Objection to the Res Cap Objection to paying the Gale Gibbs Claim 4701
Unencumbered as originally agreed in October 2013.

To the Honorable Judge of the court:

Comes now, Gale Gibbs, and shows the court the following evidence supporting her objection to the Residential Capital, LLC, et al objection of paying the Gale Gibbs Claim Unencumbered as originally agreed by telephony in August 2013 and by paper document in October 2013.

1. The Res Cap objection is not timely filed and is therefore barred by laches.

2. Within the body of the Res Cap objection it is admitted that the asset was converted on September 28, 2006, therefore proving the claim made by Gibbs.

3. Res Cap/ GMAC Mortgage LLC bankruptcy attorneys contacted by telephony Gibbs during the last week of August 2013 and discussed her claim and the conversion of the Gibbs note into a security and the fact that the secret escrow account was not delivered to Gibbs in exchange for the conversion and it was further discussed and agreed that Gibbs would not seek OID profits and derivatives nor derivative profits due her, and Gibbs would forgive the secret conversion of her note and the concealment of the secret escrow account in exchange for the secret escrow account being used to extinguish the alleged debt of 7429730542 even though all well educated CFO's and financial services officers know that the alleged borrower must first create the credits before there can be a loan and that makes the alleged borrower an actual unsecured lender of credits to the licensed banker making the loan. The bankruptcy attorneys agreed that the above description is very accurate and admitted that very few people are aware of these actual relationships.

4. The agreement also specified that the principle and interest and the downpayment would be returned to Gibbs as being unnecessary additional payments for a house that was already paid for and a note that was already made good by conversion into a security and all parties made whole immediately after the conversion.

5. Res Cap GMAC Mortgage LLC, hereinafter "RESCAP/GMAC," perfected their agreement with Gibbs on September 02, 2013 by moving the credits required to pay off the loan into the account 7429730542 and paid off the loan and released the service and closed the account. [see exhibit A]

6. RESCAP/GMAC further perfected its agreement with Gibbs on October 2013 by having Silverman Acompora issue a Notice to Gibbs that her claim would be paid unencumbered. [see exhibit B]

7. Gibbs accepted the August 2013 telephony negotiated agreement, and Gibbs accepted the credits that GMAC moved into 7429730542 on September 02, 2013 that paid off the 7429730542 and released the service and closed the account, and Gibbs accepted the October 2013 Silverman Acompora Notice from the court that her claim would be paid in full unencumbered.

8. In good faith, Gibbs acted upon the perfected claim and telephony negotiated agreement.

9. Now that OCWEN loan servicer has erased all of the historical computer records of 7429730542 and started a foreclosure action backdated to September 01, 2013, the current objection to the Gibbs claim that has already been perfected by RESCAP/GMAC is most disingenuous and is barred by laches and perfection by action of GMAC.

10. The RESCAP/GMAC objection to the approved claim is barred by laches, and the partial payment of the claim cannot now be withdrawn, nor can be negated the balance of the claim due to Gibbs.

11 RESCAP/GMAC offers no proof and has never provided the forensic audit of the entire transaction that I requested for proving exactly how much profits I am giving up in exchange for the secret escrow account being used for paying off the loan.

Prayer for Relief

All of the foregoing is incorporated into this section.

For all of the foregoing, Gale Gibbs, petitions the judge of the court and prays for relief that the original claim and agreement be paid unencumbered as originally agreed.

Respectfully submitted,

Gale Gibbs
