Windstream sends up white flag, files Chapter 11 bankruptcy

Issue: Long-suffering telco Windstream has bowed to financial reality in the wake of a potentially crippling court ruling and has filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy.

Background: The decision to seek Chapter 11 protection stems from a near-fatal ruling in a lawsuit filed by one of its bondholders, hedge fund Aurelius Capital Management. In its suit, Aurelius accused Windstream of violating terms of certain debt bonds related to the 2015 spinoff of its network assets as a real estate investment trust (REIT). A U.S. District Court judge agreed, and ordered the telco to pay Aurelius $310 million in bond reimbursement and penalties. Faced with the potential that other Windstream bondholders would follow suit — opening it up to as much as $5.8 billion in financial exposure — the telco's board and management apparently reorganizational bankruptcy was the safer route while restructuring the company's debt.

Implications: In truth, Windstream's misfiring business strategy had it teetering on the edge of financial insolvency long before Aurelius Capital Management entered the picture. But while Chapter 11 will provide some legal shelter while the telco reorganizes its tangled debt structure, uncertainty about the service impacts will make some residential and business customers uneasy. They may start looking elsewhere for voice, video and data services — and competitors including cable operators will be more than happy to help them jump ship.

Beleaguered rural ILEC/CLEC Windstream has opted to file Chapter 11 bankruptcy following a damaging court ruling in its battle with hedge fund Aurelius Capital Management over its bond structure.

While the move is intended to ensure Windstream survives, it could result in the opposite — and at the very least it gives competitors including cable players some valuable new marketing ammunition.

While its ongoing financial struggles provided fuel, the spark igniting the bankruptcy came from a damaging judgment in an ongoing court battle with hedge fund investor Aurelius Capital Management over the 2015 spinoff of its network assets as a Real Estate Investment Trust (REIT). At issue are a subset of bonds Windstream issued to support the spinoff — now operating as Uniti Group — which carry a 6.375% interest rate and are due in 2023.

Aurelius, which owns 25% of these bonds, argued Windstream improperly transferred certain Uniti assets without permission of the bondholders, thereby violating the bond issue's covenants. In his ruling, U.S. District Court Judge Jesse Furman agreed, and ordered Windstream to repay the bond share Aurelius owns plus interest, to the tune of $310 million.

After reviewing all options including an appeal, Windstream's board of directors and management decided that Chapter 11 bankruptcy is "a necessary step to address the financial impact of Judge Furman's decision and the impact it would have on consumers and businesses across the states in which we operate," said Tony Thomas, Windstream's president and CEO, in a release. "Taking this proactive step will ensure that Windstream has access to the capital and resources we need to continue building on Windstream's strong operational momentum while we engage in constructive discussions with our creditors regarding the terms of a consensual plan of reorganization."

Translation: Windstream's board and senior management looked at the court ruling and realized the chances for winning an appeal were low. Worse, they realized that other creditors would see the ruling opportunity and file "me-too" bond default suits, which could put Windstream on the hook for upwards of $5.8 billion in aggregate repayments and penalties. To lessen that exposure and avoid more legal fees, the better option was reorganizational bankruptcy.

Reorganization a challenge

Granted, the bankruptcy proceedings won't be a sunny walk in the park, either. It's a fair bet that Aurelius will not be the only creditor to use the court filing as leverage to exact more favorable (read costlier) payment or refinancing terms from Windstream. But on the upside, if Aurelius is repaid as part of the negotiated reorganization plan, it will cease to be credit-holder — and cease to be a problem for Windstream going forward.

Tony Thomas Source: Windstream

2 TelcaTRAK — February 16–28, 2019

Windstream's first task is to assure customers and shareholders that it will maintain operations during the proceeding, and on that front it has already secured $1 billion in debtor-in-possession financing from Citigroup Global Markets. The bankruptcy court has already approved $400 million of that amount, which should keep the lights in the near term.

Cue the damage control

And it appears the damage control is well under way. A week prior to the bankruptcy filing, Windstream fielded a press release bragging that its broadband speed upgrade project — which doubled availability of its 100 Mbps Kinetic Internet service — has been completed six weeks ahead of schedule. It also announced that Thomas had agreed to a contract extension, keeping him in place as CEO through 2024. In retrospect, both announcements were probably intended to soften the blow of the bankruptcy news, in giving shareholders and customers some assurance that it was business as usual — or even better-than-usual— at Windstream.

The latter probably won't provide either group much comfort. After all, it was Thomas who oversaw the Uniti spinoff, so he bears at least some of the blame for the bond covenant misstep. So assuring that he remains as CEO for another five years may be problematic to some.

Customers will probably be more concerned that distractions and tighter financial restrictions during Windstream's bankruptcy may lead to service issues, ranging from outages to spiraling customer support response times. Windstream may also be limited in its ability to capitalize on higher speed qualifications for new and existing customers.

In contrast, Windstream's woes are good news for its rivals, including cable players. They will certainly waste no time in spinning up marketing campaigns targeting Windstream's customer base, pointing out the uncertainty of the telco's future. They also may pile on bigger incentives and promotional offers to convince these customers to jump ship.

Depending on how successful these competitive marketing strikes are, it could be a further blow to an already staggering Windstream. As a result the new Windstream that emerges from bankruptcy sometime in the next year or two could be a smaller but not necessarily stronger telco with an even more uncertain future.

Frontier Q4: 'Transformation' plan boosts profits, but not customer counts

Despite some modest improvements in profitability, Frontier's fourth quarter once again was awash in red ink, with hefty losses continuing in residential data and video segments.

Perhaps to divert attention from the dismal results, Frontier played up plans to launch a 10 Gbps FiOS data service initially targeting business and wholesale mobile backhaul customers that eventually would make its way into the residential product lineup.

TelcoTRAK -- February 16-28, 2019

CONFIDENTIAL

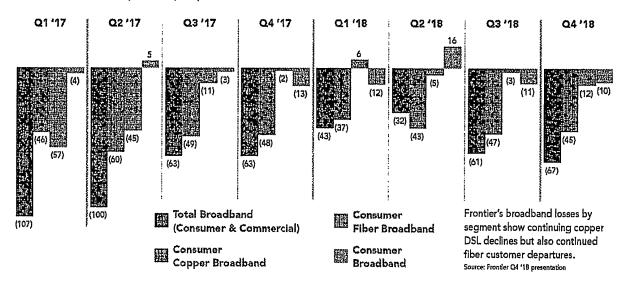

Charter_000838

There was no shortage of disappointments in Frontier's residential numbers, despite CEO Dan McCarthy's insistence that an ongoing "transformation" program is improving field operations, product development and customer support systems. In broadband, Frontier dropped 57,000 residential accounts, down from 50,000 lost in the fourth quarter 2017. Helpfully, Frontier provided breakouts that made clear that the problem lies not only with its copper based DSL service (45,000 connections lost, versus 48,000 lost in Q4 '17) but also with its fiber broadband offering (12,000 connections lost, up sharply from 2,000 lost in the prior fourth quarter.)

McCarthy noted that broadband gross additions were a weakness, but quickly added that Frontier has "transformation efforts now focused on that as well."

"We have been diligently scaling different opportunities to improve lift, but the quarter really was about us targeting customers very selectively and really trying to improve customer lifetime value of the targeted segment," he added.

Broadband unit trends (net adds (000s)

It's a circuitous answer that raises a perplexing question: If Frontier is focusing on high-value customer retention as McCarty indicates, why is it continuing to lose fiber broadband subscribers? As it happens, an analyst on the quarterly call asked just that question. McCarthy's answer is somewhat amusing and decidedly clumsy:

"We have been studying the broadband, [and] on the fiber churn, that is probably our biggest opportunity to move the needle," he said. "It could be a wide range of different drivers. There is no one silver bullet that is the answer, but that's why you break it down into the various cohorts and focus on each stage of the lifecycle. We're doing it on copper as well as fiber."

4 TelcoTRAK — February 16–28, 2019

Beyond entertaining, this is an interesting answer. In the past, McCarthy has admitted that some of the blame for the fiber losses is a failure to track when one customer moves out of a fiber-connected home and a potential new customer moves in. Unaware that the home is fiber-connected, these new customers often opt to take service from a local cable provider, and the fiber line goes unused.

But McCarthy did not point to that issue during the call, instead simply noting that Frontier is studying the trend. It's a passive response that probably won't give investors or Wall Street confidence that Frontier understands the problem, let alone solve it. Indeed, it's more likely the broadband customer base, which totaled 3.27 million at the end of December, will continue to recede.

Video bleed accelerates

In video, it was a tale of two pretty dismal cities — while Frontier managed to slow the loss of Dish Network DBS bundled subscribers, declines in its wireline Fios TV and Vantage TV services accelerated.

⁵ TelcoTRAK — February 16-28, 2019

CONFIDENTIAL

Charter_000840

The telco lost 35,000 wireline video and 6,000 Dish Network DBS subscribers in Q4. That compares to 20,000 wireline and 9,000 DBS customers lost in the same quarter 2017. At the end of December it claimed 838,000 wireline video subscribers and 205,000 Dish subscribers.

For the full year, Frontier lost 123,000 wireline TV subscribers, down from 184,000 lost in the full-year 2017. In DBS, it lost 30,000 subscribers in 2018, also down from 39,000 lost in 2017.

The combined video customer losses again put a drag on revenue, with video revenue of $275 million compared to $310 million in the prior fourth quarter. Total 2018 video revenue of $1.09 billion was also down from $1.3 billion in 2017.

A breakout of subscriber trends revealed that the wireline video losses came largely from the telco's acquired California, Texas and Florida properties, which lost a combined 27,000 subscribers versus legacy Frontier properties' 8,000 video losses. Both are up from fourth quarter 2017 losses which included 17,000 CTF and 3,000 legacy Frontier video customer departures.

Among other metrics, residential churn improved to 1.94% from 1.98% in the fourth quarter a year ago. And arguably the bright spot for Frontier was the improvement in residential average revenue per customer (ARPC), which rose to $88.38 compared to $81.61 in the prior fourth quarter. Frontier attributed that gain to moderation in promotional pricing, resulting in more customers paying full rates for their services.

10 Gbps on the horizon?

Elsewhere, Frontier has plans to launch 10 Gbps data service to business and wholesale fiber backhaul customers sometime this year, possibly followed by launch to the residential segment. The new offering is intended to slow ongoing broadband customer declines in the business segment and take advantage of mobile carriers' ramping 5G network buildouts.

But there's also an inherent risk in offering this service as a wholesale mobile backhaul option: Ironically it helps establish 5G services that could cannibalize Frontier's consumer broadband services, particularly in its larger markets in California, Texas and Florida. As in past calls, McCarthy dismissed that notion.

"5G will happen at whatever pace 5G will happen based on the 5G standards adoption. What we wanted to do was position ourselves really from a commercial opportunity, but also for a potential 5G backhaul and we think that the 10 Gbps is probably going to be choice for a lot of carriers for that backhaul capability," he said. "The side benefit of doing it is that the entire FiOS footprint — every OLT [Optical Line Terminal, which sits at the neighborhood central office and aggregates fiber access traffic] will be upgraded for 10 Gbps, so that kind of future-proofs the need for the consumer side as well. So even though that won't be a targeted offer for consumers initially, it really does kind of create what we think is a state-of-the-art network in the place where we think 5G might be — the first places where it might come in as an alternative. And having the kind of speeds — whether it is 1 Gbps or higher actually will be very competitive and very compelling from our perspective for customers. So we are not as worried about that."

Verizon execs tag-team to make the case for 5G

For the most part, "staged" is the best description for Verizon's Investors' Day Feb. 21: a well-scripted, executive tag-team presentation that repeatedly emphasized 5G as the future across Big Red's residential, business and media services divisions.

But hidden within the spin were a few interesting nuggets of reality — most notably, an accelerated plan to launch mobile 5G service in more than 30 markets by year's end, and acknowledgment that despite the hype, 5G won't start bearing economic fruit for Verizon until 2021 or later.

Up to now, Verizon has vaguely promised to launch mobile 5G services, but the carrier's focus has been on the 5G Home fixed wireless service, which launched using proprietary, pre-5G gear in limited parts of four markets in October. Verizon had promised the modest 5G Home footprint would expand in early to mid-2019 once it could upgrade to a standards-based scheme, but recently it has become clear manufacturers are concentrating on mobile 5G consumer devices. The standards-based fixed 5G gear won't be available until late 2019.

That's not a situation Verizon management is probably happy with, but there was little it could do. So the answer is to re-train its near-term gunsights on mobile 5G, to avoid losing its prized marketing image as an early leader in the technology. During the presentation, Consumer CEO Ronan Dunne wouldn't reveal any pricing detail for this mobile 5G service — including whether it would be an add-on or new expanded 5G/4G LTE tier — but he said the service itself wouldn't get a "one size fits none" marketing treatment.

"I have a commercial go-to-market, city-by-city plan," he said. "I will be going door-to-door in residential; I will be in the stores."

Since assuming command of Verizon's consumer services, Dunne has consistently preached a message of diversity rather than uniformity when it comes to products, tailoring offers to fit multiple customer segments. With the mobile 5G launch, he is indicating that tailored strategy will extend to geographic plans geared for the competition in specific markets.

Moreover, at one point he waved around the new Samsung Galaxy S10 5G smartphone, which will launch with Verizon on an exclusive basis sometime by the end of the second quarter. Having such an iconic early 5G device would help to sell the service, he argued.

Later, an analyst pressed for a launch date for the device, but Vestberg would only say that it's "not going to be tomorrow, but it is going to be in the first half of 2019." Recent reports had placed the launch with Verizon in the April/May timeframe; Vestberg's comments might indicate that timetable also has been pushed back.

5G picture begins to sharpen

Verizon's 50 buildout and launch strategy is slowly starting to take shape; with several notable details:

- LTE Advanced, offering: MIMO antenna, 256 QAM, and carrier aggregation upgrades, is now up and running in 250 cities, or roughly half of Verizon.
 Wireless: 4G LTE network: CEO Hans Vestberg archiv noted that while competitors (ahehr, AT&T), were claiming that this was 5G technology, it should be correctly labeled as 4G.
- * iFiber construction is under way in more than 60 markets outside of ILEC footprint. Verizon will have imore than 25,000 miles of new liber added by years and
- The 30-plus cities Verizon has rargeted for mobile 5Grollout this year can be described as NFL cities Chief Financial Officer Matt Ellis said at a Feb. 27 Morgan Stanley Investors' conference

- Verizon will reach its 30 million home addressable market target for 5G Home in five to eight years.
- e. Verizoni has pursued a philosophy of buy, bulldior rent fiber. But Vestberg modified that, saying that Verizon increasingly is learning toward building. We find out in more cases for us there is such better economics if we build it ourselves, he said, adding that Verizon often needs fiber rings to feed an enterprise customer or a collection of wireless base stations so leased "point to point agesnithelp us." That said, he quickly added that all of this is being accomplished within Verizon s existing, acapex budget

So, what of 5G Home at present? While the rollout itself is not growing, Vestberg and his management team argued that Verizon has learned valuable lessons from customer responses.

Dunne, Vestberg and Chief Financial Officer Matt Ellis were asked about the relative scale of 5G Home versus 5G mobile service — implying that Verizon would see a lot more revenue from mobile than it ever would from fixed, despite its massive millimeter spectrum investments. The executives were largely evasive, but Vestberg insisted fixed could be marketed to Verizon's original target of 30 million homes nationwide, and Ellis said that "from what we've seen from our rollout 5G Home will be a core component of our revenue stream." These answers will probably do little to ease concerns among investors and Wall Street that Verizon's focus on fixed 5G is an expensive misdirection given the potential for greater scale and profit on the mobile 5G side.

