason to believe that Highland Capital and its affiliates would provide it with false, incomplete or otherwise misleading information about the Fund Counterparties' finances and assets, as they in fact did.

10. Had UBS known that the Fund Counterparties could not [REDACTED]
[REDACTED], it would not have gone forward with the Restructured Transaction. UBS never would have agreed to the Restructured Transaction had it known prior to entering the Restructured Transaction the true status of the Fund Counterparties' financial condition and the true fair market value of the Fund Counterparties' holdings that would have been available to satisfy their then-existing and future obligations to UBS. UBS's losses described herein were directly and proximately caused by the conduct of Highland Capital and the defendants as described herein.

11. Almost immediately after UBS agreed to the Restructured Transaction, Highland Capital began the process of making it impossible for the Fund Counterparties to ever repay UBS what they owed. In particular, exercising its control over the Fund Counterparties, Highland Capital caused the Fund Counterparties to transfer cash for the benefit of Highland Capital and its principals, and, separately, in violation of UBS's rights, [REDACTED]

12. For example, in or around May 2008, Highland Capital caused the dissipation of approximately $100 million in cash that CDO Fund held after it sold a long position in a company called SunCom Wireless. Highland Capital drained CDO Fund's cash resources despite CDO Fund's ever-increasing obligations to UBS. Highland Capital's bad faith conduct caused injury to UBS by making it impossible for the Fund Counterparties to satisfy their contractual obligations to UBS.

13. In September 2008, as losses in the Warehouse Facility continued to grow, UBS began to exercise its contractual rights and make margin calls demanding additional collateral from the Fund Counterparties. Because Highland Capital had routinely taken cash out of the Fund Counterparties, the Fund Counterparties were undercapitalized and lacked assets and liquidity to meet UBS's demands for additional collateral.

14. Highland Capital and its principals, including its president and founder, James D. Dondero, knew that if the Fund Counterparties defaulted on their obligations to UBS (or any other creditor), Highland Capital's ability to conduct business in the financial community and to keep or solicit investors would be harmed. Investors in Highland Capital's hedge fund family would withdraw their investments. In addition, creditors would take actions to protect themselves, including foreclosing on collateral and aggressively enforcing their contractual rights. Highland Capital and its principals were concerned that upon the disclosure of the true state of their affairs, their business would collapse.

15. To avoid that result, Highland Capital and its principals resorted to

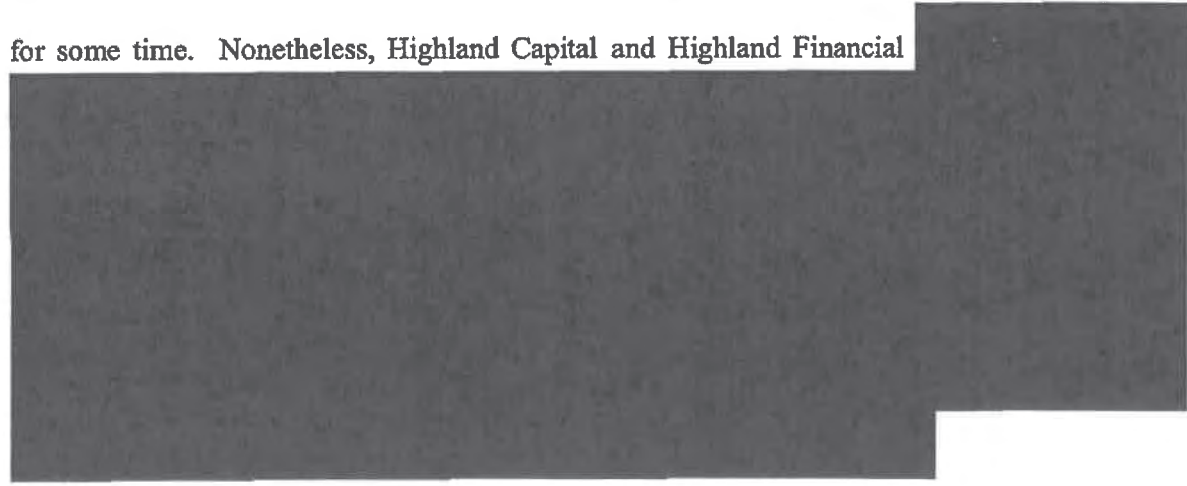

16. Highland Capital's and its principals' belated attempt to protect their reputation by continuing to fraudulently portray the Fund Counterparties as viable independent entities was ultimately unsuccessful. By late October 2008, Highland Capital could no longer continue to prop up the Fund Counterparties.

17. On or about November 11, 2008, UBS demanded additional collateral from the Fund Counterparties. The Fund Counterparties defaulted. On December 3, 2008, UBS terminated the Restructured Transaction. As a result of UBS's termination of the Restructured Transaction, the Fund Counterparties were contractually obligated to pay UBS in excess of $686 million.

18. On or about February 24, 2009, UBS filed the original complaint in this Court against the Fund Counterparties for breach of the Warehouse Agreements that had been entered in connection with the Restructured Transaction. By that time, the Fund Counterparties and SOHC's alter ego, Highland Financial, had been insolvent and unable to pay their creditors for some time. Nonetheless, Highland Capital and Highland Financial

19. In sum, after fraudulently inducing UBS to agree to the Restructured Transaction, Highland Capital and its principals exercised their domination over the Fund Counterparties to improperly transfer substantial assets from the Fund Counterparties for their own personal gain, i.e., solely and improperly to protect and enhance the value of Highland Capital and its principals by wrongful and improper means. In the process, they made it impossible for the Fund Counterparties to pay UBS the losses they had agreed to pay on the Warehouse Facility.

THE PARTIES

A. The Plaintiffs

20. Plaintiff UBS AG, London Branch, is a banking corporation organized under the laws of Switzerland with its principal place of business at Finsbury Avenue, London, United Kingdom.

21. Plaintiff UBSS is a limited liability company organized under the laws of Delaware with its principal places of business at 677 Washington Blvd., Stamford, Connecticut, and 299 Park Avenue, New York, New York.

B. Highland Capital

22. Highland Capital Management, L.P. ("Highland Capital") is a limited partnership organized under the laws of Delaware, with its principal place of business at 13455 Noel Road, Suite 800, Dallas, Texas 75240, and an office at 9 West 57th Street, New York, New York. Highland Capital is registered to do business in New York. Highland Capital describes itself as a 100% employee-owned partnership. Highland Capital is an investment adviser that manages a large number of investment entities that operate as hedge funds for Highland Capital's principals and affiliates, as well as unaffiliated investors. Highland Capital currently manages over $25 billion in various assets, including structured financial products. Highland Capital also holds direct and indirect equity and ownership interests in the entities that it manages, including in Highland Financial, the Fund Counterparties and the Affiliated Transferee Defendants. James D. Dondero is the President of Highland Capital, as well as one of its founders. Concurrently with filing the First Amended Complaint in this Action, UBS commenced a separate action against Highland Capital (the “Highland Capital Action”). The Highland Capital Action was later consolidated with this action by a Decision and Order, entered by this Court on October 7, 2010 (this action and the Highland Capital Action are referred to herein as the “Consolidated Action”).

1. Defendant Strand

23. Defendant Strand Advisors, Inc. (“Strand”) is Highland Capital’s general partner. Strand is a Delaware corporation principally engaged in the business of serving as the general partner of Highland Capital. As Highland Capital’s general partner, Strand is responsible for Highland Capital’s liabilities and obligations and regularly conducts business in New York, or causes its affiliates to conduct business in New York.

2. Defendants Highland Financial and SOHC

24. Highland Special Opportunities Holding Company (“SOHC”) is a company organized under the laws of the Cayman Islands, with its offices at Walker House, PO Box 908GT, Mary Street, George Town, Grand Cayman, Cayman Islands. SOHC is a wholly-owned subsidiary of defendant Highland Financial Partners, L.P. (a Delaware limited partnership) (“Highland Financial”). SOHC has six sister subsidiaries, all of which are owned in whole or in part by Highland Financial. Highland Capital serves as investment manager to defendant Highland Financial, SOHC and its sister subsidiaries.

25. Highland Financial is SOHC's alter ego.

For all purposes relevant to this action, Highland Financial and SOHC should be treated as a single entity and as alter egos of one another.

3. Defendant CDO Fund

26. Defendant Highland CDO Opportunity Master Fund, L.P. ("CDO Fund") is a Bermuda exempted limited partnership, with its principal place of business at 52 Reid Street, Hamilton, Bermuda. Highland Capital controls CDO Fund's investment decisions through an investment management agreement. Between January 31, 2007 and August 31, 2008, Highland Capital's and its affiliates' aggregate ownership interest in CDO Fund ranged between 43.36% and 56.44%. Highland CDO Opportunity Fund, L.P. and Highland CDO Opportunity Fund, Ltd. serve as so-called "feeder funds" for defendant CDO Fund.

4. The Affiliated Transferee Defendants [REDACTED]

27. Defendant Highland Credit Strategies Master Fund, L.P. (“Credit Strategies”) is a Bermuda limited partnership organized with its principal place of business at Victoria Place, 31 Victoria Street, Hamilton HM10, Bermuda. Credit Strategies transacts business within New York, and derives substantial revenue from interstate and international commerce.

28. Defendant Highland Crusader Offshore Partners, L.P. (the “Crusader Fund”) is a Bermuda limited partnership with its principal place of business at Victoria Place, 31 Victoria Street, Hamilton HM10, Bermuda. The Crusader Fund also has an office located at 13455 Noel Road, Suite 800, Dallas, Texas 75240. The Crusader Fund transacts business within New York, and derives substantial revenue from interstate and international commerce.

29. Defendant Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, L.P. (the “Credit Opp. Fund”) is a Delaware limited partnership with its principal place of business at 13455 Noel Road, Suite 800, Dallas, Texas 75240.

30. Credit Strategies, the Crusader Fund and the Credit Opp. Fund are referred to herein collectively as the “Affiliated Transferee Defendants” [REDACTED]

D. Non-Parties Affiliated With Highland Capital In Which The Fund Counterparties Invested

31. The Fund Counterparties held investments in several Highland Capital-affiliated funds, including Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, L.P., Highland Legacy, Highland Loan Funding V, Highland Park CDO I, Ltd., Highlander Euro CDO B.V. and Highlander Euro

CDO III B.V. Highland Capital served as the investment manager for these affiliated funds, and received valuable fees derived from the valuations of these funds' assets, which it managed.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

32. Venue in this Court is proper under CPLR 503 because plaintiff UBSS has a principal place of business in New York County.

33. Venue is also proper under CPLR 501, and this Court may exercise jurisdiction over the Fund Counterparties because UBS, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties all agreed in writing, before this action was commenced, to submit to such jurisdiction and venue, in connection with any dispute that may arise out of, in connection with, or related to, the Agreements (defined below), or any of the matters contemplated thereby. This Court also may exercise jurisdiction over Highland Financial because it is the alter ego of SOHC.

34. This Court also may exercise jurisdiction over all defendants pursuant to CPLR 301 and 302(a)(1) and (3), because defendants regularly transact and solicit business in New York, committed tortious acts causing injury in New York, should reasonably have expected that their tortious acts would have consequences in New York, the effect of their wrongful conduct was felt in New York, and/or derive substantial revenue from interstate or international commerce. Additionally, Highland Capital has an office in New York and is a foreign limited partnership registered to do business in New York.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

A. The Original Engagement

35. In or around April 2007, Highland Capital approached UBS for short-term financing in connection with a securitization that Highland Capital wanted to sponsor. UBS agreed to do so (the "Original Engagement").

36. On or about April 20, 2007, UBSS and Highland Capital entered into an engagement letter (the “Original Engagement Letter”), which contemplated that UBSS would act as the exclusive financial arranger and placement agent for a type of collateralized debt obligation transaction (“CDO”), known as a collateralized loan obligation (“CLO”) squared or “CLO Squared” transaction. (A copy of the Original Engagement Letter is annexed hereto as Exhibit A.)

37. CLOs are a form of securitization where interest and principal payments on corporate loans made to multiple mid-sized and large businesses are pooled together by a lender or the owner of the loans, and then passed on through a securitization structure to investors. CLOs typically involve multi-million dollar loans known as syndicated loans, or leveraged loans made to new businesses or existing businesses, often to acquire other companies. The loan originators are able to spread risk through the CLO securitization, and simultaneously free up capital to make new loans to other businesses. The Original Engagement contemplated the securitization of CLO securities. Thus, the securitization contemplated by Highland Capital would have been a “CLO Squared” transaction.

38. On or about May 22, 2007, as contemplated by the Original Engagement Letter, UBSS and Highland Capital entered into a warehouse agreement (the “Original Cash Warehouse Agreement”). (A copy of the Original Cash Warehouse Agreement is annexed hereto as Exhibit B.) In accordance with the terms of the Original Engagement Letter and the Original Cash Warehouse Agreement, UBSS agreed to acquire securities as directed by Highland Capital. Highland Capital instructed UBS to acquire various CLO securities issued in connection with prior CLO transactions involving other sponsors and issuers (the “Cash Portfolio”).

39. In a separate but related synthetic warehouse agreement (the “Original Synthetic Warehouse Agreement,” and together with the “Original Cash Warehouse

Agreement,” the “Original Warehouse Agreements”), UBS AG agreed to enter into credit default swaps (the “CDS Portfolio,” and together with the Cash Portfolio, the “Warehouse Assets”), pursuant to which UBS AG sold credit protection to various third parties. (A copy of the Original Synthetic Warehouse Agreement is annexed hereto as Exhibit C.)

40. For Highland Capital’s benefit, UBS held the Warehouse Assets on its balance sheet (the “Warehouse Facility”). UBS was expected to hold the Warehouse Assets until such time as the parties could arrange for the assets to be securitized as part of the contemplated securitization. In particular, if the parties believed that a securitization was economically feasible, they would create a special purpose entity that would acquire the Warehouse Assets from UBS using the proceeds from the sale of securities to investors. The special purpose entity’s debt securities would be secured by those Warehouse Assets.

41. Under the Original Warehouse Agreements, if the Original Engagement terminated without a securitization, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties were obligated to pay UBS for losses on the Warehouse Assets. In particular, under the terms of the Original Cash Warehouse Agreement, Highland Capital was directly responsible for the first $50 million in losses in the Cash Portfolio, and under the terms of the Original Synthetic Warehouse Agreement, the Fund Counterparties were obligated to pay UBS for any and all losses suffered on the CDS Portfolio.

42. The Original Engagement Letter expired by its terms on August 15, 2007 without a securitization occurring. The Original Warehouse Agreements expired on the same date in accordance with their respective terms.

43. As of August 15, 2007, the Warehouse Assets in the Warehouse Facility had lost in excess of $86 million in value. Although they had sufficient capital to do so,

Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties failed and refused to pay UBS what it was owed under the Original Warehouse Agreements.

44. As a result of extensive negotiations as well as representations and warranties made by Highland Capital on its own behalf, and on behalf of the Fund Counterparties as their investment manager, UBS agreed to restructure the terms of the Original Engagement.

B. Highland Capital And The Fund Counterparties Resort To Fraud To Avoid Highland Capital's Obligations To UBS

45. As alleged above, as a result of the termination of the Original Engagement, Highland Capital was directly liable to UBS under the Original Warehouse Agreement for in excess of $86 million.

46. Between August 2007 and March 14, 2008, UBS, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties had discussions and negotiations concerning a restructuring of the terms of the Original Engagement. Those negotiations resulted in agreements to restructure the Original Engagement (the "Restructured Transaction"), including a release by UBS of its claims against Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties arising out of the Original Engagement. (The terms of the Restructured Transaction are set forth in the Engagement Letter and Warehouse Agreements described below (collectively, the "Agreements"), which are annexed hereto as Exhibits D, E and F, respectively.)

47. During the course of negotiations and before March 14, 2008, Highland Capital and Fund Counterparties made several material misrepresentations to UBS concerning the creditworthiness of the Fund Counterparties. Dondero, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties also failed to disclose to UBS information which would have been material to UBS's decision to enter the Restructured Transaction ("Omissions," as defined above). As

Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties knew, UBS reasonably relied upon those material misrepresentations and, due to the Omissions, a misstated assessment of the Fund Counterparties, all to its detriment in deciding whether to enter the Restructured Transaction. UBS reasonably and justifiably relied on these misrepresentations and Omissions of facts and information that were solely and peculiarly within the knowledge of Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties. Given UBS's prior dealings with Highland Capital and its affiliates, as well as Highland Capital's size and presence in the market, UBS reasonably believed that Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties would not provide it with false, incomplete or otherwise misleading information about the Fund Counterparties' finances and assets as it in fact did.

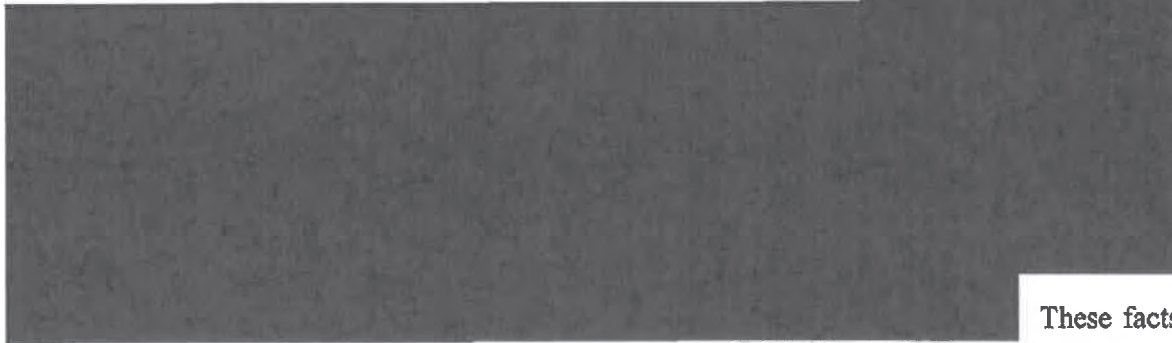

48. For example, on or about December 28, 2007, to induce UBS to enter the Restructured Transaction and related Agreements, Gibran Mahmud of Highland Capital sent SOHC financial statements to UBS. On or about January 29, 2008, UBS requested additional financial information related to SOHC. Later that same day, to induce UBS to enter the Restructured Transaction and related Agreements, Phil Braner of Highland Capital emailed UBS a copy of SOHC's Statement of Financial Condition, dated December 31, 2007.

49. As described with more particularity below, the SOHC financial information that Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties provided to UBS, which Highland Capital was responsible for preparing, was materially false and misleading. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties knew that UBS would rely upon SOHC's financial information in connection with deciding whether to agree to the Restructured Transaction and the terms of the Agreements being negotiated.

50. On or about February 4, 2008, Matt Killebrew of Highland Capital provided UBS with financial reports via email that reflected financial summaries, and aggregate valuations for CDO Fund's assets as of December 31, 2007. On or about March 4, 2008, Mr. Killebrew sent UBS similar reports for the period ended January 31, 2008. As described with more particularity below, these financial reports, which Highland Capital prepared, also were materially false and misleading. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties knew that UBS would rely upon CDO Fund's financial information in connection with deciding whether to agree to the Restructured Transaction and the terms of the Agreements being negotiated.

51. The Fund Counterparties' financial statements

and information were solely and peculiarly within the knowledge of Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties.

55. During the course of negotiations concerning the restructuring, UBS also insisted that the Fund Counterparties have the ability to post $70 million in cash and securities as collateral, which would be held at State Street Bank (the "Initial Restructured Transaction Collateral"), and in which UBS would hold a security interest. The Fund Counterparties' ability to do so using their own assets was qualitatively and quantitatively material to UBS. Among other things, it demonstrated the strength of their balance sheets, and by extension, their ability to satisfy future obligations to UBS.

56. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties agreed that the Fund Counterparties would post $70 million in Initial Restructuring Collateral.

As the Fund Counterparties' investment manager, Highland Capital maintained the Fund Counterparties' accounting records, and knew

Given UBS's prior dealings with Highland Capital and its affiliates, as well as Highland Capital's size and presence in the market, UBS had no reason to believe, and reasonably did not believe, that Highland Capital would provide it with false, incomplete or otherwise misleading information about

59. If UBS had known that the Fund Counterparties

[REDACTED] It also
would have drawn into question the Fund Counterparties' liquidity.
[REDACTED]

60. But for Dondero's, Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' false and misleading statements and Omissions concerning the Fund Counterparties' finances and assets, and [REDACTED] UBS would not have entered into the Restructured Transaction or the Agreements that memorialized its terms. Given the Fund Counterparties' weak credit quality, additional adverse information about their collective or individual creditworthiness would have deterred UBS from going forward with the Restructured Transaction and putting more assets at risk. These misrepresentations and Omissions proximately caused harm to UBS.

61. UBS would not have entered into a transaction with parties that made misrepresentations as Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties did. UBS also would not have agreed to release its valuable claims arising out of the Original Engagement under such circumstances. Because of, and in reliance on, the false and misleading information about the Fund Counterparties provided by Dondero, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties, UBS entered into the Restructured Transaction memorialized in the Agreements. Because each of the misrepresentations and Omissions identified above disguised the Fund Counterparties' inability to satisfy their obligations to UBS, the misrepresentations and Omissions proximately caused harm to UBS.

1. The Engagement Letter

62. On or about March 14, 2008, the parties reached agreement on the terms of a restructured engagement, which were memorialized in a new engagement letter (the “Engagement Letter,” annexed hereto as Exhibit D). Pursuant to the Engagement Letter, Highland Capital re-engaged UBSS to act as placement agent in the event that market conditions improved, and the parties could go forward with securitizing the Warehouse Assets already held by UBS in the Warehouse Facility. UBS agreed to continue holding the Warehouse Assets in the Warehouse Facility, which had a notional value of approximately $818 million.

63. Under the terms of the Engagement Letter, UBS released claims against Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties arising out of the Original Engagement.

64. On March 14, 2008, UBSS, the Fund Counterparties and Highland Capital also entered into a cash warehouse agreement (the “Cash Warehouse Agreement”), pursuant to which UBSS agreed to continue to hold the Cash Portfolio. (A true and correct copy of the Cash Warehouse Agreement is annexed hereto as Exhibit E.)

65. UBS AG, the Fund Counterparties and Highland Capital also entered into a synthetic warehouse agreement, dated as of March 14, 2008 (the “Synthetic Warehouse Agreement,” and together with the Cash Warehouse Agreement, the “Warehouse Agreements”), pursuant to which UBS AG agreed to continue warehousing credit protection that it sold, i.e., the CDS Portfolio. (A true and correct copy of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement is annexed hereto as Exhibit F.)

66. Section 13(B) of the Cash Warehouse Agreement and § 11(B) of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement make Highland Capital liable for losses, including losses in the Warehouse Facility, by reason of acts or omissions constituting bad faith, willful misconduct, or gross negligence.

67. Under § 12 of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement, the Fund Counterparties agreed to transfer to State Street the Initial Restructuring Collateral to partially secure their respective obligations to UBS under the Warehouse Agreements. Annex C to the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement identified the six assets that the Fund Counterparties purportedly transferred to State Street to satisfy their Initial Restructuring Collateral obligations, along with $20 million in cash.

68. The Warehouse Agreements also contained releases whereby UBS agreed to release claims it had against Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties for losses arising out of the Original Engagement.

D. Highland Capital Uses Its Control Over The Fund Counterparties To Dissipate Their Assets Without Regard For The Fund Counterparties' Growing Obligations To UBS

69. Almost immediately after the Restructured Transaction Agreements were executed, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties knowingly began to dissipate the Fund Counterparties' assets and make it impossible for the Fund Counterparties to ever repay UBS what they owed. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties did so at various times when the Fund Counterparties owed UBS hundreds of millions of dollars.

70. For example, on or about March 26, 2008, just days after entering the Restructured Transaction, Highland Capital caused certain SOHC assets to be encumbered by entering into a transaction with Barclays Bank, plc. ("Barclays"). At or around the same time, CDO Fund was negotiating financing arrangements with Morgan Stanley & Co. International Ltd. and Highland Capital IV SPC, whereby it granted a security interest in its assets to those entities. By granting a security interest in the Fund Counterparties' assets to other creditors,

Highland Capital unfairly and improperly reduced the assets available to satisfy the Fund Counterparties' obligations to UBS in bad faith and in violation of UBS's rights.

71. Similarly, on or about April 2, 2008, Highland Capital advised UBS that defendant CDO Fund had recently monetized a $129 million long position in SunCom Wireless. When Highland Capital and CDO Fund subsequently provided UBS with additional financial information about CDO Fund, however, UBS discovered that Highland Capital had caused CDO Fund to transfer approximately $100 million of the cash proceeds from the SunCom Wireless sale out of CDO Fund.

72. By improperly removing such a substantial amount of cash from CDO Fund, Highland Capital interfered in bad faith with CDO Fund's ability to satisfy its steadily increasing financial obligations to UBS. In particular, in or around May 2008, when the cash proceeds from the SunCom Wireless position were siphoned off, the Fund Counterparties owed UBS in excess of $166 million related to losses in the Warehouse Facility, approximately 50% of which CDO Fund was obligated to pay.

73. Highland Capital also repeatedly caused SOHC's cash to be transferred by defendant Highland Financial. In particular, during the first five months of 2008, SOHC's cash position was reduced by over $10 million at a time when its obligations to UBS were increasing substantially.

E. In the Fall of 2008, Losses Mount And The Fund Counterparties Face Collateral Calls From Creditors Including UBS That They Cannot Meet Despite Highland Capital's Belated Efforts To Do So

74. Under the terms of the Warehouse Agreements, the Fund Counterparties were required to post additional collateral with UBS if the combined market value of (a) the Warehouse Assets and (b) the Initial Restructured Transaction Collateral, declined below a certain amount.

75. By September 2008, losses in the Warehouse Facility had increased significantly. At the same time, the value of the Initial Restructuring Collateral had declined substantially, as had the value of the assets held by the Fund Counterparties.

76. Highland Capital was desperate to avoid a default by any of its affiliates, including the Fund Counterparties. If a Highland Capital affiliate defaulted on its obligations to a creditor, Highland Capital's reputation in the investment community would be damaged, and there was a risk that Highland Capital's business would collapse. Highland Capital feared that a public default would lead investors in Highland Capital's hedge fund family to withdraw their capital, and lead creditors to take aggressive actions to protect themselves, including foreclosing on collateral and aggressively enforcing their contractual rights.

1. The First Margin Call

77. On or about September 16, 2008, as losses in the Warehouse Facility continued to grow, UBS began to exercise its contractual rights and make margin calls demanding additional collateral from the Fund Counterparties. Specifically, UBS notified Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties that, pursuant to § 12(C) of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement, the Fund Counterparties were each required to post $10 million in cash or equivalent securities (the "First Margin Call").

78. Because Highland Capital had routinely drained cash from the Fund Counterparties, the Fund Counterparties lacked the liquidity to meet UBS's demands using their own assets.

79. On or about September 19, 2008, the Fund Counterparties satisfied the First Margin Call by together posting $20 million in cash as additional collateral.

2. UBS Is Harmed By Highland Capital's Response To The Fund Counterparties' Liquidity Crisis

80. In the wake of the First Margin Call, the Fund Counterparties remained starved for liquidity. Still desperate to avoid defaults to creditors and the consequences described above, Highland Capital resorted to

81. Highland Capital and the individuals that directed the Fund Counterparties knew that they had caused the Fund Counterparties to become incapable of satisfying their obligations to all of their respective creditors when they came due, and that they were insolvent or, at the very least, within the zone of insolvency.

86.

Highland Capital executed this plan at UBS's expense to protect their substantial personal stake in Highland Financial and prevent negative publicity associated with defaulting [REDACTED]. Implementing this plan, however, caused SOHC (and its alter ego, Highland Financial) to improperly and in bad faith breach duties and obligations to UBS.

SOHC's expected obligations to UBS were well in excess of $250 million, which were due and owing to UBS no later than March 14, 2009. Thus, by [REDACTED], Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties made a fraudulent conveyance and interfered in bad faith with the Fund Counterparties' ability to meet their contractual obligations to UBS.

88. Given the state of the financial markets at the time, Highland Capital, Highland Financial and SOHC had no expectation that SOHC would be able to satisfy its obligations to UBS when they came due.

3. The Second Margin Call

90. On or about October 21, 2008, UBS notified Highland Capital that, pursuant to § 12(C) of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement, the Fund Counterparties each owed another $10 million (the “Second Margin Call”).

91. In response to the Second Margin Call, Highland Capital offered UBS numerous assets as collateral. UBS rejected those offers for various business-related reasons. As UBS would later learn, however, at the time Highland Capital was offering the assets to UBS, the Fund Counterparties did not own them.

92. On or about October 24, 2008, the Fund Counterparties satisfied the Second Margin Call by together posting assets with a notional value of $49.97 million (but a market value of approximately $20 million), with the understanding that UBS would authorize State Street to return the securities if and when the Fund Counterparties were able to replace those securities with $20 million in cash. As UBS would later learn,

93. Moreover, at the same time that Highland Capital was telling UBS that the Fund Counterparties did not have sufficient cash assets to meet the Second Margin call,

4. The Third Margin Call

94. On or about November 7, 2008, UBS notified Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties that, pursuant to § 12(C) of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement, the Fund Counterparties had an obligation to post another $10 million as collateral (the “Third Margin Call”).

95. On or about November 11, 2008, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties offered to post various securities to satisfy the Third Margin Call. In response to the Third Margin Call, Phil Braner of Highland Capital emailed UBS a list of proposed collateral including eight securities with a purported market value of approximately $20 million (i.e., twice the amount of cash due to satisfy the Third Margin Call).

96. Pursuant to the Warehouse Agreements, UBS was authorized to reject proposed collateral. UBS determined that the proposed additional collateral offered by Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties was unacceptable. On or after November 13, 2008, UBS formally rejected the offered securities, and requested that the Fund Counterparties provide cash or cash equivalent collateral to satisfy their obligations under § 12(C) of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement.

97. UBS would later learn that

98. When UBS confronted Highland Capital about this issue Mr. Braner of Highland Capital explained that

F. Termination Of The Agreements And Demand For Payment Of Losses

99. As of December 3, 2008, the Fund Counterparties still had not met the Third Margin Call in accordance with § 12(C) of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement. This failure resulted in UBS's declaration of a termination date ("Termination Date") under the Agreements.

100. On December 3, 2008, UBS delivered a letter (the "Termination Date Letter") to Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties notifying them of such failure and the

occurrence of a Termination Date under each Agreement. (A true and correct copy of the Termination Date Letter is annexed hereto as Exhibit G.)

101. Sections 5 and 7 of the Cash Warehouse Agreement provided that if the closing date of the securitization contemplated by the Restructured Transaction failed to occur on or prior to March 14, 2009, UBSS could, in its sole discretion, retain any of the securities in the Warehouse Facility or sell such securities to one of UBSS's affiliates or an unaffiliated party.

102. Pursuant to the terms of the Agreements, if the closing date of the securitization contemplated by the Restructured Transaction failed to occur on or prior to March 14, 2009, each of the Fund Counterparties was obligated to pay to UBS its pro rata share of any market value losses on the Warehouse Assets, which UBS determined it had experienced and so notified Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties.

103. On December 19, 2008, UBSS delivered a letter (the "Cash Warehouse Demand Letter") to Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties demanding payment for its losses. (A true and correct copy of the Cash Warehouse Demand Letter is annexed hereto as Exhibit H.) UBSS demanded that Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties wire that required amount to UBSS no later than 5:00 pm on December 24, 2008 (i.e., the third business day after the date of the Cash Warehouse Demand Letter) (the "Final Payment Date"). Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties failed to make the required payment to UBSS.

104. The Synthetic Warehouse Agreement provided that in the event the closing date of the securitization contemplated by the Restructured Transaction failed to occur on or prior to March 14, 2009, the Fund Counterparties would be collectively responsible for 100% of the aggregate amount of losses on the CDS Portfolio and each of the Fund Counterparties would pay, after notice of such amount due from UBS, its pro rata share of such amount to UBS within three business days.

105. On December 19, 2008, UBS AG delivered a letter (the “Synthetic Warehouse Demand Letter”) to Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties demanding payment for its losses. (A true and correct copy of the Synthetic Warehouse Demand Letter is annexed hereto as Exhibit I.) UBS AG demanded that the Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties wire the required amount to UBS AG no later than 5:00 PM on the Final Payment Date (i.e., December 24, 2008 — the third business day after the date of the Synthetic Warehouse Demand Letter). Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties failed to make the required payment to UBS AG.

G. Notice Of Failure to Pay, Auction And Final Accounting Letter

106. On January 5, 2009, UBS notified Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties of the failure to make the requisite payments when due pursuant to the Agreements and the applicable demand letters. On or about January 16, 2009, in connection with unwinding the Warehouse Facility, UBS conducted the auction contemplated by the Warehouse Agreements.

107. On or about March 19, 2009, UBS delivered a letter to Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties concerning a final accounting concerning the auction and the losses in the Warehouse Facility. UBS determined that Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties owed it $686,853,290.26.

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION
(Fraud Against The Fund Counterparties)

115. UBS repeats and realleges the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 114 of this Second Amended Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

116. In connection with restructuring the Original Engagement, and negotiating the terms of the Agreements and Restructured Transaction, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties had a duty to communicate accurate and complete information to UBS.

117. As alleged above, in connection with negotiating the Restructured Transaction, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties intentionally misrepresented material facts and made Omissions (as defined earlier herein).

118. As set forth in more detail above, prior to the restructuring being completed, and the Agreements being executed, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties misrepresented information and made Omissions to UBS concerning the creditworthiness of the Fund Counterparties as well as information about their finances and assets, including, but not limited to, information regarding the following:

119. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties acted knowingly and purposefully in making the materially false representations and Omissions to UBS in connection with negotiating the Restructured Transaction to induce UBS to enter the Agreements. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties knew that their representations and Omissions were materially false and misleading. Knowingly using material misrepresentations and Omissions, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties intended to induce, and fraudulently induced UBS into entering the Agreements.

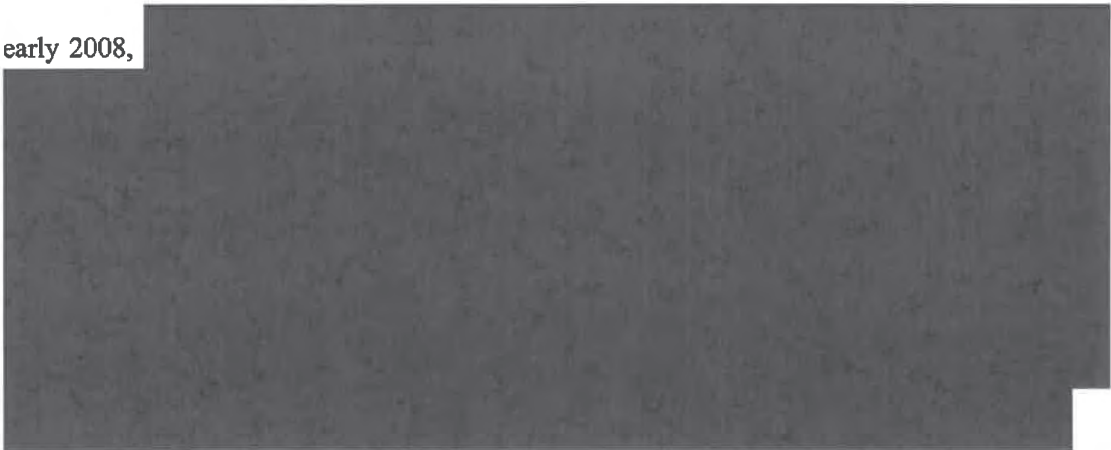

120. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties also knew that their false representations and Omissions were material to and caused UBS's decision to enter the Agreements. In particular, the misrepresentations and Omissions were both quantitatively and qualitatively material to UBS inasmuch as UBS would have acted differently had it known the truth about the Fund Counterparties' finances and assets when UBS made the decision to go forward with the restructuring and releasing, among other things, valuable claims against Highland Capital.

121. UBS was not aware and could not have been aware of the falsity and misleading nature of Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' misrepresentations and Omissions. The facts and information underlying the false, inaccurate and incomplete financial reports that Highland Capital provided to UBS in connection with negotiating the Restructured Transaction were peculiarly within Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' knowledge.

122. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties had superior knowledge compared to UBS about Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' finances and assets. Indeed, such facts and information were solely and peculiarly within the knowledge of Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties. Moreover, it was necessary for Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties to complete or clarify the information that it provided to UBS concerning the Fund Counterparties' finances and assets. Consequently, Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' concealment of the Fund Counterparties' finances and assets was fraudulent.

123. UBS reasonably and justifiably relied to its detriment on Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' misrepresentations and Omissions regarding the Fund Counterparties' financial condition and assets. In particular, UBS reasonably and justifiably relied on misrepresentations and Omissions of facts and information solely and peculiarly within the knowledge of Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties. Given UBS's prior dealings with Highland Capital and its affiliates, as well as Highland Capital's size and presence in the market, UBS had no reason to question the veracity and completeness of the financial information that Highland Capital provided to UBS about the Fund Counterparties' finances and assets. UBS also had no reason to believe that the financial information that Highland Capital provided to it to induce UBS to enter the Restructured Transaction would be false, incomplete or otherwise misleading. When UBS evaluated the Fund Counterparties' financial statements in early 2008,

124. But for Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' material misrepresentations and Omissions, UBS would not have entered the Agreements, or released its claims against Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties arising out of the Original Engagement.

125. In reasonable and justifiable reliance on the foregoing material misrepresentations and Omissions, UBS also surrendered and released valuable claims against Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties at a time when UBS could have been made whole for the losses that it had suffered to that point as a result of the Original Engagement. Nor would UBS have suffered the additional losses in the Warehouse Facility.

126. UBS reasonably relied to its detriment on Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' material misrepresentations and Omissions. As a direct and proximate result of Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' misrepresentations and Omissions, UBS continued to maintain the Warehouse Facility through, at least, December 3, 2008, suffering in excess of $686 million in losses that the Fund Counterparties cannot pay to UBS.

127. Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' material misrepresentations and Omissions were the direct and proximate cause of UBS's losses complained of herein. As a direct result of, and in reliance upon, Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' material misrepresentations and Omissions, UBS was induced to, among other things, (a) enter the Agreements; (b) release its pre-existing claims against Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties related to the Original Engagement; and (c) assume the credit-risk of the Fund Counterparties; and as a direct result, caused UBS to incur substantial losses and damages in an amount to be determined at trial.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION
(Fraud Against The Fund Counterparties)
(Pled Solely To Preserve For Appeal)

128. UBS repeats and realleges the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 127 of this Second Amended Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

129. In connection with restructuring the Original Engagement, and negotiating the terms of the Agreements and Restructured Transaction, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties had a duty to communicate accurate and complete information to UBS.

130. As alleged above, in connection with negotiating the Restructured Transaction, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties intentionally misrepresented material facts and made Omissions (as defined earlier herein).

131. As set forth in more detail above, prior to the restructuring being completed, and the Agreements being executed, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties misrepresented information and made Omissions to UBS concerning the creditworthiness of the Fund Counterparties and information about their finances, assets and business practices, including, but not limited to, information regarding the following:

- (a) [REDACTED]
- (b) [REDACTED]
- (c) [REDACTED]
- (d) [REDACTED]
- (e) [REDACTED]
- (f) [REDACTED]

132. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties acted knowingly and purposefully in making the materially false representations and Omissions to UBS in connection with negotiating the Restructured Transaction to induce UBS to enter the Agreements. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties knew that their representations and Omissions were materially false and misleading. Knowingly using material misrepresentations and Omissions, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties intended to induce, and fraudulently induced UBS into entering the Agreements.

133. These Omissions rendered the Fund Counterparties' representations, statements and financial statements materially misleading. Because Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties concealed this information from UBS, UBS could not properly evaluate SOHC's ability to satisfy its obligations to UBS. For instance, UBS received financial reports from Highland Capital for the Fund Counterparties that suggested that the Fund Counterparties held hundreds of millions of dollars worth of assets that could be used to satisfy their obligations to UBS. However, a substantial portion of the assets that UBS reasonably believed would be available, were, in fact, not going to be available to pay UBS because they were going to be encumbered as a result of other transactions. In other words, because Highland Capital concealed its intentions, the financial reports that it provided to UBS were misleading as they provided UBS with false and illusory comfort regarding the Fund Counterparties' capacity to fulfill their contractual obligations to UBS. As the Fund Counterparties' investment manager, Highland Capital would have led the negotiations related to the other financing arrangements.

134. Similarly, during negotiations concerning the Initial Restructuring Collateral, Highland Capital and SOHC made an additional Omission by not disclosing to UBS

the fact that SOHC had a serious liquidity problem. SOHC had to borrow cash from Highland Capital to satisfy the cash portion of its Initial Restructuring Collateral obligation. On or about December 18, 2007, while the parties were negotiating the restructuring, Highland Capital loaned $30 million to SOHC, which Highland Capital and SOHC's alter ego, Highland Financial, earmarked for SOHC to use as collateral in connection with negotiating extensions of warehouse facilities, including the one with UBS. As Highland Financial's and SOHC's investment manager, Highland Capital knew about SOHC's liquidity problems since they were discussed openly at Highland Financial board meetings attended by Highland Capital. The failure to fully disclose SOHC's liquidity problem, and its inability to meet the Initial Restructuring Collateral obligation using its own cash assets was an Omission, because it was indicative of the strength of SOHC's finances and assets, and SOHC's ability to satisfy obligations to UBS.

135. Highland Capital and Fund Counterparties also concealed from UBS that Highland Capital had to commingle assets among its various affiliates and disregard corporate formalities to satisfy the Fund Counterparties' liquidity needs. Facts and information concerning these business practices, including Highland Capital's commingling of assets and disregard of corporate formalities was information solely and peculiarly within the knowledge of Highland Capital and its affiliates. As the investment manager to Highland Financial, SOHC and CDO Fund (as well as the Affiliated Transferee Defendants), Highland Capital knowingly arranged and caused the asset transfers between and among the various affiliates in disregard of corporate formalities.

136. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties also knew that their false representations and Omissions were material to and caused UBS's decision to enter the Agreements. In particular, the misrepresentations and Omissions were both quantitatively and qualitatively material to UBS inasmuch as UBS would have acted differently had it known the truth about the Fund Counterparties' finances, assets and business practices when UBS made the decision to go forward with the restructuring and releasing, among other things, valuable claims against Highland Capital.

137. In addition, if UBS had known that Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties ignored corporate formalities or that Highland Capital freely transferred assets among its controlled entities, UBS would not have entered the Restructured Transaction. These misrepresentations and Omissions proximately caused harm to UBS.

138. UBS was not aware and could not have been aware of the falsity and misleading nature of Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' misrepresentations and Omissions. The facts and information underlying the false, inaccurate and incomplete financial reports that Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties provided to UBS in connection with negotiating the Restructured Transaction were peculiarly within Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' knowledge.

139. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties had superior knowledge compared to UBS about Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' finances, assets and business practices. Indeed, such facts and information were solely and peculiarly within the knowledge of Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties. Moreover, it was necessary for Highland Capital and the Highland Entities to complete or clarify the information that it provided to UBS concerning the Fund Counterparties' finances, assets and business practices. Consequently, Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' concealment about the Fund Counterparties' finances, assets and business practices was fraudulent.

140. UBS reasonably and justifiably relied to its detriment on Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' misrepresentations and Omissions regarding the Fund

Counterparties' financial condition, assets and business practices. In particular, UBS reasonably and justifiably relied on misrepresentations and Omissions of facts and information solely and peculiarly within the knowledge of Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties. Given UBS's prior dealings with Highland Capital and its affiliates, as well as Highland Capital's size and presence in the market, UBS had no reason to question the veracity and completeness of the financial information that Highland Capital provided to UBS about the Fund Counterparties' finances, assets and business practices. UBS also had no reason to believe that the financial information that Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties provided to it to induce UBS to enter the Restructured Transaction would be false, incomplete or otherwise misleading. When UBS evaluated the Fund Counterparties' financial statements in early 2008,

141. But for Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' material misrepresentations and Omissions, UBS would not have entered the Agreements, or released its claims against Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties arising out of the Original Engagement.

142. In reasonable and justifiable reliance on the foregoing material misrepresentations and Omissions, UBS also surrendered and released valuable claims against Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties at a time when UBS could have been made whole for the losses that it had suffered to that point as a result of the Original Engagement. Nor would UBS have suffered the additional losses in the Warehouse Facility.

143. UBS reasonably relied to its detriment on Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' material misrepresentations and Omissions. As a direct and proximate result of Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' misrepresentations and Omissions, UBS continued to maintain the Warehouse Facility through, at least, December 3, 2008, suffering in excess of $686 million in losses that the Fund Counterparties cannot pay to UBS.

144. Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' material misrepresentations and Omissions were the direct and proximate cause of UBS's losses complained of herein. As a direct result of, and in reliance upon, Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' material misrepresentations and Omissions, UBS was induced to, among other things, (a) enter the Agreements; (b) release its pre-existing claims against Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties related to the Original Engagement; and (c) assume the credit-risk of the Fund Counterparties; and as a direct result, caused UBS to incur substantial losses and damages in an amount to be determined at trial.

THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION
(Breach of Contract Under the Cash Warehouse Agreement Against The Fund Counterparties)

145. Plaintiff UBSS repeats and realleges the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 144 of this Second Amended Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

146. The Cash Warehouse Agreement is a valid and binding contract.

147. UBSS has performed all of its obligations under the Cash Warehouse Agreement.

148. Pursuant to the Cash Warehouse Agreement, each of the Fund Counterparties was required to transfer their respective pro rata shares of additional collateral to satisfy the Third Margin Call within two business days of November 7, 2008. The Fund Counterparties failed to make the required transfer. The Fund Counterparties' failure to make such transfer is a breach under the Cash Warehouse Agreement, and resulted in a Termination Date under the Cash Warehouse Agreement.

149. In accordance with the terms of the Cash Warehouse Agreement, UBSS demanded that each of the Fund Counterparties pay to UBS their respective pro rata shares of the amount of losses on the Cash Portfolio and estimated expenses by 5 P.M. on the Final Payment Date (i.e., December 24, 2008 – the third business day after the date of the Cash Warehouse Demand Letter). The Fund Counterparties failed to pay this amount to UBSS. The failure to pay these amounts to UBSS when due under the Cash Warehouse Agreement constituted a further breach under the Cash Warehouse Agreement.

150. By reason of the foregoing, UBSS has suffered and will continue to suffer damages in an amount to be determined at trial.

FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION
(Breach of Contract Under the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement Against The Fund Counterparties)

151. Plaintiff UBS AG, repeats and realleges the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 150 of this Second Amended Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

152. The Synthetic Warehouse Agreement is a valid and binding contract.

153. UBS AG has performed all of its obligations under the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement.

154. Pursuant to the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement, each of the Fund Counterparties were required to transfer their respective pro rata shares of additional collateral to satisfy the Third Margin Call within two business days of November 7, 2008. The Fund Counterparties failed to make the requisite transfer. The failure to make such transfer resulted in a breach and a Termination Date under the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement.

155. UBS AG demanded that each of the Fund Counterparties pay to UBS AG their pro rata share of losses on the CDS Portfolio and estimated expenses by 5 P.M. on the Final Payment Date (i.e., December 24, 2008 – the third business day after the date of the Synthetic Warehouse Demand Letter). The Fund Counterparties failed to pay this amount to UBS. The failure to pay these amounts when due under the Agreements was a further breach under the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement.

156. By reason of the foregoing, UBS AG has suffered and will continue to suffer damages in an amount to be determined at trial.

157. Paragraphs 157 to 166 have been intentionally left blank.

167. UBS repeats and realleges the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 166 of this Second Amended Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

168. Between March 14, 2008 and December 3, 2008, as losses in the Warehouse Facility grew, Highland Capital exercised its control over the Fund Counterparties and caused the Fund Counterparties to transfer valuable cash and assets out of the Fund Counterparties, thereby impairing their ability to bear losses in the Warehouse Facility, and otherwise satisfy their obligations to creditors, including UBS. [REDACTED]

171.

173.

178.

179. As a result of the foregoing fraudulent conveyances, the Fund Counterparties were unable to satisfy their obligations to UBS. As a result of the foregoing fraudulent conveyances, UBS has been harmed in an amount to be determined at trial.

SIXTH CAUSE OF ACTION
(Tortious Interference With Contractual Relations Against The Affiliated Transferee Defendants)
(Pled Solely To Preserve For Appeal)

180. UBS repeats and realleges the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 179 of this Second Amended Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

181. The Agreements are valid and binding contracts.

182. The parties agreed that UBS would not bear the risk of any losses in connection with the Restructured Transaction. As a direct result of the Fund Counterparties' breach of the Warehouse Agreements, UBS suffered no less than $686,853,290.26 in damages. Under the terms of the Warehouse Agreements, the Fund Counterparties' obligation to pay UBS for losses in the Warehouse Facility expressly survived the termination of the Agreements.

183. Highland Capital knew of the Agreements, and were familiar with their terms, including the Fund Counterparties' obligations to UBS thereunder. The Affiliated Transferee Defendants, also knew of the Agreements, and their terms, including the Fund Counterparties' obligations to UBS thereunder.

184. Highland Capital and the Affiliated Transferee Defendants intentionally and improperly caused and ensured a breach of the Warehouse Agreements by the Fund Counterparties, thereby tortiously interfering with UBS's rights under the Agreements.

185. Specifically, in 2008 and 2009 Highland Capital wrongfully caused the improper and fraudulent asset transfers, payments, distributions and dividends described above, and thereby tortiously interfered with UBS's contractual relationship with the Fund Counterparties by knowingly impairing UBS's contractual right under the Warehouse Agreements to be reimbursed by the Fund Counterparties for the losses on the Warehouse Assets. For example, Highland Capital wrongfully caused the March 2009 Fraudulent Conveyance for which there was no legitimate purpose. The Affiliated Transferee Defendants

186. Highland Capital and the Affiliated Transferee Defendants

187. Highland Capital and the Affiliated Transferee Defendants engaged in the foregoing unlawful and improper conduct, and tortiously interfered with UBS's contractual rights under the Warehouse Agreements, for their own improper personal gain by knowingly violating UBS's rights and making it impossible for the Fund Counterparties to perform under the Warehouse Agreements. In particular, the foregoing conduct constitutes independent torts and predatory acts directed at UBS for Highland Capital's and the Affiliated Transferee Defendants' own personal gain.

188. As a direct and proximate result of Highland Capital's and the Affiliated Transferee Defendants' tortious interference with UBS's contractual rights under the Agreements, UBS has suffered damages in an amount to be determined at trial. Had Highland Capital and the Affiliated Transferee Defendants not tortiously interfered with UBS's contractual rights, the Fund Counterparties would have been able to make payments to UBS of the amount they owed to UBS under the Warehouse Agreements.

SEVENTH CAUSE OF ACTION
(Declaratory Judgment For General
Partner Liability Against Strand)

189. UBS repeats and realleges the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 188 of this Second Amended Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

190. A limited partnership's general partner is personally liable for the partnership obligations of the limited partnership.

191. Highland Capital is a Delaware limited partnership. Defendant Strand is Highland Capital's general partner. As such, Strand is personally liable for the liability, debts and obligations of Highland Capital, including but not limited to Highland Capital's liabilities to UBS arising out of the Consolidated Action.

192. A justiciable controversy exists as to whether Strand is liable to UBS for the injuries caused by Highland Capital complained of in the Consolidated Action as a result of Strand being Highland Capital's general partner.

EIGHTH CAUSE OF ACTION
Against Highland Financial)

193. UBS repeats and realleges the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 192 of this Second Amended Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

194. As alleged above, SOHC breached the Warehouse Agreements and otherwise harmed UBS by engaging in fraudulent misconduct. Highland Financial is SOHC's alter ego and should be held responsible and liable for SOHC's breach of the Warehouse Agreements and fraudulent misconduct.

195. SOHC is a mere instrumentality of Highland Financial. SOHC had no independence and could not exercise any business discretion whatsoever. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] SOHC did not have its own offices, officers or employees. Rather, it shared common officers, directors and employees, as well as common office space, with Highland Financial.

196. As alleged in detail above, Highland Financial completely dominated the day-to-day operations of SOHC as well as SOHC's sister-affiliates. In particular, Highland Financial operated Highland Financial and its subsidiaries, including SOHC, as a single entity, [REDACTED]

197. A justiciable controversy exists as to whether Highland Financial is liable to UBS as SOHC's alter ego for the losses and harm that UBS suffered that were caused by SOHC's breach of the Warehouse Agreements, and the fraudulent and tortious conduct complained of herein.

RELIEF DEMANDED

WHEREFORE, plaintiffs UBSS and UBS AG demand judgment:

(a) On the first cause of action, as against the Fund Counterparties, declaring that UBS was induced to enter the Agreements as a result of fraud committed by the Fund Counterparties, and awarding damages to UBS for all losses and liabilities incurred by UBS, and that UBS incurs, with respect to the Agreements and the Warehouse Facility, including, without limitation, interest, reasonable attorneys' and accountants' fees and expenses and any other losses, fees and expenses that UBS incurred or incurs, in an amount to be determined at trial but in any event, no less than $686,853,290.26;

(b) On the second cause of action, which is pled solely to preserve UBS's appellate rights, as against the Fund Counterparties, declaring that UBS was induced to enter the Agreements as a result of fraud committed by the Fund Counterparties, and awarding damages to UBS for all losses and liabilities incurred by UBS, and that UBS incurs, with respect to the Agreements and the Warehouse Facility, including, without limitation, interest, reasonable attorneys' and accountants' fees and expenses and any other losses, fees and expenses that UBS incurred or incurs, in an amount to be determined at trial but in any event, no less than $686,853,290.26;

(c) On the third cause of action, as against the Fund Counterparties, declaring that the Fund Counterparties breached the Cash Warehouse Agreement, and awarding UBS an amount to be determined at trial;

(d) On the fourth cause of action, as against the Fund Counterparties, declaring that the Fund Counterparties breached the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement, and awarding UBS an amount to be determined at trial;

(e) On the fifth cause of action, as against all defendants, (i) declaring that the dispositions of the Fund Counterparties' and Highland Financial's assets, as directed by Highland Capital, constituted fraudulent conveyances; (ii) appointing a receiver over defendants; (iii) directing that a full accounting be had of defendants' affairs and finances; (iv) imposing a constructive trust over defendants' assets until such an accounting is completed; and/or (v) awarding UBS damages in an amount to be determined at trial, but no less than the value of the assets fraudulently and improperly transferred, or, alternatively, directing that defendants and their partners, members or shareholders return to the Fund Counterparties any assets or consideration received from Highland Financial or the Fund Counterparties, directly or indirectly, as distributions, dividends, consideration, compensation, fees, interest, principal or otherwise, between March 14, 2008 and the present.

(f) On the sixth cause of action, as against the Affiliated Transferee Defendants, which is pled solely to preserve UBS's appellate rights, declaring that each of those defendants is liable for tortiously interfering with UBS's contractual rights under the Warehouse Agreements, and awarding UBS an amount to be determined at trial;

(g) On the seventh cause of action, as against defendant Strand, declaring that Strand is responsible for Highland Capital's liability and obligations arising out of the Consolidated Action;

(h) On the eighth cause of action, as against defendant Highland Financial, declaring that Highland Financial is SOHC's alter ego, and that as such, Highland Financial is responsible for SOHC's liability and obligations to UBS arising out of this action;

(i) Awarding UBS punitive damages in an amount to be determined at trial;

(j) Granting UBS its costs and disbursements, including reasonable attorneys' fees and expenses of this action;

(k) Granting UBS pre-judgment interest; and

(l) Granting such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper.

TRIAL

This action arises out of a failed restructured transaction between plaintiffs UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG, London Branch (collectively, UBS) and defendants Highland CDO Opportunity Master Fund, L.P. (CDO Fund) and Highland Special Opportunities Holding Company (SOHC) (together, the Fund Counterparties), and defendant Highland Capital Management, L.P. (Highland Capital) (together with the Fund Counterparties, Highland), for the securitization of collateralized loan obligations (CLOs) and credit default swaps (CDSs).

In April and May 2007, the parties agreed to pursue a collateralized debt obligations transaction governed by an Engagement Letter, a Synthetic Warehouse Agreement for CDSs, and a Warehouse Agreement for CLOs (Original Agreements). (DX 4, DX 5, DX 6.)<sup>3</sup> It is undisputed that UBS acted as the “financial arranger” for the transaction and was responsible for financing the acquisition of assets, which would then be held in portfolios, which the parties refer to as the Cash Warehouse and the Synthetic Warehouse or collectively as the Knox Warehouse. (Ps.’s Findings, ¶ 4; Ds.’s Findings, ¶ 5.)<sup>4</sup> Highland Capital acted as the “Servicer” and was responsible for identifying the specific CLOs to be securitized and the Reference Obligations for the CDSs to be securitized. (Ps.’s Findings, ¶¶ 3, 4; Ds.’s Findings, ¶¶ 6, 8.)

In furtherance of the transaction, UBS acquired assets with a notional value of $818 million. (Ps.’s Findings, ¶ 6; Ds.’s Findings, ¶ 5.) There were 33 CLO tranches in the Cash Warehouse, with a notional value of $174 million. UBS paid $170 or $170.5 million to acquire the CLOs because the bonds were purchased at a slight discount on their par value. (Ds.’ Findings, ¶ 6; Ps.’s Findings, ¶ 6.) The Synthetic Warehouse contained 87 credit default swaps, with a notional value of $644 million. (Ds.'s Findings, ¶ 7; Ps.'s Findings, ¶ 6.) UBS served as the protection seller on all of the CDSs. (Ps.'s Findings, ¶ 4; Ds.'s Findings, ¶ 8.) For five of the CDSs, with a notional value of $45 million, Lehman Brothers Special Financing, Inc. (Lehman) acted as the protection buyer (Lehman Swaps). (Ps.'s Findings, ¶ 8; Ds.'s Findings, ¶ 9; PX 755<sup>5</sup>, at 1.) For 20 of the CDSs, with a notional value of $124 million, UBS acted as both protection seller and protection buyer (the Internal Swaps). (Ds.'s Findings, ¶ 10; Ps.'s Findings, ¶ 9; PX 755, at 4-5.)

<sup>1</sup> By decision on the record on May 1, 2018 (NYSCEF Doc. No. 494), the court bifurcated the trial. The decision held that the breach of contract claims, which were to be heard by the court, would be determined prior to claims, including fraudulent conveyance claims, which were to be heard by a jury.

The Original Agreements expired by their terms on August 15, 2007. (PX 1, at 1.) The parties agreed to restructure the transaction, signing a new Engagement Letter, the 2008 Cash Warehouse Agreement (CWA), and the 2008 Synthetic Warehouse Agreement (SWA), as of March 14, 2008. (See PX 1, PX 2, PX 3.) As of March 14, 2008, the Knox assets had lost significant value and the parties agreed that, given the market conditions existing as of the date of the restructured transaction, it was not then feasible to sell the securities and close the transaction. (Ps.'s Findings, ¶ 20; 2008 Engagement Letter [PX 1, at 8].)

As discussed further below, the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement provided for the roll-over of the Existing Credit Default Swaps and the Existing Collateral Portfolio into the warehouses created under the 2008 restructured transaction. (See SWA, Whereas Clause 5.) Section 12 of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement provided that the Fund Counterparties would transfer additional cash and securities "to secure its obligations to UBS" under the SWA and the CWA. In particular, this Section required the Fund Counterparties to make an Initial Deposit of $20 million in cash and approximately $54 million in Eligible Securities on the date of the execution of the SWA. (Id., § 12 [A].) The SWA contained a collateral call provision under which UBS was required to track its CDS and Cash Exposure to losses, as defined under the Agreement, on a semi-monthly basis, and the Fund Counterparties were required to deposit an additional $10 million in collateral (cash and/or Eligible Securities) for every $100 million increase in the defined Deposit Threshold Exposure Amount. (Id., §§ 12 [B], [C].)

It is undisputed that, pursuant to Section 12 (C) of the SWA, UBS made a first collateral call for $10 million on September 17, 2008 (PX 4), and a second collateral call for $10 million on October 21, 2008 (PX 5), both of which were satisfied by the Fund Counterparties. (Testimony of Keith Grimaldi, Former Head of UBS's CDO Secondary Trading Desk, Trial Transcript (Tr.) at 81, 112, 119.)

On November 7, 2008, UBS issued the third, and final, collateral call to the Fund Counterparties for an additional $10 million. (PX 6.) It is undisputed that the Fund Counterparties did not meet this collateral call. (Ds.'s Findings, ¶ 17; Ps.'s Findings, ¶¶ 43-47).<sup>6</sup>

On December 3, 2008, UBS sent a notice to Highland stating that, to date, no deposits have been made in response to the November collateral call, and that "a Termination Date has occurred under the Warehouse Agreements and a termination date has occurred under the Engagement Letter." (PX 7; PX 9.) The notice further stated that "UBS is forbearing from exercising its remedies [under the Agreements] for a period of two Business Days from the date hereof in order to permit [the Fund Counterparties] to pay the Additional Deposits by 5 pm New York time on December 5, 2008." (Id.) On December 5, 2008, UBS sent an additional notice to

<sup>6</sup> It is undisputed that the Fund Counterparties offered to post CLO assets to satisfy the third collateral call and that UBS did not accept that collateral. UBS's Keith Grimaldi testified that UBS rejected the CLOs because "at that time the marketplace was declining and declining rapidly. We thought there would be more declines, so we collectively made a decision that we wanted cash or government securities ... that would be easily liquid and reflect better value." (Trial Tr. at 122.) Defendants stipulated that UBS had the right to insist on cash. (See Statement of Andrew Cruciani [Ds.'s Atty.], Trial Tr. at 1736.)

Highland stating that the Additional Deposit has not been made, and that “[c]onsequently, UBS will proceed to exercise the rights and remedies available to it under the Warehouse Agreements, the Engagement Letter, at law and otherwise.” (PX 8.)

THIRD COLLATERAL CALL

As a threshold matter, the parties dispute whether the third collateral call was proper. Highland argues that UBS should not have included the 20 Internal Swaps in calculating the Deposit Threshold Exposure Amount “because the Intradesk [i.e., Internal] Swaps were not Existing Credit Default Swaps under the SWA . . . .” (Ds.’s Findings, ¶ 28.) Highland also claims that the Lehman Swaps were not properly included in the calculation because they had been terminated prior to the third collateral call. (See id., ¶ 27.)

More particularly, Highland claims that the Internal Swaps were not Existing Credit Default Swaps because they were not documented, as allegedly required by Section 3 of the SWA, in the form of an ISDA Master Agreement and ISDA Confirmation. (Ds.’s Findings, ¶¶ 28, 30-31.) UBS does not dispute that the Internal Swaps were not documented by the ISDA Master Agreement and Confirmation, but argues that Section 3 does not require such documentation for the Internal Swaps. (Ps.’s Findings, at 24-25.)<sup>7</sup>

Resolution of this dispute involves an issue of contract interpretation. It is well settled that the determination of whether a contract is ambiguous is one of law to be resolved by the court. (Matter of Wallace v 600 Partners Co., 86 NY2d 543, 548 [1995]; W.W.W. Assocs., Inc. v Giancontieri, 77 NY2d 157, 162 [1990].) Written agreements are to be construed in accordance with the parties’ intent, and “the best evidence of what parties to a written agreement

intend is what they say in their writing.” (Schron v Troutman Sanders LLP, 20 NY3d 430, 436 [2013] [internal quotation marks, brackets, and citation omitted].) The court should determine from contractual language, without regard to extrinsic evidence, whether there is any ambiguity. (Chimart Assocs. v Paul, 66 NY2d 570, 573 [1986].) Extrinsic or parol evidence “may not be considered when the intent of the parties can be gleaned from the face of the instrument.” (Id. at 572-573.) “Extrinsic evidence of the parties’ intent may be considered only if the agreement is ambiguous. . . .” (Greenfield v Philles Records, Inc., 98 NY2d 562, 569 [2002].) “Ambiguity in a contract arises when the contract, read as a whole, fails to disclose its purpose and the parties’ intent, or where its terms are subject to more than one reasonable interpretation.” (Universal Am. Corp. v National Union Fire Ins. Co. of Pittsburgh, Pa., 25 NY3d 675, 680 [2015] [internal quotation marks and citation omitted].)

It is also well settled that a court should “construe the [contract] so as to give full meaning and effect to the material provisions. A reading of the contract should not render any portion meaningless. Further, a contract should be read as a whole, and every part will be interpreted with reference to the whole; and if possible it will be so interpreted as to give effect to its general purpose.” (Beal Sav. Bank v Sommer, 8 NY3d 318, 324-25 [2007] [internal quotation marks and citations omitted]; National Conversion Corp. v Cedar Bldg. Corp., 23 NY2d 621, 625 [1969] [holding that “[a]ll parts of an agreement are to be reconciled, if possible, in order to avoid inconsistency”].)

Applying these precepts, the court holds that the SWA is not ambiguous with respect to the requirements for documentation of CDSs, that Section 3 of the SWA only applies to CDSs in which a third party is the protection buyer, and that this Section does not require ISDA documentation for the Internal Swaps.

