43. As of August 15, 2007, the Warehouse Assets in the Warehouse Facility had lost in excess of $86 million in value. Although they had sufficient capital to do so, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties failed and refused to pay UBS what it was owed under the Original Warehouse Agreements.

44. As a result of extensive negotiations as well as representations and warranties made by Highland Capital on its own behalf, and on behalf of the Fund Counterparties as their investment manager, UBS agreed to restructure the terms of the Original Engagement.

B. Highland Capital And The Fund Counterparties Resort To Fraud To Avoid Highland Capital's Obligations To UBS

45. As alleged above, as a result of the termination of the Original Engagement, Highland Capital was directly liable to UBS under the Original Warehouse Agreement for in excess of $86 million.

46. Between August 2007 and March 14, 2008, UBS and Highland Capital had discussions and negotiations concerning a restructuring of the terms of the Original Engagement. Those negotiations resulted in agreements to restructure the Original Engagement (the "Restructured Transaction"), including a release by UBS of its claims against Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties arising out of the Original Engagement. (The terms of the Restructured Transaction are set forth in the Engagement Letter and Warehouse Agreements described below (collectively, the "Agreements"), which are annexed hereto as Exhibits D, E and F, respectively.)

47. During the course of negotiations and before March 14, 2008, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties made several material misrepresentations to UBS concerning the creditworthiness of the Fund Counterparties. Dondero, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties also failed to disclose to UBS information which would have been material to UBS's decision to enter the Restructured Transaction ("Omissions," as defined above). As Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties knew, UBS reasonably relied upon those material misrepresentations and, due to the Omissions, a misstated assessment of the Fund Counterparties, all to its detriment in deciding whether to enter the Restructured Transaction. UBS reasonably and justifiably relied on these misrepresentations and Omissions of facts and information that were solely and peculiarly within the knowledge of Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties. Given UBS's prior dealings with Highland Capital and its affiliates, as well as Highland Capital's size and presence in the market, UBS reasonably believed that Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties would not provide it with false, incomplete or otherwise misleading information about the Fund Counterparties' finances and assets as it in fact did.

48. For example, on or about December 28, 2007, to induce UBS to enter the Restructured Transaction and related Agreements, Gibran Mahmud of Highland Capital sent SOHC financial statements to UBS. On or about January 29, 2008, UBS requested additional financial information related to SOHC. Later that same day, to induce UBS to enter the Restructured Transaction and related Agreements, Phil Braner of Highland Capital emailed UBS a copy of SOHC's Statement of Financial Condition, dated December 31, 2007.

49. As described with more particularity below, the SOHC financial information that Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties provided to UBS, which Highland Capital was responsible for preparing, was materially false and misleading. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties knew that UBS would rely upon SOHC's financial information in connection with deciding whether to agree to the Restructured Transaction and the terms of the Agreements being negotiated.

50. On or about February 4, 2008, Matt Killebrew of Highland Capital provided UBS with financial reports via email that reflected financial summaries, and aggregate valuations for CDO Fund's assets as of December 31, 2007. On or about March 4, 2008, Mr. Killebrew sent UBS similar reports for the period ended January 31, 2008. As described with more particularity below, these financial reports, which Highland Capital prepared, also were materially false and misleading. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties knew that UBS would rely upon CDO Fund's financial information in connection with deciding whether to agree to the Restructured Transaction and the terms of the Agreements being negotiated.

51. The Fund Counterparties' financial statements

These facts and information were solely and peculiarly within the knowledge of Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties.

52. CDO Fund's financial statements

53. Similarly, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties concealed from UBS the fact that the Fund Counterparties

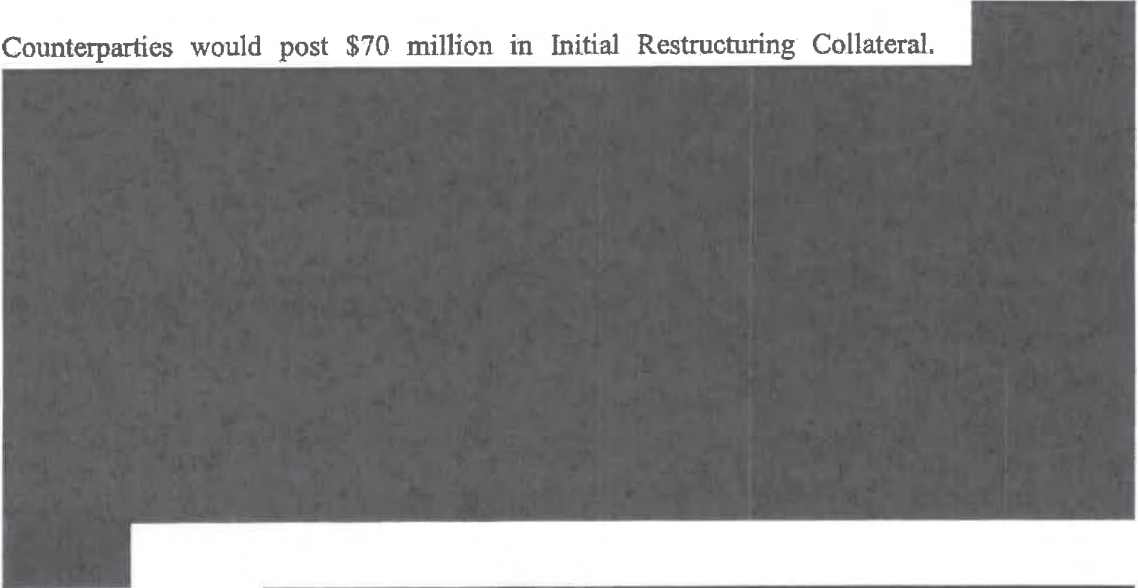

54. In addition, the Fund Counterparties' financial statements that Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties provided to UBS in advance of the Restructured Transaction contained

55. During the course of negotiations concerning the restructuring, UBS also insisted that the Fund Counterparties have the ability to post $70 million in cash and securities as collateral, which would be held at State Street Bank (the “Initial Restructured Transaction Collateral”), and in which UBS would hold a security interest. The Fund Counterparties’ ability to do so using their own assets was qualitatively and quantitatively material to UBS. Among other things, it demonstrated the strength of their balance sheets, and by extension, their ability to satisfy future obligations to UBS.

56. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties agreed that the Fund Counterparties would post $70 million in Initial Restructuring Collateral.

[REDACTED]

As the Fund Counterparties' investment manager, Highland Capital maintained the Fund Counterparties' accounting records, and knew [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Given UBS's prior dealings with Highland Capital and its affiliates, as well as Highland Capital's size and presence in the market, UBS had no reason to believe, and reasonably did not believe, that Highland Capital would provide it with false, incomplete or otherwise misleading information about [REDACTED]

59. If UBS had known that the Fund Counterparties

[REDACTED]

It also would have drawn into question the Fund Counterparties' liquidity.

[REDACTED]

60. But for Dondero's, Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties false and misleading statements and Omissions concerning the Fund Counterparties' finances and assets, and [REDACTED] UBS would not have entered into the Restructured Transaction or the Agreements that memorialized its terms. Given the Fund Counterparties' weak credit quality, additional adverse information about their collective or individual creditworthiness would have deterred UBS from going forward with the Restructured Transaction and putting more assets at risk. These misrepresentations and Omissions proximately caused harm to UBS.

61. UBS would not have entered into a transaction with parties that made misrepresentations as Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties did. UBS also would not have agreed to release its valuable claims arising out of the Original Engagement under such circumstances. Because of, and in reliance on, the false and misleading information about the Fund Counterparties provided by Dondero, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties, UBS entered into the Restructured Transaction memorialized in the Agreements. Because each of the misrepresentations and Omissions identified above disguised the Fund Counterparties' inability to satisfy their obligations to UBS, the misrepresentations and Omissions proximately caused harm to UBS.

C. The Restructured Transaction Agreements

1. The Engagement Letter

62. On or about March 14, 2008, the parties reached agreement on the terms of a restructured engagement, which were memorialized in a new engagement letter (the "Engagement Letter," annexed hereto as Exhibit D). Pursuant to the Engagement Letter, Highland Capital re-engaged UBSS to act as placement agent in the event that market conditions improved, and the parties could go forward with securitizing the Warehouse Assets already held by UBS in the Warehouse Facility. UBS agreed to continue holding the Warehouse Assets in the Warehouse Facility, which had a notional value of approximately $818 million.

63. Under the terms of the Engagement Letter, UBS released claims against Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties arising out of the Original Engagement.

2. The Restructured Warehouse Agreements

64. On March 14, 2008, UBSS, the Fund Counterparties and Highland Capital also entered into a cash warehouse agreement (the “Cash Warehouse Agreement”), pursuant to which UBSS agreed to continue to hold the Cash Portfolio. (A true and correct copy of the Cash Warehouse Agreement is annexed hereto as Exhibit E.)

65. UBS AG, the Fund Counterparties and Highland Capital also entered into a synthetic warehouse agreement, dated as of March 14, 2008 (the “Synthetic Warehouse Agreement,” and together with the Cash Warehouse Agreement, the “Warehouse Agreements”), pursuant to which UBS AG agreed to continue warehousing credit protection that it sold, i.e., the CDS Portfolio. (A true and correct copy of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement is annexed hereto as Exhibit F.)

66. Section 13(B) of the Cash Warehouse Agreement and § 11(B) of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement make Highland Capital liable for losses, including losses in the Warehouse Facility, by reason of acts or omissions constituting bad faith, willful misconduct, or gross negligence.

67. Under § 12 of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement, the Fund Counterparties agreed to transfer to State Street the Initial Restructuring Collateral to partially secure their respective obligations to UBS under the Warehouse Agreements. Annex C to the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement identified the six assets that the Fund Counterparties purportedly transferred to State Street to satisfy their Initial Restructuring Collateral obligations, along with $20 million in cash.

68. The Warehouse Agreements also contained releases whereby UBS agreed to release claims it had against Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties for losses arising out of the Original Engagement.

D. Highland Capital Uses Its Control Over The Fund Counterparties To Dissipate Their Assets Without Regard For The Fund Counterparties' Growing Obligations To UBS

69. Almost immediately after the Restructured Transaction Agreements were executed, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties knowingly began to dissipate the Fund Counterparties' assets and make it impossible for the Fund Counterparties to ever repay UBS what they owed. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties did so at various times when the Fund Counterparties owed UBS hundreds of millions of dollars.

70. For example, on or about March 26, 2008, just days after entering the Restructured Transaction, Highland Capital caused certain SOHC assets to be encumbered by entering into a transaction with Barclays Bank, plc. ("Barclays"). At or around the same time, CDO Fund was negotiating financing arrangements with Morgan Stanley & Co. International Ltd. and Highland Capital IV SPC, whereby it granted a security interest in its assets to those entities. By granting a security interest in the Fund Counterparties' assets to other creditors, Highland Capital unfairly and improperly reduced the assets available to satisfy the Fund Counterparties' obligations to UBS in bad faith and in violation of UBS's rights.

71. Similarly, on or about April 2, 2008, Highland Capital advised UBS that CDO Fund had recently monetized a $129 million long position in SunCom Wireless. When Highland Capital and CDO Fund subsequently provided UBS with additional financial

CERTIFICATE OF SERVICE

I, Douglas S. Draper, certify that on July 12, 2021, the Amended Designation of Record Pursuant to Fed. R. Bankr. P. 8009 was filed electronically through the Court's ECF system, which provides notice to all parties of interest.

/s/Douglas S. Draper.

Douglas S. Draper, La. Bar No. 5073

information about CDO Fund, however, UBS discovered that Highland Capital had caused CDO Fund to transfer approximately $100 million of the cash proceeds from the SunCom Wireless sale out of CDO Fund.

72. By improperly removing such a substantial amount of cash from CDO Fund, Highland Capital interfered in bad faith with CDO Fund's ability to satisfy its steadily increasing financial obligations to UBS. In particular, in or around May 2008, when the cash proceeds from the SunCom Wireless position were siphoned off, the Fund Counterparties owed UBS in excess of $166 million related to losses in the Warehouse Facility, approximately 50% of which CDO Fund was obligated to pay.

73. Highland Capital also repeatedly caused SOHC's cash to be transferred by Highland Financial. In particular, during the first five months of 2008, SOHC's cash position was reduced by over $10 million at a time when its obligations to UBS were increasing substantially.

E. In the Fall of 2008, Losses Mount And The Fund Counterparties Face Collateral Calls From Creditors Including UBS That They Cannot Meet Despite Highland Capital's Belated Efforts To Do So [REDACTED]

74. Under the terms of the Warehouse Agreements, the Fund Counterparties were required to post additional collateral with UBS if the combined market value of (a) the Warehouse Assets and (b) the Initial Restructured Transaction Collateral, declined below a certain amount.

75. By September 2008, losses in the Warehouse Facility had increased significantly. At the same time, the value of the Initial Restructuring Collateral had declined substantially, as had the value of the assets held by the Fund Counterparties.

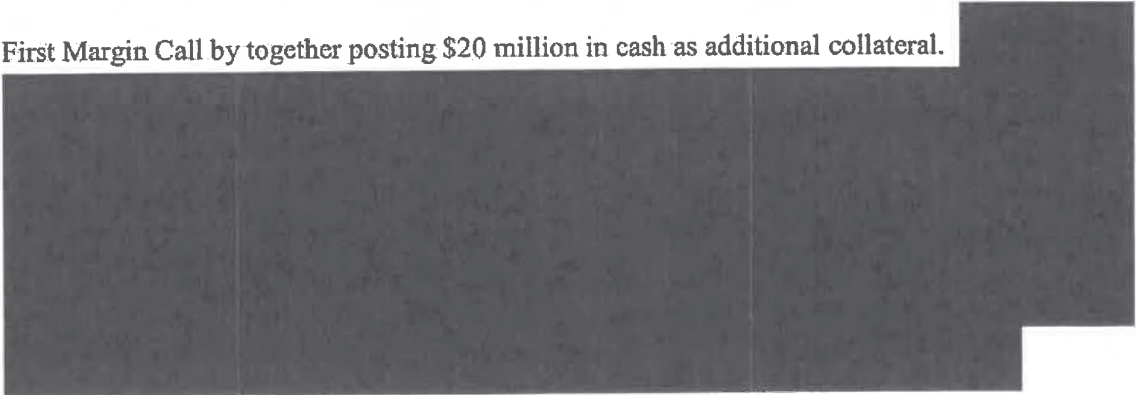

76. Highland Capital was desperate to avoid a default by any of its affiliates, including the Fund Counterparties. If a Highland Capital affiliate defaulted on its obligations to a creditor, Highland Capital's reputation in the investment community would be damaged, and there was a risk that Highland Capital's business would collapse. Highland Capital feared that a public default would lead investors in Highland Capital's hedge fund family to withdraw their capital, and lead creditors to take aggressive actions to protect themselves, including foreclosing on collateral and aggressively enforcing their contractual rights.

1. The First Margin Call

77. On or about September 16, 2008, as losses in the Warehouse Facility continued to grow, UBS began to exercise its contractual rights and make margin calls demanding additional collateral from the Fund Counterparties. Specifically, UBS notified Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties that, pursuant to § 12(C) of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement, the Fund Counterparties were each required to post $10 million in cash or equivalent securities (the "First Margin Call").

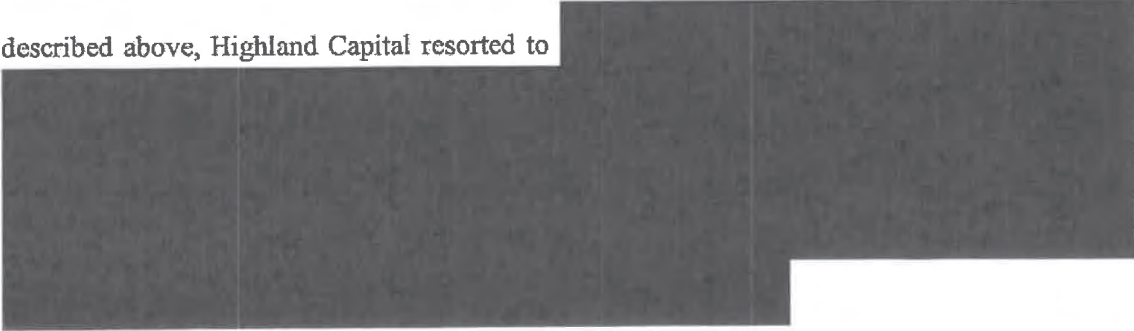

78. Because Highland Capital had routinely drained cash from the Fund Counterparties, the Fund Counterparties lacked the liquidity to meet UBS's demands using their own assets.

79. On or about September 19, 2008, the Fund Counterparties satisfied the First Margin Call by together posting $20 million in cash as additional collateral.

2. UBS Is Harmed By Highland Capital's Response To The Fund Counterparties' Liquidity Crisis

80. In the wake of the First Margin Call, the Fund Counterparties remained starved for liquidity. Still desperate to avoid defaults to creditors and the consequences described above, Highland Capital resorted to

81. Highland Capital and the individuals that directed the Fund Counterparties knew that they had caused the Fund Counterparties to become incapable of satisfying their obligations to all of their respective creditors when they came due, and that they were insolvent or, at the very least, within the zone of insolvency.

82. For example, on or about September 26, 2008, Dondero and Highland Capital improperly

85.

86.

Highland Capital executed this plan at UBS's expense to protect their substantial personal stake in Highland Financial and prevent negative publicity associated with defaulting Implementing this plan, however, caused SOHC (and its alter ego, Highland Financial) to improperly and in bad faith breach duties and obligations to UBS.

SOHC's expected obligations to UBS were well in excess of $250 million, which were due and owing to UBS no later than March 14, 2009. Thus,

Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties made a fraudulent conveyance and interfered in bad faith with the Fund Counterparties' ability to meet their contractual obligations to UBS.

88. Given the state of the financial markets at the time, Highland Capital, Highland Financial and SOHC had no expectation that SOHC would be able to satisfy its obligations to UBS when they came due.

3. The Second Margin Call

90. On or about October 21, 2008, UBS notified Highland Capital that, pursuant to § 12(C) of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement, the Fund Counterparties each owed another $10 million (the “Second Margin Call”).

91. In response to the Second Margin Call, Highland Capital offered UBS numerous assets as collateral. UBS rejected those offers for various business-related reasons. As UBS would later learn, however, at the time Highland Capital was offering the assets to UBS, the Fund Counterparties did not own them.

92. On or about October 24, 2008, the Fund Counterparties satisfied the Second Margin Call by together posting assets with a notional value of $49.97 million (but a market value of approximately $20 million), with the understanding that UBS would authorize State Street to return the securities if and when the Fund Counterparties were able to replace those securities with $20 million in cash. As UBS would later learn,

93. Moreover, at the same time that Highland Capital was telling UBS that the Fund Counterparties did not have sufficient cash assets to meet the Second Margin call,

4. The Third Margin Call

94. On or about November 7, 2008, UBS notified Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties that, pursuant to § 12(C) of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement, the Fund Counterparties had an obligation to post another $10 million as collateral (the “Third Margin Call”).

95. On or about November 11, 2008, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties offered to post various securities to satisfy the Third Margin Call. In response to the Third Margin Call, Phil Braner of Highland Capital emailed UBS a list of proposed collateral including eight securities with a purported market value of approximately $20 million (i.e., twice the amount of cash due to satisfy the Third Margin Call).

96. Pursuant to the Warehouse Agreements, UBS was authorized to reject proposed collateral. UBS determined that the proposed additional collateral offered by Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties was unacceptable. On or after November 13, 2008, UBS formally rejected the offered securities, and requested that the Fund Counterparties provide cash or cash equivalent collateral to satisfy their obligations under § 12(C) of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement.

97. UBS would later learn that [REDACTED]

F. Termination Of The Agreements And Demand For Payment of Losses

99. As of December 3, 2008, the Fund Counterparties still had not met the Third Margin Call in accordance with § 12(C) of the Synthetic Warehouse Agreement. This failure resulted in UBS's declaration of a termination date ("Termination Date") under the Agreements.

100. On December 3, 2008, UBS delivered a letter (the "Termination Date Letter") to Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties notifying them of such failure and the occurrence of a Termination Date under each Agreement. (A true and correct copy of the Termination Date Letter is annexed hereto as Exhibit G.)

101. Sections 5 and 7 of the Cash Warehouse Agreement provided that if the closing date of the securitization contemplated by the Restructured Transaction failed to occur on or prior to March 14, 2009, UBSS could, in its sole discretion, retain any of the securities in the Warehouse Facility or sell such securities to one of UBSS's affiliates or an unaffiliated party.

102. Pursuant to the terms of the Agreements, if the closing date of the securitization contemplated by the Restructured Transaction failed to occur on or prior to March 14, 2009, each of the Fund Counterparties was obligated to pay to UBS its pro rata share of any market value losses on the Warehouse Assets, which UBS determined it had experienced and so notified Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties.

103. On December 19, 2008, UBSS delivered a letter (the “Cash Warehouse Demand Letter”) to Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties demanding payment for its losses. (A true and correct copy of the Cash Warehouse Demand Letter is annexed hereto as Exhibit H.) UBSS demanded that Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties wire that required amount to UBSS no later than 5:00 pm on December 24, 2008 (i.e., the third business day after the date of the Cash Warehouse Demand Letter) (the “Final Payment Date”). Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties failed to make the required payment to UBSS.

104. The Synthetic Warehouse Agreement provided that in the event the closing date of the securitization contemplated by the Restructured Transaction failed to occur on or prior to March 14, 2009, the Fund Counterparties would be collectively responsible for 100% of the aggregate amount of losses on the CDS Portfolio and each of the Fund Counterparties would pay, after notice of such amount due from UBS, its pro rata share of such amount to UBS within three business days.

105. On December 19, 2008, UBS AG delivered a letter (the “Synthetic Warehouse Demand Letter”) to Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties demanding payment for its losses. (A true and correct copy of the Synthetic Warehouse Demand Letter is annexed hereto as Exhibit I.) UBS AG demanded that the Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties wire the required amount to UBS AG no later than 5:00 PM on the Final Payment Date (i.e., December 24, 2008 — the third business day after the date of the Synthetic Warehouse Demand Letter). Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties failed to make the required payment to UBS AG.

G. Notice of Failure To Pay, Auction And Final Accounting Letter

106. On January 5, 2009, UBS notified Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties of the failure to make the requisite payments when due pursuant to the Agreements and the applicable demand letters. On or about January 16, 2009, in connection with unwinding the Warehouse Facility, UBS conducted the auction contemplated by the Warehouse Agreements.

107. On or about March 19, 2009, UBS delivered a letter to Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties concerning a final accounting concerning the auction and the losses in the Warehouse Facility. UBS determined that Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties owed it $686,853,290.26.

109. In December 2008, immediately after UBS terminated the Restructured Transaction, Dondero and Highland Capital

110. On or about February 24, 2009, UBS commenced the Highland Entity Action against Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties. At the time, SOHC and Highland Financial, as its alter ego, owed UBS approximately $345 million.

Undeterred, on or about March 17, 2009, Dondero and Highland Capital

112. As a result, Highland Capital (a) further interfered in bad faith with UBS's contractual rights and the Fund Counterparties' contractual obligations under the Warehouse Agreements, thereby breaching the covenants of good faith and fair dealing inherent in the Warehouse Agreements; and (b) injury should be determined at trial.

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION
(Fraud)

115. UBS repeats and realleges the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 114 of this Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

116. In connection with restructuring the Original Engagement, and negotiating the terms of the Agreements and Restructured Transaction, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties had a duty to communicate accurate and complete information to UBS.

117. As alleged above, in connection with negotiating the Restructured Transaction, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties intentionally misrepresented material facts and made Omissions (as defined earlier herein).

118. As set forth in more detail above, prior to the restructuring being completed, and the Agreements being executed, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties misrepresented information and made Omissions to UBS concerning the creditworthiness of the Fund Counterparties as well as information about their finances and assets, including, but not limited to, information regarding the following:

[REDACTED]

119. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties acted knowingly and purposefully in making the materially false representations and Omissions to UBS in connection with negotiating the Restructured Transaction to induce UBS to enter the Agreements. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties knew that their representations and Omissions were materially false and misleading. Knowingly using material misrepresentations and Omissions, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties intended to induce, and fraudulently induced UBS into entering the Agreements.

120. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties also knew that their false representations and Omissions were material to and caused UBS's decision to enter the Agreements. In particular, the misrepresentations and Omissions were both quantitatively and qualitatively material to UBS inasmuch as UBS would have acted differently had it known the truth about the Fund Counterparties' finances and assets when UBS made the decision to go forward with the restructuring and releasing, among other things, valuable claims against Highland Capital.

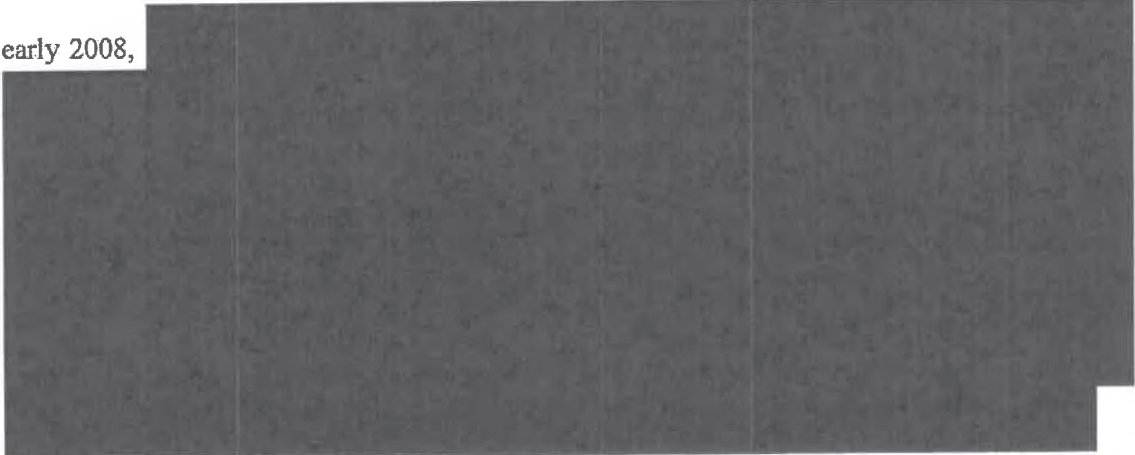

121. UBS was not aware and could not have been aware of the falsity and misleading nature of Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' misrepresentations and Omissions. The facts and information underlying the false, inaccurate and incomplete financial reports that Highland Capital provided to UBS in connection with negotiating the Restructured Transaction were peculiarly within Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' knowledge.

122. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties had superior knowledge compared to UBS about Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' finances and assets. Indeed, such facts and information were solely and peculiarly within the knowledge of Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties. Moreover, it was necessary for Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties to complete or clarify the information that it provided to UBS concerning the Fund Counterparties' finances and assets. Consequently, Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' concealment of the Fund Counterparties' finances and assets was fraudulent.

123. UBS reasonably and justifiably relied to its detriment on Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' misrepresentations and Omissions regarding the Fund Counterparties' financial condition and assets. In particular, UBS reasonably and justifiably relied on misrepresentations and Omissions of facts and information solely and peculiarly within the knowledge of Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties. Given UBS's prior dealings with Highland Capital and its affiliates, as well as Highland Capital's size and presence in the market, UBS had no reason to question the veracity and completeness of the financial information that Highland Capital provided to UBS about the Fund Counterparties' finances and assets. UBS also had no reason to believe that the financial information that Highland Capital provided to it to induce UBS to enter the Restructured Transaction would be false, incomplete or otherwise misleading. When UBS evaluated the Fund Counterparties' financial statements in early 2008,

124. But for Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' material misrepresentations and Omissions, UBS would not have entered the Agreements, or released its claims against Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties arising out of the Original Engagement.

125. In reasonable and justifiable reliance on the foregoing material misrepresentations and Omissions, UBS also surrendered and released valuable claims against Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties at a time when UBS could have been made whole for the losses that it had suffered to that point as a result of the Original Engagement. Nor would UBS have suffered the additional losses in the Warehouse Facility.

126. UBS reasonably relied to its detriment on Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' material misrepresentations and Omissions. As a direct and proximate result of Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' misrepresentations and Omissions, UBS continued to maintain the Warehouse Facility through, at least, December 3, 2008, suffering in excess of $686 million in losses that the Fund Counterparties cannot pay to UBS.

127. Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' material misrepresentations and Omissions were the direct and proximate cause of UBS's losses complained of herein. As a direct result of, and in reliance upon, Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' material misrepresentations and Omissions, UBS was induced to, among other things, (a) enter the Agreements; (b) release its pre-existing claims against Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties related to the Original Engagement; and (c) assume the credit-risk of the Fund Counterparties; and as a direct result, caused UBS to incur substantial losses and damages in an amount to be determined at trial.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION
(Pled Solely To Preserve For Appeal)

128. UBS repeats and realleges the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 127 of this Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

129. In connection with restructuring the Original Engagement, and negotiating the terms of the Agreements and Restructured Transaction, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties had a duty to communicate accurate and complete information to UBS.

130. As alleged above, in connection with negotiating the Restructured Transaction, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties intentionally misrepresented material facts and made Omissions (as defined earlier herein).

131. As set forth in more detail above, prior to the restructuring being completed, and the Agreements being executed, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties misrepresented information and made Omissions to UBS concerning the creditworthiness of the Fund Counterparties and information about their finances, assets and business practices, including, but not limited to, information regarding the following:

[REDACTED]

132. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties acted knowingly and purposefully in making the materially false representations and Omissions to UBS in connection with negotiating the Restructured Transaction to induce UBS to enter the Agreements. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties knew that their representations and Omissions were materially false and misleading. Knowingly using material misrepresentations and Omissions, Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties intended to induce, and fraudulently induced UBS into entering the Agreements.

133. These Omissions rendered the Fund Counterparties' representations, statements and financial statements materially misleading. Because Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties concealed this information from UBS, UBS could not properly evaluate SOHC's ability to satisfy its obligations to UBS. For instance, UBS received financial reports from Highland Capital for the Fund Counterparties that suggested that the Fund Counterparties held hundreds of millions of dollars worth of assets that could be used to satisfy their obligations to UBS. However, a substantial portion of the assets that UBS reasonably believed would be available, were, in fact, not going to be available to pay UBS because they were going to be encumbered as a result of other transactions. In other words, because Highland Capital concealed its intentions, the financial reports that it provided to UBS were misleading as they provided UBS with false and illusory comfort regarding the Fund Counterparties' capacity to fulfill their contractual obligations to UBS. As the Fund Counterparties' investment manager, Highland Capital would have led the negotiations related to the other financing arrangements.

134. Similarly, during negotiations concerning the Initial Restructuring Collateral, Highland Capital and SOHC made an additional Omission by not disclosing to UBS the fact that SOHC had a serious liquidity problem. SOHC had to borrow cash from Highland Capital to satisfy the cash portion of its Initial Restructuring Collateral obligation. On or about December 18, 2007, while the parties were negotiating the restructuring, Highland Capital loaned $30 million to SOHC, which Highland Capital and SOHC's alter ego, Highland Financial, earmarked for SOHC to use as collateral in connection with negotiating extensions of warehouse facilities, including the one with UBS. As Highland Financial's and SOHC's investment manager, Highland Capital knew about SOHC's liquidity problems since they were discussed openly at Highland Financial board meetings attended by Highland Capital. The failure to fully disclose SOHC's liquidity problem, and its inability to meet the Initial Restructuring Collateral obligation using its own cash assets was an Omission, because it was indicative of the strength of SOHC's finances and assets, and SOHC's ability to satisfy obligations to UBS.

135. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties also concealed from UBS that Highland Capital had to commingle assets among its various affiliates and disregard corporate formalities to satisfy the Fund Counterparties' liquidity needs. Facts and information concerning these business practices, including Highland Capital's commingling of assets and disregard of corporate formalities was information solely and peculiarly within the knowledge of Highland Capital and its affiliates. As the investment manager to Highland Financial, SOHC and CDO Fund (as well as the Affiliated Transferees), Highland Capital knowingly arranged and caused the asset transfers between and among the various affiliates in disregard of corporate formalities.

136. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties also knew that their false representations and Omissions were material to and caused UBS's decision to enter the Agreements. In particular, the misrepresentations and Omissions were both quantitatively and qualitatively material to UBS inasmuch as UBS would have acted differently had it known the truth about the Fund Counterparties' finances, assets and business practices when UBS made the decision to go forward with the restructuring and releasing, among other things, valuable claims against Highland Capital.

137. In addition, if UBS had known that Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties ignored corporate formalities or that Highland Capital freely transferred assets among its controlled entities, UBS would not have entered the Restructured Transaction. These misrepresentations and Omissions proximately caused harm to UBS.

138. UBS was not aware and could not have been aware of the falsity and misleading nature of Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' misrepresentations and Omissions. The facts and information underlying the false, inaccurate and incomplete financial reports that Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties provided to UBS in connection with negotiating the Restructured Transaction were peculiarly within Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' knowledge.

139. Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties had superior knowledge compared to UBS about Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' finances, assets and business practices. Indeed, such facts and information were solely and peculiarly within the knowledge of Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties. Moreover, it was necessary for Highland Capital and the Highland Entities to complete or clarify the information that it provided to UBS concerning the Fund Counterparties' finances, assets and business practices. Consequently, Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' concealment about the Fund Counterparties' finances, assets and business practices was fraudulent.

140. UBS reasonably and justifiably relied to its detriment on Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' misrepresentations and Omissions regarding the Fund Counterparties' financial condition, assets and business practices. In particular, UBS reasonably and justifiably relied on misrepresentations and Omissions of facts and information solely and peculiarly within the knowledge of Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties. Given UBS's prior dealings with Highland Capital and its affiliates, as well as Highland Capital's size and presence in the market, UBS had no reason to question the veracity and completeness of the financial information that Highland Capital provided to UBS about the Fund Counterparties' finances, assets and business practices. UBS also had no reason to believe that the financial information that Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties provided to it to induce UBS to enter the Restructured Transaction would be false, incomplete or otherwise misleading. When UBS evaluated the Fund Counterparties' financial statements in early 2008,

141. But for Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' material misrepresentations and Omissions, UBS would not have entered the Agreements, or released its claims against Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties arising out of the Original Engagement.

142. In reasonable and justifiable reliance on the foregoing material misrepresentations and Omissions, UBS also surrendered and released valuable claims against Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties at a time when UBS could have been made whole for the losses that it had suffered to that point as a result of the Original Engagement. Nor would UBS have suffered the additional losses in the Warehouse Facility.

143. UBS reasonably relied to its detriment on Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' material misrepresentations and Omissions. As a direct and proximate result of Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' misrepresentations and Omissions, UBS continued to maintain the Warehouse Facility through, at least, December 3, 2008, suffering in excess of $686 million in losses that the Fund Counterparties cannot pay to UBS.

144. Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' material misrepresentations and Omissions were the direct and proximate cause of UBS's losses complained of herein. As a direct result of, and in reliance upon, Highland Capital's and the Fund Counterparties' material misrepresentations and Omissions, UBS was induced to, among other things, (a) enter the Agreements; (b) release its pre-existing claims against Highland Capital and the Fund Counterparties related to the Original Engagement; and (c) assume the credit-risk of the Fund Counterparties; and as a direct result, caused UBS to incur substantial losses and damages in an amount to be determined at trial.

145. Paragraphs 145 to 156 have been intentionally left blank.

THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION
(Breach of Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing)

157. UBS repeats and realleges the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 156 of this Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

158. The Agreements are valid and binding contracts. As such, they each contain an implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing. UBS has fully performed all of its obligations under the Agreements.

159. Highland Capital controlled the Fund Counterparties through both its direct and indirect ownership and other interests in various entities, including the Fund Counterparties, and its role as investment manager for the Fund Counterparties.

160. When it entered the Agreements, Highland Capital agreed that UBS would not have to bear the risk of loss in connection with the Warehouse Assets that UBS held in the Warehouse Facility. Instead, Highland Capital agreed that the Fund Counterparties, which Highland Capital controlled, would bear 100% of the risk of loss in connection with the Restructured Transaction.

161. Highland Capital had an implied duty of good faith not to take (or fail to take) any actions that would frustrate the clear intent of the parties that UBS would not have to bear any of the risk of losses in the Warehouse Facility. In particular, the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing inherent in the Agreements barred Highland Capital from taking affirmative measures that increased the likelihood that the Fund Counterparties would be unable to bear losses in connection with the Restructured Transaction.

162. Highland Capital breached the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing implied in the Agreements by taking affirmative actions (and refraining from taking other actions) that impaired UBS's ability to recover losses from the Fund Counterparties as contemplated by the Agreements, and by making it impossible for the Fund Counterparties to pay UBS what they owed it under the terms of the Warehouse Agreements.

163. Specifically, as described above, between March 14, 2008 and December 3, 2008, as losses in the Warehouse Facility grew, Highland Capital exercised its control over the Fund Counterparties to dissipate the Fund Counterparties' assets and transfer their assets [REDACTED], thereby impairing the Fund Counterparties' ability to bear losses in the Warehouse Facility. Highland Capital transferred assets out of the Fund Counterparties during the course of the Restructured Transaction in bad faith, and to UBS's detriment. Given its knowledge of the Fund Counterparties' obligations to UBS, the transfers caused by Highland Capital violated the duty of good faith and fair dealing owed by Highland Capital to UBS under the Agreements.

164. Highland Capital [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] violated the duty of good faith and fair dealing owed by Highland Capital to UBS under the Agreements.

165. Highland Capital also used its control over the Fund Counterparties to

[REDACTED]

166. As a result of Highland Capital's breaches of the duty of good faith and fair dealing implied in the Agreements, UBS has incurred losses that should have been borne by the Fund Counterparties. UBS has suffered and will continue to suffer losses and damages in an amount to be determined at trial.

FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION
(Fraudulent Conveyances)

167. UBS repeats and realleges the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 166 of this Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

168. Between March 14, 2008 and December 3, 2008, as losses in the Warehouse Facility grew, Highland Capital exercised its control over the Fund Counterparties and caused the Fund Counterparties to transfer valuable cash and assets out of the Fund Counterparties, thereby impairing their ability to bear losses in the Warehouse Facility, and otherwise satisfy their obligations to creditors, including UBS.

170. For example,

171.

175.

176.

178.

179. As a result of the foregoing fraudulent conveyances, the Fund Counterparties were unable to satisfy their obligations to UBS. As a result of the foregoing fraudulent conveyances, UBS has been harmed in an amount to be determined at trial.

FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION
(Tortious Interference With Contractual Relations)
(Pled Solely To Preserve For Appeal)

180. UBS repeats and realleges the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 179 of this Complaint as if fully set forth herein.

181. The Agreements are valid and binding contracts.

182. The parties agreed that UBS would not bear the risk of any losses in connection with the Restructured Transaction. As a direct result of the Fund Counterparties' breach of the Warehouse Agreements, UBS suffered no less than $686,853,290.26 in damages. Under the terms of the Warehouse Agreements, the Fund Counterparties' obligation to pay UBS for losses in the Warehouse Facility expressly survived the termination of the Agreements.

183. Highland Capital knew of the Agreements, and were familiar with their terms, including the Fund Counterparties' obligations to UBS thereunder. The Affiliated Transferee Defendants, also knew of the Agreements, and their terms, including the Fund Counterparties' obligations to UBS thereunder.

184. Highland Capital and the Affiliated Transferee Defendants intentionally and improperly caused and ensured a breach of the Warehouse Agreements by the Fund Counterparties, thereby tortiously interfering with UBS's rights under the Agreements.

185. Specifically, in 2008 and 2009 Highland Capital wrongfully caused the improper and fraudulent asset transfers, payments, distributions and dividends described above, and thereby tortiously interfered with UBS's contractual relationship with the Fund Counterparties by knowingly impairing UBS's contractual right under the Warehouse Agreements to be reimbursed by the Fund Counterparties for the losses on the Warehouse Assets. For example, Highland Capital wrongfully caused the March 2009 Fraudulent Conveyance for which there was no legitimate purpose. The Affiliated Transferee Defendants

186. Highland Capital and the Affiliated Transferee Defendants

187. Highland Capital and the Affiliated Transferee Defendants engaged in the foregoing unlawful and improper conduct, and tortiously interfered with UBS's contractual rights under the Warehouse Agreements, for their own improper personal gain by knowingly violating UBS's rights and making it impossible for the Fund Counterparties to perform under the Warehouse Agreements. In particular, the foregoing conduct constitutes independent torts and predatory acts directed at UBS for Highland Capital's and the Affiliated Transferee Defendants' own personal gain.

188. As a direct and proximate result of Highland Capital's and the Affiliated Transferee Defendants' tortious interference with UBS's contractual rights under the Agreements, UBS has suffered damages in an amount to be determined at trial. Had Highland Capital and the Affiliated Transferee Defendants not tortiously interfered with UBS's contractual rights, the Fund Counterparties would have been able to make payments to UBS of the amount they owed to UBS under the Warehouse Agreements.

189. Paragraphs 189 to 197 have been intentionally left blank.

RELIEF DEMANDED

WHEREFORE, plaintiffs UBSS and UBS AG demand judgment:

(a) On the first cause of action, declaring that UBS was induced to enter the Agreements as a result of fraud committed by Highland Capital, and awarding damages to UBS for all losses and liabilities incurred by UBS, and that UBS incurs, with respect to the Agreements and the Warehouse Facility, including, without limitation, interest, reasonable attorneys' and accountants' fees and expenses and any other losses, fees and expenses that UBS incurred or incurs, in an amount to be determined at trial but in any event, no less than $686,853,290.26;

(b) On the second cause of action, which is pled solely to preserve UBS's appellate rights, declaring that UBS was induced to enter the Agreements as a result of fraud committed by Highland Capital, and awarding damages to UBS for all losses and liabilities incurred by UBS, and that UBS incurs, with respect to the Agreements and the Warehouse Facility, including, without limitation, interest, reasonable attorneys' and accountants' fees and expenses and any other losses, fees and expenses that UBS incurred or incurs, in an amount to be determined at trial but in any event, no less than $686,853,290.26;

(c) On the third cause of action, declaring that Highland Capital breached the duty of good faith and fair dealing implied in the Agreements, and awarding UBS an amount to be determined at trial;

(d) On the fourth cause of action, (i) declaring that the dispositions of the Fund Counterparties' and Highland Financial's assets, as directed by Highland Capital, constituted fraudulent conveyances; (ii) appointing a receiver over Highland Capital; (iii) directing that a full accounting be had of Highland Capital's affairs and finances; (iv) imposing a constructive trust over Highland Capital's assets until such an accounting is completed; and/or (v) awarding UBS damages in an amount to be determined at trial, but no less than the value of the assets fraudulently and improperly transferred, or, alternatively, directing that Highland Capital and its partners, members or shareholders return to the Fund Counterparties any assets or consideration received from Highland Financial or the Fund Counterparties, directly or indirectly, as distributions, dividends, consideration, compensation, fees, interest, principal or otherwise, between March 14, 2008 and the present.

(e) On the fifth cause of action, which is pled solely to preserve UBS's appellate rights, declaring that Highland Capital is liable for tortiously interfering with UBS's contractual rights under the Warehouse Agreements, and awarding UBS an amount to be determined at trial;

(f) Awarding UBS punitive damages in an amount to be determined at trial;

(g) Granting UBS its costs and disbursements, including reasonable attorneys' fees and expenses of this action;

(h) Granting UBS pre-judgment interest; and

(i) Granting such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper.

New York's state and federal courts have worked hard in these unprecedented times to provide essential services. This means that criminal cases and civil cases involving health and safety have been considered "essential" and are being heard through remote or virtual means. But matters considered "nonessential" have been put on hold. When the courts reopen, there will be a large backlog of civil matters. With the best of intentions, it is apparent that civil trials will not go forward for many months, particularly if there has been a jury demand. Some have predicted that there will be no civil juries in New York until 2021.

In most cases, such a significant delay is bad for everyone. Businesses need certainty. Does a new product infringe a patent? Does a product infringe a trademark? Will an insurance company need to continue to place a large reserve on an outstanding claim? Does a company need to continue to disclose a potential liability on public filings? Will an employee be reinstated or can her position be filled? Many more questions like these could be asked. The point is that while delay is sometimes welcome to avoid the unwelcome news that monies are owed, in many business disputes what is most needed is a determination and closure.

If the courts cannot resolve commercial disputes due to the priority that must be accorded to matters involving danger to the community-including criminal matters, domestic violence, and health and safety issues-then the parties to commercial disputes might wish to consider other options for dispute resolution.

One option, of course, is to negotiate directly in an attempt to settle the lawsuit. When this fails, mediation with the help of an experienced neutral is the next step. But at the end of the day, if neither direct or facilitated negotiations work, the parties in commercial disputes should consider designing their own dispute resolution process by consenting to arbitration.

Arbitration does not have to be agreed to in advance of a dispute. Many parties bring their dispute to court, only to decide after years of high cost litigation, and long waits for a trial date, that they should leave court and agree to a confidential and expeditious arbitration. Arbitration can be a very flexible process. The parties can design whatever process they wish. They do not have to be subject to the rules of any particular provider of dispute resolution services. Parties can choose to retain a sole arbitrator or can choose a panel of three arbitrators. They can determine the selection process and they can agree on the required qualifications of the arbitrator. They can agree on whether discovery will be permitted, whether there will be live testimony or written submissions, whether there will be a post-hearing briefing, and even whether an appeal would go before an arbitral appellate panel. In short, the parties have much more control over the process of resolving a dispute than they do in court.

Experienced arbitrators are ready to assist in designing a process that can be tailored to the needs of a particular dispute. Many arbitrators are affiliated with law firms and can provide the space needed for in-person arbitrations, or can host a virtual arbitration.

As a former federal judge, and now an experienced arbitrator, I have served several times as an arbitrator in cases where the parties designed their own process. In those matters the parties achieved a speedy and efficient resolution. Some examples may be helpful. In one arbitration the parties agreed that the arbitrators could only award one of two amounts. They wanted nothing more than that number after a full week of hearings. No reasoning, no long decision-just a low number or a high number. That was their choice. In another case, involving many millions of dollars, counsel agreed to a timed trial, with no direct examination of any witness-only cross-examination and re-direct. The point is that the parties have the freedom to design a process that best fits their case.

I suggest to you that, given the realities of the current situation, arbitration is something all parties in commercial disputes should consider if they wish to resolve their dispute and return to the business of doing business.

EXHIBIT 34

This list will be updated with new information as it becomes available. Latest updates include Texas, Vermont, Washington and Wisconsin.

New Mexico

The District of New Mexico postponed all civil and criminal jury trials set to begin on or before May 29. Grand jury proceedings were permitted to resume at the discretion of the U.S. attorney for the District of New Mexico as of May 4. All naturalization ceremonies through May 29 are canceled.

In the state court system, no more than 15 people will be allowed in each courtroom. Judges must conduct civil and criminal proceedings remotely except when an emergency requires an in-person appearance. Civil and criminal jury trials that had not started as of March 17 are suspended until May 29, and payment deadlines for fines and fees between March 19 and May 29 are extended by 30 days.

New York

The Southern District of New York has suspended notice all civil and criminal jury trials until further. While case-related activities and naturalizations will continue, other noncase activities such as Continuing Legal Education events and school visits are canceled until further notice. All bankruptcy hearings and conferences scheduled to be held in the courthouses of the Manhattan Division, White Plains Division and Poughkeepsie Division of the bankruptcy court will be conducted by telephone unless the presiding judge decides otherwise.

The court urges counsel to check individual judges' webpages for possible orders, including orders extending time in civil matters and adjourning conferences.

The Southern District is prohibiting those who have visited China, Italy, Iran, Japan or South Korea along with a slew of European countries, according to signs posted at courthouse entrances on March 12. The European countries are Austria, Belgium, Czech Republic, Denmark, Estonia, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Hungary, Vatican City, Iceland, Liechtenstein, Latvia, Lithuania, Luxembourg, Malta, Monaco, Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Portugal, Slovakia, Slovenia, Sweden, Switzerland, San Marino and Spain.

The court is also barring those with a fever, cough or shortness of breath, and the executive office in that district will not be issuing new attorney service passes until further notice. Access to courthouses is restricted to certain groups, including those with official court business, courthouse employees, certain contractors, mail carriers, law enforcement, credentialed press, family members of criminal defendants and jurors in ongoing trials.

In bankruptcy court, debtors with Chapter 13 cases before Chief Judge Cecelia G. Morris and Judge Sean H. Lane are waived from in-person court appearances. Attorneys and unrepresented debtors who are showing signs of illness must adjourn their cases. The contact for Judge Morris is Vanessa Ashmeade, (845) 451-6367. The contact for Judge Lane is Arturo Tavaréz at (914) 467-7094.

In the Eastern District of New York, all petit jury selections and jury trials scheduled to start between April 27 and June 15 are postponed, as are grand jury selections. Compliance with trial deadlines is left to the presiding judge's discretion. All naturalization ceremonies are suspended for 45 days as of March 16. In-person attorney admission ceremonies at all courthouses are suspended until further notice. For all criminal matters that had preliminary hearings before magistrate judges scheduled for April 27 through June 15, preliminary hearing deadlines are extended 60 days after the initial appearance.

The district is allowing video or telephone conferencing for several types of proceedings, including detention hearings, initial appearances and arraignments.

Access to court buildings is restricted to "those whose presence is essential," according to an order. The court is prohibiting those who have traveled to China, Italy, Iran, Japan or South Korea and a slew of European countries in the past two weeks. Also prohibited are those who have come into close contact with anyone who has traveled to those countries within the past two weeks, have been asked to self-quarantine, tested positive for the coronavirus or have come into contact with someone who has tested positive.

In the Northern District of New York, all civil and criminal jury selections and trials — including for grand juries — scheduled to begin through June 15 are postponed until further notice. Other criminal matters before magistrate judges will continue to take place as usual. All mass public gatherings, including naturalization ceremonies, are suspended. Those who have tested positive for the coronavirus, have symptoms or may have been exposed to the virus are prohibited from entering any courthouse. Face masks are required in courthouses.

In the Western District of New York, all civil jury trials and grand jury selections are postponed until June 15. The court encouraged judges to reduce personal appearances for all other proceedings as much as they can. No naturalization ceremonies will be conducted until June 15. Those who have tested positive for the coronavirus, have symptoms or may have been exposed to the virus are prohibited from entering any courthouse. Anyone not wearing a mask will also be prohibited.

For state courts, new civil and criminal jury trials are suspended as of March 16. Jury selection is also halted, and grand juries will not be empaneled "absent exceptional circumstances," although current grand juries will remain on duty along with some trial jurors. Starting May 18, courts in 30 upstate counties will gradually begin to reopen as judges, clerks and staff return to their courthouses. Cases may be filed electronically in those counties starting May 18. Social distancing and other measures will be enforced, and anyone entering the courthouses will be required to wear a mask. Nonemployee court visitors will be required to undergo COVID-19 screening before entering a courthouse. Starting May 25, the state is allowing electronic filings in all state courts.

The New York Attorney General's Office is encouraging parties to effect personal service by mail. For New York City service, the address is 28 Liberty St., 15th Floor, New York, NY 10005, Attn: managing attorney's office/personal service. For Albany, the address is The Capitol Albany, NY 12224-0341, Attn: A&O/personal service. And for emergency applications, the office requests parties to email applications to Service@ag.ny.gov and call the managing attorney's office main line at 212-416-6157.

The U.S. Court of International Trade in Manhattan is prohibiting entry to those who have visited China, Italy, Iran or South Korea in the past two weeks, as well as those who have been asked to self-quarantine. The restriction also applies to those who have tested positive for the coronavirus or have come into close contact with someone who has tested positive. The court is allowing teleconferencing and video conferencing with the approval of a presiding judge.

North Carolina

In the Eastern District of North Carolina, certain proceedings may be conducted remotely. Those who have tested positive for the coronavirus, have symptoms of COVID-19 or may have been exposed to the virus are prohibited from visiting any courthouse

Thanks for speaking today. Please respond "confirmed" if you agree this reflects our discussion.

(1) We're going to tell the Court today that we are committed to having good faith settlement discussions, and we ask the Court to hold the opinion (and the attached judgment, the form of which we have already agreed to and advised her of such during our last call) for another 10 business days from today (with the possibility we will extend further as needed)

(2) We also will tell the Court that we plan to enter into the attached stipulation which is an agreed upon request for relief from automatic stay, such that IF we can't resolve things we agree that "Phase II" can/should go forward in Justice Friedman's court

(3) We are going to tell the Court that even if we cannot reach an overall settlement, we may not need "Phase II" because we may just stipulate to the debtor being responsible for the verdict

(4) BUT, if none of those efforts to settle work, we will be asking the Court for a "Phase II" trial in about 6 months (although, again, we all in good faith will do everything we can to avoid that)

Does that cover it?

I trust you misunderstood me (as you said, I caught you unawares and you weren't really following), as what you are saying below about our conversation is inaccurate. As you said when we spoke, you were not following our discussion (I'm not blaming you at all).

Anyway, before this gets further afield, let's set up a call either over the weekend or Monday morning. To be clear about our position: we already have an agreement with Highland to enter into this stipulation. We made that agreement months ago with Highland, who was represented by counsel. And we communicated it to the Court (and reaffirmed it a number of times since then).

That said, we do continue to believe/hope that we will be able to reach a negotiated resolution that will make further litigation unnecessary. But because we are now approaching the deadline for submitting proofs of claim, we need to go ahead and execute this agreement as we agreed (and reconfirmed).

Again, it is probably better that we discuss all of this live rather than continue any further back and forth, so please let us know whether your team is available this weekend or on Monday.

Thanks

Andrew, this matter is going to get a fresh look with the benefit of bankruptcy counsel. I also note that in our call today, you started by saying UBS wants to discuss settlement but would like the debtor to agree now to a stipulation that provides that if settlement efforts fail, then the stay will be lifted. Yet what you sent provides for immediate stay relief. I will await client instruction but I seriously doubt we will be signing what you have tendered.

Hi Andrew. Forgive my confusion when we spoke today, I now understand the context for you sending along this stipulation but I also must point out that there was no agreement discussed or made with our firm as Debtors' counsel with respect to bankruptcy stay relief, and as we are lead bankruptcy counsel it is appropriately in our bailiwick. Indeed, as you'll recall, when we met recently, I noted that the stipulation you had discussed with your counterparty to the litigation was not discussed with our firm as it should have been. We will review the stipulation with Highland and revert to you next week.

Scott:

Thanks for speaking today. Please respond "confirmed" if you agree this reflects our discussion.

(1) We're going to tell the Court today that we are committed to having good faith settlement discussions, and we ask the Court to hold the opinion (and the attached judgment, the form of which we have already agreed to and advised her of such during our last call) for another 10 business days from today (with the possibility we will extend further as needed)

(2) We also will tell the Court that we plan to enter into the attached stipulation which is an agreed upon request for relief from automatic stay, such that IF we can't resolve things we agree that "Phase II" can/should go forward in Justice Friedman's court

(3) We are going to tell the Court that even if we cannot reach an overall settlement, we may not need

“Phase II” because we may just stipulate to the debtor being responsible for the verdict

(4) BUT, if none of those efforts to settle work, we will be asking the Court for a “Phase II” trial in about 6 months (although, again, we all in good faith will do everything we can to avoid that)

Does that cover it?

Proceedings recorded by electronic sound recording;

1 trial. That was all that was left to do. Summary judgment
2 had been argued. This res judicata and the other -- and I'll 3 get to the settlement issues in a second -- had all been
4 argued. There was no further chance for them to get another 5 bite at that apple. And that's the reason why, Your Honor, we
6 do object to this. And we get it if Your Honor wants to hear
7 them out and we'd have to respond and we'll do it in a 8 reasonable schedule.

9 But what we propose instead, Your Honor, is that this 10 matter just be set for resolution. We would be ready, and 11 Highland has -- Highland had told Justice Friedman they'd be 12 ready to try this case in June. We know from their papers
13 they've spent I think close to two million dollars now getting 14 ready for this. We're all ready to try the case as 15 expeditiously as possible, but certainly before the plan
16 confirmation. We would say let's just adjudicate our claim
17 in, you know, November, whether it's mid-November or late 18 November, sometime so that our claim is just resolved.

19 What Highland proposed to us yesterday is, you know, they 20 get to do another summary judgment bite at the apple. They 21 get another chance to convince you to do something different 22 than the New York Court of Appeals and Justice Friedman told 23 them they could do when they said denied, go forward to trial.
24 So they want -- they hope to somehow convince you to do
25 something different than what the New York courts were -- had

1           THE COURT: -- it almost sounded like you're agreeing
2 with their res judicata argument, that there are no claims for 3 conduct arising before February 24, 2009. Did I
4 misunderstand?

5           MR. CLUBOK: I'm not entirely sure what their 6 argument is. I do not -- cannot imagine there can be a 7 dispute over res judicata unless they're trying to relitigate
8 what happened. What the Court has said, and I'm paraphrasing
9 this, is that, against Highland, the claims have to have 10 arisen after February of 2009, but we can rely on evidence 11 pre-February of 2009 to the extent that helps us support our 12 claims. That is the sort of split-the-baby, if you want to 13 call it, approach that the appellate courts took, that the 14 trial court took and the appellate courts affirmed, that, as 15 long as the claim doesn't accrue -- in other words, for a 16 claim to accrue, you know, it might be four steps for a claim 17 to accrue, but it's that fourth final step that occurs after 18 February of 2009, if that's the case, you can still talk about 19 the three steps leading up to that fourth step, and that's the 20 issue that Highland repeatedly tried to convince the Court we 21 would not be allowed to do. That's what they were repeatedly 22 shut down on. I actually am surprised. It's hard for me to 23 imagine what's the remaining res judicata issue.

24           So, we agree that there are no claims pre-February 2009.
25 The part that we disagree, and this is what Mr. Feinstein

1 said, you asked exactly the right question, okay, and I don't
2 know if it was -- I assume it was unintentional on Mr.
3 Feinstein's part. But he said, well, if they arise after 4 February 2009. And you said, oh, does that mean all that's 5 left are fraudulent conveyance claims? And he, I think he
6 said yes or indicated yes to that question. What he didn't 7 tell you, and this is the rub, was that it's not just 8 fraudulent conveyance claims after February 2009; it's also 9 breach of implied duty of the covenant of good faith and fair
10 dealing, because Highland was a contractual party to UBS 11 directly.

12 Highland had a contract with UBS, and they had an implied, 13 under New York law, duty of good faith and fair dealing. And 14 the actions they took after February 2009 to frustrate the 15 ability of the parties to fulfill their contractual 16 obligations, that supports not just fraudulent transfer but a 17 separate claim of the breach of the implied duty of good faith
18 and fair dealing, and that's the issue that we won time and 19 time again.

20 Every time Highland tried to do -- Highland, in the past,
21 did the same thing basically that Mr. Feinstein just did:
22 They would talk about the obvious res judicata issue -- that 23 is, claims that arose before February 2009. There's no
24 dispute that that's what the appellate court ruled were out of 25 the case. At least the (inaudible) Court of Appeals in New

We should certainly discuss. Let's find a time to talk early next week. In advance of that call, I must say I am surprised to hear about where things stand with regards to producing HFP's documents. As you know, we requested such documents months ago and received repeated assurances from Jim Seery (which he also conveyed to the Court under oath) that such requests would move forward expeditiously even without formal discovery requests. It sounds, however, as though there's been no progress whatsoever on obtaining any HFP documents. Is that really the case? We certainly will want to add that to our discussions. Please suggest some open windows on Monday and Tuesday for a discussion.

Also, please make sure that in all correspondence about this case you copy my colleagues whom I've added here.

Thanks, and I hope everybody has a nice (and safe) weekend

Subject: Highland/UBS Claim

Andrew –

I am writing to you on the Debtor's behalf with respect to the document request UBS served on the Debtor dated September 28, 2020 calling for the production of various categories of documents on or before October 8, 2020, and the further litigation of UBS's claim generally.

First, with respect to the document requests, notwithstanding objections to the requests we could interpose on the Debtor's behalf, including that you have not provided the Debtor with the statutory amount of time to respond and produce the documents, in the interest of expediency and transparency, the Debtor will do its best produce the requested documents, subject to applicable privileges and related objections that will be set forth in a formal response to the document request. As for timing, the Debtor believes with one exception that the documents UBS has requested can be produced by October 8, 2020 and will endeavor to do so, although it is not committing to do so in that time frame if it's not able to. The one exception is request number 8, seeking documents relating to HFP. As you are aware, HFP no longer has any employees which will make it difficult to gather the requested documents in the requested time frame. The Debtor will provide those as and when they can be retrieved and reviewed.

Second, we wanted to let you know that, as we previously raised on the record, the Debtor is planning on filing a motion for partial summary judgment as to UBS's claims in the next week or two, to be heard prior to plan confirmation, and we would like to work out a briefing schedule with you in that regard. Hopefully, we can agree to a schedule and present it to the Court at the October 6th hearing.

Finally, we wanted to raise the potential of UBS filing a motion pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 3018 seeking to have its claim temporarily allowed for voting purposes. Certainly that is UBS's right to file such a motion, our only concern is the timing. Given the identity of issues, we suggest that any such motion be heard at the same time as the Debtor's partial summary judgment motion.

We are happy to discuss these matters with you in advance of the upcoming status conference in the hope that we can come up with an agreed-upon schedule to announce to the Court at that time.

Best regards,

Rob Feinstein

IN THE UNITED STATES BANKRUPTCY COURT FOR THE DISTRICT OF DELAWARE

Debtor.	)

DEBTOR'S RESPONSES AND OBJECTIONS TO UBS'S FIRST REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION OF DOCUMENTS TO HIGHLAND

The above-captioned debtor and debtor in possession (the "Debtor") hereby responds to UBS's First Requests for Production of Documents to Highland (the "Requests").<sup>2</sup> The Debtor's responses and objections to the Requests (the "Responses") are made pursuant to Rule 7026 and 7034 of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure.

GENERAL OBJECTIONS

The following general objections and caveats are applicable to each and every Response unless otherwise specified and are incorporated into each Response as though set forth in full:

1. The Responses contained herein are based upon information presently known and ascertained by the Debtor.
2. The Debtor does not concede that any of its Responses are, or will be, admissible into evidence. The Debtor does not intend to waive, but rather intends to preserve, appropriate objections to the use and admissibility of any information or documents that may be produced by the Debtor in response to the Requests.

3. The Debtor objects to each Request to the extent that it seeks information or the production of documents that are protected from discovery by the attorney-client privilege, the attorney work product doctrine or any other privilege or immunity. The inadvertent disclosure or production of any document that is protected from discovery by any privilege or immunity shall not constitute a waiver of any such privilege or immunity.

4. In responding to the Requests, the Debtor makes no admission or concession concerning the relevance or materiality of any Response or document to the subject matter of this litigation, and reserves all objections on those grounds.

5. The Debtor objects to each Request to the extent it calls for the production of “[a]ll Documents” on the grounds that such Requests are overly broad, unduly burdensome, and fail to comply with Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(b). The Debtor has previously made numerous and substantial document productions to UBS (both informally and formally), as part of settlement discussions and negotiations, and to the unsecured creditors committee appointed in the Debtor’s bankruptcy proceeding (the “Committee”), many of which include documents that are responsive to the Requests and are available to UBS. The Debtor, therefore, objects (a) to the duplicative nature of certain aspects of the Requests, and (b) to the extent that any Request seeks information or documents that are already in the possession, custody, or control of UBS or the Committee or that are equally accessible to UBS from third parties or publicly available sources.

6. The Debtor objects to each Request that calls for a legal conclusion.

7. The Debtor objects to each Request to the extent that it seeks to impose obligations on the Debtor beyond the scope of Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(b)(1), which provides express limitations on discovery, including that a party may only seek discovery “regarding any nonprivileged matter that is relevant to any party’s claim or defense.”

8. The Debtor objects to each Request to the extent that it seeks information unrelated to the Debtor’s Objection to Proofs of Claim 190 and 191 of UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG, London Branch [Docket No. 928] (the “UBS Objection”) as UBS has not filed a responsive pleading with respect to the Debtor’s Amended Plan and Disclosure Statement [Docket Nos. 1079, 1080] and UBS is not entitled to discovery with respect thereto or with respect to any other matter not contested by UBS.

9. The Debtor objects to the Requests to the extent that UBS is seeking production on a timeline other than that imposed by Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26.

10. The Debtor objects to the Requests as premature to the extent they seek financial information in support of a punitive damages claim.

11. Certain documents responsive to the Requests may be the property of third parties or otherwise subject to confidentiality restrictions that prohibit disclosure without prior notice. If the Debtor identifies any such documents, the Debtor shall inform the applicable third party that it intends to produce the documents within five (5) business days absent a court order or UBS’s written consent to treat the documents in another manner.

12. For the avoidance of doubt, any materials produced in response to any Request will be produced pursuant to the Agreed Protective Order [Docket No. 382].

If HCMLP finds that any additional documents are responsive to UBS's requests, it will provide those documents; however, HCMLP believes that it has fulfilled its obligations and that no additional searches in response to UBS's requests are warranted.

Please see below with respect to your specific questions.

Additional documents responsive to RFP 8 can be found at, among other places, Highland 036089 – Highland055915, Highland035845-Highland078170, and Highland-UBS000001-Highland-UBS00445

RFP: 9(a), (b): Documents responsive to this request were produced at Highland057674 - Highland057870.

RFP 9(c): HCMLP produced documents responsive to this request today (10/30/20).

Please feel free to call with any questions.

Best,
Greg

II. INTRODUCTION

A. The Parties

5. Patrick Daugherty is an individual who resides in Dallas, Texas. Mr. Daugherty was a partner and senior executive of Highland Capital Management, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (“Highland Capital”), and certain of its affiliates from 1998 until 2011.<sup>1</sup>
6. Highland Capital’s principal place of business is in Dallas, Texas.<sup>2</sup> Highland Employee Retention Assets LLC is a Delaware limited liability company (hereinafter, “HERA”).<sup>3</sup> Highland ERA Management LLC (hereinafter, “Highland ERA Management”) is a Delaware limited liability company.<sup>4</sup> James Dondero is the president of Highland Capital and one of its co-founders.<sup>5</sup> Mr. Dondero is the president and sole member of Highland ERA Management.<sup>6</sup>

B. Background

7. Highland Capital is a multibillion-dollar, SEC-registered investment adviser.<sup>7</sup> Jim Dondero and Mark Okada founded Highland Capital in 1993.<sup>8</sup> The headquarter of Highland Capital is in Dallas, Texas and Highland Capital has offices in Buenos Aires, Rio de Janeiro, and Seoul.<sup>9</sup> Highland Capital describes itself as “a pioneer” in the leveraged loan market.<sup>10</sup> In the 25 years following its creation, Highland Capital has expanded into other asset classes.<sup>11</sup> Highland Capital now has investment capabilities in various sectors, including public equities, real estate, and private equity.<sup>12</sup> Highland Capital's investment platform currently serves institutional and retail investors around the world.<sup>13</sup>

8. During the financial crisis of 2009, Highland Capital performed poorly and had little cash available for incentive-compensation purposes.<sup>14</sup> In October 2009, Highland Capital created HERA in an effort to retain, reward, and incentivize employees.<sup>15</sup> Upon formation, Highland Capital transferred nine types of assets to HERA, including 96.40% of Highland Capital's funded ownership of its limited partner interest in Highland Restoration Capital Partners, L.P. (hereinafter, "Restoration Capital Partners" or "RCP").<sup>16</sup>
9. The initial board of directors of HERA included five people, including Mr. Daugherty.<sup>17</sup>
10. Upon formation, 10,000 Series A Preferred Units in HERA were available to be issued to employees.<sup>18</sup> These shares vested and became non-forfeitable on May 15, 2011.<sup>19</sup> At the time of his departure from Highland Capital in September 2011, Mr. Daugherty held 1,909.69 (approximately 19.1%) vested Series A Preferred Units in HERA.<sup>20</sup>
11. Following the resignation of Mr. Daugherty from Highland Capital in September 2011, the remaining HERA board members removed Daugherty as a director effective February 16, 2012.<sup>21</sup> The HERA LLC Agreement was amended in February 2012 and February 2013.<sup>22</sup>

Nearly two months after HERA agreement was amended in 2012, Highland Capital commenced an action against Mr. Daugherty in the District Court of Dallas County, Texas, 68th Judicial District (Dallas) against Mr. Daugherty (the “Texas Action”).<sup>24</sup> Mr. Daugherty responded with counterclaims against Highland Capital and third-party claims against HERA and others.<sup>25</sup>
14. In early 2013, Highland Capital bought out the remaining shareholders in HERA, except Mr. Daugherty.<sup>26</sup>
15. On April 30, 2013, HERA transferred the remaining assets that were said to have value, its ownership interest in Restoration Capital Partners and shares of NHF, to Highland Capital.<sup>27</sup>

27. Second, Counsel has requested that I calculate the value to Highland Capital of the assets that were placed in escrow related to Mr. Daugherty's interest in HERA as of December 8, 2016 and the date of my report.
28. Third, Counsel has asked me to calculate prejudgment and post-judgment interest on the $2.6 million awarded to Mr. Daugherty in the Texas Matter in July 2014 as of the date of this report.

My staff and I have also reviewed publicly available sources. Documents and information relied upon are cited in this report. A list of the materials that I have relied upon in connection with this assignment is presented in Appendix B.

III. METHODOLOGIES FOR DETERMINING VALUE OF RCP INTEREST

30. RCP is an investment partnership which collects funds from individual investors and invests such funds in a range of securities or other assets. Typically, the fair market value of such an investment entity or fund is equal to the fair market value of its individual holdings minus its liabilities. Determining the fair market value of publicly traded holdings (e.g., Apple or Microsoft common stock, U.S. Treasury bonds) is relatively straight forward; one simply multiplies the security's price by the number of units.
31. The analysis can be more complicated when an investment fund holds assets that are not publicly traded. One alternative is to separately value each holding. An alternative, which is often used by institutional investors, is to rely upon valuations done by the investment fund itself. For example, CalPERS, one of the largest public pension funds in the U.S and the largest limited partner in RCP, specifically states that it relies upon financial statements received from general partners when reporting the market value of its partnership interests.<sup>50</sup> Additional public pension funds, which rely upon valuations done by general partners, include the New York State Teachers' Retirement System and the Washington State Department of Retirement Systems.<sup>51</sup>

32. General partners have an incentive to accurately report the values of assets which are not publicly traded. A general partner with a reputation for reporting inflated asset values may be unable to raise sufficient capital for a subsequent fund and forced to cease operations once its current funds terminate. Academic studies find that institutional investors are largely able to discern asset value manipulation. Brown, Gredil and Kaplan (2019) find that general partners, which appear to inflate returns, are ultimately unable to raise a new fund.<sup>52</sup> On the other hand, they find that general partners of highly performing funds tend to underreport returns.
33. Moreover, in the present matter, I understand that RCP relies upon valuations provided by independent third-parties. For example, Mr. David Klos testified that RCP uses broker quotes from the Markit pricing service in order to value its MGM investment.<sup>53</sup>
34. The RCP audited annual reports contain detailed information about valuation methodologies employed and a disclosure of each asset's value for the period being reported.<sup>54</sup> For example, RCP disclosed that it may be difficult to exit some of its investments "at attractive prices, if at all."<sup>55</sup> The reported value of RCP's reported assets, which drive the value of the RCP, also take into account various valuation assumptions, including a minority discount and discount for lack of marketability.<sup>56</sup>
35. With respect to RCP, CalPERS' reporting of the market value of its partnership interest in RCP for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2018, was $97,396,217.<sup>57</sup> The value reported by

A. Fair Market Value and Fair Value

36. RCP reports the “estimated fair value” of its holdings on its financial statements. While commonly seen as synonymous, “fair market value” and “fair value” can have different meanings, and the value of the RCP interest that were placed in escrow related to Mr. Daugherty’s interest in HERA differ under the fair market value and fair value standard.
37. An asset’s fair market value is the price at which it would change hands between a knowledgeable, willing buyer and a knowledgeable, willing seller, when neither party is under a compulsion to buy or sell.<sup>59</sup> When calculating fair market value, two adjustments may need to be made to reflect the ownership rights associated with the asset being valued.
38. The first adjustment concerns the discount for lack of marketability (“DLOM”). When valuing minority, non-marketable interests, a DLOM is applied to calculate the value of closely held and restricted shares. The DLOM takes into consideration a valuation discount in restricted stock compared to publicly traded stock. Investments with less liquidity that can take longer to sell and with greater uncertainty have a diminution in value in comparison to highly liquid investments such as shares in a publicly traded company.
39. The second adjustment concerns the discount for lack of control (“DLOC”). The DLOC accounts for the fact that minority shareholders typically do not have the authority to make either strategic or financial decisions for the company. Also, minority shareholders may have limited or no voting power for decisions such as electing company directors. There may also be limitations on selling shares. As a result, because there is a premium for the benefits associated with having a controlling ownership interest, the DLOC applies a discount for minority interests.

<sup>59</sup> Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Revenue Ruling 59-60 defines fair market value as “The amount at which the property would change hands between a willing buyer and willing seller, when the former is not under any compulsion to buy, and the latter is not under any compulsion to sell, both parties having reasonable knowledge of relevant facts.”

HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL

40. When calculating fair value, Counsel has asked me to calculate fair value in accordance with Delaware law regarding fair value and indicating the DLOM and DLOC do not apply.
41. To value the interest in RCP to Highland Capital (i.e. as part of the assignment in Paragraph 27), I used the fair value standard of value, as described in Section IV below. To value Mr. Daugherty's interest in RCP (i.e. as part of the assignment in Paragraph 26), I used the fair market standard of value, as described in Section V below.

IV. VALUATION OF INTEREST IN RCP TO HIGHLAND CAPITAL

42. The valuation of the interest in RCP contains two components. The first is to determine the value of the RCP interest as of the valuation date. The second is to determine the value of the RCP distributions to Highland Capital following the April 2013 assignment of the interest from HERA to Highland Capital.

A. Value of Existing Ownership in RCP

43. The most recent statement of capital for Highland Capital's interest in RCP is dated March 31, 2019.<sup>60</sup> The March 31, 2019 ending balance of Highland Capital's holdings in RCP is $20,860,105 as reported by RCP. The March 31, 2019 statement of capital also reported Highland Capital's cumulative IRR is 10.80%. When it created HERA, Highland Capital transferred 96.40% of its funded interest in RCP to HERA. This constitutes 66.9% of Highland's eventual 14.76% interest in RCP.<sup>61</sup>
44. RCP was intended to be a ten-year fund with two optional extensions.<sup>62</sup> I have not identified a fund termination date and, instead, have estimated a termination date of May 2021, based on the fact the commitment period ending May 2010 and extension are permitted.<sup>63</sup> As such, the value of Highland Capital's ownership in RCP is equal to the

<sup>63</sup> I reserve the right to update my calculations if the court determines that an extension is appropriate or additional information is provided.

HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL

present value of its expected or future distributions from RCP. I calculated this value using two general steps.

45. First, I calculated the future value of Highland Capital's ownership in RCP using (1) the March 31, 2019 ending balance of Highland Capital's holdings in RCP ($20,860,105); and (2) the cumulative IRR reported in Highland Capital's March 31, 2019 statement of capital (10.80%).
46. Second, I discounted the future distributions using a weighted average cost of capital (WACC) which is based upon RCP's holdings. A company's WACC is comprised of its cost of equity and its cost of debt. The cost of equity is calculated based on the Capital Asset Pricing Model (CAPM), which reflects the risk of an investment relative to the market (e.g. S&P 500). The cost of equity takes into account the risk-free rate plus beta multiplied by equity risk premium. Beta measures the systematic risk of a security relative to the market. Thus, the CAPM model measures an asset's expected return based on its risk profile, ultimately determining the cost of equity.
47. Over 70% of RCP's holdings are in MGM common stock, a film and media company.<sup>64</sup> Most of RCP's remaining assets, or approximately 23% of its holdings, are in healthcare securities.<sup>65</sup> I have used industry specific betas when calculated the cost of equity. Because RCP has no debt, its WACC is entirely based on the cost of equity. As of the date of this report, the WACC is 9.90% and on December 31, 2016, the WACC is 11.30%. See Exhibits 4 and 5.
48. The value of Highland Capital's ownership interest in RCP as of July 26, 2019 is $21,177,238 and is $14,161,377 after adjusting for the 66.9% HERA allocation based on funding, as previously discussed. The value of the RCP interest as of July 26, 2019, that was placed in escrow related to Mr. Daugherty's HERA interest is $2,703,407 to Highland Capital, representing 19.09% of the portion of the interest attributable to HERA. Exhibit 2 reports my calculations.
49. The value of Highland Capital's ownership interest in RCP as of December 31, 2016 as $24,758,323 and is $16,556,075 after adjusting for the 66.9% HERA allocation based on funding, as previously discussed. The value of the RCP interest as of December 31, 2016 to Highland Capital, that was placed in escrow related to Mr. Daugherty's HERA interest is $3,160,555, representing 19.09% of the portion of the interest attributable to HERA. Exhibit 3 reports my calculations.

B. Value of Historical RCP Distributions to Highland Capital

50. The March 31, 2019 statement of capital account reports the lifetime, cumulative contributions and distributions Highland Capital Management made to RCP.<sup>66</sup> The ending capital balance is the sum of contributions and gains or losses (both realized and unrealized) on investments less fees and distributions. To calculate the distributions to Highland Capital beginning April 30, 2013, I took the cumulative contributions and distributions as of March 31, 2019 and subtracted the contributions and distributions made prior to April 30, 2013. I was unable to identify contemporaneous account statements or distribution notices. Therefore, I estimated the cumulative contributions and distributions made prior to April 30 by using the 2012-2017 audited financial statements for RCP, unaudited financial statements for the first three quarters of 2018, and an Excel file supporting the 2013 RCP financial statements which contained historical annual data. Exhibit 7.B contains my analysis.
51. I calculated interest on the distributions at a rate of 5% over the Federal Reserve Discount rate, compounded quarterly, to calculate the value as of the valuation dates.
52. The value of the distributions (net of contributions) from April 30, 2013 through March 31, 2019 (the last date I have information for) and on July 26, 2019 is $5,092,013 and is $3,406,556 after adjusting for the 66.9% HERA allocation based on funding, as previously discussed.<sup>67</sup> The value of the cash distributions from April 30, 2013 through March 31, 2019, flowing from the RCP interest placed in escrow related to Mr. Daugherty's HERA interest is $650,312, representing 19.09% of the portion of the interest attributable to HERA. Exhibit 8 reports my calculations.

<sup>67</sup> There were no changes in cumulative contributions or cumulative distributions between the RCP Statements of Capital Account for the periods ending September 30, 2018 (HCM0000163- HCM0000167) and March 31, 2019 (Statement of Capital Account for the Period Ending March 31, 2019, HCM0067780) for Highland Capital's account.

HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL

53. The December 31, 2016 value of the cash distributions through December 31, 2016 is $4,011,733 and is $2,683,849 after adjusting for the 66.9% HERA allocation based on funding, as previously discussed.<sup>68</sup> The value of the cash distributions from April 30, 2013 through December 31, 2016, flowing from the RCP interest placed in escrow related to Mr. Daugherty's HERA interest is $512,347, representing 19.09% of the portion of the interest attributable to HERA. Exhibit 8 reports my calculations.

C. Value of Existing RCP Interest and Historical Distributions

54. To arrive at the value of the Interest in RCP to Highland Capital and the portion attributable to Mr. Daugherty, I added the previously calculated value of ownership interest with the value of the distributions as of the valuation dates.
55. On July 26, 2019, the value of the interest in RCP, after adjusting for HERA allocation based on funding, is the $14,161,377 value of the ownership interest plus the $3,406,556 value of the distributions, which is $17,567,933. The value of Mr. Daugherty's interest is $3,353,718 based on his 19.09% interest in HERA.
56. On December 31, 2016, the value of the interest in RCP, after adjusting for HERA allocation based on funding, is the $16,556,075 value of the ownership interest plus the $2,683,849 value of the distributions, which is $19,239,924. The value of Mr. Daugherty's interest is $3,672,901 based on his 19.09% interest in HERA.

V. VALUATION OF RCP'S INTEREST AS IF IN DAUGHERTY'S HANDS

57. In Mr. Daugherty's or HERA's hands, the RCP interest placed in escrow would be a non-marketable, minority interest in RCP. I therefore applied a discount for lack of marketability to the value of the RCP interests—which were originally transferred to HERA—before calculating the value of Mr. Daugherty's interest in RCP that was placed in escrow. I also applied a discount for lack of control.

58. I used the Stout Restricted Stock Study by Business Valuation Resources to calculate the appropriate DLOM. The Stout Restricted Stock Study is a quarterly-updated database of restricted stock transactions. The database provides empirical support to quantify marketability discounts in the context of business valuation, venture capital, and M&A.<sup>69</sup> It provides data on transaction discounts across many industries with associated data on various financial metrics and risk characteristics. The database also indicates the stock holding period and whether the stock has registration rights. I screened the database for restricted stock with a two-year holding period to reflect the expected two-year time horizon until a liquidation event. The median DLOM for this sample is 22.1%. See Exhibit 7. In calculating the July 26, 2019 fair market value of the interest in RCP that was originally transferred to HERA, I used a DLOM of 22.1%. When calculating the fair market value of this interest as of December 31, 2016, I use a DLOM of 31.0% in consideration of the longer holding period.<sup>70</sup>
59. In calculating the fair market value of the interest in RCP that was originally transferred to HERA, I used a DLOC of 20%<sup>71</sup> When determining the DLOC, I took several factors into consideration, including (1) RCP's general partner, Highland Restoration Capital Partners GP LLC, is a wholly owned subsidiary of Highland Capital Management LP, an adverse party in this matter; (2) RCP's general partner is constrained by the RCP Agreement of Limited Partnership;<sup>72</sup> and (3) RCP's general partner is constrained by the fact that CalPERS, one of the largest public pension funds in the U.S., is also an RCP limited partner.
60. After applying the DLOM and DLOC, the estimated fair market value of the interest in RCP that was originally transferred to HERA is  $$14,161,377 \times ((1-.221) \times (1-.2))\% = $8,825,370$  on July 26, 2019. Consequently, Mr. Daugherty's 19.09% share of this interest is worth $1,684,763 as of July 26, 2019.

61. After applying the DLOM and DLOC, the estimated fair market value of the interest in RCP that was originally transferred to HERA is  $$16,556,075 \times ((1-.3 \times (1-.2)))\% = $9,271,402$  on December 8, 2016. Consequently, Mr. Daugherty's 19.09% share of this interest is worth $1,769,911 as of December 8, 2016.

A. Value of Existing RCP Interest and Historical Distributions

62. To arrive at the value of the Interest in RCP to Mr. Daugherty, I added the previously calculated share values with the value of the distributions as of the valuation dates.
63. On July 26, 2019, the value of the interest in RCP attributable to HERA $8,825,370 plus the $3,406,556 value of the distributions, which is $12,231,926. The value of Mr. Daugherty's interest is $2,335,075 based on his 19.09% interest in HERA.
64. On December 8, 2016, the value of the interest in RCP attributable to HERA $9,271,402 plus the $2,683,849 value of the distributions, which is $11,955,251. The value of Mr. Daugherty's interest is $2,282,257 based on his 19.09% interest in HERA.

VI. VALUE OF NHF SHARES

65. As of July 25, 2019, the close price for NHF was $18.69.<sup>73</sup> Following a reverse stock split of 4 to 1 in October 2015,<sup>74</sup> the value of 1,088.24 NHF assigned to escrow in December 2013 is calculated by using 272.1 shares. The value of 272.1 shares of NHF on July 25, 2019 was $5,086.
66. On December 30, 2016 (the last trading day of 2016), the close price for NHF was $22.77.<sup>75</sup> and the value of 272.1 shares of NHF on that date was $6,196.

A. Pre-Judgment Interest

70. Based on a pre-judgment simple interest rate of 5%, from May 22, 2012 to July 13, 2014, the total amount of pre-judgment interest on the $2.6 million award in the Texas Action is $279,500.<sup>78</sup>

B. Post-Judgment Interest

71. Based on a post-judgment interest rate of 5%, compounded annually, from July 14, 2014 to July 26, 2019, the total amount of post-judgment interest on the $2.6 million award in the Texas Action and the simple interest accrued through July 13, 2014 is $802,805.<sup>79</sup>

3.9 Distributions.

(a) General. The General Partner shall review the Partnership's accounts at the end of each calendar quarter to determine whether distributions are appropriate. The General Partner may make such distributions as it may determine in its sole and unfettered discretion, without being limited to current or accumulated income or gains, but no such distribution shall be made out of funds required to make current payments on Partnership indebtedness. The Partnership has entered into one or more credit facilities with financial institutions that may limit the amount and timing of distributions to the Partners. Thus, the Partners acknowledge that distributions from the Partnership may be limited. Except to the extent Sections 5.3 or 5.4 are applicable, all distributions pursuant to this Section 3.9 shall generally be made in proportion to the Partners' Capital Accounts; provided, however, the General Partner may, in its sole and unfettered discretion, make a disproportionate distribution to a Partner to the extent that Partner has (or is anticipated to have by the end of the current Fiscal Year) a sufficient positive balance in his/her/its Capital Account therefor; provided, further, the maximum amount per Fiscal Year that the General Partner may distribute to a member of the Founding Partner Group in a disproportionate distribution is ten percent (10%) of Partnership Capital.

(b) Tax Distributions. The General Partner shall promptly declare and make cash distributions pursuant hereto to the Partners to allow the federal and state income tax attributable to the Partnership's taxable income that is passed through the Partnership to the Partners to be paid by such Partners (a "Tax Distribution"). To satisfy this requirement, the Partnership shall pay to each Partner on or before April 14 of each Fiscal Year, an amount at least equal to the product of (i) the sum of the Partnership's positive taxable income attributed to that Partner during the prior Fiscal Year (including without limitation, the taxable income attributable to the special allocation of Profits constituting the Reallocation Amount) multiplied by (ii) the sum of the highest federal and state individual income tax rates imposed on any Partner in effect that prior Fiscal Year. Any Tax Distribution to a Partner shall reduce the amount that Partner is otherwise entitled to receive on its next distribution pursuant to Section 3.9(a).

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have entered into this Agreement as of the date and year first written above to be effective as of February 29, 2004.

To satisfy this requirement, the Company shall pay to each Member on or before April 14 of each Fiscal Year, an amount at least equal to the product of (a) the sum of the Company's positive taxable income attributed to that Member during the prior Fiscal year multiplied by (b) the sum of the highest federal and state individual income tax rates imposed on any Member in effect that prior Fiscal Year.

ARTICLE V

MANAGEMENT OF THE COMPANY

Section 5.1 General. The Company shall be managed by a Board of Directors (the "Board"), which shall at all times consist of six members, consisting of the following individuals:

R. Joseph Dougherty
Patrick Boyce
John Honis
William L. Britain
Ted Dameris

The Board shall have the sole right, power and authority to manage, direct and control all of the business and affairs of the Company, to transact business on behalf of the Company, to sign for the Company or on behalf of the Company or otherwise to bind the Company. The Board shall act by majority vote (either by meeting or written consent), unless a greater percentage is expressly required under this Agreement. Each member of the Board shall serve until such member shall cease to hold Series A Preferred Units or until such member's death, resignation or removal from by Board by the unanimous affirmative vote of the remaining Board members. Any vacancies on the Board shall be filled by holder(s) of Series A Preferred Units

Section 5.2 Delegation of Powers of the Board. (a) Subject to Section 5.2(b) and ARTICLE XI hereof, the Board shall have the exclusive and complete authority, acting without the consent or approval of, or notice to, the Member and in the Board's sole and absolute discretion, to operate the Company and its business and to make all determinations or elections or to consent to any matter otherwise described in this Agreement. Neither the Member nor any other unitholder shall have the authority to remove any member of the Board.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement or any provision of law that otherwise so empowers the Company, from and after the date of this Agreement and until the date on which all assets of the Company have been distributed in full, the Company shall not, and shall not have power or authority and shall not be authorized to, and the Board shall not, and shall not have power or authority and shall not be authorized to cause the Company to, take any of the following actions without the prior affirmative vote or written consent of at least 75% of the members of the Board:

(i) dissolve, wind-up or liquidate, in whole or in part, or cause or consent to the dissolution, winding up or liquidation, in whole or in part, of the Company;

(ii) be a party to any merger or consolidation or sell, transfer, assign, convey or lease any asset of the Company, or cause or consent to any merger or consolidation or sale, transfer, assignment, conveyance or lease of any assets of the Company;

(iii) directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire (other than via a contribution from the Member) all or substantially all of the assets, or any equity interest of any class, of any legal entity, or cause the Company to directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire (other than via a contribution from the Member) all or substantially all of the assets, or any equity interest of any class, of any legal entity;

(iv) amend, alter, change or repeal any of the provisions of this Agreement;

(v) incur or assume any indebtedness or obligations except for liabilities under Section 3.3, or cause the Company, to incur or assume any indebtedness or obligations except for liabilities under Section 3.3; or

(vi) take any Bankruptcy Action with respect to the Company, or take, cause or consent to any Bankruptcy Action with respect to the Company.

Section 5.3 Officers. The Board may appoint individuals with or without such titles as it may elect, including the titles of President, Vice President, Treasurer, and Secretary, to act on behalf of the Company with such power and authority as the Board may delegate in writing to any such persons.

Section 5.4 Powers of the Board. The Board shall have the sole right, power and authority, in the management of the business and affairs of the Company, to do or cause to be done any and all acts deemed by the Board to be necessary or appropriate to effectuate the business, purposes and objectives of the Company at the expense of the Company, including but not limited to the execution of all documents or instruments in all matters necessary, desirable, convenient or incidental to the purpose of the Company or the making of investments of Company funds.

Section 5.5 Reliance by Third Parties. Any person or entity dealing with the Company may rely on a certificate signed by the Board as to:

- (a) the identity of the Board;
- (b) the existence or non-existence of any fact or facts which constitute a condition precedent to acts by the Board or are in any matter germane to the affairs of the Company;
- (c) the persons who or entities which are authorized to execute and deliver any instrument or document of or on behalf of the Company; or
- (d) any act or failure to act by the Company or as to any other matter whatsoever involving the Company.

Section 5.6 Tax Reporting. The Board shall endeavor to cause to be prepared after the end of each taxable year of the Company and filed, on or before their respective due dates (as the same may be extended), all federal and state income tax returns of the Company for such taxable year and shall take all action as may be necessary to permit the Company's regular accountants to prepare and timely file such returns. Form, 1065 (Schedule K-1) shall be sent to the Member and each holder of Series A Preferred Units after the end of each taxable year reflecting such member's or holders pro rata share of income, loss, credit and deductions for such taxable year.

Section 5.7 Tax Election. Any elections required or permitted to be made by the Company under the Code shall be made by the Board in such manner as the Board shall determine. In the event of an audit of the Company by the Internal Revenue Service, the Board shall act as the "tax matters partner" pursuant to Section 6231(a)(7) of the Code, and such tax matters partner shall comply with all of his obligations as such under the Code and the regulations promulgated thereunder. During such time as the Company has one Member, it intends to be treated as a "branch" of such Member for U.S. federal income tax purposes, and during such time as the Company has more than one member, it intends to be treated as a partnership for federal income tax purposes, and the Board shall make any such elections necessary for such purposes and neither the Member nor any holder of Series A Preferred Units shall do anything inconsistent with such characterization.

ARTICLE VI

DISSOLUTION

The Company shall be dissolved, and shall terminate and wind up its affairs, upon the first to occur of the following:

- (a) the determination by the Board to dissolve the Company; or
- (b) the entry of a decree of judicial dissolution pursuant to Section 18.802 of the Act.

ARTICLE VII

GOVERNING LAW AND JURISDICTION

This Agreement, including its existence, validity, construction and operating effect, and the rights of each of the parties hereto, shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware (without regard to principles of conflicts of laws).

ARTICLE VIII

INDEMNIFICATION

Section 8.1 Indemnification and Liability. (a) To the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, no member of the Board, no officer of the Company nor the Member shall be liable to the Company or any other third party (i) for mistakes of judgment, (ii) for any act or omission suffered or taken by it, or (iii) for losses due to any such mistakes, action or inaction.

(b) Except as may be restricted by applicable law, no member of the Board, no officer of the Company nor the Member shall be liable for and the Company shall indemnify each such person and/or the Member against, and agrees to hold each such person and/or the Member harmless from, all liabilities and claims (including reasonable attorney's fees and expenses in defending against such liabilities and claims) against each such person and/or the Member, arising from each such person's and/or the Member's performance of its duties in conformance with the terms of this Agreement.

(c) The Board, any officers and/or the Member may consult with legal counsel or accountants selected by the Board and/or the Member and, to the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, any action or omission suffered or taken in good faith in reliance and in accordance with the written opinion or advice of any such counsel or accountants (provided such counsel or accountants have been selected with reasonable care) shall be fully protected and justified with respect to the action or omission so suffered or taken.

ARTICLE IX

ASSIGNMENT OF INTERESTS

No interest in the Company, whether Common Units, Preferred Units or otherwise, may be assigned without the prior written consent of the Board, provided, however, that vested Series A Preferred Units may be assigned as set forth on Exhibit A.

ARTICLE X

WINDING UP AND DISTRIBUTION OF ASSETS

Section 10.1 Winding Up. If the Company is dissolved, the Board shall wind up the affairs of the Company.

Section 10.2 Distribution of Assets. Upon the winding up of the Company, subject to the provisions of the Act, the Board shall pay or make reasonable provision to pay all claims and obligations of the Company, including all costs and expenses of the liquidation and all contingent, conditional or unmatured claims and obligations that are known to the Board but for which the identity of the claimant is unknown. If there are sufficient assets, such claims and obligations shall be paid in full and any such provision shall be made in full. If there are insufficient assets, such claims and obligations shall be paid or provided for according to their priority and, among claims and obligations of equal priority, ratably to the extent of assets available therefor. Any remaining cash and other assets shall be distributed to the holders of any Series A Preferred Units outstanding.

ARTICLE XI

SEPARATENESS AND OPERATING PROCEDURES

Section 11.1 Separateness: Operating Procedures. Until the date on which no Series A Preferred Units remain outstanding, the Company represents warrants and covenants as follows:

(a) The purpose for which the Company is organized shall be and remain limited solely to (i) directly owning and holding assets to be contributed by the Member and to distribute the proceeds of such assets from time to time to certain employees of the Member in order to create a retention initiative for such employees (the "Retention Assets"), (ii) distribute the proceeds of the Retention Assets in accordance with the terms of the Series A Preferred Units of the Company, and (iii) transacting any and all lawful business for which a limited liability company may be organized under Delaware law that is incident, necessary and appropriate to accomplish the foregoing.

(b) The Company will maintain all of its books, records, and bank accounts separate from those of any affiliate. The Company's assets will not be listed as assets on the financial statement of any other entity. The Company's assets will not be listed as assets on the financial statement of any other entity; provided, however, that its assets may be included in a consolidated financial statement of its parent if inclusion on such consolidated financial statement is required to comply with the requirements of GAAP, provided that such consolidated financial statements shall contain a footnote to the effect that the Company's assets are owned by it and that they are being included on the financial statement of its parent solely to comply with the requirements of GAAP. The Company will file its own tax returns and will not file a consolidated federal income tax return with any other entity unless required to do so by applicable law or regulation.

(c) The Company will be, and at all times will hold itself out to the public as, a legal entity separate and distinct from any other entity (including any of its affiliates), shall correct any known misunderstanding regarding its status as a separate entity, shall conduct business in its own name, and shall maintain and utilize separate stationery, invoices and checks.

(d) The Company shall maintain its bank accounts separate from any other person or entity other than a successor in interest and will not commingle its funds and other assets with those of any of its affiliates, other than any successor in interest, or any other person, and will not participate in a cash management system with any such party.

(e) The Company will not guarantee or become obligated for the debts of any other entity or person or pledge its assets for the benefit of any such entity or person and does not and will not hold itself out as being responsible for the debts or obligations of any other person, or hold out its credit as available to satisfy the obligations of any other person or entity.

(f) The Company shall allocate fairly and reasonably any overhead expenses that are shared with an affiliate, including paying for office space and services performed by any employee of an affiliate.

(g) The Company shall hold regular meetings, as appropriate, to conduct its business, and has done or caused to be done and will do all things necessary to observe all customary organizational and operational formalities and to preserve its existence.

(h) The Company shall pay its own liabilities and expenses out of its own funds drawn on its own, or any successor-in-interest's, bank account.

ARTICLE XII

DISPUTE RESOLUTION; CONFIDENTIALITY

Section 12.1 Dispute Resolution. In the event any Member or holder of units of the Company, including, without limitation, Series A Preferred Units (any such member or holder, a "Disputing Party"), commences litigation or, solely with respect to persons who have not executed a separation agreement in favor of the Initial Member unless such action constitutes a breach of such separation agreement, otherwise initiates any dispute or makes any claim, or takes any action that results in any third party making a claim, in each case related to the Company, or the management or operation thereof or the assets held thereby (each, a "Dispute") (i) against the Company, any Member thereof, any officer or director or other agent or representative or equity holder thereof (each, a "Company Party"), or (ii) that in any way does or could adversely impact any of the assets held by the Company, then with the consent of 75% of the Board, all pending and future distributions to the Disputing Party shall be immediately suspended and held in escrow by the Company (the "Dispute Escrow") until the final, non-appealable resolution of the Dispute, it being understood that the expiration of any applicable statute of limitations (including any applicable tolling periods with respect thereto) shall constitute such a resolution (any such resolution, a “Dispute Resolution Date”). The full balance of the Dispute Escrow shall be distributed to the Disputing Party promptly following the Dispute Resolution Date, net of the sum of (A) the full costs and expenses incurred by any Company Party in connection with such Dispute, including without limitation, costs and expenses of legal counsel, unless a court of competent jurisdiction has ruled in favor of Disputing Party in a final non-appealable judgment, and (B) any diminution in value to the assets held by the Company resulting from or in connection with such Dispute, as determined by the Board in its sole discretion. Any amount deducted from a Disputing Party’s distribution pursuant to the preceding sentence shall be reallocated pro rata to the other Series A Preferred Unit Holders based on their respective holdings of Series A Preferred Units.

Section 12.2 Confidentiality. All matters and information regarding the Company and the assets held thereby are strictly confidential (all such information, “Confidential Information”). No holder of units of the Company, including, without limitation, the Series A Preferred Units, shall be permitted to disclose or to use for any purpose any Confidential Information, except as (i) required by law or (ii) as directed and authorized in writing by the Company. In the event any unit holder violates the provisions of this Section 12.2 as determined by 75% of the Board, then the dispute resolution provisions of Section 12.1 hereof shall be deemed to apply as if the violating holder was a “Disputing Party” thereunder pending the Company’s resolution of such violation, including, without limitation, the netting provisions under Section 12.1 with respect to the costs, expenses and diminution resulting from such violation.

II. SERIES A PREFERRED UNITS

1. General.

1.1 Authorized/Issued Units. The number of authorized Series A Preferred Units shall consist of 10,000 Series A Preferred Units. The Company shall issue (or reissue, in the case of forfeited units) Series A Preferred Units to such persons and in such amounts designated by the Member, provided that (i) each such person shall be an employee of the Member at the time of issuance, and (ii) each such recipient shall not hold greater than a 10% beneficial interest in the Member at the time of issuance, and (iii) the aggregate number of such issued units shall not exceed the number of authorized Series A Preferred Units provided above. No holder of any Class A Preferred Units of the Company shall have any preemptive right to purchase units sold or issued by the Company except to the extent that such a right may from time to time be set forth in a written agreement between the Company and a unitholder.

1.2 Vesting. Each Series A Preferred Unit issued shall be deemed a “Restricted Series A Preferred Unit” until such unit or units vest in accordance with this Section 1.2 or Section 1.3 below. The Restricted Series A Preferred Units shall vest and become non-forfeitable on May 15, 2011. The period commencing on the date of issuance and ending on the date the Restricted Series A Preferred Units vest is referred to as the “Restricted Unit Period” as

1.3 Change in Control. If a Change in Control occurs, any Restricted Series A Preferred Units, to the extent then outstanding and not vested, shall become fully vested and non-forfeitable as of the date of such Change in Control. 1.4 Termination of Employment. In the event of the termination of any Series A Preferred Holder's employment or service with the Member or affiliate thereof, as applicable, for any reason prior to the lapsing of the restrictions in accordance with Section 1.2 above with respect to any of the Restricted Series A Preferred Units granted hereunder, the entire unvested portion of the Restricted Series A Preferred Units held by such person shall be automatically forfeited as of the date of termination. In the event of any forfeiture, such forfeited units will cease to remain outstanding unless reissued pursuant to Section 1.1 above. Neither the holder nor any of such holder's successors, heirs, assigns or personal representatives shall have any rights or interests in any Restricted Series A Preferred Units that are so forfeited.

1.5 Transfer. No Restricted Series A Preferred Units nor any interest therein, may be sold, assigned, transferred, pledged, hypothecated or otherwise disposed of, except by will or the laws of descent and distribution, during the Restricted Unit Period. 3. Rights on Liquidation. The Series A Preferred Units shall have no rights with respect to rights on liquidation, dissolution and winding up of the affairs of the Company, other than with respect to (i) payment of accrued and unpaid dividends through the date of liquidation or dissolution, and (ii) distribution of all other cash and assets of the Company remaining following such liquidation or dissolution.

4. Voting Rights. No holder of shares of Series A Preferred Units shall be entitled to vote.

ATTACHMENT TO FORM 8275 - DISCLOSURE STATEMENT

HIGHLAND CAPITAL MANAGEMENT, L.P. OWNS A DIRECT INTEREST IN HIGHLAND FINANCIAL PARTNERS, L.P. ("HFP"). HFP OWNS A MAJORITY INTEREST IN THE FOLLOWING CONTROLLED FOREIGN CORPORATIONS ("CFCs") AND FOREIGN PARTNERSHIP: HIGHLANDER EURO CDO III B.V. (CFC), ROCKWALL CDO II, LTD. (CFC), STRATFORD CLO, LTD. (CFC), WESTCHESTER CLO, LTD. (CFC), AND EASTLAND CLO, LTD. (FOREIGN PARTNERSHIP). THE FIRST YEAR OF OPERATION FOR EACH OF THESE ENTITIES ENDED IN 2007. PURSUANT TO SECTION 1.964-1T OF THE TREASURY REGULATIONS, HFP ADOPTED THE MARK TO MARKET METHOD OF ACCOUNTING IN COMPUTING THE INCOME OF THESE CFCs. THE FOREIGN PARTNERSHIP, WHICH IS CONTROLLED BY HFP, ALSO ADOPTED THE MARK TO MARKET METHOD OF ACCOUNTING ON ITS 2007 TAX RETURN. THE MARK TO MARKET METHOD OF ACCOUNTING IS A PERMISSIBLE METHOD UNDER SECTION 446 OF THE INTERNAL REVENUE CODE AND THE REGULATIONS PROMULGATED THEREUNDER FOR EACH OF THESE ENTITIES.

THE CFCs AND THE FOREIGN PARTNERSHIP ARE SPECIAL PURPOSE VEHICLES THAT ISSUE COLLATERALIZED LOAN OBLIGATIONS ("CLOs") OR COLLATERALIZED DEBT OBLIGATIONS ("CDOs"). THE CFCs AND THE FOREIGN PARTNERSHIP TYPICALLY HOLD SECURITIES IN THE FORM OF NOTES, LOANS HELD FOR SALE, AND LOANS NOT HELD FOR SALE ALL OF WHICH ARE SECURITIES WITHIN THE MEANING OF SECTION 475(c). FOR FINANCIAL REPORTING PURPOSES, THE CFCs AND THE FOREIGN PARTNERSHIP ACCOUNT FOR THE NOTES UNDER GENERALLY ACCEPTED ACCOUNTING PURPOSES ("GAAP") USING THE MARK TO MARKET METHOD OF ACCOUNTING. THE CFCs AND THE FOREIGN PARTNERSHIP ACCOUNT FOR THE LOANS HELD FOR SALE ON THE MARK TO MARKET METHOD OF ACCOUNTING UNDER GAAP. THE LOANS NOT HELD FOR SALE ARE ACCOUNTED FOR UNDER THE AMORTIZED COST METHOD OF ACCOUNTING FOR GAAP WITH ALLOWANCES FOR LOAN LOSSES THAT CONSIDER MARK TO MARKET FLUCTUATIONS AS AN INDICATION OF POTENTIAL IMPAIRMENT.

HFP IS NOT A TRADER OR A DEALER IN SECURITIES AND IS NOT RELYING ON SECTION 475(f) IN ADOPTING THE MARK TO MARKET METHOD OF ACCOUNTING. THE UTILIZATION OF THE MARK TO MARKET METHOD OF ACCOUNTING IS A PERMISSIBLE METHOD OF ACCOUNTING UNDER SECTION 446 AND IS NOT LIMITED TO DEALERS OR TRADERS IN SECURITIES. WHEN ADOPTING SECTION 475(f), THE SENATE FINANCE COMMITTEE STATED THAT "[M]ARK-TO-MARKET ACCOUNTING GENERALLY PROVIDES A CLEAR REFLECTION OF INCOME WITH RESPECT TO ASSETS THAT ARE TRADED ON ESTABLISHED MARKETS. FOR MARKET-VALUED ASSETS, MARK-TO-MARKET ACCOUNTING IMPOSES FEW BURDENS AND OFFERS FEW OPPORTUNITIES FOR MANIPULATION." S. REP. NO. 105-33 AT 128 (1997).

HFP WILL FILE FORM 5471, INFORMATION RETURN OF U.S. PERSONS WITH RESPECT TO CERTAIN FOREIGN CORPORATIONS, FORM 8865, INFORMATION RETURN OF U.S. PERSONS WITH RESPECT TO CERTAIN FOREIGN PARTNERSHIPS, AND FORM 1065, U.S. RETURN OF PARTNERSHIP INCOME, REPORTING INFORMATION THAT IN PART REFLECTS THE MARK TO MARKET METHOD OF ACCOUNTING ADOPTED BY THE RESPECTIVE ENTITIES. UNDER THE MARK TO MARKET METHOD OF ACCOUNTING, THE CFCs AND THE FOREIGN PARTNERSHIP WILL REALIZE TOTAL CAPITAL LOSSES OF $210,309,006, $99,171,674 OF WHICH WILL FLOW THROUGH AS A REDUCTION OF SUBPART F INCOME FOR HFP. HIGHLAND CAPITAL MANAGEMENT, L.P. OWNS A DIRECT INTEREST IN HIGHLAND CREDIT OPPORTUNITIES CDO, L.P. ("CDO"). CDO OWNS A MAJORITY INTEREST IN HIGHLAND CREDIT OPPORTUNITIES CDO, LTD. (HCO), A CONTROLLED FOREIGN CORPORATION (CFC). THE FIRST YEAR OF OPERATION FOR THIS ENTITY ENDED IN 2006. PURSUANT TO SECTION 1.964-1T OF THE TREASURY REGULATIONS, CDO, ON BEHALF OF THE CFC AS MAJORITY SHAREHOLDER, ADOPTED THE MARK TO MARKET METHOD OF ACCOUNTING IN COMPUTING THE INCOME OF THIS CFC IN THAT YEAR. CDO AND HCO BELIEVE THAT THE MARK TO MARKET METHOD OF ACCOUNTING IS A PERMISSIBLE METHOD UNDER SECTION 446 OF THE INTERNAL REVENUE CODE AND THE REGULATIONS PROMULGATED THEREUNDER FOR THIS ENTITY. HCO HAS CONTINUED TO USE THE MARK TO MARKET METHOD OF ACCOUNTING IN COMPUTING ITS INCOME IN 2007.

HCO IS A SPECIAL PURPOSE VEHICLE THAT ISSUES FLOATING RATE NOTES AND PREFERRED SHARES. TYPICALLY, IT HOLDS SECURITIES IN THE FORM OF NOTES AND LOANS, ALL OF WHICH ARE SECURITIES WITHIN THE MEANING OF SECTION 475(c). FOR FINANCIAL REPORTING PURPOSES, HCO ACCOUNTS FOR THE SECURITIES UNDER GENERALLY ACCEPTED ACCOUNTING PRINCIPLES ("GAAP") USING THE MARK TO MARKET METHOD OF ACCOUNTING. IN COMPUTING TAXABLE INCOME, SECTION 1.446-1(a)(2) PROVIDES THAT "A METHOD OF ACCOUNTING WHICH REFLECTS THE CONSISTENT APPLICATION OF GENERALLY ACCEPTED ACCOUNTING PRINCIPLES IN A PARTICULAR TRADE OR BUSINESS...WILL ORDINARILY BE REGARDED AS CLEARLY REFLECTING INCOME."

CDO IS NOT A TRADER OR A DEALER IN SECURITIES AND IS NOT RELYING ON SECTION 475(f) IN ADOPTING THE MARK TO MARKET METHOD OF ACCOUNTING. THE UTILIZATION OF THE MARK TO MARKET METHOD OF ACCOUNTING IS A PERMISSIBLE METHOD OF ACCOUNTING UNDER SECTION 446 AND IS NOT LIMITED TO DEALERS OR TRADERS IN SECURITIES. WHEN ADOPTING SECTION 475(f), THE SENATE FINANCE COMMITTEE STATED THAT "[M]ARK-TO-MARKET ACCOUNTING GENERALLY PROVIDES A CLEAR REFLECTION OF INCOME WITH RESPECT TO ASSETS THAT ARE TRADED ON ESTABLISHED MARKETS. FOR MARKET-VALUED ASSETS, MARK-TO-MARKET ACCOUNTING IMPOSES FEW BURDENS AND OFFERS FEW OPPORTUNITIES FOR MANIPULATION." S. REP. NO. 105-33 AT 128 (1997).

CDO WILL FILE FORM 5471, INFORMATION RETURN OF U.S. PERSONS WITH RESPECT TO CERTAIN FOREIGN CORPORATIONS, REPORTING INFORMATION THAT IN PART REFLECTS THE MARK TO MARKET METHOD OF ACCOUNTING ADOPTED BY HCO. UNDER THE MARK TO MARKET METHOD OF ACCOUNTING, HCO WILL REALIZE A DEFICIT IN EARNINGS AND PROFITS OF ($13,206,622) FOR 2007. BEFORE CDO FILED ITS RETURNS AND PROVIDED TAX DOCUMENTS INCLUDING DISCLOSURES AND FORMS 5471 TO VARIOUS INVESTORS, FORMS 5471 WERE SENT TO SOME MINORITY INTEREST HOLDERS REPORTING INFORMATION THAT IN PART REFLECTS THE REALIZATION METHOD OF ACCOUNTING. CDO IS PROVIDING THIS NOTICE TO ALL OTHER U.S. DOMESTIC SHAREHOLDERS THAT ARE REQUIRED TO RECEIVE NOTICE OF AN ADOPTION OF AN ACCOUNTING METHOD PURSUANT TO SECTION 1.964-1T(c)(3)(iii) OF THE TREASURY REGULATIONS.

Attachment to Form 8275: Loss from worthlessness of Highland Capital Multi-Strategy Fund, L.P.

Part II, Line 1 – Detailed Explanation

Highland Capital Management, L.P. (“HCM”) has reported on Form 1065, Line 6 a $349,568,517 ordinary loss under I.R.C. § 165 with respect to the worthlessness of HCM’s partnership interest in Highland Capital Multi-Strategy Fund, L.P. (“HMSF LP”). The facts relating to this loss are as follows:

Highland Capital Management

HCM is an investment advisor registered with the SEC and specializes in alternative investment strategies. HCM serves as an investment advisor to several alternative investment partnerships (“hedge funds”) that it has organized and marketed to investors. HCM has a significant equity interest in each of the hedge funds that it manages, which is required to attract additional capital investments from unrelated investors. The capital investments by unrelated investors provided the asset base on which HCM earned significant advisory fees.

In addition to serving as an investment advisor, HCM also engages in securities trading primarily for its own account.

Highland Multi-Strategy Fund

In 2006, HCM entered into negotiations with Barclays Bank PLC (“Barclays”) regarding a prepaid forward transaction (discussed below) relating to a portfolio of equity interests that HCM held in certain HCM managed hedge funds. Because the prepaid forward contract would create economic exposure to a portfolio of HCM managed hedge funds, HCM determined that it should enter into the prepaid forward transaction through a subsidiary partnership structure that could function as a fund-of-funds arrangement for third party investors and thereby create an additional source of advisory fee income for HCM. Accordingly, HCM formed Highland Multi-Strategy Master Fund, L.P., a Bermuda limited partnership (“HMSF”), to engage in the prepaid forward transaction with Barclays.

HMSF’s sole limited partner is HMSF LP. HCM and its affiliates own all of HMSF LP. HMSF LP has never had any assets or activities other than its equity interest in HMSF.

HMSF’s sole general partner is Highland Multi-Strategy Fund GP, L.P. Highland Multi-Strategy Fund GP, L.P. is owned 99% by HCM as limited partner, and 1% by Highland Multi-Strategy Fund GP, L.L.C. as general partner. Highland Multi-Strategy Fund GP, L.L.C. is owned 100% by HCM.

For a number of non-tax reasons, HCM subsequently abandoned the idea of marketing additional equity interests in HMSF to third party investors, and HMSF and HMSF LP never received any equity contributions from persons not affiliated with HCM.

HMSF's Activities

The Derivative Ownership Transactions

On August 1, 2006, HMSF formed Highland Multi-Strategy Onshore Master SubFund, L.L.C. ("SubFund I") for the purpose of entering into a prepaid forward contract with Barclays. SubFund I is owned 99% by HMSF and 1% by HCM. SubFund I paid $156,349,569 at inception of the contract and was entitled to a cash payment from Barclays at maturity of the contract equal to the excess of

- (1) the value of a notional portfolio of investment funds (the "Reference Portfolio") having an initial value of $312,699,138, over
- (2) a specified "Notional Amount" initially equal to $156,349,569 and increased by an accretion amount based on one-month USD LIBOR plus 0.90%.

In connection with entering into the prepaid forward contract, SubFund I also transferred $53,158,854 in cash to a brokerage account (the "Collateral Account") in SubFund I's name. The Collateral Account was pledged to Barclays as security for any negative value for the Prepaid Forward at maturity or early termination.

In February 2007, HMSF formed Highland Multi-Strategy Onshore Master SubFund II, L.L.C. ("SubFund II") for the purpose of entering into an accreting strike option contract with Barclays. SubFund II is owned 99% by HMSF and 1% by HCM. The accreting strike option contract grants SubFund II the option to purchase, at the "Final Valuation Date" specified in the contract, the cash equivalent value of a notional portfolio of HCM managed investment funds (the "Reference Portfolio") for a strike price of $178,584,722.22 (subject to accretion based on LIBOR plus 1.4%). At the inception of the contract, the Reference Portfolio had a value of $250,000,000, and SubFund II paid Barclays an option premium of $71,428,571.43.

The Strand Funding Transactions

During 2007, HCM and The Bank of Nova Scotia ("BNS") entered into a total return swap ("Swap") whose notional value was tied to a portfolio of loans held by Strand Funding, an affiliate of BNS. Under the Swap, HCM owed BNS a floating payment based on an interest rate applied to the book value of the underlying loan portfolio, and BNS owed HCM an asset payment equal to the realized interest and proceeds from the underlying loan portfolio. When the Swap matured in June 2008, there were certain loans that Strand Funding had not been able to sell in the open market and therefore HCM and BNS could not settle the Swap.

HCM arranged for HMSF to enter into a series of "LSTA Par/Near Par Trade Conformations" with Strand Funding pursuant to which Strand Funding as Seller purported to assign the underlying loans to HMSF as Buyer. HCM then arranged for most of the loans be assigned by HMSF as Seller to unrelated third parties as Buyers under separate LSTA confirmations. Pursuant to a Multilateral Netting Agreement entered into by Strand Funding, HMSF, and the third party buyer, Strand Funding assigned the loans directly to the third party buyer. The amount due under the original confirmations between HMSF and Strand Funding was funded from the proceeds of the assignments to the third party buyers. These transactions produced a net profit to HMSF.

For certain of the loans that Strand Funding purported to assign to HMSF, HCM was not able to find a third party buyer during 2008 (principally because the borrowers under the loans were in severe financial distress). The trade confirmations between Strand Funding and HMSF with respect to those loans remained open and unsettled as of December 31, 2008. As of December 31, 2008, the amount payable to Strand Funding under the confirmations relating to the unsettled trades was $10,457,201, and the underlying loans had a mark-to-market value of $6,181,618. During 2009, BNS and HCM agreed to cancel the unsettled trades, and HCM accounted to BNS under the Swap for the loss in value of the loans.

Assets and Liabilities

As of December 31, 2008, HMSF's financial statements reflect assets of $6,347,039 (consisting of $165,421 cash and $6,181,618 of business securities representing the value of the loans under the unsettled trades with Strand Funding), and liabilities of $11,513,448 (consisting of $1,056,247 payable to HCM for overhead expense allocations and $10,457,201 payable to Strand Funding in connection with the unsettled trades).

Worthlessness and Abandonment Events

During 2008, the HCM managed hedge funds underlying the Barclays derivative ownership contracts lost significant value and liquidity. In October 2008 Barclays gave notices that it was terminating the contracts. Due to the illiquidity of the underlying hedge fund interests and other factors, the contracts were not actually terminated during 2008. HCM determined that Barclays decision to terminate the contracts in October 2008 eliminated any reasonable hope or expectation of the SubFund entities recovering any value under the contracts or in any assets held in connection with the contracts.

By letters dated December 9, 2008, HMSF advised the SubFund entities that HMSF had abandoned its equity interests in entities. The abandonment was recognized by HCM as managing member of the SubFund entities and, by amendment to the SubFund entity operating agreements, HMSF was stricken as a member of the SubFund entities effective as of December 9, 2008. To preserve the SubFund entities' tax classification as partnerships, Strand Advisors II, Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of HCM, was admitted as a limited partner in the SubFund entities effective as of December 9, 2008, acquiring a 1% equity interest for no consideration.

As of not later than December 31, 2008, the loans underlying HMSF's open trade confirmations with Strand Funding had a value substantially less than the amount payable to Strand Funding under the trade confirmation, and there was no reasonable hope or expectation that the value of the loans would increase to an amount in excess of the amount payable to Strand Funding.

As of December 30, 2008, HMSF had no net assets and no reasonable hope or expectation of any realizing any net assets. Accordingly, HCM determined that its equity interest in HMSF LP was worthless as of not later than December 30, 2008.

Tax Reporting

HCM has reported on its tax return for its taxable year ended December 31, 2008 a loss with respect to the worthlessness of its partnership interest in HMSF LP.<sup>1</sup> The loss is equal to HCM's adjusted tax basis in the HMSF LP partnership interest as of the date of worthlessness.<sup>2</sup> HCM wrote down its tax basis for its equity interest in HMSF LP to zero as of the date the interest in HMSF LP became worthless.<sup>3</sup> In computing HCM's tax basis in its interest in HMSF LP as of the date of worthlessness, HCM has not taken into account its distributive share of HMSF LP's tax items for the 2008 tax year through the worthlessness date because HCM did not sell, exchange, liquidate, or otherwise dispose of or terminate its interest in HMSF LP as a result of the worthlessness of the interest.<sup>4</sup> HCM has not claimed any deduction for its distributive share of HMSF LP loss reported for HMSF LP's taxable year ending December 31, 2008 because HCM's adjusted tax basis for its HMSF LP partnership interest was zero as of December 31, 2008.<sup>5</sup>

Because the worthlessness of HCM's interest in HMSF LP did not give rise to any actual or constructive discharge of HMSF LP liabilities under I.R.C. § 752,<sup>6</sup> HCM's loss from such worthlessness is an ordinary loss rather than a capital loss.<sup>7</sup> Moreover, the loss is a business loss because HCM's interest in HMSF LP was attributable to and derived from HCM's business as an investment advisor and as a securities trader and was acquired with the dominant motive of generating a source of business income, and not with the dominant motive of making or preserving a non-business investment.<sup>8</sup>

The ordinary loss reported on HCM's tax return for its tax year ended December 31, 2008 flows through to HCM's partners as of December 31, 2008.<sup>9</sup>

The Service could challenge HCM's tax reporting of the worthlessness loss under a variety of theories, which could include challenging the following assertions set forth above: (a) that HCM's HMSF LP partnership interest became worthless during HCM's tax year ending December 31, 2008, (b) that HCM's loss is calculated without taking into account its distributive share of HMSF LP tax items (if any) for HMSF LP's taxable year ended December 31, 2008, (c) that HCM's loss with respect to the worthlessness of its HMSF LP partnership interest is an ordinary loss attributable to HCM's business.