CTO Kyle Malady said while the minimum speed for 5G Home is 300 Mbps, Verizon is finding a subset of the early users don't want that high of a throughput. They might want just 100 Mbps. He then argued that in some markets where broadband speeds are low, Verizon could go out with a 100 Mbps 5G Home offering and attract more customers than it would with a higher-speed offering. But in more competitive markets, a 100 Mbps tier won't gain any traction. Again, this aligns with Verizon's (and specifically Dunne's) mantra of offers tailored by market.

Beyond that, the Verizon executive team also repeated another statement that probably doesn't overjoy investors: While Big Red's 5G rollouts will accelerate this year, the service won't reach any real scale until 2020 and it won't become revenue-beneficial until 2021 or after. For competitors including wireline providers, the reality is that Verizon's fixed and mobile 5G services will remain potential rather than actual threat this year. The real impacts — and the degree of these impacts — will still take at least two years to materialize.

Report: U.S. Internet users are taking bigger bytes

U.S. broadband users are gobbling up the bytes, as the percentage of wireline customers who consume more than 1 Terabyte per month nearly doubled in 2018, according to research from network usage monitor OpenVault.

The research company found that power users consuming more than 1 TB constituted 4.12% of the total broadband user population, compared to 2.11% in 2017. But the rising broadband usage is not confined to just power users.

U.S. households averaged 268.7 Gigabytes monthly, up 33% from 2017's level of 103.6 GB. Median usage — measuring the middle point of the usage range — rose even faster, up 40% to 145.2 GB versus 103.6 GB in 2017, according to OpenVault.

OpenVault's estimates have to be taken with a grain of salt, as it is in the business of providing cable operators with usage management systems. But its usage results follow other broader research from the likes of Cisco and Ericsson that have found similar ramping broadband usage overall, be it through wireline or wireless services.

The increase in usage itself may be driven by growing consumer use of OTT video services, funneling large video data streams over an Internet connection rather than traditional satellite TV or coaxial cable systems.

What OpenVault and other studies provide is a sense for this video delivery shift. And for broadband providers including telcos and cable players, that could have implications for their network operations in the near future.

Among the telcos, Verizon's Flos fiber system may seem best positioned to endure the IP video shift, until one considers that it still has significant copper-based DSL infrastructure in its Northeast ILEC footprint. In these areas, including urban Albany and Syracuse among others where Verizon DSL is its only product, the ramping video demands will make a bad situation worse, driving more customers to cancel service in favor of higher-speed options from cable players.

AT&T, too, will see strain on its DSL access infrastructure, even with its ongoing fiber buildout plans to reach 14 million residential locations this year. As was the case in the fourth quarter, its larger fiber footprint didn't result in net broadband additions. In fact, it lost 38,0000 subscribers, and indications these losses were among customers that still can't get north of a 25 Mbps DSL connection. As with Verizon, customer appetites for OTT video will exacerbate DSL loss trends that are already under way.

Meanwhile, for cable players, the growing OTT usage over broadband is a further argument for migration to DOCSIS 3.1 technology, which ramps data speeds upwards of 10 Gbps downstream and 1 Gbps upstream with up to a 50% increase in data delivery capacity plus the ability to configure channels as wide as 197 MHz, compared to just 6 MHz for earlier DOCSIS iterations.

So while MSOs also will face the same growing OTT video traffic across their broadband networks, they may be better positioned on balance to keep up with the demand - so long as their regional and national fiber backbones also can be scaled up to keep pace.

Looking farther ahead, for all players the OTT video usage may also accelerate with the growing tonnage of 4K content expected in the coming years. These factors may require competitors to not only ramp their network capacity but also increase the monthly usage caps imposed on customers - particularly if the percentage of TB-gobbling customers continues to increase along with competition from Gigabit service rivals.

All this said, one element OpenVault doesn't take into account is the growing consumer reliance on wireless broadband services, which could slow some of the usage trends on the wireline side. At present, wireless broadband cord-cutting is a single-digit erosion element, but as 5G services launch it could become a larger influence.

Overall, what OpenVault and other research indicate is that consumers are relying more on broadband services. That trend, in turn, may require providers to alter their services to both encourage and manage the resulting traffic on their networks.

COMPETITIVE ALERT

Feb. 25, 2019

ALERT SUMMARY

- Under pressure from a negative court ruling, Windstream has entered Chapter 11 bankruptcy.
- The filing in the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York will allow Windstream to reorganize its bond maturities.
- The telco has secured $1 billion in debtorin-possession financing to maintain operations during the reorganization process.

IMPACT ANALYSIS

The bankruptcy filing was widely expected following the district court ruling, which found Windstream's spinoff of its Uniti network pushed into default on certain outstanding bonds.

But while the reorganization is designed to ensure Windstream survives, it will have a negative impact on its marketing to business customers. It's likely the uncertainty surrounding its bankruptcy will make business customers think twice about inking or renewing a service contract with Windstream.

This issue also may extend to Uniti and its customer retention as well.

Embattled Windstream declares Chapter 11 bankruptcy

After a disastrous February, embattled telco Windstream has filed Chapter 11 reorganizational bankruptcy.

Filed in the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York, the Chapter 11 protection will allow Windstream to "address debt maturities that have been accelerated as a result of the recent decision by Judge Jesse Furman in the Southern District of New York against Windstream Services, LLC, a subsidiary of the Company," according to a Windstream press release.

The ruling is part of a prolonged legal battle between Windstream and hedge fund

Windstream's network and ILEC territory (in brown). Source: Windstream website.

investor Aurelius Capital Management over the telco's spinoff of its 2015 network assets as a Real Estate Investment Trust (REIT).

Aurelius argued – and the district court agreed – that Windstream's structuring of that spinoff put a portion of its debt bonds in default. The REIT is now known as Uniti Group Inc., which has built up a business as a wholesale network provider.

According to the bankruptcy filing, Windstream has already secured $1 billion in debtor-in-possession financing from Citigroup Global Markets. If the bankruptcy court approves this financing, the telco should be able to fund operations while its reorganization proceeds. There is no estimate as to how long the reorganization process will take, but on paper the financing minimizes any operational disruptions.

IMPACT: The bankruptcy filing came as no surprise following the court ruling, given the strength of Aurelius's case. It was unlikely Windstream would have won an appeal, so management may have decided it was simpler to enter bankruptcy and restructure the bonds in question, rather than waste more time and spend more legal fees.

But while Chapter 11 is designed to give Windstream a path to survival, it will be a significant blow to its business – and in particular, its ability to attract business customers that are now the core focus of its strategy. Windstream already was dealing continued business customer declines, and that trend will likely accelerate. Despite Windstream's assurances otherwise, customers will think twice about entering a new or renewed contract with a provider that is in reorganizational bankruptcy - and while the move may in the long run prove beneficial to Uniti, the same uncertainly will probably have a negative impact on its marketing and customer trends as well.

Notice of Chapter 11 Bankruptcy Case

For the debtor listed above, a case has been filed under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. An order for relief has been entered. This notice has important information about the case for creditors, debtors, and trustees, including information about the meeting of creditors and deadlines. Read both pages carefully.

The filing of the case imposed an automatic stay against most collection activities. This means that creditors generally may not take action to collect debts from the debtor or the debtor's property. For example, while the stay is in effect, creditors cannot sue, assert a deficiency, repossess property, or otherwise try to collect from the debtor. Creditors cannot demand repayment from the debtor by mail, phone, or otherwise. Creditors who violate the stay can be required to pay actual and punitive damages and attorney's fees.

Confirmation of a chapter 11 plan may result in a discharge of debt. A creditor who wants to have a particular debt excepted from discharge may be required to file a complaint in the bankruptcy clerk's office within the deadline specified in this notice. (See line 11 below for more information.)

To protect your rights, consult an attorney. All documents filed in the case may be inspected at the bankruptcy clerk's office at the address listed below or through PACER (Public Access to Court Electronic Records at www.pacer.gov).

The staff of the bankruptcy clerk's office cannot give legal advice.

Do not file this notice with any proof of claim or other filing in the case.

Importance: High

Jeanne,

Spectrum Business has identified all end user Coax accounts tied to Windstream's billing hierarchies and flagged these appropriately to protect against illicit service interruptions. Spectrum wants to ensure that all accounts have been captured, so that no Windstream sites lose service.

Following up on our conversation on April 5, 2019, Spectrum Business again requests that Windstream provides a full list of all end users with Spectrum's Coax-based services. We will compare your site list against our records. If any sites previously not identified are found in your site list, we will apply protections against service interruption due to non-pay to these sites.

I can be reached at 973-332-3550 if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Chris Czekaj

The Debtors' Chapter 11 Cases are jointly administered for procedural purposes only under Windstream Holdings, Inc, No. 19-22312 (RDD) (S.D.N.Y.) pursuant to an order entered by the Bankruptcy Court on February 28, 2019 Docket No. 56. On March 12, 2019, the United States Trustee for Region 2 (the "U.S. Trustee") appointed an official committee of unsecured creditors pursuant to section 1102(a) of the Bankruptcy Code Docket No. 136. The Debtors continue to operate their business and manage their properties as debtors in possession pursuant to sections 1107(a) and 1108 of the Bankruptcy Code.

The financial information contained herein is unaudited, limited in scope, and as discussed below, not necessarily prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP"). The MOR should not be relied upon by any persons for information relating to current or future financial conditions, events, or performance of any of the Debtors or their affiliates, as the results of operations contained herein are not necessarily indicative of results which may be expected from any other period or for the full year, and may not necessarily reflect the consolidated results of operations, financial position, and schedule of receipts and disbursements in the future. There can be no assurance that such information is complete, and the MOR may be subject to revision. The following notes, statements, and limitations should be referred to, and referenced in connection with, any review of the MOR.
- [2] Basis of Presentation. For financial reporting purposes, the Debtors prepare monthly consolidated financial statements, which include information for Windstream Holdings, and all of its subsidiaries. The Debtors are maintaining their books and records in accordance with GAAP and the information furnished in this MOR uses the Debtors' normal accrual method of accounting. In preparing the MOR, the Debtors relied on financial data derived from their books and records that was available at the time of preparation. Nevertheless, in preparing this MOR, the Debtors made reasonable efforts to supplement the information set forth in their books and records with additional information concerning transactions that may not have been identified therein. Subsequent information or discovery may result in material changes to the MOR and errors or omissions may exist. Notwithstanding any such discovery, new information, or errors or omissions, the Debtors do not undertake any obligation or commitment to update this MOR.
- [3] Reporting Period. Unless otherwise noted herein, the MOR generally reflects the Debtors' books and records and financial activity occurring during the applicable reporting period. Except as otherwise noted, no adjustments have been made for activity occurring after the close of the reporting period.
- [4] Accuracy. The financial information disclosed herein was not prepared in accordance with federal or state securities laws or other applicable non-bankruptcy law or in lieu of complying with any periodic reporting requirements thereunder. Persons and entities trading in or otherwise purchasing, selling, or transferring the claims against or equity interests in the Debtors should evaluate this financial information in light of the purposes for which it was prepared. The Debtors are not liable for and undertake no responsibility to indicate variations from securities laws or for any evaluations of the Debtors based on this financial information or any other information.
- [5] Liabilities Subject to Compromise: Due to the filing of the Chapter 11 Cases on February 25, 2019, the payment of pre-petition indebtedness is generally subject to compromise pursuant to a plan of reorganization. Generally, actions to enforce or otherwise effect payment of pre-bankruptcy filing liabilities are stayed. Although payment of pre-petition claims generally is not permitted, the Bankruptcy Court granted the Debtors authority to pay certain pre-petition claims in designated categories and subject to certain terms and conditions. This relief generally was designed to preserve the value of the Debtors' businesses and assets. Among other things, the Bankruptcy Court authorized the Debtors to pay certain pre-petition claims relating to employee wages and benefits, taxes and critical vendors. The Debtors have been paying and intend to pay undisputed post-petition liabilities in the ordinary course of business. In addition, the Debtors may reject certain pre-petition executory contracts and unexpired leases with respect to their operations with the approval of the Bankruptcy Court.

Pre-petition liabilities that are subject to compromise are required to be reported at the amounts expected to be allowed, even if they may be settled for lesser amounts. The amounts currently classified as Liabilities Subject to Compromise may be subject to future adjustments depending on Bankruptcy Court actions, further developments with respect to disputed claims, determinations of secured status of certain claims, the values of any collateral securing such claims, or other events. We cannot reasonably estimate the value of the claims that will ultimately be allowed by the Bankruptcy Court until our evaluation, investigation and reconciliation of the filed claims has been completed. Any resulting changes in classification will be reflected in subsequent financial statements,

- [6] Reservation of Rights. The Debtors reserve all rights to amend or supplement the MOR in all respects, as may be necessary or appropriate, but shall be under no obligation to do so. Nothing contained in this MOR shall constitute a waiver of any of the Debtors' rights or an admission with respect to their Chapter 11 Cases.
- [7] ASC 852. This accounting standard requires expenses and income directly associated with the Chapter 11 Cases to be reported separately in the statement of operations as reorganization items, net. Reorganization items, net primarily include write-off of certain original issue discount and fees relating to debt obligations classified as Liabilities Subject to Compromise, expenses related to legal advisory and representation services, other professional consulting and advisory services, and changes in liabilities subject to compromise recognized as there are changes in amounts expected to be allowed as claims. Nothing contained in this MOR shall constitute a waiver of any of the Debtors' rights or an admission with respect to the Chapter 11 Cases, including, but not limited to, matters involving objections to claims, substantive consolidation, equitable subordination, defenses, characterization or re-characterization of contracts, assumption or rejection of contracts under the provisions of Chapter 3 of Title 11 of the Bankruptcy Code and/or causes of action under the provisions of Chapter 5 of the Bankruptcy Code or any other relevant applicable laws to recover assets or avoid transfers.

DEBTORS' RESPONSES AND OBJECTIONS TO CHARTER COMMUNICATIONS, INC.'S INTERROGATORIES

Pursuant to Rules 7026 and 7033 of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure, Rules 26 and 33 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, the Local Rules of this District, and any other applicable rules (collectively, the "Applicable Rules"), Plaintiff Windstream Holdings, Inc. and its affiliated debtors (collectively, "Windstream"), by its undersigned attorneys, submits these Responses and Objections (the "Response") to the Second Set of Interrogatories (the "Interrogatories") of Defendants Charter Communications, Inc. and Charter Communications Operating, LLC (collectively, "Charter") served in the above-captioned adversary proceeding (the "Action").

GENERAL OBJECTIONS

Windstream asserts the following General Objections ("General Objections") to the Interrogatories, each of which is hereby incorporated by reference into the response to each individual Interrogatory below. From time to time, and for purpose of emphasis, Windstream may restate one or more of the General Objections as specific objections to individual Interrogatories. Such restatement, or the failure to restate, should not be taken as a waiver of any General Objection not restated.

1. Windstream responds to the Interrogatories on the basis of the facts and circumstances as they are presently known to Windstream. Windstream has not yet completed its own discovery, investigation of the facts, or preparation for trial. Accordingly, all of the following objections and responses are provided without prejudice to the right of Windstream to introduce at trial any evidence that it subsequently discovers. Windstream reserves the right to supplement its objections and responses to the Interrogatories based upon newly-discovered evidence or information of which Windstream is not aware as of the present date.

