U.S. BANKRUPTCY COURT

United States Bankruptcy Court

2019 JAN -3 P 12:55

I was introduced to Telex-Free by a man name Donald Rachel's. Me and Don met as coworkers at Seattle Children's Hospital. He begin to tell me about this great opportunity on how to make extra money. So he set up a meeting on the weekend to come out to his house. He told me about the money-making opportunity, and it sounded good. So I decided to give it a try. I think I invested $1,400 under the user-name Marcus Terrell, just to try it out, for my first account.

Lo and behold I was on my way making money. I was so happy and excited that money was being made. But my stupid self never took out my initial investment. I just left all that money that I made in the account (dumb me). But I told myself, once I reach a certain amount, then I will begin to withdraw. But once I seen it was official, I started to do my end-of-the-year mathematics projections. I forgot what I was supposed to make by the end of the year, but I remember it was a hefty sum.

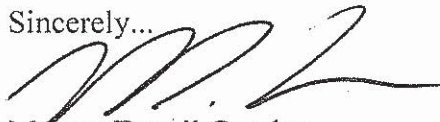

And that's when I started to think about putting more money in. So I went to my credit union to get a $15,000 loan, so I could buy 8 more accounts. I let Don Rachel's know that I want to buy 8 more Telex-Free accounts. He was excited for me.

So he set up another meeting to come out to his house on the weekend. I gave him $11,425 in cash. And that's when he got on the phone to call some gentleman, I do not know his name but I guess he had access to give me more accounts. For some strange reason he just kept asking Don "does he really have the cash on hand" and Don replied with multiple yes'es. And me and Don counted the money more than 5 times to make sure that it was the right amount.

I guess you got to have money in your account in order to sell other people accounts. I really don't know, but I found that situation to be totally weird. But that did not stop me. I kept my eyes on the prize because I was so determined to make some money on the side. So I bought those 8 accounts under my full name, "Marcus Terrell Gooden"... so now I got two different accounts. One under "Marcus Terrell" and the other under "Marcus Terrell Gooden"...

I'm not totally sure the exact date of when it went down, but I think, three to four weeks later, that's when all hell broke loose... and I started to hear about TelexFree going bankrupt. By then it was too late to take my money out because the accounts was frozen. So there you have it, that's my life story on my TelexFree Journey...

Sincerely...

Marcus Terrell Gooden