<sup>6</sup> HMSF LP had no direct or indirect partnership liabilities. The SubFund entities and HMSF LP had no direct liabilities. HMSF's only liability was an intercompany payable to HCM. This recourse liability is allocated entirely to HMSF GP in its status as general partner. See Treas. Reg. § 1.752-2(a) (partner's share of partnership recourse liability equals portion for which the partner or a related person bears the economic risk of loss); (c)(1) (partner bears the risk of loss for a partnership liability to the extent that the partner or a related person is the lender and risk of loss is not borne by another person); (k)(1) (special rule for disregarded entities does not apply to the extent the owner is at risk with respect to the obligation). In any event, the worthlessness of HCM's HMSF LP partnership interest did not constitute a disposition of the partnership interest, or otherwise affect HMSF LP's direct or indirect liabilities, HCM's status as a partner in HMSF LP, or the allocation of HMSF LP liabilities under I.R.C. § 752. Cf. Abdalla v. Commissioner, 647 F.2d 487 (5th Cir. 1981) (worthlessness of S corporation stock is not a "disposition" of the stock for purposes S corporation loss allocations). Accordingly, the worthlessness event did not result in any reduction in HCM's share (if any) of HMSF LP liabilities under Treas. Reg. § 1.752-2 or any deemed distribution under I.R.C. § 752(b).

Part II, Line 1 – Detailed Explanation

The taxpayer, Highland Capital Management, L.P. (“HCM”), has reported on Form 1065, Line 6, a $276,533,895 ordinary loss under I.R.C. § 165 with respect to taxpayer’s partnership interest in Highland Financial Partners, L.P. (“HFP”). The facts relating to this loss are as follows:

Highland Capital Management

HCM is an investment advisor registered with the SEC and specializes in alternative investment strategies. HCM serves as an investment advisor to several alternative investment funds (“funds”) that it has organized and marketed to investors. HCM has a significant equity interest in each of the funds that it manages, which is required to attract additional capital investments from unrelated investors. The capital investments by unrelated investors provided the asset base on which HCM earned significant advisory fees.

Highland Financial Partners

HCM formed HFP in January 2006 to hold equity interests in certain leveraged credit subsidiaries and other assets. HFP was initially capitalized by issuing limited partner interests to HCM and to certain institutional investors (who initially held their interests through a trust). As of December 31, 2006, HFP had approximately $11.7 billion in total assets and $490.4 million in net equity. HCM held approximately 12.2% of HFP’s equity on a fully diluted basis.

In addition to the roughly $405 million of capital raised from investors pursuant to private placements in February and October 2006, HCM anticipated that HFP would raise significant capital from one or more public offerings of HFP common units, thereby increasing HFP’s equity subject to base management fees and income potentially subject to incentive allocations. On April 27, 2007, HFP filed an amended preliminary registration statement on Form S-1 seeking to effect an initial public offering of $50,000,000 of limited partner units. Due to unfavorable market conditions that developed thereafter in connection with the deterioration of the credit markets, and for other reasons, HFP withdrew the registration statement on September 7, 2007.

Additional background information regarding HFP and HCM can be obtained at <http://www.sec.gov/Archives/edgar/data/1354166/000095013407009372/d40436a1sv1za.htm>, and is incorporated herein by reference.

Worthlessness Events

During the fourth quarter of 2008, due to the continuing deterioration in the credit markets, HFP became insolvent beyond any reasonable hope or expectation of recovery. HCM determined that its partnership interest in HFP was worthless as of no later than November 30, 2008. Likewise, the taxpayer determined that its direct equity interest in HFP was worthless as of November 30, 2008. The interests in HFP became worthless (such that no investor would be willing to pay any consideration for an HFP unit) no later than November 30, 2008, through a confluence of factors: (1) deterioration in the credit markets rendered HFP's expected cash flows to have no prospect to ever be sufficient to pay HFP's outstanding debts; (2) loan value erosion within the CLO (collateralized loan obligation) entities held by HFP resulted in violation of multiple HFP coverage tests causing permanent impairment of HFP's expected cash flows; (3) major lawsuits filed in the fourth quarter of 2008; (4) HFP's balance sheet reflected approximately $1 billion in negative equity.

Tax Reporting

HCM has reported on its tax return for its taxable year ended December 31, 2008 an ordinary loss with respect to the worthlessness of its partnership interest in HFP.<sup>1</sup> The loss is equal to HCM's adjusted tax basis in the HFP equity interest as of the date of worthlessness,<sup>2</sup> including basis attributable to HCM's allocable share of HFP liabilities.<sup>3</sup> HCM wrote down its tax basis for its partnership interest in HFP to zero as of November 30, 2008.<sup>4</sup> In computing HCM's adjusted tax basis in its interest in HFP as of November 30, 2008, HCM has not taken into account its distributive share of HFP's tax items for the 2008 tax year through the worthlessness date because HCM did not sell, exchange, liquidate, or otherwise dispose of or terminate its interest in HFP as a result of the worthlessness of the interest.<sup>5</sup> HCM has, however, taken into account any changes in its allocable share of HFP liabilities during the 2008 year through the date of worthlessness.<sup>6</sup>

The worthlessness of HCM's HFP partnership interest is not a disposition of the partnership interest for federal income tax purposes,<sup>7</sup> and HCM retains its allocable share of HFP liabilities until it ceases to be an HFP partner. HCM has taken into

<sup>6</sup> See Treas. Reg. § 1.752-4(d) (partner's share of partnership liabilities determined "whenever the determination is necessary in order to determine the tax liability of the partner"). Cf. Rev. Rul. 94-4, 1994-1 C.B. 196 (deemed distributions under I.R.C. § 752(b) from reductions in liabilities are taken into account as of the last day of the partnership taxable year to the extent of the partner's distributive share of income for the partnership taxable year).

account as of December 31, 2008 any increase or decrease in its allocable share of HFP liabilities from November 30, 2008 through December 31, 2008.<sup>8</sup> HCM has not claimed any deduction for its distributive share of the HFP loss reported for HFP's taxable year ending December 31, 2008 to the extent the loss exceeds HCM's adjusted tax basis for its HFP equity interest as of December 31, 2008 (taking into account the write down of its tax basis to zero as of November 30, 2008 and any changes in HCM's allocable share of HFP liabilities from November 30, 2008 through December 31, 2008).<sup>9</sup>

Because the worthlessness of HCM's partnership interest in HFP did not give rise to any actual or constructive discharge of HFP liabilities under I.R.C. § 752,<sup>10</sup> HCM's loss from such worthlessness is an ordinary loss rather than a capital loss.<sup>11</sup> In addition, the loss is a business loss for purposes of I.R.C. §§ 62(a)(1) and 172 because HCM's interest in HFP was attributable to and derived from HCM's business as an investment advisor and was acquired with the dominant motive of generating a source of business income, and not with the dominant motive of making or preserving a non-business investment.<sup>12</sup>

The ordinary business loss reported on HCM's tax return for its tax year ended December 31, 2008 will flow through to HCM partners as of December 31, 2008.<sup>8</sup>

The Service could challenge the taxpayer's tax reporting of the worthlessness loss under a variety of theories, which could include challenging the following assertions set forth above: (a) that the taxpayer's HFP partnership interest became worthless during the taxpayer's year ending December 31, 2008, (b) that the taxpayer's loss is calculated without taking into account its distributive share of HFP's tax items (if any) for HFP's taxable year ended December 31, 2008, (c) that the taxpayer's loss with respect to the worthlessness of its HFP partnership interest is an ordinary loss attributable to HCM's business.

<sup>10</sup> The worthlessness of HCM's interest in HFP had no effect on HFP's direct or indirect liabilities, on HCM's status as a partner in HFP, or on the allocation of HFP liabilities under I.R.C. § 752. Accordingly, the worthlessness event did not result in any reduction in HCM's share of HFP liabilities under Treas. Reg. § 1.752-2 or any deemed distribution under I.R.C. § 752(b).

Highland Capital Management, L.P.

Attachment to Form 8275: Loss From Highland Financial Partners, L.P.

The taxpayer was allocated a loss from Highland Financial Partners, L.P. ("HFP") based on the amounts below with respect to taxpayer's interest in HFP. The loss is not claimed on the taxpayer's return because the taxpayer's tax basis for its HFP partnership interest as of the end of HFP's 2008 tax year was zero. Nevertheless, because the losses exceeded $2 million and the underlying asset is an interest in a passthrough entity, the loss is a reportable loss. The following information was provided by HFP with respect to the loss. The discussion below uses the term "taxpayer" to refer to HFP.

Highland Financial Partners, L.P. ("HFP") which owns a majority interest in the following controlled foreign corporations ("CFCs") and foreign partnership: Highland Euro CDO III B.V. (CFC), Rockwall CDO II, Ltd. (CFC), Stratford CLO, Ltd. (CFC), Westchester CLO, Ltd. (CFC), and Eastland CLO, Ltd. (foreign partnership). The first year of operation for each of these entities ended in 2007. Pursuant to § 1.964-1T of the Treasury Regulations, HFP adopted the mark to market method of accounting in computing the income of these CFCs. The foreign partnership, which is controlled by HFP, also adopted the mark to market method of accounting on its 2007 tax return. The mark to market method of accounting is a permissible method under § 446 of the Internal Revenue Code and the regulations promulgated thereunder for each of these entities.

The CFCs and the foreign partnership are special purpose vehicles that issue Collateralized Loan Obligations ("CLOs") or Collateralized Debt Obligations (CDOs). The CFCs and the foreign partnership typically hold securities in the form of notes, loans held for sale, and loans not held for sale all of which are securities within the meaning of § 475(c). For financial reporting purposes, the CFC's and the foreign partnership account for the notes under Generally Accepted Accounting Principles ("GAAP") using the mark to market method of accounting. The CFCs and the foreign partnership account for the loans held for sale on the mark to market method of accounting under GAAP. The loans not held for sale are accounted for under the amortized cost method of accounting for GAAP with allowances for loan losses that consider mark to market fluctuations as an indication of potential impairment.

HFP is not a trader or a dealer in securities and is not relying on § 475(f) in adopting the mark to market method of accounting. The utilization of the mark to market method of accounting is a permissible method of accounting under § 446 and is not limited to dealers or traders in securities. When adopting § 475(f), the Senate Finance Committee stated that "[m]ark-to-market accounting generally provides a clear reflection of income with respect to assets that are traded on established markets. For market-valued assets, mark-to-market accounting imposes few burdens and offers few opportunities for manipulation." S. Rep. No. 105-33 at 128 (1997).

Attachment to Form 8275 – Disclosure Statement

Highland Capital Management, L.P. (“HCM”) owns a direct interest in Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, L.P. (“CDO”). CDO owns a majority interest in Highland Credit Opportunities CDO, Ltd. (“HCO”), a Controlled Foreign Corporation (CFC). The amounts and related disclosures shown on this Form 8275 have been passed through to HCM by CDO. The first year of operation for HCO ended in 2006. Pursuant to Section 1.964-1T of the Treasury Regulations, CDO, on behalf of CFC as majority shareholder, adopted the mark to market method of accounting in computing the income of this CFC in that year. CDO and HCO believe that the mark to market method of accounting is a permissible method under Section 446 of the Internal Revenue Code and the regulations promulgated thereunder for this entity. HCO has continued to use the mark to market method of accounting in computing its income in 2008.

HCO is a special purpose vehicle that issues Floating Rate Notes and Preferred Shares. Typically, it holds securities in the form of notes and loans, all of which are securities within the meaning of Section 475(c). For financial reporting purposes, HCO accounts for the securities under Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (“GAAP”) using the mark to market method of accounting. In computing taxable income, Section 1.446-1(a)(2) provides that “A method of accounting which reflects the consistent application of generally accepted accounting principles in a particular trade or business...will ordinarily be regarded as clearly reflecting income.”

CDO is not a trader or a dealer in securities and is not relying on Section 475(f) in adopting the mark to market method of accounting. The utilization of the mark to market method of accounting is a permissible method of accounting under Section 446 and is not limited to dealers or traders in securities. When adopting Section 475(f), the Senate Finance Committee stated that “[m]ark-to-market accounting generally provides a clear reflection of income with respect to assets that are traded on established markets. For market-valued assets, mark-to-market accounting imposes few burdens and offers few opportunities for manipulation.” S. Rep. No. 105-33 at 128 (1997).

CDO will file Form 5471, Information Return of U.S. Persons with Respect to Certain Foreign Corporations, reporting information that in part reflects the mark to market method of accounting adopted by the HCO. Under the mark to market method of accounting, HCO will realize a deficit in earnings and profits of ($547,397,844) for 2008. Before CDO filed its returns and provided tax documents including disclosures and Forms 5471 to various investors, Form 5471 were sent to some minority interest holders reporting information that in part reflects the realization method of accounting. CDO is providing this notice to all other U.S. domestic shareholders that are required to receive notice of adoption of an accounting method pursuant to Section 1.964-1T(c)(3)(iii) of the Treasury Regulations.

Attachment to Form 8275 – Disclosure Statement

Highland Capital Management, L.P. (“Taxpayer”) is directly invested in Highland Crusader, L.P. (“HC”). HC has passed through to the taxpayer on Schedule K, Line 11F, a loss with respect to HC’s interest in Highland Crusader Offshore Partners, L.P. (“Master Fund”). Included in the HC’s distributive share of the Master Fund loss is a $16,358,789 ordinary loss claimed by the Master Fund under I.R.C. § 165 with respect to the worthlessness of the Master Fund’s partnership interest in Highland Financial Partners, L.P. (“HFP”). This loss is a reportable transaction, as defined in Treas. Reg. § 1.6011-4(b)(5), because the loss exceeds $2 million and the asset is an interest in a pass-through entity.<sup>1</sup>

During the fourth quarter of 2008, due to the continuing deterioration in the credit markets, HFP became insolvent beyond any reasonable hope or expectation of recovery. The Master Fund determined that its equity interest in HFP was worthless as of November 30, 2008. The interest in HFP became worthless (such that no investor would be willing to pay any consideration for an HFP unit) no later than November 30, 2008, through a confluence of factors: (1) deterioration in the credit markets rendered HFP’s expected cash flows to have no prospect to ever be sufficient to pay HFP’s outstanding debts; (2) loan value erosion within CLO (collateralized loan obligation) entities held by HFP resulted in violation of multiple HFP coverage tests causing permanent impairment of HFP’s expected cash flows; (3) major lawsuits filed in the fourth quarter of 2008; (4) HFP’s balance sheet reflected approximately $1 billion in negative equity.

The Master Fund has reported in its tax return for its taxable year ended December 31, 2008, an ordinary loss with respect to the worthlessness of its partnership interest in HFP.<sup>2</sup> The loss is equal to the Master Fund’s adjusted tax basis in the HFP partnership interest as of the date of worthlessness,<sup>3</sup> including the basis attributable to the Master Fund’s allocable share of HFP liabilities.<sup>4</sup> The Master Fund will write down its tax basis for its equity interest in HFP to zero as of November 30, 2008.<sup>5</sup> The Master Fund will not claim any deduction for its distributive share of loss reported for HFP’s taxable year ending December 31, 2008 because its tax basis will be zero at that time.<sup>6</sup> In computing the Master Fund’s tax basis in its interest in HFP as of November 30, 2008, the Master Fund will not take into account its distributive share of HFP’s tax items for the 2008 tax year through worthlessness date because the Master

Fund did not sell, exchange, liquidate, or otherwise dispose of or terminate its interest in HFP as a result of the worthlessness of the interest.<sup>7</sup> The worthlessness of an asset is not a disposition of that asset for Federal income tax purposes, and a partner retains a share of the liabilities of a partnership for which the partner is liable under the rules of Section 752 and the regulations thereunder until that partner is released from the liability for those partnership's debts under the law.<sup>8</sup> The Master Fund will, however, take into account any changes in its allocable share of HFP liabilities during the 2008 year through the date of worthlessness.<sup>9</sup>

The worthlessness of the Master Fund's interest in HFP does not terminate the Master Fund's status as an HFP partner. The Master Fund will take into account, as of December 31, 2008, any increase or decrease in its allocable share of HFP liabilities from November 30, 2008 through December 31, 2008.<sup>10</sup> The Master Fund will not claim any deduction for its distributive share of the HFP loss reported for HFP's taxable year ending December 31, 2008, to the extent the loss exceeds the Master Fund's adjusted basis for its HFP partnership interest as of December 31, 2008 (taking into account the write down of its tax basis to zero as of November 30, 2008, and any changes in the Master Fund's allocable share of HFP liabilities from November 30, 2008 through December 31, 2008).<sup>11</sup>

Because the worthlessness of the Master Fund's partnership interest in HFP did not give rise to any actual or constructive discharge of HFP liabilities under I.R.C. Section 752,<sup>12</sup> the Master Fund's loss from such worthlessness is an ordinary rather than capital loss.<sup>13</sup>

<sup>8</sup> Cf. Abdalla v. Commissioner, 647 F. 2d 487 (5th Cir. 1981) (worthlessness of S corporation stock is not a "disposition" of the stock for purposes of S corporation loss allocations).

<sup>9</sup> See Treas. Reg. § 1.752-4(d) (partner's share of partnership liabilities determined "whenever the determination is necessary in order to determine the tax liability of the partner"). Cf. Rev. Rul. 94-4, 1994-1 C. B. 196 (deemed distributions under I.R.C. § 752(b) from reductions in liabilities are taken into account as of the last day of the partnership taxable year to the extent of the partner's distributive share of income for the partnership taxable year).

<sup>12</sup> The worthlessness of the Master Fund's interest in HFP had no effect on HFP's direct or indirect liabilities, on the Master Fund's status as a partner in HFP, or on the allocation of HFP liabilities under I.R.C. § 752. Accordingly, the worthlessness event did not result in any reduction in the Master Fund's share of HFP liabilities under Treas. Reg. § 1.752-2 or any deemed distribution under I.R.C. § 752(b).

Line 7b: Description of Expected Tax Benefits

Highland Capital Management, L.P. ("HCM") has reported on Form 1065, Line 6 a $349,568,517 ordinary loss under I.R.C. § 165 with respect to the worthlessness of HCM's partnership interest in Highland Capital Multi-Strategy Fund, L.P. ("HMSF LP"). This loss is a reportable transaction as defined in Treas. Reg. § 1.6011-4(b)(5) because the loss exceeds $2 million and the asset is an interest in a passthrough entity.<sup>1</sup>

Highland Capital Management

HCM is an investment advisor registered with the SEC and specializes in alternative investment strategies. HCM serves as an investment advisor to several alternative investment partnerships ("hedge funds") that it has organized and marketed to investors. HCM has a significant equity interest in each of the hedge funds that it manages, which is required to attract additional capital investments from unrelated investors. The capital investments by unrelated investors provided the asset base on which HCM earned significant advisory fees.

In addition to serving as an investment advisor, HCM also engages in securities trading primarily for its own account.

Highland Multi-Strategy Fund

In 2006, HCM entered into negotiations with Barclays Bank PLC ("Barclays") regarding a prepaid forward transaction (discussed below) relating to a portfolio of equity interests that HCM held in certain HCM managed hedge funds. Because the prepaid forward contract would create economic exposure to a portfolio of HCM managed hedge funds, HCM determined that it should enter into the prepaid forward transaction through a subsidiary partnership structure that could function as a fund-of-funds arrangement for third party investors and thereby create an additional source of advisory fee income for HCM. Accordingly, HCM formed Highland Multi-Strategy Master Fund, L.P., a Bermuda limited partnership ("HMSF"), to engage in the prepaid forward transaction with Barclays.

HMSF's sole limited partner is HMSF LP. HCM and its affiliates own all of HMSF LP. HMSF LP has never had any assets or activities other than its equity interest in HMSF.

HMSF's sole general partner is Highland Multi-Strategy Fund GP, L.P. Highland Multi-Strategy Fund GP, L.P. is owned 99% by HCM as limited partner, and 1% by Highland Multi-Strategy Fund GP, L.L.C. as general partner. Highland Multi-Strategy Fund GP, L.L.C. is owned 100% by HCM.

For a number of non-tax reasons, HCM subsequently abandoned the idea of marketing additional equity interests in HMSF to third party investors, and HMSF and HMSF LP never received any equity contributions from persons not affiliated with HCM.

HMSF's Activities

The Derivative Ownership Transactions

On August 1, 2006, HMSF formed Highland Multi-Strategy Onshore Master SubFund, L.L.C. ("SubFund I") for the purpose of entering into a prepaid forward contract with Barclays. SubFund I is owned 99% by HMSF and 1% by HCM. SubFund I paid $156,349,569 at inception of the contract and was entitled to a cash payment from Barclays at maturity of the contract equal to the excess of

- (1) the value of a notional portfolio of investment funds (the "Reference Portfolio") having an initial value of $312,699,138, over
- (2) a specified "Notional Amount" initially equal to $156,349,569 and increased by an accretion amount based on one-month USD LIBOR plus 0.90%.

In connection with entering into the prepaid forward contract, SubFund I also transferred $53,158,854 in cash to a brokerage account (the "Collateral Account") in SubFund I's name. The Collateral Account was pledged to Barclays as security for any negative value for the Prepaid Forward at maturity or early termination.

In February 2007, HMSF formed Highland Multi-Strategy Onshore Master SubFund II, L.L.C. ("SubFund II") for the purpose of entering into an accreting strike option contract with Barclays. SubFund II is owned 99% by HMSF and 1% by HCM. The accreting strike option contract grants SubFund II the option to purchase, at the "Final Valuation Date" specified in the contract, the cash equivalent value of a notional portfolio of HCM managed investment funds (the "Reference Portfolio") for a strike price of $178,584,722.22 (subject to accretion based on LIBOR plus 1.4%). At the inception of the contract, the Reference Portfolio had a value of $250,000,000, and SubFund II paid Barclays an option premium of $71,428,571.43.

The Strand Funding Transactions

During 2007, HCM and The Bank of Nova Scotia ("BNS") entered into a total return swap ("Swap") whose notional value was tied to a portfolio of loans held by Strand Funding, an affiliate of BNS. Under the Swap, HCM owed BNS a floating payment based on an interest rate applied to the book value of the underlying loan portfolio, and BNS owed HCM an asset payment equal to the realized interest and proceeds from the underlying loan portfolio. When the Swap matured in June 2008, there were certain loans that Strand Funding had not been able to sell in the open market and therefore HCM and BNS could not settle the Swap.

HCM arranged for HMSF to enter into a series of "LSTA Par/Near Par Trade Conformations" with Strand Funding pursuant to which Strand Funding as Seller purported to assign the underlying loans to HMSF as Buyer. HCM then arranged for most of the loans be assigned by HMSF as Seller to unrelated third parties as Buyers under separate LSTA confirmations. Pursuant to a Multilateral Netting Agreement entered into by Strand Funding, HMSF, and the third party buyer, Strand Funding assigned the loans directly to the third party buyer. The amount due under the original confirmations between HMSF and Strand Funding was funded from the proceeds of the assignments to the third party buyers. These transactions produced a net profit to HMSF.

For certain of the loans that Strand Funding purported to assign to HMSF, HCM was not able to find a third party buyer during 2008 (principally because the borrowers under the loans were in severe financial distress). The trade confirmations between Strand Funding and HMSF with respect to those loans remained open and unsettled as of December 31, 2008. As of December 31, 2008, the amount payable to Strand Funding under the confirmations relating to the unsettled trades was $10,457,201, and the underlying loans had a mark-to-market value of $6,181,618. During 2009, BNS and HCM agreed to cancel the unsettled trades, and HCM accounted to BNS under the Swap for the loss in value of the loans.

Assets and Liabilities

As of December 31, 2008, HMSF's financial statements reflect assets of $6,347,039 (consisting of $165,421 cash and $6,181,618 of business securities representing the value of the loans under the unsettled trades with Strand Funding), and liabilities of $11,513,448 (consisting of $1,056,247 payable to HCM for overhead expense allocations and $10,457,201 payable to Strand Funding in connection with the unsettled trades).

Worthlessness and Abandonment Events

During 2008, the HCM managed hedge funds underlying the Barclays derivative ownership contracts lost significant value and liquidity. In October 2008 Barclays gave notices that it was terminating the contracts. Due to the illiquidity of the underlying hedge fund interests and other factors, the contracts were not actually terminated during 2008. HCM determined that Barclays decision to terminate the contracts in October 2008 eliminated any reasonable hope or expectation of the SubFund entities recovering any value under the contracts or in any assets held in connection with the contracts.

Attachment to Form 8886: Loss from worthlessness of Highland Capital Multi-Strategy Fund, L.P.

By letters dated December 9, 2008, HMSF advised the SubFund entities that HMSF had abandoned its equity interests in entities. The abandonment was recognized by HCM as managing member of the SubFund entities and, by amendment to the SubFund entity operating agreements, HMSF was stricken as a member of the SubFund entities effective as of December 9, 2008. To preserve the SubFund entities' tax classification as partnerships, Strand Advisors II, Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of HCM, was admitted as a limited partner in the SubFund entities effective as of December 9, 2008, acquiring a 1% equity interest for no consideration.

As of not later than December 31, 2008, the loans underlying HMSF's open trade confirmations with Strand Funding had a value substantially less than the amount payable to Strand Funding under the trade confirmation, and there was no reasonable hope or expectation that the value of the loans would increase to an amount in excess of the amount payable to Strand Funding.

As of December 30, 2008, HMSF had no net assets and no reasonable hope or expectation of any realizing any net assets. Accordingly, HCM determined that its equity interest in HMSF LP was worthless as of not later than December 30, 2008.

Tax Reporting

HCM has reported on its tax return for its taxable year ended December 31, 2008 a loss with respect to the worthlessness of its partnership interest in HMSF LP.<sup>2</sup> The loss is equal to HCM's adjusted tax basis in the HMSF LP partnership interest as of the date of worthlessness.<sup>3</sup> HCM wrote down its tax basis for its equity interest in HMSF LP to zero as of the date the interest in HMSF LP became worthless.<sup>4</sup> In computing HCM's tax basis in its interest in HMSF LP as of the date of worthlessness, HCM has not taken into account its distributive share of HMSF LP's tax items for the 2008 tax year through the worthlessness date because HCM did not sell, exchange, liquidate, or otherwise dispose of or terminate its interest in HMSF LP as a result of the worthlessness of the interest.<sup>5</sup> HCM has not claimed any deduction for its distributive share of HMSF LP loss reported for HMSF LP's taxable year ending December 31, 2008 because HCM's adjusted tax basis for its HMSF LP partnership interest was zero as of December 31, 2008.<sup>6</sup>

Because the worthlessness of HCM's interest in HMSF LP did not give rise to any actual or constructive discharge of HMSF LP liabilities under I.R.C. § 752,<sup>7</sup> HCM's loss from such worthlessness is an ordinary loss rather than a capital loss.<sup>8</sup> Moreover, the loss is a business loss because HCM's interest in HMSF LP was attributable to and derived from HCM's business as an investment advisor and as a securities trader and was acquired with the dominant motive of generating a source of business income, and not with the dominant motive of making or preserving a non-business investment.<sup>9</sup>

The ordinary loss reported on HCM's tax return for its tax year ended December 31, 2008 flows through to HCM's partners as of December 31, 2008.<sup>10</sup>

<sup>7</sup> HMSF LP had no direct or indirect partnership liabilities. The SubFund entities and HMSF LP had no direct liabilities. HMSF's only liability was an intercompany payable to HCM. This recourse liability is allocated entirely to HMSF GP in its status as general partner. See Treas. Reg. § 1.752-2(a) (partner's share of partnership recourse liability equals portion for which the partner or a related person bears the economic risk of loss); (c)(1) (partner bears the risk of loss for a partnership liability to the extent that the partner or a related person is the lender and risk of loss is not borne by another person); (k)(1) (special rule for disregarded entities does not apply to the extent the owner is at risk with respect to the obligation). In any event, the worthlessness of HCM's HMSF LP partnership interest did not constitute a disposition of the partnership interest, or otherwise affect HMSF LP's direct or indirect liabilities, HCM's status as a partner in HMSF LP, or the allocation of HMSF LP liabilities under I.R.C. § 752. Cf. Abdalla v. Commissioner, 647 F.2d 487 (5th Cir. 1981) (worthlessness of S corporation stock is not a "disposition" of the stock for purposes S corporation loss allocations). Accordingly, the worthlessness event did not result in any reduction in HCM's share (if any) of HMSF LP liabilities under Treas. Reg. § 1.752-2 or any deemed distribution under I.R.C. § 752(b).

Line 7b: Description of Expected Tax Benefits

The taxpayer was allocated a $346,013,886 loss from Highland Capital Multi-Strategy Fund, L.P. ("HMSF LP") with respect to taxpayer's partnership interest in HMSF LP. The loss is not claimed on the taxpayer's return because the taxpayer's tax basis for its HMSF LP partnership interest as of the end of HMSF LP's 2008 tax year was zero. Nevertheless, because the loss exceeded $2 million and the underlying asset is an interest in a passthrough entity, the loss is a reportable loss. The following information was provided by HMSF LP with respect to the loss. The discussion below uses the term "taxpayer" to refer to HMSF LP.

The taxpayer has reported on Form 1065, Line 6 a $349,568,517 ordinary loss under I.R.C. § 165 with respect to the worthlessness of the taxpayer's partnership interest in Highland Multi-Strategy Master Fund, L.P. ("HMSF"). This loss is a reportable transaction as defined in Treas. Reg. § 1.6011-4(b)(5) because the loss exceeds $2 million and the asset is an interest in a passthrough entity.<sup>1</sup>

Highland Capital Management

Highland Capital Management, L.P. ("HCM") is an investment advisor registered with the SEC and specializes in alternative investment strategies. HCM serves as an investment advisor to several alternative investment partnerships ("hedge funds") that it has organized and marketed to investors. HCM has a significant equity interest in each of the hedge funds that it manages, which is required to attract additional capital investments from unrelated investors. The capital investments by unrelated investors provided the asset base on which HCM earned significant advisory fees.

In addition to serving as an investment advisor, HCM also engages in securities trading primarily for its own account.

Highland Multi-Strategy Fund

In 2006, HCM entered into negotiations with Barclays Bank PLC ("Barclays") regarding a prepaid forward transaction (discussed below) relating to a portfolio of equity interests that HCM held in certain HCM managed hedge funds. Because the prepaid forward contract would create economic exposure to a portfolio of HCM managed hedge funds, HCM determined that it should enter into the prepaid forward transaction through a subsidiary partnership structure that could function as a fund-of-funds arrangement for third party investors and thereby create an additional source of advisory fee income for HCM. Accordingly, HCM formed Highland Multi-Strategy Master Fund, L.P., a Bermuda limited partnership ("HMSF"), to engage in the prepaid forward transaction with Barclays.

HMSF's sole limited partner is Highland Capital Multi-Strategy Fund, L.P. ("HMSF LP"). HCM and its affiliates own all of HMSF LP. HMSF LP has never had any assets or activities other than its equity interest in HMSF.

HMSF's sole general partner is Highland Multi-Strategy Fund GP, L.P. Highland Multi-Strategy Fund GP, L.P. is owned 99% by HCM as limited partner, and 1% by Highland Multi-Strategy Fund GP, L.L.C. as general partner. Highland Multi-Strategy Fund GP, L.L.C. is owned 100% by HCM.

For a number of non-tax reasons, HCM subsequently abandoned the idea of marketing additional equity interests in HMSF to third party investors, and HMSF and HMSF LP never received any equity contributions from persons not affiliated with HCM.

HMSF's Activities

The Derivative Ownership Transactions

On August 1, 2006, HMSF formed Highland Multi-Strategy Onshore Master SubFund, L.L.C. ("SubFund I") for the purpose of entering into a prepaid forward contract with Barclays. SubFund I is owned 99% by HMSF and 1% by HCM. SubFund I paid $156,349,569 at inception of the contract and was entitled to a cash payment from Barclays at maturity of the contract equal to the excess of

- (1) the value of a notional portfolio of investment funds (the "Reference Portfolio") having an initial value of $312,699,138, over
- (2) a specified "Notional Amount" initially equal to $156,349,569 and increased by an accretion amount based on one-month USD LIBOR plus 0.90%.

In connection with entering into the prepaid forward contract, SubFund I also transferred $53,158,854 in cash to a brokerage account (the "Collateral Account") in SubFund I's name. The Collateral Account was pledged to Barclays as security for any negative value for the Prepaid Forward at maturity or early termination.

In February 2007, HMSF formed Highland Multi-Strategy Onshore Master SubFund II, L.L.C. ("SubFund II") for the purpose of entering into an accreting strike option contract with Barclays. SubFund II is owned 99% by HMSF and 1% by HCM. The accreting strike option contract grants SubFund II the option to purchase, at the "Final Valuation Date" specified in the contract, the cash equivalent value of a notional portfolio of HCM managed investment funds (the "Reference Portfolio") for a strike price of $178,584,722.22 (subject to accretion based on LIBOR plus 1.4%). At the inception of the contract, the Reference Portfolio had a value of $250,000,000, and SubFund II paid Barclays an option premium of $71,428,571.43.

The Strand Funding Transactions

During 2007, HCM and The Bank of Nova Scotia ("BNS") entered into a total return swap ("Swap") whose notional value was tied to a portfolio of loans held by Strand Funding, an affiliate of BNS. Under the Swap, HCM owed BNS a floating payment based on an interest rate applied to the book value of the underlying loan portfolio, and BNS owed HCM an asset payment equal to the realized interest and proceeds from the underlying loan portfolio. When the Swap matured in June 2008, there were certain loans that Strand Funding had not been able to sell in the open market and therefore HCM and BNS could not settle the Swap.

HCM arranged for HMSF to enter into a series of "LSTA Par/Near Par Trade Conformations" with Strand Funding pursuant to which Strand Funding as Seller purported to assign the underlying loans to HMSF as Buyer. HCM then arranged for most of the loans be assigned by HMSF as Seller to unrelated third parties as Buyers under separate LSTA confirmations. Pursuant to a Multilateral Netting Agreement entered into by Strand Funding, HMSF, and the third party buyer, Strand Funding assigned the loans directly to the third party buyer. The amount due under the original confirmations between HMSF and Strand Funding was funded from the proceeds of the assignments to the third party buyers. These transactions produced a net profit to HMSF.

For certain of the loans that Strand Funding purported to assign to HMSF, HCM was not able to find a third party buyer during 2008 (principally because the borrowers under the loans were in severe financial distress). The trade confirmations between Strand Funding and HMSF with respect to those loans remained open and unsettled as of December 31, 2008. As of December 31, 2008, the amount payable to Strand Funding under the confirmations relating to the unsettled trades was $10,457,201, and the underlying loans had a mark-to-market value of $6,181,618. During 2009, BNS and HCM agreed to cancel the unsettled trades, and HCM accounted to BNS under the Swap for the loss in value of the loans.

Assets and Liabilities

As of December 31, 2008, HMSF's financial statements reflect assets of $6,347,039 (consisting of $165,421 cash and $6,181,618 of business securities representing the value of the loans under the unsettled trades with Strand Funding), and liabilities of $11,513,448 (consisting of $1,056,247 payable to HCM for overhead expense allocations and $10,457,201 payable to Strand Funding in connection with the unsettled trades).

Worthlessness and Abandonment Events

During 2008, the HCM managed hedge funds underlying the Barclays derivative ownership contracts lost significant value and liquidity. In October 2008 Barclays gave notices that it was terminating the contracts. Due to the illiquidity of the underlying hedge fund interests and other factors, the contracts were not actually terminated during 2008. HCM determined that Barclays decision to terminate the contracts in October 2008 eliminated any reasonable hope or expectation of the SubFund entities recovering any value under the contracts or in any assets held in connection with the contracts.

By letters dated December 9, 2008, HMSF advised the SubFund entities that HMSF had abandoned its equity interests in entities. The abandonment was recognized by HCM as managing member of the SubFund entities and, by amendment to the SubFund entity operating agreements, HMSF was stricken as a member of the SubFund entities effective as of December 9, 2008. To preserve the SubFund entities' tax classification as partnerships, Strand Advisors II, Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of HCM, was admitted as a limited partner in the SubFund entities effective as of December 9, 2008, acquiring a 1% equity interest for no consideration.

As of not later than December 31, 2008, the loans underlying HMSF's open trade confirmations with Strand Funding had a value substantially less than the amount payable to Strand Funding under the trade confirmation, and there was no reasonable hope or expectation that the value of the loans would increase to an amount in excess of the amount payable to Strand Funding.

As of December 30, 2008, HMSF had no net assets and no reasonable hope or expectation of any realizing any net assets. Accordingly, HCM determined that its equity interest in HMSF LP was worthless as of not later than December 30, 2008.

Tax Reporting

The taxpayer has reported on its tax return for its taxable year ended December 31, 2008 a loss with respect to the worthlessness of its partnership interest in HMSF.<sup>2</sup> The loss is equal to the taxpayer's adjusted tax basis in the HMSF partnership interest as of the date of worthlessness.<sup>3</sup> the taxpayer wrote down its tax basis for its equity interest in HMSF to zero as of the date the interest in HMSF became worthless.<sup>4</sup> In computing the taxpayer's tax basis in its interest in HMSF as of the date of worthlessness, the taxpayer has not taken into account its distributive share of HMSF's tax items for the 2008 tax year through the worthlessness date because the taxpayer did not sell, exchange, liquidate, or otherwise dispose of or terminate its interest in HMSF as a result of the worthlessness of the interest.<sup>5</sup> The taxpayer has not claimed any deduction for its distributive share of HMSF loss reported for HMSF's taxable year ending December 31, 2008 because the taxpayer's adjusted tax basis for its HMSF partnership interest was zero as of December 31, 2008.<sup>6</sup>

Because the worthlessness of the taxpayer's interest in HMSF did not give rise to any actual or constructive discharge of HMSF liabilities under I.R.C. § 752,<sup>7</sup> the taxpayer's loss from such worthlessness is an ordinary loss rather than a capital loss.<sup>8</sup> Moreover, the loss is a business loss because the taxpayer's interest in HMSF was attributable to and derived from HCM's business as an investment advisor and as a securities trader and was acquired with the dominant motive of generating a source of business income for HCM, and not with the dominant motive of making or preserving a non-business investment.<sup>9</sup>

The ordinary loss reported on the taxpayer's tax return for its tax year ended December 31, 2008 flows through to the taxpayer's partners as of December 31, 2008.<sup>10</sup>

<sup>7</sup> HMSF's only direct or indirect liability was a direct intercompany payable to HCM. This recourse liability is allocated entirely to HMSF GP in its status as general partner. See Treas. Reg. § 1.752-2(a) (partner's share of partnership recourse liability equals portion for which the partner or a related person bears the economic risk of loss); (c)(1) (partner bears the risk of loss for a partnership liability to the extent that the partner or a related person is the lender and risk of loss is not borne by another person); (k)(1) (special rule for disregarded entities does not apply to the extent the owner is at risk with respect to the obligation). In any event, the worthlessness of HMSF LP's HMSF partnership interest did not constitute a disposition of the partnership interest, or otherwise affect HMSF's direct or indirect liabilities, HMSF LP's status as a partner in HMSF, or the allocation of HMSF liabilities under I.R.C. § 752. Cf. Abdalla v. Commissioner, 647 F.2d 487 (5th Cir. 1981) (worthlessness of S corporation stock is not a "disposition" of the stock for purposes S corporation loss allocations). Accordingly, the worthlessness event did not result in any reduction in HMSF LP's share (if any) of HMSF liabilities under Treas. Reg. § 1.752-2 or any deemed distribution under I.R.C. § 752(b).

The capital investments by unrelated investors provided the asset base on which HCM earned significant advisory fees.

Highland Financial Partners

HCM formed HFP in January 2006 to hold equity interests in certain leveraged credit subsidiaries and other assets. HFP was initially capitalized by issuing limited partner interests to HCM and to certain institutional investors (who initially held their interests through a trust). As of December 31, 2006, HFP had approximately $11.7 billion in total assets and $490.4 million in net equity. HCM held approximately 12.2% of HFP's equity on a fully diluted basis.

In addition to the roughly $405 million of capital raised from investors pursuant to private placements in February and October 2006, HCM anticipated that HFP would raise significant capital from one or more public offerings of HFP common units, thereby increasing HFP's equity subject to base management fees and income potentially subject to incentive allocations. On April 27, 2007, HFP filed an amended preliminary registration statement on Form S-1 seeking to effect an initial public offering of $50,000,000 of limited partner units. Due to unfavorable market conditions that developed thereafter in connection with the deterioration of the credit markets, and for other reasons, HFP withdrew the registration statement on September 7, 2007.

Attachment to Form 8886: Loss From Worthlessness of Highland Financial Partners

Worthlessness Events

During the fourth quarter of 2008, due to the continuing deterioration in the credit markets, HFP became insolvent beyond any reasonable hope or expectation of recovery. HCM determined that its partnership interest in HFP was worthless as of no later than November 30, 2008. Likewise, the taxpayer determined that its direct equity interest in HFP was worthless as of November 30, 2008. The interests in HFP became worthless (such that no investor would be willing to pay any consideration for an HFP unit) no later than November 30, 2008, through a confluence of factors: (1) deterioration in the credit markets rendered HFP's expected cash flows to have no prospect to ever be sufficient to pay HFP's outstanding debts; (2) loan value erosion within the CLO (collateralized loan obligation) entities held by HFP resulted in violation of multiple HFP coverage tests causing permanent impairment of HFP's expected cash flows; (3) major lawsuits filed in the fourth quarter of 2008; (4) HFP's balance sheet reflected approximately $1 billion in negative equity.

Tax Reporting

HCM has reported on its tax return for its taxable year ended December 31, 2008 an ordinary loss with respect to the worthlessness of its partnership interest in HFP.<sup>2</sup> The loss is equal to HCM's adjusted tax basis in the HFP equity interest as of the date of worthlessness,<sup>3</sup> including basis attributable to HCM's allocable share of HFP liabilities.<sup>4</sup> HCM wrote down its tax basis for its partnership interest in HFP to zero as of November 30, 2008.<sup>5</sup> In computing HCM's adjusted tax basis in its interest in HFP as of November 30, 2008, HCM has not taken into account its distributive share of HFP's tax items for the 2008 tax year through the worthlessness date because HCM did not sell, exchange, liquidate, or otherwise dispose of or terminate its interest in HFP as a result of the worthlessness of the interest.<sup>6</sup> HCM has, however, taken into account any changes in its allocable share of HFP liabilities during the 2008 year through the date of worthlessness.<sup>7</sup>

<sup>7</sup> See Treas. Reg. § 1.752-4(d) (partner's share of partnership liabilities determined "whenever the determination is necessary in order to determine the tax liability of the partner"). Cf. Rev. Rul. 94-4, 1994-1 C.B. 196 (deemed distributions under I.R.C. § 752(b) from reductions in liabilities are taken into account as of the last day of the partnership taxable year to the extent of the partner's distributive share of income for the partnership taxable year).

Highland Capital Management, L.P. (75-2716725)

Attachment to Form 8886: Loss From Worthlessness of Highland Financial Partners

The worthlessness of HCM's HFP partnership interest is not a disposition of the partnership interest for federal income tax purposes,<sup>8</sup> and HCM retains its allocable share of HFP liabilities until it ceases to be an HFP partner. HCM has taken into account as of December 31, 2008 any increase or decrease in its allocable share of HFP liabilities from November 30, 2008 through December 31, 2008.<sup>9</sup> HCM has not claimed any deduction for its distributive share of the HFP loss reported for HFP's taxable year ending December 31, 2008 to the extent the loss exceeds HCM's adjusted tax basis for its HFP equity interest as of December 31, 2008 (taking into account the write down of its tax basis to zero as of November 30, 2008 and any changes in HCM's allocable share of HFP liabilities from November 30, 2008 through December 31, 2008).<sup>10</sup>

Because the worthlessness of HCM's partnership interest in HFP did not give rise to any actual or constructive discharge of HFP liabilities under I.R.C. § 752,<sup>11</sup> HCM's loss from such worthlessness is an ordinary loss rather than a capital loss.<sup>12</sup> In addition, the loss is a business loss for purposes of I.R.C. §§ 62(a)(1) and 172 because HCM's interest in HFP was attributable to and derived from HCM's business as an investment advisor and was acquired with the dominant motive of generating a source of business income, and not with the dominant motive of making or preserving a non-business investment.<sup>13</sup>

The ordinary business loss reported on HCM's tax return for its tax year ended December 31, 2008 will flow through to HCM partners as of December 31, 2008.<sup>8</sup>

<sup>11</sup> The worthlessness of HCM's interest in HFP had no effect on HFP's direct or indirect liabilities, on HCM's status as a partner in HFP, or on the allocation of HFP liabilities under I.R.C. § 752. Accordingly, the worthlessness event did not result in any reduction in HCM's share of HFP liabilities under Treas. Reg. § 1.752-2 or any deemed distribution under I.R.C. § 752(b).

Line 7b: Description of Expected Tax Benefits

Highland Capital Management, L.P., (the "Taxpayer") was allocated a loss from Highland Financial Partners, L.P. ("HFP") based on the amounts below with respect to taxpayer's interest in HFP. The loss is not claimed on the taxpayer's return because the taxpayer's tax basis for its HFP partnership interest as of the end of HFP's 2008 tax year was zero. Nevertheless, because the losses exceeded $2 million and the underlying asset is an interest in a passthrough entity, the loss is a reportable loss. The following information was provided by HFP with respect to the loss. The discussion below uses the term "taxpayer" to refer to HFP.

Highland Capital Management, L.P. owns a direct interest in Highland Financial Partners, L.P. ("HFP"). HFP owns a majority interest in Highland Euro CDO III B.V., Stratford CLO, Ltd., Rockwall CDO II, Ltd. and Westchester CLO, Ltd., all Controlled Foreign Corporations (CFC's). The first year of operation for these entities ended in 2007. Pursuant to Section 1.964-1-T of the Treasury Regulations, HFP, on behalf of the CFC's, as majority shareholder, adopted the mark to market method of accounting in computing the income of these CFC's. HFP will file Form 5471, Information Return of U.S. Persons with respect to certain foreign corporations, reporting information that in part reflects the mark to market method of accounting adopted by the CFC's. the mark to market method of accounting the CFC's will have a Section 165 loss transaction. HFP's share of those losses is as follows:

Highland Euro CDO III B.V.	$171,902,921
Stratford CLO, Ltd.	$157,744,501
Rockwall CDO II, Ltd.	$209,539,575
Westchester CLO, Ltd.	$154,370,763

HFP has treated the loss from the adoption of the mark to market method of accounting as a single loss transaction pursuant to Treasury Regulation 1.6011-4(D) even though there are many separate assets to which the method is applied. If each asset that was marked to market was treated as a separate transaction, the Section 165 loss might be larger.

In addition, HFP owns a majority interest in Eastland CLO, Ltd. ("Eastland"), a foreign partnership. The first year of operation for Eastland ended in 2007. Pursuant to Sections 703(b) and 446 of the Internal Revenue Code, Eastland adopted the mark to market method of accounting in computing its income. HFP will file form 8865, Information Return of U.S. Persons with Respect to Certain Foreign Partnerships, reporting information that in part reflects the mark to market method of accounting adopted by Eastland. Due to the mark to market method of accounting Eastland will have a Section 165 loss transaction in the amount of $214,717,431 that will result in a reduction of Subpart F to HFP. HFP has treated the loss from the adoption of the mark to market method of accounting as a single loss transaction pursuant to Treasury Regulation 1.6011-4(D) even though there are many separate assets to which the method is applied. If each asset that was marked to market was treated as a separate transaction, the Section 165 loss might be larger.

Part II, Line 1 – Detailed Explanation

The taxpayer has reported on Form 1065, Page 1, Line 6 from Form 4797 a $42,259,607 ordinary loss under I.R.C. § 165 with respect to the worthlessness of the taxpayer's ownership of limited partner units of Highland Capital Real Estate Fund, L.P. ("REF") which was also formerly known as Highland Real Estate Fund 2002-A up until July 9, 2007.

The facts relating to this loss are as follows:

Highland Capital Management

James Dondero owns, directly and through grantor trusts and affiliates, approximately 72% of the capital and profits interest in HCM at the end of 2009. James Dondero is the President and sole owner of Strand Advisors, Inc., HCM's sole general partner. In his role as owner and President of Strand Advisors, Inc., James Dondero has effective control over the operations of HCM and is actively involved on a full-time basis in the management and operations of HCM and its affiliates.

James Dondero is the majority owner of the taxpayer and is also the majority owner in Highland Capital Management, L.P. ("HCM") whose business is an investment advisor registered with the SEC and specializes in alternative investment strategies. HCM serves as an investment advisor to several alternative investment funds ("funds") that it has organized and marketed to investors. HCM has a significant equity interest in most of the funds that it manages, which is required to attract additional capital investments from unrelated investors. The capital investments by unrelated investors provided the asset base on which HCM earned significant advisory fees.

HCM, under the governing documents, as investment advisor to REF was to receive an annual performance allocation at the end of each year which ranged historically from 20% to 25% based upon REF's annual net performance but only to the extent that such profits exceed any losses carried forward from prior years. In addition, for its services to REF, HCM is entitled to a management fee which ranged historically from an annual rate of 1.5% to 2.5% of the net asset value of the fund. All of REF's investment decisions are made by HCM. James Dondero is President of HCM and controls all of its operations and activities. The initial offering memorandum for REF describes James Dondero as part of the investment team.

The general partner of REF is Highland Capital Real Estate Fund GP, LLC, formerly known as Highland Capital Advisors RE2002A LLC, a Delaware limited liability company, ("GP"). The GP is 100% owned by HCM and, therefore for tax purposes, is treated as a disregarded entity. James Dondero serves as the President of the GP. Entities owned or controlled by principals of HCM also serve as the general partner of the various investments held by REF. The GP has also served as the general partner for REF's investments.

Highland Capital Real Estate Fund, L.P.

REF began operations on April 2002 and was organized for the primary purpose of investing substantially all of its assets in a portfolio of public and private equity and debt securities of companies, entities, or ventures that are primarily engaged in or related to the real estate industry.

REF was initially capitalized by the end of 2002 with approximately $3,200,000 through various entities affiliated or owned by James Dondero and other principals of HCM. By the end of 2002, HCM owned 15.91% in the capital accounts and James Dondero through his trusts owned over 66.37% of REF.

By the beginning of 2006, HCM owned 34.10% in REF. In August of 2006, HCM replaced its direct ownership with a derivative transaction that allowed HCM to continue to have exposure to REF (and hold itself to investors as continuing to have an aligned interest with investors) while generating excess cash from the transaction for HCM to utilize in other business endeavors.

In August 2006 the first non-affiliated investors purchased interests in REF with an initial investment of $40,948,168. Additional capital was raised from non-affiliated investors in 2007, totaling about $44,000,000.

Management fees were earned by HCM beginning in 2006 and continuing through 2007, 2008, and 2009, and totaled $3,914,874 over that time period.

James Dondero's direct ownership through his grantor trusts, owned by December 31, 2009 of REF were approximately 31%.

The ending audited financials for December 31, 2008 for REF reflected a total net asset value of $132,671,000. The ending unaudited financials for December 31, 2009, reflected an ending net asset value of approximately $45,000,000. For Generally Accepted Accounting Principles, the assets held by REF consist primarily of interests in private placement limited partnerships and limited liability companies that own residential and commercial real estate. According to the 2008 audited financial statements, the fair value of these investments rely upon what is considered a Level 3 valuation which is based upon models in which the inputs are unobservable and deemed significant to the fair value measurement. In addition, according to the 2008 audited financial statements, about a quarter of the investments rely upon models that require assumptions that estimate operating plans for any undeveloped investments are in fact developed and then assumes certain rates of returns from a fully developed property. To support the taxpayer's internal assessment of REF's value as of December 31, 2009, the taxpayer performed a valuation analysis that applies a realistic assessment of what the taxpayer would receive if the assets were sold currently, in liquidation of REF applying internal appraisals and independent third party appraisals where appropriate depending upon the investment asset, and has found that the REF's liabilities would exceed the gross proceeds from such liquidation.

Credit Agreement

In February 2006, REF entered into a revolving credit agreement in the amount of $25,000,000 (the "Credit Agreement") with Wachovia Bank (which was increased to $31,000,000 in April 2009), interest was charged at LIBOR plus 2.25%. As of December 31, 2006, $31,000,000 was outstanding under the Credit Agreement with substantially all of the investments of REF pledged as collateral. As of December 31, 2007, $25,000,000 was outstanding under the Credit Agreement. On September 29, 2008 the Credit Agreement was amended to allow for REF to repay the outstanding balance of $20,000,000 in three installments on or before December 31, 2008, March 31, 2009, and June 30, 2009. REF failed to make the first scheduled payment by December 31, 2008 which constituted an event of default under the terms of the Credit Agreement. On April 15, 2009, REF executed a forbearance agreement with Wachovia which extended the maturity date of the outstanding borrowings to October 15, 2009. On October 15, 2009, the forbearance agreement was amended and extended until December 22, 2009 in order to allow the lender to understand the value of the pledged collateral. REF investment professionals provided information to the lender that allowed the lender to independently hire third party appraisers for the pledged assets. From this, the lenders verbally expressed to REF investment professionals that from the lender's perspective, they were impaired in their ability to recover the full amount of the outstanding debt balance from the assets.

A first amendment to the forbearance agreement effective November 12, 2009, extended the forbearance period to February 1, 2010. The forbearance agreements permitted REF to use cash to support an agreed upon list of assets that required the lender's approval before any payments were made.

On February 1, 2010 the forbearance period expired, and on February 3, 2010, the lender informed REF of certain events of default under the Credit Agreement and its ability to exercise all its rights under the Credit Agreement including seizing the investment assets of REF (the reservation of rights letter). On February 18, 2010, the lender informed REF that it was exercising certain rights as a result of the event of default including restrictions on cash proceeds from investments and requiring immediate turn-over to the lender from any cash receipts and restrictions on ability to vote with respect to the investment properties. During January and February of 2010, REF made several requests to the lender to use the available cash to maintain the investments assets, and all such requests were all denied by the lender.

Further, on March 5, 2010, Wachovia swept all the cash in the lender controlled escrow accounts totaling approximately $2,300,000 of REF and has an ability to apply such against the outstanding balance of $19,000,000. In April 2010, multiple assets have been foreclosed due to REF's inability to pay obligations of the investment assets. In May 2010, several more assets are anticipated to be foreclosed upon. Lastly, because the forbearance agreement has expired, Wachovia has the right at any time to seize all the assets in REF.

Worthlessness Events

The commercial real estate and development market which compose REF's investment assets experienced in 2009 a notable decline in transactions over the prior two years as uncertainty regarding future financial and economic conditions increased. Buyers and sellers saw disparate expectations in sale transactions. Due to higher risk levels, any investors of these properties required higher returns for their investments across all asset classes. The difference in expectations of buyers and sellers led to a stalemate in the marketplace. Further, the limited availability of credit and financing resulted in depressed demand levels. Overall, extended marketing times were projected in all real estate sectors due to this imbalance of market forces (demand, supply, availability of financing and the deteriorating economy). Moreover, the decline in regional economies resulted in decreasing occupancy rates and rental revenues, which in turn further depressed commercial property values. Compounding the problems were the increasing amount of vacant lots and undeveloped property adding to the supply overhead. In certain regions where REF held its investments, statistical reporting agencies noted over 80% of properties offered for sale in nine months failed to sell in 2009 due to the factors of the market environment.

REF holds a significant amount of its investments in prospective land development. In 2009, no sector of the commercial property market has been harder hit than that for entitled land for development. Six quarters after the advent of the financial crisis and recession, the land market remained at a near standstill and values plummeted. It has been estimated in certain regions where REF holds its investments, that over half of all land sales involve a distressed situation. The reasons are: high vacancy rates across all property types make development a distant prospect and difficulty in financing land (and other non-cash flowing property) makes it unattractive to buyers. Also, with prices for core property falling below replacement cost in many markets, developers and investors continued to focus on acquisitions versus development.

With this macro context, by December of 2009, REF had only two options available to create any positive economically realizable value for the partner / owners, currently or in the future: (1) determine if REF had available resources to maintain its investments going into 2010; or (2) if not, execute a liquidation sale of all its investments in the hopes of being able to pay off the outstanding balance under the Credit Agreement. Both options left no reasonable prospect to recover any positive economic realization for the partner / owners of REF.

The minimal amount of cash within REF as of December 31, 2009 was $3,453,242 and was not enough to sustain the future cash needs of all the real estate investments within REF which at that time was conservatively estimated (assuming interest payments only on debt of property) to be approximately $10,000,000. (As previously described the lender swept $2,300,000 in March of 2010 which in December was anticipated as a strong possibility as well). The current owners would not provide any new capital because it would likely be seized by the lender under the Credit Agreement. All or substantially all of the real estate investment assets were not projected to be cash flow positive in 2010 nor be disposed and generate enough cash within REF to fund its other commitments or the obligations under the Credit Agreement. Therefore, without any ability to provide cash for the cost of carrying its investments, the taxpayer determined either the lender would seize the assets in 2010, the assets would themselves be foreclosed upon, or REF's ownership in a real estate investment would be significantly diluted if it didn't meet future capital calls. Left with little to no prospects to sustain REF's investments, a liquidation sale of all of the REF's assets was considered in the worthless assessment. However, given the depressed state of the commercial real estate market and the deep recession in late 2009, and minimal financing available from would-be buyers due to the tightened commercial real estate credit market, any "fire sales" would result in heavily discounted sales proceeds, such that, if all REF's investments were able to be sold in this manner, it would likely not be enough to pay-off the outstanding balance under the Credit Agreement.

Thus, during the fourth quarter of 2009, taxpayer determined that its interest in REF became worthless and had no reasonable hope or expectation of recovery. The taxpayer confirmed this belief applying a liquidation analysis of REF's investment assets and determined that no later than December 31, 2009 the liabilities exceeded the value of the assets, and so the taxpayer's interests in REF had no value.

Therefore, the taxpayer, HCM and James Dondero determined that its partnership interest in REF was worthless as of no later than December 31, 2009 and had no reasonable prospect to recover in value. The interests in REF became worthless (such that no investor would be willing to pay any consideration for an REF interest) no later than December 31, 2009, through a confluence of factors: (1) deterioration in the credit markets combined with the severe recession already in place resulted in a devastating impact upon the commercial real estate market, its development, and sustainability; (2) the lack of cash within REF to sustain and fund the current needs of the real estate investments that it held to avoid foreclosure, forced sale, or dilution within the respective investment; (3) the lack of any new capital by the current owners of REF to provide new funding to sustain the current real estate investments; (4) a state of default under the Credit Agreement allowing the lender to seize all the assets of REF and REF having no financial ability to pay off the outstanding balance even through a liquidation sale of REF's assets.

Tax Reporting

The taxpayer has reported on its tax return for its taxable year ended December 31, 2009 an ordinary loss with respect to the worthlessness of its partnership interest in REF.<sup>1</sup> The loss is equal to the taxpayer's adjusted tax basis in the REF equity interest as of the date of worthlessness,<sup>2</sup> including basis attributable to the taxpayer's allocable share of REF liabilities.<sup>3</sup> The taxpayer wrote down its tax basis for its partnership interest in REF to zero no later than December 31, 2009.<sup>4</sup> In computing the taxpayer's adjusted tax basis in its interest in REF no later than December 31, 2009, the taxpayer has not taken into account its distributive share of its tax items for the 2009 tax year through the worthlessness date because the taxpayer did not sell, exchange, liquidate, or otherwise dispose of or terminate its interest in REF as a result of the worthlessness of the interest.<sup>5</sup> The taxpayer has not claimed any deduction for its distributive share of the REF loss reported for REF's taxable year ending December 31, 2009 to the extent the loss exceeds the taxpayer's adjusted tax basis for its REF equity interest as of December 31, 2009 (taking into account the write down of its tax basis to zero no later than December 31, 2009).<sup>6</sup>

Because the worthlessness of the taxpayer's partnership interest in REF did not give rise to any actual or constructive discharge of REF liabilities under I.R.C. § 752,<sup>7</sup> the taxpayer's loss from such worthlessness is an ordinary loss rather than a capital loss.<sup>8</sup> In addition, the loss is a business loss for purposes of I.R.C. §§ 62(a)(1) and 172 because the taxpayer's interest in REF was attributable to and derived from the

<sup>7</sup> The worthlessness of the taxpayer's interest in REF had no effect on REF's direct or indirect liabilities, on the taxpayer's status as a partner in REF, or on the allocation of REF liabilities under I.R.C. § 752. Accordingly, the worthlessness event did not result in any reduction in the taxpayer's share of REF liabilities under Treas. Reg. § 1.752-2 or any deemed distribution under I.R.C. § 752(b).

taxpayer's and James Dondero's business and was acquired with the dominant motive of generating a source of business income, and not with the dominant motive of making or preserving a non-business investment.<sup>9</sup>

The Service could challenge the taxpayer's tax reporting of the worthlessness loss under a variety of theories, which could include challenging the following assertions set forth above: (a) that the taxpayer's REF partnership interest became worthless during the taxpayer's year ending December 31, 2009, (b) that the taxpayer's loss is calculated without taking into account its distributive share of REF's tax items (if any) for REF's taxable year ended December 31, 2009, (c) that the taxpayer's loss with respect to the worthlessness of its REF partnership interest is an ordinary loss attributable to the taxpayer's business.

Deloitte Tax LLP provided only tax return preparation services. The amounts listed as fees paid represent taxpayer's estimated fees to be paid.

Line 7b: Description of Expected Tax Benefits

The taxpayer has reported on Form 1065, Page 1, Line 6 from Form 4797 a $42,259,607 ordinary loss under I.R.C. § 165 with respect to the worthlessness of the taxpayer's ownership of limited partner units of Highland Capital Real Estate Fund, L.P. ("REF") which was also formerly known as Highland Real Estate Fund 2002-A up until July 9, 2007.

The facts relating to this loss are as follows:

Highland Capital Management

James Dondero owns, directly and through grantor trusts and affiliates, approximately 72% of the capital and profits interest in HCM at the end of 2009. James Dondero is the President and sole owner of Strand Advisors, Inc., HCM's sole general partner. In his role as owner and President of Strand Advisors, Inc., James Dondero has effective control over the operations of HCM and is actively involved on a full-time basis in the management and operations of HCM and its affiliates.

James Dondero is the majority owner of the taxpayer and is also the majority owner in Highland Capital Management, L.P. ("HCM") whose business is an investment advisor registered with the SEC and specializes in alternative investment strategies. HCM serves as an investment advisor to several alternative investment funds ("funds") that it has organized and marketed to investors. HCM has a significant equity interest in most of the funds that it manages, which is required to attract additional capital investments from unrelated investors. The capital investments by unrelated investors provided the asset base on which HCM earned significant advisory fees.

HCM, under the governing documents, as investment advisor to REF was to receive an annual performance allocation at the end of each year which ranged historically from 20% to 25% based upon REF's annual net performance but only to the extent that such profits exceed any losses carried forward from prior years. In addition, for its services to REF, HCM is entitled to a management fee which ranged historically from an annual rate of 1.5% to 2.5% of the net asset value of the fund. All of REF's investment decisions are made by HCM. James Dondero is President of HCM and controls all of its operations and activities. The initial offering memorandum for REF describes James Dondero as part of the investment team.

The general partner of REF is Highland Capital Real Estate Fund GP, LLC, formerly known as Highland Capital Advisors RE2002A LLC, a Delaware limited liability company, ("GP"). The GP is 100% owned by HCM and, therefore for tax purposes, is treated as a disregarded entity. James Dondero serves as the President of the GP. Entities owned or controlled by principals of HCM also serve as the general partner of the various investments held by REF. The GP has also served as the general partner for REF's investments.

Highland Capital Real Estate Fund, L.P.

REF began operations on April 2002 and was organized for the primary purpose of investing substantially all of its assets in a portfolio of public and private equity and debt securities of companies, entities, or ventures that are primarily engaged in or related to the real estate industry.

REF was initially capitalized by the end of 2002 with approximately $3,200,000 through various entities affiliated or owned by James Dondero and other principals of HCM. By the end of 2002, HCM owned 15.91% in the capital accounts and James Dondero through his trusts owned over 66.37% of REF.

By the beginning of 2006, HCM owned 34.10% in REF. In August of 2006, HCM replaced its direct ownership with a derivative transaction that allowed HCM to continue to have exposure to REF (and hold itself to investors as continuing to have an aligned interest with investors) while generating excess cash from the transaction for HCM to utilize in other business endeavors.

In August 2006 the first non-affiliated investors purchased interests in REF with an initial investment of $40,948,168. Additional capital was raised from non-affiliated investors in 2007, totaling about $44,000,000.

Management fees were earned by HCM beginning in 2006 and continuing through 2007, 2008, and 2009, and totaled $3,914,874 over that time period.

James Dondero's direct ownership through his grantor trusts, owned by December 31, 2009 of REF were approximately 31%.

The ending audited financials for December 31, 2008 for REF reflected a total net asset value of $132,671,000. The ending unaudited financials for December 31, 2009, reflected an ending net asset value of approximately $45,000,000. For Generally Accepted Accounting Principles, the assets held by REF consist primarily of interests in private placement limited partnerships and limited liability companies that own residential and commercial real estate. According to the 2008 audited financial statements, the fair value of these investments rely upon what is considered a Level 3 valuation which is based upon models in which the inputs are unobservable and deemed significant to the fair value measurement. In addition, according to the 2008 audited financial statements, about a quarter of the investments rely upon models that require assumptions that estimate operating plans for any undeveloped investments are in fact developed and then assumes certain rates of returns from a fully developed property. To support the taxpayer's internal assessment of REF's value as of December 31, 2009, the taxpayer performed a valuation analysis that applies a realistic assessment of what the taxpayer would receive if the assets were sold currently, in liquidation of REF applying internal appraisals and independent third party appraisals where appropriate depending upon the investment asset, and has found that the REF's liabilities would exceed the gross proceeds from such liquidation.

Credit Agreement

In February 2006, REF entered into a revolving credit agreement in the amount of $25,000,000 (the "Credit Agreement") with Wachovia Bank (which was increased to $31,000,000 in April 2009), interest was charged at LIBOR plus 2.25%. As of December 31, 2006, $31,000,000 was outstanding under the Credit Agreement with substantially all of the investments of REF pledged as collateral. As of December 31, 2007, $25,000,000 was outstanding under the Credit Agreement. On September 29, 2008 the Credit Agreement was amended to allow for REF to repay the outstanding balance of $20,000,000 in three installments on or before December 31, 2008, March 31, 2009, and June 30, 2009. REF failed to make the first scheduled payment by December 31, 2008 which constituted an event of default under the terms of the Credit Agreement. On April 15, 2009, REF executed a forbearance agreement with Wachovia which extended the maturity date of the outstanding borrowings to October 15, 2009. On October 15, 2009, the forbearance agreement was amended and extended until December 22, 2009 in order to allow the lender to understand the value of the pledged collateral. REF investment professionals provided information to the lender that allowed the lender to independently hire third party appraisers for the pledged assets. From this, the lenders verbally expressed to REF investment professionals that from the lender's perspective, they were impaired in their ability to recover the full amount of the outstanding debt balance from the assets.

A first amendment to the forbearance agreement effective November 12, 2009, extended the forbearance period to February 1, 2010. The forbearance agreements permitted REF to use cash to support an agreed upon list of assets that required the lender's approval before any payments were made.

On February 1, 2010 the forbearance period expired, and on February 3, 2010, the lender informed REF of certain events of default under the Credit Agreement and its ability to exercise all its rights under the Credit Agreement including seizing the investment assets of REF (the reservation of rights letter). On February 18, 2010, the lender informed REF that it was exercising certain rights as a result of the event of default including restrictions on cash proceeds from investments and requiring immediate turn-over to the lender from any cash receipts and restrictions on ability to vote with respect to the investment properties. During January and February of 2010, REF made several requests to the lender to use the available cash to maintain the investments assets, and all such requests were all denied by the lender.

Further, on March 5, 2010, Wachovia swept all the cash in the lender controlled escrow accounts totaling approximately $2,300,000 of REF and has an ability to apply such against the outstanding balance of $19,000,000. In April 2010, multiple assets have been foreclosed due to REF's inability to pay obligations of the investment assets. In May 2010, several more assets are anticipated to be foreclosed upon. Lastly, because the forbearance agreement has expired, Wachovia has the right at any time to seize all the assets in REF.

Worthlessness Events

The commercial real estate and development market which compose REF's investment assets experienced in 2009 a notable decline in transactions over the prior two years as uncertainty regarding future financial and economic conditions increased. Buyers and sellers saw disparate expectations in sale transactions. Due to higher risk levels, any investors of these properties required higher returns for their investments across all asset classes. The difference in expectations of buyers and sellers led to a stalemate in the marketplace. Further, the limited availability of credit and financing resulted in depressed demand levels. Overall, extended marketing times were projected in all real estate sectors due to this imbalance of market forces (demand, supply, availability of financing and the deteriorating economy). Moreover, the decline in regional economies resulted in decreasing occupancy rates and rental revenues, which in turn further depressed commercial property values. Compounding the problems were the increasing amount of vacant lots and undeveloped property adding to the supply overhead. In certain regions where REF held its investments, statistical reporting agencies noted over 80% of properties offered for sale in nine months failed to sell in 2009 due to the factors of the market environment.

REF holds a significant amount of its investments in prospective land development. In 2009, no sector of the commercial property market has been harder hit than that for entitled land for development. Six quarters after the advent of the financial crisis and recession, the land market remained at a near standstill and values plummeted. It has been estimated in certain regions where REF holds its investments, that over half of all land sales involve a distressed situation. The reasons are: high vacancy rates across all property types make development a distant prospect and difficulty in financing land (and other non-cash flowing property) makes it unattractive to buyers. Also, with prices for core property falling below replacement cost in many markets, developers and investors continued to focus on acquisitions versus development.

With this macro context, by December of 2009, REF had only two options available to create any positive economically realizable value for the partner / owners, currently or in the future: (1) determine if REF had available resources to maintain its investments going into 2010; or (2) if not, execute a liquidation sale of all its investments in the hopes of being able to pay off the outstanding balance under the Credit Agreement. Both options left no reasonable prospect to recover any positive economic realization for the partner / owners of REF.

The minimal amount of cash within REF as of December 31, 2009 was $3,453,242 and was not enough to sustain the future cash needs of all the real estate investments within REF which at that time was conservatively estimated (assuming interest payments only on debt of property) to be approximately $10,000,000. (As previously described the lender swept $2,300,000 in March of 2010 which in December was anticipated as a strong possibility as well). The current owners would not provide any new capital because it would likely be seized by the lender under the Credit Agreement. All or substantially all of the real estate investment assets were not projected to be cash flow positive in 2010 nor be disposed and generate enough cash within REF to fund its other commitments or the obligations under the Credit Agreement. Therefore, without any ability to provide cash for the cost of carrying its investments, the taxpayer determined either the lender would seize the assets in 2010, the assets would themselves be foreclosed upon, or REF's ownership in a real estate investment would be significantly diluted if it didn't meet future capital calls. Left with little to no prospects to sustain REF's investments, a liquidation sale of all of the REF's assets was considered in the worthless assessment. However, given the depressed state of the commercial real estate market and the deep recession in late 2009, and minimal financing available from would-be buyers due to the tightened commercial real estate credit market, any "fire sales" would result in heavily discounted sales proceeds, such that, if all REF's investments were able to be sold in this manner, it would likely not be enough to pay-off the outstanding balance under the Credit Agreement.

Thus, during the fourth quarter of 2009, taxpayer determined that its interest in REF became worthless and had no reasonable hope or expectation of recovery. The taxpayer confirmed this belief applying a liquidation analysis of REF's investment assets and determined that no later than December 31, 2009 the liabilities exceeded the value of the assets, and so the taxpayer's interests in REF had no value.

Therefore, the taxpayer, HCM and James Dondero determined that its partnership interest in REF was worthless as of no later than December 31, 2009 and had no reasonable prospect to recover in value. The interests in REF became worthless (such that no investor would be willing to pay any consideration for an REF interest) no later than December 31, 2009, through a confluence of factors: (1) deterioration in the credit markets combined with the severe recession already in place resulted in a devastating impact upon the commercial real estate market, its development, and sustainability; (2) the lack of cash within REF to sustain and fund the current needs of the real estate investments that it held to avoid foreclosure, forced sale, or dilution within the respective investment; (3) the lack of any new capital by the current owners of REF to provide new funding to sustain the current real estate investments; (4) a state of default under the Credit Agreement allowing the lender to seize all the assets of REF and REF having no financial ability to pay off the outstanding balance even through a liquidation sale of REF's assets.

Tax Reporting

The taxpayer has reported on its tax return for its taxable year ended December 31, 2009 an ordinary loss with respect to the worthlessness of its partnership interest in REF.<sup>1</sup> The loss is equal to the taxpayer's adjusted tax basis in the REF equity interest as of the date of worthlessness,<sup>2</sup> including basis attributable to the taxpayer's allocable share of REF liabilities.<sup>3</sup> The taxpayer wrote down its tax basis for its partnership interest in REF to zero no later than December 31, 2009.<sup>4</sup> In computing the taxpayer's adjusted tax basis in its interest in REF no later than December 31, 2009, the taxpayer has not taken into account its distributive share of its tax items for the 2009 tax year through the worthlessness date because the taxpayer did not sell, exchange, liquidate, or otherwise dispose of or terminate its interest in REF as a result of the worthlessness of the interest.<sup>5</sup> The taxpayer has not claimed any deduction for its distributive share of the REF loss reported for REF's taxable year ending December 31, 2009 to the extent the loss exceeds the taxpayer's adjusted tax basis for its REF equity interest as of December 31, 2009 (taking into account the write down of its tax basis to zero no later than December 31, 2009).<sup>6</sup>

Because the worthlessness of the taxpayer's partnership interest in REF did not give rise to any actual or constructive discharge of REF liabilities under I.R.C. § 752,<sup>7</sup> the taxpayer's loss from such worthlessness is an ordinary loss rather than a capital

<sup>7</sup> The worthlessness of the taxpayer's interest in REF had no effect on REF's direct or indirect liabilities, on the taxpayer's status as a partner in REF, or on the allocation of REF liabilities under I.R.C. § 752. Accordingly, the worthlessness event did not result in any reduction in the taxpayer's share of REF liabilities under Treas. Reg. § 1.752-2 or any deemed distribution under I.R.C. § 752(b).

Highland Capital Management, LP (EIN: 75-2716725)

loss.<sup>8</sup> In addition, the loss is a business loss for purposes of I.R.C. §§ 62(a)(1) and 172 because the taxpayer's interest in REF was attributable to and derived from the taxpayer's and James Dondero's business and was acquired with the dominant motive of generating a source of business income, and not with the dominant motive of making or preserving a non-business investment.<sup>9</sup>

The Service could challenge the taxpayer's tax reporting of the worthlessness loss under a variety of theories, which could include challenging the following assertions set forth above: (a) that the taxpayer's REF partnership interest became worthless during the taxpayer's year ending December 31, 2009, (b) that the taxpayer's loss is calculated without taking into account its distributive share of REF's tax items (if any) for REF's taxable year ended December 31, 2009, (c) that the taxpayer's loss with respect to the worthlessness of its REF partnership interest is an ordinary loss attributable to the taxpayer's business.

9 1 counsel? 2 A. I think I was the general counsel from 2004 to 3 2006. Kevin Ciavarra -- whenever Kevin Ciavarra took 4 over the role. I don't really recall exactly. 5 Q. Okay. You had the role until Kevin started, 6 until Kevin took over the role? 7 A. Until he took over, because he started. and then 8 he got promoted into that role and I moved out. 9 Q. Okay. And then when -- what time period were 10 you the interim general counsel? 11 A. I think that was late 2007 -- I'm sorry -- late 12 2006 to June or July of 2007 when Michael Colvin was 13 hired. 14 Q. Okay. And I'm going -- on behalf of -- you 15 understand that one of the parties I represent in this 16 matter is Highland Capital? 17 A. I do. 18 Q. And also you understand that one of the parties 19 I represent in this case is Cornerstone? 20 A. Yes. 21 Q. I'm going to instruct you that on behalf of 22 Highland and Cornerstone, you are not to disclose any 23 attorney-client information of either one of those 24 entities that you may have had during your employment or 25 relationship with either one. And I am not waiving any	11 1 questions that you ask him, so ... 2 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: Here's how we're 3 going to proceed: Mr. Katz, don't ask a question that 4 you think will elicit attorney-client information. If 5 unknowingly you ask such a question -- Mr. Sargent is 6 here on behalf of Highland. 7 Mr. Sargent, you're an attorney? 8 MR. SURGENT: Yes. 9 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: I will allow 10 Mr. Sargent to make an objection on the record on the 11 grounds of attorney-client privilege. That way we have 12 two sets of lawyers on the Highland side that are capable 13 of objecting to all or part of any answer that 14 Mr. Daugherty has. 15 I do think it's unfair to place on 16 Mr. Daugherty, who is the adverse party in this 17 litigation, the burden of determining what you think may 18 be privileged. 19 So that's how we'll proceed. 20 Q. Okay. Where did you go to law school, 21 Mr. Daugherty? 22 A. Univers- -- I'm sorry. University of Houston. 23 Q. Okay. And did you say you graduated in 1992? 24 A. I did. 25 Q. Okay. How did you do in law school? How did
10 1 of the privileges by questions that I'm asking you. And 2 if you feel that any of my questions calls for what you 3 believe to be attorney-client-privilege information, 4 rather than disclosing that information, would you let me 5 know? 6 A. I'm not sure I understand the direction. 7 Q. Okay. The direction is not to disclose 8 attorney-client-privilege information. 9 A. About what or when? 10 Q. Any attorney-client-privilege information that's 11 in your possession about Highland Capital or Cornerstone. 12 A. Okay, but I am -- you're going to have to give 13 more clarification than that because I don't know what 14 you're talking about. I don't know what's 15 attorney-client privilege, what isn't. I don't know what 16 you consider to be attorney-client privilege. 17 Q. Okay. Well, I am -- I am giving you the 18 instruction on behalf of Highland and Cornerstone not to 19 disclose attorney-client-privilege information. 20 MS. DANIELS: And I'm going to object to 21 that instruction in that he's already expressed to you 22 that it's not workable. And I'm not going to have him 23 under an instruction that either is not workable for him, 24 that he doesn't understand and that doesn't define what 25 it is that he's not supposed to talk about in response to	12 1 you do in law school? 2 A. Fine. 3 Q. Okay. Do you know what your final GPA was? 4 A. No. 5 Q. Do you know what your class rank was? 6 A. Yes. 7 Q. What was that? 8 A. Top third. 9 Q. Now, how many times have you given a deposition? 10 A. I don't know. 11 Q. More than 20? 12 A. Yes. 13 Q. How many -- do you know how many depositions you 14 have given in 2013? 15 A. I think, including this one -- wait. 2013. I 16 think I've given two or three this -- this year. 17 Q. And what about 2012? 18 A. I think I gave four. 19 Q. Okay. Do you consider yourself an honest 20 person? 21 A. I do. 22 Q. Have you ever told a lie? 23 A. Not that I can recall. 24 Q. Have you ever asked anybody to lie in your 25 behalf?

13 1 A. No. 2 (Exhibit 30 marked.) 3 Q. I'll show you what's marked as Exhibit 30. Can 4 you tell me if you recognize that document, please? 5 A. (Reviewing document.) Yes. 6 Q. Okay. Is this an e-mail that you sent to 7 Matthieu Wirz, with the Wall Street Journal? 8 A. Yes, it is. 9 Q. Okay. And that was an e-mail that you sent on 10 May 23rd, 2012, at 2:23 p.m.? 11 A. I think so. 12 Q. Okay. 13 A. That's what it has -- says there. 14 Q. Okay. And do you see on the subject line -- 15 well, I'm sorry. Let me ask you this: This e-mail also 16 attached several documents to it, didn't it? 17 A. Yes. 18 Q. And those documents were your initial answer and 19 counterclaim in this, and a motion for sanctions and 20 motion for disqualification? 21 A. Yeah, I don't have a recollection. It was 22 whatever those three documents were filed as. It says -- 23 it's abbreviated, or whatever. It doesn't say. 24 Q. The initial three pleadings that your counsel 25 filed in this case?	15 1 A. I didn't keep track. 2 Q. Okay. More than five? 3 A. I don't think so. 4 Q. Do you recall your prior deposition in this 5 case? 6 A. Vaguely. 7 Q. Do you recall testifying that Mr. Wirz had been 8 hounding you? 9 A. Yes. 10 Q. And what did you mean when you said that he had 11 been hounding you? 12 A. Calling me on multiple occasions. 13 Q. Okay. Anything else? 14 A. Not that comes to mind. 15 Q. Okay. And did he call you on your cell phone? 16 A. Yes. 17 Q. Did he ever -- 18 A. Yes. 19 Q. I'm sorry. Did he ever call you on any other 20 phone number? 21 A. I don't think so. 22 Q. And what was the cell phone number that he -- 23 which he called you? 24 A. (972) 679-7487. 25 Q. And since September 2011 have you ever had any
14 1 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 2 A. Yeah, I don't -- I don't know what their initial 3 documents were, but these three I do remember attaching. 4 Q. Okay. Okay. Do you see your statement that -- 5 "Sorry I have not been able to be responsive to your 6 numerous requests for information"? 7 A. Yes. 8 Q. Okay. You did make that statement? 9 A. It's in the e-mail. 10 Q. You wrote those words? 11 A. I wrote this e-mail. 12 Q. Yes. 13 A. I don't know if I made the statement. 14 Q. What did you mean when you said "numerous 15 requests for information"? 16 A. He had made numerous requests for information. 17 Q. How did -- 18 A. Because he had heard about me, Highland, Mark 19 Okada, various other things. 20 Q. And he made those requests for information to 21 you? 22 A. Yes. 23 Q. To you directly? 24 A. He called me. 25 Q. Okay. How many times did he call you?	16 1 other cell phone number? 2 A. I have not. 3 Q. Do you recognize the number (972) 955-5552? 4 A. That's my wife's number. 5 Q. Your wife's cell phone number? 6 A. It is. 7 Q. Do you ever use your wife's cell phone? 8 A. Never. Well, I'm not going to say never, but 9 not that I can recall, especially as it relates to 10 anything we just discussed. 11 Q. Okay. Would you ever use your wife's cell phone 12 for business-related matters? 13 A. No. 14 Q. And what did you mean when you wrote to Mr. Wirz 15 that "on advice of counsel, I am forced to let my answer 16 speak for itself"? 17 A. They told me -- 18 MS. DANIELS: Object to the extent that it 19 calls for privileged attorney-client communications. I 20 would instruct the witness, in making his answer, not to 21 reveal such communications. 22 A. I'm going to defer to my counsel on that. 23 Q. Okay. You're going to refuse to answer the 24 question on the advice of your counsel? 25 A. That's right.

17 1 MS. DANIELS: I'll instruct him not to 2 answer because there's no way to answer that question 3 without revealing privileged communication. 4 MR. KATZ: I understand your instruction, 5 Counsel. I just wanted to see if your client was 6 following the instruction. 7 Q. What did you mean by "advice of counsel"? 8 MS. DANIELS: Again, same objection. 9 To the extent that you can respond to that 10 question without revealing privileged communications, you 11 can respond to the question, but otherwise I'm going to 12 instruct you not to answer in a way that would reveal any 13 communications with counsel. 14 A. Yeah, in consultation or directive of counsel. 15 Q. Okay. The statement "On advice of counsel, I am 16 forced to let my answer speak for itself," was that a 17 true statement? 18 A. Yes. 19 Q. And then the next statement is -- it says, 20 "Please see the attached documents as filed with the 21 court." Do you see that? 22 A. I do. 23 Q. Okay. Was that a true statement? 24 A. To the best of my understanding, yes. 25 Q. Okay. How did you know the documents were filed	19 1 area is. 2 Q. Okay. What kind of restaurant was it? 3 A. I don't know for sure. I mean, it was -- it was 4 catered with food, had pizza and -- he rented out the 5 whole restaurant. I don't -- I don't know what their 6 usual menu is. 7 Q. Okay. Were there any other current Highland 8 employees there, that you were aware of? 9 A. No. It was a lot of former Highland employees. 10 Q. And what did you discuss with Mr. Dameris? 11 A. With what -- with Mr. Dameris? 12 Q. Yes. 13 A. All kinds of things. 14 Q. Did you discuss anything related to this case? 15 A. No. 16 Q. Did you mention to Mr. Dameris that you were 17 being deposed today? 18 A. I did. 19 Q. What did you tell him? 20 A. That I'm being deposed today. 21 Q. Did Mr. Dameris make any comments to you about 22 that? 23 A. No. 24 Q. Prior to last night, when was the last time 25 before that that you spoke to any current Highland
18 1 with the court? 2 A. I think they had a stamp at the top of it. 3 Q. Have you spoken to Mr. Wirz since May 23rd -- or 4 have you had any -- I'm sorry. Let me start that 5 question over. 6 Have you had any communications with 7 Mr. Wirz since May 23rd, 2012? 8 A. Not that I recall. 9 Q. When was the last time that you spoke to a 10 current Highland employee? 11 A. Last night. 12 Q. And who was that? 13 A. Ted Dameris. 14 Q. And where did that communication take place? 15 A. It was at Davis Deadman's 50th birthday party. 16 Q. Okay. And where was that party? 17 A. I don't remember the name of the restaurant. 18 Q. Was it a restaurant in Dallas? 19 A. Yes. 20 Q. Do you remember the location of the restaurant? 21 A. That area, you take -- go down Greenville and go 22 east -- I'm sorry -- go, yeah, east on Richmond. 23 Whatever area that is. 24 Q. Okay. 25 A. Is that -- I don't know what the name of that	20 1 employee? 2 A. Earlier that day. 3 Q. And who was that? 4 A. Isaac Levenson (sic). 5 Q. Okay. And did you speak to Mr. Leventon in 6 person or on the phone? 7 A. Actually, I did not speak with Levenson (sic) 8 yesterday. I spoke with him the day before. 9 Q. Okay. And was that up here in these offices 10 where we are today? 11 A. Yes. 12 Q. Can you tell me every current Highland employee 13 that you recall speaking to since you have left Highland? 14 A. I can, but can I go back to one of your 15 questions you asked me a second ago? You asked me if 16 there are any current employees of Highland. There was 17 another employee named Richard. He's an employee of a 18 Highland affiliate, NexBank. I talked to him, too. 19 Q. Okay. And when did you talk to him? 20 A. Last night, at the party. 21 Q. Do you recall his last name? 22 A. No. I think he ran the branch for NexBank 23 when -- when we -- when I worked at the Galleria. And 24 now I guess he's closing a branch somewhere in Plano, I 25 think, and opening another one up someplace else. And we

21 1 talked about that. 2 Q. Okay. So back to my question. Can you -- since 3 you left -- since -- when was your last day at Highland? 4 A. October 17th, I think. 5 Q. Okay. 6 A. 2011. 7 Q. Okay. Since that time, can you give me the list 8 of every individual to whom you have spoken who at the 9 time of the conversation or communication was a current 10 Highland employee? 11 A. Yeah, I'll do the best I can. I mean -- 12 Q. Sure. 13 A. -- I think it's a long list. 14 Q. Okay. 15 A. You want me to give it now? 16 Q. Please. 17 A. Thomas Surgent, Jim Dondero, Mark Okada, Lane 18 Britain, Patrick Boyce, Brian Collins, Nathan Schray, 19 Greg Stuecheli, Martin Downen, Tom Pereira, Tim Lawler, 20 Clay Callan, David Smith, Christina Dandar, Meredith 21 Etheredge, Jake Tomlin, Kevin Rourke, Chris Lombardi, 22 Jeff -- I can't remember his last name, on my team. Amy 23 Jenkins, Jason Ziegler, Paul Kaufman, Clint Gilchrist, 24 Lauren Garza, Scott Ellington, Isaac Levenson (sic), John 25 Honis. I'm sure there's some others.	23 1 A. I don't have -- not that I -- no. I mean, I use 2 Twitter. 3 Q. And what do you use Twitter for? 4 A. To tweet Patrick Boyce. 5 Q. And how long have you been doing that? 6 A. Once. 7 Q. Any other social media application sites that 8 you use? 9 A. I use them. I just don't have -- you asked if I 10 had a LinkedIn account, for example. I don't -- I don't 11 have a LinkedIn account. 12 Q. Okay. 13 A. But I use a lot of sites. 14 Q. Okay. Which ones do you use? 15 A. Which sites? 16 Q. Yes. 17 A. Twitter, as I discussed. Facebook, Zooloo, 18 Willow. There's a litany. ESPN, Fox News, CNN News, the 19 engine curve site, LinkedIn, the SAS Asset Recovery site. 20 I think they have two sites. 21 Q. Okay. Maybe I -- maybe I didn't ask my question 22 clearly. What I wanted to know is, are there social 23 media sites that you use for purpose of communicating 24 with others? 25 A. I Google.
22 1 Q. And -- 2 A. I'd have to just come back to you, think about 3 it. 4 Q. Yeah, and just for purpose of clarification, 5 were you including in-person communications as well as 6 telephone communications? 7 A. Yes. 8 Q. Okay. 9 A. I think so. I'd have to think about it, but ... 10 Q. Okay. Are there any -- are there any 11 individuals with whom you've communicated since your last 12 day at Highland, either in person, on the phone, via 13 e-mail, social media, anything else, that you recall? 14 A. Jonathan Hubble, Danielle, the office manager, 15 Britney Cunningham, Lexie something or other. I can't 16 remember her last name. 17 Q. What was -- well, I'm sorry. Go ahead. 18 A. I don't mean to imply that that's a 19 comprehensive list because I'm sure there's others. I'd 20 just have to think about it. 21 Q. Okay. Do you have -- do you have a LinkedIn 22 profile? 23 A. I don't, no. 24 Q. Are there any -- do you use Facebook or any 25 other social media sites?	24 1 Q. Anything else? 2 A. That's all I can think of at this time. 3 Q. And what computers or devices have you used to 4 access those sites? 5 A. My iPhone and my Mac computer. I think it's a 6 Mac Pro Retina. 7 Q. And how long have you had that computer? 8 A. I got it about April or May of 2012, when you 9 guys quarantined my PC and my iPad. 10 MR. KATZ: Object as nonresponsive to 11 everything after "2012." 12 Q. Do you remember being in court on August 31st, 13 2012, in this case? 14 A. I don't remember the precise date, but I 15 remember being in court regarding this case. 16 Q. Okay. How many of the court hearings in this 17 case have you attended? 18 A. I don't know. I don't know how many there have 19 been. 20 Q. Well, I'm asking how many you personally have 21 attended. 22 A. You know, I don't know if they were technically 23 hearings or if they were more informal sessions, so I'm 24 not sure. 25 Q. Okay. How many times have you been in Judge

25 1 Hoffman's courtroom with respect to this case? 2 A. I think once. I mean, I've been in this case 3 multiple occasions, as you know, with Reliant and -- 4 yeah, Reliant, Reliant/Cornerstone litigation. So I 5 can't remember if I was in there -- you know what I mean? 6 I was in that court, it was in Hoffman's court, but it 7 was a different matter. 8 Q. And what I'm asking you is about this matter. 9 You remember one time? 10 A. I remember once. 11 Q. And do you remember having a communication -- 12 you personally having a communication with the Judge at 13 that hearing? 14 A. Yes. 15 Q. And do you recall the Judge telling you not to 16 allow your counsel to make any statements that might not 17 be true because they didn't have all the information that 18 you might have? 19 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 20 A. I don't know if that's what he said or not. 21 Q. What do you recall him saying? 22 A. I remember him asking me how much money I made, 23 and -- I don't know. He was talking about a bunch of 24 stuff. There were lawyers in the room. I think you were 25 there, James Stanton was there, my lawyers were there,	27 1 Yeah, there's one guy who worked in the retail group. I 2 can't remember his name. I spoke a lot with him. 3 Q. Do you remember what his position was? 4 A. He was on the investment side in the retail 5 group. And he left the firm, and he wanted me to review 6 a case study that he had done because he was interviewing 7 with somebody. 8 Q. So he was a former -- a former employee at the 9 time that you spoke to him? 10 A. He was a former employee at the time I spoke 11 with him, but he was a current employee at the time I 12 left Highland, which was, I thought, the question. 13 Q. Okay. To be clear, what I -- what I wanted to 14 ask you was folks who were current Highland employees at 15 the time you spoke to them, but that's okay. 16 A. Yeah, and it's kind of nebulous. I might have 17 spoken to him while he was an employee as well. 18 Q. Yeah. 19 A. I didn't take note of it, to be honest. 20 Q. Okay. So are there folks who are former 21 employees of Highland or its affiliates that you have 22 spoken -- that you have communicated with since you left 23 Highland in addition to the people you've mentioned? 24 A. There might be. And like I said, as they come 25 to my mind --
26 1 and you-all were talking about a lot of things that -- 2 Q. Okay. Well -- 3 A. -- I didn't pay any attention to. 4 Q. I'm just asking what you recall the Judge 5 telling you directly. 6 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 7 A. That's what I was alluding to earlier. I 8 remember him asking me about my communication. I 9 remember there was some discussion about my 10 communications with the press, at which point I said I'd 11 be happy to give you the whole story. And he -- he just 12 wanted to hear from the lawyers. 13 By the way, on your question earlier about 14 people I have spoken with, am I supposed to include 15 Highland affiliates on that as well? 16 Q. Sure. 17 A. Okay. 18 Q. Are there others that that would -- 19 A. Including the affiliates? 20 Q. Yes. 21 A. Yes. 22 Q. Can you tell us who those are, please? 23 A. Dirk Allison, Kevin Dowd, Reece Fulgham, David 24 Petal, the CEO of NexBank. I can't remember -- Holt, I 25 think is his name. Let's see. Mike Rossi, Steve Bishop.	28 1 Q. Yeah. 2 A. -- I'm going to let you know. 3 Q. Okay. But when you were -- when you were giving 4 us the list, you were including folks that were former 5 Highland or affiliate employees at the time you spoke to 6 them? 7 A. Sorry. I'm not understanding. 8 Q. Okay. 9 A. And I don't mean to be difficult. 10 Q. No, that's -- 11 A. So what I gave you was a list of people who -- 12 at the time I resigned, any conversations I had after 13 that time, they may have been Highland -- Highland 14 employees at some point during that time, which is, I 15 thought, what you were asking me. 16 Q. Okay. I think you just confused me. 17 A. Sorry. 18 Q. That's all right. Okay. And that's fine. You 19 answered -- I was going to ask you that -- I was going to 20 ask you that question to follow up, but just -- just so 21 we're absolutely clear, if I want to know every person 22 who you've spoken to since you left Highland who was 23 either a current or former employee of Highland or its 24 affiliates at the time that you spoke to them, you gave 25 the information?

29 1 A. Give me that one more time. 2 Q. Sure. 3 A. Now I'm confused. 4 Q. Anybody that you spoke to since you left -- 5 A. Yes. 6 Q. -- who at the time you spoke to them -- 7 A. Yes. 8 Q. -- was either a current Highland or affiliate 9 employee or a former Highland or affiliate employee? 10 A. No, I did not give you that list. 11 Q. Okay. 12 A. What I gave you was a list of people that -- 13 after I resigned and sometime I spoke to them, they were 14 an employee at some point during that time period between 15 now and the time I resigned. 16 By the way, a name just popped into my 17 head. Shawn Lederman. 18 Q. Okay. But the individual that you're talking 19 about who was on the investment side of the retail group 20 was a former individual at the time that you spoke to 21 him, former employee? 22 A. Yeah. The guy I was talking about before, whose 23 name just doesn't come to mind, and I'm sure it will 24 eventually, he may have been employed at Highland at some 25 point while he was talking to me. He also talked to me	31 1 flux, so ... 2 Q. Just the best you understand it. 3 A. Yeah, I was going to say, you know, all I can go 4 with is what people tell me. 5 So Amy Jenkins, Jason Ziegler, Paul 6 Kaufman, Kurt Plumer, Todd Travers, Wes Olfers, Davis 7 Deadman, Shawn Ward, Kevin Rourke, Clay Shumway, Dan 8 Drabinski, Evan Gonzalez, Nam Kwok, Bruce Jacob, Jack 9 Yang, Lee Brown, Mark Martinson, Christina Dandar, 10 Meredith Etheredge. Did I say Amy Jenkins? I don't 11 remember. 12 Q. You did. 13 A. Did I say Chris Lombardi? 14 Q. I'm not sure. 15 A. Okay. 16 Q. But he's in the list? 17 A. Add him to the list. 18 Steve Bishop, Mike Rossi, Fred Florjancic. 19 Actually, check that. He was at Safety-Kleen, but that's 20 not a Highland affiliate. 21 A bunch of guys in the accounting team. 22 Clint Gilchrist, Mohan. I don't know what his last name 23 is, and don't ask me how to spell Mohan. 24 Again, there will probably be others. As 25 they come to mind ...
30 1 after he left. I don't know if he was in some type of, 2 you know, notice period or transition period. 3 Q. Sure. 4 A. So I might have -- like, I didn't keep track of 5 when he was at Highland, but I'm just saying he might 6 have been at Highland. 7 Q. I'm with you. Okay. 8 What about -- okay. So let me ask -- then 9 the second part of that is anybody that you've spoken 10 to -- 11 A. Ah, another name: Mike Hasenauer. 12 Q. Hasenauer? 13 A. Hasenauer. 14 Q. Okay. Anybody that you've spoken to or 15 communicated with since you left Highland who, at the 16 time that you communicated with them, was a former 17 employee of Highland or one of its affiliates? 18 A. Yes. 19 Q. Okay. Can you give me those -- those names, 20 please? 21 A. Amy Jenkins -- or affiliates. So Amy Jenkins, 22 Dirk Allison. Well, I don't -- I was under the 23 impression that Dirk was a former employee of Cornerstone 24 because that's the impression that Dirk left me with, but 25 after hearing Mr. Boyce's testimony, it seemed to be in	32 1 Q. Okay. 2 A. As you can tell, it's a long list, and you're 3 asking me to -- you know, if something comes to my mind, 4 I'll let you know. 5 Q. All right. Appreciate that. 6 A. Oh, Julio Cifuentes, Jaime -- I don't know what 7 Jaime's last name is. Ricky Sanchez, Louis Koven, Mark 8 Murray, Kevin Latimer, Brad Borud, Ethan Underwood, Jay 9 Carvell, Britt Brown, Morton Wendell. What was that 10 guy's name? He was one of our head of HRs. I'll think 11 of his name. I think his name was Brian. Brian Cox, 12 Harold Siegel. 13 There was another marketing guy. His name 14 is on the tip of my tongue, just on the tip of my tongue. 15 And I talked to him a lot. I just can't remember his 16 name. Marion. I think it was Marion. 17 I'll let you know if there's another dose. 18 Q. All right. 19 A. I don't want to take up all your time by me 20 trying to remember a hundred names. 21 Q. Okay. So back to the one hearing that you 22 attended in this case in front of Judge Hoffman. 23 Do you recall Judge Hoffman making the 24 statement to you that, quote, If you're in a situation 25 that you know you've done something and your attorney

33 1 doesn't know about it and you see that your attorney is 2 making some type of misrepresentation, you make sure that 3 you say, Hey, that's not what's going on? 4 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 5 A. You know, actually I do remember something to 6 that effect. 7 Q. Okay. And do you recall you responded: I 8 agree. I wouldn't have done anything like that? 9 A. Yeah. Something like that, yeah. 10 Q. Okay. And do you recall also making the 11 statement, I wouldn't misrepresent anything to you and I 12 wouldn't have somebody representing me do it blindly 13 either? 14 A. That's correct. 15 Q. Okay. Were those true statements at the time 16 that you made them? 17 A. From my perspective, yes. 18 Q. Okay. And are they true statements today? 19 A. That I wouldn't have somebody misrepresent 20 something? Yes. 21 Q. And that when you were in court that day, did 22 you hear your attorneys saying anything that you believe 23 not to be true? 24 A. No. 25 Q. As you sit here today, do you believe your	35 1 Mr. Collins in this case; isn't that true? 2 A. It is true. 3 Q. Okay. Did you take notes during those 4 depositions? 5 A. No. Well, let me clarify. I passed notes to my 6 counsel during probably all of those depositions, but 7 I -- so -- 8 MS. DANIELS: And to the extent that he was 9 engaged in that or any kind of communications or 10 activities at the direction of counsel, I will instruct 11 the witness not to communicate that, those instructions. 12 Q. The notes that you gave your counsel, those were 13 notes that you wrote? 14 A. Yes. 15 Q. And they were notes that you wrote during the 16 depositions? 17 A. That's correct. 18 Q. Okay. And what was the purpose of you making 19 those notes? 20 MS. DANIELS: And, again, I'm going to 21 object to the extent that that calls for the revelation 22 of any privileged communications with counsel. 23 To the extent you can answer that without 24 conveying communication from counsel, you may do so, but 25 otherwise I'm going to instruct you not to answer.
34 1 attorneys said anything at that hearing that you don't 2 believe was true? 3 A. I didn't hear my attorneys say anything that I 4 felt was untrue at that hearing. 5 Q. Okay. Both at the time that you heard them make 6 the statements and as you sit here today? 7 A. I mean, what goes for what I heard at that 8 hearing, from what I can recall, goes for now. Yes. 9 Q. Okay. That was my question. Thank you. 10 A. Yeah. 11 Q. Okay. What did you do to prepare for the 12 deposition today? 13 A. Oh, I read a little Winston Churchill, I watched 14 Braveheart, and I listened to some Tom Petty on the way 15 in. 16 Q. Okay. And did you talk to anybody in 17 preparation for the deposition? 18 A. No. 19 Q. Did you take any notes? 20 A. No. 21 Q. Have you made any notes in connection with this 22 case at any time? 23 A. Yes. 24 Q. Did you make notes -- well, you attended the 25 depositions of Mr. Boyce, Mr. Lawler, Mr. Britain, and	36 1 A. Yeah, I think this is fine. I mean, I think 2 testimony was evasive. I think in some instances people 3 were lying. And so I helped my counsel ask more-directed 4 questions that -- that, frankly, broke down the barrier 5 for which they were trying to hide behind and telling the 6 truth. 7 Q. Did your counsel direct you to make those notes? 8 A. No. 9 Q. Where are those notes right now? 10 A. Well, let me just clarify. Counsel told me to 11 give them notes to the extent I thought I could help. 12 The individual notes, per se, no. 13 Q. Where are those notes right now? 14 A. Garbage can someplace. 15 Q. Did you throw them away? 16 A. I didn't take note. I think Rachel probably 17 threw them away. 18 Q. Okay. Are there any of them that were not 19 thrown away? 20 A. No, not that I know of. 21 Q. Did you direct your attorney to throw them away? 22 A. I did not. 23 Q. Are you taking any medications? 24 A. No. 25 Q. Any reason, as you sit here today, that you

37 1 can't tell the truth? 2 A. No. 3 Q. Any condition you are currently suffering from 4 that may affect your memory? 5 A. No. 6 Q. Have you ever told anybody that you have any 7 type of condition that might affect your memory? 8 A. I have not. 9 Q. Are you currently -- are you currently working? 10 A. No, unfortunately not. 11 Q. Are you involved with any business enterprises 12 currently? 13 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 14 A. Yes. 15 Q. Okay. Which -- what are the names of the -- 16 well, is there more than one? 17 A. No. 18 Q. What is the name of the business enterprise? 19 A. Broadacre. 20 Q. Broadacre? 21 A. Yes. 22 Q. Okay. Is that two words? 23 A. I'm not sure. 24 Q. And what is your -- what type of business is 25 Broadacre in?	39 1 A. Yes. 2 Q. On how many occasions? 3 A. I don't recall. 4 Q. A significant number? 5 A. I don't know what you mean by "significant." 6 Q. Sure. More than ten? 7 A. No. 8 Q. More than five? 9 A. No. 10 Q. Would those communications have been in writing 11 or in person or on the phone? I'm sorry. That was a bad 12 question. 13 A. I'm not going to play hard-to-get. 14 Q. Okay, yeah. 15 A. It was in writing. I'm sorry. It was not in 16 writing. It was on the phone and in person. 17 Q. Okay. And approximately what time was the first 18 communication you recall having with Kevin about this 19 litigation? 20 A. Within days of when you guys filed the original 21 petition against me. 22 Q. Okay. And when was the last communication you 23 recall having with him about this litigation? 24 A. I was up in New York, and he just asked me how 25 it was going.
38 1 A. It's an agricultural farmland company with 2 operations in Canada, primarily the Saskatchewan area. 3 Q. And what is your role with Broadacre? 4 A. I'm on the board of directors. 5 Q. And how long have you been on the board of 6 directors? 7 A. I guess about a month. 8 Q. Who else is on the board? 9 A. A guy named Phil -- I don't recall his last 10 name -- me, and I think Kevin Ulrich. 11 Q. And the board is just the three of you? 12 A. As I understand it, yeah. 13 Q. Okay. And do you remember Phil's last name? 14 A. No. 15 Q. And how did you come to be involved with 16 Broadacre? 17 A. Kevin brought me the idea a couple of years ago. 18 Q. Okay. And is Kevin a -- how do you know Kevin? 19 A. He's a friend, professional colleague. Our 20 families are friends. 21 Q. Is Kevin a former Highland or Highland affiliate 22 employee? 23 A. No. 24 Q. Have you ever spoken to Kevin about this 25 litigation?	40 1 Q. Okay. When were you up in New York? 2 A. Several times. It was one of the times I was up 3 in New York but not the last time. I was in New York in 4 October. I didn't meet with him then. So I went up to 5 New York prior to that. I think it was September. And 6 that's when he asked me about it. 7 Q. September of 2012? 8 A. That's correct. 9 Q. What do you recall speaking to Mr. Ulrich about 10 with regard to the lawsuit? 11 A. Just said it was ongoing and I -- and I felt 12 like we were finally starting to get some traction on 13 discovery and getting a court date set. 14 Q. Have you ever made any comments to Kevin -- have 15 you ever made any negative comments about Highland to 16 Mr. Ulrich? 17 A. No. 18 Q. Have you ever made any negative comments to 19 Mr. Ulrich about Patrick Boyce? 20 A. No. He doesn't even know Patrick Boyce. 21 Q. Any negative comments to Mr. Ulrich about Jim 22 Dondero? 23 A. No. 24 Q. Lane Britain? 25 A. No, and he doesn't know Lane Britain.

41 1 Q. Do you have any other positions with Broadacre 2 other than being on the board? 3 A. No. 4 Q. What type of corporation is Broadacre? 5 A. I don't know the details. It's some kind of 6 Canadian entity. 7 Q. Okay. Are you at all responsible for finding 8 investors for Broadacre? 9 A. No. They have an employee that's designated to 10 do just that. 11 Q. Have you ever represented to anybody that you 12 are in business with Greg Stuecheli? 13 A. No, I haven't represented that I'm in business 14 with Greg Stuecheli. I've represented that we were 15 trying to start a business together. 16 Q. Okay. And to whom did you make those 17 representations? 18 A. It's a lot of people. 19 Q. Okay. Approximately how many people? 20 A. Could be a couple hundred. 21 Q. Have you ever made that representation in 22 writing? 23 A. That we are in business together? 24 Q. No, that you are -- I'm sorry. Your words, that 25 you are planning to go into business or that you're	43 1 A. Yes, I have. 2 Q. Okay. And what investors or clients have -- 3 prospective investors or clients have you spoken to? 4 A. Like, what are their names? 5 Q. Yes. 6 A. I think that's confidential. I don't think you 7 should have a right to have that. 8 MS. DANIELS: Yeah, I'm going to object to 9 that information as -- as his confidential business 10 information, not relevant to any claim in this lawsuit or 11 any claim that Highland's made and potentially damaging 12 to his efforts and abilities to try to start a business, 13 make a living, move on with his own professional 14 activities. So I'm going to instruct the witness not to 15 answer. 16 MR. KATZ: Your Honor, do we want to take 17 those -- these issues up now or ... 18 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: Tell me what your 19 question was again. 20 MR. KATZ: I was asking him what 21 prospective investors or clients that he has spoken to 22 with respect to this business venture that he is trying 23 to start. 24 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: There's -- there's 25 no way around discovery on this issue, but it is a proper
42 1 trying to start a business with Mr. Stuecheli. 2 A. No, I haven't told anybody -- well, I might have 3 sent some e-mails saying -- no, I don't think so. I 4 don't think I've sent e-mails saying that Greg and I are 5 trying to go to (sic) business together. 6 Q. Okay, but you are trying with Mr. Stuecheli -- 7 A. Yes. 8 Q. -- to go into business? 9 A. Sorry. 10 Q. And what type of business are you trying to 11 start with Mr. Stuecheli? 12 A. A credit strategy business. 13 Q. And what do you mean by "credit strategy 14 business"? 15 A. I mean investing in the credit tranches of the 16 capital structures of companies. So loans, bonds, that 17 type of thing. 18 Q. Okay. And what efforts have you -- have you 19 personally made as part of the -- to try to start that 20 business? 21 A. I'm not sure I understand what you mean. 22 Q. Okay. Have you formed an entity? 23 A. No. 24 Q. Have you spoken to potential investors or other 25 clients?	44 1 subject for attorneys-eyes-only type thing. 2 MS. DANIELS: Under the definition of 3 attorneys' eyes only in the protective order, that is 4 problematic for us -- and we're preparing documents to 5 address that, but under that attorneys-eyes-only 6 instruction that they put in the order, 7 attorneys-eyes-only information can be shown to them and 8 their employees. 9 That would not protect the interests that 10 we have in Pat Daugherty's information that he's willing 11 to testify to because we believe that they will take 12 efforts with these people that he's identified or 13 companies that he's identified in order to, you know, 14 waylay Mr. Daugherty's opportunities with them. 15 So I'm concerned about -- 16 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: Refresh my memory. 17 It seems like we've been down this road before with 18 regard to some kind of an order where I authorized 19 information be disclosed but prohibited the other side 20 from contacting the third parties. I'm not sure that had 21 to do with investors. That might have -- 22 MR. KATZ: Your Honor, if I can -- if I can 23 address that. 24 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: Yeah. 25 MR. KATZ: The issue there was when Looper

45 1 Reed took the position that they could show  2 attorneys-eyes-only documents to Mr. Daugherty, and --  3 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: No, that's not what  4 I'm thinking of.  5 MR. KATZ: Okay.  6 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: There was an order  7 in --  8 MR. KATZ: We can make it simple, Your  9 Honor. We will agree that the attorneys-eyes-only  10 designations, unless further ordered from the Court,  11 cannot be shown to non-attorneys.  12 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: Well, I'll go one  13 step further, that you can't do anything with this -- you  14 can't contact these investors without court approval.  15 MR. KATZ: Okay.  16 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: You can get the  17 information. I just don't think there's any way around  18 getting the information because it goes to the heart of  19 your claims in this lawsuit.  20 MR. KATZ: Sure.  21 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: But I can further  22 limit it to just the attorneys in the case, and I can  23 prohibit the lawyers and their clients from contacting  24 any of these investors.  25 And so just to be clear, you're entitled to	47 1 about the trial team --  2 MS. DANIELS: Okay.  3 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: -- not the in-house  4 Highland lawyers.  5 MS. DANIELS: Okay.  6 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: In-house Highland  7 lawyers are out.  8 MR. MOORE: Does that include in-house  9 litigation as opposed to --  10 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: Yes. Anybody on  11 Highland's payroll, anybody who's in-house, out.  12 MR. LEVENTON: Your Honor, just one point  13 of --  14 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: You're not a trial  15 counsel.  16 MR. LEVENTON: I'm not --  17 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: Are you attorney of  18 record in this case?  19 MR. LEVENTON: I'm not addressing the last  20 comment you made.  21 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: Are you addressing  22 anything?  23 MR. LEVENTON: Yes, Your Honor.  24 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: Are you an attorney  25 of record in this case?
46 1 know -- just the lawyers are entitled to know who these  2 investors are, and that's it. You cannot act on any of  3 this information.  4 MR. KATZ: And, Your Honor, just -- and I  5 think this is what Mr. Leventon's concern is --  6 absolutely, I understand. The issue is -- and we can  7 address it if and when it comes up --  8 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: Right.  9 MR. KATZ: -- what happens if the investors  10 he's contacting are already investors or prospective  11 investors of Highland and they are --  12 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: We can sort that  13 out later.  14 MR. KATZ: But we wouldn't know that unless  15 I could talk to people.  16 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: We can sort all  17 this out later.  18 MR. KATZ: Okay.  19 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: All you're entitled  20 to right now is the information, and you can't do  21 anything with it, and you can't show it to your clients.  22 MS. DANIELS: And, Judge Kaplan, in that  23 regard, I would ask that the internal non-trial counsel  24 here for Highland be asked to leave in order --  25 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: I'm talking just	48 1 MR. LEVENTON: I am not.  2 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: I'm not interested  3 in hearing it.  4 MR. LEVENTON: Okay.  5 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: You've got very  6 talented, gifted, and high-priced lawyers that are  7 capable of communicating any of your concerns to me.  8 MR. LEVENTON: Okay.  9 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: So I will ask that  10 anybody who is not a member of the outside trial team to  11 excuse themselves from the room.  12 (Messrs. Leventon, Boyce, Surgent leave the  13 room.)  14 MR. KATZ: Thank you, Your Honor.  15 MS. DANIELS: And, Judge Kaplan, I just  16 want to make sure we're clear that to the extent that  17 he's asking him about people that he's talked to in  18 connection with starting a new business, that that  19 information cannot go beyond the folks in this room, in  20 any way, shape or form, without further -- without  21 further involvement by you or -- or our judge in the case  22 in saying what they can or cannot do with it.  23 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: I think I've said  24 that two different ways.  25 But on the record, Mr. Katz, you understand

81 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 (End of attorneys-eyes-only excerpt.) 17 Q. (By Mr. Katz) Now, you signed an employment -- 18 MR. MOORE: I'll grab the clients. I think 19 we're past this sensitive material, but if not, if we get 20 back to it, we'll ask them to leave. 21 MS. DANIELS: Thanks. 22 Q. You're aware that you signed an employment 23 agreement with Highland Capital, correct? 24 A. Yes. 25 Q. And are you aware that that agreement contained	83 1 damage assessment from this litigation, the accusations, 2 everything else; talked to some headhunters. Actually, 3 I'd talked to the headhunters earlier. 4 And the feedback came back very negative, 5 and it was suggested to me that my best bet, given what 6 was going on, was to go out and try and start my own 7 firm. Probably had better -- better luck doing it that 8 way. 9 Q. Who were the headhunters that you talked to? 10 A. Spencer Stuart, Pearson Partners. There might 11 have been another one in there. Heidrick &amp; Struggles. 12 Heidrick &amp; Struggles. 13 Q. Okay. And who was it that told you you would be 14 better off doing your own thing? 15 A. Peter Gonye. 16 Q. And who was he with? 17 A. Spencer Stuart. 18 Q. Is it your testimony that you had not thought 19 about starting your own venture prior to those 20 conversations? 21 A. Yeah, not in any material sense. I really 22 hadn't put any thought behind it. I hadn't put any -- 23 no, I hadn't. 24 Q. When you say you were doing a damage assessment, 25 was there ever any documentation of that assessment?

84 1 A. No. I just went around and met with people that 2 I knew in New York to get their honest feedback. 3 Q. Okay. The notebook that you mentioned earlier, 4 how many -- approximately how many conversations did you 5 take notes about that are in that notebook? 6 A. I don't -- I don't recall. 7 Q. Is it more than ten? 8 A. I don't know. 9 Q. More than two? 10 A. Yes. 11 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 12 A. Yes, it is more than two. 13 Q. Who do you -- what conversations do you recall 14 taking notes about that are included in that notebook? 15 A. Tim Lawler, Kevin Dowd, Reece Fulgham, Christina 16 Dandar, Kurt Plumer, Gibran Mahmud, Ethan Underwood, Jay 17 Carvell, Mark Okada. 18 Q. Anything else? 19 A. Those are just the ones I can think of off the 20 top of my head. There's others, I -- I imagine. 21 Q. Have you ever taken -- and all those 22 conversations that you took notes about happened after 23 you left Highland? 24 A. That's correct. 25 Q. Did they all happen after this litigation	86 1 MS. DANIELS: And, again, to the extent 2 that that calls for you to reveal communications with 3 counsel or any substance of communications with counsel, 4 I'm going to instruct you not to answer. 5 Q. I don't want to know the substance right now. I 6 just want to know what -- are those notes of telephone 7 calls that you've taken? 8 MS. DANIELS: Again, to the extent that his 9 questions would require you to reveal substantive 10 communications with counsel by the question themselves 11 and the information that you'll have to use to answer it, 12 I'm going to instruct you not to answer it. 13 A. Yeah, but I'm okay saying it was a combination 14 of phone calls and face-to-face meetings. 15 Q. Okay. And were these notes taken in a similar 16 spiral-type notebook, like the other one? 17 A. Just -- yeah. I mean, to be honest with you, 18 yes, other -- I don't -- not exactly like it, but other 19 type notebooks. 20 Q. Okay. 21 A. Or pieces of paper. 22 Q. Were -- the notes that you took, did you take 23 them while you were having the conversations? 24 A. Yes, sometimes. 25 Q. But sometimes after?
85 1 commenced? 2 A. That's correct. 3 Q. And have you ever taken notes from a 4 conversation you've had with anybody after this 5 litigation commenced that are not in your possession 6 currently? 7 A. I'm not sure. Can you clean that one up a 8 little bit? 9 Q. Sure. Have you -- are there any notes that you 10 have taken from any conversation that are not in your -- 11 currently in your possession? 12 A. Yes. 13 Q. Okay. And are those notes not in your 14 possession because you've thrown them away? 15 A. No. I -- it's matters that were under direction 16 of counsel, and so counsel has those. 17 Q. Okay. Were those notes of -- the ones that are 18 in the possession of your counsel, those are notes of 19 conversations with third parties? 20 A. I don't -- what do you mean by "third parties"? 21 Q. Okay. Well, tell me what -- 22 A. I mean, everybody's with the conversation other 23 than me. 24 Q. Sure. Tell me what notes you're referring to 25 that are in possession of counsel.	87 1 A. Right after. 2 Q. And is it your testimony that these 3 conversations about which you took notes were -- that the 4 conversations were at the direction of counsel? 5 A. Yes. 6 Q. Okay. And were those conversations with any 7 current or former Highland employees? 8 A. Yes. 9 Q. Okay. And who do you recall taking notes about? 10 MS. DANIELS: Again, I'll object to the 11 extent that it involves -- that the identity of the 12 persons involves communications, directives of counsel in 13 connection with the litigation or that are -- that are 14 privileged communications. 15 I would instruct you not to answer the 16 question to that extent. 17 A. I'm going to not answer the question, then. 18 Q. I'm not asking you about your conversations with 19 counsel. I'm asking you about your notes. 20 MS. DANIELS: And, again, to the extent 21 that the notes -- 22 MR. KATZ: Let me finish my question, 23 please. 24 MS. DANIELS: Oh, I thought you were. You 25 go right ahead, and then I'll make my objection.