19-08246-rdd Doc 343-12 Filed 05/13/21 Entered 05/13/21 18:51:01 Item No. 232 Pg 3 of 8

- 2. Windstream objects to the Interrogatories insofar as they seek information or documents that are protected from disclosure by the attorney-client privilege, the work product doctrine, the privacy privilege, or any other privilege or immunity, and refuses to produce any such document(s). Windstream does not intend by these objections or responses to waive any claim of privilege or immunity. Windstream's objections and responses are conditioned specifically on the understanding that the provision of information or documents for which any claim of privilege is applicable shall be deemed inadvertent and not a waiver of the claim of privilege.
- 3. Windstream objects to the Interrogatories to the extent they call for the production of information that is protected by their privacy rights or those of any other person or entity as provided by the New York and United States Constitutions and/or any other statute or legal authority.
- 4. Windstream objects to the Interrogatories to the extent that they call for the production of trade secrets, confidential information, proprietary information, commercially-sensitive information, and competitively-significant information regarding Windstream's business activities and/or business operations. Notwithstanding this objection, Windstream will produce such information subject to the terms of the Stipulated Protective Order [Adv. Docket No. 75] entered by the Court in this Action.
- 5. Windstream objects to the Interrogatories to the extent that they seek information that is neither relevant to any party's claim or defense nor proportional to the needs of the case.
- 6. Windstream objects to the Interrogatories to the extent that they seek information that is not within Windstream's possession, custody, or control.
- 7. Windstream objects to the Interrogatories to the extent that they seek information that is readily obtainable by Charter, or that can be obtained from publicly available sources, where the burden of searching for, collecting, or compiling such information or documents is substantially the same for Charter as it is for Windstream.

19-08246-rdd Doc 343-12 Filed 05/13/21 Entered 05/13/21 18:51:01 Item No. 232 Pa 4 of 8

9. Windstream objects to the Interrogatories to the extent that they purport to require Windstream to undertake a search for, and to produce, electronically stored information ("ESI") that would impose unreasonable search costs and burdens or that would exceed Windstream's obligations under the Applicable Rules.

RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORIES

INTERROGATORY NO. 2

Identify all Windstream customers that you contend received the Charter advertisements that are the subject of your claims in this adversary proceeding.

RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 2

Windstream incorporates by reference its General Objections stated above as though set forth fully herein. Windstream further objects that this Interrogatory is unduly burdensome, overbroad, and disproportionate to the needs of the case as the burden and cost associated with obtaining such documents outweigh any minimal benefit, if any. Indeed, as Charter well knows, it sent its advertisements to over 800,000 customers in Windstream's footprint, including Windstream customers and potential customers. It would be unduly burdensome and extremely time consuming and expensive for Windstream to attempt to cross-reference over 800,000 recipients against its customer accounts, and the identification of each Windstream customer is not in and of itself relevant to the claims in this action. Additionally, the account information associated with Windstream's records may not match the information provided in Charter's list of customers that received the advertisements; for example, the account holder of record may be a different member of the household than the recipient of the Charter advertisement, addresses and names may have been inputted with different abbreviations, and such information—even if inaccurate given the foregoing—would need to be searched, reviewed, and compared from at least four distinct billing systems, all of which makes the ability to cross-reference the list overly burdensome, unreasonable, and extremely time consuming and expensive. Windstream further objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it seeks the disclosure of confidential, proprietary, or sensitive information regarding Windstream's business and/or business operations. Windstream further objects to the Interrogatory to the extent it calls for the disclosure of confidential information protected by the privacy rights of non-parties. Windstream further objects to this Interrogatory because it seeks information that is readily obtainable by Charter as it is by Windstream.

Subject to and without waiver of the previously asserted objections, Windstream responds that it does not know to whom the Charter false and misleading advertisements were sent. Windstream has identified customers who have contacted Windstream and have indicated that they received the Charter advertisements. Indeed, pursuant to a Court order, Windstream has received from Charter a list of approximately 800,000 individuals to whom the advertisements were sent. Windstream reasonably believes that this is the best evidence identifying those individuals that were sent the Charter advertisements and hereby incorporates that document in response to this Interrogatory pursuant to Rule 33(d) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

I, Jeffrey H. Auman declare as follows:

- 1. I am Executive Vice President of Sales and Marketing with Windstream Holdings, Inc. I submit this declaration in lieu of direct testimony at the trial of this adversary proceeding on behalf of Windstream Holdings, Inc. and its debtor affiliates and debtors in possession in the above-captioned Chapter 11 cases, and as plaintiffs in the above-captioned adversary proceeding (collectively, the "Debtors" or "Windstream").
- 2. As Executive Vice President of Sales and Marketing, I am generally familiar with Windstream's day-to-day operations, business and financial affairs, and books and records. I am also familiar with the false advertising campaign launched by Defendants Charter Communications, Inc. and Charter Communications Operating, LLC (collectively, "Charter") that is a subject of this adversary proceeding. I make this declaration as the corporate representative of Windstream at trial. Except as otherwise indicated, all facts set forth in this declaration are based upon my personal knowledge, discussion with other members of Windstream's management team, advisors and staff, and review of relevant documents, records and information regarding Windstream's operations, financial affairs, and restructuring initiatives. If called as a witness, I could and would testify competently to the facts set forth in this declaration.
- 3. The Debtors are all affiliates within the same Windstream corporate family. The Debtors operate under and/or use the Windstream name in the marketplace.
- 4. Windstream provides telecommunication services to consumers in eighteen U.S. states. Windstream competes with Charter in twelve of those eighteen states. Those twelve states are the only states in which Charter competes directly with Windstream for consumer business.
- 5. Windstream and Charter entered into an executory agreement (the "VAR Agreement") pursuant to which Charter provides "last mile" connectivity service to Windstream.

19-08246-rdd Doc 343-27 Filed 05/13/21 Entered 05/13/21 18:51:01 Item No. 247 Pg 3 of 13

Joint Trial Exhibit 1 is a true and correct copy of the VAR Agreement. This connectivity service is largely provided outside of the twelve states in which Windstream and Charter compete directly for consumer business.

- 6. Pursuant to the VAR Agreement, Windstream has the right to utilize Charter's business Internet access, via coax cable, to distribute Windstream's services to customers in certain designated areas. This is commonly referred to as "last mile" connectivity.
- 7. Under the VAR Agreement, and in exchange for Charter's "last mile" connectivity services, Windstream agreed to pay Charter for its services, among other things. Windstream has adequately performed all of its obligations under the VAR Agreement.
- 8. After Debtors filed their Chapter 11 petitions in the Bankruptcy Court, they provided to Charter a comprehensive list of Windstream customers receiving "last mile" connectivity through Charter pursuant to the VAR Agreement. This list was provided at the request of Charter, despite the fact that Charter already knew the identities of all such customers.
- 9. On or around March 15, 2019, Charter disconnected service under the VAR Agreement to approximately 289 Windstream customers. Prior to these disconnects, Charter failed to provide thirty-days written notice of its discontinuation of services, as required under the VAR Agreement.
- 10. Some Windstream customers disconnected by Charter on or around March 15, 2019, contacted Charter to have their services reinstated and were told by Charter that service was not being restored because of Windstream's failure to pay certain prepetition amounts allegedly owed to Charter by Windstream.
- 11. Trouble tickets were created and kept by Windstream customer service representatives in the regular course of its business at or about the time they received calls from

19-08246-rdd Doc 343-27 Filed 05/13/21 Entered 05/13/21 18:51:01 Item No. 247 Pg 4 of 13

Windstream customers who had been disconnected by Charter on or around March 15, 2019. Plaintiffs' Trial Exhibit 34 is a true and correct copy of an internal Windstream record of the trouble tickets relating to those disconnections.

- 12. Windstream took action to address Charter's disconnection of service to its customers, including tasking Windstream employees to investigate and attempt to rectify the disconnects. As a result of that investigation, Windstream learned that the disconnection of service by Charter to approximately 289 Windstream customers who receive "last mile" connectivity service under the VAR Agreement was an attempt by Charter to collect prepetition debt. Charter's representatives informed Windstream that the customer accounts that were disconnected were coded incorrectly by Charter and thus were improperly disconnected to collect prepetition debt.
- Restraining Order prohibiting Charter from disconnecting any further Windstream customers under the VAR Agreement, Charter disconnected service to Windstream's customers on at least four separate occasions in April and May. Prior to these disconnections, Charter failed to provide thirty-days written notice of its discontinuation, as required under the VAR Agreement. Windstream took action to address Charter's unexpected disconnection of service to its customers, including tasking Windstream employees to investigate and attempt to rectify the disconnects. Again, Windstream learned that these disconnections were due to Charter's failure to take appropriate measures to identify Windstream accounts that were not to be disconnected. Charter's representatives informed Windstream that such accounts were coded incorrectly by Charter and thus were improperly disconnected to collect prepetition debt. One of the customers disconnected was GNC, which is one of Windstream's largest and most important corporate accounts.

Windstream management and employees spent numerous hours investigating and attempting to rectify these disconnects.

- 14. Windstream suffered harm from the service disconnections by Charter under the VAR Agreement. For example, Windstream provided at least $5,278.85 in customer "out of service" credits in connection with certain customers who opened trouble tickets in connection with the disconnection of service by Charter. In addition, Windstream suffered a loss of customer goodwill, as well as damage to its brand.
- 15. Windstream also suffered harm from Charter's false advertising. For example, in order to mitigate the effects of Charter's false advertising, Windstream was forced to offer customer upgrades, discounts, and pricing promotions to convince customers to maintain their service with Windstream. The total approximate cost of this was $4,033,425.
- 16. In addition, in April 2019, Windstream sent out multiple direct mail pieces and emails to its customers in an effort to correct the false impressions created by Charter's false advertising. This corrective advertising cost Windstream approximately $862,775. Joint Trial Exhibit 11 is a true and correct copy of an invoice reflecting certain costs relating to these direct mail pieces which was received and kept by Windstream in the regular course of its business. The first page of Plaintiffs' Trial Exhibit 62 is a true and correct copy of a redacted internal Windstream record prepared and kept in the regular course of its business listing expenses incurred by Kurtzman Carson Consultants LLC in connection with services provided to Windstream. Plaintiffs' Trial Exhibit 62 lists the postage and printing costs relating to the direct mail pieces used in Windstream's corrective advertising. Plaintiffs' Trial Exhibit 64 is a true and correct copy of an internal Windstream record prepared and kept in the regular course of its business setting out Windstream's costs relating to the corrective advertising as expended over time. Notwithstanding their efforts to mitigate the damage caused by Charter's false advertising, Windstream suffered a loss of customer goodwill, as well as damage to its brand.

- 17. After Charter launched its false advertising campaign in late-March 2019, Windstream began to experience a significant spike in customers discontinuing service in those exchanges in which Windstream competes with Charter for consumer and small to medium-sized business customers. This continued until at least the late-Summer of 2019.
- 18. Plaintiffs' Trial Exhibit 60 is a true and correct copy of an internal Windstream record prepared and kept in the regular course of its business listing "churn" for Windstream customers in all Windstream consumer broadband exchanges and in Windstream consumer broadband exchanges in which Windstream competes with Charter.
- Windstream has the ability to track customers who switch telephone service from Windstream to Charter to the extent such customers request to "port" their telephone numbers to Charter, i.e., keep the same telephone number that they had used with Windstream. At least 4,500 residential and business Windstream customers have ported their telephone numbers to Charter since Charter's false advertising campaign was launched. All of these residential Windstream customers who ported their telephone numbers from Windstream to Charter would have been sent Charter's direct-mail advertisement containing the false statements. Plaintiffs' Trial Exhibit 14 is a true and correct copy of an internal Windstream record prepared and kept in the regular course of its business listing customers who, during the period February 4, 2019 July 9, 2019, requested that their telephone numbers be "ported" to Charter.
- 20. In order to stop Charter's false advertising campaign and to stop Charter from disconnecting Windstream customers under the VAR Agreement, as well as to recover the losses and costs that Charter's wrongful conduct caused, Windstream filed an adversary proceeding in the Bankruptcy Court. Plaintiffs' Trial Exhibit 1 is a true and correct copy of the Complaint filed with the Bankruptcy Court initiating that adversary proceeding. Plaintiffs' Trial Exhibits 67-93, 100, 104-105 are true and correct copies of the monthly attorney fee statements and the interim attorney fee applications filed with the Bankruptcy Court which reflect the attorneys' fees and costs incurred by Windstream to date in this adversary proceeding. These are kept by Windstream in the regular course of its business. Plaintiffs' Trial Exhibits 94-95 are true and correct copies of invoices from experts retained by Windstream in connection with this adversary proceeding. These are kept by Windstream in the regular course of its business. Based on the foregoing, the total amount of fees and costs incurred by the Debtors' estates through March 31, 2020, solely in connection with this adversary proceeding is approximately $7,740,328.20. Outside counsel and the experts continue to work on this adversary proceeding and, thus, Windstream continues to incur attorneys' fees and costs relating to this adversary proceeding. Accordingly, the total amount will be revised upward at the time of trial.

- 21. Windstream's management has spent numerous hours addressing the problems caused by Charter's false advertising. For example, Windstream's Legal Department alone has spent approximately 1,911 hours investigating and responding to Charter's false advertising and assisting with this adversary proceeding. This represents an internal cost to Windstream of approximately $408,000.

- 32. The Debtors have filed with the Bankruptcy Court a joint Chapter 11 plan of reorganization (the "Plan") and corresponding disclosure statement (the "Disclosure Statement"). The Plan sets forth, among other things, the treatment of claims against the Debtors' estates. Under the Plan, holders of Obligor General Unsecured Claims will not receive a 100% recovery. I, John C. Jarosz, declare as follows:

- 1. I am a Managing Principal at Analysis Group, Inc. ("Analysis Group") and Director of its Washington, DC office. Analysis Group is an economic, financial, health care, and strategy consulting firm with offices across the nation. It provides research and analysis in a variety of business, litigation, and regulatory settings, and has particular expertise in intellectual property ("IP") matters. It has been engaged in numerous lawsuits involving IP issues, including patents, trademarks, copyrights, false advertising, trade secrets, and unfair competition.
- 2. I am an economist whose specialty is IP valuation and monetary relief (including damages) assessment. Among my responsibilities at Analysis Group, I provide clients with my analysis and assessment on IP valuation and monetary relief in a variety of contexts, including litigation. I have been involved in more than 500 such engagements over almost 35 years. I have provided expert testimony at trial or in arbitration hearings on approximately 100 occasions. A true and correct copy of my current CV is attached hereto at Tab 1 and is incorporated herein by reference. It is also Plaintiffs' Trial Exhibit 103.
- 3. I was engaged by Windstream Holdings, Inc. and its debtor affiliates, and debtors-in-possession in the above-captioned Chapter 11 cases, and as plaintiffs in the above-captioned adversary proceeding. As I did in my expert report in this adversary proceeding, I will refer herein to Plaintiffs collectively as either "Windstream" or "Debtors." I was specifically engaged to provide an economic analysis of the losses incurred by Windstream as a result of the unlawful acts by Charter Communications, Inc. and Charter Communications Operating, LLC (collectively, "Charter") alleged in Windstream's Complaint in the above-captioned adversary proceeding. Economic analyses that I undertake, such as this one, typically involve the application of statistical methods/models to data in order to draw observations about those data and/or to determine whether empirical support exists for hypothesized economic relationships.