The SWA defines “Existing Credit Default Swap[s]” as the CDSs “that were the subject of the Original Synthetic Warehouse Agreement.” (SWA, Whereas Clause 5.) Section 3 of the SWA provides, in pertinent part:

“Form of Documentation. Each Existing Credit Default Swap between UBS, acting as Seller, and a counterparty, acting as Buyer, has been documented in the form of (i) the ISDA Master Agreement and Schedule currently in effect between UBS and the related counterparty, which documents are confidential between UBS and such counterparty and (ii) an ISDA published confirmation. . . . Each Additional Credit Default Swap between UBS, acting as Seller, and a counterparty, acting as Buyer, will be documented in the form of (i) the ISDA Master Agreement and Schedule currently in effect between UBS and the related counterparty, which documents are confidential between UBS and such counterparty and (ii) the Confirmation attached [to the SWA] . . . .”

As the Agreement that governs the securitization of Existing and Additional Credit Default Swaps, the SWA contains numerous detailed provisions regarding the accumulation and disposition of these financial instruments. Section 3, which pertains to documentation of the swaps, is the only provision in the SWA that is limited to CDSs in which UBS is the Seller and a counterparty is the Buyer. All of the other provisions of the SWA refer to CDSs without such limitation.

Moreover, like SWA Section 3, the Original SWA provided: “Each Credit Default Swap between UBS, acting as Seller, and a counterparty, acting as Buyer, will be documented in the form of (i) the ISDA Master Agreement and Schedule currently in effect between UBS and the counterparty, which documents are confidential between UBS and each counterparty and (ii) the Confirmation attached hereto. . . .” (Original SWA, § 3 [NYSCEF Doc. No. 626].) It is undisputed, however, that the Internal Swaps were included in the Original SWA portfolio but were not documented by the ISDA Master Agreement or Confirmation. It is also undisputed that the Internal Swaps were nevertheless again included in the Initial Net Exposure Amount in the SWA for the restructured transaction. (Testimony of Peter Vinella [Highland’s expert in structured financial products], Trial Tr. at 1097, 1124-1125 [acknowledging that the Internal Swaps were included in the Initial Net Exposure Amount].)

Initial Net Exposure Amount is defined in the SWA<sup>8</sup> as “111,767,486.88, being the amount by which the Aggregate Net Exposure Amount as of the date hereof [i.e., the March 14, 2008 “as of” date of the SWA] exceeds the Initial Deposit.” As defined in SWA Section 12 (A), the Initial Deposit is the deposit of approximately $74,000,000 in cash and Eligible Securities made on the date of execution of the SWA. Aggregate Net Exposure Amount is defined as the amount by which CDS Exposure and Cash Exposure, as of the date of the collateral calculation, exceed the balance on deposit in the Deposit Account plus Positive Carry with respect to each Collateral Obligation.<sup>9</sup> As discussed above, Section 12 (C) of the SWA requires a deposit of $10 million in additional collateral when the Deposit Threshold Exposure Amount is greater than or equal to $100 million. The Deposit Threshold Exposure Amount is defined in the SWA as “the amount, if any, by which (i) the Aggregate Net Exposure Amount as of [the date of the collateral calculation] exceeds (ii) the Initial Net Exposure Amount.” The Initial Net Exposure Amount, which includes the Internal Swaps, is thus integral to the calculation of the Deposit Threshold Exposure Amount.

Based on this reading of the SWA as a whole, the court concludes that the Internal Swaps were Existing Credit Default Swaps within the meaning of the SWA. The lack of ISDA documentation was therefore not a bar to their inclusion in the collateral call calculation.

The court rejects Highland’s further contention that the Internal Swaps should not have been included because there was “no economic consequence” to UBS from these swaps. (Ds.’s

Findings, ¶ 33.) The complex formula set forth in Section 12 for calculating the exposure of UBS on the assets in the warehouse that would trigger a collateral call does not contain any requirement that UBS include in the calculation only assets for which it was at risk of sustaining actual losses.<sup>10</sup>

The court further holds that, although the Internal Swaps were properly included in the third collateral call calculation, the Lehman Swaps were not. The parties do not dispute that the Lehman Swaps had been terminated based on the Event of Default that occurred upon Lehman's filing for bankruptcy on September 15, 2008. (DX 87 [UBS Default Notice].) Highland asserts, and UBS does not persuasively counter, that the Lehman Swaps should not have been included in the third collateral call. Indeed, UBS's Grimaldi forthrightly acknowledged that, given the termination, there should not have been "markdowns" on the Lehman Swaps. (Grimaldi Testimony, Trial Tr. at 297-298.).

Highland contends, based on the inclusion of the Lehman Swaps and Internal Swaps in the third collateral call calculation, that UBS "committed a prior material breach by failing to

<sup>10</sup> In view of this holding that the Internal Swaps were properly included in the collateral call calculation pursuant to the unambiguous terms of the SWA, the court has not considered parol evidence on the issue.

The court thus rejects Highland's request for a finding that UBS admitted that the SWA required ISDA documentation of the Internal Swaps. (See Ds.'s Findings, ¶¶ 30-31.) This request is based on testimony of UBS's Keith Grimaldi who, when shown Section 3 during cross-examination and asked if every CDS was required to have ISDA documentation, responded: "According to the language, yes." (Grimaldi Testimony, Trial Tr. at 262-264.) Even if this evidence were properly considered, Highland's reliance on this answer ignores that Mr. Grimaldi further testified that ISDA documentation would not be "filled out" until the assets were transferred in the securitization. (Id. at 267-270.)

The court further notes that Highland requests a finding, arguably in support of its claim that the CDSs were not Existing Credit Default Swaps, that a CDS "cannot be created with the same legal entity on both sides of the transaction. . . ." (Ds.'s Findings, ¶ 29.) Even if parol evidence were properly considered, there was substantial evidence in the record that internal swaps were common in securitizations of synthetic assets. (LeRoux Testimony, Trial Tr. at 1673-1676; (Vinella Testimony, Trial Tr. at 1158-1162 [denying that intracompany swaps are "economic transactions" but acknowledging their use in CLO securitizations].)

properly calculate the collateral call[.]” (Ds.’s Findings, ¶¶ 23, 27-28.) In support of this contention, Highland relies on the testimony of its expert Peter Vinella. According to Mr. Vinella’s own analysis, however, if the Lehman swaps are excluded from the calculation for the third collateral call, but the Internal Swaps are included, the total increase in the Deposit Threshold Exposure Amount as of November 4, 2008 is $328.62 million—an amount greater than the $300 million required to authorize the third collateral call pursuant to Section 12 of the SWA. (Vinella Testimony, Trial Tr. at 1122-1139; DX Demo. 8.) Louis Dudney, UBS’s expert in forensic accounting and damages (Trial Tr. at 824), analyzed Mr. Vinella’s testimony and confirmed, using the same numbers as Mr. Vinella, that the Deposit Threshold Exposure Amount still exceeded $300 million on November 4, 2008, after excluding the Lehman Swaps but including the Internal Swaps. (PX Demo. 20 [accepted without objection in lieu of Dudney rebuttal testimony, Trial Tr. at 1870-1871].)

Based on this credible testimony that the threshold for the collateral call was met without the Lehman Swaps, the court holds that the third collateral call did not constitute a material breach of the contract, notwithstanding UBS’s improper inclusion of the Lehman Swaps in the calculation.<sup>11</sup> (See generally Awards.Com v Kinko’s, Inc., 42 AD3d 178, 187 [1st Dept 2007], affd 14 NY3d 791, 793 [2010]; Frank Felix Assocs., Ltd. v Austin Drugs, Inc., 111 F3d 284, 289 [2d Cir 1997] [under New York law, for a breach to be material, “it must go to the root of the agreement between the parties”] [internal quotation marks and citations omitted].)

<sup>11</sup> In view of this holding that the Deposit Threshold Exposure Amount exceeded $300 million as of November 7, 2008, the court need not reach UBS’s contention that the collateral call was proper because the Deposit Threshold Exposure Amount exceeded $300 million as of December 2, 2008, prior to the termination of the transaction. (Ps.’s Findings, at 15 n 10.)

As discussed above, there is no dispute that the Fund Counterparties failed to meet the third collateral call. The court accordingly finds that the Fund Counterparties breached the SWA and turns to the issue of damages.

DAMAGES

Designation of Ineligible Securities

A critical issue in determining UBS's damages is whether UBS may recover damages for CDSs that UBS retained after its termination of the 2008 transaction, under these circumstances in which UBS did not designate the underlying reference obligations for any of the CDSs as "Ineligible Securities." Resolution of this issue requires interpretation of the SWA. Highland and UBS both contend that the SWA is unambiguous as to whether Ineligible Securities must be designated, but assert fundamentally inconsistent readings of the Agreement. (Ds.'s Findings, ¶¶ 44-49; see Ps.'s Findings, at 29 n 21.)

As held above, the determination of whether a contract is ambiguous is one of law to be resolved by the court. (Matter of Wallace, 86 NY2d at 548.) Ambiguity will be found to arise where the terms of a contract are "subject to more than one reasonable interpretation." (Universal Am. Corp., 25 NY3d at 680 [internal quotation marks and citation omitted].) As also held above, a court should construe a contract so as to give full meaning and effect to its material provisions, and should read the contract as a whole and so as not to render any portion meaningless, if possible. (See Beal Sav. Bank, 8 NY3d at 324-25.)

Sections 5 (A), 5 (B), and 6 of the SWA are relevant to the calculation of CDS damages: Section 5 (A) provides for the calculation of losses with respect to CDSs removed from the warehouse during the term of the Agreement or "otherwise pursuant to Section 6"; Section 5 (B) (2) governs the calculation of losses upon a closing; and Section 6 governs this calculation in the event of a failure to close, incorporating terms from Sections 5 (A) and 5 (B).

Section 6 provides in pertinent part:

- “(A) If the Closing Date fails to occur on or prior to the Termination Date, then UBS may, with the consent of the related counterparty, either (at the election of the Servicer; provided that notice of such election is received on or prior to the Termination Date) (i) terminate each Credit Default Swap or (ii) novate each Credit Default Swap to a third party or to the Servicer (or any Affiliate of the Servicer designated by the Servicer), in each case, on the Termination Date.
- ....
- (C) To the extent there are any CDS Losses, the CDO Fund and SOHC shall collectively be responsible for 100% of any such CDS Losses. Such CDS Losses shall be allocated between the CDO Fund and SOHC on the basis of their respective Allocation Percentages. Each of the CDO Fund and SOHC shall, after notice of the amount due from UBS, remit such amounts by wire transfer in immediately available funds to UBS within three Business Days after the Termination Date.”

CDS Losses are in turn defined in Section 5 (B) (2), the closing provision, as:

“(x) the sum of (1) the aggregate Floating Amount payments and Physical Settlement Amount payments made by UBS with respect to all of the Credit Default Swaps as to which a Floating Amount Event or a Credit Event occurred under the terms thereof, plus (2) the aggregate amount of Net Hedging Payments made by UBS with respect to all Hedging Transactions related to the Credit Default Swaps, plus (3) the aggregate Replacement Losses determined with respect to all of the Credit Default Swaps and the related Hedging Transactions that were terminated or novated or as to which the exposure was retained by UBS, in each case upon the designation of the Reference Obligation relating to such Credit Default Swap as an Ineligible Security (such amount in this clause (x), the ‘CDS Losses’) . . . .”

Relying on the requirement in the definition of CDS Losses that Reference Obligations be designated as Ineligible Securities, Highland argues that “[t]he term ‘CDS Losses’

unambiguously limits UBS's recovery for unrealized (mark-to-market) losses to securities designated as 'Ineligible Securities,' and the Court is bound to enforce the agreement pursuant to its unambiguous terms." (Ds.'s Findings, ¶ 46.) Put another way, Highland argues that UBS may recover mark-to-market losses only on CDSs that have been designated Ineligible Securities. (Id., ¶ 53.)<sup>12</sup> UBS asserts, among other things, that under Section 6, UBS may terminate, novate, or retain CDSs regardless of eligibility, that ineligibility designations are not relevant absent a closing, and that Highland's reading renders meaningless other provisions of the SWA. (Ps.'s Findings, at 29 n 21.)

Upon close reading of the SWA, the court concludes that the SWA is not ambiguous with respect to ineligibility designations and that, under Section 6, upon the failure to close UBS is entitled to retain CDSs and to recover losses for the retained CDSs, without first designating the underlying Reference Obligations as Ineligible Securities. Section 6 (A) expressly provides for UBS to terminate or novate the CDSs, and does not require UBS to first make such designation. Although Section 6 (A) does not also, by its terms, provide for UBS to retain CDSs, a reading of the contract as a whole leaves no question that UBS was not only entitled to retain the CDSs upon the failure to close, but also that it was entitled to recover losses on the retained CDSs without first designating the underlying Reference Obligations as Ineligible.<sup>13</sup>

<sup>12</sup> Highland's damages expert, Adam Warren, testified that realized losses are losses sustained where a transaction has been closed out and an actual cash payment has been made. (Warren Testimony, Trial Tr. at 1249, 1253.) He also testified that, in his opinion, there were no unrealized losses in the Synthetic Warehouse because no assets had been designated as ineligible. (Id. at 1257 ["[O]ur computation is that there are no unrealized losses in the Synthetic Warehouse because of the need to . . . create a designation of ineligible. And we saw no evidence of any Synthetic Warehouse asset being designated ineligible".])

<sup>13</sup> In its decision of defendants' motion for summary judgment, this court held that it could not determine on the record of that motion whether the SWA was ambiguous with respect to UBS's entitlement to recover losses on retained CDSs, pursuant to Section 6, without a prior designation of such assets as Ineligible Securities. (2017 NY Slip Op. 30546[U], 2017 WL 1103879, * 4-7 [Sup Ct, NY County Mar. 13 2017], aff'd 159 AD3d 512, lv dismissed 32 NY3d 1080.) With the benefit of the parties' extensive trial briefing on this issue, the court now concludes, for the reasons discussed further in the text, that the agreement is not ambiguous.

As the above-quoted definition of CDS Losses in Section 5 (B) (2) shows, this definition relates to Credit Default Swaps which, upon a closing, have been “terminated or novated or as to which the exposure was retained by UBS, in each case upon the designation of the Reference Obligation relating to such Credit Default Swap as an Ineligible Security . . . .” After setting forth the definition of CDS Losses (and CDS Gains) in the context of a closing, Section 5 (B) (2) further provides: “To the extent the Closing Date fails to occur, allocation of CDS Losses, CDS Gains and any other amounts payable hereunder will be determined in accordance with the provisions of Section 6 hereof.”

Significantly, while Section 6 (C) incorporates the defined term CDS Losses, the term CDS Losses also incorporates both the definition of Ineligible Security and the term Replacement Losses from Section 5 (A). These incorporated terms modify the definition of CDS Losses where a closing does not occur.

The definition of Ineligible Security pertains to securities that are ineligible for securitization upon a closing. The SWA thus defines Ineligible Security, in pertinent part, as “any Reference Obligation in the CDS Portfolio which has become ineligible for sale to the Issuer on the Closing Date as a result of the failure of such Reference Obligation to conform to the Eligibility Criteria as it exists at such time of determination . . . .” (SWA, Exhibit A-2 [emphasis added].)

Section 5 (A), which defines the term Replacement Losses, distinguishes between such Losses sustained during the term of the Agreement and those sustained upon termination in the event of a failure to close pursuant to Section 6. Section 5 (A) primarily addresses the removal of CDSs from the warehouse “during the term of this [the SWA] Agreement” where “a Reference Obligation or the related Credit Default Swap does not conform to the Eligibility Criteria” that must be met for securitization. This section provides that “UBS shall be entitled in good faith to designate any Reference Obligation (and the related Credit Default Swap) as an Ineligible Security and (ii) in its sole discretion to remove any such Reference Obligation (and the related Credit Default Swap) from the CDS Portfolio.” Section 5 (A), however, continues:

“To the extent any such Credit Default Swaps are terminated or novated, or at UBS’s discretion, such exposure is retained following the designation of such Reference Obligations as Ineligible Securities or otherwise pursuant to Section 6, UBS shall determine the Replacement Gain or Replacement Loss relating to such Credit Default Swaps [according to the formula that follows].”

(emphasis added). Section 5 (A) then sets forth a formula for calculating Replacement Gain and Replacement Loss, which specifically provides for such calculation not only upon termination or novation but also upon UBS’s retention of the CDSs. (SWA § 5 [A] [1] – [3].)

Section 5 (A) thus clearly contemplates that UBS may novate, terminate, or retain CDSs both during the term of the Agreement and in the event of a failure to close. The Section affords UBS the discretion to terminate, novate, or retain CDSs “pursuant to Section 6,” as distinct from its discretion to do so upon a designation of the underlying Reference Obligation as Ineligible during the term of the Agreement. Any other reading would render meaningless the Section 5 (A) provision “or otherwise pursuant to Section 6.”

Moreover, in order to reconcile all of the provisions of the SWA, the Section 5 (B) (2) definition of CDS Losses, when used in Section 6, cannot be construed as requiring a designation of Ineligible Securities. As discussed above, Ineligible Securities are defined as securities ineligible for sale at a closing. Section 5 (B) (2), which governs the calculation of losses where a closing will occur, requires the designation of Ineligible Securities to facilitate the parties’ calculation of losses on assets deemed ineligible for inclusion in the securitization that will occur upon the closing. When a closing will not occur, none of the CDSs or other assets will be securitized, and there is no need to distinguish between eligible and ineligible assets. While the definition of CDS Losses with the Ineligible Security designation requirement serves the purposes of Section 5 (B) (2) in the event of a closing, it is inconsistent with the CDS Loss calculation required in Section 6 where the closing does not occur.

Contrary to Highland's apparent contention (Ds.'s Findings, ¶ 46), a reading of the CDS Loss provision in Section 6 to permit calculation of losses on retained assets without an Ineligible Security designation does not violate the fundamental precept that a defined term in a contract must be given effect. (See generally Mionis v Bank Julius Baer & Co., 301 AD2d 104, 109 [1st Dept 2002].) Rather, the CDS Loss definition, as used in Section 6, is modified by the contractual provisions discussed above.

Although inartfully drafted, the SWA is not ambiguous. If the contract is read as a whole, and all of the provisions are given meaning, it is reasonably susceptible to only one meaning—namely, that CDS Losses for retained assets may be recovered without a designation of the underlying Reference Obligations as Ineligible Securities where, as here, the contract has been terminated before the closing.<sup>14</sup> The court accordingly holds that UBS is entitled to recover damages for the retained CDSs in the Synthetic Warehouse.<sup>15</sup>

failure to meet the third collateral call. UBS sent Highland a notice, dated December 3, 2008, stating that a Termination Date had occurred under the Warehouse Agreements but that it would forbear from exercising its remedies for two days to permit the Fund Counterparties to meet this collateral call. (PX 7.) UBS then sent a further notice to Highland, dated December 5, 2008, stating that it would exercise its remedies as the call had not been met. (PX 8.) UBS held a public auction of the assets in the Knox Warehouse on December 16, 2008. By notice dated December 19, 2008, UBS demanded payment for its claimed losses based on the results of the auction—$157,949,885.47 for the assets in the Cash Warehouse (PX 10) and $587,357,060.59 for the assets in the Synthetic Warehouse. (PX 11.) UBS also notified Highland that it elected to retain the Collateral Obligations in the Cash Warehouse. (PX 10.)

CDS Damages

Highland argues that even if the recovery of damages for the CDSs is not barred by UBS's failure to designate the Reference Obligations for the CDSs as Ineligible Securities (a claim this court has rejected above), UBS has not proved damages for these CDSs. Specifically, Highland contends that UBS did not comply with the contractual requirements for calculation of losses because its post-termination auction was untimely and otherwise improper. (Ds.'s Findings, ¶¶ 57-59.) Highland also contends that UBS's marks do not otherwise "establish a reasonable connection between the asset value and UBS's alleged damages." (Id., ¶¶ 60-65.) UBS disputes these assertions. (Ps.'s Findings, at 29-31.)

Sections 6 (C), 5 (B) (2), and 5 (A) (3) are the provisions of the SWA that govern the calculation of CDS Losses upon termination. Section 6 (C) provides in full:

"To the extent there are any CDS Losses, the CDO Fund and SOHC shall collectively be responsible for 100% of any such CDS Losses. Such CDS Losses shall be allocated between the CDO Fund and SOHC on the basis of their respective Allocation Percentages. Each of the CDO Fund and SOHC shall, after notice of the amount due from UBS, remit such amounts by wire transfer in immediately available funds to UBS within three Business Days after the Termination Date.”

As discussed above, the definition of CDS Losses in Section 5 (B) (2) includes Replacement Loss, the calculation of which is governed by Section 5 (A). With respect to Replacement Loss relating to CDSs that are retained, Section 5 (A) (3) provides in full:

“To the extent UBS retains such exposure, the Replacement Gain and Replacement Loss will be imputed based on the arithmetic average of at least three bids (or, if UBS is unable to obtain three such bids having made commercially reasonable efforts, such lesser number of bids as UBS is able to obtain) obtained by or on behalf of UBS from nationally recognized derivatives dealers in the relevant market (no more than one of which may be UBS or any of its Affiliates; provided that any such bid must be provided in good faith) to assume UBS’s position under such Credit Default Swap.”

The SWA, by its terms, thus contemplated that payment would be made within three days after the Termination Date, subject to notice from UBS. As the SWA provided for an auction to calculate the amount of the losses, it also contemplated that an auction could or would occur within that three day period.

By the terms of UBS’s notices to Highland, although a Termination Date had occurred as of December 3, UBS extended the Fund Counterparties’ time to meet the third collateral call until December 5. The court thus finds that the Fund Counterparties’ breach of the Agreements for failure to meet the third collateral call occurred on December 5. UBS did not conduct the auction to calculate the CDS Losses until December 16.

UBS’s delay of approximately 11 days in conducting the auction, while seemingly de minimis, in fact had momentous financial consequences, given that the delay occurred in the wake of the September 15, 2008 Lehman bankruptcy filing and at the height of the financial crisis. With the market spiraling downward, the CDS losses ascertained through the auction process were approximately $117 million more than the losses calculated by using UBS’s marks

on either December 3 or December 5. (PX Demo. 21; DX Demo. 12 [showing UBS and Highland marks as of December 3 and 5; PX Demo. 28 at 60 [Ps.'s Closing Statement Demonstrative Exhibit, acknowledging that CDS damages, as calculated based on the auction, exceeded the losses calculated using UBS's marks on December 3 and 5 by over $117 million].)<sup>16</sup>

UBS contends that the three day payment period was for its benefit and that it "could exercise its right to get paid after three business days without waiver." (Ps.'s Findings, at 28.) The court agrees that UBS's delay in demanding payment or holding the auction did not result in a waiver of its right to seek payment of its damages resulting from the Fund Counterparties' breach. (See SWA § 20 ["Neither the failure nor any delay on the part of any party hereto to exercise any right, remedy, power or privilege under this Agreement shall operate as a waiver hereof. . . ."].) Highland correctly contends, however, that the delayed auction could not serve as a basis for calculating UBS's damages because the results of the auction did not reflect market conditions as of the date of termination or breach. (See Ds.'s Findings, ¶ 57.)

As explained by the Court of Appeals:

"It has long been recognized that the theory underlying damages is to make good or replace the loss caused by the breach of contract. Damages are intended to return the parties to the point at which the breach arose and to place the nonbreaching party in as good a position as it would have been had the contract been performed. Thus, damages for breach of contract are ordinarily ascertained as of the date of the breach."

<sup>16</sup> At the trial, the parties stipulated to dispense with rebuttal testimony from plaintiffs' damages expert, Louis Dudney and, in lieu of such testimony, to the admission into evidence of plaintiffs' Demonstrative Exhibits 20 and 21, and defendants' Demonstrative Exhibit 12. (Trial Tr. at 1868, 1870 [Stipulation].) PX Demo. 21 and DX Demo. 12, which were prepared by Mr. Dudney, calculated damages using plaintiffs' and defendants' marks, respectively, on December 3 and 5, 2008. (Trial Tr. at 1870-1877.)

It is further settled that damages need not be proven with mathematical certainty. It is sufficient that a reasonable basis for the calculation of damages be shown. (See generally J.R. Loftus, Inc. v White, 85 NY2d 874, 877 [1995] [“While a plaintiff may recover damages when the measure of damages is unavoidably uncertain or difficult to ascertain, a reasonable connection between a plaintiff’s proof and a [] determination of damages is nevertheless necessary”]; CDO Plus Master Fund Ltd. v Wachovia Bank, N.A., No. 07 Civ. 11078 [LTS], 2011 WL 4526132, *2 [US Dist Ct SD NY, Sept. 29, 2011] [“The law of New York is clear that once the fact of damage has been established, the non-breaching party need only provide a stable foundation for a reasonable estimate [of damages]” [internal quotation marks and citations omitted, brackets in original].)

UBS’s December 16, 2008 auction cannot satisfy either of these standards because, as held above, the auction did not provide a reliable basis for determining UBS’s losses at, or even shortly after, the breach, due to the exceptional circumstances presented by the financial crisis.<sup>17</sup> The court accordingly turns to the alternative basis advanced by UBS for the calculation of damages—its marks on December 5, 2008. (Ps.’s Findings, at 29.)

It is well settled that “where the breach involves the deprivation of an item with a determinable market value, the market value at the time of the breach is the measure of damages.” (Sharma v Skaarup Ship Mgt. Corp., 916 F2d 820, 825 [2d Cir 1990], cert denied 499 US 907 [1991] [applying New York law and citing Simon v Electrospace Corp., 28 NY2d 136, 145-146 [1971], motion to amend remittitur and clarify denied 28 NY2d 809].) In accordance with the objective that the injured party be made whole, “damages for breach of contract are ordinarily ascertained as of the date of the breach.” (Brushton-Moira Cent. Sch. Dist., 91 NY2d at 261.)

UBS offered credible testimony that its December 5, 2008 marks reasonably reflected the market value of the CDSs as of the December 5 breach date. In particular, Timothy LeRoux, who at the time of the transaction was second in command to Mr. Grimaldi on the UBS trading desk (LeRoux Testimony, Trial Tr. at 1640), gave credible testimony that, in the regular course of business, the trading desk “marked to market” hundreds of CLO assets, and every week or two was required to assign values on every one of the assets, both cash and synthetic, in the Knox Warehouse. (Id. at 1724.) Mr. LeRoux also described the marking process and identified information, including public information as to offers and bids on CDSs in the marketplace, that UBS considered in developing “objective” prices. (Id. at 1727, 1745-1750.) Mr. Grimaldi also testified that, although the trading desk performed the mark-to-market valuation of the assets in the Knox Warehouse, the UBS valuation group established oversight due to the volatility of the market and “would look at other market observations and make sure that those [the trading desk marks] were in line with the marketplace.” (Grimaldi Testimony, Trial Tr. at 207-208.)

Highland does not dispute that the mark-to-market process is a methodology for determining loss in market value of retained assets. (See e.g. Testimony of Adam Warren [Highland’s damages expert], Trial Tr. at 1268-1269; Testimony of Philip Braner [Highland former executive], Trial Tr. at 469-472; Testimony of UBS’s Timothy LeRoux, Trial Tr. at 1640, 1727-1729.)

interest, because the trading group's bonuses were based on the performance of the mark-to-mark assets and the group had the incentive to inflate the value of the assets. (Ds.s' Findings, ¶¶ 61-62.) Highland makes no showing that UBS inflated the value of the CDSs or that trading groups do not routinely develop marks. Moreover, Highland's assertion that "UBS's trading group alone set the marks for the Knox Warehouse assets" (Ds.'s Findings, ¶ 62) ignores UBS's credible testimony, discussed above, that the valuation group exercised oversight in connection with the development of the marks.

Highland's further assertion that its own marks are more reliable (Ds.'s Findings, ¶ 65) is unsupported by persuasive evidence. Philip Braner, who ultimately became Chief Operating Officer of the Highland Capital Management CLO Group and COO of Highland Financial Partners (Braner Testimony, Trial Tr. at 397), testified that Highland was itself tracking marks on the assets in the Knox Warehouse (id. at 615) and had an "internal valuation team that was responsible for accumulating marks" in a process in which portfolio managers of the Highland funds participated. (See id. at 467.) While Highland appears to assert that its marks are more reliable than UBS's because they were set by a valuation team, Highland fails to show that the role of its valuation team differed in any material respect from that of the UBS valuation group that performed oversight on its trading group in the marking process.

Notably, Highland fails to explain how its methodology in setting marks was more reliable than UBS's. Adam Warren, Highland's damages expert, forthrightly testified that he was not opining on the reasonableness of any marks in this case (Warren Testimony, Trial Tr. at 1247-1248), and he did not in fact give any testimony on whether UBS's or Highland's marks were more reliable.

The evidence at trial also demonstrated that Highland, like UBS, set marks on the CDSs on an asset by asset basis from March 2008 through October 2008. While there were differences between Highland's and UBS's marks during this period, the Highland and UBS marks in the month of October were substantially similar. The difference in the marks did not escalate substantially until November 2008. (PX Demo. 9, at 4.) Mr. Dudney gave testimony, which was not disputed, that although Highland, like UBS, had been setting marks on an asset by asset basis, Highland stopped doing so as of October 2008 and, in a November 30, 2008 calculation of damages, attributed the same mark (37) to each asset. (Dudney Testimony, Trial Tr. at 883-884, 905-909, DX 116.) Highland offered no explanation for this change in methodology. Mr. Dudney, in contrast, gave plausible testimony that this use of the same mark did not make sense given the deterioration of the market. (Id. at 908.)

In sum, based on the credible evidence at the trial, the court holds that UBS has met its burden of demonstrating that its December 5, 2008 marks provide a reasonable basis, under the circumstances, for the calculation of damages at the time of the breach. In so holding, the court rejects Highland's not fully articulated contention that only an auction, and not a mark-to-market methodology, is a reliable method for calculating damages. (See Ds.'s Findings, ¶ 59.) Highland's reliance on the testimony of its damages expert, Adam Warren, in support of this contention (see id.) is misplaced. While Mr. Warren testified that CDSs are "bespoke contracts," he did not give any testimony that an auction was required to ascertain their value.

Further, as held above, the auction did not provide a reliable basis for determining UBS's damages due to the volatility of the market at the time of the auction. It bears emphasis that, although the market was also volatile at the time the December 5, 2008 marks were accumulated, Highland has not advanced an alternative, other than the non-viable auction, to the mark-to-market valuation methodology. Nor has Highland made any showing that the market value of the CDSs was not reasonably determinable as of the date of breach using the mark-to-market valuation methodology.<sup>18</sup>

The court further holds that UBS has met its burden of demonstrating the reasonableness of its calculation of damages using those marks. UBS's and Highland's experts both provided the court with calculations of damages using UBS's and Highland's marks, respectively, as of December 5, 2008. Mr. Warren confirmed that his main differences with Mr. Dudney regarding the calculation of damages for the Synthetic Warehouse were that Mr. Dudney considered it appropriate, and he did not, to include damages for unrealized CDS losses and for the 20 Internal Swaps in which UBS was both the protection seller and the protection buyer. (Warren Testimony, Trial Tr. at 1298; DX Demo. 12; PX Demo. 21; see also Dudney Testimony, Trial Tr. at 1004.)

Mr. Warren excluded from his damages calculation unrealized CDS losses for all CDSs as to which a designation of ineligibility had not been made. He testified that his basis for doing so was his understanding of the contract—i.e, his understanding that the SWA required such designation—and not industry custom. (Warren Testimony, Trial Tr. at 1281-1282.) For the reasons discussed above, this court has rejected Highland's position that the SWA should be construed as requiring ineligibility designations as a condition of the inclusion of unrealized losses on the CDSs in the calculation of damages. Also for the reasons discussed above, the court has rejected Highland's position that the losses on the Internal Swaps should not be included in this calculation.

Review of the experts' calculations shows, moreover, that when such losses are included in the calculations, the difference between Highland's and UBS's totals is substantially reduced. As previously noted, the parties stipulated to the introduction into evidence of charts prepared by Mr. Dudney comparing his and Mr. Warren's calculations of CDS damages using UBS's and Highland's marks as of December 5, 2008. Using Highland's marks, Mr. Dudney calculated CDS mark-to-market losses of $388,284,750, compared to Mr. Warren's calculation of $26,952,895—a difference of $361,331,855. (DX Demo. 12.) Using UBS's marks, Mr. Dudney calculated losses of $470,113,605, compared to Mr. Warren's calculation of $26,952,895—a difference of $443,160,710. (PX Demo. 21.)

The difference in the totals is largely due to Mr. Warren's exclusion from his calculation of all unrealized CDS losses and all losses for the Internal Swaps. (Warren Testimony, Trial Tr. at 1296-1299.) His calculation of $26,952,895 for CDS losses includes only realized CDS losses. (Id. at 1250.) According to Mr. Warren, the Internal Swaps account for $93,952,173 of the CDS damages using UBS's marks, or $68,801,027 using Highland's marks. (Id. at 1269.) Although Mr. Warren disputed UBS's entitlement to unrealized CDS losses, he performed a calculation including such losses. Using UBS's marks as of December 5, 2008, these losses totaled $355,487,606. (DX Demo. 10, at 14.) Using Highland's marks as of that date, these losses totaled $299,118,973. (Warren Testimony, Trial Tr. at 1269; DX Demo. 10, at 14.) Mr. Warren's total, using UBS's marks, for the Internal Swaps ($93,952.173) and the unrealized CDS losses ($355,487,606) was $449,439,779. (DX Demo. 10, at 14.) As stated above, Mr. Dudney's calculation of total Synthetic Warehouse losses, using UBS's December 5, 2008 marks, was $470,113,605. Given the magnitude of the damages, this disparity is not material.

The court accordingly holds that UBS incurred losses in the Synthetic Warehouse of $470,113,605 as of December 5, 2008, the date of the breach, subject to the adjustments discussed below.

CLO Damages

Highland does not dispute that unrealized losses are recoverable for the CLO assets. (Warren Testimony, Trial Tr. at 1293.) Moreover, UBS's (Mr. Dudney's) and Highland's (Mr. Warren's) calculations of the CLO losses as of December 5, 2008 are the same: Using Highland's marks, these losses were $106,157,101. (DX Demo. 12, at 2.) Using UBS's marks, the losses were $128,848,101. (PX Demo. 21.) Having concluded that UBS's damages were properly calculated based on UBS's marks as of December 5, 2008, the date of the breach, the court holds that UBS incurred losses in the Cash Warehouse of $128,848,101, subject to the adjustments discussed below.

Adjustments to Damages Calculation

In calculating the Synthetic and Cash Warehouse losses, Mr. Dudney and Mr. Warren made adjustments for the same items: carry (premiums and interest), collateral value, financing fees, and financing savings. Mr. Dudney's adjustment of $79,587,557 and Mr. Warren's adjustment of $76,632,634 did not differ materially. (PX Demo. 21.) According to Mr. Warren, the difference of approximately $3 million is due to Mr. Warren's exclusion of the Internal Swaps in calculating the carry. (Warren Testimony, Trial Tr. at 1298-1299.) As the court has held that the Internal Swaps were properly included in the damages calculation, Mr. Dudney's adjustments will be accepted.

Reducing UBS's damages by the adjustments, the court holds that UBS sustained total

OFFSETS

Offset for Post-Breach Appreciation In CDS Asset Value

A central issue in this action is whether Highland is entitled to an offset against UBS's damages for appreciation in the value of the CDSs after the breach. The parties stipulated that UBS received post-breach termination payments net of carry on the CDSs, including the Internal Swaps, in the amount of $202,223,059. (DX 491.) It is undisputed that these payments were received months and, for many of the CDSs, years after the termination of the transaction. (Ds.'s Post-Trial Memo., at 10 [acknowledging that UBS "liquidated the assets years later"]; PX 335 [spreadsheet showing termination dates for CDSs through 2011].)

Highland argues that, at the time the transaction was terminated, "frozen credit markets had created a severe mismatch between the assets' alleged market value and their actual value based on their cash flows." (Ds.'s Post-Trial Memo., at 10.) Highland further argues that UBS was able to sell these assets for hundreds of millions of dollars more than their December 2008 marks and that, while UBS is entitled to retain the sale proceeds, "it cannot ignore these monies in calculating the harm it actually suffered." (Id. at 11.) According to Highland, if disposition of the assets after the termination is not considered, UBS will receive "an enormous windfall." (Id.) UBS acknowledges that if a non-breaching party obtains a benefit "because of the breach," the benefit must be offset against the non-breaching party's damages. (Ps.'s Post-Trial Memo., at 6 [emphasis UBS's].) UBS argues, however, that the Fund Counterparties' breach was not a but for cause of the post-breach payments UBS received for the CDSs. (Id. at 7.) Rather, subsequent gains that resulted from UBS's disposition of the assets were "the result of UBS's contractual rights [to retain the assets] in the event of any termination and of its subsequent investment strategy.” (Id. at 14.) According to UBS, the Fund Counterparties’ proposed offset would deprive UBS of the benefit of the bargain and result in a windfall for the Fund Counterparties. (Id.)

As discussed above, contract damages are intended to make “good or replace the loss” caused to a party by the breach of contract and “to place the nonbreaching party in as good a position as it would have been had the contract been performed. Thus, damages for breach of contract are ordinarily ascertained as of the date of the breach.” (Brushton-Moira Cent. Sch. Dist., 91 NY2d at 261.) Further, “where the breach involves the deprivation of an item with a determinable market value, the market value at the time of the breach is the measure of damages.” (Sharma, 916 F2d at 825 [applying New York law and citing Simon, 28 NY2d at 145-146].)

The calculation of damages is also subject to the fundamental precept that where a non-breaching party acquires a “benefit or opportunity for benefit . . . because of the breach, a balance must be struck between benefit and loss” and the benefit must be offset against the non-breaching party’s damages. (Indu Craft, Inc. v Bank of Baroda, 47 F3d 490, 495 [2d Cir 1995] [applying New York law]; accord Aristocrat Leisure Ltd. v Deutsche Bank Trust Co. Americas, 727 F Supp 2d 256, 289 [SD NY 2010] [“[I]f a victim derives a benefit from the breaching party’s breach of contract, the breaching party only is responsible for the victim’s net loss”], reconsideration denied 2010 WL 3431132; Fertico Belgium S.A. v Phosphate Chemicals Export Assn., Inc., 70 NY2d 76, 84 [1987], rearg denied 70 NY2d 694 [holding, in a “cover” action governed by the Uniform Commercial Code, that “[g]ains made by the injured party on other transactions after the breach are never to be deducted from the damages that are otherwise recoverable, unless such gains could not have been made, had there been no breach”]) [quoting 5 Corbin, Contracts § 1041].)

Here, although UBS and Highland agree that any benefit derived by UBS because of the breach must be offset against its losses, neither party has cited, and the court's own research has not located, any case in which a court has considered how to apply this precept to a non-breaching party's retention of assets upon a failed securitization transaction and realization of subsequent gains. There is, however, a substantial body of law involving a breaching party's failure to deliver or purchase assets subject to fluctuations in value, in which the courts have assessed damages based on the market value of the assets at the time of breach and have declined to consider any subsequent increases or decreases in value of the assets. As discussed further below, the court concludes that these cases are inconsistent with the offset sought by Highland.

As the Second Circuit has explained in reviewing this body of law, New York courts reject damage awards "based on what 'the actual economic conditions and performance' were in light of hindsight." (Sharma, 916 F2d at 826, quoting Aroneck v Atkin, 90 AD2d 966, 967 [4th Dept 1982], lv denied 59 NY2d 601 [1983].) "They have explicitly rejected the use of subsequent changes in value or profits where they would increase an award, and where they would decrease the award." (Sharma, 916 F2d at 826 [internal citations omitted].)

In the securities context, courts have repeatedly held that the damages for failure to deliver or purchase shares of stock should be based on their market value at the time of breach, and not on any subsequent increase or decrease in their value. (Simon, 28 NY2d at 145-146 [where the seller breached a contract to deliver shares, holding: "The proper measure of damages for breach of contract is determined by the loss sustained or gain prevented at the time and place of breach. The rule is precisely the same when the breach of contract is nondelivery of shares of stock"] [internal citations omitted]; Aroneck, 90 AD2d at 967 [where the buyer breached a contract to purchase shares, holding that damages should be based on market value at the time of breach, and rejecting the buyer's theory that the "value should be based on the actual economic conditions and performance" of the company post-breach]; Emposimato v CIFIC Acquisition Corp., 89 AD3d 418, 421 [1st Dept 2011] [quoting Aroneck and citing Simon in holding that "[i]n the case of a breach of contract to sell securities, expectation damages are calculated as 'the difference between the agreed price of the shares and the fair market value at the time of the breach'"]; Oscar Gruss & Son, Inc. v Hollander, 337 F3d 186, 197 [2d Cir 2003] [following Simon and Aroneck in a case involving the defendant's breach of a contract to deliver warrants]; see also Kaminsky v Herrick Feinstein LLP, 59 AD3d 1, 11-12 [1st Dept 2008], lv denied 12 NY3d 715 [2009] [holding that damages for breach of contract to deliver shares prior to an initial public offering (IPO) should be awarded based on the value of the shares at time of the breach, not their higher value post-IPO].)

The court holds that these cases involve transactions that are analogous to (although far less complex than) the transaction at issue, and apply the same measure of damages that this court has adopted above—namely, the measure of damages based on the market value of the assets on the date of the breach. These cases accordingly govern the calculation of damages here. The court notes, moreover, that sound reasons support the application of this measure of damages without consideration of post-breach fluctuations in the value of the assets.

As the Second Circuit reasoned, a contrary rule that would permit calculation of damages at the time of trial "would be a two-edged sword, because courts would have to diminish damage awards where the value of the item decreased or where losses were encountered subsequent to the breach as well as enhance them where conditions improve. However, New York courts have expressly refused to adopt this 'wait and see' theory of damages.” (Sharma, 916 F2d at 826.) In addition, although the court does not adjust for changes in the value of the shares when calculating damages according to the date of breach measure, the parties themselves can protect against changes in value by hedging or acquiring shares in the market. As the Second Circuit further reasoned: “To be sure, uncertainties about the future and lack of perfect information may cause an asset to be under- or over-valued at any particular time. At that time, however, either party has an opportunity to hedge according to his or her judgment about the future stream of income.” (Sharma, 916 F2d at 826; see also Simon, 28 NY2d at 146 [where the seller breached a contract to deliver shares, reasoning that “[i]f plaintiff were anxious to own the shares rather than obtain their value, he was free to purchase them in the market. His cause of action should not and may not be converted into carrying a market ‘call’ or ‘warrant’ to acquire the stock on demand if the price rose above its value as reflected in his cause of action”].)

The court further holds that application of the date of breach measure of damages, without adjustments for fluctuations in the value of the assets, will serve the objective of putting UBS in the position it would have been in had the contract been performed. If the securitization had closed, UBS would have been entitled, under the express terms of the SWA, to novate to the Issuer its positions as protection seller on all of the eligible Knox CDSs. (SWA § 5 [B] [1].) As a result of the breach, UBS was forced to assume a substantial risk of loss under the CDSs that would have been novated to the Issuer had the closing occurred. As discussed above, the loss in market value of the retained CDSs as of the date of breach was determined using the mark-to-market methodology. More specifically, as confirmed by both UBS’s and Highland’s experts, the mark-to-market losses calculated as of the date of breach represent the cost to UBS to exit the CDSs—

that is, the payments to be made to third-parties so that they would take on, and UBS could extricate itself from, the risk. (Warren Testimony, Trial Tr. at 1304-1306; Dudney Testimony, Trial Tr. at 894-895.) A damage award for these mark-to-market losses will therefore compensate UBS for the exposure to risk that it would not have faced had the contract been performed.

To the extent that Highland contends that a damage award is not appropriate for these mark-to-market losses because the losses were not realized, the court rejects that contention. The damage award is appropriate, notwithstanding that the losses were not realized, because, as held above, the contract affords UBS the right of recovery for such losses. (See CDO Plus Master Fund Ltd. v Wachovia Bank, N.A., No. 07 Civ. 11078 [LTS], 2011 WL 4526132, * 2 [US Dist Ct SD NY, Sept. 29, 2011] [reasoning that, where the contractual definition of loss for the purpose of calculating damages did not require the CDS protection buyer to sustain “actual loss,” “[t]he absence of an actual loss on a Reference Obligation transaction, thus, is not a barrier to [the protection buyer’s] recovery. . .”] [emphasis in original].)

The court further holds that the record does not support Highland’s contention that UBS’s post-breach gains were realized because of the breach, and that this case therefore falls under the line of authority that requires an offset for such gains. Highland in effect contends that because UBS retained the CDSs as a result of the breach, it also realized the post-breach gains because of the breach.<sup>19</sup> That conclusion does not follow. As held

<sup>19</sup> In so holding, the court rejects UBS’s contention that it would have been entitled to retain the CDS assets, regardless of the Fund Counterparties’ breach, because the Agreements would have terminated in any event as of March 14, 2009, at which point UBS would have had the contractual right to retain the assets. (Ps.’s Post-Trial Memo., at 8.) This assertion is not only speculative but ignores that UBS did in fact acquire the right to retain the assets upon the Fund Counterparties’ breach of the Agreements as a result of their failure to meet the third collateral call. For the reasons discussed in the text, however, the court cannot accept Highland’s further contention that UBS realized gains on the retained CDSs because of the breach.

above, UBS had a contractual right to retain the CDSs upon the termination of the transaction based on the Fund Counterparties' breach of the SWA by failing to meet the collateral call. The SWA does not contain any provision that limited UBS's discretion as to when to dispose of the assets after termination. Rather, as UBS persuasively argues, the gains realized as a result of the post-breach disposition of assets were attributable not to the breach itself but to UBS's assumption of the risk of loss on the CDSs and its investment strategy as to when to dispose of them based on its assessment of the market. (See G & R Corp. v American Sec. Trust Co., 523 F2d 1164, 1175 [DC Cir 1975] [holding that while the transfer of property to the plaintiffs was caused by the defendant's breach, the profit realized by the plaintiffs from a post-breach sale was not "caused by the breach" but was "attributable to the [plaintiffs'] decision to hold [the property] until [its] condition and the market were favorable for sale"].)

Nor does Highland successfully argue that the gains realized by UBS on the post-breach disposition of the assets must be offset under general principles which require a party who suffers damages as a result of another's breach to take reasonable steps to mitigate its damages. (See Ds.'s Post-Trial Memo., at 5-9.) Highland cites cases requiring mitigation in connection with the purchase and sale of securities and transactions in other markets. (See e.g. Drummond v Morgan Stanley & Co., Inc., No. 95 Civ. 2011 [DC], 1996 WL 631723, * 2-3 [US Dist Ct SD NY, Oct. 31, 1996] [holding that where the buyer breached a contract to purchase securities, the seller must take steps to mitigate its damages by selling the securities within "a reasonable period of time"]; Saboundjian v Bank Audi (USA), 157 AD2d 278, 284-285 [1st Dept 1990] [holding that where a broker failed to execute a customer's speculative currency exchange order, the customer was required to direct execution of the trade "within a reasonable time after he learned that it had not been effected earlier"].)

These cases are inapposite, as the SWA affords UBS the contractual right to retain the securities upon the Fund Counterparties' breach. Ironically, although purporting to rely on these cases, which in fact require that the non-breaching party mitigate within a reasonable period of time, Highland argues not that UBS was required to dispose of the CDSs within a reasonable period of time after the breach but that it was required to hold them for months and, indeed, years, until the market improved. Highland thus asserts that UBS reasonably mitigated by "holding (as opposed to fire selling) fully performing interest and premium-bearing assets in the face of a dysfunctional market. . .," and that "UBS's mitigation was not only reasonable, but required by law." (Ds.'s Post-Trial Memo., at 7.) Put another way, Highland does not identify a specific date or dates by which UBS was required to mitigate. To the contrary, without citation to any legal authority, Highland argues that UBS was required to hold the assets for an indefinite period, until the market improved, to minimize its losses.

The mitigation cases provide no support for Highland's assertion that UBS's disposition, months and years after the breach, of assets that it had a contractual right to retain, constitutes mitigation.<sup>20</sup> Rather, in claiming that it is entitled to "offsets" for the post-breach gains realized by UBS, Highland appears in effect to advance a measure of damages that is patently inconsistent with the fundamental tenet of the date of breach measure of damages—namely, that a non-breaching party's damages for assets with a determinable market value must be calculated

<sup>20</sup> Nor does Highland cite any other authority that supports its claim that it is entitled to offsets for post-breach gains realized by UBS. Cases in which a party has a duty to cover (see e.g. Fertico Belgium S.A. v Phosphate Chemicals Export Assn., Inc., 70 NY2d 76, supra) are inapposite, given UBS's contractual right to retain the CDSs upon the breach. Cases in which a party is on both sides of a securities transaction are factually dissimilar. (See Aristocrat Leisure Ltd. v Deutsche Bank Trust Co. Americas, 727 F Supp 2d 256, supra [where the plaintiff company breached a contract affording the defendant bondholders the right to convert their bonds to the company's stock, and the bondholders held open existing short positions in the company's stock on which they realized post-breach gains, the company was entitled to an offset]; see also Minpeco, S.A. v Conticommodity Servs., Inc., 676 F Supp 486, 490 [SD NY 1987] [holding that the plaintiff's losses on short futures positions on silver as a result of the defendants' manipulation of the market were required to be offset by the plaintiff's profits on physical silver positions also then held by the plaintiff].)

at the date of breach, not based on hindsight, and that neither party can select the date on which the damages calculation will be most favorable to it. Thus, a non-breaching buyer cannot select the date on which the assets “had their highest value or a period of time that was profitable but that excludes periods when losses occurred.” (See Sharma, 916 F2d at 826.) Similarly, a breaching buyer cannot avoid or reduce the damages caused by its breach by invoking post-breach decreases in the value of the assets. (See id.)

The court accordingly holds that Highland’s request for an offset for UBS’s post-breach gains from the disposition of the CDSs must be denied.

Highland Capital Management, L.P. (Highland Capital) seeks judgment on its first counterclaim against plaintiff UBS Securities LLC for breach of the Cash Warehouse Agreement provision affording it the right to purchase CLO assets in the event UBS elected to retain such assets upon the termination of the Agreement. Section 5 (A) of the CWA provides that in event of failure to close, “UBS shall be authorized (but not required) to sell each Collateral Obligation then in the Warehouse Account in accordance with the Liquidation Procedures.” The Liquidation Procedures set forth in section 7 (A) of the CWA provide in pertinent part:

“If any Collateral Obligation is to be sold, UBS shall have the right to direct such sale on such terms and in such manner and at such time that it deems appropriate in its sole discretion. UBS may, in its sole discretion, elect to retain any such Collateral Obligation or to sell such Collateral Obligation to one of UBS’s Affiliates in which event, for purposes of determining Net Collateral Gain and Net Collateral Loss, such Collateral Obligation shall be deemed to have been liquidated at a price equal to its Market Value. To the extent that UBS in its sole discretion elects to retain such Collateral Obligation, the Servicer will have the right to purchase such Collateral Obligation at its Market Value.”

Section 7 (A) further provides that if UBS elects to sell CLOs upon termination, “the Servicer will have the right to bid for and purchase such Collateral Obligation at a purchase price equal to the highest third party bid received by UBS for the purchase of such Collateral Obligation.”

It is undisputed that Highland Capital notified UBS that it sought to purchase six of the CLOs with a bid price of $1.9 million and a notional value of $44 million, but that it sought to provide the funds for the purchase, and to settle the trades, in the name of one of its affiliates, CLO Value Fund. (Ds.’s Findings, ¶ 21.) UBS declined to agree to the sale to the Highland Capital affiliate. (Id.; DX 72; PX 292.)

The court is unpersuaded that a Highland Capital affiliate had the right, under the CWA, to purchase the CLOs. Section 7 (A), which governs the disposition of the CLO assets upon termination, expressly affords one UBS Affiliate the right to purchase CLOs. In contrast, this Section affords the right to purchase only to the Servicer, and not to any other Highland entity. The Servicer is defined as Highland Capital Management, L.P. (CWA, First Paragraph.) Reading the CWA as a whole, the court further finds that no other provision modifies or is inconsistent with this limitation. On the contrary, where the acts of Highland Capital’s Affiliates were implicated, the CWA expressly referred to the Affiliates. (CWA, § 13 [B] [limiting the liability of the “Servicer” “for any acts or omissions by the Servicer or any Affiliate of the Servicer, or any of their directors, officers, members, agents, equity holders [and others] under or in connection with this Agreement, or for any decrease in the value of the Collateral Portfolio . . . .”].)<sup>21</sup> The court accordingly holds that the CWA unambiguously provides that the right to purchase retained CLOs is limited, among the Highland entities, to Highland Capital.

<sup>21</sup> The parties to the transaction knew how to afford rights to purchase assets to Affiliates of the Servicer. The SWA provides that if the closing fails to occur, UBS may, with the consent of the related counterparty, novate CDSs “to a third party or to the Servicer (or any Affiliate of the Servicer designated by the Servicer). . . .” (SWA § 6 [A].) The omission from the CWA of authorization to Affiliate(s) of the Servicer to purchase CLOs is therefore notable. Moreover, Highland Capital does not claim that the concerns—regulatory and other—that are implicated in novating CDSs are comparable to those in selling CLOs.

termination right to purchase CLOs, the court rejects Highland's contention that the court should consider evidence allegedly showing that UBS and Highland Capital had a prior course of conduct in which UBS permitted Highland Capital to settle trades "at its fund level." (Ds.'s Findings, ¶¶ 80-81.) Parol evidence of course of conduct is not admissible to construe an unambiguous contract. (See e.g. Sigismondi v Queens Transit Corp., 38 AD2d 71, 73 [2d Dept 1971], aff'd no opinion 32 NY2d 745 [1973]; Evans v Famous Music Corp., 1 NY3d 452, 459 [2004].)

The court further notes that even if Highland Capital could recover on its counterclaim, the damages it seeks are not recoverable. Highland Capital seeks a finding that because the CLOs continued to perform until maturity, "it would have profited $46 million" if it had been permitted to exercise its right of first refusal to purchase the CLOs. (Ds.'s Findings, ¶ 82; DX Demo. 9.) As Highland Capital acknowledges, however, the market value of the CLOs at the time of breach was $1,934,214. (DX Demo. 9.) The measure of damages, as explained above in connection with Highland Capital's claim for offsets against UBS's damages, is the market value of the assets as of the date of breach, not the increase in their value in the indefinite future.

Offset for Unjust Enrichment

Highland Capital also seeks judgment on its second counterclaim alleging that UBS was unjustly enriched by its failure to permit Highland Capital, through its affiliate CLO Value Fund, to purchase the Collateral Obligations upon termination. This claim for unjust enrichment is not maintainable as the right to purchase is governed by contract—the CWA. (See generally Pappas v Tzolis, 20 NY3d 228, 234 [2012], rearg denied 20 NY3d 1075 [2013]; Clark-Fitzpatrick, Inc. v Long Is. R.R. Co., 70 NY2d 382, 388-389 [1987].)

Offset for Settlements with Highland Affiliates

Highland also requests an offset for settlements with three Highland Affiliates—Highland Credit Strategies Master Fund, L.P. (Credit Strategies), Highland Crusader Offshore Partners, L.P. (Crusader Offshore), and Highland Crusader Holding Corporation (Crusader Holding) (collectively, the Settling Highland Affiliates). Credit Strategies and Crusader Offshore were defendants in this action. UBS asserted its fraudulent conveyance cause of action against them as well as all of the other defendants. (Second Am Compl., Fifth Cause of Action.) Crusader Holding was a defendant in a separate complaint, which asserted a fraudulent conveyance cause of action against it. (UBS Secs. LLC v Highland Crusader Holding Corp., Sup Ct, NY County, Index No. 652646/11, Compl., First Cause of Action; Ps.'s Letters, dated July 21, 2015 [NYSCEF Doc. No. 397]; Jan. 7, 2016 [NYSCEF Doc. No. 398].) This court bifurcated the trial of this action, directing that it would first hold a bench trial on the breach of contract claims, which were triable by the court and are the subject of this decision, and that the fraudulent conveyance and other claims, which are triable by a jury, would be heard subsequently. (May 1, 2018 Decision on the Record [NYSCEF Doc. No. 494].)

The parties dispute whether the confidential settlements (DX 76 id and DX 77 id) may be considered in this action. They also dispute whether the settlements may be offset, pursuant to statute or case law, against the damages awarded by this decision to UBS against the Fund Counterparties on the breach of contract causes of action. (See Ps.'s Post-Trial Memo., at 14-21; Ds.'s Post-Trial Memo., at 15-19, 21-24.)

Even assuming, without deciding, that the damages may be subject to offset by the settlements, the determination of whether or to what extent the offset should be allowed must await determination of the jury trial. Where an offset for a settlement is sought, "the damages against which the settlement is sought to be applied should be determined so a proper comparison can be made between them and the damages covered by the settlement." (Carter v.

State of New York, 139 Misc 2d 423, 429 [Ct Cl, 1988], affd 154 AD2d 642 [2d Dept 1989];
accord Moller v North Shore Univ. Hosp., 12 F3d 13, 16 [2d Cir 1993] [applying New York
law].)

Here, Highland argues that the causes of action against the settling defendants are “wholly derivative of its breach-of-contract claims against the Fund counterparties.” (Ds.’s Post-Trial Memo., at 16.) UBS persuasively argues, in opposition, that the fraudulent conveyance causes of action seek relief in addition to compensatory damages, including imposition of a constructive trust and punitive damages. (Ps.’s Post-Trial Memo, at 22-24; Second Am. Compl., at 57-58.) Moreover, the damages, if any, that will be awarded against the Fund Counterparties and Highland Capital on the fraudulent conveyance cause of action remain to be determined at the jury trial. On this record the court accordingly cannot compare the settlements with the fraudulent conveyance damages. Nor is there any basis for the court to determine the extent to which the settlements cover the same damages, or damages that overlap with, the breach of contract damages awarded to UBS against the Fund Counterparties by this decision. The determination of the offset issue will therefore be deferred pending the jury trial. As it appears, however, that Highland may be entitled to an offset for some or all of the settlement amounts, the court will stay enforcement, to the extent of the settlement amount ($70.5 million), of the judgment to be awarded to UBS against the Fund Counterparties for the damages for breach of contract.

Conclusion

UBS is entitled to damages for $519,374,149 on the third and fourth causes of action against the Fund Counterparties for breach of the Cash Warehouse and Synthetic Warehouse Agreements. Enforcement of the judgment for this amount will be stayed up to $70.5 million, the amount of the settlements with the Settling Highland Affiliates.

ORDER

It is hereby ORDERED that the parties shall meet and confer with a view to reaching agreement on the form of the judgment, including but not limited to the Allocation Percentages of CDO Fund and SOHC, and the award of interest. If the parties are unable to reach such agreement, they shall promptly settle judgment; and it is further

ORDERED that this decision shall be filed under seal for ten business days from the date hereof to afford the parties the opportunity to confer and to advise the court as to whether there is any information in the decision which is claimed by any party to be confidential. The parties shall, within five business days of the date hereof, submit a joint letter of no more than three pages, advising the court of their positions on this issue. The letter should be accompanied by a joint copy of the decision, highlighting the portion(s) of the decision which each party claims is confidential and should be redacted in the decision that will be publicly filed; and it is further

ORDERED that the parties shall telephone the court on a conference call within five business days of the date hereof (at a specific date and time to be arranged with the Clerk of Part 60) to discuss the above confidentiality issue as well as the jury trial phase of this action. The parties should be prepared to address whether, or to what extent, the jury trial may proceed in light of Highland Capital's filing of a bankruptcy petition.<sup>22</sup>

This constitutes the decision and order of the court.

Dated: New York, New York
November 14, 2019

MARCY FRIEDMAN, J.S.C.

<sup>22</sup> By letter dated October 17, 2019 (NYSCEF Doc. No. 640), counsel (Reid Collins & Tsai LLP) for Highland Capital, the Fund Counterparties and other Highland defendants, advised the court of Highland Capital's bankruptcy filing, and represented that the automatic stay does not preclude decision of the causes of action against the Fund Counterparties or the counterclaim by Highland Capital. This letter sought to reserve defendants' position on the effect of the bankruptcy filing on subsequent proceedings in this action.

Re: Engagement of UBS Securities as Structuring and Placement Agent in Connection with Proposed Collateralized Debt Obligations Transaction

Ladies and Gentlemen:

UBS Securities LLC ("UBS Securities") and Highland Capital Management, L.P. (the "Servicer") were parties to an engagement letter dated April 20, 2007 (the "Original Engagement Letter"); UBS Securities, the Servicer, Highland CDO Opportunity Master Fund, L.P. (the "CDO Fund") and Highland Special Opportunities Holding Company ("SOHC") were parties to a cash warehouse agreement dated May 22, 2007 (the "Original Cash Warehouse Agreement"); and UBS AG, London Branch ("UBS AG"), the Servicer, the CDO Fund and SOHC were parties to a synthetic warehouse agreement dated April 12, 2007 (the "Original Synthetic Warehouse Agreement") and together with the Original Engagement Letter and the Original Cash Warehouse Agreement, the "Original Documents").

The Original Engagement Letter expired by its terms on August 15, 2007 and the Original Cash Warehouse Agreement and the Original Synthetic Warehouse Agreement expired on the same date in accordance with their respective terms.

The Servicer and UBS Securities desire to enter into this new engagement letter (together with all schedules, annexes, exhibits and attachments hereto and as amended from time to time, this "Agreement") pursuant to which UBS Securities will act in accordance with the terms of this Agreement as the financial arranger and placement agent in connection with a proposed collateralized debt obligations transaction with an anticipated aggregate issuance size of approximately U.S.$818 million in securities (or such other amount mutually agreed to in writing by the Servicer and UBS Securities) (the "Transaction").

1. The Transaction. The Transaction will involve, among other things, the formation and capitalization of a special purpose vehicle or vehicles (collectively, the "Issuer"), to be organized under the laws of a jurisdiction to be determined by UBS Securities and the Servicer, that will acquire an investment portfolio, which will be managed by the Servicer and will be comprised primarily of collateralized loan obligations ("CLOs") or credit default swaps ("CDS") referencing CLOs (collectively, the "Portfolio Investments").

The Issuer will finance its acquisition of the Portfolio Investments through the issuance of one or more classes of notes (the "Notes") and one or more classes of preferred shares or subordinated notes (the "Subordinated Notes" and together with the Notes, the "Securities"). A portion of the Portfolio Investments will be acquired or entered into prior to the date on which the Securities are issued (the "Closing Date") through one or more warehouse facilities (collectively, the "Warehouse Facility") to be arranged by UBS Securities and/or its affiliates, which will be documented in one or more separate written agreements (collectively, the "Warehouse Documents") containing terms and conditions mutually acceptable to the parties hereto and the providers of the Warehouse Facility (the "Warehouse Provider"). The assets accumulated under the Original Cash Warehouse Agreement and the Original Synthetic Warehouse Agreement and still registered in the name of UBS Securities and or its affiliates will be eligible for inclusion in the Portfolio Investments under the Warehouse Documents.

Although the Issuer's capital structure is subject to change prior to the Closing Date, it is expected that (a) the Notes will be rated by Moody's Investors Service Inc. and Standard & Poor's Rating Services, a division of The McGraw Hill Companies, Inc., or such other internationally recognized rating agencies as UBS Securities and the Servicer shall mutually agree upon in writing (collectively, the "Rating Agencies"), and will be secured by the Portfolio Investments and certain other assets of the Issuer and (b) the Subordinated Notes will be unrated, unsecured and subordinate in all respects in right of payment to the Notes.

The Securities will be offered and sold pursuant to an exemption from, or in transactions not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act of 1933 including Section 4(2) thereof and Rule 144A or Regulation S promulgated thereunder (as amended, the "Securities Act"). The Securities will qualify for exemption under the Investment Company Act of 1940 as amended (the "Investment Company Act"), pursuant to Section 3(c)(7) thereof.

Any securities purchased by the Servicer, any of its affiliates, respective directors, officers or employees, or any of their respective affiliates, directors, officers or employees thereof, SOHC or the CDO Fund (the "Highland Securities") on the Closing Date will be purchased directly from the Issuer, as described further in Section 4 below. The Securities other than the Highland Securities will be sold through UBS Securities and one or more of its affiliates to third-party investors.

2. Engagement of UBS Securities; Mutual Release. (a) The Servicer has engaged UBS Securities to act as financial arranger of the Transaction and UBS Securities will serve as sole placement agent for the Offering, pursuant to the terms of a placement agency agreement to be entered into between UBS Securities and the Issuer on UBS Securities' standard terms or on terms otherwise acceptable to UBS Securities and the Servicer. The Servicer acknowledges that UBS Securities will act as sole bookrunner, will use commercially reasonable efforts to place Securities in connection with the Transaction and will receive fees associated with its respective placement of such Securities. Other than UBS Securities, one other co-manager (the "Co-Manager") can be named by the Servicer, with the consent of UBS Securities (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld), prior to the Closing. The Servicer agrees that it shall not appoint any third party as an additional financial arranger of the Transaction or as initial purchaser or placement agent for the Offering without obtaining the UBS Securities' prior written consent to such appointment and to the terms of such third party's participation in the Transaction, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld. UBS Securities will be placed on the center of the cover of any offering document and any Co-Manager will be placed on the bottom left below UBS Securities on any offering document.