88 1 Q. I want to know who you spoke to that you took 2 notes of the conversations. 3 MS. DANIELS: Again, to the extent that who 4 you spoke to identifies directives and communications -- 5 directives of counsel or communications with counsel, 6 I'll instruct you not to answer the question. 7 A. On that basis, I'm not going to answer the 8 question. 9 MR. KATZ: Let's go off the record. 10 THE VIDEOGRAPHER: Off the record, 11:10 11 a.m. 12 (Recess taken from 11:10 to 11:22.) 13 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: We're back on the 14 record. 15 (Written record only, not on videotaped 16 record.) 17 MR. KATZ: Mr. Daugherty indicated that he 18 had taken notes of phone calls that he had. He had two 19 sets of notes, one that he says is in his possession, 20 which hasn't been turned over to us. That's -- we'll 21 take that for another time, but that's an issue. 22 The bigger issue, the immediate issue is he 23 said he has another set of notes that he has given to his 24 counsel that he said he took -- that Ms. Daniels said 25 that was taken at her direction. It was of -- it was of	90 1 MS. DANIELS: Under the work-product 2 privilege and under the attorney-client privilege related 3 to communications, if I have communicated with my client 4 or he's communicated with me and said, you know, Hey, can 5 I talk to so-and-so, or, I ran into so-and-so, can I 6 communicate with him, and et cetera, he has substantive 7 communications with me in which he is seeking, you know, 8 legal advice, opinion and direction, and based upon my 9 communications with him he then goes and does something 10 and then prepares information from what he learned and 11 sends it to me, I do not believe that that is 12 discoverable, in this proceeding, by counsel. 13 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: What about 14 Mr. Katz's argument that that would then be instructing 15 Mr. Daugherty to do something that you couldn't do 16 yourself? You couldn't talk to Highland employees, could 17 you? Actually, there's probably a group of employees you 18 could talk to. 19 MS. DANIELS: I could talk to noncontrol 20 employees -- 21 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: Right. 22 MS. DANIELS: -- at any time, if they would 23 talk to me, and -- and certainly we could talk to former 24 employees. 25 And, again, to the extent that I'm, you
89 1 communications with current and former Highland 2 employees. 3 She's asserted attorney-client-privilege 4 objection to that and instructed him not to disclose any 5 information about who those individuals are. And that's 6 where we stopped at. 7 MS. DANIELS: Specifically, Judge Kaplan, 8 his question was who did you talk to, and Mr. Daugherty's 9 clear response was, I talked to people at the direction 10 of counsel. And he said who, and I said based upon that 11 being a substantive communication with counsel, I'm 12 instructing the witness not to answer. 13 MR. KATZ: Here's the problem, Your Honor: 14 He indicated these were current and former Highland 15 employees. 16 First of all, I'm just trying to get -- 17 there's no attorney-client privilege about his knowledge 18 of what those notes are. He took them. 19 Secondly, and more disconcerting to me, 20 what I hear Ms. Daniels saying is she instructed her 21 client to go talk to people that she cannot be talking 22 to, he's taking notes about it, withholding them for 23 privilege. They're all probably witness statements 24 anyway and should have been turned over. It's a pretty 25 serious issue.	91 1 know, okaying it or saying, Sure, if you see them in 2 so-and-so, you can talk to them -- 3 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: I'm not sure I can 4 hash out this issue standing here. If this becomes a big 5 deal, we'll let you guys brief it and let me make a more 6 informed decision on it. 7 MS. DANIELS: Okay. 8 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: But for now 9 let's -- and in the event that -- I think you can get 10 into it. Mr. Daugherty is here for all the depositions 11 anyway, so we'll let you examine him on that -- on that 12 point. 13 MR. KATZ: Okay. 14 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: So let's move on 15 for now. 16 MR. KATZ: Okay. 17 Q. (By Mr. Katz) Mr. Daugherty, when you went to 18 New York, you said you spoke to -- 19 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: Wait a minute. Get 20 back on the -- 21 MR. KATZ: I apologize. 22 THE WITNESS: Are you done with this 23 exhibit? 24 MR. KATZ: For now, yeah. 25 THE VIDEOGRAPHER: Back on the record,

92 1 11:26 a.m. 2 Q. (By Mr. Katz) Mr. Daugherty, I want to be 3 absolutely clear. The notes that we've been talking 4 about are notes that you made of conversations that you 5 had with current and former Highland employees, correct? 6 A. I don't -- I don't recall if it does cover 7 current Highland employees. Actually, that's not true. 8 Tim Lawler was one of them, so, yeah. 9 Q. Okay. And there's -- there's two notebooks, 10 correct? One in your possession and one in the 11 possession of your counsel? 12 A. No. 13 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 14 A. Yeah, you came up with that. I don't know where 15 you came up with that. 16 Q. Okay. You -- you indicated to me that you had a 17 notebook in your possession? 18 A. That is correct. 19 Q. Okay. Are there separate notes of conversations 20 that you have turned over to your counsel? 21 A. Yes. There are notes but not in a notebook. 22 Q. Okay. And the notes that are in the notebook 23 that is in your possession, those are notes that you have 24 taken of conversations with current and former Highland 25 employees or affiliates?	94 1 A. Yes. 2 Q. Okay. Did it also apply to the notebook that 3 you have in your possession? 4 A. Yes. 5 Q. Okay. Did the individuals with whom you spoke, 6 did you identify -- start over here. 7 Just with respect to the conversations that 8 relate to the notes that you gave to your counsel, did -- 9 were any of those conversations the reason that you 10 identified any of the individuals earlier on in this 11 deposition when you gave me the list of former and 12 current Highland employees to whom you had spoken? 13 MS. DANIELS: I'm going to object, again, 14 to the extent that that's a back-door effort at trying to 15 discover the identity -- 16 MR. KATZ: Counsel, please, "objection, 17 form" or instruct your -- 18 MS. DANIELS: Sure. 19 MR. KATZ: -- give an instruction. 20 MS. DANIELS: Therefore, it's 21 attorney-client privileged. 22 And I'm going to instruct the witness not 23 to reveal the identity, in any way, shape or form, of the 24 people that he conferred with with respect to talking to 25 his attorneys.
93 1 A. Yes. 2 MS. DANIELS: And, again -- 3 THE WITNESS: I'm sorry. 4 MS. DANIELS: Go ahead. 5 A. The answer to the question is yes. 6 Q. The -- were each of those conversations taken -- 7 that you took -- I'm sorry. Were each of the 8 conversations about which you took notes telephone 9 conversations? 10 A. As I told you -- I think you asked me this. 11 Some were telephone, and some were face to face. 12 Q. Okay. The ones that were face to face, were you 13 taking notes as you were talking to these folks? 14 A. I don't recall. 15 Q. Were the conversations about which you took 16 notes that you gave to your counsel both telephone and in 17 person? 18 A. Can you tighten that one up a little bit? I'm 19 not -- I'm not following you. 20 Q. Okay. When you indicated that some of the 21 conversations were phone and some were in person -- 22 A. Right. 23 Q. -- did that apply to the conversations about 24 which you took notes and gave those notes to your 25 counsel?	95 1 Instruct you not to answer. 2 MR. KATZ: So I can be clear, your position 3 is that information that he's already disclosed in this 4 deposition would be attorney-client information? 5 MS. DANIELS: Well, you're misinterpreting 6 me, sir. 7 MR. KATZ: That was my question. Let me 8 ask -- 9 MS. DANIELS: No. 10 MR. KATZ: -- the question again. 11 MS. DANIELS: No. 12 MR. KATZ: Let me ask the question again. 13 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: Hold on. 14 Ostensibly, I'm here for a reason. So if you want to 15 make an objection and instruct the witness not to answer 16 it, do it. 17 Mr. Katz, if you want to insist on an 18 answer to the question, ask me to rule on it. 19 MR. KATZ: Okay. 20 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: All right? Ask 21 your question again. 22 MR. KATZ: Okay. 23 Q. Conversations about which you took notes that 24 you gave to your counsel, were any of the individuals 25 that you had those conversations with individuals that

96 1 you identified earlier because of those conversations 2 that you had with them? 3 MS. DANIELS: Again, I'm going to instruct 4 the witness not to answer based upon the invasion of the 5 attorney-client privilege. 6 The witness has already testified that he 7 did that -- the conversations you're referring to now, he 8 did those at the direction of counsel. 9 A. I got a different answer. I don't understand 10 what the question is. 11 Q. Sure. Were the conversations that you had that 12 you took those notes about, was it those conversations 13 you were -- that you were identifying when you identified 14 individuals earlier today when I asked you who you had 15 spoken to? 16 MS. DANIELS: Objection, attorney-client 17 privilege. Instruct the witness not to answer. 18 A. I just don't understand the question. 19 Q. Sure. For the individuals that you took the 20 notes of the conversations with that you turned over to 21 your counsel, did you have any conversations with any of 22 those individuals where you didn't take notes? 23 A. Yes. 24 Q. Okay. Were those -- were there any of those 25 individuals about which you -- the conversations about	98 1 A. Yeah, there was never any situation I can recall 2 where I took detailed notes or copious notes. 3 Q. Okay. 4 A. Unless it was something I got out of the 5 conversation, like, Talked to -- like, I wouldn't say 6 talked to. I would say, John Doe, phone number, agreed 7 to buy 5 million. Something like that. 8 Q. So is it also your testimony that you did not 9 have a practice of keeping notes from telephone 10 conversations with individuals while you were at 11 Highland? 12 A. That's correct. 13 Q. Would the same be true for conversations -- 14 in-person conversations you had with people while you 15 were -- while you were at Highland? 16 A. Yeah. I mean, unless it was something I needed 17 to go do, like Jim's office -- come out of Jim's office 18 and I need to do two or three things, so I'd make a note 19 to myself to make sure I'd covered those three things. 20 And I don't limit that just to Jim. 21 There are also e-mails, where I would send 22 e-mails to Jim, or whoever, occasionally. I wasn't a big 23 e-mail kind of guy, but there were occasions where I 24 would send detailed -- detailed e-mails discussing 25 whatever. And I would consider those effectively notes.
97 1 which you took notes that you only had the conversation 2 where you took the notes about? 3 A. I don't recall. 4 Q. Do you have a regular practice of taking notes 5 of conversations you have with individuals? 6 A. No. 7 Q. Did you have that practice when you were 8 employed at Highland? 9 A. No. 10 Q. Have you ever told anybody that you had that 11 practice? 12 A. Not that I'm aware of -- aware of. 13 Q. Is it your testimony that prior to leaving 14 Highland you'd never taken notes of a phone conversation 15 you had with anybody? 16 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 17 A. No, I'm not saying that. 18 Q. Okay. So you have taken -- while you were at 19 Highland, you did take notes on occasion about phone 20 conversations? 21 A. I mean ... Let's clarify. I might have said 22 talked to so-and-so, or not even talked to so-and-so; 23 just put their name and a phone number and the date. 24 Q. Okay. Did you ever have any phone conversations 25 where you took more notes than that?	99 1 Q. When you were in New York, you mentioned earlier 2 you were meeting with some headhunters? 3 A. Which time? 4 Q. Was there more than one trip that you went there 5 to meet with headhunters? 6 A. No, no. 7 Q. Okay. 8 A. And, by the way, I didn't go to New York to meet 9 with headhunters. That's why I'm a little confused. 10 Q. Okay. During the -- but there was only one trip 11 you went to New York where you were meeting with 12 headhunters? 13 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 14 A. I didn't meet with any headhunters in New York. 15 Q. Okay. When you went to New York, you mentioned 16 you were going to do your damage assessment? 17 A. Yes. 18 Q. Okay. And that must have been my 19 misunderstanding. 20 So the headhunters that you were talking 21 about earlier, were they located here in Dallas? 22 A. One was in L.A. Several were in -- two were in 23 New York. But I didn't go to New York to talk -- I could 24 just talk to them on the phone. 25 Q. Okay. Did you ever have any in-person meetings

100 1 with any of the headhunters? 2 A. I had video meetings with them. 3 Q. Okay. With all of them, video? 4 A. No. Actually, the Heidrick &amp; Struggles person, 5 I met with her face to face; and then the Spencer Stuart 6 people I met with -- with videoconference -- 7 videoconferencing. There'd be, like, a camera on me. 8 And they would take it from Dallas, and they would be 9 wherever. 10 Q. So when you went to New York to do damage 11 assessment, who did you meet with? 12 A. Cerberus, Anchorage, DK. 13 Q. Anyone else? 14 A. JPMorgan. I'm trying to think. 15 (Special Master Kaplan leaves the room.) 16 A. I think it's Solus or Solstice, something like 17 that. Chris Pucillo's firm. Those are the ones I recall 18 off the top of my head. 19 Q. Okay. 20 A. I also went to see Apollo. Ted -- I can't 21 remember. Ted Dalster (phonetic), I think is his name. 22 Q. Did you personally set up these meetings, or did 23 you have somebody set them up on your behalf? 24 A. I called them up and set them up. 25 Q. And did you talk to any -- anyone at any of	102 1 A. What do you want me to do? 2 Q. Does that appear to be the employment agreement 3 that you entered into with Highland Capital? 4 A. I don't know. 5 Q. Can you turn to page 11 of that document? 6 A. Yes. 7 Q. Is that your signature on that document? 8 A. It looks like my signature and Jim Dondero's 9 signature. 10 Q. And you did enter into an employment agreement 11 at Highland Capital? 12 A. At some point. 13 Q. Okay. Is this that employment agreement? 14 A. I don't know. 15 Q. Why don't you know? 16 A. Because I didn't commit it to memory. 17 Q. Okay. Do you have any reason to believe that's 18 not the employment agreement? 19 A. I don't have any reason to believe it is or it 20 isn't. I just don't remember the document. 21 Q. Okay. Do you have -- is there anything -- 22 but -- okay. But this is a document that does have your 23 signature on it? 24 A. It looks -- that appears to be my signature, 25 yes.
101 1 these entities about employment opportunities? 2 A. Not specifically. 3 Q. Generally you did? 4 A. Yeah. I made it clear that I was interested in 5 employment opportunities. 6 (Exhibit 31 marked.) 7 Q. I'll show you what's marked here as Exhibit 31. 8 MS. DANIELS: Thank you. 9 Q. Do you recall seeing this, this letter before? 10 A. Vaguely. 11 MS. DANIELS: If you need to take time to 12 read it, please do so before answering any questions. 13 Q. Okay. We'll get into that in a minute. I want 14 to ask you about the document that's attached thereto. 15 A. I'm sorry. What do you want to do? 16 Q. I want to ask you about the document that's 17 attached to the letter. 18 A. Okay. 19 Q. It's entitled "Amended Employment Agreement." 20 A. Okay. 21 MS. DANIELS: Do you need to review that? 22 Q. Does that look -- 23 A. Counsel, do you really want me to read every 24 part of this? 25 Q. I didn't ask you that.	103 1 Q. Okay. Okay. Can you turn to page 7 for me, 2 please? 3 A. Okay. 4 Q. And actually starting at the bottom of page 6, 5 it says "Article V." See the provision "Confidentiality, 6 Non-Competition, Non-Solicitation, and Non-Recruitment"? 7 (Special Master Kaplan reenters the room.) 8 A. I do. 9 Q. Okay. You understood you were bound by these 10 restrictions as a result of your employment with 11 Highland, didn't you? 12 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 13 A. No. 14 Q. Why not? 15 A. Because I didn't think that many of the 16 provisions in the agreement were enforceable. 17 Q. Okay. Specifically which provisions did you not 18 think were enforceable? 19 A. I was generally under the impression that the 20 whole document wasn't enforceable. 21 Q. Did you ever make any attempts to -- well, after 22 you left Highland, was it your intent to comply with the 23 restrictions? 24 MS. DANIELS: Again, I'll object. 25 And to the extent that this calls for you

104 1 to reveal any communications that you had with counsel 2 concerning this agreement after you left Highland, I'll 3 instruct you not to answer. 4 A. On that basis, I'm not going to answer. 5 Q. So it's your testimony that you never 6 formulated -- when did you -- the communications you had 7 with counsel about these restrictions, were those 8 communications with Looper Reed? 9 A. About what restrictions? 10 Q. About the restrictions in the agreement. 11 A. I had -- if I'm understanding the question 12 correctly, I had conversations with Looper Reed about 13 what presumably this agreement represents. I don't know 14 if it's mine or not. I haven't had a chance to compare 15 and contrast. 16 Does that answer your question? 17 Q. And when did those conversations occur? 18 A. Which ones? 19 Q. The conversations with Looper Reed about these 20 restrictions. 21 A. Oh, I don't recall. Sometime in 2011. 22 Q. I'm sorry? 23 A. Sometime in 2011. 24 Q. Okay. Prior to your resignation or after your 25 resignation?	106 1 question? 2 A. That's correct. 3 Q. Can you turn to page 2 for me? 4 A. Yes. 5 Q. Can you read the definition of confidential 6 information that's contained there on page 2? 7 A. You want me to read -- from what to what? 8 Q. The definition of confidential information. 9 A. You're talking about all six of those ... 10 Q. Yes. 11 A. You want me to just start reading? 12 Q. Yes. 13 A. Okay. "Confidential Information" -- 14 Q. You don't have to read it out loud. I just 15 wanted -- 16 A. Oh. 17 Q. -- you to read it. You can read it out loud if 18 you'd like. 19 A. I don't really want to. I just didn't 20 understand what you wanted me to do. 21 (Reviewing document.) Okay. 22 Q. Okay. Do you have any information or documents 23 in your possession that fall under that definition? 24 A. Which definition? 25 Q. The definition of confidential information.
105 1 A. After my resignation. 2 Q. Prior to or after your last day of employment? 3 A. I'm sorry? 4 Q. Was it before or after your last day of 5 employment? 6 A. Was what before? 7 Q. The conversations. 8 A. I don't recall. 9 Q. Okay. Can you read on page 7, for me, paragraph 10 5.3(b)? It's entitled "Non-Recruitment." 11 MS. DANIELS: And to the extent you need to 12 read anything more than that to put that in context -- 13 I'm going to instruct the witness that he 14 should fully satisfy himself that he understands its 15 context before answering any questions. 16 A. (Reviewing document.) Okay. 17 Q. Okay. Do you believe that you have complied 18 with that provision? 19 MS. DANIELS: I'll object, again, to the 20 extent that it calls for communications with counsel. 21 Instruct the witness not to answer. I'll also object to 22 the form of that question. 23 A. I'm going to take my counsel's advice on that, 24 or direction, I should say. 25 Q. Okay. You're going to refuse to answer the	107 1 MS. DANIELS: Again, to the extent that 2 that calls for revealing any communications with counsel 3 in the nature of advice or analysis, I'll instruct the 4 witness not to answer. I'll also object to the form of 5 the question. 6 A. On that basis, I'm not going to answer the 7 question. 8 Q. I'm not asking you for your communications with 9 counsel. What I am asking for is if you have documents 10 in your possession relating to Highland's -- let me just 11 ask the specific question. 12 Do you have documents in your possession 13 relating to Highland's customers, clients, marketing, 14 business or operational methods? 15 A. Yes. Well, I may. 16 Q. Okay. Do you not know for sure? 17 A. I don't. 18 Q. Do you not know if those documents are in your 19 possession, or what don't you know for sure? 20 MS. DANIELS: And, again, to the extent 21 that it calls for revealing communications with counsel, 22 I'll instruct you not to answer. If you can answer 23 otherwise, then obviously do so. 24 A. Give me the question again. 25 Q. Sure. Why don't you know whether you have

108 1 documents relating to Highland's customers, clients, 2 marketing, business or operational methods in your 3 possession? 4 A. Because I don't know what this means, so I'd 5 have to rely on interpretation of counsel. 6 Q. Okay. You were the general counsel of Highland 7 in 2004, weren't you? 8 A. Around that time period, yes. I had nothing to 9 do with the preparation of this document. 10 MR. KATZ: Object as nonresponsive to 11 everything after "yes." 12 A. And, by the way, just to clarify, it might have 13 been 2005 when I was the GC. I just don't recall 14 exactly, precisely. 15 Q. Have you ever listed the dates on which you were 16 the GC on any resumé or source of information about your 17 employment history? 18 A. No, not that I'm aware of. 19 (Exhibit 32 marked.) 20 Q. I'll show you what's marked as Exhibit 32. Can 21 you tell me if you recognize that document? 22 MS. DANIELS: Thank you. 23 Q. Do you recognize this document? 24 A. No. 25 Q. Okay. Have you ever seen an employee handbook	110 1 A. I do. 2 Q. Okay. You have e-mails that were created, sent 3 or retrieved on Highland's server in your possession, 4 don't you? 5 A. They're in the possession of my counsel. 6 Q. Okay. And you had those e-mails when you left 7 Highland? 8 A. Yes. 9 Q. Okay. And you had them up until the time -- is 10 it your testimony that you had them up until the time 11 they were delivered to your counsel? 12 A. Yes. 13 Q. Okay. And is it your testimony that they are no 14 longer in your possession and exclusively in the 15 possession of your counsel? 16 A. That's true. 17 Q. Okay. Have you reviewed them -- any of them at 18 any time since they've been in your possession, 19 possession of your counsel? 20 A. No. 21 Q. Exhibit 31 -- this one. 22 A. By the way, I just want to point out this 23 handbook is dated January 2005, and this sheet over here, 24 the signature is dated September 27th, 2005. So I 25 don't -- I don't know if they're correlated or not. I
109 1 at Highland before? 2 A. Not that I recall. 3 Q. Have you ever signed an acknowledgment of 4 receipt of an employee handbook at Highland? 5 A. Maybe. 6 Q. Okay. 7 (Exhibit 33 marked.) 8 Q. I'll show you what's marked as Exhibit 33. Is 9 that your signature on that document? 10 A. It appears to be, yes. 11 Q. And this is a document entitled "Highland 12 Employee Handbook Acknowledgment Form." Do you see that? 13 A. I do. 14 Q. And it's dated September 27, 2005. Do you see 15 that? 16 A. It is. 17 Q. Okay. Can you turn to page 17 of the Exhibit 32 18 for me, please? 19 A. Okay. 20 Q. Do you see the bullet point that says "Security 21 Issues"? 22 A. I do. 23 Q. Okay. See the first sentence there? It says, 24 "All messages created, sent or retrieved on the Company's 25 systems are the property of Highland."	111 1 don't see my signature on this, which is attached to the 2 January document. 3 MR. KATZ: Object as nonresponsive. 4 MS. DANIELS: I would also -- I would also 5 point out -- 6 Q. Can you look at Exhibit 31, please? 7 MS. DANIELS: I need to also point out -- 8 MR. KATZ: Ms. Daniels -- 9 MS. DANIELS: -- for clarification that 10 this handbook acknowledgment form attached to the 11 employee handbook -- 12 MR. KATZ: Ms. Daniels, you do not need 13 to -- 14 MS. DANIELS: -- is a different document. 15 MR. KATZ: -- be testifying. 16 MS. DANIELS: I'm not testifying. I'm -- 17 MR. KATZ: You absolutely are. 18 MS. DANIELS: -- pointing that out for 19 the -- 20 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: Mr. Katz, 21 Ms. Daniels, if you have an objection, make it. I'll 22 rule on it. Don't argue with one another. 23 Mr. Katz, do you have an objection? 24 MR. KATZ: I have an objection to counsel 25 making statements other than "objection, form" and

112 1 instructions to the witness, per the rules. 2 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: That objection is 3 sustained. 4 A. I did want to basically clarify my answer to 5 make that point, and I consider that part of my answer in 6 the overall context of what you were asking me. 7 MR. KATZ: I'm going to object as 8 nonresponsive. 9 Q. Can you -- in Exhibit 31 -- 10 A. Yes. 11 Q. -- you understand this was a letter that was 12 sent by counsel at Andrews Kurth to Mr. Ribman, who was 13 your counsel? 14 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 15 Q. Do you? 16 A. No, I do not. 17 Q. Okay. Is Mr. Ribman your counsel? 18 A. He was at one point. I don't think he's 19 involved in the case going forward. 20 Q. Is he no longer your attorney? I'm sorry. Is 21 he no longer an attorney representing you? 22 A. I don't know what his level of representation is 23 in this matter as we currently -- or as I currently 24 answer that question. 25 Q. Was he representing you on February 10, 2012?	114 1 MS. DANIELS: To the extent that calls for 2 communications with counsel, I will object as privileged 3 and instruct the witness not to answer. 4 A. On that basis, I don't have an answer for you. 5 Q. Okay. So when you left Highland, you had an 6 e-mail folder on your computer that contained Highland 7 e-mails, correct? 8 A. I don't know what you mean by "e-mail folder." 9 Q. Okay. The e-mails that we discussed earlier 10 that you said would have been subject to the security 11 provision in Exhibit 33, where are those e-mails located? 12 MS. DANIELS: I'll object to the form of 13 the question. 14 A. I don't think I said that either. 15 Q. Okay. Well, let's look at Exhibit 33 again. 16 A. Okay. 17 Q. And, I'm sorry, Exhibit 32, the Security Issues. 18 "All messages" -- 19 MS. DANIELS: What page is that, Counsel? 20 Q. -- "created, sent" -- 21 MR. KATZ: Page 17. 22 Q. "All messages created, sent or retrieved on the 23 Company's systems are the property of Highland." 24 My understanding was -- well, was it true 25 that you testified that you had e-mails that fell into
113 1 A. He was. 2 Q. Okay. Do you understand that this is a 3 document -- that this document requests that you return 4 all Highland property in your possession to Highland? 5 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 6 A. No. 7 Q. What do you understand this letter to do? 8 A. I don't -- 9 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 10 A. I don't know. I wasn't involved in this letter. 11 Q. So you ignored this letter? 12 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 13 A. I don't know if I ever got this letter. It's 14 addressed to James Ribman. 15 Q. Okay. So sitting here today, you do not recall 16 ever seeing this letter? 17 A. I don't -- 18 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 19 A. I don't recall this letter. 20 Q. Do you recall ever receiving a demand, directly 21 or through your counsel, for return of property that's in 22 your possession? 23 MS. DANIELS: To the -- 24 Q. I'm sorry. Highland property that's in your 25 possession?	115 1 that category in your possession and then they were 2 turned over to your counsel? 3 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 4 A. I do not think I testified to that. 5 Q. Okay. What is your recollection of your 6 testimony? 7 A. You asked me to relate -- what I have related to 8 this, and I had no comment on that. 9 Q. Okay. Well, let me ask it again. 10 A. Okay. 11 Q. At the time that you left Highland, you had 12 e-mails in your possession that were created, sent or 13 retrieved on Highland's system, correct? 14 A. I guess. I don't know. I don't know if it was 15 Highland's system or not. 16 Q. Okay. You had e-mails that were sent to or 17 received on your Highland e-mail address? 18 A. I'll help you out. From my -- from my computer 19 or whatever? From my Highland ... Is that what you're 20 asking? 21 Q. Well, that's part of -- 22 A. You said "in." I don't know what you mean by 23 "in." 24 Q. Okay. You had e-mails -- 25 A. Uh-huh.

116 1 Q. -- in your possession that were sent to or from 2 your Highland e-mail address? 3 A. I think so. 4 Q. Okay. And those are now in the possession of 5 your counsel? 6 A. That is correct. 7 Q. Okay. And where were those e-mails prior to 8 being delivered to your counsel? 9 A. I don't know. 10 Q. How did you know you had them? 11 A. Had what? 12 Q. The e-mails. 13 A. Well, some of them are uploaded to my inbox on 14 my PC, and some of them were in a folder. 15 Q. Okay. That was the folder that I was asking you 16 about a few minutes ago when I asked you if those -- 17 A. I thought you were referring to an electronic 18 folder, and I don't remember having an electronic folder. 19 Q. Okay. Okay. So why did you walk off with those 20 e-mails? 21 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 22 A. Why did I walk off with them? 23 Q. Yes. 24 A. I don't even know what that means. 25 Q. Why did you leave Highland with them?	118 1 MR. KATZ: Judge Kaplan, can we have a 2 ruling on that objection? 3 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: Give me the 4 question again. 5 MR. KATZ: The question was, You reviewed 6 some of those e-mails in drafting versions of the 7 pleading that you filed in this case? 8 MS. DANIELS: My objection is not only to 9 the form but to the attorney-client-privileged nature of 10 the information that's called for. 11 MR. KATZ: I just asked him if he reviewed 12 the e-mails, so ... 13 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: Hold on. Hold on. 14 You're asking him if he reviewed what e-mails? 15 MR. KATZ: His e-mails he -- e-mails that 16 he had in his possession after he left Highland that were 17 from Highland's e-mail server. 18 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: You can answer that 19 question. Answer the question. 20 A. Okay. Can you give it to me again? 21 Q. Sure. The e-mails that were uploaded to your 22 inbox or that were in the folder that you identified 23 earlier, did you review any of those e-mails in 24 connection with preparing the -- any version of the 25 pleading in this case?
117 1 A. I didn't take them with me from Highland. 2 Q. How did they get in your folder? 3 A. They were in my folder over the years. When I 4 left Highland, I didn't necessarily take them. They were 5 already in my possession. 6 Q. You didn't give them back? 7 A. No. 8 Q. Why not? 9 A. I didn't think I had to. 10 Q. Okay. And what was your basis for not thinking 11 you had to? 12 MS. DANIELS: Again, to the extent that you 13 are -- that the question calls for you to convey or 14 reveal communications with counsel, I will instruct you 15 not to answer. 16 And object as privileged. 17 A. On that basis, I'm not going to answer that 18 question. 19 Q. You reviewed those e-mails -- or you reviewed 20 some of those e-mails in drafting versions of the 21 pleading that you filed in this case, didn't you? 22 MS. DANIELS: Again, to the extent that 23 that calls for you to reveal communications with counsel 24 with respect to that, I will instruct you not to answer. 25 A. On that basis, I'm not going to answer.	119 1 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. Same 2 objection, as to privilege. 3 A. No. 4 Q. Have you reviewed any of those e-mails at any 5 time since you left Highland? 6 A. Yes. 7 Q. Okay. And when -- on more than one occasion? 8 A. I don't recall. 9 Q. How many occasions do you recall? 10 A. Once. 11 Q. Okay. And what was that occasion? 12 MS. DANIELS: Again, to the extent it calls 13 for communications with counsel or actions at the 14 directive of counsel, I'm going to instruct you not to 15 answer. 16 A. Yeah, I don't know what you mean by "occasion." 17 You've introduced "occasion" into it. 18 I've reviewed them once, that I can recall. 19 Q. Yes. And when was that? 20 A. I don't recall. 21 Q. What do you recall about reviewing them? 22 A. That I -- 23 MS. DANIELS: Again, I'll instruct you to 24 not reveal any communications with the client (sic). If 25 you can answer the -- with your counsel. If you can

120 1 answer the question without doing so, then you're free to 2 answer it. 3 A. I reviewed them. That's all I know. 4 Q. What was the purpose of you reviewing them? 5 MS. DANIELS: Same objection, privilege. 6 Don't answer if you reveal communications 7 with counsel or from counsel. 8 A. I'm not going to answer the question on that 9 basis. 10 Q. So you did not have any purpose in reviewing 11 them other than what was conveyed to you by counsel? 12 A. That is correct. 13 Q. How long did you -- did the review process take? 14 A. I don't recall. 15 Q. The e-mails that were in your inbox, did -- did 16 you review those on a computer, or did you print the 17 documents out first? 18 A. Give me that again. 19 Q. The e-mails that were in -- that were uploaded 20 to your inbox, when you reviewed those, did you review 21 them on the computer, or did you print them out? 22 A. I didn't review them all. There's like 40,000 23 of them. 24 Q. The ones that you did review. 25 A. I reviewed them first on a computer, and then I	122 1 A. It appears to be the signature -- yes, my 2 signature and that of my wife. 3 Q. Okay. And do you recall that at some point 4 during your tenure with Highland that you entered into a 5 buy and -- a buy-sell agreement? 6 A. I do. 7 Q. Okay. 8 MR. KATZ: Let's take a break. 9 THE VIDEOGRAPHER: Off the record, 12:07 10 p.m. 11 (Recess taken from 12:07 to 12:55.) 12 THE VIDEOGRAPHER: Back on the record, 13 12:55 p.m., starting tape three. 14 Q. Mr. Daugherty, you -- you just indicated, right 15 before we went back on the record, that you've recalled 16 some additional names of current or former Highland folks 17 that you've spoken to since you've left? 18 A. That's true. 19 Q. Okay. Are the folks you remembered current, 20 former or both? 21 A. They are now former. 22 Q. Okay. And who is that? 23 A. Mandy Gauntt; and Steve Carlson was the name I 24 was trying to search for earlier; and Stacey Rugg; and a 25 woman named Whitney, but I don't remember her last name.
121 1 printed them out. 2 Q. And then what did you do with them? 3 A. I don't know. Nothing. 4 Q. Did you -- 5 A. Put them in a folder. 6 Q. Did you give them to your counsel at some point? 7 A. Eventually, at some point. 8 (Exhibit 34 marked.) 9 Q. I'll show you what's marked here as Exhibit 34. 10 A. Okay. 11 Q. Would you tell me if you recognize that 12 document, please? 13 A. Kind of. 14 Q. Okay. What do you mean by "kind of"? 15 A. I don't know the contents of this document. 16 It's got a heading on it that seems vaguely familiar. 17 Q. Okay. The heading being "Amended and Restated 18 Buy-Sell and Redemption Agreement Among Highland Capital 19 Management, L.P. and its Limited Partners"? 20 A. That's right. 21 Q. Okay. Can you turn -- there's Bates labels on 22 the bottom right-hand corner. Can you turn to the page 23 that's got the label "Plaintiffs 000063" for me, please? 24 A. Excuse me. Yes. Sorry about that. Okay. 25 Q. Is that your signature on that page?	123 1 Q. You understand that -- when did you learn that 2 Mr. Lawler was intending to leave his employment at 3 Highland? 4 A. I don't recall. 5 Q. How did you learn that Mr. Lawler was leaving 6 his employment at Highland? 7 A. From someone in that network that I was just 8 referring to. 9 Q. Okay. What -- when you say the network you were 10 referring to, what do you mean? 11 A. For the list. From people on that list. 12 Q. From the four names you just gave me? 13 A. No, no, no. The comprehensive list. 14 Q. Okay. So from some current or former employees, 15 were you saying? 16 A. Yes, yes. 17 Q. Okay. Who told you? 18 A. Who told me about what? 19 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 20 Q. About Tim Lawler leaving. 21 A. About -- I'm sorry. I didn't hear you. 22 Q. I'm sorry. Who told you about Tim Lawler 23 leaving? 24 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 25 A. Tim Law- -- Tim told me.

124 1 Q. Okay. 2 A. Kevin Rourke told me. I think there were a 3 couple of other people, but I'm not exactly sure. 4 Q. The -- you don't recall who the first person 5 that told you was? 6 A. I don't. I don't recall the order. 7 Q. Do you recall if you learned it from Tim first? 8 A. I don't. Todd Travers told me. I'm not saying 9 he told me first. I'm just -- he's one of the guys that 10 told me. 11 Q. Okay. How did you learn that Clay Shumway was 12 leaving? 13 A. I don't recall who told me that. Let me think 14 about it. I don't recall. 15 Q. Was Mr. Shumway one of the folks you've spoken 16 to since you've left Highland? 17 A. Yes. 18 Q. Did you try to get Mr. Shumway to be part of 19 your -- your venture that you're hoping to start? 20 A. Yeah. When I talked to him, I told him, Look, I 21 don't know what your status is, but, you know, here's 22 what we're trying to do and love for you to be a part of 23 that or at least like to get together with you and walk 24 you through what we're thinking about doing. 25 Q. Is there anybody else that you had those types	126 1 of those individuals? 2 A. No. 3 Q. Did you share any information about any of the 4 prospects that we talked about earlier, investor 5 prospects, client prospects, with any of those 6 individuals? 7 A. No. I might have mentioned it to Dan Drabinski 8 as well. 9 Q. I'm sorry. Dan ... 10 A. Dan Drabinski. 11 Q. You might have mentioned what to Dan Drabinski? 12 A. What I was working on. 13 Q. Would you have talked to him about potentially 14 joining you? 15 A. I don't remember the details of the 16 conversation. I just told him conceptually of what I was 17 working on. 18 Q. How many times have you spoken to David Smith 19 since you left Highland? 20 A. I don't know exactly. I can think of a couple. 21 Q. Okay. Are those in person or telephone or both? 22 A. I can think of one in person and one by 23 telephone that come to mind. 24 Q. Okay. Any e-mail communications with them since 25 you've left?
125 1 of conversations with, about joining your venture, other 2 than the people you've identified earlier? 3 A. That are -- that are Highland or affiliate 4 employees? 5 Q. Yes. 6 A. No, I don't think so. 7 Q. What about those types of conversations with 8 folks who were not current or former Highland or 9 affiliates? 10 A. What about them? 11 Q. Have you talked to anybody else about 12 potentially joining your -- 13 A. Yes. 14 Q. -- your venture? And who was that? 15 A. I talked to -- what's his name? Scott Sporn or 16 Jason Sporn. 17 Q. Anybody else? 18 A. Chris Haga. 19 Q. Who else? 20 A. Brian Horton. 21 Q. Who else? 22 A. Jay Lifton. 23 Q. Who else? 24 A. That's it. 25 Q. Did you share any of your pitch books with any	127 1 A. Not that I'm aware of. 2 Q. Where was the in-person meeting? 3 A. At the American Heart Association Côtés du Coeur 4 Heart Ball. 5 Q. And -- 6 A. It was in April. 7 Q. April of 2013? 8 A. Yes. 9 Q. And how long did that conversation last? 10 A. I didn't take note. 11 Q. Was anybody else present when you were speaking 12 to Mr. Smith? 13 A. There were all kinds of people around. There 14 was a whole table of Highland people and a whole table of 15 NexBank people, and I was talking to all of them. 16 Q. Okay. What did you tell Mr. Smith? 17 A. I think I told him, you know, always loved him, 18 loved working with him and proud of him for being 19 president of Cornerstone. 20 Q. What did Mr. Smith tell you? 21 A. He said thanks. 22 Q. Anything else you recall about that 23 conversation? 24 A. Not in particular. 25 Q. Anything that came up about this lawsuit?

128 1 A. I don't think so. 2 Q. Anything -- 3 A. I don't recall. 4 Q. Anything that came up about Jim Dondero? 5 A. No. 6 Q. Patrick Boyce? 7 A. I don't think so. 8 Q. Lane Britain? 9 A. No. 10 Q. Anything about Highland -- anything about 11 Highland Capital during that conversation with David 12 Smith? 13 A. No. It was more about Cornerstone. 14 Q. What did you talk about Cornerstone? 15 A. I told him I heard they're doing really well. 16 Q. Anything else that you told him? 17 A. That I heard that they did 55 million of EBITDA 18 last year and projected to do 60 this year and expected 19 to exceed that. 20 Q. Where did you hear that from? 21 A. Might have been Kevin Dowd. Not sure. Maybe it 22 was Reece Fulgham. 23 Q. Anything else that you discussed regarding 24 Cornerstone with Mr. Smith at that conversation? 25 A. I think we talked about some of their	130 1 there other conversations other than with David Smith 2 that you might have written down? 3 A. That night, with other people? 4 Q. I'm asking what you meant when you said you may 5 have written some of them down. 6 A. Well, as I mentioned, I spoke to him on several 7 occasions. Once, it was just the two of us around -- 8 you've got to understand the whole layout. Do you know 9 what the Côtes du Cœur is, where they've got the booths 10 set up all around the conference room -- 11 Q. I don't. 12 A. -- ballroom, and then there's a chef and there's 13 a wine pairing. And so you go to these various stations. 14 And I bumped into him, you know, a couple 15 of times, saw him at their table another time, once with 16 a bunch of people, once with just the two of us, you 17 know. 18 Q. When you -- were the notes that you took -- did 19 you take them while you were at that event? 20 A. No. 21 Q. They would have been when you got home, later 22 that night? 23 A. I don't recall exactly when I recorded it, but 24 I -- I did record it in the journal. 25 Q. Okay. And is this the journal that you have at
129 1 acquisitions that they were able to accomplish, talked 2 about the Reliant litigation. 3 Q. Was any of -- do you know if anybody else was in 4 earshot when you were talking to Mr. Smith? 5 A. I didn't focus on it. 6 Q. Was anybody else participating in the 7 conversation, or was it just the two of you? 8 A. It was just the two of us. Well, at one point 9 it was just the two of us. At other points in the night, 10 as I mentioned, it was a mixture of people. 11 Q. You weren't sitting at the same table with 12 Mr. Smith, were you? 13 A. No, absolutely not. 14 Q. Anything significant that -- anything that 15 Mr. Smith told you that you thought was significant? 16 A. I guess it all depends on what your definition 17 of "significant" is. 18 Q. I'm asking you what you thought. 19 A. I guess I mentioned to you the things that had 20 significance, because that's what I can recall. 21 Q. Okay. Did you record any of those 22 conversations? 23 A. No. I might have written some of those down. I 24 don't recall. 25 Q. Okay. When you say "those," are you -- are	131 1 home, or are these notes that you've turned over to your 2 attorney? 3 A. I'm sorry. What was -- 4 Q. Are these the notes that are in the notebook 5 that is in your possession? 6 A. I don't recall where this went. 7 Q. Okay. 8 A. Or if it went. I'm trying to be as cooperative 9 as possible. I think I might have, but I can't say for 10 sure. I haven't looked at it in a while. 11 Q. Is it possible that you have notes from 12 conversations that have not been turned over to counsel 13 and that are not in the notebook that we talked about 14 earlier? 15 A. No. 16 Q. And you just don't recall -- 17 A. That's not true. Sometimes I write things down 18 on blank sheets of paper. 19 Q. Okay. 20 A. So I might have those in my possession, too. 21 Q. Okay. And you don't recall the notes about 22 David Smith's conversations, whether that is in the group 23 of the notes you've turned over to your counsel or the 24 group that you still have in your possession? 25 A. That's right.

132 1 Q. Okay. Did your attorneys instruct you to speak 2 to Mr. Smith? 3 A. Yes. 4 Q. Did they identify questions that you should ask 5 Mr. Smith? 6 A. I'm going to -- 7 MS. DANIELS: Again, to the extent that you 8 are now, I think, invading substantive communications, 9 I'm going to instruct the witness not to answer. 10 Q. I don't want to know the identity of any 11 questions they asked you to ask. I just want to know 12 whether they asked you to ask questions. 13 MS. DANIELS: Well, even the fact of 14 whether we directed him to ask questions or what we 15 directed him to do. I think. invades the substance. 16 I object, instruct the witness not to 17 answer. 18 A. On that basis, I'm not going to answer. 19 MR. KATZ: Judge Kaplan? 20 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: Sustained. 21 Q. Okay. Was -- tell me about the telephone call 22 you had with Mr. Smith. 23 A. What about it? 24 Q. When did that occur? 25 A. November of 2011. There might have been others,	134 1 he's already testified. To the extent that it was, it's 2 privileged as work product and it's privileged as 3 something that is being communicated at the instruction 4 of counsel. 5 Q. Are you following your counsel's instruction? 6 A. I am. 7 MR. KATZ: Judge? 8 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: Well, it's not 9 privileged. Without briefing, I can't determine whether 10 or not it's work product or not. 11 MR. KATZ: Can I speak to that for a 12 moment? 13 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: Sure. 14 MR. KATZ: He said -- I'm not asking him 15 about any notes that he took. He said he didn't remember 16 any notes. I'm asking him what David Smith, a Highland 17 and Cornerstone employee, said. 18 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: I understand. 19 MR. KATZ: There can't possibly be a basis 20 for privilege for that statement. 21 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: I said it's not 22 privileged. 23 MR. KATZ: Okay. 24 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: It's not subject to 25 the attorney-client privilege. What I don't know -- this
133 1 but that's one that I recall. 2 Q. What -- November of 2011? 3 A. Yes. 4 Q. Okay. And was that a call that occurred -- were 5 you on your cell phone for that call? 6 A. Yes. 7 Q. Did you call Mr. Smith, or did he call you? 8 A. I called him. 9 Q. And what was the purpose of that call? 10 MS. DANIELS: Again, to the extent that 11 that reveals communications with counsel, I'm instructing 12 you not to answer. If it doesn't, obviously, go ahead. 13 A. On that basis, I'm not going to answer the 14 question. 15 Q. Did your counsel instruct you to have that 16 conversation? 17 A. Yes. 18 Q. Did you make notes of that telephone call? 19 A. I don't -- 20 MS. DANIELS: Go ahead. 21 A. I don't recall. 22 Q. What did Mr. Smith tell you in that 23 conversation? 24 MS. DANIELS: Object to the extent that the 25 communication was held at the direction of counsel, as	135 1 raises the same issue we raised before, whether or not -- 2 to the extent that Ms. Daniels is asserting the attorney 3 work product through Mr. Daugherty, who I guess was her 4 investigative arm to take statements, I want to see 5 briefing on that. 6 MR. KATZ: Okay. 7 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: I just can't make 8 an intelligent ruling on it. 9 MR. KATZ: Okay. I understand, Your Honor. 10 Let me just make one -- one note, and then I'll move on. 11 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: Sure. 12 MR. KATZ: The work product could only 13 cover the attorney or their agent's impressions recording 14 these notes. I'm not asking for any of that information. 15 I'm simply asking for what this Highland/Cornerstone 16 representative said. 17 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: I know exactly what 18 you're asking. 19 MR. KATZ: Okay. 20 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: I still don't have 21 enough information to make an informed ruling. I would 22 invite briefing on the issue. And in the event that I 23 determine you're entitled to the information, I'll allow 24 you to re-question Mr. Daugherty about it. 25 MR. KATZ: Okay. Thank you.

136 1 Q. (By Mr. Katz) Any other communications you had 2 with Mr. Smith after leaving -- after you left Highland 3 other than the phone call and the in-person meeting at 4 the American Heart Ball? 5 A. There may have been some others. I just don't 6 recall them. 7 Q. Okay. 8 A. Nothing of substance. Nothing that I would find 9 significant enough to commit it to memory. 10 Q. Okay. Have you made any other tape recordings, 11 digital recordings, transcripts, any other -- any other 12 record of your communications with current or former 13 Highland employees since you left Highland other than 14 what we've discussed already? 15 A. No. 16 Q. Are you aware of anybody -- of anybody else 17 making recordings of current or former Highland 18 employees? 19 A. No. I don't know. 20 Q. Have you heard any audio or video recordings of 21 current or former Highland employees since you left 22 Highland? 23 A. Yes. 24 Q. Okay. What have you heard or seen? 25 A. Recordings.	138 1 MS. DANIELS: Go ahead. 2 A. I saw a recording of Patrick Boyce at a 3 Mavericks basketball game. 4 Q. Okay. Was this a video recording or an audio 5 recording? 6 A. It was a -- it was a video recording, and I 7 guess it had some audio, too. 8 Q. Okay. 9 A. He's slapping these noise-makers together. 10 Q. Okay. And who -- who showed you that recording? 11 A. Ted Dameris's significant other. 12 Q. Okay. Were you at the game when you saw the 13 recording? 14 A. No. 15 Q. Where were you when you saw the recording? 16 A. I was at that party last night. 17 Q. Okay. Any other recordings other than that? 18 A. None that come to mind. 19 Q. Have you seen any -- 20 A. Actually, that's not true. Sorry. 21 Q. Go ahead. 22 A. On Patrick Boyce's Twitter account, there's some 23 recordings of -- he took a picture of his tooth and 24 posted it. He's got a gold tooth, nub, or something, and 25 he posted it and put it on his Twitter site.
137 1 Q. Okay. How many? 2 A. I didn't count. 3 Q. Okay. Are the -- what was the form of the 4 recordings? 5 A. What do you mean? 6 Q. Where were you when you heard them? 7 A. I don't know. 8 Q. Were they audio or video? 9 A. Audio. 10 Q. Okay. Have they ever been in your possession? 11 A. Yes. 12 Q. Okay. Are you talking about the messages on 13 your cell phone? 14 A. Yes. 15 Q. Okay. I want to know anything other than what 16 we've talked about today already. Anything other than 17 that? 18 A. Not that I'm aware of. I don't know what other 19 people are doing. 20 Q. Okay, but you've not heard -- no one else has 21 played recordings for you that they may have made? 22 A. Maybe. I just haven't focused on it. 23 Q. Well, who do you think may have played them for 24 you? 25 A. I saw a ...	139 1 Q. Okay. Anything else? 2 A. Took a picture of himself with Daryl Johnston. 3 Q. Well, other -- any other recordings you've seen 4 or heard? 5 A. I think there's some pictures of his kids. 6 Q. But other than Mr. Boyce's Twitter account and 7 the other things we've talked about, are there any other 8 recordings that you've seen or heard? 9 A. None that come to mind. 10 Q. What about -- have you seen any notes that 11 anyone other than yourself have made of conversations 12 with current or former Highland employees since you left 13 Highland? 14 A. I don't recall. I think I've heard discussions 15 of that kind of stuff, but I don't recall. 16 Q. When you say you heard discussion of that, what 17 do you mean? What are you referring to? 18 MS. DANIELS: To the extent that you are 19 referring to any communications with counsel, I'll 20 instruct you not to answer. 21 THE WITNESS: No, I don't think this falls 22 into that. 23 MS. DANIELS: Okay. 24 A. Britt Brown. 25 Q. Okay. And what specifically with respect to

140 1 Britt Brown? 2 A. I think at some point he had some recordings of 3 some such. 4 Q. And when you say "recordings," are you referring 5 to notes or video recordings or audio recordings? 6 A. Yeah, something like that. I mean, it's been a 7 while. 8 Q. And, I'm sorry, I think I asked an unclear 9 question. When you say "something like that," what do 10 you mean? Something like what? 11 A. Something like a hand recorded -- I mean a 12 written recorded. 13 Q. Notes? Handwritten notes? 14 A. Yeah. 15 Q. I'm sorry. Is that a yes? 16 A. Yes. I'm sorry. Yes. 17 Q. So you recall that Britt Brown showed you some 18 notes? 19 A. No. 20 Q. What do you recall? 21 A. Him talking about them. 22 Q. And who were the -- who was -- what did the 23 notes relate to? 24 A. I don't recall. Funny stuff about Boyce. 25 Q. Okay. About Brown's conversations with Boyce?	142 1 A. Within the last six months. 2 Q. Okay. Did she -- did you see or hear any of 3 these recordings? 4 A. No. 5 Q. Have you asked her for copies of any of the 6 recordings? 7 A. No. 8 Q. Did she indicate what the purpose of the 9 recordings were for? 10 A. No. She just said she has tons of funny and 11 weird stuff on Patrick Boyce. 12 Q. And where was this conversation with Ms. Ward? 13 A. At a bar. 14 Q. Which bar? 15 A. I don't recall. 16 Q. Here in Dallas? 17 A. Yes. 18 Q. Was anybody else there? 19 A. Yes. 20 Q. Who else? 21 A. It was a bunch of former Highland people. 22 Q. Who do you recall? 23 A. Want a long list again? 24 Q. Yes. 25 A. Paul Kaufman, Amy Jenkins, Shawn Ward, Amit
141 1 The notes were of Brown's conversations with Boyce? 2 A. I don't recall that level of detail. 3 Q. Okay. How long ago was this that you had a 4 communication with Brown about this? 5 A. It's been a while. 6 Q. Like, what do you mean by "a while"? 7 A. Over a year. 8 Q. Have you ever asked Brown for copies of any 9 notes? 10 A. No. 11 Q. Anything else that you recall? Any other notes, 12 recordings of any kind? 13 A. Shawn Ward. 14 Q. What do you recall with respect to Mr. Ward? 15 A. She just mentioned that she -- 16 Q. She. 17 A. -- recorded a lot of her interactions, I guess, 18 with Boyce. 19 Q. Okay. 20 A. Just thought of some more people. 21 Q. Okay. Well, I want to finish this. Then we'll 22 go back to that. 23 A. Okay. 24 Q. When did Ms. Ward tell you about these 25 recordings?	143 1 Walia, Jeff Lonsdale, Ken McGovern, Jaime. I don't know 2 his last name. 3 Q. Anybody else? 4 A. Brad Borud, Martin Downen -- not Martin Downen. 5 Dave Martin, Gunnerson. I don't know his first name. 6 Patrick Conner, Kurt Plumer, Meredith Etheredge. Michael 7 Colvin might have been there. I think I saw him there. 8 What was her name? Another woman. She was Russian. I 9 think she was out of the accounting department. Talked 10 to her a lot. 11 There are just several other people there. 12 I'd have to think about it to round out the list. I 13 mean -- 14 Q. Was this an event? 15 A. There is an unofficial get-together two times a 16 year for Highland -- former Highland employees. 17 Q. You don't remember where that occurred, though? 18 A. It's some bar -- bar and restaurant down there 19 in the Uptown area. I just don't remember the name of 20 it. 21 Q. Okay. Do you know who paid the bill? 22 A. I think everybody pays their own bill. I mean, 23 I bought my own drinks, put it that way. I don't know if 24 somebody bought their -- 25 Q. Gotcha.

144 1 A. Sometimes people buy drinks for somebody else. 2 Q. When did you engage Looper Reed? 3 A. I don't recall exactly. 4 Q. Was it after you left Highland? 5 A. Yes. Well, it was after I resigned from 6 Highland. 7 Q. Okay. But before you left Highland? 8 A. Maybe. I don't -- yeah, I think so. I mean, I 9 left Highland October 17th, and by then I had Looper 10 Reed. Actually, no, I didn't. I had Looper Reed later 11 on in the month. 12 Q. Okay. When did you engage them -- 13 A. Actually, I -- wait a second. I -- I'm not 14 sure. I'm not sure. I might have had them earlier. 15 You're asking me for exact days in October. It was 16 sometime in October. 17 Q. Okay. And when did you engage them with respect 18 to this litigation? 19 A. At the same time. I felt like I'd become an 20 adverse party to Highland by the second -- second day 21 after I resigned, so ... 22 Q. Were you planning to sue Highland at that time? 23 A. No, but I needed counsel. Highland told me to 24 get counsel. Thomas Surgent told me to get counsel. 25 Q. That was with respect to your -- the severance	146 1 Q. Both conversations were at that event? 2 A. I think so. 3 Q. Did you make notes -- 4 A. Actually, that's since I left Highland, yeah. 5 Q. Did you make notes of those conversations? 6 A. Maybe. I don't recall. 7 Q. Did you speak to her at the direction of 8 counsel? 9 A. Yes. 10 Q. All right. Tell me what you recall about each 11 of those conversations. 12 MS. DANIELS: Again, to the extent that it 13 is at the direction of counsel, as he just testified, we 14 will object and instruct the witness not to convey the 15 information based upon work-product privilege. 16 A. I honestly don't recall what I talked to her 17 about. 18 Q. Okay. 19 A. I just thought she was good-looking and fun to 20 talk to. 21 Q. How long were those conversations? 22 A. I didn't time it. 23 Q. Approximately? 24 A. Seemed like it was flying by. 25 Q. Do you recall anything you told her?
145 1 negotiations? 2 A. Well, it was in -- it was in relation to the 3 document you guys had given me where you were taking away 4 my compensation, and then I had to agree to new 5 documents, and I had to agree that I'd consulted counsel. 6 And Thomas Surgent said I needed to go and get a counsel. 7 Q. And that's what prompted you to go get counsel? 8 A. That's right. 9 Q. When did counsel start instructing you to talk 10 to witnesses? 11 A. I don't recall exactly. 12 Q. Do you recall approximately? 13 A. No. 14 Q. Was it before the litigation was on file? 15 A. I just don't recall that that acutely. 16 Q. How many conversations have you had with 17 Danielle Urech since you've left Highland? 18 A. Two. 19 Q. Were those in person or on the phone? 20 A. In person. 21 Q. And -- 22 A. She's awesome, by the way. Really cool. 23 Q. And when -- when did those occur? 24 A. At the Côtes du Coeur, American Heart Ball -- 25 American Heart Association event.	147 1 MS. DANIELS: Same objection. 2 To the extent that your communications with 3 her were at the direction of counsel, as you testified, 4 then I would instruct you not to reveal any 5 substantive -- the substantive nature of the 6 communications, as work product, instruct you not to 7 answer. 8 A. I'm not going to answer, on that basis. 9 Q. Did you -- did your counsel instruct you 10 specific questions to ask of any of the individuals -- 11 MS. DANIELS: Same objection. 12 Q. -- that you spoke to -- that you spoke to at 13 their direction? 14 MS. DANIELS: Same objection as to work 15 product, and further objection with (sic) that regard 16 with respect to attorney-client-privileged 17 communications. Instruct the witness not to answer. 18 Q. Okay. And just to be clear, I'm not asking you 19 for the substance of any communications. I'm just asking 20 whether counsel asked you to ask specific questions. 21 MS. DANIELS: Same objection. Instruct the 22 witness not to answer. 23 A. This one should be easy. I just don't recall. 24 Q. With respect to any of the witnesses that you 25 spoke to at your client's (sic) direction, did you -- did

148 1 your counsel give you specific instructions -- I'm 2 sorry -- yes, specific questions, messages or topics to 3 broach with these witnesses? 4 MS. DANIELS: And, again, to the extent 5 that invades the attorney-client communication, I'm 6 instructing the witness not to answer that question. 7 A. I don't understand that question. You said 8 she's my client or something or -- I didn't understand 9 what you were talking about. 10 Q. Okay. Let me ask it again. 11 With respect to any of the individuals that 12 you spoke to at your client's direction -- 13 A. You keep saying "client." 14 Q. -- at your attorney's direction -- 15 A. She's my lawyer. 16 Q. I'm with you now. 17 A. Okay. 18 Q. -- with any of the individuals that you spoke to 19 at your attorney's direction, did your attorney give you 20 specific instructions as to what questions to ask? 21 MS. DANIELS: Again, same objection. 22 Instruct the witness not to answer. 23 A. On that basis, I'm not going to answer. 24 MR. KATZ: Judge Kaplan? 25 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: The privilege	150 1 MR. KATZ: Okay. 2 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: -- of the question. 3 It's just privileged. Ask your next one. 4 Q. Did you know before you attended the American 5 Heart Association event who was going to be there? 6 A. I knew some people were going to be there. 7 Q. Did you know that Ms. Urech was going to be 8 there? 9 A. No. 10 Q. Did you know Mr. Smith was going to be there? 11 A. No. 12 Q. Tell me about your -- well, how many 13 communications have you had since you left Highland with 14 Clay Callan? 15 A. One, maybe two. 16 Q. Okay. And back to Ms. Urech, did you have 17 any -- have you had any e-mail or other communications 18 with her other than the conversations you just 19 referenced? 20 A. No. 21 Q. Okay. Mr. Callan, you said one or two? 22 A. Yes. 23 Q. Okay. Would those have been in person, on the 24 phone, or both? 25 A. In person.
149 1 objection is sustained. You're asking as directly as I 2 can imagine for Mr. Daugherty to testify about what his 3 lawyer told him. 4 MR. KATZ: I just asked him whether there 5 were instructions given, not what the instructions were. 6 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: That's not what 7 your question was. 8 Read the question back. 9 THE REPORTER: "With any of the individuals 10 that you spoke to at your attorney's direction, did your 11 attorney give you specific instructions as to what 12 questions to ask?" 13 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: The answer to that 14 question requires Mr. Daugherty to testify as to what the 15 instructions he got from his lawyer were, specifically 16 did your lawyer tell you to do something, in this case, 17 ask questions, what questions to ask. 18 MR. KATZ: Well, that's -- he's already 19 testified that they instructed him to talk to -- to the 20 witness. The extent that they are taking a work-product 21 privilege, it's certainly relevant to know did they ask 22 him to find out specific information versus was there a 23 general -- 24 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: I don't question 25 the relevance --	151 1 Q. Okay. Where would they have taken place? 2 A. Since I -- since, yeah, I left Highland. In 3 November of 2011, I saw him at the Capital for Kids hedge 4 fund event, and I want to say I saw him at another 5 charity function. Maybe it was the Côtés du Coeur of 6 another year. 7 Q. So not 2013? 8 A. I don't think I've seen him in 2013. 9 Q. Okay. But you -- 10 A. I may be wrong, but I don't -- I don't remember 11 it. 12 Q. Okay. Did you speak to him at any time at the 13 direction of counsel? 14 A. No. 15 Q. What do you recall about your communications 16 with him? 17 A. I don't recall very much. 18 Q. Did you talk to him at all about this 19 litigation? 20 A. I talked to him about the conditions that 21 existed precedent to this litigation, yes. I should say 22 preceding, not precedent. Sorry. 23 Q. You're talking about the events leading up to 24 the litigation? 25 A. I talked to him about Sierra Verde being taken

152 1 away from us all. I talked about the treatment I 2 received from Boyce and Britain on my way out. I talked 3 to him about those kind of things that ultimately ended 4 up being encapsulated in litigation. 5 Q. Okay. What did you tell him about Sierra Verde? 6 A. We were talking to each other, how disappointing 7 it was. Frankly, it was bullshit. 8 Q. Are those the words you used? 9 A. Probably. 10 Q. What did you tell him? 11 A. Just that, you know, they were taken away, and 12 he was -- he was very upset that they were taken away. 13 So was Lawler. Everybody just thought it was a farce. 14 Q. When you said so did Lawler, is that what you 15 said to Mr. Callan or Mr. Callan said to you, or was 16 Mr. Lawler -- 17 A. I'm summarizing a conversation that was 18 happening between the three of us. I think Louis Koven 19 was there. I think Tom Pereira was there just listening 20 when we were talking about it. 21 Q. Okay. And this was a conversation in November 22 of 2011? 23 A. That's right. 24 Q. Okay. So who else was there? 25 A. I just named it.	154 1 or five of you? 2 A. Well, I mean, it was -- it was conversations 3 that ebbed and flowed throughout the night. You know, 4 talked about it for 20, 30 minutes and then talked to 5 other people. And the groups mixed and matched. I mean, 6 there were a bunch of people, and it was a fluid process. 7 Q. Tell me what specifically Clay Callan told you. 8 A. I don't remember the specifics. I mean, how 9 long does it take to have a conversation of, Hey, they're 10 taking this away from us? You know, it's all BS. 11 Boyce gets involved, comes up with some 12 kind of nonsensical argument and basically starts shoving 13 documents in front of people saying: Jim wants you to 14 sign this; it's over; we're unwinding it. People were 15 very disappointed by that. 16 Q. That's what you said at the meeting? 17 A. That's what we all said. 18 Q. So that's what Clay Callan said? 19 A. Yeah. 20 Q. That's what Tim Lawler said? 21 A. Various forms, yes. 22 Q. What else do you recall them saying? 23 A. That's it. I mean, we talked about a bunch of 24 other stuff. Kids, they thought I looked tan. Just 25 things like that.
153 1 Q. Those are the -- 2 A. I mean, there were a ton of people at that deal, 3 and I think there were other Highland people, but at this 4 particular conversation it was the four or five of us. 5 It was me, it was Tim Lawler, Clay Callan, I think it was 6 Tom Pereira, and I think it was -- I know it was Louis 7 Koven. I don't know if Chuck Shifferd might have been 8 there or not, but I do remember talking to those guys. 9 Q. What specifically do you remember Mr. Lawler 10 saying in that conversation? 11 A. Just that he was disappointed and he really 12 counted on that compensation. 13 Q. Anything else? 14 A. Not that comes to mind right now. 15 Q. What about Tim Pereira -- or Tom Pereira? 16 A. Tom Pereira. 17 Q. Sorry. 18 A. Tom really didn't say much. He didn't have any 19 Sierra Verde. He was just listening. We chatted about 20 other stuff as well. It's not like we spent the whole 21 time talking about Sierra Verde. 22 Q. How long was your conversation about Sierra 23 Verde? 24 A. I have no idea. 25 Q. How long was the conversation between the four	155 1 Q. Physically where were you when you were having 2 this conversation? 3 A. What do you mean? I mean, like -- 4 Q. Were you-all sitting at a table? Were you 5 standing in the corner? Where were you? 6 A. We were standing -- it's -- you know how these 7 things are. It's a bunch of people in a venue, and they 8 had been rent out and converted for entertainment 9 purposes. There were a few standing tables where you 10 could lay your drink, but there were no real chairs 11 because it's so -- standing room only. 12 Does that answer your question? 13 Q. So four or five of you were around one of these 14 tables, standing around it? 15 A. I think we were hanging close at the bar. We 16 wanted to be close to the bar. 17 Q. Okay. Did anybody else hear what you-all were 18 talking about, to your knowledge? 19 A. I don't know. I don't know. 20 Q. Did you say anything negative about Patrick 21 Boyce at that conversation? 22 A. No. 23 Q. Anything negative about Lane Britain? 24 A. No. 25 Q. Anything negative about Jim Dondero?

157 1 think -- I thought we'd get it all worked out. 2 Q. How many conversations have you had with Shawn 3 Lederman since you left Highland? 4 A. One or two. 5 Q. Well, how many do you recall? 6 A. One or two. 7 Q. Okay. Well, tell me about -- tell me about 8 them. 9 A. The last one I had with him was, again, at the 10 Côtés du Coeur American Heart Association event, and I 11 talked to him for some period of time. And then I think 12 I talked to him at some point in 2011, after I resigned. 13 Q. Any other communications other than those two? 14 A. Not that I recall. 15 Q. At the American Heart Association, was this a 16 one-on-one conversation, or was anyone else involved? 17 A. It was one-on-one. 18 Q. And how long did it last? 19 A. Again, I didn't really take notice of it. It 20 was -- it was more than just a passing hello, good-bye. 21 Q. Was -- did you have that conversation at the 22 direction of counsel? 23 A. Yes. 24 Q. Did you make notes of that conversation? 25 A. I don't recall.	159 1 MS. DANIELS: I'm going to instruct, again, 2 that you not convey any of the substance of the 3 communication, based on the work-product exemption. 4 Q. So your conversation with Mr. Lederman in 2011 5 was at the direction of counsel? 6 MS. DANIELS: Object to the form of the 7 question. 8 A. I thought you were talking about the one in 9 2013. 10 Q. I was talking about 2011. 11 A. Oh, yeah. Sorry. 12 MS. DANIELS: Was that at the direction of 13 counsel? 14 THE WITNESS: No. 15 MS. DANIELS: Okay. 16 Q. Tell me what you recall about that conversation. 17 A. Not much. I appreciated him for his work, for 18 his effort; told him if there was anything I could do for 19 him, recommendation or anything, you know, let me know; 20 don't be a stranger. 21 Q. What did he tell you? 22 A. I don't recall. Thanks. 23 Q. Any other communications with Mr. Lederman other 24 than those two? 25 A. Not that I recall.

160 1 Q. What about Lexie Sereni? 2 A. I couldn't pronounce her name either, so ... 3 What about her? 4 Q. Do you know if that's a correct pronunciation? 5 A. I don't know. 6 Q. Okay. 7 A. I just remember I couldn't -- I had problems 8 when I was listing up the names. So it's nice to see you 9 have the same problems I do. 10 Q. What -- how many times have you spoken to her 11 since you left Highland? 12 A. Since I resigned or left Highland? 13 Q. Since you left. 14 A. Once. 15 Q. And when was that conversation? 16 A. It was in April of 2013. 17 Q. Was that also at the American Heart Association? 18 A. It was. 19 Q. And was that communication at the direction of 20 counsel? 21 A. No. 22 Q. Did you make notes from that -- of that 23 conversation? 24 A. No. 25 Q. Tell me what you told Ms. Sereni.	162 1 A. No. 2 Q. Did you tell her anything about Mr. Dondero? 3 A. No. 4 Q. Did you tell her anything about Lane Britain or 5 Patrick Boyce? 6 A. No. 7 Q. Have you had any other communications with 8 her -- phone, e-mail, social media -- since you left 9 Highland? 10 A. Not that I recall. 11 Q. Did -- did you have a communication with her 12 between the time you gave your notice of resignation and 13 when you actually left? 14 A. Yes. 15 Q. And was that in person or on the phone? 16 A. In person. Maybe on the phone as well. 17 Q. Okay. 18 A. I had multiple conversations because she was my 19 secretary after Brittney Cunningham left. 20 Q. Okay. Okay. 21 THE WITNESS: Can we take a break? 22 MR. KATZ: Absolutely. 23 THE VIDEOGRAPHER: Off the record, 1:44 24 p.m. 25 (Recess taken from 1:44 to 1:56.)
161 1 A. I told her she looked good, I liked her shoes. 2 Q. Do you remember what they looked like? 3 A. Yeah. Very sexy. 4 Q. Do you remember what color they were? 5 A. Kind of sparkly. 6 Q. Anything else you told her? 7 A. Not really. 8 Q. Do you remember what she told you? 9 A. Yeah. 10 Q. What did she tell you? 11 A. Said I looked good, she liked my long hair. 12 Q. Anything else? 13 A. Said she'd been wondering what I was up to. 14 Q. Anything else? 15 A. Not that I recall. 16 Q. Did you talk about Highland with her at all? 17 A. Briefly. 18 Q. What did you -- what did you talk to her about 19 with respect to Highland? 20 A. Just how is it going. 21 Q. You asking her how it's going? 22 A. That's right. 23 Q. Okay. What did she tell you? 24 A. I don't recall. 25 Q. Did -- did you tell her anything about Highland?	163 1 THE VIDEOGRAPHER: Back on the record, 1:56 2 p.m., starting tape four. 3 Q. Mr. Daugherty, are you aware of any 4 individual -- are you aware of any recording that's been 5 made of any current or former Highland employee that you 6 have not specifically identified today? 7 A. In the list that I gave you, of names? Are you 8 asking me am I aware of a recording that's taken place by 9 someone that was not on the list of names that I gave 10 you? I'm just trying to understand what you're asking. 11 Q. Yeah. 12 A. No. If that's the question, the answer is no. 13 Q. Okay. You said the list of names that you've 14 given me. You mean -- you mentioned recordings by Shawn 15 Ward. 16 A. That's right. 17 Q. Okay. Who, other than Ms. Ward and yourself, do 18 you know has recordings of current or former Highland 19 employees? 20 THE WITNESS: You want me to answer that? 21 MS. DANIELS: Just to clarify, I mean, to 22 the extent that it calls for communication or information 23 that you only know by virtue of talking to counsel, at no 24 time do I want you to reveal any attorney-client 25 communications.

164 1 If you have independent knowledge of other 2 recordings, in a broad sense, I think any recording 3 that's made of any current or former Highland employee 4 besides recordings that you have or records that you have 5 or recordings that Shawn Ward has, and you know it 6 independently, without communications with counsel, then 7 I think you can answer the question. 8 A. On that basis, I'm not going to answer. 9 Q. Have you heard of any -- have you heard of the 10 existence of any recordings of any current or former 11 Highland employee from anyone other than your counsel or 12 Ms. Ward? 13 A. Yes. 14 Q. Okay. Who have you heard that from? 15 A. Ken McGovern. Jeff Lonsdale. 16 Q. Anybody else? 17 A. That's all I can think of right now. 18 Q. Okay. And what -- what did you hear from 19 Ms. McGovern? 20 MS. DANIELS: If that is a communication 21 you had at the direction of counsel, information learned 22 and communications had are privileged as work product. 23 I'll instruct you not to answer on that basis. 24 A. On that basis, I'm not going to answer the 25 question.	166 1 A. Yes. 2 Q. And did you take notes of either conversation? 3 A. I think so. 4 Q. Of both of them? 5 A. No. 6 Q. Which -- when were the two -- the two 7 communications? 8 A. I don't recall. 9 Q. Was it the first or second one that you took 10 notes of? 11 A. First. 12 Q. And you gave those notes to your counsel? 13 A. I don't recall. 14 Q. Did you have any communications with 15 Mr. McGovern that were not at the direction of counsel? 16 A. Yes. 17 Q. Did you have any communications after you left 18 Highland with Mr. McGovern that were not at the direction 19 of counsel? 20 A. Yes. 21 Q. Okay. And when did those occur? 22 A. I didn't focus on it, but as recently as April. 23 Q. How many times have you spoken to Mr. McGovern 24 since you left Highland? 25 A. I didn't take an inventory.
165 1 Q. Did -- 2 MR. KATZ: Is the Judge in here? 3 Judge Kaplan, I presume it's not necessary 4 for me to challenge each -- 5 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: It is. 6 MR. KATZ: -- each designation. 7 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: It is. 8 MR. KATZ: Thank you. And just so we're 9 clear, when you say "it is," it's not necessary? 10 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: I'm sorry. It's 11 not necessary. 12 MR. KATZ: Okay. Thank you. 13 Q. Obviously you had a communication with 14 Ms. McGovern at the direction of your counsel? 15 A. It's Ken McGovern, not Kim. 16 Q. Ken. Oh, I'm sorry. 17 A. A he. 18 Q. You had a conversation with Ken McGovern at the 19 direction of your counsel? 20 A. I did. 21 Q. More than one? 22 A. Yes. 23 Q. How many? 24 A. Two. 25 Q. Both at the direction of your counsel?	167 1 Q. Approximately? 2 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 3 A. Three times, maybe. 4 Q. Okay. 5 A. Maybe four. 6 Q. In addition to the two at direction of counsel? 7 A. No, including. 8 Q. Okay. So you had the two at direction of 9 counsel and one or two others? 10 A. Well, and just to be clear, some of the 11 communications were at the direction of counsel and other 12 of the communications were not. 13 Q. I understand. You had two at the direction of 14 counsel and one or two not at the direction of counsel; 15 is that correct? 16 A. That's -- that -- sorry. That's correct. 17 Q. Okay. And during the two conversations that you 18 had that were not at the direction of -- I'm sorry. 19 During the two conversations you had that were at the 20 direction of counsel, did you talk about anything with 21 Mr. McGovern that your counsel did not tell you to 22 discuss? 23 A. Yes. 24 Q. And what was that? 25 A. Well, my counsel did not instruct me not to talk

168 1 about it, but my counsel didn't care whether I talked  2 about it or not. Is that fair?  3 Q. What do you mean by that?  4 A. You know, I'm not -- I'm confused.  5 MS. DANIELS: Yeah. Let's --  6 Q. Sure.  7 A. Give me yours again.  8 MS. DANIELS: Do not convey communications  9 with counsel.  10 THE WITNESS: Right.  11 Q. During the two conversations that you had with  12 Mr. McGovern that were at the direction of counsel --  13 A. Yes.  14 Q. -- did you go -- did you have communications  15 during those two communications that went outside the  16 scope of what you were instructed by counsel to speak to  17 Mr. McGovern about?  18 A. Yes.  19 Q. Okay. Tell me the substance of those  20 communications that were outside the scope of what your  21 counsel instructed you to speak to Mr. McGovern about.  22 A. I was getting ready to go to an Indian Princess  23 outing with my youngest daughter, and he has -- it made  24 him have fond memories of when he took his daughter to do  25 that stuff. And we talked about that for quite a bit,	170 1 this is not at the direction of counsel, you can convey  2 the information. If it was at the direction of counsel,  3 then I'm going to instruct you not to answer.  4 A. Which conversation are we talking about?  5 Q. Talking about the conversation you had on your  6 cell phone with Mr. McGovern.  7 A. There was more than one.  8 Q. How many were there?  9 A. I think two.  10 Q. Okay. And were either of those at the direction  11 of counsel?  12 A. Yes.  13 Q. Just one or both?  14 A. One.  15 Q. Okay. The one that was not at the direction of  16 counsel, what did you talk about?  17 A. The Indian Princess camp-out. I was at a  18 service station or a convenience store buying all these  19 treats, as I just went through. I mean, do you really  20 want to hear about them all?  21 Q. Okay. I don't think you understood my question,  22 then, earlier, but I appreciate that.  23 Did -- did your counsel -- did you talk  24 about -- did your counsel instruct you to talk to  25 Mr. McGovern about recordings?
169 1 and that was not at the direction of counsel.  2 Q. Anything else?  3 A. Talked about I was ordering cupcakes and Ding  4 Dongs and chips and sodas, the small ones, so that the  5 girls could splurge on treats at the camp-out.  6 Q. The two -- the one or two conversations that you  7 had with Mr. McGovern that were not at the direction of  8 counsel, were those in person?  9 A. One was, and one was by phone.  10 Q. Okay. Where was the in-person communication?  11 A. I don't recall. It might have been at a  12 restaurant.  13 Q. Just the two of you?  14 A. I think so.  15 Q. And when was that?  16 A. I don't recall.  17 Q. And was that before or after the phone call?  18 A. I don't -- I don't recall the exact order, to be  19 honest with you. The phone call was such a nonfactor to  20 me, so I don't know how to position it versus other.  21 Q. Was that phone call on your cell phone?  22 A. Yes.  23 Q. Okay. What did you talk about when you were on  24 the phone with Mr. McGovern?  25 MS. DANIELS: Again, to the extent that	171 1 MS. DANIELS: Objection, calls for  2 attorney-client communications, privileged.  3 Do not answer the question.  4 A. On that basis, I'm not going to answer the  5 question.  6 Q. Did you speak to Mr. McGovern about recordings  7 at either of the conversations you had with him that were  8 not at the direction of counsel?  9 A. No.  10 Q. You mentioned earlier that you heard about  11 recordings from an individual named Jeff Lonsdale?  12 A. Yes.  13 Q. What did Mr. Lonsdale tell you?  14 MS. DANIELS: And, again, to the extent  15 that that communication was at the direction of counsel,  16 you're not to convey anything about the substance that  17 was learned. I'll instruct you not to answer based upon  18 work product.  19 A. On that basis, I'm not going to answer the  20 question.  21 Q. How many conversations have you had with  22 Mr. Lonsdale since you left Highland?  23 A. Two.  24 Q. Were they in person or on the phone?  25 A. In person.

172 1 Q. Were they both at the direction of counsel? 2 A. Yes. 3 Q. Did counsel give you specific topics to talk 4 about with Mr. Lonsdale? 5 MS. DANIELS: Again, same objection that 6 we've had a bunch of different times. That invades the 7 attorney-client-communication privilege, and I'm 8 instructing the witness not to answer that question. 9 A. On that basis, I'm not going to answer the 10 question. 11 Q. Did you have any communications with 12 Mr. Lonsdale that were -- since you left Highland that 13 were not at the direction of counsel? 14 A. No. 15 Q. Have you heard any recordings that Mr. Lonsdale 16 has? 17 A. I have -- 18 MS. DANIELS: Again, to the extent that 19 that occurred in connection with a conversation or an 20 interview that was conducted at the direction of counsel, 21 I will instruct the witness not to answer based on 22 work-product privilege. 23 MR. KATZ: Judge Kaplan? 24 A. On that basis -- 25 Q. I'm sorry.	174 1 MS. DANIELS: Again, based upon our 2 objection and conversations about this previously, if the 3 source of your information is based upon communications 4 with counsel, in that regard, I'm going to instruct you 5 not to answer. 6 If you have other knowledge that's not 7 based upon instructions of counsel or communications with 8 counsel, then you may answer. Otherwise, I'll direct you 9 not to answer. 10 A. What she said didn't apply. 11 Q. I'm sorry. Did apply? 12 A. Did not. So on that basis, she said to answer 13 your question. 14 Q. Okay. 15 A. Could you repeat it for me? 16 Q. Sure. Please identify -- 17 MR. KATZ: Well, could you read the 18 question back? 19 THE REPORTER: "Have you heard or seen any 20 other recordings of current or former Highland employees 21 that you have not specifically identified during this 22 deposition?" Answer was, "Maybe." And then, "What 23 recordings?" 24 A. I think I've seen some things at these 25 functions, you know, these ex-Highland employee
173 1 A. Sorry. On that basis, I'm not going to answer. 2 MR. KATZ: Judge Kaplan? 3 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: What's the question 4 again? 5 MR. KATZ: The question was, Did you have 6 any communications with Mr. Lonsdale -- I'm sorry, that's 7 not the question. Have you heard any recordings that 8 Mr. Lonsdale had? 9 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: Well, he can answer 10 that question yes or no. 11 A. I'm sorry. Can you repeat it? 12 Q. Sure. Have you heard any recordings that 13 Mr. Lonsdale had? 14 A. No. 15 Q. Have you seen any notes of any communications 16 that Mr. Lonsdale made? 17 A. No. 18 Q. Have you seen any written statements or written 19 recordings of any communications that Mr. Lonsdale had? 20 A. No. 21 Q. Have you heard or seen any other recordings of 22 current or former Highland employees that you have not 23 specifically identified during this deposition? 24 A. Maybe. 25 Q. What recordings?	175 1 functions, that depict -- that depict both current and 2 former Highland employees. 3 Q. Okay. What have you seen? 4 A. Just videos and pictures. 5 Q. Anything other than videos or pictures? 6 A. Not that I recall. 7 Q. What videos or pictures do you recall that you 8 haven't specifically identified already? 9 A. You know, nothing that comes to mind directly. 10 Just stuff's out there. 11 Q. What stuff? 12 A. Pictures of Highland people at parties, that 13 kind of thing. 14 Q. Okay. Where have you seen these? 15 A. As I mentioned, when you get these 16 get-togethers, people whip out their iPhones and they're, 17 like, Look at this. 18 Q. Who -- 19 A. Or it's not just iPhones. It could be other -- 20 you know, those devices that have -- that show videos or 21 pictures. 22 Q. Who has shown you videos or pictures? 23 A. Just lots of people. I ... 24 Q. Who? 25 A. I'd have to think about it.

176 1 Q. Okay. Think about it, please, and let me know. 2 A. Jason Ziegler, maybe David Martin, maybe Amy 3 Jenkins. I'm just -- I'm not sure. I really didn't just 4 record my every experience, so ... 5 Q. Anybody else? 6 A. Maybe. 7 Q. Anybody provide any videos or pictures to you? 8 A. No. I mean, when you say "provide," like send 9 it to me? 10 Q. Yes. 11 A. No. 12 Q. How many times have you spoken to Martin Downen 13 since you left Highland? 14 A. Twice, I think. 15 Q. Were either of those communications at the 16 direction of counsel? 17 A. Yes. 18 Q. Both? 19 A. The second one. 20 Q. Okay. Tell me about the first one. 21 A. I don't remember that much about it. 22 Q. Was it on the phone or in person? 23 A. Person. Saw him socially someplace. 24 Q. Where? 25 A. I don't recall.	178 1 A. Yeah. I mean, we're at a conference together. 2 Q. How long did you speak to him? 3 A. I spoke to him on multiple occasions. 4 Q. Multiple occasions at that conference? 5 A. That's correct. It was a two-day or three-day 6 conference. Something like that. 7 Q. Each of those communications were at the 8 direction of counsel? 9 A. Yes. 10 Q. The entire -- the entirety of each of those 11 conversations was at the direction of counsel? 12 A. No. 13 Q. Tell me the substance of the communications that 14 were not at the direction of counsel. 15 A. Talked about his kids, sports the kids were 16 playing, that kind of stuff. Had breakfast with him. 17 Q. Anything about -- 18 A. I sat at his table. These are -- I don't 19 know -- eight-, ten-person tables. I sat at his table. 20 I had lunch with him in a similar scenario, 21 bunch of ex-Highland guys, and so we all sat together. I 22 think there was, like, 17 ex-Highland guys, although he's 23 not ex-Highland. There were about 17 ex-Highland guys 24 there and probably three or four Highland guys. 25 Q. Who -- when you were at the table for breakfast,
177 1 Q. When? 2 A. I don't recall. 3 Q. What did you talk about? 4 A. Just how he was doing. 5 Q. How he was doing at Highland or how he was doing 6 in general? 7 A. Both. 8 Q. What specifically about Highland did you discuss 9 with him? 10 A. I don't recall. I just knew he was doing well, 11 or he felt like he was doing well. 12 Q. Was anybody else a party to that conversation? 13 A. The first one or the second one? 14 Q. The first one. 15 A. I don't think so. 16 Q. Did you run into him randomly, or was this a 17 planned meeting? 18 A. It was random. 19 Q. Approximately how long was that conversation? 20 A. I don't recall. 21 Q. When did the second conversation occur? 22 A. At the JPMorgan conference. 23 Q. When was that? 24 A. February of this year. 25 Q. Was that an in-person conversation?	179 1 who was -- who was at the table? 2 A. Just me and Martin. 3 Q. What about at the lunch? Who else was at that 4 table? 5 A. Our table, there was David Martin, Kurt Plumer, 6 Gibran Mahmud, Greg Stuccheli. I think maybe Tom 7 Pereira. I can't remember if he was at that conference 8 or not. I think he was there. A couple of other guys. 9 I'd have to think about it. 10 Q. Did you take notes of your conversations with 11 Mr. Downen at the JPMorgan conference? 12 A. Maybe. 13 Q. Where are those notes? 14 A. They would be in my journal. 15 Q. The one at -- the one that you have in your 16 possession? 17 A. That's correct. 18 Q. Did you talk to Mr. Downen at all about your 19 potential business venture? 20 A. I think so. 21 Q. What did you tell him? 22 A. Just that Greg and I were trying to start a 23 credit fund firm. 24 Q. Was -- 25 A. Let me answer that better. Start a firm with a

180 1 credit focus for strategy.  2 Q. And where were you when you had that  3 communication with him?  4 A. I don't remember exactly. I mean, I had several  5 conversations with him at cocktail parties, at lunch, at  6 breakfast, intermittently throughout the halls, and I  7 might have mentioned it on certainly more than one  8 occasion, but I just don't remember which ones I did and  9 which ones I didn't.  10 Q. Did you ever talk to him about being a part of  11 your venture?  12 A. No.  13 Q. Was it -- at all times when you spoke to  14 Mr. Morgan -- I'm sorry -- Mr. Downen during the JPMorgan  15 conference, was it just the two of you speaking?  16 A. No, not at all times. As I said, we were --  17 sometimes it was just the two of us, and sometimes I was  18 at a table full of people. Sometimes I was standing at a  19 cocktail party and it was three or four guys  20 chitchatting.  21 Q. Did Mr. Stuecheli participate in any of those  22 conversations with Mr. Downen and yourself?  23 A. Some. I think he was sitting at our table at  24 lunch, as I mentioned.  25 Q. Okay. Tell me everything you talked to	182 1 A. The first one was that -- let's see. The first  2 one, I -- I thought it was him at the cocktail reception.  3 I'm sorry, not cocktail reception. Capital for Kids.  4 Q. Okay.  5 A. So that one might have been on direction of  6 counsel. I just don't recall.  7 Q. What did you talk to him about at that event?  8 MS. DANIELS: To the extent that it was at  9 the direction of counsel, I'm going to instruct you not  10 to reveal the information based upon the  11 attorney-work-product privilege.  12 THE WITNESS: I don't -- I don't think  13 that's going to apply in this case because I was talking  14 to Lawler and I was talking to Clay, and he just happened  15 to be standing there.  16 Q. Was this the communication --  17 A. So I really wasn't talking to him. I mean, I  18 was talking to a group of people, and they were talking  19 to me. But, you know, when we got into stuff like Sierra  20 Verde, he didn't have any Sierra Verde, so for him, he  21 was just an interested observer -- or uninterested  22 observer.  23 Q. So he would have -- he was -- he was there when  24 you were talking about the Sierra Verde, and that's the  25 communication you discussed earlier?
181 1 Mr. Downen about at lunch.  2 A. That wasn't on direction of counsel?  3 Q. I want to know everything you talked to him  4 about at lunch.  5 MS. DANIELS: I'll object to the extent  6 that he is communicating or learning information at the  7 direction of counsel and instruct the witness not to  8 answer. Work-product exemption.  9 A. On that basis, I'm not going to answer the  10 question.  11 Q. Have you had any communications with Mr. Downen  12 since the JPMorgan conference?  13 A. No.  14 Q. Tell me about your communications with Tom  15 Pereira. I'm sorry. Bad question.  16 How many times have you spoken with  17 Mr. Pereira since you left Highland?  18 A. Three, maybe four.  19 Q. Any of those at the direction of counsel?  20 A. No.  21 Q. Okay. Tell me about those -- well, were  22 those -- each of those four, were they -- communications,  23 were they in person?  24 A. Yes.  25 Q. When was the first one?	183 1 A. That's right.  2 Q. Okay. Did you have any other communications  3 with him at that event?  4 A. Yeah.  5 Q. Okay. What did you talk to him about?  6 A. Was he going to move back to New York, his wife  7 was going back to work, how are the kids.  8 Q. Did you tell him anything about Highland?  9 A. Nothing other than what we discussed earlier  10 regarding my discussions with the guys on Sierra Verde.  11 Q. Did he say anything to you about Highland?  12 A. No. Tom's pretty quiet.  13 Q. What was the second communication you had with  14 him after you left, after you left Highland?  15 A. You know, there's probably -- I said four.  16 There might be ten. Tom and I go to the same church, so  17 there's a lot of hi, how are you doing, beautiful Sunday,  18 blah, blah, blah.  19 Q. Have you ever spoken to Tom about Highland at  20 any of those -- any of those conversations?  21 A. Yes.  22 Q. What did you talk about?  23 A. Just, How's it going?  24 Q. You were asking him how it was going?  25 A. Uh-huh, yes.

184 1 Q. And what did he tell you? 2 A. Good. 3 Q. Did you ever talk about Mr. Dondero with Tom? 4 A. Brief -- I mean, indirectly, maybe, or -- that's 5 probably not the right description. He might have come 6 up, but it really wasn't talking about him. 7 Q. In what context did Mr. Dondero come up? 8 A. Just that from Tom's perspective, it was, like: 9 Man, you guys were friends. Surely there's got to be a 10 way for you to find a way to get a solution to this. 11 Q. What did you say? 12 A. I'm willing. 13 Q. Anything else that you said about Mr. Dondero? 14 A. No. I mean, like I said, it really wasn't about 15 Mr. Dondero. It was more, like, Can't you guys figure 16 out a way to kiss and make up? 17 Q. Did you say anything negative about Mr. Dondero 18 to Tom? 19 A. No. 20 Q. Anything negative about Highland? 21 A. No. 22 Q. Anything negative about Lane Britain or Patrick 23 Boyce? 24 A. They didn't even come up. 25 Q. During any of the conversations that you've had	186 1 A. I mean, we already listed off just a ton of 2 people. 3 Q. I'm talking about the ones that you have 4 contacted because you heard they were leaving Highland 5 that fall into that category that you just described. 6 A. Sure. You want me to start at the top? 7 Q. Yes. 8 A. Kevin Rourke, Chris Lombardi, Dan Drabinski, 9 Clay Shumway, Joe Dougherty, Kurt Plumer, Todd Travers, 10 Davis Deadman, Amy Jenkins. Actually, check that. I -- 11 I didn't reach out to her. I bumped into her. 12 These are people that I reached out to talk 13 to, right? 14 Q. After you left Highland. 15 A. Uh-huh. 16 Q. Yes, in connection with them leaving Highland. 17 A. Mike Rossi. 18 And affiliates, I'm assuming. Correct? 19 Q. Yes. 20 A. Michael Colvin. You guys are killing me with 21 these lists. I'm sure there's more. Oh, Carlson, Steve 22 Carlson. We mentioned him earlier. Nathan Schray, 23 Brittney Cunningham. 24 There's more. I'm starting to get tired 25 head on these lists.

188 1 Q. Anything about the lawsuit? 2 A. That would be on direction of counsel. 3 Q. Anything about Mr. Dondero? 4 A. No. 5 Q. Anything about Patrick Boyce? 6 A. That would be on direction of counsel. 7 Q. Anything about Lane Britain? 8 A. Direction of counsel. 9 Q. Anything about any other Highland employee or 10 affiliate employee? 11 A. I don't recall. 12 Q. When was the other conversation you had with 13 Mr. Hubble? 14 A. I don't recall the exact date. 15 Q. Was that in person or on the phone? 16 A. I think it was on -- I think it was in person. 17 Q. Where did that occur? 18 A. I bumped into him and Morton at a restaurant. 19 Q. Was that -- do you remember the year? 20 A. 2011. Maybe it was 2012, early 2012. 21 Q. What did you talk about at that meeting? 22 A. We talked about -- Morton was working for -- 23 what's that guy's name? Seemed like an Iranian name. 24 Q. Let me ask you this: Did you talk about 25 anything to do with Highland at that conversation?	190 1 Q. Okay. 2 A. Goldman Sachs distressed conference. 3 Q. Did you make any notes from that communication? 4 A. I don't recall. 5 Q. Did you make any notes from your conversation 6 with Mr. Hubble that was at the direction of counsel? 7 A. Yes. 8 Q. Where are those notes? 9 A. In my book. 10 Q. Your book at home? 11 A. Yes. That's the only book I have. 12 Q. Okay. And when did you make those notes in 13 connection with when you had that conversation? 14 A. I don't -- I don't -- I don't recall. 15 Q. Could it have been a while after? 16 A. No. It was pretty soon after. 17 Q. Days or weeks? 18 A. Days. 19 Q. How many times have you spoken to Michael Colvin 20 since you left Highland? 21 A. Maybe ten. I'm estimating. 22 Q. Any of those at the direction of counsel? 23 A. Yes. 24 Q. How many? 25 A. Most of them.
189 1 A. Nothing other than my role at Highland, my 2 history and my background and ... Gosh, what is that 3 guy's name? I can't remember. 4 Anyway, this guy was looking for a manager 5 to fund, and he was affiliated with some people in New 6 York, and they thought of me. 7 Q. Did you talk to Mr. Hubble about anything with 8 respect to this lawsuit at that conversation? 9 A. No. 10 Q. Anything -- 11 A. This lawsuit didn't exist at the time of that 12 conversation. 13 Q. Anything about your disputes with Highland? 14 A. I don't think so, not at that time. I mean, I 15 had my issues, but I -- I really wasn't talking to 16 them -- talking about them to too many people. 17 Q. How many times have you spoken to Jeff Lee since 18 you left Highland? 19 A. Three or four. 20 Q. Any of those at the direction of counsel? 21 A. Yes. 22 Q. How many? 23 A. One. 24 Q. When was that? 25 A. I think I saw him at a conference.	191 1 Q. Did you make notes of any of those 2 communications? 3 A. I think so. 4 Q. Did you use those notes to help draft the 5 lawsuit in this matter? 6 A. Some of them, I think. I -- first of all, I 7 didn't draft the lawsuit, but I certainly used those 8 notes in coordinating with my counsel. 9 Q. Where are those notes? 10 A. I think my lawyers have them. 11 Q. You understand that Mr. Colvin is a licensed 12 attorney, don't you? 13 A. The last I heard, he was a licensed attorney, 14 yes. 15 Q. Are you ever aware of Mr. Colvin not being a 16 licensed attorney? 17 A. I don't know what he's doing right now. 18 Actually, that's not true. He's at a law firm of a 19 friend of mine, so I assume he's still a licensed 20 attorney. 21 Q. At any time since you left Highland through 22 today, are you aware of Mr. Colvin not being a licensed 23 attorney? 24 A. No. 25 Q. Have you ever told anybody that Mr. Colvin is

192 1 not a licensed attorney? 2 A. No. 3 Q. Do you have any reason to know why your counsel 4 would have represented to the Court that Mr. Colvin was 5 not a licensed attorney? 6 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 7 A. I'm not even aware that they did such a thing. 8 Q. Did you ever speak to Mr. Colvin about the HFP 9 note transaction? 10 MS. DANIELS: Again, to the extent that he 11 is delving into communications that you had at the 12 direction of counsel, I'll instruct you not to answer. 13 If -- if not, then you can convey the communication. 14 A. On that basis, I'm not going to answer the 15 question. 16 Q. Did you ever have any communications with 17 Mr. Colvin after -- since the time you left Highland 18 about Sierra Verde? 19 A. Excuse me. Sorry. 20 Q. That's all right. 21 A. That would have been at the direction of 22 counsel. 23 Q. What conversations did you have? 24 A. I don't understand the question. 25 Q. What conversations did you have with Mr. Colvin	194 1 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: The instruction is 2 work -- work product, attorney-client privilege. You're 3 instructing him not to answer the question. 4 MS. DANIELS: That's right, but what 5 he's -- 6 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: Okay. 7 MS. DANIELS: But what he's doing is 8 saying, Well, did you talk about this? 9 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: I don't want to 10 hear an argument about it. I just -- I just want to know 11 the basis for the objection, the instruction. I assume 12 the witness is going to follow the instruction. 13 This is the same issue that I need further 14 consideration and deliberation on. 15 We'll move on to the next question. 16 MS. DANIELS: Thank you. 17 A. Just on the basis of that, I'm not going to 18 answer the question. 19 Q. Okay. Did you -- after you left Highland, have 20 you had any communications with Mr. Colvin about 21 Tunstall? 22 MS. DANIELS: Again, I'm objecting to the 23 extent that the question itself -- by -- by us having to 24 assert the privilege with respect to that subject matter 25 when we -- when the client's -- when the witness has
193 1 about Sierra Verde? 2 MS. DANIELS: Again, he's -- he's already 3 testified that -- and, in fact, I'm going to -- 4 MR. KATZ: I'm just waiting for you to give 5 him the instruction so we can move on. 6 MS. DANIELS: I'm going to instruct the -- 7 I'm going to instruct -- I think that by you ... 8 Judge Kaplan, by him identifying topic by 9 topic, did you discuss this at the direction of counsel 10 or did you discuss this, so that he's having to answer 11 "at the direction of counsel," he, in effect, is going 12 behind the asserted work-product privilege to attempt to 13 identify the topics that were discussed at the direction 14 of counsel, and I think that that's an improper invasion 15 of -- an objection to an exemption that I've already 16 made. 17 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: Let's table that 18 issue and move on. 19 MR. KATZ: Well, I was just trying to get 20 the instruction and the answer. Counsel didn't instruct 21 him not to answer, which is why I think he answered. If 22 she would have just instructed -- 23 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: That's fair. 24 MR. KATZ: Yeah. I want to just make a 25 record on this.	195 1 already testified that those communications were at the 2 direction of counsel, by eliminating or defining subject 3 matters that we further have to respond to in addition to 4 that goes into the subject matter of the privilege -- of 5 the conversation that we're trying to protect. 6 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: Ms. Daniels, all 7 you need to do is object, state the grounds for the 8 objection -- either attorney-client privilege, work 9 product or both -- and then give your instruction to the 10 witness. That's all you have to do. 11 At this point, we're now moving on to -- 12 into the area of speaking objections, which are 13 borderline improper. 14 MS. DANIELS: I'll object to 15 privileged-work-product nature. 16 Do not answer the question. 17 A. On that basis, I'm not going to answer the 18 question. 19 Q. Okay. Did you have any communications with 20 Mr. Colvin since you left Highland about Crusader or 21 credit strat wind-downs or any issues that went into 22 the -- your counterclaim you filed in this case? 23 MS. DANIELS: Object, based upon the 24 work-product exemption. 25 Do not answer the question.

204 1 Q. Was that at the direction of counsel? 2 A. No. 3 (Mr. Leventon reenters the room.) 4 Q. And when did that occur? 5 A. In April. 6 Q. Was this also at the American Heart Association 7 event? 8 A. Actually, I say April. I'm not sure it was 9 April. It might have been March. It was at that 10 Highland ex-employee happy hour, or whatever, 11 get-together. 12 (Mr. Surgent reenters the room.) 13 Q. Okay. What did you talk to Mr. Drabinski about? 14 A. Just what's he up to, tell him what I'm up to. 15 Q. Anything about this litigation? 16 A. No, I don't think so. 17 Q. Did Mr. Drabinski mention any recordings of 18 current or former Highland employees to you? 19 A. No. 20 Q. Did he show you any recordings of current or 21 former Highland employees? 22 A. No. 23 Q. Do you know if Mr. Drabinski is aware of any 24 recordings of current or former Highland employees? 25 A. I don't know.	206 1 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 2 A. Not specifically. 3 Q. Generally? 4 A. Possibly. 5 Q. What would -- what do you mean by that? 6 A. People mention things at these events, and I 7 just don't have a recollection to put this story on that 8 person, but I -- it just comes up a lot. 9 Q. Okay. Well, what -- what stories -- without 10 putting it on a person, what stories do you recall? 11 A. None specifically right now. I'd have to go 12 home and think about it. 13 There are two more people to add to your 14 list, you know, that I've been in contact with, Joe 15 Dougherty and Amy Dougherty, that were former Highland 16 employees. Not related to me. 17 Q. How many times have you spoken to Joe since 18 you've left Highland? 19 A. Probably about six or seven. 20 Q. Any of those at the direction of counsel? 21 A. No. 22 Q. Did you take notes of any of those 23 communications? 24 A. No. I might have, actually. I might have. 25 Q. Would those be in your notebook? I'm sorry.
205 1 Q. Other than the people we've talked about today, 2 are you aware of anybody else being aware of recordings 3 of current or former Highland employees? 4 A. I'm sorry. Give me that one more time. 5 Q. Sure. I don't want to talk about any of the 6 recordings we've already talked about today, but other 7 than that, are you aware of any individual who is aware 8 of any current or former -- I'm sorry -- of any 9 recordings of current or former Highland employees? 10 MS. DANIELS: Object to the form of the 11 question. Object to the extent that it calls for any 12 attorney-client communications that are privileged -- 13 that would be privileged, and therefore instruct the 14 witness not to answer, if that is the case. 15 A. Frankly, there's just a lot about that question. 16 It was -- it was three generation- -- three iterations of 17 complexity that I didn't quite follow. 18 Q. Okay. 19 A. Or three multiples of complexity. 20 Q. I want to know if you are aware -- if you have 21 knowledge -- 22 A. Yes. 23 Q. -- of anybody else having knowledge of 24 recordings of current or former Highland employees other 25 than what we've spoken about already today.	207 1 Where would those notes be? 2 A. I don't know because I'm not sure I have. I 3 just might have. 4 Q. If you have them, where would they be? 5 A. I'm not sure. Either in my notebook or they 6 would have been with my attorneys. 7 Q. Have you spoken to Mr. Dougherty about this 8 litigation? 9 A. Certain elements, yes. 10 Q. What elements? 11 A. HERA. 12 Q. Anything else? 13 A. That's all I can think of. 14 Q. Have -- when did you speak to him about HERA? 15 A. I spoke to him about HERA on multiple occasions. 16 Q. Okay. Multiple occasions after you left 17 Highland? 18 A. That's correct. You know, and I'm going to go 19 back and I'm going to have to change, because I do 20 remember one conversation that was on direction of 21 counsel. I just -- it escaped my mind earlier. 22 Q. Was that conversation about HERA? 23 A. Yeah. 24 Q. Do you recall if you have notes about that -- 25 from that conversation?

208 1 A. I don't know off the top of my head. 2 Q. Okay. Tell me about that conversation. 3 A. I can't because it was on direction of counsel. 4 So on that basis, I don't think I should answer the 5 question. 6 Q. Okay. Did you have any other communications 7 other than that one about Mr. -- with Mr. Dougherty about 8 HERA since you left Highland? 9 A. No. 10 Q. Any other communications with Mr. Dougherty 11 about this litigation other than that one communication 12 about HERA since you left Highland? 13 A. You know, maybe mentioning it in passing. I 14 can't put my finger on it specifically. I seem to bump 15 into him at Mexican food restaurants all the time, so 16 they're not in-depth conversations. The kids are running 17 around. 18 (Exhibit 35 marked.) 19 Q. All right. I'm going to show you what I've 20 marked here as Exhibit 35 and ask you if you recognize 21 that document, please. 22 MR. KATZ: Sorry. 23 MS. DANIELS: That's okay. 24 A. This appears to be a copy of Daugherty's Third 25 Amended Answer, Counterclaim and Third-Party Petition.	210 1 document that came to my attention. I believe Scott 2 Ellington was there, my counsel was there. And as soon 3 as I saw it, I recognized that it was an error, and I 4 made that clear. 5 Q. What was that error? 6 A. The HFP note being a hundred million dollars, or 7 something like that. 8 Q. Okay. The -- what do you remember the -- do you 9 remember what the inaccurate statement was and what the 10 facts were? 11 A. Not verbatim, but it said something like 12 Highland -- I don't remember the exact language, but it 13 was something to the effect that Highland sent funds and 14 took back a note, or whatever, for a hundred million 15 dollars to HFP. And it was 36 -- I think it was 36, 38 16 million dollars, something like that. I don't know where 17 that hundred million came from. 18 Q. Okay. Do you know if that's been corrected? 19 A. To the best of my knowledge, it's been 20 corrected. I brought that to the attention of my 21 counsel, and I believe they corrected it. 22 Q. Okay. Other than that situation, are you aware 23 of anything factually that is not correct in the 24 petition -- in the counterclaim? Sorry. 25 A. No. There's nothing else that I would -- that
209 1 Q. And you are familiar with the document, aren't 2 you? 3 A. It's been a while. 4 Q. You have read -- did you read this before it was 5 filed? 6 A. As I mentioned, there were several iterations of 7 this -- 8 Q. Uh-huh. 9 A. -- before it was filed, so I was certainly 10 involved and read several of them. I don't know if I 11 read this version or not. 12 Q. Okay. Did you ever -- in connection with your 13 counterclaim -- okay if I refer to this document as your 14 counterclaim? 15 A. I think I'm fine with that. 16 Q. Okay. In connection with your counterclaim, are 17 you aware of any facts stated in there that are not 18 correct? 19 A. You know, I came across an error when we were 20 doing depositions this summer. I think it was at the UBS 21 deposition. And I don't know if they took it out of here 22 or one -- you know, there were multiple pleadings, 23 whatever you want to call these things. There were 24 multiple documents filed. 25 And there was an error in one particular	211 1 I'm aware of that's incorrect. 2 Q. Okay. Can you turn to page 6 for me, please. 3 I'm going to refer you specifically to paragraph 30. 4 A. Sure. 5 Q. And this paragraph says, "For high ranking 6 employees," and then it's got, in parentheses and quotes, 7 "Partners," "HCM also awarded LTIP interests that tracked 8 the performance of the Highland Partnership. This 9 program was separate from the LTIP/Vessel program. The 10 LTIP program (the 2005 HCMLP Long-Term Incentive Plan) is 11 an incentive plan created for non-voting partners in HCM, 12 a partnership controlled by Strand Advisors which is 13 controlled by affiliates of Dondero. Daugherty also had 14 an interest in the Defined Benefit Pension Plan." 15 Do you see that? 16 A. I do. 17 Q. Okay. The -- is the LTIP/Vessel program 18 distinct from the 2005 HCMLP Long-Term Incentive Plan? 19 A. I honestly don't understand this sentence. 20 Frankly, you know, you pointed out this -- this program 21 was separate from the LTIP/Vessel program. I wouldn't 22 have put that sentence in there. 23 Q. Okay. Well, let me ask you this: Part of what 24 you're claiming in this lawsuit, isn't it, that Highland 25 owes you an LTIP bonus payment?

212 1 A. That's right. 2 Q. Okay. 3 A. I don't know how that relates to this 4 LTIP/Vessel program, from my perspective. 5 Q. Is the LTIP that you are -- that you are 6 bringing your claim about the 2005 HCMLP Long-Term 7 Incentive Plan? 8 A. I'm going to have to defer to my counsel on 9 that. I handed them all the documents. 10 Q. Okay. Is -- 11 A. Basically, from my perspective, as a guy that 12 didn't focus on the legalese of it all, I'm bringing one 13 of my claims as you owe me my LTIP -- 14 Q. Okay. 15 A. -- compensation. 16 Q. To the best -- tell me what you understand -- 17 well, tell me what you mean when you say "my LTIP." What 18 is that referring to? 19 (Mr. Boyce enters the room.) 20 A. It's a long-term incentive plan that was awarded 21 to me -- I thought it was in 2004, but according to this 22 it's 2005, as being a -- call it a quasi partnership 23 interest at Highland. 24 And there was great debate over that fact. 25 If you asked some guys over the years, they said, Well,	214 1 see this language? Paragraph 124 reads, "Pursuant to the 2 Employment Agreement, Daugherty was entitled to 3 participate in any bonus, option or similar incentive 4 compensation plan, including the LTIP, the HERA Plan, 5 Sierra Verde and HCM's Defined Benefit Pension Plan." 6 Do you see that? 7 A. I do. 8 Q. Okay. Is that a true statement? 9 A. I don't know. 10 Q. Okay. Why don't you know? 11 A. Because it seems to be a legal interpretation, 12 and I didn't make the legal interpretation. 13 Q. Okay. Do you know any reason why that is not a 14 correct statement? 15 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 16 A. To me this is a conclusion of law, and I don't 17 have a view on this particular -- 18 Q. Okay. 19 A. -- statement. 20 Q. Would the -- okay. You're seeking your LTIP 21 through this lawsuit, aren't you? 22 A. As one of the things that I'm suing for? Yes. 23 Q. Yes. 24 A. Absolutely. 25 Q. You're seeking your interest in the HERA plan?
213 1 you're not really a partner. And then -- like, Colvin. 2 I think Michael Colvin used to say that. And then other 3 guys would say you are a partner. 4 But it was supposed to be a proxy for my 5 ownership in the partnership, which was about 1.17 6 percent. That much I know. 7 Q. Okay. So is it -- is it a true statement that 8 this -- that the LTIP plan or program is something that 9 was created for partners at Highland? 10 A. It was created for employees. It was created to 11 approximate what we referred to ourselves as, partners. 12 Q. Okay. 13 A. But depending on who you talked to, and this 14 happened while I was at Highland all the time, some say 15 you're a partner, and someone says, well, you're not 16 really a partner; you have a partnership interest. 17 Q. And is the partnership interest the LTIP 18 interest? 19 A. As I understand it. 20 Q. Okay. 21 A. But, again, I'm going to defer to my counsel and 22 their -- their understandings of the documents on all 23 that stuff. 24 Q. Okay. Can you turn to paragraph 124, please. 25 It's on -- starts on the bottom of page 41. And do you	215 1 A. That's correct. 2 Q. You're seeking -- 3 A. Well, listen, what I'm seeking is a function of 4 what my lawyers describe it and define it as. I don't 5 want to try and interpret that. 6 So all I can tell you is I'm seeking what 7 the counterclaim, as you defined it -- 8 Q. Okay. 9 A. -- says I'm seeking. 10 Q. I understand that. I just -- I want to ask 11 you -- I'm asking you -- I'm trying to ask you 12 more-discrete factual questions, and maybe I'm not doing 13 a good job. 14 A. Okay. 15 Q. I'll try again. Do you understand that you have 16 made claims around the HERA plan? 17 A. Absolutely. 18 Q. Okay. And you understand you've made claims 19 around the Sierra Verde entity? 20 A. I believe so. 21 Q. Okay. And you have made claims around LTIP, 22 that we just mentioned a minute ago? 23 A. That's correct. 24 Q. And you've made claims about HCM's defined 25 benefit pension plan?

216 1 A. I think that's been paid, but -- 2 Q. Okay. 3 A. Yes. At the time of this, yes. 4 Q. Okay. That was one of my questions. 5 The -- are you aware of any other 6 compensation that you were seeking from Highland? 7 A. I don't understand the question. 8 Q. Sure. Is there any other bonus, benefit plan, 9 anything else that you contend Highland has not paid you? 10 A. I think those are all functions of the legal 11 work product that's coming out of my counsel. I'm going 12 to defer to them on that. 13 Q. Were you paid all of your salary through your 14 last day of employment with Highland? 15 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 16 A. All monies owed to me and the -- and the manner 17 by which that originates, I'm going to defer to my 18 counsel. 19 Q. So you don't know whether you were paid all your 20 salary? 21 A. I didn't say I didn't know. I just said in 22 getting to whether I got everything I was supposed to get 23 and in what manner and degree that was supposed to be 24 paid, I'm going to defer to my counsel. 25 Q. Well, I'm not -- I'm not -- to be clear, I'm not	218 1 Q. Were you receiving any of those forms of 2 compensation in 2011? 3 A. Yes. 4 Q. What were those other forms of compensation? 5 A. The LTIP, the STIP, Option-ITs, Sierra Verde, 6 HERA, and then a bonus that was paid out in some kind of 7 incremental installments, NexBank, and board fees. 8 Q. Okay. When -- 9 A. And there were some other things. I don't mean 10 to list that as an exclusive list. I just mean to list 11 it as things that come to mind. 12 Q. When you say "NexBank," what do you mean? 13 A. Shares in NexBank, or some type of economic 14 interest -- 15 Q. Okay. 16 A. -- in NexBank. 17 Q. And your -- your compensation was -- was per the 18 employment agreement that we looked at earlier? 19 A. I don't know what the basis of my compensation 20 was per. There's the employment agreement, there's award 21 letters, compensation letters, and then there's a litany 22 of other documents that, frankly, my lawyers are much 23 better to answer than I am. 24 Q. Yeah, and I'm just -- but I want to know what 25 information you have.
217 1 asking you about the extent of all your claims. I'm not 2 even asking you what your legal claim is. 3 All I'm asking you is, Do you know if you 4 were paid your salary at Highland through your last day 5 of employment? 6 A. I'm just not going to commit on whether -- how 7 my compensation was paid and what that means to me and 8 whether that was what I was owed. I'm going to leave 9 that to my attorneys, to decide what ultimately I was 10 owed, and then take it from there. 11 Q. Okay. So are you refusing to answer the 12 question? 13 MS. DANIELS: Object to the form of the 14 question. It's -- 15 A. I answered it to the best of my ability. 16 Q. What are all the -- what was your compensation 17 when you left -- when you submitted your resignation to 18 Highland? 19 A. What do you mean by that? 20 Q. What was your base salary? What was your base 21 salary? 22 A. My base salary was $500,000, U.S. 23 Q. Did you receive any other forms of compensation 24 when you were at Highland? 25 A. Yes.	219 1 Paragraph 124, "Pursuant to the Employment 2 Agreement, Daugherty was entitled to participate in any 3 bonus, option or similar incentive compensation plan, 4 including the LTIP, the HERA Plan, Sierra Verde and HCM's 5 Defined Benefit Pension Plan." 6 I just want to know every compensation plan 7 of which you are aware that you were eligible for 8 pursuant to your employment agreement. 9 MS. DANIELS: Again, I'll object to the 10 form of the question. 11 I'll also instruct the witness, to the 12 extent that any information you have in that regard is 13 derived from communications with counsel, that you are 14 being instructed not to answer. 15 A. I'm going to defer to counsel on that. I didn't 16 write this. I don't know what it means. I told you what 17 my understanding was. 18 MR. KATZ: Object, nonresponsive. 19 Q. So you don't know -- tell me what compensation 20 Highland has not paid you. 21 MS. DANIELS: Again, object to the extent 22 that -- well, object to the form of the question. 23 And to the extent that your information or 24 opinion or conclusions about that matter are derived from 25 communications with counsel, instruct you not to answer.

220 1 A. On that basis, I'm not going to answer. 2 Q. How much are you suing for? 3 A. It hasn't been determined yet. 4 Q. Can you turn to page 55 of that document, 5 please? 6 A. Yes, yes. 7 Q. Do you see under the Prayer, little paragraph 8 "a," it says, "Actual damages and exemplary damages in 9 the maximum amount of $100 million as to HCM, Sierra 10 Verde, and Dondero, and in the maximum amount of $60 11 million as to HERA, Boyce, and Britain"? Do you see 12 that? 13 A. I do. 14 Q. Where did those numbers come from? 15 MS. DANIELS: Object to the extent that -- 16 well, object to the form of the question. And I would 17 further object to the extent that it calls for 18 information communicated or conveyed in the course of the 19 attorney-client relationship and instruct you not to 20 answer. 21 A. On that basis, I'm not going to answer the 22 question. 23 Q. Have you discussed -- have you retained an 24 expert witness in this case? 25 A. That would be an aspect of legal strategy, and	222 1 Have you spoken to any individual other 2 than your counsel about -- about the amount of 3 compensation you believe Highland owes you? 4 A. Yes. 5 Q. Okay. 6 A. Well, not just Highland but Highland and the 7 parties listed. 8 Q. Okay. Who are those individuals? 9 A. I didn't keep a list. 10 Q. Okay. Who do you recall? 11 A. My wife. 12 Q. Anybody else? 13 A. No one in particular. 14 Q. There are other people you've spoken to about 15 that? 16 A. Probably. 17 Q. Who are not your attorneys? 18 A. That's correct. 19 Q. Okay. Who are they? 20 A. I don't recall. 21 Q. What did you tell them? 22 A. I have damages in excess of 10 million. 23 Q. Okay. How did you come up with that number? 24 MS. DANIELS: Again, to the extent that 25 that's part of communications with counsel, instruct you
221 1 I'm going to leave that to my counsel. 2 Q. So you're refusing to answer the question? 3 MS. DANIELS: Yes. Object to the question. 4 Object to its form, and object to the fact that he's now 5 conveyed to you that that's attorney-client 6 communication. Instruct the witness not to answer. 7 A. On that basis, I'm not going to answer the 8 question. 9 Q. Have you -- just to be clear, let me ask, Have 10 you retained any testifying experts in this case? 11 MS. DANIELS: Same objections. Objection 12 to the form and objection -- to the extent that you have 13 any information about that that you derived from counsel, 14 instruct you not to answer. 15 A. On that basis, I'm not going to answer the 16 question. 17 Q. Have you spoken to any witness -- have you 18 spoken to any individual other than your counsel about 19 the damages you're seeking in this lawsuit? 20 MS. DANIELS: Again, same instructions. 21 Instruct the witness not to answer based on 22 attorney-client privilege and work product. 23 A. On that basis, I'm not going to answer the 24 question. 25 Q. Really? Okay.	223 1 not to answer. To the extent it's not, you may provide 2 the information. 3 A. On that basis, I'm not going to answer the 4 question. 5 Q. Did -- 6 A. It came from communications with my counsel. 7 Q. Did you explain to any of these people you 8 talked to how you came up with that number? 9 A. No. 10 (Exhibit 36 marked.) 11 Q. Mr. Daugherty, I want to show you what I'm 12 marking here as Exhibit 36. 13 A. Are you done with this one, Marc? 14 Q. Yes. 15 A. Okay. 16 Q. Can you tell me if you recognize that document, 17 please? 18 A. Daugherty's Second Amended -- 19 Q. And, I'm sorry, let me get your counsel copies. 20 A. Sorry. I'm assuming you don't want me to read 21 it out loud? 22 Q. I'm just asking if you -- if you recognize this 23 document. 24 A. Not off -- on the surface of it, no. 25 Q. Okay. Let me show you what I'm marking here as

224 1 Exhibit 37. 2 (Exhibit 37 marked.) 3 Q. Let me show you what's marked here as Exhibit 4 37. 5 A. Okay. 6 Q. And, really, what I want to ask on Exhibit 37 7 is -- if you can turn to the second page, please. 8 A. Page 11? 9 Q. Yeah. The second page of Exhibit 37, which is 10 page 11 of Daugherty's Amended Objections and Responses 11 to Highland Capital Management, L.P.'s Second Set of 12 Interrogatories and Second Request for Production. 13 A. Okay. 14 Q. Okay. Is that your signature? 15 A. It appears to be. 16 Q. Okay. Do you recall signing this verification? 17 A. Not specifically. 18 Q. Okay. This -- do you see where it says this was 19 sworn to and subscribed before the notary it listed there 20 on May 16th, 2013? 21 A. Excuse me. Yes, I do. 22 Q. Okay. Was that the date that you signed this? 23 A. Like I said, I don't recall. It's certainly the 24 date on the page. 25 Q. Do you have any reason to believe that's the	226 1 Q. Okay. These interrogatories there, Exhibit 2 36 -- 3 A. Yes. 4 Q. -- is it your testimony that you did not attest 5 that those factual answers are within your personal 6 knowledge and are true and correct? 7 A. No, that's not my testimony. 8 Q. Okay. Have you attested to that? Have you ever 9 verified the truth and accuracy of those answers? 10 A. I don't know what this is. I don't recognize 11 it. I knew -- I do know at some point in the summer I 12 had to file some interrogatory answers. 13 Q. Okay. Did you read them? 14 A. At the time? Yes. 15 Q. Okay. And did you sign a verification at the 16 time you read them that they were true and correct? 17 A. I guess. Excuse me. I guess. 18 Q. Well, you either did or you didn't. 19 A. Or I don't remember. 20 Q. Okay. Well, let's look at the interrogatories, 21 then. 22 MS. DANIELS: Does this purport to be a 23 complete copy of the interrogatories? Because I'm 24 looking at Interrogatory No. 7. There's no response 25 below it. It looks like it's cut off, or something.
225 1 date -- that's not the date that you -- that you signed 2 this? 3 A. No, I have no reason to believe it is or it 4 isn't. I just don't recall. 5 Q. Okay. Did you -- and the verification says, 6 "Before me the undersigned authority, on this day 7 personally appeared Patrick Daugherty, who being by me 8 first duly sworn, deposed on his oath and said that he 9 has read the foregoing Patrick Daugherty's Responses to 10 Highland Capital Management, L.P.'s Second Set of 11 Interrogatories, Interrogatories Nos. 1 through 7, and 12 such factual answers are within his personal knowledge, 13 and are true and correct." 14 Do you see that? 15 A. Yes. 16 Q. Okay. Is that a true statement? 17 A. As far as I know. 18 Q. And you did verify that statement, didn't you? 19 A. I don't know what that means. 20 Q. You did sign this verifying that the factual 21 answers are within your personal knowledge and true and 22 correct? 23 A. I don't know if that's -- look, this has got 11 24 pages on it, and this is only page 2. So there -- looks 25 like there's more to it.	227 1 MR. MOORE: This is the version we got by 2 fax. 3 MS. CROCKETT: So the fax didn't come 4 through fully? You never got a full -- never requested a 5 full set? We're just trying to figure out -- make sure 6 that it's clear why it's not there. 7 MS. DANIELS: This says 11 of 30. 8 Q. Okay. Let's look at Interrogatory No. 1. 9 A. On which exhibit? 10 Q. On 36. Actually, let's start with Interrogatory 11 No. 2. It's on page 5 there. Do you see that 12 interrogatory? 13 A. Which interrogatory? 14 Q. No. 2. 15 A. Yes. 16 Q. It asks to identify all facts that support your 17 contention in paragraph 114 of the counterclaim that, 18 quote, by reason of the foregoing acts and conduct of 19 Highland, and breach of numerous agreements, including 20 the Employment Agreement, Daugherty has been damaged in 21 an amount in excess of the minimal -- minimum 22 jurisdictional limits of this court. 23 Do you see that? 24 A. I do. 25 Q. Okay. Can you turn to the answer?