- 4. I am generally familiar with the factual allegations and the causes of action asserted by Windstream in this adversary proceeding. I have reviewed the Declaration Of Jeffrey H. Auman In Lieu Of Direct Testimony At Trial, as well as the exhibits identified therein.
- 5. Except as otherwise indicated, all facts and opinions set forth in this declaration are based upon my personal knowledge, my expertise in damages computation, the Expert Report of John C. Jarosz and the relied-upon documents cited therein, and my discussions with employees of Windstream. Moreover, my opinions herein are based on application of a commonly used empirical methodology that I have used in the past and which is widely accepted for use in this type of economic analysis. If called as a witness, I could and would testify competently to the facts and opinions set forth in this declaration.
- 6. As a result of my engagement by Windstream in this adversary proceeding, I have formed an opinion which I hold with a reasonable degree of certainty appropriate in the field of economics that, during the period April 2019 through August 2019, Windstream lost approximately 1,386 customers as a result of the unlawful conduct of Charter, and that this represents lost profits to Windstream in the range of approximately $3.2 million to $5.1 million.
- 7. I arrived at the foregoing opinion through a three-step process. First, I determined the number of customers lost by Windstream due to Charter's unlawful actions by examining whether there were any changes in Windstream's "churn rate." Second, I determined the lost revenue associated with those lost customers. Third, I applied Windstream's profit margins to the lost revenue associated with the lost customers.

19-08246-rdd Doc 343-28 Filed 05/13/21 Entered 05/13/21 18:51:01 Item No. 248 Pg 4 of 64

- 8. With respect to the first step, I relied on internal Windstream data relating to its customer base in marketplaces ("exchanges") in which it provides broadband services. As shown in Plaintiffs' Trial Exhibit 5, this data reports on monthly customer adds, disconnects, and customer base for "All Exchanges" and "Charter Exchanges" (exchanges in which Charter and Windstream compete) from January 2016 through August 2019. I understand that Windstream kept that data in the regular course of its business. This is the type of data that experts in my field reasonably rely upon. This data can be used to calculate the "churn rate" over time. "Churn rate" refers to the percentage of customers that discontinue services in a given time period. It is calculated as the number of disconnected customers in a given period divided by the total number of customers at the beginning of that period. Churn rate is an important metric that telecommunications companies, including Windstream, use in the regular course of business to assess their performance.
- 9. I understand that Charter's false advertising campaign was launched in late-March 2019, and was sent to Windstream customers in all exchanges in which Windstream and Charter compete (the "Charter Exchanges"). The false advertisement was not sent to Windstream customers in the exchanges in which Charter does not compete with Windstream (the "Non-Charter Exchanges"). This situation presents a natural experiment that allows for the estimation of the impact of Charter's false advertising campaign on Windstream's churn rate. Customers in Charter Exchanges were exposed to the false advertising in the second period (after the campaign), but not in the first period (before the campaign), and, therefore, serve as the "treatment group." Customers in Non-Charter Exchanges were not exposed to the false advertising in the first or second period and, therefore, serve as the "control group." Both groups, however, were exposed to systemic factors unrelated to Charter's false advertising campaign that may affect Windstream's churn rate. For example, Windstream's corporate strategy or truthful and accurate news surrounding Windstream's bankruptcy could affect customer churn in both the Charter Exchanges and Non-Charter Exchanges.

- 10. Given the two distinct groups described above (the treatment group and the control group), I was able to analyze the impact of Charter's false advertising campaign upon Windstream through an analysis of the differences in "churn rate" in the period before versus the period after dissemination of Charter's false advertising in two distinct groups the Charter Exchanges (the treatment group) and the Non-Charter Exchanges (the control group). The impact of Charter's false advertising campaign on Windstream's churn rate can be estimated by subtracting (i) the change in the churn rate in the Non-Charter Exchanges across the two periods from (ii) the change in the churn rate in the Charter Exchanges across the two periods. The "differencing" of the trends across time and groups controls for the effects of factors unrelated to Charter's false advertising to isolate the impact of Charter's false advertising campaign.
- analysis. In my field, we typically refer to it as a "diff-in-diff" analysis. It is a common technique used in economics to measure the impact of a change in one variable upon another variable. I have used it many times in prior assignments and have substantial experience in doing so. I ensured that a diff-in-diff was an appropriate technique for my analysis here by first conducting a parallel trend review on the period before the start of Charter's false advertising campaign. As discussed below, my parallel trend analysis showed that the data sets were appropriate for application of a diff-in-diff analysis.
- 12. The "trends" I compared here were the monthly churn rates for the Charter Exchanges versus the monthly churn rates for the Non-Charter Exchanges. I compared the trends by running a trend analysis on the monthly churn rates from January 2018 through March 2019 for each exchange group. I chose those dates partly because they were close in time to Charter's false advertising campaign launched in late-March 2019, in order to ensure that the marketplace dynamics were closest to those seen during the time of the campaign.

- monthly churn rate for the Charter Exchanges and one line depicting the trend in monthly churn rate for the Non-Charter Exchanges. This is shown in the demonstrative exhibit attached hereto at Tab 2. Prior to the start of Charter's false advertising campaign, the slopes of those two lines were sufficiently close that is "parallel" to one another for me to conclude that the data sets were proper for a diff-in-diff analysis. In other words, the separate exchange groups were trending quite closely to one another such that they exhibited "parallel trends," and there were no indications of other variables causing those parallel trends to deviate during the time period I reviewed. Thus, I was able to move forward with the diff-in-diff analysis described in Paragraph 10 above with a high degree of confidence that it would yield a reasonably reliable conclusion.
- 14. Given the parallel trends discussed above, if a variable, such as Charter's false advertising, was introduced into one of the exchange groups and, if it had an impact on churn rate, I would expect the trend lines for the two groups to deviate from the relationship they had before the variable was introduced. And, in fact, that is what my analysis here revealed. In this regard, my analysis is confirmed by other evidence of record, such as Plaintiffs' Trial Exhibits 18 and 65-66, as well as Joint Trial Exhibits 2 and 8.
- 15. Using Windstream's customer data, I compared the churn rates before and after Charter's false advertising for the Windstream customers in the Charter Exchanges versus the Windstream customers in the Non-Charter Exchanges. For both groups, I examined churn rate from April 2018 through August 2018 versus April 2019 through August 2019. Comparing the churn rates in the same months (year over year) controls for seasonality effects. I used April to August 2018 churn rates because it was closest in time (year over year) to the period of interest. Furthermore, I understand that Windstream implemented significant changes in its business and marketing strategies and that the results of those changes began to appear in Q2 2018, rendering the use of earlier periods inappropriate.

- Windstream customers in March of the same year as the baseline because Charter's false advertising campaign was initiated in late-March 2019. Because the total number of customers is affected by the number of adds and disconnects in prior months, Charter's false advertising campaign would be expected to affect Windstream's customer base after the launch of the campaign. Thus, the effects of that false advertising campaign can be expected to start in April 2019. Evidence indicated that the effects of Charter's false advertising campaign lasted into at least August 2019. Thus, August 2019 was used as an end date for the analysis. This is a conservative choice given that researchers have found that advertising mailers can affect consumer behavior for approximately one year. Customer churn from April 2019 through August 2019 is calculated as the number of disconnects in these five months divided by the total number of customers in March 2019. That is, the churn rate for the period under consideration is measured based on the number of existing customers in March 2019 (i.e., the customer base targeted by Charter's false advertising campaign).
- 17. In March 2018, there were 355,135 customers in the Charter Exchanges. From April 2018 through August 2018, 42,182 customers in the Charter Exchanges disconnected from Windstream. Thus, the churn rate in the Charter Exchanges was 11.88 percent for this period. In March 2019, there were 360,865 customers in the Charter Exchanges. From April 2019 through August 2019, 45,396 customers in the Charter Exchanges disconnected from Windstream. Thus, the churn rate from April 2019 through August 2019 in the Charter Exchanges was 12.58 percent. Accordingly, Windstream's churn rate in the Charter Exchanges increased by 0.70 percentage points

- 18. In March 2018, there were 649,686 customers in the Non-Charter Exchanges. Between April 2018 and August 2018, 65,265 customers in the Non-Charter Exchanges disconnected from Windstream. Thus, the churn rate in the Non-Charter Exchanges was 10.05 percent in this period. In March 2019, there were 671,617 customers in the Non-Charter Exchanges. Between April 2019 and August 2019, 69,604 customers in the Non-Charter Exchanges disconnected from Windstream. Thus, the churn rate in the Non-Charter Exchanges for the period April 2019 through August 2019 was 10.36 percent. Accordingly, Windstream's churn rate in the Non-Charter Exchanges increased by 0.32 percentage points.
- 19. The calculations described above are summarized in the Table below and shown in the demonstrative exhibit attached hereto at Tab 3.

	Before	After	Change
	April – August	April – August	Over
	2018	2019	Time
Charter Exchanges	11.88 percent	12.58 percent	0.70 percent
Non-Charter Exchanges	10.05 percent	10.36 percent	0.32 percent
Difference	1.83 percent	2.22 percent	0.38 percent

19-08246-rdd Doc 343-28 Filed 05/13/21 Entered 05/13/21 18:51:01 Item No. 248 Pg 9 of 64

- As shown in the above Table, after Charter's false advertising campaign was 20. launched in late-March 2019, Windstream's churn rate in the Charter Exchanges increased by 0.38 percentage points more than its churn rate in the Non-Charter Exchanges. Therefore, the impact of Charter's false advertising campaign on Windstream's churn rate was 0.38 percentage points. Applying this 0.38 percent to the number of Windstream customers in the Charter Exchanges in March 2019 results in the number of lost customers that are attributable to Charter's false advertising campaign. This analysis shows that Charter's false advertising campaign caused Windstream to lose approximately 1,386 customers from April 2019 through August 2019. This is shown in the demonstrative exhibit attached hereto at Tab 4. This calculation is conservative because I only considered customers in Charter Exchanges through August 2019. However, customers in the Charter Exchanges may have been influenced by Charter's false advertising beyond August 2019. Moreover, customers in the Non-Charter Exchanges may have been influenced by Charter's false advertising campaign as a result of communications with friends and family and/or on social media, etc. In fact, researchers studying the spillover effects of a marketing campaign reported that for every 100 customers targeted by such a campaign, 28 additional customers (friends and families of the targeted customers) would be influenced in the same way by such a campaign.
- 21. Charter produced its own internal calculation of Windstream's lost customers for the purposes of this litigation. This information is found in Joint Trial Exhibits 2 and 8. According to Charter, through June 24, 2019, there were 3,721 customers who called the unique telephone number in the false advertisement mailed by Charter, and 663 of them ultimately purchased one or more services from Charter. However, the 663 customers that Charter reported likely understates the actual number of lost customers. First, it likely understates the customer loss because there are multiple ways in which Windstream customers can switch to Charter. The 663 customers, at best, reflect customers who switched services during the tracking period (which Charter stopped recording in late-June 2019, months earlier than it should have stopped) by calling the unique telephone number in Charter's false advertisement. Customers can also subscribe to Charter services in stores, by calling Charter's general sales number, or on Charter's website. None of these lost customers would be reflected in Charter's report of customers calling the unique telephone number in the false advertisement. In fact, customers who were influenced by Charter's false advertisement may have called the other unique telephone numbers used in Charter's May 2019 majlers instead. According to Charter's calculations, however, those customers would apparently be credited to the May 2019 mailers. In addition, Charter's analysis does not appear to include the door-to-door sales that it generated through its representatives. Furthermore, to the extent that Charter's false advertising campaign led certain Windstream customers to switch to another competitor or discontinue their subscriptions all together, those customers would not be captured in Charter's calculation. Second, this number appears to represent an undercounting of sales generated by the March 2019 mailer because the return rate (i.e., sales divided by number of mailers) reported by Charter for the March 2019 mailer is substantially lower than the return rates reported by Charter in other direct mail campaigns launched by Charter in May 2019 into the same Moreover, this disparity in return rates is at odds with research suggesting that markets. advertisements distributed by the same channel (e.g., direct mail) generally have a similar impact on customer behavior. So, this reported rate of return on the Charter false advertisement is inherently suspect as underreporting actual results.

22. In the second step of this process, I determined the lost revenue associated with the loss of these customers. To calculate Windstream's lost revenues, I first calculated the average revenues per customer based on Windstream's 2019 Consumer Revenues and Profits Data, which is Plaintiffs' Trial Exhibit 61. This reports monthly revenues and gross margins from January 2019 through August 2019. I understand that Windstream kept that data in the regular course of its business. This is the type of data that experts in my field reasonably rely upon. The average monthly revenues per customer was $77.63 in March 2019.

- 23. I then estimated the expected number of months that the lost customers would have remained with Windstream in the absence of Charter's false advertising based on Windstream's churn rate in March 2019 in the Charter Exchanges. The 2.0 percent churn rate in March 2019 corresponds to an expected tenure of 50 months. Windstream's lost revenues on those lost customers then amounts to approximately $5.4 million. This is shown in the demonstrative exhibit attached hereto at Tab 4.
- 24. In the third step of this process, I determined the profits lost by Windstream as a result of the customers lost to Charter's false advertising. I calculated Windstream's lost profits using two different measures of profit. As a first measure of profit, I used the average gross profit per customer based on Windstream's 2019 Consumer Revenues and Profits Data, which is Plaintiffs' Trial Exhibit 61. This reports monthly revenues and gross margins from January 2019 through August 2019. I understand that Windstream kept that data in the regular course of its business. This is the type of data that experts in my field reasonably rely upon. The average monthly gross profit per customer in March 2019 was $73.35, which corresponds to a gross margin of 94.5 percent. The gross margin accounts for direct expenses associated with Windstream's provision of services to customers. I applied this gross margin to the lost revenues that I calculated above. Based on this measure of profits, Windstream's lost profits on the lost revenues amount to approximately $5.1 million. This is shown in the demonstrative exhibit attached hereto at Tab 4.

- 25. As a second measure of profit, I used the average contribution profit per customer based on Windstream's 2018 Q2 2019 Kinetic Segment Financial Information. This is Plaintiffs' Trial Exhibit 7. I understand that Windstream kept that data in the regular course of its business. This is the type of data that experts in my field reasonably rely upon. Contribution margin represents gross margin minus allocated company-wide operating expenses, such as Selling, General and Administrative expenses.
- 26. The contribution margin of Windstream's Kinetic Segment in Q1 2019 was 59.2 percent, which corresponds to an average monthly contribution profit per customer of $45.96. Based on this measure of profits, Windstream's lost profits on the lost revenues amount to approximately $3.2 million. This is shown in the demonstrative exhibit attached hereto at Tab 4. This measure of profits is likely to be too low given the small incremental volume at issue here (an estimated 1,386 lost customers). Volumes in that range are unlikely to have a measurable effect on company-wide operating costs, such as network and facilities expenses.
- 27. Based on my analysis above, it is my opinion that Charter's false advertising campaign caused Windstream to lose approximately 1,386 customers from April 2019 through August 2019. These customer losses represent lost profits in the range of $3.2 to $5.1 million. This is shown in the demonstrative exhibit attached hereto at Tab 4. This range should be regarded as conservative and likely underestimates Windstream's actual losses.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

So supervisors can provide guidance to people that are answering the phone calls from customers through instant messaging? A. They can provide through instant messaging. More than likely, the supervisor if they're listening to a call and — and there's aspects of the call that the representative is either not handling well or should be handling differently, the supervisor will get up and go over to the representative themselves. They're in the same physical proximity. Q. How many — so, generally, how many call center employees to a supervisor? A. Generally somewhere between eight and 10. Q. And so there's eight to 10 people — between eight and 10 people in the room. Supervisor has the ability to plug in and listen to calls in realtime and provide	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24	phone with the customers? A. That is correct. Q. If I wanted to identify circumstances in which what we just described happened among the transcripts of telephone calls that have been produced in this lawsuit, how would I go about doing that? A. Can you restate your question? Q. Sure. You understand that Windstream records its phone calls with customers? A. Yes. Q. And you understand that transcripts of those phone calls have been provided to have been produced by Windstream in this lawsuit? A. Yes. Yes. Q. And some of those calls could have involved realtime supervisor coaching? A. Some of those could have involved that. Some of those could have and you wouldn't necessarily hear the supervisor on the recording. That would be, you know, basically an off-the-record conversation with the supervisor and the representative or maybe they put the customer on hold and they provide coaching to the representative or it could have been them, you know, whispering over their shoulder to them.