Subject to the proviso to Section 7(b), in engaging UBS Securities pursuant to this Agreement, the Servicer agrees that, it will not, directly or indirectly, solicit investors, agents, investment bankers or any other person to negotiate or consummate the Transaction, during the term hereof, without UBS Securities' prior written consent as set forth above, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld. In addition, neither the Servicer nor any of its affiliates (including managed funds and accounts over which the Servicer or its affiliates exercise investment discretion) shall participate in the marketing of any other privately placed structured finance transaction (excluding any hedge fund, private equity fund or balance sheet transaction) backed by or referencing a portfolio of greater than 35% CLO securities ("Similar Transaction"), at the same time as it is marketing the Transaction.

(b) The following services will be provided by UBS Securities in connection with its engagement hereunder:

(i) assisting the Servicer and/or the Issuer in (A) structuring and pricing the Securities, (B) preparing legal documentation related to the Offering including, without limitation, the offering memoranda (the "Offering Documents") and preliminary marketing materials (the "Marketing Materials") and together with the Offering Documents, the "Disclosure Documents") relating to the Securities, (C) establishing the Issuer, (D) appointing third-party service providers to be engaged by the Issuer in connection with the Offering (e.g. trustee, custodian, counsel, administrators and accountants), (E) procuring credit ratings on the Notes from the Rating Agencies and preparing informational materials to be used in connection therewith, (F) facilitating communications between the Servicer and potential investors regarding the Offering and (G) responding to inquiries from potential investors and negotiating with prospective investors; and

(ii) taking such incidental or related actions on behalf of the Servicer as may be appropriate, necessary or reasonable in connection with the issuance of the Securities.

It is understood that the Offering Documents and operative agreements relating to the Transaction, other than the Servicing Agreement (as defined in Section 3 below), shall be drafted by McKee Nelson LLP, counsel to the Issuer and UBS Securities, and that the Servicing Agreement shall be drafted by Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP, counsel to the Servicer.

(c) The Servicer acknowledges and agrees that, except as otherwise set forth in Section 2(a) above, UBS Securities' engagement hereunder is not an agreement by UBS Securities to purchase or place the Securities or any other securities. Any such agreement will be set forth in a placement agency agreement, as applicable, between the Issuer and UBS Securities that is in UBS Securities' customary form and that contains mutually acceptable terms and conditions.

The Servicer further acknowledges and agrees that nothing herein constitutes an agreement or commitment by or on behalf of any affiliate of UBS Securities to enter into any derivative transaction or other financing which shall be subject to agreement of documentation and any necessary internal approvals of the Servicer or UBS Securities. Any such agreement or commitment with respect to any derivative transaction or other financing by any affiliate of UBS Securities will be subject to, among other things, its internal approval processes and will be set forth in separate written agreements, which will be in such affiliate's customary form and will contain mutually acceptable terms and conditions.

(d) Each of the parties acknowledges and agrees that neither the Servicer nor UBS Securities shall have any further rights and/or obligations under the Original Engagement Letter.

(e) The Servicer, on behalf of itself and its current and former parent companies, subsidiaries, affiliates, predecessors, successors and assigns, hereby releases and forever discharges UBS Securities, including, but not limited to, any of its current and former parent companies, subsidiaries, affiliates, predecessors, successors and assigns and any of their past or present officers, directors, employees, attorneys and agents (collectively, the "UBS Released Parties") of and from any and all actions, causes of action, demands, rights, suits, debts, dues, charges, fees, costs, liabilities, complaints, claims, obligations, promises, agreements, controversies, damages and expenses of any nature whatsoever, whether in law or in equity or otherwise, whether arising under contract, tort, statute, or any other legal theory or basis of any nature whatsoever, which the Servicer and such other persons ever had, now have or may have had against the UBS Released Parties, or any of them, from the beginning of time to the date of this Agreement, whether known or unknown, suspected or unsuspected, claimed or concealed, contingent or non-contingent, asserted or not asserted, that relate to the subject matter of the Original Engagement Letter and/or the transactions contemplated thereby.

(f) UBS Securities, on behalf of itself and its respective current and former parent companies, subsidiaries, affiliates, predecessors, successors and assigns, hereby releases and forever discharges the Servicer, including, but not limited to, any of their respective current and former parent companies, subsidiaries, affiliates, predecessors, successors and assigns and any of their past or present officers, directors, employees, attorney and agents (collectively, the "Highland Released Parties") of and from any and all actions, causes of action, demands, rights, suits, debts, dues, charges, fees, costs, liabilities, complaints, claims, obligations, promises, agreements, controversies, damages and expenses of any nature whatsoever, whether in law or in equity or otherwise, whether arising under contract, tort, statute, or any other legal theory or basis of any nature whatsoever, which UBS Securities and such other persons ever had, now has or may have had against the Highland Released Parties, or any of them, from the beginning of time to the date of this Agreement, whether known or unknown, suspected or unsuspected, claimed or concealed, contingent or non-contingent, asserted or not asserted, that relate to the subject matter of the Original Engagement Letter and/or the transactions contemplated thereby.

3. The Servicer. (a) The Servicer will act as servicer for the Issuer in accordance with an agreement between the Servicer and the Issuer, which will contain terms mutually acceptable to the Servicer and UBS Securities (the "Servicing Agreement"). The services to be provided by the Servicer to the Issuer under the Servicing Agreement will include supervising, managing and directing the investment and disposition of the Portfolio Investments and other assets of the Issuer. During the term of the Warehouse Facility, the Servicer will direct the investment of the Portfolio Investments in accordance with the Warehouse Documents.

(b) As compensation for its portfolio management services with respect to the Issuer, the Servicer will be entitled to receive from the Issuer a periodic fee to be reasonably determined by agreement between UBS Securities and the Servicer on or prior to the date of pricing of the Securities, which fee will be subordinate in all respects in right of payment to the Notes and will be calculated on the aggregate par amount of the Portfolio Investments held by the Issuer and payable on each payment date of the Notes in accordance with the final documentation for the Transaction. In addition, on each payment date of the Notes once a pre-determined internal rate of return, as reasonably agreed to by the Servicer and UBS Securities, is achieved in respect of the Subordinated Notes, the Servicer will be entitled to receive from the Issuer incentive compensation, to be reasonably determined by UBS Securities and the Servicer prior to the Closing Date.

(c) UBS Securities and the Servicer agree that the CDO Fund and SOHC will in aggregate bear 100% of the risk of the Warehouse Facility in accordance with their respective Allocation Percentages (as defined in the Warehouse Documents) and otherwise in accordance with the terms of the Warehouse Documents and that, solely for U.S. federal income tax purposes, UBS Securities, the CDO Fund and SOHC will each treat the Warehouse Facility as two separate loans made by UBS Securities to the CDO Fund and SOHC.

4. Marketing and Offering of Securities. (a) The Servicer agrees to actively assist UBS Securities in completing a satisfactory preliminary marketing and offering of the Securities in such manner as UBS Securities may reasonably request from time to time, including, without limitation, (i) furnishing UBS Securities with all financial and other information regarding the Servicer, the Issuer and their respective affiliates that UBS Securities may reasonably request for inclusion in the Marketing Materials or the Offering Documents or otherwise, (ii) arranging direct contacts, both in person and by telephone, between senior management of the Servicer and prospective investors, (iii) hosting with UBS Securities road shows and "one-on-one" meetings with prospective investors in both the United States and other countries, and (iv) cooperating with UBS Securities in its negotiations with the Rating Agencies on behalf of the Servicer and the Issuer and promptly responding and providing information in response to all reasonable requests from the Issuer or UBS Securities for information under the Servicer's control and in regard to which the Servicer does not owe any duty of confidentiality to clients or otherwise to be provided to Rating Agencies.

(b) The Servicer acknowledges and agrees that UBS Securities may rely, without independent verification, upon the accuracy and completeness of all information furnished in writing by the Servicer to UBS Securities for use in connection with the Offering (collectively, the "Information") and that UBS Securities does not assume any responsibility therefor.

The Servicer warrants that the Information, including that which is contained in the Offering Documents, will not include an untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading.

The Servicer agrees that during the period of UBS Securities' engagement hereunder and, if any Securities are issued on or before the Expiration Date (as defined in Section 7 hereof), until the completion of the Offering, the Servicer shall notify UBS Securities promptly if (i) any material adverse change, or any development that may lead to a material adverse change, occurs in the business, properties, operations, financial condition or prospects of the Servicer or the Issuer or (ii) any Information furnished by the Servicer to UBS Securities is or becomes inaccurate, incomplete or misleading in any material respect.

The Servicer (and any affiliate of the Servicer that purchases Securities, including, solely for this purpose, SOHC and any affiliate of SOHC) and the CDO Fund shall be addressed on all legal opinions (other than any 10b-5 negative assurances letter) rendered to, or for the benefit of, UBS Securities or the Issuer by any counsel retained in connection with the Transaction.

UBS Securities agrees to use all non-public information relating to the Servicer provided to UBS Securities by or on behalf of the Servicer hereunder solely for the purpose of providing the services that are the subject of this Agreement and to treat all such information confidentially; provided that nothing herein shall prevent UBS Securities from disclosing any such information (i) to purchasers or prospective purchasers of the Securities in connection with the Offering, (ii) to any rating agency, (iii) pursuant to the order of any court or administrative agency or in any pending legal or administrative proceeding, (iv) pursuant to law or regulation or upon the request or demand of any regulatory authority having jurisdiction over UBS Securities or any of its affiliates, (v) to the extent that such information was or becomes publicly available other than by reason of disclosure by UBS Securities in violation of this Agreement or was or becomes available to UBS Securities or its affiliates from a source that is not known by UBS Securities to be subject to a confidentiality obligation to the Servicer, (vi) as contemplated by the provisions of Section 8, or (vii) to UBS Securities' affiliates and its and their respective employees, legal counsel, independent auditors and other experts or agents who need to know such information in connection with the Offering or any other services provided by UBS Securities or its affiliates to the Servicer and its affiliates. UBS Securities accepts responsibility for compliance by the persons referred to in clause (vii) above with the provisions of this paragraph. This undertaking by UBS Securities shall automatically terminate one year following the termination of UBS Securities' engagement hereunder.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, UBS may disclose to any and all persons, without limitation of any kind, the U.S. federal, state and local tax treatment of the securities and the Issuer, any fact that may be relevant to understanding the U.S. federal, state and local tax treatment of the securities and the Issuer, and all materials of any kind (including opinions or other tax analyses) relating to such U.S. federal, state and local tax treatment and that may be relevant to understanding such tax treatment.

(c) The Servicer shall, or shall cause one or more of its affiliates (including funds and accounts managed by it or its affiliates) or other non-affiliated persons identified by it to UBS Securities, to purchase directly from the Issuer (or in the case of any such non-affiliated person, only through UBS Securities) on the Closing Date 100% of the aggregate principal or notional amount, as applicable, of the Subordinated Notes issued on the Closing Date at a purchase price to be agreed between UBS and the Servicer prior to the Closing Date. Subject to the foregoing, the allocation of Securities to be purchased by the Servicer and/or its affiliates shall be determined by the Servicer at the time of pricing of the Securities.

(d) Completion of the Transaction shall be subject to the following conditions precedent as well as such other terms and conditions as shall be set forth in the definitive documentation for the Transaction and as may be required by UBS Securities, the Servicer, the Rating Agencies, the trustee to the Transaction, the counterparty to or provider of any credit protection, the accountants of the Issuer and/or legal counsel to the Transaction on or prior to the Closing Date:

(i) UBS Securities and its counsel shall have completed a due diligence review with respect to the Servicer (including any of the officers, directors, partners or principals thereof) and the Transaction and such due diligence review shall have been entirely satisfactory to UBS Securities and its counsel;

(ii) a preliminary version of the offering memorandum, in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to UBS Securities, the Issuer and the Servicer shall have been prepared on a timetable suitable to give UBS Securities an adequate opportunity to distribute such document to potential investors, and the final offering memorandum shall have been prepared and distributed to investors prior to the Closing Date;

(iii) UBS Securities shall have received all necessary internal approvals;

(iv) on or prior to the Closing Date, agreement shall have been reached on the final terms of the Transaction (including the terms of and ratings provided for the Notes and the composition of the initial Portfolio Investments), in each case consistent with the terms reflected in this Agreement (unless otherwise agreed by the parties hereto) and in each case to the extent not covered by the condition set forth in paragraph (vi) below;

(v) all of the definitive documentation (including any documentation relating to any credit protection with a counterparty to or other provider thereof) for the Transaction shall have been negotiated and, as may be specified by the terms thereof, entered into in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to each of UBS Securities, the Issuer and the Servicer and consistent with the terms reflected in this Agreement (unless otherwise agreed by the parties hereto and the applicable Transaction participant(s)) and containing customary provisions for financings of this nature, including appropriate conditions (not inconsistent with this Section), representations and warranties and indemnification and contribution provisions;

(vi) on or prior to the Closing Date, all necessary third party approvals and consents, including any governmental and regulatory approvals and/or consents, any comfort letter to be provided by any independent accountants and any legal opinions (as may reasonably be required by UBS Securities, the Rating Agencies, the Issuer, the Servicer, the provider of any credit protection and investors) with respect to the Transaction shall have been obtained, in form reasonably satisfactory to UBS Securities, the Servicer, the Rating Agencies, the Issuer, investors, the counterparty to any Hedge and the counterparty to or provider of any credit protection;

(vii) there shall not have occurred after the date of this Agreement and prior to the Closing Date, any material adverse change in the business, operations, financial condition or prospects of the Servicer such that it no longer has the capacity to perform its obligations hereunder or under the definitive documents for the Transaction;

(viii) there shall not have occurred after the date of incorporation thereof and prior to the Closing Date any material adverse change in the business, operations, financial condition or prospects of the Issuer;

(ix) as of the Closing Date, the Issuer shall have entered into purchase commitments for not less than the amount of Portfolio Investments that is necessary to be purchased (or committed to be purchased) by the Issuer as of the Closing Date to satisfy the Rating Agencies and other requirements as set forth in the definitive documentation. These purchase commitments must include the Portfolio Investments;

(x) there shall not exist as at the Closing Date any material breach of any of the terms of this Agreement that is not capable of being remedied or, if capable of being remedied, has not been remedied within five days of notice of the breach as provided by the party not in breach;

(xi) the Notes shall have been assigned ratings by each of the Rating Agencies at levels that are consistent with the ratings for the Securities included in the Disclosure Documents;

(xii) none of the following events shall have occurred on or prior to the Closing Date: (1) a suspension or material limitation in trading in securities generally on the New York Stock Exchange, the American Stock Exchange or the NASDAQ; (2) a general moratorium on commercial banking activities declared by either federal or New York State authorities or a material disruption in commercial banking or securities settlement or clearance services in the United States; (3) an outbreak or escalation of hostilities or acts of terrorism involving the United States or a declaration by the United States of a national emergency or war; or (4) any other calamity or crisis or any change in financial, political or economic conditions in the United States or elsewhere, if the effect of any such event specified in clause (3) or (4) in UBS' judgment makes it impracticable or inadvisable to proceed with the offering or the delivery of the Securities on the terms and in the manner contemplated in this Agreement and the Placement Agreement; and (xiii) the aggregate discounts to par on the Securities shall not exceed the Structuring and Placement Fee payable to UBS.

Nothing herein shall prevent or limit UBS Securities at its sole election from discussing and/or marketing, placing or selling any type or types of securities of any issuer or issuers or company or companies to any of UBS Securities' clients or potential clients. UBS Securities recognizes and acknowledges that the Servicer shall continue to investigate, promote and service its own or its clients structured products and any private placements. Such activities shall not constitute a breach of this Agreement save that the Servicer undertakes not to market or promote any Similar Transaction.

Each of the Servicer and UBS Securities acknowledges and agrees that, given the market conditions existing as of the date hereof for securities similar to the Securities and the rate of return desired by the Servicer on the Subordinated Notes that it is obligated hereunder to purchase (directly or through one or more affiliates), it is not currently feasible under such circumstances to sell the Securities and to close the Transaction.

5. Fees and Expenses. (a) It is agreed that on the Closing Date a portion of the proceeds from the issuance of the Securities issued on the Closing Date will be applied to pay UBS Securities or any affiliate of UBS Securities, with respect to any securities that UBS Securities, or affiliate of UBS Securities, as applicable, places as compensation for its services hereunder, a fee (the "Structuring and Placement Fee") that is equal to 1.0% of the par or notional amount of the Securities that is required for an anticipated U.S.$818,000,000 deal size. The Issuer will pay from the proceeds of the Transaction an amount equal to U.S.$150,000 to the Co-Manager, if any.

(b) In addition, it is acknowledged and agreed that the Issuer shall apply proceeds from the issuance of its Securities to pay for its reasonable out-of-pocket costs and expenses incurred by it in connection with the Transaction and to reimburse each of the Servicer and UBS Securities for its out-of-pocket costs and expenses incurred by it in connection with the Transaction, including, without limitation, the reasonable fees and disbursements of each of the Servicer's legal counsel and UBS Securities' legal counsel the Rating Agencies and the fees and expenses of any other third party necessary for the completion of the Offering, including legal counsel to the Issuer, printers, trustees, accountants and custodians; provided, however, that if the Offering is not completed (i) by reason of gross negligence, fraud or willful misconduct of any party under, or other material breach by any party of, this Agreement, then such party shall bear all the reasonable out-of-pocket costs and expenses incurred by the parties hereto and the Issuer in connection with the Transaction; (ii) if the Servicer unilaterally terminates this Agreement other than as a result of an act by UBS Securities described in clause (i) or UBS Securities unilaterally terminates this Agreement other than as a result of a Servicer Event (as defined below) or an act by the Servicer described in clause (i), then such terminating party shall bear all the reasonable out-of-pocket costs and expenses incurred by the other parties hereto and the Issuer in connection with the Transaction and (iii) for any other reason (other than the scenario described in Section 7(b) below), each party hereto agrees to split equally the reasonable fees and disbursements of the legal counsel to the Servicer and the legal counsel to UBS Securities and any fees and expenses of the Issuer or the Rating Agencies or other third parties incurred in connection with the Transaction but all other reasonable out-of-pocket cost and expenses will be paid by the party which incurs the cost or expense. The party responsible for any expenses will also be responsible for any taxes which may be due in respect of such expenses.

(c) As used above, "Servicer Event" means the Servicer shall fail to perform its material obligations under this Agreement or the Warehouse Documents in any material respect or shall breach any provision of this Agreement in any material respect.

(d) If any payment required to be made pursuant to this Agreement is to be made on a day that is not a Business Day, then such payment shall be made on the next following Business Day. As used herein, "Business Day" means any day of the year other than a Saturday, Sunday or other day on which commercial banking institutions in New York City, in London or, solely to the extent any action is to be taken in the Cayman Islands, in the Cayman Islands, are authorized or obligated by law, regulation or executive order to be closed.

6. Indemnification and Contribution. The parties hereto agree to the provisions set forth in Schedule I hereto, which provisions are incorporated by reference herein and constitute a part hereof.

7. Termination and Survival. (a) UBS Securities' engagement hereunder shall terminate automatically on the earlier of (i) March 14, 2009 (the "Expiration Date") and (ii) the termination date of the Warehouse Documents, without notice or other action by any of the parties, except that if any Securities are issued on or before the Expiration Date, then UBS Securities' engagement hereunder shall terminate upon the completion of the Offering; provided that either party hereto may terminate UBS Securities' engagement hereunder at any time upon written notice to the other party without any liability or continuing obligation of either party to the other, except as otherwise expressly provided herein; and provided further that if termination of the Warehouse Documents is extended beyond the Expiration Date, then the Expiration Date shall automatically be extended to the termination date of the Warehouse Documents. Notwithstanding the foregoing or anything to the contrary herein this Section 7 (Termination and Survival), the provisions of Section 2 (Engagement of UBS Securities; Mutual Release) related to release of liability, Section 4 (Marketing and Offering of Securities) related to confidentiality of non-public information, Section 5 (Fees and Expenses), Section 6 (Indemnification and Contribution), Section 8 (Certain Matters Relating to Engagement), Section 10 (Governing Law, Waiver of Jury Trial and Submission to Jurisdiction) and Section 11 (Miscellaneous) will survive any termination of this Agreement or the termination of UBS Securities' engagement hereunder (whether as a result of the completion of the Offering or otherwise). Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, no termination of this Agreement by either party will result in the automatic termination of the Warehouse Documents, unless (i) the Servicer unilaterally terminates this Agreement by written notice to UBS Securities other than as a result of a material breach by UBS Securities of this Agreement or gross negligence, fraud (as evidenced by an indictment) or willful misconduct of UBS Securities related to its duties hereunder (a "UBS Termination Event") or (ii) UBS Securities unilaterally terminates this Agreement by written notice to the Servicer as a result of the Servicer's failure to (a) purchase Subordinated Notes in accordance with Section 4(c) or (b) pay fees and expenses due and payable to UBS Securities pursuant to Section 5(b) or Section 7(b).

(b) The Servicer further agrees that if (i) it terminates UBS Securities' engagement hereunder or determines not to proceed with the Transaction, in either case, prior to the Expiration Date and for any reason other than a UBS Termination Event), (ii) no Securities are issued and (iii) it or any of its affiliates performs the services of the Servicer described herein or any similar services for any Similar Transaction during the 90-day period following such termination or determination not to proceed, then UBS Securities shall be entitled to payment by the Servicer of (x) any out-of-pocket costs and expenses borne by UBS Securities in connection with the Transaction (including, but not limited to, any such reasonable out-of-pocket costs and expenses of the Issuer borne by UBS Securities) and (y) as consideration for its services hereunder, the fees that UBS Securities would have been entitled to under Section 5 had the Closing Date occurred and the Securities been issued, calculated based on the actual par or notional amount of securities issued in such Similar Transaction, which amount shall in no event be less than the Structuring and Placement Fee; provided, however, that if the Transaction is not completed for failure to satisfy the conditions precedent in Sections 4(d)(xii) and (xiii), the Servicer shall be permitted to engage any other person to consummate the Transaction and the provisions of this Section 7(b) shall not then apply and UBS Securities shall be responsible only for its own out-of-pocket costs and expenses.

8. Certain Matters Relating to Engagement. (a) The Servicer acknowledges that UBS Securities has been retained solely to provide the services set forth herein. In rendering such services, UBS Securities' shall act as an independent contractor, and any duties of UBS Securities arising out of its engagement hereunder shall be owed solely to the Servicer. In trading and brokerage activities, as well as providing investment banking, asset management, financing and financial advisory services and other commercial and investment banking products and services to a wide range of corporations and individuals. In the ordinary course of its trading, brokerage, asset management and financing activities, UBS Securities and its affiliates may at any time hold long or short positions, and may trade or otherwise effect transactions, for its own account or the other accounts of customers, in debt or equity securities or senior loans of persons or entities that may be involved in the transactions contemplated hereby (including, without limitation, obligors under proposed or actual Portfolio Investments). UBS Securities and its affiliates recognize its responsibility for compliance with federal securities laws in connection with such activities.

(b) In addition, UBS Securities and its affiliates may have and may in the future have investment and commercial banking, trust and other relationships with parties other than the Servicer, which parties may have interests with respect to the transactions contemplated hereby (including, without limitation, obligors under proposed or actual Portfolio Investments). Although UBS Securities and its affiliates in the course of such other relationships may acquire information about such other parties, UBS Securities and its affiliates shall have no obligation to disclose such information, or the fact that UBS Securities and its affiliates is in possession of such information, to the Servicer or to use such information on its behalf. Furthermore, UBS Securities and its affiliates may have fiduciary or other relationships whereby UBS Securities and its affiliates may exercise voting power over securities of various persons, which securities may from time to time include securities of persons or entities that may be involved in the transactions contemplated hereby (including, without limitation, obligors under proposed or actual Portfolio Investments). The Servicer acknowledges that UBS Securities and its affiliates may exercise such powers and otherwise perform its functions in connection with such fiduciary or other relationships without regard to its relationship to the Servicer.

10. Governing Law, Waiver of Jury Trial and Submission to Jurisdiction.

(a) This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of New York State without regard to its conflicts of law principles.

(b) Each of the parties hereto irrevocably agree that any state or federal court sitting in The City of New York, New York shall have exclusive jurisdiction to hear and determine any suit, action or proceedings, and to settle any disputes, which may arise out of or in connection with this Agreement (respectively "Proceedings" and "Disputes") and, for such purposes, irrevocably submits to the exclusive jurisdiction of such courts. Each of the parties hereto irrevocably waive any objection which it might now or hereafter have to any state and federal courts sitting in The City of New York, New York being nominated as the forum to hear and determine any Proceedings and to settle any Disputes and agrees not to claim that any such court is not a convenient or appropriate forum. ANY RIGHT TO TRIAL BY JURY WITH RESPECT TO ANY SUCH DISPUTE OR PROCEEDING IS EXPRESSLY AND IRREVOCABLY WAIVED.

11. Miscellaneous. This Agreement and the Warehouse Documents contain the entire agreement between the parties hereto relating to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all oral statements and prior writings with respect thereto. This Agreement may not be amended or modified except by a writing executed by each of the parties hereto. Section headings herein are for convenience only and are not a part of this Agreement. This Agreement is solely for the benefit of the parties hereto, and no other person (except for indemnified persons to the extent set forth in Schedule I hereto, UBS AG and affiliates of UBS Securities as provided in Section 8(a)) shall acquire or have any rights under or by virtue of this Agreement. This Agreement may not be assigned by either party hereto without the other party's prior written consent. Neither party hereto shall be responsible or have any liability to any other party for any indirect, special or consequential damages arising out of or in connection with this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby, even if advised of the possibility thereof.

This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, each of which will be deemed an original, but all of which taken together will constitute one and the same instrument.

If the foregoing correctly sets forth our understanding, please so indicate by executing this letter, together with the enclosed duplicate originals, in the place indicated and returning two of these originals for our files.

SCHEDULE I

In connection with the engagement of UBS Securities, the Servicer hereby agrees to indemnify and hold harmless UBS Securities, its affiliates, and each of UBS Securities' and such affiliates' respective officers, directors, agents, employees and controlling persons (each of the foregoing, including UBS Securities, being hereinafter referred to as an "UBS Indemnified Party") from and against any and all losses, costs, claims, damages, liabilities expenses (including reasonable fees, disbursements and other charges of counsel), actions, proceedings, arbitrations or investigations (regardless of whether any of such UBS Indemnified Parties is a party thereto), or threats thereof, based upon, relating to, arising out of or in connection with (i) any breach or alleged breach by the Servicer (or any of its affiliates) of any agreement, representation, covenant or warranty in the Agreement or the Servicing Agreement; or (ii) any untrue statement or alleged untrue statement of a material fact contained in any prospectus, offering memorandum or other written material delivered to prospective purchasers of any Securities, in each case, including but not limited to any amendments or supplements thereto and including but not limited to any documents deemed to be incorporated in any such documents by reference (the "Offering Materials"), or any omission or alleged omission to state therein a material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading, but only to the extent such untrue statement or alleged untrue statement or omission or alleged omission is made in reliance upon and in conformity with any written information relating to the Servicer delivered by or on behalf of the Servicer to the Issuer, its agents or UBS Securities expressly for use in the Offering Materials. In connection with the Servicer's obligation to indemnify for expenses as set forth above, it further agrees to reimburse each UBS Indemnified Party for (without duplication) all such expenses (including reasonable fees, disbursements and other charges of counsel) as they are incurred by such UBS Indemnified Party.

UBS Securities hereby agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Servicer, and each of its respective affiliates, and the Servicer's and such affiliates' respective officers, directors, agents, employees and controlling persons (each of the foregoing, including the Servicer, being hereinafter referred to as a "Servicer Indemnified Party") from and against any and all losses, costs, claims, damages, liabilities expenses (including reasonable fees, disbursements and other charges of counsel), actions, proceedings, arbitrations or investigations (regardless of whether any of such Servicer Indemnified Parties is a party thereto), or threats thereof, based upon, relating to, arising out of or in connection with any untrue statement or alleged untrue statement of a material fact contained in the Offering Materials, or any omission or alleged omission to state therein a material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading but only to the extent such untrue statement or alleged untrue statement or omission or alleged omission is made in reliance upon and in conformity with any written information relating to UBS Securities delivered by or on behalf of UBS Securities to the Issuer or its agents expressly for use in the Offering Materials. In connection with UBS Securities' obligation to indemnify for expenses as set forth above, it further agree to reimburse each Servicer Indemnified Party for (without duplication) all such expenses (including reasonable fees, disbursements and other charges of counsel) as they are incurred by such Servicer Indemnified Party. (The Servicer Indemnified Party and UBS Securities Indemnified Party being hereinafter referred to collectively as the "Indemnified Parties" and individually, as an "Indemnified Party.")

In case any proceeding (including any governmental investigation) shall be instituted involving an Indemnified Party, such Indemnified Party shall promptly notify in writing the Servicer (the "Servicer Indemnifying Party"), in the case such Indemnified Party is a UBS Indemnified Person, or UBS Securities (the "UBS Indemnifying Party"), in the case such Indemnified Party is a Servicer Indemnified Party (the Servicer Indemnifying Parties and UBS Indemnifying Parties being hereinafter referred to collectively as the "Indemnifying Parties" and individually, as an "Indemnifying Party") (provided that the failure to give such notice to an Indemnifying Party hereunder shall not relieve such Indemnifying Party from any liability such Indemnifying Party has hereunder unless and only to the extent that such Indemnifying Party is materially prejudiced thereby), and the applicable Indemnifying Party shall have the right, exercisable by giving written notice to such Indemnified Party, within 30 days of receipt of such written notice from such Indemnified Party of such proceeding, to retain counsel reasonably satisfactory to such Indemnified Party to represent such Indemnified Party and any others that the Servicer, in the case such Indemnified Party is a Servicer Indemnified Party, or UBS Securities, in the case such Indemnified Party is a UBS Indemnified Party, may designate in such proceeding and shall pay the reasonable fees and disbursements of such counsel related to such proceeding. In any such proceeding, such Indemnified Party shall have the right to retain its own counsel and to participate in the defense of the proceeding, but the fees and expenses of such counsel shall be at the expense of such Indemnified Party unless (i) the Servicer, in the case such Indemnified Party is a UBS Indemnified Party, and UBS Securities, in the case such Indemnified Party is a Servicer Indemnified Party, and such Indemnified Party shall have mutually agreed in writing to the retention of such counsel, (ii) the use of counsel chosen by the applicable Indemnifying Party to represent such Indemnified Party would present such counsel with a conflict of interest or (iii) the named parties to any such proceeding (including any impleaded parties) include the Servicer, in the case such Indemnified Party is a UBS Indemnified Party, or UBS Securities, in the case such Indemnified Party is a Servicer Indemnified Party, and such Indemnified Party, and (A) such Indemnified Party has been advised by counsel that representation of both parties by the same counsel would be inappropriate due to actual or potential differing interests between them or (B) such Indemnified Party has reasonably concluded (based on advice of counsel to such Indemnified Party) that there may be legal defenses available to it or other indemnified parties that are different from or in addition to those available to the applicable Indemnifying Party. It is understood that the Servicer, with respect to a UBS Indemnified Party, and UBS Securities, with respect to a Servicer Indemnified Party, shall not, in connection with any proceeding or related proceedings in the same jurisdiction, be liable for the fees and expenses of more than one separate firm (in addition to any local counsel) for all such UBS Indemnified Parties in the case of the Servicer and for all Servicer Indemnified Parties, in the case of UBS Securities, and that all such reasonable fees and expenses shall be reimbursed as they are incurred and paid.

Neither Indemnifying Party shall be liable for any settlement of any proceeding without its written consent, but if settled with such consent or if there be a final judgment for the plaintiff, the Servicer in the case of a UBS Indemnified Party and UBS Securities in the case of a Servicer Indemnified Party agrees, subject to the limitations set forth in this Schedule I, to indemnify such Indemnified Party from and against any loss or liability by reason of such settlement or judgment. Notwithstanding the foregoing sentence, if at any time an Indemnified Party shall have requested an Indemnifying Party to reimburse such Indemnified Party for fees and expenses of counsel as contemplated by this Schedule I, then such Indemnifying Party agrees that it shall be liable for any settlement of any proceeding effected without its written consent if (i) such

The Servicer and UBS Securities agree that it would not be just and equitable if contribution pursuant to this Schedule I were determined by pro rata allocation or any other method of allocation that does not take account of the equitable considerations referred to in the immediately preceding paragraph. The amount paid or payable by an Indemnified Party as a result of the losses, claims, damages and liabilities referred to in the immediately preceding paragraph shall be deemed to include, subject to limitations set forth above, any legal or other expenses incurred in connection with investigating or defending any such action or claim. Notwithstanding any of the provisions of this Schedule I, in no event shall UBS Securities' aggregate contribution to the amount paid or payable exceed the aggregate amount of the fees actually received by UBS Securities under the Agreement and the Transaction contemplated herein.

Capitalized terms used but not defined in this Schedule I have the meanings assigned to such terms in the Agreement.

CASH WAREHOUSE AGREEMENT

WAREHOUSE AGREEMENT dated as of March 14, 2008 (this "Agreement"), among UBS Securities LLC ("UBS"), Highland CDO Opportunity Master Fund, L.P. (the "CDO Fund"), Highland Special Opportunities Holding Company ("SOHC") and Highland Capital Management, L.P. (the "Company") in its capacity as Servicer (the "Servicer").

RECITALS

WHEREAS, UBS and the Company were parties to an engagement letter dated April 20, 2007 (the "Original Engagement Letter"), UBS, the Servicer and SOHC were parties to a warehouse agreement dated May 22, 2007 (the "Original Cash Warehouse Agreement") and UBS AG, London Branch ("UBS AG"), the Servicer and SOHC were parties to a Synthetic Warehouse Agreement dated April 12, 2007 (the "Original Synthetic Warehouse Agreement") and together with the Original Engagement Letter and the Original Cash Warehouse Agreement, the "Original Documents").

WHEREAS, pursuant to the terms of the Original Documents, UBS AG agreed to act as seller with respect to the portfolio of credit default swaps selected by the Servicer and UBS agreed to purchase collateral debt securities selected by the Servicer.

WHEREAS, the Original Engagement Letter expired on August 15, 2007 and the Original Cash Warehouse Agreement and the Original Synthetic Warehouse Agreement expired in accordance with their terms.

WHEREAS, pursuant to an engagement letter dated March 14, 2008 (as amended from time to time, the "Engagement Letter"), between UBS and the Company, UBS has been engaged to act as exclusive financial arranger and placement agent with respect to, among other things, (a) the structuring of several classes of debt securities (collectively, the "Notes") and one or more classes of equity securities or subordinated notes (collectively, the "Subordinated Notes") and, along with the Notes, collectively, the "CDO Securities") to be issued by one or more newly formed special purpose entities (collectively, the "Issuer") in a collateralized debt obligation transaction (the "Transaction") and (b) the marketing and placement of the CDO Securities.

WHEREAS, each of the Servicer, SOHC, the CDO Fund and the Company desires that UBS AG warehouse the portfolio of credit default swaps (each an "Existing Credit Default Swap") and that UBS warehouse the collateral obligations (each an "Existing Collateral Obligation") and, collectively, the "Existing Collateral Portfolio") that were the subject of the Original Synthetic Warehouse Agreement and the Original Cash Warehouse Agreement, respectively, on the terms set forth herein and in the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement dated as of even date herewith (the "New Synthetic Warehouse Agreement") among UBS AG, the Servicer, the CDO Fund and SOHC.

WHEREAS, each of the Servicer, SOHC, the CDO Fund and the Company desires that UBS AG warehouse additional portfolio of credit default swaps referencing collateralized loan obligations ("CLO Securities") pursuant to the terms of the New Synthetic Warehouse Agreement (such swaps, the "Additional Credit Default Swaps" and such CLO Securities, the "Reference Obligations"). The Additional Credit Default Swaps and the Existing Credit Default Swaps are collectively referred to as the "Credit Default Swaps." The portfolio of Additional Credit Default Swaps, together with the Existing Credit Default Swaps, is herein called the "CDS Portfolio."

WHEREAS, each of the Servicer, SOHC, the CDO Fund and the Company desires that UBS warehouse additional CLO Securities that otherwise satisfy the Eligibility Criteria set forth in Annex A hereto (such collateral obligations, the "Additional Collateral Obligations" and together with the Existing Collateral Obligations, the "Collateral Obligations") pursuant to the terms of this Agreement. The portfolio of Additional Collateral Obligations, together with the Existing Collateral Obligations, is herein referred to as the "Collateral Portfolio."

WHEREAS, the CDO Securities will be secured or backed by the CDS Portfolio and the Collateral Portfolio and certain other assets of the Issuer.

WHEREAS, in order to facilitate the Issuer's purchase of the Collateral Portfolio on the Closing Date, the Company has requested UBS, and UBS has agreed, to acquire and warehouse the Collateral Portfolio on the terms and conditions set forth herein.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual agreements set forth herein and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and adequacy of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto agree as follows:

1. Definitions. Capitalized terms used herein and not otherwise defined herein, including in Exhibit A, shall have the meanings set forth in the New Synthetic Warehouse Agreement. Words importing the singular number shall include the plural number and vice versa.
2. Accumulation, Holding and Hedging of Collateral Obligations; Servicer Duties.
  - (A) Accumulation of Collateral Obligations. Each of the Existing Collateral Obligations identified on Schedule 1 attached hereto shall be deemed to be acquired by UBS pursuant to this Agreement on the date hereof at the price at which UBS acquired such Existing Collateral Obligation under the Original Cash Warehouse Agreement (net of all payments of principal received by UBS on or prior to the date hereof in respect thereof) and UBS shall deposit or otherwise cause such Collateral Obligation to be credited to the Warehouse Account on the date hereof. During the Accumulation Period, the Servicer will select each Additional Collateral Obligation to be included in the Collateral Portfolio and, at least three Business Days' prior to committing the Issuer to purchase such Collateral Obligation, will provide notice (a "Purchase Request") to UBS of the identity of such Collateral Obligation and the price at which UBS shall purchase such Collateral Obligation (the "Offer Price"). Subject to the immediately succeeding sentence and the satisfaction of the conditions set forth in Section 3 hereof, UBS shall purchase any Additional Collateral Obligation identified by the Servicer at a price no greater than the Offer Price (or such other price as UBS and the Servicer may mutually agree to). The Servicer shall provide UBS (or any of its Affiliates) the opportunity to offer for sale any security for inclusion as a Collateral Obligation in the Collateral Portfolio at a price that is mutually agreed upon by UBS and the Servicer; provided that the Servicer is not obligated to purchase any such security.

- (B) Hedging of Collateral Obligations. After consultation with the Servicer, UBS (or any of its Affiliates) may enter into a Hedging Transaction in respect of any one or a group of Collateral Obligations held in the Warehouse Account. UBS (or its Affiliates) may terminate, in part or in whole, or amend any such Hedging Transaction upon the liquidation of the related Collateral Obligation or, after consultation with the Servicer, at any other time. In addition, on the Pricing Date or on any other date determined by UBS in its reasonable discretion, UBS shall (i) terminate any Hedging Transactions in respect of any Collateral Obligations, and (ii) assist the Servicer in arranging for the Issuer to enter into an interest rate hedging agreement for the account of the Issuer with respect to the portfolio of Collateral Obligations to be acquired by the Issuer on the Closing Date. UBS (or the relevant Affiliate) will provide the Servicer with copies of each Hedging Transaction confirmation; provided, however, that the identity of the related swap counterparty shall be disclosed only to the extent such counterparty thereto provides its prior written consent thereto.
- (C) Limit on Amount of Collateral Obligations. The sum of the aggregate par amount of the CLO Securities in the Collateral Portfolio and the aggregate notional amount of the Credit Default Swaps in the CDS Portfolio (the "Aggregate Portfolio Balance") shall not exceed $817,940,000 (or such other amount as the parties hereto may otherwise agree in writing).
- (D) Holding Collateral Obligations. UBS shall hold all Collateral Obligations in the Warehouse Account pending the sale or liquidation of such Collateral Obligations pursuant to Sections 4, 5 or 6 hereof. With respect to each Collateral Obligation held in the Warehouse Account, UBS shall, until conveyed, transferred or sold to the Issuer or otherwise conveyed in accordance with this Agreement, be entitled, subject to the provisions of Sections 4, 5 and 6 hereof, to (1) receive and retain any and all proceeds (including, without limitation, any principal, interest and other payments) on such Collateral Obligation; provided that within three Business Days following the end of the related Carry Period, UBS shall deposit any Positive Carry with respect to such Collateral Obligation into the Deposit Account; (2) following consultation with the Servicer, exercise any and all other rights (including without limitation, voting and exchange rights) with respect to such Collateral Obligation and (3) rehypothecate, or otherwise transfer or hedge the credit or other risk associated with, such Collateral Obligation.
- (E) Eligibility Criteria. The Servicer shall not issue any Purchase Request to UBS in connection with the purchase of a Collateral Obligation hereunder that it knows or (consistent with the customary standards, policies and procedures followed by institutional managers of national standing relating to assets of the nature and character of the Collateral Portfolio) should have known that if (A) any of the Eligibility Criteria will not be satisfied by such Collateral Obligation or by the Collateral Portfolio immediately after giving effect to such purchase or (B) the acquisition and ownership of such Collateral Obligation by the Issuer would cause the Issuer to be engaged in a trade or business within the United States for United States Federal income tax purposes (provided that the Servicer shall be deemed to comply with this clause (B) to the extent it complies with the procedures set forth in Annex B).

- (F) Notice of Ineligibility. The Servicer shall notify UBS promptly if at any time during the term of this Agreement it becomes aware that a Collateral Obligation does not conform to the Eligibility Criteria, as applicable. At any time during the Accumulation Period, UBS shall be entitled, in good faith to designate any Collateral Obligation as an Ineligible Security and, in its sole discretion, to remove any Ineligible Security from the Collateral Portfolio following such designation, subject to Section 4.
3. Conditions to Accumulation. The obligation of UBS to acquire any Collateral Obligation for inclusion in the Warehouse Account in accordance with Section 2 hereof is subject to the satisfaction of the following conditions:
- (A) with respect to any Collateral Obligation proposed for inclusion in the Warehouse Account, (i) UBS is satisfied, in its sole discretion, that such Collateral Obligation satisfies the Eligibility Criteria and (ii) UBS shall have given prior consent, in its sole discretion, to the acquisition of such Collateral Obligation;
- (B) in the case of any Collateral Obligation to be acquired by UBS prior to the Pricing Date, UBS is satisfied in its reasonable discretion that the risk of depreciation in Market Value of such Collateral Obligation by reason of an increase in interest rates during the Carry Period for such Collateral Obligation is hedged pursuant to one or more Hedging Transactions or does not require hedging; and
- (C) the CDO Fund and SOHC shall collectively have deposited in the Deposit Account, the Initial Deposit and any required Additional Deposit in accordance with the terms of the New Synthetic Warehouse Agreement on the date hereof.
4. Sale of Collateral Obligations in Connection with the Closing Date or During the Accumulation Period.
- (A) If the Closing Date occurs on or prior to the Termination Date, UBS (or its Affiliate) shall enter into the Forward Sale Agreement with the Issuer at least three days prior to the Closing Date and, with respect to each Collateral Obligation held in the Warehouse Account (other than a Collateral Obligation determined to be an Ineligible Security pursuant to Section 6 hereof), a Forward Sale Transaction pursuant to which it shall sell such Collateral Obligation to the Issuer on the Closing Date in exchange for the payment to it by the Issuer of an amount equal to the related Issuer Purchase Price in immediately available funds.

- (B) At any time during the Accumulation Period, any Ineligible Security may be liquidated by UBS in its sole discretion in accordance with Section 6 and Section 7.
- (C) If a Net Collateral Loss is determined in connection with any sale or liquidation of Collateral Obligations under clause (A) or (B) above, such Net Collateral Loss shall be allocated between the CDO Fund and SOHC on the basis of their respective Allocation Percentages.
- (D) If a Net Collateral Gain is determined in connection with any sale or liquidation of Collateral Obligations under clause (A) or (B) above, such Net Collateral Gain shall be allocated between the CDO Fund and SOHC on the basis of their respective Allocation Percentages.
- (E) If the Closing Date occurs, UBS shall be entitled to retain for its own account an aggregate amount equal to (i) the sum of its Financing Costs with respect to each Collateral Obligation plus (ii) (A) the sum of the Issuer Purchase Price with respect to each Collateral Obligation minus (B) the sum of all accrued and unpaid interest (other than Purchase Accrued Interest) with respect to each such Collateral Obligation, and, subject to Section 5(C), the CDO Fund and SOHC shall be entitled to receive any Positive Carry with respect to each Collateral Obligation, allocated to each of them based on their respective Allocation Percentages.
- (F) If the Closing Date occurs, each of the CDO Fund and SOHC shall, after notice from UBS of the amount of the excess if any of the aggregate of the Net Collateral Losses with respect to all Ineligible Securities over the aggregate of the Net Collateral Gains with respect to all Ineligible Securities (such excess, the "Aggregate Collateral Loss"), remit such Aggregate Collateral Loss by wire transfer in immediately available funds on the Closing Date to UBS, such amounts to be allocated between the CDO Fund and SOHC on the basis of their respective Allocation Percentages. UBS shall pay an amount equal to the excess if any of the aggregate of the Net Collateral Gains over the aggregate of the Net Collateral Losses ("Aggregate Collateral Gain") to the CDO Fund and SOHC, collectively, based on their respective Allocation Percentages, on the Termination Date following determination of such Aggregate Collateral Gain by wire transfer in immediately available funds.

5. Failure to Close; Termination Date.

- (A) If the Closing Date fails to occur on or prior to the Termination Date, then the Forward Sale Agreement, if entered into, shall terminate in whole by its terms on the Termination Date and UBS shall be authorized (but not required) to sell each Collateral Obligation then in the Warehouse Account in accordance with the Liquidation Procedures. Following the completion of such liquidation of the Collateral Obligations, any Aggregate Collateral Loss shall be allocated to the CDO Fund and to SOHC on the basis of their respective Allocation Percentages.

For purposes of determining the Net Collateral Gain and Net Collateral Loss, any Collateral Obligation which UBS does not direct to be sold, shall be deemed sold to UBS for its Market Value. Each of the CDO Fund and SOHC shall, within three Business Days after the Termination Date, remit to UBS by wire transfer in immediately available funds its respective allocation of any Aggregate Collateral Loss determined by UBS and notified to it. UBS shall pay each of the CDO Fund and SOHC within three Business Days after the Termination Date any Aggregate Collateral Gain due to such parties by wire transfer in immediately available funds, such payment to be allocated in accordance with their respective Allocation Percentages.

- (B) If the Closing Date fails to occur for any reason, UBS shall be entitled to retain for its own account an aggregate amount equal to (i) the sum of its Financing Costs with respect to each Collateral Obligation and (ii) the sum of the Issuer Purchase Prices with respect to each Collateral Obligation.

6. Liquidation of Ineligible Securities.

- (A) If, at any time during the Carry Period therefor, the Servicer determines that a Collateral Obligation is an Ineligible Security it, shall promptly so notify UBS in writing (including by electronic mail or facsimile).
- (B) If either (i) UBS agrees with the Servicer's determination that a Collateral Obligation is an Ineligible Security or (ii) UBS itself determines in good faith that any Collateral Obligation is an Ineligible Security UBS may notify the Servicer that UBS elects to sell such Collateral Obligation, then any related Forward Sale Transaction shall immediately terminate in whole by its terms and UBS shall be authorized (but not required) to sell such Collateral Obligation.
- (C) Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, any Net Collateral Gain or other amounts otherwise payable by UBS hereunder to the CDO Fund or SOHC in connection with the sale or liquidation of a Collateral Obligation under this Section 6 shall be deposited into the Deposit Account for application as otherwise permitted by this Agreement or the New Synthetic Warehouse Agreement and shall not be payable to the CDO Fund or SOHC prior to the Termination Date.

7. Liquidation Procedures.

- (A) If any Collateral Obligation is to be sold, UBS shall have the right to direct such sale on such terms and in such manner and at such time that it deems appropriate in its sole discretion. UBS may, in its sole discretion, elect to retain any such Collateral Obligation or to sell such Collateral Obligation to one of UBS's Affiliates in which event, for purposes of determining Net Collateral Gain and Net Collateral Loss, such Collateral Obligation shall be deemed to have been liquidated at a price equal to its Market Value. To the extent that UBS in its sole discretion elects to retain such Collateral Obligation, the Servicer will have the right to purchase such Collateral Obligation at its Market Value. To the extent that UBS in its sole discretion elects to sell such Collateral Obligation, the Servicer will have the right to bid for and purchase such Collateral Obligation at a purchase price equal to the highest third party bid received by UBS for the purchase of such Collateral Obligation. For the avoidance of doubt, UBS may terminate the sale process with respect to any such Collateral Obligation at anytime prior to the consummation of the contemplated sale without responsibility or liability to the Servicer. Notwithstanding Section 2(B), on or about the date of the liquidation of any Collateral Obligation hereunder, UBS shall terminate any related Hedging Transaction (or the related portion of any Hedging Transaction that relates to a group of Collateral Obligations).

(B) The Servicer will, if reasonably requested by UBS, cooperate with UBS in effecting any sale of a Collateral Obligation hereunder.

8. Set-off. If any amount is due from UBS to the CDO Fund or SOHC pursuant to this Agreement, UBS shall promptly pay such amount on the Termination Date after deducting first therefrom all amounts due from the CDO Fund or SOHC to UBS or UBS AG, in each case solely under this Agreement or the New Synthetic Warehouse Agreement.
9. Notices. Unless expressly provided otherwise in writing by the parties hereto, all notices, requests, demands and other communications required or permitted under this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been duly given, made and received when delivered against receipt or upon actual receipt of registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, or in the case of facsimile, when confirmation of transmission is received, addressed as set forth below:

Any party hereto may alter the address or facsimile number to which communications or copies are to be sent by giving notice of such change of address in conformity with the provisions of this Section 9 for the giving of notice.

10. Term. This Agreement shall continue in full force and effect and shall be irrevocable by any party hereto until the Termination Date; provided, however, that Sections 4, 5, 6, 7, 13, 14 and 15 shall survive the termination of this Agreement.

11. Representation and Acknowledgements.

(A) Each of the parties represents and warrants to the other parties that:

(1) it is duly authorized to execute and deliver this Agreement and/to perform its obligations hereunder and has taken all necessary action to authorize such execution, delivery and performance;

(2) the person signing this Agreement on its behalf is duly authorized to do so on its behalf;

(3) it has obtained all authorizations of any governmental body required in connection with this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby and such authorizations are in full force and effect; and

(4) the execution, delivery and performance by it of this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby will not violate any law, ordinance, charter, by-law, partnership agreement or rule applicable to it or any other agreement by which it is bound or by which any of its assets

are affected. Each party shall be deemed to repeat all of the foregoing representations made by it on each date on which UBS purchases any Collateral Obligation.

(B) Each of the CDO Fund, SOHC and the Company acknowledges and agrees that neither UBS nor any Affiliate thereof is, or holds itself out to be, an advisor as to legal, tax, accounting or regulatory matters in any jurisdiction. Each such Person shall consult with its own advisors concerning such matters and shall be responsible for making its own independent investigation and appraisal of the risks, benefits and suitability of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, and agrees that neither UBS nor any Affiliate thereof shall have any responsibility or liability to the such Person (in any capacity) or any other Person with respect thereto.

(C) Each of the CDO Fund, SOHC and the Company hereby acknowledges that:

(1) UBS AG (the parent of UBS) and its subsidiaries, branches and affiliates (the "UBS Group") are involved in a wide range of commercial banking, investment banking and other activities (including investment management, corporate finance and securities issuing, trading and research) from which conflicting interests or duties, may arise;

(2) information which is held within UBS, or within the UBS Group, but of which none of the individuals involved in this Agreement (including in the purchase or sale of Collateral Obligations pursuant to this Agreement) actually has (or without breach of internal procedures can properly obtain) knowledge, will not for any purpose be taken into account in determining UBS' responsibilities hereunder;

(3) neither UBS nor any other part of the UBS Group will have any duty to disclose to the parties hereto or utilize for the benefit of the parties hereto any non-public information acquired in the course of providing services to any other person, engaging in any transaction (on its own account or otherwise) or otherwise carrying on its business; and

(4) in the ordinary course of business, UBS, and its Affiliates may trade the Collateral Obligations comprising the Collateral Portfolio for its own account and for the accounts of customers, and may at any time hold a long or short position in such obligations.

(D) Each of the parties acknowledge and agree that:

(1) Until each Collateral Obligation acquired by UBS and held in the Warehouse Account is conveyed, transferred or sold to the Issuer or otherwise conveyed in accordance with this Agreement, UBS is the owner of and has sole "control" (within the meaning of Articles 8 and 9 of the Uniform Commercial Code as in effect in the State of New York) over each such Collateral Obligation, and neither the Issuer, the CDO Fund, the

Nothing contained in this Agreement shall be deemed to indicate that this Agreement has been entered into for the benefit of any person other than the parties hereto. This Agreement shall be binding upon and shall inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns; provided, however, none of the parties hereto may assign its rights or obligations pursuant to this Agreement without the prior written consent of the other parties hereto; provided further that UBS may assign its rights and obligations hereunder to any of its Affiliates without such prior written consent.

19. Provisions Separable. If any term, provision, covenant or condition of this Agreement, or the application thereof to any party or any circumstance, is held to be unenforceable, invalid or illegal (in whole or in part) for any reason (in any relevant jurisdiction), the remaining terms, provisions, covenants and conditions of this Agreement, modified by the deletion of the unenforceable, invalid or illegal portion (in any relevant jurisdiction), will continue in full force and effect, and such unenforceability, invalidity, or illegality will not otherwise affect the enforceability, validity or legality of the remaining terms, provisions, covenants and conditions of this Agreement so long as this Agreement as so modified continues to express, without material change, the original intentions of the parties as to the subject matter hereof and the deletion of such portion of this Agreement will not substantially impair the respective expectations or reciprocal obligations of the parties or the practical realization of the benefits that would otherwise be conferred upon the parties. The parties will endeavour in good faith negotiations to replace the prohibited or unenforceable provision with a valid provision, the economic effect of which comes as close as possible to that of the prohibited or unenforceable provision.
20. Indulgences Not Waivers. Neither the failure nor any delay on the part of any party hereto to exercise any right, remedy, power or privilege under this Agreement shall operate as a waiver thereof, nor shall any single or partial exercise of any right, remedy, power or privilege preclude any other or further exercise of the same or any other right, remedy, power or privilege with respect to any occurrence be construed as a waiver of such right, remedy, power or privilege with respect to any other occurrence. No waiver shall be effective unless it is in writing and is signed by the party asserted to have granted such waiver. The rights and remedies of the parties provided herein are cumulative and are in addition to, and not exclusive of, any rights, remedies, powers or privileges provided by law.
21. Titles Not to Affect Interpretation. The titles of the sections and paragraphs contained in this Agreement are for convenience only, and they neither form part of this Agreement nor are they to be used in the construction or interpretation hereof.
22. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two or more counterparts, all of which together shall be considered a single instrument. Delivery of an executed counterpart of this Agreement by telecopier or facsimile transmission shall constitute due and sufficient delivery thereof.
23. UBS Agents. UBS may appoint any of its Affiliates (including UBS AG) to act as an agent for UBS hereunder or as custodian of the Collateral Obligations for UBS.

- (A) Each of the Company, the Servicer, the CDO Fund and SOHC, on behalf of itself and its current and former parent companies, subsidiaries, affiliates, predecessors, successors and assigns (collectively, the "Highland Releasing Parties"), hereby releases and forever discharges UBS, including, but not limited to, any of its current and former parent companies, subsidiaries, affiliates, predecessors, successors and assigns and any of their past or present officers, directors, employees and agents (collectively, the "UBS Released Parties") of and from any and all actions, causes of action, demands, rights, suits, debts, dues, charges, fees, costs, liabilities, complaints, claims, obligations, promises, agreements, controversies, damages and expenses of any nature whatsoever, whether in law or in equity or otherwise, whether arising under contract, tort, statute, or any other legal theory or basis of any nature whatsoever, which such Highland Releasing Parties ever had, now have or may have had against the UBS Released Parties, or any of them, from the beginning of time to the date of this Agreement, whether known or unknown, suspected or unsuspected, claimed or concealed, contingent or non-contingent, asserted or not asserted, that relate to the subject matter of the Original Cash Warehouse Agreement and/or the transactions contemplated thereby.
- (B) UBS, on behalf of itself and its respective current and former parent companies, subsidiaries, affiliates, predecessors, successors and assigns, hereby releases and forever discharges the Company, the Servicer, the CDO Fund and SOHC, including, but not limited to, any of their respective current and former parent companies, subsidiaries, affiliates, predecessors, successors and assigns and any of their past or present officers, directors, employees and agents (collectively, the "Highland Released Parties") of and from any and all actions, causes of action, demands, rights, suits, debts, dues, charges, fees, costs, liabilities, complaints, claims, obligations, promises, agreements, controversies, damages and expenses of any nature whatsoever, whether in law or in equity or otherwise, whether arising under contract, tort, statute, or any other legal theory or basis of any nature whatsoever, which UBS and such other Persons ever had, now has or may have had against the Highland Released Parties, or any of them, from the beginning of time to the date of this Agreement, whether known or unknown, suspected or unsuspected, claimed or concealed, contingent or non-contingent, asserted or not asserted, that relate to the subject matter of the Original Cash Warehouse Agreement and/or the transactions contemplated thereby.
- (C) All Aggregate Collateral Losses determined in respect of the Existing Collateral Portfolio shall be payable solely in accordance with this Agreement.

- (B) UBS, on behalf of itself and its respective current and former parent companies, subsidiaries, affiliates, predecessors, successors and assigns, hereby releases and forever discharges the Company, the Servicer, the CDO Fund and SOHC, including, but not limited to, any of their respective current and former parent companies, subsidiaries, affiliates, predecessors, successors and assigns and any of their past or present officers, directors, employees and agents (collectively, the "Highland Released Parties") of and from any and all actions, causes of action, demands, rights, suits, debts, dues, charges, fees, costs, liabilities, complaints, claims, obligations, promises, agreements, controversies, damages and expenses of any nature whatsoever, whether in law or in equity or otherwise, whether arising under contract, tort, statute, or any other legal theory or basis of any nature whatsoever, which UBS and such other Persons ever had, now has or may have had against the Highland Released Parties, or any of them, from the beginning of time to the date of this Agreement, whether known or unknown, suspected or unsuspected, claimed or concealed, contingent or non-contingent, asserted or not asserted, that relate to the subject matter of the Original Cash Warehouse Agreement and/or the transactions contemplated thereby.

- (C) All Aggregate Collateral Losses determined in respect of the Existing Collateral Portfolio shall be payable solely in accordance with this Agreement.

ANNEX A

ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA

Except as otherwise agreed in writing by UBS and the Servicer, no Collateral Obligation may be purchased for initial and continuing inclusion in the Warehouse Account unless it:

- (1) is a U.S. dollar denominated collateralized loan obligation security issued by a U.S. issuer, a Qualified SPV Issuer or a Qualified Foreign Issuer;
- (2) is not a Defaulted Security;
- (3) provides for a fixed amount of principal to be payable at maturity;
- (4) is not a loan covered by (7);
- (5) is rated by the applicable Rating Agency or Agencies or otherwise meets the requirements to obtain a rating therefrom;
- (6) is a security issued by an entity treated as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes and no payments thereon are subject to withholding tax imposed by any jurisdiction unless the obligor of the security is required to make "gross-up" payments that cover the full amount of any such withholding tax on an after-tax basis;
- (7) is not an obligation pursuant to which future advances or payments may be required;
- (8) has not been put on a watch list for a possible ratings downgrade by Moody's or S&P, as applicable;
- (9) is a security which complies with the tax restrictions set forth in Annex B;
- (10) is not Margin Stock and is not convertible into, and has no associated rights, warrants or options to purchase, Margin Stock; and
- (11) is not a Premium Security.

The foregoing criteria as applicable to the Transaction are subject to amendment by UBS, in its reasonable discretion, from time to time on or prior to the Settlement Date in accordance with (i) the requirements of the Rating Agencies, (ii) investor feedback received by UBS or (iii) if applicable, the requirements of any monoline insurer, hedge provider or other credit enhancement provider to the Issuer. For the avoidance of doubt, the determination of whether a Collateral Obligation complies with the Eligibility Criteria shall take into account not only the individual characteristics of such Collateral Obligation, but also all of the Collateral Obligations that then comprise the Collateral Portfolio and the effect on the Collateral Portfolio of inclusion of such Collateral Obligation.

"Accumulation Period" means the period commencing on the first date on which the conditions set forth in Section 3 are satisfied or waived and ending on, and including, the Termination Date.

"Adjusted Purchase Price" means, with respect to any Collateral Obligation constituting part of the Collateral Portfolio on any date of determination, a price equal to (a) the UBS Purchase Price of such Collateral Obligation minus (b) the aggregate amount of all distributions of principal actually received from the issuer thereof by UBS on or prior to such date of determination in respect of such Collateral Obligation.

"Affiliate" means, in relation to any specified Person, (a) any other Person who, directly or indirectly, is in control of, or controlled by, or is under common control with, such Person or (b) any other Person who is a director, officer, member or partner of (i) such Person or (ii) any such other Person described in clause (a) above; provided that no other special purpose company to which an administrator of the Issuer provides directors and acts as share trustee shall be an Affiliate of the Issuer. For the purposes of this definition, control of a Person means the power, direct or indirect, (i) to vote more than 50% of the securities having ordinary voting power for the election of directors of such Person or (ii) to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of such Person whether by contract or otherwise.

"Aggregate Portfolio Balance" shall have the meaning provided in Section 2(C).

"Allocation Percentage" means (a) with respect to the CDO Fund, (i) if the Closing Date has not occurred, the percentage obtained by multiplying 100 by a fraction, the numerator of which is the par value of the subordinated notes or other equity issued to the CDO Fund in connection with the Transaction and the denominator of which is the aggregate par value of all subordinated notes or other equity issued to the CDO Fund, HFP and any subsidiaries of Highland Financial Partners, LP, in connection with the closing of the Transaction and (ii) if the Closing Date has occurred, 51%; and (b) with respect to SOHC, (i) if the Closing Date has occurred, the percentage obtained by subtracting the percentage obtained for the CDO Fund under clause (a)(i) from 100% and (ii) if the Closing Date has not occurred, 49%.

"Applicable Spread" means 0.35%.

"Business Day" means any day of the year other than a Saturday, Sunday or other day on which commercial banking institutions in New York City, in London or, solely to the extent any action is to be taken in the Cayman Islands, in the Cayman Islands, are authorized or obligated by law, regulation or executive order to be closed. If any payment required to be made pursuant to this Agreement or the New Synthetic Warehouse Agreement is to be made on a day that is not a Business Day, then such payment shall be made on the next following Business Day.

"Carry" means, with respect to any Collateral Obligation, an amount determined by (a) calculating, for each day during the related Carry Period therefor, the product of (i) the sum of (x) the UBS Purchase Price of such Collateral Obligation minus (y) the aggregate amount of all distributions of principal of such Collateral Obligation, in each case, actually received by UBS in respect of such Collateral Obligation on or prior to such accrual date multiplied by (ii) the Carry Yield divided by (iii) 360 and (b) calculating the sum of the products calculated pursuant to clause (a).

"Carry Period" means, with respect to each Collateral Obligation constituting part of the Collateral Portfolio (other than a Collateral Obligation that is a Defaulted Security pursuant to clause (ii) of the definition of such term), the period commencing on (and including) the settlement date on which UBS acquires such Collateral Obligation, including the original acquisition date of any Existing Collateral Obligation, and ending on (and excluding) (a) if such Collateral Obligation is to be sold to the Issuer pursuant to Section 4, the Settlement Date of such Collateral Obligation or (b) if such Collateral Obligation is to be liquidated in accordance with Section 5 or 6, the date of liquidation of such Collateral Obligation.

"Carry Yield" means:

- (a) with respect to a Collateral Obligation that is a Discount Security or Premium Security, the effective yield (determined by UBS in good faith) on such Collateral Obligation on the first day of the Carry Period for such Collateral Obligation implied by the UBS Purchase Price (expressed on a "clean" basis); provided that, with respect to any such Collateral Obligation that bears interest at an interest rate determined by reference to a fixed spread above or below a London Interbank offered rate or other index, such effective yield (as determined by UBS in good faith) shall be expressed as the sum of (i) such London Interbank offered rate or other index (as in effect from time to time) plus (or minus) (ii) a spread above or below the level of such London Interbank offered rate or other index used to calculate such interest rate for the period that includes the first day of the Carry Period for such Collateral Obligation; and
- (b) with respect to a Collateral Obligation that is not a Discount Security or Premium Security, the rate per annum at which interest is stated to accrue on such Collateral Obligation on the first day of the Carry Period for such Collateral Obligation; provided that, with respect to any such Collateral Obligation that bears interest at an interest rate determined by reference to a fixed spread above or below a London Interbank offered rate, the rate per annum equal to the sum of such London Interbank offered rate (as in effect from time to time) plus (or minus) such fixed spread.