228 1 MS. DANIELS: And, again, to the extent 2 that he is going to ask you questions, I need you to read 3 that in full. 4 Q. Well, why don't you read the answer in full, and 5 then I'll ask you my question. 6 A. (Reviewing document.) 7 (Special Master Kaplan reenters the room.) 8 THE WITNESS: Can I talk to you guys? 9 We're in the middle of a question? Okay. I'm not 10 allowed to talk to you. 11 A. Can I ask for a break, or do you want me to 12 answer your question first? 13 Q. Yeah, I'd like to ask my question first. 14 A. Fair enough. 15 Q. Okay. So -- 16 MS. DANIELS: Is there not a question 17 pending? 18 MR. KATZ: I am asking a question. 19 THE WITNESS: I'm fine with it. I'm fine. 20 A. Go ahead. 21 Q. Do you see, following the -- the objections, 22 where it says -- starts "Therein, specifically," on 23 the ... 24 A. No. I don't know what you're talking about. 25 Q. Okay. The 11th line down from the top of the	230 1 Employment Agreement, Highland presented Daugherty with a 2 General Release and Separation Agreement on October 27, 3 2011 which did not resemble, in any respect, Exhibit "A" 4 to the Employment Agreement. 5 Do you see that? 6 A. I do. 7 Q. Okay. That was the answer that you verified. 8 MS. DANIELS: Actually, Counsel, you didn't 9 read the last sentence of the answer. 10 A. She's right. I was wondering why you didn't. 11 "Further" -- 12 Q. Okay. 13 A. "Further, discovery is ongoing and Daugherty 14 cannot calculate the full extent of his damages, which 15 continue to accrue." 16 Q. Was that part of the answer that you verified? 17 A. Was that last sentence part of this overall 18 paragraph? Yes. 19 Q. No, that's not my question. My question was, 20 Was that last sentence part of the facts that you 21 verified when you signed your verification with respect 22 to this answer? 23 A. Yeah, I don't know. This was prepared by my 24 counsel. I worked with counsel on this, and I'll defer 25 to counsel on what was said in here.
229 1 answer. 2 A. Okay. Yeah. 3 Q. Okay. It says: Therein, specifically in 4 paragraphs 2 to 113, Daugherty states the basis for his 5 claim that the foregoing acts and conduct of Highland and 6 breach of numerous agreements, including the Employment 7 Agreement, have caused Daugherty damages in excess of the 8 jurisdictional limits of the court. Pursuant to the 9 Employment Agreement, Daugherty was entitled to 10 participate in any bonus, option or similar incentive 11 compensation plan, including the 2005 HCMLP Long-Term 12 Incentive Plan (LTIP) and the Highland Employee Retention 13 Assets Plan (HERA Plan), the Sierra Verde vessel and 14 Highland's Defined Benefit Pension Plan. Daugherty's 15 termination under the Employment Agreement was a 16 "Voluntary Termination - Non-Competing Business," as 17 dictated by Section 4.5 of the Employment Agreement, 18 which requires Highland to honor any amounts or rights to 19 which the employee would be entitled to under any other 20 written agreements with Highland. Highland has failed to 21 do so. Section 4.5 of the Employment Agreement further 22 required Highland to pay Daugherty severance pay 23 dependent upon his execution of a separation agreement 24 and release "substantially in the form" as Exhibit "A" to 25 the Employment Agreement. In further breach of the	231 1 Q. Well, are those factual answers within your 2 personal knowledge? 3 A. What factual answers? 4 Q. The ones that I just read. 5 A. I don't know. I think they call for conclusions 6 of law that I'm, quite frankly, not skilled enough to 7 determine on my own. I'd have to defer to counsel. 8 Q. Do you know whether they're true and correct? 9 A. I don't. 10 MR. KATZ: Okay. We can take a break. 11 THE WITNESS: Yeah. 12 THE VIDEOGRAPHER: Off the record, 3:35 13 p.m. 14 (Recess taken from 3:35 to 3:51.) 15 THE VIDEOGRAPHER: Back on the record, 3:51 16 p.m., starting tape five. 17 (Messrs. Regas, Boyce and Leventon are not 18 present.) 19 Q. Mr. Daugherty, after May 23rd -- 20 A. Are you still on this? 21 Q. No. We'll go back to that in a minute. 22 A. Okay. 23 Q. After May 23rd of 2012, when you sent the 24 documents to Matt Wirz, or the Wall Street Journal, after 25 that time have you had any further communications with

232 1 Mr. Wirz? 2 A. I don't think so. 3 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 4 Q. Have you had any further -- I'm sorry. Have you 5 had -- since that time, have you had any communications 6 with anybody at the Wall Street Journal? 7 A. I might have called Mike Spector. 8 Q. Okay. Who is Mike Spector? 9 A. He's a guy that worked at the Wall Street 10 Journal, on MGM Studios. 11 Q. And, I'm sorry, what do you mean when you say he 12 worked for the Wall -- "at the Wall Street Journal, on 13 MGM Studios"? 14 A. When I was taking over MGM Studios with a group 15 of other institutions, he was the media contact that was 16 doing the story behind the scenes for the Wall Street 17 Journal. Obviously, you can imagine, it's a big movie 18 company, and there's a lot of press. 19 Q. He was a Wall Street Journal employee? 20 A. He was a reporter for the Wall Street Journal. 21 Q. Yeah. Okay. And so you believe you had one 22 communication with him after May 23rd, 2012? 23 A. Well, I use that term "communication" loosely. 24 I might have pocket-dialed him. 25 Q. Okay, but you did not speak to him?	234 1 Q. Any e-mails? 2 A. No. 3 Q. Tell me what you discussed with -- I'm sorry. 4 Is Spector his first name? 5 A. Mike Spector. 6 Q. Mike Spector. Okay. 7 A. Spector is his last name. 8 Q. Okay. Tell me about your communications with 9 Mike Spector. 10 A. You know, we had an employee that was leaking 11 information to Carl Icahn, and there was a big 12 investigation. And we talked a little bit about that, on 13 background. 14 Q. Okay. What else? 15 A. That was it. 16 Q. Did you discuss your departure from Highland 17 with him? 18 A. I don't think so. 19 (Mr. Leventon enters the room.) 20 Q. Did you discuss anything about any disputes with 21 Highland? 22 A. No, definitely not. 23 Q. Have you ever communicated with him about this 24 lawsuit? 25 A. No.
233 1 A. No. 2 Q. Did you leave him a message? 3 A. No. Well, I might have left him a message of, 4 you know, noise of my phone in my pocket. 5 Q. Okay. Fair enough. 6 After May 23rd, 2012, did you have any 7 other communications with anybody at the Wall Street 8 Journal? 9 A. No. 10 Q. What about between the time -- between the time 11 you left Highland and May 23rd, 2012? Other than Matt 12 Wirz, did you have any communications with anybody at the 13 Wall Street Journal? 14 A. I think when I resigned I called up Spector, or 15 he called me, because I was a big contact for him to get 16 background information on MGM. So there might have been 17 some contact there. 18 Q. Okay. And did you have more than one 19 communications with him? 20 A. Maybe. There was a story building, in the 21 September, October time frame, on MGM, and he had -- I 22 was just wrapping up my communications with him, I think. 23 Q. And would these communications have been on the 24 phone? 25 A. Yeah.	235 1 Q. Have you ever had anybody communicate -- let me 2 start that question over. 3 Since your resignation from Highland, have 4 you ever had anybody on your behalf communicate with the 5 Wall Street Journal? 6 A. No. 7 (Mr. Regas enters the room.) 8 A. You know, I had that one communication with Mara 9 Lemos-Stein, and she was at Dow Jones. You know about 10 that. And that's a sister company to the Wall Street 11 Journal. But that was it. 12 Q. Okay. Tell me -- 13 A. Stern (sic). Mara Lemos-Stern (sic). 14 Q. Okay. Tell me about Ms. Stern -- your 15 communications with Ms. Stern. How many -- how many 16 times have you communicated with her since your 17 resignation? 18 A. I think there were just a couple of e-mails. 19 Actually, that's not true. We talked about -- in the 20 summer of 2012, when she called me, and I was -- no, it 21 was October of 2011. She called me, and I was going to 22 Disney Land with the kids. 23 And then she called me, I guess, right 24 around that May time period. I'm sorry. She e-mailed me 25 around the May time period and wanted to know what I was

236 1 up to. 2 Q. And did you respond? 3 A. I think I did. 4 Q. Via e-mail or on the phone? 5 A. E-mail. 6 Q. And what did you tell her? 7 A. I don't remember the details. Basically it was 8 just all's good, how are your kids, those kind of things. 9 Didn't talk about the case or anything like that, at 10 least on that one. 11 Q. Okay. At any time have you talked to Ms. Stern 12 about this litigation? 13 A. No. I had an e-mail conversation -- well, an 14 e-mail that referenced it, what court it was filed in. 15 Q. Okay. Other than that e-mail, have you had any 16 communications with Ms. Stern about this lawsuit? 17 A. No. 18 Q. When was the last time you had communications 19 with Ms. Stern? 20 A. I think it was whenever this lawsuit -- within 21 days of this lawsuit being filed. 22 Q. Okay. 23 A. Whenever that last communication was, where I 24 told her what court it was filed in. I didn't check the 25 date.	238 1 A. Yeah. And I -- and I would say since I left 2 Highland, I don't think I've spoken to Mike. 3 Q. Okay. Have you -- since your resignation, have 4 you spoken to anybody other than Ms. Stern at Dow Jones? 5 A. Oh, anybody else at Dow Jones? 6 Q. Yes. 7 A. No, no. 8 Q. Have you had -- since your resignation, have you 9 had any communications of any type with anybody at Dow 10 Jones other than Ms. Stern? 11 A. No. I think Dow Jones has some information 12 services, so I'm not -- there's a Capital IQ that might 13 be associated with Dow Jones, or it's associated with 14 S&amp;P. I don't -- it would have nothing to do with this 15 lawsuit, but ... 16 Q. Well, what is it that you're -- that you're 17 thinking about that you may have had communications with? 18 A. Capital IQ is like tear sheet and spreadsheet 19 information on companies, financials. 20 Q. So you may have gathered information -- 21 A. I think Dow Jones -- it's kind of funky. I 22 mean, you've got -- 23 Q. Let me ask the question -- let me ask the 24 question -- 25 A. -- news, whatever, owned by Murdoch, and then he
237 1 Q. I'm sorry. And that would have been an e-mail? 2 A. Yeah. 3 Q. When you talked to Mike Spector, were those 4 calls made from your cell phone? 5 A. Yeah. I pocket-dialed him, so -- 6 Q. Yeah. 7 A. I'm sorry. You're talking about when I 8 talk-talked to him? 9 Q. Yes. 10 A. Like, on the MGM stuff? Yeah, it would have 11 been from my cell phone. 12 Q. And that's the same cell phone that we just -- 13 A. Well, let me check that. Not necessarily. I 14 probably called him from Highland's office. 15 Q. Okay. 16 A. Sometimes he'd call me on my cell, or I'd call 17 him. He'd call me, usually. Sometimes I'd talk to him 18 at Highland; sometimes I'd talk to him on my cell. 19 So I don't -- I don't recall. In that time 20 frame when I was still working at Highland and -- and we 21 had that issue going on at MGM. 22 Q. But certainly since the time you've left 23 Highland you have not had any telephone communications 24 with Mike Spector that would not have been on your cell 25 phone that you've previously identified?	239 1 owns the Wall Street Journal and the Dow Jones -- you 2 know, Dow Jones. And then Dow Jones, I think, owns S&amp;P 3 and Capital IQ. 4 Q. Okay. Have you had any communications with 5 Capital IQ, with anybody there? 6 A. Well, yes. You know, again, having nothing to 7 do with me or this lawsuit, but to get financial 8 information and what the cost would be to get that data 9 pursuant to -- 10 Q. Okay. 11 A. -- you know, having financial information on 12 companies. 13 Q. Okay. Have you had anybody on your behalf 14 communicate with any reporters at Dow Jones since you 15 left Highland? 16 A. No. 17 Q. Have you had any communications with anybody at 18 the Dallas Observer since you left Highland? 19 A. I've never spoken to anybody at the Dallas 20 Observer. 21 Q. Since you submitted your resignation, have you 22 had any communications with any members of the press 23 other than what we've just talked about? 24 A. I don't think so. 25 Q. Have you had anybody communicate on your behalf

240 1 with any members of the press other than what we've just 2 talked about? 3 A. No. 4 Q. Have you received any inquiries from the press, 5 other than from Ms. Stern and Mr. Wirz and Mr. Spector, 6 since your resignation? 7 A. Seth Lubove. I forgot about him. Seth Lubove. 8 Q. And who is he? 9 A. He is a writer for Bloomberg. 10 Q. And have you actually spoken to him? 11 A. I have spoken to him. 12 Q. How many times have you spoken to him since your 13 resignation? 14 A. You know, there's been e-mails, there's been 15 phone conversations. I don't know. You know, two or 16 three e-mails and two or three phone conversations. 17 Q. The phone calls have been on your cell phone? 18 A. Yeah. He might have called me at my place in 19 Montana, which would have been on my hard line. 20 Q. When was that? 21 A. Let's see. It was around -- I think it was 22 January or February of 2012. Maybe March. He was 23 working on a story for Highland, or on Highland. 24 Q. When was -- 25 A. And for Highland.	242 1 going on with my compensation, but I didn't think it was 2 something that we couldn't work through. 3 So, yeah, my mind set at that time was that 4 it was still amicable, although annoying. I don't think 5 I told him it was annoying. 6 Q. Okay. Have you ever spoken to him about the 7 lawsuit? 8 A. No. 9 Q. Has he ever made any inquiries to you about the 10 lawsuit? 11 A. No. I haven't spoken to him -- the last time 12 I -- the last time I got an e-mail from him -- I'll 13 correct that -- was right before I got sued, right before 14 the Dondero versus Dondero testimony. And he sent me an 15 e-mail asking me if it was true that Dondero was going to 16 declare that he was insolvent. 17 Q. And what did you tell him? 18 A. I said I wasn't going to talk about that, that I 19 had -- I had issues of my own and I was just going to 20 have to leave it at that. 21 And, to be honest with you, I didn't know 22 he was going to declare that he was insolvent at that 23 point. 24 But he told me there was a court date that 25 he heard I was going to be testifying on, I think. Not
241 1 Q. When was the first communication that you had 2 with him since you -- since your resignation? 3 A. Well, actually the dialogue started when I was 4 at Highland. Patrick Boyce introduced him to me. 5 Q. Okay, but my question was, Since you left 6 Highland, when was your first communication with him? 7 A. I don't know. Sometime after Highland, he -- 8 after I left Highland, he called me up. 9 Q. Okay. 10 A. Like -- I don't know. Maybe it was November. 11 Q. Okay. And did he leave you a message, or did 12 you talk to him? 13 A. I don't recall. I eventually ended up talking 14 to him for quite a long period of time. 15 Q. And what did you tell him? 16 A. He wanted to know a lot about the MGM deal, the 17 behind the scenes, the players, level of involvement. 18 Q. Did you talk about anything unrelated to MGM at 19 that time? 20 A. We talked briefly about me leaving. 21 Q. What did you tell him about you leaving? 22 A. Said it was amicable. 23 Q. Was that a true statement? 24 A. You know, at the time, I felt like it was 25 amicable. I mean, I was certainly annoyed with what was	243 1 for my case but for Dondero versus Dondero. 2 Q. How did he know what you were going to testify 3 about? 4 A. I don't know. I mean, I don't think he knew 5 what I was going to testify about. I think he knew I was 6 going to testify. I think he knew I had been called to 7 testify. 8 Q. How did he get your e-mail address? 9 A. Well, as I said, I was working on this story 10 with him. I think after I left Highland I gave him my -- 11 my new e-mail address. 12 Q. And that's your Gmail account? 13 A. That's right. 14 Q. Have you turned the e-mails you've received 15 from -- from him over to your attorneys? 16 A. I don't think so. 17 Q. Have you sent -- 18 A. I honestly don't know. I mean, I might have, 19 but I don't know why I would need to. 20 Q. Have you sent him any e-mails? 21 A. As I said, when he ... When was the Dondero 22 versus Dondero thing? Because it's what changed my whole 23 life and, frankly, a lot of people in this room. 24 He sent me an e-mail and -- asking me: 25 Hey -- I'm paraphrasing, but: Hey, Pat, normally don't

244 1 get involved in stuff like this, but -- talking about the 2 Dondero divorce. I don't really care about that stuff. 3 Normally not going to get involved in stuff like this, 4 but we hear Dondero is going to testify that he's 5 insolvent at his divorce proceedings. What do you know 6 about this? 7 So he sent me that. 8 MR. KATZ: Okay. I'm going to object as 9 nonresponsive. 10 Q. My question -- 11 A. Oh, I thought that was your question. 12 Q. No. My question was, Did you send him any 13 e-mails? 14 A. Yes. 15 Q. Okay. 16 A. In response to that e-mail, I sent him an 17 e-mail. 18 Q. Have -- have you turned those e-mails over to 19 your counsel? 20 A. No, but I don't know why I would. 21 Q. Did you discuss Mr. Dondero in any of those 22 e-mails that you sent to him? 23 A. Well, first of all, there's -- I think there's 24 one. 25 Q. Okay.	246 1 A. -- in my life had any -- any communications with 2 Nathan Vardi. 3 Q. Okay. And I apologize. Let me ask my full 4 question. 5 A. Sorry. 6 Q. When I said -- when I say "communications," I 7 mean whether on the phone, e-mail, social media, Twitter, 8 anything. 9 A. Look, this is a great opportunity to get this 10 stuff out there, and I'm happy to do it. 11 I have never had any conversations or 12 e-mails or Twitter or faxes or smoke signals with Nathan 13 Vardi. 14 Q. Any other members of the press that you have had 15 communications with since you left Highland other than 16 what we've discussed here? 17 A. That's all I can think of. 18 Q. Okay. 19 (Exhibit 38 marked.) 20 Q. Let me show you what's marked here as Exhibit 21 38. 22 A. Did you want me to keep 36 and '7 handy, or are 23 you done with them? 24 Q. No. We'll get back to those in a little bit. 25 A. So you do want me to keep them handy?
245 1 A. And I said, I'm not going to comment on that. I 2 got legal issues of my own. Something like, We're just 3 going to have to leave it at that. 4 Q. Okay. 5 A. And I said, I think you got the court date 6 wrong. And he goes, Well -- I think he sent back, Well, 7 my court -- my source is a good one and says it's on 8 such-and-such date. 9 Here's the irony of all ironies or the 10 misery of all miseries: I would have missed that court 11 date because my attorney, Jamie Ribman, had the date 12 wrong. Had he not called me and corrected me on the 13 date, I would have missed it. True story. 14 MR. KATZ: Object as nonresponsive. 15 Q. The -- tell me about your communications with 16 Nathan Vardi. 17 A. I've never had any communications with Nathan 18 Vardi. 19 Q. Do you know who Mr. Vardi is? 20 A. Uh-huh. He's the one that's more than happy to 21 put your pleadings on the Internet, about me. 22 Q. Have you had any communications with Mr. Vardi 23 at all? 24 A. I just told you I have never -- 25 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form.	247 1 Q. Yes, please. 2 A. Okay. 3 Q. I'll show you what's marked as Exhibit 38. 4 A. Okay. 5 Q. Do you recognize this document? 6 A. No. 7 Q. Can you turn to page 6 for me, please. 8 A. Okay. 9 Q. Is that your signature on the verification? 10 A. Excuse me. It appears to be my signature, yes. 11 Q. Okay. And this is a document that you verified 12 on April 26, 2013? 13 A. It appears to be, yes. 14 Q. And your verification states that "Before me the 15 undersigned authority, on this day personally appeared 16 Patrick Daugherty, who being by me first duly sworn, 17 deposed on his oath and said that he has read the 18 foregoing Daugherty's discovery responses to Plaintiff 19 and Counter-Defendant Highland Capital Management, L.P. 20 as ordered by Special Master Judge Jeff Kaplan on 21 February 8, 2013 in his Order regarding Highland's Motion 22 to Compel Daugherty's Discovery Responses and Production 23 Relating to Defamation, Damages and Employment 24 Opportunities, Interrogatories No. 1, and such factual 25 answers are within his personal knowledge, and are true

248 1 and correct." 2 Do you see that? 3 A. Yes. 4 Q. Okay. Did you read the interrogatory answers at 5 the time you verified it? 6 A. Yes, sir. 7 Q. Okay. Did you determine that they were within 8 your personal knowledge and true and correct? 9 A. I assume so. 10 Q. Well, were they? 11 A. I just don't recall. 12 MS. DANIELS: If you need -- if you need an 13 opportunity to testify by looking at the document with 14 respect to what he's asking you about, you can take time 15 to do that. 16 A. Yeah, can I do that? Because I just haven't 17 read through that. 18 Q. Sure. Let me ask the question first, because 19 I'm just asking, At the time that you verified it, did 20 you determine that they were true and correct and within 21 your personal knowledge? 22 A. Yes. 23 Q. Okay. 24 A. To the best of my knowledge, yes. 25 Q. Okay. Okay. Can you turn to Interrogatory	250 1 Q. Okay. Did -- is the information in the answer, 2 the response to (a), complete? 3 A. As far as I recall, yes. 4 Q. There are no other individuals, entities or 5 organizations you've discussed employment offers or 6 potential employment with since September 1st, 2011? 7 A. Not that come to mind. 8 Q. Did you provide any additional information to 9 your counsel other than the three entities listed in 10 these responses? 11 MS. DANIELS: Again, to the extent that -- 12 to the extent that he had communications with counsel 13 concerning this -- 14 MR. KATZ: I'll withdraw the question. 15 I'll withdraw the question. 16 Q. Mr. Daugherty, we talked earlier today about 17 your trip to New York, where you listed five or six 18 entities that you discussed general employment 19 opportunities with. 20 A. That's right. Well, no, no, no, no. I went and 21 I did -- they weren't employment opportunities. It was 22 going and meeting peers, you know, former competitors, 23 people in the market that knew me, and assessing what my 24 opportunities were, what damage was done, that kind of 25 thing.
249 1 No. 1, which starts on page 3, please? 2 A. Yes. 3 Q. Okay. Do you see Interrogatory No. 1(a) asks 4 for the identity of all individuals, entities or 5 organizations with which Daugherty has discussed 6 employment offers or potential employment since September 7 1, 2011? 8 A. I do. 9 Q. Do you see that? Okay. 10 MS. DANIELS: And, again, to the extent 11 that this is -- this is substantively going to be 12 discussed, this is the same topic in which we had 13 instructions earlier that all -- it's attorneys' eyes 14 only and that all parties involved are to leave under 15 Kaplan's -- under Judge Kaplan's previous directive that 16 he doesn't have to discuss his job opportunities in front 17 of Highland personnel. 18 Q. Okay. Mr. Daugherty -- 19 A. Sure. 20 Q. -- do you see the question, to provide the 21 identity of all individuals, entities or organizations 22 with which Daugherty has discussed -- 23 A. You're talking about (a)? 24 Q. Yes. 25 A. Yes, I do.	251 1 Q. Okay. 2 A. That was the purpose of that trip in September. 3 Q. Is it your testimony that you have not had any 4 written communications with any individual or entity 5 about potential employment other than the three listed in 6 here? 7 A. Yeah, that is my suggestion. 8 Q. Is that your testimony? 9 A. That's my testimony, as far as I know. 10 Q. Have you had any communications with any of the 11 individuals or entities listed in this -- in this 12 interrogatory response since April 26th? 13 A. Of what year? 14 Q. Of this year. 15 A. Maybe. 16 Q. What communications have you had? 17 THE WITNESS: Is this confidential? 18 MS. DANIELS: For clarification, Judge 19 Kaplan, these are interrogatories that Mr. Daugherty was 20 ordered by you to answer. I think the instruction at the 21 time that you had us have him answer them and verify them 22 was that this information was going to be protected in 23 that there were not to be any communications made 24 relative to the information that was being provided with 25 respect to job opportunities that he had explored.

252 1 And I think that's what we all just want  2 some clarification on. Even though we're discussing them  3 now in this context as opposed to in the interrogatory  4 context, I'm assuming that those directives are still in  5 place.  6 MR. KATZ: This hasn't been designated even  7 confidential, let alone attorneys' eyes only.  8 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: Well, I think I --  9 if I understand what you're saying correctly, this might  10 have been what I was alluding to this morning. I think  11 there may be an order that I entered that -- does it  12 reference that interrogatory?  13 MS. DANIELS: Yes.  14 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: Was it in  15 connection with that interrogatory?  16 MS. DANIELS: Yes.  17 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: That basically says  18 you can get the information but you can't contact the  19 employers or the prospective employers.  20 MR. KATZ: And, if Your Honor remembers, we  21 had a conversation about that in which we were  22 specifically authorized to contact them.  23 MS. DANIELS: Huh-uh.  24 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: I don't remember  25 that, Counsel.	254 1 this information is -- is accurate. That's all I'm  2 asking.  3 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: That's fine. He  4 can answer that question.  5 MS. DANIELS: Okay.  6 MR. KATZ: And if it's complete, yeah.  7 MS. DANIELS: For purposes of any further  8 discussion of this information, I would request  9 attorneys' eyes only.  10 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: The question is, is  11 the information in that interrogatory answer accurate.  12 MS. DANIELS: He's already asked that.  13 MR. KATZ: And I was asking him if -- now  14 I'm asking if it's complete. If counsel wants to  15 designate something AEO --  16 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: Hold on. Just  17 answer the question.  18 MR. KATZ: Okay. I'm just trying to not  19 waste time here.  20 Q. (By Mr. Katz) Okay. Mr. Daugherty, have you  21 had any communications with any of the entities or  22 individuals listed in this interrogatory response since  23 you verified this response on April 26, 2013?  24 A. I think, yes, with one of the parties.  25 Q. Which party was that?
253 1 MR. KATZ: Yeah, you said counsel could  2 contact them.  3 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: Is there an -- is  4 there an order? I mean, what's happened in this case?  5 MR. KATZ: I understand, Your Honor, and  6 that was -- that was -- and I don't remember --  7 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: I do remember you  8 appealed that aspect of the order.  9 MR. KATZ: Yes, and we had the -- we had --  10 we had a conference about it, and I don't know offhand if  11 that was -- I assume it was transcribed. We'd have to  12 look for that, where -- it's irrelevant, I think, for the  13 purpose --  14 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: Okay.  15 MR. KATZ: -- of this deposition, but that  16 they indicated -- I was -- because Judge Hoffman had  17 instructed us to circle back with you. You --  18 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: Well, let me just  19 stop you there. You had me at it's irrelevant for the  20 purposes of the deposition.  21 MR. KATZ: Well, unless he's going to  22 answer the question.  23 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: We can sort all  24 this out later.  25 MR. KATZ: Yeah. I just want to know if	255 1 MS. DANIELS: Okay. And, again, at this  2 point I'd like to designate this attorneys' eyes only if  3 we're going to identify information in this  4 interrogatory --  5 MR. KATZ: That's fine.  6 MS. DANIELS: -- on the record --  7 MR. KATZ: That's fine.  8 MS. DANIELS: -- and ask the Highland folks  9 to please leave the room.  10 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: If we're going to  11 mention the substance of the answer, that's fine.  12 MS. DANIELS: Thank you.  13 (Messrs. Leventon, Boyce and Surgent leave  14 the room.)  15 (Beginning of attorneys-eyes-only excerpt.)  16  17  18  19  20  21  22  23  24  25

258 1 2 3 (End of attorneys-eyes-only excerpt.) 4 Q. Okay. Okay. Tell me -- 5 A. Are you done with this? 6 Q. Oh, yes. 7 A. And these two? 8 Q. Yes, for now. 9 Okay. So you have filed a claim against 10 Highland, Mr. Dondero and Sierra Verde -- well, actually, 11 let me start at the beginning. 12 You said earlier you think your defined 13 benefit pension plan has been paid? 14 A. I think it has. 15 Q. So as you sit here today, you're not aware of 16 any part of that benefit plan that is unpaid? 17 A. That's correct. 18 Q. What part of your LTIP has not been paid? 19 A. All of it. 20 Q. And how much is that? 21 A. I don't know. 22 Q. Do you have any idea how much that is? 23 A. What it's worth? No. I'd have to get in and 24 see how much Highland's worth, because it was a -- it was 25 an option-like structure priced off the value of	260 1 A. Yeah. This was one of the documents I was just 2 referring to. I think this is it, anyway. 3 Q. This is a document entitled "2005 HCMLP 4 Long-Term Incentive Plan"; is that correct? 5 A. That's correct. 6 Q. And can you turn to page 19 for me, please? 7 A. Yes. 8 Q. Okay. I'm sorry. I think I got the wrong page. 9 (Messrs. Leventon, Boyce and Surgent 10 reenter the room.) 11 Q. Can you identify any provisions of this 12 agreement that you believe Highland has breached? 13 A. I haven't looked through this agreement, and I 14 would leave that to my lawyers. I know they didn't pay 15 me what they owed me. 16 Q. Okay. What other documents are you aware of 17 that relate to your -- the basis for your claim for your 18 LTIP? 19 A. There's several other documents and agreements 20 that, frankly, I turned over to my lawyers and I haven't 21 seen since two thousand -- early 2012. 22 Q. Okay. And -- 23 A. I didn't memorize the names of those documents 24 and the titles of those documents. 25 Q. How did you get those documents?
259 1 Highland's stock. When I left, Highland told me it was 2 worth 200,000 after a discount was applied to it. 3 Q. Who -- who at Highland told you that? 4 A. Brian Collins and Surgent. 5 By the way, you want to let them back in 6 now? 7 Q. And what is the -- the basis for your claim 8 that -- 9 A. They can't hear you. 10 Q. -- they owe you the LTIP? 11 A. You might want to put your mic on. 12 Q. Can you answer my question, please? 13 A. I wasn't concentrating. 14 Q. What is the basis for your claim that Highland 15 owes you the LTIP? 16 A. It's compensation that was owed to me. 17 Q. Is that pursuant to a contract? 18 A. It was pursuant to a multitude of documents. 19 Q. What documents? 20 A. My lawyers have them, but I don't know them off 21 the top of my head. 22 (Exhibit 39 marked.) 23 Q. I'll show you what's marked here as Exhibit 39. 24 A. Okay. 25 Q. Can you tell me if you recognize that document?	261 1 A. Highland HR personnel. 2 Q. Did you get them before you left or after you 3 left? 4 A. I'm sorry. Yes, before I left. 5 Q. Okay. Do you understand from this document that 6 if you're in violation of your noncompete provisions that 7 you forfeit your interest in the LTIP? 8 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 9 A. No. 10 Q. Let's talk about Sierra Verde. 11 A. Are you done with this one, Marc? Are you done 12 with this one, Marc? 13 Q. For now. 14 A. Okay. 15 Q. What was your role in the formation of Sierra 16 Verde? 17 A. I was in the chain of command. 18 Q. Well, what -- what part of the chain? 19 A. Just one of the guys involved in it. 20 Q. Okay. Who were the guys involved in it? 21 A. Dondero, me, Carl Moore, Matt Lyons, Thomas 22 Surgent, Clay Callan, David Smith, Tim Lawler, to some 23 degree. Those are the guys involved in its formation or 24 development. Everybody on the private equity team was a 25 recipient.

262 1 Q. Okay. 2 (Exhibit 40 marked.) 3 Q. I'll show you what's marked here as Exhibit 40. 4 MR. REGAS: And, Marc, that one is already 5 Exhibit 3 in the notebook. 6 MR. KATZ: Okay. Well, let's just -- 7 THE WITNESS: It's Exhibit 40 here. 8 MR. KATZ: Yeah, that's fine. That's fine. 9 That's fine. It's an important document. We can mark it 10 twice. 11 A. Okay. 12 Q. Do you recognize this as the LLC agreement for 13 Sierra Verde? 14 A. That's what it says. I haven't committed this 15 document to memory, so I'll just take your word for it 16 and assume that it is. 17 Q. Well, can you turn to the document that has the 18 Bates number that ends with 12 in the bottom right-hand 19 corner for me, please? 20 A. Okay. 21 Q. Is that your signature on that document? 22 A. It is. 23 Q. Now, is your claim -- your claim for your Sierra 24 Verde compensation -- you tell me what you're claiming 25 with respect to -- what do you think you're owed with	264 1 grants? 2 A. Granting procedures, or whatever. 3 Q. Okay. I just want to make sure I heard you. 4 What are the other interactions, dealings 5 and grants? 6 A. The board of both companies agreeing to it, 7 allocating it to me individually and the rest of the team 8 members individually. 9 Q. Okay. 10 THE WITNESS: Can I take another break? 11 I'm so full of liquids, it's ... 12 SPECIAL MASTER KAPLAN: Let's take a quick 13 one. 14 MR. KATZ: Sure. 15 THE VIDEOGRAPHER: Off the record, 4:30 16 p.m. 17 (Recess taken from 4:30 to 4:34.) 18 THE VIDEOGRAPHER: Back on the record, 4:34 19 p.m. 20 Q. Mr. Daugherty -- 21 A. Daugherty. 22 Q. What did I call you? 23 A. Daugherty. 24 Q. Daugherty. I apologize. 25 A. No problem.
263 1 respect to your Sierra Verde claim? 2 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 3 A. You know, I'd have to get the up-to-date 4 details, but I think it's in excess of 6 million dollars. 5 Q. Okay. And why do you think you're owed that 6 money? 7 A. Because the two assets in it, Cornerstone and 8 Trussway, have gone up significantly in value, and that 9 was part of the grant that was given to us. 10 Q. Okay, but what in this -- do you think this 11 contract entitles you to that money? 12 A. I don't -- 13 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 14 A. Yeah, I don't know what you mean. I'm not going 15 to take a legal interpretation of what the contract 16 entitles me to. I'll leave that to my lawyers. 17 Q. Okay. I'm not asking you that. I'm asking you, 18 Do you think that this contract entitles you to that 19 money? 20 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 21 A. I think I'm entitled to the money via this 22 contract and other interactions, dealings, et cetera -- 23 Q. Okay. 24 A. -- and grants. 25 Q. What are the other -- I'm sorry. Did you say	265 1 Q. Since -- since you have left Highland, have you 2 had any communications with any of Highland's investors? 3 A. Yes. 4 Q. Who? 5 A. Kevin Winter. 6 Q. Who else? 7 A. Brandt Behr. 8 Q. Was it Brad? 9 A. Brent, Brent. Brandt, actually. Brandt Behr. 10 Tom. I can't remember Tom's last name. He's at 11 Grosvenor. And another guy, at Baylor University, whose 12 name I don't recall off the top of my head. 13 Q. Anybody else? 14 A. I think that's it. 15 Q. Have you had any -- since the time you left 16 Highland, have you had any communications with any -- any 17 prospective investors of Highland? 18 A. No. Any communication? No, I don't think so. 19 Q. When did you have a communication with Kevin 20 Winter? 21 A. It's been a long time, but I'm thinking right 22 around January of 2012. 23 Q. And was that an in-person communication, over 24 the phone? 25 A. It was by phone.

266 1 Q. On your cell phone? 2 A. Yes. 3 Q. Did you call him or he call you? 4 A. I called him. 5 Q. And what was the purpose of that call? 6 A. It was twofold, as I recall. One was to see if 7 he wanted to go fly fishing at my place in Montana. We 8 had talked about it earlier. And I had lots of time on 9 my hands. 10 And then two was to see if -- or to correct 11 the reality or the facts, if he had heard that I had left 12 Highland for lifestyle reasons or that I was burned out 13 or that I was trying to find myself. 14 Q. Okay. How long did this conversation last? 15 A. Less than five minutes. Kevin's a quick talker. 16 Q. Okay. And what did you speak to him about on 17 the phone? 18 A. I just told you. 19 Q. So -- and I may have misunderstood. I thought 20 you were telling me what the -- the purpose -- what your 21 intent in calling him was. 22 A. That was my intent, and that was the -- that 23 was -- those were the topics discussed. 24 Q. Okay. And what specifically did you tell him? 25 A. I don't remember specifically what I told him.	268 1 A. I think so, yeah. 2 Q. And when was the last one? 3 A. The last one was after Highland sued me and I 4 think before I sued Highland. That's not true. I talked 5 to him again, I think, in October of 2012. It might have 6 been November. I don't know exactly. 7 Q. Were any of these communications in person? 8 A. Yes. 9 Q. Were all of them in person? 10 A. No. 11 Q. How many in-person meetings did you have with 12 him? 13 A. One. 14 Q. And when did that occur? 15 A. I think it was January -- I don't know. Late 16 January 2012. 17 Q. Okay. 18 A. I don't remember the exact day, date. 19 Q. Okay. What -- was that your first communication 20 with him after you left -- 21 A. No. 22 Q. -- was the in-person one? 23 A. No. 24 Q. Okay. How did the first communication you had 25 with him come about?
267 1 Q. Did -- what did he tell you? 2 A. Specifically or generally? Because I'm not 3 going to be able to tell you what specifics are. I can 4 tell you generally. 5 Q. Okay. Give me general. 6 A. He said he wanted my -- he wanted me to send him 7 my cell phone -- my contact information and we could get 8 together for fly fishing or whatever. And he said nobody 9 told him anything about me leaving Highland for lifestyle 10 reasons or any of those other things I mentioned. 11 Q. Did -- did you send him your contact 12 information? 13 A. I did not. 14 Q. And that was the only communication you've had 15 with him since you left? 16 A. I haven't talked to him since. 17 Q. What about Brandt Behr? When -- did you have 18 more than one communication with Mr. Behr? 19 A. Yes. 20 Q. How many did you have? 21 A. Three, four total communications. Something in 22 that context. 23 Q. Okay. And when was -- when was the first one? 24 A. Right around the January time frame. 25 Q. January 2012?	269 1 A. Telephone. 2 Q. But, I mean, who -- who initiated it? 3 A. I called him. 4 Q. Okay. And what was the purpose of the call? 5 A. I was told by Michael Colvin that the Crusader 6 committee wanted exit interviews with me. So he gave me 7 the phone numbers of all -- the names and -- the names, 8 the firms and the phone numbers of everybody on the -- on 9 the Crusader steering committee, or whatever it's called. 10 Some kind of Crusader committee. 11 Q. And Mr. Behr is on the committee? 12 A. That's correct. 13 Q. Okay. So what did you talk to him about when 14 you called him on that first occasion? 15 A. Just introduced myself to him and said, I 16 understand that you want to do an exit meeting with me 17 and I'm happy to be cooperative in that regard. 18 Q. Okay. And so was the in-person meeting the exit 19 interview? 20 A. Yes. 21 Q. Okay. And who was there at the exit interview? 22 A. It was Brandt; some young guy, who I can't 23 remember his name; and then an older guy. Monahan, or 24 something like that. 25 Q. Okay.

270 1 A. Brian Monahan. I don't recall exactly. I mean, 2 I could find out, but -- 3 Q. Okay. 4 A. -- I just don't know off the top of my head. 5 Q. Was it -- but was it just that group, that small 6 group of people there? 7 A. No. It was Michael Colvin as well. 8 Q. Okay. Anybody else? 9 A. Me. 10 Q. Anybody else? 11 A. That's all I can think of. 12 Q. Okay. And then -- so then you had two or three 13 more conversations with Mr. Behr after that meeting? 14 A. That's right. 15 Q. Okay. And those -- each of those were on the 16 telephone? 17 A. That's right. 18 Q. Each of those were on your cell phone? 19 A. That's correct. 20 Q. Okay. What was the purpose of each of those 21 calls? 22 A. I think he called me on those two calls. 23 Q. Okay. 24 A. And his purpose was -- he was complaining, I 25 suppose -- or complaining is not the right word. He	272 1 Q. Okay. What did he tell you? 2 A. That Highland had dropped the bid to a 50 3 percent discount for Crusader investors, and if they 4 didn't take the deal -- well, that he was going to get -- 5 they were going to -- they were going to get the 50 6 percent, they were going to get the majority, and they're 7 going to strip all the covenants, so you better sign in 8 or we're going to strip the covenants and stick it to 9 you. I'm paraphrasing his language. 10 Q. What did you tell him? 11 A. I said, That sucks. 12 Q. Anything else? 13 A. Yeah. 14 Q. What else? 15 A. I said, I just got sued by them. 16 Q. What did you tell him in regard to that? 17 A. Just I just got sued by them. This was just 18 like -- this was in a day or two days of me getting sued. 19 Q. Did he ask anything about the lawsuit? 20 A. No. 21 Q. You didn't tell him anything other than you just 22 had been sued? 23 A. I told him it was all bullshit. 24 Q. Did you talk about what the claims against you 25 were?
271 1 was -- I guess he was frustrated. He was frustrated. 2 Q. What did he tell you? 3 A. Highland was trying to buy the LP interest of 4 the Crusader investors at a 25 percent discount to mark, 5 to mark it, to mark. 6 Q. Okay. Why was he talking -- do you know why he 7 was talking to you about that? 8 A. I think he was venting. 9 Q. Okay. Was Mr. Behr a friend of yours? 10 A. Not a close friend, but, I mean, we were 11 friendly, professional -- professionally friendly. 12 Q. What did you tell him on that call? 13 A. I said that's too bad. I mean, basically, that 14 sucks. I'm sorry to hear that. 15 Q. How long was that call? 16 A. I don't recall. 17 Q. Did you tell him anything else? 18 A. No. 19 Q. What about the -- 20 A. Oh ... No, at that call, I don't think I told 21 him anything else because I hadn't been sued. I don't 22 think I'd been sued by Highland at that point. 23 Q. What about the second call? 24 A. Second, he was much more frantic, much more 25 intense. He was pissed.	273 1 A. No. Didn't even go into detail. 2 Q. Did you talk about your intent to file 3 counterclaims? 4 A. No, because at that time I still -- I hadn't -- 5 I was shocked, and I did not have a mind set of -- of 6 filing counterclaims. I was not -- that was not my mind 7 set. I was in shock. 8 I knew Jim was pissed off about my 9 testimony in his divorce, but I thought -- you know, Jim 10 can be emotional and erratic, but after a certain amount 11 of time he could come to his senses, and I thought 12 eventually he would. 13 But I was, like, I cannot believe he just 14 did this to me. And, frankly, you did, too, in helping 15 them write that thing. 16 Q. When was the first time that you thought about 17 filing a lawsuit against any of the parties or 18 individuals that you've filed claims on in this case? 19 A. You know, these -- there were some settlement 20 negotiations going on between my counsel and Thomas 21 Surgent. John Honis had reached out to me and asked me 22 if we were at the point of no return. And I said, Look, 23 John, I'm -- I'm pissed, but, no, we're not at the point 24 of no return. 25 And somewhere in that time period my

274 1 lawyers asked me to start assembling a narrative of my 2 story, so to speak, and so I started trying to pull that 3 together. I don't remember exactly when, Marc. 4 Q. But this was all after Highland filed its 5 lawsuit against you? 6 A. Totally, totally. I didn't want to sue 7 Highland, and I didn't want to be sued by Highland 8 either. 9 Q. When you did your exit interview with the -- the 10 Redeemer committee, did you sign a confidentiality or 11 nondisclosure agreement? 12 A. No. None was offered. 13 Q. You said Michael Colvin was there? 14 A. Yes. 15 Q. Was he representing you? 16 A. No. 17 Q. Do you know who he was representing? 18 A. Presumably Highland. Just I assumed he was 19 there to look over the process. I don't really know. He 20 didn't really say. I just assumed, I guess. 21 Q. And Mr. Colvin was -- or is the former general 22 counsel of Highland, correct? 23 A. Yeah. I think he'd been demoted before he left, 24 but he served at some point as the general counsel at 25 Highland.	276 1 Q. Okay. And did -- was this a phone call? 2 A. Two phone calls. 3 Q. Okay. And on your cell, from your cell? 4 A. On my cell. I don't know if it was from it or 5 they called me. I don't -- I don't recall. 6 Q. Okay. Were they both phone calls right around 7 that same time period? 8 A. I'm sorry. In that January time period? Is 9 that -- 10 Q. Yes. 11 A. Yeah, yeah. It was like one day, then the next 12 day, or one day and a couple of days. I don't remember 13 exactly, but very close together. 14 Q. Tell me about the -- about the substance of 15 those calls. 16 A. You know, the first call was kind of short. Why 17 did I quit. You know, Tom didn't have a lot of -- Tom 18 had, like, two or three guys on the call. And he just 19 told me in advance, he goes, I want to break this into 20 two calls: One where you tell us why you quit, and the 21 other one, you talk to us about the portfolio. So the 22 first one was pretty short. 23 Q. What did you tell him about why you quit? 24 A. Just told him I couldn't get there on the 25 compensation element with Dondero. I couldn't get there
275 1 Q. At some point while you were with Highland, he 2 was the general counsel of Highland? 3 A. Absolutely. 4 Q. Okay. And when did he leave Highland, if you 5 know? 6 A. I don't know. I heard he -- well, I don't know 7 when he left, because supposedly he left but then he had 8 a management contract, or some kind of contract. So he 9 had some hybrid status that I'm, frankly, not privy to 10 other than -- other than knowing it existed in some 11 capacity. 12 Q. Okay. You said you talked to an individual at 13 Grosvenor. Was it Tom? 14 A. Yeah. Tom -- I want to say Tom Watson, but I 15 don't think that's his name. 16 Q. Is it Rowland? 17 A. Tom Rowland. Thanks. 18 Q. And what is his position with Grosvenor, if you 19 know? 20 A. I don't know. 21 Q. When did you speak to him? 22 A. Around that same time period. 23 Q. I'm sorry. Which -- which time period are we 24 talking about? 25 A. That January time period.	277 1 on the autonomy. I was ready for some more independence. 2 We had just gone through what I described as the shit 3 storm in the financial circus and, you know, I felt like 4 I'd gotten to a point where I was either going to have to 5 commit to be at Highland for another five years or I was 6 going to leave. And I just told him Jim and I didn't get 7 there. 8 Q. Was there any other reason you told him that you 9 quit? 10 A. Well, the autonomy. 11 Q. Did you tell him anything else about why you 12 quit? 13 A. I don't think there was much more to why I quit. 14 Q. Okay. And you told him the truth, didn't you? 15 A. Yeah. 16 Q. What did he say? 17 A. I mean, when I say tell him the truth, I did 18 tell him the truth. I didn't give him all the details. 19 You know, Jim and I had this e-mail 20 exchange toward the end that I didn't bother telling 21 anybody about, where he was just so emotional it was 22 ridiculous. So I didn't tell him that. 23 Q. What did he say? 24 A. What did who say? 25 Q. Tom.

278 1 A. I don't -- I don't recall anything of 2 significance. Just, you know, okay, you know. I mean, 3 look, I don't think he was terribly shocked. You know, 4 we had gone through a -- a whirlwind experience, and, you 5 know, I think he thought I was pretty good at what I did. 6 I think he knew I thought I was pretty good at what I did 7 and it was time for me to go do it on my own if I 8 couldn't get the right deal at Highland. It was really 9 that simple. 10 Q. Okay. What about the second phone call? 11 A. Second phone call was about the portfolio. 12 Q. And did you talk any more about your resignation 13 from Highland at that time, in the second call? 14 A. No. There wasn't anything else to say. 15 Q. Okay. What did you tell him about the 16 portfolio? 17 A. They were very concerned about the portfolio. 18 There was a very big lack of trust of Dondero, and I 19 guess to some degree Honis, although Honis was just 20 Dondero's mouthpiece. And they were very concerned about 21 the portfolio, and they were really pushing to liquidate 22 the portfolio. 23 And I went through name by name for 24 probably the top 20 names and gave them my opinion, and 25 many of which -- on many of the names, I encouraged	280 1 with you as he tries to hold onto Safety-Kleen or 2 Cornerstone or whatever. He knows there's upside and I 3 know there's upside, and you guys would be crazy to leave 4 that value on the table. 5 Q. Okay. Did you say anything negative about 6 Highland in that call? 7 A. Not a word. Not a word. The only people I 8 mentioned at Highland, I wanted to say positive things 9 about them, because I also wanted -- they're, like, Who 10 can we trust? 11 And I -- I rattled off the names of several 12 guys on the team that I thought that they could trust, 13 that were men of integrity. 14 And -- and I said, Look, you've got guys 15 that are busting their ass for you. They're very 16 committed to this. They're good guys. They're honest 17 guys. And so if you want the straight skinny, you know, 18 talk to Carl Moore, talk to Tom Pereira, talk to Clay 19 Callan, talk to David Smith. 20 I mean, I went through several of the guys 21 on the team that I just thought were honorable guys, 22 hard-working guys. And I made a point to them that, you 23 know, these were good guys and these were guys that stuck 24 through. 25 When a lot of people bailed out on Highland
279 1 them -- they really wanted to sell Cornerstone, they 2 really wanted to sell Safety-Kleen, they really wanted to 3 sell Realogy. 4 And, frankly, I -- I told the truth, but I 5 think what I said is exactly what Highland would have 6 wanted me to say on those names. I told -- You're going 7 to hurt yourself if you try and force Jim to sell 8 Safety-Kleen. It's going to double. I mean, I just came 9 out of a board meeting in September. We're getting 10 ranges in the 20 to 30 context. We've got it priced at 11 10 to 12. It doesn't really matter if you guys like 12 Highland or not; you're going to hurt yourself. 13 And, actually, does this -- you know, they 14 didn't really believe anything that Jim had to say, for a 15 multitude of reasons that -- some I knew and many I 16 didn't, but there was just no trust there. 17 And I was in a position where I was an 18 independent voice, and I went through name by name of, 19 again, as I said -- we can go through each of them if you 20 want. 21 Q. No. 22 A. But the theme on most of them was work with 23 Highland because they're trying to make money here for 24 you. I mean, Jim's got a vested interest to try and 25 improve the performance of this fund. He's not jacking	281 1 and them, frankly, in the market downturn, these guys 2 stuck around and created a lot of value, and I felt like 3 they were in a position to create a lot more value. So I 4 was very complimentary of them. 5 Q. Did you say anything during that call that was 6 untrue? 7 A. I don't think so. 8 Q. Then you said you spoke to somebody at Baylor? 9 A. Yes. I don't know what that guy's name is. You 10 got a name you can refresh my memory? 11 Q. What was the -- was this an in-person 12 conversation, phone? 13 A. No. I'm sorry. I'm talking over you. 14 Q. That's all right. 15 A. It was a cell phone call, and it was probably 16 the shortest -- shortest of the three dialogues that I 17 had. 18 Q. And what did you talk about on that call? 19 A. Same stuff, although, as I said, shorter call. 20 We talked about the reasons why I left. Two minutes. He 21 just wanted to do a quick down -- you know, checklist 22 through the portfolio. 23 Q. Okay. Was that call also in the January 2012 24 time frame? 25 A. It was.

282 1 Q. When you did your exit interview with the 2 Redeemer committee that we spoke of earlier, were you 3 still employed by Highland at that time? 4 A. No. It was January of 2012. 5 Q. Okay. Who were -- you were on the Safety-Kleen 6 board at one time, correct? 7 A. Yes. 8 Q. Okay. Since you've left -- when did you -- when 9 did you leave that board? 10 A. October of 2011. 11 Q. Okay. And after leaving that board, since that 12 time have you had any communications with any -- anyone 13 on the Safety-Kleen board? 14 A. Yes, numerous communications. 15 Q. Okay. Who -- which -- which of the board 16 members have you spoken to? 17 A. And let's -- let's expand that. I'll help you 18 out here. 19 Q. Yeah. 20 A. Not just the board but management as well. I 21 had numerous conversations with all the above. 22 Q. Okay. Well, just from the board members first, 23 who did you speak to? 24 A. Ron Haddock, Randy Devening, Bill Raine, Phil 25 Raygorodetsky. Who else was on there? I mean, Jim	284 1 a -- is a hoot, to begin with, so ... 2 Q. Did you ever hear anyone on the board make a 3 comment about Lane being a -- let me ask you this: Did 4 you ever make any negative comments about Lane Britain to 5 anyone on the board? 6 A. No, I didn't. 7 Q. Did you ever make any negative comments about 8 Jim Dondero? 9 A. No. Frankly, Jim had a well-established 10 reputation on that board, and it wasn't good. 11 Q. You don't consider your comment to Bob Craycraft 12 about Jim to be negative? 13 A. Which one was that? That Jim calls (sic) the 14 strings? No. Jim does pull the strings. 15 Q. Okay. 16 A. And it's up to Lane to fight back. He's a 17 little young. He didn't do it. I guess he followed 18 Dondero's mandate, but I don't think that's negative. I 19 just think that's reality. Jim -- Jim pulls the strings. 20 Q. When did you have that conversation with Bob? 21 A. You know, Bob Craycraft and I were on the board 22 of the American Heart Association together, and it just 23 came up one day. He was really frustrated with Lane. 24 Q. Who is Stefan Wolf? 25 A. Stefan Wolf. I think he's a -- I'm not sure
283 1 Dondero. Jim and I had an active dialogue all the way 2 through February 2013. Bob Craycraft, Jeff Richard, Brad 3 Carl. I might have left somebody out. 4 Q. Did you ever talk to any of -- any of those 5 board members of Safety-Kleen about Lane Britain? 6 A. I don't recall. You know what? Yes, I did. 7 Q. Which ones? 8 A. Randy Devening brought him up. 9 Q. And tell me about that conversation. 10 A. Said he was driving him nuts and he had some 11 shouting match with him, and he said he didn't trust him. 12 Bob -- Bob Craycraft mentioned him as well. 13 Q. What did Bob say? 14 A. Said he's never seen somebody contradict himself 15 so many times in one paragraph. 16 Q. And what did you tell Bob when he said that? 17 A. Said he's young. Said don't hold it against 18 him; he's taking his direction from a higher authority. 19 Q. And what did you mean by that? 20 A. I meant Jim Dondero's pulling the strings and 21 Lane's just going and doing what he's told. Lane's not a 22 bad guy. 23 Q. What did you tell Randy when he made the comment 24 that he did about Lane? 25 A. Nothing. I just kind of chuckled. Randy is	285 1 exactly what Stefan Wolf is. He's kind of a connected 2 guy, you know, in the Dallas area. Actually, more than 3 just the Dallas area. Internationally broad. 4 This is the German guy, right? 5 Q. I'm just asking if you know who he is. 6 A. Well, I'm trying to remember. He's the German 7 guy, right? 8 Q. Is he somebody you've spoken to? 9 A. There's a Stefan that was associated with some 10 PR firm, and then there's the Stefan that's the German 11 guy that I'm thinking of right now. I think that's the 12 guy I'm thinking of. 13 Q. Okay. 14 A. If I got it wrong, will you clarify it for me? 15 Q. Do you know a Stefan Wolf that's affiliated with 16 Abu Dhabi Investment Company? 17 A. He's not affiliated with them. I do know him. 18 He has -- his college roommate actually worked at the Abu 19 Dhabi Investment Authority, but he has since left. 20 Q. The roommate has left? 21 A. The roommate has left. 22 Q. Well, have you spoken to Mr. Wolf since you left 23 Highland? 24 A. Yes, on several occasions. 25 Q. Okay.

286 1 A. He introduced me to his roommate that left what 2 we call Audia (phonetic). 3 Q. And what was the purpose of him introducing you 4 to his roommate? 5 A. Well, his roommate made a ton of money at Audia. 6 And he's found some guy that's like a kickboxer, or 7 something, out of Indonesia, and he's got this personal 8 story that they want to make a movie out of. So he 9 wanted me to introduce him to Michael Ovitz and to Gary 10 Barber. Michael Ovitz, with his contacts at Disney 11 and -- and Hollywood in general, and Michael -- I mean, 12 Michael Ovitz, with those contacts; and Gary Barber is 13 the CEO of MGM Studios. And he wanted me to make 14 introduction so that they could get a screen play 15 reviewed. 16 Q. When did that occur? When did -- when did the 17 introduction occur? 18 A. About four or five months ago, I'd guess. I 19 could be wrong. I didn't really take note of it. 20 Q. Okay. Have you ever heard anybody on the 21 Safety-Kleen board make a comment to the effect of Lane 22 Britain being a Patrick Daugherty starter kit? 23 A. Yes. 24 Q. Who made that comment? 25 A. Jeff Richard.	288 1 Q. Did you think you were a pain when you were on 2 the board of Safety-Kleen? 3 A. No. I think that I was a tough force on the 4 board. I had my opinions. I listened to other people's 5 opinions. I reserved the -- or I would let myself have 6 my views changed, but I held people accountable. And I 7 guess if people thought that was a pain, I really didn't 8 care, because my job was there to make that company be 9 all that it could be and should be. And to the extent 10 Lane followed in those tracks, I'm with him. 11 Q. What did you say to Mr. Richard when he made 12 that comment to you? 13 A. I laughed. I said, I'm just as -- I'm just 14 Bambi now. 15 Q. Is that a true statement? 16 A. I feel like it. I feel neutered. 17 Q. Because you're no longer at Highland? 18 A. I'm no longer doing anything, which is not fun. 19 And I love to work, as you well know, because I worked 20 with you on a lot of things. 21 Q. The LLC agreement for Sierra Verde -- 22 A. Yes. 23 Q. -- you mentioned earlier that your claim was 24 based on that contract and then some other -- some other 25 matters, before we -- before we took that last break.
287 1 Q. And when did -- Jeff Richard? 2 A. Jeff Richard. 3 Q. Richard. And when did -- 4 A. It's spelled "Richard," I think. 5 Q. Okay. When did Mr. Richard make that comment? 6 A. I don't know. We had -- it's another connection 7 I have. We've got kids together at Armstrong. And his 8 son was in class with my daughter, and I guess he was 9 having a rough time with Lane, and he was just telling me 10 what his thoughts were. 11 Q. What did he say exactly? 12 A. I think you hit it right on the head. You know, 13 Lane -- I was, like, How's it going? And he goes, Well, 14 you know, Lane's a pain in the butt to deal with. And 15 I'm, like, Oh, yeah? How so? He goes -- he looked at me 16 and goes, Well, Pat, he's like the Pat Daugherty starter 17 kit without the credibility. 18 Q. And you took that to be a negative comment about 19 Lane? 20 A. I don't think it was flattering. I think the 21 good part was the part associating him with me. 22 Q. The -- did you take that as a negative statement 23 about you? 24 A. No. Look, Lane's tough, and I trained Lane, and 25 he's smart. So I like that about him.	289 1 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 2 Q. Tell me what those other matters are. 3 A. I'm not sure I understand what you're saying. 4 Q. Sure. 5 A. Maybe I wasn't clear on my answer. I was -- 6 Q. Yeah. 7 A. -- exploding in my bladder, so ... 8 Q. What -- tell me about -- your Sierra Verde claim 9 is based, in part, on that agreement, correct? 10 A. Yes. 11 Q. Okay. What else is it based on? 12 A. Assurances made by Dondero, approvals and 13 assurances made by the Cornerstone boards and the 14 Trussway boards. 15 Q. Anything else? 16 A. Nothing comes to mind, but that doesn't mean 17 there isn't something else. 18 Q. Do you think the members of the LLC had the 19 right to dissolve the LLC? 20 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 21 A. Look, you're getting into the legal aspects of 22 it. Me, as a layman? No. 23 Q. Okay. And I just want your lay understanding of 24 it. Why do you think they did not have the right to do 25 that?

290 1 A. It just gets into the legal aspects thing. I  2 don't think you can give somebody something and then just  3 dissolve it and take it away -- that's my common-sense  4 approach to it -- just because you don't like it that  5 somebody quit.  6 Q. Okay. What -- why do you think -- and it's your  7 understanding that Sierra Verde was wound down?  8 A. That's what I'd heard from several of the guys,  9 and I since have seen that confirmed in some of the  10 testimony of the Highland employees that have been in  11 this room and in other depositions in the last two weeks.  12 Q. Okay. And is it -- is it your testimony that it  13 was wound down because you quit?  14 A. I think that that's what started it. Patrick  15 Boyce came to me within days of me quitting and said, Jim  16 wants to -- Jim told me to find a way to get out of  17 paying you your options, but I'm going to take care of  18 you, Pat.  19 Q. Okay. When you said a moment ago that your  20 quitting started it, were there other factors that  21 resulted in the wind-down?  22 A. No, I don't think there are.  23 Q. Okay.  24 A. I heard a lot of different stories, and it  25 changed every time I asked about it; but the bottom line	292 1 Well, did Tunstall get disclosed? You  2 know, in the ADV, I'm talking about.  3 No, it didn't get disclosed.  4 I'm like, So how is it that you're going to  5 unwind Sierra Verde because it didn't get disclosed but  6 you're not going to unwind Tunstall even though it didn't  7 get disclosed?  8 So then they kind of go away, and, like, a  9 week or two goes by, and they come back. And they're,  10 like, Well, we got another reason.  11 What was that?  12 This is when Surgent starts telling me.  13 He's like, Well, the option price was way -- the strike  14 price was way wrong. I was, like, Well, what was wrong  15 about it?  16 I'm not going to tell you.  17 You're not going to tell me?  18 No, but here's a Cornerstone consulting  19 contract which we have determined to be the value of your  20 shares in Sierra Verde.  21 And I'm like, Well, okay. If it was wrong  22 to begin with, why would you need to give me a consulting  23 contract at Cornerstone?  24 I mean, it just went on and on and on.  25 Dondero, when I asked him about it, Oh, there's something
291 1 is Dondero told Boyce to take this away from me, and then  2 that led -- Britain getting involved, Surgent, whatever  3 he was doing.  4 And the next thing I get is some kind of  5 fabricated, ever-changing story on why we're going to  6 have to just unwind Sierra Verde.  7 Oh, by the way, we're not going to give you  8 anything. Oh, but we will give you something. We're  9 going to give you a Cornerstone contract, management  10 contract.  11 I mean, it just -- it was a different story  12 every time I talked to somebody. It was asinine.  13 Q. And so that's the basis of your belief that  14 Sierra Verde was wound down because of your resignation?  15 A. I -- again, I mean, once Jim -- the original  16 motive, at least according to Boyce, was that Jim told  17 him to take -- find a way to get out of paying Daugherty  18 his options or to take them back, and then -- whatever  19 happened.  20 I mean, the story changed two or three  21 times. On one hand, you know, Boyce runs in. He goes,  22 Oh, well, we didn't disclose it, so that's why we've got  23 to do it. I'm, like, Wow, are you going to unwind  24 Tunstall, too?  25 No, we're not going to unwind Tunstall.	293 1 wrong with the indenture. It didn't comply with our  2 indenture.  3 Well, what?  4 I don't know. You'll have to talk to  5 legal.  6 It was just a jack-around session every  7 time I inquired about it.  8 Q. Okay. With respect to your claims based on  9 Sierra Verde, you've brought a breach of contract claim,  10 a minority shareholder oppression claim, a breach of  11 fiduciary duty claim, and a conversion claim. Do you  12 understand that?  13 A. Generally, yes.  14 Q. Okay. Are each of those claims based on the  15 same conduct, the allegations that you just referred to?  16 A. I don't know. That -- those are legal  17 conclusions that, frankly, I'm not skilled enough or  18 knowledgeable enough in law to be able to answer for you.  19 Q. Well, let's go through them. Can you --  20 A. Sure. What do you want me to look at?  21 Q. It is Exhibit 35. Here. If you'd turn to page  22 43 for me, please. You see the first claim there,  23 "Breach of Contract Against Sierra Verde and Dondero"?  24 A. I do.  25 Q. Okay. Do you know of any basis for the breach

294 1 of contract claim other than -- I'm sorry. Do you know  2 any factual basis supporting the breach of contract claim  3 other than the matters that you just described?  4 A. There may be --  5 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form.  6 THE WITNESS: Sorry.  7 A. There may be others. It's this document here.  8 It's promises that were made to me by various people at  9 Highland and on the boards of Cornerstone and -- and  10 Trussway, which were the underlying assets held in Sierra  11 Verde.  12 Q. Okay. And just for the record, the document  13 you're referring to --  14 A. Oh, I'm sorry.  15 Q. -- is the LLC agreement?  16 A. I'm going to call it Exhibit 40.  17 Q. Okay. Fair enough.  18 A. There -- there may be other documents. I  19 just -- I didn't take an inventory of what, quote,  20 unquote, factually proves up my claim, but I'm sure my  21 lawyers have it someplace.  22 Q. Okay. Can you turn the page for me, please?  23 A. Yes.  24 Q. The oppression -- see B there, "Oppression of a  25 Minority Shareholder Against Sierra Verde and Dondero"?	296 1 Q. Okay. And you are seeking that remedy through  2 your breach of contract claim?  3 A. I'm not going to be pinholed on that. I'm  4 seeking that remedy as a layman. The type of the claim,  5 the legal analysis behind the claim, I'm going to leave  6 that to my lawyers.  7 Q. Okay. That is the remedy that you're seeking  8 for each of these Sierra Verde claims, though, right?  9 A. What I just said is my answer.  10 Q. Are you refusing to answer the question?  11 A. I thought I just did.  12 Q. Okay. Let's try again.  13 A. Okay.  14 Q. The Sierra Verde -- you're seeking the Sierra  15 Verde interest --  16 A. I'm seeking -- I'm sorry. I'm cutting you off,  17 and I'm not allowed to do that. I'm sorry. Go ahead.  18 Q. No. Tell me -- tell me what it is you're  19 seeking through your Sierra Verde claims.  20 A. Again, from a layman's perspective, I'm seeking  21 the value that was taken away from me as it relates to my  22 Sierra Verde interest, as well as all those other claims,  23 but we're talking Sierra Verde right now.  24 Q. Yes. Okay. And the -- I want to use your words  25 so we're on the same page. The value that was taken away
295 1 Do you see that?  2 A. I do.  3 Q. Okay. Do you know of any facts that support  4 that claim other than the facts that support the breach  5 of contract claim?  6 A. As I said, you know, there's numerous facts to  7 this case. I don't know. I haven't committed them all  8 to memory. I'd have to sit down, sit down with my  9 counsel, figure out what's relevant, what's not, to  10 answer your question, which calls for me to provide the  11 facts that substantiate a legal position.  12 Q. Well, I guess maybe --  13 MS. DANIELS: Object to the form of the  14 question.  15 Q. Maybe I'm not being -- I may be asking a -- I  16 may be not asking my question as clearly as I should.  17 You're seeking, through the Sierra Verde  18 causes of action, your Sierra Verde interest?  19 A. I'm seeking compensation for the Sierra Verde  20 component that was taken away from me, or dissolved.  21 Q. Yes. And you said earlier that you think that  22 might be 6 million dollars?  23 A. I think it's north of 6 million dollars at this  24 point, judging on the performance of Cornerstone and the  25 performance of Trussway.	297 1 from you as it relates to your Sierra Verde interest --  2 A. That's right.  3 Q. -- okay, you are seeking that, in part, based on  4 this LLC agreement, correct?  5 A. I'm seeking it based on the documents that  6 existed at the time, the spreadsheets, the tear sheets,  7 the board approvals, the minutes. Anything and  8 everything that relates to how and why I got this to me  9 is relevant in order for me to get this -- to be made  10 whole by what your client has taken away from me.  11 Q. Okay. And that includes that LLC agreement?  12 A. I presume so.  13 Q. Okay.  14 A. It's one of the documents of many.  15 Q. Okay. And then the action -- you believe that  16 there was a breach of fiduciary duty by Sierra Verde to  17 you?  18 A. You know, again, the legal --  19 MS. DANIELS: Object to the form of that  20 question.  21 THE WITNESS: Sorry.  22 Q. You can answer.  23 A. The legal aspects of it I'm going to leave to my  24 counsel.  25 Q. When do you think you were entitled to your

298 1 Sierra Verde interest? 2 A. Upon realization of the sale. Well, I was 3 entitled to the Sierra Verde interest immediately. I was 4 entitled -- entitled to the payout upon realization of 5 the sale of the underlying assets, which would be 6 Trussway and Cornerstone. 7 Q. Okay. They have not been sold yet, have they? 8 A. No, they haven't. 9 Q. Okay. So you're not entitled to any payout from 10 Sierra Verde? 11 A. Well -- 12 MS. DANIELS: I'll object to the form of 13 that question. 14 A. Sierra Verde has been taken away and dissolved, 15 so I have been wronged. You have taken away my rights to 16 the payouts from Cornerstone and Trussway. 17 Q. And the valuation would be the value when it was 18 sold or the value now? 19 A. The value -- 20 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 21 A. The way it was originally intended was to be the 22 value when it was sold. However, because you've taken 23 them away from me, I don't know. I think that gets into 24 legal analysis because now we're going to have to 25 evaluate the value that was taken away, the option value	300 1 Q. What -- what did you -- tell me about your 2 communication with your accountant. 3 MS. DANIELS: To the extent that those 4 communications were had at the direction of counsel 5 involved, communications passed along by counsel, I'm 6 going to object to the question as calling for privileged 7 information, not only privileged communications but also 8 work product, and instruct the witness not to answer. 9 A. On the basis of that, I'm not going to answer 10 the question. 11 Q. Okay. Your breach of contract claim is brought 12 against Sierra Verde and Jim Dondero? 13 A. Yes. 14 Q. Okay. What contract -- what contract did you 15 have with Jim Dondero related to Sierra Verde? 16 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 17 A. I had both this contract and oral promises. 18 Q. Okay. And for the record, we're referring to -- 19 A. I'm sorry. 20 Q. -- Exhibit 40 again? 21 A. I keep doing that. Exhibit 40 and oral promises 22 from Dondero. 23 Q. Okay. 24 A. And, frankly, assurances from the Cornerstone 25 board of directors and the Trussway board of directors on
299 1 that was embedded within. 2 I mean, there's just a lot of legal 3 analysis and damage analysis that's going into this that, 4 frankly, I haven't got in -- gotten into yet. My expert 5 will do that. 6 Q. Who is your expert? 7 A. I can't remember the name. It's a valuation 8 firm. I've given it to counsel. 9 Q. Have you spoken to this expert? 10 A. Not yet. 11 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 12 THE WITNESS: Sorry. 13 A. Not yet. 14 Q. You've brought this Sierra Verde claim -- 15 A. I've spoken to my accountant, who's spoken to 16 them. 17 Q. I'm sorry. You've spoken to your account, who's 18 spoken to who? 19 A. To them, to the valuation firm. 20 Q. Okay. You've spoken to your accountant about 21 the valuation firm? 22 A. Yes. 23 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 24 THE WITNESS: Sorry. I'm answering too 25 quickly.	301 1 allocations that were allocated individually to me as 2 well as members of the private equity team. 3 But then Dondero got involved and said: 4 No, I don't want you to have that in your name. I want 5 it in a vessel like HERA -- I think at the time it was 6 called the private equity comp vessel, or the PE 7 vessel -- and I want it to be jumbled in there. 8 So it was originally allocated to me in my 9 name. Then Dondero usurped it with this thing, and then 10 Carl Moore named it Sierra Verde, because Dondero and I 11 could never keep up with the name. Of course, we know it 12 well now. And that's what happened. 13 Q. Okay. You've brought the oppression of a 14 minority shareholder against both Sierra Verde and 15 Dondero. Do you understand that? 16 A. I do. 17 Q. Okay. What did Dondero do to oppress you as a 18 minority shareholder? 19 A. He took it away without consulting me, asking me 20 or doing anything. He just took it away. 21 Q. Okay. Did -- did -- did that also constitute a 22 breach of that Exhibit 40 and these oral promises you 23 referred to? 24 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 25 A. I'm not going to get into details of which

302 1 document was breached and how. I think those are legal 2 issues that my lawyers can take up. 3 I just know he took the compensation that 4 he'd given me away without talking to me, without giving 5 me substitute compensation. He just took it away and 6 said that's the way it's going to be. 7 It's -- I think the quote was: It's 8 unwinding whether you agreed with it or not. You need to 9 do this Cornerstone deal, consulting contract. 10 Q. What did Sierra Verde do to oppress you as a 11 minority shareholder? 12 MS. DANIELS: Objection, form. 13 A. Again, Sierra Verde, Jim Dondero, they're one 14 and the same. And they took my economic value away and 15 they just -- they effectively stole it from me. 16 Q. Is that the basis of your conversion claim 17 against Sierra Verde and Dondero? 18 A. I'm not going to get into the legal basis of my 19 conversion claim because that's just an area of expertise 20 that I'm not prepared to answer, but the taking away of 21 my compensation in a unilateral format has caused me 22 damages that run the gamut of the things you see listed 23 in there. 24 MR. ### Introduction

1. On December 1, 2016, the Court of Appeals for the Fifth District of Texas at Dallas issued a Mandate in the lawsuit captioned Highland Capital Management, L.P. v. Daugherty, 12-04005, District Court of Dallas County, Texas, 68th Judicial District (Dallas) (the “Texas Action”), concluding over four years of litigation between Highland Capital, Highland Employee Retention Assets, and Daugherty. The appellate court affirmed the final judgment of the trial court.

2. The final judgment of the trial court included the following provisions, with the judge's handwritten markup:

Furthermore, the Court, after considering the jury's findings regarding HERA's breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, finds and concludes that Daugherty is entitled to relief hereinafter given.

It is therefore further ORDERED that Daugherty have and recover $2,600,000 from HERA, ~~representing the full value of Daugherty's interest in HERA as determined by the jury.~~

It is further ORDERED that Daugherty shall no longer have any ownership or other interest in HERA or any proceeds or accounts arising from Daugherty's prior interest in HERA that were not distributed to Daugherty prior to the entry of this judgment, Daugherty having been awarded the full value of that interest in HERA as determined by the jury.

It is further ORDERED that total amount of the actual damages rendered against HERA herein will bear prejudgment interest at the rate of 5% simple interest from May 22, 2012, until the day before this judgment is signed.

It is further ORDERED that the total amount of the judgment here rendered against HERA will bear interest at the rate of 5% per annum, compounded annually, from the date this judgment is signed until paid.

3. Under the final judgment, Daugherty was awarded $2.6 million in damages against Highland Employee Retention Assets, plus pre- and post-judgment interest, as compensation for the diminution of value of Daugherty's units as a result of Highland Employee Retention Assets' breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing.

4. The Texas court rejected the notion that the damages award extinguished Daugherty's interest in Highland Employee Retention Assets, striking that language from the form of judgment proposed by Highland Employee Retention Assets.

5. Highland Employee Retention Assets has failed to satisfy Daugherty's judgment. During 2013 and 2014, after the Texas Action commenced, Dondero, Highland ERA Management, and Highland Capital caused Highland Employee Retention Assets to fraudulently or otherwise wrongfully transfer its assets to Highland Capital, which purportedly left Highland Employee Retention Assets insolvent.

6. In this action, Daugherty seeks to have Highland Employee Retention Assets, Highland Capital, Dondero, and Highland ERA Management satisfy his Texas judgment and return fraudulently transferred assets to Highland Employee Retention Assets.

7. Further, because Highland Employee Retention Assets can no longer fulfill its original limited purpose, which was the retention of Highland Capital employees, it should be dissolved. Once its fraudulently or wrongfully transferred assets are returned, those assets should be distributed to Daugherty as the sole remaining member.

8. Daugherty also brings claims on behalf of himself and Highland Employee Retention Assets against Highland ERA Management, Dondero, and Highland Capital for self-dealing transactions that Highland ERA Management and Dondero caused Highland Employee Retention Assets to enter into for the benefit of Highland Capital.

9. Finally, Daugherty seeks indemnification from Highland Capital for his defense costs, including attorneys' fees, in the Texas Action to the extent that such costs were incurred in defending claims against him "by reason of any act performed or omitted to be performed in the name of or on behalf of [Highland Capital], or in connection with [Highland Capital's] business." He also seeks fees on fees in prosecuting this action.

The Parties

10. Daugherty resides in Dallas, Texas. Daugherty was a partner and senior executive of Highland Capital and certain of its affiliates from 1998 until 2011, when Daugherty resigned.

11. Defendant Highland Capital is a Delaware limited partnership with its principal place of business at 300 Crescent Court #700, Dallas, Texas 75201. Highland Capital was co-founded by defendant Dondero and non-party Mark Okada and is controlled by them, their affiliates, and various trusts for their benefit and the benefit of their immediate families. Dondero is Highland Capital's president. Highland Capital is an SEC-registered investment adviser that claims to have approximately $14.9 billion of assets under management.

12. Defendant and nominal defendant Highland Employee Retention Assets is a Delaware limited liability company that was formed on June 23, 2009.

13. Defendant Highland ERA Management, a Delaware limited liability company, was formed on February 1, 2013. Dondero was and is the president and the sole member of Highland ERA Management. As demonstrated below, it is a mere instrumentality and Dondero's alter ego. Dondero is subject to this Court's jurisdiction under 10 Del. C. § 3104.

Daugherty's Interest in Highland Employee Retention Assets

14. Highland Capital performed poorly during the 2008-2009 financial crisis. Late in 2008, Highland Capital was viewed as a firm likely to default. It had very little cash and available assets for incentive-compensation purposes. Accordingly, Highland Employee Retention Assets was created by Highland Capital to curb employee resignations by offering employees a replacement of their previously received deferred compensation that was awarded on February 27, 2009.

15. Highland Employee Retention Assets was intended to be an independent (from Highland Capital) standalone entity to retain, reward, and incentivize Highland Capital's employees (excluding Dondero and Okada) by granting them equity-like awards in certain funds, and then distributing the proceeds of those interests to the employees in their capacity as unit holders of Highland Employee Retention Assets.

16. When Highland Employee Retention Assets was formed, Highland Capital "represent[ed], warrant[ed] and covenant[ed]" that the three purposes for which Highland Employee Retention Assets was created were and would remain "limited solely to":

a. "directly owning and holding assets to be contributed by [Highland Capital] and to distribute the proceeds of such assets from time to time to certain employees of [Highland Capital] in order to create a retention incentive for such employees (the 'Retention Assets')";

b. "distribute the proceeds of the Retention Assets in accordance with the terms of the Series A Preferred Units of [Highland Employee Retention Assets]"; and

c. “transacting any and all lawful business for which a limited liability company may be organized under Delaware law that is incident, necessary and appropriate to accomplish the foregoing.”

17. Under the Limited Liability Company Agreement of Highland Employee Retention Assets LLC dated October 26, 2009, the purpose of Highland Employee Retention Assets shall be to receive and hold assets to be contributed by [Highland Capital] and to distribute the proceeds of such assets from time to time to certain employees of [Highland Capital] (or of affiliates of [Highland Capital], as applicable) as the Board may from time to time determine in order to create a retention initiative for such employees and to engage in such other lawful purposes and activities in connection with the foregoing.

Ex. A, § 2.1.

18. Daugherty became a member of Highland Employee Retention Assets on October 26, 2009, subject to a vesting schedule requiring Daugherty to remain employed at Highland Capital through May 15, 2011.

19. Under his award agreement, Daugherty was initially awarded 1,571.86 Series A Preferred Units and was the largest holder in Highland Employee Retention Assets.

20. Daugherty’s ownership percentage increased as other employees resigned from Highland Capital prior to vesting. Daugherty remains a member of Highland Employee Retention Assets and holds 1,909.69 vested Series A Preferred Units.

Highland Employee Retention Assets' Mistreatment of Daugherty

21. Daugherty resigned from Highland Capital on September 28, 2011. At the time of his resignation, Daugherty was a director of Highland Employee Retention Assets.

22. On February 16, 2012, all the directors of Highland Employee Retention Assets except Daugherty removed Daugherty as a director. See Ex. B. Immediately thereafter, the newly composed board executed a Second Amended and Restated Agreement (drafted by Thomas Surgent, Highland Capital's assistant general counsel and chief compliance officer) (the "2012 Amendment"). See Ex. C.

23. On March 6, 2012, Brian Collins, Highland Capital's director of human resources, distributed the 2012 Amendment to all unit holders of Highland Employee Retention Assets.

24. The 2012 Amendment added a new Article 12, which included dispute-resolution and confidentiality provisions:

a. If any member of Highland Employee Retention Assets, including a holder of Series A Preferred Units (i.e., Daugherty), "commences litigation" or "otherwise initiates any dispute or makes any claim ... related to [Highland Employee Retention Assets]” against Highland Employee Retention Assets, any of its directors, officers, or agents, or any Highland Employee Retention Assets member, including Highland Capital, or that does or could adversely impact the assets held by Highland Employee Retention Assets, “then with the consent of 75% of the Board, all pending and future distributions to” that litigating member “shall be immediately suspended and held in escrow by [Highland Employee Retention Assets] until the final, non-appealable resolution of the Dispute.”

b. If the litigating member does not prevail, the full costs of the litigation, including attorneys’ fees, are deducted from the escrow account and the balance will be distributed to the litigating member. However, even if the litigating member prevails, the Board has sole discretion to withhold the escrowed funds to cover any diminution in value to Highland Employee Retention Assets “resulting from or in connection with” the litigation, as determined by the Board in its sole discretion. Any withheld funds are to be reallocated to the other Preferred Unit holders on a pro-rata basis.

The Texas Action and Dondero’s Takeover of Highland Employee Retention Assets

25. In 2012, after Daugherty participated in a Highland Capital-sanctioned exit interview with concerned investors and after Daugherty testified under court order in another legal matter involving Dondero, Highland Capital commenced the Texas Action against Daugherty. The Texas Action was filed just seven weeks after the 2012 Amendment.

26. Daugherty responded in the Texas Action with counterclaims against Highland Capital for breach of contract and defamation and third-party claims against Highland Employee Retention Assets and others. Daugherty alleged breach of contract and breach of the covenant of good faith and fair dealing against Highland Employee Retention Assets and Highland Capital based on the 2012 Amendment.

27. During the Texas Action, Dondero sought to gain control of Highland Employee Retention Assets by buying its units held by current and former employees of Highland Capital.

28. On December 26, 2012, Dondero schemed with Ted Dameris, then a board member of Highland Employee Retention Assets and an employee of Highland Capital and a current board member of Highland Capital affiliate NexBank Capital, Inc., and employee of Highland Capital, to “offer everyone except 1 a buyout offer at 100% cash and 40% discount on” non-cash assets of Highland Employee Retention Assets.

29. On January 18, 2013, and January 31, 2013, Highland Capital presented an offer to all Highland Employee Retention Assets unit holders—except Daugherty—to purchase their units for 100 percent of the value of their cash interests and 60 percent of the value of their non-cash interests.

30. On January 17, 2013, and January 18, 2013, the board of Highland Employee Retention Assets collaborated with Dondero to transfer the powers of the board to Highland ERA Management. At the time, Highland ERA Management was not validly formed under Delaware law.

31. On January 19, 2013, the board members of Highland Employee Retention Assets resigned after each received a buyout offer from Highland Capital, and Highland ERA Management (i.e., Dondero) became the sole manager of Highland Employee Retention Assets. At the time, Highland ERA Management was not validly formed under Delaware law.

32. Highland Capital's director of human resources, Brian Collins, and Surgent peddled Highland Capital's offer to buy out the unit holders of Highland Employee Retention Assets—except Daugherty—through an Offer to Purchase dated January 31, 2013. The Offer to Purchase expired on February 15, 2013.

33. On February 1, 2013, the date that Highland ERA Management was formed under Delaware law, Dondero executed the Third Amended and Restated Agreement of Highland Employee Retention Assets (again drafted by Surgent), which stripped virtually all the rights of Highland Employee Retention Assets unit holders. It eliminated:

- a. the purposes for which Highland Employee Retention Assets was created;
- b. the requirement of Highland Employee Retention Assets to make cash distributions to unit holders to cover pass-through tax obligations attributable to Highland Employee Retention Assets; and
- c. members' rights to indemnification. See Ex. D.

34. Also on February 1, 2013, Dondero executed an Expense Allocation Agreement on behalf of Highland Capital and Highland Employee Retention Assets under which the parties reallocated 93.4 percent of Highland Capital's purported legal expenses related to the Texas Action to Highland Employee Retention Assets. See Ex. E.

35. Highland Capital supposedly incurred $1,142,284 in legal expenses in the Texas Action as of December 31, 2012, compared to $154,029 incurred by Highland Employee Retention Assets over the same time period.

36. On February 7, 2013, Highland Capital, at the direction of Dondero, offered Daugherty $0 for his interest in Highland Employee Retention Assets. Highland Capital claimed that "the costs, expenses, and diminution of the assets” exceeded Daugherty’s value in Highland Employee Retention Assets.

37. All Highland Employee Retention Assets unit holders except Daugherty purportedly sold their units to Highland Capital. Upon information and belief, however, Highland Capital used Highland Employee Retention Assets’ funds, not solely its own funds, to purchase the units.

38. On April 30, 2013, Dondero executed an Assignment Agreement on behalf of Highland Capital and Highland Employee Retention Assets, declaring that Highland Capital held the “sole economic interest in [Highland Employee Retention Assets]” following the consummation of the transactions pursuant to the Offer to Purchase. See Ex. F.

39. The Assignment Agreement further resolved that “[Highland Capital] and [Highland Employee Retention Assets] have each determined that it is in their respective best interest” to transfer substantially all the assets of Highland Employee Retention Assets as “in-kind distribution[s]” to Highland Capital (then valued at approximately $9,700,000). See id.

40. Dondero, through Highland ERA Management, was and is in full control of Highland Employee Retention Assets and its assets. It was fitting, therefore, in the Texas Action when Dondero described himself as

“the man behind the curtain solving financial puzzles.” Dondero also refers to himself as “the wizard.”

41. In December 2013, approximately one month before trial in the Texas Action, Highland Capital placed Daugherty’s Highland Employee Retention Assets interests, valued at the time at approximately $3.1 million, into escrow, with the law firm Abrams & Bayliss LLP as escrow agent (the “Escrow”). See Ex. G. One year earlier, Abrams & Bayliss had represented Highland Employee Retention Assets in responding to a books and records demand by Daugherty relating to the Texas Action.

42. Under the Escrow, if Daugherty prevailed in the Texas Action, escrowed funds in the amount of the judgment—or the entire amount if the judgment exceeded the balance—were to be transferred to Highland Employee Retention Assets and then to Daugherty.

43. During the Texas Action on January 23, 2014, Dondero testified as follows regarding the Escrow:

Q. Okay. So -- so if, if Mr. Daugherty somehow prevails in his lawsuit against Patrick Boyce and Lane Britain and [Highland Employee Retention Assets], what happens to Mr. Daugherty’s interest that’s being escrowed right now with a third-party escrow agent?

A. They go to him.

Q. I’m sorry?

A. They go to him via to [Highland Employee Retention Assets] and then to him. (Emphasis added.)

44. Dondero also confirmed that Highland Capital's buyout of the unit holders in January and February 2013 extinguished the original limited purpose of Highland Employee Retention Assets:

Q. So -- why did the escrow agreement not get signed until December of 2013?

A. My recollection is as follows: After [Highland Employee Retention Asset] went from being an employee retention program with 30-odd participants clamoring for their money but it all mucked up in litigation, Highland [Capital] wrote a check for $10 million to give those people, in all fairness, liquidity and what they deserved for staying around at Highland [Capital]. Once Highland [Capital] bought out all their units, there were only two unit holders, Highland [Capital] and Pat Daugherty, and there was no retention purpose left in the vehicle. (Emphasis added.)

45. After a three-week trial in the Texas Action, the jury found that Highland Employee Retention Assets breached the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing by adopting Section 12.1 in the 2012 Amendment. The jury awarded Daugherty damages of $2.6 million plus interest. See Ex. H. The jury also found that Dondero and Highland Capital defamed Daugherty with malice. See id.

46. The jury also found that Daugherty breached contractual and fiduciary duties by retaining Highland Capital information after his Highland Capital employment, but awarded zero damages. Highland Capital would, however, recover its attorneys' fees in the amount of $2.8 million plus interest. All parties appealed.

47. In September 2014, Highland Employee Retention Assets represented to the Texas court as follows regarding the Escrow:

A contingent interest in assets held in escrow pursuant to an Escrow Agreement, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit 2 (the “Deposit Assets”). The Deposit Assets are not presently controlled by or available to [Highland Employee Retention Assets]. Per the Escrow Agreement, if a final, non-appealable judgment against [Highland Employee Retention Assets] is reached, Abrams & Bayliss, LLP, as Escrow Agent, will transfer the Deposit Assets to [Highland Employee Retention Assets].

Ex. I, Aff. ¶ 7 (emphasis added).

48. Highland Employee Retention Assets also filed an Affidavit with the Texas court disclosing that it was insolvent. Highland Employee Retention Assets further disclosed that it is liable to Highland Capital for legal expenses funded on its behalf in the total amount of $7,459,568 and that only $2,555,071 was included in the net worth computation because Highland Capital had written off $4,904,497 of the liability as of December 31, 2013, because of “lack of collectability.”

The Disappearing Escrow Assets

49. The appeal of the Texas Action lasted almost three years. On December 1, 2016, the appellate court affirmed the trial court judgment. Thus, Daugherty owed Highland Capital $2.8 million (plus interest) in attorneys' fees and Highland Employee Retention Assets owed Daugherty $2.6 million (plus interest) in damages.

50. On December 2, 2016, Highland Capital filed a request for Writ of Execution, which was granted that same day.

51. Also on December 2, 2016—unknown to Daugherty—Abrams & Bayliss, which has served and currently serves as counsel for Highland Capital and its affiliates, resigned as escrow agent of the Escrow.

52. On December 5, 2016—unknown to Daugherty—Abrams & Bayliss delivered over $3.1 million in Escrow assets to Highland Capital. It took only three days for Abrams & Bayliss to transfer to Highland Capital the same assets that took almost eight months for Highland Capital to transfer to the Escrow.

53. Also on December 5, 2016, the day Highland Capital secretly received the Escrow funds, Highland Capital filed a judgment lien on Daugherty's home. The judgment lien on Daugherty's home remains in place as of this filing.

54. On December 8, 2016, the Mandate of the appellate court was filed with the trial court in the Texas Action.

55. Also on December 8, 2016, Highland Capital requested a Writ of Garnishment in the Texas Action to seize Highland Employee Retention Assets' assets owed to Daugherty under the judgment based on an affidavit of Scott Ellington, Highland Capital's general counsel and chief legal officer, that Daugherty had no other way to pay Highland Capital's attorneys' fees.

56. Also on December 8, 2016, the constable returned the first Writ of Execution unexercised as Daugherty was in New York on business through December 9, 2016.

57. On December 9, 2016, four days after Abrams & Bayliss returned the Escrow assets to Highland Capital, Highland Capital requested and was granted a second Writ of Execution.

58. Also on December 9, 2016, Highland Capital filed an Application for Turnover specifically directing that Daugherty's interest in NexBank Capital, Inc., and Trussway Holdings, Inc., be turned over to Highland Capital. Both NexBank and Trussway are entities controlled by Dondero, Okada, and Highland Capital, and both are the subject of related actions pending in this court. See Hoyd v. Trussway Holdings, LLC, Del. Ch., C.A. No. 2017-0260-SG; Daugherty v. NexBank Capital, Inc., Del. Ch., C.A. No. 2017-0382-SG.

59. On December 14, 2016, nine days after Highland Capital secretly obtained the Escrow funds, Daugherty wired approximately $3.2 million in cash to Highland Capital in satisfaction of its award of attorneys' fees in the Texas Action.

60. On February 16, 2017, following a request from Daugherty to Abrams & Bayliss regarding the Escrow, given that Highland Employee Retention Assets had not satisfied Daugherty's judgment, Abrams & Bayliss unveiled the earlier events and transfers by which Highland Capital received the Escrow assets held for Daugherty:

By letter dated December 2, 2016, Abrams & Bayliss notified Highland that it was resigning as Escrow Agent pursuant to Paragraph 5 of the Escrow Agreement. By letter dated December 2, 2016, Highland informed Abrams & Bayliss that it was (i) accepting Abrams & Bayliss' resignation as Escrow Agent, (ii) waiving the ten-day notice period under Paragraph 5 of the Escrow Agreement, and (iii) directing Abrams & Bayliss to return the Deposit Assets to Highland in accordance with the instructions provided in the letter.

On December 3, 2016, Abrams & Bayliss informed Highland in writing that it agreed to the waiver of the notice period, such that Abrams & Bayliss' resignation was effective immediately. On December 5, 2016, Abrams & Bayliss returned the Deposit Assets to Highland in accordance with the December 2, 2016 instructions. Accordingly, Abrams & Bayliss no longer serves as Escrow Agent or holds Deposit Assets.

Ex. J.

61. That is, at the same time Highland Capital placed a judgment lien on Daugherty's family home and was sending a constable to Daugherty's doorstep to seize his assets, Highland Capital and its agents were secretly diverting Highland Employee Retention Assets' funds reserved for Daugherty to Highland Capital.

62. The Abrams & Bayliss letter, tellingly, copied Highland Capital's general counsel and chief legal officer, Ellington, and its assistant general counsel, Isaac Leventon, as well as its attorney, Mark Katz, but not Highland Employee Retention Assets' attorney.

63. Efforts to collect Daugherty's judgment have failed, as Highland Employee Retention Assets claims to be insolvent. Through this action, Daugherty hopes to undo the transfer of assets in the Escrow and any other fraudulent transfers from Highland Employee Retention Assets so that Daugherty can collect his judgment and restore full value to his continuing interest in Highland Employee Retention Assets.

Daugherty's Indemnification Rights

64. Section 4.1(h) of the Second Amended and Restated Agreement of Limited Partnership of Highland Capital Management, L.P., dated December 31, 2004 (the "Highland Partnership Agreement"), states:

Indemnification. The Partnership shall indemnify and hold harmless the General Partner and any director, officer, employee, agent, or representative of the General Partner (collectively, the "GP Party"), against all liabilities, losses, and damages incurred by any of them by reason of any act performed or omitted to be performed in the name of or on behalf of the Partnership, or in connection with the Partnership's business, including, without limitation, attorneys' fees and any amounts expended in the settlement of any claims or liabilities, losses, or damages, to the fullest extent permitted by the Delaware Act; provided, however, the Partnership shall have no obligation to indemnify and hold harmless a GP Party for any action or inaction that constitutes gross negligence or willful or wanton misconduct.

Ex. K, § 4.1(h).

65. The General Partner under the Highland Partnership Agreement is Strand Advisors, Inc., a Delaware corporation (“Strand”).

66. From 2004, if not earlier, until he resigned from Highland Capital in 2011, Daugherty was an officer and agent of Strand. Daugherty, therefore, is a GP Party for purposes of the Highland Partnership Agreement.

67. Some of the untrue and unproven allegations made against Daugherty by Highland Capital in the Texas action included:

a. “Daugherty’s tenure at Highland had been characterized by extreme behavior, and his performance and ability to function in his job diminished over the years. Daugherty became increasingly unmanageable, erratic, and insubordinate, as well as hostile and belligerent to peers and subordinates at Highland. Recently, Daugherty admitted to Highland that two strokes he suffered years earlier had left him with dead spots in his brain that impacted his mental competence and conduct.” Ex. L, ¶ 8.

b. “During his last year of employment, a number of employees made complaints regarding Daugherty’s actions. Management discussed these complaints with Daugherty, but his behavior persisted. Specifically, these complaints centered on Daugherty's abusive tirades. Daugherty frequently dehumanized employees, publicly berating them .... A number of these employees subsequently resigned from Highland or requested to be reassigned to departments in which they would not have to interact with Daugherty. Further, when complaints were brought to Daugherty's attention, he refused to acknowledge any problems with what he had done and said that he had a right to insult any man or woman at Highland in any way he saw fit, regardless of the purpose or content." Id., ¶ 9.

c. "Daugherty's work effort and performance also significantly declined over the last year of his employment as he devoted less time to his duties and spent large amounts of time out of the office tending to non-business matters." Id., ¶ 10.

68. Highland Capital asserted in the Texas Action that the conduct described in the above-referenced allegations "violated [Daugherty's] common law duties to Highland, as well as several agreements between him and Highland." Id., ¶ 12. Highland Capital further asserted that Daugherty "breached a number of common law obligations related to his employment relationship." Id., ¶ 21.

69. Highland Capital asserted claims for declaratory judgment, breach of Daugherty's employment agreement, breach of a buy-sell agreement, breach of fiduciary duties, misappropriation of trade secrets, tortious interference, defamation, a request for attorneys' fees, and a request for a permanent injunction.

70. Many of the allegations against Daugherty—particularly the allegations concerning Daugherty's performance on behalf of Highland Capital—formed the basis for multiple claims, including both contractual and fiduciary-duty claims. Allegations regarding Daugherty's acts on behalf of Highland Capital, which trigger Daugherty's indemnification rights, pervaded Highland Capital's claims in the Texas Action.

71. Daugherty was liable for breach of contract and breach of fiduciary duties based on the retention of confidential information post-employment, for which zero damages were awarded. He was not liable for, and successfully defended, all claims and allegations concerning his performance on behalf of Highland Capital. In fact, on the eve of trial, Highland Capital "non-suited" its allegations concerning Daugherty's performance on behalf of Highland Capital. See Ex. M.

72. Daugherty incurred substantial attorneys' fees and costs in defending the baseless and unproven allegations regarding his performance on behalf of Highland Capital and is entitled to indemnification.

Count One
(Fraudulent Transfer)
(Against All Defendants)

73. Daugherty restates each of the foregoing allegations as if fully set forth in this paragraph.

74. One of the reasons that Highland Employee Retention Assets has failed to satisfy Daugherty's judgment in the Texas Action is that the defendants secretly caused the Escrow assets—reserved for a judgment in Daugherty's favor—to revert back to Highland Capital. Now Highland Employee Retention Assets claims to be insolvent.

75. Highland Capital and Dondero, through Highland ERA Management, exercise total control over Highland Employee Retention Assets and treat its funds as their own, which is routine for Dondero.

76. As an example, Josh Terry, a former Highland Capital employee, recently asserted in a lawsuit:

Okada, the co-founder of Highland, stated on February 10, 2016, "Dude are you aware Jim [Dondero] hasn't paid any taxes in the past year? And he took out a loan from NexBank to pay them but then he got caught up in one of the leverage situations he did with American [Airlines] and a couple of other stocks and he doesn't have the money until March 31 to actually do this. So he's put a lien on his assets...but if some clerk there decides to put the lien on, it would be a PR nightmare. I was just in his office yelling at him, 'I approved the loan at the bank so you could pay your taxes but you never paid your taxes.'"

77. In this case, Dondero was not using money from his bank to pay his personal taxes, but was instead siphoning money from one of his subsidiaries. Highland ERA Management is nothing more than a mere instrumentality or alter ego of Dondero. All acts of Highland ERA Management advantaged Dondero and disadvantaged Daugherty.

78. Delaware has a potent fraudulent transfer statute enabling creditors, such as Daugherty, to challenge actions by parent companies siphoning assets from subsidiaries.

79. The transfer of Highland Employee Retention Assets' funds reserved for Daugherty in the Escrow to Highland Capital, achieved through the resignation of Abrams & Bayliss, constitutes a fraudulent transfer under Delaware law. It also contradicts sworn representations of the defendants and their agents in the Texas Action regarding the Escrow.

80. Highland Capital and Dondero should be required to return to Highland Employee Retention Assets all assets fraudulently or otherwise wrongfully transferred to Highland Capital by or on behalf of Highland Employee Retention Assets.

81. Given Highland Employee Retention Assets' failure to satisfy its judgment, and apparent lack of funds to do so, Daugherty is entitled to collect his judgment from Highland Capital and Dondero.

Count Two
(Dissolution of Highland Employee Retention Assets)
(Against All Defendants)

82. Daugherty restates each of the foregoing allegations as if fully set forth in this paragraph.

83. In the Texas Action, Daugherty was awarded damages that resulted from Highland Employee Retention Assets' breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, which were measured by the devaluation of Daugherty's units at the time of the breach.

84. The trial judge in the Texas Action struck from the final order the concept that Daugherty was fully compensated for his units and those units were extinguished. To the contrary, Daugherty retains his interest in Highland Employee Retention Assets.

85. Daugherty is the sole remaining unit holder of Highland Employee Retention Assets. The purported purchases of units by Highland Capital in January and February 2013, using the funds of Highland Employee Retention Assets, were invalid transfers.

86. Because Highland Employee Retention Assets can no longer fulfill its original limited purpose, the retention of Highland Capital employees, Highland Employee Retention Assets should be dissolved.

87. Section 18-802 of the LLC Act provides for dissolution when “it is not reasonably practicable to carry on the business in conformity with the limited liability company agreement.” That standard is met here. There are no more unit holder-employees eligible for deferred compensation.

88. To the extent Dondero purported to change the purpose of Highland Employee Retention Assets in February 2013, that amendment should be invalidated and ignored because it was self-dealing and a breach of fiduciary duty or the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing. The purported amendment was inconsistent with the fundamental agreement of the parties when Highland Employee Retention Assets was established.

89. Judicial dissolution of Highland Employee Retention Assets is appropriate. The funds transferred from Highland Employee Retention Assets must be returned and then distributed to Daugherty as the sole remaining member.

Count Three
(Breach of Fiduciary Duties)
(Against Highland ERA Management and Dondero)

90. Daugherty restates each of the foregoing allegations as if fully set forth in this paragraph.

91. As a fiduciary, Highland ERA Management owed fiduciary duties to Highland Employee Retention Assets and its members. Fiduciary duties were not expressly disclaimed in Highland Employee Retention Assets' operating agreement.

92. Highland ERA Management is nothing more than a mere instrumentality or alter ego of Dondero. Thus, Dondero is bound by the same duties and liable for the same acts as his alter ego.

93. The adoption by Highland ERA Management, on the date of its formation, and Dondero of the Third Amended and Restated Agreement of Highland Employee Retention Assets was self-dealing and constituted a breach of fiduciary duties.

94. The execution of the Expense Allocation Agreement by Highland ERA Management, on the date of its formation, and Dondero, under which the parties reallocated 93.4 percent of Highland Capital's purported legal expenses related to the Texas Action to Highland Employee Retention Assets, was self-dealing and a breach of fiduciary duties.

95. The execution by Highland ERA Management and Dondero of the April 30, 2013 Assignment Agreement, declaring that Highland Capital held the “sole economic interest in [Highland Employee Retention Assets]” and transferring substantially all of the remaining non-cash assets of Highland Employee Retention Assets to Highland Capital (valued at approximately $9,700,000 at the time), was self-dealing and a breach of fiduciary duties.

96. To the extent this claim is considered a derivative claim, Daugherty may bring such claim on behalf of Highland Employee Retention Assets. A member of a limited liability company interest may bring an action in the Court of Chancery in the right of a limited liability company to recover a judgment in its favor if managers or members with authority to do so have refused to bring the action or if an effort to cause those managers or members to bring the action is not likely to succeed.

97. Efforts to cause the manager, Highland ERA Management (or its alter ego, Dondero), to bring this claim are not likely to succeed because Highland Capital and its affiliates, including Highland ERA Management, have a direct and material conflict of interest in the transactions that are challenged. That is, the funds wrongfully transferred from Highland Employee Retention Assets went to Highland Capital and Dondero.

98. Daugherty has standing to bring a derivative claim because he is currently a member of Highland Employee Retention Assets and was a member of Highland Employee Retention Assets at the time of the transactions of which he complains.

99. Given Highland Employee Retention Assets' and Highland Capital's arguments in the Texas Action that Daugherty's interest in Highland Employee Retention Assets was extinguished, it was not until the Texas Action became final and non-appealable in December 2016 that it was clear Daugherty remained a member of Highland Employee Retention Assets and had standing to pursue this claim.

Count Four
(Aiding and Abetting Breach of Fiduciary Duties)
(Against Highland Capital)

100. Daugherty restates each of the foregoing allegations as if fully set forth in this paragraph.

101. The drafting of the Third Amended and Restated Agreement of Highland Employee Retention Assets by Highland Capital and its agents constituted aiding and abetting breach of fiduciary duties.

102. The receipt by Highland Capital of the assets of Highland Employee Retention Assets pursuant to the April 30, 2013 Assignment Agreement constituted aiding and abetting fiduciary duties.

103. A fiduciary relationship existed between Highland ERA Management and its alter ego, Dondero, and Highland Employee Retention Assets; there was a breach of fiduciary duties, as described above; and there was knowing participation in that breach by Highland Capital and its agents.

104. To the extent this claim is considered a derivative claim, Daugherty may bring such claim on behalf of Highland Employee Retention Assets. A member of a limited liability company interest may bring an action in the Court of Chancery in the right of a limited liability company to recover a judgment in its favor if managers or members with authority to do so have refused to bring the action or if an effort to cause those managers or members to bring the action is not likely to succeed.

105. Efforts to cause the manager, Highland ERA Management (or its alter ego, Dondero), to bring this claim are not likely to succeed because Highland Capital and its affiliates, including Highland ERA Management, have a direct and material conflict of interest in the transactions that are challenged. That is, the funds wrongfully transferred from Highland Employee Retention Assets went to Highland Capital and Dondero.

106. Daugherty has standing to bring a derivative claim because he is currently a member of Highland Employee Retention Assets and was a member of Highland Employee Retention Assets at the time of the transactions of which he complains.

107. Given Highland Employee Retention Assets' and Highland Capital's arguments in the Texas Action that Daugherty's interest in Highland Employee Retention Assets was extinguished, it was not until the Texas Action became final and non-appealable in December 2016 that it was clear Daugherty remained a member of Highland Employee Retention Assets and had standing to pursue this claim.

Count Five
(Breach of Implied Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing)
(Against Highland ERA Management and Dondero)

108. Daugherty restates each of the foregoing allegations as if fully set forth in this paragraph.

109. Under Delaware law, a duty of good faith and fair dealing is implied in every contract, including LLC agreements. The implied covenant requires a party in a contractual relationship to refrain from arbitrary or unreasonable conduct that has the effect of preventing the other party to the contract from receiving the fruits of the bargain.

110. The implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing required Highland ERA Management and Dondero to refrain from arbitrary or unreasonable conduct that benefited themselves at the expense of Highland Employee Retention Assets and its unit holders.

111. The adoption by Highland ERA Management, on the date of its formation, and Dondero of the Third Amended and Restated Agreement of Highland Employee Retention Assets was a breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing.

112. The execution of the Expense Allocation Agreement by Highland ERA Management, on the date of its formation, and Dondero, under which they reallocated 93.4 percent of Highland Capital's purported legal expenses related to the Texas Action to Highland Employee Retention Assets, was a breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing.

113. The execution by Highland ERA Management and Dondero of the April 30, 2013 Assignment Agreement, declaring that Highland Capital held the "sole economic interest in [Highland Employee Retention Assets]" and transferring substantially all of the remaining non-cash assets of Highland Employee Retention Assets to Highland Capital (valued at approximately $9,700,000 at the time), was a breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing.

Count Six
(Indemnification for Texas Action)
(Against Highland Capital)

114. Daugherty restates each of the foregoing allegations as if fully set forth in this paragraph.

115. As an officer and agent of Strand, Daugherty is indemnified against all liabilities, losses, and damages incurred by [him] by reason of any act performed or omitted to be performed in the name of or on behalf of [Highland Capital], or in connection with [Highland Capital's] business, including, without limitation, attorneys' fees and any amounts expended in the settlement of any claims or liabilities, losses, or damages, to the fullest extent permitted by the Delaware Act; provided, however, [Highland Capital] shall have no obligation to indemnify and hold harmless [Daugherty] for any action or inaction that constitutes gross negligence or willful or wanton misconduct.

Ex. K, § 4.1(h).

116. Daugherty successfully defended all claims and allegations against him in the Texas Action that were based on his employment performance on behalf of Highland Capital. Indeed, those allegations and claims were "non-suited" on the eve of trial. Daugherty's only liability related to post-employment retention of information, for which zero damages were awarded.

117. Daugherty incurred substantial attorneys' fees in defending the baseless and unproven allegations regarding his performance as a Highland Capital employee. He is entitled to be indemnified for those fees.

Count Seven
(Fees on Fees)
(Against Highland Capital)

118. Daugherty restates each of the foregoing allegations as if fully set forth in this paragraph.

119. Daugherty is entitled to fees on fees in prosecuting his indemnification rights against Highland Capital in this action. Such a right is not specifically excluded from the Highland Partnership Agreement.

WHEREFORE, Daugherty respectfully requests that the Court:

- a. enter judgment in favor of Daugherty and against Highland Capital, Highland Employee Retention Assets, Highland ERA Management, and Dondero;
- b. order Highland Capital, Highland Employee Retention Assets, Highland ERA Management, and Dondero to satisfy the judgment against Highland Employee Retention Assets and in the Texas Action;
- c. order Highland Capital and Dondero to return to Highland Employee Retention Assets all of the assets that Highland Capital fraudulently or otherwise wrongfully caused to be transferred from Highland

Employee Retention Assets to Highland Capital or Dondero;

d. declare that Daugherty remains a member of Highland Employee Retention Assets;

e. declare that Daugherty is the sole member of Highland Employee Retention Assets;

f. dissolve Highland Employee Retention Assets and distribute its assets to Daugherty;

g. declare that Highland ERA Management and Dondero breached their fiduciary duties owed to Highland Employee Retention Assets and its unit holders;

h. declare that Highland Capital aided and abetted Highland ERA Management and Dondero's breach of fiduciary duties;

i. declare that Highland ERA Management and Dondero breached the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing;

j. award Daugherty indemnification for costs, including attorneys' fees, incurred in defending the Texas Action;

k. award Daugherty fees on fees in prosecuting this action;

l. award Daugherty pre- and post-judgment interest;

- m. award Daugherty his reasonable costs and expenses incurred in connection with this action, including reasonable attorneys' fees; and
- n. grant such other relief that is just and proper.

MOTION TO DISMISS VERIFIED COMPLAINT

Defendants Highland Capital Management, L.P. ("Highland"), Highland Employee Retention Assets LLC ("HERA"), Highland ERA Management LLC ("HERA Management"), and James Dondero ("Dondero," collectively, "Defendants"), by and through their undersigned counsel, hereby move to dismiss Patrick Daugherty's ("Daugherty") Verified Complaint (the "Verified Complaint" or "Compl.") on the grounds set forth below and as will be more fully argued in

Defendants' forthcoming briefs in support of this Motion, to be filed in accordance with a schedule to be proposed by the parties or as ordered by the Court.<sup>1</sup>

Count I of the Verified Complaint asserts a claim of fraudulent transfer against all Defendants in connection with the transfer of HERA's funds to Highland. See Compl. at ¶ 70. The assets in question were transferred from HERA to Highland on April 30, 2013, thus Count I is time barred by the applicable statute of limitations under 6 Del. C. § 1309. Count I is also barred by the doctrines of collateral estoppel and/or res judicata because these issues were the subject of counterclaims and third-party claims that Daugherty asserted against HERA, Highland, and Dondero, amongst others, in a previous lawsuit, and were determined by a Texas state District Court in ruling on such claims during 2013 and 2014. In addition, Count I fails as to Dondero because Daugherty has not sufficiently pled allegations supporting a finding of alter ego as required to establish liability against Dondero.

Count II of the Verified Complaint asserts a claim seeking the judicial dissolution of HERA pursuant to 6 Del. C. § 18-802. See Compl. at ¶ 87. Judicial dissolution of a Delaware limited liability company is appropriate "whenever it is not reasonably practicable to carry on the business in conformity with a limited liability company agreement.” 6 Del. C. § 18-802. Under Section 2.1 of the Third Amended and Restated Limited Liability Company Agreement of Highland Employee Retention Assets LLC adopted February 1, 2013 (the “Third HERA LLC Agreement”), the purpose of HERA “shall be to do all such things for which limited liability companies may be formed under the Act.” Compl., Ex. D, § 2.1. Daugherty fails to allege that HERA cannot fulfill this broad purpose. Daugherty instead claims that the adoption of the Third LLC Agreement was a breach of fiduciary duty or the implied covenant of good faith. Compl. at ¶ 88. The adoption of the Third LLC Agreement occurred four years and five months before the Complaint was filed. Any claim of breach of fiduciary duty or breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing Daugherty may have had arising from the adoption of the Third LLC Agreement is barred by the statute of limitations under 8 Del. C. § 8106(a) and the doctrine of laches. Therefore, Count II must be dismissed for failure to state a claim for which relief can be granted.

Count III of the Verified Complaint asserts a claim of breach of fiduciary duty against HERA Management and Dondero, arising from: (i) the adoption of the Third HERA LLC Agreement on February 1, 2013 (Compl. ¶ 93), (ii) the execution of an Expense Allocation Agreement by HERA Management on February 1, 2013 (id. at ¶ 94), and (iii) “[t]he execution by [HERA Management] and Dondero of the April 30, 2013 Assignment Agreement” and simultaneous transfer of assets from HERA to Highland (id. at ¶ 95). Count III of the Verified Complaint is time barred by the doctrine of laches given the applicable statute of limitations. Count III is also barred by the doctrines of collateral estoppel and/or res judicata because these issues were the subject of counterclaims and third-party claims, including claims for breach of fiduciary duty and shareholder oppression, that Daugherty asserted against Dondero, amongst others, in a previous lawsuit, and were determined by a Texas state District Court in ruling on such claims during 2013 and 2014. Further, Count III fails because the limited liability company agreement in question eliminates any and all liabilities for breach of fiduciary duties. Moreover, Count III fails with respect to Dondero as Daugherty has not established that Dondero—who was neither a manager nor member of HERA—owed any fiduciary duties to Daugherty with respect to his HERA interest. Finally, Count III fails because Daugherty has not identified any breach, particularly in light of the application of the business judgment rule.

Count IV of the Verified Complaint asserts a claim of aiding and abetting breach of fiduciary duty against Highland arising from: (i) the drafting of the Third HERA LLC Agreement (Compl. at ¶ 101), and (ii) the receipt by Highland of HERA’s assets pursuant to the April 30, 2013 Assignment Agreement (id. at ¶ 102). Count IV of the Verified Complaint is time barred by the doctrine of laches given the applicable statute of limitations. Count IV is also barred by the doctrines of collateral estoppel and/or res judicata because these issues were the subject of counterclaims and third-party claims, including claims for breach of fiduciary duty and shareholder oppression, that Daugherty asserted against Dondero, amongst others, in a previous lawsuit, and were determined by a Texas state District Court in ruling on such claims during 2013 and 2014. In addition, as Count IV is contingent upon finding a violation with respect to the underlying breach asserted in Count III, Count IV fails for the same reasons Count III fails.

Count V of the Verified Complaint asserts a claim of breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing arising from the same conduct underlying Count III. Count V of the Verified Complaint merely restates Count IV. Additionally, all of the alleged conduct giving rise to the claim asserted in Count V of the Verified Complaint occurred, at a minimum, four years and two months before the Complaint was filed. See Compl. at ¶¶ 111-113. Claims of breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing are subject to the same statute of limitations under 8 Del. C. § 8106(a) as all other contracts claims. Therefore, Count V of the Verified Complaint must be dismissed. Finally, Count V fails to state a claim of breach of the implied covenant under applicable precedent and should be dismissed.

Count VI of the Verified Complaint asserts a claim of indemnification pursuant to the Second Amended Highland Limited Partnership Agreement (“Highland Partnership Agreement”) arising from fees that Daugherty purportedly incurred in defending certain allegations asserted in the Texas litigation relating to his performance as a former employee of Highland. Daugherty’s employment with Highland was terminated effective September 28, 2011, and the claims at issue were non-suited on January 14, 2014. See Compl. at ¶ 71. Count VI of the Verified Complaint is time barred by the statute of limitations under 8 Del. C. § 8106(a). Count IV also fails because the Texas lawsuit claims at issue relate to Daugherty’s personal contractual obligations, as opposed to acts performed in the name of Highland.

Count VII of the Verified Complaint asserts a claim of fees on fees against Highland, seeking recovery of fees incurred in prosecuting this lawsuit based on an indemnification provision set forth in the Highland Partnership Agreement. Count VII arises from the same conduct underlying Count VI, thus fails for the same reasons Count VI fails.

Highland Capital Management, L.P. (“Highland”), Highland Employee Retention Assets LLC (“HERA”), Highland ERA Management LLC (“HERA Management”), and James Dondero (“Dondero,” collectively, “Defendants”) respectfully submit this opening brief in support of their Motion to Dismiss Verified Complaint [Tr. Id. No. 61023157] (the “Motion”), and respectfully state as follows:

SUMMARY OF ARGUMENT<sup>1</sup>

The Complaint is the latest iteration of Daugherty’s mission to “settle the score” with his former employer and its executives. That battle already resulted in litigation spanning five years, a three-week jury trial, and a Final Judgment from the Texas Court (which was affirmed on appeal) that rejected nearly all relief Daugherty sought and ordered him to pay $2.8 million in attorneys’ fees.

This Court should grant the Motion for several reasons. First, all of Daugherty’s claims are based on actions that occurred in 2013. Daugherty cannot dispute that by July 2013, at the latest, he knew all the facts about which he now complains. Nevertheless, Daugherty chose to wait until July of 2017 to take a second bite at the apple by repackaging his claims for this Court. Each claim in the Complaint is time barred, as reflected in the chart below.

Counts	Date Accrued	Event	Bar Date
I, III, IV	April 1, 2013	Transfer of assets from HERA to Highland	April 30, 2016 (III & IV) April 30, 2017 (I)
III, IV, V	Feb. 1, 2013	HERA Third LLC Agreement	Feb. 1, 2016
III, IV, V	Feb. 1, 2013	Expense Allocation Agreement	Feb. 1, 2016
I, III, IV, V	April 1, 2013	Assignment Agreement	April 30, 2016 (III, IV, V) April 30, 2017 (I)
VI	Jan. 14, 2014	Non-suit of Highland Employment Claims	Jan. 14, 2017

Second, the ultimate question posed in Daugherty's Complaint—whether it was unlawful for Defendants to amend the HERA limited liability company agreement and execute certain corporate documents that resulted in a transfer of all of HERA's assets—has already been decided by the Texas Court. As a result, the claims are barred by the doctrines of res judicata and/or collateral estoppel. Any reconsideration of these issues would waste the parties' time and this Court's resources. The Texas Court considered and dismissed as meritless the majority of Daugherty's claims. This Court should do the same.