- 19 selling. I mean, of saying how our product compares to,
- 20 but all that's public information anyway on the Internet,
- 21 but it just helps reps if a customer calls in and they're
- 2.2 trying to compare prices. So that's about -- that's all
- 23 I'm generally aware of unless there's an extraordinary
- 24 situation that would require that.
- 2.5 Q. So in one of the -- I will represent to you,

- 3 technician made the representation that Charter in-home
- technicians steal dogs.
- A. They do what?
- 6 Steal dogs.
- Q. Does Windstream -- just with respect to Charter,
- 9 has Windstream taken any steps to ensure that its
- 10 technicians don't accuse Charter technicians of stealing
- 11 dogs?
- 12 A. Proactively or reactively?
- 13 Q. Either way, sir.
- 14 A. You know, proactively, I'm not aware of a company
- 15 policy where we instruct representatives to stop stealing
- 16 dogs. Reactively, if we were aware of that situation, we
- 17 would provide coaching to that employee.
- 18 Q. And that would be appropriate. If somebody -- if
- 19 an employee says something they ought not say about a
- 20 competitor, you would instruct that employee don't do
- 21 that any more?
- 22 A. Provided it was out of company policy or, you know,
- 23 not correct.
- Right. 24 Q.
- 25 A. But I would very much view that as a rogue

Page 32

- 1 behavior, not a concerted effort on the part of multiple
- employees.
- Q. Excuse me. Did Windstream send out a notice to its - customers when it filed bankruptcy?
- A. By law we're required to notice all of our - customers.
- Q. So Windstream did send out a notice to all of its
- 9 A. Yes, in accordance with the bankruptcy code.
- O Tell me -- tell me what was included in the notice 1.0
- 11 that Windstream sent out to all of its customers
- 12 regarding the Windstream bankruptcy.
- 13 A. Generally that Windstream had filed for bankruptcy,
- 14 talked generally about the bankruptcy process, also
- talked about their -- their services and workings with 15
- 16 Windstream would not be affected by that. That's a
- general statement. I would have to look at the full 17
- 18
- 19 Q. Was there -- was there a -- so Windstream sent out
- 20 kind of the official notice of bankruptcy? Yes?
- 21
- 22 O. And then was there a cover letter as well?
- 23 A. I don't recall.
- 24 Q. You don't know whether Windstream sent out just the
- 25 notice or the --

- Page 33
- A. I don't think we sent out anything extraordinary 2 besides what the legal notice is required for bankruptcy

- 4 O. So Windstream sent out the notice, but no cover
- 5 letter?
- 6 A. I don't believe so, but, you know, I don't -- quite
- 7 frankly, I don't recall.
- 8 Q. What's your current position at Windstream?
- 9 Special adviser to the CEO.
- 10 Q. And what are your responsibilities as special
- adviser to the CEO? 11
- 12 Coordination of bankruptcy operation.
- 13 Q. So tell me -- kind of tell me, I guess, the day to
 - day of your responsibilities as the person in charge of
- 15 coordinating bankruptcy operations.
- 16 A. We have multiple advisers in with Windstream. We
- 17 have Alvarez & Marsal that's helping manage bankruptcy
- 18 operations. We have our law firms that represent us for
- 19 in terms of this. We have our financial advisers with
- 20 PJT. We have our outside call centers and notice agents
 - with KCC. So I help to provide coordination amongst
- 22 that.

24

- 23 In addition to that, should there be operational
 - issues, we help to troubleshoot those issues, such as
- 25 maybe vendors that cut off services that need to be

- restored due to the -- due to the bankruptcy, appropriate
- 2 escalation through legal channels if those happen to be
- 3 against, you know, the first day hearings. You know, if
- there's any customer issues, escalation around customer
- issues. If there appears to be policy changes or
- additions made for a company -- company policy, I'll help
- oversee to make sure those are made. I might not
- 8 necessarily make those, but I'll ensure that the
- 9 appropriate parties are making those.
- 10 Q. When did you assume all these responsibilities that
- 11 you've just described?
- A. Approximately 48 hours after the Aurelius ruling. 12
- 13 Q. And what -- tell me what you mean by the Aurelius

- 15 Before you do that, sir, spell Aurelius for --
- 16 A. A-U-R-E-L-I-U-S, I believe.
- 17 Q. Okay. Now tell me what you mean by the Aurelius
- 18 ruling, sir.
- 19 A. That would be the ruling where the judge found in
- 20 favor of Aurelius in their lawsuit against Windstream for
- 21 default on our -- on our bonds related to our spinoff of
- 22
- 23 Q. Was that -- was it February of 2000 -- was that
- 24 February or January?
- 25 A. That was February. I'd have to look at the

Page 35

- 1 calendar to see the specific date, but it was on a
- 2
- 3 Q. So February of 2019 you get involved in
- coordinating Windstream's bankruptcy related operations? 4
- 5 Correct.
- 6 Q. And did that involvement include any involvement in
- 7 the notices that Windstream sent out related to its
- 8 bankruptcy?

- Yes, it would.
- 10 Q. So you'd be in a position to know whether or not
- 11 Windstream sent a cover letter when it notified its
- 12 customers that it was entering bankruptcy?
- 13 A. I would be aware of it at that time. We -- there's
- 14 multiple required notices related to bankruptcy. To say
- 15 I remember every one of them in detail and what's
- 16 included would be more than farfetched.
- 17 Q. Sure. This may be one of those situations we
- 18 talked about earlier where looking at a piece of paper
- 19 could help you answer a question?
- 20 A. Correct.
- 21 Q. Do you know whether Windstream has produced any
 - cover letter -- well, let me back up. Do you mind if I
- 23 do that, sir?

- 24
- 25 Q. Assuming that a cover letter exists, do you know

Page 36

- whether Windstream has produced any cover letter that
- 2 would have gone out in connection with a notice of
- 3 bankruptcy being provided to Windstream customers?
- 4 A. I don't recall if a cover letter is provided
- related to -- the notices we've sent out are particular 5
- 6 to the bankruptcy code, that we have to notice our
- 7 customers. We have to notice our creditors. We have to
- 8 notice our vendors. There may be other parties in that
- 9 scope as well.

- 10 I'm not aware of necessarily, quote, cover letters.
- 11 I know the official notice that we sent out, but I can't
- 12 necessarily rule that out. I -- there's multiple -- in
- 13 addition to that, we had to since then send other
- 14 communications out to customers related to Charter's
- 15 mailing that went out. So, you know, there's a number of
- 16 things that we've had to send out now that weren't
- 17 necessarily planned.
- 18 Q. When did Windstream send a notice of bankruptcy to
- 19 its customers?
- A. I don't recall. It would have to be -- have to be 20
- 21
- 22 Q. Did any of Windstream's customers call Windstream
- 23 in response to the notice of bankruptcy that Windstream
- 2.4 sent to its customers?
- 25 A. Not that I am aware of. I can't say that they

- Page 37
- didn't, but not that I specifically aware of. 2 Q. As far as you're specifically aware, zero
- 3 Windstream customers called in response to the notice of
- 4 bankruptcy that was sent to all Windstream customers
- 5 pursuant to the bankruptcy rules?
- 6 A. I'm not saying here. I'm just saying I'm not aware
- 7 of them. I haven't -- I haven't gone and -- I haven't
- 8 had a tremendous amount of escalation. In fact, the
- 9 knowledge -- any knowledge I would have of this after we
- 10 sent the mailings, we did query our business operations
- 11 to see if we've had extraordinary call volume, any
- 12 additional issues come in from the customers related to
- 13 bankruptcy. I'm not aware of any that were raised to me.
- 14 Q. You queried who?
- 15 A. Our business operations. So they would be like
- 16 Paul Strickland that I mentioned earlier. We would have
- 17 queried him to check on that.
- 18 Q. So at some point after Windstream sent a notice of
- 19 bankruptcy to all of its customers, you made an inquiry
- 20 to Mr. Strickland asking whether or not there was an
- 21 increase in call volume related to bankruptcy, and he
- 2.2 told you no?
- 23 A. Correct.
- 24 Now, in all fairness, at the bottom of the -- of
- 25 the notice that went out, it did inform the customers

So a lot of 11 A Uh-huh that is owned on our own network. We own that ourselves, 12 Q. So Windstream pays 650 million a year to lease 12 13 but I can't tell you the breakout, and then there's other 13 fiber and probably coaxial from Uniti? 14 third parties involved, too, besides Uniti. SD-WAN, unified communication as a service or UCAS, 12 network security products, those would be some. I can't 12 A. I -- I don't know. I know some is. Page 70

- and the Spectrum advertising; isn't that true?
- A. I don't recall. I know it was in the first general
- one. I don't recall if it was in the second one or not.
- I'm not saying it wasn't. I just don't recall if it was.
- Q. So we know that the representation that the - bankruptcy was not the product of operational failures
- was in the talking points circulated in response to the
- 8 Windstream notice of bankruptcy by Windstream. We don't
- 9 know -- it may or may not be the case that that
- instruction was included in the talking points that were 10
- 11 circulated in response to the Spectrum advertising?
- A. Yeah, I just -- I don't recall. I just don't know. 12
- 13 It may have been in there. I don't know.
- 14 Q. When customers inquired about bankruptcy in
- 15 response to Windstream's notice of bankruptcy, were they
- 16 offered higher speeds?
- 17 A. Are you talking about the first -- as a result of
- 18 the first notice?
- 19 Q. Yes, sir.
- 20 A. I don't recall. As I stated earlier, I don't
- 21 recall a specific -- of -- or have knowledge of specific
- 22 calls from customers coming in related to the first
- 23 notice. I'm not saying there weren't. I just don't know
- 24 of any. We asked, and they said there weren't any --
- 25 wasn't any extraordinary call volume.

Page 71

- 1 So on the first -- related to the first one, I
 - don't believe we had as part of our talking points any
- 3 specific, you know, that weren't already normal
- 4 promotional offers. I mean, we always have promotional
- 5 officers there for retention. That's normal course of
- 6

- Q. What are the normal promotional offers that you
- 8 have for retention that would have been available after
- 9 that Windstream notice of bankruptcy?
- 10 A. Well, it would have been available before and
- 11 after. And they're just -- I don't think we did anything
- extraordinary. It may be increase your speed for the
- 13 same cost. It may increase your speed for a minor cost.
- 14 It might have been a -- you know, extension of a
- 15 promotional credit. There's just general things that are
- 16 used like that, and I'm not saying that's inclusive of
- 17 everything. It's just ones I don't have knowledge of.
- Q. What were the -- were there specific -- were there 19 specific promotions offered to customers in response to
- 20 the Spectrum advertising?
- 21 A. I do know that we -- there were -- yes, there were.
 - We -- well, let me -- let me explain that further, so --
- 23 O. Please.
- 24 A. -- I don't know that those were new promotions
 - created. We instructed our representatives to use

- promotions more proactively in the cases that a customer
- called in and was trying to move to Spectrum as a result 3 of the advertising, and we saw that they had certain
- 4 abilities in their areas to get increased speed or they
- 5 were available for promotions, we were more actively,
- 6 more proactively offering those than we normally would.
- 7 Q. So if I'm an existing Windstream customer and I
- 8 decide I want to change my provider because I hate the
- Kinetic, the -- that sort of flower shaped logo, and I 1.0 call in, what -- would there be -- there would be
- 11 promotions that would not be available for that customer
- 12 that would be available for a customer that called in in
- 13 response to the Spectrum advertising?
- 14 A. I don't know. I don't know.
- 15 Q. Okay. I'm not -- I'm not sure that question made a
- 16 lot of sense. I'm going to take another run at that.
- 17 There were promotions that were available to
- 18 customers who called in in response to the Spectrum
- 19 advertising. Yes?
- 2.0 A. Yes.

- 21 Q. Which of those promotions would not have been
- 22 available to a customer that called in for another
- 23 reason?
- 24 I don't know
- 25 Any?

Page 73

- 1 A. I just -- I don't know.
- Sitting here today, you can't identify any 3 promotions that would have been available specific to the
- 4 Spectrum advertising that wouldn't have been available in
- 5 the general course?
- 6 A. Well, as I said earlier, I don't know that we
- 7 necessarily created unique promotions. We -- I think we
- 8 just made those promotions available to people or to
- 9 customers that we would not normally have done or we were
- 10 more proactive in encouraging to take a promotion than we
- 11 would have been prior to the Spectrum advertisement.
- 12 Q. So as far as promotions that were only available
- 13 for customers calling in or related to the Spectrum
- 14 advertising that would not be otherwise available to the
- 15 customers, there were none; correct?
- 16 A. Well, let me -- let me clarify my answer on this.
- 17 So I'm not saying is it's a unique promotion. What I'm
- 18 saying is we're making promotion available to people that
- 19 we would not normally have made the promotion available
- 20 to, and we did it more proactively. Sometimes you do
- 21 those reactively if a customer calls in. Sometimes we
- 22 proactively go out and reach them because we say they're
- 23 available, they're clearly concerned about the Spectrum
- 24 advertising, so we're going to proactively offer this to
- 25 them, and we would not have normally done that without 249 Pg 22 of 54 Page 74 Page 75 the customer asking. 1 Charter because of lower costs or higher speeds? 2 Q. So, no, there were no unique promotions created in 2 A. I'd have to -- I just don't recall reading through 3 response to the Spectrum advertising?

- 4 A. Not that I'm aware of. 5 Q. Call center representatives would have been instructed to be more proactive in offering promotions to customers that called in about the Spectrum advertising? 8 A. Correct.
- 9 Q. What is the difference to Windstream in a customer that's lost because of Spectrum advertising and a 10 11 customer that's lost because he or she doesn't care for the Kinetic logo? 12
- 13 A. Well, a lost customer related to just the general 14 disconnect or dissatisfaction with service or they like 15 another company better or lots of cases they decide they 16 can't afford broadband. They just disconnect. That's, 17 you know, a lost customer. 18
- The disconnect to go to Charter is a customer that 19 would not have normally disconnected if it had not been 20 for the Charter advertisement. So it's a unexpected 21 disconnect so to speak. It's not planned, would not have 22 been a normal course of business disconnect. 23 Q. Okay. So your review of the notes related to 2.4 customer call ins that were calling in about Spectrum indicated that those customers weren't switching to 3 all those transcripts all the different reasons. I mean, 4 I'm not -- I'm not saying they couldn't have been related 5 to Charter's offers or higher speeds. The vast majority 6 of the call transcripts I read were related specifically 7 to the Spectrum advertisement and the customer calling in 8 and being concerned. 9 Q. If the customer disconnects from Windstream --10 well, I'm struggling maybe -- I'm hoping you can explain 11 to me the difference between a customer that -- that 12 hasn't reviewed the Spectrum advertising at issue and 13 calls in and says Windstream just costs too much and the 14 customer who calls in and just says Windstream costs too 15 much? What's the difference between those two? 16 A. The difference is the Charter advertising precipitated the call to come in and the conversation 17 18 versus a general disconnect would have been a -- just a 19 normal course of wanting to change or disconnect service. 20 Q. And so if a customer that calls in and says 21 Windstream costs too much, there are promotions that 22 wouldn't be available to that customer, but that would be 23 available to a customer that says I reviewed the Spectrum

- 1 context and what is used and what the situation that it's offered. It's very dependent upon the customer's 2 situation, the availability of service in their area, the availability of what pricing or network technology in the 4 area. There's a lot of different variables, but, primarily, it's not that it's a different set of promotions. It's the nature in which the promotion is
- 9 Q. Did any of the promotions offered to customers to stay with Windstream cause Windstream to lose money on 1.0 11 its contracts -- or excuse me, on its relationship with 12 that customer? 13 A. Are you -- are you talking specifically about as a
- 14 result of the Charter advertising? 15 Q. Yes, sir. 16 A. Yes, it would.
- Q. So there are customers right now who Windstream is 17 18 losing money by providing service to?
- 19 A. We're making less money is another way of saying
- 2.0
- 21 Q. I want to -- I want to be clear that we're talking 22 about --
- 23 A. Okay.