"Cash Exposure" shall have the meaning provided in Section 12(B) of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement.

"CDS Exposure" shall have the meaning provided in Section 12(B) of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement.

"Closing Date" means the date of the closing of the Transaction and the issuance of the CDO Securities.

"Collateral Portfolio" means the Collateral Obligations in the Warehouse Account.

"Defaulted Security" means any Collateral Obligation with respect to which (i) the maturity of all or a portion of any payment due under such obligation has been accelerated; (ii) there has occurred and is continuing a default as to payment of principal and/or interest; (iii) the issuer thereof is in default as to payment of principal and/or interest on another obligation (and such default has not been cured or waived) which is senior or pari passu in right of payment to such Collateral Obligation; (iv) the issuer or guarantor thereof is bankrupt or insolvent, or there is appointed over it or a substantial part of its assets a receiver, administrator, administrative receiver, trustee or similar officer or (v) the rating thereof from S&P is "CCC" or lower or is withdrawn by S&P or the rating thereof from Moody's is "Caa2" or lower or is withdrawn by Moody's.

"Deposit" has the meaning specified thereto in the New Synthetic Warehouse Agreement.

"Deposit Account" has the meaning specified thereto in the New Synthetic Warehouse Agreement.

"Designated Security" means a Collateral Obligation included in the Warehouse Account that UBS and the Servicer mutually agree should be liquidated in accordance with this Agreement.

"Discount Security" means any Collateral Obligation with a UBS Purchase Price (exclusive of accrued interest) less than the principal amount thereof on the date of purchase by UBS hereunder.

"Eligibility Criteria" means the criteria set forth in Annex A attached.

"Financing Cost" means, with respect to any Collateral Obligation, an amount determined by (a) calculating, for each day during the related Carry Period therefor, the product of (i) the sum of (x) the UBS Purchase Price of such Collateral Obligation plus any Purchased Accrued Interest plus any Net Hedge Payment minus any Net Hedge Receipt less (y) the aggregate amount of all distributions of principal of and Purchased Accrued Interest on such Collateral Obligation, in each case, actually received by UBS in respect of such Collateral Obligation on or prior to such accrual date multiplied by (ii) LIBOR for the LIBOR Period in effect on such accrual date plus the Applicable Spread divided by (iii) 360 and (b) calculating the sum of the products calculated pursuant to clause (a).

"Forward Sale Agreement" means the forward sale agreement that shall be entered into between UBS and the Issuer in connection with the Closing Date, which shall govern each Forward Sale Transaction and which shall include the terms and conditions set forth in Section 4 hereof.

"Forward Sale Transaction" means a forward sale transaction in which UBS shall agree to sell a Collateral Obligation to the Issuer pursuant to the Forward Sale Agreement.

"Hedge Termination Amount" means, in connection with the termination of any Hedging Transaction, an amount equal to the aggregate of any Hedge Termination Payments less the aggregate of any Hedge Termination Receipts (such resulting amount may be a positive or negative number).

"Hedge Termination Payment" means, with respect to any Collateral Obligation subject to a Hedging Transaction, the amount, if positive, equal to (a) the amount of any net payment required to be paid by UBS upon the early termination or liquidation of the Hedging Transaction related to such Collateral Obligation and otherwise, zero.

"Hedge Termination Receipt" means, with respect to any Collateral Obligation subject to a Hedging Transaction, the amount, if positive, equal to (a) the amount of any net payment required to be paid to UBS upon the early termination or liquidation of the Hedging Transaction related to such Collateral Obligation and otherwise, zero.

"Hedging Transaction" means an interest rate exchange or protection agreement or short sales of securities, entered into by UBS or any of its Affiliates with respect to one or more Collateral Obligation in accordance with this Agreement.

"Ineligible Security" means, any Collateral Obligation in the Collateral Portfolio which has become ineligible for sale to the Issuer on the Closing Date as a result of the failure of such Collateral Obligation to conform to the Eligibility Criteria as it exists at such time of determination (whether as a result of a change in the Eligibility Criteria required by a Rating Agency, a request by potential investors or otherwise). Each of the following is an "Ineligible Security": a Defaulted Security, a Designated Security or a Written Down Security.

"Initial Deposit" has the meaning specified thereto in the New Synthetic Warehouse Agreement.

"Issuer Purchase Price" means, with respect to any Collateral Obligation constituting part of the Collateral Portfolio on any date of determination, a price equal to (a) the Adjusted Purchase Price of such Collateral Obligation on such date plus (b) accrued and unpaid interest (including unpaid Purchased Accrued Interest and any interest accrued in respect of Carry Yield on Discounted Securities and Premium Securities) plus any Hedge Termination Payment or Net Hedge Payment made on or prior to such date of determination by UBS (or any of its Affiliates) under any Hedging Transaction (or portion thereof) related to such Collateral Obligation, minus (d) any Hedge Termination Receipt or Net Hedge Receipt received on or prior to such date of determination by UBS (or any of its Affiliates) under any Hedging Transaction (or portion thereof) related to such Collateral Obligation.

"LIBOR" means, for any LIBOR Period, the offered rate, as determined by UBS, for dollar deposits in Europe of one month that appears on Telerate Page 3750 (or such other page as may replace such Telerate Page 3750 for the purpose of displaying comparable rates) as of 11:00 a.m. (New York City time) on the date two Banking Days prior to the first day of such LIBOR Period; provided that LIBOR, for any Collateral Obligation that bears interest based on the London intermarket offered rate, means such rate, as determined in accordance with the terms of such Collateral Obligation.

"LIBOR Period" means (a) the period commencing on (and including) the date hereof and ending on (but excluding) the one-month anniversary of such date and (b) each period thereafter commencing on (and including) the day following the last day included in the immediately preceding LIBOR Period and ending on (but excluding) the one-month anniversary of the first day of such LIBOR Period.

"Liquidation Procedures" means the sale of a Collateral Obligation in accordance with the procedures set forth in Section 7.

"Margin Stock" has the meaning assigned thereto under Regulation U.

"Market Value" means

(1) with respect to any Collateral Obligation at any time, an amount, as determined by or at the direction of UBS, equal to:

(a) if the Market Value is being determined for a security which has been sold (or is being sold) hereunder, the price paid or to be paid by the purchaser thereof (excluding amounts paid or to be paid in respect of accrued interest), less any costs, fees and expenses incurred (or estimated by UBS to be incurred) by UBS in connection with such sale; and

(b) otherwise, the arithmetic average of at least three bids (or, if UBS is unable to obtain three such bids having made commercially reasonable efforts, such lesser number of bids as UBS is able to obtain) obtained by or on behalf of UBS from nationally recognized securities dealers in the relevant market (no more than one of which may be UBS or any of its Affiliates) to purchase such security (exclusive of accrued interest, but after deducting all reasonable costs, fees and expenses that UBS estimates would be incurred in connection with any actual sale or other liquidation of such security by UBS); and

(c) otherwise, the mean of bid and ask prices for such security as determined by UBS using its customary methods and in good faith or, if UBS determines that such bid and ask prices are not available, such other method as is customarily used by UBS in good faith to value similar securities; and

(2) with respect to any Eligible Security at any time, the market value thereof determined by UBS in good faith.

Any determination of the Market Value of a Collateral Obligation or Eligible Security (including any determination of any cost, fee or expense that would be incurred in consideration of a sale thereof) made by or on behalf of UBS in the manner described above shall be conclusive, absent manifest error.

"Net Collateral Gain" means, as of any date, with respect to any specified Collateral Obligations sold by UBS pursuant to Sections 4, 5 or 6, the excess, if any, of (a) the aggregate amount of all Realized Gains accrued on or prior to such date with respect to such Collateral Obligations over (b) the aggregate amount of all Realized Losses incurred on or prior to such date with respect to such Collateral Obligations.

"Net Collateral Loss" means, as of any date, with respect to any specified Collateral Obligations sold by UBS pursuant to Sections 4, 5 or 6, the excess, if any, of (a) the aggregate amount of all Realized Losses incurred on or prior to such date with respect to such Collateral Obligations over (b) the aggregate amount of all Realized Gains incurred on or prior to such date with respect to such Collateral Obligations.

"Net Hedge Payment" means, with respect to any Collateral Debt Obligation or Credit Default Swap, the excess, if any, of (i) any payments (other than termination payments) paid by UBS (or any of its Affiliates) under any related Hedging Transaction to the extent allocable to such Collateral Obligation or Credit Default Swap, as the case may be, over (ii) any payments (other than termination payments) paid to UBS (or any of its Affiliates) under any related Hedging Transaction to the extent allocable to such Collateral Obligation or Credit Default Swap, as the case may be.

"Net Hedge Receipt" means the excess, if any, of (i) any payments (other than termination payments) paid to UBS (or any of its Affiliates) under any related Hedging Transaction to the extent allocable to such Collateral Obligation or Credit Default Swap, as the case may be, over (ii) any payments (other than termination payments) paid by UBS (or any of its Affiliates) under any related Hedging Transaction to the extent allocable to such Collateral Obligation.

"Offer Price" has the meaning assigned thereto in Section 2(A).

"Person" means any individual, corporation, company, voluntary association, partnership, limited liability company, joint venture, trust, unincorporated organization or government (or any agency, instrumentality or political subdivision thereof).

"Positive Carry" means, with respect to each Collateral Obligation at any time constituting part of the Collateral Portfolio, (a) the Carry with respect to such Collateral Obligation minus (b) the Financing Cost with respect to such Collateral Obligation minus (c) any Net Hedge Payment with respect to such Collateral Obligation plus (d) any Net Hedge Receipt; provided that, if the Positive Carry so determined for any Collateral Obligations is less than zero, the Positive Carry with respect to such Collateral Obligation shall be deemed to be equal to zero.

"Premium Security" a security for which the UBS Purchase Price exceeds the principal amount thereof.

"Pricing Date" means the date on which UBS and the Issuer have priced the Notes.

"Purchased Accrued Interest" means, with respect to any Collateral Obligation purchased by UBS, unpaid interest thereon accrued to the settlement date for such purchase included in the purchase price therefor.

"Purchase Request" has the meaning assigned thereto in Section 2(A).

"Qualified Foreign Issuer" means a corporation, partnership or other issuer located in Australia, Canada, France, Germany, Ireland, the Netherlands, the Netherlands collateral securing such securities (excluding defaulted collateral and after taking into account any appraisal reductions).

(C) Collateralized Obligations Purchased from the Servicer and Affiliates.

If the Servicer or an affiliate of the Servicer acted as an underwriter, placement or other agent, arranger, negotiator or structuror in connection with the issuance or origination of a Collateral Obligation or was a member of the original lending syndicate with respect to the Collateral Obligation, the Issuer will not acquire any interest in such Collateral Obligation (including entering into a commitment or agreement, whether or not legally binding or enforceable, to acquire such obligation directly or synthetically), from the Servicer, an affiliate of the Servicer, or a fund managed by the Servicer, unless (i) the Collateral Obligation has been outstanding for at least 30 days, (ii) the holder of the Collateral Obligation did not identify the obligation or security as intended for sale to the Issuer within 30 days of its issuance, (iii) the employees or agents or the Servicer responsible for selecting Collateral Obligations for the Issuer were not directly involved in the origination of the Collateral Obligation on behalf of the Servicer, an affiliate of the Servicer, or a fund managed by the Servicer (e.g. responsible for approving or reviewing the lending decision, participation in a credit committee reviewing any loan proposed to be made), (iv) the price paid for such obligation by the Issuer is its fair market value at the time of acquisition by the Issuer, and (v) after the acquisition the Issuer will own less than 50% of the aggregate principal amount of the borrowing that includes such Collateral Obligation.

(D) Equity Restrictions. The Issuer will not purchase any asset (directly or synthetically) that is treated for U.S. federal income tax purposes as:

- (1) an equity interest in a "partnership" (within the meaning of Section 7701(a)(2) of the Code) engaged or deemed to be engaged in a trade or business within the United States, or
- (2) a United States real property interest" as defined in Section 897 of the Code and the Treasury Regulations promulgated thereunder.

The Issuer may acquire stock of a subsidiary and cause such subsidiary to acquire assets set forth in clause (i) or (ii) above (an "ETB/897 Asset") in connection with the workout of defaulted Collateral Obligations, so long as the acquisition of ETB/897 Assets by such subsidiary will not cause the stock of such subsidiary to be deemed to be an ETB/897 Asset.

(E) Debt Securities.

The Issuer will acquire or commit to acquire Collateral Obligations, other than those described in Section 1(G) and Section 2, only if either:

- (i) the obligation or security was issued pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), in an underwriting or placement where none of the Servicer or any Affiliate thereof acted as an underwriter or placement agent (unless they are issued by a Person for whom one of its Affiliates acts as one of a syndicate of placement agents or underwriters provided the Servicer purchases any such security on an arms length basis at a then current market price from a member of such syndicate); or

- (ii) the obligation or security was privately placed under Rule 144A or Regulation S promulgated under the Securities Act, it was originally issued pursuant to an offering circular, private placement memorandum, or similar offering document, and it is purchased from an underwriter or placement agent and not directly from the obligor and:
- (x) the Servicer and its employees did not participate in the placement as placement agent or underwriter or participate in negotiating or structuring the terms of the obligation or security (other than to comment on offering documents to an unrelated underwriter or placement agent where the ability to comment was generally available to investors and to undertake due diligence of the kind customarily performed by investors in securities); or
  - (y) the Servicer and its Affiliates did not (i) participate in negotiating or structuring the terms of the obligation or security (other than to comment on offering documents to an unrelated underwriter or placement agent where the ability to comment was generally available to investors and to undertake due diligence of the kind customarily performed by investors in securities) or (ii) acquire or commit to acquire more than 33% of the aggregate principal amount of such obligations or securities or any other class of obligations or securities offered by the obligor or issuer in the same or any related offering (unless Persons unrelated to the Servicer and its Affiliates purchased more than 50% of the aggregate principal amount of such obligations or securities or such class at substantially the same time and on substantially the same terms as the Issuer).

(F) Revolving Loans and Delayed Drawdown Loans.

The Issuer will not purchase any Collateral Obligation that constitutes a Revolving Loan or Delayed Drawdown Loan.

(G) Application to Synthetic Securities.

The Issuer shall not (i) acquire or enter into any Synthetic Security with respect to any Reference Obligation the direct acquisition of which would violate any provision of this Annex A or (ii) use Synthetic Securities as a means of making advances to the Synthetic Security Counterparty following the date on which the Synthetic Security is acquired or entered into (for the avoidance of doubt, the establishment of Synthetic Security Collateral Accounts and the payment of Synthetic Security Counterparties from the amounts on deposit therein, in each case in accordance with the Indenture, shall not constitute the making of advances).

No Synthetic Security acquired by the Issuer shall (i) require that the purchaser of credit protection thereunder own the applicable Reference Obligation or (ii) require by its terms the delivery of reports or other information relating to the Reference Obligation if the effect of such requirement is that the purchaser of credit protection thereunder would be required to own the applicable Reference Obligation.

of credit issued to an obligor in connection with an interest in a term loan of the same obligor that is at least as large as the exposure under the letter of credit and that is acquired at the same time and with the intent and expectation to hold the interest in the term loan at least as long as it holds the interest in the letter of credit.

2. Restrictions with Respect to Loans and Forward Purchase Commitments.

- (A) Any understanding or commitment to purchase a loan, a participation, a loan subparticipation or a collateralized loan obligation (collectively, "Loans") from a seller before completion of the closing and full funding of the Loan by such seller must be treated as a forward sale agreement (a "Forward Purchase Commitment") unless such an understanding or commitment is not legally binding and neither the Issuer nor the Servicer is economically compelled to purchase the Loan following the completion of the closing and full funding of the Loan (i.e., the Servicer will make an independent investment decision whether to purchase such Loan on behalf of the Issuer after completion of the closing and full funding of the Loan) (a "Non-Binding Agreement").
- (B) No Forward Purchase Commitment or Non-Binding Agreement shall be made until after the seller (or a transferor to such seller of such Loan) has made a legally binding commitment to fully fund such Loan to the obligor thereof, (subject to customary conditions), which commitment cannot be conditioned on the Issuer's ultimate purchase of such Loan from such seller.
- (C) In the event of any reduced or eliminated funding, the Issuer shall not receive any premium, fee, or other compensation in connection with having entered into the Forward Purchase Commitment or Non-Binding Commitment.
- (D) The Issuer shall not close any purchase of a Loan subject to a Forward Purchase Commitment earlier than 48 hours (24 hours in connection with a Non-Binding Agreement) after the time of the closing and full funding of the Loan.
- (E) The Issuer cannot have a contractual relationship with the borrower with respect to a Loan until the Issuer actually purchases the Loan.
- (F) The Issuer cannot be a signatory on the lending agreement, and cannot be obligated to fund an assignment of or a participation in a Loan prior to the actual funding of the Loan by the institutions lending to the borrower.
- (G) The Issuer cannot purchase or commit to purchase a Loan if it would cause the Issuer to own more than 50% of the aggregate principal amount of the borrowing that includes such Loan.
- (H) The Issuer will not be listed as a "lender" or otherwise a party to a loan until after closing.

3. General Restrictions. The Issuer shall not:

- (A) hold itself out, through advertising or otherwise, as originating loans, lending funds, or making a market in or a dealer in loans or other assets;
- (B) register as, hold itself out as, or become subject to regulatory supervision or other legal requirements under the laws of any country or political subdivision thereof as, a broker-dealer, a bank, an insurance company, financial guarantor, surety bond issuer, or a company engaged in loan origination;
- (C) take any action causing it to be treated as a bank, insurance company, or company engaged in loan origination for purposes of any tax, securities law or other filing or submission made to any governmental authority;
- (D) hold itself out, through advertising or otherwise, as originating, funding, guaranteeing or insuring debt obligations or as being willing and able to enter into transactions (either purchases or sales of debt obligations or entries into, assignments or terminations of hedging or derivative instruments, including Synthetic Securities) at the request of others;
- (E) treat Synthetic Securities as insurance, reinsurance, indemnity bonds, guaranties, guaranty bonds or suretyship contracts for any purpose;
- (F) disclose the identity of any holder of a Security to any person from whom it purchases Collateral Obligations or attempt to obtain more favorable terms from any seller as a result of the identity of any holder of a Security;
- (G) allow any non-U.S. bank or lending institution who is a holder of a Security to control or direct the Servicer's or Issuer's decision to invest in a particular asset except as otherwise allowed to such a holder, acting in that capacity, under the Indenture or acquire a Collateral Obligation conditioned upon a particular person or entity holding Securities;
- (H) acquire any asset the holding or acquisition of which the Servicer believes would cause the Issuer to be subject to income tax on a net income basis;
- (I) hold any security as nominee for another person; or
- (J) buy securities with the intent to subdivide them and sell the components or to buy securities and sell them with different securities as a package or unit.

4. Amendments and Modifications.

In furtherance and not in limitation of this Annex A, the Servicer shall comply with all of the provisions set forth in this Annex A, unless, with respect to a particular transaction, the Servicer acting on behalf of the Issuer and the Trustee shall have received written advice of McKee Nelson LLP that, under the relevant facts and circumstances with respect to such transaction, the Servicer's failure to comply with one or more of such provisions will not cause the Issuer to be engaged, or deemed to be engaged, in a trade or business within the United States for United States federal income tax purposes or otherwise to be subject to United States federal income tax on a net basis. The provisions set forth in the Annex A may be amended, eliminated or supplemented by the Servicer if the Issuer, the Servicer and the Trustee shall have received an opinion of McKee Nelson LLP that the Servicer's compliance with such amended provisions or supplemental provisions or the failure to comply with such provisions proposed to be eliminated, as the case may be, will not cause the Issuer to be engaged, or deemed to be engaged, in a trade or business within the United States for United States federal income tax purposes or otherwise to be subject to United States federal income tax on a net basis.

EXHIBIT 8

EXECUTION COPY

SYNTHETIC WAREHOUSE AGREEMENT

SYNTHETIC WAREHOUSE AGREEMENT dated as of March 14, 2008 (this "Agreement"), among UBS AG, London Branch ("UBS"), Highland CDO Opportunity Master Fund, L.P. (the "CDO Fund"), Highland Special Opportunities Holding Company ("SOHC") and Highland Capital Management, L.P. (the "Company") in its capacity as Servicer (the "Servicer").

RECITALS

WHEREAS, UBS Securities LLC ("UBSS") and the Company were parties to an engagement letter dated April 20, 2007 (the "Original Engagement Letter"), UBSS, the Company and SOHC were parties to a warehouse agreement dated May 22, 2007 (the "Original Cash Warehouse Agreement") and UBS, the Company and SOHC were parties to a Synthetic Warehouse Agreement dated April 12, 2007 (the "Original Synthetic Warehouse Agreement" and together with the Original Engagement Letter and the Original Cash Warehouse Agreement, the "Original Documents").

WHEREAS, pursuant to the terms of the Original Documents, UBS agreed to act as seller with respect to the portfolio of credit default swaps selected by the Servicer and UBSS agreed to purchase collateral debt securities selected by the Servicer.

WHEREAS, the Original Engagement Letter expired on August 15, 2007 and the Original Cash Warehouse Agreement and the Original Synthetic Warehouse Agreement expired in accordance with their terms.

WHEREAS, pursuant to an engagement letter dated March 14, 2008 (as amended from time to time, the "Engagement Letter"), between UBSS and the Company, UBSS has been engaged to act as exclusive financial arranger and placement agent with respect to, among other things, (a) the structuring of several classes of debt securities (collectively, the "Notes") and one or more classes of equity securities or subordinated notes (such equity securities, along with the Notes, collectively, the "CDO Securities") to be issued by one or more newly formed special purpose entities (collectively, the "Issuer") in a collateralized debt obligation transaction (the "Transaction") and (b) the marketing and placement of the CDO Securities.

WHEREAS, each of the Servicer, SOHC, the CDO Fund and the Company desires that UBS warehouse the portfolio of credit default swaps (each an "Existing Credit Default Swap") and that UBSS warehouse the collateral obligations (each an "Existing Collateral Obligation" and collectively, the "Existing Collateral Portfolio") that were the subject of the Original Synthetic Warehouse Agreement and the Original Cash Warehouse Agreement, respectively, on the terms set forth herein and in the Cash Warehouse Agreement dated as of even date herewith (the "New Cash Warehouse Agreement") among UBSS, the Servicer, the CDO Fund and SOHC.

WHEREAS, each of the Servicer, SOHC, the CDO Fund and the Company desires that UBS warehouse additional portfolio of credit default swaps referencing collateralized loan obligations ("CLO Securities") pursuant to the terms hereof (such credit default swaps, the "Additional Credit Default Swaps" and such CLO Securities, the "Reference Obligations"). The Additional Credit Default Swaps and the Existing Credit Default Swaps are collectively referred to as the "Credit Default Swaps." The portfolio of Additional Credit Default Swaps, together with the Existing Credit Default Swaps, is herein referred to as the "CDS Portfolio."

WHEREAS, each of the Servicer, SOHC, the CDO Fund and the Company desires that UBSS warehouse additional CLO Securities that otherwise satisfy the Eligibility Criteria set forth in Annex A to the New Cash Warehouse Agreement (such collateral obligations, the "Additional Collateral Obligations" and together with the Existing Collateral Obligations, the "Collateral Obligations") pursuant to the terms of the New Cash Warehouse Agreement. The portfolio of Additional Collateral Obligations, together with the Existing Collateral Obligations, is herein referred to as the "Collateral Portfolio."

WHEREAS, the CDO Securities will be secured or backed by the CDS Portfolio and the Collateral Portfolio and certain other assets of the Issuer.

WHEREAS, in order to facilitate the Issuer's exposure to the CDS Portfolio on the Closing Date, the Company has requested that UBS, and UBS has agreed prior to the issuance of the CDO Securities, to act as seller (the "Seller") with respect to the CDS Portfolio with counterparties selected in accordance with the procedures set forth in Section 2 below, acting as buyers (each a "Buyer"), in each case, subject to the terms and conditions set forth herein.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual agreements set forth herein and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and adequacy of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto agree as follows:

1. Definitions. Capitalized terms used herein and not otherwise defined herein (including in Exhibits A and B) shall have the meanings set forth in the New Cash Warehouse Agreement. Words importing the singular number shall include the plural number and vice versa.
2. Accumulation of Reference Obligations, Hedging Transactions and Servicer Duties.
  - (A) Identification of Reference Obligations. As of the date hereof, UBS shall be deemed to have entered into each of the Existing Credit Default Swaps identified on Schedule 1 attached hereto, as Seller, pursuant to the terms of this Agreement and from and after the date hereof each such Existing Credit Default Swap shall be subject to the terms of this Agreement and shall be deemed to have been entered into on the date hereof and otherwise on the same terms as those on which such Credit Default Swaps were entered into by UBS under the Original Synthetic Warehouse Agreement; provided that the notional amount of each Existing Credit Default Swap shall be adjusted to reflect the payment of any Floating Amounts (as defined in the related Credit Default Swap) thereunder by UBS on or prior to the date hereof. During the Accumulation Period, the Servicer will identify each Additional Credit Default Swap satisfying the Eligibility Criteria set forth in Annex A hereto for possible inclusion in the CDS Portfolio and provide a list of each Reference Obligation, including the pricing terms therein, to UBS. UBS will have the right in its sole discretion to enter into an Additional Credit Default Swap as Seller with a counterparty as Buyer with respect to any Reference Obligation identified by the Servicer. For the avoidance of doubt, as of the date hereof, there have been no Floating Amounts paid in respect of the CDS Portfolio.

- (B) Hedging Transactions. With the prior written consent of the Servicer, UBS (or any of its Affiliates) may enter into a Hedging Transaction in respect of any one or a group of Credit Default Swaps with respect to which it acts as Seller. UBS (or its Affiliates) may terminate, in part or in whole, or amend any such Hedging Transaction upon the liquidation of the related Credit Default Swaps or, after consultation with the Servicer, at any other time. In addition, on the Pricing Date or on any other date determined by UBS in its reasonable discretion, UBS shall (i) terminate any Hedging Transactions in respect of any Credit Default Swaps, and (ii) assist the Servicer in arranging for the Issuer to enter into a hedging agreement for the account of the Issuer with respect to the portfolio of Credit Default Swaps to be entered into directly or indirectly by the Issuer on the Closing Date. Upon written request by the Servicer, UBS (or the relevant Affiliate) will provide the Servicer with copies of each Hedging Transaction confirmation; provided, however, that the identity of the related swap counterparty shall be disclosed to the Servicer only to the extent such counterparty provides its prior written consent thereto.
- (C) Limit on Amount CDS Portfolio and Collateral Portfolio. The Aggregate Portfolio Balance shall not exceed U.S.$817,940,000 (or such other amount as the parties hereto may otherwise agree in writing).
- (D) Holding Credit Default Swaps. UBS shall hold all Credit Default Swaps and Hedging Transactions in the Warehouse Account pending the termination or novation of such Credit Default Swaps pursuant to Sections 5 or 6 hereof and the termination of the related Hedging Transactions. With respect to each Credit Default Swap and each related Hedging Transaction held in the Warehouse Account, UBS shall, until conveyed, transferred or sold to the Issuer or otherwise disposed of in accordance with this Agreement, be entitled, subject to the provisions of Sections 5 and 6 hereof, to (1) receive and retain any and all proceeds (including, without limitation, any premiums, floating amounts and other payments) made to it under such Credit Default Swaps and Hedging Transactions; (2) exercise any and all other rights with respect to such Credit Default Swaps and Hedging Transactions and (3) transfer or hedge the credit or other risks associated with such Credit Default Swaps and Hedging Transactions.
- (E) Servicer Duties. The Servicer shall not identify any Reference Obligation that it knows or (consistent with the customary standards, policies and procedures followed by institutional managers of national standing relating to assets of the nature and character of the CDS Portfolio) should have known that (A) any of the Eligibility Criteria will not be satisfied by such Reference Obligation or by the portfolio of Reference Obligations immediately after UBS enters into such Credit Default Swap or (B) the exposure to such Reference Obligation by the Issuer on the Closing Date would cause the Issuer to be engaged in a trade or business within the United States for United States Federal income tax purposes (provided that the Servicer shall be deemed to comply with this clause (B) to the extent it complies with the procedures set forth in Annex B).

- (F) Financing Fee. As consideration for entering into the Credit Default Swaps, UBS, shall be entitled to receive a monthly fee (the "Financing Fee") equal to 0.05% per annum of the average daily outstanding notional balance of the CDS Portfolio for the applicable monthly period, which Financing Fee will be deducted monthly from the premiums received by UBS in its capacity as Seller.
3. Form of Documentation. Each Existing Credit Default Swap between UBS, acting as Seller, and a counterparty, acting as Buyer, has been documented in the form of (i) the ISDA Master Agreement and Schedule currently in effect between UBS and the related counterparty, which documents are confidential between UBS and such counterparty and (ii) an ISDA published confirmation for Credit Derivative Transaction on Collateralized Debt Obligation with Pay-As-You-Go or Physical Settlement (Dealer Form) consistent with the terms specified in the Original Synthetic Warehouse Agreement. Each Additional Credit Default Swap between UBS, acting as Seller, and a counterparty, acting as Buyer, will be documented in the form of (i) the ISDA Master Agreement and Schedule currently in effect between UBS and the related counterparty, which documents are confidential between UBS and such counterparty and (ii) the Confirmation attached hereto as Exhibit B, consistent with the terms specified in this Agreement. Upon written request by the Servicer, UBS (or the relevant Affiliate) will provide the Servicer with copies of each Credit Default Swap confirmation or Additional Credit Default Swap confirmation; provided, however, that the identity of the related swap counterparty shall be disclosed to the Servicer only to the extent such counterparty provides its prior written consent thereto.
4. Terms of Credit Default Swaps. From the Effective Date through the Scheduled Termination Date (as such capitalized terms are defined in the Credit Default Swaps) or earlier in each case as specified in the related Credit Default Swap, UBS as Seller will be entitled to receive from the Buyer a Fixed Amount specified in the related Credit Default Swap representing the premium for the protection purchased and upon the occurrence of certain designated events in the related Credit Default Swap, UBS as Seller will be required to make Floating Payments to the Buyer that will mirror the performance of the underlining Reference Obligations. Upon the occurrence of specified Credit Events in the related Credit Default Swap, the Buyer will upon delivery of notice to UBS as Seller have the right to terminate the Credit Default Swap and require UBS as Seller to purchase the Deliverable Obligation to physically settle the transaction. To the extent that there are reimbursement payments required pursuant to the terms of the related Credit Default Swap, the Buyer will be required to pay such amounts to UBS in the form of Additional Fixed Payments.
5. Novation and/or Termination of Credit Default Swaps; Procedures on Closing Date.

(A) The Servicer shall notify UBS promptly if at any time during the term of this Agreement it becomes aware that a Reference Obligation or the related Credit Default Swap does not conform to the Eligibility Criteria. UBS shall be entitled in good faith to designate any Reference Obligation (and the related Credit Default Swap) as an Ineligible Security and (ii) in its sole discretion to remove any such Reference Obligation (and the related Credit Default Swap) from the CDS Portfolio. Any Credit Default Swap the Reference Obligation of which UBS does not designate (or does not agree with the Servicer's designation) as an Ineligible Security shall be deemed to be an "Eligible Credit Default Swap" and for the avoidance of doubt, any Credit Default Swap the Reference Obligation of which is removed from the CDS Portfolio may be terminated or novated by UBS in its sole discretion, subject only to the consent of the related counterparty. In connection with any election by UBS to remove any Ineligible Security from the CDS Portfolio, the Servicer, subject to the consent of the related counterparty, shall have the right to require UBS to assign its exposure under such Credit Default Swap to the Servicer or any of its Affiliates in lieu of terminating such Credit Default Swap or novating its position thereunder to a third party; provided that UBS, at any time prior to the consummation of any such novation and without liability to the Servicer or its Affiliates, may rescind its election to terminate or assign such Ineligible Security. To the extent any such Credit Default Swaps are terminated or novated, or at UBS's discretion, such exposure is retained following the designation of such Reference Obligations as Ineligible Securities or otherwise pursuant to Section 6, UBS shall determine the Replacement Gain or Replacement Loss relating to such Credit Default Swaps as follows:

(1) To the extent there are any net replacement or termination payments made by a counterparty or dealer to UBS in connection with a novation or termination of a Credit Default Swap or a Hedging Transaction, such amount shall constitute the "Replacement Gain" with respect thereto.

(2) To the extent there are any net replacement or termination payments payable by UBS to a counterparty or dealer in connection with a novation or termination of a Credit Default Swap or a Hedging Transaction, such amount shall be the "Replacement Loss" with respect thereto.

(3) To the extent UBS retains such exposure, the Replacement Gain and Replacement Loss will be imputed based on the arithmetic average of at least three bids (or, if UBS is unable to obtain three such bids having made commercially reasonable efforts, such lesser number of bids as UBS is able to obtain) obtained by or on behalf of UBS from nationally recognized derivatives dealers in the relevant market (no more than one of which may be UBS or any of its Affiliates; provided that any such bid must be provided in good faith) to assume UBS's position under such Credit Default Swap.

(B) On the Closing Date:

(1) UBS shall have the right to enter into the following arrangements at its discretion with respect to Eligible Credit Default Swaps:

(a) A novation of the Eligible Credit Default Swaps to the Issuer;

(b) With the consent of the Servicer, a novation of the Eligible Credit Default Swaps to a third party counterparty, which counterparty shall simultaneously enter into Credit Default Swaps with the Issuer on the same terms as the Existing Credit Default Swaps and referencing the Reference Obligations that the counterparty is selling protection on pursuant to the Eligible Credit Default Swaps; or

(c) A purchase of credit protection from the Issuer pursuant to credit default swaps substantially in the form of the Credit Default Swaps that reference the Reference Obligations that UBS is selling protection on pursuant to the Eligible Credit Default Swaps.

To the extent that UBS opts to enter into the arrangements specified in (a), (b) or (c) above, it shall at least three Business Days prior to the Closing Date enter into a Forward Commitment Agreement (the "Forward Commitment Agreement") with the Issuer (or with respect to (b) above, it shall enter into a Forward Commitment Agreement with the related third party counterparty), pursuant to which the Issuer or such third party counterparty, as the case may be, will commit to either (i) assume all of the obligations of UBS by way of a novation or (ii) sell credit protection to UBS on the same terms as the existing Eligible Credit Default Swaps and referencing the Reference Obligations that are the subject of the Eligible Credit Default Swaps, as applicable. Notwithstanding the foregoing, to the extent that UBS elects to enter into the arrangements specified in clause (a) or (b) above, it shall be entitled to receive from the Buyer of protection under the Eligible Credit Default Swaps, any Additional Fixed Payments due and payable thereunder and such amount shall be payable by UBS to the CDO Fund and SOHC, collectively, to the extent the CDO Fund and SOHC has already reimbursed UBS for such amount, and allocated between the CDO Fund and SOHC on the basis of their respective Allocation Percentages. In the case of Eligible Credit Default Swaps novated to a third party counterparty, such right to receive Additional Fixed Payments shall be evidenced by a letter agreement (the "CDS Supplemental Agreement") between UBS and the third party counterparty.

To the extent that UBS elects to enter into the arrangements specified in (c) above, it shall be entitled to receive an annual intermediation fee of 0.02% per annum that will be deducted from the premiums payable by UBS in its capacity as protection buyer to the Issuer in its capacity as protection seller. To the extent that UBS opts to enter into the arrangements specified in (b) above, the counterparty shall be entitled to receive an annual credit swap counterparty fee to be agreed upon by the Servicer and UBS that will be deducted from the premiums payable by such counterparty in its capacity as protection buyer to the Issuer in its capacity as protection seller.

(2) An amount equal to the excess, if any, of (x) the sum of (1) the aggregate Floating Amount payments and Physical Settlement Amount payments made by UBS with respect to all of the Credit Default Swaps as to which a Floating Amount Event or a Credit Event occurred under the terms thereof, plus (2) the aggregate amount of Net Hedging Payments made by UBS with respect to all Hedging Transactions related to the Credit Default Swaps, plus (3) the aggregate Replacement Losses determined with respect to all of the Credit Default Swaps and the related Hedging Transactions that were terminated or novated or as to which the exposure was retained by UBS, in each case upon the designation of the Reference Obligation relating to such Credit Default Swap as an Ineligible Security (such amount in this clause (x), the "CDS Losses") over (y) the sum of (1) the aggregate amount of all Fixed Amounts and Additional Fixed Payments received by UBS with respect to all Credit Default Swaps in excess of the related Financing Fee plus (2) the aggregate amount of Net Hedging Receipts received by UBS with respect to all of the Hedging Transactions related to the Credit Default Swaps, plus (3) the aggregate Replacement Gains determined with respect to all of the Credit Default Swaps that were terminated or novated or as to which the exposure was retained by UBS, in each case upon the designation of the Reference Obligation relating to such Credit Default Swap as an Ineligible Security (such amount in this clause (y), the "CDS Gains") shall collectively be paid by each of the CDO Fund and SOHC after notice from UBS of the amount due, by wire transfer in immediately available funds (i) on the Termination Date in the case of a Termination Date occurring on (a) March 14, 2009, (b) March 14, 2010 or (c) the Closing Date or (ii) three Business Days after the Termination Date in the case of any other Termination Date. Such CDS Loss shall be allocated among the CDO Fund and SOHC on the basis of their respective Allocation Percentages.

(3) an amount equal to the excess, if any, of (x) the CDS Gains over (y) the CDS Losses shall be paid by UBS to the CDO Fund and SOHC, collectively. Such CDS Gains shall be allocated among the CDO Fund and SOHC on the basis of their respective Allocation Percentages.

To the extent the Closing Date fails to occur, allocation of CDS Losses, CDS Gains and any other amounts payable hereunder will be determined in accordance with the provisions of Section 6 hereof.

6. Failure to Close; Termination Date.

- (A) If the Closing Date fails to occur on or prior to the Termination Date, then UBS may, with the consent of the related counterparty, either (at the election of the Servicer; provided that notice of such election is received on or prior to the Termination Date) (i) terminate each Credit Default Swap or (ii) novate each Credit Default Swap to a third party or to the Servicer (or any Affiliate of the Servicer designated by the Servicer), in each case, on the Termination Date.
- (B) To the extent there are any CDS Gains, 100% of any such CDS Gains will be paid by UBS to the CDO Fund and SOHC, collectively. Such CDS Gains shall be allocated between the CDO Fund and SOHC on the basis of their respective Allocation Percentages. UBS shall pay any CDS Gains to each of the CDO Fund and SOHC within three Business Days after the Termination Date by wire transfer in immediately available funds.
- (C) To the extent there are any CDS Losses, the CDO Fund and SOHC shall collectively be responsible for 100% of any such CDS Losses. Such CDS Losses shall be allocated between the CDO Fund and SOHC on the basis of their respective Allocation Percentages. Each of the CDO Fund and SOHC shall, after notice of the amount due from UBS, remit such amounts by wire transfer in immediately available funds to UBS within three Business Days after the Termination Date.
7. Set-off. If any amount is due from UBS to the CDO Fund or SOHC pursuant to this Agreement, UBS shall promptly pay such amount on the Termination Date after deducting first therefrom all amounts due from the CDO Fund or SOHC to UBS or UBS AG, in each case solely under this Agreement or the New Cash Warehouse Agreement.
8. Notices. Unless expressly provided otherwise in writing by the parties hereto, all notices, requests, demands and other communications required or permitted under this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been duly given, made and received when delivered against receipt or upon actual receipt of registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, or in the case of facsimile or e-mail, when confirmation of transmission is received, addressed as set forth below:

Any party hereto may alter the address or facsimile number to which communications or copies are to be sent by giving notice of such change of address in conformity with the provisions of this Section 8 for the giving of notice.

9. Term. This Agreement shall continue in full force and effect and shall be irrevocable by any party hereto until the Termination Date; provided, however, that Sections 4, 5, 6, 12, 13 and 14 shall survive the termination of this Agreement.

10. Representations and Acknowledgements.

(A) Each of the parties represents and warrants to the other parties that:

- (1) it is duly authorized to execute and deliver this Agreement and/to perform its obligations hereunder and has taken all necessary action to authorize such execution, delivery and performance;
- (2) the person signing this Agreement on its behalf is duly authorized to do so on its behalf;

(4) the execution, delivery and performance by it of this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby will not violate any law, ordinance, charter, by-law, partnership agreement or rule applicable to it or any other agreement by which it is bound or by which any of its assets are affected. Each party shall be deemed to repeat all of the foregoing representations made by it on each date on which UBS purchases any Collateral Obligation.

(C) Each of the CDO Fund, SOHC and the Company hereby acknowledges that:

(2) Information which is held within UBS, or within the UBS Group, but of which none of the individuals involved in this Agreement (including in the warehousing of Credit Default Swaps pursuant to this Agreement) actually has (or without breach of internal procedures can properly obtain) knowledge, will not for any purpose be taken into account in determining UBS' responsibilities hereunder;

(4) In the ordinary course of business, UBS and its Affiliates may trade the Reference Obligations comprising the CDS Portfolio for its own account and for the accounts of customers, and may at any time hold a long or short position in such obligations.

(D) Each of the parties acknowledge and agree that:

(1) Until a novation of any Eligible Credit Default Swap to the Issuer or a third party pursuant to the Section 5(B)(1)(a) or (b) of this Agreement or the termination of any Credit Default Swap, UBS is the owner of and has sole "control" "control" (within the meaning of Articles 8 and 9 of the UCC) over the CDS Portfolio and neither the Issuer, the CDO Fund, the Company, the Servicer nor SOHC has any rights in or title to any Credit Default Swap in the CDS Portfolio.

(2) This Agreement and any Forward Commitment Agreement entered into pursuant to this Agreement is intended to be and shall constitute either (a) a "securities contract" within the meaning of Section 741(7) of the Bankruptcy Code, 11 U.S.C. § 741(7), (b) a "forward contract" within the meaning of Section 101(25) of the Bankruptcy Code, 11 U.S.C. § 101(25) or (c) a "swap agreement" within the meaning of Section 101(53B) of the Bankruptcy Code, 11 U.S.C. § 101(53B).

11. Activity of the Servicer; Written Disclosure Statement.

- (A) The Company agrees to act as Servicer hereunder and to perform the duties and obligations of the Servicer described herein. The Servicer shall discharge its duties under this Agreement, using a degree of skill and attention no less than that which the Servicer exercises with respect to comparable assets that it manages for itself and others with similar investment objectives in accordance with its customary practices and procedures and no less than that which institutional money managers exercise with respect to comparable assets.
- (B) The Servicer will not be liable to UBS or any other Person for any acts or omissions by the Servicer or any Affiliate of the Servicer, or any of their directors, officers, members, agents, equity holders, advisors, attorneys or employees under or in connection with this Agreement, or for any decrease in the value of the CDS Portfolio, except by reason of acts or omissions constituting bad faith, willful misconduct or gross negligence in the performance of, or reckless disregard with respect to, the duties of the Servicer hereunder. For the avoidance of doubt, the provisions of this Section 11(B) are not intended to and shall not affect any liability that the Servicer may otherwise have under and pursuant to any other agreement.
- (C) The Servicer will not be entitled to compensation under this Agreement. Each party will be responsible for its own costs and expenses incurred in connection with this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby except as provided for in Section 6.

- (D) The Servicer shall provide the Issuer (with a copy to UBS) with a copy of Part II of the Servicer's Form ADV for attachment as an exhibit to the final offering memorandum no later than two Business Days prior to the printing of the final offering memorandum for the CDO Securities.
- (E) If requested, the Servicer shall provide its auditors with information regarding the mark-to-market value of the Collateral Portfolio and the CDS Portfolio as of the date hereof and, if further requested, it shall periodically provide its auditors with updates of such information.

12. Deposit of Cash and Eligible Securities.

Each of the CDO Fund and SOHC collectively hereby agrees to transfer to the Deposit Account cash and Eligible Securities to secure its obligations to UBS hereunder and under the New Cash Warehouse Agreement in the amounts set forth below (collectively, the "Deposit"):

- (A) On the date of execution of this Agreement, an amount equal to (i) U.S.$20,000,000 in cash and (ii) U.S.$53,960,000 in Eligible Securities (collectively, the "Initial Deposit"); provided that, for the avoidance of doubt, the outstanding principal amount of each Eligible Security shall be determined after giving effect to the valuation percentages specified in Annex C hereto. The Initial Deposit shall be allocated 51% to the CDO Fund and 49% to SOHC. Dividends, distributions, interest payments and similar amounts representing investment earnings paid in respect of the Eligible Securities shall be deposited in the Deposit Account and applied in accordance with Section 14(C) hereof.
- (B) On the first and third Tuesday of each calendar month, or the next following Business Day if such Tuesday is not a Business Day, except that if such following Business Day occurs in the following calendar month, then the immediately preceding Business Day (each, a "Semi-Monthly Determination Date"), UBS shall determine (i) the aggregate amount of CDS Losses as of such Semi-Monthly Determination Date, assuming designation as of such date of each Eligible Credit Default Swap as an Ineligible Security and termination as of such date of each Eligible Credit Default Swap and each related Hedging Transaction (such amount, the "CDS Exposure"), (ii) the sum of (A) the aggregate Realized Losses incurred as of such date with respect to the Collateral Obligations and (B) the aggregate amount of Unrealized Losses incurred as of such date in respect of Collateral Obligations that have not been liquidated or deemed liquidated hereunder pursuant to Sections 4, 5 or 6 of the New Cash Warehouse Agreement (such sum, the "Cash Exposure"), (iii) the Aggregate Net Exposure Amount as of such date, (iv) the Deposit Threshold Exposure Amount as of such date, and (v) the aggregate required amount of Additional Deposits, if any, as of such date; provided that for purposes of calculating the balance on deposit in (or amounts transferred to) the Deposit Account for any purpose hereunder or under the New Cash Warehouse Agreement, any Eligible Security credited to the Deposit Account shall be included in such balance at the Market Value thereof.

- (C) If, as of any Semi-Monthly Determination Date, the Deposit Threshold Exposure Amount is greater than or equal to U.S.$100,000,000, then, for each increment of U.S.$100,000,000 included in the Deposit Threshold Exposure Amount, each of the CDO Fund and SOHC shall within two Business Days after such Semi-Monthly Determination Date, transfer to the Deposit Account an amount in cash and/or Eligible Securities equal to U.S.$10,000,000 (each such required amount, an "Additional Deposit"), which amount shall be allocated between the CDO Fund and SOHC in accordance with their respective Allocation Percentages; provided, however, that in no event shall an Additional Deposit be required in respect of any U.S.$100,000,000 increment of a Deposit Threshold Exposure Amount in respect of which an Additional Deposit was previously made in connection with the calculation of the Deposit Threshold Exposure Amount as of a prior Semi-Monthly Determination Date.
- (D) If as of the first Tuesday of any calendar month occurring after March 14, 2009, or the next following Business Day if such Tuesday is not a Business Day (each, a "Monthly Determination Date") a Material Adverse Change has occurred and is continuing, then the provisions of Section 12(C) above shall not apply on such Monthly Determination Date, and each of the CDO Fund and SOHC shall instead, within two Business Days after such Monthly Determination Date, transfer to the Deposit Account an amount in cash and/or Eligible Securities equal to the Aggregate Net Exposure Amount as of such Monthly Determination Date, which amount shall be allocated between the CDO Fund and SOHC in accordance with their respective Allocation Percentages.
- (E) Amounts on deposit in the Deposit Account shall be subject to the security interest created by Section 13 and shall be applied in accordance with Section 14.
13. Security Interest. The CDO Fund and SOHC each hereby grants to UBS, for the benefit of itself and UBSS, a continuing first priority security interest in and right of setoff against the Deposits (as and to the extent provided in Section 14), all of its rights under the Deposit Account, all other securities, money and other property credited to the Deposit Account, and all proceeds of any of the foregoing, now or hereafter delivered or deemed delivered to UBS or UBSS under this Agreement or the New Cash Warehouse Agreement (collectively, the "Collateral"), as security for the payment and performance by the CDO Fund and SOHC of their respective obligations to UBS hereunder and under the New Cash Warehouse Agreement (collectively, the "Secured Obligations"). This Agreement shall constitute a security agreement under the laws of the State of New York applicable to agreements made and to be performed therein, for the benefit of UBS. With respect to the Collateral, UBS shall have all of the rights and remedies provided to a secured party under the UCC and, in addition to its rights hereunder, any rights otherwise available to it under any other agreement or applicable law.

Each of the CDO Fund and SOHC shall cause State Street Bank and Trust Company ("State Street"), in its capacity as a "securities intermediary" (within the meaning of Section 8-102(a)(14) of the Uniform Commercial Code as in effect in the State of New York) (the "UCC"), to establish on its books and records two segregated accounts to be maintained by State Street as securities intermediary, one relating to deposits made by the CDO Fund and the other relating to deposits made by SOHC, in the name of "Highland CDO Opportunity Master Fund, L.P. – Subject to UBS Lien – Knox" and "Highland Special Opportunities Holding Company – Subject to UBS Lien – Knox," respectively, each for the benefit of UBS and UBSS as secured parties (said accounts, together with any replacements thereof or substitutions therefor, collectively, the "Deposit Account"). Each of the CDO Fund and SOHC hereby agrees to enter into an account control agreement with State Street dated as of the date hereof (the "Control Agreement") in form and substance reasonably acceptable to UBS on the date hereof with respect to the Deposit Account for the purpose of perfecting the security interest granted hereunder to UBS, for the benefit of itself and UBSS, in the Deposit Account and any "financial asset" (within the meaning of Article 8 of the UCC) credited thereto.

14. Application of Deposit Account.

- (A) Amounts up to the full amount of the Deposits (or any portion thereof) may be taken and applied by UBS on the Termination Date to the payment of amounts due and payable by SOHC and the CDO Fund hereunder and under the New Cash Warehouse Agreement, and the amounts so applied in each case shall be applied without regard to the proportion in which the CDO Fund and SOHC has made deposits, or is required to make deposits, to the Deposit Account and otherwise without regard to their respective proportionate interests in such account; provided that prior to liquidating any Eligible Security, UBS agrees to provide SOHC and the CDO Fund the opportunity to substitute cash for any Eligible Security to be liquidated to the extent such parties transfer such cash to the Deposit Account no later than the second Business Day following the date UBS gives notice that such liquidation is to occur.
- (B) Upon the completion of the sale of all Collateral Obligations under the New Cash Warehouse Agreement and the termination or novation of all Credit Default Swaps hereunder pursuant to Sections 4, 5 or 6 in connection with the Termination Date and payment of all amounts payable to UBS hereunder and under the New Cash Warehouse Agreement, UBS shall deliver to SOHC and the CDO Fund within three Business Days after the Termination Date (unless the Termination Date is also the Closing Date in which case such payment shall be made on the Termination Date) an amount, in immediately available funds, equal to the remaining Available Amount, if any, and following such delivery shall have no further obligation to deliver amounts to the CDO Fund or SOHC; provided that as between the CDO Fund and SOHC, the Available Amount shall be allocated to the CDO Fund and to SOHC in accordance with their respective Allocation Percentages.
- (C) Pursuant to the Control Agreement, (i) all cash on deposit in the Deposit Account shall be invested in Eligible Investments (as defined in the Control Agreement) at the direction of the Servicer in accordance with the Control Agreement, (ii) all income received in respect of Eligible Securities transferred to the Deposit Account by the CDO Fund shall be paid quarterly to the CDO Fund and (iii) all income received in respect of Eligible Securities transferred to the Deposit

Account by SOHC shall be paid quarterly to SOHC; provided that such quarterly payments shall be made on the second day of each February, May, August and November (or, if any such day is not a Business Day, the next succeeding Business Day) (each such day, a "Payment Date"). Any losses realized on Eligible Investments purchased with funds described in clauses (ii) and (iii) above shall be netted against the amounts payable pursuant to such clauses (ii) and (iii).

15. Choice of Law; Service of Process. This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of New York (including without limitation Sections 5-1401 and 5-1402 of the General Obligations Law of the State of New York). The parties hereto submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the federal and New York State courts located in the county of New York, New York in connection with any dispute related to this letter agreement or any of the matters contemplated hereby.
16. Access to Information. The Servicer shall afford UBS access, upon reasonable prior notice, to any information the Servicer possesses or can reasonably obtain, about the Reference Obligations, each of the underlying obligations of the Reference Obligations and their respective financial condition, results of operations, business, property, management and prospects in order to enable UBS to evaluate a proposed sale of protection on the Reference Obligations.
18. Entire Agreement; Sole Benefit. This Agreement and the New Cash Warehouse Agreement set forth the entire understanding of the parties hereto relating to the subject matter hereof, and supersede and cancel all prior and contemporaneous agreements, understandings, inducements and conditions, express or implied, oral or written, of any nature whatsoever with respect to the subject matter hereof. This Agreement may not be amended or modified except by the parties hereto in writing.

Nothing contained in this Agreement shall be deemed to indicate that this Agreement has been entered into for the benefit of any person other than the parties hereto. This Agreement shall be binding upon and shall inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns; provided, however, none of the parties hereto may assign its rights or obligations pursuant to this Agreement without the prior written consent of the other parties hereto; provided further that UBS may assign its rights and obligations hereunder to any of its Affiliates without such prior written consent.

19. Provisions Separable. If any term, provision, covenant or condition of this Agreement, or the application thereof to any party or any circumstance, is held to be unenforceable, invalid or illegal (in whole or in part) for any reason (in any relevant jurisdiction), the remaining terms, provisions, covenants and conditions of this Agreement, modified by the deletion of the unenforceable, invalid or illegal portion (in any relevant jurisdiction), will continue in full force and effect, and such unenforceability, invalidity, or illegality will not otherwise affect the enforceability, validity or legality of the remaining terms, provisions, covenants and conditions of this Agreement so long as this Agreement as so modified continues to express, without material change, the original intentions of the parties as to the subject matter hereof and the deletion of such portion of this Agreement will not substantially impair the respective expectations or reciprocal obligations of the parties or the practical realization of the benefits that would otherwise be conferred upon the parties. The parties will endeavour in good faith negotiations to replace the prohibited or unenforceable provision with a valid provision, the economic effect of which comes as close as possible to that of the prohibited or unenforceable provision.

20. Indulgences Not Waivers. Neither the failure nor any delay on the part of any party hereto to exercise any right, remedy, power or privilege under this Agreement shall operate as a waiver thereof, nor shall any single or partial exercise of any right, remedy, power or privilege preclude any other or further exercise of the same or any other right, remedy, power or privilege with respect to any occurrence be construed as a waiver of such right, remedy, power or privilege with respect to any other occurrence. No waiver shall be effective unless it is in writing and is signed by the party asserted to have granted such waiver. The rights and remedies of the parties provided herein are cumulative and are in addition to, and not exclusive of, any rights, remedies, powers or privileges provided by law.
21. Titles Not to Affect Interpretation. The titles of the sections and paragraphs contained in this Agreement are for convenience only, and they neither form part of this Agreement nor are they to be used in the construction or interpretation hereof.
22. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two or more counterparts, all of which together shall be considered a single instrument. Delivery of an executed counterpart of this Agreement by telecopier or facsimile transmission shall constitute due and sufficient delivery thereof.
23. UBS Agents. UBS may appoint any of its Affiliates (including UBS) to act as an agent for UBS hereunder.
24. Payments. Any allocation of amounts payable by one party hereunder to the other party shall promptly be paid by wire transfer on the business day following receipt of such notice of allocation.
25. Waiver and Release. Each of the parties acknowledges and agrees that none of the parties hereto shall have any further rights and/or obligations under the Original Synthetic Warehouse Agreement.
  - (A) Each of the Company, the Servicer, the CDO Fund and SOHC, on behalf of itself and its current and former parent companies, subsidiaries, affiliates, predecessors, successors and assigns (collectively, the "Highland Releasing Parties"), hereby releases and forever discharges UBS, including, but not limited to, any of its current and former parent companies, subsidiaries, affiliates, predecessors, successors and assigns and any of their past or present officers, directors, employees and agents (collectively, the "UBS Released Parties") of and from any and all actions, causes of action, demands, rights, suits, debts, dues, charges, fees, costs, liabilities, complaints, claims, obligations, promises, agreements, controversies, damages and expenses of any nature whatsoever, whether in law or in equity or otherwise, whether arising under contract, tort, statute, or any other legal theory or basis of any nature whatsoever, which such Highland Releasing Parties ever had, now have or may have had against the UBS Released Parties, or any of them, from the beginning of time to the date of this Agreement, whether known or unknown, suspected or unsuspected, claimed or concealed, contingent or non-contingent, asserted or not asserted, that relate to the subject matter of the Original Synthetic Warehouse Agreement and/or the transactions contemplated thereby.

- (B) UBS, on behalf of itself and its respective current and former parent companies, subsidiaries, affiliates, predecessors, successors and assigns, hereby releases and forever discharges the Company, the Servicer, the CDO Fund and SOHC, including, but not limited to, any of their respective current and former parent companies, subsidiaries, affiliates, predecessors, successors and assigns and any of their past or present officers, directors, employees and agents (collectively, the "Highland Released Parties") of and from any and all actions, causes of action, demands, rights, suits, debts, dues, charges, fees, costs, liabilities, complaints, claims, obligations, promises, agreements, controversies, damages and expenses of any nature whatsoever, whether in law or in equity or otherwise, whether arising under contract, tort, statute, or any other legal theory or basis of any nature whatsoever, which UBS and such other Persons ever had, now has or may have had against the Highland Released Parties, or any of them, from the beginning of time to the date of this Agreement, whether known or unknown, suspected or unsuspected, claimed or concealed, contingent or non-contingent, asserted or not asserted, that relate to the subject matter of the Original Synthetic Warehouse Agreement and/or the transactions contemplated thereby.
- (C) All CDS Losses determined in respect of the Existing CDS Portfolio shall be payable solely in accordance with the terms of this Agreement.

ANNEX A

ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA

Except as otherwise agreed in writing by UBS and the Servicer, no Credit Default Swap may reference a Reference Obligation unless the Reference Obligation:

- (A) is a U.S. dollar denominated collateralized loan obligation security issued by a U.S. issuer, a Qualified SPV Issuer or a Qualifying Foreign Issuer or a Synthetic Security and is not a Defaulted Security;
- (B) provides for a fixed amount of principal to be payable at maturity;
- (C) is publicly rated by at least one Rating Agency or otherwise meets the requirements to obtain a rating therefrom;
- (D) is a security issued by an entity treated as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes and no payments on the related Credit Default Swap are subject to withholding tax imposed by any jurisdiction unless the counterparty is required to make "gross-up" payments that cover the full amount of any such withholding tax on an after tax basis;
- (E) is not an obligation pursuant to which future advances or payments may be required;
- (F) has not been put on a watch list for a possible ratings downgrade by Moody's or S&P, as applicable unless the Company notifies UBS and UBS approves of such Reference Obligation;
- (G) is a security which complies with the tax restrictions set forth in Annex B;
- (H) is not margin stock (as defined in Regulation U) and is not convertible into, and has no associated rights, warrants or options to purchase, margin stock;
- (I) satisfies other criteria and collateral quality tests to be agreed between the Servicer and UBS.

The foregoing criteria as applicable to the Transaction are subject to amendment by UBS, in its reasonable discretion, from time to time on or prior to the Settlement Date in accordance with (i) the requirements of the Rating Agencies, (ii) investor feedback received by UBS or (iii) if applicable, the requirements of any monoline insurer, hedge provider or other credit enhancement provider to the Issuer. For the avoidance of doubt, the determination of whether a Reference Obligation complies with the Eligibility Criteria shall take into account not only the individual characteristics of such Reference Obligation, but also all of the Reference Obligations that then comprise the CDS Portfolio and the effect on the CDS Portfolio of inclusion of such Reference Obligation.

The parties hereto agree that the Servicer shall have the right to participate in the negotiation of any term sheet or engagement letter with any monoline insurer, hedge provider or other credit enhancement provider to the Issuer.

EXHIBIT A

DEFINITIONS

"Accumulation Period" means the period commencing on the date of execution of this Agreement and ending on, and including, the Termination Date.

"Affiliate" means, in relation to any specified Person, (a) any other Person who, directly or indirectly, is in control of, or controlled by, or is under common control with, such Person or (b) any other Person who is a director, officer, member or partner of (i) such Person or (ii) any such other Person described in clause (a) above; provided that no other special purpose company to which an administrator of the Issuer provides directors and acts as share trustee shall be an Affiliate of the Issuer. For the purposes of this definition, control of a Person means the power, direct or indirect, (i) to vote more than 50% of the securities having ordinary voting power for the election of directors of such Person or (ii) to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of such Person whether by contract or otherwise.

"Aggregate Net Exposure Amount" means, as of any date of determination, the amount, if any, by which (i) the sum of the CDS Exposure and the Cash Exposure as of such date exceeds (ii) the sum of (a) the balance on deposit in the Deposit Account as of such date and (b) the sum of the Positive Carry as of such date with respect to each Collateral Obligation (in each case only to the extent not previously deposited in the Deposit Account).

"Allocation Percentage" means (a) with respect to the CDO Fund, (i) if the Transaction has closed, the percentage obtained by multiplying 100 by a fraction, the numerator of which is the par value of the subordinated notes or other equity issued to the CDO Fund in connection with the Transaction and the denominator of which is the aggregate par value of all subordinated notes or other equity issued to the CDO Fund, HFP and any subsidiaries of Highland Financial Partners, LP, in connection with the closing of the Transaction and (if the Transaction has not closed, 51%; and (b) with respect to SOHC, (i) if the Transaction has closed, the percentage obtained by subtracting the percentage obtained for the CDO Fund under clause (a)(i) from 100% and (ii) if the Transaction has not closed, 49%.

"Available Amount" means, as of any date of determination, an amount equal to the amount on deposit in the Deposit Account as of such date of determination.

"Business Day" means any day of the year other than a Saturday, Sunday or other day on which commercial banking institutions in New York City or in the Cayman Islands are authorized or obligated by law, regulation or executive order to be closed.

"CDS Gains" has the meaning assigned thereto in Section 5(B)(2).

"CDS Losses" has the meaning assigned thereto in Section 5(B)(2).

"Closing Date" means the date of the closing of the Transaction and the issuance of the CDO Securities.

"Defaulted Security" means any Reference Obligation with respect to which (a) the issuer thereof has defaulted in the payment of principal or interest (beyond any applicable grace or notice period) or (b) pursuant to the indenture or other agreement pursuant to which such Reference Obligation was issued or created or any other agreement that governs the terms of or secures such Reference Obligation, there has occurred any default or event of default which entitles the holders of such Reference Obligation, with notice or lapse of time or both, to accelerate the maturity (whether by mandatory prepayment, mandatory redemption or otherwise) of all or a portion of the principal amount of such Reference Obligation and (x) in the case of a default or event of default consisting of a failure of the obligor on such Reference Obligation to make required interest payments, such Reference Obligation has not resumed current cash payments of interest (whether or not any waiver or restructuring has been effected) or (y) in the case of any other default or event of default, such default or event of default is continuing.

"Deposit Threshold Exposure Amount" means, as of any date of determination, the amount, if any, by which (i) the Aggregate Net Exposure Amount as of such date exceeds (ii) the Initial Net Exposure Amount.

"Deposits" means the Initial Deposit, each Additional Deposit and all other amounts required hereunder or under the New Cash Warehouse Agreement to be credited or otherwise transferred to the Deposit Account, to the extent so credited or otherwise transferred and remaining on deposit therein.

"Designated Security" means a Reference Obligation that UBS and the Servicer mutually agree should be liquidated in accordance with this Agreement.

"Eligibility Criteria" means the criteria set forth in Annex A attached hereto.

"Eligible Security" means any security identified on Annex C hereto, and any additional security approved by UBS.

"Hedging Transaction" means an interest rate exchange or protection agreement or short sales of securities, entered into by UBS or any of its Affiliates in accordance with this Agreement.

"HFP" means Highland Financial Partners.

"Ineligible Security" means, any Reference Obligation in the CDS Portfolio which has become ineligible for sale to the Issuer on the Closing Date as a result of the failure of such Reference Obligation to conform to the Eligibility Criteria as it exists at such time of determination (whether as a result of a change in the Eligibility Criteria required by a Rating Agency, a request by potential investors or otherwise). Each of the following is an "Ineligible Security": a Defaulted Security, a Designated Security and a Written Down Security.

"Initial Net Exposure Amount" means U.S.$111,767,486.88, being the amount by which the Aggregate Net Exposure Amount as of the date hereof exceeds the Initial Deposit.