Each of the claims fails on its merits as well, Count I fails because the Complaint fails to plead particular facts sufficient to support a claim for fraudulent transfer, or a finding of alter ego against Dondero. Count II, which seeks dissolution of HERA, fails because the current operating agreement of HERA provides that the purpose of the company is “to do all such things for which limited liability companies may be formed” and Daugherty fails to allege facts showing that HERA cannot achieve this purpose. Counts III and IV fail because the fiduciary duties in question were disclaimed under the applicable limited liability company agreement and Daugherty has not identified any fiduciary duties owed by Dondero, who was neither a manager nor a member of HERA. Count V asserts a claim of breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing for the same conduct underlying Count III. This claim fails because (a) Daugherty never identifies the contract at issue, (b) he never identifies a specific implied term to be added to any contract, and (c) it is barred by the statute of limitations applicable to contract claims under 10 Del. C. § 8106(a). Finally, Count VI, Daugherty’s claim for indemnification for fees incurred in defending claims that were non-suited, must be dismissed as the claims were based on his personal obligations, as must Count VII, a claim for fees on fees arising from the same underlying conduct.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

Daugherty commenced this action by filing his Verified Complaint (the “Complaint” or “Compl.”) on July 5, 2017 [Tr. Id. No. 60811368].

On August 23, 2017, Defendants filed the Motion.

On September 7, 2017, this Court entered an order approving a Stipulation and Order Governing Briefing on Defendants' Motion to Dismiss [Tr. Id. No. 61083215], pursuant to which Defendants timely submit their brief (this "Brief") in support of the Motion.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

A. Background of the Parties' Relationship.

Daugherty was a partner and senior executive at Highland until he resigned in September 2011. Compl. ¶¶ 10, 21. Through his employment, Daugherty received an interest in HERA. Compl. ¶¶ 18-20.

B. The Formation of HERA and Its Purpose.

HERA is an employee retention assets fund, available to Highland's current and former employees who hold vested Series A Preferred Units. HERA's original purpose was "to receive and hold assets" contributed by Highland "and to distribute the proceeds of such assets from time to time to certain [Highland] employees...as the Board may from time to time determine in order to create a retention incentive for such employees..." Compl. Exs. A at 1, C § 2.1.

Under the Limited Liability Company Agreement of HERA (the "HERA Agreement") dated October 26, 2009, HERA was managed by a Board of Directors, which was charged with receiving, holding, and distributing the assets contributed by Highland. Compl. Ex. A § 4.1, § 2.1. The Board enjoyed broad power and discretion in overseeing HERA. Section 5.4 of the HERA Agreement sets forth the powers of the Board:

The Board shall have the sole right, power and authority, in the management of the business and affairs of the Company, to do or cause to be done any and all acts deemed by the Board to be necessary or appropriate to effectuate the business, purposes and objections of the Company at the expense of the Company, including but not limited to the execution of all documents or instruments in all matters necessary, desirable, convenient or incidental to the purpose of the Company or the making of investments of Company funds.

Section 5.2 of the HERA Agreement addresses the powers delegated to the Board, and provides, in relevant part, as follows:

[T]he Board shall have the exclusive and complete authority, acting without the consent or approval of, or notice to, the Member and in the Board's sole and absolute discretion, to operate the Company and its business and to make all determinations or elections or to consent to any matter otherwise described in this Agreement. (emphasis added)

Section 5.2(b) limits the power of the Board by requiring "the prior affirmative vote or written consent of at least 75% of the members of the Board" to "amend, alter, change or repeal any of the provisions of this Agreement. Id.

C. The HERA Board Unanimously Approves the Second Amended and Restated LLC Agreement of HERA.

On February 16, 2012, HERA's Board unanimously passed a Written Consent of Board of Directors which removed Daugherty from the Board in accordance with the HERA Agreement, the Written Consent, and Section 18-402 of the Delaware Limited Liability Company Act (the “LLC Act”), 6 Del. C. § 18-402. See Compl., Ex. B.

That same day, the Board unanimously approved and enacted the Second Amended and Restated Limited Liability Company Agreement of HERA (the “Second Amended LLC Agreement”). See id., Ex. C. The Second Amended LLC Agreement added a Dispute Resolution provision (Section 12.1) and a Confidentiality provision (Section 12.2). Compl., at ¶ 24. The Dispute Resolution provision provides, in relevant part:

In the event any Member or holder of units...commences litigation or...otherwise initiates any dispute or makes any claim...related to the [HERA], or the management or operation thereof or the assets held thereby...against [HERA], any Member thereof, any officer or director or other agent or representative...or that in any way does or could adversely impact any of the assets held by [HERA], then with the consent of 75% of the Board, all pending and future distributions to the Disputing Party shall be immediately suspended and held in escrow by the [HERA]...until the final, non-appealable resolution of the Dispute, it being understood that the expiration of any applicable statute of limitations...shall constitute such a resolution.

Compl, Ex. C at § 12.1 (emphasis added). As Daugherty acknowledges, it further provides that:

If the litigating member does not prevail, the full costs of the litigation, including attorneys’ fees, are deducted from the escrow account and the balance will be distributed to the litigating member.

However, even if the litigating member prevails, the Board has sole discretion to withhold the escrowed funds to cover any diminution in value to HERA “resulting from or in connection with” the litigation, as determined by the Board in its sole discretion. Any withheld funds are to be reallocated to the other Preferred Unit holds on a pro-rate basis.

Compl. ¶ 24 (emphasis added).

D. The Initiation of the Texas Action.

On April 1, 2012, Highland initiated a lawsuit (the “Texas Action”) in Texas state court (the “Texas Court”) against Daugherty based on, among other things, his misappropriation, misuse, and disclosure of Highland’s confidential and proprietary information in violation of his fiduciary duties. Compl., Ex. L.

On May 22, 2012, Daugherty filed a Counterclaim and Third-Party Petition. See Exhibit A.<sup>2</sup> Daugherty included causes of action based on the amendments to the HERA operating documents, claiming they “would allow the entity to terminate the payments and ownership interests if the board, in its sole discretion, determined that a former employee violated the terms of the confidentiality provisions in [Highland’s] employment agreement” and “cause any former employee to forfeit his interest if he or she ever brought suit against [Highland],” and “effectively made it impossible for anyone to enforce collection under the rewards program.” Id. ¶ 106.

E. The HERA Board Unanimously Approves the Third Amendment to the Second Amended LLC Agreement, and Highland Purchases a Majority-in-Interest of the Company’s Series A Preferred Units.

In January 2013, Highland issued Offers to Purchase to HERA’s Series A Preferred Unit holders, including Daugherty. See Compl. at ¶ 29; see also Exhibit B (“Summary Judgment Response”), at 13-16.<sup>3</sup>

On January 18, 2013, HERA’s Board unanimously approved and enacted the Third Amendment to the Second Amended LLC Agreement, which confirmed that the holders of a majority-in-interest of the Company’s Series A Preferred Units had accepted Highland’s January 18, 2013 Offer to Purchase, and clarified:

from and after the date of this Agreement and until the date on which all assets of [HERA] have been distributed in full, [HERA] may amend, alter, change, or repeal any of the provisions of this Agreement...only upon either the prior affirmative vote or written consent of at least 75% of the members of the Board or as determined by the Member(s) holding a majority-in-interest of the Series A Preferred Units.

Exhibit C § 5.2(c). As a result, Highland became the sole Member on the HERA Board. Compl., Ex. C § 5.1.

F. The HERA Members Holding a Majority-in-Interest Adopt the Third Amended and Restated LLC Agreement of HERA.

On February 1, 2013, HERA and Highland, as the Initial Member and holder of at least a majority-in-interest of the Series A Preferred Units, adopted the Third Amended and Restated Limited Liability Company Agreement of HERA (the “Third Amended LLC Agreement”). See Compl. Ex. D. The Third Amended LLC Agreement named HERA Management the sole Manager of HERA (id., § 5.1), and vested it with “the exclusive and complete authority, acting without the consent or approval of, or notice to, the Member and in the Manager’s sole and absolute discretion, at the Company’s expense, to operate the Company and its business and to make all determinations or elections” in carrying out the powers of the Company.” Id. §§ 5.1, 5.2.

Additionally, the Third Amended LLC Agreement amended section 2.1 of the Second Amended LLC Agreement to provide that “the purpose of [HERA] shall be to do all such things for which limited liability companies may be formed under the [LLC] Act.” Id. at § 2.1.

Later, on February 1, 2013 and April 30, 2013, HERA Management executed the other two agreements that serve as the basis of the Complaint, namely the Expense Allocation Agreement and Assignment Agreement.

G. Daugherty's Counterclaim and Third-Party Petition.

On May 7, 2013, Daugherty filed his Third Amended Counterclaim and Third-Party Petition in the Texas Action, asserting claims against Highland, HERA, and Dondero, which mirror those set forth in the Complaint. Specifically, Daugherty alleged defendants “deprived Daugherty of his valuable ownership interest in HERA by improperly zeroing out the value of Daugherty’s units in HERA.” See Exhibit D (“Third Amended Counterclaim”) at ¶ 121.

In connection with the alleged deprivation of his HERA interest, Daugherty asserted, inter alia, claims for: (i) breach of the LLC Agreement against HERA and Highland based on “[t]he unilateral decision of [Highland] and HERA to amend the Agreement to divest Daugherty of his valuable ownership interest...;” (ii) Shareholder oppression and breach of fiduciary duty (asserted derivatively) against Dondero for allegedly “zeroing out the value of Daugherty’s interests in HERA, and amending the HERA LLC Agreement; (iii) conversion against HERA, Highland, and Dondero for wrongfully exercising dominion and control over his interests in HERA; and (iv) breach of covenant of good faith and fair dealing against Dondero for amending the HERA LLC Agreement, and “zeroing out the value of Daugherty’s interests in HERA...” Id. at ¶¶ 159-176.

On August 15, 2013, Highland and Dondero moved for summary judgment on Daugherty's claims involving his HERA interest for breach of fiduciary duty, minority shareholder oppression, breach of implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, and conversion, amongst others. See Exhibit E ("Motion for Summary Judgment").

In his October 21, 2013 Summary Judgment Response, Daugherty expounded upon his causes of action, clarifying the claims are, in fact, the same as those he is now attempting to assert in this lawsuit, including as follows:

[O]n February 1, 2013, [HERA Management] as the majority-holder of units in HERA, adopted the Third Amended and Restated HERA Agreement, which did away with HERA's Board and gave sole power and authority over HERA's affairs to Dondero, as the president of [HERA Management]...changed the purpose of HERA from being a retention incentive vehicle for Highland employees, and reiterated that Dondero had the power to operate the company, dissolve the company, or sell or transfer the assets of the company without approval of or notice to any member of HERA...[and] allowed Dondero, as HERA's Manager, to deduct from all pending and future distributions to Daugherty all of the costs, losses and expenses incurred in...litigation, regardless of whether Daugherty succeeded at trial. (See Exhibit B, at pp.16-17).

[On February 1, 2013], Dondero as Manager of HERA, executed [the Expense Allocation Agreement] that allocated...93.4% of Highland's attorneys' fees...against the value of Daugherty's units. (Id. at p.17).

[T]he Third Amended Agreement was used to take the value of Daugherty's units to zero... (Id. at p.18)

THIS DOCUMENT IS CONFIDENTIAL AND FILED UNDER SEAL.

HERA was entirely divested of all assets, both in cash and in equities...it is undisputed at this time that HERA...no longer contains any assets. (Id. at p.18) (emphasis added).

On October 28, 2013, the Texas Court granted summary judgment in favor of Highland and Dondero with respect to each of the aforementioned claims asserted in connection with Daugherty's HERA interest. See Exhibit F.

On November 13, 2013, Daugherty filed a Motion for Leave to File a Fourth Amended Counterclaim and Third-Party Petition, requesting permission to file a late amendment, through which he admitted the Third Amended LLC Agreement and Expense Allocation Agreement—documents Daugherty had already cited in his previous briefing, including his October 21, 2013 Summary Judgment Response—were produced to him on July 25, 2013. See Exhibit G (“Fourth Amended Counterclaim”) at ¶ 4; see also Exhibit B (Summary Judgment Response) at pp.16-17. On December 9, 2013, the Texas Court denied Daugherty's motion. See Exhibit H.

On January 13, 2014, a three-week jury trial commenced in the Texas Action. All three agreements underlying this action, namely the Third Amended LLC Agreement, Expense Allocation Agreement, and Assignment Agreement, were included in Daugherty's trial exhibits. See Exhibit I (Jan. 6, 2014 Daugherty's Trial Ex. List) at Nos. 73, 75, and 79. The jury ultimately found Daugherty had violated fiduciary duties owed to Highland, and was responsible for $2.8 million in attorneys' fees incurred by Highland. Compl., Ex. H, Ex. 1. On July 14, 2014, the Texas Court entered its Final Judgment, based on the jury's findings, awarding Highland $2.8 million and permanently enjoining Daugherty from using or otherwise disclosing confidential information belonging to Highland or its affiliates. Id. The Final Judgment was affirmed by the appellate court. Id. ¶ 49.

QUESTIONS PRESENTED

- 1) Are Counts I, III and IV barred by the doctrines of res judicata and collateral estoppel?
- 2) Should Count I be dismissed because Daugherty failed to (a) timely bring this claim, (b) plead fraud with particularity, or (c) identify grounds for piercing the corporate veil?
- 3) Should Count II be dismissed because HERA can continue to carry on its business in conformity with the Third Amended LLC Agreement?
- 4) Should Count III be dismissed because Daugherty failed to (a) timely bring this claim or (b) identify an obligation breached?
- 5) Should Count IV be dismissed because Daugherty failed to (a) timely bring this claim or (b) identify an underlying breach?
- 6) Should count V be dismissed because Daugherty failed to (a) identify the contract he claims was breached (b) identify a specific contractual obligation breached or (c) timely bring this claim.
- 7) Should Count VI be dismissed because Daugherty failed to (a) timely bring this claim or (b) identify claims directed at Daugherty's official capacity that are subject to contractual indemnification?
- 8) Should Count VII be dismissed because Daugherty failed to identify any right to fees on fees?

LEGAL STANDARD

I. Standard Under Rule 12(b)(6).

“The standard of review for a motion to dismiss pursuant to a Court of Chancery Rule 12(b)(6) motion is well settled: ‘(i) all well-pleaded factual allegations are accepted as true; (ii) even vague allegations are well-pleaded if they give the opposing party notice of the claim; (iii) the Court must draw all reasonable inferences in favor of the nonmoving party; and (iv) dismissal is inappropriate unless the plaintiff would not be entitled to recover under any reasonably conceivable set of circumstances susceptible of proof.’” Beach to Bay Real Estate Ctr. LLC v. Beach to Bay Realtors Inc., 2017 WL 2928033, at *5 (Del. Ch. Jul. 10, 2017) (quoting Savor, Inc. v. FMR Corp., 812 A.2d 894, 896–97 (Del. 2002)).

Delaware’s “reasonably conceivable set of circumstances” standard for determining a motion to dismiss is, by our courts’ own admission, unusually generous to the poorly pled complaint. See, e.g., Winshall v. Viacom Int’l, Inc., 55 A.3d 629, 636 n.23 (Del. Ch. 2011) (noting that Delaware’s standard is less stringent than federal standard); Doppelt v. Windstream Holdings, Inc., 2016 WL 612929, at *4 (Del. Ch. Feb. 5, 2016) (describing Delaware standard as “lenient”); Beach to Bay Real Estate Ctr. LLC, 2017 WL 2928033, at *5 (same). Nevertheless, “a claim may be dismissed if allegations in the complaint or in the exhibits incorporated into the complaint effectively negate the claim as a matter of law.” Malpiede v. Townson, 780 A.2d 1075, 1083 (Del. 2001). Additionally, “the Court need not ‘accept conclusory allegations unsupported by specific facts ... or draw unreasonable inferences in favor of the non-moving party.’” Thermopylae Capital Partners, L.P. v. Simbol, Inc., 2016 WL 368170, at *9 (Del. Ch. Jan. 29, 2016) (quoting Price v. E.I. duPont de Nemours & Co., Inc., 26 A.3d 162, 166 (Del. 2011)); see also Beach to Bay, 2017 WL 2928033, at *5.

Moreover, this lenient standard will not save from dismissal a claim that is deficient as a matter of law, such as claims that are barred by the applicable statute of limitations or laches or claims barred by issue or claim preclusion. See, e.g., In re Tyson Foods, Inc. Consolidated S’Holder Litig., 919 A.2d 563, 586-87 (Del. Ch. 2007) (dismissing contract claims on motion to dismiss on statute of limitations grounds); Gallagher v. Long, 2013 WL 718773, at *3 (Del. Ch. Feb. 28, 2013) (dismissing fiduciary duty claim) aff’d 65 A.3d 616 (Table), 2013 WL 1857552, at *2 (Del. Apr. 30, 2013) (on motion to affirm), cert. denied, 134 S. Ct. 232 (2013); In re Sirius XM S’holder Litig., 2013 WL 5411268, at *4-6 (Del. Ch. estoppel applying New York law); City of Providence v. Dimon, 2015 WL 4594150, at *6-10 (Del. Ch. July 29, 2015), aff'd 134 A.3d 758 (Del. 2016) (claims dismissed based on res judicata applying New York law).

II. Reliance on Materials from Texas Action

In ruling on a motion to dismiss, the Court may consider (1) documents that are integral to a plaintiffs claim and are thereby incorporated into the complaint; or (2) documents that are not being relied upon to prove the truth of their contents. In re Santa Fe Pac. Corp. S'Holder Litig., 669 A.2d 59, 69-70 (Del. 1995); see also In re Morton's Rest. Group, Inc. S'holders Litig., 74 A.3d 656, 659 n. 3 (Del. Ch. 2013). Delaware courts have also considered additional materials from related litigation that were not attached to the complaint if the plaintiff relied on those materials in casting his complaint, as Daugherty has done with regard to the Texas Action. See, e.g., Compl. ¶ 43 (citing Texas Action trial testimony) and Exs. A-G, K, L, M (documents produced in Texas Action); Exs. H, I (pleadings from Texas Action); see also In re Morton's, 74 A.3d at 659 n. 3; In re Synthes, Inc. S'holder Litig., 50 A.3d 1022, 1026 (Del. Ch. 2012) ("Having premised their recitation of the facts squarely on [the Proxy Statement] and incorporated it, the plaintiffs cannot fairly, even at the pleading stage, try to have the court draw inferences in their favor that contradict that document, unless they plead non-conclusory facts contradicting it.” (citation omitted).

Furthermore, a claim may be dismissed if judicially noticeable facts effectively negate the claim as a matter of law. See Malpiede, 780 A. 2d at 1083. To the extent the Court finds that the Texas Action materials are not already subject to consideration based on Daugherty’s extensive reliance on them, Defendants respectfully request that the Court take judicial notice of the documents under Delaware Rule of Evidence 202(d)(2). See Veney v. United Bank, 2017 WL 3822657, at *3 (Del. Super. Ct. Aug. 31, 2017) (granting motion to dismiss and taking judicial notice of pleadings from Virginia state court action).

ARGUMENT IN SUPPORT OF MOTION

I. Counts I, III, and IV Are Barred by Res Judicata or Collateral Estoppel

Counts I, III, and IV of Daugherty’s claims are barred by res judicata and collateral estoppel, as those claims spring from disputes that have already been resolved in Texas. Those claims must be dismissed

A. Delaware Courts Provide Foreign Orders the Same Preclusive Effect as the Rendering Forum

“Parties are not free to relitigate against the same party until they get the result they desire. The Federal Constitution expressly requires that every state give the judgments of its sister states full faith and credit.” In re Wickes Trust, 2008

THIS DOCUMENT IS CONFIDENTIAL AND FILED UNDER SEAL.

EXCEPT BY PRIOR COURT ORDER.

WL 4698477, at *5 (Del. Ch. Oct. 16, 2008); U.S. Const. art. IV, § 1. This Court must therefore afford the Texas Court's orders the same preclusive effect that Texas courts provide. Columbia Cas. Co. v. Playtex FP, Inc., 584 A.2d 1214, 1217 (Del. 1991) (“[A] Delaware court must give the judgments of another state court the same preclusive effect as would a court in that state.”); In re Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., 2016 WL 2908344, at *1 (Del. Ch. May 13, 2016) (same; applying Arkansas law); Pyott v. La. Mun. Police Emps.’ Ret. Sys., 74 A.3d 612, 616–17 (Del. 2013) (same; applying California law).

B. *Res Judicata Bars Consideration of Daugherty’s Claims

Res judicata, or claim preclusion, exists to bring an end to litigation, prevent vexatious litigation, maintain stability of court decisions, promote judicial economy and prevent double recovery. Citizens Ins. Co. of Am. v. Daccach, 217 S.W.3d 430, 449 (Tex. 2007); LaPoint v. AmerisourceBergen Corp., 970 A.2d 185, 191–92 (Del. 2009). For res judicata to apply, there must be (1) a prior final judgment on the merits by a court of competent jurisdiction; (2) identity of parties or those in privity with them; and (3) a second action based on the same claims that were raised or could have been raised in the first action. Daccach, 217 S.W.3d at 449.

THIS DOCUMENT IS CONFIDENTIAL AND FILED UNDER SEAL.
EXCEPT BY PRIOR COURT ORDER.

Res judicata bars more than matters actually litigated; it also bars causes of action which arise out of the same subject matter and “which, through the exercise of diligence, could have been litigated in a prior suit.” Hallco Tex., Inc. v. McMullen Cnty., 221 S.W.3d 50, 58 (Tex. 2007) (citing Barr v. Resolution Tr. Corp., 837 S.W.2d 627, 628 (Tex. 1992)) (emphasis added); see also LaPoint, 970 A.2d at 192.

There is no dispute that the Texas Court had jurisdiction and that the Texas Action is final, satisfying the first element. The second and third elements are likewise satisfied, as discussed below.

1. The Parties are the Same As, or in Privity With, Those in the Texas Action

With respect to the second element, the parties to the present action—Dondero, Highland, HERA, and Daugherty—are the same as in the Texas Action. While not a named defendant, HERA Management is in privity with Dondero, Highland and HERA, and, therefore, protected under the doctrine of res judicata. See, e.g., McDonald v. Houston Brokerage, Inc., 928 S.W.2d 633, 636 (Tex. Ct. App. 1996) (“A non-party defendant can assert res judicata so long as it is in privity with the named defendants.”).

THIS DOCUMENT IS CONFIDENTIAL AND FILED UNDER SEAL.
EXCEPT BY PRIOR COURT ORDER.

The purpose of the “privity exception” is to “ensure that a defendant is not twice vexed for the same acts.” Amstadt v. U.S. Brass Corp., 919 S.W.2d 644, 653 (Tex. 1996). Parties are in privity if they share an identity of interest in the basic legal right that is subject of the litigation. Caprock Inv. Corp. v. Montgomery, 321 S.W.3d 91, 96 (Tex. Ct. App. 2010, pet. denied). This may include persons who exert control over the action, persons whose interests are represented by the party, or successors in interest to the party. Getty Oil Co. v. Ins. Co. of N. Am., 845 S.W.2d 794, 800-01 (Tex. 1992).

The allegations against HERA Management arise out of actions taken as Manager of HERA, and the claims in the Texas Action were based, in part, on actions taken by HERA, Highland, and Dondero while HERA Management was acting as HERA’s Manager. Texas and Delaware courts have found that principal-agent relationships may be sufficient to establish privity for claim preclusion, regardless which party to the relationship was first sued. See, e.g., Better Bus. Bureau of Metro. Houston, Inc. v. John Moore Servs, Inc., 500 S.W.3d 26, 41 (Tex. Ct. App. 2016). Further, non-party defendants are entitled to take advantage of res judicata benefits that inured to the defendant from the prior action when the claims in the prior action necessarily implicated the same conduct of the non-party defendant. Jeanes v. Henderson, 688 S.W.2d 100 (Tex. 1985). The policy considerations underlying res judicata—promoting judicial economy, preventing vexatious litigation and avoiding inconsistent results—would be frustrated by allowing Daugherty to proceed against HERA Management. Id. at 105.

THIS DOCUMENT IS CONFIDENTIAL AND FILED UNDER SEAL.
EXCEPT BY PRIOR COURT ORDER.

2. This Action Arises Out Of the Same Subject Matter as, and the Claims Could Have Been Brought in, the Texas Action

Texas, like Delaware and New York, applies the “transactional” approach to determine whether there is identity between the causes of action, under which, the nucleus of operative fact—rather than the type of relief requested, substantive theories advanced, or types of rights asserted—defines the claim. Barr, 837 S.W.2d 627, 631 (Tex. 1992). Under that approach, the subject matter of a suit is based on the factual matters that make up the gist of the complaint. Id. at 630. Any claim that arises out of those facts should be litigated in the same lawsuit. Id.

Under this rubric, the third element for res judicata is easily satisfied. All of Daugherty’s claims in both the Texas Action and this lawsuit arise out of the relationship between Defendants and Daugherty as a HERA unitholder. “When, as here, there is a legal relationship, such as under a...contract [like the HERA LLC agreements], all claims arising from that relationship arise from the same subject matter and are subject to res judicata.” Springs v. Chase Auto Fin. Corp., 2007 WL 2410907 (Tex. Ct. App. Aug. 27, 2007) (citing Genecov Group, Inc. v. Addicks—

THIS DOCUMENT IS CONFIDENTIAL AND FILED UNDER SEAL.

Fairbanks Road Sand Co., 144 S.W.3d 546, 553 (Tex. Ct. App. 2003, pet. denied); Weiman v. Addicks–Faribanks Road Sand Co., 846 S.W.2d 414, 419 (Tex. Ct. App. 1992, writ denied). Daugherty’s claims in both lawsuits arise out of the amendments to the HERA LLC Agreement and actions taken to “zero[] out the value of Daugherty’s interests in HERA.” See Exhibit D (Third Amended Counterclaim) at ¶¶ 161-170, 173-176. Such claims should be combined since they involve common core facts. Genecov, 144 S.W.3d at 553 (when the same facts are involved, two trials should be avoided by combining the claims between the parties in one suit.); see also Strange v. Estate of Lindemann, 408 S.W.3d 658, 660-62 (Tex. Ct. App. 2013, no pet.).

Daugherty cannot avoid the application of res judicata by recasting his claims for transferring all assets out of HERA as a different cause of action. Res judicata bars a second suit even if the plaintiff does not allege the same causes of action asserted in the first proceeding. Amstadt, 919 S.W.2d at 654; see also Barr, 837 S.W.2d at 631 (second lawsuit alleging partner’s personal liability on partnership note due to his status as a partner was foreclosed by its prior lawsuit on partner’s personal guarantee); accord Trans World Airlines, Inc. v. Hughes, 317 A.2d 114, 119 (Del. Ch. Feb. 19, 1974) (“a plaintiff will not be permitted, after losing a case on one theory, to pursue a different theory based on the same proof which has been rejected in the first action.”). Barred “from litigating that [his] rights were breached based on “[t]he unilateral decision of [Highland] and HERA to amend the Agreement to divest Daugherty of his valuable ownership interest” HERA], [Daugherty] cannot seek to escape that bar by bringing a different claim.” Levinhar v. MDG Medical, Inc., 2009 WL 4263211, at *12, n. 55 (Del. Ch. Nov. 24, 2009) (shareholder’s tortious interference claim barred by res judicata, even though it was not a party to the prior action and the prior action involved a claim for breach of contract only).

Daugherty could have asserted the claims in Counts I, III and IV in the Texas Action. The focal point of both the Texas Action and this lawsuit is the amendments to the HERA operating documents that allowed all of the assets to be transferred at HERA Management’s discretion. The Court of Chancery’s holding in Dimon is instructive. See, 2015 WL 4594150, *6. There, the Court dismissed under res judicata a derivative suit, which sought to hold the company’s board and officers liable for over $2 billion lost through a series of settlements and consent orders because an agreement that was the focal point of a prior New York action was the centerpiece of the settlements and consent orders challenged in the Delaware lawsuit. The Court rejected plaintiff’s argument that, for res judicata to bar subsequent litigation, the “same evidence” must be needed to “support both claims,” and the “facts essential to the second” must be “present in the first.” Id.

Daugherty will no doubt argue that his fraudulent transfer claim is not subject to res judicata because he was not permitted to file his untimely Fourth Amended Counterclaim in the Texas Action. However, those pleadings (and his Summary Judgment Response) demonstrate that Daugherty could have brought the claims in the Texas Action. John Moore Servs., Inc., 500 S.W.3d at 42 (amended petition in prior action that named parties sued and claims brought in second suit presumptively established plaintiff could have added the parties and claims, despite the fact the untimely petition was struck). Daugherty requested leave to amend based on the fact he had allegedly learned about the Expense Allocation Agreement and the Third Amended LLC Agreement in July of 2013, including its “new capital account provisions” adopted by HERA Management. See Exhibit G at ¶¶ 4-5. Daugherty alleged the adoption of the agreements “had the effect of zeroing out any economic interest held by Daugherty in HERA,” and “that his interest in HERA had been...economically eliminated and...could not be restored even if he were to prevail in this lawsuit.” Id. As in Moore, Daugherty’s decision to forego amendment of his pleadings until the eve of trial was within his control, and cannot defeat the application of res judicata. John Moore Servs., Inc., 500 S.W.3d at 42.

THIS DOCUMENT IS CONFIDENTIAL AND FILED UNDER SEAL.
EXCEPT BY PRIOR COURT ORDER.

3. Res Judicata Should Bar Daugherty's Claim as a Matter of Public Policy

Res judicata also applies, for reasons of “public policy.” See Orloff v. Schulman, 2005 WL 3272355, at *9 (Del. Ch. Nov. 23, 2005). “Courts need not spare plaintiffs from the bar of res judicata if the important purposes of judicial efficiency and finality that the doctrine serves would be foiled.” Id. Analogous to the case at bar, the Orloff court found the complaint in the prior New York action alleged “substantially identical breaches of fiduciary duty as those raised in the current case,” noting “[a]lthough the Delaware claims were “superficially different,” with different reasons why the actions constituted breach, “such claims are plainly of the same kind and about the same transaction advanced in the New York action.” Id. Just as in Orloff, “to allow [Daugherty] to proceed with a derivative suit would be to cut the heart out of the previous adjudication, conducted at great length and expense in [Texas].” Id.

C. Counts I, III, and IV Are Likewise Barred by Collateral Estoppel

Issue preclusion, or collateral estoppel, prevents re-litigation of particular issues of fact or law already resolved in a prior suit. Barr, 837 S.W.2d at 628-29.

To establish collateral estoppel, a party must demonstrate that: (1) the facts sought to be litigated in the second action were fully and fairly litigated in the first action; (2) those facts were essential to the judgment in the first action; and (3) the parties were cast as adversaries in the first action. John G. & Marie Stella Kenedy Mem'l Found. v. Dewhurst, 90 S.W.3d 268, 288 (Tex. 2002); Bonniwell v. Beech Aircraft Corp., 663 S.W.2d 816, 818 (Tex. 1984) (holding collateral estoppel bars re-litigation of any ultimate issue of fact actually litigated and essential to judgment, regardless of whether second suit is based on same cause of action).

Like Delaware, Texas has rejected the mutuality requirement to apply collateral estoppel, meaning a defendant may invoke the doctrine even if it did not participate in the first suit: it is only necessary that the party against whom the plea of collateral estoppel is asserted be a party or in privity with a party in the prior litigation. John Moore Servs., Inc., 500 S.W.3d at 44; see also Columbia Cas. Co. v. Playtex FP, Inc., 584 A.2d 1214, 1217 (Del. 1991).

Here, because each of the four requirements is met, and because Daugherty was the Counter/Cross-Plaintiff in the Texas Action, he is estopped from asserting Counts I, III, and IV. While Daugherty has repackaged his allegations in new causes of action, the underlying factual assertions were fully litigated and determined in the Texas Action. Daugherty alleges HERA Management and Dondero breached their fiduciary duties, and Highland aided in such breach, by:

THIS DOCUMENT IS CONFIDENTIAL AND FILED UNDER SEAL.
EXCEPT BY PRIOR COURT ORDER.

- (i) adopting the February 1, 2013 Third HERA LLC Agreement, which “eliminated the purpose for which [HERA] was created; the requirement of [HERA] to make cash distributions to unit holders to cover pass-through tax obligations attributable to [HERA]; and members’ rights to indemnification.” Compl. ¶¶ 33, 93
- (ii) executing the February 1, 2013 Expense Allocation Agreement, “under which the parties reallocated 93.4 percent of Highland Capital’s purported legal expenses related to the Texas Action to [HERA].” Compl. ¶¶ 34, 94
- (iii) executing the April 30, 2013 Assignment Agreement, and simultaneously transferring HERA assets to Highland. Compl. ¶¶ 79, 93-95, 101-102.

The Texas Court considered each of these issues in, among other things, granting summary judgment in favor of Dondero and Highland and dismissing Daugherty’s claims for breach of fiduciary duty, shareholder oppression, conversion, breach of the covenant of good faith and fair dealing (with respect to Dondero only), and breach of the HERA Agreement. See Exhibit F. This is confirmed by Daugherty’s Summary Judgment Response, filed in the Texas Action. See Exhibit B; see also Exhibit G (Fourth Amended Counterclaim), at Ex. B ¶ 134 (“[A]t some indeterminate point in 2013, HERA transferred all of its assets to [Highland] or an affiliate of [Highland], leaving no assets to HERA to satisfy claims against HERA or its liabilities, or to satisfy Daugherty’s 19.097% vested interest in HERA’s Series A Preferred Units.”); ¶ 174 (“The unilateral decisions of [Highland] and HERA to amend the Agreement, on each of the several occasions in February 2012, January 2013 and February 2013...divested Daugherty of his valuable, vested ownership interest in HERA...”). A final judgment is conclusive of all issues that are raised in the pleadings. See Samedan Oil Corp. v. Louis Dreyfus Nat. Gas Corp., 52 S.W.3d 788, 794 (Tex. Ct. App. 2001, pet. denied).

THIS DOCUMENT IS CONFIDENTIAL AND FILED UNDER SEAL.

While Daugherty failed to assert fraudulent transfer in the Texas Action, this suit indisputably arises from the same nucleus of facts, and the facts were essential to the judgment therein. In his Complaint, Daugherty states that it was the 2012 amendment to the HERA Agreement that granted HERA’s Board sole discretion to withhold escrowed funds from a prevailing litigating member, which was the primary basis of his claims in the Texas Action. Compl. ¶ 24(b). Daugherty further admits that the funds in question were transferred out of HERA as of February 1, 2013 and April 30, 2013—allegations that were likewise asserted in the Texas Action. Compl. ¶¶ 34, 37.

Daugherty cannot use these same rejected factual allegations to seek new remedies in this Court, even if he has provided more detail in his Complaint than that provided in the Texas Action. “[T]he underlying conduct is what is at issue, not whether the [c]omplaint raises additional facts, or a more compelling characterization of those facts, regarding the same conduct previously at large.” Asbestos Workers Local 42 Pension, 2015 WL 2455469, at *15 (dismissing claims based on collateral estoppel upon finding issues were previously litigated in New York action and rejecting plaintiffs' argument that controlling facts were more developed and pled more compellingly in the Delaware action than in prior action).

II. Count I Must be Dismissed: Daugherty's Fraudulent Transfer Claim is Time Barred and Insufficiently Pled

A. *The Four-Year Statute of Limitations on Fraudulent Transfer Should be Applied to Count I

The Court of Chancery generally analyzes questions of time bars under the equitable doctrine of laches. TrustCo Bank v. Mathews, 2015 WL 295373, at *5 (Del. Ch. Jan. 22, 2015). "Laches will prevent someone who slumbers on [his] rights and delays unreasonably in filing suit from being permitted to prosecute [his] claims." Id. Though statutes of limitations are not automatically controlling, "[a]bsent a tolling of the limitations period, a party's failure to file within the analogous period of limitations will be given great weight in deciding whether the claims are barred by laches." K&K Screw Products, L.L.C. v. Emerick Capital Inv., Inc., 2011 WL 3505354, at *14 (Del. Ch. Aug. 9, 2011). Indeed, "filing after the expiration of the analogous limitations period is presumptively an unreasonable delay for purposes of laches." Mathews, 2015 WL 295373, at *5.

A cause of action generally accrues at the time of the alleged harmful act. K&K Screw Products, 2011 WL 3505354, at *17. Claims for fraudulent transfer must be brought no later than four years after accrual. Id.; see also 6 Del. C. § 1309. Daugherty fully acknowledges in his Complaint that his fraudulent transfer claim accrued more than four years before the filing of this action, stating “[d]uring 2013 and 2014...Dondero, [HERA] Management, and Highland Capital caused [HERA] to fraudulently or otherwise wrongfully transfer its assets to Highland Capital, which purportedly left [HERA] insolvent.” Compl. at ¶ 5 (emphasis added). However, he then transparently attempts to sidestep the limitations period with accusations the transfer of funds held in escrow by Abrams & Bayliss to Highland in 2016 constitutes the fraudulent transfer (see Compl. at ¶ 79). Daugherty’s failure is that his claim is predicated on the final transfer (which, not surprisingly is the only transfer that is within the limitations period), rather than when the allegedly harmful act occurred.

The trail purportedly begins on December 26, 2012, when Dondero “schemed” to buy out all HERA unit holders in an attempt to gain control of HERA. Id. at ¶¶ 27–29. An Offer to Purchase was allegedly made to all unit holders, except Daugherty, on January 31, 2013. Id. at ¶ 32. All unit holders sold their units to Highland on or before February 15, 2013, when the Offers to Purchase were set to expire. Id. at ¶¶ 32, 37. Daugherty claims Highland used HERA funds to purchase the units, thus any fraudulent transfer claims based on these allegations are untimely as they were brought after February 15, 2017.

To the extent Daugherty claims that payment of money by HERA to Highland pursuant to the Expense Allocation Agreement constitutes a fraudulent transfer, such claims are also time barred as the alleged transfer occurred on February 1, 2013 and this action was not initiated until July 6, 2017. Id. at ¶ 34–35 and Ex. E at ¶ 3 (“In light of the foregoing reallocation, HERA shall immediately pay to HCMLP the amount of $1,056.727 to property [sic] effect such pro rata allocation.”).

Daugherty further claims that on April 30, 2013, Dondero executed an Assignment Agreement on behalf of Highland and HERA, giving Highland “sole economic interest in HERA” and transferring and registering certain assets to Highland. Id. at ¶ 38 and Ex. F § 1.1. These assets included HERA’s limited partner interest in Highland Restoration Capital Partners, L.P. and over 5,000 shares of NexPoint Credit Strategies Fund. See id. at Ex. A. Any claim for fraudulent transfer arising from the transfer of such assets pursuant to the Assignment Agreement should have been brought on or before April 30, 2017.<sup>4</sup>

THIS DOCUMENT IS CONFIDENTIAL AND FILED UNDER SEAL.

Notably, the “Escrow assets” that Daugherty claims were fraudulently transferred to Highland by Abrams & Bayliss were, in fact, a portion of the assets transferred to Highland pursuant to the April 30, 2013 Assignment Agreement. Pursuant to the Escrow Agreement, Highland agreed to deposit with Abrams & Bayliss, as Escrow Agent, over $1.2 million in cash, $1.8 million representing Highland Restoration Capital Partners limited partner interest, and the cash equivalent of 1088.42 shares of NexPoint Credit Strategies Deposit Assets. See Compl., Ex. G, Sch. 1. Thus, any claim that the Escrow assets were fraudulently transferred should have been brought by April 30, 2017, since the allegedly harmful act occurred on April 30, 2013, when the assets were originally transferred from HERA to Highland.

Furthermore, and despite Daugherty’s unsupported claims to the contrary, there was nothing nefarious about the December 2016 transfer. Pursuant to the Escrow Agreement, if Abrams & Bayliss resigned as Escrow Agent, they were required to deliver the Deposit Assets (aka Escrow assets) to any appointed successor escrow agent, or to the Depositor (Highland). See Compl., Ex. G, ¶ 5. Only then would Abrams & Bayliss be relieved of any obligations owed to Highland under the agreement. Id. Since Daugherty waited until February 16, 2017 to request the Deposit Assets from Abrams & Bayliss, they rightly returned the Deposit Assets to Highland.

B. *Daugherty's has not Pled His Fraudulent Transfer Claim with Sufficient Particularity

To maintain a cause of action for fraudulent transfer, Daugherty must show the transfer was made: “(1) with actual intent to hinder, delay or defraud any creditor of the debtor; or (2) without receiving a reasonably equivalent value in exchange for the transfer or obligation,” and HERA either (a) was insolvent or became insolvent as a result of the transfer, (b) was about to engage in a transaction for which its remaining assets were unreasonably small, or (c) intended to or reasonably should have believed it would incur debts beyond its ability to pay. 6 Del. Code § 1304(a). Any claim of fraud must be pled with particularity. Del. Ch. Ct. R. 9(b).

The Complaint alleges no specific facts that the transfer of Escrow assets, let alone any of HERA's assets, was made “with the actual intent to hinder, delay, or defraud” Daugherty. It is likewise devoid of allegations of an inadequate exchange. Instead, the claim seems to be founded on HERA's admission that it is insolvent. See Compl. ¶¶ 73–81. However, it was not the transfer of Escrow assets that allegedly left HERA insolvent, as Daugherty contends. Rather, HERA had a “negative net worth” as of September 19, 2014, more than two years prior to the transfer of Escrow assets. See Compl. at Ex. I. Thus, if one follows the trail laid out in Daugherty’s Complaint, HERA became insolvent because (1) its funds were used to buy out unit holders in February 2013; (2) its funds were used to pay for Highland’s attorneys’ fees pursuant to the Expense Allocation Agreement dated February 1, 2013; and (3) its assets were transferred and registered to Highland on April 30, 2013, in exchange for sole economic interest in HERA. Because of the lack of factual allegations supporting a reasonably conceivable finding of unequal exchange and insolvency, or particular facts suggesting fraud, Daugherty’s claims for fraudulent transfer should be dismissed. See Renco Group, Inc. v. MacAndrews AMG Holdings LLC, 2015 WL 394011, at *10-11 (Del. Ch. Jan. 29, 2015).

EXCEPT BY PRIOR COURT ORDER.

C. Daugherty Fails to Plead Allegations Sufficient to Support a Finding of Alter Ego as to Dondero

Delaware courts are loathe to disregard the existence of a corporate entity. Yu v. GSM Nation, LLC, 2017 WL 2889515, at *3 (Del. Ch. Jul. 7, 2017) (quoting Wallace ex rel. Cencom Cable Income P’rs II, Inc., L.P. v. Wood, 752 A.2d 1175, 1183 (Del. Ch. 1999)). Until sufficient reason exists, the legal entity of a corporation “will not be disturbed.” Mason v. Network of Wilmington, Inc., 2005 WL 1653954, at * 2 (Del. Ch. Jul. 1, 2005). Only “in the interest of justice, when such matters as fraud, contravention of law or contract, public wrong, or where equitable consideration among members of the corporation require it” will corporate form be disregarded and individuals held personally liable. Id. (quoting Pauley Petroleum Inc. v. Cont’l Oil Co., 239 A.2d 629, 633 (Del. 1968)).

A decision to disregard the corporate entity generally results not from a single factor, but rather some combination of them, and “an overall element of injustice or unfairness must always be present, as well.” EBG Hldgs. LLC v. Vredezicht’s Gravenhage 109 B. V., 2008 WL 4057745, at *12 (Del. Ch. Sep. 2, 2008). Daugherty “must prove that some ‘fraud or injustice’ would be perpetrated through misuse of the corporate form.” MicroStrategy Inc. v. Acacia Research Corp., 2010 WL 5550455, at *11 (Del. Ch. Dec. 30, 2010). “[T]he fraud or injustice must consist of something more than the alleged wrong in the complaint and relate to a misuse of the corporate structure.” Id. “Effectively, the corporation must be a sham and exist for no other purpose than as a vehicle for fraud.” Yu, 2017 WL 2889515, at *3 (citing Wood, at 1184).

For these reasons Delaware courts are not hesitant to dismiss alter ego/corporate veil piercing claims. See, e.g., Maloney-Refaie v. Bridge at Sch., Inc., 958 A.2d 871, 881 (Del. Ch. 2008) (dismissing alter ego claim of personal jurisdiction where “nothing suggests that the [alter ego defendant] used [the primary defendant's corporate form] to perpetrate a fraud”); Medi-Tec of Egypt Corp. v. Bausch & Lomb Surgical, 2004 WL 415251, at *4 (Del. Ch. Mar. 4, 2004) (dismissing “MediTec’s alter ego argument ... because it has not alleged that the corporate form in and of itself operates to serve some fraud or injustice”).

Here, Daugherty does not allege that HERA is “a sham and exist[s] for no other purpose than as a vehicle for fraud.” Indeed, the Complaint lacks any allegation that HERA Management was created solely to commit a fraud. Instead, Daugherty includes various allegations that Dondero, as President of HERA Management, took various actions. Compl. ¶¶ 30, 33, 34, 38, 40. Then Daugherty makes a conclusory allegation that HERA Management is Dondero’s alter ego. Id. ¶ 92. Such conclusory allegations are insufficient to survive this Motion. See MicroStrategy, at *12 (dismissing alter ego claim and stating “[h]ere, the Complaint merely pleads in a conclusory fashion that DAS is the alter ego of ARC...it merely pleads that the two corporations took actions that allegedly constitute breaches of contract and fraud without asserting any facts suggesting that such wrongs arose out of a ‘misuse of the corporate structure’”).

Even if Daugherty had pled sufficient facts to establish that Dondero was the alter ego of HERA Management, the Complaint lacks any allegations of fraud or inequity. Delaware law requires that a plaintiff demonstrate the presence of fraud or injustice in the “use of the corporate form.” Quantum Loyalty Sys., Inc. v. TPG Rewards, Inc., 2009 WL 5184350, at *7 (D. Del. Dec. 23, 2009), report and recommendation adopted as modified, 2010 WL 1337621 (D. Del. Mar. 31, 2010). The Complaint fails to demonstrate disregard of the corporate structure that would justify holding Dondero responsible for the acts of HERA Management. Id. (allegations that individual is the President and CEO, has caused corporation to pay taxes to Delaware, and has “taken steps” to secure and enforce the intellectual property rights in the patent application, insufficient to establish alter ego).

Attempts to persuade this court to disregard the corporate entity and allow Daugherty to “collect his judgment from [ ] Dondero” because HERA has failed to satisfy its judgment and allegedly lacks the funds to do so are likewise unavailing. See Compl. ¶ 81. A showing of mere insolvency is not sufficient to allow piercing of the corporate veil. Mason, 2005 WL 1653954, at * 3. “If creditors could enter judgments against shareholders every time that a corporation becomes unable to pay its debts as they become due, the limited liability characteristic of the corporate form would be meaningless.” Id. Thus, insolvency is just one factor to be considered, rather than a dispositive factor as Daugherty suggests. See id. at *4 (“insolvency by itself does not warrant piercing the corporate veil”).

III. Count II Must be Dismissed: Daugherty Fails to Plead that HERA Cannot Fulfill its Purpose and Any Claim Regarding the 2013 Amendment to HERA's Operating Agreement is Time Barred

Count II seeks judicial dissolution of HERA under 6 Del. C. § 18-802 but proceeds from allegations that are not true, adopts a reading of the LLC Act that is incorrect and depends upon Daugherty sidestepping the statute of limitations applicable to any claims arising from the adoption of the Third Amended LLC Agreement.

Daugherty claims that he is the “sole remaining unit holder of” HERA. See Compl. at ¶ 85. Daugherty knows that is not true; in fact, he alleges as much elsewhere in the Complaint. See id. at ¶ 37. Indeed, the allegation makes no sense: If Daugherty were the sole remaining unit holder of HERA, he would have the power to control and dissolve the entity himself. Instead, he improperly asks this Court to grant him that power. Daugherty claims that the purchase of the other units of HERA by Highland was invalid. See id. at ¶ 85. Yet he presents no basis upon which those transfers were invalid under any of the operating agreements of HERA, the LLC Act or any upon other basis. This is the epitome of the conclusory allegation (or conclusion of law) this Court is not required to accept at the motion to dismiss stage. See Thermopylae, 2016 WL 368170, at *9.

A. *Daugherty Fails to Allege that HERA Cannot Carry on with Business in Conformity with the Third Amended LLC Agreement

Section 18-802 of the LLC Act provides that this Court “may decree dissolution of a limited liability company whenever it is not reasonably practicable to carry on the business in conformity with a limited liability company agreement.” 6 Del. C. § 18-802 (emphasis supplied). The LLC Act does not say that dissolution is proper when the entity cannot carry on the business for which it was originally established. Rather, it refers to the current operating agreement of the entity.

“[I]n determining whether it is reasonably practicable to carry on the business of the LLC, the Court must look to the purpose clause set forth in the governing agreements...” In re Seneca Inv. LLC, 970 A.2d 259, 262 (Del. Ch. 2008) (citations omitted). As this Court has recognized, “a corporation may be formed and maintained as a passive instrumentality—for example, an entity that does no more than take and hold title to tangible investments is a commonly encountered phenomenon.” Id. (quoting Giancarlo v. OG Corp., 1989 WL 72022, at *4 (Del. Ch. June 23, 1989)).

Here, the controlling operating agreement—the Third Amended LLC Agreement—provides that the purpose of HERA is “to do all such things for which limited liability companies may be formed under the [LLC] Act.” See Compl., Ex. D at § 2.1. Daugherty does not allege that HERA cannot fulfill this purpose. Rather, he alleges that HERA cannot fulfill the purpose set forth in previous iterations of HERA’s operating agreement. See id. at ¶ 86. Daugherty improperly relies on agreements that are no longer the governing agreement of HERA in order to seek the extreme remedy of non-consensual judicial dissolution. See Wiggs v. Summit Midstream Partners, LLC, 2013 WL 1286180, at *13 (Del. Ch. Mar. 28, 2013) (“Dissolution is an extreme remedy to be applied only when it is no longer reasonably practicable for the company to operate in accordance with its founding documents.”) quoting In re Arrow Inv. Advisors, LLC, 2009 WL 1101682, at *1 (Del. Ch. Apr. 23, 2009)). Moreover, Daugherty’s own allegations establish that HERA was established to passively hold assets. Compl. at ¶¶ 15-16. There is no allegation in the Complaint that HERA cannot perform that same function now or in the future.

B. *The Court Cannot Disregard Section 2.1 of the Third Amended LLC Agreement on the Basis of Time Barred Allegations

Recognizing that Section 2.1 of the Third Amended LLC Agreement disposes of Count II of the Complaint, Daugherty argues that the adoption of that provision four years and five months before the filing of the Complaint breached either a fiduciary duty owed to Daugherty by Dondero (the source of which goes unmentioned) or the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing (the last refuge for every poorly pled claim). See Compl. at ¶ 88. As to either assertion, however, any claim premised upon the amendment of Section 2.1 of the Second Amended LLC Agreement through adoption of the Third Amended LLC Agreement is barred by the doctrine of laches and the applicable statute of limitations.

With regard to the assertion that Dondero breached a fiduciary duty owed to Daugherty, any such claim is barred by the doctrine of laches. A claim of breach of fiduciary duty arising from a contract accrues when that contract is adopted. See Sutherland v. Sutherland, 2010 WL 1838968, at *8 (Del. Ch. May 3, 2010) (“A claim for breach of fiduciary duty accrues at the time of the wrongful act. When the wrongful act involves a contractual obligation, the claim accrues at the time when ‘enforceable rights are created.’” citing Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. v. AIG Life Ins. Co., 860 A.2d 312, 319 (Del. 2004) and quoting Kahn v. Seaboard Corp., 625 A.2d 269, 271 (Del. Ch. 1993)); In re Mobilactive Media, LLC, 2013 WL 297950, at *10 (Del. Ch. Jan. 25, 2013) (same). Here, the Third Amended LLC Agreement was adopted on February 1, 2013 and, therefore, any fiduciary duty claim arose on that date.

THIS DOCUMENT IS CONFIDENTIAL AND FILED UNDER SEAL.

Similarly, a claim for breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing accrues at the time of the alleged wrong, even if plaintiff is ignorant of the wrong. See In re Dean Witter P'ship Litig., 1998 WL 442456, at *4 (Del. Ch. Jul. 17, 1998); Lavender v. Koenig, 2017 WL 443696, at *3-4 (Del. Super. Ct. Feb. 1, 2017) (claim of breach of implied covenant arose when contract was breached, not when damages were incurred).<sup>5</sup> Here, the alleged wrong was the adoption of the Third Amended LLC Agreement on February 1, 2013.

The statute of limitations for both breach of fiduciary duty and breach of contract claims is three years. See 10 Del. C. § 8106(a).<sup>6</sup> Although the doctrine of laches does not directly apply the applicable statute of limitations, equity follows the law and in all but the most extraordinary circumstances will apply a statute of limitations by analogy. See, e.g., In re Dean Witter P'ship Litig., 1998 WL

<sup>6</sup> Because claims of breach of the implied covenant are breach of contract claims, they are subject to the same statute of limitations as breach of contract claims. See Connelly v. State Farm Mut. Auto. Ins. Co., 135 A.3d 1271, 1274-75 (Del. 2016) (because duty of good faith and fair dealing is "grounded in [the] contractual relationship ... a claim that the [defendant] breached the duty is subject to the three-year statute of limitations under 10 Del. Laches will bar a claim where (1) the plaintiff knows of the existence of the claim; (2) the plaintiff unreasonably delays in bringing that claim and (3) the plaintiff causes prejudice to the defendant. Gallagher, 2013 WL 1857552, at *2. Here, there is no doubt that Daugherty knew about the adoption of the Third Amended LLC Agreement at least three years prior to the filing of the Complaint. At a minimum, he obtained the agreement through discovery in the Texas Action in July of 2013. Exhibit B (Summary Judgment Response), ¶¶ 4-5. Second, Daugherty waited for over four years to allege that the adoption of the Third Amended LLC Agreement was in some way improper in this litigation. Third, Highland and HERA have spent $2.8 million fighting with Daugherty in the Texas Action over issues that are essentially the same as those raised in the Complaint. If Daugherty wanted to bring a claim based on the adoption of the Third Amended LLC Agreement, he should have done so in the Texas Action rather than sitting on his hands only to raise the issue now. The doctrine of laches would bar any claim Daugherty may have arising from the adoption of the Third Amended LLC Agreement and, therefore, he should not be permitted to use vague allegations of breach of fiduciary duty or breach of the implied covenant to salvage his dissolution claim. Count II of the Complaint must be dismissed.

IV. Count III Must be Dismissed Because Daugherty's Breach of Fiduciary Claim Arising from Actions Taken in February and April of 2013 is Time Barred, is Barred under the Third Amended LLC Agreement, and Fails to Identify a Fiduciary Duty Owed by Dondero

A. *The Three-Year Statute of Limitations on Breach of Fiduciary Duty Should be Applied to Count III of the Complaint

Count III of the Complaint is a claim for breach of fiduciary duty based on three specific acts: (i) the adoption of the February 1, 2013 Third Amended HERA LLC Agreement, (ii) the execution of the February 1, 2013 Expense Allocation Agreement, and (iii) the execution of the April 30, 2013 Assignment Agreement. Compl. ¶¶ 93-95. These acts inarguably took place more than three years prior to Daugherty filing his July 11, 2017 Complaint. As a result, the claims are barred by the doctrine of laches and must be dismissed. See supra Part III.B.

Any argument that the limitations period has been tolled because Daugherty did not discover these acts fail under the plain terms of the Complaint. Copies of each of the agreements underlying Daugherty's claim are included as Exhibits D, E, and F to the Complaint. Each agreement includes a sticker stating "Defendant's Exhibit" and an assigned number. That sticker indicates that Daugherty utilized those documents (i.e. he was fully apprised of the acts underlying his claims) in the Texas Action in 2013. See Exhibit I (Trial Ex. List) at Nos. 73, 75, and 79; Exhibit B (Summary Judgment Response) at Exs. B-16, B-17. Further, Daugherty admits he received these documents through discovery in the Texas Action on July 25, 2013. Exhibit G, at ¶¶ 4-5. Given Daugherty’s knowledge of the agreements, he is charged with notice of any impropriety of the actions contemplated thereby. See In re Tyson Foods, 919 A.2d at 585 (finding claims time-barred where plaintiff was aware of the contract, thus put on inquiry notice of the risks thereunder); Jepsco LTD. v. B.F. Rich Co., Inc., 2013 WL 593664, at *11 (Del. Ch. Feb. 14, 2013) (“The public filings ... provided Jepsco ample notice that the Underlying Action had been resolved in a way that materially could affect its rights as a shareholder of RRI.”); see also AM Gen. Holdings LLC v. The Renco Grp., Inc., 2016 WL 4440476, at *14 (Del. Ch. Aug. 22, 2016) (plaintiff must have been “demonstrably unaware” of injury for doctrine of inherently unknowable injuries to apply).

As set forth in his Complaint, Daugherty was also fully apprised of the fact that the adoption of the Second Amended LLC Agreement on February 16, 2012 opened the door for precisely the actions that Daugherty now complains of. Compl. ¶ 24 (Describing the new Article 12 and stating “even if the litigating member prevails, the Board has sole discretion to withhold the escrowed funds to cover any diminution in value to HERA ‘resulting from or in connection with’ the litigation, as determined by the Board in its sole discretion.” emphasis supplied). That was the entire basis of Daugherty’s counterclaims and third-party claims in the Texas Action. Daugherty provides no valid reason why he could not have brought suit concerning these 2013 agreements in a timely fashion, thus Count III of the Complaint is time-barred.

B. *HERA Management Does Not Owe Fiduciary Duties to HERA or its Members Under the Third Amended LLC Agreement

Under Delaware law, a claim for breach of fiduciary duty requires proof of two elements: (1) that a fiduciary duty existed and (2) that the defendant breached that duty. Beard Research, Inc. v. Kates, 8 A.3d 573, 601 (Del. Ch. 2010). Delaware courts have held that managers of a Delaware LLC owe traditional fiduciary duties of loyalty and care to the members of the LLC, unless the parties expressly modify or eliminate those duties in the LLC’s operating agreement. William Penn P’ship v. Saliba, 13 A.3d 749, 757 (Del. 2011). However, the LLC Act provides that a “limited liability company agreement may provide for the limitation or elimination of any and all liabilities for breach of contract and breach of duties (including fiduciary duties) of a member, manager or other person to a limited liability company....” 6 Del. C. § 18-1101(e).

THIS DOCUMENT IS CONFIDENTIAL AND FILED UNDER SEAL.
EXCEPT BY PRIOR COURT ORDER.

Taking advantage of the contractual freedom provided by the LLC Act, the Third Amended LLC Agreement provides:

To the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, no current or future officer of the Company nor the Initial Member or the Manager (“each an “Indemnitee”) shall be liable to the Company or any other third party (i) for mistakes of judgment, (ii) for any act or omission suffered or taken by it, (iii) for breach of fiduciary duty owed to the Company and/or its members or (iv) for losses due to any such mistakes, action, or inaction, or breach of fiduciary duty.

Compl., Ex. D § 8.1(a) (emphasis supplied).

The Third Amended LLC Agreement properly absolves members and managers of HERA, including HERA Management, from liability for any act or omission to the maximum extent permitted by the law, defeating Daugherty’s claim.

C. Daugherty’s Allegations are Insufficient to Establish Dondero Owed any Fiduciary Duty to Daugherty

Even absent the disclaimer, Daugherty’s claim for breach of fiduciary duty against Dondero fails because Daugherty does not identify any source of fiduciary duty that Dondero owed him. Daugherty does not contend Dondero was a manager or even a member of HERA. Instead, Daugherty relies on allegations that “[H]ERA Management was nothing more than a mere instrumentality or alter ego of Dondero. Thus bound by the same duties and liable for the same acts as his alter ego.” Compl. ¶ 92. As set forth above, Daugherty’s Complaint fails to allege sufficient facts for the Court to disregard HERA Management's corporate form.

See supra Part II.C. Therefore, this claim must be dismissed.

V. Count IV Must be Dismissed: Daugherty's Aiding and Abetting Claim Fails for the Same Reasons Count III Fails

Daugherty's claim for aiding and abetting breach of fiduciary duty asserted against Highland stems from the same conduct underlying his breach of fiduciary duty claim in Count III, namely the execution of the February 1, 2013 Third Amended LLC Agreement and the transfer made pursuant to the April 30, 2013 Assignment Agreement. Compl. ¶¶ 101, 102. Claims for aiding and abetting are subject to the same three year limitation period as fiduciary duty claims. Shandler v. DLJ Merch. Banking, Inc., 2010 WL 2929654, at *9, n. 88 (Del. Ch. July 26, 2010); see 10 Del. C. § 8106. It is immaterial that the alleged misconduct was the "receipt" of the assets distributed as a result of the execution of the Assignment Agreement, as Daugherty was put on notice of the transfer. See Seiden v. Kaneko, 2015 WL 7289338, at 9 (Del. Ch. Nov. 3, 2015) (claims time-barred when Lockup Agreement was publically disclosed prior to the limitations period, thereby putting plaintiff on notice of the transfer contemplated thereby and its impropriety); see also In re Tyson Foods, Inc., 919 A.2d at 585; Jepsco, 2013 WL 593664, at *11. Accordingly, this claim is likewise time-barred for the reasons set forth above.

VI. Count V Must be Dismissed: Daugherty Failed to Identify the Contract Allegedly Breached, Failed to Identify a Specific Contractual Obligation That Was Breached and Failed to Timely Assert this Claim

Count V fails for the following reasons: (1) it fails to identify the contract allegedly breached; (2) it fails to identify a specific obligation of the unspecified contract that was breached and (3) it is barred by the statute of limitations.

A. *Count V Fails to Identify the Contract Allegedly Breached

A covenant of good faith and fair dealing is implied in every contract under Delaware law, but the party asserting a breach of an implied covenant needs to at least identify the contract that has been breached.

In Paragraph 111 of the Complaint, Daugherty alleges that “[t]he adoption by Highland ERA Management, on the date of its formation, and Dondero of the Third Amended and Restated Agreement of [HERA] was a breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing.” Compl. at ¶ 111 (emphasis supplied). In Paragraph 112, Daugherty alleges that “[t]he execution of the Expense Allocation Agreement by Highland ERA Management, on the date of its formation, and Dondero” breached the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing. Id. at ¶ 112 (emphasis supplied). And in Paragraph 113, Daugherty alleges that “[t]he execution by Highland ERA Management and Dondero of the April 30, 2013

THIS DOCUMENT IS CONFIDENTIAL AND FILED UNDER SEAL.
EXCEPT BY PRIOR COURT ORDER.

Assignment Agreement” was breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing. Id. at ¶ 113.

Each of these allegations fails to answer an obvious question: What contract was allegedly breached? Perhaps the HERA Agreement or Second Amended LLC Agreement? That cannot be, as neither HERA Management nor Dondero were parties to those agreements. See Compl., Exs. A and C.<sup>7</sup> In fact, as Daugherty emphasizes, HERA Management did not even exist when the HERA Agreement and Second Amended LLC Agreement were executed. See Compl. at ¶¶ 33, 111 and 112. Or perhaps Daugherty is referring to the Third Amended LLC Agreement, Expense Allocation Agreement and Assignment Agreement themselves? That makes little sense. It cannot be the case that the act of adopting a contract breaches the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing inherent in that same contract. Because Daugherty never identifies the contract that has allegedly been breached, Count V must be dismissed.

THIS DOCUMENT IS CONFIDENTIAL AND FILED UNDER SEAL.

B. *Daugherty Fails to Identify a Specific Implied Provision in Whatever Contract He is Claiming Was Breached

The party asserting a claim of breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing must identify a specific implied contractual obligation that has been breached. See, e.g., Fortis Advisors, LLC v. Dialog Semiconductor PLC, 2015 WL 401371, at *4-5 (Del. Ch. Jan. 30, 2015) (dismissing claim where compliant “failed to identify any implied contract term that [the party] would have this Court read into the” contract); Narrowstep, Inc. v. Onstream Media, Inc., 2010 WL 5422405, at *11 (Del. Ch. Dec. 22, 2010) (implied covenant claim must identify “a specific implied contractual obligation” that was breached). Daugherty will tell this Court that he has identified such a term: a duty on the party of HERA Management and Dondero “to refrain from arbitrary or unreasonable conduct that benefitted themselves at the expense of [HERA] and its unit holders.” Compl. at ¶ 110. This argument fails for at least two reasons.

First, the only way this duty exists at all is if it exists in the Third Amended LLC Agreement because, as discussed above, neither HERA Management nor Dondero are party to HERA’s previous operating agreements. But that agreement expressly disavows any fiduciary duties on the part of the manager of HERA to its unitholders. See Compl., Ex. D at § 8.1(a)(iii). Daugherty is effectively alleging that HERA Management and Dondero owed him a duty of loyalty. But the implied covenant cannot be used to add back into a contract what the contract itself expressly excludes. See Nemec v. Shrader, 991 A.2d 1120, 1127 (Del. 2010) (“The implied covenant will not infer language that contradicts a clear exercise of an express contractual right.”); Kuroda v. SPJS Holdings, L.L.C., 971 A.2d 872, 888 (Del. Ch. 2009) (implied covenant “cannot be invoked to override the express terms of the contract”).

Second, this allegation conflates the oft-stated purpose of the implied covenant doctrine with the formulation of an implied contractual term. See Nemec, 991 A.2d at 1127 (implied covenant “doctrine ‘requires a party in a contractual relationship to refrain from arbitrary or unreasonable conduct which has the effect of preventing the other party to the contract from receiving the fruits of the bargain’” (quoting Nemec v. Shrader, 2009 WL 1204346, at *5 (Del. Ch. Apr. 30, 2009))). This allegation is not the statement of an implied contractual provision and, therefore, Count V must be dismissed.

C. Count V is Barred by the Statute of Limitations

All of the acts on which Count V is based occurred either on February 1, 2013 or April 30, 2013. See Compl. at ¶¶ 33, 34, 38, 111, 112 and 113. The Complaint was not filed until July 6, 2017; over four years after the last act

THIS DOCUMENT IS CONFIDENTIAL AND FILED UNDER SEAL.

alleged. As discussed above, contract claims accrue on the date of the alleged breach. See supra Part III.B (and cases cited therein).

As discussed above, a claim of breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing is subject to the three-year statute of limitations on contract claims under 10 Del. C. § 8106(a). See supra Part III.B. Also, as discussed above, the Chancery Court typically applies the doctrine of laches rather than the statute of limitations. See supra Parts II.A and III.B. However, when a plaintiff asserts a purely legal claim and seeks purely legal relief, this Court will apply the statute of limitations to that claim, absent extraordinary circumstances. See Kraft v. WisdomTree Invs., Inc., 145 A.3d 969, 977-78 (Del. Ch. 2016) (“There is, in my view, logical force for strictly applying statutes of limitations in this situation because a plaintiff pressing a purely legal claim in the Court of Chancery should not be able to avoid the statute of limitations by invoking the doctrine of laches when the limitations period would have conclusively barred the same claim had it been brought in a court of law.”); CMS Inv. Holdings, LLC v. Castle, 2016 WL 4411328, at *2 (Del. Ch. Aug. 19, 2016) (“[W]here, as here, a plaintiff brings equitable and legal claims seeking only legal relief, the Court ‘will bar claims outside the limitations period absent tolling or extraordinary circumstances,’ even in the absence of demonstrable prejudice.” quoting Kraft, 145 A.3d at 983). A claim of breach of the implied covenant is a legal claim, not an equitable claim. See Kraft, 145 A.3d at 975; Testa v. Nixon Uniform Service, Inc., 2008 WL 4958861, at *3, n. 23 (Del Ch. Nov. 21, 2008) (“Estoppel, breach of contract and negligence are all legal claims”). Thus, if Daugherty is seeking a purely legal remedy, this Court should apply the three-year statute of limitations, without regard to laches, and dismiss Count V.

Daugherty never clearly identifies what remedy he is seeking on Count V. The claim itself contains no request for relief. The only related request for relief in the ad damnum clause is that this Court “declare that Highland ERA Management and Dondero breached the implied covenant of good faith and air dealing.” See Compl. p. 37 (item “i”). If all Daugherty is seeking is declaratory judgment, that is a legal remedy. See 10 Del. C. § 6501; Del. R. Super. Ct. 57; Traveler Cas. & Sur. Co. of Am. v. Colonial Sch. Dist., 2001 WL 287482, at *3 (Del. Ch. Mar. 16, 2001) (“both the Superior Court and this Court have jurisdiction over declaratory judgment actions”). Consequently, this Court should apply the three year statute of limitations and dismiss Count V with prejudice.

VII. Count VI Must be Dismissed: Daugherty’s Claim for Indemnification for Fees Incurred in Defending Claims that Were Non-Suited in 2014 Are Time Barred and Relate to Personal Obligations Not Performed in His Scope as a Highland Employee

A. *The Three Year Statute of Limitations on Contractual Indemnification Should be Applied to Count III of the Complaint

Contractual indemnification claims are subject to a three-year statute of limitations, which typically begins to run only after the party “entitled to indemnification can be confident any claim against him ... has been resolved with certainty.” Scharf v. Edgcomb Corp., 864 A.2d 909, 919 (Del. 2004) (internal quotation marks omitted). While “the question of when a claim for contractual indemnification accrues depends on the contractual language,” the law and policy developed in the 8 Del. C. § 145 context is instructive.

Generally, the matter on which the claim for indemnification is premised may be said to have been resolved with certainty only when the underlying investigation or litigation is definitely resolved. “The implicit rationale for this conclusion is that the person seeking indemnity should not have to rush in at the first possible moment but rather should be able to wait until the outcome of the underlying matter is certain.” A successful result on a claim for indemnification in the trial court, for example, does not cause the statute of limitations to begin running if an appeal is taken. Until the final judgment of the trial court withstands appellate review, the outcome of the underlying matter is not certain.

Branin v. Stein Roe Inv. Counsel, LLC, 2015 WL 4710321, at *4 (Del. Ch. July 31, 2015) (internal citations omitted). “The single, well-defined moment in time when the statute of limitations begins to run on claims for indemnification is when the outcome of the underlying matter is certain. This involves a two-part analysis. First, the underlying matter must be identified. Second, the date when the outcome of that underlying matter was resolved with certainty must be determined.” Scharf, 864 A.2d at 920.

The claims giving rise to Daugherty’s demand for contractual indemnification, and thus the underlying matter, were non-suited on January 14, 2014. Compl. ¶ 71 and Ex. M. Daugherty could be certain that the outcome of those claims was resolved on January 14, 2014, when the Texas Court entered an order granting Highland’s notice of non-suit. Id.; see also Exhibit J (Jan. 14, 2014 Order of Nonsuit and Dismissal Without Prejudice). As a result, the indemnification claims are time-barred, as they were brought three years and six months after resolution of the underlying claims. See supra Part III.B; see also O’Brien v. IAC/Interactive Corp., 2009 WL 2490845, at *7 (Del. Ch. Aug. 14, 2009) (applying 3-year statute of limitations to former corporate officer’s indemnification and advancement claims). There are no “unusual or extraordinary circumstances” warranting an extension of the three-year statute of limitations in this case.

B. *Contractual Indemnification is Inapplicable Because the Alleged Claims Relate to Daugherty's Personal, Contractual Obligations

Daugherty's claim for expenses must also be dismissed because the underlying claims he seeks indemnification for implicate Daugherty's personal obligations under his employment agreement rather than his legal obligations as a former corporate officer of Highland's General Partner.

The Second Amended and Restated Agreement of Limited Partnership of Highland explicitly limits indemnification rights to situations where an employee/officer/director is compelled to defend an "official capacity" claim. See Compl., Ex. K §§ 4.1(h). As such, disputes involving Daugherty's and Highland's employee-employer relationship, including issues regarding Daugherty's poor performance, violation of company policies or breach of employment contract, that are "characterized as personal" and not directed at Daugherty's "'official capacity' as an officer and director are not subject to...indemnification." Stifel Fin. Corp. v. Cochran, 809 A.2d 555, 562 (Del. 2002).

When a corporate officer signs an employment contract committing to fill an office, he is acting in a personal capacity in an adversarial, arms-length transaction. To the extent that he binds himself to certain obligations under that contract, he owes a personal obligation to the corporation. When the corporation brings a claim and proves its entitlement to relief because the officer has breached his individual obligations, it is problematic to conclude that the suit has been rendered an "official capacity" suit subject to indemnification...Such a conclusion would render the officer's duty to perform his side of the contract in many respects illusory.

Id.; see also Weaver v. ZeniMax Media, Inc., 2004 WL 243163, at *3-4 (Del. Ch. Jan. 30, 2004) (dismissing advancement claim, finding claims alleged against former officer, including “fail[ure] to devote his full time and efforts to the business of the Company,” were “in the nature of an employment dispute, based on a personal obligation” and the underlying conduct did not require use of “entrusted corporate powers”) (emphasis added); Charney v. Am. Apparel, Inc., 2015 WL 5313769, at *16 (Del. Ch. Sep. 11, 2015) (no corporate power was used or abused, thus indemnity provision was not triggered, by employee trying to influence stockholders, disparaging the company, and seeking to replace directors).

Here, the non-suited breach of contract claims that Highland asserted against Daugherty in the Texas Action were personal and not based on conduct that required use of corporate power as an officer—unlike the breach of fiduciary duty claims, which Highland prevailed on. See Mooney v. Echo Therapeutics, Inc., 2015 WL 3413272, at *8 (Del. Ch. May 28, 2015) (noting Weaver involved two discrete categories: (i) breach of fiduciary duty claims relating to mismanagement of the officer's department, for were subject to indemnification, and (ii) breach of contract claims relating to excessive vacation time and improper expense reimbursements, which were not subject to indemnification). Specifically, the claims at issue related “to Daugherty’s agreement to devote all of his time, energy, skill and best effort to the performance of his duties and to the business of Highland and to perform his duties in a diligent, trustworthy, and business-like manner for the purpose of advancing the business of Highland.” Compl., Ex. M. Thus, the claims are “in the nature of an employment dispute, based on a personal obligation [Daugherty] owed to the corporation” and it “did not give rise to claims ‘by reason of the fact’ that [Daugherty] was an officer and director” of Highland. Weaver, 2004 WL 243163, at *3 and *5. Accordingly, Daugherty’s claim for indemnification of relating to non-suited claims in the Texas Action should be dismissed as a matter of law.

VIII. Count VII, Which Arises From the Same Conduct Underlying Count VI, Must be Dismissed for the Same Reasons Count VI Fails

While less than articulate, through Count VII, Daugherty seeks recovery of fees incurred in prosecuting Count VI. Because Daugherty is not entitled to fees under Count VI based on the fatal flaws set forth above, he is not entitled to recovery of fees incurred in his unsuccessful pursuit of same. Such an award is only warranted “to the extent [Daugherty] prevail[s] in [his] claim to enforce a contractual right to advancement.” Imbert v. LCM Interest Holding LLC, 2013 WL 1934563, at *11 (Del. Ch. May 7, 2013). If the Court dismisses Daugherty’s claim for advancement or a portion thereof, then Daugherty cannot seek “fees on fees” for the pursuit of such infirm claims. See Fasciana v. Elec. Data Sys. Corp., 829 A.2d 178, 179 (Del. Ch. 2003) (an award of fees on fees are limited to reasonable expenses actually incurred and “those expenses reasonably proportionate to the level of success he achieved” in the underlying official capacity claims).

CONCLUSION

Defendants respectfully request that the Court grant their Motion to Dismiss and enter an order dismissing all claims or causes of action that Daugherty (either for himself or in the name of HERA) has asserted in this suit.

INTRODUCTION

On December 1, 2016, a Texas appellate court affirmed a judgment in favor of Patrick Daugherty against Highland Employee Retention Assets LLC (“Highland Employee Retention Assets” or “HERA”) in the amount of $2.6 million plus interest in the action captioned Highland Capital Management, L.P. v. Daugherty, 12-04005, District Court of Dallas County, Texas, 68th Judicial District (Dallas) (the “Texas Action”).

The next day, December 2, 2016, unknown to Daugherty, the defendants, Highland Employee Retention Assets, Highland Capital Management, L.P. (“Highland Capital”), Highland ERA Management LLC (“Highland ERA Management”), and James Dondero (collectively, “Defendants”), fraudulently transferred to Highland Capital assets of Highland Employee Retention Assets that were reserved to satisfy Daugherty’s judgment.

The fraudulent transfer was accomplished when non-party Abrams & Bayliss, LLP (“Abrams & Bayliss”), the agent of the escrow in which the assets were held, resigned the day after Daugherty’s judgment was affirmed. The surreptitious resignation diverted the assets to Highland Capital instead of Highland Employee Retention Assets. With the assets now in Highland Capital's possession, Highland Employee Retention Assets claims to be insolvent and unable to satisfy Daugherty's judgment. Through this action, Daugherty seeks to collect his judgment.

Daugherty also seeks redress, on behalf of himself and nominal defendant Highland Employee Retention Assets, against Highland ERA Management, Dondero, and Highland Capital for transactions that occurred during the Texas Action by which Highland ERA Management, Dondero, and Highland Capital purported to strip all the value of Highland Employee Retention Assets and its sole remaining member, Daugherty, for themselves. With the Texas Action resolved, and Defendants' argument that Daugherty is no longer a member of Highland Employee Retention Assets rejected by the Texas courts, Daugherty is in a position to pursue these claims.

Finally, Daugherty seeks indemnification and fees on fees under the partnership agreement of Highland Capital for attorneys' fees and expenses he incurred in the Texas Action in successfully defending accusations concerning his tenure as a partner and senior executive of Highland Capital.

Defendants moved to dismiss Daugherty's complaint. For the reasons discussed below, it is reasonably conceivable that Daugherty will prevail on each of his claims. Defendants' motion should be denied.

NATURE AND STAGE OF PROCEEDINGS

Daugherty filed his complaint (“Compl.”) on July 6, 2017. Defendants moved to dismiss the complaint on August 23, 2017, and filed their opening brief (“OB”) on September 22, 2017.

COUNTERSTATEMENT OF FACTS

These facts are from the complaint and documents incorporated in the complaint or publicly available. See In re Wheelabrator Tech. Inc. S’holders Litig., 1992 WL 212595, at *12 (Del. Ch. Sept. 1, 1992).

A. The Parties

Daugherty resides in Dallas, Texas. He was a partner and senior executive of Highland Capital and certain of its affiliates from 1998 until 2011, when he resigned. Compl. ¶ 10.

Highland Capital is a Delaware limited partnership with its principal place of business in Dallas, Texas. Dondero is a co-founder of Highland Capital and controls Highland Capital. Id. ¶ 11.

Highland Employee Retention Assets is a Delaware limited liability company that was formed on June 23, 2009. Id. ¶ 12.

Highland ERA Management, a Delaware limited liability company, was formed on February 1, 2013. Id. ¶ 13. Dondero is the president and sole member of Highland ERA Management. Id.

B. History of Highland Employee Retention Assets

Highland Capital performed poorly during the 2008-2009 financial crisis. Id. ¶ 14. It had very little cash and available assets for incentive-compensation purposes. Id. Highland Employee Retention Assets was created by Highland Capital to curb employee resignations by offering employees a replacement of their deferred compensation that was awarded on February 27, 2009. Id.

Highland Employee Retention Assets was intended to be an independent (from Highland Capital) standalone entity to retain, reward, and incentivize Highland Capital's employees (excluding Dondero and co-founder Mark Okada) by granting them equity-like awards in funds and then distributing the proceeds of those interests to the employees in their capacity as unit holders of Highland Employee Retention Assets. Id. ¶ 15.

Under the Limited Liability Company Agreement of Highland Employee Retention Assets LLC dated October 26, 2009, the purpose of Highland Employee Retention Assets

shall be to receive and hold assets to be contributed by [Highland Capital] and to distribute the proceeds of such assets from time to time to certain employees of [Highland Capital] (or of affiliates of [Highland Capital], as applicable) as the Board may from time to time determine in order to create a retention initiative for such employees and to engage in such other lawful purposes and activities in connection with the foregoing.

Compl. Ex. A, § 2.1.

Daugherty became a member of Highland Employee Retention Assets on October 26, 2009. Compl. ¶ 18. He was awarded 1,571.86 preferred units and was the largest holder in Highland Employee Retention Assets. Id. ¶ 19. His ownership percentage increased as other employees resigned from Highland Capital prior to vesting. Id. ¶ 20. He remains a member and holds 1,909.69 vested preferred units. Id.

C. Daugherty's Resignation and the Subsequent Texas Action

Daugherty resigned from Highland Capital on September 28, 2011. Id. ¶ 21. At the time of his resignation, Daugherty was a director of Highland Employee Retention Assets. Id.

On February 16, 2012, all the directors of Highland Employee Retention Assets except Daugherty removed Daugherty as a director. Compl. Ex. B; Compl. ¶ 22. Immediately thereafter, the newly composed board executed a Second Amended and Restated Agreement (drafted by Thomas Surgent, Highland Capital's assistant general counsel and chief compliance officer) (the "2012 Agreement"). Compl. Ex. C; Compl. ¶ 22.

On April 11, 2012, Highland Capital commenced the Texas Action against Daugherty. Compl. ¶ 25. Daugherty responded with counterclaims against Highland Capital, Highland Employee Retention Assets, and others, alleging breach of contract and breach of the covenant of good faith and fair dealing against Highland Employee Retention Assets and Highland Capital based on the 2012 Amendment.<sup>1</sup> Id. ¶ 26.

D. During the Texas Action, Dondero Purportedly Seized Control of Highland Employee Retention Assets

During the Texas Action, Dondero sought to gain control of Highland Employee Retention Assets by having Highland Capital buy preferred units of Highland Employee Retention Assets held by current and former employees of Highland Capital. Id. ¶ 27.

On December 26, 2012, Dondero schemed with Ted Dameris, then a board member of Highland Employee Retention Assets and an employee of Highland Capital, to “offer everyone except 1 a buyout offer at 100% cash and 40% discount on” non-cash assets. Id. ¶ 28.

On January 18 and 31, 2013, Highland Capital offered all Highland Employee Retention Assets preferred unit holders except 1—Daugherty—to purchase their preferred units for 100 percent of the value of their cash interests and 60 percent of the value of their non-cash interests. Id. ¶ 29.

On January 17 and 18, 2013, the board of Highland Employee Retention Assets collaborated with Dondero to transfer the powers of the board to Highland ERA Management. Id. ¶ 30.

On January 19, 2013, the board members of Highland Employee Retention Assets resigned after each received a buyout offer from Highland Capital, and Highland ERA Management purportedly became the sole manager of Highland Employee Retention Assets. Id. ¶ 31.

Highland ERA Management was formed on February 1, 2013. Id. ¶ 33. It purportedly engaged in three transactions that Daugherty challenges in this action. At the time of the challenged transactions, all Highland Employee Retention Assets preferred unit holders except Daugherty purportedly had sold their preferred units to Highland Capital. Id. ¶ 37. Upon information and belief, Highland Capital used Highland Employee Retention Assets' funds, not solely its own funds, to purchase the preferred units. Id.

First, on February 1, 2013, the date that Highland ERA Management was formed under Delaware law, Highland ERA Management purportedly executed the Third Amended and Restated Agreement of Highland Employee Retention Assets (the “2013 Agreement”), without the consent of Daugherty, which eliminated (1) the purpose for which Highland Employee Retention Assets was created, (2) the requirement of Highland Employee Retention Assets to make cash distributions to preferred unit holders to cover pass-through tax obligations attributable to Highland Employee Retention Assets, and (3) members’ rights to indemnification. Compl. Ex. D; Compl. ¶ 33.

Second, on February 1, 2013, Highland ERA Management purportedly executed an Expense Allocation Agreement on behalf of Highland Capital and Highland Employee Retention Assets, without the consent of Daugherty, under which the parties reallocated 93.4 percent of Highland Capital’s purported legal expenses related to the Texas Action to Highland Employee Retention Assets. Compl. ¶ 34; Compl. Ex. E. Highland Capital supposedly incurred $1,142,284 in legal expenses in the Texas Action as of December 31, 2012, compared to $154,029 incurred by Highland Employee Retention Assets over the same period. Compl. ¶ 35.

Third, on April 30, 2013, Highland ERA Management purportedly executed an Assignment Agreement, without the consent of Daugherty, declaring that Highland Capital held the “sole economic interest in [Highland Employee Retention Assets].” Compl. ¶ 38; Compl. Ex. F. The Assignment Agreement further resolved that “[Highland Capital] and [Highland Employee Retention Assets] have each determined that it is in their respective best interest” to transfer substantially all the assets of Highland Employee Retention Assets as “in-kind distribution[s]” to Highland Capital (then valued at approximately $9,700,000). Id. ¶ 39.

E. Daugherty’s Texas Judgment and the Disappearing Assets of Highland Employee Retention Assets

In December 2013, approximately one month before trial in the Texas Action, Daugherty’s Highland Employee Retention Assets interests, valued at the time at approximately $3.1 million, were placed into escrow with Abrams & Bayliss as agent (the “Escrow”). Compl. ¶ 41; Compl. Ex. G. If Daugherty prevailed in the Texas Action, escrowed funds in the amount of the judgment—or the entire amount if the judgment exceeded the balance—“shall” be transferred to Highland Employee Retention Assets and then to Daugherty. Compl. ¶ 42; Compl. Ex. G, § 3(b)(i) (emphasis added).

During the Texas Action on January 23, 2014, Dondero testified as follows regarding the Escrow:

Q. Okay. So -- so if, if Mr. Daugherty somehow prevails in his lawsuit against Patrick Boyce and Lane Britain and [Highland Employee Retention Assets], what happens to Mr. Daugherty's interest that's being escrowed right now with a third-party escrow agent?

A. They go to him.

Q. I'm sorry?

A. They go to him via to [Highland Employee Retention Assets] and then to him. (Emphasis added.)

Compl. ¶ 43.

After a three-week trial in the Texas Action, the jury found that Highland Employee Retention Assets breached the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing by adopting Section 12.1 of the 2012 Agreement. The jury awarded Daugherty damages of $2.6 million plus interest. Id. ¶ 45; Compl. Ex. H. The jury also found that Daugherty retained Highland Capital information after his employment, but awarded zero damages. Highland Capital would, however, recover its attorneys' fees in the amount of $2.8 million plus interest. All parties appealed. Compl. ¶ 46.

In September 2014, Highland Employee Retention Assets represented to the Texas court as follows regarding the Escrow:

A contingent interest in assets held in escrow pursuant to an Escrow Agreement, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit 2 (the "Deposit Assets"). The Deposit Assets are not presently controlled by or available to [Highland Employee Retention Assets]. Per the Escrow Agreement, if a final, non-appealable judgment against [Highland Employee Retention Assets] is reached, Abrams & Bayliss, LLP, as Escrow Agent, will transfer the Deposit Assets to [Highland Employee Retention Assets].

Compl. Ex. I, Aff. ¶ 7 (emphasis added); Compl. ¶ 47.

Highland Employee Retention Assets also filed an affidavit with the Texas court stating that it was insolvent and liable to Highland Capital for legal expenses funded on its behalf in the amount of $7,459,568 and that only $2,555,071 was included in the net worth computation because Highland Capital had written off $4,904,497 of the liability as of December 31, 2013, because of “lack of collectability.” Compl. ¶ 48.

On December 1, 2016, Daugherty’s judgment against Highland Employee Retention Assets was affirmed. Id. ¶ 49.

On December 2, 2016—unknown to Daugherty—Abrams & Bayliss, which has served and currently serves as counsel for Highland Capital and its affiliates, resigned as Escrow agent. Id. ¶ 51. On December 5, 2016—unknown to Daugherty—Abrams & Bayliss delivered over $3.1 million in Escrow assets to Highland Capital. Id. ¶ 52.

On February 16, 2017, following Daugherty’s inquiry regarding the Escrow, Abrams & Bayliss unveiled the scheme by which Highland Capital received the Escrow assets held for Daugherty:

By letter dated December 2, 2016, Abrams & Bayliss notified Highland that it was resigning as Escrow Agent pursuant to Paragraph 5 of the Escrow Agreement. By letter dated December 2, 2016, Highland informed Abrams & Bayliss that it was (i) accepting Abrams & Bayliss' resignation as Escrow Agent, (ii) waiving the ten-day notice period under Paragraph 5 of the Escrow Agreement, and (iii) directing Abrams & Bayliss to return the Deposit Assets to Highland in accordance with the instructions provided in the letter.

On December 3, 2016, Abrams & Bayliss informed Highland in writing that it agreed to the waiver of the notice period, such that Abrams & Bayliss' resignation was effective immediately. On December 5, 2016, Abrams & Bayliss returned the Deposit Assets to Highland in accordance with the December 2, 2016 instructions. Accordingly, Abrams & Bayliss no longer serves as Escrow Agent or holds Deposit Assets.

Compl. Ex. J.

diverting Highland Employee Retention Assets' funds reserved for Daugherty to Highland Capital. Compl. ¶ 61.

ARGUMENT

Daugherty's claims fall into three categories: fraudulent transfer (Count One), governance of Highland Employee Retention Assets (Counts Two, Three, Four, and Five), and indemnification (Counts Six and Seven).

I. Daugherty Stated a Fraudulent Transfer Claim

Count One states a fraudulent transfer claim against all Defendants, summarized as follows: "The transfer of Highland Employee Retention Assets' funds reserved for Daugherty in the Escrow to Highland Capital, achieved through the resignation of Abrams & Bayliss, constitutes a fraudulent transfer under Delaware law." Id. ¶ 79.

Execution. Id. ¶ 57. Also on December 9, 2016, Highland Capital filed an Application for Turnover directing that Daugherty's interest in Highland Capital affiliates NexBank Capital, Inc., and Trussway Holdings, Inc., be turned over to Highland Capital. Id. ¶ 58. On December 14, 2016, without knowing that Highland Capital had secretly obtained the Escrow assets, Daugherty wired approximately $3.2 million in cash to Highland Capital in satisfaction of its fee award in the Texas Action. Id. ¶ 59.

Defendants assert five defenses, including laches, insufficient pleading under Rule 9(b), res judicata, collateral estoppel, and insufficient pleading that Highland ERA Management is Dondero's alter ego. None of the defenses defeat Count One.

A. Count One Is Not Time Barred

Defendants acknowledge that Count One is based on "the transfer of funds held in escrow by Abrams & Bayliss to Highland in 2016," OB at 31,<sup>3</sup> but they nevertheless argue that Count One is time barred. They argue that, because certain acts from 2013 ultimately enabled the fraudulent transfer in 2016, Daugherty's claim is time barred. See OB at 30-34.

Time bar defenses are not well suited for motions to dismiss. See, e.g., Reid v. Spazio, 970 A.2d 176, 183-84 (Del. 2009) ("[A]ffirmative defenses, such as laches, are not ordinarily well-suited for treatment on such a motion. Unless it is clear from the face of the complaint that an affirmative defense exists and that the plaintiff can prove no set of facts to avoid it, dismissal of the complaint based upon an affirmative defense is inappropriate." (footnote omitted)).

<sup>3</sup> See also OB at 32 n.4 ("A portion of these assets was deposited with Abrams & Bayliss as Deposit Assets, on which Daugherty's claim for fraudulent transfer is founded.").

Fraudulent transfer claims are generally subject to a four-year limitations period. 6 Del. C. § 1309. The fraudulent transfer in this case was the December 2016 transfer of Escrow assets from Abrams & Bayliss to Highland Capital, which Daugherty learned of in February 2017. Despite efforts by Defendants to confuse the issue by reference to acts years earlier, the fact remains that the assets were transferred in December 2016, and the complaint was filed well within the limitations period.

B. Count One Was Sufficiently Pled

“When considering a defendant’s motion to dismiss, a trial court should accept all well-pleaded factual allegations in the Complaint as true, accept even vague allegations in the Complaint as ‘well-pleaded’ if they provide the defendant notice of the claim, draw all reasonable inferences in favor of the plaintiff, and deny the motion unless the plaintiff could not recover under any reasonably conceivable set of circumstances susceptible of proof.” Cent. Mort. Co. v. Morgan Stanley Mort. Capital Holdings LLC, 27 A.3d 531, 536 (Del. 2011).

There are various alternative grounds on which Defendants can be liable for fraudulent transfer, including:

- A transfer made with actual intent to hinder, delay, or defraud Daugherty; or

- A transfer made without receiving reasonably equivalent value in exchange for the transfer and Highland Employee Retention Assets was engaged in a business or transaction for which its remaining assets were unreasonably small in relation to the business or transaction; or
- A transfer made without receiving reasonably equivalent value in exchange for the transfer and Highland Employee Retention Assets intended to incur, or believed or reasonably should have believed it would incur debts beyond its ability to pay as they became due; or
- If Highland Employee Retention Assets made the transfer without receiving a reasonably equivalent value in exchange for the transfer and it was insolvent at the time or became insolvent as a result of the transfer; or
- If the transfer was made to an insider for an antecedent debt, Highland Employee Retention Assets was insolvent at the time, and the insider had reasonable cause to believe that the debtor was insolvent. See 6 Del. C. §§ 1304, 1305.<sup>4</sup>

Defendants argue that, “[b]ecause of the lack of factual allegations supporting a reasonably conceivable finding of unequal exchange and insolvency, or particular facts suggesting fraud, Daugherty’s claims for fraudulent transfer should be dismissed.” OB at 35. The three issues raised by Defendants are (1) insolvency, (2) unequal exchange, and (3) particular facts suggesting fraud.

<sup>4</sup> Defendants cited Section 1304 but not Section 1305. Both sections apply because Daugherty was a creditor before the fraudulent transfer.

With respect to insolvency, Defendants argue that “it was not the transfer of Escrow assets that allegedly left HERA insolvent, as Daugherty contends.” OB at 34. Defendants misstate the standard. Under Section 1305(a), it is sufficient that Highland Employee Retention Assets was insolvent at the time of the transfer. See 6 Del. C. § 1305(a). Daugherty need not allege or prove that Highland Employee Retention Assets became insolvent as a result of the fraudulent transfer. There is no dispute that Highland Employee Retention Assets was insolvent at the time of the fraudulent transfer.<sup>5</sup> Further, insolvency is not a necessary element of each ground for fraudulent transfer. See, e.g., id., § 1304(a)(1).

With respect to unequal exchange, Defendants argue that the complaint “is likewise devoid of allegations of an inadequate exchange.” OB at 34. Daugherty could not have alleged an unequal exchange because there was no exchange. Defendants siphoned assets of Highland Employee Retention Assets (for Daugherty’s benefit) to an insider (i.e., Highland <sup>5</sup> See, e.g., OB at 34-35 (“Rather, HERA had a ‘negative net worth’ as of September 19, 2014, more than two years prior to the transfer of Escrow assets.” (citing Compl. Ex. I)).

Capital) for nothing.<sup>6</sup> Further, unequal exchange is not a necessary element of each ground for fraudulent transfer. See, e.g., 6 Del. C. § 1304(a)(1).

With respect to Defendants' intent to hinder, delay, or defraud Daugherty, Count One includes sufficient allegations. "Intent is a question of fact. The Complaint must plead facts from which it is reasonably conceivable that the defendants acted with the requisite intent. Section 1304(b) provides a non-exclusive list of indicia that can be considered for that purpose." Quadrant Structured Prod. Co. v. Vertin, 102 A.3d 155, 198 (Del. Ch. 2014) (internal citations omitted).<sup>7</sup>

<sup>6</sup> The transferred Escrow assets were assets of Highland Employee Retention Assets, the debtor, as Highland Employee Retention Assets stated under oath in 2014: "Per the Escrow Agreement, if a final, non-appealable judgment against [Highland Employee Retention Assets] is reached, Abrams & Bayliss, LLP, as Escrow Agent, will transfer the Deposit Assets to [Highland Employee Retention Assets]." Compl. Ex. I, Aff. ¶ 7 (emphasis added). Dondero confirmed that fact under oath. Compl. ¶ 43. Judicial estoppel precludes Defendants from arguing otherwise. See Motorola Inc. v. Amkor Tech., Inc., 958 A.2d 852, 859-860 (Del. 2008). Apart from Defendants' admissions, the Escrow assets could be considered a contingent interest of Highland Employee Retention Assets that vested on December 1, 2016, when the Texas appellate court affirmed Daugherty's judgment. See Compl. Ex. G, § 3(b)(i).

(1) The transfer or obligation was to an insider; (2) The debtor retained possession or control of the property transferred after the transfer; (3) The transfer or obligation was disclosed or concealed; (4) Before the transfer was made or obligation was “Rule 9(b) does not require an exhaustive cataloguing of facts but only sufficient factual specificity to provide assurance that the plaintiff has investigated ... the alleged fraud and reasonably believes that a wrong has occurred.” “The actual intent of the parties to the conveyance is of no consequence since [6 Del. C. § 1304] establishes an external test of constructive or legal fraud....” In order to state a fraudulent transfer claim, [a plaintiff] must generally plead facts showing intent to defraud with specific supporting facts describing the circumstances of the transfer.

Id. (internal citations omitted).

Daugherty pled facts showing Defendants’ intent to defraud him. He alleged that, after Defendants represented under oath to the Texas court that the Escrow assets were being held for Highland Employee Retention Assets if Daugherty won a judgment and after Daugherty won a judgment, Defendants secretly caused the Escrow assets to be transferred to an insider incurred, the debtor had been sued or threatened with suit; (5) The transfer was of substantially all the debtor’s assets; (6) The debtor absconded; (7) The debtor removed or concealed assets; (8) The value of the consideration received by the debtor was reasonably equivalent to the value of the asset transferred or the amount of the obligation incurred; (9) The debtor was insolvent or became insolvent shortly after the transfer was made or the obligation was incurred; (10) The transfer occurred shortly before or shortly after a substantial debt was incurred; and (11) The debtor transferred the essential assets of the business to a lienor who transferred the assets to an insider of the debtor.

6 Del. C. § 1304(b).

(i.e., Highland Capital, a “person in control of the debtor,” 6 Del. C. § 1301(7)(b)(3)), leaving him unable to collect his judgment. Compl. ¶¶ 41-63, 74. The Abrams & Bayliss letter dated February 16, 2017, details how the fraudulent transfer was completed. See Compl. Ex. J.<sup>8</sup>

These allegations make a fraudulent transfer claim reasonably conceivable. Further, intent to hinder, delay, or defraud is not a necessary element of each ground for fraudulent transfer. See, e.g., 6 Del. C. §§ 1304(a)(2), 1305; China Res. Prods. (U.S.A.) Ltd. v. Fayda Int’l, Inc., 788 F. Supp. 815, 819 (D. Del. 1992) (“Because the plaintiff need not prove actual or constructive fraud ... Rule 9(b) does not apply to pleadings made pursuant to [6 Del. C. §§ 1304(a)(2), 1305].”).<sup>9</sup>

<sup>8</sup> Defendants claim that “there was nothing nefarious about the December 2016 transfer.” OB at 33. Defendants are not entitled to that counterfactual and self-serving inference on this motion. Nor are Defendants entitled to an inference that Abrams & Bayliss “rightly returned” the Escrow assets. Nor are Defendants entitled to blame Daugherty for not chasing down the escrow agent fast enough. Id. at 33-34 (“Since Daugherty waited until February 16, 2017 to request the Deposit Assets from Abrams & Bayliss, they rightly returned the Deposit Assets to Highland.”).

<sup>9</sup> To the extent particularity is required under Section 1304(a)(1), “courts have recognized in similar contexts that the particularity requirement must be applied in light of the facts of the case, and less particularity is required when the facts lie more in the knowledge of the opposing party than of the pleading party.” H-M Wexford LLC v. Encorp, Inc., 832 A.2d 129, 146 (Del. Ch. 2003).

C. Highland ERA Management Is Dondero's Alter Ego

Daugherty alleges that Highland ERA Management “is a mere instrumentality and Dondero’s alter ego.” Compl. ¶ 13. Highland ERA Management is not a real company with a legitimate purpose. It is a sham for Dondero—who considers himself “the man behind the curtain solving financial puzzles” and “the wizard,” Compl. ¶ 40—to exercise control over Highland Employee Retention Assets under cover of a corporate form.

Defendants argue that Daugherty did not sufficiently plead alter ego. OB at 35-38. They argue that (1) “Daugherty does not allege that HERA is ‘a sham and exist[s] for no other purpose than as a vehicle for fraud’”; (2) “the Complaint lacks any allegation that HERA Management was created solely to commit a fraud”; and (3) “Daugherty makes a conclusory allegation that HERA Management is Dondero’s alter ego.” Id. at 37.

Daugherty does not allege that Highland Employee Retention Assets is a sham, as Defendants suggest. As a matter of fact, before Daugherty resigned from Highland Capital in 2011, Highland Employee Retention Assets was a legitimate company fulfilling a limited purpose. Daugherty is asserting claims on behalf of Highland Employee Retention Assets to undo improper acts of Highland ERA Management (i.e., Dondero) that harmed Highland Employee Retention Assets and its member, Daugherty. In any event, the legitimacy of Highland Employee Retention Assets is unrelated to whether Highland ERA Management is Dondero's alter ego.

The "court can pierce the corporate veil of an entity where there is fraud or where a subsidiary is in fact a mere instrumentality or alter ego of its owner." Geyer v. Ingersoll Publ'ns Co., 621 A.2d 784, 793 (Del. Ch. 1992). The Court considers a number of factors, including "(1) whether the company was adequately capitalized for the undertaking; (2) whether the company was solvent; (3) whether corporate formalities were observed; (4) whether the dominant shareholder siphoned company funds; and (5) whether, in general, the company simply functioned as a facade for the dominant shareholder." MicroStrategy Inc. v. Acacia Research Corp., 2010 WL 5550455, at *11 (Del. Ch. Dec. 30, 2010). No one factor is dispositive. There must be an "overall element of injustice or unfairness." Id.<sup>10</sup>

It is reasonably conceivable that Highland ERA Management is Dondero's alter ego. On the same day that Highland ERA Management was formed, it (i.e., Dondero) purportedly executed the 2013 Agreement and the Expense Allocation Agreement, under which 93.4 percent of the Texas Action legal expenses of Highland Capital were reallocated to Highland Employee Retention Assets. Compl. ¶¶ 33-35. The fact that Highland ERA Management was formed the day it purportedly acted to benefit Dondero should itself defeat Defendants’ motion. If “[Highland ERA Management] is in privity with Dondero,” OB at 20, it is even more conceivable that they are alter egos. See Dudley v. Smith, 504 F.2d 979, 982 (5th Cir. 1974).

Finally, Count One should survive against Dondero whether or not he is Highland ERA Management’s alter ego. Dondero participated in or benefited from the fraudulent transfer to Highland Capital, which he controls. Tellingly, the Abrams & Bayliss letter copied Highland Capital’s in-house counsel and Highland Capital and Dondero’s outside counsel, Mark Katz. Compl. Ex. J.

D. Res Judicata Is Inapplicable

Defendants assert that Count One is barred by res judicata. They argue, “The focal point of both the Texas Action and this lawsuit is the amendments to the HERA operating documents that allowed all of the assets to be transferred at HERA Management’s discretion.” OB at 24. For res judicata to apply, Defendants must prove: “(1) a prior final determination on the merits by a court of competent jurisdiction; (2) identity of parties or those in privity with them; and (3) a second action based on the same claims as were raised or could have been raised in the first action.” Hill v. Tx-An Anesthesia Mgmt., LLP, 443 S.W.3d 416, 424 (Tex. App. 2014).<sup>11</sup>

Defendants’ res judicata defense to Count One fails because a final, non-appealable judgment was rendered in the Texas Action before the acts occurred that gave rise to Count One. That is, the Texas appellate court issued its decision on December 1, 2016, and Defendants’ fraudulent transfer occurred the next day. Count One could not have been brought in the Texas Action. Res judicata is inapplicable.<sup>12</sup>

E. Collateral Estoppel Is Inapplicable

Defendants assert that Daugherty is “estopped from asserting Counts I, III, and IV” under the doctrine of collateral estoppel. OB at 27.

<sup>11</sup> Texas law applies to the issues of res judicata and collateral estoppel. See, e.g., Columbia Cas. Co. v. Playtex FP, Inc., 584 A.2d 1214, 1217 (Del. 1991) (stating that in Bata v. Bata, 163 A.2d 493, 504 (Del. 1960), “this Court noted with approval ‘the established rule’ that the preclusive effect of a foreign judgment is measured by standards of the rendering forum”).

<sup>12</sup> “Efforts to enforce a judgment do not equate to collateral attacks against a judgment. Applying the doctrine of res judicata in a suit to enforce a judgment would ‘pervert the sanctity of judgments, not preserve them’ which is a goal of the doctrine.” In re Estate of Lynch, 395 S.W.3d 215, 227 (Tex. App. 2012) (internal citation omitted).

Defendants argue, “While Daugherty failed to assert fraudulent transfer in the Texas Action, this suit indisputably arises from the same nucleus of facts, and the facts were essential to the judgment therein.” OB at 29.

To the contrary, the factual assertions underlying Count One could not have been litigated in the Texas Action because Defendants’ fraudulent acts occurred after the Texas Action. Defendants’ fraudulent acts occurred because of the Texas Action; that is, they occurred to deprive Daugherty of his judgment. Collateral estoppel is inapplicable.

II. Daugherty Stated Claims Relating to the Governance of Highland Employee Retention Assets

Counts Two, Three, Four, and Five relate to the governance of Highland Employee Retention Assets, including the purported adoption of the 2013 Agreement, Expense Allocation Agreement, and Assignment Agreement. Count Two seeks dissolution of Highland Employee Retention Assets, Count Three asserts a fiduciary duty claim against Highland ERA Management and Dondero, Count Four asserts an aiding and abetting claim against Highland Capital, and Count Five asserts an implied covenant claim against Highland ERA Management and Dondero. The challenged acts occurred during the Texas Action.<sup>13</sup>

Defendants move to dismiss Counts Three (breach of fiduciary duty) and Four (aiding and abetting) on the grounds of res judicata, collateral estoppel, laches, and failure to state a claim. Defendants move to dismiss Count Two (dissolution) on the ground of failure to state a claim. And Defendants move to dismiss Count Five (breach of the implied covenant) on the grounds of laches and failure to state a claim. Each of Defendants' grounds should be rejected, as discussed below.

A. Res Judicata Is Inapplicable to Counts Three and Four Defendants argue that Counts Three and Four “spring from disputes that have already been resolved in Texas.” OB at 18. Defendants argue, “The allegations against [Highland ERA Management] arise out of actions taken as Manager of [Highland Employee Retention Assets], and the claims in the Texas Action were based, in part, on actions taken by [Highland Employee Retention Assets], Highland [Capital], and Dondero while [Highland ERA Management] was acting as [Highland Employee Retention Assets'] Manager.” OB at 21.

<sup>13</sup> The challenged acts, such as the transfer of approximately $9.7 million in value from Highland Employee Retention Assets to Highland Capital under the Assignment Agreement, may also qualify as fraudulent transfers. Compl. ¶ 5. Relevant documents and information, including when Highland Employee Retention Assets became insolvent, are in Defendants' control. For purposes of this motion, Daugherty has sufficiently pled fiduciary duty, aiding and abetting, and implied covenant claims regarding those acts. What happened with the remaining assets of Highland Employee Retention Assets is also a mystery, although Daugherty contends that they were wrongfully used by Highland Capital to purchase preferred units of Highland Employee Retention Assets. Compl. ¶ 37.

For res judicata to apply, Defendants must prove: “(1) a prior final determination on the merits by a court of competent jurisdiction; (2) identity of parties or those in privity with them; and (3) a second action based on the same claims as were raised or could have been raised in the first action.”

Hill, 443 S.W.3d at 424.

Assuming for the sake of argument that Defendants correctly contend that Highland ERA Management, which was not a party to the Texas Action and did not exist when the Texas Action was filed, is in privity with all the other defendants,<sup>14</sup> res judicata is inapplicable because Counts Three and Four could not have been raised in the Texas Action.

<sup>14</sup> Discovery is needed to determine the nature of the Defendants’ interests and the extent of privity between Highland ERA Management and the remaining defendants. For example, Highland ERA Management may not be in privity with Highland Employee Retention Assets, as Daugherty alleges that Highland ERA Management (i.e., Dondero) took actions to harm Highland Employee Retention Assets for the benefit of Highland Capital. Compl. ¶¶ 8, 33-39, 93-95, 101-03, 110. It is too early to conclude that

“The definition of res judicata ... is substantially similar to the rule of compulsory counterclaims ... [where a] party defending a claim must bring as a counterclaim any claim that ‘arises out of the transaction or occurrence that is the subject matter of the opposing party’s claim ....’” Barr v. Resolution Tr. Corp. ex rel. Sunbelt Fed. Sav., 837 S.W.2d 627, 630 (Tex. 1992) (citing Tex. R. Civ. P. 97).

Whether the subject matter of Counts Three and Four arise from the subject matter of the Texas Action “necessarily requires an examination of the factual basis of the claim or claims in the prior litigation ... [and] an analysis of the factual matters that make up the gist of the complaint, without regard to the form of action.” Id. “Legal theories do not arise out of the same nucleus of operative facts when those facts have not occurred by the time the first suit was initiated.” Smallwood v. Willow Way, LLC, 2017 WL 3172795, at *6 (N.D. Tex. June 29, 2017), adopted, 2017 WL 3158875 (N.D. Tex. July 25, 2017).

Defendants argue that Daugherty could have brought Counts Three and Four in the Texas Action on the ground that “[a]ll of Daugherty’s claims in both the Texas Action and this lawsuit arise out of the relationship between Defendants and Daugherty as a [Highland Employee Retention Assets] unitholder.” OB at 22. Defendants effectively argue that members of Delaware LLCs are prohibited from bringing multiple lawsuits concerning the same LLC, even if claims in a second action had not even occurred at the time of the first action. Defendants’ position is meritless.

Highland ERA Management is in privity with all the other defendants, as Defendants argue. OB at 20.

Highland Capital filed the Texas Action on April 11, 2012. Compl. Ex. L. The three transactions underlying Counts Three and Four in this action—i.e., the 2013 Agreement, Expense Allocation Agreement, and Assignment Agreement—occurred after the Texas Action was filed. Highland ERA Management (i.e., Dondero) purportedly executed two on February 1, 2013, and one on April 30, 2013 (the deadline to amend pleadings in the Texas Action).

Applying Texas law, the court in Welsh v. Fort Bend Indep. Sch. Dist., 860 F.3d 762 (5th Cir. 2017), addressed whether the “could have been raised” requirement was met “where some of the events underlying the claims asserted in the second action had not yet occurred at the time of filing the first action.” Id. at 765. The court “specifically reject[ed] the idea that every time something happens after a lawsuit is filed the plaintiff must immediately amend or risk losing that claim forever.” Id. at 767.

The court noted, “[t]he Texas Supreme Court has determined that claims could not have been litigated in a prior suit ... where there existed some legal hurdle to asserting them in that prior suit” and that “Texas courts have refused to apply res judicata to claims that were not yet mature at the time of the first lawsuit.” Id. at 765. The Texas Supreme Court has also held that “a claim for breach of a continuing contract is not barred by a previous suit on the same contract where the causes of action in the second suit accrued after the filing of the first suit.” Id. at 766 (emphasis in original).

Daugherty filed his Original Answer, Counterclaim and Third-Party Petition on May 22, 2012, OB Ex. A; his Second Amended Answer, Counterclaim and Third-Party Petition on April 30, 2013; and his Third Amended Answer, Counterclaim and Third-Party Petition on May 7, 2013. OB Ex. D. After the deadline to amend pleadings in the Texas Action, Highland Capital produced over 1,000,000 pages of documents to Daugherty. OB Ex. G, ¶ 4. Included in those productions were the 2013 Agreement, Expense Allocation Agreement, and Assignment Agreement. Id.

On November 13, 2013, Daugherty filed a motion for leave to file a fourth amended counterclaim. OB Ex. G. Daugherty sought to add claims based on the 1,000,000 pages recently produced and depositions taken in September and October 2013. OB Ex. G, ¶¶ 4-6; OB Ex. B to Ex. G, ¶¶ 123-136, 186-191. Those claims were (1) breach of fiduciary duty against Dondero and others and (2) aiding and abetting breach of fiduciary duty against Highland Capital and Dondero. OB Ex. B to Ex. G, ¶¶ 186-191.

Highland Capital opposed Daugherty's motion to amend on the ground that Daugherty missed the deadline to amend pleadings. Ex. A, ¶¶ 8, 11. Highland Capital also argued that "Daugherty should not be granted leave to amend because his Fourth Amended Pleading asserts at least two ['entirely'] new causes of action, and therefore is prejudicial on its face." Id., ¶ 13, 15(iii). Highland Capital claimed that it would not be "prepared to go to trial on the newly asserted causes of action and theories ...." Id., ¶ 15(v). Highland Capital argued, "if the Motion for Leave is granted, the Highland Defendants would be prejudicially forced into the untenable position of having to defend against new facts, claims, and theories with virtually no meaningful time before trial to develop their defenses through discovery or legally.” Id., ¶ 33.<sup>15</sup>

Daugherty’s motion to amend was denied. OB Ex. H; Ex. C at 4:17-20. His motion for reconsideration, opposed by Highland Capital, was also denied. Ex. D at 4:6-11.

Defendants ignored this procedural history in their opening brief and argued, “Daugherty’s decision to forego amendment of his pleadings until the eve of trial was within his control, and cannot defeat the application of res judicata.” OB at 25-26. Daugherty does not seek to relitigate in this Court the denial of his motion to amend, but it is untrue that the timing of his motion was within his control. Highland Capital kept key documents from Daugherty until just before trial and after the deadline to amend pleadings. Daugherty made more than reasonable efforts to pursue claims similar to Counts Three and Four in the Texas Action but he could not do so.

B. Collateral Estoppel Is Inapplicable to Counts Three and Four

Defendants argue that Counts Three and Four are barred by collateral estoppel because Daugherty's "underlying factual assertions were fully litigated and determined in the Texas Action." OB at 27. Defendants must prove that "(1) the facts sought to be litigated in the second action were fully and fairly litigated in the first action; (2) those facts were essential to the judgment in the first action; and (3) the parties were cast as adversaries in the first action." John G. & Marie Stella Kenedy Mem'l Found. v. Dewhurst, 90 S.W.3d 268, 288 (Tex. 2002).

An issue was litigated if it "was raised by the pleadings or otherwise submitted for determination and was determined by the fact finder." Tenet Health Sys. Hosps. Dallas, Inc. v. N. Tex. Hosp. Physicians Grp., P.A., 438 S.W.3d 190, 203 (Tex. App. 2014). "The issue decided in the prior action must be identical to the issue in the pending action." Id. "Where the first fact finder did not determine the ultimate fact question at issue in the second proceeding, but merely denied the requested relief, collateral estoppel does not apply." Id. at 204. "'Ultimate issue' does not refer to a claim or cause of action. Ultimate issues are those factual determinations submitted to a jury that are necessary to form the basis of a judgment.” Dent v. Fed. Sign & Signal Corp., 773 S.W.2d 599, 601 (Tex. App. 1989).

Defendants argue that the Texas court considered and determined issues concerning the 2013 Agreement, Expense Allocation Agreement, and Assignment Agreement “in, among other things, granting summary judgment in favor of Dondero and Highland and dismissing Daugherty’s claims...” OB at 28. In support, Defendants cite Daugherty’s proposed fourth amended counterclaim, which came after summary judgment. Id. (citing OB Ex. B to Ex. G, ¶¶ 134, 174).<sup>16</sup> Defendants also cite Exhibits B and F to their opening brief, id., which do not support their argument.

Daugherty referenced in his summary judgment papers the 2013 Agreement, Expense Allocation Agreement, and Assignment Agreement, OB at 11-12, but he did not assert claims based on those documents and the Texas court did not adjudicate any issues with respect to those documents. Neither the summary judgment argument transcript nor the summary judgment order references those documents. See Ex. E; OB Ex. F.

<sup>16</sup> In later denying Daugherty’s motion to amend, the Texas court did not adjudicate the merits of the proposed amended allegations. See, e.g., Apogee Invs., Inc. v. Summit Equities LLC, 2017 WL 4269013, at *2 (Del. Ch. Sept. 22, 2017) (“[C]ourts generally will not test the sufficiency of the pleadings in a ruling on a motion to amend.”).

When the 2013 Agreement was introduced at trial in Texas, the judge gave a limiting instruction, Ex. F at 13:2-19, and Highland Capital objected on relevance grounds. Id. at 14:2-4. The final jury instructions stated, “Do not consider any actions taken by HERA after February 16, 2012, when the [2012 Agreement] was adopted when determining if HERA failed to comply with the HERA Agreement.” Compl. Ex. H at 20 (emphasis added); see also Ex. G at 109:10-20 (“We believe the jury should be instructed they only can find failure to comply [with the HERA Agreement] based on the adoption of the amendment to add Section 12.1 to the HERA Agreement.”).

The issues underlying Counts Three and Four were not considered, determined, or adjudicated in the Texas Action. Defendants’ collateral estoppel argument should be rejected.

C. Count Three States a Fiduciary Duty Claim

Defendants argue that Count Three fails to state a claim because the 2013 Agreement—the document that Daugherty alleges breached Highland ERA Management’s fiduciary duties—eliminated Highland ERA Management’s fiduciary duties. OB at 47-48; see also OB at 52 (arguing that the “agreement expressly disavows any fiduciary duties on the part of the manager of HERA”).

There are at least two problems with Defendants' argument. First, Defendants cannot rely on an agreement that was improperly adopted to absolve them from claims concerning the agreement's adoption. Second, the language of the 2013 Agreement (i.e., "[t]o the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, no [covered person] shall be liable to the Company or any other third party ... for breach of fiduciary duty owed to the Company and/or its members," Compl. Ex. D, § 8.1(a)) is an exculpation provision, not an elimination of fiduciary duties.

The difference is as follows:

Section 1101(c) of the LLC Act ... empowers the drafters of a limited liability company to expand, restrict, or eliminate a member or manager's duties, including fiduciary duties. Section 1101(e) of the LLC Act authorizes something different: the drafters of a limited liability company can leave the default duties in place, but limit or eliminate monetary liability for breach of duty:

A limited liability company agreement may provide for the limitation or elimination of any and all liabilities for breach of contract and breach of duties (including fiduciary duties) of a member, manager or other person to a limited liability company or to another member or manager or to another person that is a party to or is otherwise bound by a limited liability company agreement; provided, that a limited liability company agreement may not limit or eliminate liability for any act or omission that constitutes a bad faith violation of the implied contractual covenant of good faith and fair dealing.

6 Del. C. § 18-1101(e). By limiting or eliminating the prospect of liability but leaving in place the duty itself, a provision adopted pursuant to Section 1101(e) restricts the remedies that a party to the LLC agreement can seek. Monetary liability may be out, but injunctive relief, a decree of specific performance, rescission, the imposition of a constructive trust, and a myriad of other non-liability-based remedies remain in play. A provision exculpating a member from liability for breach of fiduciary duty in accordance with Section 1101(e) of the LLC Act accomplishes a different result than a provision that modifies, restricts, or eliminates the underlying fiduciary duty itself, as contemplated by Section 1101(c) of the LLC Act.

Feeley v. NHAOCG, LLC, 62 A.3d 649, 663-64 (Del. Ch. 2012) (internal citations omitted). The manager of Highland Employee Retention Assets is bound by fiduciary duties under Delaware law.