- 24 Q. -- the difference between making less money and
- 25 losing money.

1 A. Okay.

2 Is Windstream losing money on any customers that it

ad and I think Windstream costs too much?

A. I can't say it's a different promotion. It's the

- 3 is providing services to right now?
- 4 A. Not that I'm aware of.
- 5 Q. Is -- so given that Windstream isn't, as far as
 - you're aware, losing money on any customers that it's
- 7 providing services to, it's fair to say that Windstream 8
- isn't losing money on any customers that it's providing 9 services to that reviewed the Spectrum advertisement?
- 10 A. That I'm aware of, yes.
- 11 So the concern with the customers that were offered
- 12 promotions because they reviewed the Spectrum advertising
- 13 isn't that Windstream is losing money on those customers.
- 14 It's that it's making less money on those customers;
- 15 correct?
- A. Correct. 16
- 17 Q. And even though Windstream is making less money on
- 18 those customers in connection with the promotions, those
- 19 customers are either receiving faster speeds or paying a
- 20 lower bill; true?

- A. Those -- those could be the results.
- 22 Q. All right. How many manhours did Windstream expend
- 23 to combat Charter's claim that's alleged in paragraph 24
- 24 of your affidavit?
- 25 A. I don't have a specific number. I would say it's

20 (Pages 74 to 77)

249	Pg 23 (JI 54
Day	ge 78		Page 7

- 10s of thousands.
- Q. If I wanted to look at pieces of paper that could
- validate the contention that Windstream was forced to
- expend 10s of thousands of hours responding to Charter's
- advertising campaign, what pieces of paper would I look
- A. I don't necessarily look at pieces of paper. I
- 8 think we'd have to look -- I'm not saying there's a
- 9 specific official document. You would have to look at
- the time that it took to coach each of the call center 10
- 11 reps through the script, to provide the script, their
- 12 time to go read or view those scripts, any questions they
- 13 might have had. I don't know if it's necessarily a piece
- 14 of paper for, for example, my time associated with this
- 15 or internal counsel's time or other analysts' time.
- 16 That's pieces of paper, but, you know, it -- it could be
- 17 a educated approximation.
- 18 Q. So --
- 19 A. You've got 3,000 call center reps times some period
- 20 of time it takes to go do that.
- 21 Then on top of that, you've got all the time
- 22 associated with handling the customer calls related to
- 23 these, the escalation time related to these, the --
- 24 Q. Are call center reps -- I'm sorry.
- 25 Go ahead.

- 1 Q. Are call center representatives paid hourly or by
- 2 the call?
- 3 A. Hourly.
- 4 Q. If I wanted -- say that you said you spend 10s of
- 5 thousands of hours responding to the Spectrum campaign,
- 6 and I said, 10s of thousands of hours seems like an awful
- 7 lot. And you said, no, really, here's some pieces of
- 8 paper that I could show you to validate my 10s of
- 9 thousands of hours claimed, what would -- what documents
- 10 would we be looking at, sir?
- 11 A. I don't know that you just look at time
 - documents -- I mean, that you look at time tracking
- 13 documents in this stuff. It would just have to go
- 14 through each of the individuals that are communicated to,
- 15 approximately based upon our supervisor's knowledge how
- 16 long it took to communicate that, how many calls were
- 17 received. We'd have to go back and estimate the time
- 18 associated with our marketing department to prepare the
- 19 advertising campaigns to combat accuracies as well as,
- 20 you know, accounting for all of my time, et cetera, as
- 21 well as our counsel time, outside counsel time.
- 22 Q. Are you paid hourly, sir?
- 23 A. No.
- 24 Q. Miss Sims is we'll stipulate.
 - Who would I talk -- as far as if I wanted to talk

1 to a person other than you who could validate that 10s of

- 2 thousands of hours were spent responding to the Spectrum
- 3 advertising, who are the people that I would talk to?
- 4 A. Oh, you would have to talk to, once again, 5 Paul Strickland, our vice president of customer service.
- 6 You'd have to talk to Jeff Small, the president of our
- 7 business unit for customer -- consumer/small business,
- 8 and talk to who all in his organization was involved in
- 9 the efforts both from a marketing perspective, the call
- 10 center perspective. You'd have to talk to our general
- 11 counsel, Kristi Moody, in terms of all the legal
- 13 You know -- you know, that's offhand what I would think representatives and paralegals that's involved with that.

- 14 of in addition -- in addition to others.
- 15 There's also support organizations within
- 16 consumer/small business that were involved with gathering
- 17 all of the materials to determine the extent of the
- 18 damage. There's just a number of -- there's a number of
- 19 people that we'd have to call to be -- once again, it
- 20 would be extraordinary effort just to gather the amount
- 21 of hours called to deal with the original calls.
- 2.2 Q. Tell me -- you said was it Christine?
- 23 A. Kristi Moody.
- 24 Chris -- Kristi.
- 25 A. K -- K-R-I-S-T-I Moody. She's the general counsel

- at Windstream.
- Q. M-O-O-D?
- 3 A. Y.
- 4 Q. Y.
- 5 How much money has Windstream spent as a result of
- 6 this Spectrum advertising?
- 7 A. I don't have the specific number.
- 8 More than a thousand dollars?
- 9 A. Oh, yes.
- 10 Q. More than a billion dollars?
- 11 A.
- 12 Roughly, sir.
- 13 A. You know, I'm not saying it's fully inclusive or
- 14 it's inclusive of all damages or all costs associated
- 15 with this, but it's going to be north of -- north of a
- 16 million dollars.
- 17 Q. Between one and two million?
- 18 A. I feel more comfortable saying keep it between one
- 19 and five million maybe or I have no idea to the extent
- 20 that we're paying outside counsel. I have no knowledge
- 21 of their fee structure, what we're having to do to pay --
- 22 pay them. So I -- you know, my internal knowledge would
- 23 be between one and five. Beyond that, there would be
- 24 more costs that I'm not aware of.
- 25 Q. Well, what was in your mind, sir, when you said money?

that Windstream has been forced to expend substantial

- A. The involvement of internal personal as well as
- marketing campaigns.
 - Q. Was there a dollar amount in your mind?
- A. Dollar amount was between that one and
- five million. It's my general instinct that that's where
- the range is going to come in.
- 9 Q. And who are the people that I would talk to? I
- mean, dollar amount, we could get receipts or something; 10
- 11 right?
- A. We can get receipts. We could also go back and do 12
- 13 approximation on, once again, of the internal labor cost
- 14 time to go deal with this.
- 15 Q. So what would we look to as far as documents for --
- 16 I guess electronically stored information that we could
- 17 review to determine how much money Windstream has been
- 18 forced to expend as contended in the first sentence of
- 19 paragraph 24 of your affidavit?
- 20 A. We would have to go back to probably our finance
- 21 leader for the consumer/small business unit and look at
- 22 the cost there. We would have to go to our legal team
- 23 here within Windstream to get the estimates on all the
- 24 outside counsel, as well as all the internal time and
- effort spent as well. We would have to go to our 25

- 1 marketing teams for the consumer/small business to get
- 2 the receipts for all the outside -- all the campaigns
- 3 we've had to go run. And then I think we'd have to get
- 4 some sort of estimation from our call center organization
- 5 about how long it took to do the talking points for
- 6 the -- each of the customer service representatives.
- 7 Q. What was included in the talking points for -- in
- 8 response to the Spectrum advertising that wasn't included
- 9 in the talking points related to Windstream's own notice
- 10 of bankruptcy?
- 11 A. Acknowledgment of -- of Spectrum's ads, the nature
- 12 of the false statements made and how to respond or
- 13 assuage customers' concerns associated with those
- 14 advertisements.

- 15 Q. What were you saying other than business as usual,
- 16 not operational and your services aren't going to be
- 17 interrupted because of the bankruptcy?
- 18 A. The -- we've talked about the specific Internet
- 19 services, broadband services, entertainment services that
- 20 Spectrum referenced in their ad that would be interrupted
- 21 as a result of Windstream's bankruptcy.
 - Q. So in response to the original notice of
- 23 bankruptcy, Windstream didn't say that Internet services
- 24 aren't going to be interrupted as a result of bankruptcy?
 - A. We talked about services generally. We didn't talk

- 1 them as specifically as the Spectrum ad did.
- 2 Q. So the Spectrum ad said something about Internet
- 3 and broadband?
- 4 A. I don't recall. I mean, it talked about specific
- 5 services. They're in there. I'd have to go refresh
- 6 myself and look at that again.
- 7 Q. So the differences that you've articulated between
- 8 the talking points in response to the Spectrum ad that
- 9 weren't in the talking points related to Windstream's own
- 10 notice of bankruptcy are to say, well, there's the
- 11 Spectrum ad and that Internet and broadband services
- 12 won't be interrupted because of bankruptcy?
- 13 A. Yeah. So the -- the original notice to the
- 14 customers were -- was very general in nature about
- 15 services being interrupted. The Spectrum ad was much
- 16 more specific about specific services being interrupted,
- 17 and the talking points that we had given to the customer
- 18 service reps would have been related to the specific 19
- services as well as once again reiterating generally all 20 services won't be interrupted.
- 21 Q. So when I go back and I look at the call center
- 2.2 notes and the transcripts, I'll be able to tell that a
- 23 customer -- that a customer service representative is
- 2.4 talking about -- is using talking points in response to
- 25 Spectrum ads because he or she will be referring to

- Page 85
- specific broadband and Internet services not being 2 interrupted as opposed to making general statements about
- 3 services not being interrupted?
- 4 A. That is correct. Specific calls that I actually
- 5 listened to as well as I saw the transcripts of were
- 6 customers relating to specific services called out in the
- 7 Spectrum ad and the customers questioning if those
- 8 services were going to be cut off.
- 9 Q. So if it's a call about a Spectrum advertisement,
- 10 we're more likely to see references to specific Internet
- 11 service or broadband service not being interrupted. If
- 12 it's a call related to just the notification of
- 13 bankruptcy, it's going to be more general, and it's just
- 14 going to talk about service interruptions; correct?
- 15 A. That's my knowledge of it. To the best of my
- 16 knowledge.

24

- 17 Q. I'm sorry. You said -- I thought you said you
- 18 would talk to the finance leader if we were looking to
 - validate the one to five million dollars?
- 20 That would be one of the sources.
- 21 What's a -- is a finance leader a person?
- 22 A. There's a -- there's a specific finance leader for
- 23 the consumer/small business unit. His name is Ben Bruce.
 - Spell --
- 25 A. B -- B-E-N Bruce, B-R-U-C-E.

- 1 multiple people on that team that are involved in that,
- but our access team is the primary one that acquires the
- 3 services. So if there's a disconnect to underlying
- 4 services, that's the team that escalates back with
- 5 Charter.
- 6 Q. So who specifically on the access team did you talk
- 7 to?
- 8 A. That would be Jean -- Jeanne Dale primarily, maybe
- 9 Wendy Hayes as well.
- 10 Q. Do -- you said Rick Hausman?
- 11 A. Rick Hausman is over the service delivery work
- section. So if the customer has a problem, they're
- primarily going to call into Rick's organization first.
- 14 They may also call Elizabeth Orth as well, which is over
- 15 customer service.
- 16 Q. Tell me Elizabeth -- I got --
- 17 A. Orth, O-R-T-H.
- Q. Tell me how to spell Mr. Hausman's last name.
- 19 A. H-A-U-S-M-A-N.
- Q. So Rick Hausman, what's his title?
- A. He is the executive vice president of service
- 22 delivery.
- Q. And you said he contacts -- he's in contact with
- 24 the customer?
- 25 A. So if there's a service delivery -- if there's a

- 1 service interruption with a customer, they're more than
- 2 likely either going to call him -- call his organization,
- 3 somewhere in his organization for service delivery, or
- 4 they're going to call our customer care organization
- 5 underneath Elizabeth Orth to -- to notify us of a
- 6 problem, that there's a problem.
- 7 Q. And is Mr. Hausman's organization, do they liaise
- 8 with enterprise customers or --
- 9 A. Those are enter -- those are enterprise customers.
- 10 Like I said earlier, if -- and if they were -- some of
- 11 these were underlying small business customers that were
- in our consumer/small business unit, then that would have
- 13 come through Paul Strickland's organization.
- Q. Paul Strickland wasn't a person that you talked to
- 15 to prepare for --
- 16 A. Paul Strickland -- not specifically on this one.
- Most of this I -- this knowledge I acquired was through
- our access team. And then we had further information
- from them about the customers impacted, but that was all
- via the access team. So I guess to be specific, to
- 21 correct myself and be very specific to your answer, it
- == concet mysen and se very specific to your answer,
- would have been Jeanne Dale, Wendy Hayes.
- Q. And they're on the access team?
- A. And that's the access -- yes, they're two of the - leaders in the access team.

- Q. And I'm -- I'm trying to get my arms around what --
- 2 access team, what's their -- what's the responsibility of
- 3 the access team?
- 4 A. They're the ones that acquire the underlying
- 5 services or that last mile access referenced here in
- 6 my -- in my affidavit.
- 7 Q. I see.
- 8 A. They're the ones that actually acquire the service
- 9 from Charter.
- 10 Q. They're the folks who talk to Charter?
- 11 A. Yes
- Q. So the notion is Windstream has 99 miles of fiber
- and needs one more. It gets that one more by -- through
- a -- through a contract with other providers, one of --
- 15 for example, Charter?
- 16 A. That is correct.
- Q. And so is this -- is this kind of the cable
- industry analog to like a reciprocal compensation
- agreement in the telephone industry?
- A. It's akin to it. It's a good -- that's a fairly
- 21 good analogy. In some cases where we don't have service,
- we have to lean on other carriers for that last mile
- access. In some cases, we're the last mile access. So
- it is very much akin to that.
- Q. Does -- so does Windstream provide last mile access

- 1 to other carriers?
- 2 A. Yes.