"Material Adverse Change" means the occurrence of any one or more of the following events: (w) there shall have occurred after the date of this Agreement with respect to the Company, the CDO Fund or SOHC, any change in the business, ownership, operations, historical investment performance, financial condition or prospects of the Company, the CDO Fund or SOHC or any other change relating to the Company, the CDO Fund or SOHC that would materially adversely affect or otherwise prevent the successful implementation or execution of the Transaction or the placement of the CDO Securities or the performance of the CDO Fund or SOHC's obligations under this Agreement or the New Cash Warehouse Agreement or the performance of the Company's payment obligations under the Engagement Letter; provided that if the Company, the CDO Fund and/or SOHC's ability to perform such obligations has been demonstrated at any time following such event, then no Material Adverse Change will be deemed to have occurred and be continuing at such time; (x) the Company, the CDO Fund or SOHC shall be indicted for fraud, misappropriation or embezzlement, or other criminal activity; (y) the Company, the CDO Fund or SOHC is wound up or dissolved or there is appointed over it or a substantial part of its assets a receiver, administrator, administrative receiver, trustee or similar officer; or (z) the historical investment performance of the Company, the CDO Fund or SOHC provided to UBS or any prospective investor in the CDO Securities by the Company, the CDO Fund or SOHC in connection with the Transaction shall be restated or shall have been incorrect in any respect that would, in the case of this clause (z), materially adversely affect their ability to perform their obligations under this Agreement.

"Pricing Date" means the date on which UBS and the Issuer have priced the Notes.

"Qualified Foreign Issuer" means a corporation, partnership or other issuer located in Australia, Canada, France, Germany, Ireland, the Netherlands, Switzerland, Sweden or the United Kingdom; provided that such country's unguaranteed unsecured and otherwise unsupported long-term U.S. dollar denominated sovereign debt obligations are rated "Aa2" or better by Moody's and "AA" or better by S&P.

"Qualified SPV Issuer" means a corporation, partnership or other issuer located in Bermuda, the Cayman Islands, the Netherlands Antilles, the Channel Islands or the British Virgin Islands.

"Rating Agencies" means Standard & Poor's Ratings Services (a division of The McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc.) ("S&P") and Moody's Investor Services, Inc. ("Moody's") and any other nationally recognized credit rating agency selected by UBS or the Servicer to rate the Notes.

"Regulation U" means Regulation U of the FRB, 12 C.F.R. § 221, or any successor regulation.

"Structured Finance Security" means a collateralized loan obligation.

"Termination Date" has the meaning assigned thereto in the New Cash Warehouse Agreement.

"Transaction" has the meaning assigned thereto in the Recitals.

"UBS Group" has the meaning assigned thereto in Section 10(4)(C).

"Written Down Security" means a Reference Obligation that is a part of an issue as to which the aggregate par amount of the entire class of such Reference Obligation and all other securities secured by the same pool of collateral that rank senior or pari passu in priority of payment to such class exceeds the aggregate par amount (including reserved interest or other amounts available for overcollateralization) of all collateral securing such issue (excluding defaulted collateral).

ISDA STANDARD TERMS SUPPLEMENT FOR USE WITH CREDIT DERIVATIVE TRANSACTIONS ON COLLATERALIZED DEBT OBLIGATION WITH PAY-AS-YOU-GO OR PHYSICAL SETTLEMENT<sup>1</sup>

(published on August 8, 2007)

This ISDA Standard Terms Supplement for use with Credit Derivative Transactions on Collateralized Debt Obligation with Pay-As-You-Go or Physical Settlement (the "CDS on CDO Terms") hereby incorporates by reference the definitions and provisions contained in the 2003 ISDA Credit Derivatives Definitions as published by the International Swaps and Derivatives Association, Inc. ("ISDA") (the "Credit Derivatives Definitions"). In the event of any inconsistency between the Credit Derivatives Definitions and these CDS on CDO Terms, these CDS on CDO Terms will govern.<sup>2</sup>

References to the "Reference Obligation" in these CDS on CDO Terms or in the relevant Confirmation shall be to the terms of the Reference Obligation (as defined below) set out in the Underlying Instruments (as defined below) as amended from time to time unless otherwise specified below.

1. General Terms:

Trade Date:	As shown in the relevant Confirmation.
Effective Date:	As shown in the relevant Confirmation.
Scheduled Termination Date:	The Legal Final Maturity Date of the Reference Obligation, subject to adjustment in accordance with the Following Business Day Convention.

THE FOOTNOTES TO THIS CDS ON CDO STANDARD TERMS SUPPLEMENT ARE PROVIDED FOR CLARIFICATION ONLY AND DO NOT CONSTITUTE ADVICE AS TO THE STRUCTURING OR DOCUMENTATION OF A CREDIT DERIVATIVE TRANSACTION.

ISDA has not undertaken to review all applicable laws and regulations of any jurisdiction in which the Credit Derivatives Definitions or these CDS on CDO Terms may be used. Therefore, parties are advised to consider the application of any relevant jurisdiction's regulatory, tax, accounting, exchange or other requirements that may exist in connection with the entering into and documenting of a privately negotiated credit derivative transaction.

<sup>1</sup> The definitions and provisions in this ISDA Standard Terms Supplement for use with Credit Derivatives Transactions on Collateralized Debt Obligation with Pay-As-You-Go or Physical Settlement may be incorporated into a Confirmation or other document (including in electronic form) (a "Confirmation") by wording in the Confirmation indicating that, or the extent to which, the Confirmation is subject to this ISDA Standard Terms Supplement for use with Credit Derivatives Transactions on Collateralized Debt Obligation with Pay-As-You-Go or Physical Settlement. All definitions and provisions so incorporated in a Confirmation will be applicable to that Confirmation unless otherwise provided in that Confirmation.

<sup>2</sup> Parties who wish to novate a trade documented by way of a Confirmation incorporating these CDS on CDO Terms should consider using the Form of Novation Confirmation set out in the Schedule to this ISDA Standard Terms Supplement.

Termination Date:	The last to occur of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) the fifth Business Day following the Effective Maturity Date;</li> <li>(b) the last Floating Rate Payer Payment Date;</li> <li>(c) the last Delivery Date; and</li> <li>(d) the last Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date.</li> </ul>
Floating Rate Payer:	As shown in the relevant Confirmation (the "Seller").
Fixed Rate Payer:	As shown in the relevant Confirmation (the "Buyer").
Calculation Agent:	As shown in the relevant Confirmation.
Calculation Agent City:	As shown in the relevant Confirmation.
Business Day:	As shown in the relevant Confirmation.
Business Day Convention:	Following (which, with the exception of the Effective Date, the Final Amortization Date, each Reference Obligation Payment Date and the period end date of each Reference Obligation Calculation Period, shall apply to any date referred to in these CDS on CDO Terms or in the relevant Confirmation that falls on a day that is not a Business Day).
Reference Entity:	As shown in the relevant Confirmation.
Reference Obligation:	As shown in the relevant Confirmation.
	Section 2.30 of the Credit Derivatives Definitions shall not apply.
Reference Policy:	As shown in the relevant Confirmation.
Reference Price:	As shown in the relevant Confirmation.
Applicable Percentage:	On any day, a percentage equal to A divided by B. "A" means the product of the Initial Face Amount and the Initial Factor as decreased on each Delivery Date by an amount equal to (a) the outstanding principal balance of Deliverable Obligations Delivered to Seller (as adjusted by the Relevant Amount, if any) divided by the Current Factor on such day multiplied by (b) the Initial Factor. "B" means the product of the Original Principal Amount and the Initial Factor; <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) as increased by the outstanding principal</li> </ul> balance of any further issues by the Reference Entity that are fungible with and form part of the same legal series as the Reference Obligation; and

- (b) as decreased by any cancellations of some or all of the Outstanding Principal Amount resulting from purchases of the Reference Obligation by or on behalf of the Reference Entity.<sup>3</sup>

Initial Face Amount:

As shown in the relevant Confirmation.

<sup>3</sup> This represents the percentage covered by the relevant Transaction of the Outstanding Principal Amount. It may be more than 100%.

Reference Obligation Notional Amount:

On the Effective Date, the product of:

- (a) the Original Principal Amount;
- (b) the Initial Factor; and
- (c) the Applicable Percentage.

Following the Effective Date, the Reference Obligation Notional Amount will be:

- (i) decreased on each day on which a Principal Payment is made by the relevant Principal Payment Amount;
- (ii) decreased on the day, if any, on which a Failure to Pay Principal occurs by the relevant Principal Shortfall Amount;
- (iii) decreased on each day on which a Writedown occurs by the relevant Writedown Amount;
- (iv) increased on each day on which a Writedown Reimbursement occurs by any Writedown Reimbursement Amount in respect of a Writedown Reimbursement within paragraphs (ii) or (iii) of the definition of "Writedown Reimbursement"; and
- (v) decreased on each Delivery Date by an amount equal to the relevant Exercise Amount minus the amount determined pursuant to paragraph (b) of "Physical Settlement Amount" below, provided that if any Relevant Amount is applicable, the Exercise Amount will also be deemed to be decreased by such Relevant Amount (or increased by the absolute value of such Relevant Amount if such Relevant Amount is negative) with effect from such Delivery Date;

provided that if the Reference Obligation Notional Amount would be less than zero, it shall be deemed to be zero.

For the avoidance of doubt, the Reference Obligation Notional Amount shall not be increased by any deferral or capitalization of interest that relates to the Term of this Transaction or decreased by payment of any portion of the principal balance of the Reference Obligation that is attributable to the deferral or capitalization of interest during the Term of this Transaction.

Initial Payment: As shown in the relevant Confirmation.

2. Fixed Payments:

Fixed Rate Payer: Buyer

Fixed Rate: As shown in the relevant Confirmation.

Fixed Rate Payer Period End Date: The first day of each Reference Obligation Calculation Period.

Fixed Rate Payer Payment Dates: Each day falling five Business Days after a Reference Obligation Payment Date; provided that the final Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date shall fall on the fifth Business Day following the Effective Maturity Date.

Fixed Amount: With respect to any Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date, an amount equal to the product of:

- (a) the Fixed Rate;
  - (b) an amount determined by the Calculation Agent equal to:
    - (i) the sum of the Reference Obligation Notional Amount as at 5:00 p.m. in the Calculation Agent City on each day in the related Fixed Rate Payer Calculation Period (provided that, if the Reference Obligation is a Delayed Payment Reference Obligation, the Reference Obligation Notional Amount on each day from and including the first day of the related Reference Obligation Calculation Period to but excluding the relevant Reference Obligation Payment Date shall be deemed to be adjusted to take into account any adjustment to the Reference Obligation Notional Amount on such Reference Obligation Payment Date); divided by
    - (ii) the actual number of days in the related Fixed Rate Payer Calculation Period; and
  - (c) the Fixed Rate Day Count Fraction.
- Additional Fixed Amount Payment Dates:
- (a) Each Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date; and
  - (b) in relation to each Additional Fixed Payment Event occurring after the second Business Day prior to the last Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date, the fifth Business Day after Buyer has received notification from Seller or the Calculation Agent of the occurrence of such Additional Fixed Payment Event.

Additional Fixed Payments: Following the occurrence of an Additional Fixed Payment Event in respect of the Reference Obligation, Buyer shall pay the relevant Additional Fixed Amount to Seller on the first Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date falling at least two Business Days (or in the case of an Additional Fixed Payment Event that occurs after the second Business Day prior to the last Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date, five Business Days) after the delivery of a notice by the Calculation Agent to the parties or by Seller to Buyer stating that the related Additional Fixed Amount is due and showing in reasonable detail how such Additional Fixed Amount was determined; provided that any such notice must be given on or prior to the fifth Business Day following the day that is one calendar year after the Effective Maturity Date.

Additional Fixed Payment Event: The occurrence on or after the Effective Date and on or before the day that is one calendar year after the Effective Maturity Date of a Writedown Reimbursement, a Principal Shortfall Reimbursement or an Interest Shortfall Reimbursement.

Additional Fixed Amount: With respect to each Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date, an amount equal to the sum of:

- (a) the Writedown Reimbursement Payment Amount (if any);
- (b) the Principal Shortfall Reimbursement Payment Amount (if any); and
- (c) the Interest Shortfall Reimbursement Payment Amount (if any).

For the avoidance of doubt, each Writedown Reimbursement Payment Amount, Principal Shortfall Reimbursement Payment Amount or Interest Shortfall Reimbursement Payment Amount (as applicable) shall be calculated using the Applicable Percentage which takes into account the aggregate adjustment made to the Applicable Percentage in respect of all Delivery Dates that have occurred prior to the date of such calculation.

3. Floating Payments:

Floating Rate Payer: Seller.

Floating Rate Payer Payment In relation to a Floating Amount Event, the first Fixed

Dates:	Rate Payer Payment Date falling at least two Business Days (or in the case of a Floating Amount Event that occurs on the Legal Final Maturity Date or the Final Amortization Date, the fifth Business Day) after delivery of a notice by the Calculation Agent to the parties or a notice by Buyer to Seller that the related Floating Amount is due and showing in reasonable detail how such Floating Amount was determined; provided that any such notice must be given on or prior to the fifth Business Day following the Effective Maturity Date.
Floating Payments:	If a Floating Amount Event occurs, then on the relevant Floating Rate Payer Payment Date, Seller will pay the relevant Floating Amount to Buyer. For the avoidance of doubt, the Conditions to Settlement are not required to be satisfied in respect of a Floating Payment.
Implied Writedown:	As shown in the relevant Confirmation.
Floating Amount Event:	A Writedown, a Failure to Pay Principal or an Interest Shortfall.
Floating Amount:	With respect to each Floating Rate Payer Payment Date, an amount equal to the sum of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) the relevant Writedown Amount (if any);</li> <li>(b) the relevant Principal Shortfall Amount (if any); and</li> <li>(c) the relevant Interest Shortfall Payment Amount (if any).</li> </ul> For the avoidance of doubt, each Writedown Amount, Principal Shortfall Amount or Interest Shortfall Payment Amount (as applicable) shall be calculated using the Applicable Percentage which takes into account the aggregate adjustment made to the Applicable Percentage in respect of all Delivery Dates that have occurred prior to the date of such calculation.

4. Credit Events and Physical Settlement

Conditions to Settlement: Credit Event Notice

Notifying Party: Buyer

Notice of Physical Settlement

Notice of Publicly Available Information: Applicable

Public Sources: The public sources listed in Section 3.7 of the Credit Derivatives Definitions; provided that Servicer Reports in respect of the Reference Obligation and, in respect of a Distressed Ratings Downgrade Credit Event only, any public communications by any of the Rating Agencies in respect of the Reference Obligation shall also be deemed Public Sources.

Specified Number: one provided that if the Calculation Agent has previously delivered a notice to the parties or Buyer has previously delivered a notice to Seller pursuant to the definition of "Floating Rate Payer Payment Dates" above in respect of a Writedown or a Failure to Pay Principal, the only Conditions to Settlement with respect to any Credit Event shall be a Notice of Physical Settlement and, in relation to the Failure to Pay Interest Credit Event, the Additional Condition to Settlement specified below.

Additional Condition to Settlement for Failure to Pay Interest:

In addition to the Conditions to Settlement above, in respect of the Failure to Pay Interest Credit Event, if the Reference Obligation is PIK-able,<sup>4</sup> it shall be a Condition to Settlement that a period of at least 360 calendar days has elapsed since the occurrence of the Credit Event without the relevant Interest Shortfall having been reimbursed in full. For the avoidance of doubt, if it is not explicitly made clear in the Servicer Report whether or not, or to what extent, a particular Interest Shortfall has been reimbursed but the Calculation Agent determines that such Interest Shortfall has been reimbursed by a certain amount on the basis of information in such Servicer Report, then the relevant Interest Shortfall reimbursement shall be calculated by the Calculation Agent on the basis of such information.<sup>5</sup>

Additional agreements relating to Physical Settlement:

The parties agree that with respect to the Transaction and notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Credit Derivatives Definitions:

- (a) the Conditions to Settlement may be satisfied on more than one occasion;
- (b) multiple Physical Settlement Amounts may be payable by Seller;
- (c) Buyer, when providing a Notice of Physical Settlement, must specify an Exercise Amount and an Exercise Percentage;
- (d) if Buyer has delivered a Notice of Physical Settlement that specifies an Exercise Amount that is less than the Reference Obligation Notional Amount as of the date on which such Notice of Physical Settlement is delivered (calculated as though Physical Settlement in respect of all previously delivered Notices of Physical Settlement has occurred in full), the rights and obligations of the parties under the Transaction shall continue and Buyer may deliver additional Notices of Physical Settlement with respect to the initial Credit Event or with respect to any additional Credit Event at any time thereafter; and
- (e) any Notice of Physical Settlement shall be delivered no later than 30 calendar days after the fifth Business Day following the Effective Maturity Date.

<sup>5</sup> This is intended to cover any situation in which the Servicer Report does not cover Interest Shortfalls.

Section 3.2(d) of the Credit Derivatives Definitions is amended to delete the words "that is effective no later than thirty calendar days after the Event Determination Date".

Section 3.3 of the Credit Derivatives Definitions is amended so that the following is added as sub-clause (d):

"(d) the expiration of any applicable grace period for a Failure to Pay Principal Credit Event".

Credit Events:

The following Credit Events shall apply to the Transaction (and the first sentence of Section 4.1 of the Credit Derivatives Definitions shall be amended accordingly):

Failure to Pay Principal

Writedown

Failure to Pay Interest

Payment Requirement: USD 10,000

Distressed Ratings Downgrade

The definition of "Payment Requirement" in Section 4.8(d) of the Credit Derivatives Definitions shall be amended so that the words "Failure to Pay" are deleted and replaced by the words "Failure to Pay Interest".

Obligation:

Reference Obligation Only

5. Interest Shortfall:

Interest Shortfall Payment Amount:

In respect of an Interest Shortfall, the relevant Interest Shortfall Amount; provided that, if Interest Shortfall Cap is specified as applicable in the relevant Confirmation and the Interest Shortfall Amount exceeds the Interest Shortfall Cap Amount, the Interest Shortfall Payment Amount in respect of such Interest Shortfall shall be the Interest Shortfall Cap Amount.

Interest Shortfall Cap:

As shown in the relevant Confirmation.

Interest Shortfall Cap Amount:

As set out in the relevant Interest Shortfall Cap Annex.

Actual Interest Amount:

With respect to any Reference Obligation Payment Date, payment by or on behalf of the Issuer of an amount in respect of interest due under the Reference Obligation (including, without limitation, any deferred interest or default interest but excluding payments in respect of prepayment penalties, yield maintenance provisions or principal, except that the Actual Interest Amount shall include any payment of principal representing capitalized interest that relates to the Term of the Transaction) to the holder(s) of the Reference Obligation in respect of the Reference Obligation.

Expected Interest Amount:

With respect to any Reference Obligation Payment Date, the amount of current interest that would accrue during the related Reference Obligation Calculation Period calculated using the Reference Obligation Coupon on a principal balance of the Reference Obligation equal to:

- (a) the Outstanding Principal Amount taking into account any reductions due to a principal deficiency balance or realized loss amount (however described in the Underlying Instruments) that are attributable to the Reference Obligation; minus
- (b) the Aggregate Implied Writedown Amount (if any)

and that will be payable on the related Reference Obligation Payment Date assuming for this purpose that sufficient funds are available therefor in accordance with the Underlying Instruments. Except as provided in (a) in the previous sentence, the Expected Interest Amount shall be determined without regard to (i) unpaid amounts in respect of accrued interest on prior Reference Obligation Payment Dates; (ii) any prepayment penalties or yield maintenance provisions; or (iii) the effect of any provisions (however described) of such Underlying Instruments that otherwise permit the limitation of due payments to distributions of funds available from proceeds of the Underlying Assets, or that provide for the capitalization or deferral of interest on the Reference Obligation during the Term of the Transaction, or that provide for the extinguishing or reduction of such payments or distributions (each a "Limitation Provision") (but, for the avoidance of doubt, taking account of any Writedown within paragraph (i) of the definition of "Writedown" occurring in accordance with the Underlying Instruments)<sup>6</sup>.

For the purposes of calculating the Expected Interest Amount, and notwithstanding any other provision herein, the Reference Obligation Coupon shall be deemed to include any cap stated in the Underlying Instrument that is not a Limitation Provision.

Interest Shortfall:

With respect to any Reference Obligation Payment Date, either (a) the non-payment of an Expected Interest Amount or (b) the payment of an Actual Interest Amount that is less than the Expected Interest Amount.

<sup>6</sup> Note that this will not impact the determination of "Expected Interest Amount" in respect of a Reference Obligation that does not have a Limitation Provision.

For the avoidance of doubt, the occurrence of an event within (a) or (b) shall be determined taking into account any payment made under the Reference Policy, if applicable.

Interest Shortfall Amount:

With respect to any Reference Obligation Payment Date, an amount equal to the greater of:

- (a) zero; and
- (b) the amount equal to the product of:
  - (i) (A) the Expected Interest Amount;

minus

(B) the Actual Interest Amount; and
  - (ii) the Applicable Percentage; provided that, with respect to the first Reference Obligation Payment Date only, the Interest Shortfall Amount shall be the amount determined in accordance with (a) and (b) above multiplied by a fraction equal to:

- (x) the number of days in the first Fixed Rate Payer Calculation Period; over
- (y) the number of days in the first Reference Obligation Calculation Period.

Interest Shortfall
Reimbursement:

With respect to any Reference Obligation Payment Date, the payment by or on behalf of the Issuer of an Actual Interest Amount in respect of the Reference Obligation that is greater than the Expected Interest Amount.

Interest Shortfall
Reimbursement Amount:

With respect to any Reference Obligation Payment Date, the product of (a) the amount of any Interest Shortfall Reimbursement on such day and (b) the Applicable Percentage.

Interest Shortfall
Reimbursement Payment
Amount:

If Interest Shortfall Cap is specified as not applicable in the relevant Confirmation, the relevant Interest Shortfall Reimbursement Amount. If Interest Shortfall Cap is specified as applicable in the relevant Confirmation, the amount determined pursuant to the relevant Interest Shortfall Cap Annex.

6. Settlement Terms

Settlement Method:

Physical Settlement

Terms Relating to Physical Settlement:

Physical Settlement Period:

Five Business Days

- Deliverable Obligations: Exclude Accrued Interest
- Deliverable Obligations: Deliverable Obligation Category: Reference Obligation Only
- Physical Settlement Amount: An amount equal to:
- (a) the product of the Exercise Amount and the Reference Price; minus
  - (b) the sum of:
    - (i) if the Aggregate Implied Writedown Amount is greater than zero, the product of (A) the Aggregate Implied Writedown Amount, (B) the Applicable Percentage, each as determined immediately prior to the relevant Delivery and (C) the relevant Exercise Percentage; and
    - (ii) the product of (A) the aggregate of all Writedown Amounts in respect of Writedowns within paragraph (i)(B) of the definition of "Writedown" minus the aggregate of all Writedown Reimbursement Amounts in respect of Writedown Reimbursements within paragraph (ii)(B) of the definition of "Writedown Reimbursement" and (B) the relevant Exercise Percentage, provided that if the Physical Settlement Amount would exceed the product of:

- (1) the Reference Obligation Notional Amount as of the date on which the relevant Notice of Physical Settlement is delivered calculated as though Physical Settlement in respect of all previously delivered Notices of Physical Settlement has occurred in full; and then the Physical Settlement Amount shall be deemed to be equal to such product.
- (2) the Exercise Percentage;

Delayed Payment:

With respect to a Delivery Date, if a Servicer Report that describes a Delayed Payment is delivered to holders of the Reference Obligation or to the Calculation Agent on or after such Delivery Date, Buyer will pay the applicable Delayed Payment Amount to Seller no later than five Business Days following the later of (a) the day on which such Servicer Report is delivered and (b) the day on which such Delayed Payment is due and payable.

Escrow:*Applicable

Non-delivery by Buyer or occurrence of the Effective Maturity Date:

If Buyer has delivered a Notice of Physical Settlement and:

- (a) Buyer does not Deliver in full the Deliverable Obligations specified in that Notice of Physical Settlement on or prior to the Physical Settlement Date; or
- (b) the Effective Maturity Date occurs after delivery of the Notice of Physical Settlement but before Buyer Delivers the Deliverable Obligations specified in that Notice of Physical Settlement;

then such Notice of Physical Settlement shall be deemed not to have been delivered and any reference in these CDS on CDO Terms to a previously delivered Notice of Physical Settlement shall exclude any Notice of Physical Settlement that is deemed not to have been delivered. Sections 9.2(c)(ii) (except for the first sentence thereof), 9.3, 9.4, 9.5, 9.6, 9.9 and 9.10 of the Credit Derivatives Definitions shall not apply.

7. Additional Provisions:

(a) *Delivery of Servicer Report

If either party makes a request in writing, the Calculation Agent agrees to provide such party with a copy of the most recent Servicer Report promptly following receipt of such request, if and to the extent such Servicer Report is reasonably available to the Calculation Agent (whether or not the Calculation Agent is a holder of the Reference Obligation). In addition, if a Floating Payment or an Additional Fixed Payment is due hereunder, then the Calculation Agent or the party that notifies the other party that the relevant Floating Payment or Additional Fixed Payment is due, as applicable, (the "Notifying Party") shall deliver a copy of any Servicer Report relevant to such payment that is requested by the party that is not the Notifying Party or by either party where the Notifying Party is the Calculation Agent, if and to the extent that such Servicer Report is reasonably available to the Notifying Party (whether or not the Notifying Party is a holder of the Reference Obligation).

(b) *Calculation Agent and Buyer and Seller Determinations

The Calculation Agent shall be responsible for determining and calculating (i) the Fixed Amount payable on each Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date; (ii) the occurrence of a Floating Amount Event and the related Floating Amount and (iii) the occurrence of an Additional Fixed Payment Event and the related Additional Fixed Amount; provided that notwithstanding the above, each of Buyer and Seller shall be entitled to determine and calculate the above amounts to the extent that Buyer or Seller, as applicable, has the right to deliver a notice to the other party demanding payment of such amount. The Calculation Agent or Buyer or Seller, as applicable, shall make such determinations and calculations based solely on the basis of the Servicer Reports, to the extent such Servicer Reports are reasonably available to the Calculation Agent or such party. The Calculation Agent or Buyer or Seller, as applicable, shall, as soon as practicable after making any of the determinations or calculations specified in (i) and (ii) above, notify the parties or the other party, as applicable, of such determinations and calculations. For the avoidance of doubt, if an Interest Shortfall

Amount is not explicitly set out in the Servicer Report but the Calculation Agent determines that an Interest Shortfall has occurred on the basis of information in such Servicer Report, then the relevant Interest Shortfall Amount shall be calculated by the Calculation Agent on the basis of such information.<sup>7</sup>

(c) Adjustment of Calculation Agent Determinations

To the extent that a Servicer furnishes any Servicer Reports correcting information contained in previously issued Servicer Reports, and such corrections impact calculations pursuant to the Transaction, the calculations relevant to the Transaction shall be adjusted retroactively by the Calculation Agent to reflect the corrected information (provided that, for the avoidance of doubt, no amounts in respect of interest shall be payable by either party and provided that the Calculation Agent in performing the calculations pursuant to this paragraph will assume that no interest has accrued on any adjusted amount), and the Calculation Agent shall promptly notify both parties of any corrected payments required by either party. Any required corrected payments shall be made within five Business Days of the day on which such notification by the Calculation Agent is effective.

8. Additional Definitions and Amendments to the Credit Derivatives Definitions:

- (a) References in Sections 4.1, 8.2, 9.1 and 9.2(a) of the Credit Derivatives Definitions as well as Section 3(a)(iv) of the form of Novation Agreement set forth in Exhibit E to the Credit Derivatives Definitions to the Reference Entity shall be deemed to be references to both the Reference Entity and the Insurer in respect of the Reference Policy, if applicable.
- (b)
  - (i) The definition of "Publicly Available Information" in Section 3.5 of the Credit Derivatives Definitions shall be amended by (i) inserting the words "the Insurer in respect of the Reference Policy, if applicable" at the end of subparagraph (a)(ii)(A) thereof, (ii) inserting the words ", servicer, sub-servicer, master servicer" before the words "or paying agent" in subparagraph (a)(ii)(B) thereof and (iii) deleting the word "or" at the end of subparagraph (a)(iii) thereof and inserting at the end of subparagraph (a)(iv) thereof the following: "or (v) is information contained in a notice or on a website published by an internationally recognized rating agency that has at any time rated the Reference Obligation".
  - (ii) The definition of "Physical Settlement" in Section 8.1 of the Credit Derivatives Definitions shall be amended by (i) deleting the words "Physical Settlement Amount" from the last line of the second paragraph thereof and (ii) inserting in lieu thereof the words "Exercise Amount".
  - (iii) The definition of "Physical Settlement Date" in Section 8.4 of the Credit Derivatives Definitions shall be amended by deleting the last sentence thereof.

<sup>7</sup> This is intended to cover any situation in which the Servicer Report does not report on Interest Shortfalls.

- (c) For the purposes of the Transaction only, the following terms have the meanings given below:

“Actual Principal Amount” means, with respect to the Final Amortization Date or the Legal Final Maturity Date, an amount paid on such day by or on behalf of the Issuer in respect of principal (excluding any amount representing capitalized interest that relates to the Term of the Transaction) to the holder(s) of the Reference Obligation in respect of the Reference Obligation.

“Aggregate Implied Writedown Amount” means the greater of (i) zero and (ii) the aggregate of all Implied Writedown Amounts minus the aggregate of all Implied Writedown Reimbursement Amounts, provided that if Implied Writedown is specified as not applicable in the relevant Confirmation, the Aggregate Implied Writedown Amount shall be deemed to be zero.

“Current Factor” means the factor of the Reference Obligation as specified in the most recent Servicer Report; provided that if the factor is not specified in the most recent Servicer Report or the factor specified includes deferred or capitalized interest that relates to the Term of the Transaction, then the Current Factor shall be the ratio equal to (i) the Outstanding Principal Amount as of such date, determined in accordance with the most recent Servicer Report over (ii) the Original Principal Amount.

“Current Period Implied Writedown Amount” means, in respect of a Reference Obligation Calculation Period, an amount determined as of the last day of such Reference Obligation Calculation Period equal to the greater of:

- (i) zero; and
- (ii) the product of:
  - (A) the Implied Writedown Percentage; and
  - (B) the greater of:
    - (1) zero; and
    - (2) the lesser of (x) the Pari Passu Amount and (y) the product of (I) the Pari Passu Amount plus the Senior Amount and (II) an amount equal to one minus the Overcollateralization Ratio.

“Delayed Payment” means, with respect to a Delivery Date, a Principal Payment, Principal Shortfall Reimbursement or a Writedown Reimbursement within paragraph (i) of the definition of “Writedown Reimbursement” that is described in a Servicer Report delivered to holders of the Reference Obligation or to the Calculation Agent on or after such Delivery Date.

“Delayed Payment Amount” means, if persons who are holders of the Reference Obligation as of a date prior to a Delivery Date are paid a Delayed Payment on or after such Delivery Date, an amount equal to the product of (i) the sum of all such Delayed Payments, (ii) the Reference Price, (iii) the Applicable Percentage immediately prior to such Delivery Date and (iv) the Exercise Percentage.

“Delayed Payment Reference Obligation” means a Reference Obligation with Reference Obligation Payment Dates that fall after the final day of the related Reference Obligation Calculation Periods.

"Distressed Ratings Downgrade" means that the Reference Obligation:

- (i) if publicly rated by Moody's, (A) is downgraded to "Caa2" or below by Moody's or (B) has the rating assigned to it by Moody's withdrawn and, in either case, not reinstated within five Business Days of such downgrade or withdrawal; provided that if such Reference Obligation was assigned a public rating of "Baa3" or higher by Moody's immediately prior to the occurrence of such withdrawal, it shall not constitute a Distressed Ratings Downgrade if such Reference Obligation is assigned a public rating of at least "Caa1" by Moody's within three calendar months after such withdrawal; or
- (ii) if publicly rated by Standard & Poor's, (A) is downgraded to "CCC" or below by Standard & Poor's or (B) has the rating assigned to it by Standard & Poor's withdrawn and, in either case, not reinstated within five Business Days of such downgrade or withdrawal; provided that if such Reference Obligation was assigned a public rating of "BBB-" or higher by Standard & Poor's immediately prior to the occurrence of such withdrawal, it shall not constitute a Distressed Ratings Downgrade if such Reference Obligation is assigned a public rating of at least "CCC+" by Standard & Poor's within three calendar months after such withdrawal; or
- (iii) if publicly rated by Fitch, (A) is downgraded to "CCC" or below by Fitch or (B) has the rating assigned to it by Fitch withdrawn and, in either case, not reinstated within five Business Days of such downgrade or withdrawal; provided that if such Reference Obligation was assigned a public rating of "BBB-" or higher by Fitch immediately prior to the occurrence of such withdrawal, it shall not constitute a Distressed Ratings Downgrade if such Reference Obligation is assigned a public rating of at least "CCC+" by Fitch within three calendar months after such withdrawal.

"Effective Maturity Date" means the earlier of (a) the Scheduled Termination Date and (b) the Final Amortization Date.

"Exercise Amount" means, for purposes of the Transaction, an amount to which a Notice of Physical Settlement relates equal to the product of (i) the original face amount of the Reference Obligation to be Delivered by Buyer to Seller on the applicable Physical Settlement Date; and (ii) the Current Factor as of such date. The Exercise Amount to which a Notice of Physical Settlement relates shall (A) be equal to or less than the Reference Obligation Notional Amount (determined, for this purpose, without regard to the effect of any Writedown or Writedown Reimbursement within paragraphs (i)(B) or (iii) of the definition of "Writedown" or paragraphs (ii)(B) or (iii) of the definition of "Writedown Reimbursement", respectively) as of the date on which the relevant Notice of Physical Settlement is delivered calculated as though the Physical Settlement of all previously delivered Notices of Physical Settlement has occurred in full and (B) not be less than the lesser of (1) the Reference Obligation Notional Amount as of the date on which the relevant Notice of Physical Settlement is delivered calculated as though Physical Settlement in respect of all previously delivered Notices of Physical Settlement has occurred in full and (2) USD100,000 or its equivalent in the relevant Obligation Currency. The cumulative original face amount of Deliverable Obligations specified in all Notices of Physical Settlement shall not at any time exceed the Initial Face Amount. For the avoidance of doubt: (a) if any capitalization or deferral of interest in respect of the Reference Obligation has occurred during the Term of the Transaction and has not been recovered by holders of the Reference Obligation pursuant to the terms of the Underlying Instruments, then, for the purpose of determining the amount of Deliverable Obligations to be Delivered, the Exercise Amount (determined above by reference to the original face amount) will represent an outstanding principal balance of the Reference Obligation to be Delivered by Buyer that includes the proportion of unrecovered interest attributable to the Reference Obligation to be Delivered and (b) notwithstanding the foregoing, the Physical Settlement Amount payable by Seller in relation to such Exercise Amount shall not include any amount in respect of such unrecovered interest.

“Exercise Percentage” means, with respect to a Notice of Physical Settlement, a percentage equal to the original face amount of the Deliverable Obligations specified in such Notice of Physical Settlement divided by an amount equal to (i) the Initial Face Amount minus (ii) the aggregate of the original face amount of all Deliverable Obligations specified in all previously delivered Notices of Physical Settlement.

“Expected Principal Amount” means, with respect to the Final Amortization Date or the Legal Final Maturity Date, an amount equal to (i) the Outstanding Principal Amount of the Reference Obligation payable on such day (excluding any amount representing capitalized interest that relates to the Term of the Transaction) assuming for this purpose that sufficient funds are available for such payment, where such amount shall be determined in accordance with the Underlying Instruments, minus (ii) the sum of (A) the Aggregate Implied Writedown Amount (if any) and (B) the net aggregate principal deficiency balance or realized loss amounts (however described in the Underlying Instruments) that are attributable to the Reference Obligation. The Expected Principal Amount shall be determined without regard to the effect of any provisions (however described) of the Underlying Instruments that permit the limitation of due payments or distributions of funds in accordance with the terms of such Reference Obligation or that provide for the extinguishing or reduction of such payments or distributions.

“Failure to Pay Interest” means the occurrence of an Interest Shortfall Amount or Interest Shortfall Amounts (calculated on a cumulative basis) in excess of the relevant Payment Requirement.

“Failure to Pay Principal” means (i) a failure by the Reference Entity (or any Insurer) to pay an Expected Principal Amount on the Final Amortization Date or the Legal Final Maturity Date, as the case may be, or (ii) payment on any such day of an Actual Principal Amount that is less than the Expected Principal Amount; provided that the failure by the Reference Entity (or any Insurer) to pay any such amount in respect of principal in accordance with the foregoing shall not constitute a Failure to Pay Principal if such failure has been remedied within any grace period applicable to such payment obligation under the Underlying Instruments or, if no such grace period is applicable, within three Business Days after the day on which the Expected Principal Amount was scheduled to be paid.

“Final Amortization Date” means the first to occur of (i) the date on which the Reference Obligation Notional Amount is reduced to zero and (ii) the date on which the assets securing the Reference Obligation or designated to fund amounts due in respect of the Reference Obligation are liquidated, distributed or otherwise disposed of in full and the proceeds thereof are distributed or otherwise disposed of in full; provided that, for the purposes of determining the date on which the Reference Obligation Notional Amount is reduced to zero where (A) the Aggregate Implied Writedown Amount is greater than zero and (B) Interest Shortfall Cap Annex B is specified as applicable in the relevant confirmation, the Reference Obligation Notional Amount shall be determined without regard to the effect of any Writedown or Writedown Reimbursement within paragraph (iii) of “Writedown” or paragraph (iii) of Writedown Reimbursement respectively, unless, prior to the date of determination, a Distressed Ratings Downgrade Credit Event has occurred or a Failure to Pay Interest Credit Event has occurred and, as of the date of determination, a period of at least 720 calendar days have elapsed since the occurrence of such Failure to Pay Interest Credit Event without the relevant Interest Shortfall, having been reimbursed in full.

“Fitch” means Fitch Ratings or any successor to its rating business.

"Interest Shortfall Cap Annex" means the Interest Shortfall Cap Annex A or the Interest Shortfall Cap Annex B as specified in the relevant Confirmation.

"Implied Writedown Amount" means, (i) if the Underlying Instruments do not provide for writedowns, applied losses, principal deficiencies or realized losses as described in (i) of the definition of "Writedown" to occur in respect of the Reference Obligation, on any Reference Obligation Payment Date, an amount determined by the Calculation Agent equal to the excess, if any, of the Current Period Implied Writedown Amount over the Previous Period Implied Writedown Amount, in each case in respect of the Reference Obligation Calculation Period to which such Reference Obligation Payment Date relates, and (ii) in any other case, zero.

"Implied Writedown Percentage" means (i) the Outstanding Principal Amount divided by (ii) the Pari Passu Amount.

"Implied Writedown Reimbursement Amount" means, (i) if the Underlying Instruments do not provide for writedowns, applied losses, principal deficiencies or realized losses as described in (i) of the definition of "Writedown" to occur in respect of the Reference Obligation, on any Reference Obligation Payment Date, an amount determined by the Calculation Agent equal to the excess, if any, of the Previous Period Implied Writedown Amount over the Current Period Implied Writedown Amount, in each case in respect of the Reference Obligation Calculation Period to which such Reference Obligation Payment Date relates, and (ii) in any other case, zero, provided that the aggregate of all Implied Writedown Reimbursement Amounts at any time shall not exceed the Outstanding Principal Amount.

"Legal Final Maturity Date" means the date set out in paragraph 1 above (subject, for the avoidance of doubt, to any business day convention applicable to the legal final maturity date of the Reference Obligation), provided that if the legal final maturity date of the Reference Obligation is amended, the Legal Final Maturity Date shall be such date as amended.

"Moody's" means Moody's Investors Service, Inc. or any successor to its rating business.

"Outstanding Principal Amount" means, as of any date of determination with respect to the Reference Obligation, the outstanding principal balance of the Reference Obligation as of such date, which shall take into account:

- (i) all payments of principal;
- (ii) all writedowns or applied losses (however described in the Underlying Instruments) resulting in a reduction in the outstanding principal balance of the Reference Obligation (other than as a result of a scheduled or unscheduled payment of principal);
- (iii) forgiveness of any amount by the holders of the Reference Obligation pursuant to an amendment to the Underlying Instruments resulting in a reduction in the outstanding principal balance of the Reference Obligation;
- (iv) any payments reducing the amount of any reductions described in (ii) and (iii) of this definition; and
- (v) any increase in the outstanding principal balance of the Reference Obligation that reflects a reversal of any prior reductions described in (ii) and (iii) of this definition; and

- (vi) any increase in the outstanding principal balance of the Reference Obligation that is attributable to the deferral or capitalization of interest prior to the Effective Date.

For the avoidance of doubt, the Outstanding Principal Amount shall not include any portion of the outstanding principal balance of the Reference Obligation that is attributable to the deferral or capitalization of interest during the Term of this Transaction.

"Overcollateralization Ratio" means, in respect of a Reference Obligation Calculation Period:

- (i) if the most recent Servicer Report sets out a ratio representing the ratio of (A) the aggregate asset pool balance securing the payment obligations on the Reference Obligation (subject to certain adjustments as described in the Underlying Instruments) to (B) the Pari Passu Amount plus the Senior Amount, then such ratio; or
- (ii) if the ratio cannot be determined under (i) but the most recent Servicer Report for one or more senior Related Obligations (if any) sets out such a ratio, then a ratio equal to the ratio of (A) the product of (1) such ratio determined with respect to the senior Related Obligation ranking closest in priority of payment to the Reference Obligation for which such a ratio is set out, and (2) the aggregate outstanding principal balance of such Related Obligation and any other Related Obligations ranking in priority of payment either pari passu with or senior to such Related Obligation to (B) the sum of the Pari Passu Amount plus the Senior Amount with respect to such Reference Obligation; or
- (iii) if the ratio cannot be determined under (ii) but the most recent Servicer Report for one or more junior Related Obligations (if any) sets out such a ratio, then a ratio equal to the ratio of (A) the product of (1) such ratio determined with respect to the junior Related Obligation ranking closest in priority of payment to the Reference Obligation for which such a ratio is set out, and (2) the aggregate outstanding principal balance of such Related Obligation and any other Related Obligations ranking in priority of payment either pari passu with or senior to such Related Obligation (including the Reference Obligation) and (B) the sum of the Pari Passu Amount plus the Senior Amount with respect to such Reference Obligation; or
- (iv) if the ratio cannot be determined under (iii), then a ratio representing the ratio of (A) the aggregate asset pool balance securing the payment obligations under the Reference Obligation to (B) the Pari Passu Amount plus the Senior Amount.

"Pari Passu Amount" means, as of any date of determination, the aggregate of the Outstanding Principal Amount of the Reference Obligation and the aggregate outstanding principal balance of all obligations of the Reference Entity secured by the Underlying Assets and ranking pari passu in priority with the Reference Obligation.

"PIK-able" means, in relation to a Reference Obligation, that the Underlying Instruments include provisions that provide for capitalization or deferral of interest on such Reference Obligation.

"Previous Period Implied Writedown Amount" means, in respect of a Reference Obligation Calculation Period, the Current Period Implied Writedown Amount as determined in relation to the last day of the immediately preceding Reference Obligation Calculation Period; provided that in respect of the first Reference Obligation Calculation Period only, the Previous Period Implied Writedown Amount shall be the Current Period Implied Writedown Amount determined in relation to the last day of the preceding interest accrual period of the Reference Obligation and each reference to "Reference Obligation Calculation Period" in the definition of Current Period Implied Writedown Amount shall be deemed to be a reference to that interest accrual period.

"Principal Payment" means, with respect to any Reference Obligation Payment Date, the occurrence of a payment of an amount to the holders of the Reference Obligation in respect of principal (scheduled or unscheduled) in respect of the Reference Obligation other than a payment in respect of principal representing capitalized interest that relates to the Term of the Transaction, excluding, for the avoidance of doubt, any Writedown Reimbursement or Interest Shortfall Reimbursement.

"Principal Payment Amount" means, with respect to any Reference Obligation Payment Date, an amount equal to the product of (i) the amount of any Principal Payment on such date and (ii) the Applicable Percentage.

"Principal Shortfall Amount" means, in respect of a Failure to Pay Principal, an amount equal to the greater of:

- (i) zero; and
- (ii) the amount equal to the product of:
  - (A) the Expected Principal Amount minus the Actual Principal Amount;
  - (B) the Applicable Percentage; and
  - (C) the Reference Price.

If the Principal Shortfall Amount would be greater than the Reference Obligation Notional Amount immediately prior to the occurrence of such Failure to Pay Principal, then the Principal Shortfall Amount shall be deemed to be equal to the Reference Obligation Notional Amount at such time.

"Principal Shortfall Reimbursement" means, with respect to any day, the payment by or on behalf of the Issuer of an amount in respect of the Reference Obligation in or toward the satisfaction of any deferral of or failure to pay principal arising from one or more prior occurrences of a Failure to Pay Principal.

"Principal Shortfall Reimbursement Amount" means, with respect to any day, the product of (i) the amount of any Principal Shortfall Reimbursement on such day, (ii) the Applicable Percentage and (iii) the Reference Price.

"Principal Shortfall Reimbursement Payment Amount" means, with respect to an Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date, the sum of the Principal Shortfall Reimbursement Amounts in respect of all Principal Shortfall Reimbursements (if any) made during the Reference Obligation Calculation Period relating to such Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date, provided that the aggregate of all Principal Shortfall Reimbursement Payment Amounts at any time shall not exceed the aggregate of all Floating Amounts paid by Seller in respect of occurrences of Failure to Pay Principal prior to such Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date.

"Rating Agencies" means Fitch, Moody's and Standard & Poor's.

"Reference Obligation Calculation Period" means, with respect to each Reference Obligation Payment Date, a period corresponding to the interest accrual period relating to such Reference Obligation Payment Date pursuant to the Underlying Instruments.

"Reference Obligation Coupon" means the periodic interest rate applied in relation to each Reference Obligation Calculation Period on the related Reference Obligation Payment Date, as determined in accordance with the terms of the Underlying Instruments as at the Effective Date, without regard to any subsequent amendment.

"Reference Obligation Payment Date" means (i) each scheduled distribution date for the Reference Obligation occurring on or after the Effective Date and on or prior to the Scheduled Termination Date, determined in accordance with the Underlying Instruments and (ii) any day after the Effective Maturity Date on which a payment is made in respect of the Reference Obligation.

"Related Obligation" means, in relation to the Reference Obligation, an obligation of the Reference Entity that is also secured by the Underlying Assets but ranks senior or junior to the Reference Obligation in priority of payment. In relation to a Related Obligation, the terms "Servicer", "Servicer Report" and "Underlying Instruments" shall have the meanings set out in this Confirmation but with references in the definitions of those terms to "Reference Obligation" being deemed, solely for this purpose, to be references to the Related Obligation.

"Relevant Amount" means, if a Servicer Report that describes a Principal Payment, Writedown or Writedown Reimbursement (other than a Writedown Reimbursement within paragraph (i) of the definition of "Writedown Reimbursement"), in each case that has the effect of decreasing or increasing the interest-accruing principal balance of the Reference Obligation as of a date prior to a Delivery Date but such Servicer Report is delivered to holders of the Reference Obligation or to the Calculation Agent on or after such Delivery Date, an amount equal to the product of (i) the sum of any such Principal Payment (expressed as a positive amount), Writedown (expressed as a positive amount) or Writedown Reimbursement (expressed as a negative amount), as applicable; (ii) the Reference Price; (iii) the Applicable Percentage immediately prior to such Delivery Date; and (iv) the Exercise Percentage.

"Senior Amount" means, as of any day, the aggregate outstanding principal balance of all obligations of the Reference Entity secured by the Underlying Assets and ranking senior in priority to the Reference Obligation.

"Servicer" means any trustee, servicer, sub-servicer, master servicer, fiscal agent, paying agent or other similar entity responsible for calculating payment amounts or providing reports pursuant to the Underlying Instruments.

"Servicer Report" means a periodic statement or report regarding the Reference Obligation provided by the Servicer to holders of the Reference Obligation.

"Standard & Poor's" means Standard & Poor's Rating Services, a division of The McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc. or any successor to its rating business.

"Underlying Assets" means the assets securing the Reference Obligation for the benefit of the holders of the Reference Obligation and which are expected to generate the cashflows required for the servicing and repayment (in whole or in part) of the Reference Obligation, or the assets to which a holder of such Reference Obligation is economically exposed where such exposure is created synthetically.

"Underlying Instruments" means the indenture, trust agreement, pooling and servicing agreement or other relevant agreement(s) setting forth the terms of the Reference Obligation.

“Writedown” means the occurrence at any time on or after the Effective Date of:

- (i) (A) a writedown or applied loss (however described in the Underlying Instruments) resulting in a reduction in the Outstanding Principal Amount (other than as a result of a scheduled or unscheduled payment of principal); or
- (B) the attribution of a principal deficiency or realized loss (however described in the Underlying Instruments) to the Reference Obligation resulting in a reduction or subordination of the current interest payable on the Reference Obligation;
- (ii) the forgiveness of any amount of principal by the holders of the Reference Obligation pursuant to an amendment to the Underlying Instruments resulting in a reduction in the Outstanding Principal Amount; or
- (iii) if Implied Writedown is applicable and the Underlying Instruments do not provide for writedowns, applied losses, principal deficiencies or realized losses as described in (i) above to occur in respect of the Reference Obligation, an Implied Writedown Amount being determined in respect of the Reference Obligation by the Calculation Agent.

“Writedown Amount” means, with respect to any day, the product of (i) the amount of any Writedown on such day, (ii) the Applicable Percentage and (iii) the Reference Price.

“Writedown Reimbursement” means, with respect to any day, the occurrence of:

- (i) a payment by or on behalf of the Issuer of an amount in respect of the Reference Obligation in reduction of any prior Writedowns;
- (ii) (A) an increase by or on behalf of the Issuer of the Outstanding Principal Amount of the Reference Obligation to reflect the reversal of any prior Writedowns; or
- (B) a decrease in the principal deficiency balance or realized loss amounts (however described in the Underlying Instruments) attributable to the Reference Obligation; or
- (iii) if Implied Writedown is applicable and the Underlying Instruments do not provide for writedowns, applied losses, principal deficiencies or realized losses as described in (ii) above to occur in respect of the Reference Obligation, an Implied Writedown Reimbursement Amount being determined in respect of the Reference Obligation by the Calculation Agent.

“Writedown Reimbursement Amount” means, with respect to any day, an amount equal to the product of:

- (i) the sum of all Writedown Reimbursements on that day;
- (ii) the Applicable Percentage; and
- (iii) the Reference Price.

“Writedown Reimbursement Payment Amount” means, with respect to an Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date, the sum of the Writedown Reimbursement Amounts in respect of all Writedown Reimbursements (if any) made during the Reference Obligation Calculation

Period relating to such Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date, provided that the aggregate of all Writedown Reimbursement Payment Amounts at any time shall not exceed the aggregate of all Floating Amounts paid by Seller in respect of Writedowns occurring prior to such Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date.

Interest Shortfall Cap Annex A

If Interest Shortfall Cap is specified as applicable and Annex A is elected in the relevant Confirmation, then the following provisions will apply:

- Interest Shortfall Cap Basis: As shown in the relevant Confirmation.
- Interest Shortfall Cap Amount: If the Interest Shortfall Cap Basis is Fixed Cap, the Interest Shortfall Cap Amount in respect of an Interest Shortfall shall be the Fixed Amount calculated in respect of the Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date immediately following the Reference Obligation Payment Date on which the relevant Interest Shortfall occurred.
- If the Interest Shortfall Cap Basis is Variable Cap, the Interest Shortfall Cap Amount applicable in respect of a Floating Rate Payer Payment Date shall be an amount equal to the product of:
- (a) the sum of the Relevant Rate and the Fixed Rate applicable to the Fixed Rate Payer Calculation Period immediately preceding the Reference Obligation Payment Date on which the relevant Interest Shortfall occurs (or, in respect of the first Fixed Rate Payer Calculation Period, the Relevant Rate and the Fixed Rate as of the Effective Date);
  - (b) the amount determined by the Calculation Agent under sub-clause (b) of the definition of "Fixed Amount" in relation to the relevant Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date; and
  - (c) the Fixed Rate Day Count Fraction.
- Interest Shortfall Compounding: As shown in the relevant Confirmation.
- Interest Shortfall Reimbursement Payment Amount: With respect to the first Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date, zero, and with respect to any subsequent Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date and calculated as of the Reference Obligation Payment Date immediately preceding such Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date, as specified by the Calculation Agent in its notice to the parties or by Seller in its notice to Buyer of the existence of an Interest Shortfall Reimbursement, an amount equal to the greater of:
- (a) zero; and
  - (b) the amount equal to:
    - (i) the product of:
      - (A) the Cumulative Interest Shortfall Payment Amount as of the Additional Fixed Amount Payment

Date immediately preceding such Reference Obligation Payment Date; and

(B) either:

- (1) if Interest Shortfall
Compounding is specified as applicable in the relevant Confirmation, the relevant Cumulative
Interest Shortfall
Payment
Compounding
Factor for the Fixed Rate Payer
Calculation Period
immediately preceding such
Additional Fixed
Amount Payment
Date (or 1.0 in respect of any Additional Fixed
Amount Payment
Date occurring after the final Fixed Rate
Payer Payment
Date); or
- (2) if Interest Shortfall
Compounding is specified as not applicable in the relevant Confirmation, one;

minus

- (ii) the Cumulative Interest Shortfall Amount as of such Reference Obligation Payment
Date;

provided that if the Interest Shortfall Reimbursement
Payment Amount on an Additional Fixed Amount
Payment Date would exceed the Interest Shortfall
Reimbursement Amount in respect of the related Reference Obligation Payment Date, then such Interest Shortfall Reimbursement Payment Amount shall be deemed to be equal to such Interest Shortfall
Reimbursement Amount.

Cumulative Interest Shortfall Amount:

With respect to any Reference Obligation Payment Date, an amount equal to the greater of:

- (a) zero; and
- (b) an amount equal to:
  - (i) the Cumulative Interest Shortfall Amount as of the Reference Obligation Payment Date immediately preceding such Reference Obligation Payment Date or, in the case of the first Reference Obligation Payment Date, zero; plus
  - (ii) the Interest Shortfall Amount (if any) in respect of such Reference Obligation Payment Date; plus
  - (iii) either:
    - (A) if Interest Shortfall Compounding is specified as applicable in the relevant Confirmation, an amount determined by the Calculation Agent as the amount of interest that would accrue on the Cumulative Interest Shortfall Amount immediately preceding such Reference Obligation Payment Date during the related Reference Obligation Calculation Period pursuant to the Underlying Instruments or, in the case of the first Reference Obligation Payment Date, zero; or
    - (B) if Interest Shortfall Compounding is specified as not applicable in the relevant Confirmation, 0; minus
  - (iv) the Interest Shortfall Reimbursement Amount (if any) in respect of such Reference Obligation Payment Date.

Upon the occurrence of each Delivery, the Cumulative Interest Shortfall Amount shall be multiplied by a fraction equal to (a) the Applicable Percentage immediately following such Delivery divided by (b) the Applicable Percentage immediately prior to such Delivery; provided, however, that if more than one Delivery is made during a Reference Obligation Calculation Period, the Cumulative Interest Shortfall Amount calculated as of the Reference Obligation Payment Date occurring immediately after such Reference Obligation Calculation Period shall be multiplied by a fraction equal to (a) the Applicable Percentage immediately following the final Delivery made during such Reference Obligation Calculation Period divided by (b) the Applicable Percentage immediately prior to the first Delivery made during such Reference Obligation Calculation Period.

Cumulative Interest Shortfall
Payment Amount:

The Cumulative Interest Shortfall Payment Amount with respect to any Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date and any Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date falling on such Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date shall be an amount equal to the greater of:

- (a) zero; and
- (b) the amount equal to:
  - (i) the sum of:
    - (A) the Interest Shortfall Payment Amount for the Reference Obligation Payment Date corresponding to such Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date; and
    - (B) the product of:
      - (1) the Cumulative Interest Shortfall Payment Amount as of the Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date immediately preceding such Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date (or zero in the case of the first Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date); and
      - (2) either:
        - (AA) if Interest Shortfall Compounding is specified as applicable in the relevant Confirmation, the relevant Cumulative Interest Shortfall Payment Compounding Factor; or
        - (BB) if Interest Shortfall Compounding is specified as not applicable in the relevant Confirmation, one;
  - (ii) any Interest Shortfall Reimbursement Payment Amount paid on such Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date.

minus

With respect to any Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date falling after the final Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date, the Cumulative Interest Shortfall Payment Amount shall be equal to:

- (x) the Cumulative Interest Shortfall Payment Amount as of the Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date immediately preceding such Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date (or as of the final Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date in the case of the first Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date occurring after the final Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date); minus
- (y) any Interest Shortfall Reimbursement Payment Amount paid on such Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date.

Upon the occurrence of each Delivery, the Cumulative Interest Shortfall Payment Amount shall be multiplied by a fraction equal to (a) the Applicable Percentage immediately following such Delivery divided by (b) the Applicable Percentage immediately prior to such Delivery; provided, however, that if more than one Delivery is made during a Reference Obligation Calculation Period, the Cumulative Interest Shortfall Payment Amount calculated as of the Reference Obligation Payment Date occurring immediately after such Reference Obligation Calculation Period shall be multiplied by a fraction equal to (a) the Applicable Percentage immediately following the final Delivery made during such Reference Obligation Calculation Period divided by (b) the Applicable Percentage immediately prior to the first Delivery made during such Reference Obligation Calculation Period.

Cumulative Interest Shortfall
Payment Compounding Factor:

With respect to any Fixed Rate Payer Calculation Period, an amount equal to the sum of:

- (a) one;
plus
- (b) the product of:
  - (i) the sum of (A) the Relevant Rate plus (B) the Fixed Rate; and
  - (ii) the actual number of days in such Fixed Rate Payer Calculation Period divided by 360;

provided, however, that the Cumulative Interest Shortfall Payment Compounding Factor shall be deemed to be one during the period from but excluding the Effective Maturity Date to and including the Termination Date.

Relevant Rate:

With respect to a Fixed Rate Payer Calculation Period, the Floating Rate, expressed as a decimal number with seven decimal places, that would be determined if:

- (a) the 2006 ISDA Definitions (and not the 2003 ISDA Credit Derivatives Definitions) applied to this paragraph;
- (b) the Fixed Rate Payer Calculation Period were a "Calculation Period" for purposes of such determination; and
- (c) the following terms applied:
  - (i) the Floating Rate Option were the Rate Source;
  - (ii) the Designated Maturity were the period that corresponds to the usual length of a Fixed Rate Payer Calculation Period; and
  - (iii) the Reset Date were the first day of the Calculation Period;

provided, however, that the Relevant Rate shall be deemed to be zero during the period from but excluding the Effective Maturity Date to and including the Termination Date.

Rate Source:

As shown in the relevant Confirmation.

Interest Shortfall Cap Annex B

If Interest Shortfall Cap is specified as applicable and Annex B is elected in the relevant Confirmation, then the following provisions will apply:

Interest Shortfall Cap Basis: As shown in the relevant Confirmation.

Interest Shortfall Cap Amount: If the Interest Shortfall Cap Basis is Fixed Cap, the Interest Shortfall Cap Amount in respect of an Interest Shortfall shall be the Fixed Amount calculated in respect of the Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date immediately following the Reference Obligation Payment Date on which the relevant Interest Shortfall occurred.

If the Interest Shortfall Cap Basis is Variable Cap, the Interest Shortfall Cap Amount applicable in respect of a Floating Rate Payer Payment Date shall be an amount equal to the product of:

- (a) the sum of the Relevant Rate and the Fixed Rate applicable to the Fixed Rate Payer Calculation Period immediately preceding the Reference Obligation Payment Date on which the relevant Interest Shortfall occurs (or, in respect of the first Fixed Rate Payer Calculation Period, the Relevant Rate and the Fixed Rate as of the Effective Date);
- (b) the amount determined by the Calculation Agent under sub-clause (b) of the definition of "Fixed Amount" in relation to the relevant Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date; and
- (c) the Fixed Rate Day Count Fraction.

Interest Shortfall Compounding: As shown in the relevant Confirmation.

Interest Shortfall Reimbursement Payment Amount: If Interest Shortfall Cap is specified as applicable in the relevant Confirmation, then with respect to the first Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date, zero, and with respect to any subsequent Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date and calculated as of the Reference Obligation Payment Date immediately preceding such Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date, as specified by the Calculation Agent in its notice to the parties or by Seller in its notice to Buyer of the existence of an Interest Shortfall Reimbursement, an amount equal to:

- (a) the greater of:
  - (i) zero; and
  - (ii) (A) the product of:
    - (1) the Cumulative Interest Shortfall

Payment Amount as of the Additional Fixed Amount
 Payment Date immediately preceding such Reference Obligation Payment Date; and

(2) either:

(AA) if Interest Shortfall
 Compounding is specified
 as applicable in the relevant
 Confirmation, the relevant
 Cumulative Interest
 Shortfall Payment
 Compounding Factor for the Fixed Rate Payer
 Calculation Period
 immediately preceding such Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date (or one in respect of any
 Additional Fixed Amount
 Payment Date occurring after the final Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date); or

(BB) if Interest Shortfall
 Compounding is specified as not applicable in the relevant Confirmation, one;

minus

(B) the Cumulative Interest Shortfall
 Amount as of such Reference Obligation
 Payment Date;

plus

(b) the Cumulative Implied Writedown Interest
 Payment Amount as of such Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date without giving effect to clause (iii) or clause (y) of such definition (the "Current CIWIPA");

provided that if the Interest Shortfall Reimbursement
 Payment Amount on an Additional Fixed Amount Payment
 Date would exceed the Interest Shortfall Reimbursement
 Amount in respect of the related Reference Obligation
 Payment Date, then such Interest Shortfall Reimbursement Payment Amount shall be deemed to be equal to such Interest Shortfall Reimbursement Amount.

Cumulative Interest Shortfall Amount;

With respect to any Reference Obligation Payment Date, an amount equal to the greater of:

- (a) zero; and
  - (b) an amount equal to:
    - (i) the Cumulative Interest Shortfall Amount as of the Reference Obligation Payment Date immediately preceding such Reference Obligation Payment Date or, in the case of the first Reference Obligation Payment Date, zero; plus
    - (ii) the Interest Shortfall Amount (if any) in respect of such Reference Obligation Payment Date; plus
    - (iii) either:
      - (A) if Interest Shortfall Compounding is specified as applicable in the relevant Confirmation, an amount determined by the Calculation Agent as the amount of interest that would accrue on the Cumulative Interest Shortfall Amount immediately preceding such Reference Obligation Payment Date during the related Reference Obligation Calculation Period pursuant to the Underlying Instruments or, in the case of the first Reference Obligation Payment Date, zero; or
      - (B) if Interest Shortfall Compounding is specified as not applicable in the relevant Confirmation, zero;
- minus
- (iv) the greater of:
    - (A) zero; and
    - (B) the Interest Shortfall Reimbursement Amount (if any) in respect of such Reference Obligation Payment Date, minus the Current CIWIPA determined on the Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date immediately following such Reference Obligation Payment Date.

Upon the occurrence of each Delivery, the Cumulative Interest Shortfall Amount shall be multiplied by a fraction equal to (a) the Applicable Percentage immediately following such Delivery divided by (b) the Applicable Percentage immediately prior to such Delivery; provided, however, that if more than one Delivery is made during a Reference Obligation Calculation Period, the Cumulative Interest Shortfall Amount calculated as of the Reference Obligation Payment Date occurring immediately after such Reference Obligation Calculation Period shall be multiplied by a fraction equal to (a) the Applicable Percentage immediately following the final Delivery made during such Reference Obligation Calculation Period over (b) the Applicable Percentage immediately prior to the first Delivery made during such Reference Obligation Calculation Period.

Cumulative Interest Shortfall
Payment Amount:

The Cumulative Interest Shortfall Payment Amount with respect to any Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date and any Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date falling on such Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date shall be an amount equal to the greater of:

- (a) zero; and
- (b) the amount equal to:
  - (i) the sum of:
    - (A) the Interest Shortfall Payment Amount for the Reference Obligation Payment Date corresponding to such Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date; and
    - (B) the product of:
      - (1) the Cumulative Interest Shortfall Payment Amount as of the Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date immediately preceding such Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date (or zero in the case of the first Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date); and
      - (2) either:
        - (AA) if Interest Shortfall Compounding is specified as applicable in the relevant Confirmation, the

relevant
 Cumulative Interest
 Shortfall Payment
 Compounding
 Factor; or

(BB) if Interest Shortfall
 Compounding is specified as not applicable in the relevant Confirmation, one;

minus

(ii) the greater of:

(A) zero; and

(B) (1) any Interest Shortfall
 Reimbursement Payment
 Amount paid on such Additional Fixed Amount
 Payment Date;

minus

(2) the Current CIWIPA determined on such
 Additional Fixed Amount
 Payment Date.

With respect to any Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date falling after the final Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date, the Cumulative Interest Shortfall Payment Amount shall be equal to:

(x) the Cumulative Interest Shortfall Payment Amount as of the Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date immediately preceding such Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date (or as of the final Fixed Rate
 Payer Payment Date in the case of the first Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date occurring after the final Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date);
 minus

(y) the greater of:

(aa) zero; and

(bb) any Interest Shortfall Reimbursement Payment Amount paid on such Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date minus the Current CIWIPA determined on such

Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date.