Defendants argue that Daugherty “does not identify any source of fiduciary duty that Dondero owed to him.” OB at 48. If Highland ERA Management owed fiduciary duties, then the same fiduciary duties apply to Dondero, its alter ego. See Dudley, 504 F.2d at 982 (“The effect of applying the alter ego doctrine ... is that the corporation and the person who dominates it are treated as one person, so that any act committed by one is attributed to both, and if either is bound, by contract, judgment, or otherwise, both are equally bound.”).

D. Counts Three, Four, and Five Are Not Time Barred

Defendants argue that Counts Three, Four, and Five are time barred. OB at 41-47, 49, 53-55. They argue, for example, that claims challenging the 2013 Agreement accrued on February 1, 2013, when the agreement was purportedly adopted by Highland ERA Management (i.e., Dondero) and “[i]f Daugherty wanted to bring a claim based on the adoption of the Third Amended LLC Agreement, he should have done so in the Texas Action rather than sitting on his hands only to raise the issue now.” OB at 44.

Laches is an affirmative defense that consists of two elements: “(i) unreasonable delay in bringing a claim by a plaintiff with knowledge thereof, and (ii) resulting prejudice to the defendant.” Levey v. Brownstone Asset Mgmt., LP, 76 A.3d 764, 769 (Del. 2013).

“The period of time that constitutes an ‘unreasonable delay’ can range from one month to many years. The length of the delay is less important than the reasons for it.” IAC/InterActiveCorp v. O’Brien, 26 A.3d 174, 177 (Del. 2011). If the reasons for the delay are due to “unusual conditions or extraordinary circumstances,” this Court has the discretion to “ignore the analogous statute of limitations in deciding whether [the plaintiff’s] claim was barred by laches.” Id. at 178-79.

In exercising its discretion, the Court considers all relevant facts, including the following factors:

1) whether the plaintiff had been pursuing his claim, through litigation or otherwise, before the statute of limitations expired; 2) whether the delay in filing suit was attributable to a material and unforeseeable change in the parties' personal or financial circumstances; 3) whether the delay in filing suit was attributable to a legal determination in another jurisdiction; 4) the extent to which the defendant was aware of, or participated in, any prior proceedings; and 5) whether, at the time this litigation was filed, there was a bona fide dispute as to the validity of the claim.

Id. at 178.

Daugherty explained in his complaint why his claims were on hold until the Texas Action was resolved: "Given Highland Employee Retention Assets' and Highland Capital's arguments in the Texas Action that Daugherty's interest in Highland Employee Retention Assets was extinguished, it was not until the Texas Action became final and non-appealable in December 2016 that it was clear Daugherty remained a member of Highland Employee Retention Assets and had standing to pursue this claim." Compl. ¶¶ 99, 107.<sup>17</sup>

<sup>17</sup> Daugherty must be a member to pursue derivative claims. See, e.g., Zimmerman v. Crothall, 2013 WL 5630992, at *5 & n.22 (Del. Ch. Oct. 14, 2013), rev'd in part, 94 A.3d 733 (Del. 2014) ("the standing statute in the Limited Liability Company Act, 6 Del. C. § 18-101, sufficiently tracks its

Until the Texas Action was resolved, Daugherty's status as a member of Highland Employee Retention Assets was unknown. Through the conclusion of the Texas Action, Defendants argued that Daugherty was not a member. See Compl. Ex. L, ¶¶ 22-23; OB Ex. E at 29 (arguing in summary judgment briefing that "Daugherty cannot bring derivative claims on behalf of HERA..."). In their proposed final order they attempted to extinguish Daugherty's preferred units but the judge struck the language. Compl. ¶ 2.

On appeal they argued, "Daugherty also should be barred from asserting any future interest in HERA ...." Ex. H at 41. The court held:

the question of ownership of the units was not resolved by the jury. Whether HERA's conduct constituted a breach of the agreement is not the same question as whether or not Daugherty owns HERA units. Judgment was rendered only on the jury's "Yes" answer to the "implied covenant" portion of Question 17, that HERA did breach the agreement by failing to comply with the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing. The judgment compensates Daugherty only once for his damages from that breach, in the amount the jury found in response to Question 18. The trial court therefore rendered judgment in accordance with the jury's verdict. We decide HERA's third, fourth, and fifth issues against it.

sister statute in the DGCL, as to suggest that the General Assembly intended that the 'continuous ownership' rule also would apply in the LLC context"). Defendants do not challenge that Daugherty's claims, at least in part, are derivative or his standing to pursue them.

After the Texas appellate court ruled that Daugherty had not been divested of his interest, Daugherty was finally in a position to pursue his claims in this action. If Daugherty had filed earlier, Defendants surely would have argued that the Texas courts must first determine his membership status and standing to bring the claims.

There are “unusual conditions or extraordinary circumstances” here because Daugherty unsuccessfully attempted to pursue his claims in the Texas Action during the limitations period, the delay in filing this action was attributable to a legal determination in another jurisdiction, Defendants were aware of and participated in the Texas Action, and there is a dispute as to the validity of the claims. It is reasonably conceivable that the Court will “ignore the analogous statute of limitations in deciding whether [Daugherty’s] claim was barred by laches.” IAC, 26 A.3d at 178-79.

Further, under Levey, the limitations period for Daugherty’s claims was equitably tolled during the Texas Action. In Levey, the plaintiff unsuccessfully attempted to pursue substantially identical claims in an earlier-filed action. 76 A.3d at 772. The Delaware Supreme Court found that the plaintiff “timely and consistently asserted his claim in two, non-Delaware, fora within the analogous limitations period, and that his delay in filing suit in Delaware was attributable partially—but not entirely—to extraneous factors other than his own inaction.” Id. at 772-73. The same reasoning applies here. Daugherty unsuccessfully attempted to bring substantially identical claims in the Texas Action through his proposed fourth amended counterclaim. His claims were equitably tolled.

Finally, Defendants’ laches argument fails because they did not demonstrate prejudice, a key element of the defense. By failing to address prejudice, they waived the argument. Emerald Partners v. Berlin, 726 A.2d 1215, 1224 (Del. 1999) (“issues not briefed are deemed waived”); In re IBP, Inc. S’holders Litig., 789 A.2d 14, 62 (Del. Ch. 2001).<sup>18</sup>

E. Count Two States a Dissolution Claim

In Count Two, Daugherty requests that Highland Employee Retention Assets be dissolved because “it is not reasonably practicable to carry on the

---

<sup>18</sup> Defendants argue that the Court “should apply the three year statute of limitations” to Count Five because it is a legal claim. OB at 53-55. No matter the degree of deference that the Court gives to the statute of limitations in its laches analysis with respect to Count Five, there remain “unusual conditions or extraordinary circumstances” under which it is reasonably conceivable that Count Five is not time barred. The analysis for Count Five is no different from the analysis for Counts Three and Four.

business in conformity with the limited liability company agreement.”

Compl. ¶ 87 (citing 6 Del. C. § 18-802).

“In determining whether it is reasonably practicable to carry on the business of the LLC, the Court must look to the purpose clause set forth in the governing agreements.” In re Seneca Inv. LLC, 970 A.2d 259, 263 (Del. Ch. 2008). The Court has dissolved an entity where its purpose was fulfilled or impossible to carry out. See, e.g., PC Tower Ctr., Inc. v. Tower Ctr. Dev. Assocs. Ltd. P’ship, 1989 WL 63901, at *6 (Del. Ch. June 8, 1989) (ordering dissolution of limited partnership where purpose of partnership was to acquire and operate certain real property and purpose was frustrated because sole lessee of property became insolvent and market conditions made finding a new tenant “practically impossible”).<sup>19</sup>

Defendants assert that Count Two should be dismissed because Daugherty did not allege that Highland Employee Retention Assets cannot carry on with business in conformity with the 2013 Agreement. See OB at 15 (arguing that Count Two fails “because the current operating agreement of HERA provides that the purpose of the company is ‘to do all such things for which limited liability companies may be formed’”); id. at 40-41.<sup>20</sup>

Defendants’ argument is based on a false premise, which is that the 2013 Agreement is a valid and binding agreement. It is not. It was wrongfully adopted by Highland ERA Management (i.e., Dondero), Compl. ¶ 88, if Highland ERA Management (i.e., Dondero) was even authorized to execute it.<sup>21</sup> The 2013 Agreement should be ignored and invalidated.

The purpose of Highland Employee Retention Assets

shall be to receive and hold assets to be contributed by [Highland Capital] and to distribute the proceeds of such assets from time to time to certain employees of [Highland Capital] (or of affiliates of [Highland Capital], as applicable) as the

<sup>20</sup> Defendants also claim Count Two is time barred because Daugherty’s claims challenging the 2013 Agreement, which expanded the purpose of the company, are time barred. OB at 41-45. As discussed above, those claims are not time barred. See supra Section II(D).

<sup>21</sup> Highland ERA Management purported to execute the 2013 Agreement on behalf of Highland Employee Retention Assets, but there is no evidence that it was previously authorized to do so. Daugherty disputes that Highland Capital is a valid member of Highland Employee Retention Assets with authority to appoint a manager. Compl. ¶ 85. Daugherty contends that he is the sole member of Highland Employee Retention Assets. Id. Whether or not Highland ERA Management was validly appointed manager, it remains liable for the challenged acts. See, e.g., In re Walt Disney Co. Derivative Litig., 906 A.2d 27, 48 (Del. 2006) (“A de facto officer is one who actually assumes possession of an office under the claim and color of an election or appointment and who is actually discharging the duties of that office, but for some legal reason lacks de jure legal title to that office.”).

Board may from time to time determine in order to create a retention initiative for such employees and to engage in such other lawful purposes and activities in connection with the foregoing.

Compl. Ex. A, § 2.1; Compl. Ex. C, § 2.1; Compl. ¶¶ 16-17.

Once the 2013 Agreement is set aside, the following question remains:

Is it reasonably practicable to carry on the business of Highland Employee Retention Assets, whose purpose is to “create a retention initiative for [Highland Capital] employees”? Dondero testified in the Texas Action that Highland Capital’s buyout of the unit holders in January and February 2013 extinguished that purpose:

Q. So -- why did the escrow agreement not get signed until December of 2013?

A. My recollection is as follows: After [Highland Employee Retention Asset] went from being an employee retention program with 30-odd participants clamoring for their money but it all mucked up in litigation, Highland [Capital] wrote a check for $10 million to give those people, in all fairness, liquidity and what they deserved for staying around at Highland [Capital]. Once Highland [Capital] bought out all their units, there were only two unit holders, Highland [Capital] and Pat Daugherty, and there was no retention purpose left in the vehicle. (Emphasis added.)

Compl. ¶ 44.

There are no Highland Capital employees left to retain. Only Daugherty remains a member of Highland Employee Retention Assets and he resigned from Highland Capital in 2011. It is reasonably conceivable that Highland Employee Retention Assets should be dissolved because its purpose is fulfilled or impossible to carry out.

F. Count Five States an Implied Covenant Claim

Defendants argue that Count Five should be dismissed because the applicable contract and implied obligation are unidentified. OB at 50-53. The claim is similar to the claim in Texas where the jury awarded Daugherty $2.6 million plus interest based on the adoption of the 2012 Agreement. See Compl. Ex. H. As before, the applicable contract is the limited liability company agreement of Highland Employee Retention Assets.<sup>22</sup>

The implied covenant required Highland ERA Management (i.e., Dondero), as manager, to refrain from arbitrary or unreasonable conduct that benefitted itself and deprived Highland Employee Retention Assets and its members of the fruits of the bargain. Compl. ¶¶ 109-110; see also, e.g., Kuroda v. SPJS Holdings, L.L.C., 971 A.2d 872, 888 (Del. Ch. 2009).

<sup>22</sup> To the extent Defendants need further clarification in the pleadings, Daugherty respectfully requests leave to amend paragraph 110 of the complaint to include the words “limited liability company agreement of Highland Employee Retention Assets.”

The purported adoption of the 2013 Agreement, Expense Allocation Agreement, and Assignment Agreement arbitrarily and unreasonably stripped the value of Highland Employee Retention Assets for the benefit of Highland Capital and Dondero. Compl. ¶¶ 111-13.

Defendants argue that Highland ERA Management was not a party to the 2012 Agreement and therefore not bound by the implied covenant. OB at 51. But “[o]n January 19, 2013, the board members of Highland Employee Retention Assets resigned after each received a buyout offer from Highland Capital, and Highland ERA Management (i.e., Dondero) became the sole manager of Highland Employee Retention Assets.” Compl. ¶ 31.

Highland ERA Management (i.e., Dondero) purportedly executed the challenged documents on behalf of Highland Employee Retention Assets, as “its Manager,” on February 1, 2013, and April 30, 2013. When it executed those documents, it was bound by the then-applicable limited liability company agreement and the non-waivable implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing. See 6 Del. C. § 18-1101(c).<sup>23</sup> A purported LLC manager cannot be immune from the company’s governing instrument.

<sup>23</sup> Highland ERA Management (i.e., Dondero) was bound by the implied covenant on April 30, 2013, when it purportedly executed the Assignment Agreement. Even if the 2013 Agreement was validly adopted, Sufficient facts have been alleged for the Court to conclude that it is reasonably conceivable that Highland ERA Management (i.e., Dondero) breached the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing and its obligation not to arbitrarily and unreasonably benefit itself, and that such breaches were in bad faith.

III. Daugherty Stated Claims for Indemnification and Fees on Fees

In Count Six, Daugherty seeks “indemnification from Highland Capital for his defense costs, including attorneys’ fees, in the Texas Action to the extent that such costs were incurred in defending claims against him ‘by reason of any act performed or omitted to be performed in the name of or on behalf of [Highland Capital], or in connection with [Highland Capital’s] business.’” Compl. ¶¶ 9, 114-17.

Section 4.1(h) of the Second Amended and Restated Agreement of Limited Partnership of Highland Capital Management, L.P., dated December 31, 2004 (the “Highland Partnership Agreement”), states:

Indemnification. The Partnership shall indemnify and hold harmless the General Partner and any director, officer, which Daugherty disputes, the implied covenant attached to that agreement just as it did to earlier versions. See 6 Del. C. § 18-1101(c). Defendants’ argument that the agreement “disavows any fiduciary duties on the part of the manager of HERA,” OB at 52, is factually incorrect and ignores that the implied covenant cannot be eliminated.

employee, agent, or representative of the General Partner (collectively, the “GP Party”), against all liabilities, losses, and damages incurred by any of them by reason of any act performed or omitted to be performed in the name of or on behalf of the Partnership, or in connection with the Partnership’s business, including, without limitation, attorneys’ fees and any amounts expended in the settlement of any claims or liabilities, losses, or damages, to the fullest extent permitted by the Delaware Act; provided, however, the Partnership shall have no obligation to indemnify and hold harmless a GP Party for any action or inaction that constitutes gross negligence or willful or wanton misconduct.

Compl. Ex. K, § 4.1(h).<sup>24</sup>

In the Texas Action, Highland Capital alleged:

- “Daugherty’s tenure at Highland had been characterized by extreme behavior, and his performance and ability to function in his job diminished over the years. Daugherty became increasingly unmanageable, erratic, and insubordinate, as well as hostile and belligerent to peers and subordinates at Highland. Recently, Daugherty admitted to Highland that two strokes he suffered years earlier had left him with dead spots in his brain that impacted his mental competence and conduct.” Compl. Ex. L, ¶ 8 (emphasis added).
- “During his last year of employment, a number of employees made complaints regarding Daugherty’s actions. Management discussed these complaints with Daugherty, but his behavior persisted. Specifically, these complaints centered on Daugherty’s abusive tirades. Daugherty frequently <sup>24</sup> The General Partner under the Highland Partnership Agreement is Strand Advisors, Inc., a Delaware corporation (“Strand”). Compl. ¶ 65. dehumanized employees, publicly berating them .... A number of these employees subsequently resigned from Highland or requested to be reassigned to departments in which they would not have to interact with Daugherty. Further, when complaints were brought to Daugherty's attention, he refused to acknowledge any problems with what he had done and said that he had a right to insult any man or woman at Highland in any way he saw fit, regardless of the purpose or content." Id., ¶ 9 (emphasis added).

- "Daugherty's work effort and performance also significantly declined over the last year of his employment as he devoted less time to his duties and spent large amounts of time out of the office tending to non-business matters." Id., ¶ 10 (emphasis added).

Highland Capital asserted that the conduct described in the above-referenced allegations "violated [Daugherty's] common law duties to Highland, as well as several agreements between him and Highland." Id., ¶ 12. Highland Capital further asserted that Daugherty "breached a number of common law obligations related to his employment relationship." Id., ¶ 21.

Despite Highland Capital's numerous allegations arising from Daugherty's employment, Daugherty was not liable for his employment conduct. Instead, Daugherty was liable based on the retention of confidential information after his employment. Compl. ¶ 71. Daugherty successfully defended all claims and allegations arising from his employment conduct. On the eve of trial, Highland Capital “non-suited” allegations concerning Daugherty’s employment conduct. Compl. Ex. M.

Highland Capital moves to dismiss Counts Six and Seven, for fees on fees, on the following grounds: (1) Count Six is time barred; (2) Highland Capital’s allegations against Daugherty were based on his “personal, contractual” obligations; and (3) Daugherty is not entitled to fees on fees because he is not entitled to indemnification.

A. Daugherty’s Indemnification Claim Is Not Time Barred

The trial-court judgment in the Texas Action was issued on July 14, 2014. Highland Capital appealed and the judgment was affirmed on December 1, 2016. Thus, it was not until December 1, 2016, that Daugherty had certainty that Highland Capital could not prove its allegations or prevail on claims arising from Daugherty’s employment conduct. This action was filed well within the limitations period.

<sup>26</sup> See also Simon v. Navellier Series Fund, 2000 WL 1597890, at *9 (Del. Ch. Oct. 19, 2000) (“As a matter of litigative efficiency, it makes little sense for this court to decide claims for indemnification—as opposed to claims for advancement of litigation expenses—in advance of a non-appealable final judgment. There is simply too great a risk that the appellate courts will take a different view than the trial court for it to make much sense to grapple with indemnification claims until the underlying litigation is concluded with finality.... In the absence of a showing of undue hardship, [waiting to adjudicate an indemnification claim until a definitive outcome is reached in the underlying matter] will reduce the chance that the court will engage in a wasteful exercise in predictive justice, only to see its work undone by a reversal of the trial court’s judgment in the underlying matter.”).

Highland Capital argues that the “claims giving rise to Daugherty’s demand for contractual indemnification, and thus the underlying matter, were non-suited on January 14, 2014,” and that “Daugherty could be certain that the outcome of those claims was resolved on January 14, 2014, when the Texas Court entered an order granting Highland’s notice of non-suit.” OB at 57. Highland Capital’s argument fails for several reasons.

Highland Capital nonsuited “its cause of action for breach of contract, only as such claim relates to the breach of Article II of the Amended Employment Agreement of [Daugherty], relating to Daugherty’s agreement to devote all of his time, energy, skill and best effort to the performance of his duties and to the business of Highland and to perform his duties in a diligent, trustworthy, and business-like manner for the purpose of advancing the business of Highland.” Compl. Ex. M (emphasis in original). The nonsuit was limited to only a contract claim and did not cover the alleged breach of “a number of common law obligations related to his employment relationship.” Compl. Ex. L, ¶ 21 (emphasis added).

Further, the nonsuited claims were dismissed without prejudice and could have been reasserted. Texas courts “recognize that procedural devices are available to reverse a prior decision to nonsuit and resurrect the original claim, so long as the trial court has plenary power over the case.” Braglia v. Middleton, 2012 WL 664947, at *2 (Tex. App. Mar. 1, 2012). “When a cause of action is dismissed and later refiled, limitations are calculated to run from the time the cause of action accrued until the date that the claim is refiled.” Delhomme v. Comm’n for Lawyer Discipline, 113 S.W.3d 616, 621 (Tex. App. 2003).

Daugherty had no certainty on January 14, 2014, that the nonsuited claims were finally resolved in his favor. Highland Capital could have reasserted its allegations and claims. In its brief, Highland Capital ignores this possibility. Had Daugherty immediately sought indemnification for the nonsuited claims and Highland Capital later reasserted its claims, the piecemeal litigation would be “astoundingly wasteful and a clear signal of design failure.” Sun-Times Media, 954 A.2d at 403.

Daugherty’s employment with Highland Capital ended in September 2011, so employment-related claims could have been reasserted until at least September 2014 (assuming, for example, a three-year limitations period for fiduciary duty claims).<sup>27</sup> Even under Highland Capital’s best-case scenario,

Daugherty's indemnification claim accrued in September 2014, giving him until September 2017 to file his indemnification claim (he filed in July 2017). (The claim actually accrued on December 1, 2016, when the appellate court affirmed the trial court judgment.)

At this stage it is not clear from the facts alleged and documents in the record that Count Six is time barred. Rather, it is reasonably conceivable that Daugherty's indemnification claim was timely asserted.<sup>28</sup> Highland Capital's time-bar defense should be rejected.

B. Highland Capital Cannot Evade Its Indemnification Obligations to Daugherty Because of Daugherty's Employment Agreement

Under the Highland Partnership Agreement, Daugherty is entitled to be indemnified "against all liabilities, losses, and damages incurred ... by reason of any act performed or omitted to be performed in the name of or on behalf of the Partnership, or in connection with the Partnership's business ...." Compl. Ex. K, § 4.1(h).

Highland Capital argues that Daugherty's indemnification claim "must also be dismissed because the underlying claims he seeks indemnification for implicate Daugherty's personal obligations under his employment agreement rather than his legal obligations as a former corporate officer of Highland's General Partner." OB at 58.

Highland Capital's claims went beyond Daugherty's employment agreement. Daugherty was accused of violating "common law duties to Highland, as well as several agreements between him and Highland." Compl. Ex. L, ¶ 12 (emphasis added). Highland Capital further asserted that Daugherty "breached a number of common law obligations related to his employment relationship." Id., ¶ 21 (emphasis added).

More important, the fact that an employment agreement existed between Highland Capital and Daugherty does not convert all allegations and claims against Daugherty to non-indemnifiable allegations and claims, as Highland Capital suggests. See, e.g., OB at 58-60.

Highland Capital's argument was rejected in Paolino v. Mace Sec. Int'l, Inc., 985 A.2d 392 (Del. Ch. 2009). Vice Chancellor Laster stated:

Last, I consider Mace's assertion that the Counterclaims do not arise "by reason of the fact" that Paolino was CEO and Chairman of Mace, but rather out of his Employment Agreement. Given the allegations of the Counterclaims, this is a surprising argument. Mace's Counterclaims assert broadly that "Paolino breached his contractual, statutory and common law duties owed to Mace," including his "fiduciary" obligations. They recite a list of actions that Paolino allegedly took or failed to take in his capacity as Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Mace, including the "willful refusal to manage Mace" and the "abandonment of his oversight and supervisory responsibilities as Mace's CEO." They facially implicate Paolino's duties as an officer and director and fall within the scope of Section 6.01.

As legal authority for its counterfactual position, Mace relies on Cochran and Weaver v. ZeniMax Media, Inc., 2004 WL 243163 (Del. Ch. Jan. 30, 2004). Neither case supports the idea that when an employment agreement is at issue, Section 145 goes out the window. The cases instead show that Section 145 will not apply when the parties are litigating a specific and personal contractual obligation that does not involve the exercise of judgment, discretion, or decision-making authority on behalf of the corporation.

<sup>29</sup> Vice Chancellor Laster continued, "As this case and others like Reddy, Zaman and Weaver demonstrate, corporations bent on limiting their exposure to mandatory indemnification and advancement provisions sought to read Cochran broadly as saying that if an individual agrees to serve in a covered capacity pursuant to an employment agreement, then his duties become a personal contractual obligation. This in turn allowed the corporations to argue that if the individual was sued for wrongdoing or misconduct in his official capacity, then the suit arose out of his personal contractual obligation and was not 'by reason of' an official capacity for purposes of Section 145." Paolino, 985 A.2d at 404. Highland Capital perpetuates the misreading of Cochran in this case.

employment conduct were not based on “a specific and personal contractual obligation that does not involve the exercise of judgment, discretion, or decision-making authority on behalf of the corporation.” Id. They were based on general references to “a number of common law obligations” and duties and that Daugherty’s “performance and ability to function in his job diminished over the years.” Compl. Ex. L, ¶ 8, 21. Those general allegations are different from the specific formula-based compensation and wholly contractual note claims at issue in Cochran. See Cochran v. Stifel Fin. Corp., 2000 WL 1847676, at *7-8 (Del. Ch. Dec. 13, 2000), rev’d in part, 809 A.2d 555 (Del. 2002).

After analyzing Cochran and cases that clarified its holding, Vice Chancellor Laster held in Paolino:

In this case, the Counterclaims have been asserted by reason of Paolino’s service as CEO and Chairman of Mace. They directly challenge Paolino’s conduct generally and his alleged failings in his official capacity. The fact that Paolino and Mace were parties to the Employment Agreement does not convert Paolino’s duties as CEO into a personal contractual obligation like the loan repayment or formula-based compensation reimbursement in Cochran. Nor can the Counterclaims credibly be portrayed as the type of limited, garden variety dispute between an employer and employee at issue in Weaver.<sup>30</sup> The Employment Agreement does not alter the fact that the Counterclaims arise were asserted by reason of the fact that Paolino was an officer and director of Mace.

Paolino, 985 A.2d at 407. Highland Capital’s reliance on Daugherty’s employment agreement as a basis to dismiss Count Six should be rejected for the reasons stated in Paolino.

Highland Capital’s argument also fails because it did not prevail on its nonsuited allegations and claim. Cochran stated, “When the corporation brings a claim and proves its entitlement to relief because the officer has breached his individual obligations, it is problematic to conclude that the suit has been rendered an ‘official capacity’ suit subject to indemnification under § 145 and implementing bylaws.” Stifel Fin. Corp. v. Cochran, 809 A.2d 555, 562 (Del. 2002) (emphasis added). Cochran is inapposite.

was a corporate case under Section 145 where advancement was not available for employment-related claims because “the bylaws require[d] advancement only when requested by officers or directors but not employees.” 2004 WL 243163, at *2 (emphasis added). In contrast, the Highland Partnership Agreement indemnifies “any director, officer, employee, agent, or representative of the General Partner ... against all liabilities, losses, or damages incurred by any of them by reason of any act performed or omitted to be performed in the name of or on behalf of [Highland Capital], or in connection with [Highland Capital’s] business ....” Compl. Ex. K, § 4.1(h) (emphasis added). Highland Capital’s allegations against Daugherty concerning his tenure at Highland Capital fall within this broad standard.

Highland Capital made numerous serious allegations and claims against Daugherty in the Texas Action concerning his employment conduct and it did not prevail on any of them. It is reasonably conceivable that Daugherty is entitled to indemnification for successfully defending those allegations and claims.

C. Daugherty Is Entitled to Fees on Fees

Because Daugherty stated a claim for indemnification, it is also reasonably conceivable that he stated a claim for fees on fees under Count Seven. Unless fees on fees are expressly excluded from a partnership agreement, they apply by default. For example, in an LLC advancement case, this Court explained:

Under Delaware law as articulated in Stifel, DeLucca is entitled to an award of litigation expenses for bringing this advancement action. The only way out of the Stifel “fees on fees” award was for the KKAT Companies “to tailor their indemnification ... to exclude ‘fees on fees,’ if that [was] a desirable goal.” The Operating Agreements clearly did not limit indemnification in the manner required by Stifel; in fact, § 4.4 uses precisely the expansive language used in Stifel—“The Company shall, to the full extent permitted by applicable laws, indemnify and hold harmless.”

DeLucca v. KKAT Mgmt., L.L.C., 2006 WL 224058, at *15 (Del. Ch. Jan. 23, 2006) (footnotes omitted). The Highland Partnership Agreement contains the same broad language: “to the fullest extent permitted by the Delaware Act.” Compl. Ex. K, § 4.1(h). It is reasonably conceivable that Daugherty is entitled to fees on fees.

CONCLUSION

Based on the allegations in Daugherty’s complaint and the reasons discussed above, Defendants’ motion to dismiss should be denied.

NOTICE

This Confidential Private Placement Memorandum (this “Memorandum”) is being furnished on a confidential basis solely to selected qualified investors (or their respective authorized representatives) considering the purchase of limited partner interests (the “Interests”) in Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, L.P. (the “Fund”). This Memorandum is not to be reproduced or distributed to others, at any time, without the prior written consent of Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund GP, L.P. (the “General Partner”) (other than to professional advisors and employees of the prospective investor receiving this Memorandum from the General Partner or its authorized representative or such prospective investor).

Each recipient agrees to keep confidential all information contained herein not already in the public domain and will use this Memorandum for the sole purpose of evaluating a possible investment in the Fund. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, each investor (and each employee, representative, or other agent of the investor) may disclose to any and all persons, without limitation of any kind, the tax treatment and tax structure of an investment in the Fund and all materials of any kind (including opinions or other tax analyses) that are provided to the investor relating to such tax treatment and tax structure. Acceptance of this Memorandum by prospective investors constitutes an agreement to be bound by the foregoing terms.

No person has been authorized to give any information or to make any representation concerning the Fund or the offering of the Interests other than the information contained in this Memorandum and, if given or made, such information or representation must not be relied upon as having been authorized by the Fund or the General Partner. Prospective investors should not construe the contents of this Memorandum as legal, tax or financial advice. Each prospective investor should consult its own professional advisors as to the legal, financial, tax, ERISA (as defined herein) or other related matters relevant to the suitability of an investment in the Fund for such investor. In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the Fund and the terms of the offering contemplated by this Memorandum. The Interests have not been recommended by any U.S. federal or state, or any non-U.S., securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, the foregoing authorities have not confirmed the accuracy or determined the adequacy of this Memorandum. Any representation to the contrary is a criminal offense.

This Memorandum does not constitute an offer to sell, or the solicitation of an offer to buy, any Interests in any state or other jurisdiction where, or to or from any person to or from whom, such offer or solicitation is unlawful or not authorized. The Interests have not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”), or the securities laws of any of the states of the United States. The offering and any potential sale contemplated by this Memorandum will be made in reliance upon an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act for offers and sales of securities which do not involve any public offering and analogous exemptions under state securities laws. There will be no public market for the Interests, and there is no obligation on the part of any person to register the Interests under the Securities Act or any state securities laws. The Fund has not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended. Interests are suitable only for sophisticated investors who do not require immediate liquidity for their investments, for whom an investment in the Fund does not constitute a complete investment program and who fully understand and are willing to assume the risks involved in the Fund’s investment program. The Fund’s investment practices, by their nature, may be considered to involve a substantial degree of risk. See “Risk Factors and Potential Conflicts of Interest” beginning at page 25. No assurance can be given that the Fund’s investment objectives will be achieved or that investors will receive a return of their capital.

The Interests are subject to restrictions on transferability and resale and may not be transferred or resold except as permitted under the Securities Act and any applicable state or other securities laws, pursuant to registration or an exemption therefrom. The transferability of the Interests will be further restricted by the terms of the limited partnership agreement of the Fund. Investors should be aware that they will be required to bear the financial risks of an investment in the Interests for an extended period of time.

This Memorandum does not purport to be, and should not be construed as, a complete description of the limited partnership agreement of the Fund or the investment management agreement by and among the Fund’s investment manager, the General Partner and the Fund. Each prospective investor in the Fund is encouraged to review the Fund’s limited partnership agreement carefully, in addition to consulting appropriate legal and tax advisors. To the extent of any inconsistency between this Memorandum and the Fund’s limited partnership agreement, the terms of the Fund’s limited partnership agreement control.

Certain information contained in this Memorandum constitutes “forward-looking statements,” which can be identified by the use of forward-looking terminology such as “may,” “will,” “should,” “expect,” “anticipate,” “project,” “estimate,” “intend,” or “believe” or the negatives thereof or other variations thereon or comparable terminology. Due to various risks and uncertainties, including those described in “Risk Factors and Potential Conflicts of Interest,” actual events or results or the actual performance of the Fund may differ materially from those reflected or contemplated in such forward-looking statements.

Pursuant to an exemption from the Commodity Futures Trading Commission, neither the General Partner nor the Investment Manager is registered with as a commodity pool operator and therefore, unlike a registered commodity pool operator, is not required to deliver a disclosure document or a certified annual report to participants in this pool. Among other things, the exemption requires the filing of a claim of exemption with the National Futures Association. It is also required that at all times either: (a) the aggregate initial margin and premiums required to establish commodity interest positions does not exceed 5% of the liquidation value of the Fund’s portfolio; or (b) the aggregate net notional value of the Fund’s commodity interest positions does not exceed 100% of the liquidation value of the Fund’s portfolio and further that all pool participants are required to be accredited investors or certain other qualified investors.

All references herein to “$” refer to U.S. dollars.

This Memorandum is accurate as of its date, and no representation or warranty is made as to its continued accuracy after such date.

INVESTMENT PROGRAM

Investment Objective

The Fund's investment objective is to seek attractive risk-adjusted returns, consistent with the preservation of capital and prudent investment management. No assurance can be given, however that the Fund will achieve this objective.

Investment Strategy

Investment Asset Classes

The following is a description of the principal types of securities in which the Fund may invest and certain trading techniques the Fund may employ. The following description is merely a summary and the Investment Manager has discretion to cause the Fund to invest in other types of securities and to follow other investment criteria and guidelines. However, consistent with the investment strategy of the Fund, all new investments made by the Fund must, at the time of purchase, (i) trade over-the-counter or on an exchange, (ii) have a third-party quote or valuation available, and (iii) be considered a marketable investment in the reasonable opinion of the Investment Manager. An investment is a marketable investment if in the reasonable opinion of the Investment Manager it can be sold at the mark within 30 calendar days. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Fund may invest up to 20% of its net asset value in non-marketable investments if and when the Fund's net asset value reaches $1 billion.

Debt and Debt-Like Securities. The Investment Manager intends for debt securities to be the Fund's primary focus, with a target allocation of 40-60% of net asset value of the Fund, although this may vary depending on market conditions. The Fund may invest (both long and short) in debt securities of any kind, including debt securities of varying maturities, debt securities paying a fixed or fluctuating rate of interest, inflation-indexed bonds, structured notes, loan assignments, loan participations, asset-backed securities, collateralized loan obligation ("CLO") securities (including, rated and unrated, debt, equity and preference share instruments relating to collateralized loan obligations ("CLO Securities")), debt securities convertible into equity securities, and securities issued or guaranteed by the U.S. Government or its agencies or instrumentalities, by foreign governments or international agencies or supranational entities or by domestic or private issuers.

The Fund may invest in debt securities of any credit quality, including below investment grade securities (also known as "high yield securities" or "junk securities"). Such securities are rated below investment grade by a nationally recognized statistical rating organization ("NRSRO") or are unrated but deemed by the Investment Manager to be of comparable quality. The Fund may invest without limitation in below investment grade or unrated securities, including in insolvent borrowers or borrowers in default.

Equity and Equity-Like Securities. The Fund may invest (both long and short) in common stock, preferred stock, securities convertible into common stock, rights and warrants or securities or other instruments whose price is linked to the value of common stock. Although the equity securities in which the Fund invests may have any capitalization, may be dominated in any currency, and may be located in emerging markets without limit, the Fund will primarily invest in equity securities of large capitalization companies that are located in developed markets. Additionally, the Fund may invest in equity or subordinated tranches of asset-backed securities, including CLOs, and may also invest in life settlement policies and other instruments that have equity-like characteristics that meet the investment objective of the Fund.

Investment Themes

The Investment Manager's investment philosophy is based on the belief that thorough, fundamental research and a disciplined research methodology increase the likelihood of producing attractive long-term results. The Investment Manager uses this research in an attempt to anticipate long-term secular trends and identify those investments that have the highest relative value characteristics across four primary investment themes.

- 1) Convergence – Investments in market sectors in which the Investment Manager believes are mispriced and will converge to historic norms over time.
- 2) Deep Value – Investments in companies that the Investment Manager believes the market has undervalued. Through thorough research the Investment Manager believes the current market value does not correspond with the company's long-term fundamentals.
- 3) Event Driven – The Investment Manager will generally focus on equity and debt investments with catalysts that could include, but are not limited to, asset sales, covenant violations, liability management, amend/extend, refinancing, tenders and mergers/acquisitions.
- 4) Activism – Material holdings or controlling interests in companies, including the potential to obtain representation on the company's board, with the goal of affecting a change in the company in order to drive future profitability and value realization.

The Investment Manager may also manage interest rate, default, currency and other risks through a variety of trading methods and market tools, including security shorting and derivative hedging instruments, as it deems appropriate.

Although the Investment Manager expects to maintain a diversified portfolio of investments, it does not intend to limit itself to any one particular investment theme or asset class. Rather, the Investment Manager intends to follow a flexible approach in order to place itself in the best position to capitalize on opportunities in the financial markets.

*The investment objectives and methods summarized above represent the General Partner's and Investment Manager's current intentions. Depending on conditions and trends in the securities markets and the economy in general, the General Partner and the Investment Manager may pursue any objectives, employ any investment techniques or purchase any type of security that they consider appropriate and in the best interests of the Fund whether or not described in this section. The foregoing discussion includes and is based upon numerous assumptions and opinions of the General Partner and Investment Manager concerning world financial markets and other matters, the accuracy of which cannot be assured. There can be no assurance that the Fund's investment strategy will achieve profitable results.

The Fund will maintain a book capital account (a “Capital Account”) for the General Partner and each Limited Partner (each, a “Partner” and collectively, the “Partners”) to reflect contributions, withdrawals, distributions and allocations of net profit and net loss. The initial balance of each Partner’s Capital Account will be equal to the amount of cash or net value of any property contributed to the Fund by such Partner.

If a Partner invests in more than one Series of Interests, the Fund will maintain a separate Capital Account on behalf of such Partner with respect to each such Series and each Capital Account will be treated as if it were the Capital Account of a separate Partner for purposes of determining the Management Fee, the Performance Allocation and withdrawal rights applicable to each Series Capital Account.

If a Partner makes an additional capital contribution to an existing Capital Account, the Capital Account will be sub-divided into separate sub-accounts attributable to each separate capital contribution, with each capital sub-account treated as if it were the Capital Account of a separate Partner for purposes of determining the Management Fee, the Performance Allocation and withdrawal rights applicable to each capital sub-account. References herein to a Partner’s “Capital Account” include any such separately maintained capital sub-accounts.

The Fund will issue to the Offshore Fund an Interest and maintain capital sub-accounts that correspond to each Sub-Series of Shares (as defined in the Partnership Agreement) and each capital sub-account is treated separately for determining Management Fees, the Performance Allocations and withdrawal rights.

Alternative Investment Vehicles

The General Partner will have the right, in connection with any investment, to direct the capital contributions of some or all of the subscribers to be made through one or more alternative investment vehicles (each an “Alternative Investment Vehicle”), and, in the case of an existing investment, transfer all or a portion of such investment to an Alternative Investment Vehicle, if, in the judgment of the General Partner, the use of such vehicle or vehicles would allow the Fund to overcome legal or regulatory constraints, invest in a more tax-efficient manner or would facilitate participation in certain types of investments. Any Alternative Investment Vehicle will be subject to terms and conditions substantially similar to those of the Fund (including Management Fees and the Performance Allocation defined below) and will be managed by the Investment Manager or an affiliate thereof.

Affiliated Investors

Interests in the Fund held by the Investment Manager or its affiliates (collectively, “Affiliated Investors”) may not be assessed the management fees or the performance allocations that are applicable to other investors in the Fund, but share pro rata in other applicable expenses of the Fund (as more fully described in the Partnership Agreement).

Borrowing and Leverage

The Fund may buy securities on margin and arrange with banks, brokers and others to borrow money against a pledge of securities in order to employ leverage when the Investment Manager deems such action appropriate.

Management Fee

For its services to the Fund, the Investment Manager is entitled to a management fee (the “Management Fee”), calculated and payable quarterly in advance, equal to: (i) 1.5% (per annum) of each Capital Account attributable to a Series B Interest, (ii) 1.0% (per annum) of each Capital Account attributable to a Series C Interest and (iii) 2.0% (per annum) of each Capital Account attributable to a Series D Interest.

Management Fees will be appropriately adjusted for any partial quarter. The Investment Manager may reduce or eliminate the Management Fee with respect to any Limited Partner (or Capital Account) in its sole discretion.

Other Fees and Expenses

The Fund bears the reasonable, out-of-pocket expenses of the offering of the Interests contemplated hereunder and the recent Amendments, described above, including expenses associated with obtaining any requisite investor consent to such Amendments. To the extent the General Partner deems appropriate, expenses related to the Amendments may be capitalized and amortized by the Fund over a 36-month period from the Effective Date, even though such capitalization and amortization may be a divergence from U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (“GAAP”). Amortization of such expenses over a 36-month period may, in certain circumstances, result in a qualification of the Fund’s annual audited financial statements. In such instances, the General Partner may decide to (i) avoid the qualification by recognizing the unamortized expenses or (ii) make GAAP conforming changes for financial reporting purposes, but amortize expenses for purposes of calculating the Fund’s net asset value. There will be a divergence in the Fund’s fiscal year-end net asset value and in the net asset value reported in the Fund’s financial statements in any year where, pursuant to clause (ii), GAAP conforming changes are made only to the Fund’s financial statements for financial reporting purposes.

If the Fund is terminated within 36 months of the Effective Date, any unamortized expenses will be recognized.

Investment and Operational Expenses. The Fund bears all reasonable costs and expenses directly related to its investment program, including expenses related to research, due diligence, proxies, underwriting and private placements, brokerage commissions, interest on debt balances or borrowings, custody fees, travel fees and expenses related to the Fund’s offering and any withholding or transfer taxes imposed on the Fund. The Fund also bears all reasonable, out-of-pocket costs of the administration of the Fund, including (i) accounting, audit and legal expenses (including those incurred for the Fund, the General Partner or the Investment Manager to comply with applicable law, rule or regulation), (ii) costs of any litigation or investigation involving the Fund’s activities, (iii) the costs, fees and expenses of any appraisers, accountants or other experts engaged by the General Partner or the Investment Manager as well as other expenses directly related to the Fund’s investments and (iv) costs associated with reporting and providing information to existing and prospective Limited Partners. However, the General Partner or the Investment Manager may, in its sole discretion, choose to absorb any such expenses incurred on behalf of the Fund.

The Fund does not have its own separate employees or office. Except as described above and provided for in the Partnership Agreement, the Fund generally does not reimburse the General Partner or the Investment Manager for salaries, office rent and other general overhead costs of the General Partner or the Investment Manager. However, a portion of the commissions generated on the Fund’s brokerage transactions may generate “soft dollar” credits that the General Partner and the Investment Manager are authorized to use to pay for research and research-related services and products used by the General Partner or the Investment Manager. In the event that the Investment Manager elects to use soft dollars, it intends to limit such use to services that fall within the safe harbor afforded by Section 28(e) of the United States Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. See “Brokerage and Custody.”

Allocation of Net Profit and Loss

Net profit or net loss of the Fund (including unrealized gains or losses and Fund expenses) is allocated among the Capital Accounts of the General Partner and the Limited Partners (collectively, the “Partners”) as of the close of each calendar month, at such times as the Fund receives an additional capital contribution or effects a withdrawal or distribution, or at such other times as the General Partner may determine.

Profit and loss attributable and any Restricted New Issues (as described below) and are determined and allocated among the Partners separately and are not reflected in the determinations and allocations of net profit or net loss attributable to the remainder of the Fund’s net assets.

As of the close of each accounting period, the net profit or net loss (other than any profit or loss attributable to Restricted New Issues, which are allocated as per below) will be allocated pro rata among the Capital Accounts of the Partners in proportion to their percentage interests in the Fund as of the commencement of the period. Each Partner’s percentage interest in the Fund as of the commencement of any period is based on the value of the Partner’s Capital Account at such time (excluding any amount attributable to such Partner’s share of Restricted New Issues), in relation to the total value of the Fund’s net assets at such time (excluding the aggregate amount of net assets attributable to Restricted New Issues).

If the General Partner determines that for legal, tax, regulatory or bona fide other reasons as to which the General Partner and any Limited Partner may agree such Limited Partner should not participate (or should receive a reduced participation) in the net profit or net loss with respect to any investment, the General Partner may allocate net profit or net loss, if any, with respect to the investment to Limited Partners to the extent to which the above restrictions do not apply.

The Management Fee is calculated based on the Capital Account balance of each Limited Partner and is debited from each Limited Partner’s Capital Account. Allocations to each Partner of net profit or net loss of the Fund will be subject to periodic adjustment to give effect to the Performance Allocation, as described below.

Restricted New Issues

The Fund may from time to time purchase securities in public offerings made through member firms of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, Inc. (“FINRA”). FINRA member firms are not permitted to sell certain new issues (“Restricted New Issues”) to accounts in which certain persons have a significant beneficial interest that are involved in the securities industry or to executive officers or directors of companies that are current, recent, or prospective investment banking clients of the relevant underwriters (“Restricted Persons”). In order to enable the Fund to participate in Restricted New Issues, the Fund will require each Limited Partner to provide information to enable the Fund to determine whether the Limited Partner is a Restricted Person. When the Fund invests in a Restricted New Issue, the profits and losses associated with the investment will specifically be allocated to those Partners who are permitted by the FINRA rules to have a beneficial interest therein.

The FINRA rules permit Restricted Persons that are involved in the securities industry to have in the aggregate up to a 10% participation in Restricted New Issues and Restricted Persons affiliated with a FINRA member’s investment banking clients to have up to 25% participation in Restricted New Issues. If the ownership of the Fund by Restricted Persons exceeds the maximum percentage, the General Partner will allocate such excess amount pro rata among the Capital Accounts of Partners who are not Restricted Persons or on such other basis that the General Partner reasonably determines ensures compliance with the FINRA Rules.

If a Restricted New Issue in which participation by Restricted Persons has been capped is not promptly sold, the investment may be reallocated among all Partners on a pro rata basis (including all Restricted Persons) after a secondary market develops at such secondary market price.

Performance Allocation

The Investment Manager, in its capacity as a special limited partner in the Fund, is entitled to a performance allocation at the end of each calendar year (the “Performance Allocation”), which is calculated and charged separately with respect to each Capital Account of each Limited Partner, equal to 20% of the amount by which the Capital Account’s “Performance Change Amount” (if positive) for the current calendar year exceeds the Capital Account’s “Loss Carryforward Amount.”

A Capital Account’s “Performance Change Amount” for any calendar year equals such Capital Account’s pro rata allocation of net profit or net loss (including Management Fees, Restricted New Issues and/or other items of income or expense specially allocable to the Capital Account).

The “Loss Carryforward Amount” for any calendar year equals the aggregate Performance Change Amounts, if negative, allocated to a Capital Account during any preceding calendar year, minus any subsequent positive Performance Change Amounts on which no Performance Allocation was charged. If a Limited Partner makes a withdrawal from its Capital Account at a time when there is a Loss Carryforward Amount, such Loss Carryforward Amount will be reduced in the same proportion that the withdrawal amount bears to the Limited Partner's total Capital Account balance immediately prior to the withdrawal.

The Performance Allocation is calculated and charged to each Capital Account as of the last day of each calendar year. The Performance Allocation is also calculated and charged with respect to any Capital Account from which there is a permitted or required withdrawal as of any time other than the last day of a calendar year on the basis of net profits allocated to such Capital Account through the applicable date of withdrawal. In the case of a partial withdrawal, the Performance Allocation is calculated and charged only with respect to the portion of the Capital Account being withdrawn.

The Performance Allocation and Loss Carryforward Amount will be computed separately for each Capital Account (and each separately maintained capital sub-account reflecting additional contributions by a Limited Partner). Thus, if a Limited Partner has multiple Capital Accounts, the Performance Allocation and Loss Carryforward will be computed separately for each Capital Account, and the Capital Accounts will not be netted against one another for purposes of calculating the Performance Allocation. Accordingly, Limited Partners with multiple Capital Accounts may be charged a Performance Allocation in respect of one or more Capital Accounts for a year in which the aggregate net profits allocated to all of such Limited Partner's Capital Accounts do not exceed the aggregate Loss Carryforward Amount allocated to all of such Limited Partner's Capital Accounts.

The Performance Allocation with respect to any Limited Partner may be waived or altered by the Investment Manager in its sole discretion.

Distributions

Subject to the withdrawal privilege described below, all earnings of the Fund are ordinarily retained for investment. Other than distributions made pursuant to a withdrawal described below, Limited Partners should not expect the Fund to make any distributions.

Withdrawals Generally

Withdrawal rights vary by Series. For the purposes of establishing the withdrawal privileges below, withdrawal rights are determined separately with respect to each Capital Account (and each capital sub-account, if applicable) of a Limited Partner.

Series Withdrawal Dates

Subject to certain withdrawal restrictions described below, Limited Partners have the following withdrawal rights:

Series B Interests: Annual Liquidity. A Limited Partner is permitted to make complete or partial withdrawals of its Series B Interests upon written notice to the General Partner at least 180 days prior to the applicable Series B Withdrawal Date. The "Series B Withdrawal Date" means: (i) the end of the day on the last Business Day of the calendar month that immediately precedes the one-year anniversary of the contribution of the capital to be withdrawn; and thereafter (ii) the end of the day on each one-year anniversary of the preceding Series B Withdrawal Date (i.e., if capital was contributed to the Fund on November 1, 2014, such capital would be eligible for withdrawal on October 31, 2015 and every year thereafter on October 31st, or the last Business Day of that month).

Series C Interests: Two Year Liquidity. A Limited Partner is permitted to make complete or partial withdrawals of its Series C Interests upon written notice to the General Partner at least 180 days prior to the applicable Series C Withdrawal Date. The “Series C Withdrawal Date” means: (i) the end of the day on the last Business Day of the calendar month that immediately precedes the two-year anniversary of the contribution of the capital to be withdrawn; and thereafter (ii) the end of the day on each two-year anniversary of the preceding Series C Withdrawal Date (i.e., if capital was contributed to the Fund on November 1, 2014, such capital would be eligible for withdrawal on October 31, 2016 and every two years thereafter on October 31st, or the last Business Day of that month).

Series D Interests: One Year Hard Lock-Up; Quarterly Liquidity. A Limited Partner is permitted to make complete or partial withdrawals of its Series D Interest as of the last Business Day of each calendar quarter (and/or such other days as the General Partner may determine in its sole discretion) (each, a “Series D Withdrawal Date”) following the one-year anniversary of the contribution of the capital to be withdrawn. Notice of any withdrawal of Series D Interests must be provided in writing to the General Partner at least 90 calendar days prior to the requested Series D Withdrawal Date.

The General Partner may, at any time and in its sole discretion, waive or modify the foregoing withdrawal and distribution restrictions with respect to any Limited Partner.

Settlement of Withdrawal Proceeds

With respect to any amounts withdrawn, a withdrawing Partner shall not share in the income, gains and losses of the Fund or have any other rights as a Partner (in the case of a complete withdrawal) after the applicable date of withdrawal, and withdrawn amounts will be fixed as of the effective date of withdrawal, except as otherwise provided in the Partnership Agreement with respect to reserves for contingencies.

At least 90% of the estimated amount due with respect to the Fund’s marketable investments is normally settled in cash or, subject to the sole discretion of the General Partner, wholly or partially with securities or other assets of the Fund, within 30 Business Days after the date of withdrawal, provided that the General Partner may delay such payment if such delay is reasonably necessary to prevent such withdrawal from having a material adverse impact on the Fund or the remaining Capital Accounts. The General Partner is entitled to deduct from such settlement an amount equal to the pro rata portion of any Performance Allocation (based on the portion of the withdrawal being settled) payable to the Investment Manager with respect to such withdrawn amount. Any balance will be held back and distributed, without interest thereon, promptly following completion of the audit of the Fund's financial statements for such fiscal year, or sooner in the General Partner's discretion.

In the case of a complete withdrawal, or a partial withdrawal that cannot be fully funded out of the Limited Partner's interest in the Fund's marketable investments, no settlements occur with respect to any of such Limited Partner's interest in the Fund's non-marketable investments until the occurrence of liquidity events with respect to such non-marketable investments after the scheduled payment date for the withdrawal (without interest thereon). Notwithstanding the foregoing, the General Partner may, in its sole discretion, make settlements in such cases prior to the occurrence of a liquidity event if such settlement would, in the good faith opinion of the General Partner, not have a material adverse effect on the Fund. Generally, a liquidity event will be a sale of the relevant investment for cash, in which case the settlement will be funded in cash within 90 days after the liquidity event (without interest). If the liquidity event is not a sale for cash, the General Partner may effect the settlement either by making a distribution in kind of the Limited Partner's ratable share of the relevant investment or by distributing the net proceeds derived from a sale of such investment. The General Partner is entitled to withdraw from each such settlement an amount equal to the remaining portion of any Performance Allocation (pro rata based on the portion of such withdrawal being distributed) to be credited to the Investment Manager at the same time and in the same form (in cash or in kind) as the distribution to the withdrawing Limited Partner.

The General Partner may withhold for the benefit of the Fund from any distribution to a withdrawing Limited Partner an amount representing the actual or estimated costs incurred by the Fund with respect to such withdrawal.

Withdrawal Conditions

The General Partner may refuse to accept a withdrawal request if it is not accompanied by such additional information as the General Partner or the Administrator may reasonably require. This power may, without limitation to the generality of the foregoing, be exercised where proper information has not been provided for money laundering verification purposes. In addition, where withdrawal proceeds are requested to be remitted to an account which is not in the name of the investor, the General Partner and the Administrator reserve the right to request such information as may be reasonably necessary in order to verify the identity of the investor and the owner of the account to which the withdrawal proceeds will be paid. The withdrawal proceeds will not be paid to a third-party account if the investor and/or owner of the account fails to provide such information.

Compulsory Withdrawals The General Partner reserves the right, in its sole discretion, to compel the withdrawal of any Limited Partner's Interest, in part or in its entirety, on not less than five days' prior written notice (or immediately if the General Partner determines in its sole discretion that such Limited Partner's continued participation in the Fund may cause the Fund, the Investment Manager or the General Partner to violate any applicable law). Settlements are made in the same manner as voluntary withdrawals.

Suspension of Valuations, Withdrawals and Withdrawal Payments The General Partner may suspend the issuance of Interests, the Partners' withdrawal privileges, the payment of withdrawal proceeds and the valuation of the Fund's net assets:

- (i) during any period when any stock exchange or over-the-counter market on which the Fund's investments are quoted, traded or dealt in is closed, other than for ordinary holidays and weekends, or during periods in which dealings are restricted or suspended;
- (ii) during the existence of any state of affairs as a result of which, in the reasonable opinion of the General Partner, disposal of investments by the Fund, or the determination of the value of the assets of the Fund, would not be reasonably practicable;
- (iii) during any breakdown in the means of communication normally employed in determining the price or value of the Fund's assets or liabilities, or of current prices in any stock market as aforesaid, or when for any other reason the prices or values of any assets or liabilities of the Fund cannot reasonably be accurately ascertained within a reasonable time frame;
- (iv) during any period when the transfer of funds involved in the realization or acquisition of any investments cannot, in the reasonable opinion of the General Partner, be effected at normal rates of exchange;
- (v) in other circumstances where the General Partner is unable to fairly value the Fund's assets due to extreme market conditions; or
- (vi) automatically upon liquidation of the Fund.

Upon the reasonable determination by the General Partner that conditions leading to suspension no longer apply, withdrawal rights for all Limited Partners shall be promptly reinstated, and any pending withdrawal requests (or new, timely withdrawal requests) shall be honored as of the last Business Day of the calendar quarter in which withdrawals have recommenced, subject to the application of the withdrawal limitations described herein.

Soft Wind Down

It is anticipated that any suspension in the circumstances described above in “Suspension of Valuations, Withdrawals and Withdrawal Payments” (each, a “Suspension”) would ordinarily be temporary (other than in connection with a decision to proceed with the liquidation of the Fund). However, there may be situations in which the circumstances giving rise to the Suspension continue to be present for a considerable period of time with the result that the General Partner, in consultation with the Investment Manager, considers it appropriate to keep the Suspension in place indefinitely. In certain circumstances, even where a Suspension has not been declared, the General Partner may, in consultation with the Investment Manager, make a determination that the investment strategy should no longer be continued. During any such period of Suspension or having made such determination that the investment strategy should no longer be continued, the Investment Manager may recommend to the General Partner to cause the Fund to return the Fund’s assets to Limited Partners in an orderly manner (without proceeding with a liquidation of the Fund) (an “Orderly Realization”). The General Partner may, in such circumstances, resolve to effect an Orderly Realization should it determine that doing so is in the best interests of the Fund as a whole. Such Orderly Realization shall not constitute a dissolution or winding up of the Fund for any purposes, but rather only the continued management of the Fund’s portfolio so as to reduce such portfolio to cash (to the extent reasonably practicable, as advised by the Investment Manager) and return such cash as well as all other assets of the Fund to the Limited Partners. The General Partner will notify Limited Partners of any decision to proceed with an Orderly Realization of the Fund. During an Orderly Realization, the Investment Manager may, in consultation with the General Partner, take such steps as are considered appropriate in the best interests of the Fund as a whole to effect the Orderly Realization. The General Partner, in consultation with the Investment Manager, shall establish what they consider to be a reasonable time by which the Orderly Realization should be effected (the “Realization Period”). Any resolution to undertake an Orderly Realization and the process thereof shall be deemed to be integral to the business of the Fund and may be carried out without recourse to a formal process of liquidation under Delaware law or any other applicable bankruptcy or insolvency regime. The General Partner, in consultation with the Investment Manager, may resolve to cease the Orderly Realization within the Realization Period and recommence active trading if the circumstances permit a lifting of any applicable Suspension or, where no Suspension is in effect, if the circumstances are such that the investment strategy can then be continued. Management Fees shall be payable and Performance Allocations shall be made during an Orderly Realization on the same basis as described herein.

Transfers

Interests are not transferable except with the prior written consent of the General Partner, which consent may be withheld in the General Partner's sole discretion. The General Partner in its sole discretion may require any transferee or assignee of any Limited Partner to agree in writing to be bound by the Partnership Agreement. Interests of any Affiliated Investors may be transferred to other affiliates thereof without restriction.

Duty of Care;
Indemnification

The Partnership Agreement provides that the General Partner, the Investment Manager and each of their affiliates are not liable to the Fund or the Limited Partners for any loss or damage arising by reason of being or having been the General Partner or the Investment Manager or from any acts or omissions in the performance of its services as General Partner or Investment Manager, as applicable, in the absence of willful misconduct, fraud or gross negligence or as otherwise required by law, and contains provisions for the indemnification of the General Partner, the Investment Manager and each of their affiliates by the Fund (but not by the Limited Partners individually) against any liabilities arising by reason of being or having been the General Partner or the Investment Manager or in connection with the Partnership Agreement or the Fund's business or affairs to the fullest extent permitted by law. The General Partner is not personally liable to any Limited Partner for the repayment of any positive balance in such Limited Partner's Capital Account or for contributions by such Limited Partner to the capital of the Fund or by reason of any change in the federal or state income tax laws applicable to the Fund or its investors.

Valuations

In general, the Fund's financial statements will be prepared in accordance with GAAP. The General Partner has delegated the valuation of the Fund's assets to the Investment Manager who values the Fund's assets as of the close of each accounting period in accordance with its valuation policies and procedures. Valuations may be suspended as set forth above in "Suspension of Valuations, Withdrawals and Withdrawal Payments."

Reserves

Appropriate reserves may be accrued and charged against net assets and proportionately against the Capital Accounts of the Partners for contingent liabilities, such reserves to be in the amounts (subject to increase or reduction) that the General Partner in its sole discretion deems necessary or appropriate. In the sole discretion of the General Partner, the amount of any such reserve (or any increase or decrease therein) may be charged or credited, as appropriate, to the Capital Accounts of those investors who are Partners at the time when such reserve is created, increased, or decreased, as the case may be, or alternatively may be charged or credited to those investors who were Partners at the time of the act or omission giving rise to the contingent liability for which the reserve was established.

If the General Partner determines that it is equitable to treat an amount to be paid or received as being applicable to one or more prior periods, then such amount may be proportionately charged or credited, as appropriate, to those persons who were Partners during any such prior period.

Fiscal Year

The Fund has a fiscal year ending on December 31 of each calendar year.

Reports to Partners

The Fund furnishes to its Partners as soon as practicable after the end of each taxable year (or as otherwise required by law) annual reports containing financial statements examined by the Fund's independent auditors as well as such tax information as is necessary for each Partner to complete federal and state income tax or information returns, along with any other tax information required by law. The Fund also furnishes monthly reports reviewing the Fund's performance for such calendar month. The General Partner selects the Fund's independent accountants in its sole discretion.

Advisory Committee

The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may appoint, or cause to be appointed, a committee (the "Advisory Committee") consisting of one or more individuals selected by the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager, none of whom is affiliated with the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager (except as a Limited Partner or as an investor in the Fund or an affiliate thereof). If established, the Advisory Committee will have the authority, at the request of the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager, to consult with the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager on any matters that may involve a conflict of interest between the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager (or their affiliates) on the one hand and the Limited Partners (or shareholders of the Offshore Fund) and the Fund on the other. Any consent given by a majority of the Advisory Committee on behalf of the Fund in good faith after consultation with the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager is binding on the Fund and the Limited Partners or shareholders of the Offshore Fund (so long as such majority consists of persons independent of the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager and their affiliates). The Fund will have the authority to agree to reimburse members of the Advisory Committee for their out-of-pocket expenses and to indemnify them to the maximum extent permitted by law.

Dissolution and Liquidation

In the event an Orderly Realization lasts longer than three years, Limited Partners with a combined percentage interest in the Fund of at least 75% may seek a court decree of dissolution or seek the appointment by the court of a liquidator for the Fund. The Limited Partners will not have any other right to bring an action in court to dissolve the Fund.

Dissolution of the Fund may also occur upon the General Partner's election, in its sole discretion, to dissolve the Fund or upon the occurrence of any event which results in the General Partner (or a successor to its business) ceasing to be the general partner of the Fund. Upon the occurrence of any such event, the General Partner (or a liquidator elected by a majority in interest of the Limited Partners, if the General Partner is unable to perform this function) is charged with winding up the affairs of the Fund, liquidating its assets to the extent feasible and making liquidating distributions (in cash or in securities or other assets, whether or not readily marketable) pro rata in accordance with each Partner's Capital Account balance.

Placement Agents

The Investment Manager may engage third parties to solicit investors and act as placement agents for the Fund. Placement agents may charge a placement fee directly to investors solicited by any such placement agent, but such fees will not affect the subscription amount and will not be collected by or from the Fund. The placement agent may be reimbursed for its expenses and indemnified by the Fund.

Furthermore, placement agents may be paid a portion of the Management Fee or Performance Allocation attributable to such investors solicited by them, thereby reducing the Management Fee or Performance Allocation received by the Investment Manager. Accordingly, investors should recognize that a placement agent's or distributor's participation in this offering may be influenced by its interest in such current or future fees and compensation. Investors should consider these potential conflicts of interest in making their investment decisions.

Each placement agent must comply with the legal requirements of the jurisdictions within which it offers and sells Interests.

Tax Status

The General Partner believes that the Fund should be treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes and that it should not itself be subject to U.S. federal income taxation. Each Limited Partner otherwise subject to U.S. federal income tax is required to include in such Limited Partner's taxable income such Limited Partner's share of the Fund's income and gains, when realized by the Fund (regardless of cash distributions from the Fund to such investor), and may claim, to the extent allowable, such Limited Partner's share of the Fund's losses and deductions. Due to the nature of the Fund's activities, the Fund's income or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes for a particular taxable period may differ from its financial or economic results. The deductibility of a Limited Partner's share of any Fund losses or deductions may be limited. See "Tax Considerations."

ERISA

The General Partner intends to limit investment in the Fund by "benefit plan investors" so that the assets of the Fund will not be considered "plan assets" for purposes of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"). See "ERISA and Other Regulatory Considerations."

Amendment of the Limited Partnership Agreement

The Partnership Agreement may be amended by the General Partner with the consent of a majority in interest of the Limited Partners, which consent may be obtained through negative consent. However, the Fund may not: (a) increase the obligation of a Limited Partner to make any contribution to the capital of the Fund; (b) reduce the Capital Account of any Limited Partner other than as contemplated by the Partnership Agreement; or (c) reduce any Limited Partner's right to share in net profits or assets of the Fund without the consent of each Limited Partner adversely affected thereby. The above consent may be obtained by negative consent (affording the Limited Partners notice and opportunity to object).

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the General Partner may amend the Partnership Agreement at any time without the consent of any Limited Partner: (a) to comply with applicable laws and regulations; (b) to make changes that do not adversely affect the rights or obligations of any Limited Partner; (c) to cure any ambiguity or correct or supplement any conflicting provisions of the Partnership Agreement; or (d) with respect to any other amendment, if any Limited Partner whose contractual rights as a Limited Partner would be materially and adversely changed by such amendment has an opportunity to withdraw from the Fund as of a date that is not less than 30 days after the General Partner has furnished written notice of such amendment to each Limited Partner and that is prior to the effective date of the amendment.

Variation of Terms

The General Partner, in its sole discretion, may enter into a side letter or similar agreement to or with one or more Limited Partners that has the effect of establishing rights under, or altering or supplementing the terms of the Partnership Agreement or the Subscription Documents (including those relating to Management Fees, the Performance Allocation, transparency, and withdrawals) with respect to such Limited Partner. The General Partner generally grants waivers of the Management Fees, Performance Allocation and withdrawal restrictions to principals and employees of the Investment Manager and its affiliates, as well as their related family members and affiliates.

Dispute Resolution

Any controversy or claim ("Dispute") out of or relating to or in connection with the Partnership Agreement or otherwise involving the Fund, its Partners and/or any Indemnified Party (as defined in the Partnership Agreement) shall be submitted to mediation in accordance with the Partnership Agreement and if such dispute has not been resolved within 90 days, will be resolved by binding arbitration in accordance with the Partnership Agreement. Mediation and arbitration shall be held in Dallas, Texas and Delaware law shall apply to any dispute, except as otherwise provided in the Partnership Agreement.

RISK FACTORS AND POTENTIAL CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

Investment in the Fund is speculative and involves certain risks. Certain of these risks are summarized below. The Fund may not be suitable for all investors and is intended for sophisticated investors who can accept the risks associated with its investments. An investment in the Fund does not constitute a complete investment program. Investors will not have recourse except with respect to the assets of the Fund. Prospective investors should consider, among others, the risk factors and potential conflicts of interest described in this section. All investors in the Fund should consult their own legal, tax and financial advisors prior to investing in the Fund.

Fund Risks

Investment Judgment; Market Risk. The profitability of a significant portion of the Fund's investment program depends to a great extent upon correctly assessing the future course of the price movements of securities and other investments. There can be no assurance that the Investment Manager will be able to predict accurately these price movements. With respect to the investment strategy utilized by the Fund, there is always some, and occasionally a significant, degree of market risk.

Reliance on Key Persons. The Fund will be substantially dependent on the services of James Dondero, Mark Okada and Joshua Terry (the "Key Man Group"). In the event of the death, disability, departure or insolvency of a member of the Key Man Group, or the complete transfer of a member's interest in the Investment Manager, the business of the Fund may be adversely affected. Each member of the Key Man Group will devote such time and effort as he deems necessary for the management and administration of the Fund's business. However, the members of the Key Man Group may engage in various other business activities in addition to managing the Fund, and consequently may not devote all time to Fund business.

Investment Authority. Substantially all decisions with respect to the management of the Fund are made by the General Partner and the Investment Manager. Limited Partners have no right or power to take part in the management of the Fund. The Investment Manager also makes all of the trading and investment decisions of the Fund. In the event of the withdrawal or bankruptcy of the General Partner, generally the Fund will be liquidated.

Performance Allocation. The Performance Allocation made to the Investment Manager may create an incentive for the Investment Manager to make investments that are riskier or more speculative than would be the case in the absence of such Performance Allocation.

Withdrawal Restrictions. There are severe restrictions on withdrawals from the Fund (which may be settled in securities rather than cash) and on transfers of Interests. The prior written consent of the General Partner is required for a transfer of the Interest of any Limited Partner and the General Partner, in its sole discretion, may require any transferee or assignee of any Limited Partner to agree in writing to be bound by the Partnership Agreement. Because of the restrictions on withdrawals and transfers, an investment in the Fund is a relatively illiquid investment and involves a high degree of risk. There is no independent market for the purchase or sale of Interests and none is expected to develop. Limited Partners must represent that they are purchasing Interests for investment. A subscription for Interests should be considered only by persons financially able to maintain their investment and who can accept a loss of all of their investment.

No Distributions. Since the Fund does not generally intend to pay distributions, an investment in the Fund is not suitable for investors seeking current distributions of income. Moreover, an investor is required to report and pay taxes on its allocable share of income from the Fund, even though no cash is distributed by the Fund.

In-Kind Distributions. The Partnership Agreement authorizes the General Partner to make distributions in kind of securities in lieu of or in addition to cash. In the event the General Partner makes distributions of securities in kind, such securities could be illiquid or subject to legal, contractual and other restrictions on transfer.

Diversification. Since the Fund's portfolio will not necessarily be widely diversified, the investment portfolio of the Fund may be subject to more rapid changes in value than would be the case if the Fund were required to maintain a wide diversification among companies, securities and types of securities.

Valuations. From time to time, certain situations affecting the valuation of the Fund's investments (such as limited liquidity, unavailability or unreliability of third-party pricing information and acts or omissions of service providers to the Fund) could have an impact on the net asset value of the Fund, particularly if prior judgments as to the appropriate valuation of an investment should later prove to be incorrect after a net asset value-related calculation or transaction is completed. The Fund is not required to make retroactive adjustments to prior subscription or withdrawal transactions or Management Fees or Performance Allocations based on subsequent valuation data.

Non-Public Information. From time to time, the Investment Manager may come into possession of non-public information concerning specific companies. Under applicable securities laws, this may limit the Investment Manager's flexibility to buy or sell portfolio securities issued by such companies. The Fund's investment flexibility may be constrained as a consequence of the Investment Manager's inability to use such information for investment purposes.

Soft Dollars. The Investment Manager may enter into "soft dollar" arrangements with one or more broker-dealers whereby the Investment Manager will direct securities transactions to the broker-dealer in return for research products and services from the broker-dealer. Although the Investment Manager will use the research and services in making investment decisions for the Fund, the Investment Manager may use such research or services for other accounts and the Fund will generally pay more than the lowest available commissions for execution of these transactions. The Investment Manager may also enter into "soft dollar" arrangements to cover Fund expenses or costs and expenses of the Investment Manager to the extent such arrangements are permitted by law and described in this Memorandum. See "Brokerage and Custody."

Absence of Registration. The Fund has not and will not register under the Investment Company Act. Accordingly, the provisions of the Investment Company Act which, among other things, require that a fund's board of directors, including a majority of disinterested directors, approve certain of the fund's activities and contractual relationships, prohibit certain trading and investment activities and prohibit the fund from engaging in certain transactions with its affiliates, will not be applicable. Neither the General Partner nor the Investment Manager is registered as a CPO or a CTA with the NFA in reliance on an exemption from registration pursuant to CFTC Regulation 4.13(a)(3). Accordingly, the provisions of the Commodity Exchange Act and the regulations promulgated thereunder applicable to registered persons will not be applicable to the General Partner or the Investment Manager.

Recent Developments in the Financial Services Industry. Recent developments in the U.S. financial markets illustrate that the current environment is one of extraordinary and possibly unprecedented uncertainty for the financial services industry. In July of 2010, the Dodd-Frank Financial Reform Act was passed which imposes many new requirements and restrictions on the financial services industry that may likely affect the business, operations and performance of hedge funds, such as increased reporting requirements, limitations on certain trading activity and regulatory oversight by different agencies, such as the newly created Financial Stability Oversight Counsel. The implications of the passage of the Dodd-Frank Financial Reform Act for the hedge fund industry as a whole still remain somewhat unclear. The hedge fund industry may continue to be adversely affected by the recent developments in the financial markets in the U.S. and abroad, and any future legal, regulatory or governmental action and developments in such financial markets and the broader U.S. economy could have an adverse effect on the Fund's business, operations and performance.

Investment Strategy Risks

Risks Associated With Investing in CLOs

Risks of Investment Focus. The Fund's portfolio may consist of CLO Securities. A cash flow CLO is generally analogous to a special purpose finance company. The CLO owns a portfolio consisting of corporate loans and other investments typically from which it receives interest income, together with capital gains and losses. The CLO is often financed with equity, which may be in the form of preference shares or income notes ("CLO Equity") and several levels of long-term debt ("CLO Debt"). CLO Debt is typically rated by the rating agencies based on the deal structure as well as outstanding principal amount of portfolio securities and, in most cases, is not contingent on the market value of the underlying portfolio. CLO Equity is almost always unrated.

CLO Securities are subject to, among other risks, credit, liquidity and interest rate risks. The CLO Equity that the Fund may purchase may be unrated or non-investment grade. In addition, as a holder of CLO Equity, the Fund may have limited remedies available upon the default of the CLO.

The value of the CLO Securities that the Fund may own generally will fluctuate with, among other things, the financial condition of the obligors or issuers of the CLO Securities' underlying portfolio of assets ("CLO Collateral"), general economic conditions, the condition of certain financial markets, political events, developments or trends in any particular industry and changes in prevailing interest rates. CLO Securities are issued on a non-recourse basis and holders of CLO Securities must rely solely on distributions on the CLO Collateral or proceeds thereof for payment in respect thereof. If distributions on the CLO Collateral are insufficient to make payments on the CLO Securities, no other assets will be available for payment of the deficiency and following realization of the CLO Securities, the obligations of such issuer to pay such deficiency generally will be extinguished.

Issuers of CLO Securities may acquire interests in loans and other debt obligations by way of sale, assignment or participation. The purchaser of an assignment typically succeeds to all the rights and obligations of the assigning institution and becomes a lender under the credit agreement with respect to the loan or debt obligation; however, its rights can be more restricted than those of the assigning institution.

CLO Collateral may consist of corporate loans, leveraged loans and other instruments, which often are rated below investment grade (or of equivalent credit quality). Loans may be unsecured and may be subordinated to certain other obligations of the issuer thereof. The lower ratings of below investment grade loans reflect a greater possibility that adverse changes in the financial condition of an issuer or in general economic conditions or both may impair the ability of the related issuer or obligor to make payments of principal or interest. Such investments may be speculative.

Dependence Upon Other Unrelated Managers. The success of a CLO may depend on the management talents and efforts of one person or a small group of persons whose management could adversely affect the CLO and, accordingly, the Fund as an investor in such CLO. Given that the Investment Manager will not have an active role in the management of these CLOs, the return on the Fund's investments in such CLOs will depend on the performance of unrelated managers.

Investments in CLOs Managed by the Investment Manager or its Affiliates. The Fund may invest a significant portion of its capital in structured investments, including CLO tranches originated and managed by third parties and CLO tranches managed by the Investment Manager or its affiliates (the "Affiliated CLOs"). If the Fund invests in Affiliated CLOs, the Limited Partners will indirectly pay the fees (senior and subordinated) (but only if such investment is in the equity tranche of such Affiliated CLO), expenses and any carried interest at primary issuance. The Investment Manager or its affiliates will receive senior and subordinated management fees and, in some cases, a performance-based allocation or fee with respect to its role as general partner and/or manager of the Affiliated CLOs. If the Fund provides all of the equity for an Affiliated CLO, there may be no third party with whom the amount of such fees, expenses and carried interest can be negotiated on an arm's-length basis. The Investment Manager will have conflicting division of loyalties and responsibilities regarding the Fund and an Affiliated CLO, and certain other conflicts of interest would be inherent in the situation. There can be no assurance that the interests of the Fund would not be subordinated to those of an Affiliated CLO or to other interests of the Investment Manager.

Multiple Levels of Fees. The Fund and the CLOs (including Affiliated CLOs) are expected to impose management fees, other administrative fees, carried interest and other performance allocations on realized and unrealized appreciation in the value of the assets managed and other income. This may result in greater expense than if Limited Partners were able to invest directly in the CLOs or underlying investments. Limited Partners should take into account that the return on their investment will be reduced to the extent of both levels of fees. The general partner or manager of a CLO (including a member of the Highland Group (defined below)) may receive the economic benefit of certain fees from its portfolio companies for services and in connection with unconsummated transactions (e.g., break-up, placement, monitoring, directors', organizational and set-up fees and financial advisory fees). Additionally, some of the CLOs may invest themselves in underlying hedge funds or CLOs. In such case, additional management costs and other administrative expenses may be incurred.

Limited Diversification. CLOs may invest in concentrated portfolios of assets. The concentration of an underlying portfolio in any one obligor would subject the related CLO Securities (the related CLO Equity in particular) to a greater degree of risk with respect to defaults by such obligor and the concentration of a portfolio in any one industry would subject the related CLOs (the related CLO Equity in particular) to a greater degree of risk with respect to economic downturns relating to such industry. The Fund may have a concentrated exposure to CLOs of a particular type of CLO.

CLO Embedded Leverage Risk. The Fund's participation in CLOs involves varying amounts of leverage. Leverage is embedded in all classes of a CLO other than the most senior tranche. If the Fund retains either the most or one of the most subordinate tranches of the CLO's securities, it will hold the most leveraged investment in the CLO. While leverage presents opportunities for increasing the Fund's total return, it has the effect of potentially increasing losses as well. Accordingly, any event which adversely affects the value of an investment in a CLO would be magnified to the extent such CLO is leveraged. The cumulative effect of the use of leverage by a CLO in a market that moves adversely to the CLO's investments could result in a substantial loss to the CLO which would be greater than if the CLO were not leveraged. The borrowing arrangements of CLOs will contain events of default that, under certain circumstances, could result in early amortization or in the acceleration of the maturities of these obligations. In the event of acceleration of the borrowing arrangements of a CLO, in whole or in part, it may be required to dispose of all or a significant portion of its investments. Such a forced disposal of securities could result in realization of value of such investments significantly below the anticipated market values for such securities. When the Fund invests in derivative transactions, it may also gain leverage through such derivative transactions, which will expose the Fund to a greater risk of loss.

Interest Rate Mismatch. CLOs may be subject to interest rate risk. The CLO Collateral of an issuer of a CLO may bear interest at a fixed or floating rate, while the CLO Debt may bear interest at a floating or fixed rate. As a result, there could be a floating/fixed rate or basis mismatch between such CLO Debt and the CLO Collateral which bears interest at a fixed rate ("Fixed Rate Assets"), and there may be a timing mismatch between such CLO Debt and the assets that are not Fixed Rate Assets ("Floating Rate Assets"). In addition, the interest rate on Floating Rate Assets may adjust more frequently or less frequently, on different dates and based on different indices than the interest rates on the CLO Debt. As a result of such mismatches, an increase or decrease in the level of the floating rate indices could adversely impact the ability to make payments on such CLO Debt or Equity. Although many CLOs attempt to hedge this interest rate risk, the hedges may not eliminate this risk and payments by the CLO under the hedges may significantly reduce the distributions on the CLO securities. In addition, these hedges may have additional risks, such as counterparty risk, that are not present without these hedges.

Lower Credit Quality Securities. There are no restrictions on the credit quality of the investments of the Fund. CLO Securities in which the Fund will invest may have no ratings or may be deemed by rating agencies to have substantial vulnerability to default in payment of interest and/or principal and have the lowest quality ratings. The Fund may purchase CLO Securities which have ratings that have been downgraded or placed on "credit watch" for future downgrading. Lower rated and unrated securities in which the Fund may invest have large uncertainties or major risk exposures to adverse conditions and are considered to be predominantly speculative and may become a defaulted asset for a variety of reasons. Generally, such securities offer a higher return potential than higher rated securities, but involve greater volatility of price and greater risk of loss of income and principal.

The market values of certain of these securities (such as subordinated securities) also tend to be more sensitive to changes in economic conditions than higher rated securities. The value of leveraged loans and other assets underlying a CLO may also be affected by changes in the market's perception of the entity issuing or guaranteeing them, or by changes in government regulations and tax policies. Additionally, loans and interests in loans have significant liquidity and market value risks since they are not generally traded in organized exchange markets but are traded by banks and other institutional investors engaged in loan syndications. Because loans are privately syndicated and loan agreements are privately negotiated and customized, loans are not purchased or sold as easily as publicly traded securities. In addition, historically the trading volume in the loan market has been small relative to the high-yield debt securities market, and such illiquidity has been exacerbated during the current liquidity crisis.

Leveraged loans have historically experienced greater default rates than has been the case for investment grade securities. There can be no assurance as to the levels of defaults and/or recoveries that may be experienced on the assets underlying CLO Securities.

In general, the ratings of nationally recognized rating organizations represent the opinions of such agencies as to the quality of securities that they rate. Such ratings may be used by the Investment Manager as an initial basis for the selection of portfolio securities. Such ratings, however, are relative and subjective; they are not absolute standards of quality and do not evaluate the market value risk of the securities. Such ratings also do not reflect macroeconomic or systematic risk, including the risk of increased illiquidity in the credit markets. It is also possible that a rating agency might not change its rating of a particular issue on a timely basis to reflect subsequent events.

Defaulted Assets Underlying CLO Securities. If the assets underlying a CLO Security become defaulted assets, such defaulted assets may become subject to either substantial workout negotiations or restructuring, which may entail, among other things, a substantial reduction in the interest rate, a substantial write-down of principal, and a substantial change in the terms, conditions and covenants with respect to such defaulted asset. In addition, such negotiations or restructuring may be quite extensive and protracted over time, and therefore may result in substantial uncertainty with respect to the ultimate recovery on such defaulted asset. The liquidity for defaulted assets may be limited, and to the extent that defaulted assets are sold, it is highly unlikely that the proceeds from such sale will be equal to the amount of unpaid principal and interest thereon. Furthermore, there can be no assurance that the ultimate recovery on any defaulted assets will be at least equal to either the minimum recovery rate assumed by any rating agency that rates the notes of the CLO security. Therefore, if any CLO security has defaulted assets which correspond to the exposure of the Fund's interest in the CLO security, the Fund may be adversely affected.

There exist significant additional risks for CLO Securities and investors in such securities as a result of the current liquidity crisis. Those risks include, among others, (i) the likelihood that the issuer of the CLO Security will find it harder to sell any of its assets in the secondary market, thus rendering it more difficult to dispose of assets which it has the discretion to manage, including credit risk obligations, credit improved obligations or defaulted obligations, (ii) the possibility that the price at which assets can be sold by the issuer of the CLO Security will have deteriorated from their effective purchase price and (iii) the increased illiquidity of the notes issued by the CLO Security. These additional risks may affect the returns on the investments in the Fund's portfolio.

Subordination of CLO Debt and CLO Equity. The Fund's portfolio may consist of CLO Equity and subordinate CLO Debt. Subordinate CLO Debt generally is fully subordinated to the related CLO senior tranches. CLO Equity generally is fully subordinated to any related CLO Debt. Thus, some of the investments of the Fund in a CLO may rank behind other creditors of the CLO and an investment by the Fund in the equity tranche of a CLO may rank behind all creditors of the CLO. To the extent that any losses are incurred by a CLO in respect of its related CLO Collateral, such losses are likely to be borne first by the holders of the related CLO Equity, next by the holders of any related subordinated CLO debt and finally by the holders of the related CLO senior tranches. In addition, if an event of default occurs under the governing instrument or underlying investment, as long as any CLO senior tranches are outstanding, the holders thereof generally are likely to be entitled to determine the remedies to be exercised under the instrument governing the CLO. Remedies pursued by such holders could be adverse to the interests of the holders of any related subordinated CLO Debt and/or the holders of the related CLO Equity, as applicable. Investments of the Fund may be the first to absorb any losses by the CLO on its underlying portfolio. This may result in losses on the invested proceeds of the Fund and could result in the complete loss of invested proceeds.

Mandatory Redemption of CLO Senior Tranches and CLO Debt. Under certain circumstances, cash flows from CLO Collateral that otherwise would have been paid to the holders of any related CLO Debt and the related CLO Equity will be used to redeem the related CLO senior tranches. This could result in an elimination, deferral or reduction in the interest payments, principal repayments or other payments made to the holders of such CLO Debt or such CLO Equity, which could adversely impact the returns to the holders of such CLO Debt or such CLO Equity.

Optional Redemption of CLO Senior Tranches and CLO Debt. An optional redemption by a CLO of its securities and, in particular, the exercise of rights by the holders of one or more classes of its securities (or the requisite percentages thereof) so as to effect any such optional redemption, could require the collateral or portfolio manager of the related CLO to liquidate positions more rapidly than would otherwise be desirable, which is likely to materially and adversely affect the realized value of the items of CLO Collateral sold (and which in turn is likely to materially and adversely impact the holders of any related CLO securities, including the Fund). As a result of any such rapid liquidation of a CLO, a holder of the related CLO securities (including the Fund) could lose all or a substantial portion of its investment in such CLO securities.

Insolvency Risks. Various laws enacted for the protection of creditors may apply to the issuers of the CLO Collateral (solely for purposes of this risk factor, an “Insolvent Company”). The information in this paragraph and the following paragraph is applicable with respect to U.S. issuers of CLO Collateral. Insolvency considerations may differ with respect to non-U.S. issuers of CLO Collateral. If a court in a lawsuit brought by an unpaid creditor or representative of creditors of an Insolvent Company, such as a trustee in bankruptcy, were to find that the issuer did not receive fair consideration or reasonably equivalent value for incurring the indebtedness constituting the CLO or CLO Collateral (as applicable) and, after giving effect to such indebtedness, the Insolvent Company (i) was insolvent, (ii) was engaged in a business for which the remaining assets of the Insolvent Company constituted unreasonably small capital or (iii) intended to incur, or believed that it would incur, debts beyond its ability to pay such debts as they mature, such court could determine to invalidate, in whole or in part, such indebtedness as a fraudulent conveyance, to subordinate such indebtedness to existing or future creditors of the Insolvent Company or to recover amounts previously paid by such issuer in satisfaction of such indebtedness. The measure of insolvency for purposes of the foregoing will vary. Generally, an Insolvent Company would be considered insolvent at a particular time if the sum of its debts were then greater than all of its property at a fair valuation or if the present fair saleable value of its assets were then less than the amount that would be required to pay its probable liabilities on its existing debts as they became absolute and matured. There can be no assurance as to what standard a court would apply in order to determine whether the Insolvent Company was “insolvent” after giving effect to the incurrence of the indebtedness constituting the CLO or CLO Collateral (as applicable) or that, regardless of the method of valuation, a court would not determine that the Insolvent Company was “insolvent” upon giving effect to such incurrence. In addition, in the event of the insolvency of an Insolvent Company, payments made on such CLO or CLO Collateral (as applicable) could be subject to avoidance as a “preference” if made within a certain period of time (which may be as long as one year) before insolvency.

In general, if payments on a CLO or CLO Collateral (as applicable) are avoidable, whether as fraudulent conveyances or preferences, such payments can be recaptured either from the initial recipient (such as the Fund) or from subsequent transferees of such payments (such as the Limited Partners).

However, a court in a bankruptcy or insolvency proceeding would be able to direct the recapture of any such payment from a Limited Partner only to the extent that such court has jurisdiction over such holder or its assets. Moreover, it is likely that avoidable payments could not be recaptured directly from a holder that has given value in exchange for its interest, in good faith and without knowledge that the payments were avoidable. Nevertheless, there can be no assurance that a Limited Partner will be able to avoid recapture on this or any other basis.

The preceding discussion is based upon principles of United States Federal and state laws. Insofar as the Fund's portfolio consists of the obligations of non-United States obligors, the laws of certain foreign jurisdictions may provide for avoidance remedies under factual circumstances similar to those described above or under different circumstances, with consequences that may or may not be analogous to those described above under United States Federal and state laws.

"Widening" Risk. For reasons not necessarily attributable to any of the risks set forth herein (for example, supply/demand imbalances or other market forces), the prices of the CLO Securities in which the Fund invests may decline substantially. In particular, purchasing assets at what may appear to be "undervalued" levels is no guarantee that these assets will not be trading at even lower levels at a time of valuation or at the time of sale. It may not be possible to predict, or to hedge against, such "spread widening" risk.

There Is Limited Disclosure About the CLO Securities and the Underlying CLO Collateral in this Memorandum. The Investment Manager will not be required to provide the investors in the Fund with financial or other information (which may include material non-public information) it receives related to the CLO Securities. The Investment Manager also may not disclose to investors notices the Investment Manager receives and it will not have any obligation to keep investors informed as to defaults in the CLO Securities, failure by the Fund to receive any payment of principal, interest, or other amounts or to disclose the portfolio or the decisions of which CLO Securities were not purchased in general to any investor. In addition, the investors will not have any right to inspect any records relating to the CLO Securities, and the Investment Manager will not be obligated to disclose any further information or evidence regarding the existence or terms of, or the identity of any obligor on, any CLO Securities.

Impact of the Volcker Rule on the Liquidity of the Notes. Section 619 of the Dodd-Frank Act added a provision, commonly referred to (together with the final regulations with respect thereto adopted on December 10, 2013) as the Volcker Rule, to federal banking laws to generally prohibit various covered banking entities from engaging in proprietary trading or acquiring or retaining an ownership interest in "covered funds" which generally include, sponsoring or having certain relationships with a hedge fund or private equity fund (defined in final regulations adopted on December 10, 2013 as any entity relying on Section 3(c)(1) or Section 3(c)(7) of the Investment Company Act to be exempt from registration under the Investment Company Act), subject to certain exemptions. The Volcker Rule also provides for certain supervised nonbank financial companies that engage in such activities or have such interests or relationships to be subject to additional capital requirements, quantitative limits or other restrictions. The conformance period for the Volcker Rule has been extended to July 21, 2015, and to July 21, 2017 for CLOs. Certain CLOs may be considered "covered funds" under the Volcker rule and therefore the most senior tranche of the CLO may be a restricted security for various banking and nonbanking entities. This may restrict the liquidity of certain non-Volcker compliant CLOs in the future and may affect the Fund's ability to liquidate these positions on a timely basis.

Investment Strategy and Investment Risks

General Economic and Market Conditions. The success of the Fund's activities will be affected by general economic and market conditions, such as interest rates, availability of credit, inflation rates, economic uncertainty, changes in laws (including laws relating to taxation of the Fund's investments), trade barriers, currency exchange controls, and national and international political circumstances (including wars, terrorist acts or security operations). These factors may affect the level and volatility of securities prices and the liquidity of the Fund's investments. Volatility or illiquidity could impair the Fund's profitability or result in losses. The Fund may maintain substantial trading positions that can be adversely affected by the level of volatility in the financial markets; the larger the positions, the greater the potential for loss.

Unpredictable or unstable market conditions may result in reduced opportunities to find suitable investments to deploy capital or make it more difficult to exit and realize value (or avoid significant losses) from the Fund's existing investments. It is important to understand that the Fund can incur material losses even if it reacts quickly to difficult market conditions and there can be no assurance that the Fund will not suffer material adverse effects from broad and rapid changes in market conditions.

Recent Developments in Global Credit Markets. Recently, declines in the market value of asset-backed securities, especially securities backed by subprime mortgages, have been concomitant with significant market events. Increasing credit and valuation problems in the subprime mortgage market have generated extreme volatility and illiquidity in the markets for securities directly or indirectly exposed to subprime mortgage loans. This volatility and illiquidity has extended to the global credit and equity markets generally, and, in particular, to the high-yield bond and loan markets, exacerbated by, among other things, growing uncertainty regarding the extent of the problems in the mortgage industry and the degree of exposure of financial institutions and others, decreased risk tolerance by investors and significantly tightened availability of credit. The duration and ultimate effect of current market conditions cannot be predicted, nor is it known whether or the degree to which such conditions may worsen. However, the continuation of current market conditions, uncertainty or further deterioration could result in further declines in the market values of potential Fund investments or declines in the market values of subsequently purchased Fund investments. Such declines could lead to diminished investment opportunities for the Fund, prevent the Fund from successfully executing its investment strategies or require the Fund to dispose of investments at a loss while such adverse market conditions prevail.

Illiquidity. The investments made by the Fund may be or become very illiquid, and consequently the Fund may not be able to sell such investments at prices that reflect the Investment Manager's assessment of their value or the amount paid for such investments by the Fund. Illiquidity may result from the absence of an established market for the investments as well as legal, contractual or other restrictions on their resale by the Fund and other factors. Furthermore, the nature of the Fund's investments, especially those in financially distressed companies, may require a long holding period prior to profitability. The Partnership Agreement authorizes the General Partner to make distributions in kind (including interests in affiliated liquidating vehicles) of securities in lieu of or in addition to cash. In the event the General Partner makes distributions of securities in kind, such securities could be illiquid or subject to legal, contractual and other restrictions on transfer.

Short Sales. The Fund may enter into transactions, known as "short sales," in which it sells a security it does not own in anticipation of a decline in the market value of the security. Short sales by the Fund that are not made "against the box" theoretically involve unlimited loss potential since the market price of securities sold short may continuously increase. The Fund may mitigate such losses by replacing the securities sold short before the market price has increased significantly. Under adverse market conditions, the Fund might have difficulty purchasing securities to meet its short sale delivery obligations, and might have to sell portfolio securities to raise the capital necessary to meet its short sale obligations at a time when fundamental investment considerations would not favor such sales.

Derivatives. Derivative instruments, or “derivatives,” include futures, options, swaps, structured securities and other instruments and contracts that are derived from, or the value of which is related to, one or more underlying securities, financial benchmarks, currencies or indices. Derivatives allow an investor to hedge or speculate upon the price movements of a particular security, financial benchmark currency or index at a fraction of the cost of investing in the underlying asset. The value of a derivative depends largely upon price movements in the underlying asset. Therefore, many of the risks applicable to trading the underlying asset are also applicable to derivatives of such asset. However, there are a number of other risks associated with derivatives trading. For example, because many derivatives are “leveraged,” and thus provide significantly more market exposure than the money paid or deposited when the transaction is entered into, a relatively small adverse market movement can not only result in the loss of the entire investment, but may also expose the Fund to the possibility of a loss exceeding the original amount invested. Derivatives may also expose investors to liquidity risk, as there may not be a liquid market within which to close or dispose of outstanding derivatives contracts, and to counterparty risk. The counterparty risk lies with each party with whom the Fund contracts for the purpose of making derivative investments (the “Counterparty”). In the event of the Counterparty’s default, the Fund will only rank as an unsecured creditor and risks the loss of all or a portion of the amounts it is contractually entitled to receive.

Life Settlement Investments. The Fund may invest in life settlements or own companies that may invest in life settlements, which are the transfers of the beneficial interest in a life insurance policy by the underlying insured person to a third party. The Fund will generally purchase the beneficial interest in a life insurance policy for more than its cash surrender value but at a discount to its face value (i.e., the payment amount set forth in the life insurance policy that is payable on the death of the insured or upon maturity of the life insurance policy). After purchase the Fund will be responsible for premiums payable on the life insurance policy and will be entitled to receive the full face value from the insurance company upon maturation (i.e., upon the death of the insured). Accordingly, if the Fund is unable to make premium payments on a purchased life insurance policy due to liquidity issues or for any other reason, the policy will lapse, and the Fund will lose its ownership interest in the policy. In addition, the Fund’s investments in life settlement policies involve certain additional risks, including inaccurate estimations of life expectancy of the insured individuals, liquidity risk, credit risk of the insurance company, risks of any policies purchased being unenforceable and risks of adverse regulatory and legal changes.

The actual rate of return on a life settlement policy cannot be calculated before the insured dies and the longer the insured lives, the lower the rate of return on the related life settlement policy will be. Current privacy laws may limit the information available to the Fund about insureds and may cause the Fund to inaccurately estimate the value of particular policies. The Fund’s inability to predict with certainty the life expectancies of the pool of underlying insured persons tied to purchased life settlement policies may cause unanticipated delays in the collection of a substantial number of life settlement policies. Life settlements are also generally considered illiquid because there is a limited secondary market for such policies to be bought and sold. Accordingly, the Fund may be limited in its ability to sell policies in its portfolio in a timely fashion and/or at a favorable price. In addition, if a life insurance company declares bankruptcy or otherwise is insolvent, there may not be sufficient funds for it to pay its liability, and while many states have an insurance guarantee fund to provide payments to beneficiaries of insurance companies that declare bankruptcy, the collection process can be prolonged and complicated, and collection may not be possible in all circumstances.

Life settlement policies may also be subject to contest by the issuing life insurance company. If the insurance company successfully contests a policy, the policy will be rescinded and declared void. For example, insurers may refuse to pay benefits on certain life insurance policies on the basis that there was no “insurable interest” on the part of the purchaser of a life insurance policy at the time such policy was issued. Recently the issue of a lack of insurable interest has been raised by insurers and beneficiaries of irrevocable life insurance trusts, in the context of so-called “stranger originated life insurance” policies. It is possible that courts may void certain life settlement policies for these or other reasons. The market for life settlement policies may also be subject to new government regulation that may impact the ability of the Fund to obtain life settlement policies. Insurance companies may seek regulation or changes of law restricting or otherwise encumbering the transfer of life insurance policies in life settlement policy transactions. No assurance can be made that insurance companies will not be successful in limiting the supply of life insurance policies available for purchase in life settlement policy transactions.

Any or all of the risks described above could have a material adverse effect on the Fund’s investment returns and, therefore, on its ability to make distributions to its shareholders. In addition, it is unclear under a variety of federal income tax principles whether the income from life settlements or the Fund’s ownership in a non-U.S. company that makes distributions resulting from such life settlement investments is qualifying income for purposes of the IRS 90% gross income test the Fund must satisfy each year to qualify as a regulated investment company (“RIC”). Further, the Fund’s ownership in a non-U.S. company that invests in life settlements, it is unclear whether the U.S. will respect the non-U.S. company reliance on the applicable U.S. tax treaty for purposes of the avoidance of certain withholding tax or whether the non-U.S. company is deemed to be engaged in a U.S. trade or business within the U.S. If any such was the case, the Fund could be materially adversely effected by such determination on the non-U.S. company with respect to the Fund’s investments returns and its ability to make distributions to its shareholders. The Fund intends to monitor its investments to ensure that the Fund remains qualified as a RIC.

Foreign Securities. Investments in foreign securities involve certain factors not typically associated with investing in U.S. securities, such as risks relating to (i) currency exchange matters, including fluctuations in the rate of exchange between the U.S. dollar (the currency in which the books of the Fund are maintained) and the various foreign currencies in which the Fund’s portfolio securities will be denominated and costs associated with conversion of investment principal and income from one currency into another; (ii) differences between the U.S. and foreign securities markets, including the absence of uniform accounting, auditing and financial reporting standards and practices and disclosure requirements, and less government supervision and regulation; (iii) political, social or economic instability; (iv) imposition of foreign income, withholding or other taxes; and (v) the extension of credit, especially in the case of sovereign debt.

Commodities and Futures. The Fund may trade on a limited basis in commodities and futures. Such trading activity is regulated by the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (the “CFTC”). Pursuant to an exemption from registration under CFTC regulations, neither the General Partner nor the Investment Manager is required to register, and neither is registered, with the CFTC or the National Futures Association (“NFA”) as a commodity pool operator (a “CPO”) or as a commodity trading advisor (“CTA”). To comply with the exemption, the Investment Manager is subject to specific limitations on the amount of commodities and futures that it can trade on behalf of the Fund. Should the Fund's investments in commodities or futures instruments exceed the limits provided by the applicable exemption from registration, the Investment Manager will either have to register with the NFA or cease providing commodity interest trading advice to the Fund and liquidate the Fund's holdings of commodities and futures which could result in losses and additional costs to the Fund.

Leverage. Subject to applicable margin and other limitations, the Fund may borrow funds in order to make additional investments and thereby increase both the possibility of gain and risk of loss. Consequently, the effect of fluctuations in the market value of the Fund's portfolio would be amplified. Interest on borrowings will be a portfolio expense of the Fund and will affect the operating results of the Fund. Also, the Fund could potentially create leverage via the use of instruments such as options and other derivative instruments.

Options. Investing in options can provide a greater potential for profit or loss than an equivalent investment in the underlying asset. The value of an option may decline because of a change in the value of the underlying asset relative to the strike price, the passage of time, changes in the market's perception as to the future price behavior of the underlying asset, or any combination thereof. In the case of the purchase of an option, the risk of loss of an investor's entire investment (i.e., the premium paid plus transaction charges) reflects the nature of an option as a wasting asset that may become worthless when the option expires. Where an option is written or granted (i.e., sold) uncovered, the seller may be liable to pay substantial additional margin, and the risk of loss is unlimited, as the seller will be obligated to deliver, or take delivery of, an asset at a predetermined price which may, upon exercise of the option, be significantly different from the market value.

Currency Exposure. The Interests will be issued and generally withdrawal proceeds will be paid in U.S. Dollars. A limited amount of the assets of the Fund may, however, be invested in securities and other investments which are denominated in currencies other than U.S. Dollars. Accordingly, the value of such assets may be affected favorably or unfavorably by fluctuations in currency rates. The Investment Manager may hedge the non-U.S. currency exposure of the Fund using Currency Hedging Instruments, as described in "Investment Program" above. However, the assets of the Fund will necessarily be subject to foreign exchange risks. In addition, prospective investors whose assets and liabilities are predominately in other currencies should take into account the potential risk of loss arising from fluctuations in value between the U.S. Dollar and other currencies.

To the extent unhedged, the value of the Fund's positions in non-U.S. investments will fluctuate with U.S. Dollar exchange rates as well as with the price changes of the investments in the various local markets and currencies. In such cases, an increase in the value of the U.S. Dollar compared to the other currencies in which the Fund makes investments will reduce the effect of any increases and magnify the effect of any decreases in the prices of the Fund's financial instruments in their local markets and may result in a loss to the Fund. Conversely, a decrease in the value of the U.S. Dollar will have the opposite effect on the Fund's non-U.S. Dollar investments.

Concentration of the Fund's Portfolio. The Fund may be highly concentrated in CLO Securities. The concentration of the Fund's portfolio in CLO Securities subjects the Fund to a greater degree of risk than if the Fund's portfolio was diversified with respect to several investment strategies. Also, the concentration of the Fund's portfolio in any one obligor would subject the Fund to a greater degree of risk with respect to defaults by such obligor.

Volatility Risk. The Fund's investment program may involve the purchase and sale of relatively volatile instruments such as derivatives, which are frequently valued based on implied volatilities of such derivatives compared to the historical volatility of underlying financial instruments. Fluctuations or prolonged changes in the volatility of such instruments, therefore, can adversely affect the value of investments held by the Fund. In addition, many non-U.S. financial markets are not as developed or as efficient as those in the U.S., and as a result, price volatility may be higher for the Fund's investments.

Long-Biased Investment Program. The Fund expects that its strategy will have a long bias. Therefore, any decline in the overall market may result in a decline in the value of the Fund's assets.

Leverage. Leverage may take a variety of forms, including but not limited to the following: long-term loans, convertible notes and repurchase arrangements. Leverage arrangements used by the Fund when financing is contingent on the market value of the financed assets may include those which may be subject to mark to market collateral or margin calls.

While leverage presents the opportunity for increasing the total return on investments, it has the effect of potentially increasing losses as well. Accordingly, any event that adversely affects the value of an investment could be magnified to the extent leverage is utilized. The cumulative effect of the use of leverage with respect to investments in a market that moves adversely to such investments could result in a substantial loss, which would be greater than if the investments were not leveraged.

In the futures markets, margin deposits are typically low relative to the value of the futures contracts purchased or sold. Such low margin deposits are indicative of the fact that any commodity futures contract trading is typically accompanied by a high degree of leverage. Low margin deposits mean that a relatively small price movement in a futures contract may result in immediate and substantial losses to the investor. For example, if at the time of purchase 10 percent of the price of a futures contract is deposited as margin, a 10 percent decrease in the price of the futures contract would, if the contract is then closed out, result in a total loss of the margin deposit before any deduction for the brokerage commission. Thus, like other leveraged investments, any purchase or sale of a commodity contract may result in losses in excess of the amount invested.

The use of short-term margin borrowings results in certain additional risks to the Fund. For example, should the securities pledged to brokers to secure the Fund's margin accounts decline in value, the Fund could be subject to a "margin call," pursuant to which the Fund must either deposit additional funds or securities with the broker, or suffer mandatory liquidation of the pledged securities to compensate for the decline in value. In the event of a sudden drop in the value of the Fund's assets, the Fund might not be able to liquidate assets quickly enough to satisfy its margin requirements.

The Fund may borrow by entering into reverse repurchase agreements. Under a reverse repurchase agreement, the Fund sells securities and agrees to repurchase them at a mutually agreed date and price. Reverse repurchase agreements may involve the risk that the market value of the securities retained in lieu of sale by the Fund may decline below the price of the securities the Fund has sold but is obligated to repurchase. In the event the buyer of securities under a reverse repurchase agreement files for bankruptcy or becomes insolvent, such buyer or its trustee or receiver may receive an extension of time to determine whether to enforce the Fund's obligation to repurchase the securities and the Fund's use of the proceeds of the reverse repurchase agreement may effectively be restricted pending such decision. To the extent that, in the meantime, the value of the securities that the Fund has purchased has decreased, the Fund could experience a loss.

The financing used by the Fund to leverage its portfolio include those extended by securities brokers and dealers in the marketplace in which the Fund will invest. While the Fund attempts to negotiate the terms of these financing arrangements with such brokers and dealers, its ability to do so is limited. The Fund is therefore subject to changes in the value that the broker-dealer ascribes to a given security or position, the amount of margin required to support such security or position, the borrowing rate to finance such security or position and/or such broker-dealer's willingness to continue to provide any such credit to the Fund. In addition, the Fund could be forced to liquidate its portfolio on short notice to meet its financing obligations. The forced liquidation of all or a portion of the Fund's portfolio at distressed prices could result in significant losses to the Fund.

Market Liquidity and Leverage. The Fund may be adversely affected by a decrease in market liquidity for the instruments in which it invests which may impair the Fund's ability to adjust its positions. The size of the Fund's positions may magnify the effect of a decrease in market liquidity for such instruments. Changes in overall market leverage, deleveraging as a consequence of a decision by the prime brokers and custodians, or other counterparties with which the Fund enters into repurchase/reverse repurchase agreements or derivative transactions, to reduce the level of leverage available, or the liquidation by other market participants of the same or similar positions, may also adversely affect the Fund's portfolio.

Risks Associated with Bankruptcies. Many of the events within a bankruptcy case are adversarial and often beyond the control of the creditors. While creditors generally are afforded an opportunity to object to significant actions, there can be no assurance that a bankruptcy court would not approve actions which may be contrary to the interests of the Fund. Furthermore, there are instances where creditors and equity holders lose their ranking and priority as such if they are considered to have taken over management and functional operating control of a debtor.

Generally, the duration of a bankruptcy case can only be roughly estimated. The reorganization of a company usually involves the development and negotiation of a plan of reorganization, plan approval by creditors and confirmation by the bankruptcy court. This process can involve substantial legal, professional and administrative costs to the company and the Fund; it is subject to unpredictable and lengthy delays; and during the process the company's competitive position may erode, key management may depart and the company may not be able to invest adequately. In some cases, the company may not be able to reorganize and may be required to liquidate assets. Although the Fund intends to invest primarily in debt, the debt of companies in financial reorganization will, in most cases, not pay current interest, may not accrue interest during reorganization and may be adversely affected by an erosion of the issuer's fundamental value. Such investments can result in a total loss of principal.

U.S. bankruptcy law permits the classification of "substantially similar" claims in determining the classification of claims in a reorganization for purpose of voting on a plan of reorganization. Because the standard for classification is vague, there exists a significant risk that the Fund's influence with respect to a class of securities can be lost by the inflation of the number and the amount of claims in, or other gerrymandering of, the class. In addition, certain administrative costs and claims that have priority by law over the claims of certain creditors (for example, claims for taxes) may be quite high.

Furthermore, there are instances where creditors and equity holders lose their ranking and priority as such when they take over management and functional operating control of a debtor. In those cases where the Fund, by virtue of such action, is found to exercise "domination and control" of a debtor, the Fund may lose its priority if the debtor can demonstrate that its business was adversely impacted or other creditors and equity holders were harmed by the Fund.

The Fund may invest in companies based outside the United States. Investment in the debt of financially distressed companies domiciled outside the United States involves additional risks. Bankruptcy law and process may differ substantially from that in the United States, resulting in greater uncertainty as to the rights of creditors, the enforceability of such rights, reorganization timing and the classification, seniority and treatment of claims. In certain developing countries, although bankruptcy laws have been enacted, the process for reorganization remains highly uncertain.

The General Partner, on behalf of the Fund, may elect to serve on creditors' committees, equity holders' committees or other groups to ensure preservation or enhancement of the Fund position as a creditor or equity holder. A member of any such committee or group may owe certain obligations generally to all parties similarly situated that the committee represents. If the General Partner concludes that its obligations owed to the other parties as a committee or group member conflict with its duties owed to the Fund, it will resign from that committee or group, and the Fund may not realize the benefits, if any, of participation on the committee or group. In addition, and also as discussed above, if the Fund is represented on a committee or group, it may be restricted or prohibited under applicable law from disposing of or increasing its investments in such company while it continues to be represented on such committee or group.

The Fund may purchase creditor claims subsequent to the commencement of a bankruptcy case. Under judicial decisions, it is possible that such purchase may be disallowed by the bankruptcy court if the court determines that the purchaser has taken unfair advantage of an unsophisticated seller, which may result in the rescission of the transaction (presumably at the original purchase price) or forfeiture by the purchaser.

Equitable Subordination. Under common law principles that in some cases form the basis for lender liability claims, if a lender (a) intentionally takes an action that results in the undercapitalization of a borrower or issuer to the detriment of other creditors of such borrower or issuer, (b) engages in other inequitable conduct to the detriment of such other creditors, (c) engages in fraud with respect to, or makes misrepresentations to, such other creditors or (d) uses its influence as a stockholder to dominate or control a borrower or issuer to the detriment of other creditors of such borrower or issuer, a court may elect to subordinate the claim of the offending lender or bondholder to the claims of the disadvantaged creditor or creditors (a remedy called "equitable subordination"). The Fund does not intend to engage in conduct that would form the basis for a successful cause of action based upon the equitable subordination doctrine; however, because of the nature of the debt obligations, the Fund may be subject to claims from creditors of an obligor that debt obligations of such obligor which are held by the issuer should be equitably subordinated.

Fraud. Of paramount concern in lending is the possibility of material misrepresentation or omission on the part of the borrower. Such inaccuracy or incompleteness may adversely affect the valuation of the collateral underlying the loans or may adversely affect the ability of the Fund to perfect or effectuate a lien on the collateral securing the loan. The Fund will rely upon the accuracy and completeness of representations made by borrowers to the extent reasonable, but cannot guarantee such accuracy or completeness. Under certain circumstances, payments to the Fund may be reclaimed if any such payment or distribution is later determined to have been a fraudulent conveyance or a preferential payment.

Interest Rate Risk. The value of the fixed rate securities in which the Fund may invest generally will have an inverse relationship with interest rates. Accordingly, if interest rates rise the value of such securities may decline. In addition, to the extent that the receivables or loans underlying specific securities are prepayable without penalty or premium, the value of such securities may be negatively affected by increasing prepayments, which generally occur when interest rates decline.

Reinvestment Risk. The Fund reinvests the cash flows received from a security. The additional income from such reinvestment, sometimes called interest-on-interest, is reliant on the prevailing interest rate levels at the time of reinvestment. There is a risk that the interest rate at which interim cash flows can be reinvested will fall. Reinvestment risk is greater for longer holding periods and for securities with large, early cash flows such as high-coupon bonds. Reinvestment risk also applies generally to the reinvestment of the proceeds the Fund receives upon the maturity or sale of a portfolio security.

The amount and timing of the addition of investments will affect the cash flows available to make payments on the Interests. Reduced liquidity and lower volumes of trading in certain investments, in addition to restrictions on investment represented by the Fund's investment criteria, could result in periods of time during which the Fund has not been able to maximize its exposure to investments. The longer the period before reinvestment of cash in investments, the greater the adverse impact may be on aggregate interest collected and distributed by the Fund, thereby resulting in lower yield than could have been obtained if the net proceeds associated with the offering of the Interests were immediately reinvested. In addition, the timing of the addition of investments, the scheduled interest payment dates of the investments and the amount of the net proceeds associated with the offering of the Interests invested in lower-yielding alternate short-term investments until applied to the addition of investments, may have a material impact on the amount of interest payments collected during any accrual period, which could affect payments on the Interests.

Further, obligors of investments may be more likely to exercise any rights they may have to prepay such obligations when interest rates or credit spreads are declining. Any decrease in the yield on the investments will have the effect of reducing the amounts available to make payments on the Interests.

Timing Risk. Many agency, corporate and municipal bonds, and all mortgage-backed securities, contain a provision that allows the issuer to "call" all or part of the issue before the bond's maturity date. The issuer usually retains the right to refinance the bond in the future if market interest rates decline below the coupon rate. There are three disadvantages to the call provision. First, the cash flow pattern of a callable bond is not known with certainty. Second, because the issuer will call the bonds when interest rates have dropped, the Fund is exposed to reinvestment rate risk, i.e., the Fund will have to reinvest the proceeds received when the bond is called at lower interest rates. Finally, the capital appreciation potential of a bond will be reduced because the price of a callable bond may not rise much above the price at which the issuer may call the bond.

Maturity Risk. In certain situations, the Fund may purchase a bond of a given maturity as an alternative to another bond of a different maturity. Ordinarily, under these circumstances, the Fund will make an adjustment to account for the differential interest rate risks in the two bonds. This adjustment, however, makes an assumption about how the interest rates at different maturities will move. To the extent that the yield movements deviate from this assumption, there is a yield-curve or maturity risk. Another situation where yield-curve risk should be considered is in the analysis of bond swap transactions where the potential incremental returns are dependent entirely on the parallel shift assumption for the yield curve.

Inflation Risk. Inflation risk results from the variation in the value of cash flows from a security due to inflation, as measured in terms of purchasing power. For example, if the Fund purchases a five

(5) year bond in which it can realize a coupon rate of five percent (5%), but the rate of inflation is six percent (6%), then the purchasing power of the cash flow has declined. For all but adjustable bonds or floating rate bonds, the Fund is exposed to inflation risk because the interest rate the issuer promises to make is fixed for the life of the security. To the extent that interest rates reflect the expected inflation rate, floating rate bonds have a lower level of inflation risk.

Over-the-Counter-Trading. Financial instruments that may be purchased or sold by the Fund may include instruments not traded on an exchange, including, but not limited to, swap transactions, and forward foreign currency transactions. Over-the-counter options, unlike exchange-traded options, are two-party contracts with price and other terms negotiated by the buyer and seller. The risk of nonperformance by the obligor on such an instrument may be greater and the ease with which the Fund can dispose of or enter into closing transactions with respect to such an instrument may be less than in the case of an exchange-traded instrument. In addition, significant disparities may exist between “bid” and “asked” prices for financial instruments that are not traded on an exchange. Financial instruments not traded on exchanges are also not subject to the same type of government regulation as exchange traded instruments, and many of the protections afforded to participants in a regulated environment may not be available in connection with such transactions.

To the extent that the Fund engages in these transactions, the Fund must rely on the creditworthiness of its counterparty. In certain instances, counterparty or credit risk is affected by the lack of a central clearinghouse for foreign exchange trades. To reduce their credit risk exposure, the Fund may trade in the forward foreign currency market through money center banks and leading brokerage firms.

Position Limits. “Position limits” imposed by various regulators or regulations may also limit the Fund’s ability to effect desired trades. Position limits are the maximum amounts of gross, net long or net short positions that any one person or entity may own or control in a particular financial instrument. All positions owned or controlled by the same person or entity, even if in different accounts, may be aggregated for purposes of determining whether the applicable position limits have been exceeded. Thus, even if the Fund does not intend to exceed applicable position limits, it is possible that different accounts managed by the General Partner or its affiliates may be aggregated. If at any time positions managed by the General Partner were to exceed applicable position limits, the General Partner would be required to liquidate positions, which might include positions of the Fund, to the extent necessary to come within those limits. Further, to avoid exceeding the position limits, the Fund might have to forego or modify certain of its contemplated trades.

Material, Nonpublic Information. From time to time, certain personnel of the Investment Manager may come into possession of material, nonpublic information (including in connection with other investments or proposed investments not intended to benefit the Fund) that would limit the Investment Manager’s ability to buy and sell investments. The Fund’s investment flexibility may be constrained as a consequence of the Investment Manager’s inability to take certain actions because of such information. The Fund may experience losses if it is unable to sell an investment that it holds because certain personnel of the Investment Manager have obtained material, nonpublic information about such investment.

Co-Investments with Third Parties. The Fund may co-invest with third parties through joint ventures or other entities. Such investments may involve risks in connection with such third-party involvement, including the possibility that a third-party co-venturer may have financial difficulties resulting in a negative impact on such investment, economic or business interests or goals that are inconsistent with those of the Fund or be in a position to take (or block) action in a manner contrary to the Fund's investment objectives. In those circumstances where such third parties involve a management group, such third parties may enter into compensation arrangements relating to such investments, including incentive compensation arrangements. Such compensation arrangements will reduce the returns to participants in the investments.

Other Investment Vehicles. The Investment Manager may allocate a portion of the Fund's assets to pooled investment vehicles that may be managed by the Investment Manager or its affiliates or unaffiliated managers. Since the Fund may not have full transparency with respect to the trading activities of such investment vehicles, it may be limited in its ability to hedge its exposure or to prevent concentration of its assets within the same issuer, asset or asset class, industry, section, strategy, currency, country or geographic region. Further, the Investment Manager may be limited with respect to its ability to monitor unaffiliated managers, including their adherence to their respective trading and risk guidelines (if such guidelines exist). Even in the event that such information may be available to the Fund, the Fund's investment in such investment vehicles may be "locked up" and subject to limitations on withdrawals, and in light of the broad exculpation and indemnification provisions typically contained in the governing documents of such investment vehicles, may have limited recourse against the managers of such investment vehicles.

The managers of pooled investment vehicles with which the Fund may invest may be subject to asset-based fees and performance-based compensation. Such fees or compensation may be higher than the fees or compensation of comparable investment vehicles.

Performance-based compensation is typically paid or allocated at the investment vehicle level on the basis of the performance of each individual investment vehicle, not on the basis of the overall performance of the Fund. Consequently, performance-based compensation could be payable to a particular investment vehicle in respect of its performance during periods when the Fund as a whole incurs losses. The existence of performance-based compensation also could cause the manager of such investment vehicle to trade in a more aggressive manner than it otherwise might.

Futures Contracts. The value of futures depends upon the price of the financial instruments, such as commodities, underlying them. The prices of futures are highly volatile, and price movements of futures contracts can be influenced by, among other things, interest rates, changing supply and demand relationships, trade, fiscal, monetary and exchange control programs and policies of governments, and national and international political and economic events and policies. In addition, investments in futures are also subject to the risk of the failure of any of the exchanges on which the Fund's positions trade or of its clearing houses or counterparties.

Futures positions may be illiquid because certain commodity exchanges limit fluctuations in certain futures contract prices during a single day by regulations referred to as "daily price fluctuation limits" or "daily limits." Under such daily limits, during a single trading day no trades may be executed at prices beyond the daily limits. Once the price of a particular futures contract has increased or decreased by an amount equal to the daily limit, positions in that contract can neither be taken nor liquidated unless traders are willing to effect trades at or within the limit. This could prevent the Fund from promptly liquidating unfavorable positions and subject the Fund to substantial losses or prevent it from entering into desired trades. In extraordinary circumstances, a futures exchange or the Commodities Futures Trading Commission could suspend trading in a particular futures contract, or order liquidation or settlement of all open positions in such contract.