- Q. If I ask who, is that a question that's going to
 - make you or your counsel uncomfortable?
- 5 MS. SIMS: Can you repeat the question?
 - MR. KINGSTON: If I ask who Windstream
- 7 provides last mile access to, is that a --
- 8 MS. SIMS: I don't believe that's relevant
 - at all, so -- or a topic, so yes.
- 10 BY MR. KINGSTON (CONT.):
- 11 Q. Not Charter.
- 12 A. I -- I don't know.
- 13 Q. Okay.
- A. I don't know who all -- I don't know who all we - provide to. I know we do in general. I can't -- and
- 16 I -- but I just don't know them all.
- Q. Okay. And tell me who -- so I think your answer is - going to be the same for topic 22, but as far as
- 19 Windstream's communications with customers regarding the
- 20 alleged interruption or disconnection of service to
- 21 certain Windstream customers, would that have been
- 22 Miss Dale and Miss Hayes as well?
- A. That -- they would have provided the statusing back
- to -- once again, there are front line organizations;
- 25 right? Are the ones that take the calls from the

D	-	1	\circ

- 1 customers and handle the customer issues, so those would
- 2 have been Mr. Hausman's organization, Miss Orth's
- 3 organization or Mr. Strickland's organizations. They're
- 4 the ones that interface directly with the customers. Not
- 5 to say the access team may not get involved to help
- 6 explain what was going on with those customers, but they
- 7 wouldn't be the primary source of contact. That would be
- 8 the not -- not the normal flow of the conversations.
- 9 Q. And you didn't talk to Mr. Strickland to gather - information related to section -- particularly 22; right?
- 11 A. No. My knowledge was all obtained through the
- 12 access organization. And -- and also on the -- well, I
- would tell you the other piece of this. We received
- 14 executive escalations about the outage from our general
- counsel, Kristi Moody. The issue was escalated to her
- 16 from the business unit organizations upon customers being
- cut off because they were pre-petition balances were the
- 18 reasons being given, and so there's immediate escalation
- so that Miss Moody can escalate with counsel at Charter
- 20 to get the services turned back on.
- 21 Q. So you talked to Windstream lawyers. You talked to
- 22 Mr. Hausman, and you talked to Mr. Orth?
- 23 A. Yes.
- Q. And I'm just focusing just on category 22,
- Windstream's communications with customers regarding the

Page 119

- 1 alleged interruption or disconnection of service to
- 2 certain Windstream customers; right?
- 3 A. Yes.
- 4 Q. So legal, Hausman, Orth as far as communications
- 5 with the customers; right?
- 6 A. Yes
- 7 Q. And what is -- what is Mr. Orth's first name again?
- 8 A. Elizabeth.
- 9 Q. Oh, that's -- so what, is it Ms. Orth? It's - probably misses. Mrs. Orth's first name?
- 11 A. I prefer to say miss.
- 12 Q. Oh, miss.
- 13 A. And lack of understanding, yeah.
- 14 Q. That's fine. Miss Orth's first name is Elizabeth.
- And what's her -- what's her group again?
- 16 A. Customer care for our enterprise business unit.
- 17 Q. And when I -- tell me -- tell me about Windstream's
- 18 communications with customers regarding the
- 19 interruptions.

- A. One, the communication would be to acknowledge
- 21 receipt when they call in and say we acknowledge -- yes,
- we see you have an issue. We have to research what's
- going on with the issue. Secondly, then to follow back
- up with the customer to status them -- on the status of
 - their issue. In this situation, I know we were receiving

Page 120

- 1 customer -- you know, calls back from the customer
- 2 saying, you know, when is this going to be fixed, you
- 3 know, we're out of service. We can't -- we can't
- 4 operate. Some of those services that were impacted the
- 5 customers called back were things like they lost 911
- access. They lost Internet access. Some of those -- as I said earlier today, some of those were homeless
- 8 shelters, day cares, et cetera, so they had a heightened
- 9 sense of escalation. And I don't know all 350 businesses
- 10 sitting here today, but those were typical of what's
- 11 going on.
- So, you know, proactive communication back with
- 13 them as well throughout the outage to let them know what
- 14 was going on to status them on their tickets, and that
- was probably done in that case not by -- not by
- specifically a care rep, by an account -- an account
- 17 representative that owns that account, that relationship
- with the account, was statusing back with them as well.
- That would be the normal path that we would follow.
- Q. So were there 350 discrete businesses?
- 21 A. My understanding there were 350 discrete customers
- 22 impacted. Those customers could have been a small
- business, a B to B business and within that range. So it
- 24 could have been a restaurant. It could have been, as I
- said, lack of better terms, I know two of them

- Page 121
- 2 Q. Right, but you're saying there was 350 specific, specifically were a homeless shelter and a day care.

- 3 individual businesses?
- 4 A. Discrete -- discrete customers. Just call them
- 5 customers because I don't know the exact discernment
- 6 between were they a large B to B customer, were they a
- 7 small B to B customer, were they individual small
- 8 business owner. It could have been. It could have been
- 9 a small business owner with a connection going into a
- 10 location that was also a household.
- Q. Among those 350 customers, are you aware of a
- 12 single consumer customer?
- 13 A. Like I said, I don't know the specific breakdown.
- 14 I'm not -- I'm not aware that one of them was. I'm not - aware that one of them was not.
- Q. Are you aware of a single one of those, excuse me,
- 17 350 customers that received the advertisements or any --
- any of the advertisements that are collected in Exhibit 3
- 19 to your affidavit?
- A. I'm not aware that any of them received it or did
- 21 not receive it.
- Q. You're not aware?
- A. There were 800,000 sent out by Charter in all of
 - our operating territory, so that's a pretty significant
- 25 coverage.

- 22 Q. Do you know approximately how much?
- 23 A. Approximately $1 billion.
- 24 Q. Do you know whether that financing was accompanied
- 25 with a ranking or a grade?

Page 127

- 1 A. Yes, we received investor -- investment grade
- 2 ranking on those -- on that debt.
- 3 Q. What does that mean?
 - A. That means basically it's of a much higher quality
- 5 debt and one that people are more willing to participate
- 6 in. It attracts a higher level of investors.
- 7 Q. And do you know what the debtor-in-possession
- 8 financing will be used for generally?
- 9 A. Primarily for just normal day in/day out
- 10 operations, business as usual type operations. You know,
- prior to the bankruptcy filing, we had a revolver, but
- 12 because of the judge's ruling related to the Aurelius
- case, you know, that got locked down, and so we had to
- 14 acquire financing to continue operations and so that's
- what the debtor-in-possession financing is. It's just
- 16 normal day in/day out operation.
- 17 Q. And does that debtor-in-possession financing ensure - that the day-to-day operations are not impacted by the
- 19 Chapter 11?
- 20 A. Yes. Yes.
- 21 Q. You mentioned a Kinetic Internet earlier; is that
- 22 right?
- 23 A. Correct.
- Q. Can you explain what that is?
- A. So that's our -- that's our -- Kinetic is our brand

Page 128

- name that we use for a lot of our consumer/small business
- 2 services. The internet side of that is our broadband or
- 3 high speed data connection services into consumer

- ${\bf 5} \qquad {\bf Q}. \quad {\bf And} \ {\bf do} \ {\bf you} \ {\bf know} \ {\bf whether} \ {\bf Windstream} \ {\bf has} \ {\bf advertised}$
- 6 its Kinetic Internet?
- 7 A. Yes, we have, extensively.
- 8 Q. And did you -- did you say when that advertising
- 9 started?
- 10 A. That advertising started in September, 2017, I
- 11 believe.
- Q. And how has Windstream advertised Kinetic Internet?
- 13 A. Oh, we've had print advertising, media advertising.
- 14 We've had Internet advertising. We've had direct mail
- 15 pieces. Many, many different advertising forms and
- 16 channels.
- 17 O. I'm going to hand you a document that was
- previously marked at Exhibit 1 to your declaration.
- 19 Consistent with the earlier deposition exhibits for the
- deposition, I'm going to go ahead and retain that exhibit

- 5 Q. Do you recognize it?
- 6 A. It's one of Windstream's Kinetic advertisements.
- 7 Q. And if you go to the third -- the last page of the
- 8 exhibit, it's Bates numbered WIN -- WIN 4?
- 9 A. Yes.

11

- 10 O. What is that?
 - A. That is our -- our Web site. So it would be one of
- 12 our Web advertisements.
- Q. And where were -- where was Kinetic Internet
- 1.4 advertised?
- A. Well, so it would be all -- all the states we offer
- consumer services in. So -- so of note would be our --
- respectfully our most -- our largest competitive states,
- so Ohio, Kentucky, Nebraska, North Carolina, amongst
- 19 others.

- Q. Do your -- I'm sorry. How did you describe it?
- You said the highest -- the most highest?
- 22 A. I said of note, those are the highest ones, but it
- would be all the states that we offer our consumer
 - services in.
- Q. Are Alabama and Georgia included in the highest

- A. Yes. I mean, they would be. I mean, yeah, I'm
- just calling out of note those states, those other
- Q. You can set that aside for now.

- 14 Bates numbered WIN 173 to 176. I'll hand these to you.
- 15 I'll also hand copies to counsel.
- Mr. Langston, do you recognize Exhibit 16? 16
- 17
- 18 Q. And what is that?
- 19 A. It's a direct mail piece advertising our Kinetic
- 20 high speed Internet.
- 21 Q. And turning to Exhibit 17, do you recognize that
- 22 document?

- 3 Q. And do you know whether Windstream has registered

- 5 A. We have.
- 6 Q. You can set those aside for now.
 - Are you familiar with Charter Communications, Inc.
- 8 and Charter Communications Operating, LLC?
- 9 Generally.
- 10 Q. And generally what is your knowledge of Charter
- 11 generally?

- A. They're a large telecommunications provider, 12
- 13 primarily cable and broadband services to both, you know,
- 14 consumer as well as business.
- 15 Q. How would you describe Windstream's relationship
- 16 with Charter?
- 17 A. They're a competitor, but at the same time they're
- 18 also somebody that we buy services for for last mile
- 19

- 20 Q. And when you say that Charter is a competitor, can
- 21 you be more specific?
- 22 A. We sell the same services in the same markets, and
- 23 so we're competing for customers, for the same customers.
- 24 And which market would that be?
- 25 Those 18 states that we're in, those consumer

- services states that we're in.
- Q. And specifically for what service?
- I would tell you two. The primary service would be
- broadband, but there are some -- in some cases
- entertainment services as well, video.
- Q. And how competitive is the broadband industry in - the market?
- A. It's very competitive.
- Q. And is Charter one of Windstream's main competitors
- in that market space? 1.0
- A. Yes. 11
- 12 Q. Would you say that Charter competes directly with
- 13 Windstream?
- 14 A. Absolutely.
- Q. Are you familiar with an advertising campaign by 15
- Charter involving Windstream's Chapter 11? 16
- A. Yes, I am. 17
- Q. And do you know when this advertising campaign 18

- 2.0 A. Basically upon, my knowledge, it would be about the
- 21 middle of March, maybe a little bit earlier than that.
- 22 Q. And what generally, to your knowledge, did that --
- 23 did Charter's advertising campaign regarding Windstream's
- 24 Chapter 11 consist of?
- 25 A. Informing the people that were the recipients of

- Page 133
- the advertising that Windstream had declared bankruptcy, 2 that our future was uncertain and that specific -- don't
- 3 risk certain services like Internet being interrupted and
- 4 that Charter was -- was here to stay, and then at the end
- 5
- of the advertisement it saying, you know, basically
- 6 good-bye, Windstream; hello, Spectrum.
- 7 Q. And do you know what form the advertisements
- 8 were -- let me rephrase.
- 9 Do you know the format of the advertisements
- 10 that -- that Charter ran?
- 11 A. Explain format.
- 12 Do you know if it was direct mail?
- 13 A. You had direct mail. Later there were door
- 14 hangers, but the initial way that was launched in early
- 15 March were primarily direct mail.
- 16 Q. I'm going to refer to you what's previously marked
- 17 as Exhibit 13. Do you recognize this document?
- 18 A.
- 19 Q. And what is this document?
- 20 A. These are the examples of the Spectrum advertising
- 21 or Charter advertising that Windstream became in
- 22 possession of related to that early to mid March
- 23 advertising campaign I mentioned earlier.
 - Q. And do you know where these advertisements were
- 25 disseminated?

- 5 Q. And what is it?
- 6 A. It's a letter from Cody Harrison, the VP and
- 7 associate general counsel at Charter, to Carol Keith
- 8 disagreeing that they -- that there's any failing --
- 9 false or misleading about the advertising.
- Q. And to your knowledge, other than Exhibit 31, did
- 11 Charter have any other response to Windstream's cease and
- 12 desist letters?
- 13 A. Not that I'm aware of, no.
- 14 Q. And do you know whether Charter sent Windstream any
- copies of future direct mail pieces regarding the
- 16 bankruptcy?
- 17 A. I am aware of -- I've seen the future follow on
- advertisements. I don't know if they directly sent those
- 19 to us or not. I don't know the source. I've just seen
- 20 them
- Q. And you've seen that because of your role in this
- 22 case?
- 23 A. Yes.
- Q. And testifying at the TRO hearing?
- 25 A. Yes, I saw them -- I saw them in evidence.

- Page 161
- 2 And, Mr. Langston, to your knowledge, did
- 3 Windstream and Charter have a contractual relationship?
- 4 A. Yes.
- 5 Q. All right. Can you please describe that
- 6 contractual relationship?
- 7 A. It's a -- it's a relationship for Windstream to buy
- 8 what in the industry is called last mile services to
- 9 connect from Windstream's network into our customers and
- acquiring that -- that last mile connection from Charter,
- and then that's part of Windstream's service to the
- 12 customer.
- Q. So can you describe, I guess, maybe more
- 14 specifically in layman's terms what that last mile means?
- A. So if Windstream's network comes within a certain
- range of the customer's network, but we don't actually
- provide a connection all the way from our network all the
- way into the customer, sometimes we have to acquire a
- 19 competitor's service in order to connect from our network
- 20 into the actual physical customer premise.
- Q. And that last bit of connection from your network
- 22 to the customer's premise, is that considered what you
- 23 mean by last mile?
- A. That's last mile.
- Q. Okay. And have there been any recent instances

And then what does the Windstream person say? A. Yes, they are back up. And then can you confirm that no other services on this billing account were impacted? Q. And we don't know what the response to that is, do we, sir? A. No, we don't.

- 5 Q. Okay.
- 6 A. -- it gets cross-referenced from CAMP. So it's
- 7 just a system stamp. It doesn't mean anything about the
- 8 call.
- 9 Q. Thank you. A lot of people got very excited about
- 10 CAMP every time they got off the call, but --
- 11 A. Yeah, I know, and what is the exclamation points on

- 13 Q. Exhibit 20.
- 14 A. Okay.
- 15 Q. I don't see a reference to a door hanger in the
- 16 text of Exhibit 20 on page WIN 70. Can you direct me to
- 17
- A. It doesn't speak towards the door hanger. It talks 18
- 19 about the Spectrum sales individual knocking on their
- 20
- 21 Q. Okay. So if earlier you had testified that there
- 2.2 was a reference to a door hanger in this portion of the
- 23 transcript, that testimony would have been incorrect?
- 24 That would be incorrect.
- 2.5 And does the -- does the voice mail message from

Page 195

- 1 the customer indicate that the letter about Windstream
- 2 saying they're in bankruptcy came from Windstream or
- 3 Charter or AT&T or somebody else?
- 4 A. It says I got those letters about Windstream saying
- 5 they're in bankruptcy. Well, today the Spectrum guy
- 6 comes knocking on the door to tell me in two months I
- 7 won't have any -- I won't have no service.
- 8 Q. So the person as I read to say, what I was calling
 - about, I got those letters about Windstream saying
- 10 they're in bankruptcy. Have I read that correctly?
- 11

17

- 12 Q. And can you tell from that sentence whether those
- 13 letters about Windstream saying they're in bankruptcy
- 14 came from Windstream, Charter or AT&T?
- 15 A. You can't tell who they came from.
- 16 Okay.
 - Does Windstream ever utilize direct mail without
- 18 the Windstream name on the outside of the envelope?
- 19 A. I don't know.
- 20 Is that something that Windstream might do?
- 21 I don't know that they would do. I don't think so.
- 2.2 Q. You don't believe that Windstream ever uses direct
- 23 mail without Windstream's name on the outside envelope?
- 24 A. I don't believe so, but I don't -- like I said,
- 25 I'll go back to my original answer. I don't know.