Upon the occurrence of each Delivery, the Cumulative Interest Shortfall Payment Amount shall be multiplied by a fraction equal to (a) the Applicable Percentage immediately following such Delivery divided by (b) the Applicable Percentage immediately prior to such Delivery; provided, however, that if more than one Delivery is made during a Reference Obligation Calculation Period, the Cumulative Interest Shortfall Payment Amount calculated as of the Reference Obligation Payment Date occurring immediately after such Reference Obligation Calculation Period shall be multiplied by a fraction equal to (a) the Applicable Percentage immediately following the final Delivery made during such Reference Obligation Calculation Period and (b) the Applicable Percentage immediately prior to the first Delivery made during such Reference Obligation Calculation Period.

Cumulative Implied
Writedown Interest Payment
Amount:

With respect to the first Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date, zero and with respect to any subsequent Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date and any Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date falling on such Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date, an amount equal to the greater of:

- (a) zero; and
- (b) the amount equal to:
  - (i) the product of:
    - (A) the Aggregate Implied Writedown Amount as of the Reference Obligation Payment Date relating to the immediately preceding Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date;
    - (B) the Applicable Percentage;
    - (C) the sum of (1) the Relevant Rate and (2) the Fixed Rate; and
    - (D) the Fixed Rate Day Count Fraction;

plus
  - (ii) the product of:
    - (A) the Cumulative Implied Writedown Interest Payment Amount as of the Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date immediately preceding such Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date (or zero in the case of the first Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date); and

(B) either:

(1) if Interest Shortfall
 Compounding is specified
 as applicable in the relevant
 Confirmation, the relevant
 Cumulative Interest
 Shortfall Payment
 Compounding Factor; or

(2) if Interest Shortfall
 Compounding is specified
 as not applicable in the relevant Confirmation, one;

minus

(iii) the lesser of:

(A) any Interest Shortfall
 Reimbursement Payment Amount paid on such Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date; and

(B) the Current CIWIPA determined on such Additional Fixed Amount
 Payment Date.

With respect to any Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date falling after the final Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date, the Cumulative Implied Writedown Interest Payment Amount shall be equal to:

(x) the Cumulative Implied Writedown Interest Payment Amount as of the Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date immediately preceding such Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date (or as of the final Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date in the case of the first Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date occurring after the final Fixed Rate Payer Payment Date); minus

(y) the lesser of:

(aa) any Interest Shortfall Reimbursement
 Payment Amount paid on such Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date; and

(bb) the Current CIWIPA determined on such Additional Fixed Amount Payment Date.

Upon the occurrence of each Delivery, the Cumulative Implied Writedown Interest Payment Amount shall be multiplied by a fraction equal to (a) the Applicable Percentage immediately following such Delivery divided by (b) the Applicable Percentage immediately prior to such Delivery; provided, however, that if more than one Delivery is made during a Reference Obligation Calculation Period, the Cumulative Implied Writedown Interest Payment Amount calculated as of the Reference Obligation Payment Date occurring immediately after such Reference Obligation Calculation Period shall be multiplied by a fraction equal to (a) the Applicable Percentage immediately following the final Delivery made during such Reference Obligation Calculation Period and (b) the Applicable Percentage immediately prior to the first Delivery made during such Reference Obligation Calculation Period.

Cumulative Interest Shortfall Payment Compounding Factor: With respect to any Fixed Rate Payer Calculation Period, an amount equal to the sum of:

- (a) one;
- plus
- (b) the product of:
  - (i) the sum of (A) the Relevant Rate plus (B) the Fixed Rate; and
  - (ii) the Fixed Rate Day Count Fraction;

provided, however, that the Cumulative Interest Shortfall Payment Compounding Factor shall be deemed to be one during the period from but excluding the Effective Maturity Date to and including the Termination Date.

Relevant Rate: With respect to a Fixed Rate Payer Calculation Period, the Floating Rate, expressed as a decimal number with seven decimal places, that would be determined if:

- (a) the 2006 ISDA Definitions (and not the 2003 ISDA Credit Derivatives Definitions) applied to this paragraph;
- (b) the Fixed Rate Payer Calculation Period were a "Calculation Period" for purposes of such determination; and
- (c) the following terms applied:
  - (i) the Floating Rate Option were the Rate Source;
  - (ii) the Designated Maturity were the period that corresponds to the usual length of a Fixed Rate Payer Calculation Period; and

(iii) the Reset Date were the first day of the Calculation Period;

provided, however, that the Relevant Rate shall be deemed to be zero during the period from but excluding the Effective Maturity Date to and including the Termination Date.

Re: Novation Transaction

Dear _____:

The purpose of this [facsimile][letter] is to confirm the terms and conditions of the Novation Transaction entered into between the parties and effective from the Novation Date specified below. This Novation Confirmation constitutes a "Confirmation" as referred to in the New Agreement specified below.

1. The definitions and provisions contained in the 2004 ISDA Novation Definitions (the "Definitions"), the terms and provisions of the 2003 ISDA Credit Derivatives Definitions (the "Credit Derivatives Definitions"), as published by the International Swaps and Derivatives Association, Inc. and amended from time to time and the Annex hereto are each incorporated in this Novation Confirmation. In the event of any inconsistency between (i) the Definitions (as amended by the Annex hereto), (ii) the Credit Derivatives Definitions and/or (iii) the Novation Agreement (as amended by the Annex hereto) and this Novation Confirmation, this Novation Confirmation will govern.

2. The terms of the Novation Transaction to which this Novation Confirmation relates are as follows:

[Novation Trade Date:]

Novation Date:

Novated Amount:

[Transferor][Transferor 1] (and notwithstanding Section 1.5 of the Definitions):

[Transferor 2 (and notwithstanding Section 1.5 of the Definitions)]:

[Transferee][Transferee 1] (and notwithstanding Section 1.6 of the Definitions):

[Remaining Party (and notwithstanding Section 1.6 of the Definitions)][Transferee 2 (and notwithstanding Section 1.6 of the Definitions)]:

[New Agreement (between [Transferee 1 and Transferee 2][Transferee and Remaining Party])]: ISDA Master Agreement [dated as of _____][as per Section 1.11 of the Definitions] subject to [English law][the laws of the State of New York]

3. The terms of each Old Transaction to which this Novation Confirmation relates[, for identification purposes, are as follows:][shall be specified in the copy of the Old Confirmation attached hereto as Exhibit A.]

Reference Entity:

Reference Obligation:

Trade Date of Old Transaction:

Effective Date of Old Transaction:

Applicable Percentage of Old Transaction:

Scheduled Termination Date of Old

Transaction:

4. The terms of each New Transaction to which this Novation Confirmation relates [are as follows:][shall be specified in Section[s] __ [_____] and [_____] of the copy of the Old Confirmation attached hereto as Exhibit A.][shall be specified in the New Confirmation attached hereto as Exhibit [A][B]].

Full First Calculation Period:

Applicable, [commencing on [ ]] [commencing on [ ]], with respect to any amounts to be paid by the Transferee, and [ ], with respect to any amounts to be paid by the Remaining Party].

5. Other Provisions: [[Additional Provisions relating to the New Transaction]][Credit Support Documents relating to the New Transaction]]:

6. Miscellaneous Provisions: [Non-Reliance][ ]

7. Notice Details:

Telephone and/or Facsimile Numbers for Notices:

Transferee: [ ]

Remaining Party: [ ]

8. [The parties confirm their acceptance to be bound by this Novation Confirmation as of the Novation Date by executing a copy of this Novation Confirmation and returning it to us]. [The Transferor, by its execution of a copy of this Novation Confirmation, agrees to the terms of the Novation Confirmation as it relates to each Old Transaction. The Transferee, by its execution of a copy of this Novation Confirmation, agrees to the terms of the Novation Confirmation as it relates to each New Transaction.].

9. The Remaining Party and the Transferee agree that, notwithstanding any provision in the Old Transaction to which this Novation Confirmation relates, all rights of the Remaining Party and the Transferor in respect of Floating Amounts and Additional Fixed Amounts that arose before the Novation Date shall be deemed to have been exercised and all obligations of such parties in respect of such events that have arisen or are deemed to have arisen shall be deemed to have been satisfied in full, in each case solely for the purposes of determining the rights and obligations of the Remaining Party and the Transferee under the New Transaction. Nothing in this paragraph shall affect the rights or obligations of the Remaining Party or the Transferor under the Old Transaction.

Annex

1. Section 2(a) of the Novation Agreement shall be deemed to be amended as follows:
  - (a) by the insertion of “(i)” after the words “with respect to” in the fifth line thereof; and
  - (b) by the addition of the following at the end thereof:

“and (ii) any rights or obligations arising in respect of Floating Amount Events or Additional Fixed Amount Events, in each case in respect of which the Remaining Party or the Transferor (each an “Original Party”), as applicable, had the right to deliver a notice pursuant to the terms of the Old Transaction but such notice was not delivered by that party or the Calculation Agent prior to the Novation Date (each an “Excluded Event”) provided that the rights of the Original Parties to deliver a notice in respect of an Excluded Event pursuant to the Old Transaction shall expire on the 60th calendar day following the Novation Date.”
2. Section 2(b) of the Novation Agreement shall be deemed to be amended by the addition of the following after the words “Novation Date,” in the last line thereof:

“but excluding any rights or obligations in respect of Excluded Events,”
3. Section 2.1(a)(iii)(D)(i) of the Definitions shall not apply

ANNEX B*TAX GUIDELINES

TERMS USED IN THIS ANNEX B BUT NOT OTHERWISE DEFINED IN THIS ANNEX B OR IN THIS AGREEMENT HAVE THE RESPECTIVE MEANINGS GIVEN TO SUCH TERMS IN EXHIBIT A HERETO.

THE FOLLOWING CONDITIONS ARE DESIGNED TO MINIMIZE THE RISK THAT THE ACQUISITION (INCLUDING THE MANNER OF ACQUISITION) OR OWNERSHIP OF A REFERENCE OBLIGATION COULD CAUSE THE ISSUER TO BE TREATED AS ENGAGED IN A U.S. TRADE OR BUSINESS FOR U.S. FEDERAL INCOME TAX PURPOSES.

Certain Tax Provisions

Capitalized terms used but not defined herein will have the meanings ascribed to them in the Indenture.

For purposes of this Annex B only, all references to "Issuer" in this Annex B shall be deemed to refer additionally to the Servicer when acting either on behalf of the Issuer or with respect to assets acquired for and held in the Warehouse Account, as the context may require.

I. Specific Restrictions.*A. Communications and Negotiations with the Issuer.

The Issuer will not have any communications or negotiations with the issuer of a Collateral Obligation or the issuer of a Reference Obligation (in any case, directly or indirectly through an intermediary such as the seller of such Collateral Obligation or the Synthetic Security) in connection with the issuance or funding of such Collateral Obligation or Reference Obligation or commitments with respect thereto, except for communications of an immaterial nature or customary due diligence communications; provided, that the Servicer may (i) consent to or withhold consent to any proposed amendments, supplements or other modifications of the term of any Collateral Obligations after such Collateral Obligations are acquired by the Issuer, and (ii) provide comments as to mistakes or inconsistencies in loan documents (including with respect to any provisions that are inconsistent with the terms and conditions of purchase of the loan by the Issuer).

B. Fees.

The Issuer will not earn or receive from any Person any fee or other compensation for services, however denominated, in connection with its purchase or sale of a Collateral Obligation or entering into a Synthetic Security except for (i) commitment fees or facility maintenance fees that are received by the Issuer in connection with Revolving Loans or Delayed Drawdown Loans; (ii) yield maintenance and prepayment penalty fees; (iii) fees on account of the Issuer's consenting to amendments, waivers or other modifications of the terms of any Collateral Obligations; (iv) fees from permitted securities lending; and (v) upfront payments in lieu of periodic payments under a Synthetic Security. Except for services provided in connection with permitted fees, the Issuer will not provide services to any Person.

C. Collateralized Obligations Purchased from the Servicer and Affiliates.

If the Servicer or an affiliate of the Servicer acted as an underwriter, placement or other agent, arranger, negotiator or structurer in connection with the issuance or origination of a Collateral Obligation or was a member of the original lending syndicate with respect to the Collateral Obligation, the Issuer will not acquire any interest in such Collateral Obligation (including entering into a commitment or agreement, whether or not legally binding or enforceable, to acquire such obligation directly or synthetically), from the Servicer, an affiliate of the Servicer, or a fund managed by the Servicer, unless (i) the Collateral Obligation has been outstanding for at least 30 days, (ii) the holder of the Collateral Obligation did not identify the obligation or security as intended for sale to the Issuer within 30 days of its issuance, (iii) the employees or agents of the Servicer responsible for selecting Collateral Obligations for the Issuer were not directly involved in the origination of the Collateral Obligation on behalf of the Servicer, an affiliate of the Servicer, or a fund managed by the Servicer (e.g. responsible for approving or reviewing the lending decision, participation in a credit committee reviewing any loan proposed to be made), (iv) the price paid for such obligation by the Issuer is its fair market value at the time of acquisition by the Issuer, and (v) after the acquisition the Issuer will own less than 50% of the aggregate principal amount of the borrowing that includes such Collateral Obligation.

D. Equity Restrictions. The Issuer will not purchase any asset (directly or synthetically) that is treated for U.S. federal income tax purposes as:

- (1) an equity interest in a "partnership" (within the meaning of Section 7701(a)(2) of the Code) engaged or deemed to be engaged in a trade or business within the United States, or
- (2) a "United States real property interest" as defined in Section 897 of the Code and the Treasury Regulations promulgated thereunder.

The Issuer may acquire stock of a subsidiary and cause such subsidiary to acquire assets set forth in clause (i) or (ii) above (an "ETB/897 Asset") in connection with the workout of defaulted Collateral Obligations, so long as the acquisition of ETB/897 Assets by such subsidiary will not cause the stock of such subsidiary to be deemed to be an ETB/897 Asset.

E. Debt Securities.

The Issuer will acquire or commit to acquire Collateral Obligations, other than those described in Sections I.G. and II, only if either:

- (i) the obligation or security was issued pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), in an underwriting or placement where none of the Servicer or any Affiliate thereof acted as an underwriter or placement agent (unless they are issued by a Person for whom one of its Affiliates acts as one of a syndicate of placement agents or underwriters provided the Servicer purchases any such security on an arms length basis at a then current market price from a member of such syndicate); or

- (ii) the obligation or security was privately placed under Rule 144A or Regulation S promulgated under the Securities Act, it was originally issued pursuant to an offering circular, private placement memorandum, or similar offering document, and it is purchased from an underwriter or placement agent and not directly from the obligor and;
- (x) the Servicer and its employees did not participate in the placement as placement agent or underwriter or participate in negotiating or structuring the terms of the obligation or security (other than to comment on offering documents to an unrelated underwriter or placement agent where the ability to comment was generally available to investors and to undertake due diligence of the kind customarily performed by investors in securities); or
- (y) the Servicer and its Affiliates did not (i) participate in negotiating or structuring the terms of the obligation or security (other than to comment on offering documents to an unrelated underwriter or placement agent where the ability to comment was generally available to investors and to undertake due diligence of the kind customarily performed by investors in securities) or (ii) acquire or commit to acquire more than 33% of the aggregate principal amount of such obligations or securities or any other class of obligations or securities offered by the obligor or issuer in the same or any related offering (unless Persons unrelated to the Servicer and its Affiliates purchased more than 50% of the aggregate principal amount of such obligations or securities or such class at substantially the same time and on substantially the same terms as the Issuer).

F. Revolving Loans and Delayed Drawdown Loans.

The Issuer will not purchase any Collateral Obligation that constitutes a Revolving Loan or Delayed Drawdown Loan.

G. Application to Synthetic Securities.

The Issuer shall not (i) acquire or enter into any Synthetic Security with respect to any Reference Obligation the direct acquisition of which would violate any provision of this Annex A or (ii) use Synthetic Securities as a means of making advances to the Synthetic Security Counterparty following the date on which the Synthetic Security is acquired or entered into (for the avoidance of doubt, the establishment of Synthetic Security Collateral Accounts and the payment of Synthetic Security Counterparties from the amounts on deposit therein, in each case in accordance with the Indenture, shall not constitute the making of advances).

No Synthetic Security acquired by the Issuer shall (i) require that the purchaser of credit protection thereunder own the applicable Reference Obligation, (ii) require by its terms the delivery of reports or other information relating to the Reference Obligation if the effect of such requirement is that the purchaser of credit protection thereunder would be required to own the applicable Reference Obligation or (iii) require physical settlement (provided however, for credit derivatives transactions providing for "Pay-As-You-Go or Physical Settlement", the only circumstance in which a party will be required to settle its obligations thereunder by delivery of the Reference Obligation will be in connection with a "Distressed Ratings Downgrade" or a substantially similar event for a Reference Obligation that is readily available on a secondary market).

With respect to each Synthetic Security: (a) the criteria used to determine whether to enter into any particular synthetic security is similar to the criteria used by the Servicer in making investment decisions in debt securities; (b) the synthetic security is acquired by or entered into by the Issuer for its own account and for investment purposes with the expectation of realizing a profit from income earned on the securities and/or any rise in their value during the interval of time between their purchase and sale or hedging purposes and not with an intention to trade or to sell for a short-term profit; (c) the Issuer enters into the synthetic security with a counterparty that is a derivatives dealer (e.g., it holds itself out as willing to enter into both sides of a synthetic transaction as a regular part of its business) and is not an insurance company (or a special purpose subsidiary of an insurance company); (d) none of the Issuer and any other person acting on behalf of the Issuer advertises or publishes the Issuer's ability to enter into synthetic securities; and (e) except with respect to (x) credit-linked notes or similar synthetic securities and (y) any other synthetic securities where standard form ISDA documentation is not applicable, the synthetic security is written on standard form ISDA documentation.

The Issuer shall not enter into offsetting positions unless such offsetting positions are entered into with the same counterparty or the subsequent position is a means to terminate all or part of the prior position as a result of a change in view of the prior position.

In the case of a security issued to the Issuer by a special purpose vehicle or other entity (a "synthetic counterparty") that is meant to expose the Issuer to risk substantially similar to those the Issuer undertakes with a credit default swap, the restrictions under Section 1.G. hereof shall apply not only to such synthetic counterparty, but also to the counterparty of such synthetic counterparty.

As used herein:

"Reference Obligation" means a debt security or other obligation upon which a Synthetic Security is based.

"Synthetic Security" means any swap transaction or security, other than a participation interest in a Loan that has payments associated with either payments of interest and/or principal on a Reference Obligation or the credit performance of a Reference Obligation.

"Synthetic Security Counterparty" means an entity (other than the Issuer) required to make payments on a Synthetic Security (including any guarantor).

H. Securities Lending Agreements.

The Issuer will not purchase any Collateral Obligation primarily for the purpose of entering into a securities lending agreement with respect thereto.

I. Letters of Credit.

If a Collateral Obligation (or any deposit owned by the Issuer) provides for participation in fees (directly or indirectly) paid with respect to a letter of credit all of the terms under which such letter of credit may be issued must have been fully negotiated no later than the original legal document closing of such Collateral Obligation and the Issuer will acquire its interest in the letter of credit issued to an obligor in connection with an interest in a term loan of the same obligor that is at least as large as the exposure under the letter of credit and that is acquired at the same time and with the intent and expectation to hold the interest in the term loan at least as long as it holds the interest in the letter of credit.

II. Restrictions with Respect to Loans and Forward Purchase Commitments.

- A. Any understanding or commitment to purchase a loan, a participation, a loan subparticipation or a collateralized loan obligation (collectively, "Loans") from a seller before completion of the closing and full funding of the Loan by such seller must be treated as a forward sale agreement (a "Forward Purchase Commitment") unless such an understanding or commitment is not legally binding and neither the Issuer nor the Servicer is economically compelled to purchase the Loan following the completion of the closing and full funding of the Loan (i.e., the Servicer will make an independent investment decision whether to purchase such Loan on behalf of the Issuer after completion of the closing and full funding of the Loan) (a "Non-Binding Agreement").
- B. No Forward Purchase Commitment or Non-Binding Agreement shall be made until after the seller (or a transferor to such seller of such Loan) has made a legally binding commitment to fully fund such Loan to the obligor thereof, (subject to customary conditions), which commitment cannot be conditioned on the Issuer's ultimate purchase of such Loan from such seller.
- C. In the event of any reduced or eliminated funding, the Issuer shall not receive any premium, fee, or other compensation in connection with having entered into the Forward Purchase Commitment or Non-Binding Commitment.
- D. The Issuer shall not close any purchase of a Loan subject to a Forward Purchase Commitment earlier than 48 hours (24 hours in connection with a Non-Binding Agreement) after the time of the closing and full funding of the Loan.
- E. The Issuer cannot have a contractual relationship with the borrower with respect to a Loan until the Issuer actually purchases the Loan.

- F. The Issuer cannot be a signatory on the lending agreement, and cannot be obligated to fund an assignment of or a participation in a Loan prior to the actual funding of the Loan by the institutions lending to the borrower.
- G. The Issuer cannot purchase or commit to purchase a Loan if it would cause the Issuer to own more than 50% of the aggregate principal amount of the borrowing that includes such Loan.
- H. The Issuer will not be listed as a "lender" or otherwise a party to a loan until after closing.

III. General Restrictions. The Issuer shall not:

- A. hold itself out, through advertising or otherwise, as originating loans, lending funds, or making a market in or a dealer in loans or other assets;
- B. register as, hold itself out as, or become subject to regulatory supervision or other legal requirements under the laws of any country or political subdivision thereof as, a broker-dealer, a bank, an insurance company, financial guarantor, surety bond issuer, or a company engaged in loan origination;
- C. take any action causing it to be treated as a bank, insurance company, or company engaged in loan origination for purposes of any tax, securities law or other filing or submission made to any governmental authority;
- D. hold itself out, through advertising or otherwise, as originating, funding, guaranteeing or insuring debt obligations or as being willing and able to enter into transactions (either purchases or sales of debt obligations or entries into, assignments or terminations of hedging or derivative instruments, including Synthetic Securities) at the request of others;
- E. treat Synthetic Securities as insurance, reinsurance, indemnity bonds, guaranties, guaranty bonds or suretyship contracts for any purpose;
- F. disclose the identity of any holder of a Security to any person from whom it purchases Collateral Obligations or attempt to obtain more favorable terms from any seller as a result of the identity of any holder of a Security;
- G. allow any non-U.S. bank or lending institution who is a holder of a Security to control or direct the Servicer's or Issuer's decision to invest in a particular asset except as otherwise allowed to such a holder, acting in that capacity, under the Indenture or acquire a Collateral Obligation conditioned upon a particular person or entity holding Securities;
- H. acquire any asset the holding or acquisition of which the Servicer believes would cause the Issuer to be subject to income tax on a net income basis;
- I. hold any security as nominee for another person; or

- J. buy securities with the intent to subdivide them and sell the components or to buy securities and sell them with different securities as a package or unit.

IV. Amendments and Modifications.

In furtherance and not in limitation of this Annex A, the Servicer shall comply with all of the provisions set forth in this Annex A, unless, with respect to a particular transaction, the Servicer acting on behalf of the Issuer and the Trustee shall have received written advice of McKee Nelson LLP that, under the relevant facts and circumstances with respect to such transaction, the Servicer's failure to comply with one or more of such provisions will not cause the Issuer to be engaged, or deemed to be engaged, in a trade or business within the United States for United States federal income tax purposes or otherwise to be subject to United States federal income tax on a net basis. The provisions set forth in the Annex A may be amended, eliminated or supplemented by the Servicer if the Issuer, the Servicer and the Trustee shall have received an opinion of McKee Nelson LLP that the Servicer's compliance with such amended provisions or supplemental provisions or the failure to comply with such provisions proposed to be eliminated, as the case may be, will not cause the Issuer to be engaged, or deemed to be engaged, in a trade or business within the United States for United States federal income tax purposes or otherwise to be subject to United States federal income tax on a net basis.

EXECUTION VERSION*WAREHOUSE AGREEMENT

WAREHOUSE AGREEMENT dated as of May 22, 2007 (this "Agreement"), among between UBS Securities LLC ("UBS") and Highland Capital Management, L.P. ("Highland") in its capacity as Servicer (the "Servicer").

RECITALS

WHEREAS, pursuant to an engagement letter dated April 20, 2007 (as amended from time to time, the "Engagement Letter"), between UBS and Highland, UBS has been engaged to act as exclusive structuring, warehousing and placement agent with respect to, among other things, (a) the structuring of several classes of notes (the "Notes") and subordinated securities (collectively, the "Subordinated Securities" and, together with the Notes, the "Offered Securities") to be issued by one or more newly formed special purpose entities (each, an "Issuer" and, collectively, the "Issuers") in a collateralized debt obligation transaction (the "Transaction") and (b) the marketing and placement of the Offered Securities.

WHEREAS, a portion of the Offered Securities will be secured (or, in the case of the Subordinated Securities, backed) by a portfolio consisting of collateralized loan obligations that in each case satisfy the eligibility criteria set forth in Annex A hereto (such securities, the "Collateral Obligations") to be acquired by the Issuer pursuant to the Forward Sale Agreement and by a portfolio of credit default swaps referencing collateralized loan obligations which are the subject of a warehouse agreement dated as of April 12, 2007 between UBS AG, London Branch and Highland (the "Synthetic Warehouse Agreement").

WHEREAS, in order to facilitate the Issuer's purchase of the initial portfolio of Collateral Obligations (the "Initial Portfolio"), prior to the issuance of the Offered Securities, the Servicer has requested UBS, and UBS has agreed, to finance the acquisition and warehousing of the Initial Portfolio on the terms and conditions set forth herein.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual agreements set forth herein and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and adequacy of which is hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto agree as follows:

1. Definitions. Capitalized terms used herein and not otherwise defined herein shall have the meanings set forth in the Engagement Letter. Capitalized terms used herein have the respective meanings assigned to them in Exhibit A.
2. Accumulation, Holding and Hedging of Collateral Obligations; Servicer Duties.
  - (A) Accumulation of Collateral Obligations. During the Accumulation Period, the Servicer will select each Collateral Obligation to be included in the Initial Portfolio and, at least three Business Days' prior to committing the Issuer to purchase such Collateral Obligation, will provide notice (a "Purchase Request") to UBS of the identity of such Collateral Obligation and the price at which UBS shall purchase such Collateral Obligation (the "Offer Price"). Subject to the immediately succeeding sentence and the satisfaction of the conditions set forth in Section 3 hereof, UBS shall purchase any Collateral Obligation identified by the Servicer at a price no greater than the Offer Price (or such other price as UBS and the Servicer may mutually agree to). The Servicer shall provide UBS (or any of its Affiliates) the opportunity to offer for sale any security for inclusion as a Collateral Obligation in the Initial Portfolio at a price that is mutually agreed upon by UBS and the Servicer.

- (B) Hedging of Collateral Obligations. UBS (or any of its Affiliates) may enter into a Hedging Transaction in respect of any one or a group of Collateral Obligations held in the Warehouse Account. UBS (or its Affiliates) may terminate, in part or in whole, or amend any such Hedging Transaction upon the liquidation of the related Collateral Obligation or, after consultation with the Servicer, at any other time. In addition, on the Pricing Date or on any other date determined by UBS in its sole discretion, UBS shall (i) terminate any Hedging Transactions in respect of any Collateral Obligations, and (ii) assist the Servicer in arranging for the Issuer to enter into an interest rate hedging agreement for the account of the Issuer with respect to the portfolio of Collateral Obligations to be acquired by the Issuer on the Closing Date.
- (C) Limit on Amount of Collateral Obligations. The aggregate UBS Purchase Price of the Collateral Obligations purchased by UBS hereunder shall not exceed 100% of the Expected Portfolio Amount (or such other amount as the parties hereto may otherwise agree in writing). The aggregate principal amount of the Collateral Obligations shall not exceed 100% of the Expected Portfolio Amount (or such other amount as the parties hereto may otherwise agree in writing).
- (D) Holding Collateral Obligations. UBS shall hold all such Collateral Obligations in one or more Warehouse Accounts pending the sale or liquidation of such Collateral Obligations pursuant to Sections 4, 5 or 6 hereof. With respect to each Collateral Obligation held in a Warehouse Account, UBS shall, until conveyed, transferred or sold to the Issuer or otherwise conveyed in accordance with this Agreement, be entitled, in its sole discretion to (1) receive and retain any and all proceeds (including, without limitation, any principal, interest and other payments) on such Collateral Obligation; (2) following notice to the Servicer, exercise any and all other rights (including without limitation, voting and exchange rights) with respect to such Collateral Obligation and (3) rehypothecate, or otherwise transfer or hedge the credit or other risk associated with, such Collateral Obligation.
- (E) Eligibility Criteria. The Servicer shall not issue any Purchase Request to UBS in connection with the purchase of a Collateral Obligation hereunder that it knows or (consistent with the customary standards, policies and procedures followed by institutional managers of national standing relating to assets of the nature and character of the CDS Portfolio) should have known that if (A) any of the Eligibility Criteria will not be satisfied by such Collateral Obligation or by the portfolio of Collateral Obligations immediately after giving effect to such purchase or (B) the acquisition and ownership of such Collateral Obligation by the Issuer would cause the Issuer to be engaged in a trade or business within the United States for United States Federal income tax purposes (provided that the Servicer shall be deemed to comply with this clause (B) to the extent it complies with the procedures set forth in Annex B).

- (F) The Servicer shall notify the Issuer and UBS promptly if at any time during the term of this Agreement it becomes aware that a Collateral Obligation does not conform to the Eligibility Criteria. If at any time during the Accumulation Period any Collateral Obligation or the portfolio of Collateral Obligations does not comply with the Eligibility Criteria, UBS shall be entitled, in its sole discretion, to designate as Ineligible Securities, one or more Collateral Obligations that, if removed from the Initial Portfolio, would cause the portfolio to be in compliance with the Eligibility Criteria.

3. Conditions to Accumulation. The obligation of UBS to acquire any Collateral Obligation for inclusion in the Warehouse Account in accordance with Section 2 hereof is subject to the satisfaction of the following conditions:

- (A) UBS shall have established the Warehouse Account;
- (B) with respect to any Collateral Obligation proposed for inclusion in the Warehouse Account, (i) UBS is satisfied, in its sole discretion, that such Collateral Obligation satisfies the Eligibility Criteria and (ii) UBS shall have given prior consent, in its sole discretion, to the acquisition of such Collateral Obligation;
- (C) in the case of any Collateral Obligation to be acquired by UBS prior to the Pricing Date, UBS is satisfied in its sole discretion that the risk of depreciation in Market Value of such Collateral Obligation by reason of an increase in interest rates during the Carry Period for such Collateral Obligation is hedged pursuant to one or more Hedging Transactions; and
- (D) the Forward Sale Agreement shall have been executed..

4. Sale of Collateral Obligations to Issuer.

- (A) If the Closing Date occurs on or prior to the Termination Date:

(i) UBS (or its Affiliate) shall enter into the Forward Sale Agreement with the Issuer and, with respect to each Collateral Obligation held in the Warehouse Account, a Forward Sale Transaction at an agreed price with the Issuer. If the Closing Date occurs on or prior to the Termination Date, UBS (or such Affiliate) shall sell each Collateral Obligation in the Warehouse Account (other than a Collateral Obligation determined to be an Ineligible Security pursuant to Section 6 hereof) to the Issuer on the Closing Date at the Issuer Purchase Price;

(ii) Ineligible Securities shall be liquidated in accordance with Section 6 and Section 7

(iii) (A) if there is a Net Loss, the lesser of (x) $50,000,000 and (y) such Net Loss shall be allocated between the CDO Fund and SOHC on the basis of (1), in the case of the CDO Fund, the percentage of total equity or Subordinated Securities that the CDO Fund acquires in the Transaction for investment on the Closing Date to the total equity or Subordinated Securities in the Transaction held by HFP and any subsidiaries thereof, including SOHC and the CDO Fund (the “CDO Fund Loss Limit”) and (2) in the case of SOHC, any Net Loss in excess of the CDO Fund Loss Limit up to $50,000,000 following allocation to the CDO Fund; and any Net Loss in excess of $50,000,000 shall be born by UBS

If there is a Net Gain, the lesser of (x) $50,000,000 and (y) such Net Gain shall be paid by UBS to the CDO Fund and SOHC to be allocated between the CDO Fund and SOHC on the basis of (1), in the case of the CDO Fund, the percentage of total equity or Subordinated Securities that the CDO Fund acquires in the Transaction for investment on the Closing Date to the total equity or Subordinated Securities in the Transaction held by HFP and any subsidiaries thereof, including SOHC and the CDO Fund (the “CDO Fund Gain Limit”) and (2) in the case of SOHC, any Net Gain in excess of the CDO Fund Gain Limit up to $50,000,000 following allocation to the CDO Fund; and any Net Gain in excess of $50,000,000 shall be retained by UBS. To the extent the Closing Date fails to occur, allocation of Net Loss, Net Gain and any other amounts payable will be determined in accordance with the provisions of Section 5 hereof; and

(B) In addition, UBS shall be entitled to retain its Financing Cost and Highland shall be entitled to receive any Positive Carry with respect to each Collateral Obligation.

5. Failure to Close; Termination Date.

(A) If the Closing Date fails to occur on or prior to the Termination Date then the Forward Sale Agreement shall terminate in whole by its terms on the Termination Date and UBS shall be authorized (but not required) to sell each Collateral Obligation then in the Warehouse Account in accordance with the Liquidation Procedures. Following the completion of such liquidation of the Collateral Obligations, if there is a Net Loss or Net Gain, the lesser of (x) $50,000,000 and (y) such Net Loss or Net Gain shall be allocated or paid, as applicable, (1) 51% to CDO Fund and (2) 49% to SOHC; and any Net Loss or Net Gain in excess of $50,000,000 shall be allocated or retained, as applicable, to UBS.. For purposes of determining the Net Gain and Net Loss, any Collateral Obligation which UBS does not direct to be sold, shall be deemed sold for its Market Value.

(A) If the Closing Date fails to occur for any reason, UBS shall be entitled to retain its Financing Cost.

- (B) If any amount is due from UBS to the Servicer pursuant to this Section 5, UBS shall promptly pay such amount after deducting first therefrom all amounts due from the Servicer under this Section 5 or under Sections 8 and 15.

6. Liquidation of Collateral Obligations.

- (A) If, at any time during the Carry Period therefor, the Servicer determines that a Collateral Obligation is an Ineligible Security, a Written-Down Security, a Credit Risk Security or a Defaulted Security it, shall promptly so notify UBS in writing (including by electronic mail or facsimile).
- (B) If either (i) UBS agrees with the Servicer's determination that a Collateral Obligation is an Ineligible Security, or (ii) UBS itself determines in good faith that any Collateral Obligation is an Ineligible Security, UBS may notify the Servicer that UBS elects to sell such Collateral Obligation, then the Forward Sale Transaction shall immediately terminate in whole by its terms and UBS shall be authorized (but not required) to sell such Collateral Obligation.

7. Liquidation Procedures.

- (A) If any Collateral Obligation is to be sold, UBS shall have the right to direct such sale on such terms and in such manner and at such time that it deems appropriate in its sole discretion. UBS may, in its sole discretion, elect to retain any such Collateral Obligation or to sell such Collateral Obligation to one of UBS's Affiliates in which event, for purposes of determining Net Gain and Net Loss, such Collateral Obligation shall be deemed to have been liquidated at a price equal to the Market Value. Notwithstanding Section 2(B), on or about the date of the liquidation of any Collateral Obligation hereunder, UBS shall terminate the related Hedging Transaction (or the related portion of a Hedging Transaction that relates to a group of Reference Obligations), if any, entered into in respect of such Collateral Obligation.
- (B) The Servicer will, if requested by UBS, cooperate with UBS in effecting any sale of a Collateral Obligation hereunder.

8. [RESERVED].

9. Notices. Unless expressly provided otherwise in writing by the parties hereto, all notices, requests, demands and other communications required or permitted under this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been duly given, made and received when delivered against receipt or upon actual receipt of registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, or in the case of facsimile, when confirmation of transmission is received, addressed as set forth below:

If to UBS:

Any party hereto may alter the address or facsimile number to which communications or copies are to be sent by giving notice of such change of address in conformity with the provisions of this Section 9 for the giving of notice.

10. Term. This Agreement shall continue in full force and effect and shall be irrevocable by any party hereto until the earlier of the Termination Date occurring and the Transaction being abandoned pursuant to the Engagement Letter; provided, however, that Sections 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 13 and 15 shall survive the termination of this Agreement.

11. Representation and Acknowledgements.

(A) The Servicer represents and warrants to UBS that:

(1) it is duly authorized to execute and deliver this Agreement and/to perform its obligations hereunder and has taken all necessary action to authorize such execution, delivery and performance;

(2) the person signing this Agreement on its behalf is duly authorized to do so on its behalf;

(3) it has obtained all authorizations of any governmental body required in connection with this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby and such authorizations are in full force and effect; and

(4) the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby will not violate any law, ordinance, charter, by-law or rule applicable to it or any other agreement by which it is bound or by which any of its assets are affected. Each party shall be deemed to repeat all of the foregoing representations made by it on each date on which UBS purchases any Collateral Obligation.

(B) The Servicer acknowledges and agrees that neither UBS nor any Affiliate thereof is, or holds itself out to be, an advisor as to legal, tax, accounting or regulatory matters in any jurisdiction. The Servicer shall consult with its own advisors concerning such matters and shall be responsible for making its own independent investigation and appraisal of the risks, benefits and suitability of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, and agrees that neither UBS nor any Affiliate thereof shall have any responsibility or liability to the Servicer or any other Person with respect thereto.

(C) The Servicer hereby acknowledges that:

(1) UBS AG (the parent of UBS) and its subsidiaries, branches and affiliates (the "UBS Group") are involved in a wide range of commercial banking, investment banking and other activities (including investment management, corporate finance and securities issuing, trading and research) from which conflicting interests or duties, may arise;

(2) information which is held within UBS, or within the UBS Group, but of which none of the individuals involved in this Agreement (including in the purchase or sale of Collateral Obligations pursuant to this Agreement) actually has (or without breach of internal procedures can properly obtain) knowledge, will not for any purpose be taken into account in determining UBS' responsibilities hereunder;

(3) neither UBS nor any other part of the UBS Group will have any duty to disclose to the parties hereto or utilize for the benefit of the parties hereto any non-public information acquired in the course of providing services to any other person, engaging in any transaction (on its own account or otherwise) or otherwise carrying on its business; and

(4) in the ordinary course of business, UBS, and its Affiliates may trade the Collateral Obligations comprising the Initial Portfolio for its own account and for the accounts of customers, and may at any time hold a long or short position in such obligations.

12. Clawback. If any payment made with respect to any Collateral Obligation is required to be repaid or returned to any issuer, guarantor or other obligor thereon (an "Underlying Obligor"), or any other Person (including, without limitation, any bankruptcy trustee for any Underlying Obligor) in accordance with a sharing or similar clause in any Collateral Obligation or as required by bankruptcy, insolvency or similar law (a "Repayment"), then (i) each payment obligation under this Agreement that gave rise to such Repayment shall be recomputed by UBS in good faith, as if it had not been made, and UBS shall promptly notify the parties to this Agreement of such recomputed amounts, and (ii) any additional amount required to be paid by UBS or the Servicer in light of such recomputation shall be paid to the other party within three Business Days after such other party's demand therefor. The obligations of the parties under this paragraph shall survive the Termination Date except that no party shall be liable hereunder with respect to a claim for a Repayment that is first made by an Underlying Obligor or other person more than two years after the Termination Date.

13. Activity of the Servicer; Written Disclosure Statement.

(A) The Servicer shall discharge its duties under this Agreement, using a degree of skill and attention no less than that which the Servicer exercises with respect to comparable assets that it manages for itself and others with similar investment objectives in accordance with its customary practices and procedures and no less than that which institutional money managers exercise with respect to comparable assets.

- (B) The Servicer will not be liable to UBS or any other Person for any acts or omissions by the Servicer or any Affiliate of the Servicer, or any of their directors, officers, members, agents, equity holders, advisors, attorneys or employees under or in connection with this Agreement, or for any decrease in the value of the Initial Portfolio other than pursuant to Sections 4, 5, 6, 7 or 12, except by reason of acts or omissions constituting bad faith, willful misconduct or gross negligence in the performance of, or reckless disregard with respect to, the duties of the Servicer hereunder.
- (C) The Servicer will not be entitled to compensation under this Agreement. Each party will be responsible for its own costs and expenses incurred in connection with this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby.
- (D) The Servicer shall provide UBS with a copy of Part II of the Servicer's Form ADV for attachment as an exhibit to the final offering memorandum no later than 2 Business Days prior to the printing of the final offering memorandum.

14. Choice of Law; Service of Process. This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of New York (including without limitation Sections 5-1401 and 5-1402 of the General Obligations Law of the State of New York) without regard to the conflict of laws principles. The parties hereto submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the federal and New York state courts located in the county of New York, New York in connection with any dispute related to this letter agreement or any of the matters contemplated hereby.

15. Access to Information. The Servicer shall afford UBS access, upon reasonable prior notice, to any information the Servicer possesses or can reasonably obtain, about the Collateral Obligations, each of the Underlying Obligors of the Collateral Obligations and their respective financial condition, results of operations, business, property, management and prospects in order to enable UBS to evaluate a proposed investment in the Collateral Obligations.

17. Entire Agreement; Sole Benefit. This Agreement and the Engagement Letter set forth the entire understanding of the parties hereto relating to the subject matter hereof, and supersede and cancel all prior and contemporaneous agreements, understandings, inducements and conditions, express or implied, oral or written, of any nature whatsoever with respect to the subject matter hereof. This Agreement may not be amended or modified except by the parties hereto in writing.

Nothing contained in this Agreement shall be deemed to indicate that this Agreement has been entered into for the benefit of any person other than the parties hereto. This Agreement shall be binding upon and shall inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns; provided, however, none of the parties hereto may assign its rights or obligations

[*526] [**869] Order, Supreme Court, New York County (Bernard J. Fried, J.), entered October 8, 2009, which, insofar as appealed from, denied defendant Highland Capital Management, L.P.'s (Highland) motion to dismiss the complaint as against it, unanimously reversed, on the law, with costs, and the motion granted. The Clerk is directed to enter judgment in favor of Highland dismissing the complaint.

Dismissal of plaintiffs' indemnification claim against Highland is warranted, since the agreements between the parties contain no promise on the part of Highland to undertake liability with respect to the investment losses suffered by plaintiffs, or to ensure or guarantee the performance of defendant off-shore funds' obligations to bear the risk of investment losses. Absent facts alleging that Highland otherwise breached the Engagement Letter, the indemnification provision contained in said letter was not triggered (see generally Hooper

Case Summary

Procedural Posture

Plaintiff investors and defendant manager appealed an order by the New York County Supreme Court (New York) that denied the manager's motion to dismiss the investors' claims for fraudulent inducement, breach of the covenant of good faith and fair dealing, fraudulent conveyance, and tortious interference with contractual relations; the parties disputed to what extent the doctrine of res judicata applied.

Overview

The investors agreed to finance and act as placement agent in connection with the issuance of certain collateral debt obligations by the manager. An engagement letter provided that the manager would hold the investors harmless from any claims against them arising out of the breach of the agreements by the manager or its affiliated funds. After the investors' action against the manager for breach of contract and indemnification was dismissed, they filed a new action. The appellate court found, inter alia, that to the extent the investors' claims implicated events alleged to have taken place before the filing of the original complaint, res judicata applied. Nevertheless, to the extent that the causes of action for breach of the covenant of good faith and fair dealing and fraudulent conveyance relied on conduct alleged to have occurred after the commencement of the prior action, they were allowable. As the cause of action for tortious interference with contractual relations was based on events that occurred after the original complaint was filed, it was properly dismissed.

Outcome

The order was unanimously modified to grant the motion as to the causes of action that relied on conduct predating the prior action, and as so modified, the order was otherwise affirmed; the investors' appeal of an order that partially denied their motion for leave to file an amended complaint

The doctrine of res judicata dictates that, as to the parties in a litigation and those in privity with them, a judgment on the merits by a court of competent jurisdiction is conclusive of the issues of fact and questions of law necessarily decided therein in any subsequent action.

HN3[📌] Preclusion of Judgments, Res Judicata

When alternative theories are available to recover what is essentially the same relief for harm arising out of the same or related facts such as would constitute a single factual grouping, the circumstance that the theories involve materially different elements of proof will not justify presenting the claim by two different actions.

HN4[📌] Preclusion of Judgments, Res Judicata

Whether facts are deemed to constitute a single factual grouping for res judicata purposes depends on how the facts are related in time, space, origin, or motivation, whether they form a convenient trial unit, and whether their treatment as a unit conforms to the parties' expectations or business understanding or usage.

Opinion

[*469] [**60] Order, Supreme Court, New York County (Bernard J. Fried, J.), entered August 9, 2010, which, insofar as appealed [**61] from, in this consolidated action arising out of investment losses incurred by plaintiffs, denied defendant Highland Capital Management, L.P.'s motion to dismiss the complaint in the second action as to the first, third and fourth causes of action for fraudulent inducement, breach of the covenant of good faith and fair dealing and fraudulent conveyance, respectively, and granted the motion as to the fifth cause of action for tortious interference with contractual relations, unanimously modified, on the law, to grant the motion as to the first cause of action and as to those portions of the third and fourth causes of action that rely on conduct pre-dating the commencement of the prior action, and otherwise affirmed, without costs. Appeal from order, same court and Justice, entered June 21, 2010, which granted in part and [*470] denied [***2] in part plaintiffs' motion for leave to file an amended complaint, unanimously dismissed, without costs, as moot. [****2]

In April 2007, plaintiff UBS* agreed to finance and act as placement agent in connection with the issuance of certain collateral debt obligations by defendant Highland Capital Management, L.P. (Highland). Highland, a Texas-based hedge fund, did not complete the issuance, and the agreement expired. At that point Highland owed UBS as much as $86 million under the arrangement, based on the depreciation of assets that UBS had been required to hold, or "warehouse." However, because Highland still desired to issue the collateral debt obligations with UBS's assistance, UBS agreed to restructure the transaction. The new arrangement, formed in March 2008, consisted of two agreements between UBS, on the one hand, and Highland, and certain funds affiliated with Highland, on the other. A third agreement, referred to by the parties as an engagement letter, was entered into by UBS and Highland. The engagement letter provided, inter alia, that UBS would bear no risk in connection with losses in the securities to be held by UBS. It further provided that Highland would hold UBS harmless [***3] from any claims against UBS arising out of the breach of the agreements by Highland or its affiliated funds.

The agreements gave UBS the right to make margin calls on the Highland affiliated funds if the market value of the securities it was holding on behalf of those funds declined. During the fall of 2008, UBS made three such margin calls. The affiliated funds provided additional collateral in response to the first two margin calls, but not in response to the third call, made in November 2008. In December 2008, UBS terminated the restructured transaction before Highland could issue the collateral debt obligations, and demanded payment for almost $700 million in losses claimed as a result of the depreciation of the assets it was holding. Highland refused to pay.

In early 2009, UBS commenced an action against Highland and the affiliated funds asserting three causes of action. The first two causes of action alleged breach of contract against the affiliated funds only. The third claim was asserted against Highland, and was based on the indemnification language contained in the [***4] engagement letter. Highland asserted counterclaims for breach of contract and unjust enrichment against UBS arising out of the restructured transaction.

*There are two affiliated UBS companies named as plaintiffs that are referred to herein collectively as "UBS."

Highland moved to dismiss the complaint as against it, on the [*471] basis that the indemnification provision did not apply to [**62] the particular losses claimed by UBS. The court denied the motion, finding that UBS's interpretation of the clause was not unreasonable, and that there was at least a question of fact whether it applied. However, on February 18, 2010, this Court unanimously reversed, holding that "[d]ismissal of plaintiffs' indemnification claim against Highland is warranted, since the agreements between the parties contain no promise on the part of Highland to undertake liability with respect to the investment losses suffered by plaintiffs, or to ensure or guarantee the performance of defendant off-shore funds' obligations to bear the risk of investment losses. Absent facts alleging that Highland otherwise breached the engagement letter, the indemnification provision contained in said letter was not triggered" (70 AD3d 526, 893 NYS2d 869). [****3] The Clerk was directed to enter judgment against Highland dismissing the complaint.

Only two days before this [***5] Court issued its ruling, UBS had written a letter to the motion court, as required by the rules of the Commercial Part. It sought permission to move to amend its complaint to assert against Highland, and others, "a variety of new allegations that further support the indemnification and breach of contract claims that UBS already has alleged in the original Complaint." UBS also stated in the letter that "the new causes of action arise out of the same or related circumstances and events as UBS's pending claims."

Knowing that this Court had dismissed the complaint against Highland, the court granted the request, and UBS made its motion.

In support of the motion, UBS submitted an attorney's affirmation that summarized documents produced by Highland the month before. UBS claimed that the documents, primarily minutes of meetings of Highland's board of directors, formed the basis of the proposed new claims. Those documents, it was explained, revealed that Highland disregarded corporate formalities vis-a-vis the affiliated funds, that it knew that its methodology for pricing the assets held by UBS was unreasonable and inaccurate, and that it caused improper asset transfers and payments to the [***6] affiliated funds' creditors in the fall of 2008 and in 2009, when those funds were insolvent or nearly insolvent.

UBS also submitted the affidavit of Timothy Leroux, a former employee who was involved in the Highland transaction. According to Leroux, in November 2008, after UBS made the third margin call and Highland's affiliated funds were unable to immediately comply, Highland permitted UBS representatives to [*472] make several due diligence trips to its offices to evaluate the affiliated funds' finances, assets and business practices. Leroux attested:

"Among other things, the information that Highland Capital provided to UBS in November 2008 revealed the following:

(a) The Fund Counterparties[] did not satisfy their Initial Restructuring Collateral obligation by the Agreements using their own assets;

(b) CDO Fund had pledged and encumbered a substantial portion of its assets prior to entering the Agreements, and additional assets immediately thereafter;

(c) While Highland Capital was negotiating the Restructured Transaction, it did not tell UBS that it was planning to encumber more of the Fund Counterparties' assets, including immediately after March 14, 2008;

[**63] (d) Highland Capital assigned [***7] unreasonable valuations to the Fund Counterparties' assets;

(e) Highland Capital was willing to ignore corporate formalities and commingle assets between and among various entities related to

A008

Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties to satisfy debts and liquidity needs; and [****4] (f) Highland Capital was willing to manage the Fund Counterparties without regard for the corporate form to achieve its goals" (emphasis added).

The proposed amended complaint included the following claims against Highland: (1) fraudulent inducement arising out of, inter alia, the misrepresentation of information and omissions to UBS concerning defendants' financial ability and commingling of assets; (2) breach of the covenant of good faith and fair dealing implied in the agreements underlying the restructured transaction; (3) fraudulent conveyance arising out of the transfer of cash and assets from the affiliated funds, impairing the funds' ability to satisfy their obligations to UBS, including transfers of assets made in March 2009 (after commencement of the original action); and (4) tortious interference with contract based on the allegation that Highland caused the affiliated funds to breach the agreements [***8] by fraudulently transferring assets and money.

In opposition, Highland asserted that UBS's complaint against it had been dismissed and could not be amended. Highland further argued that res judicata barred the proposed claims because they arose out of the same transaction or series of transactions as the original action. Highland maintained that the preclusive effect of this Court's decision dismissing the original [*473] action as against Highland was not diminished by the fact that UBS' claims against the affiliated funds and Highland's counterclaims were still pending. Highland also challenged the sufficiency of the claims and asserted that it could not have tortiously interfered with a contract to which it was a party.

The motion court denied that portion of UBS's motion that sought leave to add new claims against Highland, agreeing with Highland's position that a party cannot amend a pleading that has already been dismissed. However, the court expressly rejected Highland's res judicata argument, stating that "the evidence that UBS needs to prove the new claims is entirely different from the evidence that it needed to prove the contract claim that was dismissed." The court also found that [***9] it would be unfair to bar relief on res judicata grounds because, pursuant to the Commercial Part's rules, UBS sought permission to make the motion and, before permission was granted, this Court issued its decision dismissing the original complaint as against Highland. The Court also found it would be unfair to apply res judicata here because the dismissal of the original complaint took place in the context of the same action, to which Highland remained a party, having asserted counterclaims.

The court next found that the claims of fraudulent inducement (as to misrepresentations about the funds' ownership of assets and creditworthiness, but not as to the failure to disclose), fraudulent conveyance and breach of covenant of good faith and fair dealing had been adequately pleaded. However, the court found that UBS had not asserted a claim for tortious interference with contract, because economic justification was a defense and "Highland Capital's [**64] alleged acts were evidently taken in its own economic interests."

UBS commenced a new action against Highland, in which it asserted the causes of action it had unsuccessfully proposed to add to the original complaint. That action was consolidated [***10] with the original action. Highland moved to dismiss the action, based on the substantive arguments it had made in opposition to the motion to amend. The court granted the motion to the extent of dismissing one of the fraudulent conveyance claims and the tortious interference claim. However, based on the reasoning in its previous order, the court denied the motion with respect [****5] to UBS's other claim for fraudulent conveyance, its claim for fraudulent inducement, and its claim for breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing.

The parties appealed, presenting us with the question whether and to what extent the doctrine of res judicata applies to these circumstances. HNI [¶] The doctrine dictates that, "as to the [*474] parties in a litigation and those in privity with them, a judgment on the merits by a court of competent jurisdiction is conclusive of the issues of fact and questions of law necessarily decided therein in any subsequent action" (Gramatan Home Inv. Corp. v Lopez, 46 NY2d 481, 485, 386 NE2d 1328, 414 NYS2d 308 [1979]). It used to be the rule that, even if the two actions arose out of an identical course of dealing, the second was not barred by res judicata if "the requisite elements of proof and hence [***11] the evidence necessary to sustain recovery var[ied] materially" (Smith v Kirkpatrick, 305 NY 66, 72, 111 NE2d 209 [1953]). However, the Court of Appeals expressly rejected that method of analysis in O'Brien v City of Syracuse (54 NY2d 353, 429 NE2d 1158, 445 NYS2d 687 [1981]). There it held that HN2 [¶] "once a claim is brought to a final conclusion, all other claims arising out of the same transaction or series of transactions are barred, even if based upon different theories or if seeking a different remedy" (54 NY2d at 357). The Court further stated: HN3 [¶] "[w]hen alternative theories are available to recover what is essentially the same relief for harm arising out of the same or related facts such as would constitute a single factual grouping" (Restatement, Judgments 2d, § 61 [Tent Draft No. 5]), the circumstance that the theories involve materially different elements of proof will not justify presenting the claim by two different actions" (id. at 357-358). Notably, regarding this point, the Court stated in a footnote that, insofar as Smith (305 NY at 66) "may be to the contrary, it is overruled" (id.). HN4 [¶] Whether facts are deemed to constitute a single factual grouping for res judicata purposes "depends on how the facts are related in time, [***12] space, origin, or motivation, whether they form a convenient trial unit, and whether . . . their treatment as a unit conforms to the parties' expectations or business understanding or usage" (Smith v Russell Sage Coll., 54 NY2d 185, 192-193, 429 NE2d 746, 445 NYS2d 68 [1981] [internal quotation marks and citations omitted]).

Here, to the extent the claims against Highland in the new complaint implicate events alleged to have taken place before the filing of the original complaint, res judicata applies. That is because UBS's claims against Highland in the original action and in this action all arise out of the restructured warehousing transaction. While the claim against Highland in the [**65] original action was based on Highland's alleged obligation to indemnify UBS for actions taken by the affiliated funds, and the claims against Highland in the second action arose out of Highland's alleged manipulation of those funds, they form a single factual grouping. Both are related to the same business deal and to the diminution in the value of the securities placed with UBS as a result of that deal. Thus, the claims form a convenient trial [*475] unit. Moreover, it can hardly be said that the claims in the two actions are so unrelated [***13] that reasonable business people, not to mention the parties themselves, would have expected them to be tried separately (see Smith v Russell Sage Coll., 54 NY2d at 192-193). Also, we note that, when seeking permission to amend the complaint, UBS itself asserted that "the new causes of action arise out of the same or related circumstances and events as UBS's pending claims."

Further, the Court of Appeals' holding in Xiao Yang Chen v Fischer (6 NY3d 94, 843 NE2d 723, 810 NYS2d 96 [2005]) [****6] does not support UBS's position. Nor does it represent a shift in res judicata jurisprudence, as UBS argues. The circumstances of this case bear no resemblance to those in Xiao Yang Chen, which involved a woman who, in a previously filed separate action, was granted a divorce on the ground of cruel and inhuman treatment. In the divorce action, the plaintiff supported her cruel and inhuman treatment claim with an allegation that her husband had slapped her, causing injury. While the divorce action was pending, the plaintiff commenced a separate personal injury action seeking damages for the intentional infliction of emotional distress and injuries arising out of the alleged assault. In finding that res judicata did not bar the personal injury action, [***14] the Court of Appeals noted that the two actions sought different types of relief and did not constitute a convenient trial unit. The Court of Appeals also noted other significant distinctions, such as the facts that divorce actions are typically decided by a judge and that attorneys in personal injury actions may be compensated by a contingency fee, and the policy consideration of expediting divorce proceedings. None of those considerations applies here, where the action seeks money damages arising only in connection with a commercial transaction.

While we have concluded that res judicata bars the claims in this action, we still must address UBS's assertion that it would be fundamentally unfair to apply res judicata under the circumstances of this case. UBS bases this argument primarily on the contention that it would have moved to amend the complaint in the original action while that action was still in existence (i.e., before this Court dismissed it), but for the necessity that it comply with the Commercial Part rules requiring that it first seek permission in a letter. However, this argument fails because, even had they made such a motion, the ultimate result would have been the [***15] same. As evidenced by the affidavit of its former employee, UBS was aware of the facts that support the claims in this action as long ago as November 2008. That was before UBS filed the original action.

[*476] Indeed, the evidence that the former employee admits had been gathered by UBS at that time supports all the claims asserted against Highland in this action. That UBS received additional evidence in the document production that Highland made shortly before UBS sought to amend its complaint is irrelevant. HNS[] The [**66] proper inquiry for res judicata purposes is when UBS could have raised a cause of action, not when it had enough evidence to prove the claim at trial (see Castellano v City of New York, 251 AD2d 194, 195, 674 NYS2d 364 [1998], lv denied 92 NY2d 817, 707 NE2d 444, 684 NYS2d 489 [1998], cert denied 526 US 1131, 119 S Ct 1804, 143 L Ed 2d 1008 [1999]). In this regard, we note that, based on what it admits it knew in November 2008, UBS could have pleaded its fraud claim with the requisite particularity at that time, since the facts available would have permitted a "reasonable inference of the alleged conduct" (Pludeman v Northern Leasing Sys., Inc., 10 NY3d 486, 492, 890 NE2d 184, 860 NYS2d 422 [2008]). Because UBS could have asserted the instant claims in the original complaint or moved [***16] to amend well before that complaint was dismissed by this Court, we are not persuaded that the Rules of the Commercial Part affected the eventual result. Nevertheless, to the extent that the third and fourth causes of action, alleging breach of the covenant of good faith and fair dealing and fraudulent conveyance, respectively, rely on conduct alleged to have occurred after the commencement of the prior action, such claims should be allowed.

Nor do we share the motion court's concern that it is unfair to apply res judicata where Highland remains a party to the action by dint of its counterclaims. It would likewise be unjust to hold that a defendant that chooses to assert a counterclaim forfeits its right to assert the defense of res judicata with respect to the main claims. Indeed, to so hold would deal a blow to judicial economy since counterclaims are not compulsory in New York (67-25 Dartmouth St. Corp. v Syllman, 29 AD3d 888, 889, 817 NYS2d 299 [2006]), and defendants would merely assert their own [****7] claims in separate actions to avoid the application of res judicata.

Finally, to the extent the fifth cause of action, alleging tortious interference with contractual relations, is based on events that [***17] occurred after the original complaint was filed, it was properly dismissed, since Highland was a party to the contracts with which it is alleged to have interfered. While some courts have held that a party to a multilateral agreement can be found liable for tortious interference with the agreement (see e.g. Rosecliff, Inc. v C3, Inc., 1995 WL 276156, *3, 1995 US Dist LEXIS 6281, *9 [SDNY 1995]), that has generally been where the alleged tortfeasor has rights and duties that are separate [*477] from those of the breaching party (see Aljassim v S.S. South Star, 323 F Supp 918, 925 [SDNY 1971]). Here, the complaint is thoroughly suffused with allegations that Highland was essentially the alter ego of the parties it induced to breach the agreements. Under such circumstances, Highland cannot be considered a "stranger" to the contractual relationship between UBS and the affiliated funds, and there can be no claim for tortious interference with contract (see Koret, Inc. v Christian Dior, S.A., 161 AD2d 156, 157, 554 NYS2d 867 [1990], lv denied 76 NY2d 714, 565 NE2d 1269, 564 NYS2d 718 [1990]). the other action (see Simmons v New York City Health & Hosps. Corp., 71 AD3d 410, 411, 894 NYS2d 750 [2010], lv denied 16 NY3d 709, 946 NE2d 177, 921 NYS2d 189 [2011]).

Contrary to plaintiff's contention, there is no need to remand the matter for a determination [***2] regarding whether defendants are in privity with defendant Highland Capital Management, L.P. The complaint seeks to hold Highland Financial liable as the alter ego of defendant Highland Special Opportunities Holding Company (SOHC). The motion court correctly ruled that New York law governs plaintiff's veil-piercing claim (see Serio v Ardra Ins. Co., Ltd., 304 AD2d 362, 761 NYS2d 1 [2003], lv denied 100 NY2d 516, 801 NE2d 423, 769 NYS2d 202 [2003]), and that such claim was sufficiently stated based on the alter ego allegations which allege, inter alia, that SOHC's sole board member is on Highland Financial's board, Highland Financial did not distinguish between its debts and obligations and those of SOHC, and that it operated SOHC and Highland Financial as a single economic entity. The fraudulent conveyance claim is also sufficiently stated with particularized detail (see CPLR 3016 [b]; Holme v Global Mins. & Metals, 63 AD3d 417, 418, 879 NYS2d 453 [2009]), insofar [****2] as the complaint specifically alleges certain fraudulent conveyances and transfers.

We have considered defendant's remaining contentions and find them unavailing. Concur--Tom, J.P., Saxe, Acosta, DeGrasse, and Román, JJ. [Prior Case History: 30 Misc 3d 1230, 924 NYS2d 312, 2011 NY Slip Op 50297U.]

Under the doctrine of res judicata, a party may not litigate a claim where a judgment on the merits exists from a prior action between the same parties involving the same subject matter. The rule applies not only to claims actually litigated, but also to claims that could have been raised in the prior litigation. In contrast, where a claim could not have been raised in the prior litigation because it had not yet matured, res judicata does not apply.

Opinion

[*512] [**73] Order, Supreme Court, New York County (Marcy S. Friedman, [*513] J.), entered on or about March 27, 2017, which granted the motions for summary judgment of defendants Highland CDO Opportunity Master Fund, L.P., Highland Special Opportunities Holding Company, Highland Capital Management, L.P., Highland Financial Partners, L.P., Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, L.P., and Strand Advisors, Inc. to the extent of dismissing the claim for breach of implied covenant against defendant Highland Capital, and otherwise denied the motions, unanimously affirmed, without costs.

In a prior order in this case, we dismissed, on res judicata grounds, the fraudulent conveyance and breach of implied covenant causes of action, as against one defendant, solely to the extent that they relied on conduct pre-dating the February 24, 2009 commencement of the prior action (86 AD3d 469, 469, 927 NYS2d 59 [1st Dept 2011]). However, we also held that "to the extent that [those] causes of action . . . rely on conduct alleged to have [***2] occurred after the commencement of the prior action, such claims should be allowed" (id. at 476 [emphasis added]). We reiterated this point in a subsequent order, wherein we dismissed the fraudulent conveyance claim, as against several other defendants, only "with respect to claims arising before February 2009" (93 AD3d 489, 490, 940 NYS2d 74 [1st Dept 2012]).

In this appeal, the conduct underlying the fraudulent conveyance and breach of implied covenant claims took place after the February 24, 2009 commencement of the prior action. In view of this Court's prior decisions, which explicitly contemplated the survival of such post-February 24, 2009 claims, there is no merit to defendants' contention that res judicata applies. This result is consistent with the legal principles underlying res judicata. HNI [↑] "Under the doctrine of res judicata, a party may not litigate a claim where a judgment on the merits exists from a prior action between the same parties involving the same subject matter. The rule applies not only to claims actually litigated but also to claims that could have been raised in the prior litigation" (Matter of Hunter, 4 NY3d 260, 269, 827 NE2d 269, 794 NYS2d 286 [2005] [emphasis added]).