Forward Trading. Forward contracts and options thereon, unlike futures contracts, are not traded on exchanges and are not standardized; rather, banks and dealers act as principals in these markets, negotiating each transaction on an individual basis. Forward and “cash” trading is substantially unregulated; there is no limitation on daily price movements and speculative position limits are not applicable. The principals who deal in the forward markets are not required to continue to make markets in the currencies or commodities they trade and these markets can experience periods of illiquidity, sometimes of significant duration. There have been periods during which certain participants in these markets have refused to quote prices for certain currencies or commodities or have quoted prices with an unusually wide spread between the price at which they were prepared to buy and that at which they were prepared to sell. Disruptions can occur in any market traded by the Fund due to unusual trading volume, political intervention or other factors. The imposition of controls by governmental authorities might also limit such forward trading to less than that which the General Partner would otherwise recommend, to the possible detriment of the Fund. Market illiquidity or disruption could result in major losses to the Fund.

Hedging Transactions. The Fund may (but is not required to) utilize financial instruments both for investment purposes and for risk management purposes in order to (i) protect against possible changes in the market value of the Fund’s investment portfolios resulting from fluctuations in the markets and changes in interest rates; (ii) protect the Fund’s unrealized gains in the value of its investment portfolio; (iii) facilitate the sale of any such investments; (iv) enhance or preserve returns, spreads or gains on any investment in the Fund’s portfolios; (v) hedge against a directional trade; (vi) hedge the interest rate, credit or currency exchange rate on any of the Fund’s financial instruments; (vii) protect against any increase in the price of any financial instruments the Fund anticipates purchasing at a later date; or (viii) act for any other reason that the Investment Manager deems appropriate. The Fund will not be required to hedge any particular risk in connection with a particular transaction or its portfolios generally.

The success of the Fund’s hedging strategy will be subject to the Investment Manager’s ability to correctly assess the degree of correlation between the performance of the instruments used in the hedging strategy and the performance of the investments in the portfolio being hedged. Since the characteristics of many securities change as markets change or time passes, the success of the Fund’s hedging strategy will also be subject to the Investment Manager’s ability to continually recalculate, readjust, and execute hedges in an efficient and timely manner. While the Fund may enter into hedging transactions to seek to reduce risk, such transactions may result in a poorer overall performance for the Fund than if it had not engaged in any such hedging transactions. For a variety of reasons, the Investment Manager may not seek to establish a perfect correlation between such hedging instruments and the portfolio holdings being hedged. Such imperfect correlation may prevent the Fund from achieving the intended hedge or expose the Fund to risk of loss. The successful utilization of hedging and risk management transactions requires skills complementary to those needed in the selection of the Fund’s portfolio holdings. Moreover, it should be noted that the portfolio will always be exposed to certain risks that cannot be hedged.

Use of Derivatives and Other Specialized Techniques. The Fund may engage in a variety of swaps and related derivative transactions including, but not limited to, total return swaps, interest rate swaps, credit derivative swaps, the use of forward contracts, put and call options, floors, collars or other similar arrangements and derivative transactions. While some swaps will be required to be cleared and entered into through exchanges once the U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission (the “CFTC”) makes its final clearing determination, swap contracts excluded from the clearing determination will not be traded on exchanges and will not be subject to margin and clearing requirements or the same type of government regulation as exchange markets. As a result, many of the protections afforded to participants on organized exchanges and in a regulated environment are not available in connection with these transactions. The swap markets with respect to noncleared swaps are “principals’ markets”, in which performance with respect to a swap contract is the responsibility only of the counterparty to the contract, and not of any exchange or clearinghouse. As a result, the Fund will be subject to the risk of the inability or refusal to perform with respect to non-cleared swap contracts on the part of the counterparties with whom the Fund will trade.

There are no limitations on daily price movements in swap transactions. Speculative position limits are not currently applicable to swap transactions, although the Fund’s swap counterparties may limit the size or duration of positions available to the Fund as a consequence of credit considerations. In addition, the CFTC has sought to impose federal speculative position limits on futures, swaps that reference those futures and contracts on non-U.S. boards of trade that settle against those contracts. While the CFTC adopted final position limits, the rulemaking was vacated due to the CFTC’s failure to perform proper cost benefit analysis. If the CFTC re-adopts rules or the above referenced discussion is overturned on appeal, the Fund may be limited in its ability to concentrate its positions in certain swaps. Furthermore, the Fund may also be subject to position limits pursuant to current or pending non-U.S. regulations.

Participants in the swap markets are not required to make continuous markets in the swap contracts in which they trade. Participants could refuse to quote prices for swap contracts or quote prices with an unusually wide spread between the price at which they are prepared to buy and the price at which they are prepared to sell. If an event of default or an additional termination event were to occur with respect to the Fund under an ISDA master agreement governing the Fund’s swap transactions, the relevant swap counterparty and other swap counterparties may terminate all transactions with the Fund at significant losses to the Fund.

In addition to the foregoing, the investment techniques related to derivative instruments are highly specialized and may be considered speculative. Such techniques often involve forecasts and complex judgments regarding relative price movements and other economic developments. The success or failure of these investment techniques may turn on small changes in exogenous factors not within the control of any of the Investment Manager. For all the foregoing reasons, the use of derivatives and related techniques can expose the Fund to significant risk of loss.

Moreover, trading in swaps and other derivative instruments offers scope for a high degree of synthetic leverage. Accordingly, the leverage offered by trading in derivative instruments may magnify the gains and losses experienced by the Fund. Thus, like other leveraged investments, a derivatives trade may result in losses in excess of the amount invested. Any increase in the amount of leverage applied will increase the risk of loss due to the amount of additional leverage applied. Also, swap agreements tend to shift the investment exposure from one type of investment to another. Depending on how they are used, swap agreements may increase or decrease the overall volatility of the Fund. The most significant factor in the performance of swap agreements is the change in the specific factors that determine the amounts of payments due to and from the Fund. If a swap agreement calls for payments by the Fund, the Fund must be prepared to make such payments when due. In addition, if a counterparty’s creditworthiness declines, the value of swap agreements with such counterparty can be expected to decline, potentially resulting in losses to the Fund.

Finally, counterparties to the Fund may be subject to capital and other requirements as a “swap dealer” or “major swap participant” which may increase their costs of doing of business, a portion of which increase may be passed on to the Fund. If a person is deemed to (i) enter into swaps as its ordinary course of business, (ii) be a market maker for any type of swaps, (iii) maintain a “substantial position” in any type of swap for speculative purposes, (iv) otherwise create counterparty risk that could have serious adverse consequences on the financial stability of the United States, or (v) be a financial entity that is highly leveraged relevant to its capital, the person may be deemed to be a swap dealer (in the case of (i) or (ii)) or a major swap participant (in the case of (iii), (iv) or (v)). Persons deemed to be swap dealers or major swap participants are required to register with the CFTC as such and would be subject to a number of regulatory requirements, such as specific recordkeeping, back-office and reporting requirements, margin collection requirements for swaps that are not cleared, capital requirements, disclosure obligations, specific compliance obligations and special obligations to governmental entities. While it is unlikely that the Fund would be subject to these requirements, the requirements will likely apply to many of the Fund’s counterparties which may increase the cost of trading swaps through increased fees to offset the counterparties’ trading and compliance costs.

Counterparty Insolvency. The Fund’s assets may be held in one or more accounts maintained for the Fund by counterparties, including its prime brokers. There is a risk that any of such counterparties could become insolvent. In September 2008, Lehman Brothers Holdings Inc., a major investment bank based in the United States, filed for bankruptcy protection under Chapter 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code. While none of its U.S. broker-dealer subsidiaries was included in the Chapter 11 filing and all of its U.S. registered broker-dealer subsidiaries currently continue to operate, certain of Lehman Brothers subsidiaries, including Lehman Brothers International (Europe) (“LBIE”) have been placed under the administration chartered to wind down their respective business. To date, it is uncertain what percentage of the assets custodied with LBIE by its trading counterparties (including hedge funds) will ultimately be recovered and when. The insolvency of the Fund’s counterparties is likely to impair the operational capabilities or the assets of the Fund. Although the Investment Manager regularly monitors the financial condition of the counterparties it uses, if one or more of the Fund’s counterparties were to become insolvent or the subject of liquidation proceedings in the United States (either under the Securities Investor Protection Act or the United States Bankruptcy Code), there exists the risk that the recovery of the Fund’s securities and other assets from such prime broker or broker-dealer will be delayed or be of a value less than the value of the securities or assets originally entrusted to such prime broker or broker-dealer.

In addition, the Fund may use counterparties located in various jurisdictions outside the United States like LBIE. Such local counterparties are subject to various laws and regulations in various jurisdictions that are designed to protect their customers in the event of their insolvency. However, the practical effect of these laws and their application to the Fund’s assets are subject to substantial limitations and uncertainties. Because of the large number of entities and jurisdictions involved and the range of possible factual scenarios involving the insolvency of a counterparty, it is impossible to generalize about the effect of their insolvency on the Fund and its assets. Investors should assume that the insolvency of any counterparty would result in a loss to the Fund and the Fund, which could be material.

Counterparty Risk. Some of the markets in which the Fund may effect transactions are “over-the-counter” or “interdealer” markets. The participants in such markets are typically not subject to credit evaluation and regulatory oversight as are members of “exchange-based” markets. This exposes the Fund to the risk that a counterparty will not settle a transaction in accordance with its terms and conditions because of a dispute over the terms of the contract (whether or not bona fide) or because of a credit or liquidity problem, thus causing the Fund to suffer a loss. Such “counterparty risk” is accentuated for contracts with longer maturities where events may intervene to prevent settlement, or where the Fund has concentrated its transactions with a single or small group of counterparties. The Fund is not restricted from dealing with any particular counterparty or from concentrating any or all of its transactions with one counterparty. Moreover, the Fund’s internal credit function which evaluates the creditworthiness of its counterparties may prove insufficient. The lack of a complete and “foolproof” evaluation of the financial capabilities of the Fund’s counterparties and the absence of a regulated market to facilitate settlement may increase the potential for losses by the Fund.

Exchange-Traded Funds. The Fund may invest in exchange-traded funds (“ETFs”), which are shares of publicly-traded unit investment trusts, open-end funds, or depository receipts that seek to track the performance and dividend yield of specific indices or companies in related industries. These indices may be either broad-based, sector, or international. ETF shareholders are generally subject to the same risk as holders of the underlying securities they are designed to track. ETFs are also subject to certain additional risks, including, without limitation, the risk that their prices may not correlate perfectly with changes in the prices of the underlying securities they are designed to track, and the risk of trading in an ETF halting due to market conditions or other reasons, based on the policies of the exchange upon which the ETF trades. In addition, the Fund may bear, along with other shareholders of an ETF, its pro rata portion of the ETF’s expenses, including management fees. Accordingly, in addition to bearing their proportionate share of the Fund’s expenses (e.g., Management Fees and operating expenses), Partners may also indirectly bear similar expenses of an ETF, which may have a material adverse effect on the performance of the Fund.

Non-U.S. Investments and Emerging Markets. Investing in the securities of companies located outside the U.S. (including, western countries, “emerging market” countries and underdeveloped countries) involves certain considerations not usually associated with investing in securities of U.S. companies, including political and economic considerations, such as greater risks of expropriation and nationalization, confiscatory taxation, the potential difficulty of repatriating funds, general social, political and economic instability and adverse diplomatic developments; the possibility of imposition of withholding or other taxes on dividends, interest, capital gain or other income; the small size of the securities markets in such countries and the low volume of trading, resulting in potential lack of liquidity and in price volatility; fluctuations in the rate of exchange between currencies and costs associated with currency conversion; and certain government policies that may restrict the Fund’s investment opportunities.

In addition, accounting and financial reporting standards that prevail in non-U.S. countries generally are not equivalent to U.S. standards and, consequently, less information is available to shareholders of companies located in such countries than is available to shareholders of companies located in the U.S. Moreover, an issuer of securities may be domiciled in a country other than the country in whose currency the instrument is denominated. The values and relative yields of investments in the securities markets of different countries, and their associate risks, are not expected to be highly correlated with each other and may behave in unpredictable ways. There is also less regulation, generally, of the securities markets in non-U.S. countries.

The Fund may be subject to additional risks which include possible adverse political and economic developments, possible seizure or nationalization of non-U.S. deposits and possible adoption of governmental restrictions which might adversely affect the payment of principal and interest to investors located outside the country of the issuer, whether from currency blockage or otherwise. Furthermore, some of the securities may be subject to brokerage, stamp or other taxes levied by governments, which has the effect of increasing the cost of such investment and reducing the realized gain or increasing the realized loss on such securities at the time of sale. Furthermore, a non-U.S. issuer of debt or the non-U.S. governmental authorities that control the repayment of the debt may be unable or unwilling to repay principal or interest when due, and the Fund may have limited recourse in the event of a default. Some of these risks do not apply equally to issuers in larger, more developed countries. These risks are more pronounced in investments in issuers in countries with emerging markets or if the Fund invests significantly in a particular country.

Investment in emerging market securities and underdeveloped markets involves a greater degree of risk than an investment in securities of issuers based in developed countries. Among other things, emerging market securities investments may carry the risks of less publicly available information, more volatile markets, less strict securities market regulation, less favorable tax provisions and a greater likelihood of severe inflation, unstable currency, war and expropriation of personal property than investments in securities of issuers based in developed countries. In addition, the Fund's investment opportunities in certain emerging markets may be restricted by legal limits on foreign investment in local securities.

Emerging markets generally are not as efficient as those in developed countries. In some cases, a market for the security may not exist locally, and transactions will need to be made on a neighboring exchange. Volume and liquidity levels in emerging markets are lower than in developed countries. When seeking to sell emerging market securities, little or no market may exist for the securities. In addition, issuers based in emerging markets are not generally subject to uniform accounting and financial reporting standards, practices and requirements comparable to those applicable to issuers based in developed countries, thereby potentially increasing the risk of fraud or other deceptive practices. Furthermore, the quality and reliability of official data published by the government or securities exchanges in emerging markets may not accurately reflect the actual circumstances being reported.

The issuers of some non-U.S. securities, such as banks and other financial institutions, may be subject to less stringent regulations in emerging markets than would be the case for issuers in developed countries and therefore potentially carry greater risk. Custodial expenses for a portfolio of emerging markets securities generally are higher than for a portfolio of securities of issuers based in developed countries.

While the General Partner will take these factors into consideration in making investment decisions for the Fund, no assurance can be given that they will be able to fully avoid these risks.

In view of the foregoing considerations, an investment in Interests is suitable only for investors who are capable of bearing the relevant investment risks.

Tax Related Risks

Tax Uncertainty. The Fund may take positions with respect to certain tax issues which depend on legal conclusions not yet resolved by the courts. Should any such positions be successfully challenged by the Service or other applicable taxing authority, there could be a materially adverse effect on the Fund, and a Limited Partner might be found to have a different tax liability for that year than that reported on its income tax returns.

Uncertainty and Complexity of Tax Treatment. The tax aspects of an investment in a partnership are complicated and complex and, in many cases, uncertain. Statutory provisions and administrative regulations have been interpreted inconsistently by the courts. Additionally, some statutory provisions remain to be interpreted by administrative regulations. Investors will thus be subject to the risk caused by the uncertainty of the tax consequences with respect to an investment in the Fund. Each prospective investor should have the tax aspects of an investment in the Fund reviewed by professional advisors familiar with such investor's personal tax situation and with the tax laws and regulations applicable to the investor and private investment vehicles.

Risk of Adverse Determination. There can be no assurance that the conclusions set forth in this Memorandum will not be challenged successfully by the Internal Revenue Service (the "Service"), or significantly modified by new legislation, changes in the Service's positions or court decisions. The Fund has not applied for, nor does it expect to apply for, any advance rulings from the Service with respect to any of the federal income tax consequences described in this Memorandum. No representation or warranty of any kind is made by the General Partner with respect to the federal income tax consequences relating to an investment in the Fund. The Fund may take positions with respect to certain tax issues which depend on legal conclusions not yet resolved by the courts. Should any such positions be successfully challenged by the Service or other applicable taxing authority, there could be a materially adverse effect on the Fund, and a Limited Partner might be found to have a different tax liability for that year than that reported on its income tax returns.

Risk of Tax Audit. An audit of the Fund by the Service or another taxing authority could result in adjustments to the tax consequences initially reported by the Fund and may result in an audit of the returns of some or all of the Limited Partners, which examination could affect items not related to a Limited Partner's investment in the Fund. If audit adjustments result in an increase in a Limited Partner's income tax liability for any year, such Limited Partner may also be liable for interest and penalties with respect to the amount of underpayment. The legal and accounting costs incurred in connection with any audit of the Fund's tax returns will be borne by the Fund. The cost of any audit of a Limited Partner's tax return will be borne solely by that Limited Partner.

Tax Considerations Taken into Account. The General Partner may take tax considerations into account in determining when the Fund's investments should be sold or otherwise disposed of, and may assume certain market risk and incur certain expenses in this regard to achieve favorable tax treatment of a transaction.

Tax Liabilities Without Distributions. If the Fund has taxable income in a fiscal year, each Limited Partner will be taxed on that income in accordance with its distributive share of the Fund's profits, whether or not such profits have been distributed. Because the General Partner anticipates that there will be no cash distributions to the Limited Partners, an investor may incur tax liability with respect to activities of the Fund without receiving sufficient distributions from the Fund to defray such tax liabilities. In order to satisfy its tax liability in such a case, a Limited Partner would need sufficient funds from sources other than the Fund. Furthermore, the Fund may make investments with respect to which the Fund recognizes income for U.S. federal income tax purposes prior to receiving the cash or realizing the income as an economic matter. In addition, the Fund may recognize income for U.S. federal income tax purposes that does not reflect income as an economic matter. Such recognition of income prior to receipt of an economic benefit, if any, may result in increased tax liability for the Partners.

Delayed Schedules K-1. The Fund will provide Schedules K-1 as soon as practical after receipt of all of the necessary information. However, the Fund may be unable to provide final Schedules K-1 to Limited Partners for any given tax year until significantly after April 15 of the following year. The General Partner will endeavor to provide Limited Partners with estimates of the taxable income or loss allocated to their investment in the Fund on or before such date, but final Schedules K-1 may not be available until completion of the Fund's annual audit. Limited Partners should be prepared to obtain extensions of the filing date for their income tax returns at the federal, state and local levels.

Unrelated Business Taxable Income. The Fund may make investments or engage in activities that will give rise to unrelated business taxable income ("UBTI"). Thus, an investment in the Fund may not be desirable for certain tax-exempt investors. The Fund may participate in investments that give rise to UBTI through entities that are treated as partnerships for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Because of the "flow-through" principles applicable to partnerships, if UBTI is earned by the Fund, a tax-exempt investor in the Fund will realize UBTI. Because of the Investment Manager's objective of maximizing the pre-tax returns of all the Limited Partners, the Investment Manager may be required to make certain decisions to maximize pre-tax returns that result in Tax-Exempt U.S. Investors (as defined below) recognizing more UBTI than might otherwise be the case. In some cases, the Investment Manager may forego actions with regard to the acquisition, financing, management and disposition of assets that would reduce UBTI because such actions would reduce the overall pre-tax returns to all the Limited Partners.

Tax Changes. Investors will be subject to the risk that changes to the tax law may adversely affect the federal income tax consequences of their investment in the Fund. Changes in existing tax laws or regulations and their interpretation may be enacted after the date of this Memorandum, possibly with retroactive effect, and could alter the income tax consequences of an investment in the Fund. Certain provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code") may be further amended or interpreted in a manner adverse to the Fund, in which event any benefits derived from an investment in the Fund may be adversely affected. In addition, significant legislative and budgetary proposals affecting tax laws have been made by the legislative and executive branches of the U.S. federal government. The likelihood of enactment of any such proposals, or any similar proposals, into law is uncertain. The enactment of any such proposals, including subsequent proposals, into law could have material adverse effects on the Fund and/or the Limited Partners. Enactment of such legislation, or similar legislation, could require significant restructuring of the Fund in order to mitigate such effects.

The foregoing is not intended to be an exhaustive analysis or listing of the tax risks associated with an investment in the Fund. Many of the relevant tax considerations will vary depending on a prospective Limited Partner's individual circumstances. The tax aspects associated with such an investment are complex and complicated and are subject to a variety of interpretations. Prospective investors are strongly urged to review the discussions below under "Tax Considerations" and "ERISA and Other Regulatory Considerations" for a more complete discussion of certain of the tax risks inherent in the acquisition of Interests, and to seek and rely upon the advice of their own tax advisor who is qualified to discuss the foregoing and other possible tax risks.

In view of the foregoing considerations, an investment in Interests is suitable only for investors who are capable of bearing the relevant investment risks.

Potential Conflicts of Interest

The scope of the activities of the Investment Manager, its affiliates, and the funds and clients managed or advised by the Investment Manager or any of its affiliates may give rise to conflicts of interest or other restrictions and/or limitations imposed on the Fund in the future that cannot be foreseen or mitigated at this time. The following briefly summarizes some of these conflicts, but is not intended to be an exhaustive list of all such conflicts.

None of the Investment Manager, its affiliates and their respective officers, directors, shareholders, members, partners, personnel and employees (collectively, the “Highland Group”) is precluded from engaging in or owning an interest in other business ventures or investment activities of any kind, whether or not such ventures are competitive with the Fund. The Investment Manager is permitted to manage other client accounts, some of which may have objectives similar or identical to those of the Fund, including other collective investment vehicles that may be managed by the Highland Group and in which the Investment Manager or any of its affiliates may have an equity interest.

The Fund will be subject to a number of actual and potential conflicts of interest involving the Highland Group including, among other things, the fact that: (i) the Highland Group conducts substantial investment activities for accounts, funds, collateralized debt obligations that invest in leveraged loans (collectively, “CDOs”) and other vehicles managed by members of the Highland Group (“Highland Accounts”) in which the Fund has no interest; (ii) the Highland Group advises Highland Accounts, which utilize the same, similar or different methodologies as the Fund and may have financial incentives (including, without limitation, as it relates to the composition of investors in such funds and accounts or to the Highland Group’s compensation arrangements) to favor certain Highland Accounts over the Fund; (iii) the Highland Group may use the strategy described herein in certain Highland Accounts; (iv) the Investment Manager may give advice and recommend securities to, or buy or sell securities for, the Fund, which advice or securities may differ from advice given to, or securities recommended or bought or sold for, Highland Accounts; (v) the Investment Manager has the discretion, to the extent permitted under applicable law, to use its affiliates as service providers to the Fund and its portfolio investments; (vi) Affiliated Investors may choose to personally invest only in certain funds advised by the Highland Group and the amounts invested by them in such funds is expected to vary significantly; (vii) the Highland Group and Highland Accounts may actively engage in transactions in the same securities sought by the Fund and, therefore, may compete with the Fund for investment opportunities or may hold positions opposite to positions maintained on behalf of the Fund; (viii) the Fund may invest in CDOs and Highland Accounts managed by members of the Highland Group; and (ix) the Investment Manager will devote to the Fund only as much time as the Investment Manager deems necessary and appropriate to manage the Fund’s business.

The Investment Manager undertakes to resolve conflicts in a fair and equitable basis, which in some instances may mean a resolution that would not maximize the benefit to the Fund’s investors.

It is the policy of the Investment Manager to allocate investment opportunities fairly and equitably over time. This means that such opportunities will be allocated among those accounts for which participation in the respective opportunity is considered appropriate, taking into account, among other considerations: (i) whether the risk-return profile of the proposed investment is consistent with the account’s objectives and program, whether such objectives are considered in light of the specific investment under consideration or in the context of the portfolio’s overall holdings; (ii) the potential for the proposed investment to create an imbalance in the account’s portfolio (taking into account expected inflows and outflows of capital); (iii) liquidity requirements of the account; (iv) potentially adverse tax consequences; (v) regulatory and other restrictions that would or could limit an account’s ability to participate in a proposed investment; and (vi) the need to re-size risk in the account’s portfolio. The Investment Manager has the authority to allocate trades to multiple Highland Accounts on an average price basis or on another basis it deems fair and equitable. Similarly, if an order on behalf of any accounts cannot be fully allocated under prevailing market conditions, the Investment Manager may allocate the trades among different accounts on a basis it considers fair and equitable over time. One or more of the foregoing considerations may (and are often expected to) result in allocations among the Fund and one or more Highland Accounts on other than a pari passu basis.

The General Partner and/or its affiliates may open “average price” accounts with brokers. In an “average price” account, purchase and sale orders placed during a trading day on behalf of the Fund, the Highland Accounts or affiliates of the General Partner are combined, and securities bought and sold pursuant to such orders are allocated among such accounts on an average price basis.

As part of their regular business, the members of the Highland Group hold, purchase, sell, trade or take other related actions both for their respective accounts and for the accounts of their respective clients, on a principal or agency basis, with respect to loans, securities and other investments and financial instruments of all types. The members of the Highland Group also provide investment advisory services, among other services, and engage in private equity, real estate and capital markets-oriented investment activities. The members of the Highland Group will not be restricted in their performance of any such services or in the types of debt or equity investments which they may make. The members of the Highland Group may have economic interests in or other relationships with obligors or issuers in whose obligations or securities or credit exposures the Fund may invest. In particular, such persons may make and/or hold an investment in an obligor’s or issuer’s securities that may be pari passu, senior or junior in ranking to an investment in such obligor’s or issuer’s securities made and/or held by the Fund or in which partners, security holders, members, officers, directors, agents, personnel or employees of such persons serve on boards of directors or otherwise have ongoing relationships. Each of such ownership and other relationships may result in securities laws restrictions on transactions in such securities by the Fund and otherwise create conflicts of interest for the Fund. In such instances, the members of the Highland Group may in their discretion make investment recommendations and decisions that may be the same as or different from those made with respect to the Fund’s investments. In connection with any such activities described above, the members of the Highland Group may hold, purchase, sell, trade or take other related actions in securities or investments of a type that may be suitable to investments for the Fund. The members of the Highland Group will not be required to offer such securities or investments to the Fund or provide notice of such activities to the Fund. In addition, in managing the Fund’s portfolio, the Investment Manager may take into account its relationship or the relationships of its affiliates with obligors and their respective affiliates, which may create conflicts of interest. Furthermore, in connection with actions taken in the ordinary course of business of the Investment Manager in accordance with its fiduciary duties to its other clients, the Investment Manager may take, or be required to take, actions which adversely affect the interests of the Fund.

In connection with the foregoing activities the Highland Group may from time to time come into possession of material nonpublic information that limits the ability of the Investment Manager to effect a transaction for the Fund, and the Fund’s investments may be constrained as a consequence of the Investment Manager’s inability to use such information for advisory purposes or otherwise to effect transactions that otherwise may have been initiated on behalf of its clients, including the Fund.

Although the professional staff of the Investment Manager will devote as much time to the Fund as the Investment Manager deems appropriate to perform its duties in accordance with the Investment Management Agreement and in accordance with reasonable commercial standards, the staff may have conflicts in allocating its time and services among the Fund and the Investment Manager’s other accounts.

The directors, officers, personnel, employees and agents of the Investment Manager and its affiliates may, subject to applicable law, serve as directors (whether supervisory or managing), officers, personnel, employees, partners, agents, nominees or signatories, and receive arm's length fees in connection with such service, for the Fund or other entities that operate in the same or a related line of business as the Fund, for other clients managed by the Investment Manager or its affiliates, or for any obligor or issuer in respect of the CLOs, to the extent permitted by their governing instruments, or by any resolutions duly adopted by the Fund, such affiliated entities or any obligor or issuer in respect of any of the CLOs pursuant to their respective governing instruments, and the Fund shall have no right to any such fees. In serving in these multiple capacities, they may have obligations to such other clients or investors in those entities, the fulfillment of which may not be in the best interests of the Fund.

There is no limitation or restriction on the Investment Manager or any of its affiliates with regard to acting as investment adviser or collateral manager (or in a similar role) to other parties or persons. This and other future activities of the Investment Manager and/or its affiliates may give rise to additional conflicts of interest. Such conflicts may relate to obligations that the Investment Manager's investment committee, the Investment Manager or its affiliates have to other clients.

The Investment Manager and/or its affiliates may act as an underwriter, arranger or placement agent, or otherwise participate in the origination, structuring, negotiation, syndication or offering of CLOs and Highland Accounts purchased by the Fund. Such transactions are on an arm's-length basis and shall be subject to fees that are no greater than arm's-length fees. There is no expectation for preferential access to transactions involving CLOs and Highland Accounts that are underwritten, originated, arranged or placed by the Investment Manager and/or its affiliates and the Fund shall not have any right to any such fees.

As further described below, the Investment Manager may effect client cross-transactions where the Investment Manager causes a transaction to be effected between the Fund and another client advised by it or any of its affiliates. The Investment Manager may engage in a client cross-transaction involving the Fund any time that the Investment Manager believes such transaction to be fair to the Fund and such other client. By purchasing an Interest in the Fund, a Limited Partner is deemed to have consented to such client cross-transactions between the Fund and another client of the Investment Manager or one of its affiliates.

As further described below, the Investment Manager may effect principal transactions where the Fund acquires securities from or sells securities to the Investment Manager and/or its affiliates, in each case in accordance with applicable law, which may include the Investment Manager obtaining the consent and approval of the Advisory Committee prior to engaging in any such principal transaction between the Fund and the Investment Manager or its affiliates. By subscribing for Interests, the Limited Partners are deemed to have consented to such procedures relating to principal transactions between the Fund and the Investment Manager or its affiliates.

The Investment Manager may direct the Fund to acquire or dispose of securities in cross trades between the Fund and other clients of the Investment Manager or its affiliates in accordance with applicable legal and regulatory requirements. In addition, the Fund may invest in securities of obligors or issuers in which the Investment Manager and/or its affiliates have a debt, equity or participation interest, and the holding and sale of such investments by the Fund may enhance the profitability of the Investment Manager's own investments in such companies. Moreover, the Fund may invest in assets originated by the Investment Manager or its affiliates. In each such case, the Investment Manager and such affiliates may have a potentially conflicting division of loyalties and responsibilities regarding the Fund and the other parties to such trade. Under certain circumstances, the Investment Manager and its affiliates may determine that it is appropriate to avoid such conflicts by selling a security at a fair value that has been calculated pursuant to the Investment Manager's valuation procedures to another client managed or advised by the Investment Manager or such affiliates. In addition, the Investment Manager may enter into agency cross-transactions where it or any of its affiliates acts as broker for the Fund and for the other party to the transaction, to the extent permitted under applicable law. The Investment Manager may obtain the Fund's written consent through the Advisory Committee if any such transaction requires the consent of the Fund under Section 206(3) of the Advisers Act.

There are generally no ethical screens or information barriers among the Investment Manager and certain of its affiliates of the type that many firms implement to separate persons who make investment decisions from others who might possess material, non-public information that could influence such decisions. If the Investment Manager, any of its personnel or its affiliates were to receive material non-public information about a particular obligor, issuer or CLO, or have an interest in causing the Fund to acquire a particular CLO Security, the Investment Manager may be prevented from causing the Fund to purchase or sell such asset due to internal restrictions imposed on the Investment Manager. Notwithstanding the maintenance of certain internal controls relating to the management of material non-public information, it is possible that such controls could fail and result in the Investment Manager, or one of its investment professionals, buying or selling an asset while, at least constructively, in possession of material non-public information. Inadvertent trading on material non-public information could have adverse effects on the Investment Manager's reputation, result in the imposition of regulatory or financial sanctions, and as a consequence, negatively impact the Investment Manager's ability to perform its portfolio management services to the Fund. In addition, while the Investment Manager and certain of its affiliates currently operate without information barriers on an integrated basis, such entities could be required by certain regulations, or decide that it is advisable, to establish information barriers. In such event, the Investment Manager's ability to operate as an integrated platform could also be impaired, which would limit the Investment Manager's access to personnel of its affiliates and potentially impair its ability to manage the Fund's investments.

Akin Gump Strauss Hauer & Feld LLP ("Akin Gump") serves as counsel to the Fund, the Investment Manager, the General Partner and certain of their Affiliates (the "Clients") in connection with the formation of the Fund and certain other Clients, the offering of Interests as well as certain other matters for which the Clients may engage Akin Gump from time to time. Akin Gump disclaims any obligation to verify the Clients' compliance with their obligations either under applicable law or the governing documents of the Fund. In acting as counsel to the Clients, Akin Gump has not represented and will not represent any Limited Partners nor does it purport to represent their interests. No independent counsel has been retained to represent the Limited Partners. In assisting in the preparation of this Memorandum, Akin Gump has relied on information provided by the Fund, the Investment Manager and the General Partner and certain of the Fund's other service providers (including, without limitation, the principal's biographical data, summaries of market conditions, the planned investment strategy of the Fund and the performance of the Fund, its investments or any predecessor Fund) without verification and does not express a view as to whether such information is accurate or complete.

BROKERAGE AND CUSTODY

Portfolio Transactions

Substantially all of the Fund's investments in marketable securities, as well as its cash and cash equivalents, are expected to be held at The Bank of New York Mellon ("BNY Mellon").

BNY Mellon and other prime brokers or their affiliates may provide capital introduction or other placement services to the Fund and the Investment Manager (with or without separate charges for such other services). In determining which broker-dealer generally provides the best available price and most favorable execution, the Investment Manager considers a totality of circumstances, including the broker-dealer's research capabilities and the success of prior research recommendations, ability to efficiently execute difficult trades (such as those in illiquid markets or trades of substantial size), the broker's risk in positioning a block of securities, commitment of capital, access to new issues, nature and frequency of sales coverage, depth of services provided, including economic or political coverage, arbitrage and option operations, back office and processing capabilities, financial strength, stability and responsibility, efficiency, reputation, access to markets, confidentiality, commission rate, responsiveness to the Investment Manager and the value of research and brokerage and research products and services provided by such brokers.

The Investment Manager may also execute trades with brokers and dealers with whom the Fund or the Investment Manager has other business relationships, including prime brokerage, credit relationships and capital introduction or investments by affiliates of the broker-dealers in the Fund or other entities managed by the Investment Manager. However, the Investment Manager does not believe that these other relationships will influence the choice of brokers and dealers who execute trades for the Fund.

Broker-dealers may provide research that may include written or oral proprietary research. Broker-dealers may also provide research products that include software and related support services for use in research and trading, quotation boards, computer databases and quotation equipment, in each case to access research or which provide research directly. Research services may include, among other things, research concerning market, economic and financial data, statistical information, data on pricing and availability of securities, financial publications, attendance at conferences and meetings, electronic market quotations, performance measurement services, analyses and/or due diligence concerning specific securities, companies or sectors, including due diligence on specific aspects of a company's operations or finances, analyses on issues raised in proxy statements and market, economic and financial studies and forecasts. Research services may be in written or oral form or on-line and may be produced by broker-dealers or third parties such as attorneys, accountants or consultants. Brokerage products and services may include certain order management system components and order routing.

The receipt of brokerage and research products from broker-dealers through client commission payments is commonly referred to as "soft dollars." Broker-dealers may provide products and services paid for through soft dollars either directly or through credits deposited into an account that may be used for research developed by the broker-dealer, third-party research and brokerage services. Section 28(e) of the Exchange Act provides a safe harbor from liability for breach of fiduciary duties relating to the purchase of limited research or brokerage services using soft dollars so long as the products and services received constitute lawful and appropriate assistance and the amount indirectly paid for those products or services is reasonable. If the Investment Manager uses research or brokerage products or services, it intends to limit research and brokerage to those services included in the safe harbor under Section 28(e) of the Exchange Act.

In selecting broker-dealers on the basis of the foregoing factors, the Investment Manager may pay a brokerage commission in excess of that which another broker might have charged for effecting the same transaction. In connection therewith, the Investment Manager will make a good faith determination that the amount of commission is reasonable in relation to the value of the research or brokerage services received, viewed in terms of either the specific transaction or the Investment Manager's overall responsibility to its clients. The Investment Manager will regularly evaluate the placement of brokerage services and the reasonableness of commissions paid. Research received from brokers will be supplemental to the Investment Manager's own research efforts. While the receipt of research will not reduce the Investment Manager's normal research activities, the Investment Manager's expenses could increase materially if it attempted to generate such additional research or brokerage services through its own staff, and the Management Fee will not be reduced as a consequence of the receipt of such research or brokerage services or products. As such, the Investment Manager's arrangements for the receipt of research and brokerage services from brokers may create a conflict of interest, in that the Investment Manager may have an incentive to choose a broker-dealer that provides research and brokerage services, instead of one that does not but charges a lower commission rate. In some instances, the Investment Manager receives products and services that may be used for both research and non-research purposes. In such instances, the Investment Manager will make a good faith effort to determine the relative proportion of the products and services used to assist the Investment Manager in carrying out its investment decision-making responsibilities or order execution, including research and brokerage, and the relative proportion used for administrative or other non-research purposes. The proportionate amount of the research attributable to assisting the Investment Manager in carrying out its investment decision-making responsibilities or order execution will be paid through brokerage commissions generated by the Fund's and other client's transactions; the proportionate amount attributable to administrative or other non-research purposes will be paid for by the Investment Manager from its own resources. The receipt of "mixed-use" research and the determination of the appropriate allocation may result in a potential conflict of interest between the Investment Manager and its clients.

The Investment Manager will be responsible for the placement of the portfolio transactions of the Fund and the negotiation of any commissions or spreads paid on such transactions. Portfolio transactions normally will be effected through brokers on securities exchanges or directly with the issuer, or through an underwriter, or market maker or other dealer for the investments. Portfolio transactions through brokers involve a commission to the broker. Portfolio transactions with dealers typically are priced to include a spread between the bid and the asked price to compensate the dealer. Portfolio transactions will be executed by brokers selected solely by the Investment Manager in its absolute discretion.

Custody

Custody of the Fund's assets is maintained by brokers and banks selected by the Investment Manager in its sole discretion. The custodian or custodians may be changed at any time and from time to time by the Investment Manager without the consent of the Fund. Currently, the custodian is BNY Mellon. The Fund is eligible for insurance coverage against loss with respect to assets held in the custody of BNY Mellon in the event of the bankruptcy or liquidation of BNY Mellon to the same extent BNY Mellon's other customers.

TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Introduction

The following is a summary of certain aspects of the taxation of the Fund and its Limited Partners arising from the purchase, ownership and disposition of an Interest that should be considered by a prospective Limited Partner. The Fund has not sought a ruling from the Service or any similar state, local or foreign authority with respect to any of the tax issues affecting Limited Partners or the Fund, nor has it obtained an opinion of counsel with respect to any U.S. federal, state, local or foreign tax issues.

This summary is based on the Code, the Treasury regulations promulgated under the Code (the “Treasury Regulations”), judicial decisions, administrative rulings, and state and local tax laws in force on the date of this Memorandum, all of which are subject to change (possibly with retroactive effect). Changes in existing laws or regulations and their interpretation may occur after the date of this Memorandum and could alter the income tax consequences of an investment in the Fund. This discussion does not address all of the tax consequences that may be relevant to a particular investor, nor does it address, unless specifically indicated, the tax consequences to, among others (i) persons that may be subject to special treatment under U.S. federal income tax law, including, but not limited to, banks, insurance companies, thrift institutions, regulated investment companies, real estate investment trusts and dealers in securities or currencies, (ii) persons that will hold Interests as part of a position in a “straddle” or as part of a “hedging,” “conversion” or other integrated investment transaction for U.S. federal income tax purposes, (iii) persons whose functional currency is not the U.S. dollar or (iv) persons that do not hold Interests as capital assets within the meaning of Code section 1221.

Further, this discussion assumes that all non-U.S. persons will invest in the Offshore Fund and will not invest in the Fund and, therefore, does not address the tax considerations relevant to an investment in the Fund by a non-U.S. person.

If a partnership holds an Interest in the Fund, the tax treatment of a partner in such partnership will generally depend upon the status of the partner and the activities of the partnership. Prospective investors who are partners of a partnership should consult their own tax advisors.

Unless otherwise expressly provided herein, this discussion does not address possible state, local or non-U.S. tax consequences of the purchase, ownership or disposition of Interests, some or all of which may be material to particular investors. This discussion also does not address the potential application of the U.S. federal alternative minimum tax (“AMT”) to the Limited Partners. There is uncertainty concerning certain tax aspects of the Fund, and there can be no assurance that the Service will not challenge the positions taken by the Fund.

The tax consequences of an investment in the Fund are particularly complex. Accordingly, prospective investors should not consider this discussion as a substitute for careful tax planning. Prospective investors should consult with their own tax advisors, attorneys or accountants on matters relating to an investment in the Fund with special references to such investor’s particular situation.

Certain United States Taxation Matters

Classification of the Fund

The General Partner believes that, under the provisions of the Code and the Treasury Regulations as currently in effect, the Fund should be treated for U.S. federal income tax purposes as a partnership and not as an association taxable as a corporation.

Certain “publicly traded partnerships” are treated as associations that are taxable as corporations for U.S. federal income tax purposes. A publicly traded partnership is any partnership the interests in which are traded on an established securities market or which are readily tradable on a secondary market (or the substantial equivalent thereof). Interests in the Fund are not and will not be traded on an established securities market. Treasury Regulations concerning the classification of partnerships as publicly traded partnerships provide certain safe harbors under which interests in a partnership will not be considered readily tradable on a secondary market (or the substantial equivalent thereof). Depending on the number of Partners, the Fund may qualify for a safe harbor exemption for partnerships that are offered to investors in a private placement.

The remainder of this discussion assumes that the Fund will be treated, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, as a partnership and not as a publicly traded partnership treated as an association that is taxable as a corporation.

U.S. Federal Income Taxation of the Fund and Partners Generally

As a partnership, the Fund will not be subject to U.S. federal income tax. Each Limited Partner will be required to report separately on its income tax return its distributive share of the Fund’s net long-term capital gain or loss, net short-term capital gain or loss, and net ordinary income and deductions and credits in accordance with the allocations set forth in the Partnership Agreement. Each Limited Partner will be liable for any taxes owed upon its distributive share of the income or gains realized by the Fund, and may claim deductions for its distributive share of the Fund’s losses and deductions and credits for its distributive share of the Fund’s credits, to the extent allowed under the Code. Each Limited Partner will be taxed on its distributive share of the Fund’s taxable income and gain regardless of whether it has received or will receive a distribution from the Fund. Consequently, a Limited Partner may be subject to tax with respect to its share of the taxable income of the Fund for a taxable year and may not receive a corresponding distribution of cash from the Fund in such year with which to satisfy its tax liability in respect of such taxable income.

The Fund will file an annual partnership information return with the Service that reports the results of its operations for the taxable year, and will distribute annually to each Limited Partner a form showing its distributive share of the Fund’s items of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit. The General Partner will have the authority to decide how to report these items on the Fund’s tax returns, and all Limited Partners will be required under the Partnership Agreement to treat the items consistently on their own returns. An audit by the Service of the tax treatment of the Fund’s income and deductions generally will be determined at the Fund level in a single proceeding rather than by individual audits of the Limited Partners. In this regard, the General Partner, as the “Tax Matters Partner,” will have the authority to bind certain Limited Partners to settlement agreements and the right on behalf of all Limited Partners to extend the statute of limitations relating to the Limited Partners’ tax liabilities with respect to Fund items.

Under the Partnership Agreement, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, the General Partner has the discretion to allocate specially an amount of the Fund's net gains or net losses (or items of gross income or losses or deduction) to a withdrawing Partner to the extent that the Partner's Capital Account differs either positively or negatively from its U.S. federal income tax basis in its Interest. There can be no assurance that, if the General Partner makes such a special allocation, the Service will accept such allocation. If such allocation is successfully challenged by the Service, the Fund's allocations to the remaining Partners would be affected as well.

The Fund expects to act as a trader or investor, and not as a dealer, with respect to its securities transactions. Generally, the gains and losses realized by a trader or investor on the sale of securities are capital gains and losses. Thus, in general, the Fund expects that its gains and losses from its securities transactions typically will be capital gains and capital losses. These capital gains and losses may be long-term or short-term depending, in general, upon the length of time the Fund maintains a particular investment position and, in some cases, upon the nature of the transaction. Property held for more than 12 months generally will be eligible for long-term capital gain or loss treatment. Long term capital gains may be eligible for favorable tax rates in the hands of non-corporate U.S. Limited Partners. Limited Partners should consult with their own tax advisors to determine the tax rates applicable to them in their particular tax situations.

In addition, individuals who are U.S. persons with "modified adjusted gross income" that exceeds certain thresholds (for example, $250,000 for married individuals filing jointly, $200,000 for single individuals) are subject to a Medicare tax of 3.8% on the lesser of (i) their investment income, net of deductions properly allocable to such income, and (ii) the excess of their "modified adjusted gross income" above the applicable threshold. The General Partner expects that most or all of the Fund's income will be treated as investment income for this purpose, and as a result Limited Partners receiving allocations of income from the Fund for these taxable years will be subject to this tax. This tax will be in addition to any U.S. federal income tax imposed on such Limited Partners with respect to their allocable share of income of the Fund. Trusts and estates also may be subject to this additional tax.

The Fund may be involved in a variety of hedging transactions to reduce the risk of changes in value in the Fund's investments. Special rules may apply to determine the tax treatment of such hedging transactions, which may affect the Fund's holding period attributable to such property, the characterization of gain or loss as ordinary or capital and, if capital, as long-term or short-term, and the timing of the realization of gains or losses on the actual or deemed sale of the property, including, in some cases, property owned by a Limited Partner outside of the Fund. For instance, gain or loss from a short sale of property generally will be considered as capital gain or loss to the extent the property used to close the short sale constitutes a capital asset in the Fund's hands. Except with respect to certain situations where the property used by the Fund to close a short sale has a long-term holding period on the date of the short sale, gains on short sales will be treated as short-term capital gains. These rules also may terminate the running of the holding period of "substantially identical property" held by the Fund. Moreover, a loss on a short sale will be treated as a long-term capital loss if, on the date of the short sale, "substantially identical property" has been held by the Fund for more than one year. Certain hedging transactions also may cause a constructive sale of the Fund's long position that is the subject of the hedge.

The Fund may derive ordinary interest income and dividends on securities, and may be required to recognize income in respect of certain securities prior to receipt of any payment in respect of such securities. For instance, the Fund may hold debt obligations with "original issue discount." In such case, the Fund will be required to include a portion of such discount in its taxable income on a current basis, and the Fund must allocate such income to the Limited Partners, even though receipt of such amounts by the Fund may occur in a subsequent tax year. The Fund also may acquire debt obligations with “market discount.” Upon disposition of such an obligation, which might include the receipt of securities of the issuer in a recapitalization exchange, the Fund generally will be required to treat any gain realized (and required to be recognized) as ordinary interest income to the extent of the market discount that accrued during the period the debt obligation was held by the Fund. Recapitalization exchanges involving securities held by the Fund also may result in the recognition of taxable gains prior to the receipt of cash or readily tradable property.

If the Fund is treated as a trader, it may, in its discretion, make an election under Code section 475(f) to apply a mark to market system of recognizing unrealized gains and losses on securities as if the securities were sold for fair market value at the close of any taxable year of the Fund. The amount recognized when gain or loss is subsequently realized would be adjusted for amounts recognized in marking to market. The election would apply with respect to securities held in connection with the Fund’s trade or business as a trader in securities. The election would not apply to any securities with respect to which the Fund could demonstrate, to the satisfaction of the Service, that they are held for investment. Once a Code section 475(f) election is made, it can be revoked only with the consent of the Service. In the event that the Fund makes such an election, the Fund’s gains and losses from marking securities to market (and gain or loss recognized before the end of the taxable year with respect to any security that would have been marked to market) would be treated as ordinary income and losses. The rules relating to appreciated financial positions under Code section 1259 and wash sales under Code section 1091 would not apply to the securities to which the election applies and the Code section 1092 straddle rules would not have any effect where all the offsetting positions of a straddle are marked to market.

The Fund may be required to purchase foreign currency with which to make its investments and may receive foreign currency when a security is sold or when an interest payment is made on a security. These transactions may give rise to gains and losses because of fluctuations in the value of the foreign currency relative to the U.S. dollar during the Fund’s holding period of an investment. Foreign currency gain or loss in respect of certain types of transactions must be accounted for separately, apart from any gain or loss on the underlying transaction, and the Code contains special rules which treat, in most circumstances, such gains and losses as ordinary income or losses rather than capital gains or losses.

The U.S. federal income tax treatment of the Fund’s investment in swaps or other derivatives is subject to significant uncertainty and depends in large part on the terms of the specific swap or other derivative. In particular, it is possible that the Fund may enter into so-called “bullet swaps” or other swaps that provide for non-periodic payments. In certain circumstances, income from a swap can be treated as ordinary income and not capital gain if the swap is treated as a “constructive ownership transaction” under Code section 1260. The Fund intends to take positions that are reasonable under the law that provide for optimal tax treatment of the Limited Partners. However, there can be no assurance that the Service or a court would agree with the Fund’s position. Moreover, the Service might take the contrary position that the Fund is subject to U.S. federal income tax in respect of some or all of the income earned from the swap investments on the theory that the Fund should be treated as the owner for U.S. federal income tax purposes of the property underlying certain swaps, in which case the after-tax return on the swap investments could be significantly reduced.

Pursuant to various “anti-deferral” provisions of the Code (e.g., the “Subpart F” and “passive foreign investment company” provisions), any investments by the Fund in certain foreign corporations may cause a Limited Partner to (i) recognize taxable income prior to the Fund’s receipt of distributable proceeds, (ii) pay an interest charge on receipts that are deemed as having been deferred or (iii) recognize ordinary income that, but for the “anti-deferral” provisions, would have been treated as long-term or short-term capital gain.

Under the Partnership Agreement, the General Partner has the authority to elect on behalf of the Fund, under Code section 754, to adjust the tax basis of the Fund’s assets in connection with certain distributions to Limited Partners or certain transfers of Interests. Such an election, if made, could affect the amount of a Limited Partner’s distributive share of the gain or loss recognized by the Fund upon the disposition of its assets. Because of the complexity and additional expense involved in making a section 754 election, the General Partner has no present intention to make such election on behalf of the Fund.

Prospective investors that are subject to the AMT should consider the tax consequences of an investment in the Fund in view of their AMT position, taking into account the special rules that apply in computing the AMT.

Taxation of Distributions and Withdrawals

Cash non-liquidating distributions and withdrawals, to the extent they do not exceed a Limited Partner’s basis in its Interest, will not result in taxable income to that Limited Partner, but will reduce its tax basis in its Interest by the amount distributed or withdrawn. Cash distributed to a Limited Partner in excess of the basis of its Interest is generally taxable as capital gain.

Prospective Limited Partners should be aware that a Limited Partner’s share of the taxable income of the Fund for any year may exceed the amount of cash distributed to such Limited Partner for that year, which may require that the Limited Partner make an out-of-pocket expenditure to cover its tax liability. Conversely, if the cash distributed by the Fund to a Partner for any year exceeds the taxable income of the Fund allocated to such Partner for that year, the excess will be treated as a return of capital for U.S. federal income tax purposes to the extent of a Limited Partner’s tax basis of its Interest. To the extent that cash distributions are treated as a return of capital and to the extent that any tax losses are allocated to the Limited Partners, the tax bases of the Limited Partners in their Interests will be reduced (but not below zero). Because of such basis adjustments, any tax that is avoided in the early years of a Limited Partner’s investment in the Fund may become due later through the realization of gain upon the sale of assets of the Fund, the liquidation of the Fund or the sale of Interests.

The Fund’s ability to make cash distributions to a withdrawing Limited Partner or to the Partners, if applicable, may be limited by, among other things, the terms of the investment leverage entered into by the Fund for the purpose of making portfolio investments on a leveraged basis.

Upon the withdrawal of a Limited Partner receiving a cash liquidating distribution from the Fund, such Limited Partner generally will recognize capital gain or loss to the extent of the difference between the proceeds received by the withdrawing Limited Partner and such Partner’s adjusted tax basis in its Interest. Such capital gain or loss will be short-term or long-term depending upon the Partner’s holding period (or holding periods) for its Interest. However, a withdrawing Limited Partner will recognize ordinary income to the extent such Partner’s allocable share of the Fund’s “unrealized receivables” exceeds the Partner’s basis in such unrealized receivables (as determined pursuant to the Treasury Regulations). For these purposes, accrued but untaxed market discount, if any, on securities held by the Fund will be treated as an unrealized receivable, with respect to which a withdrawing Partner would recognize ordinary income.

Distributions of property other than cash, whether in complete or partial liquidation of a Limited Partner's Interest, generally will not result in the recognition of taxable income or loss to the Limited Partner (except to the extent such distribution is treated as made in exchange for such Limited Partner's share of the Fund's unrealized receivables). However, a distribution of marketable securities will be treated as a distribution of cash (which, as described above, can require the recognition of gain by the recipient Limited Partner), unless the distributing partnership is an "investment partnership" and the recipient is an "eligible partner" as defined in Code section 731(c). Although the General Partner cannot provide any assurances of whether the Fund is an "investment partnership" for these purposes, the General Partner anticipates that the Fund should qualify as an "investment partnership." Thus, if a Limited Partner is an "eligible partner," which term should include a Limited Partner whose sole contributions to the Fund consisted of cash, a distribution of marketable securities to such Limited Partner should not require the recognition of gain by such Limited Partner.

As discussed above, under the Partnership Agreement, the General Partner has the discretion to allocate specially an amount of the Fund's net gains or net losses (or items of gross income or losses or deductions) for U.S. federal income tax purposes to a withdrawing Partner to the extent that the Partner's capital account differs from its U.S. federal income tax basis in its Interest. Such a special allocation may result in the withdrawing Partner recognizing more or less taxable income, which may include short-term gain, in the Partner's last taxable year in the Fund, thereby reducing, or increasing, as applicable, the amount of long-term capital gain recognized during the tax year in which it receives its liquidating distribution upon withdrawal. In certain circumstances, special allocations of net gains (or items of income or gain) to a withdrawing Partner may result in a greater allocation of losses, or a lower allocation of taxable income or gain, to the remaining Partners. Likewise, special allocations of net losses (or items of expense, loss or deduction) to a withdrawing Partner may result in a greater allocation of taxable income or gain, or a lower allocation of losses, to the remaining Partners.

Assuming the Fund has not made an election pursuant to Code section 754 and the General Partner does not exercise its discretion to specially allocate losses to a withdrawing Limited Partner, distributions of property or cash by the Fund to a Limited Partner in redemption of its Interest in certain circumstances where the Fund has a substantial built-in loss may require the Fund to reduce the tax basis of its remaining property.

Limitations on Losses and Deductions

Limited Partners that are individuals or certain types of corporations may be limited in their ability to deduct expenses or losses of the Fund. For instance, if or to the extent that the Fund's operations do not constitute a "trade or business" within the meaning of Code section 162 and other provisions of the Code, an individual Limited Partner's distributive share of the Fund's expenses (including any amounts that are treated for tax purposes as expenses of the Fund) would be deductible only as itemized deductions, subject to the limitations of Code sections 67 and 68. In this regard, if all or a portion of the Performance Allocation to the General Partner were re-characterized for tax purposes as an expense of the Fund, each non-corporate Limited Partner's share of such expense could be subject to such limitations. Itemized deductions are non-deductible in computing such Limited Partner's alternative minimum taxable income and alternative minimum tax liability.

Further, income, gains and losses of the Fund generally will not be treated as passive income or losses for purposes of the passive activity loss limitations of Code section 469. Accordingly, individuals, personal service corporations and certain closely-held corporations that have passive activity losses from other activities are restricted in their ability to use such losses to offset income and gains from the Fund, although losses of the Fund will not be subject to the passive activity loss limitation.

The ability of a non-corporate Limited Partner to deduct its share of the Fund's ordinary losses attributable to interest and certain short sale expenses may be subject to the "investment interest limitation" under Section 163(d) of the Code. In general, a non-corporate taxpayer's investment interest (including interest and certain short sale expenses) in the current year is not deductible to the extent it exceeds its "net investment income," consisting of net gain and ordinary income derived from investments in the current year less certain directly connected expenses (other than interest or short sale expenses). For this purpose, any long-term capital gain and qualified dividend income is excluded from net investment income unless the taxpayer elects to pay tax on such amount at ordinary income tax rates. The Fund's activities are expected to be treated as giving rise to investment income for a Limited Partner, and the investment interest limitation would apply to a non-corporate Limited Partner's share of the interest and short sale expenses attributable to the Fund's operation. Accordingly, a non-corporate Limited Partner would be denied a deduction for all or a part of its distributive share of the Fund's ordinary losses attributable to interest and short sale expenses unless it has sufficient investment income from all sources including the Fund. Any amount not deducted as a result of the application of the investment interest limitation may be carried forward to future years, subject to certain limitations. The Fund may incur certain expenses in connection with its organization and the marketing of its Interests. Amounts paid or incurred to organize a partnership are not deductible, but may, by election of the Fund, be capitalized and amortized over a period of not less than 180 months. Amounts paid or incurred to market interests in the Fund that qualify as "syndication expenses" are not deductible or amortizable.

Tax Consequences for Tax-Exempt U.S. Investors

A Limited Partner that is an organization exempt from tax under Code section 501(a) (a "Tax-Exempt U.S. Investor") will be subject to tax on its allocable share of the Fund's income that is considered to be "unrelated business taxable income" ("UBTI") as defined in Code section 512, and may be subject to the AMT with respect to items of tax preference which enter into the computation of UBTI. Code section 512(b) provides that UBTI generally does not include dividends, interest, and gain or loss from the disposition of property other than stock in trade or property held for sale in the ordinary course of the unrelated trade or business. The Fund may invest in entities that are treated as partnerships or other pass-through entities. UBTI generated by such entities would generally flow up to Tax-Exempt U.S. Investors, causing the realization of UBTI by such investors. Therefore, in light of the Fund's investment program, a Tax-Exempt U.S. Investor should not realize UBTI to the extent that its distributive share of the Fund's income consists of dividends, interest, capital gains and certain other items which are excluded from UBTI under Code section 512(b) (except to the extent any such income constitutes "UDFI," as discussed in the next paragraph).

A Tax-Exempt U.S. Investor is also subject to tax with respect to its, and its allocable share of the Fund's, "unrelated debt-financed income" pursuant to Code section 514 ("UDFI"). In general, UDFI consists of (i) income derived by a tax-exempt organization (directly or through a partnership) from income-producing property with respect to which there is "acquisition indebtedness" at any time during the taxable year and (ii) gains derived by a tax-exempt organization (directly or through a partnership) from the disposition of property with respect to which there is "acquisition indebtedness." In addition, a tax-exempt organization that borrows money to finance its investment in the Fund would be subject to tax on the portion of its income that is UDFI. Income and gains derived by a tax-exempt organization from the ownership and sale of debt-financed property is taxable in the proportion to which such property is financed by acquisition indebtedness during the relevant period of time.

The Fund expects to generate income attributable to debt-financed property which will be attributed to the Partners, including any Tax-Exempt U.S. Investors. A Tax-Exempt U.S. Investor's share of the Fund's income that is treated as UBTI will vary depending upon the degree of leverage utilized by the Fund and could be significant. In addition to other relevant considerations, fiduciaries of employee pension trusts and other prospective tax-exempt investors should consider the consequences of realizing UBTI in making a decision whether to invest in the Fund.

We urge prospective Tax-Exempt U.S. Investors that are sensitive to UBTI or UDFI to consult their tax advisors as to the tax consequences of investing in the Fund and as to the comparative tax treatment of an investment in the Offshore Fund.

Investor Tax Filings and Record Retention.

The U.S. Treasury Department has adopted Treasury Regulations designed to assist the Service in identifying abusive tax shelter transactions. In general, these Treasury Regulations require investors in specified transactions (including partners in partnerships that engage in such transactions) to satisfy certain special tax filing and record retention requirements. Significant monetary penalties (in addition to penalties that generally may be applicable as a result of a failure to comply with the applicable Treasury Regulations) may be imposed for failure to comply with these tax filing and record retention rules.

These Treasury Regulations are broad in scope, and it is conceivable that the Fund may enter into transactions that will subject the Fund and certain investors to the special tax filing and record retention rules. Additionally, under these Treasury Regulations, an investor's recognition of loss upon its disposition of its Interest could cause the investor to become subject to special tax filing and record retention rules. The General Partner intends to use its reasonable efforts to provide information to investors necessary to enable investors to satisfy any tax filing and record retention requirements that may arise as a result of any transactions entered into by the Fund.

Reporting under FATCA

Sections 1471 through 1474 of the Code, known as the U.S. Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (together with any regulations, rules and other guidance implementing such Code sections and any applicable intergovernmental agreement ("IGA") and related statutes, regulations, rules and other guidance thereunder, "FATCA") impose a withholding tax of 30% on (i) certain U.S. source interest, dividends and other types of income, and (ii) the gross proceeds from the sale or disposition of certain assets of a type that can produce U.S. source interest and dividends, which are received by a foreign financial institution ("FFI"), unless such FFI enters into an agreement with the IRS (an "FFI Agreement"), and/or complies with an IGA, to obtain certain information as to the identity of the direct and indirect owners of accounts in such institution. In addition, a withholding tax may be imposed on payments to certain non-financial foreign entities which do not obtain and provide information as to their direct and indirect owners. These rules generally apply to payments of U.S. source interest, dividends and certain other types of income from U.S. sources since July 1, 2014, and will apply to payments of gross proceeds from the sale or disposition of assets of a type that can produce U.S. source interest or dividends after December 31, 2016.

The Service has released temporary and final Treasury Regulations and other guidance that will be used in implementing FATCA, which contain a number of phase-in dates for FATCA compliance. Additional guidance is forthcoming.

It is possible that a lower-tier non-U.S. entity in which the Fund invests may be considered an FFI. The Fund intends to assist lower-tier non-U.S. entities in complying with FATCA, but can give no assurance that it will be able to provide such assistance or that such an entity will be able to avoid the imposition of this withholding tax on it.

Further, the Fund may be required to act as a withholding agent for the Service under FATCA and therefore be required to withhold on income and proceeds paid or allocated to an investor that fails to comply with FATCA, which could occur if an investor that is an FFI does not enter into an FFI Agreement, is not otherwise exempt from such withholding, and/or does not provide the appropriate information and documentation (including the prescribed forms) to the Fund or its agents showing its exemption from such withholding or compliance with FATCA. The General Partner intends to collect the appropriate documentation from all investors in the Fund in order to determine whether it is required to withhold under FATCA with respect to distributions or allocations of income and gains made to investors.

The General Partner and the Fund reserve the right to take any action and/or pursue all remedies at their disposal to avoid withholding requirements or otherwise to mitigate the consequences of an investor's failure to comply with FATCA, including compulsory redemption or withdrawal of the investor concerned. In this regard, the General Partner and the Fund have certain rights to request, and the investors have certain obligations to provide, information and documentation that may be used by the General Partner and the Fund in complying with their obligations under FATCA. In addition, no investor affected by any action or remedy by the Fund shall have any claim against the Fund, the General Partner, and the Administrator (or their agents, delegates, employees, directors, officers or affiliates) for any form of damages or liability as a result of actions taken or remedies pursued by or on behalf of the Fund in order to comply with FATCA.

Investors should consult their tax advisors as to the withholding, filing and information reporting requirements that may be imposed on them in respect of their ownership of Interests of the Fund.

State and Local Taxes

In addition to the U.S. federal income tax consequences described above, prospective investors should consider potential state and local tax consequences of an investment in the Fund. State and local laws often differ from U.S. federal income tax laws with respect to the treatment of specific items of income, gain, loss, deduction and credit. A Partner's distributive share of the taxable income or loss of the Fund generally will be required to be included in determining its reportable income for state and local tax purposes in the jurisdiction in which it is a resident.

Limited Partners or the Fund may be subject to state and/or local franchise, withholding, income, capital gain or other tax payment obligations and filing requirements in those jurisdictions where the Fund owns real estate assets or is otherwise regarded as doing business or earning income. Credits for these taxes may not be available (or may be subject to limitations) in the jurisdictions in which Limited Partners, or the Fund, as applicable, are residents. Each potential investor is urged to consult with its own tax advisor in this regard.

Each prospective Limited Partner should consult its own tax advisor with respect to its state and local tax consequences and filing obligations as a result of an investment in the Fund.

Other Taxes

The Fund and its Limited Partners may be subject to other taxes, such as the AMT, and estate, inheritance or intangible property taxes that may be imposed by various domestic jurisdictions, as well as foreign withholding or gains taxes. Each prospective investor should consider the potential consequences of such taxes on an investment in the Fund. It is the responsibility of each prospective investor to satisfy itself as to, among other things, the legal and tax consequences of an investment in the Fund, under the laws of the various jurisdictions of its domicile and its residence, by obtaining advice from its own tax counsel or other advisor, and to file all appropriate tax returns that may be required.

Tax Returns; Tax Audits

The Fund will file an annual partnership information return with the Service that reports the results of its operations for the taxable year, and will distribute annually to each Limited Partner a form showing its distributive share of the Fund's items of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit. The General Partner has the authority to decide how to report these items on the Fund's tax returns, and all Limited Partners will be required under the Partnership Agreement to treat the items consistently on their own returns. If the income tax returns of the Fund are audited by the Service, the tax treatment of the Fund's income and deductions is generally determined at the Fund level in a single proceeding rather than by individual audits of the Limited Partners. In this regard, the General Partner, as the "Tax Matters Partner," has considerable authority to make decisions affecting the tax treatment and procedural rights of all Limited Partners. In addition, the Tax Matters Partner has the authority to bind certain Limited Partners to settlement agreements and the right on behalf of all Limited Partners to extend the statute of limitations relating to the Limited Partners' tax liabilities with respect to Fund items.

In certain cases, the Fund may be required to file a statement with the Service, disclosing one or more positions taken on its tax return, generally where the tax law is uncertain or a position lacks clear authority. All Partners are required under the Code to treat the partnership items consistently on their own returns, unless they file a statement with the Service disclosing the inconsistency. Given the uncertainty and complexity of the tax laws, it is possible that the Service may not agree with the manner in which the Fund's items have been reported.

Other Income Taxation

Although there can be no assurance, it is intended that the affairs of the Fund will be conducted such that the Fund will not be subject to regular income taxation in any foreign jurisdiction. However, income and gains from investments held by the Fund may be subject to withholding taxes or taxes in jurisdictions other than those described herein, subject to the possibility of reduction under applicable tax treaties. Limited Partners generally may be entitled, subject to applicable limitations, to a credit against U.S. income tax for creditable foreign income taxes paid on the foreign source income and gains of the Fund (which may not include all of the Fund's gains). The foreign tax credit rules are complex, and may, depending on each Limited Partner's particular circumstances, limit the availability or use of foreign tax credits. Prospective investors are advised to consult their own tax advisors regarding the application of the foreign tax credit rules.

Future Tax Legislation; Necessity of Obtaining Professional Advice

Future amendments to the Code, other legislation, new or amended Treasury Regulations, administrative rulings or decisions by the Service or judicial decisions may adversely affect the U.S. federal income tax aspects of an investment in the Fund, with or without advance notice, retroactively or prospectively. The foregoing analysis is not intended as a substitute for careful tax planning. The tax matters relating to the Fund are complex and are subject to varying interpretations. There can be no assurance that the Service will agree with each position taken by the Fund with respect to the tax treatment of Fund items and transactions. Moreover, the effect of existing income tax laws and of proposed changes in income tax laws on Limited Partners will vary with the particular circumstances of each Limited Partner and, in reviewing this Memorandum and any exhibits hereto, these matters should be considered.

Accordingly, each prospective investor must consult with and rely solely on its professional tax advisors with respect to the tax results of its investment in the Fund. In no event will the Fund, the General Partner, the Investment Manager, or their Affiliates, counsel or other professional advisors be liable to any Limited Partner for any U.S. federal, state, local or foreign tax consequences of an investment in the Fund, whether or not such consequences are as described above.

The foregoing is a summary of some of the important tax rules and considerations affecting the Limited Partners, the Fund, and the Fund's proposed operations. This summary does not purport to be a complete analysis of all relevant tax rules and considerations, which will vary with the particular circumstances of each Limited Partner, nor does it purport to be a complete listing of all potential tax risks inherent in purchasing or holding an Interest. The foregoing does not address tax considerations affecting investors that are not U.S. persons. Each prospective investor in the Fund is urged to consult its own tax advisor in order to understand fully the U.S. federal, state, local and any foreign tax consequences of such an investment in its particular situation.

ERISA AND OTHER REGULATORY CONSIDERATIONS

General

Fiduciaries and other persons who are proposing to invest in Interests on behalf of retirement plans, IRAs and other employee benefit plans (“Plans”) covered by the U.S. Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended (“ERISA”), or the Code must give appropriate consideration to, among other things, the role that an investment in the Fund plays in the Plan’s portfolio, taking into consideration whether the investment is designed to reasonably further the Plan’s purposes, the investment’s risk and return factors, the portfolio’s composition with regard to diversification, the liquidity and current return of the total portfolio relative to the anticipated cash flow needs of the Plan, the projected return of the total portfolio relative to the Plan’s objectives, the limited right of Limited Partners to withdraw all or any part of their capital or to transfer their Interests and whether investment in the Fund constitutes a direct or indirect transaction with a party in interest (under ERISA) or a disqualified person (under the Code).

Plan Asset Regulations and Benefit Plan Investors

The United States Department of Labor (“DOL”) has adopted regulations that treat the assets of certain pooled investment vehicles, such as the Fund, as “plan assets” for purposes of Title I of ERISA and Section 4975 of the Code (“Plan Assets”). Section 3(42) of ERISA defines the term “Plan Assets” to mean plan assets as defined by such regulations as the DOL may prescribe, except that under such regulations the assets of an entity shall not be treated as Plan Assets if, immediately after the most recent acquisition of an equity interest in the entity, less than 25% of the total value of each class of equity interest in the entity is held by “Benefit Plan Investors” (the “significant participation test”). For purposes of this determination, the value of any equity interest held by a person (other than such a Benefit Plan Investor) who has discretionary authority or control with respect to the assets of the entity or any person who provides investment advice for a fee (direct or indirect) with respect to such assets, or any affiliate of such a person, shall be disregarded. An entity shall be considered to hold Plan Assets only to the extent of the percentage of the equity interest held by Benefit Plan Investors. The term “Benefit Plan Investors” means any employee benefit plan subject to part 4 of Title I of ERISA (i.e., plans subject to the fiduciary provisions of ERISA), any plan to which the prohibited transaction provisions of Section 4975 of the Code apply (e.g., IRAs), and any entity whose underlying assets include Plan Assets by reason of a plan’s investment in such entity (a “Plan Asset Entity”).

In order to prevent the assets of the Fund from being considered Plan Assets under ERISA, it is the intention of the Fund to monitor the investments in the Fund and prohibit the acquisition, withdrawal or transfer of any Interests by any Limited Partner, including a Benefit Plan Investor, unless, after giving effect to such an acquisition, withdrawal or transfer, the total proportion of Interests of any class owned by Benefit Plan Investors would be less than 25% of the aggregate value of the class of Interests (determined, as described above, by excluding certain Interests held by the General Partner, other fiduciaries and affiliates).

Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, in order to limit equity participation in any class of Interests by Benefit Plan Investors to less than 25%, the Fund may require the compulsory withdrawal of Interests of any class. Each Limited Partner that is an insurance company acting on behalf of its general account or a Plan Asset Entity will be required to represent and warrant as of the date it acquires Interests the maximum percentage of such general account or Plan Asset Entity that will constitute Plan Assets (the “Maximum Percentage”) so such percentage can be calculated in determining the percentage of Plan Assets invested in the Fund. Further, each such insurance company and Plan Asset Entity will be required to covenant that if, after its initial acquisition of Interests, the Maximum Percentage is exceeded at any time, then such insurance company or Plan Asset Entity shall immediately notify the General Partner of that occurrence and shall, if and as directed by the General Partner, in a manner consistent with the restrictions on transfer set forth herein, redeem or dispose of some or all of the Interests held in its general account or Plan Asset Entity by the end of the next following calendar month (or such earlier period directed by the General Partner).

If the Fund’s assets were considered Plan Assets, then, under ERISA and the Code, the General Partner would be a fiduciary, and certain employees, partners and officers of the General Partner as well as certain affiliates would become “parties in interest” and “disqualified persons,” with respect to the investing Plans, with the result that the rendering of services to certain related parties, the lending of money or other extensions of credit, the sale, exchange or leasing of property by the Fund or certain related parties or the payment of certain fees, as well as certain other transactions, might be deemed to constitute prohibited transactions. Additionally, individual investment in Interests by persons who are fiduciaries, and/or parties-in-interest and disqualified persons, to a Plan might be deemed to constitute prohibited transactions under such circumstances.

Representation by Plans

The fiduciaries of each Plan proposing to invest in the Fund will be required to represent that they have been informed of and understand the Fund’s investment objectives, policies and strategies and that the decision to invest Plan Assets in the Fund is consistent with the provisions of ERISA and/or the Code that require diversification of Plan Assets and impose other fiduciary responsibilities. By its purchase, each investor will be deemed to have represented that either (a) it is not a Plan that is subject to the prohibited transaction rules of ERISA or the Code, (b) it is not an entity whose assets include Plan Assets or (c) its investment in the Fund will not constitute a non-exempt prohibited transaction under ERISA or the Code.

Ineligible Purchasers

Interests may not be purchased with Plan Assets if the General Partner, any selling agent, finder, any of their respective affiliates or any of their respective employees: (a) has investment discretion with respect to the investment of such Plan Assets; (b) has authority or responsibility to give or regularly gives investment advice with respect to such Plan Assets, for a fee, and pursuant to an agreement or understanding that such advice will serve as a primary basis for investment decisions with respect to such Plan Assets and that such advice will be based on the particular investment needs of the Plan; or (c) is an employer maintaining or contributing to such Plan. A party that is described in clause (a) or (b) of the preceding sentence is a fiduciary under ERISA and the Code with respect to the Plan, and any such purchase might result in a “prohibited transaction” under ERISA and the Code.

Plans’ Reporting Obligations

The information contained herein and in the other documentation provided to investors in connection with an investment in the Fund is intended to satisfy the alternative reporting obligation for “eligible indirect compensation” on Schedule C of the Form 5500, in addition to the other purposes for which such documents were created.

Whether or not the underlying assets of the Fund are deemed Plan Assets, an investment in the Fund by a Plan is subject to ERISA and the Code. Accordingly, Plan fiduciaries should consult their own counsel as to the consequences under ERISA and the Code of an investment in the Fund. Note that similar laws governing the investment and management of the assets of governmental or non-U.S. plans may contain fiduciary and prohibited transaction requirements similar to those under ERISA and the Code. Accordingly, fiduciaries of such governmental or non-U.S. plans, in consultation with their counsel, should consider the impact of their respective laws and regulations on an investment in the Fund.

Other Regulatory Matters

Securities Act of 1933

Interests are not registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or any other securities law, including state securities or blue sky laws. Interests are offered without registration in reliance upon the exemption contained in Regulation D of this act and/or rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission applicable to transactions not involving a public offering. Each investor is required, in the Fund's Subscription Documents pursuant to which such investor subscribes for an Interest, to make customary Regulation D representations.

Investment Company Act of 1940

The Fund is not registered under the U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, in reliance upon relief from registration afforded to collective investment vehicles whose outstanding securities are not publicly offered and are beneficially owned exclusively by investors that are considered "qualified purchasers" within the meaning of the Investment Company Act. "Qualified purchasers" generally include individuals and certain family-owned companies owning total investments in excess of $5 million and entities owning total investments in excess of $25 million. Each investor will be required to complete the Fund's Subscription Documents to enable the Fund to determine its eligibility.

Investment Adviser Registration

The Investment Manager is registered as an investment adviser with the Securities and Exchange Commission under the U.S. Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended (the "Advisers Act"). Each prospective investor will be required to make a representation to indicate that it is a "qualified client" as defined in the Advisers Act.

Commodity Exchange Act

Neither the General Partner nor the Investment Manager is required to register as a commodity pool operator or commodity trading adviser under the U.S. Commodity Exchange Act because the Fund is limiting participation to certain qualified investors, is restricting the Fund's commodity interest trading, and the Investment Manager only provides commodity trading advice to the Fund (or other pools for which it is an exempt commodity pool operator). Therefore, unlike a registered commodity pool operator, there is no requirement to deliver this Memorandum or other disclosure document or any certified annual report to the Fund's investors.

Anti-Money Laundering Regulations

All subscriptions for Interests will be subject to applicable anti-money laundering regulations. Investors will be required to comply with such anti-money laundering procedures as are required by the Uniting and Strengthening America by Providing Appropriate Tools Required to Intercept and Obstruct Terrorism (USA PATRIOT Act) Act of 2001 (Pub. L. No. 107-56).

As part of the Fund's responsibility to comply with regulations aimed at the prevention of money laundering, the General Partner or its delegate may require verification of identity from all prospective investors. Depending on the circumstances of each subscription, it may not be necessary to obtain full documentary evidence of identity.

The General Partner reserves the right to request such information as is necessary to verify the identity of a prospective investor. The General Partner also reserves the right to request such identification evidence in respect of a transferee of Interests. In the event of delay or failure by the prospective investor or transferee to produce any information required for verification purposes, the General Partner may refuse to accept the application or (as the case may be) to register the relevant transfer and (in the case of a subscription of Interests) any funds received will be returned without interest to the account from which the monies were originally debited.

The General Partner also reserves the right to refuse to make any withdrawal payment or distribution to a Limited Partner, if the General Partner suspects or is advised that the payment of any withdrawal or distribution moneys to such Limited Partner might result in a breach or violation of any applicable anti-money laundering or other laws or regulations by any person in any relevant jurisdiction, or such refusal is considered necessary or appropriate to ensure the compliance by the Fund, the General Partner and the Investment Manager with any such laws or regulations in any relevant jurisdiction.

In each member state of the European Economic Area (each a “Relevant Member State”) that has implemented EU Directive 2011/61/EU on Alternative Investment Fund Managers (the “AIFM Directive”), the Fund may only be offered to investors in accordance with local measures implementing the AIFM Directive. Investors in a Relevant Member State where the Fund is not being offered pursuant to private placement rules implementing the AIFM Directive may invest in the Fund, but only in circumstances where they do so at their own initiative.

Direct or indirect acquisition or ownership of Shares by “U.S. Persons” (as defined herein) without compliance with applicable U.S. securities laws or in contravention of the relevant provisions of the constituent documents of the Fund is prohibited.

The Fund is not a recognized collective investment scheme for the purposes of Section 264 of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 of the United Kingdom (the “Act”). The promotion of the Fund and the distribution of this Memorandum in the United Kingdom are accordingly restricted by law. Douglas S. Draper, La. Bar No. 5073

An investment in the Shares involves significant risks. Prospective investors should pay particular attention to the risk factors disclosed in this Memorandum and the Partnership Memorandum. Investment in the Fund is suitable only for sophisticated investors and requires the financial ability and willingness to accept the high risks inherent in an investment in the Fund. No assurance can be given that the Fund's investment objective will be achieved.

Each prospective investor is invited to meet with representatives of the Fund and to discuss with, ask questions of and receive answers from such representatives concerning the terms and conditions of this offering and to obtain any additional information, to the extent that such representatives possess such information or can acquire it without unreasonable effort or expense, necessary to verify the information contained herein.

The Fund is a registered mutual fund for the purposes of the Mutual Funds Law (2013 Revision) of the Cayman Islands. The Fund is registered with the Cayman Islands Monetary Authority pursuant to Section 4(3) of that law and the prescribed details in respect of this Memorandum have been filed with the Cayman Islands Monetary Authority. Such registration does not imply that the Cayman Islands Monetary Authority has approved this Memorandum or the offering of Shares hereunder.

This Memorandum does not purport to be, and should not be construed as, a complete description of the memorandum of association and articles of association of the Fund (the "Articles") or the Partnership's limited partnership agreement, as amended and supplemented from time to time (the "Partnership Agreement"), copies of which will be provided to each prospective investor upon request. Each prospective investor in the Fund is encouraged to review the Articles and the Partnership Agreement carefully, in addition to consulting appropriate legal and tax counselors. To the extent of any inconsistency between this Memorandum, the Articles and the Partnership Agreement, the terms of the Articles and the Partnership Agreement control.

Pursuant to an exemption from the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (the "CFTC"), neither the General Partner nor the Investment Manager (each as defined herein) is registered with the CFTC as a commodity pool operator ("CPO") or as a commodity trading advisor and therefore, unlike a registered CPO, is not required to deliver a disclosure document or a certified annual report to participants in this pool. Among other things, the exemption requires the filing of a claim of exemption with the National Futures Association. It is also required that at all times either: (a) the aggregate initial margin and premiums required to establish commodity interest positions does not exceed 5% of the liquidation value of the Fund's portfolio; or (b) the aggregate net notional value of the Fund's commodity interest positions does not exceed 100% of the liquidation value of the Fund's portfolio and further that all pool participants are required to be accredited investors or certain other qualified investors.

The delivery of this Memorandum does not, under any circumstances, create any implication that there has been no change in the circumstances affecting the Fund since the date hereof. An amended or updated Memorandum will be provided to reflect any material changes to the information contained herein.

Except as otherwise noted, all monetary amounts set forth herein are expressed in United States ("U.S.") dollars.

INTRODUCTION

Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, Ltd. (the “Fund”) is a Cayman Islands exempted company offering participating shares of the Fund (“Shares”) for the purpose of enabling qualified non-U.S. investors and U.S. tax-exempt investors to participate in the investment program of Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (the “Partnership”), on a more tax efficient basis. The Partnership seeks attractive risk-adjusted returns, consistent with the preservation of capital and prudent investment management.

Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund GP, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (the “General Partner”), serves as the general partner of the Partnership. Highland Capital Management, L.P., a Delaware partnership (the “Investment Manager”), serves as the investment manager of the Partnership and has responsibility for the Partnership’s investment program. James D. Dondero ultimately controls the General Partner and the Investment Manager.

The Fund is a limited partner in the Partnership and invests all of its investible assets in, and conducts all of its operations through, the Partnership. Therefore, to be fully informed about an investment in the Fund, an investor must first understand the terms of an investment in the Partnership. Prospective investors are therefore urged to carefully review the current Confidential Private Placement Memorandum of the Partnership, as amended and supplemented from time to time (the “Partnership Memorandum”), the Limited Partnership Agreement of the Partnership, as amended and supplemented from time to time (the “Partnership Agreement”) and the Investment Management Agreement by and among the Partnership, the General Partner, the Fund and the Investment Manager, as amended and supplemented from time to time (the “Investment Management Agreement”). A copy of the Partnership Memorandum is being provided to investors with this Memorandum. Copies of the Partnership Agreement and the Investment Management Agreement will be provided to investors upon request. The Partnership Memorandum, together with the Partnership Agreement and the Investment Management Agreement, describe the material terms of an investment in the Partnership. Aside from the differences described in this Memorandum, an investment in the Fund will have substantially similar terms and risks to an investment in the Partnership, as described in the Partnership Memorandum.

The Fund is seeking subscriptions from non-U.S. investors and U.S. tax-exempt investors that qualify as “accredited investors” and “qualified purchasers” (as defined in the Fund’s subscription materials), generally in minimum amounts of at least $1,000,000. The Fund generally accepts subscriptions on the first business day of each calendar month.

Pursuant to recent amendments adopted by the Fund, as further explained in this Memorandum and the Partnership Memorandum, all outstanding Shares held as of the effective date of the amendments were, notwithstanding their designation prior to the amendments, re-designated as “Series A Shares.” Additionally, under these amendments, the Fund created three additional series of Shares – “Series B Shares,” “Series C Shares” and “Series D Shares.” The Fund is offering Series B Shares, Series C Shares and Series D Shares pursuant to this Memorandum. The terms applicable to the Series A Shares are set forth in a Supplement to this Memorandum.

This Memorandum describes the principal terms that apply to an investment in the Fund in Series B, Series C and Series D Shares and certain other information that relates specifically to the offering of Shares. This is not an offering of limited partner interests in the Partnership, although an investor should be fully informed about the Partnership in making an investment decision.

MANAGEMENT

Board of Directors

The Fund's board of directors (the "Board of Directors") consists of two (2) directors (collectively, the "Directors"). The members of the Board of Directors are James D. Dondero and Mark K. Okada. The biographies of the Directors are set forth in the Partnership Memorandum.

The Fund's Board of Directors does not currently consist of any directors that are not affiliated with the Investment Manager, and thus the Fund's management, as well as investment decisions at the Partnership level, are effectively controlled by the Investment Manager or its affiliates.

The Board of Directors has the full authority of a board under Cayman law. The powers of the Board of Directors described in this Memorandum and the Articles are not exhaustive and are not limited to the specific authorities described therein. Thus, subject to applicable law, the Board of Directors may take certain decisions or actions even where those decisions or actions are not expressly granted in the Articles or described in this Memorandum.

It is anticipated that the Board of Directors will meet, in person or by conference telephone, at least once a year to review the investment and administrative affairs of the Fund. The Directors will delegate investment of the Fund's assets to the Investment Manager, and the Directors are not responsible for the day to day conduct of the Fund's trading program. The Directors will also delegate certain day to day administrative and clerical affairs of the Fund to the Administrator or others.

The Directors each serve in a non-executive capacity. Any Director may hold any other office in connection with the Fund (other than the office of the Fund's independent auditors) in conjunction with his office of Director on such terms as to tenure of office and otherwise as the Directors may determine. Any Director may also act in a professional capacity (other than as the Fund's independent auditors) and he or its firm will be entitled to remuneration for such services as if he were not a Director. A Director may contract with the Fund provided that the Director declares his or its interest or gives notice of his or its interest as soon as practicable after the Director obtains such interest.

Each of the Directors has been duly registered, as applicable, under the Cayman Islands Directors Registration and Licensing Law, 2014.

A Director may vote at, or be counted in the quorum of, any meeting of the Board of Directors to consider any contract in which the Director is interested other than as a shareholder, provided that such Director declares such interest prior to the taking of the vote at such meeting.

Independent, third-party Directors, if any, will be entitled to remuneration for their services at such rate not exceeding the customary rate for the provision of services of a director as may be approved by the Fund. The Directors will be reimbursed for all out of pocket costs and expenses properly incurred by them, including in connection with attending meetings of the Directors or any committee of the Directors or any general meeting or any meeting held in connection with the business of the Fund. The Fund will indemnify the Directors for all liabilities, costs or expenses of whatsoever kind incurred or suffered by them (other than those arising by reason of fraud, willful neglect or willful default on the part of a Director or servant or agent thereof).

Administrator

SEI Investments is a leading global provider of investment processing, investment management and investment operations solutions for institutional and personal wealth management. For more than 40 years, SEI has helped corporations, financial institutions, financial advisors and ultra-high-net-worth families create and manage wealth by providing comprehensive, innovative, investment and investment-business solutions. SEI manages or administers $601.9 billion in funds and separately managed assets. SEI is a public company and is listed on the NASDAQ exchange under the symbol SEIC. SEI has been retained to perform certain administrative, accounting and investor services for the Fund and the Partnership (in such capacity, the “Administrator”). In its capacity as Administrator, it will receive customary fees that will be paid out of the assets of the Fund. The Administrator will also be reimbursed for all reasonable out-of-pocket expenses.

The Fund will enter into an administration agreement (the “Administration Agreement”) with the Administrator. The Administrator will be under no duty to take any action on behalf of the Fund except as specifically set forth in the Administration Agreement or as may be specifically agreed to by the Administrator and the Fund in a written amendment thereto.

The Administrator will act as liaison with the Fund’s accountants and auditors and will provide account analyses, fiscal year summaries, and other audit-related schedules with respect to the Fund. The Administrator will take all reasonable action in the performance of its duties under the Administration Agreement to assure that the necessary information is made available to such accountants and auditors for the expression of their opinion, as required by the Fund.

The Administrator will enter into and will maintain in effect with appropriate parties one or more agreements making reasonable provisions for emergency use of electronic data processing equipment to the extent appropriate equipment is available. In the event of equipment failures, the Administrator will, at no additional expense to the Fund, take reasonable steps to minimize service interruptions. The Administrator will have no liability with respect to the loss of data or service interruptions caused by equipment failure, provided such loss or interruption is not caused by the Administrator’s own willful misfeasance, bad faith, gross negligence or reckless disregard of its duties or obligations under the Administration Agreement.

Subject to the terms of the Administration Agreement, the Administrator will be liable to the Fund (or any person or entity claiming through the Fund) for damages only to the extent caused by the Administrator’s own fraud or willful misconduct under the Administration Agreement (“Standard of Care”). The Administrator will not be liable for damages (including, without limitation, damages caused by delays, failure, errors, interruption or loss of data) occurring directly or indirectly by reason of circumstances beyond its reasonable control. The Administrator will not be under any duty or obligation to inquire into and will not be liable for the validity or invalidity, authority or lack thereof, or truthfulness or accuracy or lack thereof, of any instruction, direction, notice, instrument or other information which the Administrator reasonably believes to be genuine. The Administrator will not be liable for any damages that are caused by actions or omissions taken by the Administrator in accordance with written instructions by authorized persons of the Fund or advice of counsel. The Administrator will not be liable for any damages arising out of any action or omission to act by any prior service provider of the Fund or for any failure to discover any such error or omission. Neither the Administrator nor its affiliates will be liable for any consequential, incidental, exemplary, punitive, special or indirect damages, whether or not the likelihood of such damages was known by the Administrator or its affiliates. Both the Fund and the Administrator will have a duty to mitigate damages for which the other party may become responsible.

Absent the Administrator's failure to meet its Standard of Care, the Fund agrees to indemnify, defend and hold harmless the Administrator and its affiliates and their respective directors, trustees, officers, agents and employees from certain claims, suits, actions, damages, losses, liabilities, obligations, costs and reasonable expenses (including attorneys' fees and court costs, travel costs and other reasonable out-of-pocket costs related to dispute resolution) arising directly or indirectly from any actions taken or omitted to be taken by the Administrator in connection with the provision of services to the Fund.

The Partnership will also enter into an administration agreement with the Administrator, under which the terms will be substantially as above.

SUMMARY OF TERMS

To understand this investment opportunity, a prospective investor should read both the Partnership Memorandum and the following summary. The information in the Partnership Memorandum is important to a prospective investor's investment decision because: (i) the purpose of the Fund is to invest in the Partnership and therefore the underlying investment opportunity is in the Partnership; (ii) an investment in the Fund will (aside from the differences described below) have substantially similar terms to those applicable to a direct investment in the Partnership; and (iii) many terms relevant to an investment in the Fund, including the information concerning compensation, expenses, distributions, risk factors and conflicts of interest, are set forth in the Partnership Memorandum and not in this Memorandum.

The following summary highlights certain differences from the terms that would apply were the investor to hold a limited partner interest in the Partnership directly, and does not purport to provide a summary of the investment terms or risks of an investment in the Partnership, which is provided in the Partnership Memorandum. The summary of differences does not purport to be, and should not be construed as, a complete description of the Fund's Articles. To the extent of any inconsistency between this Memorandum and the Articles, the terms of the Articles control. Moreover, this summary and the summary set forth in the Partnership Memorandum are subject to the detailed provisions of the Partnership Agreement and are qualified in their entirety by the terms of the Partnership Agreement. Capitalized terms used but not defined herein have the meanings ascribed to them in the Partnership Memorandum.

The Fund	Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, Ltd., a Cayman Islands exempted company.
The Partnership	Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership. The Fund is a limited partner in the Partnership and invests all of its investible assets in, and conducts all of its investment activities through, the Partnership. As a limited partner of the Partnership, the Fund is subject to all of the terms and conditions of the Partnership applicable to limited partners of the Partnership. The Partnership will issue to the Fund an Interest in the Partnership and maintain capital sub-accounts that correspond to each Sub-Series of Shares (defined below).
General Partner of the Partnership	Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund GP, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership. The general partner of the General Partner is Highland Multi Strategy Credit GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company of which the Investment Manager is currently the sole member.
Investment Manager	Highland Capital Management, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership.
Recent Amendments; Series of Shares	Effective November 1, 2014, the Board of Directors amended the terms of the Fund, whereby all outstanding Shares in the Fund were re-designated as "Series A Shares" and three new series of Shares were created – "Series B Shares," "Series C Shares" and "Series D Shares" (the " Amendments "). The General Partner and limited partners of the Partnership adopted similar amendments.

As of the effective date of the Amendments (the “Effective Date”), all existing shareholders will hold Series A Shares, the terms of which are set forth in a supplement to this Memorandum. The Fund is currently offering for subscription Series B Shares, Series C Shares and Series D Shares pursuant to this Memorandum.

The Fund may issue additional series (each, a “Series”) of Shares over time. Not all Series of Shares will be available for subscription at the same time and the terms among the Series of Shares will vary. New Series of Shares may be established by the Fund without notice to or approval of the shareholders.

Except with respect to management fees, performance-based profit allocations and redemption rights (each as discussed below), the rights and privileges attributable to Series A Shares, Series B Shares, Series C Shares and Series D Shares are identical.

References herein to “Shares” or “shareholders” shall include all Series of Shares and shareholders unless otherwise specified or context so requires.

Eligible Investors

Participating, redeemable, non-voting shares of the Fund (the “Shares”) are being offered to investors that are not U.S. Persons and to selected U.S. investors that are tax-exempt persons who qualify both as “accredited investors” and as “qualified purchasers,” as defined in the Fund’s subscription application materials. The Fund reserves the right to reject any investor for any reason or for no reason in its discretion.

No Shares may be offered to the public in the Cayman Islands (which shall not include an exempted or ordinary non-resident company incorporated in the Cayman Islands). Shares of the Fund may be purchased only by eligible investors who are sophisticated individual or institutional investors. Each subscriber for Shares of the Fund must certify that the beneficial owner of such Shares will not be a “U.S. Person” as defined in Annex A attached to this Memorandum; provided, however, that subscriptions for Shares of the Fund may also be accepted from certain qualified U.S. tax-exempt organizations. The Fund reserves the right to reject subscriptions in its sole discretion.

Shares of the Fund will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended, any state “blue sky” laws, or the securities laws of any other jurisdiction. Shares may be offered privately (i) outside the United States of America, its territories or possessions, or areas subject to its jurisdiction (the “United States”), or to or for the benefit of an investor that is not a U.S. Person, only in accordance with relevant laws of the jurisdiction where the offer is made, or (ii) within the United States or to a U.S. Person only in a transaction that does not require the registration of the Shares or the Fund under applicable U.S. federal or state securities laws.

More detailed information concerning the applicable suitability criteria is set forth in the Fund's subscription application materials (the "Subscription Documents").

The Fund or the Administrator reserves the right to request such information as is necessary to verify the identity and the source of funds of an applicant. To ensure compliance with statutory and other requirements relating to anti-money laundering, the Fund or the Administrator may require verification of identity and/or source of funds from any person submitting completed Subscription Documents. Pending the provision of evidence satisfactory to the Fund or the Administrator as to identity, the evidence of title in respect of Shares may be retained at the absolute discretion of the Fund or the Administrator. If within a reasonable period of time following a request for verification of identity, the Fund or the Administrator has not received evidence satisfactory to it as aforesaid, it may, in its absolute discretion, refuse to allot the Shares applied for in which event subscription monies will be returned without interest to the account from which such monies were originally debited. Subscription monies may be rejected by the Fund or the Administrator if the remitting bank or financial institution is unknown to the Fund or the Administrator.

An investment in the Fund is suitable only for persons that have adequate means of providing for their current needs and personal contingencies and have no need for liquidity in their investments. An investment in the Fund should not be made by any person that (a) cannot afford a total loss of its principal, or (b) has not carefully read or does not understand this Memorandum and the Partnership Memorandum, including the portions concerning the risks and the income tax consequences of an investment in the Fund.

Subscriptions

Subscriptions for Shares are accepted on the first Business Day of each calendar month and/or such other days as the Board of Directors may determine from time to time, generally subject to the receipt of cleared funds on or before the acceptance date. Each investor will be required to invest a minimum of US$1,000,000 in the Fund, although the Fund may accept investments of a lesser amount in its discretion, subject to compliance with the applicable Cayman Islands Mutual Funds Law (2013 Revision) ("Mutual Funds Law"). Subscription payments may be made in cash or, with the consent of the Fund, in securities or partly in cash and partly in securities. The Fund reserves the right to reject subscriptions in its sole discretion.

"Business Day" means any day other than Saturdays, Sundays or any other day banks located in New York, New York are required or authorized to be closed.

A subscriber admitted to the Fund (a "shareholder") receives, in exchange for the initial capital contribution and any subsequent capital contribution, Shares representing a proportionate share of the net assets of the Fund at that time.

Where a subscription for Shares is accepted, the Shares will be treated as having been issued with effect from the relevant subscription date notwithstanding that the subscriber for those Shares may not be entered in the Fund's register of members until after the relevant subscription date. The subscription monies paid by a subscriber for Shares will accordingly be subject to investment risk in the Fund from the relevant subscription date.

There is no minimum aggregate amount of subscriptions that is required for the initial acceptance of subscriptions, nor has the Fund established any maximum aggregate amount of subscriptions that may be accepted.

All subscribers will be required to comply with such anti-money laundering procedures as are required by the Uniting and Strengthening America by Providing Appropriate Tools Required to Intercept and Obstruct Terrorism (USA PATRIOT Act) Act of 2001 (Pub. L. No. 107-56) and other applicable anti-money laundering regulations as further described in the Subscription Documents.

Share Sub-Series

The Fund may issue Shares as a separate sub-series of the relevant Series on each subscription date (each, a "Sub-Series") at $1,000 per Share. The Fund may issue Shares as a separate Sub-Series for purposes of, among others, accounting for any profits and losses attributable to each individual shareholder and for the purpose of permitting the Performance Allocation to be calculated separately with respect to each shareholder to reflect different returns achieved as a result of subscriptions received at different times. Each separate Sub-Series will be identified and referable to each shareholder and by its date of issue. In general, each Sub-Series will participate in the Fund's profits and losses in the same manner as all other Sub-Series of Shares, except that the Performance Allocation to be charged to each Sub-Series of Shares will be calculated separately on the basis of the performance of the Sub-Series.

The Partnership maintains capital sub-accounts that correspond to each Sub-Series of Shares issued to shareholders of the Fund and each such capital sub-account is treated separately for purposes of determining Management Fees, Performance Allocations and redemption rights and restrictions (each as described in the Partnership Memorandum).

Alternative Investment Vehicles

The Directors will have the right, in connection with any investment, to direct the capital contributions of some or all of the subscribers to be made through one or more alternative investment vehicles (each an "Alternative Investment Vehicle"), and, in the case of an existing investment, transfer all or a portion of such investment to an Alternative Investment Vehicle, if, in the judgment of the Directors, the use of such vehicle or vehicles would allow the Fund to overcome legal or regulatory constraints, invest in a more tax-efficient manner or would facilitate participation in certain types of investments. Any Alternative Investment Vehicle will be subject to terms and conditions substantially similar to those of the Fund and will be managed by the Investment Manager or an affiliate thereof.

Affiliated Investors

Shares held by the Investment Manager or its affiliates (collectively, “Affiliated Investors”) may not be assessed the Management Fee or the Performance Allocations that are applicable to other investors in the Fund, but share pro rata in other applicable expenses of the Fund (as more fully described in the Partnership Agreement).

Management Fee

Although the Fund will not pay an asset-based fee directly to the Investment Manager, it will, as a limited partner in the Partnership, bear its pro rata share of the Management Fee paid by the Partnership to the Investment Manager in its capacity as investment manager of the Partnership. Accordingly, the Management Fee will be paid at the Partnership level by assessing such fee to the appropriate capital sub-account. The Management Fee is calculated and payable quarterly in advance at an annual rate of (i) 1.5% of the net asset value of each Series B Share, (ii) 1.0% of the net asset value of each Series C Share and (iii) 2.0% of the net asset value of each Series D Share. The Management Fee may be waived or reduced by the Investment Manager in its sole discretion.

Other Fees and Expenses

The Fund bears the reasonable, out-of-pocket expenses of the offering of the Shares contemplated hereunder and the recent Amendments, described above, including expenses associated with obtaining any requisite investor consent to such Amendments. To the extent the Directors deem appropriate, these expenses may be capitalized and amortized by the Fund over a 36-month period from the Effective Date, even though such capitalization and amortization may be a divergence from U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (“GAAP”). Amortization of such expenses over a 36-month period may, in certain circumstances, result in a qualification of the Fund’s annual audited financial statements. In such instances, the Directors may decide to (i) avoid the qualification by recognizing the unamortized expenses or (ii) make GAAP conforming changes for financial reporting purposes, but amortize expenses for purposes of calculating the Fund’s net asset value. There will be a divergence in the Fund’s fiscal year-end net asset value and in the net asset value reported in the Fund’s financial statements in any year where, pursuant to clause (ii), GAAP conforming changes are made only to the Fund’s financial statements for financial reporting purposes.

If the Fund is terminated within 36 months of the Effective Date, any unamortized expenses will be recognized.

Investment and Operational Expenses. The Fund bears all reasonable costs and expenses directly related to its operations, including its pro rata share of all Partnership expenses, including the Management Fee paid by the Partnership to the Investment Manager. The Fund also bears all reasonable, out-of-pocket costs of the administration of the Fund, including accounting, audit and legal expenses, costs of any litigation or investigation involving the Fund's activities, and costs associated with reporting and providing information to existing and prospective investors. However, the General Partner or the Investment Manager may, in its sole discretion, choose to absorb any such expenses incurred on behalf of the Fund.

The Fund does not have its own separate employees or office. Except as described above and provided for in the Partnership Agreement, the Fund generally does not reimburse the General Partner or the Investment Manager for salaries, office rent and other general overhead costs of the General Partner or the Investment Manager.

Restricted New Issues

The Partnership may from time to time purchase securities in public offerings made through member firms of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, Inc. ("FINRA"). FINRA member firms are not permitted to sell certain new issues ("Restricted New Issues") to accounts in which certain persons have a significant beneficial interest that are involved in the securities industry or to executive officers or directors of companies that are current, recent or prospective investment banking client of the relevant underwriters ("Restricted Persons"). In order to enable the Partnership to participate in Restricted New Issues, the Fund will require each shareholder to provide information to enable the Fund to determine whether the shareholder is a Restricted Person. When the Partnership invests in a Restricted New Issue, the profits and losses associated with the investment will be specially allocated exclusively to those shareholders who are permitted by the FINRA rules to have a beneficial interest therein.

The FINRA rules permit Restricted Persons that are involved in the securities industry to have in the aggregate up to a 10% participation in Restricted New Issues and Restricted Persons affiliated with a particular investment banking client to have up to 25% participation in Restricted New Issues. If the ownership of the Partnership by Restricted Persons exceeds the maximum percentage, the Investment Manager will allocate such excess amount pro rata among the shareholders and the Partners of the Partnership who are not Restricted Persons or on such other basis that the Investment Manager reasonably determines ensures compliance with the FINRA rules.

If a Restricted New Issue in which participation by Restricted Persons has been capped is not promptly sold, the investment may be reallocated among all shareholders and the Partners of the Partnership on a pro rata basis (including all Restricted Persons) after a secondary market develops at such secondary market price.

Performance Allocation

As further described in the Partnership Agreement, the Investment Manager, in its capacity as a special limited partner of the Partnership, is entitled to receive an annual performance-based profit allocation at the end of each year equal to 20% of the Partnership's net profits attributable to the Limited Partners of the Partnership, subject to a "high water mark" limitation.

The Performance Allocation is made at the Partnership level by deducting the Performance Allocation from the capital sub-account relating to each Sub-Series of Shares. The Performance Change (as defined in the Partnership Agreement) of each Sub-Series will not be netted against one another for purposes of determining the applicability of the "high water mark."

Distributions

Subject to the redemption privilege described below, all earnings of the Fund are ordinarily retained for investment. Other than distributions made pursuant to a redemption described below, shareholders should not expect the Fund to make any distributions.

Redemptions Generally

Redemptions from the Fund are subject to the withdrawal restrictions contained in the Partnership Agreement, whereby the Series A Interests in the Partnership correspond to the Series A Shares of the Fund, Series B Interests in the Partnership correspond to the Series B Shares of the Fund, the Series C Interests in the Partnership correspond to the Series C Shares of the Fund and the Series D Interests in the Partnership correspond to the Series D Shares of the Fund.

Series Redemption Dates

Subject to certain redemption restrictions described below, shareholders have the following redemption rights:

Series B Shares: Annual Liquidity. A shareholder is permitted to make complete or partial redemptions of its Series B Shares upon written notice to the Administrator at least 180 days prior to the applicable Series B Redemption Date. The "Series B Redemption Date" means: (i) the end of the day on the last Business Day of the calendar month that immediately precedes the one-year anniversary of date of the issuance of the Shares being redeemed; and thereafter (ii) the end of the day on each one-year anniversary of the preceding Series B Redemption Date (i.e., if Shares were issued on November 1, 2014, such Shares would be eligible for redemption on October 31, 2015 and every one year thereafter on October 31st, or the last Business Day of that month).

Series C Shares: Two Year Liquidity. A shareholder is permitted to make complete or partial redemptions of its Series C Shares upon written notice to the Administrator at least 180 days prior to the applicable Series C Redemption Date. The "Series C Redemption Date" means: (i) the end of the day on the last Business Day of the calendar month that immediately precedes the two-year anniversary of the date of issuance of the Shares being redeemed; and thereafter (ii) the end of the day on each two-year anniversary of the preceding Series C Redemption Date (or the last Business Day of that month) (i.e., if Shares were issued on November 1, 2014, such Shares would be eligible for redemption on October 31, 2016 and every two years thereafter on October 31st, or the last Business Day of that month).

Series D Shares: One Year Hard Lock-Up; Quarterly Liquidity. A shareholder is permitted to make complete or partial redemptions of Series D Shares as of the last Business Day of each calendar quarter (each, a “Series D Redemption Date”) following the one-year anniversary of the date of issuance of the Shares being redeemed. Notice of any redemption of Series D Shares must be provided in writing to the Administrator at least 90 calendar days prior to the requested Series D Redemption Date.

The Board of Directors may, at any time and in its sole discretion, waive or modify the foregoing redemption and distribution restrictions with respect to any shareholder.

Settlement of Redemption Proceeds

Redemption proceeds will be paid promptly following receipt by the Fund of the withdrawal proceeds from the Partnership in accordance with the Partnership Agreement.

Redemption Conditions

The Fund may refuse to accept a redemption request if it is not accompanied by such additional information as the Fund or the Administrator may reasonably require. This power may, without limitation to the generality of the foregoing, be exercised where proper information has not been provided for money laundering verification purposes. In addition, where redemption proceeds are requested to be remitted to an account which is not in the name of the investor, each of the Fund and the Administrator reserve the right to request such information as may be reasonably necessary in order to verify the identity of the investor and the owner of the account to which the redemption proceeds will be paid. The redemption proceeds will not be paid to a third-party account if the investor and/or owner of the account fails to provide such information.

Compulsory Redemptions

The Board of Directors reserves the right, in its sole discretion, to compel the redemption of any shareholder’s Shares for any or no reason, in part or in their entirety, on not less than five days’ prior written notice (or immediately if the Board of Directors determines in its sole discretion that such shareholder’s continued participation in the Fund may cause the Fund, the Partnership, the General Partner or the Investment Manager to violate any applicable law). Settlements are made in the same manner as voluntary redemptions.

Suspension of Valuations, Redemption and Redemption Payments

The Board of Directors may suspend the issuance of Shares, the shareholders' redemption privileges, the payment of redemption proceeds and the valuation of the Fund's net assets in the same circumstances as described in the Partnership Memorandum and set forth in the Partnership Agreement with respect to the suspension of valuations or of withdrawal privileges.

Upon the reasonable determination by the Board of Directors that conditions leading to suspension no longer apply, redemption rights for all shareholders shall be promptly reinstated, and any pending redemption requests (or new, timely withdrawal requests) shall be honored as of the last Business Day of the calendar quarter in which redemptions have recommenced, subject to the application of the redemption limitations described herein.

Soft Wind Down

It is anticipated that any suspension in the circumstances described above in "Suspension of Valuations, Redemptions and Redemption Payments" (each, a "Suspension") would ordinarily be temporary. However, there may be situations in which the circumstances giving rise to the Suspension continue to be present for a considerable period of time with the result that the Board of Directors, in consultation with the Investment Manager, considers it appropriate to keep the Suspension in place indefinitely. In certain circumstances, even where a Suspension has not been declared, the Directors may, in consultation with the Investment Manager, make a determination that the investment strategy should no longer be continued. During any such period of Suspension or having made such determination that the investment strategy should no longer be continued, the Investment Manager may recommend to the Board of Directors that the Fund be managed with the objective of returning the Fund's assets to shareholders in an orderly manner (an "Orderly Realisation"). The Board of Directors may, in such circumstances, resolve to effect an Orderly Realisation should they determine that doing so is in the best interests of the shareholders. Such Orderly Realisation shall not constitute a dissolution or winding up of the Fund for any purposes, but rather only the continued management of the Fund's portfolio so as to reduce such portfolio to cash (to the extent reasonably practicable, as advised by the Investment Manager) and return such cash as well as all other assets of the Fund to the shareholders. The Board of Directors shall promptly communicate to shareholders any resolution to proceed with an Orderly Realisation of the Fund. During an Orderly Realisation, the Investment Manager may, in consultation with the Board of Directors, take such steps as are considered appropriate in the best interests of the Fund's shareholders to effect the Orderly Realisation. The Board of Directors, in consultation with the Investment Manager shall establish what they consider to be a reasonable time by which the Orderly Realisation should be effected (the "Realisation Period"). Any resolution to undertake an Orderly Realisation and the process thereof shall be deemed to be integral to the business of the Fund and may be carried out without recourse to a formal process of liquidation under the Companies Law or any other applicable bankruptcy or insolvency regime. The Board of Directors, in consultation with the Investment Manager, may resolve to cease the Orderly Realisation within the Realisation Period and recommence active trading if the circumstances permit a lifting of any applicable Suspension or, where no Suspension is in effect, if the circumstances are such that the investment strategy can then be continued. Management Fees shall be payable and Performance Allocations shall be made during an Orderly Realisation on the same basis as described herein.

Transfers

Shares may not be transferred without the prior written consent of the Board of Directors, which consent may be withheld in the sole discretion of the Board of Directors. Any transferee or assignee of any investor will be required to execute a subscription agreement in the same form as required to be completed and executed by a subscriber for Shares in the Fund.

Duty of Care;
Indemnification

The Partnership Agreement provides that the General Partner, the Investment Manager and each of their affiliates are not liable to the Partnership and the Limited Partners (including the Fund) for any loss or damage arising by reason of being or having been the General Partner or the Investment Manager or from any acts or omissions in the performance of its services as General Partner or Investment Manager, as applicable, in the absence of willful misconduct, fraud or gross negligence (as construed in accordance with the laws of the state of Delaware) or as otherwise required by law, and contains provisions for the indemnification of the General Partner, the Investment Manager and each of their affiliates by the Partnership (but not by the Limited Partners individually) against any liabilities arising by reason of being or having been the General Partner or the Investment Manager or in connection with the Partnership Agreement or the Partnership's business or affairs to the fullest extent permitted by law. The General Partner is not personally liable to any Limited Partner for the repayment of any positive balance in such Limited Partner's Capital Account or for contributions by such Limited Partner to the capital of the Fund or by reason of any change in the federal or state income tax laws applicable to the Fund or its investors.

Neither the Board of Directors of the Fund nor the Administrator shall be liable to the Fund or its shareholders for any loss or damage occasioned by any acts or omissions in the performance of its services on behalf of the Fund, except under certain limited circumstances. In addition, the Board of Directors and the Administrator and their respective affiliates will be indemnified by the Fund (but not by the shareholders individually) against any liabilities arising in connection with the performance of their activities on behalf of the Fund to the extent permitted by the Articles.

Valuations

The Fund's assets are valued based on the value of the Partnership's assets as set forth in the Partnership Memorandum.

Reserves

Appropriate reserves may be accrued and charged against net assets and proportionately against the Shares of the shareholders for contingent liabilities, such reserves to be in the amounts (subject to increase or reduction) that the Board of Directors in its sole discretion deems necessary or appropriate. At the sole discretion of the Board of Directors, the amount of any such reserve (or any increase or decrease therein) may be charged or credited, as appropriate, to the Shares of those investors who are shareholders at the time when such reserve is created, increased, or decreased, as the case may be, or alternatively may be charged or credited to those investors who were shareholders at the time of the act or omission giving rise to the contingent liability for which the reserve was established.

If the Board of Directors determines that it is equitable to treat an amount to be paid or received as being applicable to one or more prior periods, then such amount may be proportionately charged or credited, as appropriate, to those persons who were shareholders during any such prior period.

Fiscal Year

The Fund has a fiscal year ending on December 31 of each calendar year.

Reports to Partners

The Fund furnishes to its shareholders as soon as practicable after the end of each taxable year (or as otherwise required by law) annual reports containing financial statements examined by the Fund's independent auditors as well as such tax information as is necessary for each shareholder to complete federal and state income tax or information returns, along with any other tax information required by law. The Fund also furnishes monthly reports reviewing the Fund's performance for such calendar month. The Board of Directors selects the Fund's independent accountants in its sole discretion.

Dissolution and Liquidation

In the event an Orderly Realization lasts longer than three years, shareholders holding Shares with a combined net asset value equal to at least 75% of the total net asset value of the Fund may seek a court decree of dissolution or seek the appointment by the court of a liquidator for the Fund.

Wind down and liquidation of the Fund shall occur as set forth in the Articles.

Placement Agents

The Investment Manager may engage third parties to solicit investors and act as placement agents for the Fund. Placement agents may charge a placement fee directly to investors solicited by any such placement agent, but such fees will not affect the subscription amount and will not be collected by or from the Fund. The placement agent may be reimbursed for its expenses and indemnified by the Fund.

Furthermore, placement agents may be paid a portion of the Management Fee or Performance Allocation attributable to such investors solicited by them, thereby reducing the Management Fee or Performance Allocation received by the Investment Manager. Accordingly, investors should recognize that a placement agent's or distributor's participation in this offering may be influenced by its interest in such current or future fees and compensation. Investors should consider these potential conflicts of interest in making their investment decisions.

Each placement agent must comply with the legal requirements of the jurisdictions within which it offers and sells Shares.

Certain Tax Considerations

The Government of the Cayman Islands will not, under existing legislation, impose any income, corporate or capital gains tax, estate duty, inheritance tax, gift tax or withholding tax upon the Fund or the shareholders. The Cayman Islands are not party to a double tax treaty with any country that is applicable to any payments made to or by the Fund.

The Fund has applied for and received an undertaking from the Governor-in-Cabinet of the Cayman Islands that, in accordance with section 6 of the Tax Concessions Law (2011 Revision) of the Cayman Islands, for a period of 20 years from July 10, 2012 (being the date of the undertaking), no law which is enacted in the Cayman Islands imposing any tax to be levied on profits, income, gains or appreciations shall apply to the Fund or its operations and, in addition, that no tax to be levied on profits, income, gains or appreciations or which is in the nature of estate duty or inheritance tax shall be payable (i) on or in respect of the shares, debentures or other obligations of the Fund or (ii) by way of the withholding in whole or in part of a payment of dividend or other distribution of income or capital by the Fund to its members or a payment of principal or interest or other sums due under a debenture or other obligation of the Fund.

The Investment Manager believes that the Fund will be treated as a non-U.S. corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes. The Fund does not intend to be subject to U.S. federal income tax on its capital gains from securities trading. Dividends and certain interest received by the Fund may be subject to withholding at the source. See "Tax Considerations."

ERISA

The Fund intends to limit investment in the Fund by "benefit plan investors" so that the assets of the Fund will not be considered "plan assets" for purposes of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"). See "ERISA Considerations."

Voting

Shares in the Fund are participating non-voting shares; provided that in the event the Partnership seeks the approval, vote or consent of the Fund with respect to any matter to which it would be entitled to vote as a Limited Partner of the Partnership under the Partnership Agreement, the Fund will: (i) submit such matter for the consent of the shareholders and (ii) shall cause the Fund to vote its Limited Partner interest proportionally for and against such matter in the same proportion that the shareholders voted for and against such matter.

Variation of Terms

The Board of Directors, with the consent of the Investment Manager, shall have the absolute discretion to agree with a shareholder to waive or modify the terms applicable to such shareholder's subscription for Shares (including those relating to Management Fees, the Performance Allocation, transparency and redemptions) without obtaining the consent of any other shareholder; provided that such waiver or modification does not amount to a variation of the rights attaching to the Shares of such other shareholders. The Fund generally grants waivers of the Management Fees and Performance Allocation to the Affiliated Investors.

RISK FACTORS AND POTENTIAL CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

Investment in the Fund, and in turn, the Partnership, is speculative and involves certain risks. There can be no assurance that the Partnership's investment objective will be achieved, or that an investor will receive a return of its Capital. Certain of these risks are summarized below. The Fund may not be suitable for all investors, and is intended for sophisticated investors who can accept the risks associated with its investments. Investors will not have recourse except with respect to the assets of the Fund. Prospective investors should consider, among others, the risk factors described in this section.

This discussion must be read in conjunction with the risk factors and potential conflicts of interest of the Partnership set forth in the Partnership Memorandum. The following is not meant to be an exhaustive listing of all potential risks associated with investing in the Fund. Investment-specific risks factors associated with the Partnership's investment strategy should be read in their entirety.

Illiquidity of Shares. Shares are not transferable without the approval of the Board of Directors, and there will be no secondary market for Shares. Consequently, investors may not be able to dispose of their Shares prior to the liquidation of the Fund or as described in this Memorandum and the Partnership Memorandum, and may receive securities rather than cash in exchange for their Shares.

Side Letters. The Board of Directors may from time to time, with the consent of the Partnership, enter into letter agreements or other similar agreements (collectively, "Side Letters") with one or more investors which provide such investor(s) with additional and/or different rights than such investor(s) have pursuant to this Memorandum or the Partnership Memorandum. As a result of such Side Letters, certain investors may receive additional benefits (including, but not limited to, reduced fee/allocation obligations and/or expanded informational rights) which other investors will not receive. The Fund is not be required to notify any or all of the other investors of any such Side Letters or any of the rights and/or terms or provisions thereof, nor will the Fund be required to offer such additional and/or different rights and/or terms to any or all of the other investors. The Fund may enter into such Side Letters with any party as the Board of Directors may determine in its discretion at any time. The other investors will have no recourse against the Fund, the Board of Directors and/or any of their affiliates in the event that certain investors receive additional and/or different rights and/or terms as a result of such Side Letters.

Authority. Investors in the Fund have no right or power to take part in the management of the Fund. The Board of Directors control the Fund and the General Partner controls the Partnership. The Investment Manager is responsible for all investment decisions of the Partnership.

Absence of Regulatory Oversight. The Fund is not registered under the Cayman Islands Mutual Funds Law (as amended). Neither the Cayman Islands Monetary Authority nor any other governmental authority in the Cayman Islands has commented on or approved the terms or merits of this Memorandum. There is no financial obligation or compensation scheme imposed on or by the government of the Cayman Islands in favor of or available to the investors in the Fund.

Investment Judgment; Market Risk. The profitability of a significant portion of the Fund's investment program depends to a great extent upon correctly assessing the future course of the price movements of securities and other investments. There can be no assurance that the Investment Manager will be able to predict accurately these price movements. With respect to the investment strategy utilized by the Fund, there is always some, and occasionally a significant, degree of market risk.

Performance Allocation. The Performance Allocation made to the Investment Manager may create an incentive for the Investment Manager to make investments that are riskier or more speculative than would be the case in the absence of such Performance Allocation.

Redemption Restrictions. There are severe restrictions on redemptions from the Fund (which may be settled in securities rather than cash) and on transfers of Shares. Because of the restrictions on redemptions, an investment in the Fund is a relatively illiquid investment and involves a high degree of risk. There is no independent market for the purchase or sale of Shares and none is expected to develop. Shareholders must represent that they are purchasing Shares for investment. A subscription for Shares should be considered only by persons financially able to maintain their investment and who can accept a loss of all of their investment.