Page 196

- Q. What about Windstream's logo? Does Windstream ever
- use direct mail without its logo on the outside envelope?
- I don't know.
- Q. How did Windstream go about identifying -- let me
- back up, sir.
- Windstream records all of its calls with customers
- on the customer service lines?
- 8 A. I don't know that it's a hundred percent, but it's
- 9 an extensive amount of our calls recorded. I mean, we
- 10 try to do a lot of them through there because at times
- there might be a customer inquiry back on one of those 11
- 12 calls, and we have to look at the call report and
- 13 potentially provide our representative coaching.
- 14 Q. So how did Windstream -- how did Windstream go
- 15 about identifying the Spectrum related calls that are
- 16 referenced in Exhibit 21?
- 17 A. So two different -- two different ways of doing it.
- 18 One, we went back through the call notes associated with
- 19 the customers, ran data analysis against the system to
- 2.0 see who called in about Spectrum. Secondly, we actually
- 21 manually went through recordings for customers as well to
- 22 discern which ones were referencing Spectrum. So we
- 23 could do a search on the data within the call recordings
- 24
- Q. So you could search by key words. You searched for 25

- Page 197
- Spectrum or bankruptcy? 2 A. I believe that's the technique that they use.
- 3 That's what I was indicated.
- 4 Q. Somebody didn't sit and listen to gajillions of
- 5 hours of telephone calls?
- 6 A. No. No. You couldn't. No.
- 7 Q. But so -- and we can -- we can infer, can't we,
- 8 sir, that the call notes wouldn't have been the only way
- 9 to identify customer calls related to Spectrum because we
- 10 went through a bunch of customer calls that didn't say
- 11 anything about Spectrum, and then we went through the
- 12 transcripts and they said stuff about Spectrum; right?
- A. Right. 13
- 14 Q. So --
- 15 A. But we don't know -- are you talking referencing
- 16 the screenshots --
- 17 Q. Yes, sir.

19

24

- 18 A. -- as exhibits?
 - So those screenshots are just shorthand
- 20 transcription. It doesn't necessarily mean that it's
- 21 fully inclusive of the conversation.
- 2.2 Q. No, I --
- 23 A. You'd have to look at the recording to understand
 - that.
- 25 Q. I think your lawyer demonstrated that point.

Page 129

A. On average, I believe it was a little over 800,000. But I don't have a specific number.

O. Sure.

4 And where did you get that 800,000 number?

A. That was part of -- when we had to make the destruction of mail, I had them pull how much mail was out there and that's where I got that

8 number. So that was specific to the decision on 9 destroying the mail as well. That's where that

11

Q. So the ones that were destroyed, that was -- that was after an initial round of mailings 12

13 had already gone out, correct?

14 A. Correct.

Q. And is it your understanding that the 15 16 second round of mailings that were pulled back, they 17 were going to the exact same addresses as the first 18 round?

19 A. I don't actually know the detailed answer 20 to that. It would have been the -- a similar pool.

21 Q. If you had to go back and figure it out, 22 who would you ask to get that information?

23 A. In my marketing operations team, I have a 24 group that pulls data files for all of our

25 prospective customers, our prospects. Page 130

1 Q. Now, amongst those approximate 800,000 --2 and I understand it's approximate -- do you have an

3 idea of how many of those recipients were actual

4 Windstream customers other than just being in their 5 footprint?

6 A. I don't.

Q. Do you have an estimate?

8 A. It would have been in the one court -- or

9 the document where it showed -- one of the 10 exhibits -- I don't recall which exhibit -- where

11 there was an overlap of where we had determined that 12 could be where they were operating. And so that's 13 where the -- where the file would have gone -- or come from.

Q. And I understand that that's where they could be.

But is there a way that you have internally to know specifically this person at this address is a Windstream customer and I know that if I send the mailing there, it's going to go to a Windstream customer?

A. Not with a hundred percent certainty.

23 Q. So what kind of certainty do you have?

24 A. They could have -- the certainty we have is that they are in an area that's serviced by 25

Page 131

Windstream and it doesn't mean that they are a

Windstream customer.

Q. Do you have some sort of industry standard or rule of thumb of knowing what percentage of people in that area would be Windstream customers?

A. I don't specifically have that detail, but it would be part of our competitive intelligence detail to make certain assumptions on that.

Q. And, again, if you wanted that information, you'd go back to the competitive

11 intelligence folks --

A. Yes.

13 O. -- and ask them?

14 A. Yes.

Q. And you didn't talk to any of those 15

16 competitive intelligence people to prepare for 17 responding to questions today?

A. I did not.

Q. And my understanding is that you're not

20 here today to answer questions about the door-to-door campaign; is that correct? 21

A. That is correct. It's my understanding 2.2

23 Keith Dardis will cover that.

24 Q. Okay. And to clarify too, you're also not

25 here to answer any questions about the telephone Page 132 campaign?

A. The outbound telemarketing?

Q. Yes.

4 A. That's not my area.

5 Q. Okay. Okay. I just want to follow up.

I'm reading Topic No. 3, which says --

A. In here?

Q. Yes.

A. Okay.

10 Q. -- "the use of the advertisements by

11 Charter, including any door-to-door campaign,

12 in-person solicitations, or telephone campaign."

13 And I think your counsel said -- or you and/or your

14 counsel said at the outset that you had partial

15 knowledge on that topic.

A. Yes.

17 Q. What knowledge do you have on Topic No. 3?

18 A. My knowledge on this was that I became 19 aware that Jennifer Ingram, in one of the exhibits

20 that you showed, that they were crafting a piece of 21 collateral for door-to-door. I was not aware of 22 that prior to seeing the documents. 23

Q. Okay. And does that exhaust your knowledge of Topic No. 3?

A. Other than the point that my team would

10	Q. Okay. So you asked everybody in that	10	Q. Okay. And what, if anything, did you do

12	A. We just asked the one person that's	12	A. So for residential direct sales, is what

21	Q. Okay. Do you recall seeing these emails	22	Q. And was the idea, then, that you would

23	A. I do.	24	A. That's correct.

15	We could we certainly know what leads	15 16	Q. So but you could go back and figure out, as a result of this door-to-door campaign, we

A. I would have to check. I don't believe we 2 capture the data that says who the incumbent was. 3 Q. So if somebody was a Windstream customer 4 and said, Yeah, I'll switch to Charter, that doesn't get noted down on the pad or something somewhere? A. I don't believe so. I'm not a hundred percent certain on that, but I don't believe so. 8 Q. If you wanted to be a hundred percent 9 certain, who would you ask to see if you had that information? 10

11 A. Probably our VP of operations that's responsible for the tool. 12 13 Q. In this particular case, when the door-to-door people were sent out on these leads, did they receive any specific training on what was supposed to occur this time or was it just the same as what they always do? A. Same as always.

19 Q. Take a look at Exhibit No. 14.

2.0 A. (Witness review document.)

21 Q. Have you seen this document before?

22 A. I'm reading it. 23 I don't believe so.

24 Q. I see you're not copied. I was just

25 asking if you've -- Page 38

A. No.

Q. Are you involved with any email campaigns out of Charter?

A. No. I -- no, I mean, the -- our process isn't to allow an email campaign for residential direct sales, yeah. And they just go door to door. They don't email. They shouldn't be emailing other than follow-up.

Q. But are you aware that Charter does email some customers?

11 A. Yeah, I'm sure they do.

Q. Okay. But that's not within your purview?

A. No.

Q. Okay. Do you know who's responsible for that?

A. I really don't.

Q. So I would assume there's no need to coordinate door-to-door efforts with any email campaign that may be going on at the same time?

A. No. We -- effectively, we're one channel. They're another channel. We compete with the same lead list. I'm hoping the customer signs with us from a direct standpoint versus goes to -- I mean, we're all one company, but we kind of compete against each other.

Q. So in your job, as it relates to direct sales, do you have any knowledge of what mailing campaigns may be occurring at the same time?

A. I'm sure I could attend marketing meetings that would be -- that would be part of that meeting, but there's nothing that I would be looped in, make decisions on, or be involved in as a standard course of business.

Q. So you, as a standard course, you don't get copied, hey, here's the new mailers going out this week, so everybody is on the same page?

A. No.

Q. And is there ever a time you would be involved in that?

A. I wouldn't be involved in the decision. But there certainly could be a time where someone might send a -- just a distributed email out to everybody to say, hey, we're doing a mailing campaign to introduce a new product or introduce a new price point or something. But it wouldn't have any impact on how we would approach our business.

Q. You can set that down. Thank you.

23 A. Sure.

2.4 Q. Take a look at Exhibit No. 17, please.

25 A. (Witness complies.) Page 40

Q. Again, you're not copied on this email, so I have no reason to think you've seen it.

But I'm going to ask: Have you seen this document before?

A. Not that I can recall.

Q. Were you aware of any discussion in this time frame about Windstream's bankruptcy?

A. Time frame being 3/20?

Q. Yeah, in March of 2019.

10 A. Any discussions with whom, with Adam? I 11 don't know who Adam is.

Q. Sure.

Were you a part of any discussions with anyone in Charter about the effect of Windstream's bankruptcy on your business?

A. Well, similar to what we just discussed in the previous email -- two emails ago, yeah, we had conversations about understanding where Windstream overlapped our customer base.

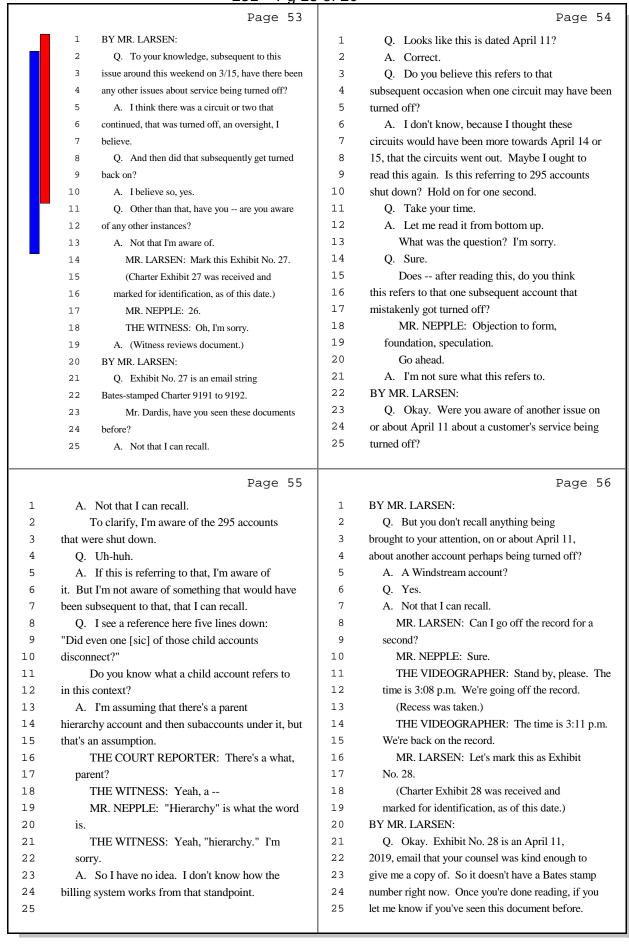

Q. Here this email says, "Folks, I'm sure you're all aware WIN does have funding to continue its normal operations while it restructures."

Did you have -- did you ever have any conversations with anyone internal in Charter about that topic?

I would assume that's why we're first time I've seen this was when I got the 4 4 all here, but no, I have no idea about any other subpoena. rep doing that. 5 Okay. I'm going to ask the same Q. 6 Q. Okay. 6 question about the advertisement that's on page 14. 7 7 A. It's not -- Windstream is not very Again, take your time to look at that one. 8 8 prevalent in my area. Kenton is not technically A. Yeah, same thing. This isn't 9 Northwest Ohio, it's technically part of Columbus. 9 something that we had. And, again, my area doesn't 10 10 So which would be -- I'm not sure if they're even have Windstream. But this is a completely 11 Southern Ohio or Mid-Ohio or what, but they're not 11 different, I guess, department that would get 12 in the Great Lakes, so they're --12 these. The mailers are a little different than 13 13 what we do. Q. Okay. Let me get you to look again 14 at what we've marked for identification as Sites 14 Q. So, again, the first time you saw it 15 Exhibit Number 2. And, again, go to that -- the 15 was when you received the subpoena and looked at complaint which initiated the lawsuit. And within 16 16 the complaint? 17 that document, I'd like you to go to page 13 and 17 A. Yes, sir. Q. And I take it that means if you 18 18 14. Let's start with the page 13, and I'll 19 19 hadn't seen it before, you never distributed either represent to you that this is an advertisement that 20 Spectrum sent earlier in 2019 by mail. And take 20 of these documents? 21 your time to read it, but my question to you is 21 No, I did not. 22 going to be: Did you see this before today? 22 Are you aware of anybody -- strike 23 A. No, I did not. The mailers don't 23 that. 24 really pertain to our, you know, what we do. We 24 Are you aware of any other have our own flyers and stuff that we hand out and 25 25 representative of Charter who was distributing Page 47 Page 48 1 these door-to-door? 1 going out of business? 2 2 A. No. This doesn't look like A. I don't know specifically if that 3 something we would do door-to-door. This looks 3 was, you know, the exact case, but I do know that 4 4 like something that would come in the mail. we were told don't. Don't mention the bankruptcy, 5 5 don't mention anything about that. The only thing Q. Do you know Mr. Emmit Walker? 6 A. No, I do not know Emmit Walker. 6 you could sell to anybody, much less Windstream, 7 7 is we're faster, speed reliability, price, et O. You never saw this advertisement, 8 8 either of these advertisements that we've been cetera. 9 9 looking at posted in the Lima store? So you were told not to reference 10 A. No. And another thing, those 10 Windstream, but you don't remember anyone within 11 advertisements don't even -- my stuff would say 11 the company telling you that a temporary 12 Spectrum Business, this is just Spectrum. I 12 restraining order had been issued? 13 believe this would be for residential customers. 13 A. I'm sure that's not exactly -- I 14 14 Okay. Did you ever at any point mean, I don't -- I don't know, honestly. That 15 have any discussions with anybody about these 15 might have been the exact words they used or might 16 advertisements? And by that I mean, within the 16 not. But I know my boss said do not -- don't 17 company Charter? 17 mention the bankruptcy. He didn't say -- he just 18 18 No. No discussion whatsoever about said there was lawsuits more than anything. 19 them. So none of these customers, to your 7 7 business. knowledge, switched their service? 8 8 Do you remember the issuance of that A. No. Definitely not with me. 9 preliminary injunction or being told about the 9 Q. Okay. So now, in connection with 10 10 issuance of that preliminary injunction? your subpoena today, you were asked to search for 11 Not specifically on that and not a 11 and produce some documents, and your counsel's 12 specific date, but, like I said, we continued to 12 given me a manila folder with those documents that 13 get -- be told do not -- do not mention anything 13 are supposedly complying with the subpoena. 14 about that to customers. 14 What I'd like to do, since they're 15 Q. Okay, fair enough. 15 not stamped in some way, is have them, each one, A. And, I mean, before that, any of 16 16 entered one by one. 17 those lawsuits came out, I had already sent a few 17 A. So can I get you to go back to what 22 A. Yes. 23 we marked for identification as Sites Exhibit 23 Q. -- in connection with the subpoena. 24 Number 3. It's this one. And just want to ask you 24 So let's just do that. 25 whether or not any of these customers you sent 25 MR. 8	Q. Okay. Let me get you to look at	8	a duplicate of the e-mail to Vanessa, right?
9	Sites Exhibit Number 6.	9	A. Yes.
10	A. That is the same e-mail that we	10	Q. So let me get you to look at Sites