In contrast, where a claim could not have been raised in the prior litigation because it had not yet matured, res [***3] judicata does not apply (1050 Tenants Corp. v Lapidus, 118 AD3d 560, 560-561, 987 NYS2d 159 [1st Dept 2014]; Sannon-Stamm Assoc., Inc. v Keefe, Bruyette & Woods, Inc., 68 AD3d 678, 890 NYS2d 828 [1st Dept 2009]; Indosuez Intl. Fin. v National Reserve Bank, 304 AD2d 429, 758 NYS2d 308 [1st Dept 2003]; see Lawlor v National Screen Service Corp., 349 US 322, 328, 75 S Ct 865, 99 L Ed 1122 [1955]). Because the conduct at issue here took place after the commencement of the prior action, there is no res judicata [*514] bar to the fraudulent conveyance and breach of implied covenant claims arising from that post-commencement [***2] conduct (see TechnoMarine SA v Giltports, Inc., 758 F.3d 493, 499 [2d Cir. 2014] [HN2] "a claim arising subsequent to a prior action . . . (is) not barred by res judicata even if the new claim is premised on facts representing a continuance of the same course of conduct" (emphasis added and internal quotation marks omitted))).

We agree with the motion court's reasons for denying dismissal of the cause of [**74] action asserting liability based on an alter ego theory. There is no dispute that plaintiffs are precluded from pursuing fraudulent conveyance and breach of implied covenant claims that arose prior to February 24, 2009. However, neither our prior decisions nor the doctrine of res judicata bars plaintiffs from introducing evidence of pre-February 24, 2009 conduct to the extent necessary to prove, with respect to post-February 24, 2009 conduct, their alter ego, fraudulent conveyance and breach of implied covenant claims.

The court correctly rejected defendants' arguments in support of dismissal of the remaining [***4] claims at issue. Issues of fact exist with respect to whether UBS suffered any recoverable contract damages, and as to whether it can establish justifiable reliance to support its claims that defendants committed fraud by misrepresenting their creditworthiness or the assets they owned prior to entering the transaction.

We take judicial notice of the decision of the trial court, dated September 19, 2017, which granted plaintiffs leave to reargue the dismissal of the claim for breach of implied covenant against defendant Highland Capital, and upon reargument, held that the claim should be reinstated. To the extent this decision has rendered moot plaintiffs' cross appeal of that part of the order on appeal, we exercise our broad discretionary authority to reach beyond the scope of defendants' notices of appeal to review the merits of that order, as the same issues have been briefed on the cross appeal, and we find that the trial court properly reinstated this claim. Concur—Richter, J.P., Webber, Kern, Moulton, JJ.

The Decision and Order of this Court entered herein on October 31, 2017 (154 AD3d 631, 63 NYS3d 53 [1st Dept 2017]) is hereby recalled and vacated (see 2018 NY Slip Op 66852[U] [2018] [decided simultaneously herewith]). [Prior Case History: *2017 NY Slip Op 30546(U) [***5]* .]

-----X

On February 24, 2009, plaintiffs UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG, London Branch (collectively, "Plaintiffs") filed a complaint (the "Complaint") against defendants Highland Capital Management, L.P., Highland CDO Opportunity Master Fund, L.P., and Highland Special Opportunities Holding Company (collectively, "Defendants"). On May 1, 2009, Defendants filed their Notice of Motion to Dismiss pursuant to CPLR 3211(a)(1) and Memorandum of Law in Support of the Motion to Dismiss the Complaint. On June 16, 2009, Plaintiffs filed their Memorandum of Law in Opposition to Defendants' Motion to Dismiss and an Affidavit of Jason Jurgens, dated June 16, 2009. On July 1, 2009, Defendants filed their Reply Memorandum of Law in Support of the Motion to Dismiss the Complaint. Oral argument was held on the motion to dismiss before the Honorable Bernard J. Fried on September 10, 2009. In its Order dated October 6, 2009, entered in the Office of the Clerk of the County of New York on October 8, 2009, notice of which was served on October 8, 2009 (the "October 8 Order"), a true copy of which is attached hereto, the Supreme Court, County of New York, (Hon. Bernard J. Fried) denied Defendants' motion to dismiss. On October 22, 2009, Highland Capital Management, L.P. noticed its appeal of the October 8 Order denying Highland Capital Management, L.P.'s motion to dismiss the Complaint against it to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, First Department (the "Appeal"). Thereafter, Highland Capital Management, L.P. submitted its Brief for Defendant-Appellant dated November 9, 2009. Plaintiffs submitted their Brief for Plaintiffs-Respondents dated December 9, 2009, and Highland Capital Management, L.P. submitted its Reply Brief for Defendant-Appellant dated December 18, 2009. Oral argument was held on the Appeal on January 28, 2010. On February 18, 2010, the Supreme Court, Appellate Division, First Department issued its Decision and Order (entered by the Clerk of that Court that same date), a true copy of which is attached hereto, reversing the October 8 Order, granting Highland Capital Management, L.P.'s motion to dismiss the Complaint against it and further directing the Clerk to enter judgment in favor of Highland Capital Management, L.P. dismissing Plaintiffs' Complaint against Highland Capital Management, L.P.

NOW THEREFORE IT IS ADJUDGED, that Highland Capital Management, L.P., 13455 Noel Road, 8th Floor, Dallas, Texas 75240, shall have judgment on UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG, London Branch's Complaint against it and recover from plaintiffs UBS AG, London Branch, Finsbury Avenue, London, United Kingdom, and UBS Securities LLC, 677 Washington Blvd., Stamford, Connecticut and 299 Park Avenue, New York, New York, costs as ~~taxed~~ by the Clerk in the sum of $ 250<sup>00</sup>, and that Highland Capital Management, L.P. shall have execution thereon.

IT IS FURTHER ADJUDGED that UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG, London Branch's Complaint against Highland Capital Management, L.P. is dismissed.

Judgment signed February 22, 2010.

So Mr. Louis is inaccurate when he 5 asks for information on the legal entities we are 6 engaged to audit, is that correct? 7 MR. ROBINOWITZ: Object to the form. 8 A. I don't recall an engagement letter 9 being signed for year-end, I don't recall. I 10 think he's sort of using it -- and you have to 11 understand, you see it says hedge fund notes, he 12 could be referencing hedge funds that he's been 13 engaged, which I'd have no knowledge of. So at 14 the time, no, I don't recall that Mr. Louis or 15 PWC were engaged to audit HFP, so therefore I 16 can't tell you if it's inaccurate because he may 17 have been engaged on behalf of the hedge funds. 18 Q. But PWC was never engaged to audit 19 HFP consolidated for the 2008 fiscal year, is 20 that correct? 21 A. I think you mean as of year-end, 22 because there were points in time where PWC -- 23 where they were. No, no, no, you're right. 24 You're talking about audits, those would have 25 been reviews. I don't believe so.	1 Stoops - Confidential 2 with it. 3 Q. At some point the 5 decision was made not to move forward with an 6 audit of HFP consolidated for the 2008 fiscal 7 year? 8 A. That's correct. 9 Q. Do you recall when that point was? 10 A. I don't recall specifically but I 11 think it was the end of March/April of 2009 time 12 frame. 13 Q. Do you recall who made that decision? 14 A. I don't recall specifically. 15 Q. Were you involved in that 16 decision-making process? 17 A. I was not. 18 Q. Not at all? 19 A. Somebody told me, so technically I'm 20 involved in that, but in the decision-making I 21 was not involved. 22 Q. Were you told after the decision had 23 already been made? 24 A. Again not being involved, I don't 25 know -- yes, I was told at some point we're not

1 Stoops - Confidential 2 Q. So you never provided information -- 3 strike that. Do you recall providing information 4 to PWC in 2009 to assist in an audit for the 2008 5 fiscal year of HFP consolidated? 6 MR. ROBINOWITZ: Object to form. 7 A. Repeat the question. 8 Q. Do you recall PWC requesting 9 information from HFP consolidated in 2009 in 10 preparation for an audit of the 2008 fiscal year 11 of HFP consolidated? 12 A. Well, I have this, yes, there's at 13 least this much. 14 Q. And so in this e-mail he is 15 requesting information from HFP to assist in the 16 2008 audit, is that correct? 17 A. That's what appears to be happening. 18 Q. In or around January 2009 was HFP 19 consolidated planning on doing a year-end audit 20 for the 2008 fiscal year? 21 A. Yes. Well, yes, we were going 22 forward with it. 23 Q. And at some point you decided not to 24 go forward with it, correct? 25 A. I didn't decide not to go forward	1 Stoops - Confidential 2 going forward. 3 Q. But the decision not to go forward 4 had been made before they told you? 5 A. Presumably. 6 Q. Do you recall them giving a reason 7 for why HFP consolidated decided not to go 8 forward with a 2008 year-end audit? 9 A. I think in general the decision was 10 based on what was communicated in the 11 January 27th, 2009 communication. I think it 12 appears the operations for HFP at that point in 13 time will be limited in scope, therefore there's 14 no need to spend all the money for that. 15 Q. And you're referring to the 16 January 27th, 2009 investor letter marked as 17 Plaintiffs' Exhibit 425, is that correct? 18 A. I know the date, I don't know the -- 19 MR. I'm referencing what begins on page 2 21 of that, certainly not the e-mail and the other 22 attachments, but it's contained therein. 23 Q. Were you surprised by the decision to 24 not move forward with a year-end audit of HFP 25 consolidated for the 2008 fiscal year when it was

FRIEDMAN, J:

This action arises out of a failed restructured transaction for securitization of collateralized loan obligations (CLOs) and credit default swaps (CDSs). Plaintiffs UBS Securities LLC (UBSS) and UBS AG, London Branch (UBS AG) (together, UBS) seek damages of $686 million in investment losses from the following affiliated defendants: Highland Capital Management, L.P. (Highland Capital); Highland Financial Partners, L.P. (Highland Financial); Highland Special Opportunities Holding Company (SOHC); Highland CDO Opportunity Master Fund, L.P. (CDO Fund); Highland Credit Strategies Master Fund, L.P. (Credit Strategies), Highland Crusader Offshore Partners, L.P. (Crusader Fund), Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, L.P. (Credit Opp Fund); and Strand Advisors, Inc. (Strand).<sup>1</sup>

The second amended complaint (complaint) asserts causes of action for fraud against the Fund Counterparties (first and second causes of action), breach of contract against the Fund

Counterparties (third and fourth causes of action), fraudulent conveyance against all defendants (fifth cause of action), tortious interference with contractual relations against the Affiliated Transferee defendants (sixth cause of action), declaratory judgment for general partner liability against Strand (seventh cause of action), and declaratory judgment for alter ego liability against Highland Financial (eighth cause of action).<sup>2</sup>

The instant action was consolidated with another action commenced by UBS only against Highland Capital. (UBS Secs. LLC v Highland Capital Mgt. L.P., Sup Ct, NY County, Nov. 1, 2010, Fried, J., index No. 650752/10.) The complaint in that action asserts causes of action against Highland Capital for fraud (first and second causes of action), breach of the covenant of good faith and fair dealing (third cause of action), fraudulent conveyance (fourth cause of action), and tortious interference with contractual relations (fifth cause of action).

Highland Capital, Highland Financial, Strand, and the Affiliated Transferee defendants move for summary judgment dismissing all causes of action against them. By separate motion, the Fund Counterparties seek summary judgment dismissing all causes of action against them.<sup>3</sup>

Factual Background

It is undisputed that the transaction at issue (Transaction), known as the Knox Warehouse, called for UBS to finance the purchase of CLOs and related CDSs and to hold them as “warehouse assets” for the benefit of Highland Capital, which was to sponsor the securitization. (Compl., ¶¶ 4, 35.) As pleaded in the complaint, Highland Capital was the investment manager of Highland Financial, and these two entities allegedly owned and/or controlled the Fund Counterparties and the Affiliated Transferee defendants. (Id., ¶¶ 22, 25.) Strand was Highland Capital's general partner. (Id., ¶ 23.) Nonparty James Dondero was the president, founder, and owner of Highland Capital, and allegedly controlled all of the Highland entities through Highland Capital. (Id., ¶¶ 22, 25.)

The Cash and Synthetic Warehouse Agreements

The parties' dispute arises out of the following three agreements, all of which are dated as of March 14, 2008: an Engagement Letter, entered into between UBSS and Highland Capital (Corcoran Aff., Ex. 13); a "Synthetic Warehouse Agreement," entered into among UBS AG, the Fund Counterparties, and Highland Capital (Corcoran Aff., Ex. 14); and a "Cash Warehouse Agreement," entered into among UBSS, the Fund Counterparties, and Highland Capital (Corcoran Aff., Ex. 15). In the Engagement Letter, UBSS agreed to act "as the financial arranger and placement agent in connection with a proposed collateralized debt obligations transaction with an anticipated aggregate issuance size of approximately U.S.$818 million in securities . . . (the 'Transaction')." The Transaction contemplated the "formation and capitalization of a special purpose vehicle or vehicles (collectively, the 'Issuer') . . . that will acquire an investment portfolio" comprised of CLOs and CDSs that reference CLOs, to be managed by Highland Capital as "Servicer." (Id., § 1, 3 [a].) In the Engagement Letter, UBSS and Highland Capital "agree[d] that the CDO Fund and SOHC will in aggregate bear 100% of the risk of the Warehouse Facility in accordance with their respective Allocation Percentages (as defined in the Warehouse Documents) and otherwise in accordance with the terms of the Warehouse Documents . . . ." (Id., § 3 [c].)

Section 5 (B) of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement opens with the clause “On the Closing Date:” and provides, among other things, for compensation to UBS by the Fund Counterparties for CDS Losses. Subsection 5 (B) (2) provides that “[a]n amount equal to the excess, if any,” of CDS Losses over CDS Gains “shall collectively be paid by each of the CDO Fund and SOHC after notice from UBS of the amount due, by wire transfer in immediately available funds (i) on the Termination Date in the case of a Termination Date occurring on (a) March 14, 2009, (b) March 14, 2010 or (c) the Closing Date or (ii) three Business Days after the Termination Date in the case of any other Termination Date. Such CDS Loss shall be allocated among the CDO Fund and SOHC on the basis of their respective Allocation Percentages.”

Section 5 (B) (2) defines CDS Losses as follows:

“(x) the sum of (1) the aggregate Floating Amount payments and Physical Settlement Amount payments made by UBS with respect to all of the Credit Default Swaps as to which a Floating Amount Event or a Credit Event occurred under the terms thereof, plus (2) the aggregate amount of Net Hedging Payments made by UBS with respect to all Hedging Transactions related to the Credit Default Swaps, plus (3) the aggregate Replacement Losses determined with respect to all of the Credit Default Swaps and the related Hedging Transactions that were terminated or novated or as to which the exposure was retained by UBS, in each case upon the designation of the Reference Obligation relating to such Credit Default Swap as an Ineligible Security (such amount in this clause (x), the ‘CDS Losses’) . . . .”

(emphasis in original.) Ineligible Security is defined as: “any Reference Obligation in the CDS Portfolio which has become ineligible for sale to the Issuer on the Closing Date as a result of the failure of such Reference Obligation to conform to the Eligibility Criteria as it exists at such time of determination. . . .” (Synthetic Warehouse Agreement, Ex. A-2.) This definition further states: “Each of the following is an ‘Ineligible Security’: a Defaulted Security, a Designated Security and a Written Down Security.” (Id.) Closing Date is defined as “the date

Section 5 of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement further provides: “To the extent the Closing Date fails to occur, allocation of CDS Losses, CDS Gains and any other amounts payable hereunder will be determined in accordance with the provisions of Section 6 hereof.”

Section 6 (C), in turn, provides:

“To the extent there are any CDS Losses, the CDO Fund and SOHC shall collectively be responsible for 100% of any such CDS Losses. Such CDS Losses shall be allocated between the CDO Fund and SOHC on the basis of their respective Allocation Percentages. Each of the CDO Fund and SOHC shall, after notice of the amount due from UBS, remit such amounts by wire transfer in immediately available funds to UBS within three Business Days after the Termination Date.”

The Cash Warehouse Agreement, section 5 (A), provides that, in the event that “the Closing Date fails to occur on or prior to the Termination Date, . . . UBS shall be authorized (but not required) to sell each Collateral Obligation then in the Warehouse Account in accordance with the Liquidation Procedures.” This section further provides: “Following the completion of such liquidation of the Collateral Obligations, any Aggregate Collateral Loss shall be allocated to the CDO Fund and to SOHC on the basis of their respective Allocation Percentages” and shall be paid to UBS.

UBS Margin Calls and Termination of Agreements

Section 12 (C) of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement required the Fund Counterparties to transfer an additional deposit of $10 million in cash or eligible securities into a “Deposit Account” in the event that the “Deposit Threshold Exposure Amount is greater than or equal to U.S. $100,000,000.” On September 16, 2008, UBS made a “margin call” under section 12 (C) of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement, demanding additional collateral of $10 million from each of the Fund Counterparties. (Compl., ¶ 77.) The Fund Counterparties satisfied this margin call on September 19, 2008. (Id., ¶ 79.) On October 21, 2008 UBS made a second margin call under section 12 (C) of the Synthetic Warehouse agreement, which the Fund Counterparties satisfied on October 24 by posting assets with a notional value of $49.97 million. (Id., ¶¶ 90, 91.) On November 7, 2008, UBS made a third margin call. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties allegedly offered to post various securities to satisfy this margin call. (Id., ¶ 94-95.) On November 13, UBS rejected the securities and requested cash or cash equivalent collateral. (Id., ¶ 96.)

On December 3, 2008, UBS terminated the parties' agreements based on the Fund Counterparties' failure to post the requested collateral. (Id., ¶¶ 99-100.) Shortly thereafter, UBS demanded payment for its losses under the Cash and Synthetic Warehouse Agreements. (Id., ¶¶ 103, 105.) On January 5, 2009, UBS notified Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties of the failure to pay UBS's losses, and commenced unwinding the warehouse facility. (Id., ¶ 106.) On January 16, 2009, UBS conducted an auction of the warehoused assets, as contemplated under the parties' agreements, and on March 19, 2009, UBS notified Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties of UBS's final accounting, and asserted that these entities owed UBS $686,853,290.26. (Id., ¶¶ 106-107.)<sup>4</sup>

<sup>4</sup> The parties' claims and the procedural history of this action and two related actions are further discussed in several previous decisions of the Appellate Division and of this court, familiarity with which is presumed. NYSCEF DOC. NO. 411 RECEIVED NYSCEF: 03/24/2017I. SOHC and CDO Fund's Summary Judgment Motion (mot seq 027)

The Fund Counterparties seek summary judgment dismissing all of the causes of action of the complaint, on four principal grounds: UBS cannot show that it suffered any damages. UBS committed prior material breaches of the parties' Agreements that excused the Fund Counterparties' performance. UBS did not justifiably rely on any misrepresentation that would support its fraud claim. UBS's claim against them as fraudulent transferors must be dismissed because New York does not recognize such a claim.

Limitation of Liability and UBS's Damages

The Fund Counterparties argue that UBS suffered no damages with respect to the Credit Default Swaps, which accounted for most of the warehoused assets. This argument is based upon defendants' interpretation of "CDS Losses," as defined in section 5 (B) (2) (x) of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement. In particular, defendants argue that this definition "largely limited compensation [with respect to Credit Default Swaps] to realized losses"; that "an unrealized loss could become a 'CDS Loss' only 'upon the designation of the Reference Obligation relating to such Credit Default Swap as an Ineligible Security"; and that UBS's failure to designate any such Obligation as an Ineligible Security precludes it from recovering damages. (Fund Counterparties' Memo. In Supp. at 12-13.)

It is well settled that "agreements are construed in accord with the parties' intent," and a "written agreement that is complete, clear and unambiguous on its face must be enforced according to the plain meaning of its terms." (Greenfield v Philles Records, 98 NY2d 562, 569 [2002].) The court's "aim is a practical interpretation of the expressions of the parties to the end that there be a 'realization of [their] reasonable expectations.'" (Brown Bros. Elec. Contrs.,

It is further settled that “[e]xtrinsic evidence of the parties’ intent may be considered only if the agreement is ambiguous, which is an issue of law for the courts to decide.” (Id.)

It is undisputed that the Warehouse Agreements were terminated prior to securitization and therefore prior to a Closing Date. As provided in section 5 of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement (quoted supra at 5), section 6 governs the determination of CDS Losses in the event a closing fails to occur. Thus, the issue is whether any CDS Losses arose under section 6.

The definition of CDS Losses specifies three separate components of such Losses: (1) “aggregate Floating Amount payments and Physical Settlement Amount payments made by UBS”; (2) “aggregate amount of Net Hedging Payments made by UBS”; and (3) “aggregate Replacement Losses.” (Synthetic Warehouse Agreement, § 5 [B] [2] [x] [quoted in full, supra at 4.]) The requirement that a Reference Obligation be designated an Ineligible Security is set forth in the last clause of subdivision (3) of the definition of CDS Losses. Subdivision (3) concerns the Replacement Losses component of CDS Losses. The inclusion of the Ineligible Security designation requirement in subdivision (3) unambiguously requires compliance with that requirement in order to claim Replacement Losses, as a component of CDS Losses, under section 5 of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement.

As attested by Phillip Braner, Managing Director of Structured Products for Highland Capital and previous Chief Operating Officer of Highland Financial, “[t]he UBS-affiliated entities . . . did not designate any of the credit default swaps held in the synthetic warehouse as ineligible securities.” (Braner Aff., ¶¶ 1-2.) The Fund Counterparties contend that UBS is therefore barred from claiming Replacement Losses under section 6 of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement. In support of this contention, they claim that CDS Losses are calculated in the same manner under both sections 5 and 6, because section 6 uses the defined term CDS Losses from section 5.

In arguing that UBS did not sustain any damages, however, the Fund Counterparties do not claim merely that UBS failed to designate Ineligible Securities pursuant to section 5 (B) (2) (x). Rather, they argue that the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement “expressly limited damages to realized losses” and that “[t]he designation of such securities as ‘Ineligible’ in order to recover unrealized market losses, is clearly required by the definition of ‘CDS Losses.’” (Fund Counterparties’ Memo. In Supp. at 4, 13.)<sup>5</sup>

The definition of CDS Losses does not by its terms distinguish between realized and unrealized losses and, indeed, does not use those terms. Although the Fund Counterparties

<sup>5</sup> The Fund Counterparties at times state, without qualification, that under the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement, the Fund Counterparties “were responsible for realized losses, but not unrealized losses.” (Fund Counterparties’ Memo. In Supp. at 16; see also id. at 4, 6, 15.) At other times, they acknowledge that unrealized losses are recoverable against them under the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement, but only upon the designation of an Ineligible Security. (Id. at 13.)

The Fund Counterparties also argue that while the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement made them liable only for “actual, realized losses on documented CDS assets” (Fund Counterparties’ Memo. In Supp. at 6), they were liable for “market losses on cash assets” under the Cash Warehouse Agreement. (Id. at 6, 15.)

assert that the terms of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement are unambiguous (Fund Counterparties' Reply Memo. at 3), they resort to parol evidence from their expert to support their claim that, under the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement, in order for unrealized losses to be included within the definition of CDS Losses, UBS must designate Ineligible Securities. (Corcoron Aff., Exs. 39, 39-A [Aff. of Adam Warren, ¶ 5; Warren Expert Report at 15].)

In response, UBS does not dispute that it did not designate Ineligible Securities. Rather, it argues that "securities can only be designated 'Ineligible' if and when the Knox Warehouse is securitized and sold to the market on a Closing Date." (UBS Memo. In Opp. at 8.) UBS asserts that where, as here, the Agreement was terminated prior to securitization, the Ineligible designation "could not have been required for UBS to recover losses because UBS could not have done so [i.e., could not have made the Ineligible designation] under the clear contractual terms." (Id. [emphasis in original].) According to UBS, "[t]his is why the contract expressly distinguishes the calculation of CDS Losses upon securitization and Closing (in which case Ineligible Securities must be designated as such and removed from the securitization pool) from the calculation of CDS Losses if the agreement is terminated before securitization (in which case securities cannot be designated Ineligible, and the Fund Counterparties are responsible for all Replacement Losses, including unrealized losses, on the CDS assets)." (Id. at 8-9.)

UBS's contention that securities could only have been designated Ineligible in the event of a closing appears to be highly questionable. As discussed above, Ineligible Security is defined to mean "any Reference Obligation in the CDS Portfolio which has become ineligible for sale to the Issuer on the Closing Date. . . ." (Synthetic Warehouse Agreement, Ex. A-2.) Other provisions of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement address designation of Ineligible Securities prior to Closing. Thus, section 5 (A) provides for the Servicer to “notify UBS promptly if at any time during the term of this Agreement it becomes aware that a Reference Obligation or the related Credit Default Swap does not conform to the Eligibility Criteria.” This section then sets forth procedures for UBS to designate Reference Obligations as Ineligible Securities. In the event UBS terminates the related CDSs or retains exposure, section (A) also sets forth procedures for UBS to calculate Replacement Loss and Replacement Gain “following the designation of such Reference Obligations as Ineligible Securities or otherwise pursuant to Section 6. . . .”

The court nevertheless concludes that the Fund Counterparties do not on this record demonstrate as a matter of law that, under these circumstances in which the Agreement was terminated without a closing having occurred, the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement unambiguously provides that the Fund Counterparties are responsible for unrealized losses only upon designation of the Reference Obligations relating to the CDSs as Ineligible Securities.

The parties submit sharply conflicting expert reports on the items to be included in calculating UBS’s damages, including the propriety of including unrealized losses in calculating CDS Losses. (See Corcoran Aff., Ex. 39 A [Report of Defs.’ Expert Adam Warren]; Corcoran Aff., Ex. 33 [Report of UBS’s Expert Louis Dudney].) To the extent that the determination of UBS’s damages will involve assessment of the credibility of the parties’ experts, the determination is not properly made on a motion for summary judgment. Significantly also, the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement contains separate provisions—sections 5 and 6, respectively—for calculation of CDS Losses at closing and in the event closing does not occur. Section 5 expressly provides: “To the extent the Closing Date fails to occur, allocation of CDS Losses, CDS Gains and any other amounts payable hereunder will be determined in accordance with the provisions of Section 6 hereof.” Section 6, however, employs the defined term for CDS Losses from section 5. On this record, it is unclear whether it is reasonably possible, consistent with settled precepts of contract interpretation, to read section 6 so that it is not rendered meaningless. (See generally Beal Sav. Bank v Sommer, 8 NY3d 318, 324-25 [2007].)<sup>6</sup> Put another way, it is unclear what independent purpose section 6 serves if the calculation of CDS Losses is the same as that under section 5.

The parties must also address whether, in construing the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement, the court should read that Agreement together with the contemporaneous Engagement Letter and Cash Warehouse Agreement. (See Brax Capital Group, LLC v WinWin Gaming, Inc., 83 AD3d 591, 592 [1st Dept 2011] [contemporaneous documents governing the same transaction should generally be read together]; Gulf Ins. Co. v Transatlantic Reins. Co., 69 AD3d 71, 81 [1st Dept 2009] [same].) For example, the parties must address whether the differing terms of the Cash Warehouse Agreement regarding the Fund

<sup>6</sup> As held in Beal, a court presented with a contractual interpretation issue should “construe the [contract] so as to give full meaning and effect to the material provisions. A reading of the contract should not render any portion meaningless. Further, a contract should be read as a whole, and every part will be interpreted with reference to the whole; and if possible it will be so interpreted as to give effect to its general purpose.” (8 NY3d at 325-325 [internal quotation marks and citations omitted].)

Counterparties' liability in the event of failure to close are relevant to, or instructive regarding, the interpretation of the definition of CDS Losses in the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement.

In sum, the court cannot find as a matter of law on this record that UBS is not entitled to recover unrealized losses. Determination as to whether the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement is ambiguous in this regard must await further clarification by the parties at trial.<sup>7</sup>

The court turns to the Fund Counterparties' further contentions that UBS received hedging gains of approximately $128 million following the Fund Counterparties' alleged December 2008 breach, and that, if these gains are offset against any losses, UBS sustained no damages. (Fund Counterparties' Memo. In Supp. at 6-7, 19.)<sup>8</sup> Determination of the effect of UBS's hedging on its damages claim can only be determined on a record that is fully factually

<sup>7</sup> UBS relies on what it characterizes as defendants' "contemporaneous business records" showing that "the parties intended and expected that unrealized CDS losses would be included in Defendants' liability in the event of Termination." (UBS Memo. In Opp. at 9.) These documents include the following: "Cash Forecast" from September 2008, showing a "Transaction Amount" of "(50,000,000)" on March 20, 2009, which was noted to be "[b]ased on total unrealized losses of $100mm" (Landis Aff., Ex. 27); SOHC's Income Statement, which noted a "[c]hange in unrealized losses of $(53.9)m" (id., Ex. 28 at 3.) In addition, UBS submits a document titled "Review Knox Transaction and contract ammendment [sic] (Interim Audit Procedures)," prepared by Highland Financial's accountant for the period ending March 31, 2008. (Id., Ex. 29.) This document contained a statement that "[u]nrealized gains/losses are included in the warehouse economics that are absorbed by SOHC and CDO Fund." (Id. at PWC-HCM00011538.) It further stated that, "[i]f the transaction does not take place (i.e. CDO securities are not issued), then CDO Fund and SOHC will share economics (both gain and loss) of the warehouse period based on a 51% (CDO Fund) and 49% (SOHC) split." (Id. at PWC-HCM00011539.)

The court declines to consider this evidence prior to determination of whether the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement is ambiguous as to the Fund Counterparties' liability for unrealized losses related to CDSs. (See generally Greenfield, 98 NY2d at 569.)

developed as to the types of hedging transactions as well as the relationship between the Fund Counterparties' alleged breaches, the losses on the warehouse assets, and the gains on the hedges. Moreover, as noted above, the parties submit sharply conflicting expert reports on the items to be included in calculating UBS's damages. These reports dispute not only the Fund Counterparties' liability for unrealized losses, but also the extent of required offsets, including offsets for UBS's hedging gains. (See Corcoran Aff., Ex. 39 A [Report of Defs.' Expert Adam Warren]; Corcoran Aff., Ex. 33 [Report of UBS's Expert Louis Dudney].) To the extent that expert testimony is required on the offset issue, its assessment will require credibility determinations that are not properly made on this motion.

The branch of the Fund Counterparties' motion for summary judgment, based on UBS's inability to prove damages, will accordingly be denied.

Prior Material Breaches by UBS

The Fund Counterparties argue that, prior to their alleged breach, UBS had already breached the parties' agreements by, among other things, miscalculating losses using "undocumented 'Dummy Swaps'" to inflate losses and "refusing to pay CDS Gains." (Fund Counterparties' Memo. In Supp. at 22.) The Fund Counterparties claim that UBS also recorded changes in exposure attributable to swaps involving Lehman Brothers, even after Lehman Brothers' bankruptcy filing caused the CDS agreements to terminate. (Id. at 22-23.) According to the Fund Counterparties, these improper calculations ultimately resulted in unfounded margin calls by UBS, and UBS's premature termination of the parties' agreements when the Fund Counterparties failed to satisfy the third margin call. (Id. at 23.) The Fund Counterparties claim that these breaches by UBS were material and excused the Fund

Counterparties' performance under the parties' agreements (id. at 19-20), thereby warranting dismissal of UBS's third and fourth causes of action for breach of the Cash and Synthetic Warehouse Agreements, respectively.

A material breach of a contract may excuse a non-breaching party's performance. (See Grace v Nappa, 46 NY2d 560, 567 [1979].) The court assumes, without deciding, that this doctrine is applicable under these circumstances in which defendants did not repudiate the contract—an issue the parties have not addressed. The court holds, however, that the Fund Counterparties fail to make a prima facie showing that UBS's conduct was impermissible under the Warehouse Agreements. As discussed above, the parties submit conflicting affidavits and evidence concerning the propriety of UBS's damages calculation, which resulted in the underlying margin calls. With each party “cast[ing] the other party in the role of the primary contract offender,” issues of fact preclude summary judgment. (See Boston Concessions Group, Inc. v Criterion Ctr. Corp., 200 AD2d 543, 545 [1st Dept 1994]; W. E. Blume, Inc. v City of New York, 78 AD2d 608, 608 [1st Dept 1980].) Moreover, a factual issue exists as to whether any breach was material. (See generally Garofalo Elec. Co. Inc. v New York Univ., 300 AD2d 186, 189 [1st Dept 2002] [“The question of whether there has been substantial performance—or a breach—is to be determined, whenever there is any doubt, by the trier of fact”]; WILJEFF, LLC v United Realty Mgt. Accordingly, the branch of the Fund Counterparties' motion for summary judgment, based upon UBS's purported prior material breaches, will also be denied.

UBS's Reliance Upon Omissions or Misrepresentations

The Fund Counterparties also seek dismissal of UBS's first and second causes of action for fraud, on the ground that UBS cannot establish the justifiable reliance element of a fraud claim.

"The elements of a cause of action for fraud require a material misrepresentation of a fact, knowledge of its falsity, an intent to induce reliance, justifiable reliance by the plaintiff and damages." (Eurycleia Partners, LP v Seward & Kissel, LLP, 12 NY3d 553, 559 [2009]; Lama Holding Co. v Smith Barney, 88 NY2d 413, 421 [1996].) A fraud claim must be pleaded with particularity pursuant to CPLR 3016 (b).

In New York, sophisticated parties have an affirmative duty to protect themselves from misrepresentations made in arm's length business transactions by undertaking a reasonable investigation of the details of the transactions. (ACA Fin. Guar. Corp. v Goldman, Sachs & Co., 25 NY3d 1043, 1044 [2015] [ACA]; DDJ Mgt., LLC v Rhone Group L.L.C., 15 NY3d 147, 154 [2010] [DDJ].) "Moreover, 'when the party to whom a misrepresentation is made has hints of its falsity, a heightened degree of diligence is required of it. It cannot reasonably rely on such representations without making additional inquiry to determine their accuracy.'" (ACA, 25 NY3d at 1044-1045, quoting Centro Empresarial Cempresa S.A. v America Movil, S.A.B. de C.V., 17 NY3d 269, 279 [2011] [Centro].) Thus, where a plaintiff is aware that it has not been provided with financial information to which it is entitled, its duty to perform a "heightened degree of diligence" is triggered. (ACA, 25 NY3d at 1045 [internal quotation marks and citations omitted].) As the Court of Appeals has emphasized, "the question of what constitutes reasonable reliance is not generally a question to be resolved as a matter of law on a motion to dismiss.” (ACA, 25 NY3d at 1045; DDJ, 15 NY3d at 155 [“The question of what constitutes reasonable reliance is always nettlesome because it is so fact-intensive” (internal quotation marks and citation omitted)].)

In support of their contention that UBS cannot prove justifiable reliance, the Fund Counterparties argue that UBS assessed their credit rating as “D3, the lowest available rating for a party not already in default, when it entered into the Restructured Transaction.” (Fund Counterparties’ Memo. In Supp. at 24, 3, citing, e.g., Corcoran Aff., Ex. 7 [Dep. of UBS’s David Bawden at 163, 256 [characterizing Fund Counterparties as “weak counterparties”].) According to the Fund Counterparties, “UBS mandated a hedging strategy and the booking of a full reserve as conditions for internal approval, because it did not deem the Fund Counterparties as being capable of paying what UBS believed it would be owed upon execution of the contracts.” (Fund Counterparties’ Memo. In Supp. at 24, 3, citing, e.g., Corcoran Aff., Ex. 11 [Dep. of Michael Threadgold at 55] [conditioning approval on “appropriate hedging for counterparty risk”].) The Fund Counterparties conclude that, because UBS knew of their financial strength (or lack thereof), UBS could not have justifiably relied upon any misrepresentations or omissions regarding their creditworthiness or assets. (Fund Counterparties’ Memo. In Supp. at 24.)

In opposing the Fund Counterparties’ motion, UBS submits the affidavit of a former employee who was a member of the UBS team that worked on the Highland Capital engagement, stating that Highland Capital’s Philip Braner explained that Highland Capital “could (was willing to) exercise its control over the various Highland-affiliated funds to move assets between and among the affiliated funds, thereby making assets available to UBS from Highland-affiliated funds other than the Fund Counterparties.” (Landis Aff., Ex. 58 [Aff. of Timothy LeRoux, ¶¶ 46, 47.]) UBS also relies on the testimony of various employees as to their reliance upon the Fund Counterparties’ misrepresentations concerning their finances and assets when deciding whether to enter into the Warehouse Agreements. (See e.g. Landis Aff., Ex. 58 [Aff. of Timothy LeRoux, ¶¶ 5-6, 12-20, 30-48] [attesting, among other things, to alleged misrepresentations as to the Fund Counterparties’ ownership of assets posted as initial restructuring collateral]; id., Ex. 59 [Dep. of Peter Chudy at 126-127]; id., Ex. 60 [Dep. of David Bawden at 227-228]; id., Ex. 61 [Dep. of Steve Marotta at 55-56] [depositions of UBS employees arguably supporting inference of reliance on financial information provided to UBS by defendants].)<sup>9</sup> The reasonableness of that reliance is not subject to summary disposition, as it requires development of the factual record as to the information provided to UBS and assessment of the UBS employees’ review of the information.

The branch of the Fund Counterparties’ motion for summary judgment dismissing UBS’s fraud claims will accordingly be denied.

Fraudulent Conveyance & Fraudulent Transferor Claims

The Fund Counterparties argue that because UBS suffered no damages it is therefore not a creditor with standing to assert a fraudulent conveyance claim. (Fund Counterparties’ Memo. In Supp. at 25.) Given this court’s finding that factual issues exist concerning the extent of UBS’s damages, this basis for dismissal of the claim must fail.

<sup>9</sup> This court advisedly uses the word “arguably.” Plaintiff and defendants support their factual claims on the instant motions with selected excerpts of deposition testimony, generally without describing the positions of the deponents and without the surrounding context. The meaning and import of the testimony therefore cannot be adequately evaluated on this record.

The Fund Counterparties further argue that New York does not recognize a cause of action for fraudulent conveyance against an alleged fraudulent transferor. (Id.) The Fund Counterparties' reliance on Federal Deposit Ins. Corp. v Porco (75 NY2d 840, 842 [1990]), in support of this argument, is misplaced. There, the Court held that the Debtor and Creditor Law "cannot fairly be read as creating a remedy against nontransferees who . . . are not alleged to have dominion or control over [the debtor's] assets or to have benefited in any way from the conveyance." In the instant action, in contrast, UBS does not allege that the Fund Counterparties assisted another debtor in transferring property but, rather, that "cash and assets" were transferred from Highland Financial, SOHC's alter ego, or from the Fund Counterparties themselves. (Complaint, ¶¶ 168, 18.) The Fund Counterparties do not cite any authority that a fraudulent conveyance claim is not maintainable under these circumstances.

II. Motion of Highland Capital, Highland Financial, Crusader Fund, Credit Strategies, Credit Opp Fund, and Strand for Summary Judgment (mot seq 026)

Highland Capital, Highland Financial, Strand, and the Affiliated Transferee defendants (together, moving defendants) seek summary judgment dismissing all of the causes of action asserted against them.<sup>10</sup> UBS pleads claims, in the fifth cause of action of the complaint, against all moving defendants for fraudulent conveyance. In addition, UBS seeks to hold Highland Financial liable, under the eighth cause of action, as SOHC's alter ego, for SOHC's alleged fraudulent conveyances and breaches of the Warehouse Agreements.

UBS claims that, as a result of its first margin call in September 2008, the Highland entities began commingling assets to generate short-term liquidity for the Fund Counterparties.

<sup>10</sup> As noted above, this motion was brought before UBS settled its claims against Credit Strategies and Crusader Fund.

(Id., ¶ 80.) The complaint alleges that, in the fall of 2008, Highland Capital caused Highland Financial to take on additional debt in exchange for cash-generating assets that were to be used by SOHC to satisfy obligations that SOHC had to nonparty Barclays Bank. (Compl., ¶ 82.) In September 2008, Highland Financial acquired $321 million in “risky” CLO assets and life settlement insurance contracts from the Affiliated Transferee defendants in exchange for senior secured notes in a principal amount of $316 million with a maturity date of 2018. (Id., ¶ 83.) This note offering (the September 2008 Note Offering) required Highland Financial to make amortized quarterly payments of $15 million to the Affiliated Transferee defendants, starting in February 2009. (Id.) Highland Financial was also required to transfer a security interest to the Affiliated Transferee defendants in the shares of two wholly owned subsidiaries into which Highland Financial transferred the newly acquired assets. (Id.)

In October 2008, Highland Capital allegedly proposed, and Highland Financial undertook, an additional note offering on the same terms as the September 2008 Note Offering, with Highland Financial issuing an additional $55,488,000 of secured notes, also due in 2018, to Crusader Fund. This note offering (the October 2008 Note Offering) brought Highland Financial’s debt obligation to the Affiliated Transferee defendants to approximately $371 million. (Id., ¶ 85.) UBS claims that the granting of these security interests and related asset transfers constituted fraudulent conveyances, and made it impossible for the Fund Counterparties and Highland Financial to satisfy their obligations to UBS. (Id., ¶¶ 84, 85.)

UBS maintains that, at the time of the September and October 2008 Note Offerings (together, Fall 2008 Note Offerings), Highland Financial, as SOHC’s alter ego, owed UBS hundreds of millions of dollars that it could not pay. (Id., ¶ 84.) Highland Capital allegedly caused “Highland Financial and SOHC to use the assets that they acquired to pay down a substantial portion of SOHC’s debt to Barclays [Bank] to the detriment of UBS.” (Id., ¶ 86.) These payments to Barclays Bank were made at a time when SOHC and Highland Financial were allegedly insolvent or within the zone of insolvency, and constituted fraudulent conveyances. (Id., ¶ 88.) UBS also claims that CDO Fund used the notes it received to satisfy obligations to Citibank, NA at a time when CDO Fund was insolvent, thereby also making a fraudulent conveyance. (Id., ¶ 89.)

UBS further claims that in December 2008, after UBS terminated the restructured Transaction, Highland Capital ensured that Highland Financial and SOHC were insolvent by transferring assets to the Affiliated Transferee defendants, and then sought to hide these conveyances by tying them to the cancellation of the notes issued in the Fall 2008 Note Offerings. (Id., ¶¶ 108-109.)

UBS commenced the instant action on February 24, 2009. According to the complaint, on March 17, 2009, Highland Capital caused SOHC’s parent and alleged alter ego, Highland Financial, to transfer all of its and SOHC’s assets to Highland Capital and the Affiliated Transferee defendants. These assets were allegedly valued at $239 million and included assets of two of Highland Financial’s subsidiaries that had no obligations to the Affiliated Transferee defendants. (Id., ¶ 111.) As a result of the transfer, these funds were unavailable to SOHC to satisfy the debt owed to UBS under the parties’ agreements. (Id., ¶ 113.) UBS refers to this transfer as the “March 2009 Fraudulent Conveyance.” (Id., ¶ 111.)

Moving defendants sharply dispute that the transfer of assets in March 2009 was a fraudulent conveyance. In an affidavit submitted by moving defendants, Phillip Braner states that toward the end of 2008, the assets that secured the notes issued in fall 2008 were subject to significant credit downgrades. According to Mr. Braner, these downgrades had a negative impact on the cash flows available to Highland Financial as dividends, and the decreased cash flows made it unlikely that Highland Financial would be able to meet its debt service obligations under the notes, or its obligation to pay premiums on the life settlement contracts it had acquired. (Braner Aff., ¶ 13.) As a result, Highland Financial assertedly approved the unwinding of the notes to relieve it of these obligations (id.), and “transferred the collateral securing the Secured Notes back to the Funds.” (Moving Defs.’ Memo. In Supp. at 5.) Mr. Braner claims that the decision to unwind the notes was not related to debts owed by SOHC. (Braner Aff., ¶ 13.)

The Fall 2008 notes were terminated and the collateral was transferred pursuant to a “Termination, Settlement and Release Agreement,” dated March 20, 2009, between Highland Financial, HFP Asset Funding II, Ltd., and HFP Asset Funding III, Ltd., as Issuers, and various Noteholders, including Credit Strategies, Crusader Fund, a successor to the note purchased by Credit Opp Fund, and Highland Capital. (Landis Aff., Ex. 65.) Moving defendants refer to the March 2009 transaction as the March 2009 Note Termination. (Moving Defs.’ Memo. In Supp. at 5.)

Moving defendants argue that UBS’s inability to establish damages precludes any claims against them. They further argue that UBS cannot establish Highland Financial’s alter ego liability and that, in any event, the March 2009 Note Termination was not a fraudulent conveyance. Finally, they contend that UBS’s claim against Highland Capital for breach of the covenant of good faith and fair dealing is without merit.

Lack of Damages

In support of their claim that UBS cannot establish damages, moving defendants rely on the Fund Counterparties' damages argument. As the Fund Counterparties' motion for summary judgment based on lack of damages has been denied, moving defendants' argument likewise fails.

Alter Ego Liability

Moving defendants argue that because claims arising before the commencement of this action on February 24, 2009 are barred by res judicata, the only remaining claim against them is based on the March 2009 Note Termination—a transaction that involved SOHC's shareholder, Highland Financial, not SOHC itself. Moving defendants further argue that because UBS cannot establish that Highland Financial is SOHC's alter ego, the fraudulent conveyance claim involving this Note Termination must be dismissed. (Moving Defs.' Memo. In Supp. at 11-12, 16.)

The standards for liability under an alter ego or veil piercing theory are well settled:

“... [P]iercing the corporate veil requires a showing that: (1) the owners exercised complete domination of the corporation in respect to the transaction attacked; and (2) that such domination was used to commit a fraud or wrong against the plaintiff which resulted in plaintiff's injury.

While complete domination of the corporation is the key to piercing the corporate veil, especially when the owners use the corporation as a mere device to further their personal rather than the corporate business, such domination, standing alone, is not enough; some showing of a wrongful or unjust act toward plaintiff is required. The party seeking to pierce the corporate veil must establish that the owners, through their domination, abused the privilege of doing business in the corporate form to perpetrate a wrong or injustice against that party such that a court in equity will intervene.”

[internal citations omitted].)

As a threshold matter, the court notes that the Appellate Division determined that UBS's substantially similar allegations in an earlier complaint in this action were sufficient to plead a claim for alter ego liability. (UBS Secs. LLC, 93 AD3d at 490.) This court previously held that UBS's alter ego claim in the second amended complaint in this action is based on substantially similar allegations to those upheld by the Appellate Division. These allegations include not only general allegations as to Highland Capital's commingling of the Highland entities' funds and disregard of corporate formalities, but also Highland Capital's pre-February 2009 conduct, in connection with the Fall 2008 Note Offerings, in causing Highland Financial to acquire Credit Strategies' and Crusader's assets, which were later the subject of the alleged March 2009 fraudulent conveyance. (UBS Secs. LLC, 42 Misc 3d at 587-588.)

Moving defendants contend that UBS's alter ego claim is barred by res judicata based on the Appellate Division's decision in this and a subsequent related action, holding that UBS's claims against Highland Capital were barred by res judicata to the extent they "implicate events alleged to have taken place before the filing of the original complaint" (i.e., the filing on February 24, 2009 of the complaint in the instant action). (UBS Secs. LLC, 86 AD 3d at 474; see Moving Defs.' Memo. In Supp. at 9-10.) Moving defendants also rely on a subsequent decision of the Appellate Division which dismissed claims for fraudulent conveyance "arising before February 2009" against Highland Financial and other Highland entities, on the ground that these entities were in privity with Highland Capital. (UBS Secs. LLC, 93 AD3d at 490.)

Citing these decisions, moving defendants assert that the March 2009 Note Termination is the only alleged wrongdoing on which the fraudulent conveyance claim can be based.

(Moving Defs.' Memo. In Supp. at 11.) They also assert that UBS cannot establish that Highland Financial is SOHC's alter ego because "the only allegations UBS makes regarding the relationship between HFP and SOHC concern events alleged to have occurred before February 24, 2009." (Id. at 12, 12 n 55 [citing UBS's allegations as to pre-February 2009 encumbrances and commingling of Highland entities' assets].)

This court previously rejected the contention, advanced by moving defendants here, that UBS cannot rely on events or conduct occurring before February 2009 to support its alter ego and fraudulent conveyance claims. As held in the prior decision, the Appellate Division decisions preclude any fraudulent conveyance claims arising before February 24, 2009. They therefore preclude UBS from recovering for any alleged fraudulent conveyances made before that date. However, proof of pre-February 24, 2009 transfers, and of other conduct involving the operation of the Highland entities, is not prohibited to the extent necessary to prove UBS's claims for post-February 24, 2009 fraudulent conveyances, which are maintainable under the Appellate Division decisions on an alter ego theory. (UBS Secs. LLC, 42 Misc 3d at 587.) The court adheres to this decision here.<sup>11</sup>

In upholding UBS's alter ego claim, the court also rejects moving defendants' contention that "UBS was not harmed by any alleged fraud of SOHC caused by HFP's purported domination, because . . . UBS did not rely on any alleged misrepresentations by SOHC." (Moving Defs.' Memo. In Supp. at 16.) This contention rests, in turn, on moving defendants' claim that UBS "assumed the risk of doing business with the Fund Counterparties," and <sup>11</sup> It is noted that moving defendants' briefing on these motions was largely completed before issuance of the decision.

“bargained for SOHC as a counterparty with its eyes wide open as to SOHC’s lack of creditworthiness.” (Id. at 17-18.) Moving defendants fails to establish this claim as a matter of law, for the reasons discussed above in connection with the Fund Counterparties’ motion. (See supra at 16-18.)

Favour Mind Ltd. v Pacific Shores, Inc. (2004 WL 97649, 2004 US Dist LEXIS 637 [SD NY 2004]), on which moving defendants rely, is not to the contrary. There, the Court applied the doctrine that “[w]here a party is aware of the risks of dealing with a corporation, that party has assumed the risk of such dealings.” (2004 WL 97649, at * 7.) The Court rejected the plaintiff’s alter ego claim, based on the findings that the plaintiff knew, when it decided to do business with the defendant, of the defendant’s poor credit ranking, its losses, and its limited initial capital investment; that the plaintiff continued to do business with the defendant after issues arose regarding payment of bills; and that there was no evidence that the plaintiff “ever had any reasonable expectation that [the party sought to be held] would be personally liable for payment.” (Id.) Here, in contrast, as discussed above (supra at 16-18), factual issues exist as to the extent to which UBS assigned value to the Fund Counterparties and concluded that they had the ability to meet obligations upon a default, and as to the reasonableness of UBS’s reliance on information provided to it by the Highland entities in connection with the Transaction.

Moreover, a factual issue exists on this record as to whether SOHC, through Highland Financial as alter ego, perpetrated a wrong against UBS. UBS submits evidence that Highland Financial and SOHC engaged in various transfers, shifting funds from SOHC to other Highland entities. (See e.g. Landis Aff., Ex. 26 [Dep. of Highland Financial’s Todd Travers at 182, acknowledging that Highland Financial and SOHC were treated interchangeably for purposes of

As discussed above (supra at 17-18), Highland Capital’s Braner also allegedly made representations to UBS regarding Highland Capital’s willingness to make assets available from various Highland entities to satisfy the Fund Counterparties’ obligations. Evaluation of this testimonial evidence involves credibility determinations, which are not properly made on a motion for summary judgment.

Moving defendants next argue that “over the life of the Restructured Transaction . . . , [Highland Financial] contributed more to SOHC than it received from SOHC,” and therefore that “[t]he net balance of these transactions was to UBS’ benefit, not detriment.” (Moving Defs.’ Memo. In Supp. at 18; Aff. of Clifford Stoops [Highland Capital’s Chief Accounting Officer and Highland Financial’s Interim Chief Financial Officer], ¶ 5.) However, as set forth in UBS’s expert report, UBS disputes moving defendants’ methodology for reviewing transfers, claiming that defendants improperly considered the transfers at an “aggregate, net level rather than analyzing individual transfers at the transactional level and separately evaluating whether fair consideration was exchanged.” (Landis Aff., Ex. 36 [Report of Louis Dudley at 23-24].) The parties also dispute whether cash transfers and loan repayments by SOHC to Highland Capital and Highland Financial in fact exceeded Highland Financial’s contributions to SOHC. (See UBS’s Memo. In Opp. at 17.)

Moving defendants thus fail to demonstrate as a matter of law that Highland Financial is not the alter ego of SOHC.

Fraudulent Conveyance

Moving defendants seek dismissal of UBS's constructive fraudulent conveyance claim on the ground that the March 2009 Note Termination was made for "fair consideration" under section 273 of the Debtor and Creditor Law, and was therefore not a fraudulent conveyance. (Moving Defs.' Memo. In Supp. at 19.) Specifically, they argue that the underlying notes were "secured debt" (id. at 20-23), and that the March 2009 Note Termination "repaid antecedent secured debt to non-insiders," and therefore constituted fair consideration under New York law. (Id. at 23.) They also argue that, even if certain Affiliated Transferee defendants were "insiders," the payments to these noteholders were for fair consideration because the payments "satisfied secured debt." (Id. at 24.)

Moving defendants fail to demonstrate entitlement to judgment as a matter of law with respect to UBS's allegations of constructive fraud. Debtor and Creditor Law (DCL) sections 273, 273-a, 274, and 275, which govern constructive fraud, all require a showing that fair consideration was lacking.

Under section 272 of the DCL:

"Fair consideration is given for property, or obligation,

a. When in exchange for such property, or obligation, as a fair equivalent therefor, and in good faith, property is conveyed or an antecedent debt is satisfied, or

b. When such property, or obligation is received in good faith to secure a present advance or antecedent debt in amount not disproportionately small as compared with the value of the property, or obligation obtained."

As the Court of Appeals has explained, “[i]t is well settled that an evaluation of whether fair consideration is given for property under Debtor and Creditor Law § 272 must be determined upon the facts and circumstances of each particular case.” (Commodity Futures Trading Commn. v Walsh, 17 NY3d 162, 175 [2011] [internal quotation marks and citation omitted].) “Good faith is required of both the transferor and the transferee, and it is lacking when there is a failure to deal honestly, fairly, and openly. Transfers to a controlling shareholder, officer or director of an insolvent corporation are deemed to be lacking in good faith and are presumptively fraudulent.” (Matter of CIT Group/Commercial Servs., Inc. v 160-09 Jamaica Ave. Ltd. Partnership, 25 AD3d 301, 303 [1st Dept 2006] [internal quotation marks and citations omitted].)

Here, the parties dispute whether the transfers were made to “insiders,” and, therefore, whether the “presumptively fraudulent” standard was triggered. (Moving Defs.’ Memo. In Supp. at 23-24; UBS’s Memo. In Opp. at 19-20.) According to Mr. Braner, CDO Fund and Crusader Fund held 9.71% and 9.07% limited partner interests in Highland Financial, respectively, at the time of the Fall 2008 Note Offerings. (Braner Aff., ¶ 5.) Mr. Braner also admitted that Highland Capital held a 20.96% limited partner interest in Highland Financial, and Highland Capital’s president, James Dondero (Dondero), held a 0.15% limited partner interest in Highland Financial. (Id., ¶ 8; Landis Aff., Ex. 103 [chart showing ownership interests in Highland entities].) UBS submits deposition testimony and an ownership chart prepared by defendants, showing that Mr. Dondero also owned approximately 70% of Highland Capital. (Landis Aff., Ex. 78 [Dondero Dep. at 15-16]; id., Ex. 136 [Dep. of Mark Okada at 9-10]; id., Ex. 137 [chart entitled “Highland Equity Ownership”].) Moreover, UBS submits an “Amended and Restated Management Agreement,” and several “Investment Management Agreements,” executed by the Highland defendants, by which Highland Capital was designated “Manager” of Highland Financial, SOHC, CDO Fund, Crusader Fund, Credit Strategies, and Credit Opp Fund, with discretion and authority to manage the assets and operations of these entities. (Landis Aff., Exs. 81, 105-108.)

In addition, Mr. Dondero signed the original “Note Purchase Agreement,” dated September 26, 2008, on behalf of Highland Capital, CDO Fund, the Affiliated Transferee defendants and Highland Capital as their sole member, Strand, and HFP Asset Funding II and III, Ltd. (Stoops Aff., Ex. 42.) UBS also relies on the “Termination, Settlement and Release Agreement,” discussed above, which effectuated the March 20, 2009 Note Termination by extinguishing the parties’ obligations under the fall 2008 notes and transferring the assets back to the noteholders. The Agreement was signed by Mr. Dondero on behalf of Highland Financial, Highland Capital, HFP Asset Funding II and III, Ltd., CDO Fund, Credit Strategies, Crusader Fund, “Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, Ltd.,” and Strand, among other entities.<sup>12</sup> (Id., Ex. 44; Landis Aff., Ex. 26 [Dep. of Todd Travers at 228-229, stating that Mr. Dondero negotiated on behalf of all parties to the Note Purchase Agreement with respect to the retirement of the notes].)

On this record, moving defendants fail to demonstrate as a matter of law that the termination of the fall 2008 notes repaid debt to “non-insiders.” At a minimum, whether Mr. Dondero, through Highland Capital, managed and controlled Highland Financial, the Fund Counterparties, and the Affiliated Transferee defendants, thereby placing himself, Highland Capital, and Highland Financial on “both sides” of the Fall 2008 Note Offerings and the March 2009 Note Termination, raises a factual issue as to whether the transaction “was effected in good faith.” (See Farm Stores, Inc. v School Feeding Corp., 102 AD2d 249, 254 [2d Dept 1984], affd in part 64 NY2d 1065 [1985] [rejecting argument that shareholder was an “outside lender” with no control, where “he exercised his influence as a shareholder in decisions which directly affected his investments,” and it was “undisputed that [he] gave his consent to all distributions of funds collected . . . , including those distributions challenged as fraudulent”]; PalmOne, Inc. v R.C.S. Moving defendants rely upon Matter of Dreier LLP v Westford Asset Mgt. LLC (462 BR 474 [Bankr SD NY 2011]) in support of their argument that “transfers to a group of affiliated funds, their agents, and managers for the repayment of principal investment could not be a fraudulent conveyance because they were not insiders.” (Moving Defs.’ Memo. In Supp. at 23.) However, Dreier LLP involved investments by a third-party group of affiliated hedge funds in a Ponzi scheme by the principal of Dreier LLP. (462 BR at 479.) Here, in contrast, the transfers were made by an affiliated transferor to affiliated transferees, and therefore raise issues, which are not resolved on this record, as to the “good faith” of the transferees. (See id. at 488.)

Moving defendants further argue that, even if the noteholders were insiders, the transfers were for fair consideration because they repaid secured debt. (Moving Defs.’ Memo. In Supp. at 24.) In support of this argument, moving defendants rely upon Matter of Northstar Dev.

Corp. v Buchheit (465 BR 6 [Bankr WD NY 2012]), in which the Court applied the New York Debtor and Creditor Law. The Court held that this law “allows the avoidance of preferential transfers to directors, officers and shareholders of insolvent corporations.” (Id. at 13, quoting Farm Stores, Inc. v School Feeding Corp., 102 AD2d at 254.) The Court further explained: “As a general rule, however, no preference occurs upon the payment of a secured debt. For a preference to arise, a creditor must realize some improvement in position.” (Id. at 13-14.)

In Matter of Northstar Dev. Corp., the Court held that payment to discharge mortgages held by an insider of the debtor satisfied the good faith element of fair consideration, for purposes of a constructive fraud claim under the Debtor and Creditor Law. (Id. at 14-15.) In the instant action, the parties dispute whether the March 2009 Note Termination involved secured debt. Even assuming that a security interest was created, the Highland entities initiated the disputed transaction only five to six months before terminating it. In Matter of Northstar Dev. Corp., in contrast, the secured debt was created many years before the disputed transaction by which it was discharged.

Although the fraudulent conveyance claim here arose upon the March 2009 Note Termination, the Fall 2008 Note Offerings are integrally related. Assessment of the fraudulent conveyance claim will therefore require factual development of the record as to the circumstances under which the Fall 2008 Note Offerings were made. Even in the face of a claim by a transferee that it was a secured creditor, a court considering a constructive fraud claim must evaluate whether the transfer was made for fair consideration—that is, for a fair equivalent and in good faith. (See e.g. Farm Stores, 102 AD2d at 251-252 [finding transfers fraudulent even though transferees contended “that they were secured investing or lending shareholder-

On this record, moving defendants do not demonstrate as a matter of law that the good faith element of a constructive fraud claim cannot be satisfied.

Finally, moving defendants argue that UBS cannot establish a fraudulent conveyance claim based on actual fraud. (Moving Defs.’ Reply Memo. at 6-9.) Even assuming that the court may entertain this argument, which was made for the first time on the reply (but see Ritt v Lenox Hill Hosp., 182 AD2d 560, 562 [1st Dept 1982]), moving defendants fail to demonstrate as a matter of law that UBS cannot establish that Highland Financial acted with actual intent to defraud in effectuating the March 2009 Note Termination. The assertion of Highland Capital’s Braner that the Termination was made for legitimate business reasons (see Braner Aff., ¶ 13) must be evaluated on a fully developed record.

The branch of moving defendants’ motion for summary judgment dismissing UBS’s fraudulent conveyance claims will accordingly be denied.

Good Faith and Fair Dealing

Highland Capital seeks summary judgment dismissing UBS’s claim for breach of the covenant of good faith and fair dealing (third cause of action), asserted in the action under Index Number 650752/10. This claim is based upon allegations that Highland Capital used its control over the Fund Counterparties to orchestrate the transfer of Highland Financial’s assets to Highland Capital and the Affiliated Transferee defendants, as part of the March 2009 Note

Termination. (Complaint under Index Number 650752/10, ¶¶ 158-166; UBS's Memo. In Opp. at 7-8, 25.)

Highland Capital argues that it cannot be liable for this conduct unless Highland Financial is the alter ego of SOHC. As moving defendants' motion for summary judgment dismissing UBS's alter ego claim has been denied, this basis for dismissal of the implied covenant claim fails.

Highland Capital also argues that UBS terminated the parties' agreements months before the acts that allegedly breached the covenant of good faith and fair dealing, thereby ending Highland Capital's obligations. The court agrees. The implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing "embraces a pledge that 'neither party shall do anything which will have the effect of destroying or injuring the right of the other party to receive the fruits of the contract,'" and it "encompass[es] 'any promises which a reasonable person in the position of the promisee would be justified in understanding were included.'" (511 W. 232nd Owners Corp. v Jennifer Realty Co., 98 NY2d 144, 153 [2002] [internal citations omitted].)

Here, UBS concedes that it terminated the parties' agreements in December 2008 (Compl., ¶ 99), and its cause of action is based upon the March 2009 Note Termination several months later. UBS cannot state a claim for breach of the implied obligation of good faith absent an existing contract. (See e.g. Levine v Yokell, 258 AD2d 296, 296-297 [1st Dept 1999]; American-European Art Assocs., Inc. v Trend Galleries, Inc., 227 AD2d 170, 171 [1st Dept 1996] Lakeville Pace Mech., Inc. v Elmar Realty Corp., 276 AD2d 673, 676 [2d Dept 2000]; Beninati v Federal Deposit Ins. Accordingly, section 15-108 provides an additional basis for applying an offset based on USB’s prior settlements.

The relevant settlement agreements with the Settling Defendants explicitly settled “any and all claims” related to the “Knox Agreement” and the “UBS Litigation,” which was explicitly defined to mean this case. The claims settled in those settlement agreements are premised on the same theories of liability, and the same alleged harm, as the claims alleged against the remaining Defendants. Accordingly, if any liability against Defendants is ultimately found, Defendants will be entitled to a substantial offset. Thus, UBS’s argument that the Court cannot hear evidence or argument regarding UBS’s prior settlements fails. The settlements likewise release Defendant Highland Capital Management, L.P. from any liability relating to the alleged fraudulent transfers with the Settling Defendants, and the Court will need to likewise enforce these provisions.

C. Post-Breach Evidence May Be Considered in Determining UBS’s Damages, If Any.

UBS’s position that the court cannot consider “post-breach” evidence of damages is unfounded. To the contrary, New York courts denounce such a “bright-line” exclusion as “too mechanical” and have held that fact-finders should be able to consider post-breach evidence in

INTRODUCTION

Pursuant to the Court's request at the March 29, 2018 conference, Plaintiffs UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG, London Branch (collectively "UBS") submit this brief in support of the plan for the trial that is currently set as a bench trial to commence on June 4, 2018.<sup>1</sup> UBS urges this Court to keep that scheduled date, as previously agreed to by the parties and the Court. That agreement (as discussed with the Court on March 9, 2018) contemplates a trial on certain claims (those to be tried by the Court) while postponing the resolution of the other claims (those to be tried by a jury).

In light of the recent decision by the Appellate Division, which reinstated UBS's fraudulent conveyance claims against certain Highland Defendants, UBS now is willing to simplify the upcoming trial even more by postponing the claims against Highland Capital Management, L.P. ("HCM") to the later phase. Thus, what the parties had estimated to the Court would be a two to three week trial, should now last only about a week or so. And, depending upon the resolution of the first phase, it could considerably narrow the scope of the remaining issues, or lead to resolution of the case altogether.