No Distributions. Since the Fund does not generally intend to pay distributions, an investment in the Fund is not suitable for investors seeking current distributions of income. Moreover, an investor is required to report and pay taxes on its allocable share of income from the Fund, even though no cash is distributed by the Fund.

In-Kind Distributions. The Partnership Agreement authorizes the General Partner to make distributions in kind of securities in lieu of or in addition to cash. In the event the General Partner makes distributions of securities in kind, such securities could be illiquid or subject to legal, contractual and other restrictions on transfer.

Diversification. Since the Partnership's portfolio will not necessarily be widely diversified, the investment portfolio of the Partnership (and thus the Fund) may be subject to more rapid changes in value than would be the case if the Partnership were required to maintain a wide diversification among companies, securities and types of securities.

Valuations. From time to time, certain situations affecting the valuation of the Partnership's (and thus the Fund's) investments (such as limited liquidity, unavailability or unreliability of third-party pricing information and acts or omissions of service providers to the Partnership) could have an impact on the net asset value of the Fund, particularly if prior judgments as to the appropriate valuation of an investment should later prove to be incorrect after a net asset value-related calculation or transaction is completed. The Fund is not required to make retroactive adjustments to prior subscription or redemption transactions or Management Fees or Performance Allocations based on subsequent valuation data.

Contagion. The Fund has the power to issue Shares in different series. The Articles provide for the manner in which the liabilities are to be attributed across the various series (liabilities are to be attributed to the specific series in respect of which the liability was incurred). However, the Fund is a single legal entity and there is no limited recourse protection for any series. Accordingly, all of the assets of the Fund will be available to meet all of its liabilities regardless of the series to which such assets or liabilities are attributable. In practice, cross-series liability is only expected to arise where liabilities referable to one series are in excess of the assets referable to such series and it is unable to meet all liabilities attributed to it. In such a case, the assets of the Fund attributable to other series may be applied to cover such liability excess and the value of the contributing classes or series will be reduced as a result.

Handling of mail. Mail addressed to the Fund and received at its registered office will be forwarded unopened to the Investment Manager to be dealt with. None of the Fund, its Directors, officers, advisors or service providers (including the organization which provides registered office services in the Cayman Islands) will bear any responsibility for any delay howsoever caused in mail reaching the Investment Manager. In particular the Directors will only receive, open or deal directly with mail addressed to them personally (as opposed to mail which is addressed to just the Fund).

Recent Developments in the Financial Services Industry. Recent developments in the U.S. financial markets illustrate that the current environment is one of extraordinary and possibly unprecedented uncertainty for the financial services industry. In July of 2010, the Dodd-Frank Financial Reform Act was passed which imposes many new requirements and restrictions on the financial services industry that may likely affect the business, operations and performance of hedge funds, such as increased reporting requirements, limitations on certain trading activity and regulatory oversight by different agencies, such as the newly created Financial Stability Oversight Counsel. The implications of the passage of the Dodd-Frank Financial Reform Act for the hedge fund industry as a whole still remain somewhat unclear. The hedge fund industry may continue to be adversely affected by the recent developments in the financial markets in the U.S. and abroad, and any future legal, regulatory or governmental action and developments in such financial markets and the broader U.S. economy could have an adverse effect on the Fund's business, operations and performance.

In view of the foregoing considerations, an investment in Shares is suitable only for investors who are capable of bearing the relevant investment risks.

Tax Related Risks

Uncertainty and Complexity of Tax Treatment. The tax aspects of an investment in the Fund are complicated and complex and, in many cases, uncertain. Statutory provisions and administrative regulations have been interpreted inconsistently by the courts. Additionally, some statutory provisions remain to be interpreted by administrative regulations. Investors will thus be subject to the risk caused by the uncertainty of the tax consequences with respect to an investment in the Fund. Each prospective investor should have the tax aspects of an investment in the Fund reviewed by professional advisors familiar with such investor's personal tax situation and with the tax laws and regulations applicable to the investor and private investment vehicles. Prospective investors are strongly urged to review the discussion below under "Tax Considerations" and "ERISA Considerations" for a more complete discussion of certain of the tax risks inherent in the acquisition of Shares and to consult their own independent tax advisors.

Risk of Adverse Determination. There can be no assurance that the conclusions set forth in this Memorandum will not be challenged successfully by the Internal Revenue Service (the "Service") or other applicable taxing authority, or significantly modified by new legislation, changes in a taxing authority's positions or court decisions. The Fund has not applied for, nor does it expect to apply for, any advance rulings from the Service with respect to any of the U.S. federal income tax consequences described in this Memorandum. No representation or warranty of any kind is made by the Investment Manager with respect to the U.S. federal income tax consequences relating to an investment in the Fund. The Fund may take positions with respect to certain tax issues which depend on legal conclusions not yet resolved by the courts. Should any such positions be successfully challenged by the Service or other applicable taxing authority, there could be a materially adverse effect on the Fund.

Tax Considerations Taken into Account. The Fund will attempt to minimize the tax burden of the Fund over the long-term. However, the Investment Manager will not overlook short-term trading opportunities. Therefore, shareholders should not expect that the Fund will make tax-efficiency a priority. However, the Investment Manager may take tax considerations into account in determining when the Fund's investments should be sold or otherwise disposed of, and may assume certain market risk and incur certain expenses in this regard to achieve favorable tax treatment of a transaction.

Tax-Exempt Entities. Certain prospective investors that are tax-exempt for U.S. income tax purposes may be subject to U.S. federal and state laws, rules and regulations that regulate their participation in the Fund, or their engaging directly or indirectly through an investment in the Fund, in certain investment strategies that the Partnership may utilize from time-to-time (e.g., short-sales of securities and the use of leverage, the purchase and sale of options and limited diversification). While the Fund believes its investment program is generally appropriate for U.S. tax-exempt investors for which an investment in the Fund would otherwise be suitable, each type of tax-exempt organization may be subject to different laws, rules and regulations, and prospective investors should consult with their own advisers as to the advisability and tax consequences of an investment in the Fund. Investments in the Fund by entities subject to ERISA, and other tax-exempt entities, require special consideration. Trustees or administrators of such entities are urged to review carefully the matters discussed in this Memorandum.

Non-U.S. Taxation. With respect to certain countries, there is a possibility of expropriation, confiscatory taxation, imposition of withholding or other taxes on dividends, interest, capital gains or other income, limitations on the removal of funds or other assets of the Fund, political or social instability or diplomatic developments that could affect investments in those countries. An issuer of securities may be domiciled in a country other than the country in whose currency the instrument is denominated. The values and relative yields of investments in the securities markets of different countries, and their associated risks, are expected to change independently of each other.

Tax Changes. Investors will be subject to the risk that changes to the tax law may adversely affect the federal income tax consequences of their investment in the Fund. Changes in existing tax laws or regulations and their interpretation may be enacted after the date of this Memorandum, possibly with retroactive effect, and could alter the income tax consequences of an investment in the Fund. Certain provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), may be further amended or interpreted in a manner adverse to the Fund, in which event any benefits derived from an investment in the Fund may be adversely affected. In addition, significant legislative and budgetary proposals affecting tax laws have been made by the legislative and executive branches of the U.S. federal government. The likelihood of enactment of any such proposals, or any similar proposals, into law is uncertain. The enactment of any such proposals, including subsequent proposals, into law could have material adverse effects on the Fund and/or its shareholders. Enactment of such legislation, or similar legislation, could require significant restructuring of the Fund in order to mitigate such effects.

The foregoing is not intended to be an exhaustive analysis or listing of the tax risks associated with an investment in the Fund. Many of the relevant tax considerations will vary depending on a prospective shareholder's individual circumstances. The tax aspects associated with such an investment are complex and complicated and are subject to a variety of interpretations. Prospective investors are strongly urged to review the discussions below under "Tax Considerations" and "ERISA Considerations" for a more complete discussion of certain of the tax risks inherent in the acquisition of Shares, and to seek and rely upon the advice of their own tax advisor who is qualified to discuss the foregoing and other possible tax risks.

In view of the foregoing considerations, an investment in Shares is suitable only for investors who are capable of bearing the relevant investment risks.

Potential Conflicts of Interest

No Independent Directors. The Fund's Board of Directors does not currently consist of any directors that are not affiliated with the Investment Manager, and thus the Fund's management, as well as the investment decisions at the Partnership level, are effectively controlled by the Investment Manager or its affiliates. However, the Fund may establish an Advisory Committee with respect to matters in which it seeks to resolve certain conflicts of interest that may arise. See "Management—Advisory Committee" in the Partnership Memorandum.

No Separate Counsel. Akin Gump Strauss Hauer & Feld LLP ("Akin Gump") serves as counsel to the Fund, the Partnership, the Investment Manager, the General Partner and certain of their affiliates (the "Clients") in connection with the operation of the Fund and certain other Clients, the offering of Shares as well as certain other matters for which the Clients may engage Akin Gump from time to time. Akin Gump disclaims any obligation to verify the Clients' compliance with their obligations either under applicable law or the governing documents of the Fund. In acting as counsel to the Clients, Akin Gump has not represented and will not represent any shareholders nor does it purport to represent their interests. No independent counsel has been retained to represent the shareholders. In assisting in the preparation of the Partnership Memorandum and this Memorandum (as well as any supplements thereto), Akin Gump has relied on information provided by the Fund, the Partnership, the Investment Manager and the General Partner and certain of the Fund's other service providers (including, without limitation, the biographical data of key investment personnel, summaries of market conditions, the planned investment strategy of the Fund and the performance of the Fund, its investments or any predecessor Fund) without verification and does not express a view as to whether such information is accurate or complete.

Maples and Calder, PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands, acts as Cayman Islands legal counsel to the Fund. In connection with the Fund's offering of Shares and subsequent advice to the Fund, Maples and Calder will not be representing shareholders. No independent legal counsel has been retained to represent the shareholders. Maples and Calder's representation of the Fund is limited to specific matters as to which it has been consulted by the Fund. There may exist other matters that could have a bearing on the Fund as to which Maples and Calder has not been consulted. ## SHARES OF THE FUND

The Fund's Share Capital

The Fund has an authorized share capital of U.S.$50,000 divided into 100 management shares ("Management Shares") of a par value of U.S.$1.00 each and 4,990,000 participating non-voting shares (the "Shares") of a par value of U.S.$0.01. The Directors may by resolution divide the Shares into separate series (each, a "Series") which may be subject to different rights, restrictions, preferences, privileges and payment obligations as between the different Series and further into separate sub-series (each, a "Sub-Series") within such Series (for example, a Sub-Series of Shares which will participate in Restricted New Issues and a Sub-Series of Shares which will not participate in such Restricted New Issues). The different Series and Sub-Series thereof shall be established and designated, and the variations in the relative rights and preferences as between the different Series and Sub-Series thereof shall be fixed and determined by the Board of Directors. Sub-Series of Shares are issued for the purposes, among others, of accounting for any profits and losses attributable to each individual shareholder and of permitting the Performance Allocation to be calculated separately to reflect different returns achieved as a result of subscriptions received at different times.

The Fund previously issued Series A Shares and currently offers Series B Shares, Series C Shares and Series D Shares, all of which generally have identical rights and privileges except for purposes of calculating Management Fees and redemption rights. The Fund is offering Series B Shares, Series C Shares and Series D Shares pursuant to this Memorandum. Certain terms that specifically apply to Series A Shares are set forth in a Supplement to this Memorandum.

Each separate Sub-Series of Shares is identified by the investor to whom it was issued and its date of issue. Shares are issued to shareholders in Sub-Series at $1,000 per Share. Immediately following the close of any fiscal year in which a Performance Allocation is charged at the Partnership level with respect to a Sub-Series of Shares of a Series, each such Sub-Series of Shares may be compulsorily redeemed and the proceeds immediately applied to the subscription for an earlier Sub-Series of Shares of such Series; provided that such earlier Sub-Series of Shares has also been assessed as having a Performance Allocation payable at the Partnership level.

The Management Shares will carry all the voting rights but will have no right to participate in the assets of the Fund (other than to a return of the par value on a winding up). The Management Shares will be held by the Investment Manager or an affiliate, and will be voted in accordance with the instructions of the Investment Manager.

The Articles provide that, subject to the Companies Law (2013 Revision) of the Cayman Islands and the other provisions of the Articles, all or any of the class rights or other terms of offer, whether set out in this Memorandum, the Subscription Documents or otherwise (including any representations, warranties or other disclosure relating to the offer or holding of Shares) (collectively referred to as "Share Rights"), for the time being applicable to any class or Series of Shares in issue (unless otherwise provided by the terms of issue of those Shares) may (whether or not the Fund is being wound up) be varied without the consent of the holders of the issued Shares of that class or Series where such variation is considered by the Directors not to have a material adverse effect upon such holders' Share Rights; otherwise, any such variation shall be made only with the prior consent in writing of the holders of not less than two-thirds by net asset value of such Shares, or with the sanction of a resolution passed by a majority of at least two-thirds of the votes cast in person or by proxy at a separate meeting of the holders of such Shares. For the avoidance of doubt, the Directors reserve the right, notwithstanding that any such variation might not have a material adverse effect, to obtain consent from the holders of such Shares. Each subscriber for Shares will be required to agree that the terms of offer set out in the Subscription Documents and the rights attaching to the Shares can be varied in accordance with the provisions of the Articles.

The Articles further provide that, in relation to any class or Series consent required pursuant to the “Variation of Share Rights” Article, the Directors in their discretion may invoke the following procedure (the “Negative Consent Procedure”). The Directors shall provide written notice in respect of the proposed variation (the “Proposal”) to the shareholders of the affected class or Series and shall specify a deadline (the “Redemption Request Date”), which shall be no earlier than 30 days after the date of giving such notice, by which date such shareholders may submit a written request for redemption of some or all of their Shares of the affected class and/or Series on the Redemption Date (the “Specified Redemption Date”) specified by the Directors in such notice. The terms of the Proposal shall be such that its specified effective date (the “Effective Date”) shall not be on or prior to the Specified Redemption Date. Such notice shall further provide that the holders of any Shares in respect of which a request for redemption has not been received by the Redemption Request Date (the “Affected Shares”) shall, in the absence of express written refusal to consent, be deemed to have consented in writing to the Proposal (such Affected Shares being the “Negative Consent Shares”). In the event that the Negative Consent Procedure is followed, only the Affected Shares shall be considered for the purposes of determining whether the written consent majority has been obtained under the “Variation of Share Rights” Article with the holders of the Negative Consent Shares being deemed to have submitted a written consent in favor of the Proposal on the Effective Date.

The rights conferred upon the holders of the Shares of any class issued with preferred or other rights shall not, subject to any rights or restrictions for the time being attached to the Shares, be deemed to be materially adversely varied or abrogated by, inter alia, the creation, allotment or issue of further Shares ranking pari passu with or subsequent to them, the redemption or purchase of any Shares or by the passing of any Directors’ resolution to change or vary any investment objective, investment technique and strategy and/or investment policy in relation to the Shares or any modification of the fees payable to any service provider to the Fund.

In general, each Share will participate in the Fund’s profits and losses attributable to the relevant class in the same manner, except that the Performance Allocation to be charged (at the Partnership level) to Shares of a Sub-Series held by each shareholder will be calculated separately on the basis of the performance of such Shares of a Sub-Series. The Performance Allocation is calculated and charged at the Partnership level through the use of separate capital sub-accounts within the Fund’s capital account in the Partnership that correspond to the Shares of a Sub-Series of each shareholder in the Fund. Subject to the foregoing, each of the Shares will participate ratably with all other outstanding Shares in the Fund’s assets and earnings and will have the redemption rights discussed above.

The Directors may impose such restrictions as they think necessary for the purpose of ensuring that no Shares in the Fund are held by (i) any person in breach of the laws or requirements of any country or governmental authority or (ii) any person or persons in circumstances which, in the opinion of the Directors, might result in the Fund incurring any liability of taxation or suffering any other pecuniary disadvantage which the Fund might not otherwise have incurred or suffered. A person who becomes aware that he or she is holding or owning Shares in breach of any restriction mentioned in the Articles shall promptly either deliver to the Fund a written request for redemption of his or her Shares or deliver to the Fund a written request to transfer the same to a person who would not thereby be a non-qualified person.

Management Shares

General meetings of the holders of Management Shares may be held to vote on various matters including to elect the Directors, to select the Fund's auditors and to attend to such other business as may properly be placed before the meeting. At any such general meeting, the favorable vote of a majority of the Management Shares present generally is sufficient for the approval of any action, unless such action is a matter requiring a special resolution, in which case two-thirds of the Management Shares shall be required, in each case as further detailed in the Articles.

Registration of Management Shares and Shares and Share Certificates

Management Shares and Shares of the Fund are issued only in registered form. A current register of the names and addresses of the Fund's shareholders and their shareholdings is maintained at the office of the Administrator. No share certificates have been or will be issued.

Other Rights and Liabilities

Under the terms of the Articles, the liability of the shareholders of the Fund is limited, and shareholders will not be liable for any debt, obligation or default of the Fund in excess of the amounts unpaid on their Shares.

The Fund and the Investment Manager may agree with certain investors to a fee structure, redemption rights or other terms that differ from the fee structure, redemption rights and other terms that are set forth in this Memorandum. Such different rights may, subject to applicable law, be effected by issuance of a separate Series of Shares or any other permissible means. Such rights may not be offered to all investors.

Calculation of Fund Net Asset Value

The Directors have delegated to the Administrator the calculation of the net asset value of the Fund and the net asset value per Share of each Series and, if applicable, Sub-Series, subject to the overall supervision and direction of the Investment Manager and the Board of Directors. Net asset valuations of the Fund and each Series of Shares will be calculated as of the close of business on the last day of each fiscal period and any other date selected by the Board of Directors, in consultation with the Investment Manager, no less than quarterly, which shall, to avoid doubt, include each Redemption Date (each, a "Valuation Date").

The Fund's assets are valued based on the value of the Partnership's assets. The net asset value of the Fund is determined by taking the amount of all cash and credit balances plus the market value of all securities, commodities and other assets comprising the Fund's assets (including any interest and dividends receivable, but excluding any subscription amounts committed to the Fund from time to time to the extent such amounts are not held by or on behalf of the Fund), as calculated by the Administrator, minus all debit balances and other liabilities and obligations of the Fund. Net asset value in respect of any Series or Sub-Series of Shares is calculated by dividing the value of the account relating to that Series or Sub-Series of Shares by the number of Shares of that Series in issue. For the sole purpose of determining the number of Shares of a Series in issue, Shares of that Series which are to be redeemed on the relevant Valuation Date shall be deemed to be in issue until and including the close of business on the applicable Valuation Date. The principal amounts of the investments, cash balances and other assets of the Fund, the value of which is expressed in a currency other than that of the United States, shall be valued after taking into account the market rate or rates of exchange in force on the Valuation Date in question.

General

The following is a general discussion of certain of the anticipated U.S. federal and Cayman Islands income tax considerations applicable to the Fund's activities and those relevant to non-U.S. persons (as defined below) and U.S. tax-exempt entities arising from the purchase, ownership and disposition of Shares. Prospective investors should consult their own tax advisors to determine the application and effect of tax laws with respect to their own particular circumstances. This discussion is based on laws and regulations currently in effect, which may change or be subject to differing interpretations (possibly on a retroactive basis). The Fund does not intend to seek a ruling from the Service, or any similar state or local authority, with respect to any of the tax issues affecting the Fund.

In view of the number of different jurisdictions where local laws may apply to shareholders, the discussion below does not address the local tax consequences to prospective investors of the purchase, ownership and disposition of Shares. Prospective investors are urged to consult their own tax advisors in determining the possible tax, exchange control or other consequences to them under the laws of the jurisdictions of which they are citizens, residents or domiciliaries or in which they conduct business.

The summary assumes that no U.S. taxable investors will invest in the Fund and, therefore, does not address the U.S. tax consequences to such investors. Potential U.S. taxable investors should be aware that the Fund does not intend to provide information to any U.S. Person for purposes of such person qualifying to make an election to treat the Fund as a "qualifying electing fund" for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Accordingly, potential U.S. shareholders are urged to consult their tax advisors in this regard.

United States Taxation Matters

The Fund will be treated as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes. For U.S. federal income tax purposes, the Partnership is expected to be treated as a partnership. The Fund and the Partnership will make any necessary entity classification elections for U.S. tax purposes consistent with such respective treatment. Because the Fund is organized under the laws of the Cayman Islands, it will be considered a non-U.S. person for purposes of U.S. tax laws. As such, the U.S. federal income tax treatment of the Fund will vary depending on whether the Fund derives income or gains that are effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business in the United States. The Fund intends to structure its operations (including those conducted through the Partnership) in order to minimize to the extent consistent with its investment strategy the possibility that the Fund will be treated as being engaged in a U.S. trade or business for U.S. federal income tax purposes, although there can be no certainty that the Fund will be successful minimizing such a possibility. It is also intended that the Fund's affairs will be conducted such that no income realized by the Fund will be effectively connected with the conduct of a U.S. trade or business or otherwise subject to regular U.S. federal income taxation on a net basis.

Pursuant to a safe harbor in the Code, trading in securities or commodities on an organized commodities exchange for the Fund's own account (including through the Partnership) is not considered a U.S. trade or business. It is not certain whether this safe harbor would apply to the trading of physical commodities. Although no assurances can be given that the Service will not successfully assert an alternative position, the Fund intends to take the position that the Partnership's trading of physical commodities is within the prescribed safe harbor and does not constitute a trade or business and as such the Fund anticipates generally that its income will not be subject to U.S. corporate income tax, except as described below. However, the Fund will be subject to a 30% U.S. withholding tax on its allocable share of certain types of the Partnership's non-effectively connected income. As described below, the types of income (to the extent not constituting effectively connected income) on which a U.S. withholding tax will be imposed generally consist of dividends, interest and certain types of investment income, but not capital gains derived from the sale of stock or other capital assets (unless such capital gains are derived from the sale of stock of a "United States Real Property Holding Company" within the meaning of Section 897 of the Code and certain other interests in real property).

In general, a non-U.S. partner, such as the Fund, that is a partner of a partnership, such as the Partnership, is subject to U.S. federal income taxation on a net basis on its allocable share of the partnership's "effectively connected income." The Fund's allocable share of the Partnership's income will constitute "effectively connected income," and thus will be subject to U.S. federal income taxation, to the extent such income is derived by the Partnership from a trade or business carried on in the United States by the Partnership. Although there can be no assurances, the Partnership does not itself expect to engage directly in activities that would constitute a U.S. trade or business.

If the Fund were treated as being engaged in a U.S. trade or business as a result of activities conducted by the Partnership, then all or a portion of the Fund's allocable share of the Partnership's income would be treated as effectively connected income subject to U.S. federal income tax on a net basis at corporate tax rates. In such a case, the Fund would be required to file a U.S. federal income tax return to report its share of such income and pay U.S. federal income tax at regular U.S. rates on this income. In addition, the Partnership would be required (and would be legally liable) to withhold and pay over to the Service on behalf of the Fund an amount equal to 35% percent of the Fund's share of the Partnership's effectively connected income. Any amount so withheld would be creditable against the Fund's ultimate U.S. federal income tax liability, and the Fund would be entitled to a refund to the extent that the amount withheld exceeded the Fund's U.S. federal income tax liability for the taxable year. Furthermore, in such event, the Fund's allocable share of any effectively connected income of the Partnership would also be subject to a 30% U.S. branch profits tax, and possibly could be subject to state and/or local taxation in the United States. Such taxation of the Fund's activities could have a material adverse effect on the Fund's returns. Prospective investors are advised to consult their tax advisors regarding the risk of the Fund being treated as engaged in a trade or business in the United States.

Because the Fund is organized under the laws of the Cayman Islands, it is considered a non-U.S. person for purposes of the U.S. tax laws. As a result, dividends received by the Fund through the Partnership from U.S. sources will be subjected to U.S. withholding tax at a 30% rate. U.S. source interest income received by the Fund through the Partnership generally will be exempt from U.S. federal income and withholding tax under the exemption for "portfolio interest" or under another statutory exemption. Interest on corporate obligations will not qualify as "portfolio interest" to a non-U.S. person that owns (directly and under certain constructive ownership rules) 10% or more of the total combined voting power of the corporation paying the interest, or, with respect to certain obligations issued after April 7, 1993, if and to the extent the interest is determined by reference to certain economic attributes of the debtor (or a person related thereto) or the underlying obligations are not in "registered form" for U.S. tax purposes. In addition, interest on U.S. bank deposits, certificates of deposit and certain obligations with maturities of 183 days or less (from original issuance) will not be subject to withholding tax. Interest (including original issue discount) derived by the Fund or the Partnership from U.S. sources not qualifying as “portfolio interest” or not otherwise exempt under U.S. law will be subject to U.S. withholding tax at a rate of 30%. In addition, based on recent legislation, income from certain swaps directly or indirectly over certain stocks (e.g., U.S. stocks) are subject to U.S. withholding tax.

Taxation of Non-U.S. shareholders

For U.S. federal income tax purposes, a shareholder of the Fund who is a non-U.S. person will not be subject to U.S. federal income taxation on amounts paid by the Fund in respect of the Shares or gains recognized on the sale, exchange or redemption of Shares, provided that such income and gains are not considered to be effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business by the shareholder in the United States. In limited circumstances, an individual shareholder who is present in the United States for 183 days or more during a taxable year may be subject to U.S. income tax at a flat rate of 30% on gains realized on a disposition of Shares in such year. Individual shareholders who at the time of their death are not citizens, former citizens or residents of the United States should not be subject, by reason of the ownership of Shares, to any U.S. federal gift or estate taxes.

For these purposes the term “non-U.S. person” means any person that is not a U.S. Person for U.S. federal income tax purposes. A “U.S. Person” means a citizen or resident of the United States, a partnership or corporation created or organized in the United States or under the laws of the United States or any state (other than a partnership that is not treated as a U.S. Person under any applicable Treasury Regulations), an estate whose income is includable in gross income for federal income tax purposes regardless of its source or a trust if a U.S. court is able to exercise primary supervision over the administration of the trust and one or more U.S. Persons have the authority to control all substantial decisions of the trust. In addition, to the extent provided in Treasury Regulations, certain trusts in existence on August 20, 1996, and treated as U.S. Persons prior to such date, which elect to continue to be treated as U.S. Persons will also be U.S. Persons for these purposes.

Special rules may apply in the case of non-U.S. persons that (i) conduct a trade or business in the United States or that have an office or fixed place of business in the United States, (ii) have a tax home in the United States, (iii) are former citizens or long-term residents of the United States or (iv) are controlled foreign corporations, passive foreign investment companies, foreign insurance companies that hold Shares in connection with their U.S. business or corporations which accumulate earnings to avoid U.S. federal income tax. Such persons are urged to consult their U.S. tax advisors before investing in the Fund.

In the case of Shares held in the United States by a custodian or nominee for a non-U.S. person, U.S. “backup” withholding taxes may apply to distributions in respect of Shares held by such shareholder unless such shareholder properly certifies as to its non-U.S. status or otherwise establishes an exemption from “backup” withholding. Back-up withholding is not an additional tax. Rather, the U.S. federal income tax liability of non-U.S. persons subject to back-up withholding will be reduced by the amount of tax withheld. If back-up withholding results in an overpayment of U.S. federal income taxes, a refund may be obtained, provided the required documents are filed with the Service.

Taxation of U.S. Tax-Exempt shareholders

In general, U.S. tax-exempt shareholders should not be subject to the tax on “unrelated business taxable income” (“UBTI”), as defined in Code section 512, in respect of income and gains from the Shares. In general, UBTI is the excess of gross income from any unrelated trade or business conducted by a U.S. tax-exempt entity over the deductions attributable to such trade or business, with certain modifications. These modifications provide that UBTI generally does not include interest, dividends or gains from the sale of securities not held as either inventory or primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of business, except to the extent that any such item of income is deemed to constitute “unrelated debt-financed income” (“UDFI”) within the meaning of Code section 514 and the Treasury Regulations. Income that a U.S. tax-exempt shareholder derives from an investment in Shares should not give rise to UBTI under Code section 511, except to the extent that such entity’s acquisition of Shares is financed with acquisition indebtedness within the meaning of Code section 514. In addition to UBTI that may arise when a tax-exempt investor uses leverage to finance the acquisition of Shares, the United States Congress from time to time has considered legislation that could result in a tax-exempt investor realizing UBTI in respect of an investment in a foreign investment company that leverages its investments.

The Fund is expected to constitute a “passive foreign investment company” (a “PFIC”) for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Under the Treasury Regulations, a U.S. tax-exempt shareholder is not considered to be a shareholder in a PFIC, and thus will not be subject to the PFIC tax rules, except to the extent that a “dividend” from the PFIC would be taxable under subchapter F of the Code, for example, as UDFI. Hence, under the Treasury Regulations, a U.S. tax-exempt shareholder would be subject to tax under the PFIC regime in respect of an excess distribution from, or any gain realized on the sale of the shares of, a PFIC only under limited circumstances. Moreover, different rules may apply to certain types of tax-exempt entities, such as charitable remainder trusts. Accordingly, potential U.S. tax-exempt investors are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding the tax consequences of an investment in the Fund.

Prospective U.S. tax-exempt investors are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding the tax consequences of the purchase, ownership and disposition of the Shares.

Information Reporting Requirements and FATCA

Sections 1471 through 1474 of the Code, known as the U.S. Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (together with any regulations, rules and other guidance implementing such Code sections and any applicable intergovernmental agreement (“IGA”) and related statutes, regulations, rules and other guidance thereunder, “FATCA”) impose a withholding tax of 30% on (i) certain U.S. source interest, dividends and other types of income, and (ii) the gross proceeds from the sale or disposition of certain assets of a type that can produce U.S. source interest and dividends, which are received by a foreign financial institution (“FFI”), unless such FFI enters into an agreement with the Service, and/or complies with an applicable IGA, to obtain certain information as to the identity of the direct and indirect owners of accounts in such institution. In addition, a withholding tax may be imposed on payments to certain non-financial foreign entities which do not obtain and provide information as to their direct and indirect owners. These rules generally apply to payments of U.S. source interest, dividends and certain other types of income from U.S. sources since July 1, 2014, and will apply to payments of gross proceeds from the sale or disposition of assets of a type that can produce U.S. source interest or dividends after December 31, 2016.

The Service has released temporary and final Treasury Regulations and other guidance that will be used in implementing FATCA, which contain a number of phase-in dates for FATCA compliance. In addition, the Cayman Islands has entered into a Model 1 IGA with the United States (the “Cayman IGA”), which came into force on April 14, 2014, and has issued the Tax Information Authority (International Tax Compliance) (United States of America) Regulations 2014, as updated from time to time, and draft guidance notes thereunder. Additional guidance is forthcoming. In addition, the Cayman Islands have signed a similar inter-governmental agreement with the United Kingdom (the “UK IGA”). The UK IGA imposes similar requirements to the Cayman IGA, so that the Fund will be required to identify accounts held directly or indirectly by “Specified United Kingdom Persons” and report information on such Specified United Kingdom Persons to the Cayman Islands authorities, which will exchange such information annually with HM Revenue & Customs (“HMRC”), the United Kingdom tax authority. It is anticipated that further inter-governmental agreements (“future IGAs”) similar to the Cayman IGA and the UK IGA may be entered into with other third countries by the Cayman Islands Government to introduce similar regimes for reporting to such third countries fiscal authorities (“foreign fiscal authorities”).

The Fund is likely to be considered an FFI for FATCA purposes. In order to avoid U.S. withholding tax under FATCA on amounts paid to the Fund, the Fund is generally required to register with the Service and to comply with the Cayman IGA and any Cayman Islands legislation or guidance implementing the Cayman IGA. The Fund intends to register with the Service and, therefore, generally does not expect to become subject to U.S. withholding under FATCA. The Fund also expects that it will be required to identify and report on certain direct and indirect U.S. owners or investors in order to comply with the Cayman IGA in the future. An investor will be required to provide to the Fund information which identifies its direct and indirect ownership. Any such information provided to the Fund will ultimately be shared with the Cayman Islands government and transmitted to the Service and, potentially, certain other authorities and withholding agents, as applicable.

Further, it is possible that a lower-tier non-U.S. entity in which the Partnership invests also may be considered an FFI. The Fund intends to assist lower-tier non-U.S. entities in which the Partnership invests in complying with FATCA, but the Fund can give no assurance that it will be able to provide such assistance or that such an entity will be able to avoid the imposition of this withholding tax on it.

By investing (or continuing to invest) in the Fund (and indirectly investing in the Partnership), investors will be deemed to have acknowledged, and to have given their consent to, the following:

- (i) the Fund (or its agent) may be required to disclose to the Cayman Islands authorities and withholding agents certain information (which could otherwise be deemed to be confidential) in relation to the investor or its direct or indirect owners, including the investor’s name, address, tax identification number (if any), social security number (if any) and certain additional information or documentation relating to the investor’s investment or identity, and the investor may be required to provide any such information or documentation;
- (ii) the Cayman Islands authorities may be required to automatically exchange information with, among other authorities, the Service, and to provide additional information to such authorities should they have further inquiries, and the Fund (or its agent) may be required to disclose certain information (including information that could otherwise be deemed to be confidential) when registering with such authorities and in response to a request by any such authority for further information;
- (iii) in the event an investor’s failure to comply with any FATCA related reporting requirements gives rise to any withholding tax, the Fund reserves the right to ensure that any such withholding tax and any related cost, interest, penalties and other losses or liabilities suffered by the Fund, the Partnership, the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Administrator or any other investor, or any agent, delegate, employee, director, officer or affiliate of any of the foregoing persons, arising from such investor's failure to provide information to the Fund, is economically borne by such investor;

- (iv) in the event an investor does not provide the information and/or documentation necessary for the Fund's (or the Partnership's) satisfaction of its FATCA related reporting requirements, whether or not that actually leads to compliance failures by the Fund, or a risk of the Fund (or the Partnership) or its investors being subject to withholding tax under the relevant FATCA regime, the Fund reserves the right to take any action and/or pursue all remedies at its disposal to mitigate the consequences of the investor's failure to comply with the requirements described above, including compulsory redemption of such investor; and
- (v) no investor affected by any such action or remedy shall have any claim against the Fund, the Partnership, the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Administrator (or their agents, delegates, employees, directors, officers or affiliates) for any form of damages or liability as a result of actions taken or remedies pursued by or on behalf of the Fund in order to comply with FATCA.

Investors should consult their tax advisors as to the withholding, filing and information reporting requirements that may be imposed on them in respect of their ownership of Interests of the Fund.

Investor Tax Filings and Record Retention

The United States Treasury Department has adopted regulations designed to assist the Service in identifying abusive tax shelter transactions. In general, the regulations require investors in specified transactions (including certain shareholders in foreign corporations and partners in partnerships that engage in such transactions) to satisfy certain special tax filing and record retention requirements. Significant monetary penalties may be imposed (in addition to penalties that generally may be applicable as a result of a failure to comply with applicable Treasury regulations) for failure to comply with these tax filing and record retention rules.

The regulations are broad in scope and it is conceivable that the Fund or the Partnership may enter into transactions that will subject the Fund and certain investors in the Fund to the special tax filing and record retention rules. The Fund and the Investment Manager intend to use reasonable efforts to obtain and provide information to investors necessary to enable investors to satisfy any tax filing and record retention requirements that may arise as a result of any transactions entered into by the Fund or the Partnership.

Transfer Reporting Requirements

A U.S. Person (including in certain circumstances a U.S. tax-exempt entity) that transfers property (including cash) to the Fund in exchange for Shares will be required to file a Form 926 or a similar form with the Service. In the event a U.S. shareholder fails to file any required form, such holder could be subject to a penalty of up to 10% of the value of the property transferred, subject to a $100,000 limit so long as the failure was not due to intentional disregard.

Cayman Islands Taxation

The Government of the Cayman Islands will not, under existing legislation, impose any income, corporate or capital gains tax, estate duty, inheritance tax, gift tax or withholding tax upon the Fund or its shareholders. The Cayman Islands are not party to any double taxation treaties.

The Fund has applied for and expects to receive an undertaking from the Governor-in-Cabinet of the Cayman Islands that, in accordance with section 6 of the Tax Concessions Law (2011 Revision) of the Cayman Islands, for a period of 20 years from the date of the undertaking, no law which is enacted in the Cayman Islands imposing any tax to be levied on profits, income, gains or appreciations shall apply to the Fund or its operations and, in addition, that no tax to be levied on profits, income, gains or appreciations or which is in the nature of estate duty or inheritance tax shall be payable (i) on or in respect of the Shares, debentures or other obligations of the Fund or (ii) by way of the withholding, in whole or in part, of a payment of dividend or other distribution of income or capital by the Fund to its shareholders or a payment of principal or interest or other sums due under a debenture or other obligation of the Fund.

European Union Savings Directive

Dividends and other distributions of income made by the Administrator on behalf of the Fund, together with payment of the proceeds of sale and/or redemption of Shares (“Payments”) are not subject to any reporting or withholding requirements that may arise as a result of the applicable legislation which implements the EU Council Directive 2003/48/EC of June 3, 2003 on taxation of savings income in the form of interest payments (the “EUSD”) as the Administrator is not located in the European Union (or a country that has implemented measures similar or equivalent to the EUSD).

If an investor in the Fund is based in the European Union or certain states which have similar or equivalent measures to the EUSD (including Switzerland, Channel Islands, Monaco and the Cayman Islands) and is making investments on behalf of other underlying investors who are individuals or certain unincorporated entities resident in the European Union or certain of the states which have similar equivalent measures to the EUSD, then the provisions of the EUSD or similar or equivalent measures may apply. In such circumstances such an investor may become a “paying agent” and may be required to obtain all relevant documentation relating to its underlying investors and make returns to the appropriate tax authorities or withhold tax at applicable rates from any redemption proceeds in accordance with the applicable legislation that implements the EUSD or similar or equivalent measures.

Such investors to whom the EUSD may be relevant should also be aware that on 24 March 2014, the Council of the European Union adopted a directive amending the EUSD to extend its scope to cover additional types of savings income and products that generate interest or equivalent income (including certain types of life insurance contracts) as well as a broader range of investment funds. In addition, a “look through” procedure will be established to limit the opportunities for circumventing the application of the EUSD by the use of certain intermediaries. Member States of the European Union have until 1 January 2016 to adopt domestic legislation to give effect to these changes, which must be applied from 1 January 2017. It is not yet clear as to whether those states which have similar or equivalent measures to the EUSD (including Switzerland, Channel Islands, Monaco and the Cayman Islands) will adopt such changes and if so by what date.

Future Changes in Applicable Law

The foregoing description of United States and Cayman Islands income tax consequences of an investment in, and the operations of, the Fund are based on laws and regulations that are subject to change through legislative, judicial or administrative action. Other legislation could be enacted that would subject the Fund to income taxes or subject shareholders to increased income taxes.

Other Taxation

A portion of the Fund's investments may be made in non-U.S. jurisdictions. With respect to certain countries, there is a possibility of expropriation, confiscatory taxation, imposition of withholding or other taxes on dividends, interest, capital gains or other income, limitations on the removal of funds or other assets of the Fund, political or social instability or diplomatic developments that could affect investments in those countries. An issuer of securities may be domiciled in a country other than the country in whose currency the instrument is denominated. The values and relative yields of investments in the securities markets of different countries, and their associated risks, are expected to change independently of each other.

Future Tax Legislation, Necessity of Obtaining Professional Advice

Future amendments to the Code, other legislation, new or amended Treasury Regulations, administrative rulings or decisions by the Internal Revenue Service or judicial decisions may adversely affect the federal income tax aspects of an investment in the Fund, with or without advance notice, retroactively or prospectively. The foregoing analysis is not intended as a substitute for careful tax planning. The tax matters relating to the Fund are complex and are subject to varying interpretations. There can be no assurance that the Internal Revenue Service will agree with each position taken by the Fund with respect to the tax treatment of Fund items and transactions. Moreover, the effect of existing income tax laws and of proposed changes in income tax laws on shareholders will vary with the particular circumstances of each shareholder and, in reviewing this Memorandum and any exhibits hereto, these matters should be considered.

It is the responsibility of all persons interested in purchasing Shares to inform themselves as to any tax consequences from their investing in the Fund and the Fund's operations or management, as well as any foreign exchange or other fiscal or legal restrictions, which are relevant to their particular circumstances in connection with the acquisition, holding or disposition of Shares. Accordingly, each prospective shareholder should therefore seek their own separate tax advice in relation to their holding of Shares. In no event will the Fund, the Partnership, the Principals or the Investment Manager, or their affiliates, counsel or other professional advisers, be liable to any shareholder for any tax consequences of an investment in the Fund, whether or not such consequences are as described above.

The foregoing is a summary of the important tax rules and considerations affecting the shareholders, the Fund and the Fund's proposed operations. This summary does not purport to be a complete analysis of all relevant tax rules and considerations, which will vary with the particular circumstances of each shareholder, nor does it purport to be a complete listing of all potential tax risks inherent in purchasing or holding Shares. Each prospective investor in the Fund is urged to consult its own tax advisor in order to understand fully the U.S. federal, state, local and any non-U.S. tax consequences of such an investment in its particular situation.

CIRCULAR 230 NOTICE

The tax discussion contained in this Memorandum is not in the form of a covered opinion, within the meaning of Circular 230 issued by the United States Secretary of the Treasury. Thus, we are required to inform you that you cannot rely upon the summary contained in this Memorandum for the purpose of avoiding U.S. federal tax penalties. The following summary was written to support the promotion or marketing of the transactions or matters described in this Memorandum. Each prospective investor should seek advice based on the taxpayer's particular circumstances from an independent tax advisor.

General

Fiduciaries and other persons who are proposing to invest in Shares on behalf of retirement plans, IRAs and other employee benefit plans ("Plans") covered by ERISA or the Code must give appropriate consideration to, among other things, the role that an investment in the Fund plays in the Plan's portfolio, taking into consideration whether the investment is designed to reasonably further the Plan's purposes, the investment's risk and return factors, the portfolio's composition with regard to diversification, the liquidity and current return of the total portfolio relative to the anticipated cash flow needs of the Plan, the projected return of the total portfolio relative to the Plan's objectives, the limited right of shareholders to redeem all or any part of their capital or to transfer their Shares and whether investment in the Fund constitutes a direct or indirect transaction with a party in interest (under ERISA) or a disqualified person (under the Code).

Plan Asset Regulations and Benefit Plan Investors

The United States Department of Labor ("DOL") has adopted regulations that treat the assets of certain pooled investment vehicles, such as the Fund, as "plan assets" for purposes of Title I of ERISA and Section 4975 of the Code ("Plan Assets"). Section 3(42) of ERISA defines the term "Plan Assets" to mean plan assets as defined by such regulations as the DOL may prescribe, except that under such regulations the assets of an entity shall not be treated as Plan Assets if, immediately after the most recent acquisition of an equity interest in the entity, less than twenty-five percent (25%) of the total value of each class of equity interest in the entity is held by "Benefit Plan Investors" (the "significant participation test"). For purposes of this determination, the value of any equity interest held by a person (other than a Benefit Plan Investor) who has discretionary authority or control with respect to the assets of the entity or any person who provides investment advice for a fee (direct or indirect) with respect to such assets, or any affiliate of such a person, shall be disregarded. An entity shall be considered to hold Plan Assets only to the extent of the percentage of the equity interest held by Benefit Plan Investors. The term "Benefit Plan Investors" means any employee benefit plan subject to part 4 of subtitle B of Title I of ERISA (i.e., plans subject to the fiduciary provisions of ERISA), any plan to which the prohibited transaction provisions of Section 4975 of the Code apply (e.g., IRAs) and any entity whose underlying assets include Plan Assets by reason of a plan's investment in such entity (a "Plan Asset Entity").

In order to prevent the assets of the Partnership from being considered Plan Assets under ERISA, it is the intention of the Partnership to monitor the investments in the Fund and prohibit the acquisition, redemption or transfer of any Shares by any investor, including a Benefit Plan Investor, unless, after giving effect to such an acquisition, redemption or transfer, the total proportion of each class of equity interests of the Partnership owned by Benefit Plan Investors would be less 25% of the aggregate value of such class (determined, as described above, by excluding certain Shares held by the Investment Manager, other fiduciaries and affiliates).

Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, in order to limit equity participation in each class of equity interests of the Partnership by Benefit Plan Investors to less than 25%, the Partnership may require the compulsory redemption of Shares of any Series. Each shareholder that is an insurance company acting on behalf of its general account or a Plan Asset Entity will be required to represent and warrant as of the date it acquires Shares or equity interests of the Partnership the maximum percentage of such general account or Plan Asset Entity (as reasonably determined by such insurance company or Plan Asset Entity) that will constitute Plan Assets (the “Maximum Percentage”) so such percentage can be calculated in determining the percentage of Plan Assets invested in the Partnership. Further, each such insurance company and Plan Asset Entity will be required to covenant that if, after its initial acquisition of Shares or equity interests of the Partnership, the Maximum Percentage is exceeded at any time, then such insurance company or Plan Asset Entity shall immediately notify the Investment Manager of that occurrence and shall, if and as directed by the Investment Manager, in a manner consistent with the restrictions on transfer set forth herein, redeem or dispose of some or all of the Shares held in its general account or Plan Asset Entity.

If the Partnership’s assets were considered Plan Assets, then, under ERISA and the Code, the Investment Manager would be a fiduciary, and certain employees, partners and officers of the Investment Manager, as well as certain affiliates, would become “parties in interest” and “disqualified persons,” with respect to the investing Plans, with the result that the rendering of services to certain related parties or the lending of money or other extensions of credit, or the sale, exchange or leasing of property by the Partnership or certain related parties, or the payment of certain fees, as well as certain other transactions, might be deemed to constitute prohibited transactions. Additionally, individual investment in equity interests of the Partnership by persons who are fiduciaries and/or parties-in-interest and disqualified persons to a Plan might be deemed to constitute prohibited transactions under such circumstances.

It is anticipated that investment in the Fund by Benefit Plan Investors may be “significant” for purposes of the DOL regulations. In such event, the underlying assets of the Fund would be deemed to constitute Plan Assets. As a general rule, if the assets of the Fund were regarded as Plan Assets of a Benefit Plan Investor, the Investment Manager would be deemed to be a fiduciary with respect to each Plan investing in the Fund. However, the Investment Manager believes that, given the limited purpose and role of the Fund and the requirement that the Investment Manager follow the directions of the fiduciaries of each Benefit Plan Investor investing in the Fund, as set forth in each such investor’s Subscription Documents, with respect to the investment by the Fund in the Partnership, neither the Investment Manager nor any other entity providing services to the Fund would be exercising any discretionary authority or control with respect to the Fund. Accordingly, the Investment Manager believes that neither the Investment Manager nor any other entity providing services to the Fund will act as a fiduciary (as defined in Section 3(21) of ERISA) with respect to the assets of the Fund or any Benefit Plan Investor. Rather, the Investment Manager believes that, given the limited purpose and role of the Fund and the requirement that the Investment Manager follow the directions of the fiduciary of each Benefit Plan Investor investing in the Fund, as set forth in each such investor’s Subscription Documents, with respect to the investment by the Fund in the Partnership, the fiduciary of each such Benefit Plan Investor has retained the fiduciary authority and responsibility with respect to the Benefit Plan Investor's initial and continuing investment in the Fund as though the Benefit Plan Investor is investing directly in the Partnership.

Representation by Plans

The fiduciaries of each Plan proposing to invest in the Fund will be required to represent that they have been informed of and understand the Fund's investment objectives, policies and strategies, and that the decision to invest Plan Assets in the Fund is consistent with the provisions of ERISA and/or the Code that require diversification of Plan Assets and impose other fiduciary responsibilities. In particular, exempt organizations should consider the applicability to them of the provisions relating to UBTI. By its purchase, each investor will be deemed to have represented that either (i) it is not a Plan that is subject to the prohibited transaction rules of ERISA or the Code, (ii) it is not an entity whose assets include Plan Assets or (iii) its investment in the Fund will not constitute a non-exempt prohibited transaction under ERISA or the Code.

Ineligible Purchasers

Shares may not be purchased with Plan Assets if the Investment Manager, any selling agent, finder, any of their respective affiliates or any of their respective employees: (i) has investment discretion with respect to the investment of such Plan Assets; (ii) has authority or responsibility to give or regularly gives investment advice with respect to such Plan Assets, for a fee, and pursuant to an agreement or understanding that such advice will serve as a primary basis for investment decisions with respect to such Plan Assets and that such advice will be based on the particular investment needs of the Plan; or (iii) is an employer maintaining or contributing to such Plan. A party that is described in clause (i) or (ii) of the preceding sentence is a fiduciary under ERISA and the Code with respect to the Plan, and any such purchase might result in a "prohibited transaction" under ERISA and the Code.

Plans' Reporting Obligations

The information contained herein and in the other documentation provided to investors in connection with an investment in the Fund is intended to satisfy the alternative reporting option for "eligible indirect compensation" on Schedule C of the Form 5500, in addition to the other purposes for which such documents were created.

Whether or not the underlying assets of the Fund are deemed Plan Assets, an investment in the Fund by a Plan is subject to ERISA and the Code. Accordingly, Plan fiduciaries should consult their own counsel as to the consequences under ERISA and the Code of an investment in the Fund. Note that similar laws governing the investment and management of the assets of governmental or non-U.S. plans may contain fiduciary and prohibited transaction requirements similar to those under ERISA and the Code. Accordingly, fiduciaries of such governmental or non-U.S. plans, in consultation with their counsel, should consider the impact of their respective laws and regulations on an investment in the Fund.

CAYMAN ISLANDS MUTUAL FUND LAW

The Fund is regulated as a mutual fund under the Mutual Funds Law (2013 Revision) of the Cayman Islands (“Mutual Funds Law”). The Cayman Islands Monetary Authority (the “Authority”) has supervisory and enforcement powers to ensure compliance with the Mutual Funds Law. Regulation under the Mutual Funds Law entails the filing of prescribed details and audited accounts annually with the Authority. As a regulated mutual fund, the Authority may at any time instruct the Fund to have its accounts audited and to submit them to the Authority within such time as the Authority specifies. Failure to comply with these requests by the Authority may result in substantial fines on the part of the Directors and may result in the Authority applying to the court to have the Fund wound up.

The Fund will not, however, be subject to supervision in respect of its investment activities or the constitution of the Fund’s portfolio by the Authority or any other governmental authority in the Cayman Islands, although the Authority does have power to investigate the activities of the Fund in certain circumstances. Neither the Authority nor any other governmental authority in the Cayman Islands has commented upon or approved the terms or merits of this document. There is no investment compensation scheme available to investors in the Cayman Islands.

The Authority may take certain actions if it is satisfied that a regulated mutual fund is or is likely to become unable to meet its obligations as they fall due or is carrying on or is attempting to carry on business or is winding up its business voluntarily in a manner that is prejudicial to its investors or creditors. The powers of the Authority include the power to require the substitution of Directors, to appoint a person to advise the Fund on the proper conduct of its affairs or to appoint a person to assume control of the affairs of the Fund. There are other remedies available to the Authority including the ability to apply to court for approval of other actions.

The Fund, or any directors or agents domiciled in the Cayman Islands, may be compelled to provide information, subject to a request for information made by a regulatory or governmental authority or agency under applicable law; e.g. by the Authority, either for itself or for a recognised overseas regulatory authority, under the Monetary Authority Law (2013 Revision), or by the Tax Information Authority, under the Tax Information Authority Law (2013 Revision) or Reporting of Savings Income information (European Union) Law (2007 Revision) and associated regulations, agreements, arrangements and memoranda of understanding. Disclosure of confidential information under such laws shall not be regarded as a breach of any duty of confidentiality and, in certain circumstances, the Fund, director or agent, may be prohibited from disclosing that the request has been made.

ANTI-MONEY LAUNDERING COMPLIANCE

Cayman Islands

In order to comply with legislation or regulations aimed at the prevention of money laundering the Fund is required to adopt and maintain anti-money laundering procedures, and may require subscribers to provide evidence to verify their identity and source of funds. Where permitted, and subject to certain conditions, the Fund may also delegate the maintenance of its anti-money laundering procedures (including the acquisition of due diligence information) to a suitable person.

The Fund, and the Administrator on the Fund's behalf, reserve the right to request such information as is necessary to verify the identity of a shareholder (i.e. a subscriber or a transferee). Where the circumstances permit, the Fund, or the Administrator on the Fund's behalf, may be satisfied that full due diligence may not be required where an exemption applies under the Money Laundering Regulations (2013 Revision) of the Cayman Islands, as amended and revised from time to time or any other applicable law.

In the event of delay or failure on the part of the subscriber in producing any information required for verification purposes, the Fund, or the Administrator on the Fund's behalf, may refuse to accept the application, in which case any funds received will be returned without interest to the account from which they were originally debited.

The Fund, and the Administrator on the Fund's behalf, also reserve the right to refuse to make any redemption or dividend payment to a shareholder if the Board of Directors or the Administrator suspect or are advised that the payment of redemption or dividend proceeds to such shareholder may be non-compliant with applicable laws or regulations, or if such refusal is considered necessary or appropriate to ensure the compliance by the Fund or the Administrator with any applicable laws or regulations.

If any person resident in the Cayman Islands knows or suspects or has reasonable grounds for knowing or suspecting that another person is engaged in criminal conduct or is involved with terrorism or terrorist property and the information for that knowledge or suspicion came to their attention in the course of business in the regulated sector, or other trade, profession, business or employment, the person will be required to report such knowledge or suspicion to (i) the Financial Reporting Authority of the Cayman Islands, pursuant to the Proceeds of Crime Law, 2008 of the Cayman Islands if the disclosure relates to criminal conduct or money laundering, or (ii) a police officer of the rank of constable or higher, or the Financial Reporting Authority, pursuant to the Terrorism Law (2011 Revision) of the Cayman Islands, if the disclosure relates to involvement with terrorism or terrorist financing and property. Such a report shall not be treated as a breach of confidence or of any restriction upon the disclosure of information imposed by any enactment or otherwise.

United States

In response to increased regulatory concerns with respect to the identification of sources of funds used to make an investment in the Fund, the Investment Manager and/or its affiliates have implemented policies and procedures ("AML Program") designed to guard against and identify money laundering activities. Pursuant to the Fund's AML Program, the Investment Manager and/or its affiliates will request prospective investors and, in some instances, existing shareholders to provide additional documentation verifying, among other things, such person's identity and the source of funds used to purchase its Shares of the Fund. The Investment Manager may decline to accept a subscription based upon this information, or if this information is not provided.

Pursuant to the Fund's AML Program, the Investment Manager and/or its affiliates will undertake enhanced due diligence procedures prior to accepting investors the Investment Manager believes present high risk factors with respect to money laundering activities. Examples, although not comprehensive, of persons posing high risk factors are persons resident in or organized under the laws of a "non-cooperative jurisdiction" or other jurisdictions designated by the Department of the Treasury as warranting special measures due to money laundering concerns, and any person whose capital contributions originate from or are routed through certain banking entities organized or chartered in a non-cooperative jurisdiction.

In addition, the Fund's AML Program prohibits the acceptance of subscriptions from or on behalf of:

1. persons on the List of Specially Designated Nationals and Blocked Persons maintained by the U.S. Office of Foreign Asset Control;
2. the Annex to Executive Order 13224;
3. such other lists as may be promulgated by law or regulation; and
4. foreign banks unregulated in the jurisdiction they are domiciled in or which have no physical presence.

Governmental regulators are continuing to consider appropriate measures to implement anti-money laundering laws as they apply to private investment funds such as the Fund. The Investment Manager and/or its affiliates will take such steps as it determines are necessary to comply with applicable law, regulations, orders, directives or special measures that may be required by governmental regulators. The specific policies and procedures that the Fund may be required to implement remain unclear, although such steps may include additional measures to confirm the identity of each investor, including the principal beneficial owners of the investor, if applicable, and/or reporting suspicious transactions to governmental regulators.

The requirements for the Investment Manager to guard against and identify money laundering activities in deciding whether to accept subscriptions are in addition to the discretion that the Investment Manager has in deciding whether to accept subscriptions.

- (d) In furtherance of the foregoing, the Board of Directors, on behalf of the Offshore Fund, and the General Partner, on behalf of the Domestic Fund, has delegated certain rights and responsibilities with respect to the operation of their respective partnerships and funds to the Investment Manager, as more fully set forth in the Governing Documents.
- (e) Each Client hereby designates the Investment Manager as the commodity pool operator (the “CPO”) for such Client with complete authority and responsibility for compliance with the U.S. Commodity Exchange Act and the regulations promulgated thereunder, including to perform any and all duties required of a CPO (i) that is exempt from registration under the regulations of the U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission (the “CFTC”) and (ii) that is in compliance with CFTC Rule 4.13(a)(3), including the filing of a notice of exemption under said Rule 4.13(a)(3) with the CFTC.
- (f) Additionally, each of the Clients hereby designates and appoints the Investment Manager as its agent and attorney-in-fact, with full power and authority and without the need for further approval of the Clients (except as may be required by law) to complete and execute all such documents and to take any and all actions that the Investment Manager, in its discretion, may deem advisable to carry out the foregoing with respect to the assets of the Clients; provided, however, that the Investment Manager is not intended to have actual or constructive custody of any assets of the Clients. In connection with any of the foregoing, the Investment Manager is further authorized to transfer or tender for cash or exchange such assets. In all such purchases, sales or trades the Clients authorize the Investment Manager to act for the Clients, and at their risk, and in their name and on their behalf, in the same manner and with the same force and effect as the Clients might or could do with respect to such purchases, sales or trades without prior consultation with the Clients. The Clients also appoint the Investment Manager as their agent and attorney-in-fact to vote, and to execute proxies, waivers, consents and other instruments with respect to, the assets of the Clients.
- (g) At the request of a Client, in any wind down of such Client, the Investment Manager will manage the realization of the Client’s assets and the distribution thereof to investors.

the competitiveness of commission rates in comparison with other brokers satisfying the Investment Manager's other selection criteria. It is understood that the costs of such services will not necessarily represent the lowest costs available and that the Investment Manager is under no obligation to combine or arrange orders so as to obtain reduced charges.

3. Fees and Expenses.

- (a) For its services to the Domestic Fund, the Domestic Fund will pay the Investment Manager the Management Fee (as defined in the Domestic Fund Partnership Agreement), calculated and payable monthly in advance. The Investment Manager may waive or reduce the management fees with respect to capital account and capital sub-accounts of the Domestic Fund in its discretion.
- (b) The Clients will pay, or will reimburse the Investment Manager, for all costs and expenses arising in connection with their operations, including without limitation, with respect to the Domestic Fund, all costs and expenses directly related to portfolio investments or prospective investments (whether or not consummated) of the Domestic Fund.
- (c) The Clients will not have their own separate employees or office, and they will not reimburse the Investment Manager for salaries, office rent and other general overhead costs of the Investment Manager. The Investment Manager will pay all of its own operating and overhead costs (except liability insurance) without reimbursement by the Clients. The Investment Manager is entitled to reimbursement from the Clients for any expenses paid by it on behalf of the Clients; provided that, the Investment Manager in its sole discretion may absorb any or all of such expenses incurred on behalf of the Clients. If the Investment Manager incurs any such expenses for the account of the Clients and any Customers (as defined below), the Investment Manager will allocate such expenses among the Clients and each such Customer in proportion to the size of the investment made by each in the activity or entity to which the expense relates, or in such other manner as the Investment Manager in its sole discretion considers fair and reasonable.

4. Other Activities and Investments.

- (a) The Investment Manager is not required to devote its full time to the affairs of the Clients, but must devote such of its time to the business and affairs of the Clients as it may determine, in its discretion exercised in good faith, to be necessary to conduct the affairs of the Clients for the benefit of the Clients, the shareholders of the Offshore Fund and the partners of the Domestic Fund. Subject to this limitation, the Investment Manager, its partners and principals and their affiliates are not precluded from engaging in or owning an interest in other business ventures or investment activities of any kind. It is expressly understood that the Investment Manager and its affiliates may effect investment transactions for their own accounts and for the accounts of other customers (generally, "Customers"), and the Clients further understand and agree that nothing herein restricts the ability of the Investment Manager and its affiliates to engage in any such transactions notwithstanding the fact that the Clients may enter into or engage in such transactions so long as such transactions are in the best interests of the Clients.

- (b) The Investment Manager will act in a manner that it considers fair, reasonable and equitable in allocating investment opportunities to the Clients. It is understood that when the Investment Manager determines that it would be appropriate for the Clients and one or more of the Customers to participate in an investment opportunity, the Investment Manager will seek to execute orders for, or otherwise allocate such opportunities to, the Clients and such Customers on an equitable basis. In such situations, the Investment Manager may place orders for the Clients and each Customer simultaneously, and if all such orders are not filled at the same price, the Investment Manager may cause the Clients and each Customer to pay or receive the average of the prices at which such orders were filled for the Clients and all other Customers. If all such orders cannot be fully executed under prevailing market conditions, the Investment Manager may allocate among the Clients and the Customers the investments traded in a manner which the Investment Manager considers equitable, taking into account the size of the order placed for the Clients and each such Customer as well as any other factors which the Investment Manager deems relevant.

5. Account and Other Information.

Prior to making any disclosure required by law, the Clients will use their best efforts to notify the Investment Manager of such disclosure. Prior to any disclosure to any Authorized Representative, the Clients must advise such Authorized Representative of the obligations set forth in this Section 5(b) and are responsible for any breach of these obligations made by an Authorized Representative.

- (c) The Investment Manager retains, or arranges for the retention of, for a period of at least 5 years, copies of any documents generated or received by the Investment Manager in the ordinary course of business pertaining to the financial condition of the account of the Clients or to the compensation payable to the Investment Manager. At the request of the Clients, the Investment Manager will afford to the Clients' independent auditors reasonable access to such documents during customary business hours and will permit the Clients' auditors to make copies thereof or extracts therefrom at the expense of the Clients.

6. Custody.

The assets of the Clients must be held in the custody of one or more custodians (or other independent institutions performing the functions of custodian, with respect to the assets which are held by such institutions) selected by the Investment Manager. The Investment Manager will notify the Clients promptly of the proposed selection of any custodians.

The Clients agree that the Investment Manager is not liable to the Clients or any of their partners or shareholders for any losses, damages, expenses or claims occasioned by any act or omission of the Investment Manager in connection with the performance of its services hereunder, other than as a result of the Investment Manager's willful misconduct, fraud or gross negligence, or as otherwise prescribed by applicable law. - (b) In the event that the Investment Manager or any other indemnitee entitled to indemnification pursuant to paragraph (a) above is or becomes a party to any action or proceeding in respect of which, or there otherwise exists a claim pursuant to which, it may be entitled to seek indemnification hereunder, the indemnitee must promptly notify the respective Client thereof. The respective Client is entitled to participate in any such suit or proceeding and, to the extent that it may wish, to assume the defense thereof with counsel reasonably satisfactory to the indemnitee. After notice of an election by the Client so to assume the defense thereof, the Client will not be liable to the indemnitee hereunder for any legal or other expenses subsequently incurred by the indemnitee in connection with the defense thereof other than reasonable costs of investigation or reasonable legal expenses incurred as a result of (i) potential conflicts of interest between the indemnitee and the Client or (ii) the protection of proprietary or privacy interests of other clients of or parties in interest with the indemnitee. - (c) A Client is not liable hereunder for any settlement of any action or claim effected without its written consent thereto.

- (a) This Agreement will remain in full force and effect for a period commencing on the date first above written and ending on December 31, 2014, and thereafter will renew automatically for successive one-year periods. This Agreement may be terminated by any party hereto, without penalty, upon 75 days' prior written notice to the other parties.
- (b) The termination of this Agreement does not extinguish the obligations of the Clients for the payment of fees and expenses in respect of services rendered by the Investment Manager prior to the effective date of such termination.

Each of the Clients certifies and acknowledges to the Investment Manager that it:

- (i) has fully disclosed to potential investors the fee provisions and other arrangements relating to the Client's account with the Investment Manager and is satisfied that the potential investors have received sufficient information from the Investment Manager to enable them to evaluate the terms of this Agreement; and
- (ii) fully understands the method of compensation provided herein and its associated risks, including the risk that the performance compensation arrangements with affiliates of the Investment Manager may create an incentive for the Investment Manager to engage in transactions that are riskier or more speculative than would be the case in the absence of performance compensation and that such risk has been disclosed to potential investors.

12. Amendment; Modification; Waiver.

Except as otherwise expressly provided herein, this Agreement may not be amended, nor may any provision of this Agreement be considered modified or waived, unless evidenced by a writing signed by the party to be charged with such amendment, waiver or modification.

13. Binding Effect; Assignment.

This Agreement is binding upon and inures to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors, but the rights and obligations hereunder are not, except as otherwise expressly provided herein, assignable, transferable or delegable without the written consent of the other parties hereto and any attempted assignment, transfer or delegation thereof without such consent is null and void, except that the Investment Manager may assign its rights and obligations hereunder to an entity that controls, is controlled by or is under common control with the Investment Manager; provided, however, that such entity assumes the obligations of the Investment Manager hereunder.

“Net Assets” means the total value, as determined by the General Partner or its delegate(s) in accordance with Section 7.2, of all Investments and other assets of the Partnership (including net unrealized appreciation or depreciation of the assets and accrued interest and dividends receivable net of any withholding taxes), less an amount equal to all accrued debts, liabilities and obligations of the Partnership (including any reserves for contingencies accrued pursuant to Section 3.6.). Except as otherwise expressly provided herein, Net Assets as of the first day of any Accounting Period are determined on the basis of the valuation of assets conducted as of the close of the immediately preceding Accounting Period, but after giving effect to any capital contributions made by any Partner subsequent to the last day of such immediately preceding Accounting Period, and after giving effect to Management Fee charges, and Net Assets as of the last day of any Accounting Period are determined before giving effect to any of the following amounts payable by the Partnership generally or in respect of any Investment which are effective as of the date on which such determination is made:

“Partnership Percentage” means a percentage established for each Capital Account on the Partnership’s books as of the first day of each Accounting Period. The Partnership Percentage of a Capital Account for an Accounting Period is determined by dividing the amount of such Capital Account as of the beginning of the Accounting Period by the sum of the Capital Accounts of all of the Partners as of the beginning of the Accounting Period. The numerator and denominator of the above shall be calculated after crediting all capital contributions to the Capital Account or Partnership, as appropriate, which are effective as of such date, net of all deductions, including Management Fees. The sum of the Partnership Percentages of all Capital Accounts for each Accounting Period shall equal 100%.

“Performance Allocation” means, for each Capital Account of a Limited Partner, 20% of the amount by which (a) the Positive Performance Change for such Calculation Period for such Capital Account, if any, exceeds (b) any positive balance in the Carryforward Account for such Capital Account as of the most recent prior date as of which any adjustment has been made thereto.

(b) the balance of such Capital Account as of the commencement of the Calculation Period.

If the amount specified in clause (a) exceeds the amount specified in clause (b) such difference is a “Positive Performance Change,” and if the amount specified in clause (b) exceeds the amount specified in clause (a), such difference is a “Negative Performance Change.”

The Performance Change will be computed separately for each Capital Account (and thus each separately maintained capital sub-account created to reflect an additional contribution to a Capital Account). “Positive Basis Partner” means any Partner who withdraws from the Partnership and who has a Positive Basis as of the Withdrawal Date, but such Partner ceases to be a Positive Basis Partner at such time as it has received allocations pursuant to Section 3.11(c) equal to such Partner’s Positive Basis as of the Withdrawal Date and without regard to such Partner’s share of the liabilities of the Partnership under Section 752 of the Code.

2.1 Continuation of Limited Partnership

- (a) The General Partner and the Limited Partners hereby agree to continue the Partnership as a limited partnership under and pursuant to the Act and this Agreement.
- (b) The General Partner has executed and filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware a Certificate, and shall execute, acknowledge and file with the Secretary any amendments thereto as may be required by the Act, and any other instruments, documents and certificates which, in the opinion of the Partnership’s legal counsel, may from time to time be required by the laws of the United States of America, the State of Delaware or any other jurisdiction in which the Partnership determines to do business, or any political subdivision or agency thereof, or which such legal counsel may deem necessary or appropriate to effectuate, implement and continue the valid and subsisting existence and business of the Partnership. The General Partner shall cause any required amendment to the Certificate to be filed promptly following the event requiring such amendment. All amendments may be signed by the General Partner (as required by the Act) and may be signed either personally or by an attorney-in-fact.
- (c) The parties hereto agree to operate the Partnership as a limited partnership pursuant to the provisions of the Act and of this Agreement and agree that the rights and liabilities of the Limited Partners and the General Partner are as provided in the Act, for limited partners and the general partner except as provided herein.
- (d) The parties hereto acknowledge and agree that the Partnership shall be classified as a “partnership” and not as an association taxable as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes. No election may be made by the Partners or the Partnership to treat the Partnership as other than a “partnership” for U.S. federal, state and/or local income tax purposes and, to the extent necessary, the Partners or Partnership shall make any election to treat the Partnership as a “partnership.” The Partners shall treat the Partnership consistently with its status as a “partnership” for U.S. federal income tax purposes and agree to undertake any further action which is necessary to treat the Partnership as such, and shall not undertake any action that is inconsistent with the Partnership’s status as a “partnership” for U.S. federal, state and/or local income tax purposes.
- (e) The General Partner may change the domicile of the Partnership to another state, country or other jurisdiction where advisable due to legal, tax or other considerations; provided that no such change of domicile would reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Limited Partners.

2.2 Name of Partnership

- (a) The name of the Partnership is Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, L.P. or such other name as the General Partner may hereafter adopt, subject to causing an amendment to the Certificate to be filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware in accordance with the Act. The General Partner shall send a notice of any change of name to the Limited Partners. All business of the Partnership shall be conducted under such name or under such other name as the General Partner deems appropriate.
- (b) The Partnership shall have the exclusive ownership and right to use the Partnership name so long as the Partnership continues, despite the withdrawal, expulsion, resignation or removal of any Limited Partner, but upon the Partnership's termination or at such time as there ceases to be a general partner, the Partnership shall assign the name and the goodwill attached thereto to the General Partner without payment by the assignee(s) of any consideration therefor.

2.3 Principal Office; Registered Office

- (a) The Partnership's principal office shall be at such location as the General Partner may designate from time to time.

- (b) The Partnership possesses and may exercise all such powers and privileges as the General Partner considers necessary, convenient or incidental to the conduct, promotion or attainment of the object of the Partnership.

2.6 Liability of Partners

In no event shall any Limited Partner (or former Limited Partner) be obligated to make any contribution to the Partnership in addition to its agreed capital contribution (or other payments provided for herein) or have any liability for the repayment or discharge of the debts and obligations of the Partnership except to the extent provided herein or as required by the Act.

2.7 Actions by Partnership

The Partnership may execute, deliver and perform all contracts, agreements and other undertakings and engage in all activities and transactions as may in the opinion of the General Partner be necessary or advisable to carry out its objects.

2.8 Reliance by Third Parties

Persons dealing with the Partnership are entitled to rely conclusively upon the power and authority of the General Partner as herein set forth.

2.9 UCC Status of Limited Partner Interests

- (a) For purposes of the grant, pledge, attachment or perfection of a security interest in an Interest or otherwise, the Interests are deemed to be “securities” within the meaning of Section 8-102(a)(15) and as provided by Section 8-103(c) of the Uniform Commercial Code as in effect from time to time in the State of Delaware or analogous provisions in the Uniform Commercial Code in effect in any other jurisdiction.
- (b) Any Interest may be evidenced by a certificate of partnership interest issued by the Partnership in such form as the General Partner may approve. Every certificate representing an Interest shall bear a legend substantially in the following form:

“For the purposes of Section 8-103 of the Uniform Commercial Code of the United States of America in effect in any relevant jurisdiction, the certificates representing an interest in the Limited Partnership constitute “securities” within the meaning of Section 8-102 and Section 8-103 of the Uniform Commercial Code.”

2.10 Series of Interests

- (a) The General Partner, at any time, may without notification to or consent of the other Limited Partners, create and offer different Series of Interests in the Partnership with such rights, obligations, liabilities, privileges, designations and preferences (including different investment strategies, underlying investments, degrees of leverage, Management Fees, Performance Allocations, brokerage commissions, transparency, withdrawal rights, co-investment opportunities, and other differences) as the General Partner may determine upon the issuance of such Series; provided that such Series would not reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the existing Limited Partners. The terms and rights of such Series may be set forth in a supplement to the Partnership's offering memorandum or a "side letter" or other agreement, which the General Partner may incorporate by reference.

- (b) All Interests in the Partnership held by Limited Partners (including Affiliated Investors) as of the Effective Date are hereby designated as Series A Interests.

Article III CAPITAL

3.1 Contributions to Capital

- (a) The minimum required initial capital contribution of each Limited Partner is the amount determined by the General Partner. The General Partner may change the required minimum initial contribution amount at any time with respect to any, all or less than all Limited Partners.
- (b) The Partnership may accept additional contributions at such times as the General Partner may permit, but no Limited Partner shall be obligated to make any additional capital contribution to the Partnership, subject to the provisions of Section 3.5(b) and any contrary provision of the Act. The minimum required additional capital contribution of any existing Limited Partner to the Partnership shall be the amount the General Partner may determine. The General Partner may change the required minimum additional contribution amount at any time with respect to any, all or less than all Limited Partners.
- (c) The General Partner or an Affiliate has made a capital contribution to the Partnership as set forth in the Schedule of Partners. Except as required by the Act, the General Partner is not required to make any additional capital contributions to the Partnership. The General Partner may, however, make capital contributions to the Partnership in such amounts and at such times as it may determine. The General Partner or any of its Affiliates have the right at any time to make additional capital contributions as a Limited Partner or General Partner. If the General Partner or any of its Affiliates (including their associated Persons, such as officers, directors, partners, members or employees or any of their family members) makes a capital contribution as a Limited Partner, the General Partner or the Investment Manager shall have authority to waive the Management Fee and/or Performance Allocation with respect to such Limited Partner.
- (d) Except as otherwise permitted by the General Partner (i) initial or additional capital contributions by each Partner shall be paid in one installment with cash and/or Investments having an aggregate value as set forth in the Partnership's books and records, and (ii) initial contributions are due as of the date of admission of such Person as a Limited Partner of the Partnership. Whether Investments may be accepted as a contribution to the capital of the Partnership is determined by the General Partner.

3.2 Rights of Partners in Capital

- (a) No Partner shall be entitled to interest on its capital contributions to the Partnership. For the avoidance of doubt, interest income, if any, earned on subscription amounts remitted to the Partnership prior to the date that an Interest is issued to a Partner shall be payable to the Partnership and not applied toward the purchase of an Interest.
- (b) No Partner shall have the right to the return of any capital contribution to the Partnership except (i) upon withdrawal of such Partner pursuant to Section 5.5 or (ii) upon the dissolution of the Partnership pursuant to Section 6.1. The entitlement to any such return is limited to the value of the Capital Account(s) of the Partner. The General Partner shall not be liable for the return of any such amounts.

3.3 Capital Accounts

- (a) The Partnership shall maintain a separate Capital Account for each Partner. In the event a Limited Partner invests in more than one Series of Interests, the Partnership will maintain a separate Capital Account with respect to each Series of Interests held by such Limited Partner, with each such Capital Account being treated as if it were the Capital Account of a separate Partner for purposes of computing the Performance Allocation, the Management Fee and the withdrawal rights attributable to the Series.
- (b) The General Partner may, in its discretion, maintain a separate sub-account for such purposes as the General Partner may determine appropriate, including for recordkeeping, accounting or reporting or to otherwise give effect to the provisions of this Agreement. Each Capital Account shall reflect the aggregate sum of the balances in such Partner's Capital Account.
- (c) If a Partner makes an additional capital contribution to an existing Capital Account, the Capital Account will be sub-divided into separate capital sub-accounts attributable to each separate capital contribution, with each capital sub-account treated as if it were the Capital Account of a separate Partner for purposes of determining the Management Fee, the Performance Allocation and withdrawal rights and restrictions applicable to each capital sub-account. References herein to a Partner's "Capital Account" include any such separately maintained capital sub-accounts.
- (d) The Partnership will issue to the Offshore Fund an Interest and maintain capital sub-accounts that correspond to each Sub-Series of Shares and each capital sub-account is treated separately for determining Management Fees, the Performance Allocations and withdrawal rights.

- (e) Each Capital Account has an initial balance equal to the amount of any cash and the net value of any property constituting the relevant Partner's initial capital contribution to such Capital Account.
- (f) Each Capital Account shall be increased by such Capital Account's allocable share of the Net Profits allocated by the Partnership to such Capital Account pursuant to Section 3.4.
- (g) Each Capital Account shall be reduced by (i) the amount of any cash and the net value of any property withdrawn by or distributed to the relevant Partner pursuant to Sections 5.5 or 6.3, including any amount deducted from any such withdrawal or distribution pursuant to Section 5.5(h), (ii) such Capital Account's allocable share of the Net Losses allocated by the Partnership to such Capital Account pursuant to Section 3.4, (iii) such Capital Account's pro rata portion of the expenses allocable (or specially allocable) by the Partnership pursuant to Section 3.5, (iv) such Capital Account's allocable share of the Performance Allocation allocable pursuant to Section 3.7, and (v) such Capital Account's pro rata portion of the expenses payable by the Partnership pursuant to Section 4.2(b).
- (h) The Capital Account of the Investment Manager, as a special Limited Partner of the Partnership, shall be increased by the amount of the Performance Allocation allocated to such Capital Account and the investment gains therein.
- (i) Each Capital Account shall also be adjusted to reflect all other allocations and other changes in the value of such Capital Account not otherwise described in this Section 3.3 in the manner specified in the remaining provisions of this Article III.

3.4 Allocations of Net Profit and Net Loss

Subject to Sections 3.5 through 3.10, as of the last day of each Accounting Period, any Net Profit or Net Loss of such Accounting Period shall be separately allocated among and credited to or debited against the Capital Accounts of the Partners in proportion to their respective Partnership Percentages for such Accounting Period.

3.5 Allocation of Management Fees, Withholding Taxes and Certain Other Expenditures

- (a) As of the first Business Day of each calendar quarter, each Capital Account's Management Fee for such calendar quarter shall be debited against such Capital Account and paid by the Partnership to the Investment Manager. Capital contributions accepted after the commencement of the calendar quarter shall be subject to a prorated Management Fee reflecting the time remaining during that quarter. The Investment Manager may reduce or eliminate the Management Fee with respect to any Partner (or Capital Account) in its sole discretion; provided that such reduction or elimination shall not increase the Management Fee payable by any other Partner (or Capital Account).
- (b) To the extent the General Partner or the Partnership is required by law (including under circumstances where the General Partner or the Partnership is unable to rely conclusively on any withholding certification provided by a Partner) to withhold or to make tax payments on behalf of or with respect to any Partner or Partners (including backup withholding or withholding under FATCA), the General Partner or the Partnership may withhold such amounts and make such tax payments as so required. If the Partnership pays or incurs any withholding tax or other tax obligation (including under FATCA) with respect to the income allocable or distributable to one or more Partners, then the amount of such withholding tax or tax obligation shall be treated as a distribution to such Partner or Partners, as applicable, pursuant to the terms of this Agreement. Such amount shall be debited against the Capital Account(s) of such Partner or Partners as of the close of the Accounting Period during which the Partnership so withholds, pays or incurs such obligation. If the amount so withheld, paid or incurred is greater than the balance of the Capital Account(s) of the relevant Partner or Partners, as applicable, then such Partner or Partners and any successors shall make a contribution to the capital of the Partnership, within 10 days following request by the General Partner, the amount of such excess. The General Partner is not obligated to apply for or obtain a reduction of or exemption from withholding tax on behalf of any Partner that may be eligible for such reduction or exemption, or be otherwise obligated to structure Investments so as to reduce or avoid any such withholding tax.

- (c) Except as otherwise provided for in this Agreement, any expenditures payable by the Partnership, to the extent determined by the General Partner to have been paid or withheld on behalf of, or by reason of particular circumstances applicable to, one or more but fewer than all of the Partners, shall be specially allocated only to the Capital Accounts of those Partners on whose behalf such payments are made or whose particular circumstances gave rise to such payments. Such allocations shall be debited from the relevant Capital Accounts of such Partners as of the close of the Accounting Period during which any such items were accrued by the Partnership.

3.6 Reserves; Adjustments for Certain Future Events

- (a) The General Partner may cause appropriate reserves to be created, accrued and charged against Net Assets and proportionately against the Capital Accounts for contingent liabilities or probable losses, such reserves to be in the amounts which the General Partner deems necessary or appropriate. The General Partner may increase or reduce any such reserve from time to time by such amounts as the General Partner deems necessary or appropriate. The amount of any such reserve, or any increase or decrease therein, may, at the election of the General Partner, be debited or credited, as the General Partner deems appropriate, to the Capital Accounts of current Partners that (i) are Partners at the time when such reserve is created, increased, or decreased, as the case may be, or (ii) were Partners, or are transferees from Persons who were Partners, at the time of the act or omission giving rise to the contingent liability for which the reserve has been established by the General Partner.

- (b) If the General Partner determines that it is equitable to treat an amount to be paid or received as being applicable to one or more prior periods, then all or a portion of such amount may be proportionately debited or credited, as appropriate, in proportion to the Capital Account balances of the current Partners as such balances existed during any such prior period.

3.7 Performance Allocation

- (a) The Performance Allocation shall be debited against each Capital Account of each Limited Partner as of the last day of each Calculation Period with respect to such Capital Account, and the amount so debited shall simultaneously be credited to the Capital Account of the Investment Manager, as a special Limited Partner of the Partnership.
- (b) The Investment Manager may waive or alter the Performance Allocation with respect to any Limited Partner.

3.8 Limited Participation Investments and New Issues

- (a) If the General Partner determines that for legal, tax, regulatory or bona fide other reasons as to which the General Partner and any Partner may agree such Partner should not participate (or should receive a reduced participation) in the Net Profit or Net Loss with respect to any Investment, the General Partner may allocate Net Profit or Net Loss, if any, with respect to such Investment only to Partners to whom the restrictions on participating in that Investment do not apply. In order to allocate Net Profit or Net Loss accordingly, the General Partner may establish and maintain a memorandum account in the accounting records of the Partnership on a Partner-by-Partner basis with respect to each such Investment. The Net Profit and Net Loss and expenses relating to such Investment will be separately calculated and allocated based on each participating Partner's balance in such memorandum account for such Investment divided by the sum of the balances of all memorandum accounts for all participating Partners. In order to compensate a Limited Partner who is not participating in an Investment pursuant to this Section 3.8 for the use of such Partner's share of Partnership capital to purchase the Investment, the General Partner may credit the non-participating Partner's Capital Account (and correspondingly debit the Capital Account of the participating Partners with a carrying charge). Any distributions from the memorandum account will be based on the participating Partner's respective percentage interest in such Investment.
- (b) Pursuant to certain rules of FINRA ("New Issue Rules"), members of FINRA are permitted to sell to the Partnership certain publicly-offered securities ("Restricted Issues") only if the Capital Accounts of Partners connected with the securities industry or executive officers or directors of investment banking clients of underwriters ("Restricted Capital Accounts") are not restricted from sharing a beneficial interest in such Restricted Issues in accordance with the provisions of the New Issue Rules. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 3.4, if the Partnership chooses to invest in Restricted Issues, the Partnership shall not allocate any items of income, gain, loss, deduction and credit that relate to investments in Restricted Issues to Restricted Capital Accounts except to the extent permitted by the New Issue Rules, and shall instead allocate such items among the other Capital Accounts on a pro rata basis. To the extent the New Issue Rules permit certain Persons with Restricted Capital Accounts to participate in profits and losses from Restricted Issues, the General Partner shall allocate such profits and losses from Restricted Issues among such Restricted Capital Accounts on a pro rata basis or on such other basis that the General Partner reasonably determines ensures compliance with the New Issue Rules. To the extent consistent with the New Issue Rules, the General Partner shall determine when all Capital Accounts may participate in the Net Profit and Net Loss from any Restricted Issue. The General Partner shall value any Restricted Issue at such time at the then-current price of the security in the secondary market.

3.9 Allocation to Avoid Capital Account Deficits

To the extent that any debits pursuant to this Article III would reduce the balance of the Capital Account of any Limited Partner below zero, that portion of any such debits shall instead be allocated to the Capital Account of the General Partner. Any credits in any subsequent Accounting Period which would otherwise be allocable pursuant to this Article III to a Capital Account of any Limited Partner previously affected by the application of this Section 3.9 shall instead be allocated to the Capital Account of the General Partner in such amounts as are necessary to offset all previous debits attributable to such Limited Partner pursuant to this Section 3.9 not previously recovered.

3.10 Regulatory Allocations

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement:

- (a) Qualified Income Offset. In the event any Limited Partner unexpectedly receives any adjustments, allocations, or distributions described in Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(4), 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(5), or 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(6) of the Regulations, items of Partnership income and gain shall be specially allocated to each such Limited Partner in an amount and manner sufficient to eliminate, to the extent required by the Regulations, the deficit balance in the Capital Account of such Limited Partner as quickly as possible; provided that an allocation pursuant to this Section 3.10(a) may be made only if and to the extent that such Limited Partner would have a deficit balance in its Capital Account after all other allocations provided for in this Article III have been tentatively made as if this Section 3.10(a) were not in this Agreement. This Section 3.10(a) is intended to constitute a “qualified income offset” within the meaning of Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii) of the Regulations and is to be interpreted consistently therewith.
- (b) Minimum Gain Chargeback. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Section 3.10, if there is a net decrease in Partnership Minimum Gain during any Fiscal Year, the Partners shall be specially allocated items of Partnership income and gain for such Fiscal Year (and, if necessary, subsequent Fiscal Years) in an amount equal to the portion of any such Partner's share of the net decrease in Partnership Minimum Gain, determined in accordance with Regulations Sections 1.704-2(f) and (g). This Section 3.10(b) is intended to comply with the minimum gain chargeback requirement in such Sections of the Regulations and shall be interpreted consistently therewith.

- (c) Gross Income Allocation. In the event any Limited Partner has a deficit Capital Account at the end of any Fiscal Year that is in excess of the sum of (i) the amount such Limited Partner is obligated to restore pursuant to any provision of this Agreement and (ii) the amount such Limited Partner is deemed to be obligated to restore pursuant to the penultimate sentences of Sections 1.704-2(g)(1) and 1.704-2(i)(5) of the Regulations, each such Limited Partner shall be specially allocated items of Partnership gross income and gain in the amount of such excess as quickly as possible; provided that an allocation pursuant to this Section 3.10(c) may be made only if and to the extent that such Limited Partner would have a deficit Capital Account in excess of such sum after all other allocations provided for in this Article III have been made as if Section 3.10(a) and this Section 3.10(c) were not in this Agreement.
- (d) Curative Allocations. The allocations set forth this Section 3.10 (the "Regulatory Allocations") are intended to comply with certain requirements of the Regulations. It is the intent of the Partners that, to the extent possible, all Regulatory Allocations shall be offset either with other Regulatory Allocations or with special allocations of other items of Partnership income, gain, loss, or deduction pursuant to this Section 3.10. Therefore, notwithstanding any other provision of this Article III (other than the Regulatory Allocations), the General Partner shall make such offsetting special allocations of the Partnership income, gain, loss, or deduction in whatever manner it determines appropriate so that, after such offsetting allocations are made, each Partner's Capital Account balance is, to the extent possible, equal to the Capital Account balance such Partner would have had if the Regulatory Allocations were not part of this Partnership Agreement and all Partnership items were allocated pursuant to other provisions of this Article III (other than the Regulatory Allocations).
- (e) Nonrecourse Deductions. Any Nonrecourse Deductions for any Fiscal Year or other period shall be allocated to the Partners in accordance with their Partnership Percentages.
- (f) Section 704(b) Compliance. The allocations provided in this Section 3.10 are intended to comply with the Regulations under Section 704(b) of the Code and may, as determined by the General Partner, be interpreted and applied in a manner consistent therewith.

3.11 Allocations for Income Tax Purposes

- (a) Income Tax Allocations. Except as otherwise required by Code Section 704(c), items of income, gain, deduction, loss, or credit that are recognized for U.S. federal income tax purposes in each Fiscal Year shall be allocated among the Partners in such manner as to reflect equitably amounts credited to or debited against each Partner's Capital Account, whether in such Fiscal Year or in prior Fiscal Years. To this end, the Partnership shall establish and maintain records which shall show the extent to which the Capital Account of each Partner comprises amounts that have not been reflected in the taxable income of such Partner as of the last day of each Fiscal Year. To the extent deemed by the General Partner to be feasible and equitable, taxable income and gains in each Fiscal Year shall be allocated among the Partners who have enjoyed the related credits to their Capital Accounts, and items of deduction, loss and credit in each Fiscal Year shall be allocated among the Partners who have borne the burden of the related debits to their Capital Accounts. Foreign tax credits attributable to taxes incurred by the Partnership shall be allocated in a manner consistent with Section 1.704-1(b)(4)(viii) of the Regulations. All matters concerning allocations for U.S. federal, state and/or local income tax purposes, including accounting procedures, not expressly provided for in this Agreement shall be determined by the General Partner.

- (b) Basis Adjustments. To the extent an adjustment to the adjusted tax basis of any Partnership asset pursuant to Section 734(b) of the Code or Section 743(b) of the Code is required under Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(m) of the Regulations to be taken into account in determining Capital Accounts, the amount of such adjustment to the Capital Accounts shall be treated as an item of gain (if the adjustment increases the basis of the asset) or loss (if the adjustment decreases such basis) and such gain or loss shall be specially allocated to the Partners in a manner consistent with the manner in which their Capital Accounts are required to be adjusted pursuant to such Section of the Regulations; provided that in the event that an adjustment to the book value of Partnership property is made as a result of an adjustment pursuant to Section 734(b) of the Code, items of income, gain, loss, or deduction, as computed for book and tax purposes, shall be specially allocated among the Partners so that the effect of any such adjustment shall benefit (or be borne by) the Partner(s) receiving the distribution that caused such adjustment.
- (c) Positive Basis Allocations. If the Partnership recognized gains or items of gross income (including short-term capital gain) from the sale of Partnership assets for U.S. federal income tax purposes for any Fiscal Year in which one or more Positive Basis Partners withdraws from the Partnership pursuant to Section 5.5, the General Partner may elect: (i) to allocate such gains or items of gross income among such Positive Basis Partners, pro rata in proportion to the respective Positive Basis of each such Positive Basis Partner, until either the full amount of such gains or items of gross income shall have been so allocated or the Positive Basis of each such Positive Basis Partner shall have been eliminated; and (ii) to allocate any gains or items of gross income not so allocated to Positive Basis Partners to the other Partners in such manner that reflects equitably the amounts credited to such Partners' Capital Accounts pursuant to Section 3.3; provided, however, that if, following such Fiscal Year, the Partnership recognizes gains or items of gross income from a sale of an Investment the proceeds of which are designated on the Partnership's books and records as being used to effect payment of all or part of the liquidating share of any Positive Basis Partner, that continues to be a Partner in the Partnership following such withdrawal (i.e., such Positive Basis Partner effected a partial, and not a complete, withdrawal of its Interest), then such Positive Basis Partner may be allocated an amount of such gains or items of gross income equal to the amount, if any, by which its or its Positive Basis as of the Withdrawal Date exceeds the amount allocated to such Partner pursuant to clause (i) of this Section 3.11(c).

- (d) Negative Basis Allocations. If the Partnership recognizes net losses or items of gross loss or deduction (including short-term capital loss) from the sale of Partnership assets for U.S. federal income tax purposes for any Fiscal Year in which one or more Negative Basis Partners withdraws from the Partnership pursuant to Section 5.5, the General Partner may elect: (i) to allocate such net losses or items of gross loss or deduction among such Negative Basis Partners, pro rata in proportion to the respective Negative Basis of each such Negative Basis Partner, until either the full amount of such losses or items of loss or deduction shall have been so allocated or the Negative Basis of each such Negative Basis Partner has been eliminated; and (ii) to allocate any net losses or items of gross loss or deduction not so allocated to Negative Basis Partners to the other Partners in such manner that reflects equitably the amounts credited to such Partners' Capital Accounts pursuant to Section 3.3; provided, however, that if, following such Fiscal Year, the Partnership recognizes net losses or items of gross loss and deduction from a sale of an Investment the proceeds of which are designated on the Partnership's books and records as being used to effect payment of all or part of the liquidating share of any Negative Basis Partner that continues to be a Partner in the Partnership following such withdrawal (i.e., such Negative Basis Partner effected a partial, and not a complete, withdrawal of its Interest), there may be allocated to such Negative Basis Partner an amount of such net losses or items of gross loss or deduction equal to the amount, if any, by which its or its Negative Basis as of the Withdrawal Date exceeds the amount allocated to such Partner pursuant to clause (i) of this Section 3.11(d).

3.12 Individual Partner's Tax Treatment

Each Partner agrees not to treat, on any U.S. federal, state, local and/or non-U.S. income tax return or in any claim for a refund, any item of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit in a manner inconsistent with the treatment of such item by the Partnership or which would result in inconsistent treatment, and each Partner further agrees to treat, on any U.S. federal, state, local and/or non-U.S. income tax return in any claim for a refund, any item of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit in a manner consistent with the treatment of such item by the Partnership.

3.13 Distributions

- (a) The Partnership shall make distributions in respect of withdrawals in accordance with Section 5.5 and liquidation in accordance with Section 6.3. In addition, the General Partner may make other distributions at the times and in the amounts the General Partner determines. Any distributions may be paid in cash, in kind or partly in cash and partly in kind.

- (b) Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in this Agreement, the Partnership, and the General Partner on behalf of the Partnership, may not make a distribution to any Partner on any account of its Interest if such distribution would violate Section 17-607 of the Act or other applicable law.

Article IV MANAGEMENT

4.1 Duties and Powers of the General Partner

- (a) Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, the General Partner has complete and exclusive power and responsibility, to the fullest extent permitted by the Act, for (i) all investment and investment management decisions to be undertaken on behalf of the Partnership and (ii) managing and administering the affairs of the Partnership, and shall have the power and authority to do all things that the General Partner considers necessary or desirable to carry out its duties hereunder and to achieve the purposes of the Partnership, whether or not such action or authority is expressly provided for in this Agreement. Without limiting the foregoing generality, the General Partner's powers include the power to borrow, obtain leverage or otherwise incur indebtedness with respect to the Partnership's capital.
- (b) Without limiting the generality of the General Partner's duties and powers hereunder and notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, the General Partner has full power and authority, subject to the other terms and provisions of this Agreement, to execute, deliver and perform such contracts, agreements and other undertakings on behalf of the Partnership, without the consent or approval of any other Person, and to engage in all activities and transactions, as it may deem necessary or advisable for, or as may be incidental to, the conduct of the business contemplated by this Section 4.1.
- (c) The General Partner may delegate to any other Person, including the Investment Manager, any power and authority vested in the General Partner pursuant to this Agreement.
- (d) The General Partner is the "tax matters partner" for purposes of Section 6231(a)(7) of the Code. The General Partner has the exclusive authority in its determination to make any elections required or permitted to be made by the Partnership under any provisions of the Code or any other revenue laws. The General Partner shall be entitled to be reimbursed by the Partnership for all costs and expenses incurred by it in connection with any administrative or judicial proceeding affecting tax matters of the Partnership and/or the Partners in their capacity as such and to be indemnified by the Partnership (solely out of Partnership assets) with respect to any action brought against it in connection with any judgment in or settlement of any such proceeding.

- (e) Every power vested in the General Partner pursuant to this Agreement and any decision or determination that it is permitted to make is to be construed as a power to act (or not to act) in its sole and absolute discretion, except as otherwise expressly provided herein, and the General Partner shall be entitled to consider in making such decisions or determinations only such interests and factors as it desires, including its own interests. No provision of this Agreement is to be construed to require the General Partner to violate the Act, the Advisers Act, or any other law, regulation or rule of any self-regulatory organization. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, whenever in this Agreement, the General Partner is permitted or required to make a decision in its “good faith” or under another expressed standard, the General Partner must act under such express standard and will not be subject to any other or different standards.
- (f) Each Limited Partner shall deliver to the General Partner, upon a reasonable request, (i) an affidavit or certificate in form satisfactory to the General Partner that is sufficient to establish that the applicable Partner (and its partners, members, and/or beneficial owners, as the case may be) is not subject to withholding under the provisions of any U.S. federal, state, local, non-U.S. or other tax laws, or with respect to such Partner’s tax status under such laws, and (ii) any information or documentation prescribed under FATCA or as may be necessary, as reasonably determined by the General Partner, for the Partnership to comply with its obligations under FATCA (including, but not limited to, information with respect to citizenship, residency, ownership or control of such Partner). Each Limited Partner shall reasonably cooperate with the General Partner in connection with any tax audit of the Partnership, or any existing or former Investment.

4.2 Expenses

- (a) Except as otherwise provided herein, and in consideration of the Management Fee, the General Partner and the Investment Manager shall each pay all of its own operating and overhead costs, without reimbursement by the Partnership.
- (b) The Partnership shall pay, or reimburse the General Partner and the Investment Manager for, all other reasonable costs, fees and expenses arising in connection with the Partnership’s operations. Such expenses payable by the Partnership include the following:
  - (i) all costs, fees and expenses directly related to Investments or prospective Investments (whether or not consummated) of the Partnership, including research and due diligence costs related to an Investment; brokerage commissions and other execution and transaction costs, interest on, and commitment fees and expenses arising out of, debit balances or borrowings; exchange, clearing and settlement charges; fees and expenses of any third-party providers of “back office” and “middle office” services relating to trade settlement; travel expenses; appraisal fees; investment banking fees and expenses; borrowing charges on Investments sold short; custody fees; and fees of consultants and finders relating to Investments or prospective Investments of the Partnership; the costs, fees and expenses of any appraisers, accountants or other experts engaged by the General Partner or the Investment Manager as well as other expenses directly related to the Partnership's Investments;

- (ii) any withholding, transfer or other taxes imposed on the Partnership;
- (iii) the reasonable, out-of-pocket fees, costs and expenses (including legal fees and expenses) incurred to comply with any applicable law, rule or regulation (including regulatory filings or other expenses of the Partnership and the pro rata portion of any regulatory and other expenses of the General Partner or the Investment Manager, which benefit or are attributable to the Partnership);
- (iv) the reasonable, out-of-pocket costs, fees and expenses for financial and tax accounting, bookkeeping and reporting services, and administrative services performed by any Person on behalf of the Partnership (e.g., the administrator of the Partnership), including the cost of any audit of the Partnership's financial statements and the preparation of its tax returns (including with respect to FATCA compliance);
- (v) Management Fees;
- (vi) the reasonable, out-of-pocket costs, fees and expenses of legal counsel and any other litigation or investigation involving Partnership activities;
- (vii) specific expenses incurred in obtaining, maintaining or performing systems, research and other information, including information service subscriptions, utilized with respect to the Partnership's Investments including without limitation for portfolio management, valuations and accounting purposes, including the costs of statistics and pricing services, service contracts for quotation equipment and related hardware, software, phone and internet charges;
- (viii) the reasonable, out-of-pocket costs, fees and expenses associated with the Recent Amendments, including legal and accounting fees, printing costs, reporting and providing information to existing and prospective Partners, obtaining requisite consent from Limited Partners, travel fees and expenses related to the Partnership's offering, filing fees (including any "blue sky" filing fees) and other out-of-pocket expenses and compliance with any applicable federal and state laws;
- (ix) the costs and expenses associated with meetings of Partners;

- (x) the expenses of the Advisory Committee and the members thereof, including any indemnification expenses;
  - (xi) the costs associated with maintaining “directors and officers” or similar liability insurance for the benefit of the Partnership, the General Partner, the Investment Manager, or any other Indemnified Person; and
  - (xii) any costs or expenses of winding up and liquidating the Partnership and
  - (xiii) all costs, fees and expenses associated with the ongoing offering of Limited Partner Interests.
- (c) Expenses with respect to Section 4.2(b)(viii) above will be amortized by the Partnership over a period of 36 months from the Effective Date; however, the General Partner may limit the amount of expenses amortized so that the Partnership’s audited financial statements do not contain qualification.
- (d) Except as otherwise provided elsewhere in this Agreement, including Sections 3.4, 3.5, 3.6, 3.8 and 5.5(i), expenses are generally borne pro rata by the Partners in accordance with their respective Partnership Percentages.
- (e) If the General Partner or the Investment Manager, as appropriate, incurs any Partnership expenses for the account or for the benefit of, or in connection with its activities or those of its Affiliates on behalf of, both the Partnership and any Other Account, the General Partner or the Investment Manager, as appropriate, shall allocate such expense among the Partnership and each such Other Account in proportion to the size of the Investment made by each in the activity or entity to which the expense relates, or in such other manner as the General Partner considers fair and reasonable.
- (f) The General Partner and the Investment Manager may, to the extent disclosed in the Partnership’s offering memorandum or otherwise disclosed to the Limited Partners, use “soft dollars” generated by the Partnership. Use of “soft dollars” by the General Partner or the Investment Manager as disclosed herein shall not constitute a breach by either the General Partner or the Investment Manager of any fiduciary or other duty which the General Partner or the Investment Manager may be deemed to owe to the Partnership or its Partners.

4.3 Rights of Limited Partners

The Limited Partners may not take any part in the management, control or operation of the Partnership’s business, and have no right or authority to act for the Partnership or to vote on matters other than the matters set forth in this Agreement or as required by applicable law.

4.4 Other Activities of Partners

- (a) The General Partner is not required to devote any specific amount of its time to the affairs of the Partnership, but shall devote such of its time to the business and affairs of the Partnership as it may determine to be necessary to conduct the affairs of the Partnership for the benefit of the Partnership and the Partners.

- (b) Each Partner acknowledges and agrees that the General Partner, its Affiliates and their respective partners, managers, directors, officers, shareholders, members or employees may engage in or possess an interest in other business ventures or commercial dealings of every kind and description, independently or with others, including, but not limited to, management of other accounts, investment in, or financing, acquisition and disposition of, Investments, investment and management counseling, brokerage services, serving as directors, officers, advisers or agents of other issuers, partners of any partnership, or trustee of any trust, or entering into any other commercial arrangements, whether or not any such activities may conflict with any interest of the parties with respect to the Partnership. Without in any way limiting the foregoing, each Partner hereby acknowledges that none of the General Partner, its Affiliates or their respective partners, managers, directors, officers, shareholders, members or employees shall have any obligation or responsibility to disclose or refer any of the investment or other opportunities obtained through activities contemplated by this Section 4.4(b) to the Partnership, but may refer the same to any other party or keep such opportunities for their own benefit.
- (c) The General Partner and its Affiliates shall act in a manner that each considers fair, reasonable and equitable on an overall basis in allocating investment opportunities to the Partnership and any Other Account. The General Partner and its Affiliates shall allocate investment opportunities as set forth in their policies and procedures, as may be amended from time to time, and as communicated to Limited Partners through the Partnership's private offering memorandum for Interests or otherwise.
- (d) Each of the Partners hereby waives and covenants not to sue on the basis of any law (statutory, common law or otherwise) respecting the rights and obligations of the Partners inter se which is or may be inconsistent with this Section 4.4.

4.5 Exculpation; Indemnification

- (a) The General Partner, the Investment Manager, any of their Affiliates, each direct or indirect member, manager, partner, director, officer, shareholder and employee of any of the foregoing and, with the approval of the General Partner, any agent of any of the foregoing (including their respective executors, heirs, assigns, successors or other legal representatives) (each an "Indemnified Person") shall not be liable to the Partnership or to any of the Limited Partners for any loss or damage occasioned by any acts or omissions in the performance of services under this Agreement or the Investment Management Agreement, or otherwise in connection with the Partnership, its Investments or operations, unless such loss or damage has occurred by reason of the willful misconduct, fraud or gross negligence of such Indemnified Person or as otherwise required by law; provided that nothing in this Agreement is to be construed as waiving any legal rights or remedies which the Partnership may have under state or federal securities laws.

- (b) The Partnership (but not the Partners individually) shall indemnify each Indemnified Person to the fullest extent permitted by law against any cost, expense (including reasonable attorneys' fees), judgment or liability incurred by or imposed upon it in connection with any action, suit or proceeding (including any proceeding before any judicial, administrative or legislative body or agency) to which it may be made a party or otherwise be involved or with which it shall be threatened by reason of being or having been General Partner, having been the Investment Manager pursuant to the Investment Management Agreement or its having provided services to the Partnership; provided that the Indemnified Person is not so indemnified to the extent such cost, expense, judgment or liability has been finally determined (i) in a non-appealable decision on the merits in any such action, suit or proceeding, or (ii) on a plea of nolo contendere, to have been incurred or suffered by the Indemnified Person solely by reason of willful misconduct, fraud or gross negligence by the Indemnified Person.
- (i) The right to indemnification granted by this Section 4.5 shall be in addition to any rights to which the Indemnified Person may otherwise be entitled and shall inure to the benefit of the successors or assigns of such Indemnified Person. The Partnership shall pay the expenses incurred by the Indemnified Person in defending a civil or criminal action, suit or proceeding in advance of the final disposition of such action, suit or proceeding, upon receipt of an undertaking by the Indemnified Person to repay such payment if there is an adjudication or determination that it is not entitled to indemnification as provided herein; provided that no such advance shall be made in connection with any action brought by a Majority-in-Interest of the Limited Partners.
- (ii) In any suit in the name of the Partnership to recover expenses advanced pursuant to the terms of an undertaking, the Partnership shall be entitled to recover such expenses upon a final adjudication that the Indemnified Person or other Person claiming a right to indemnification hereunder has not met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in Section 4.5(a). In any such suit brought to enforce a right to indemnification or to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking, the burden of proving that the Indemnified Person or other Person claiming a right to indemnification shall not be entitled to be indemnified, or to an advancement of expenses, hereunder shall be on the Partnership (or any Limited Partner acting derivatively or otherwise on behalf of the Partnership or the Limited Partners) unless otherwise required by applicable law.
- (iii) Each Indemnified Person may not satisfy any right of indemnity or reimbursement granted in this Section 4.5 or to which it may be otherwise entitled except out of the assets of the Partnership, and no Partner shall be personally liable with respect to any such claim for indemnity or reimbursement. The General Partner may obtain appropriate insurance on behalf, and at the expense, of the Partnership to secure the Partnership's obligations hereunder.

- (iv) Nothing in this Agreement is to be construed as to provide for the indemnification of an Indemnified Person for any liability (including liability under U.S. federal securities laws) to the extent that such indemnification would be in violation of applicable law but is to be construed so as to effectuate this Section 4.5 to the fullest extent permitted by law.
- (v) Each Indemnified Person shall be deemed a third-party beneficiary (to the extent not a direct party hereto) of this Agreement and, in particular, the provisions of this Section 4.5. The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may enter into agreements on behalf of the Partnership with an Indemnified Person to provide an indemnity to the same extent provided in this Section 4.5.

4.6 Advisory Committee

- (a) The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may appoint a committee (the “Advisory Committee”) composed of one or more individuals selected from time to time by the General Partner. No member of the Advisory Committee may be an Affiliate of the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager (except as a Limited Partner or as an investor in an Affiliate of the Partnership).
- (b) If established, the Advisory Committee will meet with the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager from time to time as requested by and deemed appropriate by the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager to consult with and advise the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager on any matter deemed appropriate by the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager, including any circumstances involving conflicts of interest between the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager (and their Affiliates), on the one hand, and the Limited Partners and the Partnership, on the other.
- (c) The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may in its discretion seek the approval of the Advisory Committee or establish any other reasonable mechanism in connection with (i) approvals that are or would be required under the Investment Advisers Act (including Section 206(3)) or (ii) any other matter deemed appropriate by the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager. Each Limited Partner agrees that, except as otherwise specifically provided herein and to the extent permitted by applicable law, the approval of a majority of the members of the Advisory Committee at such time is binding upon the Partnership and each Partner with respect to any approval sought under this Section 4.6(c).
- (d) As determined by the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager, meetings of the Advisory Committee may be held in person or by telephone. Approval of the Advisory Committee is deemed to have been given if given by a majority of those members present at a meeting or by a majority of all members of the Advisory Committee if given pursuant to a written consent without a meeting.

- (e) The Partnership agrees to reimburse members of the Advisory Committee for their out-of-pocket expenses relating to their services as Advisory Committee members and to indemnify each Advisory Committee member to the maximum extent permitted by law
- (f) In the event an Advisory Committee is not appointed, the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may obtain the approval of an unaffiliated third party, as is determined advisable by the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager, and any such approval by such third party shall, to the extent permitted under applicable law, serve as the approval of the Advisory Committee and shall be binding on the Partnership and the Limited Partners.

4.7 Alternative Investment Vehicles

The General Partner shall have the right in connection with any Investment to direct the capital contributions of some or all of the Partners to be made through one or more alternative investment vehicles (“Alternative Investment Vehicles”) and to exchange a portion of the Interests of one or more Limited Partners for similar equity interests in one or more Alternative Investment Vehicles if, in the judgment of the General Partner, the use of such vehicle or vehicles would allow the Partnership to overcome legal or regulatory constraints or invest in a more tax efficient manner and/or would facilitate participation in certain types of Investments; provided that the General Partner shall not employ the use of an Alternative Investment Vehicle in any manner that would reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the participating Limited Partners. Any Alternative Investment Vehicle shall contain terms and conditions substantially similar to those of the Partnership and shall be managed by the General Partner or an Affiliate thereof, and such controlling Person is required to comply with the provisions of this Agreement applicable to Alternative Investment Vehicles. Expenses related to an Alternative Investment Vehicle on behalf of less than all of the Partners shall not be borne by the Partners that do not participate in such Alternative Investment Vehicle.

Article V ADMISSIONS, TRANSFERS AND WITHDRAWALS

5.1 Admission of Limited Partners

The General Partner may, at such times as the General Partner may determine, without advance notice to or consent from the Limited Partners, admit to the Partnership any Person who executes this Agreement or any other writing evidencing the intent of such Person to become a Limited Partner. Such admission shall be effective when the General Partner enters the name of such Person on the books and records of the Partnership as a Partner and does not require the consent or approval of any other Partner. The General Partner has the authority to reject subscriptions for Interests in whole or in part.

5.2 Admission of Additional General Partners

- (a) Except as provided in Section 5.2(b), the General Partner may admit one or more Persons as additional general partners to the Partnership. No additional general partner shall be added unless such additional general partner agrees to be bound by all of the terms of this Agreement.

- (b) Any Person to whom the General Partner has transferred its general partner interest in accordance with Section 5.4 shall be admitted to the Partnership as a substitute General Partner without the consent of the Limited Partners unless otherwise provided for in Section 5.4.

5.3 Transfer of Interests of Limited Partners

- (a) No Transfer of any Limited Partner's Interest, whether voluntary or involuntary, shall be valid or effective, and no transferee may become a substituted Limited Partner, unless the prior written consent of the General Partner has been obtained, which consent may be granted, withheld or conditioned for any reason by the General Partner. Any attempted Transfer not made in accordance with this Section 5.3, to the fullest extent permitted by law, shall be void ab initio.
- (b) Prior to recognizing any Transfer in accordance with this Section 5.3, the General Partner may require the transferring Limited Partner to execute and acknowledge an instrument of Transfer in form and substance satisfactory to the General Partner, and may require the transferee to make certain representations and warranties to the Partnership and Partners and to accept, adopt and approve in writing all of the terms and provisions of this Agreement.
- (c) In the event of a Transfer of a Partner's Interest or in the event of a distribution of assets of the Partnership to any Partner, the Partnership may, but shall not be required to, file an election under Section 754 of the Code and in accordance with the applicable Regulations, to cause the basis of the Partnership's assets to be adjusted for U.S. federal income tax purposes as provided by Section 734 or 743 of the Code.
- (d) In the event of a Transfer at any time other than the end of a Fiscal Year, items of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit recognized by the Partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes shall be allocated between the transferring parties, as determined by the General Partner, using any permissible method under Code Section 706(d) and the Regulations thereunder. To the extent the transferring parties have given the General Partner written notice prior to the consent by the General Partner pursuant to Section 5.3(a) of their agreement to apply a particular and reasonable method, then the General Partner may elect to use such method. The transferring parties agree to reimburse the General Partner and the Partnership for any incidental accounting fees and other expenses incurred by the General Partner and the Partnership in making allocations pursuant to this Section 5.3(d).

5.4 Transfer of Interest of the General Partner

The General Partner may Transfer its Interest as a General Partner in the Partnership; provided that if any such proposed Transfer would result in an "assignment" (as such term is defined under the Advisers Act), the General Partner shall obtain the consent of Limited Partners constituting a Majority-in-Interest of Limited Partners that are not Affiliated Investors.

5.5 Withdrawal of Interests of Partners

- (a) The Interest of a Limited Partner may not be withdrawn from the Partnership prior to its dissolution except as provided in this Section 5.5.
- (b) Withdrawal rights are determined separately with respect to each Capital Account (and each capital sub-account, if applicable). Each capital contribution shall be accounted for using a separate capital sub-account, and, in the case of a Limited Partner for which more than one capital sub-account is maintained, the withdrawals from any such capital sub-accounts shall be processed on a “first-in, first-out” basis based upon the date on which each capital contribution was made, unless otherwise agreed between the General Partner and such Partner. Each capital sub-account relating to a contribution of capital from a Limited Partner will be treated as if it were the separate Capital Account of a separate Partner for the purposes of applying the withdrawal provisions of this Section 5.5.
- (c) Subject to a Suspension and the other provisions of this Section 5.5:
  - (i) A Limited Partner may make a complete or partial withdrawal from its Series A Capital Account effective on the last Business Day of each calendar quarter occurring at least 36 calendar months after the contribution of the capital to be withdrawn (each, a “Series A Withdrawal Date”) by providing written notice to the General Partner at least 90 days prior to the proposed Series A Withdrawal Date (such restriction, the “Series A Lock-Up”). For purposes of calculating the Series A Lock-Up, each Limited Partner holding Series A Interests on of the Effective Date is deemed to have made its initial contribution for Series A Interests as of the Effective Date. Additional contributions for Series A Interests after the Effective Date will also be subject to the Series A Lock-Up, which lock-up period shall commence on the date of each such additional contribution.
  - (ii) A Limited Partner may make a complete or partial withdrawal from its Series B Capital Account upon written notice to the General Partner at least 180 days prior to the applicable Series B Withdrawal Date. The “Series B Withdrawal Date” means: (i) the end of the day on the last Business Day of the calendar month that immediately precedes the one-year anniversary of the contribution of the capital to be withdrawn; and thereafter (ii) the end of the day on each one-year anniversary of the preceding Series B Withdrawal Date (or the last Business Day of such month).
  - (iii) A Limited Partner may make a complete or partial withdrawal from its Series C Capital Account upon written notice to the General Partner at least 180 days prior to the applicable Series C Withdrawal Date. The “Series C Withdrawal Date” means: (i) the end of the day on the last Business Day of the calendar month that immediately precedes the two-year anniversary of the contribution of the capital to be withdrawn; and thereafter (ii) the end of the day on each two-year anniversary of the preceding Series C Withdrawal Date (or the last Business Day of such month).

- (iv) A Limited Partner may make a complete or partial withdrawal from its Series D Capital Account effective on the last Business Day of each calendar quarter (each, a “Series D Withdrawal Date”) occurring at least 12 calendar months after the contribution of the capital to be withdrawn by providing written notice to the General Partner at least 90 days prior to the proposed Series D Withdrawal Date.
- (d) Any notice of withdrawal shall be irrevocable by the Limited Partner, unless otherwise agreed by the General Partner. For the avoidance of doubt, if a Limited Partner notifies the General Partner of its intent to withdraw and later chooses not to withdraw (with the General Partner’s consent), any transaction costs incurred by the Partnership or the General Partner in connection therewith may be charged to such withdrawing Limited Partner. The General Partner may refuse to honor any Limited Partner’s request for a full or partial withdrawal if such request is not accompanied by such additional information as the General Partner may reasonably require, including any information required to determine the “adjusted basis” for U.S. federal income tax purposes in the Limited Partner’s Interest withdrawn.
- (e) With respect to any amounts withdrawn, a withdrawing Partner shall not share in the income, gains and losses of the Partnership or have any other rights as a Partner (in the case of a complete withdrawal) after the applicable Withdrawal Date, and withdrawn amounts will be fixed as of the applicable Withdrawal Date, except as provided in Section 3.6. For the avoidance of doubt, none of the Partnership, the General Partner or the Investment Manager shall be liable to a Limited Partner for interest on the proceeds of any withdrawal.
- (f) At least 90% of the estimated amount due with respect to the Partnership’s marketable investments is normally settled in cash or, subject to the sole discretion of the General Partner, wholly or partially with securities or other assets of the Partnership, within 30 Business Days after the Withdrawal Date, provided that the General Partner may delay such payment if such delay is reasonably necessary to prevent such withdrawal from having a material adverse impact on the Partnership or the remaining Capital Accounts. The General Partner is entitled to deduct from such settlement payment an amount equal to the pro rata portion of any Performance Allocation (based on the portion of the withdrawal being settled) payable to the Investment Manager with respect to such withdrawn amount. Any balance will be held back and distributed, without interest thereon, promptly following completion of the audit of the Partnership’s financial statements for such Fiscal Year, or sooner in the General Partner’s discretion.
- (g) In the case of a complete withdrawal, or a partial withdrawal that cannot be fully funded out of the Limited Partner’s interest in the Partnership’s marketable investments, no settlements occur with respect to any of such Limited Partner's interest in the Partnership's non-marketable investments until the occurrence of liquidity events with respect to such non-marketable investments after the scheduled payment date for the withdrawal (without interest thereon). Notwithstanding the foregoing, the General Partner may, however, make settlements in such cases prior to the occurrence of a liquidity event if such settlement would, in the good faith opinion of the General Partner, not have a material adverse effect on the Partnership. Generally, a liquidity event will be a sale of the relevant investment for cash, in which case the settlement will be funded in cash within 90 days after the liquidity event (without interest). If the liquidity event is not a sale for cash, the General Partner may effect the settlement either by making a distribution in kind of the Limited Partner's ratable share of the relevant investment or by distributing the net proceeds derived from a sale of such investment. The General Partner is entitled to withdraw from each such settlement an amount equal to the remaining portion of any Performance Allocation (pro rata based on the portion of such withdrawal being distributed) to be credited to the Investment Manager at the same time and in the same form (in cash or in kind) as the distribution to the withdrawing Limited Partner.

- (h) The General Partner may effect withdrawal payments (i) in cash, (ii) in kind, by transfer of marketable or non-marketable Investments to the Limited Partner, the value of which, as determined in accordance with Section 7.2, would satisfy the Limited Partner's request for withdrawal, or (iii) in any combination of the foregoing.
- (i) The General Partner may deduct from any withdrawal proceeds due to any Limited Partner pursuant to this Section 5.5 an amount representing the Partnership's actual or estimated expenses, as determined by the General Partner, associated with processing the withdrawal. Any such withdrawal deduction shall be retained by the Partnership for the benefit of the remaining Limited Partners.
- (j) The right of any Partner to withdraw or receive distributions pursuant to the provisions of this Section 5.5 is subject to all Capital Account allocations and adjustments contemplated by this Agreement and to the provision by the General Partner for all Partnership liabilities and for reserves and holdbacks for contingencies provided in Section 3.6.
- (k) The General Partner may suspend or limit, in whole or in part, (i) the right of the Partners to withdraw or receive distributions from the Partnership and/or (ii) the valuation of the Partnership's Net Assets:
  - (i) during any period when any exchange or over-the-counter market on which the Partnership's Investments are quoted, traded or dealt in is closed, other than for ordinary holidays and weekends, or during periods in which dealings are restricted or suspended;