Meanwhile, Defendants now take the position that no trial should proceed on the June 4 date, and further, that they no longer want to bifurcate the trial of bench and jury claims at all but want to throw all claims and defendants, bench and jury trial alike, together in one proceeding as long as that proceeding can be postponed until months from now (the earliest date they have offered is in October). But not only do they want this Court to ignore their previous commitment, they also wish to ignore the fact that if bifurcation does not occur, it will require the Court to conduct additional evidentiary proceedings, including a hearing on the interpretation and potential ambiguity of various contract provisions and Frye proceedings to test expert qualifications, not to mention hearings on outstanding motions in limine. It is entirely inefficient and only serves Defendants' ongoing interest in delay to abandon what would likely be a four- or five-day bench trial on the contract claim, and instead require the Court to hold what is likely to be a several-day evidentiary hearing on contract and expert issues—which will present overlapping factual issues and would ensure that witnesses and evidence would be put on twice. UBS requests that the Court not allow Defendants to reverse course on the eve of trial and instead proceed with the bench trial already set for June 4—except that UBS agrees trial of the implied covenant claim against HCM may appropriately be postponed until a second trial phase.

* * *

After Defendants hired new counsel, in early 2018, the parties agreed to bifurcate the trial. At the time the parties made this agreement, the Appellate Division had issued its October 2017 decision affirming this Court's denial of summary judgment on all claims except for the fraudulent conveyance claims against parties other than the Fund Counterparties. The claims that remained in the case were the breach of contract claims against Highland CDO Master Fund, L.P. ("CDO Fund") and Highland Special Opportunities Holding Company ("SOHC", collectively, the "Fund Counterparties"), the alter ego claim against Highland Financial Partners, L.P. ("HFP"), the breach of implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing claim against HCM, the general partner liability claim against Strand Advisors, Inc. ("Strand"), the fraudulent inducement claim against the Fund Counterparties, and fraudulent conveyance claims against the Fund Counterparties. The parties agreed that they would conduct a bifurcated trial of these claims, trying the bench claims (breach of contract and breach of implied covenant) in June 2017 and trying the remaining claims to a jury in fall 2017. The Court accordingly set a June 2017 trial date for a bifurcated trial.

In March 2018, the Appellate Division reversed its decision on the fraudulent conveyance claims, thus reinstating the previously-dismissed fraudulent conveyance claims against HFP, HCM, and Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, L.P. (“Credit Opp.”). Highland’s new counsel now claims that this ruling somehow vitiates the need for bifurcation. But, if anything, the ruling makes bifurcation even more important. UBS has already offered to try the discrete breach of contract claims in front of the bench in the June trial, and move the breach of the implied covenant claim to the second trial to be tried along with the myriad other remaining claims against the Highland Defendants. The implied covenant claim, which involves HCM’s role in the March 2009 fraudulent conveyances, overlaps factually with the reinstated fraudulent conveyance claims. Given UBS’s offer, there is no justification whatsoever for Highland’s contention that the reinstatement of the fraudulent conveyance claims justifies postponing trial of all claims even longer. The fraudulent conveyance claims have little to do with the contract claims. And without bifurcation, the Court and the parties would still be left with multiple proceedings, namely, the evidentiary hearing on the contract claim, a Frye hearing and a hearing on motions in limine, and then a jury trial that includes the discrete contract claim that is brought against just the Fund Counterparties. The proposed bifurcation is the far simpler and more efficient course.

The reasons why bifurcation is necessary and efficient here are more true now than they were before the Appellate Division reinstated the fraudulent conveyance claims against three other defendants. To begin, the first trial only requires a minimal amount of time (just days) and witnesses (just four), and will avoid any evidence relating to alter ego (including the nine-factor test), fraudulent conveyance (including the fall 2008 notes issuance and March 2009 fraudulent transfers), and fraudulent inducement (including Highland’s misrepresentations and UBS’s reliance). The second trial promises weeks of testimony, many more documents submitted into evidence, over ten more witnesses, and four additional defendants.

And bifurcation may obviate the need for the second trial at all. Depending on the outcome of the first trial, as UBS has already indicated, UBS may decide not to move forward with some of its claims, or the parties, [REDACTED] may decide to resolve their claims once there is a judgment on the contract claims. Not only does this promote a more prompt (or less unprompt) resolution of the case, but it will also conserve judicial resources and avoid the possibility of empaneling a jury.

But even if a jury is empaneled, bifurcation will have the added benefit of streamlining the issues for the jury, reducing the amount of time needed for the jury to serve, and sparing the jury from hearing overly complicated, lengthy and irrelevant (as to the issues the jury needs to decide) evidence concerning the contract claims that will instead be presented in the first trial.

Ignoring the obvious benefits, Highland has provided a list of excuses, none of which withstands scrutiny. Highland first expresses concern that they have had to spend time on certain matters, including this bifurcation brief and its motion for permission to appeal the Appellate Division's recent order to the Court of Appeals. This makes no sense. For one, Highland (its current counsel) agreed to a more complex first trial in June (i.e., one that would have included the implied covenant claim and its evidence relating to the March 2009 fraudulent conveyances); it is Highland, by virtue of reversing course on its position concerning bifurcation, that has necessitated this briefing (and of course, the work that has gone into this briefing is necessary for trial anyway). In any event, being new counsel (since February, four months before any trial) and being busy cannot be a reasonable basis to delay trial, particularly where a case has been pending for over nine years.

Highland also expresses concern that there is still, as of April 2018, lack of clarity concerning the scope of trial. But Highland has known since early March that any trial in June would at least relate to the discrete contract issues. Nor is it a reasonable excuse that Highland's last-chance effort at another layer of appellate review may not be decided before a June 2018 trial. Highland already had review in the Appellate Division and has already used that review to delay trial by nearly a year—it cannot use a motion for permission to appeal to the Court of Appeals as reason to delay trial any further.

Highland's excuses to get out of its prior agreement cannot stand in the face of the obvious benefits of bifurcation, such as saving considerable time and resources for the parties and the Court, bringing a speedy resolution to the case, and making any second trial simpler for the jury without much duplication of evidence and issues. Highland particularly should not be allowed to evade bifurcation and cause trial of all claims to be punted once more—notably, Highland has never offered to hold a single trial proceeding in June (which UBS is more than willing to do). This is only further evidence that its new-found opposition to bifurcation is a guise for delay. UBS respectfully requests that the Court bifurcate the trial, leaving the implied covenant claim to the later trial, and proceeding on the Court's calendar the week of June 4, 2018.

BACKGROUND

A. The Parties' Claims.

The breach of contract claims against the Fund Counterparties arise out of three agreements entered into on March 14, 2008 between UBS, HCM, and the Fund Counterparties—the Restructured Engagement Letter, the Restructured Cash Warehouse Agreement, and the Restructured Synthetic Warehouse Agreement (collectively, the “Restructured Agreements”)—which restructured an expired 2007 engagement involving the same parties (the “Original Agreements”) and whereby UBS agreed to hold $818 million worth of assets for a securitization

NYSCEF DOC. NO. 472 RECEIVED NYSCEF: 04/18/2018

In November 2009, HCM filed its Amended Answer and Counterclaims, which included counterclaims for breach of contract and declaratory judgment against UBS Securities LLC for its alleged breach of HCM's right of first refusal under the Restructured Cash Warehouse Agreement. Ex. 13. A motion to dismiss HCM's counterclaims was rendered moot in March 2010 as the parties contemplated amending their pleadings. D.E. 107. On May 7, 2010, the Court held the motion to dismiss in abeyance. D.E. 160-1 at 82:9-25.<sup>5</sup>

B. Current Posture.

On September 3, 2013, UBS filed its note of issue. D.E. 320. On October 17, 2013, Highland moved for summary judgment. D.E. 332 & 338. In March 2017, the Court issued its ruling denying Highland's motion as to every claim except the implied covenant claim. D.E. 411 & 412. Following UBS's motion to reargue, the Court reinstated the implied covenant claim. D.E. 444. Highland appealed those orders. D.E. 416, 418, & 446.

Meanwhile, in 2017, the parties prepared for trial. The Court held two pretrial conferences—April 4, 2017 and June 27, 2017—and scheduled a trial for September 2017. At the June conference, the Court asked counsel to confer “on the issues of whether they would agree to an evidentiary hearing before the Court in advance of the jury trial with respect to whether the synthetic warehouse provision on CDS losses is ambiguous.” Ex. 16, at 3:9-13. As the Court correctly noted, the parties were “working towards an agreement to such a hearing,” id. at 3:13-14, and had tentatively agreed that such a hearing would occur, Onufer Aff. ¶ 21. On June 27, 2017, the Appellate Division issued a stay pending Highland's appeal. Id. ¶ 22.

<sup>5</sup> In fall 2014, the parties agreed that for purposes of not waiving their rights to later file answers to outstanding claims, that they would exchange answers to claims that had not yet been filed. For its part, on November 13, 2014, UBS sent Highland a copy of its answer to HCM's counterclaims. See Ex. 15. And on November 10, 2014, Highland sent UBS its answer to the Crusader HoldCo Complaint (Index No. 652646/2011) (the claims against Crusader HoldCo have since been settled and dismissed with prejudice). See Ex. 14. Neither party objected to the Answers. Nor did either party file the Answer, but both agreed they would at the appropriate time while treating each as the operative Answer.

On October 31, 2017, the Appellate Division issued an order (the “October 2017 Order”) that affirmed this Court’s summary judgment decisions in large part, but dismissed UBS’s fraudulent conveyance claims against HFP, HCM, and Credit Opp. See Ex 17. Both parties filed motions to reargue. Onufer Aff. ¶ 24.

On March 15, 2018, the Appellate Division issued a decision and order (the “March 2018 Order”) that vacated the October 2017 Order, affirmed this Court’s summary judgment decisions, and reinstated all of UBS’s claims. Ex. 18. Among other things, the Appellate Division noted that “neither our prior decisions nor the doctrine of res judicata bar plaintiffs from introducing evidence of pre-February 24, 2009 conduct to the extent necessary to prove, with respect to post-February 24, 2009 conduct, their alter ego, fraudulent conveyance and breach of implied covenant claims.” See id. at 4.

Since the beginning of 2018, the parties have had numerous calls with the Court to discuss preparations for trial and to schedule a trial date. Onufer Aff. ¶ 26. Prior to the March 2018 Order, the parties had agreed orally to bifurcate the trial into two phases: (1) Phase I would relate to the bench issues (the breach of contract claims and implied covenant claim); and (2) Phase II would relate to the jury issues (alter ego, fraudulent inducement, general partner liability, and what remained of the fraudulent conveyance claims). Id. ¶ 27. A trial was set for June. Id. ¶ 28; see also Ex. 19 (Mar. 13, 2018 joint letter) (D.E. 459) (“[T]he parties confirm that they are available for the bench trial phase of the above-referenced case to proceed on June 4, 2018.”).

Following the March 2018 Order, Highland reversed course, and stated its preference to try all the claims at the same time. Onufer Aff. ¶ 29. UBS proposed that the trial still proceed in two phases, with the first phase relating to just the breach of contract claims, leaving the implied covenant claim to the second phase. Id. ¶ 30.

CPLR 603 provides that “[i]n furtherance of convenience or to avoid prejudice[,] the court may order a severance of claims, or may order a separate trial of any claim, or of any separate issue.” See also CPLR 4011 (“The court may determine the sequence in which the issues shall be tried and otherwise regulate the conduct of the trial in order to achieve a speedy and unprejudiced disposition of the matters at issue in a setting of proper decorum.”). A trial court has discretion to bifurcate a trial when it would streamline issues and “serve the convenience of the parties and the court.” Mirabella v. Banco Industrial de la Republica Argentina, 29 A.D.2d 940, 940 (1st Dep’t 1968) (ordering separate trials on a threshold issue); see also Cross v. Cross, 112 A.D.2d 62, 64 (1st Dep’t 1985) (holding that “where it will facilitate the ‘speedy, unprejudiced disposition’ of a case, severance is appropriate in the sound exercise of discretion”) (citation omitted). Bifurcation of trial is also appropriate when resolving a relatively simple issue would either moot or prompt the settlement of other, more complex issues. See 3 N.Y. Prac., Com. Litig. in New York State Courts § 15:13 (4th ed.). Although courts should also consider whether separate proceedings will be repetitive, ordinarily bifurcation is only improper where the separate proceedings involve “complex issues [that] are inextricably interwoven and intertwined.” Id. at § 15:20.

As the proposed trial plan makes clear, bifurcation of the contract claims against the Fund Counterparties into a Phase I bench trial will efficiently and fairly expedite resolution of this action, which has been pending for more than nine years.

A. The Two Trials Will Have Minimal Overlap In Evidence And Issues, And Bifurcation Will Not Lead To Repetitive Proceedings.

The facts relevant to the claims in the two trials are distinct. As discussed further below, the contract claims will only require a week of trial time, a handful of witnesses and small amount of deposition designations to present evidence concerning the salient terms of the Restructured Agreements, the negotiation of the Restructured Agreements, the termination and breach of the Restructured Agreements, and damages arising therefrom. The second trial will last several weeks and will likely involve around 15 live witnesses, and significant designations from about 20 deposition transcripts. The second trial involves more claims and more parties. Although there might be some duplication in the witnesses and evidence at both trials, the issues and evidence are largely separate and certainly will not be inextricably interwoven and intertwined.

Highland suggested at the March 29, 2018 conference that the damages evidence for breach of contract and fraudulent inducement will be duplicative, but that is not so. As Highland has previously asserted, its damages evidence will relate to (1) whether losses on certain warehouse assets called “CDS Losses”, a defined contractual term, count toward UBS’s damages; and (2) whether there are any “offsets” to UBS’s damages, such as UBS’s hedging gains, removal of losses on 20 CDS assets where UBS was the protection buyer (what Highland misleadingly refers to as “dummy swaps”), and UBS’s post-breach disposition of the warehouse assets. In 2017, Highland stated to this Court and during the parties’ meet and confers that CDS Losses, which arise from the contract, and damages offsets evidence are judge-only issues related to contract damages. So at base, these issues can only relate to the first trial. Even there, though, the issues should not be considered, because they are legally irrelevant to contract damages given that any gains on the purported offsets would have occurred independent of the Fund Counterparties’ breach.

As requested by the Court, the following provides UBS’s proposed trial plans for the two phases of trial, including the witnesses it intends to call and what each witness will testify about.

1. UBS’s Proposed Trial Plan For The First Trial On The Contract Claims.

UBS believes it can present its case in chief in two to two and a half trial days. UBS intends to call only two live witnesses in its case-in-chief: (1) [REDACTED]; and (2) [REDACTED].

UBS also anticipates that it will offer limited deposition designations. While UBS does not yet know the exact testimony that it will designate, UBS does not anticipate that it will designate from more than five people and expects that it will be less than one day of testimony.

Highland has indicated that it intends to call numerous witnesses to testify at the first trial, including [REDACTED]

The other proposed witnesses are unnecessary. For some of the witnesses, the testimony is duplicative. [REDACTED]

The remaining Highland witnesses are only necessary if the Court permits evidence relating to (i) Highland's material breach defense, (ii) Highland's efforts to avoid certain damages, and (iii) Highland's right of first refusal counterclaim. Each of these arguments is tainted by threshold legal flaws that this Court may resolve before trial, in order to avoid extending the trial by several days—flaws that will be fully briefed in pre-trial briefs to be filed before the June 4 trial. Based on discussions and the briefing, we believe that Highland intends to offer evidence in support of the following legally flawed arguments:

a. Material Breach

Highland argues that UBS materially breached the Restructured Agreements because its collateral calls were premature, and this breach came prior to any Highland breach and thus excuses Highland's own breach. According to Highland, UBS issued collateral calls prematurely, because, among other things, UBS improperly included losses for certain CDS transactions (i.e., 20 assets where UBS was the protection buyer) in its calculations of the warehouse asset losses that triggered a collateral call. Whether or not UBS's calculations are correct, however, is legally irrelevant, because (i) a premature collateral call is not a breach, let alone a material breach, of any obligation UBS owed under the contract, and (ii) Highland does not dispute that losses exceeded $300 million (the amount required for a third margin call) by December 2, 2008, which is prior to termination.

b. Right Of First Refusal

Highland argues in support of its counterclaim that UBS breached Highland's contractual right of first refusal. This argument is also legally flawed, because the right of first refusal belonged to HCM, not its designee, and the undisputed record evidence is that HCM never attempted to exercise that right. Instead, a different Highland fund—Highland CLO Value Fund—sought to exercise that right, but it could not do so. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

c. Hedging

Highland intends to offer evidence of UBS's hedges as a purported offset to its contract damages. This evidence is likewise irrelevant as a matter of law, because the "hedges" were all entered into prior to the breach, and because, in any event, UBS would have realized gains on these "hedges" regardless of whether the Fund Counterparties breached the contract.

d. Post-Breach Values Of The Assets

Highland also intends to offer evidence concerning the value of the warehouse assets after Highland's breach of contract as another purported offset, and supposedly as a basis to re-measure the value of the warehouse assets as of the date of the breach. As with hedging, this argument is flawed because, under New York law, contract damages are intended to return the parties to the position they would have been in absent the breach. What happens after the breach is legally irrelevant. This is especially the case in contract matters, such as here, that involve securities, and assets that frequently fluctuate in value—both up and down.

e. CDS Losses

Highland argues that unrealized losses on the credit default swap assets should not be included in UBS's damages under the Restructured Synthetic Warehouse Agreement. This argument is also legally flawed, because when the three restructured warehouse agreements are read together—as they must be—it is clear that the unrealized losses must be included in UBS's damages. To read otherwise would render meaningless numerous contractual provisions.

2. UBS's Proposed Trial Plan For The Second Trial.

The second trial, which will relate to new parties and different claims, will involve new factual issues that will not be addressed at all in the first trial. The claims to be tried in the second trial are: fraudulent inducement, fraudulent conveyance, alter ego, general partner liability, and implied covenant. These claims are brought against SOHC, CDO Fund, HCM, Credit Opp., HFP, and Strand, only two of which are defendants in the first trial.

The additional evidence needed for the new factual issues include:

Fraudulent Inducement: (1) evidence regarding Highland's misrepresentations to UBS prior to entering into the Restructured Agreements; (2) evidence regarding whether UBS justifiably relied on those misrepresentations; and (3) [REDACTED].

Alter Ego: (1) evidence relating to each of the nine alter ego factors, including [REDACTED]

<sup>6</sup> Highland has indicated that it foresees scheduling conflicts with a number of its witnesses over the summer. Even assuming that it is appropriate for Highland to call all of its proposed witnesses at the first trial, the only witness that appears to have a conflict with the first two weeks in June is [REDACTED]. As we discussed with the Court last month, if there is a witness or two who need to be presented the following week—the week of June 18, 2018—then the parties can do so without having to delay the trial.

In addition to the live testimony, UBS anticipates that it will designate deposition testimony. While UBS does not yet know the exact testimony that it will designate, UBS anticipates that it will designate from about 15 depositions, which may take several trial days.

For its case, Highland indicated that it might seek testimony from over 15 live witnesses, including (as relevant to the second trial): [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

UBS also expects that Highland will designate a significant amount of deposition testimony.

As the foregoing shows, the parties, witnesses, and issues in the second trial will be significantly different and more numerous than those in the first.

B. Bifurcation Makes Issues Easier For The Jury, Is Likely To Lead To A Speedy Resolution Of The Case, And Conserves Judicial Resources.

Bifurcation here provides numerous other advantages. First, bifurcation will plainly streamline the issues and make it easier for the jury to keep issues straight in the second trial. As illustrated above, the second trial will not be about the Restructured Agreements. Instead,

For the most part, the second trial will relate to claims—fraudulent conveyance, alter ego, and general partner liability—that hinge on liability—and thus are only an issue if there is a liability finding. The bulk of the evidence about the Restructured Agreements will be in the first trial, which will focus on a detailed discussion of the provisions of those agreements, including evidence concerning the meaning of the CDS Losses term and Highland’s overly complex (and legally irrelevant) material breach defenses.

Second, bifurcation will result in a speedier resolution of the case and conserve judicial resources. To begin, the first trial will obviate the need for a separate evidentiary hearing on contract issues; the first trial will resolve all the discrete contract issues altogether. Moreover, depending on the outcome of the first trial, it is highly likely that the parties will resolve the remaining claims without a trial, either by dropping or settling remaining claims and pursuing an appeal. For example, if UBS does not prevail on its contract claims, UBS will consider whether to drop any claims or whether instead it will seek an appeal.

[REDACTED], which could obviate the need for a second trial (and later appeals). If the second trial does not occur at all, then the Court will have saved the several weeks UBS anticipates will be necessary for the second phase and avoided empaneling a jury. This will also save time and resources for the parties and for the numerous additional witnesses that would be called for a second phase.

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, UBS respectfully requests that the Court exercise its broad discretion and bifurcate the trial into two phases, with the first phase relating just to the breach of contract claims, and the second phase relating to UBS's remaining claims.

1 Proceedings

2 The first question is what are the parties'
3 positions on whether the damages for breach of contract
4 would be decided by the Court at the bench trial if we
5 were to bifurcate as between a bench trial and a jury
6 trial?

7 Let's start with UBS, please.

8 MR. CLUBOK: The Court would decide the damages
9 for breach of contract.

10 THE COURT: Ms. Klein, do you disagree?

11 MS. KLEIN: We do not disagree with that, your 12 Honor.

13 THE COURT: The next question is as follows:

14 Is it correct that it is plaintiffs' position that 15 the implied covenant claim would be for the Court, but 16 would be tried in the jury trial phase?

17 (Interrupted by a voicemail recording)

18 MR. CLUBOK: Your Honor, we had previously -- this 19 is your voicemail, your Honor. Somehow there's a way to 20 delete this message, if you'd just give me a second.

undertook a review of the Fund Counterparties' ability to pay and found it lacking.

Specifically, they found that the Fund Counterparties had no ability to pay and, therefore, they aired into the transaction fully aware that if there were a breach of contract, they would not be made whole -- "they" being UBS.

And, therefore, any suggestion under an implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing that the defendants somehow promised that the Fund Counterparties would have sufficient assets to pay a breach of contract claim is false, and that is the type of evidence that we would elicit in defense to the implied covenant claim, also in defense of the fraudulent inducement claim.

THE COURT: Ms. Klein, isn't the implied covenant claim as pleaded based solely on post entry into transaction alleged wrongful or fraudulent conveyances?

MS. KLEIN: The inability to pay for the breach of contract certainly is, in part, related to the fraudulent conveyance; but the promise or the alleged promise to make sure that there would be assets to pay and that there would not be actions undertaken that would diminish that comes from the contract negotiation and the understanding of the defendants at the time the contract was negotiated, as well as it implicates the assets that

11 Our claim is that there's a contract and there is

14 and what the total amounts are going to be, and whether we

two, they will have had to pay us money. And there's a third party, HCM, that also signed on to those contracts, but didn't have a direct obligation to pay; yet nevertheless, we say they had an implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing not to, for example, commit fraudulent conveyances that, that made it possible for the two parties who had owed us the money to pay.

First of all, there's no defense against that because before we signed the contract, internally our folks wondered whether, ultimately, the two parties were good credit risks. You wouldn't be able to defend against a breach of contract claim under these circumstances with that theory. So it is kind of manufactured anyway.

THE COURT: Can you slow down a little bit, please, so we can get a record. Thank you.

MR. CLUBOK: Sure, your Honor.

We're talking about the possibility of some parol evidence prior to contract formation about whether or not -- notwithstanding if your Honor finds there were payment terms and monies owed -- that somehow parol evidence from before the contract vitiate the actual obligation to pay because my client was worried that the two parties who promised to pay wouldn't be able to pay. I have a hard time believing your Honor is going to accept that kind of parol evidence if there's no basis for it.

Until this bifurcation breach, I don't think we had ever in the nine years I've litigated the case ever heard that theory. I don't think it is legally valid. It is just kind of thrown out there.

But, even if there was such a legally valid theory and let's pretend for purposes of this argument that it's true, that my clients thought, Gee, if things go south, these two Fund Counterparties that have promised to pay will not be able to in fact pay the total amount, the total $500 million of damages; does that mean then that they expected there to be fraudulent conveyances which is -- is basically, you know, the implied covenant of good-faith and fair-dealing claim that we now have is that they shouldn't have committed fraudulent conveyances to make it certain that these two parties couldn't have paid.

I mean, the defendants are just trying to interject a really far-afield defense that I doubt your Honor is going to even entertain and then expand it to a point that it just sort of is something I've never heard of in a contract dispute and, certainly, we never heard of in this case until two weeks ago when we saw this brief and now as I've heard it explained.

So that's -- to make that the bootstrap for now there's such substantial overlap that we have to bifurcate the trial, with all due respect the defendants, I think is a stretch.

The other thing I would say is even if you credit this, all I've heard is that there's overlap between fraudulent inducement and implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, all of which we are proposing to put into the next phase. So even if your Honor is going to do that stuff, it is going to be in the next phase.

But I just think that this is not an argument that can be seriously used -- you know, we can have a motion practice on whether you're going to ever entertain that kind of parol evidence, or we could stipulate for the sake of argument that let's say were even true, that our clients -- the credit risk people that my clients worried that the two Fund Counterparties wouldn't be able to pay or assumed they wouldn't be able to pay and said, Gee, this is a risky contract that these two won't be able to pay, that doesn't -- because people internally are worrying about that, that doesn't strip the obligation to actually pay and it certainly doesn't give license to a signatory to the contract, Highland, to violate either express obligations or to implied duty of good faith and fair dealing by insuring that the two parties can't pay.

THE COURT: Mr. Clubok, when you refer to the possibility of parol evidence, you are talking about parol evidence that the defendants would possibly introduce

THE COURT: Yes, just give me a minute, please.

Is that not an equitable claim? And if not, what happens if the Court and the jury reach different conclusions on whether action was taken to transfer assets that would have been used to satisfy a judgment, assuming for purposes of argument only that the Court would have previously concluded that there was to be a judgment?

MR. CLUBOK: Well, there's two different legal standards. So, the facts that relate to this are the same, the same body of facts. Mostly overlapping, I would say.

There are slightly different legal tests. One being for implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing is a legal standard that your Honor would have to apply to those facts; and there's a different standard, I think generally a higher standard -- you could argue is different standard. Let's just say different standard on fraudulent conveyance that largely you take the same set of facts and the jury apply the different, you know, jury instruction to the standard for them to decide whether it constitutes a fraudulent conveyance, then the court and the jury could decide they are both breach of implied covenant good faith and fair dealing and fraudulent conveyances; or, your Honor could decide it is breach of implied duty of good faith and fair dealing, but it doesn't rise to the level of fraudulent conveyance or vice versa.

2 They're just two different legal tests, but
3 substantially overlapping facts.

4 That's why we would propose moving that one -- now

13 THE COURT: Ms. Klein.

14 MS. KLEIN: Your Honor, we agree that there are 15 two different legal standards and, of course, the two

17 disagree that the parties emphatically agree that the case
18 could be bifurcated if the fraudulent conveyance claim came

20 represented to Ms. Barnett that if the 1st Department

we were going to -- at that time fraudulent conveyance was out of the case because of the 1st Department's original decision; and the parties had agreed we would do the breach of contract and the breach of implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing; but we would bifurcate out the fraudulent inducement to a later time and alter ego to a later time. That's the status quo.

And then we did say, Gee, if the Court puts back in the fraudulent conveyance, we'll have to reassess and so now that the fraudulent conveyance is back in, we have a couple of options. One is to do everything all together, but for a number of reasons that makes less sense than just saying, Okay, fraudulent conveyance, it substantially overlaps and I didn't hear Ms. Klein disagree with that. It overlaps with the breach of implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing.

So the smart thing to do is to put that one to the later part of the case. No one had agreed to it before. We said we would reassess, and that's what we're doing and our proposal is we'll make this trial even easier and now we put off one issue that we thought we were going to be trying in June, but now we don't have to try in June because it substantially overlaps with this fraudulent conveyance and we will try the second phase under plaintiffs' proposal.

I think we got everything down there, but it's difficult to do it repeatedly at that rate.

Ms. Klein, do you have anything that you want to add in response to the last statement of Mr. Clubok?

MS. KLEIN: Yes, your Honor. Just briefly, and that is that as our submission demonstrates upon evaluation after the 1st Department's decision, we think there's substantial overlap not only of the evidence, but also of the witnesses that we would bring; and, therefore, we think that fairness dictates that this all be done at the same time.

THE COURT: All right, I was actually going to ask you to elaborate on that, on the overlap of witnesses.

The briefing on this, it is not expansive, shall we say. So can you elaborate on which witnesses would overlap and with respect to what issues?

MS. KLEIN: Certainly, your Honor.

There are several witnesses on both sides who had involvement in the deal and throughout the process.

Those three gentlemen participated in the negotiation and the meaning of the Agreements. They participated throughout the performance of the Agreements and some were also involved in the -- what we'll call post termination conduct.

So we anticipate that those three gentlemen have ultimately evidence relevant to all of the claims.

The complicating factor, of course, is that Mr. Braner is no longer an employee of a Highland entity. He is now working for a wholly separate company in Dallas; and Mr. LeRoux is no longer working for UBS and he's working for a wholly separate company in North Carolina. And, therefore, if we are not to do this all at the same time, even if Mr. Braner and Mr. LeRoux come to a first trial, it is unknown whether or not that they would participate in a second trial.

Therefore, given that they have knowledge of anything that happened before, during and after the performance of this Agreement, we think that there's substantial overlap.

The damages experts also have substantial overlap. On our side, it is a gentleman named Mr. Warren, and on the other side it is a gentleman named Mr. Dudney. So both of those experts would be called to testify in both phases of

And then, also, the Highland defendants allege that there's something called hedging. That is an offset to damages regardless whether it is breach of contract or fraudulent conveyance or otherwise. He testifies about hedging and about the risks and the process related thereto.

UBS claims that Mr. Mammola's testimony is not relevant to a breach-of-contract claim because the hedging occurred at the outset of the contract; not at the outset of the alleged breach.

But, the hedging did occur at the outset of the alleged fraudulent inducement; and, therefore, Mr. Mammola's testimony would be relevant to all of the claims or at least to a discussion in his testimony about whether or not he should be permitted to testify at trial on breach of contract, as the plaintiffs have alleged that he is not.

Mr. Mammola lives in London and, therefore, it is quite costly to bring him to testify to trial. So that is another witness who is overlapping on a different claim.

THE COURT: Is there a reason why I couldn't hear the hedging offset issue insofar as it bears on the contract claim at the time we had the jury trial?

Proceedings

Grimaldi also determined when to issue margin calls, and Mr. Grimaldi was involved in the decision to refuse certain assets that were offered by the margin call that relate to the note unwind that is alleged to be the basis for the fraudulent conveyance.

THE COURT: Is there any reason to believe that Mr. Braner will not appear at two phases of a bifurcated trial?

MS. KLEIN: Currently, your Honor, no. He has told us that he will participate; but, of course, he is actively involved with another job and his time is limited, and he is beyond the subpoena power of the Court. And the situation that we seriously want to guard against is Mr. Braner's participation in the first phase; but his refusal in the second phase because he doesn't have time or he's already been generous with his time or because his employer suggests that he should not be able to participate because he's not properly devoting his duties to his new employer, in that instance we would be dealing with a witness who doesn't want to be there and, of course, that is -- if we were to try to force him to come, that would substantially prejudice the defendants because we would have a witness who is uncooperative presenting our main case in front of a jury.

THE COURT: And where is Mr. Braner located?

2 MS. KLEIN: He is located in Dallas, Texas.

3 THE COURT: All right, let's hear from Mr. Clubok
4 on these overlap issues, please.

5 MR. CLUBOK: Sure. Mr. Braner was going to have
6 this same issue when we agreed to bifurcate the first time.

7 Mr. Braner is involved in pretty much all aspects
8 of the case from Highland. So when we agreed to bifurcate
9 for the first time, Highland signed up for the fact that 10 Mr. Braner would have to come twice.

11 Now, the hassle of the flying twice from Dallas,
12 Texas to New York -- I've done it many times and I think 13 Gayle probably has, too -- it is not the worst trip in the 14 world. It's pretty minimal compared to what will happen
15 now and there will be a certain, much easier to identify 16 exactly when Mr. Braner will have to testify in the first 17 phase and in a narrower band of when he testifies in the 18 second.

19 Also, if our whole bifurcation plan is upset now
20 because Mr. Braner no longer -- well, I just heard that 21 he's willing to come for both so it is like he was willing 22 to do it before. We still think he's willing, but,
23 theoretically, possibly, Mr. Braner might change his mind
24 later and that's why we shouldn't bifurcate now. That's, 25 basically, the thrust of the defendants' argument and we 26 disagree with that as being much of a fact for the Court should consider.

Having said that, worst case scenario and notwithstanding what Mr. Braner committed to before when we all told the Court we would bifurcate; but notwithstanding what Mr. Braner has recently reconfirmed what he's willing to do and notwithstanding the fact that we have video deposition testimony from him, so we're just happy to designate that testimony. It's easier not to come.

Another way to go about this is if he all of a sudden changes his mind or his employer won't let him make that trip from Dallas to New York for any day for the second phase of the trial, we could just do a trial deposition of him. If we really have to accommodate Mr. Braner and he's got to do it live from Dallas, we can make that work.

That would not be a reason to un-bifurcate or to un-bifurcate the whole trial. It is true that Mr. Braner overlaps. That's the one witness on their side of the fact witness that overlaps, but the evidence that has to come into play for the fraudulent conveyance and the alter ego and fraudulent inducement in the second trial is so -- most of it is totally different and separate and has nothing to do with the straight breach of contract.

There is a four-factor test for fraudulent conveyance. There is a nine-factor test for actual fraud.

1 Proceedings

2 There is a seven-factor test for whether or not the 3 transaction issue was actually an equity infusion, which 4 undercuts their defense was a secured loan and there is a 5 nine-factor test for alter ego. I just did quick math, and 6 that is twenty-nine factors.

7 All those factors are factual issues with lots and 8 lots of facts. If you recall the summary judgment, much of 9 that PowerPoint that I think I was able to use covered
10 facts because those twenty-nine factors that have nothing 11 to do with the breach of contract that have lots of 12 witnesses and lots of internal documents and lots of stuff 13 of which Mr. Braner is a very small part of.

14 So all of that stuff should be in the second phase
15 of the trial and just because Mr. Brian might, 16 theoretically, change his mind is not a reason to not 17 bifurcate.

18 With respect to everything else, you know, there 19 are three UBS witnesses. Okay, that's on us. If our 20 witnesses want to make two trips down to the courthouse,
21 that we appreciate defendants' concern for those witnesses,
22 but that's not a concern they need to worry themselves
23 with.

24 THE COURT: Excuse me, I thought maybe -- let me

2 want to call any of those three UBS witnesses?

3 MS. KLEIN: Yes, your Honor.

4 THE COURT: All of them?

5 MS. KLEIN: We have not yet decided all of them.

6 Obviously, our presentation of evidence as defendants 7 depends upon what the plaintiffs present in their case in 8 chief; but, certainly, the current intent is to call all of 9 them and that is what we would like to do.

10 If I may, just one point, and that is UBS is 11 seeking hundreds of millions of dollars in recovery from my 12 client. It is a jury trial, and we will be substantially
13 and unfairly prejudiced if we cannot call our witnesses
14 live in a jury phase of a trial. We all know that juries 15 respond much better to live witnesses, and we would be at 16 substantial and unfair disadvantage if we were to try to 17 call any witnesses by deposition or by remote feed.

18 And, the difference here with respect to 19 Mr. Braner is he has testimony that relates to the note
20 unwind that is alleged to be part of the fraudulent
21 conveyance claim, which wasn't in the bifurcated proposed 22 trial previously and it is now in; and, therefore,
23 Mr. Braner has essential testimony and it is essential to 2 substantial and unfair harm to my clients.

3 MR. CLUBOK: Well, I have a solution --

4 THE COURT: Just a moment, please. Mr. Clubok,
5 can you represent that you have the control to insure that 6 not only Mr. Grimaldi and Mr. Bawden appear in both 7 phases, but also that Mr. LeRoux appears in both phases if 8 Highland wants to call them and you don't in the second 9 phase?

10 MR. CLUBOK: When Grimaldi and Bawden, they live
11 in New York, I can represent to you and they work for UBS,
12 as long as they do which -- the defendants want this trial
13 to be in October. There is some risk I suppose they could 14 quit their jobs and move out of town before October, but 15 that doesn't get solved by not bifurcating.

16 So in as much as good faith I can represent that 17 things don't change between now and October, yes, they will 18 show up for the October trial. But Mr. LeRoux, I can't 19 guarantee that anymore that he'd show up in October or not.

20 I can tell you we are not going to call him even 21 in the first phase. So whether he comes in October and 22 he's currently had indicated that he will cooperate and try
23 to make himself available, but that I can't guarantee 24 outside of subpoena power.

25 He was deposed by defendants. They do have his

2 unavailable. So whether we bifurcate or not doesn't 3 increase my chances of getting Mr. LeRoux to show up in 4 October. Either he will or he won't. And as defendants 5 put in their papers, we had represented to them that our --
6 the indication to us in good faith just like their 7 representation about Mr. Braner which we accept, are that 8 he is willing to try to cooperate. So that's about the 9 best I can say about Mr. LeRoux; but bifurcating or not 10 doesn't affect that and I'm not planning to call him in our 11 case in the first phase which, by the way, same thing with 12 Mr. Braner. We're not asking to call Mr. Braner.

13 If Mr. Braner -- what defense are, basically,
14 saying is, Oh, we can't guarantee that Braner will show up.
15 We want to try this case in October when I guess we can
16 guarantee he'll show up somehow, even though I just heard 17 all the stuff about his employer maybe will change their 18 mind. But, okay, they want to show up for the jury trial, 19 make that the time they show up.

20 If he also doesn't want to come to New York in 22 offense if he does a videotaped trial deposition if he 23 needs to do more testimony and he doesn't want to make the

2 a second trip to New York is not a reason to upset, to 3 totally change this case.

4 Furthermore, if I could just continue with the 5 other argument that defendants had made. On this hedging
6 issue, they say that their expert doesn't want to come here
7 twice to talk about hedging, which he might theoretically 8 have to do. Your Honor proposed a solution for that, which 9 I think is perfectly fine. But, look, if we have a jury
10 trial, he's going to have to come here twice. This was one 11 of the points we made in our brief.

12 If we just have a jury trial in the fall, we are 13 going to use a Frye motion because the hedging issue, that 14 threshold question is a legal one, does its hedging even a 15 possible offset for these damages or not? And does Mammola
16 meet the standards articulated in Frye for providing expert 17 testimony on this subject?

18 We say no. There will be a Frye hearing or 19 presumably he will testify, so he still would have to 20 testify twice. It is just now instead of having to do a 21 Frye hearing -- by the way, all these people, a lot of 22 these experts and your Honor will have to have a Frye
23 hearing and a motion-in-limine hearing which we will avoid 24 to a large extent if we just do those things in what is,
25 essentially, the first phase of the case.

2 vigorously the defendants say that they believe they will
3 win the breach-of-contract claim; or because of the hedging
4 arguments or the other offsets, they will prove there are 5 no damages.

6 If that's the case, we'll never have a second

8 agree to take an appeal if necessary. If we believe 9 there's no legal error, we'll just drop the case. We'll

11 We will not insist on a trial on fraudulent

2 London and having have him come to New York twice
3 potentially increases the cost and burden to the defendants
4 in defending against these claims.

5 Same thing with having a bifurcated trial. We
6 believe that given the overlap of evidence and witnesses,
7 it substantially increases the amount of money my clients
8 have to spend to defend against these claims, which we 9 think are wholly defensible.

10 I also heard Mr. Clubok say that if the defense
11 wins on breach of contract, we may not have a second phase;
12 and he mentions specifically dropping the fraudulent
13 inducement claim. He didn't talk about the fraudulent

16 We have a great concern that the case will not

2 finding of no breach of contract, they will not proceed

4 MS. KLEIN: And so I guess the concern then is,
5 your Honor, what does defense victory mean? What is going 6 up on appeal? What is -- what does it mean that there is 7 no damages? What if the Court finds that there was, for 8 example, $44 million in damages? I was just pulling a 9 number out of the air. Does that then mean that we have to 10 move forward with the second phrase of trial?

11 It's just uncertain to us what he means by "if we 12 win." If the win is no liability or zero damages, that 13 doesn't vitiate the fact that there's a possibility that 14 there would be a trial or a second phase if in fact it is 15 not a -- it's a zero dollar verdict.

16 THE COURT: Yes, I understand and that is

3 important to bring to my attention. I'd ask you to please

5 MR. CLUBOK: I'll be very clear and I'll try to

7 If there is no liability or if there are zero
8 damages, we will not proceed to a second phase of trial on 9 any of our claims, including fraudulent inducement, 10 fraudulent conveyance or alter ego. We will preserve our 11 right to take an appeal if we think it is appropriate.

12 If there is something like $44 million in damages,
13 I think there's a pretty good chance the parties can -- 14 there's a pretty good chance the parties will resolve the 15 case, knowing what I know about these parties and about 16 just trials in general. So, anyway so that's the first 17 thing I would say.

18 The second thing I would just say is that, again,
19 I'd just like to end on the simple fact that the parties
20 have agreed months ago -- when new counsel came along, we 21 were wary that this would be used for a massive delay. I 22 was assured by defense counsel that it was not their

2 Let's find a reasonable time. My client would
3 have liked to go to trial in March. We, ultimately, agreed
4 to go forward in June on breach of contract and breach of 5 implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing.

6 Now, we are saying let's go forward surely on 7 breach of contract. It means no Frye hearing. It means no
8 motions in limine. It means we don't have to have the 9 initial proceeding the Court had once talked about where we 10 talk about the contract or we talk about hedging in advance
11 of a real trial.

12 It is a trial that we have been super specific 13 about, exactly who we would call. We have exactly two 14 witnesses in our case in chief: One company witness and 15 one expert and then some deposition testimony we want to 16 designate.

17 It's a case that we think could be tried in a week
18 or less; and because it's easier than what had previously
19 been agreed to which we agreed to in good faith to wait 20 till June, we do not think it is appropriate now when the 21 case is even simpler than we had agreed to to move
22 everything to October. We think the case should go forward
23 as scheduled. It will either end the case or it will frame

3 there that you feel a need to respond to?

4 MS. KLEIN: Yes, your Honor. Just very, very,
5 briefly, which is we did come in as new counsel in 6 February. This case has been going on for nine years.
7 I've been practicing law for well over twenty, and it is 8 literally the most complicated case I have ever been 9 involved in.

10 For the last several weeks we have been involved
11 in reviewing evidence and putting forth the submission to 12 your Honor about why or why the case should be bifurcated
13 or not and what the overlapping evidence is. And the 1st 14 Department further on March 9th threw a monkey wrench into 15 the whole case when it added back in the fraudulent
16 conveyance claim.

17 Therefore, we're not seeking to move the trial to 18 the fall for purposes of delay, but so that we be given an 19 adequate opportunity to prepare for a designed scope of 20 trial and put together our defense.

21 We have been focused on the briefing as of 22 May 1st. We don't have clarity regarding the scope of the 23 trial, and we are in fact seeking leave to appeal the 24 1st Department's recent reversal of the prior opinion and 25 we put those papers in last Friday on the -- I'm sorry on 6 the slightest, but to force us to a trial on June 4th would 7 be prejudicial to my clients.

8 MR. CLUBOK: Your Honor, may I briefly respond to 9 a couple new things I heard?

10 THE COURT: I think that I've heard what I need to 11 hear today.

12 Let's just take a five-minute recess.

13 (Whereupon, at this time a short recess was 14 taken.)

15 THE COURT: Let's go back on the record.

16 Back on the record.

17 Having read the parties' submissions and heard
18 counsel for the parties on this conference call today, I am
19 persuaded that the trial should be bifurcated and that that 20 procedure will materially enhance the efficiency with which 21 this matter is determined without causing prejudice to 22 either party.

23 There are some complicated legal issues which need
24 to be addressed on the breach-of-contract claim, including
25 the computation of CDS losses as discussed in my summary
26 judgment opinion and whether or not the contractual provisions regarding CDS losses are ambiguous and, therefore, expert testimony or evidence of custom and usage should be taken in interpreting those provisions.

In addition, there are complicated issues, among others, with respect to the hedging offset claims. Those issues will require further briefing, and determination of those issues if there were a jury trial could result in considerable delays to the jury and to the parties.

So, that is the principal reason I am going to bifurcate; but, in addition, I do not find that the inconvenience to witnesses is a basis for not bifurcating.

Counsel have had adequate opportunity to determine whether any of these witnesses would not cooperate with a second phase of trial and nothing is being put before the Court to indicate that there is not going to be cooperation of these witnesses; or that if there is not cooperation as it turns out, that the testimony cannot otherwise be obtained from the witnesses via videotaped depositions or otherwise and -- or rather videotaped trial testimony or otherwise.

And, in addition, I do not find that the fact that the defendants have chosen to retain new trial counsel on the eve of trial is a basis for deferring any longer the trial of this matter.

I appreciate that it has been difficult for new

2 counsel to come in and prepare for this trial; but, if
3 anything, new counsel's performance on this conference call
4 today shows what an exceptional job counsel has done in a
5 relatively short time in gaining mastery over the details
6 of this complex case.

7 I am willing, however, to put the trial over for 8 one month to early July to give counsel a further
9 opportunity to prepare. I don't think that that delay
10 would prejudice the plaintiff, and it would actually suit 11 my schedule better than the June 4th trial date. Although,
12 I could keep that date if it were absolutely necessary.

13 So, we have the defendants' list of trial
14 conflicts. It does not appear that starting on July 2nd 15 would cause a problem. There are some witnesses that are 16 unavailable on certain days, but it doesn't look like the 17 bench part of the trial will be so lengthy that we couldn't 18 work around that.

19 Does the plaintiff have a problem with a July 2nd
20 start date?

21 MR. CLUBOK: I think that should be fine, your 22 Honor, with the caveat that with a little flexibility to 23 carry into the next week as needed. Obviously, with the 24 Fourth of July, we have to check, double check with people
25 for that week. But, if July 2nd works for your Honor, then 26 I think that would be fine.

2 THE COURT: Is the Fourth of July midweek? It is,
3 isn't it?

4 MR. CLUBOK: It is a Wednesday so it is possible,
5 I suppose, that week could be tough for some people.

6 THE COURT: Maybe we should start the following
7 week, the 9th. Does that work?

8 MR. CLUBOK: That's okay with us, I believe.

9 THE COURT: Ms. Klein, does that work for you?

10 MS. KLEIN: Mr. Cruciani, are you still on?

11 MR. CRUCIANI: I am, and it does.

12 MR. CLUBOK: I believe that should work for us,
13 your Honor.

14 THE COURT: That's very good. And let me say,
15 also, that another significant reason for bifurcating is so
16 that I can very carefully consider the evidence in this
17 case and the law that counsel will brief before I present
18 any issues to the jury assuming without suggesting one way
19 or the other or otherwise, of course, that there may be a 20 judgment in favor of the plaintiff. And that probably is 21 even more important than avoiding delays due to 22 consideration of some of the complex issues that I outlined 23 earlier.

24 So I think this really will work for the best, not 25 only for the parties to receive a considered decision, but 26 also from the point of view of avoiding jury delays.

2 Now, I would like counsel to have the opportunity
3 to brief whatever issues they wish to brief, but I think
4 that counsel should confer on what issues they are going to 5 brief so that each side will have the opportunity to 6 address those issues.

7 And, I would also like to have counsel address the 8 issue of the proper interpretation of CDS losses, whether 9 the contract is ambiguous and whether parol evidence will 10 need to be taken on that issue.

11 I would like to leave the call at this point and 12 have you discuss with Ms. Barnett how long you need for 13 this briefing, what page limits you think you need and what 14 you want to do with the previously scheduled May 8th 15 pretrial conference. It may be best to defer that until 16 after we receive the briefs; but if there are other issues
17 that you think you are going to need to deal with in the

SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK COUNTY OF NEW YORK

UBS SECURITIES LLC and UBS AG, LONDON BRANCH,

Plaintiffs,

-against-

HIGHLAND CAPITAL MANAGEMENT, L.P.,

Defendant.

Index No.

COMPLAINT

Plaintiffs, UBS Securities LLC (“UBSS”) and UBS AG, London Branch (“UBS AG”) (collectively, “UBS”), for their Complaint allege against defendant Highland Capital Management, L.P. (“Highland Capital”), as follows:

NATURE OF THE ACTION

1. UBS brings this action to recover damages in excess of $686 million resulting from the wrongful conduct of Highland Capital, based on causes of action for fraudulent inducement, breach of the duty of good faith and fair dealing, and fraudulent conveyance.

2. Highland Capital and two of its affiliates, Highland Special Opportunities Holding Company (“SOHC”) and Highland CDO Opportunity Master Fund, L.P. (“CDO Fund,” and together with SOHC, the “Fund Counterparties”), fraudulently induced UBS to restructure a transaction to avoid Highland Capital’s and the Fund Counterparties’ contractual obligation to pay UBS over $86 million. Once Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties succeeded in misleading UBS into restructuring the original transaction, Highland Capital and its affiliates made it impossible for the Fund Counterparties to meet their obligations to UBS by stripping the Fund Counterparties of their valuable assets through fraudulent conveyances and otherwise dealing in bad faith with their contractual obligations to UBS.

3. When UBS finally terminated the restructured transaction and demanded payment from Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties, it was owed in excess of $686 million that the Fund Counterparties could not pay because of the misappropriations and improper transfers of assets directed by Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties. Even after UBS demanded payment, Highland Capital and certain of its affiliates engaged in further unlawful conduct that harmed UBS by

The Highland Entities are defendants in the separate but related action commenced by UBS on or about February 24, 2009 (the “Highland Entity Action”). In accordance with this Court’s June 17, 2010 Order, UBS filed the First Amended Complaint in the Highland Entity Action concurrently with filing this Complaint.

SUMMARY OF THE ACTION

4. This action arises out of defendant Highland Capital’s efforts in the Spring of 2007 to sponsor a collateralized debt obligation (“CDO”) securitization (the “Original Engagement”). In connection with the Original Engagement, UBS agreed to finance the purchase of various collateralized loan obligation (“CLO”) securities, as well as credit default swap obligations that referenced similar CLO securities. UBS agreed to hold or “warehouse” the CLO securities and credit default swaps (collectively, the “Warehouse Assets” or “Warehouse Facility”) for Highland Capital’s benefit.

5. On or about August 15, 2007, the Original Engagement terminated by its terms without the contemplated securitization having occurred. As a result of the termination, Highland Capital and two of its affiliates, the Fund Counterparties, owed UBS in excess of $86 million related to the decline in the value of the Warehouse Assets.

6. Instead of paying UBS what it was owed, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties fraudulently induced UBS to restructure the Original Engagement by providing UBS with false, incomplete and otherwise misleading information concerning the Fund Counterparties’ finances and assets. Using both affirmative material misrepresentations and omissions (material facts or information needed to be disclosed to make the statements actually made not misleading, and which were not disclosed, are referred to hereinafter as “Omissions”), Highland Capital, its principals and the Fund Counterparties misled UBS regarding the financial health of the Fund Counterparties and their creditworthiness, thereby causing UBS to forego recovering its losses from Highland Capital in favor of agreeing to restructure the terms of the parties’ prior agreements (the “Restructured Transaction”).

7. For example, the strength of the Fund Counterparties’ financial statements, and their purported ability to use the hundreds of millions of dollars worth of assets reflected therein to satisfy future obligations to UBS under the Warehouse Agreements were material to UBS’s decision to agree to the restructuring. Consequently, in connection with negotiating the Restructured Transaction, UBS conditioned any restructuring on the Fund Counterparties’ ability to post $70 million in cash and securities as collateral (the “Initial Restructuring Collateral”) with State Street Bank and Trust Company (“State Street”), in which UBS would hold a security interest. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties were able to conceal important information about the Fund Counterparties' financial weakness that was both quantitatively and qualitatively material to UBS, and which would have caused UBS not to enter the Restructured Transaction.

8. Similarly, while negotiating the Restructured Transaction, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties provided UBS with financial reports and statements for the Fund Counterparties. The financial information that Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties provided to UBS contained materially false and misleading information and Omissions concerning the financial condition of the Fund Counterparties. Among other things, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties misrepresented [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

9. In reliance on material misstatements and Omissions made by Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties, UBS agreed to restructure the Original Engagement, and thereby were fraudulently induced to give up contractual rights under the terms of the Original Engagement. In particular, UBS reasonably and justifiably relied on misrepresentations and Omissions of facts and information solely and peculiarly within the knowledge of Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties. Given UBS's prior dealings with Highland Capital and its affiliates, as well as Highland Capital's size and presence in the market, UBS had no reason to believe that Highland Capital and its affiliates would provide it with false, incomplete or otherwise misleading information about the Fund Counterparties' finances and assets, as they in fact did.

10. Had UBS known that the Fund Counterparties could not [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] it would not have gone forward with the Restructured Transaction. UBS never would have agreed to the Restructured Transaction had it known prior to entering the Restructured Transaction the true status of the Fund Counterparties' financial condition and the true fair market value of the Fund Counterparties' holdings that would have been available to satisfy their then-existing and future obligations to UBS. UBS's losses described herein were directly and proximately caused by the conduct of Highland Capital and the Highland Entities described herein.

11. Almost immediately after UBS agreed to the Restructured Transaction, Highland Capital began the process of making it impossible for the Fund Counterparties to ever repay UBS what they owed. In particular, exercising its control over the Fund Counterparties, Highland Capital caused the Fund Counterparties to transfer cash for the benefit of Highland Capital and its principals, and, separately, in violation of UBS' rights, [REDACTED] all during a time when the Fund Counterparties owed UBS hundreds of millions of dollars.

12. For example, in or around May 2008, Highland Capital caused the dissipation of approximately $100 million in cash that CDO Fund held after it sold a long position in a company called SunCom Wireless. Highland Capital drained CDO Fund's cash resources despite CDO Fund's ever-increasing obligations to UBS. Highland Capital's bad faith conduct caused injury to UBS by making it impossible for the Fund Counterparties to satisfy their contractual obligations to UBS.

13. In September 2008, as losses in the Warehouse Facility continued to grow, UBS began to exercise its contractual rights and make margin calls demanding additional collateral from the Fund Counterparties. Because Highland Capital had routinely taken cash out of the Fund Counterparties, the Fund Counterparties were undercapitalized and lacked assets and liquidity to meet UBS's demands for additional collateral.

14. Highland Capital and its principals, including its president and founder, James D. Dondero, knew that if the Fund Counterparties defaulted on their obligations to UBS (or any other creditor), Highland Capital's ability to conduct business in the financial community and to keep or solicit investors would be harmed. Investors in Highland Capital's hedge fund family would withdraw their investments. In addition, creditors would take actions to protect themselves, including foreclosing on collateral and aggressively enforcing their contractual rights. Highland Capital and its principals were concerned that upon the disclosure of the true state of their affairs, their business would collapse.

15. To avoid that result, Highland Capital and its principals resorted to entities was ultimately unsuccessful. By late October 2008, Highland Capital could no longer continue to prop up the Fund Counterparties.

17. On or about November 11, 2008, UBS demanded additional collateral from the Fund Counterparties. The Fund Counterparties defaulted. On December 3, 2008, UBS terminated the Restructured Transaction. As a result of UBS's termination of the Restructured Transaction, the Fund Counterparties were contractually obligated to pay UBS in excess of $686 million.

18. On or about February 24, 2009, UBS commenced the Highland Entity Action by filing a complaint in this Court against the Fund Counterparties for breach of the Warehouse Agreements that had been entered in connection with the Restructured Transaction. By that time, the Fund Counterparties and SOHC's alter ego, Highland Financial, had been insolvent and unable to pay their creditors for some time. Nonetheless, Highland Capital and Highland Financial

19. In sum, after fraudulently inducing UBS to agree to the Restructured Transaction, Highland Capital and its principals exercised their domination over the Fund Counterparties to improperly transfer substantial assets from the Fund Counterparties for their own personal gain, i.e., solely and improperly to protect and enhance the value of Highland Capital and its principals by wrongful and improper means. In the process, they made it impossible for the Fund Counterparties to pay UBS the losses they had agreed to pay on the Warehouse Facility.

THE PARTIES

A. The Plaintiffs

20. Plaintiff UBS AG, London Branch, is a banking corporation organized under the laws of Switzerland with its principal place of business at Finsbury Avenue, London, United Kingdom.

21. Plaintiff UBSS is a limited liability company organized under the laws of Delaware with its principal places of business at 677 Washington Blvd., Stamford, Connecticut, and 299 Park Avenue, New York, New York.

B. The Defendant

22. Defendant Highland Capital Management, L.P. (“Highland Capital”) is a limited partnership organized under the laws of Delaware, with its principal place of business at 13455 Noel Road, Suite 800, Dallas, Texas 75240, and an office at 9 West 57th Street, New York, New York. Highland Capital is registered to do business in New York. Highland Capital describes itself as a 100% employee-owned partnership. Highland Capital is an investment adviser that manages a large number of investment entities that operate as hedge funds for Highland Capital’s principals and affiliates, as well as unaffiliated investors. Highland Capital currently manages over $25 billion in various assets, including structured financial products. Highland Capital also holds direct and indirect equity and ownership interests in the entities that it manages, including in Highland Financial, the Fund Counterparties and the Affiliated Transferees. James D. Dondero is the President of Highland Capital, as well as one of its founders. Highland Capital is a counterclaim-plaintiff in a separate but related action (the “Highland Entity Action”) commenced by UBS concurrently with the filing of this Complaint in accordance with this Court’s June 17, 2010 Order with Memorandum.

C. Other Parties

1. Strand

23. Strand Advisors, Inc. (“Strand”) is Highland Capital’s general partner. Strand is a Delaware corporation principally engaged in the business of serving as the general partner of Highland Capital. As Highland Capital’s general partner, Strand is responsible for Highland Capital’s liabilities and obligations and regularly conducts business in New York, or causes its affiliates to conduct business in New York. Strand is a defendant in the Highland Entity Action.

2. Highland Financial and SOHC

24. Highland Special Opportunities Holding Company (“SOHC”) is a company organized under the laws of the Cayman Islands, with its offices at Walker House, PO Box 908GT, Mary Street, George Town, Grand Cayman, Cayman Islands. SOHC is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Highland Financial Partners, L.P. (a Delaware limited partnership) (“Highland Financial”). SOHC has six sister subsidiaries, all of which are owned in whole or in part by Highland Financial. Highland Capital serves as investment manager to Highland Financial, SOHC and its sister subsidiaries. Highland Financial and SOHC are defendants in the Highland Entity Action.

25. Highland Financial is SOHC’s alter ego.

For all purposes relevant to this action, Highland Financial and SOHC should be treated as a single entity and as alter egos of one another.

3. CDO Fund

26. Highland CDO Opportunity Master Fund, L.P. (“CDO Fund”) is a Bermuda exempted limited partnership, with its principal place of business at 52 Reid Street, Hamilton, Bermuda. Defendant Highland Capital controls CDO Fund’s investment decisions through an investment management agreement. Between January 31, 2007 and August 31, 2008, Highland Capital’s and its affiliates’ aggregate ownership interest in CDO Fund ranged between 43.36% and 56.44%. Highland CDO Opportunity Fund, L.P. and Highland CDO Opportunity Fund, Ltd. serve as so-called “feeder funds” for CDO Fund. CDO Fund is a defendant in the Highland Entity Action.

4. The Affiliated Transferees

27. Highland Credit Strategies Fund (“HCF Trust”) is a Delaware statutory trust, and a closed-end management investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940. It is publicly traded on the New York Stock Exchange under the ticker: “HCF.” HCF Trust’s principal place of business is 13455 Noel Road, Suite 800, Dallas, Texas

75240. R. Joseph Dougherty of Highland Capital is HCF Trust's President and CEO. Highland Capital serves as the investment advisor to HCF Trust. HCF Trust is a defendant in the Highland Entity Action.

28. Highland Crusader Offshore Partners, L.P. (the "Crusader Fund") is a Bermuda limited partnership with its principal place of business at Magnolia House Building, 1st Floor, 119 Front Street, Hamilton HM 12, Bermuda. The Crusader Fund also has an office located at 13455 Noel Road, Suite 800, Dallas, Texas 75240. The Crusader Fund transacts business within New York, and derives substantial revenue from interstate and international commerce. Crusader Fund is a defendant in the Highland Entity Action.

29. Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, L.P. (the "Credit Opp. Fund") is a Delaware limited partnership with its principal place of business at 13455 Noel Road, Suite 800, Dallas, Texas 75240. Credit Opp. Fund is a defendant in the Highland Entity Action.

30. HCF Trust, the Crusader Fund and the Credit Opp. Fund are referred to herein collectively as the "Affiliated Transferees"

The Affiliated Transferees, Highland Financial, the Fund Counterparties and Strand are referred to herein collectively as the "Highland Entities."

D. Non-Parties Affiliated With Highland Capital In Which The Fund Counterparties Invested

31. The Fund Counterparties held investments in several Highland Capital-affiliated funds, including Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, L.P., Highland Legacy, Highland Loan Funding V, Highland Park CDO I, Ltd., Highlander Euro CDO B.V. and Highlander Euro CDO III B.V. Highland Capital served as the investment manager for these affiliated funds, and received valuable fees derived from the valuations of these funds' assets, which it managed.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

32. Venue in this Court is proper under CPLR 503 because plaintiff UBSS has a principal place of business in New York County.

33. Venue is also proper under CPLR 501, and this Court may exercise jurisdiction over Highland Capital because UBS, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties all agreed in writing, before this action was commenced, to submit to such jurisdiction and venue, in connection with any dispute that may arise out of, in connection with, or related to, the Agreements (defined below), or any of the matters contemplated thereby.

34. This Court also may exercise jurisdiction over Highland Capital pursuant to CPLR 301 and 302(a)(1) and (3), because Highland Capital has an office in New York, is a foreign limited partnership registered to do business in New York, regularly transacts and solicits business in New York, committed tortious acts causing injury in New York, should reasonably have expected that its tortious acts would have consequences in New York, the effect of its wrongful conduct was felt in New York, and/or derives substantial revenue from interstate or international commerce.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

A. The Original Engagement

35. In or around April 2007, Highland Capital approached UBS for short-term financing in connection with a securitization that Highland Capital wanted to sponsor. UBS agreed to do so (the “Original Engagement”).

36. On or about April 20, 2007, UBSS and Highland Capital entered into an engagement letter (the “Original Engagement Letter”), which contemplated that UBSS would act as the exclusive financial arranger and placement agent for a type of collateralized debt obligation transaction (“CDO”), known as a collateralized loan obligation (“CLO”) squared or

37. CLOs are a form of securitization where interest and principal payments on corporate loans made to multiple mid-sized and large businesses are pooled together by a lender or the owner of the loans, and then passed on through a securitization structure to investors. CLOs typically involve multi-million dollar loans known as syndicated loans, or leveraged loans made to new businesses or existing businesses, often to acquire other companies. The loan originators are able to spread risk through the CLO securitization, and simultaneously free up capital to make new loans to other businesses. The Original Engagement contemplated the securitization of CLO securities. Thus, the securitization contemplated by Highland Capital would have been a “CLO Squared” transaction.

38. On or about May 22, 2007, as contemplated by the Original Engagement Letter, UBSS and Highland Capital entered into a warehouse agreement (the “Original Cash Warehouse Agreement”). (A copy of the Original Cash Warehouse Agreement is annexed hereto as Exhibit B.) In accordance with the terms of the Original Engagement Letter and the Original Cash Warehouse Agreement, UBSS agreed to acquire securities as directed by Highland Capital. Highland Capital instructed UBS to acquire various CLO securities issued in connection with prior CLO transactions involving other sponsors and issuers (the “Cash Portfolio”).

39. In a separate but related synthetic warehouse agreement (the “Original Synthetic Warehouse Agreement,” and together with the “Original Cash Warehouse Agreement,” the “Original Warehouse Agreements”), UBS AG agreed to enter into credit default swaps (the “CDS Portfolio,” and together with the Cash Portfolio, the “Warehouse Assets”), pursuant to which UBS AG sold credit protection to various third parties. (A copy of the Original Synthetic Warehouse Agreement is annexed hereto as Exhibit C.)

40. For Highland Capital's benefit, UBS held the Warehouse Assets on its balance sheet (the "Warehouse Facility"). UBS was expected to hold the Warehouse Assets until such time as the parties could arrange for the assets to be securitized as part of the contemplated securitization. In particular, if the parties believed that a securitization was economically feasible, they would create a special purpose entity that would acquire the Warehouse Assets from UBS using the proceeds from the sale of securities to investors. The special purpose entity's debt securities would be secured by those Warehouse Assets.

41. Under the Original Warehouse Agreements, if the Original Engagement terminated without a securitization, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties were obligated to pay UBS for losses on the Warehouse Assets. In particular, under the terms of the Original Cash Warehouse Agreement, Highland Capital was directly responsible for the first $50 million in losses in the Cash Portfolio, and under the terms of the Original Synthetic Warehouse Agreement, the Fund Counterparties were obligated to pay UBS for any and all losses suffered on the CDS Portfolio.

42. The Original Engagement Letter expired by its terms on August 15, 2007 without a securitization occurring. The Original Warehouse Agreements expired on the same date in accordance with their respective terms.
